Better Empire News Services Are Aim of Nations' Premiers

Leaders at the Conference in London Appoint a Commission to Consider Development of Communications Throughout the Empire.

London, July 7.—Sharp criticisms of the paucity and slowness of communications by steamship, aeroplane, telegraph and wireless between Great Britain and the Dominions were voiced at Tuesday's session of the Empire conference, at which a decision was reached to appoint a commission to consider the development of communications throughout the Empire.

Premier Hughes of Australia made an unfavorable comparison between the British wireless service and the German installations that were in operation before the war, as well as those at present existing in the United States.

He said the United States was conducting wireless services to Great Britain, France, Norway, Japan and Germany and was arranging to cover other fields. He declared the United States was daily radiating in every direction, not only United States news but United States concepts of world events, and instanced the transmission of such news to China, which he said formed its opinion of the British Empire, Germany, while Great Britain did nothing.

Canada. Premier Meighen said that while Canada had cause to complain that Australia and New Zealand, her exchange of news with Britain was unsatisfactory.

Winston Spencer Churchill, Secretary for the Colonies, spoke sympathetically regarding these complaints. "There is no doubt," he said, "that the United States is able to collect its news on a vast scale, and having been paid the cost of this collection by internal circulation, it can afford to dump news into other English-speaking countries."

Japan Alliance to Be Debated Again at London Conference

Meighen and Others Declare Covenant of League of Nations Requires Notice Terminating Agreement Be Given at Once.

London, July 7.—(By Grattan O'Leary, Staff Correspondent of the Canadian Press)—Despite the decision of Lord Birkenhead, Lord Chancellor, that the Anglo-Japanese treaty will remain in force until twelve months after such time as the Foreign Office may serve notice of its desire to denounce it, Premier Meighen and other opponents of the alliance in the conference of Prime Ministers are unwilling to let the question rest.

It is understood they have determined to bring the matter up again some time next week and are confident that as a result of the representations they propose making steps will be immediately taken toward giving the twelve months' notice of termination of the treaty.

The ground upon which it is believed they will base their case is that the Chancellor's explanation ignores the crucial point in the whole matter, namely, Article 20 of the League of Nations Covenant.

Under that Article members of the League severally agree that this Covenant is accepted as abrogating all obligations or undertakings entered into by any member of the League which are inconsistent with the terms thereof, and undertake to take immediate steps to procure their release from any obligations inconsistent with the terms of the Covenant which they may have undertaken before becoming members of the League of Nations.

For Conference. When Lord Birkenhead first gave his opinion that Lord Curzon's note did not constitute denunciation and that the treaty would therefore continue in force, there seemed to be a disposition to let the question stand pending efforts to have a disarmament conference on the Pacific.

Opponents of the alliance, however, appear to have arrived at the conclusion that with the treaty in force it will be much more difficult to bring about a conference than would be the case if Great Britain and Japan were to announce their intention to terminate the treaty's termination. Hence the determination to urge the notice of abrogation without further delay.

Major Bruno Crusius, tried on a similar charge, was given a sentence of two years in prison and forbidden to wear the German uniform.

General Stenger was commander of the Fifty-third German Infantry Brigade and Major Crusius held a command under him. Major Crusius asserted at the trial that an order had been given by General Stenger that no prisoners should be taken and that wounded men should be killed.

General Stenger in his testimony flatly denied these accusations. The verdict rendered in the case of Major Crusius was one of manslaughter.

Dr. Schmidt, president of the Supreme Court, in announcing the acquittal of General Stenger and the conviction of Major Crusius, declared that an experienced officer like Crusius should have known General Stenger was incapable of giving such an order.

It has not been established that Stenger gave the order of which he is accused," said Dr. Schmidt. "The executions, which undoubtedly occurred, can not be imputed to him."

Crusius was not responsible for his actions on August 28, owing to mental derangement, but on August 21 he knew quite well what he was doing," said Dr. Schmidt. "The actions of Crusius were due to negligence. He thought Stenger had given the order to finish off the wounded and prisoners. An experienced officer like himself, however, should have known Stenger was not capable of giving such an order."

During the course of the trial Dr. Serneau, an alienist, testified that Crusius had been sent home from the front a nervous wreck and repeated-ly had told him that "his whole complete collapse was chiefly due to the ghastly scenes witnessed on the battlefield incident to General Stenger's men and prisoners."

25.7 Miles ON ONE GALLON OF GASOLINE

That was the record made yesterday afternoon by the LIGHT-SIX in its striking demonstration of gasoline economy—a test publicly held and carefully checked by observers in every detail.

In this test the main gasoline line was disconnected—a one-gallon bottle, attached to the side of the windshield, was filled with gasoline, and the car driven continuously until its one-gallon supply was exhausted.

The speedometer reading told its own story of economy at the finish of the test—it showed that the LIGHT-SIX, on this single gallon of gasoline, had traversed 25.7 miles.

The results of this demonstration confirm our most optimistic claims for the LIGHT-SIX as a car of exceptional economy.

DEBATED DIVISION OF GERMAN FUND

Empire Prime Ministers Discussed Reparation Details

London, July 6.—The conference of Prime Ministers of the Empire today grappled with the problem of reparations.

Under the decision reached by the Allied Supreme Council, the Empire will receive 25 per cent. of whatever Germany pays, 55 per cent. going to France and the balance to Belgium, Italy and the other Allied nations. The task now confronting the conference is to fix a basis upon which the amount to be collected by the Empire shall be apportioned among its different parts.

This, it is being found, involves no little difficulty because a basis that might work advantageously for one Dominion might prove unfair to another. Thus, for example, if loss of shipping were to be made the basis, the Mother Country, which suffered so heavily in this respect, would get practically everything and the Dominions practically nothing. Capital investment in pensions was suggested as a guide, but inasmuch as the pension scales in the various Dominions differ to a considerable degree, as well as the reasons for the payment of the pensions, this, too, had to be abandoned.

The subject was discussed from every possible angle to-day, the representatives of all the Dominions making suggestions and each, quite naturally, advocating a system calculated to bring the largest amount to his own country.

No decision was reached, but it is understood that it is not improbable that the amount will be determined by expenditure and the number of casualties. This, it is believed, would be satisfactory to Premier Meighen, as in view of Canada's comparatively heavy sacrifices, both in blood and treasure, it would ensure the Dominion receiving a fair share of whatever amounts are paid over.

As to what amount it may be possible to collect from Germany, that, of course, is an entirely different matter. Sir Robert Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, who addressed the conference on the matter, requested that his words be held confidential, but there is good reason for stating that he was not over-optimistic of any great sum being realized. The conference in the afternoon discussed the question of communications.

STEEL CORPORATION REDUCES PRICES

New York, July 7.—The United States Steel Corporation yesterday announced another cut, the second since April 12, in selling prices for its finished products, and correspondingly with existing prices of competitors.

Chairman Gary also announced that, beginning July 16, the Corporation will abrogate the so-called "basic" or "overtime" day which was put in effect during the war as an emergency measure. This amounts to a further 10 per cent. wage approximately ten per cent.

The action taken by the United States Steel Corporation is in line with that inaugurated in the few days by the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, the Republic Iron & Steel Company, the Lackawanna Steel Company and many of the smaller producers.

These figures, of course, are only an approximation, but they furnish the best estimate that can be arrived at short of a complete census.

WHITE SLAVERY CONVENTION ENDS

Geneva, July 7.—The international convention on white slavery closed here without having placed resolutions on the white slave traffic in its minutes. A three-fourths majority would have been necessary for the adoption of the regulation proposition.

U. S. TARIFF LAW DISTURBS FRENCH

Paris, July 7.—The French Government has forwarded to M. Jusserand, French Ambassador in Washington, for transmission to the State Department there, a protest of the French Chamber of Commerce against the provision of the new United States tariff law calling for inspection by United States agents of the books of French exporters for the purpose of determining the ad valorem duty to be collected by the United States.

French exporters are said to be greatly disturbed over this feature of the tariff measure, and declare that under no conditions will inspection be tolerated. It is pointed out that such a privilege as the United States law requests is not accorded even to the French Government, except in the case of the French, in their protest, say they are willing to give to Treasury Department agents full statements on which the ad valorem duty can be based.

What little I ate seemed to do me more harm than good, and at times even a whiff of food cooking made me sick. There were days when I scarcely ate a bite of anything. Rheumatism got me in its clutches, too, and my legs hurt me so that every step I took was agony. Then a rash broke out all over my face.

OTTAWA, July 7.—(Canadian Press) Baron Byng of Vimy, Canada's new Governor-General, will be asked to receive a gathering of the men who served under him on the opening day of the Central Canada Exhibition here. The matter was approved, on a suggestion from the retail merchants at a meeting of the exhibition directors last night. The Mayor of Ottawa will be asked to proclaim a half holiday for the occasion.

Lord Byng will be notified of the plan at once and if he agrees to the reception, the G. W. V. A. and the citizens of the city will be asked to co-operate in organizing a monster parade and in getting returned men here.

