CALENDARS.

Instructions to Editors.

The Master of the Rolls desires to call the attention of the Editors of Calendars to the following considerations, with a view to secure uniformity of plan in the important works on which they are engaged:—

He is anxious to extend, as far as is consistent with proper economy and despatch, the utility of the Calendars of State Papers now publishing under his control: 1st. As the most efficient means of making the national archives accessible to all who are interested in historical inquiries; 2nd. As the best justification of the liberality and munificence of the Government in throwing open these papers to the public, and providing proper catalogues of their contents at the national expense.

The greater number of the readers who will consult and value these works can have little or no opportunity of visiting the Public Record Office, in which these papers are deposited. The means for consulting the originals must necessarily be limited when readers live at a distance from the metropolis; still more if they are residents of Scotland, Ireland, distant colonies, or foreign states. Even when such an opportunity does exist, the difficulty of mastering the original hands in which these papers are written will deter many readers from consulting them. Above all, their great variety and number must present formidable obstacles to literary inquirers, however able, sanguine, and energetic, when the information contained in them is not made accessible by satisfactory Calendars.

The Master of the Rolls considers that, without superseding the necessity of consulting the originals, every Editor ought to frame his Calendar in such a manner that it shall present, in as condensed a form as possible, a correct index of the contents of the papers described in it. He considers that the entries should be so minute as to enable the reader to discover not only the general contents of the originals, but also what they do not contain. If the information be not sufficiently precise, if facts and names be omitted or concealed under a vague and general description, the reader will be often misled, he will assume that where the abstracts are silent as to information to be found in the documents, such information does not exist; or, he will have to examine every original in detail, and thus one great purpose will have been lost for which these Calendars have been compiled.

As the documents are various, the Master of the Rolls considers that they will demand a corresponding mode of treatment. The following rules are to be observed:—

1st. All formal and official documents, such as letters of credence, warrants, grants, and the like, should be described as briefly as possible.

2nd. Letters and documents referring to one subject only should be catalogued as briefly as is consistent with correctness. But when they contain miscellaneous news, such a description should be given as will enable a reader to form an adequate notion of the variety of their contents.

3rd. Wherever a letter or paper is especially difficult to decipher, or the allusions more than ordinarily obscure, it will be advisable for the Editor to adhere, as closely as is consistent with brevity, to the text of the document. He is to do the same when it contains secret or very rare information.

4th. Where the Editor has deciphered letters in cipher, the decipher may be printed at full length. But when a contemporary or authorised decipher exists it will be sufficient to treat the cipher as an ordinary document.

5th. Striking peculiarities of expression, proverbs, manners, &c. are to be noticed.

6th. Original dates are to be given at the close of each entry, that the reader may know the exact evidence by which the marginal dates are determined.

7th. Where letters are endorsed [by the receivers and the date of their delivery specified, these endorsements are to be recorded.

8th. The number of written pages of each document is to be specified, as a security for its integrity, and that readers may know what proportion the abstract bears to the original.

9th. The language of every document is to be specified. If, however, the greater part of the collection be in English, it will be sufficient to denote those only which are in a different tongue.

10th. Where documents have been printed, a reference should be given to the publication.

11th. Each series is to be chronological.

12th. The Prefaces of Editors, in explanation of documents in the volume, are not to exceed fifty pages, unless the written permission of the Master of the Rolls to the contrary be obtained.

THE most important historical point in the present volume of Domestic State Papers is the development, detection, and frustration of a wide-spread plot for the restoration of monarchy, called, from the locality of the principal rising, the Salisbury insurrection.

The first notice of it occurs on 15th February 1655, when an order was issued to the Lord Mayor and sheriffs of London, and numerous other officers and gentlemen, to form themselves into a Militia Commission, to raise men, and to appoint officers, subject to the Protector's approval, "lest this great city should be left naked and exposed to the rage of wicked men," whilst the army has to march to those parts of the kingdom in actual rebellion (p. 43).

In the fear that the troops still remaining in London might yield to discontent on account of their unpaid arrears, 100*l.* was ordered at once to each regiment, from moneys provided for the contingencies of Council, to be repaid later out of the Army assessments (p. 83).

On 24th February, horse races, in any part of England or Wales, were forbidden for six months, lest use should be made of the confluence of people to raise troubles (p. 53).

On 10th March, the rumour of "some desperate design on foot," caused orders to the officers of ships at Portsmouth to keep a strict watch for the preservation of the ships, and to stop all boats passing at night, and the officers—cautious about exercising coercion without due authority—requested a warrant to fire on the boats if they would not submit. Soldiers were sent on board such ships as were not well manned, for their protection.

At Chatham, the guards on board the men-of-war were doubled, and a requisition was sent to the Ordnance office to supply arms to some hundreds of men on the works, who would be faithful and secure the Navy there. A boat with musketeers was sent up and down the river, to apprehend suspicious persons passing about Queensborough, where were many concerned in the last rising. The Mayor of Rochester was ordered to secure the Malignants about that town, and the officers of Upnor Castle were quickened to attend to their duty, and prevent the escape of prisoners (pp. 73, 75, 81).

Meanwhile rumours were rife of a gathering of 2,000 or 3,000 armed horse in Wiltshire, with a design to seize Southampton and other places, and of the seizure of the commissions of the judges who were sent down on the Western circuit (p. 74). A foot company was at once sent to Southampton at the request of the inhabitants, to secure the threatened town (p. 81).

Militia Commissioners were now appointed in 15 counties and 3 cities or towns of England and in South Wales, to raise a militia force, with instructions to enquire into conspiracies and secret meetings, disarm Papists or abettors of Charles Stuart, enquire after suspicious strangers, and see to the safe keeping of arms and ammunition. The providing of horses and arms was to be charged on the estates of the disaffected, but the horses and arms were to be given to the well-affected, who were to be formed into regiments and trained; those refusing to appear to be fined 20*l.*, and mutineers or disobedient persons imprisoned. In the lists of these Militia Commissioners appear the names of most of the prominent military men of the times, e.g. Sir Geo. Booth, Col. Rob. Lilburne, Major-Gens. Lambert and Desborow; also several peers and baronets, and Lawrence, President, and Thurloe, Secretary of Council (pp. 77-8).

The alarm next arose that foreign forces were to aid the internal rising, and that all along the sea-coast of France, large bodies of horse and foot had been brought down to the frontier towns and garrisons (p. 81). It was even rumoured that several coast towns of England were to be handed over to the French, as the guerdon for their assistance (p. 344). Major-Gen. Sir Jos. Wagstaff, sent over as the leader of the movement for Charles II. in the West, boasted not only that it would be aided there by French troops under the Duke of York, but that the King himself would land in the North, and that the whole nation was prepared to rise in arms (p. 99).

To repel the insurrection, Major Butler was sent down with 4 troops to Salisbury, and Gen. Desborow into Wiltshire and Somersetshire; they kept up correspondence with each other, and the enemy, headed by Wagstaff, retreated in trepidation before them, but were followed and routed at South Molton in Devonshire (pp. 84, 88, 365). Such a panic appears to have seized the Royalist party, that they were "like a hare started," and, "hurried on by their fears and guilt," hardly remained 3 hours in one place, but dispersed at the approach of the repelling forces (p. 87).

General Desborow made a triumphant entry into Exeter, and was received with grateful enthusiasm by the well-affected, and he immediately proceeded to the trial of the prisoners taken in battle or pursuit, of whom 140 were already lodged in Exeter gaol (p. 87).

For the more rapid settlement of the business, they were first examined in four different places, by eight persons, as to their guilt (pp. 89-91). Capt. Hatsell writes on March 26th advising speedy trial of those committed, because now the country is much set against them, lest in time pity should arise, and efforts be made on their behalf. He reports 20 or 30 of them as worthy of the halter, and some of banishment to the plantations (p. 99).

Two commissions of Oyer and Terminer were accordingly issued, one for the trial of those in the Western counties, and the other for the North, where disturbances had also been suppressed (pp. 90, 91, 106, 112-4, 116-7).

The Sheriff of Exeter, Col. John Copleston, was fearful lest the Cavalier party should endeavour to corrupt the jury, and sent a warrant to prevent it, by ordering summonses to be issued only to such as would not be likely to favour them (p. 120). On this account probably, John Penruddock, one of the accused, challenged 22 jurymen, though without showing cause, before the required 12 could be sworn in (p. 131). He was, however, condemned and executed, although he and another, named Grove, had surrendered themselves to Col. Umpton Crook, the Parliamentary general, on articles of war, which were thus violated, and their estates were forfeited (pp. 85, 131, 306, 365, 381).

Such of the prisoners as escaped death were sent to the foreign plantations, or permitted to serve in the fleet, where men were much wanted for the Western expedition, on taking the oath of fidelity to Government (pp. 249, 253).

Desborow visited Tiverton, Taunton, Wincanton and other places, in person, and remained in the West several months, for the settling down of the disturbed districts. Amongst the soldiers at least he was very popular, but he was recalled to town by the illness of his wife. He still, however, retained the direction of affairs in the West (pp. 99, 114, 187, 233, 241, 244, 255).

In other parts of the country the rising was equally unsuccessful. One of the places upon which hopes were built was Hull. The King had written to the masters and seamen of the Trinity House there, and they were forward in his cause, as were the town's people generally, to whom he had promised free pardon, and an Act of Indemnity. There were rumours that he would reside there for some time (pp. 338-9), and it was even reported that he had actually landed.

The strength of his party in Hull was doubtless increased by the influence of Major-Gen. Overton, who had long been Parliamentary general there, but had now declared for the Royal cause, and was marching, with part of the troops under his command in Scotland, to its assistance (pp. 102, 408).

It had been given out that Burlington, Scarborough, Newcastle, and other places in the North, were already secured "for an old thing, called a King" (p. 88). Lord Wilmot, recently created Earl of Rochester by Charles II., actually landed in the North, where a body of 8,000 men was reckoned upon as certain to rise, with whom he intended to surprise York; but the failure of the design in the West broke the spirits of the party elsewhere, and rendered their dispersion easy by the Protector's troops, who came down upon the places appointed for their rendezvous, of which Government seems to have had due notice.

From Berwick garrison 300 foot marched to baffle an attempt to surprise Newcastle, and other parties in North Wales, Shropshire, Nottinghamshire, Staffordshire and Cheshire, were similarly dispersed (pp. 88, 409-10).

Although many gentlemen were imprisoned in the North, they were only fined by the judges for riots and misdemeanours, and then released on bail (p. 325).

A list is given of 72 persons taken in the Eastern counties, and sent prisoners to Yarmouth, Mersey, Lynn, and London, who were all ordered to be released on bond (pp. 367-9).

As early as 24th March, the Protector was able to announce that the insurrection was suppressed, and thus the whole design disappointed of an "enemy who, had he prevailed, would have made us the most miserable and harassed nation in the world" (p. 92).

Still precautions were kept up some time longer; ships fitted up and victualled guarded the coasts; a strict account was ordered to be taken of all strangers and loose persons landing, and dangerous meetings to be prevented. Letters to this purport were sent to the newly appointed Militia Commissioners, and also to the justices of peace throughout the country (pp. 92-94). Letters of thanks were also issued to the Lord Mayor and Militia Commissioners of London, for their forwardness in execution of their trust (p. 96). In spite of the precautions used and the strict searches made, however, Lord Wilmot managed to escape from a port in Essex, landed at Flushing, and rejoined the King at Cologne, and Major-Gen. Wagstaff and O'Neale were equally fortunate (pp. 127, 192, 212, 215, 245, 409).

On July 6th, all those who had been of the party of the late King and his sons were ordered to remove out of London and Westminster before 12th July, on pain of proceedings, and to return to their usual dwelling, or place of birth, or parents' residence (p. 233).

The mismanagement of this insurrection was the cause of profound regret and vehement indignation among the Royalists. It was said that had their troops but held their ground at Salisbury a little longer, 10,000 men would have joined them; but that the reason of so small a gathering at first was that the King had twice postponed the day fixed for the rising, and therefore many feared they should be fooled in the end, and never rose at all (pp. 246, 250).

In the North also, Sir Marm. Langdale, who had very extensive influence there, was expected to head the rising, and the King so calculated upon him as to give him 500 guilders to prepare for the expedition; but he was not of Hyde's cabal, then powerful at the Court of the exiled King, and therefore he was kept back, though his absence was a serious detriment to the cause (pp. 216, 221).

In the early part of this disturbance, it seemed to be the interest of Government to make as light of it as possible, and especially to preclude suspicion of any general or wide spread dissatisfaction; but later on, a different policy was adopted. It was pronounced a "bold and dangerous insurrection," and was made a pretext for extending a network of military government all over England and Wales. The country was divided into 11 districts, over each of which was appointed a major-general, and a number of "Commissioners for securing the peace of the Commonwealth," to act under him. These major-generals were, of course, Cromwell's tried and trusted adherents; Desborow being selected for the Western counties, where his previous management had been so successful, and ordered to return thither (pp. 265, 275, 387). Their instructions bore almost entirely on the suppression of the Royalist party; their powers were extensive, and they had full ability to put them into execution, as the militia troops were placed entirely at their disposal (pp. 296, 344, 395).

The expense of this new military organization was, however, a very serious question to a Government already labouring under heavy embarrassments. The quelling of the insurrection had involved a considerable expenditure in the raising of country troops on the sudden emergency, in places where disturbances were expected, as Leicestershire, Devonshire, Dorsetshire, Somersetshire, Shrewsbury, &c. ; but these were chiefly met by local contributions, or by arrears of former militia moneys (pp. 149, 209, 244, 252, 259).

The continued support of an organized force throughout the entire country was a much more important concern. The Protector determined that it should be met by a decimation tax on the estates of all Royalists, whether tangibly connected with the late conspiracy or not.

Now the large proportion of these Royalists had already compounded for their previous delinquencies, and sued out and obtained their pardons, which were very comprehensive as to the freeing them from any future payment for their past offences. Some special reason had therefore to be found for the violation of this pledge. The plea urged was, that so widespread a conspiracy, and so general an expectation of a rising, could not have existed without strong moral support in promises, of which circumstances had prevented the fulfilment, for that the great sums raised could not have come out of a few hands. Therefore those even suspected of Royalist tendencies, on account of previous sequestrations or fightings against Parliament, were doomed to pay a tax yearly of 10 per cent. on landed income, and 10*l.* a year or 100*l.* total per 1,500*l.* for personalty. "It may seem " great severity," says the Protector in his Proclamation,
" to tax the whole party, when few have been convicted " or detected, in which case their whole estates had been " confiscated, but we appeal to all indifferent men whether

“ the party was not generally involved in this business ”
(pp. 237, 347, 410).

Many of the Royalists appealed, by petition to the Protector, against this tax, but their petitions were almost invariably referred back to the Major-General and Commissioners of their respective counties. Some of these petitions will appear in the succeeding volume of this Calendar. Those of persons who have already compounded will be found with their respective cases in the Composition Calendar, shortly to be printed.

A similar hardship had already been inflicted on the Channel islands of Guernsey and Jersey. Here, during the civil wars, Royalty had one of its strongest holds, and though several of the more important delinquents had already paid fines to Major Heane, then governor, Commissioners were appointed to exact a composition from the inhabitants, at 2 years' value of their landed estates, and  $\frac{1}{10}$ th of their personalty, exempting only those worth less than 7*l.* a year or 100*l.* personalty. Those who had been included in the articles of war granted to Mont Orgueil and Elizabeth Castles were to compound according to the terms thereof.

This proceeding called forth a vehement complaint of hardship (pp. 305-6), and an entreaty that all should not be prosecuted as traitors and rebels through the misdeeds of a few desperate delinquents, especially as many had acted only on compulsion.

In response to this, it was conceded that such only as had really assisted the enemy should be obliged to compound, and all others be freed from trouble (pp. 335-6); but the previously appointed rates were maintained for such as on examination should be proved to be delinquents; all rigorous proceedings to be forborne meantime (pp. 345-6).

The prosecution of these orders by the Commissioners was said to be moderate, yet the total of the fines imposed was 11,730*l.*, from which the fines already paid to Major-Gen. Heane, being nearly 4,000*l.*, were to be abated (p. 403).

The real cause of these severe proceedings is to be found in the impecuniosity of Government (p. 384). Complaints of the want of money abound in the present volume. Officers and soldiers, and their families, petition for unpaid arrears and compensation for losses (pp. 231, 306, 318, 320, 331-2, 344). Tradesmen for payment of long-deferred bills for Government stores (pp. 307, 317). Government employés and workmen for payment of salaries, some of which are 6 years in arrears (pp. 67, 230, 306, 313, 320, 379).

Individual claims were generally met by grants of the sum petitioned for, out of the moiety of such discoveries of concealed estates or debts due to the State as should be made by the petitioners. Thus the very payment of debts was converted into a source of income; but this system was fruitful of espionage, placed the interests of the petitioners in opposition to those of their neighbours and friends, and encouraged the employment of informers, who benefitted themselves by making discoveries to those who had obtained grants of this character.

Public necessities could not, however, be met in this way. The Navy Commissioners complain that they stand charged with a vast debt for wages of seamen and provisions; that the stores are exhausted, and cannot be replenished without ready money, the State's credit being so weakened by failures of payments on former contracts that nothing can be had on trust (p. 147).

The brewers and bakers supplying the Navy note to their "exceeding grief and distraction" that the prize moneys appointed for payment of nearly 8,000*l.* due to them are assigned to others, and urge their claims in piteous terms (p. 223).

The Admiralty Commissioners were so urgent in their demands that the Protector was advised to order them 100,000*l.* on account, but this could not be accomplished (p. 34).

The soldiers, both in England and Scotland, were greatly in arrears, yet part of the money set aside for their payment had to be diverted to more pressing needs (pp. 24, 25).

Attempts were made to borrow money from the East India Company (p. 240, 267) and from the treasurers at war (p. 267), and also to lessen expense by reducing the standing army both in England and Scotland, especially as the regular establishment of a militia force rendered it less needful. Here again a difficulty arose. The officers and soldiers could not be disbanded without payment of arrears, and there was great trouble to find the necessary funds (pp. 229, 251-2, 256, 265, 292, 309).

A like difficulty occurred in reference to the fleet. The ships which had been fitted out at great expense (p. 297) and successfully employed under General Blake in clearing the Mediterranean of pirates (pp. 337, 363) returned home; and to save the expense of their retention during the winter, the money appointed for the Navy had to be appropriated to their payment (pp. 359, 372, 382), and this diversion of the funds plunged the Navy Treasury into still greater embarrassment.

The outburst of indignation which arose in England on the barbarous persecutions of the Waldenses, under the authority of the Duke of Savoy, finds expression in the present volume. On 17th May, the elders and brethren of congregations in and about London petition the Protector for a "speedy course for the precious remnant" of those who have borne their testimony "against the innovation " of the Man of Sin," and for "a solemn mourning for " their sufferings and our sins." The result was the appointment of a general fast, the proclamation for which detailed in the strongest terms the cruelties perpetrated on the helpless people (pp. 165, 182-3).

Collections were ordered in all the churches on behalf of the sufferers, and were freely made on board ships, in the outburst of a genuine sympathy (pp. 184-5). The churchwardens were also enjoined to go from house to house in their several parishes, and receive contributions, setting down the names in a schedule to be signed by the housekeeper.

Sir Christopher Pack, Lord Mayor, and Alderman Thomas Vyner, were appointed treasurers, with an efficient committee, to see to the collection and distribution of the money (pp. 196-7).

The response to this appeal was liberal in many quarters, whilst in others no effort was made. On 12th July, therefore, a second proclamation was issued, urging the collection upon those parishes where it had not been made, and its paying in when this had not already taken place (pp. 239, 240.)

On 16th August 15,000*l.* was sent beyond seas, of which 5,000*l.* was to be paid at Geneva to John Lodowick Calandrin, "to be disposed according to his Highness's " orders" (pp. 290, 371).

A rumour was circulated by the Royalists that the money so collected and sent to Switzerland was employed by Cromwell, not for its destined purposes, but to hire a Swiss life guard of 3,000 men, become needful to him because those of his own army disapproved his despotic designs. It was added that, to conceal the design, many Swiss families were brought in to reside in London (pp. 316, 375, 384). That if he make show of calling a Parliament, it will be to gain time till he can get over the Swiss guard and purge his army, for he knows he can only be secure by the power of an army, and an army and a Parliament are not compatible (p. 375). But a little later, we are told that he has probably laid aside the idea of this Swiss guard, as "it was discovered to some chief officers of the army" (p. 384).

It is unfortunate for impartial truth that the notices of Cromwell himself, excepting so far as they can be gathered from his own letters and proclamations, are chiefly found in the letters of his adversaries, and are therefore to be received with caution. In the correspondence of Secretary Nicholas, we are informed that he is "becoming every day more and more odious to all sorts of people in England" (p. 316). That "as sure as he is a mortal, he is extremely hated by all sorts of people, and in great want of money" (p. 348). That if he is compelled by want of money "to call a Parliament, which nothing but the greatest extremities will make him adventure on, he must submit to what it imposes, and then the Presbyterians will yoke him as they please" (p. 336). But that "the rulers of the rebels' army will never consent to a triennial or other Parliament that shall have power over them," lest they themselves be dissolved (p. 341).

A false rumour of the death of Cromwell on 1<sup>9</sup>th September of colic or convulsions, the result, as was supposed, of grief at his loss in the West Indies (pp. 338, 341), was received with caution, which was well-timed, as it proved a fable. One of the writers who circulated it expresses regret at its falsehood, adding, "I think with you that he will die a violent death, to which all honest and loyal “ subjects are bound to contribute their utmost endeavours,” adding that the writer knows an “honest, sober, and “ resolute man,” who, for 1,000 guilders in hand, will undertake it, as being the only means to restore the King without bloodshed (p. 355).

The Royalists gathered some consolation, however, from Cromwell's state of health. On September 7th, his Council refused an invitation to dine with the Lord Mayor of London, on the ground that his Highness's indisposition occasioned an addition of business which made them less at leisure (p. 324). On October 2nd, we hear from Cologne that a traveller lately come from England declares that he is so indisposed in mind and body that he cannot live long (p. 365).

An order in Council was issued 28th August for executing the laws already in being against the printing of unlicensed and scandalous books and pamphlets, and also restraining entirely the printing or publishing of books of news, except as authorized by the Protector and Council. This was the subject of much adverse comment. It was reported that his strict prohibition of “the printing of “ news is a sure sign that his affairs at home and abroad “ go not well ” (p. 384).

Any external marks of disrespect to the Protector or his Government were, however, kept in strict check. Wm. Beck, a shipwright of Stepney, was committed to Newgate for saying that he hated the Protector as a perjurer, for vowing to maintain the right of the people without King or House of Lords, and, now that he has got the power into his own hands, punishing the godly and letting the wicked go free. However, after two months' imprisonment, he was released, on security to do nothing to the prejudice of the present Government (p. 154).

John Norbury, a lawyer, on behalf of his clients entitling themselves "the freeholders and well-affected of " England," penned a broad sheet, which was printed and distributed in the form of a petition to the Protector, requesting him to undertake certain reforms, and to summon a Parliament. Norbury was censured severely, and bade to call in all the undisposed copies, and have the type broken up. This was done, although the petition fully recognized the Protector's powers as chief magistrate in place of the late King (pp. 277-8, 281-2).

Sergeants Twisden and Maynard and Wadham Windham incurred censure for defending as counsel one Cony, who was summoned before the Upper Bench on a writ of Habeas Corpus for non-payment of customs. Twisden urged that no customs were due by Act of Parliament after March 1653, and that the Star Chamber being abolished, no subjects should now be imprisoned, nor their goods taken away, but on a legal trial by jury.

For this bold language the Attorney-General reprimanded him in court, and he and his fellows were called severally before Council, and all three lodged in the Tower, where, in spite of their petitions and protestations of innocence of intention, they were detained for some time (pp. 167-8, 179, 196). A naval officer observes that " lawyers, who heretofore played their game on all sides, " begin to have their part in suffering," and adds, " the " Lord, who can catch the wise in their own craftiness, " make it of use to us all; but gold will make them speak " anything " (p. 173).

In regard to the Protector's foreign policy, we are told that he countenances the Swedish King's designs against Poland, in order to divert the States of Holland, and prevent their forces from looking towards England (p. 281); and again that the King of Sweden and Cromwell have agreed on the invasion of the West Indies and Poland, and the two will fill Europe with trouble unless prevented (p. 316), both being "full of ambition, and too far off to cross each other's designs" (p. 357), and Cromwell's greatest hopes lying in a conjunction with that King (p. 358).

This rumour of his close affinity with Sweden gathered strength from his great familiarity with the Swedish Ambassador in England. He had him as a frequent visitor, and often played at bowls with him (p. 316), and treated him with more honour than he had ever vouchsafed to an ambassador before (p. 348).

In favour of Sweden he also "wrote soundly, requiring the States General or those of Holland to forbear sending any ships of war into the Baltic to disturb the Swede's proceedings against Poland," and, writes Sec. Nicholas, "the States have most gallantly submitted to his rebellious worship's order, and laid aside their preparations to assist their friends in Dantzic" (pp. 365, 374).

Two fleets had lately been sent out from England, one under General Blake, which had successfully performed its mission of freeing the Mediterranean Sea from pirates, especially about Algiers and Tunis. The other had been sent to the West Indies under Admiral Penn and General Venables, and Cromwell's policy as regards Spain hinged greatly on the issue of Penn and Venables' expedition. In May 1655, we are told "that he will not conclude with France till assured of Penn's success in the West Indies, and will amuse both France and Spain with a treaty, and to prevent a peace between the two, will gain such an advantage over one that that crown will not dare to make peace without his consent;" and surprise is expressed that both parties do not appeal to the Pope's intervention to procure a peace rather than expose themselves to his "notorious insults" (p. 174), and "to basely crouch and creep to such an upstart fellow and rebel as Cromwell, who keeps them all in awe, and makes them tremble for fear of his power and displeasure" (p. 221).

On May 10th, we hear that he amuses the King of Spain with hopes of reconciliation, to his further ruin (p. 281).

But the mask was soon thrown off, for Penn and Venables succeeded in the capture of Jamaica from Spain; they failed, however, in Hispaniola, and returned home without orders, thereby incurring the displeasure of the Protector, who thus was enabled to throw upon them the blame of the partial failure of the expedition (pp. 312, 343, 356-7, 364-5, 389, 396, 402-3).

On September 14th, surprise was expressed at the tardiness of the Spanish King in declaring war with England, as he must know what has been done against him in the West Indies (p. 335), but it was accounted for because, though overt acts of hostility had been committed within the tropics, Blake's Mediterranean fleet had refrained from any attack on the Spanish fleet there (p. 347).

A few days later, however, an order was issued in Spain to seize all the English ships in Spanish ports, and all the English estates in Spain (pp. 356, 358).

Hopes were entertained by the Royalists that, if the war should be declared in Flanders as it had been in Spain, Blake himself, or at least a portion of his fleet, might come into the ports of Flanders, to offer their service to Charles II. (pp. 365, 389). It was surmised that Blake, having failed to intercept the Spanish plate fleet, might be doubtful as to his reception, after hearing of the treatment of Penn and Venables, and might hesitate to trust himself in the Protector's power; but these doubts were soon set at rest by his arrival with his entire fleet at Portsmouth, and thence in the Downs (pp. 374, 548-9).

Meantime a rumour was diligently spread in England that Cromwell was preparing a fleet of 120 sail for the West Indies. This did not obtain ready credence, as the winter was approaching, and his want of men and money was well known, and it was considered a mere boast to cover the consciousness of defeat (pp. 385, 389).

An order was really issued on 19th October, so secretly that it was not permitted to appear on the Council order books, for the preparation and dispatch of 8 ships to the West Indies (p. 610).

The sequence of the contest with Spain belongs, however, to the two following years, and will be noticed in the succeeding volumes of this Calendar.

St. Nicholas, steward of the Court of Chancery of the Cinque Ports, to the Protector, for an order for payment of their arrears for service. With reference thereon to Council, 6th Dec. 1654. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.] Annexing,

1. I. Statement by Phil. Darell, auditor, of the yearly fees due to Dr. Walker and other officers of Dover Castle, some of which are in arrear since 1649, 1650, or 1651.—29 Dec. 1654. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

Jan. 2.

2. Reference thereon to Gen. Desborow, Col. Montague, Mr. Strickland, Col. Fiennes, and Sir Chas. Wolsley, to consider how the pensions became due, and what is truly in arrear, and report [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page; also I. 75, p. 635.]

We beg your warrant to Mr. Frost to continue us our weekly allowance of 4*l.* [See 19 May 1654.] We have no other subsistence, though we have 4,000*l.* in arrear on our patents, and we are fully within the charity of your speech to Council, desiring them to act for God, and to relieve the distresses of the poor and needy. With reference thereon to Council, 20 Dec. 1654. [1 page. 2 copies.]

Jan. 2.

COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

1. Order on a report from the Admiralty Commissioners on the trust and care incumbent on the Navy Treasurer, Rich. Hutchinson, that he be allowed, for salary of himself and instruments, 1,500*l.* yearly from 1 Jan. 1654-5; also 100*l.* for every 100,000*l.* issued by him above 700,000*l.*, for all which the Navy Commissioners are to sign warrants. Approved, 5 Jan.

2. The Admiralty Commissioners being empowered to execute any further orders to be given them by the Protector and Council, are hereby empowered to give warrants to the Navy Treasurer for payment of the salaries of the Ordnance officers and clerks, to consider the best means of regulating the said office, and to give directions therein. Approved, 5 Jan.

3. Direction given to Mr. Jessop, on a report from the Admiralty Commissioners of the charge of the Navy for this winter and the following summer, viz.,

Debts in the Navy Office, stores on contracts depending or required between 21 Dec. last, and 31 March 1655; and the charge of 8,000 men to be employed in 60 ships, from 1 April to 31 Sept. 1655; total, 850,610*l.*

Ordnance charge for 60 ships for six months, gunpowder and shot excepted, 63,208*l.* 13*s.* 8*d.*

Gen. Blake and Penn's squadrons, from 25 March to 1 Oct. 1655, if so long continued, 108,919*l.*

1,000 men's victuals above the 8,000 named in the former estimate, if they are required, 26,800*l.*

4. The letter of Pierre Ernest, Conte de Paar, of Jan. 1, complaining of outrages committed against him in his own lodgings, referred to Desborow, Pickering, and Strickland, to examine the matter, call witnesses, and report.

5. Order—on petition of Major Francis Allen, for the church at Wantage and Grove, co. Berks, and on a narrative from divers inhabitants, and a copy of an order of the late Council of State, of June 4, 1653,—that liberty be given to the congregation of the church to meet when they like for religious exercises in the Town Hall of Wantage, and the village house in Grove, when they are not used for keeping of courts, and the stewards of the courts to notice this. Approved, 5 Jan.

6. Order—on petition of Rich. Prosser, master of the Susan of London, lately taken in his voyage from Malaga by the French, and kept close prisoner at Brest, and his release refused unless in exchange for Francis Eastmond, prisoner at Plymouth,—that the commissioners for the French Treaty consider the matter, and move the French Ambassador to order his liberty.

8. Strickland to give direction for the entertainment of the Genoese Ambassador, and particularly to direct Fleming to have Sir Abr. Williams' house prepared for him.

10, 11. The Genoese Ambassador to be allowed a diet of 50 dishes for the first and second courses, and 30 dishes of fruit and sweetmeats for each meal; also to have a convenient allowance for the tables of his followers, and to be entertained 7 meals.

12, 13. Mr. Bond to provide the plate, and six messengers of Council to attend to carry up the dishes and wait at table.

14. Cooper and Strickland to receive him, and conduct him to his lodgings. [I. 75, pages 633-636.]

[Jan. 3.]

5. Order by the Protector and Council, that—as of late there have been great frauds on the treasuries by forged debentures and counterfeit warrants, by means of which great sums of money and much land have been given for payment of debts never contracted,— * * * be empowered to examine the same, and particularly to bring before them Abr. Granger and Joshua Fugill, prisoners in 1654-5.

VOL. XCIV.

Newgate, [Rob.] Manley and [Lieut.-Col. John] White, and others in custody with the serjeant-at-arms and elsewhere on this account, and examine them, receiving from the Admiralty Commissioners all papers relating thereto.

They are also to order the registrar's clerks and other officers at Gurney House, the Prize Office, Worcester House, and Drury House, to bring before them their records and papers, and the several trustees are to observe the said orders.

They are also to secure all persons suspected to have acted in or countenanced these frauds. The serjeant-at-arms attending Council and keepers of Newgate and the Gatehouse are to obey their orders, and they are to report from time to time to Council. [Draft, 2½ pages.]

Jan. 3.

6. Information given in on behalf of the Commonwealth, that the Admiralty Commissioners committed Joshua Fugill for receiving 300*l.* on false notes out of the Prize Office. Fugill made his escape, and sent in prisoner Abraham Granger, who was committed to Newgate, since which Granger has caused Fugill to be brought prisoner there also; he is kept by Granger close, without pen, ink, or paper, for fear of his evidence against him.

Fugill has confessed that Granger cheated the Commonwealth of 2,000*l.* since he was committed to Newgate. That Granger has kept a coiner, brought out of Holland, and has dealt in vending and manufacturing false coin. That within a year, he has forged 12,000*l.* of false bills, besides what he has cheated the Commonwealth of out of the Treasury. That by his money, he has full sway of the officers in Newgate, and causes any that he conceives may be evidence against him to be apprehended and kept close prisoners, and reveals none that had any hand in his cheats.

His man, John Wheeler, is daily employed to fetch money on false notes out of the Treasury, and he has formerly received money on false notes out of the Prize Office. Granger makes his brag that the Protector has saved him for his parts, and that Parliament taught him to swear and forswear, or else he had not lived, and that he values not an oath.

If the State's Solicitor may have orders to indict Granger and Wheeler, all this may be proved on oath; Fugill being first examined, there will be sufficient witnesses to prove all the other matter.

The witnesses who heard Fugill affirm all the foregoing against Granger were Fras. Farrington, Thos. Westrow, and Matthias Ryley. [2 pages.]

[Jan. 3.]

7. Petition of Abr. Granger to Major-Gen. Desborow, Admiral at sea, and one of the Admiralty Commissioners. I thank you for your assurance of mercy, and glorify God who has led me to abandon all human help by defence in law, and throw myself on the mercy of one who has so large a share in the government and defence of the Commonwealth. And now, at your command, I present you my 1654-5.

abilities to prevent growing evils, and to find out what has already been done to the State's prejudice, whereunto I propound—

1. To be a means to prevent all further sinister practices on the treasuries; and if on trial of my integrity, you give me any further trust, I will show how useful I can be.

2. I will discover all false and counterfeit debentures, so that the bad being thrown out of all doublings and purchasings, the true may be bought and passed, and thus most of the true ones remaining unsold and unpaid in the soldiers' hands will be brought in, and the State acquitted from such vast claims.

