HELP FOR TEACHERS

COMPTROLLER CHAMBERS SUGGESTS WAY TO INCREASE SCHOOL FUNDS IN CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, April 22.—Suggestions for the relief of the shortage of funds for the salaries of California school teachers have been sent to the State Superintendent of Schools, William C. Wood, dences in varied and beautiful deby Comptroller John S. Chambers. Chambers suggested that the entire state income from inheritance tax sources, normally between $3,500,000 and $4,000,000 per year, be set aside for school funds. In this way, he says, no additional burden on the taxpayers will result,

The comptroller also contends that the proposed change would help to defeat the aims of the opponents of the inheritance tax law Five-Minute Addresses Mrs. Mary who, he says, are seeking to cripple or kill that source of state revenue.

ACTIVE STOCKS ADVANCE

RALLY FROM THREATENED DEMORALIZATION AND GAIN 1 TO 6 POINTS ON NEW YORK MARKET

(Special Service to Giendale Evening News) NEW YORK, April 22.—The stock market rallied sharply today

after a bear drive during the second hour. After a critical opening which indicated that traders did not know which way the market was heading, there were some advances which were lost during the early part of the second hour and new lows were recorded, especially in the industrial group. About 11:30 o'clock however, the market young virtuoso, Elsa Breidt, has creturned sharply and advances of from 1 1-2 to 6 points were scored ated quite a flutter of excitement by active stocks. These advances continued in the third hour. ## CIVIC PROGRESS

IN RESIDENCES AND GROUNDS EVERYWHERE

One of the best indications of the feeling of civic pride that now seems to dominate nearly if not quite all of is to be built at Piedmont Park. Glendale's residents is the progressive spirit that is shown in the way of improvements to residences and grounds. Porches have been added McNaughton, who is to be superinin many places, a new room or two tendent and director of the hospital, in others and many houses have been remodeled and made to look State Corporation Commissioner was much better. Pergolas and porte cocheres in odd and beautiful designs are observed as new constructions in some places, also. There seems to be a concerted movement terprise will not encroach upon prestoward improving grounds, also, and ent institutions it is stated that one many beautiful landscape effects are Glendale doctor alone has eight noted, while others are being put in. cases now in Los Angeles hospitals The only discordant feature in this and several others waiting. When to the above many instances of improvements in existing conditions is added the beautiful effect of the scores upon scores of new resisigns that are seen in every part of the city, one gets an idea of the almost universal spirit of progress now animating our beautiful city.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

That citizens in general are taking great interest and pride in Glenfact that many fine trees and shrubs have been contributed to beautify the grounds. In one instance-a 12year-old palm tree was given and it is now growing thriftily in a prominent location.

GREAT PIANISTE

ELSA BREIDT TO MAKE HER PA-CIFIC COAST DEBUT IN GLENDALE

The piano recital to be given this evening at the High School by the gation headed by Antondahl, the Russian pianist, is coming out to attend her California debut; for it is not every day that an artist of her attainments who has been welcomed by great musical organizations of the capitals of Europe, comes to this coast. The concert will bring out all the musicians in Glendale. So quietly has Miss Breidt lived in the year she has spent here that our city not known until now it has been entertainthat ing an angel (of music) unawares. Her love for music is an inheritance from ancestors on both sides of the family. She was playing at the age of three, and Carl Bronson, the musical critic of Los Angeles, well remembers hearing her in Chicago when she was but ten years of age. The foundation of her musical education was laid she feels greatly indebted, and for eight years she was under the instruction of Reisgnauer, of Berlin, a pupil of Liszt. So great was her enthusiasm for her art that she overworked and was forced to take a period of rest to recover her health and traveled in Italy and other parts of the old world, having spent much of her life abroad. She has played with the Berlin Philharmonic Orchestra, the New York Symphony Orchestra, and been well received in recognition she is simple and unaffected in manner and does not pose as a genius. Her home is at 118 tists tonight will be Max H. Alexander, tenor, and Mrs. Alice Harrison Schroeder, accompanist. The program will include the following numbers:

A full attendance and much enthusiasm marked the meeting of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle at the City Library Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. C. L. HAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this-a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant, and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can ever make.

"I remember the white ribbon that my mother and her associates wore. The principles for which you were then as now standing seemed unreal, seemed impossible, but I have come to feel that the dreamer of dreams, the visionary, is one of the most practical persons we have. (Applause). Those dreams began your wonderful work. The impossible has become the possible and actual. The plans you now have for world prohibition cannot be discounted as we thought we would have to discount your faith of years World prohibition that now stands as a vision will be a reality.' (Applause).

Mrs. A. A. Barton briefly but effectively presented the greetings of the fifteen hundred members of the Parent-Teacher Federation, of which she is the president.

Mrs. A. W. Tower, president of the Tuesday Afternoon organization, was also brief in conveying the cordial welcome of the club women of the city, saying: "As I look over this audience and realize the cause for which you women are here, it makes me appreciate what leaders women are in the world and of how great importance. I happen to be one of the old residents, have lived here for fourteen years, and I am glad our city can entertain such a convention as this.'

