

SOLEMN TRIBUTE TO HARDING AS CAVALCADE OF SORROW WENDS ITS WAY AT WASHINGTON

CITY SCHOOL BOARD BUYS SUPPLIES ON BIDS

Building Program Is Being Carried Out to Meet Demands in Fall

The expenditure of money in connection with the building program of the grammar school system last night in its quarters at 17-South Brand boulevard occupied the attention of the Board of Education.

Superintendent Richardson D. White was requested to close a deal with Frank S. Morgan of 124 East Arcadia avenue for the purchase of his property at this address for $5,000.

The bid of the Johnson Plumbing Company of 1200 North Central avenue for work in connection with the Colorado street was accepted.

Construction of the security building ahead of schedule, declares architect priest

Construction progress on the $50,000 five story Class A building being erected on the northeast corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway for the Security Trust Savings bank is ahead of its schedule.

The Baker Iron Works of Los Angeles received the 500 tons of steel for this building a few days ago. It was shipped some time ago by the Bethlehem Steel company, near Pittsburgh. It is valued at $65,000.

The necessary rigging and base plates will be installed about the 15th of this month and erection will commence about the 25th.

J. B. McNeil of Los Angeles, who has the general contract, has completed excavating for the basement and is now preparing the foundations.

Terra cotta for the entire exterior of the building is now ready at the Tropic Pottery, which will cost about $65,000.

Harding Smiles In Death, Note Correspondents

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—A slight smile, softening the droop of his lips, lightens the face of President Harding in death.

It was Mrs. Harding's wish that the newspapermen, who followed the president in life, should be permitted to see the body.

Many of the veteran writers, steeped with experience in the world of tragedy, showed grief, while viewing the body.

ASSOCIATION FOR BRANCH COLLEGE

Foothill Organization Is in Favor of Educational Plant for City

Although a large majority of the members are away on vacations, the meeting last night of the Glendale Foothill Improvement Association at the Grand View school is reported by the president Alexander Mitchell, as being full of interest and enthusiasm.

Favor was expressed by the association of the suggestion that the Southern Branch of the University of California be located in Glendale, and the 200 acres lying between Glenwood road and the Southern Pacific railroad track, was pointed out as one of the available locations.

In discussing the new depot question, the association unanimously favors the site on West Gardens street and urges that the city purchase five acres of ground there for a park about the depot.

Another matter discussed was the lighting of the streets in the foothill section. A letter was read from A. J. Van Wie, city clerk, concerning improvements in this section of the city, and the association went on record as favoring more adequate lighting and it was suggested that a lighting zone for the foothill section might be established.

NATION'S HIGH OFFICIALS TAKE PART IN CEREMONY FOR DEPARTED PRESIDENT

Historic Pennsylvania Avenue Is Scene Of Majestic Procession; Impressive Service As Honored Dead Enters Capitol

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—America spoke her grief today at the funeral of the twenty-ninth president—spoke it in a pagentry of sorrow, spoke it in an outpouring of silent emotion, spoke it in tones of majestic reverence, such as the nation has seldom heard.

Hardly had a torpid sun swung quarter way across the smoky sky when the great black gates of the White House swung wide and all that remains of Warren G. Harding came forth from his last night under its broad roof into the hands of the people and thence through endless lines of bowed, reverent citizenry to where the dome of the capitol showed mistily against the foggy heavens.

There was a momentary halt as the cavalcade of sorrow swung into the broad bosom of the avenue.

Then the lead was taken by General John J. Pershing, astride "Jeff," his famous mount. Following close behind came his staff, the metal of the horses' shoes beating a sharp staccato on the pavement, as they swung into movement.

MRS. HARDING ON VERGE OF COLLAPSE

Widow Lifted From Motor Car and Assisted to Enter White House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—Florence Kling Harding, the most pathetic figure in America today, returned to the White House, from the journey down the "Avenue of Sorrow" this afternoon in a state approaching physical collapse.

Burdened under an overwhelming grief, Mrs. Harding had to be lifted from her motor car and practically carried into the White House on the arms of attendants.

The ordeal of turning her husband over to the nation for a state funeral apparently had sapped away the last vestige of her indomitable will to "carry on."

Whereas she walked out of the White House earlier in the day with a firm step and calmness coming from supreme courage, she drooped with weakness on the return trip.

EAGLE ROCK LOCAL PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED
Chamber of Commerce in Open Forum; Shower of Sweets Is Due
The August open forum meeting of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce, held last night in the auditorium of the City Hall, on East Colorado boulevard, produced an interesting discussion of local problems.

The meeting, which was presided over by J. C. Shedd, of Occidental college, in the absence of O. J. Root, president, was well attended. Whereas, last month's open forum meeting was marked by almost exclusive discussion of the zoning matter, this meeting took up a number of topics, among them the water situation and the credit proposition.

An authority from the outside had been expected to address the gathering on "Water Supply," but he failed to appear, so the matter was gone into informally by those present, it being the consensus of opinion that the safety of Eagle Rock is jeopardized by the present lack of proper hydrant facilities, particularly, and that an adequate fire-fighting apparatus and proper hydrants, is useless without adequate water.

Shower of Sweets
As only a few jars of jam, jellies and preserves remain in the stock of the Eagle Rock school cafeteria, Mrs. Adolph Weil is planning, as chairman of the jam sweets committee of the Parent-Teacher association, to hold a series of showers in the near future.

Glendale Bowlers Given Prizes As City League Schedule Is Completed

PRIZES totaling $1000 were distributed last night to winners in the Glendale City Bowling League tournament, at a closing banquet held in the Oriental room of Jensen's Egyptian Village cafe, 133 North Brand boulevard. Peter Neise, secretary of the league, acted as toastmaster, arranging the festivities, distributing the prizes and calling upon the various recipients for remarks.

During the banquet, the atmosphere was enlivened by several numbers from the Sawtelle vocal trio, who sang to the fantastic accompaniment of Jensen's Colored string quartette.

Before tendering the winners the reward of their excellence, Mr. Neise made the following two announcements: First, that at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, August 8, there will be an individual tournament on the Jensen Palace Grand alleys, for the championship of Glendale, the Lewis Jewelry company donating a gold watch fob to the winner; and, second, that there will be a meeting at 8 o'clock Saturday night, August 11, at the Jensen Palace Grand alleys, to form a three-man league, comprised of teams with equalized averages, which will bowl through the balance of the summer, until another big tournament can be lined up in September.

Present Prizes
The cash prizes were then distributed to the ten teams in the order of their final standing, as follows:

- Team—Captain Amount
- Gateways (C. Caswell) $100
- Jensen's (Joe Fortunato) 75
- Smith's Chevrolet (A. Anstey) 50
- Coker & Taylor (F. Roder) 50
- Psenner Bros. (E. Paul) 40
- Page Furniture (Pennock) 35
- Smith's Ford (H. Buchty) 35
- K. of C. (F. Stewart) 30
- American Legion (E. E. Brown) 30
- Moreland Trucks (Biehler) 30
- Commenting on his team winning first place in the Glendale City Bowling League tournament, Captain Caswell of the Gateways stated that in twenty-five years of bowling he had never taken part in a cleaner, straighter series.

PLAN DRIVE FOR COMMUNITY FUND

Money to Meet Charitable Needs of City Will Be Campaign's Object

At a luncheon meeting of the Community Chest committee of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, held yesterday noon in the auditorium of the Citizens' building, 150 South Brand boulevard, Dr. Warren Z. Newton, chairman, was authorized to appoint budget, publicity and organization committees.

This action was taken after listening to a report by George P. Whittlesey, secretary of the Community Chest of Pasadena, an incorporated body that has been highly successful in raising finances for the various organizations of the city which had hitherto raised their funds by conducting "drives" and in other ways.

Mrs. John R. Case, chairman of the young people's social committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, also addressed the gathering, telling how, as financial secretary of the San Francisco Community Chest, she had been instrumental in raising a large sum of money in the first year of their activities.

Pasadena Organization

Mr. Whittlesey sketched briefly the history of the Pasadena organization, stating that it grew out of a chamber of commerce committee. The first year, he said, which was 1921, was successful, though not as phenomenally so as 1922, when of a $136,000 budget, $176,000 was raised.

In order to accomplish this, he stated that men who had handled the Liberty Loan drives were obtained. These men divided the city into districts, appointing captains, who, in turn, appointed teams. These teams thoroughly canvassed the city, with the result that every organization coming under the Community Chest received all the funds they needed, and at no effort on their part, thus saving fully fifty per cent of their time.

