CHAS. W. BELL'S SPEECH

CALIFORNIA CONGRESSMAN
MADE PLEA FOR HOBSON
PROHIBITION LAW

The speech made by Congressman Charles W. Bell of California on the Hobson amendment will be of interest to all of Mr. Bell's constituents. This speech as it appears in the congressional record is as follows:

Mr. Speaker, in the scant time allotted to me I can scarce more than say that it is my fervent hope and wish that this resolution, making as it does for the prosperity, the betterment and the happiness of this nation, may pass this House by a vote largely in excess of the necessary two-thirds majority.

I have listened with interest to the flights of oratory this morning and to the more or less ingenious and ingenious arguments for and against this question, and I am proud to think that I stand here representing the citizenry of a district in which an overwhelming majority of the people are in favor of nation-wide prohibition.

We are asked here today to pass upon the so-called Hobson resolution, but we are not presented with nor asked to pass upon the question of national prohibition. As the representatives of the people we are asked to permit the voters of this nation to express their views on this question at the polls. I have strong personal convictions as to the justness of passing a resolution which will permit the people of the nation to vote for or against the continuance of the liquor traffic as a besetting and destroying national evil.

If the arguments and statements presented and made in the numerous communications which I have received from the liquor interests are true, the whole question could be disposed of by the voters, and the activities of the churches, the Anti-Saloon League and many temperance organizations, as well as the big business corporations who bar from employment men addicted to drink, could all be fittingly rebuked at the polls, but those who are financially interested in the manufacture and sale of liquor know full well that a large and increasing majority of the people of this nation are unalterably opposed to a continuance of the liquor traffic and the inevitable misery, want and woe that follow in its wake.

Mr. Speaker, I respect the opinions and convictions of every member of this House as expressed by their votes on measures presented for consideration, but to those members who are intrenching themselves behind the doctrine of state rights I commend their thoughtful consideration the following extract from an address by Rev. Sam W. Small of Georgia:

"My countrymen, right now we are confronted by a peculiar situation. When we propose the submission to the states of a constitutional amendment to prohibit the liquor traffic we are met with the cry that we are attacking the doctrine of state rights."

"State rights! Why, we stand flat-footed and foursquare upon the very fundamental principle of state rights. It is for that principle we are fighting. In its name we are pleading that the 48 states of this Union be given the opportunity to exercise what Thomas Jefferson and all his compere declared to be their 'inalienable, inalienable and indefeasible right'—the right to alter, reform, amend or change the constitution under which they formed the Union."

"Our proposition cannot win without the separate consents of 36 of the states. Whether those three-fourths, as provided by the constitution, desire to change that instrument as we propose can never be rightly known until they are allowed to legislatively express their will."

"The man who would arbitrarily deny to them that right is not a friend, but an enemy of state rights."

"How strangely this doctrine sounds coming from the liquorites of the Nation, whose long record of contempt for state constitutions and state laws is the one broad bar sinister upon the escutcheon of our American civilization."

"Put them to the test of their vociferous loyalty to state rights by offering to repeal the internal revenue laws affecting liquors. Then you will hear walls of protest the like of which issue only from the slaughter-houses of the Chicago stockyards. If there is anything on earth the liquorites of America do not want, it is to be released from their partnership with Uncle Sam and to be turned over to the will of each of the 48 states of the Union. They don't want state rights; they only want congress to weave that doctrine into a coat of mail in certain cases for the protection of the liquor traffic from real state rights."

AN UNIQUE EVENT

PASADENA ROSE FESTIVAL POSSIBLE IN NO OTHER CLIME

The twenty-sixth annual Tournament of Roses at Pasadena was witnessed by over 100,000 people on New Year's day. To one who had never witnessed this fete of the Southland before, the pageant was not the only wonderful thing about it, but the solid masses of humanity on a holiday, packing over four miles of the course, was a marvel. How did they all get to Pasadena in time for the opening of the festival? That was the great question one would ask, but when we looked at the solid lines of automobiles of every known make and description to the number of more than ten thousand, the question was partly answered. Then it is estimated that the Pacific Electric carried more than 50,000 people, besides what the steam roads brought, and with the ever-present "jitney," one could begin to see how the people came.

