School Transportation Policy to be Made Clear Next Monday, Says West

Local Delegation Will Insist That Pasadena School Board Takes Action on This Problem at Meeting

The school transportation problem will be settled on next Monday at a meeting of the Pasadena board of education, according to assurances received by the News Thursday from Dr. John F. West, superintendent of schools. Dr. West stated that there would be a convention of school officials of Los Angeles county on Saturday and at that time the problem of school transportation would be discussed and a policy would probably be recommended by the transportation committee. The Pasadena board will meet Monday and Dr. West stated that he would insist upon definite action being taken by the board at that time.

The News at once notified members of the school board, officials of the Parent-Teacher association and the chamber of commerce and a delegation is being formed to be present at the meeting Monday. A meeting of the delegation will be held Friday night to plan their visit to the board. The delegation from Sierra Madre, it is asserted, will not be large, but will be composed of two-fisted fighters who will insist that the board make some definite stand before they adjourn Monday.

May Go to Court

Members of the board and officials of the P. T. A. have been making a study of the situation and, as one member of the board expressed it, are prepared to fight for their rights to the last ditch. If the action of the board appears unfavorable to

Observations

By G. B. M.

TRYING THE OTHER FELLOW'S JOB AWHILE

One of the most valuable things about vacation time is the necessity put upon a lot of people to change jobs and do some other fellow's work for awhile. It serves to remind a man that he is not the only one who really has to work for a living. The chap he has regarded as occupying a soft berth may be discovered to carry a load of hard work and a multitude of petty annoyances and distractions in the bargain. The thing that the other fellow always seemed to do with such ease and unconcern may be found to require the skill of long practice and close application.

Rightly interpreted, these vacation experiences ought to be worth as much for their mental readjustment as the actual outing and rest period.

OBSERVING RIGHT FROM THE MACHINE

When the shop help take turns at vacations, sometimes even the boss has to work. Being too busy to go near the typewriter, I merely sit myself down with the linotype in my lap, and proceed to observe a thing or two that have come to mind during the week.

If the usual charm of diction and rhetoric are lacking, just put it down against the attention required for manipulation of this machine with its 7000 parts, any or all of which seem at times bent upon diverting my train of thought into a ditch.

SUPERSTITION AND OPERATIONS

What proportion of the people are superstitious in this year of Our Lord 1925? Not very many, you say.

Maybe not, but certainly a great many people are too superstitious to have a surgical operation performed on a Friday. Ask any surgeon. He will tell you it is always easy to get an appointment for an operating room at a hospital on a Friday, even though other days may be booked up for weeks in advance.

Last Friday morning I went to a big hospital where ordinarily there are doctors' cars parked by the dozen. There were not half a dozen cars on the lot. In the children's ward the morning's cases were not a quarter of what would be there on other days.

SEEING IT THROUGH IN A WHITE ROBE

Being the hard hearted member of the family, it fell to my lot to ac-

Sierra Madre, those who have studied the situation assert that there are a number of legal phases which they are prepared to take into court. If the action of the board is unfavorable to Sierra Madre action may be taken enjoining the Pasadena board from providing free transportation to any of the outlying districts which are now being provided with a bus service without cost for their pupils.

Another point which has been discussed is an attack upon the present election system which provides that both the Pasadena and elementary school board and the high school board shall be composed of the same personnel. This, it is pointed out, disqualifies any person in Sierra Madre from membership on the high school board and therefore excludes Sierra Madre from possible representation on the school board, Sierra Madre being a part of the high school district but not of the elementary school district.

Insist on Action

The principal thing which will be insisted upon at Monday's meeting, however, will be that the board definitely state its policy so that the Sierra Madre forces will know how to proceed.

It is asserted by leaders in the controversy that action should have been taken some time ago in order to give the patrons of the school an opportunity to make their plans for the coming school year. Obviously, the members of the Sierra Madre board were unable to take any definite steps to settle the matter to the satisfaction of the patrons here as long as the Pasadena board refused to make a definite policy known.

The results of the meeting will be awaited with interest by the large number of patrons of the school here and other citizens who in the future expect to be patrons of the school, as well as the tax payers, who are interested in getting a fair return for their money invested in the high school system.

Plan Breaks To Be Built In District

A. M. Udell, Earl Topping and others interested in the prevention and suppression of forest fires, are preparing to work out a system of fire breaks and trails which should protect the Sierra Madre watershed from any chance of invasion from fire started in another district. It's the plan to take their problem before the city, county and U. S. forest service when the plans are completed and ask for cooperation in completing the necessary trails and breaks.

According to Mr. Udell it was necessary to send Sierra Madre men to the Arroyo Seco district because there were no fire breaks between Sierra Madre's watershed and the Arroyo Seco. This cost the city considerable money in loss of time for the men who were called and the curtailment of business among those whose employes were taken. It seems to be the opinion of those in touch with the situation that this necessity should be eliminated and that breaks should be provided in this district so that it would not be necessary to call out a large crew to build breaks during a fire that should have been completed under less trying circumstances.

The Sierra Madre contingent at the fire line is now relieved and most of the men have returned to their work. A few are still nursing injuries received on the line and a few are still on the line on voluntary duty.

