In this way the Government will fully implement the assurance given to G. G. McGeer, K.C., British Columbia Government rate counsel, who was told here recently that Pacific business would be fully protected in the new subsidy arrangement.

Although the report of the discoveries in the Cassiar district came too late in the Fall for a resident mining engineer to make an inspection on the ground the Provincial Government is prepared to handle the rush to the gold area. Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines stated to-day. Preparations have been made to record claims and further provision will be made if the rush assumes the proportions anticipated. Has Not Decided Yet Whether There Will be One or Not; Conservatives Assume Definitely There Will be a Contest and go Ahead With Preliminary Preparations.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—All this talk about a Federal election this year is interesting and quite harmless. It is quite harmless for the very good reason that every man who discusses election possibilities on the street corners in St. John, Victoria and all points between know as much about them, or nearly so, as the Prime Minister. The simple facts are, first, that the Government has not decided yet whether there will be an election or not, and secondly, the Government is not worrying much about it.

TASK FOR PARLIAMENT

The Board of Railway Commissioners, in its turn, can only apply and administer the law as it stands. If under the existing law, it were to be required to deal with the question of freight rates on a case-by-case basis, it would be in a position to do so, but it is not its duty to do so.

BOARD LACKS POWER

But they apply only to points in existence on the Canadian Pacific Railway when the Crow's Nest Pass Act was passed in 1897.

DISCRIMINATION QUESTION

As to any resulting discriminations, Chief Justice Anglin, in his reasons, comments: "The alleged fact that, if applied to the limited extent for which the maintenance of the Crow's Nest rates will produce discriminations and inequities which would ordinarily be a clear violation of the anti-discrimination sections of the Railway Act, would not, in our opinion, constitute a violation of the act, such exclusion as the appellants press for, discriminations so authorized by Parliament itself can not be regarded as unjust or prohibited."

In High Spirits

When the thermometer drops, Grandpa's spirits go shooting higher than ever. Bubbling over with life, he takes to skiing as naturally as a bird takes to flying. His steady nerve and tireless energy are the envy of the younger generations. Grandpa is 60 odd years old, but no one would ever believe it. What is his secret? It's the little daily dimeful of Kruschen that does it. Tasteless in his morning cup of coffee, the magic powder makes all the difference between glowing health and debility.

In winter-time especially, many people allow their systems to become run down. They fall easy victims to coughs, colds, bronchitis, sore throats and other more serious troubles. But a constitution like Grandpa's is a veritable armour which laughs at cold weather and the attacks of disease germs.

Regular elimination of the body's waste matter is a vital necessity, otherwise poisons get into the blood and make us feel tired and depressed, besides lowering our resistance to dis-ease. We seem to lack the strength and inclination to accomplish anything. The muddled brain and the coppery tongue are all too familiar symptoms of an impure blood stream.

Kruschen, taken daily in the tiny dose gives you a clear eye and a steady nerve. — It fills you with lively optimism. It drives out all impurities from the body, gently stimulates the liver and kidneys to normal activity and purifies the blood.

And "that Kruschen feeling" costs less than half a cent a day. Grandpa has it — you can get in the very same way. Buy a bottle of Kruschen today and start taking your daily dimeful tomorrow morning.

$3,500 WAS PAID FOR DEATHS OF TWO

But Murder Plot in San Francisco Failed; Confession Poised Put in Milk

San Francisco, Feb. 26.—Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson announced that Ralph King, a former patrolman of Honolulu and now a private detective, had confessed to the city jail and had made a formal confession that he had been employed for $2,500 to kill Fred Hotelling, a brother-in-law to a fortune, and Mrs. Hotelling, Fred's wife.

According to Matheson, King said he in turn had hired two men to "bump off" Hotelling and Mrs. Hotelling and that the men apparently had at the last minute abandoned any act of violence and resorted to the use of poison milk.

The identity of the two men whom King said he had hired was not disclosed by Matheson, but it was predicted they soon would be in custody.

The plot against Hotelling and Mrs. Hotelling was revealed two weeks ago when Hotelling turned over to the board of health the contents of a bottle of milk which had been left on a rear porch of the Hotel. The milk contained enough poison to kill the members of several families.

Report of Uprising in Central American Region Reaches the Outside World

Employees' Representation Movement Tried in Colorado Iron Company Field

Panama, Feb. 26.—Passengers who arrived here Wednesday from El Porvenir, on the San Blas coast of Panama, report that the Indians rose February 21 in Tugile, Tigre, Playa, Chico and other settlements. Four Panamanians were killed, including a man named Mollia, a nephew of the Governor of the San Blas territory. The passengers said it was possible the number of dead might be increased, as more than forty Panamanians resided in the areas attacked, with which there is no communication at present.

The settlement of El Porvenir was deserted by the Panama authorities and civilians after warning had been given them by friendly Indians.

ARMY OF SWEDEN IS TO BE REDUCED

Stockholm, Feb. 26.—Drastic reductions in the personnel of the Swedish army have been proposed by the Government in line with a general policy of economy. While full definite figures have not been made public, it is regarded as probable that a bill reducing the army from six to four army corps will be introduced during the coming session. This would result in the disappearance of a number of historic regiments, some of them more than 200 years old. The navy, under present plans, will not be affected.

The Government's plan is to cut down the number of infantry regiments from thirty to eighteen, and artillery regiments from six to three. Training for the infantry would be decreased from 255 days to 148 each year and for artillery and other troops from 360 to 240.

The plan is based upon the theory that Sweden's military position is greatly affected by the fact that the fact that Sweden has no common frontier with Russia. Opponents of the measure, however, point to the principal reasons why the steel workers of this company walked out practically in a body when the national steel strike of 1919 was called.

