A Handsome Reward.—Many persons get a SPLENDID COLLECTION OF ROSES FREE, by getting up clubs among their friends and neighbors (see Rewards for Clubs, page 16); but whether this is done or not, we shall be truly obliged by your kind influence in introducing our beautiful Roses to the notice of your friends and acquaintances.

ROSES IN OPEN GROUND.

When convenient, Roses should always be planted in open ground ; they can be grown nicely in pots when desired, but are more easily managed and give better satisfaction planted in the open ground.

Rose Buds are more highly valued than any other Flowers, and it is very easy to have them in profusion. A small bed of our Beautiful Ever-Blooming Roses, costing only two or three dollars, will enliven your grounds and furnish a nice supply of buds during the whole growing season.

Our Beautiful Ever-Blooming Roses are known all over the United States as the finest Roses grown, they combine the most perfect and lovely form of buds and flowers, with delicious fragrance, and all the charming and exquisite shades of color that Roses ever assume.

They do well Everywhere.—Our Ever-Blooming Roses thrive and bloom nicely in all parts of the United States and Canada, where garden vegetables will grow. They are not entirely hardy, but many varieties, when well established, will bear the Winters if not more severe than at New York. Hardiness, however, is not important, as these Roses are so desirable and yet so cheap that, if necessary, you can well afford to get them fresh every Spring.

They begin to Bloom at once.—Our Ever-Blooming Roses begin to bloom almost as soon as planted, and continue to produce a constant succession of lovely Buds and Flowers through all the Summer and Autumn months, until the plants are frozen up or covered with snow.

Hybrid Perpetual and Moss Roses are very beautiful and are considered entirely hardy in ordinary situations ; they need no protection in Winter and withstand hardship and neglect well ; they bloom freely in the Summer, and occasionally during the Autumn months. The flowers are mostly of large size, very double and fragrant, and of rich, bright colors, including all shades of red, white and pink, but no yellow.

Climbing Roses.—Most varieties of Climbing Roses are entirely hardy. They need no protection in Winter, but require support, and should be planted near a porch or trellis, or some object designed to be covered from sight ; they bloom very profusely early in the season and remain in bloom a long time.

Preparation of the Ground.—Roses will do well in any ordinary fertile ground, but are much improved in fragrance and beauty by rich soil, liberal manuring and good cultivation. The ground should be well spaded and pulverized to the depth of a foot or more, and enriched by digging in a good coat of stable manure or any fertilizing material that may be convenient.

Plant in Beds.—Roses appear to best advantage when planted in beds or masses by themselves ; they should not be mixed with other flowers when it can be avoided. The bed should be in a sunny place, free from shade and exposed to full light and air.

How to Plant.—When the ground is thoroughly prepared—fine and in nice condition—wet the roots of the Roses so that the earth will adhere to them—make holes of suitable size, put in the plant slightly deeper than it was before, spread the roots out evenly in their natural position, and cover them with fine moist earth, taking care to draw it closely around the stem, and pack firmly down with the hand. It is very important that the earth be tightly firmed down on the roots.

When to Water.—If the ground is dry when planted, water thoroughly after planting, so as to soak the earth down below the roots, and, if hot or windy, it may be well to shade for a few days. After this not much water is required unless the weather is unusually dry. Plants will not thrive if kept too wet, and planting should never be done when the ground is muddy or soggy.

Cultivation.—The ground should not be allowed to bake or become hard, but should be frequently stirred with hoe and rake, so as to keep it light and mellow, as well as free from weeds and grass. If the ground is dry, a thorough hoeing or stirring of the soil is much better than watering, and can be done as often as necessary. In very dry times the ground should be hoed deeply and thoroughly every day.

Cut off the Faded Roses, or what is better, cut off the blooms before they begin to fade ; the quicker the flowers are cut off after they are fully open, the more flowers the plant will produce. If the flowers are left on, the strength of the plant goes to produce seeds ; the removal of the flower encourages new growth and fresh bloom.

Pruning.—The Ever-Blooming Roses do not require pruning in the Summer, except what may be necessary to keep them in reasonable shape and limit, and this can be done at any convenient time. In the Spring it is best to cut back one-half or two-thirds of the last season's growth, and cut off all dead shoots, down to the live wood. The Ever-Blooming Roses may be Winter killed quite to the ground, but if the roots are not injured, they will put forth new growth and bloom as well as before.

Pruning Hybrid Perpetual and Moss Roses.—These bloom best on strong new wood, and should be cut back severely (say one-half of last season's growth) in the Spring before growth has commenced. As these Roses are hardy, and remain from year to year, they will gradually attain considerable size, and the pruning should be done in a way to keep the plant well balanced and in good shape. They can be trained in any form desired; if the tree form is preferred, the plant should be kept to a single stem, and staked up till the requisite height and form are well developed. Liberal manuring, and thorough cultivation, add very much to the beauty and profusion of bloom of this class of Roses.

Climbing Roses bloom on the old or last season's wood, and therefore should not be cut back unless necessary to keep the plant within the limits desired, but all dead wood should be removed in the Spring before growth begins.

When to Plant.—Always choose the most favorable time for planting in your own locality, and order at that time. Roses can be planted as soon as convenient after the earlier garden vegetables, and we can send the plants with entire safety, whenever they are desired.

Northern States.—In the Northern and Middle States the Spring and early Summer months are the best time for all kinds of planting in open ground. As our Roses are grown in a warm temperature, it is best not to plant out until danger of severe freezing is past, and the ground is in a mellow and friable condition. Many people prefer to get their Roses early, before the rush commences, and grow in pots or boxes in-doors, till the season is sufficiently advanced for setting them out, and if you know how to care for them, and can keep them healthy, this is an excellent plan.

Southern and Pacific States.—Our friends in the Southern and Pacific States will choose the most favorable time for planting in their respective sections; we cannot advise as to when this is, as the planting season in these localities is different from ours. We send Roses safely whenever they are desired.

Fall Planting in Open Ground is only recommended for those of the Southern and Pacific States where the Fall and Winter months are the most favorable time for all kinds of out-door planting.

Newly Planted Roses not Hardy.—It should be understood that a certain degree of growth and development is necessary to enable even Hardy Roses and plants to bear Northern Winters. If newly planted just before cold weather, they cannot bear the winter; they must be planted early enough in the season to make considerable growth and get well established before cold weather begins, otherwise they will most likely be Winter-killed, in spite of any protection that can be given.

ROSES IN POTS.

THE EVER-BLOOMING ROSES are the best for HOUSE CULTURE IN POTS—because they bloom quicker and more continuously than any of the others, and their style and habit of growth is more bushy and better adapted for the purpose. They can be kept nicely with other growing plants, and with proper attention to their requirements will bloom freely. Persons who order Roses for house culture in pots, can select any variety they choose, or if they prefer to name the colors they like best, we will select for them, and send those sorts we consider most likely to give satisfaction; each kind will be labeled the same as if selected by the purchaser.

