A MAN OF THE PEOPLE.

The subject of this sketch was born in the State of Illinois, and is now 44 years old. Ever since his graduation from the University of the Pacific, in 1887, he has resided in San Jose and has practiced his profession since 1888. He studied law for a short time in the law office of the Hon. S. F. Leib. Soon after his admission to practice by the supreme court he was employed by well known financial interests in San Jose and his rise was rapid and permanent. He has always had the confidence of the general public. When this whole community was startled in the latter part of January, 1899, by the disastrous failure of the Union Savings Bank of San Jose the depositors, numbering some fifteen or eighteen hundred, organized for the purpose of protecting their interests. The first important question to be settled by them was the selection of an attorney to represent them in what was apparent to be a long and closely contested litigation in securing their rights. In a great mass meeting J. R. Welch was selected as their attorney without solicitation on his part. The confidence then shown in him by the depositors has been increased by his many signal victories in their favor. He has waged all his contests in a businesslike and intelligent manner without bitterness and with fairness and success.

This same confidence in the ability and honesty of Mr. Welch was shown by the large membership of the California Cured Fruit Association when the time came to dissolve that institution and save what funds were remaining to its members. This he has done against great odds and has come out victorious and accomplished what he set out to do. Under his administration $35,000.00 has been already distributed to the growers with a prospect of another dividend.

But Mr. Welch has not served the private individual alone. He has rendered good service to the public when he was city attorney for the city of San Jose in the '90's. During his incumbency the present constitutional charter of San Jose was built, adopted by the people and ratified by the state legislature. To Mr. Welch more than any other man fell the great responsibility of placing the machinery of the city government in operation under its new organic law. This was successfully done by him and every department of the city government acknowledged and praised his work. It was during his term of office that the technical bond issue for the San Jose high school building and for the sewer system was made. His work was examined and approved by Judge Dillon, of New York, the world renowned author on municipal law. Judge Dillon advised his clients that the issue was perfectly legal in all respects and that they could purchase the bonds without any risk.

Again, Mr. Welch rendered service to the public in obtaining from the state legislature free of costs to the city of San Jose sites for both the high school building and the Carnegie library building.

Mr. Welch was nominated by the republican county convention for superior judge by a large majority, without seeking the place, and having accepted the nomination it is his intention of being elected and will devote his time and energies to the office. As a man of ability and integrity nothing can be said against him. A friend of all who know him, and a man that would make an ideal judge, possessing, as he does, that painstaking quality that is needed for just such a position. Dignified, broadminded and altogether the man highly qualified for the place.

A LITTLE TAFFY.

The Campbell Visitor has suspended and Elgin Hurlbert has started the INTERURBAN PRESS. Editor Hurlbert has been a feature of progress in the little orchard city and the News has the best wishes for the new venture.—Los Gatos News.

The CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS of Campbell reaches our desk. It is taking the place of the Visitor, which has suspended publication. It is gotten up in magazine form, neatly printed and full of Campbell news, and is edited by Mr. E. C. Hurlbert.—Skyland Realty.

Mr. Phillips, proprietor of the Campbell Visitor, shut up shop a couple of weeks ago and left for the east, leaving the people of that town without a paper. E. C. Hurlbert stepped into the breach, however, and started the INTERURBAN PRESS. It is a fine paper and deserves support.—Mountain View Leader.

THE CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS, the revived Campbell Visitor, which died a little more than two weeks ago, is now out making friends wherever it goes. It is a grand improvement over the old publication and its every page has the appearance of having been given the earnest attention of the publisher.—Palo Alto Citizen.

E. C. Hurlbert has launched the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS upon the journalistic sea, at Campbell. It is of course bright, newsy and enterprising and with Bro. Hurlbert's experienced hand to guide its destinies it will surely succeed. The demise of the Visitor left a good field for the new enterprise and the Sun-Times wishes it success.—Morgan Hill Sun-Times.

The Campbell Visitor has dropped from the roll of live publications, but in its place has appeared the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS in a handsome cover and dress and with a live newspaperman, E. C. Hurlbert, at the helm. In politics the PRESS will be independent. The cover heading was designed and made by the Mercury-Herald art department.—San Jose Mercury.

The Campbell Visitor suspended last week and has been succeeded by the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS, with E. C. Hurlbert as editor and manager. The Visitor was allowed to die by the owners of the paper, the Messrs. Phillips. Its successor is a decided and great improvement and if it continues as it starts out, it will be a bright star in the galaxy of Santa Clara county weekly papers.—Santa Clara Journal.