The lack of this representation in the determination of wage scales, according to the report, was one of the principal reasons why the steel workers of this company walked out practically in a body when the national steel strike of 1919 was called.

New Legal Problem Created by Aeroplane

Cassel, Feb. 26.—Can an arrested person be compelled to remain in transportation by aeroplane to the city in which he is alleged to have committed a felony or crime? This question is being lively discussion in legal circles since the arrest in this city by Berlin police of (Geheimrat Helling, who was wanted in connection with the Prussian state bank. An aeroplane was dispatched from Berlin to Cassel and he was taken back to Berlin by the air route. It was the first time in European police history that a prisoner was so transported.

Opinion is decidedly divided. It all depends upon how safe the air route is regarded. There is no provision in the German law by which an arrested person can be compelled to expose himself to danger. Those who hold transportation by aeroplane illegal insist it has not yet attained the degree of safety of the steam railway or the automobile. Defenders of the air route deny the alleged lack of safety and insist that the interests of speedy justice the air route is decidedly to be preferred.

SOUTHERN EUROPE SENDS MANY SETTLERS NOW TO AUSTRALIA

Melbourne, Australia, Feb. 26.—Since the United States began restricting immigration, southern Europe has turned covetous eyes on Australia, and there has been a great influx of Slavs, Greeks, Italians, Maltese and other peoples. The latest advice is that the steamship Cephee will arrive here shortly with 1,200 Jugo-Slavs.

Sir George Fuller, Premier of New South Wales, has written the Federal Government suggesting that the Commonwealth institute a quota system on the American lines, or other means to limit foreign immigration.

Official Government statements declaring that while the need for population in Australia is urgent, some substantial reason must be advanced before the door will be shut against which European displaced persons. The Government is watching the situation carefully.

PROTEST FROM VETERANS

Toronto, Feb. 26.—A protest from the Amputation Association of Canada was forwarded yesterday to Premier King. Right Hon. Arthur Melgion and Hon. H. S. Beland, chairman of the Board of Civil Re-establishment, against the proposed grant of $100,000 from the Canteen Fund to the Dominion Veterans' Alliance. The Amputation Association stated it was the only Dominion organization of disabled veterans, and suggested that an independent board of trustees be set up to administer the fund.

Desire to Sell Potatoes in Britain

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—The Government is urging upon the British authorities the granting of further concessions in regard to the embargo placed against Canadian potatoes entering Great Britain. The British Government has been asked to permit the entry of all potatoes which were in Canadian wharves and those which were in cars and transit to the seaboard when the ban came into effect on Friday last. The British Government asked how much would be shipped were this request granted. The information is being prepared by the Department of Agriculture and will be cabled within a day or so.

When notification was received of the embargo the Canadian Government obtained a concession allowing the entry of all shipments en route on the ocean before the date of the embargo.

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—Canadian occupied farm lands, including both improved and unimproved lands as well as dwelling houses, barns, stables and other farm buildings, were returned here at the average value of $27 a acre for 1924. The same value prevailed in 1923, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, as against $40 in 1922 and 1921. By provinces, the highest average value was in British Columbia, with $96 a acre for ordinary farm land, as compared with $100 in 1923.

Great Increase in Motor Traffic

Seattle, Feb. 26.—Automobile traffic to and from the United States and Canada passing through the customs at Blaine, on the Pacific Highway, and at Douglas, B.C., numbered 219,614 automobiles during 1924, an increase of 310 per cent over 1923, which was 70 per cent higher than in 1922, and carried 727,468 passengers, according to figures tabulated by Deputy Collector William M. Karizmarak. The grand total of United States automobiles as compared with Canadian was: United States, 121,680; Canadian, 97,934. The peak of the traffic was during the month of July, in which 140,129 persons drove through in 38,250 motor cars.

NEW PRINTING LAW

Ottawa, Feb. 26.—An amendment to the Criminal Code requiring printers to keep a record of every paper or book produced for six months after publication was given third reading yesterday afternoon in the House. The object of the bill is to enable the source of publication of false and defamatory or libellous statements.

LABOR LEADERSHIP

IT IS NOT NOVEL TO suggest that if the British Labor Party loses much of the authority which it has gained during the last three years, it will be because its own internal Left and Right party company.

Leadership in victory and leadership in defeat differ materially in their psychological effects upon those who suffer themselves to be led. In his hour of triumph Mr. Ramsay MacDonald's complete claim to the most significant political palm of the present century was undisputed.

MISSED VOTE BY VISIT TO WEMBLEY

Her desire to see the Wembley Fair while it was still a novelty was the cause of failing to vote in the June election, an applicant told Registrar George H. Mabon at the Court House, Bastion Street to-day. The best called before the provincial elections took place: Reinstatement of the 9,000 displaced for failure to vote continues at a record pace. Those struck off may secure a return of their names to the voters' list without cost, upon application to Mr. Mabon or any other appointed commissioner. The office in the Court House remains open daily in business hours for this purpose. Those who failed to vote at the last elections and make no effort to seek reinstatement will be without a vote at the next balloting.

When credit for the cinematography of a production is given to Sol Polito, any audience can be assured that it is about to see inspired photographic work.

Polito is one of the most efficient and popular cameramen in Hollywood. An Italian by birth, he is endowed with that fine feeling for artistic beauty which characterizes the Latin races. Consequently Hunt Stromberg was convinced that he could make no mistake in assigning to Polito the camerawork on "Roaring Tails," the Harry Carey picture which is now being shown at the Columbia Theatre.

Under contract with Metro for a number of years, Polito worked with all the stars and directors under that banner until his reputation for invariably securing the desired photographic results was broadcast wherever pictures are made.

Some of his successes after leaving that organization and free-lancing for himself include "The Girl of the Golden West," an Associated First National Production: John Stahl's "Why Men Leave Home," "The Bad Man," starring Hobart Bosworth, and "The Lightning Rider," a previous Carey picture.

