NARBERTH MEN! ATTENTION!

Important Meeting Thursday Evening, This Week, Not a Military Organization

Thursday evening, April 19, an important Town Meeting will be held in Elm Hall at 8 o'clock, to organize the Narberth Unit of the Home Defense Reserve. Every man in Narberth should attend this meeting.

George Wentworth Carr, William DeKrafft and Captain Donaghy will probably address the meeting, and explain the details of the organization, which will be in conformity with the organization effected in Merion Tuesday evening. (Read report of this meeting in another column).

The movement in Narberth was started by Postmaster Edward S. Haws, Mr. B. T. White, Mr. William Pugh, Jr., A. J. Loos and others. These gentlemen, and Dr. R. C. Hoffman, Robert G. Savill, C. P. Cook, attended the Merion meeting.

It should be clearly understood that this is not a military organization. Simply a body of men, from eighteen years of age and upwards, to be in (Continued on Second Page)

ENTHUSIASTIC MERION MEETING

Unit of Home Defense Reserve Organized

Tuesday evening a largely attended meeting was held in Merion, under the auspices of the Merion Civic Association, to form a local unit of the Home Defense Reserve. Mr. Edward Bok, president of the Association, introduced the speakers, including George Westworth Carr, Mr. William DeKrafft, Major Mills and Captain Donaghy, Chief of the Lower Merion Police Department.

Mr. Carr clearly defined the objects of the Reserve, which are in no sense military, but to act as aids to local authorities in preserving order during any contingency that may arise. There is to be nothing of the "tin soldier" element; no military titles nor gingerbread uniforms. The head of each unit is called the director. The director appoints a number of aids, and the members respond to any call that may arise. It is not the idea to have them armed, except with clubs or "night sticks;" members called upon to do patrol duty will do so in pairs. Those who wish instruction in military drill will have a competent instructor, and possibly be armed with regulation rifles.

Mr. William P. Gest was unanimously elected director of the Merion Unit, and nearly every one who attended the meeting signed the application card for membership.

LOCAL BOY SCOUTS

OFFER THEIR SERVICES TO THE COMMUNITY

The last meeting of the Boy Scouts of Troop 1, Narberth, was held on Friday, April 13. The meeting was opened as usual.

Call on Burgess Henry

The Scouts first marched in a body to the home of Burgess George M. Henry and presented him with a letter offering to the community and government their aid, if called upon in case of emergency.

Two new Scouts passed their tenderfoot tests after the Scouts returned to the Y. M. C. A.—Anderson and Ward. The meeting did not really start till then, however. The secretary, that is the troop scribe, read the minutes of the preceding meeting. The patrol reports were then called for, resulting as follows:

Kangaroo Patrol

This patrol holds its meetings every other week and this one happens to be an odd week, so the patrol had nothing to report.

Flying Eagle Patrol

This patrol held its last meeting at the home of Ellsworth Riley with all but one member present.

Seal Patrol

This patrol had its last meeting at the home of Mr. Cole and received two new members. This meeting was a sort of a reorganization meeting and from now on there will be something doing in the Seal Patrol. A meeting was held at the home of Edwin Coggeshall Monday, April 16. All Seals were present but one.

HOW TO TREAT A HUSBAND

Any girl can learn in two short hours that which many a married woman has learned only through years of strenuous experience—and some haven't learned at all. No correspondence school can teach it. Only by witnessing actual demonstrations and thrillingly realistic scenes can this important knowledge be acquired. Therefore, you must secure tickets for—

The editor of Our Town desires to formally salute every member of our local troop of Boy Scouts and congratulate them in pledging their loyalty and support to the community. While the Boy Scouts of America is an institution which is yet in its infancy, its members have on numerous occasions proven their right to public recognition by virtue of efficient service rendered in time of emergency and need. A recent illustration of this was seen at Eddystone last week where the scouts were tested under trying conditions and not found wanting. The training they receive fits them not only for the performance of most of the duties which fall to the lot of the well trained soldier, but also instills into the mind of the individual scout the qualities and principles which are necessary to the highest type of citizenship.

We ask attention to a communication in this issue, regarding the formation of a Narberth Unit of the Home Defense Reserve. We commend it to the earnest consideration of every man in Narberth. Loyalty to our country demands that we should be as one in the matter of defense. The formation of a Defense Reserve Unit in Narberth not only gives every man an opportunity to show his colors, but to do his part. No one can foretell what emergency may arise, and the organization of these home defense units is of the highest importance. During the war of the Rebellion there were "Draft Riots," and if description is ordered now, rioting and disorder may occur again. At such times, the lawless element takes advantage of the general confusion to loot and commit other depredations. Let us be prepared.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

Edythe—Laura Jean Libby is right—it is easy to get a husband, but Edythe, you'll never know what to do with him if you don't see the play at the Arcade on May 7.