3. I will discover all false and counterfeit public faith bills, of which many are passed and doubled upon, and many now in claim, and thus the State will be freed from thousands of false debts.

4. I will endeavour to discover and apprehend the persons concerned therein, some of whom may have estates from which to give satisfaction. I will be just without connivance or favour, and if you will keep my secret, I hope soon to give a good account of my endeavours.

I have a deep sense of my former offences and misspent time, but hope to redeem the time lost. I will consecrate my days to the State's interest, if I may have the least hope of a livelihood, and I will put in security for my fidelity, but all consists in sudden execution. I could satisfy you better if I saw you only in person. [1 page.]

Jan. 5.

8. Petition of Thos. Marshall, collector of customs at Rye, to the Committee of Council to whom his case was referred, for repayment of 31*l.* 5*s.* disbursed by him on an Order of Council of August 8th, 1654, and others of older date, for relief of foreign seamen taken by the State's ships, and to be transported to France. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.] Annexing.

8. I. *Account by Marshall of Frenchmen taken coming from the bank with fish, to whom he has paid 6*d.* a day, as ordered, during their stay at Rye for passage to Dieppe. Total, 22*l.* 17*s.* [1 page. Endorsed with note of an order of 9 Sept. 1658.]*

Jan. 5.

COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

Approval by his Highness of four orders presented by Mr. Jessop, of 12 Dec. 1654, and 2 Jan. 1654-5. [I. 75, page 637.]

Jan. 6.
Lambeth
House.

9. Robert Manley to Col. Clarke. The sadness of my condition, and my long imprisonment, have caused me to apply to you, and rather because you promised my cousin Manley, the postmaster, and some others, that I should have a speedy hearing. Do not forget those in durance, and especially myself, who am so near my undoing—being a merchant, and living upon my credit—to remain here week by week, and nothing said to me touching debentures (things I have not dealt in these two years, and then to my great loss), neither can any man of integrity or honesty charge me with any falsity therein. Move for a speedy hearing; when I shall disprove my informers, or get liberty on bail, that I may follow my occasions, to avoid perishing myself, and my wife and children.

VOL. XCIV.

Being a young man, my creditors come upon me, and if I am not enlarged, they will in time disable me for ever to give satisfaction to any, I being a debtor to the State in 500*l.*, and should have paid it just at my apprehension ; besides, the State is yearly the better by me 1000*l.*, and I am therefore no bad Commonwealth man, and this pretence against me not worth a penny. 10. Propositions for discovering false debentures, brought in by Mr. Holding, the messenger.

The Registrars' Accountants in Drury House, Worcester House, and Gurney House, to keep distinct registers of all sums doubled by any person, with their names and places of abode ; and the public faith bills or debentures upon which every person doubled to be particularly distinguished by the clerks.

Upon vouching of any sum to be doubled, the person doubling carries the register book to the treasurer's clerk, who, on payment of as much money as there was public faith bills or debentures vouched and left with the Registrar's Accountant, makes out to the party doubling a receipt or double bill, which charges the Commonwealth and the securities given by the several Acts and Ordinances of Parliament. So as if A purchase lands value 1,000*l.* upon delivery of a double bill of 1,000*l.* to the treasurers, it makes payment of the 1,000*l.* purchase money.

Now for the better discovery of any fraud, and the authors thereof, by doubling upon false bills or debentures, or forging the same, take the voucher books at the Registrar's Accountant's Office, and see particularly what sums have been doubled, and the person by whom it was done, and call for the bills or debentures which they doubled upon, and examine whether such bills or debentures were their own, or from whence they had them, and what securities were given for making them good.

If the person doubling doubled upon his own public faith bills or debentures, it appears by the treasurer's receipt books that gave the public faith bills, or by the Registry or Commissioner's books that stated and signed the debentures, whether they be true or false.

If the party doubling bought his bills or debentures, it was at his peril if they were nought or false, and therefore fitting he should produce the person of whom he bought them, or their securities, or make them good, if it appears that they were counterfeit ; but this may prove a little too severe if care be not taken.

If the person doubling cannot be found out, then search must be made with the treasurers and comptrollers how the double bill has been applied, and by whom, and the purchaser to whom such double bill was assigned must produce the person assigning, if he can ; for men are very cautious of buying double bills, unless they know the person they deal with, they being of such great value. And in all these cases, by driving on the business, and causing the person doubling to produce the party from whom he received his bills or debentures, and such person produced to do the like to the first sellers, and their several securities, it will soon be fixed upon the forgers.

VOL. XCIV.

For the more effectual doing thereof, if all the bills and debentures be methodically so listed that they may be reduced again without confusion into the several offices, as they are recorded, and the several assignments concerning the same ; and if all the public faith bills be sent back to their proper committees, or other authorities by which they were granted, to be compared with their several treasuries and books of receipt, and also all the debentures to the proper Commissioners of the several counties by whom they were stated and signed, it will, at least for the greatest part, easily be distinguished by them which are true and which are false.

Although it would be convenient to make the best use that may be of those known rogues in custody, by getting lists of the persons they have dealt with, and of what bills or debentures they have forged and sold, yet probably, if other means be not used, the greatest defrauders, who are able to supply them with money to support their riot and excess, shall be concealed, and the lesser offenders, or persons unable to make the State satisfaction, shall be discovered by them, and many innocent persons too, if care be not taken, may be utterly undone. For if they who have so grossly cheated the State can so far insinuate with the State's officers as to credit them, such officers, without great circumspection, will be deluded, and rather made the executioners of those villains' malice and revenge upon innocent persons, than instruments of righting the soldiery, whose blood has been a mere prey to those vermin. For there will be neither forgery nor perjury wanting to drive on their sinister ends, rather than cordially make such discoveries as will be to the purpose, and which may be done without them, though the trouble and charge be the greater.

To manage this affair, if there should be a committee of three or four persons of known honesty, and uninterested in buying and selling bills or debentures, or any lands exposed to sale by the State, with as many officers so qualified as could carry on the work, they might soon detect the greatest part of the fraud and the persons offending, and if it produced no other good than to make the offenders and their securities give satisfaction, as far as they are able, and rid the nation of the offenders, it were worth the labour and charge. 10a. Petition of Wm. Hamilton, late Captain, to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have been imprisoned nine weeks ; my wife cannot help me, being old, sickly, living far off, and forsaken by her customers, because of a scandalous report of the Cavalier party that I have cheated the State of 10,000*l.*, which makes men fearful to be bound for me. 11. Col. Thos. Kelsey to [Council]. I gave in a caveat against Mr. Bridock, who is presented to Witney in Oxfordshire by Wm. Lenthall, Speaker of Parliament.

1. Upon a complaint of some honest men of Witney that he was a Cavalier, and a dull preacher.

VOL. XCIV.

2. I find that he was chaplain to the late Earl of Derby, and was in Latham House, a garrison for the king.

3. He was desired by Dr. Jno. Gurdon to preach at Peter's, Westminster, but Mr. Strong, then preacher there, refused to suffer such a person to preach in his pulpit; afterwards the Governors gave leave, but his preaching of unsound doctrine gave much dissatisfaction, and as Mr. Scobell states, was little less than Popery.

4. He was afterwards sent to Long Molton Parish, Norfolk, but being disliked, Mr. Gurdon wrote Mr. Scobell to prevent his being settled there.

5. Col. Fothergill, M.P., a gentleman of Norfolk, told me that his sermons were stuffed with many sentences out of Grotius and some Jewish Rabbis, and very dull and unprofitable, and that the honest people were much troubled at his being there. The Colonel coming to London made enquiry after him, and found by Thomas Browne, Grocer in Wood Street, that a customer of his living in Warrington, in Lancashire, was taken prisoner, and carried to Latham House, where Bridock was, and Bridock wished the late Earl of Derby to hang him up, saying he was a Puritanical rogue.

6. Bridock has promised that he would never come to settle in Witney without consent of the honest people there, which people are very much troubled at his coming, as appears by a certificate in your hands. All these things I have on information, not knowing the person nor any of the particulars myself, but leave it to your grave consideration. [2 pages.]

I would gladly have him get logic and Greek, wherein I understand you are excellent. The New Testament I could send him, with the Greek and Latin, and as many logic books as are usual abroad. You shall hear from us when the days are longer and the weather fair to pass the seas. [1 page.]

Jan. 9. 13. Examination of Col. White and Abr. Granger, before the Admiralty Commissioners. White says he knows Granger; when Parliament first exposed the estates of Delinquents to sale, White was employed by several persons to buy some of the lands, and purchased to the value of 40,000*l.* or 50,000*l.*, at which time there were a company of people called bill brokers that frequented Drury House, and had their design upon all purchasers, to take off their bills from them, to double upon the said lands. Amongst the rest were Crane, Turke, Fugill, and Cannon, who solicited examinant to buy bills of them, but he, apprehending danger, refused, and advised his clients rather to purchase upon bills already doubled.

Capt. Kettleton introduced him to Granger, who came to him at the Gun in Sheere Lane, a place of resort by examinant and his clients, and desired his assistance in buying in an annuity of 50*l.* a year, during the life of one Greene, on lands belonging to Fras. Coventry, pretending that he was a stranger from Holland, and ignorant how to proceed, and promised, upon effecting the business, to give him half. Undertook the business, but upon applying to 1654-5.

VOL. XCIV.

Fras. Coventry, he found Greene was dead, and nothing further was done therein.

Had several meetings with Granger, who proposed the selling of 2 debentures belonging to 2 soldiers related to a friend of his who had come from Holland, and owed Granger money; was unwilling to deal with him, as he had been under a cloud, but being earnestly importuned by him, said he would go with the 2 soldiers to Drury House, and if the clerks approved them, give as much for the debentures as any other. Granger brought him the soldiers, who delivered the debentures for 130*l.* and 190*l.* Took them to Mr. Latimer at Drury House, who thought they were good; notwithstanding, told Granger that the soldiers being strangers, he could only deal on security to save him harmless. This being promised, at Granger's request he gave one of them 40*s.*, in part of the debenture of 190*l.*, as he was to give for it 15*d.* in the pound. Granger brought an assignment of one of the debentures, and promised security before payment of any more money; wanting the moiety of 140*l.* to double upon a purchase, Granger brought him an assignment from the other soldier of the greater bill, with a warrant of attorney authorising Granger to seal and deliver it, and to bring a note for the rest of the money due upon the former bill. Doubting the assignment, refused it, unless Granger brought the party with security; delivered the bill to Mr. Latimer, but never proceeded further, nor used any other sum than the moiety of 140*l.* upon the other debenture, and had no further or other dealing with him.

Confesses he told Granger that he feared he traded in false debentures, and proffered him, if he would confess and leave off, to endeavour to make his peace with some in authority, but he would not listen to it. Granger accuses him because he would not send him money.

Examination of Abr. Granger. Quick came to him with a message from White to meet him, when White proposed a way of getting 800*l.* out of the country, that was gathered for the excise, knowing one of the clerks of excise who would assist. White said that if he brought any bills alone, he would get them passed; dealt with him for 4 or 5, and White owes him 20*l.*, as he sold several to Mr. Greene. Had several other meetings with White, and twice about the annuity, and White would have received more debentures of him if he had liked to trust him.

White upon re-examination could not deny his meetings with Granger and Quick, but denies the proposal of getting the excise money, or any conference upon such a subject; admits that he became acquainted with Quick at Drury House, and met Granger 4 or 5 times, partly about the annuity, having made 7 or 8 journies before he could meet with Mr. Coventry. Sent Granger 20*s.* on his earnest importunity, since he has been in prison, but has not had any dealings with him for 22 months. [2½ pages.]

14. Examination of Robert Manley, Merchant, before the Admiralty Commissioners. Knows Joshua Fugill, but has had no dealings with him or any other these two years about debentures. Bought 1,000*l.* worth, which, being found counterfeit, was forced to make them good. Knew Granger by the name of Gurdon, and bought a debenture of 180*l.* of him; but never gave less than 1*s.* or 1*s.* 6*d.* in the 1*l.* for what he bought.

Granger, being called in, affirms that Manley acted with him in putting off several parcels of counterfeited debentures, when he went under the name of Gurdon, and that they had several meetings; and that White paid him 6*d.* in the 1*l.* for debentures bought of him.

Also examination of Joshua Fugill. Five years ago, he dealt in false debentures, for which he was imprisoned by the then Council of State, and released on bail, Mr. Lloyd and Clever, a bricklayer in Barbican, being bound for him.

Twelve months since, told Sedgwick, Marsh, and others, that the State had been wronged to the value of 500,000*l.* by false debentures. Demonstrated the same by petition to Council, who were satisfied of the feasibility thereof, but did not conceive it a fit season to proceed therein.

As soon as the Protector had accepted the government, a petition was presented to Council by Sedgwick, which produced an order for drawing up an Ordinance for discovery of the cheats; it has since been moved in the House by Mr. Bunckley and Col. Birch, that the books at Drury House, &c., might be secured, and they have told examinant that they would secure them.

Manley had 3,000*l.* worth of bills and debentures from him which he knew to be counterfeited, and was to sell them for him, and retain  $\frac{1}{3}$ , and the other  $\frac{2}{3}$  to go to examinant and Granger; but he has only paid him 150*l.* Greenway and Major Stevens have been with Granger since he was last in Newgate, and Stevens has lately received money from the office of the Navy Treasurer.

Manley, on re-examination, says that he knows nothing of such a division upon sale of debentures as alleged by Fugill; but that most of the bills or debentures that he had put into the offices were returned, and he was fain to make good their value. Fugill acknowledges that 1,500*l.* worth were returned, but he did not receive any money for them of Manley.

Manley says he paid money for them, and has since demanded it, but could not receive it. He acknowledges he knew the debentures were false, and being asked why he dealt therein, replied that when he was once involved by false ones, and had paid money for making them good, he had reason to help himself thereby.

Being further asked what became of the 1,500*l.* worth of false debentures, he replied that part of them remain in Drury House, and the rest were burnt. [1 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

some of those that Col. Keyes had of me. Cannon was once at a dinner where were none but those who dealt in these falsities. They should be summoned to give security to answer for their conduct. When I can search the offices of Gurney, Worcester, and Drury Houses, I shall find matter enough against them and others.

There are some of higher note whom I dare not name, because I had no dealing with them; but Hill, Batson, and Fugill had. There was a daily dinner of 7 or 8 of them, and they told me they never passed a bill without 1d. or 2d. in the pound, for their word was "Come, come, you some, and I some."

Greene, who was mostly with them, is registrar accountant at Drury House, and is now worth 20,000l. or 30,000l. Mr. Tandy, examiner at their offices, has grown to a vast estate. Fugill could accuse him. Hill, Fugill, Batson, and Keyes know many more.

The search of the offices will produce a much larger discovery than can now be imagined. I should have advised this search first, and then the persons could have been seized, and their charge produced without controversy. If I may examine the purchases in the offices, I can quickly throw out the false bills, and find what persons there are guilty. Many pretend to this discovery, and expect great profit thereby, but they know much less than I do of these things.—10 Jan. 1654-5. Endorsed, Granger's last information. [9 pages.]

- (1.) I, Granger, will not, by word, sign, or token, reveal our transaction or design without your consent.
- (2.) I will not act anything without your knowledge and consent.

- (4.) I will seduce none of your agents to promote our joint business, but encourage it as far as lies in my power.
- (5.) In any profit that may arise I will employ you before any other, if I can do so without prejudice to myself, provided you only meddle with your own share, and accept such share as I allot you, and keep the matter secret, even if I should not again use you in it.

17. Jos. Fugill to Col. Clarke. How vile my actions have presented me is plain; but my education from my youth (and until I fell amongst ill company and to this evil way) was amongst the godly, who had great hope of me; for in seven years I was not heard to swear or delight in vain discourse or ungodly actions. But since I fell from this good company, by the inducements of Col. Geo. Keyes, Mr. Granger, and others, I have run into all sorts of vanity; yet God has not cut the thread of my life, but has called after me to turn from my ways; and, as Manoah's wife said to her husband, so say I, If God had an intent to destroy me, he would not have showed me those gracious dispensations of Providence. Though I be at the pit's brink of hell (as, if I believe my ears, I am, it being nothing but oaths and blasphemy on the common side), yet I will go to my Father, and say I have sinned, &c., and it may be the gate of mercy is not yet shut; but I will have no nay, and, with Esther, go to the King, and if I perish, will perish at his feet, and desire your prayers for my poor soul.

Twelve months since, I made known the cheat upon the Commonwealth to divers gentlemen, and Mr. Sedgwick, a Counsellor, prosecuted it, and went to Gen. Desborow; I then desired Mr. Granger to join and assist me in it, but he refused. Last July, when we were in a fair way to gain what was required, viz., a Committee of Inquiry, to find out the fraud of at least 500,000*l.*, Granger came to my lodging and proposed another fraud, which poverty prompted me to accept, but I was taken in it, as he had been blasted before, and I think he did it to prevent my design. I am much troubled that you should lop the boughs, when, if you cut down the tree, the branches fall by consequence. If you appoint some men of trust to seize all the books in Gurney and Worcester House, by comparing them you may find out the fraud; for I can sort out of all sorts, and know herrings from pilchards, and by that track I will go to every man's door. As, for example, Mr. Manley, which, point blank, will be but 1,500*l.* proved, when by this way I will find out 5,000*l.*, and so of others, which are worth at least 30,000*l.* or 40,000*l.*, and where it is probable not above 1,000*l.* can be proved as you proceed.

You promised to send for me, and I am sorry you should be at so much trouble, when, if I had my liberty as Mr. Granger has, I could put you in an easier way; and if I abused it, you might hang me up to the prison door. I will not send away material witnesses, as Granger has done. If he pleases he can give a good discovery of the frauds upon the treasuries; and if he were partial, I could give a good guess.

Rich. Hill, who has been a great cheat in most kinds, told me there was a trade going on to renew leases relating to Crown, Dean and Chapter, and delinquents' lands, and make them of a longer date; I know Granger can take two or ten lines out of any lease, and put in what he pleases, so as the witnesses or any one else would believe it all to be one hand and ink. I hope you will ask him about this; I want none of his help, but desire he does not hinder me. It is true he gives me meat and drink, but I will not sell my birthright for a mess of pottage; and if he were my father I would not spare or wink at him. I know I shall want victuals as soon as I come to justify to his face some of these things. Capt. Dike is his friend. [3 pages.]

(2.) The earl to give security in 6,000*l.*, within 30 days after delivering up arms, for his and his clan's peaceable deportment; and those under him who have lands, and his officers, to give security, and the soldiers their engagements to like purpose.

(3.) His house at Ellendolla to be delivered up to be garrisoned by his Highness' forces whenever demanded, and the earl and his security to be bound for its delivery, as well as for his deportment.

(4.) The officers to march away with horses and swords, and the soldiers with horses, which they are to sell in three weeks, and to have passes to their homes. The earl and his clan to have liberty to carry arms for their own defence against broken men and thieves within their own bounds.

(5.) The earl and all his party (except those who have killed men in cold blood) shall enjoy their estates without molestation, any act in the late wars since 1648 notwithstanding, they submitting to the common burdens. Proviso that Alex. Chisholme, of Colmer, Keneth Mackeneth, of Coole, John Mackenye-orde, and Alex. Mackenye are not to have indemnity for their connivance or assistance in any damage sustained by the laird of Fowlis, or his kinsmen, or tenants; but they, their tenants, and servants are to be answerable therefor at a court-martial, and make satisfaction of what shall be judged against them. The Earl of Seaforth; Keneth Mackenye, of Coole; Simon Mackenye, the earl's uncle; John Mackenye, of Apleroy, and Thos. Mackenye, of Inverlaoth, are also to give satisfaction, according the judgment of law or a court-martial, to Neale Mackloude, laird of Assin, for damages suffered by them, or their tenants, or servants, unless they can show that the laird sent out supplies to the enemy, in which case he is not to have reparation.

(7.) All his horsemen who embezzle or conceal their arms to lose the benefit of these articles.

(8.) The money expended, by order from the Trustees for Surveying Delinquents' Estates in Scotland, in the survey of the earl's estate, to be repaid before he enters into possession.

That at the first yearly Court of Aldermen held after Dec. 25, seven of the 13 overseers be removed, if, before that date, the 13 have nominated to the said court 13 new persons fit to be overseers of the fellowship, out of whom the court shall chose seven to be overseers with the six that remain, for the year next following.

That if any overseers die or be removed, those remaining nominate to the Court of Aldermen double the number of vacancies, within 20 days from the places becoming vacant, from whom the court shall chose new overseers.

If the coach rests, 10*s.* a day is to be paid. Coaches with two horses are to charge 10*s.* a day, travel 20 or 15 miles a day, and charge 6*s.* 8*d.* for days of rest. The fare for places within 6 miles of the lines of communication is to be 12*d.* a mile and 12*d.* an hour attendance, if kept waiting beyond the hour. Fares for three persons or under,—

Pres. Lawrence to Col. John Berkstead, Lieutenant of the Tower. On Order in Council of 10 Jan., you are to allow John, Lord Leslie, Earl of Rothes, to remain at or about Newcastle for three months, from 18 Jan., on his private affairs, he renewing his security, which you are to take yourself. You are also to take order that he give security before the Mayor of Newcastle, to whom you are to send a draft of the bond, that he may receive the security and send it you. [*I. 112, p. 80. down with my man, that he may be taken, as he begins to smell some danger, and may be gone. Whenever any of the guilty send to me, I shall keep them in fair correspondence, till I can give notice of their being at a certain place where they can be taken, but the parties taken must not know this. I should have a warrant to stay any that come to me, as I cannot do it unless I have order sufficient to defend myself against common law after they are loose again.

I caused the turnkey to seize Farrington's wife, but she has so threatened him with what she will do, that he will not assist me any more if any should come, as I could get no order further to charge her.

I desire their honours would command me before them to-morrow, as I fear Barnes and Stead, mentioned in my list, may be at some contrivance upon the Treasuries, and I would direct something to the security of the said banks, by which means some attempting may be taken. [1 page.]

23. Josh. Fugill to Col. Clarke, Whitehall. If I had not taken Mr. Granger, he had never been taken, and this I could not have done if I had not made my escape, and put in a charge against him and his brothers, Nich. Greenway, and John Granger, also John and Thomas Cotton, Major Stephens and Major Bishop, with divers others whom I knew to be his most bosom friends and trotters, and would have been the most material witnesses in discovery, as likewise about the Treasuries; but Granger, through his freedom, has sent most of them away, and corresponds with some of them still, for Major Stephens was with him last Wednesday to hear and carry news, he and I being before you on Tuesday. Before and after my escape, I prosecuted this discovery at great charge, and though advised, did not leave England, but took Granger, who only is able to discover the fraud of the Treasury; if he and Major Stephens will, they can tell you of the trade they had to get pensions for widows whose husbands served against the State. There are grand ones whom you trust whom Granger can peach; I know Newton and Jno. Wallthew, belonging to Guildhall Treasury; you know whether he has peached them or not.

I propound a way infallible and easy to find out the frauds; if Granger would be as faithful as he is knowing of the cheat put upon all the Treasuries, and as I will be in this other of debentures, it would be well for the Commonwealth that he is taken; but I have no hopes of him, since I see no change at all in him. To hear how little he values to forswear himself would make your flesh tremble, but he says the State taught him to swear and forswear, and he cannot forget it, that being a true character of a politician; sitting up at cards until 2 to 6 o'clock on the Lord's day morning is but small signs of repentance.

When Granger perceived he could not keep me close any longer, he caused me to be turned to the other side, where I must pay 3s. 6d. a week, or be turned to the other side amongst thieves and murderers, which will be 7 days hence, if not prevented by death or your charity. Since I came over, I have neither eaten nor drunk, neither will any friend relieve me, and I have not one penny or anything to sell or pawn to get 6d., but God is able to deliver me from famine and all other miseries, when he has done his work, and to bring me comfort by an unexpected way. I beseech that my soul may be precious in your sight, and that Satan may not tempt me for mere necessity to take bribes, and so wrong my conscience; but grant me some relief by liberty or employment, or in any other way, as I had rather creep upon my hands and feet to earn my living than starve. [1 page.] Enclosing,

23. i. Directions by Fugill for making a full discovery of false debentures and public faith bills.

1. To search all books in Gurney, Worcester, and Drury Houses.
2. Three or four gentleman of known integrity to be appointed to search them as they are entered alphabetically.
3. To send for all alphabetical lists which have come out of the country for examination.

You will find all or most of the bills which are passed at Gurney House are likewise sold and passed at Worcester and Drury Houses.

You will also find 50 or 60 Captains and proportionably Lieut.-Colonels, Ensigns, and Quartermasters, under one Colonel, and at one and the same time, when there were no such men living; as for example, Col. Booth, of Cheshire, had 4 regiments of horse passed under him, when he never had but one troop for his guard.

You will find men of vast estates concerned in this business, and officers of trust guilty of many thousands, and yet the way you now go will quit most, if not all of them, except they confess; for what is it to prove 1,000l. against a man that has got 20,000l. or 30,000l. by this fraud? and some are found and upon record (and now entrusted) deep in this cheat.

*When you have found out all this fraud (and if I be with those that search, I shall leave none behind), you may deal with those that have ignorantly erred according to your wisdom, and with the guilty as you please; besides, you will see half the debts claimed at Worcester House will be paid in course, and the claimers amerced. Consider my care and danger in taking Granger, and about this discovery for the last 12 months. When I first began, I entreated Granger to turn with me, but he refused; although I be vile, I beseech you to be merciful, and let me not famish in this prison, which is next hell for cursing, swearing, and blaspheming.—Jan. 13, 1654-5. 24. Robt. Manley to Col. Clarke. Be pleased to consider my business, and let me know the utmost of my charge touching debentures, and I will give satisfaction; if it cannot be suddenly determined, grant me liberty on bail, that I may follow my business. This imprisonment has so abashed me that I could with a good will depart my country with my wife and children, being once proffered reasonable employment. It is not with a merchant as with these fellows that build their fortunes upon other men's ruin, and I am confident no man in the world has cause to blame me in my transactions. 26. Thos. Reader to Thos. Kelsey, Lieutenant of the Castle. The shot, ammunition, &c., being almost spent, I want a supply, by Thos. Kite, now in London; as also 20 or 30 qrs. of wheat. What shall I do with the platforms, now empty by removal of the brass ordnance? Are we to have new guns, or take some from other parts of the castle, or Mote's bulwark? If I do not misgive the faces and carriage of the Malignants, storms are rising, and they are only waiting an opportunity to imbrue their hands in blood. No place in England, next to London, would be sooner attempted by them than this, considering the nearness of France, and who they are. [1 page.]

Jan. 17.

27. Robt. Manley to General Jno. Desborow. Being a prisoner at Lambeth House on account of debentures, I entreat your help to my enlargement on bail, as the matter is not to be determined till others are apprehended. These debentures have been unhappy commodities to me, as I have lost more than 300*l.* by them already, and the imprisonment has been more than an ordinary affliction and discredit to me, insomuch that I should be very happy to receive some foreign or domestic employment, in which I should be very faithful, and able to procure good testimony of my demeanour in all points (except in this base thing, which I am much ashamed of), and many friends would be obliged for my fidelity. I doubt whether I shall ever be able to repair my credit as a merchant, which is much to my grief, having been bred to it. If I dared I would beg pardon for this offence, being drawn into it during the war with the Dutch, when we could not exercise our calling. [1 page.]

30. Navy Commissioners to the Admiralty Commissioners. We have forwarded your orders and instructions to the commanders of the Recovery, William, Edward, and Morning Star, and are anxious for their dispatch ; but we think them ambiguous, and likely to cause some doubt. In your last clause, they were, on their arrival there, to follow such orders as they should receive from the Governor of Barbadoes, in case Gen. Penn had sailed. Now according to our orders, we have absolutely contracted with the owners of the ships for their discharge there within a certain number of days after their arrival. As to the safety of sending them severally, we certify that they carry from 16 to 20 pieces of ordnance each, and from 20 to 30 men. [1 page.] Annexing,

You are to sail out of the Thames, taking the William, Edward, and Recovery, laden with provisions for our service, and direct your course for Barbadoes. Penn, or in his absence, to Dan. Serle, the governor there, for orders. 32. Petition of John Manley, Postmaster-General, to Council. Having the management of all letters, I sent the mail last Sabbath, 21 January, to the several roads; but the post who carried the mail from London to Barnet was servant to Capt. Charteres, and on his return was stayed, and his horse detained by the constable of Highgate, on direction from Ald. Ireton. To him I applied, and he says that as I am not a justice of peace, I ought to pay 10*s.* for the offence, and he detains my horse. I beg relief, and an order to all justices not in future to interrupt me in the public service. [1 page.]

Being commander of a privateer, he met a hoy of Oldenburg, who said they were of Amsterdam, and laying aboard it, some of his company, unknown to him, plundered a trunk belonging to the Duke of Oldenburg, who had permission to come to England. Though he ordered it to be restored, he is sued in the Admiralty Court, to his utter ruin, for he cannot show his head, and maintain her and 3 small children. Begg an order to Dr. Walker for stay of prosecution, and his discharge. With reference thereon to Council, 5 Sept. 1654. [1 page.] Annexing,

34. I. *Report of Dr. Wal. Walker. The young Count of Oldenburg complaining to his Highness that an English privateer had seized a vessel coming with a present of horses from the old Count of Oldenburg to his Highness, spoiled 2 of the horses, and pillaged the young Count's trunk of clothes, and his servants, though they had a pass and safe conduct, his Highness ordered me to prosecute the offenders severely in the Admiralty Court. I prosecuted Holman thereon, but releasing him on his word, he escaped, and has never appeared again, though proclamation was issued against him. The trunk was found in his house, and has been delivered entire to the young Count. On Holman's default, I have summoned the owners, who have paid 110l. damages, for the losses of the Count's men. Also, on the Count's request, I have issued criminal process against Holman, but he is not to be met with. I refer it to you whether prosecution should proceed after restitution. [Jan. 25.] 35. Petition of Lady Marg. Levingston to the Protector. On my petition with that of others, you ordered me 20s. a week from Council's contingencies, till the beginning of this January, which has prevented my perishing from famine, but for 2 weeks I have received nothing. Pray renew the order for the weekly pension, that I may have bread for the few days I have to live being very aged. [1 page.]

[Jan. 25.] 36. Like request to Council. I am more than 84; I have not bread, except from my pension, am sick, and much in debt. The Shunamite widow, in the 7 years' famine, found favour among the Philistines, but amongst God's own people, I can get neither food nor raiment. I beg God to move your hearts, that we may not starve. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page, holograph.]

I have attended the [Admiralty] Commissioners five or six times, but you being absent, I did not apply [for bail], but sent the papers you demanded to Mr. Blackborne. I have in every particular, and to the utmost of my ability, striven to give all satisfaction required, and have dealt in all singleness of heart, freely and ingenuously; considering the great service I shall be able to perform, with the ruin attending a chargeable and tedious imprisonment, having pawned all the apparel I had, and if longer continued here, must be turned into the common gaol, I beseech you to order that I shall put in sufficient bail, which will render me as safe and as much a prisoner as I am now, only that thereby I shall be enabled freely to pursue what I have begun, and to attend you upon all opportunities

Jan. 30. 41. Petition of Dame Marg. Hungerford to the Protector. I had a warrant for payment of a public debt [see 31 March 1654], which is frustrate by translation of moneys into the Exchequer. You said the thing was just, and should be discharged without delay, yet on account of great affairs in agitation, I have forborne to trouble you till now; but my indemnity for this money is expired, and execution will be had against me this term. I beg a warrant to the Treasury Commissioners for payment, and indemnity from distress. [1 page.] Annexing,

45. Petition of Lawrence Gillingham and Jos. Artis, yeomen, of near Bungay, Suffolk, to the Protector. Being dealers in timber in Suffolk and Norfolk, have long served Great Yarmouth for piles for the haven and for ship timbers, of such size that they require 5 or 6 horses to draw one piece to the waterside, and 8 or 9 if the roads are up hill or miry. Are therefore much prejudiced by an Ordinance [for highways] that not more than 5 horses are to be used on any wagon, and the building of great ships at Yarmouth is hindered. Beg that as a later order makes an exception in favour of ordnance, timber, or artillery for the army, the like liberty may be granted to them, only for pieces which cannot be cut in sunder. With request in their favour by 10 shipbuilders of Great Yarmouth. 12 signatures. [1 page.]

46. Abr. Hyet or Hiatt, Master of the Seafortune, to the Admiralty Commissioners. In a late voyage to Bordeaux, I was entering the river of Bloye [Blaye?], when I was surprized and taken from my ship by command of the Duc de St. Simon, governor of the castle, and there detained prisoner several days, and the ship plundered by his officers. I was then brought before the governor, who demanded 1,000 livres tournois, and other sums, which I was obliged to give the Popish priests, 1,600 livres in all, to obtain which I had to borrow from the English at Bordeaux, or I must have perished there.

The reason assigned for this tyrannical action was that I had not saluted his castle in passing; I can prove that I and my gunner were ready to fire, but we were prevented by the pilot, who said the governor little regarded that ceremony.

In my voyage homewards I lost both ship and goods, because the French had detained my tackle and ammunition. I beg satisfaction, and assistance for my future maintenance. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.] mand from his Highness and Council, undertook to make saltpetre in cos. Suffolk, Norfolk, and Cambridge, enough for 12 barrels of powder weekly, and has lost 700*l.* by the contract.

Has been ill 10 months with his labours, has had 5 mills blown up, and is in danger of prison, 2,000*l.* arrears being due to him from the State for powder.

Warranted his powder to last 2 years, except that made from Hamburg, or old powder, which he could not warrant. Has now provided 187 barrels for the fleet, but some of it is reported defective. Begg a fair trial; also that they will take his overplus powder on hand, according to contract, and pay his arrears, or he must be cast into prison. [1 page, damaged.]

Jan. ?      49. Propositions of John Samyne, powder maker, to the Admiralty Commissioners. To convert the saltpetre in the Tower into an equal quantity of Tower proof powder. To repair decayed powder so as to stand 2 years, at 14*s.* a barrel, the State allowing 21 barrels to the score as before. Begg constant work as promised, having lost much by his contract for English petre, and being at great charge in erecting powder mills. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

Jan. ?      50. Petition of Wm. Wyche, agent for Vincent Randyll, Geo. Duncumbe, and John Woodroff, masters of the powder works at Chilworth, near Guildford, Surrey, to the Admiralty Commissioners. I attended yesterday on your summons, about some Hamburg powder delivered in and repaired; but my contract was by direction of my employers, and if there be any defect, it concerns them and not me; they received the debentures. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

Jan. ?      51. Petition of Capt. John Tottey to the Admiralty Commissioners. I was sent by Giles Vandeput, merchant of London, to Nantes, and thence to go to Barbadoes and back. The French and Dutch merchants at Nantes received my goods, re-laded my ship for Barbadoes, and begged me to come into the town with my sailmaker, and choose canvas for a new set of sails, mine being old, and they would pay for them; on my coming, the merchants seized and imprisoned me, kept my boat and 12 men in custody, and bade me deliver them the ship, saying they ordered Vandeput to buy it for them, giving him 200*l.* as reward. I refused; they said they would take it by force, and hang me if any one suffered in seizing it. I said I would rather be hanged than betray my trust, and leave a gallant ship with 28 guns there, where they daily send forth men-of-war to damage us.