Pots.—Do not use too large pots—if possible, not more than three or four inch. The rule is, one size larger than the plants have been grown in. The smaller the pot—provided, of course, it is large enough to contain the plant—the quicker and stronger the plant will start. It is very difficult to get a small plant to live and grow in a large pot. A Rose will not bloom much till the pot is well filled with roots, therefore, small pots facilitate quick bloom. If the pots are old, they should first be thoroughly washed. If new, they should first be soaked in water, otherwise they will absorb the moisture from the plant.

Potting Earth.—Earth for potting should be mellow and rich, not such as will bake or become hard, nor yet too light; that made from rotted sods is the best; if manure is used, it should be old and thoroughly composted, fresh manure is injurious.

When to Water.—As soon as potted, water the plants thoroughly, and if the sun is strong shade lightly for a few days, then give full light and air; though the plants should not be allowed to wither for want of water, the earth in the pots should get moderately dry before watering again. Too much water is worse than not enough, very little water is needed until the plants begin to grow.

Why the Leaves May Fall.—When Roses drop their leaves after being potted, it is generally owing to the change of temperature and other conditions which the plant has experienced in removal; but it may result from too large a pot, or too much water; in any case the best remedy is perfect rest; keep the plant quite dry till signs of new growth appear, then water very sparingly; the earth in the pots should not remain soaked, but should dry out quickly if the plants are in healthy condition.

General Treatment.—The conditions most favorable for growing Roses in pots, are good, rich soil, plenty of sunshine—the early morning sun is best when it can be had—reasonable and regular heat, and moderate moisture. The temperature may range from 40° to 50° at night and from 60° to 80° in day time. Plants should be washed or sprinkled frequently in blood-warm water, the leaves should be kept clean and bright, dust is injurious. If troubled with earth-worms, water occasionally with weak lime water, or very weak tobacco water.

Roses for Winter Bloom.—Roses that are intended for Winter bloom must be specially prepared for the purpose. In order to bloom well it is essential that the plant be in a vigorous growing condition and abundantly supplied with active feeding-roots, ready to work at the time the flowers are desired. Any treatment which puts the plant in condition to grow rapidly at the time you want the flowers, is just what is necessary. This object can be obtained in different ways. We give below a few illustrations, but there are other plans equally good which can be adopted if more convenient.

We furnish Roses suitably prepared for Winter Bloom during all the Fall and Winter months, purchaser's choice of varieties—same price as at other times. These are strong pot-grown plants that have been kept hungry. They are well furnished with working roots and are anxious to get a chance to grow. If potted in good rich soil, and put at once in a warm room, they will, with proper treatment, commence to grow and bloom immediately.

If Large Bushes are wanted for Winter Bloom, it is best to get the plants in the Spring, and pot them at once in large size pots, then plunge the pots in open ground in some partly shaded place, cultivate and keep healthy during the Summer, but water sparingly, and take off all buds as they appear. On the approach of cold weather take up the pots, remove as much of the top soil as can be done without disturbing the roots, and replace with fresh rich soil, put at once in a warm room, and give plenty of water, they will push up a vigorous growth and bloom profusely, and will continue to bloom as long as they can be kept in growing condition. When done blooming they can be cut back and removed to a cool cellar, and if shaken out in the Spring and re-potted, with the same treatment as before, they will be ready for blooming again by the next Winter.

INSECT ENEMIES OF THE ROSE.

Roses which are strong and vigorous are not likely to be attacked by insects, or if attacked, are not easily injured. It is highly important, therefore, to keep your plants healthy and in good growing condition by liberal manuring and thorough cultivation. When insects appear, apply the proper remedies promptly and vigorously, and in bad attacks, stir the ground deeply with hoe and rake every day. A little perseverance to resist the present attack is all that is needed, next year you may not be troubled with insects at all.

Aphis or Green Fly.—The best remedy is tobacco smoke. It can be applied by covering the plant with a box or barrel, and putting under a little burning tobacco. The plant should remain in the smoke for several hours and then be thoroughly washed off with blood-warm water. If more convenient to apply, a strong tea of tobacco will answer very well. Wash or sprinkle the whole plant or dip it in the tea as often as may be necessary. When tobacco is not desirable, a hot water bath will answer the same purpose. The water should be as hot as the hand can bear, say about 130 degrees, and the whole top of the plant dipped in quickly, two or three times in succession, but it must not remain in more than two seconds at a time.

The Rose Slug.—The body of this slug is green and soft, almost transparent, like jelly. They appear suddenly and increase very rapidly. They must be attacked instantly. Dust the plants thickly with powdered or air-slacked lime, plaster of Paris, ashes, or even road dust, and repeat the same vigorously as often as may be necessary. If more convenient the plants may be thoroughly sprinkled and washed with a strong suds made with soap and salt, or with brine alone. Slugs seldom appear more than once in a season, and can easily be destroyed if taken promptly.

The Rose Bug is of a grayish color and about one-half an inch in length. It appears suddenly in June, and feeds on the opening buds and flowers. The only cure is hand picking. This is not a serious matter if attended to as soon as they appear. The best time to gather them is early in the morning. They may be quickly brushed or picked into a vessel containing water, after which they should be burned.

Mildew.—When plants suddenly become covered with a whitish-looking mould or dust, the disease is known as Mildew. Unless a very severe attack it will not probably kill them, but only retard their growth. It is believed to be induced by atmospheric causes, as sudden changes of temperature or moisture. For out-door plants, a thorough stirring of the soil, with a view to encourage strong growth, is probably the best thing that can be done. In-doors the same treatment, with the addition of a fine dusting of flour of sulphur over the whole plant. Sulphur is thought to be an antidote to the growth of fungus, of which the white mould referred to is one form.

The Mealy Bug is not apt to trouble Roses much, but is sometimes very injurious to other house plants. It nestles closely at the base of the leaves and branches, and resembles at first sight a speck of white cotton, but on close examination proves to be a repulsive looking bug covered with a white powder. He is rather fond of Tobacco and other poisons, but does not like Alcohol. So this is the thing to give him. It can be put on with a feather or small brush, and he can be removed with a pin or needle.

Red Spider is a very minute insect, first appearing on the underside of the leaves, and though difficult to see, its effects are quickly noticeable by the browned or deadened appearance of the leaves. It flourishes best in a hot, dry atmosphere, either in-doors or out; moisture is its greatest enemy. Sprinkle or wash your plants frequently, taking care to wash the underside of the leaves thoroughly, and you will not be troubled with Red Spider. In bad attacks it may be necessary to sponge the leaves daily with warm water until the pest is thoroughly destroyed.

The Thrip is very destructive to Roses in some sections of the West; it is a small hopper, varying in color from black to brown, and is found on the underside of the leaves. The best remedy is said to be a thorough wetting with a strong suds of whale-oil soap, or soap and salt, or very strong Tobacco tea, taking care to wet thoroughly the underside of the leaves. We presume that a teaspoonful of Hellebore, or Paris Green dissolved in a pail of water and applied in the same way, would be equally effective.

THE PROPER DISTANCE FOR PLANTING.

When the Ever-Blooming Roses are planted in beds or masses, and the best effect for the present season is desired, they may be set only 10 or 12 inches apart each way, but if intended to remain over year they should have a little more room.