Perplexed—You say your husband does not understand you. No man ever did understand a woman. Nor is it necessary, so far as your own happiness is concerned. What you need to know is how to treat him.

H. F. D.—The author of "Pigs is Pigs" is Ellis Parker Butler. Yes, it is, as you say, a "scream." But it isn't nearly so funny as "The Revolt," by the same author.

Nellie—Yes, it is perfectly proper to start a "hope chest," even though there is no man in sight. But there is a still more important preparedness campaign—the study of man and how to manage him.

John Henry—The Junior King's Daughters is an organization of clever girls of Narberth, doing splendid work for charity. Their entertainments have become quite famous, and the play to be presented on May 7 promises to be their most successful.

H. C. G.—No, "The Revolt" has nothing to do with pirates, war or bursting bombs—though it might burst some buttons off your vest.

ALL THE FOREST RESERVES OF THE STATE ARE OFFERED TO THE PUBLIC FOR CULTIVATION

The Government is urging everyone to do his share toward making up the deficit in food. Won't you do your share? Start a garden. Cultivate a lot. A few minutes morning and evening will take care of it. You will make an appreciable saving as well as help your country.

A number of your fellow-citizens have already started. We have permission from the owners of many lots to cultivate same, and will gladly assign one to you. If you desire a particular lot we will try to get the owner's permission for you. There is no expense or fee charged.

We are trying to do our "bit." Won't you do yours?

CUB'S WEEKLY LETTER

To the Editor of Our Town:

Last week's issue might properly have been named the "Call to Arms Number." What with its Roll of Honor and three separate suggestions that we drill a company for active duty either at home or abroad, it might be said that patriotism is not a dead letter in Narberth. It shows that we are awakening to a realization of conditions and to our duties as citizens of the Great Republic.

It is significant of the times and the unity of our nation that the two letters you published side by side should have come from men, whom, had they lived fifty-five years ago, would have been found opposing one another at that time instead of joining hands as now. One, a representative of the Old Dominion, who served in the National Guard of that famous State, and the other a lineal descendant of the famous and beloved "Little Mac," of Civil War days, have both announced their readiness to do all in their power to help the cause along. The band will now play Dixie.

The Cub, although of immature age, is big enough to carry a gun and hereby announces his enlistment in the Home Guard. Now, then, who's next?

If you are interested in boxing, or what might more properly be called rough and tumble you can be entertained almost any old evening by a visit to the battlefield on the campus of the Y. M. C. A. That historical spot is a favorite of some of the gentle younger generation, who seem to feel that when within the hospitable walls of the Y. M. C. A. they must find something to wrangle about. As a rule the contenders in an argument are deadlocked, the question is settled beyond further dispute by resorting to fistcuffs on the lawn. Some mighty blows are aimed, but few reach the target and hence little blood is shed. Boys, if you must fight, go to war—now's your chance.

How'dja like to be the School Principal? Among other trifling details of the "snap" are superintending the instruction of several hundred kids, instructing classes of his own, looking after the physical and moral welfare of the whole student body, acting as judge and jury in the case of delinquents and disorderlies; taming some wild cats into a semblance of human beings, testing and tasting the viands produced by the domestic science students (that's not such a tough one at that), diplomatically smoothing out complaining parents of children who make little progress in their studies (always owing to defects of the school, never the pupil), selecting and advising a bunch of hard working teachers, supervising the care and ventilation of the building and answering for all to a critical and exacting School Board.

Just visit his office for an hour and you will appreciate that what I say is not exaggerated. You will hear some telephone messages of this nature:

"Mr. Melchoir, will you see that Mary doesn't forget her rubbers?"

"Mr. Melchoir, be sure that Jack buttons his overcoat when he comes home: I'm afraid he'll catch cold."

But, if Mary should lose one of her rubbers, or Jack unbuttons his coat, then the Principal is roasted for being a bum nurse.

As Mr. Bok stated at the Merion meeting, the occasion for service may be imminent, or it may be remote, but it is our duty to be prepared to defend our families and homes, while our younger men are doing their duty at the front.

Narberth has always been ready to respond to the call of duty. Let this meeting be large and enthusiastic, and just as representative as the Merion meeting. We are the second town along the Main Line to organize: let us be in the front rank in numbers and efficiency.

The Boy Scouts have been invited to attend as aids. It is hoped they will turn out a large representation.

NOT HIS FAULT

Some years ago there appeared in a certain town an organ-grinder carrying a placard announcing that, besides having a large family to support, he had "but six months to live."

He reaped a plentiful harvest, and finally disappeared, soon to die of his incurable disease, everyone supposed.

Four years later one of the native ministers met him in a distant city, carrying the same organ and legend.

"I saw you with that notice four years ago!" he said sternly.

"Well, it ain't my fault, is it," whined the immortal one, "if doctors make mistakes!"

