THAW TO FIGHT AGAINST DEPORTATION ARRAY OF COUNSEL ENGAGED TO DEFEND MAN WHO MADE ESCAPE FROM MATTEWAN

All Doubt of His Identity Set Aside by Visit of Newspapermen From New York Who Followed Notorious Case in Courts

Legal Authorities Consider Prisoner's Release Certain on His Presentation Before Judge Globinsky; Commitment is Mass of Irregularities

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 20.—That Thaw will be immediately released as soon as the facts concerning his arrest are placed before Judge Globinsky to-day, is the opinion of all the legal authorities consulted. The commitment under which Thaw has been lodged in the Sherbrooke jail is a mass of irregularities. He is committed on the charge of being a fugitive from the Mattewan asylum for the criminal insane, where he was sentenced for life on a criminal charge. In the first place Thaw was not sentenced to Mattewan on a criminal charge, and was not sentenced for life, but until such time as he could be cured; moreover, he was not sentenced to a penitentiary. This commitment will be contested by W. L. Shartiff, Thaw's attorney, on the ground that Thaw was not guilty of any offence against the laws of Canada, and that the proceedings have been irregular on account of the fact that whoever made the charge also executed the warrant. Although it is conceded that Thaw will be released, plans are being made for his immediate re-arrest. Two days to this effect are being considered. The Canadian officials may arrest him on an extraditable offence, or they may take steps to have him deported. Thaw, however, can appeal from deportation by entering an appeal and depositing $25.

Sherbrooke, Que., Aug. 20.—Harry K. Thaw, caught by a New Hampshire sheriff after his sensational escape from Mattewan, spent the night in the hospital ward in the jail of this border town, and this morning at the urgent telegraphic demands of his family, retained new counsel to fight deportation to the United States.

George Lauder Carnegie, his brother-in-law, wired during the night that he was hurrying here with Thaw's sister, Margaret, and cautioned Thaw to delay the proceedings, if possible, pending his arrival. Meanwhile, Thaw's family as Sherbrooke's most astute lawyer, took charge of the case and Thaw's arraignment before a commissioner this forenoon planned to ask for adjournment of the proceedings.

Protracted conferences to-day between three Canadian lawyers retained to oppose Thaw's deportation to the United States indicated that the preliminary arraignment in court would be postponed at least until to-morrow, possibly for a week.

The supreme court was well crowded long before the proceedings began. Thaw's new chief counsel, Charles D. White, conferred with Thaw and announced that he would apply for a writ of habeas corpus requiring Thaw's presence in court during the arguments for and against his deportation. This new move promised to delay matters considerably.

C. C. Green and D. Neville, representing the immigration authorities, arrived this forenoon to follow the case. An army of old acquaintances, as it were, newspaper men who reported the Thaw murder trials in New York, or followed the recurring sanity proceedings, visited Thaw's prison cell to-day. One glance was enough. It was Harry K. Thaw.

Thaw-like, he had demanded special bedding on his cot; Thaw-like, he talked of statements he purposed to issue, though for the time he declined to be interviewed. He said briefly that he had slept well.

The question of insanity was not embodied in the commitment which brings Thaw before the immigration authorities here. He is held merely as a fugitive from the penitentiary at Mattewan, where he was confined on a criminal charge for life. Thaw was quick to see the chances for fighting deportation on such grounds, for at Mattewan he was charged with nothing, being held as a lunatic accused of the White murder. Along such lines it was expected his lawyers would seek to bar deportation to New York state.

The immigration officials, it was said, were aware of this loophole and were considering the advisability of changing the charge. However, should they deport him simply as an undesirable alien, a lunatic, it might mean his entering the United States via some other state than New York, and this would involve protracted extradition proceedings.

GERMANY SUSTAINS LOSSES BY FLOODS

Berlin, Aug. 20.—Germany is facing serious floods as the result of continuous heavy rainstorms. The Vistula and Silesian rivers are out of their banks. Several towns and a great acreage of grain have been inundated. Crop losses already are heavy. Much damage is reported from Riesenberga, a mountainous region between Bohemia and Prussian Silesia.

MAX GORKY ILL.

Rome, Aug. 20.—Max Gorky, Russian novelist, is seriously ill with a nervous breakdown in his villa in Capri. His physician proposed to remove Gorky to a cooler climate but he refused to leave the villa.

FOREIGN LEGATIONS HEAR FROM HUERTA

The Provisional President Announces Negotiations Continue Cordially With Lind

WILSON'S SUGGESTIONS HAVE BEEN DECLINED

Further Negotiations Would Appear Now to Depend on Washington

LIND OPTIMISTIC AND WAITING INSTRUCTORS

Mexico City, Aug. 20.—The Mexican government to-day sent to all the foreign legations here a note in which it was stated that negotiations between John Lind, the personal representative of President Wilson and Provisional President Huerta, of Mexico, were continuing in a cordial manner.

Further negotiations towards peaceful settlement of the Mexican situation, following Provisional President Huerta's rejection of President Wilson's proposals as submitted by his personal representative, John Lind, would appear now to depend on Washington.

The United States government is willing to reopen the controversy, there is every reason to believe that the Mexican government would be willing.

An official statement from Frederico Gamboa, the Mexican foreign minister, says that the negotiations between Mr. Lind and the Mexican government have not been entirely broken off but that they are being continued confidentially.

Mexico's reply to the United States, while couched in diplomatic language, was a definite rejection of President Wilson's proposals, as presented by John Lind.

EX-Governor Lind to-day is awaiting instructions from Washington. He still is optimistic and believes that the Mexican government may yet agree to entertain President Wilson's peace proposals.

That the United States will not recede from its original proposal, that it cannot recognize any regime unless a constitutional election is held, was reiterated by government officials who discussed the situation with President Wilson. A policy of non-interference in Mexico by continuing to deny arms to both sides and a withdrawal of Americans from the troubled zone is likely to be put into effect, though in some administration quarters there was noticeable talk of drastic measures.

It is the opinion of some officials that the United States should prepare itself for emergencies. President Wilson has been opposed to any big troop movement let it be misinterpreted. Other officials take the view, however, that precautionary measures are necessary.

Secretary Garrison is away on an inspection trip, but Acting Secretary Breckenridge is keeping President Wilson informed of the strength of the army on the frontier and the general situation on the border.

For the present administration officials are waiting for the complete note from Huerta. When that is received it may be published with the original communication from the United States setting forth its views.

SIX CONFLAGRATIONS IN FORESTS NEAR HALIFAX

Woods Behind Waverly Burnings; Cochrane Island is Sheet of Flame.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 20.—Halifax has had only three-quarters of an inch of rain within the past four weeks, and the forest fires outside the city sprang up again yesterday with an increased force. Smoke from six separate conflagrations hung in a dense cloud across the northern and western sky above Halifax yesterday afternoon, and with darkness came the lurid reflections of raging forest fires. To-day there is little change.

The woods are burning behind Waverly, nine miles from Halifax and within a mile of the Waverly powder works, but precautions have been taken to prevent its reaching there. No casualties are reported, but in many places throughout the country men have been out fighting the flames.

Inhabitants of Bayside this morning saw an unusual sight, that of an entire island nearly a mile long forming a solid mass of flames and smoke. Cochrane Island, lying between two settlements and a quarter of a mile from Bayside was ablaze, the ninety-nine acres of spruce and fir timber being consumed.

From fire sweeping north, east and southeast in the form of triangle seven miles long, Mahone Bay is in danger.

THE BALKAN STATES AS THE RESULT OF TWO WARS

BULGARIA OBTAINS THE LARGEST TERRITORY WHILE GREECE RECEIVES MOST SEA FRONTAGE

The Balkan peninsula as it is now divided among the states and Turkey, if Turkey can be counted among the others, gives Bulgaria by far the largest territory, but gives Greece the largest sea front. This sea front to a maritime nation such as Greece is of unquestionable importance, and includes such important ports as Salonica and Kavala, the latter a tobacco port. For both of these cities Bulgaria argued and fought. The combined forces of the allies finally overpowered Bulgaria to the Greek point of view.

Bulgaria may lose still additional territory, as the question of Turkey keeping Adrianople, which she has captured from the Bulgars, is not finally settled. Turkey would stretch the Enos-Milla line, established by the treaty of London, so that it would include Adrianople and Kirk Kiliseh. This Turkish ambition is shown by a dotted line in the above map.

Roumania of course gets the slice of northeastern Bulgaria which she has so long coveted.

Serbia, whose sole purpose of going into the war against Turkey was to get an outlet to the sea, either the Adriatic or the Aegean, comes out of the second Balkan war with her purpose still unaccomplished. The powers, it will be recalled, prevented a Servian "window on the Adriatic." Greece of course objected that Serbia should cut off the port of Kavala, which is populated almost entirely by Greeks. However, an agreement has been reached between the two nations whereby Serbia gets commercial rights on the Aegean Sea. The Serbs also win back old Serbia and their former capital, Uskub.

Montenegro, from whose mountain fastnesses nothing has been heard since King Nicholas was forced out of Scutari, gets a small share of territory in northern Albania and the Sanjak of Novi-Pazar.

CHESTERFIELD VOTERS ELECT MEMBER TO-DAY

Barnet Kenyon Represents Two Parties but is Disowned by Labor.

London, Aug. 20.—Polling in the Chesterfield, Derbyshire, by-election caused by the death of James Hiaslam, the miners' leader is taking place to-day. Additional pliancy to the contest has been afforded through the official Labor party having disowned Barnet Kenyon, who is running both as a Liberal and a Labor candidate.

A frankly Socialist candidate appeared at the eleventh hour in John Sour. As the coal miners form the bulk of voters it is probable they will vote solid for Mr. Kenyon, who is assistant-secretary of the union. Edward Christie, the Unionist candidate, has been nursing the constituency for eight months, but his chances depend on the extent of the Socialist poll. The result will be announced to-morrow.

The late Mr. Hiaslam sat for Chesterfield division of Derbyshire since 1908, and with the last election had a majority of 2,283.

ROUMANIA PUTS LIMIT ON JEWISH CITIZENSHIP

Berlin, Aug. 20.—The Roumanian government, which promised to confer citizenship on Jews who served in the army in the recent campaign against Bulgaria, seems bent, according to the "Reuechtel", on restricting its action to the narrowest limit.

The Roumanian war office has just served notice on several thousand Jews that they were illegally mustered and will be sent home. The government's favor, therefore, is limited to actual soldiers, will affect only 15,000 regulars of the 200,000 Jewish population.

ROTHSCHILD PAYING VISIT TO CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—With his physician and a companion attending him, Erich von Goldschmidt Rothschild, a son of the famous family of European bankers, is "roughing it" in southern California. The young man, who is 19 years old, is on a tour of the globe. He is recovering from an attack of jungle fever contracted while in German East Africa.

Rothschild is a son of Baron Goldschmidt Rothschild, a banker at Frankfurt-On-Main. His personal estimates are valued at approximately $7,000,000.

TURKEY IS SATISFIED TO RETAIN ADRIANOPOLE

Fighting Still Continues Bulgarian Garrison Ousted From Kuchuk Kalkak.

Constantinople, Aug. 20.—The council of ministers decided yesterday to send a note to the powers announcing Turkey's willingness to evacuate all territory west of Maritza river on condition that the Ottoman government be permitted to retain Adrianople.

Sofia, Aug. 20.—The Turks have occupied Kuchuk Kalkak, in the Gamulina district, after an engagement with the small Bulgarian garrison.

It is believed to be Turkey's intention to occupy and hold the territory west of Mesea river, not with a view to its permanent occupation, but in order to compel Bulgaria to treat directly with Turkey on the question of Adrianople, and thus prevent interference in this situation by the powers.

WANT REID TO LEAD THE LIBERAL PARTY

Australian High Commissioner Likely to Resign and Take Control From Cook

Melbourne, Aug. 20.—Sir George Reid, Australian high commissioner in London, is likely to resign his office in London for the purpose of re-entering federal politics again, according to the newspapers here.

Sir George was appointed high commissioner by the late Deakin government over three years ago. It being about the last act of the latter before he relinquished the reins of government. He is a rank free trader and is considered a reactionary by the radical section.

In the event of his going into active politics again he would probably assume the leadership of the Liberals, as the present prime minister, Hon. Joseph Cook, is not considered a strong man and his choice as leader of the party was received with surprise on all sides.

Sir George has always had the respect of his opponents and as a speaker is both forceful and humorous. Political cartoonists will welcome him back for his peculiar physiognomy, appearance having been the prop and mainstay of that fraternity for many years.

SELECT FIFTH ARBITRATOR

New York, Aug. 20.—The four arbitrators appointed under the Newlands Act in the wage dispute between the eastern railroads and the trainmen and conductors, selected yesterday as the fifth arbitrator Seth Low, former mayor of New York and president of the National Civic Federation.

The sixth arbitrator necessary to complete the board has been agreed upon and notified of his selection, and his acceptance will be awaited.

SEVENTY PER CENT GOLD.

Johannesburg, Aug. 20.—Newspapers here give prominence to authoritative accounts of the recent discovery of a goldfield in Klio in the Belgian Congo. Some of the reefs are said to yield 70 per cent. gold and it is declared that Rand will be upraised.

FLOOD OF SHAFT COMMENCED TO-DAY

Strong Guard Placed When Rumor of Dynamite Plot is Heard

WILL PROBABLY COMB NANAIMO FOR FIREARMS

Union Refuses to Allow Men into Pit to Fight Fire in Mine

MEETING IS DISPERSED AT SOUTH WELLINGTON

Nanaimo, Aug. 20.—Rumors of a plot to blow up Vipond's boarding-house on Robson street, where a large number of the special police are quartered, reached the officers of the militia last night, with the result that a strong guard was thrown around the place until daylight. It was ascertained that a number of men held a secret meeting and agreed to dynamite the house last night.

There are now 128 men under arrest here.

The feeling among the strikers seems to be far more bitter against the specials than against the soldiers. Another story which is given considerable credence here is that a quantity of arms and ammunition have been discovered in the city. Whether or not the report is true cannot be ascertained, but it is certain that the militia officers and police are concentrating the city for fire-arms and cartridges.

The flood of No. 1 shaft commenced this morning, several large centrifugal pumps being employed in drawing water from the harbor and pouring it down the shaft moat. This will be continued until the workings have been flooded to the bottom of the shaft moat. The natural seepage of the mine will also aid in the work of filling it. As most of the mine is beneath the harbor the seepage is considerable. It is the only salvation for the property, and although Manager Stockert was loath to take the step he was compelled to do so by the action of the union in refusing to recognize the necessity for the shaft-lighters, firemen and others going down into the pit to fight the fire in the mine.

At South Wellington yesterday it was struck—have a mass meeting of the strikers, but three mounted men from the corps of guards who were sent there dispersed the gathering without any opposition other than a few sarcastic remarks.

Word from Victoria says that more special police will arrive from the capital to-day.