They then went to the ship, took it by surprise, throwing some men overboard, and turning the rest ashore without their clothes and goods, and then they released me, and bade me go where I would, as they had taken the ship which Vandeput had bought for them; they detaining my money, plate, and goods, value 300*l.*

I protested before the Admiralty Court in Nantes against Mr. Vandeput. They, hearing of this, tried to seize me, but I escaped, and after hiding 3 days, got to Burnife, whence an English ship brought me to Plymouth. I see my company have lost 500*l.*, and I am bound to Vandeput in 2,500*l.* for the return of the ship. I beg release from these bonds, and satisfaction for damages. [1 sheet.]

Jan. ? 52. Petition of Rich. Billiard, mariner, to the Admiralty Commissioners. Was hired pilot by Capt. 56. Petition of the knights, gentlemen, and other inhabitants of 20 villages and townships adjoining Needwood Forest, co. Stafford, to the Protector and Council. The forest being one of those to be sold for satisfaction of the soldiers, they applied to the late Parliament, but it was dissolved before anything was done.

Former Kings took 10 parks from the chase, and the rest is but 5,600 acres, not worth 5*s.* an acre. Its sale would tend to its enclosing and disposal of the woods and herbage, to which some of them have rights dating before the Duchy of Lancaster was annexed to the Crown; others have rights of estover and pasture, and should be compensated therefor. Beg that the forest may not be sold, or if it be, that those whose rights are questioned may maintain them by law, and those whose rights are allowed may have an ascertained recompense, and not be left to commissioners, especially as the county paid 8,000*l.* to the soldiers on disbanding. ## COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

The Committee of Council report amendments to the Order and Declaration of his Highness for an assessment of 60,000*l.* by the month, for six months, towards the maintenance of the army and navy, which were read, altered, and passed. [I. 75, p. 665.]

Order and declaration of the Protector and Council for an assessment of 60,000*l.* a month for 6 months, towards the maintenance of the army and navy.

The 27th Article of the instrument of Government orders a constant yearly revenue to maintain 10,000 horse and dragoons, and 20,000 foot in England, Scotland, and Ireland, and ships to guard the sea, besides 200,000*l.* a year for administration of justice and other expenses, to be raised by means to be agreed on by the Protector and Council, and not taken away or diminished, but by the Protector and Parliament. It was thereon agreed in Council that the sum should be raised by customs and subsidies, by excise and new impost, and by a tax of 80,000*l.* a month, to be raised in England, Scotland, and Ireland, after 25 December 1654, the English proportion to be 60,000*l.*, to be raised in the same way as in the Act for raising 120,000*l.* in 6 months from December 1653 to June 1654, in rates upon counties and towns, as specified; but if the excise or other public revenue increased in value, then the said taxes were to be lessened.

In pursuance of which declaration, and to avoid the evils of free quarter, it is ordered that the 60,000*l.* a month shall be raised for 6 months, from December 1654 to June 1655, the former Commissioners and those since added to act therein, and levy the said tax, meeting therefor before 20 February; the first half to be paid in before 20 March, and the last half before 20 May. Any obstructions arising from the mode of collecting to be removed, the moneys to be paid in, not to the Treasurers-at-war, as named in the said Act, but to John Blackwell, jun., and Rich. Deane, who are to be Receivers-general for this assessment. [I. 76a, p.p. 14-20. I. 75, p. 668.]

2. Council to meet every morning at 10 and sit till 12.

3. 60. Order—on report from the Admiralty Commissioners of the names of 40 vessels, bearing altogether 4,145 men, fit for next summer's guard (a list of which, with the number of men and guns, is given),—that they be approved, and that the Admiralty Commissioners give effectual order for their fitting. Approved 12 February.

Feb. 9.

68. Petition of Martin Noel, merchant, to Council. By the Ordinance for uniting Scotland with England, all goods are to pass as freely between the 2 countries as between any places in England.

The ancient English manufacture of salt, which employs many thousands of poor, will be thereby destroyed, because it is made much cheaper in Scotland, as the people there are paid in meal and other provisions, instead of in wages. I have been forced to buy of the State many salt works at Shields; I have laid out thousands upon them. I employ 1,000 workmen, who will be ruined unless you reconsider that clause in the Ordinance, so that the favour intended to the Scotch may not be destructive to the English in so ancient a manufacture.

I beg consideration when the reference on behalf of the salt makers of North and South Shields is examined, and redress. [1 page.]

Feb. 9.

Order thereon that the petition of the salt makers of North and South Shields, presented by Major Tolhurst, and that of Martin Noel be considered on Wednesday. [I. 75, p. 676.]

9. Approval by the Protector of 9 Orders, 25 Jan.—9 Feb. last.

10. An addition to be made to the Order of 9 Feb. about Gen. Desborow's authorizing a fortnight's pay to 40 soldiers, and a week's pay to 42 soldiers of Major Heane's regiment, other regiments of the said forces not being full, and thus these within the number of the establishment. Pres. Lawrence to the mayor of the corporation of Lyme, to be communicated to the feoffees in trust for the land settled by Order of Parliament on the corporation. Council hears that the charge of maintaining those maimed in the siege is taken off from the country by order of the justices of the county. They also find that Parliament, out of respect to the courage of the defenders, settled land on that town out of Lord Poulett's estate, as a recompense for their loss and a reward. They therefore desire you to see that the maimed soldiers receive proper reward and maintenance, to be paid quarterly, out of the above estate; you are to use your best endeavour to see this executed. Ordnance Office.

70. Ordnance officers to Gen. Jno. Desborow. According to a warrant of the Lord Protector enclosed, we have sent to the ship chandlers to send in to the stores in the Tower all the powder they have in private houses and warehouses, but some pretend that several merchant ships at Gravesend are waiting for stores of gunpowder left in their custody. Are we to deliver it to the owners of the ships upon demand, or detain it until further order? In executing this and other orders from his Highness, we meet with many emergent occasions for money, so cannot effectually proceed unless the [Navy] Treasurer be ordered to pay off our debentures, not exceeding 10*l.* [1 page.] Enclosing,

70. *I. Order by the Protector to the Ordnance officers, to bring into the Tower all powder in any stores within the City of London and the liberties thereof, that lies dangerously, or may be made use of by disaffected persons, to be secured to the use of the owners, and re-delivered to them as they need to dispose of it, 12 Feb. 1654-5. With note by Geo. Payler, 14 Feb., asking if there has been any alteration in his Highness's intentions, and if so, that this and former orders may be superseded by another in writing to the Ordnance officers. Westminster.

71. Major Hercules Langrish to Wm. Jessop, clerk of the Council. Though I do not know you, yet I beg you to read the enclosed at your leisure, though it is very long, on account of the greatness and multitude of my losses and sufferings, which are only half stated, and to give me your opinion thereon.

P.S.—When I have had your opinion upon it, I will have it copied for Mr. Fiennes and other members of Council, as many have promised to assist me, and some are obliged in conscience to do their best. [French, 1 page.] Enclosing, 71. I. Major H. Langrish to the Protector. Long and minute detail of services and sufferings from 1619, especially service in Jan. 1642, to Cols. Hampden and Pym and other members of Parliament. Had my advice been followed, the late King had then been prevented leaving the City, for he was not much beloved, and most of the Parliament members were so highly esteemed that he could not have raised forces against them. I should also have prevented the Queen's going to Holland, and without the arms procured by her jewels and plate, there would not have been such formidable armies and loss of Christians' estates and blood.

Being carrier to the Queen, I lost my office when she left. I have not received 100l. from the Revenue office since, though others who fought for Parliament have received much; I have also, at the Queen's instigation, been deprived of my late wife's estate in France, to the ruin of myself and 6 children. My eldest son, Capt. Hercules, is in service in Ireland, and Cornet Lucullus died lately in the service. Col. Nat. Fiennes knows that Princes Rupert and Maurice often begged me to serve the late King.

I was at the reduction of Sherborne and other places in Wiltshire, served under Sir Wm. Waller in the West, and in the service spent and borrowed 1,609l. of my pay, and suffered much hardship and danger. Had others behaved as well as my regiment at Round-downs, Parliament had not lost the day. Yet Clem. Walker and Wm. Pym brought articles against me in Dec. 1643, out of malice, and I could not get a hearing. Particulars of the loss of Bristol, which were detailed by John Ash in a printed paper of 15 Dec. 1643, being through the weakness of the garrison and treachery of the inhabitants.

I disbursed large sums on entreaty of the deputy lieutenants of co. Somerset, but have not been repaid. Col.

1654-5.

VOL. XCIV.

Alex. Popham owes me 198l. 16s. 3d.; his soldiers seized my goods and sold them at Bristol, and on my demanding them, he attempted to murder me through a Capt. Smith, but was prevented by bystanders.

My disbursements and arrears are 5,000l., and I have only received 300l. I have been 54 weeks in the Gatehouse, Westminster, for debt, and Phil. Nurse detains for Rich. Pym the arms, horses, papers, moneys, &c., ordered me by the Committee for Indemnity. I have had many orders for payment from the estates of delinquents whom I discovered, but not received enough to pay the interest of money borrowed for the State.

I beg speedy relief; also payment of 350l. lent to Col. Alban Cox in Feb. 1642-3, on earnest request of the late Earl of Essex and Col. Nat. Fiennes; also that a committee may sit on my case, and that I may have the pay due to my son Lucullus. [1½ pp. of a large and very closely written sheet.]

Feb. 15. 72. Petition of Rob. Michel, master of the St. Lewis of Dieppe, to the Council of State, for a pass to proceed on his voyage. Has fitted his ship to go from Dieppe to Cape de Verd and other French plantations in Africa, and return to Dieppe. Is a Protestant, well affected, and has often assisted English merchants in Barbary and Barbadoes. Begs a warrant, on account of the danger of the seas, to proceed on his voyage. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.] Annexing,

72. I. Certificate by Thos. Kendal that Michel deserves favour for bravery in defending his ship against the Dutch, and against a man-of-war of the pretended King of Scots, and for being a well affected Protestant. London, 8 Dec. 1654. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]

73. I. Certificates of John Rushworth and Edw. Greene,—entrusted on behalf of the Commonwealth and Thorpe's creditors, to secure what estate he has by virtue of contracts or purchases of delinquents' estates, fee-farm rents, &c.,—that he has discovered an estate of such value as will satisfy the State for damage by counterfeit bills and debentures, with which he is charged, and pay his creditors for debentures and double bills discovered and accepted, but Commission by the Protector to Chris. Pack, Lord Mayor of London, Maj.-Gen. Phil. Skippon, Sir John Wollaston, Sir Thos. Vyner, Thos. Atkins, Thos. Andrews, John Fowke, John Dethick, Rob. Tichborne, Rich. Chiverton, Step. Estwick, Wm. Underwood, and John Ireton, Aldermen; Wm. Steele, serjeant-at-law and recorder; Col. John Berkstead, lieutenant of the Tower; Edm. Sleigh, and Thos. Allen, Aldermen and sheriffs, and 23 other military officers and gentlemen, to be Militia Commissioners for the City of London.

The enemies of the peace are still restless in their designs, and have raised forces and been in actual rebellion in several parts of the nation; but their designs have, through God's mercy, been in some measure discovered. To prevent these, the army, or most of it, will have to march into other parts; therefore, lest this great City should be left naked and exposed to the rage of wicked men, you are appointed to raise such men as you think fit to bear arms, under officers (to be appointed by the Protector on consultation with you), who shall lead, muster, and employ them to suppress all rebellions, insurrections, tumults, and unlawful assemblies; and to seize, disarm, and slay all who levy forces against Government. Also to disarm all known Popish and dangerous or seditious persons, and such as raise tumults; and to give their arms to the well affected. You are to observe the directions of the Protector and Council. Proviso, that no citizen be drawn forth of the City and liberties for military service without his free consent. [I. 76a, pp. 22-4.]

Feb. 16.

76. A. Granger to Lord Adm. Jno. Desborow. Understanding that the matters depending are to be heard and determined before certain of the Council, I fear unless you are there and one of my judges, I shall be in much danger; but if you be present, I hope a happy issue. Endeavours have been used to possess you against me, presenting me as not having clearly dealt in my promise and engagements, but before I would commit any act to render your good opinion mistaken, I would suffer immediate death; should ages be added to my life, I should think the time too short to perform those willing duties which your great mercy calls for. Do not blot me out of your thoughts of mercy, by which I have hitherto been preserved, and on which I will only trust till I die. [1 page.]

[Feb. 16.] 77. Petition of Thos. Horth, merchant, to the Admiralty Commissioners. Has a suit with Jno. Coachman respecting the Endeavour, commanded by Capt. Giles Shelly, which was taken and burnt by the French, and by which he lost 2,000*l.*; the trial being for hearing at Guildhall on 21 Nov. last, sent a subpoena to Capt. Shelly, his principal witness, at the Hope, but he excused himself, as he had a great charge of money of the State on board, to carry to Scotland, and had orders not to leave his ship, whereby petitioner had to pay costs to get the trial postponed. Coachman now takes advantage of the captain's absence, and presses for trial, on the plea that the captain is not in the service, and if he obtains the trial in the absence of the captain, it will be the loss of the suit. Begg a certificate that Shelly is in the service, and an order to the judge sitting at Guildhall to stay the trial. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

I brought Assistance, a prize into Plymouth, and sailed for the Soundings, but splitting Plymouth Sound. my sails, was forced in again; after repairing defects, I set sail for my second station, but could not reach it through contrary winds. I met a French frigate, one of the permission ships belonging to St. Malo, bound home from Spain, laden with hides, sherry, sack, soap, tobacco, sugar, and oil; in the captain's chest I found 3 small pigs of silver, value 300*l.*, with a bag containing 400 pieces of 8. I brought them on board the Assistance, conceiving that they, with the few things between decks, belonged to me and my company by virtue of the votes of encouragement, which were never repealed by his Highness; but as the Commissioners of Prize Goods here demanded them, and I refused to surrender them, I have brought the whole into Plymouth, without embezzlement, and hope you will not be dissatisfied. On 6 and 20 Oct. last, bought from the Prize Goods' Commissioners 200 tons of whale oil at a very high rate, it being then a scarce commodity, and prohibited by the Act of 9 Oct. 1651. Between the time of sale and delivery, a great quantity was brought in, contrary to the Act, and the price much lowered, so that if petitioners should be forced to stand to their contract, it will ruin them and their wives and children. Beg release from their contract, and leave to purchase the oil at the current price. With reference to the Commissioners for Prize Goods to certify, and to the Admiralty Judges to suspend proceedings meantime. [1 page. Copy.]

81. Petition of Rich. Hankin, mayor, the aldermen, common councilmen, and inhabitants of Harwich, Essex, to the Protector. God has set you over these nations for his honour and our unexpressible happiness, and fitted you to further the Gospel by advancing "painful and powerful preachers," for which all reformed churches are your daily orators, and especially all the inhabitants of our "British Jerusalem."

In our borough are 1,000 persons capable to attend worship, beside strangers flocking to one of the greatest shipping ports, yet we have no established preacher. In the corrupt times of the late King, we were joined to Dovercourt, a mile off, and the vicar preached at each place once on the Lord's day, but this has led to profaneness, tippling, and gaming in both places. We beg to have a godly divine of our own choice settled among us. Signed by the mayor, 5 aldermen, and 118 inhabitants. [1 sheet.]

and upon recovering, was arrested, and have been confined 3 weeks without a farthing. I am likely to perish unless the Commissioners assist me.

85. Petition of Joan, widow of Thos. Shafto, late Governor of the Holy Island, for herself and the soldiers, to the Protector. Parliament, on 31 July 1645, reduced the garrison to the ancient number, and ordered the arrears of my husband and the 80 soldiers to be paid from the estate of Col. Thos. Haggerston, Papist delinquent. On 23 Aug. 1645, the arrears were found to be 1,430*l.*, and my husband was admitted tenant to the estate, and so continued till its sale at Drury House, 9 March 1651-2. The case was then referred to the Committee of Accounts, and by them to Parliament, which dissolved before it could be reported. The account shows an arrear of 955*l.* 12*s.* 2*d.*, and the county Committee of Durham certify 400*l.* in the tenants' hands before the sale. We beg these moneys towards our arrears, and will gladly accept the remainder out of sequestrated rents, to be discovered by us. With reference thereon to Council, 12 Dec. 1654. Sadlington, captain of a Brest privateer, committed many spoils on English merchants, to their great damage, and is able to do more by his knowledge of those creeks and seas, but was willing to submit to his Highness if he might be free from molestation for past acts; whereon his Highness granted him a warrant to pass with his family from France to England, and to remain here in safety, on which he brought in his ship and has lived peaceably since; but Rob. Hammond, merchant of London, has arrested him in the Upper Bench on an action of trover and conversion, for former depredations, contrary to the said pass and protection, and in prejudice of future transactions of like nature;—his Highness feels himself obliged to secure Sadlington, and requires Hammond and all others to surcease prosecution against him. With reference thereon to the Commissioners for Prize Goods. [Copy,  $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

Feb. 23. 89, 90. Propositions by M. Vandeput for the import of bullion:

1. That a declaration pass for its free import by natives or foreigners without seizure, according to the Declaration of 9 Jan. 1650-1.
2. That no letters of reprisal extend to the taking away of bullion that is to be landed in this Commonwealth, the noise of the Richauts' obtaining letters of marque against the Spaniard having struck such a terror into those of Flanders, that they dare not venture their estates here without assurance of safety.
3. That convoys be granted on request, especially that 3 or 4 ships be at Cadiz in April, to convoy the silver that will come with the galleons then expected.
4. The entry of all bullion to be made to one person appointed by his Highness, on oath not to divulge the entries, nor show the books without leave, in order to prevent the subtlety of the Spanish Ambassador in prying into what silver is imported here, or exported from Spain, to the ruin of the laders in Spain, if they should be discovered.

5. This may advance the Mint to what it was before, when 100,000*l.* was coined yearly, whereas for the last 14 years not 20,000*l.* a year has been coined.
6. This Declaration should be dispatched by 1 March, that advice may be given in Flanders and Spain, so that we may have the benefit of the galleons then expected. The want of a like Declaration last June caused the silver, which else would have come into our channel, to be sent to Holland. [1 page, 2 copies.]

93. Rich. Creed to [Blackborne]. I send you letters on a report touching Capt. Foster, which were sent to the vice-admiral, who is not willing his name should be used therein. The vice-admiral is so apprehensive that the captain is guilty that he purposes, as soon as the frigate sent to convoy some merchantmen to Dunkirk returns, to stay her here until the Commissioners' pleasure be received, and he is for speedily calling her in, to have time for examining the charges. The vice-admiral desires to know if the peace with France is fully concluded, and he and the Judge-advocate present their service. I approved. He pretending much affection I consented, and we exchanged rings, but there were no witnesses present. When he went to the Seine Head, he desired me to provide my wedding clothes against his return, and if he should be ordered to London, Harwich, or Portsmouth, he would get leave to come to Dover, that we might be married. Likewise, he told me he would send to my father, to have it published in the church, so that there might be no delay at his return.

Being persuaded that he was a Godly man, I went to London to buy apparel for my wedding. But after this the master and carpenter of the Phoenix came to my father's house, and affirmed that the captain had been married to another woman many years, that his wife is now living, and that, leaving her, he went over to Barbadoes, and there had another wife; that about the time of the rising in Barbadoes, he left the second wife there and came to England; but she, intending to follow him, was drowned coming home, and now he has taken his first wife again.—Dover, 17 Feb. 1654. [1½ pages.]

Feb. 24. 94. Petition of Mary Howell, Ann Howcraft, Ann Lanne, and Elizabeth Cooe, of East Smithfield, to Gen. Jno. Desborow. We presented a petition and letter to Robert Blackborne, addressed to the Commissioners, but received no answer. Capt. Nich. Foster, of the Phoenix, married a woman in England 16 years since, and lived with her, and then went to Barbadoes and married another woman. His wife in England, having waited eight years and hearing that he had again married, also married Wm. Wilboare, of the East India trade, and had a child by him. Capt. Foster, hearing of this, left his wife in Barbadoes, and returned to England, pretending he did so for the sake of religion; Wilboare having then gone to the Indies, Capt. Foster took his wife to live with him again, alleging that what he had done was by the advice of the best in England, so that most people who know it judge strangely of those in power. We beg that he may be checked, so that others may take warning. If the truth hereof is questioned, you can send to Mary Howell, near the Rose, in East Smithfield, when you can hear further, as Wilboare was her tenant for six years.

With marginal notes of witnesses; also examination, 28 Feb., of Capt. Foster. Married Eliz. Remnant at Old Fish Street Hill, in Sept. 1639, and being in Barbadoes, and not having heard of her for nine years, married Mary Barber; after living with her three years, she was cast away coming over to England two years since. Took his first wife again on the advice of some good people, who said it was a sin to live apart, and sinful for her to live as she did. Had no child by either, and has lived with Eliz. Remnant since August last. Has corresponded with Eliz. Locke, widow, at Dover, but never promised her marriage, although her father spoke about it, and she offered somewhat tending thereto. Proclamation by the Protector that whereas, notwithstanding the testimony given by Providence in the timely discovery of the plots of the disaffected, care needs still to be taken to prevent any disturbance of the peace, his Highness,—considering the great concourse of people to horse races, several of which are appointed in divers parts, and the use thereof made to raise troubles,—hereby forbids all horse races in England and Wales for six months. All mayors, sheriffs, &c., to do their utmost to prevent such meetings, and all army officers and soldiers lying near to assist them. [I. 75, pp. 696-7.] Levant Company to Hen. Riley, consul at Aleppo. Yours of 19 June, 12 July, and 22 Sept. give account of your troubles with the Basha on his demand of 40,000 dollars because our ships did not fight with the Corsair in defence of the port, and of your success in opposing the demand, and obtaining the release of the caravan. We are troubled that you have no respite from the injustice of that tyrant Basha, and the imprisonment of our poor marine factor may have hastened his death so soon after. We have chosen as successor Wm. Bodington, taken his security, and shall send him out.

We are sorry our own factors add to the distractions by their refractory courses, but you must see our orders performed, whatever may be their conceits touching our want of authority, which we hope will be confirmed, as needful for our trade. Meantime we shall do our best here, and you must do the same. Mr. Griffith, who is to be our treasurer, will carefully collect duties on the goods of the African, newly departed, and on other ships, and give us accounts of that, and also of the levations, which we desire to be individual and apart on each ship.

We marvel that any should be so unreasonable as to stop their consulage on the old score of the Hattecheriff business, as those very men deserted their interest therein from fear of excessive charge and trouble; therefore we are satisfied with the course you take thereon to prevent the loss of our dues. We are sorry that those of our nation are not united, the better to oppose foreign incursions. We recompense your endeavours by allowing your gratuity of 1,000 dollars for Michaelmas, 1655, to continue till further orders, as was done for 1652 and 1653, but not for 1654, you paying the 300 dollars for minister's diet.

P.S.—As to a treasurer there, one responsible factor is to have the employment for a year at 200 dollars, to be changed yearly; the person to have been resident 2 years, and to be a servant to some freeman. [Levant papers, Vol. 4, pp. 236-7.]

Feb. 24.
London.

Levant Company to Spencer Bretton, consul at Smyrna. We still think, in spite of yours of 15 and 29 Oct. that your gratuity might have been collected out of the  $2\frac{1}{4}$  dollars per cloth, which you must still collect, and return the names of refusers, but we allow the gratuity to be paid by our treasurer out of our ordinary duties. We shall refuse credit for their levitations to those who neither pay duty here nor there, and thus, we hope, reduce them to conformity.

You had gratuities for 1652 and 1653, but not for 1654; it will be renewed 1 Aug. 1655, and continue till further order.

Another  $\frac{1}{4}$  of what was due on our bills of exchange being paid from the duties on the Scout inwards, we expect the remainder, 1,000 dollars, will be paid by the dues outward from that, and 3 other ships.

We hope Mr. Winchester, the minister, who left in September, is long ere this with you, else the character you gave of Mr. Haules might induce us to forbear sending one hence.

We note your present to the Captain Basha, and his civility. We can give no further orders about the cloths of Domingo Vaes de Brito, which our treasurer has taken steps to preserve from further hurt by the sea.

We are intending to appoint set and annual ships, and till their going out, we have forbidden the sending of any cloth to those parts, on penalty of 20 per cent. See that this is levied if there be occasion. [Levant papers, Vol. 4, pp. 238-9.]

Feb. 26.

96. Petition of Joachim Laurence and David Sollicost, merchants, and subjects of the Protestant Cantons of Switzerland, on behalf of themselves and Jno. Scrottering, Senator of Hamburg, to Secretary Thurloe. Their ship, the Peter Mathias, was taken by some of the State's ships, and the goods sold by the Prize Commissioners; but after proof in the Admiralty Court, the judges ordered the goods to be restored. Having been long kept on board, they were much damaged, and sold for 5,000*l.* less than they would have yielded; and the Commissioners deducted 2,000*l.* for expenses. They pretended to deliver in kind a parcel of the goods, long since sold but not consigned, to the value of 1,500*l.*, which, being decayed, sold for 1,000*l.* less than the first bargain. They also omitted 8 casks and 45 bags of currants, 24 of almonds, and a chest of verdigris, value 500*l.*, and pretended that they never received them, but that the goods were plundered by those who took the ship. They have also delayed the petitioners 5 months, at great cost and trouble.

As this is the only claim made by the Switzers during the wars, and considering the great loss sustained by bringing up their goods without just cause of seizure, they desire that the vast charge of 2,200*l.* may be remitted or reduced, and that they may be dismissed without further delay. With reference by the Protector to the Commissioners of Prizes. [1 page.]

We have supplied the Earl and Countess of Banbury with goods to great value, and some of us became bound for them in large sums. Lord Vaux and his wife, the Countess of Banbury, mother of the Earl, were willing to pay the debts from their own estates to procure the Earl's liberation from prison, and on the late Act enabling Recusants to compound for their estates, had agreed with the Haberdashers' Hall Commissioners for discharge of their estate; but you having suspended that Act, the composition was laid aside, and thus we are disappointed of payment. We beg you to hear their petition to proceed in their composition. 26 signatures. [1 page.]

103. Petition of Major Geo. Sanderson, servant and pensioner to the King of France, to the Protector. There are coals transported daily from Newcastle-on-Tyne to France and other foreign parts, whereby some benefit arises to the nation; but I would transport them to France with far greater benefit, without injury to any. I beg a patent for the sole transport, binding myself to transport as many as before, and to pay double customs. With holograph reference by the Protector. On my 2 former petitions, showing that most of the persons interested in the ship are well-affected Protestants, you stayed the sale of the ship and goods till further order. 106. Petition of divers makers of alum and copperas to the Protector and Council. These manufactures produce 50,000*l.* a year, most of which is vented beyond sea, but are burdened with an insupportable charge towards the public revenue, and the last excise was charged on the maker instead of on the buyer. When the commodities were shipped, there used always to be a defalcation of excise, because customs were paid; but since the last excise Ordinance, both excise and customs are charged. Beside the pressure of this double payment, there is an imposition on coals, which should not be charged on base coal used for manufactures for foreign vent; so that these taxes will destroy the manufactures. Beg relief, as States do not destroy their native manufactures; or if the taxes must be continued, beg they may be charged on the buyer, not the maker. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

3. Petition of Mary, widow of Sir Thos. Jermyn, and Robert and Elizabeth, their infant children, to the Protector. The late King in 1638 granted to Thomas and Henry, sons of Sir Thomas, the Registrar's Office in Chancery, with its fees, &c., in trust for Sir Thomas, who, having settled all his estate on his eldest son, had no other means of providing for us, and he declared it was to be for our benefit. He lived quietly, paid his taxes, lent money on public faith, and died much in debt, for which his widow and executrix is cast into prison. The said office, by the late Ordinance for regulating Chancery, is not to be executed by deputy, but to be given to 4 registrars, so that we shall lose the benefit of it, and be undone. We beg leave to execute the office by deputy, lest we want bread. [1 page.] Annexing,

I have been an adventurer in Ireland, where I have an estate in land which requires my presence to settle it, and during my abode there, I intend to employ my talent in preaching the Gospel. - March 2. Order for a warrant to the Commissioners of Customs accordingly [I. 75, p. 708. I. 112, p. 95.]
- [March 2.] 7. Petition of Laurence Maidwell to the Protector. Having discovered Cuthbert Morley's estate, forfeit for treason, I had, by the Act for Sale of Delinquents' Estates, half settled on me, and the other half on the Admiralty Commissioners, whereon the Commissioners for removing Obstructions made two orders to the trustees at Drury House for sale of the lands. They being obstructed by a reference from you, on a petition of Col. Colson and John Cholmley, certified thereon that the lands were not liable to the judgments they pretended, and though it is six months since the reference, Colson and Cholmley have not prosecuted it. I beg therefore an Order to the trustees to sell the estate, according to the former Orders. [1 page.]

We have debts due on judgments on the estates of James and Cuthbert Morley, ordered to be sold for Cuthbert's delinquency, reserving just rights; but Laurence Maidwell, one of the 6 clerks [in Chancery], on pretence of a discovery made by him, has procured a grant of half the estate, after debts paid, and obstructs justice, so that we have fruitlessly attended three years at Worcester House and Drury House. We beg your order to the Drury House Trustees for speedy and effectual justice. With order, as desired, signed by the Protector. [Copy, 1 page.]*
8. II. Statement of the case. James Morley and his son Cuthbert, on the latter's marriage with Lord Deincourt's daughter in 1637, conveyed certain lands in Yorkshire to Cuthbert and his heirs male, with remainder to James and his heirs male; but James dying in 1642, Cuthbert comes to the lands by survivorship, and so they are not liable to judgments of James Morley.

The question is whether Cuthbert is liable to the mortgage and judgments. Answer that they were allowed by the Commissioners for Obstructions on the lands that came to Cuthbert by descent, or were purchased by James since the judgments; but none of the lands settled by marriage five years before the judgments are liable, nor the mortgage that was six months before the judgments. [2½ pages.]

8. III. *Order in the Committee for removing Obstructions, on reference by the Drury House Trustees of 10 March on petition of Lieut.-Col. Levant Company to Major Salway. We would gladly show our respect to a person we so much value, by complying with your request to our Governor, to allow a bill of exchange due to you for levations out of the money now in your hands, but we cannot; partly because that sum is already put on the account of your father, Mr. Waring, and interest allowed for it till wrought out in the usual way, but chiefly because a suit is now depending between the Company and the executors of Farnham Beamont, for a debt contracted in this very way. So the credit on levations cannot be discharged in money, but must be wrought out in trade, or transferred to others of the Company. It would be prejudicial to make such a precedent. Pres. Lawrence to the magistrates and inhabitants of Wedmore, co. Somerset. A petition in the name of the Church at Wedmore has represented to his Highness that they want a convenient place to worship in, and that the middle room on the 2nd story of the Church House may well be spared, being only used for keeping a court once in 3 weeks. This being referred to Council, they think that all fit accommodation should be given to persons that truly fear God, and manifest the same by a humble and peaceable conversation, and therefore wish the petitioners to have the said room, when it is not wanted for the public service. Skippon, and officers appointed by him, to obey the same directions as the foot officers, and herein to use all diligence and circumspection, the safety of the city requiring it. [I. 75, p. 714.]

March 10. Chatham. 18. Rob. Longe to Capt. John Pearce. You charge me with abusing you to John Whithorne, and ruining 5 or 6 captains by my coming. When the Fairfax, which is in the Downs, comes in, you must make good your charges. I owe you no money, nor

Portsmouth.

19. Capt. Chas. Thorowgood to the Admiralty Commissioners. 90 of the Portsmouth's men have been turned over to the Lyme, but not without some trouble. I will haul her on shore and dispatch her. The Augustine will be ready next week, but will want men, as also wood and candles, which the victuallers will not supply without order.

These are dangerous times ; the deputy governor sent for me and hinted of some desperate design on foot ; I have given strict command to all officers of ships to keep a stricter watch, and to stop all boats that pass after the watch is set, and if they see cause, to detain them until morning. They are willing to act for preservation of the ships, but cautious about coercing ; they ask a warrant to fire upon the boats if they will not submit. [1 page.]

March 10.
Mayflower,
Minehead Road.

20. Capt. Peter Bowen to the Admiralty Commissioners. I received order from Lord Gen. Fleetwood and the Council at Dublin to transport Col. Robt. Sanders, Governor of Youghall, with his family and goods, to Minehead. The Little Charity, one of Gen. Penn's fleet, has put into Castlehaven by contrary winds, and could not proceed for want of provisions for horses and men. Hearing that the victualler at Kinsale refused to supply her, I plied to Castlehaven, and furnished her with 2 months' provisions for 60 men, and thus enabled her to proceed. I found 8 merchantmen also there, 3 of which were laden with horses, and were going with the Little Charity, being bound for the same port. I heard that they had lost some of their horses, and others were not likely to live ; and that several gentlemen belonging to them had abandoned the design and deserted. With particulars of other ships. [1 page.]

March 12.

21. Petition of John Pordage to the Protector. To the same effect as that of 2 Feb. [p. 31, supra], adding the particulars in which his ejection from Bradfield rectory, co. Berks, was contrary to the Act, and begging suspension of the sentence, which would cast his family out of doors, pending his appeal. With request signed by the Protector to Council, to peruse the petition and appeal, and give their advice. 9 March 1654-5. [ $3\frac{1}{2}$  pages.]

15. A paper subscribed by Major Jeremy Tolhurst, touching 40 dragoons and 5 officers, referred to Commissary-Gen. Whalley, Col. Goffe, Lieut.-Col. Worsley, and the Lieutenant of the Tower, to report.

March 12.
Portsmouth.

23. Capt. Chas. Thorowgood to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have got the Lyme on shore, and hope to get her off to-morrow. The deputy-governor has acquainted me and Capt. Bourne with some commotions in Wiltshire, and of 2,000 or 3,000 horse being in arms, and of their intention to seize Southampton and other places; so we have determined to keep the Augustine until further order, as no other ship is ready; she rides near Gosport, and good watch being kept, she may prevent any sudden attempt, but she ought to have more men. Let me know what coercive means are to be used, in case of refusal to answer after the watch is set. [1 page.]

March 12.
The Lyme,
Portsmouth.