Including unusual interiors as well as picturesque exteriors, "Roaring Tails" gives Polito an extremely broad scope for his genius. A great part of the appeal of "westerns" consists in their scenic beauty, which is too often under-emphasized through poor photography. With his many secrets of lighting and his knowledge of effective camera angles, Polito attacked clear of this mistake in "Roaring Tails."

"Oh Yes" to be Presented by Famous Organization at the Royal For Three Days

Capt. M. W. Plunkett and his world-famous Dumbbells Company and orchestra will be seen in an entirely new revue called, "Oh Yes," at the Royal Theatre for three nights and Saturday matinee, commencing this evening.

The good ship, "Oh, Yes," has been launched for laughing purposes only. A glance at the following numbers, picked at random from the programme, will suffice to establish the fact that comedy is the keynote of The Dumbbells' new springtime revue.

At Plunkett sings a new "fly" song, and "Do Thrills Make Good Mothers." Ross Hamilton sings, "The Kiss That I Got in the Moonlight," and "My Dream Boy." "Red" Newman sings a patriotic Canadian song entitled, "Let's Keep the Money in the Country," and an amusing little thing, "How Does the Milk Get into Coconuts?" Pat Rafferty scores heavily with his song, "Lips That Touch Kippers Shall Never Touch Mine." Stan Bennett sings "Colonel Lipstick of the Coldcream Guards," "Jack" Holland leads the big beauty brigade in a burlesque number called, "Where Are the Girls of the Old Brigade?" "Red" Newman is featured in a farcical sketch named, "Some Billed," and shares the comedy honors with Pat Rafferty, Stan Bennett, Morely Plunkett and "Jack" Holland in a laughable comedy, "Red Yes," in which the audience is invited to start with a cross-word puzzle, introduced by a tongue-twister song, sung by Al Plunkett, as only he can put over those difficult numbers.

Capt. Plunkett and his orchestra contribute a most enjoyable half hour with a repertoire of new musical numbers, many of them sung and enacted on the little miniature stage, which is a part of the orchestral setting.

Those who have seen "Ace High" know that the company which Capt. Plunkett has assembled this season is the finest ever mobilized in Canada.

PRISCILLA DEAN IS UNLIKE ANY OTHER SCREEN VAMPIRE

"The Empress of Elemental Emotions."

Of all the women in the films, Priscilla Dean is the one star to whom that epithet may be applied.

In "The Siren of Seville," the H.H. Van Loan story now being shown at the Coliseum Theatre, every phase of Miss Dean's dynamic personality is displayed.

As The Siren she is unlike any other vampire portrayed on the screen. She uses her femininity as a weapon to entice men, but there is nothing feminine about her wrath. She never strikes through her power to charm. She vents her fury in the hard, cold, and deadly danger of pitching in "man-to-man."

MOST APPEALING SCREEN THEME IN SULLIVAN STORY

Hail to the photoplay called "Hail the Woman," showing at the Playhouse this week. It is one of the best and leaves little to be desired as far as the acting is concerned— with such a cast as Florence Vidor, Madge Bellamy, Theodore Roberts and Lloyd Hughes. And the story by C. Gardner Sullivan is one of the most appealing that has come to the screen for some time. It treats of the old theme, the double standard for men and women, but develops it along a somewhat different line from the usual. The father, in his great ambition for the son's ordination to the ministry, condones all the weaknesses of the son, while the daughter is refused because of imagined peccadilloes.

Of course, all things turn out well in the end, with the father admitting his terrible mistakes. Somehow that part doesn't ring true, for any man so firmly convinced that he is the creator and arbiter of the destinies of his family continues in his belief until the last moment. But such a happy ending is probably and foolishly considered necessary in the "movies." It would have made a happier ending for one spectator if he had had to suffer a little the return for all the suffering he caused. At least, one could feel that his reformation was lasting. But it's a good photoplay, and one to be added to the short list of pictures worth seeing. And the rest of the entertainment is enjoyable.

FRANK MAYO IS STAGE VETERAN IN NEW FILM SUCCESS

English actors who come to America to attain fame are numerous, but Americans who go to England to win their renown are few.

Frank Mayo, who plays one of the leading roles in First National's "If I Marry Again," being shown at the Capitol Theatre, is one of the few.

Mayo was born of stage folk, marking the third generation of actors on his father's side. His birthplace was New York City, in June, 1889. At the age of twenty he went on the stage, playing with his father in "David Crockett," on tour for two years.

Following a schooling at Peekskill Military Academy, N.Y., he went to England with Louis Walker and George Fawcett, playing in "The Squaw Man." It was while he was in England that he rose from the ranks of supporting players to prominence as a featured player.

From his first entry into films he has held a commanding position among the leading players. He starred in several films, including "The First Degree," "The Altar Stairs," "The Bolted Door" and "The Hot Head." He was in the cast of Rupert Hughes' "Souls For Sale," Doris Kenyon's "Anna Q. Nilsson," Hobart Bosworth and Lloyd Hughes are in the notable cast of "If I Marry Again."

HERO OF "SEA HAWK" SHOWN AS MISSION WORKER IN EAST END

New York's Chinatown is a shadow of the past. San Francisco's Barbary Coast is gone forever. And even London's Limehouse district, famed by Thomas Burke's "Limehouse Nights" and W. B. Maxwell's "The Ragged Messenger," has changed. But the motion picture will ever record their glamour.

When Edwin Carewe was about to produce "Madonna of the Streets," featuring Nazimova and Milton Sills, he sent his technical director, Jack Schultz, to London to study architectural settings of the Limehouse district.

