DR. HARROWER MAKES APPEAL FOR FAIR PLAY AND SAYS VOTE NO TOMORROW

Editor Evening News:
I have had nothing to say for publication in regard to the matter of the High School bonds and I crave your indulgence for a few inches of space for some remarks at this time.
I have before me a circular inviting me to vote "yes" for these bonds, urging this action in order that the students get their advantages now since "they can not wait." Will the purchase of the Brand Boulevard site give them their advantages any sooner than the alternative plan suggested by those who are opposed to the bonds?
On this circular it is said, "A change of the site could not be made without great financial loss to the district." Will the financial loss be greater by having an alternative site for future expansion instead of a very expensive and altogether unsuited series of business lots such as the High School Trustees want to spend our money for?
The writer of the circular in question calls attention to the fact that the additional land asked for will give a site of "over twelve acres" and states that it will accommodate a school of 1800 pupils. Is twelve acres sufficient for all the High School needs of this district for all time and is 1800 the maximum number of students ever likely to be in need of High School facilities in this city?
Why is the Los Angeles High School so far away from town? Why is the Pasadena High School so far away from town? The reason is that those in charge of the High School affairs in these respective cities real-

MUST MOVE AGAIN

Mr. and Mrs. John Crane who lived at the corner of Glendale Avenue and Los Feliz Road for a number of years and had to vacate because the property was sold, are again under the necessity of making a change because the property where they now are on South San Fernando Road has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Klammer. Mrs. Crane is only just getting up from an illness, the outgrowth of a heavy cold and will not be well enough to move immediately.

MOVING TO BAKERSFIELD

Mrs. Lorena Cramer and her daughter, Blanche Cramer, of 631 E. Acacia Avenue, have yielded to the persuasions of the other members of the family living in or near Bakersfield and will move to that city the last of this week or the first of next. Mrs. Cramer's sons, who are impatient for her arrival, engaged a house for her some time ago and are happy in the prospect of having the family reunited once more. Mrs. Cramer will dispose of her property here when a good opportunity offers.

OKLAHOMA PICNIC

The winter picnic and reunion of all who have lived in Oklahoma will be held at Sycamore Grove Park, Los Angeles, all day Saturday, March 6th. There will be the usual county registers and Milton Bryan, president of the Oklahoma Society, will preside over a program of song and oratory.

LEGALLY ANNEXED

COURT OF APPEALS RULES GRAND AVE. DISTRICT IS JOINED TO GLENDALE

The District Court of Appeals rendered a decision yesterday offering the judgment of the lower court holding that the proceedings for the annexation of the Grand Avenue District, comprising a large territory lying between the Verdugo Wash and Burbank City were in all respects regular and legal. This territory has for more than two years been earnestly trying to unite with Glendale, but has met with all kinds of legal opposition from one or two property owners in the district.
W. E. Evans, City Attorney, states that the case can be carried on to the Supreme Court on a petition for a rehearing, but he does not anticipate any further resistance, as the decision by the District Court of Appeals is exhaustive and far reaching, each and every contention made by the City of Glendale in upholding the election being upheld.

SCHOOL MONEY

P. S. McNUTT SAYS SCHOOL LAW DOES NOT CONTEMPLATE PUBLIC AUDITORIUMS

On the high-priced land on Brand Boulevard we are promised an expensive auditorium built out of school money, one that will seat 2500 to 3000 people. It is true we have a state law which makes every schoolhouse a civic center, but this law is being much overworked in some cities. If you read it you will see it is a restricted law in its application. It specifies the meetings which may be held in a schoolhouse, places them under the control of the trustees and provides that such must not interfere with the school work. An auditorium for general public uses is not mentioned or considered by the act and the law was intended for the needs of country and outside districts where it is not practicable to have other meeting places. It was never meant for an all-purpose auditorium in cities. Every city should have, of course, a public service auditorium for rental purposes, but such is no part of the common school system, and it can not be built out of school money. We have a statute making the use of school money for other than school purposes, a felony. Trustees have no right to expend school money in whole or in part for a public all-purpose auditorium.
The school needs one room large enough to seat all the pupils, which room must be used by the school for school purposes and incidentally a few other limited civic meetings can be held in it, but they must in no way conflict with or inconvenience the activities of the pupils. The building of a large auditorium with school money can not be justified on the pretext that once in a while the pupils will use it for school commencement and some other general exercises.

This position becomes much stronger when we consider that ours is a Union High School and the outside districts would not derive benefit from a large auditorium beyond its uses while the pupils are in school. The chief reason given for moving over onto Brand is that we will get this expensive city improvement at the expense of school money, but from what we have said it appears that such can not be used as a reason at all.
P. S. McNUTT.

COOLING EFFECT OF TREES

During the summer months the shade furnished by trees and the cooling effect the trees have on the surrounding atmosphere add greatly to the comfort of people who may be able to take advantage of this condition. The shade furnished by the trees is only a minor consideration when it comes to the comfort they give to residents of a city. The roots of the trees extending far down into the cold earth are a means of bringing to the leaves a moisture that is much lower in temperature than the surrounding air. Thus we readily notice the difference in temperature when we approach close to a group of trees.
It is a good plan to plant trees wherever they may grow without interfering with other more important vegetation. This is the season of the year to give attention to planting. A tree planted now will afford shade and serve as a means of lowering the temperature of its surroundings in a very few years.

