"CLIMATE" AND "TOURISTS."

A man visiting Norwalk some days ago said Southern California depended upon climate and tourists for support. If he could stay here a few weeks and see the immense amount of freight hauled by and from this place by the Southern Pacific company he would be forced to a different conclusion. Before our immense crops of beets are all harvested, the mammoth celery crop begins. Already has the movement begun: As a little instance, one day this week an extra freight train carried eleven cars of celery and seven of beets by this place. Climate? Tourists?—Norwalk Call.

We are pleased to note that the editors of Southern California are sitting up and taking notice of the frequent statements that "climate" and "tourists" form the chief asset of this productive region. When a soil responds so generously and profitably as it does in the sunny southland, where all kinds of berries, oranges, lemons, peaches, apricots, pears, plums, plums, olives, grape fruit, grapes, walnuts and almonds, melons of all kinds, vegetables and cereals of every variety can be produced in such amazing abundance on such a small outlay of labor and capital, the climate of course plays an important part.

The tourist, however, is not prominently in the cast, except with the hotel people and the railroads. Inasmuch as it is only necessary to see to believe of course the tourist usually returns to become a citizen, and thus he participates in, rather than contributes to, our good fortune. When a person exercises a little mingled common sense and industry in Southern California, he can live comfortably and acquire a bank account.

Brother Truitt has sounded the slogan and every editor in this glorious, growing, prosperous southland should contribute eloquently and truthfully to an exposition of conditions here. Be not discouraged, brethren of the press, if material appreciation of your efforts for the weal of the land should not be manifested, and remember that editors reap their reward in the great hereafter.

DESERVES BETTER PATRONAGE.

The News desires to call the attention of the people of Glendale to a public utility that deserves a more general patronage than it is receiving. Reference is made to the electric lighting system which was installed here some eighteen months ago by the Glendale Electric Light and Power Company. The owners of this enterprise have expended a large amount of money in the construction of the plant and it is now being operated at a considerable loss. There is not a family in Glendale that could not afford to put electric lights in their residence at the minimum rate of $1.50 per month. Electric lighting is more convenient, less dangerous and certainly as economical as oil lamps. In fact from every point of expediency our people should install electric lights. We need a few arc lights on the streets, too, that the wayfarer may wend his way homeward with some hope of reaching his destination without fractured bones.

There are a number of citizens at some distance from the electric line who desire to put electric lights in their homes, but the expense of making the connections is so great that they cannot afford it unless the people residing in the intervening territory agree to become consumers.

INDUSTRIAL WORK.

Mrs. Robert Morris of Chicago is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Stanley of E street. In view of the fact that Glendale women are interested at present in establishing here her line of work it may be of interest to state that for many years Mrs. Morris has been connected with industrial work in Christ Church, Michigan avenue, Chicago.

Here children drawn from all classes, mostly foreign, not less than six are admitted and taught to make patchwork, when they are put in the intermediate department, where are thirty-four teachers to teach sewing, cooking, millinery, etc. A special teacher is provided for the mending, darning and patching department. When graduated, these girls are in great demand, applications being constantly received for them. Dresses are hand-made and cut by the tailor system. Each child begins by being measured for a garment which is given to her, which, when properly finished, she buys for from three to five cents. Only the best of material is used. Domestic science teaches the girls everything about the home, cooking, especially. The term begins in October and is continued every Saturday until Easter, when appropriate exercises closes the school. Mrs. Morris will be glad at any time to explain details or tell interesting little anecdotes about the wonderfully successful things they have accomplished.

JUDGE E. M. ROSS DOES NOT BELIEVE IN TAKING BACKWARD STEP.

Our distinguished fellow-townsmen Judge Erskine M. Ross, recently expressed himself to one of our fellow-citizens as follows in regard to the question of disincorporating.

"I am sorry to notice that some parties are agitating the question of disincorporating the city. I was originally opposed to its incorporation, but when the matter was determined against my views, it was settled as far as I am concerned, and from that time on it has seemed to me that everyone interested in the community should do all in his power to aid those in authority to make a success of the project. To disincorporate now seems to me a decided step backward and I hope very much that the movement will be defeated."

The above is no more than would be expected from a gentleman of Judge Ross's intelligence and high character, and we hope some others who should know better will see the error of their ways before the matter comes to a vote.