It was proposed that the Dominion Government should be asked to provide for the out-of-town veterans during the twenty-four hours they would have to be in the city.

OFFICIALS SEIZED GOLD ON VESSEL

Buenos Ayres, July 6.—Confiscation of gold valued at $10,000 aboard the American steamer Boston Bridge prior to the departure of that vessel for New York was announced by the customs authorities, who declared that they thereby had frustrated an attempt at clandestine shipment of gold in violation of the decree prohibiting its export.

The money will be divided, in accordance with practice, among the customs employees who discovered it.

WINNIPEG PRINTERS.

Winnipeg, July 7.—A report made to a meeting of the Trades and Labor Council Tuesday night that the Winnipeg Typothetae had dissolved is incorrect, according to S. F. Bentley, secretary of the Winnipeg Typothetae. "If the organization had been dissolved it is news to me."

GREAT BRIDGE AT SAN FRANCISCO

Oakland-San Francisco Structure Is Planned

San Francisco, July 7.—The bridging of San Francisco Bay is perfectly feasible, John Vipond Davies and Ralph Modjeski, tunnel and bridge experts of New York and Chicago, respectively, stated here in forecasting the contents of a report they completed yesterday and submitted to authorities to-day. They said the construction cost would be high, but expressed the opinion that it would be warranted from an economic standpoint.

The proposed bridge would extend from San Francisco to Oakland.

CLASSIFICATION OF FREIGHT RATES

Representatives of Boards of Trade and Railways Meet

Regina, July 7.—The first meeting of its kind ever held in Canada took place in Regina yesterday when representatives of Western Boards of Trade and the railway companies met in the board of trade offices to commence preparation of a new classification of freight rates. The Board of Trade members conferred with railway officials on the matter, and at two sessions held they accomplished a considerable amount of preliminary business. The meeting was a closed one and no statement as to what was accomplished was given to the press, although it was announced that when some definite decisions were reached between the railroad men and the board of trade representatives a detailed statement would be issued.

Meetings of a similar nature to the one held here will be conducted throughout the Summer and Fall in various points throughout the West, while in the East, members of Eastern boards of trade will conduct similar meetings. If any points of difference arise, the Eastern and Western provinces will confer upon the disputed points.

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of fifty years ago, whoever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force, and energy, in the sense that it is used to-day? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideas of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Platinum, Arsenic, Talc, Shipped by B. C. Mines

Four hundred dollars' worth of platinum, most valuable of all minerals, was mined in British Columbia in the Similkameen district, during the last year, according to information gathered by the Department of Mines here under the Hon. William Sloan.

"The well-known fact of the wide occurrence of platinum throughout the Province in connection with our placer gold give reasonable hope that such may be found in payable quantities and justifies further investigations," the Department says in a statement on the mineral.

Arsenic to the value of $22,000 has been produced and shipped during the year by the Nickel Plate Mine.

Near Victoria 100 tons of talc have been mined and ground. A large demand for this product is reported.

No Molybdenite Recently.

Since the armistice there has been little demand for molybdenite, concerning the discovery of which in British Columbia there was excitement during the war. The result is that there have been no shipments of molybdenite recently from British Columbia mines.

The market for chromite ore, of which 800 tons were shipped from the Mastodon claim, Grand Forks, and from Scottie Creek, Clinton, in 1918, has also collapsed, and there have been no recent shipments.

Much Epsom Salt.

The Hill 60 property at Cowichan Lake has shipped nearly 600 tons of manganese ore, running over 50 per cent. silica. To prevent interruption to its operations through bad roads in the winter, the company has installed an aerial tramway.

About 1,100 tons of Epsom salt, or magnesium sulphate, have been shipped from deposits of this material near Clinton. Other Epsom salt shipments have been made recently from Spotted Lake, Osoyoos.

Large deposits of hydromagnesite have been reported near Clinton, and are attracting considerable attention, but no shipments have yet been recorded.

For Hydrofluoric Acid.

The Sullivan mine in East Kootenay has mined and shipped to Trail, 4,300 tons of iron pyrites.

About 7,500 tons of fluor spar concentrates have been shipped from the Rock Sandy group, Grand Forks, owned by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co. The property is now equipped with a concentrating mill in which about 20,000 tons of ore have been treated, producing nearly 7,500 tons of concentrates, carrying about 87 per cent. calcium fluoride and 6 per cent. silica, having a total value of about $175,000. The mineral is shipped to Trail, and is used for making hydrofluoric acid, used in lead refining.

In order to "avoid any friction" with the Textile Workers' Union, the Lancaster, S. C. cotton mills, employing 1,800, will close next week for an indefinite period.

POLICE AND COURT COMMITTEE PLAN

Canadian Chief Constables Hear Suggestion

Montreal, July 7.—Friction that sometimes exists between the police and courts of justice was dealt with by Chief of Police Pierre Belanger of Montreal in an address on the "police department and its relation to the courts of justice" before yesterday afternoon's session of the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

"I am convinced," he said, "that much trouble in this connection could be smoothed away by the establishment of a permanent standing committee, consisting of a certain number of police magistrates, judges of special sessions, members of the police department and district attorney's offices, meeting at stated times for the purpose of discussing court procedure and practices to the end that closer and more efficient co-operation between all branches of the law enforcement organizations may be effected."

Wireless Stations.

A suggestion for the establishment of wireless stations throughout Canada under the control of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was made by Chief Newton of Winnipeg.

Election of the following officers for the coming year resulted as follows: President, Chief Thompson, Windsor; First Vice-President, Chief Belanger, Montreal; Second Vice-President, Chief Newton, Winnipeg, and Secretary-Treasurer, Chief Stein, Brantford.

TUBERCULOSIS WAS DISCUSSED

Medical Practitioners Met in Halifax

Halifax, July 7.—Sessions of the fifty-second annual convention of the Canadian Medical Association were concluded here last night with a largely-attended public meeting, at which the chief subjects of discussion were tuberculosis, infant mortality and mental hygiene. Two papers touching on a variety of matters connected with the ravages of and remedies for tuberculosis were read by Dr. F. A. Miller, of the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, St. John's, and Dr. E. B. Jones, of Montreal. The latter paper, under the heading of the "Spread of Tuberculosis from New Aspects," had been prepared by Dr. T. A. Starkey, of Montreal.

Dr. Miller's paper was entitled "Institutional Treatment of Tuberculosis and its Limitations." Addresses on a variety of technical subjects occupied the medical and surgical sections of the convention during the afternoon.

NEW AUSTRALIAN CUSTOMS RECORD

Melbourne, July 6.—Sir Joseph Cook, the Commonwealth Treasurer, in announcing the results of the past financial year, which ended June 30, said a record had been created during the past twelve months in customs revenue, which yielded $160,000,000, or $30,000,000 above the estimate made at the beginning of the year.

This amount might be slightly reduced, however, after making allowance under the recent court decision on the computation of foreign exchanges which entitles certain importers to a refund.

In discussing probabilities for the coming year, Sir Joseph said it was not anticipated that the customs receipts would equal those of the past year. The reason for this, he said, was that the period of abnormal importations had passed and already a decline was noticeable.

CHILD WANDERED NEARLY A WEEK

Youngster Found Exhausted in Saskatchewan

Regina, July 7.—Weak and exhausted but still alive, three-year-old Emma Kotsie, of the Hazelwood district, who was believed to have been shot and killed by her thirteen-year-old brother Joe, was found alive by neighbors lying in the bush 100 yards from her home yesterday. She is believed to have wandered in the bush since last Thursday. After her disappearance her brother told police officers he had killed her and thrown her body in a slough.

EARL OF BANDON STILL HELD BY IRISH RAIDERS

Belfast, July 7.—Although numbers of police and troops are scouring the country in search of the Earl of Bandon, who was kidnapped at Bantry, County Cork, June 21, when his residence, Castle Bernard, was burned, no trace has so far been found of him. It is believed here that the place of his detention is changed daily, and that he is being held as a hostage for the safety of some condemned "republicans."

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Christian, of Canby, Mo., are happy again. Their fourth set of twins arrived to greet five singles. "We'll welcome the fifth pair of twins," says Mr. Christian.

LEOPARD CAUSED EXCITEMENT ON VESSEL AT SEA

San Francisco, July 7.—A leopard released from its cage on the forward deck of the Pacific Mail liner Granite State, which arrived here yesterday from Calcutta, created excitement among the passengers while the liner was at sea, according to passengers and crew of the vessel. The animal broke loose during a storm and was recaptured after it had been locked in the officers' messroom.

The vessel carried a collection of wild animals valued at more than $200,000 which are to be distributed among eastern zoos and to motion picture firms.

When the Leipzig Court commenced its sessions it looked as if Germany was about to make an attempt to punish the real culprits guilty of violations of international warfare.

WOMEN SUCCESSFUL AS CATTLE JUDGES

A striking feature of the post-war agricultural shows in England is the rise of women to authoritative positions in connection with these events.