During the presentation in court yesterday afternoon of the men under arrest a crowd, consisting mostly of women, filled the courtroom gallery, occasionally nodding encouragement to the friends below. The solemnity of the occasion seemed to impress itself on the visitors, and several of the women began to sob softly when their husbands' names were called. The pale, drawn features of the children and the tired, weary look of the mothers showed plainly the strain of the past few days had not been felt by the men of the city alone.

In quick succession the charges were read and the prisoners stood up to be remanded. Most of the charges were for having taken part in an unlawful assembly on August 13, but a number were for alleged intimidation of John Weeks, a strike-breaker. Only one incident disturbed the sitting. That was when someone in the gallery cried "hear, hear," in answer to a statement made by Mr. Leighton that bail in any amount could be secured.

"One more such cry," said the magistrate, shaking his finger at the crowd, "will be sufficient to have me order the court cleared." After that time the silence was such that a pin could be heard fall.

John Placco, M. P. P., announced that he did not desire any favors and wished to have the same treatment as the others.

"He shall," replied his worship, and he remanded Placco for eight days without bail. This afternoon the charges against those arrested in Ladysmith will be heard in that city, while to-night others arrested in Nanaimo and Extension will come up before the magistrate here who has the dual powers of city magistrate and stipendiary.

HORSE TOOK BUGGY AND PASSENGERS INTO RIVER

Mission City, B. C., Aug. 20.—Two young ladies had a narrow escape from death by drowning in the Fraser river on Saturday at the Mission ferry. They were Miss Edith Catherwood, of Mission, and Miss J. Ames, of Vancouver. They were driving down to the ferry when their horse took fright and dashed down the wharf slip. The ferry had not yet reached the slip and the horse, rig and occupants were plunged into the cold waters of the Fraser. They were rescued by the crew of the ferry. The horse and buggy were also recovered, but little damaged.

TO INQUIRE INTO THE BALKAN WAR MASSACRES

Carnegie Endowment Fund Committee Will Gather Some Information.

Paris, Aug. 20.—On the initiative of the division of intercourse and education of the Carnegie Endowment Fund for international peace, a committee representing Great Britain, the United States, France, Russia, Germany and Austria, has been appointed to make an impartial inquiry into the alleged massacres in the Balkans during the recent war and economic complications resulting from the war.

The work of the committee will have as its basis evidence published by the various governments and by official news agencies and testimony of the European and American travellers who have visited the scene of events.

It will endeavor to purify this mass of testimony and compare it with evidence which the committee advances after a careful sifting of the result, the committee's findings will be published in a general report which will be translated into many languages and widely disseminated.

ANNACIS ISLAND TO BE COVERED BY INDUSTRIES

Cambriol Corporation Owns Million Dollar Holdings Cleared of Encumbrances.

New Westminster, Aug. 20.—The land holdings of the Cambriol Corporation on Annacis Island, close to the city of New Westminster, now totals $1,000,000. The company is preparing to cover this island with industries, and is satisfied with the prospects of future returns from their investments.

Henry Pearce, of Victoria, of the Cambriol Corporation, who has just returned from England, where he succeeded in raising an additional subscription of $200,000 to clear the company's holdings of all encumbrances, was in the city yesterday and received satisfactory assurances from Hon. Robert Rogers that the Fraser river channel and the New Westminster harbor would be improved at once. Annacis Island is closely connected with this city's new harbor scheme. He expressed the opinion that New Westminster would have no difficulty in securing all the industries she wanted now that the possibilities of this freshwater port were becoming known in Great Britain.

SEVEN DROWNED IN CABIN OF STEAMER

Heavy Windstorm on Mississippi at Keokuk Overturns the Henry Bosse

Keokuk, Ia., Aug. 20.—Seven persons were drowned last evening when the government steamer Henry Bosse was overturned in a heavy windstorm in the middle of the twenty-foot channel in the Mississippi river here. The dead are: George Hinkel, Carthage, Ill.; William Jones, Quincy, Ill.; Tom Noonan, Keokuk; Hugh Beaver, Quincy, Ill.; 8-year-old girl, sister of Beaver; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Welsh, St. Louis. Seven other persons, including Captain Seifert, escaped.

Those who were drowned were caught in the cabin of the boat and were unable to get out of the trap, with the exception of Hugh Beaver and his sister, who freed themselves, but both went under as rescue boats drew near.

The Henry Bosse was being used in building a wing dam in the river and started for shore when the squall caught her without warning. Captain Seifert was at the wheel and he was thrown seventy-five feet when the cabin parted from the hull. Captain Seifert was badly injured but was picked up clinging to parts of the wreckage.

Those who escaped swam from under the boat and held to parts of the wreckage until boats put off from the shore.

The capsizing of the steamer was seen from shore. Boats were launched by government employees who reached the Henry Bosse a few minutes later. They found the boat a total wreck.

EIGHT THOUSAND TO HARVEST THE CROP

Saskatchewan Official Report of Standing Wheat Promises Good Yield

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 20.—A grand total of 8,000 harvesters are now either in the districts to which they are destined and at work, or are on the way there from the cities of Western Canada and the Eastern Provinces of the Dominion. According to the advisory C. F. R. about 4,000 men have left points in Ontario and the East.

All the men from the Maritime Provinces, who were in the city, have proceeded to the West and the earliest rush of the year will commence, when five special trains from Ontario come in. The exact times at which these trains will arrive is not yet certain, but it will probably be late tonight.

Regina, Sask., Aug. 20.—The following official crop report has been issued by the Saskatchewan department of agriculture:

In a district bounded on the south by Township 10, on the east by the Dirt Hills, Last Mountain Lake and Range 23, W. 2, and on the north by Township 40, cutting is now general and a medium crop is expected. This area embraces roughly the provincial electoral districts of Gull Lake, Swift River, Rosetown, Kerrobert, Tramping Lake, Biggar, Eagle Creek, Hanley, Saskatoon County, Vonda, Kindersley and the northern portions of Maple Creek and Moose Jaw county. To these should also be added the electoral districts of Souris and Estevan.

Throughout most of this territory, crops on stubble and spring plowing are quite light and plowing has not yet fairly got to work. Here and there in this area conditions are better than those described.

Some damage has been done in these districts by extreme heat that occurred on several days during the past few weeks. In a number of fields the straw is fully ripened, but the heads are not filled to a corresponding extent.

Throughout the remainder of the province the crop promises to give rather more than an average yield, summer fallow ranging from medium to light. Some of this crop is damaged as a result of the heavy rains recently and much of it is rather late. In this territory wheat and heavy oats are being cut at the present time.

Warm weather is imperatively needed throughout this territory, which comprises two-thirds of the crop area of the province.

No damage has been reported from frost or rust, although in some districts high winds have caused some grain to shell out. Damage from this cause is slight. Damage from hail has been reported from Maclean, Manor, Orama, Rosetown, Carleton Place, Kerrobert and Sinteluta.

From all parts of the province are coming calls for men for harvest fields, which are being supplied as quickly as possible by the bureau of labor. The excursions from the East are now arriving.

SUPPLY MEN WAITED IN VAIN FOR ROGERS

Deputation at Vancouver Ignored on Public Matter by Cabinet Minister

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—A deputation of builders and contractors vainly tried to interview the minister of public works (Mr. Rogers) at Vancouver yesterday in reference to the Spanish Bank case in which the provincial attorney-general (W. J. Bowers) is interested. The deputation, according to the contractors, was blocked by H. H. Stevens, M. P., and was passed in the hall of the hotel by the minister who ignored the men after having been notified of the arrival of the deputation.

The contractors called at the hotel early in the morning, and asked to see the minister, saying that they had a proposition to put before him which might end the difficulty under which the people of Vancouver are laboring as a result of the Spanish Bank case. They were told that every minute of the minister's time was taken up until the evening, but that if they came back at 7 o'clock they would be given an interview.

Back they came at 7, and they cooled their heels around the rotunda until 8.45, when Mr. Rogers came down to go to Mr. Stevens' dinner at the Vancouver Club. When the minister came down the elevator they made an endeavor to approach him, but Mr. Stevens intervened, and all the satisfaction the builders supply men got was an intimation by Mr. Rogers that he might receive them on his return from Victoria.

SHIPBUILDERS' MERGER REPORTED FROM LONDON

London, Aug. 20.—A big shipping merger is rumored in Belfast to-day between Hartland & Wolf and Workman and Clarke & Co. Hartland & Wolf headed the list of shipping firms as the largest builders in Great Britain last year, having ten ships to their credit aggregating 118,200 tons, while Workman, Clark & Co. occupied seventh place in last year's list with ten ships aggregating 66,399 tons.

TRAIN HELD UP IN PORTLAND SUBURB

Masked Highwaymen Rob Passengers Under Arms and Escape With Booty

Portland, Ore., Aug. 20.—Masked highwaymen held up the Soo-Spokane fast passenger train on the Oregon-Washington line, as it was passing under the East Twelfth street bridge in Sullivan's Gulch at 8.15 o'clock last night, going through the coaches, forcing the passengers to give up their valuables and firing more than a score of shots to compel the trainmen to comply with their demands.

Joe Barron, a tramp who was riding on top of one of the Pullman cars, was shot and badly wounded. The men, who were four or five in number, escaped, but are pursued by city and county authorities and a squad of special agents in the employ of the railroad.

After the holdup the train was held at the scene while an effort was made to obtain an estimate of the loot that the robbers obtained. It did not start on its way to Spokane and St. Paul again until 11.05 p. m. It is impossible to estimate the amount of booty they took.

L. A. Hare, passing in an automobile, was one of the first spectators at the scene of the holdup. He talked with the fireman of the train, who told him that on hearing the command to stop the train, he looked back and saw a man climbing over the tender with a green handkerchief bound across his eyes.

The fireman jumped from the cab and a shot was fired at him then, and another as he was clambering up the banks of the gulch. He hailed a passing automobile, frightening its occupants, who thought that they were being held up, and was driven to a telephone, where he called up police headquarters and gave the alarm.

The scene of the holdup is within a half-mile of part of the downtown section and in the heart of the thickly settled residential sections.

The police have arrested Eugene Jones and Sam Wold, charged with being two of the bandits. Jones was seen coming out of the gulch immediately after the robbery, and while he denied the police at the time, was later rounded up. Wold, the other prisoner, was arrested on the description given of one of the robbers by a victim. When searched he was found to be armed with a piece of rubber hose, weighted down at one end with a large steel nut, taken off a fish plate of a railway rail. The police are investigating their records.

PROSPERITY IS SHOWN BY POSTAL REVENUE

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 20.—The postal revenue always furnishes a splendid index of the condition of business, and judging by the returns for the past four months, the country was never so prosperous. For the first four months of the fiscal year, 1913, that is from March 31 to July 31, the postal revenue was $4,555,297, as against $4,142,849 for 1912, an increase of $412,448.

Ten years ago the receipts for the same four months was $1,735,242. For the month of July the revenue was $1,285,074, against $1,094,429 for the same month of 1912. Ten years ago for July the returns were $388,470.

LONDON STAGE ARTISTS WILL DRAW COLOR LINE

London, Aug. 20.—The federation of variety artists, according to the Times, is likely to take effective measures to prevent the appearance of Jack Johnson in London music halls. The announcement that the American negro pugilist would do a turn at one of the smaller West End theatres next week has brought a number of remonstrances from the London public. The artists' union has taken the other side, revealing to Johnson's violators of the white slave laws of the United States, the public would not welcome the pugilist as an entertainer.

TOWING AN AIRSHIP.

London, Aug. 20.—The novel sight of an airship towing a disabled companion was witnessed at Aldershot this afternoon. The British army dirigible Eta and a naval airship were out manoeuvring when the machinery in the latter vessel became disabled. The Eta attached a hawser to the other dirigible and towed her to the factory for repairs.

MEN ARRESTED IN COAL TOWN APPEAR IN COURT; ARE REMANDED EIGHT DAYS

One Hundred and Two Strikers and Sympathizers Awaiting Trial in Affected Area; Forty-Seven Presented at Nanaimo

Nanaimo, Aug. 20.—As a result of the raid carried out here and in the mining centres of adjacent districts by the provincial police, assisted by the military, 102 strikers and strike sympathizers are now behind the bars. In consequence, the organization, which all last week until the arrival of the militia terrorized the coal mining section of Vancouver Island, is to-day thoroughly subdued.

The certain process of legal machinery has now stepped in to supplement the more spectacular law-enforcing efforts of the military. With fifty of their number held on serious charges, twenty-nine at Ladysmith, five at South Wellington and eighteen at Extension, and another two scores or more warrants still to be executed, the strikers are beginning to wonder where it will all end.

In the excitement attendant on the disorders of last week the strikers gave little thought to the consequences of their acts. To-day the talk is wholly of the best methods whereby to raise a fund for the defence of the accused.

The local prisoners were, with one solitary exception, arraigned before Magistrate Simpson and remanded for eight days, but being refused despite the plea put forth by their solicitor, J. Leighton. The one exception was William English, held on a charge of intimidating John Weeks, a non-union miner, in the disturbances at No. 1 shaft of the Western Fuel Company on the 11th instant. English's two children are seriously ill, one of them dying, and on the advice of the crown prosecutor, T. B. Shoebottom, the father was allowed to go on his own recognizance.

The court here was crowded to its capacity, and corridors were thronged with relatives and sympathizers of the prisoners when the preliminary hearing of the latter commenced yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A large proportion of the spectators were women, wives, sisters and sweethearts of the prisoners, and on many of their faces signs of fear were discernible.

The prisoners, forty-seven in number, had been, since their arrest at the Athletic Club, confined at the provincial jail. They were brought up in a body, under the escort of fifty special police and a guard of soldiers with fixed bayonets.

The two jury boxes and the benches usually open to the public on the ground floor were packed by them. The balcony was crowded to its capacity with women. At the doorways and in aisles were special police stationed, and the outside exits were guarded by militia. Superintendent Campbell and Chief Constable Stephenson were seated with Mr. Shoebottom, while Mr. Leighton was kept advised by Robert Foster, the U. M. W. president.

John Place, M. P. P., occupied a prominent place in the dock. He was not arrested during the raid on the club, but appeared at the provincial police office at the time the hearing was being brought in. He stated he had heard a warrant was out for him and he gave himself up. He said it had been his intention to go to Victoria and transact some business, afterwards returning and surrendering. He was promptly placed under arrest by Provincial Constable Henney, and his hint that he might be allowed to go to Victoria and return was ignored. Only one charge, that of being a member of an unlawful assembly, has so far been laid against him, but it is understood other charges will be pressed.

Joe Angelo, an Italian, alleged leader of the more violent element strikers, was the only one of the forty-seven to be arraigned for an offence committed outside Nanaimo. He is charged with being a member of an unlawful assembly at Extension on the occasion of the first attack on the non-union quarters there, when women and children were driven to the woods for protection. Other charges will be laid against him.

William Lee, Arthur Jordan, James Baird, Wm. Hay, Thomas Cowler and Chris Pattison, the latter organizer of the U. M. W. of A., are apparently considered the most serious offenders, as two, and in some cases three, charges are preferred against them.

