CHARLES H. CAREYRepublican, Candidate for Delegate from the State at Large to the Republican National Convention

Charles H. Carey, direct primary candidate for election as delegate to the Republican National Convention, to be held at Chicago, Illinois, June 7, 1916, for the nomination of Republican candidates for President and Vice-President.

To the Men and Women of the Republican Party:

Our State is entitled to four delegates to the Chicago Convention from the State at large (besides two from each Congressional District), to be elected at the Primary Election, May 19, 1916.

My name will be on the ballot for delegate at large, and I will appreciate your support.

Yours respectfully,

CHARLES H. CAREY,

P. O. Address, Oswego, R. F. D. No. 1, Clackamas County, Oregon.

Business Address, Carey & Kerr, 1410 Yeon Building, Portland, Oregon.

ARTHUR C. SPENCER

Republican, Candidate for Delegate from the State at Large to the Republican National Convention

Arthur C. Spencer pledges himself to refrain from attempting to control or influence federal appointments; to faithfully support the people's nominees; to oppose time-lock convention methods.

Prior to the initiative act adopted by the people of this State in 1904, the voter had little voice in the selection of candidates for federal office. The Senators whose recommendations resulted in the appointment of federal office holders were chosen for the people, but not by the people. Since the enactment of that law, earnest public sentiment for its enforcement has resulted in the election of Senators nominated and chosen by the people.

The fruits of this action by the people have demonstrated their ability to choose their representatives without the assistance of hand-picked conventions or self-constituted committees. During these years, strange to say, similar action was not taken in making provision for the selection of delegates to national conventions convened for the purpose of choosing a standard bearer for President, but in 1915 provision was made authorizing the people to express their choice for President upon the primary ballot.

The coming primary will be the first test of the people's interest in this legislation. The suggestion is made that they will not express their choice at the primaries unless the candidate's name is printed upon the ballot. The question is then presented whether a man who is not seriously a candidate for this high office can, by the printing of his name on the ballot, secure more votes than the men whose names are in the minds and on the lips of the people of the nation as the proper and qualified leaders of the Republican party in the present period of high tension in matters national and international.

This presidential primary law is now on trial and a farcical use of it at the coming election will relegate it to the scrap heap and the rights of the people under it will then exist in theory only.

We appeal to the voter to express his or her choice for President and Vice-President upon the ballot and to call upon the delegates selected to register that choice for the people at the coming Republican National Convention.

ARTHUR C. SPENCER.

W. W. CALKINS

Republican, Candidate for Delegate from the First Congressional District to the Republican National Convention

To the Republicans of this district:

In seeking your support for this responsible position it is but just that I state who I am and what I stand for.

I came to Eugene from Minnesota fourteen years ago; have been a member of the city council of Eugene, a member for Lane County of the Lower House of the State Legislature in 1909, and of the State Senate during the sessions of 1911 and 1913, and have taken an active part in politics as a Republican all my life.

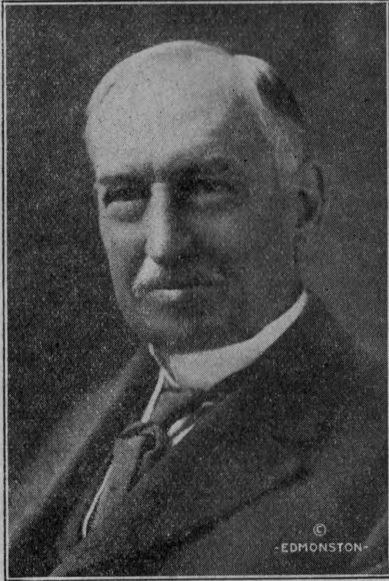

If elected, I shall carry out my pledge to support the person receiving the highest vote at the primaries in Oregon for President while such person has a chance to be nominated. After that, I hope to help nominate Justice Hughes for President. I also hope to help place in the Republican platform an adequate plank on preparedness, and also as to a protective tariff.