The Tournament of Roses does just what it sets out to do. It is given to prove to the people of the world that Southern California has a climate such that on the first day of the year, when ice and snow and freezing weather is the order in most places, it is possible in Southern California to conduct such a Tournament of Roses. And the representations as displayed in the great pageant of New Year's day was evidence of this, from the fact that there were millions of beautiful flowers, arranged on the many floats with bareheaded boys and girls playing among the roses, some in hammocks and some in swings, the girls all dressed in the thinnest of white dresses. And in fact, the day was so balmy that those taking part in the parade were glad to use the sunshades and parasols provided for their use in many instances, while to the great masses viewing the pageant, the shade of a tree or building was a most welcome asset.

It would be impossible to tell of all the wonderful and beautiful floats representing the efforts of most of the cities of Southern California, while hundreds of private equipages of individuals and firms made the line one of three miles. Scattered along the line of march were many bands and groups of people on foot, representing different lodges and organizations, and among the bands our own Glendale municipal band was by no means to be despised. They received great applause as they marched gaily along playing "Tipperary" in their best and liveliest manner. The White Star Patrol of Glendale lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. E., was a beautiful sight as they marched along dressed in spotless white, giving drills at intervals of every few blocks. Every effort on their part was greeted with cheers and much applause from the spectators. The men of the Patrol are: W. C. Wattle, captain; J. C. Waite, manager; R. D. Clements, secretary; J. A. Gregory, G. A. Dodson, Roy K. Smith, E. D. Gregg, H. G. Brown, H. A. Reif, F. E. Beyer, B. A. Kendall, L. K. Williams, Joe Fortunato, W. F. Spraker, A. L. Butler, B. T. Anderson, Robert Kimball, Jas. Mason, J. D. Mosher and O. M. Lane.

The Patrol upheld Glendale's honor by bringing home the first prize offered for marching clubs, a $30 silver trophy, and a blue banner, of which they are justly proud.

Following is a list of awards and prize winners:

TROPICO MAN WINS

H. STEELMAN WINS FIRST PRIZE FOR BEST HISTORICAL ENTRY

H. Steelman of Tropic won the first prize at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses for the best historical entry. Mr. Steelman entered an old stagecoach that did valiant service sixty-five years ago on the old stage road between San Francisco and Tonopah, Nev., long years ago when this country was new. This old vehicle could scarcely be recognized so completely hidden was it behind masses of roses, carnations and sun-lax. About a score of young men and young women from Tropic and Glendale rode in and on the old coach, which still seemed strong and capable of many more years of service, despite its long years of wear. A number of outriders of Tropic and Glendale's best horsemen accompanied by pretty girls added to this historical entry by accompanying the old stage coach on prancing steeds and frisky mustangs. Mr. Steelman's representation of the old days when California was new elicited continued applause along the route of the great pageant.

There will be a joint installation of Vidor lodge Knights of Pythias and LaHolla temple Pythian Sisters Monday evening in K. of P. hall. Following the installation ceremonies a banquet will be served the members of these two organizations and their families.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kohl and children of Oak drive were the guests of Mrs. Kohl's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Horan of Los Angeles New Year's day.

One of the pleasing social events of the coming week will be the dance to be given by the ladies of the Tropic fire department. The social affair will be held in Knights of Pythias hall on San Fernando road.

Karl Polzig of Leipzig, Germany, who has completed the artistic finishings of a number of the beautiful buildings of the Panama-California exposition at San Diego, arrived in Tropic New Year's day and will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kohl of Oak drive for several days.

Joseph Daniels, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary J. Bolom of Brand boulevard for several months, returns to his home in Shawnee City, Okla., tomorrow.

Among the interesting visitors who are spending the winter in Tropic is Mrs. Pauline Hamann, who arrived from her home in Dresden, Germany, a few weeks since and is the guest of her daughters, Mrs. William Kohl of Oak drive and Mrs. P. T. Horan of Los Angeles. Mrs. Hamann, who has several nephews in the war over the seas, has many interesting narratives to relate.