Arguments were made by Mr. Leighton for bail for the Union prisoners whom he has been retained to defend. On behalf of Cowler, the pugilist, who it is alleged figured largely on the attack on the special police at the wharf on Wednesday last, Mr. Leighton based his plea for bail on the ground that his client was interested in a coming fistic contest to the extent of $5,000 or $6,000. Needless to say, the court refused to grant bail. It is possible that some of the cases may be brought on before eight days elapse if the lawyers can get prepared for the hearing. Mr. Leighton also voiced complaint that the accommodation at the jail here was insufficient, necessitating three prisoners to occupy one cage.

Mr. Place, when his lawyer asked for bail, announced from the dock that he intended to take no favors not extended to the others, and he, also, will remain in jail.

The prisoners from Ladysmith, Extension and South Wellington are also confined here at the provincial jail, being brought in this morning on a special train in which was sent out for them. Their names are as follows: Ladysmith—Sam Guthrie, William Simpson, Jr., D. Stevenson, Sr., J. Jackson, R. Walkinshaw, W. Stackhouse, R. Wallace, Mike Mitro, R. Morgan, Sr., James Wallace, J. Morgan, R. Morgan, Jr., J. Scott, Mike Lyman, J. McKenna, F. Wargo, H. Taylor, H. Loudgen, S. Marus, G. Hayes, F. Allison, Wm. Johnson, G. Mall, P. McKenzie, Duncan McKenzie, J. Simpson, C. Axelson.

Extension—T. Greenwell, R. Struthers, J. S. Greenwell, W. Bowater, John Anderson, S. Fairhurst, John Gilmore, Isaac Greenwell, S. Sherwood, E. Moore, G. Murray, J. Sherwood, W. Bowater, Jr., D. Gilmore.

X-RAY SKIRTS BARRED BY PORTLAND'S MAYOR

Executive Looks Through Department Stores and Hurriedly Telephones Peers.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 20.—Mayor Albee yesterday afternoon ordered Chief of Police Clarke to arrest every woman found wearing the new "X-ray" dress on the streets. The mayor said the order must go into effect at once and stringently. Ignorance of the law will be no excuse.

The action of the mayor followed his observations during a trip about town, particularly in and around the big department stores. Mayor Albee saw the objectionable dresses at short range and hurried to go to a telephone and gave his orders to the police.

The question of whether a dress is an X-ray gown will be left to the judgment and discretion of the police.

The "X-ray" is to include all kinds of feminine attire which comes under the term of "immodest dress," and includes necks cut too low and "sheathed" or slit skirts that are extreme.

It was made plain to the police that they must not discriminate as to the wearer.

MANY PASS VALUABLE NECKLACE ON ROADWAY

Mrs. Andrew Welch Tells Officer Just About Where It is and He Recovers Pearls.

Hillsboro, Cal., Aug. 20.—A $5,000 pearl necklace lay on a dusty highway here yesterday for nearly two hours. Several automobiles passed it, many pedestrians unwittingly passed it by, and once the rubber tired wheel of a buggy buried it deeper in the dust.

The necklace had been lost by Mrs. Andrew Welch, a well known society woman of Hillsboro and San Francisco, when walking. She missed it when she returned from her walk and notified a deputy sheriff. He set out in an automobile and found the necklace a few yards from the spot where Mrs. Welch thought she might have dropped it.

BUFFALO BILL PARTS WITH FAMOUS ISHAM

Denver, Colo., Aug. 20.—Col. W. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill," looked off into space, and a mist came over his eyes when he parted with his famous horse Isham yesterday afternoon. The famous scout has ridden Isham for twenty-five years, and has become associated in the minds of thousands of people throughout the country as astride a magnificent white charger.

The Suspicious Coal Man

"YOU'RE not buying as much coal this winter," said the coal man frowning darkly at Mr. McBride.

"So you noticed that, did you?" remarked McBride with a smile of keen delight.

"Buying somewhere else?" questioned the suspicious coal man.

"No, just threw out the old 'Warhorse' that I had in my cellar and put in a McClary's Sunshine Furnace. And I'm buying one-third less coal."

"You see, McClary's Sunshine Furnace has many features for cutting coal bills that no ordinary furnace has. For one thing it has four radiating surfaces that gather up the heat and distribute it through the house. The gas chamber is built to get all the heat out of the gases which would otherwise escape up the chimney. And its four triangular grate bars release ashes without wasting fuel. And its straight fire-pot—"

"Gee! Mr. McBride," interrupted the coalman, "You talk like a McClary salesman."

"Well, you see," said the enthusiastic McBride, "I went into the furnace question mighty thoroughly before I decided on the Sunshine, and I know what I am talking about."

"Well, Mr. McBride, I must say that the Sunshine is a bad furnace for the coal man's business. But I wouldn't mind saving some coal myself, now that the cost of living has gone up so high."

"Better see the McClary agent," was McBride's parting suggestion.

If you have an old "Warhorse" in your cellar it will pay you to see the McClary agent in your locality. You would also find it profitable to write for a copy of the latest Sunshine furnace booklet. Address our nearest office.

FOR MR. ROGERS.
 The head of the public works department is in the city, and we trust his attention will be earnestly called to the subject of all-rail communication between this island and the mainland. He cannot be unfamiliar with this enterprise. It was discussed in parliament two seasons ago, when several prominent members clearly showed that the work should be carried out as a national undertaking. A deputa-tion went from here to Ottawa to lay the matter before the Prime Minister, and Mr. Rogers, of course, is aware that an engineer of the government service is to report upon the cost of the scheme.

The bridging of Seymour Narrows is the most important project affecting Vancouver Island. It would be the finishing touch to the big transcontinental railway programme initiated with the construction of the Canadian Pacific Railway. In the east big works, such as the construction of the Georgian Bay Canal and the deepening of the Welland Canal, involving an expenditure probably six times as great as that involved in the Seymour Narrows project, are contemplated. Surely it is not too much to expect that the big western scheme should find a similar measure of support at Ottawa.

MR. FOSTER'S MISSION.
 Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, has returned from an unsuccessful quest of a reciprocity treaty with Australia. His failure is due to no fault of his own, for he labored most industriously while in the commonwealth in full appreciation of Canada's pressing need of larger markets. But his visit there synchronized with a political upheaval which retired from office the party from whom some encouragement might have been expected and returned to power an administration whose attitude towards the question is somewhat nebulous. Australia has never been enthusiastic on the subject of preferential trade relations with Canada, for the reason, perhaps, that the balance of trade between the two dominions was largely against her and her governments have been unable to see how this could be reduced by any understanding. Of late years, however, a more favorable sentiment has been noticeable in the commonwealth, due to the prospects of a market in Western Canada for meats and butter.

Another factor which militated against the success of Mr. Foster's mission unquestionably was the reputation by Mr. Borden of the naval defence agreement entered into by Canada with the Admiralty and Australia in 1909. Rightly or wrongly, Australians have the impression that this dominion has joined a formidable conspiracy calculated to isolate her in her local navy enterprise and force her to return to the system of permanent contributions which she had abandoned as wholly unsatisfactory and productive of friction between her government and the Imperial authorities. Had Mr. Borden adhered to the policy originally favored by both parties in this country, instead of playing politics with the Nationalists and Imperialists, Mr. Foster's mission would have met with a more cordial reception. Australia's view of Canada's attitude on the naval question is that it is merely a dollar-and-cents proposition indifferent to the needs of adequate protection on the Pacific, and adopted because it is the cheapest way.

But even had Mr. Foster succeeded in effecting a reciprocity arrangement with Australia, the problem of larger markets for Canada would scarcely have been scratched. Canada's whole trade with the commonwealth amounts to about $3,000,000, of which our exports are approximately $4,500,000. If we doubled our exports under a reciprocity treaty it would be but a drop in the bucket against the immense trade balance of $300,000,000 against us; a growing adverse balance, by the way, that Mr. Foster is earnestly endeavoring to overcome. There is something pathetic in the Minister's dashes to remote countries with limited markets to find substitutes for the market of nearly a hundred million people at our very door which he and his friends seem to hold in such fine scorn. Sooner or later, if his party remain in power, the logic of the situation is going to force him to pay one of those friendly visits to Washington which only two years ago he professed to contemplate with utter horror; a visit such as he paid twenty years ago in search of a reciprocity agreement in natural products between Canada and the United States, with precisely the same result as that which has marked his tour of the antipodes.

"SEPARATISTS" AND THE NAVY.
 Did you observe the hot shot that bold old warrior Sir Wilfrid Laurier poured into the ranks of the Nationalists at St. Hyacinthe? The white plume of the gallant old chieftain waved defiantly right in what was once the stronghold of the faction which Conservatives were wont to term "separatists," and none dared make him afraid. How different is the attitude of the Liberal leader from that of the timid, fearful, procrastinating, hold on to power at any price and do-nothing individual who is at the head of the government of Canada. Mr. Borden compromised with the "separatists," and has three of them in his cabinet, with a deputy-speaker who announced from the hustings that it was necessary to shoot holes in the British flag in order to obtain justice for French-Canadians. Squirm as they may, the ministers of the Borden government at present on this coast cannot deny the facts nor disguise the still more important matter that it was on the demand of their Nationalist colleagues that the policy of a Canadian navy, "something that would take root in the soil" and grow with the growth of Canada, was abandoned and contributions substituted therefor. Messrs. Blondin, Pelletier and Nantel, representing the "separatists," frankly confess that the policy of contributions is satisfactory to them and relieves them of their obligations to their Nationalist supporters because it finally disposes of the navy issue and will relieve French-Canadians of the danger of being sacrificed "in England's wars." This is a matter which the people of the Pacific coast are vitally interested in, but the junketing ministers will be very guarded, not to say timid, in their allusions to it. Mr. Foster, we regret, has endeavored somewhat to belittle the naval programme of Australia. He says the Antipodeans are putting together small ships with imported materials. But our information is that the Australians are laying the foundation for the construction of ships of all classes, from destroyers up to dread-noughts. The Australian government, as a matter of fact, is dealing with the naval issue as the parliament of Canada at one time decided to handle it, and is carrying out its programme with vigor and determination, because over there the governments have not been hampered by entangling alliances and have been led and are being led by strong men.

WILL BE DEPORTED.
 It is fairly certain that Harry Thaw will be deported from Canada. Our immigration regulations are explicit with regard to undesirable, and the escape from Matteawan is an undesirable of the first magnitude. At the same time, his deportation across the boundary line does not mean his direct return to the asylum to which he was sentenced for the rest of his days. If Thaw is returned to any other state than New York extradition proceedings will have to be held, and with twenty or thirty millions behind him the fugitive will be able to keep the fight going indefinitely. It may be necessary to again prove his insanity, and this will be a difficult thing to do, because he is no more insane than any other homicide of his calibre. If Thaw was insane when he killed Stanford White, so were Gyp the Blood, Lettie Louie and the other doped gun wielders who killed Rosenthal, and they are to be executed. Thaw, with every evidence of premeditation, killed a man who was so absolutely defenceless that he did not even know who shot him, and he is now endeavoring to use Canadian soil as a step to freedom. The authorities will do well if they give him short shrift in this country.

The Minister of Trade and Commerce practically admits in his very guarded references to the results of his mission that nothing has been accomplished for the extension of the trade of Canada, but it is gratifying to learn that he has had a good time and that his health has been benefited by his extensive travels. By the way, however, why did not Mr. Foster drop off at the Fiji Islands and endeavor to effect a reciprocity treaty with the natives of that interesting group? We have been told that Fiji has set a worthy example to Canada in deciding to contribute a suitable proportion of its substance to the support of the navy. Why should not the burlesque attempt to extend the trade of Canada have been carried to its farcical conclusion? We are quite sure the manufacturing and other interests of Canada will say Mr. Foster has not played the game as it was intended to be played.

Honorable George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the Honorable Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, are both in the city. The time is opportune to remind them that the people of British Columbia require a fleet unit on this coast. Mr. Foster is impressed with the Australian programme. In his heart he favors it and knows that Canada can duplicate it. These two ministers have influence enough with Mr. Borden to swing him around in favor of such a policy. Why not do so?

There is one thing quite clear in connection with this coal mine embroglio—that one of the most important industries in British Columbia is being destroyed. We are importing coal and fuel oil, the latter in great quantities. But we are also importing many things that ought to be produced here. Who or what is responsible?

The latest thing in really fashionable circles, we are told, is the ankle watch. Have not seen any of these things in Victoria yet, but if reports are true there may be a real necessity for the slit skirt.

Canada cannot escape the consequences of contiguity to the United States. We have Harry K. Thaw on our hands.

APPRECIATED THE BAND.
 Oftentimes musicians complain of lack of appreciation, but here is a pleasant instance of one who won more admiration than he had ever aspired to. A Chinese minister in Washington went to hear the Marine Band play. Particularly was he impressed with the trombone player; so much so, in fact, that he offered him a handsome engagement in China. "I have never seen a juggler," said the visitor, "who could swallow as much brass pipe as you and spit it out again, and yet the people here regard it with an utter lack of enthusiasm."

GET-RICH-QUICK.

 The greatest source of business dishonesty is the desire to get rich quickly; the longing to enjoy the luxuries of life before one has fairly earned them. Men envy the meteoric success of a "Napoleon of finance," forgetting how often it proves a pipe as you and spit it out again, and yet the people here regard it with an utter lack of enthusiasm."

HUBERT A COMING CITY

Natural Resources Security Company Planning Development Work in Bulkley Valley.

In the opening up of the Bulkley Valley, a leading part is being taken by the Natural Resources Security Company of Vancouver, the strong financial and realty corporation so well known as identified with Fort George.

Hubert in three miles east of Aldermere and in on the main line of the railway. In its selection as a townsite great foresight has been shown, and it is expected to quickly become one of the most important points in the interior, and to be the chief distributing point for a large territory in the very rich interior of the province.

It is situated in the midst of an immense and very fertile area of agricultural land, and is besides contiguous to an exceedingly rich mineralized region. To the north is the Babine range and to the south the Copper River district, both showing some of the richest deposits of minerals in the province, and there are abundant showings of coal under the lands nearby.

It is announced that the publicity campaign of the company will be the most extensive ever attempted on behalf of any British Columbia townsite, and will start in the early fall, continuing through the winter months. It will be carried on in every province of the Dominion, every state of the American union, and in every important portion of the Empire.

Refrigerator Stolen.—The motor car of Mr. McRae, number 5665, with bullet lamps, bumper, etc., was stolen from the front of the Dominion theatre on Yates street last night and no trace of it has been heard of to-day. The car was taken between the hours of 7:45 o'clock and 8:30.

Sent to Jail.—Believing that an enforced abstinence from liquor would be a benefit to Alexander Finlayson, Magistrate Jay yesterday ordered him to spend two months there at hard labor. Acting-Sergeant of Detectives Carlou, Detectives Edens, Detective Scelliano, License Inspector Scott and Constable Blackstock were all called in the case, and gave testimony as to the habits of the accused for the past three weeks, during which he has been hanging about the lower end of Johnson street, making a nuisance of himself at night and into the early morning. Last week he visited the home of his mother, who is out of town, and helped himself to several chickens, which he sold. According to his own story Finlayson came in to give evidence in a claim he has before the sealing inquirers, and was also waiting for payment of a balance of the price of some Moose Jaw realty which he sold lately.

