SAYS BRITAIN SHOULD MAKE ALL HER SHELLS

London, June 18.—That the European war may last from two to three years more is stated to-day by the Post in an editorial urging Minister of Munitions Lloyd George to encourage British manufacturers of war material by long-term contracts.

GERMANY'S FOOD PROBLEMS.

Berlin, June 18.—The federal court has declared void all contracts of wheat, rye, barley and oats and also crude sugar, so far as the contracts call for fulfillment after August 31. The order indicates that these commodities are to remain under the control of the empire until the end of the war.

APPLICATION FAILED.

Albany, N. Y., June 18.—The court of appeals denied the application of counsel for Charles Becker, the former New York police lieutenant, for a re-arrest on its decision affirming the sentence of death.

HOPING GREECE WILL NOT JOIN THE ALLIES

Cologne, June 18.—The Cologne Gazette to-day published a dispatch from Berlin concerning the outcome of the recent general elections in Greece, in which doubt is expressed as to whether M. Venizelos will be unconditionally in favor of armed intervention on the side of the allies even in case King Constantine should entrust him again with the conduct of affairs.

BERLIN'S VERSION OF BULGARIA'S DEMANDS

Alleged That Entente Powers Have Been Asked for More Information

MINISTERS WERE THANKED BY THE PRIME MINISTER

Berlin, June 18.—Information reaching Berlin from Sofia is that Bulgaria, in her last communication to the powers in the matter of her participation in the war, refers to her expectation that she will receive as part of her reward the territory she ceded to Roumania, and portions of Greek and Serbian Macedonia. Bulgaria is described as demanding precise details as to what she would be given, and the understanding here is that she is endeavoring to avoid a definite answer to the allies, thus leaving the way open for further negotiations.

Bulgaria's reply to the proposals of the entente powers is a request for further enlightenment. The prime minister personally visited the entente ministers and thanked them for the offers of their governments. He asked for clearer information on specific points so that Bulgaria may be able better to judge what will be her position and her relations with her neighbors at the end of the war.

BIG SUCCESS SOON AT DARDANELLES?

Way to Capital of Turkey May Be Opened by Allies Shortly

London, June 18.—The Austro-German forces in Galicia, it is alleged by the Germans, still are advancing on the schedule made up by General von Mackenzon. Vienna claims that part of the heavily-fortified Grodok region, where the Russians have concentrated, has fallen into the hands of the Teutonic forces. Petrograd does not admit the loss of any part of this district, but states that Russian forces have gathered there for the defence of Lemberg.

In a long review of recent operations on the eastern front the Russian war office admits frequent retirements before superior numbers, but declares that the Russian attacks left the Austrians and Germans so exhausted that their opponents often were able to resume the offensive.

The French still are on the offensive along a wide front, with the Vosges again figuring in the official communications after a period of comparative quiet. Two days of hard fighting has meant many small advances for the French, with the repulse of part of the German counter-attacks.

No definite news from the front at the Dardanelles has reached London, but a sudden drop in the Russian exchanges indicates that bankers either have received an intimation of an important success about to be achieved in that region or that for some other reason they now take an optimistic view regarding the prospects that the straits soon will be open to the allies.

SAYS GERMANY WILL COLLAPSE SHORTLY

Prince George, June 18.—Waldemar Heinsch, formerly a soap manufacturer of Copenhagen, Denmark, who is here, having left the Danish capital three weeks ago, states that the people of his country have no doubt whatever that Germany is beaten, and they expect it to collapse in a comparatively short time because of the present scarcity of food and the imminent shortage of ammunition. His country is shipping half a million dollars worth of butter alone to Berlin every week, he claims.

THE ISONZO FRONT

HOPES OBSTACLES WILL BE REMOVED

Shaughnessy Says War Office Wishes Canada to Have Full Share of Orders

London, June 18.—Sir Thomas Shaughnessy, interviewed to-night regarding the report that he has been appointed to a responsible position in connection with the purchase of munitions and shells for the war office, said that while it was true that he was discussing the possibility of taking up such an appointment for the war office, it was altogether premature to say that anything definite had been decided upon. In any event, should the appointment be confirmed, the Canadian Pacific railway would not be responsible for the purchase of ammunition or shells nor for the making of them.

"The purchase of munitions of war has not even been discussed between us," said Sir Thomas, "but other materials which make for the equipment of the soldier, and possibly foodstuffs, would be rightly within our province. It is expected that through the agency of the C. P. R., working arrangements will be established with certain committees who now are buying for the allies, as well as with certain firms at present engaged in placing orders in the United States. Our purchasing arrangements probably will involve some very large items of material, but it is impossible at this juncture to specify definitely what these will comprise. Canadian manufacturers are complaining that they are not receiving the share of war office business which they, as part of the empire, rightly are entitled to, and under the arrangements now being discussed I confidently hope that all obstacles will be removed.

"I would like to emphasize that it is the warmest wish of the war office that Canada shall get her full share of war orders, an amount equal to the country's capacity."

Upon the question as to whether this extension of business would necessitate a new loan in the immediate future, Sir Thomas said:

"I have not discussed Canadian Pacific finances at all, but we have sufficient money for requirements in sight and need no loan."

AUSTRIA-HUNGARY WOULD MAKE PEACE

Rome, June 18.—News has come from the Vatican, despite the reticence maintained there, that Austria-Hungary actually is seeking peace and is striving, through the medium of the pope, to provoke an offer of mediation which will be opportune when the Dardanelles have been forced and the intervention of the Balkan States is inevitable.

ONLY TEN WORDS IN OFFICIAL STATEMENT

Paris, June 18.—The report on the progress of hostilities issued by the French war office this afternoon consisted of ten words. It said there was nothing to add to the announcements given out last night.

WHAT TILLET SAID TO SIR JOHN FRENCH

Repeated What the Canadians Had Asked Him to Tell the Leader

London, June 18.—Ben Tillett, the labor leader, who recently visited the British front, tells this story of the Canadians:

"One very funny incident occurred when I met the Canadians. You know what a hard time they had at Hill No. 60. They were cheerful enough about it except for one thing.

"We knew what we were coming out to," they said, "but we didn't expect an evening party, but look here, Ben Tillett, five days in the trenches and a rainless rest is no good to us. We pinched a Dublin Fusilier's rum-ounce, but that was only a thimbleful. If these teetotalers of your at home and the staff don't understand the comfort of a drop of rum, send 'em out here and we'll show 'em."

"I told them I was going to lunch with Sir John French on the next day and that I'd tell him what they said.

"Yes, but tell him exactly what we said, Ben," they shouted. "Every word of it."

"I promised I would do so, and I did—I didn't spare the chief a single adjective. He lay back and laughed till the tears came.

"They really ought to have their rum," was all he said.

"One adjective used by the Canadians was 'bloody.'"

ISSUES THIRD PART OF HIS STATEMENT

Washington, June 18.—President Bryan, in the third and concluding section of his statement on "The Question of Peace," declared that "laying the mediation as the way out." As a preventative of war Mr. Bryan proposes universal extension of his investigation commission peace treaty plan.

"Mediation," the former secretary says, "is the means provided by international agreement through which the belligerent nations can be brought into conference; this for investigation of all disputes is the means by which future wars can be averted and the cultivation of international friendship is the means by which the desire for war can be rooted out."

Italians Soon Will Hold Gorizia; Forces Approaching Trieste

Rome, June 18.—Unofficial dispatches from Udine state that the Italians now are attacking the Austrian outposts near Trieste.

Geneva, June 18.—Occupation by the Italian forces of the Austrian city of Gorizia, the key to the city of Trieste, Austria's great seaport on the Adriatic, and the Istrian peninsula, is imminent, according to advices received here. The Austrian defences at Gorizia are being smashed by the Italian artillery and its fall is said to be near.

MEYER-GERHARD HAS DELIVERED MESSAGE

Called Yesterday on the Foreign Minister and the Colonial Secretary of Germany

HUNS ARE ENGAGING IN A NEWSPAPER WAR

Berlin, June 18.—The effect of the arrival of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, who has come from the German embassy at Washington with a message bearing upon the German-American situation, upon the preparatory work of Germany's answer to the American note, is not thus far perceptible. Count von Bernstorff's emissary began to-day the first of a series of important conferences with officials of the foreign office. He spent most of yesterday with the secretary of state for the colonies, Dr. W. S. Solf, at the latter's country place, following brief conversations with Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign minister, and Under-Secretary Zimmermann. That Dr. Meyer-Gerhard's first extended report on conditions in the United States should have been made to Dr. Solf is regarded as natural, in view of the official position of the colonial secretary, and there are other indications that Dr. Solf is taking an interest in the question of German-American relations and playing a role in the deliberations on Germany's second answer regarding the sinking of the Lusitania.

Of the men in higher government positions, Dr. Solf is one of those most familiar with life and conditions in the United States. He has, in fact, a good deal of the American in his manner of talk and action. His influence upon Germany's policy, concerning which it is evident that there are conflicting currents, may be expected to be favorable to an ultimate understanding.

It still is too early to predict what form the German note will take. Apparently an endeavor will be made to open the way for further discussions.

The newspaper war between adherents of the proposition of a friendly settlement and the "no compromise" representatives continues to rage. National writers, in particular, urge that Germany cannot afford to yield anything regarding the principles and practice of submarine warfare, but the very violence of their attacks upon the advocates of an understanding indicates that the latter are not without influence.

UNITY OF ACTION IN THE MEDITERRANEAN

Paris, June 18.—The ministry of marine gave out to-day an announcement reading:

"The Anglo-French naval forces in the Mediterranean now are co-operating with the Italian fleet, whose participation makes possible a more effective patrol of the Adriatic.

"Warships of the allies also are actively engaged in finding and destroying all deposits from which the enemy's submarines have been replenishing their supplies."

SMALL VESSEL WAS SUNK BY PIRATES

London, June 18.—The British steamer Ailsa, of Leith, was sunk by a German submarine to-day off the south-east coast of Scotland. The crew was saved.

The Ailsa was a steamer of 376 tons and was built in 1884. She was 90 feet long, had a beam of 31 feet and a draft of 15.3 feet.

BRITAIN NOW HAS 2,500 AEROPLANES

Has Five Hundred More Fighting Flying Machines Than Germany

FIFTY DIRIGIBLES READY FOR SERVICE

Factories in British Isles and States Have Been Busy During Past Months

London, June 18.—Sky battles on a scale the world never has dreamed of will lend a new thrill to the European war spectacle before many weeks.

Within the past six months aeroplane factories here and in the United States have been turning out scores of biplanes designed to give Britain supremacy in the skies.

Publication of this fact was not permitted until the formal announcement from the war office in the House of Commons on Wednesday. It was learned that the British air fleet now comprises 2,500 biplanes and monoplanes, and about 50 dirigibles, equipped with bomb-hurling devices.

To challenge Great Britain's superiority in the skies, German aeroplanes and dirigible factories have been working overtime since last September. Zeppelins have been turned out as rapidly as they could be manufactured at Friedrichshafen and other factories, but the German authorities, according to reports received, have placed less reliance on aeroplanes for battle purposes, and now have fewer than 2,000 to meet the British attacks in the air. Many of these are in use along the Russian battlefield for scouting purposes.

Great Britain's fleet of 2,500 aeroplanes and seaplanes was recruited partly for defensive and partly for offensive action. While part of the nation's air forces will continue to patrol the coast to meet German dirigibles, it is understood here that several flotillas shortly are to join the French, who have been making successful raids on German ammunition factories and chemical works and bases.

The commissioner of the London police, replying to demands for the total extinction of street fighting whenever warning is received of an impending airship attack, said that this suggestion had been rejected by the admiralty in the early stages of the war on the ground that it would be fraught with the most serious consequences and possibly would bring about more casualties than would be caused by airships.

In the event of fire breaking out, the fire brigades would not be able to reach their destination," he said. "The traffic actually in the street would be impeded dangerously; ambulance and police movements would be hampered and all the elements of panic would be introduced."

Two hundred and twenty-one persons, mainly non-combatants, have been killed, and many more mortally hurt in air raids at various points during the past four days.

A dispatch from Amsterdam last night stated that twenty-two persons had been killed and seventy-three injured in the great raid made by French aviators on Karlsruhe, capital of the Duchy of Baden, Germany, on Tuesday. A telegram from Paris said that five persons had been killed at Nancy by bombs from German aeroplanes.

The British admiralty admitted on Wednesday night that sixteen persons had been killed in the Zeppelin raid over the northeastern coast of England this week. The loss of life, if any, in German air raids on Belfort and St. Die is not known.

The following Paris dispatch gives the details of the raid over Nancy:

"Six German aeroplanes took part, advancing in pairs. The French gun-fire drove off four of the machines, but two persisted in the attack. One bomb cut open the skull of Mme. Caquet and killed her daughter while they were seated in a hairdressing parlor. A painter was killed while at work. Of all the victims only one was a soldier."

REPLIES TO WILSON'S STATEMENT ON MEXICO

Washington, June 18.—Francis Lagos, secretary of the United States for the Villa-Zapata coalition government in Mexico, to-day replied to President Wilson's Mexican statement by challenging the declaration with his much-discussed Indianapolis speech. President Wilson's statement served notice on the fractional leaders that if they could not accommodate their differences, the United States, as Mexico's next friend, would be constrained to help Mexico save herself and serve her people.