Mr. Whittlesey pointed out that Rochester, N. Y., which has a similar organization of donors, has likewise been highly successful in the raising of community funds. He gave the 1923 Pasadena budget as follows, stating that the amount set opposite the name of each organization is the balance it needs to maintain its work for the year of 1923, in addition to what it may receive from membership, dues, rentals, interest on endowment, or other sources of income aside from contributions from the public, and that these amounts do not include money for building equipment or endowments:

American Red Cross	10,500
Boys' and Girls' Aid Society	15,000
Boy Scouts of America	10,250
Bureau of Catholic Charities	6,000
California Junior Republic	10,000
Children's Home Society of California	1,800
Cinema Society	100
Citizens' Milk Fund Committee	8,000
Council of Social Agencies	2,700
Pasadena Day Nursery	7,000
Pasadena Dispensary	16,300
Edna P. Alter Mexican Settlement Association	7,700
Federation of Parent-Teachers' Associations	1,200
Pasadena Home for the Aged	15,500
Pasadena Humane Society	100
Pasadena Preventorium	10,000
Rosemary Cottage	4,000
Salvation Army	6,000
Pasadena Tuberculosis Committee	3,200
Vocation Bureau	5,800
Wallace Home for Mexican Children	1,900
Pasadena Welfare Bureau	2,000
Young Men's Christian Association	21,500
Young Women's Christian Association	19,500
Totals	$186,200
3 per cent for campaign and administration expenses	5,586
Shrinkage is small	$191,786

Donations are received quarterly, Mr. Whittlesey said, and disbursements are made monthly. Shrinkage as between the amount pledged and the amount received has averaged less than one per cent, he said, while the average sum collected from an individual has been $30, collections running all the way from 20 cents to $1600. The drives are put over, he said, by newspaper advertising and publicity, by motion pictures and by window exhibits.

The members of the community chest committee of the Chamber of Commerce present at yesterday's meeting were: Dr. Warren Z. Newton, chairman; and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, representing Mrs. Dan Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. John R. Case, chairman of the young people's social committee; Tuesday Afternoon club; Mrs. E. D. Yard, Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, Eugene F. Sanders, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Burton McGinnis, A. R. Eastman, president of the Verdugo Hills Council of Boy Scouts; O. A. Danielson, J. I. Wernette, representing C. D. Thom; D. Ripley Jackson, president of the Exchange club; V. M. Hollister, president of Community Service; R. Ernest Tucker, executive secretary of Community Service; and George B. Karr, president of the Rotary club.

The committee adjourned to convene again at the same place, next Tuesday, August 14, at 12:15 o'clock, when the sub-committees appointed by the committee will make reports. These committees are as follows:

Budget, O. A. Danielson; organization, Owen C. Emery; publicity, V. M. Hollister.

ELKS EXPECTING CAPACITY CROWD

Boxing Bouts Thursday Night Will See Headliners In Local Ring

The Elks are looking for another capacity crowd at their entertainment tomorrow night, when five bouts will be staged for the benefit of the fund that is being raised to send the band to the annual state convention at Eureka in September, and it is expected that every inch of space will be filled with excited fans by the time Harry E. McCartney calls the first pair of leather pushers to the center of the ring for their instructions and Dan Tobey, the king of all announcers, tells the crowd who is in this corner and who is in the other.

Tickets for the show are going like the well known and justly celebrated hot cakes, according to Ray L. Galvin, chairman of the Jinks committee who, with Harry McCartney, has booked the bouts for tomorrow night, and the net amount to be placed in the band fund will, it is predicted, surpass that of the last show, when several hundred dollars were added to the amount already on hand.

Big Boost For City

Every Elk in the lodge is working hard to make the band's trip to the state convention a success, and the band is rehearsing the special selections that are to be sprung on the gathering at Eureka, so as to be perfect in their performance. The result is certain to be a big advertisement for Glendale, and the lodge members are anxious that the people of the city get behind the project and help boost their home town.

Both the previous boxing cards staged by the lodge were full of action and gave the fight fans full value for their admission price,—and then some. The bouts tomorrow are said to be the best that have been presented here, with several of the headliners in the four-round game mixing it for the pleasure of the Elks and their guests, to say nothing of the bankroll their efforts will net them.

HARD JOB AHEAD OF LOCAL SQUAD

Glendale Team Meets Strong Hoffman Nine Sunday; Woman to Umpire

The next opponent of the Glendale baseball team will be the strong aggregation from the Paul G. Hoffman company of Los Angeles, who will cross bats with the locals on the home grounds at Park and San Fernando next Sunday. The Hoffman team won first honors in the South Coast league, and last Sunday they handed Catalina their first defeat in many months, so Manager Walt Heidler and his crew are looking forward to a stiff contest Sunday.

As last Sunday was an idle day with the Glendale team, Manager Heidler spent the day looking for new talent to fill out the weak spots in his line-up, and he states that he has succeeded in finding several new stars, one of whom is "Pep" Kerwin, sport writer and manager of the baseball department of the B. H. Dyas company of Los Angeles. Kerwin is said to be a wonderful catcher and a consistent hitter, and is expected to be a big help to the Glendale team.

Woman Will Umpire

Heidler has also signed up Pat Collins, the Pasadena whirlwind infielder, and Slim Ward, a first baseman, who is tall enough to reach them a long way off. With this new stuff for Glendale, Sunday's game should be a humdinger.

Another star attraction at Sunday's game will be Miss Mina Bell Hurst, the only woman umpire in the world, it is claimed. Miss Hurst will have full charge of the big game, and, judging by past performances, she is well able to take care of the task just as competently as any of the men who wield the indicator. The game will be called at 2:30 sharp, and a big crowd is expected to see the two teams wrangle for the lead.

DUNDEE, LEONARD GRAB LIMELIGHT

Lightweight Bout Shuts Out All Other Attractions; May Cut Receipts

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Throat cutting being the local idea of how to carry on a business rally, at least as far as the Giants and Yanks are concerned, it is not surprising to learn that Benny Leonard and Johnny Dundee are to frolic in full view of the populace at the Yankee Stadium, September 5. The pair in question not only will be advantageous to the box office men employed by the Yanks, but should prove quite annoying to Tex Rickard, Charley Stoneham and the New York Giants in general.

This is killing two men with one set of boxing gloves. The date of the bout is the answer. It comes at such an unseemly juncture as to leave the Leonard-White melee, with which Rickard and the Giants were dallying, out on a state of limbo, it is altogether possible that it will cut into the publicity for the Dempsey-Firpo entertainment.

Bitterest Affront

This latter is an unpardonable affront. You may permanently borrow a promoter's watch and he will forgive you—after you return it. Tamper with his publicity, however, and he is discovered striking an heroic pose for just anyone within reach of a camera.

At more popular prices, the Dundee-Leonard enterprise would fill Central Park, both of the young men having a large acquaintance among barbers, button-hole makers and other classes of the independent rich. Most of them being able to read with the aid of a foreigner, the publicity will follow as naturally as a buck private and the Dempsey-Firpo bout, set for nine days later, will suffer accordingly. It will be a case of share and share alike in newspaper space and that's no wider than its narrowest column.

"I like the date of the bout," Leonard said today. "If it came after Dempsey meets Firpo, our publicity would be hurt. Now it is the other way around. It should be a great fight."

The champion neglected to say that it should be a great crowd also. He has come to have an abiding affection for cash customers, en masse.

Williams Leads Ruth In Home Run Race

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 8.—Williams of the Phillies smashed out his twenty-ninth home run of the year here yesterday in the fifth inning of the Philadelphia-Pittsburgh game. Williams now is two ahead of Babe Ruth, his closest rival for major league home-run honors.

The Phillies made it three out of four by beating the Pirates again, 7 to 5. Williams socking his twenty-ninth homer with two on.

The Nash Sport Model is here—open evenings till nine. Down town 112 So. Maryland, near Broadway.—Advertisement.

The King's Himself

BABE RUTH

Fifty home runs, just nine below the wonder-mark he set in the heyday of his career, is the aim of Babe Ruth, Behemoth of Swat. The slugger not only seems to have found his old eye, but he has knuckled down to his work with an earnestness that is bringing results and the hero worship of the fans. Ruth doesn't say he can equal that fifty-nine mark. But he has a chance. A few "double-headers" and he might.

Gibbons' Charges Are False, Says Referee

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Saying that Tommy Gibbons was "literally slapping the mouth that praised him," Jimmy Dougherty, of Philadelphia, who was the third man in the ring at Shelby, Mont., when Jack Dempsey successfully defended his title against the St. Paul heavyweight, denied charges made in a story published over Gibbons' signature.

The charge was made that Dougherty had not only favored Dempsey throughout the bout, but had even gone out of the way to hurt Gibbons' chances, and Dougherty, at the end of one round, had cautioned the challenger against "roughness."

Dougherty declared that the charges were not based on the facts.

"I could have disqualified Tommy," Dougherty said, "for he had his body greased, a violation of fighting rules. I let him say. Does that look as though I had gone out of my way to favor Dempsey?"

The Giants hit Luque and Luque hit Stengel, but the former counted in the club standing and the latter didn't. Score 6 to 2. It was the fifth straight for the Champions over the Reds, and the first between Luque and Stengel, the scuffle coming when the senior retired from the box by request in the eighth.

Manhandling three Senatorial pitchers for twenty-six hits, the Indians established a season's record by winning, 22 to 2.

SPORTS CHATTER

By BILL UNMACK
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The Pacific coast has started an agitation to include a Rugby football team to compete in the 1924 Olympic games in France, Washington, Oregon and California, particularly the latter state, include many of the best players of the game in the country, and there is no doubt that if some enthusiastic in the game takes the initiative that a team could be selected that would give a good accounting of itself.

Just at the moment it looks very much as if nothing but the burden of years will take the lightweight crown away from Benny Leonard. A lot of the boys are trying to beat Father Time to it, but without success. However, it has been proven on several occasions that Leonard is not invulnerable. Charlie White, Ritchie Mitchell and others have "gotten to" the champion and rocked him pretty well but have just lacked the final ounce that does the trick.

