Tennis-Club Dance.

Duncan, November 8.—The most successful dance of the season so far was that given last evening in the Agricultural Hall.

The supper room was most artistically arranged with autumn leaves, berries, trails of blackberry vine being again used between the dimly shaded lights and pictures of turkeys carrying out the idea of "Thanksgiving Day."

Among those present from outside points were noticed: Mrs. E. J. Palmer, Mrs. Watson and Miss C. F. Doelcher from Chemainus; Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Miss Hardie, Miss Jackson, W. Jackson and G. Wilkinson of Victoria, and Mrs. Kingscott and Captain Weldy, of Shawnigan Lake.

The "Jack Tars" (ladies basketball team) journeyed to Chemainus on Saturday evening to play a game there. In spite of good checking the Duncan girls won fairly easily, 9-1. Bob McBride kindly acted as referee.

A. J. Marlow, manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and C. Stone, of the Hillcrest Lumber Co., leave for the coast tomorrow and expect to be away several months.

Second Hay Crop Harvested; Fruit Trees Bear Again

Continued attention on the part of the warm sun has caused hilarity in the hearts and fannies of Great Britain. One gardener in Bath reports picking ten pounds of strawberries, the second crop of the season, the berries being exactly alike to those of the year before.

Birds do not understand the extraordinary behavior of nature, and in Bedfordshire crows raised in serious conference and concluded that Spring had come, with the result that they set about building nests.

The meadows, although as hard as granite, and carrying a fine second crop of hay, and while the roots are small the hay is wonderfully clean.

Rain, which has not fallen here in many months, is needed badly, as the sowing season approaches.

Peculiar happenings reported off the coast of England are attributed to the drought which has been observed floating on the surface of the water near Dunegness for several hours, and sharks and porpoises are knocking them in places where they were never seen before.

During the last few months the heat has been unprecedented, the thermometer reaching 84 degrees on two, or three consecutive days, and seldom falling below seventy degrees, while the weather prophets continue to predict warm, fine weather.

BALFOUR DECLARES GOOD MUST RESULT

Expresses Confidence as He Goes to Conference

Quebec, Nov. 8.—Belief that the Washington conference on limitation of armaments could do much to produce a better world was expressed by Arthur J. Balfour, former British Prime Minister, when he arrived today as acting head of the British delegation.

"I don't believe that anything is admitted to be an almost irreparable breach made in civilization—this was the result of the war," said Mr. Balfour. "I am confident that the steps being gradually made to produce a better and improved world—an international world—this step will be of all history the greatest. In that hope I go to Washington."

Mr. Balfour led the British delegation across the Atlantic in the absence of Premier Lloyd George, who was detained in England but who hopes to come later. He and his colleagues were given a hearty welcome when they landed. They left at once for Montreal on the way to Washington.

"What the repair men have to do is to try and restore what is admitted to be an almost irreparable breach made in civilization," he said. "The world is not as it was in August, 1914, to November, 1918," said Mr. Balfour. "In that task all are concerned. There is no nation, religion, or race which is not acutely suffering from the events that then took place. The conference of President Harding, which is now about to meet, to do what lies in its power, not to bring back the world to pre-war conditions, but to better conditions than those which prevailed before the war, is liable to suffer from too opposite dangers—those who have pitched their expectations of what the conference will accomplish too high, and those who say with a despairing and cynical spirit: 'Conferences are often called, often meet, but don't do much good.' Of the two, the cynical and despairing is far more dangerous and the further removed from the truth than the extravagant hope."

"If I find among my colleagues at the conference the same spirit which animates the Government, I rest assured upon it success will be achieved. No nation will be more glad if this end is achieved than Canada. For one of the greatest problems, the central problem, is that of the Pacific. In that Canada is immediately interested, not as a member of the League, but because it immediately abuts on the Pacific and is deeply concerned in the questions that touch the Pacific world of the future. Therefore, Canada will not fall behind us and not less energetically desirous than myself that this great business shall be brought to a successful conclusion."

"I am happy to think that one man I shall be called upon to work with will be my old friend, Sir Robert Borden. With him I spent many anxious hours during the war and at the peace conference. His wide knowledge of European difficulties and problems is not possessed by anybody on this side of the Atlantic. Among the many great supporters of peace and confidence that animate me, that I will have him as one of my colleagues is not the least."

PALESTINE JEWISH POPULATION GROWS

1,400 Jews Are Arriving There Each Month

Montreal, Nov. 9.—At the closing session here yesterday of the National Conference of the Zionist Organization of Canada it was stated that 1,400 Jews a month were arriving in Palestine as against 1,200 two years ago. A plan of action was announced for the movement by means of a tour throughout Canada by prominent Zionists.

Of the quota of $1,000,000 by Canadian Zionists to the Keren Hayesod, it was stated that about $400,000 already had been pledged.

JOY CALVERT Returns From England, Where Musical Talent Was Recognized

Now a recognized and accomplished violinist, Miss Joy Calvert, a young Victoria lady whose musical career has been marked with an enthusiastic spirit, winning favorable comments from many of the leading papers in England for her recitals, has returned to the city.

It was during her stay in London that illness overtook her and forced her return to Victoria for a much needed rest after the course of very difficult studies she has completed.

For two years she was a student under the well-known artist Leopold Auer, in New York city, and one year was spent in studying under Yaswe at Cincinnati. During the past Summer season her time was taken up in holding recitals at the Wigmore Hall, and some of the press-notes received after her engagements give credit to her ability.

During the evening the gifted pianist was the recipient of many handsome bouquets. Mr. Hicks Pleases. Mrs. Green chose to assist her in the popular baritone, Gideon Hicks, who now seldom visits the local concert platform, and it is fair to assume that few recitals will have greater vocal merit than in the examples essayed by Mr. Hicks last evening.