W. W. CALKINS.

THEODORE E. BURTON of Ohio

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for President of the United States

Theodore E. Burton was born in Ohio, December 20, 1851. He was graduated from Oberlin College at the age of twenty. Studied law with Lyman Trumbull, friend of Lincoln; practiced law in the city of Cleveland, and later was elected to Congress in 1888. Took an active part in framing the McKinley Tariff law of 1890. Defeated Johnson, the free trade and single tax advocate, for Congress in 1894. Served continuously in Congress from 1890 to 1909, when he was elected to the Senate, where he served until March 3, 1915, declining reelection.

To Mr. Burton's efforts in Congress the success of the Panama Canal is largely due. He was a member of the Monetary Commission, which rendered great public service in formulating the Federal Reserve Law. Took an active part in the Aldrich-Vreeland Currency Law. Was appointed by President Roosevelt chairman of the Inland Waterways Commission, and for ten years served as chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House. He was chairman of the National Waterways Commission.

Mr. Burton is a man whose achievements in public life have placed him in the list of Ohio's great men, and the fact that he has received the complete endorsement of Ohio for the nomination to the Presidency of the United States at the Convention to be held in Chicago, bespeaks for him a consideration at the hands of the electorate in the State of Oregon where he has submitted his name for selection as the presidential candidate at the hands of the Republican party, subject to the primaries to be held May 19, 1916.

I submit the candidacy of Senator Burton for the earnest consideration of the electors of Oregon for the high honor of President of the United States.

O. C. BORTZMEYER.

ALBERT B. CUMMINS of IowaRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for President of the United States

His career that of a typical American.
Carpenter, expressman, surveyor, railroad engineer.
Member of Legislature, seven years Governor of Iowa.
Elected twice to United States Senate.
Independent, eloquent, aggressive, always patriotic.

A Few of the Good Things to His Credit for Iowa

One of the best primary election laws.
Election of United States Senators by popular vote.
Put the free pass and lobby out of business.
Business methods in all departments of state.

Equalized the burdens of taxation.
 Iowa's first child labor legislation.
 Refused to permit Iowa to harbor railroad mergers.
 Compulsory attendance at school.
 Publicity for campaign contributions.
 Wrote one of the first and best railroad laws.
 Limitations of hours of labor for railroad men.
 Reduced passenger fares for Iowa.
 Over-capitalization of corporations prevented.
 Protection to all insurance policy holders.
 Interest on the people's money on deposit.
 Reorganized system of higher education.
 Factory inspection and safety appliance legislation.
 Pure food, pure seeds, and no butter frauds.

Some of the Things Cummins Has Done of National Scope

Active in securing woman's suffrage.
 Railroads must show reason for raising freight rates.
 Kept the postal savings funds at home.
 Materially helped secure direct election of Senators.
 Favored an equitable income tax bill.
 Voted for free tolls through Panama Canal.
 Prevented legalizing railroad pools and mergers.
 Long favored commission for business treatment of tariff.
 Made carriers responsible for livestock losses.
 Made fight for Presidential preference laws.
 Made it possible to have uniform classification of freight.
 Forced more equitable distribution of national delegates.
 Ably championed genuine protection to industries.
 Fought effectively against seating of Lorimer.
 Voted for federal commission on workmen's compensation.
 Author of federal boiler inspection law.
 Supported bill for federal children's bureau.
 Voted to pass literacy test bill over the veto.
 Won a great lawsuit which broke the barbed wire monopoly and saved millions to American farmers.

Compelled more equitable distribution of funds for education.

He has ever stood for the rights of the individual man, for competition as against monopoly, for political freedom and equality, against discriminations and special favors and for a liberal construction of the Constitution.

Has introduced a bill in present Congress providing for government manufacture of all munitions of war.