Last week might have been called "tonsil week" in Sierra Madre. On Thursday Ruth Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lord, and the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Utter went to the Monrovia Hospital and had their tonsils removed. On Friday Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morrigrade took their daughter Elizabeth, to the Angelus Hospital in Los Angeles for a similar operation.

Grand Master To Dedicate New Temple

Grand Master David J. Reese of the Grand Lodge of California, F. & A. M., has set Wednesday night, September 9, as the time for the dedication of the new Masonic temple. Announcement to this effect is made by Donald C. Ashmore, master of Sierra Madre Lodge, No. 408.

Dedication of lodge halls is a grand lodge ceremony. Grand Master Reese will preside, conforming to a promise made when he laid the cornerstone of the temple. He will be assisted by a full corps of grand lodge officers. The ceremony will be open to Master Masons only. Owing to the day being a holiday and the number of other events conflicting, it was not thought advisable to serve a dinner as had been originally planned.

Decorations of the lodge room is near completion at the hands of Hapgood and Carlson of Sierra Madre. Their artistic work is bringing out the beautiful texture of the plaster finish as worked out by the Buchan brothers from the plans of Architect Finlayson. As soon as the finishing is completed, the laying of the carpet and the hanging of draperies will begin. The latter are being prepared by a committee of the Eastern Star ladies headed by Mrs. Milton Steinberger.

Dr. Staff Is Returning to Old Parish

Dr. Fred Staff of VanNuys notified the pulpit committee of the Congregational church on Sunday that he would accept the call to the pastorate of the church and would be ready to begin preaching regularly on the first Sunday in September. He has been filling the pulpit of the First Congregational church of Pasadena during the vacation of Dr. Daniel F. Fox and will terminate his work there next Sunday.

In securing Dr. Staff the members of the Congregational church felt that they are exceedingly fortunate. During his former pastorate here he and his family endeared themselves to the entire community. After serving here two years he accepted a call to the First Congregational church of Colorado Springs, partly because of the larger field of work offered and partly because of the opportunity for educating his children at Colorado College. A year ago when two of them received their college degrees the college also conferred on Mr. Staff the honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity.

Strong Civic Leader

In Colorado Springs Dr. Staff not only filled with great credit one of the most important pulpits in the Rocky Mountain states but occupied an important place in the life of the city and of the college. He was president of the Rotary club and headed many other civic activities from time to time.

The career of Dr. Staff is one of rare interest. Coming to this country as a Swedish immigrant boy and taking his first job as a tailor's apprentice, his ambition for education led him to Beloit College. Working his way through college he graduated at the head of his class. He has been pastor of large churches in Wisconsin and Santa Ana before coming to Sierra Madre.

Health Improved

After resigning from the church at Colorado Springs last year Dr. Staff moved to VanNuys with the expectation of retiring from active work. Being much improved in health and with the lure of Sierra Madre remaining since his previous residence here, he decided to accept the invitation to return to his former parish and will doubtless receive a warm welcome upon his return.

Services for next Sunday will again be conducted by Rev. Mr. Hoyt. In addition to preaching at the morning service. Mr. Hoyt has been conducting the adult Bible class in the church school with great profit to those attending.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Hall Perry returned the first of the week from a vacation outing at Newport Beach. Mr. Perry will start work Monday as credit manager of the People's National bank at Los Angeles.

British Fair Is Story of Huge Empire

The News presents this week the third of the very interesting series of travel letters from Cabot Yerxa. In this letter Mr. Yerxa tells of the great British Empire Exposition at Wembley, near London. He is now in Paris and may be expected to tell later of his experiences in the French capital.

London, England.—The British Empire Exposition located at Wembley in the outskirts of London, is a concentrated direct effort on the part of England to start afresh the slow moving wheels of commerce. Also to show the people of the home country the unlimited possibilities of the empire that lies over-seas, which need greater population. There are too many people in the British Isles, and not enough in the different colonies, so every effort is being made to induce them to leave the old land and settle in the new. This great collection of merchandise and information is gathered together with the hope that it will stimulate inter-empire trade, and be the means of opening new markets.

The British Empire reaches around the world, and has lands in all climates, producing raw materials of unlimited variety. Every part of the empire is represented by a building of its own or a lavish display of native products and manufactured goods. Moving pictures and large panoramas show scenery and living conditions in the many countries represented.

Canada has the most extensive extensive exhibits and painted panoramas showing actual conditions within her borders. Some of these are very complete, with moving trains, boats, men and farm machinery, all built to scale and presenting a very good idea of Canadian life. In presenting western ranch life, they even had a cowboy breaking a horse to saddle in a tiny corral. The horse bucked in true American fashion but never threw its rider. The largest crowd always stood around a stuffed cow and calf in a natural setting of grass and farm buildings. Once every five minutes the cow would eat hay, move her head, look at the calf, bellow, and swing her tail at the flies. The calf then would move its head, look at the crowd, look at the cow, stamp its front feet and bawl.

The Big Cheese!

New Zealand sent over a single cheese of 600 pounds, and some very splendid farm products of different kinds. The island has 24 million sheep and wants the world to know it.

