

Wiki Loves Folklore 2024

What is Wiki Loves Folklore

Wiki Loves Folklore (WLF) is an annual international photographic competition held on Wikimedia commons during the month of February, organized worldwide by Wikipedia community members with the help of local Wikimedia affiliates across the globe

History

Started globally in 2019 as Wiki Loves Love.
Name changed to Wiki Loves Folklore since 2020.

Completed 5 years in 2023.

Dates and Prizes

1st February 2024 - 31st March 2024

Prizes

- 1st prize: 400 USD
- 2nd prize: 300 USD
- 3rd prize: 100 USD
- Top 10 consolation prizes: 50 USD Each
- Best Video prize and best Audio prize: 50 USD & 50 USD
- Top uploader prize for images: First Prize: 300 USD, Second prize: 150 USD
- Wiki Loves Folklore Postcards to top 100 Uploaders
- Certificates and postcards to Local Organizers.

(Disclaimer: Prizes to be dispersed in a gift card or voucher format.)

How to Participate

- Sign up/Log to Wikimedia commons.
- Image must be uploaded using the upload link on project page.
- User must select their country using the dropdown while uploading the image and declare whether they have taken consent.
- Image must have Template `{{Wiki Loves Folklore 2024}}` and must be in the category `Category:Images from Wiki Loves Folklore 2024` on Wikimedia Commons
- Image must be licensed under Creative Commons License.
- Image must be under Wikimedia Commons project scope

Checklist

- It is important that copyrighted images are not uploaded during contest.
- Image preferred with EXIF data.
- Images must be properly categorized.
- Images must not have a watermark.
- Images must not be excessively processed and digitally altered.
- Pornographic and explicit images.
- Image must not be out of scope

Stats

So far we at international level Wiki Loves Folklore has received

79,844+ IMAGES

6,414 USERS

168 COUNTRIES

Feminism and Folklore

We also have Feminism and Folklore is an international writing contest organized at Wikipedia annually in the month of February and March to document folk cultures and women in folklore in different regions of the world on Wikipedia.

The basic aim of the competition is to collect articles on human cultural diversity in the worldwide free encyclopedia Wikipedia and other Wikimedia Foundation projects. This year we focus on folk culture around the globe, with a particular attention to closing the gender gap, as we are partnering with other affiliates and groups across the world.

600+ Volunteers from 41 Wiki Communities spread all across the globes have impacted 20,000+ articles during the campaign

THANK YOU

TIME FOR Q & As

Hands on Let's Get Practical: