JACKSON DENIES ANY CONNECTION WITH ABDUCTION

Vancouver Reports Absolutely False, Says Special Janet Smith Investigator

While refusing to be drawn into a discussion of sensational Vancouver reports concerning the Wong abduction case M. J. Jackson, K.C., special investigator in charge of the Janet Smith probe, issued a statement today denying emphatically that he or any official of the Attorney-General's Department had had anything to do with the disappearance of the Chinese houseboy, Mr. Jackson's statement follows:

"Yesterday afternoon," said Mr. Jackson, "the Honourable the Attorney-General gave an appropriate statement to the press. I would, however, emphatically reiterate that neither I nor any member of the staff of the Attorney-General's Department had anything to do with or knowledge of the Wong abduction.

The disappearance of Wong called on the Honourable the Attorney-General and myself serious embarrassment in view of the nature of my report of investigation then just made to the Attorney-General. Active steps were taken subsequent to the abduction to procure the recovery of the missing Chinese boy. My conversation with the Chinese Consul and with Mr. Senkler were all at a time and when the Department, the Chinese Consul and Mr. Senkler were working together for the purpose of locating and recovering Wong. No good purpose can be served by disseminating in the press and especially so on the eve of pending trials, I cannot believe, however, that Mr. Senkler found anything improper in them. The innuendo in the Sun is wholly unwarranted. I prefer to think that if the full facts had been known to the Sun the article in question would not have been published."

Vote of Confidence in Dominion Command Passed at Convention in Ottawa

Ottawa, June 24.—At the formal opening of the seventh annual convention of the Great War Veterans' Association here this afternoon Major M. A. McPherson, of Regina, seconded by J. A. Walker of Calgary, moved a vote of confidence in the officials of the Dominion command in view of the recent criticism of the organization. The vote of confidence was carried by a tremendous outburst of cheering by the 200 delegates in attendance.

In moving the resolution, Major McPherson said he felt he was speaking for all the delegates present as well as the membership throughout Canada.

On the other hand, the resolution was carried by a vote of 100 to 20, indicating a strong support for the Dominion command.

DISCONTENT SPREADS IN RIFFIAN ARMY

Tetuan, Spanish Morocco, June 24.—The rift blockade established against Abd-el-Krim by the French and Spanish is reported to have brought about a shortage of food supplies among the rebel Rifians. Reports from native sources say discontent reigns in the Rifian ranks, not only because of lack of food, but also because of the measures taken by Abd-el-Krim to maintain his position of dominance.

Conditions Steadily Grow Worse In South China City

FIGHT BETWEEN WHITE MEN AND CANTON GROUP

Several Europeans Killed and Many Wounded; Women and Children Flee to Hongkong Aboard United States Warship; British Keeping Order in Hongkong.

Canton, June 24.—Several Europeans were killed and many were wounded today when fighting broke out between Chinese agitators and residents of Shameen. Women and children are fleeing to the United States ship Asheville, preparing to leave for Hongkong to-night. The situation is extremely serious.

The outbreak today came after demonstrators had fired in the direction of Shameen yesterday, killing a non-combatant French merchant, J. Pasquiere, and injuring two white men, Commissioner of Customs Edwards and V. G. Murrell, a chemist. The latter was shot in the arm. Edwards was wounded in the knee.

It is impossible to foresee the outcome of the present trouble, which, apparently, will last for some time.

B.C. LIQUOR IMPORT LIMITATION MEASURE GIVEN APPROVAL TO-DAY BY COMMONS AND SENT TO SENATE

Ottawa, June 24.—The bill to amend the Canada Temperance Act was put through all stages in the House of Commons this morning. It now goes to the Senate.

The bill chiefly affects the Province of British Columbia and will give that province the right to prohibit importation of liquor into the province except for medical, sacramental and industrial purposes.

When the bill came up for consideration, opposition developed from the Conservative benches, Brig-General J. A. Clark, Burrard, B.C., and George Black, Yukon, objecting that the bill was aimed chiefly at private citizens and not at export houses.

A. W. Neil, Independent, Comox-Alberni, gave hearty support to the bill. He said liquor was being brought into British Columbia ostensibly for export and no excise duty was paid. It was shipped a few miles out to sea, smuggled back and bootlegged on a large scale into the province at prices with which the British Columbia Liquor Commission could not compete.

Mr. Black said the Attorney-General of British Columbia could withhold his consent for the licensing of any export houses and thereby wipe them out. The British Columbia Government, he thought, was "only out of doors for a sham fight" against bootlegging.

"It is one of their principal sources of revenue," he said.

Council of Scottish of B.C. Declares Confidence in Its Leaders

Vancouver, June 24.—At a meeting of the council of the Scottish Societies of British Columbia, at which some sixty delegates from twenty-two organizations were present and took part, the action of the authorities in issuing court summonses for certain officials of the Society was deprecated.

By a unanimous vote the following resolution was passed: "The Council of the Scottish Societies in view of the action taken against their president and other members who have been summoned against a charge of unlawfully holding Wong Fook Sing, express their confidence in the integrity of the members so charged and their determination to stand by them and support them to the utmost of their power in the present crisis."

Arrangements have been made by the Scottish Societies to hold a service at the graveside of Janet Smith in Mountain View Cemetery to-morrow evening. Mrs. F. H. Stratton, last year secretary of the societies, stated to-morrow would have been the twenty-third birthday of Janet Smith.

It is planned to place a wreath on the grave, purchased with the one-pound note received by the Scottish Societies Saturday from the mother of the late Janet Smith in the Old Country.

FLOOD WATERS SURROUND NEW SOUTH WALES TOWN

Sydney, N.S.W., June 24.—Flood waters entirely surround the city of Forbes, New South Wales. The high waters have made 15,000 persons in the district homeless.

Forbes is on the right bank of the Lachlan River, ninety miles west of Bathurst. The population of the town itself is only about 2,000. Recent Australian dispatches have told of widespread damage from floods in several sections, chiefly in Southern New South Wales, with the flooded areas in some cases extending well up towards Sydney.

What Premier Oliver found out about the freight rate situation while he was in Ottawa last week will not be made known to the public of British Columbia until the Premier makes a speech on the subject at the Laurier Club in Vancouver in about two weeks. On his return here to-day the Premier declined to discuss the results of his Ottawa mission but intimated that he would discuss the whole rate situation before the Laurier Club which has invited him to address it in the near future.

"Meanwhile," he added, "I think it would be unwise to say anything more about the matter than I have already said. When I speak in Vancouver I shall go into the question fully and carefully."

Immediately on his return to-day the Premier started to delve into the proposed loan of $130,000 to mainland berry growers. Action on this scheme, expected to-day, was postponed until a Cabinet meeting to-morrow when the Premier will be in possession of the facts personally.

After he has cleared his desk of some of the business which has accumulated in the last week or two, Mr. Oliver will make a tour of inspection over the Pacific Great Eastern Railway which he has not inspected for a long time.

The sudden departure of Chang Hsueh-Liang, son of Chang, from Shanghai was due to the situation in Manchuria, the paper states, the father having sent him an urgent message to return immediately to deal with the trouble.

Dispatches indicate that following the outbreak of violence in Canton, women and children are fleeing from that city and about 150 of the refugees, including some twenty United States citizens, have arrived at Hongkong.

Preparations are being made in many Chinese cities for demonstrations to-morrow, which is the Dragon Day festival. Nightly dispatches say the success or failure of those demonstrations may materially affect the entire Chinese situation.

North Vancouver, June 24.—Charles Henry "Boss" White, arrested in Vancouver within twenty-four hours after Frank Rosso had been found killed in a police court to-day, appeared in court to-day and was released.

Escaped With Jewelry and Many Diamonds After Holding up Store

New York, June 24.—Two armed robbers held up the diamond store of Marcus Feldman on Broadway, in the theatrical district, this morning and escaped with diamonds said by the employees of the store to be worth between $150,000 and $200,000.

The robbers, with pistols drawn, entered the store and tied the two clerks on duty. They then ransacked the counters, piling diamonds and jewelry into a bag, and made their escape before an alarm was given.

The holiday was carried out shortly after 10:30 o'clock, when Broadway was crowded.

BIG PAYROLL INCREASE, RISE IN WAGES, LESS ORIENTALS SHOWN BY B.C. LABOR REPORT

An increase in the industrial pay roll of the Province, an increase in the average weekly wage of industrial workers, a shorter working week, and a reduction in the percentage of Orientals employed in B.C. industries, these are the principal points brought out in the annual report of the Statistical Branch of the Department of Labor, as received by the Hon. A. M. Manson, Minister of Labor, from the Deputy Minister, J. D. McNeven.

Returns for the year 1924 were made to the department by 3,566 employers of labor in the Province. The corresponding number for the previous year was 3,375, and in former years the totals were: 1918, 1,047; 1919, 1,307; 1920, 1,869; 1921, 2,275; 1922, 2,800.

This increase from year to year says Mr. McNeven, indicates, partly, the greater success of the department in securing a more complete return and partly, no doubt, the larger number of industrial establishments in the Province.