A very remarkable co-incident occurred at Campbell last week, and that was the double birth in the family of Editor Elgin C. Hurlbert. On Thursday there was born into the newspaper world the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS, claiming Mr. Hurlbert as its progenitor, and on Saturday a 10½-pound boy was born into the Hurlbert household. Both youngsters are in a most healthy condition, and both are bound to be heard. Some one ought to bring in a watermelon—our two of 'em.—Los Gatos Mail.

Editor Hurlbert, of the INTERURBAN PRESS, thinks the Gilroy newspapermen "are not the whole thing" when it comes to receiving good things. And then he goes on to boast of his gifts of cucumbers 18 inches long, Skinner seedling apples 13 inches in circumference and weighing 15 ounces, and delicious "squaw" corn, whatever that peculiar variety of corn may be. No wonder Hurlbert grows so fat. The farm and orchard gifts have not yet reached our local offices. Watermelon patches, in the meantime, are apt to suffer.—Gilroy Advocate.

The first issue of the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS, edited by Elgin C. Hurlbert, is before us. It is a successor to the Visitor, which suspended publication after the proprietor, Fulton Phillips, returned from the east. Mr. Hurlbert, who formerly leased the Visitor, concluded that the town needed a paper, and his first number of the PRESS is by far the best publication that has ever represented that thriving orchard district. It comprises four pages with a cover of glazed paper, on the front of which appear half-tone pictures of the new interurban short line to Campbell. The contents of the PRESS are bright, newsy and interesting and it will undoubtedly secure the generous support which it deserves. Certainly Bro. Hurlbert starts out auspiciously; for two days after publication there arrived at his home a 10½-pound boy.—Gilroy Gazette.

The following letter from Rufus P. Jennings, of the California Promotion Committee, is self-explanatory:

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5, 1904.

E. C. HURLBERT,
Editor CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS,
Campbell, California:

My Dear Mr. Hurlbert.—I have read with a great deal of interest the copies of the CAMPBELL INTERURBAN PRESS.

It is a very attractive paper and it has been placed on our reading table where everybody can see it.

You can state in the paper that readers of the INTERURBAN PRESS, when in San Francisco can see the last copy by calling at the headquarters of the California Promotion Committee, 25 New Montgomery street. Cordially yours,
RUFUS P. JENNINGS.

NEVER AGAIN

Will you have the chance if you miss this one.

You don't want to drive a muddy buggy when you can buy a sponge for 10 or 15 cents to wash it with. Sponges of this size usually cost from 50 to 75 cents. This is a bargain not often found. I have plenty of them, but to get the choice ones you should come early. Also have sizes smaller for general household use at 5 cents. You will regret if you don't buy now.

CAMPBELL is to be the Pasadena of San Jose.

WE have not space this week to deal with the prune meeting held in San Jose yesterday. We will in our next issue.

CAMPBELL offers a splendid opening for several new lines of business—among the number being a harness shop, a millinery store, a bakery that bakes its bread and pastry here, a steam or electric laundry, a preserving factory, a larger hotel.

KARL FORD has purchased the Visitor plant and last Saturday issued a paper— it being a four-page, six-column all home print. Mr. Ford is a young man, and a stranger to our people. He has faith in the future of our town when he is willing to launch another paper even to fill a "long felt want."

Chairman of Board of Supervisors.

Meridian School Dedication.

Some 300 persons were present last Friday evening at the dedication of the new Meridian school on the Stevens creek road. Interurban cars brought people from San Jose, and the district turned out in force. The board of trustees, who had charge of the exercises, are Messrs. L. S. Allen, R. K. Thomas and J. A. Bailey. The building was prettily decorated for the occasion with flags, bunting, simlax, evergreens, potted plants and cut flowers.

County Superintendent Bateman and Prof. J. F. Smith, of Campbell, made addresses. Those taking part from this neighborhood were: Miss Della Archibald, violin solo, and she responded to an encore. She was accompanied by Miss Letitia Archibald. Mrs. M. E. Luther, vocal solo, responding to an encore. Rev. G. E. Atkinson delivered dedication prayer.

