

Differences noted between states, cultures and histories in studies and national stories

Commonalities, represented as the core of all regional states, and larger than differences

Areas of difference exist, but rest on the core of regional commonalities