The total amount paid out by the 3,566 firms last year in salaries and wages was $107,798,761.36. In the previous year the sum of $106,796,358.56 was paid out by 3,375 firms and in 1922 there were 2,809 firms making returns whose salary and wage payments amounted to $86,102,190.73.

It is explained, however, that the amount of $107,798,761.36 does not represent the total industrial pay roll of the Province for 1924. Outside of this figure, the report makes an estimate of the pay roll of a number of industrial employers who did not send in returns, and of workers in various semi-industrial occupations from whose employers returns were not requested. The inclusion of these, it is estimated by the Department, would bring the total industrial and semi-industrial pay roll of the Province up to $121,057,316.29.

ORDER PRESERVED

London, June 24.—Colonial Secretary Amery told the House of Commons to-day that the British Government had the Hongkong situation well in hand, and was able to preserve law and order there. Foreign Secretary Chamberlain was asked whether he had evidence that the disturbances in China had been fostered or aggravated by agents of another government. He replied yes, but did not specify the government to which he referred.

AMOIY SITUATION

Hongkong, June 24.—The situation in Amoy, Fukien province, is reported to be more serious owing to the insistence of the students in demonstrating against foreigners in the International Concession.

The Chinese authorities believe they can control the position, but the British and Japanese consuls have requested their governments to dispatch warships to Amoy. Meanwhile a steamer is ready to take off the foreign women and children should the necessity arise.

MANCHURIAN MUTINIES

London, June 24.—The London Daily Telegraph to-day claims to have had cooperation of its report of yesterday that "ominous and serious disorders have broken out in Manchuria and are spreading."

It declares mutinies have occurred on a fairly large scale in the Manchurian dictator, who is now absent from Mukden, the capital. Bolshevik agents are credited with taking advantage of Chang's absence to provoke violence against him and the foreign colonies.

Chamberlain Says British Guarantee to Cover Only French-German Border

States Britain's Safety Lies in Wise Use of Influence For Peace

London, June 24—Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain's obligations under the proposed Western European security pact must be definitely limited to the frontier between Germany on the one side and France and Belgium on the other.

Speaking to-day, he added that "our guarantee of that frontier can not be invoked by a wrong-doer, to shield him in his wrongdoing."
He said the abstention of the British Empire, and of Great Britain in particular, from European affairs since 1914 had served and never would serve the interests of peace. Great Britain's signature to the covenant of the League of Nations was incompatible with isolation.
"Our safety is not in seeking isolation," he said, "but in a wise and prudent use of our influence and power to obtain peace and prevent war from breaking out again."
NOT A VICTIM
The Foreign Secretary denied reports that he had been pursuing a personal policy of his own and that he had fallen a victim to the atmosphere at Geneva and to the personal wishes of his friend, Mr. Briand, French Foreign Minister. He declared every line of the material published by the British Government in its recent "white papers" giving all correspondence regarding the security pact had the approval of the Premier and the authority of the British Cabinet.

CHINESE SITUATION

Shanghai and its suburbs are under martial law in readiness for possible emergencies. Reports generally indicate a grave situation in South China, although messages from Ningpo, where a serious condition was reported yesterday, said the crisis there had passed.
REPORTS DENIED
Reports from Mukden, the Manchurian capital, received at Peking, deny anti-foreign demonstrations taken place there, although a London newspaper printed reports insisting there had been trouble in Mukden.
It develops that the British consul-general in Canton warned the Chinese authorities Monday, prior to yesterday's shooting, that any attempt by Chinese to enter the Foreign Settlement in Canton would be forcibly resisted and that the Chinese Government would be held responsible for the consequences.
A dispatch from the Shanghai correspondent of The London Daily Mail said that when thousands of Chinese received strike pay on Monday from funds collected throughout the country, each striker was given a leaflet reading:
"The executive of the Soviet Central Union conveys its warmest friendship and sympathy to the Chinese workers, who have fought so valiantly against the oppression of the foreign capitalists."
"We know you are encountering great difficulties in combating capitalist oppression, but your sacrifices will not be in vain. The workers of the whole world will rise to co-operate with your attack on modern imperialism."
The correspondent added that Bolshevik agents were displaying remarkably increased activities, in consequence of which some of the local missions schools and moderates had resigned from the strike organization.

GUARDS PROVIDED
A Hongkong dispatch to The London Daily Mail said the United States communities offer to supply men to act as civil guards there had been accepted.
Sir R. E. Stubbs, Governor of Hongkong, postponed his proposed departure for London, owing to the strike situation.
A dispatch from Peking said all the legations there had taken precautions to meet any war-like movement. British agents had been advised to go to their legation if trouble should arise, and rescue parties had been arranged. It was said trouble was feared on Thursday at the Dragon Festival.

POLICE COURT HEARING
Whether all the officers of the Scottish Societies will be in attendance at the service depends upon the nature of the events in the Point Grey police court to-morrow morning, where David Patterson, Mrs. Stratton, A. S. Matthew and eleven or twelve other persons accused of participation in the abduction of Wong Foon Sing will appear to face the charge. H. S. Wood, Crown counsel, who is to be assisted by A. M. Johnson, K.C., stated this morning that the Crown was determined to proceed with the presentation of evidence.
DEFENCE FUND
Announcement was made by David Patterson, president of the Vancouver Council of Scottish Societies, today that it had been decided to open a defence fund for the members of the council who have been charged with the illegal detention of the Chinese houseboy.
He also announced that the societies had decided to erect a monument to the memory of Janet Smith

WHERE MANY WERE TRAPPED WHILE ASLEEP—In one of the worst railroad wrecks in many months 28 were killed and scores seriously injured when a train was derailed near Hackettstown, N.J. Most of the victims were German excursionists from Chicago, Ill., on their way to sail from New York to Berlin. Here is a comprehensive view of the wreck. Note the little boy in night-gown on the extreme right, the garments of passengers and the bands of rescue workers in the foreground.

Government Tender Estevan Puts Out After Overhaul at Yarrow Plant

Fresh from the hands of painters, the Ss. Princess Kathleen, one of the two new flyers of the B.C.C.S., went back into service to-day after a cleaning from top to bilges in the Esquimalt drydock. Yarrow Limited did the work.
The Ss. Princess Marguerite, her sister ship, goes around to Esquimalt to-night and will be docked to-morrow for cleaning and painting. The Ss. Prince Albert is tied up at the Yarrow wharf ready for sea after repairs made during the last few days.
The C.G.S. lighthouse tender Estevan left yesterday after extensive repairs at the Yarrow plant. Though the ravages of knockabout life on the troublesome West Coast had told heavily on her paint, it was looking like a new ship the Government tender put out after her overhaul.

URGES COMBINED EFFORTS TO REDUCE JUVENILE CRIME

"We know you are encountering great difficulties in combating capitalist oppression, but your sacrifices will not be in vain. The workers of the whole world will rise to co-operate with your attack on modern imperialism."
The correspondent added that Bolshevik agents were displaying remarkably increased activities, in consequence of which some of the local missions schools and moderates had resigned from the strike organization.

MOST REV. S. P. MATHESON
Winnipeg, June 24—A plea for the co-operation of all organizations looking toward the prevention of juvenile crime, which to-day was "too grave" to be investigated as to probable causes," was made by Archbishop Matheson, Anglican Primate of All Canada, at the opening of the annual sessions of the Synod of the Diocese of Rupertland here to-day.

U.S. SCIENTISTS SAY SUN CURE OF TUBERCULOSIS OFFERS GREAT PROMISE

New York, June 24.—New hope for victims of tuberculosis is held out by scientists attending the eighty-first annual convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy here.
Sunlight, properly applied, can be made the most efficient foe of the disease, Dr. William F. Baker of the Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia, told the National Society of Physical Therapeutics, which is meeting with the institute.
CONSTRUCTIVE SERVICE
"Only recently have clinicians begun to realize the importance of application of the sun's rays, long used in constructive service to all animal and vegetable life," he said. "In the treatment of tuberculosis, not only the infection combated, but the body condition is strengthened so that it becomes easier to throw off the disease."
The sunlight invigorates the skin and causes a marked increase in flow of the general blood circulation, he said.
"However, I do not advance heliotherapy as a cure-all, for without remedial measures a full advantage cannot be expected," he said.
MILK AS FOOD
The medical profession has some doubts as to the real value of milk as an adult food, Dr. John P. Sutherland, former dean of the Boston University School of Medicine, declared. "In fact," he said, "animal milk may not be the ideal food, and its free use may be more injurious than beneficial to mankind."
A reward of $100 to any color blind woman who will submit to clinical observations to determine the cause of the condition, has been offered by Dr. C. A. Harkness of Chicago, who asserts he has never found one.

