THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to its reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the mist of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns phrases savantes undreamt of by the forty—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,

Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,

Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES of May 22nd says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . 'Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and, like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer, and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL
FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name a recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the camp or guinguette, and lively audacious terms dehors convention understand forty—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to him in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the mind of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns paraphraser envers undress of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

Where in any year a Studentship in either Class is not awarded by reason of the Candidates not appearing to deserve it, the Council may, if they think fit, appropriate it, or a portion of it for that year to the other Class, or may offer it for Competition in some other subject.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phraseology by Mr. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf and most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has sifted and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can only be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are loath to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day — so full of vocabules fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns de parole evergreen undreamt of by 'the forty' — which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson." — Quarterly Review

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

... readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French by M. Tarver. His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf and most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has traced and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can only be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day — so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns à la mode of our day — which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson. — Quarterly Review.

THE ROYAL PHRASEOLOGICAL FRENCH-ENGLISH AND ENGLISH-FRENCH DICTIONARY.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns of phrase and idiom of the 'forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH CONSTITUTION.

By DR. RUDOLPH GNEIST,
Professor of Law in the University of Berlin.

Translated by PHILIP A. ASHWORTH,
Of the Inner Temple, Esq., Barrister-at-Law.

The TIMES of May 22nd says:—

"No foreigner has done more than Professor Gneist to examine and make clear the history and nature of the English Constitution. . . . With a degree of perseverance to which all difficulties must succumb, he has for years investigated this subject. It has been the business of a long literary life. . . . The Constitutional struggles in Prussia brought into prominence many questions which had been settled, on the whole, successfully in England. . . . So minute has his examination been, so long has he been a student of English Constitutional history, so many changes has he, a careful observer, seen in his lifetime, that he speaks as an expert, and his writings have no small practical value for us. . . . He discusses such vital questions as—Whither are we drifting? How far do recent changes in the franchise accord with the old spirit of the Constitution? What is in store for us with democracy supreme? On such questions as these the opinion of a foreigner, who is a scholar, but no book-worm, and has sedulously studied our institutions, is certainly much more weighty than that of most Englishmen. . . . He recognizes the necessity of the first Reform Bill. . . . He recognizes the value of the reforms which came in its train—better trade, better finance, wiser administration, popular education, sanitary reforms. There was progress everywhere. . . . Only one thing had gone back—the internal cohesion of the members of the State and society, which are the vital essence of this Constitution.' . . . He fears that the custom of committing power to the leader of the majority for the time may cease; and 'then a time may recur in which the King in Council may have to undertake the actual leadership.' . . .

"It is worthy of note that a profound scholar, who has studied as closely as any living person the history of our Constitution, sees danger ahead, and that he has no belief in the efficacy of mechanical means of reform, and expects little from clever expedients for making the Parliamentary machine go somewhat more smoothly and swiftly. . . . Though the outlook seems to him gloomy, he does not despair. 'The thousand years of English history which lie behind us justify our confidence that this nation will rise triumphant out of the struggles before it, and, like the German nation, will find in its own past the best materials for the regeneration of this political system.' . . . To Englishmen his is, in many ways, the most instructive of histories, if only because it is well to see how our affairs look in the eyes of a foreigner who knows and admires England.

"Naturally these volumes recall Professor Dicey's work. . . . The contrast between them is great. Professor Dicey writes as a lawyer, and does not treat the subject historically. . . . Professor Gneist is at once a historian descending to minute details, a lawyer, and a political philosopher. He, too, emphasizes the truths on which Professor Dicey dwells; indeed, the latter does but reproduce Gneist's teaching on this head. But the investigation of the latter is wider and deeper. . . . Equally decided is his belief that our Constitution in its best and worst days has always been an aristocratic Government, 'certainly the best aristocratic Government in the history of mankind,' and he has no confident expectation as to the happy outcome of any deviation from this. . . . At this time these volumes are especially instructive. They cast light on almost all the great questions of current politics."

SATURDAY REVIEW.

"This book is a monument of German patience and industry. . . . Dr. Gneist's book, we may say in conclusion, ought to be on the shelves of every student of our constitutional history."

ACADEMY.

"Something like a national reproach is removed by this tardy recognition of the great services which Dr. Gneist has rendered to the history of English institutions. . . . It has a special interest in being the work of a foreigner, who looks at the subject from the outside, and who throws upon it the fresh light of his comparative knowledge."