This year the innovation was made at the Northamptonshire show of asking a woman to judge cattle. She was Mrs. Brown, of Haydon Hill, Aylesbury, Bucks, who judged the British Friesians, in which she is a recognized expert. At the Suffolk County Show Mrs. Evelyn, of Dorking, judged Jersey cattle. Women are to rule in the judging ring at several future shows. Women are chosen now almost exclusively to direct butter-making contests and judge the products. To the astonishment of great numbers of visitors in the show yards, comparatively frail girls are now seen leading massive bulls before the judges, the powerful animals waiting round

Fieldhouse, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Mansell, Mr. Jones, Mr. Fletcher and the consolation winners: Mrs. Rieve, Mrs. Brockington, Mr. Roush, Mr. Geise, while Mrs. Watson won the title. District Deputy Supreme President Sister E. Stevenson presided, and the committee included Mrs. King, Mrs. Fieldhouse, Mrs. Gorton and Mrs. Coleman.

Dr. Sipprell united in marriage Wallace Athol Peirce, senior wireless operator of the Empress of Russia, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Peirce, of Lake Hill, and Miss Amy Marguerite Winkler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winkler, of Lake Hill. The bridegroom has been for seven years with the Marconi Company, and in 1915 served on the Empress of Russia between New York and Liverpool. The church was prettily decorated with greenery and sprays.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a pretty wedding gown of ivory satin adorned with lovers' knots, with conventional lace and blossom. She was attended by two bridesmaids in pale pink organdie, Miss Winnie Winkler, her sister, and Miss Hazel Peirce, her sister-in-law. The flower girl, Miss Constance Winkler, the flower girl, was in lavender organdie.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 125 Claremont Street, where Mr. H. Pike, 125 Claremont Street, after a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, Prince Rupert and through Alberta, Mrs. W. A. Peirce will make their home in Victoria.

All fetes were well patronized, the chief of the weather smiling on these efforts in a charitable cause.

MRS. NICHOL OPENED DELIGHTFUL FETE AT ESQUIMALT

Nearly $400 Netted by Garden Party at Mrs. Croft's Residence

Glorious sunshine flooded the lovely old gardens at "Mount Adelaide," the home of Mrs. Henry Croft, yesterday afternoon, and lent its benign charm to the garden fete arranged for the benefit of the funds of the Esquimalt Chapter, I. O. O. E. Under its influence hundreds of visitors enjoyed the sylvan beauty of fine old trees, velvet lawns and Summer blooms in wonderful profusion, the music of the 16th Canadian Scottish Mess. orchestra, providing the finishing touch to a delightful affair.

Opened by Mrs. Nichol. The fete was opened shortly after 3 o'clock by Mrs. W. C. Nichol, who was charmingly gowned in pale lavender tulle and white lace, with a white ruffled collar and cuffs, and a white ruffled waist. She was presented with a quaint early Victorian bouquet of varied flowers surrounded by a stiff frill, little Miss Macdonald making the presentation. Similar bouquets made by Miss Alice Pooley were sold during the afternoon, reaping much profit for the funds.

Although the number of stalls were few, their setting had been chosen with much care. Under a natural arbor formed by a huge laburnum tree, Mrs. Nathaniel Shaw, Mrs. A. S. Barton, assisted by the Misses Phyllis Barton and Bea Wolfenden, sold delicious candy in containers made by Miss Kathleen McIntyre. Dainty novelties of fascinating variety were sold at a rose covered booth in charge of Mrs. Watson, Mrs. J. S. McCullum and Mrs. T. McPherson. Mother Goose, whose stiff black hat and quaint costume held the identity of Miss Donough's doll toys and dolls in a huge cradle decorated with wild spruce and roses; delicious home cooking disappeared quickly from the table. In charge of Mrs. G. McFavish, Mrs. Scott Ritchie, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Francis and Mrs. G. Sisman.

Winners of Contests. A beautifully decorated three-tier cake in charge of Mrs. Hatcher, and a lovely doll made by Mrs. Croft and in charge of Mrs. Clark, were many guesses, the winners being as follows: For the doll, Mrs. Andrew Wright; for the teddy bear, Miss Mona Miller and for the cake, Mrs. Nell McIntyre, of Dunsmuir Road.

Afternoon tea was served in the rose garden, this feature being under the direction of Mrs. W. H. Belson, Mrs. Lock, Mrs. Hazen Ritchie, Mrs. T. C. W. Mrs. Booth, while Mrs. Riley and Miss A. B. Cooke read the tea cups. Mrs. Youngman, Mrs. Winsby and Mrs. Wilson had charge of the ice cream.

During the afternoon a number of visitors played tennis, while bridge was also in progress in the house. Altogether the affair netted in the neighborhood of $400.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT. THE SINGING WITCH. Part II. That day as she sang at her work Alda knew that her voice sounded like the singing of the witch she had heard one day in the palace of the King and she could not leave her work to find it. But as she sang she heard the clattering of horses feet and soon there drew up beside the field where she was working two horsemen mounted on black horses and behind them a coach drawn by four white horses. "We are sent by the King to bring all the young girls of the land to the palace that he may find one whose voice is as sweet as that of a bird," said one of the men. "Leave your work and get into the coach." Alda obeyed without a word, but when they drove up to the door of her home her stepmother and Bebe flew into a rage and told her to get out. "You are a pretty looking object to go to the palace of the King," said her mother. "Your sister is the one to go because she can sing, while your voice is fit only to call the cows from the pasture." But the King's messengers told the stepmother that they were ordered to bring every girl and the King would judge who was the best; the clothes they wore did not matter. So off they rode, poor Alda in her field clothes, while Bebe was dressed in her best dress of satin and lace. Many were the singers that appeared before the King, but at last Alda and Bebe were brought into the royal presence, and Bebe being bolder stepped in front of her sister and curtsied to the King. But when she opened her mouth to sing, instead of sweet tones there came forth harsh, shrill cries like those of a wild bird in flight. The King and all who heard quickly clapped their hands over their ears and Bebe was hurried away from before the King. Alda, trembling with fright at what she had heard, curtsied and began to sing so softly that the King had to lean forward to listen, but she soon forgot her fright and let out her voice all its beauty and all who heard stood spellbound with admiration. "Have you ever noticed how polite the trees are? They always bow before leaving." The Wisconsin Octopus.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? Facts About Your Name: Its History, Its Meaning, Whence It Was Derived, Its Significance, Your Lucky Day and Lucky Jewel. By Mildred Marshall. Copyright, 1921, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc. MONA. Mona has the unusual distinction of being a diminutive of a name whose original form is not in usage. It means "little nun" and is affected, it would seem that Monacella, the original form, should be the diminutive rather than Mona herself. Monacella is a Welsh name, meaning honey-colored, or yellow. It was first made famous by Saint Monaca, a little nun who saved a hare hunted by Broccman, Prince of Powys. She is buried near Painswick, Monmouth, and for that reason she is sometimes called Saint Melangell. Mona is a distinctly modern appellation. The original name was never transported from Wales, but Mona proved extremely popular in the English and is also much in vogue in this country. For some curious reason it is considered rather affected, and is much used by romantic young ladies. The opal is Mona's talismanic gem. Contrary to superstition it will bring her good luck, for the machinations of the wicked fairy said to be imprisoned in the stone will be directed toward her good fortune. Tuesday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number.

EXIT BETTY

By
Grace Livingston Hill
(Mrs. Lutz)

Author of "The Search," "Marcia Schuyler," "The Enchanted Barn," etc.

Betty was still panting from her climb, still trembling from her flight, and she stood obedient and meek while the other girl pulled and shook and brushed and patted her into shape again. When all was orderly and adjusted about the crumpled bride, the girl stood back as far as the limits of the tiny room allowed and surveyed the finished picture.

"There now! You certainly do look great! That there band of flowers round your forehead makes you look like some queen. 'Coronet'—that's what they call it! I read that once in a story at the Public Library. Say! Just to think I should pick that up in the street. Good night! I'm glad I came along just then instead of somebody else! This certainly is some picnic! Well, now, give us your doggie. It must've been pretty stiff to make you cut and run from a show like the one they got up for you! Come, tune up and let's hear the tale. I rather guess I'm entitled to know before the curtain goes up again on this little old stage!"

The two tears that had been struggling with Betty for a long time suddenly appeared in her eyes and she drowned them out and in dismay she brought out a faint little sorry giggle of apology and amusement and dropped on the tiny bed, which filled up a good two-thirds of the room.

"Good night!" exclaimed the hostess in alarm, springing to catch her. "Don't drop down that way in those robes! You'll finish 'em! Come, start up and we'll get 'em off. You look all in. I'd oughta-known you would be!" She lifted Betty tenderly and began to remove her veil and unfasten the wonderful gown. It seemed to her much like helping an angel remove her wings for a nap. Her eyes shone with genuine pleasure as she handed the hooks deftly.

"But I've nothing else to put on!" gurgled Betty helplessly.

"I have!" said the other girl.