Bob Fitzsimmons Junior seems to have fallen by the wayside as an heir who could keep the fighting name of his father to the fore. Sons of great fighters, like those of great artists, statesmen and other geniuses seldom are found to be able to "carry on." Old Bob had every faith that some day his son would be a world champion. The real reason for the failure of the younger Fitzsimmons lies in the fact that he never had any great taste for fighting. He might have made a fine lawyer or a great actor or a prominent architect but he never was cut out for the ring and old Bob could not see this.

Many students of baseball declare that the decadence of the star professional player is not due to his batting eye so much as the slowing up of his legs. The high percentage batter may hit the ball as hard and as often as ever, but with the advancing years he is not as fast on his feet. Thus, what would have been a base hit in his younger days, becomes an out on first because he cannot travel the distance from the plate so fast. It seems to be a logical deduction.

There have been many instances of brothers both being in the fight game such as the Gibbons and Mitchells who come to mind. The only instance on record where they have fought each other for a title is that of the Parson brothers of England, when Taffy beat Con for the English heavy title in 1848.

The World Over

By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

Those who take a pride in the manner in which this nation carries out the details of sending a team to compete at the Olympic games will be glad to learn that steps already are in process of formulation which will prevent the rather shameful and incapable manner in which the business and financial end of the last affair was conducted.

There was a considerable stretch in connection with the way in which finances were raised and also a lot of complaint in connection with the handling of the athletes during their transportation to and from the games and while they were on the ground.

William F. Humphrey, a member of the Olympic committee for America, was not afraid to call a spade a spade and scathingly denounced the entire handling of the American team. Evidently his plain words have had a salutary effect for officials in charge already have gone to work to raise the necessary funds, and have charting a contract in the matter of chartering a ship.

Few persons are aware that it costs more than $300,000 to finance a trip of athletes from this country to an Olympiad. The present plan is to raise a subscription among those men who can afford to give $150, or more as an aid to the cause, the remainder to be apportioned among the dozen or more big athletic organizations of the country in accordance with their ability to pay into the general fund.

It is felt that there will be not the slightest difficulty in getting a thousand sports enthusiasts to give $150 each, which would at once take care of half the needed amount. Certain it is that there will be a number who will give considerable more than this amount. Incidentally, while 1000 has been set as the number of friends of American sports from whom money is expected, it is felt that there will be many more than this number anxious to lend a helping hand.

A repetition of the bickerings and recriminations which occurred during and after the last Olympiad would be most unfortunate. Stenches of this character are harmful besides which it makes what the office boy calls "a holy show" of us among the other nations of the world. It will take at least 300 athletes to make up the whole of the American representation, the cost of transportation and upkeep during the games being roughly $1000 per man.

A meeting of the Dog Protective association was held last night at the Glendale Union High school, at which a number of new members were welcomed. George W. Reeves, of 800 North Louise street, president of the association, presided over the meeting. He stated that the situation with regard to the proposed ordinance remains the same. On the return of Mayor Spencer Robinson, it is believed that the matter will be taken up with the City Council.

Firpo Makes Change In Training Chief

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Aug. 8.—A fellow countryman who understands him, will handle Luis Firpo in his training for the heavyweight encounter with Jack Dempsey, September 14, supplanting Jimmy De Forrest, veteran trainer, Firpo admitted. Speaking through his interpreter, the "Wild Bull of the Pampas" declared there was no disagreement, no falling out with De Forrest, but admitted having more confidence in one Horacio Lavalle, who will arrive about August 29, on the steamship American Legion.

Austin Takes Over Browns' Management

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Jimmy Austin, veteran third sacker, who recently has been touching the St. Louis Browns, today took over formal management of the club, replacing Lee Fohl, dropped by Phil Hall, owner of the American League club. Fohl was to leave New York today for his home in Cleveland. He stated he would later go to St. Louis, but declined to explain why.

LA CRESCENTA PLAN MEMORIAL FOR DEAD RULER

Services in School House to Show Respect to Late U. S. President

A memorial service for the late President Warren G. Harding will be held here in the schoolhouse auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday. Members of the local civic bodies will attend, representing the Parent-Teachers' association, Woman's club, Improvement society and Montrose Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. Davenport, formerly of this town but who now has a pastorate at Hemet, will be present to assist Dr. Kelso, who will have charge of the services. Rev. McLaughlin will also assist. These three ministers will give short addresses and time will be allowed any person who desires to speak of the late executive.

It is expected a large attendance will be present in order to pay respect to the departed president.

Dies of Pneumonia

James Hooper, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hooper of this community, died of meningitis at the Glendale Hospital Sunday. James was just 14 years old on the day of his death and was well known in school and Boy Scout circles here.

The deceased's Boy Scouts comrades attended the funeral in a body. The pallbearers picked from the local patrol were Robert Potts, Laurence Potter, Harold Swanson, Robert Telfer and Leland Mead. Services were held in the home, interment being in Forest Lawn cemetery.

The Girl Scouts, Patrol No. 1, will picnic on Thursday at Brookside park, chaperoned by Mrs. Jessie Hansen and Mrs. Fisher, who will drive the patrol over. The following girls will enjoy swimming, tennis and other sports: Dorothy Potter, Charlotte Foy, Irene Murdock, Marie Perkins, Sarah Goldenbury, Florence Peterson, Margaret Brown, Helen Fisher and Peggy Fenton.

Woodrow Wilson in Funeral Procession

ately rushed forward with requests for him to pose. The former president bowed towards the crowd, while the presence out in the roadway became known, Senator Ball, Republican, of Delaware, came out of the White House to welcome him. The senator apparently carried to the former president a message from Mrs. Harding. Going to his illness, states R. T. Foster, no effort to enter the White House, but sat waiting in his car for the funeral procession to start. When Wilson's car rolled down the avenue in the procession, the crowd was gravely silent. At the capitol, his car swerved out of the line, and the former president returned directly to his S street home.

Public Playgrounds To Close on Friday

All public playgrounds and tennis courts within the city of Glendale will be closed Friday, August 10, 1923, out of respect for the late president, Warren G. Harding, for whom final services will be held on that day at Marion, Ohio, states R. T. Foster, superintendent of recreation, Community Service.

This will close for that day the Pacific Avenue, Glendale Union High school and Cerritos Avenue grounds.

CITY FACES TWO DAMAGE ACTIONS

Attorneys May File Lawsuit Against Glendale for Alleged Injuries

Two personal injury damage suits may be filed in the near future against the city of Glendale. The City Council has authorized Attorney Ray L. Morrow to take whatever action may seem necessary.

Attorney Edgar F. Hughes of the Los Angeles law firm of Hughes, Robinson & Hughes is the writer of the following letter recently received by the city administration:

"Our client, J. A. Cumming, has recently erected a gas and supply station at No. 3021 Los Feliz boulevard. This property is on the north side of the boulevard and is a short distance from the boundaries of your city.

Damage Alleged

"Our client informs us that he constructed between the boulevard and the station certain approaches at considerable expense to himself. He states that a short time ago, just as the work had been completed, your city water department, in flooding the streets of your town, negligently permitted a large volume of water to escape from your city limits and to overflow the property, destroying the approaches and causing Mr. Cumming considerable damage.

"This matter should be adjusted without delay as we are convinced that our client has been damaged, and that he is entitled to recover from you by reason thereof. We shall be glad to take this matter up with you or to have you send our representative to see Mr. Cumming and estimate the extent of loss."

Attorney Frank C. Hoyt of the Los Angeles law firm of Wetherston, Hoyt & Jones was the dictator of the following letter:

Falls on Sidewalk

"This is to advise that J. D. Peverly, while carrying a box or case for the purpose of delivering the same to the drug store at the northwest corner of Brand boulevard and Broadway in Glendale, fell and was severely injured.

"The accident happened about 3:30 a. m. on June 17 while Mr. Peverly was walking over the sidewalk at the south side of the drug store and was caused by the fact that there was a hole in the cement walk which tripped and threw him in such a manner that his foot was severely twisted, wrenched and torn. Mr. Peverly has been confined to his bed up to the present time.

"We are advised that the sidewalk along the south side of the drug store is on city property and the matter of keeping the same in proper shape is in charge of the city and not of the people owning the drug store. Assuming that that is so, we feel that the city of Glendale is responsible for the injury sustained by Mr. Peverly.

"We cannot at present estimate the full extent of these injuries but would be glad to have you send a physician to examine Mr. Peverly and it will be appreciated if you will write us at once stating whether or not the sidewalk at the place mentioned is kept up by the city of Glendale and concerning your attitude in the matter."

Sixteenth Annual Report Of City Librarian Shows Great Growth Of Glendale

VIVID reflection of the growth of the city of Glendale during the past year is seen in the sixteenth annual report of the Glendale Public Library, just presented to the library trustees by Mrs. Alma J. Danford, librarian, and approved by members of that official board.

Outstanding features of the report are a total circulation of 213,044 volumes, an increase of 10,453 books and the inadequate room for housing the various library activities. Mrs. Danford's report follows:

To the Honorable Trustees of the Glendale Public Library:

It is my esteemed privilege to submit the sixteenth annual report of the Glendale Public Library, and, as a climax, I shall put forth statistics to verify a growth commensurate with the growth of Glendale, the three outstanding features being—a total circulation of 213,044 volumes, an increase of 10,453 books and the inadequate room for housing these extraordinary activities.