Chazaro says the convention government cannot reconcile that with the president's declaration in Indianapolis that he had no disposition to interfere in Mexican affairs.

PETROGRAD REVIEWS RECENT OPERATIONS

Comprehensive Statement on Developments in Galicia Issued To-day

ENORMOUS LOSSES SUFFERED BY ENEMY

Attention Called to the False Reports Given Out by the Germans

Petrograd, June 18.—An official review of some of the recent occurrences along the Austrian battlefield, which, among other things calls attention to the fact that the progress of the Austro-German forces in Galicia has been greatly bought, was given out in Petrograd to-day. It reads:

"The development of the battle along the Tismenitz-Svika front, along which one of the six armies attacking our forces in Galicia is operating, will serve to give some idea of the magnitude of the actions in this region.

"The significance of the operations in the vicinity of Stry is found in the fact that they were an endeavor to turn our front opposed to the phalanx under General von Mackenzon. The eventual success of the enemy in the direction of Stry and Lemberg would have been of great help to the offensive of General von Mackenzon. Failure on the other hand would have meant that General von Mackenzon's operations were merely a series of fruitless frontal attacks.

"The sector on the Dniester river, referred to above, however, was not the scene of the principal fighting even with regard to the numbers of troops engaged. On May 15 the enemy, closely following our troops retiring from the Carpathians, met our opposition in the region to the east of Drohobycz, north-west of Stry, and in the vicinity of Belachow. On the 19th the enemy brought all his forces into action, but at the end of two days he was compelled to drop this offensive, having lost tens of thousands of men.

"His only success in eight days' fighting was his turning of our right wing near Stonsko, with the threat of a possible outflanking movement. During this week we remained passive, confining our operations to exterminating the enemy as he approached our trenches. The next four days were devoted by the enemy to bringing together heavy artillery and supporting detachments.

"May 25 saw the beginning of the decisive attacks, and the crisis came on the fifth day of the fighting. A powerful force, composed of three German divisions, succeeded, at the price of incredible sacrifices, in carrying Stry. Perceiving the exhaustion of the Austrians attacking—they constituted the right wing of the opposing army—we took the offensive and drove them back.

"For three days, May 30 and 31 and June 1, we were undecided whether to attempt to turn the Germans, who had broken through our front near Stry, or to fall back on the Dniester river. The general situation in Galicia finally caused us to adopt the latter course. On the night of June 2 the enemy demonstrated against our bridgeheads in the direction of Mikalajow, losing several thousand men.

"The principal attack was delivered by the army under General von Bothmer at a point more to the east. The attack against Zidaczow was repulsed but on the night of June 6 General von Bothmer crossed the river Dniester

WILL BE TRIED ON CHARGE OF PERJURY

G. Stahl, German Reservist, Swore He Had Seen Guns on Lusitania

New York, June 18.—Gustav Stahl, the German reservist who swore in an affidavit submitted to the state department by the German embassy that he had seen guns on the Lusitania, was indicted to-day by a federal grand jury.

The alleged perjury was committed, it is said, not when he made the affidavit, but when he swore to the effect before the grand jury in its inquiry regarding Paul Koenig, head of the secret service department of the Hamburg-American Line, and others to determine whether they should be indicted for conspiracy against the United States. It is alleged that Koenig was instrumental in procuring the Stahl affidavit.

Stahl now is in the Tombs, where he was taken in default of $10,000 bail after his arrest on leaving the grand jury room on June 15. The jury will continue its investigation on Monday.

TRYING TO ORGANIZE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Committee Met at Philadelphia Yesterday; Proposals for Preservation of Peace

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—That some modifications may be made in the proposed plans for a league of nations which will put forth efforts to prevent war was made evident yesterday when members of the National Provisional committee began discussions with a view to obtaining the support of public opinion and of governments in the formation of such a body. All those who addressed the conference gave hearty support to the general objects of the league.

Former President Taft was selected as chairman of the conference. A committee on resolutions will present a declaration of principles and also select a name for the organization. After set speeches had been made by Theodore Marburg, of Baltimore, former minister to Belgium, Professor John Bates Clark, of Columbia university, and Edward A. Flynn, of Boston, all of whom gave strong endorsement to the proposed league of peace, the conference received resolutions to be acted upon by the committee on resolutions.

Mr. Filene, in his address, advocated a modification in the scheme of the league so that economic pressure can be brought to bear on nations that are intent on going to war before the league has used its full power to prevent hostilities.

William Dudley Foulke, of Indiana, offered to the first article of the proposed league an amendment which, in effect, would leave to the nations of the greater the option of placing in the greater they sign the specifications they declare shall be justifiable or non-justifiable.

Victor C. Berger, of Wisconsin, proposed an amendment that when two nations go to war after the league has exhausted its powers, the non-belligerent nations in the league shall be prohibited from furnishing arms or ammunition to the combatants, but that there shall be no interference with food supplies.

ITALIANS CONTINUE TO MOVE FORWARD

Official Report Issued at Rome; Fleet Sailed From Taranto

Rome, June 18.—The following official statement was issued last night: "There have been a number of small and advantageous engagements, marking the gradual progress of our advance in the Tyrol and in the Trentino. "At Seugnorio we repulsed an enemy detachment advancing from Rovereto.

"In the valley of Costeana we occupied Sasso d'Istria and Albrego di Falzarego, where the enemy left thirty prisoners in our hands.

"During a concentrated artillery duel in Carnia our gunners dismounted several Austrian pieces, and scattered working parties engaged in strengthening defences and a column of men and cattle on the march.

"Although a strong wind interfered with our observations, we were able to see the destruction wrought by our fire on Marborgeth and Cortina, where several works and several small battery positions were damaged seriously.

"Later news throws into high relief the daring nature of the undertaking accomplished at dawn on the 16th in the Monte Nero zone. In the face of a most difficult terrain, advancing against commanding positions under a fierce bombardment, we have taken thus far 600 prisoners, including thirty officers, a large number of rifles, and two machine guns.

"A Hungarian battalion coming from Planinapofje, to the northwest of Monte Nero, made violent attacks on our positions at Zakraf, but was repulsed by a counter-attack and annihilated.

"On the Isonzo our offensive has proceeded in a methodical manner. Troops debouching from Plava conquered surrounding heights after a bloody action, and consolidated their positions, resisting repeated, stubborn counter-attacks of the enemy. On the rest of the front down the stream there have been long-range artillery exchanges. The railroad station at Gorizia was partly demolished and several cars were set afire."

Rome, June 18.—The Italian fleet sailed under sealed orders late Tuesday night from Taranto, at the south-east end of Italy.

Before the fleet steamed into the Adriatic a religious service was held in the ancient cathedral of St. Catharine.

Udine, Italy, June 18.—Italian outposts have arrived in sight of Trieste.

Vienna, June 18.—The following official statement was issued last night: "On the Isonzo front our troops have repulsed several attacks with heavy losses to the enemy near Plava. In the rocky district spirited fighting is proceeding. Nothing of importance has occurred on the Carinthian frontier. In Tyrol attacks by the enemy have been repulsed."

WILL MEET WHEN PEACE IS BEING DISCUSSED

Paris, June 18.—The confederation General Du Travail, the central labor organization of France, has approved a proposal from the American Federation of Labor for a conference of labor representatives of the world to be held at the same time and at the same place as the peace conference. "The purpose of the labor conference will be to facilitate the maintenance of permanent peace on this basis: First, the suppression of secret treaties; second, absolute respect for nationalities; third, the immediate limitation and the eventual suppression of armaments, and fourth, obligatory arbitration.

MANY CANADIANS ARE OFFERING THEMSELVES

Ottawa, June 18.—It is estimated that from 115,000 to 140,000 men already have been recruited for service with the Canadian forces. These include the men who have been sent to the front, the men in England and those now being organized in Canada. It is intended to increase the total to about 157,000 men, and no trouble whatever is being experienced in finding the recruits for the 35 new regiments authorized recently.

ENORMOUS LOSSES.

Paris, June 18.—The military expert of The Matin estimates the total casualties and losses in prisoners of the Teutonic allies at 4,725,000 men. The French general staff computes the German losses alone at 3,290,000 up to March 31.

According to The Matin's war expert, the German losses in killed, wounded and prisoners are 4,200,000 out of 8,500,000 men called to the colors, and Austria's losses are 2,500,000 out of 4,500,000 men called to the colors.

SENT TO BOTTOM

Copenhagen, June 18.—According to the newspapers here, the German auxiliary cruiser Meteor has sunk the Norwegian lumber ship Graman at a point fifteen miles south of Christian-sand. The Meteor is the cruiser which captured the Swedish steamship Torsten on Wednesday morning off the island of Vinga and towed her southward, and shelled the Swedish steamship Verdandi after she had been torpedoed by a submarine. The crews of all three of these ships were taken on board the Meteor and later landed at a Swedish port by a torpedo boat.

Kidney Disease Cured

Sworn Statement

Of Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Who Gratefully Gives All Credit to Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills

It is one thing to make big claims for a medicine and quite another thing to produce irrefutable evidence that it actually cures in serious cases. We prefer to let the cured ones speak for themselves, and that is why you find in almost every newspaper the names of someone who has been cured by the use of Dr. Chase's medicine. To-day we present the sworn statement of Mr. Wesley Maxwell.

When a man goes to this trouble in expressing his gratitude there can be no question of the benefit he has received. Mr. Wesley Maxwell, Orangeville, Ont., writes: "I have been using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and I must tell you that before I started using them I could only make water with the greatest difficulty, and had very severe pains in the back. I am completely cured now by the use of these pills. Before that I used a lot of doctors' medicine without any benefit that I could see. I am thankful for being cured, and can recommend Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills very highly."

SWORN STATEMENT. "This is to certify that I, Wesley Maxwell, of the Township of Caledon, was cured of kidney trouble by taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills."

(Sworn before me as correct this 6th day of January, 1915.—Wm. Haggart, Notary Public for the Province of Ontario.)

This statement is also endorsed by the Rev. Geo. W. Robinson, who is Mr. Maxwell's pastor. "This cure will interest a great many people who are suffering as Mr. Maxwell was with kidney and urinary troubles. It will only cost you a quarter to buy a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and put this medicine to the test. We are sure that you will be thankful to the writer for describing his cure to you. For sale at all dealers, or Edmondson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

FINANCE MINISTER ISSUES STATEMENT
Hon. W. T. White Deals With Effect of Huge Purchases in the States

Ottawa, June 18.—Hon. W. T. White, minister of finance, has given out a long statement yesterday respecting the purchase of munitions and supplies of war in the United States by Great Britain. He says in part that this matter is bound up intimately with the question of international exchange and international banking.

Before the outbreak of the war, exchange practically had been normal between New York, the exchange centre of America, and London, the exchange centre of Europe. When Canada borrowed in the London market the funds had been brought out, not in gold, but in exchange operations between London and New York, and between New York and Montreal or Toronto. International trade between the several countries in Europe and America with certain other factors, had produced such stability of exchange rates that only small amounts of gold were required to be exported from any country from time to time to liquidate the balance of its indebtedness.

This favorable condition had been wholly changed by the war. Exchange had been quite unfavorable to the belligerent countries. The equivalent of a pound sterling in American currency in New York was worth more to a Canadian or an American than a pound sterling in London. Canadians or Americans selling exchanges on London made substantial losses on each transaction.

The reason was that the "balance of trade" had changed so greatly in favor of the United States. She was selling to Europe in food supplies, munitions of war and other exports so much more than she was buying that the question of settling the international balance had become of extreme importance. The nations of Europe could continue to purchase in the United States more than they sold to her only by exporting the gold to settle the balance of trade against them, by establishing credits with New York or other American bankers, or by the sale in America of their securities.

Great Britain had been easing her unfavorable exchange situation by sending gold to New York. Her allies had been establishing credits with New York bankers and selling short date securities to New York financiers in order to furnish the money to pay for supplies and munitions. Unless such credits were established or such securities sold in the United States, supplies and munitions could not be paid for except in gold, and no European country could afford to export the vast amount of gold required, as the aggregate would amount to hundreds of millions.

"Applying these principles," Mr. White says, "it will be clearly seen why Canada is at present at a disadvantage in obtaining orders on a vast scale from Great Britain's allies. Exchange is such between New York (which is our exchange centre) and London and other European monetary centres that the allies can purchase only by establishing credits or selling securities in America to the amount necessary to liquidate the unfavorable balance against them in their trade with America. Add to this the fact that exchange also is decidedly against Canada as between us and New York."

"One reason for this is that whereas formerly our borrowings in London were adequate upon our British indemnities (amounting to some $140,000,000 a year) we now must pay part of this amount, either in commodities or in exchange to the United States, because of Great Britain's unfavorable trade balance with the United States. In other words, we pay the United States what we owe Great Britain, and in this way liquidate pro tanto Great Britain's indemnities to the United States. The result is that exchange with the United States is unfavorable to us. As a result of the unfavorable result of war and of the huge purchases of food products, supplies and munitions by Europe from the United States."

NO SIGNALS GIVEN.
London, June 18.—A Rotterdam dispatch which deals with the raid made by French aviators on Karlsruhe, capital of the Duchy of Baden, says: "The people are ignorant of the utter failure of the anti-aircraft measures. They complain that no signals of the approach of the French aviators were given."