SCOTSMAN.

"There are two questions to which, especially during the past fifty years, many learned and able writers, British and foreign, have laboured to furnish an answer. What is the English Constitution? . . . One of the most profound and exhaustive attempts ever made in this direction is undoubtedly furnished in the work before us. Professor Gneist approached his herculean task with very exceptional qualifications for its performance. . . . The heavy task of translating the book has been executed by Mr. Ashworth with taste and judgment."

LITERARY WORLD.

"Dr. Gneist's distinguished position as Professor of Law in the University of Berlin, and his world-wide fame as a writer on jurisprudence and history, give this, his latest work, an authority and a value that can hardly be over-estimated. . . . The whole of these later chapters on the Parliamentary Government of the eighteenth century are full of interest. . . . Dr. Gneist is a warm champion of a Second Chamber, which he considers absolutely essential to progress and development. . . . We must reluctantly take leave of Dr. Gneist's admirable work."

JOHN BULL.

"It is no small thing for one who is not an Englishman to have written such a searching and exhaustive history of the English Constitution as is embodied in this work. . . . It is impossible to read such a book as this without learning a vast deal which is new. . . . The cordial thanks of all Englishmen who are interested in the constitutional history of their Fatherland are due to this painstaking and laborious writer."

BOOKSELLER.

"As a history of the Constitution, Professor Gneist's book will prove a dangerous rival to Hallam if it does not supersede it, and the work is sure to receive the weight and respect due to one of the first of living jurists and historians."

PUBLISHERS' CIRCULAR.

"When all is so good, a selection is difficult, but of special excellence are the accounts of the development of the House of Commons (Third Period, Vols. i. and ii.), and of the struggle against the pretensions of the Stuart Kings in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries."

LAW JOURNAL.

"The book is of great interest and value to students of constitutional history."

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day — so full of vocables fresh from the mist of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns phrases surprenantes undreamt of by the forty"—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name any recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to the author for the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables from the pig camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns devenez-vous superior unstrait of forty"—which would have pleased Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name a recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to him for the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocabularies fresh from the camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns of phrase everywhere and of every kind—forty—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

RULES AND ORDERS

ISSUED BY THE LORD CHANCELLOR UNDER THE

NATIONAL DEBT (CONVERSION) ACT, 1888.

the Right Honourable HARDINGE STANLEY BARON HALSBURY, High Chancellor of Great Britain, with the concurrence of the Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, do hereby in pursuance of the provisions contained in the National Debt (Conversion) Act, 1888, and of every other authority enabling me in that behalf, that the following rules and regulations as to conversion of stock standing in the name of Her Majesty's Paymaster-General for the benefit of the Supreme Court of Judicature under the above-mentioned Act, and to other matters relating to such stocks or the proceeds thereon be observed.

Rule I.—In the rules of this order, and in all orders of the Court and decrees dealing with or referring to new stock created under the Act, such new stock shall be sufficiently described by the term "New Consols." And in these rules the term "Original Stock" shall mean any sum of New Three per Cent. Stock, Consolidated Three per Cent. Stock, and Reduced Three per Cent. Stock, which shall be exchanged for New Consols.

CONVERSION OF NEW THREE PER CENT. STOCK.

Rule II.—The persons, or the majority of the persons, interested in New Three per Cent. Stock standing in the books of the Paymaster, desirous of dissenting from the conversion of such stock under the provisions of the Act, shall be at liberty to apply by summons for direction to the Paymaster to signify his dissent, and the order made on such summons or a direction to the Paymaster signed by a Master in Lunacy or a Chief Clerk in the Chancery Division at the foot of such summons shall be sufficient authority for him to signify such dissent. In arriving at a majority for the purposes of this rule, all persons jointly entitled to any one share, whether in capital or in profits, shall be reckoned as one person, and any person entitled to a share together with his incumbrancers, be reckoned as one person.

Rule III.—Such summons shall be as near as may be in the Form set forth in the schedule hereto, and shall be supported in the first instance by the production of a certificate of the Paymaster, showing the amount of such stock is standing in his books, and of the order (if any) which the dividends on such stock are for the time being dealt with; but the Judge or Master in Lunacy may require such further evidence as he shall think necessary.