RAILWAY MAIL CLERK EXAMINATION.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces that the Railway mail clerk examination announced to be held for California, November 28, 1906, will be held at the following places in this State: Eureka, Cal., Redding, Cal., Marysville, Cal., Sacramento, Cal., Napa, Cal., San Francisco, Cal., San Jose, Cal., Santa Cruz, Cal., San Luis Obispo, Cal., Santa Barbara, Cal., Los Angeles, Cal., Santa Ana, Cal., San Diego, Cal., Redlands, Cal., Bakersfield, Cal., Visalia, Cal., Fresno, Cal., Modesto, Cal., Stockton, Cal.

Applicants should at once apply to the District Secretary, Room 241, Post Office Building, San Francisco, Cal., for Application Form 304, which should be properly executed and filed with the District Secretary prior to the hour of 1906.

OUR NEW POST OFFICE.

The moving of the Glendale post office into the new building, built for the purpose, is about complete and order will soon be established. The office will be comfortable, roomy and convenient. New box sections will be added immediately and other improvements will continue.

The building is a practical and substantial one of concrete blocks, and is of a good size for the purpose, being 20x40, and so constructed that extensive additions can be added in the future.

It is of practical style of architecture, modern and well-finished, a fine addition to our town of which we are very proud.

It is well lighted, well screened and the terra cotta of the cement floor adds to the style. For the use of those holding boxes the office is open and lighted until eight o'clock every evening except Sunday. Glendale has grown so rapidly that a new office became a necessity, and certainly it will make a better impression upon the many strangers coming here. At present the expenses of running the post office in its new home will be met with donations from the citizens. This may continue about a year, when it is expected to be accepted as an office of the third class.

CLUB NOTES.

On Tuesday afternoon occurred the regular meeting in the library room of the Tuesday Afternoon Club. Most of the members were present and many guests. Wayside notes in current events called out some interesting things in science, art, books and economics, especially when Mrs. Stanley explained the "importance" of the speech, which is always with us. During reports which followed it was learned that the club had raised and spent over one hundred dollars in the past nine months.

It having so happened that the birthday of Mrs. Dr. Hunt occurred on this club day she was presented with an elaborately decorated birthday cake, all pink and white and smilax and candles! And with great sprays of chrysanthemums tied with ribbons and plumes. It was in honor of the birthday that the hall had been so beautifully and effectively decorated with blossoms.

Mrs. C. E. Stanly took up the first subject of the year's work, "Household Economics: Pure Food Tests." She "explained things" in a manner that won acclamation from all, giving at the end a number of intensely interesting food tests.

Dr. Simpson, from the Sanatorium, in a convincing manner proved that housekeepers use a great many articles in cookery which they could well do without and followed with some economical and healthful receipts which aroused interested discussion. She was given a rising vote of thanks at the close of her remarks.

BAPTIST SOCIAL.

There was a housewarming in the guise of a Baptist social Tuesday evening at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Martin on Orange street. Guessing and conversation were the liveliest of the games. Mr. C. H. Temple won, for the best conversational powers, a fine leather medal which was suspended about his neck. This was presented by Mr. Clifford Mason in a witty and telling speech. Music and recitations followed, also some amusing stereopticon views conducted by Horace Overton. After light refreshments there was a jolly peanut hunt.

To the Voters of the 67th District

Glendale, Nov. 8th, 1906.

I desire to thank my friends of Glendale, Burbank, San Fernando and other precincts who so faithfully stood by me through the campaign just closed, and who, regardless of party affiliations gave me their vote. The severing of party ties at a time when all the bitterness of partisanship is being stirred to its greatest depths means much more than the ordinary observer realizes, and though I suffered defeat because of the heavy partisan vote in a portion of the district where I have least acquaintance, yet I won a victory of which I shall forever feel proud, by receiving a vote in my home precinct of 220 to my opponent's 81; this is especially gratifying when we consider the fact that the Democratic candidate for governor did not receive more than half that number in this precinct. I also thank most sincerely THE GLENDALE NEWS which made such a gallant and aggressive campaign in my behalf. The sting of defeat is forgotten when I think of all the kind things that have been said and done for me. I would rather be defeated by an outside precinct and receive the handsome majorities which I did where I am known, than to be elected by outside precincts and not receive the home vote. So I am in reality victorious.