24. Capt. Jno. Bourne to Blackborne. Thanks for your care in the business of the seizure at Plymouth; I am glad to hear of the quiet in our streets. I understand this evening from the deputy-governor that there has been some disturbance in Wiltshire this morning, and that the judges have been seized. I trust the Lord will help his people now as before; I shall improve my utmost to be faithful to my trust. The Lyme has been hauled on shore. [1 page.]

Brome, of London, at Martin Noel's, St. Olave's, Old Jewry, for which payment Conway has become bound with Lord Montgomery in a bond for 100*l.* [1 page.]
- March 13. 26. Commissioner Peter Pett to Col. Clarke, Navy Commissioner.
Chatham. I am sorry to hear the ill news of the Cavalier party being up, which I hope will turn to their ruin. I shall double my care of the Navy, and the Lord assisting, omit nothing that may tend to its safety. I have settled a guard on board the Sovereign, Resolution, and Victory, and to-morrow will send Mr. Hill, with some musketeers in his boat, down the river, to apprehend suspicious persons passing to and fro about Queenborough, where there were very many in the last rising.
I have sent an express to Col. Kelsey, as I durst not trust the post, and also quickened the master gunner of Upnor Castle to be careful of his duty. I have just returned from Rochester, where I have been advising with the mayor and his captains about securing some known Malignants about us; I wish, if Upnor Castle is intended for securing such persons, that the governor may attend his duty, for fear the prisoners (some of whom are very subtle) should outwit the master gunner, who has present charge, and so do some mischief. [1 page.]
- March 14. 27. Commissioner Peter Pett to Col. Jno. Clarke. I have heard Chatham no certain news since yours of the 12th. It is wisdom to provide for Dockyard. the worst, and to bless God if things succeed beyond expectation. I send a demand for the stores here; I want an order to the ordnance officers to supply them, as they may prevent mischief these dangerous times; they shall not be expended causelessly.
We have some ordnance mounted, and some hundreds of men on the works, who will be faithful, and secure the Navy; they are at an hour's warning, but arms are wanting. The guards put on board the ships will, I hope, be sufficient, unless dangers and fears increase, when I must augment the charge both on board and on shore, if so ordered. [1 page.] Annexing,

Fairfax, Downs. letter intimating that the enemy have appeared in some parts, and that there are symptoms of insurrection in other counties. I trust God will keep his people from those whose very mercies are cruel. I will be very diligent and watchful to prevent their getting any advantage here, and will send to all the ships north and west to do the same. We have only two ships here; there is great need of more vessels for sending convoys and orders. The Fairfax and Bristol have been out six months, and want victuals. [1 page.]

Commission by the Protector to John Browne, sen. and jun., Col. John Bingham, Rob. Coker, and 14 others, to be Militia Commissioners for co. Dorset, as the enemies are raising new troubles, and now robbing and plundering the people. To the same effect as that to the Commissioners for London, of 15 Feb. [See p. 43 supra. I. 76 A, pp. 26-7.]

March 14.
Whitehall.

Instructions by the Protector to the said Commissioners:—

- (1.) You are to meet in some convenient place, as often as the service requires.
- (2.) You are to enquire into conspiracies and secret meetings of the disaffected, and such of you as are in the commission of the peace are to take information on oath of what has been spoken, done, written, printed, or published against the peace.
- (3.) You are to disarm all Papists who declare against the present Government, or correspond with or send supplies to Charles Stuart, or any other, tending to the disturbance of the peace, or who raise tumults, and to seize their horses.
- (4.) You are to inquire about all strangers resorting to the country, to whom they apply, their business and occasions in those parts; and if you are not well satisfied, acquaint us with their names, and endeavour to secure them till further order.
- (5.) As many arms provided by the late militia are dispersed, and dangerous use may be made of them, you are to see that all arms of horse or foot, ammunition, war provisions, trophies, &c., be secured in safe places, and inventories taken of them, whether secured or left in the owners' hands, to prevent embezzlement or misconversion, and to have them always ready for public use.
- (6.) We send you commissions for your field officers, and they are to appoint the inferior officers on your approbation.
- (7.) As any delay in suppressing the present insurrection would be hazardous to the three nations, you are, in this exigency, to charge persons with horses and arms according to their estates, with respect to the ease of the well-affected, that the burden may be laid upon the malignant and disaffected, who have been the cause of this insurrection.
- (8.) You are to see that the horses and arms be put into the hands of the well-affected, who are to be trained and mustered in companies, and formed into regiments, and drawn out to suppress the present rebellion, and all - other invasions and insurrections in the county, and to bring the authors and abettors to condign punishment, acting on orders from us or our Council.

- (9.) You are to imprison mutineers, disordered persons, or those who will not obey you according to these instructions.
- (10.) You shall levy fines, not exceeding 20*l.*, on those who do not appear with horses and arms on any rebellion, levying the fines on their lands and goods, and employing them in the service.
- (11.) You shall require the sheriff of the county, and all other officers and ministers, to aid you, and you are to correspond with the commanders of the forces, who are required to assist you on application. [I. 76; also pp. 27-9.]

1. Order to the Admiralty Judges and Commissioners for Prize Goods to free and restore the Neptune of Copenhagen, seized by Capt. March 15.
Marlborough
7 A.M.

31. Thos. Cox, agent for co. Wilts, to Col. Jno. Clarke. I lodged last night at the Post House, thinking to go with the mail, but as it was stayed, took post to Gen. Desborow at the Greyhound, Maidenhead, and delivered your letter. I waited on him 2 or 3 miles beyond Reading, changed my horse, and rode towards Andover side, to hear what intelligence was stirring; I heard that Major Butler was with 4 troops in Sarum, and that some gentlemen were gone to the enemy out of Hampshire and Berkshire.

Meeting with a Bristol carrier, he told me that 2 troops had marched out of Bristol, joined 2 more troops of Bath, and gone for Sarum; I thereupon sent a messenger back to Newbury, as ordered by the General. I went on to Marlborough, and met Gab. Martyn, late M.P., come from Sarum, and brought him and Mr. Blissett together; Blissett had a letter from Major Butler, wanting money, and had let him have 100*l.* without order, for his extraordinary occasions.

Martyn and Blissett compared intelligence together, which much agreed, and the substance was that the sheriff had reported the enemy to be 600 or 700, and that they were in great fear; that Major Butler was in Sarum with 4 troops, and intended quartering there on Wednesday, although not to engage with them.

On my arriving at Marlborough, we sent to Major Butler that the General was at Newbury with troops, as also to the General that the Major was at Sarum with 4 troops, and left them to do as God should direct. On Tuesday night last, 20 horse marched to the enemy within 6 miles of the Major, which he narrowly missed. I will forward any further intelligence. Your messengers were with both the General and Major before 12 Wednesday night. [1 page.]

- March 15. 32. Secretary Jno. Thurloe to Col. Jno. Clarke. I send you this warrant for perusal before it is passed, lest you say that it will not do the work. Return it forthwith, or you must bear part of the blame of the delay. [ $\frac{1}{3}$  page.]
- March 15. 33. Capt. Jno. Bourne to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will take special care as to the safety of the ships in harbour; I would have liked a few days at home before going to sea, but I am making all speed to get out. I hope Capt. Young, who is come down, will be useful. The deputy-governor has sent a foot company to Southampton to secure that town, at the desire of the honest men there, but things are very quiet and in good posture, and there is no fear of any enemy's attempts. The Lord rebuke and scatter those foolish, mad men. [1 page.]
- March 15. 34. Capt. Jno. Bourne to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will use all circumspection in preventing danger to the ships in harbour, and afford all assistance in getting out Capt. Archer, as also the Portsmouth and Lyme. I will apply to the deputy-governor to put some soldiers on board such ships as have no men, and will go myself to Cowes and Yarmouth roads, and order the ships there to Weymouth. I will repeat the notice I gave to the [captain of the] Preston, when I heard of this insurrection, to be very careful in guarding the ships under his charge. [1 page.]
- March 15. 35. Capt. Thos. Wilson to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will send your order to all ships in the Downs, Dover, or near thereto; I hope the Lord will frustrate the designs of unreasonable men. We are credibly informed by several passengers from France, that a large force of horse and foot has been brought down to most of their frontier towns and garrisons along the sea coast. What the end is, we cannot learn. [ $\frac{1}{3}$  page.]
- March 15. 36. Vice-Adm. Jno. Lawson to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will send to Capt. Clarke to hasten to Weymouth Road, but he has gone as convoy to St. Valery, and other ships named are gone convoys to other places; I shall have but 2 vessels here, but with those I will do as much as possible to prevent the enemy gaining any supplies or advantage; if ordered, I will ply in the Narrow, or elsewhere. On 14 Dec. 1648, his house was broken open, and 185*l.* of the money stolen, the robbers missing 3,000*l.* laid up in a closet. Began an order for the allowance of the 185*l.* on his accounts. 14. The form of letters to the sheriffs of counties read and agreed to. Annewing,

- I. *The Protector to the Sheriffs of Counties. As the persons hereunder named have lately raised forces and taken up arms for subversion of the Government, we, by advice of our Council, authorize you to inventory, appraise, and secure their goods and personal estate within your county, that the Commonwealth may have their value when the persons in rebellion are convicted by course of law. You may take security from any who offer it, and return it to us with the inventories. For the better effecting thereof, we recommend to you * * * [being the Sequestration Commissioners in your county], as persons fit to be employed in the work.*

You are also to give notice to the tenants of the said persons to forbear to pay to them any rents or arrears. We expect your special care and diligence, and a speedy account of your proceedings. Whitehall, March 1654-5. [I. 75, p. 729.]

15. The Treasury Commissioners to fill up the blanks in the said letters with the names of the Sequestration Sub-commissioners in the several counties, and Mr. Secretary to give the names of the persons whose estates are to be secured.

16. To advise warrants to the Treasury Commissioners to pay G. Frost 5,000*l.* on account of Council's contingencies.

17. Order that out of the said 5,000*l.* Frost shall pay the horse and foot regiments certified by the Army Committee to be in or about London 100*l.* apiece; to be repaid to the said contingencies out of the first moneys coming in on the 6 months' assessment, and to be defaulted out of the next warrants for pay of the said regiments. The Army Committee to issue warrants to the War Treasurers to pay the same to Frost, and to default accordingly. Approved, 20 March.

18. To advise that Thos. Simons be constituted sole maker to his Highness and the public service of medals and their chains, with a salary of 20 marks a year, and with the free use of the presses, rolls, cutters, &c., in the Tower. Also that he be constituted chief graver of the Mint and Seals, with a salary of 30*l.* a year. Approved, 20 March. [I. 75, pp. 727-31.]

Chatham.

38. Com. Peter Pett to the Admiralty Commissioners. I received yours with the blessed news of the dispersion of the enemy. I will secure the arms if they come down. If there is a necessity for using them, I doubt not they will be a means to secure the navy for some time; but if otherwise I will put them on board the first frigates appointed for sea, which will prevent any damage to the State by their laying up. If the Phoenix could have furnished the powder demanded, I would not have troubled you. Victualling of ships; all will want men on their arrival in the Hope. [1 page.]

March 16.
Portsmouth.

39, 40. Capt. Chas. Thorowgood to the Navy Commissioners. The steward of the Pelican is gone to London, and the steward of the Augustine refuses to proceed until he has the same money as the other had, and will do nothing unless he can gain by it. There are few really honest stewards, boatswains, or gunners. The Lyme has taken in 30 tuns of beer. If the Portsmouth had men, she would soon be ready.

We have received strict orders from the Admiralty Commissioners to keep a very strict guard on board our ships; but we have not a man upon 4 of them; so unless you order us to enter some, we cannot comply. We have 4 vessels to unload for the State's account, and no men to do it. [2 copies.]

March 16.
Wincaunton.

41. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. John Clarke. This morning I met the General, who was on his march by 1 a.m. We hear from Crockherne that the Tories, as the Somerseshire men call them, were routed last Wednesday at South Molton, and many sent to Exeter gaol, whence they may expect a good deliverance by a Devonshire jury. The General has disposed the troops in order to apprehend those that are fled, and has written to the sheriffs of Wilts, Dorset, Somerset, Devon, and Cornwall to apprehend all suspicious persons; also to the justices to enquire diligently after all persons who have absented themselves from their habitations for 10 days. He intends to ride to Exeter, and spend some time there in examining these royal prisoners, from whom I hope some public good may be obtained.

P.S.—Last Tuesday's letters were taken by the Cavaliers, including the orders for dispatch of the Great Charity. [1 page.]

Sevenoaks.

42. Col. Thos. Kelsey to Rob. Blackborne. I want to know how affairs stand with you, and to have news as to the Cavalier party, who, I hear, are up in several places. All things are quiet in these parts, and they are either totally ignorant of the design, or desperately cunning in the carriage of it; but I rather think it is not laid in this county. [1 page.]

March 17.
Sevenoaks.

43. Col. Thos. Kelsey to Col. John Clark. We have little news here, but expect daily to hear from London how it goes in other parts. There is no great danger in these parts, although there are enemies enough, and if a force were not here, I fear they would be ready to appear, but the ill success elsewhere has much discouraged them. The Malignants here have more mind to be quiet, save some of desperate fortune, than those elsewhere. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]

March 17.
Great Charity,
Plymouth.

44. Capt. Leo. Harris to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have received yours, doubting much the miscarriage by the way, because of the rising of the rebels. I had sent you another by Capt. Jno. Blyth, but he was forced to return back from Exeter, and he has been an eye witness of what I wrote you. I have unloaded my ship, am repairing defects, and will use all diligence to proceed on my voyage, but want men. [1 page.]

Fairfax, Downs.

45. Vice-Adm. Jno. Lawson to the Admiralty Commissioners. There is great delay in the postmasters between Southwark and Sittingbourne; yours of the 13th did not reach me till the 16th, and that of the 15th till last night. I have already given order to examine all ships and vessels going from any port in England. If the Cavaliers come over or pass in small vessels and fishing boats, the best service will be done by small vessels and boats, so that this ship cannot be of any advantage; but I will do what I can with my boats about the Foreland in the night, which is the time of their motion. Another ketch or hoy would be very serviceable, as also the Nonsuch, built at Barking. She is a swift sailer, and carries 6 guns.

The Sparrow has sailed, but I will call her back; the Yarmouth has arrived from Dunkirk. I have sent to Mr. White at Dover to victual her for two months, when she might lie off Portland Road, and the Bristol come in to victual. [ $1\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

March 18.
Chard.

46. Major Jno. Desborow to the Admiralty Commissioners. I understand by the enclosed, and also by the bearer, that some of the frigates are likely to do good service on the Brest men-of-war. Some additional strength might keep them in, and annoy the French trade, both of which will be of no small concernment to this nation. I hear there were 20 scattered people brought into Exeter last night by the country people. [1 page.] Enclosing,

46. i. Robt. Barbour to Robt. Blackborne. I saw your brother James at Plymouth last February, and he was well. I went to sea, and plied between Scilly and Ushant, and had very foul weather. We chased two Flemings into Brest, firing guns after them, when 3 King's men-of-war, hearing the guns, sailed out of Croyden Bay for Brest. The Sapphire being ahead of us fought the two headmost; but being clean tallowed, they got away; we being next, forced the sternmost on shore, and sent our boat on board her with small shot, when the country people threw stones down the cliff so fast that our men were forced to retreat; but the ship bilged and sank with a man they left on board with his arm shot off.

The next day we saw the Star, which they took from the merchants, hauled within the point to tallow, and French soldiers came to the seaside with white colors, so we sent a trumpeter on shore to parley, who was civilly entertained. Meantime some country gentlemen came on board and were entertained.

1654-5.

We tried day by day to run up with our ships as near as we could, and sent a party of men to bring off the Star frigate, or burn her; but blowing hard, we could do nothing. They have raised stones upon the beach for a battery, with 3 or 4 guns, but to no effect. We find we may ride in Croyden Bay, and keep all King's men-of-war from coming out of Brest, so that when our victualling is almost spent, we have relief with other frigates.

*Our lieutenant and I went on shore about a parley, where, among the French, was one Capt. Smith, a Scotchman or Newcastle man, who had heard that the King was in Hull. We said if he were not, we wished he were. He also said that the Presbyterians were greater in England than we were aware of, and hoped to see Mr. Cromwell (he scorned to give him any excellent title) in a lower condition ere long; but we told him we wished to see him higher, and his enemies lower still. We told him that France and divers other places were like to know what Englishmen were, before the work now in hand is done, which caused his spirit to be something abated. Though it should be the principle of every man to build up others in the same form with themselves, as yet the mark of the beast is not worn out from among the sons of men, but by Providence has been much diminished within these few years. March 19. The Protector to the Attorney-General. Our pleasure is that, for well guarding the seas in these stirring times, and securing the trade and honour of the Commonwealth, you prepare a commission to the Admiralty Commissioners, and the Generals at sea, to impress mariners, shipwrights, and others, between 15 and 50 years old, for the fleets at sea, paying 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. a mile conduct money, and the wages given in former years; and also to take up ships, lighters, tackle, &c., at reasonable rates. Also to stay vessels in the Thames and impress men out of them, leaving as many as will serve them at their moorings; with provision for inflicting punishment on such as refuse impress, hide themselves to avoid it, fail to appear, having taken conduct money, or neglect to attend the service. Also with our strictest command against taking corrupt reward, or using President Lawrence to the Forester and officers of the New Forest. In consideration of the public affection of the town of Poole, and the prejudice to their quay, through great guns employed in the State's service, his Highness and Council, at instance of the corporation, have allowed them oaks, value 100*l.*, from the New Forest. You are therefore to assign to the magistrates oaks, not reserved for the Navy, to this value, for repairing the wharf, and have them delivered to their order. March 19.

Exeter.

47. Rich. Creed, to the Admiralty Commissioners. We have come this night to Exeter, where the solemnity of the General's reception might serve to fill a page of Walker's next pamphlet, and might show men's affection in such doubtful times, and indeed the country have manifested it by their appearing against the rebels here. Notwithstanding our march day and night, we could not arrive in time to see any of them in arms, as they were like a hare started, and could not endure the report of any force making towards them, though at a great distance ; they were hurried on by their fears and guilt, and hardly stayed 3 hours in one place ; they received a better fixation in the gaol of this town, and others adjacent, where 140 of them are in custody. It is hoped the judges will be speedily down to try them. [1 page.]

48. Capt. Robt. Vessey to Robt. Blackborne. I thank the Almighty for my escaping the many difficulties and dangers which might have happened to me by the Cavalier party, then in my way, now dispersed ; so that I arrived at Exeter on Saturday, took post at 3 p.m., and notwithstanding the badness of the way, darkness, and supposed danger, arrived at Plymouth by 12 p.m., and finding the frigate under sail, took command, got her to anchor, and to-night or to-morrow will set sail. 49. Capt. Chas. Thorowgood and Jno. Tippetts to the Admiralty Commissioners. We are glad to hear the Lord is still pleased to appear in owning His own cause against those sorts of men ; we will take the best care to secure the ships in harbour, but 4 have not a man belonging to them, and the gunner and steward of the Essex are both in London.

Particulars of Ships. The new frigate is delayed for want of men. The captain of the Augustine will join his company at Cowes to-morrow. [1 page.]

- March 19. 51. Captain Fras. Allen to Robt. Blackborne. I have been The Advice. plying between the Humber and Newcastle for examining all vessels coming from beyond sea, but have not met with any suspicious persons. I met a small barque of Bridlington, from Amsterdam, bound for Newcastle, who reported that she dared not enter any place, there being a report in Holland that Hull, Bridlington, Scarborough, Newcastle, and other places were secured, “for an old thing, called a King.” So that it may easily appear that the last hellish invention and combination was not in one place; but let it be where it will, I hope the Lord will turn it upon their own heads. I came into Bridlington for necessaries, and heard that 10 days since, the old enemies of peace had endeavoured a rising, but were detected and blasted in their wicked purposes; as many are fled, I will be more careful not to let any vessel pass without knowing all about her. I want orders for victuals, but while they last, I will be diligent in my station. [1 page.]

Approval by the Protector of 13 Orders. 27 Feb.—16 March.
[J. 75, pp. 733-4.]
- March 20. 52. Col. Thos. Kelsey to Col. Clarke. All things are quiet; I Maidstone. hope they will continue so; I am longing to hear how it goes in other parts. We hear that Capt. Crook has routed Wagstaff’s party in the West. There is a great appearance at the assizes, and for ought I can perceive, all our dissatisfied Parliament men are keen enough against Charles Stuart’s interest, and would appear, if need were, against him. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]
- March 20. 53. Col. Thos. Kelsey to Robt. Blackborne. Col. Guibon has Maidstone. raised 3 troops of horse in the Weald of Kent, but I hope there will now be no need of them. Pray send me the news to Rochester.
[ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]
- March 21. 54. Col. Thos. Kelsey to Col. John Clarke. The bearer will give Maidstone. account how the troops in Kent are in arrear for their quarters.
I have been forced to borrow considerable sums to prevent free quarter, and therefore if there be any orders for giving out warrants on the new assignment, pray add to them the pay of these troops, being 2 of the Lord-Deputy of Ireland’s, 2 of Col.
Twisleton’s, and 3 of Col. Jackson’s; for it would much disaffect the country if they were put on free quarter. I hope for the foot at Rochester. Let me have news. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]
- March 21. 55. Vice-admiral Jno. Lawson to the Admiralty Commissioners.
Fairfax, Downs. I received your letters, and understand how the Lord has broken and dispersed the malicious and desperate crew of Cavaliers at Salisbury, which is another signal testimony of God’s displeasure against that wicked interest, and is what I believe he would have done, had they been abundantly more formidable than they were. I return your last of the 19th, so that you may see the gross neglect of the postmasters. I have ordered the Yarmouth to ply off Portland, and the Bristol to return, having but 7 days' victuals; also the Sparrow Pink. I beg that Vice-admiral Howitt may be ordered out with the summer guard, as if there be any action, he will be very faithful and serviceable. [1 page.]

March 21. 56. Capt. Robt. Clarke to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have been plying off Dungeness by order of Vice-admiral Lawson; the commander of the Paradox cannot give any account of that party of enemies who were up, but hears they are dispersed. I have only victuals sufficient for 16 days. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]

March 21. 57. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clarke. The examination of the prisoners will not be ended until to-morrow, although they are examined by 8 persons in 4 separate places. Some discovery has been made of others who were not with them, and that some were highwaymen, so that the despatch of that affair will be of double concernment. I hear from Cornwall that the Cavalier party there were very jovial before the notice came of their defeat. Particulars of the forwardness of the ships at Plymouth. [1 page.]

March 22. 58. Petition of the well affected domestic servants and creditors of the late King, who stayed at their abodes during the wars, paid all taxes, and served for defence within the lines of communication, to the Protector and Council. You ordered us 9,717*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* out of fines of delinquents in Scotland, in lieu of so much due from goods of the late King taken into your hands [see 2 Sept. 1654], which fines we hoped would have been paid by 2 Dec., but we hear that nothing will be paid in any reasonable time. We are aged, the youngest being 60, and we have spent all we have in hopes of relief. We therefore beg a speedy course for payment of the 9,717*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page; also I. 92, No. 326; see 13 July 1655.]

President Laurence to the Attorney-General. His Highness has determined to issue commissions of oyer and terminer under the Great Seal, for bringing to trial persons engaged in the late rebellious insurrection, one of which is to be awarded for cos. Wilts, Dorset, Somerset, and Devon. As some persons of integrity should be sent down to prepare what is necessary for the trial, Council think you and John Sadler should be the persons to go down into the West, of which I give you this notice. March 23. Like letter to Wm. Steele, Recorder of London, and justice of assize. [I. 76 A, p. 42.]

Navy Office.

60. Navy Commissioners to the Admiralty Commissioners. Notwithstanding the great goodness of God in the discovery of the late deep and bloody plot, contrived by the enemies of the peace and safety of this poor nation, we shall neither be found faithful to our trust nor prudent to make improvement thereof, unless, at this juncture, we offer you our present thoughts, which are of no little weight upon our spirits.

Though your intelligence from foreign parts, and your knowledge of the present state of affairs at home, is far clearer than ours, yet we crave leave to express our apprehensions, viz., that we are not in so secure a posture as to our guards in these seas as is necessary, the season of the year and the reports of foreign preparations, particularly in France, being compared; what security have we to conclude to ourselves upon the confederacy with those whose interest only leads them to become seeming friends to us?

VOL. XCV.

Therefore upon these grounds, we conceive it consistent with the rules of prudence to give speedy order for the fitting and victualling of all the frigates at Chatham and other ports, that are ready as to the carpenters' work, and to hasten the rest. For easing the charge, those frigates at Chatham or here in port might be carried down to the river's mouth, and remain there, being equipped for 4 months, except as to the number of men; they have only  $\frac{1}{3}$  of their proportion, but on emergency men may be speedily supplied out of ships that pass to and fro to this port. [1 page.]

March 23.
Pembroke.

61. Capt. Rich. Brown to Rob. Blackborne. I delivered your letter to Capt. Bowen in Caldey Road. The insurrection being in England, and great fears of the like here, we are putting ourselves in a posture to secure the peace of the country; and Capt. Bowen being so near, the Governor of Tenby and I have prevailed upon him to remain 8 days with his ship in Tenby Road, by which time we hope to hear well of things abroad, or it will be worse here; he will be very useful if we should be straitened on a sudden; I am ordered to be near Tenby garrison. Col. Dawkins, commander-in-chief here, will tell the Commissioners the reason of Capt. Bowen's remaining.

March 24.
Whitehall.

The Protector to Sir Thos. Honeywood, Col. Cooke, Dudley Templar, Major Heynes, and the rest of the Militia Commissioners of Essex. We doubt not but you have heard of the good hand of God in defeating this insurrection. We hear from all parts that the risings are everywhere suppressed, hundreds of prisoners in custody, and more daily discovered and secured. We hope an effectual course will be taken to disappoint the whole design.

The readiness of the honest people to appear has much encouraged us, and discouraged the enemy, who, had he prevailed, would have made us the most miserable and harassed nation in the world. We thank you for your zeal and forwardness, incited, we believe, not only on account of your own happiness, but the glory of God and good of these nations.

You wish us to consider ways to find money to carry on this work; had the business continued, we must have done so, but we wish to ease, not to burden this nation; we are tender of charges, and therefore we desire you to thank your countrymen for their forwardness, and to assure them that we shall watch the enemy's stirrings, and give timely notice of their approach, and we hope those good hearts will be ready to appear when called out. Meantime they may continue at their homes, blessing God for deliverance and peace.

Letters are written to all justices of peace to keep diligent watch and take a strict account of strangers, especially on the coast, which will suppress loose and idle persons, and cause some of those who come from abroad to kindle fires here to be apprehended and seized, especially if care be taken to secure all that cannot give a good account. If what ought to be done by law were diligently done, such dangerous designs would be frustrated in the birth. [I. 76 A, pp. 34-5; printed in Carlyle's Cromwell, Vol. V. pp. 228-30, edit. 1872.]

We, and all others entrusted to preserve the peace, should endeavour to defeat the enemy's intentions, and therefore we beg that diligent watches, such as the law appoints, be kept for taking a strict account of all strangers in your country (and principally near the sea*). It will suppress loose persons, and cause some of those who come from abroad to kindle fires here to be apprehended, if care be taken to secure all that cannot give a good account of themselves, and it may break dangerous meetings and assemblings. 62. Examination of Jno. Palmer before Col. J. Clerke. Lives in Holborn, opposite St. Andrew's Church. Was sometime a bookseller in Oxford; also a messenger to Mr. Wilmott, receiver for Worcestershire. Has a pension of 2s. 6d. a week for a wound received in Capt. Danser's company, belonging to Col. Rainsborough's regiment, while at sea. Received the letter of attorney signed by Marg. Wilmer, of Bristol, 3 weeks since. Never saw her there, but in London; said afterwards that he did not know any such person, and that having forged the writings, he solicited the mercy of the [Admiralty] Commissioners. The certificate from sea was brought to his wife by a woman, who promised her 40s. if the money due upon it could be obtained from the Commissioners, and she thereupon personated that woman. Married his wife 3 years since at St. Dunstan's Church, Mr. Reeves being the minister. She had been 7 years widow of Cornet Kitson, in Lord Denbigh's regiment.

On question, said that he received the certificate from John Poulton, a soldier who has gone to the West Indies, and whom he had known for 4 years at Ely House, he being a patient there.

Has letters of attorney from Thos. Green, in Worcestershire, for 4s. a week; from Dorothy Rands, of Southwark, for 2s. 6d. a week; from Jno. Hands, also of Worcestershire, for 2s. a week; and from Eliz. Hancklow, residing in London, for 2s. 6d. a week. These letters are renewed every three months, and he receives 1s. in the pound for his pains. Employed Pattison, an acquaintance of his wife, to go to the Commissioners for Sick and Wounded, and promised him 20s. Made a copy of Fisher's certificate, and sent it to a scrivener to complete. Neither knows Granger nor Fugill, but accidentally saw Granger in Newgate. The persons for whom he receives the pensions are really paid by him.

Like examination of Jno Pattison. Had a letter from Mrs. Palmer, through Margaret Wilmer, desiring him to demand the money ordered to Mrs. Wilmer by the Commissioners in Little Britain, or the return of her writings. Has known Mrs. Wilmer two years, when he saw her at Bristol; knows nothing of her writings, save the letter of attorney which was delivered to him by Palmer and his wife, whom he had known 3 years, when he was a surveyor of land, employed by the Committee at Drury House to survey land in the country. Left Ireland 3 years since, and 6 or 8 weeks afterwards went to the Savoy sick, and received an allowance of 4s. 8d. a week for 2 years; then went to Thomas's Hospital, Southwark, for 7 weeks, after which the Commissioners at the Savoy gave him 20s., and sent him to Liverpool, but he did not go. Received of them altogether 9l. upon his discharge.

On being further examined, says he saw Mrs. Wilmer at Whitehall within the last 6 months, and that he knows Palmer's wife, who was formerly Jane Kitson. [ $2\frac{1}{2}$  pages.]

ground that gave them encouragement to carry on their design was the assurances they had from Wagstaff and one Pyle, that the nation would generally be up in arms for them; that a great body of foot would be landed from France in the West, under the conduct of the Duke of York; and that their King would be in the North, and many such like bravadoes.

There are 20 or 30 of them worth the halter, and 6 or 8 old grooms and serving men the rest notable young fellows, who generally came in; seeing and hearing that such gentlemen were and would be engaged; these, I suppose, would do well in our plantations abroad, concerning whom Capt. Alderne may tender you a request.

I suppose it would be well if a Commission of Oyer and Terminer were sent down for their trial, and the sooner the better, the country being now much set against them; the longer they lie the more pity will be got towards them; besides, the industry of their friends will not be wanting in their behalf. General Desborow has gone to Tiverton, from whence 200 men came to be armed against the enemy, upon notice of their coming westward. Thence he intends for Taunton, to see in what condition that country is, and to settle things there, and to endeavour reconciling the odds between Col. Pyne and the Gorges, which looks like a feud; after examining the prisoners there, he proposes to return to Exeter. The Primrose has put into Plymouth, and brought the enclosed to the General. My wife has safely arrived. [1 page.]

March 27. Order by the Protector and Council for the more regular issuing of the first 3 of the present 6 months' assessment, by assignments or otherwise, for pay of the army.

As part of the assessments are needed for the forces in the counties, and it would be prejudicial for the moneys to be first brought to Guildhall, the Army Committee may assign any part thereof needful for their present pay, and the receivers-general of counties obey their directions in satisfying their warrants.

The receivers-general are to accept such warrants when discharged from the receivers of counties, and give them acquittances therefor, as ready money, and all the said sums, and those which they received as assessments, are hereby declared to be part of the 180,000*l.* ordered them by Patent of 24 March, as Treasurers-at-war.

Also John Blackwell, jun., and Rich. Deane, on acknowledgement of their receipt of the whole or any part, as Treasurers-at-war, shall receive full discharge thereof as Receivers-general of Assessments, by tallies and discharges which shall signify their payment thereof into the Exchequer in part of the 6 months' assessment. Approved by the Protector. [I. 76a, pp. 40-1; I. 75, p. 745.]

March 27. 71. Petition of divers soldiers of Col. Berkstead's regiment in the Tower to the Protector. On 20 March we were sent to convey a sum of money to the Constant Warwick, riding in Lee Road; by stress of weather a Flemish fly-boat fell foul of us in the Hope, split our hoy, and 2 of us were drowned; but by help of the captain

3. Like order in reference to the 1,000*l.* ordered 21 Aug. to Viscount Ranelagh and Lady Katherine, his wife.

4. To advise warrants to the Treasury Commissioners to pay John Maidstone, steward, 16,000*l.* towards his Highness' household expenses.

5. Order on petition of several merchants trading to France, setting forth their receipt of letters from their factors in France of the seizure of their ships there by the French King's order,—2 ships from London being already unladen at Newhaven, in Normandy, and 5 others having soldiers put aboard them; and that they have cause to fear a general seizure of all their effects in France;—that Mr. Thurloe send their petition to the French Ambassador, with a short letter demanding an answer thereto.

6. Order on a paper by Lord Nieuport, Ambassador from Holland, that the Customs' Commissioners permit his servants to take up 4 hds. of French wine sent from Zealand for his use, custom free. [I. 75, pp. 745-7.]

March 27. President Lawrence to the Customs' Commissioners. His Whitehall. Highness and Council think fit to lay a general embargo on all ships, except fishermen and coasters, till April 3rd. Council has issued letters thereon to most ports, requiring the officers to detain all vessels, and hereby gives you notice to the same effect, that you may be assistant therein. [I. 75, p. 747.]

March 27. Pres. Lawrence to Nath. Stephens, Thos. Hodges, Thos. Pury, sen.,
Whitehall. Chris. Guise, Wm. Nest, John Crofts, and the rest of the justices of peace for co. Gloucester. The late Parliament having, by their Act of 4 April 1653, prohibited the planting of tobacco in England, his Highness, on 11 April 1654, passed an Ordinance authorizing certain persons to execute the Act, on consideration of the prejudice to English plantations abroad, and to the trade at home, by the planting of tobacco; but several persons about Winchcombe petitioning for leave to enjoy the crop of tobacco then growing, promising to forbear its future planting without license, the execution of the Act and Ordinance was suspended as to that crop.

VOL. XCV.

Lately the Virginia merchants have complained of their loss, owing to the great quantities of English tobacco, trade, navigation and customs being impaired, and those plantations impoverished: You are therefore to execute the Act, and not license the planting of any tobacco in England. But that persons may not suffer loss for want of reasonable warning, you are to have this resolution published in all places in your county where you judge convenient, and in such a way that no person can pretend ignorance; and such persons are to understand that his Highness expects conformity. In case any presume to the contrary, they must charge the detriment that will ensue to their own default, which will be less excusable considering his Highness' indulgence as to last year's crop, and their undertaking to plant no more without special license. We heard of the late stirs in France, but only supposed it a vapour. Capt. Smith, one of the Brest pirates, sent me word that I had more need be at home than molest them, as he had received letters from England that the King had landed in Hull, but his assertions proved like themselves.

