The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved.

The following communication was read, and on motion ordered to be received and filed:

"San Francisco, California, October 11, 1916.

Mr. T. W. Watson, City Manager, Glendale, California.

Dear Sir—Mr. Ray Hasson has reported that the City of Glendale has an efficient dairy inspection department except laboratory facilities but that arrangements have been made with a very competent bacteriologist, Dr. Griffin, to make the necessary bacterial counts.

We are pleased to approve of the Dairy Inspection Department of the City of Glendale.

Yours very truly,
STATE DAIRY BUREAU.

(Signed) F. W. ANDREASEN,
Secretary.

An application was received from H. E. Betz for permission to do street work by private contract in front of Lots 7 and 8, Block 2, Glendale Boulevard Tract. On motion of Trustee Jackson, the permit was granted.

An application to operate a jitney bus was read from Mr. H. W. Lovelace and was granted subject to the approval of the city manager.

Applications for hunting permits were read from H. W. Hall and C. J. Newcomb. On motion of Trustee Grist, permits were granted with the usual restriction.

A report was read from the city tax collector showing the sum of $680.96 collected during the week, making a total of $1765.20 for the season. On motion of Trustee Grist, it was ordered that a notice to the effect that taxes are now due and are payable semi-annually, be printed four times in The Glendale Evening News and two times each in the Press and Sun by unanimous vote.

A petition was presented protesting against the amount of the assessment as levied against the property of the signers for the improvement of Pacific avenue on the ground of its being excessive. The petition was signed by Mrs. E. Daub and twenty-five others. On motion of Trustee Grist, the petition was referred to the city engineer to check up the frontage represented and to make a report to the board and a hearing in the case was ordered for 8 o'clock p. m., October 26, next.

The clerk read a letter addressed to City Manager Watson from the State Compensation Insurance Fund in reference to a certain warrant and on motion of Trustee Grist, it was ordered that the warrant be paid upon presentation.

City Manager Watson presented a report in detail of the proceedings at the convention of the League of California Municipalities, which he had attended at Visalia. The report embodied a number of valuable suggestions for more effective work in various city departments.

The city engineer made an oral report supplementary to that made by Mr. Watson, agreeing with the former in the opinion that the sessions of the convention were productive of many valuable suggestions, some of which at least might be profitably applied to local conditions.

The engineer made a report on the progress of the improvement of Canada Boulevard.

The city attorney presented a resolution in reference to calling an election upon a bond issue for fire fighting apparatus, which was ordered to be read. On motion, Resolution No. 927 was taken up for reading. On motion of Trustee Grist, the same upon being read was adopted by unanimous vote.

The city attorney reported that the application of the public service department to the railroad commission for extension of time in which to do certain work had been granted, extending the time until 1918.

He also reported that City Marshal Herald who had been appointed to serve notice upon parties having a legal interest in all property affected directly along the proposed line of the opening and widening of Sycamore Canon Road had served such notices upon all but ten of the defendants in the case; the total number of notices to be served being 115. On motion of Trustee Muhleman, the city attorney was authorized to defend the city in case of suit being brought by the trustee of the Knox Automobile company.

The manager of the public service department presented a contract to be executed between the city and the

ANOTHER ARTIST FINDS CALIFORNIA ATMOSPHERE MOST FAVORABLE FOR WORK

Some of the most successful and most widely recognized photographers in the United States have discovered that the California atmosphere was highly favorable to the making of fine artistic photographic work. One of the latest to come to Glendale in search of a suitable location for this work is Mrs. Jessie Cooksey, who has taken a bungalow studio at 1118 Lomita avenue.

Mrs. Cooksey has been in the photographic business all her life, having learned the business in various leading houses in the East. She has a thorough acquaintance with all branches of the photographic business and has a special aptitude for a knowledge of the art of getting full value out of any subject.

Since coming to California, Mrs. Cooksey has been connected with the studio of George Steckelin, Los Angeles, where she held an important position. Five years' experience in that position has made her fully acquainted with the developments of photographic work as regards the field in California. She has installed a first-class equipment in her Glendale bungalow and has an institution that will do credit to the city. Her specialty is children's pictures.

