While British Columbia is deluged with rumors of an anticipated general election in Midsummer and political parties are hurrying preparations for the fray, Premier Oliver is on his way to Ottawa to-day to explain to the Federal Government some of the Province's real problems.

EAGLE CHARGES ELECTRIC TRAIN

Big Bird Flies Against Coach on Fraser Valley Interurban Line

New Westminster, April 9.—Some excitement was furnished passengers on the afternoon B.C.E.R. train from Chilliwack Monday, when a huge bald-headed eagle, which had evidently become confused few head- long at the first of the approaching coaches. The train was rounding Vedder Mountain. Suddenly the motor-man, Bert Johnston, noticed the huge bird flying towards it. It struck the first coach a glancing blow, but evidently was not severely injured for it did not drop immediately. A switch iron was brought into play and one blow brought the monarch of the air to the ground. The train was then stopped and "Doc" Watson a brakeman, went to pick it up. The eagle, although comparatively weakly attempted to show fight and the switch iron was once more used, after which it was thrown into the baggage coach. Although so badly beaten that it was thought to be dead, on the trip to New Westminster it twice attempted to regain its liberty from the coach before it was killed. The bird appears to be a young one and is in fine shape for mounting.

LAUSANNE TREATY GIVEN APPROVAL

Second Reading of Bill Passed Unanimously by British Commons

During Debate Lloyd George Said it Was Deplorable Pact
London, April 10 (Associated Press)—The House of Commons last night unanimously passed the second reading of the bill to ratify the Treaty of Lausanne. Previously Sir Edward Grigg, Liberal, had withdrawn his proposed amendment providing that the House decline to proceed with the bill unless it was assured that the Dominions and India had been fully informed of and acquiesced in the liabilities the Empire assumed under the guarantee.
Thus the British Parliament in principle ratified the Lausanne Treaty between the Allies and Turkey which former Premier Lloyd George, in the course of the debate, characterized as from the British viewpoint, a deplorable treaty, such as might have been signed by a vanquished power.

WOMAN SUFFERED FOR MONTHS

Weak and Nervous. Made Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Webbwood, Ont.—"I was in a very weak and run-down nervous condition, always tired from the time I got up until I went to bed. Sleep did not rest me at all. My sister recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and others told me about it, but it was from my sister's advice that I took it. It did not take long until I felt stronger, headaches left me and my appetite came back to me. I am a farmer's wife and have many things to do outside the house, such as milking, looking after the poultry, and other chores. I heartily recommend the Vegetable Compound to all who have the same trouble I had, for it is a fine medicine for women."

For Your Motor

—Pistons that

"Get Away" Like a Projectile

because non-detonating smokeless powder and non-detonating gasoline act in the same way

It is non-detonating, smokeless powder that starts the projectile and drives it clear through to the muzzle and away with tremendous velocity from the big naval defense guns.

Dynamite has great explosive power. Likewise other kinds of powder.

But non-detonating "smokeless" has equal initial force, plus an enormous thrust or "follow through." Thus shells weighing thousands of pounds are made to travel twenty miles—four times as far as formerly—and hit a mark.

The Same From Gasoline

Get that same effect on your pistons, in your motor, with Union Non-Detonating Gasoline.

Not single, sudden blows on the piston heads, the power of which is soon spent, but quick, powerful explosions plus the "smokeless powder" thrust.

The impulses are stronger and smoother.

So does Union Gasoline smooth the power without lessening it, eliminating "knocking" and vibration.

Steeper hills are made with less effort in high gear.

There's a quicker "get away" in traffic and faster acceleration on the straightaway.

Test for 50 Miles

Test Union Non-detonating Gasoline for 50 miles. Try starting, acceleration, hill-climbing, speed.

Then decide which gasoline you'll use hereafter.

INFORMATION ABOUT C.N.R. IS ASKED

Commons Wants Facts About Sale of Properties in 1922 and 1923

Ottawa, April 10.—Resolutions calling for the names of officials of the Canadian National Railways drawing salaries as superintendents or higher and production of details regarding the properties sold by the C.N.R. during 1922 and 1923 were passed by the House yesterday afternoon.

Passenger equipment for the Canadian National Railways, at a total cost of $4,704,272, was ordered on a "cost plus" basis in 1922, Hon. George Graham, Minister of Railways, stated.

STEVENS'S VIEW

"Why cannot the Canadian National Railways come before Parliament and the committee the same as any other corporation does?" asked Hon. H. H. Stevens when speaking of the Canadian National branch line programme.
"We are training the directorate to think it can dip into the Treasury whenever it likes," Mr. Stevens continued.
The Government claimed it desired to divorce the railway system from politics, he said. Then let the Canadian National board be treated like the C.P.R. board and appear before the Railway Committee with its bills. Surely, Mr. Stevens went on, the House was not going to accept as evidence of the need of a railway merely the request of the member representing the constituency affected and the committee do nothing more than utter a platitude.

REDUCED POWER

Frank Cahill, Liberal, Pontiac, Que., declared the Government of which Mr. Stevens was a member had, in the dying days of its career, passed a bill which deprived the Railway Commission of all discretion in the matter of branch lines in connection with the Canadian National Railways.

IMMIGRATION WORK

AMERY HAD BOUT WITH LABOR M.P.

Ex-Navy Chief and G. Buchanan Exchanged Blows in British Commons

It All Started Over the Much Discussed Rent Eviction Measure

London, April 10.—There was a lively punching bout on the floor of the House of Commons last night and as a result, Lieut.-Colonel L. C. Amery, former First Lord of the Admiralty, and George Buchanan, the Glasgow Laborite, went home with battered faces.
Not midnight, just before the House adjourned, the burning topic of evictions of unemployed tenants was being discussed when Lieut.-Colonel Amery referred contemptuously to the Laborites' arguments as "sob stuff," thereby extremely angering the Clydesiders.

Not midnight, just before the House adjourned, the burning topic of evictions of unemployed tenants was being discussed when Lieut.-Colonel Amery referred contemptuously to the Laborites' arguments as "sob stuff," thereby extremely angering the Clydesiders.
"You should see James Maxton of the Glasgow Laborite delegation. Never mind that swine. He is only a little gutter-snipe," shouted Buchanan.
The Speaker rebuked the members for their remarks and the House almost immediately adjourned.

PEACE RESTORED

While the members were dispersing there was angry talk on the floor of the House of Commons. Lieut.-Colonel Amery and in a moment Amery and Buchanan were punching at one another's faces. Other Laborites tried to reach the former Minister but their colleagues held them back. Further violence was prevented by peace-makers who persuaded the principal combatants to leave.
It was the first personal encounter in the House in nearly a year.

TARIFF DEBATED BY SENATORS

David Opposed to Reduction; Turiff Says Protection a Failure

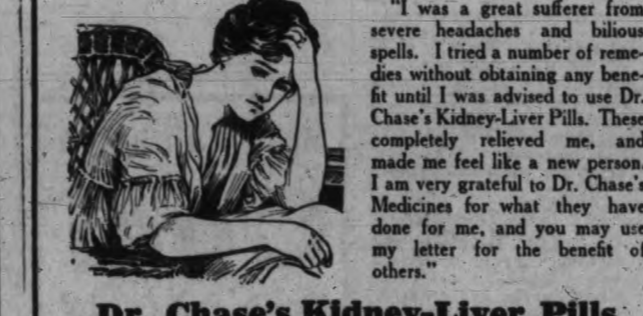

Ottawa, April 10.—Opposition in any reduction in the tariff was voiced in the Senate from the Liberal side by Senator L. O. David. He believed any reduction in taxation should be in the income and sales tax and not in the customs duties. Without the protective tariff Canada would lose thousands of her population and decrease her home market, he said.

NOT ASKING PROTECTION

Senator Turiff said the farmers of the prairies were not asking for any protection for their products. The railroads were maintained by the tonnage of the West. The home market was of no use to the prairie farmers for their wheat crop. Protection had been tried and proved a failure in Canada. As soon as the manufacturers met competition they

CARLOADS OF LOGS RUN WILD WHEN TRAIN DERAILED

Special to The Times
Lake Cowichan, April 9.—Some excitement was caused on Tuesday morning when eight carloads of logs broke loose from the cabs which was holding them at the V. L. & M. Company's loading works. They gained rapid headway taking a course down the Y leading from the woods to the crossing near the depot where they reached a sudden stop, owing to the derailment of two cars. Logs were scattered in every direction. The wrecking train and crew were summoned immediately from Wellington, and it was not until midnight that the wreck was cleared up. The cars being of steel, were not badly damaged, but the logging train service was held up for some considerable time.

