LIBRARY SECRETARY.

LIBRARY MATTERS.

Vol. I, No. 1, of News Notes of California Libraries, containing reports of the various free public libraries of the state and interesting information in regard to the California State Library, has been received at the Glendale library and reading room.

In the pamphlet is given a picture of Gov. Pardee, whose friendly attitude toward the work of the state library at Sacramento has been an encouragement to the state board of trustees in their endeavor to extend the scope and efficiency of the library.

The State Library was established in 1850, since which time a great deal of work has been done, probably the most far-reaching being that of traveling libraries, which were first sent out in 1903, there now being two hundred and seventy-five receiving them.

Glendale's report in this pamphlet compares favorably with that of other places having similar conditions.

M. E. CHURCH NOTES

Mrs. Rev. P. H. Bookin delivered an excellent address to a well filled house last Sabbath evening on Home Missions. Mrs. Bookin never fails to interest her hearers.

The monthly tea of the L. A. S. at the home of the pastor on Tuesday afternoon was in every way a success. The ladies are doing much to aid in the completion of the church.

The W. F. M. S. will meet next Tuesday at 2 o'clock with Mrs. Julia Beers, Third and B streets. Strangers invited.

The pastor visited Bishop Hamilton at Long Beach last Monday and reports that there is a good prospect of securing the bishop for the dedication of our church in July. This word will be received with joy by all.

There will be special music and readings at our church service on Sabbath morning. The pastor will preach on "Knowledge as a safeguard against evil." In the evening on "The greatest personal question in the world."

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Masonic Hall was well filled Wednesday evening when the Missionary Nurses Training School Graduating Class of the Glendale Sanitarium held their commencement exercises.

The front part of the hall was adorned with the class motto "We Finish to Begin" and a Glendale banner in the class colors, black and gold. Every number of the program was very interesting and was rendered in a most excellent manner.

The graduating class consisted of Barbara Chapman, Nellie Ray, Christina Meyer, Edith Stevens, Helen Henton, Edwina Wagar and Amanda Buckley. The hall was decorated with the class flower, the La France rose. Following is the program rendered:

Sonata Pathetique, (Beethoven.) Anna Simpson; Chorus, "The Call for Reapers," Class; Invocation, Eld. R. S. Owen; Song, Quartette; Address, Prof. G. W. Rine; Song, Quartette; Address, Miss Christine Meyer; Presentation of Diplomas, Eld. G. W. Reaser; Chorus, "I'll Go Where You Want Me to Go," Class; Benediction, Eld. C. F. Marvin.

This is the first graduating class that the local sanitarium has had and we wish these young ladies who are starting out in the world to aid the sick, spiritually as well as physically, every success.

Since the Sanitarium has been established in Glendale, it has done much to uplift this community, and we commend it for its good work.

PRESBYTERIAN ITEMS.

The lecture by Rev. Dr. Ireland on the theater, last Tuesday evening was only half as well attended as it deserved. The audience was somewhat wearied by a wait made necessary by the lecturer missing his car. The lecture was very clear as an arraignment of the stage for its pernicious influence upon the actor, and for its downward moral tendency.

At this church the topic of the morning sermon will be "Four Churches."

The baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the grammar school of Glendale will be given by Dr. Ward in the evening at 8. The topic will be: "Life Motives." There will be special music.

The anti-saloon people feel that the present time is the most promising in the history of the state for helpful legislation. An effort is being made to have a large attendance at the conventions, state and county, held in the First Methodist church, Los Angeles, Monday and Tuesday next. Monday evening and Tuesday noon will be the sessions of the State League; Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 and Tuesday evening at 7:30 the County League.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

The Senior class pins are the most conspicuous objects around the building at the present time.

At a recent meeting of the basketball teams, Richard Stine was elected captain and Earl Bond manager of the boy's team and the girls chose Alma Stone captain with Edna Valentine manager. Both teams will suffer next year by the graduation of several members this June.

The final examinations will begin Thursday, June 14th and will end the following Monday. Commencement exercises will take place June 21st.

The library board comprises, Meses. A. W. Collins, D. H. Imler, M. E. Bond, W. A. Thompson and J. A. Logan, with Miss Hickman secretary.

