DEATH OF MRS. MOYSE

WELL KNOWN GLENDALE WOMAN PASSES AWAY AFTER SHORT ILLNESS

On Friday, February 25, 1916, Mrs. Elizabeth Moyses, wife of George U. Moyses, superintendent of Glendale Union High School, passed from this life at her home, 900 West Fifth street, after an attack of pneumonia of only a few days' duration. Mrs. Moyses has not enjoyed the best of health for the past eight years, being afflicted with asthma and heart trouble and the attack which caused her death was not thought to be especially serious by her physician and nurse until yesterday. She passed away peacefully at twenty minutes past five. The announcement of her death brought sadness to many Glendale homes, for she was a woman greatly beloved in the circles in which she moved.

Elizabeth Julia Weaver was born near Elkhorn, Wisconsin, March 6, 1871. She grew up in Elkhorn and spent her entire life there until her marriage. On June 6, 1900 she became the wife of George U. Moyses and a few weeks after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Moyses came to California. They resided for a year at Yreka, where Mr. Moyses was superintendent of the school, and after a year in Bakersfield they came to Glendale in the fall of 1900 and have lived here since. During the fourteen years that she lived here Mrs. Moyses identified herself with many movements tending toward the uplift of the community. She was a member of Glen Eyrle Chapter Eastern Star and Past Worthy Matron of the order. She was intensely interested in the work of the P. E. O., a philanthropic organization, and was past president of Chapter L of Glendale. She was interested in all departments of the work of the Tuesday Afternoon club, with which she was affiliated, and she was a faithful member of the First Methodist church. Every member of all of these organizations feels a personal loss in the death of this noble woman. Mrs. Moyses was a woman who could bear the light of close acquaintanceship and friendship. It was those who knew her best who recognized to the fullest extent her excellent qualities and who loved her most. Her home is left desolate and her husband mourns the death of a true helpmeet. Her three children, Hollis, Doris and Laura, are left without a loving mother's care, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Weaver, of 822 West Fifth street, are sorrowing for a beloved daughter. Besides her husband, children and parents, Mrs. Moyses leaves one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Ira J. Moyses and Mr. Ross D. Weaver of Los Angeles, and Dr. E. J. Weaver of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Moyses' neighbors and friends pay her a tribute of love in many expressions of appreciation of the noble Christian life she lived. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the home, the Pulliam Undertaking Co. in charge.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Bramble entertained Thursday evening at their home, 352 Columbus avenue, at a perfectly arranged dinner party, in honor of the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John Baum of 109 S. Louise street, which occurs on Sunday, February 27. The affair was a surprise to the guests of honor. Hyacinths and smilax were used for decoration and formed a pretty centerpiece for the dinner table, where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Baum, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miner, Dr. Buhler of Los Angeles and the host and hostess.

MODERN METHOD DAIRY

One of the up-to-date dairies of the city is Wilson's, 310 E. First street. This is a Jersey cow dairy. Mr. Wilson has fifteen cows of that famous breed, which is credited with producing milk with a very high percentage of cream. This herd is small and easily managed. Everything about the dairy is sanitary and modern methods are used throughout. Tests are regularly made for tuberculosis and everything connected with the dairy work is in a perfectly hygienic condition. The milkhouse has a cement floor and all precautions necessary to secure sanitary surroundings are taken. The dairy has customers all over the district bounded by Brand and Verdugo, First and Seventh. Just at present there are a couple of fresh cows in the herd and the milk is in constant demand.

WEATHER FORECAST—Unsettled weather; probably showers to night and Sunday; southeast winds.

THE CITY ELECTION

THREE TRUSTEES, A CITY CLERK AND TREASURER TO BE ELECTED

The Glendale city election will take place Monday, April 10. At that time there are to be three trustees, a clerk and a treasurer elected, O. A. Lane, A. W. Tower and George Williams, the retiring trustees, will not be candidates for re-election. G. B. Hoffman, now serving as treasurer and J. C. Sherer, who has served as clerk for two years, are candidates for re-election.

The names of the candidates for the position of trustee, given in alphabetical order, are:

- R. M. Jackson, 102 S. Maryland.
- F. L. Muhleman, 1112 Maple Ave.
- Thos. D. Ogg, 149 S. Kenwood.
- J. E. Peters, 1500 W. Colorado St.
- S. J. Reid, 234 Cedar St.
- F. D. Silvius, 1456 W. Colorado St.
- F. J. Willett, 1010 Lomita Ave.
- G. B. Woodberry, 419 Glendale avenue.