Mrs. Cooksey is installing the new, blue nitrogen lamp system which gives an intense light at any time, and can be used for special effects. She expects to have everything ready for opening on or before Nov. 1.

The Presbyterian heavyweights are as follows: Merle Eckles, re; Johnnie Sharp, le; Orville Williams, rg; Sat Edgerly, lg; Tom Melver, rt; Claude Norton, lt; Davenport, c; P. Jackson, qb; Joe Wilson, fb; Chile Powers, rh; Don Wieman, lh. Substitutes: Barager, Gower, Davis, Prout.

All interested in the welfare of the Glendale teams are requested to come out and help the boys to win the game. The 140-pound team that was to have been entered by Glendale will be entered by the Foothill Athletic club. This is a new organization and those who wish to join are asked to consult with Merle Eckles.

BIRD AND FLOWER CLUB

Members and friends of the Bird and Flower club will meet as usual at Headquarters, 1111 Broadway, tomorrow Saturday, at 11:45, equipped with lunch and note-books. Luncheon will be eaten on the tennis court of Mrs. Ella Richardson, 805 S. Central, Glendale, who has kindly invited the club to spend the afternoon at her residence. The Rev. J. H. Henry, whose interest in birds and young people is well known, will join the happy gathering and bring his lunch in his pocket just like all the other children. Mr. Henry has much of interest to tell the members, and a most enjoyable time is anticipated.

Layne & Bowler Pump company, which was, on motion of Trustee Grist ordered to be read, and upon being read it was ordered that the same be signed by the proper city officials.

The manager of the public service department brought to the attention of the board the matter of the high rate his department is paying to the state compensation insurance fund for the protection of the department's employees. He reported that this amounts to the sum of $74.00 per month or at the rate of $2.60 per hundred dollars of earnings. On motion of Trustee Woodberry, the manager of the public service department was requested to formulate a plan for the carrying of its own insurance by the department.

Mr. J. N. McGillis appeared before the board requesting that on the evening of October 28 when the California Dry forces propose to hold a street meeting at the corner of Brand Boulevard and Broadway, a certain street light be permitted to be extinguished. On motion the request was granted.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Word was received here today that the Japanese government has closed up the Deutsche-Asiatische (German-Asiatic) bank in Yokohama. The bank at one time did a large business between Yokohama and Kiao-Chau, the former German concession in China. Since the Japanese captured Kiao-Chau and took over the German possessions there the German-Asiatic bank has been suspected of intriguing in China.

In the satchel was found a long, murderous-looking knife.

There is now a fairly open road to the Bulgarian defenses around Monastir. Fierce and sanguinary fighting is expected there.

USING THE LIBRARY

MRS. DANFORD PREPARES FOR LITERARY SECTION — INSTRUCTION FOR STUDENTS

Experience has taught the librarian of Glendale public library that many people do not know how to use the library properly. Students, for instance, will come to a library and look for books to aid them in their studies and will waste time hunting for them in the wrong places. A little instruction in this art, for it is a great art, that of knowing where to look for your literary material, makes it easy for the student to find instantly all the best books on any subject.

The librarian is anxious that every school teacher should know that this aid is offered and that Mrs. Danford will be glad to assist both teacher and student in every way so that they may learn to use the books in the library to the best advantage. In this way students, scholars and teachers alike would profit.

Mrs. Danford is willing to instruct teachers in the use of the catalogue and has even promised to make up an index to the library for the use of teachers. A teacher of an ungraded class has asked permission to come to the library and to bring her class along so that the scholars may learn about the use of the library.

Teachers who are desirous of availing themselves of this privilege will be shown by Mrs. Danford the ten general classes into which the books in the library are divided and will also be taught the use of the Reader's Guide and shown the location of the different classes of books in the library. With this instruction they should be able to find any book they want.