Hybrid Perpetual and Moss Roses require more room than the Ever-Blooming sorts and may be set from 1½ to 2 feet apart each way. For HEDGES, plant 1 foot apart in a single line, and cut the plants back to a regular height every Spring.

Hardy Climbing Roses are mostly of strong growth, and are usually planted in single rows, and from 2 to 4 feet apart, according to circumstances.

In California and the Southern States, Roses grow much larger than in other sections, and should not be planted so closely. Single plants frequently form moderate sized trees, and of course require much more room than they do in the Northern and Middle States.

WINTER PROTECTION OF ROSES.

Winter Protection is not so important a matter as formerly. The HYBRID PERPETUAL, MOSS AND CLIMBING ROSES, being mostly hardy, require but little protection, and all classes of Roses are now furnished so cheaply, that most people think it pays better to get new plants every year than to take much trouble in trying to keep tender sorts over, ESPECIALLY AS IT IS FOUND THAT FRESH YOUNG PLANTS FREQUENTLY GIVE MORE FLOWERS AND BETTER SATISFACTION THAN OLD ONES WINTERED OVER. We, however, give the best methods for Winter protection, so that our friends can adopt any plan they prefer.

Fall Treatment.—In the Fall, the Rose beds should have a good dressing of stable manure or any fertilizing material that is convenient, the Winter rains will carry the strength down to the roots, and the remaining matter makes a nice mulch, which in many places is all the protection that is necessary. In very cold localities it is a good plan to cover the beds all over with old sods, fresh earth, or coal ashes, from three to six inches deep.

Where the Winters are not very severe tender Roses may be nicely covered with clean Rye straw, forest leaves, or Evergreen branches, but care must be taken not to put it on too thick; the covering should permit considerable circulation of air, and should not retain water; and nothing should be used that will ferment, heat or rot. The object of covering is not to keep the plants warm, but to break the force of sudden and violent changes, cold, drying winds, &c.

Do not Cover too soon.—Whatever covering is used, it should not be put on till late in the season, when the plants are well matured and severe weather close at hand; moderate freezing is not injurious.

To Keep Roses in the Cellar.—When Roses can not be protected in the open ground they can sometimes be kept nicely in the cellar:—Take up as late in the season as safe, that is just before Winter actually begins, cut back the tops within six inches of the ground, and pack the roots in a box of nice mellow soil, well firmed down; place the box near a window in a light airy cellar, or some similar position, water occasionally during the Winter, but only when absolutely necessary to prevent shriveling, as dormant plants require but little water; set out in open ground as early in Spring as weather is suitable.

Wintering in a Pit.—Many persons are very successful in wintering tender Roses, and other half hardy plants, in a pit. A pit is made by digging out a space in the ground like a cellar. It should be sunk four or five feet deep in dry, well-drained ground, and, if possible, in a sunny or sheltered situation; the sides may be walled from the bottom with stone, brick or boards, six inches or a foot higher than the surface of the ground outside, and nicely banked up all around. The pit should be tightly roofed, or covered in part at least, with glazed sash, so arranged as to be easily raised at one end to admit air. Plants can be set in pots, or planted in the bottom; if the latter, good soil should be put in for the purpose. Roses from open ground should not be taken in till danger of severe freezing; moderate cold will not hurt them. When ready, take up carefully, cut off at least one-half the tops, and plant nicely in the bottom of the pit, taking care to firm the earth tightly on the roots. As the plants are not to grow much, they may be set quite close; water thoroughly when first put in, but afterwards, only when dry; keep moderately close for a few days at first, and afterwards give air freely in fine weather. This is important for the health of the plants. If desirable the pit may be made large enough to admit of your going in occasionally and examining them. Keep a sharp lookout for insects, mice, &c.

Roses Standing Alone.—To protect large Roses standing alone, drive a stake as tall as the plant firmly by its side, tie the plant nicely to the stake, then take straight straw or evergreen boughs of a suitable size, stand them neatly and closely around and bind firmly together with bands six inches apart.

The Best Way.—In places where the Winters are not more severe than at New York, many varieties of the Ever-Blooming Roses are nearly hardy, and we think the best way to treat them is to leave all in open ground, and give whatever covering may be convenient. Experience proves that the loss will be as light in this way as any other, and it is much the least trouble.

When to Uncover.—Do not uncover in the Spring till frost has left the ground and there is a prospect of reasonably settled weather. When uncovered the plants should be carefully pruned, taking care to remove all dead wood, and the beds should be nicely dug over and raked.

A BED OF EVER-BLOOMING ROSES—MIXED VARIETIES.

Nothing gives better satisfaction than a bed of Beautiful Ever-Blooming Roses. The one shown in the engraving is planted with mixed varieties from our general collection, edged with one of the pretty Polyantha Roses, Mignonnette, Montravel or Cecile Bruner (page 18); the effect is very fine, and we can gather whole handfuls of Roses from such a bed all summer long, from June to December. Some people prefer but one kind in a bed, but we think mixed varieties generally give the most pleasure. A circular bed, 8 feet in diameter, if planted close, for best effect, the first season, will require 75 Roses; one 10 feet in diameter, 100 Roses; one 12 feet in diameter, 150 Roses.

Let us give more thought to our surroundings; whatever effort we make in tasteful improvement will be an advantage to ourselves, as well as a useful example to others.

Thoroughly Reliable.—Our establishment enjoys a national reputation for thorough reliability. It is a principle with us TO DO BETTER THAN WE PROMISE. And our liberal and generous method of business has brought us an immense trade.

Flowers for Schools.—By all means let us have flowers in school-room windows, flowers in school-house grounds, and flowers for school-children. We will present a special contribution to all orders for schools, or for school purposes.

Try our Beautiful Ever-Blooming Roses.—Probably, no flowers give so much satisfaction. Friends write from all parts of the country, that no flowers equal them in beauty and constant bloom. Every one who will plant a small bed can have plenty of lovely Rosebuds from June till December.

Gladiolus with Roses.—Gladiolus is one of the few flowers which do very well planted between Roses, particularly in beds of Hybrid Perpetuals; they take but little room and do not interfere with Roses in any way, while their large spikes of gorgeous bloom make a splendid show at a time when Roses are not in bloom.

Splendid New Roses.—We offer all the well-recommended NEW ROSES obtainable in this country or Europe; it is claimed that they are all very distinct and beautiful, but as many of them are not yet tested, they are most desirable for persons who wish the LATEST NOVELTIES, WITHOUT REGARD TO COST; they do not in any way take the place of the good old standard sorts, many of which are so beautiful it is scarcely possible to surpass them, and one can get a large bed of these for the price of a few Novelties.

Roses by Mail.—No difference in what remote corner of the country your lot may be cast, whether far or near, you can have the choicest Roses as easily and cheaply as if they were grown at your own door. Send your money as directed on page 15, AND WE TAKE ALL THE RISK, and promise to deliver strong, vigorous plants by mail, post-paid, and in good growing condition, at your own Post-Office. We have been in business many years, and have tens of thousands of customers scattered all over the United States, who cordially endorse all we say, and know that we make our promises good.