Australia is a vast country and does things on a big scale. She heard about the 600-pound cheese of New Zealand, so started saving cream and building a mould and special crate for shipping a larger cheese. There it is, the largest chunk of cheese in the world. It weighs 3,800 pounds. When you are not busy, figure how many sandwiches it would make, or how large a loaf of bread the bakers would have to make to use all that cheese in one sandwich. The building of Australia contained numerous special showings of raw materials and information of interest to new settlers. Australia wants new people of strictly white races only. In the middle of the building was a very clever piece of machinery which took in raw wool out of the fleece at one end and, showing all the different mechanical processes, turned out pure wool cloth at the other end of this wonderful machine.

African Attractions

Africa is represented by many buildings from many parts of that enormous country. They all have facts to tell of the richness and astonishing resources of the undeveloped sections. A week or two should be spent going from one African building to another to grasp the future in store for that amazing land of rich soil and varied climates.

Hong Kong has a typical Chinese street with native workers in colored paper, silver, rattan, embroidery, and mat weaving. The Chinese restaurant and music seemed to make lots of fun for the Britishers.

In the Jamaica building one can drink coffee or rum under native palm trees and see interesting things of the tropics.

Trinidad was a great deal the same only here the popular drink

Community Picnic to Be Given in Honor of Old Settlers Is Big Event

Ball Game, Races and Community Singing to Be Features of the Afternoon—Coffee Served Free

Plans are being formulated rapidly to provide for a big afternoon of fun on Wednesday, Sept. 9 at the Community Picnic to be given in honor of the Old Settlers of Sierra Madre. Robert E. Steinberger, chairman of the committee, has appointed Tom Henderson to be the committee on sports. Mr. Henderson is working out a program which will test the athletic prowess of every individual or class likely to be present on that day.

To Register Visitors

This appropriate Admission Day celebration will be held in the city park, Central and Hermosa avenue, beginning at 2 o'clock. There will be ample seats and shade so that everyone present can be made comfortable. There will be a registration book for all who attend which will be kept as a matter of historical interest. A prize bouquet will be given to the person present who came first to Sierra Madre. A reception is being arranged so that the prodigals returning to Sierra Madre from afar will receive due recognition.

Since the beginning of the two neighboring towns, Sierra Madre and Monrovia, there has been friendly rivalry which the old timers will remember as even more strenuous than has been true of late years. So it is appropriate that there should be a ball game during the afternoon between the fire departments of the two cities. The contest events also include numbers for children as well as grownups.

The Grand Feast

From the starting of the entertainment at 2 o'clock there will be a full program until five. Then the tables will be spread and the picnic lunch enjoyed. Every family is asked to bring its own lunch and cups for coffee. The hot coffee will be supplied by the Chamber of Commerce committee and lemonade will be supplied through the kindness of W. J. Lawless.

There will be tables and seats for everyone. The visiting fire department will be guests of the local firemen at the picnic supper, according to Fire Chief Henderson.

Following the supper and while the crowd was still seated at the tables, Mrs. W. C. Gruit will lead in community singing. She will be assisted by Miss Ruth Klemme at the piano. The prizes will also be awarded immediately following the supper.

The committee in charge of the picnic have their organization nearly completed and from all indications a full afternoon of enjoyment is certain. A list of the surviving founders and early settlers of Sierra Madre has been compiled and special invitations are being sent to these people. There will be an effort made to have as many former residents of Sierra Madre present as possible and the greeting of old friends will make an important feature of the afternoon.

The Sierra Madre News is planning a special feature of the next edition which will chronicle features and events which were important in the early days and had an important bearing on present day Sierra Madre, together with names of people, once active but whose names are now but a memory. Copies of the Old Settlers edition may be reserved in advance by calling the Sierra Madre News, Black 42.

Net Stars in Elimination Play Here

Sierra Madre will be ready to meet Monrovia in a tennis tournament as soon as a date can be arranged, is the word which comes from the camp of the net and racquet warriors this week. An elimination tournament is being arranged for the near future in order that the best may be picked to meet the Monrovia team. Those who wish to compete in the elimination tournament should see Emil Smith at the post office.

Soon after the News was printed last week a delegation of younger tennis players visited the office and asked if a junior tournament could not be arranged between the two cities. Negotiations are now under way for a junior tournament as well as the senior event. It is anticipated that Monrovia will play a return meet on the city courts at the park soon after the local team goes to Monrovia. The intercity tournaments and the Monrovia-Sierra Madre ball game to be played at the picnic are being promoted by the News office staff.

Maurice Goldberg Married Sunday

Miss Clara Linsky of Los Angeles and Maurice Goldberg of Sierra Madre were married Sunday morning at Paulais Cafe in Los Angeles. Rabbi Mayer Winkler performed the ceremony. The young couple left immediately following the wedding breakfast for a two-weeks trip to Yosemite and San Francisco. They will make their home in South Pasadena.

Mr. Goldberg is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Goldberg, 171 North Adams street and is well known in Sierra Madre, having grown to manhood here. He holds a responsible position in a large hotel supply firm in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Doty and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Steinberger went to Seal Beach Sunday to spend the week end. Mr. Doty and Mr. Steinberger returned to Sierra Madre but the ladies remained for a longer stay.

seemed to be chocolate or pineapple juice.

Cypress and Fiji had smaller buildings close by but full of strange things.