"Madonna of the Streets" is the motion picture name of Maxwell's "The Ragged Messenger," and Schultz, having read the novel, expected to find all the glamorous and underworld romance that is the Limehouse of fiction. But he was disappointed.

Limehouse was once just as Burke and Maxwell portrayed it, but since the war it has not been the same. The old buildings, the narrow streets—in fact, all the settings—have changed.

Schultz, however, was able to copy the settings, and Carewe has copied them with the characters of old "Madonna of the Streets," which will be the feature attraction at the Capitol Theatre on Monday, breathes the spirit of what was once Limehouse.

IN WOMAN'S DOMAIN

RIDING BREECHES COST GIRL HER JOB

Girl Graduate's Unconventional Dress as Stewardess in North

Edmonton, Alta., Feb. 26 (Canadian Press)—Because the Northern Trading Company Limited decreed that riding breeches and a khaki shirt were not the proper garb for a stewardess to wear when serving meals in the Arctic Circle to hardy northerners, and other denizens of the broad open spaces, who were being transported on their boat, Alice Joyce, a university student, who has served several months of last year on the Northland Echo lost her job and brought suit against the company for $50 for transportation and a bonus of $25 in the district court before Judge Crawford. The company alleged that Miss Joyce had broken her contract. Judgment was reserved.

Marriage Statement Made by Cardinal

Munich, Feb. 26.—"If a Catholic has only so-called civil marriage performed by secular officials, such an alleged marriage is null and void before God, and the couple living together commit a grievous sin." Cardinal Faulhaber declared Wednesday in a Lenten letter to his diocese. "Newly-weds can not consider themselves really married before their own consciences, nor live together when a church wedding has not tied the matrimonial knot," the cardinal further observed.

In spite of what writers of fiction say, the Eskimos still wear clothes of skins, according to the Rev. W. G. Walton, Anglican missionary, who has just returned to Toronto after many years in the Ungava district, east of Hudson Bay. Mr. Walton, on left, in cold weather costume. FAMOUS CAUGHT FIRE WHILE UNDERGOING REPAIRS HERE; FLAMES PROMPTLY CHECKED

Capt. Albert Berquist's Ship at Victoria Machinery Depot Plant, Might Have Been Seriously Damaged by Fire But for Prompt Action of Workmen Aboard; Fire Haunts Ship's Owner.

A fire, said to have started when a blow-torch ignited some fuel oil in the hold, broke out aboard the steamer Famous this morning, while she lay alongside the Victoria Machinery Depot undergoing repairs. Although the alarm was turned in, workmen aboard the ship easily controlled the flames, it was said, and the fire reached no serious proportions.

The Famous is a small steamship belonging to Capt. Albert Berquist. The vessel was formerly known as the Amur.

Capt. Berquist lost the steamer Trebla only a few months ago, when she burned off the coast while at anchor, and consequent trouble with the insurance underwriters caused an action which ultimately worked out favorably to the ship owner.

There was great excitement when smoke was seen billowing out of the holds of the Famous this morning, and a crowd soon collected outside the Victoria Machinery Depot plant and along the waterfront to watch what they believed would be a thrilling fight against a fire aboard ship.

The ship was being repaired at the time and will soon be ready for sea again. The City Fire Department went to the scene of the fire as soon as the call was sounded at headquarters.

OCEAN RATES WILL REMAIN UNCHANGED

No Definite Announcement of Increase or Decrease Made New Orleans, Feb. 25.—Freight rates for the Far East for the last six months of 1925 were discussed here yesterday at the opening of the Far East rate conference, composed of eighteen men representing the Atlantic Coast group and twelve of the Pacific Coast group of steamship companies. The sessions were executive and no statement was made as to what was done, but informally it was said that the questions involved were largely technical and that no general increase or decrease was in sight, thus far at least. The Atlantic coast group, however, which includes Gulf companies, wants an equalizing of rates on approximately a dozen items, it was understood, but the conference is expected to last several days.

My! What a Pain!

It takes you right across the back! Sometimes in the arm, hip, or foot. Probably due to over-abundance of that poison called uric acid. Happens when the kidneys become clogged, and are unable to filter the uric acid from the blood. There's more of this trouble in Winter, following a cold, or an attack of grip, which, like any other infectious germ disease, fills the blood with an extra load of poisons that overwork and break down the kidneys. You may know the kidneys are weak when you have constant back-ache, sick-headache, dizzy spells, the twinges and pains of lumbago, rheumatism, or neuritis, or when sleep is disturbed two or three times a night.

WORKING GIRL'S EXPERIENCE

Read how She Found Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Annapolis, Ontario.—"I must write and tell you my experience with your medicine. I was working at the factory for three years and became so run-down that I used to take weak spells and would be at home at least one day each week. I was treated by the doctors for anemia, but it didn't seem to do me any good. I was told to take a rest, but was unable to, and kept on getting worse. I was troubled mostly with my periods. I would sometimes pass three months, and when it came it would last around two weeks, and I would have such pains at times in my right side that I could hardly walk. I am only 19 years of age and weigh 118 pounds now, and before taking the Vegetable Compound I was only 105 pounds. I was sickly for two years and some of my friends told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I had taken a bottle of it I felt a change. My mother has been taking it for a different ailment and has found it very satisfactory. I am willing to tell friends about the medicine and to answer letters asking about it."—Miss HAZEL BERNDT, Box 700, Annapolis, Ontario.

FISHERMEN HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Vessel Struck Rocks and Had to be Beached in Violent Storm Prince Rupert, Feb. 25.—Utterly fatigued by loss of sleep, Capt. Peter Thompson, of the Crow and Magnus Carbone arrived here this morning aboard their fishing boat Verna. The vessel's hull was punctured two nights ago when she was driven on the rocks near Big Gander in Hecate Straits during a violent storm. Capt. Thompson narrowly escaped drowning when he and the crew of two at last managed to take their blankets and other supplies ashore. Later, with the rising tide, they were able to beach the vessel and make temporary repairs.