PEACE GARDENS

It is with pleasure we note in traveling over different parts of the city of Glendale that many owners of property are cultivating what we may now term peace gardens. The work put on war gardens two years ago is very appropriately being kept up on gardens that are proving of great use in the economy of living expenses.
It is possible for every home in the city of Glendale to have some member of the family do garden work. If there is not sufficient ground connected with the residence property it will be an easy matter to get land to cultivate on vacant lots. Why complain about the high cost of living when there are hundreds of vacant lots on which thousands of dollars worth of vegetables may be produced. If you are anxious to try out Uncle Sam's garden seeds you are invited to call at the Glendale Evening News office and get a few packages recently sent to us by the Congressman of this district.

REORGANIZATION OF DEPARTMENT OF STATE

IMPORTANT CHANGES IN PERSONNEL LIKELY TO INCLUDE RESIGNATION OF ASST. SEC'Y. POLK

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Confirmation of the appointment of Bainbridge Colby as Secretary of State, may be delayed in the Senate, it was apparent today. In the meantime there will be nothing to prevent him from taking up his new duties. The resignation of Franklin L. Polk, under secretary of state, is expected as the next move in the practical recognition of the State Department resulting from Robert Lansing's clash with the president. Polk called at the White House this morning. When asked if he intended to resign immediately, he said:
"My plans are just what they have always been. I will stay on and help all I can."
Colby will take up his new duties with many important offices to fill. He probably will be called on soon to name an under secretary in place of Polk. Breckinridge Long, third assistant secretary, is a democratic candidate for United States Senate from Missouri and it is believed he will soon leave the State Department to enter actively into his campaign. William Phillips, assistant secretary, has just been named as Minister to the Netherlands.
That the Colby regime will be marked by important changes in the country's foreign policies, particularly toward Russia, was thought likely today. The lifting of the United States embargo against soviet Russia and the formation of a new and more lenient attitude toward that country, is believed to be one of the changes contemplated. It is known that Lansing, when Secretary of State, was opposed to having any dealings with the Russian soviet in any form. When the allies invited the United States to join in their decision to trade with the people of soviet Russia by removing the American blockade, Lansing asked the allies how they expected to carry on the trade without dealing with the soviet. He was determined not to join in the decision so long as its operation would mean that the United States would have to come in touch with the Bolsheviks. Lansing's vigorous stand against the Bolsheviks is expected to be shared by Polk and Long. On the other hand it is thought that President Wilson believes it is expedient for the United States and the allies to declare peace with the soviet and allow Russia to resume her place in the trade of the nations. Colby is understood to be in complete harmony with the liberal views of the president on this and other questions.

LABOR IN POLITICS

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL FEDERATION OF LABOR PLANNING TO WORK FOR ELECTION OF CONGRESSMEN

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Feb. 26.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor, which is meeting here, is planning the most extensive program in labor's history for the election of congressmen next November who will vote for what labor wants. President Gompers is expected to attack Congress and perhaps the railroad bill when he speaks tonight at a mass meeting. He is expected to explain labor's position in politics.

INFLUENZA AT SAN QUENTIN

DISTINGUISHED GUESTS

MRS. CLARENCE CRAWFORD ENTERTAINING FOR DAUGHTER OF BRIG-GEN. SCRIVEN

Quite a distinguished company will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Crawford at 1319 North Central Avenue who are entertaining with a dinner Friday night in celebration of the birthday of Miss Katherine Scriven. This young woman and her friend, Miss Anne Scott, are now residents of Glendale and establishing themselves in the poultry business on Acacia Avenue. They are entertaining the parents of Miss Scriven—Brigadier-General Scriven, of the U. S. A., and Mrs. Scriven, who are on their way to Honolulu and have stopped to visit their daughter and Miss Scott. The Brigadier General was military attaché at Rome at the time the world war opened, his wife and two daughters being with him at that diplomatic post. After hostilities became acute he represented the United States as observer at the front, he being an authority on military maneuvers and tactics. His two daughters enlisted with the Red Cross and served in canteen work for a year and a half and it was while engaged on the war front that Miss Katherine met Miss Anne Scott, and a close friendship between them developed, which has led to their present business association.
Other guests at the dinner will be Mrs. Vickers of Los Angeles, mother of the hostess, Mr. Vickers, uncle of the hostess, Miss Vickers, David Allison and Roy Nastzger. Both of the young men last named saw service in France, Mr. Nastzger being discharged with the rank of major. He went into the Argonne offensive as captain of volunteer forces, was seriously wounded and was promoted to major for bravery on the field. It will be a group of interesting people who have been brought face to face with the most terrible realities of life and who for that reason have a deeper appreciation of peace than civilians can know. Realizing this the hostess is making her dinner and its appointments simple and informal. It will be followed by a social evening.