Contractor J. S. Fay, who erected the building, took the platform and in a neat little speech formally tendered the building to the board of trustees. He stated that the building had been erected in a workmanlike manner by the best of mechanics and out of the best of materials, and he was proud of having had the honor of building it. He considered the building not only a credit to himself and the school district, but to the county of Santa Clara and the state of California as well. It was without reservation, he said, that he could state that every inch of lumber and every bit of other material that went into the building was honest and fully up to the specifications and demands of the plans of the architects and it was a little bit more so, for extra good material had been put in where only the ordinary kind had been called for. He congratulated the people upon securing so fine a building for the use of their school department and then drawing from his pocket a gigantic key he tendered it to Trustee Allen, who accepted it on behalf of the board and of the people of the district. Mr. Allen made a brief speech, thanking the contractor for his faithful performance of all the terms and conditions of his obligation and declared that the people were proud of the work that had been done. Mr. Allen then formally accepted the building as chairman of the board of trustees.

The new building is a two-story affair, finished in hard wood in natural colors, and cost in the neighborhood of $5,000 and is a very handsome structure.

The duck and quail season opens today.

PRESS NOTES

J. D. Myers went to Sunnyvale Monday on business.

Francy Scholz is working in a machine shop in San Jose.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson has lately organized a whistling club for boys.

C. W. Brett is away on a quail hunt, and expects to bag a good lot.

Milton Francis is employed in the Union Iron Works at San Francisco.

Miss Marshman has returned from an extended visit with friends in San Juan and Castroville.

Fletcher Eaton is home again after an extended stay at Cantara, Siskiyou county, where his sister resides.

Tuesday morning Fred Pannell left for Sacramento to work for the Armour Refrigerator company.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the residence of Mrs. A. G. Williams on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 19, at 3 o'clock.

Thos. E. Marrs should be added to the list of those employed by fruit concerns in San Jose. He is bookkeeper for Castle Bros.

Panilla Nelson has been obliged to remain away from school on account of the illness of her mother, who is suffering from lumbago.

The State convention of the W. C. T. U. will meet at Chico, Oct. 17-21. Mes-lames Whitman, Savage and Richter go as delegates from Campbell.

The republicans will hold meetings at Los Gatos on the 14th, Sorsis the 18th, Campbell the 21st. Congressional and county candidates will be present.

Miss Alice Naramore, of San Francisco, visited over Sunday with Miss Sargent, and during the week has been renewing acquaintances with her many friends.

Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Kephart are here for a few weeks from Pacific Grove. Rev. Kephart preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning, the pastor being ill.

The Northern California State Association of the Congregational church will be held at the Third church of San Francisco Oct. 25 to 28. Mr. Richter and Miss Lillian Smith will go as delegates from Campbell. Rev. and Mrs. Atkinson will also attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Skinner and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Skinner (the latter a newly married couple), of Stockwell, Indiana, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hanger and Mr. Fred Hanger, returned east this week after having visited Los Angeles in company with Mr. and Mrs. Hanger.

Charles More is a crackerjack motorcyclist, but he does not guarantee to run over dogs without coming to grief. That is just what he did one night about a week ago when he ran over the Kennedy dog. Result: A hard bump on the head, and Charles hasn't seen the dog since. As for Charles, he went around with a limp for several days.

Mr. John K. Hinde, of Columbus, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hinde, of Campbell, has arrived with his family and will make this his future home. Mr. Hinde resigned a very lucrative position as cashier of the Merchants and Mechanics Bank of Columbus to come and be with his parents, and Campbell people are fortunate indeed in having them cast their lot among us.

There are several improvements being made about town, the fruit trees being removed from the sidewalk in front of Mrs. Castle's house; a new barn and shed built on Mr. Myer's place, and the sidewalk in front of Mr. Weeks' place has been heavily graveled. These are all on North Central avenue, and on North First street Mr. Campbell is having a neat picket fence built along his property and the street widened to sixty feet.

One dollar buys the PRESS a year.

A large number of local fruit growers went to the prune meeting in San Jose Wednesday.

Work has been commenced on the new cottage to be built for Rev. J. F. Jenness on North First street, S. L. Hayes and W. H. Blodgett doing the work.

W. H. Blodgett went to San Francisco Wednesday as District Steward of the M. E. church, to attend the District Stewards' meeting.

Next Tuesday evening Ada Rebekah lodge will hold a basket social, to which all Odd Fellows and Rebekahs and their friends are invited. Ladies are to bring baskets containing food for two and the baskets will be auctioned off.

Herbert Sault, accepting a position with a company putting in an electrical plant at Big Sur, Monterey county, left for that place today. It is 40 miles from Monterey, and it is supposed that the plant will be for furnishing electricity to that section of country, as the water power is very great. Sorry to lose Herbert from here.

The Campbell Visitor has gone out of existence and the INTERURBAN PRESS has taken its place, with Elgin C. Hurlbert as editor and proprietor. It is a fine looking paper of four pages and cover and chock full of bright, newsy and interesting matter from the pen of the editor. Congratulations, Bro. Hurlbert, with the wish that you have a successful career with the PRESS.—Santa Clara News.