The candidates for the office of city clerk are:

- Mrs. Hattie Gaylord, 134 E. First street.
- J. C. Sherer, 817 Verdugo Road.
- Frederick Wilkinson, 221 Central avenue.

The candidates for the office of city treasurer are:

- Thomas W. Doyle, 891 S. Glendale avenue.
- A. E. Hennon, 436 Everett St.
- G. B. Hoffman, 124 Orange St.

As intelligent citizens, all voters should acquaint themselves with the qualifications of the candidates whose names appear above. Of the eight candidates for trustee it will be possible to elect only three and what is important is to elect three men who are good, sensible citizens. The well meaning voter has a responsibility in this particular from which he will not shirk. Glendale is deserving of being governed by a competent body of men, and it is up to the people to make the selection.

EASTERN STAR INSTALLATION

Owing to irregularities in the account of the Eastern Star installation published yesterday, the article is republished today.

Calla lilies and smilax were used in the Chapter room with sword ferns and palms forming a pretty background at the impressive installation ceremonies of Glen Eyrle Chapter Eastern Star officers, on Thursday evening, Feb. 24, in Masonic Temple, Brand boulevard.

Beautiful shower bouquets of wood violets, hyacinths and maidenhair fern were carried by the newly installed officers, who are: Fern Archer Roberts, Worthy Matron, Lillian Rae Beamon, Associate Matron; Della Marie Echols, Conductress; Mary Garnet Pollock, Associate Conductress; May L. Cornwell, Ada; Orma Vesper Naudain, Ruth; Edith R. Ellis, Esther.

Installing officers were: District Deputy Grand Matron Mrs. Nellie Dean Graham of Alhambra, Installing Officer; Pearl Collins Tower, Installing Marshal; Mary Ogden Ryan, Installing Chaplain; Lillian Peckham, Installing Organist.

Miss Cora Hickman, the first worthy Matron of Glen Eyrle chapter, presided in place of Worthy Matron Mary M. Emery, who had resigned on account of ill health.

Following the installation the newly elected Worthy Matron, Fern Archer Roberts, gave a short address, as did also Mrs. Graham and Miss Hickman. Gifts in the shape of a beautiful spoon, engraved with the Eastern Star emblem and date, were presented by Mrs. Roberts to Mrs. Graham, the District Deputy Grand Matron; Mrs. Pearl Tower, Installing Marshal; Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, Installing Chaplain; Mrs. Lillian Peckham, Installing Organist; Miss Ruby Borthick, chairman of decorations, and Miss Fredonia Borthick, chairman of hospitality.

Under the direction of the hospitality chairman, Miss Borthick, and capable assistants, Mrs. Edith Hunchberger, Mrs. Sallie Braden, Mrs. Effie Park and Miss Maud Allan, the banquet room and two long tables at which the guests were seated, were exquisite in acacia and fern strands.

WITHDRAWS FROM RACE

Mrs. Nanno Woods announced that owing to the widening activities of the Glendale Garden society, she finds her time so fully occupied and her scope for civic usefulness so enlarged, that she has decided to withdraw her candidacy as City Trustee. She takes this opportunity of thanking her numerous friends for their cordial pledges of support; and asks them to assist her and her co-workers to make the Free Flower Show a huge success for the good of Glendale.

GERMANY COUNTS ON FRIGHT OF CONGRESS

TEUTONS EXPECT AMERICA TO PASS LAW FORBIDDING AMERICANS TO TRAVEL ON ARMED MERCHANTMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—Germany is counting on the reported panic among the members of the United States Congress to aid in the passing of legislation forbidding Americans to travel on armed merchantmen. The Teutons are of the belief that Congress will force President Wilson to abandon his German-American attitude. Officials and the public here alike are frankly bitter toward the United States.

FRANCE SENDS SARCASTIC REPLY

REPUBLIC REPORTED TO HAVE ANSWERED WASHINGTON THAT IT HAS NO ARMED MERCHANTMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26.—In answer to the administration's urgent suggestion that merchantmen be disarmed in the interests of humanity, no reply has as yet been received from the belligerent nations. It is reported, however, that France has made a reply and the story is going the rounds today that the Republic has answered somewhat sarcastically that France is not interested in the question as she has no armed merchantmen.