B.C. LIQUOR IMPORT BILL PASSED
VOTE IS SUGGESTED
With General Clark, Mr. Black thought the people of British Columbia should be given a chance to vote on the question of private importation before the Government should be given power to bring in such a drastic measure by Order-in-Council.
SAID BILL DESIRED
T. G. McBride, Progressive, Cariboo, supported the bill, which he said the people of British Columbia as well as the Provincial Government favored.
S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, Montreal, opposed the bill. In principle it would give a provincial government, he said, the right to impose or withdraw prohibition without the formality of a plebiscite.
Legislation now before Parliament in Ottawa will put British Columbia's enormous liquor export traffic out of business, officials of the Attorney-General's Department—disclosed to-day after they had examined the Federal Government's new liquor bill—approved by the Com-

New York, June 24.—Fire which broke out in a former brewery in Brooklyn threatened to destroy an entire block this afternoon. Three thousand pupils from two nearby public schools marched to the street in less than three minutes after the signal had been given.
Nearly 1,200 families occupying houses in the vicinity of the fire were forced to the streets.

New York, June 24.—Jimmy Slattery, Buffalo's sensational light heavyweight, signed a contract yesterday to fight in a six-round match at the Italian Hospital Fund matches at the Polo Grounds July 2. It was previously approved by the State Athletic Commission. His opponent will be announced within a few days.
Louis "Kid" Kaplan, featherweight boxing champion, the commission ruled, must accept the challenge recently filed by Babe Herman before he can meet any other boxer in New York. Much is Expected of Meeting of Pacific Institute in Honolulu

Nations Will be Represented Unofficially; First Session Set For July 1

Vancouver, June 24 (Canadian Press)—Much interest is being taken in Canada in the Pacific Institute Conference on Pacific relations which will open in Honolulu July 1 and continue for two weeks.

Honolulu is the natural stage for such a gathering, as the Hawaiian Islands are the racial laboratory and clinic for the world.

There will be approximately 125 representatives, men and women, from Hawaii, Japan, China, Korea, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, the Philippines and the United States.

It is intended to make the Institute a permanent one, and to constitute it a fact-finding organization on all matters that involve the relations of the Pacific.

FACT-FINDING BODY The committee mentioned has been carrying on negotiations with prominent men in all the countries bordering on the Pacific and those attending are doing so by invitation.

There will be approximately 125 representatives, men and women, from Hawaii, Japan, China, Korea, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, the Philippines and the United States.

Leaders are delegates from various countries, including representatives from the United States, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand.

It is intended to make the Institute a permanent one, and to constitute it a fact-finding organization on all matters that involve the relations of the Pacific.

The prolonged trade depression and consequent steadily mounting unemployment in Great Britain, which have long been subjects of grave concern, now have reached a point where a crisis is foreseen.

RUSSIAN-GERMAN TREATY DISCUSSION Berlin, June 24.—The departure of the Soviet Ambassador, M. Kravinsky, for Moscow, yesterday, lends color to the opinion generally voiced in diplomatic circles that Russia is much concerned over the proposed security pact for Western Europe.

Repeated editorial feasters in the Moscow press warn Germany that she will risk disengagement from Russia, she binds herself to the Western European powers in such a manner as to destroy the relationship brought about between Russia and Germany by the Rapallo Treaty, which was negotiated during the conference in Italy in 1922.

On the German side it is argued the Rapallo Treaty does not form an arrangement such as is contemplated by the security pact.

COAL STRIKE RELIEF PAYMENT IS STEADY Montreal, June 24.—Declaration was made here yesterday by William Hayes, representative of District 25, United Mine Workers, that the union was prepared to stand behind the Nova Scotia striking miners "indefinitely" and to continue paying the $10,000 weekly for strike relief.

COMMONS APPROVED TRADE AGREEMENT

House Quickly Passed Bill to Ratify Treaty With Australia

Ottawa, June 25.—The bill to put into effect the Canadian-Australian Trade Treaty was put through all stages in the House early this morning.

When the bill came up for the second reading a division was called for by Progressive members and the treaty was supported by eighty votes and opposed by forty-two.

NEW TRADE PLANNED Premier King said Canada had been trying for twenty years to establish reciprocal trade relations with Australia.

ORIENTALS INTERESTED The Oriental nations have shown perhaps the deepest interest in the gathering, and some of their keenest literary, political and economic thinkers plan to be present.

IMMIGRATION LAW CHANGES IN U.S.

Washington, June 24.—Revision of the new immigration law to provide a selective system for bringing immigrants to the United States will be sought at the next session of Congress by Secretary Davis of the Labor Department, who has jurisdiction over immigration questions.

Chief among the changes proposed will be one in connection with the contract-labor-provisions of the law, under which aliens are not permitted to come to this country at present if they have promise or contract for employment after reaching these shores.

INSPECTION ABROAD One of the greatest advances the secretary believes possible under the present law was made recently when agents of the State, Treasury and Labor departments were sent abroad to establish in the Irish Free State and later, if possible, in other countries, a system of inspection and examination of aliens abroad.

NEW TRADE-AT-HOME CAMPAIGN IN U.S. Chicago, June 24.—Believing national prosperity depends upon local prosperity and that every town's progress rests on the development of its civic and commercial interests, the Local Loyalty League of America, with headquarters here, has inaugurated a movement to stimulate a hearty trade-at-home community spirit throughout the country.

BETTER TYPE If such aliens were given assurance of work before leaving their homelands, the secretary believes that under proper supervision, such a plan would induce a higher type of foreigner to take up citizenship here.

United States labor, however, the secretary insists, must be given complete protection, work being offered to prospective immigrants only after it is found that there is no available American labor for the places to be filled.

It is to this end that the secretary proposes to maintain agents of the Immigration Bureau abroad, much after the method of maintaining commercial attaches in foreign lands.

These agents would be kept advised under the secretary's plan of the labor needs of industry in this country, and from the list of prospective immigrants in the hands of the immigration at the best available men abroad would be picked and brought to this country.

CANADA'S PLACE IN WORLD TRADE

THE STATISTICS OF CANADA'S TRADE SHOW THAT THIS DOMINION HAS BECOME A GREAT WORLD TRADER AND IS ON THE HIGH ROAD TO ACTUAL DOMINATION AS A WORLD FOOD PROVIDER.

The statistics of Canada's trade show that this Dominion has become a great world trader and is on the high road to actual domination as a world food provider. This very satisfactory condition is emphasized by the fact that there will be no exportable surplus of wheat in the United States this year, while other food commodities which our neighbor to the south has been in the habit of supplying to Britain and Europe generally are fast dwindling in export volume.

There is in this alone the promise of good prices for the Canadian farmer and upon his prosperity industrial development and expansion very largely depend. It is worth noting, also, that notwithstanding the smaller crop of last year, the exports of agricultural products exceeded in value those of the previous fiscal year by more than $12,000,000, the actual figures being $443,298,000 and $430,932,000 respectively.

SHOULD BE FAIR

There is a decided difference between presenting the news—all the news while it is news—of a matter of public interest, especially when it has to do with the administration of justice, and dangerous speculation without full knowledge of details which a normal process of law observance does not permit the Crown to disclose.

Some books are to be read, others to be chewed and directed.

—Francis Bacon.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON WORRY

WORRY is waste of effort. You are going to need all the strength you have to fight the real battles of life, and the strength you put forth in worry is that much waste. It is steam gone to waste and out into thin air when it might have been employed in the engine.

It is well to ask ourselves the value or need of any thought. If it can do us no good, why should we entertain it?

We cannot afford to indulge in worry. It is an extravagant habit. It is said that nine-tenths of the things we worry about do not happen.

Grenville Kleiser says that worries are especially of two kinds; of things you cannot help, and of things you can help. If you can help them, why not do it, and if you cannot help them, why worry?

Worry is not so wicked in itself as it is an unnecessary waste of energy. If we would engage all our faculties in doing something that should have good results, we would have no time left to worry.

Kleiser gives this recipe for curing worry. He tells us when we think a feeling of depression is coming over us to take a quick bath, stretch on the bed, and relax the entire body. Take deep abdominal breaths, raise first one arm and then the other, and repeat the exercise until you feel relaxed. We have thoroughly relaxed the body, we should call to mind some happy incident, and dwell upon it.

The best substitute for worries about happy and cheerful thoughts for those that are depressing, the more worry will find no room in us and we shall acquire a cheerful disposition.

Worry is really care that comes in to fill up a vacuum. Its cause is the lack of energy to solve the directions. Therefore, the more creative energy we exercise and the more powerful thoughts we think, the less room will worry have to invade us.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON WORRY

WORRY is waste of effort. You are going to need all the strength you have to fight the real battles of life, and the strength you put forth in worry is that much waste. It is steam gone to waste and out into thin air when it might have been employed in the engine.

It is well to ask ourselves the value or need of any thought. If it can do us no good, why should we entertain it?

We cannot afford to indulge in worry. It is an extravagant habit. It is said that nine-tenths of the things we worry about do not happen.

Grenville Kleiser says that worries are especially of two kinds; of things you cannot help, and of things you can help. If you can help them, why not do it, and if you cannot help them, why worry?

Worry is not so wicked in itself as it is an unnecessary waste of energy. If we would engage all our faculties in doing something that should have good results, we would have no time left to worry.

Kleiser gives this recipe for curing worry. He tells us when we think a feeling of depression is coming over us to take a quick bath, stretch on the bed, and relax the entire body. Take deep abdominal breaths, raise first one arm and then the other, and repeat the exercise until you feel relaxed. We have thoroughly relaxed the body, we should call to mind some happy incident, and dwell upon it.