RUSSIAN SUCCESS ON THE DNIESTER
More Than 8,700 Soldiers, Six Guns and Twenty-One Machine Guns Captured

Petrograd, June 18.—A notable success was scored by the Russians on the Dniester above Zurawno on June 14 and 15, which resulted in the capture of 8,544 men, 202 officers, six guns, twenty-one machine guns, caissons and other booty, according to the official statement issued at the war office last night. Austro-German forces also are reported to have been hurled back on the same front further to the south-east, while another force, which crossed the Dniester above Nizniow, was destroyed.

The communication follows:
"In the Shavil region and west of the middle Niemen there has been no essential change. The engagements continue."
"On the Narew front there were no engagements during the day."
"On the Bura, above Sochaczew, we repulsed on the 15th attacks by small German forces. The battle continues."
"On the Dniester front, on the night of the 16th, in the sector between the Tlamienniza and the Stry rivers the enemy was thrown back in disorder."
"Our notable captures on the Dniester above Zurawno in the course of the 14th and 15th included 292 officers and 8,544 men, six guns, twenty-one machine guns, caissons and other booty."
"On the 15th the enemy crossed the Dniester above and below Nizniow. The forces which crossed above were destroyed, and those which crossed below were checked. The fighting continues."

Vienna, June 18.—The following official statement was issued by the Austrian war office last night:
"The Russians nowhere have been able to offer resistance to our forces. In middle Galicia, protected by strong rear guards, they continue to retreat on the entire front to the northeast, and east, hotly pursued by the allied armies."
"North of Sienlawa our troops advanced across Cieplice and Cewkow and repulsed strong Russian forces and drove them across the imperial frontier, inflicting severe losses."
"To the eastward the allies reached Lubaczow and captured Niemierow after heavy fighting, and now are advancing towards Jaworow."
"On the Lemberg road, during the evening, we repulsed strong Russian rear guards near Wolczyuch on the Wereszyca, and at midnight stormed the west part of Grodek. South of Grodek the west bank of the Wereszyca has been cleared of the enemy."
"South of the Dniester the situation generally is unchanged."

FELL 500 FEET.
Paris, June 18.—According to a report received in Paris, the accident which caused the death of Flight Sub-Lieut. Warnford, the brilliant aviator who blew a zeppelin to pieces over Belgium, and his passenger, Henry Beach Needham, an American writer, resulted from an explosion in mid-air, which caused Lieut. Warnford to lose control of the machine. The aeroplane fell from a height of 500 feet.

CHARGES DENIED.
Washington, June 18.—At the state department yesterday a telegram was received from the German embassy at Cedarhurst, signed by the charge d'affaires, making a general denial of the published charges that Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, for whom the state department obtained a safe-conduct back to Germany from the allies, was in reality Dr. Alfred Meyer, a high German official, and that he was secretly in the United States buying war supplies.

NEW THEORY AS TO CAUSE OF EXPLOSION
Nanaimo, June 18.—The inquest on the victims of the mine explosion was continued yesterday afternoon before Coroner Jeffs, in the nature of the proceedings being the advance of a new theory by James Ashworth, M.E., representative of the provincial government, as to the cause of the explosion. The theory advanced by Mr. Ashworth is that the explosion originated in the entrance of No. 1 level off the slope in the vicinity of the spot where the body of Fred Crew was found, being caused by the explosion of a detonating cap which either was set off by Crew when in the act of making a charge or was exploded by a fall of rock from the roof.

J. G. S. Hudson, representing the Dominion mines department, did not agree with the theory advanced by Mr. Ashworth. The direction of the forces showed something very unusual on the face at No. 5 cross-cut, at the head of the very heading, some 200 feet from and thirty-seven tons of coal were displaced at that point. Suter's lamp was in a dangerous condition when found after the explosion, and he suggested that this had caused the ignition. There was nothing to suggest a sudden outburst at the point mentioned by Mr. Ashworth. Dust was not a factor in this explosion. It was purely a gas explosion, and he believed it had its inception in the west counter-heading off No. 5 cross-cut.

"It's a woman's lot to suffer in silence. 'I should put it differently.' 'How, pray?' 'A silent woman suffers a lot!'"

PROGRESS WAS MADE AT SEVERAL POINTS
French Official Report Tells of Violent Fighting to North of Arras

Paris, June 18.—The official communication issued by the war office last night describes intense activity along the French front, the allied forces delivering powerful attacks and the German counter-attacks furiously. To the north of Arras the French have carried several lines of German trenches and are making marked progress towards Souchez. Heavy losses on both sides are reported.

The text follows:
"There has been great activity on the front during the last two days. The fighting to the north of Arras since yesterday has taken on a character of extreme intensity. The infantry action has been numerous and desperate, the duels of artillery violent and continuous."
"We have realized important progress, almost all of which has been maintained, notwithstanding the furious counter-attacks of the enemy, some of which were markedly accentuated yesterday."

"It is especially in the north part of the sector that we have progressed, carrying several lines of trenches on both sides of the road from Aix-Noullet to Souchez. The Germans still are holding on in the Fond de Buval, but they are almost completely surrounded."
"We made advances the last two days toward Souchez (in the directions northwest, southwest, west and east, in uninterrupted fashion."
"Further to the south we have taken footholds in the park of the Chateau de Carleul, the moats of which, filled with water, served as a base for the enemy's defences; captured the cemetery of Souchez, and gained ground on the slopes to the southeast of Souchez (Hill 119)."

"To the north, to the east and to the south of Neuville we took by assault to-day the enemy's first line, and at certain points the second line. The units engaged fought at the point of the bayonet and with grenades under a violent artillery fire."
"Our infantry, after having attacked with great spirit, very efficaciously supported by a fire of nearly 300,000 shells, repulsed during the night of Wednesday-Thursday violent and repeated counter-attacks along the entire front."
"We have evacuated only a small wood conquered yesterday morning to the south of Hill 119, which the enemy's artillery fire rendered untenable. The Germans brought into the engagement eleven divisions, which suffered extremely heavy losses. The morale of our troops is perfect. The number of prisoners taken by us exceeds six hundred, including more than twenty officers."

"Our air squadrons have bombarded the enemy's reserves at Givenchy and in the forest of La Folie, effectively, and dispersed contingents in the act of taking up their formations."
"At Rheims more than eighty German projectiles fell. Several of these, which were of incendiary type, have fallen on the town, and more particularly on the cathedral."
"In Alsace our success continues. We have taken Altenpof (Althof) a suburb of Metzler, then Steinbruck, and are continuing our progress on both banks of the river Fecht. The Germans are setting fire to Metzler."
"The number of prisoners who have fallen into our hands has reached 500, of whom ten are officers, and twenty-eight non-commissioned officers."

Havre, June 18.—The Belgian war office has made public the following official statement:
"During the night of June 14-15 we pushed forward a reconnaissance as far as the country house situated at the 19th milestone on the Dinant-Women road. This reconnaissance obtained a footing on the western fringe of the park belonging to the house, in trenches which the enemy had abandoned precipitately during the day's artillery duels."
"There have been violent bombardments at Ramschapelle, Pervyse, Noord-schoote and Reninghe and environs."

The White Certificate of Absolute Purity.

The French Government adopts a very sensible attitude towards Brandy. It does not exact that no spirit shall be produced that is not composed entirely of wine—but it does exact that no spirit shall be sold by distillers under a false name.
Every barrel of wine must be registered before being distilled. Thus, a distiller can sell only as much spirit as he registers.
To enforce this law, the Excise Office issues two separate certificates
—the WHITE Certificate of absolute purity
—the red certificate of doubtful quality.
Every barrel of pure Brandy receives a white certificate proving it a pure distillate of wine only.
Every barrel of HENNESSY BRANDY receives the white certificate of absolute purity, and always has.
This fact constitutes an absolute guarantee to the Canadian consumer, as all Brandy bearing the Hennessy Label is bottled, corked, capsuled, labelled and packed in Cognac, France and shipped from there to Canada. You get the true spirit of the grape when you order

BIG EVENTS IMMINENT?

We seem to be on the eve of big events on the western front. Both British and French, taking advantage of Germany's desperate efforts from the Balkans to the Carpathians, have begun an offensive movement of the most determined character with successes which have been admitted by the Berlin bulletin. This is particularly true of the French advance north of Arras after fighting described by Paris as being of "extreme intensity."

It was the British infantrymen that won the field of Waterloo, just as the descendants of many of them last August, with the same unconquerable resolution, saved the allied armies from envelopment and destruction within cannon range of that classic battleground. They were the backbone of a heterogeneous force composed also of Hanoverians, Brunswickers and Dutch-Belgians; they were mostly young troops, many of them militiamen, in their militia uniforms, but they were true to the breed, for they held their ground for seven hours in the face of onslaughts which for concentrated fury never had been equalled on the battlefield.

At the same time the British are detaining a large German army between Ypres and La Bassée by attacking at several important points. In a day or two we probably will hear of French attacks at different sectors along the Oise and Aisne, in the Champagne and Argonne, while the Belgians probably will strike again between Nieuport and the sea. Thus Germany will be unable to transfer reinforcements in any large numbers from one part of her long line to the other, and if the allies' threat is formidable enough she must either draw upon her resources at home or weaken the armies now engaged against Russia.

DODGED THE INQUIRY.

"What does the local Liberal paper mean when it says that Sir Richard McBride did not feel safe while the Committee on Public Accounts was in session at Ottawa? That paper dare not make anything resembling a specific allegation of any wrongdoing on his part. It contents itself with miserable innuendoes."—Colonist.

Sir Richard McBride was afraid to appear before the public accounts committee at Ottawa for examination on the purchase of the submarines. He spent only a few hours in the federal capital while parliament was in session and before the committee had reached the subject of the submarines. From Ottawa he went to Montreal and from Montreal to New York. He was in New York when the Auditor-General gave such testimony relative to the financial aspects of the deal that most public men in Sir Richard's place would have returned to Ottawa to clear the matter up. It takes but twelve hours to make the trip between the two cities and we all know that the Premier had plenty of time on his hands. He had time enough to go to Europe and loiter around there for six weeks. Besides, during the discussion of the subject in the legislature he declared that he courted the fullest inquiry. He even sent telegrams, copies of which we have published, to Sir Robert Borden demanding an inquiry. But when he had an opportunity to back up his bold words in an examination under oath he slipped off to London. The inquiry at Ottawa had to do with the expenditure of public money and it was his duty as the author of the transaction to furnish the fullest information to the committee.

THE CENTENARY OF WATERLOO.

This is the centenary of the battle of Waterloo. One hundred years ago to-day Belgium, as now, the cockpit of Europe, shook with the roar of artillery, heard the shrieks and groans of the dying, saw little villages licked up by the flames, and beheld the irretrievable ruin of the mightiest conqueror that ever came to earth, the man who, contemptuous of her weakness, had made her a pawn in his stupendous and almost successful bid for world domination. It was a far cry from the bridge of Lodi to the slopes of St. Jean, and between them interposed a series of wonderful military campaigns whose successful outcome had debauched the mind of the victor. The youthful general who in the name of liberty, fraternity and equality liberated Italy from the yoke of the hated Austrian was a different man from the swollen, megalomaniacal emperor who tried to convert the fruits of his conquests into a private estate and whose dynastic dreams were shattered forever against the unflinching British squares.

It was the British infantrymen that won the field of Waterloo, just as the descendants of many of them last August, with the same unconquerable resolution, saved the allied armies from envelopment and destruction within cannon range of that classic battleground. They were the backbone of a heterogeneous force composed also of Hanoverians, Brunswickers and Dutch-Belgians; they were mostly young troops, many of them militiamen, in their militia uniforms, but they were true to the breed, for they held their ground for seven hours in the face of onslaughts which for concentrated fury never had been equalled on the battlefield. Eleven months ago from Mons and Charleroi to Cambrai and Le Cateau, and Cambria and Le Cateau, the Marne, that test again was imposed upon a British army, whose conduct in the most difficult of all kinds of fighting proved that the years which had intervened had not diminished the devotion, steadiness and courage of the British soldier.

What is known as the campaign of Waterloo fell into four stages, of which the first was the attempt of Blucher and Wellington to form a junction on June 16. This was checked by Napoleon, although his victory over Blucher at Ligny was not decisive, while Ney could make no headway against Wellington at Quatre Bras. The second stage, the battle proper, began in front of the slopes of St. Jean shortly before noon on the 18th in the shape of a desperate but unsuccessful attempt by Napoleon to capture the advanced British post of Hougomont. The third stage, from four o'clock to six, was characterized by a series of fierce attacks by massed artillery and cavalry against the British centre, with the capture of La Haye Sainte, a key position. These attacks broke, like waves, upon the solid British squares, and by six o'clock the Prussians under Bulow were attacking the French on the right flank and threatening their line of retreat. The final phase began at 7.30 o'clock with the gallant but futile charge of the Old Guard followed by a British advance along the whole front.