The occasion was the opening recital of the Victoria Ladies Musical Club, and great credit is due the president, Mrs. Gideon Hicks, and others for the excellent arrangements made for this very successful event.

EIGHT-HOUR LAW WOULD CRIPPLE B. C. INDUSTRY

Finished product required in the world's markets is the easiest road to the acquisition of wealth by our province and the consequent comforts afforded by wealth to all, but this fact is apparent and must be admitted, that we can only market our production on a competitive basis with other nations selling the same commodities, and this is only possible with consideration of those employed in labor, as in many instances they represent from 60% to 75% of the value of the finished article. Such facts as these must be considered when attempting to regulate hours of labor.

Timber Trade Situation. For instance, the timber industry must reckon with conditions which prevail in other Provinces, and especially with conditions to the South in the United States. We must utilize all daylight in certain seasons, climatic conditions which vary greatly in this Province have to be considered as well as the height of water in the rivers at certain seasons; snow on the ground in other sections; too much rain for the comfort of the outdoor worker—all of these affect largely logging operations and contingent work.

Impossible For Farmers. Agriculture is another industry in which climatic conditions play a very important part. The farmer must gauge his seeding and harvesting operations always in accordance with the weather. In the fruit industry it is the same—crops must be picked and marketed often in a limited time. In the case of a staple fruit such as apples, the time for attention in growth or harvest is limited. In congested industries, such as packers and canners which have to take care of fruit and vegetables, they cannot recognize any set hours of labor at certain periods of the year, but must be governed largely by local conditions. The farmer at certain periods of the year cannot avoid utilizing every hour of daylight.

Fishing Problem Serious. In the fishing industry, it is to be expected that the product of our rivers and seas will be kind enough to oblige us by taking our hooks, entering our traps or nets on an eight-hour day basis without any regard to the time of day or natural conditions. We submit they will not. What the fisherman will do with the product of the raw product? Will not the packers or curers have to give constant attention to these fish until at least they are ready for the point of going to waste? It must be remembered that the fishing industry, especially in salmon canning, is to-day in direct competition with the Japanese product in the Japanese market. While we know that in Japan hours of labor are not seriously considered, and that the standard of living is much lower than ours, no one wishes to see these conditions apply in Canada, but in self-preservation, we must not be so hampered by legislative restrictions that our product cannot be marketed.

Bad Time Now. In submitting this brief to the members of the British Columbia Legislature on behalf of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, British Columbia division, we would ask you to realize fully that the present time for such a drastic change in the industrial life of this Province, more particularly so when an analysis of the annual report of the Department of Labor for the year ending December 31, 1920, shows that over 50 per cent of those engaged in industry find it necessary to work over 48 hours a week.

Would Set Province Back. Our Province would be placed at a distinct disadvantage in competition with other Provinces where similar industries are working longer hours. Our ability as manufacturers and producers to meet competition in foreign markets would be materially lessened if our hours of labor are much less than that of our competitors. The possible effect of creating an unemployment problem of magnitude must also be considered if through increased cost we cannot market our products with a consequent result...

UNANSWERED QUESTIONS. To the Editor:—Your correspondent, "Fair Trader," who is evidently a stranger to Victoria, is amazed to find us so backward in many ways. After forty-two years of protectionism, I do not know the people in this city who are "dead against the introduction of manufacturing concerns," but if such people exist, then I suppose they will go on supporting protection, for that will surely be an effective method of keeping our many industries which ought to be flourishing in our midst. A seaport cannot build up industries by locking the doors of commerce against the outside world.

Why do Protectionists object to British goods coming into Canada as freely as Canadian goods go into Great Britain? (N. B.—One who has been a Protectionist and a "fair trader" should be particularly interested in this.)

Why do Protectionists object to Free Trade within the Empire?

Why do Protectionists insist upon taxing British goods entering Canada at a higher rate, on the average, than they tax American goods entering Canada?

If either "Fair Trader" or any other Protectionist will give me the answers to these questions, I shall be greatly obliged.

RE REEVE LOCKLEY'S CHALLENGE. To the Editor:—My attention has been directed to a letter from Reeve Lockley of Esquimalt in your issue of November 4.

Mr. Tommie, I am a public man and I do not take steps to get the truth before sending a certain communication to Dr. Tommie. I am a representative capacity, and am personally responsible for either the accuracy or the expediency of their official communications. In the case of the Reeve Lockley letter, I received instructions from the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council, and the communication was therefore from them and not from myself.

The Reeve offers a donation of $100 to Jubilee Hospital conditional on my being able to prove that he has asked the political affiliations of applicants for work on the Drydock. Might I with all respect suggest that the Reeve's charitable donations should be broad-based on the generosity of his heart and not on his agility in avoiding detection in political sleight-of-hand.

But the charge preferred by the Trades and Labor Council was not that the Reeve had questioned applicants as their political affiliations, but that applicants seeking work on the Drydock had in many cases required the Reeve's "O. K." before they could start work. And the Council suggested that political expediency was doubtless the actuating motive in the procedure. If, therefore, the Reeve desires to make his donation conditional on his agility in avoiding detection in the charge brought against him, and not on his agility in substituting an altogether different charge.

A careful reading of the Reeve's letter, however, shows that he does not deny the charge brought against him. On the contrary he admits it. He says "the only point we have considered in trying to get men employed anywhere is that preference be given to men with families." And he defends this by citing as a parallel the case of the City of Victoria and the Johnson Street Bridge. If it is...

safe to assume that "anywhere" includes the Drydock job, we have an admission that he has exercised influence over jobs at the Drydock. It denies political motive but it admits the value of his "O. K."

The Reeve's citation of the case of the City of Victoria and the Johnson Street Bridge as a defence of his unwanted and unwarranted interference with a Federal Government job is from his standpoint rather unfortunate. The Municipality of Esquimalt is making no direct contribution to the cost of the Drydock, neither is it seized with responsibility for the Dock's construction. The City of Victoria is the largest direct contributor to the Johnson Street Bridge and moreover its engineer was the successful contractor for the job. The Reeve has no right to interfere in the Drydock, whilst the City of Victoria cannot avoid direct responsibility for conditions at Johnson Street.