SEATTLE SHIPPING

Seattle, Feb. 25.—Col. R. M. Watkins, North Pacific Coast district director of the United States Ship-ping Board, with headquarters here, announced yesterday that a contract for engine repairs to the American Oriental Mail Line Steamship Front-door at Seattle had been awarded to the H. R. L. Motors Company of Seattle, which submitted a bid of $36,901. Word was received here yesterday from San Francisco that the Federal Bagge Line, also known as the Mississippi-Warrior service, is to open an office in Seattle for the purpose of developing greater traffic for the line on the Puget Sound and Mississippi River. The service has an office in San Francisco, and intends to establish a third office on the coast in San Pedro.

Suggests Solution To Shipping Tangle

Cape Town, Feb. 25.—The attitude of the Government of South Africa with regard to the negotiations for the renewal of a contract with the Union Castle Steamship line for the carrying of mail between Cape Town and South Africa, apparently is not altogether endorsed by the commercial community of the country. Addressing a large meeting here, President Sturges of the Associated Chambers of Commerce, enunciated four cardinal points which he thought ought to influence the Government. He considered that, first, there should be sole agency for the carrying of mail and not a secret subsidy to commerce; second, rates fixed over a longer period; third, that the community must pay; fourth, there must be no preferential import rates and, fourth, the commercial instincts of the country must be considered.

The cargo numbered 20,000 cases.

Sea Lions Make Excellent Pets

London, Feb. 25.—The sea lion is the ideal pet and the perfect friend of man, according to recommendations made by members of the Amateur Society, who have published a recent book on their various experiences with animals. Owing to the expense of the upkeep of a sea lion, it is not probable that they will ever replace cats and dogs as pets. A sea lion has all the intelligence of a dog, adaptability and affection, and requires no license, but eventually it costs from $100 to $200 a year to keep a pet of this kind.

Anticipates Big Development in Oriental Trade

Calgary, Feb. 25.—That the new Canadian Pacific port at Vancouver would be finished by Fall was the statement of Grant Hall, vice-president of the C.P.R., who arrived in Calgary on Wednesday afternoon from the coast traveling via Lethbridge. "We are working day and night on this work," said the vice-president, "and everything is being done to rush it to completion at the earliest possible moment. Then you expect an important development in the company's Orient business" queried a representative of the press, who met Mr. Hall's special train on arrival. "Yes, everything points that way," he replied. The vice-president appeared to be well pleased with his western trip. "Conditions at the coast are improving," he remarked, "and everyone is in good spirits." The stay of the vice-president in Calgary was brief. He left early on Thursday morning for Edmonton. From there he will proceed to Montreal via Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

Victoria Delegation to Portland Preparing Stunts to Gain Next Convention

T. R. Myers Speaks on Business Relations

T. R. Myers, of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, addressed to-day's Rotary luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce on 'The relations between employer and employee.'

He pointed out that the basis of all such industrial business relationships is to be found in the necessity of assuring, to all concerned, the regular provision of necessities and some of the luxuries of life.

Encouragement of employees to become shareholders in the business for which they work is being widely followed, Mr. Myers stated, giving data concerning large corporations successfully practicing this method of increasing interest by the workers.

Special training of foremen is being undertaken by many large firms. A great increase in loyalty and production had resulted from better acquaintance among employees with the aims and handicaps of the business.

Charity welfare work had been generally found to be unprofitable, and even such large schemes as that

Watson to Face
Nanaimo Magistrate

Ross C. Watson, charged with complicity in the $42,000 robbery of the Royal Bank of Canada at Nanaimo, will appear before Magistrate Beavor Potts in that city to-morrow afternoon, according to a statement made by J. H. McMullin, Superintendent of Provincial Police, to-day. The original intention of the authorities was to remand the proceedings at Okalla without a formal appearance in the city where the robbery was committed, to save escorting the prisoner to and from the island for every remand hearing. A. M. Johnson, K.C. Crown Counsel, will ask a remand of the preliminary hearing in Watson's case for a further eight days. It is understood, W. E. Burns appears for the accused. The Crown seeks to delay the preliminary hearing, it is understood, until all four men arrested in the affair can be brought before the court, on the ground that a disclosure of the evidence piecemeal would not be justified. T. H. Johnson, William Bagley and Harry Rossi are held in Seattle, pending the outcome of extradition proceedings now in final stage.

CONVENTION PLANS

The 'On to Portland' committee reported upon the district conference to be held in the Rose City March 22, 23 and 24. This will be the last gathering of presided district, which is about to be divided. The Rotarians unanimously endorsed the boundary lines dividing the district, as submitted by a special district committee. R. R. Webb urged that forty members should muster for the conference, and with stunts and songs tie up traffic opposite the Multnomah Hotel quarters and give 'Victoria' a great advertisement. He suggested that all delegates wear sailor caps, with scalars over their business suits, and chant a number of new war songs while performing simple drills.

His suggestion aroused great amusement, especially that of providing all delegates with tin telescopes 'to see the town.' The sample shown can be converted into snappy carolines which all could play.

President J. H. Beatty stated that Victoria Rotary Club was going to

CANADA'S NEW LINK WITH ALASKA

It is not many years since Alaska was one of those countries whose geographical location was indicated with a grandiloquent sweep of the arm northwards. It has always been a land of mystery, romance and adventure. It has provided the theme for the thrilling tales of novelists and the stirring poems of northern bards. But even though the days of the check-ako and the sourdough is done, the brief but active span of the Dangerous Dan Magreggs and the Lady Lou's, matters of historical reference, the lure of Alaska has not waned, but is as appealing as ever to the hearts of men and women wherein a bit of romance lurks, and that means to everyone.