GERMANS CLOSE IN ON VERDUN FORTRESS

TEUTONS SAID TO BE WITHIN FOUR MILES OF THE GREAT FRENCH FRONTIER DEFENSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, Feb. 26.—According to official reports today the German attack on Verdun is closing in on that fortress. Douaumont an important fortified village four miles northeast of the citadel has been captured. The French lines defending Pepper heights have been crushed. The French lines on the Wouvre plain near Marpoivre were smashed. Positions around Louvemont have been seized. The French right line is retreating. The British have started an offensive east of Mars and Armentiers.

FRENCH REPORTS OF FIGHTING VAGUE

OFFICIAL STATEMENTS ADMIT REPUBLICANS FORCED BACK TO THE MEUSE HILLS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PARIS, Feb. 26.—Official statements here today are vague and indefinite. They do not concede, however, that the village of Douaumont has been taken. It is admitted that the Germans have forced back the French line to the Meuse hills. The French troops are said to be resisting bravely and not counting their sacrifices.

MAY DECLARE WAR ON PORTUGAL

BERLIN PRESS URGES KAISER TO DEMAND RELEASE OF TEUTON MERCHANTMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LONDON, Feb. 26.—Urgent articles in all the important Berlin newspapers this morning press the Kaiser to demand that Portugal at once release the German merchantmen which she has seized. They hint that war will be declared against Portugal if she does not comply. This urgency on the part of the Berlin official press is naturally inspired and therefore may be taken to indicate what the German government intends to do. The Lisbon government expects a declaration of war on the part of Germany; but regards it with equanimity.

ADVOCATES SMALL UNITED STATES ARMY

HOUSE MILITARY COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS THAT AMERICAN FORCES BE INCREASED TO 145,000

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 26.—After days of discussion the House Military committee today voted to recommend an addition to the United States army that would bring it up to 140,000 men. The committee thus rejected Gen. Leonard Wood's advise that the army be increased to 220,000.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE PERSIAN CITY

MUSCOVITES ARE MAKING IMPORTANT ADVANCES IN THE REGION AROUND KERMANSHA

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

PETROGRAD, Feb. 26.—After a three day battle the Russians completely defeated the German-Persian forces and captured Kermansha, an important city. The Persians and their German officers put up a brave resistance but they were gradually broken up and driven off the field in confusion.

DRY JOKE—LAID TO REST—TREAT BY BIG BROTHERS—SERVE AS CAT'S PAW

SOMEBODY'S "DRY" JOKE

It has been well said that "a sense of humor is the salvation of the human race." It is almost a peculiar sense with mankind, although some animals have been noticed to possess it in a certain degree. Unfortunately the idea of what constitutes humor differs widely in different people. Some of our worthy ancestors used to think it highly humorous to burn witches and would turn out in great glee bringing their luncheons with them to witness the struggles of miserable women in the water or in the flames. Others thought it humorous to stretch out on the rack those who differed from them in opinion and esteemed it a huge joke to hear their joints crack. So it is that some of the jokers of Glendale doubtless thought it the height of humor to paint a skull and crossbones on the advertising board of a Glendale citizen the other night. They added cabalistic words that added insult to injury.

Mrs. Hattie Gaylord, 134 E. First street, candidate for the office of city clerk, and a prominent member of the "dry" advocates of the city, was the sufferer in question. She complained to the police the other day that some person with a peculiar sense of humor had wiped out the "for sale" notice on a board in front of her residence and had painted in "VOTE WEF" and added the obnoxious skull and crossbones. The police are in doubt as to whether this is a joke of some "wag fresh from the winery" or a dire and ominous threat by members of the "Black Hand."

PALMENTEER FUNERAL

The funeral of Ralph Palmenteer of San Francisco, who was killed in the auto accident on San Fernando road, Thursday night, will take place from the Pulliam parlors, W. Broadway, at 1:30 p. m. Monday. Mrs. Nellie Palmenteer, mother of the dead man, arrived from her home in Santa Barbara Friday night.

Ross Lawrence, the driver of the auto, lies in a precarious condition in Tropico Mission hospital, with a fractured skull, a broken arm and collar bone. He has a chance for recovery. Mrs. Palmenteer is recovering from her injuries but is suffering severely from the shock of her husband's untimely death. Mrs. Lawrence is also recovering and her mother, Mrs. Drisco, and her brother, Hugh Drisco, have been taken home.

TREAT BY BIG BROTHERS

The Glendale Elks' Big Brothers gave a most acceptable treat to the children of Glendale, Tropico, Burbank, Eagle Rock, San Fernando and Fillmore, Saturday morning, when they entertained with a fine moving picture show in the Palace Grand.

