Cabinet of Turkey Intended the Turks Should Join Entente

So Decided at Beginning of the War, but Enver Pasha and His Helpers Intrigued Until Goeben Sank Two Russian Ships

Constantinople, Jan. 20.—Delayed—Turkey entered the war on Germany's side after the Cabinet had decided to join the Allies, according to statements before a secret Parliamentary committee published by newspapers here. The machinations of the war party, led by Enver Pasha, War Minister, in 1914, were responsible for the change in front.

When the war broke out, the newspapers say, the majority of the Turkish Cabinet was friendly to the Entente. The war party, however, began attempts to persuade a sufficient number of Ministers that Turkey should acquire the German battle cruiser Goeben to take the place of Turkish ships which had been requisitioned by Britain.

Objection was made that the Goeben, which arrived here in August, 1914, after fleeing from Allied warships in the Mediterranean, would attack Russian vessels while under Turkish colors, but Enver Pasha declared the commander of the battle cruiser had pledged himself not to make any such attack.

Decision was reached by the Cabinet to oppose Germany in the war, and it was agreed that when Turkey took her stand on the side of the Entente the battle cruiser Goeben and the cruiser Breslau should be bombarded by the Bosphorus forts. Enver Pasha, however, made secret arrangements with the Germans and the Goeben joined the Black Sea fleet, even the Grand Vizier being kept in ignorance of this move.

On August 23, 1914, the Goeben, while flying the Turkish flag, attacked and destroyed two Russian ships. This act brought about Turkey's alignment against the Entente and several members of the Cabinet resigned. The facts were misrepresented by the censors and the Turkish public, and the Sultan, believing the Goeben joined the Black Sea fleet, even the Grand Vizier being kept in ignorance of this move.

The amending order provides for the striking out of Clause 2 of the original order and the substitution of the following:

"Plus Freight."
"What sales of granulated sugar by retailers (whether or not the sugar is wrapped or delivered) at a price higher than sixteen cents a pound plus freight, if any paid, will be deemed to be made at a price which includes an unfair profit. Where sales in small quantities are demanded, and by reason of currency limitations, it is impossible to make exact payment for sugar in exact conformity with the provisions of this order, then if the demanded sale is of one pound and the price, in exact conformity with the order, is 16 1/2 cents or less, the sale, if made, shall be made for 16 cents, but if such sales the dealer may refuse to sell only one pound and may require purchase of two pounds, whereupon the price payable shall be 65 cent for two pounds. ### NANAIMO HOSPITAL BALL BIG SUCCESS

Pre-war Event Revived Last Night; Proceeds for New Hospital Fund

Nanaimo, Jan. 22.—The annual hospital ball which was held last night in the Odd Fellows' Hall, was, as is always the case, a pronounced social success, while since there were fully two hundred present it probably also proved highly successful financially, and will doubtless be the means of adding considerably to the new hospital fund, for which the Women's Auxiliary have worked so hard and untiringly.

The large hall was tastefully and elaborately decorated for the occasion and the floor had been put in first class shape for dancing, so that it is no wonder that with Lewis' orchestra supplying the music, there were very few to be found sitting out a dance at any time during the evening.

As was only to have been expected, the hospital ball was not given during the years when war was raging, the members of the Auxiliary devoting their time and talents to more worthy objects during those strenuous years. It was held in the early part of 1914, but then came a hiatus until last year, 1919, when all fighting being at an end, the affair was very naturally revived.

MINISTER HEARD AT DAIRYMEN'S MEETING

Mr. Barrow Spoke at Vancouver; Daylight Saving Was Condemned

Vancouver, Jan. 23.—That the resolutions and recommendations adopted at the convention of the B. C. Dairymen's Association would receive the earnest consideration of the Government, was the statement of the Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, late last night. The convention was kept busy most of the evening with these resolutions, many of which were of the greatest importance to the dairymen of British Columbia.

Mr. Barrow complimented the Association on the way it had considered the requirements of the consumer, and said that no co-operative society such as theirs could be successful without this kind of consideration.

J. A. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, gave great credit to the convention for the earnestness with which the resolutions were considered during the sittings, and he thought they were on the right lines.

He mentioned that during the war period the number of cows in the Dominion had increased by 300,000, and that in the years to come increase would be still greater, and that the breeds would be better.

Educational Campaign. President Berry said it was the intention to start a big educational campaign, for which $75,000 or $100,000 would be required.

A vote condemning daylight saving was carried unanimously, and suggested affecting the importation of dairy stock were made, it being resolved that every animal imported into the province should be tested for tuberculosis, and if found tainted that no compensation should be granted. It is also proposed to ask the Government to restrict the sale of tuberculin to veterinarians, and to require all sales to be registered.

An important resolution introduced by F. L. Mitchell met with some opposition from the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, but was carried. It deals with the clearing of brush from the land so as to make it worth while for the settler going on, and reads as follows:

"That in view of the great importance of the relation to the clearing of land for the carrying out of dairy stock in the newer districts, the Government be asked to continue its efforts to find some way of helping the farmer, not so much in money, as by providing a clearing bonus and community land, such as is proving so satisfactory to the returned soldier."

Tuberculosis. Another resolution, which the Deputy Minister said would be hard to carry out as the provisions of the liquor measure were, was one dealing with the restriction of the sale of tuberculin to veterinarians.

"That a most emphatic request to Dr. S. F. Tomlin be made to enact legislation controlling the use and importation of tuberculin, and to take control of the campaign against tuberculosis on Federal lines in the same manner employed in the control of glanders and other diseases."

DENIKINE'S POSITION SEEMS IMPROVED

London, Jan. 23.—The position of General Denikine, anti-Bolshevik leader in Southern Russia, to all appearances is somewhat better, according to a War Office summary of the situation. The inevitable pause has occurred which must follow any long and rapid offensive, such as has been conducted by the Bolsheviks in South Russia. The further course of operations probably will favor the side able to make the best use of time at its disposal for reorganization.

This, naturally, will be easier for General Denikine, who is nearer his base and resource, than the Bolsheviks, who have gone deep into the enemy country and depend for supplies and equipment on partially destroyed railways.

Much depends upon the support offered Denikine by the population at his rear. Latest reports seem to indicate that he still commands their full confidence and loyalty. However, his losses of material in the recent retreat are bound to have a great effect on future operations.

The imminent danger to their country has caused both the Don and Kuban Cossacks to rally wholeheartedly around the Government and afford full support to Denikine.

"Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and 3/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off."

DISCUSSION MAY CLEAR SITUATION

Paris Newspapers Expect the New Millerand Cabinet Will Succeed

Paris, Jan. 23.—(Havas).—Newspapers here in commenting upon the situation of the Millerand Cabinet after yesterday's vote in the Chamber, are unanimous in remarking that the vote was given on a question of person and not on the ministerial programme outlined by Premier Millerand. It is generally believed the situation will clear up when Leon Daudet's interpellations are discussed. The Petit Parisien declares the Chamber showed it was in perfect unity with the Premier in his estimate of the tasks to be accomplished.

Paris, Jan. 23.—Amid tumultuous scenes in the Chamber of Deputies, the recently formed Cabinet of Premier Alexandre Millerand received a vote of confidence, 276 to 23 last evening. More than 300 Deputies abstained from voting. The reluctance of the Deputies to vote on the question of confidence recalled a scene in the Chamber in the nineties when the Ministry of Alexandre Ribot was overthrown three hours after its formation. The vote was taken on the demand of Premier Millerand, following a savage attack by Deputy Leon Daudet, editor of L'Action Francaise, on Jules Seeg, Minister of the Interior. M. Daudet demanded the right to interpellate the Government on M. Steeg's appointment. He declared Steeg had been an accomplice of Louis J. Marny, former Minister of the Interior, who was banished after his conviction on charges of communicating with the enemy, and of Joseph Caillaux, who is soon to be brought to trial on the charge of attempting to promote a premature and dishonorable peace with Germany.

Warning. Many of the Deputies who abstained from voting told the Associated Press correspondent that they had given the Premier fair warning that the next time they would vote against him should M. Steeg remain in the Cabinet. M. Steeg was in the Senate while M. Daudet was speaking. Summoned in haste by telephone, he replied that he had always served France with all his heart and intelligence.

The opening speech of Premier Millerand was respectfully listened to by the Deputies, but with M. Daudet's bitter attack on M. Steeg, the Chamber became extremely noisy and unmanageable. Before the vote of confidence orders of the day succeeded one another with such rapidity that one time seven of the day on the desk of Speaker Raoul Peret.

Accepted One. Premier Millerand finally accepted the order of the day submitted by Deputy Dumesnil, reading: "The Chamber, approving the Government's declarations relative to the choice of Minister of the Interior, and rejecting any addition, reverses to the Order of the Day."

The Chamber was in an uproar, and Speaker Peret threatened to suspend the session. Prince Turat and M. Daudet exchanged caustic personal remarks across the floor with members of the Extreme Left, amid pandemonium.

Rome, Jan. 23.—An excellent impression has been made at the Vatican by the election of Paul Deschanel as President of France, according to the Giornale d'Italia, which says he is very sympathetic with the Holy See. The newspaper adds the probabilities of a resumption of diplomatic relations between the Vatican and France seem to be increased.

NEW OIL WELLS IN MEXICAN FIELDS. Mexico City, Jan. 22.—Foreign oil companies will be permitted to obtain provisional permits to drill new oil wells on condition that these permits shall be valid only if the Mexican Congress enacts a new law regulating the petroleum industry, according to a decree issued by President Carranza.

The President's decree followed the request of the American Association of Oil Producers in Mexico, which in a recent communication asserted that the oil wells were being exhausted and that there were insufficient pipe lines to transport the production adequately.

The decree says the granting of the provisional permits is allowed on the understanding that it shall not affect the various questions now being debated before the judiciary, nor shall it prejudice oil legislation now pending.

NO NEW ARCHBISHOP FOR COLOGNE YET. Rome, Jan. 23.—Reports that Monsignor Karl Joseph Schulte, Bishop of Faderborn, has been elected Archbishop of Cologne in succession to the late Cardinal Hartmann are denied in a semi-official communication from the Vatican.

Under the imperial regime in Germany a representative of the Kaiser was present at the meetings of the bishops, and had the right to veto any name proposed by the sovereign. Under the present German Government the head of the German state has no voice, and the selection is made entirely by the bishops.

DOCTOR TOLNAC TO TAKE TANIAC SAYS MRS. HEIMER

Vancouver Woman's Troubles Were Overcome and She Is in Better Health Than in Years

"Tanlac has done me a world of good, and I am enjoying better general health than I have in years," said Mrs. C. W. Heimer, 1947 Third Avenue, East, Vancouver, B. C., recently. Continuing, she said: "For a year or more I have had scarcely any appetite at all, and just had to force down every mouthful I ate as the most delicious morsel, no matter how well prepared, failed to tempt me, and even the little I managed to eat in this way would cause me intense misery, as it would sour. My heart would palpitate something awful, and it was with the greatest difficulty I could get my breath. My nerves were in such bad condition the least little noise out of the ordinary or any little excitement would completely upset me. It was utterly impossible for me to get a good night's sleep, and every morning of my life I would wake up terribly nauseated, and would nearly faint away. I was so weak and run down all the time my husband had to wait on me and take care of me just like I was a child. I had a headache all the time, and at times it was so bad it would nearly go distracted. I also was bothered with terrible pains in my back, which at times became so bad I would go for days and days hardly able to move out of my chair. "Seeing so many men and women here in Vancouver were being benefited by Tanlac I decided to try it. Before I did, however, I called up my physician and asked his advice about taking it, and he told me to go ahead as he believed it to be a good tonic, and would do me good. With this good news I started taking Tanlac, and my improvement was simply wonderful. It has completely overcome my stomach trouble, I have a fine appetite, and can eat anything I want and everything agrees with me perfectly. I have had no headache since I finished the first bottle of Tanlac, and the pains have all gone out of my back. I sleep good every night, and wake up feeling greatly refreshed without the slightest sign of nausea. My nerves are in great deal better condition, and are getting better every day, and I am sure will soon be all right again. I am glad to say a good word for Tanlac, as I think it is a great medicine. Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell, corner Fort and Douglas Avenues."

ROWELL SPEAKS OF THIS COUNTRY AND LEAGUE OF NATIONS. Montreal, Jan. 23.—Hon. N. W. Rowell, President of the Privy Council, speaking before the McGill University Club last night, gave an emphatic reply to the objections of certain United States Senators to representation of Canada and other British Dominions in the League of Nations. He pointed out that Canada had won a position as practically an independent nation, although still part of the commonwealth of nations called the British Empire. Hence Canada was as free as any other nation to voice its views at the sessions of the League of Nations, and would even disagree with Great Britain if such a course seemed proper to her.

Mr. Rowell said: "No man will finally put itself on record as denying to Canada the right to a voice in the preservation of the peace which her soldiers did so much to win, while she now claims a vote for other nations of much less intrinsic importance which may have done little or nothing in the war. Canada has won her right to a place in the assembly of the nations by the blood of her sons, and this right, thus won, the Canadian people will never surrender."

CITY OF VERNON IS WITHOUT COUNCIL; GOVERNMENT ADVISED. Vernon, B. C., Jan. 23.—As a result of the fiasco on nomination day, when not a single name was placed before the returning officer for the positions of Mayor, Aldermen and Police Commissioners, Vernon is to-day without a Council or a Police Commission.

At an informal meeting of the Council a unanimous decision was reached to follow the plan of resigning. No indication had been received by the Mayor or Aldermen since nomination day as to the wish of the ratepayers in this matter, and under the circumstances the members of the Council felt that they could not do otherwise than resign.

Later, at a meeting of the Police Commission, the Commissioners also decided to place their resignations in the Mayor's hands.

His Worship having received the resignations of the Aldermen and the Police Commissioners, after winding up some details of civic business, placed them, along with his own, in the hands of City Clerk Edwards with the request that he advise the Government of the situation.

It is expected that after noting the Clerk's communication, the Attorney-General will advise Lieutenant-Governor to issue writs for a new election at the earliest possible date, though it is barely possible that some other procedure may be followed, as there does not appear to be any precedent covering the situation.

MOTIONS FAIL AT WINNIPEG TRIAL

Winnipeg, Jan. 23.—Accusations were made at the sessions of the assizes court here yesterday by A. J. Andrews, K.C., leading counsel for the Crown at the trial of the strike leaders, that the various motions which had been made by the defence were for the purpose of getting publicity in the newspapers and for the purpose of getting before the jury, now at home, a lot of material which would never be brought up in court. These allegations were not denied by the counsel for the defence.

Motions were put forward at the session of the court yesterday afternoon questioning the jurisdiction of the judge to act in the present case on grounds of prejudice and bias, a formal motion attacking the sufficiency of the indictment and motions on the part of others of the accused to challenge the entire array of the petit jury.

On the first motion Mr. Justice Metcalfe ruled that there was no legal process by which he could avoid hearing the case.

The only method by which he could avoid the trial was by resigning from the bench at once or by refusing to do his duty, in which event he would be impeached.

The motion to quash the indictment was made by all the accused formally, and in view of the decision of the Court of Appeal in the Russell reserved case—which was that the indictment was good in law—Mr. Justice Metcalfe dismissed the motion.

Another motion was made by Ald. Hoops and supported by the accused Pritchard and Queen questioning the right of the present counsel for the crown, A. J. Andrews, Isaac Pittblado, J. B. Coyne and W. A. Sweatman, to act as prosecuting counsel for the people in the present trial, on the grounds of prejudice and bias. Further argument on this motion was not permitted by the court until it had been legally shown that the presiding judge had the power to exclude them from the court.