Alaska is no longer a far off country. It is a very near neighbor to Canada. It will be even nearer this summer. Mr. J. E. Dalrymple, Traffic Vice-President of the Canadian National Railways, has announced that commencing on June 22nd, the company will inaugurate a weekly steamship service between Prince Rupert and Alaska, and that the burning steamships, 'Prince George' and 'Prince Rupert,' which have already established a reputation as being among the best-appointed vessels on the Pacific Coast, will be engaged in this new service.

Going northward the ships will reach Prince Rupert at 10.30 on Wednesday morning, following the Monday of sailing from Vancouver, and tourists will be given an opportunity to see something of this new Pacific port, as the steamer

Some of the scenes along this magnificent sea voyage are shown in the photographs: (1) A view of Skagway, Alaska, where visitors will be given ample time to see this famous town and also to visit White Horse and the Atlin Lake district.

(2) A beautiful sunset scene on the Lynn Canal, which the steamships Prince Rupert and Prince George will thread on their journey into the Land of the Midnight Sun.

(3) The Taku Glacier, one mile wide and ninety miles long—one of the largest and most beautiful glaciers in the world.

(4) The Prince Rupert, which, with the 'Prince George,' will be used in the Vancouver-Prince Rupert-Alaska service this summer. These boats are oil-burners and are among the finest appointed vessels in the Pacific Coast service. Inset is one of the curious totem poles to be found in the business section of Wrangell, Alaska.

possessing many associations with the period when Alaska was a Russian possession. The next point touched will be Juneau, the capital of Alaska, and a modern city with good motor roads and many points of interest, including the Mendenhall Glacier and mines which have made this country famous. On the way from Wrangell to Juneau there will be an opportunity to see the grandeur of Taku Inlet and the famous Taku Glacier, over a mile wide and 90 miles long.

The ships will arrive at Skagway at seven o'clock Friday morning and will remain there until seven o'clock Saturday night, thus giving ample opportunity to passengers to see this famous town and to visit White Horse and the Atlin Lake District. On the south-bound journey the steamers will reach Vancouver at nine o'clock Wednesday morning, making a complete ten-day round trip.

In addition to the Alaskan trip, the tri-weekly service between Vancouver and Prince Rupert will be maintained, and also a semi-weekly service to Anxox and Stewart on the Portland Canal, which service has been in effect for some time past. The establishment by the Canadian National Railways of this Alaska steam-boat service will meet the demands of many tourists, and will be a fitting climax to the famous Triangle Four, comprising Jasper National Park, the Rockies, the Coast Range and the water voyage through the 'Norway of America.'

SWEDISH LABORITES AVOID EXTREMISM

Stockholm, Feb. 26.—Sweden is a stronghold of labor in politics, the percentage of voters enrolled under the labor banner being larger than in any other country, according to figures brought out here by the Social-Demokraten, the Government organ, and vouchered for by the secretary of the Socialist Labor International. On the other hand, the relative insignificance of the Communist organizations, when measured by the test of the ballot box, is revealed by the same statistics.

In the Swedish Riksdag the Social-Democratic Party, which forms the principal backing of the present Government, has a membership of 194 out of a total of 230 deputies, or 84.3 per cent, the highest in any country. The Communist representatives number only four, with one independent. The Social-Democratic vote in the last election was 725,844, or 41.1 per cent of the total, while the Communist vote was but 65,283, or 3.7 per cent. Consequently there would seem to be every prospect that in Sweden the labor movement will continue to follow the late Hjalmar Branting's fundamental principle to remain evolutionary within legal bounds, rather than resort to revolutionary tactics.

Hjalmar Branting died this week.

NEW FIGHT AGAINST TROPICAL DISEASES

Buenos Ayres, Feb. 26.—The Rockefeller Foundation will aid the Argentine sanitary authorities in fighting tropical diseases in North America. Argentina, it has notified Dr. Gregorio Aranz, director of the National Hygiene Department, Dr. Alfaro has returned from the United States, where he explained the conditions prevailing in that region to Rockefeller Foundation officials. It is understood the Foundation will send a commissioner to Argentina to arrange preliminary details and the manner wherein the aid will be rendered.

ASKS RELEASE

Fairbanks, Alaska, Feb. 26.—Vuca Perovich, life prisoner in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., who has filed habeas corpus proceedings in the federal court at Topeka in an effort to force his release after serving nearly twenty years, killed a man named Jacob, September 15, 1908, at the mouth of Deadman's Slough, a few miles from here, local records disclose. The slough derived its name from the crime.

"Child's Eyelids Inflamed Stuck Together and Bled"

Mr. E. P. Kimball, Entwistle, Alta., writes: "Our little girl from birth was troubled with inflamed eyelids and in spite of several remedies, grew worse until at the age of sixteen months her eyes could not be opened after sleep without bleeding, a waxy discharge sticking the lids together and adhering with great tenacity. The child's grandmothers were consulted by mail, and both responded with a little sample box of Dr. Chase's Ointment. These were used as directed, and lasted until we could obtain a further supply from Edmonton. Improvement was very marked from the first application. The waxy discharge was easier removed and did not reappear. Inflammation subsided and has not returned."

GOVERNMENT NOT WORRYING ABOUT POSSIBILITIES OF A GENERAL ELECTION THIS YEAR

a matter of fact, the big men in the Conservative party do not expect victory in the next election—they are waiting for the next one after that. By that time, some claim, they will have a new leader and maybe a new policy, things may have taken a different turn and life for a Conservative politician may be worth while again.

NEW LEADERS

Behind the scenes here Conservatives are already engaged in the great political game of picking new leaders. It is assumed, of course, that if his party loses the next election Mr. Meighen will resign his leadership. But looking over the political landscape it is difficult for the political graders to see a successor.