Tan, Red or Freckled Skin is Easily Shed

To free your summer-solled skin of its oiliness, muddiness, freckles, blotches or tan, the best thing to do is to free yourself of the skin of the day. This is easily accomplished by the use of ordinary mercurated wax, which can be had at any drug store. Use at night as you use soap. Immediately the offending surface skin begins to come off in fine powder-like particles. Gradually the entire article is removed without pain or inconvenience. The second layer of skin now in evidence presents a spotless whiteness and sparkle, which is obtainable in no other way I've ever heard of.

REFUGEES STILL COME. Half-Dozen Arrived on Evening Train From Strike Area; Without Food.

Refugees from the strike district continue to drift into the city, chiefly from Ladysmith. Half a dozen came in on the train from the North last evening and were taken care of by the provincial police.

They report conditions in the district very much better since the troops took possession, but they are not anxious to be there until order is completely restored. Apparently most of the people who have come down here are thoroughly frightened by the threats of the strikers, especially of the foreign element. Those who are coming in now are the individuals and families that had been driven to the woods and who have been sent on by the militia.

The officers of the Friendly Help Society have renewed their appeal for clothing for the men, women and children among the hundred and fifty who are being cared for here. Even if these people were able to return home they would be without means or extra clothing, as all their belongings have been destroyed by the mobs which sacked and wrecked the homes of the union miners.

SOME PARTING SHOTS

Sharp Line of Divergence Between Saanich Councillors Led to Exchange of Words.

Prospects of a battle were, as the small boy would say "bright," after the Saanich council adjourned last evening. The proceedings over the award of the paving contract had engendered great bitterness, as unfortunately has been the case from time to time during the year, and when the councillors left the hall at Royal Oak the pent-up feelings broke loose in the exchange of epithets.

Councillor McGregor, who was fighting up his car, said that if remarks were made outside which had been made in the chamber, he was prepared to deal with them.

The knot of councillors and officials, although in the porch of the municipal hall did not take up the challenge, but a sharp verbal encounter between the councillor and Councillors Dunn and Quick ensued as to the method in which the resolution just adopted, had been prepared. Councillor McGregor declared that the majority had come to the meeting with a cut-and-dried plan, and the two councillors rebuffed the argument vigorously, the contending interests soon afterwards separating without breaking the peace.

A spectator remarked to the effect that they would be ready at the election, and the latter assured him he would be prepared when the time came.

FIRST TIME IN CANADA

Coming of Geological Congress is Tribute to Growing Appreciation of Dominion.

Two hundred delegates who attended the recent international congress of geologists, held in Toronto recently, are now en route to the coast in two special trains. One of the touring parties is due to arrive in Vancouver next Monday morning at 1:30 o'clock, and the other at 8:30 o'clock in the evening. According to the itinerary the first arrivals will leave for Victoria by the morning boat at 10 o'clock, and return to Vancouver again on Wednesday morning.

Passengers on the second special are scheduled to spend three hours and a quarter in Vancouver and will immediately afterwards sail for Victoria, not to return to Vancouver until Thursday morning. Hon. Louis J. Derry, minister of mines, is with the party which includes many men of international repute.

This is the first time the great geological congress has ever been held in this country, and the present occasion is an acknowledgment of the increasing interest of the world in the magnificent mineral resources of the Dominion. The men are drawn from every civilized country and represent the cream of geological talent from each. Contact with so many men of repute will no doubt aid local geologists to a juster appreciation of the chances for development of the great resources of this country.

COUNTRY CLUB ASSURED

Over Two-Thirds of Stock Sold and Contract Let for More Roads.

Incorporation papers have been granted the Victoria Motor Country Club with a capitalization of $50,000. This step has been taken as a result of the recent decision of the Automobile Club to acquire the premises being vacated this month by Dr. Cumming at Sidney.

Stock to the amount of $15,000, the sum required for the purchase, is being sold and already over $10,000 has been subscribed by about 100 prominent men of this city. This is enough to assure the early completion of the deal for the site and the club is prepared to go ahead and fix up the premises suitably for the purposes designed.

The signing of the Saanich paving contract last night makes the proposition particularly attractive as more than one route will be available for the greater part of the distance when this contract is completed.

THROW CHARGES ACROSS CHAMBER

Lively Scene When Saanich Council Deals With Paving

AWARD TENDERS ON OLD SPECIFICATIONS

Warren Construction Com- pany Has Bulk of Contract on Macadam Base

During a stormy scene at the Saanich council last evening, on a motion to authorize the signing of the paving contract, after Councilor McGregor had been ordered to take his seat, and had declined, Reeve Nicholson told the council that he had simply stood up for concrete and cement in order to get a towing contract from some company.

The councillor angrily jumped to his feet, and demanded a retraction. Councilor Borden supported the request for an apology, but Councilor Quick said he had no right to expect it, and had got what was coming to him for defying the chair.

The reeve did not offer an apology, and the councillor had to subside into his chair. Government's Opinion. The letter of the government was brief on the point of the paving tenders. It simply observed that in view of the extra cost of $143,000 for a concrete base, the council would be well advised to adopt the original bids.

RASH ON ARMS ALMOST UNBEARABLE

Looked Like Raw Meat. Itched and Burned So Badly Could Not Rest Night or Day. Arms Sore from Wrist to Elbow. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

Lower Blandford, Nova Scotia.—"Three years ago I became troubled with sore arms. It came as a rash. My arms looked like raw meat and itched and burned so badly I could not rest night or day. When I scratched they became awfully sore. As long as the weather was warm it didn't bother me so much, but in winter it was almost unbearable. My arms were sore from the wrist to the elbow.

FARMER'S WIFE ALMOST A WRECK

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Her Own Story.

London, Ont.—"I am a farmer's wife and a very busy woman. Last summer I was taken with severe pains in my back so bad that I could not get up or scarcely move without pain, and my periods were painful. My husband called in a good doctor and I was under his care for some time, but he did me little or no good.

One day a friend of mine told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had been greatly helped by it. I began taking it and soon got well, and my periods became natural again. Since then I have had perfect health. In fact I have never felt so well in my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine many women need. If you think this letter will help other women please publish it."—Mrs. K. C. Young, Tambling's Corner, London, Ontario, Canada.

Women who suffer from those distressing ailments, to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

SHEDDING OF BLOOD.

To the Editor: In your editorial in Monday's Times under the caption, "Ethics of the Case," you say: "But we must reiterate again, as we have done many times already, that the shedding of blood over a difference of opinion is unpardonable."

I suppose you have reference not only to cases of internecine strife, but to those little international unpleasantnesses in which the blood of countless thousands of the world's workers has been shed, with no apparent benefit to their own class that anyone has been able to discern. If you admit this, what becomes of all your carefully compiled arguments in favor of a Canadian navy?

The trouble has not been over any more "difference of opinion," but over the right of the miners to live under somewhat tolerable conditions. Let us consider for a moment your statement in the light of history. According to it the American revolution was unpardonable; the French revolution was unpardonable; the American civil war was unpardonable; and every struggle for freedom oppressed peoples have ever made must have been unpardonable. What a number of unpardonable things have tended to change the world for the better!

SHOOTING IN SAANICH

Council Proposes to Restrict Firearms in Residential Areas; Ask Saanich Council's Opinion.

In a communication to the Saanich council last evening Mrs. Watt-Jones suggested that shooting should be prohibited in the municipality except for farmers on their own lands. Reeve Nicholson believed that the council should define the areas to be restricted. He thought that would be adequate. Councilor Quick thought the residential areas should be closed off absolutely, particularly near the city.

BEES TAKE SECOND GAME OF SERIES OUTLOOK FOR PIPPINS NOT BRIGHT

Nick Williams' Pennant Team Suffers Second Reverse on Victoria Grounds; Fitchner Pitched Fine Game

With the Bees playing errorless ball behind him, Bert Fitchner, one of the team's latest finds, twirled himself to another victory yesterday and incidentally put another crimp in the hopes of Nick Williams and company, who are making strenuous efforts to climb into first place in this startling Northwestern League pennant race. The score was 4 to 2. Mays, a big, square shouldered gentleman, did the heaving for the visitors and pitched nice ball, getting the worst of the "breaks." Close decisions all swung in the local team's favor and Umpire Casey was correct in every case.

The game started out like a pitchers' battle, and that it was. As an example of the perfect game pitched by Fitchner, the Portland boys gathered one hit an inning up to fifth. In this inning Hellman's hit went for a home run, the second the big fellow has made in as many days on the home grounds. Three scratch hits, with close decisions, scored Victoria's first tally in the second. Meek, Swain and Delmas figured, and Swain scored on an infield out. This was the first blood of the game. There was no more till the sixth, when errors by Bancroft and Mahoney and hits by Crum and Alberts scored two, enough for Victoria's end of the game. The last run of the contest came through a three-base drive by Gulgn over first base to the right field fence and he scored a minute later on Melchoir's out.

Fitchner had everything, showing splendid control. He kept the hits scattered, as the score board shows, and with the able assistance of Danny Shea, he went through his game like a big-leaguer. Eddie Gleason, who is the discoverer of Fitchner, was chuckling after the game, and said, "Told you so."

Portland's big opportunity, which Nick Williams readily took hold of, came in the seventh when he injected himself and Patsy Callahan into the play, which was nicely gathered in by Alberts. Mohler then picked off a single from a ball which circled up around his neck and Hellman singled likewise. A hurry call was sent out for Callahan, who was munching some grass on the grounds somewhere and he came in with such a rush to the bat that Fitchner, an old pal of his, thought it wise to walk him, which he promptly did, knowing from his own experiences that "Callie" can handle the bat as well as pitch. So with the bases full, the fans began to squirm about in their seats. But there was no need for it, as Nick himself replacing King, struck out, leaving Mays, who took three healthy swings too. Callahan batted for Coltrim, who did too much talking and not enough ball-playing during the afternoon's entertainment. Gulgn came to the battery and Callahan t' centre field.

Hellman was the heavy hitter of the day, getting two singles and a home run. Swain, who got a big hand in

STANFORD WILL MISS BENNY ERB THIS YEAR

Place With Rugby Fifteen Will Be Hard to Fill; Ultimate Strength of Two Teams

King Rugby is getting a start in the colleges to the south. The great rivals, Stanford and the University of California, are speculating as to how many of their old stars will be returning, and reports show that the greatest loss will be that of Benny Erb, Pacific Coast's greatest full back, who held down that position and captained the Stanford team for four years running. Erb is a Vancouver Island boy and his home is at Chemainus.

Miller, mentioned in the California scum, is a Victoria boy, who will not return to the south this year. Others mentioned are well known here, having two years in succession competed on the line-up in the Cooper-Keith series.

An excerpt from the San Francisco Chronicle follows:
The University of California is more fortunate than her rival, Stanford, when it comes to the number of Rugby football veterans who will return to the respective institutions this season. Of the men who competed in the big game last November, all participants in the final game between the two universities, insure California of practically a veteran scrum to open the season with. Six Stanford forwards will be back in suits. They are Gard, Darie, Thoburn, Schaup, Hall and Corbett.

It is in the back field that both colleges have lost the largest quota of their old material. California is deprived by graduation or otherwise of all her back field except Peart, Dills and Haseltine, while Stanford can count only on Urban and Kern.

The number of those who will not be back at California may be comparatively small, yet the missing men were of such calibre that it will be difficult to fill their places. Morris at half and Allen at centre three-quarters were among the speediest of California's backs. The sudden bursts of speed so characteristic of Evans at wing and the stonewall defence of Stroud are losses with which Schaeffer will have to contend. Peart, this year's captain, will probably be shifted from his regular position, full back. This will leave his old place open to either Bogardus or Montgomery, both of whom have returned. Nichols, of Pomona, who showed wonderful ability at full with the southern university last year, has registered at California. He also will make a strong bid for this position. Earl Wright, one of the speediest little halves of the same college, will don a uniform for the State University when training begins.

The famous Benny Erb will not be in a suit for the Cardinals this year, and his loss will be a great one and he will leave a hole in the line-up that should prove hard to fill. Danny Carroll, member of the Waratah aggregation, is figured on as a big factor in the Stanford back field and doubtless will prove so.

Joe McGinnity got badly treated at Spokane yesterday, Spokane is climbing now and is but a few games behind Tacoma.

SOCCER MEN WILL RECEIVE CLUB ENTRIES

Annual Meeting to Be Held August 28 at Lorimer Billiard Rooms

The annual meeting of the Victoria and District Soccer League will be held one week from to-morrow at the Lorimer billiard rooms, Douglas street. Secretary Jack Youson, of Victoria West, announces that entries will be received for the senior, intermediate and junior leagues. The season will be officially opened early in October.

The coming season promises to be as successful as those in the past and should the professional players of the old Victoria team receive their amateur cards, there will be considerable improvement in the strength of several teams. The professional players provided some of the best soccer ever seen in the city and their entry to the amateur ranks, which is now only fitting and proper, as they have no other place to play, the "Pro" league being a thing of the past, will be welcomed by the majority of lovers of the winter pastime.

The Bays, the Sons of England, the Thistles, the Garrison and Victoria West will be back in the game this season, while Esquimalt, it is expected, will drop out. As to the Wards, it is doubtful whether they will enter a senior team.

THREE LOCAL BOYS FOR ATHLETIC MEETS

Three local sprinters, Hal Beasley, Percy Beasley and C. Carroll, have arranged a busy programme for themselves, as they are desirous of taking part in the Sidney meet, August 30, the Alberni meet, Labor Day and the Canadian championships, September 6. All three boys will enter in the sprints, and P. Beasley and Carroll in the one-mile events.

In connecting with the Sidney and Alberni meetings a difficulty arises in getting to the latter place as there is no means of transportation outside of automobile on Sunday, and the Labor Day meet takes place on Monday. The boys are anxious to make automobile arrangements from Nanaimo to Alberni, and if this can be done, they will attend, while otherwise, it would be necessary to abandon the trip to Sidney and go to Alberni on Saturday morning's train.

The three Victorians, who comprise the entire athletic team of the James Bay club this year, are in hard training at present, and they hope to be heard from at the Canadian championships.

NEW YORK FIGHTERS KEEP CLEAR OF RITCHIE

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—Willie Ritchie, world's champion lightweight, was started on the road to pugilistic fame and fortune through being substituted for Ad Wolgast in a twenty-round battle at Los Angeles two years ago. If history repeats itself, Eddie Moy, Welsh's sparring partner, has the same chance which was placed in Ritchie's way. On Labor Day afternoon Moy will be substituted against Ritchie, taking the place of Freddie Welsh.