Dr. P. C. Hartman went to Alviso last Saturday for a sail with Commodore Spencer (his father-in-law), and thereby hangs a tale. The commodore is an expert at sailing and has all the necessary fixings to make things pleasant. When opposite Redwood City on the return home there was a strong wind against them and the tide was going out. It took them until Monday noon to make port—two days out—and the doctor has not been saying much since. Luckily the commodore was well fixed for food and the loved ones at home are now once again resting easy.

The High School Oriole for October is a pleasant evidence of the energy and enterprise of the new management. Stories are presented by Miss Tillie Hayes '07, P. N. '06 and L. O. '07; verses by E. E. S. and E. C. with an original article by Agnes Macy and others unsigned and the usual joshes, locals and exchanges, etc. The staff consists of Edna Briggs, editor-in-chief; Florence Kennedy, literary; Emily Pannell, exchanges; Vera Fablinger, locals; Calvin Bohnett, athletics; A. Brandenburg and Ernest Abbott, joshes; Ralph Hyde, business manager.

The Raven is a California literary magazine with "Originality, quaintness and quality" as its motto. The October number is devoted in great measure to Santa Clara valley and has fine descriptions and illustrations of that favored region. Among the contributors are such well-known California men as Rev. Wm. Rader, of San Francisco, Dr. H. J. Stewart, the musician, Dr. Eli McClish, Col. Philo Hersey, Joseph Radford, of the First National Bank, San Jose, Charles Coe, the real estate agent, all of whose articles are along lines in which they are specialists. Stories and poems are not wanting and the mechanical appearance is superb.

Of J. R. Welch, candidate for Superior Judge (long term), the Morgan Hill Sun-Times says: "Mr. Welch does not need many words of commendation, his important services for the public in the past few years are a good passport to public favor. A law student in the office of Judge Leib, he was thoroughly cultured for his profession, and was admitted to practice in 1888. In 1894 he was chosen City Attorney for San Jose, and served three years. His valuable services for the public in the Union Savings Bank case and the California Cured Fruit Association settlement have won him a very large circle of earnest and substantial friends. Mr. Welch will make an ideal judge and is deserving of enthusiastic support."

OF INTEREST.

Santa Cruz is working for a fish hatchery.

The county clerk reports a registration of 15,840 voters. This is 800 ahead of the number two years ago.

The new "Tent City" corporation at Santa Cruz close the season with a net balance of $15,596.05. That's "going some."

The F. A. Hihn Co. are completing the road from Laurel to the red bridge across Burrell creek on Soquel road.—Skyland Realty.

Henry Angwin has accepted the position of assistant secretary to the naval branch of the Y. M. C. A. in our city.—Vallejo Epworth Pilot.

The ladies of the San Jose G. A. R. have received a gift of a pair of crocheted slippers from the widow of the late martyred president, William McKinley. They can be seen at 77 North First street.

The electric road is now open from Santa Cruz to Capitola, the section between Opal and Capitola being completed, thus connecting Santa Cruz and Capitola by a continuous line of electric road.

Reports come from Watsonville that the apple trees are in blossom, and that apples as large as marbles appear on some trees. It is considered a phenomenon and is a source of some anxiety as to the effect on next year's crop.

Mrs. Maria C. Baker, relict of the late Rev. G. R. Baker, one of California's pioneer preachers, died at College Park this week. It was largely through the efforts of the Rev. Mr. Baker that the University of the Pacific became a reality.

Mr. H. A. Tibbets, of San Francisco, is spending a few days vacation at the mountain home of W. W. Turner, a friend of his youth. Mr. Tibbets was for a number of years manager of the Union Drier at Campbell.—Morgan Hill Sun-Times.

Jas. A. Snook & Co., of San Francisco, have been awarded a contract by the government for the furnishing of 200,000 pounds of prunes and 175,000 pounds of dried peaches for use on the Indian reservations, schools and agencies of the United States.

On the evening of the 11th of August our choir gave a sacred concert in St. Peter's chapel, Mare Island. The house was well filled with the boys in blue, with a few visitors from this side. The selections rendered by the choir, as well as the solos and duets, were finely executed and were greatly appreciated by those present. The pastor, Rev. W. Angwin, gave a brief address on the gold mining of California.—Vallejo Epworth Pilot.

