ADDENDA.

150a. In all cases in which a knowledge of the crime committed is proved or may be presumed from the evidence, and in which together with that knowledge any act or acts done with a view of assisting the principal criminals are proved before the magistrate, the parties against whom such evidence exists should be committed for accessaryship after the fact and not for privity to the crime itself. Reports L. P. 1856, part 2, page 481. Accessaryship after the fact is proved by knowledge of the crime and acts done to assist the principal;

159b. It is not necessary in order to make parties accessaries after the fact, that there should be evidence of any direct act of personally receiving, comforting, or assisting the principal, but any act done impeding or tending to impede the course of justice will make the party doing it, with knowledge that the crime has been committed by the principal, an accessary after the fact. Where the prisoners with such knowledge aided and assisted the principal in burying the corpse of the murdered woman during the night with a view of concealing the crime, and thus enabling the offender to evade justice, they were found guilty of being accessaries after the fact, and were sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment with labor and irons. Case of Azim Khan and others, N. A. November 21, 1859. or acts done impeding or tending to impede the course of justice.

341a. A session judge cannot prevent a magistrate or other officer having original jurisdiction from taking up a case de novo, which has been struck off in default, the accused not having been put on trial. Letter of N. A. to Judge of Tirhoot, No. 202, April 16, 1859. Judge cannot interfere to bar trial;

371a. The following rules are prescribed for the trial of cases in which the accused persons are numerous. First.—In all complaints and depositions recorded by the magistrates, they shall be careful to ascertain such particulars of the parties accused as shall unmistakably indicate the persons spoken of, giving the names of their fathers and of their place of residence, or, failing these, some other particulars which should as far as possible fix the identity of each individual. Second.—Magistrates shall invariably record in one, or in successive proceedings, if necessary, the names and description of those, whom, not being already arrested, it is their purpose to prosecute for the offence in question. Third.—Magistrates shall direct their police officers to record the same particulars in all complaints and informations taken by them. C. O. No. 52, October 29, 1857, L. P. The identity of each person accused to be fixed by a particular description in complaints and depositions. Magistrate to record the names of those not arrested whom he intends to prosecute. Police to identify each of the accused.

376a. When a subordinate officer, exercising the full powers of a magistrate, after hearing evidence against prisoners charged with an offence, for which he is not competent to award punishment, directs their acquittal on the ground of the insufficiency of that evidence, the magistrate, forming a different estimate of the credibility of such evidence, can without taking further evidence revise the proceedings, and setting aside the order of acquittal, commit the accused to the sessions for trial. Reports L. P. 1859, page 231. Where an order of acquittal was passed by an assistant with full powers in a case beyond his competence, the magistrate was held competent to commit on the same evidence.

382a. The law requiring orders to be written in the vernacular of the officer passing the same, is limited to three distinct provisions; first,—that the officer is acting judicially; second,—that the order is a decision, sentence, or final order; third,—that the order shall be signed in court at the time of making it. But the officer may record in his own language orders or opinions to which the law does not refer, if he has any special reasons for so doing; and he may write his judgment in open court when able and inclined to do so. C. O. No. 4, May 18, 1859, L. P. Note of the actual requirements of this law.

Mr. Robinson's mode of arranging records.

Note.—The original is slightly altered to make it correspond with the present form of the monthly statement.

A separate almiraah or range of shelves is assigned to each thana, and a catalogue of the misls contained in that almiraah is prepared. This catalogue has each page appropriated to one of the offences noted in [the magistrate's] statement No. 1; and the heading No. 41 "crimes and offences not specified above" is divided into

- | | |
|--|---|
| 43. Sodomy. | 53. Concealment of crimes by zumeendars and others bound to give information. |
| 44. Petty affrays and assaults. | 54. Abuse and slander. |
| 45. Bad character or vagrancy. | 55. Cases under Act IV. 1840. |
| 46. False accusations. | 56. Cases connected with the payment, appointment, &c. of chokeedars. |
| 47. Neglect of zumeendars to apprehend criminals. | 57. Trespass. |
| 48. Neglect of chokeedars in giving information of crimes or other faults. | 58. Inquests. |
| 49. Resistance of process. | 59. Kidnapping. |
| 50. Contempt of court. | 60. Complaints under Reg. VII. 1819. |
| 51. Absconding of convicts, and conniving at the same. | 61. Fraud. |
| 52. Misconduct of police officers and amlah, | 62. Poisoning or injuring animals, &c, |

Each page is superscribed with one of these offences ; as e. g. thus :

Thana Tirwah.

No. 3 Murder—other cases.

Year.	Parties.		Crime and place of crime.		Final order by magistrate.	Final order by session judge.	Final order by nizamat adawlut.	No. of criminals not apprehended.	No. of criminals whose names are unknown.	Remarks.
	Plaintiff.	Defendant.	Village.	Crime.

The misls are put up in cloths or bustahs, and are arranged in the order of statement No. 1. The bustahs are legibly superscribed with the No. of crimes they contain. The misls of one kind of crime are put up in a separate bundle or mootee, and a convenient number of bundles are tied up in each bustah. Thus in the right-hand upper corner of the almirah of thana of Tirwah, there is placed the first bustah superscribed in Persian Bustah of Thanah Tirwah.

Nos. 1 to 4.

No. 1. Murder by thugs.

No. 3. Murder—other cases.

No. 2. Murder on the river.

No. 4. Wounding with intent to murder.

and so on throughout the 62 headings as given above.—Each bundle is superscribed in Persian with the year and class crime to which it refers ; e. g.

Bundle of Thanna Tirwah.

No. 3. Murder—other cases. 2 misls.

Each misl is superscribed in Persian on the envelope with the crime,—the authority passing the last order—and the place where the crime occurred ; e. g.

No. 3. Wilful murder—Joint magistrate.—Mouzah Kudowlee. 1 case.

Each misl has of course its proper ferist or list of the papers it contains regularly numbered in a series.

In the record office are deposited only those papers on which definitive orders have been passed. In cases pending, the different classes of crimes are divided among the different amlah, and deposited in separate boxes, of which the amlah in charge has the key ; and for the safe custody of the papers that person is responsible. Thus, one box contains in four compartments the pending cases from Nos. 1 to 4, and these are under charge of the deputy serishtadar. He keeps the following register of the cases under his charge :

Thana, chokee, and place where crime occurred.	Names of parties.	Date of and kind of crime.	Date of case coming on the file of the court.	Value of property stolen.	Value of property recorded.	Officer who decides.	Cause of delay of final order.	Date of commitment.	Date of being before Session Judge.	Date of return from Session Judge & number of leaves in misl.	Date of return to mohafz-dufter
--	-------------------	----------------------------	---	---------------------------	-----------------------------	----------------------	--------------------------------	---------------------	-------------------------------------	---	---------------------------------

If any case is required from the record office, the person, in whose charge that class of case is, gives a receipt to the record-keeper, which is deposited in the bundle in the place of the misl taken away, and remains there till the misl is returned. The receipt specifies the number of papers contained in the misl. It is the business of the seristadar continually to inspect the above register, and to see that no negligence occurs in bringing forward the cases ; and to submit once a week to the magistrate an abstract showing the number of cases pending, the number in which the last order has remained unexecuted for 8 days, and the number in which the last order remains unexecuted notwithstanding the issue of a second order and the expiry of 16 days. You shall true answer make to all such questions as shall be demanded of you; so help you God.

Or,

The evidence you shall give in this case shall be the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; so help you God.

General form of oath to be administered to an English witness.

Note.—While this form is repeated to the witness, he is to hold the Bible in his hand, and at the close of it to kiss the book, thereby appealing to Heaven for the truth of what he is about to disclose. But it is not absolutely necessary to use this form, if the witness has a conscientious objection to the mode, or professes a religion which binds him by a different obligation; for oaths are to be administered to all persons according to their opinions and as it most affects their consciences. A Quaker or Moravian required to give evidence in a criminal case may, instead of taking an oath in the usual form, be permitted to make a solemn affirmation or declaration in these words: “I, A. B., do solemnly, sincerely, and truly declare and affirm”; which has the same force and effect in all courts of justice, and other places where by law an oath is required, as if such Quaker or Moravian had taken an oath in the usual form. Chitty’s Burn’s Justice.

Session Judge's Monthly and Annual, and Magistrate's Quarterly and Annual Statements.

GENERAL RULES.

C. O. No. 98, 27th June 1842, vol. 3.

3. To ensure any practical value in these returns, care and attention in their preparation, and unabated vigilance in their supervision, are absolutely essential. Your duty, in revising the magistrate's statements will be, not only to see that they are technically accurate, and that no part of the information they are expected to contain is wanting, but to ascertain, as far as they supply means of judging, whether the several officers subordinate to you have been assiduous in the discharge of their duties. You will notice any irregularity that may appear on the face of the statements, taking such immediate steps as consist with your competency to correct the same, calling for explanation on any points that may require it, and briefly stating on the return, under the head of remarks, the nature of any orders which you may have issued to the magistrate or his subordinates.

4. The above observations apply with equal force to all returns, monthly and yearly, submitted through your office. Your annual report on the administration of criminal justice should, besides, advert to the following general points.

5. Too exclusive stress appears to have been heretofore laid on the proportion borne by acquittals to convictions, in the number of persons apprehended on criminal charges, as well as in cases of commitment to the sessions, viewed as a criterion for estimating the efficiency of the administration of a district; the recognized principle having been, that any considerable disproportion between the number of persons apprehended in a zillah in any month, and the number whose cases the magistrate has been able to prosecute to punishment or commitment, must be regarded as presumptively showing that a great proportion had been subjected to seizure without reasonable grounds,—a rule which, though abstractedly true, is open, when adopted as an invariable test for judging of the efficiency or otherwise of a system, to the objections, on the one hand, of its causing a magistrate to desire the conviction and punishment of the parties tried and finally disposed of in his own court in order to show fair returns, and, on the other, of inducing the same officer to abstain from the commitment or to resist the apprehension, in the progress of an investigation, of all persons of whose conviction at the sessions he is not before certain, and of favoring the concealment and suppression of offences by the darogah of police from his over-caution not to send in persons without a certain quantum of proof to convict them, and his apprehension of being censured for so doing. Though, therefore, when the acquittals may much exceed the convictions, cause for enquiry is doubtless shown, which it should be your duty to institute, and the result of which you should note, yet you ought not to assume, as disparaging to the system of a district, a circumstance which may admit of satisfactory explanation, nor, on the other hand, pronounce a preponderance of convictions to indicate successful management, without first ascertaining how many judgments by the magistrate were appealed to and reversed by the session judge, or in how many cases the punishment on conviction was so light as to render it not worth while to appeal, and what was the issue of the commitments made to your court.

6. In reciting the detail of orders confirmed, modified, or reversed, by your court, in cases carried up in appeal by parties dissatisfied with the magistrate's decision, you will state what opinion of the general character of the proceedings of that officer, or of the authorities subordinate to him, such revision has enabled you to form. Any other circumstances which may appear to you worthy of being noted concerning this branch of your controlling duties, will be acceptable to the Court as a further means of estimating the efficiency of the magisterial body, and the success of their administration.

7. The opinion which you may form of the proceedings of the magistrate and his subordinates, from the result of the commitments made to your court, should be recapitulated in your report, with such prominent reference to particular cases, whether convictions, acquittals, or commitments cancelled during the year, as may serve to illustrate your remarks.

8. In reviewing the performances of the year, you will not fail to advert to the share taken by the several officers subordinate to the magistrate in the disposal of foudaree business, and to the manner in which they have severally discharged their duties. The magistrate should therefore be required to report specifically on these points, with reference to the joint magistrate and assistants (if any) under him, and to the native judges and law-officers. The services rendered in this department by the native judges should be distinctly brought into view, and the result of the appeals from their orders noticed by the magistrate.

9. The considerations in the foregoing paragraph, involving the nature and extent of the auxiliary agency in the criminal department, connect themselves closely with a subject to which your best attention should be directed, and which should be noticed in your report, viz., the long, moderate, or short duration of a criminal case, as affecting the convenience of parties and witnesses therein, and as indicative of a sound and effective system or the reverse. When therefore the average number of days during which cases were under trial in a district appears excessive, or when great variation of time may be known to exist between one year or district and another, the causes should be carefully investigated, and the principle of calculation tested, that is to say, whether the period is computed from the date of apprehension by the police (as it should be) or from the date of arrival at the sudder station of the magistrate.

10. As respects your own court, particulars will be expected of the extent of the use of the jury or assessor system in criminal trials, and the degree of success attending it, of the mode of selecting such agency (to illustrate which a new form No. 13 has been devised), and of the defects or abuses found or suspected to prevail in making use of it, with your opinion of the best remedy.

11. Besides the points noted, the court request that you will bring to their notice whatever you may consider worthy of remark either in the laws in force or in the instruments for administering them, comprehending such information of the condition of the district under you, as local experience and observation will readily supply, but to convey which the most elaborate figured statements would be inadequate.

12. In order to ensure the requisite information being furnished irrespectively of changes of officers, the court direct, that whenever a session judge may deliver over charge of his office preparatory to any thing beyond a temporary absence, he shall place on record a minute, containing particulars of the nature aforesaid, and his opinion on the several points to which allusion has been made, for the use of his successor, and eventually for submission to the court.

13. A supply of blank lithographed forms of each description of statement sufficient for immediate use, is herewith forwarded; and you will in future indent (a) on the Court for every fresh supply you may require, making such timely applications as to admit of the forms reaching you before those last furnished are entirely exhausted, so as to obviate delay in the submission of the statements at the prescribed period, or the necessity of having recourse to manuscript forms.

FOR THE PREPARATION

OF

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENTS.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. 1.

MONTHLY AND ANNUAL.

PART I.

Officers Employed.

1. The rules detailed in paragraphs 1 to 5 of the remarks relating to the magistrate's statements, regarding the reports to be made and the forms to be observed on the occasion of changes of officers, will be equally applicable to the session judges.

(b) Same as Magistrate's Statement No. 9, and therefore discontinued vide C. O. L. P. No. 11 of 1st December 1854, and W. P. No. 122, of 24th January 1855, para. 8.

(c) See paragraphs 115 and 116 of the Rules for the preparation of Magistrate's Statements.

2. Whenever a session judge delivers over charge of the current duties of his office to an officer not authorized to act as judge, he will call the attention of the relieving officer to the rules which define and limit the functions he is competent to discharge, as well as to the preparation and transmission of such statements and reports as the session judge may, under the rules in force, be required to submit to the Nizamut Adawlut, or to Government, as the case may be.—[See para. 1146.]

Columns 1(d), 2, 3 and 4.

3. These columns should present a transcript of columns 22, 23 and 24, of the statement relating to the period preceding that under report.

Column 5.

4. This column should be an exact counterpart of column 12, part 1, of the magistrate's statement No. 1, part 1.

5. Until the receipt of the roobakaree, which the magistrate is required, by paragraph 24 of the rules prescribed for his guidance, to send at the close of each month to the session judge, that officer should not prepare his statement No. 1.

6. Session judges are required, on first taking up a trial, carefully to compare the written charge on which the prisoner is committed, with the facts of the case as stated in the magistrate's roobakaree of commitment, and, in that stage of the proceedings, to cause the latter to rectify errors or supply omissions. When therefore, it may be necessary to direct any alteration of the charge on which a prisoner may have been committed, the session judge will distinctly indicate, in his order to the magistrate, the specific heading and number under which the case should be included in his statement No. 1, part 1; and the session judge will postpone entering the case in his own statement No. 1, until he receives intelligence from the magistrate of the order having been carried into execution.—[See paras. 1053 and 1054.]

7. A case is to be considered as pending before the sessions court, from the date of the commitment, of which the magistrate is required to give immediate notice to the session judge. The case should be regularly entered in the calendar of postponed trials, until finally disposed of by an order for conviction or acquittal, or by a reference to the Nizamut Adawlut. The same rule will apply whether the decision of the case may have been delayed, in consequence of further proceedings having been called for, or owing to the session judge not having entered upon it, or not having had time, after commencement, to complete it before the close of the month, or by the operation of any other cause.

Columns 6 and 7.

8. Cases remanded for further investigation or from other cause, and the persons appertaining thereto, will be entered in these columns.

9. Whenever a case originally referred to or called for by the Court, has been sent back to a session judge, he will report in the next letter submitting his monthly jail delivery statements, whether the further enquiry has been completed or not, and, if not, explain the causes which have prevented its completion; and he will continue to do so every month, until the further investigation has been completed, and the proceedings transmitted to the Court, which fact will also be duly noticed.

Columns 8 and 9.

10. Will be filled up in accordance with paragraph 16 of the magistrate's rules.

Column 10.

11. Will show the aggregate of columns 3, 4, 5, 7 and 9. A note is to be given in the column of remarks showing the number of persons included in this column, who have been discharged without trial. C. O. No. 96 of vol. 4. W. P.

Columns 11 and 12.

12. It has been determined that, under the spirit of the regulations in force, session judges are competent, under certain circumstances, to cancel commitments made by the magistrates of their respective zillahs; but they are required to use the greatest caution in exercising this power. [See paras. 1058 et seq.]

Columns 13 and 14.

13. The entries in these columns should be made in accordance with the principle laid down in paragraph 9 of the rules applicable to the magistrate's statements.

Columns 15 and 16.

14. Cases regularly referred for the final orders of the Nizamut Adawlut, under the law, should be exhibited in these columns, but not those which may have been called for by the Court.

Columns 17 and 18.

15. The proper entries in these columns are sufficiently denoted by the headings.
16. Session judges will notice, under the head of "Remarks," whenever the number of persons acquitted may greatly exceed the number of persons convicted, adding a brief statement of the probable causes which may have conduced to such a result.

Columns 19 and 20.

17. The use of these columns is sufficiently indicated by the headings.

Column 21.

18. The principle laid down in paragraph 28 of the magistrate's rules will regulate the entries in this column.

Columns 22, 23 and 24.

19. The principle contained in paragraphs 29, 30, and 33, of the magistrate's rules, should be followed, so far as they are applicable, in filling up these columns.

PART II. UNDER TRIAL.

20. The entries under this head will, during the month and at the close, be governed by the principle laid down in paragraphs 74 and 75 of the magistrate's rules.

PART III. CONVICTED AND SENTENCED.

21. The 1st and 2nd of the items, in the detail of years, given in this part, are intended to provide for cases in which the session judge may direct an additional period of imprisonment in lieu of corporal punishment, beyond the extreme limit of imprisonment which he is competent to award under the law.

22. The total of this part should correspond with the total of convictions in column 14, part 1.

PART IV.

23. In this part will be entered the total amount of fines imposed under Regulation II. of 1834, during the period to which the statement has reference, and the whole amount of fines realized under the Regulation cited, in whatever month they may have been imposed.

PART V.

25. The session judges, who have more than one magistrate or joint magistrate possessing separate jurisdiction subject to their authority, will, with statement No. 1, which includes the commitments of all the lower tribunals, send a separate statement for each magistracy or joint magistracy, in order that, in the event of any discrepancy, it may readily be traced to the zillah in which it occurred, and by a reference to the proceedings of that district be immediately corrected.

PART VI.

(See Rule 64.)

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. II.

[This statement is no longer required. It is sufficient, if any case or cases occur, to enter them in headings 42 and 43 of part 1, No. 1, giving in the margin thereof a note showing the definition of the offence. C. O. No. 11, December 1, 1854, L. P.; No. 122, January 24, 1855, W. P.]

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. III.

ANNUAL.

[The monthly return is no longer required. C. O. No. 11, December 1, 1854, L. P.; No. 122, January 24, 1855, W. P.]

PART II.

28. The number of persons should correspond with the number shown in part 1.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. IV.(e)

Columns 3 and 10.

29. Columns 3 and 10 should furnish a record of all appeals from orders of magistrates passed in criminal cases, in which the defendants may have been summoned or apprehended, and which have been entered by that officer in the current or preceding month's statement No. 1.

Columns 11 to 18.

30. These columns will be appropriated to the exhibition of appeals of every description from orders of the magistrates, which under the law are cognizable by session judges, comprehending all cases not susceptible of entry in the magistrate's statement No 1.

[See also rule 55.]

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. V.

MONTHLY AND ANNUAL

Abstract of Session Operations.

31. The entries in the first column will represent the number of cases on the file of the sessions court in the course of the month, the number decided during that period, and number pending at its close. The entries in column 2 will correspond with the aggregate of columns 3 and 4, the totals of columns 5, 7, 9, 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18 to 21, and the aggregate of columns 23 and 24 of statement No. 1, part 1; and the total of column 3, with the aggregate of columns 2 and 3, heading No. 5, statement No. 1, part 2.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. VI.(f)

MONTHLY.

Column 1.—Prisoners punished without reference to the Nizamut Adawlut.

32. The object of column 1 (the numbers entered in which should represent the numerical order in which the trials were decided at any given jail delivery) is to enable the court to identify a case in statements Nos. 7 and 8, in which some of the prisoners may have been convicted and others acquitted or referred; the number borne by any case of this mixed character will, accordingly, be the same in each of the statements. [See also rules 56, 58 and 59.]

Column 2.

33. In column 2 should be inserted the number borne by the prisoner in the session judge's record of trial; and, being intended more precisely to indicate the individual regard-

(e) See also para. 55 of these Rules.

(f) The bulk of these statements should be reduced as much as is possible, and they are to be prepared in clear and neat hand writing. C. O. No. 11, 1st December 1854, L. P. No. 122, January 24, 1855, W. P. See also Rule 61 as to the entry in column 9 of Statements 6 and 8, and column 13 of Statements 7 and 9, and first section of column 3 of Statement 10. The Western Court require the remarks recorded in Statements 6 and 8 to be written in two columns with a small blank space between, as the columns of a newspaper, for facility of perusal. C. O. No. 868, July 15, 1854. W. P.

ing whom explanation may be required by the superior court, on inspection of the statement, or whose cases may be called for, the greatest accuracy is essential in the entries of this column. [See also rules 56 to 59 and 61.]

Column 3.

34. Column 3 is inserted for the purpose of tracing the case in the session judge's statement No. 1: accordingly, the number entered in this column will correspond with the number of the offence under which the prisoners may have been brought on in statement No. 1. The total number of persons shown in this statement should correspond with the number entered in column 14 of the session judge's statement No. 1.

Column 10.

[See Rule 69.]

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. VII.(f)

MONTHLY.

Columns 1 to 3.—Criminal Trials regularly referred to the Nizamut Adawlut.

35. The remarks contained in the three preceding paragraphs apply to the first three columns of this statement also. Those cases alone, in which the session judges are not competent under the law to pass a final sentence, but are required to submit the case for the final orders of the Nizamut Adawlut, are to be entered in this statement. Cases which may be called for by the court on inspection of the monthly returns, or on the presentation of a petition, will not be entered in this statement. [See also rules 56 to 59.]

Columns 15 and 16.

36. The final roobakaree of the trial of a case should invariably record the order for referring the case to the superior court; and the date of such roobakaree should be entered in the first of these two columns; and in the second should be entered the date of the letter which accompanies the reference to the Nizamut Adawlut.

37. Session judges will enter the particulars in the first 16 columns of this statement, and leave the remaining columns to be filled up in the office of the Nizamut Adawlut.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. VIII.(f)

MONTHLY.

Prisoners acquitted by the Session Judge.

38. The principles contained in paragraphs 32, 33, and 34, apply equally to the first three columns of this statement, the total number of persons exhibited in which should correspond with the total of column 18 of session judge's statement No. 1, part 1. [See also rules 56 to 59 and 61 and 66.]

39. Instances having occurred of functionaries in charge of the office of the session judge, forwarding statements of prisoners punished without reference, or acquitted by the session judge, with the column of "explanation and remarks" blank, in consequence of the absence of the session judge on leave; the court direct that the session judges will in all possible cases prepare the statements before they avail themselves of their leave, or furnish the officer in charge with a certificate of the cause of their inability to do so, to be submitted with the statements.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. IX.(f)

MONTHLY.

Cases called for by the Nizamut Adawlut.

40. In this statement will be entered all cases submitted to the Nizamut Adawlut in conformity to special calls made for their transmission, as distinguished from such cases as are regularly referred under the law, which are entered in statement No. 7.

41. The principles contained in paragraphs 32, 33, and 34, have application to columns 1 to 3 of this statement likewise. Columns 1 to 17 will be filled up by the session judge and the remaining columns in the office of the Nizamut Adawlut.

[See also rules 56 to 59 and 61.]

Column 16.

42. In filling up this column, the session judge will be careful to distinguish between calls made by letter and those made by precept, thus:

By letter dated 9th September 1839, No. 1760.

By precept dated 10th September 1839, No. 602.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. X.(f)

MONTHLY.

Postponed Trials.

43. All trials in which the final sentence has not been passed up to the close of the month, should be entered in this statement, under the rule laid down in paragraph 7. Such entry should be regularly repeated until they may have been finally disposed of by an order for conviction or acquittal, or by a reference to the Nizamut Adawlut. The total number of persons, as shown in this statement, should correspond with the total number contained in columns 23 and 24 of the session judge's statement No. 1, part 1, and with heading 3, columns 2 and 3, part 2 of the same statement, and with the total of column 3 of the magistrate's statement No. 3, part 1. [See also rules 57, 60 and 61.]

44. The session judge will annex his remarks, explanatory of any delay that may have occurred in disposing of the commitments.

45. It being necessary to provide against the prolonged confinement of prisoners, in cases postponed by session judges, and also to afford sufficient time to procure the attendance of the necessary witnesses, the Court direct that no criminal trial shall be postponed by a session judge beyond the session of jail delivery which may be held next after the expiration of the period of six months from the date of commitment, except when, for special reasons, the session judge may be of opinion that it should be again postponed, when he will report the circumstances under which it has already been postponed, and the grounds on which he has formed his opinion, for the orders of the Court.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. XI.

ANNUAL.

[See Rule 65.]

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. XII.

ANNUAL.

47. In this statement will be entered all cases recorded as disposed of in statement No. 3, but not the appeals from the magistrate and his subordinates. The headings of the several columns sufficiently indicate their application, and render any rules unnecessary.

SESSION JUDGE'S STATEMENT No. XIII.

ANNUAL.

48. This statement is intended to exhibit the principle of selection of individuals to act as jury or assessors under Regulation VI. of 1832, in the conduct of criminal trials, by a reference to the rank, profession, and other similar particulars, of persons so selected, calculated to illustrate the working of the system, and the degree of success attending the practical application of the law.

GENERAL REMARKS.

50. It is incumbent on session judges carefully and promptly to revise the statements submitted to them by the magistrates, and immediately to notice any irregularity or excess of power exhibited in those returns, calling for, and demanding, explanations when necessary, and pointing out any errors that may be apparent in them; and, in forwarding the explanations of the magistrates or joint magistrates, session judges must invariably state whether they consider them to be sufficient or otherwise.

51. In regard to the statements submitted to the Nizamut Adawlut through the session judges, those officers should not consider themselves as merely the channel of transmission. The statements, after revision, should not only convey the necessary local information, but afford proof of the revising officer's attention having been vigilantly directed to the proper use of the information so supplied, which consists in the timely notice of those errors or excesses of authority that it may bring to light; and the Court request, therefore, that the session judges will note upon the statements any orders they may have issued in regard to them, and submit copies of any correspondence which may have taken place with the magistrate or joint magistrate on the subject. [See also No. 141 of the magistrate's rules.]

52. If session judges do not act thus, they not only fail to discharge the functions belonging to their office, to the detriment of their local utility in controlling the magistrates; but the correction of the errors is retarded until the inspection of the statements by the Nizamut Adawlut, and until the issue and transmission of the orders required on them. The time and attention of the Nizamut Adawlut are thus occupied by topics which, though in themselves of high importance, can be more effectually treated and disposed of by the local authorities.

53. Session judges will take measures to secure the punctual despatch of the statements at the prescribed periods: the main object of reports of this nature is defeated by their not being submitted to the authority, by whom they are to be revised, immediately after the close of the period to which they refer; and it is expected that in future the monthly statements will be submitted within 15 days after they have become due (vide paragraph 5 of the magistrate's rules), and the annual ones on or before the 1st of February of each year. [See rule 71.]

54. In submitting their monthly statements, the session judges will continue to accompany them with a letter reporting the close of the session, in the form given below, which, with a slight modification, is the same as the one heretofore in use. The information formerly contained in the memorandum appended to the letter, being now furnished in statement No. 5, will be omitted here. [See rule 62.]

To the Register of the Court of Nizamut Adawlut, Lower or North-Western Provinces.

SIR,

I have the honor to report, for the information of the Court of Nizamut Adawlut, that I held sittings in the sessions court on the 10th, 11th, 18th, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th, a period of nine days of the month of _____ 18 , during which time I examined 83 persons; and to submit the following statement connected therewith:

Nos. 1 to 6 and 9, Magistrate's Statements. [These are to be sent quarterly, i. e. made up to the last day of March, June, September, and December.]

Nos. 1, 4 and 5, Statements of persons brought to trial, appeals, and abstract of sessions operations.

.. 6. Statement of prisoners punished without reference.

.. 7. Register of criminal trials referred to the Nizamut Adawlut.

.. 8. Statement of prisoners acquitted by the session judge.

.. 9. Register of criminal trials, for the submission of which to the Nizamut Adawlut orders have been received during the month.

.. 10. Calendar of trials postponed.

Supplementary Rules.

Statement No. 4. 55. Appeals instituted under Act IV. 1843, from orders passed by magistrates in the exercise of the powers vested in them by 53rd George III. Chapter 155, and from those passed by them as justices of the peace, will be included in the first section of statement No. 4; and with a view to the eventual information of government, respecting the working and effects of the law first cited, a note will be appended in the column of remarks distinguishing those two classes of appeals from ordinary cases.

Statements Nos.
6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

56. It appearing to the court that the rules regarding the numbers to be borne by the prisoners and cases, respectively, in the session statements, are defective, and that a want of uniformity is the result, the following instructions are supplied.

57. All prisoners committed by a magistrate, in any one month, are numbered by that officer in his calendar of commitments in one continuous series, commencing and terminating with the month, the last serial number indicating the number of persons committed during that period. These numbers should be carefully retained by the session judge in column 2 of his statements Nos. 6 to 9, and column 1 of statement No. 10, as the case may be. Each magistracy will have a separate monthly series of numbers for prisoners committed to the sessions court, so that, if a session judge has three magistracies under him, there will be three series of numbers for prisoners. In districts where there may be two or more officers vested with the full powers of magistrate, the magistrate of the district will number in one series the whole of the prisoners committed by himself and his subordinates in any one month, and, to enable him to do this, will require the officers who have the power of making commitments, to furnish him with a report of the number of commitments made by each and the number of prisoners in each case.

Numerical series of prisoners.

58. With the object of bringing the particular series, to which such prisoners belong, more distinctly into view, session judges will note under each case, in column 1 of statements Nos. 6 to 9, the month in which it was committed.

59. The disposals by the session judge in any one month will prescribe the serial numbers to the cases, each series commencing with the first and terminating with the last case decided in each sessions, and the last number of the series being equal to the number of cases disposed of in the same period.

60. Under the above rules, the cases entered in statement No. 10 will be necessarily unprovided with numbers, and hence no column is assigned to that purpose.

Statement No. 10.

61. It is essential to the formation of a just estimate of the discretion exercised by the several officers, vested with the power of making commitments to the sessions, that the name of the committing officer should be recorded in each case, and this not only in one statement but in all in which such case may appear. This practice, however, has not been strictly and generally observed, owing, it is apprehended, to the absence of specific direction to that effect in the rules framed for the preparation of the session statements, which assume that the session judges are familiar with the scope and object of such record. To leave no doubt on the subject the Court are pleased to direct that session judges, when preparing their returns for submission to the court, will invariably specify in each of their statements, i. e. in column 9 of statements Nos. 6 and 8, in column 13 of statements Nos. 7 and 9, and in the 1st section of column 3 of statement No. 10, not only the official designation, but the name also of the committing officer.

Statements Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, and 10.

Name and official designation of committing officer to be specified invariably.

62. The court are pleased to direct that, when there may be no matter for entry in any of the sessions forms submitted to this court, sessions judges will pass their pen through the designation of such statement or statements in the letter prescribed by paragraph 54 of the rules, and that they will discontinue the transmission of blank returns, as heretofore usual in some districts.

When statements are blank, they should not be transmitted to the court.

63. The entries under headings Nos. 3, 31 and 32, of statement No. 1, part 1, will be governed by the principle laid down in paragraph 135 of the magistrates' rules.

Statement No. 1.

part 6.

64. The use of a form of statement is prescribed in order to show the manner which Act XVI. 1850 is applied, and will occupy the space below part 4 in No. 1. No. 58, May 13, 1851, L. P.

Statement No. 11.

65. In order that the annual statement No. 11 may be prepared in an uniform manner, the Court direct that it should include all persons confined in the zillah jails on requisition of security for good conduct or to keep the peace, the total number of whom will therefore correspond with the aggregate of persons shown in parts 4 and 6 of the magistrate's statement No. 2. W. P. October 21, L. P. November 23, 1852, No. 95.

Statement No. 8.

66. Cases of acquittal on the ground of insanity, are to be entered in statement No. 8 of acquittals for the month in which the trial was held. C. O. No. 31, September 28, 1849.

Statements Nos.

67. Such parts of statements 14 and 15 as apply to magistrates will be prepared by those officers and submitted at the close of each year to the session judge, who will embody them in one statement with the particulars of his own court. Columns 1 and 2 of statement No. 11 will be filled up by the magistrate, and column 3 by the session judge; while columns 4, 5, and 6 will be prepared by the Sudder Court. As regards statement No. 15 the magistrate and session judge will enter such offences as they can respectively pass sentence for; and the statement when received by the Sudder Court will, as to those cases disposed of by them, be filled up in their office. C. O. No. 102, January 26, 1853, L. P.

Statement No. 15.

68. The total number of offenders in column 1, statement No. 15 will agree with the total given in column 10, part 1 of the magistrate's statement No. 1, added to the total of columns 3 and 4 of the session judge's statement No. 1, part 1. The total number of convictions in column 24, statement No. 15, will agree with the aggregate convictions shewn in part 6 of the magistrate's statement No. 1, and part 3 of the session judge's statement No. 1. The total of column 27 of statement No. 15 will correspond with the total of columns 18 and 19 of the magistrate's statement No. 1, added to that of columns 23 and 24 of the session judge's statement No. 1, part 1: and column 28 will show the number of offenders whose cases were referred for the orders of the Nizamut Adawlut. C. O. No. 9, October 10, 1854, L. P.

69. A similar statement to No. 15, was required in the Western Provinces by C. O. No. 97, October 26, 1852; and by the same C. O. a return in the subjoined form showing the number of prisoners in jail during each of the last five years.

Statement No. 6.

70. The court,—having observed that several of the session judges in these Provinces in preparing their statements of prisoners punished without reference to the Nizamut Adawlut, instead of entering at length in column 10 the crime established against the prisoner, content themselves with inserting therein the words “as charged,” notwithstanding that column 9, in which the charge is required to be entered, very frequently contains two or more distinct counts, on all of which a conviction could not be had,—are pleased to prohibit the practice, and to direct that, whether the specific crime found be or be not the same in all respects as that charged, it shall invariably be inserted in full in column 10, according to the evident intention of that column. It will be the duty of the session judges to see that this column is properly filled up, and that the entries in it are not left entirely to their English clerks. C. O. No. 1291, August 30, W. P. No. 28, September 23, L. P. 1856.

71. Delay in transmitting the annual statements generally arises from the fact that they are often not received from the subordinate authorities so as to admit of their being submitted within the prescribed time, or that they arrive in an imperfect state, and that it is found necessary to return them for correction. Judges are to direct their subordinates to commence the preparation and revision of their statements in December, so as to have them as far advanced as possible before the end of the year. The addition of the December returns will then be a work of comparatively little trouble. Judges are also to impress on their subordinates the necessity of careful revision of the statements in order to ensure their correctness, and to avoid the necessity of their being returned; and are to point out to them that the court consider the punctual despatch of correct statements an important duty, the neglect of which will not be overlooked by the court in the comparative estimate of their qualities as public officers. These directions are equally applicable to the judges' offices, and they are to hold in mind that the utility of periodical reports is seriously impaired and often entirely destroyed by delay in the receipt of them. C. O. No. 47, November 25, 1850. L. P.

Delay in transmitting statements to be avoided.

72. The annual criminal report is to be prepared in the form annexed, which is framed so as to show the exact state of the files under each head at the close of the year reported on; the amount of business transacted generally by all the officers exercising criminal powers; the proportion of convictions and commitments to acquittals in heinous crimes, and the general analysis of acquittals; the number and results of the commitments and appeals before the session judge; the average duration of cases; and the periods of detention of witnesses. The report is invariably to embrace the opinion of the session judge and the magistrate in regard to the official character and qualifications of the several joint magistrates, deputy magistrates, and assistants, covenanted or uncovenanted, employed in the district under the control of the judge. Any general observations, which the judge, or magistrate, may have to offer on the results exhibited in the statements, or on the criminal administration generally, should be appended to the report prepared in this form. This report and the annual statements must be forwarded to the sudder court on or before the 1st February.

C. O. No. 106, April 26, L. P. No. 894, June 18, W. P. 1853.

73. In order that the commissioners of divisions, in their capacity of superintendents of police, may be kept fully informed of the course and results of the trials held upon the commitments made by the several officers exercising magisterial authority under them, session judges are required, after the despatch to the court of their monthly statements of the cases of prisoners convicted and acquitted, to forward the office copies of those statements for the perusal of the commissioners, to whose circles the districts may appertain. The commissioners are required to return these office copies, after perusal, to the judges within a brief period, not exceeding one week after their receipt. C. O. No. 115, of vol. 4. W. P.

Office copies of monthly statements to be forwarded to commissioner for perusal.

APPENDIX E.

MAGISTRATE'S RULES.

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. 1.

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL.

PART I.

Officers Employed.

1. Under this head should be entered the name of the officer employed and his official designation, and, if any changes have taken place, the date of each officer's entering on office, and the date of his delivering over charge. [See rules 112 and 113.]

* C. O. January

2. Each such change should be immediately reported to the Nizamut Adawlut, through the judge of the district,* by the magistrate or joint magistrate delivering over and receiving charge; and the magistrate will, in like manner, report the occurrence of all such changes among his assistants.

3. A copy of the order under which an officer may deliver over charge of his office need not accompany the report; but the authority for so doing, the date of order, and the nature of the power vested in the relieving officer, should be stated in the report.

4. Magistrates and joint magistrates, on delivering over charge of their offices, are required to furnish the relieving officer with a list of all unanswered letters, and of all periodical reports and statements which, having become due, have not been forwarded to the court. A certificate of this list having been severally given and received, will accompany the report required by paragraph 2.

5. Periodical reports and statements are to be considered as due immediately on the expiration of the month, quarter, or year, to which they relate.

Description of Crimes.

6. The Court have had frequent occasion to notice the loose and immethodical manner in which magistrates enter an offender in this statement. Instead of recording him under the heading provided for his offence by the statement, he is frequently entered under a new head introduced into the miscellaneous class, in terms unnecessarily detailed. For example, the designation "killing by shooting with a matchlock with previous intent to kill," is perhaps resorted to, when the term "wilful murder" both represents the offence with greater accuracy and precision, and is more consonant with usage. By increased attention to the systematic classification† of offenders, with reference to the offences with which they stand charged, the Court are of opinion that the catalogue of miscellaneous offences is susceptible of being much reduced.

† See rule 143.

7. From the vague and ill expressed wording of the headings meant to designate miscellaneous offences, it is moreover apprehended that these entries are often the result of a merely literal translation from the Urdu catalogue of offences made in the office of the magistrate, who ought, however, to satisfy himself that such translations represent the offences in an idiomatic and intelligible way.

8. It not unfrequently happens that a party, brought before the magistrate for a particular offence, on investigation by that officer, is ascertained to have been guilty of another of a graver character on which the magistrate convicts or commits him; but there does not appear to be any uniform and fixed principle of entering such cases in the periodical statements. To supply this defect, the Court of Nizamut Adawlut are pleased to direct that the statements shall be prepared in accordance with the following rules.

9. When out of several individuals apprehended and sent in, in any one case, some are convicted or committed for various offences, and some are acquitted, the whole of the prisoners implicated in the case should be entered in the 10th and preceding columns, under the heading which designates the gravest offence for which one or more of them may have been sent in; the acquittals being noted in column 13 under that offence, and the convictions in column 11 under the lesser offence or offences of which they may be respectively found guilty by the magistrate, a note being also furnished under the head of "remarks," indicating the particular heading under which the offender originally appeared, and the commitments in column 12 under the gravest crime for which it may be thought proper to commit one or more individuals in the case. [See rules 90 and 135.]

10. In like manner, when one or more offenders stand charged with more than one offence partaking of the same character, they should be entered in the 10th and preceding columns under the graver offence, regard being had to the rule contained in paragraph 9 concerning the mode of exhibiting them after disposal.

11. When one or more persons are concerned in two or more cases of different characters, they will be entered in the 10th and preceding columns, under the distinct headings applicable to such cases, the mode of entering them after disposal being the same as that indicated in paragraph 9.

12. When the crime in all the cases is identical, the number of entries of the persons will correspond with the number of cases. [See rule 95.]

Column 2.—Number of crimes ascertained to have been committed.

13. In this column should be included the whole of the crimes ascertained to have been committed during the period to which the statement relates, whether the offenders have been apprehended or not; and magistrates are not to confine themselves for information on this point to the reports of their police officers, but ought to acquire a more accurate knowledge from other channels; and landholders and farmers and their local agents should specially be encouraged to furnish immediate intelligence of all heinous crimes committed within the limits of their respective estates and farms. [See rule 89.]

Columns 3, 4, and 5.—Under trial at the commencement of the month or year.

14. These columns should exactly correspond in details and totals with columns 17, 18 and 19, respectively, of the statement for the period preceding that reported upon.

Columns 6 and 7.—Number of cases and persons brought to trial.

15. In these columns should be entered all cases of complaint lodged in the magistrate's court during the period embraced by the statement, whether the individuals concerned may have been under personal restraint, held to bail, at large on their own recognizance, or merely attending on summons; and the total of column 7 should correspond with the third or total column of statement No. 1, part 2. [See rules 91 and 94.]

Columns 8 and 9.—Received by transfer.

16. These columns should exhibit such cases and prisoners as may have been made over by the authority of another jurisdiction or power, to the magistrate, for disposal; and in the "remarks" the names of the districts, jurisdictions, or powers, should be carefully noted, to enable the Court to ascertain that they have been correctly entered in the statements of the transferring district, if within the jurisdiction of the Court, or that the discrepancy may be accounted for if transmitted by an authority not under the control of the Court. [As regards commitments made by officers in charge of thanas of several districts, see C. O. April 30, 1857, appended to rule 28.]

Column 10.—Total number of persons under trial.

17. The aggregate of columns 4, 5, 7, and 9, should be exhibited in this column.

Column 11.—Convicted.

18. In filling up this column, regard should be had to the rule contained in paragraph 9, whenever the same may be applicable. [See addition to rule 25.]

Column 12.—Committed.

19. The remark in the preceding paragraph applies to this column also. Some magistrates are in the habit of committing prisoners on a charge of "affray with murder;" but if the offence be attended by any aggravating circumstances, rendering it doubtful whether the killing did not amount to murder, the commitment should be for "murder," the charge of "affray with homicide" furnishing a second count. See paragraph 1000.

20. Others, again, enter cases of "killing thieves" in the detail of heading 42 (miscellaneous of the former statement). Such cases, however, except when accompanied by aggravating circumstances warranting a commitment for murder, (in which event a note should be given under the head of "remarks" stating that the party killed was a thief, slain in the act of committing a burglary, or theft, as the case may be,) should be entered under the 5th heading or "culpable homicide."

21. Where there is any doubt as to whether the accused is guilty of a higher or lower grade of an offence of the same character, the commitment should be for the higher grade. Thus, if it be doubtful from the evidence before the magistrate whether the offence amounts to murder or only to culpable homicide, the commitment should be for murder. On the other hand, where a doubt exists as to whether a commitment should be made for knowingly receiving plundered property or for the actual robbery, the prisoner should be committed on both counts, and entered under the heading of the more heinous charge of robbery.

22. Magistrates are required, whenever they may commit a prisoner for trial, immediately to intimate the same to the session judge; and the observance of this rule, the court remark, is of importance, as it is calculated to ensure uniformity between the magistrate's statement No. 1, and the session judge's No. 1 (submitted to the Nizamut Adawlut). The roobakaree containing this information, which should be written and despatched as soon as the commitment has been made, should specify the precise charge on which the prisoner or prisoners have been committed, the number that the offence bears in the statement, and an abstract of the grounds of the commitment See paragraph 1033.

23. Should the session judge see reason to direct any alteration of the charge on which a prisoner may have been committed, he will distinctly state in his order the heading and number under which the case should be included in the statement; to which order the magistrate will conform, by removing the prisoner from the heading under which he was originally committed in column 12, and entering him in the same column under the heading indicated by the session judge; but no alteration must be made in any of the other columns. The magistrate will give immediate notice to the session judge that he has carried the order into execution.

24. On the 1st of every month the magistrate or joint magistrate will send a roobakaree to the session judge, certifying whether any and what new commitments or modifications of former ones have been made in the month just closed, subsequent to those of which previous intimation had been given.

Column 13.—Acquitted.

25. The rule contained in paragraph 9, in regard to acquittals, should be observed in making the entries in this column.

Cases of zumeendars and other landholders, burkundazes, chokeedars, and other officers of police, who may have been summoned to the sudder station to answer for neglect of duty, and discharged after admonition, as well as those persons released on muchalka when not convicted of any specific offence, shall be entered under the head "acquitted," a note being added in the "remarks" to distinguish the number of prisoners so discharged, from those who may have been otherwise acquitted. [But persons released on muchalka, under Act V. 1848, are to be entered under the head "convicted" in col. 11, part 1, and included in col. 7, part 6, statement 1. C. O. No. 83, May 10, W. P. and May 26, L. P. 1852. See also rules 92 and 93.]

Column 14.—Died.

26. The deaths of such offenders as may die prior to a sentence being passed in their cases, are to be recorded in this column, under the heading designating the crimes with which they stood respectively charged.

Column 15.—Escaped.

27. Prisoners who may have effected their escape, as well as offenders who, being at large on bail, recognizance, or under summons, may have absconded prior to the decision of their cases, should be entered in this column under the heading appropriated to the crimes with which they were respectively charged.

Column 16.—Transferred.

28. Prisoners apprehended in the district and made over for trial to another district or authority, whether within the jurisdiction of the Nizamut Adawlut or beyond its control, should be entered in this column, and the names of the districts or authorities, to whom they have been transferred for trial, should be carefully noted in the remarks, to enable the Court to ascertain that such offenders have been duly accounted for in the statement of the receiving authority, if under the control of the Nizamut Adawlut, or, if not subordinate to the Court, that the cause of the discrepancy necessarily arising may be apparent. [As commitments made by officers in charge of thanas of several zillahs are sometimes transferred for trial to a zillah other than that in which the crime was perpetrated, such commitments are to be entered in this column in the statement of the district in which the crime was committed, and in columns 8, 9, and 12, of the statement of the district in which the commitments are to be tried, a note being added in each statement explanatory of the circumstances of the case. C. O. April 30, 1847. L. P.]

Column 17.—Cases under trial at the close of the quarter or year.

29. Cases of every description, which may be pending at the close of the month or year, should be exhibited in this column.

Column 18.—Prisoners in jail at the close of the quarter or year.

30. The number of prisoners in duress at the close of the quarter, whose cases were still pending, is to be shewn in this column. The total however will not invariably represent the actual number of prisoners in confinement (which will be shown in part 8), but may frequently be in excess of that number in consequence of one or more prisoners being implicated in more than one case.

31. When the true number of prisoners under trial in jail, as shown in part 8, statement No. 1, may exceed 50, an explanation of the cause should be given under the head of "remarks."

32. In all complaints for offences which are clearly bailable, the magistrate is required to apprise the party that security will be received for his appearance, and at the same time to state the amount; and whenever any persons charged with bailable offences are detained in jail, the grounds of their detention should be stated under the head of "remarks."

Column 19.—Persons on bail at the close of the month or year.

33. All persons whose cases were pending at the close of the period reported on, whether the individuals had been released on bail or personal recognizance, or were simply attending on summons, are to be entered in this column. The nominal excess, noticed in paragraph 30, may frequently occur here also. Persons who have given bail or muchalka to keep the peace, or to refrain from any act, in cases finally disposed of, are not to be entered in this column.

34. Magistrates will submit explanations whenever the real number of persons in attendance to answer charges on bail, muchalka, or summons, as shown in part 8, statement 1, may exceed 100.

General Remarks.

35. It will be observed that the aggregate of columns 11 to 16 and columns 18 and 19 will correspond with the total in column 10 as regards each crime, except where persons, having been charged with one offence and convicted or committed on another, are transferred under the rule contained in paragraph 9 ; but the aggregate of columns 4, 5, 7, and 9, must always correspond with the grand total of column 10.

36. Complaints by petition, rejected, on whatever grounds, by the magistrate, without apprehending or summoning the party complained against, will not enter into this part.

PART II.

Column 1.—Apprehended and summoned by the police officers.

37. The first column of this part should exhibit the total number of persons apprehended and sent in by the police officers, or from whom bail may have been taken by them of their own authority.

Column 2.—By the magistrate and his subordinates.

38. All persons attending on summons before the magistrate or his subordinates, as also such persons as the police officers may have been ordered to send in, in consequence of information received by the magistrate independently of those officers' reports (in which latter case a note to that effect should be furnished in the column of "remarks"), should appear in this column.

Column 3.—Total of apprehensions and attendances on summons.

39. This column should exhibit the total of the two preceding columns, and should correspond with the grand total of column 7, part 1.

PART III.

40. The object of this part is to enable the magistrates and the superior courts to exercise a more efficient supervision and control over the proceedings of the police officers, in the performance of the very important duty entrusted to them of taking cognizance of criminal offences, to which subject the court request the particular attention of the officers concerned.

Heading 1.—Apprehended at the thana.

41. Under this heading should be shown the total of all offenders apprehended at the thana. [The Court have ascertained that a practice exists in more than one district, under their jurisdiction, of not duly accounting in the periodical statements for all the persons who are apprehended by the police in their enquiries in criminal cases. Such a practice obviously defeats the ends for which the rule in clause 17, section 19, Regulation XX. 1817, was enacted, which provides that no person, who may be once apprehended, shall be discharged, except on bail or under the special orders of the magistrate. Periodical returns, thus incorrectly prepared, give a false colouring to the state of the district and of the police to which they refer, and the Court hope that they may not have occasion to notice any similar irregularity in future. At the same time, the Court observe that in contrasting the number of convictions and acquittals in any district, due allowance will always be made by them for the number of persons entered as acquitted under the head of "Released on bail by the police." It is the duty of every magistrate to prevent his police officers from apprehending any person without sufficient cause, but it is still more important that every person, who is apprehended by the police, should be duly accounted for to the magistrate. C. O. August 17, 1855. L. P.]

Headings 2, 3, 4, and 5.

42. The details of these headings sufficiently indicate what they are severally intended to represent; their aggregate should correspond with the number under the 1st heading of this part, and the aggregate of headings 2 to 4 with the 1st column of part 2. [See rules 107 and 108.]

PART IV.

43. The object of this part is to show the quantity of work performed by each grade of officers. The total of column 2 will correspond with the aggregate of columns 11, 12 and 13, part 1.

Column 1.—Cases disposed of.

44. The number of cases in which the persons entered in columns 11, 12 and 13, of part 1, were implicated, should be distributed among the several grades of officers enumerated, in the proportion of their decisions, being entered under their respective designations in this column.

Column 2.—Persons disposed of.

45. A similar distribution to that prescribed in the preceding paragraph should be made of the persons contained in columns 11, 12 and 13, and entered in column 2.

PART V.

Section 1.

46. The total of column 1 should correspond with the total of column 17, part 1; the total of column 2 with the total of column 18, part 1; and the total of column 5 with the total of column 19, part 1.

Section 2.

47. In this section, to which the above rules apply in every respect, should be entered a distribution, with reference to time, of the whole of the cases and persons contained in the 1st section, the totals of the two sections coinciding with each other.

48. The magistrate will always explain briefly, under the heading of "remarks," the causes of delay in disposing of the cases of such persons as may have been in any of the above predicaments for a period exceeding 3 months.

PART VI.

Convictions.

Columns 1 and 2.—2 to 3 years.

49. Persons who may have been sentenced to additional imprisonment above 2 years, in lieu of corporal punishment, should be entered in these columns.

Column 5.—6 months.

Column 6.—Fined.

51. Prisoners sentenced to fine only, without any additional punishment, should be exhibited in this column. Those in whose cases the fine forms only a part of the punishment, are not intended to be inserted here.

Column 7.—Security.

Column 10.—Total of convictions.

52. The several totals comprised in this column should denote the number of persons convicted and punished by each grade of officers, and should correspond with the aggregates of columns 1 to 9 in detail; and the grand total of this column should correspond with column 11, part 1.

Column 15.—Total of acquittals.

54. The aggregates of columns 11 to 14, as respects each grade of officers, should correspond with the totals in column 15, the grand total of which should coincide with the total of column 13, part 1.

PART VII.

[See rule 138.]

Columns 13 and 14.—Total of persons fined and the amount of fines.

56. The aggregates of columns 1, 3, 5, 7, 9 and 11, and 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12, should correspond, as regards each grade of officers, and also in total, with columns 13 and 14, respectively, of this part.

Column 15.—Amount realized.

57. In this column should be entered the amount of fines realized from the persons entered in column 13, and, supposing the whole amount imposed to be realized, its total should correspond with the total of column 14. [See rule 97.]

Columns 16 and 17.—Fines imposed in addition to other punishment. Amount realized.

58. All fines imposed as an additional punishment, together with such portion thereof as may have been realized during the period embraced in the statement, should be severally exhibited in these columns. [See rule 98.]

PART VIII.

Column 1.—Under trial during the quarter or other period.

59. In the first column should appear the number of males and females who have been brought before the magistrate during the month, inclusive of those whose cases were still pending at the close of the former statement, the total corresponding with the total of column 10, part 1; which number, minus a number corresponding with the number of times that one or several persons may have been entered more than once in consequence of being implicated in more than one case, will shew the true number of individuals brought up before the magistrate during the period. In like manner those whose cases were pending at the close of the period, will appear in the 2nd and 3rd columns. For example, suppose there were—

60. These columns will be filled up on a similar principle to that which is declared applicable to column 1. [See rule 99.]

PARTS IX and X.

[See rules 109 and 110.]

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. II.

PART I.

61. In this part should be entered, under the same rules as are prescribed for part 1 statement 1, every description of crime not enumerated in the catalogue given in that part, for which no specific heading is provided, such for example, as sodomy; assaults not attended with wounding or personal injury; inconsiderable affrays, i. e. affrays not attended with violent breach of the peace; vagrancy; trespass; &c. &c. The letters of the alphabet in the usual consecutive order should be prefixed to these entries in the "index" column, and the totals of the several columns should be transferred to their corresponding columns in statement 1, part 1, heading 42. [See rules 125 and 143.]

PART II.

62. Attempts to commit crimes of whatsoever description, both those included under the first 41 headings of statement 1, part 1, and those entered in part 1 of this statement (the aggregate of which is shown under heading 42), should be exhibited in part 2, the former being distinguished by the same numbers as are severally borne by those headings; thus to "attempt at burglary with wounding," No. 17 should be prefixed;—to "attempt at theft by administering dhutoora," No. 22;—&c. &c. The totals of the columns in this part will, in like manner, be transferred to statement 1, part 1, heading 42. [See rule 144.]

PART IV.

71. In this part will be entered persons confined in default of furnishing security required under Regulation VIII. 1818.

PART V.

72. The names of persons who have been confined for a period exceeding three years on requisition of security, should be entered in this part;—the date of the original or first requisition, the date of the last renewal of the order, and the designation of the revising authority, being inserted in the appropriate columns. The total number of persons exhibited in this part, should correspond with the number in the 7th column of part 4. [See rule 136.]

PART VI.

73. [In this part are to be entered, with the particulars indicated by the headings of the several columns, persons who may be required to furnish security, or penal recognizances to keep the peace, on conviction of any specific offence, conformably to the provisions of cl. 1, sect. 2, Reg. IV. 1825, and the interpretation of that enactment contained in Const. No. 831. C. O. No. 149, October 24, 1843. Modified by rule 140.]

PART VII.

QUARTERLY.

Operation of Act XVI. 1850. [See rule 142.]

[See also rule 151 for statement to be submitted with the annual report.]

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. III.

PART I.

74. Herein will be entered all prisoners remaining in custody of the magistrate, whose cases were pending before the sessions court at the close of the period treated of; and the number shown in this statement will correspond with the session judge's statement 1, part 2, columns 2 and 3, heading 5.

PART II.

75. The detail of heading 1, part 1 ("in former months") should be shown in this part; and the number shown in this statement should correspond with the session judge's statement 1, part 2, columns 2 and 3, heading 5, of the preceding month.

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. IV.

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL.

76. This statement is meant to show the operation of Act IV. 1840; and magistrates should note, in the column of remarks, the number of suits which may have been pending more than three months, with an explanation of the cause of delay in their disposal. [New form substituted by rule 141.]

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. V.

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL.

77. The object of this statement is to bring to the notice of the Court all regular criminal trials referred for their orders, the final sentence in which has not been received by the magistrate on the last day of the month. It should, therefore, embrace all criminal cases, regularly tried by the session judges (or commissioners in special cases), the proceedings in which have been submitted to the Court, and the sentence in which had not been received on that day, whether the same have been regularly referred by the session judge (or commissioner), or called for by the Court on inspection of the jail delivery statements, or on petition; as well as cases of either description, which may have been sent back for further evidence or explanation.

78. In order to enable the magistrate to keep up this record with punctuality and regularity, he will receive notice from the session judge of his having referred the case to the superior court.

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. VI.

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL.

79. This statement will exhibit the whole of the work disposed of by the magistrate and his subordinates, during the period to which it refers, as also the quantity of business pending before each individual at the close thereof. Columns 1 to 4 will be restricted to the exhibition of cases which appear in the magistrate's statement 1, part 1; and the remaining columns will embrace all other cases. The aggregate of columns 1 and 3 will correspond with the total of column 1, part 4, of the magistrate's statement 1; and the aggregate of columns 2 and 4, with the total of column 1, part 5, of the same statement. [The headings of columns 9 to 13 were amended by C. O. No. 59, June 9, 1858. L. P. See also rule 111.]

REMARKS.

80. Under the head of "remarks" will be entered all observations and explanations illustrative of the statements, which the magistrate may have occasion to make, or which may be required by the foregoing rules.

81. To facilitate reference, the numbers of the particular statement, part, heading, and column, respectively, to which the remarks may bear reference, should invariably be prefixed thereto. [See rules 105 and 106.]

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. VII.

ANNUAL.

82. The proportion of disposals by each officer should be given, and the totals of columns 2, 4, and 6, should correspond with the totals of columns 11, 12, and 13, statement 1, part 1, and with the grand totals of columns 1 and 2, statement 1, part 4, respectively.

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. VIII.

ANNUAL.

83. It has been supposed by some magistrates that this statement should comprise a record of all their operations of every kind for the year; and accordingly the computation of the average time has been made to include proceedings from other zillahs and other miscellaneous applications and petitions ; but this is an error. Cases in which the magistrate acts in his judicial, as distinct from his ministerial, capacity, should alone form the subject of this statement ; and no cases should appear in it which do not enter into statement 1, part 1, with which it should correspond.

84. Cases in which the agency of the police has been employed should be kept distinct from those in which the accused may have been summoned to appear by the magistrate. [See rules 102 to 104, and 126 to 133.]

MAGISTRATE'S STATEMENT No. IX.

QUARTERLY AND ANNUAL.

85. The magistrate, or other officer in charge of the office of magistrate, will submit this statement, the nature of which is sufficiently indicated by the respective headings, to the session judge, at the close of each quarter and year, for transmission to the Nizamut Adawlut.

GENERAL RULES.

Alterations in forms not allowed.

86. No alterations should on any account be made in any form directed by the Sudder Court to be used ; and none but lithographed forms should be made use of, except with their express permission.

Time allowed for submitting statements.

87. The quarterly statements will be submitted by magistrates and joint magistrates in duplicate, within 10, and the annual within 15 days, after they become due under paragraph 5, to the session judges, who will forward one copy to the Court.

Mode of preparing statements.

88. The Court have observed that it is not unfrequently urged by the magistrates that the occupation of their time in more important duties prevents the submission of these statements within the prescribed period ; and, from the terms of the remarks on some of the statements, the preparation of them would appear to be often left to clerks possessing but an imperfect knowledge of the English language. To ensure greater accuracy and punctuality in their despatch, the Court suggest that, where it may be practicable, the duty of superintending them be entrusted to a covenanted assistant, under, of course, the control and responsibility of the magistrate himself ; and the duty, they conceive, might be considerably lightened by anticipating arrangements instead of postponing them to the last hour.

SUPPLEMENTARY RULES.

Statement 1, part 1, col. 2.
Crimes entered in former statements.

89. The crime of a prisoner, whose case is pending from a former quarter, or year, is not to be entered in this column, which is to be exclusively devoted to the exhibition of the crimes ascertained to have been committed within the quarter, or year, to which the statement relates.

Statement 1, part 1.

90. When the case of a party, charged with a lesser offence, lies over to a succeeding month, in which his crime assumes a graver aspect (as in the case of a prisoner being charged with wounding in one month, and the wounded person dying in consequence of his wound in a subsequent month), he should be entered in column 4 or 5 (as the case may be) under the original charge, and on conviction, or committal, the entry should be made under the heading designating the graver crime of which he may be found guilty, or on which he may be committed. [See rules 9 and 35.]

When the offence proved is greater than that charged.

91. It appears to be the opinion of some officers, that as parties held to bail at the thana are often unconditionally released by the magistrate on receipt of the thana reports, without such parties being personally brought to trial by that officer, they should not be entered in column 1, part 2, and consequently not in column 7, part 1, the heading of which implies only persons "brought to trial." The Court, however, observe, that if it were practicable to frame the headings of statements and forms with a degree of precision fitted to meet every case, there would be no necessity for separate explanatory rules by which to construe the spirit and meaning of such headings; but it is found impracticable to arrive at such precision, and accordingly the number of persons brought to trial in any month is explained, by paragraph 15 of the rules, to be identical with the number apprehended or attending on summons. Before bail (which includes muchalka) can be demanded by a thanadar, there must be some antecedent criminal charge, and although the parties released by him on bail may not, strictly speaking, be formally arraigned and tried by the magistrate, yet, when that officer directs their unconditional release, they are constructively tried and acquitted by him. Paragraph 42 requires that persons of this class shall be comprised in the number entered in column 1, part 2; and paragraph 39, that the aggregate of columns 1 and 2 of this part shall correspond with the total of column 7, part 1.

Rules 15, 39, and 42.
Persons held to bail by police and released by magis-
pearance.

92. The large proportion which the number of persons bailed by the police officers bears to the integral number of all other descriptions of cases in some zillahs, and their subsequent unconditional release by the magistrate on inspection of the thana reports without the attendance of the parties, indicate a precipitancy and want of sound discretion, which demands the serious attention of the superior authorities. The police officer, who unnecessarily demands bail from large masses of the population, fails in the due discharge of his duty, equally with the officer who, through neglect, suffers criminals to elude justice. The Court, therefore, after full consideration of the subject, see no reason to make any alteration in the rules contained in paragraphs 15, 39, and 42.