Waterloo was Napoleon's last gamble, but, win or lose, he was doomed. A Russian army of 150,000 and an Austrian army of 200,000 were in full march across the Rhine. France was not a unit behind him, for it knew that he was fighting not for her, but really for himself. Most of his great marshals were dead or in retirement. Besides, the spell of his personal ascendancy had been broken several years before. Waterloo was the finishing touch, but, after all, it was Russia that saved him, not the Russian soldiers—Russia, which claimed more than half a million of the flower of his armies, renewing the spirit of resistance in Prussia—which invariably lay down after a good beating and awaiting the supercilious awe with which Napoleon had come to be regarded by the greater part of the world. The Corsican's light went dim when he abdicated at Fontainebleau preliminary to his exile to Elba. The Hundred Days' campaign was merely the last unnaturally brilliant flicker which heralded the darkness.

Napoleon was a more deadly menace to the security of Britain than Germany can be. He dominated the whole coast line of Europe from Mamelon the Baltic to the Adriatic. He held Antwerp and every fortified port which could facilitate a naval campaign against what he regarded as his most formidable enemy. Less than thirty miles separated the shores of England from the point where he had massed an enormous army of invasion under marshals whose names were household terms throughout the world. He had crushed Austria and Prussia, while Russia's armies had retired sullenly into the interior of their vast homeland. Britain at times was the only barrier to his supremacy. But her navy baffled his plans and confined him, impotently raging, to the shores of continental Europe; just as to-day her sea power is strangling Germany, much less favorably situated than Napoleon was. When we are apt to be depressed by the achievements of German arms in the present terrible struggle, it would be well to remember what happened to Napoleon, the greatest military genius of all time, when he attempted to dominate the world.

The Winnipeg Telegram, the personal organ of Hon. "Bob" Rogers, now demands that the Roblin looters of Manitoba shall be proceeded against to the utmost extent of the law regardless of affiliations or position. A few weeks ago the Telegram ridiculed the idea of there being anything dishonest in the methods of the brigands who are close political associates of its master. Now it sees the game is up. Hon. "Bob" evidently has determined that discretion demands that he cast all his associates overboard. The evidence of one of the conspirators to the effect that ten thousand dollars had been paid to one of the gang to induce him to submit to exile was sufficient proof to Hon. "Bob" and his friends that "the game was up." It is doubtful whether the Borden government now dare appoint its Minister of the Interior to the position of High Commissioner. That probably is the reason why our Sir Richard lingers so long in London.

On the eve of his departure from the United States Herr Dernburg admitted that he could not stand upon the order of his going, as the country had become too hot for him. But, in bidding farewell to America he said he hoped peace soon would be arranged and that it would be peace with honor for all the nations concerned. The fact is significant, perhaps, that the expressed aspiration of every prominent German nowadays is for peace. Austria would welcome a settlement upon almost any terms, while Turkey, "the illustrious ally," if she had her own way, would lay down her arms upon any conditions that would insure her life as a European power. But when peace is proclaimed it cannot be with honor to Germany. As a power she has passed without the pale, dishonored and disgraced.

The evidence elicited in the inquiry into the sinking of the Lusitania shows that the speed of the great liner had been reduced for reasons of economy due to the loss of revenue. In view of the warning of the German intention of destroying the vessel at the first opportunity and the inability of the admiralty to furnish a convoy one would imagine that considerations of economy would cease to influence the operation of the ship as soon as she entered the submarine zone. What, indeed, is the saving of expenditure on fuel alongside the precious lives of the passengers and crew which had been threatened?

There is something peculiar in the ease with which von Mackensen's centre has been able to press towards Lemberg while his flanks have been checked by the Russians without much difficulty. Another German attempt to cross the Dniester south of Lemberg has been defeated, while only rear guard actions have taken place west of Lemberg. Is Russia using Lemberg as a bait to draw the German centre onward to impregnable positions while she holds back the enemy's flanks? This is what happened in front of Warsaw.

Let the dead past bury its dead. It is a long time since the battle of Waterloo. The world has made some progress since then, notwithstanding German aspirations and sayings. Great Britain and France now understand each other better. Their sons are brothers in arms in an honorable cause. They are fighting for the underlying principles of "liberty, equality and fraternity." Hands across the channel and also across the sea!

The Vancouver World has a word to say about the order of the knights. Perhaps our contemporary had Sir Rodmond Roblin in its mind when it paid tribute to gentlemen "without fear and without reproach." And we are also reminded that certain other gentlemen living nearer home, sometimes, were initiated into the noble order about the same time as the gentleman of Manitoba, "without fear and without reproach."

The death of Reginald Warneford, the hero of the sensational fight with a Zeppelin a few weeks ago, will be universally deplored, especially in view of the pathetic circumstances which surround it.

near Juravno, and on June 8 occupied the left bank of the river for fifteen miles.

"On June 8 and 9 the bulk of the German forces were defeated decisively and thrown back across the Dniester. Nevertheless, on June 12 the German commander, beginning a general offensive, delivered a new attack with the remains of his regiments. The principal German forces moved along the right bank of the river Stray and attacked our bridgehead near Zidaczow.

"Toward the 15th of June the time came for another reverse for the enemy. At Rereznica and Krulevska alrge were killed with the bayonet and buried 1,000 Germans who had abused the white flag. Between May 29 and June 15 we captured in this sector 40,000 prisoners, including 860 officers, more than 100 machine guns and two dozen cannons. The total losses of the enemy on a front of thirty-eight miles were between 120,000 and 150,000 men. "Dense additional columns descended the slopes of the Carpathians daily and reinforced the enemy. Many supplementary detachments, originally destined for Eastern Prussia, met their final fate in the valley of the Stray. Other supplementary detachments joined the fighting on their own initiative before they were able to attach themselves to the units to which they had been assigned. The addition of considerable reinforcements brought into the scene of operations the German army under command of General von Boehm-Ernholle.

"We have noted serious symptoms of demoralization which are beginning to show themselves in the ranks of the enemy in the vicinity of Mikolajow.

"It has been interesting to trace the reflection of events on the Dniester in the military announcements of the enemy. Every step before it has been completed by the Germans; has been reported in their announcements as a German victory and a disorderly flight on the part of the Russians. The following day the announcements would say that the German army was resisting successfully the pressure of the Russians and the third day the declaration would be made that the Russians had great forces at their disposal in the region in question. Such a sequence and method of reporting has been noticed in the German announcements on three different occasions during the thirty days' fighting on the river Dniester."

VANCOUVER BOARD CUTS SALARIES OF TEACHERS

Vancouver, June 18.—School teachers' salaries have been cut for the balance of the year by 10 per cent. by the board of school trustees, following a request from the city council that action be taken in view of the present financial conditions and the fact that the city itself had taken the lead in reducing the salaries of civic employees in order to inaugurate a policy of economy in civic affairs. The teachers, however, according to the understanding reached on Wednesday night, will discontinue the 10 per cent. contribution which they have been making for relief purposes since last fall, so that the action of the board will not impose any further sacrifice upon the teaching staff. The city simply will retain the $25,000 during the rest of the year which it otherwise would have had to pay the school teachers. The cut affects all officials of the board, and the Teachers' Relief Association will disband. "The cut becomes effective on July 1.

All was confusion and bustle. Wife was preparing to take a longish holiday. As hubby was bidding her an affectionate farewell, she said—"You can expect a little letter from me every day during my absence." Her hubby's expression of face, which had hitherto been one of extreme gladness, doubtless at the prospect of being left alone for such a long period, took a decided change. "But, my dear," he remonstrated; "surely I have given you enough money to see you through until you come back?"
"I want to get some complexion powder for my wife, but I forget the name of the brand." "Does it look like the kind on my cheeks?" asked the pretty salesgirl. "It does," said the man. "And if I could taste it, I should be perfectly sure."

RED CROSS SHOWER.

Generous Response to Appeal of the Committee in Charge of Sidney Branch.

A very successful linen shower was held in Berquist's hall, Sidney, on Wednesday afternoon, in aid of the funds of the Red Cross society. The affair was under the management of Mrs. P. N. Tester and a group of helpers picturesquely gowned as Red Cross nurses.

Dr. W. Gordon Cummings acted as chairman and introduced Rev. Anselm Wood, Victoria, who delivered a splendid address on the work and needs of the society. Rev. A. Raeburn Gibson and Rev. J. W. Miller also spoke, and moved and seconded a vote of thanks to Father Wood and to Mrs. Tester and her assistants.

To a musical programme there contributed Frank Sehl, Mrs. Miller, Miss Dora Patrick, Mrs. Galea, Miss E. Penzance and Miss Lowndes, North Saanich. Afternoon tea was served, Mrs. J. D. Carlin, Victoria, and Mrs. Gordon Cummings being in charge of the tables. There were two hundred and twelve pairs of towels sent in, and one hundred and sixty-seven pairs of pillowcases.

The East Saanich centre is holding a garden fete at the agricultural hall Saanichton, on Dominion Day.

A commercial traveler, visiting a large factory, made a bet with the manager that he would pick out all the married men among the employees. Accordingly he stationed himself at the door as they came back from dinner, and mentioned all those whom he believed to be married, and almost in every case he was right. "How do you do it?" asked the manager, in amazement. "Oh, it's simple," said the knight of the road; "quite simple. The married men all wipe their feet on the mat. The single men don't."

MANY ATTEND FETE HELD FOR ST. MARK'S

Garden Party Held Yesterday Afternoon at Residence of Hon. D. M. Eberts

The skirl of pipes and myriads of fluttering flags provided a gay welcome to the visitors at the garden-party of St. Mark's church, held yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Ladies' Guild in the beautiful grounds kindly lent by the Hon. D. M. Eberts and Mrs. Eberts for the occasion. With the pretty aspect of the lawns guests might have been well content just to sit and listen to the Gordon Highlanders' band, but many additional diversions were provided and formed full measure of entertainment for all present.

The affair was opened by Venerable Archdeacon Scriven, who urged the need of sustaining interest in the church even at this time when people had so much else to think about. Mrs. Scriven was presented by Little Miss Riley with a handsome bouquet of crimson roses after formally declaring the proceedings open. Guests as they arrived were welcomed by Mrs. Eberts and Mesdames Lewings and Johnson, and from three o'clock until after seven the grounds were gay with laughter and music.

On the upper terrace was clock-golf, and on the lower lawns were to be found the refreshment tables, the flower, needlework, ice cream, and strawberry stalls, as well as the fortune-teller's tent, the nail-driving competition, and the bouch-and-take stand in charge of Mrs. Badger. Between the two lawns was the prettily improvised stage, from which a delightful concert was given during the afternoon. Boy Scouts, in charge of Scoutmaster Johns, were present in large force, and assisted generously both in passing refreshments and in the entertainment. The Gordon Highlanders' pipe band gave distinction to the proceedings, and played martial airs throughout the afternoon, while a squad of stalwarts from the 6th Highland Regiment gave an interesting display of physical drill.

The tea stall was in charge of Mrs. Tom and several assistants; Mesdames Cunningham and Hodgkinson had the sale of the strawberries and cream; a table of useful articles was in charge of Mesdames Goodwin and Harris; and a flower stall was presided over by Mesdames Watson and Riley. A number of small girls did quite a good business in selling flowers from prettily arranged trays which they carried about, those helping being the Misses Frances Whillan, Dorothy Jones, Norma Pendry, Fay Foster, Vera Robson and Beatrice Rogers. Miss Aeron had a candy-booth, where several girls helped her in vending the toothsome sweets. The Misses Rosher, the Misses Eberts, and a number of the young ladies of the church were kept busy in providing the guests with tea.

Among those who assisted on the delightful programme were Miss Eva Hart, who, accompanied by Miss Young, gave characteristically artistic versions of "Cherry Ripe," "A Song of Gladness," and other songs; Miss Avonia Jones, who sang "May Morning" very prettily; "Girle" Foot, who, accompanied by the violin, gave a much appreciated solo; and little Lily Dooley, who was much applauded after her rendering of "Ship Ahoy!" Four small girls in costume created general merriment by their singing of "You can't play in our yard," and some children from Mount Tolmie school entertained with pretty action songs. The Boy Scouts, among other patriotic choruses, sang their "Scout Song," "Never Let the Old Flag Fall," and "Your King and Country Need You." Scouts Doane and Sherwood singing solos during the afternoon.

The winner of the nail-driving contest, which was in charge of Rev. Mr. Flinton and Mr. Levings, was Miss Avonia Jones, while the clock-golf contest, in charge of Miss Eberts and Miss Orwin, was won by Mrs. Bury (for the ladies), and Rev. T. Keeling (for the gentlemen). Mrs. McElrath made a considerable sum at fortune-telling.

At the close of the afternoon three cheers and a tiger, led by the Boy Scouts, were given for the Hon. D. M. and Mrs. Eberts, who had generously lent their grounds; for the Ladies' Guild of St. Mark's, for Rev. Mr. Flinton, and for the Highlanders' band.

It was raining hard on Sunday, and the little boy asked his mother if they weren't going to Sunday school. "No, not to-day, dear," she answered, "it's too muddy and it's raining too hard." "Well, mamma," said the little Puritan, "it was raining yesterday and we went to the circus." The mother immediately made preparations to go.

"Daughter, I saw you last night." "Yes, ma." "What induced you to give that young man a kiss?" "Well, he had listened to my singing patiently for an hour."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

DOMINION THEATRE.

