But what more shall I say? Alas, that is more than I can say... in this traffic in human life. A large American ship, the "Swallow," owned, I am not wrongly informed, in Salem, Massachusetts, is engaged in a cargo of slaves at Wauson, for Havana.

REVIEW OF MR. CURRY'S SPEECH.
It is admitted on all hands that the speech of Mr. Curry, delivered in the House of Representatives on the 10th ult., is the ablest and most powerful that has been delivered since the expression of Pro-Slavery views which the country has seen for a long time.

WASHINGTON, D. C. THURSDAY, JANUARY 12, 1860.

All letters for the National Era must be addressed to Mrs. M. L. Bailey, National Era, Washington, D. C.

TUESDAY IN CONGRESS.
In the Senate, Mr. Green attacked the doctrine of equal sovereignty proclaimed by Mr. Douglas, and showed that the Democratic party had always sanctioned the interference of the Federal authority in the Territories.

After some time spent therein, the Senate adjourned.
In the House of Representatives, Mr. Garrett, who was entitled to the floor, proceeded to argue that the Republican party is essentially an Abolition party.

THREE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.
New York, Jan. 8.—The steamer Arabia, Vigo, and Kaogaro, have arrived. The former is a cargo of slaves at Wauson, for Havana.

London, Saturday.—A Madrid dispatch of the 24th says that the Moors attacked the Spaniards on the road to Tetuan, in order to obstruct their works, but were victoriously repulsed.

the institution, clothed in its most odious and revolting features, to every man's door, and compelled him to bow down and sacrifice to it his manhood, his conscience, and his soul.

Here, then, is a great fact, which Mr. Curry has entirely lost sight of; and he arraigns the Republican party for standing by the principles and policy of Jefferson, Washington, Franklin, and Jay.

But the cotton gin was invented, and the production of cotton became a source of great profit to the South. The consequence was, an abandonment of the generous policy of their fathers, and a change of sentiment in regard to Slavery.

Mr. Curry presents various other facts in proof of his assertion that the Anti-Slavery sentiment of the North continually tends to increase. He says that the number of free men in the North has been steadily increasing since 1850.

Mr. Edwards, of New Hampshire, obtained the floor, and made a conciliatory appeal to the Democratic side of the House, in favor of proceeding to an organization.

Mr. Morris, of Pennsylvania, declared that he would not vote for Mr. Sherman if he entertained the views read from the Speaker's desk, as extracts from the Helper book.

Mr. Wright, of Tennessee, obtained the floor, and replied to his colleague, Mr. Stokes. He professed to be a moderate Union man, and that he would not vote for Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Stevens, of Pennsylvania, obtained the floor, but gave way to a motion to adjourn. No ballot was taken during the day.

Mr. Hill, of Georgia, in reply to Mr. Edwards, said that he would not vote for Mr. Sherman if he entertained the views read from the Speaker's desk.