A tinsmith in the country has a sign which reads:
"Quart measures of all shapes and sizes sold here."

WHAT EVERY WOMAN THINKS

Have you lost a lover? Then, be of good cheer, and weep not!

For lovers are like white hairs—there are always two waiting to replace one that is lost.

But, if you have lost a man friend. Then, indeed, have you suffered a calamity.

A man is your lover so long as you live up to his ideals, and do not shatter his illusions.

But once he is your friend he is your friend for all time.

No matter what you do, what you say, what you have, what you are, or what you have been!

As a friend, man can be trusted to the ends of the earth—

Whereas, as a lover he cannot perhaps be trusted around the corner.

So long as a man is your friend, whatever you do seems right.

But the moment he falls in love with you he exchanges his rose-colored glasses for a microscope.

And his one burning desire is to "remodel" you.

You can call upon a man friend at any moment and he will never fail you.

But a lover does not appreciate importunate calls.

And is morbidly determined that you shall have "no strings" upon him.

To a man friend you can confess all your follies and mistakes.

But to confess a weakness to a lover is to hand him a club with which to beat you in the next argument.

A man friend knows all your faults and loves you in spite of them.

He is content to regard you as a human being, and to treat you accordingly.

But to a lover you are always an angel—until he discovers that you are a devil.

He demands that you shall stand forever on a pedestal.

And keep your halo on straight.

A lover exclaims, "How much you mean to me!"

But a friend asks simply, "What can I do for you?"

A lover expects that you shall share all his moods and fancies.

But a friend is willing to share your moods—and to forgive even your caprices and your indigestion.

Love is a castle in the air.

Built of moonbeams and roseleaves and dreams and imagination.

Friendship is a house built upon a rock of faith and towering to the clouds.

And sometimes you can climb up to its roof.

And dream amid the stars.

Love is the beginning of doubt—

Friendship is the beginning and the end of perfect faith, and trust, and understanding.

You can trust a man with your secrets, your jewels, your purse, your honor, and your life—

With everything except your heart.

And so long as you can keep him from falling in love with you.

You can keep him—forever!

Why, then, will a woman foolishly seek to turn a friend into a lover?

For the miracle of happiness consists in turning your lover into a friend.

SOME REMARKABLE RUINS

On the summit of a Haitian mountain over four thousand feet high stand the wonderful ruins of the great citadel La Ferriere, built by the black king, Christophe.

Some of the walls are eighty feet high and sixteen feet thick, and heavy batteries of old fifty-six and thirty-two pound guns are still in position. They were laid to guard every approach of what was tended to be the last asylum of Haitian independence.

Springs of water still exist in the interior, and there were secret subterranean passages and secret chambers for holding his hoarded wealth, much of which is supposed to be still buried there.

Although partially destroyed by the earthquake in 1842, which demolished nearly all of the important buildings of the country, the colossal ruins of the citadel still attest the gigantic work of Christophe, and the world still wonders how the work was done and how the material for the construction and armament was raised to the top of the mountain.

"Can't something be done to prevent our young ladies from being in sulted on the streets at night?" inquires a Western paper.

There can! Just have the girl's mother put her to bed before eight o'clock and lock the door on her.

WHAT HAVE YOU TO OFFER?

Every girl who starts in the world of business should remember that she must have something to offer. To expect that you can get a salary if you are untrained is to expect the impossible.

Many a girl is quite definite as to what she expects to get. Are you as definite about what you expect to give?

The time has gone when you can drop haphazard into a nice, fat position and continue to hold it. It's the holding that is the hard part. If you have not learned more than a mere smattering of business, if you have been willing to tumble through school anyhow, and have passed up the chances to improve yourself that come into every life, do not think that you are going to be a success. If you keep from being ground under the wheels of the great machine, you will be singularly fortunate.

There are endless opportunities in this modern world for the girl who is willing to give time and work to preparing herself. There is less and less opportunity for her who is too lazy, too shortsighted or too unfortunate to prepare.

If you are hesitating between a one-year course in some line or a three-year course, it is usually wiser to take the long road. A couple of extra years given to mastering your prospective occupation will save five years later on, and will probably put you where you never arrive with the lesser training. A definite plan is a great asset, since from early high school days you can specialize in some degree on courses that will help you later.

Put your emphasis on what you expect to have to offer when you are thinking of your business career, and you will find that the rewards will take care of themselves.

THE FORESTS OF THE UNITED STATES

A century ago the entire belt of country east of the Alleghenies was aptly described as a primeval forest. Here and there the settler's axe had made a clearing for his little farm, but these inroads made comparatively no impression.

With the advent of railroads, using thousands of acres each year for ties, and with saw mills industriously at work on every stream, the forests began to melt away; until of late years an alarm has been raised that the country would soon be denuded. The alarm is uncalled for. It is true that much has been used and more wasted, but the forests that remain are enormous in area, and will fully supply all our national needs if ordinary care is exercised.