All that remains is to connect the Reeve's admitted interference with employment at the Drydock with the "political expediency" suggested in the Tommie letter to Dr. Tommie. When it is remembered that the Reeve was an aspirant for Federal honors at a recent convention and that political aspirants often times find that the distribution of largesse and patronage is an important asset, the connection is complete.

On behalf of my Council I extend to the Reeve a cordial invitation to discuss the matter further at the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday, November 10.

PROBE "MYSTERY" CHARGES FRIDAY

Council to Investigate Official's Conduct Privately. Investigation into mysterious charges against Assistant City Sanitary Inspector George MacKenzie will take place before the City Council privately Friday afternoon, Mayor Porter announced to-day.

Whether the investigation will be private will be a matter for the City Council to decide, but I understand that the aldermen would prefer a private investigation," said the Mayor.

The Mayor vigorously defended his action in suspending Mr. MacKenzie until charges against him could be fully probed. "I consider that this was the logical and usual course," His Worship stated. "I was not aware of any understanding among members of the Council by which Mr. MacKenzie was to remain in office until the investigation. I think I acted quite correctly in suspending him."

EXAMINE PLANS FOR OIL DISTRIBUTING CENTRE ON RESERVE. The Company has informed the city that it does not intend to store large quantities of oil on the Reserve, but will receive constant supplies from its distributing headquarters in the United States. If the company's building plans are approved by city officials, they probably will be ratified by the City Council at its next meeting.

SICK CHILDREN MUST BE HELPED
Work of Victorian Order Means Life or Death to Many
It is for the sake of the children perhaps, more than for any other reason that the group of women interested in the activities of the Victorian Order of Nurses are striving so determinedly to make the drive for funds for the organization, which will open in the present week.
The three nurses in the steady employment of the V. O. N. are daily dealing with youngsters, in many cases the children of poor parents who could not afford to get other assistance when sickness enters the family. They are constantly on the lookout for the health of the kiddies, and in their daily rounds detect and help correct many incipient cases of disease, such as tuberculosis, and under their expert hands many children of their service more thought and care which means more money is required to buy eggs and milk.
This valuable work among the children is in danger of ceasing unless the order receives sufficient money to enable it to carry on and extend this work. This amount of money is absolutely necessary, officers of the organization state, if the present work is to be continued throughout the year.
Mayor Porter, Dr. Price, and medical men generally are endorsing the drive, and if the public fully realizes what the order means to the city, it is expected that the financial objective will be reached.

ESQUIMALT INSTITUTE
Women Hear Excellent Report of Recent Conference; Opposed to Oriental Immigration.
There was a large gathering of the members of the Esquimalt Women's Institute at the monthly meeting held last night in the Parish Room of St. Paul's Church. The president, Mrs. Ricketts, who was official delegate to the conference of Island District Women's Institutes, read a very interesting report of the proceedings as a whole, after which the accredited delegates, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Matheson, gave further details. The resignation of the secretary, Mrs. Read, owing to serious illness, was accepted with general regret, she having been a charter member and done good work for the Institute.
Miss Bell gave a most enlightening talk on the Oriental question, explaining that although she had intended to speak on a different subject, yet, in view of the paper on immigration, which she had put to the conference, she felt impelled to tell what she knew of the unsuitability of the Oriental for fellow-citizenship with white races. Miss Bell has a good knowledge of her subject and carried her audience with her. Mrs. Matheson was then asked to read the resolution which she had put to the conference on this subject for the endorsement of the members, which they gave with enthusiasm.
The annual meeting of the Institute and election of officers will take place in December on the date of the next general meeting.

COMMEMORATE THIRTY-SECOND ANNIVERSARY
Large Audiences at St. Paul's, Victoria West.
The commemorative services held in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Victoria West, this week, marked one of the most successful anniversaries in the history of the church. Sunday morning and evening, the pastor, Rev. H. N. Maclean, M.A., Ph.D., was assisted by the Rev. R. G. MacBeth, M.A., noted lecturer, author and preacher, pastor of St. Paul's Church, Vancouver, who delivered appropriate and powerful discourses, and won the appreciation of the children at the afternoon service. Under the auspices of the Society of Christian Endeavor, a special young people's rally was held after the evening service, when Mr. MacBeth again delivered a memorable message on "Life Service."
The anniversary supper and social reunion held on Monday night under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society, was an unqualified success. Sample's Hall was filled to capacity. The programme which followed, consisting chiefly of fraternal greetings from the pastors of sister congregations, and selections by popular vocalists, lasted for two hours and met with general approval. Rev. Thomas Menzies, M.P.P., made an excellent chairman. Miss Jean McGowan, Jean Sloan, May McIntosh and Mary MacLachlan, members of the choir, and Duncan Munro, choir leader, acquitted themselves most creditably. G. F. P. Brown, baritone, who made his first appearance before a Victoria West audience, was enthusiastically

AMUSEMENT CENTRE WILL BE DISCUSSED

Chamber of Commerce Forum to Meet To-morrow Night

The Amusement Centre idea has taken great hold in the ranks of the Chamber of Commerce membership, and a large attendance is expected at the meeting which will be held at 8 o'clock to-morrow night in the auditorium in the Arcade Building. The meeting will begin with very interesting facts and figures to place before the audience the position of the subject as the representative of the committee which has been working so hard during the past six or eight weeks compiling data and getting all the details of the scheme ready for submission to the general membership.
 Some excellent illustrations have been prepared which disclose a handsome structure in which will be embodied all the latest features of sport and entertainment. Details of the plan were laid before the directors some time ago but since then the committee has gone even more fully into the whole matter, and Mr. Cross will have a very comprehensive suggestion to submit for the Forum's consideration to-morrow evening. The meeting will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, and adjourn at 10 o'clock, according to Forum rules.