THE EXPERTS' PLAN FOR REPARATIONS

OUT of the lengthy and complicated Dawes report there stands the fact that the problem of reparations is first the problem of the rehabilitation of Germany and German credit.

The Dawes commission after its thorough investigation, has concluded that Germany is well able to pay the reparations demanded by the peace treaty. But to do this her budget must be balanced and her currency stabilized.

Confidence in Germany must be re-established and the German people convinced that it is to their interest to pull themselves together and pay off their liabilities. Conditions must be made so that the six and three-quarter billion of gold marks which have fled the country in fear will be brought back by their owners to Germany.

Further to assist Germany to her feet, it is proposed to call a moratorium for two years on the payments by her of reparations. While this breathing spell is in effect, it is planned to carry out a complete reform of the German budget system, so that with taxation at least as heavy as that borne by any of the Allied countries, the budget may be balanced and the German Government stopped from going "in the hole" deeper.

To stabilize the currency a new bank of gold issue is proposed, with a foreign loan of 800,000,000 to assist it.

With the currency re-established in this way and the budget relieved from peace treaty charges, the experts who make the report believe that by 1926 Germany ought to be making rapid strides towards complete recovery.

The reparations payments for the next two years are not to be cancelled, but met by a bond issue, which will not bear for the time being on the German budget.

At the end of two years, however, Germany will have to start payments and these will increase until in the fifth year she will pay 2,500,000,000 gold marks. After that the payments will vary with the increase in Germany's population and national wealth.

The German railway system, which it is proposed to reorganize and hand over to a private company with a capitalization of 26,000,000,000 gold marks, will, under the plan, be one of the chief sources, along with taxation under the Government's budget, from which the reparation payments will be raised.

A method has also been devised to extract 5,000,000,000 gold marks from Germany industry.

The report does not touch on the question of reducing the total of German reparations, fixed at 132,000,000,000 by the last Allied agreement, although certain English interests and the Germans believe a reduction in the total essential.

The purpose of the commission was to devise a means by which the reparations could be collected and in this way remove much of the uncertainty that has been hanging over Europe. The political phase, which was without the scope of the commission, has also not been touched on, although, of course, before the discussion on the report has advanced far it will probably assume first place as it always does in European affairs.

The Dawes report is a business man's report. Its constructive importance lies in bringing the Allies into a definite policy. Of course, the problem is not solved yet. The success of the scheme, if it is put into operation, will depend on whether the German people can be rallied to its support. That is the problem for the politician.

COSTLY FOR BRITAIN

NO sooner do the miners in Britain give indication, as they did yesterday, that they will accept the terms offered them to call off their strike, than the engineering trades come forward with a demand for a wage increase of a pound a week and lockout notice is posted affecting 100,000 men in British shipyards. All this right on top of the dock and transport strikes.

The strike epidemic in Britain is increasing again. Workers are seeking to better their lot in life, but the most costly part of the process is the loss of time and economic waste in idle machinery involved in the re-adjustments.

The hugeness of this loss which British industry has had to bear in recent years is indicated by these statistics on disputes in the years since the war published by the Ministry of Labor Gazette, London:

Table with 3 columns: Year, Persons Affected, Days Lost. 1919: 2,400,000, 34,969,000. 1920: 1,779,000, 25,567,000. 1921: 1,770,000, 85,872,000. 1922: 512,000, 19,850,000. 1923: 336,000, 10,642,000.

There was nothing in the years before the war approaching the foregoing record. For British trade, such a condition involving dead loss, is doubly burdensome, because trade there is still valiantly trying to recover from the blows it received through the war.

STILL ONE LANGUAGE

LONDON is to entertain large numbers of Canadians and Americans this Summer in connection with the various conventions there and the Empire Exhibition at Wembley. Preparations are being made to extend every hospitality and to smooth the way for visitors, including the way of language.

Although English is the language of Britain and this continent, there are so many differences in the use of words between the two places that London has prepared a special glossary of parallel terms, so that visitors and hosts may be sure they are always talking about the same thing. A few of the terms on the list are:

Table with 2 columns: English Term, Canadian/American Term. North American: Chest of Drawers. Campaign: Canvass. Candy: Sweets. City Editor: Chief Reporter. Clipping: Cutting. Commission Merchant: Factor. Cracker: Biscuit. Gasoline: Petrol. Fraternal Order: Friendly Society. Trolley Car: Tram Car. Truck: Lorry. Washrag: Face Cloth. Wood Alcohol: Methylated Spirit. Ash Can: Dust Bin. Coal Oil: Paraffin.

The Westminster Gazette points out that while Americans and Canadians in their own home towns walk on "sidewalks," in Britain it is always the "pavement." The Gazette also thinks that some English equivalent should be found for the explosive and expressive "attaboy" of this continent.

The list might be added to almost indefinitely. It illustrates how language is modified by geography. The English language has no final authority as the French has in the French Academy, but there is a rich and compelling background of English literature on this continent as well as in the land where the tongue developed which will keep pure the main current of the common language.

The difference in the use of some words on one side of the Atlantic and the other, is not of more importance than the variations one finds from county to county in parts of England.

The trouble with Trotzky, according to Richard Eaton of The London Daily Mail, is that he is in love. That often explains a lot.

Last year's grain crop in Canada, valued at $900,000,000, was just enough to pay the taxes for the year which Canadians had to pay all governments.

Some Manitoba legislators complain that press gallery reports have done more to undermine the influence of the Legislature than all the long-haired speakers on street corners had in years. But many people think that after some members get through there isn't much left to undermine.

A rich man who died in New York left in his will warning to his children that "your purse is your best friend and when it is empty friendship is but a name." He undoubtedly had had experience with that sort of friendship. But true, lasting friendship can never be bought with money. This is no argument, however, for emptying one's purse.

In the morning, when you awake, accustom yourself to think first upon God, or something in order to His service; and at night allow Him close thine eyes; and let your sleep be necessary and healthful, not idle and expensive of time, beyond the needs and conveniences of nature; and sometimes be curious to see the preparation which the sun makes, when he is coming forth from his chambers of the East.—Jeremy Taylor.

FAME

What shall I do lest life in silence pass? And if I do, And never prompt the busy of noisy brass, What needst thou rue? Remember ere the ocean deeps are mute; The shallow's roar; 'Tis in the ocean, fame is but the bruit Along the shore. What shall I do to be forever known?—Thy duty ever. This did full many who yet slept unknown. Oh! never, never! Thinkst thou, perchance, that they remain unknown? Whom thou knowest not? By angel-trumps in heaven their praise is blown—Divine their lot! What shall I do to gain eternal life? Discharge aright The simple duties with which each day is rife! Yes, with thy might! —From the German of Schiller.

Doctor Frank Crane on "Farm Life"

(Copyright)

THERE is little dispute of the fact that the farm is the backbone of a nation. A nation of farmers is self-sufficient. A nation of cities is artificial, dependent upon the products of them.

Progress during the last half century has been toward farm betterment. What the farmer needed was to make more profits and to have a more varied and attractive life. To these ends the following agencies have been developed:

The trolley car lines have spread rapidly throughout the rural sections not covered by railroads. Transportation is the key to civilization. Electric railway lines have done much to relieve the isolation of country life.

The automobile. At first a plaything of the rich, the motor car has cheapened and bettered until it has become much utilized by farmers. The Sunday meeting, the Chautauqua assembly, and the town square are crowded with gasoline machines where once were horse-drawn vehicles.

The telephone has been a priceless boon to dwellers in far places. The radio is everywhere. Rural free delivery has brought to the farm house one of the greatest advantages of the town dwelling.

The parcel post is another instance where government has been of assistance to the country people. Agricultural colleges have actively and freely aided the farmer to apply science to labor, and have contributed largely toward making the cultivation of land pay.