93. When parties, released on bail by the police officers, are unconditionally liberated by the magistrate without having been summoned before him, they should be entered in column 13, part 1, statement 1, and under the heading, in part 4, statement 1, of the officer who, after a consideration of the thanadar's report, may direct their unconditional release. If their cases are disposed of after attendance on the magistrate, they should be entered in column 11, 12, or 13, according to the nature of the order passed in the case of each person, and, in the column of remarks, the magistrate may specify the number of persons who have been liberated after trial, and of those who have been released without being summoned before the magistrate. [See rule 134.]

94. A person apprehended and brought to trial in the zillah, for a crime committed in a foreign territory, will be entered in part 2, column 1 or 2, as the case may be, and consequently in column 7, part 1.

Statement 1,
part 1, col. 7;

Foreign territory.

- Rule 12. 95. When the crime in all the cases is identical, the nominal number of persons will correspond with the aggregate of the nominal number of persons in each case.
- Statement 1, part 7, col. 15 and 17. Fines. 97. All fines, realized in any given quarter, or year, will be entered in one or the other of these columns (according to the nature of the fine) in the statement for the quarter, or year, in which they were realized, and this without reference to the time when they were imposed.
- Statement 1, part 7, col. 16. Fines. 98. Fines imposed in lieu of labor, being a punishment in addition to imprisonment, should be entered in this column.
- Duration of cases. Statement 8, class 1; class 2; classes 1 and 2. 102. The time passed in transit from the thana to the magistrate's court, will be included in the time entered in the 3rd column of statement 8.
103. Cases received from other zillahs will appear in the 2nd class of statement 8.
104. Cases, if sent in by the military authorities with the aid of the police, will appear in the 1st class of statement 8; if without their aid, in the 2nd class; in which class also will appear cases arising in the jail and cases received from other zillahs.
- Statement 1, remarks. Burglaries and thefts uninvestigated under Reg. II. 1832. 105. Magistrates will furnish a note, in the subjoined form, under the heading of remarks on statement 1, showing how many burglaries and thefts unattended with personal violence were left uninvestigated under the operation of clause 2, section 2, Regulation II. 1832:—
- “NOTE.—Out of the total number of entries in column 2 under headings 18, 23, 26, and 42 (say 152), 125 were uninvestigated with reference to Regulation II. 1832, viz. under heading 18, 55 cases; under heading 23, 58 cases; under heading 26, 11 cases; under heading 42, 1 case.”
- Statements 1 & 2. Cases under 53rd Geo. III, and before justice of peace. 106. Magistrates or officers in charge of magistracies will append a note in the column of remarks distinguishing the number of cases brought before them as justices of the peace, and any which may be brought before them under 53rd George III. chapter 155, the number decided, and the number, if any, removed by writ of certiorari to Her Majesty's Supreme Court in Calcutta. C. O. February 23, 1844. Such cases are not to be entered in the statement; it is sufficient to refer to them in a note. Letter N. A. No. 1522, October 2, 1848.
- Statement 1, part 3. Persons apprehended by police. 107. With advertence to cl. 17, sect. 19, Reg. XX. 1817, the heading “unconditionally released” is hereby discontinued; and the fifth heading will, in future, be appropriated to the exhibition of persons whose cases may be pending investigation at the thana at the close of the period to which any given statement may refer. C. O. January 26, 1844.
108. It having been suggested to the Court that, in the absence of specific instructions, magistrates may fall into the error of entering under heading 2 of part 3 persons, who may have been released on bail and accounted for under heading 4 of this part in a preceding statement, the Court are pleased to inform those officers, that a bailed prisoner once entered in statement 1, part 3, who will necessarily be transferred to the magistrate's statement 1, part 1, on receipt of the thanadar's report, is not again to appear under the 2nd heading of part 3, merely because the magistrate requires his attendance through that officer. The rules which apply to prisoners bailed in the first instance by the magistrate himself, will be applicable to the prisoners bailed by the thanadar from the time they are brought on the magistrate's statement. C. O. January 26, 1844.
- Statement 1, parts 9 and 10. Acts III. and V. 1844. 109. In order that the Court may be kept informed of the application of Acts III. and V. 1844, and that materials may be collected to serve as data for judging of the general effects of the enactments in question, at a future period, magistrates will add to statement 1 two tables, to be called parts 9 and 10 respectively. C. O. March 27, 1844.

110. It will be observed that the materials for the preparation of part 9 will be drawn from column 9, part 6, and of part 10 from column 6, part 6, of which they will respectively be components. Column 3 of part 10 will not be confined to the exhibition of the recovery of fines imposed during the period to which the statement refers, but will show all sums realized, without reference to the time when the fines were imposed. Ibid.

111. In columns 14 and 15, statement 6, respect is to be had to the officer for whose decision the preliminary investigations were made; and, opposite to the designation of the officer who conducted such investigation, will be entered the cases prepared by each subordinate. C. O. June 28, 1844.

Statement 6. Cases prepared by subordinate officers.

112. With reference to paragraph 1 of the rules for the preparation of the magistrate's statements, the Court observe with satisfaction, that the information thereby required to be submitted in part 1, statement 1, is, with a few exceptions, correctly furnished. It is however desirable that there be no exception, and that the paragraph above quoted be made applicable to every officer exercising magisterial functions of whatever degree, whether magistrates, joint magistrates, assistants, principal sudder ameens, law officers, moonsiffs, or deputy collectors. Officers in charge of magistracies are requested to be specially careful in recording the dates of assumption and resignation of each incumbent with accuracy, as the correctness of the annual reports will be tested by this criterion. C. O. November 21, 1844.

Statement 1, part 1. Officers employed in whatever capacity.

113. It being desirable to exhibit in one view the changes in the agency, magistrates are directed to attach additional paper, when the space allotted may not suffice for furnishing the information required by the preceding paragraph. C. O. November 21, 1844.

Ditto.

117. The 1st section of part 3 statement 2 is intended to bring under the observation of the Court instances of undue detention of such witnesses from their homes, as may have been dismissed prior to the expiry of the period reported on, as well as to furnish data for comparing the management of one magistracy with that of another:—accordingly, all witnesses who may have been in attendance during any part of the period reported on, but who had obtained their discharge before its close, should be entered in the appropriate columns of this section. C. O. January 22, 1845.

Detention of witnesses. Statement 2, part 3, section 1;

118. The longest period any person may have been detained before obtaining his discharge, should be entered in column 15, but no witnesses should appear in this section who may be in attendance at the close of the period to which the statement refers. Ibid.

119. This section will be appropriated to the exhibition of witnesses in attendance at the close of the period reported on. These individuals, it will be observed, are not to be included in the number entered in the first section. Ibid.

section 2;

120. The totals of the several columns of sections 1 and 2 will be exhibited in this section; and the grand total of column 14 will show the exact number of witnesses who may have been in attendance during any portion of the period embraced by the statement. Ibid.

section 3.

121. The reasons for the detention of all witnesses beyond 8 days should be explained in the column of remarks. Ibid.

Statement 2, part 8.
Detention of witnesses.

122. In order to illustrate the instructions contained in the 4. preceding paragraphs, and to prevent the possibility of misapprehension on the part of the clerk who may be charged with the preparing of the statement, the following facts are supposed:—

one witness was in attendance from the 2nd to the 9th April, when he was discharged ; consequently he was detained 8 days from his home, and should, therefore, appear in the 9th column of section 1 :—

two witnesses attended from the 22nd March to the 8th April, when they were discharged ; they were consequently 18 days from their home, and should be entered in the 11th column of section 1 :—

four witnesses attended from the 8th to the end of April, without having obtained their discharge ; and thus being detained 13 days should appear in the 12th column of section 2 :—

three witnesses were detained from the 20th March to the end of April, without obtaining their discharge, and ought therefore to appear in column 13 of section 2. Ibid.

123. At the close of each quarter the aggregates of columns 8 to 14 of the magistrate's diary [see para. 487, and Appendix B. 13], will be exhibited in columns 2 to 8, section 1, of the abstract required to be submitted to the Court ; and the total number shown in the 15th column of the former statement will be distributed in columns 9 to 13 of the latter ; and the number of persons in attendance on the last day of each quarter, will appear in the columns of section 2, which indicate the time they may respectively have been detained up to that date. Ibid.

124. In preparing the annual returns, nothing more will be necessary than to sum up the totals of columns 2 to 14 of the quarterly returns, and enter them in the corresponding columns of the annual statement, noting the longest period any person may have been detained in column 15 ; observing the same rule with regard to sections 2 and 3, as is prescribed for the 2nd and 3rd sections of the quarterly abstract. Fractions of days are accounted entire days. Section 3 being nothing more than the aggregate of the 1st and 2nd sections, needs no illustration beyond what is given in paragraph 120. Ibid. [See rule 137.]

Statement 2, part 1.

Neglect of zumeendars and chokeendars.

125. In order to show the degree in which the responsibility of zumeendars is enforced, the magistrates will be pleased in future to enter cases of zumeendars and chokeendars brought up for neglect of duty, under separate headings in statement 2, part 1. C. O. June 6, 1845.

Statement 8.
Duration of cases.

126. In the magistrate's statement 8, for some districts, the totals of columns 5, 6, 7, and 12 do not show the average time occupied, but the aggregate of the particulars entered for the 12 months, while the statements of other districts are erroneous in regard to columns 8, 9, 13 and 14. With a view, therefore, to the correct preparation of the statements in question for the future, the Court request attention to the following rules. C. O. August 22, 1845.

127. Column 5 should exhibit the result of dividing the number in column 2 by that in column 1. Ibid.

128. Column 6 should exhibit the result of dividing the number in column 3 by that in column 1. Ibid.

129. Column 7 should show the totals of columns 5 and 6 added together. Ibid.

130. Columns 8 and 13, should exhibit the longest period mentioned in the 12 months, not the totals of all the periods. Ibid.

131. Columns 9 and 14 should exhibit the shortest period in the 12 months. Ibid.

132. Column 12 should exhibit the result of column 11, divided by column 10. Ibid.

133. The average time should not be given in years, or parts of years, but in days, omitting fractions. Ibid.

134. The 93rd paragraph of the rules for the preparation of the magistrate's statements, provided for the insertion of a note to distinguish the persons released after trial from those released without being summoned before the magistrate. The Court direct that, in future, the number of persons released after trial be distinguished into those summoned by the magistrates, and those sent in by the police of their own authority. This may be done conveniently by adopting the following form, which comprehends the whole number of persons released :

Remarks. Note on statement 1, part 1, col 13. Distinguishing cases of acquittal.

135. The practice which has heretofore prevailed of entering "riots attended with murder, homicide, or violent breach of the peace," under heading 41 of the magistrate's criminal statement 1, part 1, being considered objectionable, the Court are pleased to direct, that riots attended with murder shall be entered under the heading (No. 3), appropriated to the exhibition of the latter offence, a note being added in the column of remarks to distinguish such cases from others of simple murder; and that riots attended with homicide, or with violent breach of the peace, shall be aggregated with "affrays," to which they bear some affinity, under headings 31 and 32 of statement 1, part 1, agreeably to the formula given in the margin.* C. O. October 31, 1845.

Statement 1, part 1, col. 1. Affrays and riots.

136. Whenever any individual, having been acquitted of a penal act, on the ground of insanity, and detained in confinement in default of security, may be entered in part 5 of statement 2, magistrates will be pleased to append a note in the margin distinguishing him from others exhibited in the same part and statement. C. O. February 10, 1846.

Statement 2, part 5. Cases of insane persons.

137. That the Court may be enabled to ascertain to whom delay, in the examination and discharge of witnesses, may be attributable, the magistrates will be pleased to make the following addition to statement 2, part 3, exhibiting the number of witnesses examined by each magisterial agent, and the periods during which they were detained in attendance by each. The responsibility of delay, and the duty of explaining its cause, will rest on the officer, whether magistrate, assistant, or other, before whom it may occur.

Statement 2, part 3. Detention of witnesses.

The subjoined form can be appended without difficulty to part 3, statement 2, by simply prolonging the columns, filling up the first column in the manner shown in the exemplar:—

C. O. April 29, 1846.

Statement 1, part 7. Fines. 138. With a view to indicate the heading in part 7 statement 1 under which fines of 10 rupees should be entered, the Court are pleased to enjoin substitution of the words “not exceeding” for the word “under,” which occurs in the heading of columns 11 and 12. C. O. December 11, 1846.

Statement 1, part 6. Imprisonment. 139. With a view to provide for the entry in part 6 statement 1 of persons sentenced to six months’ imprisonment, the Court are pleased to enjoin the substitution of the words “not exceeding” for “less than,” which occur in the heading of column 5. C. O. September 10, 1847.

Statement 2, part 6. Security and muchalkas. 140. With reference to Act V. 1848, the following heading is substituted for part 6 statement 2:—“Prisoners in custody in default of security or personal recognizance to keep the peace under sect. 2, Reg. IV. 1825, and Act V. 1848.” C. O. August 11, 1848.

Statement 4. Act IV. 1840. 141. It having been found that the former mode of entering suits under Act IV. 1840, transferred from the file of one officer to that of another, in cols. 4 and 9 statement 4, was likely to cause such suits to be reckoned twice over, an amended form was substituted. C. O. June 1, 1849.

Statement 2, part 7. Fines under Act XVI. 1850. 142. The use of a new form of statement was prescribed in order to show the manner in which Act XVI. 1850 is applied; and is to occupy the space between parts 5 and 6 statement 2, by curtailing a portion of the space allotted to the former in the lithographed form. C. O. No. 39, May 20, 1850, W. P. No. 58, May 13, 1851, L. P.

Statement 2, part 1. Miscellaneous offences. 143. With a view to the adoption of an uniform and classified schedule of miscellaneous offences in statement 2, part 1, the following list is subjoined for general observance. Magistrates are required to give their personal attention to the proper arrangement of this class of offences, but must endeavour to reduce the number of entries in each statement to as small a compass as is possible. The judge is to call upon the magistrate for a general and succinct description of any case, of which they have reason to believe that the classification is incorrect and vague. Whenever the magistrate may think it impossible to bring a particular offence under any one of the headings given in the schedule, he is to make use of such additional specification as he may think appropriate, entering it in red ink, and briefly reporting the particulars of the case to the judge, who will note his approval, or direct the entry to be altered, as he may think fit, submitting a memorandum for the information of the Court.

(a) This heading is not to be confounded with assault. Petty affrays attended with slight wounding, for which the magistrate considers the punishment that may be awarded under Reg. VIII. 1828 sufficient, should be entered under it. Affrays with severe wounding, which are committed to the sessions, should be entered under heading 32, part 1.

(b) The heading "breach of peace" refers to breaches of the peace actually committed; and "breach of peace, apprehended" to those cases only in which recognizance or security is taken to prevent an apprehended breach of the peace.

(c) This heading will admit the entry of suits for wages by servants against their masters under cl. 3, sect. 6, Reg. VII. 189.

(d) This heading is intended for the offences referred to in sect. 7, Act IV. 1840.

(e) This will include cases of drunkenness and disorderly conduct, arising from the use of liquor, ganja, and other exciting drugs.

Attempts.

144. When there has been an attempt to commit an offence not specified under the first 41 headings of part 1, statement 1, the substantive offence should be entered in column 1, part 1, statement 2, and the remaining columns of that statement are to be left blank, the attempt to commit being entered in part 2, statement 2, in the same manner as if the substantive offence had been one of those appearing in part 1, statement 1, as in the annexed exemplar. In such instances the case of attempt is to be entered under heading 43 of statement 1, and no entry will be made under heading 42 of the same statement.

Statements to be submitted quarterly.

149. The magistrates will submit to the session judges on or before the 10th of each month, the vernacular statement No. 9, parts 1 and 2, prescribed in C. O. No. 155, December 12, 1834. Regarding the use and advantage of this statement, the court quote the words mutatis mutandis from paragraphs 5 to 7 of that circular. "This is a very important statement, and if carefully prepared and examined each month by the magistrate and the session judge, must enable those officers readily to ascertain the general state of criminal justice in the districts. If the heading of remarks be properly prepared, specifying the dates on which the case has been brought up for trial, and the reasons which have caused delay in bringing the case to a final decision, the magistrate, by calling for the proceedings if necessary, and issuing such orders as each case may require, will be able to check the delays of his amlah, sudder and mofussil, whether arising from carelessness, neglect, or other cause, and he will be able to insert, for the information of the session judge, under the head of "remarks," the real cause of delay, and the measures he may have adopted to prevent further delay in passing final orders. The session judge, with this statement before him, will, by referring to the heads showing the date of apprehension and the nature of the crime, be able at once to exercise so very efficient a control over the magistrate's proceedings, that it will be scarcely possible that a prisoner should be needlessly detained in custody under examination, at present a very serious grievance to innocent persons. As this statement shows very distinctly the sentence passed in each case, the session judge can without difficulty detect any illegal or improper order, and he ought in all such cases immediately to call for the magistrate's proceedings and adopt such measures as he may think necessary." The magistrate will require the punctual submission of the vernacular statement No. 9 in duplicate by all the officers subordinate to him who decide criminal cases. It will be his duty to revise these statements himself before he submits them, together with his own, to the session judge, and by this means it is hoped that the magistrates will exercise a more careful control over the officers in charge of sub-divisions than is at present customary. Should a magistrate call for any case from his subordinates, or point out any error in their statement, the order will be entered on the duplicate statement, and submitted to the judge for his information. Vernacular statement 9, to be submitted monthly. App. E. No. 24.

150. The magistrate will, at the close of each month, submit to the session judge a single English statement in the form given below similar to part 5, statement 1, with columns for explanations, as at present required, when the number of persons in jail, or on bail, or recognizance may be excessive, or where a case may be under trial beyond three months. An additional column has been added for cases under Act IV. of 1840. Whenever the

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE POLICE

of the Division in 186

To be submitted by the Commissioner to Government.

The Lieutenant-Governor is desirous to leave as much latitude as possible to the discretion of officers holding the important position of Commissioner; and the present form is intended only as a guide to the information, which must be supplied regarding each district, and places no limit on that which any officer may desire to give in addition, regarding the general results exhibited in his division. It is, however, to be borne in mind, that these annual reports ought only to convey a review of the police administration of the past year, and should be, as far as possible, kept free from recommendations for change or improvement, which should be treated separately, in separate letters, on each point, so that each may be at once dealt with on its own merits. Delay in the submission of these returns is productive of much inconvenience, and materially diminishes their utility. The returns of the Magistrates are due to the Commissioner on 1st February, and if a Commissioner reports that any Magistrate's returns are in default on that date the Lieutenant Governor will be prepared to take the most serious notice of the case, extending, if recommended by the Commissioner, to a temporary suspension of official salary. The Commissioner's report is due in this office by the 1st March, and the Lieutenant-Governor relies on the zeal and good will of each officer to adopt measures to ensure its punctual submission on that date. 384a. A form is prescribed for use in recording decisions in cases under Act IV. 1840; Reg VII. 1819; Act XXI, 1841; and all other cases of a miscellaneous or civil nature. C. O. No. 31, December 3, 1856, L. P. Form of decision in miscellaneous cases.

386a. Every magisterial officer is to record, in his own vernacular language, a narrative detailing briefly the statement of the prosecutor, and the material points deposed to by each of the witnesses, but without repetition, the defence offered by each of the parties charged, and the substance of the deposition of his witnesses. Any material order passed during the progress of a case should be noted. At the close of the narrative he is to write his judgement or other final order in the cause under Act XXXIII. 1854, and this document shall be placed with the nuthce. Forms are appended to the circular order. The judges are to keep a note-book, in which, on every appeal and commitment that comes before them, they are to enter their opinion of the manner in which the magisterial officers have drawn up their narrative, and are especially to note whether the substance of the vernacular depositions has been faithfully transferred to the English narrative. C. O. No. 7, June 27, 1859, L. P. Magisterial officers to record a narrative in English of every case, which is to be filed with the nuthce. Judge to note in each case how this duty is performed.

386b. At the close of every criminal trial which terminates in the conviction of the accused, the magistrate, or other officer by whom the order is passed, is to enter in his conviction statement, in the column of crime established, the letter and number of the offence in the schedule of miscellaneous offences (Appendix E, rule 143) of which the accused is found guilty. C. O. No. 27, September 19, 1856, L. P. On conviction, case to be entered in schedule of miscellaneous offences.

395a. The accused person should invariably be allowed the opportunity of recording any statement which he may wish to make. C. O. No. 56, May 14, 1858, L. The opportunity of putting his statement on record should invariably be allowed.

405a. The fact that the magistrate has taken the evidence on oath does not vitiate it, so that it cannot be accepted by the sessions court. Reports L. P. 1859, page 50. Evidence of approver not vitiated by oath.

417a. Although principal offenders should not be made witnesses under Regulation X. 1824, still, when they have been pardoned and made such, their testimony, though open to the greatest suspicion and therefore requiring a more than ordinary degree of corroboration, should not be rejected; for the exclusion of them in sections 3 and 4 of the law appears to be a provision, that such persons should not escape justice by being admitted as witnesses, and the exception is not to the testimony they may give as in itself improper to be received under the law. Reports L. P. 1859, page 50. Explanation of the principle on which the evidence of principal offenders is held to be admissible.

421a. A person cannot be admitted to give evidence, while his own trial is going on; he cannot be on his own trial for an offence, and a witness against others for that offence at one and the same time. Such union of prisoner under trial and witness is incompatible with all principle. It is necessary that the prisoner either be first sentenced, and then be made an approver in the usual mode, or that he be made a witness in the mode prescribed by Regulation X. 1824, that is to say, that a tender of pardon be first made to and accepted by the prisoner. Reports L. P. 1858, page 533. A person cannot remain under trial when he is admitted as an approver.

446a. Subsequent appearance does not purge the contempt, or give the witness a claim to the refund of the fine. Case of Sridhur Acharj, N. A. April 13, 1860. Fine cannot be refunded on account of subsequent appearance.

446b. The payment of a fine by an absent witness, or its liquidation by sale of the absentee's property, does not exonerate him from giving evidence; and no fresh process calling upon the witness to give such evidence is requisite, as the action of the first summons continues until the witness has satisfied the requisition of the court by giving evidence. A warrant may therefore be issued for the apprehension of the witness notwithstanding the payment of the fine. Reports L. P. 1857, part 2, page 330. Liquidation of fine does not absolve the recusant witness from the duty of giving evidence. A warrant may be issued for his arrest without a second summons.

474a. The travelling expenses of non-indigent witnesses, and a reasonable amount for their diet allowance, are to be defrayed by the state, if demanded by such witnesses when summoned to give evidence in heinous cases. The scale of payment is to be fixed by each magistrate of a district, according Travelling expenses and diet allowance of witnesses in heinous cases to be paid if demanded.

to the circumstances of his district, and the classes of persons usually attending the criminal court therein as witnesses. The distance of each thana jurisdiction from the sudder station and subordinate stations being determined, and the number of intermediate ferries to be crossed, as well as the existence or absence of roads or waterway, being noted in a tabular form, the number of days may then be fixed which should be allowed for passage to and fro. For the class of natives that ordinarily attend the courts to give evidence, the rate of 3 anas per diem will probably suffice for the whole term of absence from home, without any addition as travelling expenses, but this rate may reasonably be increased when provisions are dear. For natives of higher rank in life, and others not Europeans, their actual expenses for carriage, not exceeding however 6 anas a mile, and a sum not exceeding 8 anas per diem for subsistence will suffice: and for Europeans their actual expenses for carriage, not being in excess of 6 anas a mile, and a sum not exceeding 2 rupees 8 anas per diem for subsistence. C. O. No. 12, November 14, 1859, L. P.

Scale to be fixed.
For ordinary natives.
For natives of higher rank.
For Europeans.

487a. In calculating the number of days a witness has been detained, the day of his arrival is invariably to be included, provided he makes his appearance sufficiently early to allow of his evidence being recorded on that day. C. O. No. 1, February 8, 1860. L. P.

Calculation of period of detention.

512a. The name of the person administering the oath should invariably be stated in the heading of each deposition. C. O. No. 37, February 27, 1857. L. P.

Name of person administering oath to be recorded.

516a. In recording statements of witnesses as to distance, local land measures should be translated into feet. C. O. No. 39, April 6, 1857. L. P.

Explanation to be given of local terms.

527a. In cases of murder in which the evidence is purely circumstantial, the whole conduct of the party charged must be taken into consideration in estimating the weight to be given to the sum of the facts in evidence before the court. False statements made by the prisoner regarding the death of the party with whose murder he stands charged become inculpatory, as shewing that he has done something requiring concealment. Reports L. P. 1859, page 17.

In cases of circumstantial evidence false statements made by prisoner may become inculpatory.

552a. Without the simple affirmation, the depositions cannot be considered as evidence. Reports, L. P. 1858, page 386.

562a. Where the session judge himself was cited by a prisoner as a witness, it was held that his jurisdiction was not affected, and he was directed to record his own statement. Reports L. P. 1857, part 2, page 83.

Judge may record his own evidence.

565a. Evidence to identification of the prisoners should be tested, and is insufficient for conviction when the record does not show that some test of its truth has been applied. When the witnesses had no previous acquaintance with the persons of the accused, it is not sufficient to point out the prisoners and to ask the witnesses whether they recognize them. Reports L. P. 1857, part 1, page 793.

Evidence to identification of prisoners by personal recognition must be tested.

578a. In cases involving charges of a heinous nature when a prosecutor or witness, whose evidence is essential to the conviction of a prisoner charged with the commission of the crime, may be in imminent danger of dying before the case comes to trial, the magistrate is in solemn form to record the deposition of the dying party, if possible, in the presence of the accused, and of attesting witnesses, and submit it at the trial in the event of his death with evidence thereto, as prescribed in C. O. No. 54, July 16, 1830. [See para. 517]. C. O. No. 47, July 31, 1857, L. P.

Depositions of dying persons in heinous cases to be recorded before witnesses and the accused.

693a. Each magistrate, or officer exercising any magisterial powers, who proceeds on a tour of duty into the interior of his district, is required to keep a diary of his proceedings. A copy of this diary is to be submitted to the commissioner at the conclusion of each tour, or, if the tour lasts longer than a week, a copy of it should be forwarded at the end of each week to the commissioner. The objects for which such diaries are to be kept are twofold; first, that the commissioner may be made acquainted with the magistrate's proceedings, and the information which he acquires regarding his district; second, that the information thus acquired and recorded may be of service to each magistrate's successors in office. C. O. Government Bengal, No. 51, May 27, 1857.

Diary to be kept by each magisterial officer when he proceeds to the interior of his district on a tour of duty.

790a. Deputy magistrates, whether located at sudder stations or in charge of sub-divisions, when on duty in the interior of their jurisdiction, may at their own option charge their travelling expenses either at the rate of three rupees per diem, or at the rate of 4 annas per mile, according to the distance travelled; but such bills must be countersigned by the magistrate and commissioner. C. O. Government Bengal, No. 55, October 27, 1857. Allowance to be calculated per diem, or per mile, at their option.

971a. But in the case of Mooktaram Shaho and others this point was laid before the whole court, and they decided that the C. O. No. 175, July 24, 1835, is still in force, and that a session judge has the power to direct the committal of persons whom the magistrate has not thought fit to bring to trial. Case of Mooktaram Shaho and others, N. A. December 2, 1859. Contradictory ruling.

1039a. A number is to be affixed against the name of each witness, showing on what page of the numbered pages of the nuthce his evidence is to be found. C. O. No. 38, March 2, 1857. L. P. Comparative statement of evidence.

1083a. The rules in paragraphs 1083 and 1085 are extended to all cases, miscellaneous as well as others, which may be brought before the nizamut adawlut for determination. C. O. No. 54, March 12, 1858. Rules for the appearance of the government advocate in criminal prosecutions before the sudder court.

1108a. The session judge cannot issue orders regarding mokhtars in the magistrate's court. It rests with the presiding authority in each court to grant or refuse leave to appear in any case as the agent of either prosecutor or defendant; but no general order debaring the practice of particular mokhtars can be given. Case of Jadub Chunder Moitro and others, N. A. July 30, 1858. General order of dismissal cannot be given, but no appeal lies to judge from order of magistrate;

1108b. An appeal does not lie to the nizamut adawlut from the order of a session judge confirming the order of the magistrate for the dismissal of a mokhtar. Reports L. P. 1857, part 1, page 610. and no special appeal to the sudder court.

1108c. Section 3, Act XXXVIII. 1850, clearly vests the criminal authorities with the power of refusing leave to appear as a mokhtar in any case to a person, who, in their opinion, is not qualified to act as agent for either prosecutor or prisoner; and the exercise of this power will lead to the employment of a better class of mokhtars. C. O. No. 35, February 20, 1857, L. P. Incompetent persons should not be allowed to practice.

1134a. Where the judge, to whom the case was duly committed, was cited by the prisoner as a witness, having been collector of the district at the time when a cheque procured on a forged certificate of the civil court was paid, it was held that the fact did not take the case out of his jurisdiction, and he was directed to record his own statement. Reports L. P. 1857, part 2, page 83. Judge may try a case in which he is himself cited as a witness.

1213a. A sentence of uncertain duration, with the view for instance of causing the production of a missing person, cannot be passed. [See para. 4035.] C. O. No. 53, March 5, 1858, L. P. Sentence to be for a fixed period.

1221a. When the judge has occasion to make comments upon the proceedings of the magistrate or his subordinates, he should submit them in a separate letter, instead of embodying them in his letter of reference or in the remarks. C. O. No. 2, February 8, 1860. L. P. Such remarks are to be made in a separate letter.

1223a. Under section 10, Regulation VII. 1831, the session judge can no longer dismiss a police officer summarily, if his misconduct be made apparent in the course of a criminal trial. That power is now vested only in the nizamut adawlut and the commissioner of circuit. Letter N. A. No. 414, July 10, 1858. Session judge has no longer the power to dismiss a police officer summarily.

1241a. Paras. 1241, 1242, and 1243 are modified by the following :—When a person is convicted, in a trial held under the provisions of Regulation VI, 1832, of a crime declared by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut to be a penal offence, if the circumstances of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than seven years, imprisonment with labor in irons, the session judge before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence. If, however, the crime, of which the person has been convicted, has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut, the session judge shall not proceed to pass sentence, but shall refer the case for the consideration of the nizamat adawlut, stating at length in the proceedings the opinion of the panchayat, assessors, or jury, and his own opinion as to the crime proved, and the nature and extent of punishment which should be awarded. Act III. 1860, sect. 3.

Sentence of judge in a case declared by a precedent of the N. A. to be a penal offence, or if not so declared.

For para. 1312 which has been repealed, substitute the following :—

1312a. When a person has been convicted, in a trial held under the provisions of Regulation VI, 1832, of a crime declared by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut to be a penal offence, if the circumstance of the case shall not appear to call for a more severe punishment than seven years, imprisonment, with labor in irons, the session judge, before whom the trial is held shall himself pass sentence. If, however, the crime of which the person has been convicted has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut, the session judge shall not proceed to pass sentence, but shall refer the case for the consideration of the nizamat adawlut, stating at length in the proceedings the opinion of the panchayat, assessors, or jury, and his own opinion, as to the crime proved, and the nature and extent of the punishment which should be awarded. Act III. 1860, sect. 3.

Sentence to be passed by session judge on conviction of a crime declared by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut to be penal offence, or if not so declared.

1357a. A register of all fines imposed under Act XVI. 1850, is to be kept up, pending the realization of them. [See para. 4311.] C. O. No. 42, April 29, 1857, L. P.

Register of fines under Act XVI. 1850

1408a. Extract from the statement of convictions No. 6, is always to be furnished in cases appealed or called for. C. O. No. 50, August 20, 1857.

Extract from statements to be sent with all cases appealed or called for

1568a. Under the general law current in the country, a constable or other police officer may arrest for affray, riot, or other breach of the peace, without a warrant, if the arrest be made during its continuance or immediately afterwards. Under the suburban police law, section 51, Act XXI. 1857, any police officer may arrest without a warrant any person committing in his view any offence against that Act; but mere abuse given to a policeman in the execution of his duty, if unaccompanied by words or gesture, or demeanour, indicating on the part of the person using them an intent to attempt a rescue, or by threats, or words, or gestures, encouraging a prisoner to escape, does not justify an arrest without a warrant. When the right to arrest does not exist, or does not exist in the form in which it is attempted to be exercised, the officer attempting the arrest has no protection either from his office, or even from the fact of the party being an offender; in such case the officer becomes a mere private individual, and the person on whom the arrest is endeavored to be made may lawfully resist, and in resisting may lawfully employ all the means requisite for it. Reports L. P. 1858, page 517.

Power of police to arrest without warrant in cases of the breach of the peace.

1612 and 1613. These rules as regards the service of the magistrate's process are no longer in force in the opium department, having been repealed by Act XIII. 1857.

1686. Section 27, Regulation XX. 1817, and the rules of Regulation VII. 1799, Regulation V. 1800, Regulation XXVIII. 1803, and Regulation XVII. 1793, (paras. 1686 to 1689, and 1691 to 1696,) contained in this section, have been repealed by Act X. 1859, by which new rules have been passed for the recovery of arrears of rent by distraint; the magistrate and the police are not required to interfere.

1686a. If any person not empowered to distrain property under sections 112 and 114 of this Act, [i. e., landholders entitled to receive rent, managers under the court of wards, surburakars, and tuhseeldars of estates held under khas management, and their agents], nor employed for the purpose under a written authority by a person so empowered, shall distrain or sell, or cause to be sold any property under color of this Act, the owner of the property may institute a suit under this Act to recover damages from such person for any injury which he may have sustained from the distraint or sale. The said person shall be held to have committed criminal trespass, and shall be subject to the penalties for that offence, in addition to any damages which may be awarded against him in such suit. Act X. 1859, sect. 143.

Punishment for unlawful distraint for recovery of alleged arrears of rent.

1761a. The illegality of a warrant of arrest issued by a magistrate, or any doubt of its legality, will not justify any person in forcibly resisting the execution of it, and in causing thereby a breach of the peace. Reports L. P. 1857, part 2, page 330. As regards forcible resistance of police, when they have no right to arrest, see para. 1668a.

Resistance of process is not justified by a doubt regarding the legality of it.

1772a. If the decree of a collector under Act X. 1859 be for the ejection of any ryot from land occupied by him, or for the reinstatement of any ryot in the occupancy of land from which he has been ejected, the decree shall be executed by giving the possession or occupancy of the land to the person entitled by the decree to such possession or occupancy. If any opposition is made to the execution of the order for giving such possession or occupancy by the party against whom the order is made, the magistrate, on the application of the collector, shall give effect to the same. Act X. 1859, sect. 82.

Collector's decree for the ejection or reinstatement of a ryot, to be carried into effect by magistrate if opposed.

1801a. This ruling applies to all judicial proceedings other than criminal trials, as cases under Act IV. 1840, and Act XXI. 1841. Reports L. P. 1858, page 214.

Cases in which special appeal does not lie to the sudder court.

1826a. So in the case of an acquittal. Letter of N. A. to Judge of Cuttack, No. 439, March 31, 1852.

1827a. Nor can he interfere in such a case, if the magistrate has acquitted the prisoners. Letter of N. A. to Judge of Cuttack, No. 439, March 31, 1852.

1829a. The session judge cannot prevent a magistrate from replacing on his file a case which had been struck off on default, and in which neither defendant nor witness had been summoned. Such striking off of a case does not debar the magistrate, or any other officer having original jurisdiction, from taking it up de novo, if the accused has not been put upon his trial. Letter of N. A. to Judge of Tirhoot, No. 202, April 16, 1859.

Judge cannot interfere in a case in which sentence has not been passed.

1828b. A session judge in appeal may quash an order of acquittal, passed by a magistrate, and direct the commitment of an accused person, if the offence charged was beyond the competence of the magistrate; but he cannot interfere if the magistrate was competent to pass sentence. Letter N. A. No. 439, March 31, 1852.

Judge may quash acquittal if the case was beyond the competency of the magistrate.

1873a. Magistrates making over charge of office are to report to the sudder court through the judge. C. O. No. 1, January 3, 1859.

Report to be made through the judge.

1888a. The following rules are required to be observed in all government offices. I.—No letter of any kind is ever to accompany a monthly bill for payment of salaries or any contingent bill which is neither unusual nor extraordinary, nor likely to be disputed, or any bill regarding which only such short explanation is necessary as can be submitted in a few words at the foot of the bill, or in a side column. II.—In cases where grants are made, or charges sanctioned by government, through its secretary, the disbursing officer is not to send copies of the order of government, sanctioning the charge either to the civil auditor, when he submits the bill for audit, or to the sub-treasurer when the bill is presented for payment, or to the accountant, when he forwards his inefficient balance. A copy of the order sanctioning the charge is sent to the civil auditor and to the accountant, and, when payment is made at the general treasury, to the sub-treasurer, from the secretary's office direct. It is therefore sufficient to quote in the bill the number and date of the government order.

reference in a press divided off into compartments marked with the designations of the several offices, with which correspondence is ordinarily conducted. At the end of year the bundles may be broken up and the papers deposited in the record room, all correspondence with each separate office being tied up together, and labelled, with the name of the officer and the year. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 487, May 5, and No. 656, June 28, 1860.

1888*b*. All public letters should have the name and official designation of the writer, with the number and date at the top of each letter. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 74, June 27, 1859.

1906*a*. The following rules are to be adopted for the destruction of criminal records in lieu of those scattered through several circulars. I.—Records of sessions trials, and heinous cases of the magistrate's court, generally of above fifteen years' date, may unobjectionably be destroyed; a discretion being exercised at the same time, by the session judges and magistrates, of preserving individual cases, or papers, on any grounds appearing to them sufficient: cases in which sentences are not expired must invariably be preserved. II.—Provided, that cases in which parties accused have hitherto eluded apprehension, shall always be preserved. III.—The above rules should be acted on from year to year, so that no accumulation may occur beyond a term of fifteen years in regard to the records of heinous cases. IV.—In regard to other records of the magistrate's court, the following may be destroyed yearly, if upwards of two years' old, excepting those which the magistrate may deem it prudent to preserve, in consequence of the non-arrest of particular offenders:—

General rule for destruction of records.

Security cases, if expired.

Petty trials.

Act IV. of 1840 suits, excepting the decisions and documents, plaints and answers.

Miscellaneous cases.

Thana diaries.

Police reports, on which no further proceedings followed.

Miscellaneous roobakaries.

Ditto reports and returns by the nazir.

Copies of parwanas.

Ditto ishtahars.

Despatch books.

Receipt books of the record room.

Rough order books.

Witnesses' attendance books.

Appeals.

Nazir's records, excepting lotbundees, accounts of money, and ferry ghat papers.

Miscellaneous reports of the jailor.

Miscellaneous petitions.

Periodical statements, except annuals.

Register of petty cases.

Ditto mokhtarnamahs excepting "general ones."

Ditto miscellaneous cases.

Ditto petitions.

V.—In regard to cases appealed to the sessions court, the sessions court record of such cases may be periodically destroyed after a term of five years. Thus, on the 1st January next, all appeal records of this nature may be destroyed appertaining to a date previous to 1st January 1853. C. O. No. 49, August 20, 1857, L. P.

1906*b*. Records relating to police lands must be carefully preserved. C. O. No. 51, October 9, 1857, L. P.

Records of police lands.

1909*a*. All sums which may be realized by the sale of old criminal records, the writing on which should be thoroughly obliterated or defaced, and the paper cut up, before they are sold, should be carried to the credit of a fund for maintaining the records of the office. Magistrates are to account for the same in their annual reports on the administration of criminal justice, by stating the yearly amounts realized and expended. C. O. No. 60, June 22, 1858, L. P.

All sums realized by the sale of old criminal records, to be applied to the maintaining the records.

1916a. When copies of documents are lengthy, and occupy several stamp papers, they should be stitched together consecutively, as copies of decrees of the civil courts. C. O. No. 34, February 5, 1857. When copies occupy several sheets of paper.

1951. Paragraphs 1951 to 1963 have been repealed by Act XXXVI. 1860, and all rules regarding stamps have been inserted under the chapter of "offences against the stamp laws", at para. 3270a et seq.

2043a. Commissioners of circuit are empowered to transfer police darogahs from one district to another within their division, whenever they consider it advantageous to the public service to do so. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 82, March 28, 1860. Commissioner may remove darogah to another district.

2045a. Police darogahs of the first grade, and darogahs drawing special salaries of 200 and 150 rupees per mensem, are not to be dismissed without previous reference to government in each case. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 81, March 28, 1860. Darogahs of first grade, or drawing special salaries, not to be dismissed without previous reference to government.

2059a. Under sect. 10, Regulation VII. 1831, the session judge can no longer dismiss a police officer summarily, if his misconduct be made apparent in the course of a criminal trial. That power is now vested only in the nizamut adawlut and the commissioner of circuit. Letter N. A. No. 414, July 10, 1858. Session judge has no longer the power to dismiss a police officer summarily.

2069b. All first class darogahs should be allowed the privilege of a chair, whenever they visit officers of government. C. O. No. 80, February 29, 1860.

2110a. The rate of wages of no grade is to be less than four rupees per mensem. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 42, January 5, 1857. Wages not to be less than 4 Rupees.

2449, 2450, 2451, 2452. Note. The provisions quoted in these paragraphs have been repealed by Act X. 1859.

2524a. A ministerial or other subordinate officer, travelling on duty, who is entitled under the circumstances to draw travelling allowance reckoned by mileage, shall receive, when travelling by railway, in lieu of mileage rate, the actual cost of his travelling ticket. An officer having a salary of 50 rupees a month and upwards will be entitled to a second class ticket, and less than that sum to a third class ticket. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 76, November 9, 1859. Allowance when travelling by rail on duty.

2587-10a. After the inspector has made one visit to each of the jails under his control, it is sufficient that his subsequent visits should be made once in two years, though it is of course optional to him to increase the number of his visits at his discretion. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857. Visits to jails to be made once in two years.

2587-14a. The rule in paragraph 14 is rescinded. The duties of the session judges in connection with the jails are limited to those of visitors. [See para. 2599a.] The inspector is to exercise Session judge has no longer any power of supervision over jails.

a full and sole control over all expenditure in the jails, and the session judge has ceased to have the power of authorizing any charges on account of jails. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

2587-16a. The rule in paragraph 16 is modified. The inspector is to exercise a full and sole control over all expenditure in the jails. The magistrate's monthly contingent bills for jail expenses of every description are to be submitted for the sanction of the inspector, who is authorized to sanction any item of expenditure (except those for which the sanction of the supreme government is requisite) to an amount not exceeding 500 rupees. It rests with the inspector to regulate the amounts of those petty charges, which the magistrates are authorized to incur without reference to any superior authority, by such restrictions as it may seem to him necessary to impose. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Inspector has entire control over jail expenditure.

2590a. All the periodical jail returns and statements are to be submitted direct to the inspector, who is authorized to introduce such modifications of the forms as may tend to simplicity and economy. Officers in charge of jails are strictly prohibited from using any printed or lithographed forms of statements, except those which they may obtain on indent through the inspector's office. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Jail returns to be sent to inspector. Printed forms to be supplied by him.

2590b. The inspector is to submit for the information of government a single monthly statement epitomizing the contents of the monthly statements submitted to him by the officers in charge of jails. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Monthly statement to be forwarded by inspector to government.

2599a. The duties of the session judges in connection with the jails are limited to those of visitors. They are required to visit the jail not less seldom than once a month. They are to receive any petitions presented to them by the prisoners, disposing of petitions against judicial sentences, but forwarding all others which refer to jail arrangements to the inspector. The judge is to note in the "order book of the prison" the date of each visit, and nothing more. He is to have access to all jail records; and, if he thinks it necessary to bring any matter to the notice of the inspector, he is to prepare a report, and, after forwarding a copy of it to the magistrate for any explanation that officer may desire to offer, he is to submit it with the magistrate's explanation for the information and orders of the inspector. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Duty of session judge to visit jail and to bring any matter to the notice of the inspector.

2599b. In cases of emergency, if the inspector is not at the station, the judge is authorized to interfere with the orders of a magistrate in jail management; but an immediate report of such interference must be submitted for the information of the inspector and of government. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

How far a judge may interfere in a case of emergency.

2603a. In the adoption of new rules of administration, even in regard to jail discipline, the authorities should strictly abstain from all measures that would give even a remotely colorable pretext for the entertainment of the belief, that the British government have any intention to destroy the caste of natives by any devices. C. O. Govt. Bengal, November 11, 1858.

New rules should be framed so as to avoid any color of injury to caste.

2612a. The expensive item of oil for burning may be considerably reduced by growing the castor-oil plant in the jail-garden, and expressing the oil with the native oil mill, which affords excellent labor for refractory convicts. Where there is no jail-garden, the seeds may be purchased in a cheap market, their cost and value of produce being charged in the manufacture accounts. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858, and No. 83, December 23, 1859.

Oil plants to be grown, and oil manufactured in jail.

2614a. As soon as the prisoners leave their beds, all doors, windows, and every aperture through which air enters, should be thrown wide open, the bedding and blankets should be taken out and aired in the yards attached to the wards, and the rooms should be well and thoroughly swept, so as to remove every particle of dust. When this is done, and it need not occupy more than half an hour, the bedding should be folded up, and placed in the position occupied by the prisoner to whom it belongs. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855.

Wards to be opened in the morning and the bedding taken out and aired.

2614*b*. With a view to purify the atmosphere, wicker baskets, eight inches in diameter and two inches in depth, filled with wood charcoal broken in small pieces, are to be placed in a corner of each ward. The charcoal requires to be occasionally renewed. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855. Baskets of charcoal to be placed in a corner of each ward.

2619*a*. The admission of a missionary to a jail for the purpose of preaching is not to be permitted, unless when a prisoner makes a request for the presence of one. Order of Govt. in C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 660, May 28, 1859. Admission of missionaries into jails.

2629*a*. The importance of not over-crowding the jail cannot be exaggerated. Not less than 450 cubic feet of air should be allowed to each prisoner. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1858. 450 cubic feet to be allowed for each prisoner.

2641*a*. All ordure is to be accumulated in movable vessels, and is not to be allowed to fall into any of the drains of the jail. They can be removed by hand in the morning, and should be carried to a sufficient distance from the jail, there to be buried in a fresh trench each day. Proper pans should be provided for urine, and prisoners should be interdicted from, and punished for, urinating upon the floor. Wherever it is possible, the doors of the wards should be left open at night, and vessels for the reception of filth should be placed in the most remote corners of the yards. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855. Privies.

2641*b*. The ashes of the cook-rooms should be substituted for lime as a disinfectant. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858. Ashes instead of lime.

2649*a*. Prisoners should be made to wash their own clothes on Sundays; a little khar or saji-mati being supplied to them for the purpose. Ashes from the cookrooms should also be used in washing clothes. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858. Prisoners to wash their own clothes.

2650*a*. The inspector has the power of passing charges under 500 rupees for public-works in the jail department, and his audit is final. But his sanction must be obtained before the works are commenced. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 978, June 16, 1859. Audit of charges for public works in jails.

2653*a*. Dhuna and damar are not allowed. Charcoal should be used for fumigation. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858.

2655*a*. The inspector of jails is entitled to inspect the records of the jail hospital: but in professional details the superintending medical officers are the authorities to whom the medical officers in charge of jails are subordinate. A medical officer has no authority or power to do any thing in relation to dietary, labor, or any other prison arrangements. His authority is limited to the medical treatment of the sick, in which no one is to interfere with him; in other respects he may report and recommend what he thinks fit, but it is the magistrate alone who has power to act, and the magistrate is under the orders of the inspector. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. December 3, 1859. Powers of medical officers in charge of jails.

2675*a*. Sufficient attention is not paid to the water used for cooking and drinking. Water from stagnant tanks, jheels, or wells, which are nearly dry, should not be used; and whenever the civil surgeon, after examination, considers the water to be unfit for consumption in its natural state, and none other is procurable, it should be boiled, and filtered through charcoal and sand in common earthen vessels. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855. Water used for cooking and drinking.

2675*b*. The time at which the food is taken by the prisoners is not without its influence on their health. The safest rule is to adopt, when practicable, the habits of the people of the district. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855. Time of feeding.

2685*a*. Some of the prisoners should be taught to shave the others, if there are none of the barber caste in jail. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858. Prisoners to be taught to shave.

2688a. In the case of sickly and aged prisoners, one blanket may be converted into a warm close-fitting jacket to protect the chest, loins, and abdomen. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 1709, August 10, 1859.

Warm jacket for aged prisoners.

2703a. Mozahs should always be made of common country tanned leather by the mochi prisoners, when there are any in jail. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858.

Mozahs to be made of country tanned leather.

2721a. When a prisoner under sentence of transportation for life, wounded another prisoner with repeated blows of a knife, it was held that his intention was to take life, and he was sentenced to death. Reports L. P. 1858, page 336.

Precedent.

2746a. The power of sanctioning rewards to the amount of 500 rupees for the capture of prisoners breaking jail, is vested in the inspector, to whom the magistrate is invariably to report without delay the escape of any prisoner, the measures adopted for his capture, and the punishment of those parties who have rendered themselves liable to punishment in connection with it. The inspector is authorized to empower magistrates to sanction rewards not exceeding 50 rupees in any one case, the reward being proportioned to the unexpired term of the runaway's sentence. C. O. Govt Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Power of sanctioning rewards for the capture of escaped prisoners.

Escape to be immediately reported to inspector.

2746b. Magistrates are authorized to advertise rewards for the re-apprehension of convicts, who escape from their custody, and to pay such rewards to the captors according to the following scale :

Scale of rewards which the magistrate is authorized to offer and pay.

For a prisoner whose original sentence did not exceed 6 months' imprisonment, rs.	10.
Ditto	1 year's " " 15.
Ditto	3 years' " " 25.
Ditto	above 3 years' " " 50.

Whenever peculiar circumstances may render it advisable to offer a larger reward than is authorized by the preceding rule, or a higher amount than 50 rupees for any one prisoner, the application for sanction must be submitted to the inspector. The payment of rewards is to be entered in the jail contingent bill, under the head of miscellaneous charges, accompanied by the usual statement of application for rewards in which a short explanation of the circumstances should be given. In order to prevent the connivance of the guards with a view to participating in the reward, the full penalty of additional imprisonment allowed by law should be inflicted in all cases, and the award of punishment is to be noted in the column of remarks of the statement of rewards. C. O. Insp. Prisons W. P. No. 51 of 1854, and C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 82, September 9, 1859.

Precaution to prevent connivance of guards

2761a. It shall be competent to the executive government of any presidency or place to declare by an order, as regards any or all of the districts under such government, the time within which the persons, who within such district or districts shall, between the first of May 1857 and the time so declared, have escaped from jail or other lawful custody, whilst detained under sentence of imprisonment for any of the crimes hereinafter mentioned, could and ought to have surrendered themselves to a magistrate or police officer; and no such person who shall have so surrendered himself within the period fixed as aforesaid, shall be liable to be prosecuted under this Act. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 2.

Time for the surrender of certain escaped offenders.

2761b. Every person who, whilst detained as aforesaid, shall have escaped from jail or other lawful custody during the period mentioned in the last preceding section, and who shall not have surrendered himself within the time declared by the executive government as aforesaid, may be sentenced to transportation for life, or for any shorter period not being less than five years, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor in irons for any period not exceeding three years, in addition to any unexpired term of his original sentence. In any case falling within the provisions of this section, in which the magistrate shall be of opinion that in addition to the unexpired term of the offender's original sentence, a more severe sentence than that which such magistrate is, by any law for the time being in force, empowered to pass, is not called for, it shall not be necessary for the magistrate to order the commitment of the offender to the sessions court, but he may himself pass sentence to the extent of his powers, and proceed to carry the sentence into execution. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 3.

Punishment for not surrendering within the time aforesaid.

In what cases magistrate may pass sentence without commitment to sessions court.

2764c. If any person subject to the penalty prescribed in sect. 1. Act V. 1858 shall, before the passing of this Act, have been remanded to jail under the order of a magistrate, to undergo the portion of his sentence remaining unexpired at the date of his escape from jail or other lawful custody, such person shall not be liable to be prosecuted under this Act. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 5.

Certain escaped offenders, remanded to jail, not liable to be prosecuted under this Act.

2764d. The following are the crimes referred to in sect. 2, namely, rebellion, mutiny, desertion, murder, attempt to murder, thuggee, dacoity, robbery, belonging or having belonged to a gang of thugs, or to a gang of dacoits, or to a wandering gang associated for the purposes of theft or robbery. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 6.

Enumeration of crimes referred to in section 2.

2764e. Whoever shall knowingly harbour or conceal, or assist in harbouring or concealing, any such convict who shall have escaped as aforesaid, and shall not have surrendered within the period provided in sect. 2 of this Act, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for any term not exceeding seven years, and shall also be liable to fine. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 7.

Punishment for knowingly harbouring or concealing offenders.

2764f. All proprietors of lands, and all farmers, agents, and other persons having the charge or management of lands, are hereby declared accountable for the early communication to the magistrates and police officers of intelligence of the resort, to any place within the limits of the lands held or managed by them, of any person in respect of whom there shall be reasonable suspicion of his being such convict who has escaped as aforesaid; and every proprietor or other person as aforesaid, who shall neglect to give such intelligence, shall be liable, on conviction before a magistrate, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, and to fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, commutable, if not paid, to imprisonment for a further term not exceeding six months. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 8.

Liability of landholders to give early intelligence of the resort of escaped prisoners to their estates.

2764g. Any magistrate or person exercising the full powers of a magistrate, unless prohibited by order of the executive government, is hereby authorized, without reference to any other authority, to tender a pardon to any person who may have escaped from jail or other lawful custody, whilst detained under sentence of imprisonment for any crime or offence other than the crimes above-mentioned, on condition of his giving such information as may lead to the apprehension and conviction of one or more person or persons punishable under this Act. Such pardon may be tendered, as well in respect of the crime or offence for which the offender was detained, as of the offence of escaping from jail. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 9.

Magistrates &c. authorized to tender pardon in certain cases.

2764h. Offences under this Act, other than those provided for by section 8 of this Act, may be tried by a sessions judge, or by a special commissioner appointed under Act XIV. 1857; and the sentence or judgment shall not be subject to appeal. Provided that nothing contained in this section shall extend to the trial of a European British subject. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 10.

Jurisdiction.

2764i. It shall be competent to the executive government of any presidency or place to direct that any person, who shall be convicted of escaping from jail or other lawful custody whilst undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, shall be transported for the term remaining unexpired of such sentence, as well as for any additional term of imprisonment to which such person shall be sentenced for making his escape, provided that the aggregate of both terms shall not be less than five years. Act XVII. 1860, sect. 11.

Executive government may transport in cases where an unexpired sentence, together with the sentence for escaping from jail, amounts to five years.

2784a. The establishment of convict servants in the jail, for all purposes connected with its internal economy, is not to exceed 10 per cent. of the whole number of prisoners in custody. The only exception that can be allowed is in the number of attendants in the hospital in times of epidemics, when the sick need extra care; and in such cases a special application must be submitted showing the additional aid required, and the reasons for it. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 86, February 22, 1860.

Ratio of convict servants employed in the jail to the total number of prisoners in custody.

2795a. The system of out-door labor is prohibited, except where it appears expedient on very strong grounds to retain it, for which the sanction of the inspector must be obtained. Sufficient work-sheds have been ordered in all jails to employ the convicts, who are to be confined strictly within the walls. No prison is considered in a satisfactory state, in which a laboring prisoner does not net the actual cost of his maintenance. To obtain this result great care is necessary in the purchase of raw material, that it is bought in the cheapest market, and at such rates as will render the labor of the prisoners remunerative. All manufactures that are neither penal nor profitable must be strictly interdicted. The spinning of thread and similar light occupation should be restricted to women, children, the old, and the sickly. In no case, and on no pretence, should robust male prisoners, and particularly those who are heinous offenders, be employed in any such labor. All manufacturing prisoners should be put on task work, and a full tale exacted from each; which should never be less than is performed by a skilled laborer of the same class in the district. By proper management there is scarcely any kind of prison labor in which a convict may not be rendered proficient in six months. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. November 16, 1859, and No. 5268, March 30, 1860.

2795b. The costs of all buildings bonâ fide required for manufactures is to be charged in the jail manufacture accounts as raw material. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 4871, January 29, 1860.

Debit of costs of work sheds.

2802a. The cost of vegetables supplied to prisoners from the jail garden is to be debited to the diet account, the value being calculated at the lowest rates at which similar substances can be purchased in the neighbouring markets. The amount thus realized is to be credited to the account of the proceeds of jail manufactures. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 83, December 23, 1859.

Credit of produce of jail gardens.

2810a. Long credit is not to be allowed to purchasers of jail produce. The accounts should be settled within the current month in which the sale is effected. Bad debts should be deducted from the percentage of the jailor. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 3313, February 11, 1859.

Long credits forbidden.

2815a. All applications for the expenditure of sums from convict-labor funds are to be made by magistrates to the commissioners, who will withhold or award their sanction in each case, according to their own discretion, provided it is not on account of a new work, the estimated expense of which exceeds 1000 rupees. In such cases it will be necessary for the commissioner to obtain the previous sanction of government. Annual statements are to be furnished to government in the forms Nos. 5 and 6 of Appendix F. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 54, July 23, 1857; May 26, 1859; and No. 77, November 12, 1859.

Sanction for expenditure of sums from convict labor funds.

2819a. The proportion of one burkundaz to every 5 prisoners should never be exceeded. When there are less than 5 prisoners in excess of the number allotted to work on the roads, the supernumeraries should be employed in some way within the jail, as the cost of a burkundaz for any smaller number than 5 is much greater than the value of their labor. For prisoners employed in manufactures near and within the jails, one in 10 is the maximum to be allowed. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858.

Proportion of burkundazes to prisoners.

2819b. On Sundays and non-working days the thika establishment must not be employed in any other duties connected with the jail, nor must they on any account be allowed to discharge the functions of the permanent establishment. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 76, January 20, 1858.

Thika burkundazes not to be employed on duties of permanent establishment.

2826a. In the event of great sickness occurring, all sedentary occupations, and those in which there is much dabbling in water, as paper making, should be intermitted, and the prisoners employed, as much as possible, in the open air, and in such active work as, without over-tasking their strength, will keep their minds and their bodies occupied, and consequently out of mischief. It is a mistake to suppose that all work should cease upon the out-break of disease. Nothing would be more calculated to encourage dependency, and the depressing agencies which are invariably so injurious in such cases. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 30, December 26, 1855.

Regulation of labor during times of great sickness.

2844a. The inspector of jails is to exercise a complete power of revision over all orders passed by the magistrates regarding the appointments, punishment, and removal of all officers on their jail establishments. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Inspector to exercise supervision over orders of magistrates regarding officers.

2844b. Under this rule the magistrate is to report to the inspector all orders which he may pass in the selection, punishment, or removal of jailors, naib-darogahs, mohurrirs, jemadars, and duffadars. The removal of burkundazes should be reported in the ordinary form of convictions, but if the burkundaz petitions against the sentence, the petition should be accompanied by the briefest possible statement of the grounds for the punishment inflicted. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 92, May 2, 1859.

Reports of all orders to be sent to inspector.

2844c. This rule does not vest the inspector with any power to interfere with the judicial order of a magistrate sentencing a jail officer on conviction of a distinct misdemeanor, as e. g. the cases referred to in paras. 2771 and 2847. In these cases the appeal lies to the session judge, but in matters of jail discipline to the inspector. Opinion of Legal Remembrancer in C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 81, June 24, 1859.

Interference of inspector restricted to matters of jail discipline.

2869a. In cases of thuggee and dacoity the warrants must be addressed to the magistrate in whose custody the prisoner may be at the time of their issue. C. O. No. 32, December 10, 1856, L. P.

Warrants in cases of thuggee and dacoity.

2872a. If more than one prisoner is included in one sentence a separate warrant is to be delivered on account of each to the jail darogah of the district jail, to be forwarded to the magistrate of the district to which a prisoner may be ordered by government to be sent, or to the superintendent of the Alipore jail, as the case may be. A copy of his warrant is to be delivered to each prisoner. In the transit of a prisoner from the custody of one magistrate to that of another, the original warrant, and the said copy, are to be carefully transmitted along with the prisoner. On the expiration of sentence, or death before expiry of sentence, the warrants, original and copy, are to be returned to the magistrate of the district whence the order issued. C. O. No. 8, August 15, 1859.

Separate warrant for each prisoner.

Copy to be given to prisoner.

2929a. The statements and returns regarding prisoners sentenced to banishment or transportation are to be submitted by the magistrates and the session judges respectively to the inspector, who is to determine the place of banishment to which each prisoner so sentenced is to be forwarded. The statements submitted by the sudder court to government will be forwarded to the inspector as soon as they are received. The inspector will submit a quarterly report to government for sanction regarding the disposal of the prisoners sentenced to banishment or transportation. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857.

Reports of prisoners sentenced to transportation or banishment to be forwarded to inspector, who is to determine their disposal.

2938a. The name of the district and presidency is invariably to be inserted in descriptive rolls of prisoners under sentence of transportation. C. O. No. 58, June 5, 1858.

Name of district and presidency to be inserted in roll.

2941a. Magistrates despatching to Alipore prisoners under sentence of transportation, should invariably forward to the superintendent of the jail copies of the warrants, when they advise him of the prisoners' departure. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 238, May 16, 1859.

Copy of warrant to be sent to superintendent of Alipore jail.

2943a. In the case of life-prisoners all ornaments and other property prohibited by the rules in force, which are found on their persons after conviction, should be sold, and the amount realized is to be paid into the local treasury and credited to the jail. With regard to term prisoners, such property should be placed in the mal-khana, and a careful inventory of it be kept, that it may be restored to the prisoner on release. In no case should money, jewels, or any forbidden articles be permitted to be in the possession of convicts of either sex, when sent from one jail to another. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 113, May 7, 1859.

No forbidden articles should be allowed to be in the possession of convicts when sent from one jail to another.

2946a. Guards sent in charge of prisoners are to be instructed that they must not remain at the place of their destination longer than is necessary, and that they must find their way back to their respective stations by the shortest and most expeditious route. C. O. Insp. Jails, L. P. No. 1016, June 28, 1859.

Guards are to return to their stations immediately by the most expeditious route.

2955a. From and after the passing of this Act, whenever any person convicted of an offence which is punishable with transportation, shall be sentenced by any court within the British territories in India to be transported, such court shall not in its sentence specify the place to which such person shall be sent for the purpose of undergoing the sentence of transportation. Act XXXV. 1860, sect. 1.

Place of transportation not to be specified in sentence.

2955b. It shall be lawful for the governor-general of India in council, from time to time, to appoint a place or places within the British territories in India, to which persons sentenced to transportation shall be sent: and the local government of the presidency or place in which such persons shall have been sentenced, or some officer duly authorized by the local government, shall give orders for their removal to the place or places so appointed. Act XXXV. 1860, sect. 2.

Governor-general in council to appoint a place. Local government to direct removal.