The promoters of the Welsh-Ritchie battle exhausted every known means to get Leach Cross or Tommy Murphy to take the place of Welsh, but the demands of both boxers were so high that the backers of the syndicate could see nothing but a heavy loss staring them in the face if they accepted the terms of either New York.

Murphy and Cross have been supposed to be on the trail of Ritchie ever since he won the title," said Chet McIntyre this morning. "Their case is like that of the sailor looking for work and fervently praying that he will not find it. We gave both the chance to meet Ritchie here Labor Day, and they want more than Ritchie himself is getting for that substitute bout. So we took a man who is virtually a local boxer, as he has been here with Welsh for the past two and a half months, and he has more than made good whenever called to the mark. I believe Moy will give Ritchie a hard battle and that he will be on his feet at the sound of the final bell."

Ritchie started his training for the bout to-day. After the Labor Day engagement, if he wins the decision, he will rest for a week in the Canadian Rockies, chaperoned by Jimmy Stack, the San Francisco bear hunter, who will attempt to add to his jungle laurels by taking away the pelts of a few British Columbia bears. Then he will start training again for Welsh, and meet the British champion at Brighthouse on September 20.

M'GRAW SAW MISTAKE

New York, Aug. 20.—Otis Crandall, pitcher, whom Manager McGraw, of the Giants, traded to the St. Louis team, has been taken back by McGraw. St. Louis in return received a cash consideration, amount not named, and a player, also unnamed, whose delivery will be made as soon as the pennant race is settled. McGraw early this month gave Crandall for "Larry" McLean, a catcher. The exchange was said to have made several of the Giants so angry that they engaged in a fist fight with their manager, as Crandall had been with the local club for a number of years. Crandall was dissatisfied with his new berth.

YOUNG CONSERVATIVES ARE COMING FOR CUP

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.—Following their victory over the Norwoods yesterday and the winning of the local senior lacrosse championship, the Young Conservatives are considering taking a trip West after the Mann Cup. Exhibition games may be arranged at Regina, Calgary, Victoria and other Western cities.

The Seattle pitching staff is all shot to pieces. Charlie Fullerton is the only one who puts up a really good game.

LABOR DAY BOUT IS STILL IN DOUBT

Opponent for Champion Willie Ritchie Has Not Been Finally Decided Upon

Vancouver, Aug. 20.—After several days spent in talk and the securing of surgeons' estimates of how long it will take Welsh's ankle to heal, Willie Ritchie last night insisted on getting down to business to the extent of posting forfeits for the match for September 20. Ritchie is ready with $2,500 and insisting that Welsh's backers put up a similar amount to-day.

In the meantime the arrangements for the "fill-in" match on Labor Day are the subject of change every other hour. A scheme was developed last night to have an elimination contest for Saturday of this week to decide as between Ray Campbell and Eddie Moy, which would be the best opponent for Ritchie on Labor Day. The arrangements for this, too, are subject to alteration.

Cross-Dundee Bout. Los Angeles, Aug. 20.—Leach Cross and Johnny Dundee were matched last night to box twenty rounds on the afternoon of September 1 at the Vernon Arena. This ended an anxiety for the fight fans over the cancelling of the Cross-Rivers match owing to the indisposition of training of the little Mexican.

The winner of the Labor Day bout here will be used on Admission Day, according to the agreement of the promoters. The winners of the two Labor Day contests here and at Vancouver will be matched, or the winner of the local fight will meet Ad Wolgast. Should Wolgast fall, Rivers will be used.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 20.—The announcement from Vancouver that Willie Ritchie had agreed to defend his title against Eddie Moy, sparring partner of Freddie Welsh as substitute for Welsh Labor Day was regarded here as an assurance that Leach Cross, the New York dentist, would not alter his plans for a scheduled engagement at Vernon on the holiday date. When it became known that Welsh could not continue his training owing to an injury, Cross was mentioned as a substitute.

Unless the condition of Joe Rivers, the Mexican lightweight, who is suffering from an attack of neuralgia, improves within the next few hours, the promoters will look for another opponent for Cross.

SPOKANE TOOK GAME FROM TACOMA TIGERS

Table with columns: Tacoma, Spokane, A.B.R.H.P.O.A.E. Results for Tacoma and Spokane.

Spokane, Aug. 20.—The announcement from Vancouver that Willie Ritchie had agreed to defend his title against Eddie Moy, sparring partner of Freddie Welsh as substitute for Welsh Labor Day was regarded here as an assurance that Leach Cross, the New York dentist, would not alter his plans for a scheduled engagement at Vernon on the holiday date.

Unless the condition of Joe Rivers, the Mexican lightweight, who is suffering from an attack of neuralgia, improves within the next few hours, the promoters will look for another opponent for Cross.

BOBBIE DIBBLE WILL GO TO HENLEY REGATTA

Toronto, Aug. 20.—As the result of the sensational rowing of Bob Dibble, of the Dons, at the American National regatta at Boston, and at the Canadian Henley at St. Catharines two weeks ago, arrangements are already under way and all but completed to send him to Henley next year to compete for the Diamond Sculls.

Dibble laughs at the report that he is to meet Eddie Durnan and thereby become a professional. He is bent on taking a crack at the Diamond Sculls, and it will be a good move on the part of the Dons in sending him even though he should not win the world's greatest rowing honors.

RED SOX WIN.

The Empire Red Sox defeated the Capital team in an exciting game, 12 to 11, after the Capitals had run up a score of 11 to 2. In the eighth, the Red Sox wreckers got busy and scored eight runs, and two more in the ninth, winning the game. Batteries: Empire—Edwards, Williams, and Phillips; Capitals—White, Kerr, and Loveridge.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

By taking the first two games of the series, the Bees have put numerous crimps in the hopes of the Portland Pippins at the ball yard at a time when the two teams the visitors have to pass to win the pennant are seen-sawing away at Seattle. Nick Williams had figured on taking the series here this week, and with two games already gone, he has yet to win one. He had counted on winning the opening game with Frank Eastley on the mound, but the sensational finish the Bees put up, lost that game. Yesterday, it was just a case of the luck breaking against him, and of course what will come with the remaining games is to be seen. Narveson and Kantielner should give good accounts of themselves in the games they work in, and both should win. Fitzgerald is also due, and then the staff which has worked so far this week will begin over again, Barham coming up first. So with two games stowed away and the Bees travelling at top speed, it looks like a bad week for the Pippins.

Encouraging Volunteer Firemen

One of the finest plans for the encouragement of volunteer fire departments has been the presentation of the trophy known as the Canadian Pipe Championship Cup for Vancouver Island and which was recently won for the first time by the Alberni department at the carnival. So much interest has been aroused over the competitions that at the next meeting there will be at least eight teams in the running. They will come from Sidney, Sooke Harbor, Alberni, Courteney, Port Alberni, Duncan, Ladysmith and Parksville. The cup is held on the same basis as the Minto cup, is open for perpetual challenge and is to be defended at least twice a year. This competition is for small towns only and it is the plan later on to put up a cup on the mainland and in this way encourage the Island meet the best team from the mainland and have the champions of the Island meet the best team from the mainland and in this way encourage the men in their volunteer work of that place hope to keep it. In order to have the best efficiency in the reel which they use, they have agreed to place pneumatic tires on its wheels. The Alberni men made fast time in laying the hose, connecting to the hydrant, putting on the nozzle and playing water. The races are run from a standing start, the fastest time made taking the prize.

CARRIGAN AND SPEAKER TO FIGURE IN BIG TRADE

Milwaukee, Aug. 20.—George McBride, shortstop of the Washington team, is to succeed Carrigan as manager of the Boston Red Sox next season, according to information received in Milwaukee from members of McBride's family.

McAleer and Griffith, according to this report, have framed up an elaborate deal. McBride, Almsmith and McMillan of the Senators are to go to Boston in exchange for Tris Speaker, Carrigan and an outfielder. Milwaukee friends of McBride pointed out to-day that the Washington shortstop and McAleer are very friendly.

TO-DAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS

1881—George Meggs defeated Bill Stevens, "the nailer," winning the heavyweight championship of England. Some pugilistic historians say this was the first "fixed" fight in ring history, and that Stevens, who had won the title in 1850 by whipping Jack Slack, was paid to throw the fight with Meggs, a Bristol coal miner. This opinion was generally held by the fans of those days, who thereafter refused to recognize the championship claims of either Meggs or "the Nailer."

WAS SECOND PARTY AT TOP OF ROBSON

Splendid Achievement Accomplished by W. W. Foster, Dr. McCarthy and Conrad Kain

GIANT PEAK PRESENTS
MANY DIFFICULTIES

Magnificent View of Robson Park From Summit; Others Thwarted by Elements

The story of how the fifty odd members of the Alpine Club of Canada made their way into camp at Mount Robson, the highest peak of the Canadian Rockies, of their varied experiences there, and more particularly of the brave attempts (in one instance successful) to scale the huge mountain of repelling rock and ice, is one of the most interesting in the annals of the organization. The splendid personality of guide and climber alike was once more proved, and the rugged stubborn spirit which has made mankind in the whole the conqueror of his environment was shown in its highest form in those who scaled the towering cliffs in the face of fearful odds.

Mount Robson was first viewed by the party on Sunday, July 21, from the railway station of that name on the Fraser river, when, in the full light of

ROBSON'S MAGNIFICENT RAMPARTS

The highest peak in the Canadian Rockies, with a snow and ice-ribbed summit, Mount Robson has an altitude of 15,100 feet, and offers unparalleled attractions to the more intrepid Alpinist. The peak was scaled, for the second time in the annals of the white man, on July 31 last, by a guide and two members of the Canadian Alpine Club.

The route was a steady ascent, and it was not until luncheon time that the climbers paused for any length of time, their courage having been called on in a smaller measure on several occasions when the Grand Forks or

WHERE BERGS FLOAT PERPETUALLY

Berg Lake, a mile to the north of which the Alpine Club pitched for their present Mount Robson camp, carries perpetually on its surface myriads of small ice-bergs which break away from the Tumbling Glacier at one point on the lake. One was actually seen, by a party passing on the opposite side, breaking away and falling into the water.

a calm and sunny Sabbath morning the club alighted from the train at a point opposite the Grand Forks valley and looking straight up the pass into the face of the rock-ribbed, glacier-girdled peak climbed three years ago for the first time in the history of the white man. The day was still, almost sultry, and the great irregular pyramid of snow and ice looked singularly fascinating through the shimmering heated air which reflected uncomfortably from rock and roadway.

The first camp was pitched just two miles from the station, the ding-dodds of hardy mountaineering men and women, carrying ice-axes, alpenstocks, and with their packs slung in workmanlike fashion across their shoulders, creating quite a little sensation as it passed through a railway construction camp where the men were lazily passing away the long idle Sabbath. Dust rose in clouds as the party bore up the hill, vanishing presently in the low bushes as they took the short cut into the base camp pitched just two miles up the Grand Forks river.

Keen to March.
Many who joined the Mount Robson camp had previously attended the Lake O'Hara camp, and were in fine form for climbing, so that the first day's enforced idleness in view of the climbing prospects before them proved somewhat changing; the members, however, spent the time investigating the nearby country and ascending a hill which gave a look down into the valley to be traversed the following day. Luggage was also carefully re-packed and reduced to the smallest possible weight, most of the campers keeping well within the forty pounds permitted each as the limit to be carried by the pack ponies.

Next morning camp was early astir, about 7 o'clock, everyone having breakfasted and got well on his way up the Grand Forks trail toward the Mount Robson camp proper, 15 miles distant. It was a picturesque and hopeful band who filed out through the aspen woods toward the land of their desire, the ladies as well as the men carrying their rock-sacks on their backs, and provided therein with lunches and changes of clothes.

The fair sunshine of the day before had vanished, and its place was taken by heavy mist and a steady fine rain. The trail, however, was good, and the spirit of the mountaineer was equal to surmounting any such trivial thing as the elements. The whole party consisted of fifty-three members, twenty-one of whom were ladies and the remainder men. The first part of the journey was through light aspen forest and birch-wood, from that the pathway later plunging deep into a lovely forest of cedar. The route was a steady ascent, and it was not until luncheon time that the climbers paused for any length of time, their courage having been called on in a smaller measure on several occasions when the Grand Forks or guide who afterwards added to his laurels by an exhibition of much greater bravery and resourcefulness, led a large detachment of the ladies, and showed great thoughtfulness in helping them to avoid the worst parts of the trampers over the bridge at a point made historic by his own accident there on a previous occasion when he narrowly escaped drowning.

The Chinamen, of whom there were several engaged as cooks and assistants about camp, were less fortunate at this point, and had a rather bad time of it wading the stream at the point further down.

At Lake Kinney, five miles from the camp left in the morning, the party took a momentary rest and compared notes on their respective degrees of wetness, considerable laughter following a review of the travel-stained marchers. The beautiful blue-green lake, with its square-cut shoreline and fringe of cedar forest, was much admired, the prospect of Mount Robson, which should have added to the beauty of the picture, being almost entirely veiled by the heavy trailing clouds which wrapped it round. To the north Mount Whitehorn showed up well, and prospective climbers, as they trudged along in the rain, speculated on ways and routes of negotiating the summit.

Stopped for Lunch.
Just before entering the Valley of a Thousand Falls a halt was called, a camp fire being lighted, and the wet and hungry climbers unrolling their lunch bags and feasting on the simple fare as if it had been a splendid banquet. The occasion was taken as an opportunity for drying-out, and the journey was resumed under considerably more comfortable circumstances, the inner man as well as the outer refreshed by the rest and food.

The valley of a Thousand Falls proved somewhat of a disappointment owing to the character of the day. The myriad spear-like or foamy-created falls which tumbled over the sides of the great cliff-walls of the valley lost much of their rumored beauty by the absolute absence of sunshine, and the vale was austere and gloomy and depressing rather than, as it sometimes appears, a cool and quiet haven on a hot mountain day.

Not far beyond the valley the leaders of the procession came within view of the famous Emperor Falls, with the headlong tumble of waters which makes such a magnificent sight. From the head of the giant waterfall, from a single flat, less than a mile distant down the valley, the river drops 1,500 feet, many grand and magnificent water falls helping to make up the total of this great drop in the mountain torrent.

EMPEROR FALLS

The provincial government has built a trestle at these falls, from which a magnificent view of the torrent of waters can be seen. The "Emperor" is one of the finest of the cascades which is seen in the valley of a Thousand Falls.

CANADA'S HIGHEST PEAK

they arrived closely one after another at the tented bivouac which was to be the campers' home for the next fortnight.

Camping Ground Ideal.
The pitch was proclaimed by one and all to be the most ideal spot ever chosen by the camp directors, a broad open flat, studded over with the many white tents, and threaded across by the mountain river which is such an essential commodity in a properly located camp, forming the camp site. The river flowed immediately at back of the fly-tent where the climbers met at meetings and compared notes of the day's events, either past or pending, the babble of the waters forming a pleasant and appropriate accompaniment to the conversation.