A very pleasant time was spent Wednesday afternoon when members of the Pomeroy family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Pomeroy to help celebrate the sixtieth birthday of Mr. Pomeroy. Refreshments were served on the lawn. Those present were, Mrs. F. W. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Pomeroy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pomeroy and family, Dr. Geo. Last Sunday, June 3rd, was children's Day at the Christian church of

The program was very interesting and the children did well. The mite and birthday boxes were opened, the contents including the evening offering amounted to $25.00 which goes to foreign missions.

True Public Spirit

Mr. L. H. Hurtt, who has an office in the Watson block authorized the editor of the News to donate for him lot 22, block 20, on Glendale avenue between Fourth and Fifth streets, to the city of Glendale for City Hall purposes. Mr. Hurtt makes the provision that his lot either be exchanged for another lot near the corner of Fourth and Glendale Ave. or sold and the money realized from the sale be used to help pay for the lot or lots suitably located near Fourth street and Glendale Ave. He also makes his donation contingent upon the city constructing a hall to cost not less than $3,000.

As Mr. Hurtt is practically a stranger in Glendale and does not own any great amount of property here, this offer is certainly a most magnanimous one, and it is now in order for some of the town's older residents and property owners to meet Mr. Hurtt's offer by giving the difference that may be required to secure a suitable location and building site for a city hall. Of course this donation would all eventually rest with the taxpayers, as the matter of issuing bonds for the purpose of securing money to build the hall would have to be submitted to a vote of the people.

A city hall of sufficient size to accommodate a public library, a fire department and any other department of the city government, is certainly needed and the offer that is made by Mr. Hurtt should not be disregarded, but some action should be taken leading to the securing of a suitable location for this much needed public building.

Glendale is in great need of some means of fire protection and as the time will surely come when a city hall and apparatus for fighting fire will be purchased, it would seem to be a matter of good judgment on the part of our people to see to it that Mr. Hurtt's offer be accepted. This offer will hold good for a reasonable length of time, and we suggest that the matter of a bond issue for city hall and fire department purposes be taken up with the board of city trustees at once.

Right in the Swim

Glendale is to keep up with the latest popular craze by having a roller skating rink. F. W. McIntyre will at once commence construction of a large first-class rink on his lot on F street in McIntyre's Miner Tract. The construction of this rink will relieve the congested condition of the sidewalks on Glendale avenue and the boys and girls will have a place to spend an evening without going to Los Angeles.

NEW YORK, MAY 29—Marvelous discoveries of cobalt, the mineral which forms the key of Edison's new storage battery which promises to revolutionize the application of electricity to automobiles and other commercial enterprises, were announced in dispatches from Charlotte, N. C. At the same time it was learned Thomas A. Edison is hurrying to the mines, which have been discovered through his efforts, with two big automobiles carrying all the apparatus necessary to demonstrate the extent of the find.

Mr. Edison's representatives, who have been prospecting secretly for months, have secured options on a large tract in the cobalt district, and should the discoveries prove as extensive as the dispatches indicate, the Wizard will begin mining at once and his new storage battery will be put on the market in a short time.

The Edison party, including in addition to Mr. Edison and his son Charles, Mr. Miller and two children, left Orange, N. J., in two big white steamer touring cars. They have taken the shortest route and will travel through the Shenandoah valley by roads over which automobile has never passed. Mr. Edison is attempting to cover 150 miles a day, and it was this haste, necessitating night travel, which resulted in an accident which nearly cost the inventor his life.

The two White steamers are equipped with powerful searchlights operated by the new Cobalt batteries, and every other electrical appliance that could add to the comfort of a long tour. The machine in which the chemists travel carries a laboratory.

Mr. Edison will spend at least two weeks examining the discoveries thus far made. When he started on the journey every effort was made to keep secret the destination of the party and the purpose of the trip.

The great Edison storage batteries, which will be made practicable for commercial use should the new cobalt mines fulfill the promises made for them, will work a great revolution in manufacture of horseless carriages and other apparatus in which the storage of electrical energy is necessary.

Edison in this, his last handiwork, employs cobalt instead of lead or nickel. Never before had chemist or electrical energy dreamed of using cobalt. How Edison hit upon the discovery has never been disclosed, and the secret of the manufacture of this battery is closely guarded by the inventor.