BROTHERS' DEATHS TOLD IN LETTERS

Glendale Woman Learns Details of Tragic Drowning in Minnesota

Mrs. H. A. Hanan of 604 East Colorado street has just received the details by mail of the drowning of two brothers, Hal Fry and Ray Fry, in a lake close to their home at Osakis, Minnesota. A letter again remarking the fatalities was received following the accident July 27, while a visit was being made with another brother, Verne Fry.

"That evening after supper," writes Claude Fry, a fourth brother, "they decided to walk over to Ray's new house and look it over. It was a beautiful moonlight night and Hal and I went to the lake which they proceeded to do. When they reached the lake, Hal and I again remarked that we hadn't been on the lake for so long that he would enjoy a boat ride. Ray's boat had been lying idle and submerged for some time so Verne went to his locker and put on a pair of hip boots, dumped out the water and walked to the boat as best they could. Of course the bottom of the boat was covered with slime after being under water for so long.

Boat Capsized

"They rowed around for some time and about three-quarters of a mile from shore when Hal suggested that he relieve Verne at the oars. That was agreed upon, so Verne stepped toward the bow of the boat with his back to the two boys, Ray was sitting in the rear seat. Verne cannot tell for certain just what happened for the first he knew the boat had shot out from under him and capsized and all three were in the water.

"By that time the moon had gone down and it was very dark. Verne, and he thinks, both boys began calling for help. Verne finally caught a flash of an oarlock and, although handicapped by his big boots finally reached the boat which was full of water and would not sustain his weight. He kept calling to the boys and for help. He thinks he saw them both once about twenty feet away but is not sure.

Everything Quiet

"A small wave came along and after that everything was quiet. He then knew that Ray and Hal were gone. Verne was in the water about forty-five minutes when he was finally rescued. During all that time he could only touch the boat lightly with his left hand and fight to keep from going under with his right. His natural quickness, presence of mind and lack of panic saved his life. When rescued, he collapsed, became unconscious and it was a long time before he was able to talk.

Hal Fry at one time conducted a cigar stand in the old Pacific Electric depot in Glendale. He was visiting in the east and intended to return with his brother, Ray.

GEORGE U. MOYSE AND WIFE HOME

High School Heads Tell About Auto Trip in Northern Section

Mr. and Mrs. George U. Moyses of 322 East Harvard street, principal and vice-principal of Glendale Union High school, have returned home with a deeper and fuller appreciation of the scenic beauties of the Pacific coast.

The trip, which was made in the family automobile, extended as far northward as British Columbia.

"We had an unusually pleasant trip," remarked Mr. Moyses yesterday. "The car was in the pink of condition and we had no accidents. The weather in general was very good. There were light showers in Vancouver and some very hot weather for a few days in southern Oregon and down the Klamath river. Fortunately, we struck it cool going up the Sacramento valley.

The first stop, after departure had been made from Glendale June 30, was at Berkeley, where the annual convention of the National Educational association was in session. This was found quite interesting and instructive.

When they went to the itinerary then included Shasta, Portland and Seattle. From Anacortes, which is about seventeen miles south of Bellingham, the automobile was ferried to Sidney on Vancouver Island. They then motored southward eighteen miles to Victoria and then northward seventy-eight miles to Nanaimo. The ferry was then taken to Vancouver.

The new half a million dollar Garfield high school at Seattle was inspected with much interest. Mr. Moyses observed that it has been built for comfort in cold weather.

"This school differs from ours in a number of details," he remarked. "It has some things that we haven't and we have some things that they haven't, so I think it about even."

The scenery along the Columbia river was much admired, especially by Mrs. Moyses. She was most reluctant to turn back when they reached the rocks at the Cascades.

Meet David Blacks

After reaching the California boundary the journey to the coast was made along the Klamath River highway. This also was found very picturesque although the grade is quite steep for eight or ten miles over a one-way road through the Cascade mountains. After leaving Orick, which is midway between Eureka and Crescent City, the trip was made down the coast route via San Francisco.

In Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Moyses met Mr. and Mrs. David Black of 350 Kenneth road, who are now on an automobile trip through Oregon and Washington. Several institutions of learning were visited on the trip including the Oregon State university at Eugene, the Oregon Agricultural school at Corvallis and the University of Washington at Seattle.

While in Portland Mr. and Mrs. Moyses visited Clarence Yates who for several terms was head of the commercial department of Glendale Union High school. He is now a member of the faculty of the Oregon Institute of Technology.

In Vancouver, Mr. Moyses was given an insight into Canadian high school curricula by James Gordon, inspector of schools for British Columbia.

Will Start Auto Trip To Canadian Points

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allen of Verdugo Woodlands and Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Waidlich of 634 North Kenwood street are leaving next week by motor car on a camping trip of thirty days, which will take them to the Canadian border.

A visit to Puget Sound, as well as Crater and Klamath lakes, for fishing, will be made by the Glendale tourists. In southern Oregon they will go with relatives of the Allens on a deer-hunting expedition.

Monster Watermelon Gift to Glendale

Sixty-five pounds of watermelon, all in one rind, was the gift sent to Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hart of 321 North Isabel street by the former's brother, D. M. Hart of Weatherford, Tex., a wholesale produce merchant.

It is one of the Parker county crop of melons, which are noted for their size, according to Mr. Hart, who has just completed a seven-day feast on the fruit of the field.

S. P. May Discontinue L. A.-Anaheim Service

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 8.—Officials of the Southern Pacific railway in Los Angeles are debating the advisability of discontinuing the company's rail motor car service between this city and Anaheim. It was announced that a decision probably will be reached within two days. The railroad was given permission to withdraw the cars in a ruling from the state railroad commission.

Opportunity To Secure Southern Branch, U. Of C., Is Offered To Glendale

By GIL A. COWAN

STARTLING as the suggestion by Marco Hellman, widely known Southern California financial magnate, may seem to the people of Glendale that this city should make an effort to secure the site of the Southern Branch, University of California, it is something more than a passing fancy and should merit the consideration of the civic organizations which should properly foster such promotion.

It seems that Glendale vicinity has been looked upon for some time as the logical location for the greater educational institution, but the bankers and others interested have been awaiting for the city of homes, also noted as the fastest growing community in America, to awaken to the opportunity.

The higher priced land of Los Angeles makes the location of any great institution close to the heart of the city an impossibility. It is pointed out. Already the governor has definitely vetoed the plans of increasing the present holdings along Vermont avenue and it remains for some centrally located suburban tract to be brought forward.

Logical Location

Marco Hellman, who served on the committee to obtain options for additional land, believes Glendale has the necessary requisites. He says it is the hub of the population wheel in Los Angeles county—and we all know it is the most accessible to the highly populous part of Los Angeles as well as Pasadena, the San Gabriel valley, the beaches and back country of southern California.

Glendale can be reached by motorcar, electric railway and steam line with facility, although thousands of people do not appreciate the situation, perhaps. But Mr. Hellman and others recognize this important factor in locating a great institution.

As for available sites, three or four foothill vistas immediately come to mind, yet all of these are a matter for committees to investigate and determine upon. No more stately site could be secured than the western slopes of the Verdugo hills although conditions may make it desirable to buy land elsewhere, not so many miles away.

Need Many Acres

Personal profit will have to be swept aside if Glendale is to get land sufficient for a great branch university. No less than 200 acres would be absolutely necessary and 500 or more acres would be better. And such additional land should be reserved to insure the growth of the plant in accord with the ever-increasing population.

The establishment of a third year course in the Southern Branch is going to tax the facilities of the present plant. And there seems to be no question but that complete academic work will have to be maintained in the southland for the multitude of students.

It is authoritatively reported that 60 per cent of the enrollment in the Berkeley institution, regardless of the two-year course being given in Los Angeles, come from south of the Tehachapi. The state will have to care for this situation somehow and whatever the witnesses in court yesterday relating the circumstances connecting Sutter with two local crimes.

W. J. Curran, a building contractor at 221-A West Broadway, reported the theft on May 21 of Country Club offices in the Monarch building were similarly robbed the same night, the burglar using a pass key, it appeared, in the latter instance.

Police Submit Finger Prints In Burglary Trial in Los Angeles Court

Finger prints are playing a big part in the prosecution of Bennett Sutter, charged with burglarizing two local offices, who is now having his trial in department 14 of the superior court, presided over by Judge Monroe, in Los Angeles.

Sergeant Arthur Armer of the identification bureau of the Glendale police department, Detective Sergeant W. J. Royle and Police Chief J. D. Fraser were among the witnesses in court yesterday relating the circumstances connecting Sutter with two local crimes.

W. J. Curran, a building contractor at 221-A West Broadway, reported the theft on May 21 of Country Club offices in the Monarch building were similarly robbed the same night, the burglar using a pass key, it appeared, in the latter instance.

Caught in Riverside

Two typewriters, a check writer and an adding machine comprised the loot and Sutter was arrested in Riverside the day following in possession of the stolen goods for which he had negotiated a sale for $140.