The theater was packed with children. The show had been intended for Washington's birthday, Feb. 22, but as that day was not observed as a holiday in the schools, the affair was postponed until Saturday. The show consisted of five patriotic reels. After the show ice cream cones and other refreshments were served in the Elks' club rooms by the Big Brothers. The Big Brother committee consisted of W. E. Heald, H. M. Miller, I. H. Russell and W. E. Evans. It is needless to say that the children enjoyed every part of the treat provided for them by their Big Brothers and that they will talk of it for many a day to come.

SERVE AS CAT'S PAW

Big concerns in Los Angeles whose representatives are well-trained in business methods are using Glendale community clubs and associations as a cat's paw to give publicity to their products. These clubs and societies must not seek free advertising through the columns of The Evening News, for these corporations are amply able to pay for their newspaper publicity. The Evening News, free of charge, will assist you to raise money for the needy, but not one line of free space has the News for advertising the products of big corporations.

TO BE MARRIED TONIGHT

Mr. S. F. Hincley of the Glendale Hardware Store is to be married tonight at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hincley, to Mrs. Marie Bailey. The ceremony will be solemnized by the Rev. B. D. Snadden.

TALKS ON VOCATIONS

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL TO HAVE LECTURES ON LINES OF LIFE WORK

The Intermediate School Parent-Teacher association has, in conjunction with Principal White, made arrangements for a series of talks by practical men and women on "Vocations." The series when completed will have presented to the children a thorough survey of the various avenues of employment of all kinds that may be taken up as life's vocations.

Parents, as well as students, are invited to be present, as it will be well for both to think along the lines suggested by the lectures. Children very frequently choose, through some whim or other, a vocation for which they have really no qualities that fit them. When the preparation necessary for learning a life's vocation is set before children and their parents and when the difficulties that confront the person who desires to enter on any particular vocation are explained and the rewards that await the successful competitor made clear, children are enabled to decide which vocation they desire to enter and whether or not they have the requisite qualifications.

Monday, Feb. 14, saw the opening lecture of the series when Miss Mary Putnam, vice-principal of Manual Arts Training school, talked in the assembly room of the Intermediate school on the general subject of the "World's Work." Miss Putnam gave a comprehensive survey of the whole field of work and indicated without entering into particulars the various avenues of work that are open to students after leaving the schools.

Miss Putnam was particularly fitted for giving this lecture as she had been sent by the Los Angeles School board to the East, on a special mission, to study what was being done in the schools there in connection with "Vocational Guidance."

The Intermediate committee is anxious that it should be understood that everybody in Glendale is welcome to attend these lectures. There will be no charge for admission and the more who come the better pleased will the committee be.

It is pleasing to be able to announce that next Friday, March 3, Mr. R. F. Sawyer, assistant traffic manager of the Associated Jobbers of Los Angeles, will lecture on "Vocations in Connection With Transportation." As is well known, transportation experts nowadays command large salaries and the individual who has so mastered the intricacies of Interstate transportation as to be able to say in a moment which is the best method for routing any merchandise can have the top of the tree to himself. Much money can be saved or lost in this way. This vocation, which has innumerable branches, is one of the most important subjects that can be opened to young people.

Everybody should come out to hear this talk. It will not only be interesting but it will also be profitable. Parents should see that their boys, especially, hear this lecture. It may have a most important bearing on their choice of a vocation for life.

These lectures will be given at intervals of two weeks and the public can reckon on having the best expert opinion on this subject from men and women who have themselves gone to the top of their particular vocations in life.

THIRD STREET SCHOOL MUSICAL

Nothing exceeds in popularity among the students of the Intermediate school the monthly musical programs that have been arranged for in connection with that institution. The children were delighted with the first of the series, which was given in the assembly hall of the school Feb. 23, during the regular assembly period. Those who took part in the entertainment were not connected in any way with the school, and this arrangement will be followed in all the musicals which will follow.

Miss Ina Whitaker was the principal entertainer of the day. Miss Whitaker recently returned from a three years' course of study in Germany and England and has the latest European methods. Her program was as follows:

1. Prelude Rachmaninoff
 2. Kamenoi-Ostrow Rubenstein
 3. Two Skylarks Leschetizky
 4. Norwegian Bridal Procession Grieg
 5. Rigaudon Grieg
- Miss Whitaker gave a short explanatory talk on each number she played. David Moncton, one of the Intermediate boys, played, "The Swiss Boy" on the cornet with great purity of tone and wonderful effect. He was accompanied by his sister, Ellen Moncton.