Separating the States into groups the six New England States are credited with a forest area of 19,193,028 acres; the four Middle States with 17,630,000; the fourteen Southern States, including Maryland and leaving out Missouri, with 232,800,000; the nine Western States with 80,358,768; the four Pacific States 52,630,000, and the seven Territories with 63,034,000.

It will thus be seen that of the entire 465,645,896 acres of forest included in this estimate, the fourteen Southern States possess fully one-half. The statistics show that, while the process of denudation has been carried to an unhealthy extreme in the Eastern, Middle and a few of the Western States, the forest area still remaining in this country is a magnificent one.

If the estimates of the department are approximately correct, the timber lands of the country, exclusive of Alaska, cover an area equal to fifteen States the size of Pennsylvania.

NEW USE FOR OLD CANALS

A number of the cities in the United States seem to be in a fair way of finding a use for the old, insanitary canals which pass through their midst, taking up valuable space, acting as open sewers, and rendering little or no service because the boat traffic on them is negligible. In Cincinnati it is proposed to utilize a portion of the bed of the Miami and Erie Canal for an interurban route. It is said that in Syracuse the old Erie Canal bed will eventually become the route of the New York Central tracks, and a similar change has been projected for Rochester, N. Y., in which case the canal at that point would be turned into a new channel and the old one used for street-car tracks.

It's more than a slight mistake to tell a stout woman she is.

AN OLD-TIME TOOTHACHE

A recent visitor to the mountain region of North Carolina and Tennessee reports a community where, when anyone has endured all he thinks it worth while to endure from an aching tooth too firm or too far back to be conveniently dealt with by the door-and-string method, he resorts to the only person in the neighborhood who combines the necessary strength, skill and experience—the blacksmith.

This is a variation on the custom of primitive times, before the day of dentists, when such offices were usually intrusted to the barber, the local healer and bonesetter, or the itinerant quack. None of these men, although they were perforce employed, was held in much esteem. Dentistry as an important and respected profession is recent indeed. Nevertheless, even in old times, the sufferer occasionally turned for aid to an individual of dignity and consideration. It was so with young Ann Milvord, a "comely and virtuous maiden," whose teeth gave her a great deal of trouble more than two centuries ago.

Toothache was common then as now—probably more common then than now—but there was something strange, sinister and suspicious about Ann's toothaches. They came only on Sunday! Sitting in a drafty pew in an unheated meeting-house in the dead of winter until the minister reached thirteenthly had doubtless a good deal to do with what we should probably diagnose as severe neuralgia, but they did not call it neuralgia then. They called it "the divell's pranks with a poore, pious girle," and the parson was called upon to pray for her relief.

"She aaked so sorely at times as to weep and mone, it comeing upon her of a suddain upon the Sabbath durning the preaching, so that she was asshamed and distressed butt yett could not containe herself, for the paine ran about among her teeth and disported betweene her jaws as it were a live limpe of the divell who sent it for her confusion and distraction. And that it did not afflict her except onely upon the Sabbath could not be understood except as a sure signe of whence it came. Her teeth and mouthe were looked to with most careful tendance between Sabbaths, and washed daily with a strong washe of herbs and rubbed with certaine rootes frayed to a fringe, but to no availle, and this for near upon two moneths. But upon the parson praying and exorting that the divell depart and leave the girl untormented, suddaine he went and she aaked no more."

It may have been the "divell" that departed, or it may have been merely the cold weather; but Ann and her friends had no doubts upon the subject. They were sure it was the "divell!"—Youth's Companion.

SYMPATHY WANTED

"And I thought I could read character," sighed Bilkins.

"Well, what about it?" said his friend. "Anything gone wrong?"

"Yes. You know that sporty fellow in our office—Simpkins? Chap with red waistcoat and horse-shoe tie-pin?"

"Yes. What about him?"

"Well, the other morning he came up and said he was going to ask the afternoon off to go to his grandmother's funeral. I'd already got a bet on the match for that day, and when he asked me if I'd come too, I accepted like a shot."

"Well, what about that? Did you lose your money, or didn't you get a good seat, or was the match a rotten one?"

"It wasn't that at all. It just happened that he actually was going to his grandmother's funeral! I had the most horrible time of my life!"

THE COUNT WAS CLEVER

"Count," said a charming stallholder at a charity bazaar to a foreign Count, "won't you buy this rose? It is only one guinea." "I am very sorry," said the Count, with a courtly bow, "but ze price is a little too high." The lady kissed the rose. "And now, Count, will you buy it?" "No, madam," he said, with a still deeper bow, "now ze rose is priceless!"

Mamma (coaxingly)—Come, Bobby, take your medicine now, and then jump into bed!

Bobby—I do not want to take my medicine, mamma.

