Introduction

The family that must make every dollar of its income bring in one hundred cents' worth of well being for its members has a truly vital interest in the food problem. In order to make sure that the ration is satisfactory the housekeeper must see to it that every dollar spent for food furnishes a dollar's worth of strength.

The ration allowance on which Miss Weeks has based the present work was planned for a group of families in New York City, and, considering their limitations of income met in a fairly satisfactory way their food needs.

Obviously, the immediate aim in determining a safe minimum for the family food allowance was to help the family make the best of the situation. Even larger issues, however, were involved. Before a truly satisfactory ration could be outlined it was necessary to know the danger line, or rather the safety line below which it was not possible to go. The matter of reasonable leeway could then be more easily determined.

It is hoped that the present pamphlet may be of some service to those who are concerned with this problem of low cost dietaries. It seemed best to publish the calculations on which the work is based since these may prove of interest in the case of those whose responsibility lies along the line of helping to develop the literature of this subject.

The unit system is used since this seems the most convenient way to approximate food needs for a group of families. Individual dietaries would of course be calculated upon the basis of individual needs.

TESTED MENUS AND RECIPES

Based on a Low Cost Dietary

In order to demonstrate that attractive and palatable menus can be planned from a low cost dietary and that sufficient variety can be introduced to continue the use of these foods from week to week, the interest of several women in menus and recipes was secured and the results obtained are set forth in this Bulletin.

The food supply for the week is based on the minimum dietary for three units used for a number of years by Winifred S. Gibbs in New York City. Some changes were made to suit the needs and tastes of the individual families.

The first part of the plan was carried out by a painter's family, consisting of a man, his wife, and three boys of 12, 10 and 8 years respectively. The woman took great interest in trying out the menus prepared by the writer and made only a few minor changes.

In order to meet the needs of the family, lunches were planned for the man and dinner was made the evening meal. No change was made for the boys as they are in the habit of eating heartily at night, but it would be preferable, for the good of the children, to exchange the noon and evening meals. Cheese was omitted and an extra pound of beef substituted to suit the family's taste.

The percentage of protein was kept high at the expense of greater variety to provide for the growing children. For the same reason little of the milk was used for cooking as a large part of it was given the children to drink as milk or cocoa.

Additions of one slice each were made by the woman to the bread allowance for two breakfasts, and on two afternoons each of the three boys had a slice of bread and nut butter for lunch. Nevertheless there were small amounts of several articles left at the end of the week. Had the menus been used in cold weather more energy would have been expended and without doubt the full amount of food required. Moreover, the allowance for the children was high as in the unit system of reckoning children of several ages are grouped together.

A saving in the cost of supplies for the week could have been made if stores which do not deliver had been patronized.

	Salt and pepper
	5 slices bread
	5 t. nut butter
	¼ lb. prunes
	5 t. tea
	¼ C. milk
	2 T. sugar

RECIPES

POTATO SOUP

4 or 5 potatoes	1 T. salt pork fat
2 t. chopped onion	1½ t. salt
⅛ t. pepper	3½ C. potato water
1 T. flour	½ C. milk

Boil and mash potatoes, add water, seasonings, and onion. Cook 5 minutes. Add flour made into thin paste. Cook until thickened. Add milk and bring to boiling point.

BEEF OLIVES

1 lb. beef (plate)	3 slices salt pork
1 C. bread crumbs	1 onion
	Salt and pepper

Mix together bread crumbs and chopped pork which has been tried out. Season with salt, pepper, and onion. (Moisten with milk or water if necessary.) Cut steak into strips 4 by 2 inches. Spread with mixture, roll and tie. Dredge with flour, salt and pepper. Sear with fat and add 1 C. boiling water. Cook slowly until tender.

BOSTON ROAST

1 lb. cooked kidney beans	1 small onion, chopped
1 C. bread crumbs	Salt
	Salt pork drippings

Mash the beans or put them through a food chopper. Add the bread crumbs and onion to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Season with salt and drippings. Bake in a moderate oven, basting occasionally. Improved by adding $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. cheese.

FRENCH TOAST

8 slices bread	1 pt. milk
1 egg	1 slice salt pork
Salt

Beat egg and add milk and salt. Dip bread in mixture and fry in salt pork fat. Serve small pieces of pork on toast.

BAKED CHUCK STEAK WITH ONIONS AND POTATOES

Dredge 2 lbs. chuck steak with flour, then pound thoroughly. Sear quickly on both sides, then put into baking pan, or casserole. Cover with layer of thin slices of onion and potatoes. Season with salt. Add 1 C. water and cook slowly until tender.