MRS. MARY M. WINSLOW

MUCH LOVED GLENDALE WOMAN PASSES AWAY IN HER NINETIETH YEAR

Mrs. Mary M. Winslow, long a resident of Glendale, passed away Wednesday evening, February 25, 1920, at 9 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, 212 S. Orange Street.
Mary M. Needham was born in Concord, Erie County, N. Y., on April 4, 1830, consequently had nearly reached the age of ninety years. She is the last of her family, a brother having passed away nine months ago.
Although confined to the house for nearly five years, Mrs. Winslow was always cheerful, bearing her suffering with patience and fortitude. Although so advanced in age she had retained her sight and hearing and all her faculties were acute. She took a keen interest in the events of the day. Her life has been a benediction.
She leaves to mourn her loss one son, William L. Winslow, and one daughter, Mrs. Edgar Leavitt, who were with her at the last; a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Emma J. Morrison, of Ocean Park, a sister-in-law, Mrs. L. W. Needham, of Glendale, and several nephews and nieces.
Funeral services will be held from the home Saturday afternoon at 2:30.
KEEP OFF BRAND BOULEVARD
C. E. Stanley of 108 North Everett Street says he has been around over the streets of late and he is very much opposed to having any school buildings placed on Brand Boulevard and further states that there is no necessity of going on Brand Boulevard so long as there is sufficient room on the present grounds to put up buildings that will serve for a number of years and then if necessary purchase acreage nearby for athletic grounds. He insists that it would be a great mistake to bring buildings to be occupied by boys and girls to Brand Boulevard.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anson, who were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal of 237 North Louise St., left Sunday for their home in Chicago. The Deals are now entertaining Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Willard, relatives from Iowa.

EASTERN STAR CLUB

SOCIAL ORGANIZATION WILL BE MADE UP OF MEMBERS OF GLEN EYRIE CHAPTER

Under a plan to organize a social club in Glen Eyrie Chapter of the Eastern Star and thus promote social activity and acquaintance among members, Mrs. Sallie Braden, Worthy Matron of the Chapter, invited its members to meet at her home on Arden Avenue last Friday afternoon. It was a rainy day and the bad weather in conjunction with prevailing influenza cut down the attendance. The ladies who did respond spent a very pleasant afternoon over their needlework, and plans for the club were talked over. It is expected that next month at a more representative meeting the organization can be perfected and officers elected. The matter will be brought up at the regular meeting of the chapter this evening. Tonight's gathering was to have been a Colonial ball, but that function has been postponed indefinitely on account of the influenza epidemic.

GREAT DANGER REMOVED

The $98,000 that has just been spent on the Verdugo Wash by the County Flood Control has removed a great danger from the residents of Glendale. In addition to the very beneficial work that has been done in deepening the channel and making secure its walls, the county supervisors and the Pacific Electric Railroad Company working in conjunction with the City of Glendale are raising the bridges on Brand Boulevard and Central Avenue. Heretofore these bridges were the means of obstructing the flow of the water at the time of floods and this aided by the shallowness of the bed of the Wash placed the city at the mercy of the flood.

GLENDALE TIGERS WIN

Members of Elwood Ingledue's class in the First Methodist Sunday School of this city went to Pasadena Tuesday evening and played a basket ball game against a team composed of members of a class in the First Methodist Sunday School of that city and the Glendale talent won. The game was played at the Pasadena Y. M. C. A. Eight boys of the team known as the Glendale Tigers accompanied Mr. Ingledue. George Jordan is their captain. The score was 26 to 16 in favor of Glendale.

PREFERS CALIFORNIA TO KENTUCKY

Mrs. John H. Jackson of 332 N. Orange, who is now visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Feland, Jr., near Danville, Ky., going there from Chicago, where she had been spending a few days with the two sons, Robert and Morris, has written home some of her impressions of the old Kentucky home which she had not seen for six years. She said she would not give one year of life in California for one in Kentucky, with its constant succession in winter of snow, sleet, rain and mud.

PIONEERS OF WEST

CHAPTER L. INITIATES AND ENJOYS PROGRAM ON EARLY DAYS

Chapter L. of the P. E. O. had a very delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. A. M. Hunt on Viola Street Wednesday. The hostess had provided a beautiful floral setting of yellow bloom in deference to the colors—yellow and white—of the order. At the morning session at which the customary business was transacted, two new members were initiated—Mrs. Daniel Campbell and Miss Isabel Isgrig, with Mrs. H. E. Bartlett presiding. Visitors present were: Mrs. John Hobbs of Chapter A. H. and Mrs. E. H. Willisford of Chapter B. A. The usual delicious luncheon was served. Mrs. J. H. Huntley, Mrs. David Gregg and Mrs. Alma Danford being assisting hostesses. Following the luncheon a program of papers on the pioneers of the Golden West was given by Mrs. Susie Dow, Mrs. E. U. Emery and Mrs. Amy Timothy. At the conclusion of Mrs. Emery's paper on California, Miss Margaret Lusby sang "I Love You California."

JAPANESE LAND LEASES

A special session of the legislature is the only thing that can prevent the circulation of initiative measures to put an end to the buying and leasing of agriculture lands in California by Orientals, and which will be voted on at the general election in November.

This statement was made by Senator J. M. Inman, president of the California Oriental Exclusion League. Inman also declared that in the event a special session is called and unsatisfactory legislation is enacted, the League will proceed with the initiative.