SUPREMACY OF WESTERN EDUCATION

Various experts who have made minute comparisons between education in the west and in the east have come to the conclusion that the west is ahead. There are fewer children in the west, it is true, but proportionately the west spends more for education.

Oregon leads all the States of the Union in giving school credit for industrial work done at home. Oregon is therefore developing thrift and vocation to an unusual extent in the pupils of the public schools.

It is now proposed to add to those homes farms of from five to fifty acres. This, it is thought, will induce more men to adopt teaching as a profession. It is felt that there is need of the male element in teaching.

That education has largely fallen into feminine hands has been the result in part of the fact that the inducement to a man of parts to take up the teaching profession in a country school has never been sufficiently great.

Further examination of the statistics of the schools of the United States shows that California pays its teachers better than any other State. The average salary of public school teachers throughout the country, including rural and urban, is $480.

The commissioner made a pretty exhaustive examination of the educational system in the West. He was specially struck by the western farm schools. These are not strictly vocational, but they aim to industrialize teaching.

Another feature of school life in California which attracted the attention of the commissioner was the country library system. The method in California appears to be so satisfactory and extensive as to merit the interest of the whole country.

COURSE OF EVENTS IN CHINA

While the eyes of the world are turned on Europe, where so many nations are ranged against each other, little attention is being paid to what is going on in China; yet the world will have to reckon with that nation some day.

Yuan-Shi-Kai was for some time imperial chancellor to the old dynasty. In office he showed himself wise and farseeing as Chinese officials go. He organized a Chinese army on European lines and got together a compact force of 300,000 men.

Great things were expected of Yuan and for a time he seemed faithful to the mighty trust that had been laid upon him; but greed grows with power and ambition comes in the footsteps of those who tread the high places of the earth.

Whatever has been the case, Yuan-Shi-Kai engineered, so his enemies say, a movement in the course of which petitions were presented to him urging him to become emperor.

Infatuated Yuan, heedless of warnings, went forward with his plans. He had many sycophantic followers who admired him and looked for posts about the new court.

public is being refuted every day. They know what they want and that is not an empire, but a republic.

The revolutionists seem to have secured machine guns and to know how to use them. Yuan Shi-Kai's boasted soldiery were met—two divisions of them—the other day, near Pah-Konk, by 2000 so-called "rebels."

The triumph of the democracy in China will be inevitable if the people are left alone to fight out their own battle. The only foe they have to fear is some foreign power like Japan, which is naturally jealous of a democracy and may be equally jealous of an empire.

NUMBER OF HOMICIDES IS INCREASING

In the United States the average number of murders every year is 5,000. The figures are growing annually. As everyone knows, the number of legal executions annually is far below this figure. In fact, legal executions of life sentences for murder are infrequent and far between.

The most murderous city in the union is Chicago, which has the flamboyant "I will" for its motto. The least murderous city in the union is Milwaukee, which the liquor traffic has made famous. Of the half dozen very big cities of the country, Philadelphia, "the city of brotherly love," has the best record.

But the record of our most law-abiding cities is far below the European average, while the proportion of murders in this country is above the record of the darkest spots of Italy, where the murder industry is supposed to be most at home.

Our high murder rate is not the result of alien influence, either. It is highest in the south, where pure undiluted American stock is at the highest. And next comes the Pacific coast.

The fact that 70 per cent of our murders are committed with revolvers indicates that the laws against the carrying of dangerous weapons are largely a farce. Well meaning legislatures have, as usual, made these laws that look so well in the statute books; but, like so many other laws in noble and free land of the brave, they are merely considered objects of contempt.

A more vigorous prosecution of murderers, less maudlin sentiment and sympathy while it is being done, and fewer technicalities at law during the legal process, would reduce the number of annual murders without a doubt. Also, when a murderer is convicted and sentenced to imprisonment, the knowledge that there was to be no pardon at an early day would tend to discourage other murderers.

If you wish to vote at the coming city election, April 10, you must register prior to March, unless you have registered since January 1, 1916.

It has recently been a matter of much comment that the foothills district is so overlapped by mail delivery routes that a resident in North Glendale or thereabouts has choice of four deliveries. In the first place residents in the Glendale foothills can have their mail sent to Glendale post office and come in and get it. That is comparatively easy and simple. It obviates many difficulties and solves some problems.