The best substitute for worries about happy and cheerful thoughts for those that are depressing, the more worry will find no room in us and we shall acquire a cheerful disposition.

REFUSED TO ACCEPT CHANGES IN BILL

Commons Sent Home Bank Depositors' Relief Measure Back to Senate

Ottawa, June 24.—The Home Bank Depositors' Relief Bill is once more before the Senate. The Commons last night by a vote of 151 to 19 declined to accept the amendments made to the original House bill by the Senate.

Sixteen Conservatives, led by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, and three Progressives constituted the opposition to the motion of Hon. J. A. Robb that the Commons disagree with the Senate on the amendments. All the rest of the members who were in their seats supported the Government motion, except Hon. Edmond Bristol, Conservative, Toronto Centre, who stated his belief that he was in favour of voting on the question, being a depositor.

The Liberal members voted solidly with the Government, as well as the majority of the Progressives, including Hon. Forke, their leader.

Premier King said the Government had no intention of shelving its bill for reimbursement of Home Bank deposits. He stated that the bill is a constitutional matter.

The Premier declined to say what the Government would do if the Senate should refuse to change its decision after receiving the resolution from the Commons and considering the reasons given.

In presenting his motion Mr. Robb gave the following reasons why the House should disagree with Senate amendments to the bill:

1. Because the said amendments, which consist in changing the title and adding a preamble as well as new clauses, are foreign to the bill passed by the House on June 20, 1925, the said preamble setting out the reasons for the bill.

2. Because the amendments, which consist in changing the title and adding a preamble as well as new clauses, are foreign to the bill passed by the House on June 20, 1925, the said preamble setting out the reasons for the bill.

3. Because Clause "A" added to the bill provides for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the organization of the public debt, thereby entailing a large expenditure which the Senate has no right to make.

4. Because it is provided by Clause 7 of the said bill as passed by the House of Commons that the bill shall be read a second time on the day after it is introduced.

5. Because the title, principle, policy and economy of the said bill as passed by the House have been completely nullified and the action of the Senate in the premises is contrary to the constitution and against the principle of British parliamentary practice.

6. Because the House of Commons, adhering to the British North America Act and the fundamental principle embodied in it, has no right to initiate or regulate the voting of all laws and supplies granted by Parliament, and it has never acknowledged the right of the Senate to make amendments to money bills.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen took exception to the reasons stated by Mr. Robb.

HEALTH & DISEASE

Canada's Fight Against Venereal Diseases

During the war the great general public in most countries became unpleasantly aware of the prevalence of venereal disease and were suddenly aroused to a sense of responsibility for its prevention.

Those in authority were much concerned with its economic aspect or rather with its incapacitating effect on a great number of men who otherwise would have been available for useful military duty.

Investigation showed, however, that venereal disease was common enough in any civilized community to be responsible for a great many of the physically unfit and diseased, which hamper or characterize our civilization. As a consequence of this City Engineer Preston stated this morning that there is no foundation for complaints by Spanish as to the pressure maintained by the city in the watermain serving Spanish. "The pressure is the same as last year," Mr. Preston asserted, and declared that he had made personal examinations and tests to satisfy himself. "If the Spanish records show that last year they were receiving a greater pressure than this year, their readings must have been erroneous," he said.

REALTORS PLAN TO START FIGHT ON SUCCESSION DUTY

C. H. Harrison Urges Prompt Steps to Make Province First in Abolition Claude L. Harrison, city prosecutor, addressed the Real Estate Board at today's luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce, upon succession duty and the benefits to follow abolition. The time has come for us to move and become the first Province in Canada to abolish succession duty taxation forever, he said, telling of the success of residents and property holders of Florida who have experienced since abolishing succession duty taxes. Mr. Harrison asserted "the only way to let the realtors and the people of the Province, to reap the full benefits British Columbia must be the first Province, and thereby become the success of a more prosperous Canada and North America." He pointed out that the Government is only satisfied with cash in settlement of succession taxes, and the realtors are able to produce the large sums required from big estates. Mr. Harrison was confident that the Provincial Government is in a receptive mood and if well supported protests against the tax are made, he believed succession duties in British Columbia would be abolished at the next session of the Legislature. Chairman Bridgman reported that a recent succession duty discussion, in Vancouver, had greatly surprised the mainline representatives attending the meeting. The session had been attended by twenty delegates, the five from Victoria doing all the talking. The Vancouver people apparently being without information of the effect of succession duty. James Forman urged that, if the tax was not abolished, the claims of the Crown should not come before the tax claims of the municipality where-in lands concerned are located. He quoted the city's experience in the Quaghtott estate as a case in point, and a very great injustice to the city and the taxpayers. Alderman Rod agreed, declaring the Quaghtott and Parshalle estates alone have owed the city between them $200,000, and to settle these claims the city has had to buy property to that value from the estates, being in no need of such additional lands. "This is an opportunity for the Province; this tax is levied in all the other provinces; let us take it off and reap benefits similar to those harbored by Florida," he said. The realtors will write the Law Society to support the campaign for abolition of succession duties.

PIONEER PASSES Shreveport, La., June 24—Eight months of wedded bliss had been shattered by tragedy for Mrs. George Wray Gill, twenty-year-old secretly wedded bride. Her husband, twenty-three years old, junior law student at Loyola University, New Orleans, is in jail charged with having killed his wife's former sweetheart, Robert Read, Centenary College student. And she is being held as an accessory to the crime. "Annoyances" to Mrs. Gill caused the tragedy, so they say. Clad in a bathing suit and sitting in a row boat, Mrs. Gill saw the principal of her double college romance fight it out in shoulder-deep water, at Pleasureville, a bathing resort on Old River. She saw them hammering each other—she saw Bob Read winning a victory over the man who had attacked her to avenge the "annoyances" to his bride. Then Mrs. Gill jumped into the water to separate the combatants, she says. But investigators say she jumped into the water to help her man. Two days later Read's body was taken from the water. Gill confessed, "Sure, I went there to meet Bob Read and thrash him to protect the honor of my wife, but I was astonished to learn of his death. I thought he would be able to get out of the water himself."

PLANNED DUEL It was dusk, Wednesday, June 10, when the three met at the duel scene. Gill says Read phoned his wife, in Shreveport, to meet him at the rendezvous, under a threat to "kill something on her to her husband." Authorities, however, say Mrs. Gill with her husband standing by her side, telephoned Read. When the two boats arrived at the selected spot Mrs. Gill introduced her husband to Read. "I've come to settle with you," Gill said, and the battle was on. "We fought in the water until I thought Read had enough," Gill says. "I was exhausted and dazed myself. My wife and I rowed away. We thought Read could get out himself." The coroner, Dr. H. W. Paul, says the wounds on Read's head were not serious enough in themselves to cause death. The blows may have stunned Read, causing death by drowning, or he may have been held under the water until unconscious. "Which of the two, Gill or his bride, struck Read on the head, causing cuts and abrasions of the scalp, may never be determined, for Mrs. Gill will not have to testify. All three principals are socially prominent and the two men were popular and highly esteemed in their respective colleges. Mrs. Gill, before her marriage, was a student at Centenary. There she began to "crush" her. It seemed fitting that Read, an idolized football hero, should win the girl's hand. ANOTHER ROMANCE Destiny, however, decreed another romance, and when the girl visited New Orleans she met Gill. A brief courtship and they were married, both promising to keep their wedding a secret until Gill graduated in law. Although the secret became known, Read did not cease his attentions. Mrs. Gill says. Now the girl of two college romances is a pawn of fate, along with her husband, the having been arrested and technically charged with murder.

Times Book Review LITERARY NOTES Theodosia Pearce, a Canadian girl who is blind, deaf and lame, has written a novel entitled "The Greater Love." This is Miss Pearce's first novel and it is said to be a work of great beauty. It will be published shortly.

Many who know Sir Johnson Forbes-Robertson as a great actor do not know that he is a portrait painter of no little ability as well, and is a member of the Royal Academy of Arts. In his autobiography, "A Player Under Three Reigns," he writes: "It was Rossetti who, seeing some efforts of mine in oil color at my father's house, advised him to let me take up painting, and at the age of sixteen I was sent to Heathcote's in Newman Street, to draw from the antique to the end that I might compete for the studentship at the Royal Academy. In the course of about a year my drawings were accepted and I became a student at the R.A., and had the advantage of the best training in art that England could afford. And although Sir Johnson turned to the stage as his profession his training at the Royal Academy not only resulted in many fine portraits, but in a bond of sympathy with such artists as Millet, Whistler, Sargent and Leighton.

Forbes-Robertson has been called the most human, the most natural and, in temperament, the most lovable of all Hamlets of his time. In "A Player Under Three Reigns," he tells of many interesting experiences he had while playing the famous role. "A curious incident once took place in the graveyard scene," he writes. "We had come to the entrance of the funeral procession and, Ophelia being duly laid in the grave, the Queen proceeded to scatter flowers with the words, 'Sweet to the sweet, farewell,' over Ophelia, when there was the most amazing sight, for no sooner had the flowers fallen into the grave than they flew up high above the heads of the actors! The flowers, which were made of tissue paper, were blown up by a draught caused by the heating apparatus."