We reduced a 1500 majority to one of little more than 500, and in doing so, I made a clean, active and conscientious campaign. I did my best and failed, and have nothing to regret except the disappointment of friends who worked so hard for my election. Again I thank you with all my heart, but no words can express my appreciation of your unselfish efforts.

I am, always your friend,

E. D. GOODE.

Glendale Presbyterian Church Hymn Book Social.

On the first Saturday in December will be given the splendidly planned hymn book social, under the direction of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, for the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian Church. Many new and unique ideas are being worked out, among them a delicatessen counter which will furnish many dainties for the Sunday dinner, or will be nice for hungry dishes will be a feature, so bring all ones to eat on the spot. California your eastern friends. One of the pretty features will be a well, filled with most delicious punch, presided over by a charming Rebecca, who will sell it to you for 5 cents a glass. The ice cream tables will be arranged in an unusual manner, to tempt young and old alike.

The idea of it all is to raise money for new hymn books for the church. Those having the matter in charge are energetic, progressive women who are determined to make the affair one to be remembered.

When Heney and Burns send the San Francisco grafters to the penitentiary their services may be needed in this county.

Public spirited citizens should bear in mind that it is not only their duty to vote against disincorporation, but to impress others to go and do likewise.

Orange county is just concluding the harvest of six thousand acres of celery. Who said Southern California depends on tourists for her prosperity?

The output of gold from the mines may be increasing the world's money very largely, but speaking personally there is no perceptible per capita growth.

The Dairy Owners Association has raised the price of milk all over the state. After awhile the poor man will find all the necessities of life beyond his reach.

It is announced that alcohol can be made from molasses for twenty cents a gallon. That is the first intimation we've had that good old sorghum could be put to such base purposes.

Brother Whitaker of the El Monte Gazette, heads a social item in his spicy journal, "Given Punch Bowel." Now look here, "Whit," that is a foul punch and clearly below the belt, and we have always maintained that you were a fair fighter.

We have no fault to find with any man's politics, but there are occasions when it is well to overlook your party nominee and vote for the fellow on the other ticket when the interests of the community are at stake. There is no especial honor in voting a straight ticket.

While out admiring the beauties of nature keep your eye peeled for the ubiquitous small boy and his shot gun. The suburban hills and valleys are also full of Los Angeles nimrods who know about as much about the use of firearms as a hog does about theosophy.

The virtues with which some people imagine themselves to be possessed do not impress others in the same way. It is a mighty narrow-minded religion that ascribes to itself all the good in this world and none to people who live clean lives and who entertain an honest difference of opinion.

Silver is now about seventy-two cents an ounce, and the director of the Mint predicts that it will go to seventy-six cents within the next year. The Pacific coast has especial cause to rejoice as the effect of the enhanced value of the metal will be sure to bring into profitable operation at a very early day many silver mines now suffering from neglect.

India has a population of 294,361,056 human beings, which is about 42,390 to the square mile. This easily accounts for the regularity of famine in that country. California can accommodate a much larger population, but we sincerely pray that the pagan Indian may never conclude to emigrate this way. It will be necessary for Congress to enact laws soon regulating the undesirable foreign emigration that is lowering the standard of our citizenship.

FLATTERING PROSPECTS

A Number of Lots Have Been Sold in the Glendale Garden Home Tract

Work is being rapidly pushed on the Glendale Garden Home Tract, and already a number of lots have been sold. The early demand for lots in this tract is but the natural result of the favorable location of the property and the many substantial and beautiful improvements that are being added.

Mr. G. H. A. Goodwin, manager for the Erkenbrecher Syndicate informs us that the syndicate has let contracts for ornamental gateways which will be the handsomest of any suburban section.

In addition to this the syndicate has placed orders for four thousand scarlet geraniums and for a large number of handsome shade trees and palms, for use in the pathways of this tract. The Glendale Garden Home Tract is commonly known as the Lindgren place and is located on Glendale avenue and Ninth street, in one of the most beautiful spots of Glendale and consists of thirteen acres of as fine soil as can be found anywhere, which is particularly adapted to the growing of small fruits, flowers and vegetables. The soil is a rich sandy loam and no matter how much rain there may be it is always free from sticky mud, such as is found in many sections.