"We want no half measures," said Inman. "We will be content with nothing less than complete and final legislation on the subject. There has been too much talk and not enough action on the Oriental land question and it is high time our people wake up and see where they stand. It will require 55,000 names on this petition to put it over, but we are not going to stop at that. We want to make it 75,000 at least.

"The legislation we want will prevent any alien not eligible to citizenship from leasing land or holding stock in any corporation that buys or leases land for agricultural purposes. Any citizen holding land for or owning land leased to an alien not eligible to citizenship must file a report within ninety days showing why the land is held or leased. He must also show where the money came from to lease the land."

While Governor Stephens is trying to make up his mind about calling a special session, the Exclusion League officials are proceeding with the preparations of the measures to be initiated. Inman says this progress will continue and that if the special session has not been called by the time the measures are completed the petitions will be put into circulation.

The League's membership list continues to grow, and branch organizations are being formed daily in various parts of the state. According to reports received by the League, the activity against the Japanese in Southern California is more pronounced than in the northern part of the state.

Figures compiled by the Northwestern Fruit Exchange throw new light on the magnitude of apple production in Washington this year. The statistical department of organization reports that 6 1/2 million apple trees have been planted in the state, of which the number in actual bearing is about six million.

The state has 91,500 acres devoted to apple culture. Oregon devotes about thirty-nine thousand acres to apple growing.

The Washington apple crop in 1919 was more than twice the volume of the California orange crop. The nation's apple crop ranked ninth in importance as an agricultural product.

The apple industry is now the third in the state in importance and is rapidly assuming large comparative importance in Oregon and Idaho.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

We wish to apologize to Mrs. Orville Overholt. In our paper last week we had as a heading, "Mrs. Overholt's Big Feet." The word we ought to have used is a French word, pronounced the same way, but spelled fete. It means a celebration and is considered a very tony word.—Williamsville (N. D.) Item.

Pin money formed a customary New Year's gift for women in Tudor times, when the finest pins were of gold, silver, inlaid metals, ivory and rare woods.

It is possible to surmount all obstacles. Even hard words come easy ourselves in reduced circumstances, with some people.

"So this is the first time you've ever seen the ocean," said her escort. "Yes; the very first time." "And what do you think of it?" "Ah!" she sighed in ecstasy. "It smells just like oysters."

WHY WE VOTE NO

The Evening News very honestly and emphatically opposes the bond issue of $425,000 to be voted on tomorrow, on account of the stipulations that classrooms will be provided for in an auditorium on Brand Boulevard, a location entirely unsuitable for study and recitations. Principle and the greatest good for boys and girls must predominate over a desire for show.

Personals

The sister of John Cotton of San Rafael Street, who is a guest in his home, is quite seriously ill of influenza.

E. J. Tyner of East Windsor Road and his daughter have gone to Long Beach to spend the day with a friend from Iowa.

Miss Geraldine Woollard and little brother, Gaylord, are spending a week in the home of their uncle, E. L. Rice, at San Bernardino.

Mr. and Mrs. William La Fountain of Acacia Avenue and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. William Herzog, of Troy, New York, took in the Mission Play at San Gabriel Tuesday.

Miss Viola Yorba of Casa Verdugo, who has been very ill of pneumonia, is recovering and the doctor predicts she will be well enough to sit up Sunday. The quarantine was lifted yesterday.

Miss Thelma Howe has just arrived from a nine months' visit with her father in Libby, Mont. She expects to make her home with the W. C. Cox family who resides at 326 Eulalia Street.

Mrs. Ellen L. Early, the nurse, who resides at 519 East Palmer, has been confined to her home by illness for the past three weeks. Her daughters, Mrs. Joseph Purke and Mrs. John Holtz, have been caring for her.

Berna Martin, who got his schooling in Glendale and was graduated from Glendale High, is still employed at San Pedro. He planned to be a lawyer and is probably accumulating funds for his professional course.

Mrs. William Henry Dell of 1525 North Maryland will be brought home from the Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles next Tuesday with her baby boy, born February 17, 1920. He has been named William Henry Dell, Jr.

Mrs. H. D. Cross of 329 West Pioneer Drive is just getting up after being confined to her bed for about two weeks by illness which began with a heavy cold but which did not develop into influenza. Other members of the family have also been ill.

A. B. Lawrence of the Overland-Glendale Motor Company, who was located temporarily at 217 E. Broadway, has secured the adjoining room at 215 E. Broadway where he will be located until he can secure more suitable quarters. He is arranging a comfortable office and show room and is very pleasantly situated.

L. W. Babcock of 413 North Jackson is felicitating himself over the location of another of his former Rocky Ford, Colo., fellow townsmen, H. D. Garwood, in Glendale. And he says a good many more are coming. Mr. Garwood, he says, served three terms as County Clerk of the county in which Rocky Ford is situated.

A moving picture program was given Tuesday evening in the Sunday School room of the Tropico Presbyterian Church at which interesting though harrowing scenes were presented depicting the suffering of the Armenian and Syrian people and the devastation of the country. They were given as a forerunner of the Near East drive.

Dr. Henry R. Harrower reports that he has just purchased three lots as a site for a chemical laboratory building to house his rapidly expanding business, but he will not build at present. His products are becoming so well known abroad that he has recently received orders from Korea, China and Costa Rica. The China order came from Shanghai.