Carl Ford, a young man from San Francisco or some other point north, has purchased the plant of the Campbell Visitor and announces he will start a paper there. He informed the Journal force a few weeks ago he was seriously considering the matter of establishing a daily in Santa Clara to fill a long felt want. The field at Campbell for two papers appears just about as inviting as the field for a daily in Santa Clara.—Santa Clara Journal.

Somebody who wants to explain what the editorial "we" signifies, says its meaning varies to suit the circumstances. For instance, when you read that "we expect our wife home today," we refer to the editor-in-chief; when it is "we are a little late with our work," it includes the whole office force, even the devil and the towel. If "we are having a boom," the town is meant; "we received over 700,000 emigrants last year," and it embraces the nation, but "we have hog cholera in our midst," only refers to the illness of the man who takes the paper two or three years without paying for it.

CAMPBELL GRADUATES AT STANFORD.

One of the best indications of the success of the Campbell high school is the large number of graduates and the quality of the work done by them in the two great universities of the state.

At Stanford, Charles Beardsley '01, and James Cutting '02, are members of the junior class. Harold and Stuart Smith, both of the class of '02, and Chas. Geer '03, are sophomores. Albert Cragin '03, and Alden Abbott '04, are freshmen. All these representatives are doing creditable work. Beardsley, who is registered in the department of law, is a member of the Nestoria debating society and was last year the president of his class. Stuart Smith, who makes economics his specialty, is assistant business manager of the Daily Palo Alto, having control of the advertising. Geer, who is registered in the department of law, is a member of the Nestoria debating society and prominent in track enterprises. Cragin is out on the track training for the mile run, in which event he did creditable work while in the high school.

Cutting is living with his parents in Palo Alto; Cragin and Abbott are, at present, going back and forth from home on the train, and the two Smith boys, Geer and Beardsley are living in a student's club on College Terrace.

L. D. BOHNETT WINS AT BERKELEY.

At the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Senate, held Tuesday night at Berkeley, tryouts for the teams to represent the Senate-Congress debate were held. The question was, "Resolved, that the deportation of union miners from Colorado during the recent labor trouble was justifiable." L. D. Bohnett, '06, was one of the three to be chosen to represent the Congress in the great coming debate. The Congress is by all odds the largest and best society at the university and there must have been twenty-five at least in the tryouts. This contest is only exceeded in prominence by the intercollegiate and Carnot. "L. D." not only is a great debater but he is News Editor of the Daily Californian, a paper that is the largest and best college daily in the United States, and "L. D.'s" position is one of the highest on the staff.

Campbell Union High School can well feel proud of the character of its graduates. Friend Bohnett graduated in June, 1902, and since he has been at Berkeley has made his mark in a debating line.

Reception to Rev. and Mrs. Jenness.

Last Friday evening there was a goodly number present at the reception to the Rev. and Mrs. Jenness, despite the inclement weather. The vestry of the church was artistically decorated with flowers and palm leaves, the designs and execution being put into effect by Mrs. G. L. Beaver's class of young ladies.

An address of welcome was delivered by Rev. J. W. Lewis, and was responded to by Rev. and Mrs. Jenness.

A very pleasant program was rendered, consisting of a duet by Misses Clendenin and Pannell, who responded to an encore. A vocal solo by Miss Davis, accompanied by Miss Letitia Archibald. Miss Davis responded to an encore. Miss Call and Mr. Morton rendered a duet very pleasingly. A violin solo by Dudley Moulton was much enjoyed.

A social time filled up the remainder of the evening, after which refreshments were served.

Monday evening Walter Thomas Mills, author of the text book of socialism, and recognized as one of the greatest speakers on that subject, addressed an audience at Odd Fellows hall, the building being well filled. The audience was made up largely of working men, with a good sprinkling of ladies, and he held the interest of those present during the long address. Considering the high standing of the speaker, what he says is to be taken as the true position of what socialism really is.

CARS TO CAMPBELL.

The First Electric Car Arrived Here Last Monday.

By an extra effort Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Thos. B. Eagen had things in shape so a car could come down to Campbell Monday. A temporary bridge was built over Los Catos creek, a crew of men working all Friday night. A new and substantial bridge will soon be built to take the place of the temporary one.

The party coming on the first car were: President, O. A. Hale; Directors, Gus Lion, W. C. Andrews, A. E. Wilder and L. Lion; General Manager, F. E. Chapin; Train Dispatcher, C. J. Bourne; Electrician Parsons; Paymaster, Chris Newman; Mr. Squiers of New York and Nicholas Bowden of San Jose, attorneys for the Congress Springs company; L. A. Sage, owner of the property at Congress Springs, and J. T. Burke of San Francisco, attorney for O. A. Hale.