ROBSON CLIMBED

Although only a few climbers even attempted Mount Robson, the scaling of the great ice-crowned, rock-strewn peak was the central topic of discussion. Originally it had been planned that two parties should make the attempt, but this idea was given up in favor of sending up but one at first under the guidance of Konrad Kain, the Austrian guide. The two chosen for the climb were W. W. Foster, deputy minister of public works, and Capt. A. H. MacCarthy, of New Jersey, who, with the guide, left the main camp on Wednesday afternoon, having spent the whole of Tuesday in resting and taking a few preliminary observations.

They carried with them only the clothing which they wore, their blankets, and some small rations of food, making straight for their bivouac grounds at Extinguisher Rock, at the head of Robson Glacier, and at an altitude of 8,500 feet, this leaving the climbers with the prospect of a total further 6,500 feet to climb before the summit of Robson could be reached the following day.

The thought of failure never occurred to them, and with the simple fare

Each new aspect of Mount Robson presents to the climber some fresh difficulty. The summit, which from the distance presents a somewhat rounded appearance, is reached by a succession of ice-domes, and is itself actually quite pointed. Owing to the ice-bound character of the mountain it is impossible to obtain water, and the party who recently ascended the mountain had to go at one time for as long as eight hours without quenching their thirst.

FIRST THING

The first lottery, in the modern meaning of the word, was the "lotto" of Florence, which held its first drawing August 19, in the year 1530. The first lottery in France was established about nine years later, and received the name of blancque from the white tickets which indicated the blanks. Francis I. gave royal assent to the scheme, but collected a tax from it. The first lottery mentioned in English history was held in 1669, and the drawings took place at the western door of St. Paul's cathedral. In Germany the first money lottery was held at Nuremberg in 1699. Lotteries were held in America from earliest times, and the first Virginia settlers were supported from the profits of an English lottery. In 1699 an assemblage of ministers in Boston denounced the lottery as "a cheat" and the promoters of such schemes as "pillagers of the people." Generally, however, lotteries were popular, and in 1776 the American congress established a national lottery. Lotteries were abolished in England in 1826 and in France ten years later, but in the United States the notorious Louisiana lottery continued operations until twenty years ago.

SCRAP BOOK Silent Monks of Trappist Order Honor St. Bernard.

In all of the seventy-one monasteries of the Trappists, or Order of the Reformed Cistercians, the festival of St. Bernard, one of the founders of the society, will be observed to-day. The Trappist programme for the honoring of the saint begins with the chanting of the divine office shortly after 1 o'clock in the morning. During this ceremony the abbot, clothed in mitre and crozier, imparts a special blessing to the monks. The office is followed by private masses, and then comes the solemn pontifical mass. In the afternoon solemn pontifical vespers are sung, and the solemn benediction of the most blessed sacrament is imparted.
There are five Trappist monasteries in Canada, and four in the United States, the most famous being the Abbey of Notre Dame du Lac, at La Trappe, near Oka, in the province of Quebec. No other religious order imposes such severe discipline upon its members. Absolute silence is the rule, and the monks spend their days in unceasing toil, earning their meagre sustenance by the sweat of their brows.
St. Bernard, who died 700 years ago to-day, used to say to applicants for admission to the monastery, "If you desire to enter here, leave at the threshold the body you have brought with you from the world; here there is room only for your soul."
Practically all of the Cistercians are engaged in agriculture, and their farming activities are carried on in the most progressive and scientific manner and with the most modern implements. Throughout the long summer days they toil in the fields and gardens, speaking never a word to each other, their superiors directing their labors, by means of a sign language.
On summer working days the monks rise at 2 o'clock in the morning. After several hours spent in devotions they are served a light breakfast, consisting of an apple or other fruit, two ounces of bread and a cup of tea. At 6 o'clock they begin the day's work. In mid-day they have an hour for rest and for partaking of a meal consisting of bread and milk, fruit, vegetables and olive oil. A similar repast concludes the day's toil. No meat is served except to those who are very ill, and whose condition seems to demand it. At 3 o'clock all of the monks retire to their sleeping cells, which contain no furnishings except a mattress and pillow, both of straw. Their costume, a robe of coarse wool, is worn day and night. During the winter months the regimen is even more severe than in the summer, as breakfast is dispensed with, and the evening meal is very light.
All of the monasteries maintain a hostelry, separated from the other buildings, where male guests are welcomed. Women are not permitted to enter this edifice, and a sign at the entrance of all these hostels warns the fair sex to keep away.
The monastery at Oka, Quebec, is a shining example of what may be accomplished by hard work and scientific methods in the agricultural development of the most unpromising soil. The thousand acres of once rocky and almost worthless land has been made to blossom as the rose, and all of this has been accomplished within the space of thirty years. The first of the Oka monks landed in Canada in 1881, having been expelled by the French government from their monastery in La Vendee, France. The first Trappist to come to America arrived at Baltimore in 1803, and others came later, but in 1815 all returned to France, except Father Vincent de Paul, who established a monastery in Nova Scotia. This community was removed to Rhode Island a dozen years ago.

ELEVENTH INSTALLMENT THE NEW YORK POLICE

Police Heroism.

During our two years' service we found it necessary over a hundred times to single out men for special mention because of some feat of heroism. The heroism usually took one of four forms: saving somebody from drowning, saving somebody from a burning building, stopping a runaway team, or arresting some violent lawbreaker under exceptional circumstances. To illustrate our method of action, I will take two of the first promotions made after I became Commissioner. One case was that of an old fellow, a veteran of the Civil War, who was at the time a roundsman. I happened to notice one day that he had saved a woman from drowning, and had him summoned so that I might look into the matter. The old fellow brought up his record before me, and showed not a little nervousness and agitation; for it appeared that he had grown gray in the service, had performed feat after feat of heroism, but had no political backing of any account. No need had ever been paid him. He was one of the quiet men who attend solely to duty, and although a Grand Army man, he had never sought to use influence of any kind. Now, at last, he thought there was a chance for him. He had been twenty-two years on the force, and during that time had saved some twenty-five persons from death by drowning, varying the performance two or three times by saving persons from burning buildings. Twice Congress had passed laws especially to empower the then Secretary of the Treasury, John Sherman, to give him a medal for distinguished gallantry in saving life. The Life-Saving Society had also given him its medal, and so had the Police Department. There was not a complaint in all his record against him for any infraction of duty, and he was sober and trustworthy. He was entitled to his promotion; and he got it, there and then. It may be worth mentioning that he kept on saving life after he was given his service, and during that time had saved some twenty-five persons from death by drowning, varying the performance two or three times by saving persons from burning buildings. and fired three shots at Ryan, but failed to hit him. The two then separated, and the man who had done the shooting escaped. The other man, whose name proved to be O'Connor, again took to his heels, with Ryan still after him; they turned the corner and met the other officer, whose name was Reid, running as hard as he could toward the shooting. When O'Connor saw himself cut off by Reid, he fired at his new foe; the bullet cutting Reid's overcoat on the left shoulder. Reid promptly fired in return, his bullet going into O'Connor's neck and causing him to turn a complete somersault. The two officers then cared for their prisoners until the ambulance arrived, when he was taken to the hospital and pronounced to be mortally wounded. His companion was afterward caught, and they turned out to be the very burglars for whom Reid and Ryan had been on the lookout.

In the Day's Work.

In December, 1898, one of our officers was shot. A row occurred in a restaurant, which ended in two young toughs drawing their revolvers and firing three men, a policeman, attracted by the noise, ran up and seized one of the toughs, whereupon the other shot him in the mouth, wounding him badly. Nevertheless, the officer kept his prisoner and carried him to the station-house. The tough who had done the shooting ran out and was seized by another officer. The tough fired at him, the bullet passing through the officer's overcoat, but the assailant was promptly knocked down, disarmed, and brought to the station-house. In this case neither policeman used his revolver, and each brought in his man, he brought in the man who had done the shooting, after passing over two or three glaring misdeeds in view of his record for courage.

We promoted another man on account of finding out accidentally that he had performed a notable feat, which he had forborne even to mention, so that his name never came on the roll of honor. Late at night, while patrolling a lonely part of his post, he came upon three young toughs who had turned highwaymen and were robbing a peddler. He ran in at once with his night-stick, whereupon the toughs showed fight, and one of them struck at him with a bludgeon, breaking his left hand. The officer, however, made such good use of his night-stick that

It was at night, nobody else was in the neighborhood, and the dock from which he jumped was in absolute darkness, and he was ten minutes in the water, which was very cold. He was fifty-three years old when he saved this man. It was the twenty-ninth person whose life he had saved during his twenty-three years' service in the Department.

The Line of Duty.

The other man was a patrolman whom we promoted to roundsman for activity in catching a burglar under rather peculiar circumstances. I happened to note his getting a burglar one week. Apparently he had fallen into the habit, for he got another the next week. In the latter case the burglar escaped from the house soon after midnight, and ran away toward Park Avenue, with the policeman in hot chase. The New York Central Railroad runs under Park Avenue, and there is a succession of openings in the top of the tunnel. Finding that the policeman was gaining on him, the burglar took a desperate chance and leaped down one of these openings, at the risk of breaking his neck. Now the burglar was running for his liberty, and it was the part of wisdom for him to imperil life or limb; but the policeman was merely doing his duty, and nobody could have blamed him for not taking the jump. However, he jumped; and in this particular case the hand of the Lord was heavy upon the unrighteous. The burglar had the breath knocked out of him, and the "cop" didn't. When his victim could walk, the officer trotted him around to the station-house, and promoted him, for he was sober, trustworthy, and strictly attentive to duty.

The Good of the Service.

Now I think that any decent man of reasonable intelligence will agree that we were quite right in promoting men in cases like these, and quite right in excluding politics from promotions. Yet it was because of our consistently acting in this manner, resolutely warning on dishonesty and on that peculiar form of baseness which masquerades as "practical" politics, and steadily refusing to pay heed to any consideration except the good of the service and the city, and the merits of the men themselves, that we drew down upon our heads the bitter and malignant animosity of the bread-and-butter spolia politicians. They secured the repeal of the Civil Service Law by the State Legislature. They attempted and almost succeeded in the effort to legislate us out of office. They joined with the baser portion of the sensational press in every species of foul, indecent falsehood and slander as to what we were doing. They attempted to seduce or frighten us by every species of intrigue and cajolery, of promise of political reward and threat of political punishment. They failed in their purpose. I believe in political organizations, and I believe in practical politics. If a man is not practical, he is of no use anywhere. But when politicians treat practical politics as foul politics, and when they turn what ought to be a necessary and useful political organization into a machine run by professional spoliators of low morality in their own interest, then it is time to drive the politician from public life, and either to mend or to destroy the machine, according as the necessity may determine.

When Shooting is Necessary.

We promoted to roundsman a patrolman, with an already excellent record, for gallantry shown in a fray which resulted in the death of his antagonist. He was after a gang of toughs who had just waylaid, robbed and beaten a man. They scattered and he pursued the ringleader. Running hard, he gained on his man, whereupon the latter suddenly turned and fired full in his face. The officer already had his revolver drawn, and the two shots rang out together. The policeman was within a fraction of death, for the bullet from his opponent's pistol went through his helmet and just broke the skin of his head. His own aim was truer, and the man he was after fell dead, shot through the heart. I may explain that I have not the slightest sympathy with any police which tends to put the policeman at the mercy of a tough, or which depicts him of efficient weapons. While I was Police Commissioner we punished any brutality by the police with such immediate severity that all cases of brutality practically came to an end. No decent citizen had anything to fear from the police during the two years of my service. But we consistently encouraged the police to prove that the violent criminal who endeavored to molest them or to resist arrest, or to interfere with them in the discharge of their duty, was himself in grave jeopardy; and we had every "gang" broken up and the members punished with whatever severity was necessary. Of course, where possible the officer merely crippled the criminal who was violent.

Runaways.

The mounted squad have, of course, many opportunities to distinguish themselves in stopping runaways. In May, 1896, a mounted policeman named Hoyer succeeded in stopping a runaway at Kingsbridge under rather noteworthy circumstances. Two men were driving in a buggy, when the horse stumbled, and in recovering himself broke the headstall, so that the bridle fell off. The horse was a spirited trotter, and at once ran away at full speed. Hoyer saw the occurrence, and followed at a run. When he got alongside the runaway he seized him by the forelock, guided him dexterously over the bridge, preventing him from running into the numerous wagons that were on the road, and finally forced him up a hill and into a wagon-shed. Three months later this same officer saved a man from drowning.

The members of the bicycle squad, which was established shortly after we took office, soon grew to show not only extraordinary proficiency on the wheel, but extraordinary daring. They frequently stopped runaways, wheeling alongside of them, and grasping the horses while going at full speed; and what was even more remarkable, they managed not only to overtake but to jump into the vehicle and capture, on two or three different occasions, men who were guilty of reckless driving, and who fought violently in resisting arrest. They were picked men, being young and active, and any feat of daring which could be accomplished on the wheel they were certain to accomplish.

Three Brave Men.

Three of the best riders of the bicycle squad, whose names and records have not occurred to me, were men of the three ethnic strains most strongly represented in the New York police force, being respectively of native American, German and Irish parentage.

The German was a man of enormous power, and he was able to stop each of the many runaways he tackled without losing his wheel. Choosing his time, he would get alongside the horse and seize the bit in his left hand, keeping his right on the crossbar of the wheel. By degrees he then got the animal under control. He never failed to stop it, and he never lost his wheel. He also never failed to overtake any "scorchers," although many of these scorchers were professional riders who deliberately violated the law to see if they could not get away from him; for the wheelmen soon got to know the officers whose beats they cross.

The Yankee, though a tall, powerful man and a very good rider, scarcely came up to the German in either respect: he possessed exceptional ability, however, as well as exceptional nerve and coolness, and he also won his promotion. He stopped about as many runaways; but when the horse was really panic-stricken he usually had to turn his wheel loose, getting a firm grip on the horse's reins and then kicking his wheel so that it would fall out of the way of injury from the wagon. On one occasion he had a fight with a drunken and reckless driver who was urging to top speed a spirited horse. He first got hold of the horse, whereupon the driver lashed both him and the beast, and the animal, already mad with terror, could not be stopped. The officer had of course kicked away his wheel at the beginning, and after being dragged along for some distance he let go the beast and made a grab at the wagon. The driver hit him with his whip, but he managed to get in, and after a vigorous tussle overcame his man, and disposed of him by getting him down and sitting on him. This left his hands free for the reins. By degrees he got the horse under control, and drove the wagon round to the station-house, still sitting on his victim. "I jounced up and down on him to keep him quiet when he turned ugly," he remarked to me parenthetically.

Having disposed of the wagon, he took the man round to the court, and on the way the prisoner suddenly sprang on him and tried to throttle him. Convinced at last that patience had ceased to be a virtue, he quieted his assailant with a smash on the head that took all the fight out of him until he was brought before the judge and fined. Like the other "bicycle cops," this officer made a number of arrests of criminals, such as thieves, highwaymen, and the like, in addition to his natural prey—scorchers, runaways, and reckless drivers.