Hardy Roses.—People often write: "I want Roses that are hardy and that will bloom all the time." When such requests come from the South they can be filled to the letter; there the EVER-BLOOMING ROSES are hardy, and they bloom as nearly all the time as any plant can reasonably be expected to do. But in the North the case is different; here the EVER-BLOOMING ROSES thrive and bloom beautifully, but are not entirely hardy, while the HYBRID PERPETUALS, MOSSES and CLIMBERS, which are hardy, do not bloom all the time; therefore, as neither class combines in itself perfect hardiness and constant bloom, a choice must be made between them, or, what is better, a bed of each kind may be planted.

Plant Both Kinds.—When convenient it is best to plant two beds—one of Ever-Blooming Roses and one of Hybrid Perpetuals; they are entirely different and both very beautiful; but if HARDY ROSES ONLY are wanted, the selection must be made from the HYBRID PERPETUALS, MOSSES and CLIMBERS, which are the hardiest of all Roses.

How to Treat Roses Received by Mail.—Treat them precisely as if received by express, or in any other way. If they have been in the package for several days, whether very dry or not, it is a good plan to soak in a shallow basin of quite warm water for half an hour or more before planting, leaving a portion of the wrapping on. This will be found to revive them greatly. Always remember they have come from a warm temperature, and should not be subjected to too sudden change. Buds that may be on when received should always be removed, as the effort to bloom while the roots are unable to furnish nourishment weakens the plant. If the tops should be accidentally broken in the package or otherwise, the plant is not necessarily injured, the vitality is in the root; cut off the damaged parts and new shoots will soon be formed in their place.

See particular directions for planting in open ground and pots.

Why Roses may vary in Color and sometimes come Single and Imperfect when first planted.—In describing Roses, we try to give the prevailing color of the perfect flower. Buds are sometimes very different in color from the same flower when fully open, and first blooms are frequently single and imperfect in form, as well as deficient in color and fragrance, because the roots are not sufficiently established to furnish the full amount of nourishment required. The same effects are also produced by other causes, as, for instance, poor ground, shade and insufficient light; too much or too little moisture; too close proximity to buildings or larger and stronger plants, trees, vines, &c. In fact, anything which interferes with the growth of the plant or impairs its vitality, will lessen the beauty and color of the flower. Give your Roses opportunity to grow strong, and they will not disappoint you in color or fullness of bloom or fragrance.

Efficient Management of the Post-Office Department.—We again have the pleasure of commending, in the strongest terms, the efficient management of the Post-Office Department, for the wonderful promptness and certainty with which packages are delivered to all Post-Offices in the country—even the most remote. We do not know that one package in a thousand has failed to reach its destination safely.

To Postmasters.—We are in constant receipt of many courtesies from Postmasters, messengers and carriers in all parts of the United States, for which we beg to return our sincere thanks. We are always glad of the opportunity to return a favor done our customers or ourselves, and will be obliged if you will kindly call our attention to any matters of the kind.

Personal.—We believe in straightforward, liberal dealing, and it so happens that our customers are the most liberal and considerate people in the world. We constantly strive to deserve their confidence and good wishes.

A Large Rose Garden.—Our Roses are scattered all over the United States, and we send a great many to Canada, Newfoundland, Mexico and the Sandwich Islands. Every one who has a garden or a home wants them, and we are trying to grow them in sufficient quantity to supply the constantly increasing demand.

No Charges to Pay.—No express or other charges to pay WHEN PLANTS ARE SENT BY MAIL, and we guarantee them to reach you in just as good condition as if sent by express. This applies, of course, to small orders; large orders should be sent by express when convenient.

Large Roses.—We are sometimes asked for Large Roses; people say they wish "BIG PLANTS FOR IMMEDIATE EFFECT." We are glad to accommodate when we can send plants that we know will give satisfaction, but we cannot fill many orders of this kind, AND DO NOT OFFER LARGE ROSES, BECAUSE IT COSTS MORE TO GROW LARGE PLANTS IN SUITABLE CONDITION FOR SENDING OUT THAN MOST PEOPLE ARE WILLING TO PAY. The large Roses usually sold by florists have been forced to large growth and bloom under glass, and are almost worthless for planting in open ground. In order to bloom well, and give satisfaction to the purchaser, they require entirely different treatment, and this adds so much to their cost that few people would be willing to pay the price.

How to Obtain Large Roses.—The best way to get large Roses that will be sure to give satisfaction is to plant our vigorous young Roses and raise them; THEY GROW LARGE VERY FAST, AND PRODUCE TEN TIMES AS MANY ROSES THE FIRST SEASON AS THE LARGE ROSES USUALLY SOLD. This may seem strange, but it is true.

Roses for Canada.—All plants for Canada must be sent by Express. The Express companies forward promptly at reasonable rates, and collect their charges and the custom duty at the office of destination. We should be glad to send Roses by mail to all the British Provinces, BUT CANNOT DO SO, because the International Postal Regulations do not permit the U. S. Mails to carry packages of plants over 8 oz. in weight or having any intrinsic value to Canada or any foreign country.

Foreign Countries.—For the reason given above, WE CANNOT NOW SEND ROSES BY MAIL TO ANY FOREIGN COUNTRY, and we have found it so difficult and unsatisfactory to forward SMALL PACKAGES by either Ocean Express or Steamship Lines, that we do not invite orders from foreign countries, unless from persons who have agents or friends on this side who will receive and forward the plants to them.

INFORMATION FOR PURCHASERS.

Guarantee.—All Roses and plants sent out by us, whether by mail or express, are guaranteed to reach the purchaser in good growing condition. In case of accident by which they are injured or spoiled in any way before delivery, we request information to be forwarded immediately, so that they may be replaced at once. Having arrived in good order, our responsibility ceases.

What our Guarantee Means.—We think our guarantee is very plain, but some people seem to misunderstand it. A lady writes, "The Roses I got of you were very nice, and came in good order. I planted them out exactly as directed in the GUIDE and three of them died. Please send me three more in their place, as you promise." Answer—We do not guarantee plants to live and grow: no one can do this. We promise to deliver them in good growing condition; if they are lost after this, it is generally the result of accident or improper treatment, which, being entirely beyond our control, we cannot be responsible for. If our friends will kindly remember, we take the risk of delivering our plants safely and in good growing condition at all Post-Offices in the United States, and add extra plants to every order, partly for the purpose of making good any deficiencies that may occur, we are sure they will not ask more. Plants die everywhere; it cannot be expected that every one will grow under all circumstances.

Size and Quality of Plants.—The Roses we send are fine, strong, healthy plants—grown in pots. Many of the Ever-Blooming varieties are ready to bud when sent out, and will quickly come into full bloom. Where the season is sufficiently advanced they are suitable for planting at once in open ground, or they can be grown nicely in the house, in pots or boxes.

OUR ROSES ALL POT GROWN.—All our Roses are Pot Grown, and specially prepared for safe transportation and immediate bloom. They are grown in pots in ordinary fertile soil, without manure or stimulants of any kind; our design being to produce strong, healthy, well-matured plants, well furnished with working roots. Instead of forcing them into bloom here, we aim to keep them from blooming as much as may be, and to get them ready and in the best possible condition to grow and bloom quickly after planting out. Our Roses are not tired and needing rest, or petted and forced so that they demand unusually nice treatment, but are sent out strong and hungry, ready for work, inured to hardship, and fully prepared to battle for life, and this is one great secret of their success. YOU CANNOT EASILY KILL THEM OR KEEP THEM FROM BLOOMING.