The road was found to be in first-class condition, well built and ballasted nearly all the way. The wires are strung as far as Railroad avenue. The directors and other members of the party were much pleased.

The bonds were not yet in, and will take some little time to put them in, and the ears of the trolley wires are not put up yet; also the sidings are not completed. Consequently not very fast time was possible but the return to San Jose was made in about fourteen minutes.

The crew of men are at work just south of town, this side of the Almaden branch, but it is expected that connections will be made with the regular Almaden branch this week. New rails are to be laid over the bridge and as far as the Los Gatos road, where the cars will leave the Southern Pacific track and go on to Los Gatos.

Whether the cars will run to San Jose from Campbell before the road is all completed has not been decided as yet, but it is hoped that they will. At the corner of Campbell and Johnson avenues there will be a neat little triangle park put in a grass plot with a waiting bench or passengers. At the corner of the Infirmary and Hamilton avenue a similar park can be arranged if the property owners adjoining take the matter up. These would be great additions to the beauty of the route and furnish a pleasant waiting place. The watering tanks at these places should be removed to less conspicuous places for beauty sake.

Climatic Conditions Ideal for Fruit Culture.

By E. J. WICKSON.

Professor of Agricultural Practice, University of California, and Horticulturist of the California Experiment Station; author of "California Fruits and How to Grow Them" and "California Vegetables in Garden and Field;" Horticultural Editor of the "Pacific Rural Press," of San Francisco.

Third—Fruits came to California by way of Siberia, for the Russian outpost on the coast of Mendocino county as early as 1812 possessed an orchard of apples and cherries, and some of the original trees still survive—old, mossy and not very thrifty, but still bearing fruit.

Fourth—Fruits came to Oregon with the American pioneers as early as 1847,

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE State of California, in and for the County of Santa Clara. In the matter of the estate of Henry Van Syckle, deceased.

Eleanor G. Van Syckle, John W. Van Syckle and Henry E. Van Syckle, as the executors of the last will and testament of Henry Van Syckle, deceased, having filed herein their duly verified petition praying for an order of this court authorizing and directing them to borrow the sum of $20,000.00, or such less sum as the court may deem necessary where-with to pay the debts of said decedent; and to make, execute and deliver a note or notes to evidence said loan and to provide for its repayment with interest, and for the purpose of securing the payment of said loan and interest to mortgage to the lender of said money the following described real property of said estate, namely:

FIRST—All that certain tract of land situated in the county of Butte, State of California, described as follows, to wit: The fractional north one-half of Section 31, in Township 29 North, Range 2 East, Mount Diablo Base and Meridian, containing 309.20 acres.

SECOND—All those certain tracts of land situated in the county of Glenn (formerly a part of Colusa county) State of California, described as follows: "A." Beginning at a stake on the south line of Walsh's (now or formerly) Home tract; thence south 89 1/2° west along Walsh's fence (now or formerly) 2 chains to a stake, corner, thence south 39 chains, thence west 2 chains, thence south 9 chains and 70 links to the middle of Stony creek, thence down the middle of Stony creek to St. John's (now or formerly) and thence north 66 chains and 50 links to the beginning, containing 236 acres and being a portion of the Capay Rancho.

"B." Commencing in the center of the county road leading from Colusa to Tehama at a point on the north bank of a slough running across said road about one mile north of St. John's house (now or formerly) to Stony creek, thence running northerly up the center of said county road to the south line of land which belonged (now or formerly) to the late R. J. Walsh, thence west along said south line of Walsh to the northeast corner of the land of Van Syckle (on Aug. 16, 1867), thence south along the eastern line of said lands of Van Syckle to the bank of said slough, thence along the north bank of said slough to the place of beginning, containing 200 acres of land.

"C." Commencing at a mound known as the southeast corner of St. John's ranch (Oct. 16th, 1868) on the division line between the lands (now or formerly) of Jones and St. John, running thence due north to the county road north of Stony creek, thence with the said road in a northerly direction to the north margin of a deep slough, running thence with the meanderings of said slough in a westerly direction to the line between the lands (now or formerly) of A. C. St. John and of Henry Van Syckle, thence due south to the middle of Stony creek, thence down the middle of said creek until it intersects the south line (now or formerly) of Jones and St. John, thence along said line to the point of commencement, containing 300 acres of land, more or less.

Excepting from said two parcels of land described above as "A" and "B," a strip of the eastern side thereof, owned, occupied and used by the Central Irrigation District, a corporation, as and for a ditch or irrigation canal.