Rule IV.—Every such summons shall be served upon the trustees (if any) of the will or settlement under the trusts of which such stock is being dealt with by the Court, and if there be no such trustees, upon the persons other than the applicants who are interested in such stock (if such persons are ascertained), unless the Judge shall think fit to dispense with such service.

Rule V.—Upon any application requesting dissent to be signified, the Judge may make such order as he may think fit as to the costs payable by order for the reinvestment of the funds which may be rendered necessary by the dissent and by the reinvestment.

Rule VI.—Where the application relates to any funds in lunacy, it shall be made by the committee of the lunatic interested; and where the person so interested is an infant or person of unsound mind not so represented by inquisition, such application may be made by the next friend or guardian of such person; but the Judge or Master in Lunacy shall be required to make such order unless he shall be of opinion that it is for the benefit of the person so interested that such dissent should be signified.

Rule VII.—Where by any order or upon any authority to be acted upon by the Paymaster an investment in New Three per Cent. Annuities is directed, such investment shall hereafter be made in New Consols, unless an order to the contrary is lodged with the Paymaster.

Rule VIII.—Where New Three per Cent. Annuities are by any order directed to be transferred to any person, but the transfer shall not have been made before the 11th of April, 1888, the Paymaster shall, unless the person shall before the 11th of April, 1888, have signified dissent, transfer to him an equal amount of New Consols. The dissent may be notified in the Form B in the schedule hereto, and shall be acted upon by the Paymaster if authenticated in such manner as he shall think sufficient.

Rule IX.—Where under any order or upon any authority to be acted upon by the Paymaster dated prior to the 29th of March, 1888, New Three per Cent. Annuities are to be lodged in Court, the Paymaster shall be at liberty to receive in lieu thereof an equal amount of New Consols.

CONVERSION OF CONSOLS OR REDUCED ANNUITIES.

Rule X.—The Paymaster shall, on the receipt by him of the consent of the person or persons to whom under any order or upon any authority to be acted upon by him the dividends on any Consolidated Three per Cent. Annuities (hereinafter called Consols) or any Reduced Three per Cent. Annuities (hereinafter called Reduced Annuities), standing in the name of the Paymaster shall be payable, notify from time to time his assent to the exchange of such Consols or Reduced Annuities for New Consols. The consent of such person or persons shall be given in the Form C in the schedule hereto, and shall be acted upon by the Paymaster if authenticated in such manner as he shall think sufficient.

Rule XI.—If the consent of all the persons to whom the dividends on any Consols or Reduced Annuities are payable has not been obtained any of such persons shall be at liberty to apply by summons in Chambers for an order for the exchange of such Consols or Reduced Annuities, such summons shall be served on all other of such persons, and may, if the Judge thinks fit, be dealt with as if it were an application for a change of investment.

Rule XII.—Where the dividends on any Consols or Reduced Annuities standing in the name of the Paymaster, or on the residue of any Consols or Reduced Annuities, after any prior dealing therewith, are by an order or upon any authority to be acted upon by him, directed to be accumulated, the Paymaster shall, subject to the consent of the Judge, to whom the cause or matter is attached, without further order signify his assent to the exchange thereof for New Consols, unless on or before the 11th day of May, 1888, an order has been lodged with him directing him not to signify such assent.

Rule XIII.—These Rules shall apply to cases where an order or other authority dealing with Original Stock directs the transfer of or the payment of the dividends on the residue of such stock after a previous dealing therewith.

Rule XIV.—In the following classes of cases the exchange of Original Stock for New Consols is hereby authorised on behalf of the persons interested, unless dissent from the exchange is signified by the Paymaster on or before the 11th day of May, 1888:—

(a) Where no order or other authority as aforesaid for payment of the dividends on any Consols or Reduced Annuities has been lodged with the Paymaster.

(b) Where an order or other authority as aforesaid directs payment of a portion only of such dividends, but does not deal with the rest of such dividends or only directs the accumulation thereof.

(c) Where any Consols or Reduced Annuities have not been dealt with otherwise than by the continuous investment or placing on deposit of dividends during the 15 years immediately preceding the 11th of May, 1888.

Any person desirous of dissenting from such exchange shall be at liberty to apply by summons for a direction to the Paymaster to signify such dissent, and such direction shall be given or order made thereon as the Judge shall think fit.

GENERAL DIRECTIONS.