The Assurance and several other of the State's ships are at sea; I hope to be soon gone myself, and will send the waterman's ticket by the next. If any motion is made for me to command more than one ship at any time, place it upon some one else; I would rather only command one. [1 page.]

March 28. 75. Petition of Thos. Branker and 3 others to Council, for a special order to exercise their employment as hackney coachmen without disturbance. Took it upon them on the Ordinance allowing soldiers that have faithfully served Parliament to exercise trades, and had their certificates signed and sealed, but malevolent persons have arrested and imprisoned them. The Ordinance for regulating hackney coachmen extends to them as well as to others, but the masters appointed to nominate and approve disdain the soldiery, so that if any are excluded, it will be they. Council having, by an Order of July 6, 1654, directed the mounting as dragoons of 40 soldiers from Carlisle and Berwick garrisons, and they having been so mustered, with their 5 officers, it is thought fit to order the Army Committee to increase their pay accordingly, from July 24, for so long as they continue dragoons. 78. E. Hayward to the Admiralty Commissioners. This morning it occurred to me to present the enclosed, which, with your own apprehensions, may be of considerable service. I have written to Mr. Jessop, as many copies are out of my hands, for liberty to dispose of the rest of my books, which are my own property, and cost me much; I entreat your leave to dispose of some amongst my friends of the navy, who are earnest to partake of my pains; and if you desire more, in order to what I have proposed as a service to the State, I will have them stitched up, not doubting of requital. The clerks of the survey in all places should be ordered to observe the same method for stores, unless a better way may be found out. [1 page.] Enclosing,

78. I. Notes by the same in what way his book may be useful for the State's service, viz. :—

1. It will inform of the sizes and lengths of riggings, the want of a knowledge whereof was no small damage, by the spoiling of ropes either by short or over lengths.
2. It will be useful for examining the warrants in the storekeepers' hands for the fitting out of ships, as to whether the clerks of the survey have not formerly gratified the boatswains with their own demands, for want of rules to guide them.
3. As it will be a direction for the clerks of the survey, so being communicable to the storekeepers, they may be able to trace the truth of the warrants sent to them for the fitting out of ships.
4. By the knowledge of this book, the storekeepers may call for all the decayed rigging ropes from the boatswain.
5. It will be useful for the captains and clerks of the check at sea, to see that the boatswains, when any ropes are decayed, cut out just lengths of new ropes.
6. The boatswains, knowing that the captains and clerks of the check are able to trace them, will be careful not to overcharge ropes.
7. When any ropes are decayed at sea, the captains may observe the quantity to serve for rounding and tackling, the want whereof, in pretence at least, occasions the spoiling of cables.
8. At the return of ships into harbour, the clerk who has the inspection of accounts, having this book, may

If the parties concerned be men of experience, and honest, and be engaged to the observance of these rules, there may be an unknown sum of money saved to the State in the year. The proportions of boatswains' and carpenters' stores may be alike useful, and so may most of the other particulars in the book, to prevent abuses to the State, and settle a method whereby each man may be governed in his duty. [I. 75, pp. 759, 760; I. 76, p. 199.]

- March ? 86. Petition of Lieut. John Bray, and the officers and soldiers in Col. Fortescue's regiment, on board the Pelican prize, riding at Portsmouth, to Maj.-Gen. Desborow. Being 30 leagues off the Land's End, with Gen. Penn, our vessel was found leaky, and as we could not get on board the Hound, we had to pump day and night to get to land. Bray spent so much money to encourage the soldiers not to desert, that he cannot go out again till provided afresh. All beg speedy relief. [1 sheet.]
- March ? 87. Petition of Lieut. John Bray, under Capt. Leverington in Col. Fortescue's regiment, and a serjeant, drummer, gentleman-at arms, and 7 soldiers of that company; 24 soldiers of Capt. White's company; 8 of the major's, 1 of the general's, and 3 reformades, without commissioned officer except the said Lieutenant, to the Protector. We are all in sad condition, because the vessel sprang a leak on 29 Dec., and had to fire guns to keep with the rest of the fleet. Next morning, 5 of the captains came on board, surveyed the ship, and pronounced her unfit for the voyage; so with great danger and difficulty, we got into Kinsale on 4 Jan. We stayed behind because the other ships were so full of seamen and soldiers that they could not take us in; we were to go on to the Hound, but her boats could not get to us for the wind, so we had to pump day and night to bring our vessel to England. [1 sheet.]
- March ? 88. Petition of Allen Grebell, deputy mayor, and 4 other jurats and inhabitants of Rye, Sussex, to the Protector. The seas on these coasts are much infested with men-of-war of the royal party, by whom one of our barques has been taken, and the trade between Dieppe and this place is likely to be spoiled. We beg a small frigate to convoy four vessels to Dieppe and back, and clear these parts of the enemies. Noted in shorthand, "That some of the small frigates look in at Rye, and take vessels and protect them." [1 page.]
- March ? 89. Petition of Wm. Hamilton, late captain, to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have been 3 months in the Gatehouse, and am starving, though I lost bones and blood in the service; but you have stopped my wages, made my friends and customers forsake me, my servants lose their bread, and no one will be bound for me. I am content to die if it can be proved that I have wronged the Navy Treasury. I was imprisoned by my own nation for taking your part, and dangerously wounded, and have been faithful to the State from the beginning of the wars. Pray release me, and take off my dire foes, and I will do you what service I can. With note that he is to be here to-morrow, at 8 a.m. [1 page.]

VOL. XCVI. APRIL 1655.

April 2. 1. Attorney-General Edm. Prideaux to Mr. Jessop. I am ordered to prepare a draft of a license for transporting butter, but I have so much business, and so little time before going to the West, that I cannot make it. The Statute of 1 & 2, Philip and Mary, directs what is to be done by the person who obtains such license. It must pass under the Great Seal, being to dispense with an Act of Parliament. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

April 2. 2. Petition of Sir Chris. Pack and the inhabitants of Prestwold, co. Leicester, to the Protector. The parish is large, having the villages of Prestwold, Burton, Cotes, and Hoton, with a very fair church in Prestwold, and a chapel in Hoton, both on the north road, but with only a casual income of 26*l.* 8*s.* (of which nothing has been paid since Midsummer) to provide a house and maintain a minister, and from that, several dues liable; so that no godly and able minister has been settled there in the memory of man.

Considering your zeal in providing for the ministry, we beg you to order us an augmentation. With note of order. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  sheet.]

April 2. 3. Capt. Rich. Browne to Rob. Blackborne. I wrote you 16 days since that, on account of the condition of the country, the Governor of Tenby and I had desired Capt. Peter Bowen to stay for 8 days in Tenby Road, for protection of the garrison and to intercept the enemy, who, it was reported, were designed for Wales, and shipping prepared to pass them on. He stayed there as long as he could for weather, but has now put into Milford. I delivered what was ordered to the commander of the Lizard, who is bound home when he has received the provisions. [1 page.]

[April 3.] 4. Request of Amy, widow of Rob. Bickerton, both servants to the late King's children, for an Order for payment of 300*l.* [arrears], from moneys due to the State before 25 March 1648, discovered by her. With note of 600*l.* due to the Court of Wards by Sir Thos. Fanshaw, of Ware Park, and Simon Fanshaw, of Bayfield, both co. Herts, and Hum. Selwood, of Seale, co. Kent, for a fine on the marriage of Kath. Ferrars. [1 page.]

April 3. 5. Order thereon in Council, that on her certifying her discoveries in the Court of Exchequer, Council will give further Order. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page. Also I. 76, p. 5.]

7. Sydenham, Jones, Montague, Mulgrave, and Rous to learn, from the Master and Wardens of the Mint, what service is due from those officers in relation to the counterfeiters of coin; and if it appear that it is their duty to see that counterfeiters be discovered and prosecuted, then to learn how it happens that the service is performed by another hand, to the increase of the State's charge, and to report.

8. Order on report from the Treasury Commissioners, on Council's reference of March 9, on a petition on John Pooler, of Hartlebury, co. Worcester,—who was adjudged by the late Commissioners of Haberdashers' Hall to be within the declaration of Aug. 14, 1649, and the resolve of March 6, 1650-1, for adhering to the King of Scots, and all his estate, real and personal, to be sequestered;—that as the report says that, on weighing the depositions, and some certificates from army officers, commissioners of the peace, ministers, and others of credit, all certifying Pooler's affection to the State, they think his case is hard; that on his giving security to answer the profits of his estate when required, the levying thereof be forborne, and the Commissioners for Sequestered Estates required to observe the same, and see that the Sub-Commissioners do likewise, on receipt of a certificate that security has been given.

9. Order on Montague's report from the Committee on the petition of the Greenland Company, for letters of marque against the French, for the better security of their ships in their trading voyage to Greenland; that letters of marque be granted under the Admiralty Seal to the masters of the ships to seize all French ships they meet, giving security not to do so unless first assaulted, and only to use the letters in this present voyage to Greenland. Approved 5 April.

10. The Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer appointed for cos. Devon, Wilts, Somerset, and Dorset, to begin their sittings at Salisbury on April 11; at Exeter on April 18; and at Chard on April 23. Approved 5 April; but the day for Chard changed to April 25. Annexing, Capt. Coterell and the Admiralty Judges to see it done. Approved 5 April.

21. Also that the Serjeant-at-arms repair to Coterell and the privateer, seize them both, bring Capt. Coterell to answer before Council, and take order for securing the ship. All naval officers to give their help herein. Approved 6 April.

9. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Robt. Blackborne. On our arriving at Wincanton, we heard the enemy was routed, but the intelligence was from scraps let fall by the express carrying the tidings by post to Whitehall, where we judged you had it more fully. Two Cavalier army chaplains were brought in to Gen. Desborow, and two horses and 32*l.* having been taken from them, they were sent to gaol. We had some work at Exeter which took up time, but it was a little scattered matter, hardly worth troubling you with, and not half so good as the story of the under bailiff or crier of Blandford, which Mr. Creed can inform you of. We have cause to acknowledge the goodness of God in dissipating those who assembled for the ruin of his people; though there was peace in their mouths, yet war and blood was in their hearts. I am dispatching the Great Charity; and the Winsby, Primrose, and Assistance are ready to sail. Your brother is well. [1 page.]

13. A. Granger to Lord Desborow. My imprisonment has now been of tedious continuance; in your absence I petitioned his Highness, who ordered me bail according to the former orders upon your motion, but you being absent, I despaired of any success until your return; on you only are all my hopes, as I have not a friend on earth to speak for me, or any whom I can petition, unless it is you. I therefore humbly beg you will let me put in sufficient bail until your leisure admits of further consideration in the premises, so that my prison may not be my grave; in the interim, I will make out a brief form for security of the Treasuries.

It may have been the design of many to render me odious to you, but if it is shown that I have not dealt ingenuously since my imprisonment, according to my promise, or have acted in any way prejudicial to the State, I will disclaim all mercy, and be made exemplary to all posterity. [1 page.]

14. Jno. Galpine to Gen. Jno. Desborow. My wife says you are displeased that I did not attend you at Exeter; Capt. Hatsell said you would not speak to me, and hastened me away, though my heart was ready to break. Mr. Doble told me that Mr. Goswell said I declared I had seen and given you satisfaction, but I never did say that. When Hatsell came to Plymouth, I asked if I should come to you at Exeter; he said I must not leave my trust unless you sent for me, but bade me send my certificates by an express. The clothes I bought in London are far plainer than what I formerly wore, which you approved; I bought them with 10*l.* which the Commissioners for Prize Goods gave me for services in discovering stolen goods. I hate powdered hair, and was never in a barber's shop, whilst in London, but my landlord cut my hair. I beg to be restored to your favour. [1 page.]

15. Capt. Rich. Browne to Robt. Blackborne. The Mayflower has gone to the Land's End, and the Lizard to Kinsale to victual. I beg you to send a servant with the enclosed. Mr. Love is appointed by some of the honest people of this county to attend the Protector on an address we have made to him, and there is a malignant party opposed to him, so that near home we fear some letters have been intercepted; I send this under your cover for safety, as it is of public concernment. 16. Order in the Admiralty Committee. The Act of 17 July 1649, for sale of Crown lands, provides that all timber growing within 15 miles of a navigable river, fit for the Navy, should be cut down and carried away before 10 July 1657. But the Navy Commissioners find many trees lying scattered in fields, the cutting down of which will injure the proprietors, who therefore ask to give others in lieu thereof, or to buy them at a fair valuation. The Commissioners also certify great embezzlement of timber in Eltham Park. They

17. Vice-Admiral Jno. Lawson to Robt. Blackborne. Thanks for your care in Mr. Jefferson's business. I believe there are some intentions of evil towards our nation by the French. I hear they have discharged the men belonging to the English vessels, and in some places have used them very ill. I am sorry for Mr. Creed's indisposition.

P.S.—I hear to-day from Dover that in France war has been declared against England. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

18. Col. Jno. Copleston to Gen. Jno. Desborow, Suffolk House, London. I have received orders from Council for holding a gaol delivery on Wednesday the 18th, and have sent out summonses, and will do my utmost to get fit jurymen; I have sent the examinations as requested to the Attorney-General by Capt. Cook, who has orders from his Highness to be at Sarum on the 18th. I am glad to hear you arrived in town safe, but sorry my Lady is so ill. I have sent an account of my disbursements, but forgot 10*l.* to Major Clarke, 5*l.* to Capt. Chaffin, and 9*l.* for a guardhouse in the gaol. Thanks for your mentioning my weak endeavours to serve his Highness, whose convenience I will willingly await. [1 page.]

19. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clerke, Whitehall. I understand the Judge Delegates' order is overruled, and orders given for sale of the linen on the 16th; I am glad, but fear I cannot be present, being summoned to Exeter for the 18th. I suppose the Commissioners for Prize Goods, who will come from London by coach, will not reach Exeter until the 14th. It is said that the tobacco and other goods will be sold first, and the linen reserved till their coming. I will endeavour to confer with them, and spend what time I can at the sales. I hear the Fagon is safe, and has 14 days' provisions left. I enclose a letter from Col. Jno. Copleston, Sheriff of Exeter, to show his good providing against the worst. I shall try to get a few honest men to Exeter to be of the petty jury, and prevent what else might fall out. [1 page.] Enclosing,

19. I. Col. Jno. Copleston to Capt. Hatsell. I intreat you to do your utmost to get as many honest petty jurymen as you can, as there will be a gaol delivery for the county held at the Castle on the 18th, and there will be great strivings by the Cavalier party to corrupt the jury. I have sent you a warrant to prevent it, that such may appear as will not favour the interest. Tell them I only want them for this time, and it shall be no prejudice to them. It would be sad for such villains to escape.

Recorder Steele, Mr. Sadler, and Mr. Long signed the writ with me, and sit at Sarum on Wednesday. Capt. Croke is sent there by my lord, who left early this morning. Mr. Attorney will certainly be here.

P.S.—I will pay your charges in warning the men. Exeter, 9 April, 1655. [1 page.]

I have sent men on board to rehoop his casks.<sup>1</sup>

For 2 years past I have been Registrar to the Commissioners for Compounding, and spent much cost and pains to methodize the office for better service, in discovering matters much to the public advantage. I am to have the former salary of 6*l.* a week for myself and clerks, but the perquisites are much decreased. 18. To advise his Highness to put the business of money for the forces, and other public expenses, in a fit way for serious consideration.

19. Order on petition of James Hill and Baruch Pitts, merchants of Lyme, for themselves and the rest of the owners of the Diamond,—shewing that they, having freighted the vessel in Rotterdam with pitch, tar, and deals, and intended her for Morlaix, in France; but in her voyage thither, had notice that there was an embargo on all English vessels in France, which forced them back to Lyme; that the Diamond have liberty to pass out of Lyme with the goods, and that a warrant be issued accordingly. Approved 14 April.

Approved 14 April.

22. Order on report from the Committee on the Danish ships—that on speaking with Sec. Thurloe, they find no cause to stay the order to proceed against and adjudicate the said ships—that the following order be advised.

23. Whereas long before the peace with the States general, divers ships of this Commonwealth were arrested in the ports of the King of Denmark, not for debts or suits, but by his officers, which amounted to a hostile seizure; and thereupon, in Oct., Nov., or Dec, 1652, 6 Danish ships named, and divers other ships and goods were on just grounds seized upon by way of reprisal, to be proceeded against in the Admiralty Court:—It is ordered that the Admiralty Court proceed against those ships and sentence them according to law and justice. Annexing, to give discharge for any part of the said assessment paid to them. Approved 14 April; passed 17 May. [I. 76, pp. 18–24.]

April 13.

27. Petition of Wm. Mountjoy, John Matravers, John Chapman, and Wm. Pym, to the Protector. The late King, in 12 Charles, granted Thos. Smith, Wm. Mountjoy, and others, a 31 years' lease for taking up the gravel, sand, and soil in the Thames, for ballasting ships, they paying 466*l.* 13*s.* 4*d.* the first 5 years, and 1,000 marks afterwards. We have spent 3,500*l.* in lighters, boats, wharfs, &c., executed our office of ballasting ships in the Thames, and paid our rent till the beginning of the Long Parliament, when Raleigh Sanderson, who held the lease, with engines and lighters, as tenant, took possession of all the necessaries, and by exercising the right of ballasting without paying rent, brought the business into question before Parliament, and then all were allowed to ballast who pleased.

After this Sanderson, having the materials, ballasted as he liked without paying rent; but now, he and the other patentees being dead, the whole right accrues to Mountjoy, and by his assignment to the other petitioners, and the rent devolves to your Highness during the rest of the 31 years.

But there are some words in your late Ordinance of 11 Aug. 1654, for redress of abuses in the Thames and Medway, which may restrain us from taking gravel and soil, unless appointed by the Lord Mayor, though it could not be intended that we should not take sand and gravel from the shelves in the river to ballast ships. We will provide fresh materials, and pay our yearly rent, if you will confirm us in our office. [1 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

April ?

29. Petition of John Matravers, John Chapman, Wm. Pym, and Wm. Dirlton, to the Protector. The survivorship of the lease for ballasting ships in the Thames fell to Mountjoy; but he, being aged and living far off, sold it to us, and we exemplified it according to an Act of 29 Jan. 1648–9, and your Ordinance of 26 Dec. 1653.

Last January we set our servants to work on the shelves in the river, intending to supply ballast to merchants at 12*d.* and to colliers at 8*d.* a ton; but the Lord Mayor, as conservator of the Thames, has imprisoned our servants, on pretence of an Ordinance to redress abuses in the Thames and Medway; so that you are deprived of 1,000 marks a year, and we of our just rights.

We beg that as taking away the shelves is advantageous, by making the Thames navigable, you will confirm to us the remainder of our lease. [Copy, 1 page.]

14. To advise warrants to pay Gualter Frost, Treasurer for Council's Contingencies, 300*l.* a year salary, from 1 April till further order.

15. The bills for charges of the messengers and serjeants' deputies to be given in monthly to Mr. Jessop, to examine and certify, and then to be paid by Frost, to whom money is to be issued for that purpose. [I. 76, pp. 29-32.]

April 17.
Whitehall.

Pres. Lawrence to Jonas Scott, Customs' Collector at Wells. His Highness and Council hearing, by your letter to Maj.-Gen. Skippon, that you have stayed John Beane and Rich. Preston, who came to your port from Rotterdam, require you to send them hither in safe custody. [I. 76, p. 35.]

April 17.
The Lyme,
Downs.

40. Capt. Jno. Bourne to Robt. Blackborne. Thanks for your letters, by which I understand the hypocrisy of the French, and doubt not but the Lord of hosts and navies will appear strong enough for his people in the day of battle and time of trouble. England's former experience should teach us to place our confidence aright. Pray send down a warrant for our minister. [1 page.]

April 17.
The Merlin,
Cagliari Bay,
Sardinia.

41. Capt. Geo. Crapnell to Thos. Smith, Navy Commissioner. We have all enjoyed good health since coming into the Straits. Our General with his fleet met in Ferrena 9 Turks, which we fired and burnt. Many hundred guns were fired on both sides, and from the Turks' castle, but few English were killed or wounded. The Turks seldom or ever heard such a peal before. Since then I have received some repulse from my own company; therefore if any of them shall come with tickets, or upon any other pretence for money, do not pay them until the frigate returns. There have been other defeats by our frigates. I took a French cutter from Cyprus, off Cape Bona, laden with cotton, which I delivered to the General. I send you a draft of Ferrena port, with the ships as they lay in battle. Pray forward a letter enclosed. [1 page.]

April 17.

42. Certificate by Rich. Phelps, mayor, and others of New Sarum. Edm. Macks, apothecary, was indicted for treason before the Commissioners for Oyer and Terminer, co. Wilts, and confessing himself guilty of that horrid rebellion, was sentenced to death, but begs mercy on our certificate of his former good conduct for 7 years, in compassion to his wife and family. 31 signatures. [1 page.]

April 18.

43. Propositions of the fined persons in Scotland to the Protector. By your order of 6 April, we are to pay on 21 May and 2 July next 45,000*l.*, being  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the fines imposed by the Ordinance of Grace, which is impossible, the sums being so great, and the time so short.

(1.) We offer security to pay  $\frac{1}{3}$  of the fines in 12 months; this will be 30,000*l.*, besides those 6 persons whose fines are suspended by your last order. This we undertake only in the extremity of our necessity, and our desire to keep our families from starving, and to satisfy you.

- (2.) By the last order we are less able to raise money than by the commission granted 21 last August to those Commissioners at Edinburgh, as this order only suspends the remainder of the fines till the next Parliament, and those Commissioners had absolute power to discharge.

We beg you, on performance hereof, to order us to get complete discharges, for we cannot raise money by sale or mortgage of our estates so long as that incumbrance lies on us. Also to declare that the fines being paid, we may be freed from the qualifications in the Act of Grace, debarring us from seeking payment of our just debts, so that the law may be patent to us as to the rest of our nation. [1 page.]

- April 18. Order thereon that Council adheres to the sums to which the fines were reduced by the last order; but the payments are to be in two moieties, on 25 June and 29 September next. A committee to prepare an order for the alteration of the fines, and to discharge those fined on payment of fines, and enable them to recover their debts, and report. [I. 76, p. 33.]

- April 18. 44, 45. Capt. Wm. Rhodes to Lord Lambert. I beg encouragement for my men, who spent their own or borrowed money to fit themselves as troopers, and I had to borrow money to pay their quarters coming to London, but some remain unpaid, which I will pay if allowed, to prevent clamours, and will give in particulars. With reference from the Protector, 3 April 1655, to Whalley and the rest of the officers, and their report recommending payment of 94*l.* 19*s.* 0*d.* [2 papers.]

- April 18. Order that the report on the desire of Capt. Wm. Rhodes, on behalf of the party of horse sent under him into co. Northampton, be agreed to, except as to the gratuities of 10*l.* to the captain, and 5*l.* to the lieutenant. That instead of the 94*l.* 19*s.* 0*d.* propounded, 79*l.* 19*s.* 0*d.* be paid him out of Council's Contingencies, to be by him paid according to the report, and in discharge of quarters; and that this sum, and the 50*l.* already advanced him, be repaid to Council by the Treasurers for Militia Money in co. Northampton, if there be any money remaining. Also order that Lord Lambert request his Highness to grant 15*l.* to Rhodes, and 5*l.* to his lieutenant, as a gratuity for that service. Approved 23 April. [I. 76. pp. 33, 34.]

- April 18. · COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

1. Council to consider next Friday the business about the Scotch rolls and records desired to be sent into Scotland. The Master of the Rolls and Mr. Ryley to attend.

10. Thos. Smithsby to attend Council, to account for his not obeying the order of 31 Aug. to remove from Hampton Court within a month.

12. To advise a warrant for 30*l.* from Army Contingencies to Capt. Hen. Griffith, for repair of Cardiff Castle, he accounting for it to the Army Committee. Approved 3 May.

13. Order on petition of Roger, Lord Broghill,—showing how he is molested by persons turning cattle into grounds of his, part of the late forest of Frome Selwood, co. Somerset, and making the same common, in contempt of a former letter from Council to some justices of peace for preventing spoils;—that Council write to the said justices of peace to return a certificate of their proceedings. [I. 76, pp. 33-5.]
- April 18. 16. Pres. Lawrence to the Army Committee. Council hearing
Whitehall. that the pay of his Highness' lifeguards is assigned on some old arrears due to the army, the levying whereof will be difficult, and will occasion their absence from service, desires you to charge it on some other assignment, that may more certainly be paid. [I. 76, p. 36.]
- April 18. 17. Pres. Lawrence to Geo. Monck, Commander-in-Chief in

- April 18. 18. Pres. Lawrence to John Ashe, John Hippeley, John Carey,

[I. 76, p. 36.]
- April 18. 46. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clarke, Admiralty Chamber, Exeter. Whitehall. Particulars of ships at Plymouth. I came here yesterday, and the assizes commenced to-day, when the juries were empanelled, and 10 of the insurrectionists were arraigned, but only Penruddock tried; he was found guilty of high treason; the other 9 will be tried to-morrow. Penruddock challenged 22 jurymen, without showing any cause, before 12 could be sworn, and as the rest may do the same, it will cause the trials to be long; but it is the law, and ought to be submitted to. I must be here, for the prisoners deny at the bar what they confessed at their first examination. [1 page.] till they were settled under the Countess of Leicester, when we were dismissed. We then applied to Parliament for pensions, as allowed to the rest of our fellow servants, and his Highness, before the expedition to Scotland, promised to assist us. 50. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clerke. I see by your letter how the honest French are like to deal with us, and wish it may quicken us to go thoroughly to work with them, as becomes honest men, to do their utmost for the good of their poor country. I do not wonder to hear of an order from the delegates to the same purpose that those busy gentlemen had like to have one from the Admiralty; but here is delicate work all this while, and it behoves those gentlemen to bestir themselves for their own credit, having before engaged against the Commonwealth; but till his Highness throws such men with indignation out of his presence, you will never want instruments as use indirect ways against the Commonwealth. I notice what you say concerning the value of the goods at Morlaix, and shall appoint the Bryer to go to that coast, giving notice at Morlaix of her being there, and will have her fitted and tallowed by to-morrow night, and ready to take in her provisions with haste.

The Great Charity is taking in provisions, but has not 20 men besides officers. I have sent the lieutenant to ferret them out of their holes in the town; but when all is done she will want 70 men, many being run away out of discontent; some come tippling on shore, and then march away in their mad fits, some to privateers at Fowey, and some to their homes; but I have given orders to some of the captains, when they meet privateers, to take out their seamen. If the Commissioners approve thereof, I desire an order for so doing. I also want a letter to Capt. Heaton to furnish 20 or 30 men for the Great Charity if needful; they come voluntarily to serve in the Saphire.

The abominable strong drink brewed in this town is of more prejudice to the State and to the poor men than the heads of all the brewers and alehouse keepers here are worth. I have made several complaints of it to the government here, but they protest they cannot remedy it, as the brewers have grown so rich, they contend with them at law. A sad effect of this drink was seen here last week; two Dutchmen, being deep in liquor, and going towards their ship in Catwater, and some young men of the town being at play without the Friary Gate, one of them called the Dutchmen butter boxes, whereupon they drew out their knives, and one of them struck the young man behind the ear, and he immediately died; they are both in hold, and will be sent to Exeter to be tried. This strong drink is from 26s. to 28s. a hogshead, and stronger than sack, and when a sailor has drunk one bowl, it makes him half out of his wits. To remedy this, I propose you should move the Commissioners to write to the mayor and magistrates, laying before them the evil this liquor produces, and desiring them to take some effectual course according to law to prevent it, and you will have it remedied in a great measure, if not altogether.

I desire you will not charge home the Receiver for Devonshire with payments within the county, as I have been constrained to take up the collections of Rowborough and Plympton Hundreds, which is about 415*l.*, and have ordered Fras. Hacker to pay it into the Treasury at Guildhall, and yet this does not defray half the expense here since I put in the last accounts. I will send up all these accounts when the Charity is dispatched, being resolved to keep short ones, or else I may quickly run myself out at heels, for to be out 400*l.* or 500*l.* of my own may be a great loss to me; besides, all the money I have, to 20*l.* or 30*l.*, is now in London, being disbursed here for the State's use, and there received.

P.S.—I can get no money here on exchange; none will take bills on a public treasury, yet business must be dispatched. [ $2\frac{1}{2}$  pages.]

52. John, Earl of Clare, Lord Warden of Sherwood Forest, to Mr. Montague, one of the Council, at his lodgings near the Orchard, Whitehall. Fearing to trouble his Highness with an immediate address, I beg you to acquaint him with the enclosed and a report that Mr. Clark has leave to sell for his own use 28,000 trees, which will expound all the dark places thereof; that he sets on all the workmen that can be got at very high wages, and before the bark will peel, contrary to statute, and sells at very low rates, like Solomon's harlot that would have the living child divided. He sweeps clean, leaving no standards according to law, which will bare of timber a forest that stands near 2 navigable rivers, the Trent and Idle, and render it in the same condition as the Forest of Dean was endeavoured in the late King's time, by malevolent persons, to weaken our wooden walls of shipping. Approved 3 May.

5. The question whether the draft of an order annexed to the report—for continuing an Act for laying an imposition on coal, towards building and maintaining ships to guard the seas,—should be committed, passed in the negative.

10. Strickland, Skippon, Wolsley, and Jones to consider the paper now read, sent in by Machamont Needham, and the annexed warrants concerning printing, and to report.

April 24. Pres. Lawrence to the Lord Deputy and Council of Ireland, at Whitehall. Dublin. His Highness and Council think fit that Lieut.-Gen. Ludlow forbear coming over to England till further order, so you are not to permit him to do so. [I. 76, p. 45.]

April 24. Proclamation by the Protector for executing the laws against priests and Jesuits, and for speedy conviction of Popish recusants. Finding that in spite of the severe laws, many priests and Jesuits resort here, say masses, and seduce people to the Church of Rome; and holding ourselves obliged to use all good means to preserve the people from being corrupted, which is best performed by keeping them from priests ordained in foreign parts, and prohibited by the laws of this land;—we order diligent search to be made for all Jesuits and priests having orders from the See of Rome, who are to be apprehended and committed to the county gaol, to remain without bail or mainprize till their trial. We give notice that the harbourers and maintainers of them shall be left to the course of law, and we expect all our judges, justices of peace, &c., to execute the laws now in force against them.

There has lately been great neglect in conviction of Popish recusants, so that no penalties are levied, which has induced many to embrace Popery. We therefore command that the Ordinance for an oath of abjuration, appointed by Parliament to be tendered to any above 21 by authorized persons, be executed; and that none may pretend ignorance, we express the words of the oath, and all who refuse to take it before any 2 justices of peace, or mayor and city officers, are to forfeit as Papists, and have  $\frac{2}{3}$  of their estates sequestered, and of their goods sold, as appointed by the Act of Sequestration. The oath,—being a denial of Papal supremacy, of transubstantiation, purgatory, and image worship, and a confession that salvation cannot be merited by works—is to be taken without equivocation or reservation. This oath is to be tendered to all suspected to be Popishly inclined, and the names of those who refuse or neglect to take it to be certified into the Exchequer, that proceedings may be taken. All justices of peace, mayors, &c., are to administer this oath as a necessary duty, and not to do it or forbear at their pleasure. [I. 76a, pp. 49–51.]

LEICESTER and RUTLAND.—Francis Hacker, Wm. Stanley, and Edmund Craddock Alderman of Leicester. [I. 76, pp. 46-7.]

April 26. Pres. Lawrence to the aforesaid Commissioners. Council having considered the sad calamity this Commonwealth has long groaned under, by reason of profane, ignorant, and scandalous ministers, to the great grief of the godly, encouragement of the wicked, and hindrance of the propagation of the Gospel and of reformation; and finding the Ordinance for ejecting such ministers is not at all put into execution in your county, desires you quickly to meet, and effectually to execute the same. [I. 76, p. 46.]

April 26. 2. Pres. Lawrence to the Admiralty Commissioners. His Highness and Council—having heard that divers Brest men-of-war invest the west coast, and that one is now riding before Dartmouth Port, having lately sunk a ship,—recommend to you to take effectual means to protect that coast, and Dartmouth in particular, from further mischief. [I. 76, p. 46.]

April 26. 60. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clerke. I want a letter to the mayor and magistrates, concerning the abominable strong drink which is here brewed, and which they protest they cannot hinder, the brewers fencing with them most stoutly. If it were not against the law, I would have all the brewers pressed and sent in the Great Charity to Barbadoes or Hispaniola. It would be no sin against God, for by their means his name is profaned, his creatures abused, and much evil committed. Pray become an instrument to prevent it.

The Great Charity is ready to sail to the Sound, but I must borrow men to get her out. Particulars of ships.

P.S.—I have borrowed 415*l.* of Mr. Talbot to carry on the service, and ordered the amount to be paid into the Treasury out of my own money. [1½ pages.]

April 27. 61. Petition of Thos. Clerke to the Protector. I hold a lease from William, late Marquis of Winchester, granted 41 Eliz., for 41 years from 1636, of Itchin Abbas Farm, co. Hants. The lease was proved by the surveyors, and returned by them to Drury House, and my claim was put in to the Commissioners for Obstructions, within the time limited; but the surveyors saying that their view and return was a sufficient allowance, I did not procure one from that Committee. They say that they should have allowed my title on a report from counsel, had they not been precluded by the time for hearing causes. I therefore beg you to authorize them to allow it, and to direct the Trustees for sale of forfeited Lands not to sell the said farm. With reference thereon, signed by the Protector, to Council, who referred it, 27 Feb. 1654-5, to counsel-at-law, and report of Attorney-General Prideaux in favour of the petition, requesting that the Commissioners for Obstructions may decide the

65. A. Granger to Col. Clarke. I have often begged your opinion as to my putting in bail according to his Highness's orders; but amidst weightier affairs, mine has been overlooked. My time of affliction is tedious and long, made heavier by the inconveniences of a prison like this, in which the wants of myself, wife, and family are best known to God and the sufferers. Pray preserve us from ruin, and let my bail be accepted, according to his Highness's order of 28 March last, I being then as much a prisoner as now. The rest who were obstinate in their denials are long since under bail. I only have been ingenuous to a tittle, and have been my own accuser. [1 page.]