It is ordered that all persons interested in the said estate appear before this court, at its court room, in the court house of the county of Santa Clara, State of California, in the city of San Jose, in said county of Santa Clara, on FRIDAY, THE 11TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1904, at 10 o'clock A. M., then and there to show cause why said prayer of said petition should not be granted and why said money should not be borrowed or said note or notes made, and the above real property mortgaged to secure a loan to said estate of $20,000.00, or such less amount as the court may deem meet wherewith to pay the debts of said decedent, and that this notice be published at least once a week for five consecutive weeks, in the CAMPBELL INTER-URBAN PRESS, a newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and issued in said county of Santa Clara, before the said day last above mentioned.

For all further particulars of said petition and the relief therein asked for, reference is hereby made to said petition on file herein.

Dated the 27th day of September, 1904.
HIRAM D. TUTTLE,
Judge of said Superior Court.
Endorsed, filed, Sept. 27, 1904.

and trees grown from this stock reached California in 1851. This introduction is notable, because the trees were grafted and were the first of improved and named varieties to reach the State.

Fifth—Fruits came to California from everywhere. The almost fabulous prices of the early '50's, the surprising size and excellence of the fruits first grown and the sight of semi-tropical fruits growing in the open air at the Missions, stimulated the pioneers to send for fruit trees to all countries whence they had come, and an industry full of unique phases arose rapidly with plants from every clime and has attained an eminence in volume, value and variety of products which it is our purpose to outline.

In passing to this task, however, let it be noted that the California fruit industry is not new, but is of ancient and honorable origin. It is not generally known that at the time of the establishment of the United States as a nation there was probably a larger acreage of bearing fruit trees and vines in California than in all the rest of the territory which now constitutes our national domain.

Another reason why California fruits are large is the length of the growing season. The high winter temperature makes February and March the months of bloom, then comes the months which are warm enough almost everywhere, and then September, October and part of November, with temperatures still favorable for deciduous fruit ripening. Thus it appears that for these fruits California has a month or two advantage in the spring and a month or two again in the fall—at least three months advantage, on the whole, in the length of the growing season as compared with average eastern locations—a quarter of a year more growth for the fruit, a quarter of a year more of delightful conditions for outdoor labor for the man in helping the tree to do its best. But this comparison is, of course, unjust to California. This is based only on the activity of deciduous fruit trees, such as are grown in wintry climates. After this comes the season of ripening of many semi-tropical fruits; the orange, lemon, grape fruit, olive, etc. They reach their fruitage while the deciduous trees are resting, and the temperatures which favor the fruiting of these trees also encourage, in many places the strawberry and raspberry to add another delightful fragrance to the winter air and another phase of deliciousness to the winter menu. All this is merely another way of saying that California has an ever-growing temperature, each fruit, according to its nature, spreads its bloom, makes its growth and completes its maturity without haste or hindrance. How can it escape being large, handsome and luscious, providing man gives it the culture which meets its requirements and benefits its nature? It cannot and it does not.

In a moist summer climate there is a screen, invisible to the eye, but nevertheless, to a degree, destructive of the efficiency of sunshine. It is to the perfect transparency of dry air that the sunlight of California owes a part of its efficiency; and the evidence thereof is the clearness and delicacy of the colors of California fruits. Moist air deepens the tints and tends toward russet bluishness; the dry air tends to brilliance and to refinement. Then, too, light and heat work together in fruit chemistry and promote the production of sugars, oils and essences whence comes fruity flavors and nutritive qualities; and they continue their labors in connection with dry air, in the preservation of fruit from decay while it is maturing and in retaining natural colors in dried fruit, so that California sundried fruit reaches the highest standard described in the trade as "evaporated fruit."

NOTE.—The above article is from the California 12-page edition of the New York World. It was prepared by the California Promotion Committee and contained many valuable articles which will do much to advertise this state in the East.—Ed.

French Crop Not a Menace.

C. D. Harvey, the well known fruit man, believes that the fruit-growers have in their own hands the remedy for the prevailing low prices if they will not permit themselves to be deceived by the middlemen who are seeking to control the market. He says:

If the prune growers will collect their senses for a moment before they "stand and deliver," by selling their prunes for less than half the price offered last year, they will inquire why these market manipulators have determined on a 1 or 1 1/4 as against a 2 3/4 base offered last year. Is it based on the law of supply and demand or the law of retaliation and revenge?