Rule XV.—The New Consols received in exchange for Original Stock shall be placed by the Paymaster to the same credit as that to which such Original Stock was standing, and such New Consols and the dividends thereon, including as part of such dividend the consideration money of 5s. for every hundred pounds of stock mentioned in Section 10 of the said Act, shall, unless otherwise ordered, be dealt with in the same manner as such Original Stock and the dividends thereon were directed to be dealt with, except that any investment or accumulation shall be made in New Consols. All stop orders, charging orders, powers of attorney, and other documents relating to the Original Stock or the dividends thereon, shall apply to such New Consols or the dividends thereon.

Rule XVI.—Where the dividends on New Consols shall be insufficient to make the payments by any order or upon any authority directed to be made out of the dividends on the Original Stock, the whole of such dividends shall be applied, so far as the same will extend, towards making such payments, but without prejudice to any application which may be made under Section 20 of the Act, to make up the deficiency out of capital.

Rule XVII.—Where such Original Stock as is referred to in the last preceding rule has been appropriated to provide an annuity of an amount equal to the dividends thereon, the Paymaster shall, without any order for that purpose, upon a memorandum signed by a registrar, master in lunacy, or chief clerk, in the form D., in the Schedule hereto, with such alterations as the circumstances may require, sell from time to time so much of any New Consols exchanged therefor, or any other securities in which the Original Stock may have been re-invested, as with the dividends thereon, will raise the amount required for any periodical payment for such annuity after deducting the income tax on such dividends.

Rule XVIII.—The Paymaster may signify his assent, notwithstanding any stop order or charging order affecting any Consols or Reduced Annuities, and without the consent of the persons named in such stop order or charging order.

Rule XIX.—No Court fee shall be charged upon any summons, order, certificate, affidavit, or other document or proceeding required for the purpose of giving effect to these rules.

Rule XX.—All provisions in the Supreme Court Funds Rules, 1886, as to the exchange of Government securities and transactions with the National Debt Commissioners shall apply to New Consols.

Rule XXI.—Notwithstanding these rules the Court or a Judge may, if circumstances shall require, make a special order relating to conversion of any Original Stock in any cause or matter.

Rule XXII.—In these rules "the Act" means the National Debt (Conversion) Act, 1888; and "Paymaster" means Her Majesty's Paymaster General on behalf of the Supreme Court of Judicature. Expressions in these rules have the same meanings as in the Act.

Rule XXIII.—These rules may be cited as the Conversion Act (Funds) Rules, 1888.

HALSBURY, C.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver.... His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to it in reading the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mint of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns paraphrasés undreamt of by 'the forty'—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE.

QUEEN'S BENCH DIVISION.

MIDDLESEX.—EASTER SITTINGS, 1888.

N.B.—This List contains all Actions entered in the Queen's Bench Division, and also all Actions in the Chancery Division, in which Notice has been given of Trial before a Judge and Jury, up to and including 10th April, 1888.

The Actions which have been entered but for various reasons are at present not ready for Trial are omitted from this List. Such of them as become ready during the present Sitting will be inserted as nearly as possible in their original positions.

When Actions are settled out of Court the Solicitors concerned are particularly requested to withdraw the Pleadings, as great expense and uncertainty are occasioned to the Sutors in other Causes, by the maintenance in the List of Actions not intended for Trial.

By J. C. TARVER, LATE FRENCH MASTER, ETON COLLEGE.

"Most readily do we acknowledge the flood of light which has been thrown on French phrases by M. Tarver. . . . His work is really a valuable addition to our Dictionary shelf—the most important shelf in every man's library. The nice skill with which he has compared and contrasted the phrases of the two most influential of modern tongues can hardly be over-praised. Such a book might well deserve a distinct notice; but we are happy to take this opportunity, meantime, of saying that one of the volumes has now been in constant use with us for five years; and we should be at a loss to name another recent one of its class which we have found more useful. The idea was happy, and the execution has been most laudably careful. We have been infinitely obliged to him for the lighter French literature of this day—so full of vocables fresh from the mist of camp or guinguette, and lively audacious turns phrases savantes—undreamt of by the forty—which would have puzzled Voltaire as much as Johnson."—Quarterly Review.

ANNUAL REPORT FOR 1887.