Postoffice officials here report that the receipts for the present season are greater than at any time in the history of the local office. The free delivery has recently been extended throughout the Atwater tract on the west and south, including Handorf's. This extension has necessitated extra carriers and increased materially the work of the office.

Captain and Mrs. Clark of Hyde Park, Cal., were guests of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Field, 239 South Kenwood street, on New Year's day. Dinner was served at noon and a pleasant day enjoyed by all.

ADD NEW APPARATUS

GLENDALE SANITARIUM BRIEFS—LATEST ELECTRICAL DEVICES INSTALLED

The sanitarium has recently installed a new Victor X-ray outfit, including a 20-kilowatt transformer, one of the most powerful on the Pacific coast. The radiographic and stereoscopic tube-stand and table are the near acme of perfection, which, with the accessory apparatus, permit of the widest possible range of treatment and radiographic and stereoscopic work.

The power available from the transformer is far beyond the regular X-ray tube of today, but with the perfect system of control, the power can be fed into the tube in quantities as small as one-sixteenth milliamper while a simple turn of the rheostat will supply current to radiograph the deep tissues in a fraction of a second, showing the stomach and even the heart, although in continual motion, without the slightest blur.

The roentgenoscope or vertical fluoroscope is all that the roentgenologist can desire. With this we can visibly observe the inner workings of the diaphragm, heart and other organs can be observed as plainly as you would see a moving picture. An opaque meal can be given, and its progress noted through the entire distance of the alimentary tract, determining the diagnosis of various gastric and intestinal disorders.

The stereoscope, an improvement upon many of those now in use, furnishes one of the best equipped X-ray laboratories to be found in the country. The department also has one of the most modern high frequency machines for the treatment and alleviation of many ills with the various forms of this current. This apparatus is equipped with a newly improved multiple rotary spark gap, superior to the old type, and produces a current of exceedingly high frequency. This current can be increased or diminished at the operator's will.

The new multiplex machine is an advance in electro-therapeutics. With this we can apply the galvanic and sinusoidal currents in many forms, variations and combinations.

It is expected in the near future to make other improvements which will further advance the efficiency of this department. When visiting the sanitarium; do not fail to see the X-ray rooms.

ORANGE AND LEMON DAYS

Two special days for 1915 at the Panama-California exposition are of especial interest to Southern California. These are "orange day" and "lemon day," which have just been announced by the California Fruit Growers' exchange, the former for March 22 and the latter for April 5. Special preparations are being made by the exchange to bring citrus fruit growers to the exposition on those days in particular.

BURIED AT FORMER HOME

Following the arrival of a brother from Mt. Sterling, Ills., the remains of Miss Maggie Meyer, who passed away Christmas day at her home, 528 Oak drive, will be shipped this afternoon from the Scovern-Letton-Frey undertaking parlors via the Southern Pacific to her former home in Illinois for burial. The remains will be accompanied by the brother, her mother, Mrs. Meyer, and Miss Emma Strasser.

NORTH GLENDALE

THE PAST WEEK HAS BEEN A BUSY ONE IN WHIRL OF SOCIETY

Miss Leota Williamson of 628 North Louise street entertained the Philathea class of the Casa Verdugo Methodist Sunday school last Tuesday evening. Ten of the members were present and with their teacher, Miss Maud Soper, had a very delightful evening. Games of various kinds were enjoyed, also music and a general good time such a merry group of young people can make for themselves, while away the happy evening hours and the charming hostess served dainty refreshments to the following guests: Messrs. Bruce Dourte, Vern Wyman, Merlin Wilson, Carl Bettis, Charles Tyrrell and the Misses Ethel West, Helen Bettis, Goldie Drake, Adelle Drake, Miss Leota Williamson and Miss Maude Soper.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue entertained with a beautifully appointed dinner last Sunday in honor of their sister, Mrs. Henry Rutter Davis of Los Angeles, who left the early part of the week for San Francisco, where she will remain indefinitely. The attractive home was artistically decorated in the Christmas colors and covers were laid for eight, the happy guests of one mind in wishing their charming honoree a pleasant journey and safe return.