Mrs. D. Newton Wemyss of 924 E. Windsor Road had the pleasure of entertaining friends from Los Angeles and Glendale at tea yesterday afternoon. Miss Turnbull, who has recently come from England to make her home with relatives in Los Angeles, was delighted with the beauty of Glendale. Mrs. Wemyss intends to be "at home" informally to her friends on the fourth Wednesday in each month.

Mrs. C. M. Cram of 325 East Fairview has had the pleasure of entertaining for a few days her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. March, of San Francisco, who motored down the last of the week making the trip from Stockton in one day. They left at 8 a. m. and arrived in Los Angeles at 9:30 p. m. coming over the Ridge during the storm Sunday night. They will return to San Francisco the last of the week.

Mrs. E. E. Dana of 1318 North Louise Street entertained last week with an afternoon reception at which tea was served and to which guests came and went, without formality. It proved a very pleasant affair and was given for the benefit of the building fund of the Casa Verdugo Church. A new church is greatly needed for expanding membership, and many plans for raising money are being devised to help the good cause along.

Mrs. Perce Curtis of 1331 North Maryland is entertaining her aunt and cousin, Mrs. Welton and Miss Ida Welton, from Nova Scotia, Canada. They are here for an indefinite stay and are enjoying Southern California very much.

It is expected that the quarantine on the home of Hartley Shaw will be lifted the last of this week. Lucien Shaw is still confined to the house but is gaining rapidly. Wednesday was the golden wedding day of Mr. and Mrs. West, parents of Mrs. Shaw, who reside in Los Angeles. But for the influenza epidemic the event would have been celebrated at the Shaw home. As it was, many friends of the Wests called upon them and tendered their congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Davidson who had been living at 117 East Lomita Avenue had to move the middle of January when Mr. and Mrs. Forsberg who owned the property returned to Glendale to live after quite a sojourn in Pomona. The Davidsons now live at 617 South Brand. Mrs. Forsberg says Pomona is a beautiful city but it can never fill the place in her heart that Glendale occupies and she considers herself very fortunate in having a home here to come to.

The Motor Vehicle Department of the State of California requests Judge F. H. Lowe to instruct officers when making arrests of motorists to take the number of the operator's or chauffeur's license instead of the number on the license plate of the car, as is usually done. This is necessary in order to carry out the requirements of the Motor Vehicle Act which provides for the revocation of the license after a stated number of convictions. On account of similarity of names and frequent changes of address it is difficult to prevent errors in establishing the number of convictions of a certain individual, hence the above request is made.

Mrs. George O. Lockwood of 415 East Harvard was greatly shocked and concerned when she read the account of the murder of Miss Florence Housel, head of the Huntington Hall School for Girls at South Pasadena. She had long known and admired her as one of the great women educators of Southern California, and Mrs. Lockwood's niece, Margery Bailey, who has quite a circle of friends in Glendale, is a pupil in the school. Mrs. Lockwood was unable to get telephone connection with the Hall, but her anxiety was relieved when her niece called her by phone and told her that the telephone wires had been cut by the murderer. He apparently took every precaution to prevent help from reaching the scene, but his dastardly purpose to burn the school building was providentially thwarted.

OBLIGING

"That new nursemaid of Mrs. Styles seems a very obliging girl," said the lady in the satin jumper.

"What makes you think so?" asked her friend in the purple gingham.

"Well, yesterday morning I saw her out with Mrs. Styles' baby, in the afternoon with Mrs. Styles' dog, and in the evening with Mrs. Styles' husband."

WHERE UNCLE SAM LIVES

Marjorie was telling her next-door neighbor about her contemplated visit with her mother and father to the national capital.

"And I 'spect I'll see my Uncle Sam there, too," she concluded.

"Why, I didn't know you had an Uncle Sam," was the surprised answer.

"Oh, didn't you?" came the patronizing reply. "He's that man what lives in the White House."

Jock: Och, twenty francs is tae muca—it's for a present, ye ken. I'll gie ye fifteen francs for it.

Proprietor: Zen it will be me what gif ze present!—London Opinion.

Landlord: Yes, sir. We've a centenarian in this village. As a matter of fact, this is his grandson—or are you his great-grandson, Joe?

Joe: Great-great-great-great-grandson.

Visitor: Oh, come, come! That's hardly possible.

Landlord (confidentially): He isn't telling lies. He's only stuttering!—Passing Show.

"There was a time," said the landlord, "when this property sold for a song."

"Better interview this Lady Eglantine," suggested the managing editor of the New York Daily Squash.

"Well, we've printed worse interviews. Go ahead."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MEATY

Brent: Old chap, I've been duck-shooting, don't you know.

Saunderson: Duck-shooting? Why, you don't know a wild duck from a tame one.