It is the defendant's alibi that he bought the machines from a man in Los Angeles and he introduced two witnesses to prove he could not have been in Glendale at the time the crime was committed.

Here is where the fingerprints found on a desk typewriter in Glendale and those of Sutter tell a different tale, according to the police. Sergeant Armer has made enlargements of the prints to break the story of the witnesses for Sutter.

In this connection Chief Fraser reports that on June 2 Sheriff Hogin of Modesto wired him stating that Sutter is wanted in his county, while the Stockton chief of police also seeks Sutter on a burglary charge.

Judge Chase Closes Court Friday, Aug. 10

Justice of the Peace Harry W. Chase will not hold court in Burbank township on Friday, August 10, in deference to the proclamation declaring it to be a legal holiday, commemorating the life of President Harding.

Three cases have had to be postponed, Judge Chase states. Practically all other courts in the country also are closing.

Bullet Riddled Auto Is Probed by Police

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Aug. 8.—Deputy sheriffs are probing the finding of a bullet-riddled automobile in a garage in Moneta avenue in the belief it may lead to the trail of a southern California hold-up gang.

The automobile is said to have a dozen bullet holes in it and was left in the garage two days ago. The driver of the car is said to have had a baby in his lap when he left the car and the baby has a bad cut on the forehead. The driver said he had been in a collision with another machine.

The car was registered to Philip Lindstrom, of Colton, whom officers planned to question.

Final Concert for Children Saturday

Glendale children are included in the invitation issued to the final summer concert for children in the Hollywood Bowl, on this Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

According to R. Ernest Tucker of the Glendale Community Service, the Arapahoe Indians, who are appearing in a Hollywood theatre, will be present and give songs and dances. In addition, the Bowl orchestra, directed by Emil Oberholfer, will give an animal symphony.

TODAY—Paris Bohemia Invaded; Latin Quarter Misnomer; Too Many Spectators.

TOMORROW—Industry in Los Angeles; Some Convincing Figures; Compared to the East, by William G. Cayce, Los Angeles, Calif.

By HARRY R. FLORY
For International News Service

PARIS, Aug. 8.—Paris' Latin Quarter, for centuries the retreat of artists, architects, poets and musicians of all nations, has been usurped by outsiders—by spectators of Bohemian life who take no part in it.

Artistic, picturesque Rodolphe, with his long hair, broad brimmed hat and flowing tie is almost a stranger on the terrace of the Cafe des Deux Magots, a meeting place of Bohemians, immortalized in French literature since 1400.

In his stead sit thirsty Americans, braggadocio Englishmen, wealthy Frenchmen and others with money, adding the life of Bohemians, but really, according to members of the "Old Guard," slowly but surely destroying the spirit of the quarter.

"Voila le Quartier Latin!" bellowed the guide on a rubber-neck bus to his cosmopolitan crowd of listeners.

Revelers on the Deux Magots terrace overheard and smiled—all except one, an architect, one of the few still maintaining a studio in the quarter. He frowned.

"There is no Latin quarter," he complained. "There's nothing left but spectators. It's not at all like it used to be. There's no spirit, no real life, nothing but commercialism."

"Time was—and not more than fifteen years ago when for 150 francs a month an art student could live comfortably and enjoy himself in the quarter. His room cost little or nothing. For one franc he could eat a nourishing dinner, and for another franc he could spend an entire evening on a cafe terrace, drinking, laughing, talking and singing with his fellows."

"There were even restaurants where students could eat free during their evening course, even though they lingered six or seven years. The patron gained in the end, for when the student became a successful artist he paid with interest."

"In those days the models were content and happy if they occasionally received a little gift, such as a silk handkerchief. They lived in the quarter and hobnobbed with the art students first of all because they liked the life.

"Then a change took place. Curious persons began snooping around. They had heard of the interesting life of the quarter and wanted to try it.

"Having plenty of money they grabbed off all the good apartments, studios and rooms. And today there's no place for the poor student in his own particular quarter."

"A mediocre dinner costs ten or fifteen francs. An evening on a cafe terrace requires another ten or fifteen francs.

"And the models! They must be dressed in the height of fashion, with the latest creations from the Rue de la Paix. They spend their vacations in Deauville and other expensive resorts.

"As a result hundreds of young Frenchmen who might become illustrious painters or architects if they had the opportunity never get the chance to study in Paris. Their parents can't afford to send them to Paris, so they stay in the provinces.

"Very few of those who do come can afford to live in the quarter, which used to be cheaper than any other section of Paris. They take the cheapest lodgings they can find in any part of the city. They are scattered to the four winds. They never get together as of yore. There is no 'esprit de corps' as in the old days. The Latin Quarter is gone."

The architect paid the business-like Deux Magots waiter one franc and a tip of 25 centimes for his back beer and departed, mumbling that in the old days he could have treated eight of his comrades for the same amount.

Other terrace dwellers, the lookers-on, lingered longer, trying to drink in a Latin Quarter atmosphere which they have not yet realized doesn't exist.

RADIO

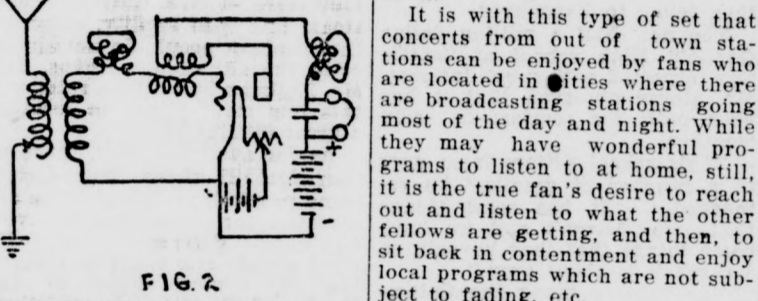

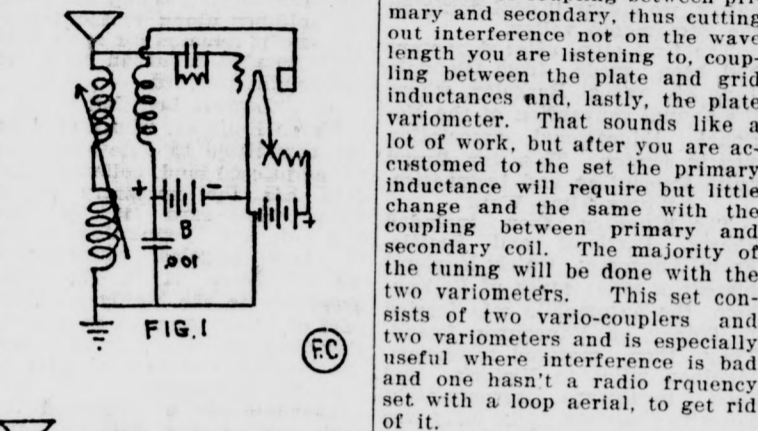

BY FRANK CHAPMAN

SINGLE CIRCUIT 3 SPIDER WEB SET

As spider web inductances are very efficient and are being used more and more by radio fans, the following hookup is recommended as being efficient. Two spider web coils in series, hinged so as to have a variometer effect and the other as the plate inductance or tickler coil to control, regulation. This makes a very good single circuit set for use with an audion detector.

The forms for winding the coils should be 4 inches wide with an inch hub, the coils are wound in the same direction and in and out between the spokes until the desired number of turns have been put on. The number of turns will depend on the type of aerial you have, but for the average aerial it has been found that 35 turns on each coil, A and B, and 40 on coil C, will be correct. When trying this set out, if it is found that you have too much wire on to get down to the broadcasting wave lengths a fixed condenser of .0005 can be connected in the aerial circuit to act as a short wave condenser and reduce the natural period of your aerial. If it is found you cannot tune up high enough, then add a few more turns on the two coils until you can tune high enough.

As there are no moving contacts on this set it makes a noiseless set, smooth in operation. It can be used with any type of receiving tube, but it is suggested that a detector tube be used when

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WILD CHERRIES

There sounded a knock on the door of the hollow stump bungalow where Uncle Wiggily lived. The bunny rabbit was just eating breakfast one morning with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy.

"Will you see who it is Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane, as she poured out the turnip coffee. "I hope it isn't the Wozzie Wolf, nor yet the Fuzzy Fox, so early in the morning," thought the rabbit uncle.

But when he opened the door there stood Bobby Ringtail, the little raccoon boy. Bobby was just named because he had rings, or streaks of fur, on his tail.

"Hello, Bobby!" greeted Uncle Wiggily. "Hello, Uncle Wiggily," answered Bobby. "Have you any old rubber elastic garters that you don't want?" he asked Mr. Longears.

"Garters!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "Why, are your stockings coming down?" "Not exactly," answered Bobby. "But I want the elastics to make me a slingshot."

"What's a slingshot?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, you ought to know—you must have made them when you were a boy," went on the raccoon child. "You take a piece of a tree limb and shape like the letter Y and you fasten a rubber elastic to the two ends. Then you fasten a piece of leather to the ends of the rubbers and you can hold a stone in the leather holder and let go of it the rubber makes the stone shoot off through the air. That's a slingshot."

"Yes, I used to make them," said Uncle Wiggily. "But what are you going to do after you make the slingshot, Bobby?" "Oh, I'll shoot at posts and fences and barn doors and the like of that," answered Bobby.