When the Glendale Garden Home Tract is completed it will be one of the swell suburban home site properties and the building restrictions are such as to insure a desirable class of residents and buildings that will be a credit to Glendale and the valley.

The enterprise that is being shown by the Erkenbrecher people is certainly deserving of the hearty support of our people and every encouragement and kindly help should be given these people in their endeavors to build up Glendale.

The Chrysanthemums Show

Several went from Glendale to the third annual exhibit of the Southern California Horticultural Society, Blanchard Hall, Los Angeles and were well repaid for doing so. The hall presented a veritable fairyland, with hundreds of yards of asparagus plumosus draped from the snow white ceilings and walls and adorned with dozens of floating balls of crimson.

There was an airy pergola adorned with palms, ferns, colens and bright sprays of the peculiar red Transvaal daisy. Lovely clematis completed the effect. There was a pond with exquisite water lillies of white and pink, with lavender floating on its placid surface, among real lily-pads. There was a splendid display from "Windcrest," Mrs. E. H. Childs' home, of rare orchids among dainty maidenhair ferns. The display of roses was most excellent, consisting of superb American Beauties of long stems; sweet little prize winners, the Cecile Brunners; the La France; the pink and the white Mamon Cochet, and the queenly Kaizerin Augusta Victoria.

A most unusual display for the time of year was that of sweet peas of lovely white and perfect tints, and of a fragrance unsurpassed. The spicy carnations, field grown, were unexcelled there being twenty varieties in all, many kinds being grown for the first time without glass.

But the chrysanthemums were the thing. They were all there, starry, fluffy masses of white, red, bronze, pink, yellow and various tints difficult to name, all standing out in perfect individual beauty that charmed at once. One, the Florence Penford, being the chamois, shading to deeper tones in the center, proved an immediate favorite. Another, the queen, very double and ivory white, was regal in her stately beauty. Wm. Duckham received a large share of admiration, being an incurved Japanese variety of exquisite pink. This 'mum has a delicate fragrance like honey. None were more ardently admired than Lucy Evans, a grand heliotrope-pink of great beauty and eleven inches in diameter. The Black Hawk, shown by W. W. Margg of Pomona, is the deepest and darkest red ever produced. His Mrs. Winthrop Sargent (Sport of the Good Gracious) was remarkable for its bronze-like beauty. The magnificent Silver Wedding attracted many visitors with its snowy loveliness.

The Glory of the Pacific exhibited by Mrs. G. W. Bowers, Redlands, an incurved bloom of pink is aptly named, and won admiration easily from all. The little Pom-poms, What cheer, and others of that class were shown by Sidney Höckridge. Largest and heaviest of all was the Good Gracious, white, blushed a delicate flesh pink, incurved petals and quite twelve inches in diameter. A most pleasing 'mum of dainty coloring was Charity, deep crimson incurved petals with pale silver reverse. A fine one that attracted unusual attention was Henry Barnes, deep crimson-maroon, broad, heavy petals with golden-bronze reverse. It is said that this is a great favorite throughout the Southland. General Hutton, a brilliant yellow was striking in its beauty, as was California Gol.

These are only a few of the many beauties exhibited, but their description will give some idea of the wondrous splendor and general excellence of the show.

Special music was furnished each

TIN WEDDING.

A pleasant affair, novel in its ideas and dainty in appointment, was a tin wedding on Saturday evening, November 10th, the tenth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Blackburn, at their home on Second street. The rooms were brightened with lovely pink and white roses, a favorite combination of the hostess. The event was in the nature of a reunion, relatives and friends of older days forming the party. The many gifts were practical and useful, including four graters, one of which bore the following legend:

"This is to certify that—
"For tin long years
This good man and wife,
So kind has been their nature,
Have found nothing harsh
To grate in their life,
And so never needed a grater."

The most delicious viands composed the buffet luncheon, presided over by Mrs. C. E. Byrkit and Miss Mary Blackburn. The table presented a dainty picture of pink and white, the color scheme being carried out in the beautiful hand-painted china, crepe napkins, snowy damask, pink roses and pink-shaded candles. Even the wafers and ices were the same dainty pink. Punch was served during the evening by Miss Helen Lamson.