In the second place there has for a number of years been a mail delivery through the Burbank postoffice. This route goes down Central avenue.

Thirdly, when the City of Glendale took in West Glendale, it also acquired a section of Route No. 5 of the Los Angeles free delivery. To make this good the postal authorities took a portion of the east end of Burbank and added it to Route 5. Route 5 comes up the Valley and goes down Pacific avenue. Residents in the foothills can thus have their mail sent by Route 5, Los Angeles.

In the fourth place mail can be obtained by foothill residents through the Casa Verdugo postoffice, from which one mail delivery goes half way up Valley View road, covering the same ground as the other three deliveries. What foothill residents have to determine is whether they shall have their mail via Glendale, Los Angeles, Route 5, Burbank or Casa Verdugo. Few districts are so overlapped, but it is safe to say that the foothills would be willing to dispense with some of the confusion and the postal authorities might save time and expense by remedying the matter.

It is believed that the Glendale Foothills should agree on some community mail distributing point. At present the foothill district loses its identity by being associated in postal matters with Burbank and Los Angeles Route 5, as far as the foothills is concerned should be Glendale Route 5. As far as outsiders are concerned at present they are apt to imagine that the foothills of Glendale are part of Los Angeles or Burbank.

Lena May Brice gave a violin solo; a vocal solo by Marian Addison was greatly enjoyed. Leon Brice recited a striking piece with much elocutionary power; Mrs. P. E. Fuller's vocal solo was much enjoyed. Alice Watson and Mrs. P. E. Fuller gave a duet. A vocal duet by Mrs. Hattie Gaylord and Mrs. H. V. Harrell was also enjoyed.

Charles R. Burger, chairman of the State Prohibition party, introduced Mrs. Hattie Gaylord, as a candidate for the office of City Clerk of Glendale. Mrs. Gaylord replied, saying that she was proud to make her first speech as a civic candidate in the presence of so many Prohibitionists and their friends. J. DISCOVERING AN INDIAN VILLAGE

A professor of history in the University of North Dakota has recently discovered the remains of a hitherto unknown Indian village. It is interesting to read of how an expert knows of the existence of such an almost obliterated village, what signs lead him to begin investigations.

The Indians belonging to the three most numerous tribes of North Dakota built themselves round huts, after they had made a strong skeleton framework of stout poles; over this they put any building material which was at hand, sometimes clay mixed with straw. They invariably built a fireplace just in the center of the hut; they usually had one door but no windows. As an Indian family lived in one of these huts, the clay often fell away gradually from the center of the roof; the Indian women swept their floors every day and this caused the floors to be a little rounded in shape, like a huge bowl. When an Indian hut has fallen to the ground, the expert, walking over the debris, will feel his feet sinking into this rounded-out part of the floor. If a bit of the wall is still standing, he may also find an opening where once was the door; by a little digging, he can usually find some ashes left on a hearth.

Professor Libby of the University of North Dakota, so says an article in the Bismarck (N. D. Tribune), being well versed in Indian history, was at once interested when he was told that in a certain neighborhood, near the town of Beulah, a rifle pit (or half buried village) had been found. He at once visited the place and discovered the village. "He estimates that it contained about 250 lodges, as the houses are designated. Unfortunately, he was not able to explore the whole village and ascertain its exact extent because a corn field had been planted over part of it, and another portion was newly plowed. But he found enough to assure him there had once been an Indian village of considerable extent, and that it was very old; one that had not been occupied for a great many years. He was sure of this because of the absence of pottery. . . . Whenever the remains of an Indian village are discovered, if it is of comparatively recent occupancy, it is always possible to find a large heap of broken pottery nearby. . . . The Indians made their own pottery and did not fire it very thoroughly, so that it was easily broken. Thus heaps of broken pottery was an accompaniment of every village. The sweepings of every house were deposited in one large hole used in common by the householders of the whole village. But about this village Dr. Libby did not find any trace of. . . Pottery.

"Having found the village the point of interest and importance was to locate the source of the water supply. This Dr. Libby proceeded to do. He found a lake nearby which was apparently old. He also found a spring and near it a pond, into which the unused water taken from the spring was allowed to run off.