The following list of books was made up for the use of the ladies of the Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club. These books were found on the library shelves and such as were not there were ordered. As soon as the new income of the library is available the remaining books that are wanted will be ordered; but just at present they will have to wait.

GARDEN LOVERS MEET

GLENDALE GARDEN SOCIETY HOLDS SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL AT THIRD STREET SCHOOL

The first social meeting of the season of the Glendale Garden Society was held last night in the Library of the Third Street school, otherwise known as the Intermediate, and was a pronounced success. Forty members and friends chatted and made merry, introductions were the order of the evening, and a spirit of good comradeship and sociability pervaded the atmosphere. Mr. and Mrs. Salo Desky brought with them a huge bouquet of wonderful dahlias which were greatly admired. The informal talk on Iris culture given by Professor Houdyshel proved most instructive and illuminating; it made us all want to go right away and buy loads of all kinds of irises. The poor man's orchid the iris is called; and the individual who cultivates half a dozen varieties in his garden will never lack for bloom all the year round. This talk, in view of the two silver cups to be presented by the society in March for Iris, was most timely, and we thanked Professor Houdyshel for his valuable advice.

A rare musical treat followed. Mrs. William Herman West sang two exquisite songs, especially selected to suit the floral tendencies of the society; these songs were rapturously received. Mr. Herbert Henning accompanied Mrs. West in his most sympathetic mood. Miss Susine Wests then astonished and delighted her audience with her wonderful violin playing; perfect technique and deep musical expression marked this most unusual treat. Miss Gertrude Champlain proved a charming accompanist.

Tea, served in the Domestic Science room, added the last touch to a most enjoyable evening. Many new members were added to the ranks of the society, and many were the expressions of friendly interest and loyal co-operation.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

G. O. P. Followers now have some campaign badges too. The new pins reproduce the whiskers and dignity of Judge Hughes, the Republican candidate. Several Wilson supporters are wearing these Hughes pins with $ marks added in ink, showing that they believe Hughes to be the candidate of Wall Street.

Although Mr. Howe heard the lecture made by Mr. Benson, Socialist Candidate on Wednesday evening he appeared unshaken today in his stand for the G. O. P. One of Mr. Howe's hobbies is pointing to the political flop of Harvey's Review of Reviews. He declares, however, that he is open to reason if Wilson's backers can produce the goods. They declare they will do so.

The business part of Glendale was stormed and taken yesterday by the T. O. C. Entering Spencer's candy store on Brand boulevard, each member purchased six "jaw breakers." They then retreated to the school.

A most unfortunate accident befell Jamie Shea, last year a student of Glendale High, while engaging in a football skirmish Wednesday afternoon at Tournament Park, Pasadena. Blocking the flight of a swiftly moving football, he received a broken nose. He was carried from the field. Jamie Shea was born in Dublin, Ireland, in 1894. His father was an Irishman, as was also his grandfather. After completing his grammar school education he took up his studies in Glendale Union High school, and graduated in 1916. Many friends mourn his mishap.

Mr. Houdyshel's physics class is getting some honest to goodness problems in practical mechanics. Mr. Richardson has turned over the machines in his department to the physics students who are very busy calculating their mechanical advantage, loss by friction and efficiency.

The Robinson Bros. Transfer and Storage Co., 1111 1/2 W. Broadway, purchased a new 1 1/2 ton Stewart truck Thursday, through Verne Hilliard, local sales agent. The Robinson Bros. Transfer now includes in its equipment a 3-ton Garford truck, a 1 1/2-ton Stewart truck and a 1-ton Ford truck, with which to handle their rapidly expanding transfer business.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1916

BIRTHDAY OF PROTESTANT CHURCH

All over the world the Protestant church is preparing to celebrate the birth of that body in the form of the Lutheran church in Germany, on Oct. 31, 1517. That was the day when Martin Luther nailed the famous ninety-five theses to the door of the church at Wittenberg. When it is remembered that there are at least 70,000,000 Lutherans in the various national churches and non-national churches of Europe and America it can be seen that this, in itself an important event, has lost none of its significance in the lapse of centuries. The four-hundredth anniversary of the birth of the Reformation is of sufficient importance to merit a little consideration.