Included among guests invited were Mr. W. S. Blackburn, father of the bridal couple, who married them, and the mother, Mrs. Blackburn, Miss Mary Blackburn, and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Royce, parents of the bride. These were present at the marriage ceremony in Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Byrkit and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dell Lamson and family, Mr. Parke Harrison and family were also present, and from Los Angeles came Mr. O. H. Blackburn and John Pierce and his son and daughter.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

Friends of Mrs. Emma Burkit will be grieved to learn of the painful accident which happened to her at her home at about 4:30 Tuesday afternoon. She had poured five gallons of gasoline into a large tub back of the house and in this attempted to clean a woolen garment. As the fabric touched the gasoline Mrs. Burkit was conscious of a distinct shock running up her arm. The garment snapped and crackled, as she let it down into the tub, and she attempted to wring it out. Instantly combustion took place and the wrapper and entire contents of the tub were in flames. Mr. Hurt and son, who were building near, carried them away from the house, which was scorched.

Fortunately, Miss Mary Moessner, matron of Emergency Hospital, Waterloo, Iowa, a house guest, was on the spot and able to attend to Mrs. Burkit until physicians could be summoned. She was badly burned about the neck and face and the hair on the left side of her head was burned off. She had tried to protect her face with her arms, and they were badly burned. For about two hours it was feared she had inhaled the flames. She is suffering greatly from the shock, but her recovery is assured.

WILL PRACTICE LAW.

Mr. G. F. Wyvell, who purchased the Bruesser place in North Glendale several months since, has opened a law office at 518 Grosse Building, corner of Sixth and Spring streets, Los Angeles, and he invites the readers of the News who desire legal advice to call and see him. The Evening Times of Grand Forks, North Dakota, has the following anent Mr. Wyvell and family:

"It will be a source of disappointment to a large circle of friends in this city to learn of their decision to make their homes elsewhere. During a residence of three years, Attorney Wyvell has won not only an enviable reputation as a member of the state bar, but many friends socially, and his wife as well has endeared herself to many warm acquaintances."

"Attorney Wyvell is a graduate of the State University and his success in his chosen profession is not only a credit to his native ability but to the institution in which he was educated. His early career as a court reporter gave him an advantage in legal knowledge to begin with and hard work has accomplished the rest."

ST. MARK'S GUILD.

On last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Alexander Mitchell entertained the ladies of St. Mark's Guild at her lovely foothill home in North Glendale. Carriages met the ladies at the car, Brand Boulevard, and conveyed them to the place of meeting most comfortably. Mrs. Mitchell was delighted that there was such a full representation of the Guild, as well as with the guests of the society, the Misses Williams, recently from the east, and Mrs. Wilson S. Chapman, Jr., of Chicago. After the short business session garments were made and the ladies visited over the sewing. Later Miss Emma Williams, pianiste, and her sister, Miss Nellie, furnished some delightful music. Light refreshments were served by the pretty daughter of the house, Miss Lorraine. Plans were made for a very smart affair to be given November 22nd, at the attractive home of Mrs. Orman Oak on Second street, where Japanese addresses, decorations and refreshments will be used. Guests will be made welcome during the afternoon.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE.

Among the many birthdays celebrated in a social way lately none have proved more enjoyable than the surprise given Mr. Dana Fiske on Wednesday evening at his home on J street. Mr. Woodberry saw that Mr. Fiske was at the city council while the crowd gathered. Everything had been in readiness and the home was quickly decorated with pepper boughs and chrysanthemums.

When Mr. Fiske returned home his surprise was certainly genuine, for he walked right into a crowd of friends of olden times, from Tropic and Glendale. Some he had known fifteen and sixteen years ago. Mrs. Dana Fiske, assisted by Mrs. Frank Albright, had done the planning and about fifty guests had been invited.

Jolly games were indulged in, among them the popular patent medicine game. Light refreshments were served at the close of an evening of unalloyed enjoyment.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

A very happy birthday party was that of Miss Mabel Benson when she celebrated her nineteenth birthday at her home on Sixth street, on Thursday evening. The home had been beautiful for the occasion with ropes and garlands of smiles started with lovely roses. The grounds were artistically decorated and lighted with Chinese lanterns. Jolly games and some lively music whirled away the time. Among the many presents received by the happy hostess was a piano. Dainty cakes and plenty of ice cream finished the evening's enjoyment. Among those present were Misses Alma Norton, Nettie Watson, Eva Mills, May Fanset, Ann Grant and Mabel Benson, and Messrs. Harry Wilde, John Fisher, Bert Brierly, Loran Grant, Alfred Hezmalhalch, Charly Lund, George Benson and Max Green.