"Oh!" said Betty with a sudden thought. "I wonder! would you be willing to change clothes? Have you perhaps got some things you don't need that I could have, and I'll give you mine for them? I don't suppose perhaps a wedding dress would be 're-usable' unless you're in the habit of getting married soon, but you could make it over and use it for the foundation of an evening dress—"

"You don't mean you wanta give up?" she said in an awed tone. "You'd give me some of my old rags for it?"

"I certainly would!" cried Betty earnestly. "I never want to see these things again. I hate them. I have things I want to get away somewhere. I can't go in white satin! You know that! But I don't like to take any of your things. I'd like to have you think these things would be worth anything to you? You weren't thinking of getting married yourself some time ago, were you?"

"Well, I might," said the other girl, looking self-conscious. "I got a gentleman friend. But I wasn't expecting to get in on any trosso like this! She got her finger moved by the satin hem as if she had been offered a plum of the angel's wing. "Sure, I'll take it off you if I've got anything you might have in exchange. I wouldn't mind havin' it to keep just to look at now and then and know it's mine. It'd be something to live for, just to see you had the dress in the home!"

Suddenly Betty, without any warning even to herself, dropped upon her knees beside the diminutive bed and began to weep. It seemed somehow so touching that a thing like a more dress could make a girl glad like that. All the troubles of the days that were past went over her in a great wave of agony, and over her soul, in soft silk and lace petticoat and camisole with her pretty white arms and shoulders shaking with great sobs she buried her face in the old patchwork quilt that her hostess had brought from her village home, and gave way to a grief that had been long in growing. The other girl now thoroughly satisfied with the satin on a chair and went over to the little stranger, gathering her up in a strong embrace, and gradually lifting her to the bed.

"You poor little kid, you! I oughta know better! You're just all in! You ben gettin' ready to be married, and something big's been troubling you, and I bet she never gave you any lunch—er else you wouldn't eat it—and you're just natcherally all in. Now you lie right here an' I'll make you some supper. My name's Jane Carson, and I've got a good mother out to Ohio, and a nice home if I had sense enough to stay in it; only I got a chance to make big money 'fore I knew, and I ain't hard-hearted, if I do know how to take care of myself. There! There!" She smoothed back the lovely hair that curled in golden tendrils where the tears had wet it.

"Say, now, you needn't be afraid! Nobody'll getcha here! I know how to bluff 'em. Even if a policeman should come after yeh, I'd get around him somehow, and I don't care what you've done or ain't done. I'll stand by yeh. I'm not one to turn against anybody in distress, s'y mother always taught me that. After you've et a bite and had a cup of nice tea with cream and sugar in it you'll feel better, and we'll have a real chin-fest and hear all about it. Now, you just shut your eyes and wait till I make that tea."

Jane Carson thumped up the pillow scientifically to make as many of the feathers as possible and shifted the little flower-bed upon it. Then she hurried to her small washstand and took a little iron contrivance from the drawer, fastening it on the sickly gas-jet. She filled a tiny kettle with water from a faucet in the hall and set it to boil. From behind the curtain in a little box nailed to the wall she drew a loaf of bread, a paper of tea and a sugar-bowl. A cup and saucer and other dishes appeared from a pasteboard box under the washstand. A small shelf outside the tiny window yielded a plate of butter, a pint bottle of milk and two eggs. She drew a chair up to the bed, put a clean handkerchief on it and spread a cloth on the table. In a few minutes the fragrance of tea and toast pervaded the room, and water was bubbling happily for the eggs. As cozily as if she had a chum to dine with her she sat down on the edge of the bed and invited her guest to supper. As she poured the tea she wondered what her co-laborers at the factory would think if they knew she had a real society lady visiting her. It wasn't every working girl that had a white satin bride dress upon her suddenly this way. It was like a fairy story, having a strange bride lying about her. She eyed the white silk ankles and dainty slippers with satisfaction. Think of wearing satisfactions made of silk and real lace!

It seemed to Betty, as if never before in all her life she tasted anything so delicious as that tea and toast and soft boiled egg cooked by this wonderful girl on a gaslight and served on a chair. She wanted to cry again over her gladness at being fed, but she didn't seem after all the trouble she had had through. It couldn't last! Oh, of course it couldn't last!

This thought came as she swallowed the last bite of toast, and she sat up suddenly.

"I ought to be doing something quick!" she said in sudden panic. "It's getting late and I must get away. They'll be watching the trains, perhaps. But I don't know how to get away. Give me some old things, please, I must get dressed at once."

"I'll do it for you first and tell me who you are and what you're getting into. I can't do a thing for you until I know I've got to go into this with my eyes open. I won't stir one step," she declared firmly.

Betty looked at her with wide eyes of trouble and doubt. Then she doubt suddenly cleared away, and trust broke through.

"I can trust you, I'm sure! You've been so good to me! But it seems dreadful to tell things about my family, even to one who has been so kind. My father would be so hurt—"

"Your father? Where is your father? Why didn't he take care of you and keep you from getting into such big trouble, I'd like to know?" The blue eyes clouded with tears again.

"My father died five years ago," she said. "But I've always tried to do he would want to have me do. Only, this—I couldn't."

FIVE TEACHERS ARE APPOINTED

But School Board Defers Most Important Appointments

Five teachers were appointed to the graded schools of the city by the School Board last night. The teachers appointed were: Miss Eleanor C. Haddock, Miss Nellie Dill, Miss Violet Hastings, W. D. Knott and Miss Eva M. Haverstock.

The resignations of Miss Edna Henry and W. Whiddmore, of the High School staff, were received by the trustees. Miss Henry has been a teacher in the High School for some fifteen years, and the Board expressed keen regret at her departure to assume a position on the mainland.

Appointment of a new principal for the Central School and of six teachers to fill vacancies on the staff were deferred until a new Municipal Inspector can be named. This may be done near the end of the month, it is hoped, as the Board plans to delay appointments also because it wishes to find out first how large the classes will be at the commencement of the Fall term.

E. Fairley, Building Superintendent, was granted special leave of absence without salary in order that he may study technical education. Trustee Mrs. Andrews asked whether it was legal for the School Board to allow any official leave of absence with salary.

Sick Headache? Adler-i-ka!

"I was bothered with headache and gas on the stomach for a long time. After taking Adler-i-ka two mornings before breakfast, I am feeling good." (Signed) Mrs. Pauline Kallen.

TAKES UNUSUAL ACTION IN COURT

North Cowichan Corporation Sued for Alleged Failure to Prosecute

Joseph Moon, North Cowichan, commenced proceedings yesterday in an unusual case for action, taking a writ against the North Cowichan municipality for failure to prosecute his neighbor, S. C. Redgrave, for alleged offenses triable by summary and indictment measures. The action arises out of a dispute between two returned men of Cowichan, who took up land under the Land Settlement Board, upon adjoining properties. Disputes followed with offensive and counter-offensive measures alleged. The writ against the municipality for this cause is one of the first cases of the kind to occur in this Province for many years. The endorsement of the writ reads:

"The plaintiff's claim is against defendant for breach of the statutory obligation of defendant to prosecute one Redgrave, accused of an offence triable summarily, by reason of which neglect plaintiff and members of his family and household have been subjected to intimidation and insult by the said Redgrave, and have suffered damage accordingly, and also for the recovery from the defendant of moneys paid by the plaintiff on behalf of the defendant, under protest, for the prosecution of one Redgrave, an offender triable upon indictment."

Messrs. Barnard, Robertson, Heisterman and Tall are acting for the plaintiff, with Alexander Maclean for the Cowichan municipality. The writ was issued in the Supreme Court yesterday.

Two Vessels of Large Tonnage Building in England for Osaka Shosen Kaisha

SHIPPING NEWS FROM DAY TO DAY

Aerial Postman Arrived To Find No Mail Here

Japanese Officers of Liner Hawaii Maru Under Erroneous Impression That Mail Contract Had Expired; Eddie Hubbard Awaited Arrival of Montague.

When Eddie Hubbard, the aerial postman, swooped down to his landing stage in the Inner Harbor at 9:30 o'clock this morning to connect with the arrival of the O. S. K. liner Hawaii Maru, inbound from the Orient, he found that no mail was consigned to Seattle via the air route.

Unaware of Renewal.

The Japanese were under the impression that the air mail service had been suspended, and the ship's officers were totally unaware of the fact that the air mail subsidy had been renewed without interfering with the flying-boat's schedule, hence the misunderstanding and the absence of mail bags for the flyer.

The Hawaii Maru carried the usual mail, but no effort had been made to segregate the aerial mail.

Waited For Montague.

Eddie Hubbard shrugged his shoulders and nonchalantly wended his way toward town after seeing that his flying boat had been securely moored. He did not relish the idea of returning without the customary mail commitment, and after consulting with the shipping officials, Eddie decided to await the arrival of the C. P. O. S. liner Montague, which made port early this afternoon from the Far East.

Hubbard usually sets out on his return flight immediately after the transfer of mail has been effected, but on this occasion he had plenty of time on his hands and proceeded to look up his friends in the city.

Fine Landing.