"You won't shoot other animal boys or girls, nor the birds, will you, Bobby?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, no, I promise you I won't," said Bobby earnestly. "You can come with me, if you like, and see me make the slingshot and shoot it. Only but have you any elastic garters, 'cause if you haven't maybe Mr. Twisttail has, or maybe Nurse Jane—"

"I think I have some rubber elastic garters that you may take, Bobbie," said Uncle Wiggily with a laugh. "And I'll come and watch you make the slingshot. It may bring me an adventure."

Soon the rabbit gentleman and the little raccoon boy were in the woods and, finding a branch shaped like the letter Y, Bobby made himself a slingshot. Then he shot stones about, hitting posts and big rocks, but not hitting any birds.

Oh, and on through the woods wandered Uncle Wiggily and Bobby, and soon they reached a tree on which red things were growing.

"Oh, ho! Wild cherries, and they're ripe!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "We'll stop here, Bobby, and eat some wild cherries. But don't swallow any of the pits, or stones."

"I'll be careful," promised the cherry. He focused upon the dislocation of British trade through the unsettled conditions in Europe and the possibility of that trade being extended by joint action with the dominions as a result of the forthcoming economic and imperial conferences. From these meetings much is expected and great satisfaction is expressed at the announcement that the Canadian government will be represented by some of its ablest ministers."

POEMS THAT LIVE

IN THE VALLEY OF CAUTRETZ
All along the valley, stream that flashes white,
Deepening thy voice with the deepening of the night,
All along the valley, where thy waters flow,
I walked with one I loved two and thirty years ago,
All along the valley while I walked today,
The two and thirty years were a mist that rolls away,
For all along the valley, down thy rocky bed,
Thy living voice to me was as the voice of the dead,
And all along the valley, by rock and cave and tree,
The voice of the dead was a living voice to me.

BILLY WALKER

You know how Billy's patience was tried yesterday by the woman in the grocery who would not go home. Now she wants to buy a squash.

Billy knew bagging over the price would take time, so he quietly walked up and gave her basket a butt that sent it straight up in the air almost out of sight, and as it went there was a perfect shower of vegetables and groceries. Carrots, beets, onions, crackers, salt, pepper and yellow legged chicken began to fill the air and fall on the passersby.

When the woman turned and saw Billy she nearly swooned, but evidently changed her mind quickly and ran for dear life, leaving shawl and bonnet behind. And as she ran she screamed so loudly that the grocer came out of his store to see what was the matter.

Looking in the window, Billy saw him coming, so he called to Nannie to duck into the cellar, for the door stood open at the foot of a short flight of stairs beside the vegetable stand.

The two goats had barely disappeared down the steps when the grocer arrived at the door and saw the fat woman running down the street hatless and shawlless, and her vegetables still falling from the sky. No one else was in sight, for the other pedestrians had fled when they saw Billy butt the basket sky high, for fear he might butt them. What could it mean? Why was the woman screaming? And how did the vegetables get up in the sky? Being an indifferently honest and very hungry one, he turned and went back into the store and bothered his head about it no longer.

When Billy and Nannie found themselves in the cellar they began to peer about to see what kind of a dark place they had entered. For it seemed very, very black to them, coming right in from the sunlight outside. Presently Nannie stepped on something soft and squishy that sent up a terrible smell.

"Oh, Billy, I have stepped on a dead person, I am sure! Can't you smell the dreadful odor? I can't see where I am stepping or a thing around me."

"Wait a minute, and our eyes will get used to the light, and then we can see plainly. I am already beginning to see the dim outlines of things."

And, sure enough, soon they could see well enough. And what do you think that Nannie stepped in but a pile of sauerkraut! (Do you think they would find things they liked to eat in the cellar? Tomorrow you'll see.)

Unfortunately a doctor is just an ordinary human being who has acquired a degree from some medical college; otherwise there would be no such things as quacks and quackery.

Before you resort to narcotics for the relief of pain, think of this quotation: "Better to bear the ills we have than fly to those who know not of."

AUSTRIA AND HUNGARY SHOW BETTER SPIRIT FIGHTING POVERTY THAN DOES GERMANY

The governments of Europe, especially of the new countries, are struggling valiantly with the problems raised by geographical realignments and are showing no disposition to shirk the grave financial and economic problems facing them, declared E. W. Beatty, K. C., president of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

In an interview on his recent return to Montreal after a tour of Europe, during which he visited England, Holland, Germany, Czechoslovakia, France, Austria, Switzerland and Belgium, Germany, he said, showed the most obvious evidence of poverty and despondency, while Austria and Hungary, though certainly more impoverished, showed better spirit.

Britain he found greatly concerned with the reconstruction of its world trade, dislocated as a result of conditions in Europe. Much is expected, he said, of the coming economic and imperial conferences, which, it is hoped, may devise some means of joint action by Britain and the dominions to further inter-empire and world trade.

Summing up the results of his observations, Beatty said: "The governments and the people are struggling valiantly with new problems which had grown out of the geographical realignments. In spite of the fact that many of these countries had been reduced in area and in population to such an extent as to be mere fractions of their former size, there was little, if anything, to indicate that the national spirit had disappeared or that there was any disposition to shirk the solution of their very grave financial and economic difficulties. To the casual observer Germany probably gives the most obvious evidence of poverty and despondency, and Berlin itself is not at the moment an inspiring sight. Hamburg, on the other hand, by reason of its being a large and extraordinarily busy port, shows an activity all most pre-war in character in spite of the dislocation due to the Ruhr occupation and the interruption of the Rhine business. Shipbuilding is proceeding in Germany with great activity, but at the moment the vessels trading in and out of Hamburg are almost exclusively foreign register.

Developing agriculture "Austria and Hungary—nations which have been emasculated through the change in national boundaries—must contain much of the most obvious poverty and distress, though, by reason of the psychology and better spirits of the people there, it is not quite so apparent as in the case of Germany. Agricultural pursuits are being followed with great intensity and with fairly satisfactory results in spite of the lack of purchasing power of the surrounding nations.

"Czechoslovakia, the new state, of large population and extensive area, is probably confronted with more new problems than the older states we visited. Its government, under a system of administration new to the people, is grappling with the difficult problems incident to its recent creation. The obstacles which it must meet and overcome are too apparent to require any elaboration.

"In Great Britain, the attention of the public man and the financialist is focused upon the dislocation of British trade through the unsettled conditions in Europe and the possibility of that trade being extended by joint action with the dominions as a result of the forthcoming economic and imperial conferences. From these meetings much is expected and great satisfaction is expressed at the announcement that the Canadian government will be represented by some of its ablest ministers."

TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

It is only when one is young and in college that he may appreciate how important an occasion a junior prom may be. Elsie Wolf, wondering if she would be invited, decided her social future depended upon the answer.

Ordinarily, so attractive a girl as Elsie would have had little cause to wonder. She was smart enough to appreciate the situation as one partly of her own making. "If I hadn't favored Tom Fleming over the rest there would have been other chances, and Tom goes with Martha Wadsworth almost as much as with me."

It was plain Tom would ask her, and the other would stay at home. A girl who did not go to the prom had to answer all manner of polite questions which hid a gloating malice. She was disgraced, Elsie decided, and shuddered at the prospect. If Tom would only hurry and ask her instead of that freckled Martha Wadsworth.

Martha was similarly troubled, but with her fears there was something of resignation. She knew men liked to show off their partners at the prom, and was honest enough as she surveyed her tanned and freckled features in the glass to know that Elsie was better looking.

"I am the poor but honest girl with one party dress," she reflected ruefully, "and she is the spoiled beauty. According to all the fairy stories, the prince should be able to see my merits through my freckles. I should be the one to dance at the ball while the haughty Elsie weeps at home. My chances are about one in five."

The two were not alone in their speculations. Those who knew them understood the situation and Tom was beset with perplexity. He gave the matter a full half hour of reflection and made his decision. He would call on Elsie at once.

Elsie greeted the bronzed athlete with her prettiest manner and together they walked from her porch to the Palace of Sweets where most of the college plans were perfected. Tom was thoughtful—and more so when by chance they met Martha.

"Did you hear she has a chance to make her letter tennis?" the young man asked. "Martha is a corking player, good in all outdoor sports."

Tom was speaking admiringly.

DIVORCES HIS SHOW GIRL WIFE

Baron Makes Charges, Court Sustains Him

Lady Lillian Maxwell-Willshire, who loses her baron husband via divorce court

LONDON, Aug. 8.—They ought to pass a law over in America, where passing funny laws seems to be all the rage, forbidding theatrical producers from compelling the dainty and overworked actresses to wear too many clothes.

Because one never can tell just what wearing too many clothes is likely to lead to.

Lady Lillian Maxwell-Willshire wore too many. First she lost consciousness. Now she's lost her husband. Sir Gerard Maxwell-Willshire.

It all came about this way, according to gossip here.

Lady Lillian, a showgirl was playing in the New York production, "Afgar."

In the famous harem scene she was compelled to wear the regula-

BEAUTY CHATS

HAIR BOBBED AND OTHERWISE

Bobbed hair has been worn so long by grown-ups that it should have settled down into a universal fashion upon which no one comments; yet I still receive letters from people asking my advice whether to bob or not. I'll admit it's an important decision—hair once cut takes years to grow to its original length, and several months before there's enough of it to gather under a comb.