Lanky Irishman Is Low Man In First Rounds At Troon

Moses O'Neill Scored 146 For 36 Holes, One Better Than Boomer of Paris

Magnificent Recoveries by Havers and Taylor; James Braid Passes

Troon, June 24 (Canadian Press Cable)—Moses O'Neill, of the Robin Hood Club, Dublin, and former Irish champion, led the list of qualifiers in the second and final qualifying round of the British open golf championship yesterday when he turned in a card of 146 for the 36 holes. There were 202 entrants for the championship which will be played Thursday and Friday at Prestwick course in seventy-two holes of medal play.

FEATURES OF ROUND

The features of the qualifying round were the magnificent recovery of Arthur Havers and the veteran J. H. Taylor, who, when play started, appeared to have little chance, but later showed fine fighting spirit.

Havers took a long time to recover. He looked hopeless when he turned in a 39, but played the final six holes magnificently in 22. Cyril Tolley was disappointing.

Including among those who qualified are all the renowned American players, the Frenchman, Arnold Massey, and all the notable Britishers except George Gadd and James Braid, the professionals.

Numbered among the fallen was that grand old man of golf, James Braid, who is remembered by a former generation for his wonderful play and his many championships. The inexorable influence of Father Time was responsible more than anything for the failure of the veteran golfer.

"My eyes are getting weak," he said. "I can not judge the distance of the flag as well as I used to." Braid's scores were 79 and 80, which left him one stroke outside of the selected field.

Troon, Scotland, June 24.—Moses O'Neill, a lanky Irishman from the Robin Hood club of Dublin, produced the lowest score in the British open golf championship yesterday when he turned in a card of 146 for the first round on Monday and 75 yesterday. Only one stroke behind him was the professional of the St. Cloud Club, near Paris, Aubrey Boomer.

With only two exceptions every prominent British professional played well enough to get in with the survivors. The only notable failures were James Braid, several times titleholder, and George Gadd, the professional of the fashionable Roehampton Club.

All the well-known foreigners are also among those who qualified.

Montreal, June 24.—In the last race Miss Fortune was the fastest and paid $10 on a $1 ticket.

The results were: First race, claiming, $500, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Venus won; Dr. T. S. Dabney, second; Roy Constance, third. Time, 1:16.

Second race, claiming, $300, three-year-olds and up, six furlongs—Warrington won; Lady Ben, second; Blue Brush, third. Time, 1:16.

WORLD'S GREATEST WOMAN GOLFER TO RETIRE FROM GAME

JOYCE WETHERED

London, June 25.—The Daily Express says that Miss Joyce Wethered, British women's golf titleholder, has decided to quit championship play because she is tired of it.

The paper quotes her as saying: "I am stopping playing simply because I choose to. I am tired of it for the time being. There is no mystery about it. I am not going to emigrate or marry. I have simply exercised a woman's prerogative of doing something without the slightest regard for what anybody thinks and because I want to please myself."

The Phillies started in earnest to make up for eleven straight defeats in the West by winning twice yesterday from Boston, 2-7 and 7-3. Aided by the hitting of Brooks and Adams, the Chicago Cubs won from Cincinnati 4-5.

Washington contributed to the Yankees' slump toward the cellar by landing hard on Shocker and Ferguson to win 8-7 in the initial meeting of these games. The Athletics kept their distance from the Senators by rallying in the ninth to score all their runs for a 3-2 victory.

Boston, June 24.—Philadelphia took both games of a double header from the Boston Braves yesterday by scores of 7 to 3 and 9 to 7. Barnes blew up in the third inning of the opener in which the visitors scored five times. Ryan was hit hard in the eighth of the second game and the Phillies continued their attack on Genewick.

Carl Mays made his first appearance of the season for Cincinnati when he replaced Donohue in the seventh inning. The next inning he was backed out of the box when Chicago put over the winning run. The laffing of Adams and Brooks and the fielding of Pittlinger were features. Grimm was mugged and relayed; Spriggs Woscher, back stroke, free style, medley and relay; Gust Jarvis, breast stroke; Neva Bromfield, free style, back stroke and breast stroke, and Club Spield, free style.

Several other members of the club may journey to Victoria to enter competitions but as yet they have not been chosen.

AMERICAN LEAGUE Washington, June 24.—The Senators batted out an 8 to 1 victory over the Yanks yesterday, rallies in the seventh and eighth innings netting seven runs. The Yanks made only six hits, and Ruetter was credited for his third victory of the season over New York.

Strange Case of Hoyt Who Has Been Unable To Win Ball Game This Year

WAITE HOYT

One of the greatest pitchers in baseball yet unable to win a game during the first eight weeks of play. That is the peculiar position in which Waite Hoyt, star right hander of the New York Yankees, finds himself.

The inability of Hoyt to win consistently is one of the several reasons why the much-feared Yankees have been trailing in the second division since the opening of the season.

American League batters will tell you that no pitcher in the league has a better fast ball than Waite Hoyt. His change of pace is most deceptive. His fast-breaking curve is very puzzling.

Included in Hoyt's pitching repertoire is a slow curve. It seems every pitcher has his hobby. Using the slow curve, usually in the pinch, is Hoyt's.

Opposing batters say that Hoyt's slow curve is the least effective of all his deliveries. Knowing his faith in such a ball, they look for it in the pinch.

They do say that Hoyt would be 25 per cent more effective if he eliminated entirely the slow curve from his repertoire. However, that is just part of the story.

Waite Hoyt, boasting perhaps the best fast ball in the major leagues and a dazzling change of pace, during the first two months of play in the American League has been unable to win a single ball game.

Even more surprising is the fact that he hasn't been able to finish a game. Ordinarily with the season one-third over, a pitcher with Hoyt's stuff should and would have from six to ten victories to his credit.

Certainly a jinx seems to be on Hoyt's trail this season. In at least a half dozen games he has appeared certain of victory only to have some tough break deprive him of it. Either he has lost the game or some other pitcher has received credit for the victory.

Just to illustrate the workings of the jinx: In a recent game with St. Louis, two out in the ninth and New York leading, 5 to 2, it looked as if Hoyt would surely go over a winner.

If Hoyt has one fault, it is an inclination to grow careless: With two down, the next batter hit weakly to Hoyt. He played the ball rather hot and it was just about at the Equator. He should have been the third out, ending the game.

CAUSED HIS REMOVAL The next St. Louis batter hit a home run. That made the score 5-4. The following batter hit another home run, the score was tied. Hoyt was removed and Penock finished. The Yanks won the game in the 10th inning.

However, a bit of carelessness had wasted eight innings of superb pitching. Some idea of Hoyt's effectiveness is shown by the figures of the past four years. Once he won 17 games, once 18 and twice he scored 19 victories.

The marvelous score of Mrs. Hutchings in the qualifying round, which establishes a new women's record for the course, follows: 4 4 5 3 3 4 5 6 3 9 In... 5 3 3 4 4 6 4 5 3 9 7 8

In the second chucker, the British team tied the score at two goals all, but Captain Peters P. Rodes soon added another for America, making the count 3 to 2.

W. S. McCreery tied the score during the third period, each team having made three goals.

C.P.R. Anxious To Capture To-night's Battle With U.C.T.

Victory Will Give Them Lead in Amateur Ball League; Game Starts 6.15 o'Clock

With the leadership of the league in their hands should they win, the C.P.R. ball team will make a great attempt to chalk up a victory over the Commercial Travelers in their senior amateur ball game to-night. The battle will be staged at the Royal Athletic Park, starting at 6.15 o'clock.

With the youngsters of the league, the Sons of Canada, hitting a fast pace the railroaders are finding the going far harder than last year. At present the Natives and the C.P.R. are tied for the league leadership, with the Travelers in third place, one game behind the leaders. Should the railroaders win over the sample men to-night they will secure the leadership, but will have played one more game than the Sons.

Last time these teams met the C.P.R. came out on the long end of a 12-4 contest after a wonderful exhibition. In this game the Travelers were minus "Hap" Gandy, their star third sacker, and Eddie Newman, who holds down the keystone bag. Both men will be in the game to-night and the Travelers are confident of winning.

EXPERT MARKSMEN GUARDED PLAYERS IN DANGEROUS SCENES

Wild animals, as actors in motion pictures, are always an uncertain quantity. Should you investigate closely in film circles, you would find more than one extra man or woman who bears the scars of his or her contact with beasts before the camera, and several stars, as well.

Such precautions were taken during the filming of First National's new and gigantic version of the Stenkowski classic, "Quo Vadis."

The lions charge the Christians, presumably reading them to shreds. In making this scene, a score of expert marksmen, gripping automatic pistols beneath their robes, were stationed among the Christians.

As a further protection, each human player was fully insured, not only against loss of life, but physical injury during the filming of the sequence.

Emil Jannings heads the huge cast in the picture, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre all this week.

Castoria Heiress Becomes Wealthiest Broadway Show Girl

LUCILLE MORRISON

New York, June 24.—If Lucille Morrison were not the wealthiest show girl on Broadway, she would be a personage of interest just now anyhow because of her reported engagement to the grandson of the famous Oscar Hammerstein.