In Supreme Court.

In the Supreme Court to-day H. B. Robertson, on behalf of the plaintiffs in the suit of Robertson and the Canadian Bank of Commerce versus the Pacific Coast Coal Mines, Ltd., applied to wind up the affairs of the defendant company under the Winding-Up Act, and not under the Bankruptcy Act, as it now stands. The defendants, represented in part by Stuart Henderson, E. E. Ross and W. B. Brothers objected to the charge. It was stated that the claim of the plaintiffs against the defendant company amounted to $149,000, while the liabilities of the Pacific Coast Coal Mines, Ltd., was in the neighborhood of some $700,000, an authorized assignment having been made by Justice Morrison re-adjourning the matter, requesting both sides to submit written memoranda on the point as to whether the court has power to take the case in hand or not.

Held Weekly Gathering.

The weekly meeting of the Young Men's Club of the Y. M. C. A. was held last night at the institution with a large number attending. An excellent supper was followed by five minutes' talks upon topical questions. Ernest Ablett dealt with the railway problem in Canada; Charles Keene outlined the Legislative plans of the present session; Captain Halliday cited the success of Prohibition in the United States; Cecil Laundy described his opinion of the one-man car—one of which he inspected yesterday. Ian MacLorie dealt with the Irish situation—C. E. Whittney Griffiths of the Methoshan Farmer's Institute was present and plans were under a debate with that later body on November 24. The Young Men's Club will send a team of debaters and many supporters to Methoshan, it was decided.

Parent Teachers' Meet.

At a meeting of the Victoria West Parent Teachers' Association held last night, in the Victoria West School, it was decided by resolution that the members should start a reference library for the use of their members. The School Board is to be requested to see that the school grounds are cleaned up and put in better condition, it was stated. D. L. McLaughlin, principal of the Normal school was heard in an interesting address on "The High Standard of Teaching Today." The speaker stated that teachers in this Province were fully up to the standard of the Dominion, if not actually superior. The speaker suggested a reference library for the use of teachers in the school, a matter that was subsequently acted upon. The sympathy of the gathering for Dr. Raynor, the School Board chairman, who is confined to a hospital, was expressed freely, and a letter to that effect is to be addressed to the School Board of the city. Mr. Foxwell occupied the chair.

Denies Vagrancy Charge.

George Barr, alias George Schomberg, charged with vagrancy in the Oak Bay police court to-day denied the charge, laid against him by Chief Syme. Chief Syme stated the man had been canvassing from house to house with a letter purporting to set out that he was suffering from "pulmonary trouble," and wished aid in securing medical attention. Chief Syme stated the man had told people he was under the care of local doctors, mentioning names, which was found to have been untrue. The man had a police record in San Francisco.

In Esquimalt Court.

Emil Reid, proprietor of the Half-Way House, Esquimalt, charged on two counts in the Esquimalt Police Court to-day, was convicted on both, and sentenced to six months in jail and a fine of $50. The prison term was imposed for having unsealed liquor in his possession. The accused pleaded not guilty to both charges, but admitted the evidence offered. J. A. Alkman appeared for the accused. ASK GOVERNMENT WHAT IT PLANS TO DO ABOUT JOBLESS

Before taking any steps towards relieving the unemployment situation here, the Chamber of Commerce directors will find out exactly what the provincial Minister of Labour plans to do to provide work for British Columbia jobless men.

Formation of a committee of the Chamber to co-operate with other bodies in solving the unemployment problem was proposed at the luncheon meeting of the Chamber directors to-day. Action, however, was postponed until the Government's plan could be ascertained.

J. L. Beckwith urged that the provincial Department of Public Works should undertake a broad programme of highway construction this Winter to provide work.

R. P. Clark stated that the Economic Council had suggested highway construction plans to the Government. He recommended that the Chamber ask the Minister of Labor what action on these plans was contemplated.

In Saanich Court.—A number of cases are slated for hearing in the Saanich Police Court at 2.30 this afternoon, mostly summons cases.

In Saanich Court.—Gon Low, charged yesterday in the Saanich court with the theft of 125 Leghorn hens, the property of G. Gordon Holmes, Gordon Head, was remanded for one week, R. C. Lowe appearing for the accused.

In City Police Court.—Yeo, a Chinaman, charged with being the keeper of an opium joint at number 14 Theatre Alley with Sam, charged with frequenting the same place, were remanded on bail after pleading guilty to robbery, and asking to see counsel. Bail at $200 was fixed for Yeo, and at $50 for Sam. The hearing will come on for trial on Friday.

Denies Vagrancy Charge.—George Barr, alias George Schomberg, charged with vagrancy in the Oak Bay police court to-day denied the charge, laid against him by Chief Syme. Chief Syme stated the man had been canvassing from house to house with a letter purporting to set out that he was suffering from "pulmonary trouble," and wished aid in securing medical attention. Chief Syme stated the man had told people he was under the care of local doctors, mentioning names, which was found to have been untrue. The man had a police record in San Francisco.

Leading Soccer Teams To Meet Bottom Half

Draw Is Made for Saturday's Football — Yarows and Sons Should Provide Closest Game — Wests Meet Garrison — Mets Play Thistles

At a meeting of the Victoria and District Football Association held last night the draw for Saturday's games was made. The games will be as follows:

First Division.
Yarows vs. Sons of England at Beacon Hill. Referee R. A. Brown.
Metropolis vs. Thistles at Royal Athletic Park. Referee Payne.
Garrison vs. Wests at Work Point. Referee Faulkner.