Father (who knows how to govern children)—Robert, if you don't take your medicine at once, you will be put to bed without taking it at all.

THE FIRESIDE

"talked through his hat." Quite to the contrary, facts are told in such an interesting way by the use of the hats that even the youngest boy thoroughly enjoyed statistics and a sermon without recognizing them as such. Well done, Mr. C.!

Frances Armour entertained a few of her little friends on the seventh birthday Saturday afternoon, at her home, 113 Rockland avenue. Among those present were: Joseph Armour, of Bryn Mawr; Frank H. Mahan, Jr., Caroline Mahan and Jean Mahan, of Haverford; Madeline Lee, of Wynnewood; George Hershman, of Philadelphia; Margaret Lambert, Albert Lambert and Ann Barclay, of Narberth. The table decorations were roses and American flags.

Miss Barbara Shand, of North Narberth avenue, Narberth, was hostess at the meeting of the Narberth Fortnightly Club Friday afternoon. Mrs. Walter B. Smith discussed "The Lesser Antilles and Bahama Islands," and those present were Mrs. A. Perry Redefor, Mrs. Augusta Loos, Mrs. William Anderson, Mrs. Lester Nickerson, Mrs. Frederick Harjes, Jr., Mrs. A. Lincoln Jacoby, Miss Bird Roberts, Miss Cordelia Woodie, Miss Anna MacKeag, Mrs. John Van Ness, Mrs. E. Otley Jackson, Mrs. John Gilroy and Mrs. S. Schauroth.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Lough announce the engagement of their daughter, Beatrice Adele, to Mr. Horace Newton Compton. A card party was given in honor of the occasion on Tuesday evening, April 17. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. J. Seel, 3rd, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. G. Foote, Miss Dorothy Bernard, Misses Lillian and Flora Compton, Miss Grace Jamieson, Miss Florence Reeves, Miss Myrtle Compton, Miss Corrie Howell, Miss Marguerite Mueller, Mr. George Loan, Mr. Alan Kirk, Mr. Benjamin Peter, Mr. Harold Speakman, Mr. Warner Smith, Mr. Irwin T. Ward, Mr. William Scheufele, Mr. H. Newton Compton.

By the way, speaking of Narbrook, you will notice still another house being staked out on the east side of the park. This makes the seventh house in the park, the minimum value of which (above the ground) must be $5000. At least $35,000 worth of new homes of quality in two years for our borough is not half bad. Even though many thought the development would be but a dream, it has proven itself a very practical kind of dream when brought to realization—and it's possibilities are not half developed as yet. Narbrook Park is bound to be one of the redeeming influences of Narberth. Hats off to the little band of dreamers—and doers—headed by George M. Henry, Burgess.

The following events will, or have taken place at the Y. M. C. A. during the current week:

"DE PROFUNDIS"

At the first training camp at Plattsburg last summer an undersized "rookie" was one day struggling along through mud that threatened to engulf him and his pack. The company were singing, and when they came to the chorus he joined in with growls and grumbles that seemed to come from well down toward his belt. Beyond doubt, melody was not his forte. A big, hulking sergeant came along.

"What's the matter? What are you howling about?"

"I'm singing bass," explained the "rookie."

"Don't do it, my boy," said the sergeant; "you're too deep down already. You come up to the surface and get the air."

Why is a whisper forbidden in polite society? Because it isn't aloud.

USHERS' ASS'N HOLD THIRD ANNUAL BANQUET

Largely Attended—Resolution of Support in Present Crisis—Excellent Musical Program

The Ushers' Association of the Baptist Church held their third annual banquet at the Y. M. C. A. last Monday evening and everybody present pronounced it a very enjoyable and successful affair.

The community room was attractively decorated with flags and flowers for the occasion. The menu was excellent. The literary and musical program was all that could be desired. At the beginning of the dinner a resolution was introduced and unanimously passed pledging the association's support to President Wilson in the country's present crisis. This is said to be the first official indorsement of this kind yet made by any Narberth organization.

The nominating committee presented the names of Boardman Hopper for president and James C. Simpson for secretary—same being elected by unanimous acclaim. T. Noel Butler, retiring president, then turned over the reins to the new president, and the evening's program followed under the able direction of Toastmaster John Gordon D. D., acting pastor of the church.

Rev. W. Quay Rosselle, D. D., of the Fifth Baptist Church, Philadelphia, was the principal speaker and held the audience closely, whether he spoke in serious or humorous vein. Dr. Rosselle, as the toastmaster said, is a giant mentally and physically, and his address was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Harry V. Meyer, business head of the Baptist Publication Society, followed Dr. Rosselle. Mr. Meyer is a former Narberth resident and association member. He proved to be as interesting as a speaker as he is capable as a business man.