- 2955c. In every case in which a sentence of transportation is passed, the person upon whom such sentence is passed, until he is transported, shall be dealt with in the same manner as if sentenced to imprisonment with hard labor, and shall be held to have been undergoing his sentence of transportation during the term of his imprisonment. Act XXXV. 1860, sect. 3. Provision for intermediate custody.
- 2955d. When sentence of transportation shall be passed on a person already undergoing transportation under a sentence previously passed for another offence, it shall not be necessary for the government to order the removal of such person from the place in which he is so undergoing transportation. Act XXXV. 1860, sect. 4. Execution of sentences of transportation passed on persons already undergoing transportation under a previous sentence.
- 2955e. Nothing in this Act shall affect the provisions of Act XXIV. 1855 or the provisions of any Act of Parliament passed in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland for punishing mutiny and desertion. Act XXXV. 1860, sect. 5. Saving clause.
- 2968a. Reports for release of prisoners for reward in mitigation of sentence are to be sent by session judges to inspector, who will issue the requisite orders, submitting a quarterly statement for the sanction of government. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857. Reports to be sent to inspector.
- 2974a. Reports recommending the release of prisoners who are suffering under incurable bodily infirmity, or who are on any other ground recommended for a mitigation of their sentence, are to be forwarded by session judges to the inspector, who is to issue the requisite orders upon them, submitting a quarterly statement of his proceedings for the sanction of government. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 49, May 5, 1857. Inspector vested with power to release prisoners in mitigation of sentence, reporting quarterly to government.
- 3013a. The provisions of Regulation III. 1818, relating to the arrest and confinement of persons as state prisoners, shall be in force within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the supreme court. Act III. 1858, sect. 2. Reg. III. 1818 has effect in supreme court jurisdiction.
- 3014a. Any person arrested as a state prisoner before the passing of this Act, or now confined as a state prisoner by the order or under the warrant of the governor general in council, shall be deemed to have been lawfully arrested and to be lawfully confined. Act III. 1858, sect. 4. Arrests made before the passing of this Act legalized.
- 3021a. The governor general in council may order the removal of any state prisoner from any fortress, jail, or place, in which he may be confined, to any fortress, jail, or place of confinement within the British territories in India. Act III. 1858, sect. 5. Governor-general may order removal of state prisoners.

3270a. For every deed, instrument, or writing which shall be executed from the time when this Act shall come into force, and which shall be of any the kinds specified as requiring stamps by the schedule A annexed to this Act, there shall be payable to government a stamp duty of the amount indicated in the said schedule to be proper for such deed, instrument, or writing. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 2.

Stamp duty payable under schedule A.

3270b. If any person shall draw, accept, endorse, negotiate, pay, or receive payment of any bill of exchange, promissory note, draft, cheque, or other similar instrument, or if any person shall make, execute, sign, or be a party to any deed, instrument, or other writing, engrossed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper, or other material which should bear a stamp of the value set forth in schedule A, such person, so offending, shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees, or a sum equal to ten times the value of the stamp omitted to be used, if the sum so calculated exceed one hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 3.

Penalty for drawing, &c. unstamped or insufficiently stamped bill of exchange, &c.

3270c. The governor-general in council shall prescribe the form and material of the stamps to be used, and the mode and place of impressing, affixing, or denoting thereon the value thereof under the provisions of this Act, and may from time to time alter and vary such orders. All orders made by the governor-general in council under this section shall be published in the official gazettes of the several presidencies and places in which such orders are to be in force. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 4.

Governor-general in council to prescribe the form of stamps to be used, &c.

3270d. The duty imposed by this Act on every receipt, and on every draft or order for the payment of money on demand, and bearing the date on which the draft or order is made, may be denoted by stamp impressed upon the paper whereon any such instrument is written, or by an adhesive stamp affixed thereto. It shall be lawful, until the governor-general in council shall direct to the contrary by an order to be published in the gazette, to use a postage stamp of the value of half anna on every receipt, draft, or order for which a half anna stamp is required by this Act. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 5.

Receipt stamps how to be denoted.

3270e. In any case where an adhesive stamp shall be used for the purpose aforesaid on any receipt or upon any draft or order chargeable with the duty of half anna or of one anna by this Act, the person by whom such receipt shall be given, or such draft or order signed or made, shall, before the instrument shall be delivered out of his hands, custody, or power, cancel the stamp so used, by writing thereon his name, or the initial letters of his name, or in such other manner as to show that such stamp has been made use of, and so that the same may not be again used; and if any person who shall write or give any such receipt or discharge, or make or sign any such draft or order with any adhesive stamp thereon, shall not bonâ fide in manner aforesaid cancel such stamp, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 6.

Obiteration of adhesive stamp when used.

3270f. The duties imposed by this Act on foreign bills of exchange shall be paid on account of all bills drawn within, but payable out of the British territories in India, and on account of all bills drawn out of the British territories in India, which shall be payable within those territories, or shall therein be endorsed, transferred, or otherwise negotiated, wheresoever the same may be payable; and the duties so imposed on bills drawn out of the British territories in India, shall be denoted by adhesive stamps to be affixed to such bills as hereinafter directed. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 7.

Stamps on foreign bills of exchange &c.

3270g. Every bill of exchange which shall purport to be drawn at any place out of the British territories in India, shall, for all the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be a foreign bill of exchange drawn out of the British territories in India, and shall be chargeable with stamp duty accordingly, notwithstanding that in fact the same may have been drawn within those territories. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 8.

Bills purporting to be drawn abroad deemed for the purposes of this Act to be so drawn.

3270h. The holder of any bill of exchange drawn out of the British territories in India, and not having a proper adhesive stamp affixed thereon as herein directed, shall, before he shall present the same for payment, or endorse, transfer, or in any manner negotiate such bill, affix thereon a proper adhesive stamp for denoting the duty by this Act charged on such bill; and the person who shall endorse, transfer, and negotiate such bill shall, before he shall deliver the same out of his hands, custody, or power, cancel the stamp so affixed by writing across the same, as his endorsement, his name or the name of his firm, and the date of the day and year on which he shall so write the same, or by affixing thereon or across the same the seal or mark which he is in the habit of using, or in such other manner as to show that the stamp has been made use of and so that the same may not be again used: and if any person shall present for payment or shall pay, or endorse, transfer, or negotiate any such bill as aforesaid whereon there shall not be such adhesive stamp as aforesaid duly affixed, or if any person, who ought as directed by this Act to cancel such stamp in manner aforesaid, shall refuse or neglect so to do, such person so offending in any such case shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section

The holder of a bill drawn out of the British territory to affix an adhesive stamp thereon before negotiating it.

Penalty for negotiating such bill without a stamp affixed or for neglecting to cancel such stamp.

3 of this Act ; and no person who shall take or receive from any other person any such bill as aforesaid either on payment or as a security, or by purchase or otherwise, shall be entitled to recover thereon or to make the same available for any purpose whatever, unless at the time when he shall so take or receive such bill, there shall be such stamp as aforesaid affixed thereon and cancelled in the manner thereby directed. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 9.

Penalty for drawing and issuing, or transferring or negotiating bills purporting to be drawn in a set of three and not drawing the whole number of the set. Penalty on taking or receiving such bills.

3270i. If any person shall, within the British territories in India, draw and issue any bill of exchange payable out of the British territories in India, purporting to be drawn in a set of three, and shall not draw and issue, on paper duly stamped as required by law, the whole number of bills which such bill purports the set to consist of, or if any person shall within the British territories in India transfer or negotiate any such bill of exchange as aforesaid purporting to be drawn in a set of three, and shall not at the same time transfer or deliver on paper duly stamped as aforesaid, the whole number of bills which such bill purports the set to consist of, every such person so offending in any of such cases, shall be liable to the penalty prescribed in section 3 of this Act ; and if any person shall take or receive in the British territories in India any such bill as aforesaid either in payment, or as a security, or by purchase, or otherwise, without having transferred or delivered to him duly stamped as aforesaid the whole number of bills which such bill purports the set to consist of, he shall not be entitled to recover on any such bill, or to make the same available for any purpose whatever. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 10.

Penalty for use of adhesive stamp which has been removed from a receipt, &c.

3270j. If any person shall affix or use any adhesive stamp which to his knowledge shall have been taken off or removed from any paper whereon any receipt or any draft, order, or bill of exchange, shall have been written, to or for any receipt, draft, order, or bill of exchange, or any paper whereon any such receipt, draft, order, or bill of exchange shall be, or be intended to be written ; or if any person shall do, or practise, or be concerned in any fraudulent act, contrivance, or device whatever, not especially provided for by this or some other Act, with intent to defraud the government of any duty imposed by this Act upon receipts or upon drafts, orders, or bills of exchange,—every person so offending in any of the said several cases shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 11.

Penalty for use of postage stamp which has been removed.

3270k. If any person shall affix or use any adhesive postage stamp, which to his knowledge shall have been taken off or removed from any paper whereon any receipt or any draft, order, or bill of exchange, or other instrument requiring a stamp under the said Act shall have been written, or from any letter or packet, to or for any receipt, draft, order, or bill of exchange or other instrument so requiring a stamp, or to or for any paper whereon the same shall be or be intended to be written, or to or for any letter or packet,—every person so offending shall forfeit a sum not exceeding two hundred rupees. Act XL. 1860, sect. 2.

Effect of a writing not duly stamped.

3270l. Except as otherwise provided by this Act, no deed, instrument, or writing for which any duty shall be payable under section 2 of this Act, shall be received as creating, transferring, or extinguishing any right or obligation, or as evidence in any civil proceeding in any court of justice, whether established by royal charter or otherwise, or shall be acted upon in any such court or by any public officer, or shall be registered in any public office, or authenticated by any public officer, unless such deed, instrument, or writing be upon a stamp of a value not less than that indicated to be proper for it by the said schedule. Provided that every deed, instrument, or writing liable to stamp duty shall be admitted as evidence in any criminal proceeding, although it may not have the stamp required by law impressed thereon or affixed thereto. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 12.

Proviso.

Deeds inadvertently executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper, may be stamped on payment of proper stamp duty and penalty.

3270m. Deeds, instruments, and writings executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper from accident, ignorance, inadvertence, mistake, or from other unavoidable cause, may be impressed with the requisite stamp or stamps, on application being made to the collector of stamp revenue, after payment of so much as will make up the proper amount of stamp duty, and the penalties hereinunder stated, or such mitigated penalty as the local government or any board or officer authorized by the local government may prescribe. Provided always that the payment of such penalty shall exempt the person making the same from any other penalty provided by this Act for such neglect or omission, and that if any such other penalty shall already have been imposed, then the same shall be taken as far as it goes in reduction of any penalty arising under this section. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 1.

Proviso.

Penalty if executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper, & brought to be stamped within thirty days of execution.

3270n. If the deed, instrument, or writing executed as aforesaid on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper be brought within thirty days from the date of execution, the requisite stamp may be impressed on payment of so much as will make up the proper amount of stamp duty and treble the amount of the deficient duty; if brought after thirty days from the date of execution, but within three months from that date, or if brought within six months from the time of this Act coming into force, the requisite stamp may be impressed on payment of so much as will make up the proper amount of stamp duty, and five times the amount of the deficient duty; or if not brought within the two periods last mentioned, the requisite stamp may be impressed on payment of so much as will make up the proper amount of stamp duty and twenty times the deficient duty. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 2.

Penalty if brought within three months of execution or six months of Act coming into force.

Penalty if not brought within the two periods last mentioned.

3270o. It shall be the duty of the collector of the stamp revenue of the district, or other officer as aforesaid, to determine whether, upon payment of the penalties mentioned in the last preceding clause, the requisite stamp shall be impressed on any deed, instrument, or writing which shall have been executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper, and the decision of the collector shall be conclusive and final, except in cases in which he shall refuse to allow the deed, instrument, or writing to be stamped. The board of revenue or other general controlling revenue authority may, however, upon petition, order such penalty to be mitigated, and if paid, may order such part of it as they may consider proper to be returned. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 3.

Collector to determine whether, on payment of penalty, a deed &c. executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper shall be stamped.

In what cases decision of collector final.

Mitigation of penalty.

3270p. Sections 130 and 131 of Act VIII. 1859 are hereby repealed, and in lieu thereof it is enacted as follows:—In all cases under this Act in which a collector may impress a stamp on payment of the proper amount of stamp duty and a penalty, any civil court may receive in evidence any deed, instrument, or writing which might be so impressed, on payment into court of the proper amount of stamp duty, and the penalty as by this section imposed. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 4.

In what cases civil court may receive deed &c. on payment of stamp duty and penalty.

3270q. An entry of such payment and of the amount thereof shall be made in a book to be kept in the court, and shall also be endorsed on the back of the deed, instrument, or writing, and shall be signed by a judge of the court. The court shall, at the end of every month, make a return to the collector of the stamp revenue of the district of the monies (if any) which it has so received, distinguishing between the monies received by way of penalty and those received by way of duty, stating the number and title of the suit, and the name of the party from whom such monies were received, and the date, if any, and description of the document, for the purpose of identifying the same, and the court shall pay over the said monies to such collector, or to such person as he may appoint to receive the same. And such collector or other proper authority shall, upon the production of the deed, instrument, or writing, with the endorsement hereinbefore mentioned, cause it to be stamped thereon with a stamp of the amount paid into court on account of such duty. All the provisions hereinbefore contained as to the mitigation or payment of penalties paid to the collector shall be applicable to penalties paid into court. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 5.

Procedure on payment, under preceding clause.

3270r. No deed, instrument, or writing executed on unstamped or insufficiently stamped paper, shall be stamped at any time after the execution thereof, except as aforesaid. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 6.

No unstamped or insufficiently stamped deed &c. to be stamped except as aforesaid.

3270s. The cost of transmitting all deeds, instruments, and writings required to be stamped under this section, and the cost of registering the same at the post office for transmission, shall, in all cases, be borne by the party applying to have such deeds, instruments, and writings stamped. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 7.

Cost of transmitting deed &c. to be stamped, by whom to be paid.

3270t. The government shall not be responsible for any loss or damage which may occur in respect of any deed, instrument, or writing entrusted to the collectors of stamp revenue, and no person employed by the government in the stamp department shall be responsible for any such loss or damage, unless that person shall wilfully, fraudulently, or by gross negligence, cause such loss or damage. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13, cl. 8.

Government not responsible for loss or damage to deed, &c.

3270u. But no part of this section shall extend to bills of exchange or other forms of orders for money drawn within the British territories in India, or to receipts for money. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 13.

Provisions of this section not to extend to bills of exchange &c. drawn in India.

3270v. No larger sum shall be recoverable in any court of justice by reason of any deed, instrument, or writing, for which an optional stamp is indicated to be proper by the said schedule, than the largest sum for which, if specially stated in a deed, instrument, or writing of the same denomination, the stamp actually used under the option so given would be of sufficient value. And no such deed, instrument, or writing shall be held by any court of justice to be valid in respect to any sum of money larger than that for which the stamp on the said deed, instrument, or writing would be sufficient. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 14.

What sum recoverable under a writing bearing an optional stamp.

Expense of providing receipt stamps, &c.

3270w. Every person receiving payment of any sum of money, the receipt for which under this Act requires a stamp, shall, if required, give a receipt bearing the proper stamp indicated by this Act, and shall bear the expense of furnishing the same, and in case of refusal shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred rupees. The expense of providing the stamp of all bills of exchange, letters of credit, drafts, cheques on bankers or others, promissory notes, and other orders and obligations for the payment of money made or drawn in the British territories in India (not being bonds or instruments or writings bearing the attestation of one or more witnesses), shall be borne by the person making or drawing the same. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 15.

Stamp duty payable under schedule B.

3270z. Except within the local limits of the jurisdiction of the courts established by royal charter, no instrument or writing of any of the kinds specified as requiring stamps in the schedule B annexed to this Act, shall be filed, exhibited, or recorded in any court of justice or office with respect to which court or office such instrument or writing is required by schedule B to have a stamp, or shall be received or furnished by any public officer, unless such instrument or writing be upon a stamp prescribed as aforesaid by the governor-general of India in council, and of a value not less than that indicated to be proper for it by the said schedule B. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 16.

Effect of provision contained in the schedules.

3270y. Every provision contained in the schedules annexed to this Act shall be of the same force as if it were contained in the body of the Act. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 17.

Governor-general in council may lower rates of stamp duty in any district, or altogether exempt the same, &c.

3270z. The governor-general in council may, by an order to be published in the Calcutta gazette, direct that in any district such lower rates of stamp duty as he shall prescribe shall be taken on all or any of the deeds, instruments, or writings specified in the schedules to this Act, or altogether exempt the same, and in like manner, as occasion shall require, cancel or vary such order to the extent of the powers hereby given. Provided that this section shall not extend to bills of exchange or other instruments classed as bills of exchange. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 18.

Proviso.

Appointment of officers for collection of revenue.

3271a. The local executive government may appoint officers for the collection of the stamp revenue, and may prescribe the duties of such officers, and may assign districts to such officers, and may license or cause to be licensed venders of stamps, and may direct how and under what conditions stamps may be supplied to such venders for sale. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 19.

License stamp venders.

License and schedules to be stuck up in stamp vender's shop.

3271b. Every vender of stamps shall at all times have his license, together with the schedules annexed to this Act, in the vernacular language of the district, stuck up in a conspicuous situation in the place where he sells the stamps, on pain of a fine not exceeding fifty rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 20.

Endorsement by vender on stamp when issued.

3271c. Every vender of stamps shall write on the back of each stamp which he sells, except adhesive stamps and stamps used for receipts, or for bills of exchange, promissory notes, drafts, or other orders for money, bankers' agreements for loans, or bills of lading, the date of issue, the name of the person to whom it is issued, and his own ordinary signature, on pain of a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 21, and Act XL. 1860, sect. 5.

Penalty for false endorsement.

3271d. Any vender who shall knowingly write a false date or name on the back of any stamp, which he is required to endorse under the foregoing section, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or imprisonment not exceeding three months, or both. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 22, and Act XL. 1860, sect. 5.

Delay by stamp vendor in issuing stamps.

3271e. Every vender of stamps shall, without delay, deliver any stamp which he has in his possession for sale on demand by any person tendering the value in any currency which the vender is duly authorized to receive in payment for stamps, on pain of a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 23.

Stamp vender accepting any consideration other than that authorized.

3271f. Any vender who demands or accepts for any stamp any consideration other than the value thereof in such currency as he is duly authorized to receive in payment for stamps, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 24.

Stamp vender accepting any consideration exceeding the value of the stamp.

3271g. Any vender who demands or accepts for any stamp any consideration exceeding the value of such a stamp, shall be punished by imprisonment for a period not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding ten times the value so demanded or accepted, or by both, and it shall be in the discretion of the court or officer passing the sentence to direct the value of the excess to be refunded out of such fine to any person from whom such excessive consideration may have been accepted. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 25.

3271k. Any vender or other person who, after any period which may have been appointed by the governor-general in council for the commencement of the use of new stamps, sells any old stamps, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 26. Illegal sale of old stamps.

3271l. If any vender refuses or omits to render any accounts required by the provisions of any bond he may have entered into, or to permit the collector of the stamp revenue of the district or any officer duly authorized by him to inspect his accounts, or to examine the store of stamps in his possession, it shall be lawful for the said collector to proceed against the said vender for the recovery of the value of the balance of stamps standing against the vender in the books of the said collector, or for the recovery of the balance of money standing against the said vender in the said books, in the same manner as collectors of land revenue are authorised by law to proceed against persons owing revenue or rent to government. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 27. Stamp vender refusing or omitting to render accounts.

3271j. Any vender who, upon the determination or resignation of his license, does not, within such reasonable time as shall have been prescribed by the collector of the stamp revenue of the district, make over to some officer duly authorized to receive them, accounts of all his transactions in relation to stamps, kept according to the provisions of any bond he may have entered into, together with any stamps remaining, or which ought to be remaining in his hands, and any balance of cash which may be due from him to government on the above mentioned accounts, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees; provided always that no vender shall, by the payment of such fine, be exempt from any punishment provided by law for any embezzlement of which he may have been guilty, or from such proceeding as by sect. 27 of this Act the collector of the stamp revenue of the district is empowered to adopt for the recovery of the value of any stamps or balance of cash remaining in the hands of or standing against such vender. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 28. Delivery of stamps &c. by vender on determination of his license.

3271k. Upon the death of any vender, his executors or administrators, or in case there be no executor or administrator any other person in possession of his effects, shall upon demand being made by the collector of stamp revenue or any officer duly authorized by him, make over within a reasonable time to such collector or officer any stamps which the deceased vender may have received and not have issued at the time of his death, and any accounts of the transactions of the deceased vender in relation to stamps which may have been kept according to the provisions of any bond such vender may have entered into, of which stamps and accounts such executor, administrator, or other person may have the possession, or be able to obtain the possession, on pain of a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 29. On death of stamp vender unsold stamps &c. to be delivered to a duly authorized officer.

3271l. In any of the cases specified in the preceding sections the collector of the stamp revenue of the district may call upon the surety or sureties of the vender, or any of them, to make good the value of the balance of stamps standing against the vender in the books of the said collector, or the balance of money standing against the vender in the books of the said collector; and on his or their failure to do so, may proceed against all or any of them for the recovery of the value of the balance of stamps or for the recovery of the balance of money as aforesaid, in the same manner as collectors of land revenue are authorized by law to proceed against the sureties of persons owing revenue or rent to government. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 30. Proceedings against sureties of stamp vender.

3271n. If any stamped paper, parchment, vellum, or the like, after having been obtained in the regular manner, shall have become damaged, spoiled, or unfit for use, either by any accident happening to the same, or because of error in the drawing up or copying any instrument or writing thereupon, which being discovered before such instrument or writing may be finally signed and executed, renders the same of no avail, or when by reason of the death or refusal of the party or parties whose signature may be necessary to effect the transaction intended by such instrument or writing it remains incomplete and of no avail, or when by the refusal of any office or trust that may be granted by an instrument or writing it has failed of the purpose intended, or in the case of promissory notes, bills of exchange, or the like, if by non-delivery to the payee or person acting on his behalf, or from other cause, the same are never brought to use, and in the case of bills of exchange if they shall not have been presented for acceptance; in all such cases Renewal of damaged or spoiled stamps.

it shall be competent to the collector of the stamp revenue of the district duly appointed as above provided, upon delivery being made of the stamped paper, parchment, vellum, or the like, so damaged, spoiled, or rendered unfit for use, to cause similar stamps or stamps of equal value to be delivered as above provided to the owner of the article or articles so damaged, spoiled, or rendered unfit for use, or to his representative, upon payment of the value of the paper, parchment, vellum, or other material on which the new stamp may be impressed. But the rule contained in this section shall not extend to bills of exchange drawn in sets, of which any one of the set may have been delivered to the payee. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 1.

Application for renewal.

3271o. The owner of any stamp which may be damaged, spoiled, or rendered unfit for use as aforesaid, shall prefer his application to the collector of stamp revenue of the district in which he may have purchased it, and if the collector be of opinion that the application ought to be complied with, he shall deliver or cause to be delivered, subject to the provisions of this Act, to the party or his representative, a stamp similar to that which has been damaged, spoiled, or rendered unfit for use. Provided that the application be made within one year of the period when the stamp may have become damaged, spoiled, or rendered unfit for use. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 2.

Fraudulently counterfeiting or uttering stamps.

3271p. Any person who fraudulently counterfeits any stamp, or who alters any stamp with the intention that it shall pass for a stamp of greater value, or makes or uses any die for either of the above purposes, or who fraudulently issues or exposes for sale any counterfeit stamp or any stamp altered as above described, or who fraudulently uses any counterfeit stamp or any stamp altered as aforesaid, shall be punished by imprisonment with or without hard labor for a term not exceeding four years or by transportation for a term not exceeding seven years. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 33.

Stamps on certain affidavits

3271q. No justice of the peace or any officer, before whom an affidavit not made for the immediate purpose of being filed, read, or used in any court of law may be taken, shall receive or attest such affidavit unless it be written on a stamp of not less than the value prescribed in schedule A annexed to this Act. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 34.

Conveyance to state truly the amount of the purchase money.

3271r. From the time when this Act shall come into force, in all cases of the sale of any lands, annuities, or other property, real or personal, movable or immovable, or of any right, title, interest, or claim in any such property, when a duty is imposed by this Act on the conveyance thereof, the full purchase or consideration money directly or indirectly paid or secured or agreed to be paid for the same, shall be truly expressed and set forth in words at length in the principal deed, instrument, or writing, whereby the property sold shall be conveyed to or vested in the purchaser or in any other person; and if the full purchase or consideration money shall not be fully and truly expressed and set forth in the manner above directed, the purchaser and seller shall each forfeit a sum not exceeding five hundred rupees, and be charged with the payment of five times the amount of the excess of duty which would have been payable for the said deed, instrument, or writing, in respect of the full purchase or consideration money, if the same had been duly expressed in the said deed, instrument, or writing beyond the amount of duty actually paid for the same. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 35.

Penalty if person employed to prepare a conveyance inserts a less sum than the true purchase money.

3271s. If any person shall knowingly and wilfully insert or set forth in such deed, instrument, or writing, any less amount than the full and true purchase or consideration money directly or indirectly paid or secured or agreed to be paid for the same, he shall incur the penalties prescribed in the last preceding section. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 36.

Prosecution only to be by collector of stamp revenue, &c.

3271t. No person shall be proceeded against for any offence affecting the public revenue under this Act except at the suit or prosecution of the collector of the stamp revenue acting under the orders of the board of revenue, or other authority charged by government with the duty of carrying out the provisions of this Act, or other public officer duly authorized by government. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 37.

Offences cognizable by magistrate or justice of the peace.

3271u. Every offence punishable by this Act, except the offences punishable by section 33, shall be tried by any magistrate or justice of the peace. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 38.

Offences cognizable by other tribunals.

3271v. The offences punishable by section 33 shall be tried by the court having jurisdiction over the same, whether it be the supreme court of judicature or the session judge or other officer. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 39.

Imprisonment in case of non-payment of fine.

3271w. If any person sentenced to any fine under the provisions of this Act, shall not pay the fine to which he shall be sentenced, it shall be lawful for the officer or court who tried him, to issue his or their warrant to levy the amount by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the party fined, or to sentence the offender to imprisonment until the payment of the fine, or the expiration of a term to be assigned, not exceeding three months, whichever shall first take place. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 40.

3271x. Throughout this Act and the schedules annexed to it, the word "stamp," except when the contrary shall appear from the context, is used to signify a stamped piece of paper or other stamped material for writing on; the term "bill of exchange" shall include a hoondee or any other instrument of a like nature; and by the "value" of a stamp is meant a sum indicated by words or figures duly impressed upon such piece of paper or other materials. Act XXXVI. 1860, sect. 41.

NOTICE

PROPER STAMPS.

[NOTIFICATION BY THE GOVERNOR GENERAL IN COUNCIL,
No. 2095, OCTOBER 26, 1860.]

RULE 1. Subject to the exceptions mentioned in the two following rules, there shall be charged upon petitions of plaint in suits and appeals instituted in any civil court, or in the court of any revenue officer vested with judicial powers and acting in a judicial capacity, the following scale of stamp duty in lieu of that prescribed in art. 6, schedule B, Act XXXVI. 1860; that is to say if the amount or value of the property claimed shall not exceed 8 rupees ...

above 8 and not exceeding 12 rupees

and thereafter as in schedule B.

RULE 2. Petitions of plaint in suits and appeals instituted in the court of any revenue officer as aforesaid for the recovery of arrears of rent, or of money received by any agent employed in the management of lands or collection of rents, shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of one-fourth the value prescribed for petitions of plaint on suits instituted in a civil court. Provided that no such petition of plaint shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of less value than 8 anas, if the amount or value of the property claimed shall exceed eight rupees; or on paper bearing a stamp of less value than 4 anas, if the amount or value of the property claimed shall not exceed eight rupees.

RULE 3. Petitions of plaint in suits and appeals instituted in the court of any revenue officer as aforesaid, for any matter or thing of the nature described in sect. 23, Act X. 1859 (except the recovery of arrears of rent) shall be written on paper bearing a stamp of 8 anas.

Nothing in these rules is to be held to apply to petitions or applications, not being petitions of plaint in suits or appeals to the civil or revenue courts or offices. Such petitions or applications are provided for under art. 5, schedule B of the Act I.

NOTE.—(a). Within the presidency of Bengal in suits for lands paying revenue to government, if forming one entire mahal, or a specific portion thereof with a defined jumma, the value shall be assumed in the ceded and conquered provinces, including Cuttack, at the amount of the annual jumma payable to government on account of the mahal or portion thereof as aforesaid; and, where the land has been assessed in perpetuity, at three times the amount of the annual jumma.

(d). In suits for lakhiraj, enam, or rent-free land, the value shall be calculated at eighteen times the aggregate annual rent payable by the ryots or other under-tenants of the land.

(e). In suits instituted for houses, gardens, and other things of value, real or personal, not of the descriptions above specified; as well as for any interest in mulguzari land, or for any other right or thing not capable of valuation under the above rules, the amount shall be computed according to the estimated selling price; or when no such estimate can be made, at the sum at which the plaintiff shall estimate the value of his suit; and suits for damages or compensation for injury sustained and the like, shall be valued at the amount claimed by plaintiff.

(j). If an appeal or plaint, which shall have been rejected by the lower court on any of the grounds mentioned in Act VIII. 1859, shall be ordered to be received, or if a suit shall be remanded in appeal for a second decision by the lower court, the appellate court shall grant to the appellant a certificate authorizing him to receive back from the collector the full amount of stamp duty paid on the petition of appeal.

7. Razeenamas, rafanamahs, sulhnamas, or the like, that is to say—any written application whereby, or according whereunto, a suit pending in a civil court shall be adjusted, or be capable of adjustment, without an award of the presiding judge or other officer, to be charged as in petitions.

GENERAL RULE.—If the subject matter of any plaint, written statement, or petition, cannot be conveniently comprised within one stamp paper of the value above prescribed, one or more additional pieces of paper may be used of the value required for petitions.

PROPER STAMPS.

3272a. Any unused stamped paper, parchment, vellum, or other material, which either does not bear the stamp, signature, or other mark required, for distinguishing stamps issued after the 6th day of January 1858, or has been authenticated by the collector, and which is found in the possession of any person, may be seized by any magistrate or by any officer of police, or revenue officer, and sent in to the collector's office; and may be detained as the property of government. Act XIX. 1858, sect. 6.

Unused stamped paper not bearing the requisite mark, may be seized by any magistrate or police officer.

3272b. Any officer of police having power by law to search for stolen property may, subject to the provisions under which he is empowered to make such search, proceed to search houses or places in which there may be reasonable cause to suspect that there is any such stamped paper, parchment, vellum, or other material, not bearing the stamp, signature, or other mark required for distinguishing stamped paper issued after the 6th day of January 1858, and not authenticated in manner aforesaid as having been duly purchased from government, and may seize and transmit to the collector any such stamped paper as aforesaid. Act XIX. 1858, sect. 7

Police officers empowered to search for and seize unauthenticated stamped paper.

3094a. No tolls are to be levied on imperial roads passing through the open country, nor on permanent bridges on such roads. They are authorized only when required as a means of making, or of keeping in repair, a road of merely local importance; or in cases where extraordinary natural obstacles have been overcome, as in the roads in the Himalaya and in other rugged hilly tracts; or where a heavy annual outlay is incurred for temporary works, for boat-bridges requiring periodical renewal, or for ferries at river-crossings, or imperial roads. Order of Supreme Government, No. 163, July 27, 1860.

In what places only tolls may be established.

3186. Note.—C. O. No. 61, July 14, 1858, L. P. contains a discussion on the expediency of awarding compensation in certain cases, the conclusion of which is that magistrates should use their own discretion in enforcing the law.

For paras. 3249 and 3250 substitute the following :—

3249a. The session judge, before whom a prisoner is convicted of having forged, or procured to be forged any counterfeit coin in imitation of any of the gold, silver, or copper coins of the British government in India, or of any coin usually received as money in the British possessions in India; or of having forged, or procured to be forged, any counterfeit stamp or stamped paper in imitation of any public stamp established by the British governments in India; or any counterfeit note, or other security for money in imitation of any of the public securities of the British governments in India; or of the bank-notes issued by any public bank in the British possessions in India;—is to pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence, in reference to the particular circumstances of the case, provided that he is in no case to exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by cl. 2, sect. 9, Reg. XVII. 1817; viz., thirty stripes* and imprisonment in banishment from the district for the term of fourteen years. Reg. XVII. 1817, sect. 9, cl. 2. Act III. 1860, sect. 4.

Sentence to be passed on persons convicted of forgery of counterfeit coin, public stamps, securities, or bank-notes.

*Commutable to two years' imprisonment by cl. 2, sect. 2, Reg. II. 1834.

3249b. If in any such case the session judge considers the sentence which he is empowered to pass inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, he is to refer the case, with his sentiments, for the sentence of the nizamat adawlut in conformity to sect. 6, Act XXXI. 1841, which is hereby declared applicable to such cases. Act III. 1860, sect. 5.

Trial to be referred if sentence be inadequate.

- 3350*. Within the British territories in India, the governor-general of India in council shall have the exclusive privilege of establishing lines of electric telegraph. Provided that the governor-general of India in council may grant a license to any person or company to establish a line of electric telegraph within any part of such territories, which license shall be revocable on the breach of any of the conditions therein contained. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 2. Governor general in council to have the exclusive privilege of establishing electric telegraphs. Proviso.
- 3351*. Whoever shall otherwise than under a license duly granted as aforesaid establish, or after revocation of such license maintain, a line of electric telegraph within the said territories, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees, and for every week during which such line shall be maintained shall be liable to a further fine not exceeding five hundred rupees. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 3. Penalties for establishing or maintaining unauthorized electric telegraphs.
- 3352*. Whoever shall use a line of electric telegraph, knowing or having reason to believe that it is an unlicensed line, for the purpose of sending or receiving messages, or shall perform any service incidental thereto, shall for every such offence be liable to a fine not exceeding fifty rupees. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 4. Penalty for using or working such telegraphs.
- 3353*. The governor-general of India in council may, on the occurrence of any public emergency, take temporary possession of any line of electric telegraph established under license within the said territories. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 5. Government may take possession of telegraph established by license.
- 3354*. Any railway company, on being required so to do by the governor-general of India in council, shall permit the government to establish upon the land of such company adjoining the line of railway, a line of electric telegraph, and shall give every reasonable facility for establishing and using the same. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 6. Government may establish telegraphs on line of railway company.
- 3355*. The governor-general of India in council may from time to time frame rules for the conduct of electric telegraphs established by government not inconsistent with this Act, and therein prescribe the regulations, conditions, and restrictions according to which all messages and signals shall be transmitted. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 7. Governor-general in council to frame rules for the conduct of government telegraphs.
- 3356*. The government shall not be responsible for any loss or damage which may occur in consequence of any person employed by the government in the electric telegraph department failing to transmit with accuracy any message entrusted to him for transmission; and no such person shall be responsible for any such loss or damage, unless he shall cause the same negligently, maliciously, or fraudulently. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 8. Government not responsible for loss or damage.
- 3357*. Whoever shall, without permission, enter into the signal room of a government telegraph office, or shall refuse to quit the same on being requested to do so by any officer or servant employed therein, or shall wilfully obstruct or impede any such officer or servant in the performance of his duty, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 9. Penalty for intruding into signal room, &c.
- 3358*. Whoever shall wilfully cause or attempt to cause any interruption to the transmission of signals along a line of electric telegraph established by the government by cutting or injuring the wire, or by injuring any portion of the line or posts or any instrument or apparatus, or by any other means, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, or to fine, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 10. Penalties for cutting the line.
- 3359*. Whoever, being in the employ of the government in the electric telegraph department, shall wilfully secrete, make away with, alter, or omit to transmit any message which he may have received for transmission or delivery, or shall wilfully or otherwise than by the official order of a secretary to the government of India, or government of Madras or Bombay, or lieutenant-governor of Bengal, or of the North-Western Provinces, or of the Punjab, or chief commissioner of Oude, or such other officers as the governor-general of India in council shall authorize to give such order, divulge any message, or the purport of any message or signal, to any person not entitled to receive, or to become acquainted with the same—shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, or to fine, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 11. Penalties for omitting to transmit or deliver messages or for divulging message, &c.
- 3360*. Whoever offers a bribe to any person in the employ of the government in the electric telegraph department, in order to induce such person to act in a manner inconsistent with his duty, shall be liable to be imprisoned for a term not exceeding six months, or to fine, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 12. Penalty for offering a bribe.
- 3361*. Whoever, being in such employ, shall be guilty of any act of drunkenness, carelessness, or other misconduct, whereby the transmission or delivery of any message shall be endangered, or who shall loiter or make delay in the transmission or delivery of any message, shall be liable to imprisonment, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding three months, or to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 13. Penalty for misconduct.
- 3362*. Whoever, being in such employ, shall transmit by the electric telegraph any message upon which the prescribed charge has not been paid, intending thereby to defraud the government, shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, or to fine, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 14. Penalties for sending messages without payment to government.
- 3363*. Whoever shall transmit, or cause to be transmitted by an electric telegraph established by government a message which he knows to be false or fabricated, shall be liable to be imprisoned, with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, or to fine, or to both. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 15. Penalties for sending fabricated messages.

Jurisdiction beyond local limits of supreme court.

3364*. Any person not being a European British subject, who shall, beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of a court of judicature established by royal charter, commit any of the offences mentioned in sections 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, and 15 of this Act, shall be punishable upon conviction by any magistrate within whose jurisdiction the offence shall be committed. If any such offence be committed beyond the said local limits by a European British subject, the offender shall be punishable upon conviction before a court of judicature established by royal charter. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 16.

Jurisdiction within local limits of supreme court.

3365*. Any person, whether a European British subject or not, who shall, within the local limits of the jurisdiction of a court of judicature established by royal charter, commit, any of the offences referred to in the last preceding section, shall be punishable upon conviction before such court. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 17.

Fines how to be adjudged.

3366*. Any person, whether a European British subject or not, who shall be guilty of any offence, for which according to the provisions of this Act, he shall be liable to a fine only, shall be punishable for such offence by any magistrate of police for any of the presidency towns of Calcutta, Madras, and Bombay, or for the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore, and Malacca, magistrate, joint-magistrate, or person lawfully exercising the powers of a magistrate, within whose jurisdiction the offence shall be committed: and any person hereby made punishable by a magistrate of police, shall be punishable upon summary conviction. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 18.

Fines how levied.

3367*. All fines imposed under the authority of this Act, for offences punishable by fine only, by any police magistrate, magistrate, joint-magistrate, or person lawfully exercising the powers of a magistrate, may, in case of non-payment thereof, be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender, by warrant under the hand of any of the above-named officers; and in case any such fine shall not be forthwith paid, any such officer may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody, until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless such party shall give security to the satisfaction of such officer for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress, and such officer may take such security by way of recognizance or otherwise;—and if, upon the return of such warrant, it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such fine, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such officer, by the confession of the party or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such fine or sum of money could be levied if a warrant of distress were issued, any such officer, by warrant under his hand, may commit the offender to prison, there to be imprisoned only or to be imprisoned and kept to hard labor according to the discretion of such officer, for any term not exceeding two calendar months where the amount of the fine shall not exceed fifty rupees, and for any term not exceeding four calendar months where the amount shall not exceed one hundred rupees, and for any term not exceeding six calendar months in any other case; the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 19.

Imprisonment if no sufficient distress, &c.

Authority to punish government servants who commit offences against this Act in foreign territory.

3368*. If any servant of the government, employed in the electric telegraph department within the dominions of any foreign prince or state in alliance with the government of India in which an electric telegraph is established by the government, shall within the dominions of such prince or state commit any act hereby prohibited, or omit to do any act hereby required to be done by any person similarly employed within the British territories in India, such servant of the government shall be guilty of an offence, and on conviction thereof shall be punished in the same manner as if such act had been done or omitted within the said last mentioned territories; and every such person may be tried, convicted, and punished either by fine or otherwise, according to the nature of the offence, by any court or officer duly empowered by the governor general of India in council to take cognizance of offences committed in such dominions by servants of the government, or by any court or magistrate, or other competent officer in any part of the British territories in India, in the same manner as if the offence had been committed in such part of the said territories. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 20.

Explanation of terms.

3369*. The word "magistrate" in this Act shall include joint-magistrates and persons lawfully exercising the powers of magistrates, and the word "fine" shall include penalty or forfeiture. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 21.

Government to frame rules for telegraphs established by license.

3370*. It shall be lawful for the governor-general in council to frame rules for the conduct of any electric telegraph established by license under this Act, and to declare from time to time what portions of this Act shall be applicable to such telegraph, and to persons using the same, or employed in connection therewith.

And to declare it applicable to telegraphs established within British territories by foreign powers.

It shall also be lawful for the governor-general in council to declare from time to time that this Act, or such portions thereof as may be specified, shall be applicable to any electric telegraph established, or to be established, within the British territories in India by any foreign prince or state, with the consent of the British government, and to persons using such telegraph or employed in connection therewith. Act VIII. 1860, sect. 22.

3375a. It is lawful for the government to levy the duty as aforesaid at the rate of three rupees, and the duty shall be rateably increased as the strength exceeds London proof. Act XXIII. 1860, sect. 1. [This section modifies para. 3375, and repeals para. 3376.]

Rate of duty to be levied on spirits manufactured according to the English method.

3376* Spirits may be removed from any licensed distillery for exportation without payment of duty, under such rules and restrictions as may be from time to time prescribed by the board of revenue, on the person removing them executing a bond with one or more sureties to government in prescribed form, for the payment of the prescribed duty upon such portion of the said spirits as may not be exported within four months from the date of the bond, or upon such portion as may be exported to any other port within British India not being a free port, proof of the landing whereof, and of the payment of the duty whereon shall not be furnished to the satisfaction of the board of revenue, within six months from the date of such bond. Provided however, that it shall be lawful for the collector, with the sanction of the commissioner, on sufficient cause shown, to extend the period allowed for the exportation of the spirits, or as the case may be for the production of such proof as aforesaid, for the further term of four months. Provided also, that spirits exported as aforesaid shall, if imported at any port in the territories subject to the government of India, be charged with the duty payable on account of spirits imported by sea under any Act for the time being in force. Act XXIII. 1860, sect. 2.

Removal of spirits from distillery under bond without payment of duty.

3432a. When any person is sentenced to pay any fine or forfeiture under Act XXI. 1856, such person in default of payment of the same may be imprisoned by order of the magistrate for any term not exceeding two months when the amount of the fine or forfeiture shall not exceed fifty rupees, or for any term not exceeding four months when the amount of the fine or forfeiture shall not exceed two hundred rupees, or for any term not exceeding six months when the amount of the fine or forfeiture shall exceed two hundred rupees: but in any case the imprisonment shall determine upon the payment of the fine or forfeiture adjudged. Act XXIII. 1860, sect. 3.

Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.

3434a. The second conviction must be of an offence similar to that of which the defendant was first convicted. It is not sufficient that he has twice transgressed the law, but he must be found guilty of twice transgressing it in like manner, by committing a second time the specific offence of which he was found guilty on the first occasion. A previous conviction of adulteration of opium does not warrant the further imprisonment on a conviction of having contraband opium. N. A. case of Kalachand Dutt, June 22, 1860.

The second conviction must be for the same specific offence as the first.

3517 and 3530. Note. By Act I. 1860, the duty on salt imported into the North-Western provinces has been increased from a fixed rate of two rupees to such rate as the governor general in council may direct not exceeding three rupees per maund, and a further duty not exceeding one rupee per maund is leviable on the transmission of salt to the Eastward of Allahabad. Also the prohibition on the import of sugar was rescinded by Act XIX. 1854, and the duty on the import of cotton was taken off by Act XXXV. 1855.

3556a. All military offenders on their release from jail are to be forwarded to their native village, and none such should be allowed to remain at large, or in the service of private individuals in the Lower Provinces. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 57, February 8, 1858.

Military offenders to be sent to native villages.

- 3684a. No person in India, unless authorized by government, shall manufacture or assist in manufacturing any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, and whoever not being so authorized shall manufacture or assist in manufacturing any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees, and to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding three years. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 2. Manufacture of cannon, &c. without authority of government prohibited.
Penalty.
- 3684b. If any person in India shall, without the permission of the local government, have in his possession any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, except in the course of his duty as a public officer of government, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees for every such cannon, howitzer, or mortar, and in default of payment thereof may be imprisoned with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding one year. The provisions of this section shall not extend to any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, forming part of the ordinary armament of any ship or vessel. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 3. Penalty for possession of cannon, &c. without permission.
Exception.
- 3684c. Whenever the local government shall permit any person to possess any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, such permission shall be in writing and signed by the secretary to the government, and shall specify the number of cannon, howitzers, or mortars permitted to be possessed by such person. A fee of fifty rupees shall be paid on the delivery of such written permission. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 4. Permission to possess cannon, &c., to be in writing, and to specify number permitted to be possessed.
- 3684d. No person shall manufacture, repair, or sell, or keep or expose for sale, any arms of the description hereinafter mentioned, or shall manufacture or sell, or keep or expose for sale, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, except under a license to manufacture or deal in arms or percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, as the case may be; and any person who shall manufacture, repair, sell, or keep or expose for sale, any of such arms, or any percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition without such license as aforesaid, or contrary to any of the conditions contained in such license, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor, for a period not exceeding two years, or to both fine and imprisonment; and all arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition belonging to the offender, shall be forfeited if the court or officer before whom the offender is convicted shall so adjudge. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 5. Manufacturing or dealing in arms and ammunition without license prohibited.
Penalty.
- 3684e. The following are the arms referred to in sect. 5, namely, fire-arms, bayonet, sword, dagger, spear, and spear-head. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 6. Specification of arms referred to in sect. 5.
- 3684f. Licenses to manufacture or deal in arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition may be granted by a magistrate, or by an officer authorized by the governor-general of India in council, or by the executive government to grant such licenses. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 7. Licenses by whom to be granted.
- 3684g. Licenses granted under the last preceding section shall be in the form prescribed by the governor-general of India in council, and shall be engrossed on a stamp paper of the value of ten rupees. The stamp paper shall be furnished by the person applying for the license. A separate license shall be taken out for the sale of sulphur. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 8. Form &c. of license.
- 3684h. Every person to whom such license shall be granted shall affix a board in a conspicuous part of his shop or usual place of business, and shall cause to be painted thereon, in large letters, in the vernacular of the district, the words "licensed to manufacture or deal in arms, or percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition," as the case may be. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 9. Licensee to affix a board in a conspicuous part of his shop.
- 3684i. If any person to whom such license shall be granted shall omit to put up a board inscribed as above in a conspicuous part of his shop, or usual place of business, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 10. Penalty for omission.
- 3684j. If any person, to whom such license shall not have been granted in the manner prescribed, shall put up such board as aforesaid in his shop or usual place of business, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 11. Penalty for putting up board without a license.
- 3684k. Licenses granted under section 7 of this Act shall be in force for one year from the date thereof. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 12. Duration of license.
- 3684l. Any person knowingly purchasing arms of the description mentioned in section 6, or any percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition from any person not licensed, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding one hundred rupees. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 13. Penalty for knowingly purchasing arms or ammunition from an unlicensed person.
- 3684m. Every person licensed to manufacture or deal in arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, shall enter in a book to be kept by him for that purpose, an account of all the stock-in-trade which he may, from time to time, have in his possession or under his control, and also the name and address of every purchaser of arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition sold by him, Licensed manufacturers or dealers to enter in a book an account of stock-in-trade, names of purchasers, &c.

- Inspection of book. together with the nature, description, and quantity of such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition. Such book shall be open at all times to inspection by the magistrate or other officer duly authorized by government in that behalf, by whom copies may be taken of all entries therein contained. If any such person shall omit or fail duly to keep such book, or to make therein all such entries as are hereby required, or if any person shall prevent or obstruct the inspection of such book, or shall make a false entry therein, he shall be liable for every such offence to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, in addition to double the value of any arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition sold, of which he shall fail to make such entry or respecting which he shall make a false entry; and if the offender be licensed to manufacture or deal in arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, he shall also forfeit his license if the magistrate shall so adjudge. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 14.
- Magistrate or other officer may inspect dealer's premises. 3684n. The magistrate or other officer authorized by government as aforesaid, may at any time enter the premises in which arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition shall be manufactured or kept by any licensed manufacturer or dealer in arms or percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, in order to inspect the stock-in-trade of such manufacturer or dealer, and if any such manufacturer or dealer shall intentionally conceal from such magistrate or other officer as aforesaid any part of his stock-in-trade, or shall wilfully refuse to point out where the same is kept, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding two years, or to both fine and imprisonment, and any arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition belonging to such person may be seized and shall be confiscated if the magistrate shall so adjudge. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 15.
- Revocation of license to manufacture or deal in arms or ammunition. 3684o. Any license granted under the provisions of sect. 7 may be granted subject to such conditions as shall be thought necessary, and may be revoked or suspended by the officer authorized to grant such licenses whenever he may think fit. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 16.
- Cannon and arms and ammunition not to be imported without license. 3684p. No cannon, howitzer, or mortar, and no arms, percussion caps, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, shall be imported either by sea or by land into any part of the territories in the possession and under the government of India, except under a license from the governor-general of India in council, or from some officer authorized in that behalf by the governor-general of India in council. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 17.
- Penalty for importation without license. 3684q. If any person shall import or attempt to import without such license, either by sea or by land, into any part of the said territories, any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, or any arms, percussion caps, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, or shall aid or assist in such importation, or in such attempt to import, or shall knowingly conceal or assist in concealing any cannon, howitzer, or mortar, or any arms, percussion caps, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, imported without such license, he shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding three years, and also to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees, and the articles so imported shall be confiscated if the magistrate shall so adjudge. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 18.
- Importation of arms and ammunition for private use. 3684r. The provisions of the last two preceding sections shall not extend to arms, percussion caps, gunpowder, and other ammunition imported by any person in reasonable quantities for his own private use; but the collector of customs may at any time detain any such articles, if he shall think it necessary, until he shall receive the orders of government. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 19.
- Seizure and detention of sulphur by government. 3684s. The governor-general of India in council, or the local government, may at any time seize all sulphur in the possession of any person, and detain the same for such time as they may deem necessary for the public safety. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 20.
- Exception. 3684t. Nothing in this Act shall apply to sulphur kept or sold in reasonable quantities for medicinal purposes. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 21.
- Government may prohibit transport of arms, ammunition military stores, &c. 3684u. The governor-general of India in council may by order prohibit the transport of any arms, military stores, lead, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, or any particular description of arms, ammunition, or military stores, from one part of India to another, or the transport thereof, in any particular direction to be specified in the order, or prohibit the transport thereof except according to such rules and conditions as may be specified in the order, and the local government of any presidency or place shall have the like power within the territories under its government. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 22.
- Penalty for prohibited transport. 3684w. If any person shall transport or cause to be transported, or shall attempt to transport or cause to be transported, or shall aid in transporting any arms, military stores, lead, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, contrary to such order, or to the rules and conditions specified therein, he shall be liable to a fine not exceeding five hundred rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not exceeding three years, or to both fine and imprisonment, and the articles transported or attempted to be transported shall be confiscated. If any person shall by concealment or other device transport or cause to be transported, or attempt to transport or cause to be transported, such arms, military stores, lead, sulphur, saltpetre, gunpowder, or other ammunition, he shall, in addition to the fine hereby provided, be liable, upon conviction, to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a term not exceeding seven years. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 23.

3684x. Nothing in the last two preceding sections shall extend to arms, percussion caps, gunpowder, and other ammunition transported by any person in reasonable quantities for his own private use in any district or place not ordered, or liable to be disarmed, under section 32 of this Act. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 24.

Provisions of two preceding sections not to apply to districts not ordered or liable to be disarmed under sect. 32.

3684y. If any person shall be found carrying or conveying any arms, military stores, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, in such a manner or under such circumstances as to afford just grounds of suspicion that the same are being carried by such person with intent to use the same, or that the same may be used, for any unlawful purpose dangerous to the public peace, it shall be lawful for any magistrate, deputy magistrate, or assistant to a magistrate, or police officer, or for any other person to apprehend without warrant the person so carrying or conveying such arms, military stores, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder or other ammunition, and to detain such person in custody in order that he may be dealt with according to law. If any person be apprehended by a person not being a magistrate, deputy magistrate, or assistant to a magistrate, or police officer, he shall be delivered over as soon as possible to a police officer; and all persons apprehended by or delivered to a police officer under the provisions of this section, shall be carried before a magistrate or other officer competent by law to punish him for the offence or to commit him for trial. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 25.

Persons conveying arms, ammunition, &c. under suspicious circumstances, may be apprehended without warrant.

Procedure if apprehended by other than magistrates, &c.

3684z. If any person shall go armed with or carry any arms of the description mentioned in sect. 6 of this Act, without having obtained a license from a magistrate or other officer authorized by the governor general of India in council, or the local government, authorizing him to carry arms, he shall be liable to be disarmed by any magistrate, joint magistrate, or deputy magistrate, or assistant to a magistrate, or by a police officer, if in the judgment of such magistrate or other officer as aforesaid it is dangerous to the public peace to allow such person to go armed or to carry arms. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 26.

Penalty for going armed or carrying arms without a license.

3685a. The provisions of the last two sections do not apply to officers, non-commissioned officers, warrant officers, soldiers, and sailors in the military or naval service of her majesty, in respect of arms and ammunition kept by them for use in the public service; members of volunteer corps in respect of such arms and ammunition; police and revenue officers and other persons in respect of arms and ammunition furnished by government for use in the public service, or provided by themselves with the sanction of government for such use;—and such other persons as the local government may think fit to exempt from such provisions. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 27.

Exemptions: commissioned, non commissioned, and warrant officers, soldiers, and sailors; volunteers; police and revenue officers; other persons.

3685b. Licenses to carry arms may be granted by any magistrate or other officer specially authorized by the governor-general of India in council or the local government to grant such licenses, and may be revoked or suspended by any officer authorized to grant such license whenever he may think fit. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 28.

Grant and revocation or suspension of licenses to carry arms.

3685c. The license shall be in the form proscribed by the governor-general of India in council. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 29.

Form of license.

License to state name of grantee, and number of followers to whom it is to apply.

3685e. Whenever a magistrate shall have reason to believe that any person residing within the limits of his jurisdiction has in his possession any arms of the description mentioned in section 6 of this Act, or percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, for any unlawful purpose, or that such person cannot in the judgment of the magistrate be left in the possession of any such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition without danger to the public peace, it shall be lawful for such magistrate, having first recorded the grounds of his belief, to cause a search to be made of the house or premises occupied by such person, or in which the magistrate may have reason to believe such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition are to be found, and to seize and to detain the same in safe custody for such time as he may deem necessary. The search in such case shall be conducted by or in the presence of the magistrate, or by or in the presence of a joint or deputy magistrate, or a European assistant, or by or in the presence of some European officer, civil or military, to be specially empowered by government. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 31.

Search and seizure of arms and ammunition in certain cases.

Executive government may order any district or place to be disarmed.

3685f. It shall be lawful for the governor-general of India in council, or for the executive government of any presidency, or for any lieutenant-governor, or with the sanction of the governor-general in council for the chief commissioner or commissioner of any province, district, or place subject to their administration respectively, whenever it shall appear necessary for the public safety, to order that any province, district, or place shall be disarmed. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 1.

Possession of arms
hibited.

3685g. In every such province, district, or place, as well as in any province, district, or place in which an order for a general search for arms has been issued, and is still in operation under Act XXVIII. 1857, it shall not be lawful for any person to have in his possession any arms of the description mentioned in section 6 of this Act, or any percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition without a license. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 2.

Grant of licenses,
&c.

3685A. Licenses to have in possession any arms of the description mentioned in section 6, or percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition may be granted by any magistrate or other officer specially authorized by the governor-general of India in council, or the local government, to grant such licenses, and may be revoked or suspended by any officer authorized to grant such licenses whenever he may think fit. The license shall be in the form prescribed by the governor-general of India in council, or by the local government. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 3.

License to travelers to carry arms.

3685i. If any person shall have a license from the magistrate of the district or place at which he resides, or may be, to carry on a journey such arms as the magistrate may consider reasonable for his private use, and shall obtain from such magistrate a license stating the name and address of such person, the route by which he intends to proceed, the time which such journey is expected to occupy, and the arms which he is permitted to carry, such license shall have the same force and effect, according to its tenor, in every district or place specified therein, as if leave to go armed had been granted by the magistrate of such district or place. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 4.

Publication of order for disarming.

3685j. In every province, district, or place which shall be ordered to be disarmed, the order of the governor-general of India in council or of the local government shall be published in the Calcutta gazette or in the gazette in which the orders of the governor-general of India in council, or of the local government making the order, as the case may be, are usually published, and shall also be made public in such other manner as the governor-general of India in council or the local government shall direct. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 5.

Penalty.

3685k. Every person who, after the expiration of the time mentioned in such order in any province, district, or place, to which this section shall be extended, or who, after the 1st day of October 1860, in any province, district, or place in which an order for a general search for arms has been issued, and is still in operation as aforesaid, shall have in his possession or custody any such arms as aforesaid, or any percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition without such license as aforesaid, shall be liable to be imprisoned with or without hard labor, for a term not exceeding two years, and also to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees, and it shall be lawful for the magistrate or other officer mentioned in the order to search, or cause to be searched any house or premises occupied by such person, or in which the magistrate may have reason to believe that any such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition are concealed. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 6.

Search.

3685l. The search shall be conducted by or in the presence of the magistrate, or by or in the presence of a joint or deputy magistrate or European assistant, or by or in the presence of some European officer, civil or military, appointed by government to conduct such searches; and all such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, and other ammunition found on such search shall be confiscated. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 7.

Exemptions.

3685m. The provisions of this section shall not extend to any person or persons exempted by the authority of the governor-general of India in council, or of the local government of the proclaimed district, or by any European officer serving in such district duly authorized by the local government on that behalf. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 32, cl. 8.

3685n. If on any such search being made under the provisions of either of the last two sections, any person having in his possession or power any such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, or knowing where such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition are concealed, shall refuse to produce or point out the same to the officer making the search, or if any person shall intentionally conceal or attempt to conceal any such arms, percussion caps, sulphur, gunpowder, or other ammunition, such person may be apprehended without warrant, and shall be liable to imprisonment with or without hard labor for a term not exceeding two years, and also to a fine not exceeding one thousand rupees. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 33.

Penalty for refusing to produce or for concealing arms, &c. searched for.

3685o. Whoever assaults or resists, or aids or assists any person in assaulting or resisting, any person in the execution of any power vested in him by this Act, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding two hundred rupees, or to imprisonment with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding six calendar months, or to both fine and imprisonment. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 34.

Penalty for assaulting or resisting any person in the execution of any power vested in him by this Act.

3685p. Except as otherwise provided, all offences under this Act may be tried by any magistrate, joint magistrate, or person lawfully exercising the powers of a magistrate, unless the period of imprisonment to which the offender may be liable exceed that which the magistrate, joint magistrate, or other officer as aforesaid, is competent to award under the laws for the time being in force in the presidency or place in which such magistrate, joint magistrate, or other officer as aforesaid, is employed. When the period of imprisonment provided by this Act exceeds the period that may be awarded by such magistrate, joint magistrate, or other officer as aforesaid, the offender shall be committed for trial before the sessions judge, if the evidence given before such magistrate, joint magistrate, or other officer as aforesaid, shall appear to such magistrate, joint magistrate, or other officer sufficient for the conviction of the accused. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 35.

Cognizance of offences.

3685q. Except as aforesaid, all offences declared to be punishable under this Act with fine, or fine and imprisonment, may be tried in the district or place in which the offence was committed, or in which the person charged with the same is apprehended. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 36.

District in which certain offences shall be tried.

3685r. A magistrate may refer for trial and decision any charge of an offence hereby made punishable by fine only to any of his assistants, and in such case every such assistant may exercise all the powers vested in a magistrate by any law for the time being in force, subject to all the rules applicable to criminal cases deputed to such assistant acting judicially. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 37.

Magistrate may refer offences punishable with fine to his assistants for trial.

3685s. The local government may give general authority to any such assistant to exercise, without reference by a magistrate, any of the powers which they are hereby rendered competent to exercise upon reference by a magistrate, subject to appeal to the magistrate from any conviction by such assistant within one month from the date of conviction. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 38.

Local government may authorize assistants to exercise such powers without reference by magistrate.

3685t. A magistrate may, at any time, call from any of his assistants any case pending before such assistants. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 39.

Magistrate may call for any case pending before such assistant.

3685u. If any offence which by this Act is declared to be punishable with fine and imprisonment, or imprisonment only, shall be committed by a European British subject beyond the local limits of the jurisdiction of her majesty's supreme courts of judicature, the offender shall be liable, upon conviction before one of the said supreme courts of judicature, to the punishment to which by this Act the offender is declared to be liable upon conviction. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 40.

Jurisdiction over British subjects committing certain offences beyond the limits of supreme court.

3685w. If any offence which by this Act is declared to be punishable with fine, or with fine and imprisonment not exceeding six months, shall be committed by any person within the local limits of the jurisdiction of any court of judicature established by royal charter, such offence shall be punishable upon summary conviction by any police magistrate of the presidency town or station in which such court is held. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 41.

Summary jurisdiction in respect of certain offences committed within the limits of supreme court.

3685x. No conviction, order, or judgment under the last preceding section, shall be quashed for error of form or procedure, but only on the merits; and it shall not be necessary to state on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment the evidence on which it proceeds, but the depositions taken, or a copy of them, shall be returned with the conviction, order, or judgment in obedience to any writ of certiorari, and if no jurisdiction appears on the face of the conviction, order, or judgment, but the depositions taken supply that defect, the conviction, order, or judgment shall be aided by what so appears in such depositions. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 42.

Conviction to be quashed on merits only.