Hubbard made a beautiful landing in the harbor to-day. He reported an uneventful air passage.

SAILING CANCELLED TO PERMIT REFIT

Liner Empress of Scotland to Be Completely Overhauled Before Entering Service

Word has been received at the Canadian Pacific Railway ticket offices here of the cancellation of the initial sailing of the liner Empress of Scotland from Quebec for Liverpool scheduled for August 11.

The sailing is cancelled by the decision of the C. P. O. S. to completely refit the former German liner before she is placed in the Canadian service. Before being purchased by the C. P. O. S. from the Reparations Commission, the Empress of Scotland was the German liner Kaiserin Auguste Victoria. She is a vessel of 16,000 tons and is superbly appointed in her passenger accommodations.

In view of the fact that the completion and refitting of ships in the United Kingdom has been delayed for several months by strikes, the announcement by the C. P. O. S. of the cancellation of the scheduled sailing of the Empress of Scotland to permit her complete refit, is significant. The passengers booked by the Empress of Scotland from Quebec will be taken care of by other ships of the fleet. Georges Carpentier, the French pugilist, had booked passage by the Empress of Scotland from Quebec.

R. M. S. EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND

The Blue Funnel liner Talthybius will dock here about 5 o'clock this afternoon, according to the latest report before going to press. She has a general cargo of Oriental merchandise and Chinese steamer passengers.

While here the Teucer will hoist the new auxiliary yawl Cho Cho San from the dock and lower the trim sailing craft into the water. The Cho Cho San is owned by Commodore L. A. Genge, of the Victoria Yacht Club.

HAWAII MARU IN FINE TRIM AFTER SURVEY AT KOBE

Osaka Shosen Kaisha Liner Made Port This Morning From Japan

In the best of trim following extensive overhaul at Kobe the Japanese liner Hawaii Maru, of the Osaka Shosen Kaisha, reached port early this morning after a passage of fourteen and a half days from Yokohama. The Hawaii Maru was lying for six weeks at Kobe, where she was surveyed and considerable repair work incident to her reclassification was effected in the engine-room. The ship reached quarantine at 4 o'clock this morning and was given prompt dispatch by the medical staff at William Head. Capt. T. Suruga reported a fine voyage.

Light Cargo. An unusually light cargo was brought in by the Hawaii Maru, there being but 2,000 tons on the ship's manifest consigned to ports on this coast. Included in the through freight to be discharged at Seattle was a consignment of 2,000 bales of raw silk and 400 cases of silk goods, totaling 300 tons.

The Oriental freight was apportioned as follows: For Victoria, 70 tons; for Seattle, 500 tons; for Tacoma, 1,600 tons.

Few Passengers. Owing to the fact that the liner Africa Maru left Japan shortly ahead of her, the Hawaii Maru had very few passengers. She carried a total of 69 passengers, including 3 cabin. One cabin and 21 steerage passengers called ashore here. Eight cabin and 39 steerage passengers were routed to Seattle. There were no Chinese passengers aboard.

The Hawaii Maru cleared for Seattle at 10 o'clock this morning. She has a full cargo awaiting her on Puget Sound for her return trip to the Orient.

MONTEAGLE IN PORT FROM ASIA

C. P. O. S. Ship Docked This Afternoon From Hongkong and Yokohama

Shipping into the Straits ahead of the Blue Funnel liner Talthybius, the Montague, of the Canadian Pacific Ocean Services, Ltd., made quarantine at 1 o'clock this afternoon after a good Pacific run.

Talthybius followed the Montague out of Yokohama harbor, and is expected to dock here about 5 o'clock this afternoon.

After passing quarantine, the Montague headed for the Outer Docks, and was tied up about 3 o'clock.

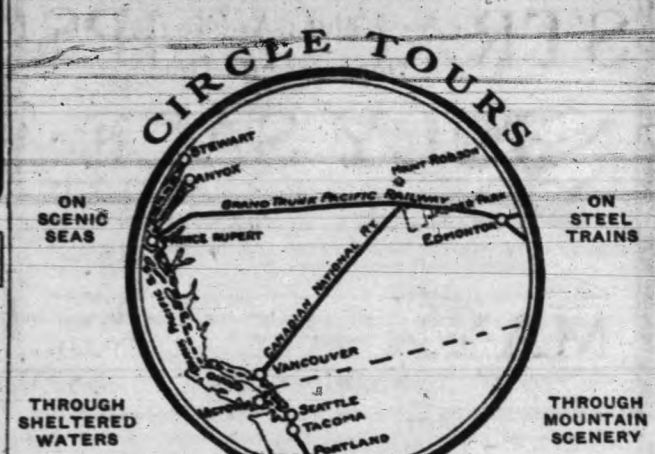

The liner made the Pacific stretch in fourteen days and carried a fair list of passengers from various parts of Asia. Capt. A. J. Hosken, R. N. R., told of an uneventful voyage, which differed greatly from the last outward trip of the Montague, when the C. P. O. S. boat rescued the crew of the steamer Hainan off the Lam-mocks in the China Sea.

Some passengers and mails were landed here by the Montague before she proceeded to Vancouver.

NEWS IN BRIEF
Bank Clearings.—The bank clearings for the week ending July 7 were $2,452,114, as compared with $2,480,243 in the corresponding week of 1920.
Fire at Cadboro Bay.—A slight blaze at The Glen, Cadboro Bay, near the Oak Bay municipal limit this afternoon at 1.23 o'clock gave the fire department a run to the scene, when the flames were easily controlled.
Lecture.—"A Great Gift by a Great Initiative" will be the subject of a lecture to be delivered on Sunday at eight o'clock at the Rostreucian Fellowship Hall, 324 Pemberton Bldg. The public is invited. There will be no collection.
Condition Unchanged.—Inquiries at St. Joseph's Hospital this afternoon elicited the information that the condition of W. J. Taylor, K. C., is unchanged. Following a lengthy illness, Mr. Taylor was taken to the hospital on July 4, where his condition is now spoken of as being as well as can be expected.

Oak Bay Taxes.—Tax receipts of the Oak Bay municipality to July 1 of this year totalled $161,459, or 12 per cent. in excess of the corresponding period last year. On July 1 a five per cent. penalty was added for non-payment, and on October 1 ten per cent. penalty will be in force for delinquents. Clerk Ross reports that last year was a record one for the tax receipts, and that this year shows similarly promising.

Columbia Lodge.—The officers of Columbia Lodge, No. 2, I. O. O. F., for the current term were installed last evening in regular form by Bro. A. P. McConnell, D. D. G. M., and suite, and are as follows: P. A. Burgess, N. G.; J. May, N. G.; Dewar, sec. sec.; W. Jackson, fin. sec.; H. W. Adams, treas.; C. W. Stocker, war.; G. Somerville, con.; W. Johnston, O. G.; G. An Educational Centre.—Victoria as an ideal educational centre is one of the claims which the Victoria and Island Development Association will feature in a special booklet which will be extensively circulated. The clean, wide streets, open spaces and beautiful surroundings, healthy climate and the absence of stumps are among the advantages which will be pointed out. It is the intention of the Victoria and Island Development Association to co-operate with the leading schools already established here to make Victoria an educational centre similar to Marlborough, Dulwich, Bedford, and Bexhill-on-Sea, which latter city in many ways it resembles, and other cities of England.

Police Business.—H. Green, charged with soliciting patrons for a hired car by shouting at the boats, was remanded until Monday next in the police court to-day, upon the statement made by C. L. Harrison for the prosecution. Mr. Harrison stated that he understood that there had been some agreement between ex-Chief Langley and Deputy Chief Palmer, whereby the accused thought shouting for patrons was permissible, while it is really a contravention of the by-law covering that phase of municipal regulations. George Eke, pleading guilty of a charge of speeding on the George Road recently, was fined $15. Constable Allen, who made the capture, stated that the accused had been travelling 49 miles an hour with several passengers in a Drive Yourself car.

REAL "BLIND" PIG MAY BE SEEN AT LAKE HILL
Mr. and Mrs. F. Barnes were hosts to a party of friends at their home, "Croftacres," Union Avenue, Lake Hill, on Sunday afternoon. About forty-five persons took advantage of the fine weather to journey out and spent most enjoyable afternoon. Mr. Barnes showed his guests over his farm and stock; the long rows of loganberries being very much admired. There are in fine bearing condition and a bumper crop is assured. This is one of the largest collections of these plants gathered in one place on Vancouver Island.

Incidentally the mystery of the "Blind Pig"—a very genuine blind pig—was solved, and the thirst of the expectant guests had perforce to be abated by recourse to drinks of a "softer" nature. Mr. Barnes is the possessor of two litters of fine young pigs; one of these litters contains a fine healthy young boar who came on this—earthly scene minus both ears. This event has aroused great interest in agricultural circles, being considered unique by pig breeders, and certainly without parallel in this Province.
The afternoon passed pleasantly in games, sports and other amusements; a dainty "al fresco" meal being served by the host and hostess.
Community singing led by the Community orchestra brought to a close what was voted by everyone to be a memorably enjoyable outing.