Miss Ruby F. Wright of 1649 Ruth street was the dinner guest of Mrs. George D. Alston of Chestnut street New Year's day.

Mrs. I. C. Rice of 1632 Ruth street was the guest of Mrs. R. Rowe of Ninety-second street, Los Angeles, on New Year's day.

Miss Idelle Pittman has returned to Redlands after spending a very pleasant fortnight with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Pittman of 1001 North Pacific avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Clement and daughter, Miss Alpha Clement, of 1321 North Pacific avenue entertained as their guest at dinner New Year's day Mr. Frank Littell of 909 Dryden street.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bierbower of 922 Fairview avenue were guests of Mrs. Herman Eichorn of Los Angeles at a New Year's party, also were entertained for the night. New Year's morning the party enjoyed a motor trip to North Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Lyons of 1617 Ruth street, with their little son, Master John, have returned home after spending the holiday week with Mrs. Lyons' mother, Mrs. J. Mayer, and family, of Angeleno Heights, Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Williamson of 628 North Louise street were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Good of 875 South Louise street at a pleasantly informal evening very recently.

WHITTONS ENTERTAIN AT NEW YEAR'S DINNER PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Whitton of Whitton's confectionery, 411 Brand boulevard, entertained at New Year's dinner a number of their out-of-town friends at a regular old-fashioned New Year's turkey dinner. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Thompson of Santa Barbara, Miss Annie Bray and Messrs. Haralson and Bush of Los Angeles and Mrs. Bird Keruff of Long Beach.

CHURCH ANNUAL

CHRISTIAN CHURCH SEES OLD YEAR OUT IN UNIQUE MANNER

The annual meeting of Central Christian church on New Year's eve was even more interesting than usual this year. The auditorium was filled and as the chairs had been arranged in a semicircle, giving a family-like setting to the picture, the sight was a very "homey," comfortable one, and when the church roll was called, about half the total membership responded to their names. President Heacock of the official board presided and Clerk Kirk was at the secretary's desk. After a song and invocation by Dr. Durfee, an address of welcome to the new members was given by Pastor Francis in his usual heart-felt manner, which was responded to by L. E. Berkey, who, although a long-time church worker and officer, has only just placed his membership with this congregation. He had some good advice for all, which was well received.

The reports of the different departments of church work showed very gratifying gains everywhere. The pastor's showed a gross gain of over a hundred in membership, the activity and harmony in all lines being very marked. A very fine report was made by the Ladies' Aid, which had through its untiring efforts cleared the debt on the adjoining lot, made a Christmas present of $50 to the pastor, besides many other good works.

After the business session, a program of music and readings was rendered—all well rendered—and at 11 o'clock all repaired to the bungalow, where sandwiches, cake and coffee were served. This occupied the time till nearly midnight, when, as the whistles announced the incoming year, the meeting closed with a prayer by the pastor.

WELCOME NEW YEAR

Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Palmer entertained a large coterie of friends at their home, 116 West Colorado boulevard, Thursday evening from 8 till 12 o'clock, it being a farewell party to the year 1914. The guests were delightfully entertained by the Christmas club orchestra, which rendered several numbers while the guests were arriving, after which games were played and a guessing contest furnished amusement for half an hour. Miss Faith Taring won first prize and Mrs. N. H. Palmer the "booby" prize. At 11 o'clock a delicious supper was served, followed by a violin solo by Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Braden. A few minutes before 12 "father time" made his appearance with trunk packed ready for departure. He delivered some farewell gifts in the shape of favors to each of the guests and bidding one and all good-bye, departed through a rear exit as little Hazel Walters, representing the new year, came in at the front door. The bells and whistles furnished the climax to this delightful evening and the guests departed wishing all a Happy New Year.

SIPPLE-HETRICK

Mr. Kaspar C. Sipple of Glendale and Elizabeth Hetrick of Burbank were united in marriage on New Year's day, 1915, at half past three o'clock, Rev. B. A. Johnson of the First Methodist church speaking the words that united them. They had planned to have a very quiet wedding and surprise their friends. However, some of their friends learned of the affair and decided to be present. Some of the ladies decorated the altar of the church very beautifully and appropriately and when the happy pair appeared at the parsonage it was found necessary to adjourn to the church, where between thirty and forty friends were waiting to witness the happy event.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Eilers, while the impressive service was being read.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Sipple adjourned to the home which they had previously prepared at 348 Adams street.

TO ENTERTAIN TRAVELERS

Various cities along the southern railroad route to the Pacific coast are making elaborate plans to entertain the thousands of travelers who will make the western trip to see the San Diego and San Francisco expositions. El Paso, Texas, and Douglas and Tucson, Ariz., are making every preparation in order that the earliest traveler on his way to the San Diego exposition will be given an opportunity to see the southern cities, and the great mining resources nearby, to which there will be special excursions.

PERSONALS

The hour of meeting for the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club has been changed from 2:30 to 2 o'clock, as will be noticed by the notice given in another column of The News. We wonder how many of the ladies will start the new year right by being on time.

Day Deputy Marshal Lawrence picked up a young man who was a stranger walking the streets of the residence section of Glendale Saturday forenoon. The young man seems to have no occupation and can give no account of his being here more than that he thought he could get a hand-out from the homes. He seems to have a room in Los Angeles, but as his account of himself was not satisfactory, he was taken before the police magistrate and given ten days in the county jail.

Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Vesper and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Naudain and daughter were among the Glendale people who attended the Rose Tournament on New Year's day. After the parade they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Vesper in Pasadena, where a reunion of the Vesper cousins was held and a big New Year's dinner partaken of. The guests were all from Glendale, Pasadena and Los Angeles, with the exception of Mrs. Albert Cady from Washington, who is visiting in Southern California at this time.

The A. G. T. club entertained their husbands with a Five Hundred party at the home of Mrs. Herman Nelson, 503 West Fifth street, on Thursday evening. The holiday decorations of Christmas bells and greens lent a festive air to the occasion. Five Hundred was played until about 11 o'clock, then refreshments were served and the party welcomed the New Year with much blowing of horns and appropriate demonstrations. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Vesper, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Waite, Mr. and Mrs. John Roman, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Naudain, C. U. Mandis and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Burlingame of Long Beach were guests of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Smith of 143 South Maryland street on Tuesday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Randolph of Los Angeles will be dinner guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. A. Field, 239 South Kenwood street, this evening.

Miss Leta McCoy of 127 Third street has been quite ill for the past week and unable to attend to her duties at the Bank of Glendale. Miss McCoy is somewhat better today, but not able to be up yet.

While attending the Rose Tournament at Pasadena on New Year's day Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 227 Central avenue met a friend, Miss Bertha Scholling of San Bernardino, and proceeded to bring Miss Schilling home with them, where she will spend the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilkinson, formerly of Glendale, but now of 1212 Alvarado street, Los Angeles, entertained a number of friends with a dinner on New Year's eve, with a box party at the Orpheum afterwards. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling of Damasco court, Glendale, were among the guests.

On New Year's eve a party including Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McLouth, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Smith, Miss Dorothy Smith and Mr. L. F. Lamont attended the Orpheum in Los Angeles, after which they returned to Glendale to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, 110 South Louise street, where supper was served and they watched the old year out and the new year in.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kling of Damasco court entertained on New Year's day with a dinner at 4:30 and card party in the evening. The house was profusely decorated with poinsettias, and great vases of the beautiful Christmas flowers formed a handsome setting for the party. Covers were laid for eight, besides the host and hostess there being present Mr. and Mrs. Philip Englehorn, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Wilkinson and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Usilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Pearce of 1567 Milford street entertained the T. W. club with a New Year's party on Thursday evening. The house was prettily decorated with flowers and ferns, Five Hundred was played, and an elaborate spread was served, after which the guests watched the new year in with appropriate demonstrations. Besides the host and hostess there were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Goodwin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stamps.