- All other offences committed within limits of supreme court punishable by such court. 3685y. All other offences punishable under this Act which shall be committed within the local limits of any court of judicature established by royal charter, shall be punishable by such court. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 43.
- Levy of forfeiture and penalties by distress. 3685z. All forfeitures or penalties imposed under the authority of this Act for offences punishable by any magistrate of police, or by any magistrate, or person lawfully exercising the powers of a magistrate, or assistant magistrate, may, in case of non-payment thereof, be levied by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the offender by warrant under the hand of any of the abovenamed officers. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 44.
- Procedure until return is made to warrant of distress. 3686a. In case any such forfeitures or penalties shall not be forthwith paid, any such officer may order the offender to be apprehended and detained in safe custody until the return can be conveniently made to such warrant of distress, unless the offender shall give security to the satisfaction of such officer for his appearance at such place and time as shall be appointed for the return of the warrant of distress. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 45.
- Imprisonment, if distress not sufficient. 3686b. If upon the return of such warrant it shall appear that no sufficient distress can be had whereon to levy such fine, and the same shall not be forthwith paid, or in case it shall appear to the satisfaction of such officer, by the confession of the offender or otherwise, that he has not sufficient goods and chattels whereupon such fine or sum of money could be levied if a warrant of distress were issued, any such officer may, by warrant under his hand, commit the offender, provided he is not a European British subject, to prison, there to be imprisoned, according to the discretion of such officer, for any term not exceeding two calendar months when the amount of fine shall not exceed fifty rupees, and for any term not exceeding four calendar months when the amount shall not exceed one hundred rupees, and for any term not exceeding six calendar months in any other case, the commitment to be determinable in each of the cases aforesaid on payment of the amount. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 46.
- Levy of fines from European British subjects. 3686c. If the offender shall be a European British subject, the magistrate shall record the facts and transmit such record to the district court of the district wherein the offender is convicted, and the amount of the fine and costs (if any) shall be levied in the manner provided for the execution of decrees of the civil court. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 47.
- Rewards to informers. 3686d. Any fine or penalty levied from any person convicted of an offence under this Act, or any portion of such fine or penalty, may be awarded to the person on whose information the conviction shall take place. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 48.
- Notice and limitation of suits. 3686e. No suit, action, or other proceeding shall be commenced or prosecuted against any person, for any thing done in pursuance of this Act, without giving to such person a month's previous notice in writing of the intended action, and of the cause thereof, nor after the expiration of three months from the accrual of the cause of action or other proceeding. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 49.
- Parts of district may be withdrawn from the operation of the Act, and again made subject to it. 3686f. It shall be lawful for the governor-general of India in council, or for the executive government of any presidency, or for any lieutenant-governor, or with the sanction of the governor-general of India in council for any chief commissioner of any province, from time to time to withdraw from the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Act any part or parts of any district or place; and in like manner, as occasion shall require, to subject the same again to the operation of all or any of the provisions of this Act. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 50.
- Act not intended to alter or affect any other law relating to licenses. 3686g. Nothing in this Act shall be construed to alter or affect the provisions of any law or other regulation for the time being in force relating to licenses. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 51.
- Award of hard labor not commutable to fine. 3686h. Whenever an award of hard labor is made under this Act the court shall not commute such labor to the payment of a fine under Regulation II. 1834. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 52.
- Grant of licenses in presidency towns. 3686i. All licenses which may by this Act be granted by a magistrate may in the presidency towns be granted by a commissioner of police. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 53.
- Interpretation of the word "India." 3686j. The word "India" in this Act shall mean the territories which are or may become vested in her majesty by the statute 21 and 22 Vic. cap. 106, entitled "an Act for the better government of India." Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 54.
- Duration of Act. 3686k. This Act shall continue in force for five years from the 1st day of October, 1860. Act XXXI. 1860, sect. 55.

3716*k*. Magistrates are to report for the orders of government all cases in which it appears that Act XI. 1835 has been infringed.—On the 1st May every year they are to furnish government with a correct list of all newspapers and other periodicals (whether registered or not), which are published in any place in the district, showing the names of the printer and publisher, the place of printing and publication, and the date of declaration, and also a correct list of the proprietors of presses. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 52, June 25, 1857.

Infringement of these rules to be reported to government and annual list of papers and publications to be made to government.

3743*a*. In order to identify correctly prisoners tried on charges of affray or riot, in which the accused persons are frequently numerous, and with a view to obtain a record of the parties whom the magistrate, on consideration of the nature of the case, and of the evidence, determines to prosecute, the court issued the following rules. First.—In all complaints and depositions recorded by the magistrate, he is carefully to ascertain such particulars of the parties accused as shall unmistakably indicate the persons spoken of, giving the names of their fathers and of their place of residence, or, failing these, some other particulars which should as far as possible fix the identity of each individual. Second.—The magistrate is invariably to record in one, or in successive proceedings if necessary, the names and description of those whom, not being already arrested, it is his purpose to prosecute for the offence in question. Third.—The magistrate is to direct his police officers to record the same particulars in all complaints and informations taken by them. C. O. No. 52, October 29, 1857.

Rules for identification of prisoners and for record of the names of those persons whom the magistrate, on consideration of the case, determines to prosecute.

3824*a*. All expenses on account of the deputation of a judicial officer to make a local investigation under Act IV. 1840 are to be charged at the authorized rates, as costs of suit, payable by the party cast or otherwise if specially directed by the presiding officer. In ordinary cases a sum of money sufficient to cover these costs should be paid in before the officer is sent on deputation. This proviso will not of course interfere when a magistrate anticipates an affray, and it appears necessary to proceed to the spot without delay; in such cases he must exercise his own discretion. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 79, January 23, 1860.

Cost of deputation of judicial officer to make local investigation to be charged to the parties.

3874*a*. Cases of torture however slight are invariably to be recorded. C. O. No. 41, April 14, 1857, L. P.

Torture.

3902*a*. The following is the form of letter to be used in forwarding wounded persons and dead bodies to the surgeon for examination. "I have to request the favor of your examining sent to the hospital on the reverse of this letter, and return it to me with such remarks as you may consider necessary to shew clearly your opinion of the cause of ."

3913a. In this country as in England constables and other police officers are specially protected by law, when acting in the execution of their duty. The homicide of a police officer is presumed to be malicious and an act of murder; and proof of matter of excuse in extenuation lies on the party charged, which proof may appear either from evidence adduced by the prosecutor or from evidence offered by the prisoner, whereas in other cases the question whether a crime is murder or manslaughter is to be decided upon the evidence produced, and not upon any presumption arising from the mere act of killing. When the right to arrest does not exist, or does not exist in the form in which it is attempted to be exercised, the officer attempting the arrest has no protection either from his office or even from the fact of the party being an offender; the officer becomes a mere private individual, and the person on whom the arrest is endeavoured to be made may lawfully resist, and in resisting may lawfully employ all the means requisite for him. Reports L. P. 1858, page 517.

The homicide of a police officer is presumed to be malicious, and an act of murder; but when the police officer has no right of arrest he is not protected, and may be resisted as a private individual.

3913b. In order to justify a finding of culpable homicide, there must be a sufficient provocation, and the fatal stroke or strokes must be clearly traceable to the influence of passion arising from it. Reports L. P. 1858, page 517.

It is culpable homicide if there is sufficient provocation, but the fatal stroke must be traced to that.

3914a. Previous to a conviction for murder, or aggravated culpable homicide, it is not indispensably necessary that the body should be found. The evidence of parties, who saw the bodies of the persons murdered when dead, is sufficient to establish the fact of the death of the person with whose murder a prisoner is charged. Although there may be many instances of conviction of murder, where a body is not found and identified, in which it would be consistent with a humane and sound discretion that only a revocable sentence should be passed, yet there is no absolute and invariable rule by which a capital sentence is always to be held barred in such cases. Reports L. P. 1851, page 171; 1856, part 2, pages 341 and 481.

Finding of body not indispensably necessary to warrant a capital sentence.

3925a. In order to bring a crime within the category of excusable homicide in self defence, the party pleading it must show that the exercise of the right of defence was necessary, for the right being founded itself on necessity cannot extend beyond this foundation, or in other words cannot legally be exercised in any case or to any degree which is not necessary. Reports L. P. 1858, page 517.

The plea of excusable homicide in self-defence must be supported by evidence to prove that the exercise of the right of defence was necessary.

3926a. There is no rule in Mahomedan law rendering the evidence of eye witnesses necessary to a conviction of wilful murder. That law only bars kisas or retaliation in cases in which the evidence is simply presumptive, but admits of discretionary punishment even to perpetual imprisonment. But, be the Mahomedan law on the subject of punishment for wilful murder what it may, it can be no guide for the court, which must act in accordance with the terms of sect. 2, Reg. VIII. 1799, and, unless there be circumstances rendering the party found guilty of wilful murder a proper object of mercy, pass a capital sentence on him. Case of Azim Khan and others, N. A. November 21, 1859.

The evidence of eye witnesses is not necessary to a conviction of wilful murder.

3983a. In a similar case, the attack which the prisoners made upon the thief appeared from the nature of the injuries inflicted to have been more violent and more prolonged than was necessary, but it was considered that it was made in the dark when it was impossible for the prisoners to judge either of the risk which they ran from the deceased, or of the effect of the blows which they rained upon him, and allowance was made for the sudden alarm, under the influence of which the prisoners acted, and the total absence of premeditation, or indeed of any opportunity for reflection in the assault which was committed; and they were sentenced to imprisonment for six months without labor. Reports L. P. 1859, page 43.

4035a and 4049a. The court have prohibited the passing of sentences of uncertain duration; punishment should be inflicted specifically for the offence proved, irrespective of inducements or conditions dependent on contingent events. C. O. No. 53, March 5, 1858. Reports L. P. 1857, part 1, page 787.

Sentences of uncertain duration are prohibited.

4036a. It is the duty of the criminal authorities to take up and decide a complaint preferred by a husband for the abduction of his wife, notwithstanding that the wife herself is proved to have been a party to the abduction, and the mere circumstance of the husband failing to prove that the paramour, or person who seduced or carried off his wife, was not the only guilty party, should in no way operate to save that person from punishment. In other words, the guilt or innocence of a wife is not a point for consideration, except it may be in awarding punishment, when she is not included in the prosecution. C. O. No. 29, September 1, W. P. September 24, L. P. 1856.

The person who abducts the wife is punishable whether she was a consenting party or not.

4037. The concluding part of this paragraph has been rescinded by Act III. 1860.

4060a. Where a prisoner was charged with purchasing or taking on lease for 90 years young girls for the purpose of making them prostitutes, it was held that to hire a person for a term beyond that of the duration of human life contained all the essentials of a sale, and is a criminal offence, and punishable as a misdemeanor, but that in such a case a written complaint to the magistrate is necessary under sect. 6, Reg. IX. 1807 in order to give him jurisdiction. Reports L. P. 1858, page 343.

To hire girls for a term beyond the duration of human life is a misdemeanor.

4077a. The Act does not apply to the emigration of laborers to St. Vincent, Natal, St. Kitts, or the French colonies. Acts XII, XXXIII, XLI, and XLVI, of 1860.

For 4085, which has been repealed by Act III. 1860, substitute the following:—

4085a. When a person is convicted of the crime of rape, if the circumstances of the case do not appear to call for a more severe punishment than imprisonment for seven years with labor and irons, the session judge before whom the trial is held shall pass sentence. Act III. 1860, sect. 2.

What sentence the session judge is competent to pass in cases of rape.

4086 is also repealed.

4107a. The marriage of a Hindu with his sister's daughter was held to be incestuous; he was sentenced to imprisonment for five years with labor, and she for three years with labor commutable to fine. Reports L. P. 1856, part 2, page 1079.

Case of incestuous marriage between Hindus.

4229a. Where a person lost a bank-note, and it was proved that the prisoner negotiated it, it was held that the mere appropriation of property, under such circumstances, without proof of his knowledge of the real owner of it, did not constitute a criminal offence; the court did not consider whether a knowledge of the owner would have been sufficient to warrant a conviction. Reports L. P. 1859, page 37.

To find and appropriate property is not a criminal offence.

4418a. When the amount of the sums received on account of fines and the unclaimed proceeds of the sale of unclaimed cattle, is larger than is required for the payment of the salaries allowed to pound-keepers, and the expenses incurred for the construction and maintenance of pounds and other purposes connected with the execution of Act III. 1857, any surplus which may remain after making full provisions for the said salaries and expenses may be applied, under the direction of the local government, to the construction and repair of roads and bridges, and other works of a like nature. Act V. 1860, sect. 1.

Appropriation of surplus fines, &c.

4472a. If any plaint, written statement, or declaration in writing required by this Act to be verified shall contain any averment which the person making the verification shall know or believe to be false, or shall not know or believe to be true, such person shall be subject to punishment according to the provisions of the law for the time being in force for the punishment of giving or fabricating false evidence. Act VIII. 1859, sect. 24. The same provision is enacted in regard to the verification of statements in suits before the collector under Act X. 1859, by sect. 36.

Punishment for false verification of plaint, statement, &c.

4472b. When a judgment debtor in confinement under a decree makes an application to the court for his discharge on a surrender of the whole of the debtor's property, which application must contain a full account of all the property and must be subscribed and verified by the applicant in the manner provided for subscribing and verifying plaints (sect. 27 and 24 Act VIII. 1859), the court is to fix a reasonable period within which the plaintiff [decree-holder] may cause the property to be attached and sold, or may make proof that the defendant, for the purpose of procuring his discharge without satisfying the decree, has wilfully concealed property, or his right or interest therein, or fraudulently transferred or removed property, or committed any other act of bad faith. If the plaintiff shall within the time specified or at any subsequent period prove to the satisfaction of the court that the defendant has been guilty of any of the acts above-mentioned, the court shall, at the instance of the plaintiff, either retain the defendant in confinement, or commit him to prison, as the case may be, unless he shall have already been in confinement two years on account of the decree; and may also, if it shall think proper, send the defendant to the magistrate to be dealt with according to law. Act VIII, 1859, sects. 280 and 281.

In the case of false verification of declaration by judgment debtor applying for discharge on surrender of property the civil court may send the defendant to the magistrate.

For paras: 4512 and 4513 substitute the following :—

4512a, If any person amenable to the jurisdiction of a sessions court shall be convicted before that court, whether by his free and voluntary confession, or by the testimony of credible witnesses, or by strong circumstantial evidence of the crime of perjury, or subornation of perjury, as defined and made punishable by Regulations II. 1807, and XVII. 1817, the session judge shall pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence in reference to the peculiar circumstances of the case; provided that he shall in no case exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by cl. 2, sect. 9, of the regulation last mentioned [i. e., imprisonment in banishment from the district for seven years, and two years' additional imprisonment in lieu of stripes]. Reg. II. 1807, sect. 3, cl. 1. Reg. XVII. 1817, sect. 9, cl. 2. Act III. 1860, sect. 4. Penalty for perjury or subornation of perjury.

4512b. If in any such case the session judge shall consider the sentence which he is empowered to pass inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, he shall refer the case, with his sentiments, for the sentence of the nizamut adawlut in conformity to sect. 6, Act XXXI. 1841, which is hereby declared applicable to such cases. Act III. 1860, sect. 5. Trial to be referred if sentence inadequate.

For paras: 4568 and 4569 substitute the following:—

4568a. If any person amenable to the jurisdiction of a sessions court shall be convicted before that court, whether by his free or voluntary confession, or by the testimony of credible witnesses, or by strong circumstantial evidence, of the crime of forgery, or of procuring forgery, as defined and made punishable by Reg. II. 1807, and Reg. XVII. 1817, the session judge shall pass such sentence on the offender as he may consider adequate to the offence in reference to the particular circumstances of the case; provided that he shall in no case exceed the limit of the powers vested in him by cl. 2, sect. 9, of the regulation last mentioned [i. e., imprisonment in banishment from the district for seven years and two years' additional imprisonment in lieu of stripes]. Reg. II. 1807, sect. 3, cl. 1. Reg. XVII. 1817, sect. 9, cl. 2. Act III. 1860, sect. 4. Penalty for forgery or procuring forgery

4599a. The following opinion was given by the advocate general in reply to a question whether European British subjects can be compelled to give evidence in the local courts, and punished for refusing to do so. I am of opinion that any court of justice in the Punjab, and its dependencies, which has power to commit to prison persons subject to its general jurisdiction, has also power to punish by fine or by commitment to prison European British subjects who are required by it to give evidence, and who, without lawful excuse, refuse to do so. I entertain this opinion whether Act XXX of 1841, relating to obstructions to justice, applies to the case of a refusal to give testimony or not. If it does apply, it is perfectly clear that the circumstance, that the person guilty of the obstruction to justice is an European British subject, does not exempt him from punishment by fine not exceeding 200 rupees and in default of payment by imprisonment for a period not exceeding one month. Indeed the whole of section 1 of the Act is framed upon the assumption, that a person subject to the jurisdiction of the supreme court is liable to summary punishment under the Act. If the Act does not apply to such a case, I am still of opinion, upon general principles, that a court in the Punjab or other provinces of British India similarly situated, has the power of visiting with fine and imprisonment the contempt of its authority manifested by an obstinate refusal to give evidence, whatever may be the country and the status of the witness, provided the court be one having the power of committing to custody persons subject to its jurisdiction. Such a power is, according to the principles of the English law, inherent to every court of record, whether the person guilty of the contempt be subject to its general jurisdiction or not; and to constitute a court of record it is only necessary that the court should be one having power to award imprisonment. These principles do not rest upon any technical rule peculiar to English law, but upon the necessity of arming all courts, of sufficient importance to have the power of imprisonment entrusted to them, with adequate powers to protect themselves against contempt and obstruction of their proceedings; and there seems to be no valid reason, why they should not apply to the courts of this country, where no Opinion of advocate general regarding the power of local courts to compel European British subjects to give evidence.

regulation or Act prescribes a different course, as to the Queen's courts at home. These considerations would probably have led me to a different conclusion as to the power even of the courts of the Bengal presidency and its dependencies, from that arrived at by my predecessor in the opinion set out in the circular order of 1st February 1854, and which I need scarcely say, is entitled to great weight; but although in that case I should have hesitated much in advising that any court should act upon my view in preference to his, I am clearly of opinion, that there is no legal principle upon which an European British subject, refusing to give evidence in a court in the Punjab or its dependencies, or in any province not annexed to any of the presidencies, can be exempted from the summary process of fine and imprisonment for his contempt of court, to which all other witnesses are subject. Whether the Act of 1841 does not apply to a mere refusal to give evidence, unaccompanied by any words or conduct disrespectful or contemptuous in themselves, is an extremely doubtful question. I incline however to think that, although in addition to the words "using menacing gestures or expressions," the words "or otherwise obstructing justice" are used, these latter words only apply to obstructions of the same nature as those specified, i. e. rather to obstructions of a physical or active kind to the court proceeding with its business generally, than to the obstruction to the due course of justice in a particular case by reason of the witness not giving evidence. Had the case rested on the words of the Act alone, I should have thought that the Act might fairly be held to apply to a deliberate and unauthorized refusal by a witness in court to give evidence, when called on by the court itself to do so. For the words used in this and the following section might be satisfied, by supposing them to apply to all obstructions of justice committed in the face of the court and thereby interrupting the due course of its regular business, as distinguished from a contempt committed out of court, such as a refusal to attend upon a summons, or the use of disrespectful words towards the court beyond its precincts. But on looking at the state of the law which the Act was intended to remedy, I think it clear that in the regulations "obstructions to justice and contempt of court," had been treated as offences quite distinct from the refusal of a witness to give evidence. Thus Regulation IV. of 1793, section 6, and Regulation L. of 1803, section 2, clause 2, which prescribe the punishment for refusal to give evidence, are left unrepealed by the Act of 1853, while Regulation XXIII. of 1814, section 42, and Regulation XII. of 1825, section 6, which relate to contempts of court and obstructions of a different kind, and which themselves had been substituted for earlier provisions empowering the magistrate to visit such contempts or obstruction with stripes or imprisonment, are expressly repealed by the Act of 1841. The recital, too, that sufficient provision is not made for repressing obstructions to justice appears to point to such obstructions as were dealt with in the regulation repealed as insufficient, or not dealt with in any regulation, rather than to a totally different kind of obstructions for which an adequate means of repression were provided by regulations which the Act left untouched. If therefore the power of the court to fine and commit European British subjects rested on the Act alone, I should have thought that no such legal power existed. But as I have a strong opinion that the power exists in non-regulation provinces, independently of the Act, I do not hesitate to advise that in any case, in which an European British subject wilfully refused to give evidence before a court in the Punjab or in any unannexed non-regulation province having general power to imprison, the court should proceed to fine him in a sum not exceeding Company's rupees 200, the sum provided by the Act, and in default of payment to order him to be imprisoned for a period not exceeding one month. The limits of punishment prescribed by the Act should not in any case be exceeded. If the Act applies, it would be illegal to go beyond them, and, even if it does not apply, it affords a criterion of the extent of fine and imprisonment which the legislature thought reasonable. In cases where the party recusant is a rich man to whom the fine of rupees 200 will not be an adequate punishment, and it is thought worth while to proceed against him in the supreme court, it will be better to prefer a charge before a justice of the peace for refusing to give evidence, and such justice can hold him to bail to take his trial in the supreme court. Under the Act of 1853, an European British subject, who refuses to give his evidence in a civil court, is I think liable to the penalties prescribed by section 24 to the same extent as any other witness. But that law only applies to civil courts of the presidency of Fort William at Bengal, and having been passed subsequently to the annexation of the Punjab, cannot be considered as in force in that province or its dependencies. The main features in which its provisions differ on this head from those of Act XXX of 1841 are, that the power to fine is extended to rupees 500 realizable from the witness's property, but such fine is not commutable to imprisonment: and the power to imprison is given until the witness shall consent to give his evidence, instead of for time certain, i. e. one month on non-payment of fine. The English law does not, in the absence of express legislative authority, recognize this power of indefinite imprisonment, but requires that a certain time should be specified in the commitment in such cases. It will not be safe, under these circumstances, to adopt the course prescribed by the Act of 1853 against European British subjects refusing to give evidence in civil courts in the Punjab. But in all courts, both civil and criminal, it will be safer to adopt the measure of punishment prescribed by Act XXX of 1841, as the extreme limit in such cases. It will be open to the court that commits a witness, in default of the payment of the fine imposed, to order his release before the expiration of the month, or of any shorter period of imprisonment to which it may have sentenced him, on his consenting to give his evidence. I observe that this is the course which has actually been adopted in regard to witnesses generally by the forms of civil procedure for the Punjab, proposed by the judicial commissioner. See section 1, clause 12, and section 2, clause 4, wherein the refusal is properly treated on the footing of a contempt. I consider that the rule thus prescribed is a perfectly proper one, and that it did not require the express authority of the legislature to warrant it. If, therefore, it has been adopted in the Punjab with respect to any one class of witnesses, it should also be applied, I think, to all classes of witnesses alike, including European British subjects, until the new law of civil procedure Act VIII of 1859, which contains a clause providing for the refusal of a witness to give evidence, section 169, is extended to the Punjab by the governor general in council. The right of a justice of the peace to fine or imprison a witness who refuses to answer has been doubted, but on the whole I think the better opinion is, that a justice, while acting judicially, and not merely ministerially, has the power. He should however be very guarded in his exercise of it, and should not in any case, I think, impose a fine or a period of imprisonment beyond the limits prescribed for the inferior criminal courts established by the E. I. Company. I do not think that any exemption can be claimed from any of the above penalties, by reasons of the European British subject being a soldier, either in her majesty's service generally, or her majesty's Indian force, except perhaps in the single case of a fine imposed by a justice of the peace as afterwards mentioned, but soldiers are exempt from imprisonment by the civil courts for all debts not exceeding 300 rupees, and for other matters enumerated in the 52nd section of the annual mutiny Act, and in the 58th section of the Indian mutiny Act. But from the grounds of exemption "any charge" of felony or misdemeanor, or any crime or offence, other than the misdemeanor of refusing to comply with an order of justice for the payment of money, are excepted. Now I think the refusing to give evidence is a misdemeanor or offence within the meaning of this clause, and that therefore a soldier cannot plead his exemption from liability to imprisonment under this provision where the court sentence him for such refusal. I doubt whether even in the case of an order made by a justice of the peace to pay a fine, or in default to be imprisoned for the offence, a soldier would be absolutely entitled to the exemption; but as the justice of the peace has power to commit to prison for contempt, without imposing the alternative penalty of a fine, I think a justice of the peace should, if the case be a flagrant one of wilful refusal to give material evidence, commit the witness, when an European British soldier, without imposing any fine. I think the power above described may be exercised by a magistrate or justice of the peace acting under the provisions of Act XVIII of 1853 for regulating the sale of liquor in military cantonments. C. O. No. 10, October 19, 1859.

4615a. In all cases committed to the supreme court by magistrates in the mofussil, the prosecutor, witnesses, and prisoners with their guards, when forwarded to Calcutta, are to be provided by the committing magistrate with a letter to the commissioner of police for Calcutta, who will then be able to arrange for the attendance of the prosecutor or witnesses at the time they are wanted at the sessions, and to see that the prisoners are conveyed to the proper place for their confinement. If the parties are sent down separately, they or the guards should be provided with separate letters, which they should be instructed to deliver immediately on their arrival. C. O. Govt. Bengal, No. 71, February 19, 1859.

In cases committed to the supreme court the prosecutor, witnesses, and prisoners are to be furnished with letters to the commissioner of police.

4723a. When any artificer, workman, or laborer shall have received from any master or employer resident or carrying on business in any presidency town, or in any station of the settlement of Prince of Wales' Island, Singapore and Malacca, or from any person acting on behalf of such master or employer, an advance of money on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform, or to get performed by any other artificers, workmen, or laborers, if such artificer, workman, or laborer shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform or get performed such work according to the terms of his contract, such master or employer or any such person as aforesaid may complain to a magistrate of police, and the magistrate shall thereupon issue a summons or a warrant, as he shall think proper, for bringing before him such artificer, workman, or laborer, and shall hear and determine the case. Act XIII. 1859, sect. 1.

If workman neglect to perform work, on account of which he has received an advance of money, complaint may be made to the magistrate.

4723b. If it shall be proved to the satisfaction of the magistrate that such artificer, workman, or laborer has received money in advance from the complainant on account of any work, and has wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglected or refused to perform or get performed the same according to the terms of his contract, the magistrate shall, at the option of the complainant, either order such artificer, workman, or laborer to repay the money advanced, or such part thereof as may seem to the magistrate just and proper, or order him to perform or get performed, such work according to the terms of his contract; and if such artificer, workman, or laborer shall fail to comply with the said order, the magistrate may sentence him to be imprisoned with hard labor for a term not exceeding three months, or, if the order be for the repayment of a sum of money, for a term not exceeding three months or until such sum of money shall be sooner repaid; provided that no such order for the repayment of any money shall, while the same remains unsatisfied, deprive the complainant of any civil remedy by action or otherwise which he might have had but for this Act. Act XIII. 1859, sect. 2.

Magistrate may order re-payment of advance or performance of contract.

Penalty if workman fail to comply with the order.

4723c. When the magistrate shall order any artificer, workman, or laborer to perform or get performed any work according to the terms of his contract, he may also at the request of the complainant require such artificer, workman, or laborer to enter into a recognizance with sufficient security for the due performance of the order; and in default of his entering into such recognizance, or furnishing such security to the satisfaction of the magistrate, may sentence him to be imprisoned with hard labor for a period not exceeding three months. Act XIII. 1859, sect. 3.

Magistrate may require workman to give security for due performance of order.

4723d. The word "contract," as used in this Act, shall extend to all contracts and agreements whether by deed, or written, or verbal, and whether such contract be for a term certain, or for specified work, or otherwise. Act XIII. 1859, sect. 4.

To what contracts the Act extends.

4723e. This Act may be extended by the governor general of India in council, or by the executive government of any presidency or place, to any place within the limits of their respective jurisdictions. In the event of this Act being so extended, the powers hereby vested in a magistrate of police shall be exercised by such officer or officers as shall be specially appointed by government to exercise such powers. Act XIII. 1859, sect. 5.

Act may be extended by government.

4723f. It shall be lawful for the executive government of any presidency or place within the British territories in India to invest any magistrate, or other officer exercising the powers of a magistrate, with power to enquire into and decide disputes on account of wages, hire of carriage, or the price of work, between any workmen employed in the construction of any railway, canal, or other public work, the construction of which is or shall be sanctioned by parliament, or by any such executive government, and the person or persons by whom such workmen are employed. Act IX. 1860, sect. 1.

Government may empower any magistrate to decide disputes as to wages or price of work.

4723g. Magistrates empowered to decide disputes under the preceding section, shall have jurisdiction only in case the amount in dispute shall not exceed the sum of two hundred rupees, and the claim is preferred within six months from the date on which the cause of action arose. Act IX. 1860, sect. 2.

Magistrates to have jurisdiction in what cases.

4723h. The executive government shall fix, and may, from time to time, alter the local limits of the jurisdiction of any magistrate invested with jurisdiction under section I. of this Act. A magistrate so invested may hold a court for the investigation of disputes of the nature described in the said section at any place within the local limits of his jurisdiction. Act IX. 1860, sect. 3.

Government to fix and alter local limits of jurisdiction.

4723i. The rules for the institution of suits as provided in Act VIII. 1859 shall, as far as circumstances will allow, be followed in the investigation of disputes under the preceding sections, and the procedure adopted shall be that provided for cases in which the suit may be disposed of at the first hearing. Act IX. 1860, sect. 4.

Procedure in the investigation of disputes.

- No appeal. 4723*l*. There shall be no appeal against any decision passed under this Act. Act IX. 1860, sect. 5.
- Order of payment. 4723*l*. The magistrate, having heard and decided the case, shall make an order for the payment of such sum of money (if any) as shall appear to him to be justly due; and if the person ordered to pay shall make default in the payment of such sum immediately or within such time as the magistrate shall direct, the magistrate shall issue his warrant to levy the money by distress and sale of the goods and chattels of the defaulter. Act IX. 1860, sect. 6.
- Distress. 4723*m*. If any question shall arise whether any goods or chattels seized under the warrant of distress belong to the defaulter, or are liable to be distrained and sold as aforesaid, the same shall be determined in the manner provided by the said Act VIII. 1859, for the determination of the like questions arising in the execution of decrees. Act IX. 1860, sect. 7.
- Property distrained. 4723*n*. Any person who shall voluntarily engage for a stipulated period to work on any railway, canal, or other public work, the construction of which is or shall be sanctioned in the manner specified in section II. of this Act, or to execute any specific work in connection with such public work, and who shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse neglect or refuse to perform the work so stipulated for, shall be liable, on conviction before a magistrate, to a fine not exceeding twenty rupees. The magistrate may, at the request of the complainant or of any one authorised to act on his behalf, instead of fining such person, order him to perform or get performed the work according to the terms of his contract or engagement; and if he shall fail to comply with the order, the magistrate may, upon proof to his satisfaction of such non-compliance, sentence such person to be imprisoned with or without hard labor for any term not exceeding two months. Act IX. 1860, sect. 8.
- Penalty for workmen neglecting or refusing to work. 4723*o*. This Act shall take effect only in those districts or places to which it shall be extended by order of the governor general of India in council, or of the executive government of any presidency or place. Act IX. 1860, sect. 9.
- Operation of Act.

In cases of wounding, the commitment should not be made until result is known, 990—commitment when unnecessary in cases of assault or affray with wounding, 991.

In case of theft, when the commitment depends on the value of the property stolen, the declaration of the prosecutor determines it, 992.

When previous conviction of heinous offence makes commitment for theft or burglary requisite, 993. See also THEFT and BURGLARY.

Charge must contain a distinct and substantive offence in proper legal phrase, and the acts on which it is laid must be distinctly specified, 994.

The offence must be inserted in the charge as well as the act from which it results, 995.

Charge should be distinctly laid in proper legal phrase, 996.

Separate acts though against the same person, should not be joined in one commitment, 997—and the charges should be of cognate crimes, 998.

Additional count for escape from hajut cannot be added to charge for original offence, 999.

If the crime involves two acts, one of which is in aggravation of the other, how to be charged, 1000.

Course of proceeding when a person committed is proved guilty before the magistrate of a distinct and separate offence within his competence, 1001.—But, if two charges against one person originated in the same transaction, he must be committed on both, 1002.

Witnesses may be committed for perjury though an appeal in the case be still pending, 1003.

If one of the prisoners implicated be committed, all must be, 1004—if prisoners are committed for this reason, it must be noted by both magistrate and judge, 1005.

Distinct averment in charges necessary, and why, 1006.

If there is doubt as to the grade of the offence of which the prisoner is guilty, the charge should be laid for the higher grade, 1007—but if the doubt regards different acts of distinct and separate character, there should be separate counts, id.—prisoner charged as principal may be convicted as an accessory, 1214—when stolen property is found in the possession of prisoner charged with theft, there must always be a second count, 1007.

Not to be for greater if proof of lesser crime only, 1008.

Charges as accomplices and as aiding and abetting, or as principals and accomplices, superfluous, 1009.

The charge of being accessory to be separate, 1010.—No conviction as an accomplice, on a charge of being an accessory before the fact, nor of being such accessory on evidence which shows a different offence, 1011—and a charge of privy must be distinct, id.

Two distinct offences as forgery and uttering cannot be charged in one count, 1012.

Magistrate cannot punish the accessory and commit the principal, 1013—even an accessory after the fact, 1014.

When magistrate may convict of privy, 1015.

Examples of irregular commitment, 1016.—A magistrate is not competent to commit a wife for adultery when no such charge has been preferred against her by her husband, 1017.

If a prisoner committed at one station is to be tried at another, authority of government or the nizamat adawlut must first be obtained, 1018—authority for deviating from the usual course to be noted, 1018.

- What to contain, 1019.
- Precise charge to be recorded, 1020—care that the vernacular term for the offence is correct, id.
- Separate paper to be attached to, containing the charge in English and the vernacular, when commitment made by civil judge for perjury in civil suit, 1021.
- If commitment is made under special instructions, it must be noted in proceedings, 1022.
- Where the circumstances of aggravation which led to commitment are to be noted by the magistrate, 1023.
- If the prisoner has been formerly apprehended, how to be noted on proceedings, 1024.
- If actual proprietor of land is committed, information to be sent to collector, 1025.
- Trials of prisoners on distinct charges to be kept separate, 1026.
- What documents are to be submitted to the sessions with the calendar, 1027, 1038.
- Circumstances which first induced suspicion to attach to the prisoners, to be recorded in the calendar, by the magistrate himself, 1028, 1029.
- In forgery, embezzlement, and the like, list of written documents adduced in evidence to be recorded in calendar, 1030.
- Documents to be adduced if trial held by special authority, 1031.
- Immediate intimation of commitment to be made to judge, by letter, 1032—and by roobakaree distinct from final roobakaree, 1033.
- Delay in submitting the case to be avoided, 1033.
- From what date the case is considered pending before the judge, 1034.
- Separate calendar of commitments to be kept for each month, 1035.
- Witnesses how to be classed in calendar, 1036.
- Evidence how to be classified in the calendar, 1037.
- Comparative statement of evidence to be furnished with the calendar, 1038—Means of facilitating reference to papers of nuthee by entries therein, 1039, 1039a.

Judge on Circuit.

- Proclamation to be made of date on which judge will take up case, 1040.
- Commitments made by magistrate after arrival of, 1041.

Made at subordinate station.

- In the case of a newly created magistracy, government to decide where and how the sessions are to be held, 1042.
- Where sessions of joint magistracy may be held, 1043, 1044.
- Mode of procedure in forwarding cases to sudder station, 1045, 1046.
- Subsequent disposal of prisoners and proceedings in such cases, 1047—information to be sent to joint magistrate, id.
- Government may limit the jurisdiction of judge and direct cases to be tried by another judge or the commissioner, 1048.
- Commissioner of circuit engaged in sessions may fix the periods of holding such, 1049.

Prisoners.

- Not to be confined in fetters previous to, except when necessary for safe custody, 1050.

Duty of Judge on receiving.

- Trial to be proceeded with as soon as possible, 1051.
- From what date case is held to be pending before him, 1034.
- He may direct charge to be amended before trial, 1052, 1053—instructing the magistrate under what heading in periodical statements to include the case, 1054.
- Judge cannot annul commitment so as to prevent trial, 1055—though the nizamut adawlut annulled when it was made without due enquiry, 1056—sentence must be passed on every prisoner committed, 1057.

- Judge may cancel a commitment and order recommitment on a higher or different charge, 1058—and may cancel commitment in a case of which the magistrate has power to dispose, unless reason of commitment is noted, 1059—but he cannot cancel for insufficient investigation by magistrate, or want of proof, 1060—nor because he considers that the magistrate acted illegally in taking up the case, 1061—judge how to proceed in such cases, 1060, 1061.
- Charge cannot be amended after prisoner's defence, 1062.
- Incorrect commitment how dealt with in the nizamut adawlut, 1063.
- If proceedings are quashed, acquitted prisoners need not be recommitted, 1064.
- Example of irregularity in cancelling a commitment and ordering another commitment by the session judge, 1065. Effect of a misdirection by the judge in cancelling a commitment, 1066.
- When a case is remanded for a fresh commitment, unnecessary to pass any order as to the accused, and acquittal does not prevent re-commitment, 1067.
- No report of the cancelling a charge is required to be made to the nizamut adawlut, 1068.
- Judge cannot admit a formal compromise of a commitment, 1069.
- Judge cannot, in a case of commitment, punish prosecutor for malicious or groundless complaint, 1070.

COMMUTATION OF LABOR. See LABOR and IRONS.

COMPLAINTS, PREFERRED BEFORE MAGISTRATE.

- Magistrate himself to decide on every petition, 331—not to make them over to assistants for report, id.
- All complaints to be recorded in magistrate's office, 332.
- Petitioners not to be sworn to the contents of their petition, 333.
- Of conspiracy, must be preferred by person conspired against, 4432 et seq.
- Of perjury, in civil courts, 4467 et seq.—in criminal courts, 4492 et seq.—in revenue courts acting judicially, 4489, 4490—if not acting judicially, 4497.
- Of forgery in civil or criminal courts, 4536 et seq.—in revenue courts acting judicially, 4540—not acting judicially, 4544—by court of wards, 4559—by private individuals, id.—forged document must be produced, 4520.

Heinous offences.

- On receiving complaint of, magistrate how to proceed, 334.
- Warrant issued on, may contain requisition of bail and security, 335.
- Complainant need not appear in person in certain cases, 336,—but must in such case show good reason to the contrary, 337—in ordinary cases he must attend, id.
- Warrant not to be issued unless the truth of the charge is deposed to on oath, 338—or unless magistrate has credible information, id.—if credible information, oath is not requisite, 339—magistrate must satisfy himself that there are adequate grounds for proceeding, 340—without which he cannot issue process, 357.
- Session judge cannot prohibit issue of warrant, 341—nor direct the apprehension and trial of parties, such a matter being for the discretion of the magistrate, 342—nor interfere to prevent trial of a person not formally acquitted, 341a—nor, in acquitting a prisoner, direct the magistrate to take up another charge against him, 342a.
- How magistrate should proceed if he distrust the truth of complaint, 343.

Bailable crimes or misdemeanors.

- Prosecution for a misdemeanor must be commenced by the aggrieved party, 344.
- No conviction can be had on the prosecution of a third party, 345.

On receiving charge of, magistrate how to proceed, 346.

If summons neglected, warrant to be issued, 347.

Defendant to appear to receive sentence though he has answered by attorney, 348.

Offences affecting the public.

Upon such offences a written complaint not required, 349.

Magistrate may proceed on information sworn, or on his own knowledge, 350.

Proceedings under Act II. 1856 subject to appeal as other cases, 351.

Petty offences.

Must be preferred in first instance to magistrate, 352—and cannot be referred to the police for investigation and report, 353, 357—nor can police officers take cognizance of such, 354.

Rape is not an offence of this nature, 355.

But it is not always necessary that the charge be preferred by petition, if it is deposed to on oath, 356.

Magistrate not to issue process without satisfying himself of the truth of the charge by examining the prosecutor, and if necessary the witnesses, 357.

Notice of complaint may be served on the accused, 358.

To summon one defendant in the first instance and the remainder after taking evidence, is incorrect, 359—but indiscriminate summonses should be avoided, id.—measures taken to avoid such, 360.

Bail not to be required in first instance, 361.

Preferred to police officers.

In bailable offences, on the truth of the charge being deposed to, to issue summons, 362—and in serious cases to require bail, 363—if summons neglected, to issue warrant, 364.

In heinous offences, on the truth of the charge being deposed to, to issue warrant, 365—unless special reason appears for reporting to magistrate, id.—in what cases bail may not be taken, 366.

Persons wounding or slaying others in self-defence not to be proceeded against, 367—under pain of dismissal, id.

Security to keep the peace may be required in addition to bail, 368.

Subsequent proceedings before magistrate.

Charge to be clearly stated to the defendant, 372.

Where the acts complained of involve offences of a distinct character distinct complaints should be made, 373.

Prisoner to be released or committed according to evidence, 374—not to be committed without probability of conviction, 375.

Such order of release not such an acquittal as would bar re-institution of the case, 376—and magistrate may commit on the evidence notwithstanding such order by his assistant in a case beyond the competence of the latter, 376a.

Conviction must be limited to what is proved in evidence, though the charge may have been of a graver nature than is proved in evidence, 377.

Injudicious and indiscriminate commitments to be avoided, 378.

Bail-bonds for prisoners released on bail, and recognizances of prosecutor and witnesses, 379.

Written intermediate proceedings regarding further enquiry should be short, 380.

All officers acting judicially to record their decisions in their own vernacular language, 381—decisions to be filed with translations on the record, id.—decisions need not be written in open court, 382—no appeal lies for non-compliance with these rules, 383—but appellate court may require compliance, id.—note of what is required by this law, 382a.

Forms prescribed for decision, 384, 384a—abstract of evidence unnecessary, but reasons of decision to be plainly set forth, id.—number and letter of offence to be noted, 386b.

Natives to use only the vernacular form, 385—European officers to file both an English form and a counterpart in the vernacular, 385—session judges and magistrates to see that their subordinates attend to these rules, 386.

Magisterial officers to record a narrative in English of every case 386a.

Malicious, litigious, vexatious, or groundless.

If of petty offence, what penalty may be inflicted, 387.

Extent of power of magistrate in any such case, 388—maximum of punishment in any such case, 389.

Magistrate can punish only in cases primarily instituted before himself, 390.

Police officers how to proceed in such cases, 391.

Complainant not punishable unless the truth of the charge has been sworn to, 392, 393.

Magistrate to use this power with the greatest discretion, 396—appeal lies to session judge, id.

False charge must be such as to cause injury and annoyance, 394—it is not strictly indispensable to take defence of a party before sentencing him for a false and malicious charge, 395—but opportunity must be given of recording statement, 395a.

Power of superintendent of police in such cases, 397.

Session judge cannot punish as groundless or malicious a case committed to the sessions, 398—but may, in case of malicious, &c. appeal, id.

A merely litigious appeal is not punishable, 399.

These provisions do not supersede an indictment for perjury, 400.

COMPROMISE.

In heinous crimes cannot be admitted by magistrate, 1521—or by any other court, 1522.

Session judge cannot admit a formal, in case committed to sessions, 1522.

DISCUSSIONS.

Regarding relative powers of European officers, or animadversions upon points of a general nature, to be kept distinct, and conducted in the English language, 1867.

DISMISSAL.

All native officers liable to removal without proof of any specific act of criminality, 2061, 2494—the imposition of heavy fines is objectionable, 2495—the unaccountable possession of much property sufficient ground for dismissal, 2496—officers dismissed on conviction of certain offences are not to be again employed, 2056—but this does not apply to every case of dismissal, 2058.

The nizamut adawlut, the superintendent of police, and the session judge, have the final power of dismissing their own officers, 2458—the ground of removal is to be communicated to the officer, who is to state what he has to offer in his defence, 2460.

Monthly report of dismissals of their own, and the magistrate's amiah, to be sent to civil auditor, 2463—session judge is to report the dismissal of his scrihtadar, peshkar, or nazir, to the sudder court within ten days, 2461—and of all officers on a salary of not less than 10 rupees a month, for the formation of a register, 2462.

Ministerial officers.—Superintendent of police may confirm the dismissal by magistrate of any native ministerial officer receiving salary of 10 rupees per mensem or upwards, 2465—the cause of dismissal of any such officer is to be reported to the superintendent of police, 2470—without delay, 2471—a special report of dismissed officers receiving salary not less than 8 rupees per mensem is to be made to the superintendent of police for the formation of a register, 2472—magistrate may immediately suspend officers in cases of gross misconduct, 2473—the dismissal of officers drawing less salary than 10 rupees rests with the magistrate; but he is not to dismiss them without cause, and is to record his reasons, 2475—his orders are final in such cases, 2476—session judge cannot interfere with the orders of the magistrate regarding, 2479—but he may direct the dismissal of any officer whose conduct appears from any proceeding before him to require removal, 1223, 2480—magistrate need not report dismissal of any officer to the nizamut adawlut, 2490—government or the nizamut adawlut may order the dismissal of any officer, 2491.

Monthly report of dismissals to be made by magistrate to superintendent of police, 2493—superintendent of police may dismiss officers of his own accord, 2487—and the nizamut adawlut cannot revise his orders, 2489—but a commissioner cannot declare a person excluded from future employment, 2488.

Deputy magistrate cannot be dismissed without sanction of government, 789.

Police officers.—Magistrates may dismiss darogahs and subordinate police officers for neglect, misconduct, or incapacity, subject to the orders of the superintendent of police, whose decision is final, unless government interferes, 2044, 2045—but the grounds of dismissal are to be recorded on their proceedings, 2046—report of dismissal of any officer above the grade of burkundaz is to be sent without delay to the superintendent of police, 2054—as well as monthly returns of dismissals, 2055—that the registers may be kept correct; and the officer, if necessary, precluded from further employment, 2056—darogahs of first grade, or drawing special salaries, not to be dismissed without previous reference to government, 2045a—dismissal does not necessarily preclude further employment, 2058—when dismissal should be resorted to, 2065—register of minor punishments to be kept, and extract forwarded with report of dismissal, id.—superintendent of police may dismiss of his own accord, 2075—his orders are not open to revision by nizamut adawlut, 2080—session judge cannot dismiss a police officer summarily without trial, 2059a—but may order the dismissal of an officer convicted of an offence declared punishable by dismissal from office, 2059—nizamut adawlut may order dismissal of any native officer whose conduct appears, from any proceeding before the court, to require his removal, 1253, 2059, 2060, 2491—government has also the power of dismissal, 2491.

Chokeedars at sudder stations and officers on the chokeedaree establishment may be dismissed by magistrate, 2158.

Appeals from orders of magistrate dismissing police or ministerial officers lie to the superintendent of police or commissioner if such orders are not part of the sentence passed in a criminal trial, 1799, 2076, 2481,—and his orders are not open to revision by the nizamut adawlut, 2080, 2489—and cannot be heard by the session judge, 2077—who cannot interfere with the orders of the magistrate in this respect, 2079—they may be forwarded by dak, 2082, 2483—or may be presented to the magistrate, who is to forward them with the papers of the case, if written on stamp paper and presented within the proper period, 2083, 2484—if the appeal is forwarded by dak, it must be accompanied by copies of proceedings appealed against, 2084, 2485—facilities to be given for the personal attendance of appellant, 2058.

Appeals from officers employed in both the revenue and judicial departments lie to commissioners except in judicial trial, 2492.

Appeals from orders of magistrates preferred by officers neither ministerial nor police, lie to the session judge, 2482.

Police officers are not to take down in detail the questions and answers of the witnesses, 2280—a summary of their depositions is to be given in the simplest form, 2284—distinguishing the nature of their evidence, 2280—depositions of informant and plaintiff to be written at full length, and forwarded within 12 hours, containing certain particulars, 2281.

Session judge to hear every witness or prisoner examined exclusively and entirely in his presence, 510.

So, native judicial officers entrusted with criminal jurisdiction, id. Magistrates, joint-magistrates, and assistants, may empower their amlah to record the depositions in minor cases, 511—but it must be in their presence, id.—and the amlah cannot be empowered to examine prisoners, id.

Deposition taken on oath in private dwelling is illegal; and charge of perjury cannot be sustained thereon, 512.

Examination of parties and witnesses to be recorded in the language and character which deponent wishes, 513—and not necessarily that in which he is most conversant, 514—but must always be in the language in which it is delivered, 515—the deposition of European witness to be recorded in English, and a translation made and annexed by the court, 516.

Explanation to be subjoined of local terms used by witness, 516a—and translations to be annexed when evidence is given in peculiar or corrupt dialect, 1164.

Party examined is to read and sign the record, 517.

Deposition must be read and authenticated in the above manner, 518—and the witness must sign or mark it at the end, 519.

Name of person administering oath to be recorded, 512a.

Officer before whom it is taken is to certify the record, 517—form of certificate to be used by native judicial officers, 520—and by magistrates and other European officers, 521.

Admonition is to be given to witnesses, 522—the judge is to record that it has been duly given, 523—and to remind witnesses of it if necessary, id.

Depositions should be recorded in the actual words of the deponent, 524.

Leading questions to be avoided, 525.

The parties should be allowed to cross-examine, id.—and the presiding officer should also cross-examine when necessary, id.

What particulars regarding the deponent are to be noted, 526.

Circumstantial evidence to be tested by careful examination regarding collateral facts, 527.

In cases of circumstantial evidence false statements made by prisoner may become inculpatory, 527a.

EVIDENCE.—Continued.

Rules for examination.—Continued.

- Party may cross-examine and discredit his own witness, 528.
Former statement made by a witness is admissible to corroborate his testimony, 529—how to be proved, id.
Judge to question the witnesses on any material difference in their positions before him and before the magistrate, 536, 1178.
Witness bound to answer incriminating questions, but such evidence cannot be used against him, 530—but that would not prevent his being arraigned on a crime admitted in the deposition, if proved by other evidence, 531.
A witness may be questioned as to whether he has been convicted of any felony or misdemeanor, 532—such conviction may be proved if he denies the fact or refuses to answer, id.
Witness may be cross-examined as to previous written statements without such written statement being shown to him, 533—but, if it is intended to contradict him by such writing, his attention must be called thereto previously to the contradictory proofs, id.—and the judge may require the production of the writing, id.
By what writing a witness may refresh his memory, 534—court may permit a copy of document to be used to refresh the memory of a witness, 535.
The deposition given in the magistrate's court is not to be read over to the witness until he has been re-examined in the sessions court, 536.
Evidence must be taken in sessions court; not sufficient to refer to evidence recorded before the magistrate, 1172—or to swear witness to the truth of previous deposition, 1171—or to refer to evidence recorded on previous trial of accomplices in the same offence, 1173, 1177—facts given in evidence must be proved in the presence of the prisoners, 1173, 1174.
Judge cannot refuse to examine witnesses for the defence, 537.
Witnesses for defence to be examined on what points, and cross-examined, 538—if prisoner has no counsel, 1191.
If a prisoner objects to examine his own witnesses on the ground of their having been tampered with, judge ought not to examine them, 539—unless prisoner desires, he need not examine witnesses cited by him, 1194.
Evidence for prosecution before the sessions court cannot be taken in the absence of the accused, 540.
Defendant summoned after the taking of evidence for the prosecution by the magistrate may re-call witnesses examined before the issue of the summons, and before his attendance, 541—but unnecessary to re-call them, unless at the prisoner's request, id. 357*n*, 573.
Witness accused of having given a false deposition on oath cannot be examined on oath as to the truth of such accusation, and then committed for contradictory statements, 542—his answer should be taken without oath as on a charge of perjury, id.
Talking notes of a deposition and communicating it to other witnesses not a criminal offence, 543.
Witnesses should be carefully examined in order to prevent and to detect perjury, 4466.
See Sessions.

Competency of witnesses.

- The religious persuasion of the witness is no bar, 623.
No former conviction is a bar, 544—person convicted of a crime may give evidence for or against his supposed accomplices in the same crime, 546—persons acquitted of the charge of being accomplices of the prisoner may give evidence in his favor, 547—if convicted are required to give evidence, they should be examined on oath, 545—evidence of accomplices is always admissible, 548—conviction of murder upon the evidence of an accomplice previously convicted of being an accessory thereto, 549.
Persons incompetent to testify; children under seven, and persons of unsound mind, who are incapable of receiving just impressions of fact or of relating them truly, 550.
Children and persons of defective religious belief to testify on simple affirmation, 551—by affidavit or otherwise in writing, as well

- as orally, 554—grounds which have led to the conclusion that a person is not of capacity to be sworn to be recorded, 552—affirmation to be recorded in the same way as the administration of an oath is set forth, 553—without affirmation deposition cannot be considered as evidence, 553*a*—such witness willfully giving false evidence subject to the same proceedings and punishment as for perjury, 555.
No incompetency by reason of interest or relationship to any of the parties in a suit, 556—evidence of wife against her husband may be taken in corroboration, 558—but a wife or near relation of prisoner should never be called as a witness for prosecution, if it can be avoided, id.—case in which the evidence of wife in favor of husband was rejected, 560—near relatives of the prosecutor can give evidence, 559.
Leprosy in a witness does not bar, 557.
The improper admission or rejection of evidence is not ground of itself for a new trial or reversal of decision, 561.
Act II. 1855 does not render inadmissible any evidence previously admissible, 562.
Judge may record his own evidence, if cited as a witness, 562*a*.
The mother of an illegitimate child may be examined quoad the alleged father, 4696.
If prisoner objects to his own witnesses, they should not be examined, 539.
Examination of a witness on oath cannot be used as evidence against himself, 530—or the statement made by a prisoner on conditional offer of pardon, if committed on failure to fulfil the conditions, 431.
If a witness is declared incompetent by fitwa on the ground of his not being a Mahomedan, sessions court how to proceed, 623—so, if declared incompetent by fitwa on any other ground of exception, which appears to the judge unreasonable and insufficient, 624—if conviction rests principally on such evidence the trial must be referred, id.—as in the case of two females, 625.
Value.
How far contradictions in evidence are material, 563.
The best evidence which can be procured must be adduced, 564.
The best evidence set aside when witness has a personal interest, 565.
Evidence to commission of offence required notwithstanding confession, and prisoner may be acquitted in spite of it, 661.
Evidence to identification of prisoners is insufficient for conviction, unless its truth has been tested, 565*a*.
Evidence of witnesses who saw the body of the murdered man after death, sufficient proof of death to warrant capital punishment, although the body has not been found, 3914*a*.
Proof must depend on the evidence for the prosecution whatever the defence may be, 566.
Hearsay evidence inadmissible, 567.
Except in cases of treason the direct evidence of one witness who is entitled to credit is sufficient proof, 568—exception as to practice in regard to corroboration of evidence of an accomplice, or in cases of perjury, id.—trial to be referred if fitwa acquits on that ground, 569.
The evidence of all eye-witnesses must be taken by the magistrate, 570.
Evidence of absent witnesses cannot as a general rule be received; unless the absence be unavoidable, and the record of evidence be duly attested and proved, 571, 575, 576, 1164, 1170—otherwise, evidence taken by the magistrate cannot be considered, 1172—or evidence recorded in a former trial, 1173—even of the same prisoner, 1177.
Abstract record of statements made before the darogah are not evidence, but may be used as other memoranda to refresh the memory of persons called to prove such statements, 572.
It is irregular to commit prisoners for trial on evidence taken in their absence, but the irregularity does not vitiate the trial, 573—the defendant has a right to recall witnesses to prosecution, 541—and to cross-examine them, 357*n*.

EVIDENCE.—Continued.

Value.—Continued.

Dying declaration admissible though the deceased may have entertained a hope of recovery, 577—it need not have been upon oath, or taken in the presence of the accused; but, it should bear a note of the hour of the day when taken; and must be brought on the record of the trial, and proved to be accurate, 578—alone insufficient for conviction, 579.

Prisoner cannot be convicted in one court on evidence taken by the presiding officer in another capacity, 580—nor can evidence taken in civil court be transferred to criminal record, 581.

In a trial of perjury the court would not assume that the prisoner had been sworn, because he ought to have been, 581—but admission of the fact by the prisoner may be taken to supply such omission in the evidence, 582, 583—though, semble, the admission requires a certain corroboration, 583.

No conviction can be had on suspicion only or weak presumption; the evidence must amount to strong and violent presumption, 627—session judge should always require specific fatwa as to nature and degree of presumption, 1266—a fatwa of strong presumption is a fatwa of conviction, 1267.

Judicial notice.

FETTERS.

Cannot be adjudged when the labor is commutable to fine, 1360—and prisoner may be exempted in any case, id.

But magistrate may always impose, upon refractory prisoners, or those who have escaped, 1372, 2697.

When no specific order is passed for the imposition of fetters, magistrate may use his discretion, 1374, 2695—but he should not impose, except for the preservation of discipline, 1376.

Generally a sentence of fetters should not be passed in cases of misdemeanor, 1377, 2698—and in such case reason for imposing, must be recorded, id.

Female prisoners are not to be subjected to, except in special cases, 2699.

To be made of a light and uniform description, 2700—heavy, not to be imposed without sanction of magistrate, id.

How to be made, 2701—chains may be substituted for links, 2703—not to exceed generally one seer and a half, 2701—but in special cases may be heavier, id.

Leather mozchs to be used with, 2703.

A ring is not to be placed on prisoner sentenced to imprisonment without irons, 2705.

Fetters not to be removed without order of magistrate, 2707—except in hospital by order of the surgeon, 2663.

FETTERS.—Continued.

Not to be imposed on prisoners under examination except in heinous cases, 2862—and not always then, 2863—generally, only in extreme cases, 2864.

FIAL-I-SHANIA AND ZINA.Rape.

Magistrate may take cognizance of case of, though no complaint is preferred, 4079.

Charge may be preferred at the thana, or referred to police officers for investigation, 4080.

Razeenamah is inadmissible, 4081—if the parties refuse to prosecute, the government vakeel should be ordered to conduct the prosecution, id.

The government vakeel should prosecute if the ravished girl is a minor, 4082.

The futwa is only to declare whether the prisoner is legally convicted, or if not whether there is strong presumption against him, 4083—if the rape is attended with robbery, the futwa should state the punishment to which he is liable, 4084.

On conviction of rape what sentence the judge may pass, 4085a.

Conviction may be had although the offence was not complete, 4087.

The consent of a girl eight years old is immaterial, 4088.

Consent obtained by fraud does not absolve, 4089.

On a charge of rape, conviction cannot be had of adultery, 4090.

The evidence of the ravished woman is not alone sufficient for conviction, unless she is old enough to give evidence on oath, or it is strongly corroborated, 4091—case of a deaf and dumb woman, id.

The evidence of four children taken without oath was held insufficient, 4092.

Confession alone was held insufficient, 4093.

Precedents of cases, 4094—attended with homicide, id.—accessaries, id.—by a boy, id.—on a child under four years of age, id.— by a boy 10 years old only on a girl 3 years of age, id.

English law regarding, note after para. 4095.

Adultery, fornication, incest.

A charge of adultery or fornication must be made in the first instance before the magistrate, 352—and magistrate cannot refer it to the police for investigation, 353—nor can police officers take cognizance of such charge, 2259.

A charge of adultery must be preferred by the husband of the adulteress, 4096—whether the charge is against her or the adulterer, 4097—and the complaint of the husband must distinctly specify the charge of adultery, 4098—where the husband brought the charge before the magistrate in the course of a judicial investigation, charge by petition was held unnecessary, 4099—these rules apply to adultery only, 4101.

A charge of adultery will not lie where nika has been performed between the parties after divorce, 4100.

On a charge of adultery the wife's evidence is admissible against the paramour, 4102.

A charge of incest may be prosecuted on the part of government, 4101.

On any trial for zina or fial-i-shania, the futwa is only to declare whether the prisoner is legally convicted; or if not, whether there is strong presumption against him, 4103.

Penalty awarded by sessions court is not to exceed corporal punishment and 7 years' imprisonment, 4104.

An attempt to commit adultery is not punishable, 4105.

Harbouring adulterers is punishable under the Mahomedan law, 4106.

Precedent of trial of adultery, 4107—of incest, id.—of incestuous marriage between Hindus, 4107a.

Sodomy.

The regulations prescribe no specific punishment for, 4108

The judge may award the discretionary punishment within his power, id.

Trial need not be referred unless judge differs from the law officer, or deems the punishment within his power insufficient, id.

Fetters should be adjudged in all such cases, 4109.

In Mahomedan law, it is doubtful whether sodomy is classed with zina and is liable to hudd, 4110—certainly not liable to hudd if committed with a beast, id.

Precedents of trials, 4111.

Mahomedan law of zina.

Term includes adultery, fornication, rape, and incest, 4095.

Crime is the same whether with or without consent, id.

What conditions are necessary to punishment, id.

Evidence of women is inadmissible, id.—there must be four male eye-witnesses, and their probity must be tested, id.

If evidence is incomplete, the witnesses are liable to be punished for slander, id.

A confession is insufficient for conviction unless repeated on four different occasions, id.—and on each occasion before the kazi, id.—and the confession may at any time be retracted, id.—conviction cannot be had partly on confession, partly on evidence, id.

Penalty, if all the conditions are fulfilled, stoning to death; otherwise 100 stripes, and in the case of the man temporary banishment or imprisonment, id.

Harbouring adulterers is punishable, 4106.

Doubtful whether sodomy is liable to hudd, 4110.

FIAL-ZAMIN. See BAD CHARACTER.FILING COIN.

Persons charged with, to be made over to criminal courts, 3247.

Penalty on conviction of, 3254.

FINES.Imposed under a Regulation.

No fines to be imposed except to the use of government, 1342.

A definite period of imprisonment to be fixed as equivalent to the fine, id.—if the regulation is silent as to the mode in which the fine should be levied, 1347.

The imprisonment awarded in lieu by the session judge must be temporary, 1342.

When the futwa is for diyat, except in cases of murder or culpable homicide, the judge is to award imprisonment in lieu thereof, 1343—if the sentence is for life, the trial must be referred, id.

The power of a session judge, in the lower provinces, to fine is unrestricted as to amount, except when a specific regulation defines it, 1344.

The nizamut adawlut may impose fines to any amount, commutable to a definite period of imprisonment, 1345.

The magistrate cannot fix, in lieu of fine, a longer period of imprisonment than he can award under his general powers, 1346.

Imposed under an Act.

If the Act provides no other means for enforcing the payment, the fine is to be levied by distress, 1348—and in default of goods, to be found within the jurisdiction, by imprisonment for not more than 2 months if the fine does not exceed 50 rupees; or 4 months if it does not exceed 100 rupees; or 6 months in other cases, id.

This provision is applicable to cases of fines imposed under an Act, only when no other means of enforcing the payment are provided by such Act, 1349.

Where the Act prescribes a fine and imprisonment, both must be adjudged; and no additional imprisonment can be awarded in lieu of the fine, 1350.

Where the Act does not specify the extreme amount of fine or imprisonment, the magistrate may not award more than 200 rupees or 6 months, 1351.

Proof of the commission of the offence for which the offender is fined must be taken on oath or solemn affirmation, 1352.

In these rules the term "fines" extends to all penalties and forfeitures, and the term "magistrate" to all officers exercising the full powers of a magistrate and to justices of the peace, 1353.

These rules apply to fines imposed under an Act only, and have no reference to the Regulations, 1354.

Miscellaneous rules.

Imposed upon European British subject, how to be levied, 4631.

Imposed by magistrate on witnesses for non-attendance or refusal to give evidence, to be reported to judge, 448.

The imposition of heavy fines upon native servants of government, drawing small allowances, is objectionable, 1355.

The creation of unauthorized funds by means of fines, or deductions from salaries is prohibited, 1356—all sums so accruing to be carried to the credit of government, id.

Form of register of, 1357—separate register of fines under Act XVI. 1850, 4311.

FOREIGNERS and FOREIGN TERRITORIES.

Foreign territories.

Native British subjects cannot divest themselves of the character by residing in a foreign territory, 223.

All subjects of British government are amenable to the law for offences committed in, 212—also, all persons in its service during service and for 6 months afterwards, id.—also all persons who have dwelt for 6 months in the British territories, who are apprehended or delivered to a magistrate therein, id.—the residence need not be for the 6 months immediately preceding, 213—and it is sufficient if he has held property therein and has been in the habit of visiting it without actual residence, id.

Magistrate to report all cases of such persons apprehended for offences in, 214.

Trial for offence committed in, may be ordered by government to be had before one of the established courts, 215—or before any competent court of its own in the foreign territory, 217—special order to be sufficient authority for trial of offence in, 219—but previous sanction of government must be obtained, 231, 248—and must refer to each prisoner, 216—and copy of such sanction, and of magistrate's report must be filed with the record, 220—the same rules apply to trials in the extra-regulation provinces for offences committed in foreign state, 232—precedents, 234, 235.

Forms of warrant and bail-bond for offences committed in, what to contain, 218.