A NEW GROCERY STORE.

With the increase of population comes additions to our business houses. The latest mercantile enterprise is Campbell & Campbell's grocery store, located in the Watson building on Fourth street, near Glendale avenue. The new firm will open up for business either today or Monday with a large and fresh assortment of the very best groceries. They will carry anything you may desire in the grocery line and guarantee prompt and courteous service and immediate delivery. The gentlemen comprising the firm are cousins.

Mr. C. C. Campbell was formerly with J. F. McIntyre in the lumber business, and Mr. J. A. Campbell has been a resident of Los Angeles for some time. They hope to merit a share of the public patronage and invite our people to call and see them whether purchases are made or not.

A Population Boomer

Mr. Ed M. Lee, who resides on A street between Seventh and Ninth, is a population boomer of the right sort, having induced relatives to move to Glendale so that now the Lee colony numbers eleven persons. Mr. Lee's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lee, his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Lee, his brother and nephew. Mr. W. W. Lee and son, are among the party who recently arrived from New London, Henry county, Iowa. With the exception of three years in the Civil war, the two elder Lees have lived for seventy years in New London and vicinity, but have broken hometies that they may spend the remainder of their days in the Golden West near their much loved son and nephew. Mr. W. W. Lee will probably reside a while in Los Angeles so that his son may attend the State Normal. Glendale extends a hearty welcome to these people, who will soon feel at home among us. May their days be full of happiness and healthfulness that they may be long with us:

M. E. CHURCH NOTES.

A large and appreciative congregation was present last Sabbath morning to attend the old people's service. Rev. W. S. Blackburn preached an interesting sermon. The membership of the church was increased by four, viz.: Roy Sherman, Mrs. J. B. Manson, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. McGills.

On tomorrow morning and evening the pastor will discuss "The Good Soldier of Jesus Christ" and "The Call of Jesus to Repentance."

Miss Nellie Sanborn, field deaconess, will be present and participate in all the services. Miss Sanborn sings beautifully and performs on the harp artistically. She will remain throughout the week, services being held each evening, to which all are cordially invited.

MRS. RYAN ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan contributed a smart little affair to week-end social events when she entertained a few of her friends on Saturday evening at her new home on Fifth street.

The house is artistically finished and conveniently planned and was pretty indeed with its decorations of lovely chrysanthemums and many candles. A splendid game was enjoyed and later music was a pleasing diversion. The dainty repast was unique in Thanksgiving suggestions, delicious pumpkin pie forming a delectable feature with cakes and other dainties served with coffee. The evening proved most enjoyable.

At the Baptist Church, Sunday, November 18, the subject of the morning sermon will be "Seed Time and Harvest." That of the evening, "The Sword of the Lord and of Gideon." Messages for the hour. We invite you to worship with us.

W. F. STONE, Pastor.

Odd Fellow's Smoker.

Last Monday evening was a festal event in the affairs of Glendale Odd-Fellowship, as on that date Glendale Lodge No. 388 gave a "smoker" to its members and a number of visitors, the affair being exclusively a "stag" arrangement.

At about 7:30 p. m. the clans began to gather and at 8:30 everything was in full blast, the evening being spent in playing whist interspersed with vocal "strains" by Prof. Chas. Caruso Hezmalhalch, who favored (?) the audience with several selections from Italian high opera, which was so impressive as to almost paralyze his hearers.

Selections by Caruso, Sembrich and many of the famous rag-time artists, was heard, under direction of that great and talented musical genius, Chas. Bohm de Lund.

The beauty of the Castilian language was portrayed in its deepest and "mellowest" passion by Don Cavalier F. C. Hezmalhalch, there being not a dry eye in the house after only one of his soulful readings.

F. Gilman Taylor gave a correct interpretation of "Three Little Maids From School" and made a lightning get-away when the two human jumping-jacks, L. D. Bates and C. Hezmalhalch, performed the double-shuffle on the whist table.

One of the most remarkable features of the evening's program was the gastronomic contest between the two human ostriches, Bulkeley and Comstock. Comstock started well but before the half-way post was reached he showed signs of distress and he was pulled out of the race and sent to the "relief station." Bulkeley came under the wire smiling, finishing first in a canter without turning a hair.