OUR ROSES ARE ALL ON THEIR OWN ROOTS.—All our Roses are grown from cuttings, and are therefore all on their own Roots. If the plants incline to sprout from the root, they should be encouraged to do so, as young, vigorous shoots frequently produce the finest flowers. They cannot throw up wild shoots, because root and top are the same; and, as long as any part of the plant remains, it will produce the same beautiful flower.

NO BUDDED OR GRAFTED ROSES SENT OUT.—We do not send out any budded or grafted Roses, for, notwithstanding all that is said in their favor by those who are interested in their sale, it is well known that budded and grafted Roses generally prove an utter failure in any but professional hands, and are entirely unreliable for general planting.

Purchasers' Choice of Varieties.—We have on hand at all times an enormous stock to select from, and endeavor to grow all the varieties named in quantity sufficient to furnish exactly what is ordered. We offer our whole stock without reserve, and rarely have to make any changes in purchasers' selections.

Which are the Best Varieties.—We cannot give a list of the best varieties, because those that are best for one place may not be so for another; but we will cheerfully select for purchasers who direct us to do so; and if we are told the class of Roses wanted and the colors preferred, we can always insure satisfactory results, both in the varieties and the quality of plants.

Why our Business is so Large.—The wonderful vitality and early-blooming power of the Roses grown by our special methods; the unrivaled collection of varieties to choose from, and the prompt, liberal and careful manner in which we fill all orders, has brought us an immense trade. Orders pour in by every mail from all sections of the country, and are filled and forwarded with the regularity of clock-work.

Correction of Errors.—We take all possible care to avoid errors, and when any occur request information to be forwarded immediately, so that they can be corrected at once; we cannot afford, and do not mean to have a single customer dissatisfied, if prompt and careful attention to his wants will prevent it.

Pleasant Entertainment.—We aim to make it as safe and pleasant, and in every way as satisfactory to order Roses by mail, as it would be to purchase them of us if you were here on our own grounds.

How Packed.—We pack in strong wooden boxes, with live moss filling. Though this is the most expensive way, it is the best, and, therefore, we use no other.

NO ORDER FILLED FOR LESS THAN ONE DOLLAR.—The cost of box, packing and postage, saying nothing of the value of the plants, is from 25 to 50 cents for each package, and it costs just as much to send a single plant as to send five, because, to insure safe carriage, the box must be full. One dollar is the smallest order that will pay for mailing in the excellent way we do it.

Weight of Mail Packages.—The weight of packages that can be sent by mail is limited to four pounds, and though this will admit quite a number of fine Roses, larger orders are frequently wanted. When desired, large orders can be made up in small packages and sent by mail; but it is generally best, unless to very remote points, to direct large orders sent by express.

Express.—When plants are ordered sent by express, we pack in the best manner and add as many extras as we can afford, but the purchaser must pay the express charges. If ordered C.O.D., return charges on money will be added. We do not promise larger Roses by express than we send by mail, but can frequently send larger shrubs and other plants, and sometimes larger Roses. For express orders we always select the largest and best plants for the purpose on hand at the time, giving careful regard to the interest of the purchaser. Our system of packing is so complete that we can ship with perfect safety during the coldest or hottest weather, and guarantee the plants to arrive in good condition.

We Ship by Express, when Directed, the purchaser paying the express charges. Many persons prefer to have their goods sent by express; the plants have more room in the boxes and look larger and better when opened; besides this, a portion of earth can be left on the roots which some consider a great advantage. Large orders should always be sent by express when the plants are wanted in the best condition and the expense is not an objection; but we can send small orders long or short distances just as safely and satisfactorily by mail, and save the purchaser the express charges.

Better than we Promise.—We make it a rule to do better than we promise, our customers get generous value and a handsome present with every order. Some concerns, running cheap stock may offer more Roses for a dollar, but we have plenty of testimony from those who have tried them that ours are the cheapest in the end.

Gratis.—Gratis plants are those presented over and above the order. Please notice that to save writing "gratis," our presented plants are marked P. on back of label. It is well to take good care of all presented plants; they are frequently very choice sorts.

Beautiful Hardy Flowering Shrubs and Climbing Vines.—Besides Roses, we offer in the GUIDE, BEAUTIFUL, HARDY FLOWERING SHRUBS, CARNATION PINKS, CLIMBING VINES, GLADIOLUS AND LILIES, all of which can be sent nicely by mail at the prices named. These are among the very nicest things of their class. They are grown specially for our mail trade, and can be depended upon to give perfect satisfaction. See descriptions under their proper heads.

Bedding Plants.—We do not grow or offer any plants except those enumerated in this book.

HYDRANGEA GRANDIFLORA and HYDRANGEA OTAKSA (see cuts) are among the finest hardy flowering shrubs. If you have not already got them, do not fail to order both. They will please you and should be in every collection.

Magnificent Seedling Gladiolus.—We ask particular attention to our splendid Seedling Gladiolus—mixed colors—and Twenty-Six elegant-named sorts, they are among the finest ever offered in this country. Our friends will do well to plant them by the hundred; their remarkable beauty will surpass all reasonable expectations.

BEFORE CLOSING YOUR ORDER SEE OUR OFFER OF PREMIUM ROSES; NEW ROSES OF '83 AND DIAMOND LIST ROSES. REDUCED RATES ON HARDY ORNAMENTAL FLOWERING SHRUBS, CLIMBING VINES, &c., &c. PARTICULAR ATTENTION IS ALSO ASKED TO OUR VERY LIBERAL CLUB TERMS AND SPECIAL OFFERS. PERHAPS A FEW NEIGHBORS WOULD LIKE TO SEND WITH YOU.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Please Write Address Clear and Plain.—When writing us be particular to write your Name, Post-Office, County and State clear and plain. Addresses that can't be read, hinder business, cause much trouble and annoyance, and the answers to them are likely to be delayed and missent.

Always Sign the Same Name.—If you sign different names at different times it causes trouble and confusion, and sometimes makes it impossible for us to answer your inquiries correctly. We cannot know until told that Mary E. Smith and Mrs. John W. Smith is the same person.

Please use the Order Sheet.—We send a printed Order Sheet and envelope with each GUIDE, so that our friends can make up and forward their orders with the least possible trouble. We will send more when requested. No difference how lately or how often you may have written to us, always give your Full Name, Post-Office, County and State. The State is of great importance because there are many Post-Offices of the same name in different States. In a business so large as ours, having such vast numbers of correspondents, full clear and distinct addresses are of the utmost importance.

Please Look Over Your Order.—After making out your order it is best to look carefully over it to see that it is correct. This takes but a moment, and may save much trouble and annoyance.

Keep a Copy of Your Order.—If you keep an exact copy of your order you can tell just what and when you ordered, and can send an intelligible letter of inquiry at any time it may be necessary.