The third member of the trio, a tall, slony man with flaming red hair, which rather added to the terror he in-

SUGGEST LIGHTING OF SAANICH ROADS

Proposal to Instal System Costing $27,000 is to Be Considered

A basis for the lighting of Saanich municipality at a cost of $27,000 for installation was submitted to the municipal council last evening by the British Columbia Electric Railway Company and laid over for consideration by the works committee. Two constant current regulators with switchboard complete, with a capacity of 500 of 30 watt lamps, or 450 of 24.4 watt lamps, were proposed, and a map attached to the report suggested 250 locations, with 200 to be added later. Payment was proposed to be spread over five years with interest at 6 per cent. on unpaid amounts. The municipality was to provide suitable accommodation for the housing of regulators and to arrange for turning on and off the lights.

The rate for current was set at 3 1/2 cents per K. W. H., with a minimum of 500, or 3 cents per K. W. H., with a minimum of 1,000. Lamps and renewals were to be a charge on the municipality. Claims for compensation for damage for the retracting of Aylemer road, for the British Columbia Electric Railway Company's Cloverdale loop, were referred to the solicitor for a report.

It is impossible to comply with a request to have collections for the year's taxes made in the town, as was suggested, although Councillor McGregor believed it would be a convenience to the workmen. Clerk Carmichael said he could not spare a responsible man to take charge. However the subject was laid over for further consideration. The municipal engineer will be asked to bring in a report on the cost of draining the pool off Cedar Hill road, the cost of which Tracksell, Douglas & Co. are willing to finance under a local improvement by-law.

Among the suggestions of the Ward Saanich Ratepayers' Association, was that the constables of the district be supplied with telephone services, but the clerk said that the British Columbia Telephone Company would not make the connections, offering various excuses for delay.

The council indicated that it had no power to limit the speed of motor trucks on the Carey road to five miles an hour, as was sought by the association.

The building by-law was adopted, after having been carefully considered.

With which they provided themselves the following morning when, leaving blankets and any other extraneous possessions behind them, they commenced at 4 a. m. to carve out their pathway to the summit of the defiant peak. Two ham sandwiches and two jam sandwiches apiece formed the total food supply which the trio had taken out from the main camp, this in itself being modest proof of the optimism with which they started upon their task.

Tells of Great Climb.

The following, which is Mr. Foster's own account of the long climb, tells explicitly of the character of the climb which they ploddingly, and often laboriously, accomplished between early dawn and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, when they enjoyed a proud moment surveying the surrounding country from the summit of Mount Robson:

"We left the main camp on July 30, and made a temporary camp in the morning at the side of Robson Glacier," said Mr. Foster in describing the first part of their journey. "Knowing that the climb would be a long and difficult one we decided to travel with as little equipment as possible, and cached practically everything in the temporary camp. Starting at daybreak, 4 1/2 a. m., we crossed the upper end of the glacier, ascended the outlying peak named 'The Dome,' on account of its peculiar shape, and from its snow-covered top reached the bergschrund, which took some time to cross on account of its dangerous character.

"From the bergschrund it was a case of constantly cutting steps on the ice-covered wall chosen for the ascent, the wall being the southeast portion of the mountain; in one place 105 steps were cut on a 65-degree slope. At 12.30 the arête, which from the valley below appears to be part of and connected with the summit itself, was reached. It has an elevation of 10,500 feet, but we found when standing on it that the real climb had only just commenced, as looking westward the summit of Robson, a mass of gleaming snow and ice, was seen for the first time.

"The arête, worn down by exposure to a knife-like edge, could not be followed, and another attempt had to be made a little lower down on the south side of the mountain, the ice-domes being reached shortly afterwards, although the peak itself had disappeared. As very strong cold wind sprang up and added to the discomfort of the climb about this time. To proceed further steps were cut in the great masses of clear green ice at the summit, and it took from 12.30 until 6.15 continually cutting steps and mounting upward, to reach the summit. Almost all the time we were in drifting ice and snow, which, with the cutting cold wind, froze on our faces and hands and made the last part of the ascent most uncomfortable.

Summit Reached.

"Fortunately, however, the clouds cleared away during the last thirty minutes, and from the summit of Mount Robson a perfect view was obtained for seventy-five or more miles in every direction, showing an incomparable panorama of peaks, snow-fields and glaciers, which, from our superior altitude, appeared just like frozen waves on a lake, with little white crests wherever a line of snow-crowned peaks appeared. We had no field-glasses with us, these having been discarded in favor of the scheme of travelling light, but we appreciated what we saw, and had plenty to look at for the few minutes we remained on the summit.

"The return journey was commenced at 5.30, and Konrad Kain, the guide by whose energy and fortitude the step-cutting and other problems of the ascent had been surmounted, decided that it was not safe to return by the southeast slope, which we had taken in coming up, as during the day many avalanches had descended and carried away the steps that had been cut by us in the earlier day. It was therefore decided to traverse the mountain and go down the west face, steps being cut in the ice down to a hanging glacier, thence, owing to rapidly approaching darkness, to a shelf of rock out of the line of avalanches, on which we arranged to pass the night. The ledge was very narrow, and, tying ourselves together to prevent accidents in the event of any of us becoming unduly restless in our sleep and rolling off, we passed the night in safety, although the roar of the avalanches as they crashed on to the glacier, the cold which we experienced owing to lack of blankets or any shelter, and the unyielding nature of our beds, did not conduce to comfort.

Interesting Climbing.

"However, the weather on the whole was good, and in the morning an early start was made. The southwest slope from the hanging glacier was practically all rock work, and ledge after ledge had to be descended by means of chimeys or wherever foot and hand-holds could be obtained. At 12 o'clock it was possible to unroped, shortly afterwards Kinney Lake being reached, and at 4.30 the main camp being made once more, the party having made a complete detour of the mountain.

Ovation at Camp.

The few who chanced to be in camp when the heroic climbers, stumbled back to civilization once more, sent up a cheer which could be heard through all the valley, and those anywhere within hearing came hurrying back to welcome the home-comers, who were supping on hot soup after their long fast. Hot baths and a short rest restored them to almost normal health, and at the camp-fire rally that evening the three were the heroes of the hour.

Two evenings later every member of the camp being present to hear the story of the great achievement, Mr. Foster narrated the particulars of the climb to a big circle of breathless listeners, all ardent climbers themselves, who thoroughly appreciated the arduous and strenuous character of the terrific climb so modestly appraised by those who had accomplished it. So intimately was the route described, and so accurately the various landmarks noted by the three men who took their lives in their hands when making the perilous ascent, that future climbers will have a record by which to lessen the difficulties of the route.

Despite this, however, there is little fear that Mount Robson will ever prove to be anything less than the giant peak of the Canadian Rockies, and it will still remain the lonely achievement for the few accomplished and unusually rugged Alpinists rather than the resort of the tourist. Mount Robson park is full of things more appealing to the sight-seer, even more appealing to the average climber, and the great carved and ice-guarded dome of the great peak will remain sacred for all time to the feet of only the most intrepid and defiant of men.

A second expedition, well-primed with information as to route, and led by the same guide who had conducted the party of three of which Mr. Foster was a member, went out the following week with the intention of making Robson. Unfavoring elements, however, were their unhappy portion, and a snowstorm drove the party home before the summit was made.

An Attractive Country.

Parties left daily for climbs in other parts of the district, Whitehorn, Re-splendent and Rearguard forming interesting minor trips which were undertaken. The whole country is full of interesting geological features, while Alplands, glorious with flowers of the brightest colors, and spring-like in the mid-summer of their high altitudes, are the delight of the lover of botany and scenic beauties. On the Saturday evening following the expedition described by Mr. Foster, Dr. Walcott, at the camp fire rally, gave an interesting geological history of the mountain, and paid a tribute to the excellent map prepared by Director Wheeler for the Alpine Journal, in which the topographical features of the district are so well shown. Detachments of the campers left with the packers about the middle of the following week, and the camp disbanded just two weeks from the time of pitching, having been proclaimed by everyone who attended it to be the finest in the history of the Alpine Club.

The Gurney-Oxford Attracts Madam To The Kitchen

THE GURNEY-OXFORD has a large following of fashionable cooks who dip into the culinary art simply for the pleasure they derive from trying dainty recipes previously not attempted. They are all most enthusiastic supporters of the Gurney-Oxford because it contains many exclusive devices that make a perfect cooking equipment.

Its oven is evenly heated in every corner to insure deliciously dainty cakes, golden brown biscuits, and light flaky pastry. A special Divided Flue carries the heat to every hole on the range. The top is perfectly smooth and clean, requiring no black lead polish.

But most important is the Economizer. It is a small lever that moves around a series of six notches giving the exact degree of heat required for any particular dish. The heat of the range can be shut off and the kitchen kept cool between meals by turning the lever to a certain number.

The fire is held at a low ebb on a special Reversible Grate until a baking oven is required. Then the necessary heat can be obtained quickly by simply turning the Economizer lever to another notch.

Such control as this enables many smart women to invent some very tempting dishes which they set triumphantly before their friends. It will pay you to investigate the Gurney-Oxford.

TO-DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

The corner-stone of Old Trinity church, at St. John, New Brunswick, was laid on August 20th, 1788, by Bishop Inglis, of Nova Scotia. The ceremony of laying the stone was followed by a charge to the clergy and by the administration of the rite of confirmation to a large number of candidates. The site of the church was "lot 121" on the east side of Germalin street, between Duke and Queen streets. It was over three years before the edifice was opened on Christmas Day, 1791. Dr. Byles, formerly of Christ church, was the first rector. At a vestry meeting held a few days before the opening, it was resolved that the church then in use should be sold at a price of £20, and that the bell, the organ and the King's coat-of-arms—the latter said to have been brought from the Council Chamber of the old Town House at Boston—should be removed to the new church. When this church, which had been enlarged in 1856, was destroyed by the great fire of 1877, the Royal arms and the communion plate were saved, to be placed in the present church, where they are still to be seen.

Frazer Coulter, the famous actor, was born at Smiths Falls, near Kingston, Ont., sixty-five years ago to-day. He was twenty-seven when he adopted the stage as a profession, but he had previously played in several amateur performances in Canada. During his early career he supported such stars as Lawrence Barrett, Fanny Davenport, Frederick Warde, John Gilbert, John Owens and Mrs. Sheridan Shook, and played the leading role in "Around the World in Eighty Days." Afterward he joined forces with Robinson and Crane, and later with Thomas W. Keene. He was leading man with Rose Coghlan during the latter's first year as a star, and next appeared with Richard Mansfield in the original production of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." He was noted for his remarkable memory, and at one time, while a member of the famous Boston Museum Stock Company, he played fourteen different important roles in two weeks, a new one every night.

On this date in 1541 Jacques Cartier, then on his third voyage of exploration, reached the Indian village of Stadacona, on the site of the future city of Quebec. In 1535 Cartier had visited Stadacona, and had been received by the natives in a spirit of trust and reverence, and fairly loaded down with gifts. He repaid this simple hospitality of the savages by seizing and carrying away with him to France their king Donnacona, and the five of his chiefs. When Cartier returned the Indians gathered to welcome their monarch, whom Cartier had promised to bring back. When told that Donnacona was dead the redskins grew sul-

After a terrible winter at Charlesbourg, a settlement Cartier had founded a few miles up the river from Stadacona, his men were eager to return to France, and as soon as the ice had moved out of the river Cartier sailed for home, to spend the remainder of his days in peace.

ENGINEER ARRIVES ON FRIDAY NEXT

Mr. Meredith Will Attend Special Meeting of Council; Gorge Road Paving to Start

Consulting Engineer Meredith has advised the water commissioner that he will arrive in the city on Friday morning, so that he can attend the special meeting of the city council on that evening with regard to the water question. In addition to the reports already presented and the returns sought at the last meeting of the council, a mass of information is being assembled for the guidance of the aldermen.

If some arrangement could be made for the immediate financing of the riveted steel pipe contract, prior to the submission of the by-law, the proposal of Alderman Cuthbert for the extension of the pipe line from Starrist road to Parson's bridge, about five miles in distance, it is thought, would be welcomed, as it was the original suggestion of the engineers when the temporary connection with the Esquimalt Waterworks Company was made in May.

One of the alderman's resolutions calls for the cost of this project to be estimated. This should not cause much difficulty as facts were assembled in January. The bridge, about five miles in distance, it is thought, would be welcomed, as it was the original suggestion of the engineers when the temporary connection with the Esquimalt Waterworks Company was made in May.

No report has yet been received from R. H. Thomson with regard to the north-west sewer, although it has been awaited for some time, and apparatus has been already purchased for the work, which will employ a large number of men. Investigations are still being made with regard to the flow of currents at the mouth of the harbor. The city engineer does not anticipate, he said this morning, that from the character of the undertaking the completion of the sewer will seriously cripple operations.

After considerable delay Mayor Morley has reached a settlement with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company with regard to the financing of the paving between Douglas street and Manchester road on the Gorge road, and the work will commence at once, the funds to be met out of the general revenue of the city, and paid back when an assessment can be levied in the usual course under the local improvement plan.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred last evening of Mr. Arthur Osborne, of 952 Caledonia avenue. The deceased, who was 32 years of age, was born in Nevada, California, and had lived here for the past seven years, having survived in the city by his wife, a father and mother, and a sister, Mrs. J. N. Callwell. The funeral will take place from the Sands-Fulton parlors at 2:30 Friday. Rev. Dr. Scott to officiate.

The funeral of the late Dr. Ackersley, of 1850 Oak Bay avenue, took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Parlors, the Rev. A. J. Stanger officiating. There were a great number of beautiful floral tributes, and a number of the deceased's friends attended the funeral, the pallbearers being Dr. E. L. Fraser, Mr. B. R. Taylor, Dr. G. L. Milne, Major Walsh, Dr. George Hall and Mr. Arnold Coulter.

The remains of the late Mr. Francis T. Lee, of Wolley House, Clive Drive, Oak Bay, were sent to Vancouver last evening, and were cremated there to-day. A quiet family service was conducted at the home by Rev. G. H. Andrews and in respect to the memory of the deceased the flag at the Union Club was floated at half-mast. The casket was accompanied to Vancouver by some of the deceased's relatives.

Colonel Prior III.—Owing to illness, from which, however, he is making satisfactory recovery, Colonel Prior will be unable to preside at this evening's banquet to the Hon. Robert Rogers and the Hon. G. E. Foster, Colonel Prior, as vice-president of the Board of Trade, would have taken the proceedings in the absence of the latter in England.

Friends of John Dean, the well known realty and financial man in this city, have learned that he has enjoyed an excellent trip to the Antipodes, where he went from wintering in California. When last heard from was on his way to Honolulu, so his return is expected shortly.

Work was provided for him in the provincial jail, where he will spend the next three months. He is no stranger there, as he was up for a similar term last year for entering a room and stealing $10. He solemnly denied to-day that he had stolen the money, but he could not deny the three months he had served.