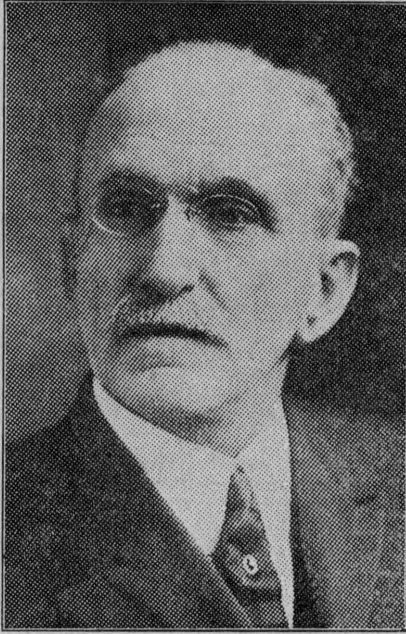

His Candidacy Will Unite All Elements Within the Party

He is not sensational nor spectacular, nor given to eccentricities. A statesman rather than a politician. A patient and persistent worker, who, both as Governor and United States Senator, has worked, talked and voted for popular rights and for equal opportunity to all.

We submit his candidacy for your consideration, based on his long record of public service.

CHAS. B. MOORESRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Secretary of State

Charles B. Moores, candidate for the Republican nomination for Secretary of State, is a descendant of Oregon pioneer stock, his grandfather, Col. I. R. Moores, having represented Lane County in the Territorial Legislative Assembly, and as a member of the Oregon Constitutional Convention. His father, Hon. John H. Moores, represented Marion County in the Oregon State Senate and was active and prominent in the public affairs of his time.

Charles B. Moores is a graduate of Willamette University, and has served for thirty-eight successive years as a member of the Board of Trustees of that institution. He is also a graduate of the Law Department of the University of Michigan. He was Speaker of the Oregon House of Representatives in 1895. In 1897, he was appointed Register of the U. S. Land Office at Oregon City and served one term. He is one of the directors of the Oregon Historical Society and is also president of the Oregon State Pioneer Association. For the past six years he has been rendering gratuitous service as a member of the Commission of Public Decks of the city of Portland, of which he is chairman. In the last two State campaigns he has served as chairman of the Oregon Republican State Central Committee. For many years he has rendered active campaign service both on the stump and in the public press. He has never solicited political preferment in any party primary or convention and his name has never been used in any primary or convention at his suggestion or solicitation. His success in his candidacy for Secretary of State will be an assurance of courteous treatment and efficient service in the administration of that department.

WILLIAM F. WOODWARD.

(This information furnished by William F. Woodward)

BEN W. OLCOTTRepublican, Candidate for Nomination for Secretary of StateTo the Republicans of Oregon:*

I am a candidate for renomination for the office of Secretary of State.

In asking for your support at the coming primaries, I do so believing that I am better qualified than ever to fulfill the exacting requirements of this position.

During my administration I have endeavored to perfect a business organization in the office that will favorably compare with that of any large bank or other well governed and successful business concern. The work has been systematically departmentized and each department placed under the direct supervision of a competent head from whom I demand results. Under this system the affairs of the office are being handled with the utmost efficiency and at the minimum of expense.

The Joint House and Senate Ways and Means Committee, appreciating this fact, very generously took occasion to voluntarily commend the management of the office by resolution, reported in the Oregonian of January 30, 1915, as follows:

"State Capitol, Salem, Ore., Jan. 29.—(Special.)—After allowing Secretary of State Olcott the amount he asked, for the operation of his department, the Ways and Means Committee of the Senate and House today adopted a resolution, offered by Senator Day, extending the official a vote of thanks for the efficient manner in which he had conducted his office. Mr. Olcott returned to the general fund $16,500.00 of the appropriation for the past two years and asked $9,000.00 less for 1915 and 1916 than was allowed in 1913 and 1914."—Oregonian.