Second Division.
P. R. vs. Natives Sons at Beacon Hill lower grounds. Referee R. A. Brown.
Metropolis vs. Sons of England at Central Park. Referee F. Hopkins.
Junior Division.
Gorge vs. Saanich Thistles at Central Park. Referee Armstrong.
Bays vs. Wests at Stadium. Referee B. Laurence.

Saturday's soccer card will not provide the stellar attraction which drew a couple of thousand fans to the Royal Athletic Park last week-end when the Mets and Wests linked up in their important battle. The first half of the league is drawn against the bottom section.

The one chance of an even contest looks to be between the Sons of England and Yarows. The Sons have been showing form of late and came through to a smart win over the Garrison last week-end. They will find Yarows a hard crew to handle but they may succeed in adding the point.

Wests Should Win.
The Wests, who are now at the top of their form, should have no trouble in disposing of the Garrison. The league leaders may be without Tommy Heald but they have capable substitutes and are able to maintain their splendid calibre of play. The Garrison may give the Wests a close run but they are not counted on to keep the leaders to the extent of a win.

The Thistles, who have gone all season without a win, are keen to break the ice but on Saturday they meet the Sons of England and the Natives Sons will face the P.R. The Mets and Natives should win their games.

Frank Patrick Looking for Two More Men of Ability For His Squad

Vancouver, Nov. 9.—Contracts which were sent out to the members of the Vancouver hockey team some time ago have begun to come home to roost. Frank Patrick has announced the arrival of signed documents from Jack Adams, "Smoky" Harris and Al Skinner. Vancouver may depend upon having this reliable trio to carry war into the enemy's ranks during the coming season. So far nothing definite has been arranged concerning the defence line.

Local hockey followers will all be glad to see "Smoky" and the others back with the Millionaires. Last season Harris was one of the league's leading scorers, tying with Frederic Johnson and performing generally like a fixed star of the first magnitude. His famous "fly-on-the-wall" rushes along the boards were a real terror of any game he played. Jack Adams has won a firm place for himself in the regard of the local hockey enthusiasts by his dependability and hard work. Since his first appearance here, in the season of 1919-20, he has made himself one of the mainstays of the Vancouver club.

"Bullet" Feels Fine.
Al Skinner, known as "the Bullet," writes that he is in better form than he has been for several years and is prepared to start off in an effort to improve his former coach's performance. Last season Skinner reported late and in the early stage of the race was not in good form. Once he returned to his former position, however, he proved a big factor in the ultimate winning of the championship for Vancouver.

Skinner is a hard worker. He comes to the rink early and makes it his business to take advantage of a loose puck around the net and converting it into a score. Many a much-needed goal has resulted from Skinner's follow-up tactics.

Wilf Loughlin Signs And Figures on This Being His Best Year

Whirlwind Skater is Going to Be a Roarin' Lion On Ice This Year Instead of Meek Boy Who Gave Way Easily in Past Seasons; Opposition Players Are Served With Warning.

Wilf Loughlin, who possesses more natural hockey ability than any other player in the P. C. H. A., is going to try and get through another season with the Aristocrats.

Wilf has handed Lester Patrick, manager of the septette, his signed contract and has served notice that he will not be the meek and mild little lamb that has cavorted about the glossy surface for the past couple of seasons. Wilf is going to put his head down and hurl himself through opposing defenses like a rugby player on a plume.

Wilf has been the epitome of coast hockey. He is one of the fastest skaters in the league, some figuring that he has it on Brother Clem when it comes to cutting corners. He has few peers in the league. He has always looked like a flash of chained lightning in center ice, but on occasion the blue line he has fallen away like a stack of chairs before the wind. He has been too fond of shooting from the blue line, and although he has a shot that would pierce armor-plating, it is hard to tell where the puck is going when he lifts it. Wilf has also had a tendency to hit someone and a tendency to let someone else hit him.

Look Out Gentlemen.
But that's all a thing of the past. Wilf is going on the war-path this winter and show folks what that fine body of his can do. It would be a libel against Wilf to say that he has been a rough player in the past. He has always played a clean game and many fans think he lost heart too quickly to be turned loose.

Now look out you pesky Vancouver Millionaires and you cantankerous Mets from Seattle. Mr. Wilf is going to set you on your backs before he'll let you get that ole puck this winter.

Ready for Fray.
Wilf has become a permanent resident of Victoria and instead of riding back to the prairies at the close of last season and sweltering in the heat all Summer he has been enjoying the mild Pacific breezes. He says that he feels better than ever before and is ready to be turned loose.

As soon as the Arena was opened Wilf hustled out to start getting in shape. He is going to get away with the jump this year and not suffer the handicap he started with last season. On his way out from Winnipeg Wilf did a little sight-seeing, stopping off at Banff to climb some mountains and arrived here the afternoon after that the team pulled out for Seattle to play its opening game. He went on to the ice without any previous training and he hardly remember that he was a hockey player.

There are over 100 amateur players in Vancouver city, not a single one could hold up his end in such fast company. He is one of the few who can.

There are many who are alive to the situation and will exhaust every avenue in striving to land someone who can keep pace with Harris, McKay, Cook, etc.

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 9.—Elmer Moore, of Memphis, and John Kaiser, of St. Louis, have been matched for a bout here November 22, it was announced to-day.

Landis to Give Decision This Week After Players Have Had Their Say

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, intends to dispose of the cases of Babe Ruth and the other two members of the pennant-winning Yankees who violated baseball laws by participating in exhibitions, as soon as he hears what the offending players have to say for themselves. Indications to-day were that the decision may be expected before the end of the week.

Leslie O'Connor, secretary of the baseball commission, said that a questionnaire had been sent to Ruth, Bob Meusel and Bill Pierce, which would give them a chance of explaining their actions, but that no reply had been received from any of them.

Baseball observers were of the opinion to-day that if the three offenders fail to communicate with Judge Landis their punishment is likely to be more severe than that meted out to any of them.