University extension departments and Chautauqua circles have been of help in enriching intellectual life in the country. Ancient civilization was all in cities; even religion was centered there; country people were called "pagans."

Modern civilization is realizing that it must be folded back upon the land or rot. Banker Harris of Champaign, Ill., in an address before a banker-farmer conference, said: "Whatever the problems, local or international, that we must solve in the future, will be the better prepared for them if we build up our agricultural life, making the farm more likeable, as well as more profitable."

There is the gist of the matter; to make the farm more likeable and more profitable. To accomplish that we must reduce the farmer from the position of a serf, working for city men, supplying for them the means for culture and amusement, and make him a citizen, working for himself, for a prosperity that shall be for the fields as well as for the towns.

Save Canada or Perish

That is what Montcalm wrote the King of France that He would Do Just Before He Was to Win Undying Fame

BY the first ship in the Springs, the Marquis de Vaudreuil-Cavagnal, governor of New France, wrote on April 19, 1759 (the last year of French sovereignty in Canada) to the King's Minister, "the people are frightened and would completely lose heart did not my firm attitude sustain their enthusiasm for the service of the King."

No wonder the people were frightened. The war had gone on now for over four years, one year unofficially and three years officially. In the first months the Canadian habitants had sprung out with a light and loyal heart to the defence of their country. They had cheerfully borne the burdens of the war as these grew each year heavier and heavier, and submitted with a scowl and a shrug to the villainous oppressions of the Intendant Bigot, his confederate Cadet, and their gang, had seen their harvests, scanty as they were, being taken with slight intermission in the field, taken from them under royal warrant, had been compelled to house and feed the regular soldiery at fifteen francs a month, had seen their substance disappear and had been reduced by extortionate prices to the eating of their cattle, their horses, and their dogs. They had borne all this in patience, for although the French had but one victory of moment to their credit, the Governor fed them with the most elating news of continual French triumphs, and carefully and successfully suppressed the disquieting features of the situation.

THE chivalrous and capable Montcalm could do nothing. He commanded the regulars, but the Governor hindered him in innumerable petty ways and limited his authority as far as possible. It was Montcalm's misfortune that his lot should be cast in with the lot of this hapless colony of France. He was a splendid officer and would no doubt have risen to a marshaling of France. He saw that the English forces were more efficient than the French and overwhelming in their numerical superiority. He was asked to do the impossible for his King, and it would have been none the less gallant and less inhibitory to his ability, in reality Canada had been lost a century before, when Louis XIV. had severely restricted immigration from France that his army for the domination of Europe might not suffer dearth of material. France did not realize it, however, until too late. Once the English colonies united there was no hope for New France, even without the extra aid of Great Britain, her grinding pressure from the sea. With this the struggle was to be greatly shortened and the peace accelerated.

By 1758 Montcalm realized all this. His friend, Doreuil, wrote to the Minister in July of that year, "Canada has been saved by a miracle these three years past. Nothing but peace can save it now, notwithstanding all the exertions and the ability of M. de Montcalm." However, Montcalm wrote the Minister in the autumn of 1758: "I asked for my recall after the glorious affair of last eighth of July (Ticonderoga), but since the colony's case is so desperate I must do my bit to help it and to stave off the crash." To the King's appeal, received in the Spring of 1759, to hold on at all cost to some corner which might be called New France, he answered as a soldier and a gentleman: "We will save this unhappy colony, or perish." He was to perish, but to leave in Canada a name imperishable. Fate dealt kindly with him after all, perhaps, in forcing on him this opportunity for undying fame, instead of enrolling his name less gloriously amid the distinguished crowd of the marshals of his country, and far more kindly, certainly, than with that Minister of the King, who had condemned him to this end with the remark to Montcalm's envoy to the court: "My dear sir, when the house is on fire one cannot bother about the stable."

THE DEVIL CAST INTO TORMENT And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city; and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them. And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophets are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.—Revelation xx 9-10.

FARMERS GIVEN PROTECTION FROM RAVAGES OF GAME

Special to The Times. Metchoin, April 9.—Many important problems affecting farmers were discussed at the recent meeting of the Game Conservation Board in Vancouver, according to the report of the Advisory Board of the Farmers' Institute, made public by C. E. Whitney-Griffiths to-day.

"In connection with coyotes, the Game Board has consented to the pelts being returned to the hunter and no seem to agree that the stipulation that pups should be seven days old before bounty was paid was hardly necessary.

"In connection with bounty on crows it was pointed out that one section in the dry-belt desired crows protected owing to their value in keeping down the grasshopper, but it was essential, and there will very probably be a bounty set of five or ten cents. Bounties at the present moment are only paid on wolves, coyotes and panthers.

"Regarding supplying shot shells for the control of crows, this has not yet been decided upon by the Board and it is doubtful if suggestion will be followed unless bounty on crows is eliminated.

"Regarding dogs of which many are reported running at large, this will receive strict attention, as reports coming in from districts as far away as Prince George, as well as Kamloops and Coast Range, show that dogs are becoming a greater menace to the game, as well as, of course, to sheep, and steps must be taken in the near future to control dogs generally.

"The Board was urged to fix the date of the season and not make it fit the season which causes confusion. Many appear in favor of a fixed date as the season being suggested this season for the deer be shortened or that does be allowed to be killed. Other sections also complained of same conditions.

BEARS TROUBLE SOME "Complaints regarding depredations of bears now can be dealt with under amendment dated December 21, 1923, section 3, (2), also section 7, subsection (2) re section 4 of amendment, also section 37 of 1923 amendment.

"Where necessary to drain agricultural lands, power to control operation of beaver is granted under amendment December 21, 1923, section 10, subsection F.

"Meeting was well attended by representatives of sporting associations, particularly on the Mainland, with several attending from Vancouver Island. It is most gratifying to report that an excellent feeling now exists between sporting association representatives and ourselves as farmers. At the close of the meeting officials of Game Associations personally extended thanks to C. E. Whitney-Griffiths, secretary and member of the Advisory Board, and the Chairman of the Game Conservation Board expressed great pleasure at the new spirit that now existed.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE "It is exceedingly gratifying and pleasant to find that as the result of several years of steady effort, we have reached a position where we cannot reasonably complain further of serious handicaps existing against the agricultural industry. It is true some improvements can yet be made but the persistent and consistent attitude adopted has resulted in a most satisfactory solution to irritating conditions that existed and apparently to which there was no solution, absence of touch causing this feeling, as you will note only in recent years have we attended game board meetings to give attention to matters affecting our industry.

"You will notice B.C.F.G.A. resolutions re bears and grouse have been amply cared for in amendments, relief being now available.

"Strong complaint was made regarding the dollar a day license granted to fishermen and which was taken much advantage of by Americans. This will be amended and a ten-dollar-a-day license will be the fee.

"Examination of the Act and the Amendments brought down last year will show many old grievances have been removed, and a big stride taken forward along the lines agitated for some years by the farmers. There is still a strong demand for

C.G.I.T.—This week is one of especial interest to leaders in C.G.I.T. work and to the girls of the various groups owing to the presence in Victoria of Miss Annie Fountain, provincial secretary of girls' work. Arriving in the city on Tuesday, she addressed a large and successful mother and daughter banquet in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at which she was the guest of honor. Last evening she met with and addressed the C.G.I.T. group of girls at Hampshire Road Methodist Church. Further activities for the week include an address to be given at a mother and daughter banquet Friday evening at Wesley Church, from which she goes to meet with the combined groups at First Baptist Church. She will leave on Saturday for the mainland and early in the following week will go to Toronto to attend a conference of girls' workers at the national headquarters and will be glad to discuss the work with interested friends who are requested to telephone 73661.