SERVICEABLE JOKE

"Some years ago you published a page of discoveries supposed to be too absurd to be taken seriously. One of them contained the suggestion that if one were walking across country it was well to have a pocket full of cork stoppers to stick on the bars of a wire fence so it could be climbed without injury. Now, I am an 'artist woman,' and all summer I wander over field and pasture in search of material for my canvases. I often encounter the barbed-wire fence and of course more or less trouble in getting through or over it. The absurd discovery seemed to me worth trying, and when I next went forth I provided myself with a handful of the recommended cork stoppers. The plan always worked. So now I carry these stoppers always on my jaunts and feel that I must write you about it."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

TO FOOL 'EM

"Do you think the navy is not well organized?" "I do," answered Mr. Serious Barker. "I have nothing to say against the ships. But look at the names they give some of the boats: 'Vesuvius,' 'Viper,' 'Scorpion!' As soon as the enemy reads a name like that, he's bound to get wary. What we want to do is to give 'em names like 'Little Pet,' 'Zephyr,' or 'Asphodel,' same as they have on the pleasure boats at the summer resorts. It's a pretty good navy in some respects, but what it needs is more strategy."—Christian Register.

ONLY MADE MATTERS WORSE

The conversation in the lobby of a Washington club turned to the way in which we occasionally sink deeper and deeper trying to extricate ourselves, when Senator William P. Dillingham of Vermont recalled a little incident along that line.

One of the features of an entertainment that was given for charity some time since was a vocal selection by a woman. Midway in the audience a meek-looking little man listened attentively.

"That is the most atrocious singing I ever heard," remarked a woman to the meek little man. "I wonder who the vocalist is?"

"She is my wife," was the startling rejoinder of the meek little man.

"Oh, I beg your pardon!" responded the other, greatly flushed. "The fault may lie with the music, which is really barbarous. Have you any idea who composed it?"

"Yes, madam," replied the other, administering yet more embarrassment, "I did."

LONDON—Women took the helm in wartime and they have no intention of giving it up. It is now quite a common sight in London streets to see Daphne at the wheel of the automobile while Adonis leans back in the purple plush.

One may see women in evening dress driving themselves through the streets of London en route for the ball or the theatre, and the little car, pretty enough for Cinderella at a pantomime, zig-zags daintily in and out of the heavy traffic like a venturesome kitten in a den of lions.

It's not all chrysanthemums and cherry blossoms in Japan; Tokyo has her street car troubles, seeks a subway, and orders 200 surface cars for immediate relief; the telephone service is so crowded that departing subscribers sell their instruments through brokers; and worst of all the Japanese manufacturers of insect powder have combined.

The khaki is fast disappearing from the streets. Where before the soldier boys swarmed, especially toward the end of the week when they were on leave, now one is a lone mark in a crowd of civilians. With the usual American facility, the returned army is fast being absorbed into civil life, and the war will be soon over except for its scars.

FROM OTHER WORLDS, MAYBE

William Marconi tells the London Daily Mail that he is carefully studying the mysterious wireless "signals" which he thinks may possibly come from Mars, Venus or some other planet. He hopes soon to make a public statement of results. "Nobody can yet say," he declares, "whether they originate on the earth or in other worlds."—Current Events.

"Did you try the simple plan of counting sheep for your insomnia?" "Yes, doctor, but I made a mess of it. I counted 10,000 sheep, put 'em on the train, and shipped 'em to market. And when I'd got through counting the money I got for them at present prices it was time to get up."—Farm and Home.

SMALLER COINS TO COME

That there will before long be new coins circulating in the United States to meet new conditions of everyday buying and selling seems highly probable; at any rate such is the reported opinion of several financial editors, and bills have been introduced in congress calling for the coinage of 2-cent and 15-cent pieces. One hears also that articles one purchases are often marked at a price which includes the half-cent which no American can produce from his pocket, and which thus goes, in a simple, matter-of-course, don't-mention-it sort of way to add a whole cent to the tradesman's till because he has no half-cent to make change. From 1792 to 1857, one learns from the Straus Investors' Magazine, an American went shopping with a half-cent adding its modest note to the jingling of small change in his pocket, but this half-cent was heavier than a modern 25-cent piece. Nevertheless, the congressman who has introduced the bills referred to seems to have overlooked that half-cent emergency which the tradesman so commonly settles to his own advantage.

"THE CAMPFIRE"

Tests

Troop 2—Clifford Walcot, Jack Alvard, Bob Hatch, C. J. Farrow, Dallas Kalbaugh, James Fray, Jack Alvoid, Burnham Warner, Francis Reed, Leslie Hatch, Lawrence Lehman, Robert Stanford and Arlin McCormack all put their shoulders to the wheel and made a splendid record for Troop 2, a total of 51 tests passed, the greatest record ever made by a troop in Glendale! Congratulations, Troop 2!

Troop 3—Wallace Haynes, Robert Raymond, and Lynn Criswell rolled up a total of six.

Troop 4—Eugene Hoy, Marion Morrison, Archie Neel, Arthur Wetton, Francis Gilman, Arthur Barton, Forest Krug, Thomas Pentacost passed a total of 17 tests.

Troop Five

Troop 5 will temporarily discontinue its meetings until a Scoutmaster can be found. For over two months Mr. Kellogg has been endeavoring to hold the troop together until pressure of other duties has made it imperative for him to continue acting as Scoutmaster for this troop. Mr. Henry, the chairman of the Troop Committee, is still searching, and it is hoped that he will succeed in finding a good man within a few days.

The date of the reorganization of the troop will be announced in The Campfire.