Naval Men To Meet.—The Esquimalt Naval Branch of the G. W. V. A. will meet at 8 o'clock to-morrow night at the G. W. V. A. headquarters, Bastion Square.

TRUSTEES DECLARE FOR DRASTIC ACTION
Puzzled by the report of the special investigators who have just completed a probe of the Victoria High School, the City School Board last night decided to hush the matter up until it could meet the investigators and get them to explain their recommendations. It had been announced at the School Board office yesterday that last night's meeting of the Board would be public but, instead, the Trustees met in secret before the regular meeting and opened the investigators' report. As the public apparently could not understand it very well they decided to defer action.
Matters had been arranged in private so that the public consideration of the report was purely formal and teachers and other people who attended to listen to the Trustees' discussion of school affairs were disappointed. The report was not read. It was pointed out by Trustees that the substance of it had been printed in last night's issue of The Times, but it was decided that the public could not be trusted with the document in full at present.
The discussion during the public meeting was stated to be purely formal as the report had been thrashed out in camera. After the meeting however, Trustees explained that they were greatly puzzled by the report. While the investigators, as announced in these columns yesterday, strongly censured members of the High School staff and declared that the school's discipline and morale were in a very serious state, they recommended that no dismissals be made at the present time.
Trustees Are Puzzled.
Under these conditions we don't know just what to do, one Trustee explained. "They say everything is bad and criticize the principal and members of the staff and yet they don't recommend dismissal. What they think we should do we don't know. That is why we propose to defer action until the investigators before going further."
Trustees who were questioned all declared emphatically that they intended to act vigorously to change conditions in the High School. The fact that they had met in secret, they said, did not mean that they were attempting to smother the investigation and so avoid dismissal of the school. On the contrary, they were determined, they said, to remove the cause of the present trouble and for that reason wanted to discuss the matter further with the investigators. This plan is to get the investigators to state definitely what should be done—what teachers should be dismissed, in fact—to put the school back on a proper basis.
Dr. Alexander Robinson, the Principal, and one other member of the High School staff, waited to hear the result of the Board's deliberations last night but, of course, waited in vain.
Defer Action.
It was apparent from the stars that the Board did not intend to do anything at the meeting.
Secretary W. F. C. Pope had only finished reading a letter from the Department of Education, enclosing the investigator's report when Trustee Beckwith sprang to his feet with: "There's no use having the report now if we aren't going to deal with it."
Suggests Conference.
"I move," he continued, "that, in view of the fact that the investigators have made numerous recommendations to the Board for the future conduct of the school and, having thought the matter over to some extent among ourselves, believing it would be desirable if we can, to have a conference with the two gentlemen who acted on the commission, that we ask for a meeting with them to see if general matters fully with them regarding their recommendations and then the report can be dealt with."
"I second that motion," said Trustee Riddell. "I feel I would like a little more information if the gentlemen would be willing to give it to us. It is a serious matter, as I said in the first place, and requires serious thought and consideration."
This motion was carried without comment or a dissenting voice.
Secrecy a Report.
The Board was forced to declare itself on the question of secrecy when Mr. Pope asked: "Is the report a public document or is it not?"
"What is the pleasure of the Board and information gets out, I don't

A Famous Agent of Economy
Not so long ago the elasticity of the family budget was in many cases entirely unequal to the strain put upon it and the question of ways and means of making "ends meet" was sufficient to drive the average head of a home or of a business into a nervous breakdown. Happily, however a solution was found!
The solution was the classified advertisements!
The classified advertisements came into their own!
In that not-so-long-ago-time the little paragraphs were used occasionally and no one got their full value. But in the crisis they proved up and they are now recognized as an ever present aid to economical buying. There is nothing to-day in the human wants that cannot be found in the classified columns and there is no more effective way of securing what you want than through the classified columns.

With regard to it?" asked Chairman Raynor.
"We have not taken it up to deal with it until we have got further information," said Trustee Riddell.
"How can we take any action till the report is considered?" asked Trustee Mrs. Spofford.
"Being a non-political body there can be no talk," Trustee Beckwith assured the Board. "Everything will be in confidence in the report until we are ready to consider it."
"Mind Readers."
"Sometimes our friends of the Press are mind readers or something like that," said Mr. Beckwith. "I don't know how," said Mr. Beckwith. "The gist of the investigators' report appeared in The Times to-night for that matter."
Mrs. Coffey-Johnson, while not prepared to divulge the report, complained about The Times article on the subject which appeared last night. "The substance of the article was admitted, was correct but she did not like the headline which was printed with it."
"The only thing we have between now and the report is the Department of Education wants it. It can get the report to the Press."

VARIETY

Just because one is a film star, and an emotional one at that, is no reason why one should not be interested in things domestic as it were. At least so says Pauline Frederick, the Robertson-Cole star, who will be seen in "The Mistress of Shenstone" at the Variety Theatre to-day, and since she is the acknowledged superior of emotional actresses on the screen, she must know.

Not only does Miss Frederick know how to make delicious salads and sandwiches, but she designs practically all of her own gowns and hats, and recently added to her accomplishments by creating unique art objects for milady's boudoir. The piece of resistance, is a sofa cushion in the shape of a huge flower basket. Best of all it appears filled with flowers. Not really, truly ones of course, but Victor Fleming. When choosing bright musical numbers, Fredrick, Eddie Shannon, Katherine Keeler and George Le Guere, who appeared in the stage version, to journey to their original roles in the screen production. Kenneth Harlan is Constance's leading man.

In addition to the feature Miss Eva Hart, so well-known to Victoria audiences, will render in her usual artistic style two songs "A Little World of Love" and "The Last Rose of Summer." A very funny comedy, and Screen Snapshots making up the balance of a good entertainment.

STOCK COMPANY IN ANOTHER SUCCESS

"Stubborn Cinderella" is Bristling With Fun

The Mildred Page Players added to their large circle of friends in Victoria yesterday by their able presentation at the Princess Theatre of the bright, vivacious musical comedy a "Stubborn Cinderella," which is entertainingly punctuated with amusing situations, snappy dialogue, and bright musical numbers.

There was a good house to greet the players and the special favorites were all given a chance to add to their laurels in a play which distributed evenly the work of distribution. Miss Mildred Page appears in the stellar role of Lady Leslie, a young Peeress, who is the Stubborn Cinderella. In sufficient praise to say for Miss Page that she took the important part with her usual charm. Miss Page had several songs, but in "I've lost my heart, but I don't care," she made her greatest hit and responded to several encores.

As Lois, a college girl, the admired of all the college boys and who finds herself in several amusing entanglements as the result of her even distribution of favors, Miss Genevieve Berkeley had a part to fill which gave her ample scope for her talents as a comedienne and she took full advantage of it.

James G. Coats, Lee Jaxon, W. J. Campbell, as college boys, Mac, Skeeter and Pat, respectively, keep the audience in a continual state of merriment with the boisterous humor of young students. Mr. Coats is the hero of the piece and a popular hero with the audience, and is followed by the enthusiastic applause. Byron Aldenn only makes two short appearances, once as a cad and once as an enchanter. The fact that Mr. Aldenn is busy with the duties of directorship is the only feature which would reconcile the audience to him making such brief appearances on the stage.

Charles W. J. Street. He will sing among the brightest spots of the play.

Elizabeth Lisle capably acted the part of Lady Evelyn, the exciting aunt of the young peeress, and Arthur Elton as the joint guardian, Col. Hunt. Robert Thom, in the parts of "Chief" manager and a sculptor, Thomas Fadden as a pullman porter, and also as president of the college, complete the outstanding parts.

A Dainty Chorus. College boys and the dainty chorus did their share in making the comedy such a success. A special word of praise is due to the chorus. Miss Page has enrolled a well balanced chorus of dainty artists who can also sing and act quite refreshingly. Hear a musical comedy chorus in which each individual was not including in the usual harsh efforts to be heard above her partners. They were a great assistance to Miss Page and the rest of the cast in putting over their songs in the bathing chamber. "Don't Teach Me to Swim Alone" and an Indian chorus with Mr. Coats they shared in two great successes of the evening.

Can the soul of a dead girl come back to comfort those left desolate by her going?

It's a pretty thought that provides the theme for "All Souls' Eve," the Mary Miles Minter Royal production at the Dominion Theatre to-day. The whole play is laid around a beautiful Irish legend that comes to life in a most interesting way. The contest will begin promptly at 11 o'clock and it will continue until the button is found. The button-holder will walk briskly back and forth, and around the block. He won't hesitate, so nab everyone you meet.

DOMINION "ALF'S BUTTON," ENGLAND'S BEST

To any of us "Me and My Mate" brings back thoughts of other days of mixed emotional feelings. On the whole, however, one must admit that there were many phases of army life that were not only happy but at times distinctly amusing. Just how amusing they might have been had a more possessed Aladdin's lamp is very cleverly told in the Hepworth play "Alf's Button," coming to the Pantages next Monday to Wednesday.