Oi, the Diamonds

Women clustered thick around the diamond show cases, in which were wonderful articles of adornment made to give diamonds a proper setting. Near by were models of diamond fields of Africa. Miniature mines in operation and diamond cutters working on rough diamonds. A large piece of machinery was at work washing real diamonds out of native African soils. They did not have many policemen around this display as they would need in our country. British law is held in much better respect than is law in the U. S. A.

The British government pavilion contained much relating to history of native warfare throughout the world. Models of ships, soldiers, arms, and of battle scenes of all times; working models of mail, telephone and telegraph service equipment were similar to ours. These three services however are government monopolies over here. Among other displays in this building the health department was the most instructive. Here were flies, bugs, worms, and other unnecessary things enlarged until some of them were as large as dogs. They were done in wax and in natural colors. Some microscopic things were enlarged eleven million times. Say, honest, I have not eaten a comfortable meal since. I now back away from a fly or one of those little things multiplied eleven million times, like a barefooted man walks on the deserts of California and Arizona among the rattlesnakes.

The Palace of Industry contained endless exhibits of manufactured goods from all parts of the globe.

Miss Leah Fletcher has a new peach story for the public. At the cooked food sale held by the Woman's club last Saturday, Miss Fletcher sold pies which contained three peaches each. It is understood that many bakeries have even reduced this number by one or two but there is no such bakery on record which has a reputation for the large, juicy pies, such as Miss Fletcher brought to the food sale.

Mrs. Thomas Miller of 265 North Mt. Trail arrived home last week from a ten weeks visit in and around New York City, having made the return by boat. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and daughter Elsie motored to New York the latter part of May. Cards have been received from Yellowstone National Park from Mr. Miller and daughter Elsie and son Arthur and his wife, who are returning by auto visiting points of interest en route. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Miller, former residents of Pelham, N. Y., intend to make their future home in Sierra Madre.

P.T.A. Holds Meeting at Canyon Crest

An informal conference of the officers of the P. T. A. was held Tuesday at Canyon Crest lodge, at the call of Mrs. W. C. Gruit, the president. Association plans for the year were discussed, including selection of chairmen of departments, the monthly programs, a teachers' reception in September, the entertainment of the presidents' council of the Pasadena federation, which meets in Sierra Madre for an all-day session in October, and the Chamber of Commerce luncheon to be held next Tuesday on the C. L. Hoover grounds, Churchill road.

The association will have its first meeting in September instead of October as heretofore. Not only parents and teachers are eligible to membership, but also any one who is at all interested in child welfare or the welfare of the schools in general. Under the efficient administration of the former president, Mrs. E. A. Calvert, the membership reached over 200, larger than in several districts where the school enrollment is greater than Sierra Madre. It is expected that the present year will see the membership increased beyond that number. The dues are only 50 cents yearly, and with the active interest of every parent a great deal of good can be accomplished.

Ford Makes Big Changes In All Cars

Body changes and chassis refinements more pronounced than any made since the adoption of the Model T chassis were announced here today by the Ford Motor company. There will be no advance in price, it also was stated by J. M. Steinberger, local agent.

Outstanding features of the improvements in both open and enclosed types are lower, all-steel bodies on a lowered chassis, complete new design in most body types, a change from black to color in closed cars, larger, lower fenders, newly designed seats and larger, more powerful brakes.

Longer lines, effected through higher radiator and redesigned cowl and bodies are apparent in all the improved Ford cars, but are especially pronounced in the open types. Wide crown fenders hung close to the wheels contribute much to the general effect of lowness and smartness.

Colors, Too
While Runabout and Touring Car remain in black, the closed bodies are finished in harmonic color schemes, enhanced by nickel radiators. The Coupe and Tudor bodies are finished in deep channel green while the Fordor is rich Windsor Maroon.

Greater comfort is provided for driver and passengers in both open and closer cars by larger compartments, more deeply cushioned seats and greater leg room.

Many new conveniences are also incorporated in the improved cars. In the Runabout, Touring Car, Coupe and Tudor, the gasoline tank is under the cowl and filled through an ingeniously located filler cap completely hidden from sight by a cover similar in appearance to a cowl ventilator. One-piece windshield and narrowed pillars in the Tudor and Coupe offer the driver greatly increased visibility and improved ventilation.

More Comfortable
Driving comfort is materially increased by lower seats, scientifically improved back rests, and lowered steering wheel. Brake and clutch pedals are wider and more conveniently spaced.

Four doors are now provided on the Touring car and two on the Runabout, permitting the driver to take his place from the left side of the car. Curtains, held secure by rods, open with the doors.

Most important in the mechanical changes are the improved brakes. The transmission brake drum and bands have been considerably increased in size, which gives the foot brakes softer and more positive action as well as longer life. The rear wheel brake drums are larger and the brake self energizing type.

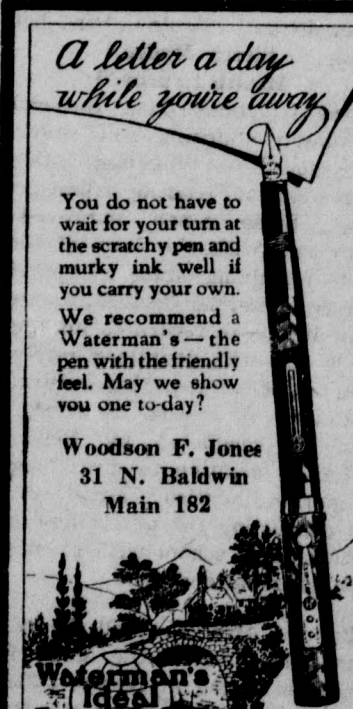

Cord tires are now standard equipment on all Ford Cars.