Meaning of the term government, 221—but authority may be delegated, 222.

Offences committed by foreigners in, not cognizable by British courts, 227—and a mere claim to property in British territory without possession does not give jurisdiction, 228.

Commissions for examination of absent witnesses may be executed in, 471.

Foreigners.

Committing offences within the British territories may be tried by the British courts, 224—whether seized illegally within these territories, or given up by a foreign state, id. 225—authority of government not requisite for trial, 226.

FOREIGNERS and FOREIGN TERRITORIES.—Continued.Foreigners.—Continued.

British courts have no jurisdiction over offences committed by, in foreign territories, 227—although the foreigner claims, but has not possession of, land in the British territories, 228—in such cases court how to proceed, 227.

Examples of the liability to British courts of native British subjects and foreigners, 229, 230.

Mahomedan law regarding, 233.

Requisitions for surrender.

Requisitions for surrender made to or by foreign governments should be confined to heinous offenders, and should not be made in the case of debtors, defaulters, and civil and petty offenders, 236.

If requisition be made by any other British government, or by any foreign state, for surrender of person accused of a heinous offence in their territories, government may direct enquiry, 237—such order justifies all acts done in pursuance thereof, id.—such order what to contain, 238—production of order gives jurisdiction, 239.

In such case, after taking sufficient evidence, magistrate may issue warrant, 240—warrant how to be issued, and what to contain, id.—it may be executed in the jurisdiction of any other magistrate, if endorsed by him, 190—but the responsibility for such warrant lies with the magistrate by whom it was issued, and not with the endorsing officer, 191.

The accused on apprehension is to be carried before the magistrate in whose jurisdiction he was arrested, who is to proceed as in offences committed therein, and may commit to jail, or discharge, 241—or hold to bail, 242—bail bond what to contain, id.

If the warrant was issued by order of one government, and executed in a place under another government, the documents are to be forwarded to the latter, 243.

If the accused has been convicted and sentenced by a court in any part of her majesty's dominions, he may be arrested and committed without further proof, 244.

The magistrate apprehending may report to government, if he thinks that the accused should be tried by another magistrate, and government may so order, 245.

Government may direct that copies of depositions or exhibits made or produced in the territory in which the offence was committed, may be received in evidence, 246.

Magistrate to report proceedings to government, 247—who may order the prisoner to be discharged, or held to bail, or surrendered, or if native British subject to be tried by British court, 248.

In the case of surrender prisoner to be delivered up on the frontier, 249—if no one attends to receive surrender, the nearest magistrate may release him, id.

Rule of magistrate's procedure in such cases, 250.

Prisoner so arrested who escapes may be retaken anywhere as if for an offence committed where he is found, 251.

If warrant be issued in any other part of her majesty's dominions, magistrate in India may act on it, but surrender not to be made without order of government, 252.

Magistrate may apprehend any, accused of certain offences, taking refuge in the British territory, 253—but not to deliver them up without order of government, id.—after two months prisoner may claim release, 254—but notice of such application to be sent to government, id.—to what offences these rules apply, 255—and to other offences specified in treaty with such foreign state, 256.

Where there is a treaty, government to issue orders if the case be not provided for by these rules, 257.

Meaning of terms, 258.

License to reside in British territory.

- Government may issue certificate granting all the rights, privileges, and capacities of naturalization, but may except any such, 262.
- Copy of certificate to be filed in appointed office, 263.
- Alphabetical list to be kept of persons naturalized, id.
- If statements of memorial are afterwards shown to be false, government may cancel certificate, 264.
- Fees to be fixed by government, 265.
- In such case, rights, privileges, and capacities, to be the same as those of a natural born subject, unless excepted, 266—but not so as to exclude jurisdiction of mofussil courts, 267.
- Oath must be taken by such person within 60 days, 268—before any magistrate or justice of peace, 269—form of oath, 272—to be sent to government, and certificate to be given to such person, 269—affirmation may be taken instead of oath, 271.
- Meaning of terms, 270.

FORGERY.

- In order to sustain charge of, forged document must be produced, 4520.
- Forged documents not to be returned to parties producing them, 4521.
- Police officers must investigate charge of, under general rules, 2270.

FORGERY.—Continued.

Definitions and conditions.

- What constitutes, 4522—principals and accomplices liable to the same punishment, id.—there must be a fraudulent intention, 4523—for to antedate or postdate a document is not in itself forgery, id.—nor the mere signing another person's name, id.
- The execution of two deeds of sale or lease, how far forgery, 4524.
- Charge of forgery will not sustain conviction of fraud, id.
- There need not be any writing; it is sufficient if the seal be forged, though the paper be blank, 4525.
- The writing a petition under the name of another person may be forgery, 4526.
- The instrument must have the appearance of being genuine, 4527.
- It is no defence that the prosecutor entrapped the prisoner into self-extermination, 4528.
- The magistrate cannot search a house for forged papers on the requisition of the civil court, 4529—but proof so obtained may be taken to establish the forgery of papers voluntarily filed, id.
- Mere possession of a forged bank-note not punishable, 4530.
- Nor mere possession of seals bearing the names of others, 4531.
- Forgery or alteration of lakhiraj grants, 4532.
- Register of deeds to prosecute person counterfeiting or falsifying entry in register books, 4533.
- Putwaree falsifying accounts, or furnishing false copies, guilty of forgery, 4534—but the intent must be proved to be fraudulent, 4535.
- English law regarding, note after para. 4586.

Commitment.

- Accomplice in, may be admitted to give king's evidence, 403.
- Magistrates not to receive charges of forgery, or of knowingly giving effect to false and fabricated papers in cases before other courts, 4536—unless such courts make over the cases to them, 4537—procedure in such cases, id.
- Session judge how to proceed if any witness or party attending the court is guilty of such offence, 4538—he must direct commitment, and cannot declare the party aggrieved at liberty to prosecute in the criminal court, 4539.
- Revenue officers acting judicially are to be guided by the same rules as the civil courts, 4540.
- Act I. 1848 applies only to deeds and papers offered in evidence, 4541—in other cases before civil courts, the judge how to proceed, according to the ruling of the Western court, id.
- The Calcutta court holds that the civil courts cannot interfere when no case is pending, 4542—that magistrates are prohibited from entertaining charges of forgery only when they relate to papers filed in suits pending in other courts, 4543—and that the charge must be preferred to the magistrate on oath, when Act I. 1848 is not applicable (as when a case is made over by collector not acting judicially), 4544—or by the government pleader where government is the party defrauded, 4545.
- Act I. 1848, refers to miscellaneous as well as to regular cases, 4546.
- A case arising out of a fraudulent alteration of a document in the judge's own office held referrible to the magistrate, but not under Act I. 1848, 4547—and where a document was altered in the magistrate's office and a copy of it so altered was filed in the civil court, held that the magistrate could proceed without reference from the court, id.—where a forged document was filed in execution of a decree—the Western court held that the court could not refer the case to magistrate under the Act, 4548—but Calcutta court held differently, 4549—a charge of forging a vakalatnamah in a civil court must be preferred direct to the magistrate, because it is not a paper offered in evidence, 4550.
- Subordinate civil courts should refer direct to the magistrate, 4551—no appeal lies from an order passed by subordinate court under the Act, 4552.

A forgery overlooked in the court in which the paper was filed, may be taken up by another court only when the case comes regularly before it, 4553—a reference by a judge on a charge of forgery in a civil suit pending in the moonsiff's court held bad, 4554.

A case cannot be sent to a magistrate for trial without strong grounds for presuming forgery, 4555.

The civil court may originate the charge and proceed proprio motu, id.

The magistrate cannot prosecute any parties not especially named by the court, 4556—but this ruling is questionable, id.—it is not necessary that the civil court should make them over in custody, id.—the omission of the names of any of the parties cannot be rectified after the disposal of the suit, id.

Not necessary that the original suit should be pending, if it has been transferred to the miscellaneous file, 4557—and sufficient if the enquiry regarding the forgery by the civil court commences while the case is pending, 4558.

Private individual may prosecute for forgery or uttering a forged document, 4559—collector may prosecute on the part of the court of wards, id.—proceedings in such case must be initiated before the magistrate by a written charge supported by oath, 4560.

Whether attesting witnesses to a forged deed may be committed as accomplices in the uttering, 4561.

The magistrate cannot commit on evidence before the civil court, he must proceed by regular inquiry, 4562.

Charges how to be drawn up, 4563—in charges of uttering, the place where the uttering took place must be specified in the charge, 4564.

Conviction of procuring forgery cannot be had on a charge of forgery, 4565.

A case of forgery made over to the magistrate by a civil court not vitiated by reference of charge of perjury at the same time, 4566.

Separate trials must be held when the civil court commits for perjury and the magistrate for forgery in the same case, 4567.

A charge of uttering must contain an averment of fraud, 4573—attempt to register a forged bond in the office of register of deeds held to be punishable as an uttering, 4574—to file a forged document by an agent is to utter it, 4575—uttering is not complete by giving the forged document to an agent, until a fraudulent use has been made or attempted to be made of it by the agent, 4576—to file a forged document before the court of wards is to utter it, 4577.

Penalties.

Sentence, in case of forgery, or procuring forgery, not more than 7 years' and two years' in lieu of stripes in banishment, 4569.

Trial to be referred, if such sentence appear inadequate, 4568b.

Trial to be referred if judge differs from law officer, 4570.

Limit of sentence to be passed by nizamut adawlut, 4571.

Sentence to be passed in case of knowingly and fraudulently uttering forged instruments, not more than 7 years, 4572—and in case of second offence, two years in lieu of stripes, id.—in case of a third conviction, or in any case in which such sentence appears inadequate, trial may be referred, id.

Measurement papers fall within the above rule, 4578.

This rule prescribes no minimum of punishment, 4579.

Sentence of labor is not commutable to fine, 1360—except on conviction of merely issuing forged coin, documents, &c., 1363.

Precedents.

Cases of forged documents, 4580.

FRAUD.

Fraudulently obtaining possession of property is not punishable as theft, 4363—if the magistrate considers such case beyond his general powers, he must commit to the sessions, id.

To institute a false claim in a civil court does not constitute a fraud punishable in a criminal court, 4364.

The execution of two sales of the same estate to several persons, is a fraud, 4365—so, where the second engagement was a fictitious lease from the lessor to himself under another name, 4366.

Conviction of fraud cannot be had on a charge of forgery, 1216, 4365, 4524—but an acquittal on the charge of forgery does not prevent a commitment for fraud, 4365.

Obtaining a frank on a false pretence, 4367.

The using false weights and measures is a misdemeanor, 4368.

False personation, as a fraud, 4369—and amounting to perjury, 4518.

Obtaining food from villagers under false pretences, 4370.

Mokhtar attesting a confession with a false signature, 4371.

Selling counterfeit coin for bullion is punishable as a fraud, 3256.

FUTWA.

Law officer to be present during the whole of a trial in the sessions court, 1212—and to write his futwa after all the evidence for the prosecution and defence has been heard. id.—it is to be attested with his seal and signature, id.

Further evidence for the prosecution cannot be taken after the futwa is recorded, 1200—the nizamut adawlut admitted further evidence, after the reference of the case, by cancelling the futwa, 1202.

In trials completed without reference, copies of futwas are to be forwarded monthly to the nizamut adawlut, 1234—copies to be written on English foolscap paper, 1235.

Government may order the trial to be held without the attendance or futwa of the law officer, 1236—judge may, without the order of government, dispense with the futwa and appoint a panchayat, assessors, or a jury, 1241. See SESSIONS.

No futwa is to be taken on a trial for having belonged to a gang of thugs, 4014—but the judge cannot dispense with the futwa on the trial of a prisoner charged with specific acts of murder and thuggee, 4015—as to trial for receiving property obtained by thuggee, 4267.

No futwa can be taken on a trial for dacoity, or for belonging to a gang of dacoits, or for receiving property plundered in dacoity, 4133—but on a trial for going forth with a gang to commit dacoity, the futwa of the law officer, or the verdict of a jury or assessors, cannot be dispensed with, 4134.

FUTWA.—Continued.

- No futwa can be taken on a trial for belonging to any wandering gang of persons associated for the purposes of theft or robbery, not being thugs or dacoits, or for receiving property stolen or plundered by such gang, 4209.
- If a case is tried without the aid of the law officer or assessors, the judge is to note the Regulation or Act under which the trial is held, 1240.
- A prisoner, not a Mahomedan, may claim to be exempted from trial under the provisions of the Mahomedan code; and in that case a futwa is not to be taken, 1244.
- Trials involving religious prejudices to be tried by a jury, 1245.
- Case begun with law officer cannot be continued with assessors, 1248.
- A futwa can be required on any point of Mahomedan law without the attendance of the law officer on the trial, 1245, 1262.
- In the absence of a specific enactment, the magistrate should take a futwa from the law officer, and proceed in conformity with his exposition of Mahomedan law, 1263.
- The magistrate should not communicate with the law officer regarding futwas delivered in the sessions court, 1264.
- Questions of law arising during the trial are to be referred to the law officer, 1296—judge how to proceed if he differs from the exposition of the law so given, id.
- Law officer to be careful to specify the crime established against the prisoner; and to make use of the proper term appropriated to such offence by Mahomedan law or usage, 1265.
- The judge should require a specific statement in the futwa of the nature and degree of presumption established, 1266.
- A futwa convicting on strong presumption is a futwa of conviction, 1267—and the judge is to proceed on such futwa as if the crime were established by direct evidence, id.
- Law officer may not refer in futwa to matters having no connection with Mahomedan law, 1268—but may define the different degrees of guilt of the prisoners; and the mode of punishment prescribed by Mahomedan law, 1269.
- A futwa of death by seasat cannot be pronounced on any but a murderer, 1271.
- On trials for murder the futwa is to be given according to the doctrines of Yoosuf and Mahomed, 1270.
- If the evidence is deemed incompetent by the Mahomedan law solely on account of the religious persuasion of the witnesses, the law officer is to declare what his futwa would have been, supposing such witnesses had been Mahomedans, 623, 1297—so, if the evidence is held incompetent on the ground of the witness being an officer of government, or any other ground in the Mahomedan rules of evidence which appears to the judge unreasonable and insufficient, 624, 1298—as in the case of two female witnesses, 625, 1299.
- If the prisoner is liable to discretionary punishment, the futwa is to declare the same generally with the grounds of conviction, leaving the measure of punishment to the judge, 1307.
- If a crime has not been specifically provided for by any regulation, but is such as subjects the prisoner to hudd or kisas if convicted on full legal evidence, and the futwa declares him, in default of such evidence, liable to discretionary punishment on strong presumption, the judge is to require the law officer to declare in a second futwa the specific punishment to which he would be liable if convicted by full legal evidence, 1309—so, if hudd and kisas are barred by a legal exception, not affecting the nature of the offence, and repugnant to the principles of equal justice, 1310.
- In a case of wounding with intent to murder, the futwa is to declare whether the intention to commit murder be established, 3866.
- In the case of a person intending to wound one individual, and accidentally wounding another, the futwa is to declare the punishment to which he would have been liable, if he had committed the act of which he is convicted upon the person intended, to have been wounded, 3863—so, in the nizamat adawlut, 3864.

FUTWA.—Continued.

- What futwas are to be taken in trials for murder, 3903—the first futwa stating concisely whether the charge is proved or not, the second declaring to what punishment the prisoner is liable, supposing the heirs of the slain to be of an age to demand kisas and to have demanded it, 3903, 3909—so, in the nizamat adawlut, 3910—in case of erroneous homicide, 3915—in case of accidental homicide, 3916.
- What futwa is to be given in a case of rape, 4083—adultery, fornication, or incest, 4103.
- In case of supervening insanity subsequent to perpetration of crime and prior to conviction, what futwa to be given, 110.
- When sentence of conviction is passed by the sessions court or nizamat adawlut, copy of the futwa in such court is to be sent to the magistrate, 1272.
- Copy of futwa of law officers of the nizamat adawlut is to be sent to the law officer of the sessions court in trials referred, 1273.
- For futwas in nizamat adawlut, see NIZAMUT ADAWLUT.

HOMICIDE AND MURDER.

Magistrates sending bodies to civil surgeon for examination are to furnish him with all available information regarding the alleged cause of death, 3902—form of letter, 3902a.

See POLICE DUTIES inquests.

Murder is not a bailable offence, 1619—but this does not apply to homicide, 1629—if the charge is for any species of illegal homicide, not involving murder, the magistrate may proceed by warrant or summons requiring bail, id.—and if the evidence does not establish murder, but proves culpable homicide, the prisoner is to be held to bail, id.—magistrate may release if the homicide is shown to have been accidental or justifiable, id.

Mode of proceeding on trial in sessions court, 3903—the law officer is first to state concisely whether the prisoner is guilty, and is afterwards to be called on for his general futwa, 3909.

If the law officer acquits, and the judge concurs, the prisoner is to be discharged, 3903.

If the law officer convicts of wilful murder, the trial must be referred, 3903.

In cases of wounding, manifesting a deliberate intention to commit murder, the prisoner is to be committed on that specific charge, 3865—in such trials the futwa is to declare whether the intention to commit murder is established, 3866—if the futwa finds such intent, the judge concurring may pass sentence not exceeding 14 years' imprisonment, 3867—if judge dissent from law officer in regard to the intent, he may refer the trial, 3868—or if the sentence within his competence is inadequate, 3869.

If the law officer convicts of culpable homicide, and declares the prisoner liable to diyat, it is to be commuted to imprisonment, 3903—not exceeding 7 years, 3907—additional imprisonment cannot be adjudged in lieu of corporal punishment, 3908—if the sentence passed is for imprisonment for life, the trial is to be referred, 3903—so, if the judge disapproves of the futwa, id.

In a case of justifiable homicide, it is no ground of reference that the prisoner secretly made away with the body, 3904.

The trial must be referred as to any of the participes criminis, 3905.

Session judge cannot sentence accessory after murder; but magistrate may punish for privity, 3906.

How the law officers of the nizamut adawlut are to deliver their futwa, 3910.

The nizamut adawlut are to call for further evidence or to pass final sentence, 3910—if in any case not provided for in the regulations, the Mahomedan law appears repugnant to natural justice, it is to be adhered to if in favor of the prisoner, or modified if against him, id.

A second futwa unnecessary if the first convicts on violent presumption, 3911.

Futwas to be delivered according to the doctrines of Yoosuf and Mahomed, 3912—the intention of the criminal and not the manner or instrument of perpetration (except as evidence of the intent) is to be the rule for determining the punishment, id.

Homicide in resistance of legal authority is murder, 3913.

The homicide of a police officer is presumed to be malicious, and an act of murder, 3193a—but when the police officer has no right to arrest, he is not protected, and may be resisted as a private individual, id.

It is culpable homicide, if there is sufficient provocation, but the fatal stroke must be traced to such provocation, 3913b.

Persons convicted of wilful murder by poison or by drowning are liable to a sentence of death, 3912.

When death is caused by violence, the commitment must be for murder, 3914.

The finding of the body is not indispensably necessary to warrant a capital sentence, 3914a—but in such cases an irrevocable sentence is not usually passed, 3980.

Erroneous homicide subjects to punishment of murder, 3915—courts how to proceed in such cases, id.—so, in all cases of

- accidental homicide, wherein the criminal intention of the party, if carried into execution, would subject him to a sentence of death, 3916—sentence of diyat in such cases is not commutable to imprisonment, 3917.
- Homicide by misadventure in the prosecution of a lawful act and without malignant intention subjects to no punishment, 3917.
- Want of due caution is not simple misadventure, 3918.
- If the magistrate is proved to have been accidental or justifiable, the magistrate is to release the accused, 3919—he should apply to the law officer, if in doubt as to the law, 3920.
- Persons engaged in a felonious act terminating in homicide, are accomplices in murder, 3921.
- If a person whose cattle are trespassing on the crops of another is killed by the owner of the crops, it is culpable homicide by Mahomedan law, 3922.
- Where wounds but for bad health would not have proved fatal, the person who inflicted them was held guilty of culpable homicide, 3923.
- Homicide of murderers, robbers, or thieves, in self-defence or defence of property, is justifiable, 3924—the plea of excusable homicide in self-defence must be supported by evidence to prove that the exercise of the right of defence was necessary, 3925a.
- Police officers wounding or slaying heinous offenders, when to be held guiltless, 3925.
- No regard is to be had to the grounds of relationship between the prisoner and the slain, or other grounds of personal distinction or exception to the general rules of natural justice, held by the Mahomedan law, 3926.
- The evidence of eye-witnesses is not necessary to a conviction of wilful murder, 3926a.
- The desire of the party slain to be put to death is no justification of wilful homicide, 3927—so, a Hindu is liable for aiding and abetting in the suicide of a leper, 3928.
- Attempt at suicide is punishable by the magistrate as well as by the judge, 3929.
- Duelling by Mahomedan law is not punishable as murder, 3930—but this distinction is not allowed, 3927—complaint by a private prosecutor is not requisite, 3930.
- Regard is not to be had to the justificatory plea of fornication on the part of, or with, the mistress or relation of the accused, 3931.
- If the fatwa convicting of wilful murder exempts the prisoner from sentence of death, on the ground of one or more of his accomplices being exempted from death under any of the circumstances recited above, or similar grounds of exemption, sentence of death may be passed notwithstanding, 3932.
- Accomplices as well as principals may be sentenced to death, 3932.
- Administering poison with intent to murder, death not ensuing, how punishable, 3933.
- Note on English law, after para. 4002.

Special cases.

- Punishment for putting persons to death on the ground of sorcery, 3934.
- Persons holding an assembly to try any person on a charge of witchcraft, or any other charge, if any person is in consequence put to death, are guilty of murder, 3934.
- Persons sacrificing infants or persons not arrived at the age of maturity by throwing them into the sea or any river, are guilty of murder, 3935—if the infant or other person is rescued, the criminals are to be held guilty of a high misdemeanor, and are liable to discretionary punishment by the sessions court, 3936—magistrates to be vigilant to prevent these practices, 3937.
- Rajkumar causing the death of his female child by prohibiting its receiving nourishment or in any other manner, to be tried as for murder, 3938—magistrate how to proceed in such case, id.

- Persons putting their children to death from an impulse of passion, in revenge for an insult or injury offered to them by another person, under an idea that the guilt would lie on the head of the person offering the insult or injury, are punishable by death, 3939.
- Death of a child by negligence of person in charge of it, subjects to diyat, 3940.
- Brahmins convicted of murder are not exempted from death, 3950.
- Brahmin establishing a kurh, or making preparations to main, wound, or slaughter his women, or children, on account of any subject of discontent, or other account.*
- Written notice to be served on him by means of his relations or by a single peon of the same religion, 3941.
- If such notice has not the desired effect, a warrant is to be issued for his apprehension by means of Mussulman peons, id.

- Any difference of opinion between the magistrate and the surgeon to be referred to the session judge, 3026.
- Superintending surgeons to make regular visits; to control the practice of the surgeon; to see that male and female patients are separated; that frequent recourse is had to baths; that patients are not placed under undue restraint, 3027—to attend particularly to the diet and clothing of patients, to the cleanliness of the hospital, and the behaviour of the keepers, 3028.
- Surgeon to visit morning and evening, and whenever necessary; and during each visit to see every patient, 3029.
- Monthly return to be furnished by surgeon to magistrate, 3030—and to superintending surgeon, id.
- Hospital registers and medical diaries to be kept up; and to be open to inspection by the magistrate, judge, and superintending surgeon, 3031.
- Diet, clothing, and all other necessaries, except wine and European medicines, to be supplied by native sirkars under the authority of the magistrate, 3032—clothing, bedding, &c., to be of the same description as that used by the patients in ordinary life, 3033—a sufficient stock of every article to be kept on hand, id.—when fresh supplies are required, the surgeon is to indent on the magistrate, 3034.
- Diet to be provided by native purveyors under the inspection of the surgeon, 3035—quality and quantity of food left to the discretion of the surgeon, 3036—generally to approximate to the best sorts of the food used by the patients in ordinary life, id.—surgeon to sign a monthly voucher for articles received from the purveyor, 3037—wine used to be Madeira, and to be supplied by the commissariat department on the indent of the surgeon and magistrate, 3038.
- European medicines and apothecaries' utensils to be supplied through the medical board, 3039.

- accidental homicide, wherein the criminal intention of the party, if carried into execution, would subject him to a sentence of death, 3916—sentence of diyat in such cases is not commutable to imprisonment, 3917.
- Homicide by misadventure in the prosecution of a lawful act and without malignant intention subjects to no punishment, 3917.
- Want of due caution is not simple misadventure, 3918.
- If the homicide is proved to have been accidental or justifiable, the magistrate is to release the accused, 3919—he should apply to the law officer, if in doubt as to the law, 3920.
- Persons engaged in a felonious act terminating in homicide, are accomplices in murder, 3921.
- If a person whose cattle are trespassing on the crops of another is killed by the owner of the crops, it is culpable homicide by Mahomedan law, 3922.
- Where wounds but for bad health would not have proved fatal, the person who inflicted them was held guilty of culpable homicide, 3923.
- Homicide of murderers, robbers, or thieves, in self-defence or defence of property, is justifiable, 3924—the plea of excusable homicide in self-defence must be supported by evidence to prove that the exercise of the right of defence was necessary, 3925a.
- Police officers wounding or slaying heinous offenders, when to be held guiltless, 3925.
- No regard is to be had to the grounds of relationship between the prisoner and the slain, or other grounds of personal distinction or exception to the general rules of natural justice, held by the Mahomedan law, 3926.
- The evidence of eye-witnesses is not necessary to a conviction of wilful murder, 3926a.
- The desire of the party slain to be put to death is no justification of wilful homicide, 3927—so, a Hindu is liable for aiding and abetting in the suicide of a leper, 3928.
- Attempt at suicide is punishable by the magistrate as well as by the judge, 3929.
- Duelling by Mahomedan law is not punishable as murder, 3930—but this distinction is not allowed, 3927—complaint by a private prosecutor is not requisite, 3930.
- Regard is not to be had to the justificatory plea of fornication on the part of, or with, the mistress or relation of the accused, 3931.
- If the fatwa convicting of wilful murder exempts the prisoner from sentence of death, on the ground of one or more of his accomplices being exempted from death under any of the circumstances recited above, or similar grounds of exemption, sentence of death may be passed notwithstanding, 3932.
- Accomplices as well as principals may be sentenced to death, 3932.
- Administering poison with intent to murder, death not ensuing, how punishable, 3933.

JURY.

Session judge may avail himself of the assistance of natives as a jury, 1241.

Duty of, id.

In such cases futwa need not be taken, id.—but the trial must be referred, if the crime is not specifically within the judge's competence, id.—or has not been declared in a precedent of the nizamat adawlut to be a penal offence, 1241*a*—explanation of this rule as regards the condition of reference, 1243.

In such cases the decision is vested exclusively in the judge if within his competence, 1242—the trial need not be referred because judge differs from jury, 1247.

Any person, not a Mahomedan, may claim to be tried by, 1244.

Trials involving religious prejudices to be tried by, if possible, 1245.

A written proceeding must be filed with the record stating the clause of the law under which jurors are appointed, 1246.

If a trial has commenced with law officer, the judge cannot call in a jury, 1248.

In a postponed case if the jurors cannot be re-assembled, new jurors are to be appointed, 1249—but they must hear and decide on the whole case ab initio, 1250.

The services of natives in such capacity cannot be compelled, 1251—officers attached to the court should be invited to act, id. East Indians, who are not British subjects, may serve as jurors, 1252.

From what classes jurors ought to be selected, 1252.

JUSTIFIABLE HOMICIDE.

If homicide is proved to be justifiable, the magistrate is to release the accused, 1629, 3919—he should apply to the law officer if in doubt as to the law, 3920.

Homicide of murderers, robbers, or thieves, in self-defence or defence of property, is justifiable, 3924—but the plea of self defence must be supported by evidence to prove that the exercise of the right of defence was necessary, 3925*a*.

Police officers wounding or slaying heinous offenders, when to be held guiltless, 3925.

No justification on the grounds of relationship between the prisoner and the slain, or other grounds of personal distinction or exception to the general rules of natural justice held by the Mahomedan law, 3926.

No justification in the desire of the party slain to be put to death, 3927—as in the case of aiding and abetting in the suicide of a leper, 3928—or a duel, 3930.

No justification in the plea of fornication on the part of, or with the mistress or relation of, the accused, 3931.

Sentence of death may be passed notwithstanding futwa of exemption on any such grounds, 3932.

In such case it is no ground of reference that the prisoner secretly made away with the body, 3904.

LABOR AND IRONS.

Unless the award of labor is specially prohibited, it may in all cases be included as a portion of the sentence, 1358—and in passing sentence officers are invariably to record whether the imprisonment is to be with or without labor, 1358—if not included in the sentence it cannot form part of the punishment, id. Rules for commuting labor by fine do not restrict the power to award labor, 1359.

In sentences of imprisonment for less than 5 years, the labor must be commuted to fine, 1360—except in cases of murder dacoity, highway-robbery, burglary, theft, receiving stolen or plundered property, forgery, perjury, arson, rape, or attempts to commit such, id.

When labor is commutable, irons cannot be adjudged, id.

A reasonable time must be allowed for the payment of the fine, id.

The courts may always exempt from labor and irons, id.

If the sentence is for 5 years or upwards, the labor is not commutable, 1361.

Whenever labor is imposed it must be made commutable to fine in all cases in which commutation is required by law, 1362.

On conviction of issuing forged coin, documents, &c. labor is commutable to fine, 1363—so, in cases of guilty possession of stolen goods, 1365—so, in additional imprisonment for escaping from jail, 1368—so, in cases of privy to burglary, 1366—

but not in cases of wounding with intent to murder, 1364—nor in the case of accessories before or after the fact, 1367.

The same rules apply in the case of additional imprisonment in lieu of fine, 1369—if labor is not adjudged in the first division of the sentence, it ought not to be in the second, id.

Law officers &c. may award labor in cases of petty theft, 816.

Prisoners exempted from labor to be kept separate from the other convicts, 1370.

Prisoners not sentenced to labor without the jail cannot be allowed to work on the roads at their own request, 1371.

The above rules are equally applicable to persons convicted by the magistrate and by his subordinates, 1372.

Magistrates are not precluded by those rules from putting fetters on refractory prisoners; nor from sentencing to labor a non-laboring prisoner who has escaped, 1372.

Session judge may always order exemption from labor in passing sentence, 1373.

When specific orders for the imposition of fetters are not passed by the sudder or sessions court, the magistrate may use his discretion, 1374—so, in the case of prisoners under sentence of court martial, 1375—if the sentence make no mention of either labor or irons, they should be imposed only as a punishment for breach of discipline, 1376.

Labor is not to be imposed on persons unfitted for it by previous habits or the nature of their offence, 1377.

Fetters should not be imposed in cases of misdemeanor, 1377.

LAND, ACQUISITION OF, FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES.

Land may be taken by government at the public expense for a public purpose after declaration made that it is required for such purpose, 3130—declaration by whom to be made, id.

After declaration the collector of the district or some officer specially appointed in that behalf to take order for the acquisition of the land, 3131—the collector or other officer to cause the land to be marked out and measured, and a plan to be made of it, to publish a notice and to give notice to the occupier of and all persons interested or believed to be interested in the land or acting as agents for persons so interested, 3132—notice what to contain, id.

LAND, ACQUISITION OF, FOR PUBLIC PURPOSES.—Continued.

On the day fixed in the notice the collector or other officer to enquire into the value of the land and the amount of compensation to be awarded; and, if all the persons interested who have attended upon the notice agree in its apportionment, to specify the apportionment, 3133—the award to be final in regard to the value of the land and the amount of compensation; and also in regard to the apportionment among persons who have agreed thereto, id.—enquiry may be postponed in the absence of claimant or for other reason, id.

If no claimant attends, or if the collector or other officer is unable to agree with the persons interested who have attended on notice, as to the amount of compensation, the matter to be referred to arbitration, 3134—who shall be deemed to be interested in the land in cases of conflicting claims, 3135.

After the award by the collector or other officer or a reference to arbitration, he may take possession of the land, and it becomes vested absolutely in the government, 3136.

The magistrate may enforce a surrender of the land, 3137.

When a case is referred to arbitration the collector or other officer and the person interested, are each to appoint an arbitrator unless they concur in appointing one, 3138—if there are several persons jointly interested and they cannot agree in the appointment of an arbitrator, such disagreement is to be deemed a refusal to appoint, id.

Mode of proceeding where there are several persons having distinct interests in the land who cannot agree in the appointment of an arbitrator on their behalf, 3139.

The appointment to be in writing, and not to be revocable by either party without the consent of the other, 3140.

If no claimant attends, or if no arbitrator is appointed by the persons interested, the arbitrator appointed by the collector or other officer is to proceed to arbitrate, 3141—provided that the person appointed is not an officer of government, id.

When more than one arbitrator is appointed, before entering on the matter referred the arbitrators are to appoint a third person to act with them as arbitrator, 3142—and, in case of their neglect for more than a week to appoint, the collector or other officer is to appoint a third arbitrator, id.

If a person appointed refuse or become incapable of acting, another to be appointed and how, 3143.

The arbitrators may by consent, on the requisition of the collector or other officer, determine the proportions in which the amount of the compensation is to be shared, 3144.

After compensation has been agreed upon or awarded, if any dispute arise as to apportionment of the compensation, the collector or other officer with the written consent of all persons interested may refer the matter to arbitration, 3145—if the parties cannot agree with respect to the appointment of the arbitrator, or if the persons nominated refuse to act, and the parties are desirous that the collector or other officer should appoint, he may do so, id.

What powers the collector or other officer may exercise for securing the attendance of the arbitrators and the completion of the award, 3146.

If no award should be made within a period to be fixed by the collector, another arbitrator or arbitrators may be chosen, 3147.

Collector or other officer to furnish information to the arbitrators, and to enforce the attendance and examination of witnesses &c., 3148.

Witnesses to be examined upon oath or affirmation before the arbitrators, 3149.

Award of the arbitrators what to specify, 3150.

Remuneration of arbitrators, 3151—award to declare the costs and by whom payable; costs to be charged to the government unless the arbitrators award the same or a less sum than shall have been offered by the collector, 3152.

Proceedings of the arbitration to be deposited in the collector's office, 3153.

Compensation for land taken to include damage sustained by any person interested therein by reason of injury to adjoining land,

3154—if any compensation beyond the value of the land be awarded on account of damage which may be sustained by any person interested in the land, the award what to specify, 3155.

Mode of proceeding where land paying revenue to government is taken, 3156.

Amount of compensation, when and how to be paid, 3157—rate of interest calculated from what date, id.

Payment of compensation to whom to be made, 3158.

In what cases payment of compensation may be deferred, 3159—amount to be held in deposit until an order of court is obtained for payment thereof, id.

If the land be within the local jurisdiction of any of the supreme courts and the amount of compensation does not exceed rupees 500, the order may be made by a court of small causes, 3160—award how reversed or altered, 3161—if reversed, the matter to be again referred, id.—all suits to set aside an award under this Act to be instituted within 3 months from the date of the award, id.

A part of a house or building not to be taken if the owner desire the whole to be taken, 3162.

When land is needed for a road, canal &c. sufficient to declare the general direction of the line, 3163.

After declaration persons authorized may enter on the land and make a survey, 3164—the line of road may be marked out, and land cleared, id.—but no house or enclosed garden to be entered without previous notice to the occupier, id.—notice to be given how long before entry—id.

Account to be taken of all necessary damage done and payment to be offered, 3165—if not accepted the damage to be allowed for in the compensation offered, id.

Penalty for wilfully obstructing any person in lawfully setting out the line of any road, canal, or railway, 3166.

In the case of any road, canal, or railway and other works, the temporary occupation of any land not more than one hundred yards from the centre of the line is authorized; compensation for temporary occupation and for any permanent damage to be ascertained in the same manner as compensation for land permanently taken, 3167.

Conduct of cases by, and general mode of procedure.

See COMPLAINTS, COMMITMENTS, JURISDICTION, WITNESSES, &c.

Powers.

Primary powers in petty cases of assault, &c. extend to imprisonment for 15 days, or a fine of 50 rupees, 703—in certain cases the fine may extend to 200 rupees, id.—in petty cases of theft, to stripes or imprisonment for one month, 704, 4193—and if the offender is not above 18 years of age, the magistrate must award stripes instead of imprisonment, 4194, 4195.

It rests with the magistrate to determine what is a petty offence, 710, 1794.

In all cases punishable under the Mahomedan law and the regulations, if the above mentioned penalties are insufficient, and commitment to sessions is unnecessary, and if a more severe punishment has not been specifically prescribed,—powers extend to 6 months' imprisonment with a fine of 200 rupees, commutable to other 6 months', 705—in cases of theft to 6 months' imprisonment and stripes, id.—or imprisonment for one year in lieu of stripes, 706.

In addition to such sentences he may require security to keep the peace, 707.

Extend to imprisonment for 2 years and one year in lieu of labor, in certain aggravated cases of theft, 4185—and in unaggravated cases of burglary, 4246—and in certain cases of receipt of stolen property, 4275.

In certain cases of affray, extend to imprisonment for one year and a fine of 200 rupees, commutable to further imprisonment for one year, 3756.

When the magistrate imposes fines, the imprisonment fixed as equivalent to the fine is not to exceed the period which he can award under his general powers, 1346—if a regulation is silent as to the mode of levying a fine, it is commutable to imprisonment, 1347—if an Act is silent in such respect, it is to be levied by distress, and in default of chattels by imprisonment in a certain ratio, 1348—the fine is never to exceed 200 rupees or the imprisonment to exceed 6 months, 1351—and evidence of the commission of the offence is to be taken on oath, 1352. See FINES.

If the magistrate awards an additional period of imprisonment in lieu of fine, he may also award labor therein as in the first period, 708—if labor is not awarded for the first period, it should not be awarded in the second, id.

If he deems the sentence within his competency insufficient, he should commit to the sessions, 709.

Conviction by a magistrate on a trial in which he is authorized to pass sentence, cannot be considered a conviction without trial, 711.

If no punishment is specified for an act, which is declared by the regulations to be an offence, magistrate may punish as for a misdemeanor, 712.

Defendant must appear in person to receive sentence, 713.

If the magistrate is doubtful as to the law, he should apply to the law officer for assistance, 714—or to the legal remembrancer, 715.

If he passes sentence beyond his competency, the nizamat adawlut will quash the proceedings, 716.

If he does not exceed his competency, he may punish without reference to the sessions court, 717.

Magistrate has no power to punish a prisoner, acquitted by the sessions court, for a minor offence included in the charge on which he has been acquitted, 718.

For powers in particular cases, see the respective headings, passim.

Duties of magistrate and collector vested in one person.

Government may vest a collector with the powers of a magistrate, or a magistrate with the powers of a collector, 719.

What oath to be taken in such case, 720.

To be guided by the same regulations, and to be subordinate to the same superior courts as the magistrate, id.

The records of the judicial and revenue offices to be kept distinct and separate, id.

The head of the office is to retain the chief control of every part of his duties, limiting himself to matters of real importance, and leaving the details to his subordinates, 721—no excuse for mal-administration that criminal duties were made over to joint-magistrate, 1878.

Not to hold cutcherry in both departments at the same time, 721.

In such cases, only such of the duties of a magistrate can be delegated to the collector's assistant as are vested by the regulations in the assistant to the magistrate, 722—but responsibility of the whole to rest with the head of the office, 723.

Independent joint-magistracy created.

Government to decide how and where the sessions are to be held, 724—notice of such determination to be given to nizamat adawlut, id.

Personal liability to civil court.

No action for wrong or injury will lie in the supreme court against any person exercising a judicial office in the country courts for any judgment, decree, or order of the court, 1541—nor against any person for any act done by or in virtue of the order of the said court, id.

This rule protects magistrate from actions for things done within his jurisdiction, though erroneously or irregularly done ; but leaves him liable for things done wholly without jurisdiction, 1542.

Protection not confined to acts done during the sitting of the court but extended to all acts of a judicial nature, provided there be jurisdiction, 1543.

Magistrate not liable for want of jurisdiction unless he knew of, or had the means of knowing of, the defect, 1544.

MAGISTRATE.—Continued.

How far protection is extended to judicial officers against actions for libel or slander, arising from imputations made in judicial proceedings, 1548—as reports of trials, id.

No rule or other process to be made on information against such officer, until notice be given to him a certain period before the suing out or serving the same, 1549.

No magistrate is liable in such case to arrest, or to give bail, until he has declined to appear in person or by attorney, 1550.

Not liable to prosecution in the mofussil civil courts for damages for acts done in official capacity, 1551.

Whether parties aggrieved by order of magistrate can obtain redress in mofussil civil court, 1552.

Report to be made on the institution of any action against an officer of government for acts done in the discharge of his public duty, 1553—how far government will bear the expenses of such actions, id.

Requiring the aid of the military.

Applications for detachments of troops to be made to the commanding officer with a statement in writing of the service required to be performed, 725—leaving it to the commanding officer to determine what strength of force should be employed, id.

The commanding officer must immediately furnish the necessary military aid, 726—the allotment of the force rests with him, id.—but the responsibility of calling in the aid of the military rests with the civil magistrate, id.

Such requisitions to be made only in cases of absolute necessity, id.

Magistrate to make a full and distinct report of the circumstances to government, 726, 727—and to send copies to the superintendent of police and the session judge, 727—the judge will forward it to the nizamat adawlut with his sentiments, but will not issue orders to the magistrate, id.

The commanding officer furnishing the detachment is to transmit the necessary reports to the commander-in-chief, 728.

Military guards.

Applications for permanent guards to be made to commanding officer with a statement of the service necessary to be performed, 729—who is at liberty to suspend compliance with the application, and to refer to the commander-in-chief, id.

MILITARY CANTONMENTS.

Limits and extent of, 273.

Persons trading for supply of troops in station bazars and bazars of corps to be registered, with their own consent, 273.

No one to be dispossessed of lands or houses in, by commanding officer, although he refuse to be registered or be discharged from the registry, id.

Magistrate not to pull down houses, or eject their possessors in, on the requisition of the commanding officer, 274.

Officers commanding can alone dispose of land belonging to government in, 275.

The superintendence of the police in cantonments and military bazars is vested in commanding officer, 276—so, in bazars of corps as regards persons registered therein, and bonâ fide carrying on occupation in respect of which they are registered, 277.

All persons serving with any part of the army and receiving pay in a public department appertaining thereto, if borne upon the fixed establishment, are subject to local regulations of cantonments, &c. and liable to court martial for breach thereof, and for other offences, 278—so, menial servants of officers, 279—so, persons registered as attached to station bazars or bazars of corps, 280.

Offences committed within cantonments.

Retainers of army, menial servants of officers, and persons registered in bazars, liable to native court martial for petty assaults, &c, 281.

So, if charged with thefts unattended with violence and not exceeding 100 rupees, committed within limits of cantonment or bazar, 282.

Any other person committing such offence to be made over to magistrate, 283.

In the case of all other crimes the offenders, if not liable to court martial, to be arrested by commanding officer, if found within the limits, and made over to magistrate, 284.

Same rules apply to persons attached to bazars of corps; but if petty offence is committed above one coss from the station of the corps or its position on a march, and the offender is taken in the fact, the magistrate has a concurrent jurisdiction, 285.

Limits of military and civil jurisdiction.

The military authority in cantonments extends only to petty offences committed within the limits of a cantonment by a retainer of the army, the servant of an officer, or a person registered as attached to a bazar, 286—more grievous offences are cognizable only by magistrate, id.—precedent, 287.

In places within civil jurisdiction, native officers and soldiers accused of offences not military to be delivered over to magistrate, 288—and all officers and soldiers to assist in their apprehension, id.

Military guards in charge of prisoners in civil jurisdiction, if guilty of neglect, or connivance at escape, or other breach of duty, to be made over by magistrate to commanding officers to be tried by court martial, 289—so, for any other offence involving breach of military duty and cognizable by courts martial, but this does not apply to criminal charges not involving a breach of military duty, 290.

When the commanding officer has to make over the case to the magistrate, he cannot take the information of the prosecutor and witnesses on oath, 291—but he can administer any oath which a justice of the peace is competent to administer, 508.

Jurisdiction of magistrate in cantonments.

A charge against a resident in a cantonment or military bazar may be preferred directly to the magistrate, if the accused has not been already apprehended by the police thereof, or if the charge is not within military jurisdiction, 292.

In such cases the magistrate has power to serve processes in the cantonments or military bazars; and commanding officers are bound to aid them, whether with or without application, 293.

Processes of arrest, criminal or civil, to be executed within such limits are to be taken to the commanding officer to be endorsed, and for aid, 294—but this does not apply to any process of citation without arrest, id.

Cantonment joint magistrate.

Duties of, as judicial officer, 926, 927, 930, 931.

MILITARY COURTS.

In English law, limits of jurisdiction of, 329*n*.

Witness refusing to be sworn before a court martial for the trial of European British subjects, to be made over to magistrate, 310.

Witness (not amenable to articles of war for native army) refusing or neglecting to attend, or refusing to be sworn, or committing perjury or subornation thereof, to be made over to magistrate, 311—so, before a court of requests for the native army, 312.

MILITARY COURTS.—Continued.

A military court of inquiry has no power to administer an oath, 509—nor can a commanding officer, when he has to make over the case to the magistrate, 291—but he can administer any oath which a justice of the peace can administer, 508.

Any person (not amenable to articles of war for native army) guilty of contempt of court martial held on a native officer or soldier, to be made over to magistrate, 313—so, in a court of requests for the native army, 314.

Magistrate to give effect to sentence of general court martial adjudging imprisonment with labor among the convicts of the civil power, 315—so, when the sentence of a court martial adjudges imprisonment or imprisonment with labor, 316—so, if court martial adjudges imprisonment with labor or with solitary confinement, or both, 317—but not to act without warrant of commitment, 318.

A person once tried by court martial cannot be tried on the same charge in any other court whatever, 319.

When native soldiers and camp-followers are made over to the civil authorities to undergo sentences of imprisonment adjudged against them by courts martial; and no specific order is passed regarding the imposition of fetters, magistrate may use discretion, 1375.

Trial of European British subjects attached to the army.

If serving with troops beyond the territories subject to the presidency of Fort William, or more than 120 miles from the presidency, and apprehended by or brought before a magistrate on a criminal charge, he is to be made over to his commanding officer, or to the commanding officer of the nearest military station, 324.

Magistrate on written application is to assist in apprehending any such person charged with a criminal offence, 325.

Processes issued by courts martial assembled for trial of such persons to be enforced by magistrate in civil jurisdiction, 326.

Magistrate not to receive or enquire into charges against such persons unless the military authorities neglect to bring them to trial, in which case he is to report to government, 327.

These rules do not apply to European British subjects not attached to the army, 328—nor to offences committed by persons attached to the army within 120 miles of the presidency, 329.

MILITARY DRESS.

No person is allowed to dress his servants in the uniform of sepoys, 2371.

No person is allowed to wear such dress, 2372.

Civil authorities are not to clothe their servants in such dress, 2373.

Sepoys are not to wear their uniform while absent from their corps, unless on public service, 2374.

Persons disobeying these orders to be deprived of their dress by military commanding officers or magistrates; unless they are in the military service of government, in which case they are to be sent to their corps, 2375.

Police officers are to apprehend persons wearing military dress, 2375, 2376—or sepoys wearing their uniform while on leave, 2377.

Magistrate cannot issue a general order forbidding persons to carry arms, 2378—except under special law, 3684*a*.

No person to wear or to be accessory to the wearing a chapras or badge resembling the government chapras or badge, 2379—punishment for violation of this rule, id.

Every chapras or badge worn by a person not a servant of the government, must bear the name of the person by whom the wearer is employed, 2380.

Permanent guards not to be increased without the sanction of government, 730.

The same rules to be observed in applications for temporary escorts, 731.

Monthly statement of guards &c. employed, to be forwarded by magistrate to government, 732.

If guilty of neglect, or connivance at the escape of prisoners, or other breach of duty, to be made over by magistrate to commanding officer to be tried by court martial, 269—but this does not apply to criminal charges not involving a breach of military duty, 290.

Exempted from the duty of taking out prisoners to ease themselves, 2617.

MILITARY, MAGISTRATE REQUIRING THE AID OF. See MAGISTRATE.

MILITARY STORES.

Cannon, fire-arms, or military stores, cannot be transported without a pass, 3539—on penalty of confiscation, id. See also ARMS AND AMMUNITION.

This does not apply to fowling-pieces, pistols, swords, or other arms kept for private use, id.

Any person keeping in one place, or in places not 3 miles from each other, 50 pounds of gunpowder without a license, liable to fine of 500 rupees, and the powder to be forfeited, 3542.

Exportation of.

Arms, ammunition, military stores (except those kept for private use) are not to be exported from British territories without a license, 3540—under penalty of forfeiture, id.—and fine of 500 rupees, id.

The magistrates in the Western provinces are authorized to grant licenses, reporting to government applications for licenses to export, 3541—in cases of emergency he may grant license without reference, id.—no special form prescribed for license, id.—no fee required, id.

Government may authorize exportation of such stores without license, 3543.

Chief magistrate of Calcutta authorized to grant such license, 3544—collector of customs may also allow exportation under order of government, id.

MINERAL PRODUCTIONS.

Magistrates are prohibited from making enquiries into the mineral productions, &c. of a district, through the police, without the sanction of the superintendent, 688.

MINISTERIAL OFFICERS. See NATIVE MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

MINORS.

MISSING PERSONS.Precedents.

In cases of murder, where the body has not been found, the prisoner has sometimes been sentenced to death; but generally to imprisonment for life, 4035.

So, where the fact of the murder was not clearly proved, id.

A conditional sentence of imprisonment until the missing person be produced, or it be proved that he died by means not implicating the prisoner, was usually passed, id.—but such practice has lately been held objectionable, where there was no presumption that the missing person had been murdered, id.—and such sentences are now forbidden, 4035a.

Evidence that the deceased had not been heard of since last seen in the prisoner's company, not held sufficient for conviction, id.

MOKHTARS AND AGENTS.

For the prosecution.

The attendance and deposition of the complainant is not indispensable in preferring a criminal charge, 1087—in certain cases the written plaint, presented by an authorized agent, with the evidence of one or more witnesses, is sufficient for receiving the same, id.

But in ordinary cases the complainant must appear to institute and conduct the proceedings before the magistrate and sessions court, 1088—and agents are not permitted to interfere unless substantial reason be shown why the complainant cannot attend to carry on the prosecution in person, id.

Before the sessions the judge may always cause the attendance of the prosecutors if their vivâ voce evidence is necessary, unless they are Mahomedan or Hindu women of rank, 1089.

Court may allow a prosecution to be conducted by an authorized agent; but this does not dispense with the presence of prosecutor, when it is required by law, 1090.

For the defence.

In bailable cases magistrate may allow the defendant the option of appearing by attorney, 1091.

Session judge may order a magistrate to admit a party to appear and answer by attorney, without calling for the proceedings, 1092.

Session judge may admit a person held to bail for trial at the sessions to appear thereat by vakeel, if sufficient reason is shown, 1093, 1205—but may subsequently require his attendance in person, 1093.

Every defendant may defend personally or by authorized agent, but this does not dispense with his presence, 1094.

A defendant is bound to appear in person to receive sentence, 1095—though he has appeared by attorney, id.

The attorney in such cases need not be an established pleader of the civil court, 1096.

General Rules.

The name of the officer attesting powers of attorney is invariably to be signed in full, 1086.

Who are authorized agents, 1097.

Vakeels of civil court prohibited from practising in the foudaree court, except with the sanction of the judge, or on the part of government, 1098—but the pleaders in the sudder dewauny may practise in the nizamat adawlut, 1485.

Appeals and miscellaneous cases may be conducted by any agent, 1099.

Remuneration must be settled between the parties, id.—the court will not assist in recovering it, id.—and it cannot be enforced under Regulation VII. 1819, 1100.

The admission of general mokhtars is clearly recognized in the regulations, 1101—but the admission in each case is left to the discretion of the local authority, id.—they may practise in any court specified, 1102—a general power of attorney, after being attested and acknowledged, may be returned at the discretion of the authority, 1103.

Police darogahs are not to permit any established agent to be permanently employed at the thana on the part of any landholder or other person, 1104—but they may occasionally admit the employment of an agent for a specific purpose, id.

Police officers are forbidden to employ mokhtars at the sudder station for official purposes, 1105—in particular cases the magistrate may authorize the employment by them of a vakeel, id. Money is never to be paid to an agent save under specific authority conveyed in the power of attorney, 1106.

Incompetent persons should not be allowed to practise as mokhtars, 1108c.

A magistrate may refuse to acknowledge a mokhtar in his court, who is proved guilty of gross misconduct in that capacity; and one proved act is sufficient to warrant his general rejection, 1107, 1108—but the order refusing leave to appear must be special in each case, and cannot be general, 1108a.

No appeal lies to the judge from the order of a magistrate refusing a mokhtar leave to appear, 1108a—or to the nizamat adawlut, 1108b.

Mahomedan law.

Agent may be appointed for the management of a suit or criminal prosecution, 1109—even when the principal is present, id.

So, for the payment or exaction of rights, id.

But not in cases of hudd or hikas, id.

A woman ought always to employ an agent, id.

The accused may employ an agent to conduct his defence, id.—but a confession made by such agent is inadmissible, id.

MOONSIFFS.—Continued.

Invested with criminal powers in the lower provinces.

First grade moonsiffs invested with the powers of an assistant; but not to exercise them without special order, 827—this order did not affect moonsiffs who had previously exercised the powers of an assistant, 827.

Moonsiffs stationed at the head quarters of a magistrate, or officer exercising the full powers of a magistrate, only to take up those cases which may be made over to them by such officer; except in his absence, and under express instructions, 829.

When stationed at a place where there is a thana, to adjudicate in petty cases only, and not to receive complaints of a more grave character, 830—in such case they may use the thana as a lock-up; but convicted prisoners must be sent to jail, 831.

If not stationed where there is a thana, not to act under these powers without orders, 832.

To employ civil court amlah in the conduct of criminal cases before them, 833.

What stamp is requisite, 1952.

Recognizances to keep the peace.

Persons convicted of a violent breach of the peace, or of an intention to commit such, may be required, by the court passing the final order, to give a muchalka, with or without security, to keep the peace for one year if the sentence is passed by the magistrate, or 3 years if passed by the session judge or nizamat adawlut, 3830.

Such court also in cases of an aggravated nature may require security, and order that the party failing to provide such, be imprisoned for a corresponding period, 3831.

A magistrate issuing a warrant of arrest, and authorizing the officer to whom the warrant is committed to receive bail for the appearance of the accused, may also authorize him to require security to keep the peace while the charge is under investigation, 3832.

Police officers, in cases of manifest necessity, may require security to keep the peace in addition to bail, 3833—the security bond is to be drawn out on plain paper, 3834.

Magistrate may take muchalkas for the maintenance of the peace, as well from British subjects as from others, although the party to be bound thereby has not been convicted of any specific offence, 3835—form of muchalka, id.

In aggravated cases, the magistrate may require security to keep the peace in addition to the recognizance, 3836—form of security bond, id.

If the period, for which the party is to be bound to keep the peace with or without the additional security, does not exceed one year, the order of the magistrate needs no confirmation, 3837—and in default of the security or recognizance he may commit the party to prison in the civil jail until he shall do what has been required of him, id.

If the period exceeds one year, the magistrate is to record his opinion with the amount of the recognizance and security and the length of the period, which is in no case to exceed 3 years, and if the party does not furnish such recognizance and security the proceedings are to be laid before the session judge for his orders, 3838—if the judge confirms to any extent the orders of the magistrate, he is to direct that the party be imprisoned in the civil jail until he shall do what has been required of him, id.

No party is to be kept in prison for a longer period, than that for which the recognizance and security have been required, 3839.

Magistrate cannot require security or muchalka except in the cases above specified, 3840.

Magistrate cannot order darogah to require a muchalka from a person until he has been heard in his defence, 3841.

Magistrate may insist on personal attendance, 3842.

Warrant may be issued if summons is evaded, 3843.

Session judge cannot require a person not before the court to execute a muchalka, 3844.

Appeal in such cases governed by general rules of appeal, 3845.

Rules under which the magistrate may release prisoners, confined in default of security, 3846, 3597.

Such prisoners are not to be sent to the jail of another district, id. 2983.

How the sureties can obtain release from their responsibility, id., 3595—and the continuance of such responsibility after the death of the surety, id.

Such recognizances if forfeited are to be realized as decrees of the civil court, 3847.

If the security is forfeited, the magistrate is to call upon the surety to show cause why the penalty should not be paid,

3848—the penalty is recoverable by attachment and sale, in default of which the surety may be imprisoned for 6 months, id.

Irregularity in form does not vitiate muchalka, 3849.

Magistrate must set forth the Act on which he grounds his order of forfeiture, 3850.

Rules for the relief of insolvent debtors applicable to persons confined on forfeiture of recognizance, 3851.

All muchalkas and security bonds to be enforced under these rules, 3852.

If the magistrate considers it necessary to take recognizances in his capacity of justice of peace, and is in doubt as to their legality, he should consult the advocate general, 3853—through the nizamut adawlut, 1929.

Magistrate how to proceed to enforce the forfeiture of recognizances taken by him in his capacity of justice of the peace, 3854.

The amount of the penalty of recognizances taken from European British subjects is not limited by the amount of penalty which a magistrate can levy from such persons under 53 Geo. III. cap. 155, sect. 105, 3855.

Assistants with special powers are not competent to require muchalkas and security, 3856.

Miscellaneous.

Not to be taken from zumeendars, munduls, or ryots, as security for the performance of duties required from them by the regulations, 2443.

The criminal courts are authorized to require muchalkas from their native officers in such sums as they judge proper, 2497.

The nazirs are to enter a muchalka for the good behaviour of the naibs, mirdahs, and peons, whom they appoint, 2527.

- Magistrate may immediately suspend officers in cases of gross misconduct, neglect, or incapacity, reporting the same, 2478.
- Suspended officer, if restored, is entitled to arrears of salary, 2474—officer unnecessarily delaying to restore is to pay the extra charge incurred thereby, id.
- The appointment and removal of officers, drawing a less salary than 10 rupees, rests with the magistrate; but he is to select proper persons; and is not to remove them without cause; and is to record his reasons for removing them, 2475—in such cases his orders are final, 2476.
- Magistrate may fine any officer for neglect of duty one month's salary, 2477—but no greater fine, 2478—nor can he sentence to hard labor merely for neglect, id.
- Session judge cannot interfere with any order of a magistrate appointing, suspending, or removing any ministerial or police officer, 2479.
- Session judge, or nizamut adawlut, or government may order the dismissal of any officer convicted before them of a criminal offence, 2480, 2491.
- Appeals from magistrate's orders of dismissal of ministerial or police officers lie to the superintendent of police, 2481—of all other officers to the session judge, 2482.
- Appeals may be forwarded by dak if written on stamp paper, 2483—or may be presented to the magistrate, who is to forward them with the papers of the case, if written on stamp paper and presented within the period allowed, 2484—if the appellant forwards his petition direct to the superintendent of police, he must forward with it copies of the proceedings appealed against, 2485—rules for hearing such appeals, and for giving facilities for personal appearance of the appellant, 2486.
- Superintendent may of his own accord remove any officer, whom he is competent to remove on reference from the magistrate, 2487.
- A commissioner cannot declare a native officer perpetually excluded from future employ in his division, though he can decline to sanction his nomination, 2488.
- Orders of superintendent in regard to the appointment, suspension, or removal of a ministerial officer are not open to revision by nizamut adawlut, 2489—reports of dismissals are not to be made to that court, 2490—but the nizamut adawlut, or government, can order the removal of a native officer on just and sufficient ground, 2491.
- In the case of officers on the establishment of magistrate and collector, employed indiscriminately in both departments, the appeal will lie to the commissioner, 2492—unless a regular criminal trial has been held, when it lies to the session judge, id.
- Monthly report of dismissals and appointments to be made to the superintendent of police, 2493.

Appointment, removal, and duties—general rules.

- All native officers are liable to removal without proof of any specific act of criminality, 2494.
- The imposition of heavy fines is objectionable; if an officer will not do his duty he should be dismissed, 2495.
- The unaccountable possession of much property is a sufficient ground for dismissal, 2496.
- Muchalkas for good behaviour may be required from native officers, 2497.
- All native officers are to make a solemn declaration before entering upon the duties of their office, 2498—the European officers are to attest such declarations as publicly read and subscribed before them, 2499.

- Nazirs are to receive a commission of one ana in the rupee on the sale of unclaimed property, 2528.
- English writers, natives of India, are subject to the same rules as other amlah, 2529.
- No alteration to be made in the distribution of salaries, or in the number and designation of native officers without the sanction of government, 2503—nor can the superintendent of police authorize any such addition or alteration, 2504.
- Not to be entertained on lower salaries than those fixed, 2505.
- Not to be kept acting for long periods, 2506—report for confirmation to be made within 6 months, id.
- No office is hereditary; government may abolish any office at any time, 2507.
- Schedule of landed property is required on their appointment from all officers drawing not less than 20 rupees per mensem, 2508—and if they make any subsequent acquisition, it is to be reported within a month, id.—evasion of these rules punishable by dismissal, id.—these schedules where to be registered, id.—subsequent acquisition of property, otherwise than by inheritance, in the district, is forbidden in the Western provinces, 2509—acquisition by inheritance to be reported immediately to superior, id.
- Security is to be taken from all officers entrusted with public money, 2510—on what points the surety is to bind himself, id.—sufficiency of security to be tested yearly and report made, id.—which report is to be certified in particular form, 2511—persons nominated to offices may have the security bonds prepared by their own advisers, 2512—and are not liable for the charges of preparation and execution by the law officers of government, 2513—officers vouching for the sufficiency of securities make themselves responsible for the safety of the public funds, 2514—in Lower provinces such security statements to be sent to the superintendent of police, 2515—form of security-bond to be used in the Western provinces, 2516—all security-bonds are to be registered, 2517—nafir is liable on a civil prosecution to damages for wilful misrepresentation of the sufficiency of security, 2518—rule for the endorsement and safe custody of public securities deposited by such persons, 2519—when the collectorate treasurer takes charge of the foudaree treasury, an additional clause is to be inserted in the security-bond, 2520.
- One department is not to receive applications for employment from persons in the employ of another department, 2521.
- Persons dismissed from one department (except for inaptitude in that department) are not eligible for appointment in another, 2522.
- Representations from uncovenanted officers relating to their services are to be forwarded direct to government by the public post; and not by the head of the office, 2523.

- Travelling allowance in the lower provinces, 2524—when travelling by railway, 2524a—in the Western provinces, 2525.
- Leave of absence of uncovenanted officers receiving appointment direct from government, to be granted by government only, 2526-1—absence without leave involves loss of appointment and of salary, id.-2—retrospective effect allowed only in cases of severe illness, id.-3—application for sick-leave to be accompanied by medical statement, and certificate of the chief medical officer, id.-4—if application be for sick-leave for more than six months, it must be countersigned by superintending surgeon, and if for leave beyond sea by medical board, id.-4—form of certificate, id.-4—certificates required in the case of application for extension of sick-leave, id.-4—leave allowed on sick certificate for 3 years during entire service, of which only two may be continuous, and only two count as service, id.-5—and for only one year at a time, but it may be extended, id.-5—salary during absence, id.-5—in urgent case the head of the office may give leave on medical certificate for one month, id.-5—one month allowed during the year without loss of salary, id.-6—and in certain cases for six months on half salary, id.-7—and in certain cases for one year without pay, id.-8—no leave on private affairs can be claimed of right, id.-9—security to be given for allowances drawn during leave, id.-10.
- Leave of absence of officers, who have not received appointments direct from government, may be granted by head of office for one month in the year, and by head of department for 12 months on medical certificate, or six months on private affairs, 2526—in other cases by government, id.
- Allowances commence on joining appointment, 2526-11.
- What salary may be drawn, in the case of transfer to another appointment, before joining, 2526-12.
- Time allowed for joining, 2526-13.
- Salary in acting appointment, 2526-14.