BOSTON MURDERER MADE HIS ESCAPE

Boston, Jan. 23.—A gunman who killed Patrolman William Clancy, who objected to his actions at a dance in the Charleston district here Wednesday night, is still at large.

The police held 300 dancers, women and men, for several hours' examination, eventually detaining four men for further inquiry, but it is believed the man who shot the officer escaped.

Officer Clancy, who was a member of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry Regiment, and had gained decorations for bravery in action, was shot down in the centre of the dance floor after he had admonished the man who had disobeyed his orders to stop smoking.

A patrolman who was present as a guest drew his revolver and held the crowd back from the door. Many however, fled by a rear exit and by fire escapes, Clancy's assailant probably being among them.

GETTING NEARER?

It will be admitted, of course, that a project of such magnitude as the proposed drydock compels a very careful consideration of the essential preliminaries, and we can understand that the Dominion Government requires to be satisfied upon the accuracy of the plans for the contemplated structure. But it strikes us that the Department of Public Works is altogether too leisurely in its treatment of this particular enterprise. It is true that Mr. McIntosh has assured Reeve Lockley that the day of calling for tenders for the work is near at hand; but we recall similar assurances during the last month or so. Surely it should be possible to get tenders for some of the preliminary work at once in order that employment might be created for many returned men who find it necessary to apply for relief at the expense of the country and their own natural spirit of independence. Both Vancouver Island's parliamentary representatives have done their level best to speed up the machinery at Ottawa; but unless some inclination on the part of the Dominion Government to bestir itself is obvious very soon, it should be in order to rouse it with a telegraphic bombardment from this end.

A LABOR DEFECTION.

The announcement in a Toronto dispatch that Labor members of the Ontario Legislature had formed themselves into a separate group in the House to press for certain legislation affecting their cause should not occasion any surprise. An alliance without reserve between the United Farmer and Labor parties is possible only before an election or when both are in opposition. Although the United Farmers advocate many progressive features in their policy there are not a few fundamentals which they and their constituents cannot see through the same spectacles as Labor and concerning which there always must be the danger of a clash.

Reading between the lines of the statement issued by the members who intend to constitute a separate Labor group in the Ontario House, it would appear that they are apprehensive that the Drury Government will not go far enough in meeting their legislative needs and deem it desirable to maintain their separate identity in the House so as to be able to exercise pressure upon the Administration when they consider it necessary to do so. How many Labor members will compose this group the dispatch does not say, but it would not require more than a small number to give them the balance of power, provided the Liberal and Conservative representatives voted with them. The opportunities presented by this situation for interesting and skillful political strategy by Hartley Dewart, the Liberal leader, are very tempting and if he should take advantage of them the Ontario Legislature should see some unusually interesting developments.

AFTER TWO ATTEMPTS.

It required two attempts by the new Board of School Trustees to hold their initial meeting for the year which has just begun, the first being a failure on account of insufficient attendance. This is not a very promising start for a body charged with the expenditure of considerably more than $300,000 of the public revenue and with the direction of the educational system of the city. We trust it should not be considered as an omen. It certainly ought not to be in view of the fact that in personnel we have what should develop into an excellent Board. But good material unless steadily used often rusts, and this is what would happen to the Board if it permitted many meetings to go by default owing to lack of quorum.

WHAT WOULD FOLLOW?

In a recent editorial article The Toronto Globe likens the Government at Ottawa to a "rudderless ship of state," and concludes with the observation that "a general election is the only logical way out of what is rapidly becoming an impossible situation."

Undoubtedly the situation—meaning a Government without actual leadership—is not hopeful, but would a general election at this time improve it? The result of that election certainly would mean another coalition Government, for there would be at least three, and possibly four, strong party representations in the new House. According to present indications the United Farmers would have seventy and probably more members. This alone would make a Government on the old-time party lines impossible, since neither Liberals nor Conservatives could command a sufficient majority to form a Ministry independent of the farmers.

This, of course, would involve a coalition, and the life of a coalition Government in these times is likely to be precarious, at best. In fact the prospects are that if the present coalition at Ottawa went to the country now it would merely be starting a series of coalition Governments and general elections which would keep the country in a state of confusion over a considerable period.

No doubt The Globe is actuated by the conviction that it would be impossible for the situation to become worse in an administration sense than it is, but it would be better to wait a little while so that the country might be sure that a general election will improve conditions. There is not much comfort for the Government in these speculations which have been going the rounds of the press, however, since all of them are based upon the premise that whatever may happen afterwards an election means its defeat.

THE BRIDGE.

A committee of the Trades and Labor Council will interview the City Council regarding the character of the bridge to be erected across the Harbor and the relation of the work to local labor and industry. Obviously, it will be desirable that this project shall be an important factor in the solution of the unemployment problem—if one should exist when the work is commenced some months hence—but it is at least of equal importance that the community should obtain the best value for the expenditure that will be made. The bridge scheme was endorsed by the ratepayers—who will pay most of the cost in taxes—as much because they are convinced the structure is necessary to the permanent industrial development of the place, as because it will be a factor in the unemployment situation, and they will demand, quite reasonably, that it be of such a character as to serve fully the requirements it is intended, and needed, to meet. Victoria will want the best job for the money, at the same time taking into consideration the exigencies of the local labor market and local industry.

LABOR AND IRELAND.

Men like Henderson, Clynes and Adamson, three of the six Labor leaders who are on a mission of inquiry to Ireland, may be depended upon to present a fair report on their observation of conditions in the Emerald Isle. Whether the Sinn Fein and extreme Labor elements will take kindly to the peaceful invasion of the Englishmen and interpret the object of the delegation as a proof of goodwill or not remains to be seen. By an investigation of this kind, however, it should be possible to establish, beyond question just what proportion of the Irish people is determined to cling to the idea of an independent republic as well as provide an opportunity for the leaders of British Labor to place their own value on an aspiration of this nature. Moreover, by reason of Labor's growing authority in Britain the present mission is an important one. Its report will be awaited with interest, for the nature of it may have a far-reaching effect upon Irish policy. It may even settle the fate of the Prime Minister's political future.

THE GOLF LINKS.

One of the speakers at the Rotary Club's weekly luncheon yesterday declared that a municipal golf links should be regarded as an industry. He was quite right. Unfortunately, however, not quite three-fifths of those who voted on the bylaw a little more than a week ago were able to draw that conclusion. Nevertheless, there is a growing belief among those who assisted to negative the proposal that the interest manifested by the Rotary Club after all was not actuated by selfish motives. The sceptics who conceived the idea, that a vote in favor of the bylaw would be merely adding a privilege to those already enjoyed by the minority, are beginning to learn that by postponing the consummation of the scheme the game remains the special prerogative of those who already are members of one of the three local golf clubs.

The Rotary club's desire to perform this excellent piece of community service in spite of last Thursday's setback is to be highly commended, and, we feel sure, that should the matter be made the subject of a referendum at an early date, sufficient converts would be obtained in the meantime to insure a favorable majority.

The German Government has expressed unequivocal approval of the Hoover plan to feed Central Europe. Germany's sense of obligation to civilization has been a long time finding articulate expression.

North and South Africa are to be brought nearer together by means of an air service from Cairo to Cape Town. Thus does Great Britain bring more "light" to the dark continent.

There is to be no more whipping of women at the city stockade in Atlanta. This sounds as if the dispatch might have been sent out half a century ago.

There comes a complaint from Vienna that train service between there and Switzerland is very poor. We were under the impression that the average Viennese was more concerned about food than railway schedules.

If the influenza wave spreads to British Columbia it will find the Provincial Board of Health prepared with a completely organized combative plan.

Maxim Litvinoff appears to find it difficult to get hotel accommodation in Copenhagen, and he now asks that pourparlers with James O'Grady be carried on in another country. Danish opinion never did sympathize with Prussianism or its Russian prototype.

Devotees of vaudeville will be interested in "Vesta Tilley's" appearance on the political platform in England in support of her husband, Sir Walter de Freee, the Coalitionist in the Ashton-by-election. Vesta, of course, always wore the trousers on the stage.

A MEAN ADVANTAGE.

"Do people ever take advantage of the invitation to use this church for meditation and prayer?" a city vergar was once asked.
"Yes," he replied, "I caught two of 'em at it the other day!"

WHAT MONEY SAYS.

Money talks nowadays, and what it says sounds like "Good-by."

DESIRE LAWS IN INTERESTS OF PEOPLE

Dewart Says Liberals Will Closely Watch New Ontario Government

Toronto, Jan. 23.—H. H. Dewart, K.C., M.P.P., Liberal Leader in Ontario, addressing the Southwest Toronto Liberal Association last night, remarked that the newspapers were asking that the new Ontario Government be given a chance.
"We have no objection to them having a chance," he said, "but why do they not take the chance?"
It was rather unfortunate, he said, that a party which had professed not to want the reins of power should have undertaken to govern the Province without a mandate from the people.
Mr. Dewart said the Liberals would support all measures in the Legislature which were in the interests of all the people, but "if the Government does not introduce measures you want introduced," he added, "we will see that they are introduced."
Mr. Dewart spoke of the decadence of the press, but said there were some honest newspapers in the Province.

MEMBERS OF BOARD OF COMMERCE AVOID PUBLIC SPEECHES

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—The members of the Board of Commerce have a sort of agreement among themselves to avoid attending public banquets and other such functions where they may be asked to speak. Their reasons are on account of the public positions they occupy. This information was contained in a letter from W. F. O'Connor, K. C., one of the Commissioners, who wrote declining to speak at the annual banquet of the Retail Grocers' Association to be held February 12.

MEN SAID TO HAVE MELTED DOWN COINS

London, Jan. 22.—Six persons, including Harry Lewis, a barrister, and Shure and Chamberlain, diamond merchants, are on trial here charged with having broken up and melted gold coins. They were arrested under a provision of the Defence of the Realm Act.
The testimony has tended to show that no fewer than 110,000 sovereigns in gold coin were withdrawn from the Bank of England in the course of a year by the accused. The total weight of the metal was 10 cwt.
The lawyers on behalf of the Crown asserted that the defendants had organized a remarkable system for securing gold coins, which were melted down and the gold sold.
During December, one, it was charged, they disposed of one bar gold worth £9,400, while in the course of the month they succeeded in getting 25,000 sovereigns from the bank.

DR. PRICE TO SPEAK ON HOME NURSING

Ambulance Courses in Greater Demand Than Ever; Efforts of Local Branch

At a meeting of the St. John Ambulance Executive held last evening several important matters regarding future work were considered in connection with first aid, home nursing, home hygiene and sanitation in the city and rural districts.

Mrs. V. S. MacLachlan, secretary of the Women's Institutes in British Columbia, was present and gave a very interesting resume of the need for women trained in the above subjects to work under a qualified nurse in the country. She emphasized the great need for better sanitation, and hoped that by the establishment of health centres—as has now been decided upon in Saanich—the difficulties incident to rural life in securing the services of doctor or nurse at short notice and over long distances may in some sort be met and conquered. It had been suggested that every teacher in rural districts be asked to organize classes in their respective communities, and to promote as far as possible by their influence an interest in this very desirable and useful form of extension training, and Mrs. MacLachlan's plea that the St. John Ambulance Association work hand in hand with the public health nursing service was heartily agreed to.

Mrs. MacLachlan's remarks were in line with instructions recently received from the Provincial Council of the Association, which notified all branches that now the work being done should be developed more extensively than ever before.

Lectures on Nursing.

In view of the above suggestions, and with a more earnest desire to further them effectively, the local association has been fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Arthur G. Price for a series of lectures in home nursing in the city which will commence on Tuesday, January 27, and which it is hoped will receive patronage from the thoughtful among the community, especially among the young to whom this form of knowledge may become of inestimable value in future years. A certificate from the St. John Ambulance Association also secures certain privileges to the holder under the Health Act—an advantage not very generally known or realized. Applications to join these classes may be made to Mrs. Wallace Grime, secretary-treasurer St. John Ambulance Association.

The following members passed the recent first aid examination successfully: Mesdames Baxter, Edwardson, Foyster, Lamphere, Robinson, Stubbins, Wilson and Woods; the Misses Carmichael and Oliver; Messrs. Lock, Rathbone and Smith.

TO CONSIDER THE
TWO-YEAR COURSE
AT MEETING MONDAY

The School Board will hold a special meeting on Monday afternoon to consider certain matters in connection with the establishment of the proposed two-year college course at the Victoria High School. At this meeting the Trustees will take up a report made to the Board last night by Municipal Inspector E. E. Paul, who furnished an estimate of the expenses involved. The Trustees postponed action in order that they might give the report thorough consideration.

"We certainly have a strong case in this matter," Trustee J. L. Beckwith remarked. "The course is much needed here if for no other reason than because many people, among them myself, do not consider it advisable to send their children to the British Columbia University in Vancouver, where the lack of facilities and accommodation makes it necessary for the students to board all over the city."

The negotiations preliminary to the establishment of the course have reached an advanced stage now and, it is expected, will be brought to a conclusion without much further delay. The Board understands that it must conclude its work on the matter as soon as possible as the details incidental to the establishment of the course make any tardiness very undesirable.

URGES A DOMESTIC
LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL

That the School Board should establish domestic science and dress-making as part of the high school curriculum was the suggestion made to the Board last night in a letter from Aaron Parfitt.

Mr. Parfitt regretted very much that domestic science training was discontinued after the pupil left the public school, as he considered this perhaps the most important part of a girl's education. In real life, he pointed out, training in this subject was far more useful than many other things taught. The inauguration of a dressmaking course, he thought, would be an excellent move. In Vancouver High School, he informed the Trustees, the girls were taught to make their own clothes.

If the Board were to abolish from the curriculum a number of features that mattered little, it would be possible to make these changes, Mr. Parfitt declared.

WANT SHAREHOLDERS

Within the next few weeks the city is to be visited by members of the United Co-operative Association, Ltd., for the purpose of securing new shareholders. At a meeting of the association held yesterday afternoon in the Belmont House it was explained that at the present time there are approximately 150 shareholders. The directors, however, are anxious to augment this number considerably. They wish to make every householder a member.

There were a large number of ladies present at the meeting yesterday, and objects of the association were thoroughly explained by C. E. Hildreth, who presided.

Mrs. Harold Robertson has returned to her home, 610 St. Charles Street, after visiting in Vancouver, the guest of Mrs. Herbert Hulme, for the past few days.

Miss Dorothy Loughed, daughter of Sir James and Lady Loughed, of Calgary, who is well known in Victoria, is the sponsor at the launching of the S. S. Canadian inventor at Coughlan's shipyards in Vancouver to-morrow.

The Margaret Rocks Robertson Chapter, I. O. D. E., will give another of their popular programme dances at the Alexandra Club on February 10. Ozzie's Orchestra has been engaged, and will provide an excellent programme of dance music. During the evening a buffet supper will be served in the downstairs cafe. The committee in charge is working very hard, and are trying to make the dance as enjoyable as previous ones. Tickets may be obtained from any of the members.

The following will assist in the monthly musical tea to be held under the auspices of the Ladies' Musical Club at the home of Mrs. Stuart Robertson, 1023 Belmont Avenue, tomorrow afternoon: Piano, Miss Lady Watkin, Miss Muriel Grant; violin, Miss Nora Atkinson; soprano, Miss Winifred Bell; contralto, Mrs. W. Black; baritone, Mr. Fred Waddington. These musical teas are open to all members and their friends. No admission fee is charged, but a nominal charge is made for tea.