Troop Four

Troop 4 enjoyed a fine hike through Dead Horse Canyon yesterday with the Scoutmaster, Mr. Blanford. Every boy on the hike passed at least one test, and the party as a whole enjoyed themselves immensely. The boys who went were: Archie Neal, Eugene Hoy, Marion Morrison, Bobbie Morrison, Tom Pentecost, Forrest Krug, Francis Gilman, Arthur Wetton, Bertram Foster and Arthur Barton.

HIKING

(Tune: Yankee Doodle)
Friday last we went to camp in a lonely valley;
And took a jolly mountain tramp
On Saturday, to tally.
Up or down, 'tis all the same
Brush or water striking.
We're the boys that love the game,
The Scouts for lusty hiking.

We can make the beds and cook Potatoes, coffee, bacon;
And later then neglect to look
For knives and spoons forsaken.
We can broil a big beefsteak
To the master's liking;
We can eat a lot of cake,
The Scouts for lusty hiking.
Dr. Walter Scaife.

STEAM ROLLER TACTICS

ize that there must be extended facilities and plenty of elbow room to care for future expansion and in a down-town location in Glendale there can never be any more elbow room than the actual acre or two for which the proponents of the bonds want to spend such an unreasonable amount of money.

Those who are in favor of the bonds say that delay will deprive the boys and girls of educational rights. Why was there not an opportunity afforded to those who do not agree with these individuals to have an alternative plan upon the ballot? It would have been very nice indeed if the voters of the High School District could have made a selection between the two plans. As it is I understand that at a certain "mass meeting" steam-roller tactics were carried out so that it was impossible to make any arrangement of this character.

Do the voters of this district realize that if they vote "yes" and their vote predominates that they will use so nearly all of the bonding capacity that any future development will be practically out of the question? And even though the bonding capacity is extended by the increased population of this town where will they find a better opportunity than the present to secure a more suited and extended site for another High School plant?

I am of the opinion that Mr. Chandler's remarks in a recent issue of "The Evening News" are the most reasonable statements on this subject that have been published to date, and I agree with those who are opposed to this waste of the public's funds that since those favoring spending $425,000 have avoided giving us a chance to vote for one of two alternatives, we must vote "NO" and we all will have to wait until another bond issue is called for later when a more reasonable proposition can be put before the voters and when, I hope, all alternative possibilities will be on the ballot so that reasonable minded citizens can make a selection of what they consider to be proper and not have to have the expensive luxury of an election every few weeks in order to accomplish the best results for the community.

My personal impression is that this bond election on Friday should call out a large majority against the improper waste of funds for expensive centrally located business property for High School purposes.

Respectfully yours,

"A New Lease of Life Through Internal Baths"

Mr. E. Shain of Santa Cruz, Cal., writes to the Tyrrell Hygienic Institute:

"My wife and I will be 85 years young next Birthday and consider that the 'J. B. L. Cascade' has given us a new lease on life for we now enjoy the best of health. We were going down hill fast but the Cascade has given us such health as we have not enjoyed in years."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.

Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.

Roberts & Echols in Glendale will be glad to show you the "J. B. L. Cascade," explain its simple operation and will give you, free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Chas. A. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on Internal Bathing for 25 years in that City. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity.

FORTUNE AWAITS ARGONNE VETERAN

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 26.—(United Press).—A thousand dollars, a ticket to North Dakota and a pension await a "wandering doughboy in a fur coat" at the local Red Cross headquarters.

The ebb tide of the army brought Joe Lennore to Philadelphia from a nearby demobilization camp. He registered at the Salvation Army Hotel and from there was taken to St. Agnes' Hospital for treatment of his wounds. He wore eleven wound stripes, had a Croix de Guerre, two citations and medals from the Spanish-American War.

When discharged from the hospital he collected compensation through the Red Cross, bought a fur coat, and disappeared without leaving an address. Since then his compensation under the Sweet bill has piled up a thousand dollars to his credit. As he is gradually becoming blind he is given double disability, permanent insurance privileges, and in addition, the Public Health Service has a free ticket for him to return to his home in North Dakota.

He is a veteran of the Argonne and Chateau-Thierry.

AMERICAN SPORTS ENTER PALESTINE

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.—(United Press).—Baseball, rugby and track and field sports have gone into Palestine with the British army.

Tales of the growing prowess of the Jews in athletics and the extension of activities to all branches of sport were brought back here by Morris Rivlin, who served in the Palestine campaign under General Allenby with Company D, 39th Battalion, Royal Fusiliers of the Jewish Legion.

More than 10,000 youths, he declared, have been enrolled in "The Maccabees," an athletic organization designed to pattern sports after the American model. A picked Rugby team of the organization recently defeated a team of expert British soldiers.

Baseball, introduced by the American legionnaires is growing in favor, Rivlin says, and track sports are booming to such an extent that a miniature olympic is being planned for a national sports day to be set late in the summer.

To further boost interest, American instructors with American ideas of athletics are to be sent to the Hebrew University at Jerusalem which is to be opened soon by the Zionist Organization of America.

JAPAN FORSAKES OLD CHARACTERS

(By United Press)
TOYKO, Jan. 29.—(By Mail).—Japanese children no longer have to learn 5000 alphabetic characters before they are able to read and write. School kids are joyful. The number has been reduced to 2600 by government decree.