ROMAN CATHOLIC CIRCLES IN ENGLAND STIRRED BY ECCLESIASTIC'S THREAT
London, April 10.—A sensation has been caused in Roman Catholic circles in the Diocese of Nottingham, which embraces several of the Midland counties, by action which the Bishop threatens in opposition to the growing prevalence of mixed marriages. In his Lenten pastoral the Bishop says that last year there were in the diocese 315 mixed marriages as against 228 Catholic ones. He regards this as evidence of the decline of the faith and laity which exists, and adds: "Nor do I blame only the young people and their parents. With shame and with remorse I blame myself for the course which these dispensations were issued, and in a minor degree I blame also the clergy who asked me to grant them."
The Bishop says that for the future he will scrutinize with the utmost care the reasons adduced in each case before granting the dispensation. He adds that the chance of the cathedral will no longer be available for mixed marriages, but they may take place at the altar in any of the other chapels except that of the Blessed Sacrament.

NIGHT BLINDNESS CAUSED BY 'QUAKE'
Japanese School Children Suffering After-Effects of Disaster
Yokohama, Japan, March 7 (Associated Press).—The youth of Japan will feel the effects of the great earthquake of last September for many years and in many ways. New evidence of this has been disclosed by a physical examination made recently of the school children of Yokohama. It was found that 25 per cent had afflicted children with "night blindness" or inability to see after nightfall even in the best artificial light.
Physical deterioration after the earthquake was found to be general. Of about 32,000 children examined fully three per cent were anemic.

REBEKAH'S HOSTESSES TO AGED INMATES AT ENJOYABLE AFFAIR
A most enjoyable afternoon and evening's entertainment was given by the inmates of the Aged Women's Home by about fifty members of the Carne Rebecca Lodge, on Wednesday, April 10, at the home of Mrs. Wallace, Ferguson and Sharp, corner 21st and 22nd streets. The room was decorated with daffodils, yellow and white streamers, dainty candy favors in the same colors being placed for all who were able to sit at table, and those confined to their rooms were served there in like manner. Mrs. S. Bowers ably convened the whole, and was assisted in serving by the younger members of the lodge.
In the evening the following gave a very entertaining programme: Vocal selections, Miss Lillian Grant, Mr. John Dobbie and Mr. C. Briggs; graceful Scottish dancing, the Misses Wallace, Ferguson and Sharp; cornet solo, Mr. C. Briggs; pianoforte selections, Miss Pretty; community singing, ably led by Mr. J. Dobbie. The piece resistance was given by Mrs. Gillis, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," Mrs. Gillis, who is one of the inmates, is more than eighty years of age. Miss Vera Bickle acted as accompanist. Several members of the committee of management, were present, and a hearty vote of thanks sponsored by one of them was accorded the entertainers.
A BLENDED TEA IS BETTER
Tea from one garden, no matter how fine it is, possesses certain desirable qualities but may lack others because all characteristics are not developed under the same conditions. If the tea has a perfect flavor it may lack body; if it has body it is perhaps without the same perfection of flavor. To combine all desirable characteristics in one blend has been the work of the "SALADA" Experts for over a quarter of a century and "SALADA" is the fruit of their labors. The flavor is more delicious than any unblended tea grown.

YOUR HOME AND YOU
BY HELEN KENDALL
The Home Dye-Pots
If you have ever dyed a frock, a pair of curtains, or some other fabric, I know your thrifty soul must have rebelled, as mine has, against throwing out a whole pot full of perfectly good dye. Just because the article you were dyeing had been finished. Here it is, great bowl full of clear blue, or a dishpan filled with lovely sage green, or perhaps a kettle of jade; for it takes a good-sized dish to dye a gown, for example, and there is almost as much dye left as there had been to start with.
What we do, generally, is to begin pouring around the house for other things to dye. Why not dip a pair of white silk stockings into the soft green dye? And there's that faded fashion-cover up in Alice's room—that would take a good blue, wouldn't it? The old curtains in the boys' room, that little Summer dress of Ann's, Mother's gray muslin, they well, you know how it goes! We get into a perfect orazy of dyeing, and few are the articles in the house that would not take a good blue, wouldn't it? But it really is neither necessary to dip all the odd pieces in the

Thousands of Women, Exhausted by Their Tasks, Can Rebuild Their Bodies and Restore Their Nervous Systems

Countless thousands of women must work day after day in offices, stores, manufacturing establishments or in their own homes who are really unfit for their tasks. With bodies and nerves overstrained, they get through each day almost by will power alone. At night, worn out, despondent life holds little of pleasure for them.

fills out hollow cheeks and wasted forms; that restores strength and nerve power and brings back vitality. When weighed down by weakness and worry such women should begin at once the harmless home treatment of Wincarnis, the restorative. They should obtain from their druggist a bottle of Wincarnis. This strength creator and nerve tonic is so effective that only three tablespoonfuls a day are taken, which makes the cost only ten cents a day and amazing results are often obtained in from eight to twelve days, then weak, nervous women need worry no longer. When a Difficult Task Confronts You how you rely upon a healthy system to see you through! No matter what your occupation may be, you are constantly tapping your store of energy—you are bringing all your vitality into play. You need Grape-Nuts.

Grape-Nuts is made from wheat and malted barley. These fine grains contain an abundance of mineral matter to supply and store up energy and vigor—as well as valuable tissue-building and repairing elements. A process of long, slow baking breaks the food elements and turns them into soluble, more digestible form. And the roughage is there—the roughage your body needs to keep it clear of poisons. All the wheat is used in making Grape-Nuts.

Then, the flavor! Grape-Nuts is absolutely inimitable! Crisp—you like to chew it! Crunchy, wholesome, supremely delicious! It is economical, too. There are many helpings in each package. Only four teaspoonfuls are necessary to a serving. Serve with cream or milk. Eat it every day. Your grocer has it.

CITY HALL GOSSIP

How a school principal has cut an item for paper towels at his school to their right uses, and close supervision was told to the City School Board last evening by Principal J. M. Campbell, of North Ward School. This desirable economy was effected during the month of March.

A report was ordered by the School Board on a statement from the David Spencer Athletic Club, which rents the Craigdarroch tennis courts, that students from Victoria College had cut up the courts by playing Rugby football on them, and that as the club had left the courts in good condition, when they ceased playing last season, they should be put in good condition for the coming season. Municipal Inspector Deane said the laws were the only place the students had in the form of playing grounds, and the use by students should not be curtailed. Trustee Smith pointed out if the club was renting the land as courts, they should not be supplied with a Rugby field.

It was not without reluctance that the School Board agreed to accept an offer from the Margaret Jenkins Parent-Teacher Association to contribute $100 towards the cost of constructing concrete curbing in the school grounds. The trustees felt that more urgent work was needed at the school than curbing the flower plots in the grounds, but eventually the majority agreed that as the P.-T. Association was finding the money it should be expended as they desired.

Up to noon to-day no candidate for the Queen's State had been found among city employees. As the school board will not allow a teacher to be a candidate, the choice has been narrowed down, and an effort is being made to find a candidate among the city hall staff.

SAYS BURIAL PARK IS ECONOMICALLY ADVISABLE

Board, at Meeting To-day, Surprised to Find Critical Report

Members of the Greater Victoria Cemetery Board, which met this morning, had intended to consider a report in connection with the inaugural year, but it was not reached, and will be taken up at a meeting this evening.

They were much annoyed at a statement purporting to be a summary of the criticisms which had been published in the morning paper. Three statements therein contained a number of criticisms—the initial cost of development, the provision for the payment of the half-yearly sinking fund and the cost per plot.

Mayor Hayward, who was chairman of the board last year, and took the most active interest of any trustee in the Victoria Daily Times, Royal Oak Burial Park, points out that the cemetery experts who checked up the figures of H. S. Cowper, when he advised the original draft, estimated that it would cost seventy-five cents per square foot for the site, and the cost per plot. Some of the land would be sold at as low as twenty-five cents, no doubt, in the future, said His Worship, but the initial development, the new land in the centre of the plots ready for burial. Thus some of the best lots were sold around the edges, at a price of $40, plus some extras, as compared with lower prices at Ross Bay. However, at Royal Oak burial park, care was compulsory, and included in the first cost.

The sales had not been as rapid as would be expected in the future, the Mayor said, meanwhile the revenue from sale of plots is $350 a month, equal to care expenses. The cost had been kept around the debenture issue of $80,000, 11% Warrant, and, in fact, "we have tried to do a $100,000 job with $80,000."