There has been some talk of Sir Arthur Currie leaving his high post in the educational world to battle in the much less attractive lists of politics, but nothing has come of this so far.

Then there is that well-groomed and elegant knight, Sir Henry Layton. The fact that Sir Henry spent a big part of last year in Europe, and it is said devoted himself chiefly to the study of French, is not insignificant. In the days that are to come the Conservative party must have at its head someone who can appeal to Quebec more effectively than Mr. Meighen. Maybe Sir Henry could, so some of the leading Tories think.

M. H. STEVENS

Hon. H. H. Stevens, of Vancouver Centre, is not without followers who think that he could lead the party out of the jungle. It can be said for Mr. Stevens that he is a good debater, and his first speech in Parliament this year outshone that of his chief rival.

The big trouble with Mr. Stevens is at home in Vancouver. Mr. Stevens had the misfortune to split with the old-line Conservatives of his party at the last Provincial election because of an indiscreet flirtation with the Provincials. The Conservatives who still stand by Mr. Bowser—and there are a lot of them—do not like Mr. Stevens because they think he failed to give the former Provincial Conservative leader a fair deal in the campaign of last June. In fact, Liberal politicians are expecting to upset Mr. Stevens's calculations and break his old hold on Vancouver Centre.

And so it is very difficult to pick Mr. Meighen's successor just now, and very promising young men who might be developed into a leader has so far appeared.

ELECTED A LIBERAL

Mr. Meighen himself has suffered a series of misfortunes. The last of these was not its humorous side. A group of leading Conservatives held a caucus some time ago and, with as much enthusiasm as a relatively small caucus can expect to create, confirmed Mr. Meighen in the party leadership. Whereupon Mr. Meighen hurried in to thank his friends with a few hasty words and then he covered his shoulder as he hurried away again that he was off to West Hastings to lead the old party to victory there. This made the caucus feel the more enthusiastic. "Good old Meighen was out to lead the old party to victory again."

And just as Mr. Meighen has been confirmed in his position and was leading the road of party to victory again the electors of West Hastings, devoid of any proper feeling, promptly elected a Liberal. Things like that do not help a leader, just confirmed in his position and expected to lead his party to victory again.

It is things like this that make the life of organizers like Dr. Tolmie hectic to be comfortable. Dr. Tolmie is expected to win elections with politicians who are usually passive, but mean-while without the attraction and glamour of a magnetic leader. The task is too difficult; and it would not be surprising if, at the proper time, the doctor packed up his grips, said good-bye to unappreciative places like West Hastings, and strode out to British Columbia, where he can have the Provincial Conservative leadership for the asking.

LOYAL TO MEIGHEN

So far he has rejected the feverish S.O.S. calls from the Pacific Coast and has been many a time, mostly because of his loyalty to Mr. Meighen. The friendship between them is regarded here as the real attraction which keeps Dr. Tolmie in this cold, which is cold politically just now as in other ways. When Mr. Meighen leaves the Conservative leadership British Columbians may expect to see the doctor's massive figure striding through the Rockies towards the Coast.

One of the Opposition's little ways of getting ready for the next election is to hold up the Government's estimates as long as possible. In this they are succeeding, of course. All a member has got to do is talk long enough to keep a vote from passing. After he and his friends have talked the vote usually passes, but meanwhile he can have a lot of fun.

The Conservatives started on the estimates of the Department of Agriculture, and, after holding the Opposition on a vote concerning the making of cheese from 4 in the afternoon until 11 at night they thought they were doing very well for themselves. All the agricultural experts of the Opposition were thrown into the cheese fight, Dr. Tolmie and Donald Sutherland, Ontario dairyman, in the forefront of the battle.

Evidently all the estimates are going to be met with similar treatment. This will make the proceedings interesting but will hold up the progress of business.

TALK ITSELF OUT

A businesslike session that will not drag away into midsummer is evidently the desire of the Government. For this reason the Liberals abandoned the possible political advantages of long speeches in the debate on the Speech from the Throne and let the Opposition talk itself out. Immediately afterwards the Government brought down its estimates and moved to get early consideration of national smuggling and extradition treaties, liquor importation into the provinces and compensation for Home Bank depositors.

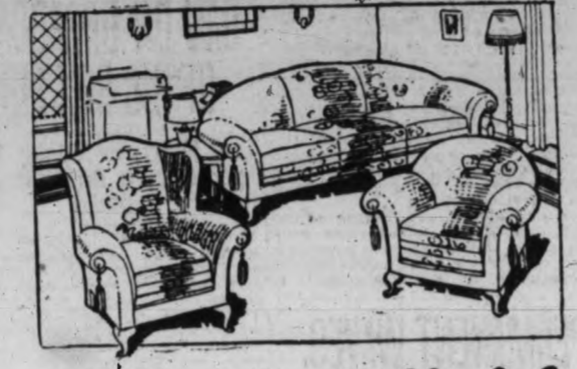

With an election in view the Opposition is not going to let the Government's programme have an easy passage through the House. Every item of business, it is expected, will be fought inch by inch so that Conservative members may have still more opportunity to show the people of Canada that they are ruined by poor tactics, but this opportunity is all the Tories have.—B.I.L.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
 Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