PEPE MULDOON BUSY GATHERING PLAYERS

Smiling Pilot of Seattle Mets Has Three Men Ready for Fray Already

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—The opening of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association season is one month away, but the wheels are already turning in Seattle. Pete Muldoon, the smiling skipper of the Seattle Metropolitans, arrived on the ground from Vancouver, B. C., yesterday morning, and before the sun had set he had turned in a pretty good day's work.

Peter came away from the annual meeting of the coast puck moguls, held in Vancouver last week, with two players signed toward this season's septette. Yesterday, his first day here, he rounded up Harry Holmes, last year's captain, and saw to it that Seattle's crack goalie affixed his John Hancock to a contract. Roy Rickey, the big defence man, and Gordon Fraser, a stout looking youngster whom Muldoon raked in from the folds of the Big Four, are the others who have signed.

Whirlwind Third-sacker Fumbles Two Out of Every Five Grounders Hit Him, But by His Amazing Speed Recovers Ball Very Quickly

New York, Nov. 9.—Let's consider Frankie Frisch.
He's a youngster ranked by the National League pundits in this fashion:
"The greatest third baseman in the game."
All of which brings this statement in rebuttal:
"No man ever played in the big leagues who made as many of his infielding ground balls than this same Frankie Frisch."
The youthful collegian doesn't average three clean picks out of every five grounders bumped into his general direction. Whether his hands are too small to hold them or whether he lacks the judgment necessary for the correct placing of his hands is a debatable quizz.

But the fact is indisputable that Frisch cannot field cleanly.
Yet he makes but few errors.
How come?
Speed of arms, cat-like movement of the legs and a rifle bullet throwing arm.

Lacking his amazing speed, Frisch perhaps couldn't hold a job with a Class BB club. Plus that speed he is a major leaguer.
Times without number during the recent world series balls were smacked down to Frisch. He'd set himself, shove down his cupped hands and boom! The ball would hit his hands, his wrists or his arm and bounce away. But no matter how speedily it bounced Frisch would bounce just a bit faster after it.

Always Gets Runner.
It wouldn't seem possible for him to get his man after fooling, especially if the runner was fast. But Frisch, somehow, somehow, would get the ball, whip it across the diamond and beat the runner by an eyelash. It didn't happen just once. It happened perhaps ten times in the series.

Without doubt Frisch has the greatest throwing arm among the infielders of baseball. It is almost unerring in its accuracy, and no matter from what angle he shoots he seems to be able to put chain lightning speed into the throw.

When other third basemen let loose it is possible to follow the ball across the lot to the first baseman's mitt. When Frisch whizzes all you see is the whirl of the bat, and no receiving motion of the initial sack guardian.

Great On Offensive.
Speed? Whew!
Offensively Frisch is a star. He can hit with splendid success. He isn't of the slugger type. He's more of a Willie Keeler, placing his hits where they do the most good. His speed enables him to get his bat in at least a score of infield tags a year, while the same speed made it possible for him to lead both leagues in base stealing by a few dozen miles.

But until Frisch learns how to handle a ball cleanly he cannot be ranked as truly great. Whether he'll ever learn the knack is a question. He played on the sand as a kid and couldn't do it. He played with Fordham College and no one could teach him to do it. He went with the Giants and saw John McGraw couldn't teach him successfully.

A Lesson To Learn.
And so it would seem that Frisch, speed king; Frisch of the mighty arm, the smooth-working brain, and Frisch the hitter, must fall short of ranking among the immortal play baseball simply because he cannot acquire the first principle of baseball, which is:
"Learn to catch the ball."

Gordon Fraser, the Alberta Defence Lad, Is to Figure With the Mets

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—The opening of the Pacific Coast Hockey Association season is one month away, but the wheels are already turning in Seattle. Pete Muldoon, the smiling skipper of the Seattle Metropolitans, arrived on the ground from Vancouver, B. C., yesterday morning, and before the sun had set he had turned in a pretty good day's work.

BOXING BIFFS

M'TIGUE WINS AGAIN.
Montreal, Nov. 9.—Mike McTigue, lightweight champion of Canada, defeated Jack Stone, New York, in the eighth round of a scheduled ten-round bout.

Davis Defeats Billings.

Fred Kelly, Billings's sparring partner, lost a decision to Jimmy Storey, local welter.

Duffy Winner.
Los Angeles, Nov. 9.—Jimmy Duffy, 145-pounder, of Oakland, last night defeated Alex Trabitas, of Portland, in the main event at Vernon Arena.

It was Duffy's bout from the beginning, according to sport writers. In the semi-windup Danny Edwards, of Oakland, easily won from Ray Stone, of Portland. They met at 115 pounds.

McCarty contributed 117 runs to the Australians and Ryder 58. The South Africans made one run for one wicket. Play continued to-day.

New York, Nov. 9.—Watson M. Washburn, for several years one of the nation's ranking tennis players, and a member of the last American Davis Cup team, will leave New York this week to take up duties as assistant city clerk, defeated by opponent, while three weeks ago last Saturday they won from the Vancouver victors in matches played here.

COAST HOCKEY RULES MAY BE USED IN EAST

Ottawa Hockey Club to Propose Important Changes to N.H.L. Constitution

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—The Ottawa Hockey team will suggest at the annual meeting of the National Hockey League, three important changes in the rules of the Eastern professional hockey series.

They will propose the adoption of the Pacific Coast play-off system with a straight schedule of 48 games and the first and second teams playing at the conclusion of this home-and-home games to decide which team should qualify for the Stanley Cup series. This would do away with the National League's split schedule arrangement, in vogue for the last four years.

Want Real Penalty Rule.
The Ottawas also will move for a return to the old penalty system whereby an offending player goes to the penalty bench, while his team plays short. This would replace the substitute system which the N. H. L. had in operation last year. There would be at least five men on the ice at all times, and a second penalty if incurred, would be deferred until the first one had been served.