Mrs. Ruby Smart, as president, spoke for the local City Union, the hostess organization. She said in "On this, the most auspicious day in our history, it gives us great pleasure to welcome you because you come as never before. You come as victors. The laurels on your brow may be unseen but they are there. (Applause). So we greet you joyfully because of this new relation. Yet we realize there is still an army of occupation. Our work is not done. We have had victories, but we must still stand on guard and be vigilant. So strenuously, vigorously and continuously have we fought against the liquor traffic we have almost forgotten our Daily trips under franchise to Los object is not one proposition but three-fold-the protection of the home, the abolition of the liquor traffic, and Christ's regnancy. This victory is but the severing of one of the strands. We are not here for demobilization; the W. C. T. U. has never broken ranks. We are glad to welcome you to Glendale and in beholding it we hope you will feel as did that early exploring Spaniard who, when he looked across the valley, exclaimed: 'The gate of Paradise." Mrs. Smart then exhibited two documents which she named 'the foundation stones of Glendale." GLENDALE SHAMPOO PARLORS They had a historic appearance. One she said was the protest signed two hundred early settlers against the first and only saloon which established itself here and 103-A N. Brand. The other paper was the organization document of the local W. C. T. U. Mrs. Smart spoke of the meeting in London contemporary with this convention which is being attended by representatives from forty nations who have come together to consider world prohibition

At the close of her talk the members of Mrs. Smart's Union broke into song with the words: "We are glad you came to Glendale," the visiting delegates taking up the strain as their hostesses dropped it with the paraphrase: "We're glad we came to Glendale." Mrs. M. W. Law of Los Angeles made a clever response to the bouquet of greetings in which she expressed the pleasure delegates feel in meeting old friends and new ones. The gentlemen who had spoken, she said, did not appear to be apprehensive about the avalanche of women's votes that hangs over them, in fact, she believed they were a little glad to shirk some of the responsibility they have been carrying so long and fairly joyous about it. "All the she said, "we appreciate your welcome. Between the W. C. T. U. and the P.-T. The convention now going on in London, she said, proved the missionary spirit of the W. C. T. U. She paid her respects to the local City Union and delivered a message from Mrs. Chester C. Ashley to the women voters to the effect that the bar has now been removed from the primary election law in California and they may now go to the polling place and ask for any ballot they wish to vote and it will be handed to them regardless of whether they have registered their party affiliations or not. Women, she declared, are inclined to be nonpartisar and vote for men and measures rather than party. She expressed the belief that a president will be elected next fall on a strictly non-partisan basis, and that he will be the better for it because unhampered by party pledges. In closing, she said: "I rejoice that I have lived through forty years of temperance work to see this blessed day when both Frances Willard and Susan B. Anthony come into their own and are leading women into their heritage. I thank you for the welcome you have given us."

The convention then adjourned for the afternoon after singing the "Jubilee Song" to make a tour of the city in automobiles furnished by business men and private citizens of Glendale

Evening Program At six o'clock a dinner was served in the banquet room of the church by the Ladies' Aid, and at 7:30 delegates again convened for the regular church prayer meeting, followed by the evening session of the convention. The prayer service was led by Paster Clyde Monroe Crist, and thanksgiving for the prohibition victory was the theme of prayers, songs and testimonies. The only vocal solo was contributed by Miss Margaret Dick-"The Lord Is My Refuge and My Salvation," Miss Elizabeth Mottern playing the organ accompaniment.

Mrs. Hattie C. Young, vice-president, presided, and the address of the evening was made by the president, Mrs. Julia D. Phelps, who, after twelve years of service has declined to be a candidate for re-election because of domestic duties, a beloved daughter having died leaving four little children needing a grandmother's care. A glowing introduction was made by Mrs. Young who has been associated with her superior officer throughout her entire term of office, and she said: "She has been our constant inspiration. Sometimes it has been hard to follow her because she has been so far ahead, but somehow we have managed to keep her in sight."

Mrs. Phelps' address was too beautiful and poetic to be epitomized. She reviewed the evolution of the work from its valiant beginning when women so soon realized that no effective blow could be struck against the liquor traffic until the protection of law was remov-

"Today," said she, "we have national prohibition and it is being enforced from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Public sentiment to a marked degree is behind its enforcement. But when inclined to think of the liquor traffic as a thing of the past remember that the liquor interests have appropriated $1,000,000 for a five-year campaign to promote nonenforcement. We must strengthen our scientific educational agencies. The teaching of health and the things that pertain thereto must be continued in our schools. Our emigrant class must be instructed. There is no safety for prohibition in America unless we save the whole world. The tide of immigration has been rising and will soon reach prewar conditions. America's experiment in prohibition is being watched with interest by all the rest of the world. It is our solemn duty to insure the enforcement of our law.'

The speaker then paid an eloquent tribute to Susan B. Anthony gratefully acknowledging that "today we have the freedom she so splendidly helped to win for us." She predicted ratification of the national suffrage amendment by a thirty-sixth state which will place women all over the United States on an equality with men politically, and declared 'because women vote civilized life will be cleaner, homes will be safer, little children will be better protected and womanhood will be raised to a higher level.'

At the conclusion of the address, on motion of Mrs. Smart the convention tendered the president a rising vote of thanks. "America" was sung by the audience with Miss Mottern at the organ, and after a closing prayer by Rev. Smart the conmorning at 9:30.