66. Abstract of a report of the Navy Commissioners to his Highness and Council on naval affairs. States that their report made last October shows that the navy stood charged with a vast debt for the wages of seamen and provisions, and that almost all the money since received has been applied in payment of General Blake's fleet, and the other part of the debt has remained unpaid, and is now augmented by other debts for necessary supplies. That the provisions expended for setting forth the West India ships and the present fleet have already so exhausted the stores that there is little remaining to complete the fleet, or to answer other emergencies, and that by failures in former contracts, the State's credit is so far weakened, that without ready money, the stores cannot be supplied or renewed, as the necessity of the present service and other grand concerns of the public call for. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]

VOL. XCVII. MAY 1655.

May 1. COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

1. Montague's draft of a warrant dormant to the Treasury Commissioners read, and committed to Lambert, Mulgrave, Wolsley, Jones, Montague, Sydenham, Rous, and Fiennes, to consider the papers prepared by the Treasury Commissioners touching fees and salaries of officers of the Exchequer, and to report.

2. As the naming and settling attorneys in the Court of Chancery, and the disposing of the records in such manner as directed by the Ordinance for regulating Chancery, have been omitted by those entrusted therewith, and as great delay of justice would arise if the proceedings in Chancery should be suspended till their settlement, the Commissioners for the Great Seal and the Master of the Rolls are to proceed in the business of the Court notwithstanding, acting in all other things according to the directions of the Ordinance.

4. Commissary Gen. Whalley, the Lieutenant of the Tower, Cols. Goffe and Twistleton, Lieut.-Cols. Worsley and White, and Maj. Packer, to consider 2 papers touching several accounts of Lieut.-Col. Wroth Rogers and Capt. John Nicholas, concerning some horse, foot, and dragoons raised by them according to order in the late rebellion, and to report.

5. 1. The Admiralty Commissioners to issue their warrant to the Ordnance officers, to deliver to Lieut.-Col. Worsley a barrel of powder, with bullet and match, monthly, for the Protector's own regiment of foot; also 10 barrels of powder to be kept in store at St. James's for the said regiment. [I. 76, pp. 52-3.]

Plymouth.

2. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Robt. Blackborne. The Nightingale and Bryer came in, the latter having convoyed the money for Scilly. The Great Charity wanting men, I have taken a few from the Assistance, Bryer, and Fagon, at which the captains grumble. The providing of men and money to carry on the work is more trouble than all besides. I send a certificate by Capt. Leo. Harris and two others, of the continual absence on shore of Hen. Goss, the master of the Great Charity; I have replaced him by a young man of Plymouth, named Tancock, who has had some experience in the West Indies. The lead is taken out of one of the Dutch vessels, and she has gone, but I have no order about the oil and soap in the other, and Ald. Hill has gone to London. The ship bound for Guinea had meal, iron, brown paper, and some linen, which the sailors who captured her took. The provisions in the ships bound for Newfoundland grow worse, and the charge increases.

The Welcome, with saltpetre, silk, &c., from the East Indies, waits a convoy. The Assistance has sent in the Hoy, which has little but ballast. I have ordered the frigates abroad to keep together, the better to encounter several Frenchmen coming from St. Malo, some of which are very rich, and to bestir themselves to find the Brest men-of-war. I wish another frigate or two were at Plymouth, one of which might be Beach's. I cannot hear of any of the

2. I. Certificate by Capt. Harris alluded to, 1 May 1655.

[May 2.] 3. Petition of magistrates, officers, and freemen of Kingston-on-Thames, Surrey, to the Protector. Our town is governed by 2 bailiffs, several masters and peers, and 15 head boroughs. These last nominate 4 persons for bailiffs, and the master and peers choose 2 of them, and all the other yearly officers. In August 1654, a tumultuous assembly met in the Guildhall, and in spite of orders to the contrary, sat as a court of common council, censured the bailiffs for their choice of an attorney, and discharged them from bearing office. These parties, being called to account for their misdemeanours, refused an accommodation, on which 6 of them, 3 being head boroughs, were discharged. These, and another discharged for buying stolen goods, have sued out writs of restitution in the Upper Bench, which referred the case to Sir Rich. Onslow and Col. Rob. Wood, who agreed on an award; but the other party, after consenting to it at first, fell off from it. We have chosen other head boroughs, but have tendered restitution to the remainder, on acknowledgment of their miscarriage; yet they are engaging in law suits, which will ruin many on both sides. We beg a reference, to accommodate the differences. [1 sheet.]

May 2. Reference thereon by Council to Strickland and Jones, to hear both parties, and compose these differences, and also those between Col. Wood and Mr. Gulston if they can, and to report. [I. 76, p. 53.]

[May 2.] 5. Col. Alex. Blake to Col. Goffe. On his Highness's letter and commission for raising a party of horse to secure these parts, I listed divers honest persons who brought their own horses and arms, and after attending 8 days, I promised payment to 30 as long as they remained. After 6 days I had yours, giving me the enemy's route, and telling me to discharge the soldiers, which I did, but I am engaged for 14 days' pay for the officers sent to get the men, which was troublesome and expensive, and 5 for 30 troopers. I kept them, that in this disaffected corner, honest men might have a head to repair to if danger approached, and also because there were persons enlisting horses and men at Oundle, and promising 14 days' pay. Peterborough 12 April 1655. With calculation of the sum due, 33*l.* 9*s.* 0*d.*; reference thereon by the Protector to Commissary-General Whalley and the Committee of officers, to report to Council, 26 April 1655, and their report, April 30, that Blake drew his troop to Stamford fair, during the late danger, to prevent the gathering of ill minded people, and should have the sum paid from the 500*l.* received by them from Contingencies of Council. 2. Note that "the orders of this day are all entered in the private book." [I. 76, p. 54.]

May 3.

8. John Rushworth to Wm. Jessop. I am going to Essex to meet the Warden of New College about a lease of some concern to me, or I would have attended on Col. Rob. Thorpe's business [See 15 Feb. 1655], but my partner, Edw. Greene, can tell as much as I can. We have no advantage thereby, but great trouble and vexation, only we try to see the public and his creditors satisfied, and to get our discharge for our own security. Greene has laid out thousands in this business. [1 page.]

May 4.

9. Petition of Frances, widow of Sir Wm. Fairfax, to the Protector and Council. My husband lost his life in the service in 1644, at the relief of Montgomery Castle, without making a will to provide for his younger children, so that they are cast upon my small jointure, and there are many debts to pay.

On the news of his death, Parliament sent Sir Thos. Widdrington, M.P., to condole with me on the Commonwealth's loss as well as my own, assured me that I and my children should be provided for, and ordered me 1,500*l.*, which in some years I received, but had to pay it to creditors who had furnished my husband with money, arms, &c., for the service. Since then I have received nothing towards his arrears of 4,000*l.*, but have been passive whilst matters of so great concern were in hand.

I beg the arrears out of discoveries to be made by me of persons who have many thousands in their hands belonging to the State, and authority to the Treasury Commissioners to direct the Barons [of Exchequer] to bring the said persons to account. With reference to Council, 22 March 1654-5. [1 sheet.] Annexing, Fairfax, Major-General of horse under Ferdinando, Lord Fairfax, Lord-General of the North, and enclose them, as taken on oath before us. Wakefield, 4 April 1649. having commenced. I hear from Mr. White, of Dover, that the Spanish and French men-of-war upon their coasts suffer the fishermen of each nation to fish freely, though the war between them has lasted so long.

Capt. Mackey, of the Yarmouth, chased a pirate pretending a commission from Charles Stuart, and having driven her into shore, sent two boats under charge of his lieutenant to her; but she fought with them, killed his midshipman and 3 men, and wounded 6 others, so they were forced to retreat; the Reserve also chased 2 shallops near the Foreland, but lost them. I sent a ketch to protect the fishermen off the Foreland; I want 2 others, one belonging to Mr. White, and one to Mr. Berry of Barking, for the same purpose. On the 2nd I sent the Elizabeth to compel a Dutchman off the Goodwin Sands to strike his flag to ours, but he was very obstinate, and refused until fired at, though on slender excuses. Shall I send to Dover for more victuals for the Fairfax?

I have ordered the Yarmouth to transport Francis, Lord Russell, Wm. Russell, and Lord and Lady Strangford, with their retinue and baggage, for Dieppe. [2 pages.]

At Newmarket he held up his hand to God, and vowed to maintain the right of the people without King or House of Lords, and now he has got the power into his own hands, he punishes the godly and lets the wicked go free, for there are better men now in prison than out of it, and this he would tell him to his face. 24 March 1654-5. This, if referred to the Customs' Commissioners, could be ordered without trouble. Custom House, London, 12 May 1655. [1 page.]*

3. and arms of the nobility and gentry, and by Patent of 15 James, the executors of all who die are to bring in certificates and pay fees. But as it is doubted that these orders are not binding in law, and as the Court of Wards, whereby the descents of a great part of the gentry were preserved, is taken away, we beg power to require the executors to bring in these certificates and pay their fees, whereby in a few years the arms, matches, and issue of all the families in England would be brought in, and controversies avoided.

Also painters now paint arms and make escutcheons for funerals, without repairing to our office, so that many errors are committed. We beg that this may be forbidden, and that the painters may first come to us, according to ancient usage.

Also solemn funerals, and the use of pennons, standards, and hatchments in churches and chapels, were only granted by our allowance for persons of eminence; they are now privately made and put up for persons of small worth. We beg that this may be forbidden, and the offenders punished.

As some coercive power will be required, we beg you to appoint certain court days, to be kept by yourselves or your lieutenant, to hear complaints, and to make this court a Court of Record. 7. The Committee on repair of his Highness's houses to hasten their report.

11. The lodgings in Whitehall, late Maj.-Gen. Skippon's, to be assigned to Scobell, Clerk of Council, and Embree to put him in possession when Skippon vacates.

12. Jenkin Lloyd and Mr. Rawlins to continue in their former lodgings which they were told to quit, as Col. Fiennes has been accommodated elsewhere.

15. Lambert reports the order and declaration for levying excise in Scotland, which was read, the blank filled up thus :—"24th June 1655," and so amended, ordered to be presented to his Highness.

18. Whereas on 3 April last, it was ordered that the levying the profits of the estate of John Pooler, of Hartlebury, co. Worcester, should be forborne, on his giving security in the Exchequer to answer the profits when required, but the amount and the person to whom the security should be given were not named ;—order that the Treasury Commissioners shall give direction therein, and on certificate of the security being so given, the Commissioners for Compounding and their sub-commissioners are to observe the former order. [I. 76, pp. 70–3.]

19. Order in the case of Dr. John Pordage [see 4 April 1655]. His Highness having presented Gualter Adams to the rectory, and had him and Pordage before him, could not compose an agreement between them ; Adams insisted much on the inconvenience of having the house and glebe made part of the allowance, and offered rather to make up the 80*l.* to 100*l.* ; both offered to stand by the determination of Council, who, after hearing the allegations on both sides, decide that Pordage deliver up the parsonage and glebe lands, and have 100*l.* a year from the rectory during their joint lives. May 11. Pres. Lawrence to the Mayor and Aldermen of Lincoln. Council hear from Col. broken; since then Col. Berry, having purchased the palace and appurtenances of the bishop, wishes to use the seat for his family, and has applied in vain to the magistrates to have the pulpit moved back. Council desires you to see it done, that he may enjoy the seat according to his contract, placing the pulpit where it formerly stood, or in any other place you judge fitting. [I. 76, p. 72.]

31. Capt. Edw. Tarleton to the Admiralty Commissioners. In compliance with the enclosed orders, on 29 April I marched 10 miles into the country, with the commanded party, and 40 of my own men, to surprise some delinquents, but they must have had notice, for they were gone. We plundered and fired their houses, and brought away 150 cows and sheep without opposition, save that at a pass 3 miles from the garrison, some Lochaber rogues fired at us and ran.

On the 5th I received 250 men on board, and sailed at night 8 leagues off to Kynnyogh harbour; but our pilot not knowing the coast well, we lost time, and before we could get our men landed next morning, we were discovered by the inhabitants, who gave an alarm through the town and country; but though we could not surprize the rogues, we burnt 40 of their houses, and destroyed all their cattle. Then we re-embarked in our 2 boats. We saw 50 men together who waited, as we thought, to engage the men who were to be shipped last; but finding us more than they were, they durst not attempt to leave their hills until we had put off, when they came down and fired upon us without effect.

The Highlanders have come in very fast lately; between 300 and 400 have taken the engagement, and more are expected to do so. They will all come in under protection of this garrison.

My provisions will last till 4 June, when I hope to be at Dublin. [1 page.] Annewing, 32. Col. Robt. Gibbon to the Admiralty Commissioners. We arrived here safely 1st May. This bay is infested with small pickeroons, so that small vessels can hardly look out without danger; one was taken within 3 or 4 miles of the castle yesterday. Pray send us a man-of-war of 16 or 20 guns, and a small galley, or a good double shallop with 30 or 40 men, or there will be no stirring from this island all summer. There are 2 or 3 small vessels now bound for England, but dare not stir; 6 ships have sailed from St. Malo for St. Lucar with linen, two of which were estimated to be worth 300,000*l.*; each carried 36 guns. We hope some of the State's ships will meet with them before they are out of the Channel.

P.S.—I shall send you a hogshead of cider by the first vessel bound for London. [1 page.]

35. Quartermaster Rob. Dillington, alias Knockerdown, alias Tuntroles, to his "most noble captain [Jos. Williamson]." We are sorry for your fatal defeat, and have set apart a day of public humiliation, yet hope your army is not totally routed, only the horses were houghed by a politic stratagem. Your headpiece foresaw the danger, but your courage in undertaking anything for your friend outbalanced all disasters, relying on your noble commander's maxim, "Audaces fortuna favet." Had your commission permitted you and your forces to pierce the ocean to the isles of the Atlantic, you had avoided that ambush and been highly honoured by your Scanderbeg (?) subjects.

An epitaph on Rosinante fraught with tears,—

"Now lies interred within this cloister Rosinante that loved an oyster." [1 page.]

Indorsed with declaration in royal form. We certify to all Christian people, Turks, Jews, and Presbyters, that Sir Littleman Cockpebble has abundantly proved his courage and fidelity in disputes by himself and with others in many hot encounters in the Low Countries, especially 2 days before he left, when the heat of the charge lay on him, and he carried himself so nobly that the day was his own, several of the enemy's colours being taken, and they all made captives to his noble spirit and deed without losing a man, only he was slightly cut. We stamp the measure of his courage under the standard of our highest approbation. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page, damaged.]

36. i. Deposition of Peter Daniel, of Merston Biggott, Somerset, aged 60. In 1627 and 1628, the late King gave commissions to several knights and gentlemen to disafforest and enclose the forests of Bruham Road and Frome, co. Somerset. They had orders published in all the parish churches for claimants on the forests to come in, and they should have justice. The inhabitants of Maiden Bradley and Yearnfield appeared and claimed commons in Merston Biggott, but did not prove their claim. To prevent clamour, another meeting was held at Frome, when they brought Mr. Ford, an ancient steward to Sir Edw. Seymour, lord of Maiden Bradley Manor, who pretended they had deeds and records, but produced none.

*In 1629, the lands at Merston Biggott were enclosed and settled on Sir John Hippesley, then lord of the manor; many of the inhabitants became his tenants, as did Sir Hen. Ludlow, then lord of Yearnfield Manor. In 1641 he sold the lands for 4000*l.* to Lord Broghill, who held them till 1643, when, during his absence to suppress rebels in Ireland, rioters destroyed his fences and laid waste the lands, and the inhabitants encouraged them, and would not allow his servants to repair the fences, but put in their cattle, whereby Broghill has sustained 1,500*l.* loss, and his mounds are destroyed. When, on an order of 28 Aug. 1654, he again had the fences made up, 12 inhabitants named of Maiden Bradley broke them down last April, and again put in their cattle. [1½ pages.]*

40. Petition of Watkin Kiffen to the Protector. I was Treasurer to the Monthly Assessments in co. Denbigh in 1651. Lieut.-Col. George Twistleton, Governor of Denbigh Castle, wrote to advise me to secure what money I had in hand in some place of strength, as the Scots' army was approaching, and within a day's march, and their emissaries were come into the country; so I delivered the money to Twistleton.

When I demanded it in Nov. 1651, he refused to restore it; saying he had paid it by your order for disbanding his garrison.

VOL. XCVII.

I applied to the Army Committee, who ordered him to pay it ; and on his refusal, in Aug. 1654, they ordered his sequestration.

He then applied to you, and by your order of 26 Sept. last, you superseded the prosecution, and ordered his accounts to be examined ; now the Army Committee sequesters me for the 700*l.*, to my undoing. As I only did my duty, I intreat that I may be discharged of the 700*l.*, and Twistleton continue accountable. [1 $\frac{1}{4}$  pages.]

Declaration by the Protector for collecting the Excise in Scotland. By the Ordinance for uniting Scotland with England, it is ordained that all taxes and impositions be borne proportionably by the whole people ; and by the 27th Article of the instrument of Government, a revenue was to be levied in England and Ireland for maintaining the army and navy, by customs and excise amongst other things. Therefore from 24 June 1655, the rates which are paid in England and Wales are also to be levied through Scotland and the Orkney and Shetland Isles, on numerous articles, and at rates specified. All other goods imported, mentioned in the book of rates, except bullion, corn, victuals, arms, ammunition, ordnance, and wool, are charged 5 per cent., to be paid by the first buyer from the importer. All those not mentioned in the said book, nor in the present rates for excise, are to pay 1*s.* in the pound. The said rates to be levied by the persons appointed therefor by Acts and Ordinances in force,

42. Petition of Katherine, widow and administratrix of Col. Simon Needham, slain before Colchester, to the Protector. By order of Parliament of 12 Aug. 1648, my husband's accounts were to be reported by the Army Committee, who in May 1650, wrote to the Commissioners at Worcester House to state them, which has been done, and yet they are not reported. They found from the certificates I showed that he had paid all his quarters, and yet they were bound by the Act to deduct  $\frac{1}{3}$ , being 354*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.* for free quarter; beside this, they report 787*l.* 12*s.* 7*d.* as due.

Since the Long Parliament was dissolved, the Army Committee ordered a report to be presented to you. He has left 4 children, many debts, and nothing but his arrears; I therefore beg that these may be paid in full, or allowed as doubled money on any purchase of forfeited land. With reference, signed by the Protector, to Council, to relieve the petitioner speedily, and meanwhile to allow her 10*l.* a month. 10 May 1655. [1 page.] Annexing,

44. Petition of several elders and brethren of divers congregations in and about London to the Protector. We know the miserable condition of the Waldenses [in Savoy], who by the tyranny of their Popish governors, after murder of their relatives, are forced to fly into the mountains rather than forsake the truth. This persecution seems entailed on them from their forefathers, and by the Lake of Lucerne they have been as burning lights, bearing their testimony against the innovations of the Man of Sin. Though we are unworthy of our own liberty, and need not to whet you on to the work of love we hear you are resolved on, we beg a speedy course for the precious remnant, and a solemn mourning for their sufferings and our sins. 47. Capt. Lambert Cornelius to the Admiralty Commissioners. When near Cherburg on the 3rd inst., I met Chamberlain's ship and chased her, but she got away. While there I heard that the Cornelius of Brest, of 10 guns, and her prize, a ship belonging to London, of 9 guns, laden with Virginia tobacco, bound homewards, were lying at anchor near Cape Barfleur. Plying towards them, I met a small galliot of Dover, fitted as a privateer, and commanded by Derrick Hinderson, so gave him notice of the aforesaid vessels, and desired him to observe my orders, which he agreed to.

On the 5th inst. we came within a league of them, when they both weighed and ran towards shore, and the galliot, being nearer to them than my Pink, manned her boat to fall on board the prize, on which the men left the prize and met the galliot's men in their boat, so that the galliot's men boarded the prize without opposition. Meantime I laboured to secure the man-of-war; her captain, an Irishman, seeing no probability of escape, ran his frigate on shore near the prize, it being then one hour's ebb, and doubting whether the French would not deprive me of both, I ran my Pink between them, whereupon Codd, captain of the man-of-war, and his company took to their boat, and made for the shore. The Pink being aground for 9 or 10 hours, I had divers parleys with some that seemed gentlemen of quality, as also with Capt. Codd, from whom I had both threatening and persuasive arguments, to get again what I resolved not to part with. Seeing my intent, as the water came about the ship, they all approached as near as they could in a friendly manner, and drank healths to the Lord Protector and his Council, and took their leave; the ships floating, we brought them all off, but were forced by contrary winds to remain at Guernsey till the 14th.

This man-of-war was chased not long before by some of our frigates, and to escape, threw 6 of her guns overboard, but she and her prize are now in Weymouth Road, and my Pink in Portland Road; I will sail with the first wind with my prizes for Portsmouth. I am desired by Col. Gibbon to attend at Weymouth, to carry over the soldiers' money for the garrison at Jersey; upon your order I will so do. [1 page.]

48. Statement by Walter Zanchy. I was at the Upper Bench last Saturday when Mr. Cony's business came on. I went out for his Highness' counsel, and when I returned, the room was filled, so that I heard but little. Serjeant Twisden, one of Cony's counsel, excepted against the formal part of the return of the habeas corpus, and said the customs were payable by an Ordinance of Parliament of Dec. 1647, whereby, and by subsequent Acts, they were continued to March 1653 only, and the customs are due by no law since. He insisted much on the taking away the Star Chamber, and urged that subjects were not to be imprisoned, nor their goods attached, but in a legal way on trial by jury; he paralleled the late Council Board's orders with that Ordinance whereby the Commissioners for Preser-

Mr. Attorney-General, in his reply, wondered the serjeant should speak so much against the present authority, being that by which that Court sat, and by which Mr. Cony's expected justice. Serjeant Maynard, also of Cony's counsel, spoke little, but I could not well hear what he or others of Cony's counsel said. [ $1\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

6. The Clerks of Council to cause the report from the Commissioners for Accounts, in a difference between Lords Herbert and Montague, and all the papers annexed, to be sent to Guildhall this afternoon, where trial is to be had about the matter.

May 18. 53. Capt. Anth. Archer to the Admiralty Commissioners. After leaving Falmouth, whither I was forced by contrary winds, we sailed Augustine, Carlisle Bay, Barbadoes. 28 March, but lost our consorts in a storm, and sprung our mainmast; on 2 May we arrived safe at Barbadoes, and found 2 ships. The General [Penn] and his fleet having gone, I applied to the Governor, who supplied me with another mast and provisions, and with the other 2 ships, I will follow the fleet. I have received many affronts and and abuses from the merchantmen in the Road, and particularly from those of the Paramour, under Capt. Joseph Ward. [1 page.]

May 18. Levant Company to John Hobson, Venice. But on promise of redress, we have suspended our proceeding 2 months, before which he hopes to send us a satisfactory answer. He will give us a copy of what he writes, which we will send you. [Levant papers, Vol. 4, p. 240.]

May 21. Levant Company to Spencer Bretton, Consul at Smyrna. We London. confirm ours of 24 February. We are not satisfied with your vindication of yourself as to Capt. Ell's average; the business is of ill consequence, and you ought, as a public minister, to have opposed it, nor can we allow you  $\frac{1}{2}$  your house rent and 300 dollars for minister's diet. They are unreasonable innovations, and were not allowed when the salary was far less. We have dealt too largely already with you and Mr. Hales too, giving him 200 dollars, a year's salary, for a few weeks service.

As to the treasurer, 3 able persons are to be nominated at a general assembly of the factory, from whom one is to be chosen by lot to serve for a year, who is to have 5 per cent. on the consulage, provided care be taken that he is solvent, and a fit person.

We approve your levying 20 per cent. on Domingo Vaes de Brito's bales of cloth. We are startled with your charges against some of the factors; if true, their principals, from whom they receive their livelihood, should know; it is a wrong to them and to the factory to be unduly taxed. We will second our orders for the factors to give in the weights and marks of their silks. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, pp. 241-2.]

May 21. Levant Company to Rob. Winchester, minister at Smyrna. We London. are glad to understand by yours of 20 Jan. of your safe arrival and good reception. It is a mistake to suppose that we have taken from the consul the 300 dollars allowed for your maintenance. It is not deducted from his allowance, but is one of the conditions of his gratuity of 1,000 dollars, so that you receive it, not as his courtesy, but as our payment. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, p. 242.]

[May 21.] Levant Company to the Treasurers and Factory at Smyrna. We think it unkind that you have not complied with our orders about a treasurer. We have now resolved that you shall yearly choose 3 men at a general meeting, and select one of them by lot to be treasurer for a year, to whom we will allow 5 per cent on the consulage. The man chosen must collect our dues industriously, and you are all to concur in not increasing our debts, or voting away our moneys unusually or on superfluous expenses. We disapprove your large allowance to Mr. Hales of 200 dollars for a few weeks' ministry, and your concurrence for an average on Capt. Ell's ship.
- Explanation of the gratuity to the consul [see p. 54 supra]. John Abney, late treasurer at Constantinople, should have a debt of 1,622 dollars paid, his accounts having been audited and allowed.
- You do not obey our orders to enter the weights and marks of silk with the treasurer. He should also give us particular accounts of levations. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, pp. 243-4.]
- May 21. Levant Company to John Abney. We have ordered the treasurer at Smyrna to repay the debt you name in yours of 18 Dec. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, p. 245.]
- May 21. Levant Company to Hen. Riley, Aleppo. You note the death of Felix Pigot at Scanderoon; Mr. Bodington is gone there as marine factor. We are glad you are rid of Ipseer Basha, and hope you will be quieter in his absence. You shall be no loser by your modest forbearance about the gratuity. Let us not lose our duties by Mr. Fowke, or any other interested in the Hattecheriff business. There is no reason for detention of consulage, &c., on that score.
- We think the house at Scanderoon should be repaired at less yearly charge; the marine factor must be advised to more frugality. Also we cannot allow the charge of 50 dollars per ship pretended to by the dragoman. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, p. 245.]
- May 21. Levant Company to the Treasurers and Factory at Aleppo. To London. like effect. You are to elect a treasurer, who shall have 200 dollars a year, and pay respect to the Consul. We hope Mr. Bodington will suppress the disorders in shipping goods, to which some of you have been prone. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, p. 246.]
- May 22. 54. Petition of Nich. Greene, Wm. Shute, and Thos. Coleman to the Protector. We were appointed a year since by the Committee for approbation of Preachers, to be sequestrators to Grettleton living, co. Wilts, the incumbent, Mr. Trotman, not being approved, and there being two pretenders to it. I secured the corn, locking the barn doors, but Trotman broke open the doors, speaking contemptuously of you, and sued the parishioners for their tithes.
- On this the said Committee ordered us to give possession of the living to Mr. Pichard, a godly minister, but Trotman still keeps it, and has arrested some of the chief of the parish for their tithes. We beg you to sue him to answer his contempt, and to settle Pichard in the place. With reference to Council. [1 page.] have set out from France for the North and West Seas. If they de Cardenas, Spanish ambassador in England, has intelligence from the principal Jesuits in most places in Christendom, especially the French Court and the Queen's Court, concerning all matters relating to England and himself. The Papists in England have contributed much to his ends.

- Cromwell will not conclude with France till assured of Penn's success, but will amuse both France and Spain with a treaty ; and to prevent a peace between the two, will gain such an advantage over one that that Crown shall not dare to make peace without his consent, and so he will continue the war, as the surest means to preserve him in his usurpations ; but surely both French and Spaniards, rather than be exposed any longer to his notorious insults, should, by the Pope's intervention, make peace on a sudden on any reasonable conditions. It would be so were not the Cardinal in France as desirous to continue the war as Cromwell, finding it best fishing in troubled waters.
- Lieut.-Gen. Middleton is landed at Emden, and intends to come here next week. I wonder what the Dutch say about their ships taken by Penn at the Barbadoes ; it will destroy their traffic in those parts. Cromwell intends to make the trade of the United provinces inconsiderable, and subservient to him.

In 1649, John Lee, minister of Leamington, was sequestered by the Committee for Plundered Ministers, for drunkenness, swearing, and malignancy, and I was invested therein by request of the people. I have allowed Lee  $\frac{1}{2}$  since, but he—encouraged by disaffected lawyers, who say the Committee for Plundered Ministers is no legal authority—has commenced suits against me, detains my income, and impeaches my title. The case was to come on last Warwick assizes, but Justice Hale referred it to Major Beake and 2 others to arbitrate. Beake would not act, finding the scope of the case was to vacate the judgment of the Committee for Plundered Ministers.
As it may go hard with me if left to law, and as I have been much tossed and troubled, and thus rendered unfit for my calling, I beg your authority to refer the case to the Commissioners for Ejection of scandalous Ministers, or some other way. I was security for Lewis Young's payment of 250*l.* to Randolph Stephens; he became a delinquent, and was sequestered in 1643 by the Camden House Commissioners, who ordered me to pay the money. I paid 300*l.* and got full receipts. Stephens' widow and executrix, Elizabeth, has sued me for the debt, and the money being not all paid on the day, the jury found the penalty of the bond, 400*l.*, against me at a trial on 12 May, before Lord Chief Justice Rolle. He would certify the Barons of Exchequer, according to the Ordinance for Indemnity, but they are not sitting, and execution will be out against me in 2 days. I beg relief and stay of proceedings. - May 25. 78. Petition of Susanna, widow of John Bastwick, M.D., for self, 2 sons, and two daughters, to the Protector. In 1640, the House of Commons, after a full hearing, resolved that the proceedings in the High Commission Court, Star Chamber and Council, in suspending my husband from a large practice, fining and imprisoning him, putting him in the pillory, and cutting off his ears, were unlawful, and that he should have damages from the estates of those who unjustly sentenced him. The House of Lords ordered that the other parties should be heard, but as none appeared, they ordered the vacating of all proceedings against him, and granted him 4,000*l.* damages from the estates of the Duke of Lenox, Earl of Dorset, Lord Cottington, and Sir Fras. Windebank. The Commons added 1,000*l.* more from other estates, but delayed performance so long that Parliament was dissolved, and the report not made.
- The case was presented to the next Parliament, and the Committee for Petitions ordered Ald. Ireton to report in favour of the 5,000*l.*, but that Parliament was dissolved before report.
- He then addressed you, and you referred him to Council, who ordered Maj.-Gen. Skippon and Mr. Rous to examine the papers, on whose report Council ordered him 200*l.*, which he was obliged to pay at once to his creditors, and referred the case again to Parliament; but God put an end to my husband's sufferings, and he left me and my fatherless children without livelihood. I presented my case to Parliament, who again voted me the 5,000*l.*, and referred it to a Committee to say where it should be paid; but that Parliament too was dissolved, so I must end my days in extreme want unless relieved by you. There are no sufferers of like nature to trouble you, as Mr. Burton's wife and child have 200*l.* a year settled on them by Parliament.
- My jointure was sold to pay my husband's debts; I am aged, sickly, in debt, and without means of subsistence, and am a woman of sorrows, poverty being more grievous to those who have lived in plenty, and my children are deprived of their inheritance and portions. I beg the 5,000*l.* or some other reparation. With reference thereon to Council, to see that some competent sum is paid her forthwith. [1 sheet.] Annexing,

Savoy, professing the reformed religion transmitted to them by their Waldensian ancestors (who testified to the truth with their lives and fortunes) were, by an edict from the Duke, ordered to quit their habitations in the hardest weather, within 20 days, on penalty of loss of life, unless they could show that they had embraced the Roman religion. This command was executed by an army, which, by slaughters and intolerable violence, drove them to the mountains to escape their persecutors, who put many to the sword, and by inhuman cruelties and tortures, forced the rest to fly, who are now wandering with their wives and little ones, in hunger, cold, and nakedness.

We of the same faith and hope, who enjoy protection, should not neglect our poor brethren, but exercise compassion, and having peace and plenty, relieve them, out of a deep sense of their calamities, and of the future danger of Protestant churches.

We therefore appoint Thursday, 14 June, as a day of humiliation and fasting on their behalf, and desire all to join therein with heart and lip. On the same day the ministers are to stir the people to a free and liberal collection for their relief, and to cause this declaration to be read in their respective churches. 83. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Robt. Blackborne. Three Quakers have arrived from Bristol, and last Lord's day, they had a meeting at the outskirt of this corporation, and made discoveries of new lights; 2 days since, hearing the mayor intended sending for them, they came to him with their hats on, and saluted him with "What wilt thou have of us?" which much amused the people. When examined, one acknowledged the cause of his coming, and promising to return home, was discharged; but the other two stood stiff in their folly, and were sent to prison, where they have been two days, and have neither sought God by prayer, craved a blessing on what they have received, nor returned thanks. The more I behold the workings of Satan in this manner, the more I acknowledge God's mercies.

I desire you to move the Commissioners as to the noyals canvas I am to receive from the Prize Office, upon which custom is demanded, which the Sub-Commissioners for Prize Goods refuse to pay, as they receive no money for it, and I have no reason to do so without order. 86. Capt. Fras. Willoughby to Robt. Blackborne. Yours of the 24th presents matter for mourning and lamentation, considering the great dishonour done to the Lord, and the unheard of cruelty exercised upon the Saints ; I hope the zeal of the nation may be raised to the highest pitch of resolvedness for revenge, it being good in God's cause, though ill in our own. Such actings call for vengeance, and it will not be long ere the Lord avenge himself on those who have imbrued their hands in the blood of his saints, and on those powers that uphold these devilish principles. If the Lord make this nation instrumental therein, I shall look on it as one of the greatest dignities that can be conferred ; and if the Lord set it in the hearts of the godly of this nation seriously to consult what is their duty, and go forth to action, I shall hope that he has mercy in store for poor England. The Lord be with his people in that solemn appointed day, and hear the cry of the blood of his saints. [1 page.]

87. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Robt. Blackborne. I received the sad relation of the unheard of cruelties against the professors of the truths of Christ, whose blood the Lord will no doubt avenge ; I am glad it is so received by our rulers as to seek the Lord for the remnant, and to provide for them. I hope it will be commended to the nation in general to do the like, whose bowels in such a case will doubtless be moved. The post gives only 2 hours to answer letters.

P.S.—The Quakers are still in prison, being very stiff, and are likely to be sent to the common gaol. Our quiet West country people judge them to be men of strange humour. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

to the respective commanders with me, so that, their hearts being inflamed with zeal for God and affection for his people, it might stir them up. We have resolved to cast in our poor mite on the fast-day intended by the Lord Protector and Council.

89. J. Fowler, Judge-Advocate, to Rob. Blackborne. I should have arrived on board earlier, had I not been delayed by a meeting desired by the widow of Mr. Inglis and his creditors, wherein I and my children were concerned, for some legacies left in his hands 5 years ago by my father, of which I fear we shall have a very bad account and total loss. On coming to Deal, I found there had been a court-martial the day before upon the carpenter of the Advice, as to embezzling pitch, tar, &c.; he had returned them to the stores at Harwich before any seizure of his person, so that nothing was found at his house, and it was not proved that he was a felon; yet as he confessed to an intention to steal, the Court proceeded against him with as much severity as possible, and sentenced him to be carried from ship to ship, with a paper written on his breast denoting his offence, the same to be read at each ship's side, after beat of drum; then he was to be thrice ducked from the yard arm, and lastly cashiered, but to have a ticket for the time he served. The evidence being so defective, and not on oath, if he had not confessed, the Court could not have gone so far.