In addition, the Ottawas suggest the adoption of a modified scale of the goalkeeper's pass out, which has become so popular at the Coast. They would sanction the forward pass from the goalkeeper to the first red line, a distance of 40 feet. The Ottawas claim that this should speed up hockey, as it makes the goalkeeper one of the most important cogs offensively as well as defensively in every team.

Toronto St. Patricks will be requested to second Ottawa's motion on these changes. They will come up at the annual meeting of the N. H. L., which will be held at Toronto at the latter part of this week.

Frisch, the Giants' Star, Can't Catch the Ball

London, Nov. 9.—When the Welsh players began to astonish the Rugby world with their development of the four three-quarter play, it was generally thought that this sort of thing represented the practical limit of invention, so far as the game was concerned.

Few people had any idea that forward play would come under reform also, but in the last ten years it is in this department of the game that something almost approaching revolution has taken place.

The modern Rugby forward has traveled far since the days when a hefty pack of scrummagers thought that their sole mission was to get their heads down and push the other fellow off the ball in the line. His was to get there. It used to be the proud boast in Yorkshire that the county forwards were strong enough to push the side of a house down. But where do the Yorkshire forwards stand nowadays in the modern game?

Speed and Brains Count.
It is not so much beef and brawn that counts to-day in forward Rugby football, but wind and brains. The present-day forward has to use his hands, if anything. Certainly his hands, if anything, used to be his pride. Some folk like to crack up some of the giants of the olden days, and no doubt, in their own particular line, and as the game used to be played, they were very hot stuff.

If they were to be put up against one of our quick-thinking, quickly-sprung forwards, I think they would be run off their feet. The pack would kill them.

Some people hold to the contrary view, and much the same opposition was shown to the four-quarter game when it was just introduced. Advocates of muscularity thought that it could be smashed up by sheer force, but the clever Welsh backs proved the intelligent attack, based on carefully-thought-out plans, with subtle methods of manoeuvre, and accuracy of execution, would always beat the opposition that believed in the gospel of force.

It Has Come to Stay.
So the four three-quarter game conquered, and it came to stay. There is an attempt to further improve on the system by the introduction of a fifth man to the line, but only a few clubs follow this policy, which is not likely to become general.

Great On Offensive.
Speed? Whew!
Offensively Frisch is a star. He can hit with splendid success. He isn't of the slugger type. He's more of a Willie Keeler, placing his hits where they do the most good. Beef and Brawn Are Displaced by Speed And Brains in Rugby

Agnes Ayres, Paramount's newest star, will have cause to remember her last appearance as a leading woman in a Paramount picture. She was elevated to stardom by Paramount while working as leading woman with Thomas Meighan in "Cappy Ricks," a compilation of Peter B. Kyne's breezy stories of the sea, which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre all week.

The company directed by Tom Forman spent some time in the Maine coast off which the wreck scenes were made. After returning from the locations Miss Ayres received instructions to report in Hollywood to begin her first picture as a star.

To overpower, single-handed and unarmed, a roomful of Apache gunmen, immediately afterwards four armed policemen, and then to climb via window to the roof is no inconceivable feat; but it was accomplished by the valorous "Tarzan," the man hero of "The Revenge of Tarzan," which will be shown again to-day at the Royal Victoria Theatre. Agd the unfortunate Apaches are ready to testify that their exhaustion wasn't faked for the camera. Several of them, as a matter of fact, were laid up in the studio hospital for several days, and the muscles of Gene Pollard, who plays "Tarzan," were forever after regarded with a wholesome awe.

"The Revenge of Tarzan," a sequel to the famous "Tarzan of the Apes," by Edgar Rice Burroughs, was filmed by the Numa Pictures Corporation and is being distributed by Goldwyn. With a good Christie Comedy which gives "Tarzan" a slow motion Golf Picture showing how the game should be played, the programme of pictures has been well looked after. Miss Ivy Holt will again be heard in two new songs that will no doubt please any audience.

Tall girls and young, who have dejectedly concluded that their more than average height or weight precludes their ever being as beautiful or attractive as their smaller sisters, should read these remarks by and about Betty Bythe, who is regarded as one of the most beautiful women on the screen, and step forth with a new lease on personal charm.

Miss Bythe is tall—five feet eight inches in the flattest of flat heels, which she never wears for reasons which she gives below. To continue with statistics, she is considerably above average weight—about a hundred and fifty pounds.

Rather than considering her height as a detriment to beauty, Miss Bythe, on the contrary, regards it a distinct asset and declares that any tall girl has an advantage over the woman of average inches and build. "Tall women are primarily individual," she declares. "There are a hundred average women to every one of more than average height. There are a few tall women with a big advantage to start with. Without taking any other elements into consideration, she is distinctive because of her height. I believe that a hundred average women are all more or less alike."

"As for high coiffures," continued Miss Bythe, "a tall girl is exactly the person who can wear them. If a little short girl piles her hair high on top of her head, it is over-balancing. When a tall girl does it, the proportion is perfect and the effect usually very charming. That is just one example of the individuality that belongs to the tall girl and not to the average woman."

In dress, she also maintains, the tall woman has a wonderful opportunity to exercise the utmost distinction. She may wear picturesque and unusual gowns that other women would look ridiculous. She may cultivate poise and an unique staidness of carriage that may become strikingly characteristic.

"When I was a kid in college," she relates, "I used to bemoan the fact that I was tall, and would probably be taller before I grew up. One night, in a San Francisco theatre, I saw a famous actress who was tall and yet whom everyone regarded as the paragon of stately and distinctive charm and beauty. Right there I decided that if she could be tall and charming so could I."