On Thursday Mrs. Lillian Dow and daughter Dorothy were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker at the New Year's eve celebration of the Scottish Rite at the cathedral on Hope street in Los Angeles. An elaborate and excellent program was given, a number of the Orpheum troupes taking part, and after the program refreshments were served and dancing enjoyed. The New Year was welcomed with much throwing of confetti and serpentine papers, blowing of horns and general merriment.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spickerman, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spickerman, Miss Lois Spickerman and Mr. Riley Proctor spent a very enjoyable New Year's day, motoring over to Pasadena in the morning, where they viewed the Tournament of Roses pageant, then out to the Arroyo Seco, where they enjoyed a delightful picnic lunch, and then home by the Arroyo drive road recently completed. The scenery along the new road is beautiful and though there are some rather short curves and the way is not very wide, still everyone seems to be careful and there is no real danger of collisions.

JUDGE MILLER

H. M. Miller, who was elected to the office of justice of the peace of Burbank township in November, will assume the duties of that position on Monday. His office will be located in the McIntyre building, 476 West Broadway. The first case to come before him is called for Jan. 5 and will be a jury trial.

GREAT FEATURE PICTURE AT MAJESTIC THEATER SUNDAY

Theatergoers of Glendale will read with delight that Wm. Brady's great picture-play, "Mother," will be shown at the Majestic theater here in Glendale tomorrow (Sunday), both matinee and evening.

Millions have been entertained by this play, with Emma Dunn in the title role. The story, in short, is as follows:

The heroine of the play is the mother. She is the head of a family of six children. There are two grown boys, two grown girls and two small boys. She has been the mother of eight, but she has lost two of her dear ones. She is a plain little woman, whose whole life is her home and her children.

On her husband's death she finds herself with money enough to rear her offspring in comfort, but her boys have been spoiled, and four years before the opening of the play the eldest son has run away and married a chorus girl, whose tastes run to costly dinners, imported gowns and auto rides. He has wasted his share of his father's estate, against which he has borrowed money, and to meet the extravagant demands of his wife, he has stolen from his employers.

He forges his mother's name to a note for $10,000. When cornered and brought face to face with the facts, he threatens to kill himself. Here it is the gentle mother who comes to his rescue and calmly admits that the signature to the forged note is her own.

Her second son is caught in the toils of another designing chorus girl, the sister of the eldest son's wife. The mother saves her first born and draws him to her home again by her sacrifices, while the second son is also saved from the woman who would waste his patrimony by Mrs. Wetherell's clever work by appearing as a slattern in the eyes of the girl with extravagant tastes. Her daughters' love affairs are also set right by the mother, while she does not neglect the younger children and their fun.

Mrs. Wetherell sums up her idea of motherhood and mother love in her all-embracing love, which does not permit any harm to come to her children, even though it means suffering and expense to her personally.

So ideal is the visualization that Miss Dunn gives of Mrs. Wetherell that she has become known as the finest interpreter of mothers visible on the current stage. In "Mother" Miss Dunn has given the stage and the screen a most memorable characterization.

Considerable destruction is reported among the theories of the learned who knew precisely what Europe would do in a crisis.

HOW TO KEEP SOIL FRUITFUL

Everybody in California will reap benefit from the work which the University of California is planning to carry on at the site about to be bought at Riverside for its new citrus experiment station and graduate school of tropical agriculture.

Now that Riverside has been definitely chosen as the site, after many months of discussion as to where the great work can best be done, several hundred acres are to be bought of as fine orange land as there is in the state. For this will be spent the $60,000 given by the state, added to by the people of Riverside. An irrigation system and farm and laboratory buildings will be provided and experimental plots planted.

Here are some of the burning problems to be attacked:

"How can land be cultivated best under irrigation?"

"How can land in California be kept permanently at its present unexampled fertility?"

"What are the best varieties of fruits and plants now available, and how can still better types be created?"

The extremely valuable results already achieved by the University of California in the seven years it has maintained a citrus experiment station at Riverside give an idea of the possibilities the future holds.

For instance, the university has found out how to feed orange and lemon trees. Seven years ago twenty plants were planted with six navel orange trees, six valencias, six Eureka lemons and six Lisbon lemons. Each of the twenty plants was fertilized differently. Now, after seven years, it has been shown that nitrogen fertilization is exceedingly desirable. Of all the commercial fertilizers used, dried blood gave by far the best results. Phosphoric acid, from bone, was found useful. On the Riverside soil in question potash was found unnecessary. It was concluded that fertilization from the time citrus trees are planted is probably necessary.