In the United States the Lutheran church has a following of about 5,000,000 people. Headquarters for the celebration of the four hundredth anniversary of the birth of the church have been established in Philadelphia, a fitting location considering the eminent services rendered to the country's religious and political life in colonial days.

Swedish Lutherans landed in the United States in 1639 and one of their pastors, to assist him in preaching the gospel to the Indians, translated Luther's Small Catechism into the Delaware dialect. That was the first translation made into the native tongue of any Indian tribe from a foreign language. It is worthy of remembrance that both the thanksgiving service after the surrender of Lord Cornwallis at Yorktown and the memorial service at the death of Washington, were held by congress in the Zion Lutheran church, for many years the largest church building in the provinces.

Just outside of Philadelphia is buried Pastor Henry M. Muhlenberg, the first organizer of the Lutheran church in the United States, and a father of two sons prominent in colonial history. The one, Peter Muhlenberg, a Major General, who at the beginning of the Revolutionary war organized a regiment from among the parishioners and led them throughout the war, after declaring from the pulpit, "There is a time for all things; a time to preach and a time to fight, and now is the time to fight." The other son, Frederick Muhlenberg, also a preacher, was drawn into a political career and later became Speaker of the First and Third congresses. His statue is one of the two from Pennsylvania in the rotunda at Washington.

In celebrating the quadricentennial of the Reformation it is intended to rouse up the Protestant world to a sense of all that it owes to the teachings and the life work of Luther; to review and restate the principles of the Reformation and to apply them to present day conditions. It is proposed to raise a Jubilee fund of $10,000,000 for church extension, missions and education. A portion of this has already been raised.

Celebrations of various kinds will be held throughout the year and will be closed with large jubilee gatherings on Oct. 31, 1917. All this is interesting and is part and parcel of the history of the Christian church throughout the world. The large number of our fellow citizens who are affiliated with this church give it a vast importance which all the evangelical bodies are ready to acknowledge. The Lutheran church is the church of the greater part of Germany, of Sweden, Holland, Denmark, Norway and in part of Belgium, and it is to be found in every country on the face of the earth. The contribution of Luther to the establishment of the Protestant church has always been gratefully acknowledged by all sections of that church throughout the world.

PREVENTING FOOD WASTE

In view of the threatened shortage of food throughout the United States on account of the demand for wheat and other agricultural products made by the European countries now at war, it is of importance to consider what can be done to utilize the last grain of farm products grown and to prevent the spoilage of foods. The United States Department of Agriculture has lead the way in teaching the farmers what to do with their products so as to obtain the very last ounce of value from them. The development of methods for preventing the spoilage of perishable products has been greatly extended during the past year, according to the report of the Chief Chemist of the department.

It has been found practicable and profitable to separate the departments of supervision of adulteration of food products from the department of spoilage or waste. A laboratory was established to handle the subjects of decomposition and fermentation of food products, spoilage in cheese, butter, cereals, and forage and feeding stuffs.

In addition to these important subjects the whole question of handling eggs has been treated in a satisfactory manner. A railroad car was fitted up with testing apparatus and visits paid to many country districts where practical demonstration was made to the farmers and to their wives of the best means for preserving eggs and of sending them to market in such condition as to get the highest price for them.

Experiments were made by the department in the feeding of poultry and in order to find out the best methods for increase in quality and weight. The department also determined to investigate the sardine packing industry and was able to effect various improvements in the packing of that fish. Methods of utilizing waste matter in the sardine industry were recommended and in co-operation with the Bureau of Animal Industry, the feeding value of fish meal was determined.

Important progress has been made in investigations for the improvement of the methods of manufacture of cane syrup in order to obtain a uniformly bright syrup that will not ferment. The work to improve methods of manufacture of candy, jams, preserves, jellies and marmalades was continued.