"He next sought to identify the village. He communicated with the Mandan and Hidatsa Indians but they knew nothing about it. Among the

TROPICO

Despite the uncleremency of the weather the cafeteria dinner given by the Cerritos Street school Parent-Teacher association last evening proved a financial as well as a great social success. The generous response of the patrons of the school and the pupils filled the larder to overflowing and there was every delicacy provided that the season affords. This elaborate menu, which was thoroughly enjoyed by a large number of patrons and friends, was served in the domestic science room, under the supervision of Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore, president of the Tropico Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. R. W. Furman, teacher of domestic science.

Having satisfied the wants of inner man the guests assembled in the auditorium of the school and later enjoyed a splendidly arranged program. Miss Emma Lee Weiler, who is a clever reader, gave several selections, as did Joseph V. Griffin, who gave an original number, "Mr. District Attorney." Mrs. Estelle Lawton Lindsay, Los Angeles' noted councilwoman, gave a well appreciated talk on "My First Year in the City Council." Mrs. Lindsay is a most interesting as well as versatile speaker. Then, as a happy finale to a most delightfully spent evening, Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore was importuned to give one of her dialect readings, and as Mrs. Moore is a very clever artist she demonstrated the fact that she can give child dialect selections in such a realistic manner as has never been attained by any other reader, as well as can superintend a successfully served cafeteria dinner. Mrs. Moore is quite modest in accepting the congratulations upon the success of the dinner and gives to a number the praises and credit justly due them. Among the many who contributed to the success of the evening were William Dransfield, the public spirited Glendale avenue grocer; the popular B. & B. store, Bine and Butt, who assist every good and worthy cause; Bradford's Park Avenue store donated all of the napkins needed. Mrs. Hal H. Davenport and Mrs. Thomas Gaither added their liberal donations as did Frank E. Peters, Mrs. M. Scott of South Glendale avenue donated the use of all of the table linens. Members of the Tropico Thursday club contributed liberally as did the mothers and patrons of the Magnolia and Acacia street schools.

Each and every one seemed anxious and deemed it a great privilege to assist the Cerritos Parent-Teacher association, and Mrs. Moore desires to thus thank each and every one who aided the worthy cause.

Thursday evening will be one of much interest and pleasure to the husbands of the members of the Tropico Thursday club, as upon that date they will be the guests of the club at a program, which will be in charge of the hospitality committee of the society. Mrs. Rosa V. Winterburan will give a talk on "Modern History," which will be one of the features of the program.

Mrs. Eustace Benton Moore of Blanch avenue will feature the program this afternoon at the South Side Ebell club of Los Angeles, by appearing in several child dialect readings.

GLENDALE WINS GAME

Glendale Athletic club was the triumphant winner of the basketball game against the University of Southern California, at the gymnasium, corner First and Glendale avenue, Friday night. The Glendale boys showed more united play than in any previous game and the result was that they carried the ball again and again into the basket. Their shooting was straight and certain and as is usual when the game is in the hands of a team the "breaks" favored the local boys.

The University boys put up a good fight but they were entirely outclassed. This is the fourth time they have lost to Glendale. The score was 54 to 24 in Glendale's favor.

Glendale's lineup was: Bidwell and Littell, forwards; Taylor, center; Farner and Stone, guards.

The preliminary was to have been between the lightweight teams of Glendale and U. S. C., but the university team defaulted. The preliminary was therefore played between the Glendale High School and the Whittier High School, Whittier winning 24 to 17.

Glendale heavyweights play Normal, Tuesday, Feb. 29, at the Normal gymnasium, Los Angeles, and the return game with Normal, at Glendale, March 7.

PRIZES FOR GARDENS

The Garden Committee of the Pacific Avenue P. T. A. has distributed seed for the children's home yards and has offered cash prizes for the best efforts in gardening. This Child Welfare committee is composed of retired people who love children and growing things. Some of those interested in this work are: Mr. Hartmann, Mr. Parker, Miss Hyde, Mrs. Pernel and Mr. Carruthers.

Arikara he found an old Custer scout . . . who said that in his boyhood a . . . man of that period, called Blacktailed Deer, said that in his boyhood he had heard the old men speak of such a village. Dr. Libby believes that it dates well back into the eighteenth century."

EFFICIENT WOMEN IN FRANCE

The Railway Age Gazette tells its readers that the army of 25,000 women who are engaged in France as porters, cleaners, conductors or agents are doing their work well.

As cleaners and caretakers the women far exceed the men, except when the work is overhead. Walter S. Heatt writes of their work:

"The inside of the cars, whether first, second or third-class, were clean and neat as pins. The window sashes like those of a London haberdasher. There was not a spot of grease or coal dust on the tan-brown cloth cushions. The lace curtains placed over the cushions to protect them from wear were newly laundered and looked as sweet as those of a parlor. The linoleum floors were as spotless as a Holland kitchen floor."