Realizing the responsibility that rests upon the shoulders of the appointive Institutional and Departmental heads, and believing that the affairs of the State are entitled to the same careful management as the affairs of any well conducted business, I have always felt that merit alone, and not political influence, should be recognized in making such appointments. This policy I have uniformly advocated and followed in my actions upon the various boards and commissions.

In conclusion, permit me to emphasize the fact that I am standing squarely upon my record, both in the management of this office and in my attitude upon the various boards; and if reelected I shall continue, as in the past, to devote my entire time and give the closest personal attention to the duties of Secretary of State; controlled by none and influenced only by a desire to give the greatest degree of efficiency at the smallest possible cost.

In the administration of State affairs I shall continue to be guided solely by business principles and common sense.

Your support and influence will be much appreciated.

BEN W. OLCOTT.

FRED G. BUCHEL

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Public Service Commissioner,
Western Oregon District

If nominated and elected I will divorce the office from politics and conduct it for the best interests of the people; I will put the clerical force on a merit and efficiency basis and operate the office as economically as is consistent with good business; I will ferret out every unjust railroad, express, telegraph, telephone, water, light, gas and power regulation and rate and substitute therefor just and equitable regulations and rates; I will demand that the transportation companies provide sufficient cars and equipment at all times for the shipment of all Oregon products; I will give a square deal to the people and the public service corporations alike.

Following are a few editorials from the Oregon press showing that I have labored faithfully in the past as a public servant and endorsing my candidacy for Public Service Commissioner:

"Under State Treasurer Thomas B. Kay, Mr. Buchtel is in charge of the State Weights and Measures Department, and his record there is full guaranty that he will faithfully fulfill the promises contained in his platform. Mr. Buchtel is the son of Joe Buchtel, pioneer photographer and fire chief of Portland, and prior to assuming his present office he established a reputation for efficiency as Sealer of Weights and Measures in Portland."—Morning Enterprise, Oregon City.

"He is the father of weights and measures legislation in Oregon, and the comprehensive code drafted by him on the subject reduced the operating expenses of his department to the State at large and sounded the death knell on fraudulent weighing apparatus. Economy, efficiency and strict law enforcement constitute his record as head of the State Weights and Measures Department."—Evening News, Roseburg.

"Through strict enforcement of the law he has saved the people thousands of dollars and safeguarded the public."—The Times, Brownsville.

"Fred G. Buchtel, candidate for the Republican nomination for Public Service Commissioner in the western district, today announced his platform, and it merits support, for it represents the cause of the people."—Oregon Grange Bulletin, Eugene.

"He promises to conduct the office on business principles, to ferret out all unjust rates, and to give a square deal to public service corporations and the people alike. Mr. Buchtel is deserving of official promotion, and the electors of the district might well rally to his candidacy and nominate and elect him."—Oregon Daily Statesman, Salem.

FRED G. BUCHEL.

THOS. K. CAMPBELL

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Public Service Commissioner, Western Oregon District

Mr. Campbell is at present a member of the Commission, representing the Western District, which now includes Multnomah, Columbia and Clatsop Counties, which were formerly in the Eastern Oregon District. He is one of the original members of the Commission, having been appointed by the late Governor Benson. In 1908 and 1912 he was reelected to the Commission, receiving Republican and Democratic nominations. Mr. Campbell has had a wide experience as a general contractor and builder, having constructed railroads, bridges and some of the larger public buildings, including the present City Hall at Portland.

The Public Service Commission has the power under the laws of this State to fix the rates which all public service companies, such as water companies, gas companies and light and power companies shall charge the public. They have also the power to fix rates for freight and passengers. Space does not permit an extended statement of the activities of the Public Service Commission, formerly the Railroad Commission. Thorough investigations have been made of many subjects with important results beneficial to the public, including the following:

Reduction of freight and passenger rates; reduction of express rates; establishment of numerous stations and agencies, and safeguards for prevention of accidents; physical valuation of all the railroads in the State.