BEEF STEW

1 lb. beef (flank)	2-3 carrots
6-8 potatoes	3 T. flour
1 onion	Salt and pepper

Cut beef into small pieces, cover with boiling water and cook until partially done. Add potatoes, onion and carrots cut into small pieces. Cook slowly until meat is tender and vegetables soft. Thicken with flour and season.

DATE CUSTARD

2 C. scalded milk	$\frac{1}{4}$ C. sugar
2 eggs	$\frac{1}{8}$ t. salt
$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. dates cut up

Beat eggs slightly and add sugar and salt. Stir constantly while adding gradually the hot milk. Cook in double boiler and continue stirring until mixture thickens and a coating is formed on the spoon. Add dates and chill.

RICE WITH TOMATOES

1 C. rice	5 C. boiling water
2 t. salt	$\frac{1}{2}$ can tomatoes

Wash rice and sift it slowly into salted water. Boil 15-20 minutes, stirring occasionally with a fork. Add tomatoes and cook until water is evaporated.

LIMA BEAN SOUP

1 lb. Lima beans	1 pt. water
1 onion	$\frac{1}{2}$ slice salt pork
1 pt. milk	Salt and pepper

Proceed as in potato soup.

BEEF LOAF

$\frac{3}{4}$ lb. chuck steak (cooked)	1 C. bread crumbs
1 onion, chopped	Salt and pepper
2 slices salt pork

Try out salt pork and cook onion in it. Chop meat or put through a food chopper. Mix all ingredients thoroughly, moisten with milk or water, and bake in moderate oven $\frac{1}{2}$ hour.

ESCALLOPED TOMATOES

½ can tomatoes 1 C. bread crumbs
 Salt and pepper

Season tomatoes and add bread crumbs, sprinkling some over top.
 Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven.

CODFISH CHOWDER

1 slice salt pork 6-8 potatoes sliced
 1 onion 1 qt. water
 ½ lb. salt codfish ¼ t. pepper
 1 pt. milk

Cut pork into cubes. Try out fat and cook onion in it. Add potatoes and water. Cook until potatoes are nearly done. Add fish which has been soaked and pulled into pieces, milk, and pepper. Bring to boiling point and serve.

PART II.

Many women have been trained in the school of necessity to use the foods which are low in cost but high in food value. That some have profited by their experience is shown by the menus and recipes included in Part II which were prepared by women accustomed to managing on a small income.

The list of foods used in Part I was the basis, but a few substitutes were allowed as follows:

Hamburg steak	Barley
Shin bone	Spaghetti
Liver	Noodles
Mutton flank	Tapioca
Haddock	Cornstarch
Canned salmon	Karo syrup
Cheese	Molasses
Peanut butter	Split peas
Lard	Lentils
Compound	String beans
Cornmeal	Lettuce
Cabbage

FAMILY A.—German.

Man, woman, 6 children (2 to 14 years).

Mix sugar and cocoa, then add enough water to make of right consistency to spread.

FAMILY B.—American.

Man, woman, 6 children (3 to 17 years).

Number of units, 5.8.

Number of calories per week, 121,800.

Cost per unit per day, 41 cents.

In this family the total cost of food for the week was $16.62, and 150,122 calories were provided, an excess of over 28,000 above the number required. This is accounted for by the use of an abundance of fats, sugar, bread, and potatoes. Three lunches daily were put up for the working members of the family. Several homemade cakes were included in the menus as well as some puddings and pie, as a dessert or sweet of some sort was generally served for both dinner and supper.

FAMILY C.—Italian.

Man, woman, 7 children (5 months to 14 years).

Number of units, 5.6.

Number of calories per week, 117,600.

Cost per day per unit, 28 cents.

The cost per 100 calories of foods used for the week was the lowest in this family, being $.009 against $.011 in Families A and B and in Part I. The menus were, however, correspondingly low in protein and high in fat and starch, a criticism characteristic of Italian diet in families without American training.

As a result of 10 cooking lessons given the 14 year old girl there were included in the menus a number of the recipes taught, as split pea soup, beef stew, codfish chowder, and American chop suey.

Whereas the use of many of the foods included in the list is common to families of various nationalities, combinations vary widely and a few recipes will be of value.

ITALIAN RECIPES

FRIED PEPPERS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Cut peppers in slices, remove seeds, and fry in a little fat. Season with salt. When soft add canned tomatoes and cook until tomatoes have thickened.

STRING BEANS WITH TOMATO SAUCE

Cook beans until soft. Drain, add tomato sauce and cook a little longer.

TOMATO SAUCE

Fry a little garlic in lard or other fat. Add canned tomatoes and seasonings. When tomatoes are cooked add a little cold water and cook until thick and well blended.