The musical program was excellent throughout—Mrs. T. Noel Butler; the Bartram Quartette—Messrs. Briggs, Somerton Stanley, E. B. Stanley and Dr. Becker, with Mr. Raymond G. Sloan as accompanist; Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Patten in cornet solos and duets.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Rowbotham H. S. Hopper, Miss Gordon, Rev. W. Quay Roselle, D. D., Rev. John Gordon, D. D., Mr. and Mrs. T. Noel Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. A WORD TO THE NEW RESIDENTS

For the information of the lately arriving residents of Narberth we announce again that to purchase postage stamps and stamped envelopes in the local post office is of great advantage to the office as its advancement is based upon the sales. We aim to be courteous and obliging. We also want to do business with our patrons.

FIRE COMPANY NOTES

In case of fire, telephone Narberth 350.
Officers of the Fire Company: President, Charles E. Kreamer; secretary, Charles V. Noel; financial secretary, Ray Jones; treasurer, Carden Warner; chief engineer, Charles V. Noel; first assistant engineer, Edward Wipf; second assistant engineer, A. P. Redifer; third assistant engineer, H. B. Wall; fourth assistant engineer, A. W. Needham.
There is a crew of twenty-five active members.
The Narberth Fire Company was formed for the protection of life and property against fire. It is solely dependent upon the residents of our town for its financial and material support, and therefore every man in Narberth who is not a member should become one at once. This does not necessarily mean an active member, but a contributing member.
The dues are only $3 per year or 25 cents per week, and who is there in Narberth who would not give that amount toward the fire protection of his home and town?
The company has two up-to-date automobile machines fully equipped, kept in first-class condition for fighting fires, and are ready for an alarm, day or night. The company provides a man who is on watch all night at the fire house, so you can realize the interest that is being taken by its members to give efficient service and respond promptly to every alarm.
The company has launched a campaign to secure new members, and it is urged that every new resident, as well as those who are not members of the fire company, join at once, send your $3 for the yearly dues to the financial secretary, Mr. Raymond C. Jones, 116 Dudley avenue.
Let us all co-operate to make this movement a success, try and secure two hundred new contributing members before the first of March. We know you can do it if you will really try.

The above department should be of the greatest use to the community, the list contains the name of every professional man, tradesman, mechanic, shopkeeper, etc., who does or can in any way serve his fellow-townsmen, and who is progressive enough to add name to list of Register.
As it is difficult for those contributing their time and efforts to the production of "Our Town" to personally either know or interview all such, it would be most helpful if those not in the found in the printed list would send in a memo of their names, address, phone numbers and businesses or professions for listing. This will cost as follows: 10 cents each issue for 2 lines; 5 cents for each additional line.

SUBSTITUTION

An Unprofitable Policy

We believe no more Solid Foundation can be laid for permanent success than the prestige and reputation of meeting people's wants. Mystery always creates suspicion, and that is why we make persistent effort to have every sale open and above board without a hint of even attempted substitution. We cannot substitute our own or other products, for trade marked or standard goods called for by customers, and be honest to ourselves, our customers and to the manufacturer who has helped direct trade to us. That's why you never find us so short-sighted as to grab at an immediate long profit at the expense of losing your more valued good will, and the future business of a satisfied customer. Plain old-fashioned honesty is our watchword.

LECTURE ON COMMUNITY BUYING

On Saturday, September 14, some seventy ladies met in the Community Rooms of the Y. M. C. A. and listened with much interest to the talk given by Mrs. Anna Scott on Community buying.

Mrs. Scott cited many instances in which co-operative buying could effect your household budget other than in the purchase of foods, for instance, such things as brooms, soap or any ordinary household commodity could be obtained in the same way and thereby effect a saving.

Many of the ladies present joined the co-operative club and any others wishing to become members (it costs you nothing) or desiring to know further particulars concerning the above may communicate with Mrs. W. Cameron, Essex avenue, who has consented to act as secretary and to permit her home to be used as a distributing center.

More in detail will follow in the next issue of Our Town.

States War Department. It is non-sectarian and non-political.

It is organized to furnish aid to sick and wounded of armies in time of war, and to devise and carry on measures of relief for those suffering from great disasters in time of peace.

Japan with a population of 40,000,000 has 1,800,000 Red Cross members. Germany with a population of 67,000,000 has 1,000,000 Red Cross members, and other countries have also large memberships.

The United States and its dependencies with a population of 100,000,000 has only 300,000 members.

Can you afford to let your Red Cross lag so far behind in this great world-work?

Will you not be patriotic and humane enough to become a member at only a dollar a year and to urge others to do the same?

Send your money to Mrs. F. W. Stites, local chairman of the Main Line branch, Narberth.

On May 14, 1917, a play, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," will be given at the South Broad Street Theatre for the benefit of the American Red Cross Society. For tickets, apply to the headquarters in the Ramsey Building, Bryn Mawr, or to Mrs. F. W. Stites, Narberth, Pa.