It will be becoming short if you are small, if your face is small-featured, if you are young, if you have a certain piquancy to your expression, and if—this is important—it is a hopeless task to make it look nice done up. Limp, fine, straight hair that "flops", comes under the last grouping. In any case, whether it's becoming or not, it will do your hair good. It will make it thicker, it will "rest" it, since there will be so much less of it for the body to support. It will free it from combs and hair pins, and it will give the scalp proper ventilation. Knobs of hair and thick braids are heavy and heating.

You should be able to decide from this. There are, by the way, several styles of bobbing. For a long thin face, high forehead and straight hair, a part at the side or in the middle with a thick bang or fringe almost to the eyes looks best, for the long lines are broken. A part far on the side, the hair

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Eggs

McCollum classes eggs among the foods he has called protective foods because of their complete proteins in the white of the egg and because the yolks contain the very valuable growth-promoting and anti-ophthalmic vitamins that have a high iron and phosphorus content. The egg yolk is the sole food for the growing chick and the white is the part that develops into the structure of the chick; so the egg must, of necessity, have many very vital elements.

Raw eggs are more easily digested if lightly beaten, because this breaks up the rather tenacious white of the egg. When eggs are cooked for children, they had better be soft-boiled or coddled, poached or shirred. By covering with a pint of boiling water—a pint to one egg—and setting aside for ten minutes, the white and yolk are very delicately cooked throughout. This is the way to "soft-boil" them. Hard-boiled egg yolks are more easily

The dark green color sometimes noticed on the outside of the yolk of a hard-boiled egg is due to the chemical change of the sulphur and iron. It is not harmful.

The white of the egg is pure protein as albumin. Of course, it is an animal protein, and (except milk) tends to intestinal putrefaction if taken in excess. Some children, and adults, too, become sensitized to the whites of the eggs. I will discuss that under Eczema later on.

Eggs spoil rather easily and stale eggs are dangerous, so let's have them fresh. Keep them, with the milk, in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Duck and goose eggs are a little richer than hen's eggs and are stronger flavored, but they are good foods if you like them.

The shell of the egg is porous and impurities can be absorbed, so see that the eggs are clean before putting them away. Eggs are also affected by the diet and general conditions of the hens.

I will discuss egg yolks and eggs again under "Feeding of Infants" when we get to that.

Custard made with eggs, whole milk, a little sugar and flavoring are delicious and very wholesome desserts for children. If the child should be one who cannot take the egg white without a skin eruption, then use the egg yolks—for, as I told you, egg yolks very seldom disagree in any way. Sometimes children who will

HOW GOSSIP GROWS

Yesterday I met a woman whom I would "admire" to know better. I was with her for only a few minutes and I heard her speak just one sentence, and yet I am sure that she would be the most comfortable sort of a friend.

It happened this way: I was down town shopping with a friend of mine when she suddenly said: "Oh, there is Mrs. P. Come just a minute. I must speak with her."

She took up the urgent topic with Mrs. P. almost at once. "I wanted to tell you," she said, "that a remark I made about you in all friendliness this afternoon was misinterpreted, deliberately, I believe, by the woman to whom I made it. I have a feeling that she may repeat the remark to you in the same perverted sense in which she took it, and I am so glad of the chance to tell you about it before she does."

"Wasn't this splendid?" "You needn't have worried about that," said Mrs. P. with a cordial smile, "for when people come to me with disturbing tales like that I always say: 'I'm sure this is a mistake. I don't believe this thing was ever intended offensively.'"

My heart warmed for her, blessed soul that she is! Oh, for a quicker reply is desired, a self-addressed stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use your full name, street number and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

Again and again the question comes to me from readers: "How can I make money at home?" We all know the need of making money—or most of us do, anyway. The majority of women home-makers long to do something in the way of earning "pin money". There are so many, many ways they could use such money!

And I believe that there is some way for each and every one of us to make money at home. I have seen it done over and over again. Some house-keepers find that they can sell the things they cook. Another housewife keeps hens and sells the eggs. Still another raises Angora cats or canary birds or some other kind of pet. Taking boarders is another method.

But, to my mind, fancywork represents about the best way of making money. For this reason, I am continually publishing handiwork suggestions in this column. I am constantly searching through city fancywork stores for "the latest wrinkle" in fancywork articles.

But when anybody says to me: "What would you do to earn pin money, if you didn't write for a living?" I always answer: "I think I'd make bead chains. Of course I might not be able to make a living just by that alone, but I am sure that the chains I could make would sell. I could earn something at it."

For, this is the day of the bead chain. Do you know many women who don't wear bead chains? On the contrary, almost every woman owns several different chains. And, furthermore, it is the fashion now to wear them.

Unusual chains should sell today. I believe that it would pay the woman who wishes to earn, to invest one of two dollars in loose beads and then originate an artistic chain out of them; such a chain could be sold in a drygoods store—with a percentage off, of course. Most shop-keepers can be persuaded to sell such handiwork on a percentage basis.

And, before I close this little chat, I want to say one thing more: you will succeed in making money if you are determined enough. Determination will bring almost any desired result. The average woman is too easily discouraged. But determination creates opportunities for us and is the open door to success. If you want a thing hard enough—well, you'll get it!

EDUCATION

The youth who plans to win success
Sets forth at once for college,
Where he is given quick access
To all the forms of knowledge.

But must he all this hard work pay
To surely improve his station?
When a bricklayer gets $15 a day,
Why worry about education?

One western paper asks if something can't be done to prevent the young girls of that town from being insulted on the streets late at night. Yes. Have their parents put them to bed at 9 o'clock.

A local beauty expert says that usually dark-haired girls marry first, but, as many of them become blondes soon afterward, it would be hard to prove this.

OUR OWN DAILY SHORT STORY

Too Literal

One day a man who was interested in social work went into the cement district and, wishing to see a certain man, but having only a general idea as to where he lived, approached a small boy.

"My boy," he asked, "can you show me where Mr. Schmidowitz lives?"

"Yes, sir. Come right with me, sir."

The boy entered an adjacent doorway and started to climb up the difficult stair. "Tip four feet!" he went, the visitor breathlessly following, and finally paused at an open door.

"This is the floor, sir," said the boy. "Mr. Schmidowitz lives in there."

"Looks as if we had stacked up against hard luck," remarked the visitor, peering into the room. "Mr. Schmidowitz doesn't appear to be here."

"No, sir," was the rejoinder. "That was him sittin' down on the front doorstep when we came in."

One of America's millionaires is to build a home which will cost nearly $3,000,000. Looks as though plumbing were included.

Food expert says there is about as much nourishment in a quart of peanuts as in three pounds of beefsteak. But no gravy and no hash next day.

Government report says the cost of living dropped one per cent in the past year. If it did, it dropped very lightly. Nobody heard it.

DINNER STORIES

Father and his small son Willie were walking through the park one evening when Willie was in an inquisitive mood. "Father, what's a Bohemian?" he asked.

"A Bohemian, my son, is one who believes in love!"

"Gee, there are lots of Bohemians right here in this park!"—Sun Dogger (University of Washington).

Of course the story of the lazy negro who guided his mule simply by saying "gee" and "haw," is well known, says Judge, but a man in a small town who was making a purchase in a store found a lazier person. As he came out of the store he noted that a tramp was leaning on a wheel of his buggy. As the man got into his wagon, he asked the tramp, who was still leaning, what he wanted. "I'm just waiting for you to start so the wheel will light my match," was the reply.

"Here, boy," said the wealthy motorist, "I want some gasoline, and please get a mule on." You'll never get anywhere in the world unless you push. Push is essential. When I was young I pushed and that got me where I am."

"Well, guv-nor," replied the boy, "I reckon you'll have to push again, 'cause we ain't got a drop of gas in the place."—Black and Blue Jay (Johns Hopkins).

A traveler on the desert came upon a lone stock raiser on the lower Colorado river, says the Denver News. The chief feature of the barren ranch was a giant heap of firewood, and curiosity caused the visitor to ask how in the world the stockman happened to possess it.

"Wa-al," he drawled, "last year this here brudda came pling down the river at flood time, and so I just rounded up a bunch of Indians and told them they could have half of all they drug ashore. Golly! them Indians worked!"

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not more than 250 words, and type or write your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer your questions personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible. If they are of general interest, don't forget the s. a. s. c. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

ON FINE MEN'S THIMBLES!

L. A. to Hold Service In Harding's Memory

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 8.—Los Angeles will solemnly pay tribute to the late President Harding Friday afternoon between 12 o'clock noon and 2 o'clock that afternoon, in accordance with an official proclamation issued by Mayor George Cryer.

Memorial services for the president will be held in Pershing Square, in the heart of the city, and churches during the time the final rites are being held over former President Harding at Marion, Ohio. The mayor's proclamation asked all business houses to close their doors during the two hours.

Firemen Battle Fierce Fires in Mountains

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., Aug. 8.—Heliographers, flashing their signals across a sea of flames to an airplane late yesterday, aided 400 fire fighters to curb the savage forest fire in the Santa Barbara national forest reserve.