In common with other fine productions of the World Film Corporation, "The Lily of Poverty Flat," a five-part picturization of Bret Harte's story, offers an abundance of beautiful scenes clearly photographed in California. Probably these fine backgrounds have never been excelled in any other picture. The pilot is also of fine dramatic quality, while the acting of Beatrice Michelena in the stellar role is superb. Her appearance on the screen are always attractive, and she has further enhanced her already notable reputation in this production. The first reel of the picture opens with some exciting incidents typical of the early days in the far west; the story progresses in an interesting fashion and terminates in a reel replete with fast action and tense moments, while the outcome of a struggle, meaning life or death, is pending. In its entirety the

NAMELESS HEROES.

Let us, says the London Times, begin with the bare facts. On April 25, during the hottest of the fighting around Ypres, Lieutenant Rhodes-Moorhouse, of the Royal Flying Corps, was ordered to drop bombs on the railway junction at Courtrai. He achieved his purpose. Gliding down to a height of 300 feet to make sure of his aim, he became the target for hundreds of rifles, machine-guns, and anti-aircraft armament. He was severely wounded in the thigh. He might have saved his life by losing his machine and descending among the enemy. Instead, he headed for the British lines, tearing along, in order to get the maximum speed, below the level of many a London house-top, and was again, and this time mortally wounded. But he still flew on, over the British trenches, past the nearest aerodromes, back to his own base, where he executed a perfect landing and made his report. The next day he died in hospital, and this week his body has been laid to rest in his native Dorset. The story is too simple and too splendidly complete in itself to picture provides first rate entertainment. The comedy element on the bill is amply provided for in a two-reel Keystone special, featuring Sid Chaplin, who as a laugh-maker rivals his famous brother. This programme will be shown at the Dominion during the remainder of the week.

ALLEN PLAYERS.

"Overnight" at the Princess theatre continues to prove a successful draw. It has a clever plot, cleverly handled by the author, and done full justice to by the Allen Players. Next week's attraction "In the Bishop's Carriage," should prove equally popular. It is well and favorably known, and doubtless will be greeted by a big house on next Monday's bargain night. There are some very powerful scenes in this play, special rehearsals are being held, and new scenery is being painted. The advance sale is now on.

VARIETY THEATRE.

Scenes of the Lusitania disaster taken at Queenstown, Ireland, are being shown at the Variety theatre today and to-morrow. These include the landing of survivors by the rescue ships, bodies of victims waiting identification, soldiers preparing graves for the unidentified, and the mammoth funeral procession. The regular programme includes "The Old Doctor," a drama of intense heart-interest featuring Murdock McQuarrie; "The House of a Thousand Relations," a screamingly funny comedy featuring Harry Meyers and Rosemary Theby; "The Amber Vase" is a mystery drama.

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE.

The pictures which are being shown for the last three days of this week are of the same high class order as those shown for the first part of the week. The subjects are made up of comedy, comedy-drama, and drama. "A Scrap of Paper," is a two-part film and is full of exciting and interesting situations. The title has been used so frequently since the war started that it hardly needs any explanation. "The struggle between personal liberty and the wave of reform," is a George Ade comedy which amuses while teaching a good lesson. "Ma's Girls," in two reels is a western drama featuring the well known picture actor "Tommy" Day's Adventure," is also another very interesting subject, and with the above films makes a programme that will be bound to please. A continuous performance will be given in the afternoons from 2 till 5, and in the evenings from 7 till 11.

MAJESTIC THEATRE.

At the many unsuccessful efforts to secure the two-part feature film entitled "In the Land of the Otter," the management of the Majestic theatre have at last secured it for the feature offering to-day and to-morrow. It is a beautiful story of the Great Northwest, and of a trader who promises the hand of his only daughter to the one who brings him the most furs. The hero is a quarter breed, who sacrifices the girl because of his mixed blood. The exquisite scenery and the wonderful settings, combined with the acting of an all-star cast, make this picturization one of the best yet produced. The ever-famous "Patty" heads the comedy end of the bill in a ludicrous farce entitled "Fatty's Faithful Fido." The actions of the fat man are beyond description, and the film is a scream from beginning to end. The usual topical news, containing much that is interesting, is shown, and there are many scenes that will appeal to all, including the departure from London of the Middlesex Hussars, the Japanese allies and many views from the front. Special organ music accompanies throughout.

THE TAUBE

By Percival Gibbon in the London Chronicle.

The Taube showed small, yet delicately and strongly distinct, against the Polish winter sky of tender, luminous grey. No noise of its engine came down to us in the battery; it was so high that it seemed almost to hover over us, to linger in slow circles above our heads, and to eye us with the patience and the relish of a vulture that has marked down its meat.

"But I don't think he can see us," said the colonel. "All this"—he indicated the improbable-looking saplings stuck into the ground around and among the guns—"it doesn't look much down here; but it's good enough for an aeroplane."

The battery—a mixed affair of four field-guns, a five-inch rifle and a six-inch howitzer—had its station in the colonel. "So I've telephoned down to the field battery—ah; hear that?"

Away back of us a spark flashed briefly against the black background of tall woods: the voice of a gun, monstrously loud and heart-catching in that chill, windless air, followed at an interval of seconds; our eyes leaped aloft to the far bird-shape of the Taube weaving its pattern of curves and circles above us. Below it and short of it a small white cloud sprang suddenly into existence and grew and drifted against the sky—the smoke of the bursting shrapnel shell. The aeroplane came round in a wide curve and sailed back over us.

From between our guns there appeared suddenly heads of men, crawling forth from holes in the ground—the gunners of the battery coming up from their straw-piled underground shelters to watch the game. Grey-coated, hooded in their bashliks, with the artillery-man's curved dirk at their belts, they crowded out, staring up with a sort of eager sporting interest that was not without its expert quality. The Russian gunners, in point of training and intelligence, are the pick of the army; there was about them a touch of blandness and patronage, such as actors might show looking on at a play.

"Watch now," said the colonel. The wink of was fire again, the short detonation, and its long echoes from the walls of the forest, and the second smoke-cloud leaped into view, above and beyond the aeroplane this time. The machine, untouched, but warned, came sliding down the air in a steep plunge, and swung to the north. A third shell burst ahead of it, and it came round once more. There was some laughter among the gunners.

Through my field-glasses the soaring shape of the Taube was visible in its actuality as a machine. The long body of battleship-grey, the back-curving sweep of the planes, the blur of the revolving propeller, were plain to the eye; the glasses stripped it of its remoteness, of its quality of an aloof sky-inhabitant, and revealed it as a mere mechanism, common-place and hostile. As it dipped and sailed back towards us I had even a glimpse of its occupant, a round knob of a head seen momentarily and eclipsed again as the machine came to an even keel and slipped by. One needed that glimpse to realize entirely that at the core of the thing there was a man at all. In war one sees so much of the machinery, so much of the mere apparatus and the mess it makes of men's minds and bodies; one needs, if one is to understand it with any illumination, the realization that at the heart of the complication, at the root of all the murder and ruin, there is, not an abstraction, but a man.

Another shell—short again, and more easy, interested laughter from the big men who watched among the guns—"Bucketing" an aeroplane. There is a method of firing at aeroplanes—and at other targets, bluntly intended—called "bracketing," burst first a shell short of it, then a shell beyond it, then a shell half-way between the two, and so groping in to the true range. It appeared that, for all its doubling and plunging, the Taube was now bracketed in half a dozen positions; if it climbed to get out of range a shell was ready for it; shells would haunt it whichever way it took. In that briefly-seen black knob of a head all this, no doubt, was clear; it must have realized, perhaps with panic, perhaps with the chill resignation of fatalism, that it had misjudged the situation at the outset, staying within the zone of fire instead of soaring clear of it at once. Now there remained for it only to turn and plunge at speed through that air which the gunners had portioned out like a range.

The machine, lower now and clearer to see, swerved around, banking steeply; the sound of its engine, unheard till now, travelled down to us faintly in a stuttering buzz; it headed for the woods behind and above the gun which threatened it. It was tail-on to us in the battery, a mere black edge with a central blot.

A shell, travelling under it, burst between us and it; the smoke of it, forming in a white puff-ball, like an heraldic cloud, obscured its right wing for some moments. The gunners swarmed forth to stare at it; under the black rampart of the forest the gun winked again.

"Hey!" the colonel shouted. The black shape of the aeroplane seemed to dive suddenly against a splash of fire that shone aloft, broad against the dullness of the afternoon sky—and then it was no longer a shape.

"A direct hit!" cried the colonel. "You saw it, eh? The shell hadn't burst when it hit him—beautiful! I must telephone to that—"

LEAFS WILL RETURN HERE ON MONDAY FINANCIAL SUPPORT PROMISED BALL TEAM

President Blewett Will Bring Team Here to Open Series; League Prexy in City Looking Over Situation

The Victoria team will return here on Monday and it will depend upon the support that the citizens of the capital give, whether or not the club will stay here," was the statement of President R. L. Blewett, of the Northwestern league, to the Times this morning. Accompanied by D. E. Dufdale, of the Seattle ball club, the Northwestern league boss visited the city this morning. They have been promised financial support from several quarters, and there is no doubt but that funds can be raised to keep the club here. The fans must support the team, however, and steps will be taken at once to strengthen the pitching staff.

While strenuous efforts are being made by those interested to keep the baseball franchises in Victoria, only the hardest kind of boosting and support will bring this about. Owner Kingham's decision to throw the franchise into the league was influenced largely by the poor attendance of this week. The fans have been given real high class baseball this year, and the team, even though it struck a bad spot, must have encouragement from the fans if it is to survive the financial fiasco. A proposal has been made to have the Victoria Roosters' club take special pains next week in bringing out the crowds. Of course this is subject to the success of the plans that are being made to have the team remain here.

NORTH WARDS LOSE TO OAK BAY SOX IN JUNIOR SERIES

North Wards met with their third consecutive defeat in the Junior league series last night, their most recent conquerors being the Oak Bay Red Sox, who downed the Northenders by a score of 13 to 9.

Hugo Falcon pitched a steady game for the Bays. Relieving "Fly" Burns in the third inning when the latter weakened, he held the Wards safe. Baker started for the Wards, but gave way to Dalry, who in turn was replaced by "Tiny" Elcham.

The batteries were: Oak Bay, Burns, Falgan and Watson; Wards, Baker, Dalry, Elcham and Liddell.

COASTERS MAY RAID LEAGUE

Another danger confronts the Northwestern league. A wire from Frisco announces that a special meeting of the Coast league will be formed shortly to consider the expansion of the league to eight clubs. This means that they are going to try and take in Seattle and Vancouver. Bob Brown forecasted this step a few days ago, and there is little doubt but that the Northwestern league will take steps to fight the Coasters. A meeting of the league is to be held Sunday, at Seattle.

San Francisco, June 18.—A special meeting of the directors of the Pacific Coast league to be held here today has been announced by President Allen T. Baum. While the meeting has not been called specifically for the purpose of discussing an eight-team circuit, the matter will, according to President Baum, probably be canvassed. No move, however, he said, could be made in that connection without hearing from the Northwestern league, as the formation of an eight-team league would mean the invasion of the territory rights of the Northwestern league.

VANCOUVER LACROSSE GAME CALLED OFF

Mann Cup-Holders Could Not Secure Grounds; Local Stars Enlist

Inability of the Vancouver amateur lacrosse club to secure grounds, and their refusal to play the game here, led to the postponing of to-morrow's Mann Cup game at the Terminal City. Definite word was received last night that the Vancouver team would not come here, and at a special meeting of the lacrosse executive it was decided to postpone this fixture. The Victoria club's next game will be at New Westminster, on July 1.

Two of the Victoria club have joined the Base Hospital corps at Work Point barracks, Jeff Baker and Ted Menzies being the pair to offer their services to their king and country. Both of them are well known throughout the city, having played lacrosse for years. It is also rumored that a member of the lacrosse club executive is seriously considering enlisting.

Con. Jones' all-stars will have their chance to take a fall out of the New Westminster team to-morrow, at the Terminal City, when the teams meet in a league fixture. The Vancouver team has only won one of the league games to date, while the Royals have three scalps tucked away beneath their belts. Jones, in a recent statement, attributes the defeats of his club to the lack of team play. He says that this has now been remedied and expects that the club will win in decided fashion to-morrow against the Royals. Lacrosse is doing a great comeback in the east, where the N. L. U. games are drawing big crowds. The reinstatement of the professional stars was a wise move, as these players are now performing with the older clubs and playing just as good lacrosse as when they drew down the big money.

PRELIMINARY BOUTS FOR CITY TOURNAMENT

Al. Davies Will Enter Two Classes at To-morrow Night's Tournament

It has been found necessary to hold a preliminary boxing tournament to-morrow afternoon at the old Victoria theatre and the events will be announced to-morrow morning. The great number of entries in the heavier classes has made it difficult for the officials in charge to avoid these preliminary bouts, as it is felt that a bulky programme will prove unpopular. The boxers who survive the preliminary bouts, therefore, will be the only competitors to appear at the evening tournament.

Al. Davies will enter both the 115 lb. and 125 lb. classes, while Scotty McKay will be seen in the 165 lb. and 175 lb. classes. Both of these boys are expected to win double brackets, though they will be opposed to very stiff opposition. The lists of officials will be chosen at to-night's meeting of the club, when the preliminary draw will also be made.