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Metcalfe, chairman of the board, said there never was an estimate of cost, because it was impossible to estimate, but the opinion of experts had been that twice as much was required. The report only covered the period to the end of the year, in pointing out that the board had not taken care of the half-yearly fixed charges maturing July 1, about $2,500; but this had since been done. Mr. Watson stated, by the incoming board.

Both the late and the present chairmen deny any policy of maintaining the cemetery without looking to the future, and state that the board has economically administered the property, which is just what the city is to be revenue earning, with permanent roads and careful development.

Vancouver Chief of Police Discovers Victoria's Secret

The new chief of police of Vancouver is using his sleuthing ability to unearth the origin of Victoria's famous slogan "Follow the Birds and the Yankers." Chief of Police J. J. Watson, who is so much importance to his duties that they publish the story with a two-column headline. The paper is headed "Chief of Police Reveals How Victoria Slogan Started," and reads as follows:

"Years ago, when this chief was in high office in the city of Vancouver, he was in the park, the Parks Board of that period secured two swans from Victoria, the first to be placed in the area. Shortly after their arrival here, one of the swans disappeared and eventually was found at Victoria, to the capital. The chief thinks perhaps some Victoria citizen may have visited the park in any recent official from the board followed the swan to Victoria and brought it back, and that is how the capital city's slogan started."

The Victoria and Island Publication Bureau officials read the story with interest. They believe the swan that once lived in Victoria flew back to its home town, but as to the origin of the slogan, they are not sure. A famous Scotman, "they sing dumb."

TOURISTS CANNOT BRING PETS FROM SOUTH TO CANADA

No Other Irksome Restrictions to Trouble Visitors

Disease Menace Reason For Barring Animals

Strict regulations which prevent tourists from California to enter British Columbia with any animal, even a pet dog, have been subject to some criticism by those interested in the tourist trade, but information regarding the serious menace which the livestock industry in Southern California faces through the spread of the foot and mouth disease, offers justification for the stand taken by the Dominion Government and the provincial authorities to prohibit the transfer of animals from one country to another and State and Federal agencies are waging a fight with the disease in the hope of terminating it, according to information in the Hollywood news.

NO OTHER DIFFICULTIES

The restrictions against the bringing in of animals to Canada has led some California tourists to believe that there are other difficulties in the way of entering Canada. To eliminate this false impression the Victoria and Vancouver Island Publicity Bureau and Puget Sound and British Columbia Associated are conducting a strenuous campaign to point out that there are no irksome restrictions in crossing the border. Printed cards will also be distributed along coast auto camps to effectively contradict the rumors in circulation in the South that it is difficult for U. S. citizens to cross the border.

The restriction regarding animals are no more strict than those enforced in the southern States. In California a quarantine has been declared on cattle and the movement of all animals from one country to another. In order to rigidly enforce this measure hundreds of inspectors are needed and the willing compliance of every resident to its provisions is required. In California officials should provide the necessary funds to pay for the help that is needed now if millions of dollars of losses are to be saved the cattlemen and farmers.

In Los Angeles county all movements of livestock to job from premises, including dogs, cats and poultry, are prohibited except as hereinafter "provided."

All horses and mules and under saddle may be moved only by official permit. Official disinfection must be required when deemed necessary.

ARCHITECT SUES OVER PAYMENT FOR HIGH SCHOOL PLANS

Oak Bay School Board Faced With Civil Action and Claim of $5,400

Claiming the sum of $5,400, due for professional services, Charles Elwood Watkins filed writ in Supreme Court to-day against the Oak Bay Board of School Trustees. The claim is for the preparations of plans, drawings and specifications for the High School building projected in 1923.

The building was to have been built on Cranmore Road, Oak Bay, at a cost in the neighborhood of $125,000. The 1923 council refused to ratify the project and this action was supported by the 1924 council and school board.

In the Oak Bay school estimates for this year the item of $5,400 was included under the heading of architect's fees, but the council refused again to sanction the payment. Later council and school board contested the obligation and expressed the willingness to have a court ruling on the matter.

The opportunity comes now by way of suit by the architect of the discarded building project for payment. This morning the writ was the first stage in the creation of an issue.

FORMER VICTORIAN WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Paul H. Clyde, Formerly of Times Staff, Proves Brilliant Student

Paul H. Clyde, a former member of the Times editorial staff, has for the second year in succession won a scholarship valued at $750 at Leland Stanford University, California. This brilliant young Victorian in addition to winning last year's scholarship also took his M.A. degree, and this year is studying for his Ph.D.

Mr. Clyde was born in Victoria, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Clyde, who left last year for California on an extended visit. He was educated in the public schools and at the University of British Columbia, where he showed unusual promise as a student. For several years he was attached to The Times editorial staff prior to leaving for Leland Stanford University to continue his education. He is now on the faculty of that university as assistant professor of journalism, and is also writing for several of the San Francisco newspapers.

Local Council of Women Think Greater Victoria Juvenile Court Possible on $5,400

Proposing to cut down the initial expenditure for the juvenile court from $25,000 to $5,400, a report from the Local Council of Women, composed of Miss Crease, Mrs. Schofield, Mrs. J. D. Gordon and Miss Snider, waited on Mayor Hayward to-day and filed a new estimate with him.

This expenditure makes no provision for the building, it being assumed that the city would provide a building which has reverted at tax sale, in the case with the Children's Aid Home.

The amounts now set out are: Judge (part time) $600, probation officers (part time man and woman) $1,800, detention home $2,400 and clerical work $600.

The letter will be placed before the conference of municipalities, to be held to-morrow afternoon, at which this subject, and also that of Memorial Avenue maintenance, will be discussed.

EVENTS TO COME

Lodge Primrose No. 22 of the D. & M.O.E. will hold its regular meeting in the Harmony Hall on Friday evening, April 11 at 8 o'clock.

Under the auspices of the Garden City Women's Institute, a concert and entertainment will be held in the Marjorie Hall on Saturday, April 12 at 8 p.m. featuring physical drill and folk dances by the local pupils of Miss Gladys Thorpe. Victoria talent is also assisting. Reeve Macnicol will act as chairman.

A military 500 game will be held in St. Marks Hall, Bolakine Road, on Friday evening at 8:15. Ten prizes will be given and also a side of bacon and one ham as tomboles prizes. The proceeds go to purchasing votes for Victoria's Lake May Queen contestant.

Canadian All-Stars Show To Advantage

Despite Handicaps Tourists Play Splendid Game and Not Only Succeeded in Defeating Victorians But Convinced Fans That They Have Brainy Side That Knows Football; Biggest Crowd In Ten Years Watches Teams Perform

Three thousand spectators assembled at the Royal Athletic Park yesterday afternoon to put their microscopes on the personnel of the Canadian football team, and when the final whistle had sounded practically everyone was satisfied with the choice of the Dominion Football Association. The visitors not only succeeded in defeating the pick of Victoria by one goal to nil but proved that they know a whole lot about inside football and that there was a purpose in every move that they made.

The tactics of the Canadians were in marked contrast to the locals, who strove by hard, long and somewhat erratic kicking to break through. On the other hand the visitors tipped the ball from toe to toe, were always on the ball, and practically every long kick was accurately placed. They played with their heads as well as with their feet, and what stood out more prominently than anything else was their genuine conduct on the field. No cleaner-cut nor more promising side has yet been assembled in the history of football in Canada.

His Worship the Mayor, who kicked off at the football game after putting the pipkin on a sawdust tray and taking off his coat and hat, presided at the banquet with his coat on but his hat off. His remarks were very brief, but he wished the team every success on their tour.

Looking Things Over

In battling due for a slump in the majors? Will base running again become a prominent factor in winning ball games?

Are major league pitchers to regain some of their lost effectiveness with fewer new balls being put into play? These questions are raised by training reports from the south. The major league pitchers are a unit in believing that the new ball has caused most of the managers to opine that base running will again figure prominently in the game.

All of which makes it seem that batting is to suffer. For five or six years slugging has featured baseball. A comeback on the part of the pitchers would add a bit of variety to the sport unless it should be too pronounced.

Working with an old ball is a decided advantage to a majority of pitchers in the big show. The spitball pitcher, alone, prefers a brand new one. Take Stanley Coveleski, star of the Cleveland club, for instance. Often he has requested that a slightly marred ball that other pitchers would welcome be thrown out. Coveleski says that he is able to get a much better break on his spitter with a new ball. However, the spitball pitcher is the exception, and there are only a few left.