Mottling was found to be least on plants fertilized with, first, manure, and raw phosphate; second, dried blood.

There was practically no mottling on plants kept covered with a cover-crop, such as vetch or melilotus clover, a considerable portion of the year, this crop then being plowed in. This is one of the most important discoveries made in these extremely valuable experiments at Riverside, experiments which are regarded as the most valuable fertilizer investigations ever carried on for citrus fruits.

Cover-crop experiments were performed on twenty different plots. After five years it was proved that crops of corn or potatoes following melilotus clover and tangier peas turned under have much exceeded in yield crops grown on land where rye had first been grown and plowed under plus 1080 pounds of nitrate of soda. A good leguminous cover-crop plowed under was shown equivalent to 1080 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. Moreover, such treatment introduces humus into the soil and also greatly aids the action of the farmer's invaluable friends, the tiny nitrifying bacteria in the soil.

Besides continuing these very valuable experiments as to fertilizers and cover-crops and as to the factors which cause mottle-leaf, the University of California will continue at the new station in Riverside another great work—investigations in plant breeding.

The modern farmer breeds his cattle with great care, and by the Babcock test as to the butter-fat content in milk and by records of milk production eliminates the cow which is unproductive. Following this example the University of California wants to enlist in horticulture the great force of heredity for the service of the people of California. It is also planned to plant at Riverside great numbers of varieties of many of the standard fruits and other crops of California and by selection of the best individuals and strains, and also by work in the great field of hybridization, to raise up for California new and improved varieties of the greatest possible productivity and the highest and best quality. Not only will new fruits and plants be introduced into California, but it will be endeavored to develop improved types of each, so that California shall not merely grow Florida oranges and Hawaiian avocados, but California oranges and California avocados, ideally suited to the climate, soil and economic and transportation conditions of California.

The study of frost-protection methods is another field of work which it is planned to enter upon. Means will be sought for curing or preventing various plant diseases and for getting rid of various insect pests. There will be experts at the Riverside station in plant chemistry, in entomology, in plant pathology, in plant breeding and in various other great fields of agricultural research. The large staff which is being organized for this citrus experiment station and graduate school of tropical agriculture will devote their whole time to scientific and economic investigations and to the training of graduate students.

In charge of the work at Riverside will remain Dr. H. J. Webber, director of the citrus experiment station, dean of the graduate school of tropical agriculture, and professor of plant breeding, one of the most distinguished living authorities on the problems of citrus fruits and also of the great modern science and art of plant breeding.

BELL SPEAKS ON AMENDMENT

And to the following extract from the declaration of principles of the Anti-Saloon League of America:

"The liquor traffic is national in its organization, character and influence. It overflows the boundaries of states and refuses to be regulated or controlled. It is a federal evil—a national menace, too powerful for state authority, requiring national jurisdiction and treatment. It beggars the individual, burdens the state and impoverishes the Nation. It commercializes vice and capitalizes human weakness. It impairs the public health, breaks the public peace and debauches the public morals. It intimidates and makes cowards of public men. It dominates parties and conventions. It cajoles, bribes or badgers the makers, interpreters and administrators of law and suborns the public press.

"It claims for itself a special right and privilege asserted by no other interest in all the land, however great or powerful—a right and privilege utterly incompatible with free government—the right and privilege to infract municipal ordinances at will, to violate and break legislative resolves and enactments, and to set aside the constitutional provisions of sovereign states, however solemn and sacred. Refusing all domestic regulation and control, it leaves the American people but two alternatives—the abject surrender of their inherent right of self-government or its annihilation. Between such a choice free men cannot hesitate. We therefore declare for its national annihilation by an amendment to the federal constitution which shall forever prohibit throughout the territory of the United States the manufacture and sale and the importation, exportation and transportation of intoxicating liquors to be used as a beverage.