The entries to date follow:
105-lbs.—Roy Baker, V. I. A. A.; Pte. Hilton, R. M. L. I.; Geo. Kirby, V. I. A. A.

115-lbs.—Guy Martin, V. I. A. A.; Dutch Hill, V. I. A. A.; Seaman Goshier, H. M. S. Kent; Boy Stratford, H. M. S. Kent; Al. Gerrard, V. I. A. A.; Bugler Sneddon, 8th Fusiliers.

WARDS ARE OUT TO BREAK LOSING STREAK INTERMEDIATE SERIES

North Ward are out to win to-night against the Victoria. To date the Northenders have not won a single game, having suffered three defeats. But they have added strength to their club, and expect to start on the climb this evening. The game will be played at the North Ward Park, and will be called at 6:30 o'clock. The following is the probable lineup of the club: Victoria—Hopkins, C. Parfitt, p. Carne lb. Wheeler 2b. Hamburger, ss. James 3b. Baker lf. Goldie cf. Heyland rf. North Ward—Quinn c. Purdy or Milne p. Menzies 1b. J. Curtis 2b. Dinsdale ss. Bigham 3b. Lamphere, Kerr, H. Curtis, and Plow outfielders.

By their defeat of the Maple Leafs 13 to 8, Wednesday night last, the Outer Wharf team are now almost neck and neck with the Leafs for second place in the Niagara league. Donaldson and Caldwell pitched for the Outer Wharf nine, while Ackerman occupied the mound for the Leafs. The feature of the game was two home runs by Hight, of the winners.

Hawkins' Cubs will again visit Nanaimo Sunday next. This is the third trip to the Coal City, their initial appearance they returned victorious, their second visit they were defeated and this will be the saw-off.

REMARKED ON THE SIDE

Can Victoria Keep Baseball Franchise?

If the citizens of the Capital wish to keep baseball in the city, now is the time for the fans to speak up. The announcement by Owner Joshua Kingham was only to have been expected after the financial losses that this sportsman has endured this year. Mr. Kingham would have been willing, beyond all doubt, to keep the club going, if he had only been assured of a team that was doing its best. Discussion, however, dropped up, with a resultant string of losses. The league is willing to leave the team in Victoria, in fact anxious to, but the fans must come forward. The team needs strengthening, and if the club can be placed here, steps will be taken to bolster up the weak spots at once.

Ritchie Says He Will Fight Any Lightweight

Tired, perhaps, of the continued stalling around for a bout and also weary of the moving picture posing that he has been doing for the past three months, Willie Ritchie, the former champion, says he is ready to fight again. In a recent interview, Ritchie says that he will meet Welsh in a winner-take-all battle, at any place that the champion desires. He is also after Charlie White's scalp, and does not bar any of the top notchers. The only trouble with Ritchie is that he can no longer make the lightweight limit of 133 pounds, and few of the good ones, more especially Welsh, will give away no weight to Ritchie. The latter is pretty nearly a welterweight right now.

Excess Weight Was Discarded

Sorority girls at the University of Colorado have tired of sewing socks for soldiers. They are going to help local needs and have turned their spare moments to sewing dainty "track trousers" for the Varsity track team. Fifty such garments are being made, and several of them have been finished and presented to the stars of the team. Many of the fair co-eds could not refrain from putting dainty touches on their creations, with the result that a lot of perfectly good lace and ribbon has been strewn around the campus by the less appreciative athletes.

TRAVERS LEADING IN GOLF TOURNEY

Former Amateur Star Turns in Fine Score; Other Veterans Well Up

Short Hills, N. J., June 18.—Jerome D. Travers, former amateur golf champion, took the lead in the play-to-day for the national open golf championship when he turned in a card of 37-36-73 for the morning round. This, with the score of 148 yesterday, makes Travers score for 54 holes 221.

Short Hills, N. J., June 18.—With only six strokes separating the first and twelfth men in the leading division, play was resumed to-day for the national open championship of the United States Golf association. Yesterday the first half of the final test at 72 holes was played and the field of sixty-five competitors was reduced by withdrawals and official eliminations to forty-six for the last 36 holes to-day.

James M. Barnes, western open champion, and Louis Teller, a former holder of the French open title, were leading with scores of 146 each. Michael J. Brady, of Wollaston, Mass., ranked next with one stroke behind Jerome Travers, who has won many important golf championships. Yesterday Francis Quimet, who two years ago won the final test at 72 holes with a total of 156 was tied with John G. Anderson, a former Boston amateur, and five professionals for twenty-third place.

Tom McNamara, Boston, professional, was tied for fifth place with Robert G. Macdonald, of Buffalo, each having made 149. Walter C. Hagen, of Rochester, the present champion, and Alec Campbell, the Baltimore professional, had 151 each.

"Chick" Evans, the Chicago amateur, who also had a 71, took ten more on his second round.

Out of the first twenty cards turned in for the third round a 73 by Gil Nichols was one of the best. This made the Wilmington professional total 232 for fifty-four holes.

Francis Quimet made eighty. His total of 226 at this stage puts him so far behind that he has no possible chance.

R. G. Macdonald, of Buffalo, had 13, making his total 222. Wilfrid Reid, the English player, and A. J. Sanderson, of Boulogne, France, each had a total of 230. George Lot, of Baltimore, had 228, and Tom Kerrigan, of Dedham, Mass., 229.

Louis Teller, paired with Hagen, the titleholder, had a score of 76, a total of 227. Hagen also had 76, bringing his total to 227.

"Chick" Evans had eighty, which brought his score up to 232. This puts him out of the contest so far as getting a place on the prize list is concerned. Tom McNamara had a seventy-four, a total of 223, just one stroke behind James Barnes.

BONNER WINS IN SPLENDID STYLE

Leafs Break Losing Streak at Vancouver; Tobin and Hawthorn Hit Homers

Al Bonner was the giant-killer yesterday when he defeated the Beavers and broke Victoria's long losing streak. The former Seattle twirler was in grand form, and held Vancouver to six hits, while the Victoria team clouted no less than eleven safeties off Bill Brand, winning 7 to 2. President Blewett looked after the Victoria team, and the Leafs were evidently battling for their jobs, as they went right after the Beavers from the start. Joe Tobin and Homer Hawthorn kicked through with home runs that helped the good work along, while the entire team put up a different brand of baseball than that which they have been accustomed to. Tobin has six put-outs in the outfield, while Marty Nye's miscue was the only blot charged up to the Leafs. McKenry and Leonard are the pitching selections for to-day's double-header, and it is expected that the Leafs will at least break even on today. The club will return here on Monday for a two weeks' stay.

Spokane, June 18.—Spokane defeated Tacoma yesterday 2-0, through the effective pitching of Callahan. Bobby Coltrin was put out of the game in the second inning for disputing a decision at second base. Grover's fielding was a feature.

Score: R. H. E. Spokane..... 2 9 1 Tacoma..... 0 5 3

Batteries—Callahan and Brennan; House and Stevens.

Seattle, June 18.—Seattle clinched the game with Aberdeen here yesterday afternoon by putting eight men across the plate in the first inning. Heavy hitting by Seattle and a collection of seven errors by Aberdeen are the principal reasons for the final score of 11 to 1. This is Rose's first victory for Seattle.

Score: R. H. E. Seattle..... 11 14 1 Aberdeen..... 1 7 7

Batteries—Rose and Cadman; Clark and Vance.

Sudden illness.—A lady who has won six golf tournaments in a single season tells the following story: On winning the last tournament another player turned to her and said: "Well, if I hadn't a sore arm—" "Please don't commence to tell me that. I have won four tournaments and I haven't beaten a well woman this summer."

SPORTING GOSSIP

Rah for the Leafs. Once more we can call 'em Our Boys. Bonner gets credit for breaking the hoodoo.

Tobin's homer in the ninth scored three runs. This old boy is back into his old time stride.

There is a strong chance that the club will remain here.

Spokane took a fall out of the Tacoma club, beating House.

Seattle finally managed to win a game from Aberdeen.

Bill Abstein will join the Giants to-day at the Sound City.

Victoria will sign up Herb. Salvason, if the team remains here.

Yesterday's win for Bill Rose was the first this season.

The kid has pitched some nice ball for the Seattle club.

Coach Springer's lacrosse squad had a nice workout yesterday.

Seattle may get a chance to sell outfielder Jack Smith.

The speed boy is pretty well touted to Scout Ed. Herr.

St. Louis has picked up a promising young catcher in Brottman.

Conrad Jones says that his lacrosse team needs more team work.

He neglects to state that his defence has been showing up weak this season.

International league teams are finding it hard to weather the Federal league inroads.

The Independents have driven them from Newark this season.

McKenry will hurl to-day and should win as he has lost three in a row.

A couple of wins will put the Leafs back in their old time winning form.

COURTS WERE WET.

New York, June 18.—Rain interfered with the Metropolitan tennis championship. Before the downpour R. E. McClave, of Pennsylvania, won his place in the round preceding the semifinal. He beat E. F. Thomas, Jr., 6-3, 8-6, H. H. Hackett, former national champion, contested in the doubles with W. M. Hall as his partner instead of F. B. Alexander. They beat J. Warren and H. Vail 6-1, 6-1.

FIT-RITE GOVERNMENT AND YATES

With a tired expression, the hard-worked doctor answered her surgery bell one evening. It was only Mike with a big story as to how his baby would not sleep a wink, and would the medico give him something for her. Relieved to think it was no bigger matter, the doctor dispatched Mike with some sleeping powders for the child. Next day, meeting the Irishman in the street he asked him how the powders worked. "Them powders did the trick fine, doc," said Mike. "That's good! Made the baby sleep all right, eh?" "Faith, no!" he responded. "We gave the darlint a dose, but she wouldn't sleep at all, at all; so we just took them powders ourselves, we did, and went right off to sleep, and niver heard the swate babe cry one bit any more."

Little Mary had been on her first shopping expedition with her father. It had been a great experience for her—the entire contents of her rather small purse had been expended in various purchases. Of course, her father had noticed her disappointment, and had decided to replenish her empty coffers, and so give a pleasant surprise. Coming home by train, father awaited a favorable opportunity to slip a bright shilling into her purse. In due course, after her arrival at home, Mary discovered the shilling, and, much to the surprise of her father, she immediately began to sob. "Vy—oh, vy didn't I 'pend it?" she sobbed petulantly.

Rupert Brooke's Last Sonnets

A few weeks before the death of Rupert Brooke in a hospital ship off the Dardanelles he wrote a sonnet sequence on the war, in which he faced with quiet exaltation the thought of dying for his country. Brooke was one of our most distinguished young poets. The son of a master of Rugby, born in 1897, he took his degree at Cambridge University in 1920, then travelled and wrote, contributing verse and sketches to the London weeklies. He accepted a commission in the Naval Division and had his first taste of war at Antwerp, where he lay in the trenches under German shell fire. Returning home he was sent to the Dardanelles, where he died of sunstroke at Lemnos, where he was buried.

PEACE.

Now, God be thanked Who has matched us with His hour,
And caught our youth and wakened us from sleeping,
With hand made sure, clear eye, and sharpened power,
To turn, as swimmers into cleanness
Leaving a world grown old and cold
And weary,
Leave the sick hearts that honor could not move,
And half-men and their dirty songs and dreary,
And all the little emptiness of love!
Oh! we, who have known shame, we have found release there,
Where there's no ill, no grief, but sleep has mending,
Naught broken save this body, lost but breath;
Nothing to shake the laughing heart's long peace there,
But only agony, and that has ending;
And the worst friend and enemy is but Death.

SAFETY.

Dear! of all happy in the hour, most blest,
He who has found our hid security,
Assured in the dark tides of the world that rest,
And heard our word, "Who is so safe as we?"
We have found safety with all things undying,
The winds, and morning, tears of men and mirth,
The deep night, and birds singing, and clouds flying,
And sleep, and freedom, and the autumnal earth.
We have built a house that is not for Time's throwing,
We have gained a peace unshaken by pain forever.
War knows no power. Safe shall be my going,
Secretly armed against all death's endeavor,
Safe though all safety's lost; safe where men fall;
And if these poor limbs die, safest of all.

THE DEAD.

Blow out, you bugles over the rich Dead!
There's none of these so lonely and poor of old,
But dying, has made us rarer gifts than gold.
These laid the world away; poured out the red
Sweet wine of youth; gave up the years to be
Of work and joy, and that unhop'd serene
That men call age; and those who would have been
Their sons, they gave, their immortality.
Blow, bugles, blow! They brought us, for our dearth,
Holiness, lacked so long, and Love and Pain.
Honor has come back, as a king, to earth,
And paid his subjects with a royal wage;
And Nobleness walks in our ways again;
And we have come into our heritage.

GLORY.

These hearts were woven of human joys and cares,
Washed marvellously with sorrow, swift to mirth,
The years had given them kindness,
Dawn was theirs,
And sunset, and the colors of the earth,
These had seen movement, and heard music; known
Slumber and waking; loved; gone proudly friendless;
Felt the quick stir of wonder; sat alone;
Touched flowers and furs, and cheeks,
And this is ended,
There are waters blown by changing winds to laughter
And lit by the rich skies, all day. And after,
Frost, with a gesture, stays the waves that dance
And wandering loveliness. He leaves a white
Unbroken glory, a gathering radiance,
A width, a shining peace, under the night.