The thought is that any old ball that is not badly defaced, should be kept in play until the umpires believe its use is dangerous to the batsmen. Curve-ball pitchers suffered more through pitching legislation than any other class. It is much easier to throw a curve when pitching an old ball. The break of the curve largely depends upon the grip or purchase the pitcher is able to get on the ball.

A new ball is said new to a curve artist, since the smooth surface makes it a difficult matter for him to firmly grip the ball. In addition, the rule preventing a pitcher from using resin was also a direct slap at the curve-ball pitcher. Resin was used by the pitcher for the purpose of helping the grip. Pitching new balls, deprived of resin as well, has made the life of a curve-ball pitcher a tough one for several years.

The old ball is sure to help pitching, regardless of any other effect it may have on the game. There is only one danger. It may cause some of the twirlers to go back to the trick stuff, which is easily made possible when working with an old ball.

The baseball bug cares not who breaks the laws of the land, if he may cause some of the twirlers to go back to the trick stuff, which is easily made possible when working with an old ball.

Abie Goldstein, new bantamweight champion, is to take up law. We fear it would be too much to ask him to take up fighting.

At Jennings, who used to be a train robber, is now a politician. Thereby proving that reformation is not as easy as some folks think.

Having been bunched by the smart boys in Los Angeles, Tex. Rickard is expected to confine his future operations to the poor but honorable thug of the prize ring.

There are only eight spitball pitchers left. We may yet live to see the day when sporting writers quit using the phrase, "sativa slant."

A petition is being circulated to persuade the National Tax Rickard is expected to confine his future operations to the poor but honorable thug of the prize ring.

A cynic observes that wives should take to billiards, because there are six pockets.

Golf is sometimes foresome, but more often fearsome.

"Jimmy can now count ten" announced his mother proudly. "Good," said Jimmy's father. "We'll make him a boxing referee."

Mr. Lawrence Sperry goes to golf by plane. It's just the game to make you sore!

AT THE THEATRES

Show at Columbia Blazes New Trail in Western Drama

Are there still new trails to be blazed in the western photodrama? William S. Hart says there are. In an interview he states he believes there is a rich vein of western romance which has been untouched, a vein of glacial wealth which will open a virgin field of drama. He says:

"The popular conception of a western picture is one in which the chief element of thrill is hard riding, expert roping and flashing gun-play. These things all have their place, but there is a deeper wealth of drama that is less generally known. The cowboy of the ranges will always be popular, and rightly, for he was a romantic figure. But back beyond the ranges, in the mountains, there

Columbia—"Singer Jim McKee."
Royal—"Richardson, the Magician."
Dominion—"Scaramouche."
Playhouse—"Divorce."
Pantages—"Kiwani Minstrels."
Capitol—"Sporting Youth."

is another type of western, a type that lives to-day.

"It is this type that I want to bring to the public in my new picture, 'Sporting Youth.' I want to show that all the romance and drama of the old West has not passed.

Phyllis Haver and Gordon Russell have prominent roles in the supporting cast of this Paramount picture, which comes to the Columbia Theatre to-day. Clifford Smith directed.

"Scaramouche" is Unusual Feature Now at Dominion

Alice Terry, Lewis Stone and Ramon Navarro have appeared in the three leading roles of both "The Prisoner of Zenda" and "Scaramouche." Navarro has played in all of Ingram's pictures since "Zenda," which include "Trifling Women" and "Where the Pavement Ends." Miss Terry has appeared in all of Ingram's Metro productions except one—"Trifling Women."

And not only in leading players does the rule hold true. Actors like Edward Connelly, who plays in every Ingram picture, and John George, the little hunchback, are engaged again and again.

In this way the director knows just what each of his players is best fitted for, and consequently is enabled to bring out their best work to the great benefit of the picture.

Willis Goldbeck adapted "Scaramouche," now at the Dominion, for the screen, and John F. Seltz photographed it. Curt Reifeld was production manager, and Grant Whytock, editor.

"Divorce" Presents Interesting Problem at Playhouse

Flung upon the screen at a time when divorce is rampant, the photoplay "Divorce," which is now playing an engagement at the Playhouse Theatre, forms one of the most timely and telling documents ever filmed.

The looseness of the marriage tie, the lack of regard for the marriage obligation, has become a national disgrace and is a serious menace to society, famous editors and statesmen contend.

The danger of a great nation crumbling through the degeneracy of its moral fibre, even as did Rome and Babylon before it, constitutes the wider warning of "Divorce," in which the divorcee tragedy of a typical American family is pictured, and the magnetic John Howers to project the leading roles.

"Divorce" is not to be adjudged a prescient; its message is impressed on playgoers incidentally, with the high-lights of its drama at all times monopolizing their interest.

How wives can ward off the chilling spectre of the grim-evil that is to-day spreading like a virulent weed is graphically told in "Divorce."

"Sporting Youth" Has Thrilling Race at Capitol

Out of the scene sky that rests so gently above the Hollywood hills there comes a film that unfolds a burst of speed that betrays the talk that things are at a low ebb in pictureland.

So fast is its tempo that it lends the appearance of having been lit and again.

The picture referred to is "Sporting Youth," offered by Carl Laemmle, president of the Universal picture corporation, as a Universal Jewel production which opened at the Capitol Theatre.

Reginald Denny, who boxed his way to screen fame via the squared circle in Universal's "Leather Pushers" series, and "The Abyssal Trust," should increase his fan following by his performance in this picture. He is starred as a chauffeur who, mistaken for an English racing driver, becomes involved in all sorts of exciting adventures and is literally swept into a big road race.

Despite the fact that he is a raw amateur he determines to chance it, especially when a charming young miss, played by Laura La Plante, urges him on.

After all, there is no thrill comparable to automobile racing on a smooth, pine board track equal to the perilous death curves and suicidal banks of a road-race track. And this, possibly to a road race seems to be incorporated in this Denny vehicle.

The story was written by that famous writer of "The Roaring Road" series, Byron Morgan, and filmed under Harry A. Pollard's direction.

In the cast are Laura La Plante, whose work ranks with the star's, Hatim Cole, Leo White, Lucille Ward, Frederick Vroom, Henry Burrows, Malcolm Denny and others.

Richards Still Bewilders Crowds at Royal Theatre

Richards "the famous magician" amazed, bewildered and highly entertained a large crowd at the Royal Theatre last night with his greatest attraction of the nature that has ever been witnessed in Victoria.

Richards lived up to all his advance billings as he carried a gorgeous staged show. There is an abundance of comedy, as well as thrilling mystery and everyone who is able should seek Richards, before he closes his engagement here Saturday matinee and night.

CURED HIS RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. Friends did not see good. Finally I got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Tests have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a painter. There was no operation, no lost time, no trouble. I have nothing to tell, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation. If you write to me, I will send you a circular, 3212 Marcellus Avenue, Manhattan, N.Y. Better get this book and show it to any other who are ruptured—you may save a life or at least stop the misery of rupture and the worry and danger of an operation. (Adv.)

Willow Plate Orchestra Coming to Pantages Theatre

It was at the suggestion of Victor Herbert, composer of the music for Tony Sarg's new Willow Plate Production, that the orchestra was chosen entirely from women. There are two ways to find out the reason: one is to ask Mr. Herbert and the other is to hear this group of young women play his music.

Because of her understanding of music and her wide experience as an accompanist for vocal and instrumental artists, Miss Helen Crafts, pianist, became Musical Director of the new detachment in entertainment represented by Mr. Sarg's representation of the age-old legend of "The Chinese Willow Plate Story." Following consultation with both Mr. Herbert and Mr. Sarg, Miss Crafts surrounded herself with musicians who knew music and who could quickly master the intricacies of Oriental composition; for Mr. Herbert's music is written in five-beat time to match the Chinese conception of instrumentation.

All productions require much rehearsal, but the Chinese Willow Plate orchestra worked incessantly for more than six weeks in preparation for the initial production of the Sarg-Herbert play. That Mr. Herbert's judgment was right has been proved by the success of the orchestra, such phrases as "the lingering Oriental music" from the Boston Herald being typical of their commendation.