Tom Pierce was programmed to deliver an oration on "The Rise and Fall of the Salton Sea," but as all present were becoming alarmed about the refreshment supply, after witnessing the remarkable gastronomic contest, Tom was excused and sandwiched as toastmaster.

Taken all-in-all, the evening was the most enjoyable ever experienced by the local lodge, all the boys entering heartily into the innocent fun provided and everyone left at the conclusion of the evening's entertainment feeling happier and better for having come out.

City Trustees

Board met Wednesday evening Nov. 14th. Members present, Parcher, Fanset, Jennings, Anderson, Watson. Minutes of the meeting of November 7th were approved as read.

Demands as follows were referred to the Finance Committee; No. 84 from the Glendale News in the sum of $108.60 for printing and publishing; No. 85, from the Glendale News, in the sum of $9.25 for job work; No. 86 from John Mulder in the sum of $12 for November rent; No. 87 from the Glendale News in the sum of $12.50 for printing and publishing, and No. 89 from Eves & Wilkinson in the sum of $51.10 for labor and materials for stand pipes.

A petition for the establishment of a grade on Louise St. was on motion ordered, and the engineer was instructed to establish said grade.

A map for Livingston tract was presented for acceptance, and on motion was referred to the city engineer for consideration.

On account of being an employee of the government, Mr. Asa Fanset tendered his resignation, which was on motion accepted. Mr. Frank Campbell was appointed to take Mr. Fanset's place.

Much regret at losing Mr. Fanset as a co-worker was expressed by the different members of the board, but they considered themselves fortunate in having Mr. Campbell take Mr. Fanset's place.

Mr. Kelly, of the National Fire Appliance Co. addressed the board regarding fire hose and fire plugs. A fire plug would be necessary for each block in case water was used to extinguish fires, but that 2-chemical engines to cost about $900 would do the work for the whole city, affording protection for the residences as well as business houses.

THE DARKTOWN SHOW AND COTTON-BALL.

All who assist in the Darktown show and cotton-ball are invited to meet on Tuesday evening Nov. 20, 8 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. W. C. Fraley on Glendale Avenue. It is requested that you meet sharply at eight o'clock. Many from the smart set or Glendale, Tropic, Los Angeles, Hollywood, Colgrove and Compton are showing their appreciation of Mrs. Claudia Hazen White for her good work in these different towns, by assisting in the Darktown show. It will be one of the smartest and biggest affairs ever presented in Glendale. Black Patti will be there, and Williams and Walker, and of course Haverly's minstrels, with all the new stunts out. The cake walk will be a winner, composed of the most supple members of the smart set, who will be well drilled by Mrs. White herself. Much original talent will be displayed in the gowns for the cotton-ball, which will be something new in this vicinity. The Glendale skating rink, being the largest hall available, will be used and probably decorated for the occasion and a large stage will be built for the event. Many from nearby towns have already signified their intention to attend and talent from the many classes under Mrs. White's instruction will be largely drawn upon to help make the affair a success. Look for programs, which will be out in a few days.

The ladies of St. Mark's Episcopal Guild will be tendered a social at the home of Mrs. Orman Oak on Second street near A. A musical program will be rendered and light refreshments will be served. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged and the general public is cordially invited to attend and enjoy the hospitality of Mrs. Oaks and the ladies of the Guild.

Go 'way chile! yo' gwine win dat five dollah gol' piece what going be luk fo' de cotton gown what doan look like cotta' at de dark-town ball.

A thick skull is a splendid thing to have in some cases of emergency, and in this one saved the man's life.

Not a thing has been left undone that will help make the bazaar a grand success, and it is talked about in all nearby Presbyterian circles. Several parties of Glendale people have already made plans to attend. Go early, for later in the evening there will be a rush and the best things will be sold.

FROM THE FOOTHILLS TO THE RIVER.