At the main offices of the company it was stated that production of the new line is under way in all assembly plants of the company throughout the country and the improved cars are being sent to dealers for showing.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Fleming of Long Beach are spending the month at 223 West Laurel avenue. Their collection of Japanese art is remembered with pleasure by the art lovers of Sierra Madre as selections from it have been exhibited here at various times in the past. At this time they have with them at the studios of Miss Ella Shepard Bush examples of lacquer, bronze and prints.

more modern houses, and use of new materials. Improvement in transportation, was shown by actual machinery having been in use. Here was Stephenson's locomotive of the year 1825, called the "Rocket." It carried on business at eight miles per hour and was regarded as a miracle. Near by was a modern railway locomotive as used in England. The Britishers thought this an enormous machine but it is much smaller than our engines of the Rocky Mountain divisions. Many airplanes were shown, which are in actual every-day use over here carrying both passengers and important freight from London to Paris as well as other parts of Europe.

The Palace of Arts housed many of the most valuable paintings of the empire.

Palestine exhibited oranges, native candy, sandal wood, handmade laces and other knickknacks around which women stood and talked much.

Newfoundland is strong for codfish, codliver oil, furs and timber products.

Burma takes you into a novel country.

British Guiana and Honduras set forth coffee and tobacco in a pleasing way. Attention is called to forest woods and to undeveloped mines.

Longer Than the Wistaria

India has a very large building and presents a civilization old as history yet new to us of the West.

Malaya, with its background of snakes, tigers, elephants, and deep jungles, would fascinate anyone. Rotan is a jungle vine strong as rope. A single shoot was here shown of 540 feet in length, the thick end little over an inch in diameter, and the thin end less than half an inch.

Leeward Islands, the Bahamas, and St. Vincent presented much of the lure of the tropics and were similar in all things.

English people have invested a great amount of money in the planting of rubber trees. So here was a very extensive space devoted to rubber products, ranging from rubber teething rings. They could prove that rubber ought to be used for everything but food. I stood for a long time in front of a kitchen fitted up entirely in rubber, and thought what a great boon this was married men. Here were mixing bowls, cups, saucers, rolling pins and dishes of all kinds made out of soft rubber; "no breakage and never wear out," a man told me. That would save money. Time could be saved by standing in the kitchen door and throwing all the dishes at the sink. Boys would clear the table just for the fun of throwing the dishes.

Marital Pacifism

I told this man he had a great field in the United States because, while American women looked good in motion pictures, in domestic life they were much given to fits of temper during which they threw all the kitchen dishes at their husbands. So any married man would buy a complete set of soft rubber dishes and charge it off to life insurance. I know Jiggs would buy a gross of rubber rolling pins, and a few dozen assorted bowls, jardinières, etc., for Maggie to use.

Among the amusement features the circus was by far the best. It was run on the five-ring American plan with 30 clowns and lots of trained horses. An extremely good gathering of other performers kept the small boys and the rest of the crowd in a state of rapt attention. The rest of the amusements were ordinary. Many small booths were arranged to gather up small money from the crowds in a way familiar on American beaches.

The British Empire Exposition is a wonderfully complete affair and compares favorably with our own world's fairs held in the past. It is not as much as a financial success as it deserves, for the reason that the British public is not able to spend much money owing to hard times and taxes from the war days.

The English are a splendid people and they have a very nice island. But when the time rolls round I am going back to California. It is a fine thing to have a large city like London, and it may be a good place to live—7,000,000 people think so anyway and live there. But I am going to get my Burro (capital B, please) and set out over the sand with beans and bacon, coffee and tobacco, to the shade of Palm Trees, and sit down to look at the purple shadows of San Jacinto and San Geronimo.

Program of Road Work

The first definite action toward removing the state highway system from political control and placing it on a purely engineering and economic basis came yesterday when an all day conference was held by representatives of the California State Automobile Association and the Automobile Club of Southern California. A total of 160,000 motorists are included in the combined memberships of these organizations, both of which are committed to the policy of good roads, and each of which in its activities covers one-half of the state.

In his statement explaining his disapproval of the gasoline tax bill passed at the last session of the legislature, Governor Richardson expressed the hope that the two great motor clubs would assume the leadership in formulating a constructive highway building program for the benefit of the entire state, and it was in response to this implied request that the joint committee met yesterday for preliminary discussion. It is expected that several months will be required to evolve a definite, practical plan under which the state may continue its highway development under the best conditions and at a minimum of expense to the tax payers.

Hit-or-Miss Plan Expensive

Since the memorable battle over the proposed increase of the gasoline tax for new highway construction in the last legislature, good roads advocates state that there has been a growing sentiment favoring a more business-like policy in determining on new roads to be built and a more equitable system of distributing the cost. It is pointed out that a total of 60 measures providing for new state highways were introduced in the legislature, calling for an addition of 1,593 miles to the present highway system of 6500 miles, less than half of which has been completed. Most of these bills were for roads of purely local importance, it is pointed out, and had they not been vigorously opposed, might have saddled the tax payers with millions of debts for highways of little, if any, value to the state system.

