MEMORANDUM FOR: Mr. David N. SUTTON
FROM: Richard H. LARSH, Investigator
SUBJECT: Burned Documents

Mr. HAYASHI of the Archives Section of the Foreign Office who prepared the volume which lists all documents which were burned either by accident or deliberately explains the notations, "obscure," "unknown," and "existent" as follows:

The "obscure" and "unknown" refer to numbers of copies which were once held by the ministry. The different words come about as a translation matter. The original uses the kanji characters for "fumei" which may be read as either "unknown" or "obscure". Mr. HAYASHI assumes me it should be unknown in any case where it is used in his compilation. As our translation was done by various translators, it is quite understandable that this could occur.

The word "existent" will be found applied only to main headings or major sub-headings and means that that particular heading is partly available but that the documents listed beneath it are burned.

The only other instance where "unknown" will be found is where it applies to the title of a file. The file number may be at the left of the page but the title may be unknown. This arises because the master files were destroyed and in repairing the damage done by fire raids in some cases only numbers of files were legible and their contents were destroyed.

LIST OF DOCUMENTS BURNT IN THE FOREIGN OFFICE

(SHOWA Era /T.N. After 1926/)

Archives and Documents Section,
Foreign Minister's Secretariate

INTRODUCTION

This is the list of documents of the SHOWA Era, which had been in custody of the Archives and Documents Section of the Foreign Minister's Secretariate and were burned in the war. The numbers of the burnt volumes in this list has been computed by the list for office use, as the original list was burned, and is thought to differ to certain extent with the original numbers. Documents regarding the China Incident, the Second European War and the Pacific War are throught to have been compiled in about 1,500 volumes, but the number of these volumes is not mentioned on this list, as it is omitted in the above mentioned list for office use.