And even if they do marry—as seems probable in spite of denials—Broadway is to retain her for its adornment, for she says nothing can induce her to give up a stage career.

Miss Morrison is one of the three grandchildren of "Chas. H. Fletcher" whose signature identified that nursery elixir for which all discerning children are reputed to cry.

Upon Miss Morrison's significant finger gleams a solitary diamond of magnitude that is startling even in this vicinity where chorus girls occasionally dress like queens.

"No, Mr. Hammerstein did not give me this ring," she insists. "It isn't an engagement ring. I've had it a long time. I am not going to agree to any such rumor."

After she finished at Miss Mason's school up the Hudson, Miss Morrison lived for a few years the typical life of a wealthy society girl.

The reports received for 1924 were segregated according to the areas in which employing firms were carrying on their operations. A calculation made on this basis showed that 36.65 per cent of our pay roll is located in Greater Vancouver, which for this purpose was taken to include the city of Vancouver, North Vancouver, West Vancouver, Port Moody and Burnaby, with which also were grouped the Queen Charlottes and the northern islands, claimed 45.02 per cent, and Greater Vancouver, 28,895,230.99.

Greater Vancouver ..... $ 54,449,747.55
Rest of Mainland ..... 67,992,547.24
Vancouver Island ..... 28,895,230.99
$151,037,515.20

Of the twenty-five groups in which the industries of the Province are divided, sixteen show an increased pay roll as compared with 1923, and nine a decrease. Chief among the latter is the important industry of lumbering. This industry enjoyed a spell of marked prosperity in 1923 and the early part of 1924, but in the month of May it was struck by a sudden wave of depression, the results of which are only now gradually disappearing. A number of camps and mills were closed or were operated for a time with less than a normal crew, and during the Summer months the unusual conditions were presented of some thousands of lumber workers in the Province being thrown out of employment, though some, who were prepared to accept other occupations, did not long remain unemployed.

COAL MINE REDUCTION

A reduction by nearly $2,000,000.00 of the pay roll in the coal-mining industry was caused chiefly by the strike in the Crow's Nest area, the mines being virtually closed down for more than half the year. It is encouraging to hear, however, that since the final settlement of the dispute in December last, production at the mines has been on a bigger scale than before.

Sixteen of the twenty-five industrial groups increased their pay roll during 1924, and these increases were more than sufficient to offset the reductions recorded by the basic industries of lumbering and coal mining. An advance more than a million and a half was made in the metal trades, various branches of this industrial group, such as machine building, blacksmithing, boiler making and garages all taking a step forward. Metal mining followed up the notable gain of over two millions in 1923 by adding another million to its pay roll in 1924, and present indications are very favorable for a further gain in the present year. The progress made in 1924 was mainly in the Southern Interior, but more recently certain prospects in the northern part of the Province have been receiving a larger amount of attention.

SHIPPING ADVANCES

The industry of coast shipping moves forward from year to year with rapid strides. Last year the gain in its pay roll was nearly a million and a half, notwithstanding the fact that longshoring and stevedoring activities fell off somewhat owing to smaller shipments of wheat and lumber. It would appear that a larger number of smaller craft are entering the coastal carrying trades and are finding business to be done. While important additions are being made to the coast fleet of some of the larger companies, there was also an increased amount of building and contracting going on in the Province, as is shown by the addition of a million and a quarter to the pay roll of the contracting group. Another good feature is, that although lumbering as a whole had a quieter year, the manufacturers of lumber products, such as boxes, trunks, suitcases, and plywood, showed a better record than in 1923. The smelters of the Province also had out nearly half a million more in wages, and the public utilities group were nearly $400,000 ahead, while in the building and repairing of ships and boats our employers picked up enough additional business to call for the payment to their wage earners of an extra quarter of a million.

The degree of fluctuation in employment last year was less than usual. In the month of January the 2,566 firms sending in returns had 58,677 men in their employ, and four months later, in May, the number had increased to 68,443. For the next five months there was little change, and then came a sharp decline from 67,967 in October to 60,232 in December.

NATIONALITY OF WORKERS

The countries of origin of our industrial workers are shown in another section of the report. Last year 36.42 per cent of our industrial workers were native Canadians, and 31.42 per cent, were of British birth, which figures compare with 34.55 per cent of Canadians and 30.29 per cent of British in 1923. If we add to these the relatively small number of natives of the United States and Australia, we find that 32.33 per cent of our workers were natives of English-speaking countries, compared with 29.61 per cent, in 1923. Grouping together the Chinese, Hindus and Japanese, we arrive at a proportion of 11.97 per cent of the total who are natives of Asiatic countries, as against 13.85 per cent, in the previous year.

This percentage of 11.97 of Oriental workers is decidedly the smallest for any recent year. In 1918, 20.37 per cent of our industrial workers were of Asiatic origin. In the following year they fell to 18.35 per cent, and in later years the percentage was 15.64 in 1920, 14.45 in 1921, 14.61 in 1922, 13.85 in 1923, and now 11.97. The balance of our workers are mostly from Continental Europe, their percentage being 14.56, compared with 15.45 in 1923. This percentage may also have been affected by the condition of the lumbering industry, which draws largely upon the Scandinavian immigrant for its labor. However, the fact that immigration generally has been at a very much reduced rate in recent years as compared with the years before the war, will no doubt make it increasingly necessary for employers to utilize the services of native Canadians as they arrive at the industrial age, and of natives of Great Britain who come out with their parents and have grown up in this country. So far as these comparisons throw a light upon the probable course of racial development in this Province, they do not afford much scope for the arguments of the pessimist.

ORIENTALS IN INDUSTRY

Dividing our industrial workers into groups as above referred to, the proportions for the last two years are as follows:

1923—Natives of English-speaking countries, 69.61 per cent; natives of Continental Europe, 15.45 per cent; natives of Asiatic countries, 13.85 per cent; from other countries, or nationality not stated, 1.09 per cent.

1924—Natives of English-speaking countries, 72.33 per cent; natives of Continental Europe, 14.56 per cent; natives of Asiatic countries, 11.97 per cent; from other countries, or nationality not stated, 1.14 per cent.

More than half of our industrial workers of the Oriental races are engaged in the lumbering industry, but in 1923, there was 19.23 per cent, a lower percentage of Asiatics employed in this group. Thus in the logging camps 6.70 per cent of the workers employed were Orientals, compared with 7.98 per cent in the previous year. On logging railways the percentage fell from 14.95 in 1923 to 14.12 in 1924; in planing, mill work, 23.04 to 21.37; in sawmills from 33.95 to 33.53; and in shingle mills from 56.13 to 51.66. Taking the general totals for the whole of the lumbering industry, the percentage for the two years showed a fall from 22.34 to 21.78. In other industries which employ an appreciable number of Orientals the proportion showed a decline, as in coal mining from 11.79 to 10.75 per cent, in fish canneries from 43.83 to 31.38 per cent, and in pulp and paper mills from 30.14 to 23.32 per cent.

WAGES HIGHER

The wages paid during 1924 were, on the whole, slightly higher than those in 1923, an average increase being shown in fourteen groups and a decrease in eleven. By pooling the figures for all industries the average industrial weekly wage for adult males is shown to be $28.29, compared with $28.05 in 1923 and $27.29 in 1922. An interesting feature is brought out by a comparison between the tables of classified weekly wage-rates for the two years. In the lower-paid classes of adult male labor, the men receiving less than $18 a week, the total is 1073 more than in 1923. In the classes receiving what might be called medium rates of pay, between $18 and $30 a week, the total is 2,654 lower, but there was again an increase of 2,954 in the classes of highly-paid labor with weekly wages of $30 and upwards. The lessened activity in the lumbering industries would partly account for the decrease in the middle class, while the increased pay-roll in such industries as coast shipping, smelting, and the building trades would bring in more employees of the highly-paid class. From these figures it can be seen that there was less demand last year for the common laborer or semi-skilled worker, and a better field for the highly-qualified skilled worker receiving upwards of $5 per day. At the opposite end of the scale, however, we have a movement, quite perceptible though not so marked as the other two, to increase the proportion of unskilled workers receiving less than $3 a day. An average of 52.9 working hours a week is shown by the statistics relating to hours of work. As compared with the previous year's general average, the working week for 1924 shows a reduction of some fifty-two minutes. This, it may be mentioned, was before the coming into operation of the Hours of Work Act, but very probably there was a desire on the part of many employers to bring their working hours into harmony with the spirit of the Act before it came into force.