The strenuous fight against these methods held down the measures passed to eight, obliging the state to build only 233 miles of additional road. Nearly every mile of this is designed to connect the California highway system with the state roads in adjoining states, or to connect existing roads in the state system.

Other conferences will be held as the proposed plan assumes more definite form. Those attending the meeting included from the northern club H. J. Brunner, chairman of roads committee; Percy E. Towne, director and general counsel, and D. V. Nicholson, assistant secretary. The southern club was represented by W. L. Valentine, president; Horace G. Miller, vice president; Edward D. Lyman, director; Standish L. Mitchell, secretary; C. E. McStay, field secretary; E. E. East, chief engineer; Ivan Kelso, general counsel, and David R. Faries, consulting counsel.

Indian Lands to Be Opened To Tourists

Many thousands of tourists every year coming to California will have an opportunity to detour by motor stage and view the romantic and historic Indian grounds of New Mexico and Arizona under arrangements being made by the Santa Fe Railroad which will provide a three-day trip embracing some 300 miles of the most interesting sections of oldest America.

This is announced by Jas. B. Duffy, General Passenger Agent, following receipt of the detailed outlining of the new sight-seeing development from W. J. Black of Chicago, Passenger Traffic Manager.

"The new Indian detour rail and motor way for travelers between Chicago and California will be established by the Santa Fe in conjunction with the Fred Harvey hotel and eating house service for the coming spring and summer and will be made an all-year feature," said Mr. Duffy.

"This service will make it possible for many thousands to see the great wonderland in the New Mexico Rockies between Las Vegas and Albuquerque and will provide a pleasant break in the trans-continental trip to the coast, and is sure to stimulate travel from all over the world. Among the sights will be the inhabited Indian Pueblos of Essequ, Santa Clara, San Juan, Santo Domingo and other points in the picturesque upper Rio Grande Valley as well as the huge ruins of Paye—a cliff pueblo twenty centuries old.

Craig Takes Fine Tailor As Partner

Tony Delvecci has returned to Sierra Madre and resumed a connection with the Sierra Madre Tailors which he severed soon after starting the business three years ago. Mr. Delvecci is a master tailor who has worked in the best establishments of the East doing high class work exclusively. When he started the tailoring establishment he was a new comer to California and homesickness soon decided him and his wife to return to Saint Louis. As has been the case with thousands, the lure of California could not be shaken and Mr. Delvecci returned some time ago. He tried to buy the business back from W. E. Craig, but the latter would not consider leaving Sierra Madre. They finally hit upon an agreement to become joint owners, Mr. Craig handling outside business and Mr. Delvecci running the store and carrying on the tailoring work. They will also retain Mr. Egle in the tailoring and cleaning department. Being particularly anxious to introduce Mr. Delvecci's work to the men of Sierra Madre, the partners decided to offer inducements which would secure some walking advertisements. Accordingly they have cut prices away down on new tailor made suits, including their newest imported fall fabrics, stunning patterns that would cost a lot more money in Los Angeles or Pasadena. They guarantee all hand work done in their own shop.

Incomes of State Lead The Nation

California reported the largest per capita net income of any state in the union for the calendar year 1923, figures on which became available yesterday. Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, who arrived home yesterday from his annual official visit to Washington, stated that data he had secured from official sources showed that for 1923, the latest figures available, California reported per capita net income of $450.59 as compared with $237.27 for the United States as a whole. California's per capita income tax was $10.58 as against $6.34 for the country as a whole. The per cent of population filing returns in California was 13.59, while that of the United States as a whole was $6.94. The average net income per person in California was $3,315.70. "Washington officials recognize California as one of the nation's great bulwarks of financial strength and its steady, consistent expansion through periods of national business depression amazes the average easterner," Collector Goodcell said.

"Every day in every way"

"Yes, sir, this old Ford actually seems to be getting better every day. Since I drained the crankcase and filled up with the new Zerolene 'F' for Fords, she starts quicker, has more power, and seems to go a little farther on a gallon of gasoline."

Zerolene "F" for Fords gets to all the parts where oil is needed, especially the wrist-pin bearings and the upper half of the cylinder walls, which are frequently "oil-starved" when an unsuitable lubricant is used.

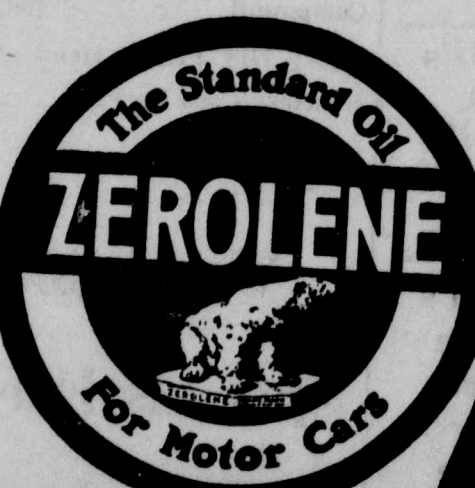

Zerolene "F" for Fords is made by the Standard Oil Company's patented vacuum process. It deposits a minimum of carbon.