The engineers are satisfied, and well they may be, for we read: "I watched the women at work. They were clambering over the engine, oiling it, rubbing it down, in a matter of fact manner, much as if they were scrubbing their kitchen floors, handling their oil cans and cotton-waste with surprising ease."

Quite as satisfactory are the women when employed as ticket agents, or in other capacities in which they come into contact with the public. Their courtesy is remarkable, even in a country noted for politeness. Their directions are correct and easily understood.

Even in rush hours, the women preserve their composure, and we read: "In the populous suburbs toward St. Denis and Pantin, the tramways are more commonly used. Disputes between men car conductors and men passengers were formerly rather frequent, but now they have materially decreased, because of the magic smile of the woman conductors. In the telephone and telegraph stations connected with the railway most of the operators are women. It is satisfactory to learn that these women are employed on the same terms as men."

TRAVEL BOXES FOR CHILDREN

Children when traveling need something to divert them, something to look forward to. A box or package of gifts for the children may be arranged at little cost or trouble.
 If one wishes something decidedly unique and unusual, there are exclusive shops which make a specialty of these surprise boxes, filled with charming and interesting novelties for little people. When these are being ordered any taste may be catered to at no extra expense, says the New York Sun.
 If one is preparing a "home made travel box," equally successful and just as welcome, it should be made mysterious in appearance. The outside wrappings should be far from indicative of the contents. One may have, surrounding each present, different sized boxes which have to be unwrapped and untied before the gift is disclosed. Last summer two little boys bound for Europe had great fun with their "while away" box, which was ingeniously covered with sail-cloth and tied with soft rope in numerous nautical knots with instructions on the package saying the knots were to be untied, not cut.
 The small packages making up the whole should be labeled in detail as to just what day and hour they should be opened. Anticipation does wonders. A woman who has just completed an attractive box for a young nephew has enclosed each gift in what looks to be a bonbon snapper. These little cylindrical packages are covered with gay paper and there is a motto in each. The gifts, a fountain pen, silver lead pencil, compass, knife and a long box of chocolates fit in easily.
 A more elaborate box, fitted up last summer for a girl of ten, contained an assortment of square and flat packages, including a small camera, a leather sewing kit, a geography game, a package of drinking cups, all packed into an attractive dark blue leather traveling case. The instructions for opening the several boxes were in quaint rhyme.
 In planning a "surprise travel box" the gift for the first day or hour might be a box of nuts or mints, for the second an amusing game. Another package might reveal a notebook and a set of sharpened pencils. So small a thing as a pair of blue linen beanbags monogrammed in white would help afford some fun on the deck of a steamer.
 For only a little expense one can get up a series of pleasant surprises similar to one planned for a trip to California last winter. The good-natured porter was entrusted with the several neat looking packages tied up in blue barred paper and wide blue ribbon. Each morning, while the small niece was at breakfast, the package was laid in her seat and the same experience repeated at luncheon. All of the passengers became equally interested in the opening of the pastime surprises planned by a devoted aunt. There was an ordinary tablet and pencil, a cloth scrapbook with a tube of glue and a supply of pictures to paste in, a book of comic pictures and the crayons with which to color them. Then there were sweets mixed in among the practical things, such as a small little black and white box containing little cakes, then a tiny crate full of miniature candy oranges, chocolate bars, dates, etc.
 For the single gift one can think up any number of things sure to be a source of entertainment to a child. The folding animals which fit into a bag resembling a Noah's ark are worth while. An assortment of colored beads and a few coarse threaded needles amused a small girl all the way to Florida last winter. A fancy sewing bag, a spool of crochet silk it reveals favors, which of course cannot be obtained until the yard is knitted off. There are all sorts of clever books which are instructive as well as amusing. Those with all the colored house furnishings to be copied on the opposite page from the original are good. With this book is a box of crayons. Then there are similar bird, flower and animal books equally suitable for travel gifts.

Apropos of the fact that a prominent statesman divided one of his statements into three parts, the Montgomery Advertiser recalls the announcement of a mountain preacher who said to his flock:

"Brethren, I hev decided t' divide my sermon in three parts. Th' fust part I'll understand an' you won't. Th' second part you'll understand an' I won't. Th' third part nobody'll understand."