The rates and service of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, Portland Railway Light and Power Company, and California-Oregon Power Company are now the subject of investigation on the Commission's own motion.

Every year hundreds of complaints are investigated and satisfactorily adjusted. Official records show the result has been a continuous saving to the people of Oregon of at least a million dollars annually. Betterment of the service has prevented loss of life and limb.

No order of the Commission has ever been set aside by any court. The Supreme Court of Oregon, in an opinion rendered December 26, 1911, said: "The infrequency of appeals from orders of the Commission indicates that the Commissioners, selected by the people of this State to see that the rights of the public in matters of transportation are properly protected, have performed that duty fairly and faithfully." (119 Pac. Rep. 730.)

His past record is ample evidence of future good service, and his knowledge of regulation gained by his wide experience is not to be expected or to be found in a new man.

ELISHA P. MORCOM

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Circuit Judge, Third
Judicial District, Comprising Linn and Marion Counties

I, Elisha P. Morcom, candidate for the Republican nomination as Judge of the Circuit Court in the Third Judicial District, was born at Dodgeville, Wisconsin, February 6, 1860; commenced the study of law at the age of fifteen years; graduated from the Dodgeville High School in 1882; have practiced law in Minnesota one year and practiced law in Marion County, Oregon, for twenty-four years; held the office of township supervisor for two years and was clerk of the board of education at Tower, Minnesota, for two years; was city attorney at Woodburn, Oregon, for eight years and served seven years in the Oregon National Guard.

If I am nominated and elected, I will endeavor to enforce the law in accordance with equity and justice to all, and will require a strict accountability under the law, regardless of politics, personality or position.

At present I am practicing law at Woodburn, Oregon.

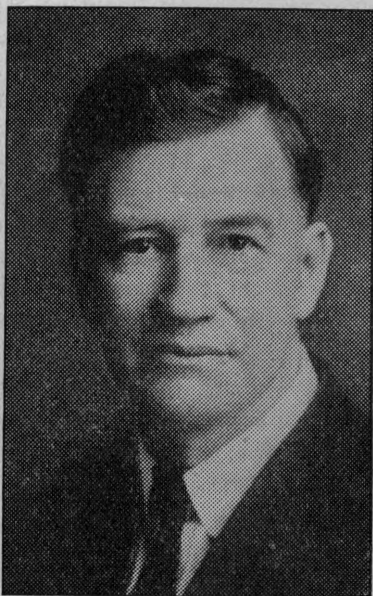

Respectfully submitted,

ELISHA P. MORCOM.

(This information furnished by Elisha P. Morcom.)

MYRON E. POGUE

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Circuit Judge, Third
Judicial District, Comprising Linn and Marion Counties

Was born near Eugene, Oregon, in 1862. Educated in the common schools of Coos and Douglas Counties, and the University of Oregon. Read law with Ex-Congressman, Hon. Binger Hermann at Roseburg, and with Tilmon Ford and William Kaiser at Salem. Followed court reporting in the Third Judicial District for several years. Admitted to practice in 1895, and have been in active practice in Salem ever since. Resided in Albany two years prior to coming to Salem, and have lived here since 1889. My record before the Circuit and Supreme Courts of the State is a sufficient guarantee of my fitness for the office.

While no court can correct all the public evils, there is much room for improvement.

Slipshod court rules aid litigants to pester their adversaries, but delay the enforcement of justice, and add expense to litigation. If I am elected, I will make and enforce some salutary court rules which will lessen the delay in the enforcement of the people's rights. The time generally occupied in disposing of equity suits is disastrous to good government.

There ought to be no such thing as "the law's delay."

The divorce evil is a shame to Oregon. It perhaps cannot be eradicated under any system of laws, but it can be in a great measure corrected by a wholesome enforcement of the existing law.

A judge should practice both economy and industry in his court.

If elected, I will enforce the law with equal justice without fear or favor.

MYRON E. POGUE.

(This information furnished by Myron E. Pogue.)