Yet Zerolene "F" for Fords costs not more, but less than most of the special Ford oils on the market.

A Ford is an A-1 transportation investment. Protect your investment by proper lubrication.

ROADS BUILT IN THE SOUTH
THIS SEASON

Southern California is not doing so badly in road work for the first six months of 1925, according to non-official estimates in the engineering department of the Automobile Club of Southern California. These indicate that the first half of the year shows state highway contracts let amounting to $1,611,000.

Approximately 55 miles of road will be built or reconstructed under these contracts. Of this mileage, 38 is new construction. The total amount to be expended also includes bridges, of which there are eight built or building in the 13 southern counties, connecting state arteries of travel.

O. E. Emley went to Redondo Beach Wednesday night to visit with Mrs. Emley and family who are spending a two-months vacation there.

H. G. Seifert is now engaged in giving organ instruction at the Gamut club pipe organ studio and the Morton organ company's studio.

"A good laugh is the greatest tonic in the world. People should laugh more. They will be healthier if they do." So saith Edward Everett Horton, star of stage and screen who contributes to the comedy moments in James Cruze's amusing rural romance, "Marry Me!" coming Sunday and Monday, Aug 30 and 31, to the Wistaria. "There is nothing of more vital interest to folks than their personal feelings and reactions, whether they are happy or not," deposes Horton. "The most important thing in life is to be able to laugh and laugh heartily."

James Cruze in his new Paramount production, "The Fighting Coward," featuring Ernest Torrence, Mary Astor, Noah Beery, Phyllis Haver and Cullen Landis, recreates for motion picture audiences one of America's vanished cities. Natchez on the Mississippi today is entirely different from the Natchez of 1848 when the story told in "The Fighting Coward" which opens at the Wistaria theater next Saturday, takes place. In filming the picture, Cruze has reproduced Natchez as it was about 75 years ago, built on the bluff-and-cliff formation unique on the Mississippi. "The Fighting Coward" is an adaptation of "Magnolia," the Booth Tarkington stage success which ran on Broadway during 1923. It's a melodramatic comedy of pre-war days in the South.

Lillian Gish, whom George Jean Nathan considers the foremost film actress, and who is hailed by other critics as "the Bernhardt of the screen," returns to local gaze on Thursday and Friday, Sept 3 and 4, at the Wistaria, when her latest picture, "Romola," Henry King's production of the famous novel by George Eliot, comes to the Wistaria. Her last film was "The White Sister," taken from F. Marion Crawford's novel. Both were Inspiration pictures, released by Metro-Goldwyn. "Pretty Ladies," which is classed as one of the four best pictures produced within the last eight months, will be shown at the Wistaria on next Wednesday and Thursday. The stars of this picture are Zasu Pitts, Norma Shearer and Conrad Nagel.

company the little patient to the operating room. Sure, I could stand it! The hospital attendants do not seem very keen on having outsiders in the operating room. But the nice nurse fixed me up with a nifty white cap and a white apron which pinned up the back, so I would not carry any germs in or out of the room. Then I went over to the operating table and held her hand—the patient's—while the anesthesiologist conjured up in the patient's mind visions of twittering birds and white bunnies.

The nurse looked at me suspiciously, to see if I was going to keel over. Having been there before, I understood her look and assured her I am thrilled by the smell of ether and unmoved by the sight of blood. Then she paid no more attention to me, worse luck!

The skill of that ether manipulator won my admiration. His control of the patient with a minimum of ether was about half psychological. The worth of his method was evident when the patient came out with a minimum of distress, compared with other youngsters who were enjoying the same preparation for school opening.

But the skill of a surgeon wins my whole hearted admiration. The mending of broken or handicapped humanity is a job worthy of the best that is in a man. Mere tonsils are nothing, of course. No longer than it takes to set this in type. But the things that had been done for some of the youngsters in the ward will change the whole course of existence for them.

The people in that Ohio town who presented a thousand dollars and an automobile to their most useful citizen did well to select their village doctor. Not that it was especially a mark of merit that he had not sent

Quake Fund in Sierra Madre Nears Quota

Ten hundred and fifty dollars has been raised for the Santa Barbara relief fund, which leaves only $150.00 to be subscribed in Sierra Madre. Solicitors have been trying to call upon every house in the city but inasmuch as many people have been away from home when called upon, it is asked that those who have not already given will please leave their donations at the chamber of commerce. Santa Barbara needs our help right now, Mr. Hawks says. Delay in sending the money to Santa Barbara tends to make conditions worse, as they can only go ahead as fast as they receive funds to carry on the work.

Among those donating to the earthquake fund is the local Episcopal church, which contributed liberally in addition to the contributions made by its members.

Mrs. Maxine Wyvell started her work as bookkeeper at the Sierra Madre furniture store this week.

out a bill in 20 years. But no matter how much he had been paid in his long career, it was not enough.

Sierra Madre has had, and now has her share of magnificent givers when it comes to doctors giving their services. Men who have not spared themselves where there was need of their services, regardless of the certainty of pay. What is a thousand dollars to a human life? Even at ordinary rates, there is probably not a doctor in Sierra Madre who has not given that amount to humanity, either in uncollectible bills or in fees which he knew beforehand he never would get.