Postage Stamps.—When writing a letter that requires an answer it is always best to inclose a stamp, and, when necessary, Postage Stamps can occasionally be used for small change, but they are a poor substitute for money when ordering goods, and should never be sent unless from remote places, where neither P. O. Orders or other suitable currency can be obtained. If sent in ordinary letters they are about as likely to be stolen as money, and they frequently come to hand so badly stuck together as to be utterly useless. Please do not send stamps unless impossible to remit by Postal Order or Registered Letter.

Information about Post-Office Orders, Bank Drafts, Registered Letters, &c.

Post-Office Orders are the safest and most convenient form of remittance ever devised. If not to be had at your nearest Post-Office, it is worth going a little further to obtain one. You can get the exact amount desired; no difficulty making change, and absolutely no risk of losing your money, because if stolen, or destroyed on the way, we can get a duplicate, when you tell us the office where issued, the number, date and amount. (These matters should be noted for reference before mailing.) ALWAYS INCLOSE THE POSTAL ORDER IN THE SAME LETTER WITH YOUR ORDER FOR PLANTS, both will then be received at the same time, there will be no uncertainty about the amount, and no cause for delay in filing.

Bank Drafts on New York, Philadelphia, and other principal cities, can be had of all banks and bankers. They are safe because no one can get the money except the person or company to whose order the Draft is made payable; and if stolen or lost on the way, the bank will issue a duplicate, when satisfied of the loss.

Registered Letters.—Letters can be registered at every Post-Office in the United States. All Postmasters are obliged to register letters when requested to do so. Enclose the money in the presence of the Postmaster and take his receipt for it. We receipt to our Postmaster for every Registered Letter received.

Why Some Letters Fail to Reach Us.—Some people are very much surprised if a letter of theirs fails to reach us, but the truth is, a few letters are constantly lost and stolen from the mails and mail thieves are no respecters of persons; those who send money loose in ordinary letters are sure to be the victims. The remedy is to make ALL REMITTANCES BY POST-OFFICE ORDER, BANK DRAFT OR REGISTERED LETTER, and never to send money loose in ordinary letters.

Orders Promptly Answered.—All orders received by us are filled immediately on their receipt. There is no deviation from this rule, unless for a short time in the height of the season, when it may be impossible to fill the orders as fast as they come to hand. In this case every order is acknowledged by mail as soon as received, and filled promptly in rotation as quickly as possible.

Letters of Inquiry.—If you do not hear from us in a reasonable time after sending your order, read carefully our directions for DELAYED ORDERS, and send a letter of inquiry at once. No difference how many letters of inquiry may be necessary, keep on sending them till you get an answer. Instances have occurred in which several letters have been lost in succession from the same writer.

Notice our Platform.—We grow all varieties of Roses worth having; we sell at the lowest prices consistent with excellent quality, and always give liberal value. Our plants are specially prepared for sending by mail; we deliver them Post-paid and in good growing condition at all Post-Offices in the United States, AND SEND A HANDSOME PRESENT OF CHOICE PLANTS WITH EVERY ORDER, LARGE AND SMALL.

HOW TO SEND MONEY.

All money sent to us as directed in either of the three ways given below, is at OUR RISK, and we will send full value for it in all cases.

First.—POST-OFFICE ORDERS, Payable to us at West Grove Post-Office, Chester County, Pa.

Second.—BANK DRAFTS, Payable to our Order, on New York, Philadelphia or any Principal City.

Third.—MONEY IN REGISTERED LETTERS.

POSTAL NOTES.—The New Postal Note is entirely unsafe, IF LOST OR STOLEN THE SENDER HAS NO REDRESS—THE GOVERNMENT GETS THE MONEY AND KEEPS IT.—As Money Orders can be obtained at all Post-Offices where Postal Notes are for sale, better ALWAYS GET MONEY ORDERS, THERE IS THEN NO RISK OF LOSING YOUR MONEY. We will not be responsible for the receipt of Postal Notes unless enclosed in a Registered Letter.

Notice.—We will not be responsible for money sent loose in ordinary letters. IT IS NOT SAFE. Persons who send it in this way must take the risk themselves, and if lost must not expect us to make it up; we cannot do so.

Canada.—(See page 11.) Friends in Canada can remit by International Postal Order on West Grove P. O. (West Grove is an International Money Order Office), Bank Draft on New York, or Canadian Currency in Registered Letter. When remitting by International Postal Order, please enclose the P. O. Order in the letter with the List of Plants wanted; both will then be received at the same time, and there will be no cause for delay in filling.

AN ELEGANT ROSE PRESENTED.—We present free, in addition to all other premiums, AN ELEGANT ROSE—your choice from the General Collections—for every remittance made us by POSTAL ORDER, BANK DRAFT or REGISTERED LETTER. When the remittance amounts to $5 or more, we will present a NEW, OR DIAMOND LIST ROSE, of a variety we can spare. Some sorts are so scarce they must all be reserved for actual purchasers; if the variety asked for is not sent, it will be understood it is for this reason. The Rose presented for this purpose will be marked R. on the back of the label containing the name.

Send the Remittance with the Order.—We do a Strictly Cash business; the proper remittance must in all cases accompany the order. The vast number of orders to be filled and forwarded by every mail during the busy season, renders it impossible to keep open accounts. The price of each article is plainly given, so that every one can tell the exact cost. Please send the remittance with the order, and, besides being promptly and liberally served, YOU WILL FIND THAT WE DO BETTER THAN WE PROMISE.

DELAYED ORDERS.

NOTICE.—When writing about delayed Orders, always be careful to write your Name, Post-Office, County and State, clear and plain. If you have not heard from us in a reasonable time after sending your order, it is evidence that the order has not been received by us or that our reply has miscarried, and you should send a Letter of Inquiry at once.

If you sent a Post-Office Order, Give the NUMBER, DATE and AMOUNT, OFFICE OF ISSUE and WHERE PAYABLE, and a list of what you want, and we will fill and forward at once, if not already done.

If you sent a Bank Draft, Give Bank of Issue, Number, Date and Amount, and a list of what you want, and, if not already done, we will fill and forward at once.

If you sent Money by Registered Letter, Tell us the amount, and enclose Postmaster's Receipt showing the date and number, also list of what you want; so that if not already done, we can fill and forward at once.

If you sent Money Loose in Ordinary Letter, without Registering, contrary to our advice and direction, it is entirely at your own risk, and if lost there is no redress, as we will not be responsible for money sent in this way unless it is received.

Ask at the Post-Office.—If plants sent by mail are not received promptly, be sure to ask at the Post-Office for them; some Post-Offices hold such packages until asked for, and city carriers do not always deliver them unless specially requested.

OUR ROSES SURE TO BLOOM.—Our Roses are not weak cuttings, but strong, healthy well matured plants, grown in ordinary soil without manure of any kind; they require no petting or nursing, but are anxious to get a chance to grow, and will succeed where others fail. Every order, whether for One Dollar or a Hundred Dollars, meets with careful, prompt, and intelligent attention. The business is under the strict personal supervision of the proprietors, WHO MAKE IT A RULE TO DO BETTER THAN THEY PROMISE.

CLUB TERMS.