In commemoration of the anniversary of Queen Victoria's "Violet Day," the Robert Burns McKicking Chapter, I. O. D. E., held a delightful dance in the Knights of Pythias Hall last night, the lovely little spring blossoms being used in the decorative scheme with charming effect. Over two hundred young people enjoyed the attractive music furnished by Mrs. Roberts' orchestra, the dancing continuing from 8.30 till 1 o'clock. The members gave a warm welcome to their regent, Mrs. Evelyn Thomas, whose husband's illness had prevented her from taking any active part in the preparations for the event, but who was present for a few hours. Supper was served about 11 o'clock in the cafe downstairs, where the tables were very prettily arranged in a color scheme of purple and white and centred with Saanich Women's Institutes. Considerable credit for the success of the affair is due the following members of the committee: Mrs. R. A. Benwick, acting regent, and the Misses Gwendolyn Pontifex, Mildred Robertson, Beatrice McDonald, Myra Renwick, Beryl Keown and Jessie Campbell.

PRAIRIE VISITORS CRITICIZE APATHY OF LOCAL OFFICIALS

Thousand Visitors Met at Big Social Gathering Last Evening

WORK OF DEVELOPMENT ASSOCIATION PRAISED

Good-natured criticism of Victoria officialdom and the Board of Trade in its attitude to the prairie visitors was made by the several speakers at a big re-union of prairie people held last night in the Patricia Hall. Fully one thousand guests from the middle-western provinces assembled at the reception, which was held under the auspices of the Prairie Club, and the general air of bonhomie and goodfellowship typified the true community spirit at its best.

Board of Trade's Apathy.

An attractive programme of musical numbers was interspersed with speeches by Mayor Porter, ex-Mayor Smith of Regina, Commissioner of Adam of the Victoria and Island Development Association, R. W. Perry, and Mr. Lothian, President of the Prairie Club, who preside at the gathering. In his opening remarks Mr. Lothian criticized the Victoria Board of Trade for the apathy and unsympathetic attitude towards prairie visitors. "Two years ago I approached the Board with a view to arranging some similar gatherings to this and seeking their co-operation. They ignored me and did not even show me the door. The city officials also came in for a share of criticism for their apparent lack of interest in visitors, reflected in dearth of entertainment provided for the tourist coming here on pleasure bent."

Mr. Lothian praised the work of the Victoria and Island Development Association, from whose officials the visitor here was always sure of a welcome and courteous treatment. Last night's gathering was the outcome of negotiations opened up some time ago between the Association and the Prairie Club, Mr. McAdam having approached the Club with a view to holding a series of entertainments for prairie visitors during the year. Reference was made to the enterprise shown in Vancouver, where the Board of Trade and the City Council had shown their appreciation of the prairie visitor by a most hospitable reception in their honor, a hospitable attitude which might well be adopted here, said Mr. Lothian.

Mayor Porter.

Mayor Porter in a brief speech cordially welcomed the prairie visitors, baring to them the fact that he predicted the influx of this splendid type of citizen. He was proud to say that the City Council included several prairie friends and residents and they had proved worthy citizens, fired with a desire to give of their best in the interest of the community. The Mayor expressed the hope that the visitors would come again to Victoria, bring their friends, next time, stay longer.

Praise and Criticism.

In a rousing speech interspersed with witticisms, ex-Mayor Smith of Regina paid eloquent tribute to the prairie visitors, and gave valuable suggestions for its improvement, judged from the standards of the prairie visitor. "Your beautiful scenery with its wide expanse of green and yellow shrubbery, its rocks and lovely seascapes, its delightful climate, the charm of its boulevards and wide streets will always attract visitors. In a healthy and lasting movement to the pioneers who planned it with rich and broad, far-seeing vision," said Mr. Smith. He referred to the impression prevalent in the east and middle west, that the people of Victoria were reserved and unapproachable, an impression which had been dispelled in his own mind, for he had always found the men easy to become acquainted with, while the ladies were charming.

Need For Well-Heated Rooms.

After the mead of praise for Victoria and Victorians, Mr. Smith proceeded to offer a few suggestions and a better system of registration for visitors and the more central location for the Victoria and Island Development Association offices; a comfortable rest room for day-making; the finishing of Dallas Road and the improvement of the roads leading out into the country for the benefit of motorists; ways other suggestions made by the speaker.

B. C. Electric Monopoly.

"In my opinion this beautiful city is seriously handicapped by the B. C. Electrical monopoly. The street car system should be municipally owned and operated. I understand that the question of the rule of the road is being changed, and it seems to me that the time is now ripe to open negotiations with a view to the purchase of the city of the street-car system," continued the ex-Mayor. Frequent and hearty applause testified to the general concurrence with Mr. Smith's remarks.

Golf Links Assured.

Commissioner McAdam, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, expressed today's thanks to the Prairie Club for the way in which it had handled the arrangements for last night's rally. "When the Prairie Club approached the Association asking for financial support with a view to holding this entertainment, we were only able to grant half the amount asked for. But I am sure that after the success of this first gathering the Club will get the full amount for the next occasion." Mr. McAdam outlined the work of the Association and invited every visitor to make the fullest possible use of the institution. "Mr. Smith referred to the failure of the municipal golf links by-law. Well, I will go so far as to give you a pledge that next winter you will be able to play golf on a municipal links here, for a meeting of the Rotary Club to-day every member of the Club signified his intention to do the thing through."

R. W. Perry in a rousing speech welcomed the visitors to Victoria and referred with pride to the fact that he was a native of Ontario. He hoped they would all enjoy the work they were doing here and that they would all come again and bring their friends. Musical numbers were contributed by the following: Miss Anna Wright, Miss Nora Atkinson, Miss Moss, Miss Dorrell, Miss Smith, Messrs. Dunford and E. Cartwright. Each number was received with evident appreciation and enthusiastically encored. At the close of the programme, the chairman, Mr. Lothian, expressed the thanks of the Prairie Club to the artists, to the Victoria and Island Development Association, and all who had helped to make the gathering such a success. In response to many requests, he said, arrangements would be made for the holding of a similar entertainment towards the latter end of February.

W. A. DONATION PARTY FINANCIAL SUCCESS

As a result of the highly successful and enjoyable "donation party" held at the Deaneary yesterday afternoon, the Women's Auxiliary of the Columbia Diocese is the richer by $72 and a certain amount of material donated by the members, which will be used for the furtherance of Dorcas work.

The rooms had a charming Spring-like air, achieved by the lavish use of daffodils, narcissus, pussy-willow and greenery in the decorations of the tea tables. The guests were received by Mrs. Quinton and the officers of the W. A., including Mrs. Hisecks, who also acted as convener of the tea arrangements. Mrs. Niven and Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Townsend, Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Dickson and Miss Winslow assisted Mrs. Hisecks in serving tea. Throughout the afternoon the many visitors were entertained with piano-forte selections by Miss Montisambert, enhancing the pleasure of the function.

SAANICH WOMEN HEAR TALK BY MRS. WATT

West and South Saanich Institutes Evince Much Interest in Home Crafts

That the residents of Saanich appreciate the privilege of welcoming back Mrs. Alfred Watt after several years of absence in England, was very evident, judging from the large and enthusiastic audience which gathered at the Temperance Hall, Keatings, last evening.

The meeting was held under the joint auspices of the South and West Saanich Women's Institutes, and it felt it a great honor to be the first of the Institutes to hear of the great work which Mrs. Watt had accomplished in the British Isles.

Mrs. Watt recalled to mind her work of organizing the first Institute on the island and their wonderful success in the rural districts and during her stay in England when the war had made the food supply a serious problem for Britain, the idea came to her of the same kind of organization might be able to solve a great measure of the difficulty and a start was made in a small Welsh village, at which Mrs. Lloyd George presided. From this beginning a most wonderful story was unfolded by the speaker of how the movement had spread over the country until now there were over 1,300 Institutes with a membership of nearly 100,000. Some districts became not only self-supporting, but had provided for the market. The British Government early recognizing the great value of this organization for rural women have given it a permanent place under the Board of Agriculture, and a large grant is given each year to carry on the work.

Mrs. Watt was accompanied by Mrs. Godman (also an old resident of B. C.), who was in charge of a most interesting exhibit of home crafts, including dolls, baskets, toys, gloves and mitts. Mrs. Godman, who organized one hundred Institutes in Sussex and had charge of the industrial work and in a most pleasing and able manner told of the way in which the old industries which had almost been lost in modern times were revived and new industries had been established. Sussex had become famous for its toys, which have taken the place of the German toys previously flooding the market.

Great interest was taken by those present in this exhibit and Mrs. Godman was kept busy answering questions. This exhibit was given to Mrs. Watt by the Institutes in England to be taken to Canada to let the Canadian people see what the Institutes, patterned after the B. C. organization, had been able to accomplish.

Mr. Lemon, President of the Farmers' Institute, spoke a few words of appreciation on behalf of the Institute.

CONSIDER CONCRETE FOR NEW BRIDGE INSTEAD OF STEEL

But Aldermen Learn Change in Plans Would Cost More

Steel or concrete for the Johnson Street bridge is the question at the City Hall this afternoon. Following the appeal of labor men for concrete on the claim that local industry and labor would benefit more than if steel from Eastern factories were used and only assembled here, aldermen have been busy investigating the possibilities of cement.

The agreements between the city, the Government and the railway companies provide for a steel structure. Mayor Porter explained today, however, that if cement were found feasible there ought to be no difficulty in having the necessary change made in the agreements.

City Engineer Preston is laying the whole question before the aldermen this afternoon. He explains that an actual designing of bridge has not been undertaken anything may be done.

The engineer, however, points out that a steel bridge would be more economical unless the price of gravel and cement took a big drop. This is because the foundations for the harbor structure will have to go deep, and with concrete the spans would have to be shortened, necessitating extra piers.

Only One-Fifth More Cement. Concrete approaches on the west side of the crossing were shown in the original plans. Although concrete might be economical for the approach on the western side, it would not be at all economical on the other side. Engineer Motley, the C. P. R. bridge expert, however, is looking over the plans favored steel all the way through.

The centre movable span in any case has to be of steel, Mr. Preston explains. But even if the approaches were concrete all the way through it would mean the use of only twenty per cent. more cement than steel structure. This is because a large quantity of cement will be used in the deep piers for the steel superstructure.

If concrete were used, the engineer further points out, half of the cost for the concrete would go for steel for the re-inforcing.

So that all facts about the two materials may be brought out and full opportunity given for comparing prices, Mr. Preston is recommending that the aldermen order the preparation of plans of both the concrete and steel approaches.

LEGISLATIVE HALL MUCH IMPROVED BY BIG ALTERATIONS

Ventilation and Acoustic Properties Will Be More Satisfactory Now.

The Legislative Chamber of the Parliament Building, following the conclusion of an extensive programme of alterations, is now in readiness for the next session of the Legislature, which will commence next Thursday.

People who throng the public galleries to hear the remarks of their representatives in the assembly will rejoice to hear that the acoustic properties of the chamber have been much improved by the extensive alterations to the roof and the upper portions of the walls. A number of panels were removed and thick padding inserted under them. This and other improvements will deaden the echoes that confuse the listener.

The changes also will cause the sound to carry more easily to all parts of the chamber.

Perhaps the most important has been the improvement in the ventilation system. Frequenters of the House know only too well how stuffy the air has always become while the Legislature is in session. This lack of fresh air has been remedied by the installation of a new system of ventilation in the roof of the Chamber.

These improvements turned the chamber into chaos for a few weeks, but the beautiful hangings, pictures, carpets and desks have been put in place once more, and everything is in readiness for the advent of members.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas On Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, says medical authorities, are due to the presence of an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic "acid stomach" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion and the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bisurated Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bisurated Magnesia, which is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a laxative. But a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five-grain tablets taken in a little water after the meal will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. It removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of peppin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia from your druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate, and in the liquid form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this is the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

TEMPERATURE HERE QUICKLY MODERATES

Predicted Cold Wave Dissipated by Appearance of Clouds

Victoria was saved from a severe cold spell last night by the sudden appearance of a mass of a vast cloud formation. Had it not been for this the city would have aroused this morning to find the mercury hovering 20 degrees above zero.

Denison, superintendent of the Gonzales Observatory, stated today that from the appearance of the weather chart the weather here will immediately moderate. Although in the prairie the temperature still continues to drop, and was 44 degrees below at Prince Albert.

At 5 o'clock this morning the thermometer at the observatory gave a reading of 27 degrees above. At Prince Rupert the temperature was 8 degrees above, which was a rise of 4 degrees over yesterday. At Kamloops the mercury still hung at 4 degrees below and at Barkerville it dropped to 26 degrees below. All over the prairies the cold is registered at between 25 degrees and 44 degrees below zero. Medicine Hat still remained at 40 degrees below.

The cold wave had extended across the continent to Ontario and at Port Arthur this morning it was 18 degrees below. It is shifting slowly southward, and on the Pacific Coast the sharp frosts have reached northern Oregon.

Trial Concluded.—The trial of Clark vs. Milligan which has been for the last two days before Mr. Justice Gregory was concluded this afternoon. The Clark alleged argument of counsel was heard. Harold B. Robertson appeared for the plaintiff and A. P. Luxton, K.C., represented the defendant. Clark alleged that Milligan trespassed on his land in the Renfrew District, and took timber from it. He now asks compensation.

A FAIR WARNING. The Clerk—Can I have two hours off this afternoon, Mr. Hardface. I'm to be married to-day. The Boss—I'll let you off for the occasion this time, but see that it doesn't happen too often.—Detroit News.

A BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGLY AND SAMMIE'S CARROT

Copyright, 1919, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate. (By Howard R. Garis.)

"What is it that smells so good, Nurse Jane?" asked Sammie Little-tail, the rabbit boy, as he was getting ready for school one morning in the burrow, or underground house.

"Oh, I am just cooking some carrots—boiling them whole to have ready for supper," answered the muskrat lady. She and Uncle Wiggly had come to live with the Little-tails after the rabbit gentleman's hollow stump bungalow burned.

"Oh, how I love boiled carrots!" cried Sammie.

"Well, if you like them so much, here is a nice, soft, boiled one you may take to school," said Nurse Jane, who was helping Mrs. Little-tail with the housework in the burrow. "But don't eat it until recess," said the muskrat lady.

"No'm, I won't," promised Sammie. Nurse Jane wrapped the carrot up in a sheet of paper. It was a whole carrot, boiled in one piece, and it was as soft as cream.

"I hope the sharp end of the carrot won't stick in Sammie," said Uncle Wiggly, who was reading the morning paper.

"If it does it is so soft, like rubber, that it will not hurt him," spoke Nurse Jane. "Soft boiled carrots can do no harm to any one."

So Sammie found his books, and hurried off to school with the boiled carrot in his pocket. His sister Susie had gone on ahead with Brighteyes, the guinea pig girl, and Lulu and Alice Wiggly, the ducks.

"I guess I'd better hurry, or I may be late," said Sammie, as he hunted for his mittens, which he finally found under the kitchen stove, where he had put them to dry when he came in from playing snowball tag the night before.

"Wait a moment and I'll come with you," said Uncle Wiggly to his rabbit nephew.

"Are you coming to school?" asked Sammie. "I hope you do. We don't have so many lessons when visitors come."

"No, I am not going to visit the hollow stump school to-day," spoke Uncle Wiggly, with a twinkle of his pink nose. "I may, some other time. Just now I am going to call on Grandpa Goosey Gander. He has a new game in Scotch Checkers he wants to show me. He says it is very funny."

