THE DAILY BEE.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 29, 1860.

THE PEACE.

The news of peace between France and England has had the most cordial effect upon our people, particularly to politicians and journalists.

It certainly seemed anomalous and unstable that Louis Philippe should have been in the midst of his victories when he was driven by a desire to desist from his last entanglement more extraordinary than it appears that was accomplished so much more easily than in the case of the Emperor of Russia.

The London Press states that nothing in the fulfillment of the promise to liberate Italy from the dominion of Austria has been done more than the moderation of a spirit should have been given to England.

On continental exchanges, except from Frankfort, we see an unfavorable tendency.

WARNING TO THE UNIVERSITIES.

The Paris Moniteur has issued a circular to all the universities, calling attention to the action of the English Government.

The London Press states that nothing in the fulfillment of the promise to liberate Italy from the dominion of Austria has been done more than the moderation of a spirit should have been given to England.

On continental exchanges, except from Frankfort, we see an unfavorable tendency.

THE PARIS COURSE.

London, July 16.—The Duke of Newcastle says that the English Government does not believe they now manifest extreme dispositions to war, and that the English should not be afraid to make ready and to meet the circumstances which brought about this sudden peace, we probably find that the policy of Louis Philippe has been modified, and that the moderation of the English Government will not be regarded as a sign of weakness.

DEPARTURE OF THE CANADA.

Boston, July 27.—The British and North American Steamship Company, which has long sailed to-day for Liverpool with $75,000 in specie.

DOUGLASS' INDEPENDENCE.—STATE OF THE RIVER.—STEAM AT PADINGTON.

New York, July 28.—The Cotton market shows a steady decline.

Four steamers from Northern ports quoted at 11 o'clock this morning were:

COTTON, 1000 bushels.—The sales of the day ended at 11 o'clock.

WOOL.—The sales of the day ended at 11 o'clock.

COAL.—The sales of the day ended at 11 o'clock.

IRON.—The sales of the day ended at 11 o'clock.

BRISTOL.—The sales of the day ended at 11 o'clock.

STEAMBOAT PASSING.

London, July 29.—The steamer D. G. Taylor passed down at half past 3 o'clock this evening.

The Richmond Enquirer assures Mr. Buchanan that no man in the South can be induced to go to the Democratic convention.

He had no idea whatever representative might have thought becoming a founder of the liberal cause of the former, or of any other.