ROUND STEAK WITH MACARONI AND TOMATO SAUCE

Sear steak on both sides. Add a little lard, onion and garlic and cook 5 minutes. Add to this canned tomatoes and tomato paste. Cook until well blended, then add enough water to make a sauce for the macaroni which is added to the meat after being cooked until soft in boiling salted water.

POLISH RECIPES

CABBAGE SALAD

Cut cabbage up fine. Mix with salt and let stand 5 minutes. Squeeze out juice. Season with salt, pepper and onion and add vinegar and oil as dressing.

LETTUCE AND BACON

Fry bacon and mix with lettuce. Pour over it hot vinegar and add seasonings.

BEEF STEW

Put into kettle one big onion (cut up), piece of garlic, a red pepper, a sweet pepper, bay leaves, and black pepper. Put in the meat (any inexpensive cut) and cook slowly about 1½ hours. Then add ½ C. water and cook about 1½ hours more or until tender. Add more water for gravy.

If desired may omit onion and garlic and add sour salt, prunes and salt.

HAMBURG STEAK

Season meat, add bread crumbs, shape and fry. Make gravy, add to meat cakes and cook about ½ hour.

BEETS

Cut beets up fine, and add bacon or spare ribs, onion, salt, pepper, vinegar and tomatoes if you have them. Cover with boiling water and when cooked tender add 2 T. sour cream.

SOUP WITH NOODLES

To any inexpensive cut of beef add carrots, onions, bay leaves, sweet peppers, and parsley. Cover with cold water and cook slowly until tender. Cook noodles 5 or 10 minutes and add to soup.

SOUP WITH POTATOES

To a piece of lamb or mutton add onions, carrots, and bay leaves. Proceed as in soup with noodles. When nearly done add potatoes and seasonings.

POTATO PANCAKES

Grate 7 raw potatoes. Throw away part of water. Add 1 egg, a little flour, 1 rounding t. baking powder, salt and pepper. Fry as other griddle cakes.

GRIDDLE CAKES

Improved by adding grated orange peel.

ENGLISH RECIPES

STEAMED BLACKBERRY PUDDING

To 1 quart blackberries add a little water or sour milk and a little sugar. Mix with this 2 C. flour to which 3 T. shortening, a pinch of salt and 2 rounding t. baking powder have been added. Add soda if sour milk is used. Steam about ¾ hour in a pudding dish. Serve with pudding sauce or milk.

Any other fruit may be used in place of blackberries.

If desired may add 3 T. chopped suet and boil in floured cloth 1½ hours.

BREAD PUDDING

Soak 3 C. stale bread in cold water until soft. Drain as dry as possible. Add ½ C. raisins or currants, ¼ C. sugar, 1 heaping t. baking powder, 3 T. shortening and enough flour to make stiff. Bake in greased pan ½ hour.

MACARONI PUDDING

Parboil macaroni and put into baking dish. Cover with milk, a little sugar, and a little butter or mtmeg. Bake from 20 to 30 minutes. Rice or tapioca may be cooked in the same way.

GERMAN RECIPES

STRING BEANS, CARROTS AND POTATOES

Slice carrots and cook with string beans until soft. Add 1 small onion chopped fine. Cook potatoes separately and add to mixture. Thicken with flour and season with salt, pepper, and a little butter.

APPLE CAKE

To enough bread dough to make 1 large loaf add 1 egg, ¼ C. sugar, and ¼ C. raisins. Spread out thin in dripping pan and cover with sliced apples, sugar and cinnamon. Let rise and bake in hot oven.

COFFEE CAKE

1 C. molasses	Spices as desired
¼ C. shortening	½ t. salt
1 egg	1 t. soda

SYRIAN RECIPES

CABBAGE, LAMB AND RICE

Separate cabbage leaves and put into boiling water for 1 or 2 minutes to make soft enough to roll. Do not boil. Put lamb through coarse grinder. Mix with rice, well washed, in proportion of 3 C. lamb to 1 C. rice. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with water to make soft enough to mold. Put some of the mixture on each cabbage leaf and roll lengthwise like a cigar. Put some of waste cabbage leaves in bottom of kettle and place cabbage rolls on top of each other. Cover with boiling water and place a small plate on top to hold in place. Cook slowly until done (about 1 hour).

CREAM OF RICE PUDDING

1 qt. milk	Flavoring (Syrians use 1 t. rose water)
¾ C. rice	Sugar
Pinch salt

Put rice in milk and cook fast until soft, then simmer until blended together and creamy. Add sugar to taste when nearly done, and let boil 2 or 3 minutes.