Charges against.

- If charged with or suspected of embezzlement of money entrusted to them in their official capacity, summary inquiry to be instituted; and officer to give security for attendance, or to be kept in confinement, 2548.
- If charge is proved on such inquiry, limited time to be allowed for payment of the money into court, in failure of which it is recoverable as a decree of the civil court, 2549.
- Salary may be attached; and disbursing officer is required to effect the attachment, 2550.
- But money embezzled by an officer in his official capacity is to be refunded to the person who deposited it, without reference to the solvency or otherwise of the defaulter, 2551.
- A conviction of embezzlement in its strict sense is necessary to recovery under these rules, 2552.
- Summary decree must be passed before the money is recoverable, 2554.
- Government are not responsible for property stolen from a magistrate's mal-khana; but if neglect or want of care is proved, it may be recovered from the officers in charge, 2553.
- Similar mode of proceeding to be observed, when a native withholds any accounts; the summary judgment to order delivery of accounts and also to impose fine, 2555.
- Altering or changing official papers, punishable as for forgery, 2556—and no excuse that it was done by order, id.
- A judge may conduct a summary inquiry in cases of embezzlement by his own officers, but cannot commit for such offence; the proceedings must be made over to the magistrate who will act on his discretion, 2557.
- Prosecution of any subordinate officer may be taken on the part of government on charge of corruption &c. by government, or the head of the office, 2558—if the charge is made by a private party, the government may prosecute, 2558.

- Prosecution may be had, though the offender has left the service, id.
- No prosecution to be commenced by an officer under the grade of commissioner, unless he shall have obtained the permission of the court, board, or officer to whom he is immediately subordinate, 2559—trial is illegal where such sanction is wanting, 2560.
- But such sanction is required only where government prosecutes, 2561.
- Officer engaged in prosecution, or his assistants, not to act as judge, 2562.
- Ministerial officers are amenable for corruption to the courts to which they are attached; but such charge cannot be received unless the complainant makes oath to the truth of it, 2563.
- Hazir-zamini security is not to be demanded from the accuser in the first instance; but may be required during the enquiry, 2564.
- The nizamat adawlut may receive charges against the officers of a sessions court, or of the superintendent of police, or of a magistrate, 2565—how to proceed on receiving such charges, id.
- The superintendent of police may receive charges against the ministerial officer of a magistrate, 2566—how to proceed on receiving such charges, id.
- How the nizamat adawlut is to proceed, if there appears any objection to referring the charge to the court to which the accused officer is attached, 2567.
- How the superintendent of police is to proceed, if there appears any objection to referring the charge to the magistrate to whose court the accused is attached, 2568.
- Charges of corruption and extortion against ministerial officers are civil actions, and are to be prosecuted in the civil courts; and the courts are to direct the complainants accordingly, 2569—what award the civil court is to adjudge, 2570.
- The courts may suspend an accused officer until the final decision is passed, if they see cause for so doing, 2570.
- If the charge is not proved, the accused may sue the accuser in the civil court, 2571.
- Law officers are subject to the same rules, 2572.
- The above rules do not preclude a criminal prosecution for corruption, extortion, or embezzlement, 2573.
- Any law officer, or ministerial officer, may be prosecuted criminally for corruption, extortion, or embezzlement, whether the civil action has been brought or not, and whatever is its result, 2574.
- In such cases the prosecution should be public, conducted by the government vakeel, 2575.
- All cases requiring exemplary punishment should be prosecuted criminally before the magistrate, by the government pleader; but if the court deems this measure unnecessary, the complainant is at liberty to prosecute criminally or in the civil court, 2579.
- The sufferers in a case of extortion can give evidence against the accused, 4382.
- Magistrate may entertain charges against the officers of a commissioner's court, 2576.
- Such cases are punishable by the session judge by imprisonment for 7 years without labor or stripes, 2574—special report of convictions under these rules to be sent to government, 2577.
- Magistrate may himself pass sentence in cases of bribery or corruption, or commit to the sessions, 2578—in petty cases he cannot commit, 4377.
- If the charge is not proved in the criminal court, the accuser may be committed for perjury, 4379.
- The civil court may enforce the refund of money corruptly taken, without the institution of a civil action, on production of certified copy of the conviction in the criminal court, 2580.
- Native revenue officers guilty of bribery and corruption how punishable, 2581.

Giving bribes to the amiah of a public officer for corrupt purposes, is a misdemeanor, 2582—the person who gave the bribe cannot be called upon to give evidence to the fact, as it would criminate himself, 4381—but that will not excuse him from answering incriminating questions relevant to the issue of a criminal or civil proceeding, 530—though such answers cannot be acted on against himself, id.

Khazanchis and other native officers entrusted with public money are prohibited from making use of it to their own advantage, or that of any other individual, 2583—persons infringing this rule are liable to 7 years' imprisonment by sentence of session judge, 2584—and, if that sentence appears inadequate, the trial may be referred, id.—special report of such convictions and sentences to be made to government, 2585—a government peon making away with money entrusted to or collected by him is not punishable under this rule, 4321.

passed too severe, 1440—but the court may call for the whole record and pass orders thereon, 1441.

In a jurisdiction to which a superintendent of police has not been appointed, cases of a miscellaneous nature, other than criminal trials, are not cognizable by the nizamat adawlut, 1442—in such cases the appeal lies to the commissioner of circuit as superintendent of police, whose decision can be revised only in the civil court, id.—but government may issue any order in any case, id.—definition of “criminal trials” and “miscellaneous cases” in the above, 1443—orders in judicial proceedings other than criminal trials are not open to revision, 1444.

May pass sentence on a prisoner tried by the magistrate, although the session judge did not hold a fresh trial, 1445.

Revision of interlocutory orders by an inferior court, is to be made by the court at its general English sittings, 1446.

Power of remission or mitigation of punishment is applicable in all cases in which the court revises the sentence of an inferior court, or of their own court, 1447, 1447a. See infra.

If a case is referred merely because the session judge differs from his law officer as to the conviction or acquittal of some of the prisoners, while the sentence as regards the others is within his competence, only such parts of the proceedings need be revised as relate to the prisoners in respect to whom the reference is made, 1469.

When judges differ in opinion.

Sentence to issue according to the opinions of the majority, as regards each prisoner, 1448—all differences of opinion to be settled by the voices of the majority; and if only two judges are present when the difference arises, it is to be laid before a third, 1449.

If the difference relates to the amount of punishment, the most lenient sentence to be adopted, 1448.

The concurrent opinion of two judges, who agree in all points, is final, although two others differ from them and from each other, 1450.

If the judges present cannot decide in consequence of an equality of voices, the case is to be referred to one of the judges of the other court of nizamat adawlut, who is to decide on perusal of the proceedings, 1451, 1452—so, if only one judge is present and the matter requires the voices of two judges, 1451.

Precedents of cases, in which the judges did not agree as to the sentence to be passed on all the prisoners, and it was therefore issued according to the majority of voices in regard to each individual, 1453, 1454, 1455, 1456.

Power of mitigation and pardon.

A single judge has always the power to remit or mitigate punishment which appears to him more severe than is equitable; but his reasons are to be recorded and communicated to the session judge, and made known to the prisoner in open court, 1457, 1465—even though the session judge does not recommend mitigation, 1466.

But the court can remit only on judicial grounds strictly connected with the case, 1458—if the ground of mitigation is personal to the prisoner, the prerogative of mercy rests with government, id.—precedents, 1460a.

The court may recommend for pardon persons sentenced to death, 1459.

Government may in all cases pardon a person charged with or convicted of a criminal offence, 1460—precedents, 1460a.

Sentence is to be passed in cases recommended to government for pardon, 1461.

Power of remission or mitigation is applicable in all cases in which the court revises the sentence of an inferior court or of their own court, 1447, 1447a.

Powers of a single judge.

A single judge can hold a sitting of the court, and pass orders or sentence upon any trial under reference to it, unless he does not concur with the session judge as to the conviction of the prisoner, 1462—this includes all instances of a difference of opinion upon the guilt or innocence of a prisoner, 1463.

So, the case must be laid before another judge, if the sitting judge does not concur in the mitigation proposed by the session judge, id.

He may hold sittings upon miscellaneous references, petitions, and generally upon all matters appertaining to the cognizance of the court, 1464.

Cannot reverse or alter a former decision or order of one or more of the judges of the court, id.

If he concurs in the mitigation of punishment recommended by the session judge, he can pass sentence accordingly, 1465—and he can mitigate the punishment, although the session judge does not recommend it, 1466.

He may reverse or alter the sentence of the lower court in favor of the prisoner, but cannot enhance the punishment, 1467—example, 1468.

He cannot convict in opposition to session judge, if the latter is for acquittal or otherwise in favor of the prisoner, 1471—in such case he should send the trial on to another judge, 1472.

If a case is referred, merely because the session judge differs from his law officer as to the conviction or acquittal of some of the prisoners, while the sentence as regards the others is within his competence, only such parts of the proceedings need be revised as relate to the prisoners in respect to whom the reference is made, 1469.

If single judge concurs with the session judge for conviction or acquittal, he can pass final sentence (without reference to the futwa) except for capital punishment, 1470.

The court in such cases is not precluded from revising the whole proceedings, 1473.

If a single judge considers it proper that the matter at issue should be decided by two or more judges of the court, he may always record his opinion, and refer the case to another judge, 1474.

If a trial includes one or more prisoners liable to a sentence of death, a single judge cannot pass final sentence, which requires the concurrent opinion of two judges, 1470, 1475.

Interference with former order of the court.

The Western court holds that a full court can revise the proceedings of one or more judges, and modify or annul the sentence or order previously passed, either on the ground of additional evidence or other circumstances throwing a new light on the case, or generally with reference to the previous decision; but not to the prejudice of the prisoner, 1477—if any of the judges who passed the original sentence is present, the revision is to be made by him; but if two or more judges concurred in the order and any of them is absent, the revision must be by the whole court, id.

The Calcutta court holds that when review of a criminal order passed by a judge of the court, present at the application, is applied for, it should be disposed of by him, without reference to the other judges, 1478—in his absence the application must be disposed of by two judges, id.

But former sentence cannot be altered on the ground that the present court differs as to the merits of the case or the quantum of punishment awarded, 1479.

A single judge, finding that he had formerly passed sentence on an exaggerated statement, was held competent with the concurrence of his colleagues to revise or modify it without the interference of another judge, 1480.

The court would not direct the re-apprehension of persons sentenced 15 years before us for affray, when they ought to have been committed on a charge of murder, 1481.

Miscellaneous.

Power to suspend a session judge, 1482.

Course of procedure when a session judge or magistrate, or other covenanted officer, is guilty of disobedience, neglect, &c., id.

Reports on the official character and conduct of the several public functionaries subordinate to them, 4762—in hearing appeals and trials every judge is to note points materially affecting the character of the court below; and such notes are to be used in preparing the annual report, id.—in special cases an immediate report of the state of any zillah is to be submitted to government; generally, serious defects are to be noted in the annual report, id.—it is their duty to report every case in which a covenanted officer, subordinate to them, is decidedly disqualified to discharge his duties efficiently; and if they fail to report, they are themselves to be held responsible, id.

A summary order of the nizamut adawlut to the magistrate is not binding on the civil court, 1483.

The nizamut adawlut cannot interfere with the civil courts, 1484. Authority to grant rewards for meritorious services, 1784.

The vakeels of the sudder dewany adawlut may practise in the nizamut adawlut, 1485.

Minutes of the judges on a question of general importance and submitted to government, are not to be considered as public documents; and copies should not be granted to private individuals, 1912.

Copies of letters from, or resolutions passed by, the court may be granted by the court only, 1913.

The nizamut adawlut may prescribe the forms, periods of transmission, and mode of preparation of all reports, calendars, registers, or other statements, 1486.

The court may execute, or cause to be executed, all lawful process of arrest within the limits of the supreme court as in other places, 1699—the process must be in writing with an English translation, and must be signed by one of the judges of the court, id.

OATH.

The Mahomedan and Hindu religions do not prohibit the taking oaths, 496.

Form of affirmation instead of an oath to be made by Hindus and Mahomedans, 497.

Deponent need not sign his name to any written affirmation, 498—he should either read it out, or it should be read to and repeated by him, id.—it is to be mentioned at the head of the deposition that he was sworn according to Act V. 1840, id.—name of person administering oath to be recorded, 4406.

Affirmation to be made before evidence is taken down, 499.

Terms to be used in rendering the word affirmation, 500.

Police officers to use the same forms, 501.

Police officers cannot receive criminal charges except on oath, 2269—but are prohibited from swearing witnesses to the truth of their depositions, 2293—unless expressly sanctioned by a regulation applicable to the case, id.

Police mohurir cannot administer oaths except in the absence of the darogah, 502—the darogah cannot delegate his power when present, id.

Making false affirmation subjects the offender to the penalties for perjury, 503—and causing or procuring another to commit such offence, to the penalties for subornation of perjury, 504.

Punishment for perjury is not incurred, if the oath ought not to have been administered, 505—or was not in legal form, 4460.

The oath must be administered in a place in which the administering officer is competent to hold his court, 4456.

The oath must be taken before a competent court of jurisdiction, 4457—with power to examine on oath, 4458—how far officers employed in the revenue department have power to administer oaths, 4461—not sufficient if administered by mohurir of civil court, unless duly authorized, 4459.

A deposition taken in the presence of the magistrate is not complete until attested, 4462.

Act V. 1840 does not substitute affirmations for oaths in the supreme court, 506—but this does not apply to the courts of the justices of the peace, 507.

The commanding officer of a military station is competent to administer an oath as a justice of peace, 508—but a military court of enquiry has no such power, 509—nor has a commanding officer when the case has to be made over to the magistrate, 291.

What oath is to be taken by a magistrate on entering office, 671—the same by a joint-magistrate, 740—by an assistant to the magistrate, 756—and this must be administered whether taken in another district or not, 757—oath taken by a session judge, 1111—the same by a judge of the nizamut adawlut, 1416—by the register of the nizamut adawlut, 1417—solemn declaration to be made by native ministerial officers, 2498—by law officers, 2531.

Party to suit under Act IV of 1840 cannot be examined on oath, 4458.

Seizure.

Penalty for preventing by force or threats officers authorized to attach salt from effecting the seizure of such as may be suspected to be contraband or adulterated, 3468—persons offending liable in the event of an affray, id.—both penalties not to be awarded on the same indictment, 3469.

Penalty for resisting arrest, or procuring release, by force or threats, 3470.

Officers who have seized or are about to seize salt, or the cattle, carriages, or boats used in its conveyance, apprehending resistance, may apply for assistance to the police, who are to afford the requisite aid, 3471, 3472—and cannot exercise any discretion as to the propriety of the seizure, but are to prevent unnecessary violence, 3473—the officers requesting the aid of the police take the responsibility and risk, id.

Police not to seize or detain salt in the first instance of their own authority, unless specially empowered by government, 3474—to confine themselves to giving information and assisting in seizure under the orders of the magistrate or salt officers, id.—liable for contravention of this rule to dismissal, and an award of damages in the civil court, 3175.

When the salt agent or superintendent of chokees proceeds to search for contraband salt within certain limits, within which the transportation of salt without a rowannah is not lawful, he is to summon by written notice the nearest police officer to attend him, and witness the proceeding, 3476.

Limits within which the transportation of salt without a rowannah is not lawful, 3476a.

Salt agent or superintendent, having a police officer with him, may break open the door of the store-house, if it is not immediately opened on his request, 3477.

If the salt agent or superintendent cannot proceed in person he is to give his warrant to an officer of his establishment, not under the rank of jemadar, and to summon the nearest police officer; but no door is to be broken open except in the presence of an agent or superintendent, or of an officer with such warrant, and of a police officer, 3478.

But the head officer of a salt chokee or aurung may act for the agent, if the place is more than three kos from the station of the agent or superintendent, 3479.

Penalty if any police officer on such application does not attend, or refuses to aid, or in any way frustrates the object of the search and seizure, 3480.

Rules to be observed in breaking open any house, to effect a seizure of salt, 3481—the responsibility, and the determination whether to require it to be broken open or not, rest with the salt officers only, id.

Reports to be made by the salt and police officers to their respective superiors, 3482—the date and time of delivering the notice to the police to be noted, and the cause of any delay which may occur in effecting the search, 3483.

Power to seize salt vested in salt agents and superintendents of chokees, and their assistants, also in uncovenanted European and subordinate native officers, 3484—and government may vest a like authority in other officers, id.

If such power is vested in officer subordinate to the magistrate, and he makes a seizure, he is to report the circumstances within 24 hours to the magistrate, by whom the report is to be transmitted to the nearest salt officer, 3485.

PERJURY.

Definitions and conditions.

- What constitutes wilful perjury, 4438.
 What constitutes subornation of perjury, 4439.
 Perjury may be committed in evidence on simple affirmation, 4440.
 False evidence upon solemn affirmation is as false evidence upon oath in regard to perjury, 503—and subornation of perjury, 504.
 It may be perjury, although the false deposition does not relate to any judicial proceeding, 4441—and so, subornation of perjury, 4442.
 Wilfully giving two statements directly at variance with each other, on a point material to the issue, amounts to, 4443—not always requisite to prove the truth, 4444—false personation in a witness, amounts to, id.—but the commitment should not be made for the contradiction unless the truth be doubtful or difficult of proof, 4445—the contradiction must be on a material point and manifest on the statements themselves, 4446.

Definitions and conditions.—Continued.

- An absent person may be guilty of subornation of perjury, 4447—as one producing false witnesses through a vakeel, id.—proof in such cases that the point is material to the issue, id.
 Wilful prevarication does not always amount to, 4448—nor is it punishable as a contempt of court, id.
 Suppression of part of the truth not wilful perjury, id.—avertment of want of recollection not perjury, 4449.
 A false and malicious complaint laid upon oath is punishable as perjury, notwithstanding the provisions for punishment of false and malicious charges, 4511.
 The perjury must be on a point material to the issue of the case, 4450—but it is sufficient if done with a view of inducing the court to give readier credit to the substantial part of the evidence, id.
 There must be a fraudulent or malicious intention, 4451—but it is no excuse that the perjury will benefit certain parties without detriment to any one, id.
 It was held not to amount to perjury, where a person falsely denied the execution of a vakalutnamah, 4452—where a person falsely swore to the truth of his private accounts, 4453—where the matter charged was merely a lax statement without sufficient explanation, 4454.
 The wilful concealment of debts by an insolvent applying for discharge is perjury, 4455, 4472b.
 False verification of plaint amounts to, 4472a.
 The oath must have been administered in a place in which the administering officer is competent to hold his court, 4456.
 The oath must be taken before an officer authorized to administer it, 4457—therefore no perjury in investigating a claim to a pension, id.—nor where the collector examined witnesses on an application for a mutation of names in the register, id.—nor where the collector is attesting a mokhtarnamah, id.—nor before a military court of enquiry, id.—nor before a police mohurir, in the presence of the darogah, as the latter cannot delegate his power when present, id.—nor where a darogah examined a witness on oath, id.—nor where a party to a suit is examined on oath under Act IV. of 1840, 4458—nor before a mohurir of the civil court not duly authorized by the judge, 4459—and in such case previous delegation must be proved, id.—but if a ministerial officer is authorized to take the deposition, he is competent to administer the oath, id.—in what cases revenue officers are competent to administer oaths, 4461.
 Perjury cannot be assigned against a Christian on evidence taken under the solemn declaration prescribed by Act V. 1840, which refers only to Hindus and Mahomedans, 4460.
 A deposition taken in the presence of the magistrate is not complete till attested, 4462—and may be retracted, id.
 The examination on oath must be necessary, 4463.
 Punishment remitted where oath ought not to have been administered, 4464—so, where the offender was entrapped into the offence, id.—and where there was a presumption of intimidation, 4465.
 Precautions to be adopted in the examination of witnesses in order to secure their conviction when guilty of perjury, 4466—name of person who administers oath to be recorded in deposition, id.
 General nature of proof required, id.
Institution of charge and commitment.
 If in civil court, commitment to be made by civil judge, 4467—magistrate not to entertain such charge against parties concerned in civil suits, 4468—or any civil proceeding before a judge or a subordinate civil court, 4469—subordinate civil courts to make over such cases to civil judge, id.—except principal sudder ameen, 4470—this applies to miscellaneous civil cases, 4471—and to perjury before a register of deeds, 4488—but not to a charge of giving money to witnesses in a civil suit to influence their evidence, 4472.

The mooniff must refer to the judge, 4473.

The commitment must be made at the instance of the court in which the perjury was committed, 4474.

The judge cannot direct the principal sudder ameen to commit, 4475.

No appeal lies from the order of a civil court refusing to commit for perjury, 4476.

Civil courts cannot entertain such charges after the disposal of the suit, 4477, 4509.

Magistrate's duty in such cases is confined to causing the attendance of the parties and witnesses before the sessions court, 4489, 4478—it is merely ministerial; he cannot exercise any discretion, 4479.

The magistrate investigating a case of forgery referred by civil court cannot originate a charge of perjury, 4480—nor recommend the civil court to take up such a charge, 4481.

Examples of irregular procedure, 4482, 4483.

Sudder dewanny adawlut how to proceed, if there appear sufficient grounds on any civil proceeding before them, to bring any person to trial for perjury, 4491.

Session judge may direct the immediate commitment of any persons guilty of perjury or of subornation of perjury in any trial or matter depending before the court, 4492, 4494—caution required in such cases, 4493—so, the nizamat adawlut, 4494.

Magistrate may commit all persons, who appear, on his own proceedings or those of his assistants, guilty of such offence, 4494.

Session judge cannot leave the commitment for perjury to the discretion of the magistrate, 4493.

Session judge may try a case committed by himself, whether as civil judge, 4487—or as session judge, 4495.

Magistrate is not to receive or act upon any charge of such offence alleged to have been committed in any criminal court, unless the officer presiding in such court considers that there are grounds for the prosecution, 4494—nor can he entertain a charge for such offence committed before a collector, or other public officer, except at the instance of such officer, 4489, 4490, 4497—in such case he is, after examining the proceedings and holding further enquiries, to use his discretion in committing the prisoner, and is to direct whether he be held to bail or not, 4497.

Commitment by magistrate for perjury before a law officer in a case referred to him for report, held good, 4496.

Court making commitment is to direct whether the accused be admitted to bail or kept in custody, 4485, 4491—and magistrate is not to admit prisoners to bail unless specially authorized by such court, 4485.

Trial.

If there is no private prosecutor, the magistrate is to appoint a person to prosecute, 4496.

Forms of indictments, 4499.

Effect of error in the charge as to the date of the perjury, 4500—exact words used must be quoted in the charge, 4501—and the part of the deposition on which the perjury is assigned must be pointed out, 4502.

PERJURY.—Continued.

The original deposition must be filed, 4504.

Confession alone is not sufficient when the truth or falsehood of the matter sworn is doubtful; proof required of falsity of matter sworn, 4503—except in the case of a witness having wilfully given two statements directly at variance with each other, 4443. Proof required of the taking of the oath; of the authority to administer the oath; and of the occasion, 4505—the time, place, and court, must be noted in the charge, id.

Case of fatal variance in description of witness, 4506.

Irregularities in recording depositions fatal to commitment, 4507.

Oath against oath not sufficient evidence of perjury, 4508.

All police officers to aid and support the superintendents of police, and the joint and assistant magistrates, and to furnish them with every information required, 2034, 746.

Unless an order of government places any part of the police under the immediate control of a joint-magistrate, all police officers in the jurisdiction of a joint-magistrate are under the control of the magistrate, 747—but exclusive control has been given to joint-magistrates, 748.

Seal to be used by police officers, 2035.

Burkundazes to wear brass badges engraved with the name of the thana and district, to carry certain arms, and to have an uniform dress, 2036.

Concurrent jurisdiction.

Intelligence of heinous crimes, the perpetrators of which have not been apprehended, to be sent to neighbouring thanas, 2037.

Police officers may pursue offenders into other thanas, millahs, and all officers and persons having authority are required to assist them, 2038—but this concurrent authority is to be exercised by a police officer only when the offence has been committed in his own jurisdiction, or when the offender was therein at the time the charge was preferred, 2039—in such cases they are not allowed travelling charges, except on extraordinary occasions, 2099.

If a complainant prefers a written application to a darogah who has no jurisdiction, the particulars of the charge are to be noted in the police diary, and the date and ground of reference to another darogah endorsed on the application, which is to be returned, 2039.

When a darogah apprehends offenders in another zillah, he is to give to the darogah of the jurisdiction a list of their names, and of the crimes charged, 2040.

Appointment, removal, &c.

Superintendent of police to keep a general register of all police establishments, 2041—to submit to government annually a comparative abstract statement of the strength and expense of all descriptions of police for the two past years, explaining increase, and suggesting reductions, 2042—magistrate to furnish him with the required information and to conform to his suggestions, 2043.

Commissioner may transfer darogah from one district to another within his division, 2043a.

The power of appointing police officers, of removing them from one station to another, of suspending and dismissing them, is vested in the magistrate, 2044—subject to the control of the superintendent of police in districts in which tahsil-daree establishments are maintained, 2045—whose decision is final, unless government interferes, id.

First grade darogahs not to be dismissed without sanction of government, 2045a.

Persons past the prime of life not to be admitted into the police force, 2049.

Darogahs may not nominate to vacancies without the order of the magistrate, 2050.

Sunnud to be furnished to each officer on appointment, 2051.

In reporting nomination magistrate to note whether the nominee is related to the amlah of his own, or of the sessions court, 2052.

Officers are to be appointed only to act until the superintendent of police sanctions the appointment, 2053.

Dismissal of any officer above the grade of burkundaz to be reported to superintendent for confirmation, 2054.

Monthly returns of dismissals and appointments to be made to superintendent in addition to reports for sanction, 2055.

All deaths, resignations, removals, and appointments in the office of kotwal or darogah to be noted to superintendent, 2056—if persons dismissed for corruption are re-appointed the superintendent is to direct their removal, 2057.

The removal of a police officer, except when dismissed for corruption, or other criminal offence declared punishable by dismissal, does not preclude him from employment, 2058.

The nizamut adawlut may order the dismissal of any native officer, convicted of an offence punishable by dismissal, or whose conduct appears from any proceeding before them to require his removal, 2059.

The session judge may direct the removal of an officer convicted before him of an offence punishable by dismissal, but not otherwise, 2059, 2059a.

All native officers are liable to removal without proof of any specific act of criminality, 2061.

Magistrate may fine an officer for neglect of duty in a sum equal to one month's salary, 2062—and is restricted in such cases to such limitation of punishment, 2063—if any distinct misdemeanor is proved beyond neglect of duty, the case falls within his general discretion, id.

Magistrate cannot fine a police officer for neglect of duty without judicial enquiry and the record of evidence, 2064.

Dismissal should not be resorted to except for serious offences or repeated misconduct, 2065—register to be kept of minor punishments, id.—if these are unavailing, dismissal must follow, and the papers of the last case with an extract from such register to be sent to the superintendent, id.—the reasons for punishing an officer should always be pointed out to him, id.

Rewards to be given only in particular instances of courage, vigilance, or tact; and report to be made before they are given, 2066.

Register to be kept by magistrate of police officers deserving of promotion; and copies of every entry therein to be sent to the superintendent, 2067.

In the Western provinces character books are to be kept of certain officers, in which their services &c. are to be noted, 2068.

Rules by which darogahs are promoted to higher grades by government, on the annual reports of commissioners, 2069—commissioner may promote to vacancies when they are assigned to him, 2069a.

Preference to be given to young men of good education, 2070.

Budhuks when employed to be kept under strict watch, 2071.

First class darogahs are to be allowed a chair, 2069b.

The superintendent of police has the same power as a magistrate to fine police officers, 2072—and to suspend them, 2073—such sentences to be certified to the magistrate for execution, 2074—he is competent to remove of his own accord any officer whom he can remove on reference from the magistrate, 2075, 2059a.

Appeals from orders of magistrate convicting police officers of criminal offences lie to the session judge; and police officers committed to the sessions are to be tried by him, 2076.

Appeals from awards of magistrates against police officers for breach of duty lie to the superintendent of police, 2076—and cannot be heard by the session judge, unless such award is part of a sentence passed in a criminal trial, 2077.

All officers may appeal, without reference to the amount of their salary, 2078.

The session judge cannot interfere with the orders of a magistrate regarding the appointment, removal, or suspension, of a police officer, 2079—nor are the orders of the superintendent of police in such matters open to revision by the nizamut adawlut, 2080.

Appeals from officers employed in both the revenue and police departments lie to the commissioner, 2081.

Appeals may be forwarded to superintendent by dak if written on stamped paper, 2082—or may be presented to the magistrate, who is to forward the appeal with the papers of the case, if written on proper stamped paper and presented within the proper period, 2083—if not presented within the proper period, the magistrate is not to receive it, but is to refer the officer to a personal appeal at the office of the superintendent, id.—if the appeal is forwarded by dak, it must be accompanied by copies of the proceedings appealed against, 2084.

Facilities to be given for personal attendance of appellant during the hearing of his appeal, 2085.

Police officers guilty of corruption, extortion, or oppression, may be prosecuted in the civil or criminal court at the option of the party injured, 2086—in such cases the magistrate may require the prosecutor to give security for his attendance, 2087.

Subordinate officers may be prosecuted on charges of corruption, &c. under orders of government or the head of department, 2088—prosecution may be on the part of government, though the charge is made by private person, id.—and is not barred by service having ceased, id.—prosecution cannot commence without order of controlling authority, 2089—trial without such sanction is illegal, 2090—officer engaged in prosecution, or his assistants, not to act as judge, 2091.

Darogah, mohurir, or jemadar, applying for leave of absence, to name an individual to officiate, 2092—persons acting to receive the full salary or such portion as the magistrate may fix, id.—if absence exceeds his leave, darogah to report the circumstance to the magistrate, id.

If the darogah is suspended, the acting darogah is to receive the full salary, 2093—what arrangement to be made, if the darogah of one thana is also put in temporary charge of another during the suspension of the darogah of the latter, 2094.

If suspended darogah is acquitted of the charge against him, the magistrate or sessions court is to report to the government whether the darogah is entitled to the whole or any part of the salary suspended, 2093.

Extra expenses occasioned by delay to obey the orders for the restoration of a suspended officer, are to be recovered from the person by whose fault the delay has occurred, 2095.

Police officers are not to be arrested while in the execution of their duty, 2096—civil process for the apprehension, or personal attendance, of police officers to be issued through the magistrate, 2097.

Proceeds of property of deceased police officers may be remitted by collectorate drafts, 2098.

Darogahs deputed to make local enquiries in distant thanas may be allowed travelling charges, 2099—but this does not apply to the pursuit of offenders into other thanas, except on extraordinary occasions, id.—allowance if travelling by rail on duty, 2099a.

Great caution to be observed in the deputation of darogahs to other thanas, 2099.

See also NATIVE MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

Deputation of burkundazes to sudder station.

When a burkundaz is despatched to magistrate's court, he is to be furnished with a certificate showing his name, and the date and time of his despatch, 2100.

The nazir is to enter on the same paper the date and hour of his arrival; and to report unnecessary delay to magistrate, 2101.

On leaving the station the nazir is again to note on the same paper the date and time of his departure; and this certificate is to be delivered at the thana to the darogah, mohurir, or jemadar, who will report to the magistrate any unnecessary delay, 2102.

Police officers bringing in defendants and witnesses are not to be allowed to remain in attendance at the catcherry, 2103.

POLICE OFFICERS—DUTIES.

Records, diaries, and registers to be kept at the thana.

Regulations of government to be bound up and preserved with care, 2192.

Books and registers to be kept with regularity, 2193.

Darogahs and mohurirs taking charge, to report on the general state of the thana papers, id.—and to sign jointly with the officer delivering over charge a list of the records; one copy of the list to be sent to the magistrate, and one kept at the thana, id.

Magistrates and assistants occasionally to inspect the records, id.—if found defective, or in cases of neglect, darogah and mohurir punishable by dismissal or fine, id.

Blank books to be furnished for diaries, each containing 100 pages, signed and numbered by the assistant or the serishtadar, 2194—and timely report to be made for fresh books, 2199—those completed to be kept with records of thana, id.

Every occurrence brought to the notice of the police to be entered in the diary, 2195—if nothing is communicated, the fact to be so noted, id.—particulars to be entered in diary of persons apprehended, their names, offences, and the dates of arrest and despatch to magistrate, 2196—purport of every petition, representation, complaint, or information, to be recorded in diary, 2197—penalty for omission to record, or misrepresentation of, any entries, 2197—entries to be attested by signature of recording individual, 2198.

Books to be kept—1. for copies of reports made to magistrate, 2200—2. for copies of parwanas and orders received from magistrate, 2201—3. for copies of chalang of prisoners and property, 2202—4. for register of heinous offences, 2203—5. for copies of lists of stolen property, 2204—6. for register of offenders who have broken jail or evaded process, and for whose arrest orders have been received, 2205.

List of villages to be kept, showing the names of the proprietors and of the chokeedars, 2206.

Returns, reports, and statements, to be furnished by.

Extracts from diary, and from the abstract register of heinous offences, containing the entries during the month, to be prepared verbatim, and sent to the magistrate on or before the 5th of each month, 2207.

List of thana officers entitled to receive pay to be forwarded by a burkundaz and delivered to the treasurer, 2208—the burkundaz will deliver the amount to the darogah, who will distribute it, and forward the receipts with his own on a paper to remain with the records of the magistrate's court, id.

Rules for preparing abstract monthly statements of heinous offences, 2209—classification of wilful murder and homicide, 2210—of malicious wounding or violent corporal injury, 2211—of affrays and riots, but not assaults and broils, 2212—of burglaries, 2213—of receiving, vending, or concealing, or melting down stolen property, 2214—of arson, excluding accidental fires, 2215—and of suicide, 2216—and at the foot of the statement are to be noted accidental deaths, any considerable mortality, and any extraordinary event which may be brought to the knowledge of the police, Appendix C. No. 14—all heinous offences to be reported in this statement, whether the offenders are apprehended or not; and attempts are to be distinguished from crimes actually perpetrated, 2217.

A copy of the same monthly statement to be sent to the superintendent of police on or before the 5th of the ensuing month, 2218.

Half-yearly report to be made of persons named in the list of absconded offenders who have been arrested, 2433.

Reports and returns to be written in a clear and legible hand, to be dated according to the native era, and signed and sealed, 2219—every paper to be dated, id.

- All papers to be strung on a thread, and the ends secured with wax; the record is to be made up in a separate envelope, and the name of the thana marked on it, 2220.
- A limited time to be fixed for the execution of every process and order, 2221.
- Returns to orders to be endorsed as far as possible on the original parwana; and a copy of the return to be entered in the register, 2222.
- If delay in making returns is unavoidable, the cause is to be reported at the expiration of the appointed time, 2223.
- Original order or process to be returned to magistrate with the final return, id.
- Reports to be accurate and concise, without recapitulation of magistrate's orders, 2224.
- If the reports are unnecessarily long, the police officer is liable to punishment, 2225.
- All important occurrences must be reported, 2226—but all reports are to be abridged as much as possible, 2227.
- Thana reports sent to the superintendent of police to be transmitted direct and not through the magistrate, 2228—serious cases only are to be reported by darogahs to the superintendent, 2229.

Irregular practices.

- No police officer of any grade is to trade or to keep a warehouse or shop within the limits of the thana, 2245.
- Police officers not to rent lands from the zumeendars of the district on pain of dismissal, 2246.
- Darogahs not to employ burkundazes on their private affairs, 2247—nor village watchmen, 2178.
- Any police officer receiving pay from government demanding or receiving any diet money or other allowance or gratuity, while serving a criminal process, is punishable as for a criminal offence; and is liable to refund the amount, and to immediate dismissal from office, 2248.
- Darogahs and their followers are not to be entertained in the villages which they visit, 2249.
- Landholders are not to be allowed to keep established vakeels at the thana, but may occasionally employ a mokhtar for a specific purpose, 2250.
- Police officers are not to employ mokhtars at the magistrate's office for any purpose connected with their public functions, except with the magistrate's permission, 2251.
- Not to employ extra mohurirs, without permission, except in special cases, 2252.
- Penalty for disobedience, 2253.
- Not to employ professional goindahs; and to apprehend persons who give out that they are employed as spies by the magistrate or the superintendent of police, unless they have a written authority, 2254—but they may employ persons occasionally to trace out offenders, and should encourage them to give information by which known criminals may be apprehended, id.
- Not to allow the registration before themselves of girls kept for the purposes of prostitution; nor receive any list of such girls, nor permit the girls to be brought before them, on pain of immediate dismissal, 2255.
- Female relations or connections of persons accused of offences are not to be apprehended, unless implicated in the offence, 2256.
- Not to interfere in regard to the transfer of cattle and other goods bought and sold, 2257.
- Not to compel dages and tekorahs to sleep under the surveillance of the police or zumeendars, 2258.
- Not to admit compromises or razeenamahs in any case, 1524—except in certain cases of theft and burglary, 2276, 2277.

Offences committed by.

- Neglect in the care of records; dismissal or fine, 2193.
- Neglect of duty; fine of one month's pay in addition to punishment for specific crime or misdemeanor, 2062, 2063.
- Neglect in case of prisoner escaping; dismissal, 2771, 2772—in case of connivance or further criminality; discretionary punishment, 2771, 2773.
- Wilful omission or misrepresentation of official acts or occurrences in the diary; dismissal or a less penalty, 2197.
- Wilful abuse and perversion of their powers of arrests; dismissal and exemplary punishment, 1598.
- Maltreatment inflicted on a prisoner or witness to extort confession or to procure information; exemplary punishment, 2335.
- Using the stocks, except at night, and then only in cases of robbery and murder, or previous escape, or notorious character; dismissal, 2342—where there is a hawalat W. P. the stocks are not to be used, 2343.
- Any ill-treatment of, or unnecessary severity to, prisoners, 2346.
- Detaining prisoners at the thana more than 48 hours; immediate dismissal, 2353.
- Corruption, extortion, or oppression; liable to criminal or civil prosecution, 2086. See CORRUPTION.
- Allowing a criminal charge to be settled by private adjustment, 1524, 4397.
- Neglect to give information of illicit cultivation of opium; fine of 500 rupees, 3451—neglect to assist in suppression of illicit cultivation &c. of opium; dismissal and fine, 3452, 3454.
- Neglect to support abkaree officers in the execution of search-warrant; fine of 500 rupees, 3425—conniving at the establishment of unlicensed shop for sale of liquors or drugs; fine of 500 rupees, 3430.
- Neglect to give information of, or conniving at illicit manufacture of salt; dismissal and fine, 3464—or the illicit sale, purchase, importation, transportation, or possession of salt; dismissal and fine, 3466—attaching or seizing salt without due authority; dismissal and damages, 3475—seizing or detaining salt accompanied by a regular rowannah, chalan, charchitty, or special pass; dismissal and damages, 3488—receiving notice to attend at a seizure of salt, and not attending or refusing to act, or in any way wilfully frustrating the object of the search and seizure; dismissal and fine or imprisonment, 3480.
- Convicted of robbery with open violence, whether as principal or accomplice, the sentence which would have been passed on any other person may be enhanced in his case to death or transportation for life, 4146—connivance on the part of such officer subjects to the same penalty as an accomplice, id.—going forth with a gang to commit robbery, 4148.
- Convicted of theft or larceny without open violence, 4226—or burglary, 4239.

Charges not cognizable by.

- Prohibited from taking cognizance of charges of adultery, fornication, calumny, abusive language, slight trespass, or considerable assault, 2259.
- Not to investigate charges of abortion, or of procuring it, unless death ensues, 2260—although the enquiry originate in the discovery of the body of a murdered infant, 2261.
- May entertain charge of rape, 2262.
- Prohibited from making enquiries into the circumstances of fire, unless charge of arson is preferred, 2263.
- Not to interfere in petty offences, in any way not positively required by the regulations, 2264.
- Persons preferring such petty charges to be referred to the magistrate; but particulars of the charge to be noted in the diary, 2265—the date and ground of rejection to be endorsed on the written plaint to be returned to the complainant, id.
- Not to admit compromises in any cases, or interfere in any way not provided for in the regulations, or to inflict punishment, or make any exaction, 2266, 2267—but in certain cases of theft may admit compromise, 2276.

Charges cognizable by.

- On receipt of charge of heinous offence, the statement of the prosecutor or informer to be certified on oath, and witnesses to be examined without oath, 2268.
- Charges not to be received unless attested on solemn affirmation, 2269.
- All cases must be investigated which are not excepted from the cognizance of the police, 2270.
- Not to investigate cases of burglary and theft, unattended with personal violence, without petition on unstamped paper requesting that a search may be made for the property or that the offenders may be brought to punishment, or unless the magistrate expressly orders it, 2271—the deposition of the plaintiff is not sufficient; he must present a written petition containing a specific request for the search or the apprehension of the offenders, 2272—without such petition or the order of the magistrate the proceedings are illegal, 2273.
- Police officers may postpone apprehending, pending the magistrate's orders, persons charged with theft or burglary without personal violence, if the suffering parties express a desire that the offenders be not apprehended, and provided that the offenders have not been previously guilty or suspected of theft or robbery, 2276—every such case is immediately to be reported to the magistrate, who is to decide whether it is to be investigated, 2277.
- Magistrate may always direct enquiry to be made, though the injured party has not made a written application, 2278—the magistrate should order enquiries, only in aggravated cases, or where the offence is frequent, 2278a.
- Discretion of magistrate to be governed by extenuating circumstances, as the youth, distress, or previous character of the offender, or the honor of the family, 2279.
- The suffering party need not report to the police unaggravated cases of burglary or theft, unless he is a zumeendar, 2274.
- Chokeedars are bound to report all such cases to the police, 2275—and police officers are bound to report them to magistrate, id.
- Magistrate to make use of other sources of information than his police officers to discover crimes, 2275.
- The evidence of witnesses not to be recorded in detail, but the substance reduced to the form of a sooruthal to be signed by those present and sent to the magistrate, 2280—hearsay evidence to be distinguished from that of eye-witnesses, id.
- Depositions of the informant and plaintiff to be taken at length recording what they saw, what they learnt, from whom they learnt it, names of witnesses, and what they know, 2281—list of stolen property to be given at the same time, and these papers to be sent to the magistrate within 12 hours, id.
- Immediate report to be made of any fresh information or ground of suspicion, 2282.
- Sooruthals to be sent to the magistrate in place of a report the moment they are drawn up, 2283.
- Form of report with summary of depositions of witnesses, and a list of those whose evidence is unimportant, 2284.
- Rules regarding witnesses for the defence, 2285.
- Grounds for sending in prisoners to be noted without recapitulation of evidence in the chalan, 2286.
- These rules obviate all excuses for delay; and any detention of prisoners or slowness of enquiry to be severely dealt with, 2287.
- Magistrates to be careful that the police officers do not neglect these rules for abridging their proceedings; and session judges to point out instances of neglect, 2288.
- Important part of darogah's duty to report concisely, but clearly, all important occurrences, 2287, 2226.
- In cases not proved, the darogah is to send in the substance of the evidence of each witness, the statements of the plaintiff and defendant, the latter taken at length, and a clear statement of the grounds of his opinion, 2289.
- Sketch of the spot to be prepared with care in cases of violent crime, 2290, 2291.
- Exact date and hour of occurrence to be carefully noted; and the date recorded in the era current in the district, 2290.

- Weapons and other articles to be produced in open court, and to be so secured as to allow of identification, 2292.
- Witnesses not to be sworn to the truth of their depositions, unless in a case in which it is expressly sanctioned by the regulations, 2293.
- Inquiry to be completed if possible in the first instance, and all attainable evidence to be collected, and the attendance of witnesses secured, so as to prevent delay, 2294.
- When the offenders are unknown, or have not been apprehended, the report of the enquiry is to be transmitted to the magistrate; but witnesses are not to be sent in without his orders, 2295.
- If the offender has absconded, a description of his person is to be recorded with his name and that of his father, and his usual place of residence, 2296.
- If more than one offence is charged to one defendant, a separate report of each case is to be sent, 2297.
- So, if zumeendar, chokeedar, or others, are guilty of neglect of duty, id.
- When a defendant sent in has been formerly apprehended by the police, the fact with particulars to be noted in the report, 2298.
- When darogah leaves the thana, he is to note the dates and times of his departure, and of his arrival at his destination, and of his return to the thana, 2299—darogah may leave his thana without permission, 2300—but while absent from his thana he is to forward daily to the magistrate a memorandum of his proceedings in the most concise form, 2301.
- All dates to be noted in the era current in the district, 2299.
- On proceeding to investigate a serious case, he is to send information to the superintendent of police: and on closing the case, he is to report the result, 2302—but this only in serious cases, as murders, dacoities, affrays, highway-robberies, and heavy burglaries and thefts, 2229—such reports to be sent direct, and not through the magistrate, 2228.
- Magistrate to keep a strict watch over the proceedings of his subordinates, that he may be able to give the superintendent any information for which he calls, 2302.
- Orders for second investigations should not be accompanied with a threat, 2303—to order investigation after investigation, and to punish the darogahs for want of success, destroys the credibility of the evidence however true, id.
- Remarks on the punishment of police officers for want of success, 2304.
- Inquests.*
- In cases of murder, unnatural or suspicious death, or violent and dangerous wounding, the darogah on receiving information is to proceed to the spot in person, or to depute a proper officer, 2305.
- Private enquiries as to the circumstances of the case to be made before holding the public inquest, 2306.
- Person dangerously wounded, if able to speak, to be examined on solemn affirmation as to the persons by whom he was wounded, the witnesses, and the general circumstances, 2307.
- The body of the deceased or wounded person to be examined, and all particulars regarding the wounds or other corporal injuries to be recorded in the sooruthal, 2308—but the practice of probing wounds in order to ascertain their size is prohibited, 2309.
- Officer holding inquest ought to describe particularly the place in which the body of the deceased or wounded person was found; to report whether the crime appears to have been committed on that spot; and whether it appears from the circumstances under which the body is found that the deceased met his death by his own hands, or by misadventure, or whether any and what grounds exist for believing that the deceased has been killed by others; also to ascertain the name of the wounded or deceased person, 2310.

- If the deceased is a stranger, to ascertain where he was last seen, or where he slept the night before, 2311.
- If the offenders are unknown, to ascertain whether any person bore enmity to the deceased or wounded person; the particulars of such enmity; when he was last seen in their company; and whether any angry expressions were used, 2312.
- If the unknown offender is supposed to have been wounded, enquiries to be made from the village hajjams, washermen, &c., 2312.
- The above enquiry to be committed to writing in the presence of creditable residents on the spot, and signed by them, and sent to the magistrate, 2313—immediately, in place of a report, 2314.
- In cases of murder the weapon or instrument is to be secured for production on the trial, 2315.
- Assistance to be procured for wounded person, who is not to be moved until he is able to travel without risk, 2316.
- Police officers to explain to the inhabitants that they should not remove persons seriously wounded to the thana, but give immediate notice of the occurrence, id.
- In cases of murder by poison or doubtful death, the body of the deceased is to be forwarded to the magistrate in the most decent and expeditious manner possible, 2317.
- If the timely attendance of the police officers cannot be obtained, the principal persons of the village are to hold the inquest, and forward the report to the magistrate either through the police or otherwise, 2318.
- Magistrate sending bodies to civil surgeon for examination are to furnish him with all available information regarding the alleged cause of death, 2302.

Inquiries in heinous offences.

- In cases of dacoity or other heinous crime, the darogah is to proceed in person to the spot without delay, transmitting a report of the occurrence and of his departure to the magistrate, 2319.
- If unable to proceed in person, or if the offence is not heinous, he may depute one of his subordinates to ascertain the facts and procure information for the discovery and apprehension of the offenders, id.
- Notice of heinous offences to be sent direct to the superintendent of police and not through the magistrate, 2320, 2302, 2229.
- Officer making enquiry to ascertain and record the time of the occurrence, the names and descriptions of persons recognized, and by whom recognized, and the names and descriptions of persons suspected with the grounds of suspicion; also, a full recital of the occurrences; a list of the articles plundered; the direction in which the robbers fled; whether they had torches and arms, and used disguise; whether anything belonging to the robbers was picked up and recognized; whether any number of persons were known to have assembled previously at a liquor shop, fakeer's muth, or other place, and what kind of persons; what steps were pursued by the landholders &c. after the occurrence; what was the conduct of the chokeedars; whether there are any persons of notorious bad character in the neighbourhood, and where they were at the time of the occurrence, 2321.
- Such enquiries to be written in the form of a sooruthal in the presence of three or more respectable residents, and signed by them, and forwarded to the magistrate, 2322—immediately in place of a report, 2323.
- Persons present at the enquiry to be cautioned against suppressing evidence in the first instance, 2324.
- Persons present at the commission of the offence to be encouraged to give evidence and precautions of secrecy observed if they are deterred by fear, id.

- Every instance of burglary and theft, and of attempts, to be reported, 2325.
- In cases of burglary, to attend to foregoing instructions as far as applicable; to report the time of the occurrence; the means of effecting an entry, and the size of the aperture; and whether the house is a place of residence or used for the custody of property, 2326.
- The chokeedars, landholders, and inhabitants of the place, should be required to state whether they suspect any and what persons, and the grounds of their suspicion; and how far the suspicions are well founded, and where such persons were at the time of the occurrence, should be ascertained, 2327.

Confessions and treatment of prisoners.

- Examinations of all prisoners to be taken without oath in the presence of three or more creditable witnesses, who are to attest it, 2328—the prisoner is to be examined as to all the circumstances, the persons concerned, and the disposal of the property, id.
- If the prisoner makes a confession, it is to be written down in the language which he understands best, 2330—in the presence of three or more witnesses who can sign their names, and are not connected with the police; or respectable residents who are to affix their mark, 2328.
- The prisoner and witnesses are to be allowed to read the confession when written; or, if unable to read, the police officer is to read it over; before it is signed and attested, id.
- The week, date, hour, and place, at which it is taken, are to be noted at the foot of the paper, id.
- The original is to be transmitted, signed by the police officer and the writer, id.—confessions to be certified in a particular form, 2329.
- Confessions to be taken at length, 2331.
- No chokeedars, dosadhs, or chamars, or other persons of such descriptions, are to be made witnesses; they must be respectable men, and should be required to question the prisoners themselves, id.
- If respectable witnesses to the confession be not procurable, darogah to record the fact, 2332.
- The same persons are not to be summoned as witnesses to confession, and to search of houses of prisoners, 2333.
- Darogah to report if any persons refuse to attend or to attest a confession; and magistrate is competent to award discretionary punishment; but darogah should not summon those whose absence would be attended with serious inconvenience, 2334.
- No compulsion to be used to parties or witnesses to obtain information; and holding out fears or hopes, or any species of maltreatment, to induce confessions, is strictly prohibited on pain of exemplary punishment, 2335.
- When confessions are taken at night or in any other place than the thana, the special reason is to be noted, 2336—but this does not forbid a private verbal examination, 2337.
- A second examination may be taken down in writing; any declaration or confession which the prisoner wishes to make should be recorded, 2338.
- Prisoners confessing to be kept separate, and forwarded under a separate guard, 2339.
- Witnesses to confessions always to be bound over to attend, 2340.
- Prisoners while detained at thana to be kept in a room which is not exposed to the open air, 2341.
- Stocks may be used during the night to secure robbers or murderers, or other persons of dangerous character or disorderly behaviour, or persons who have escaped; but only during the night and for such persons, 2342—but in the Western provinces only when there is no hawalat, 2343.

PRINCIPALS. See ACCESSARIES.PRINCIPAL SUDDER AMEENS.

Liable to a criminal prosecution (in addition to a civil action) for corruption, extortion, or other misdemeanor; and to fine and imprisonment, on conviction before the sessions court, 4383.

But not liable for want of form, or for error in proceedings and judgments, id.

Such cases are cognizable in the first instance only by the civil judge, 4384—and no process is to be issued without his assent, 4383—the prosecution may be conducted by the complainant before the magistrate; or the judge may direct the government vakeel to prosecute; but the judge cannot direct the commitment, 4384.

For toujdaree duties, see LAW OFFICERS AND NATIVE JUDGES.

PRINTING PRESSES.

The printer and publisher of every periodical work containing public news or comments on public news, are to make a declaration in duplicate before the magistrate of the jurisdiction, 3716—as often as the place of printing or publication is changed, a new declaration is necessary, id.—so, if the printer or publisher leaves the British territories, id.

Any breach of these rules is punishable by fine of 5000 rupees, and 2 years' imprisonment, 3716a.

The two originals of such declaration are to be signed and sealed by the magistrate; one copy to be retained by him and one copy to be deposited in the supreme court, 3716b.

The original declarations may be inspected on payment of a fee of one rupee; and copy taken on payment of fee of two rupees, id.

Attested copy of such declaration to be sufficient proof in any court of the identity of the printer and publisher, 3716c.

Any person who has signed such declaration may appear before any magistrate and sign in duplicate a declaration that he has ceased to be printer or publisher, 3716d—an original of such declaration to be filed with each original of former declaration, id.—originals may be inspected on fee of one rupee, and copy taken for fee of two rupees, id.—the latter declaration may be put in evidence in any court to limit the period of the former declaration, id.

Printing or publishing any book or paper on which the name of the printer or publisher, and the place of printing and of publication, are not legibly printed, punishable by fine of 5000 rupees and imprisonment for 2 years, 3716e.

Any person keeping a press for the printing of books and papers, to make a particular declaration before the magistrate of the jurisdiction, 3716f—breach of this rule is punishable by fine of 5000 rupees and imprisonment for 2 years, id.

Affirming an untruth in any such declaration is punishable by fine of 5000 rupees and imprisonment for 2 years, 3716g.

PRIVITY.

Explanation of term; and distinction between privity and other acts of criminal participation, 158.

In sentence for, labor is commutable to fine although the principal in the offence is not allowed such exemption, 1366.

See ACCESSARIES AND PRINCIPALS.

Mere presence is not proof of criminal privity, 160—effect of presence without interference, id.—effect of criminal association when the act of one is beyond the scope of the original design, 161—a promise to restore stolen property not sufficient evidence of privity to theft, 162—police officer or chokeedar present at the commission of an offence not liable for privity, 164—nor does the giving false information constitute privity, id.—similarly zumeendars are punishable only for neglect of duty, 165.

If the principal has not been apprehended, the magistrate may convict of privity, 1015—but if the principal be apprehended, the party charged with privity is to be tried with him, id.

A conviction as an accomplice or an accessory cannot be had on a charge of privity, 1011.

Privity in any case within the competency of a magistrate, 166.

PROCEDURE.—MODE OF.

In magistrate's court.—See COMPLAINTS AND COMMITMENTS.

In sessions court.—See SESSIONS.

PROCEEDINGS.

Trials of prisoners upon distinct charges to be kept separate, as far as possible, by magistrate and session judge, 1153.

When, of two orders passed in one case, one is appealable and the other final, they are to be kept distinct and separate, and recorded in separate proceedings, 690.

No intermediate proceedings of length are to be admitted, 380—such orders should be passed in as many words without entering into any detail, id.

All officers acting judicially to record final decisions in their own vernacular, 381—translation to be filed with record, id.—need not be written in open court, 382—but must be signed in court at the time of delivering it, 382a—no appeal lies for non-observance of these rules, 383—but appellate court may enforce, id.—forms of decisions, 384, 384a—natives to use vernacular form only, 385—judges and magistrates to see that these rules are attended to, 386.

Left unsigned by judge, 1145—by magistrate, 702.

See OFFICE RULES OF.

PROCESSES.

General rules.

Forms, 1554.
 May be sent by dak, 1555.
 In heinous cases all criminal processes are to be served by public officers receiving wages from government, 1556—such officer demanding or receiving any diet money or other allowance or gratuity is punishable as for a criminal offence; and is also liable to dismissal, and to a civil action, id.
 In petty cases processes are to be served by peons not receiving wages from government, who are to receive tulubana at a fixed rate, 1557—such officers demanding or receiving more than the fixed rate are punishable as above, id.
 Tulubana to be paid by the person taking out process, but magistrate may order the defendant to re-imburse him, id. See COSTS AND DAMAGES.
 Peons so employed to be registered, 1558—nazirs are not to employ any person not so registered in the execution of any official act, 1559.
 Such peons to be furnished with a uniform belt, or other badge of office, the cost of which is to be defrayed out of the tulubana, 1560.
 Table for regulating the amount of tulubana to be prepared according to the distance of each thana from the sudder station, id.—such table to be suspended in the cutcherry for general information, 1561—and no tulubana to be allowed at a higher rate without special order, id.
 The amount due to be specified on the back of each process; and to be paid before execution of process, the nazir endorsing it with a receipt, 1562.
 If two or more processes are served by one peon, the magistrate is to determine the proportion of the fixed rate to be paid by each party, 1563.
 The peon is to receive three-fourths, and the nazir one-fourth, after execution of process, 1564.
 Nazir may make advances to the peons at his discretion; but presiding officer cannot interfere, 1565.
 Magistrate to prevent illegal exactions under the name or pretence of tulubana, 1566.
 In petty cases no process is to be issued for the attendance of witnesses without the deposit of such amount of diet money as is determined by the magistrate, 479, 480. See SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCE.
 Officer serving process is not bound to show his warrant unless demanded, 3749.
 The issue of a general warrant or other process against the person is illegal, 1567.
 All persons are competent to apprehend persons in the actual commission of public crimes, 1568, 2443.
 Mere abuse without threats does not warrant a police officer in arresting without warrant, 1568a.
 Candidates for employment should not be allowed to arrest persons who have absconded, 1569.
 No process to be issued on a criminal charge or information from a person known to be a goindah without evidence to the truth of it, 401.
 Goindah not to be entrusted with the execution of any criminal process, id.
 If any prosecutor, or witness, or defendant, for whose attendance process is issued, be absent or has absconded, an engagement is to be taken from the head person of the village to produce him on his return, or to give information at the thana of his arrival, 1570—penalty for deceit or failure in such engagement, 1571.
 A public officer issuing process may be personally present at the execution of it, 1572.
 The court which issued the process of arrest is alone competent to release the prisoner, 1573.

A defendant in attendance on a criminal court is not liable to arrest under a civil process, 1574—nor one in attendance on a collector's court, id.—but the protection lasts only during a reasonable period allowed for going, staying, and returning, id.—plaintiffs and witnesses appear to be equally exempt from arrest under such circumstances, 1574a.
 Civil court cannot require from a magistrate delivery on civil process of the person of a prisoner on the expiration of his imprisonment in the criminal jail, 1575.
 Police officers of one zillah may not be arrested in another, while in the execution of their duty, 1576.
 Process of joint-magistrate to be issued under his official seal and signature, and executed by his own or the magistrate's officers, 743.
 Processes of law officers and native judges to be issued under their own signatures, but under the seal and through the officers of the magistrate, 826.
 In cases of complaints made before civil magistrate against residents in military cantonments, he may issue process of mere citation without arrest therein as in any other part of his jurisdiction, 293, 294—but process of arrest must be countersigned by the commanding officer, 294.
 Processes for attendance of witnesses before courts martial may be enforced by the magistrate, 326.
 See COMPLAINTS.

Summons.

Of magistrate—to bear his official seal and signature, and to be served by a single peon, or on the general mokhtar of the defendant at the station, 1577.
 Must specify the offence, and require the accused to attend in person or by vakeel on a certain day, 1578.
 If bail is required, the extent must be specified in the summons, 1579.
 Warrant may be issued on neglect of summons, 1580.
 Warrant may be issued on failure to serve summons, if due diligence is proved, 1581.
 If bail is not required, the accused is to give an acknowledgment of the receipt of the summons; or in his absence the principal person of the family may give the receipt, 1582.
 Magistrate may instruct officer serving summons to receive a razeenamah from the plaintiff as a sufficient return to the process, id.
Of police officer—to bear his official seal and signature, and to be served by a single burkundaz, or through an accredited agent of the accused on the spot, and willing to receive it, 1583—not to be delivered to complainant to serve on the accused, id.
 If bail is not required, the burkundaz is to demand only an acknowledgment of the receipt of the process, 1584—if the defendant is absent the summons may be served on the principal person of the family willing to receive it, id.
 Forms of summons requiring and not requiring bail, 1585.
 Warrant may be issued on neglect of summons, 1586—form, id.

Warrant.

Of magistrate—to bear his official seal and signature, to specify the crime charged, and to require the officer serving it to apprehend the accused, 1587—to be directed to the nazir, id.
 If bail may be received, with or without security to keep the peace, the amounts required are to be specified in the warrant, 1588.
 Forms of bail-bond and security for keeping the peace, 1589.
 No warrants may be issued for the apprehension of persons not expressly named therein, 1590—sessions courts to notice violations of this rule, id.

Warrant.—Continued.

Session judge cannot prohibit the issue of warrant to apprehend a released convict, or other particular individual, 841.

Of police officer—to bear his seal and signature, 1591—to be served by the jemadar and burkundazes; and the mode of execution to be certified on the back of the process which is to be sent to the magistrate, 1592.

If the darogah apprehends resistance, or if the assistance of the landholder is necessary for the due execution of the process, he is to require it in writing on the face of the warrant, 1593.

Darogahs, mohurirs, or jemadars of police may apprehend, without a written warrant, persons taken in the act, or detected with stolen goods, or against whom a general hte and cry is raised, 1594—but mere abuse without threats, or attempt to rescue does not justify arrest without warrant, 1568a.

Dwelling houses are not to be forcibly entered without necessity; but if the police officer has certain information that a person charged with a heinous offence is concealed therein, and such person does not deliver himself up, he may break open all the doors except that of a zenanah, 1595—if he has information that the accused is concealed in the zenanah, he is to ascertain the fact by creditable women, and may then break open the door, giving notice to the women to withdraw, 1596.

The powers vested in the police for the service and execution of process, are equally applicable to all officers entrusted with the execution of the process of a magistrate, 1597.

Police officers wilfully abusing and perverting their powers of arrest are liable to exemplary punishment and dismissal, 1598—so, any officer guilty of such acts when executing process of magistrate, 1599.

Magistrates to be careful that the police officers do not make unnecessary arrests, 1600.

Execution of, in the salt and opium departments.

By police officer.—In bailable cases process to be sent under a sealed cover to the agent, or head native officer, who is to give or to direct sufficient security to be given, certifying the service of the process on the back of it, and by whom the security is given, or sending the accused to the thana, 1601.

In bailable cases the accused is not to be forced to appear till after the manufacturing season, unless it is necessary, 1602.

Summonses on such persons to attend as witnesses are to be served as above, but a recognizance is to be taken in lieu of security, 1603.

Warrants for offences not bailable are to be served upon such persons as upon others; but the darogah is to give notice to the agent or head officer, after having secured the offender, 1604.