THOMAS BROWN

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative, First
Representative District, Comprising Marion County

Stands on record. He has practiced law in Marion County for twelve years and is a member of the well-known law firm, Carson & Brown, Salem, Oregon. He was a member of the last Legislature and actively supported all of the best measures passed during that session. He made good his pledge to stand for economy and largely through his efforts the expensive State Accountancy Department was abolished. He is the author of the Gopher and Mole Bounty Law; act to tax trading stamp companies; and act to increase the reserve of mutual fire insurance companies. Through the successful operation of the gopher act, innumerable rodents were destroyed at a minimum cost to the tax payers and to the incalculable benefit of the farmers of Marion County. The trading stamp act is approved both from the standpoint of the merchant and consumer and is in the interest of legitimate merchandising. The Supreme Court of the United States has recently held similar laws of Florida and Washington as constitutional.

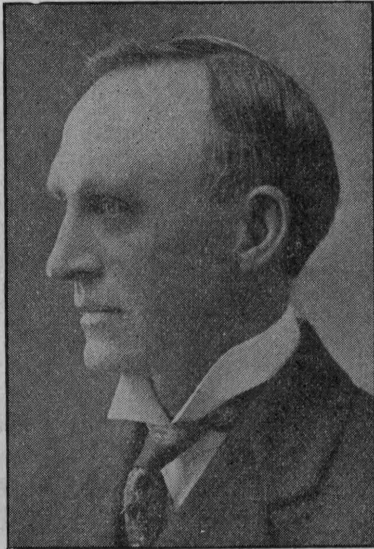

He again reaffirms his platform of economy; fewer laws; fewer commissions; but, in the disposition of appropriations will strenuously oppose any unjust discrimination against State institutions located in Marion County.

THOMAS BROWN.

(This information furnished by Thomas Brown.)

SEYMOUR JONES

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative, First
Representative District, Comprising Marion County

Seymour Jones, candidate for the Republican nomination for Representative in the Legislature from Marion County, was born and raised on a farm near Springfield, Illinois. At the age of 19 he began teaching in country schools, studying law in the meantime. At the age of 21 years he was admitted to practice law and for more than 18 years followed that profession.

About ten years ago he retired from the law practice to become a farmer again and for the past 8 years has been engaged in farming and fruit-growing in Kaiser Bottom, five miles north of Salem, where he and his family now reside.

Although living in the country, Mr. Jones was, two years ago, unanimously elected president of the Salem Republican Club. He recently declined a reelection, as he felt unwilling to hold the presidency of the club while a candidate for nomination for public office.

In his platform he advocates:

A business session of the Legislature.

A few good laws, not a multitude of poor ones.

Strict economy in the expenditures of public money.

A greater effort and larger interest taken by the Agricultural College of the State, to solve the profitable marketing of the products of the farm and orchard, matters of vital importance both to the producer and consumer.

Seymour Jones is an earnest, aggressive and forceful speaker, and a fearless advocate of what he believes to be right. His strong character, experience, and ability will make him one of the leaders in the Legislature, if elected to that body.

IVAN G. MARTIN

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative, First Representative District, Comprising Marion County

I was born on a farm in 1881 and have passed the most of the 35 years of my life in Oregon. My earlier years were spent on the farm, where I learned how hard it is to gather the dollars from the soil and how heavily the yearly tax payment bore on the farmer. I am a moderate taxpayer with property in three counties of Oregon and am yearly reminded from three sources that taxes are growing steadily and becoming more and more burdensome. I state this only to show that my sympathies are with the taxpayer and that anything that I can do to lessen the load, the voters of the county may depend upon me to do it, for I am in the same boat with them and know what a hard one it is to pull against the stream.