Miss Bythe's individuality and beauty are most apparent in "Mother O Mine," Thomas H. Ince's latest Associated Producers drama, in which she is appearing in a leading role at the Dominion Theatre. On the screen, she stands out as apart from other women, and her costumes, her coiffures, and her queenly bearing demonstrate that the rules she has evolved for tall women have worked out to splendid advantage in her own case.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT OF NATIONS LEAGUE TELLS ITS STATUS

World Assembly Grown More Cautious, Says Wellington Koo

(By H. V. Kalienborn)
Geneva, Nov. 9.—The League of Nations has two functions, minor and major. Its minor function, involving international organization or humanitarian work, is performing extremely well. The exercise of its larger function, relating to disarmament and universal peace, will be a matter of slow growth. A decade or more may pass before it can show concrete results here.

Wellington Koo, President of the Council of the League of Nations, gave this frank summary of the League's status. The second meeting in session at Geneva has brought to many minds questions as to the League's growth and present power. Practically all of them agree with the general conclusions of President Koo.

The League has grown more cautious, he added. "Comparing the 1921 meeting with last year's I should say that we have become more prudent and more conservative. One thing is patent to any one who attends the sessions of the Council, Assembly and Commissions—the League is not a superpower. It is a world in general and America in particular. It is not a League of Nations and could not derogate national sovereignty."

I attended the session of the League Council on the Polish-Lithuanian controversy. Here were some of the world's greatest statesmen—Balfour, Lach, Bourgeois, Koo—listening with the utmost patience to the petty fulminations of the representatives of the two little countries engaged in the controversy. They were neither tactful nor skillful nor interesting, yet they were permitted to speak repeatedly and at length. The members of the Council pleaded with them to be reasonable, pointing out the advantage to both countries in accepting a settlement worked out after a year's study by Paul Hymans of Belgium.

And when the two belligerents, respectively, were told that the Council only added that they were very sorry and would recommend the Hymans settlement to the Assembly, it was not to be expected that either would acquiesce. The members of the Council pleaded with them to be reasonable, pointing out the advantage to both countries in accepting a settlement worked out after a year's study by Paul Hymans of Belgium.

More Than Debating Society?
But is the League anything more than a debating society? Is it accomplishing anything worth while? I put that question to H. A. L. Fisher, British Minister of Education, the most active of Great Britain's representatives here. He answered promptly and with emphasis: "The League is a real power. It is a League before which any nation may plead its case and have the assurance of being heard. It can bring to the attention of the world the opinion of a public, it is a great moral force. Moreover the League is indispensable to the execution of the treaties of peace. I believe that it has secured peace less than 75 times in the Treaty of Versailles. The League is actually governing such territories as Danzig and Lithuania, and it is also providing a definite settlement of such controversies as that between Poland and Lithuania over its prestige."

"I don't see why Poland and Lithuania both agreed to abstain from further fighting and referred the controversy to the League for settlement. They have been kept from fighting for more than a year because of the League's intervention. That is a great accomplishment. After all, one of the most important things in connection with the elimination of war is to provide means for delaying the clash of arms."

One Accomplishment; One Failure.
The 1921 meeting of the League Assembly was in history. Many great things were accomplished and one great failure. The accomplishment is the creation of the Permanent International Court. The failure is the disappointing report on the reduction of armaments.

ASK YOUR DRUGGIST FOR CARNOL

Universally known among the international lawyers here. While there was some feeling with regard to the Spanish speaking combination which secured a disproportionate number of the judges, it has nearly all disappeared. Several members of the Council told me that they considered the election as proving the important part the small Powers are playing in the affairs of the League. The list of judges shows that while the Big Five have one representative each on the court, the little countries have a total of six votes, giving them the majority.

The disappointing report presented to the Assembly by the Committee on Disarmament consists largely in a rehearsal of the difficulties which it encountered in its studies. It is only fair to say that a good many of those difficulties grew out of the fact that the United States is not a member of the League. None of the big Powers showed any disposition to co-operate in any disarmament move to which the United States is not a party.

H. A. L. Fisher on Disarmament.
This explains the great interest manifested here in the forthcoming conference in Washington. It was based on the disarmament discussions here as the representative of the British government. Was the conference really a Disarmament Conference or a conference on the problems of the Pacific? Would there be any attempt to work out a new League on the basis of the conference? Would there be a recognition of the different problems involved in naval disarmament and land disarmament? Would the export of arms and munitions be discussed?

On this last point I had an interesting talk with H. A. L. Fisher, British Minister of Education, who has participated in the disarmament discussions here as the representative of the British government. Was the conference really a Disarmament Conference or a conference on the problems of the Pacific? Would there be any attempt to work out a new League on the basis of the conference? Would there be a recognition of the different problems involved in naval disarmament and land disarmament? Would the export of arms and munitions be discussed?

There is one other matter I should like to see discussed at the Washington Conference—the possibility of controlling the private manufacture of arms and ammunition. A group of initiative of President Wilson the evils of private manufacture were referred to in the League Covenant. Unfortunately nothing has yet been done to mitigate them. I recognize that this is a more difficult subject, particularly in your country. Yet something should be done to prevent such a propaganda of war and hatred as was carried on by the Krupp concern before 1914.

There is great hope that the Washington Conference will be productive of results. There will be no jealousy if Washington sees more accomplished than Geneva. Wellington Koo, president of the League Council, expects to be in Washington with credentials from the Chinese Government. It is hardly possible to not to consider him as representing also the League of Nations. He himself is a true cosmopolitan and his country lacks nothing in terms of its devotion to the ideals of peace. "The Washington Conference and the League are working for the same end," he said. "I am confident of all hoping that it may accomplish great results. It is doing the League's work."

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness and inability to retain food are in probably nine cases out of ten, simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion. Gas distends the stomach and causes full, oppressive, burning feelings sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop this souring of the food contents of the stomach and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, Magnesia is a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quart of a glass of hot water, after eating whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antacid, such as Magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so be certain to ask for and take only Bisulphate Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.