On Wednesday evening occurred the much talked of meeting of the Tropic Improvement Association to consider a number of questions "for the good of Tropic." Annexation to Los Angeles, as the most important topic, was first discussed. House numbering and street lightings were topics of such importance as to call out lively discussion. Addresses on "outdoor art" were given by Mrs. M. S. Robertson and Mrs. Rodman, Los Angeles, followed by singing by the Rice brothers. One of the finest improvements in Tropic is the new bridge, on the extension of Tropic avenue toward Hollywood. This is now complete, with the exception of the east end embankment. Projects are afoot for finer lawns, more flowers and more shade trees and perfect cleanliness of all streets, making the town attractive at once to strangers. One much-desired improvement will be the widening of Brand Boulevard, between Cypress street and Tropic avenue, where twenty-five feet are needed from the lots for the purpose. There is now a petition out and it is expected the county will soon accomplish this hoped for improvement. Then there can be a continuation of curbing, cement walks, palm trees, and flower borders can be planted. The most ambitious plan of all is to have beautiful shade trees planted from the foothills to the river on either side of the street, making of Brand Boulevard one of the finest show-places in the vicinity of the city. Popples, which always attract, would be plentifully planted along the way.

The Tropic Improvement Association was organized six years ago and holds a meeting on the last Wednesday of each month. Under its direction the place is blossoming into one of the most attractive places in the southland.

TOLUCA.

O. J. Bashford has moved into the Richardson place on the Ventura road. Road Overseer McCabe is receiving another consignment of oil and is just more than making fine roads.

S. E. Elwess has exchanged his ranch for city property and has moved his family there. A new family has moved in, but we are unable to find out the party's name.

Several minor improvements are noted: P. A. Westerfeld is spending about $500 in improvements on his house. W. H. Sadler has had his home completely renovated. R. B. Weihe is having a tank and tank house erected.

We are still selling property if Los Angeles does own the water. J. C. Carr has purchased sixty acres from J. B. Lankershim in Leibhart canyon. S. Davis has added 40 more acres to his holdings by purchasing that amount from Chas. Forman on Paloma avenue and the river. F. A. Perry bought an acre lot from D. Visser and will build thereon at once.

Under the management of the University of California a Farmers' Institute will be held here Tuesday, December 11, both morning and afternoon, at the school house. Col. J. J. Steadman of the California Cultivator; J. B. Neff, one of the best known agriculturists of the southern part of the state, and Prof. H. J. Ramsey of Berkeley will be the principal speakers. Please make a special effort to attend these meetings as they are for your benefit.

Monthly Report of Glendale Library

The Glendale Free Library and Reading Room was open to the public on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, from four to six o'clock during October.

There were received forty books from Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Taylor; also three books from Mr. Whitaker; two Harper's from Mrs. Ezra Parker; six Collier's, four Little Folks, one Poultry Journal from Mrs. Church; two mission style book cases and two dozen chairs have been added to the furnishings of the room. Upon the tables may be found current and late numbers of the following magazines contributed by the publishers or private individuals: Harper's, St. Nicholas, Everybody's, Youth's Companion, Little Folks, Collier's, Out West, Ram's Horn, Pacific Monthly, California Voice, California Cultivator, Crusader, New Century, Path, and many others.

The Tuesday Afternoon Club now owns nearly two hundred books which have been given by interested citizens.

Traveling Library No. 37 is a fine collection of fifty books, among which are some of the best late books.

The California State Library News Notes of California libraries, which are published monthly, may be seen at the library.

Among other interesting features of these are cuts and ground plans of California libraries, cuts of children's rooms, reports of district library association meetings and other subjects of interest. The October issue is especially devoted to books for the blind, and gives an account of the different types most in use in the state, and of the occupations and accomplishments of some of the blind of California.

The California library officers and workers at Sacramento are doing a fine educational work for the state.

THE JONES HOME.

Among the attractive homes recently completed in Glendale is the Jones home, ideally located on the corner of First and C streets, in a beautiful home tract which commands a magnificent view of old Mt. Lowe and a panorama of the valley. From a veranda forty-two feet long across the front and fifteen feet long on the north side, and quite seven feet wide, one steps into an unusually large living room, with polished floors, tinted walls, beamed ceilings; many casement windows and a most handsome fireplace and mantel of pressed brick. A feature of this room, which is about 14x-36, is the quaint and roomy landing and staircase. Here is a built-in bookcase with several doors of leaded glass. The dining room is most artistic and has a large built-in buffet with a mirror-panel on the entire back which gives a striking effect.

The den is roomy and comfortable and the kitchen is most complete, having every modern convenience to date. The house is piped for gas and wired for electricity, and contains in all seven rooms with several closets, a trunk room and modern bath. There are two view balconies.