THE SOLDIER.

If I should die, think only this of me:
That there's some corner of a foreign field
That is forever England. There shall be
In that rich earth a richer dust concealed;
A dust whom England bore, shaped, made aware,
Gave, once, her flowers to love, her ways to roam,
A body of England's breathing English air,
Washed by the rivers, blest by suns of home,
And think, this heart, all evil shed away,
A pulse that would be brave in the last days,
Give some where back the thoughts by England given;
Her sights and sounds; dreams happy as her day;
And laughter, learnt of friends; and gentleness,
A peace, under an English flag, that some
I hope, may yet be mine.
"What's the matter, minister, in talking with one of the deacons at a meeting. "No, sir, I don't," replied the deacon. "You've been preachin' on the subject of resignation for two years, an' ye haven't resigned yet."

A new arrival on a Canadian ranch was persuaded to mount a bucking horse. He was scarcely on the animal's back before he was off again—over the buck's head. "What's the matter," said one of the old hands. "Why, she bucked!" said the "tenderfoot." "Bucked?" cried the other. "Bucked? Go on! She only coughed!"

ADDRESSES ELKS

Judge Freeman Speaks on the Relations Between United States and Mexico.

Judge Freeman addressed the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks last night on the relations existing between the United States and Mexico. He treated the subject in a most thorough manner, recounting the principal events in Mexican history leading up to the banishment of Dictator Diaz, and on to the assumption of power by General Huerta and his overthrow.

He held that intervention by the United States would be aggravation of the affairs of Mexico, and scored the jingoistic element in the United States that persisted in the cry of "clean up Mexico."

Judge Freeman was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his address.

VICTORIA DAY

July 23 is to be Specially Devoted to This City at the Panama-Pacific Exhibition.

Publicity Commissioner Cuthbert has received word that the management of the Panama-Pacific fair has set apart July 23 as Victoria Day at the fair.

Special attention will be paid that day to Victorians who may be in San Francisco. There will be several members of the Rotary club in attendance, and it is asked by the club and by the publicity commissioner that as many citizens who purpose visiting the fair as can make their arrangements fit in with attendance on that day should do so.

The special day will give an admirable chance to advertise the city and district, and it will be taken full advantage of by the commissioner and his representatives in San Francisco.

WHEN HOT DAYS COME

The Happy Coolness of Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice.

This healthful golden juice, with its snappy, fruity, aromatic flavor, is a summer necessity as well as a summer luxury. It keeps you well, it does you good, it supplies the pure fruit acid that the system needs. Else why is it supplied by the British government in such large quantities to the Navy and Expeditionary forces? The reason is, it keeps people healthy and is a most satisfying, cooling beverage for a hot day.

Montserrat Lime Fruit Juice is refined from cultivated Limes grown in the beautiful island of Montserrat. All leading druggists and grocers have it.—Get the genuine Montserrat.

Ah, me! In these days of artificiality how some ladies try to improve on nature! Mrs. Jones was going out to dinner. Standing before her glass, she strove to make herself even more beautiful. She tinted her cheeks a deeper yellow, infused a becoming pink into her cheeks, and caused her lips to glow more ruddily. Then, with a little pencil, she commenced to darken her eyebrows. Ethelinda, her seven-year-old daughter, stood watching the operation with great interest. "Mother," she asked presently, "what are you writing on your face for?"

Mother—"I gave you a penny to be good yesterday, and to-day you are just trying to show how bad you can be." Willie—"Yes, but I'm just trying to show you that you got your money's worth yesterday."

DETAILED ACCOUNT OF WESTERN ENGAGEMENT

British Regiments Show Admirable Pluck in Recent Battles

In the course of a long message from the front a press correspondent gives some details of the heroism of the British troops engaged in the second battle of Ypres, which raged for 20 days, and relates some of the many splendid incidents of that terrible struggle which was waged amid a storm of shell that has never been seen elsewhere save, perhaps, at Neuve Chapelle.

Our losses may have been heavy and the sacrifices great, but the main thing is that the Germans failed in their attempt to break our line, though their troops were superior in numbers and their guns more numerous than ours. The whole British army is proud of the magnificent pluck and endurance shown by our men in this battle, and the names of those who did such gallant deeds will live long in the nation's memory. Several regiments received the special thanks of the general in command of the force engaged, while the individual acts of bravery were innumerable.

From April 22 until May 3 the original line of salient was held in face of a terrific bombardment without the loss of a single trench, and when the new line which had been dug meanwhile in the rear was occupied, the movement was carried out in most perfect order without the loss of a single man or gun, while, thanks to the heroic conduct of the medical officers, all the wounded, except for a few hopeless cases, were successfully removed.

Not a Man Failed.

The battle really began on April 20, when the Germans began the heavy shelling of Ypres, which continued for two days, a rain from 17-inch howitzers falling upon the town. From then onwards until May 13, when things quieted down, the British troops had to withstand incessant fire from innumerable guns of all sizes, varied with occasional infantry attacks. Not once did the men fail, and not one inch of ground was given up, though at times the line in the trenches was so thin that at one part there was only one man of the Tifle Brigade for every 12 yards of trench. Luckily, however, by the time that the Germans began to advance at this point reinforcements in the shape of two companies of the 5th King's Own and two companies of the York and Lancaster Regiment had been rushed up, and the attack was repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy. Gallant Welshmen.

The behavior of the Welsh Regiment was magnificent, and even when it seemed impossible to hang to their front trenches the colonel in command demurred to any withdrawal, and sent into headquarters such inspiring messages as "My right flank is enflamed, but I am quite comfortable. Machine guns are operating on our left, but we can carry on all right." It was not until a definite order to retire had been given that the battalion withdrew to the new position.

The 8th Durham Light Infantry also did wonderful work, and earned the thanks of the general. It is, however, really impossible to pick out any single regiment for special mention out of a force in which every man fought so heroically. All that can be said is that some regiments were placed in more difficult positions than others.

Of the performances of the territorial battalions it is impossible to speak too highly. In some cases the units had only been in the country a bare week before they had their first experience in the trenches, and yet they faced the enemy's grueling fire like hardened veterans, and never gave an inch. Every officer that I have spoken to on the subject expresses the same opinion, and many are the stories of unflinching bravery displayed by these units. The 8th Territorial Battalion of the Durham Light Infantry did splendid work under Col. Turnbull.

Deeds of Heroism.

Some deeds of heroism are told. Private Lynn, of the Lancashire Fusiliers, even when the German gas reached him, kept up a fierce fire with his machine gun. When the Germans began to leave their trenches, Lynn with superhuman effort—for he was coughing badly by this time—lifted his gun right on the parapet of the trench, and from there continued to play upon the advancing enemy, who, unable to stand up against such a withering fire, finally turned and sought cover behind their own line. Even then Lynn was not satisfied, and had to be literally dragged away from his gun. He was removed on an ambulance and died the same day.

Lance-Corporal Cooper of the King's Own collecting ten men, drove the Germans out of a farm and held it until our guns got the range. The captain of the 2nd Monmouths, who was wounded in two places in the head, refused to leave his men, and carried on until he became unconscious. When he was picked up he was found to be suffering from two other wounds in the body. Corporal Cousins, of Essex, carried his machine gun away with him, when his company was gassed out of their trench, and when later the reserves came up he followed them, carrying the gun over one shoulder and the tripod over the other. On reaching his position he at once got the gun going and did great execution. Many other heroic actions are chronicled by the writer.

Highlanders and the Gas.

The Argyll and Sutherlands, which were also concerned in the attack on Saint Julien, were badly gassed on the 2nd, but stuck to their positions, though many of them were knocked out; as one of them said, "We side-stepped the gas." Dr. James, the regimental doctor, remained with the men in the trenches all the time during the gas attack, and did great work there in relieving the wounded.

The London Rifle brigade, which went through all the heaviest fighting, suffered terribly, but their conduct was such that one general described them to the men as "the finest battalion God ever made." They were constantly exposed to the most severe shelling, but their courage never broke.

Contempt for German Infantry.

All units are unanimous in their contempt of the German infantry. Though in many places the German artillery, which was superior all through the fighting, chiefly on account of its prodigious expenditure of shells, had literally blown our trenches to bits, the infantry did not come on. The reason may lie in the fact that it is known that the Germans line their trenches very thinly and rely for strength on their artillery.

In conclusion, the narrator says: To describe in detail the tactical operations of such a battle as was the second battle of Ypres would be premature, but it is only right that those at home should learn and appreciate the innumerable gallant deeds that were done by the British soldier during those days and nights of incessant fighting, when man after man was mowed down and always yet another stepped up to take his place. It is a story of superhuman endurance under the most terrible conditions, and one of which every man throughout the British empire is duly proud.

CAMPAIGNERS' MEETING

British Campaigners' Association Receives Visit From Men of H. M. S. Kent.

At the monthly meeting of the British Campaigners' association which was held last evening at the Foresters' hall, the association received a party of about 30 men of senior rating from H. M. S. Kent, who were heartily welcomed.

It was decided that Capt. J. D. Curtis, R. N., should present the officers with a picture of the veteran's group, which has been the subject of much comment since it was published.

An invitation has been extended to members of the association to visit the Kent, and applications should be made through the secretary.

The committee that has in hand the proposal for the Old Soldiers' home reported on the matter, as already published.

The famous botanist was pacing slowly along the country road, his eyes, as usual, roaming from side to side for new plants to study. Suddenly an eager look swept across his features, and he leaped over the low fence enclosing a cottage garden. He had found a plant he did not know. What could it be? If only he had a specimen of it to study! At that moment a shock-headed lad strolled along the road and stopped to gaze open-mouthed at him. "I say," called the botanist urgently. "See that plant there—that pale pink one in the corner? Do you know it?" "Uhuh!" said the country boy bridle. "What's its name? Do you know what family it belongs to?" The lad jerked a grubby thumb over his shoulder toward the little cottage, as he spoke more briefly still. "Iggines!"

A certain youthful curate was taken to task by the Archbishop of Canterbury for reading the lessons to the service in an inaudible tone. Whereupon the young man replied, "I am surprised that you should find fault with my reading, as a friend of mine in the congregation told me that I was heard beautifully." "Did she?" snapped the bishop, and the young curate collapsed. His lordship had once been a young clergyman himself!

Old Ways Merely Quieted The Corn

The New Way Ends It

Some folks still cling to liquids, to inefficient plasters, or to merely paring corns.

They wrong themselves.

Their own friends keep free from corns by using Blue-jay plasters.

They apply one in a jiffy, then forget the corn. In 48 hours, without pain or soreness, the entire corn comes out.

A famous chemist found this way which makes corns out of date. One can't prevent them easily, but to keep them is folly.

Millions of people know that.

BOMBARDMENT LASTED UPWARDS OF AN HOUR

Paris, June 18.—Two of the French and British aeroplanes which participated in the recent raid on Karlsruhe were lost, according to a statement here to-night. Details of the affair were given by an officer who took part in the raid. He said that four and six-inch bombs were rained on the town for nearly an hour. Four huge fires were started and a wing of the palace, headquarters of the commandant, was destroyed. The Germans' high-angle guns were unable to reach any of the machines except two. One of the machines was forced to descend and the other dropped like a stone.

(Supplied by McDougall & Cowans.) Montreal, June 18.—The market to-day was quiet, though prices maintained a strong undertone at all times. Considerable activity developed in Tramway Power, which made a new high level for this movement, selling up to 44, but toward the closing of the day's business the price sagged off and lost most of its initial gain, closing at 43. Bell Telephone was strong, selling at 147. Cedars Rapids bonds were firm, ranging from 86 to 86 1/2.

TO-DAY'S TRADING ON THE WINNIPEG MARKET

Winnipeg, June 18.—Unfavorable weather conditions in the winter wheat areas of the States caused an advance in wheat prices of 1/2c to 3/4c. Oats were lower for July at the opening, while flax was 1/2c to 3/4c higher. New export business is conspicuous by its absence, nothing in this line being worked. In the early hours there was a limited inquiry for No. 1 and No. 2 grades of northern wheat, but this soon was satisfied. All grades of oats were in demand, but there was no inquiry for barley and flax. Exporters were the principal buyers and a few loads of old wheat were sold for export. There was no business in the new crop to-day. The total number of inspections on Thursday was 189, a slight increase from 187 last year, and in slight to-day were 3 cars.

LANSING SAYS THAT INCIDENT IS CLOSED

Bernstorff Told Secretary That Story Regarding Meyer-Gerhard Was False

Washington, June 17.—Secretary Lansing to-day authorized the announcement that so far as the state department is concerned the Meyer-Gerhard incident is closed. He added that it had not been officially called to the state department's attention, except in the form of a denial, and that Count Bernstorff had told him to-day he had no knowledge whatever of any "Dr. Meyer."

After leaving the state department Ambassador Bernstorff said he had told Secretary Lansing that the whole story reflecting upon his sincerity in asking safe conduct for Meyer-Gerhard was an "absolute fabrication" and that he had taken official notice of it only because of his desire to assure the president of the United States and the secretary of state that he had not sought to deceive them.