By magistrate.—If process is issued to a salt agent or his assistant, it is to be sent to him in a sealed cover, and to be returned by him in a sealed cover duly endorsed, 1605.

In the case of process issued against persons concerned in the provision of salt under a salt agent, when charged with a bailable offence, the warrant is to be sent in a sealed cover to the agent, and is to require the attendance of the party in person or by vakeel during or after the manufacturing season, and to specify the amount of security required, 1606—the agent may himself or by another person execute such security, his guarantee of the security being sufficient, or he may cause the accused to be conveyed before the court, id.—the agent is to appoint persons at the sudder station to execute such securities, and the magistrate may send the process to such persons, id.—officer serving the process how to proceed, if it is served in the ordinary form on a person employed in the salt manufacture from the prosecutor failing to specify that the accused is so employed, id.

Execution of, in the salt and opium departments.—Continued.

Agent to endorse on the process in what manner it has been served, and by whom the security has been executed, 1607.

How to arrest such persons accused of offences not bailable, 1608.

Personal responsibility of agent for the performance of the condition of security for appearance given by himself or his officers, 1609.

Notices to such persons to appear as witnesses to be served as if they were parties; but not to be summoned unnecessarily; and to be detained as short a time as possible, 1610.

Salt agents and their officers may be sued in the civil court for improper application of these rules, 1611.

The observance of these rules may be dispensed with on special occasions; but the reasons for the deviation must be recorded, and the special order must be noted in the process, id.

Superintendents of salt chokees to keep the magistrate informed of their situations, and of the officers attached to them, 1614.

Process how to be served on officers of salt chokees when charged with bailable offences, 1615—with offences not bailable, 1616—when summoned as witnesses, 1617—discretion vested in magistrate to deviate from these rules, 1618.

These rules regarding the magistrate's process do not apply to the opium department, 1612a.

Execution of, within the limits of the supreme court.

Nizamut adawlut may execute as in other places, 1699—process must be in writing, with an English translation annexed, and signed by a judge of the court, id.

Mofussil courts to send process to be endorsed by magistrate having jurisdiction within the limits of the supreme court, 1700—if the magistrate objects to endorse any process, he may refer it to a judge of the court, id.

Mofussil courts may cause execution by sending a certified copy and English translation of the process to be presented to a judge of the supreme court, who may endorse it and direct it to be executed by the sheriff or a justice of the peace, 1701.

Such copy to be delivered to sheriff, who is to make a memorandum of the date of such delivery, and to execute it (without distinction) as a process of the supreme court, 1702.

Sheriff may be proceeded against in the supreme court for all matters touching the execution, as if the process had issued from the supreme court, 1703.

Persons seized or detained under such process are to be delivered to the persons specified in the endorsement of the judge, and are for that purpose to be conveyed to any place beyond the limits of the supreme court, 1705—but an officer is always to be deputed to receive charge of the person arrested, 1713.

Judge of supreme court may always remit the process for amendment to the authority issuing it, if it appears defective in form, 1706.

In the case of a process for the seizure or detention of any person, the judge of the supreme court may direct that bail be taken; and for this purpose may call for such documents and make such enquiry as he thinks proper, 1707.

Every process is to be directed to the justices of the peace, but sent to the solicitor to government by dak or by a peon, 1708—the solicitor is to obtain the judge's endorsement and then to forward it to the police office for execution, id.

Magistrates and other public officers are bound to give every assistance to the enforcement of a writ of the supreme court; but they cannot remove tenants having tenures and rights of which they cannot be deprived by a mere change of proprietor, 1716.

A magistrate was held right in not giving forcible aid to expel from possession a party who held under a decree of a competent provincial court; and was directed merely to prevent a breach of the peace, 1717.

Remarks of the chief justice of the supreme court in regard to assistance to be given in the execution of writs of that court, 1718.

Resistance of process.

All persons concerned in resisting legal process, or in attempting to rescue a prisoner, are to be apprehended by the police and forwarded to the magistrate, 1719.

Resistance to service of legal process, although irregularly served, is a misdemeanor, 3750.

The officer serving the process is not bound to exhibit the warrant upon which he acts, if no demand is made for a sight of it; and such omission to produce it will not justify resistance, 3749.

In cases of actual rescue or violent resistance, the darogah may call in the aid of the police of adjacent thanas, 1719.

If resistance to process is charged before a magistrate on oath, he may cause the accused to be apprehended and brought before him, 1720.

If the accused absconds, or cannot be apprehended, a written vernacular proclamation, requiring the accused to appear within a fixed period, not less than a month, is to be publicly read and proclaimed by beat of drum, and affixed in a conspicuous part of the cutcherry, and on the outer door of the house of the accused or on some conspicuous place in his village, 1720.

Before issuing such proclamation magistrate to satisfy himself that there is such proof as involves a strong presumption of guilt, 1721.

Lists of such persons to be examined and revised by commissioners in communication with the magistrates; those against whom a sufficiency of proof does not exist to be struck out, 1722.

When such proclamation is issued through a police darogah, he is, in the presence of two or more creditable witnesses not connected with the police, to cause such proclamation to be publicly read and promulgated by beat of drum, and affixed in the thana, and on the outer door of the party's usual dwelling or some conspicuous place in the village, 1723.

If the offender does not appear on the expiration of the period, the darogah is to certify the mode in which the proclamation was issued with all particulars, and to send witnesses to prove the due publication, 1724.

After expiry of term fixed in proclamation, judgment may be had whether defendant is present or not, 1725.

If the offender is a landholder within the zillah, his lands may be declared forfeited to government, 1726—magistrate to issue precept to collector, who will cause the lands to be attached, id.

The collector is to afford the magistrate information to assist him in identifying and specifying property, and after receipt of precept is to take possession of the lands or property specified and manage them; objections of third parties to be referred to the magistrate, 1727—resistance to collector is resistance of magistrate's process, id.

If a claim is preferred to property attached, the magistrate is not to direct its release before examining the validity of the claim, 1728.

The collector cannot sell attached property for expenses incurred in management, 1729.

If the offender is a sudder farmer in the zillah, his lease may be declared cancelled, 1730—the magistrate to issue precept to collector, who will cause the lands to be attached, id.

If the offender is a landholder or sudder farmer in any other zillah, the same provisions apply, 1731.

Such orders are not considered final and conclusive until confirmed by the nizamut adawlut, to whom a copy of the proceeding is to be immediately sent, 1732—the nizamut adawlut may commute the forfeiture of the lands to a fine, or confirm the judgment of the magistrate, 1733—in the latter case the proceedings are to be forwarded to government for final order, id.—if government confirms the forfeiture, notice is to be sent to the collector, id.—if the judgment of forfeiture is set aside, the magistrate is to require the collector by precept to remove the attachment, id.

If the offender is not a landholder or sudder farmer, he is to be adjudged to pay a fine; and the magistrate may immediately attach his property under the rules for the execution of a decree of a civil court, 1734—if the prisoner is apprehended, such fine on failure of property may be commuted to imprisonment, id.

In minor cases the magistrate may, if he judges it sufficient, pass the same sentence as in other petty offences without reference to the nizamut adawlut, 1735.

In all cases the magistrate may, if he judges it sufficient, pass sentence of fine of 200 rupees, commutable to 6 months' imprisonment, in lieu of forfeiture, without reference to the nizamut adawlut, but subject to appeal, 1736.

The police officer serving the warrant may immediately attach the movable property of persons who have resisted process, and are not landholders or sudder farmers, if its removal unless attached may be expected, 1744—the magistrate is to issue orders for releasing the property or continuing the attachment; and until the receipt of such instructions the police are only to prevent a removal of the property, 1748—inventory of articles attached to be taken in the presence of witnesses and attested; and the property is to be put in charge of some of the respectable inhabitants who are to give an acknowledgment for the same, 1749—such property is to be carefully preserved; and a full account rendered on the removal of the attachment, 1750—if the proclaimed person does not appear within the fixed period, such property may be sold to make good any fine imposed upon him, 1751.

Bail is admissible on a charge of resistance of process, unless the defendant is also accused of some aggravating crime, 1755.

Persons charged with resistance may appear by vakeel, 1756.

When a process issued by a court in one zillah and backed by the court of another, is resisted, it is considered resistance of the process of that court within whose jurisdiction it took place, 1757.

PROCESSES.—Continued.

Resistance is not punishable as an affray, 1758.
 Resistance of process or resisting the police does not amount to rebellion, 3861.
 Case of simple resistance cannot be committed to the sessions, 1760.
 Forceful resistance of process is not justified by a disregard of rules on the part of the police, 1761—nor by a doubt as to the legality of the process, 1761a.
 Precedents of cases, 1762, 1763.
 If a landholder or other person entrusted with a warrant for the apprehension of a person who has absconded, applies to the police for co-operation and support, every possible aid is to be given; and report to be made to magistrate, 1765—resistance to such process is punishable as resistance to process of magistrate, 2435. See LANDHOLDERS, duty in the apprehension of offenders.
 If police officers executing warrant for the apprehension of a person charged with a heinous crime, or pursuing a robber or murderer immediately after the commission of the crime, or resisting him in his attempt to commit crime, wound or slay such person, they are to be held guiltless, 1766.
 Of superintendent of police, punishable under the above rules, 1968—so, of joint-magistrate, 743.
 So, of the collector of tolls, supervisor of rivers, or their officers, 3207. See LOCAL NUISANCES, rivers.
Of civil court :—judge should dispose himself of common cases, 1767—making over cases attended with a breach of the peace to the magistrate, but without passing any opinion, id.—the appeal from the magistrate's order will lie to himself as session judge, id.—resistance to persons legally authorized to distrain is a criminal act, although the distress is irregularly levied, 1768—case of affray in resisting a fraudulent distraint, 1769—magistrate cannot authorize the police to break open a house to search for a person forcibly rescued from civil process, 1770—civil judge cannot call upon the magistrate to enforce his orders, 1771.
Of collector :—police officers are to aid and support the execution of all process and orders issued by a collector engaged in making or revising a settlement, on his responsibility, and revenue officers are to be held guiltless if an affray or breach of the peace ensues from resistance being made to such process, 1772—but collector cannot issue orders direct to the police officers except in emergent cases; in ordinary cases he is to communicate his apprehensions of resistance to the darogah who is responsible, 1773—police cannot issue process on the mere requisition of a collectorate ameen, 1774—collector may try all cases of resistance to his process unless where actual breaches of the peace occur, in which event the case must be tried by the magistrate, 1775—collector's decree for the ejectment or reinstatement of a ryot, to be carried into effect by magistrate, if opposed, 1772a.

Evasion of process.

If any person charged with a criminal offence evades process by absconding or concealing himself, the magistrate is to cause a written proclamation, requiring him to appear within a fixed period not less than one month, to be published by beat of drum, and to be affixed in some part of his catcherry, and on the outer door of the accused person's usual dwelling, or in some conspicuous place in the village, 1787.
 When such proclamation is issued through a police darogah, he is, in the presence of creditable witnesses unconnected with the police, to cause such proclamation to be publicly read and promulgated by beat of drum, and to be affixed in the thana, and on the outer door of the party's usual dwelling, or in some conspicuous place in the village, 1723.

If the party does not appear at the expiration of the period, the darogah is to certify the mode in which the proclamation was issued with all particulars, and to send witnesses to prove the due publication, 1724—and the magistrate is then to order the attachment of any land or other real property held by him in the following manner, 1737.
 If the absentee is a landholder or sudder farmer, the magistrate is to issue a precept to the collector to attach the land; and the collector is to comply with such requisition subject to the instructions of the commissioner of revenue, to whom he is to make an immediate report, 1738.
 So, if he is in any capacity the tenant of landed property capable of attachment, 1739.
 So, if he possesses land or other immovable property, or a sudder farm, in any other zillah, 1740.
 In all such cases the attachment is to be removed on the attendance of the absentee; and a full and fair account rendered of all receipts and disbursements, 1741—the attachment cannot be continued after his appearance, if he appears within 6 months, 1742.
 If the absentee does not attend within 6 months, the magistrate is to report to government for the future disposal of the lands, 1743.
 The police officer serving the warrant may immediately attach the movable property of person evading process, on a charge of a heinous nature, if he is not a landholder or sudder farmer, and if there is reason to expect that it will be removed if not attached, 1744—report of such attachment is to be forwarded to the magistrate, id.—who will issue orders for the release of the property or the continuance of the attachment; and until the receipt of such instructions the police are merely to prevent a removal of the property, 1748—an inventory of the articles attached is to be taken in the presence of witnesses and attested; and the property is to be put in charge of some of the respectable inhabitants, who are to give an acknowledgment for the same, 1749—such property is to be carefully preserved by the person in charge, and a full account of it is to be rendered when the attachment is removed on the appearance of the party, 1750—at the end of 6 months a report is to be made to government for the disposal of the property, 1751—form of report, 1752—in W. P. such reports are to be submitted quarterly by commissioner, 1753.
 Meaning of term, heinous offence, 1745, 1746, 1747.
 These provisions are applicable only to persons charged with a crime, but not convicted; they cannot therefore be applied to the case of a person absconding after sentence and pending appeal, 1754.
 Evasion of process cannot be punished as a contempt of court; the magistrate must proceed under the above rules, 1759.
 The right of appeal is barred during the evasion of process; and the appellate court cannot suspend execution of the magistrate's sentence pending the appeal, 1825.
 Register to be kept up of persons absconded, 1764.

PROCLAMATIONS.

Magistrates are not to address publications of a general nature to the inhabitants of the provinces without the sanction of government; or in cases not admitting of delay without the knowledge and concurrence of the nearest local authority to which they are subject, 687.

PROCLAMATIONS.—Continued.

So, the superintendent of police is to be furnished with a copy of all general or circular orders which the magistrate wishes to issue to his police; and he may rescind, alter, or modify any such orders, id.—but the session judge is not to interfere, id.—in more important matters such orders must be submitted to government, id.

Serious notice will be taken of any breach of these rules, id.

PROSECUTION.

When the evidence for the prosecution is clearly insufficient to prove the charge against the prisoner, it is unnecessary to take the defence, 1182.

Witnesses for the prosecution may be re-examined for the defence, 1193.

PROSECUTOR.

In ordinary cases should attend person to institute and conduct the prosecution before the magistrate and the sessions court, 1088.

But his attendance is not indispensable when substantial reasons can be shown for his non-attendance, 1087, 1088.

The superior courts are to restrain any ill-judged exercise of the discretion vested in the magistrate to dispense with attendance, 1088.

In the sessions court the attendance of the prosecutor is necessary in cases in which the Mahomedan law requires the prosecutor to appear in person, 1089—but in cases of murder, wounding, &c., the refusal of the heir, or the person injured, to prosecute is no bar to the legality of the trial, 1432, 3903.

The judge may always require the attendance of the prosecutor, if his vivâ voce evidence is necessary, except in the case of native ladies of rank, 1089—but he may use his discretion in proceeding with the trial during the absence of the prosecutor, or in postponing it, 1258. See POSTPONED TRIALS.

In cases committed to sessions, recognizance for appearance to be taken from prosecutor and witnesses, 379.

Prosecutors to execute muchalkas before the police officers to appear before the magistrate, 490—on plain paper, 491.

Police officers are prohibited from subjecting prosecutors to any degree of restraint, except when their complaints appear on inquiry to be false and malicious, 492.

PUBLIC WORKS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY.

All public functionaries are required to receive charge of public property, when the officer having custody is unable from any circumstances to retain charge of it, 686.

Magistrates are to take all the means in their power to trace out and punish persons committing malicious injuries on public property, such as the removal of mill-stones, stealth of flag-stones from surface drains, destruction of bridges, and the cutting through of roads and embankments, 3197.

Police darogahs are to prevent all encroachments on the public roads, and to report the circumstances to the magistrate, 2359.

PUBLIC WORKS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY.—Continued.

Magistrates cannot compel landholders to repair the public roads passing through their villages or estates, 2458.
 Plans and other documents relating to public works are to be countersigned by civil officers; but such countersignature is not deemed to imply a tacit approbation or confirmation of the statements contained in such documents, 1941—dates of receipt and return of such statements to be noted, id. *

QUESTIONS OF LAW.

Whenever the magistrate is doubtful as to the law, he should apply to the law officer for assistance, 714—or to the legal remembrancer, 715.
 In any case of doubt, when the regulations contain no specific enactment on the point in question, the magistrate should take a futwa from the law officer, and proceed in conformity with his exposition of the Mahomedan law, 1263.
 A futwa on any point of Mahomedan law may, if necessary, be required by the session judge without the attendance of the law officer on the trial, 1262.
 Questions relating to points of law that arise during the course of any trial, and respecting which no specific rules have been enacted, are to be referred to the law officer, and the judge is to regulate his proceedings by the opinions of such officer, 1296—if such opinions appear contrary to natural justice, or to the Mahomedan law, he is nevertheless to be guided by them, but is to refer the trial without passing sentence, id.

SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE.

General character and conditions.

- Session judge cannot alter his sentence, once passed; he must report to the nizamut adawlut, 1274—in a case under Act IV, 1840 he cannot be allowed to review his judgment, 3216.
- Judge should pass sentence in the most public manner, explaining to the prisoners the enormity of their crimes; and publicly explaining the provisions of recent penal enactments, 1275.
- Where the regulations prescribe a stated penalty for an offence, the provisions of the Mahomedan law are superseded, 1276.
- A promise not to prosecute does not bar a capital sentence, 1277.
- Capital sentence may be passed, although the body of the deceased person has not been found, 1278, 3914a.
- No criminal is to suffer the punishment of mutilation, 1279—a futwa for the amputation of two limbs is to be commuted to imprisonment for 14 years, of one limb to imprisonment for 7 years, id.
- Session judge may always in passing sentence exempt the prisoner from hard labor, 1280.
- If judge tries a case which is within the competence of the magistrate, he should confine his award within the limits prescribed to the latter, 1281.
- The measure of the sentence should not depend on the fulness or incompleteness of the proof, 1282.
- The sentence must be for a fixed period, 1213a.
- If the session judge recommends imprisonment for life in Ali-pore jail, he is to record his reasons for not recommending transportation, 1283.
- Power of session judge to fine is unrestricted except when defined by a specific regulation, 1344—but this rule has effect in the lower provinces only, id.—imprisonment awarded by a session judge in lieu of fine must be temporary, 1342.
- If the futwa awards deyat in other cases than murder or culpable homicide, the judge is to commute it to imprisonment, 1343—if the judge commutes to imprisonment for life, the trial must be referred, id.

When trial is referrible, and whether sentence is to be passed or not.

- If the futwa is consonant to natural justice and to law, sentence is to be passed in the terms of the futwa, and the warrant issued without further reference or delay, 1284.
- But if futwa adjudges death or imprisonment for life, the trial must be referred, id.
- Judge may refer any case in which he considers the sentence within his competence inadequate, 1285.
- If the judge disapproves of the proceedings, or of the futwa, he is not to pass sentence, but to refer the trial, 1286.
- A difference of opinion as to the aggravated character of the offence is not a legitimate ground of reference, 1287.
- Difference between judge and law officer as to degree of guilt, no ground of reference, 1288.
- Judge may sentence for privy to any offence, of which the principals have been previously convicted and sentenced, 1289.
- The judge is not to pass sentence, if he disapprove of the futwa, or if any of the prisoners be liable to death; or if he considers the sentence within his competency insufficient; but to refer, 1291.
- Judge is to pass sentence if he approve of the futwa, and if none of the prisoners be liable to death; but in referrible trials such sentence is not to be issued, id.
- If the trial of the principal be referred, the sentence passed upon an accomplice is not to be issued until the final order of the nizamut adawlut be received, id.—but accomplices acquitted are to be released at once notwithstanding that the case is referred as to the principal, id.

When trial is referrible, and whether sentence is to be passed or not.—Continued.

- If the session judge refers the trial, because he differs from the law officer as to some of the prisoners only, he is to pass sentence on the other prisoners, 1292—but such sentence is not to be carried into execution until the receipt of the orders of the nizamut adawlut, 1293—though it must be passed, 1294—in such cases the judge is to point out those parts of the proceedings and evidence which affect the prisoners regarding whom the case is referred; and the nizamut adawlut need only revise such parts of the proceedings as affect them, 1292—but may revise the whole, 1293.
- Trial must be referred if the judge and law officer differ on any other grounds than those especially provided for in the regulations, 1295.
- All questions of law, unprovided for by the regulations, are to be referred to the law officer, and the judge is to regulate his proceedings by the opinions of such officer, 1296—the futwa of the law officer on any point of law may be required although he is not sitting on the trial, 1245, 1262—if however the opinions of the law officer appear contrary to natural justice, or to Mahomedan law, the judge is to be guided by them, but is to refer the trial without passing sentence, 1296.
- If the law officer reject the evidence, because the witnesses do not profess the Mahomedan religion, he is to be required to state what his futwa would have been if the witnesses had been Mahomedans; and the trial is to be referred without passing sentence, 1297.
- If the law officer reject evidence, because the witness is a police officer, or on any ground of exception in the Mahomedan rules of evidence which appears unreasonable and insufficient, he is to be required to state to what sentence the prisoner would have been liable if such evidence had been admissible, 1298—if the conviction depend exclusively or principally on that evidence, the trial is to be referred without passing sentence, id.—as where the principal evidence was that of two women, 1299.
- If the trial has been held without the law officer, and the crime has not been declared to be a penal offence, sentence is not to be passed, and the trial is to be referred, 1312a.
- If the law officer acquits and the judge convicts, sentence is not to be passed and the trial is to be referred, 1300.
- If the prisoner is committed on two counts, and the judge convicts only on one, and the law officer only on the other, sentence is not to be passed, and the trial is to be referred, 1301.
- Examples of trials which must be referred, 1302, 1303.
- Examples of trials which are not necessarily referrible, 1304, 1305.
- The mere concealment of the body is no ground of reference, if the homicide appear justifiable, 1306.

Discretionary punishment.

- When the prisoner is liable to discretionary punishment, the futwa is to declare the grounds of conviction, leaving the measure of punishment to be determined by the judge, 1307.
- If the crime has been specifically provided for by any regulation, sentence is to be passed accordingly, or the trial referred, 1308.
- If the crime has not been provided for by any regulation, but subjects the prisoner to the penalty of hadd or kuas under the Mahomedan law, and such sentence is barred by a defect in the evidence, 1309—or by some special exception or scrupulous distinction, not affecting the nature and criminality of the offence, and evidently repugnant to the principles of equal justice, 1310—a second futwa is to be required setting aside such exceptions, 1309, 1310.
- Rule where the specific penalty is remitted or mitigated under the Mahomedan law by circumstances which alter the nature or diminish the criminality of the offence, 1311.

SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE.—Continued.Discretionary punishment.—Continued.

If the crime has been declared by a precedent of the nizamat adawlut to be a penal offence, judge may pass sentence; if not, he must refer, 1812a.

No punishment is to be inflicted on suspicion only, or weak presumption of guilt, 1313—but on proof of bad character security may be required, id.

If the crime has not been specifically provided for by any regulation or by Mahomedan law, the sentence may extend to corporal punishment and imprisonment with labor for 7 years, 1314—this admits the award of a fine commutable to imprisonment, but not to imprisonment and fine with further imprisonment in default, 1315—if such sentence appears insufficient, the trial is to be referred, 1314.

Under a futwa of hukoomut-i-udl, the judge may award imprisonment for 7 years, or refer the trial if such sentence appears inadequate, 1316—if the futwa is for tazeer as well as hukoomut-i-udl, corporal punishment may be added, 1316n.

Conviction of two or more offences.

If the aggregate penalties exceed stripes and imprisonment for 14 years, the judge is to pass consolidated sentence not exceeding stripes and imprisonment in banishment for 14 years, 1317—unless such sentence is inadequate, in which case he is to refer the trial, id.

The same principle applies if a person under sentence is convicted a second time for an offence committed prior to his first conviction; but not if the second offence is subsequent to the conviction for the first offence, 1318.

Consolidated sentence for distinct offences must not exceed in amount the aggregate of the penalties that might have been imposed, 1319.

If the prisoner is liable on the first conviction to the maximum punishment, he need not be tried on any further charge, except when such further charge would subject him to death or imprisonment for life, 1320—but judge must report in such case; and nizamat adawlut may order further trial, id.

These rules are not affected by regulations prescribing a minimum penalty, 1321.

The judge must try a sufficient number of cases to warrant a maximum sentence, 1322—but need try no more, id.

Example of case in which the nizamat adawlut required another charge to be tried, 1323.

In such cases the trials are to be kept distinct; and separate futwas taken, on each of which the judge is to record his assent or dissent; each trial to refer to the one last tried, which includes the final order on all the cases, 1324.

If labor is commutable to fine in one case only the sentences should be kept distinct, 1325.

Mahomedan law for consolidation of sentences, 1326.

Precedent, 1327.

See LABOR AND IRONS, and JAIL, warrants for execution of sentence, and execution of sentence.

SEPOYS.

Offences committed by. See MILITARY CANTONMENTS, and MILITARY GUARDS.

Not to wear their uniform while absent from their corps, unless on public service, 2374—persons disobeying this order to be deprived of their dress by military commanding officers and magistrates; unless they are in the military service of government, in which case they are to be sent to their corps, 2375—police officers are to apprehend persons wearing military dress, id. 2376—or sepoy wearing their uniform while on leave, 2377.

Police officers cannot call upon native officers and soldiers on furlough for their leave of absence certificates, except under the immediate instructions of the magistrate, 2368.

SEPOYS.—Continued.

Commanding officers may apply to the civil authorities for aid in the apprehension of deserters; and subordinate police officers, when authorized, may detain persons suspected of desertion, id.

See SOLDIERS' NECESSARIES.

SERVANTS.

Private servants not to be employed in the execution of public duties, 4742—extorting money on the plea of exerting influence in the decision of cases, 4386—taking money to procure an official situation, 4387.

Public servants not to be employed in the performance of private business, 4743—salary of, may be attached as other property; and the disbursing officer is bound to assist in effecting the attachment, 2550.

Of military officers, see MILITARY CANTONMENTS.

Stealing their master's property, 4185.

In what cases appropriation by, of master's property, amounts to theft, 4169.

Quitting service, and suits for wages.

Domestic servants engaged for a fixed term, or a specific service, or employed from month to month, and wilfully quitting the service before the expiration of the term, or before the completion of the stipulated service, or with respect to monthly servants before giving 15 days' notice, liable to imprisonment for one month, 4707.

Magistrate may also compel the completion of the term or the specific service; and a subsequent conviction of neglect is punishable by a further sentence not exceeding two months, 4706—but beyond such further sentence the magistrate can take no measure to compel the performance of the work engaged for, 4708.

But no servant is liable to punishment, if it is proved that his quitting the service was occasioned by gross ill-treatment, or by non-payment of wages due, or other sufficient excuse, 4718.

Cases may be prosecuted in the district in which the agreement was executed, or in that in which the defendant resides, 4709.

If employed for a fixed term, or for a specific service, or from month to month, may not be discharged, against his will, before the expiration of the fixed term, or the completion of the specified service, or with respect to a monthly servant without 15 days' notice or paying his wages for that period, 4716.

In such cases the magistrate is to award half a month's wages in addition to all arrears; or in the case of a fixed term or specific service, by payment of due compensation, 4717—but if discharged for proved misconduct, the award is to be for arrears of wages only, 4718.

Complaints for arrears of wages should ordinarily be brought within a year from the cause of action, 4719.

Such complaints must be preferred on oath, id.

Any amount of wages may be recovered, id.

Such awards to be levied by distress and sale of personal property, 4720.

These rules do not apply to a mokhtar, 4710—nor to a gomastah of an indigo planter superintending an out-factory, 4711—nor to village chokeedar, 4712—nor to contractors for supply of hakeris and bullocks, 4713.

Beparis in the service of government suing for wages are to be referred to the civil court, 4714.

Assistants vested with special powers may dispose of such cases, 4721.

Cases decided by the criminal authorities under these provisions are not open to a civil action; nor can the civil court interfere with the magistrate's order, 4722.

SERVANTS.—Continued.Quitting service, and suits for wages.—Continued.

European British subjects may sue under these provisions, but are not liable as defendants, 4723—but magistrate may take cognizance of such complaints against them under 53 Geo. III. cap. 155, sect. 106, 4728*n*, and 4625.

SESSION JUDGE.

Appointment, 1110.

Oath, 1111.

Oath to be taken and recorded and the fact reported to the sudder court, 1112.

General duties.

Government may determine, and may define the respective powers of judge and commissioner, 1113.

To try the commitments made by the magistrate as soon as convenient, 1114—jail-delivery to be held in each district once a month, id.

General duties, to try commitments, and to dispose of appeals, 1115—he has no general power of superintendence over the proceedings of the magistrate, 972, 1116—and he cannot issue general instructions to the magistrate, 1126—but he may exercise supervision over his proceedings, and report when necessary to the sudder court, 1115, 1851.

General powers.

The same as those formerly confided to commissioners of circuit, 1116—i. e. the powers previously exercised by the courts of circuit collectively, 1116*n*.

On conclusion of trial, to pass sentence of conviction or acquittal, or to refer the trial under the rules previously applicable to commissioners of circuit, 1117. See SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE.

Power to fine is unrestricted, except when defined by a specific regulation, 1118—but this rule is confined to the lower provinces, id.

To report misconduct or disobedience on the part of the magistrate, 1119—or cases of palpable disregard of the forms of law on the part of a magisterial officer, 1120—may report in the statements or by a separate letter, 1221—the latter course is preferable, 1221*a*.

To propose new rules for the trials of prisoners, the administration of justice, or the police of the country, 1121.

To submit annual report on the system of administering the criminal laws, and other matters deserving of notice, 1122—comprehending such information of the condition of the district as local experience supplies, 1123—copy of such parts of the report as relate to the state of the police to be sent to the superintendent of police, 1124.

Not to exercise any supervision over the conduct of a preliminary investigation by the police, 1125—but should report irregularities to superintendent of police, id.

To furnish the superintendent of police with copies of the statements reporting the number and nature of the offences committed, id.

Government may appoint another officer to hold the sessions, 1128—same rules applicable to him, 1127.

To proceed to out-stations W. P. every other month, or once a quarter, according to distance, 1129—making over charge to the principal sudder ameen, id.

Commissioners of circuit to hold sessions in the absence of the judge, 1130.

Session judge to report if he is unable to hold the sessions, 1131.

Duty of commissioner when session duties are reserved to him, 1132.

SESSION JUDGE.—Continued.General powers.—Continued.

Cannot order a magistrate not to issue process to apprehend a released convict, or other particular individual, 341—nor interfere to bar trial, 341*a*—nor direct apprehension of parties, 342—nor direct a different charge to be laid against a prisoner acquitted, 342*a*.

In appealed cases, may exercise the same power as a magistrate in punishing malicious complaints; but cannot punish the prosecutor on such account in cases committed to the sessions, 398.

All fines imposed by the magistrate for the non-attendance of witnesses, or for refusal to give evidence, must be reported to session judge, 448.

May admit prisoners to bail in cases declared not bailable, 1630—may direct the magistrate to reduce the amount of bail, id.—in cases committed to the sessions may always admit to bail, 1631—and in referred trials pending reference, 1632—may direct the magistrate to admit prisoners to bail without examining proceedings, 1636—should generally admit to bail through the magistrate, 1638.

To visit the jail monthly, and to note the date of visit in the order book, 2599*a*—but cannot issue orders direct to jail officers regarding the management of the jails, 2597—may interfere in a case of emergency, 2599*b*.

May order the dismissal of any native ministerial officer convicted of an offence declared punishable by dismissal, or whose conduct appears from any proceeding before him to require his removal, 2480.

If in the course of a trial he see reason to impute misconduct to any darogah or other police officer, he may certify the same to the commissioner of circuit, intimating to the nizamat adawlut that he has done so, 1222—and may direct the removal of a police officer convicted before him of an offence declared punishable by dismissal, 2059—but not without trial and conviction, and only for such offences, 2059*a*.

May fine an officer of the magistrate's establishment for negligence or disrespect while in attendance at the sessions, 1225.

Officer other than the judge holding the sessions.

To be guided by the same rules as the session judge, 1127.

Government may direct any commissioner, or judge, not being the magistrate by whom the commitments were made, to hold the sessions, 1128.

Instructions issued to an additional session judge, 1128*n*.

Commissioner of circuit to hold the sessions, without reference to government or the nizamat adawlut, if from absence or indisposition the session judge is unable for a month to perform the duty, or if the judge has made the commitment, 1130.

Session judge to report, if he is unable from such cause to hold the sessions, in the Western provinces to the commissioner, in the Lower provinces to the nizamat adawlut, 1131—or to government; and to state at which of the neighbouring tribunals the cause can be most conveniently tried with advantage to the residence of the parties concerned, 1140.

If the session duties are reserved to the commissioner, he is to try the commitments as soon as is practicable, 1132.

When previously concerned in the case.

Judge cannot try a commitment made by himself as magistrate or in any other capacity, 1133.

Nor when, in the case of a foreign territory, he had applied to government for permission to commit, 1134.

Nor where he had previously as magistrate committed other persons in the case, 1136.

Cannot take cognizance of appeals from orders passed by himself as magistrate or in any other capacity, 1135.

Can try a case in which he is himself cited as a witness, 1134*a*.

Can try a person committed by himself for perjury or subornation thereof, 1137.

Can try, if he as civil judge made over the case to the magistrate, and the magistrate committed on his own discretion, 1138.

And must take cognizance of the appeal from the order of the magistrate, where he as civil judge made over the prisoner to the magistrate to be punished or not at his discretion (as for resistance to civil process), 1139.

When the judge from any such cause is prevented from taking up a case, he is to report to government stating to which of the neighbouring tribunals the case can be most conveniently referred with advertence to the residence of the parties concerned, 1140.

Miscellaneous rules.

How far he may close his court in the vacations and on holidays, 1141.

May employ his head clerk to attest copies of decrees and documents granted on stamp or plain paper, to attest copies of proceedings sent to other courts, and to register mokhtarnamahs in English, preparing them for the judge's attestation, 1142—but the head clerk cannot attest any document which is not previously attested and certified by the head ministerial native officer, id.

To address applications for leave of absence direct to the judicial secretary to government, 1882—in W. P. through the sudder court, 1883—and to forward therewith a statement of business pending in all departments, 1143—before availing himself of leave, the judge must prepare the statement of persons punished without reference or acquitted by himself; or furnish the officer taking charge with a certificate of the cause of his inability to do so, 1144.

Judge how to proceed if his predecessor left a decision unsigned, 1145.

Officer in charge of current duties.

Officer giving charge to point attention to this rule, 1146.

Officer taking such charge to exercise such powers only as are indispensably necessary for the execution of processes or orders of the nizamat adawlut, for the issue of the warrants of that court, making returns to such warrants, and the transmission to the court of the proceedings of criminal trials, for the execution of processes of other courts, and other matters of emergency, also the periodical statements and reports, 1146.

In case of the presentation of an appeal for staying execution of magistrate's order, the officer in charge is to forward copy to magistrate, who will act on his own discretion, 1147.

Officer in charge may grant limited leave of absence in urgent cases to the vakeels and amlah, 1148.

SESSIONS.

General rules.

Matters of form are of great importance in criminal trials, 1149.

Trials to be distinguished by the month in which they are held, and a separate calendar kept for each month in each district, 1150—form of heading of record, id.

Monthly statements of sessions to be designated by the month in which the trials were concluded or postponed, id.

Must be held in the established court-house, 1151.

The practice of holding more than one trial at the same time is prohibited, 1152.

Trials of prisoners on distinct charges to be kept as far as possible separate by the magistrate and session judge, 1153.

SESSIONS.—Continued.

Persons committed on different dates in the same case and entered in separate calendars may be tried together and disposed of as one case, 1154.

Proceedings.

To be written on paper 12½ inches by 9½ in a clear legible hand, 1155.

Numerical list of the papers to be prefixed, id.

The nuthee to be connected by a string or tape passed through the papers on the right-hand side near the top, the ends united with wax and the seal of the court impressed there on, id.

Papers to be arranged in the order in which the proceedings were held with a descriptive marginal note on each, 1156.

Form of the record of a criminal trial, id.

Judge to pay particular attention to these rules, and examine each record himself, 1157.

Description of the weapon to be given in cases of personal injury, 1158.

Description of stolen property recovered, with numbers, and particulars of the finding, 1159—the numbers of such articles are to be taken throughout the foudjdarree and sessions proceedings from the numbers in the police chalan, 1160, 1671.

Order of proceeding:—the charge,—the prisoner's confession or denial,—the evidence for the prosecution,—the prisoner's defence,—the evidence for defence, 1161—order to be observed strictly, 1162.

Prisoner not to be examined, nor his previous confessions recorded, till after the close of the case for the prosecution; his first answer should be guilty or not guilty, 1163—no further questions to be addressed to him at that stage, 1166.

Charge to be explicitly stated to the prisoner, in the words prefixed to the record, 1164—order of proceedings, id.—prisoner to be called upon to plead merely guilty or not guilty, 1166—if more than one prisoner, the question is to be addressed separately and distinctly to each by the judge himself, 1167—if the judge omits to state any part of the charge, the prisoner cannot be convicted of that part, 1168.

Although the prisoner pleads guilty, the court is to proceed in the trial in the ordinary course, 1169.

Record of former conviction to be filed, if made ground of aggravation of offence, 1165.

If any papers on the magistrate's proceedings form part of the proof, as confessions, inquests, or dying declarations, such papers to be entered on the record in original, and evidence taken thereto, attested copies being filed with the magistrate's proceedings, 1164—in cases of murder the original inquest is always to be entered on the session record, or the omission explained, 1387—translations to be made and annexed to the originals if written in a peculiar or corrupt dialect, 1164.

No report or paper to be placed on the record, or referred to in proof of the charge, unless established by evidence, id.

In cases depending on the discovery of stolen property by police officers on a search, the original chalan of the property is to be entered on the record, 1669.

Deposition of surgeon to be taken on oath instead of a written report, 1170.

Surgeon to be examined de novo, and may refresh his memory by memoranda made by him at the time, 1171.

Guilt of prisoner must be established by evidence taken in the sessions court, 1172.

Witnesses to confessions must always be examined, 1175.

Supplemental depositions how to be recorded, 1176.

In case of a re-commitment and new trial, evidence must be taken de novo, 1177.

SESSIONS.—Continued.

Proceedings.—Continued.

- Magistrate a prohikarse admitting approver to conditional pardon to be filed with his deposition, 1190.
- Confession to be received with circumspection, 1187.
- Unless prisoner deny having made any, his previous confession to be read to him, and to the witnesses, 1188—if necessary the writer of the confession and the officer before whom it was taken may be called to prove it, id.
- Magistrate to read the mofussil confession of a prisoner over to him before the subscribing witnesses have been examined, 1189.
- Subscribing witnesses to be carefully examined, irregularities of the magistrate and the police to be noticed, 1190.
- Only two witnesses to the soorthal need be bound over to give their evidence at the sessions, 985.
- Judge may always send for further witnesses if he considers their evidence necessary, id.
- Evidence for prosecution cannot be taken in the absence of the accused, even in proof of his confession, 1174—so, in the case of persons committed as accomplices in a crime, of which some of their associates have been previously convicted, the judge cannot proceed upon the record of the former trial, 1173.
- Nor is it sufficient to refer to evidence recorded before the magistrate, 1172—or to swear witness to the truth of former deposition, 1171.
- Judge to notice and to question the witnesses on discrepancies between their depositions before him and before the magistrate, 536, 1178—such discrepancies and contradictions of the witness to be recorded, 1179.
- Foujdaree* depositions are not to be read in the presence of the witnesses until they have given evidence, 1178.
- Judge to place a mark in the calendar opposite the name of every witness examined; and to add a memorandum of the names of all witnesses whom he has summoned in addition to those entered in the calendar, 1392.
- Prisoner is not to be called upon for his final defence, until the crime charged is proved, 1181—if the evidence for the prosecution is clearly insufficient for conviction, the proceedings should be closed at once, 1182—but if any thing be proved which inculpates or criminales the prisoner, the trial must be completed in the ordinary way, id.
- Judge cannot decline to put a prisoner on his defence on account of his extreme youth or other cause, 1183.
- After the evidence for the prosecution, defence to be taken; and then the evidence for the defence, 1184.
- Prisoner not to be examined so as to criminate himself, id.—or cross-questioned, 1185—nor examined as to his confession beyond his simple avowal or denial of the same, 1186.
- Judge is to examine witnesses for the defence if prisoner has no counsel, 1191.
- Judge cannot decline to examine witnesses for defence, of whatever nature their evidence may be, and although he attaches no weight to their testimony, 1192.
- Prisoner may re-examine for defence witnesses who have been already heard for the prosecution, 1193.
- If prisoner objects to the examination of his own witnesses judge may not examine, 1194—and without prisoner's desire he need not examine those cited by him in the foujdaree, id.
- If prisoner has expressed no desire for any witnesses to be examined on his behalf, he cannot afterwards plead in appeal that no witnesses were examined, 1195.
- When the attendance of absent witnesses named for the defence can be procured, it is not a sufficient reason for not postponing a case that the plea which they are said to be able to prove is apparently false, 1196.
- Whether it be necessary to postpone a trial for the evidence of an absent witness named for the defence for the first time in the sessions court, 1197.

SESSIONS.—Continued.

Proceedings.—Continued.

- The committing officer cannot as of right send up witnesses not originally named in the calendar, after the trial has been taken up by the session judge, but the judge may admit further evidence for prosecution or defence recording his reasons, 1198.
- Judge may call for further evidence at any stage of the trial before closing the proceedings and taking a fatwa from the law officer, 1199, 1200—or before the jury have given in their verdict; without the authority of the nizamut adawlut, 1201.
- Further evidence admitted by the nizamut adawlut, after the completion of the trial and the reference of the case, by cancelling the fatwa, 1202.
- If further evidence is taken after the close of the defence, the prisoner may make a further defence, 1203.
- Where there are several prisoners, the trial may be completed in regard to some and postponed as to others of the prisoners in the absence of witnesses summoned on their part, 1204.
- In what cases the personal attendance of the accused may be excused, 1205.
- In the case of a Christian prisoner, his parentage and place of birth are to be stated in the jail-delivery statements, and in the letter of reference if the trial is referred, 1206.
- Prisoners always to be referred to by their names, and not by their numbers in the calendar, 1207.
- If prisoner has been tried under a false name, the alias is to be inserted in the warrant, 1208.
- When the age of a prisoner appears to have been incorrectly stated by himself or in the calendar, judge to record opinion formed by the jury and himself, 1209.
- Uniformity required in spelling names, 1210—and the orthography must be adhered to, 1211.
- If two prisoners bear similar names, the father's name must be mentioned, 1210.
- In ordinary cases the complainant has the option of conducting the proceedings before the sessions courts in person or by vakeel, 1089—but the judge may always cause the attendance of the prosecutors, if their vidâ voce evidence is necessary, unless they are native ladies of rank, id.—and judge may allow any prosecution to be conducted by an authorized agent, 1090. See PROSECUTOR, and PROSECUTOR PUBLIC.
- Prisoner held to bail for trial at the sessions may be admitted to appear thereat by vakeel, if sufficient reason is shown, 1093—but in most cases the actual personal attendance of the accused is necessary, 1205—the personal attendance of a female might be properly dispensed with, id.—judge may require the attendance in person of the accused at any time during the trial, 1093—and he must appear to receive sentence, 1095—the attorney in such cases need not be an established pleader in the civil court, 1096—every defendant may defend himself by an agent; but this does not dispense with his presence, 1094. See MOKHTARS.
- After the evidence for prosecution and defence, the law officer is to write his fatwa and attest it with his seal or signature, 1212. See FATWAS.
- The judge is then to pass sentence (except in cases in which he is expressly directed not to pass sentence), and to issue his warrant, 1212—if the sentence is for death, or imprisonment for life, the trial is to be referred, and the execution of the sentence suspended, id. See SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE.
- Trial may be completed in regard to some of the prisoners and sentence passed on them, and postponed as to the others, 1204. See POSTPONED TRIALS.
- Sentence of conviction or acquittal must be passed on every prisoner committed, 1087.
- Conditional sentence of acquittal cannot be passed, so as to render the prisoner liable to a second trial if further evidence is procurable, 1213—but a person discharged by a magistrate

SESSIONS.—Continued.

Proceedings.—Continued.

- for want of evidence may be subsequently committed if further evidence be adduced, 973—the Judge cannot direct the magistrate to commit an acquitted prisoner on a different charge, 1213*b*.
- Conditional sentence of conviction of uncertain duration cannot be passed, 1213*a*. See MISSENE PRISONERS.
- Prisoner may be convicted as an accessory when arraigned as a principal, 1214.
- Prisoner may be convicted of a less offence when under arraignment for a greater of the same nature and founded on the same facts; but not if the crime established is totally unconnected with that charged, 1214.
- A conviction of a graver offence cannot be had on a charge of a less heinous nature, 1214—on a charge of homicide there cannot be a conviction of murder, 1215.
- In no case can a prisoner be convicted of a crime to the charge of which he has not pleaded, 1216—examples, id.—unless the offence proved is essentially the same as that charged, 1217.
- A prisoner acquitted because the charge was wrongly laid, may be committed again and tried for the offence of which he has been guilty, 1218—but after acquittal by a competent tribunal, he cannot be re-committed on the same charge, 973.
- Where the accused is committed on more than one count, the judge should state on which count he convicts, 1219—and if he convicts as an accessory, whether as an accessory before or after the fact, 1220.
- Judge cannot admit a formal compromise of a case committed to the sessions, 1069.
- Judge cannot, in a case before the sessions, punish the prosecutor for a malicious or groundless complaint, 1070.
- Judge may report to the nizamut adawlut any neglect of the magistrate to obey his requisition on a point necessary to the due conduct of a trial, 1221—and any irregularities committed by the magistrate or the police in the preliminary investigation, 1226—he is to notice also any want of observance of the rules as to drawing up reports, id.—such remarks should be made in a separate letter, 1221*a*.
- He should notify to the commissioner any misconduct of the police, 1222.
- Session judge may order the dismissal of any native officer convicted before him of an offence declared to be punishable by dismissal; but only on conviction, 1223, 2059*a*.
- Judge may fine the magistrate's amlah in attendance at the sessions for negligence or disrespect, 1225.
- In reporting a trial at the sessions the judge should refrain from expressing a decided opinion as to the guilty knowledge and complicity of persons who were not on trial before him, 1227.
- Rules for drawing up the final roobakaree of sessions trial, 1228.
- In the Western provinces the judge is to forward office copies of abstracts of trials to the commissioner, who is to send them to the magistrate, 1230.
- If the magistrate wishes to see the evidence taken before the sessions court, he must state his reasons to the judge who may forward transcripts of the depositions, or allow the magistrate's amlah to take a copy, 1231.
- Judge is not to retain the magistrate's proceedings except when it is essentially necessary, 1229.
- See WITNESSES, EVIDENCE, CONFESSIONS, FUTWA, SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE, and TRIALS REFERRED.
- Sufficiency of ground of commitment.*
- In cases of acquittal the judge is to record his opinion in the column of remarks whether the commitment was made on sufficient grounds, or was erroneous or defective, 1233—in the latter case he is to detail the grounds of his opinion and to give the name of the committing officer, id.

SESSIONS.—Continued.

Sufficiency of ground of Commitment.—Continued.

This opinion is not to be communicated to magistrate, id.
If the proceedings of the magistrate require particular notice, a copy of the roobakaree of commitment written on English foolscap is to be sent with the sessions statements, 1233.

Copies of futwa.

In cases completed without reference, copies of futwas are to be forwarded monthly to the nizamut adawlut in two parcels of acquittals and convictions, in order, 1234—and a memorandum to be endorsed on the face of each containing certain particulars, and also the specific charge in the vernacular, id.
Where some prisoners are convicted and some acquitted, a copy of the futwa is to be filed with each parcel, id.
Copies of futwas, and verdicts of assessors, and copies of the magistrate's roobakarees of commitments, to be written on English foolscap, 1235.

Trials held without law officer.

- Attendance and futwa of the law officer upon a criminal trial may be dispensed with by order of government, 1208—in such case the judge is not to pass sentence, but to transmit the proceedings with his opinion to the nizamut adawlut, 1257—questions of Mahomedan law arising in such cases to be recorded on the proceedings, 1238—if the question regards the competency of a witness, he is to be examined, and the nizamut adawlut may admit or reject his testimony, id.
The authority for holding a trial out of the ordinary course of law is to be recorded on the proceedings, 1239—and noticed in the letter if the trial is referred, id.—if the authority is taken from the magistrate's nuthce, an attested copy is to be substituted, id.
If a case be tried without the aid of a law officer or assessors, the regulation or Act, under which the trial is held, is to be noted on the face of the record, 1240, 4267.
- Session judge may avail himself of the assistance of natives as a panchayat, who are to conduct their inquiries apart from the court, the reference and the answer being in writing, 1241—or as assessors, the opinion of each being given separately, and recorded if desired, id., 1246—or as a jury, to give in a verdict, 1241—the mode of selecting the jury, the number of jurors, and the mode of giving the verdict to be at the discretion of the judge, id.
In such cases the futwa is unnecessary, id.
But if the futwa is dispensed with, the judge cannot pass sentence but must refer the trial, unless he is specifically empowered by the regulations to punish the crime in question, id.—or unless the crime charged has been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the nizamut adawlut, 1241*a*—whatever is defined or specified in the regulations to be a crime is specifically punishable by the criminal courts, 1243.
- In all such cases the decision is vested exclusively in the officer presiding, if within his competency, 1242—and need not be referred on account of a difference of opinion, 1247.
- Any person not a Mahomedan may claim to be exempted from trial under the Mahomedan law, 1244—in such case the judge must proceed with the assistance of a panchayat, or assessors, or a jury, id.
- Trials involving religious prejudices should be tried in all possible cases with the assistance of a jury, 1245.
- A futwa on any point of Mahomedan law may be required without the attendance of the law officer, id.
- Inexpedient to compose a jury entirely of va khalas and mokhtars or of less than three persons, 1255—from what classes jurors ought to be selected, id.
- Case begun with law officer cannot be concluded with assessors, 1248.

Trials held without law officer.—Continued.

In a postponed trial, if the jurors cannot be re-assembled, new jurors are to be appointed and the former evidence should be read over to them, 1249—but they must hear the whole case ab initio; and two different sets of assessors cannot be employed to give a verdict on different counts, 1250.

The services of natives in such capacity cannot be compelled, 1251—law officers, sudder ameen, or principal sudder ameen should be invited to act, id.

East Indians, not European British subjects by reason of descent, are eligible to serve as jurors or assessors, 1252.

From what classes jurors ought to be selected, 1253.

Held by judge on circuit.

Proclamation to be made of the date on which the judge will arrive to take up the cases, 1040.

Magistrate to lay before the judge a statement of cases pending, which have been referred back by the nizamat adawlut, or postponed at a previous sessions; and judge is to take up such cases first, 1260.

If such postponed cases are not ready, the magistrate is to explain the cause of delay; and in cases referred back by the nizamat adawlut, his explanation with the judge's opinion is to be forwarded to that court, id.

Those cases to be tried first, which had risen at the greatest distance from the sudder station, that there may be time for further enquiries or the production of further evidence, 1261.

Magistrate may make commitments after the arrival of the session judge on circuit, to be tried at the session then pending; but this permission is limited, 1041.

Referrible trials are to be transmitted from the station at which they are held, whenever possible; if impossible, the judge is to report before quitting the station what referrible trials are so deferred; and the transmission of trials is in no case to be delayed beyond 10 days after his arrival at the next station, 1384.

See COMMITMENT, made at subordinate station.

SETTLEMENTS.

Judicial officers cannot carry into effect the decisions of panchayats under Reg. IX. 1833 in matters connected with land settlements, 678.

In khas mahals under settlement the magistrate is to arrange with the settlement officer for the keeping up and payment of a sufficient number of chokeedars, 2184—such police arrangements should be a model for other estates, id.—the magistrate is to decide what number of chokeedars are to be appointed, and whether they are to be paid in land or money, and the settlement officer is to provide accordingly, informing the magistrate what lands are assigned, id.

Tahsildars and village officers in khas mahals are required to obey the same police rules as private zameedars; and magistrate is to report instances of neglect to the superintendent of police, 2420.

In disputes for the possession of lands, the orders of the magistrate under Act IV. 1840 are not affected by the decisions of the revenue authorities except pending settlement; in which case the magistrate is to certify such disputes to the revenue authorities, 3807.

SEWAGE COLLECTIONS. See COLLECTIONS SEWAGE.

SHERIFFS OFFICERS.

Magistrate ought to render assistance to a sheriff's officer entrusted with the execution of a writ of capias; but such assistance must be confined to the legal execution of the writ, 1714—he should prevent a breach of the peace, when the arrest is made, or rescue, id.—he may bind over the prisoner to keep the peace towards the holder of the writ, 1714, id.

See CHOKEEDARS, aid to be given to process of supreme court.

SHIPWRECKED GOODS.

Plunder of, by the crew of a stranded vessel, who broke open the box of a passenger, held to be theft, 4229.

Case of villagers plundering goods from a boat, which had been wrecked, 4162.

Precautions to be taken by magistrate to preserve such property, and to punish persons guilty of wilfully causing wrecks, 4164.

Precedents, 4165, 4167.

SHOORB (drinking wine).

Punishable under the Mahomedan law by hudd, 41.

SIGNATURE.

Penalties for forgery apply to counterfeit signatures to fraudulent and injurious fabrications or alterations of written deeds, or of written or printed papers, 4522—but to sign another person's name is not necessarily forgery, 4523.

May be proved by comparison with undisputed signature, 614.

In Mahomedan law, a man cannot swear to his own signature unless he remembers the act of signing, 631—and comparison of hand-writing is inadmissible, 631n.

SLANDER. See ABUSE.

SLAVERY.

The importation of slaves is a penal offence, 4058.

Punishable by imprisonment and fine, 4054.

Persons imported as slaves are to be discharged or sent back to their friends at the discretion of the magistrate, 4055.

These provisions are not applicable to the sale of slaves not imported, 4056.

All slaves imported into a British province from any British or foreign province are declared free, 4057.

All persons knowingly concerned in the sale or purchase as a slave of any man, woman, or child, so removed, are liable to imprisonment and fine, 4058.

This does not prohibit the transfer of slaves for money, if not removed from one territory to another, 4059.

Selling free-born persons is an offence liable to discretionary punishment, 4060—so is buying, id.

To hire a person for a term beyond the duration of human life is a misdemeanor, 4060a.

The complaint must be made by the person aggrieved, and the prosecution cannot be on the part of government, 4061—police cannot take cognizance, id.

Public officers are in no case to sell persons or the right to their services, 4062.

No rights arising out of an alleged property in the person and services of another as a slave are to be enforced by any court or magistrate, 4063.

The right to property remains the same though the owner or the person from whom it is derived was a slave, 4064.

What is a penal offence if done to a free person, is equally so if done to a slave, 4065.

Sale of a slave is a punishable offence, 4066.

In cases of homicide, it is no excuse that the person slain was the slave of the prisoner, or of any other person, or a slave appropriated for the service of the public, 3926.

Police officers are not to allow the registration before themselves of slave-girls kept for the purposes of prostitution, 2254.

See CHILD-STEALING.

SODOMY.

The regulations prescribe no specific punishment, 4106.

The judge may award the general discretionary punishment within his power, id.

Trial may not be referred unless the judge differs from the law officer, or deems the punishment within his power insufficient, id.

SODOMY.—Continued.

Letters to be adjudged in all cases, 4109.

In Mahomedan law, it is doubtful whether sodomy is classed with zina and liable to hadd, 4110—but certainly not liable to hadd, if committed with a beast, id.

Precedents of trials, 4111.

SONK, SONSA, SAHAR, AND GOBERDHUN.

System of administration of justice in, 36.

SOORUTHAL.

When investigating heinous offences, the police are to hold a sooruthal in the first instance, 2313, 2322—giving the substance of the evidence of the witnesses, 2280—and to forward it to the magistrate, in place of a report, the moment it is drawn up, 2283, 2314, 2323.

In cases committed to the sessions, it is not necessary to bind over more than two witnesses to the sooruthal to give evidence, 985—the judge may call for further evidence if he wishes for it, id.

SORCERY.

Persons putting another to death on the ground of his or her being versed in or practising sorcery, to be held guilty of murder, 3934.

Persons forming themselves into an assembly for the purpose of trying any man or woman on a charge of witchcraft, or other charge, or causing such assembly to be held, if any person or persons are in consequence put to death, to be considered as principals or accomplices in the murder, id.

Precedents;—where the prisoners were actuated by superstition, 3984—where the deceased professed witchcraft, id. where the deceased was accused of witchcraft, and the prisoners, her husband and son, were irritated by the imputation, id.

SPECIAL POWERS.

Applications made by magistrates, that their assistants may be invested with higher powers, are to be made to the session judges, who will forward them direct to government, 761

May be conferred on an assistant duly qualified, 762.

Extend to imprisonment for 6 months, and corporal punishment, or fine of 200 rupees commutable to a further period of 6 months, 763—if more severe punishment is required, the case must be submitted to magistrate, 764.

An assistant vested with, has no power to make commitment, 765—even when in charge of the office during the absence of the magistrate, 766.

Cannot take cognizance of charges against Europeans under 53rd Geo III. cap. 155, 767.

May decide cases under Act IV 1840, 3824.

May decide cases under Reg. VII 1819, 4038, 4698, 4721.

Cannot require security for good behaviour, 3602.

Special powers do not descend to the successor in office, 768.

Government is at all times competent to revoke them, id.

SOLDIERS' NECESSARIES.

Penalty on purchasing, exchanging, or receiving soldiers' necessaries, arms, clothes, &c., 3545—penalty for a second offence, id.—warrant for search on suspicion, id.

Mode of recovering penalties, 3546

These provisions to be enforced by mofussil magistrates, 3547.

One moiety of penalty to be paid to informer and remainder to the military secretary to government, 3548.

Punishment for giving false testimony, 3549.

SPIES.

Magistrate should make use of other sources of information than his police officers to discover crimes, 2275.

May be employed on a small monthly allowance, 401.

SPIES.—Continued.

Darogahs are prohibited from encouraging or employing, without the express sanction of the magistrate, any goindabs or spies who earn a livelihood by the profession of an informer, 402, 2954—but they are to encourage persons to give information, id.

STARVING.

Relinquishers causing the death of their female children by prohibiting their receiving nourishment or in any other manner, to be tried as for murder, 3232—magistrate how to proceed in such case, id.

STATE OFFENCES.

Rebellion.

Punishment for rebellion or waging war against the government, or attempting to wage war, or instigating or abetting rebellion or the waging of such war, or conspiring to rebel or wage war, 3621.

Punishment for harbouring or concealing offenders, 3622.

Executive government may issue a commission for the trial of persons charged with certain offences in any district proclaimed to be in a state of rebellion, 3623—the court may be held in any part of the district, 3624—government may vest power in the court without the attendance or futwa of a law officer or the assistance of assessors to pass a final sentence, and may direct that the court be not subordinate to the sudder court, 3625—any magistrate may commit persons for trial before such court, 3626.

These rules do not apply to British born subjects or the children of such subjects, 3627.

Government may issue a proclamation prohibiting the carrying or possession of arms in any district, 3628—penalty for possession of arms contrary to the proclamation, 3629—magistrate by warrant may cause search to be made in suspected places, and arms may be seized and confiscated, 3630—government may grant exemption to certain persons, 3631.

Forfeiture of property.

Of persons subject to the articles of war of the native armies on conviction of mutiny, 3633.

Court or other authority to make adjudication of forfeiture in case of death or escape of offender before conviction of an offence for which property is liable to be forfeited, 3634.

To what property the forfeiture extends, 3635—not to affect bonâ fide transferees of any negotiable security, id.

All immovable property, alienated without valuable consideration before the commission of the offence, subject to forfeiture, unless alienation was made and registered three months before, 3636.

Court may specify when the offence was committed, 3637.

The conviction or adjudication to be evidence of what matters, 3638.

Limitation of suits for recovery of property, 3641.

Property in what cases may be attached and secured before adjudication, 3642.

Exciting Mutiny.

Penalty for maliciously and advisedly seducing soldiers or sailors from their allegiance, or exciting them to mutiny, 3644.

Persons charged with such offence may be committed by any magistrate, and are to be tried by the court of sessions or by the supreme court, 3645—futwa not to be required, 3646—such offenders may be tried by court martial if amenable to military law, 3647.

Tribunals.

May be tried before the ordinary tribunals, 3648.

Government may issue a commission for the trial of any offences of treason, rebellion, or crime against the state by one or more judges, with or without a law officer, 3649.

If the government does not take the case out of the ordinary administration of criminal justice, the ordinary tribunals are to proceed as usual, 3650.

STATE OFFENCES.—Continued.

Such special courts are to be guided by the same rules as ordinary courts; except that their sentence is in every instance to be reported before execution to the nizamut adawlut; and they are to be guided in all particulars by the special orders which they receive from government or from the nizamut adawlut, 3651.

Such courts how to proceed in case of the death or absence of any judge or law officer, 3652.

Nizamut adawlut are to proceed as in ordinary cases; but are in every case to report their sentences to government; and to wait the orders of government for 3 months, 3653.

Magistrates are to give immediate information of such offences to government; and to be guided by the special orders of government, 3654.

Judges should not proceed with trial until the orders of government have been received, 3655.

These rules do not alter or affect the jurisdiction of the supreme court, 3656.

Martial Law.

The functions of the ordinary criminal courts may be suspended by government, and martial law established during war or open rebellion, 3657—in such case persons owing allegiance to British government may be tried by courts martial for overt acts of rebellion, or for assisting the enemy, id.

Persons owing such allegiance found guilty of such offences are punishable by death and confiscation of all property and effects, 3658.

But government may direct the trial of such offences by the ordinary courts or by the special courts described above, 3659.

When martial law is proclaimed, the magistrate is to direct all officers in command of troops, employed in his jurisdiction, to act under the proclamation until it is recalled, 3660.

Persons charged with any acts of overt rebellion and apprehended when not in the actual commission of such offences, are to be delivered over to the civil power; and the magistrate is to adopt the necessary measures for bringing them to trial on a charge of treason, id.

Magistrate is to attach all property belonging to persons guilty of overt acts of rebellion; and to continue the attachment until the pleasure of government is known, placing the landed estates under the management of the collector, id.—if the property is in another district he is to communicate with the magistrate of such district, id.—military officers attaching property are to make it over to the magistrate, id.

Resisting the police does not amount to rebellion, 3661.

Precedents; seditious practices and disturbing the peace, 3662—rebellion attended with various murders and other enormities, and attacking the magistrate, 3663—rebellion attended with the loss of one life and resistance to the officers of government, 3664—rebellion not attended with murder but involving acts of oppression and extortion, 3665.

Mahomedan law regarding rebellion, 3666.

STOLEN PROPERTY.

Search for.

Form of search-warrant, 1652—to be addressed to the police darogah or to any other public and registered officer of police, 1653.

Warrant not to be issued except on the oath of the informer or complainant that a robbery has been committed and that he has reason to suspect that the property is in such a place, 1654—or on incidental information before the magistrate, id., 1655.

There can be no general rule directing or prohibiting search for property in cases of plunder; it is left to discretion; but if search is made it must be carried out under the rules for the recovery of stolen property, 1656.

The house of complainant cannot be searched on suspicion of his having made a false complaint, 1657.