The prune situation, if my information is reliable, is about as follows:

The crop of last year and the carry-over of the preceding year amounted to about 175,000,000 pounds. Of this there was sold and consumed about 162,000,000 pounds. Carry over to this year 13,000,000 pounds, add estimated crop of this year at 10,000,000 pounds more than last, 120,000,000 pounds, leaving the amount to be disposed of this year 133,000,000 pounds, or 29,000,000 pounds less than was disposed of in the demoralized markets of last year.

In addition to this, Oregon had a phenomenal crop last year, which came into competition with the California products, while this year the Oregon crop is practically a failure and will largely increase our advantages in the eastern markets, and this, added to the prospective gains resulting from the extensive advertising at the St. Louis World's Fair, should further increase the demands for the Santa Clara prunes.

The large crop in France, which is constantly kept before the bewildered grower, is no reason why local conditions should be disregarded, nor any excuse for selling at the present low prices.

I have information from a large exporter that the Santa Clara prunes when properly cured and honestly packed are preferred by many of the French and German customers to the prune grown in France, so it is a question of price rather than prune, and we need have little apprehension of the French prune as a competitor against a well-cured and honestly packed Santa Clara prune until the prices of the French are on a level with our home-grown product. Then it will figure as a competitor. Until then it is an imaginary creation of the speculator to frighten timid growers and batter down remunerative prices.

Must Have Been Milpitas.

"I'm guilty, yer honor. How could I be in here if I wasn't?" was the response given with an air of surprise by J. Brown to the question of City Justice Davidson as to his guiltiness of the charge of being drunk. Such display of confidence in the infallibility of the officers of the law caused Jailor Walther and an attendant policeman to sit very erect and try to look the part. "Ye, see, I cum up from the city to wurruk on the Interurban. I'm a friend to the manager, and he's waiting fer me to begin me job." Justice Davidson was too public-spirited a citizen to wish to stop the advance of the Interurban road building, so he considerably suspended sentence in the case of the "frind to the manager"—and work was immediately resumed.

Tim Sullivan had been suffering with "noorallyjay," and came in from "back of Campbells" to procure some medicine. He got into the hands of a policeman soon afterward. Upon promise to go back to Campbell and stay there, only upon those occasions when "a man's got to buy some clothes, yer honor," sentence was suspended."—San Jose Herald.

Suit Compromised.

The suit of Mrs. Mary Goodrich and her minor children, Louise and Donald, against the San Jose and Santa Clara railroad company, was compromised in department one of the Superior court on Wednesday last, and within a very few minutes thereafter the judgment was endorsed fully satisfied. By the terms of the settlement the railroad company, which, after paying legal expenses, left $9,000 for Mrs. Goodrich and her children. On June 6, 1903, Edwin Goodrich, a deputy in County Assessor Spitzer's office, was killed in an accident on one of the defendant's electric cars in Alum Rock canyon. Mrs. Goodrich, for herself and as guardian ad litem of her two minor children, brought suit against the railroad company, asking $50,000 damages. The trial terminated on January 8th last in a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $17,000.

TAXES, 1904

OFFICE OF THE TAX COLLECTOR,
County of Santa Clara,
San Jose, October 10th, 1904.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the taxes for the year 1904 are now due and payable:

FIRST INSTALLMENT—Taxes on all personal property, a lien on or secured by land, all special taxes, and one-half of the taxes on all real property are delinquent on November 18th, 1904, at 6 o'clock p. m., when 15 per cent. will be added to all of said first installment remaining unpaid.

SECOND INSTALLMENT—The remaining one-half of Taxes on all real property will be due and payable January 4, 1905, and delinquent April 25, 1905, at 6 o'clock p. m., when 5 per cent. will be added to all taxes remaining unpaid.

Taxpayers may, if they desire to do so, PAY THE WHOLE TAX AT ONE PAYMENT.

For the purpose of receiving taxes I will be in the several townships of the county, as follows:

MORELAND DISTRICT:—At the Bank of Campbell, in the Town of Campbell, on Thursday, October 27th, 1904.

And in my office in the Court House of San Jose daily, Sundays and legal holidays excepted, from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. to and including Monday, November 28th, 1904, and Monday, April 25th, 1905, at 6 p. m.

The second installment of Taxes is payable at my office in the Court House in San Jose.

N. B.—All persons who paid the County Assessor their personal property taxes for 1904, at the tax rates of 1903, are hereby notified that the rate for 1904 having been increased, there remains due a balance, payable at my office under the same conditions as to delinquency as the taxes on real property.

W. A. JANUARY,
Tax Collector of Santa Clara County.