THE DARLING OF DESTINY
 By MILDRED BARBOUR

AN EXPEDIENT LIE
 The Summer dragged its hot length slowly and wearily. Anxieties accumulated in the Blanchard family. Though they were kept carefully below the surface, Sue could feel their threatening portent. She was a Josephine, fully recovered from her accident, and given new confidence by her husband's humility over what he believed to be his unjust suspicions, more and more time over the market reports, and would dash off suddenly to town without apology or explanation. Only Sue was apparently serene. But it was a surface serenity, because at heart she was very much troubled. Hinkamp's attentions were becoming more and more insistent, and at each visit of his she noted that the family atmosphere became distinctly more cheerful. She no longer needed Haskins to tell her what was expected of her; it was as obvious as if the Blanchards had told her. She was expected to marry Hinkamp and relieve them of further responsibility concerning her. She has made no mention of the reward she had received for the pearls. After due thought regarding it, she had sent a considerable amount of it to Aunt Sally to relieve certain present obligations, and some she had spent for necessary frocks for herself. She had chosen such simple things as not to arouse Mrs. Blanchard's or Joan's suspicions; but once in a while she caught Josephine looking at her queerly. For a long time she had known that she was making an enemy of Josephine. She wondered whether it was because Josephine had had to take her into her confidence on the night of the accident, or whether it was because Tony invariably said flattering attention to Sue when they met at parties. He seemed to find relief in her presence, but even when they were alone, never again attempted a flirtation. She met Haskins often at the same parties, and occasionally she lunched with him in town. He invariably repeated his invitation to dine at his apartment, but she was always able to invent plausible excuses which, whether he believed or not, he accepted with good grace. Hinkamp finally asked her to marry him, as she had known from the first he would. She had reached a point where she actually loathed him; his mannerisms, his incessant giggle, got frightfully on her nerves, but she knew that her position with the Blanchards made it necessary for her to handle the situation with diplomacy. Therefore she was—

Uncle Wiggily was sitting, half asleep in his easy chair one day, when he heard a knock on the door of his hollow stump bungalow. "Come in!" he called in a jolly voice, as he opened his eyes. "But if you're any of the bad chaps—stay out!" "I'm not a bad chap," answered a sad little voice. "But you might call me a SAD chap, Uncle Wiggily," and in walked Baby Bunty, holding in her paws the wooden doll Uncle Wiggily had given her the day she was visiting Mrs. Twisttail, the lady pig. "Why are you sad, Baby Bunty?" the rabbit gentleman asked. "Because I have broken my wooden doll," answered Bunty. "You thought she was so strong that she wouldn't break. But I dropped her on the ice, when I was skating yesterday. Before I could pick my doll up Jackie Dow Wot skated right over her and cut off one of her wooden legs. Oh, dear!" "Don't fret sad, Bunty. I'll hop to the store, get a glue pot, and with the sticky glue in the pot, I'll mend your doll's wooden leg so she will be as well as ever."

 He was to be married, and he went to his tailor to be measured for the wedding garments. When the agony was over, the tailor coughed apologetically. "I am sorry, Mr. Blank, but I must ask you to pay cash for these suits." "What! I've had an account with you for fourteen years, and I've always settled half-yearly!" "I know, sir," apologized the tailor; "but up to now you've always had the handling of your own money!"
 David, aged eight, after promising to be very careful, was allowed to "turn out" the potting-shed. After some time he returned to the house and, with an expression of grave concern, said, "Mummy, I know you will be very sorry to hear that two large flower-pots have passed away—and suddenly, too!"
 To assist the police in their search for a notorious criminal, headquarters circulated photographs of the wanted man, taken in six different positions. A few days later, they received a telegram from the chief constable of a small country town: "Photographs duly received. Have arrested five. The sixth is under observation."
 Visitor: "If your mother gave you a large apple and a small one, and told you to divide with your brother, which apple would you give him?" Johnny: "Dye me one my big brother or my little one?"

SUNRISE SERVICE ON EASTER MORNING

Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee Organizes

Tour of Inspection Will be Made on March 18

Rev. Dr. Davies received permission for a Sunrise Service on Easter morning at Mount Tolmie, from the Victoria-Saanich Beaches and Parks Committee yesterday afternoon. An illuminated cross is proposed to be erected for a week prior to the date, standing about twenty feet high.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

The annual inspection of the beaches and parks was set for March 18, leaving the City Hall at nine o'clock. The committee was given notice of the transfer of the property at Cadboro Bay formerly leased from B. G. Goward. Arrangements with regard to the necessary accommodation on the property were left to the chairman, Reeve Macnicol, for action in connection with the new owner.

FORESHORE RIGHTS

A considerable discussion took place with regard to the foreshore encroachments at Cadboro Bay, and it was resolved to deal with the matter after consultation with the city solicitor, in relation to that bay, and also the foreshore at Moodyville. Alderman Marchant stated that the Saanich municipal solicitor should also be consulted, as amended, was then approved.

ELK LAKE SHORE

Improvements in connection with the Elk Lake shore, between the lake edge and the roadway of the East Road, were laid over until the annual inspection. The matter was drawn to the attention of the committee by A. H. Pease, of Hamsterley-Lakeside.

POLICE SUPERVISION

Some supervision of the beaches was recommended, which it was said had been held up by disinclination of Oak Bay to come in. Police protection was needed, several members declared, to keep better discipline in Summer.

CONCESSIONS

The committee dealt with several concessions for the parks, it being decided to advertise for applications. Concessions will not be granted until nearer the period of use.

FINANCIAL SITUATION

The financial statement showed total receipts of $5,516.87, of which $85,698.38 had been expended. The receipts for the Memorial Avenue account were $2,537.50. The expenditures for parks was as follows: Elk Lake Park $1,200; Elk Lake Park $2,252.31; Mount Douglas Park $963.79; Cadboro Bay Park $139.72; Mount Tolmie Park $172.13; Cordova Bay Park $426.25; Island View $30.15; Verdies Park $76.69; Brookes Park $29.16; Gorge bathing pavilion $94.93; and general $294.12.

OFFICIALS

Reeve Macnicol was re-elected as chairman, R. F. Sewell as treasurer and John Baxter as secretary. Courtesy of being honorary members will be extended to the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce for three representatives, as was done last year.