Capt. Bourne's religious and charitable intention for relief of the poor Protestants, chased away by the Savoyard after the slaughter of their fellows of Lucerne, is to solemnize the fast demanded by his Highness next Thursday, by a free-will offering on board his and the rest of the ships, and it promises to be strictly observed. 91. Capt. Jno. Bourne to the Admiralty Commissioners. It is several years since I had the honour to serve this Commonwealth by sea, and this is the first time I have presumed to trouble you in this manner, and now it is not without reluctance. If hereby I should be judged too sensible of my private concernment, my encouragement is that you will not conclude so, I having never disputed any commands, nor consulted my own advantage.

Since the beginning of the Dutch war, I have been in continual action, and God has graciously upheld me beyond my own and others' expectation, especially in the Portland engagement (at which time I wore a flag), where myself with the frigate were wonderfully preserved, being thrust at very sorely by three of the enemies' ships at once (besides what I received from the whole fleet passing through the midst of them), by which we had almost perished, and in which fight I received a very dangerous wound in my skull by a poleaxe, besides other bruises, which rendered me, by all that saw me, a dead man; under this wound I remained with extreme torment some weeks, and expenses great in order to a cure; when I had in a measure obtained it, Gen. Deane, who loved me beyond my deserts, being ready to go forth in the Resolution, appointed me captain of that ship under him, which command I could not resist, though much disabled in body. In this command I continued until the Lord crowned that war with an issue; but the remembrance of the wound received will continue with me to my death.

I confess I am well satisfied with the Lord's providence and your respects towards me, although my advantages have not been like others, being for a good time of late in the General's own ship, where I had opportunity of service, and wanted no business, but no great alteration in my small estate. However I bless the Lord, who has kept me from stretching my principles to the least prejudice of the Commonwealth.

100. Thos. Lamplugh to Jos. Williamson, Queen's College, Oxford. My negligence has no excuse in law, for Littleton, in his chapter on the courtesy of England, disapproves any breach of civility. ## VOL. XCVII.

 May 30. Pres. Lawrence to Arthur and Rich. Caley and 11 others. Divers
 Whitehall. freeholders and others of Coventry have petitioned about differences between them and the city, about laying assessments and other charges, which his Highness and Council, desiring to compose in an amicable way, refer to you. You are to meet and confer with the persons concerned and others, for a full examination of the fact, and if you cannot accommodate it, certify to Council, stating through whose default you cannot compose it. [I. 76a, p. 73; I. 76, p. 108.]
- May 31. 102. Petition of Col. Rob. Bennett to the Protector. The Committee to whom my disbursements for the State was referred report a balance of 297*l.* 7*s.* 9½*d.* due to me. I have a less sum in hand, on an account before the Army Committee, who have no power to allow me the 297*l.* 7*s.* 9½*d.* on the balancing. I beg an order to them for a payment of what remains due, and a discharge. [¾ page.]
- May 31. Order on the above petition, and a report of Whalley, Worsley, and Broad, for a warrant to the Treasurers-at-war to pay the 297*l.* 7*s.* 9½*d.*, or as much as remains due on his account. Approved
 1 June. [I. 76, pp. 109, 116.]
- May 31. 103. Petition of the inhabitants of Motcombe, co. Dorset, and others near who attend preaching there, to the Protector. In your Ordinance of 2 Sept. 1654 for better preaching of the Gospel, you declared ways for the uniting and dividing of parishes. Motcombe has always been a parish, and had its officers, church, and tithes to support a vicar; the inhabitants are numerous, and the church in the midst of them, and on Dec. 3 1646, the County Committee divided it from Gillingham, the pretended mother church, on which a return has been made in Chancery for its dividing. We therefore beg that the Trustees for dividing Parishes may divide Gillingham from Motcombe, and appoint Thos. Andrews, who has been settled with us since 19 Nov. 1646, as our minister. 112 signatures, 1 only by mark. With reference 23 May 1655, signed by the Protector, to the Committee appointed for that purpose. [2 sheets.]
- May 31. Confirmation in Council of an order from the Trustees for uniting and dividing Parishes, dividing Gillingham from Motcombe, and allowing the tithes and profits in Motcombe town and chapelry to Thos.
 Andrews, the present minister. Approved 31 May. [I. 76, pp. 110, 112.]
- May 31. 104. Petition of Edw. Farrer to Council. The Commissioners of the Great Seal have presented to Bentham rectory, co. York, Rob.
 Lowther, who is rejected as unfit by the Commissioners for Public Preachers, and 7 months since, his Highness appointed me. I was approved by the said Commissioners, and made incumbent by an instrument under their registrar's seal, but Lowther detains the benefice. I beg that he may be summoned to answer his contempt.

the next 6 months, to persons fit to distribute them to the Commissioners appointed to collect the same. Approved 1 June.

11. Order on report on the petition of Jos. Wallington, &c. [see 22 May 1655],—that after discourse with persons experienced in the burning of coal, and a return from the Attorney-General, they see no objection to the grant, with a salvo of the grant of 23 Nov. 1654 to John Copley, of an invention of making iron with charked pit-coal, paying  $\frac{1}{2}$  the profits into the Exchequer;—granting the patent as requested. 13. Order on a report from the Army Committee on Col. Twistleton's petition referred 29 May, and on a former report on Watkin Kiffin's petition, that the horse quartered on Kiffin for non-payment of the 700*l.* to the Treasurers-at-war be taken off, and he freed from all charge of quartering; and that Desborow, Jones, Sydenham, Montague, and Mulgrave, consider the case, and report to-morrow. 106. I. Report by the Army Committee on Col. Twistleton's petition, that they have given a full account of the whole case in their report on Watkin Kiffin's petition. 30 May 1655. [1 page.]

106. II. *Report of the said Committee on Kiffin's petition. That he did lodge 700*l.* with Col. Twistleton, who refused to return it.*

*That Twistleton's statement that he spent it in disbanding his forces is untrue, as he had army warrants therefor, and only spent 89*l.* 10*s.* 4*d.* in keeping the garrison 10 days after disbanding.*

That Twistleton having repeatedly promised payment, but delayed it, on 16 Aug. 1654, his neglect was certified to the Sequestration Commissioners. He then petitioned the Protector, who referred the case back to us, and on account of this reference, the Sequestration Commissioners did nothing.

The detention of the money was very prejudicial to the poor receiver, and will induce others to get assessment moneys and keep them. Twistleton should pay the moneys,

109. And. Butler [Mr. Manning to Thurloe*]. I told you last week that Wilmot was landed at Flushing. He and the 2 Holseys came here on Monday, and Sir C. Lloyd since. Morgan and Blaney,

* The series of 11 letters, of which the present is the first, and which go on to ½ July, are from Manning, a traitor in the Court of Charles II. They were all written in cypher, but the originals of only 3 are preserved. There are separate decyphers of all except that of 28 June 8 July, the decypher of which was probably sent to press, as it is printed in Thurloe's State Papers, vol. iii., p. 591, being the only one of the present series in print, though several other letters from him are printed in Thurloe, vol. iii. His pseudonyme was And. Butler; the present letter is so signed. His salary from the Protector was 1,200*l.* a year, and he served 3 years; but after his detection in December 1655, he was pistolled in a wood near Cologne, by Sir Jas. Hamilton and Major Armourer. who lived in Queen Street, are here likewise. Middleton and his gang were brought in from Munster in state. Gerard and Manwaring are coming back from Prince Rupert, who will be here in 7 days. The sword men encrease here, and so do the divisions. Tell me suddenly how to steer, and think me not extravagant in sending for money. To serve you well, I must now and then be able to serve Charles Stuart, and nothing would be more easy to you and pleasing to him than to give a little recruit to the Duke of Gloucester; daily favours are most significant. If you disapprove this, tell me some other way to oblige him. Speed your answer, and the Dover cypher, and new addresses for your letters. I try to advance your stock. Thanks for your last letter and my money.

Armorer and Page are landed in Holland. All these had not escaped, had you been ruled by me. Rombald, an agent in the late design, and Rogers with one eye know much.

I am glad you lay about you. Remember Denham, Lady Isabella, Hum. Painter the surgeon, Simon Potter at Lady Stanhope's, and Sir Lewis Kirk, who are weekly intelligencers here, and Wm. Richards, who lives at Mr. Trussels, Paternoster Row. Wilmot says the Presbyterian interest must do our business. He speaks well of Fairfax, Sir Chas. Howard, Sir Art. Hesilrigg, and Wm. Ashurst. Last post from Holland, Dolman offered the King his service; I wonder at this, also that I do not hear that Sir Rob. Byron, Compton, and Sir R. Willis, are taken. Let me hear of you weekly, and send me the news book. [Decypher, 4 pages.]

- June 1. 2. Petition of Wadham Windham to the Protector. Has felt the heavy hand of his displeasure by a tedious imprisonment. Begs pardon for whatever was spoken by him in his client's cause that has given offence. Never meant to encourage sedition or disturb the Government. Begs release. Noted as returned by his Highness. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]
- June 1. COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.
3. The Customs' Commissioners to allow the goods, provisions, &c., of Lord Hen. Cromwell to be shipped by his agents on the Blessing or Primrose for Ireland, and to pass custom free.
4. The petition of Col John Humphrey referred to Col. Clarke, Col. Goffe, and Lieut.-col. Kelsey, to learn from him if his occasions will stand with a present engagement in the Western expedition; and if they find he will be ready in time not to hinder the voyage, to treat with him about terms.
6. Order on report on the petitions of Col. Twistleton and W. Kiffin [see 31 May, supra] that Twistleton pay the 200*l.* therein named, in order that Kiffin may pay it in; that Twistleton be liable to the charge incurred for non-payment by quartering; but that when he has paid it in, the sums due to him shall be considered on application. Annexing,
3. 1. Report alluded to, signed by Desborow and Jones.
[1 page.]
7. The petition of Tobias Calley, mariner of Topsham, co. Devon, referred to the French Treaty Commissioners, that provision may be made for his release, or if not, a report made.
11. Approval by the Protector of 11 orders, from 25 to 31 May.
- 10, 12. Sydenham, Montague, Jones, and Mulgrave, to consider the report of the Lord Mayor of London and other treasurers of the collection to be made for the Savoy Protestants, and draw up instructions for its management, which shall be annexed to the Declaration for a public Fast, and sent to the several sheriffs; which were accordingly drawn up, approved, and sent to press. [I. 76, pp. 113-5.]
- June 1. 4. Instructions by the Protector touching the said collection. The ministers and churchwardens are, on the next Lord's day after the reading of the Declaration, to go from house to house in the several towns and parishes, and receive what each housekeeper and others will freely give, setting down the names in a schedule to be subscribed by them. of the sum and signed, to be given in four days to the mayor, chief officer, or a justice of peace, who is to send them to Chris. Pack, Lord Mayor, and Sir Thos. Vyner, alderman of London, Treasurers appointed to receive them, and the ministers to certify the sum collected within six days to Hen. Scobell, clerk of Parliament.

Sir Gilbert Gerard, Bart., Sir John Trevor, Edw. Cressett, Phil. Nye, Edm. Calamy, Jas. Carill, Wm. Kiffin, Wm. Jenkins, and Thos. Harrison, to be a Committee to see that the money is paid in to the Treasurers, and disposed to the best relief of the poor Protestants, and give an account to Council. [Printed 1 sheet. Also I. 76 A, p. 64; I. 76, pp. 100, 116.]

- June 1. 5. Bond of Jas. Robinson, merchant of York, and Sir Rich Grenville, of Fitzford, to Charles II. in 1,000*l.*, for performance of the articles and conditions on which a privateer's commission has been granted to Robinson. [1½ pages.]
- June 4. 6. Reference, signed by the Protector, to Council, of a desire (missing) of Commissary Gen. Whalley to have money for his donative in Scotland out of the Scotch fines, as others are to have, although he has omitted to put in his claim according to the time prefixed. [¼ page.]
- June 5. 7. Petition of James, Lord Coupar, to the Protector. On my last addresses against the fine of 3,000*l.* imposed on me by the Act of Grace, so far disproportionable to my estate or deserving, you ordered those appointed for mitigation of fines to examine the case, and give you a true account, reserving the determination to yourself. This was done, and it showed how much I am prejudiced by the fine, my estate being only 334*l.* a year, and my assessments above 100*l.*
- Besides, I ventured my life at Marston Moor and Philiphaugh, protested in Parliament against the engagement in 1648, refused service in 1651, and have lived peaceably since, though the Highlanders have taken up my estate, and banished me my house, because I would not join with them.
- Whilst I was hoping a discharge, I am fined 750*l.*, which is disproportionate to my estate and guilt, and to the method observed with others. I think your weighty affairs must have diverted your remembrance, or such a mistake would have been prevented. I beg discharge from fine, and means to subsist, so that I may serve you in future. [1 page, signed.]
- June 5. Note of its reading in Council, being recommended from his Highness by the Lord President. [I. 76, p. 117.]

Wentworth's accounts, with their indexes, all of recusants in the 11 Northern counties, which have remained at Haberdashers' Hall, and been of daily use in showing the time of conviction, seizure, and composition, whereby many claims have been disallowed, the sequestration being before the pretended claims. 16. Reasons offered to the Commissioners appointed to execute the Act against the planting of tobacco, why no tobacco should be planted in England. It occasions the confluence of 1,000 dissolute persons, who only labour quarter of the year. It injures the soil for miles round. It has injured the trade of the city of Gloucester and other market towns. The use of it breeds disease, as it cannot in this climate be so cured as to be fit for use. It is therefore hoped that there will be no order for preservation of the tobacco now planted. [1 page.]

Whitehall.

President Lawrence to the officers of horse and foot in cos. Worcester, Gloucester, and Hereford. His Highness and Council passed an Ordinance, 11 April 1654, requiring Sir Wm. Roberts, John Stone, Gervase Bennett, Adam Baynes, and John Bocket to execute the Act of 1 April 1652, prohibiting the planting of tobacco in England; and hearing that unruly persons in your counties, and in co. Warwick and other parts, persisted in planting it, to the injury of navigation and the English plantations, they have renewed the orders against it. You are therefore to assist all persons authorized to destroy any such plantations in your county, and to suppress any tumults of people rising to oppose them. Your diligent care is of great concern.

17. Com. Peter Pett to Robt. Blackborne. I have taken the informations and examinations touching the embezzlement of the State's goods, and as some of the parties intend to fly to the Act of Oblivion, I hope it will not apply; if the business is followed up, much knavery will be discovered. Last week five fathoms of cable were stolen and found in a paper mill beyond the town. I have issued a warrant for apprehension of the offenders, and will commit them to prison, to be tried for their lives at the next sessions, it being direct felony, and necessary that an example should be made on such notorious and impudent offenders. I desire a summons for attendance of the persons accused before the Admiralty Commissioners, and will then bring up the evidence. Notes of ships. [1 page.]

Bilton, deputy-treasurer at Leith, as fines imposed by the Act of Grace for Scotland, at 10 years' purchase; and as Commissary-Gen. 19. Declaration to the Protector by four senior aldermen, six assistants, nine common council men, and numerous residents in Colchester. Divers free burgesses have lately been seduced by the crafty insinuations of disaffected men to displace good magistrates, and elect others, either disaffected or unfit for government, so as to cause the place to be suspected of disaffection, and to cause jealousy in the country round, lest it should be again endangered. We therefore protest against these irregular and tumultuous proceedings, and still acknowledge Art. Barnardiston as recorder, Hen. Barrington as senior alderman, and Abr. Barrington as assistant, the persons lately thrust in having no right to their places. [2 sheets, 6 or 7 columns of signatures.]

20. Petition of Thos. Wade, John Frisbie, Thos. Lawrence, and Rich. Green, senior aldermen of Colchester, to the Protector. We have long been magistrates, and done our duty in opposing profaneness and countenancing godliness, though so discouraged by froward men that we have often resolved to lay down our places, but were diverted, lest the honest party should suffer from our successors, since persons wholly unfit in point of ability, or religion, or sobriety, have been brought into the corporation. The present mayor is one of that party; the government is carried on contrary to the majority, and a commission has been taken out for a gaol delivery without knowledge of several of the aldermen, from which many of the county justices of peace are omitted, and some disaffected persons brought in. We beg provision for the future government of the town. [1 sheet.]

June 9.

21. Petition of Thos. Reynolds, mayor, John Shaw, recorder, and the aldermen, &c., of Colchester, to the Protector. We were long "tossed and tumbled in the sad calamities of a civil war," but after spending much blood and treasure, and many prayers, our public enemy is vanquished, and we have peace and plenty and freedom, so that none, except those who are wilfully blind, but must conclude of your government, that "This is the Lord's doing, and marvellous in our eyes." We note with sadness that you have been troubled by some few discontented persons about the government of our town. If the papers presented concern our late elections, we affirm that they were unanimous and free, and not from malignant design; therefore we cannot suppose, what is reported in alehouses, that you will turn out the present mayor, and alter the election of their officers by the town, to satisfy the wills of a few persons. We are ready to give a full account of our proceedings, and beg confirmation of our privileges and enjoyment of our rights. With reference to Council of this petition, and that of the inhabitants of Colchester, 3 April 1655. [1 sheet, with 13 sheets of signatures in 2, 3, or 4 columns.]

22. Papers relating to the said business, viz. :—

Articles presented by the ancient aldermen, common councilmen, and well affected inhabitants of Colchester, to the Committee on the above petitions, accusing the present mayor of favouring Malignants, disobeying his Highness's order not to turn out Art. Barnardiston, the recorder, permitting disorders, profaneness, and drunkenness, ruling in an arbitrary manner, neglecting public worship, &c. Also accusing Mr. Peek, the late mayor, to whom 60*l.* was paid by the governors of the Dutch congregation for their poor, of forcing them to take 40*l.* out of the 60*l.* in decayed cloth, out of his shop at his own rates. June 19. Pres. Lawrence to Geo. Bilton, Deputy-Treasurer at Leith. It was directed, by an order of Aug. 15, 1654, that the Treasurer of fines imposed by the late Ordinance of Pardon on the Scotch should pay Capt. Peter Backhouse 550*l.* You are now directed not to do so, as it is to be paid out of his Highness' Exchequer; and that there may be certainty that you have not paid, nor will pay the same, send in your account at once. Whitehall.
- June 19. Pres. Lawrence to the Lord Mayor of London. His Highness and Council send you a printed paper importing that certain persons have issued farthings which are countenanced by public authority, though they have received no such stamp, but rather the contrary; as these proceedings prejudice the State, you are to examine the matter, and proceed against offenders according to law. [I. 76, p. 141.]
Whitehall.
- June 20. 41. Petition of John Clench, for the inhabitants of Stowbury, co. Dorset, to the Protector. In 1643 we willingly permitted our town of 100 families to be burned, to preserve the Parliament garrison at Wareham, even when the late King's forces were most prevalent in the county, and thus we lost 3,000*l.* and are ruined. We were unwilling to trouble the State till their troubles were over; but we then addressed you, and were referred to the late Parliament, whose multiplied business would not admit private debates, so we return to you. Little can be expected by brief, since the malevolent in all counties will say this ought to be paid on the public account, unless the brief were largely extended, as it was to Marlborough.
The truth of our petition is known to Col. Sydenham, Sir A. A. Cooper, John Trenchard, Cols. Bingham and Fitzjames, and Denis Bond. We refer to your wisdom for the way of our relief. With reference to Council, 9 June 1655. [1 page.]

- June 20. 42. Commissioner Peter Pett to [Robt. Blackborne]. I send the examinations of persons charged with embezzlement. John Alderson formerly informed against Paxford, the gunner, but failed to prove the charge; Mr. Hill says that, if he is indemnified, he will discover much knavery, and that Chris. Hill, of Greenwich, who is accused of buying powder of Rich. Leake, gunner of the Pelican, has got an estate worth 5,000*l.* by purchasing embezzled goods, and offered money to Hill, the searcher, not to be discovered.

VOL. XCVIII.

The examinations of Taylor of Maidstone, and Read of New Hythe, as to selling and buying 2 cwt. of cable, do not agree, as one affirms that it was sold at 7s. per cwt., and the other that it was given in exchange for 3 cwt. of brown paper; but I believe Taylor is right. As to the examination of Pett of Hoo, I think that I, or the other Commissioners, fined him for the same offence long since. There are several other poor knaves accused, and I have ordered them to be secured and sent up.

I acquainted Col. Clarke with another embezzlement of a cable, but as the delinquents were poor, I have bound them over to the sessions, where they may get burnt in the hand, that being the highest punishment accorded there; but if the Commissioners would rather try them at Whitehall, I will send them up. Leake, gunner of the Pelican, sent up 19 barrels of powder and 500 of shot in Hen. Dunning's Hoy to Chris. Hill, a waterman of Greenwich. With Jackson's denial of the charge. [3 papers.]*

43. [Mr. Manning to Thurloe.] Wilmot says, to confirm Sir R. Willis's being one of the Council at London, that when you made him prisoner at the time of Gerard's death, being [aware?] of Bellasis' intimacy with Lambert, he thought he had betrayed him, and sent him a challenge.

Armorer met Lovel in London. None that were engaged have escaped but those I told you of, and Thomson, now at Antwerp. You take the right course, and have struck a panic into them all. If you could stop their correspondence, you would hinder their cabals in Holland. Their only hope is that, having made peace with France, you will break with Spain. Remember Cols. Fras. Lovelace and Edw. Villars, and Mr. John Denham.

I hope you will reward me; having seen the wickedness of those here, I resign myself wholly to you. The Princess Royal, Prince Rupert, and Lord Craven, are expected next week; the Protector's being crowned is believed. Pray remember about the Duke of Gloucester; I am confident you have hindered the Protector's murder by your diligence. [Decypher, 2 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

45. [Mr. Manning to Thurloe.] Your diligence in seizing your enemies gives great alarm here. Had you done it sooner, the escape of many might have been prevented. Dr. Earle's wife, and Mr. Elliott's, who may be known by her red eyes, are to bring over important letters. They dare not send men, the ports being so narrowly looked to. Malivery tells me that Sir John Malory was engaged, but being sick, could not be at the rendezvous. His cousin John Malory, with his men, was there. Col. Hen. Cheater was also engaged, but not there; Col. Owen is yet in London.

Wilmot told me that Lord Byron said to him that he was very much pleased his county had so much confidence in his little carcass as to choose him for their leader. I take God to witness, I deal truly with you in what I write. Col. Borthwick, a Scot, is come, and Balcarras is daily looked for. The murdering of the Protector is still endeavoured. All agree that nothing can be done without that. Remember Lovel, the Duke of Gloucester's tutor, now in London. [Decypher, 2½ pages.]

46. Petition of the parishioners of Manenden, Essex, to the Protector. Sam. Sowthen, removed from our vicarage for drunkenness and other foul scandals, has, without appearance of reformation, intruded into the church and vicarage, on pretence that Parliament orders are of no force now, and put out the minister provided by the well-affected and Godly, who cannot contend with him because of the smallness of the living. Sowthen threatens to sue the inhabitants for all the tithes which, since his outing, they have disbursed to godly ministers, therefore we shall suffer greatly unless he is speedily removed. We beg help, lest the Malignants and irreligious triumph, and the Godly be saddened. 31 signatures. [Copy, 1 page.] your Council in it. I daily expect to be cast into prison; if I am undone by the hand wherein was all my hope, it will aggravate my misery, and it would be a dishonour to this Commonwealth, of which I have so often been a public minister. I beg to bring in French wines custom free, in payment of my debt, &c. [1 page.]

- June 26. 48. Petition of Sam. Vassall to the Protector. To the same effect as that of 6 April 1654. I beg speedy help, or I and my 6 children must utterly perish. Let me have my money, which is already placed on the Excise, or else what is due for the service of my ships, and the rest out of discoveries to be made by myself or friends. - June 26. 49. Petition of Sam. Vassall to Council. The Protector having referred my petition to you, I beg speedy relief. I have laid myself out for the good of the State; I relieved Lord Inchiquin's garrison when they were ready to perish, and unfurnished my ships for them; but though my debt was placed on the Excise, I have only received 1 year's interest. If I could have the residue of the money not ordered from the Excise from discoveries of concealed estates, I could not only be paid, but bring in large sums to the Exchequer. [1 page.]

52. [Mr. Manning to Thurloe.] Your severe proceedings seem terrible to your enemies here. Let me know your prisoners, and I will serve you about those you would have enquired after. On these great alarms a Council was called, and an account taken of every man's intelligence concerning your proceedings, and of those lords which you have lately taken. Some write that the Protector intends to be speedily crowned; others that he will issue a declaration establishing the legislative power in himself; this will be more pleasing to the sword-men, and will abolish Parliaments, which cannot be chosen without faction, the malcontents being easily to be worked upon by Charles Stuart and his party; this last is most feared. They know not here what resolutions to take, except to murder the Protector, which will soonest cause commotion. Rich. Rose has gone to England with additional encouragements to Stephens and others speedily to effect it.

Many from hence land in Essex, where Wilmot shipped himself. We hear that you intend to send many lords and men of quality to the Indies. Tell me the truth of this, and the list of your prisoners; it need not be written in cypher.

You may find Col. Wm. Owen at Wm. Morgan's chamber in Gray's Inn; both were in the late design. The death of Lord Herbert of Chisbury is much lamented. As to the Northern engagement, Major Rob. Walters, who was here incog. before the King's last removal, his brother John, and Capt. Wm. Barck are said to be in London; they, with Mr. Samuel and Chas. Davison, were much engaged in the late design. Sir Phil. Musgrave and his son Christopher, Sir Phil. Mountain, Sir Chris. Appleyard, Sir Wm. Blackeston, and Sir John Crosland had horses ready for the first day appointed for the rising, and were going to beat up troops, when Malivery sent an order to stay, which he had from Davison and the rest of the cabal, Col. John Tempest, Holby, Major Adam Bland, and Col. Ralph Millet. Walter Strickland [noted in the margin, a mistake in the cypher] was the first man that disanimated the soldiers at the rendezvous, and persuaded them to disperse; and on his flight, met Col. Darcy with 60 horse, whose men, for the most part, followed Strickland's example, but Darcy went on; these were engaged, and Col. Branlin, who, I now hear, is a prisoner; this I hear from Malivery. The misfortune is imputed to Langdale's absence; he was promised, but not intended, he being not of Hyde's cabal, which made many fail to come to the rendezvous. I hear by Wilmot that Lord Allington, Sir Wm. Compton's son-in-law, was engaged, and in their cups, that he and most of the lords furnished large sums.

Since I made the proposals to you about the Duke of Gloucester, I fear you are angry, as you give them no answer. I take God to witness, I do it only the better to ingratiate myself in order to serve you. I know this to be the easiest way, growing services being valued here, whereas 60 times the sum at one clap would be soon forgotten. Pray answer this and my other letters. If you have not my intelligence so well digested as you wish, excuse me for I cannot copy it, but am forced to write immediately out of the cypher; but truths you have. I have since attended daily, and now find that the request cannot be granted by brief, as that would be dishonourable, nor from the public, as that would be a precedent. Gray's Inn. 61. Thos. Lamplugh to Jos. Williamson. You answered my questions at the same time that I asked them, which makes me a Pythagoræan, to believe the same soul can inform 2 bodies. I guess the being of your Act (like the principia of metaphysics), is very disputable; but Act or no, I hope to find you and your name on the Buttery books. I shall contract your name into a shorter syncope than ever grammar taught, and enjoin you a fast for a week or two. Mr. Richard has gone north, having his cousin Geo. Lamplugh's company to York. The ladies waver about coming [to Oxford]. [1 page.]

The Mar-

I have sent up the best account I can of the extraordinary stores sent from Deptford, but will get a further account, as also of the awnings sent from Woolwich. I am under sail, but have had to put on shore, 5 or 6 men suffering from smallpox; the rest are in good health. I am sorry I could not take a solemn leave of you. I beg your prayers, that we may be sent out with a blessing, and be a blessing where we go. Our work is great; we need much prayer. [1 page.]

The Mar-
duke. 63. Major Robt. Sedgwick to the Navy Commissioners, I send an account of all the watermen aboard the squadron bound westward; but as some will have to be turned on shore as unfit, you may judge we shall be at a loss for want of men. I hope we shall recruit some here. I intended to send a full account of the extra stores received from Deptford, but finding them imperfect, will send it by the next post. I am now only waiting for a wind, our condition being good, and the soldiers contented, save a few who are willing to countermarch. We have lost a few, and 4 or 5 have been put on shore sick.
- We have had a difference with our surgeons, who say they have nothing to do with the soldiers, and have no allowance for them. We apprehend that the merchant ships are bound to give the soldiers the same allowance of victuals as they have in the State's ships, but we know not the contract; the soldiers began to be discontented at being shortened, but I think the commanders will comply, though unwillingly. 64. [Mr. Manning] to Jer. Joselin, [Sec. Thurloe.] Letters are come from the King of Sweden, Marquis of Brandenburg, and Gen. Wrangel to Charles Stuart. None but he knows the contents. These are his friends.

Also letters from Prince Rupert advise that Bardi, the Duke of Modena's agent, was come to him, and had removed all doubts, so now in honour he must go that journey. He offers Lord Gerard to be his lieut.-general, and Craven to be general, and Massey lieut.-general of his ordnance. This is very private here. Charles Stuart hopes much to have foreign forces from the King of Sweden.

Major Jas. Holsey came with Wilmot and Arnet, one of Ascham's murderers, and they have gone for England. I wish I had a cypher with the Governor of Dover for these things. The murdering the Protector is still endeavoured, for all your severe proceedings, and the actors have large sums in hand to manage it.

Capt. Phil. Curtis is come from England. Let Lambert take care of himself, for it is whispered that he often goes to Wimbledon slenderly guarded.

I do not hear that you have questioned or imprisoned Lords Hertford, Seymour, Mohun, Maynard, Peterborough (?), Carbury, or Strafford, Col. John Russell, and many others I have named, who were deeply engaged: Musgrave was at first one of the Council in London; neither Col. John Covet, Sam. Sandys, Sherrington Talbot, Lord Coventry, his sons, and his brother William Coventry, and Lord Shrewsbury.

Middleton is designed to be sent to Sweden. Worden, Stephens, Dr. Lloyd, one of Charles Stuart's chaplains, and Lovel, the Duke of Gloucester's tutor, now in England, are all employed hence; I sent you word this week where Wilmot's lady resides. The messenger may be found. [2½ pages. Cypher, decyphered; printed in Thurloe, Vol. iii. p. 591.]

65. [Mr. Manning.] To Mr. Miller. [Sec. Thurloe.] Since mine of the 8th, we hear that Lord Ossory, who we feared was in prison, is at liberty. Lord Balcarras, and many Presbyterians are looked for here to-morrow. Wilmot says certainly that in the late design, Col. Booth of Cheshire was to have commanded there, and in Lancashire and North Wales, and Sir Wm. Compton in the Midland counties.

The Princess Royal will be here next week. I wait your commands, and I rejoice to hear that you take the right course and proceed so soundly. If any letters in the packets are found subscribed Gilbert Thomas, they are from Lord Cleveland hither. Ossory knows Stephens and his design. I told Gerard I could not imagine why Devonshire was imprisoned, unless for lending Charles Stuart money. He and Denham do not know what sum was lent. [1 page. Cypher, decyphered.]

[Sec. Nicolas] to Jos. Jane. I am surprised that mine of  $\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$  June and of  $\frac{22 \text{ June}}{2 \text{ July}}$  came by the same post, I enclose a letter for 613\*; pray expound it to him, and tell him such particulars in mine to you as you think fit. I marvel that strangers think much of our nation submitting to one another. It seems to me much more strange and infamous that foreign Princes and States should so basely crouch and creep to such an upstart fellow and rebel as Cromwell, who keeps all in them awe, and makes them, at a distance, and even in their own kingdoms, to tremble for fear of his power and displeasure. Why should any marvel that a people should be quiet, when he has so great an army to command them?

Scott, of Rouen, has a letter from Spain of 25 May, which reports that St. Domingo and Hispaniola had news of the English fleet being in those parts; they were at first much astonished, but are prepared for defence, so it seems Penn and Venables will have to fight for it. Most here think it would be best for the King that the English should prevail against the Spaniard in the West Indies, for that if they should be beaten thence, the Spaniard would not take any notice of the attempt, but continue his friendship with Cromwell.

I am persuaded Cromwell will take no other title till invested in the legislative power, which he will get settled on him by the army, city, sheriffs, &c., and then declare himself by what title he pleases. A little army of Presbyterians is coming here; Lords Balcarras and Colepepper on business of trust from the Queen. I know no Presbyterians who have suffered more for loyalty, yet some think they are the only propugnators of kingly government. I cannot tell why Jennett is discontented, he is no competent judge whose interest is greatest in England. Sir Marm. Langdale had 500 guilders from the King to fit himself for England the last rising, but some men are not to be satisfied. I marvel to hear the Earls of Northumberland, Leicester, and Devon are imprisoned, but I think they are only ordered to keep to their houses, as the Earl of Lindsey was. I wish my wife were out of England; she must be affrighted to hear of daily imprisonments. [ $2\frac{1}{2}$  pages. Holland correspondence.]

70. Petition of Thos. Flood and Wm. Robinson, bakers, to the Admiralty Commissioners, for speedy payment according to contract. Owing to the sudden rise and scarcity of provisions, we lost 2,000*l.* by our contract with the Navy Victuallers for biscuit and peas. In November last, we contracted with them for this year's provisions, at 1,218*l.* 15*s.* 0*d.* a month, but have received nothing since January, and there is now 6,000*l.* due. Our provisions and servants' wages call for a weekly supply, and our estates and credits are deeply engaged, for we accepted a low rate for ready money. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]

71. Petition of John Walker, and 3 other brewers, to the Admiralty Commissioners, for payment of arrears. Approved 3 July.

3. Order on the information and petition of several persons, for themselves and the Protestant cause,—setting forth that on June 28 last, in the new meeting-house at Paul's, commonly called Capt. Chillingdon's Church, John Biddle, in presence of 500 persons, maintained for some hours that Jesus Christ was not the Almighty or most high God, and has undertaken to proceed in the dispute next Thursday;—that the meeting next Thursday is hereby forbidden, and the Lord Mayor ordered not only to prevent its taking place by securing Biddle, but not in future to allow any such meeting in the above or any other place in his jurisdiction.

4. Skippon and Rous to examine the information and petition about Biddle, send for witnesses, and report.

5. No collections having been made in some parishes for the Savoy Protestants, Sir Gilb. Gerard and the rest of the Commissioners are to enquire which are the parishes, where the default is, consider how it can be supplied, and report.