Though our prices are exceedingly low for the quality of our goods, we desire to reward our friends who get up clubs as liberally as possible. A little time spent in taking orders of your friends and neighbors will secure for yourself, without money, a splendid collection of the newest and choicest Roses and Plants. We always aim to do a little better than we promise, but our friends will please remember that the Roses given them for the work are all that can possibly be afforded. They must not give the Reward Roses to their purchasers, and then expect the same for themselves.

CLUB ORDERS are always sent to the getter up of the Club, for distribution, unless specially ordered otherwise. Each person's order is selected as directed, and tied separate, so there is nothing to do but deliver the bundle. We present to the getter-up of the Club as many Extras as we can afford, to pay for the trouble of distribution. We can send to separate addresses, when requested to do so, but cannot fill so liberally in such cases, because the cost of sending small lots to the different addresses is much greater than to send all to one address.

NOTICE.—Our friends who get up Clubs may select the NEW and DIAMOND LIST ROSES, to which they are entitled from the NEW and DIAMOND LISTS, the NEW HYBRID TEAS, and the POLYANTHA ROSES, excepting only the colored Plate Roses, and Moss Roses, which must all be reserved for actual purchasers.

For $3, we send 3 one dollar packages (5 Roses each), and 3 Roses, your choice from the General Collections, and 1 premium Rose to the getter-up of the club.

For $100, we send 100 one dollar packages, and 200 Roses and 10 Premiums and 100 New or Diamond List Roses (your choice of varieties), to the getter-up of the club.

NOTE.—Persons who wish to sell our Roses, and would prefer to get their pay in money rather than Premium Roses, can enclose stamp for CIRCULAR, No. 2, which gives full information, and will be sent on application.

Clubs need not be made up entirely of Roses—purchasers can order whatever they like at the prices given, and have the same Reward, as if the whole order was Roses.

OUR STOCK is larger and finer this year than ever before—it is not approached in extent and variety by any establishment in this country or Europe; it is a fact that we GIVE AWAY EVERY YEAR in PREMIUMS and EXTRAS MORE ROSES THAN MOST OTHER ESTABLISHMENTS GROW.

TERMS OF SALE.

Postage Paid by Us.—We pay the postage on all plants sent by mail, but when sent by express the purchaser pays the express charges.

No Order filled for less than One Dollar.—Owing to the cost of postage and the expense of mailing plants to carry safely, no order for less than one dollar can be filled.

Orders may be made up of any Plants offered in the Guide, and are entitled to the same Premiums, whether they are for Roses or other plants, or some of both.

Varieties all Labeled, and Safe Carriage Guaranteed.—Every variety is labeled with a printed wooden label, and all plants are guaranteed to reach their destination in good growing condition, whether sent by mail or express.

PREMIUM ROSES.—Every dollar ordered, whether for Roses or other plants or both, adding at same time 10 cents to pay postage and packing, is entitled to one of our magnificent Premium Roses, SOUVENIR D'UN AMIE and LA PRINCESS VERA, or both for 20 cents. → THE NEW HYBRID TEA ROSES ←

The New Hybrid Tea Roses, lately introduced from Europe, are so distinct and beautiful, and are attracting so much attention, that we CLASS them by themselves. These splendid varieties represent an entirely NEW AND DISTINCT TYPE OR CLASS OF ROSES, the result of a cross between varieties of the Hybrid Perpetual or Remontant Roses, and the Teas. The great advantage claimed for them is, that they combine the hardiness of the Hybrid Perpetuals, with the constant blooming qualities, rich and delicate coloring, and delightful fragrance of the Tea Roses. Most of them are probably hardy in the Middle States, and they are well worthy of extensive and thorough trial by all who love rare and beautiful Roses. We make prices as low as the value and scarcity of the different varieties will permit.

→ OUR BEAUTIFUL EVER-BLOOMING ROSES ←

The Dingee-Conard Roses.—Roses are the most beautiful of all flowers, and it is safe to say the DINGEE-CONARD ROSES ARE THE FINEST IN THE WORLD. They are remarkable for quick and constant bloom, exquisite beauty and delicious fragrance. They adorn the most costly suburban mansion, as well as the humblest cottage, and are now dispensing their beauty and fragrance in tens of thousands of pleasant and refined homes scattered all over the country, from the St. Lawrence to the Rio Grande.

Constant Bloomers.—Our EVER-BLOOMING ROSES begin to bloom soon after they are planted out and continue blooming through all the Summer and Autumn months, until frozen up or covered with snow. The flowers are of beautiful form, very double and full; delightful fragrance, and of all the lovely shades of color that Roses ever assume.

They do Well Everywhere.—These beautiful Roses grow and bloom nicely in all parts of the United States and most sections of Canada.

Are they Hardy?—No, not entirely so, though many varieties will bear the Winter in most sections of the Middle States, if given a light covering of leaves or evergreen branches. The tops may be killed quite to the ground, but if cut back to the live wood and the roots are not hurt they will throw up new shoots and bloom as well as ever.

Not a Serious Matter.—If they are occasionally killed by the Winter, it is not a serious matter, as they can now be replaced about as cheaply as bedding plants, which are bought for that season only. No flowers better repay their trifling cost than our beautiful Ever-Blooming Roses, and, if necessary, you can well afford to get fresh plants every year. In the South they flourish luxuriantly and grow to large size.

Selection of Varieties.—Our friends can select any varieties they prefer, or, if they desire it, we will select for them; and if we are told the colors preferred, and what the Roses are for, we can select with the certainty of giving perfect satisfaction. The varieties will all be labeled exactly as if selected by the purchaser.

HYBRID PERPETUAL ROSES.

The Hybrid Perpetuals are among the most valuable of all Roses. They are particularly desirable for cold climates, because they are entirely hardy; also for the South, as they are fully as beautiful, but entirely different from the Ever-Blooming Roses, which there flourish so luxuriantly.

The flowers of this class are very double and of immense size (frequently from five to six inches in diameter), delightful fragrance, and of the most gorgeous and dazzling colors, but no shades of yellow. The plant is a strong, vigorous grower, requiring but little attention, and surviving all ordinary hardships. Though slight protection in Winter, in very exposed situations, is always desirable, THESE ARE THE HARDEST ROSES, AND MAY BE EXPECTED TO BEAR SAFELY ANY REASONABLE DEGREE OF COLD. When you plant Hybrid Perpetuals you may be quite certain of having Roses every year without further trouble.

Though called PERPETUAL, it must be understood that they are not such early and constant bloomers as the Ever-Blooming Roses. Some varieties do not bloom the first year, but grow strong and get ready for the next. When once established they all bloom freely at usual time, early in the season, and continue to bloom at short intervals during the Summer and Autumn months. They are much improved in size and beauty by good cultivation and rich ground. We grow, of the Hybrid Perpetual class alone, more than two hundred varieties, all of which can be furnished when desired. As, however, many of these resemble each other very closely, we have thought it was not necessary to describe more than the finest and most distinct. Indeed, for ordinary purposes, better effects are produced with fifteen or twenty sorts than with more.

The Hybrid Perpetuals should not be ordered for house culture, as they are not suitable for the purpose. They will grow and thrive as well as the others, but do not bloom as quickly.