The Subscriptions received for the 1887 Series amounted to the sum of 22,395*l.* 15*s.* 4*d.*, showing a small decrease upon the receipts as compared with the year 1886. The sales of Law Reports and other publications published prior to the year 1887 realized 1,240*l.* 6*s.* 0*d.*, being a small increase on the same item in 1886. The interest received for money placed on deposit at the Union Bank of London and investments was 1,196*l.* 10*s.* 6*d.*, making the total cash receipts 24,832*l.* 11*s.* 10*d.*

The expenditure for printing and delivery of the Reports, Statutes, Weekly Notes, and the other Publications of the Council, including the 10th Edition of the Chronological Table and Index to the Statutes, purchased of the Government, amounted to the sum of 13,174*l.* 7*s.* 1*d.*, and the office expenses to 183*l.* 0*s.* 5*d.*. A comparison of the cost of printing the several series as compared with 1886, shows an increase of 306*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.* in the Equity Series, and of 77*l.* 5*s.* 10*d.* in the Appellate Series; and the Statutes also show an increase of 162*l.* 2*s.* 10*d.*. The cost of the Supplements to the Weekly Notes, although less than in 1886, was still very high, being 284*l.* 4*s.* 2*d.*. These supplements arise from the publication of important rules of Court, and other matter useful to the profession. The increased cost of some of the series, as well as that of the Statutes, is attributable in the former case to an increase of reportable matter, and in the latter to the publication of an increased number of Statutes.

A portion of the surplus funds of the Council was applied in the purchase of a sufficient number of the Chronological Table and Index of the Statutes, which have been distributed to the subscribers to the Law Reports. The expense of this amounted to 2,185*l.*

The amount paid for salaries, including a bonus to the Staff, was 12,699*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.*. The office expenses and law charges made the total expenditure 26,083*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.*

The stock in hand valued at the cost price of printing only has increased in value to the sum of 7,331*l.* 2*s.* 11*d.*

The only change that has taken place in the members of the Council during the year was caused by the retirement of ARTHUR CHARLES, Esq., Q.C., on his appointment as one of Her Majesty's Justices of the Queen's Bench Division. His Lordship had been long identified with the Law Reports, in early years as an able contributor and subsequently as an active and zealous member of the Council. The Council, while congratulating him upon his appointment, have to regret the loss of an able coadjutor, and of one ready at all times to render valuable assistance in their deliberations. The Hon. Society of the Inner Temple have appointed LUMLEY SMITH, Esq., Q.C., to succeed him as one of their representatives on the Council. At the Annual Meeting JOSEPH BROWN, Esq., Q.C., was re-appointed Chairman of the Council.

An account of the receipts and expenditure for the year is appended to this Report, and the accounts have been duly audited and found correct.

The current Index having been found very useful, the Council propose at the end of this year to consolidate the three current Indexes for the years 1886, 1887, and 1888, into one Index, the utility of which will be obvious.

The want having been felt of some memoranda of the changes which have taken place among the Judges and Law Officers, and of the new appointments which have been made since the commencement of the publication of the Law Reports in 1865, the Council have, with the assistance of SIR SHERSTON BAKER, Bart., supplied the information desired, from the commencement of the Law Reports down to the Michaelmas Sittings in October, 1887, and the Table containing the information will be found in the 12th volume of the Appeal Cases. It is proposed in future to continue these memoranda yearly.

The Council have again to express their acknowledgments to the Law Lords and Her Majesty's Judges, as well as to the profession generally, for the kind assistance which they so readily afford to the Staff in the performance of the duty of reporting; and in conclusion, they would desire to express their thanks to the profession for the large support they have hitherto received, which they think may be taken as an indication that their labours to promote efficiency in reporting are not unappreciated and that the Reports on the whole are considered satisfactory. The Council will continue to do their best to promote greater efficiency and improvement, trusting that it will be remembered that the undertaking was founded by the profession and is carried on under gratuitous professional control by a Council acting in the interest of the profession, and has therefore claims to the active support of its members.

By Order,

(Signed) JOSEPH BROWN,

Chairman.

CUSTOMS AND INLAND REVENUE ACT, 1888.

THE NEW STAMP DUTIES.

NOTICE.

The Board of Inland Revenue direct attention to the following provisions of the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1888, which has now received the Royal Assent.

CONTRACT NOTES.

When the stamp duty of one penny paid on a Contract Note, as defined by the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1878, where a Note advises the sale or purchase of any stock or marketable security of the value of one hundred pounds or upwards, there is to be added the duty of Sixpence.

The new duty is to be denoted by an adhesive stamp, or adhesive stamp, appropriated to a Contract Note, and such stamp or stamps is, to be cancelled by the person by whom the Note is executed.