Taking another step toward a fuller realization of Western civilization, the government has officially reduced the number of "kanji" or Chinese characters in the textbooks of the schools.

The new departure was taken after a long fight between those in favor of the retention of the old characters, and those who believed they ought to be discarded for the ultimate adoption of Roman characters. While the reduction of 2600 characters still leaves the Japanese child at a great educational disadvantage, yet it is conceded it is a great step toward the final divorce from the traditional Oriental characters.

It was contended that when school children in other countries were ready to enter high school, Japanese children were just finishing the memorizing of the 5000 characters and therefore just able to read and write and no more.

SCHOOL FOR WAR ATHLETES PLANNED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—(United Press).—Plans for the establishment of a school at Camp Benning, Georgia, to turn out army physical instructors have been completed today by the War Department.

Five officers from each department of the army will be detailed to the school for instruction in physical training and athletics. At the end of the course, each officer will return to his post equipped with the knowledge and training requisite for an instructor in athletics. The instructor personnel at the Camp Benning School will be made up of physical training specialists.

Besides the athletic program, instructions will be given at Camp Benning in such war activities as hand-to-hand fighting. The instructions planned by the army will make every soldier fit to meet the severe modern-warfare requirements of body control, agility, strength and endurance, it is believed.

The organization of a school for army chaplains at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, Ohio, now is being worked out by the War Plans Division at the War Department, also.

STORY OF FIRE

We have no evidence of the time when man did not have the knowledge of producing fire. It is certain that man possessed fire as far back as Quaternary time. In the case of the earliest cavemen we find numerous hearths, ashes and cinders, some wholly or partly calcined and fragments of pottery blackened by smoke. As far back as we can go we find man cooking his food. As to how men came by their knowledge of fire there is room for a wide difference of opinion. Its use was probably first known in some volcanic regions, where it was suggested by nature itself. Then came the two sticks, and later on the flints, by means of which men could produce the necessary agent at will.

WORLD'S GREATEST TROOPSHIP

One of the devoted women who have not spared themselves at the emergency aid rooms told this story among the flying needles the other day to her co-workers. A letter from the front has brought the intelligence:

A pompous German major had fallen into the hands of our valorous Pennsylvania troops, and after they had questioned him, he ventured to ask them, for information.

"How many men have you on this side of the water?" he inquired.

"Two million," answered a young lieutenant.

"How did you get them over?" was the incredulous query of the Hun.

"One boat brought them all over," was the answer.

The German stared. "How so? What boat was that?"

The American gave the German a searching look. "The Lusitania," he answered quietly. — Philadelphia Leader.

The Gourmand: I suppose you've had to put up with "Tipperary" ever since the war started?

The Waiter (his lips unrewarded). Yes, sir, and tip a rarity.—Tatter.

"Ah, your idioms, I can not grasp them." "What's the trouble, Count?" "The politician is happy because he was whitewashed."

"Yes?" "Yet the baseball pitcher who was whitewashed today, he is sad."—Kansas City Journal.

THE QUESTION OF RIGHTS

It often happens that certain phrases get into common circulation, and, not being challenged, finally come to be accepted as true. For instance, we hear much today of the right to strike. That there is such a right no one can deny. It is not, it is true, mentioned in the Declaration of Independence or the Constitution, but neither is the right to marry. But it is not an absolute, inherent and fundamental right, as is sometimes supposed. It is, on the contrary, qualified and limited in many ways. There are indeed no absolute political or social rights, for each limits the other. Obviously it is for society to say when and to what extent the right to strike shall be exercised. Men have a right to oppose a strike as well as to favor it. Society must decide whether it will submit to the pressure, or resist it. For it alone can make the decision.

A strike is nothing more than an attempt to put pressure on the community for the purpose of bettering the condition of those who participate in the strike. Whether the strike shall succeed or fail depends wholly on the attitude of society. The social right to peaceful and continuous production is quite as sacred as the right of men to interfere with production—each is limited by the other. If the former is surrendered, as it often is, in order to make possible the enforcement of the latter, well and good. If not, the strike can not possibly succeed. It is therefore necessary to take account of public opinion.

But though there is a right to strike, in the sense in which we have used the words, there is and can be no right to destroy property, to resort to violence, or to prevent other men from working. These are not and can not be rights in a civilized country, for they are attacks on that law which must be supreme, and the measure of the rights of all, if civilization is to endure. We can not concede the right to be lawless to one class without conceding it to all classes. When we do that we destroy law and government, and overthrow the foundations of the social structure. Nor can we deny to any man the right to work without at the same time denying to him the right to live.—Long Beach Telegram.

England's ban on silk hosiery from the United States is not offensive unless it is based on vociferous coloring. Or, as one might say, "Who steals our trade steals trash, but he who pilfers our world-fame for taste takes that which not enriches him but leaves us poor indeed."

"Tonight," announced the Upland News last week, "the subject of Evangelist Brown's sermon will be 'The Council of the Ungodly.' A special delegation will be here from Whittier." Taking it for granted that the Whittier angodlies were on hand, the item reminds us of a society item in the Boone, Ia., News-Republican a few years ago which caused the society reporter to leave town on a month's vacation. It read: "The subject at the Ladies' Aid Society meeting Friday afternoon was 'Personal Devils.' Seventeen were present."