Realty Firm Will Hold Open House

The firm of Andrews and Hawks will keep open house at their new office building on West Central Avenue next Monday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The office is now completely finished and W. S. Andrews and J. N. Hawks will be on hand to show their friends their conception of what a real house should be like.

This specimen house is only intended for use as an office building. But it is cleverly arranged and the system of adobe construction which they have worked out in conjunction with the Buchan Brothers, cement contractors, can be shown to good advantage. And its adaptability to a home becomes readily apparent.

The new building is constructed of adobe bricks made from a fine clay deposit near the Henszey place. The tile roof and other effects secured by Architect R. M. Finlayson give the early Spanish effect.

Both the Andrews and Hawks families were among the Sierra Madre pioneers. Mr. Andrews came from Hartford, Conn., so it was natural that he should begin selling insurance almost at the start. Mr. Hawks' father, the late A. D. Hawks, was one of the town's first real estate dealers. The present firm have been in business about 12 years.

Ole Hanson to Move Office Soon

The office room at Baldwin Ave., and Kersting Place is being redecorated by the firm of Wheeling & Hill and will be occupied in the near future by the Ole Hanson real estate organization. They will make it their Sierra Madre headquarters, the main office being in the Pacific Finance Bldg., Los Angeles. Their local office has heretofore been in the small office at the corner of Sierra Madre and Live Oak. But with the acquisition of property interests in so many parts of town it was found necessary to have a central office in the business district.

Several new additions of visiting guests from out of town are here, among them Mrs. Long, Mrs. James Ackland and Mr. Al Wolfert from Los Angeles. Long Beach is represented by Mr. W. Karpes, who is highly appreciative of the beauty of the hills surrounding Sierra Madre.

What Other Editors Say

HONOR TO HIM

Upland News: Upland citizens will regret to learn that Leonard Puehler, pioneer citizen, was seriously injured this morning when he fell from a ladder as he was climbing to the roof of the Colonial Theater building. Mr. Puehler, as men go, is a rare exception. Thirty years ago, he worked for $1.50 a day and simply through his day's work and economical procedure not only owns the business property occupied by Puckett's Ford agency, Colonial Theater, Howe Tip-Grip Company, Colonial Confectionery, and Hermes Bros. Tailor shop today, but he and Mrs. Puehler have reared and educated five children.

All honor to Mr. Puehler and to Mrs. Puehler as well, for a man can't accomplish what Mr. Puehler has done without the loyal assistance of his wife.

TIME TO RETIRE

Claremont Courier: A recent issue of the Times makes a statement anent "the revolution that has been raging quietly in Honduras." Which reminds me of the time I was somewhat annoyed by a gentle tornado that blew a lock of hair into my left eye.

BOISTEROUS LANGUAGE

Hemet News: A professor of English in the University of Iowa says slang is an exhibition of the boisterous in language. He intimated that a little boisterousness now and then is relished by the most sedate of English professors. He acknowledged himself as being so stuck on the term "dumb-bell," that he deplored the fact that it was originated by a low brow instead of a professor of English. Its expressiveness, he thinks, entitles it to entree into the very best of philological society.

Other professors evidently make the same estimate of the language. Dr. Robert A. Milliken, a Nobel prize winner and internationally known physicist, is found easily falling into vigorous American vernacular in an address before the American Chemical society at Los Angeles.

Pleading against over-assertiveness and dogmatism in science as well as religion he advised his learned audience that "we are completely up in the air" and "we must not bite off more than we can chew."

We know without being told that the professor's hearers got him right off the reel.

WHY MODERN DISPOSITIONS ARE NOT WHAT THEY WERE

Are dispositions getting worse every year, as some of the old timers declare? If so, here may be one reason for the grievance.

There are nearly twice as many telephones in the United States as in all the rest of the world together. Out of a total of 24,576,121 telephones in use throughout the world on January 1, 1924, there were 15,369,454, or 63 per cent, in the United States of America. Europe had 6,390,765 telephones on that date, or 26 per cent of the world's total.

The remaining 2,815,902 telephones comprising 11 per cent of the whole, were scattered throughout Asia, Africa, Oceania and the western hemisphere outside of the United States. While we had in this country one telephone for every seven people, in all other countries there was but one telephone for every 185 inhabitants.

To Have Charge of Chamber Lunch

The Parent-Teacher Association will have charge of the Chamber of Commerce luncheon next Tuesday noon, furnishing both the meal and the program. The luncheon will be served on the Hoover lawn on Churchill Road, and the place will be duly marked so that those who are not familiar with that part of town cannot miss it. It is expected a speaker from Pasadena will be present.

Police Hold Man in Cafe Robbery

Nick Platon is being held on suspicion of burglary at the city police station, having been arrested by police officer Keegan Wednesday afternoon upon information which alleged that he had entered the Sierra Madre Cafe Monday night and took $25.00 from the cash drawer. The restaurant was entered by means of a pass key and Playton was said to have been in possession of such a key.

Early Tuesday morning Andrew Angel, proprietor of the cafe, notified police authorities that his cash drawer had been robbed and that a number of packages of cigarettes had been taken.