"Well, wrap up warmly, both of you," called Nurse Jane to the rabbit gentleman and little boy. "It is very cold out—freezing cold."

And when Uncle Wiggly and Sammie left the warm burrow, or underground house, they were glad they had on their fur coats. For it was cold and snowy and blustery and blowy in Woodland near the Orange Ice mountains.

Uncle Wiggly and Sammie hopped over the fields and through the forest on the way to the hollow stump school. It kept growing colder and colder, and even though the bunny rabbit gentleman and his nephew twinkled their pink noses as fast as they could, still they felt chilly.

"All of a sudden, just as he was taking a slide on a little brook that was frozen over, Sammie felt something pulling on the end of his long scarf that was tied around his neck. "Is that you, Uncle Wiggly?" asked Sammie, for he had run on ahead to take the slide. "Are you pulling my scarf?"

"No, Sammie, I am not," answered the rabbit gentleman, and he spoke in such a sad sorrowful voice that Sammie turned in astonishment. And what he saw made him all the more surprised.

For Uncle Wiggly was held fast by the end of the scarf, and it was the queer, unpleasant chap who had sneaked up and pulled Sammie's scarf.

"Ah, ha! Now I have the two of you!" cried the Bazoop. "Now for a lot of souse—cold souse! I like the cold kind all the better—freezing!"

"Oh, if only had a buttonhook, or something like that to tickle him with," whispered the bunny gentleman.

"I've got the boiled carrot Nurse Jane gave me," Sammie whispered back.

"That would be too soft—too much like wabblly rubber," said Uncle Wiggly. Sammie put his paw in his pocket and felt of the carrot. Then, with a cry, he pulled it out.

"Here, hake it, Uncle Wiggly!" cried the rabbit boy. "The carrot is frozen as hard as an icicle. And it is as sharp and stickery as an ice cream cone!" Take it and jab the Bazoop with it!

"I will!" said Uncle Wiggly. So he hank Sammie's soft boiled carrot, that had frozen stiff, and with it the rabbit gentleman tickled and scratched the Bazoop so hard that the bad chap was glad enough to run away and not get a bit of souse.

"Oh, howled the Bazoop as he ran away. "Frozen carrots are too much for me!"

Then Sammie went on to school, where he thawed his carrot for his recess lunch, and Uncle Wiggly went to see Grandpa Goosey. And if the canary bird doesn't try to take the cat's tail for a feather muffer to wear to the goldfish party, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggly and Susie's slippers.

INDUSTRIAL LOAN FOR LOCAL CONCERN

Hiker Manufacturing Co. Receives $6,000 to Expand Business

The B. C. Department of Industries will loan the sum of $6,000 to the Hiker Manufacturing Company, a well known firm of this city, as a result of a decision made by the Executive Council yesterday.

The Hiker Manufacturing Company, which manufactures several popular lines of children's vehicles at a factory at the corner of Esquimalt Road and William Street, is considered by the Department as a most promising organization. Headed by Eric McCallum, the president and manager, Arthur McCallum and George Hutchison, the firm is operating a thoroughly up-to-date plant and is affording permanent employment to seventeen returned men. So far the activities of the concern have consisted of the manufacture of the inventions of Alfred Taylor, the well known local inventor, who, unfortunately, is retiring from the firm on account of his health, but new lines of goods will be turned out from the factory in the near future.

The industrial loan will be used partly for the purpose of extending the equipment to allow the manufacture of new products, and partly as working capital.

Already Hiker products are widely known all over the country. The Hiker scooters, hikers, automobiles, horses and various other strong yet artistic playthings are of a decidedly original character and are meeting with wide popularity. The company manufactures every part of its products, and puts out the only rubber wheel manufactured in western Canada.

RETAILERS HAVE TWO FEDERAL TAX
ACTS EXPLAINED

Major F. V. Young Gives Interesting Address, With Statistical Data

Before the Retailers' Section of the Board of Trade last evening, Major F. V. Young, of the Dominion Department of Finance, gave a very lucid explanation of the working of the Business Profits War Tax Act and the Income War Tax Act. He discussed at length the objects of the acts, and the manner in which they were working out.

The retailers followed the address with considerable interest and sought additional information on points which did not seem clear to them. At the conclusion of his talk, Major Young answered a large number of questions.

In moving a vote of thanks to the speaker, J. O. Cameron, President of the Board, asked that the Business Profits War Tax be abolished, and all such taxation be placed upon the basis of an income tax. This motion was unanimously carried.

The Problem.

Major Young, in his opening remarks, said:

"I can fully appreciate how difficult it is to the ordinary business man to understand the Business Profits War Tax Act and the Income War Tax Act with their amendments, repeals, cancellations and additions. The two Acts are quite separate and distinct, but they run in couples like coursing—like two greyhounds chasing the hare—if one does not catch you, the other will, and your only change of 'doubling back' or evading the tax, is to have no income. Happy is the man with no income. I am extremely fortunate myself in this respect."

The Exemptions.

"When I say no income, of course I mean no income over and above the exemption allowed by the Act; that is, a married man or woman or widow or widower with dependent child or children $2,000 and $200 for each child under the age of 18. And for single men and women or widows or widowers without dependent parents or children $1,000. And all persons who are supporting dependent brothers or sisters under the age of 18 years or a dependent parent or parents, grand-parent or grand-parents come under the married exemption of $2,000, and $200 for each brother or sister under 18 years of age dependent on the taxpayer for support. Corporations and joint stock companies are exempt up to $2,000. These exemptions I am quoting are for the year 1919.

"The exemptions for individuals are about the same for the year 1919 as 1918, but for limited liability companies the exemption is $1,000 less than 1918, and the taxes are much higher for 1919 than for previous years.

Extent of Taxes.

"In 1917 the tax levied against corporations and joint stock companies was 4 per cent. of the profits with an exemption of $2,000.

"In 1918, 6 per cent. of the profits with $3,000 exemption.

"In 1919, 10 per cent. of the profits with $2,000 exemption.

"Companies do not pay surtax or super-tax.

"There are two taxes levied against the individual taxpayer, that is, the normal tax and the surtax according to the amount of your income.

"The normal tax is 4 per cent. on your annual income after deducting whatever you are exempt under the class in which you belong, viz.: single, married, widow or widower, up to the amount of $6,000.

"On all incomes over $6,000 the normal tax is 8 per cent.

"Therefore, if you had an income of $8,000, and are a married man or woman with an exemption of $2,000 you would be taxed at the rate of 4 per cent. on $4,000, that is, $160 for the normal tax and 8 per cent. on $1,000 for the surtax, $10, equals $170, and if you have any children you take off this $170, $8 for each child under 18 years of age, that is, the normal tax of 4 per cent. on $200 allowed for each child.

"The reason for adding on $10 surtax, being 1 per cent. on $1,000, is because there is a surtax on all incomes over $5,000.

"The rates of the surtax are: On incomes which exceed $5,000, but not in excess of $6,000, the taxpayer pays 1 per cent.

"Above $6,000, but not in excess of $7,000, 2 per cent.

"$7,000 to $8,000, 3 per cent.

"$8,000 to $10,000, 4 per cent.

"$10,000 to $12,000, 5 per cent.

"$12,000 to $15,000, 6 per cent.

"$15,000 to $20,000, 7 per cent.

"$20,000 to $25,000, 8 per cent.

"$25,000 to $30,000, 9 per cent.

"$30,000 to $40,000, 10 per cent.

"$40,000 to $50,000, 11 per cent.

"$50,000 to $75,000, 12 per cent.

"$75,000 to $100,000, 13 per cent.

"$100,000 to $250,000, 15 per cent.

"$250,000 to $500,000, 17 per cent.

"$500,000 to $1,000,000, 20 per cent.

"Over $1,000,000, 25 per cent.

"The surtax alone on $100,000 is $52,500, 6 1/2 per cent. and the normal tax, $10,000, 10 per cent. total, $62,500. (With $2,000 exemption.)

"The amount of tax payable, with an exemption of $1,000 for an unmarried man, is $40 more (that is, 4 per cent. on $1,000) than the tax paid by the married man.

Like an Octopus.

"By the figures I have quoted, you will see that the income tax catches hold of the man with the big income like an octopus—a most extraordinary marine animal with eight per cent. of arms and legs (like the surtax) very long and strong, with suckers to seize its prey, these suckers number 2,000 (like the exemption of a married man). It is sometimes called the 'Devil Fish of Fiction and Fact,' but there is not much fiction about the income tax, is there?"

"All governments are like the devil fish or octopus, as far as the income tax is concerned.

"At present the Business Profits War Tax Act is in force for five years, that is, 1915-1919 inclusive. Whether it will be extended beyond 1919 I do not know.

"A business owned by an incorporated company or any other person who has a capital of $25,000 or over, is liable under this Act. The normal tax on $100,000 is $7,500, and the surtax 4 1/2 per cent. total, $31,125. (That is with exemption of $2,000.) The surtax alone on $100,000 is $45,625, 6 1/2 per cent. and the normal tax, $7,500, total, $53,125. (With $2,000 exemption.)

"The amount of tax payable, with an exemption of $1,000 for an unmarried man, is $40 more (that is, 4 per cent. on $1,000) than the tax paid by the married man.

"At present the Business Profits War Tax Act is in force for five years, that is, 1915-1919 inclusive. Whether it will be extended beyond 1919 I do not know.

"A business owned by an incorporated company or any other person who has a capital of $25,000 or over, is liable under this Act. If the profits earned exceed a certain percentage upon the capital employed in such business. The business of farming and livestock raising does not come under this Act.

Those Affected.

"The tax is levied against the company or person owning the business for each and every accounting period ending after the 31st December, 1914, so that if your accounting period ended, say, at 31st January, 1915, you would be taxed for eleven months in 1914 and one month in 1915, and so on for the full period of sixty months which would end, in this case, on the 31st January, 1919.

"For the first three years of the Act, 1915-16-17, the capital had to be $50,000 or more before the person (Person means individual or person and any partnership, syndicate and any body co-operate) became liable to pay the tax.

"For the 1917 accounting period the capital remained the same—$50,000 or more, but the rate of tax on the profits was altered as follows:

"In any business where the said profits exceed 15 per cent. per annum, but does not exceed 20 per cent. per annum the tax is increased to 50 per cent. and where the said profits exceed 20 per cent. per annum the tax is increased to 75 per cent. with respect to all profits in excess of the said 20 per cent. that is to say: A limited liability company is allowed an exemption of 7 per cent. per annum on the capital employed, then 8 per cent. of the capital (which brings it up to 15 per cent.) is taxed 25 per cent. or one-fourth, then 5 per cent. of the capital (which makes 20 per cent.) is taxed 50 per cent. or one-half, and all profits over 20 per cent. per annum is taxed 75 per cent. or three-fourths.

Exemptions.

"An individual is allowed an exemption of 10 per cent. per annum on his capital employed, that is, 10 per cent. exempt; 5 per cent. is taxed 25 per cent.; 5 per cent. is taxed 50 per cent. and all over 20 per cent. is taxed 75 per cent. Take for instance, a company with a capital of $100,000, and it makes a profit of $30,000, the exemption would be $7,000 or 7 per cent.

$7,000 Exemption.

8% $8,000 1/4 or 25% ..... $ 2,000

5% 5,000 1/2 or 50% ..... 2,500

That is 26,000

Balance 19,000 3/4 or 75% ..... 7,500

Profit ..... $30,000 Tax, $12,000

"The company pays a tax of $12,000 on a clear profit of $30,000 or 40 per cent. of its profits.

"Any other person would pay a tax of $11,250 on the same profits and same capital, that is $750 less being 25 cents on $5,000 inasmuch as on $8,000 the difference of $3,000 being the extra exemption 40 per cent. of one's profits appear high but to make 30 per cent. on one's capital is so high, although I have assessed some companies making over 100 per cent. on their capital.

Affects Large Profits.

"It is the companies who make large profits that pay excessive taxes, if a company makes a fair profit of, say 15 per cent. on its capital, the tax is only $2,000 or one-fourth of 8 per cent. that is, with a capital of $100,000, if they make 20 per cent. the tax is, as I said, $12,000.

"The tax for the 1918 accounting period was altered so as to catch all companies and other persons with a capital of $25,000 or over, whose accounting period commences after the 31st December, 1917.

"The tax as regards the $50,000 capital, remains the same as in 1917, but the Act is amended so that any person having a business with a capital of not less than $25,000, and under $50,000 shall pay a tax of 25 per cent. of the amount of the profits exceeding 10 per cent. per annum upon the amount of the capital employed therein.

"That is to say, if you have a capital of $25,000 and your profits are $4,500 you are allowed an exemption of $2,500 (that is 10 per cent. of your capital) and the balance of your profits $2,000 is taxed 25 per cent., which is $500.

"The tax for 1919 unless the Act is further amended is the same as 1918.

"The capital employed in the business of an incorporated company is the amount paid up on its capital stock, and the unimpaired reserve, or surplus profits, is included as part of the capital employed.

"The capital employed in the business of any person other than an incorporated company, is the fair value of all assets, real or personal, movable and immovable, used in connection with the business, and also any accumulated profits employed in the business, but any money borrowed or debts incurred in connection with the business will

NO PROFITEERING WITH ZAM-BUK

Before the war, Zam-Buk was $6c. a box. All during the war, when the cost of production was rapidly advancing, the price of Zam-Buk to the consumer remained the same. Now, with the war over, while some prices continue to soar, Zam-Buk is still $6c. a box! Not only so, but the same high standard of quality has been maintained throughout.

There has been no profiteering in regard to Zam-Buk. For every box you have bought, you have been asked to pay fair value only. Is this method of doing business not worthy of recognition? Answer this question by continuing to recommend, to appreciate, and to use Zam-Buk—the greatest household healer of modern times.

be deducted in computing the amount of capital employed. The capital is practically the difference between your assets and liabilities in connection with your business.

Major Young then explained deductions from revenue and depreciation.

In this respect he remarked: "With regard to depreciation, I may say that depreciation is allowed only in cases where a decline in value has resulted through use of wear and tear; decline in value resulting from changes in market value as in the case of land or securities, or from diminished usefulness of the asset is not allowed. No depreciation will be allowed on merchandise-in-stock."

Major Young proceeded to refer to depreciation, bad debts and the creation of reserve funds.

He turned then to the Income War Tax Act, and remarked on deductions:

"Dominion taxes and Provincial Government personal property or income tax, local improvements or beneficiary taxes are not allowed as a deduction from gross income under the income war tax, but are under the business profits tax.

"Incorporation expenses are not allowed as a deduction from income.

"Life insurance; items of personal expense or items connected in any way, with the support of a family or taxes on the residence are not allowed. Neither are the accounts paid for tools, implements, vehicles, machinery, professional books, nor amounts expended in making permanent improvements or betterments of any kind, allowable as deductions.

"General deductions from gross income are the necessary expenses actually paid in carrying on any business, trade or profession.

"Deductions for depreciation, depletion and bad debts are the same as I have given you for the business profits war tax.

"Contributions to patriotic and war funds may be deducted from gross income by the individual, but not contributions to other general charitable objects.

"Corporations may deduct from income contributions made for charitable and patriotic purposes, as these may be included under the heading of business expense.

"As regards writing off bad debts under the income war tax, I may say that no allowance will be made for bad debts in regard to accounts on the books of the taxpayer at or prior to January 1, 1917, or the beginning of the first taxation period if some other fiscal period is used. All accounts on the books at that date are capital in so far as the Income War Tax Act, 1917, is concerned and not income.

"A taxpayer will not be allowed to establish out of the earnings of a taxation period a reserve for bad debts which accrued prior to the beginning of the application of the Income War Tax Act, 1917.