The question of our preparedness for war has been discussed at length on the floor of the House and in the public press. The nations of Europe now engaged in a life-and-death struggle have taken cognizance of one important item of preparation, viz., the national conservation of human resources, which example might well be followed by the United States, and the passage of this resolution would be one peaceful, righteous step in the line of preparedness. We are advised by the president that we must in future time of need depend upon our citizen soldiery; if this be true, we ought to be willing to help equip our men with strong, clean bodies, stout hearts and steady nerves. In this connection I call attention to the following concise article from the California Outlook:

"Whatever of good in the law of compensation may come out of the European war, a lesson in temperance will hold a prominent place in it. The warring nations realize that to stand the severe test of physical endurance and nervous strain they must be sober. Russia's first act after mobilization was to stop the sale of vodka. France has taken steps to lessen the use of absinthe and England is appealing to the nation to abstain from alcoholic drink during the war. In England the country is plastered with patriotic posters making this appeal. It is interesting to note that the appeal is on entirely economic grounds—the conservation of resources, both material and human. Four grounds are given for abstinence from alcoholic liquors—

1. The grain destroyed for their production is required for food.
2. The money spent upon drink will purchase many times its value in food.
3. Physical power depends upon good and must not be destroyed by alcohol.
4. Alcohol lowers vitality and diminishes power to resist disease.

"It is inconceivable that the effect of this temperance propaganda will pass with the ending of hostilities. So effective a refutation of the widespread fallacy that the consumption of alcoholic drinks makes for prosperity cannot but leave a lasting impression on the Nation.

One result of the war is almost certain to be a sober as well as a sobered Europe.

Mr. Speaker, upon the members of this House has devolved the most solemn duty that has confronted congress in many years. The vote of today will determine whether the members of this House stand for happy, comfortable American homes or for the body and soul destroying American saloon. The disposition of this resolution will determine whether the moral forces of this Nation shall prevail over the beneficiaries of the liquor traffic, whether the voters of the United States shall be denied the privilege to express at the polls their sovereign right to amend the constitution under which they live.

COME ONE—COME ALL

California, especially the southern part of it, on account of its extremely fine climate, is a very desirable section of the world in which to live. The mild winters in California are among the chief attractions. Just why so many people who are financially able to do so will continue to spend the cold winters in the East and Middle West, when it is possible for them to enjoy the beautiful climate in California, is quite a conundrum.

It is announced that the price of diamonds is to take another rise. Lay in your winter supply before it is too late.

QUEEN TO BE CHOSEN

To reign on state occasions for the exposition year during 1915 in Los Angeles county, a queen is to be chosen by popular vote.

The candidates are to be nominated by fraternal organizations, big stores, moving picture companies, commercial organizations and other associations, and the voting will begin February 1. It is expected that dozens of the prettiest young women in the county will be in the race, which promises to be the most exciting of its kind ever held in the Southland.

Each week while the contest is on the candidates will be given a luncheon at which time special prizes will be awarded to the contestant in the lead for that week.

A two-fold purpose will be served, as a queen of the people's choice will be named and the funds derived will go toward entertaining the hosts who will visit this section in 1915 as delegates to the many conventions.

The queen and prize winners will be rewarded with a free trip to the Panama-Pacific international exposition at San Francisco.

TERRIBLE TEDDY IS HERE

Terrible Teddy Tetzlaff, world's champion road driver and speed demon, arrived in town this morning to look after the Maxwell interests. Pirtle & Walker are the local agents for this low-priced popular car. Mr. Tetzlaff has a fund of racing experiences which are most interesting. In relating his experiences one of the most interesting was his one-mile trial against time on the salt beds at Salduro, just outside of Salt Lake City, at which time he attained a speed of 144 miles per hour, which without doubt gives him the distinction of having traveled faster than any living human being. To compare the speed at which he traveled with the ball thrown by Ty Cobb from second base to the home plate, Tetzlaff would have made three complete circuits of the entire diamond during the time it took the ball to travel that distance.

While here Mr. Tetzlaff would be glad to meet the autoing public and to give them helps in obtaining the maximum efficiency from their machines and also help them to obtain the most economical operation of their cars.

Terrible Teddy arrived in his Maxwell 25 and has numerous compliments regarding the high efficiency of automobile perfection in this low-priced car.

"Beauty of finish, correct in every line, the Maxwell 25 is simply superlative."