BIG FIRMS INCREASE

For the first time in 1921 the department gave the number of industrial firms in the Province whose returns to this department showed a pay roll of more than $100,000. In that year there were 118 such firms. In the following year the number had increased to 164, and for 1923 there were exactly 200. For the year 1924, now under review, there is a slight drop to 194, the lumbering industry, which in 1923 had 100 such firms and in 1924 only ninety-two, accounting for this set-back. Twelve of these large firms had a pay roll of over $1,000,000, two of them being over $2,000,000, and one over $3,000,000. No account has been taken in this list of any public authorities, Dominion, Provincial or Municipal, or of the transcontinental railways, wholesale and retail merchants, and deep-sea shipping. The list of 196 includes, in addition to the ninety-two lumbering firms, fourteen engaged in manufacture of food products, thirteen in coast shipping, eleven in coal mining, nine in metal mining, eight each in the metal trades and public utilities groups, five in shipbuilding, four each in the production of building materials, printing and publishing, and pulp and paper manufacturing, two each in explosives and chemicals, laundries, cleaning and dyeing, miscellaneous trades and industries, smelting, and the manufacture of wood (N.E.S.), and one each in breweries, house furnishing, manufacture of jewelry, oil refining, and paint manufacture. This list indicates that the Province is firmly establishing its position in the industrial world.

CLEVER GROUPS

When the Saxon villagers were carrying out their preliminary comedy work the Arena rang with the delighted laughter of the court ladies, and gentlemen, seated around the auditorium awaiting their cue to form procession.

Wrestling, brawling, singlestick-work, gypsy dancing and archery are a few of the many incidents staged by this group, and a dramatic moment arises when Robin Hood seizes a lad and prepares to shoot an apple from his head, despite the frightened protests of his mother.

With whirs the villagers are swept out of the way of the procession of courtiers, heralds and men-at-arms with blaring trumpets march into the proceedings, making a brave show behind Vangy Bieby, a most impressive Queen Eleanor. All the artists picked for principal roles by Director Taylor act most naturally.

Queen of Beauty out of hand. L. Bullock-Webster takes the role of Prince John.

REAL SPEAR RUNNING

The tourney commences, and armored knights proceed to run spears against each other with great vigour. After the first trial Ivanhoe wins the right to name the Queen of Beauty. He chooses the Lady Rowena, played by Eileen Allward. He then goes back to the lists to share in a slashing contest with swords. The man who is carried out on horseback reflect the greatest credit upon the training skill of E. E. Carley, his horses rank as actors of no mean order, apparently enjoying the excitement of the contests.

The efficiency with which the leading actors are supported by squires, ladies in waiting, pages and servants, is remarkable when it is recalled that last night was the first time the whole company has operated as a unit, and gives promise of great smoothness when the pageant is presented to the public.

A CLEVER SCENE

The spectacle comes to a dramatic conclusion when King Richard, present at the tourney in the guise of a troubadour, sings a song of England. Maris Hale is the Lion Heart, and makes a powerful appeal. A little old woman, his foster mother, played by Mrs. Cummins, recognizes his voice. In clearest tones, penetrating well above the music, she calls the giant singer as "her little boy, her sweetie." The mocking of the Saxon villagers turns to roars of delight when the Crusading king throws off his wrappings and proceeds to give Prince John a few trenchant words and a promise of hanging. As the distressed Queen Eleanor, pleading for the life of her favorite John, Vangy Bieby is ideal.

In such a great undertaking the sterling work of the many groups is easily lost in the general effect, and it is apparent from the first full rehearsal that many first night patrons will return to later presentations, as the ever-changing and interlocking action provides enough entertainment, at any moment, for half-a-dozen dramatic or comedy shows of the ordinary type.

MAJOR W. F. C. TAYLER clad in chain mail directs the progress of the tournament of the Pageant, wherein armored knights battle with sword and lance on horseback.

MEDICAL MEN IN RURAL AREAS AIDED

Postgraduate Lectures in Canada Provided For by Insurance Company's Gift

Regina, June 24 (Canadian Press)—A grant of $10,000 to carry on postgraduate extension lecture courses throughout the length and breadth of Canada from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada was accepted by the Canadian Medical Association Council here yesterday.

According to the provisions of the grant, the Association will control and manage the details of the organization and the development of the service, which will be chiefly directed toward helping rural medical men to keep abreast of the advance in medicine.

Through this grant distinguished medical men, chiefly specialists in some particular branch of medicine or surgery, will be sent to the various parts of Canada to conduct lectures before the rural doctors.

A report on medical education submitted by N. J. McLean, Winnipeg, stressed the need for the course in medical schools to be directed towards turning out general practitioners, fully qualified to render a public service, rather than purely scientific men.

The discussion of medical education and allied problems and the development of postgraduate work occupied the greater part of the sessions yesterday.

WEDDING BELLS—Herbert C. Hoover Jr., son of the Secretary of Commerce, and Miss Margaret Watson of San Francisco will be married to-morrow at Memorial Church, Stanford University. The wedding is the outgrowth of a college romance. Secretary and Mrs. Hoover will attend the wedding.

ANNUAL MEETING OF VICTORIA COMITE

President Gives Interesting Talk of Visit to Paris

At the annual meeting of the Victoria Comite France-Canada, held at Seabank, the usual reports were presented and business transacted. The officers are: President, Major F. V. Longstaff; secretary, Mr. G. H. Gardiner, 1273 Hampshire Road; treasurer and librarian, Mr. H. S. Henderson, The Victoria Book and Stationery Co., 1002 Government Street; corresponding secretary, Madame Sanderson.

The fine library of French books is at the Victoria Book and Stationery Co., where new members can be taken on by the treasurer.

The president in his address, said: "It is rash to generalize about national characteristics, but French Art has certain qualities which, though they are sometimes in abeyance, are never far from being active power, which shows itself in careful planning and a sense of proportion, fine and skilled workmanship, and in a portraiture of a psychological insight that distinguishes French literature. Lastly, however revolutionary may be the experiments of new schools of art, reason is always at hand to resume control."

TRADITIONS—"In France and Canada there exist traditions and educational methods which differ profoundly from each other, but in preparation as training became easier, people realized gradually the usefulness of continuing the education acquired in one country by that given in another. It is generally admitted that Canadians began to study in France before French people came to study in Canada.

"The more France and Canada know each other the more inevitable it will be that they will be friends. Many young Canadians in Victoria would find it of great value to visit a foreign country such as France, if only for six or eight months, before settling down to the routine of life, and if they could not do this, I suggest they should take advantage of the facilities afforded them by the use of the fine library of the Victoria Comite. The study of the standard works in this small library will widen their outlook and open to them new sources of relaxation and entertainment."

"It is not only words of friendship we want between the British Commonwealth and France; it is common co-operation in the daily affairs of the world, in which the two countries are made complementary one to the other, together to be a great guarantee for the peace and security of the world—and which uphold the democratic character of our Western civilization."

"Recently the British Ambassador in Paris, the Marquis of Crevecoeur, spoke on the subject of getting to know our neighbors and on British stiffness. He stated there were some stupidities in connection with this lack of comprehension, however, which were many times more annoying than actual offences, and which it was difficult to forgive."

FLAGRANT MISTAKES.—"Among the most flagrant of these mistakes, which I hasten to denounce, is that which wrongly attributes a spirit of militarism to the French. In my capacity as a diplomatic representative, it is my privilege to personally inspect the leaders of the French Army. Do we find in any of these illustrious soldiers a craving for the renewal of fighting? Marshal Foch will excuse me if I recall a meeting of the Conference of Ambassadors, last January when our President, M. Jules Cambon, spoke with his usual savoir faire and courtesy of our work during 1924 and of our hopes for the dawning year. Marshal Foch, who followed him, simply remarked: 'For my part, I like conferences, and I do not like war.' Although that declaration, so clearly expressed, may excite a respectful smile, it was, nevertheless, inconceivably true."

"Having made these few general remarks, I will now deal with the visit of last November when Mrs. Longstaff and myself made a seven-day trip to Paris. 'I first must acknowledge the many attentions which the staff of the head office in Paris paid to our desires both before and during the visit. Before arriving in Paris we informed the Office of our desire to see something of the Official French Primary Schools. We only had time to visit one for boys and one for girls, both on the Rue Dussoubs. In addition we saw over the Protestant School of the Church at Avenue de la Grande Armee."

GOVERNMENT SCHOOLS.—"In the Government Schools it was good to observe that most of the teachers were approaching middle age. The interview with the head master and head mistress in each case was all-job brief. While the material equipment of the two schools would not be considered so complete as in Victoria, yet the apparent wide understanding was made up for by the more matured quality of the teachers and the better control they possessed over their classes. We were informed that in addition to the 'three Rs,' primary instruction comprises very careful teaching of the mother-tongue, the teaching of object lessons, singing,

WITNESSES' FEES

Jurers and witnesses who took part in the sessions of the Victoria Assize Court and who have not yet received their fees in connection with such services are to receive them at the Registry Office in the Courthouse, Bastion Street. The office is in the north-east wing of the building on the first floor.

drawing, handwork, and some history and geography. Moral and civic lessons also are integral parts of the course.

"I devoted one morning to interviewing some of the staff at the head office of France-Canada on the Champs-Elysees. This was mainly devoted to establishing a common ground and in doing so, understand the kind of information headquarters desired the Victoria Comite to send them from time to time. I was glad to hear they were far more active in every way than that in Vancouver City, which they stated was rarely heard from at all."