"All income tax returns of individuals must be made for the period of the calendar year.

"Returns of corporations may be made to the fiscal or accounting period of the corporation.

"Returns of trustees, employers and corporation dividends must be made for the calendar year only.

"Trustees, executors, administrators, guardians, agents, receivers or persons acting in a fiduciary capacity are required to make returns on Form T, 3 in respect of all estates or trust funds from which the total income amounts to or exceeds $500 per annum.

"Trustees are not required to withhold or pay the tax on behalf of the beneficiaries of the trust they represent.

Deficits and Losses.

"Deficits or losses sustained in transactions entered into for profit but not connected with the chief business, trade, profession or occupation of the taxpayer shall not be deducted from income derived from the chief business, trade, profession or occupation of the taxpayer in determining his taxable income.

"You will see by this that if an individual or corporation is holding real estate or anything else outside his chief business, and the expenditure is greater than the receipts, the loss cannot be deducted from his income.

"Income derived from any pension granted to the pensioner or to his dependent relative (in connection with the great war) is not liable to taxation.

"Any part of the remuneration of a taxpayer retained by his employer in connection with an employee's superannuation or pension fund or plan is allowed as an exemption from his income, and any payment to an employee out of such fund or plan shall be included as taxable income of the employee.

"Any person carrying on business in partnerships is liable for the income tax only in their individual capacity; but a husband and wife carrying on business together are not deemed to be partners for any purpose under this Act. The partner or proprietor of a business shows his income derived from the fiscal year (if the accounting period is not for the calendar year) ending within the calendar year for which the return is being made, but his return of income derived from sources other than his business shall be made for the calendar year.

"Where a wife has a private income not derived from her husband, she is considered as a person separate and distinct from her husband as to income, and she reports her income just as he reports his—except that both cannot receive the $200 extra exemption per child; one must take that exemption and the other must report as having no child or children. The wife is allowed the $2,000 exemption as well as the husband.

"The tax applies to women as well as to men."

Good Bookkeeping.

Major Young then turned to explain the necessity of good bookkeeping, saying: "As long as the business men know what they owe, and what is owing to them, and how their bank account stands, and they are doing a good business, and are responsible to themselves only, what care they about systems? But the time has arrived for every business man to keep a proper set of books.

"The Minister of Finance can compel the taxpayer to keep records and accounts as he may prescribe—the law is, that adequate books of accounts for income tax purposes must be kept.

"It is very simple to arrive at one's gross income.

"It is merely a question of debit and credit. If you credit the amount of your sales and the amount of your inventory at the end of the accounting period, and total these amounts, and then deduct from this total the amount of your purchases and the amount of your inventory at the beginning of the accounting period, the difference is your gross profit.

"It is usual to include freight and duty paid on your purchases, to arrive at the gross profits in your trading account.

"If a business is carrying on manufacturing, it is customary to debit your trading or operating account with the amount paid out for labor, salaries, supplies and any other expense in connection with the operation, in order to arrive at the gross income of that branch of the business.

"Now having arrived at the gross profits of your business, you bring this amount down to the credit of profit and loss account; and debit this account all the other expenses of your business and you arrive at your net profits or income from the business for the year."

"The Major then explained the methods of inventory of stocktaking and accurate accountancy.

To Relieve Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness And Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness, or who are growing hard of hearing and have head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected complete relief after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear. Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows: Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmitin (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmitin is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the Eustachian tubes and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it give are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form, or distressing rumbling, hissing sounds in their ears, should give this recipe a trial.

CATHEDRAL'S ANNUAL VESTRY MEETING

Christ Church Parish Raised $25,000 During Past Year; Splendid Reports

It was not a large gathering that faced Dean Quinlan as he took the chair at the annual vestry meeting at the Anglican Cathedral on Tuesday, but it was enthusiastic and full of hope. All agreed that the last year was one of advance in congregations and collections, while harmony had prevailed in all departments of work. The cathedral had been enlarged and the enlargement paid for, taxes and assessments met, while the many organizations that need the schools are so busy and flourishing that it being paid by all that further school accommodation must be provided.

All present regretted that Major B. T. Drake was unable to hold office for another year, and also the Dean appointed Mr. Frank Barrett as rector's warden for 1920. Mr. John Harvey was again elected as people's warden, warm testimony being paid to his unfailing attention to duty. Including St. Matthias' Mission church, the cathedral parish has raised in round figures during the past year, $25,000. At the cathedral the Sunday collections for the year show a net increase of $1,500.

Assisted in Arrest.—Detectives Macdonald and Heather gave material assistance to John Martin, a Burns Detective Agency representative, in effecting the arrest of John Christian and Leo Mechem, who are wanted by the authorities in Idaho. ## DENY THAT BOND DEALERS TOOK AN UNFAIR ADVANTAGE

Local Bond Manager Explains Situation With Regard to Bonds

Emphatical denial that local bond dealers were taking advantage of un-voiced bond holders in transactions involving the sale of Victory Bonds was voiced to-day by J. H. Talling, Bond Manager of the British American Trust Company, one of the best known bond houses in the city.

"In connection with the prices of Victory Bonds fixed by the Committee at Toronto, and published in last night's Times," Mr. Talling stated, "I might point out that the prices quoted were the market committee prices paid for bonds of $1,000 denominations, these being payment by Toronto cheque for bonds delivered in Toronto. From the price paid by the committee in Toronto there is a deduction of one-quarter of one per cent brokerage, and the cost of shipping bonds to Toronto, approximately one-quarter of one per cent, and to this would be added the profit expected by local dealers of one-eighth of one per cent. It will thus be seen that it is impossible for local sellers to expect to receive the prices quoted in Toronto and that the usual margin of profit of one-eighth of one per cent is quite within reason. As has been suggested in the press, the wisest policy for people to pursue in selling bonds is to have a reputable bond dealer recommended by their bankers."

"As a matter of fact," Mr. Talling assured The Times, "all bond houses in the city maintain the same selling prices."

Boy Scouts Concert.—The Scouts will hold a concert at St. John's Hall, on Monday. The concert is being managed by the St. James' Church Troop of Boy Scouts. They are also assisted by other troops of the city, and many friends who have so kindly given their aid to the troop. The programme covers a wide variety of talent, singing, dancing, pianoforte playing, and many other interesting items. Mr. A. A. Glover, the "Musical Blacksmith," will appear. Doors will open at 7:30, and the concert starts at 8 o'clock.

CITY HALL PUZZLED

BY "P. R." VOTE

Detailed Figures Mystify Officials; Voters Fail to Understand

City Hall officials said to-day that proportional representation advocates would now be able to start figuring away to their hearts' content, explaining the results of the first proportional representative vote taken in Victoria. The full details of this vote on the various forms of municipal government taken eight days ago, were announced to-day by W. W. Northcott, returning officer. In this referendum the voter had to indicate his preference of four forms of government by marking them on his ballot "1, 2, 3, 4," in order of preference. Form A provided for a ten-man council for two years, half elected each year; B the commission form of government; C a five-man council and D a council with a board of control.

"The details of the vote issued to-day are:

First Choice.	671
Question A	431
Question B	190
Question C	42
Question D	90
Second Choice.	180
Question A	99
Question B	249
Question C	250
Question D	82
Third Choice.	88
Question A	219
Question B	215
Question C	215
Question D	215
Fourth Choice.	139
Question A	108
Question B	98
Question C	155
Question D	155
Total ballots cast, 1,334; spoiled, 574.

In his official comment on all these figures Mr. Northcott says only this: "Question A has received more than fifty per cent of the total valid ballots cast as first choice."

One reason for the large number of spoiled ballots, Mr. Northcott explains, is that people could not get into their heads a different system of voting from the usual one of marking an "X." All ballots marked thus were counted as spoiled.

Many of the ballots were marked with only the figure "1" against one proposal. These ballots were counted as good.

One man who had evidently spent some time studying all the instructions as to how he should mark his ballot, and after trying to get into his head what the various proposals were, all about gave up the struggle and wrote across the paper, "Oh—!" Others wrote such expressions as "Bolshevik!" and "Put the whole bunch out."

PYTHIAN LODGES INSTALLED OFFICERS

Installation of officers was the chief feature at last night's meeting of the Knights of Pythias, Far East Lodge No. 1. The following officers were installed with due ceremony: C. C. Edward Hughes; V. C., L. Burmeister; prelate, L. J. Levy; M. of W., Joseph Glover; K. R. S. and M. of F., G. H. Harding; M. of F., James H. Mansell; M. at A., Charles R. Walker; L. G., O. J. Pickering; O. G., E. J. Monk.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the retiring officials. The Pythian Sisters also met and elected officers for the present term, the following being chosen to the appointments named:

M. E. C., Mrs. Monk; E. S., Mrs. McDonald; E. J., Mrs. Tripp; M. of R. C., Mrs. R. E. Glover; M. of F., Mrs. Anderson; manager, Mrs. Evans; promoter, Mrs. Hammond; guard, Mrs. Doncaster. A presentation was made to the outgoing past chief for services capably rendered, and all the past officials were tendered a very hearty vote of thanks.

At the conclusion the two lodges united in a social evening, dancing taking place to the music rendered by Ozard's orchestra.

BUSINESS BOOMS

IN UP-ISLAND TOWNS

The Vancouver Wholesalers Strengthen Commercial Hold on Island

Up-island towns are already in the midst of a great Spring business boom, according to J. G. Thomson, of the Victoria and Island Development Association, who has returned from visiting these centres, discussing this year's publicity.

"One of the busiest places you can see anywhere is Courtenay," said Mr. Thomson to-day. "The place is full of people, building and extensions going on everywhere and everybody full of optimism and enthusiasm."

"At Nanaimo and Alberni you have to telegraph ahead to get accommodation at the hotels. The registrations at the Nanaimo hotels are running three pages a day. The night I got into Alberni people were turned away from the Somas Hotel."

"The soldiers' settlement town of Merville is booming, but unfortunately there seems to be some friction over the way things are being run."

"The prosperity of Courtenay seems to be mostly due to the large number of soldiers who have settled there or taken up land in the vicinity. The big milk condensery there has also stimulated the settlement, as this factory guarantees the producers a price throughout the year. Subsidiary industries to the milk condensery are springing up, such as a box factory. Two of the big wholesale firms of Vancouver have entered Nanaimo and are putting in large warehouses to take care of the great up-island business. Vancouver business houses are keen after this island trade. Their travellers are everywhere as thick as bees and very little escapes them."

Mariners Out to Stop Hutmen in Effort to Land Three Straight

Cellar Team May Create Play-Off by Beating or Drawing With the Knights of Columbus Eleven Tomorrow

Whether the Knights of Columbus Hut can take the remaining three games and secure the city soccer championship, or whether one of the trio they have yet to meet can either draw with the leaders or hand them the defeat which will give the Wests and Wards a chance to get into the running is the thought uppermost in the minds of the soccer fans who have watched the close struggle between the three leading clubs.

The Harbor Marine provide the opposition next Saturday for the Casey eleven, and although the Mariners occupy the cellar the champions look forward to the struggle with some anxiety. The Mariners have had a bad streak of luck throughout the season, but they have never proved an easy team to beat, and a small margin only has been the rule in most of the games in which they have figured. They meet Neary's men tomorrow at Beacon Hill, and judging from the interest in the game there should be a good crowd on hand.

The Games. The games to-morrow will be: Harbor Marine vs. K. of C. at Beacon Hill. Foundation vs. Army and Navy at Royal Athletic Park. Comrades vs. G.W.V.A. at Jubilee. Wards vs. Yarrows at Central Park. Intermediates. Firemen vs. Wests at Willows; Army and Navy vs. Metropolis at Work Point. Postal Service vs. Yarrows at Beacon Hill. Teams. Teams have been selected as follows: Seniors. Harbor Marine. Oliver: A. Fetch and H. Ord; Roe Owens, Captain and C. Brown; Whitaker, Harding, Pelling, Swain and Harwood. Reserves, Haines and Sedger. Comrades. Lomas; Davies and Gomm; Bloom, Hardwick and Green; Harper, Kerswall, Essler, Bristow and Walton. Reserves, Reid, Patterson and Dannel. North Wards. To be chosen from Leeming, Church, Piggott, Dowell, Gibson, Inghall, Brown, Orchard, Jones, Lea, Erickson and Hatherhill. Foundation. ### LOOKING THINGS OVER

"The rugby game at Oak Bay last Saturday," says Harry Boyd, "was not postponed because of the condition of the ground. It was postponed because three of the Wanderers could not swim."

Instead of fighting for a big purse and the championship the Two Jacks, Dempsey and Kearns—not the two of Victoria fame—appear to have a big battle on their hands in explaining why the fighter didn't fight.

When a New York writer says, apropos of U. S. fighters "instead of coming to the front and volunteering to defend their country's flag they took to the woods, and when cornered employed every mean, cowardly subterfuge to keep out of the war," no brain wave is necessary to gather that some of the U. S. fighters are "in bad" in their own country.

"They showed themselves to be slackers who knew not the meaning of patriotism. This is the sort of cattle our fighters are made up of, and unwittingly called Americans by Englishmen," the writer goes on to say.

There will be one thing lacking at next Monday's amateur games. Heck Fowler, who works along similar lines to the other great comedian, Charlie Chaplin, will not be there to supply the comedy.

Norman gave a sample Monday while he was acting as goal umpire of the stuff with which he used to put the Spokane crowds into hysterics of laughter, and the crowd would like to see him on the job often.

U. S. NEXT YEAR TO BID FOR DAVIS CUP

Tennis Association Hopes to Provide Formidable Opposition

New York, Jan. 23.—In successfully defending the Davis Cup, emblematic of the world's team lawn tennis championship, Australia's team demonstrated its complete mastery over the English challenge combination. The defenders, Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson, assisted by Young Anderson, a youthful tennis prodigy, won four out of five matches; twelve out of eighteen sets and 102 out of 179 games. The English team, composed of the veterans, A. H. Lowe, A. R. F. Kingscote and A. E. Beamish, lost three single matches and one doubles, the sole victory being that of Kingscote over Anderson.

Australia will be called upon again to defend the Davis Cup against far more formidable players within the next twelve months. At the annual meeting of the United States National Lawn Tennis Association, to be held in this city on February 6, a formal challenge for the trophy will be decisive upon.

All challenges must be filed before March 1 and the national association is on record as favoring such a move. Several other nations, including France, Belgium, Spain, England and possibly one South American country have indicated their intention of challenging in 1920. It is expected that a portion of the preliminary elimination matches will be played in the United States next Summer, and the winning nation will in turn meet the holding Australasians in Australia late in 1920 or early in 1921.

KENNEL CLUB OFFICERS

Increasing interest in the Victoria Kennel Club was shown at the adjourned meeting of the club, twenty-five new members being enrolled.

Officers were elected as follows: President, Dr. Garesche; vice-president, J. W. Creighton; secretary, treasurer, M. D. Harbord; recording secretary, Mrs. M. E. McVicker; V. Heather, A. Pritchett, Wrigglesworth, Mrs. Orlick, M. Hickford, C. A. Goodwin, and Messrs. Wallace, Deeds and Forbes; veterinary surgeon, Dr. Keown.

The arrangements for securing judges for the coming Spring show were left in the hands of the secretary, new dates for the show selected being Tuesday and Wednesday, April 13 and 14.

QUAKER CITY OARSMEN AFTER DIAMOND SCULLS

Philadelphia, Jan. 23.—John Kelly, of the Vesper Boat Club, and national sculling champion, will try to win the diamond sculls at the Henley Regatta in England this Summer and expects to enter the Olympia rowing race later in Belgium.