In view of the fact that the potato crop may at any time become a failure from various causes, the department has been studying how to improve and harden the seed stocks and experiments are also being made to dry potatoes on a commercial scale for the purpose of feeding stock. Other work on potatoes included methods for the manufacture of potato starch, glucose and dextrin. This work is designed to utilize cull potatoes which are not suitable for food purposes and to provide an outlet for the surplus supply in years of over production.

Investigations for a similar purpose were made in connection with citrus fruits by giving attention to developing methods for manufacturing citric acid, lemon oil, orange juice, orange vinegar and other by-products from oranges and lemons. The department is of the opinion that more economy is necessary in the preparation and handling of all foods in the household. It is certain that strict economy in preparation of all foods will be necessary in view of the rapidly advancing prices.

Personals

J. L. Flower and Thomas Hudson left Thursday of this week for a several days' business trip in the Palo Verde valley.

The absence of James W. Pearson of 1214 Broadway is accounted for from the fact that he has been under the clutches of that very common California affliction, poison oak.

Dr. W. G. Forrester, a prominent physician and surgeon of Pomona, and his daughter, Dr. Hazel Forrester were recent guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. S. Steelman, 1104 W. Seventh street.

The Rev. R. W. Mottern returned Wednesday night from the five day session of the Lutheran Synod of California. There was a large attendance of delegates and much work was done for the advancement of the California missions.

Although kept quiet for a day or two, it has leaked out that John Stuart Whitten of Los Angeles and Miss Mary L. Henry, daughter of E. W. Henry, 616 Brand boulevard, were united in holy matrimony, Sunday morning, at the Methodist-Episcopal parsonage, at 9:30 o'clock. The bride was accompanied by her parents and the bridegroom by two aunts from the East. The newly married couple will reside on Riverside drive.

Arnold Staton, an English artist, who works in pastels, and was well known both in San Diego and Los Angeles and to friends in Glendale, writes to Mrs. Whitaker and Miss Whitaker of 208 W. Ninth street that he has joined the Canadian Engineers for service in the war. Mr. Staton started out some time ago to walk to Vancouver, Canada. He stopped at San Fernando and made a very beautiful moonlight picture of the old mission there. This is now in the possession of Mr. Reginald Whitaker. Mr. Staton, who has seen service before, could not resist the war fever.

BROADWAY P. T. A.

Broadway School Parent-Teacher association held a most successful entertainment at the school house, Thursday, Oct. 19. There was a large attendance of parents and the program was much appreciated. Mrs. Carmichael presided. Mrs. Opal Greenwalt gave a talk on "Membership" which was stimulating and instructive. The prize, a small statue, for the best attendance, was awarded to the ungraded room, under charge of Mrs. Ruckers. Miss Evangeline Quackenbush played some tuneful selections on the violin; Florence Rattray sang with wonderful sweetness "The Perfect Day"; Dr. Merritt gave a most informing talk on "Prevention of Children's Diseases." Miss Ellene Grist, a pupil of the Glendale Branch of the Egan school, gave a reading, "Between Two Loves," giving the Italian dialect in very good style.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

I intend to start a Spanish class for a reduced number of pupils after November 1. Anybody interested phone Glendale 1410-M or see me at 1532 Oak St. any time between five and six o'clock p. m.

I. O. G. T. LODGE NO. 46

A large attendance is expected at the regular meeting of Lodge No. 46 of the International Order of Good Templars, at the hall, corner of Third and Isabel, Friday, Oct. 20. The usual lodge business will be transacted and then the lodge will take into consideration the question of taking part in the great parade to be held in Los Angeles, Nov. 4. All the lodges in Los Angeles county are expected to aid in having a float. Pasadena and some other centers are to send floats of their own.

RAW CLAMS DANGEROUS

The State Board of Health has issued a general warning not to use clams in an uncooked state, as several cases of typhoid have developed in persons who have eaten raw clams. The board says that this bivalve often makes its habitation near the outlet of sewers, and bacteriological examinations have shown that infected clams may be the cause of typhoid infection.