NOTE.—We call attention to the White and Light Colored Hybrid Perpetuals, believing that they are not as generally planted as they should be. These fine varieties bloom soon after planting out, and continue to bloom at short intervals all through the Summer and Autumn months. The flowers are borne in large clusters and are very beautiful; the plants are mostly strong growers and quite hardy. MOSS ROSES.

MOSS ROSES stand alone in picturesque beauty different and distinct from all others. Their opening buds, half covered with delicate clinging moss of fairy-like texture, command our especial admiration and well deserve the loving tributes paid them in poetry and song.

The MOSS ROSE is a strong vigorous grower, PERFECTLY HARDY, and therefore justly esteemed as very desirable for out-door culture in open ground. Most varieties bloom but once in the season, and usually not the first year, but the flowers and buds are very large and handsome; they remain in bloom a long time, and are highly prized wherever beautiful Roses are known. Moss Roses like rich ground and are much improved in beauty and fragrance by liberal manuring and good cultivation, but they bear hardships and neglect well, and always bloom profusely. Being difficult and slow of propagation, the price is higher than for other Roses.

HYDRANGEA GRANDIFLORA.

Description.—Hydrangea Grandiflora—See illustration above. A new, very striking and elegant Hardy Flowering Shrub, suitable for Lawns, recently introduced from Japan; the flowers are pure white, afterwards changing to pink, and are borne in immense pyramidal trusses more than a foot long and nearly as much in diameter. It blooms in mid-summer, and remains in bloom two or three months. Creates a great sensation wherever seen; is scarce and difficult to obtain. The plant is of bushy and compact growth, attains a height of 3 to 4 feet, and is perfectly hardy in all parts of the country, needs no protection of any kind.

Treatment.—The bush should be cut back every Spring at least one-half of last season's growth, dug around, and well manured. The flowers are borne on the new or young wood, and are largest and finest when the plant is making a strong vigorous growth.

A Pyramid of Flowers.—A writer in "Vick's Magazine" says: "The first year I planted HYDRANGEA GRANDIFLORA, it produced three heads of flowers, the second year fifty-six, and the third year ninety-two. Thorough cultivation and a pail of liquid manure once a week, helped the plant to bear this enormous load of flowers.

HARDY ORNAMENTAL FLOWERING SHRUBS.

(GENERAL COLLECTION.)

Our Trade in Hardy Ornamental Flowering Shrubs is Surprisingly Large.—We grow the CHOICEST VARIETIES and furnish fresh, vigorous plants, very different from the poor, stale specimens usually seen; and they give such great satisfaction and prove so much handsomer than people expect, that it keeps us very busy to get enough of them; indeed, some sorts are always in short supply. Fine shrubbery is invaluable in filling up NEW PLACES, and most all old places have room for a few more choice sorts.

Sent Post-paid by Mail.—We believe we are doing our friends a real kindness by sending strong, vigorous plants of these beautiful flowering shrubs post-paid by mail, so that they can be had at trifling expense by all who desire them. We have larger plants for those who order them sent by express.

Are they Hardy?—Yes; most of them are entirely hardy, and are strong, robust growers, thriving in all ordinary situations and requiring but little attention. It is a strong recommendation that you have to plant them but once; they need no protection in Winter, and improve with age.

Wanted Everywhere.—Fine shrubbery is now indispensable in all kinds of ornamental planting, whether in door-yard, lawn, park or cemetery. Shrubs may be planted singly or in groups or clumps, as occasion or taste may suggest; they fill up corners and odd spaces; make a convenient screen for walks and unsightly objects, as well as a background for finer and more tender plants. During their season of bloom, which lasts for several weeks, they are objects of rare beauty, not excelled by any other flowers. Some varieties make pretty hedges, highly ornamental in Summer, and a pleasant shelter from cold winds in Winter.

Hardy Flowering Shrubs are particularly desirable for new and exposed places; they are strong, vigorous growers, sure to succeed without much care, and, while producing a fine effect very quickly, they make a nice shelter for Roses and other less hardy plants.

PLEASE NOTICE.—We cannot fill orders of less than one dollar; but orders may be made up of any articles offered in the GUIDE, and are entitled to the same Premiums, whether for Shrubs or Roses, or both.

HEDGES.—The varieties marked with a star [*] are suitable for hedges and screens. When used for this purpose they should be set one foot apart. We will furnish strong blooming plants of these varieties by express, the purchaser paying express charges, fifty for $6.50; $12 per hundred. The price of all the shrubs in this list by mail, post-paid, is 25 cents each; five for $1; twelve for $2; twenty-four for $3.50; fifty for $7; $13 per hundred.

ALL COLORS MIXED.

NOTICE.—OUR BULBS ARE EXTRA FINE THIS YEAR.

GLADIOLUS IN BLOOM.

OUR SPLENDID SEEDLING GLADIOLUS have become almost as famous as our Beautiful Roses; they surprise every one by their remarkable beauty. In fact they are fully equal to the choicest named kinds, but as they are not named, and the colors are not kept separate, we sell them at the very low prices given below.

The FINEST IN THE WORLD.—Do not compare OUR SPLENDID SEEDLING GLADIOLUS with the cheap mixtures usually sold; they are as different as a Crab Apple is from a luscious Pearmain. These seedlings are the result of 10 years' careful Hybridization and selection, and represent the finest strains of Gladiolus ever produced.

PLANT THEM LARGELY.—Our friends who have room can safely plant them largely by the hundred and thousand; besides being wonderfully beautiful, they are very bright and striking, and attract more attention than any flowers of their season.

CULTURE.—The culture of the Gladiolus is very simple; the bulbs should be planted in the Spring, after danger of frost is past. It is a good way to plant at two or three different times, ten days or two weeks apart. This will give a succession of bloom from July to November. Set them about six inches apart (rows eight to ten inches apart), and three inches deep in a well-prepared bed of ordinary garden soil. During July and August they throw up tall spikes of splendid flowers of the most brilliant and gorgeous colors—crimson, scarlet, purple, orange, white, &c., with all imaginable intermediate shades and markings. They remain in bloom a long time, and always attract a great deal of attention. Before cold weather the bulbs should be lifted and stored in any dry place secure from frost, where they will keep nicely and be ready to plant again next season.

PRICE BY MAIL POST-PAID.—2 for 25 cents; 6 for 65 cents; 12 for $1.25; 50 for $4.50; 100 for $8.50.

JAPAN LILIES.

Japan Lilies are always greatly admired; their large size, lovely form and charming colors place them among the most beautiful flowers. Lily bulbs should be planted quite deep, say not less than six to eight inches. Unlike most other flowers, they do not need strong ground or manure, but thrive best in a partially shaded situation, sheltered by shrubbery and other plants. They are entirely hardy, and need no protection in Winter, though in exposed situations it is advisable to give a slight covering of leaves or coarse litter when convenient. Lilies increase in size and beauty with age, and should be left undisturbed from year to year. When the best effect is desired, we recommend planting one or two dozens of a kind, rather than one or two each of several kinds; they are very desirable and always give satisfaction. They can be planted Spring or Fall, as preferred.