PLANS UPSET

London, June 18.—The plans for the British Isles to celebrate the centenary of the Battle of Waterloo by purchase of the famous field and dedicating it as a perpetual memorial, but the anniversary, with the battlefield in the hands of the Germans, passed almost unobserved. MAY BE HELD DURING LAST WEEK OF JULY

Manitoba May Have a General Election Before August 1

Winnipeg, June 18.—That the provincial general election will be held before August 1 is the fairly general opinion in well-informed political circles here. The assumption is based on the belief that Premier Norris has decided on an early appeal to the people in order to test public opinion on the recent change in government, which, from the constitutional point of view, was quite without precedent as regards a number of circumstances surrounding it.

WILL LANSING BE NEW SECRETARY OF STATE?

Washington, June 18.—President Wilson has no intention of going outside his official family to find a secretary of state and those close to the White House said to-day his principal reason was his wish to appoint a man already in touch with the foreign questions before the administration. ### HEAR APPEAL FROM WILSON ASSESSMENT

Property Owners and Tenant Give Opinions on Rateable Value of Property

An appeal against the assessment on property at Government street and Tronouze Alley was taken to the county court yesterday afternoon by William Wilson, of W. J. Wilson & Co. He also appealed against the assessment of property at Johnson and Government streets, known as the Victoria hotel. The assessment on the Government street property is $185,000 and that of the Victoria hotel property is $110,000 per front foot, each having a frontage of 60 feet.

The agent for the Union Bank building said when taxes and other expenses were accounted for there was a loss of $200 on the bank property, but with a deduction of the local improvement assessments there would be some profit. The block was taxed at $2,500 per front foot, and from a point 22 feet from the corner at half as much again. He said he did not know the building had been transferred some time ago for $428,000.

A. W. Bridgman and a representative of the B. C. Land Investment agency said rents were falling in Victoria, but Mr. Bridgman would not commit himself to a valuation of the bank property. The other witness testified that in 1910 the Brown Jug property at Fort and Government streets was sold for $50,000 when the rental was $22 monthly. It was now $400. He admitted his company was handling the property adjoining that of W. & J. Wilson, and that the assessment was the same.

When the hearing was resumed this morning J. E. Wilson said the rent being received from the Victoria hotel was $250 monthly on a five years lease, from October 29, 1914. The second two years the lease was to be $300 and the last year $400. Mr. Wilson estimated the property should be assessed at $60,000. It had been as high as $181,500 in 1914. He considered this had been altogether too high. He offered to sell the property for $100,000, as he saw no improvement in conditions regarding it for some time to come.

W. W. Northcott, city assessor, said that in 1910 the total land assessment for the city had been $28,288,102. In 1911 it had jumped to $46,516,205 and in 1912 to $71,670,770. Property was going up then to the crest of the boom which came in the spring of 1913. He thought that property on Government street should rent at $20 per foot now, and that a Tronouze Alley corner should bring $40,000 yearly. The city assessment had risen in 1913 to $89,150,150, was the same in 1914, and this year there had been a cut of $8,000,000. He said normal conditions had been the basis of assessments. Government street was the highest valued property in the city, and all property in the vicinity of the Wilson block was valued proportionately, but according to the depth. Corners were put at half as much again for 22 feet from the corner. He considered that the value of real estate was regulated by the population.

William D. Christanson, manager of the five and ten cent store on Government street, said he occupied property with 22 feet frontage on Government street which took in a stairway, and 84 feet on Langley street. The rent was $1,200 monthly. The firm he said should be paying $1,000, because there was $200 paid as a bonus to the clothing people who gave up their leases. He considered that about $750 would be a proper rental for the premises under the present conditions. He would be glad to be relieved of the lease, as he could get the same area in a store now for very much less. He considered the Wilson property on Government street worth $500 to $600 monthly.

DIRECT REQUISITION FOR MECHANICS MADE

Labor Bureau Asked to Supply a List of Special Craftsmen for Old Country

Not only is the British mission regarding armament labor supply making inquiry into the available supply of skilled labor in the overseas dominions, but some direct requisition for skilled labor are now coming through. The municipal bureau has been asked to inform the manufacturers direct as to what class of men would be ready to go in case of a demand, and information in order to answer the cable intelligently is being gathered. Data as to transportation, etc., will then follow.

The percentage of unemployment among workmen is the lowest recorded in 25 years. In Great Britain, on account of the situation created by the war, both in regard to the withdrawal of hundreds of men either at the front or training for the future, and by the great stimulus given in the manufacture of war munitions. There is a marked shortage of men in the engineering, shipbuilding, coal mining, and agricultural trades. The pay of 200,000 workers has been beneficially affected, according to the Board of Trade Labor Gazette, by war conditions.

In order that the men whose names will be put before the mission of inquiry may be suitable for the task, there will be some classification at the bureau before they reach the commission. Men who have been carpenters, etc., and belong to trades not specified in the classes wanted have applied for registration, in the hope that some opportunity may be found for them. It is stated that there are a particularly large number of men out of work who have been engaged in shipyards in the Old Country, and that Victoria will be able to show a larger percentage of these men than any city in Canada in relation to population. Probably it is of these classes who are not mechanics, of whom the chairman of the commission has spoken, in alluding to the small percentage who are likely to qualify for the anticipated employment.

At first there was considerable diffidence on the part of the labor unions to support the removal of many of the best workmen, for it is certain to be the best who will be selected for a period of at least six months, but they are now co-operating heartily, and the men will be kept in standing in their respective unions during their absence in the Old Country. The effect of the removal of skilled men for whom there is no opening now will have a most beneficial effect on the labor situation.

HE PLAYED THE GAME

In the battle-fields of Europe of W. F. L. Pilkington, Victoria has lost one of its most popular and gifted athletes. My acquaintance with him was confined almost entirely to the playing-fields; of his social life I know little, but it is easy to believe that the qualities which rendered him so valuable to his side, a source of anxiety to an opponent, yet without so courteous and consistent in his adherence to the rules, were equally prominent in other surroundings.

During the few years he was identified with the sporting life of the city he won the respect and esteem of spectators and participants alike. He "played the game" in the real meaning of the term. Particularly on the soccer field was his true character shown. He ranked among the best of the city talent, and was invariably picked on the representative team for inter-city matches. No matter how keen the struggle, when at times it is considered little cause for wonder if a player permits his feelings to overcome his judgment, Pilkington was always courteous and played the game as the game should be played. Although a big man and strong, he refrained from unduly "using his weight" against a weaker opponent, but relied on his skill to gain the desired end. The whistle was never sounded against Pilkington for "dirty work." He was anxious, of course, to win, but if he could not win fairly he was well content to lose fairly. His memory should be an inspiration to the rising generation of sportsmen. There would be no need to stop the game to settle disputes if all played the game as Pilkington played it. Had his life been given in a less worthy cause he would not have lived in vain. If only for the sterling qualities he displayed on the playing-fields of Victoria.

He has played his last game—the greatest game of all—and those of us who knew him are confident that right to the end he "played the game."

This is the word that year by year, as in the place that the poet has set, Every one of her sons must bear. And none that bears it dare forget. This they all with a joyful mind, Bear through life like a torch in flame. And falling fling to the host behind— "Play up, play up, and play the game!"

"Pa," said Tommy, asking his fifty-first question that evening, "is a vessel a boat?" "Well, yes," said pa, trying to read his paper. "You can call a vessel a boat, certainly." "Well, what kind of a boat is a blood vessel?" "A life-boat, of course. Now run off to bed."

JUDGMENT RESERVED IN C. N. R. TAXATION

Responsibility of Automobilists Concerned in Reversal of Judge Howay's Judgment

The court of appeal yesterday afternoon reserved judgment in the appeal of the Canadian Northern Pacific Railway company against taxation of mainland lands of which a plan for railway construction has not yet been filed with and approved by the minister of lands. The company claims the lands form part of what will become the railway route.

The court allowed the appeal of the plaintiff in Hogue against Letch, Royal Bank, garnishee. Judge Grant, in the court below, had set aside the garnishee order on the ground that the word "person" in the attachment of debts act did not include a body corporate. Mr. Maclean appeared for the appellant and Mr. Arnold for the respondent.

With Mr. Justice Galliber dissenting, the court allowed an appeal of the corporation of Burnaby against MacKinnon on the judgment of Judge Howay at New Westminster. A horse was permanently injured by being struck at night by an automobile owned by defendant. The horse was being ridden by a municipal constable and was travelling in the same direction as the automobile, the latter overtaking the horse. Wind and rain obscured the vision of the automobilist, and he was close to the horse before seeing it. He turned and applied the brakes, but the car skidded. Judge Howay found there had been no negligence. A majority of the appeal judges thought otherwise and sent the case back for assessment of damages.

He was a stranger to the little golfing town, and, having paid his half-crown to do a round of the course, approached a portly person in knickers with a request that he might partner him. The member was delighted. As they went to the first tee the stranger remarked: "I am a four man; what are you?" "Hi'm a straw 'at manufacturer," was the reply.

PREPARING FOR WORK ON NEW OBSERVATORY SUGGEST PLAN TO FACILITATE ACCESS

Dr. Plaskett Reports Satisfactory Progress With Construction of Instrument

Dr. J. S. Plaskett, Dominion astronomer, arrived in the city this morning in connection with the preliminary arrangements for commencing construction on the Dominion observatory at Saanich Mountain, the contract for which was announced last Saturday.

Dr. Plaskett expects to be in the city for a considerable time, as owing to the character of the building it is necessary to establish the exact position of the pier astronomically true north. For that purpose he has brought with him an instrument to take the necessary observations.

"I expect," he says, "that the building to house the telescope will require three or four months to build. It will be arranged strictly for scientific purpose, the offices and residence for the director being located lower down the hill at a subsequent date. By the time that the structure is ready, the telescope will be on its way from the east."

"I have paid a visit to the works where the parts are being assembled. At Warner & Swasey's factory, where the lighter castings are being made, a building has been specially constructed for the telescope, which will be put together there exactly as it will be erected on the mountain, and any defects which might develop in manufacture will be remedied before the materials are sent to this coast. The heavy castings have been made by the Bethlehem Steel company, and have been dispatched to Cleveland, where Warner & Swasey's factory is situated. That firm, however, does not desire to have any responsibility for the glass, which is in charge of the John A. Brashear company, of Pittsburgh, and apparently the disc and other fittings will come here from them direct.

"The department is well satisfied with the progress made to date, and is convinced that the instrument itself will be ready by the time that the building is finished to house it."

"Apart from the scientific value of the observatory, experience shows that the presence of a large telescope is of great value to draw travel. The Lick observatory in California is visited by a large number of tourists, on account of its accessibility from San Francisco, and so long as we have in this neighborhood the largest reflecting telescope in the world, it is certain to be appreciated."

Dr. Plaskett had heard of the desire for him to explain the details of the institution and the telescope to a Victoria audience, and from what he says there will be plenty of time for the local astronomical society to arrange the lectures, as he expects to be here for some weeks.

Eventually he will take up his permanent residence here as director of the institution, it is understood, when the observatory is opened.

Thin Folks Who Would Be Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice

"It certainly give most anything to be able to put up a few pounds and stay that way," declares an aggressive thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are intended. The power of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat, the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by D. E. Campbell and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

MANUFACTURERS MEET

Concerted Effort Will be Made to Obtain War Supply Contracts for City.

With the object of inaugurating a united effort on the part of the manufacturers of Victoria towards the obtaining of army contracts for manufactures which can be turned out here, a meeting is being held in the board of trade rooms this afternoon.

To this all the manufacturers in the city who are prepared to supply any kind of war material or supplies for the troops of the empire or the allies have been invited, and it is expected that plans will be laid before them by which the object sought can be attained.

It is believed that large contracts can be secured for this city if the manufacturers go the right way about it, and let the purchasing commissions and agents know what they can supply. If possible one or more representatives of the local men may be sent east to see what can be done in this direction. Large contracts have been let across the line, and there seems no reason why some of these should not have come to western Canadian manufacturers.

SOCKS STILL NEEDED

Women's Canadian Club Asked by Canadian War Contingent Association to Continue Contributions.

The secretary of the Women's Canadian club has just received a letter from Miss Eleanor McLaren Brown, honorary secretary of the ladies' committee of the Canadian War Contingent association, Victoria street, London, S. W., as follows:

"I have to-day received from the offices of the Canadian Pacific Railway company here a parcel of comforts for the Canadians. I am directed by the ladies' committee of this association to thank you most gratefully for your kind gift. You may perhaps be aware that the British war office have requested that no more comforts other than socks and handkerchiefs be sent to the front. The warm weather now coming makes it unnecessary to send these comforts. But of socks and handkerchiefs we cannot have too many. We sent these forward in enormous quantities each month. "Hospital stores, too, we are also very grateful to receive, and we would spread this information in your neighborhood."

The local branch of the Women's Canadian club therefore urges the women to continue their sewing and knitting, which will be asked for at the next meeting.

The executive meeting was held last Friday, when a cheque for $200 was handed to Lady McBride as a donation for the Red Cross society of Victoria, this sum being the proceeds of the recent garden party held under the auspieces of the Women's Canadian club at the grounds belonging to Sir Richard and Lady McBride. The sum of $25 was voted to Dr. Sarolea's fund for the homeless Belgians.

Five new members were elected at the recent meeting.