EGG PRODUCTION

EGGING ON HENS TO LAY MORE EGGS IN WINTER BY ELECTRIC LIGHT

England and Germany may turn their clocks back an hour in order to gain more daylight hours during the summer months and thus add to their economic resources. However it take the ingenuity of Burbank chicken raisers to "go one better" the economists of the old world by providing "daylight" for their poultry during the winter season.

The field of electricity has extended to the chicken industry by lighting the hen houses during the dark, early winter mornings and thereby stirring the hens from their inactive molting period to an egg production equalled only by summer activity.

Here are the facts: The novel idea of providing a twelve hour day for hens instead of the much discussed eight hour period of labor was put in actual profitable practice by C. H. Kline, a scientific poultry raiser, residing at Walnut and Eighth street, Burbank, where he has a model poultry ranch on which he has approximately 8000 chickens.

Kline first installed lights in his hen houses the first of the year. At that time, scientific electricians declared his efforts to increase egg production by the electric light method would fail. This did not deter the wiring and lighting of the hen houses on the Kline ranch. Every morning for the balance of the winter season forty watt tungstens flashed out electric sunshine in the hen-houses from 3 a. m. until sunrise.

Every day for the first three weeks the egg production of the hens was increased. Then the maximum of increase seemed to have been reached. The maximum increase in two weeks time paid for the installation of the lights.

This winter season Kline has 150 lights in use to increase the egg production. According to his figures, the increased production amounts to $25 daily. His light bill is less than $1 a day. Kline is making science force his hens to lay eggs when the price for that commodity is between 50 and 60 cents a dozen.

The four extra hours of "daylight" increases the egg production during the winter season by 35 to 50 per cent, depending entirely on other scientific elements entering the poultry business. Plenty of sunshine, proper feeding, and good laying stock are the principal factors in securing the maximum increase.

An example of what electric lighting will do in increasing egg production is shown in the experiences of Forsythe and Craig, former partners in the chicken raising business in Burbank. The partnership was dissolved and the poultry on the ranch was divided as evenly as possible with regard to laying hens.

Electric lights were installed on the Craig ranch hen houses. Egg production averaged 1100 daily. Forsythe had not installed the lights. His hens laid between 600 and 700 eggs a day. It took Forsythe but three weeks to decide on installing lights. Forsythe was the third large chicken raiser residing in Burbank to use electric "sunshine."

Irving Sherlock residing at Sixth and Cedar streets adopted the system but recently and reports an increase of $16 a day in egg production. Miss Plant of Eighth street between Providencia and Verdugo avenues has had the hen houses on her ranch wired only two weeks and already a good increase is reported. W. Fulton at Eleventh and Verdugo is installing lights for the hens on his ranch.

There is, of course, one argument against the increased production by the use of extra hours daylight. The laying life of the hen is reduced. Yet the number of eggs produced is practically the same. Less food is consumed. The increased production comes at the season of highest prices. And in the language of a merchant, stock is turned into cash more rapidly and at greater profits.

It is expected that chicken raisers all over the country will adopt the Burbank method of egg production. True, it is novel, but if you think it is impractical, call at any of the ranches mentioned and be convinced, that the new method is a success.

Mrs. Gervaise Graham of Chicago, manufacturer of the Mrs. Gervaise Graham Ladies Toilet Preparations left Sunland last Saturday after a stay of nearly three months at the Tavern. Mrs. Graham is very familiar with Southern California and she believes the climate of Sunland, with its altitude of 1500 feet and its wonderful sunny days, free from fog, to be the ideal spot for anyone afflicted with lung or throat trouble or asthma. She thinks the place should surely be advertised as a stranger could scarcely be convinced that there could be so near the coast, a place of so few fogs and the absence of extreme heat during the summer. Miss Graham goes to Los Angeles for a short stay then to Redlands before returning to her home in Chicago.

The members of the First Baptist church were pleased at the good attendance at church both morning and evening Sunday. Special music in charge of Professor Maygrove was enjoyed. Rev. Wister is a fine speaker and you will hear something interesting and helpful in all his sermons. Every student should have heard his discourse on Education on Sunday night. Let us have the support of the entire community in building up the church in this place. Help by your attendance.