All you Main Line women who are going to Philadelphia to sew for the Red Cross, why not go to Ardmore or Bryn Mawr, where rooms have been specially equipped for this work?

And you who have not yet done any sewing, why not go up some morning with a friend? There is much to be done! Are you doing your share? A Membership "Drive"

The international crisis has made it imperative that the Red Cross mobilize all its resources immediately. In ten weeks New York raised its membership from 3000 to 101,000; Boston secured 35,000 new memberships; Chicago, 20,000; Philadelphia, 18,000; Cleveland, 10,000 and so on in every part of the country membership "drives" are rapidly increasing the membership to 1,000,000, the mark set for 1917.

Your Red Cross is founded to aid in the prevention and alleviation of human sufferings in times of war and peace, an organization of the people, by the people, for the people—a part of your life and your inheritance as an American.

The American National Red Cross is the only volunteer society now authorized by this Government to render aid to its land and naval forces in time of war.

Any other society desiring to render similar assistance can do so only through the American National Red Cross.—General order No. 170, War Department, 1911.

From Headquarters

In a letter from National Headquarters, acknowledging a report of the doings of the troop, the Scout Commissioner writes: "It is a source of pleasure to us to note the practical way in which you Scouts are putting into effect the thir Scout law as evidenced by the good turns which you are able to report."

Last Friday evening our local Troop, No. 1, of Boy Scouts of America, marched in a body to the residence of Burgess Henry and delivered to him the following communication:

April 13, 1917.
Hon. Geo. M. Henry, Burgess, Narberth, Pa.:

Honorable Sir:
In this hour of our country's need we, twenty-nine scouts and scout officials of Troop 1, Narberth, who have had the benefit of the training of the program of the Boy Scouts of America, have come in this way to you to pledge to you, and through you to the citizens of our community, our loyalty and hearty support in any emergency which may arise requiring more than the normal resources of our local government.

Because of the scout training, we are prepared to do many things of practical value. We are not soldiers, but are trained for civic service. We are able to render first aid to the injured, to do signaling and serve as messengers. Some of us have bicycles, automobiles, trek carts, tents and other equipment which are at your service and the service of our country.

We are but part of the Legion of Services of our country known as the Boy Scouts of America, numbering over 250,000 men and boys, each pledged on his honor to do his duty to his God and his country and to obey the Scout Law, to help other people at all times, to keep himself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight. Throughout the whole country our members are mobilizing in this way as a practical demonstration, not only of our good will and loyalty and our desire to do our duty to our country, but as an evidence that there is actually a resource available for service should an emergency develop requiring service of the character for which the Boy Scouts have been trained.

W. Arthur Cole,
Scout Master.
Henry Howes, Jr.,
Assistant Scout Master.

To the Citizens of the Borough of Narberth:

I have the honor and pleasure of reporting to you the pledge and loyalty and service of our local Troop No. 1, of the Boy Scouts of America in case an emergency should arise requiring more than the normal resources of our local government. Troop 1 consists of twenty-nine members, and by virtue of their equipment and training are well fitted to perform the many duties and services which might be required of them as a result of the state of war now existing between our country and Germany. The Boy Scouts, by their prompt action in pledging their services to their community and to their country, have set an example worthy of emulation on the part of other citizens and are entitled to the recognition and respect accorded every other branch of our public service.

George M. Henry,
Burgess.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

On Wednesday evening, April 11, a banquet was given to the Citizens' Committee, appointed by the firemen of the city of Philadelphia Bureau of Fire, for the purpose of securing better hours and better pay for the firemen of Philadelphia, on which committee Charles V. Noel was represented.

This committee assisted the firemen in getting an increase in pay, as well as pushing the Platoon System, which bill was passed recently at Harrisburg. The firemen now work twelve hours per day, which allows them to spend the other twelve hours at home, whereas formerly they were on duty day and night.

Mr. Noel was made an honorary member of the Hook and Ladder, Driver, Tillerman, Hosemen and Stokers Association, an organization which the firemen have. A badge was presented to Mr. Noel as a token of appreciation for his services.

The meeting was held at the Veteran Fireman Hall, Tenth and Brown streets, Philadelphia.

BIRTHDAY DINNER DANCE

On Saturday evening, Mrs. Carroll Downes entertained for her nephew, Robert T. Lacy, for his thirteenth birthday. At six o'clock, those who sat down to a most sumptuous real grown-up dinner were: Kathryn Dalton, Marie Miesen, Dorothy Moore, Donald Faile, Warren Speakman and Robert Lacy.

At eight o'clock the following arrived for the dance: Lee Maddox, Margaret and Thelma Fowler, Catherine and Ethie Semel, Herbert McCarter, Roscoe Smedley, Taylor Faries and Elsworth Riley.