The flames in the Cuyama forest have crossed the Sierra Madre mountains after sweeping 9,600 acres of land, according to late reports, but were under control. At the same time the fire in the Sisquoc region had been hemmed in around Mountain Pines after sweeping 14,000 acres. It was thought late today the crisis around Mountain Pines had been reached, and that the next few hours would see the flames under

Sokotow Elected to Head Zionist Society

KARLSBAD, Aug. 8.—The World Congress of Zionists yesterday elected Tahon Sokotow, of London, president. Meyer Berlin and Louis Lipsky, of New York, were elected vice-presidents.

Sokotow in accepting the presidency of the Zionists paid a tribute to the late President Harding, whom he termed a "genuine friend of the Zionist cause." control. The danger was far from over, however, and all available fire-fighting forces were pressed into service along the west side of the Sisquoc river, where the flames might break through.

BURBANK ADD MANY MILES OF PAVED ROADS

Work on Boulevard System To Be Completed Quickly, Say Officials

Many miles of fine pavement are being added to the Burbank boulevard system. The city has started work on the main boulevard hereafter this street will be closed to heavy traffic. The pavement will be oil tamped, states Street Superintendent Scott, and will, when completed, correspond with Magnolia, Olive and other well-paved avenues.

Work is under way on Sunset Canyon drive and will proceed down to the boulevard. Eighth and Tenth streets will be put into good condition, and a petition is being circulated for the paving of Walnut avenue, the work to extend from Sunset Canyon drive to Sixth street. It is said that Edwards & Wilbey and the Goodrich interests are favorable to the improvements involved in this petition.

Due to the delay in getting rock, the work on Olive avenue has not progressed as rapidly as expected, but is now practically complete. As no protests have been received on the proposed improvement of Verdugo avenue, the work will probably be carried through to Lankershim boulevard and then on to Ventura boulevard, making of this avenue an important highway through the countryside.

The establishment of the grade of Fourth street from Amherst drive to the east city limits has been authorized by the Board of Trustees. This is probably the first step in a development project that is expected to provide Burbank with another business artery, and is consequently of vital interest to all residents in the district.

Large Tract On Market A total of eighty-two acres of desirable property lying between Olive and Verdugo avenues, fifty-six acres belonging to C. W. Anderson and twenty-six acres to a Mrs. Kirk of Los Angeles, are to be subdivided into over 400 city lots and placed on the market. It is announced by Hamlin & Hepburn, prominent Glendale realty firm.

The tract will be called Edgemont Park, so named after the famous Anderson ranch, known all over Southern California as the Edgemont dairy. E. D. Hamlin states that this property will be developed into a fine residential section, with a street to be known as Edgemont boulevard put through, ninety feet in width, and two other main streets made, each sixty feet in width, to be known as California and Florence avenues; while ten feet will be added to Olive avenue, making it an eighty-foot thoroughfare. Edgemont boulevard will connect with Riverside drive and Magnolia avenue, Mr. Hamlin states.

Work is to be started immediately, and the tract will be open to the public a week from Sunday, or August 18. A sidewalk will be laid along Olive avenue and curbing will be put in along other of the main streets. The tract office, states Mr. Hamlin, will be erected at the corner of Olive and Florence avenues.

"This tract, in its location, is in close proximity to the business center of Burbank, between two good streets and with the upper line one block from the new Abraham Lincoln High school," Mr. Hamlin says, "will offer home-seekers many attractive features."

COMMENT That's All

Friday Day Of Mourning Get Ready For Tourists! Really Best Investment Tips As To Newcomers

NATIONAL state and city proclamations have declared Friday a legal holiday—a day of mourning for the past president of these United States, Warren G. Harding. Observation of this day in final tribute to one who served his country well is not only fitting, but deservedly appropriate.

The sorrowing throngs throughout the nation which lined the route of the railway train bearing the president's body back to Washington are indication of the great love engendered in the people for the man whom they chose as leader.

Time will soften the memories of Harding until we will think of him as the great, big, kind, lovable character that he really was—although on the exterior he had to appear deliberate and impersonal. He was of the type of men whose traits are brought into vivid relief by the hand of death as it molds mind pictures of a passing fellow man.

So Friday we shall grieve together as one nation for which Warren G. Harding laid down his life, in the service of country and God.

The Foothill Improvement Association is seeking street crossings from the Pacific Electric railway on its Burbank line in the north-west section of the city. It would appear that the inter-urban concern could well afford to grant these requests as a matter of good policy, not to mention the physical benefits to result from an improved section of the city.

Time was when the so-called Grand View district was nothing but ranch property, planted principally to wine grapes. But now it is the heart of the most rapidly populating section of Glendale, and the Pacific Electric officials may not be aware of the fact. We wonder, sometimes, how the comprehension of the few men in charge of affairs keeps up before the procession of progress hereabouts. Perhaps they do not.

"Africa Beckons to Missionaries," says a news heading yesterday, under which an article describes the plans of the Rev. and Mrs. Willard Learned of this city to go into the Belgian Congo with the Word of God. Knowing the pastor personally when he was in school here, there can be no doubt as to the sincerity of purpose in this mission, yet from experience in traveling about these United States of ours, it would seem fitting that church work should keep its young men of vigorous belief and fired zeal in home fields.

We might give our reasons for believing that it is folly to try to Christianize the native Africans. Any person of mature judgment can realize for themselves what a problem they present, even under most favorable circumstances. Only recently the French government has asked the League of Nations for permission to slaughter whole tribes of these cannibals.

Glendale needs to get busy on several of its major building plans if it is to be ready for the fall and winter influx of tourists. While the season seems a bit slow in the number of homes sought, there is going to be a tremendous demand this winter for accommodations. And in this connection several apartment houses, two or three hotels in addition to those being talked of, a whole flock of bungalow courts, and a goodly number of homes suitable for a wealthier class of tourists are the things Glendale needs to be building right today.

It is to be hoped the investors of this vicinity will realize that the greatest and most substantial profits ever made in Southern California come from real estate, particularly that which is improved. And when you are gambling in stocks the few who profit are heroes, while the many who lose seldom speak of their folly. TUJUNGA POLICE PATROLS TO BE APPOINTED

Constables to Guard Canyons Will Be Named Shortly by County

Big Tujunga canyon is to have a police patrol! This is the latest report and comes from an authentic source and states that the Board of Supervisors have already prepared to appoint deputy constables to patrol this and other popular canyon picnic and camping grounds in the county.

These officers will have full power to preserve order, protect life and property, safeguard the streams and otherwise enforce existing laws. They will also be expected to aid in fire protection.

In addition to this there has been an appropriation of county funds made for the purpose of establishing public comfort stations in Big Tujunga and other important canyons of the county, also many of the mountain resorts. It is understood that the work of constructing these stations will be rushed to completion and the assignment of officers will be made for the remainder of the season. Other canyons to be patrolled are Pacoima, Arroyo Seco, Fish, San Dimas and Bouquet.

Officers Watch Canyon Whether or not this move is the result of the recent exposed bootlegging activities near a resort in Big Tujunga canyon is not known. However, it is known that officers from the office of the prohibition agent have kept an eye or two on this territory since the arrest of Cruz Ybarra a few weeks ago at his place in the canyon, following the tragic ending of a birthday party in a plunge down a one hundred foot embankment, resulting in terrible injuries to the inebriated five, who were celebrating.

Ybarra's arrest followed within a few hours and this was reported as his second arrest within a few months, the previous offense drawing a heavy fine.

And in this connection several apartment houses, two or three hotels in addition to those being talked of, a whole flock of bungalow courts, and a goodly number of homes suitable for a wealthier class of tourists are the things Glendale needs to be building right today.

Personal Service Will Be a Paramount Issue Here

J. V. RAE Vice President and Cashier

—We believe we are humanizing the services of the Federal Commercial and Savings Bank of Glendale to a degree that will be appreciated by the people of this section when it opens its doors for business on August 11th.

Very much more than a mere profit yielding business relation is going to dominate the activities of this institution, for the nearer it can come to being your kind of a bank—indispensable and helpful to you in the highest degree—the nearer it is going to approach the ideals of its directors and officers.

You do not need us to tell you that the opening of a bank is the result of much serious consideration, grave counsel, and prolonged deliberation. The issuance of the State charter under which this bank will operate proves that there is need in this community for the additional services of the Federal Commercial and Savings Bank. The opening of a new bank founded upon high ideals of co-operation and service places another means of progress and development in the hands of the people of this section. Therefore, we say again that the opening of this bank is an event of first importance, so important that you will undoubtedly want to become personally identified with it is some tangible, lasting way.

Recognizing this, we have provided for each First Day Depositor a handsome De Luxe Artpoint silver pencil. The first depositor at the Bank's front doors will receive one of these handsome and useful gifts in gold (one for the first lady and one for the first gentleman) and in further connection with this distinction, it is to be remembered that it is no small honor to be known as the first depositor in a bank.

This bank will be open from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. on Opening Day.

Federal Commercial and Savings Bank Glendale's Own Bank 144 North Brand Boulevard

NOTICE

This bank believes that every home should have at least one Savings Account in it, and in order to do our bit toward the establishment of this ideal condition in Glendale, we have decided to allow all Savings Accounts opened on our Opening Day, August 11th, to have their interest computed as though the deposit had been made on July 1st. We pay 4% interest compounded twice yearly on term savings accounts.