To be understood by pretty ladies and placed in a nice warm bath would have been sensation "par excellence" had it followed the order "hot baths in Aberfeldy Street—inspector Aladdin's lamp." Such was nearly the experience of Private Alf "Iggins of the Blankety Blanks, who had been issued with a tunic having a button on it made from the brass of Aladdin's lamp. His slave, "Abdukin-Allah," who appears at the slightest rub of the button has many surprises in store for Alf and this excellent film portrayal of them is a scream from beginning to end. It is the joy of prince and peasant alike, for the Prince of Wales had a private copy of it with him on the Renown and the streets of England are crowded with people who go to see "Alf's Button" and come away aching from their laughter. One can predict that this will be repeated when it is shown at the Pantages Theatre, the management of which is to be congratulated upon its capture.

There are approximately 75,000 factories employed in Detroit factories a year ago.

Will Appear at Pantages Soon.

Alf, and his mate didn't mind the Oriental trimmings that Eustace, the genie, delivered with the bath, but when harem beauties started to help, but English was not in their repertoire. The incident is one of the thousand laughs in "Alf's Button" which will come to the Pantages Theatre Monday. It is declared to be the greatest comedy triumph of the motion picture art. It is an all-British film.

COLUMBIA PRESENTS NOTABLE FEATURE "MANON" GIVEN IN AID OF VETERANS

An Excellent Musical Show; Change of Programme To-night

The Columbia Theatre management has realized the fact that the public appreciates vaudeville as a set-off to pictures, and week by week at this popular picture house we see an improvement in the turns presented to the public.

During the past three days G. C. Eckhardt, who belongs to a well-known family of entertainers and has shown in "Western Canada" for many years, has delighted his houses at the Columbia with a one-man musical show occupying thirty minutes each night. Versatility is the keynote of Mr. Eckhardt's performance which goes connectedly with a swing from end to end. Mr. Eckhardt, one firmly believes, could produce a sequence of notes from almost any inanimate object. He cleverly manipulates the banjo while playing in the one-stringed fiddle and the violin and plays popular airs on the automatic harp. His performance includes several excellent impersonations and he patters on without a hitch hardly interrupted even by the applause which is recurrent throughout the performance.

To-night on Friday and on Saturday evenings Mr. Eckhardt is to stage an entire change of programme in the form of a musical comedy. The new programme is "Manon," a musical comedy in two acts, written by the author of "The Bottom of the World," and also as president of the college, complete the outstanding parts.

There is keen excitement over the coming button hunt to begin at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in the Dominion Theatre.

Boys are warned that they must stay at the sidewalk. They will not rub the button holder in the road, if anyone does happen to ask the right party while he is in the road, that will not answer. So stick to the sidewalk.

TOUR WILL OPEN IN CANADA AT MONTREAL SEPT. 12

Marie Lohr Will Play Four Representative Parts in Dominion Tour

The first announcement of importance in connection with the coming theatrical season in Canada is to the effect that Miss Marie Lohr, the brilliant Australian actress who has made her home in London since the time she was a child, will tour the Dominion under the auspices of Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., in a repertoire of the plays which have won for her an astonishing popularity with the British public.

Miss Lohr will open her season at His Majesty's Theatre on September 12 next and during her visit will appear in "Folies," the drama by Herman Merivale, made famous by Herhardt; in "The Marionettes," Gladys Unger's translation of a delightful French comedy, first presented in England by Sir John Gielgud, for whom Miss Lohr created the role of Fernande de Monclard, the part in which she will be seen here; "The Voice From the Minaret," the romantic drama of the East, from the pen of Robert Hichens, which made a big impression in London last season, and "Clair de Lune," one of the latest of romantic dramas to seize the imagination of the English theatre-goer.

Miss Lohr's career has been meteoric to a degree. She began her life as an actress while a little child, and from her first London appearance at the Garrick, her success was assured. For years she toured with the Kendals, and was one of the most popular and notable members of the company that gathered around those beloved artists.

Associated With Tree As Marguerite in Sir Herbert Tree's production of "Faust" at His Majesty's, Miss Lohr made her first great impression upon a distinctly London audience, and for some years she remained as a prominent member of the Tree organization. Since then she has been seen almost every season in one of the big successes of the year.

Her repertoire for her Canadian tour has been chosen so as to enable her to reveal her broad and versatile art in as complete a manner as possible. It will show her as comedienne, tragedienne, romantic actress and juvenile. She is still very young and has not had the experience of other actresses who have been in her profession, and her intensely sympathetic interpretation of emotional roles have won her the admiration of particularly those of our artists.

The contract with Miss Lohr for the Canadian tour was closed by Mr. George F. Driscoll, general manager of Trans-Canada Theatres, Ltd., shortly after his arrival in London three weeks ago. The repertoire was only settled a few days ago, and is now announced for the first time.

HOW MARION DAVIES STUDIES LIFE

The human imagination is so easily lulled that people buy up fanciful and conventional pictures of motion picture stars that are so far from truth as it is a cubish painting from a picture of a criminal with the usual $25 reward sign under it.

For instance, they picture her stepping into her $20,000 town car after a few hours of flitting upon the studio set and hence her wistful over and an evening of jollity awaits her.

How do they think that she studies all manner of life so that she may portray it on the screen? Of course some stars don't do this thing, and that is why they never give a convincing portrayal of anything.

Such is not the case with Marion Davies, talented young star of Cosmopolitan Productions. She is forever studying different kinds of people and their habits. The International Film Studios in New York City, where she works, lend themselves by their location to much interesting observation. Miss Davies takes full advantage of this. She is to be found on the ever colorful, ever congested, ever noisy 125th Street. Here she has her shoes shined in a funny, dark little Italian shop, where if the appointed shiner happens to be giving a quarrel with his wife he gives her an especially good polish, for he emphasizes every point he makes in the debate with an extra flourish of his brush. Miss Davies returned to the studio the other day with just such an amusing story at the tip of her tongue and wonderful finish on her shoes. And she limited this man to the great amusement of her whole company.

Another of her joys is to visit a funny "museum" of the same street where is advertised in flaming letters,

SUNNY WEATHER TEMPTS HUNDREDS TO THE BEACHES

Wednesday—Half Holiday Makers Enjoy Outings

Picnickers Fortunate in Selection of Date

The ideal picnic weather of yesterday was enthusiastically welcomed by many picnic parties who had made fortunate forecasts in selecting the date for an annual outing, Patricia Bay, Calbro Bay, Deep Bay and Finlayson Arm were the scenes of enjoyable celebrations. In addition to the organized picnics the ideal weather tempted many of the Wednesday half holiday makers to the beaches and Powl Bay, Cordova Bay and other beaches took on their regular Summer aspect. The warmer waters of the Gorge proved popular with those to whom swimming is the major delight of a day outdoors.

At Cadboro Bay. Among the picnickers at Cadboro Bay were members of the Patricia Bay Court Triumph A. O. F., who held their annual outing at the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Rendell. Mrs. Tove and Mrs. Farwood had made arrangements which appealed to the party. Games on the beach and on the green passed the time away merrily until supper time. The delights of a huge barbecue on the beach were tasted after supper until about 10 o'clock.

Other picnickers were the members of the Vancouver Island Bread and Cake Makers' Association and their families who selected Deep Cove. There was nearly fifty in the party and a tallyho and private cars were requisitioned to take the members to their destination. There were no dull moments. Sports were organized and games were played and many of the party went swimming.

Garden City Picnickers. Garden City Methodist Sunday School picnic was held at Patricia Bay with great success. With parents and friends who joined in the outing there was a party of about two hundred. Interurban cars being chartered. The all important races and other sports were entered into enthusiastically by the scholars. Games and swimming and all of the other amusements usually included in a day's picnic on the beach were included in the programme. Both lunches and supper were served by the ladies who accompanied the Sunday School scholars.

Twilight Picnic. Mountain climbing and games during the twilight hours in some of nature's beauty spots were features which helped in the success of the Girls' Corner Club picnic at Finlayson Arm. There were about 100 in the party, the journey being made in tallhops. Some of the party paid a visit to Niagara Canyon, while others prepared for the strenuous exercise by spending their time mountain climbing. A beauty spot by the side of a picturesque stream was selected for the serving of supper.

TRADE SLUMP MAKES THRIFT COME EASIER

New York, July 7.—The most notable effect of the business depression of the last six or eight months so far as thrift is concerned is the increasing ease with which large organizations "sell" the idea of saving to workers who have felt the pinch of reduced pay envelopes. On the whole the tendency to save has gained impetus from hard times, those in close touch with the situation testify.

the percentage of relapses along this line is smaller than in recent years. For instance, the Savings Bank Association of the State of New York has recently compiled figures on deposits and withdrawals in banks in its group for the first three months of the year which show that deposits exceeded withdrawals by $41,357,798. Incomplete reports since March 31 indicate that the surplus in the second quarter will not be so large, but there is always a falling off as the year progresses.