Police officers are not to search the interior of a house, except under the orders of the magistrate, without a written declaration and a list of the articles missing, 1658.

Police officers to report execution of process on the back of the warrant, 1659.

Police officers are to transmit all representations made to them regarding the receipt or concealment of stolen property to the magistrate at or before the time when they proceed to the search, 1660.

Search to be made without notice, and during the day (unless there is reason to believe that the property will be removed), by the darogah in person, or by the mohurrir or jemadar on a warrant from the darogah, and in the presence of three or more respectable persons, and opportunity must be afforded to the occupant of the house to attend, 1661.

If the accused is not present at the search it must be shown that an opportunity was, or was sought to be, given him of being present, 1662.

Magistrate may order the search to be made at night, 1663.

Caution against the surreptitious introduction of articles into the house under search, 1664.

Due notice to be given for the removal of women from the zenana, and suitable means for their removal to be furnished, 1665.

When any property alleged to have been stolen is found, the police officers are to endeavour to trace the actual proprietor, and to question the occupant of the house regarding the means by which it was obtained; and, if his explanation is unsatisfactory, they are to forward him with the property to the magistrate, 1666—if the property is not claimed, they are to compare it with the lists of property stolen; and if they correspond, they are to send the property to the supposed owner for inspection or to summon him to the thana, 1667.

Police officers to note the particular spot in which the property is found, the time of the finding, and the name of the finder; and all property so found, or of a suspicious nature found on prisoners, or seized under suspicious circumstances, is to be forwarded without delay to the magistrate with a chalan in prescribed form, 1668—care to be taken in the transmission of the chalan, 1669.

Session judge to enter the original chalan upon the record of the trial, 1669.

Articles of value and small bulk are to be sealed up in a box, petarah, or bag, 1670.

A separate number is to be attached to each article; and such number is to be entered in the chalan and quoted in the reports, id.—magistrate and session judge to use the same number, 1671.

No property is to be removed from the house unless it is claimed or recognized or considered to be suspicious, 1672.

No property once removed is to be returned without the order of the magistrate, id.

On the occurrence of a robbery, the darogah is to require the landholder to publish the list of property stolen in a conspicuous place and in the bazars and haths; and all persons to whom such property is offered for sale are required to give notice to the police, 1673.

If the person in whose possession the property is found denies all knowledge of the robbery, he is to be questioned as to the mode in which he became possessed of it, and the police are to endeavour to trace it, 1674—if his answers are unsatisfactory, and the magistrate considers that the property was illegally acquired, he is to publish a list of the articles, requiring claimants to appear within six months, 1675.

If claim is advanced, the magistrate is to put the case into a regular course of prosecution, 1676.

If no claim is advanced, and if the party found in possession cannot prove his right, the property is to be declared confiscated to government, 1677.

Persons finding suspicious property within their premises, are to convey it to the police within 24 hours; the darogah is to commit the circumstances to writing, to be signed by the declarant and two or more witnesses present, and to forward the property and declaration to the magistrate, 1678.

Confiscated gold or silver ornaments and brass or copper utensils are to be broken up and sold as bullion or old metal, 1679.

All unclaimed property belongs to government, 1680—the police are to forward all such property to the magistrate; or, if it cannot easily be moved, to put it in charge of the landholder or head person of the village until the orders of the magistrate are obtained, id.—the disposal of such property rests with the magistrate, subject to the control of the superintendent of police and government, without the interference of the civil court, 1681.

Unclaimed property (ladavee) is not to be confounded with the property of persons dying intestate (lawaris), 1190—the disposal of the latter is vested in the civil judge, to whom the magistrate should immediately forward any that comes into his hands, id.—unless the deceased person belongs to the army, in which case he should communicate with the officer commanding the regiment or in charge of the department to which the deceased belonged, 1682.

Registers of unclaimed and intestate property to be kept in prescribed forms, 1683.

Magistrate cannot search a house for contraband opium as such; but he may search for that or any other deleterious drug which he has reason to believe has been used as an instrument of death, 1684.

Police officers are to pay strict attention to the above rules, 1685. Darogahs, mohurrirs, or jemadars of police may apprehend without a written warrant persons detected with stolen goods in their possession; but they must be immediately forwarded to the magistrate with a report, 1594.

Knowingly receiving or keeping.

Is a bailable offence, provided the original theft of the property does not form part of the charge, 1028.

Register to be formed of systematic receivers of plundered property, 4122.

In all cases wherein stolen or plundered property is found in the possession of prisoners committed for theft or robbery, a second count should be inserted in the commitment charging them also with knowingly receiving, 1007.

In commitments charge how to be worded in the vernacular, 4265—the term “thangeedaree” is not to be used, id.

Receiver may be tried in any place, in which he has had the property in his possession, or in which the party guilty of the principal felony might be tried, or in the place where the property was actually received, 4266.

It is always to be noted in the charge whether the property was acquired by theft, burglary, dacoity, highway-robbery, or thuggee, 4267.

If the property has been acquired by dacoity or thuggee, the prisoners may be committed by any magistrate and tried by any court; but in all other cases regard must be had to the special jurisdiction, id.

If the trial is held without a law officer or a jury, the judge is to note on the face of the record the Regulation or Act under which the trial is held, id.

Magistrate must commit to the sessions for knowingly receiving or purchasing, if the property was acquired by robbery with open violence, or by aggravated burglary, or by theft such as the magistrate must or may commit, 4268—or if the amount or value of the property stolen exceeds 300 rupees, 4271.

Session judge may sentence persons convicted in such cases to 16 years' imprisonment, 4269—and cannot refer the trial, 4270—unless he considers the sentence within his competence inadequate, 1285—but in cases of the knowing receipt of property acquired by theft or robbery, the judge is always to explain the aggravating circumstances in his statement of prisoners punished without reference, if the sentence exceeds imprisonment for 6 years, 4226—but this is not meant to fix a maximum sentence for unaggravated cases, id.

Magistrate may commit to the sessions cases in which the prisoner has been previously convicted of a heinous crime, or if he appears to be an habitual or professional receiver of stolen property, or a person of notoriously bad character, 4272—previous conviction of theft not exceeding 10 rupees is not to be considered a conviction of a heinous crime, 4273.

It is to be specifically mentioned in the futwas and abstract statement that the offence was committed knowingly, 4274, 4285.

Magistrate may determine, without reference to the sessions, all other cases of knowingly buying or receiving, 4275—and cases of retaining possession of such property after learning that it had been obtained by theft or robbery without informing the owner or the local police officer or magistrate, id.

Magistrate may sentence in such cases to imprisonment for three years, id.

If any of the prisoners in the case must be committed, the magistrate is not competent to punish the receiver, 4276.

The magistrate in the roobakaree of commitment, and the judge in his abstract statement of sentences passed without reference, are to note the express circumstances of aggravation which led to the commitment, 4277.

Property acquired by burglary comes within the definition of property acquired by theft, 4278.

It lies upon the person, to whose possession stolen property is traced, to account for that possession, 4279.

To prove a receipt of stolen property, personal possession must be shown with his consent and with knowledge that it was obtained by theft, 4280.

Purchasing suspicious property without giving information to the police is not an offence, 4281.

The presumption arising from a purchase of property from a seller of bad character, without enquiry as to the means by which he obtained it, is not conclusive, 4282—nor is the presumption arising from the price paid alone sufficient for conviction, 4283—the guilty knowledge may be established, 4284.

The charge of knowingly keeping possession of stolen property distinguished from that of receiving stolen goods; when there is a doubt as to whether the higher or lower grade of offence has been committed, charge should be laid for the higher, 4286.

It does not necessarily follow that the possession of stolen property, the knowledge that it was so acquired having subsequently arisen, is criminal: the magistrate has a discretion not to punish at all; but if the circumstances show it to be an offence, it should be punished as a misdemeanor not of a serious nature, 4285—if in such cases the session judge pass a higher sentence than for three years' imprisonment, he is to state the grounds of the sentence in his abstract statement, id. In all cases the evidence to ground a conviction should go to the mode and circumstances of the receipt, and not only to the fact of possession, 4285.

It is not necessary to prove, when the theft was attended with murder, that the person robbed had possession of the property up to the time of his death, 4288.

A husband and wife should not be indicted jointly for such offence, unless it is in evidence that the wife acted independently, and not under the influence of her husband, 4287.

Receivers of stolen property may be punished, although the thieves have not been convicted, if the theft is established and the guilty knowledge is proved, 4289.

The record of a conviction of theft is not sufficient against an alleged receiver to prove the theft, if the latter desires to disprove it, 4290.

The amount of punishment awarded to the thief is no criterion for the sentence to be passed on the receiver, 4291.

The magistrate ought not to restore the stolen property if the case is committed, 4292.

Sentence of labor is not commutable to a fine, 1360.

Precedents; case of receiving property obtained by theft attended with murder, 4293—case of guilty receipt of embezzled property, id.

After a lapse of two years from the theft, and the guilty knowledge at the time of receipt not being proved, the prisoners were acquitted, id.

Restitution of stolen property.

Officer disposing of the case may exercise his discretion in restoring to the person robbed any articles, which are proved to belong to him, or to have been purchased with money stolen from him, 4294—so, in a case of embezzlement, 4295.

Magistrate is to furnish certificate of the execution of the order of the session judge for restoring stolen property, 4296.

Voluntary restitution does not relieve from the consequence of the criminal act, 4297.

English law regarding, 4295a.

Restitution of value of stolen property.

A fine not exceeding in amount the value of the property stolen may be inflicted, and may be paid to the parties injured in cases of wrongful appropriation of property, 4298—including cases of plunder, 4299—the order imposing such fine must be passed by the court which convicts, 4300—such fine how to be enforced, 4301.

Must be paid to the aggrieved person, 4302.

Exact amount of property carried off to be stated in the order, 4303.

The aggregate of such fines not to exceed actual loss, 4304—and to be confined within reasonable limits, 4305.

Judge to record on what evidence he arrives at a conclusion as to the amount of property stolen, 4306—and whether the fine is to be levied jointly or severally, 4307.

The execution of the order directing fine to be levied to be stayed till the period for appeal has elapsed, and pending appeal, 4038.

The fine cannot be levied of the goods of an offender in another jurisdiction, 4309.

Restitution of value of stolen property.—Continued.

Remarks of the nizamat adawlut on the working of this law 4310—principles on which it is founded, id.—caution necessary in regard to the value of the property stolen, id.—only movable or personal property can be sold, id.—property cannot be attached before sentence, id.—fine need not be adjusted at the time of decision, but may be imposed afterwards, id.—and on all reasonable occasions without reference to the probability of its being realized, id.—whenever practicable it should be realized, id.

Register of all such fines to be kept pending the realization of them, 4311.

Form of register, id.

Police officers are not entitled to any percentage on the value of stolen or plundered property which they recover, 1789.

STRANGERS.

The principal persons in the villages, and all chokeedars and village guards, are responsible for the early and punctual information to the police of the resort to or passage through their villages of any considerable body of strangers, or of the assemblage of such, with other particulars, 2414—penalty in cases of neglect, id.

SUB-DIVISIONS, RULES FOR THE GUIDANCE OF OFFICERS IN CHARGE OF.

If an assistant magistrate in charge of a sub-division requires a tent, a report is to be made to the superintendent of police, 698. Prisoners sick in sub-divisions may be sent in to the sudder station for medical treatment, 2669.

Civil surgeons are to supply officers in charge with cholera medicines and simple directions for using them, id.

If with full powers of magistrate.

To hear and pass orders on all reports submitted by the police, 792.

To receive petitions, id.

To decide or commit all cases brought before them, except such as the magistrate thinks proper to call for and decide, id.

To adhere strictly to the regulations, and to the rules and orders of the sudder court and the superintendent of police, id.

To avoid all unnecessary detention of parties, 793.

To render themselves freely accessible to people of all classes; and to listen to their communications with temper and consideration, id.

To be as much as possible on the move, investigating serious cases on the spot, visiting the thanas, &c., id.

To take measures for the suppression of crime and the maintenance of peace and good order, id.

In heinous cases to make weekly reports to the magistrate and to attend to his instructions, 794—magistrate to forward copies of the reports to the superintendent of police, id.

Dead bodies and wounded persons are to be sent to the station of the sub-division, if it is in a direct line between the place of occurrence and the sudder station; otherwise direct to the magistrate, 795—the civil surgeon will report to the officer in charge of the sub-division; who may request the magistrate to take the deposition of the medical officers, id.

Subordinate to two magistrates, to use their discretion as to priority in the execution of orders, 796.

Correspondence with superior authorities to be conducted through the magistrate, except in emergent cases, 797.

Monthly statements to be despatched within 5, and the annual within 10 days, 798.

To note on each statement the number of times they proceeded into the mofussal on duty and the number of days they were absent, id.

Prisoners sentenced to simple imprisonment not exceeding one month to be retained at the sub-division station, 799—if for more than one month, and all laboring prisoners, and prisoners committed to the sessions, to be forwarded to the sudder station once a week, 800.

The period of imprisonment of persons sentenced in the sub-division to be calculated from the date of sentence, id.

To remit weekly, with a copy of the weekly cash account, all money received as fines, deposits, &c., 801—deposits on account of diet money of witnesses are to be retained for re-payment, id.—refunds of all other deposits, fines, &c., to be made by magistrate on roobakarees from the sub-divisions, 802—such officers to make no refunds or disbursements without special sanction, id.

Records of cases disposed of to be forwarded to the magistrate's office on the 1st January properly arranged, and accompanied with a catalogue, 803.

May suspend any of their amlah, or any police darogah, mohurir, or jemadar, and forward the papers of the case through the magistrate to the superintendent of police for final orders, 804.

May dismiss and appoint burkundazes, chokcedars, and goraitis, subject to an appeal in the case of the former to the superintendent of police, and in the case of the latter to the magistrate, 805—monthly reports of such changes to be made to magistrate, id.—if the re-employment of such persons is improper, the papers are to be forwarded to the superintendent of police, id.—similar report of police officers fined or suspended to be sent monthly to magistrate, 806.

Not to issue any general or circular orders to the police without the approval of the magistrate and superintendent of police, 807.

When appointing any ministerial officer, or any police thanadar, mohurir, or jemadar, to take the deposition of the nominee in open catcherry as to his residence, former employment, relationship, &c., and to forward such statement to the magistrate, 808.

What books and registers they are required to keep at all times ready for the magistrate's inspection, 809—rules for preparing them, id.

To sign a daily voucher for the prisoner's rations, and to superscribe it with the number of the prisoners in their own hand-writing, id.—on the 1st of each month to forward a list of the prisoners in confinement on each day of the month, id.—and also a memorandum of the number of prisoners in confinement, or in transit, and the number of escapes and deaths, id.—the magistrate is to enter these memoranda at the foot of his monthly statements, id.—when the officer in charge of a sub-division is subordinate to more than one magistrate he is to furnish each magistrate with a memorandum of the prisoners belonging to that jurisdiction, 810.

If with special powers.

To hear and pass orders on all police reports, 811.

To report all heinous offences immediately to the magistrate; but to pass necessary orders at the same time, and to proceed to the spot whenever practicable, id.

To take evidence in all cases of felony and misdemeanor, which are unaggravated though beyond their competence; if the case is not proved, to dismiss the witnesses, and to keep the defendants for the orders of the magistrate; if the case is proved, to forward at once the prisoners with the papers, 812.

To forward to the magistrate all persons punishable by stripes for petty thefts, id.

SUBPCENA.

Form of, to be used by magistrate, App. A, No. 9—by police officers, App. A, No. 37.

See WITNESSES.

SUBSISTENCE ALLOWANCE.

To indigent prosecutors and witnesses, at the sessions.

Daily allowance of two anas each to be paid to those, who appear to be actually in need of such assistance, while in attendance on the sessions, and while coming from and returning to their homes, 474.

Restricted to such persons as are really indigent, 475—but to be paid to non-indigent persons if demanded, 474a—scale of payment, id.

Witnesses to confessions to be always paid, 476.

Magistrate to ascertain the actual attendance of the parties on the court; and to establish checks to guard against overcharge by native officers, 477.

Bills for diet money to be countersigned by the judge, id.

Judge to ascertain what witnesses are present, 478—and on the termination of the trial to demand from the magistrate's nazir a statement of the diet money, and to cause the balance due to be paid to the persons in his presence, id.

To witnesses in petty cases.

No process to be issued, unless the complainant deposits a sufficient sum for the maintenance of witnesses, 479—to be regulated by magistrate according to the probable period of attendance, 480.

Rate to be fixed by magistrate, at not less than one or more than three anas per day, 479.

Only required for persons residing more than five kos from the catcherry, id.

Need not be lodged until the prosecutor takes out process, 481.

Witnesses not to be summoned until the magistrate is prepared to take up the case, id.

To be paid only for the period of absence from home, 482—surplus deposit to be returned, id.

Magistrate may direct further deposit if necessary, on pain of dismissal of case, 480, 483.

These rules are applicable to petty offences only; in all other cases government is to pay the subsistence allowance, 484.

If a complainant evades payment by misrepresentation of the case, he is to be held accountable for whatever sum appears due, 484.

Nazir to keep an accurate and particular account of all sums received and disbursed by him on such account 485.

Magistrate to conform strictly to these rules, 486—indigent witnesses are to be supported in all cases, whether before the sessions or otherwise, either by the prosecutor or the state, id.

To prisoners discharged.

After an imprisonment of six months and upwards, a sum sufficient to maintain them for one month is to be given to those who appear in need of such assistance, 2966.

In no case to exceed five rupees; and as much less as is consistent with the object in view, id.—but sufficient for support during return home is to be given to every prisoner on release, 2967.

Miscellaneous.

Portion of tulubana may be advanced by nazir to pen for subsistence while engaged in serving the process on account of which it is paid, 1665.

- Magistrate to prevent illegal exaction of, by muzkooree peons under the name or pretence of tulubana, 1566.
- Burkundaz or other officer receiving wages from government, demanding or receiving, while serving criminal process, may be compelled by a criminal prosecution or a civil action to refund the amount received, besides being liable to dismissal, 1556.
- In forwarding indigent prisoners to the magistrate, the darogah may advance such amount for diet allowance, as is necessary for their way-charges, not exceeding the rate of one ana per diem, 2350.

SUDDER AMEENS.

- Liable to a criminal prosecution (in addition to a civil action) for corruption, extortion, or other misdemeanor; and to fine and imprisonment on conviction before the sessions court, 4383.
- Not liable for want of form, or for error in proceedings and judgments, id.
- Such cases are cognizable in the first instance only by the civil judge, 4384—and no process is to be issued without his assent, 4383—the prosecution may be conducted by the complainant before the magistrate; or the judge may direct the government vakel to prosecute; but the judge cannot direct the commitment, 4384.
- Duties in the foudaree court. See LAW OFFICERS AND NATIVE JUDGES.

SUICIDE.

- Person aiding another to commit, is punishable, 3928—the desire of person killed to be put to death is no justification, 3927—precedents, 3998.
- Attempt to commit, is punishable by magistrate and judge, 3955.
- In case of suicide by a prisoner in jail, an inquest is to be held, and the result reported to the inspector, 2626, 2742.

SUMMARY SUITS FOR POSSESSION OF LAND. See DIS-POSSESSION.

SUMMONS.

When to be issued.

- In bailable offences, not requiring the immediate apprehension of the accused, upon the truth of the complaint being deposed to by the complainant or some credible person, the magistrate is to issue a summons specifying the offence charged and requiring the accused to appear in person or by attorney, 346—bail may be required if necessary, id.—so, police officers may issue, in bailable cases cognizable by them, 362.
- Warrant to be issued if the accused neglects the summons, 347, 364.
- Before issuing process the magistrate is to satisfy himself of the grounds of the charge by examining the prosecutor; and, if he distrusts the truth of the charge, by examining the witnesses, 357.
- Notice of complaint may be served on the accused to avoid the unnecessary summoning of a large number of defendants, 358.
- It is incorrect to summon one defendant in the first instance postponing the summons of the others until the evidence is taken, 359.
- Every precaution to be adopted to prevent indiscriminate summons, id.—measures taken by a magistrate to avoid such on the part of his subordinates, 360.

How to be issued. See PROCESSES, summons.

SUNDAYS.

- Convicts are not to be employed on Sundays, except on urgent occasions, 2829—and at all events a part of Sunday is to be allowed to them for cleanliness, id.—but care is to be taken that the indulgence is not abused, id.

SUSPECTED PROPERTY. See STOLEN PROPERTY, search for.

SUSPENSION.

- If a darogah is suspended, the acting officer is to receive the full salary, 2093—the suspended darogah, if acquitted, may be paid the whole or any part of the back salary, id.—if a darogah of one thana is put in charge also of a contiguous thana, the magistrate is to determine whether he is to receive any and what portion of the salary of the suspended officer, 2094—any extra expenses occasioned by the neglect of an officer to obey a superior court's order for the restoration of a suspended officer, are to be retrenched from his salary, 2095.

See DISMISSAL.

Nizamut adawlut may suspend any judge or magistrate, 1482.

SUSPICION.

No conviction can be had on suspicion only or weak presumption; the evidence must amount to strong and violent presumption, 626—the session judge should always require specific futwas as to the nature and degree of presumption, 1266.

How far presumptive evidence is sufficient in Mahomedan law, 637.

See EVIDENCE.

The circumstances which first induced suspicion to attach to the prisoners and ultimately caused their apprehension, are to be noted in the calendar, 1028—by the magistrate who is himself to draw up the summary, 1029.

Security for good behaviour is not to be required on the ground of suspicion of having committed a particular offence, 3576—however strong the presumption may be, 3577.

SUTTEE.

Suttees are illegal, 4020.

All landholders, &c., and head-men of villages are responsible for immediate information of intended suttees, 4021—penalty in case of neglect, id.—police to report all cases of such neglect, 4022.

Police officers how to act on receiving information of an intended suttee, 4023—to warn the persons assembled of the consequences, to use all lawful means to prevent it, and to apprehend the principal persons aiding and abetting, id.—to associate respectable Hindus with themselves in these endeavours, 4024.

Darogah to report the cause if he does not proceed himself to the spot; and to explain if the police do not arrive in time, 4024.

If the police officers do not hear of the suttee until after it has taken place, or if they do not arrive in time, they are to make enquiries as in other cases of unnatural death, 4025—but in such case they are not to arrest the persons implicated, 4026.

Force is not to be employed to prevent a suttee until mild measures have proved ineffectual; and prisoners are to be treated indulgently, 4027.

Magistrate to adopt measures for bringing the parties to trial, 4028.

Persons convicted of aiding and abetting in suttees are liable to fine and imprisonment at the discretion of the sessions court, 4029—no justification that the party sacrificed desired to be put to death, id.

Labor may be adjudged, 4030.

Prisoners may be admitted to bail, 4031—if not admitted to bail, to be confined in the civil jail, 4032.

THANAS. See POLICE OFFICERS.

THEFT AND ROBBERY.

Definitions.

The absence of ownership in the thing stolen does not affect the guilt of the thief, 4168.

If a servant clandestinely removes from his employer's residence property placed under his custody with intent to appropriate it, it is theft, 4169—but if he appropriates it without removing it, it is embezzlement, id.—if the master has not relinquished possession of the property, it is theft, id.

Appropriation by the crew of a stranded vessel of the property of a passenger was considered theft, 4170.

Appropriation of trove property is not a criminal offence, 4229a.

Distinction between theft and fraud, where goods have been obtained by false pretences, depends upon the intent of the owner to pass the right of property or merely the possession, 4171.

Police.

Police officers cannot investigate a simple theft, or apprehend persons suspected of such offence, without a written request on the part of the person injured requesting that a search be made for the property, or the offender, or an order from the magistrate, 2271—a deposition by the plaintiff in person is not sufficient; there must be a written petition with a specific request, 2272—without such petition the proceedings are void, 2273.

The suffering party need not report unaggravated case, unless as a landholder, 2274.

But the chokedars must report all cases which come to their knowledge, 2275.

Magistrate should endeavour to obtain information from other sources also, id.

Police officers may postpone apprehending persons charged with theft unattended with personal violence, pending the magistrate's orders, if the injured person so requests, and if the accused has not been previously guilty or suspected of theft, 2276—but every such case must be reported to the magistrate who is to decide whether it is to be investigated, 2277.

Magistrate may always direct enquiry to be made, 2278—by what circumstances he should be guided in the exercise of this discretion, 2279.

Commitment.

Magistrate may offer a conditional pardon to accomplices in aggravated cases of, 403.

Prisoners are not admissible to bail, 1619, 1626.

Cases which must be committed; if accompanied with murder or attempt to commit murder, or wounding or other aggravating act of personal violence, 4172—or if the amount or value stolen exceeds 300 rupees, 4173.

Where offence is accompanied by a trifling injury, commitment not necessary, 4174.

Commitment.—Continued.

Cases which may be committed; if the prisoners are of notoriously bad character, or have been previously convicted of a heinous offence, or if from any other peculiar circumstances the magistrate considers the punishment within his competence insufficient, 4175—a previous conviction of theft not exceeding 10 rupees does not bring the case within this category, 4176—in such case the express circumstance of aggravation must be mentioned in the roobakaree of commitment, 4177—and by the session judge in the abstract statement of sentences passed without reference, id.—judge how to proceed if no special grounds are recorded in the roobakaree, or if he considers the alleged grounds to be insufficient, 4178, 1059.

Magistrate need not commit, in a second case not exceeding 300 rupees, if the first case although above 10 did not exceed 300 rupees, 4179—in a second case of cattle stealing, 4180—in an unaggravated case of theft by a servant above 50 but not exceeding 800 rupees, 4181.

In all other cases the magistrate cannot commit, 4182.

The declaration of the prosecutor on oath is in the first instance to determine the value of the property stolen; but magistrate may make enquiries, 4183—where the alleged value of the stolen property is the only reason for committing the case, such proof as may shew reasonable probability that the loss amounts to the sum charged is to be recorded, 4184.

Cases within the competency of the magistrate, and penalties.

May award imprisonment with hard labor for 3 years, if the amount or value stolen exceeds 50 rupees; if the thief has been previously convicted of a heinous offence; if the thief was at the time employed as a watchman, guard, or police officer; or as a servant of the person robbed; or was employed in the house robbed; and in all cases of cattle stealing, 4185—the term cattle includes all domestic quadrupeds, 4186—a previous conviction of theft not exceeding 10 rupees brings the case within this category, 4187—incorrigible thief is liable under this rule, 4188—and it applies to private watchmen as well as to those in the public service, 4240—it is no aggravation that the prisoner was formerly employed as a watchman; and the magistrate is to note in his statement whether he was actually so employed at the time of committing the offence, 4189.

In other cases of theft not included in the above, the magistrate may award six months' imprisonment and stripes, 4190—commutable to imprisonment for one year, 4191—in unaggravated cases the sentence cannot be more severe, 4192.

Corporal punishment, not exceeding 30 stripes, may be awarded to an adult if the value of the property does not exceed 50 rupees, 4193—or imprisonment at the option of the magistrate 4195—but if in such case the age of the prisoner does not exceed 18 years, the magistrate must award corporal punishment not exceeding 10 stripes with a light ratan, 4194, 4195—and he cannot award imprisonment, 4195—the same rule applies to the case of a prisoner convicted of a second offence not exceeding 50 rupees, who has previously been punished by stripes, 4196—attempts to commit theft do not fall within these provisions, 4197—no female is to be subject to corporal punishment, 4198—if stripes are inflicted, no other punishment can be superadded, id.—the stripes must be inflicted in the presence of the magistrate, id.—or an officer exercising the full powers of a magistrate, 4199—and such officers alone can award stripes, id.

If the prisoner is charged with two or more distinct offences, the magistrate is to refrain from passing any sentence, until he has completed the proceedings in all the cases, 4200—whether the thefts charged are petty cases or aggravated but within his competence, 4203—in case of conviction of more than one of the offences charged he may award imprisonment for 3 years, if he considers such punishment sufficient, 4201—4204—if it appears insufficient he is to commit for each offence, 4202, 4205—these provisions apply to theft and burglary only, 4207.

Sentence of labor is not commutable to fine, 1360.

Cases within the cognizance of the superior courts, and penalties.

On conviction of having belonged to a wandering gang of thieves, not being thugs or dacoits; imprisonment for 7 years, 4206—persons accused of belonging to such gang, or of receiving property stolen by such gang, may be committed by any magistrate and tried by any sessions court, 4208—no futwa is to be taken on the trial of such offences, 4209.

Penalties on conviction before the sessions court, 4210.

On conviction of murder in prosecution of theft or robbery; sentence of death, as in other cases of murder, by nizamat adawlut, 4211.

On conviction of theft or robbery accompanied with an attempt to murder, or with corporal injury endangering life; imprisonment and transportation for life, 4212—such trials must be referred, and the judge may state grounds for mitigation, id.—not applicable to a case in which death has ensued; but if intention to kill be clear but death does not ensue, capital sentence not to be passed, 4213—in such cases if the futwa convicts, even on strong presumption, the judge must pass the prescribed sentence and refer the trial, 4214—as where the thieves took out an infant and exposed it in the adjoining garden, 4215.

All cases of administering poisonous drugs with intent to rob, come within the above provisions, as cases of corporal injury endangering life; the judge must pass sentence and refer the trial, 4216—but they do not include the offence of administering merely intoxicating drugs not endangering life, 4219—nor is the latter offence included in the provisions below for theft attended with corporal injury in a less degree, 4221—a particular form of indictment to be used in such cases, specifying whether the drugs were poisonous or intoxicating, 4220.

If persons accused of robbery and murder appear to have been engaged in a systematic combination for such purposes, they are to be made over to the thuggee officers, 4218—and all persons committed on a charge of poisoning may be tried by the thuggee judge, 4217.

On conviction of theft or robbery attended with wounding or other corporal injury not endangering life; imprisonment in banishment for 16 years, 4222.

These provisions have no reference to cases of theft unaccompanied with wounding, or other corporal injury, or an attempt to commit murder, 4223.

Provisions regarding robbery by open violence are not applicable to cases of theft or robbery without open violence, 4224.

In aggravated cases of theft not included in the foregoing provisions the sessions courts may award imprisonment for 9 years, 4225.

Police officers, and guards, or watchmen, private as well as public, convicted of theft, are liable to the extent of the discretionary punishment within the power of the sessions courts and nizamat adawlut respectively, 4226.

Judge to explain in his abstract statement of prisoners punished without reference, whenever the sentence passed exceeds imprisonment for 6 years, 4227—but this is not meant to fix a maximum sentence for unaggravated cases, id.

THUGGEE.

A “thug” is one who has at any time habitually associated with any others for the purpose of committing, by means intended or likely to cause death, the offence of child-stealing, or robbery not amounting to dacoity, 4004—definition of the word “thuggee” and of the expression “murder by thuggee,” id.

All proceedings to be written in Urdu or Hindostani, 4003—but depositions and confessions of thugs are to be taken down in the language best understood by them, id.

Persons convicted of having belonged to a gang of thugs, either within or without the British territories, are to be punished with imprisonment for life with hard labor, 4005—in transportation, unless there are special reasons for not considering the prisoner a fit subject for transportation, 4006.

Persons charged with murder by thuggee, or with having belonged to a gang of thugs, either within or without the British territories, may be committed by any magistrate, 4007—but not for an attempt at thuggee, when such offence has not been perpetrated in his jurisdiction, 4008.

Persons charged with having belonged to a gang of thugs may be tried by any sessions court, 4009—but not for specific acts of murder by thuggee and plunder of property, committed beyond the British territories, without the previous sanction of government, 4010—persons accused of murder by thuggee, or of receiving property obtained by thuggee, may be tried by any sessions court, 4011.

The appointment of a special thuggee judge does not bar the jurisdiction of the ordinary courts; but in such cases the ordinary courts should abstain from trying the commitments, 4012.

Acquittal of general charge does not bar a trial for a specific crime, 4013.

Persons committed on a charge of poisoning for the purpose of robbery may be tried by the special thuggee judge, 4217.

THUGGEE.—Continued.

If persons accused of robbery and murder appear to have been engaged in a systematic combination for such purposes, they are to be made over to the thuggee officers, 4218.

Futwa not to be taken on a trial for having belonged to a gang of thugs, 4014—but a futwa, or the verdict of a jury, &c., must be taken on a trial for specific acts of murder and thuggee, 4015.

Qualified pardon may be offered to any thug on condition of his making a full and ingenuous confession; but such offer is not to include a hope that he will ever be set at liberty; it is to extend only to exemption from death and transportation and to indulgences in confinement, 4016—government will always confirm such promise; but every approver must be committed for trial and convicted of having belonged to a gang of thugs, in order to ensure the legality of his detention and imprisonment for life, id.—before commitment a faithful narrative of the prisoner's life of crime with all particulars is to be put on record, and a few approvers are to be examined as to his being a real thug, id.—the offer and acceptance of pardon by the approver must be affixed to the record of each trial, 4017.

Police officers are to give every assistance to the officers of the thuggee department, 4018.

Precedent, 4019.

TRANSLATIONS.

In the lower provinces, the court does not require translations of proceedings in referred trials, except as regards Orissa, and except in trials from all districts in which the judge recommends a capital sentence, 3091—in such cases the translations are to be made in Urdu, and submitted in a separate nuthec, id.

TRANSLATION.—Continued.

In the Western provinces, the court does not require translations, except when the dialect in use is peculiar or corrupt, in which case they must be written in a correct Urdu style, and a fair and legible character, id.—if uncommon words or obvious provincialisms occur in evidence, the corresponding term in Persian is to be noted in the margin, id.

Original confessions taken down in peculiar or corrupt dialects should be accompanied by translations, 659—so, other documents on the record, 1164.

See OFFICE, RULES OF, proceedings.

TRANSPORTATION, AND BANISHMENT.

The nizamut adawlut may order any prisoner sentenced to imprisonment for life to be transported beyond sea, 1489—and, whenever the court sentences any offender to imprisonment for life, it should at the same time sentence him to transportation for life, unless from special reasons, which are to be recorded, it considers him not a proper subject for transportation, 1490.

If a session judge sentences an offender to, or recommends a sentence of, imprisonment for life, a single judge of the nizamut adawlut must sentence him to transportation for life, unless there are special reasons against it, 1491—but session judge is always to adjudge transportation for life, if he considers the prisoner, upon whom he passes sentence of imprisonment for life, a proper object of transportation, 1492—if the prisoner is liable to a sentence of perpetual imprisonment, the trial must be referred, 1284, 1290.

Transportation beyond sea is restricted to convicts sentenced to confinement for life, 1492.

The nizamut adawlut cannot exempt from transportation, except in the way of mitigation, a person convicted of an offence for which the regulations specifically prescribe that punishment, 1493—as in the case of murder by thuggee, 4019.

Transportation is a more severe punishment than imprisonment for life, 1494.

Convicts under sentence of transportation for life, escaping from beyond sea and returning to the British territories, are liable to a sentence of death, 2765—futwa must be taken in such case, 2766—precedents, 2767, 2768, 2769, 2770.

Prisoners sentenced to perpetual imprisonment in Alipore jail may apply to be transported, 2956—and government may commute the sentence accordingly, 2957—punishment for return from transportation in such case, 2958.

Banishment.

Convicts confined for life but not considered proper objects of transportation, and convicts imprisoned for a limited period, may be sentenced to banishment, 1496.

Magistrate cannot sentence vagrants, or persons convicted of specific offences to banishment, or expulsion from the British territories, 1496—but a person confined in default of security may be released on his voluntary offer or consent to quit the jurisdiction, 3609.

RAVELLERS.

Deputy magistrates in the lower provinces in charge of subdivisions may draw 3 rupees per diem whilst moving about their jurisdiction; those at the sudder stations drawing salary at 200 rupees per mensem are allowed 5 rupees per diem when deputed to the interior, 790—rate may be calculated per diem or per mile at their option, 790*a.*

Law officers may draw 2 rupees per diem, if their salary exceeds 100, and is not above 200 rupees per mensem; if above 200, they may draw 3 rupees per diem, 2539.

All amlahs are allowed three-tenths of their salary; but, if required to proceed by dak, 4 anas per mile, 2524—rate if proceeding by rail, 2524*a.*—persons entitled to in W. P., 2525.

TRIALS REFERRED AND CALLED FOR.

What are referrible.

All trials in which the prisoners are convicted and liable to a sentence of perpetual imprisonment or death, must be referred, 1284, 1290.

Any case in which the judge considers the sentence within his competence inadequate to the guilt of the prisoner, may be referred, 1285—sentence not to be passed, id.

If the judge disapproves of any part of the proceedings held on a trial, or of the futwa, he must refer, 1286—unless he is expressly authorized by the regulations to pass sentence notwithstanding such futwa, 1290—if the law officer acquits and the judge convicts of the whole or any part of the charge, he is not to pass sentence but to refer the trial, 1290—so, if the law officer convicts, but declares the prisoner not liable to any punishment, 1295—so, if the judge convicts on only one count, and the law officer only on the other count, 1301—so, if the judge differs from the futwa on any other grounds than those especially provided for in the regulations, 1295—so, if the judge considers the exposition of the law officer on any point of law, arising during the trial, to be contrary to the principles of natural justice, 1296—so, if the law officer rejects the evidence on account of the religious persuasion of the witnesses, or on any other ground of exception in the Mahomedan rules of evidence which appear to the judge unreasonable and insufficient, and the conviction of the prisoner depends principally upon such evidence, 1297, 1298.

So, if a trial is held without the attendance or fatwa of the law officer under the special order of government, 1237.

So, if a trial is held with the assistance of a panchayat, assessors, or a jury, instead of a law officer, and the crime, of which the prisoner is convicted, be one which the judge is not specifically empowered by the regulations to punish, or which has not been declared to be a penal offence by a precedent of the sudder court, he is to refer without passing sentence, 1241, 1241a.

Examples: in a case of robbery with attempt to murder the trial must be referred, 1302, 4212—so, in a case of burglary with corporal injury endangering life, 1303, 4212.

What are not referrible.

A difference of opinion as to the aggravated character of an offence is not a sufficient ground of reference, 1287.

Nor is difference as to the degree of guilt, 1288.

It was held no ground of reference in a case of justifiable homicide that the prisoner had concealed the body of the deceased, 1306.

Although the trial of a particular offence (as dacoity with murder) must be referred, it is not necessary to refer the trial of an accomplice convicted of privy only, 1289.

A difference of opinion between the judge and the jury, or assessors, is no ground of reference, 1247.

The case of a chokcedar convicted of dacoity is not necessarily referrible, 1304, 4141, 4147.

A conviction on a charge of administering intoxicating drugs is not necessarily referrible, 1305, 4219.

If no minimum of punishment is prescribed, the case cannot be referred for mitigation of sentence, 4579.

Sentence by session judge in referrible trials.

Sentence not to be passed (except for the acquittal and discharge of prisoners not convicted), if the judge disapproves of the fatwa, or if any prisoner convicted at the trial is liable to a sentence of death, or if the judge considers the punishment within his competence inadequate, 1291.

In other cases sentence is to be passed; but in referrible trials, such sentence is not to be carried into execution until confirmed by the nizamut adawlut, id.

If a trial is referred as to the principal only, though an accomplice has been tried and convicted at the same time, the sentence passed upon the latter is not to be carried into effect until confirmed by the nizamut adawlut, id.—but if the accomplice be acquitted, he is to be released at once although the trial is referred, id.

If the judge differs from the law officer as to some of the prisoners only, he is to pass sentence on those regarding whom he concurs, and refer the trial as to the others, 1292—but such sentence is not to be executed until the receipt of the orders of the nizamut adawlut, who may revise the whole proceedings, 1293—the judge must pass sentence upon those in whose conviction he concurs, but must suspend the execution of it, 1294.

When to be forwarded.

In cases involving capital punishment, the trial is to be transmitted within 10 days, 1380.

Cases involving capital punishment are to be transmitted first, 1381.

Judge to be guided by the forms and instructions which he receives from the nizamut adawlut, 1382.

The judge may admit the prisoners to bail; and if they cannot provide it, he is to transmit the proceedings with the least possible delay for the early sentence or order of the court, 1382—the superintendent of police cannot direct that the prisoner be held to bail pending the reference, 1633—if a prisoner on bail is not apprehended until some time after the date of his sentence by the nizamut adawlut, a special report is to be made for their orders as to the date from which the sentence is to commence, 1635.

A judge on circuit is to transmit referrible trials from the station at which they are held, unless the number of papers to be copied would materially impede the circuit; in the latter case he is to report what referrible trials are so deferred, the dates on which they were held, and how soon the records will be transmitted, 1384—the transmission of trials is never to be delayed beyond ten days from his arrival at the next station, id.

Delay in forwarding trials is to be avoided, and is inexcusable, 1385.

Record.

A complete and exact counterpart of the original record of all proceedings held and papers received, is to be forwarded with an English letter stating the opinion of the judge, 1386—the record to be authenticated by the signature of the judge and the seal of the law officer, and to include all the proceedings with every examination, exhibit, and material paper taken by or delivered to the court, id.—the whole of the magistrate's proceedings are also to be annexed, id.—preparation of list of papers to be carefully superintended, 1392—form of, id.

Original confessions, &c., are to be transferred from the magistrate's proceedings to the copy of the record sent to the nizamut adawlut, attested copies being retained on the original record, 1386, 1389.

In trials for murder the original inquest is always to be forwarded, or the reason of omission to be noted in the letter, 1387.

In cases depending on the discovery of stolen property by police officers on a search, the original chalan of the property is to be entered on the sessions record, 1669.

No papers are to be submitted with the record, which relate exclusively to prisoners regarding whom the reference is not made, as their defence or the evidence for their defence, 1398.

Copies only of the sessions proceedings are to be sent, but the magistrate's proceedings in original, 1388.

The magistrate's amlah are to assist in making the necessary copies, and the judge may employ extra mohurrirs if necessary, id.—care to be taken in transcribing the papers, 1390.

In the lower provinces, except as regards Orissa, translations of the proceedings are required only in those cases, tried with the assistance of a law officer, in which the judge recommends a capital sentence; in such cases the translations are to be made in Urdu, and submitted in a separate nuthee, 1391.

In the Western provinces, translations of the proceedings are required only in districts wherein peculiar or corrupt dialects are in use; they are to be written in a correct Urdu style and a fair and legible character; wherever uncommon words or obvious provincialisms occur, the mohurrir is to note in the margin the equivalent term in Persian, id.

Original confessions, taken down in peculiar dialects, should be accompanied by translations, 659.

Copies of the vernacular and English calendars are always to be placed with the nuthee, 1392—in the latter a mark is to be placed against the names of witnesses examined, and a memorandum is to be entered of witnesses summoned by the judge in addition to those in the calendar, id.

Particular attention is required to the arrangement of the record, and to the rules for its transmission, 1403.

If magistrate requires a copy of the whole, or of any part of his proceedings before their transmission to the nizamat, on account of some of the accused persons not having been apprehended, or from any other cause, he is to apply to the judge, who is to comply with such application, or to state his reasons for refusing it in his letter accompanying the trial, 1393.

Letter.

Containing the opinion of the judge to be sent with the record, 1394.

Form of letter, 1395.

In the margin of the letter are to be entered:—the specification of the trial, 1395—the name of the prosecutor, id.—the name, the age, and the dates of apprehension and commitment of each prisoner, 1395, 1396—in cases involving a sentence of death the name of the prisoner's father is to be specified, 1402—the names of the prisoners to be written in the order in which they are brought forward for trial, 1401—the names of those prisoners only to be given in regard to whom the reference is made, 1398—the precise charge, 1395, 1399—the date of the perpetration of the offence, 1396—the nature of the futwa, 1395—and whether the prisoners are in jail or on bail, 1397.

Names of prisoners and sentence to correspond exactly with statement; care is to be taken in the spelling of names and legible writing, 1399.

If the judge thinks that the prisoner has stated his age inaccurately, he is to specify in the record his opinion of the apparent age, 1209.

The body of the letter is to contain a brief recapitulation of the prosecutor's statement, of the evidence for the prosecution, and of the defence; with the judge's concurrence with, or dissent from, the futwa; and a distinct expression of his opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, and of the specific crime established against him, 1395.

Reference is to be made to the witnesses in the margin in red ink, 1400.

The opinion of the judge as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner must be clear and explicit, 1404.

When a trial is referred, because the session judge differs from the law officer as to some of the prisoners only, he is to point out those parts of the proceedings or evidence which affect the prisoners in respect to whom the case is referred, 1292.

The judge is to specify the punishment which he considers adequate to the crime established against the prisoner, 1405—except, in the Western provinces, in trials held with the assistance of a law officer, in which case he is merely to record his opinion of the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, and of their relative degrees of guilt if there is more than one prisoner, id.

If the judge recommends imprisonment for life, he is to state his opinion whether the imprisonment should be undergone in transportation, or in the Alipore jail, 1406.

When the judge refers a case as beyond his competence, or for an extension, mitigation, or remission of punishment, he is to notice the same in his letter, and to state at large the grounds of his judgment, with such of the facts and circumstances as are necessary to explain the case of the prisoner regarding whom the reference is made, 1407.

With the records of cases called for, the judge is to forward extracts from the statements relating thereto, 1408—if some prisoners are punished and others released, an extract from each statement is required, id.—so, in trials postponed; id.—such extracts are to be sent with all cases appealed or called for in L. P., 1408a—not required in W. P., 1408.

Reports of trials to be clear and concise, 1409—but should contain the opinion of the judge on the whole of the evidence, accounting for and reconciling all discrepancies, 1410—the examination of the difficulties of a case should not be devolved upon the sadder court, id.—an incomplete report is a failure of duty on the part of the session judge, 1411.

If the nizamat adawlut do not pass sentence within six months, the judge is to notice the same in his letter accompanying the monthly statements, stating certain particulars, 1412.

UNCLAIMED PROPERTY.

Belongs to government, whether cattle, boats, timbers, or other goods or chattels; and police officers are to forward all such property to the magistrate; or if not easily moved to make over charge of it, pending his orders, to the local zamencdar or head person of the village, 1680. See TREASURE TROVE.

Unclaimed (ladavee) property is not to be confounded with intestate (lawaris) property, 1681.

The disposal of unclaimed property rests with the magistrate, subject to the control of the superintendent of police and government, without any interference on the part of the civil court, id.

Intestate property is immediately to be made over to the civil judge, id.

But if property of an intestate who belonged to the army come into the magistrate's hands, he is to communicate with the officer commanding the regiment or in charge of the department to which the deceased belonged, 1682.

Registers of such property to be kept in prescribed forms, 1683.

USE OF ANY LAND OR WATER.

Disputes concerning the right of, may be determined under Act IV, 1840, in favor of the public, of classes of persons, or of individuals, 3802.
 If the right of use can be exercised at all times of the year, it must have been exercised within three months previous to the institution of the enquiry;—but if it exists at particular seasons, it must have been exercised without discontinuance, id.
 If a bund constructed by a person on his own land is injurious to the property of another, the complaint would usually lie in the civil court; but magistrate might interfere to prevent a breach of the peace or serious injury to property, 3803.

UTTERING.

Penalty for uttering counterfeited stamp paper, coin, bank-notes, promissory notes, or other securities for money, 3254—or stamps, 3271*p*. See STAMPS.
 A person acquitted by the sessions court for uttering cannot be sentenced by the magistrate for having had the counterfeit coin in his possession, 3260. See COINING.
 Penalty for uttering fabricated deeds and papers, 4572—the charge of uttering must contain an averment of fraud, 4573.
 Attempt to register a forged bond in the office of register of deeds held to be punishable as an uttering, 4574.
 To file a forged document by an agent is to utter it, 4575—but the uttering is not complete by giving the forged document to an agent, until a fraudulent use has been made or attempted to be made of it by the agent, 4576.
 To file a forged document before the court of wards is to utter it, 4577.

VACATIONS.

The trial of cases committed, and ready for trial, previous to the dasharam or puharram vacation, are to be completed, although the vacation supervenes in the course of it, 1141.
 The sessions court should be closed only when a total cessation from all business is necessary and usual, id.

VAGRANTS.

Police to apprehend all vagrants and suspicious persons, wandering about in parties or individually, without a fixed abode; or who, though resident in a particular place, have no ostensible means of honest livelihood and who cannot give a satisfactory account of themselves, 3603.
 Police officers to make summary enquiry; and if necessary to apprehend them; and to forward them to the magistrate, unless they can give a satisfactory account of their names, connections, place of residence, occupation, and means of livelihood, 3604.
 If their names cannot be ascertained, the darogah may apprehend them without a specific warrant, 3605—if necessary, he may apply to the local landholder, or to the adjacent thana, or to the sudder station, for assistance, id.
 If the suspicions against such persons prove unfounded, the police are to admit them to bail, and report the circumstances for the magistrate's order without sending them to the station, 3606.

VAGRANTS.—Continued.

Magistrate to examine such persons on oath, and also persons having any knowledge of their circumstances; and if they appear disorderly or ill-disposed, to require them to give security for good behaviour, 3607—or in default, to be imprisoned for a definite period, 3559—or until some creditable person agrees to entertain them in service; or the magistrate is satisfied that they will endeavour to obtain an honest livelihood, 3607.
 Such persons escaping from jail punishable by imprisonment with hard labor for six months, 3607.
 Magistrates to look out for, and to apply these rules to, pseudo-mendicants, who wander about periodically, ostensibly engaged in begging, snake-catching, juggling, &c. 3608.
 Such persons cannot be sentenced to banishment from the district or from the British territories; but this does not prohibit the discharge of such persons on their voluntary offer or consent to quit the jurisdiction, 3609.

Suspicious assemblies of strangers.

As subjects of foreign states assuming fictitious characters have assembled in the British territories to commit robberies or other crimes, these rules are enacted, 3610.
 Police darogahs to detain all persons travelling in bodies or assembled under such suspicious circumstances, and to report to the magistrate, or to forward the suspected persons in emergent cases, 3611.
 If the darogah does not see sufficient cause to detain them or to send them to the magistrate, but still entertains suspicions, he is to depute a police officer to watch them and to notify the same to the adjoining police division, 3612.
 When forwarded to the magistrate, he is to release them, or to adopt precautionary measures as above; or if they appear to be travelling without any reasonable object, and to be inhabitants of a remote district or subjects of a foreign state, he is to compel them to return under a suitable guard, 3613.
 Darogahs not to confound with such persons strangers coming for the purpose of cultivating land or exercising their professions; but are to encourage such persons, keeping a watchful eye over them if necessary, 3614—all such accessions to the population are to be reported to the magistrate, id.
 Police officers to be punished for neglect of these rules, 3615.
 The principal persons in the villages are required to give information of the resort to, or passage through their villages of any considerable body of strangers, or of the assemblage of such bodies, with other particulars, 2414—penalty in cases of neglect, id.

Then to be issued.

Upon a complaint being preferred in writing of an offence declared not bailable, or such as to require the immediate apprehension of the accused, and on the truth of the charge being deposed to, the magistrate is to issue a warrant for the apprehension of the accused, 334—form of, Appendix A, No. 6.

The magistrate may authorize the officer serving the warrant to receive bail with or without security; and is to specify the amounts in the warrant, 335—form, Appendix A, No. 2.

The attendance and deposition of the plaintiff is not indispensable; it is sufficient if his written plaint is presented by an authorized agent, and corroborated by the oath of one or more persons present, or otherwise personally informed of the truth of it, 336—but substantial reason must be shown for the absence of the prosecutor, 337.

No warrant is to be issued unless the complainant or some other credible person deposes on oath to the truth of the charge, 338—and until the magistrate has examined the prosecutor as to the specific facts of the case, 340.

But magistrate may issue warrant upon the report of a police officer or upon any other credible information, without a written complaint or a deposition on oath, 338, 339—form of warrant in such case, Appendix A, No. 47.

Session judge cannot prohibit the issue of a process to apprehend a particular individual, 341—nor direct the apprehension of parties, 342.

If the magistrate distrust the truth of the complaint, he may postpone issuing his warrant until he has made enquiry, 343.

In bailable offences, warrant may be issued in cases of persons neglecting summons, 347—or in case of failure to serve summons, 1581.

Police officers authorized to receive complaints, on a complaint of a heinous crime being preferred to them in writing, or on the receipt of credible information, and on the truth of the complaint being deposed to on oath by the complainant or other credible person acquainted with the facts, are to examine the party regarding the circumstances, and to issue a warrant, unless special reason appears why the issue should be delayed pending a report to the magistrate, 365.

WITCHCRAFT.

The putting any person to death on the ground of his or her being versed in or practising sorcery, is punishable as murder, 3934.

If any persons form themselves into an assembly for the purpose of trying any man or woman on a charge of witchcraft, or any other charge, or cause such assembly to be held, and any person is in consequence put to death, they are to be considered as principals or accomplices in the murder, id.

Precedents:—where the prisoners were actuated by superstition, 3984—where the deceased professed witchcraft, id.

WITNESSES.

All criminal courts are to issue a summons to the witnesses whose attendance and evidence is required, specifying at whose request the summons is issued, and requiring them to appear on a certain day, 438.

All summonses to witnesses are to be served by a chapraai, peon, or other officer of the magistrate, or a police officer, instead of being delivered to the parties to be served on their own witnesses, id.

Non-attendance and recusance.

The power of imprisoning and fining any material witness not attending after receiving the summons, or though attending refusing to give evidence or sign his deposition, is vested in the magistrates, session courts, and the nizamat adawlut, 439.

Witness attending and refusing to give evidence is, in the first instance, to be committed to custody only; and to be fined if he persists in his refusal when called upon a second time, or to be imprisoned in lieu for a certain period, or until he pays the fine, or consents to give his evidence, id.—no limitation is fixed for the imprisonment in lieu of fine, 447—if the case is decided, the witness must be discharged on payment of the fine: if not decided, he is to be kept in confinement whether he has paid the fine or not, id.—payment of fine does not absolve the recusant witness from the duty of giving evidence, 446b.

If a witness duly summoned does not attend, proof must be taken on oath that his evidence is material, 448—the prosecutor's oath alone is not sufficient, id.—such proof is not requisite if the witness attending refuses to give evidence or to sign his deposition, id.

Mode of enforcing the attendance of a witness residing in Calcutta, 441.

Magistrate may compel the attendance of any witness, although he has not been named by the prosecutor or other person, 442.

Any person present in court may be required to give evidence and to produce documents then and there in his possession, 443.

An excuse that disgrace may attach to personal attendance in court is inadmissible, 444.

When a witness duly summoned has failed in attendance, and has evaded the warrant issued for his apprehension, a proclamation is to be issued requiring his attendance within a certain period, in failure of which a fine is to be imposed, and his property attached and sold, 445—fine cannot be refunded on account of subsequent appearance, 446a.

Unless the summons has been actually and personally served on the witness, he cannot be fined, or a warrant issued for his apprehension or his property attached, id.

Merely showing the subpoena to the witness is sufficient service, 446.

One summons is sufficient; a warrant may be issued for the arrest of the witness notwithstanding the payment of the fine, without serving a second summons, 446b.

All fines imposed by the magistrate under these rules are to be reported to the session judge; who is to report to the nizamat adawlut if the fine is immoderate, or has been imposed on insufficient grounds, 448—or may himself reverse or modify the order, id.

Magistrates are to prevent any abuses on the part of the amlah as confining witnesses in the hujut-guard, 449.

Witnesses should not be placed in confinement when they will not tell all they know, 450.

Any person whether a party to the suit or not may be summoned to produce documents, but he need not attend personally to produce them, 451—when the court has reason to be satisfied that a witness possesses documents material to a cause, it may, if he refuse or neglect to produce them, without showing satisfactory reason, proceed against him as a recusant witness, 452.

In the absence of any witness the session judge may twice postpone a trial; but if the evidence of such witness is unnecessary the trial may be completed in his absence, 453—after being twice postponed, the prisoners should be acquitted, if the witnesses are not forthcoming, 454—but the trial need not be postponed if witness is confined for refusing to give evidence, 455. SEE POSTPONED TRIALS.

Witnesses whose evidence is not directly material to prove the charge, to be excluded from the calendar, 982.

Only two witnesses to the mortal need be bound over to give evidence at the sessions; as the judge can always summon others if necessary, 985.

Prisoner committed for trial is to be allowed to specify any witnesses whom he desires to have examined in his defence before the sessions court, 457—and a list of such witnesses is to be recorded, id.—such witnesses are to be summoned to attend at the time fixed for the trial, 458.

Any other witnesses also whom the defendant may name, at any time before the sessions, are to be summoned to attend at the same time, 459.

Magistrate is to submit with the proceedings lists of witnesses named by the prosecutor or prisoner, specifying those in attendance and those absent with the cause of their non-attendance, 460—these lists are to be accompanied with the original returns of the nazir and of the person deputed by him to serve the summons; and these officers are to be kept in attendance on the sessions court, id.—judge is to

Magistrate to ascertain the actual attendance of the witnesses at the sessions court, and to establish checks to guard against overcharge for diet-money, 477—so, also the session judge is to note what witnesses are present, 478.

If the witnesses are Mahomedan or Hindoo women of a rank which prevents their appearance in public, and if their evidence can be taken by commission, the judge is to depute persons for that purpose, 462.

Session judge to note in the English calendar what witnesses have been examined on the trial; and to add a memorandum of the names of all witnesses, not named in the magistrate's calendar, whom the judge has thought proper to summon and examine, 392.

Religious persuasion not to disqualify a witness, 1297.

If law officer rejects evidence, 1297. See SENTENCES BY SESSION JUDGE AND SESSIONS.

Evidence of absent witnesses.

Generally the examination of absent witnesses cannot be received on a criminal trial, and their personal attendance is necessary, 463.

Evidence of witnesses for the prosecution must be taken in the presence of the accused, 464.

But evidence taken on oath before the magistrate, duly attested and proved, is available at the sessions in case of the death or unavoidable absence of the witness, 465.

When the evidence of a prisoner confined in another district is requisite, the magistrate of such district may be required to send him, both courts reporting to the nizamat adawlut, 473.

Commission for taking evidence may be issued to any officer of the court, or other person within the jurisdiction of the court; or to any subordinate court for witnesses within the jurisdiction, or to any other court for examination of witnesses in any place without the jurisdiction, and in such case the evidence is to be taken in open court, 466—under special circumstances such commission may be issued otherwise than to a court out of the jurisdiction, id.

If within the jurisdiction, the attendance of any witness may be required at the court or at his own residence or elsewhere, 467.

Persons guilty of wilful disobedience are punishable as recusant witnesses in other cases, id.

Persons so attending are entitled to re-imbusement of expenses as in other cases, id.

Such examinations are to be taken on oath or affirmation; and false evidence or procuring such amounts to perjury or subornation, 468.

Court to satisfy itself regarding the reason alleged for the non-attendance of the witness, and to enquire as to his place of residence and the nearest court thereto, and the commission is to be directed to such court of equal or inferior degree as can most conveniently execute it, except in case of doubt when it is to be directed to the judge who may direct it to a subordinate court, 469.

Deposition so taken is not to be received in evidence without the consent of the opposite party, unless deponent is beyond the jurisdiction, or dead, or sick, or infirm, or distant more than 50 kos, or exempted from personal appearance; or unless the court dispenses with the proof of such circumstances, or authorizes it notwithstanding proof that such causes have ceased, id.—and court may admit such deposition although the witness has been produced, id.—if deposition is duly certified, proof of the signature of such certificate is unnecessary, id.

Such commissions may be executed within the limits of the supreme court, and are to be directed to a court of requests, 470.

May be executed also in foreign territories; and persons in the service of government are punishable for disobedience and perjury, 471.

Muchalkas to be taken from prosecutors and witnesses to appear before the magistrate on a certain day, which is to be the same day as that on which the accused will appear, 490—muchalkas to be taken on plain paper, 491—and forwarded to magistrate, 490—and a despatch to be given to the witnesses in prescribed form, which they are to deliver to the magistrate, id.—no police officer is to accompany them, id.

Prosecutors not to be subjected to restraint, 492.

Witnesses are not to be subjected to any restraint or unnecessary inconvenience, nor to be required to give security for appearance, 493.

If a witness refuse to attend, or to execute the muchalka, he may be forwarded in custody, id.

Any maltreatment inflicted upon a witness by a police officer, landholder, or other person, to procure information, subjects to exemplary punishment, 494.

Police officers cannot compel the attendance of persons acquainted with the commission of offences, 495.

Police officers are prohibited from keeping any register of females retained for the purposes of prostitution, or allowing any list of such girls to be delivered to, or the girls to be brought before them at any place whatever, 2255.

WORKMEN.

Engaging to serve for a stipulated term, or contracting for the performance of any specific work, and wilfully quitting the service or neglecting the work, punishable by imprisonment for one month, 4706.

Magistrate may also compel the completion of the term or contract by further imprisonment for two months, id.—but this punishment cannot be repeated, or any further measure taken towards compelling an actual performance of the work engaged for, 4708.

WORKMEN.—Continued.

But the workman is not liable to punishment in such cases, if he has been ill-treated, or has other sufficient cause to justify or excuse him, 4718.

In the case of artisans taking advances, there must be a stipulated term, or a contract for a specific work, 4709.

Cases may be prosecuted in the district where the agreement was executed, or in that in which the defendant resides, id.

These rules do not apply to the wages of a mokhtar, 4710—nor to the gomastah of an indigo planter superintending an out-factory, 4711—nor to a village chokeedar, 4712—nor to contracts for supplying hakeris and bullocks, 4713—nor to beparis in the service of government, 4714—nor to a contract with security to convey goods to a fixed place, 4715—but they are applicable to a driver of a hakeri, who neglects or refuses to fulfil his engagement, 4713.

If employed for a fixed term or a specific service, they may not be discharged before the expiry of the term, or the completion of the service, 4716—in such cases magistrate is to award payment of such sum as appears fully adequate to any loss sustained by them from being discharged before the time agreed upon, 4717—but if discharged for misconduct they can only recover arrears of wages, 4718.

Complaints for arrears of wages should ordinarily be made within a year and preferred on oath, 4719.

The amount of wages which may be recovered is not limited, 4719. Such awards to be levied by distress and sale of personal property, 4720.

Assistants vested with special powers are competent to dispose of such cases, 4721—and such cases may be referred to officers exercising the primary powers of assistant, for investigation and report, id.

Cases decided by the criminal authorities are not open to a civil action; nor can the civil court interfere with the magistrate's order, 4722.

European British subjects may sue under these provisions, but are not liable as defendants, 4723.

But magistrate may take cognizance of complaints against them under 53 Geo. III. cap. 155, sect. 106, 4723a, 4625.

Breach of contract by, special rules regarding.

If workman neglect to perform work, on account of which he has received an advance of money, complaint may be made to magistrate, 4723a.

Magistrate may, at the option of the complainant, order repayment of the whole or any part of the advance, or performance of contract, 4723b—penalty if workmen fail to comply with order, id.—how for such order bars civil action, id.

Magistrate may require workman to give security, for due performance of order, and may imprison in default of such security, 4723c.

To what contracts these rules extend, 4723d.

Government may extend these rules to any place, and appoint special officers to exercise powers of magistrate, 4723e.

Workmen engaged in railways and other public works, special rules regarding.

Government may empower any magistrate to decide disputes on account of wages, hire of carriage, or price of work, in certain public works, 4723f.

Such jurisdiction extends only to cases, in which the amount in dispute does not exceed 200 rupees, and which are preferred within six months, 4723g.

Government may fix and alter local limits of such jurisdiction, 4723h.

Cases may be tried at any place within jurisdiction, id.