In addition to the universal appeal of music written by America's foremost composer and the spritely laments of the Chinese, the orchestra is specially chosen for that ability, there is also the charm of beautiful girls which is, perhaps, another reason for the success of the orchestra. The girls should be made up entirely of women. Besides having the ears and hearts of its audiences pleased by the music, Mr. Herbert has seen to it that the eyes shall be happily occupied as well.

The sale of seats for The Chinese Willow Plate Story opened at Pantages Theatre this morning at 10 o'clock for the matinee performance at 3 o'clock, and the evening performance at 8.15 on Saturday.

The BROCK Hat

THE WOLTHOUSEN HAT CORPORATION LIMITED

WANTS A CHAMPIONSHIP.—Nikolai Musson, youngest of Toronto's refugees, is gradually forgetting the hardships that have been crowded into his young life. The son of a Toronto engineer who married a Russian lady and was killed during the revolution, the lad was lost to his Toronto relatives in the land of the soviet until recently discovered by his grandmother and brought to Toronto. Nikolai is becoming a sports' enthusiast, and above he is shown preparing for the Dominion of Canada marble championship.

REVEALS GRAFT.—Garnet M. Hart, former Toronto bank clerk, who told the public accounts committee of the legislature that he was told by Alex. Ross that Deputy Treasurer C. A. Mathews had received a portion of the profit on the sale of succession duty free bonds to the Province negotiated by Hart.

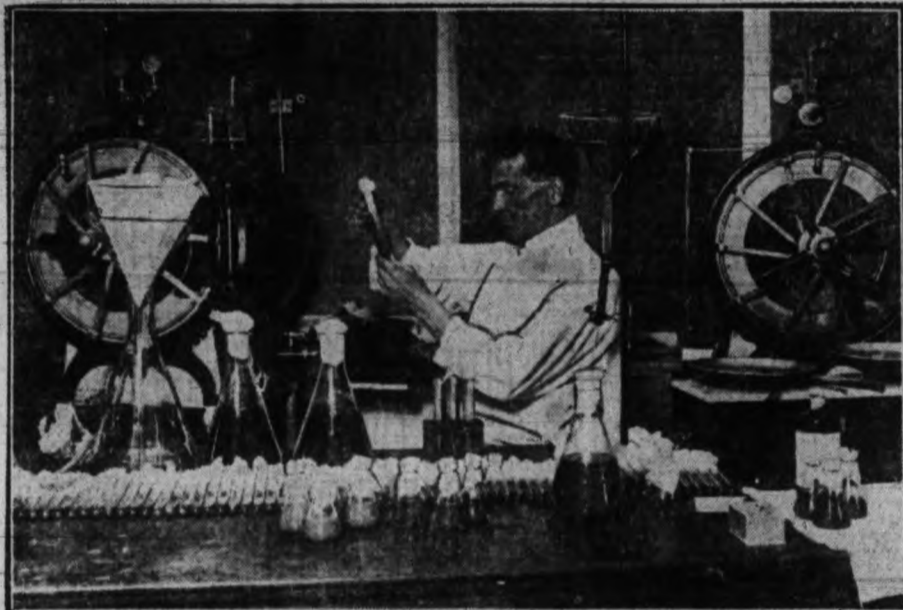

CIRCUS SEASON HERE AGAIN.—The traditional fear of the equine kingdom for elephants, as typified by the old circus cry: "Hold your horses, the elephants are coming," seems to be broken by this unusual trick performed by circus members.

TO AMAZON!—Dr. Hamilton A. Rice (top), explorer of Boston, will try to get to the headwaters of the Amazon River, Brazil, this Summer. He will take a party, fully equipped with radio. In the party will be among others, Walter Hinton (lower left), pilot of the NC-4, which crossed the Atlantic first by air, and John W. Swanson, radio expert.

PRINCESS IN MOVIES!—Princess Marie de Bourbon, first cousin to King Alfonso of Spain, will soon make her debut in movies on this continent.

COOKS FOR GERMS.—J. J. Bender, "chef" for one of the strangest assortments of "boarders" ever assembled in an eating place. He prepared the meals for trillions of the bacteria, used in the research laboratories of the United States public health service, in studying diseases. The finest steak, eggs, potatoes, gelatin, milk, various chemicals and other edibles are prepared into "soups" by him. The day the photo was taken he had prepared 6,000 tubes (some of which you can see on table and one of which he is examining) of germ food. It is estimated that each tube will satisfy the appetite of some 10,000,000,000 bacteria. Mr. Bender's little boarders seem to like their food and grow plump upon it.

RADIO FINDS MRS. COOLIDGE'S PET.—"Tige," the pet cat of Mrs. Calvin T. Coolidge, is back at the White House, Washington, in safety, after being lost for three days. Two giant radio stations broadcasted the news of the animal's disappearance, which resulted in its being found.

WORKS FOR TERCENTENARY.—Charles N. Candee, Toronto businessman, who is actively interested in the coming tercentenary celebration of the landing of the Huguenots in America in 1625.

SEEKS FATHER FOR CHILD.—Mrs. Christobel Russell, shown above with her three-year-old son, Geoffrey, has appealed to the House of Lords to establish the paternity of her child. She has been divorced by her husband the Honorable John Russell heir of Lord Amthell, who denies that he is the father of the child.

SOMETHING IS WRONG WITH OUR SCHOOL SYSTEM

AS THE DRAMA OF GOVERNMENT HIGH FINANCE WAS UNFOLDED.—A sketch made during the proceedings at the Ontario public accounts committee. It shows the crowded room with the chief members grouped around the central table listening to the testimony of G. T. Clarkson, one of the Home Bank liquidators, as he tells of the mystery check, which was made out, cashed in the regular way and then disappeared. Hon. W. H. Price is cross-examining the witness.

Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, April 10, 1924

STOCKS BAG WITH PROFOUND SELLING

(R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—There was continued pressure in the market today with the professional element once more active on the down side. The general run of the day's news items has the effect of stimulating the decline with the result that closing quotations for most of the active issues displayed rather substantial recessions from the final figures of last night.

The decrease of about 130,000 tons in unfilled tonnage for March of U.S. Steel Corporation was somewhat larger than the street had generally anticipated and accelerated the selling in the steel group.

The deferring of the dividend on Willis-Overland preferred and reports indicating a reduction of employment in Detroit had an unfavorable effect on the motor shares. The weekly oil figures showed a slight increase in production for the week and car loadings showed a falling off.

All of these factors served to encourage the activities of those believing in lower prices, and in the absence of substantial support prices melted away. The leadership in the market seems to be on the bear side and a big following has been attracted.

The crazing tendency of the general market is causing quite a little scattering liquidation and at the same time public support is being discouraged.

As yet no signs of substantial interests rendering support and until this makes its appearance in a forceful way bearish activities may meet with more success.

However, the extent of the decline and the size of the short interest to our way of thinking, warrant advising caution on pursuing bearish activities.

MOTORS AND STEELS SUBSTANTIALLY LOWER

(By B. A. Bond)—Another substantial decline occurred in motor and steel issues to-day. The publication of the steel tonnage figures showing a decrease of 130,000 tons for the month was the signal for bear pressure and as quotations came down it was quite apparent that support was very small and lacking in leadership. Stocks went down on comparatively small lots and the scarcity of buying orders discouraged those who might be watching for signs of even a moderate rally. The railroad list and some of the oils resisted the decline very well, but are under the shadow of the weak industrial market. American Can was a weak feature and arguments that it should not sell higher than U.S. Steel cannot have about disappeared as Can sold within a point of U.S. Steel to-day. Sugar stocks were generally weak.

There does not seem to be much hope of a standard rally in the market as long as the industrial list is concerned. When a rally does come no doubt the railroads will fare better than the industrial list, but it seems to be only gradual accumulation. Good Wall Street opinions continue to favor lower prices for stocks.

It was raining in Woodland where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow...

"Ho, hum! It won't be very pleasant to go out looking for adventures today," said the rabbit...

"You don't mean to say you are going out in the rain, are you?" cried Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy...