Frank Begue is in the hospital in Los Angeles being treated for blood-poisoning resulting from a scratch on his hand.

Mrs. William Blumfield is confined to her home with the grip.

The fishing will be good next year. Twenty thousand trout was taken up the Tunjuna canyon and distributed in the river by Eustace Rowley and Bert Spencer from Ubarros to Hoyts, and by Chapen and Osburn of the Pine Cliff club farther on up the river. These fish came from the state hatchery at San Bernardino.

Mrs. Helps and daughter from Long Beach are at the Tavern this week.

Mr. Schmidt of Los Angeles is spending a few days hunting in Sunland. He is a guest at the Tavern.

Boys do not kill the mocking birds. They were entirely driven from the valley last year by the boys' guns. This year they have come back and their cheerful whistles are enjoyed by all.

FIND NUTS A HUNDRED TIMES OLDER THAN PYRAMIDS

Among the fossils recently discovered by the United States Geological Survey, Department of the Interior, are remarkably well preserved impressions or casts of leaves of several extinct varieties of ash, oak, beech and hickory, which were found, along with three present-day species, in states bordering the Gulf of Mexico. Although the leaves themselves have rotted and gone, here and there were some buried in soft clay by sediment in such a way as to leave perfectly preserved impressions. The nuts, on the other hand, neither decayed nor petrified, but fell into pools of stagnant water, which is one of the best preservatives in nature, and sooner or later were also buried under silt and clay. Owing to their hard coats, those which fell into places favorable to their preservation are today in excellent condition, though slightly flattened by the long soaking and the gentle pressure of the clay. The deposit in which the leaves and nuts are found is not less than a million years old, or at least a hundred times as old as the pyramids of Egypt.

MINERAL DEPOSITS IN EASTERN NEVADA

Twenty-nine mining districts in Eastern Nevada are described in a report recently issued by the U. S. Geological Survey, department of the interior, as bulletin 648, "Notes on Some Mining Districts in Eastern Nevada," by J. M. Hill. These districts are widely scattered through an area extending from the northern part of the state to the extreme southern part, in southeastern Clark county. Not much has heretofore been known about the geological features of the ore deposits in these districts, because they are relatively inaccessible or undeveloped.

Silver, lead, copper and gold are the principal valuable metal found, but tungsten and bismuth also are known to occur. Many of the deposits were found in the early sixties, when the rich oxidized ores were worked, but others have since been discovered from time to time, valuable ore bodies having been found as recently as 1911.

According to this report most of the ore deposits occur in sedimentary rocks that border intrusions of granites or porphyries. Gold and silver are found in Tertiary volcanic rocks of other parts of Nevada, but only one deposit of precious metal—a free-milling gold ore—has so far been found in such rocks in this region.

The report is chiefly a record of facts, most of which are of local and practical interest. It is intended as a guide to those who wish to know something of the geologic occurrence, character and stage of mining development of the ore deposits in the districts examined.

FOR ARMENIAN RELIEF

President Wilson recently issued a proclamation to the American people appointing Saturday, Oct. 21, and Sunday, Oct. 22, as joint days on which the people of the United States may make such contributions as they feel disposed for the aid of the stricken Syrian and Armenian people. In obedience to this proclamation, the Federal council sends out a message on behalf of the Churches of Christ in America, urging prayer, sympathy and sacrifice. This information and the literature concerning it only reached the Rev. B. D. Snudden late this week and although the churches will be called on to subscribe for the relief of the perishing Armenians and Syrians, and are hereby called on so to subscribe, the notice being so late, the time for receiving subscriptions will be extended for another week, during which Mr. Ed Lee, of the First National Bank, will act as treasurer and will receive subscriptions.

Out of an Armenian population of two millions 750,000 have been massacred or have died of wounds, disease or exhaustion. One million are destitute. One hundred thousand Syrians or more are reported to have perished in the Lebanon district alone.