HEAD OFFICE—"While on the subject of the head office in Paris, I desire to say how much the whole Victoria Comite is indebted to our hard-working honorary secretary, Mr. G. H. Gardiner, who is most regular and diplomatic correspondent with the office in the Champs-Elysees. He also sends regularly the Saturday issue of 'The Victoria Times,' which is much appreciated by the head office, which I think at last realizes our city is on Vancouver Island."

"I must also thank Mr. H. S. Henderson, our honorary treasurer and librarian, for his assistance at all times, and especially for the very splendid care he has given to the fine library which has been built up by gifts from the head office in Paris."

HONOR OF VICTORIA

"One of our chief pleasures while in Paris was being entertained by Mons. Louis Jarry, a Britte dinner on Friday, November 7, at the Restaurant Laurus, Place de la Madeleine, when a few most distinguished and agreeable gentlemen and ladies were invited to meet us. In thanking Mons. Jarry and the company for the honor, I said it was an honor to the City of Victoria, which Mrs. Longstaff and myself represented that evening. I conversed with the gentlemen in turn and the subjects included shipping, geography, Canadian and French politics, universities, travelling in Canada. Here is a list of the guests: M. Dal Piaz, President de la Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, et Mme. Dal Piaz; M. Paul Lefevre, Ambassadeur de France, ancien Ministre de France au Mexique; M. Paul Emile Naggard, ancien Consul General de France au Canada, chef du service des Oeuvres Francaise au Ministere des Affaires Etrangeres; M. Firmin Boz, Directeur de l'Office des Grandes Universites, et Mme. Boz, and Lady Kingsmill of Ottawa."

"I feel it my duty as president, to give you some thoughts I keep with this present year during the work of our Comite. British Columbia has had a longer experience of its present form of Representative Government than France. The Crown Colony of B.C. entered Confederation in July 1871, while the present New Constitution of France dates from 1875. I would suggest that a comparison of the Dominion system of government with its theoretical periods for holding office be made with that of France, so that when we read French news we may be in a better position to prevent misunderstandings by the people of our own city. I must congratulate the Canadian Pacific Railway in having the foresight to bring to our city such a fine building as the Royal Garden, which in its roof is similar to those two well known buildings in Paris, the Grand Palais and the Palais des Beaux Arts."

Alberta Overpaid By the Dominion

Edmonton, June 24.—Half a million dollars overpaid to the Alberta Government on cash subsidy account is the latest development in the relations between the Province and the Dominion. A claim that that effect has come through from Ottawa, and is now in process of negotiation between the two governments. It is no other settlement can be agreed on, the present prospect is that the sum will be deducted from whatever cash payments may still be made from Ottawa to Edmonton. It seems to be the result of a series of clerical errors at Ottawa, the paying end of the line, dating back several years, namely, 1915, 1916, and 1917, and the mistake was not detected until recent investigations and audits in connection with the natural resources settlement brought them to light. The total is slightly in excess of $500,000. The errors were made in computing the population of the province for subsidy payments.

ATTACK MADE ON BRITISH MINISTRY

London, June 24.—The Labor Party has decided to move a vote of censure against the Government for failure to remedy unemployment, and this will probably come up in the Commons Monday. Premier Baldwin, with Right Hon. Austen Chamberlain, Foreign Secretary, and other Ministers received at Downing Street yesterday a deputation representing the Trades Union Congress and the miners' leaders, who discussed the demand for the promotion of trade with Russia as a partial remedy. According to an official statement of the proceedings, the Premier, in his reply, declined to consider nationalizing the mines, believing it would increase the cost of production. He contended Russia had taken more than a small percentage of British trade, but the Government would welcome the return of Russia to the country of nations and Russia's entry into the League of Nations. Mr. Chamberlain, echoing this, said he was quite sure trade with Russia was not fettered with diplomatic considerations.

MINERS RESUME WORK

Calgary, June 24.—Miners at the A.B.C. mine at Drumheller took a vote yesterday, decided to stick with the United Mine Workers of America and returned to work accepting the new scale. It is stated other mines will follow suit. There is still some picketing by the new labor organization, but no trouble.

ASSIZE COURT COMPLETES ITS TRIAL CALENDAR

Harvey McAdam Acquitted in Closing Hours of Session Yesterday

Brought to a close yesterday with an acquittal in the case of Rex vs. McAdam, the Assize Court rose at the completion of one of the most dramatic calendars heard in many years. The Gillis murder trial, marking the close of eight months' detective work on the part of the provincial police, despite voluminous evidence and a strenuous defence, was completed in three and a half days. Three acquittals, one traverse and a withdrawal of another charge completed the session.

After an all day hearing yesterday Harvey McAdam, charged with a statutory offence, was released when the petit jury acquitted him of the charge.

Cases heard at the session just closed included those of Owen B. Baker and Harry Sowash, sentenced to hang for murder; Frank R. Brooks, arson, was released when the Crown entered a stay of prosecution; Brahim Singh, procuring, was acquitted; Mrs. Annie Clauser, perjury, was acquitted; Rex vs. Joe Hatley, charged with receiving stolen goods, was transferred to the Fall term. Captain F. D. Tangueray was exonerated from blame in the Dallas Road fatality when the grand jury found no bill in his case.

NEW ROOMS WILL BE ADDED ON SCHOOL

W. M. Sutton Awarded Contract For Work on Oak Bay High

W. M. Sutton, 798 St. Patrick Street, Oak Bay contractor was awarded the contract to construct two additional rooms to the Oak Bay High School at the meeting of the Oak Bay School Board held last night in the school.

During the past few months the high school has been terribly crowded, and in order to meet the demand the board was forced to use the gymnasium and the lunchroom for classrooms. The two new classrooms have to be completed for use at the beginning of the Fall term in September.

The work will cost $3,041 and the successful tender was the lowest bid. The rooms will be erected on the South end of the school. The heating of the new rooms will be done under a separate tender and these must be in the hands of H. F. Hewitt, the board's secretary, not later than Monday, July 6.

The rooms will be thirty by forty feet in size and will be separated by two rows of lockers. A large number of pupils is expected to attend this Winter, and it is fully anticipated that the rooms will be necessary.

A. K. Eaton, a member of the teaching staff of the High School, was granted a year's leave of absence as he is leaving to attend an Eastern university. The board accepted the resignation of J. L. Burt, another member of the staff.

Twenty-five years ago he was sentenced to six months' imprisonment after conviction of manslaughter in connection with the death of a trapper named McCabe.

SUNDAY CONCERT AT ARENA TO BE MUSICAL TREAT

Mendelssohn's Hymn of Praise Will be Sung by Massed Choirs

Presentation of Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise," at the Arena on Sunday afternoon, will commence sharp at 3 o'clock, and in view of the opinions of music lovers, that this event will be one of the most important entertainments of Carnival week, it is hoped by Conductor Dr. J. E. Hodgson, who will direct the hundreds of chorists, that the audience will be in place well before the hour of commencement.

A full orchestra will be under the direction of Mr. Prescott, and Edward Parsons will officiate at the organ.

The programme will open with the hymn, "The Lord's My Shepherd," and the Hymn of Praise will follow. The first three movements of Mendelssohn's masterpiece are purely instrumental, and are succeeded by remarkable singing and choral effects, given in the following groups:

Symphony, (a) Allegro, (b) Allegretto, (c) Andante; chorus, "All Men, All Things, Praise the Lord"; solo and ladies' chorus, "Praise Thou the Lord"; recitation and solo, "Sing ye Praise," "He Cometh All Your Sorrows"; chorus, "All ye That Cried Unto the Lord"; duet and chorus, "I Waited For the Lord"; solo, "The Sorrows of Death Encompassed Me"; chorus, "The Night is Departing"; chorale, "Let All Men Praise the Lord"; duet, "My Song Shall Be Always Thy Mercy"; final chorus, "Ye Nations! Offer to the Lord—Glory and Might."

The programme will be brought to a conclusion with the following numbers: Hymn, "Nearer My God to Thee"; chorus, "Souls of the righteous"; song and chorus, "Victoria, My Homeland," and God Save the King.

LOGGER KILLED

ASSAULT CHARGE

Drumheller, Alta., June 24.—Lewis McDonald, otherwise known as Kid Burns, leader of the Communists and one of the most active members of the Red Deer Valley district mine workers of Canada, was arrested last evening and charged with assaulting a police officer during the picketing of the A.B.C. mine Tuesday morning.

Peculiar Method of choosing a husband by Portia's father

In the days of Shakespeare's famous heroine, buying and selling were contests of wits. In Venice, haggling and dickering were the vogue. Along the Rialto, sharp practice was the rule. Every purchase of silk or spices was made at the buyer's risk. One had to be a shrewd judge of values and one's fellows to escape trickery.

Portia's father—a merchant—was used to the ideas of guess, luck and accident. So much so, indeed, that it seemed natural to him to entrust the choice of his daughter's husband to three closed caskets and a lucky guess!

Nowadays, we do not transact business blindly—nor leave important decisions to chance. It is not necessary for us to gamble when we buy. Commodities are identified for us by trade-marks. Manufacturers go to the advertising columns to tell us about their products. Merchants describe their merchandise—price, quality and service.

By reading advertisements, we get a knowledge of goods and stores that we can depend on. Advertising reduces chance, in buying, to a minimum.