Appropriated stamps of the value of 6d., 1s., and 1s. 6d. have been provided, and can be obtained at the principal stamp offices.

The amount of duty upon a contract note stamped in conformity with the Act may be added to the charge for brokerage or agency.

The term "Contract Note" means the Note sent by a broker or agent to his principal (except where such principal is acting as broker or agent for a principal), advising him of the sale or purchase of any stock or marketable security, and any person who effects any such sale or purchase as a broker or agent is to forthwith make and execute a Contract Note, and transmit the same to his principal, and in default of doing so is to forfeit the sum of Twenty Pounds.

Where a Note advises the sale or purchase of more than one description of stock or marketable security, the Note is to be deemed to be as many Contract Notes as there are descriptions of stock or security sold or purchased.

It is to be observed that section 69 of the Stamp Act, 1870, imposes a penalty of twenty pounds on every person who makes or executes a Contract Note chargeable with stamp duty, and not duly stamped, and it is further provided that no broker, agent, or other person shall have any legal claim to any charge for brokerage, commission, or agency, with reference to the sale or purchase of any stock or marketable security of the value of five pounds or upwards mentioned or referred to in any Contract Note, unless such Note is duly stamped.

TRANSFERS OF REGISTERED BONDS, DEBENTURES, &c.

There is to be charged upon a transfer, assignment, disposition, or operation, otherwise than on mortgage, of any mortgage, bond, debenture, or covenant (being a marketable security), or of any security for money by or on behalf of any Foreign or Colonial State, Government, municipal body, corporation, or company (being a marketable security), the following duties; (that is to say):

Where the transfer, assignment, disposition, or assignation is on sale, the same ad valorem duties as are now charged under the Stamp Act, 1870, upon a conveyance or transfer on sale of any property, such duties being at the rate of ten shillings per cent. of the amount or value of the consideration for the sale.

Where the transfer, assignment, disposition, or assignation is of any other kind than on sale or mortgage, ten shillings.

The above duties are in substitution for the duty of sixpence for every one hundred pounds, and also for any fractional part of one hundred pounds, of the amount transferred, assigned, or disposed in any case in which such duty is imposed by the Stamp Act, 1870, and they must be denoted by impressed stamps.

STATEMENTS OF CAPITAL OF LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES.

A statement of the amount of nominal capital to be raised by shares of any company to be registered with limited liability is to be delivered to the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies in England, Scotland, or Ireland, and a statement of the amount of any increase of registered capital of any company now registered or to be registered with limited liability is to be delivered to the said registrar, and every such statement is to be charged with an ad valorem stamp duty of two shillings for every one hundred pounds and any fraction of one hundred pounds over any multiple of one hundred pounds of the amount of such capital or increase of capital as the case may be.

MORTGAGES OF STOCK, &c.

The Stamp Duty now payable upon a mortgage of any stock or marketable security under the provisions of the Stamp Act (1870) Amendment Act, 1871, is repealed.

Every instrument under hand only (not being a Promissory Note or Bill of Exchange) given upon the occasion of the deposit of any Share Warrant or Stock Certificate to Bearer, or Foreign or Colonial Share Certificate, or any Security for money transferable by delivery, by way of security for any loan, is to be deemed to be an agreement, and is to be charged with the duty of Sixpence accordingly.

Every instrument under hand only (not being a Promissory Note or Bill of Exchange), making redeemable or qualifying a duly stamped transfer, intended as a security, of any registered stock or marketable security, is to be deemed to be an agreement, and is to be charged with the duty of Sixpence accordingly.

A release or discharge of any such instrument is not to be charged with any ad valorem duty.

Any deed operating as a mortgage of any stock or marketable security is to be chargeable, in respect of such operation, with the ad valorem duty at the rate of Two Shillings and Sixpence per cent. chargeable upon a mortgage under "The Stamp Act, 1870."

The duty of Sixpence above referred to may be denoted by an adhesive Postage and Revenue Stamp.

EQUITABLE MORTGAGES.

The ad valorem duty chargeable upon a mortgage under "The Stamp Act, 1870," ceases to be payable upon an equitable mortgage effected by an agreement or memorandum, under hand only, relating to the deposit of any title deeds or instruments constituting or being evidence of the title to any property whatever (other than stock or marketable security), or creating a charge on such property, and in lieu of such duty every such agreement or memorandum is to be charged with the duty of one shilling for every one hundred pounds, and any fractional part of one hundred pounds, of the amount secured by the equitable mortgage.