He said he would not row in fours and eights for the Vespers this year, but would confine himself to sculling. If he wins the diamond sculls and is chosen among others to represent the United States at the Olympia Regatta, he said, he expects to pair up with Paul Costello, this city, for the double sculling event.

SMASHED AT Y.M.C.A. SWIMMING RECORD

G. Bidlake Makest Fastest Time in Tank for Hundred Yards

Last night at the Y.M.C.A. Senior Swim Club Handicaps, G. Bidlake broke the tank record for the 100-yard swim. He negotiated the distance in 66 1-5 seconds after a good performance. The events finished as follows: 100 yards—1. G. Bidlake, 66 1-5; 2. J. Larson; 3. J. Marshall. Plunge for distance—1. F. H. Keelling, 38 ft. 3 in.; 2. G. Bidlake; 3. J. Marshall. Friendly League. Last evening the second game of the Friendly Basketball League was played between Stewart's and Willis' teams. The game was won by Stewart's team with the score at 56 to 34. In the latter part of the first half and the second half the losers showed great improvement owing to Bob Whyte's coaching after he got into the game.

The teams were as follows: Stewart's—A. Wagstaff, J. Bartholomew, Capt. J. Stewart, T. Hopkins, G. McKeachren and Cox. Willis—R. White, T. Hall, L. Jones, J. Somerville, H. Gilliland.

LAST NIGHT'S BOUTS

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Bartley Madden, of Chicago, and Fred Fulton, of Rochester, Minn., heavyweight pugilists, have been matched for a 15-round bout at Denver, February 15, it was announced to-night.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 22.—Bobby Waucho, Star Athletic, Tex., and Ralph de Mott, of the 19th Infantry, fought a ten-round draw here to-night.

Tacoma, Jan. 22.—Heinie Schumann, of Tacoma, and Eddie Shannon, of California, rival claimants of the coast lightweight crown, boxed a great six-round draw here to-night. Schumann had an edge early in the bout, scoring a slight knockdown in the second round, but Shannon finished strong and the call was proper, ringside experts agreed.

Joe Bonds, of Tacoma, and Tom Woodhouse, of Seattle, light heavyweights, boxed a draw in the six-round semi-windup.

WANDERERS HAVE STRONGEST TEAM FIELDING THIS YEAR

War Veterans Will Also Have Strengthened Side To-morrow

The Wanderers make the hopes of the V.I.A.A. supporters of drawing even, or taking a one point lead on the rugby chart look less promising by the formidable line-up they announce for Saturday's fixture. Two games will be played on the Oak Bay field, the Wanderers and the V.I.A.A. and the Great War Veterans and the James Bay fifteen playing simultaneously.

The recent frost was not welcomed by the rugby men, but the ground is not too bad to prevent play. With their appetites whetted by the recent success, the Great War Veterans believe they have struck the right gait at last. According to the way the green-shirted players are voicing their opinion on to-morrow's tilt with the Bays, the J.B.A.A. fifteen will not even get a chance to break into the scoring column. The Bays are equally as confident they can register a brace of points at their expense.

The Wanderers will field the strongest fifteen they have had this year to meet the Island squad, their team being as follows:

Wanderers.
Full back, C. S. Williams; three-quarters, R. Ker, S. Gillespie, E. Gillespie, E. McCallum; half-backs, G. C. Grant, N. Robertson, D. M. Grant; forwards, W. J. Baum, A. Baraclough, H. Robinson, M. Green, A. Magann, H. Wilson, J. W. McIlvree.
Other teams are:

James Bay.
Full back, C. Steele; three-quarters, Vincent, McCulloch, Bendroft, Gosnell; Armbrister; half-backs, Anderson, Johnson (Capt.); forwards, Bennett, Travis, Norris, Bond, Johnson, Monteith, Fraser.

V.I.A.A. Team.
Full back, H. A. Tomalin; three-quarters, J. Matson, C. Cowan, V. L. Smith, W. Huxtable; five eights, D. Staples; halves, W. H. Wilson and D. Grubb; forwards, J. McRae, L. Clark, A. Lewis, E. Randall, J. Helgerson, S. Clark, J. Blythe. Reserve, G. McRae, R. Harvey.

AMERICAN DEMANDS ABSORB COFFEE

Hamburg is Replaced by Trade Moved to United States

In pre-war days Hamburg was the coffee market of the world. The enormous merchant marine which Germany had developed under her system of subsidies made this possible.

With the coming of peace Hamburg has lost her prestige in the field and the chances are, due to the loss of her common carriers, that she will never regain her former position as far as the handling of the commodity is concerned.

For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1919, statistics show that the United States imported 1,051,839,910 pounds of coffee, mostly from Latin America and the West Indies, and paid for the same $144,069,868. In other words, we absorbed much of the coffee trade that formerly went through German hands. Furthermore, the indications are that American importation of the coffee bean will materially increase due to the coming of prohibition, which has helped to bring about in the larger cities of the country the opening of coffee houses as a substitute for the bar of former days. Sensing the coming of this condition the Brazilian Government is spending several millions of dollars in an advertising campaign throughout the United States with the idea of popularizing the beverage produced from her coffee berries.

In addition to the consumption of coffee in the United States which is rapidly growing, the United States has taken the place of Hamburg for reshipping coffee to Northern Europe and to France. In 1919 we re-exported to France 21,000,000 pounds of coffee, to Belgium 20,000,000 pounds, to Denmark 10,000,000 pounds, to Sweden 8,000,000 pounds and to Norway 6,000,000 pounds as against a total of about 300,000 pounds to all of the above named nations in 1914. The chances are that most of this transshipment trade will remain permanently.

This is another illustration of what the war has cost Germany, and it is only a small percentage of the total damage that her belligerency inflicted on her foreign business. At the beginning of hostilities the Germans also dominated the rice trade, bringing goods from the Far East and re-shiping this staple all over the world. This industry has drifted in to other and more reputable hands and the United States has benefited by the change almost as extensively as she has in coffee.

Peden and Bob Whyte, forwards, George Nicholson is arranging a supper and dance in honor of the visitors at the Sooke Harbor Hotel.

WANT OAK BAY TO RE-SUBMIT BYLAW

Members of Oak Bay Athletic Association are making another effort to secure the purchase of Oak Bay Athletic Park by the municipality. Petitions are being circulated in favor of having the bylaw for the purchase of the park, which was defeated by only a few votes a year ago, again placed before the electors. The B. C. Electric Railway Company, who own the park, are willing, it is understood, to sell on the same terms as they were ready to sell when the bylaw was last up for consideration.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Sullivan Ore.

Three years of experimentation with the complex ore of the great Sullivan lead-zinc mine at Kimberley, owned by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Company of Canada, came to a head at Trail this week, with the completion of the 500-ton mill for the treatment of zinc ore that is the principal output of this property. Large though this mill is as compared with the Kootenay, it is still in a sense an experimental mill, though it will handle a commercial tonnage, but it represents the entry on the final lap of the long grind to solve the Sullivan problem.

During 1919 the Sullivan sent to the Trail smelter 136,536 tons of ore, of which 119,825 were classed as zinc, and the balance lead, and had the One Big Union strike not reduced output during the fall months the tonnage would have been larger still. The mine now is among the largest on the continent.

John Waldeser, President of Iron Mountain, Limited, and manager of the Emerald mine, writes to the Nelson News from Salmo to the effect that the statement that the newly constructed mill is having a test run, is premature.

Republic Mine.
Taking advantage of the recent snowfall, the Republic Mine, on Lemmon Creek, has started to rawnish its high-grade silver-lead ore down to Slokan City, four horses being put on the job. One round trip is made per day. Manager J. N. Nelson has a crew of four men stopping.

The last shipment from this mine to Trail was in the early part of last year, twenty-three tons being shipped, which, however, produced very high returns. The Republic is being operated by a Calgary, Alta, syndicate.

Another well-known property that is taking advantage of the sledding is the Ottawa, near Slokan City, being worked by A. Logan McPhee and Pat Maguire, four-horse team being employed hauling the ore down to the railroad.

There is much more activity on Springer Creek than is usual in the winter, and this applies to the whole district around Slokan City.

The Meteor, on Springer, owned by Mr. Buchanan is operating with a crew of seven or eight men. Its shipment during 1919 totalled ninety-two tons of high-grade ore.

B. C. GOAT BREEDERS.

The annual general meeting of the B. C. Goat Breeders' Association will be held in the Belmont Building, ground floor, Humboldt Street entrance, on Saturday evening at 7.30. The business will be to consider reports for 1919 and the election of officers. This is the first time the annual meeting has been held in Victoria, and it is expected there will be a large turnout of local goat keepers. Members will be present from up-Island and Mainland points.

CONCILIATORY ATTITUDE.

"This naturalist says the grizzly is a nasty customer when aroused. 'I am quite willing to believe him,' said Mr. Perkleigh, with a shudder. 'Dear me! If I should ever be so unfortunate as to encounter one of the creatures in its wild state, there's nothing I wouldn't do to avoid—nothing!—getting on its nerves.'"

DOMINION

Wallace Reid is the main show in "The Lottery Man," the new Paramount-Artcraft picture, which is attracting big crowds to the Dominion Theatre this week, but some roaring comedy on the side is furnished by Carolyn Rankin and Sylvia Ashton, two talented actresses, in character roles. Miss Rankin is the old maid who almost gives Mr. Reid heart failure by producing the winning coupon that entitles her to marry him. Miss Ashton has the part of a 200-pound dowager who is continually making frantic efforts to reduce.

VARIETY

Romance, romance—theme of the poet's song, dream of young lives, sweetest memory of old age—romance, that sings in the green wood and is waded upon the air of Spring—romance, in short, that is one of the most delectable things in life, is the motif of Constance Talmadge's new Select picture, "Romance and Arabella," in which she is presented by Lewis J. Selznick. "Romance and Arabella," from a comedy of the stage by William Hurlbut, will be seen to-day at the Variety Theatre.

Riddled with the arrows of hostile Indians, pierced by the rifle bullets of the same Indians a decade later, and tattered by the prairie winds, an old prairie schooner was recently received at Universal City that is part and parcel of the colorful history of the old West. The desert limbo country of Northern California by Rollin Sturgeon, a University director, who brought it to use in "Sundown Trail." Monroe Salisbury's film story of the days of '49. Insisting upon realism in even the smallest detail, Sturgeon bought the relic from its owner near Tobin, California. It may be seen in "Sundown Trail," which is playing at the Romano Theatre to-day and to-morrow.

Columbia this week declare it to be Dustin Farnum's best production to date. In this United Picture Theatre production Dustin Farnum has opportunity to gratify the desire he has for some time expressed to lay aside temporarily his accustomed cowboy roles, and, in fact, he is seen in the first part of the picture in evening dress. The earlier scenes are laid in the East, with Mr. Farnum in the role of a young and somewhat profligate son of a wealthy and aristocratic New York family. Laboring under a misconception of a tragic event which occurred in the aristocratic household, Dustin Farnum sacrifices himself for the sake of his adored and adorable sister. His resolve to shield her at all hazards from a charge of crime involves his being sent to Sing Sing. The locale then changes to the virile West, where the young aristocrat, having served his sentence, is essaying to begin life anew. At the very moment of assured success he is confronted with the record of his earlier career. The denouement of the crashing crisis is said to form one of the most thrilling scenes in this big picture.

ELSA RUEGGER AT ORPHEUM TO-NIGHT

Nowadays, it is a rather common occurrence to read of great stars from the various branches of the theatrical firmament appearing in major vaudeville, but time was—and not so long ago—when such was not the case. Particularly in the field of music, artists from the grand opera and concert stage clung religiously to their own estate, and the acceptance of an engagement in vaudeville was a perilous undertaking for one's career.

There were some, however, brave about sacrifices in their belief of the democracy of art, and among the earliest pioneers to blaze the trail was Elsa Ruegger, the world famous cellist, who is now making her second return engagement over the Orpheum Circuit which will bring her to the local Orpheum to-night. When Miss Ruegger, laden with laurels gained here and abroad, first announced her intentions of bringing her art to the people through the medium of vaudeville, she was met with the argument that her altruistic plan would be unrequited because patrons of the variety houses could not experience a full appreciation of high class music and further, that playing on the vaudeville stage constituted a descent from her hard-earned exalted station in the world of music. Miss Ruegger refused, however, to waver in her determination, adding that the time would soon be here when the greatest artists would follow in her footsteps.

How Miss Ruegger's entrance into vaudeville was greeted with the wildest enthusiasm, and how her prophecy concerning her fellow artists became a reality are now matters of two-day history duly received in conjunction with her incomparable mastery of the cello.

SEVEN SPECIAL ACTS INCLUDE SONG SKIT

"A Musical Prescription" Will Be Featured on Orpheum Bill To-night

Dividing headline honors Coletta Ryan and Leta Orlob, in a song skit called "A Musical Prescription," non-alcoholic but nevertheless intoxicating, the old-time melodrama, will afford the Orpheum fans a spring of delight to-night, Saturday matinee and night at the Royal Victoria Theatre, to say nothing of five other great acts, including Elsa Ruegger, one of the world's greatest cellists. The Misses Ryan and Orlob are two young women who possess the virtues of vaudeville. They sing well and look well. Many of their songs are exceptionally clever. "For Pity's Sake" is one of the largest acts making Orpheum time, carrying a big cast, and is the most humorous playlet which travels. In fact, it is almost a whole evening's entertainment in itself. It deals with the travelling troupe of players and the most ridiculous circumstances are brought to the fore in its presentation.

Few musicians have reached the heights attained by Elsa Ruegger, the Belgian cellist. She is generally considered in the very small circle of eminent musicians. For the past few years Miss Ruegger has devoted her entire time to vaudeville. Her career has been a constant succession of triumphs.

Kenny and Hollis are two funsters whose appearance here will be welcome. "Freshy's Initiation" is the name of their skit. Surely college life has afforded sufficient ground work for a humorous skit, and Kenny and Hollis have extracted the most out of the opportunity offered. More song and dance will be offered by Wallace Bradley and Gretta Ardine. They have a vehicle called "Follies of Song and Dance," a new setting for old talent. The things Bradley and Ardine do best will always form a keynote to their offering. Here is something new in the singing line. It is called "By the Lamp Post" and the act is furnished by Dick Duffy and Betty Caldwell. There is a new brand of equitry, Mr. Duffy is a comedian and Miss Caldwell a pretty, brunette who knows how to dress and is the first spade in laugh getting.

One of the phenomena of the feathered kingdom is Miss Lucille's remarkable cockatoo, named "Cockie." This bird, like other members of the parrot family, has the power of speech. With his mistress he carries on a rather extended line of conversation and tells a funny story in a way that would suggest timbre for a monologist. It is a remarkable act in many respects.

Lovers of good horseflesh are given a rare treat in Maurice Tourneur's new production for Paramount-Artcraft release, "The Life Line," which is showing at the Variety Theatre next week. The big opening scene in the picture is an English hunt. Scores of lords and ladies take part and ride fine looking horses, which hurdle high hedges with ease, ford deep streams, and show magnificent bursts of speed at times. They were the best bred animals that Mr. Tourneur could assemble, and especially adapted for hunting purposes. The hunting scenes are but one of the features of this really fine picture. Even more spectacular are the episodes showing a raging fire in a London theatre and the thrilling rescue of the heroine by means of a breeches buoy from a ship that is being broken up by a storm on the rocks. Jack Holt, Seena Owen, Tully Marshall, Lewis Cody, Pauline Stark and Wallace Beery form an excellent cast.