I realize that we must have good schools and good roads, and that these are necessities that we cannot do without and must pay for. Certainly we can not hope for returns in any line without investment. I believe in progress and improvement but I believe that both should be made in a sensible and rational way, without extravagance. I believe that we should reduce our running expenses to the minimum commensurate with efficiency, and give our encouragement to those activities in which we are interested—credits, cooperation and home industries—which I believe will stimulate business and bring a greater prosperity to our community and State. This policy, I believe, will help solve the tax question in two ways. First, by reducing it directly; and second, by bringing about better business conditions, making taxation easier. In other words, I believe that State and county affairs should be run in the same careful and economical way that the business man would conduct his own affairs, and will, to the best of my ability, work for the realization of this ideal.

I was employed as a clerk in one of Salem's mercantile establishments for some time and was connected with the Capital Journal for upwards of two years as reporter, and in that capacity learned to sort the true from the false, and also learned that no man is so wise but that every other man can enlighten him about something. I hold diplomas from the University of California and from three departments of the Willamette University. I was admitted to the bar and have practiced law here in Salem for several years, and I am, I think, equipped for passing intelligently on such bills as may come before the Legislature. I am convinced that the State is burdened with commissions. Some, I believe, should be abolished, and the complex and expensive systems of others simplified. I believe we should have a rural credit system planned for the benefit of the farmer rather than a set of commissioners to manage it. Whatever will benefit the county or the State will get my earnest support and therefore I am emboldened to ask yours, and that you will give it just as heartily. All I ask is a trial, and if I do not make good, it will not be because I do not try.

MRS. ALICE H. PAGE

Republican, Candidate for Nomination for Representative, First Representative District, Comprising Marion County

To the Republican Voters of Marion County:

I beg to submit to you my qualifications as a candidate for the Lower House of the Legislature:

I am a graduate of the University of Toronto; came to Oregon 15 years ago; taught mathematics and was secretary of St. Helen's Hall, Portland, 1901-4; and of St. Margaret's Hall, San Mateo, California, 1904-5; taught mathematics in Portland high school in the spring term of 1906; was married in 1906 and have been a resident of Salem since that time; from 1909-1912 was part owner and had charge of the bookkeeping and business department of the Woodburn Water Works; have been a member of the Salem Woman's Club since 1906 and have occupied positions on numerous committees and on the executive board; was appointed member of Salem City Public Library Board when it was organized six years ago, was vice-president two years and president the last four years, which board has been composed of seven men and two women; graduated from law department of Willamette University in 1915; was admitted to the bar and have practiced in cases involving a knowledge of German and French.

I have been a taxpayer for the past eight years.

I believe that the enfranchisement of women makes it their duty to participate in public affairs to the extent of their ability and opportunity. I believe it is not a matter of privilege or choice with women whether they will take up the responsibilities of equal citizenship but that it is incumbent upon them to do so. It is the strength of this conviction and a deep interest in public affairs and not the hope of any private advantage that has led me to ask your favorable consideration at the coming election.

I am a Republican; I believe in the principles of the Republican party and in party organization and cooperation. I will use every effort in the direction of economy, believing that the standard of expenditures should be—not what we ought to have—but what we ought to pay for. I will oppose adding to our many laws any that are not necessary, wise or well considered. I am reluctant on principle and from lack of political experience to pledge myself in regard to definite legislation, but should you deem me worthy of the conspicuous honor of a seat in the Legislature I do pledge myself to a faithful and earnest performance of the duties of the office.

Respectfully submitted,

ALICE H. PAGE.

NOTICE

This publication is authorized by Chapter 207, Laws 1913.

As provided therein, it contains only the names of those candidates for nomination for the various offices to be made at the primary election, May 19, 1916, who have submitted statements and portrait cuts for publication and paid the prescribed charges therefor.

Many candidates have not availed themselves of the use of the pamphlet.

As required by law, it is mailed only to registered Republican voters whose names have been furnished to the Secretary of State by the various County Clerks.

A complete list of the names of all the Republican candidates for nomination for the several offices will be contained on the official primary election ballots of that party.

—Secretary of State.