The decorations were in pink, with quantities of sweet peas. Miss Virginia Downes and Mr. Frank Winne had charge of the dancing. Just previous to the "real part" of the party, there was an Elimination dance, at which time Thelma Fowler and Herbert McCarter remaining, last on the floor, secured the prize.

The refreshments carried out the pink effect, excepting for the presence of little silk flags which adorned the merringues. The tired crowd dispersed after declaring there had never been such a party, and wishing Robert, their host, many more such birthdays.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK SOON AT THE ARCADE THEATRE

The Arcade Theatre, Narberth, will celebrate "Anniversary Week," the beginning of next month. The present management has in the past year presented to the public of Narberth the best of photo-play productions in a most refined and up-to-date manner. On the occasion of one solid year of successful moving pictures, combined with modern ideas of presentation, the management has arranged a most unusual program of pictures. Watch for further announcements on this coming event, and always refer to the advertising columns of Our Town for weekly programs of Narberth's only permanent place of amusement, "where the show is always good."

Y. M. C. A. NOTES OF WEEK

The Y. M. C. A. is in need of some good young men to act in the capacity of managers on different evenings during the week, and this appeal is made to the public of Narberth with the view of giving a fair chance to those who desire to get in closer touch with the real problems of the local institution and assist the secretary in general. For further details inquire of the secretary.

A Junior Pocket Billiard tournament is now well under way, to the extent that it is now in its final round. Mr. A. Cooke is in charge of this tournament.

A Bicycle Club has been formed in the Y. M. C. A. under the present supervision of the secretary, and up to the present we have enrolled some twenty to thirty members. The outlook is most pleasing. Boys desiring to join this club must be members of the Y. M. C. A. There is no membership dues called for by the club. The club has many trips planned, some of which are, briefly, week-end camping trips, swimming, picnics, boating, races, etc. If you are the owner of a bike, dig it out, fix it up and fall in for the best time of your lives for the summer months. Further particulars upon request.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

If your hubby came home at 3 A. M. with a ripping headache would you wrap a cold towel around his burning brow and a warm blanket around his faltering feet? Or would you call him a beast and throw a shoe at his head? You'll never know how to treat a husband if you fail to see "The Revolt" at the Arcade Theatre on Monday evening, May 7.

TO GIRLS ABOUT TO MARRY

Some say the best advice is, "Don't." But they won't say that after they have seen Ellis Parker Butler's play, "The Revolt." It all depends upon knowing how to treat a husband, and this play tells how. To be presented by the Junior King's Daughters at the Arcade Theatre, Monday, May 7.

LOOK BEFORE YOU LEAP

Marriage is a state of bliss or blister, according to how you enter upon its responsibilities. Those who say it's a lottery are wrong. Any girl who has a diploma from the school for teaching how to treat a husband can take the leap with perfect safety. To be convinced of this, see the play at the Arcade on Monday evening, May 7.

On Friday evening, one of the nicest dances given by Narberth people, was held in Elm Hall. Those in charge of this dance were: Miss Jane Laird, Miss Virginia Downes, Miss Ruth Jones, Miss Augusta Witherow, Miss Margaret Mayes and Miss Mildred Harris.

There were thirty couples present. Some of the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Rose, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. R. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Downes, Mr. and Mrs. William Maddox, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Churchill, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Woodworth, Mrs. Calar Winne, Miss Davis, Miss Helen Hayden, Miss Williams, Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Ida Reed, Miss Mary Peebles, Miss Sydney Wilkinson, Miss Mabel Zeigler, Mr. Horace Kirk, Mr. Bob Town, Mr. Loxley Peebles, Mr. Kenneth Hamilton, Mr. Frank Winne, Mr. Charles McCarter, Mr. John Spurr, Mr. James Osmond, Mr. Henry Howes, Mr. George Temple, Mr. Ed. Turner, Mr. Richard Zinn, Mr. Harry Dewees and others.

PICK-UPS FROM SHAND PARK

The Narberth Champions played the P. R. R. freight traffic team and won by the score of 8 to 0.

The Champs showed mid-season pep and pulled a fast double play in the first inning.

Bobbie Gibson laced one to the pike and set Walzer's bank account back one seed.

The Smiling Aviator was hit by a slow one; just so we get on first what do we care?

Dick Wallace on first is some bear; plays big league stuff all the time.

Manager Walzer tried out three of his star twirlers. Look like three aces.

Lehner, the new recruit on third, shows good form and will be a valuable addition to the infield when he gets used to the fast company.

Answer to query: Walzer is not a regular umpire nor did he ever ump a big league game. The trouble with his eyesight on Saturday was caused by his broken arm.

Follow the crowd to the ball park, meet the boys and root hard all the time. It looks as though we had another championship cinched this year.

A suggestion from a fan: Ray Jones should use his Ford when umpiring on the bases, it might possibly improve his speed.

Manager Walzer has a good game scheduled for next Saturday. Everybody out and get a line on the players.