Organizations which sell thrift ideas to industrial organizations are perhaps in closer touch with the thrift tendency in its infancy, and the general consensus among these is that workers are more inclined to set aside regular amounts now than when they were making higher wages.

Effect of Wage Cut

Along this line the story is told by a salesman of one of these organizations of the effect on employees of a wage reduction. The salesman had canvassed the mill in question several times, and had pointed out in individual talks the necessity of preparing for a wage reduction such as had been put into force in surrounding mills. Many employees signed an agreement to begin saving, but others decided to wait. It so happened that the salesman returned on the morning that the wage cut was announced. The foreman predicted that the men would be in no humor that day to listen to the salesman, but, as a matter of fact, the bond man did almost a day's normal business in a mill that had previously been thoroughly canvassed.

Another salesman prevailed upon a foreman in a collar factory, who was making $150 a week, to adopt a budget system and see what the saving would be. The foreman had complained that he could save nothing on his wages, but after three months under the budget system he went to the salesman with $100, the result of three months of systematic effort.

Most organizations selling savings plans of one kind or another—in cuts on partial payments plans, bank accounts or insurance—find that it is not difficult to convince a person of the necessity of saving. The thing to do is to point out how he can save $2 or $5 a week with little or no inconvenience, and that the employer will take out this sum and give him a receipt for it, thus doing away with bookkeeping arrangements, the rest is easy. Savings soon becomes a habit.

In other cases the saving habit has already been developed, but the proceeds lack confidence in banks and banking houses. Cases of this kind are not uncommon in Eastern Pennsylvania, where a salesman for a large New York bond house recently disposed of $4,000 worth of bonds to a man who went out into his backyard and dug up the cash from cans buried there.

Of course, in industries where the business depression has been keenly felt and plants have gone on part time or have entirely closed actual savings have fallen away sharply, but it is believed that the desire and tendency to save still remains, and these persons will not have to be re-educated to the advantage of having savings upon which to depend.

One corporation which had instituted savings plans in many such industrial plants foresaw the trend and turned its attention to public utilities and other lines which show more stability. A large percentage of the organization's industrial accounts fell away when plants closed, but the curve of business has climbed steadily in the last six months, despite the fact that the number of salesmen had been reduced more than 60 per cent.

Savings banks have felt the slackening, and in four out of ten Brooklyn banks withdrawals exceeded deposits from May 1 to May 25. It is felt, however, that much of the setback was of a seasonal character and that for the second three months of the year the showing will compare favorably with the first quarter, although the excess of deposits probably will fall behind the mark. In the period from January to March, the ten banks in question as a whole showed a net gain in deposits over withdrawals of $17,372, nearly twice the loss in withdrawals.

Winnipeg, July 7.—The local wheat market was firm to-day with increases all along the line, but the volume of business was narrow and limited. After the opening July advanced to 175 1/2 and October to 176 1/2 for the high of the day. The close was near the high and showed a gain of 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 cents.

The future coarse grains market was also very firm to-day. Oats closed 1/2 to 1/4 cent higher, barley 3/4 to 1 cent higher; flax 1 to 1 1/2 cents higher, and rye 2 to 4 cents higher.

On a national floor demand for cash wheat premiums broke from 3 to 4 cents and 1/2 cents over July for the three top grades. The offerings were fair, considerable reselling taking place by exporters. A good demand existed for certain grades of cash oats and barley, but the offerings continue to be fair. Flax and rye markets continue dull.

A Case for Daily Newspaper Advertising

The question has been asked: What are the Advantages of Daily Newspaper Advertising by contrast with all other forms of advertising?

In setting out these advantages, Daily Newspaper Publishers do not discount supplementary forms of publicity. But the area of Canada and its distribution of population are such, that Daily Newspaper Advertising has been and must be the basis of all the pointedly successful Canadian advertising campaigns.

The newspaper enters the home and has a more intimate appeal to all members of the family than any other reading matter.
- (b) Reaches all classes
The newspaper appeals to all literate members of the community, without distinction of race, class, creed, sex, income or occupation.
- (c) Thorough distribution
The newspaper finds its readers, whether they are at home or not; if they are not at home, it reaches them when travelling, on trains and cars, in hotels, clubs and libraries.
- (d) Reaches the business man

The newspaper advertiser has his choice of the precise day of the week most suitable to his advertising.

- (b) Intensive campaigns
Newspaper advertising permits any intensity desired, up to daily insertions.
- (c) Serial campaigns
In the newspaper it is possible to use serial copy with any desired interval between insertions.
- (d) Cumulative effect
A newspaper campaign may be planned to obtain a maximum cumulative effect, through the flexibility of space and intervals.

4. LOCALIZED CIRCULATION

- (a) Close to place of purchase
The reader of a newspaper advertisement can go directly to the place where the article advertised is on sale.
- (b) Spotty distribution
The advertiser with spotty distribution can, by using newspapers, advertise exclusively where his goods are on sale.
- (c) Concentrated territory
The newspaper offers the maximum concentration of circulation in any community.
- (d) Strengthening weak territory
The newspaper may be used to strengthen weak spots in the distribution with the exact degree of force desired.
- (e) Progressive zone advertising

CENSUS ENUMERATOR INCENSED RESIDENT BY WALKING IN

John Demal Fined $20 for Failure to Give Information

John Demal, of 994 Cloverdale Avenue, a motorman on the B. C. Electric Railway, settled his differences with Thomas George Coventry, a census enumerator, in the Saanich Police Court yesterday afternoon before Magistrate Jay. The defendant was charged with failure to supply information requested by the census official upon application, and was subsequently fined the minimum penalty, $20.

Thomas George Coventry took the stand first, and in reply to W. E. Monteth, prosecutor for the municipality, stated that he had called at the home of the defendant several times before finding the owner present. On the fourth occasion he had seen Demal, who had commenced answering the requisite questions actively, but had stalled at the tenth question of the thirty-five on the list. Despite ample persuasion, stated witness, when he had tried every inducement he could think of, the defendant had refused to go further with the interrogation.

Witness had called several times afterwards, and at last left a mail form with a neighbor to be filled out by the defendant if he could be brought to do so, and returned to the address of the census enumerator. This had not been done. Failing this the witness was forced to bring proceedings to get the necessary information in response to the remaining twenty-five questions, then unanswered.

The Defendant's Case. John Demal took the box and was cross-examined by the prosecution. "I have nothing to say, he (the enumerator) walked right in and sat down without a word from me. There has been too much of that. I lost money from the house three weeks ago in that way. That's what made me mad. As for the name 'Joseph,' I gave my right name, 'John Demal,' a name that I am not afraid of anywhere. I did fill out the form for mailing but I could not find his address."

"I have the form here now," stated witness, producing the document. "This had not been done. Failing this the witness was forced to bring proceedings to get the necessary information in response to the remaining twenty-five questions, then unanswered."

"I cannot help thinking you have acted in a very foolish way," commented Magistrate Jay in summing up. "I don't yet see why you did not answer the questions. Under the Act I have no option but to impose a fine not less than $20 or more than $100, or a term of from thirty days to three months in jail. I impose a fine of $20, payable on Saturday."

"Pay Right Now." "Don't worry, I will pay right now," broke in the defendant, "and tell him he need not worry about me or my job," added the irate man in reference to the enumerator's statement in evidence that he had warned the defendant that he might lose his job if he were to be sent to jail. "I can take care of myself, and he does not need to worry about my job." The defendant paid his fine and afterwards gave the enumerator additional information his mail form not being quite in order.

Other Cases. Mrs. J. E. Chiverall was exonerated from a charge of stealing brought by John W. Freeston, over the ownership of Prince Menzies, a thoroughbred English bulldog. Magistrate Jay decided that the case was no matter for criminal action, and was one for the civil courts. H. W. R. Moore appeared for the defendant.

SUNDAY BASEBALL AT SCHOOLS BANNED

Police to Keep Boys From Sabbath Sport

Sunday baseball on city school grounds was banned by the School Board last night.

The Board received complaints from residents living near the High School to the effect that boys were playing ball on the school grounds on the Sabbath.

"I understood that the matter had been settled before, and that the police had been instructed to stop boys playing baseball on the school grounds," said Trustee Mrs. Spofford. Some of the Trustees understood that the police had received such instructions, but others did not. Mrs. Spofford, therefore, moved that the police be asked to prevent Sunday baseball on school grounds. This motion was carried.

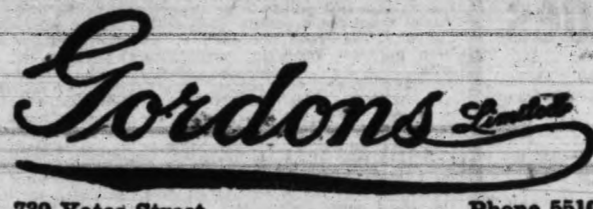

Complaints also were received from people who said that flying baseballs about the High School were a menace to safety. One lady said that her small son had narrowly escaped being hit by a ball. The Board will investigate the advisability of building a backstop to prevent balls being knocked out of the grounds.