Where the total amount which may be at any time secured by any equitable mortgage is unascertained or unlimited in the first instance, and the ad valorem stamp duty impressed on the agreement or memorandum in conformity with this section is available under section 107 of "The Stamp Act, 1870," for such an amount only as such duty extends to cover, such agreement or memorandum is, for the purpose of stamp duty, to be deemed to be a new and separate agreement or memorandum bearing date on the day on which any advance or loan is made in excess of the amount covered by the duty impressed thereon.

The duty above referred to must be denoted by an impressed stamp.

FOREIGN OR COLONIAL SHARE CERTIFICATES, BONDS, AND OTHER SECURITIES TO BEARER.

The under-mentioned duties are charged upon,—

- (a) Any foreign or colonial share certificate or any other document whatever, being prima facie evidence of the title of any person as proprietor of, or as having the beneficial interest in, any share or shares, or stock or debenture stock, or funded debt of any foreign or colonial company or corporation where such person is not registered in respect thereof in a register duly kept in the United Kingdom.
- (b) Any security for money of any company or corporation being a marketable security and transferable by delivery, or security for money by or on behalf of any foreign or Colonial State, Government, municipal body, corporation, or company, being a marketable security and transferable by delivery, whatever may be the date thereof, or of the issue thereof, and wherever it may have been made or issued, or the interest may be payable.

On the occasion of the first delivery or transfer by delivery thereof in the United Kingdom on or after the first day of July in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-eight, and on the occasion of the first delivery or transfer by delivery thereof in the United Kingdom in any year after the year in which such first delivery or transfer by delivery shall happen—

Where the nominal amount in money of the share or shares or stock or debenture stock or funded debt or where the amount secured does not exceed twenty-five pounds	0	0	3
Where such nominal amount or amount secured exceeds twenty-five pounds and does not exceed fifty pounds	0	0	6
Where such nominal amount or amount secured exceeds fifty pounds, for every fifty pounds and any fractional part of fifty pounds thereof	0	0	6

It is, however, provided that the new duty upon a security as defined under (b) shall not be payable in the case of any security, duly stamped with the duty of one shilling for every ten pounds, and also for any fractional part of ten pounds of the money thereby secured in conformity with the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1885. But the new duty is payable upon every other security, transferable by delivery, and in the case of any stamp duty having been heretofore paid upon any such other security, in addition to such stamp duty.

The duties under the above heads are to be denoted by adhesive stamps appropriated by words and figures on the face thereof to such duties and to each year. The stamps of the respective values of 3d., 6d., 1s., 1s. 6d., 2s., 2s. 6d., 5s., and 10s., will be obtainable at the principal stamp offices on or before the 1st July next, when the duties come into force.

Every person who delivers or transfers, or is concerned as broker or agent in delivering or transferring any instrument chargeable with duty under this section, and not being duly stamped, is to forfeit the sum of twenty pounds.

Where the holder of any foreign or colonial share certificate bears the stamp for any year in conformity with the Act shall, in the case of such year, cause himself to be registered in the register of foreign or colonial company or corporation, and shall obtain a certificate consequent upon such registration, the Board are empowered to stamp such certificate for the same year without payment of duty, subject to such regulations as they may prescribe, and which will be duly announced.

It is to be observed that the Stamp Act, 1870, provides that an instrument is chargeable with ad valorem duty, in respect of money in any foreign or colonial currency, such duty is to be calculated on the value of such money in British currency according to the current rate of exchange on the day of the date of the instrument.

CUSTOMS AND INLAND REVENUE ACT, 1888.

IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS IN THE LAW RELATING TO STAMP DUTIES.

NOTICE.

The Board of Inland Revenue direct attention to the following provisions of the Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1888, which has now received the Royal Assent.