Will Keep Federal Troops in San Francisco

WASHINGTON. Senator Flint of California presented to the President J. W. Byrne of San Francisco, who came to Washington to urge the President to permit the United States soldiers doing guard duty in San Francisco to remain where they are. He said there had been suggestions that they be taken away and the city left to the police and county officials. He declared that the people of San Francisco hoped there was no truth in the possibility of this being done. The President said as long as the people of the city desire the soldiers to remain they will not be disturbed, at least not until the last of June.

"It is an absolute necessity" said Mr. Byrne, "that the soldiers stay where they are as long as possible. In the disrupted condition of the streets of the city the best sort of protection is needed against thugs, thieves and murderers. Just the other day there was an attempt to loot the subtreasury. Thieves and thugs commit crimes and dodge behind piles of brick or other obstructions. It would be practically impossible under present circumstances for the police to handle the city. We appreciate the President's determination to let the soldiers remain a while longer."

Court-Martial of Stoessel

The court-martial of General Stoessel for the surrender of Port Arthur and his sentence to death through a verdict of cowardice, is alike shocking to the public mind of America and disgraceful to Russian government. It is on a par with a thousand other things Russian bureaucrats have done to turn the people's loyalty to abject hatred—and it is a fact that such acts of injustice can be done, have been done, and are being done, that accounts for great Russia sitting on top of a living volcano at the present time.

No matter what the Russian court-martial may decide, or what it may do, it will never remove from the English reading public the opinion that General Stoessel was the bravest soldier under the czar in the late war between Russia and Japan. The assault upon Port Arthur—weeks and weeks of siege—the rain of death poured down upon the Japanese who would not be stopped, but climbed over their dead and dying comrades and went up and up, on and on—was one of the great events of modern war.

The surrender was given when hope no longer existed. General Stoessel stood by his guns long after his men had given up all hope. Mutiny was everywhere about him. Starvation was all but upon them. Disease and death was among them and was adding to the mortality list made by the enemy.

There was nothing for General Stoessel do but surrender, or die—and thus practically murder all his men.

Historians will say that Stoessel did right. Lives, even in war, are not given to generals to sacrifice. The soldier is too precious. Patriotism is too precious. Life itself is too precious. It is all very pretty in novels to tell of the men who fight until annihilated but it is utter nonsense in actual practice.

The fact is that those well fed princes and high officials who were responsible for an ill-equipped, ill-mannered, ill-trained army and navy in Russia are trying to evade the responsibility. They are shirking. A soldier who shirks is doomed to be shot—and it is these men who would sacrifice this brave man upon the altar of defeat, who should be shot—not brave Stoessel. If he be punished with the death penalty it will be mere government murder.

GLENDALE

To a person accustomed to and appreciating the advantages of the city, but who prefers a life in the country for considerations of health, pleasure or profit, the ideal location for a home is found in a pleasant country neighborhood within a few minutes' ride of the city.

This close association of city and country gives to property in the suburbs of a large and rapidly growing city a value which is difficult to estimate in dollars and cents. It is a consideration which appeals forcibly alike to the home-seeker who is fortunately above the necessity of taking into account the question of a financially profitable investment; to the tiller of the soil, who must necessarily figure upon the associated ideas of a productive soil, favorable climatic conditions, and a near-by market; and finally to the investor looking with speculative eye upon the promise made by a particular locality in regard to the probable increase of values in the near future.

To all of the above classes, GLENDALE appeals with peculiar force given by its unique merits and varied attractions. In an air line it is six miles from the business center of Los Angeles, and about three miles from the northern boundary of that city.

RAILROADS

The Glendale branch of the Salt Lake Railroad Company, starting from its depot on First street, passes through East Los Angeles, along the base of the low hills on the northern limits of the city paralleling the line of the Southern Pacific road until it reaches Glendale avenue at its junction with the San Fernando road, where it proceeds northward through Glendale to its present terminus, Verdugo Park.

The Huntington Electric Railway system has recently completed a double-track line connecting Los Angeles and Glendale, first class in its construction, equipment and service, following a route which for scenic beauty is probably unequalled by any ride of similar length in Southern California.