PRINCESS
Last night there was a big audience at "Alice in Wonderland" and the company played with just as much zest as if the whole thing were an utter novelty to them, and they were enjoying all the funny things said by themselves and the rest of the actors just as much as the people down in the body of the house. The performance continues to-night and to-morrow night, with a matinee to-morrow.

PARTY RACING TO CATCH SHIP HERE

British Ministry of Shipping Officials Are Booked to Orient by Fushimi Maru

A party of thirty-four officials connected with the British Ministry of Shipping, accompanied by their families, are rushing across the continent in an attempt to catch the Nippon Yusen Kaisha liner Fushimi Maru, which is scheduled to leave Victoria at 5 o'clock next Tuesday afternoon for the Far East.

The party arrived at Halifax on the Cunard liner Royal George, which was delayed three days by stormy weather on the Atlantic.

The members of the mission left Halifax Thursday morning, and barring delays, should arrive in Victoria at 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, two hours before the Fushimi Maru is due to leave for Yokohama. There has been some disorganization of the trans-continental train service during the past few days, and should further delays occur the party will be prevented from making connections with the N. Y. K. liner. The Fushimi Maru will sail from Seattle at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, arriving here at 4 p. m. and sailing shortly afterwards. The ship is taking out a capacity list of passengers and a full general cargo.

YOU CANNOT HIDE YOUR FAT

Overfatness is one of the misfortunes you can not hide from yourself or from those around you. If too thin, your dressmaker or tailor can supply the deficiencies, but the overfat carry a burden they can not conceal. There is one sure way to reduce your weight safely and quickly. The harmless Marmola Prescription, which changes the fatty tissues and fat-producing foods to solid flesh and energy, helps the general health and digestion, permits you to eat and live as you like, and leaves the skin clear and smooth. This famous prescription is now condensed into tablet form. Each tablet contains an exact dose of the same harmless ingredients that made the original prescription capable of reducing the overfat body at the rate of two, three or four pounds a week without the slightest ill effects. Take but one tablet after each meal and at bedtime until the normal weight is reached and the bodily health completely restored. Ask your druggist for Marmola Prescription Tablets, or send to The Marmola Co., 364 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich., and you will receive for $1 a full case—enough to start you well on your way to slenderness and happiness.

POPULAR MANAGER GOES TO ASTORIA

Edward E. Jenkins Leaves Victoria After Completing French Contract

After eight and a half months' residence in Victoria, Edward E. Jenkins, assistant manager of the Foundation Company's shipbuilding operations, is leaving by the afternoon boat to-day for Seattle en route to Astoria, where he will take over the management of a $1,000,000 pier and warehouse construction contract awarded to the Foundation Company by the Port of Astoria.

Since he came to Victoria last May to assume charge of the Foundation Company's shipbuilding operations, Mr. Jenkins has won a host of friends, who, while regretting his departure, have confidence in his success wherever he may be located in furthering the industrial enterprises of the organization with which he has long been associated.

As a captain of industry Mr. Jenkins has shown the way for the development of harmonious relations between capital and labor. Keen as a business man, he is a born leader of men. When Mr. Jenkins took over the management of the Foundation Company's plants here on May 1, 1919, all was not well with the local organization, shipments of material were coming in in haphazard fashion, and for some reason or other there was an indefinite something lacking in the efficiency of the yards. A noticeable change was apparent within a few weeks of the taking over of the reins of management by Mr. Jenkins.

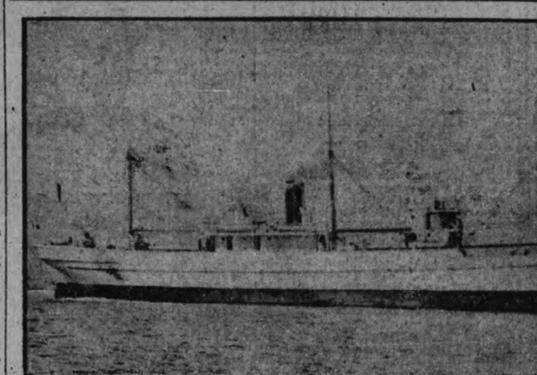

With diplomatic tact he won over the confidence of the men in every grade of occupation, skillfully re-organized the operations and promptly placed the local organization on an efficient and proper working basis. To Mr. Jenkins undoubtedly belongs the full credit for the wonderful records put over by the Victoria workmen and the completion of the French contract well within contract time.

He worked assiduously in getting things into working shape, and although a very busy man, he was never too busy to talk with the men under his command and smooth over any real or fancied grievances. It might be said that his winning personality made him idolized by his men.

Great sportsman An ardent sportsman himself, he threw himself heart and soul into the sporting activities of the Foundation organizations and has been accomplished by the Foundation teams in almost every branch of good sport is now history. It was the enthusiastic manager who was the foremost rooter at the crucial sporting encounters and his enthusiasm was infectious.

At all times he was one of his men. His quick aggressive spirit and unflinching optimism in all circumstances radiated infectiously and created among his men an ambition to achieve which has been a secret of his success. The popularity of Manager Jenkins was emphasized by the number of people who were at the wharf to bid him adieu. Mr. Jenkins will retain his domestic establishment here and expects to return from time to time to look up his old friends.

CAUSED DAMAGE TO OUTER WHARF TO-DAY

SS. ALBERTA

STEAMER CUT HER WAY INTO WHARF

French Ship Alberta Played Havoc With Piling at Outer Docks

In negotiating a landing at the Outer Docks, this morning the steamer Alberta, owing, it is alleged, to a mistake in the transfer of orders on the bridge, crashed into the pier and cut her way almost to the shed. The accident occurred when the Alberta, bound from her berth in the Inner Harbor to Nanaimo, was manoeuvring to get alongside the wharf to land the Victoria pilot.

The Nanaimo pilot was aboard, and in running up to Pier No. 1 he reported to have given the order for "full speed ahead." The vessel had considerable way on and before the mistake could be rectified she ploughed into the dock, ripping away the stringers and piling like matchwood. The ship itself, fortunately, was not seriously damaged, as apart from the splintering of one or two bow planks she escaped uninjured, thus emphasizing the staunchness of her construction.

Proceed to Nanaimo. After backing out of the breach she had created the Alberta proceeded on her way to Nanaimo to take on bunker coal before proceeding to sea on her maiden voyage. The Alberta is the last but one of twenty 2,000-ton wooden steamships built here for the French Government by the Foundation Company of B. C., Ltd. She loaded her lumber cargo at the old Chemical Works wharf in the Inner Harbor.

The last of the Foundation-built fleet to get away will be the Nouvelle, which is now moored at Ogden Point.

FUR TRADE CONFERENCE

Farmers, Trappers and Dealers Will Meet at Montreal Next Month

The investigations of the Commission of Conservation have demonstrated the importance of Canada's fur trade and that the advancement of fur farming calls for a better understanding and regulation of this industry. For this purpose, a conference will be held at Montreal February 19 and 20, under the auspices of the Commission.

The meetings will be attended by the leading authorities on the trade and the most prominent fur traders. Among the subjects to be discussed will be the regulation of the fur trade, protection of wild life, diseases of and feeding of fur-bearing animals in captivity, establishment of a herd-book for registration of foxes, and the best fur-farming practice.

Fur farming has passed the experimental stage and is now on a solid commercial basis. Prices of furs are advancing, some of them having made phenomenal gains. This will no doubt tend to increase the number of those engaged in the raising of animals for their skins, as well as to include in the industry many species now reared in captivity. The Commission of Conservation extends an invitation to all interested to attend the conference.

EMPRESS OF RUSSIA CLEARS FOR ORIENT

Bound for the Orient the C. P. O. S. liner Empress of Russia sailed from the Outer Docks at 12:30 o'clock to-day with 400 passengers in the saloon and over 2,000 Chinese coolies in the steerage.

The big liner left Vancouver last night and proceeded direct to William Head to embark her Chinese passengers. At 10:30 a. m. she steamed alongside the Outer Docks to take on passengers and mails.

Among those boarding her here was Dr. A. Malvor, who is bound to Batavia, and Miss Doreen Smith, who was the object of congratulations and well wishes by a large number of lady friends. Miss Smith is going to China to be married.

COUGHLAN ADDS TO CANADIAN TONNAGE

SS. Canadian Inventor Will Be Launched by Sir James Lougheed's Daughter

Vancouver, Jan. 23.—On Saturday morning at 8 o'clock J. Coughlan & Sons will launch the S.S. Canadian Inventor, this making a grand total of 112,300 dead weight tons of steel shipping launched in the past two years. When one considers the various delays that have taken place in shipbuilding during that time on account of labor troubles and other unavoidable interferences, the total production places the Vancouver company high in the list.

The Canadian Inventor is the third vessel launched by the firm on the Canadian Government order. Two preceding vessels were the Canadian Importer and the Canadian Exporter. The ship will pass through the bridges on Sunday and will take her trials on Monday, sailing from anchorage in English Bay at 9 o'clock.

Miss Dorothy Lougheed, only daughter of Sir James and Lady Lougheed, will act as sponsor for the new ship. The Canadian Inventor is a standard steel freight carrier of 8,100 deadweight tons, and will be placed on the Australian run.

NEGOTIATIONS FOR LOCAL SHIPYARDS ARE PROGRESSING

Negotiations for the taking over of the Foundation Company's shipyards were resumed at a conference which lasted most of yesterday and are being continued. There are indications of important shipbuilding developments within the next few days.

Another Epidemic OF THE SPANISH INFLUENZA
Great many authorities have predicted a return of that terrible plague which swept Canada from one end to the other not long ago and left so many deaths in its wake, and those who did survive were left in a great many cases with some serious after effect such as weak heart, shattered nerves, impoverished blood and a general weakened and exhausted condition of the system.
If you are run down, heart not just right, nerves a little shaky, take a few boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and fortify your system against this terrible plague.
If you had the "Flu" before and it left you with any bad after effect condition, I got two boxes of your pills and must say they are the best I ever used, and I have taken a great many different kinds. I will always keep Heart and Nerve Pills in the house.

Board, during all of which time, except last year, he held the important post of chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee, having charge of the construction of a large number of the city schools. Under his chairmanship the Board accomplished a great volume of useful work in 1919.

The chairman announced that he

Since his last visit here in May, 1919, the conditions in the city are considerably altered, both in regard to the Johnson Street bridge, and the general industrial conditions in Victoria. On that occasion Mr. Beatty addressed the Canadian Club with regard to the ownership of railways—state versus company control. Now he comes back with the city electors having given their approval by an overwhelming majority to the bridge by-law, and thereby endorsed the agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway, authorizing immediately the start on construction. In addition to the bridge, Victorians have another direct interest in the plans of the C. P. R., it having been announced that appropriations approved recently provide for the construction of a new agency and depot for the B. C. Coast Steamship Service on the site of the present premises on Belleville Street. Doubtless Mr. Beatty will be in a position to make an announcement during the progress of his brief stay here with regard to the commencement of construction.

TRAVELOGUE TALK

Pacific Great Eastern Railway and Kettle Valley Railway Described.

The magnificent pictures reproduced from photographs taken along the line of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway and the Kettle Valley Railway during the last two Summers by Walter W. Baer were shown in the form of slides to the audience at the First Unitarian Church last evening. The attendance was between forty and fifty. The audience enjoyed the beautiful series as it passed before their eyes, the pictures being explained by Mr. Baer with description of places, natural products, and forecast of what may be expected when fuller development takes place. He spoke highly of the future which will be the section of the country served by the P. G. E., and particularly of its mining possibilities in the tributary territory. He has turned to the wonderful scenery of the Kettle Valley, where he toured last Summer, and secured some beautiful views. The pictures of Beacon Hill Park taken at varying seasons, to illustrate nature's beautiful endowment of the famous resort, appealed to every one in the audience.

Salutary Lessons Are Taught by Bankers

Solution of Industrial Problems Discussed by Sir Edmund Walker and Sir John Aird at Annual Meeting of Canadian Bank of Commerce

Some particularly timely, pointed and salutary lessons which the Canadian public should carefully "read, mark and digest" are embodied in the addresses delivered by the President and the General Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce at the annual meeting of the shareholders on Tuesday, January 13.

Sir Edmund Walker, the President, warns us that unless closer attention is given by capital and labor to the production of merchandise of various buy for cash in the United States. As a contributing remedy Sir John strongly urged the purchasing of Canadian-made goods and the limitation, as far as possible, of the importation of merchandise from the United States.

We have by inference an illustration of what wise and efficient business management can accomplish in the experiences of the Canadian Bank of Commerce during the past year. That bank, like all other banks in Canada, is finding it increasingly difficult to maintain its net earnings even at a moderate ratio in keeping with its assets. True, the net profits for 1919 at $2,074,892, were the largest in the history of the bank, but as Sir John Aird, the General Manager, shows, the increase of 7.9 per cent. over the previous year was less by 1 per cent. than the gain in assets; thus clearly indicating that the net surplus of earnings is the direct result of putting into practice those sound, underlying business principles which the executive officers of the bank desire to see applied to industry in general throughout the country.

As a result of the business principles applied, the Canadian Bank of Commerce not only increased its profits during the year, but strengthened its position as well. It did a bigger business than usual, as is demonstrated by the fact that its deposits increased by $40,444,000, and its commercial loans by $20,837,000, but, as shown by Sir John Aird in his address to the shareholders, it reduced the note circulation by $1,536,000, thus to that extent assisting in the deflation of paper currency, one of the contributing causes of inflated prices. On the other hand, the bank increased its cash on hand by $1,390,000, and its quick assets by $16,892,000, while in total assets it made a gain of $39,333,000, and now, as a result of its stronger position, together with the fact that it already occupies most of the promising fields in the Dominion, Sir John Aird was able to inform the shareholders that "we purpose turning our attention to the foreign fields," a decision which will, of course, facilitate Canadian manufacturers efforts in the development of export trade.

kinds "we may lose all that victory seemed to secure." Instead of "indulging in the discussion of countless theories, many of which aim at the disintegration of society, all should be co-operating in one ideal—the restoration of order and the improvement of social conditions," so that "the happiness of the greatest number may be secured." He acknowledges that clearing house and trade returns show higher figures in money, but draws attention to the fact that it is not because production is on a higher scale, but "because we think in terms of dollars and not of merchandise," and are thus "living in a fool's paradise."

The need of increase in production, he said, was manifold. In the first place there was no other way by which the rising curve of prices could be turned downward—a point which led Sir Edmund to remark that "that man who does not do his best at his particular job is not merely helping to barricade the only pathway that will lead us out of our troubles, but is helping to raise, or to maintain, the cost of the necessities of life for his own family."

Production, he intimated, had also a close relationship to the country's ability to liquidate its financial obligations, which, as a result of our efforts in the war, were now enormous. The public debt, for instance, would at the end of March next amount to $1,950,000,000, while the annual interest charges on our foreign indebtedness now amounted to $190,000,000. "This debt," Sir Edmund declared, "we can only pay by in excess of exports over imports or by new borrowings," and naturally he only way we can increase exports is to increase production, in order that the surplus available for the purpose may be made as substantial as possible.