"You'll get all wet and catch cold in your pink nose and then it won't twinkle," spoke the muskrat...

"I'll take an umbrella—that will keep the rain from me," said Mr. Longears...

"Well, be sure you take the right umbrella," she called to the rabbit...

"The right umbrella?" he exclaimed. "Why, is there a wrong one in the rack?"

"Indeed, there is—one with a hole in one side," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy...

"That's the one with the hole in the top," said Uncle Wiggily...

OAKLANDS STILL AWAITS ACTION

Lack of Accommodation Again Subject of Deputation to School Board

J. H. Anderson, president and J. G. Johnston, member of the executive of the Oakland's Parent Teacher Association waited upon the city school board last evening in regard to the lack of accommodation at Oakland school, particularly for manual training and domestic science.
Mr. Johnston argued that the grounds were inadequate and for the May 22 sports the children had not room for training, he stated.
Trustee Smith said the city reverted lands committee had set aside several lots adjacent to the school for playground purposes, and a formal application should be made to the city for their transfer.
Trustee Brown believed a formal request should be made, and in fact he was under the impression such request had been forwarded already.
Trustee Beckwith, who was in the chair, indicated that the lots were between Ryan and Lonsdale Streets, and the board was unanimous in its desire to secure the property for the school.
The chairman then gave a formal undertaking to make a renewal of the application on Friday to the city reverted lands committee. Trustee Beckwith stated that the trustees intended to give more accommodation, and particularly an assembly room in the near future.
He made the last named remark when the deputation said there was no fit room for a meeting in the school of even such a body as the parent teacher association.

"Freddy, listen to me and I'll tell you the plain truth."
"I'm all ears, Peggy."
"That's just what I was going to say, only I was going to put it differently."

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily
Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable concern that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.
Simply get a ounce of Othine, double strength—from any drugist and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.
Be sure to use the drugist for the double strength Othine—as this strength is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles. (adv.)

DEFER ACTION TO INVESTIGATE WAYS TO CITY HIGH SCHOOL

Trustees Avoid Thorny Subject by Awaiting Further Information

In view of the fact that the introduction of fees into the City High School under the Brown motion would not be operative for some time in as far as it related to pupils under seventeen years of age, the board decided last evening to defer discussion until a committee has reported.
The committee had been instructed some time ago to investigate ways of reducing the cost of education, and as will be seen below, had made some progress.
Trustee Brown agreed to the withdrawal, after Trustee Beckwith stated that the inquiry by the finance committee was not direct, regular transportation would stimulate business to a very large extent.
Trustee Beckwith denied such an interpretation was correct, but only a postponement until the committee could report properly.
Trustee Litchfield reminded the board that on previous occasions there had been suggestions for economy from Trustee Brown which had not been adopted.
Trustee Peden pointed out that owing to the far reaching character of the motion, he would require more information. They were asked to go into a question the full effect of which it was impossible yet to know.
The board then adjourned in order to table the resolution until the committee reports.

EDUCATIONAL COSTS

The finance committee, in accordance with instructions of the board recently, reported that it was carefully investigating ways and means of reducing general educational costs, and submitted a progress report which said: "The practice obtaining in other cities of Canada in respect to levying fees on pupils has been studied, and is now being carefully studied by the committee. A report in this connection will be ready for submission to the board very shortly."
Trustee Beckwith stated that another meeting of the committee would be held next Monday.

CELEBRATES ITS SILVER JUBILEE

Fraternal Order of Eagles Make Merry at Reunion Banquet

In celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of its founding, past and present members of Aerie No. 12 Fraternal Order of Eagles, assembled at a jubilee banquet at the Eagles' Home on Hastings street last night. There were over 100 guests, and an excellent programme of entertainment was carried out.
The presentation of a silver came to Brother J. M. Hughes, who was the first president of the body when it was first founded here, and twenty-five years ago, was one of the chief incidents of the evening. Brother William Neil made the presentation, paying tribute to the ex-president in a manner in which he had conducted the affairs of the association during his term of office, and saying that much of the success of the society was due to his management and judgment.
Brother Hughes said in reply to the presentation speech that he would always regard the token of appreciation which the society had given him as one of his most prized possessions. He spoke of the fine progress made by the order throughout the world, and in Victoria in particular, ever since its inauguration in 1899 in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Broad Street, now occupied by the Salvation Army.
Brothers R. H. Pooley, M.P.P. and Frank R. Carlow, as well as other prominent citizens, gave short addresses during the evening, and several of those present rendered vocal selections, which were much enjoyed. Community singing was popular, and the entire company joined in rousing choruses.

Two Fires in Schools Occasion Some Discussion

Comment was made at the City School Board meeting last evening in connection with the fire at the Boys' Central School on April 8. The loss was $125, and was extinguished by the firemen who were drilling at the building.
Trustee Beckwith said the janitor declared that the wooden barrel under the stairs at the east side where the fire was traced, had been empty on the afternoon previous to the fire. It appeared to be somewhat mysterious in its cause, he added.
The building and grounds committee was asked to take steps with regard to the provisions of metal instead of wooden receptacles for rubbish in future.

A NEW CATHEDRAL

Prince Albert, April 10.—Preliminary to the elevation of St. Albans Church to the dignity of a cathedral for the northern portion of the diocese last evening, the rector, the Rev. Canon J. I. Strogg, the church wardens and the vestrymen tendered their resignation to the Bishop of Saskatchewan, and the congregation by unanimous resolution transferred the church, its assets and liabilities over to the synod in trust for the new corporation.

WANT PARK INKED TO CITY REGULARLY

Better Service to Mt. Douglas And Cordova Bay to be Urged

To endeavor to secure some service by the B.C. Electric Railway to Mount Douglas Park, a movement is on foot in Ward Three, Saanich.
With the jitney and other traffic on Shelbourne Street, which is the only direct and level route to the park, it is not expected the company could be induced to use that route, but the promoters think they could bring about service through Cedar Hill, and by some of the older roads, entering the park at Ash Road.
When the agitation at Cedar Hill was conducted to extend the present terminus of the Mount Talmie car line to Bay Road, down the hill, the B.C. Electric Company wanted certain guarantees from the Saanich Council in connection with passenger motor traffic on Shelbourne Street, but the response given did not encourage the company to proceed.
The district from Cedar Hill cross-road to the beach at Cordova Bay, close as it is to the city, is significantly isolated except for these motor cars, and yet it is the area most patronized by campers and picnic parties around Victoria. The promoters think that direct, regular transportation would stimulate business to a very large extent.
They have asked the city authorities to support the project, which has already been before members of the Saanich Council, in an individual capacity.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE TEACHING GROWS

Paper is Read Before School Board by Mrs. McNaughton

There are fifty-one teaching centres in British Columbia, and the Province is second in the Dominion, after twenty years' experience of domestic science instruction in this province. Mrs. P. McNaughton told the City School Board last evening, she read an interesting paper on the subject. This was a paper presented at the recent conference on domestic science, with special reference to the Victoria domestic science classes. Many valuable suggestions were offered in the statement, based on personal inspection.
A most cordial vote of thanks was adopted by the board.
She suggested that domestic science should be rated as a pass subject in the graded schools, and so encourage the girls.
Mrs. McNaughton spoke of the excellent qualifications of the teachers, and the enthusiasm of the instructors, as well as the general efficiency of the buildings. She praised the location of one or two of the schools, and deprecated the location of one class in a basement.
"Did you find any extravagance in your investigation?" asked Trustee Beckwith.
She replied that she was impressed with the economy of the teachers. She was satisfied there was no waste, nor was extravagance permitted.
She said the course was intensely practical, and such dishes were prepared as would be used in the average home.

pared as would be used in the average home.
Mrs. McNaughton remarked that the articles cooked were disposed of satisfactorily.
Answering Mr. Beckwith, Mrs. McNaughton remarked that she did not see warrant for criticism of instruction in articles made being unsuitable for the average household, as luxuries rather than necessities.
Trustee Litchfield pointed out that the domestic science and home economics class at the evening schools at the present time had been only thirteen enrollment, with an average attendance of eleven.
Trustee Litchfield observed that the introduction of a domestic science class in the High School would be of great advantage in the case of young women going into nursing and other professions.