He could not tell City Prosecutor Harrison what company he was working for. At first he resented being asked such a question, as if it was a matter of common notoriety what companies operate there, but in the end he made a guess at it, and said it was the Western Steel Company.

AUSTRALIAN NAVY IS NOT SEPARATIST

Hon. George E. Foster Impressed With Strong Imperialism of Antipodeans

There is no such controversy in Australia and New Zealand about the proper way to take part in Imperial naval defence as has taken place in Canada, declared the Hon. George E. Foster, Minister of Trade and Commerce, as he disembarked from the Empress of India last night after a six months' absence from Canada in Australia, New Zealand, and the principal cities of China and Japan. "They want a Pacific fleet and so do we. Our future development depends on this side of the continent and protection here is essential."

That Australia's Imperial spirit was very strong and rapidly growing was Mr. Foster's declaration. There was no indication in his naval legislation or in the administration of it that the country thought of placing itself in a position to defend itself or stand alone. The policy adopted by the Australian government was no step to independence he said.

"No country can talk of making it self independent at sea without undertaking prodigious expenditures which Australia is not able to make, even the spirit were there, which I am sure, is not the case. Australia is not at all anxious to advise Canada as to what steps to take, but is intensely eager to see Canada take its position and act with the other Dominions in strengthening the Imperial sea force. Feeling that Australia's and Canada's interest converge on the Pacific there is a strong sentiment among the public men of the former country that Australia and New Zealand should cooperate with Canada towards attaining the best results on the Pacific." Asked whether he saw any traces of the young Australian sentiment in favor of independence Mr. Foster stated that there certainly was no party and he had not encountered any sentiment whatever in favor of separation. There was, of course, an optimistic feeling as to the future of Australia and a laudable ambition to make as great a success as possible.

Except that he said he found a profound Imperial spirit among the people of both Dominions, Mr. Foster said very little about the work of the Royal Dominion Commission. "The necessary evidence was taken at great pains during a three months' tour of the two dominions and the results would be embodied in a report to the Imperial Government.

Respecting his mission to arrange a reciprocity agreement between Australia and Canada Mr. Foster stated this morning to a Times reporter that the unsettled political situation in Australia prevented any actual negotiations from being carried on, but he said that the new government was to be made adverse to such an arrangement and that when it became more firmly established negotiations would be resumed.

Personally Mr. Foster said the trip had been invaluable to him. He had had an opportunity of looking carefully into Australian conditions, and had had a good glimpse of China and Japan, all of which had been very instructive.

"It is necessary," he declared, "for Canadians to know more about the East than they do at present. We are neighbors in geography, and are becoming more and more closely drawn together by trade progress and development. Canadians, Western and Eastern alike, should study the conditions, that the two peoples may understand the viewpoints of each other."

While China was too unsettled for him to study very much of conditions there, in Japan he called upon the government ministers and made their acquaintance. The members of the government were very kind and considerate in showing him through their departments and instructing him in their manners of doing business, so that his visit was both pleasant and profitable. He entered into no formal discussions of Oriental immigration with them, he said, and heard no voice of dissatisfaction with the treaty that at present exists. The treaty was still young, and he had no occasion to discuss it officially.

Mr. Foster is a man of 66 years of age, but not for 30 years has he looked as vigorous and healthy as he does to-day. The lines in his face have been filled out, and his color is good. He says that he has benefited greatly physically by the trip.

Shortly after 10 o'clock the Salvor, with the ministerial party on board, left the Old Custom House wharf, the purpose being to show Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, something of the harbor works now being carried on under his department. The party was composed of G. H. Barnard, M. P.; R. F. Green, M. P.; H. B. Thomson, M. P.; members of the Board of Trade council; members of the harbors and navigation committee of the board under its chairman, F. A. Pauline, ex-President H. Goulding Wilson; the members of the reception committee for the banquet; and Alderman Cuthbert, representing the city council. There were about twenty in all and the steamer Salvor soon after the arrival of the minister, pulled out into the stream.

The operations of the various dredges were noticed as the steamer moved leisurely round the harbor. Passing out to the entrance of the harbor the minister was shown the low line of rock near Songhees Point, which is to be protected by a reclamation wall, the land being filled for dock accommodation.

The Salvor was then headed by Captain Stratford in the direction of the breakwater at Ogden Point. With Mr. Thomson and Capt. W. H. Logan, members of the deputation which waited on the minister at Ottawa some months ago, present, the minister's attention was directed to the matters at that time. He was shown where the two piers, each one thousand feet long, are to be constructed, with 35 feet of water on either side. When the breakwater project had been studied, the steamer's bows were headed for Esquimalt.

On arrival in the beautiful harbor every class of vessel had docked in past years, the steamer cruised round and the party inspected ground for the new graving dock, which is to be 1,150 feet long, 115 feet deep, and have a depth at the sills of 35 feet. In the late afternoon the party landed at Esquimalt, and returned to the city by automobile.

During the trip the party was accompanied by District Engineer J. S. MacLachlan, of the department of public works.

At the banquet this evening at the Empress Hotel, H. B. Thomson, M.P.P., will preside, and Hon. Robert Rogers and Hon. G. E. Foster will be the principal speakers. The latter

SENTIMENT TAKES TURN FOR BETTER

Mexican News Less Disconcerting and London Bought American Issues Freely

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) New York, Aug. 26.—Sentiment was less disturbed by the conflicting reports relative to the status of affairs in Mexico, but the foreign advices stated in effect that the large European powers were about to employ force in order to make Turkey relinquish its occupancy of Adrianople. Continental markets were steady, however, and London bought American issues freely during the forenoon. Offerings were taken and the market at the close presented a rather firm appearance. Outside buying was less at a minimum, the flat appearing to be still under the control of that element which has been conspicuous for its efforts to force a further rise.

MARCONI ISSUES COME TO FORE IN INTEREST

Little to Enthuse General List but Higher Priced Industrials Remain Firm

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Victoria, Aug. 26.—The steady gaining strength of the Marconi issues, more especially American Marconi, has been a noticeable feature recently and the dividend declared last month has been duly disbursed. There is a fair quality of the stock held locally but the central market is in the east. There was little to enthuse the general list this morning and fluctuations were confined within a narrow range. There was only minor buying force behind the Portland issues while the prolonged quietness in Coronation resulted for the first time in an absence of any bid whatsoever for this stock. The higher priced industrial issues remain firm because of the stability of sentiment making itself felt in world-wide financial circles.

NARROW AND STEADY TRADING FOR WHEAT

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—The market was very narrow and steady in wheat and oats to-day and trading was somewhat quiet. Flax took a very decided advance at the opening, but rallied towards the close. With a forecast of finer weather wheat is bearish, but has strong support in the high price of corn.

FRESH ACTIVITY IN BUYING ALL GRAINS

(By F. W. Stevenson & Co.) Chicago, Aug. 26.—A moderate reaction in prices in all grain markets was recorded to-day and had the effect of loosening up some additional holdings in all markets and at the same time created fresh activity on the buying side at the lower prices. A conspicuous feature of what trade was the buying of September wheat by one of the cash houses on the decline. The other months kept firm all day. Wheat traders had conflicting influences all day. Liverpool cables were bullish in tone, telling of unfavorable harvest conditions for France and Germany. The English market closed 1/4 to 3/4 higher.

RETAIN TENNIS DOUBLES CHAMPIONSHIPS TO-DAY

Newport, R. I., Aug. 26.—McLoughlin and Bundy retained their title as American champions in tennis doubles by defeating the challengers, Strachan and Griffin, to-day, in straight sets, 6-4, 7-5, 6-1. The challengers showed excellent teamwork, but were unable to stand against McLoughlin's terrific smash nor could they successfully handle all times the high lob served to them by Bundy. The youngsters put up their best game in the second set, and rallies at the net were very sharp and their agility showed. Their game, however, lacked the finish of the champions.

Watch for the Big Opening Announcement HUBERT The BIG THREE of Central British Columbia. YEARS ago, when the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific was first located through Central British Columbia, we made a most careful and systematic survey and investigation of this new territory. Aided by engineers, surveys and the immense amount of data assembled, we were able to locate the sites of the future large cities and trade centres of this wonderful new country—Fort George, Hubert and New Hazelton. Fort George, the first of these new cities promoted by us, needs no introduction—it is known throughout the civilized world. Its success has been record-breaking—it is sure to develop into one of the big cities of British Columbia. Fort George conclusively demonstrated the accuracy of our judgment. Hubert, the second of these new cities, will soon be placed on the market. Back of the development and promotion of this new city will be the same organization, the same management and the same careful and systematic development, and a like amount of liberal advertising that placed Fort George in the front rank of the new cities of Western Canada.

HOPES TO SELECT BREAKWATER SITE

Hon. Robert Rogers, Minister of Public Works, Arrived This Morning

OUTLINES HIS STAND ON ASIATIC QUESTION

Thinks Opening of Canal Will Mean Tremendous Trade Growth

Early this morning a somewhat dapper, grey-headed man, quietly dressed in a blue suit and light grey Homburg hat, entered the Empress hotel and registered in a firm hand as plain "R. Rogers, Winnipeg." In this way, perhaps, he hoped to hide his light under a bushel for a time and snatch a few hours of rest. But the vicissitudes of a cabinet minister are many, and it was not long before the "Hon. Bob's" room was the focus point of deputations, committee, friends and interviewers, all anxious to appertain to themselves some slight portion of his valuable time.

The first impression one gets of the minister of public works is one of calm geniality. The next, of inscrutability. There is something sphinx-like in the general expression of his steady grey eyes, and in the immobility of his tight-shut mouth. In speech, he is quiet, assured and well ordered; in fact, as far removed from the general impression of an aggressive politician as can be imagined. And yet the minister of public works, as an aggressive politician, but it is in method, not appearance. His modus operandi is very much after the style of Mr. Bower with more savoir faire. His political actions and interviews would lead one to believe Hon. Mr. Rogers to be a somewhat noisy, vituperative politician of the Tammany type. On the contrary, he is a quiet appearing man, courteous in manner almost to affectation.

Dry-dock Site. Before starting off on his trip of inspection to the various public works, Hon. Mr. Rogers stated that he hoped in the course of the day to pick out a suitable site at Esquimalt for the new dry-dock which is to be established here. He would not say how soon the work might be put into operation. On the subject of his trip west, Mr. Rogers had little to say. "Good progress is being made on the public works in the various cities west of Winnipeg, but hardly good enough for the department. The trip was very enjoyable, and the signs of amazing development are very clear. "That the trade of the western coast will be hugely increased by the opening of the Panama canal is an absolute certainty, and the expenditure of vast sums of money on harbor development is being done in order to cope with the tremendous traffic which will come this way. We are determined to see that our share of the preparation is all in order and it is for this reason that the breakwater, piers and dry-dock are being constructed in or adjacent to this city.

Asiatic Question. "What is your stand on the Asiatic question?" Mr. Rogers was asked. The minister was non-committal. He countered with another question. "There is not much trouble over the Asiatic question here, is there?" "It is at least being widely discussed," said the interviewer.

"Our position with regard to the Japanese," said the minister, "is pretty clearly defined in the negotiations made with the Japs last session." Mr. Rogers referred to the trade treaty which was made last year with the Japanese government, and the discussion of immigration which accompanied it, subsequent to which Mr. Borden continued the Lemieux agreement limiting the Jap immigration to an insignificant number.

His Influence. More of a politician than a statesman, Hon. Mr. Rogers is one of the strongest personalities in the present administration. He is credited with being the master of it, and several incidents go to prove that statement is true. One has only to quote for example the case of the appointment of the present solicitor-general, Arthur Meighan. Mr. Rhodes, an ambitious young member from Nova Scotia, and a great friend of Borden's, was to be, it is said, the prime minister's appointee. But in this case, as in others, Mr. Rogers had his way, and Mr. Meighan got the post. It was also declared that the main influence through which the closure was adopted by the government at the last election was Mr. Rogers.

In spite of all these things, however, Mr. Rogers is no aggressive iconoclast dabbed with the Tammany brush. He preserves always, both in the House and in his social intercourse, a quiet genial manner, and a personality which is very popular with members on both sides of the House of Commons. He is not the turbulent, stormy petrel of politics which he is occasionally represented to be in eastern journals. Instead the velvet glove is always "on evidence." Of course there may be the mailed fist beneath.

A TOBY COMEDY.

One of the most important dramatic performances in Liverpool was "Hold up" and not by a Suffragette (says the Liverpool Daily Post). A man with a big heart—he calls himself a friend of all the world—saw the famous tragedy-comedy of "Punch" being played in front of St. George's hall, and decided that Toby wanted a bone. He got a bone for Toby, and it had plenty of meat on it. Toby was in the midst of his star "turn," protecting Judy from Punch's brutality, when the friend of all the world held up the bone to Toby—and he promptly forgot his part.

He jumped to the ground, seized the bone, and made off with it. For half an hour the tragedy of "Punch" was suspended while the crook-backed hero, the collector, and several small boys chased the missing actor.

And when he was recaptured he played his part very reluctantly; for he had memories of a crowded half-hour of glorious life.

CHAPTERS OF A POSSIBLE AUTOBIOGRAPHY

spreed in evil-doers, was usually stationed in a rather tough part of the city, where there was a tendency to crimes of violence, and incidentally an occasional desire to harass wheelmen. The officer was as good off his wheel as on it, and he speedily established perfect order on his beat, being always willing to "take chances" in getting his man. He was no respecter of persons, and when it became his duty to arrest a wealthy man for persistently refusing to have his carriage lamps lighted after nightfall, he brought him in with the same indifference that he displayed in arresting a street-corner tough who had thrown a brick at a wheelman.

The Police as Firemen. Occasionally a policeman would perform work which ordinarily comes within the domain of the fireman. In November, 1896, an officer who had previously saved a man from death by drowning added to his record by saving five persons from burning. He was at the time asleep, when he was aroused by a fire in a house a few doors away. Running over the roofs of the adjoining house until he reached the burning building, he found that on the fourth floor the flames had cut off all exit from an apartment in which there were four women, two of them over fifty, and one of the others with a six-months-old baby. The officer ran down to the adjoining house, broke open the door of the apartment on the same floor—the fourth—and crept out on the coping, less than three inches wide, that ran from one house to the other. Being a large and very powerful, and active man, he managed to keep hold of the casing of the window with one hand, and with the other to reach to the window of the apartment where the women and child were. The fireman appeared, and stretched a net underneath. The crowd that was looking on suddenly became motionless and silent. Then, one by one, he drew the women out of their window, and holding them tight against the wall, passed them into the other window. The exertion in such an attitude was great, and he strained himself badly; but he possessed a practical mind, and as soon as the women were saved he began a prompt investigation of the cause of the fire, and arrested two men whose carelessness, as was afterwards proved, caused it.

"Ehwat name?" snapped the magistrate as he glared at the prisoner. "Patrick Casey, sorr." "Hov ye ever been before me before?" "No, your honor. O've seen but wan face that looked like yourn, an' that was the picture of an Irish king." "Discharged!" announced his honor. "Call the next case!"—Harper's Magazine.