It is enacted that in relation to instruments executed after the passing of the Act, which are chargeable with ad valorem stamp duty under the under-mentioned heads viz. :—

- (a.) Bond, covenant, or instrument of any kind whatsoever;
 - (b.) Conveyance or transfer on sale;
 - (c.) Lease or tack (including an agreement for a lease or tack for any term not exceeding thirty-five years);
 - (d.) Mortgage, bond, debenture, covenant and warrant of attorney to confess and enter up judgment;
 - (e.) Equitable mortgage;
 - (f.) Settlement;
- the following provisions are to have effect :—

(a.) The instrument, unless it is written upon duly stamped material, is to be duly stamped with the proper ad valorem duty before the expiration of thirty days after it is first executed, or after it has been first received in the United Kingdom in case it is first executed at any place out of the United Kingdom, unless the opinion of the Commissioners of Inland Revenue, with respect to the amount of duty with which the instrument is chargeable, has, before such expiration, been required under the provisions of section eighteen of the Stamp Act 1870.

(b.) In case the opinion of the said Commissioners with respect to any such instrument has been required, the instrument is to be stamped in accordance with the assessment of the Commissioners within fourteen days after the date of notice of such assessment.

(e.) If any such instrument is not duly stamped in conformity with the foregoing provisions, the person in that behalf specified in the First Schedule to the Act is to forfeit the sum of Ten Pounds, and in addition to the penalty payable by law on stamping the instrument there is to be paid an additional penalty equivalent to the stamp duty thereon, unless a reasonable excuse for the delay in stamping, or for the omission of stamp, or the insufficiency of stamp, be afforded to the satisfaction of the said Commissioners, or of the court, judge, arbitrator or referee before whom it is proceeded.

The person specified in the First Schedule to the Act as liable to the personal penalty of Ten Pounds above referred to, is, briefly stated, the person in whose favour the instrument operates, or, in the case of settlement, the settlor.

The personal penalty is to be sued for by information in the High Court, in England in the name of the Attorney-General for England, in Scotland in the name of the Lord Advocate, and in Ireland in the name of the Attorney-General for Ireland, and may be recovered with full costs of suit.

The Board are empowered to reward any person who may inform them of any case in which the personal penalty has been incurred, and who may assist in the recovery of such penalty.

In addition to the imposition of the personal penalty above referred to, the following changes take effect as regards the penalties payable on stamping instruments after the execution thereof :—

- (1.) The period within which the Board consent to stamp without penalty instruments executed in the United Kingdom, not subject to any special enactments or regulations, is reduced from two months to thirty days after the first execution.
- (2.) The period within which an instrument first executed out of the United Kingdom may be stamped without penalty is reduced from two months to thirty days after its first receipt in the United Kingdom.

(3.) The period within which the Board are empowered, if they think fit, to remit or mitigate the penalty or penalties, is reduced from twelve months to three months after first execution.

(4.) In the case of the instruments chargeable with ad valorem duties under the heads set forth above, and executed after the passing of the Act, the penalty of ten pounds, with interest in certain cases, on payment of which the instrument may be stamped after execution, is increased by a sum equivalent to the unpaid duty.

In connexion with these alterations of the law it is important that it should be borne in mind that an agreement for a lease or tack, or with respect to the letting of any lands, tenements, or heritable subjects for any term not exceeding thirty-five years, is chargeable with the same duty as if it were an actual lease or tack made for the term and consideration mentioned in the agreement.

In any case in which application is made to the Board for the mitigation of a penalty payable on stamping an instrument, by, or on behalf of, any person who has incurred a personal penalty by reason of the omission to stamp the instrument as required by law, a separate memorial must be presented showing cause why proceedings should not be instituted for the recovery of such penalty.

If an instrument be not presented for stamping within three months of the first execution thereof, the penalty or penalties must be paid, as has hitherto been the case in respect to instruments presented for stamping after the expiration of twelve months after first execution.

It is further provided that no assignment of a policy of life insurance is to confer on the assignee therein named, his executors, administrators, or assigns, any right to sue for the moneys assured or secured thereby, or to give a valid discharge for the same, or any part thereof, unless such assignment is duly stamped, and no payment is to be made to any person claiming under any such assignment unless the same is duly stamped. If any payment is made in contravention of this enactment, the Stamp Duty not paid upon the assignment, together with the penalty payable on stamping the same, is to be a debt due to Her Majesty from the Company or person by whom such payment is made, and recoverable as such accordingly.

The Act also provides that every condition of sale framed with the view of precluding objection or requisition upon the ground of absence or insufficiency of stamp upon any instrument, executed after the passing of the Act, and every contract, arrangement, or undertaking for assuming the liability on account of absence or insufficiency of stamp upon any such instrument or indemnifying against such liability, absence, or insufficiency, is to be void.