Then there is the abnormal condition of exchange to be taken into account. As the General Manager, Sir John Aird points out, the low value of the pound sterling is due to a surplus of bills receivable as compared with bills payable, caused, in turn, by the fact that our sales to Great Britain have been much in excess of our purchases therefrom. The low value of the Canadian dollar, as compared with the American dollar is, on the other hand, due to the unfavorable balance of trade with the United States, which has created a scarcity of bills receivable as compared with bills payable. Still another factor in the exchange situation has been the credits we have granted France, Belgium, Greece, Roumania and Great Britain for manufactured goods, much of the raw material for which we had to

STATE OF LABOR THROUGH COUNTRY

Dominion Conditions Show Declining Demand for Surplus Labor. Reports from employers to the Dominion Headquarters of the Employment Service in Canada, Department of Labor, indicate that, disregarding loss of time due to strikes, there was, as had been anticipated, a further decline in the volume of employment for the week ending December 27 as compared with the preceding week.

Declines were registered in all districts, the most noteworthy decline being reported in Ontario. Substantial declines were registered in the Maritime Provinces, Quebec, Prairie Provinces and British Columbia. All groups with the exception of Railway Operation reported decreases in staffs, the declines being largely attributable to curtailment of staffs with the close of the holiday season and the beginning of the usual stock-taking and inventory period.

Reports for the week ending December 27 were received from 4,553 firms, these firms reporting 649,619 persons on payroll as compared with 653,249 on payroll for week ending December 20—a decrease of 13,750 persons or two and one-tenth per cent. A further decline of 674 persons or one-tenth per cent, was anticipated for week ending January 3. This would indicate that further large decreases in staffs were not contemplated, indicating, as before mentioned, that much of the decline was of a temporary nature, and that further large declines were not anticipated for the week ending January 3. The decline of December 27 had been anticipated by the Dominion employers for week ending December 20 indicated an anticipated reduction in staff of 3,333 persons or six-tenths per cent, which decline the actual figures for the week of the 27th given above show to have exceeded.

Plus industries—those that registered net increases in the number of persons employed. The only plus industry for the week of the 27th was railway operation, in which an increase in staff of 100 persons was reported. This group, however, anticipated a reduction in staff for two weeks per cent during the week ending January 3.

Minus industries—Those that registered net decreases in the number of persons employed were: Building and construction, 19.0 per cent; commercial and mercantile, 3.3 per cent; lumbering, 8.0 per cent; clay, glass and stone products, 2.5 per cent; chemicals, 1.0 per cent; food, drink and tobacco, 3.8 per cent; leather and leather goods, 7.7 per cent; metals, 8 per cent; pulp, paper and printing, 1.9 per cent; textiles, 1.5 per cent; vehicles, 1.7 per cent; woodworking, 3 per cent; quarrying and mining, 1.9 per cent; railway construction, 2.9 per cent; shipping and longshore, 5.9 per cent; and miscellaneous, 3 per cent. During the week of the 27th was in lumbering, which registered a decrease of 2,953 persons. Noteworthy declines, however, were registered in the commercial and mercantile group representing a decrease of 1,500 persons or one-tenth per cent. On the other hand, pulp, paper and printing, vehicles, quarrying and mining and building and construction expected nominal increases during the week ending January 3. Clay, glass and stone products, chemicals, woodworking and miscellaneous, all of which groups registered nominal declines during the week of the 27th, anticipated also increases of a nominal character for week ending January 3. All the other minus industries, namely: Feed, drink and tobacco, metals and railway construction anticipated further decreases, the declines in food, drink and tobacco and railway construction being more seasonal in character, as these groups have shown minus tendencies of late. On the other hand, pulp, paper and printing, leather and goods, metals and textiles may be attributed to curtailment of operations during the inventory and stock-taking period.

What will be done with the factory has to be determined. The suggestion of Sir Charles Ross that it might be used for the manufacture of agricultural implements already has had some consideration, but a decision of the point has not yet been reached. Investigation shows, however, that a large portion of the machinery might be used for purposes other than the manufacture of arms.

HAGUE VIEW OPIONS

Reply Regarding ex-Kaiser Says Holland Not Bound by Treaty

The London, Jan. 23.—Holland's reply to the Allies' demand for the extradition of Wilhelm Hohenzollern, former German Kaiser, declares that she can not be bound by the peace treaty, to which she is not a party, and which she is bound to respect. Neither the Dutch constitution nor tradition permits her acceding to the demand of the Allied Powers, the note says forth.

The national honor, the reply declares, does not permit the betrayal of the confidence of those who have trusted themselves to Holland and her free institutions.

Paris, Jan. 23.—The Dutch Minister declares that the Dutch Government is not bound to extradite the former German Kaiser to the Foreign Office at 5.30.

LIEUT.-COL. PURNEY SUFFERS BREAKDOWN

Dominion President of G. W. V. A. Now in Ottawa Hospital

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press) Lieut.-Colonel W. P. Purney, Dominion President of the Great War Veterans' Association, was admitted to the Ottawa General Hospital today suffering from a general breakdown in health. While his condition at present is not considered serious, physicians at the hospital state his health has been much impaired, probably from the strain of overwork, and that he is much in need of a good rest.

Colonel Purney arrived in Ottawa last Saturday to attend the annual conference of the Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans' Association. While he had been attending to business throughout the conference, he was obviously indisposed.

MAKE NO MORE RECOMMENDATIONS

Great War Veterans Forward Letter to Sir Robert Borden

Ottawa, Jan. 23.—(Canadian Press).—Reaffirming its belief in the inadequacy of the re-establishment methods of the Government now in operation, the Dominion executive of the Great War Veterans' Association today forwarded a letter to Sir Robert Borden declining the invitation of the Prime Minister to submit "any other aspect of the question," or further suggestions, to the re-establishment committee. The letter is a reply to one received by the Dominion executive from Sir Robert Borden in which the latter stated that the Government would be prepared "to consider carefully any further representations to be made" with respect to the re-establishment question, notwithstanding the fact that the parliamentary committee disappeared most, if not all, of these suggestions.

The Prime Minister's letter in conclusion pointed out to the Dominion executive that while he was sure the desire of the Government was to assist "in every reasonable way," the re-establishment of returned soldiers in the normal activities of our country, it should be realized that heavy responsibilities rested upon the Government in avoiding unjustifiable and oppressive expenditure and discrimination among the various classes of returned soldiers.

LIFE SENTENCE. Calgary, Jan. 23.—Joan Pierre Sistiague was sentenced this morning to serve a life term in the Edmonton penitentiary by Mr. Justice Simons after conviction of manslaughter, his roommate, George McEvers, having been killed at Drumheller last June. Sistiague had nothing to say before sentence was imposed.

Ten Years. Charles "Shorty" Lawson was sentenced to ten years in the Edmonton penitentiary, having pleaded guilty to an outrage committed on a Calgary woman a few weeks ago. Lawson informed the Judge he was a married man, his wife being in Vancouver.

Home Wrinkle Recipe—Astonishing Results

Such startling, sensational results come from a very simple, harmless, home-made wrinkle-remover, there's no excuse now for anyone wearing those hateful marks of age, illness or worry. No need fooling with worthless pastes, creams, soaps, skin foods, which don't feed the skin. No need rubbing, massaging, steaming—senseless methods which expand and loosen skin and underlying tissue, aggravating a wrinkled, flabby condition. Better, truer, surer, is the scientific, wrinkle-remover. Thousands have successfully tried it—thousands freed of wrinkles, enlarged pores, sunken cheeks, hollow chin—thousands younger looking, happier!

All you need do is to dissolve one ounce of powdered sassafras in one-half pint witch hazel, and bathe your face in this. The effect is almost magical. Even deepest, crow's feet, completely, quickly vanish. Skin becomes firm, smooth, fresh looking—bears no trace of treatment except that of enhanced beauty. Get these inexpensive ingredients at your druggist's and try this marvelous sassafras lotion to-day.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WALK

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her to Health.

Perth Amboy, N.J.—"For three years I suffered with severe female trouble, was nervous, had backache and a pain in my side most of the time. I had dizzy spells and was often so faint I could not walk across the floor. The doctor said I would have to have an operation. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in my newspaper, and tried it. Now I am better, feel strong, have no pains, backache or dizzy spells. Every one tells me how well I look, and I tell them to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. That is what makes me feel well and look well. I recommend it to my sister and she is using it now. You can use this letter if you wish, for it is certainly a grand remedy for a woman's ailments."

For forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervousness in women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

VANCOUVER ISLAND NEWS

St. Andrew's, Nanaimo. The annual meeting of St. Andrew's Church was held Wednesday night, a large percentage of the members being present, with the Rev. J. K. Unsworth in the chair.

The reports of the several committees for the last year showed that the Church was in a most satisfactory state, and that possibly the year 1919 was the most successful, with the most successful financial year. Many new members have joined, while the number of those who, having left the city, have ceased to be members, was comparatively small. Financially the past year has been one of unexampled success for the Church, chiefly perhaps, for the reason that the debt has been greatly reduced. More than $5,000 of the amount promised for the wiping out of the debt has already been paid in, leaving only a sum of approximately $3,500 still to be found, and this may be counted upon to be paid this coming year. In all departments of the Church, a grand total of $10,500 has been collected during the past twelve months, and of this the Women's Association contributed $1,700 while $550 was collected for missions.

The election of officers to fill the vacancies on the Church Committee was the chief business of the meeting. The Committee is as follows: E. G. Taylor, J. W. Coburn, J. A. Murray, J. C. MacDuffie, W. B. Warwick, C. H. Stockwell, E. B. Armstrong, W. L. Dunn, J. Fee, F. S. Cunliffe, John Whyte and A. Fraser.

St. Paul's Nanaimo. St. Paul's congregation, Nanaimo, decided Tuesday evening at a meeting in the Parish Hall to participate in the Thanksgiving Peace Offering which will be given by the Protestant churches of Canada from February 9 to 14. Ven. Archdeacon Heathcote of Vancouver, and A. R. Merris, of Victoria, gave very instructive addresses on the Forward Movement, especially on its financial aspects. A committee was appointed to canvass the parishioners, with George Wilton as secretary. R. S. Gray, rector's warden, occupied the chair, and J. W. Hughes and A. Leighton gave short addresses.

In connection with the Forward Movement, a joint prayer service of the woman of Wallace Street and St. Andrew's congregations was held under the auspices of the Wallace Street Missionary Society. Mrs. McKenzie was director of the meeting, which was largely attended.

The Cumberland City Council and trustees for 1920 will be: Mayor—D. R. MacDonald (re-elected by acclamation). Aldermen—Charles J. Parnham (re-elected), Thomas C. Sannernier (re-elected), Frederick D. Pickard (re-elected), John J. Weir (elected), John C. Brown (elected). Board of School Trustees—Wesley W. Willard (uncompleted term), Neil McFayden (re-elected), Mrs. E. Banks (re-elected), License Commissioners—Mayor D. R. MacDonald (re-elected), Alderman Charles J. Parnham (uncompleted term), and Alexander Maxwell (elected by acclamation).

WANT MORATORIUM MEASURE EXTENDED

Vancouver, Jan. 23.—Steps are to be taken by the G.W.V.A. to have the terms of the British Columbia Moratorium Act and the British Columbia War Relief Act, extended from March 31, 1920, to March 31, 1921. This action comes as the result of a discussion by the members of the Association at the general meeting last evening, when it was pointed out that these acts nominally expire on March 31 of this year, and as a large proportion of the returned soldiers are not yet re-established in civil life, it would work a great hardship on them to have to meet certain liabilities which they are not yet in a position to do.

PNEUMONIA TAKES SEVENTY-NINE LIVES IN NEW YORK CITY

New York, Jan. 23.—Influenza and pneumonia cases in this city today showed the greatest increase since the outbreak began, the number of new cases being practically double those reported ill yesterday. There were 1,332 new cases of influenza and 403 new cases of pneumonia reported to-day, compared with 871 and 190 respectively, brought to the attention of the Health Department yesterday. Deaths from influenza reported to-day were twenty-three, an increase of eight over yesterday. There were also seventy-nine deaths from pneumonia, an increase of twenty-four.

REPORTS UNTRUE

London, Jan. 23.—A statement issued to-day on behalf of Mr. Lloyd George says there is no truth in reports that the War Minister, Right Hon. Winston Spencer Churchill, and the General Staff advocate the sending of troops to the Caucasus or any other part of Russia.

MISTAKE IN SYMPTOMS. Housewife—Got a hacking cough and a headache? Well, I've a little wood you could hack and it might cure your headache. Tramp—Much obliged, mum; but my 'endache ain't of the splittin' variety.—London Opinion.

JAPAN'S OIL IMPORTS.

The industrial development of Japan has caused an increase in importations of oil, except illuminating oil, says the Guaranty Trust.

Japan's trade since the armistice shows increases in exportations of buttons, fancy matting, raw silk, habutae, hosiery, cotton tissues, brushes and camphor; decreases in rice, wheat flour, beans, colza oil, soy bean oil, mineral oils, hides and leather, copper, sulphur, starch, zinc and antimony.

DR. TOLMIE URGING DOCK EXCAVATION

Is Still Pressing Government to Afford Unemployment Relief

With the idea of relieving the unemployment situation here to the greatest possible extent, Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, is continuing his efforts to have preliminary work conducted on the Esquimalt drydock site immediately. "I have urged the Government," Dr. Tolmie stated to-day, "to handle the surface work on the site, and the construction of the dock itself as two different contracts. If this were done the surface work would proceed much sooner than the construction work, and employment, of course, would be provided. So far, the Government has not changed its decision to do the work by one contract, but I am still pressing the matter. It is impossible at present, however, to make any prediction on the matter. The letting of two contracts has more than one advantage. Besides helping to afford more immediate relief to the unemployment situation, it would give local concerns a chance to secure the contract."

TO CARRY B. C. TO NEW YORKERS

Business Interests Plan Representation for Province

New Yorkers and outsiders here the last week in April will likely learn a great deal about British Columbia in the "See America Now" travel exhibition in the Grand Central Palace under direction of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association.

To take the Pacific Northwest to New York and show the financial interests the natural resources, scenic beauties and investment opportunities, it is proposed to use 10,000 square feet of the Grand Central Palace at $1.50 a foot. Industries of Washington, Oregon and this Province will take most of the space, it is expected.

Alderman A. E. Todd, a former president of the Pacific Northwest Tourist Association, explained the proposal to business and public men in the rooms of the Victoria and Island Development Association yesterday.

As both Washington and Oregon are sending a strong representation of exhibits the meeting decided that British Columbia could not afford to be left out. It was proposed that the Government exhibit now in Toronto, one of the finest on the continent, should be sent to the New York show. The Provincial Government is to be urged to see that a worthy showing is made of the mineral resources, agricultural products, fisheries and forests of this Province.

The Hon. S. F. Tolmie, Minister of Agriculture, is to be asked to cooperate so that an adequate exhibit of seeds and fruit growing can be secured through the Sidney Experimental Farm.

Put Iron to Fore

J. L. Beckwith said that the exhibition gave the opportunity for exploiting iron ore resources so that capital will be induced to enter the field of steel production.

The lumber industry does not need any advertising, as it cannot fill all its orders, said J. O. Cameron. He explained the shortage of logs, and said that capital might be attracted for logging enterprises which would increase the number of mills here.

The main object of the British Columbia exhibit should be to attract industries, capital and population, B. C. Nicholas declared. He said a sterling effort should be made to give the Province a thoroughly representative exhibit, which should be accompanied east by competent men to furnish the New York financiers with all data.

The climate of Victoria and the Island is to be the subject of an exhibit likely to be sent by the Development Association. Publicity Commissioner McAdam was appointed secretary of the committee to make arrangements. Others who attended the conference yesterday were: Alderman Joseph Patrick, Alderman Sargent, H. J. Penndray, H. N. Finn, A. Gonnason, W. M. Graham and A. H. Pease.