6. The draft of a proclamation concerning persons sequestered from parsonages, rectories, and other ecclesiastical benefices, as passed by Council June 29, then presented by Mr. Scobell, and referred by his Highness to the Lord Chief Baron, and Attorney and Solicitor General, presented with their amendments, which were read, agreed to, approved by his Highness, and ordered to be printed. [I. 76, pp. 154–5.]

July 3. 3. Proclamation by the Protector. Since the meeting of Parliament, Whitehall. 3 Nov. 1640, divers ministers, lecturers, and schoolmasters have been sequestered for delinquency, scandal, or insufficiency, by Parliament, the Committee for Plundered Ministers, County Committees, and Commissioners appointed by the Ordinance for ejecting scandalous, ignorant, and insufficient Ministers and Schoolmasters; yet many of the ejected have retained their places, and others have brought suits for their recovery, to the great discouragement of the godly ministry. His Highness and Council declare themselves obliged to take care that the ejected be not restored, but that those put into their places by authority be preserved in quiet enjoyment thereof. Therefore all the ejected are to give up possession within a month, and forbear any suits at law; and before 30 July, to release all such actions, and restore possession and profits to those appointed by authority. All who refuse conformity are to be debarred their right to  $\frac{1}{3}$  of their parsonage, &c., and to be reputed disturbers of the peace, disaffected, &c., and so proceeded against.

Also since many persons, not approved by the Committee for Approbation of Preachers, withhold parsonages, rectories, &c., from those so approved, all who have been so appointed since 1 April 1653, and have not obtained this approbation, or do not obtain it before 30 July, are, within a month, to yield possession to those admitted according to the Ordinance, on pain of being considered disaffected, and proceeded against. No suit contrary to these orders is to be entertained in any Court, and no officers at law to be instrumental thereto. The sheriffs of counties are to cause this proclamation to be read at their respective assizes, that none may pretend ignorance. [Printed, 2 sheets; also I. 76, pp. 155-7.]

6. [Mr. Manning] to Jeremiah Joseline, [Sec. Thurloe,] London. Wilmot talking with Charles Stuart about the people of England, said Lord Winchelsea was as well provided and as forward as any in this last design, and as honest and ready as any. He keeps Sidney Fotherby, his agent, now in his house. Lord Balcarras came on Saturday; he is for the sword party, very high. Nothing is spoken of so much as his charging Middleton with treason, and Middleton threatens to charge him. By this you may see their divisions, so it is thought some other person will be sent for Sweden.

Sir Wm. Fleming is sent to Holland, thence to get to Scotland. He is of Middleton and Hyde's party.

Last Sunday Tom Killigrew came from Holland to prepare further for the Princess Royal, who will be here next week. With him came Col. Hen. Price, who is to reconcile Dolman with Charles Stuart, and to bring him into play. I have given you notice before of his application.

Capt. Talbot, a tall young Irishman, and Rob. Dungan, who was Ormond's page, and lately commanded Wogan's troop, after his death in Scotland, are to England, by way of Dover, to Stephens. You may see I much want a cypher for Stephens.

The King to-morrow meets the Duke of Newburg, and dines with him near this town. Both go next day to Bonn to the elector of this place. These two often solicit Spain for the King, for it is believed you will make an absolute breach with that crown. At Rome, Cardinal de Retz is his chiefest advocate, and very great friend.

9. Petition of Rich. Abbott, late receiver of revenues in cos. Essex, Herts, Middlesex, and London, to the Protector. I obtained my place by your favour, in right of a second life mentioned in my father's patent, and I several times, to further the service, overpaid my account, relieving myself by moneys in hand on my other account as receiver of tenths of the clergy; but the trustees now invested with the clergy tenths cannot allow for 179*l.* 15*s.* 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ d. so advanced, as proved by the auditor's certificate, so that without your help I shall be ruined by this loss, added to the loss of my place, expiring by the sale of those rents. I beg allowance of what I have overpaid. With reference thereon, 14 May 1655, to Council, requesting his discharge, on his proof that he has paid in as much as was due on both accounts. 12. Petition of William, Earl of Lothian, to the Protector. I held from my father, the late Earl of Ancrum, a pension of 200*l.* a year, which is all I have had from him, though I am engaged in 5,000*l.* for him. This pension was to compensate me for so much of the Fewe and Blanch duties of 40*l.* a year, which I am forced to pay to the Exchequer for Newbottle and Jedburgh, on pain of being quartered on by soldiers. I therefore gave a bond for the duties to Ant. Wilson, treasurer to the Commissioners at Leith, though the duties were for years before your government began in Scotland, and for years since, viz., 1650 and 1651, when the lands were totally wasted; and now Wilson takes out warrants to imprison me and distrain my goods. I beg release from the said duties for 1653 and 1654, return of my bond, and discharge for the remaining duties, with 300*l.*—which will then be the unpaid balance of the pension now at an end by my father's death—that I may discharge a pressing debt of my father. 13. Petition of Thos. Vallor to the Protector. I lately purchased Fishbourne farm of Rich. Lacie, a Papist in arms, and paid part of the purchase money, 1,000*l.* remaining, out of which, by agreement with Lacie, I was to be freed from all incumbrances. Lacie being sequestered, I paid 550*l.* by Parliament's Order to John Trenchard, Esq., one of the Commissioners of Accounts, by which order I was to be indemnified. By another order of the Commissioners for Sequestration in Sussex, 400*l.* was paid to the use of the State, and I paid 50*l.* more into the Exchequer. I have enjoyed the premises 12 years, but am now sued by Wm. Guydott, who claims the farm by mortgage made for 200*l.* by Rich. Lacie to his sister, a Papist recusant; and also by Mrs. Lane, a Papist, pretending title to an annuity. I beg relief, as I obeyed the orders of Parliament and the sequestrators. With reference to Council, 23 May 1655. [1 page.] Annezing,

13. I. *Motives in favour of the granting of this petition. His services, loans to, and losses in the cause of Parliament. That he has spent 200*l.* at least in defending his title. 14. Wm. Astell to the Protector. Abr. Johnson, a Dutchman, pretends to be an Englishman, and the discoverer of the 3 silver ships. I confess he discovered them to me and Wm. Pembridge, and we were examined before the Prize Commissioners, who sent us to Woolwich, to see what we could gather from the Dutch, when we heard that the trumpeter had confessed that the ships, with their silver and lading were of Holland, but Johnson never acted with us after. He was very obstinate and drunken, and would hardly be examined unless he knew what he should have for it, and by his contradictions, we lost the ships, though three of their own men said they were of Holland. He pretends to have lost a ship worth 300*l.* by a Flushinger. He sold the sails and cables of a Mr. Baron who employed him. He was pressed on board the Plymouth frigate, but got off with a month's pay, by pleading that he was a Dutchman, and should be hanged if he were taken. [1 sheet.]

15. Petition of Wm. Astell to the Protector. Thanks for your gracious promises to put an end to my long waiting, but there is a stop by one, Johnson, a Dutchman, pretending to be English, who has laid a great scandal on me, which I hope you will not believe, as he is a vile wretch; I bear it patiently, for wicked men scandalize you without cause, and the servant must not be above his master. 16. Wm. Astell to Wm. Jessop. Thanks for your promise of help. I have long lived in a sad condition for my fidelity to the State, having left my calling and joined the people of God, to help the Lord against the mighty. I have been an officer throughout, am much in arrears, and never had a penny; yet I undertook the labour of prosecuting those silver ships, and have only had 40*l.* on a report from the judges to his Highness; and now I suffer on a wrong information; yet I am content if I may obtain a place. I dare not speak to Maj.-Gen. Skippon, for he has been the best friend in England to me and my wife. Let me know if his Highness or Council have been moved for a place for me. [1 page.]

I am growing into years, and my only subsistence is an annuity out of the Registrar's office of Lincoln, which was my father's; the annuity was granted in lieu of 500*l.* portion which my father gave me at his death, and I proved before the judges that I had it till the last 2 years, since when the State has had it. With certificate that she has had an allowance from the said office, 23 May 1655, and order signed by the Protector, that the Judges for Probate of Wills allow her 10*l.* now, and 10*l.* a year till further order. 20. Petition of John Lenthall to the Protector. I was admitted one of the 6 clerks of Chancery, and have served many years, and ought to enjoy the office for life, but find a late Ordinance transfers it to others. The property of the people in freeholds and estates is confirmed by the law of God, Magna Charta, Acts and Statutes of Parliament, and by your oath on taking the Government. King Josias, in his reformation, compensated those who suffered loss thereby, as other Kings have done, and as I fear not but you will do. I beg satisfaction for my loss, and I pray that you may honour your age with the miracles and greatness of your wisdom and justice. [1 page.]

- July 5. 22. Petition of Rob. Moore to the Protector. I was dispossessed of a great estate in Ireland, came to England, and served from 1643 to 1646 as captain of horse under the Earl of Essex, and as Lieut.-Colonel of foot in Plymouth garrison, for which 860*l.* is due to me. After the reducement of the garrison, I went to Scotland, in 1648 commanded a regiment against Lord Lenrick and Geo. Monroe, and in 1649 went over again to Ireland, but was driven from all I had by Geo. Monroe and his party under Ormond. I have since lived in Kintyre, in Scotland, and in 1653 a party of the northern forces spoiled me so much that I have taken a journey to London to obtain my arrears for relief. I beg an order to the Worcester House Commissioners to state my accounts for English service, and to give me debentures, and to the Trustees for sale of Crown lands, to pass them into bonds for purchase of lands. Proclamation by the Protector commanding all who have been of the party of the late King or his sons to depart London and Westminster before 12 July. His Highness noting the great resort thither of ill-affected persons, and having lately received intelligence of designs to be carried on by correspondence with the sons of the late King, or their agents, enjoins, to prevent disturbances, that all who have borne arms against the State depart from within the lines of communication before 12 July; or if then under restraint, within 5 days of their enlargement, and do not remain anywhere within 20 miles of the said lines, unless it be their habitation.

Those who fail to obey, or who return without license, are to be proceeded against as disturbers of the peace and contemnors of authority. The Lord Mayor, and aldermen, the justices of peace of Middlesex, Herts, Essex, Kent, and Surrey, and the Militia Commissioners of Westminster, Southwark, the Tower Hamlets, and suburbs to have strict wards and watches kept, make frequent searches for such persons, and certify to Council, that offenders may be proceeded against. All sheriffs, bailiffs, constables, officers of the guard, &c., to assist.

His Highness also enjoins all the said persons, unless detained by dangerous illness, to repair to their usual dwelling, or their place of birth, or their parents' dwelling, and give in their names to the minister, constable, or tithingman of the town, who shall enter them into a book to be kept in every parish, and to be certified to the justices of peace at the next quarter sessions, and entered by the clerk of the peace on the sessions' roll. 26. J[ames] B[lackborne] to his brother [Robt. Blackborne]. I will, when required, send an account of the importation of the commodities mentioned in yours, but as to undertaking the solution, I see that walking as circumspectly as I have done hitherto has only caused an accusation from my superiors; I would therefore rather choose contentment with my small income, than purchase anything which, through false accusations, might prove detrimental to me.

Capt. Potter has sent in the Society of Brest, with 25 men, and Capt. Holland the Encounter, a Frenchman laden with fish, as also the Dove of London, taken by a Brest man-of-war, and pursued by Capt. Sparling. When the captain of the Brest man saw he was

Capt. Heaton has also sent in a Frenchman with wheat, bound for St. Sebastian's. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

27. Dr. Brune Ryves to Wm. Jessop, Clerk of the Council. The readiness of the Protector and Council to favour this design of printing the Bible, in the original and other learned languages, encourages the undertakers to beg a warrant for 3,000 reams of paper, custom free, for printing an introduction and guide to the 9 languages, viz., Hebrew, Chaldee, Samaritan, Syriac, Arabic, Persian, Æthiopic, Armenian, and Coptic; without which it will be to most a sealed book. We ask it not for our own interest, but for God's glory, the advancement of religion, and the honour of our nation. But if we transgress the bounds of modesty, as Tacitus says, "Non preces sunt istuc, sed effligatio intempestiva et improvida," we crave pardon and desist; yet our request being to exchange our late warrant for 1,000 reams of royal paper for a warrant for 3,000 reams of common paper, the extra bounty will only be 40*s.* We acknowledge Sir Gilb. Pickering's favour in this business. [1 page.]

John Bodiley, administrator of Henry Gough, to the Protector, for payment of their debts amounting to 2,787*l.* 5*s.* 11*d.*, with interest, out of the moneys arising from the sale of delinquents' estates. In 1644-5, several merchants' goods were taken at sea by Capt. Penn, and others set forth by Parliament, and disposed of for the use of the Commonwealth, to the great loss of the owners, although well affected, as was proved to the Navy Commissioners, who in 1646 ordered that Miles Corbet should move the House for an order for repayment, but it has not yet been done through other weighty affairs. Lieut.-Col. He makes very high professions to the service of Charles Stuart.

I have been most industrious in the Protector's service here, and let nothing of moment slip, and there shall not a mouse stir but you shall know it. Only be plain with me, for I would not stay here but to serve you. [Decypher, 3 pages.]

Also note that Thos. Day said that when he saw the King's Army come into the country, he would hang 3 men in their parlors and at their doors in St. Minver. Information of Jas. Fitzgerald of St. Kew. Mr. Row's horse was refused to Capt. Fox, who went to take it for Parliament service, and conveyed away, but was secured for the King. Phil. Shisell, of Egloshale, an ensign for the King, was missing a week before and a week after the insurrection. Also information of John Mably and John Guy, of St. Minver, that Thos. Day was a Cavalier and a wicked man, and hoped the times would turn that he might be revenged on his neighbours, and that he was a quartermaster in the King's army. [1 page.]

This establishment includes wages, fire, and candles, but not clothes, arms, or equipments. [Book of 12 written, and 4 blank pages. Also I. 76A, pp. 78-87; I. 76, p. 176.]

July 12. Order that the said establishment be adopted and presented to his Highness. Approved 12 July. [I. 76, p. 176.]

July 12. Proclamation by the Protector for perfecting the collection for relief of the Protestants of Lucerne, Angrona, &c.

His Highness, from a deep sense of the calamities of these poor men, through their adherence to the reformed religion, and a confidence that this nation would help their brethren, ordered a day of fasting last May, hoping the people would then be stirred up to a free and liberal contribution. Although many parishes and congregations have responded liberally, yet in some the fast and collection has been omitted. It is therefore recommended that they should now have the precious opportunity of helping their distressed brethren, and that the ministers should stir them up thereto, and pursue the way of collecting prescribed in the instructions.

And whereas several sums are collected, but not paid in, his Highness requires the ministers, churchwardens, &c., to return the moneys and certificates speedily, that the relief may be the more speedily given. He doubts not that all who bear the name of Christ will join in so pious and honourable a work. Approved 12 July. [I. 76A, pp. 75-6; I. 76, p. 177.]

July 12.
Whitehall.

Proclamation by the Protector that after 1 August next, no use is to be made of letters of marque and reprisal by privateers. They were granted to merchants and others who had suffered from depredations and piracies, and could obtain no relief; but his Highness,—finding that under colour thereof, some seize ships of the people of princes and states in amity, to the discouragement of trade and dishonour of the Commonwealth, and that ordinary proceedings have not suppressed these offences—declares that all letters of marque are revoked from 1 August 1655. All ships taken after, by virtue thereof, are to be sequestered and returned to their proprietors, on just proof, without any long or chargeable suit at law, and the persons taking them shall suffer death as pirates. All Admiralty Officers to see this proclamation executed, and all other officers to assist. Approved 12 July. [I. 76A, pp. 76-7; I. 76, p. 178.]

Pres. Lawrence to the sheriffs of counties. His Highness and Council hearing that no collection for the poor Protestants has been made in divers places in your county, because the declarations and instructions were not sent to the places in due time, send you fresh copies, and require you to send them to the ministers and churchwardens at once, using your utmost care that no parish be omitted. You are also to send speedily to Council a perfect list of all the parishes in your county, that care may be taken that the moneys collected be not detained, but paid in seasonably. 11. The above sum to be employed to pay the said officers and soldiers, [and the Army Committee to pay such forces as cannot be disbanded in time, from July 23 till they are disbanded, not exceeding a month from that date*].

12. Order—on report of a computation of the pay of the regiment raised in Devonshire by Sir John Copleston, being 3,740*l.* 15*s.* 10*d.*—that Gen. Desborow, being on the spot, pay the regiment as he best can, and be authorised to take up a proportion of money in that county, and to charge bills of exchange on Council.

13. The Recorder of London, Nath. Bacon, and Mr. Scobell, to receive propositions concerning ale houses, and report.

14. Geo. Foxcroft to repair to Scotland, to settle the excise there, and return, and 13*s.* 4*d.* a day to be allowed him.

July 13. 45. Petition of Rich. Willis to the Protector. I was made, by patent of 4 Charles, at a cost of 1,000*l.*, under steward and clerk of the kitchen, and keeper of the Star Chamber, fee 40*l.* a year, with diet and other vails worth 200*l.* a year, which were paid till that Court was taken away by Parliament in May 1641. Since then I have only had the houseroom and sums of 10*l.*, 40*l.*, 40*l.*, and 30*l.* The late Revenue Committee ordered me 150*l.* for fee and the use of my goods for Parliamentary Committees sitting there; this, and 83*l.* balance of 163*l.* ordered me by Parliament in 1647, are still due.

- July 13. 47, 48. Petition of Geo. Bromley and many hundreds in and near London, who have lent money on the Public Faith, and are unable to double what they lent, to the Protector. We are the same petitioners who so long attended the late Parliament for our money, and you and the then Council of State recommended us to be considered by the next Parliament that should sit.
- According to the late Act, we have made our claims for our debts, which have been received by the Worcester House Commissioners. We have long borne our sufferings in silence, but the time fixed in the Act is long since expired, hundreds of us are wanting bread, some are in prison, many hourly fear the same.
- Knowing your readiness to help, we beg you to appoint some speedy way for our payment, and for the stating of our claims and accounts by the said Commissioners. We have been persuaded for several years that you would be our only help; 39 signatures. With reference thereon to Council, to receive the petitioners' proposals, and consider how they may best be satisfied, 14 May 1655. Also proposals by the same that they might be paid from their own discoveries, or from debtors' estates, as promised by Parliament, or from forest lands, excise, or customs, or any speedy way; 14 signatures. [2 papers.] Annexing,
48. I. Copy of the order of the Council of State alluded to of 17 June 1653, referring the petition of Geo. Bromley and others to the supreme power now shortly to meet. [Scrap.]

You granted us in Oct. 1654, during good conduct, the offices of Messengers of the Exchequer, and the riding journeys in Exchequer and Chancery with such moderate fees as should be decided on by Council. We have

July 13. COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

6. Order on report of the petition of William, Lord Chandos—showing that the estate and barony of Sudley belongs to him, but that since the decease of George, Lord Chandos, his widow pretends to be with child, and praying that some gentlewoman of reputation may now abide with her at his cost, and may be present at her delivery;—that (as it appears by certificate that the writ usually granted in such cases cannot be sued forth, so that there is no remedy except through the Protector and Council) Mrs. Green and Mrs. Wray, midwives, be appointed to remain with her, and be present at her delivery. Approved 13 July.

9. Order—on report from the Committee on the Earl of Lothian's petition—that the order of 4 July be confirmed with an amendment, viz., that he retain the Fewe and Blanch duties of 40*l.* a year till Michaelmas 1662, by which time the 300*l.* arrears of pension will be paid, and that the Leith Commissioners give him discharges therefor. Annexing,

51. 1. *Certificate by Mark Case, of Cockpen, that the pension was granted to the Earl by his father, and that he has paid for his father 2,250*l.* and other sums. 11 July 1655. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]*

11. The petition of Wm. Higgins, mayor, Wm. Stanley, alderman, and Ed. Downer, sheriff of Southampton, referred to the Committee on the returns from Southampton concerning the said persons, now in custody, whom they are to examine on their charge, report what should be done, and meanwhile release them on bail, if they see cause.

13. Order—as some question may arise about the method and priority of payments from the fines imposed by the Act of Grace for Scotland, on the orders of 6 and 19 April last, and of 31 July 1654—that payment of one half be made in the order in which the persons declare, under their hand and seal, their willingness to accept money in lieu of the lands assigned them at 10 years' purchase.

Also—as on 2 Sept. 1654, 9,717*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.* was ordered to be paid therefrom to the late King and Queen's creditors and servants,  $\frac{1}{2}$  this sum is to be paid after the other first moieties have been paid; the next payments are to be 702*l.* 10*s.* 0*d.* to Cornet John Baynes for  $\frac{1}{2}$  of Col. Thos. Horton's arrears; 1,500*l.* to Sir Wm. Selby and his lady [and 2,500*l.* to Ald. Fowke\*], being  $\frac{1}{2}$  of their respective assignments on the said money; then the other halves are to be paid in like order; if the fines do not suffice therefor, care will be taken for payment of the residue. Approved 20 July.

Lenthall, now Master of the Rolls, was paid by Sir Wm. Allenson, Clerk of the Hanaper, for the allowance of 10*l.* until and for midsummer 1644, and for the other allowances until Jan. 29 1643–4, and not since, Allenson pay him the arrears of the respective allowances, and continue them. 52. Cornet Jo. Walpole to Gen. Desborow, Suffolk House, Strand. I send the best account I can, owing to my own insufficiency in things of this nature, the disaffection of some, and the timorousness of others in this county; the subtle deportment of those I have to enquire after makes it harder for us, being strangers.

The county troop had a rendezvous yesterday at Charmister Gate, Dorchester Downs, whither I marched your troop, and they exercised together. They are mostly old soldiers, and may do good service if pains are taken with them. [1 page.] Enclosing,

53. Capt. Saml. Windis to the Admiralty Commissioners. I heard with surprise from Mr. Thorpe, also from Mr. Greene, of Manchester, a quondam Cavalier, that I was dismissed from the employment I have held for 6 years, and that I am to make room for a successor. I beg to know the truth, and shall hasten to London about it. I thought that my judgment, fidelity, and all possible industry, for which I have more vouchers in support from persons in the city [Chester] and county than I think meet to relate, with expensive journeys,—besides the blood of my 3 only brothers, and some of his own lost at Marston Moor, and my particular hazards run on the late intended invasion by the Scotch King; also my being out of pocket 250*l.* for provisions I was bound by contract to supply for the service, besides goods lost at Galloway and elsewhere,—would have obtained a suspension of the few pounds mentioned till I was convicted; but I must submit to rule. 54. Jno. Leverett to the Navy Commissioners. I came out with Major Sedgwick, and was left behind to hold and maintain what was taken by the Major from the French. I was left very naked of stock, and of provision and pay for the soldiers, so that I have disbursed 2,500*l.* for the Commonwealth. I am now going to the forts, but fear I shall not return before the dispatch of the shipping for England. My necessities are now so great that I have been forced to draw a bill upon the Navy Treasurer for 500*l.*, of which I have rendered an account to His Highness. I beg you will see that my bills are promptly met, as agreed before I left England, that I may more comfortably carry on my troublesome and unprofitable business, as the failure thereof will be greater damage than can be foreseen.

The want of trade has been a great loss, but I hope by ship and supply from you I shall be better accommodated for the future, and by this voyage lessen the charge 1,000*l.* a year. If we once get in the right way of correspondence, there is good to be done, otherwise there will be nothing but a yearly charge to the Commonwealth. [1 page.]

John Adams to Pieter Hacker, London. Mr. Armorer and Sir Jos. Wagstaff, newly arrived from England, say there are yet many of C. S. [Charles Stuart's] friends who would show themselves in another design, though the last had no better success. The reason was the King kept not the day promised for their rising, but broke twice with them, which made many think they were fooled, and so they never appeared. They say the people are well affected to C. S., but their own factions at Court are the ruin of every plot. I am going with them to Holland. They think it best to be quiet awhile, and see if your divisions will not give them an advantage. They are going to Cologne, to give C. S. an account of their business.

Here is Massey, Titus at Breda, Bunch and Major Wood at Rotterdam; they have been consulting about their former requests to C. S. for the liberty of the Presbyterians, but delay going to Cologne till Lord Balcarras, their patron, come out of France. Titus would not go with them, thinking the Presbyterians could not serve C. S., and their plots would be all frustrated. They rely much on Lord Willoughby of Parham, who is imprisoned with many more of their friends. This troubles them, as well as the Royalists, who say that most of those in the last plot, and many others well affected, are apprehended. The Presbyterian Council meet here no more before they go to Cologne, so I shall return to Rotterdam and Utrecht, their chief rendezvous. I had better not write to you again under the name of Hacker; give me another direction. The people here are perplexed at the French approach, and fear their King and you will have a war. Most believe a flying report that your fleet has taken St. Domingo. [1½ pages. Flanders correspondence.]

July 16. 55. J. Bankes to Jos. Williamson. You gave me a discharge, being an under officer of your troop, but I wear the colours still, and wish we might meet to distribute others. Let me hear how transactions go forward this Act, and whether Mr. Dillington has returned. Private affairs. [1 page.]

July 17. 56. Petition of Geo. Vyne on behalf of his mother, 8 children, and himself, to the Council. My father, myself, and 2 brothers attended all Committees of the first Parliament which sat in the Exchequer Rooms for 13 years, without allowance either for service or disbursements. The Protector referred our petition to Major Horseman, Mr. Bennett, and Mr. Gookin, who reported that we should have, in part of our services, a debt of 600*l.* due from the executors of Sir Simon Every, Receiver-General of the Duchy of Lancaster, which report Council confirmed by order of 14 August [1654], referring it to be recovered by the Commissioners at Haberdashers' Hall for our use. We attended them 7 months, but they, being ignorant of the proceedings for recovery of debts of that nature, Council, by order of 23 Feb. [1654-5], referred it to the Treasury Commissioners, who, after full hearing of Sir Henry Every, son and executor of Sir Simon, ordered him to pay into the Exchequer by 1 Nov. [1655] 738*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.* We have spent 100*l.* to regain the said debt. My father died, leaving his wife and 8 children 570*l.* in debt, and no income to maintain them; two employments in the Exchequer, worth 240*l.* a year, lapsed at his death, and one by the death of my brother, slain in the service of the State in Ireland. I beg an order for payment of the said 738*l.* 10*s.* 9*d.* [¾ page.]

1. Order on a report on the petition of Robert Lindsey, Esq., and Elizabeth his wife, and a certificate thereon from the Master of the Rolls—they praying restoration to an estate from which Elizabeth was disinherited, by a fine alleged to have been forged or unduly procured when she was under 12 years old—that the matter should be determined by the legislative power, and the petitioners left to seek redress in Parliament. Annexing,

57. I. Report alluded to, signed by Wolsley and Rous, giving the details of malversations by which Roger Dale, father, and Godfrey Chitnall, uncle by marriage, of the said Elizabeth, endeavoured to alienate the property of the grandfather, Wm. Toft. [1½ pages.]

60. Petition of the Laird of Fowlis to the Protector. By the report on your reference, I am referred to the Council of Scotland for reparation, according to Gen. Monk's declaration of 4 May 1654, or to have some proposal from the said Council to you for my relief, neither of which includes any present satisfaction, all the rebels being pardoned by capitulation, and I unable to return hither with any new proposal to his Highness, and my condition being unable to bear delay. My present sufferings and fear of future danger trouble my spirit, and I am near men of blood who, on the least opportunity, would break out into rebellion. If abettors and assisters formerly in rebellion, and now under the General and Col. Lilburne's declarations, pass unpunished, without being in any article of capitulation, it will strengthen the hands of evil-doers, and bring low the peaceable. I beg relief for myself and other well-affected sufferers by the late rebels. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.] Annexing,

60. I. Report that on 4 May 1654, Gen. Monk declared that damage done to sufferers for good affection should be repaired from the estates of the damagers, or of their friends and adherents, or of the parish, presbytery, or shire where the wrong was done, in case they do not apprehend the offenders, or give the English forces such notice that they may be apprehended by them. Also on 23 April 1655, a court martial at Edinburgh declared Fowlis a sufferer for his affection to Government, and on 22 March 1654-5 Col. Fitch, appointed thereto by Monk, certified Fowlis's losses at 1,196l. 12s. 6d. We therefore think a letter should be written to the Council in Scotland to repair his losses, according to the said declaration; or, if that security be taken away, the Council should think of and propose some other way. Signed by Edw. Whalley, G. Downing, Sa. Desborow, and W. Goffe, of the Committee of Officers. With reference thereon to Council, signed by the Protector, 14 July 1655. [1 page.]

July 20. 72. Order by the Treasury Commissioners,—on the form read of a certificate and schedule to be made by the justices of peace and others who are to execute the late proclamation concerning Jesuits and Recusants,—appointing Chris. Bernard, one of the attorneys of the 2nd remembrancer office of Exchequer, to attend Sec. Thurloe with the said form, and to advise that it should be printed and sent into the several counties of England and Wales, with directions to the justices, &c. to observe that form in their certificates of their execution of the proclamation. July 20. 74. Lieut. Theo. Barnard to Gen. Desborow, Suffolk House.
Wells. I send you the enclosed, by desire of Mr. Smith and the other gentlemen having the hearing of Mr. Wood's business; also an information of Mr. Dorrington and others against Sir Hen. Berkley, a very old man, but a desperate enemy to Government, a wicked Cavalier; if you will direct me and some of the justices, we may find out the truth of it. I hoped much from the important gentlemen to whom you gave me commands, and who are said to be well affected, but I cannot get a word from them against this public enemy. I sent to you at Exeter, but regret your sudden departure from the West, on account of your lady's illness.

I exercised two county troops of horse at Exeter, consisting of 250 horse, and although they were not horsed so well as you could wish, the officers engaged they should be complete in horse and arms by the next meeting. I acquainted them that you would try to meet them before you left the West; they gave a volley and a shout, and declared their readiness to serve you as long as they lived. [1 page.]

75. Thos. Lamplugh to Williamson. If you could come up to London, we could strike up, "Betty, come kiss me now," without fear of Proctor, Provost, or Dean; nor should you outvie us in Greek or Hebrew rhymes, for our law affords blades that can "totas noctes et Græcari et inebriari;" but if you cannot come, fix a place where we may meet  $\frac{1}{2}$  way. July 24.

77. Lieut. Sam. Larke to Gen. Jno. Desborow. I have reduced the garrison according to his Highness's orders, with the best skill I could. I was ordered to give those reduced 10 weeks' pay, and to draw a bill on the Treasurers-at-war for it; but as you wrote Mr. Doble that you would soon have the money in hand, I took up the money from the Commissioners for Prize Goods here, and have given a 6 days' bill on you, payable to the Prize Commissioners in London, which I hope you will meet, as there will be nothing to pay for the exchange. The mistake of 17*l.* 8*s.* in the accounts seems to be the preacher's pay.

I want your order to release some of the prisoners who last came in, they being willing to take the engagement, and serve in our men-of-war. I suppose you have heard from Capt. Hatsell of the flying reports respecting the West Indian fleet. [1 page.] Annexing,

78. Petition of the inhabitants of Paulerspury, and 14 other villages near Whittlewood Forest, to the Protector. Our ancestors had rights of common in Pibble Stow and Long Dean coppices, co. Northampton, but 50 years since, they were taken, by order of King James to the then Earl of Dorset, into Wakefield lawn, for feeding the deer; and in lieu thereof, the Earl bought a lease of 3 other coppices, Hollowbrook, Bryery, and Catwell Hill, from Sir Geo. Farmer and others, for the commoners. But since then, John Urlin has purchased these 3 coppices from the Trustees, so that we have no right of common, to our great prejudice. We beg redress. Thanks for the means of Grace which we have enjoyed under John Simpson, and since his restraint, under Dan. Nicholls, whereby many have been turned from Satan to God; we had hoped for continuance of this favour, Simpson growing daily more fixed in declaring to us the Gospel of Christ; but, to the great trouble of most of the inhabitants, we hear that, by false information of some few in the parish, both are to be removed, and [Sam.] Lee appointed, who shows no wish to come. We beg continuance of Simpson, or appointment of Nicholls. 155 signatures. Noted "His Highness will speak with Mr. Lee." [5 sheets.]

May*, former preacher, put out by the late County Commissioners for scandal and delinquency, and forbidden to come within 10 miles of the place, has brought an action against me, in the name of Nich. Gardener, of Bromley, put me out, and got possession.
By virtue of your late proclamation, which provides relief for such cases, I demanded possession of the rectory, and reparation of damages, but May and Gardener refuse obedience. I beg a special order for execution of your proclamation. [1 page.]

VOL. XCIX.

Lieut.-Governor of Scilly; from her I received so good intelligence that I stood over in company with her to the Lizard, where I espied the Brest man at anchor amongst the fishermen, with whom he seemed to hold correspondence. I gave him chase, and Capt. Grosse, seeing he could not escape, with his lieutenant, who is Capt. Meldrum's son, left her, and ran ashore in a fisher boat; the frigate also ran ashore, and all the men save 5 or 6 escaped up the country. I sent my boat, which brought her off; others of my men went in pursuit of the crew, and have since returned with 13 prisoners, one of whom is an Englishman, and was their gunner. They would have taken the captain, but the country was treacherous. I anchored last night before Pendennis, and sent to the Governor, who is using all diligence to apprehend those villains, took in my men, and the prisoners, and I have brought in the prizes safely. The man-of-war had 3 guns and 50 men, many of them English. I have on board 26 prisoners, whom I shall put on shore. Some of them, who are left with the Governor for discovery, say that a gentleman who was residing near supplied Capt. Grosse with water and fresh meat.

Were my frigate tight and clean, I could hunt down these rogues, some of whom are gone to the Severn, but she has been leaky ever since we have been in the Downs, and we pump 3 times a watch. This will not be stopped till we come in to revictual 5 weeks hence. An Ostender has been to Brest, taken a commission, and also gone to the Severn, and 2 more are daily expected from Dunkirk upon the same account; I hope to meet with them. [1 page.] Annexing,

88. Capt. Hen. Pack to the Admiralty Commissioners. I was sent home from the fleet by the Generals with their dispatches, received 12 June, partly to convoy a Hamburger seized on her way from Marseilles to Newhaven, and partly for the guns I took in at Carthage, and some cotton wool which the General ordered to be imported on account of Dan. Morse, a merchant whom we brought from Tunis, together with the Consul from there, and also I had to bring home some maimed and disabled soldiers from the fleet. Coming to Plymouth, I landed the Consul of Tunis, also a passenger, and I sent up my dispatches. I have in my company the Fame, a French frigate, surprised by Capt. Rich. Country of the Diamond, formerly Lieutenant of the Worcester. On account of the sad condition of the sick and wounded, I will lose no time in hastening to the Downs. [1 page.]

searching a packet boat from Dunkirk to Dover, they found one somewhat answering the hints given ; upon examination he appears to be a merchant's servant of London, yet not knowing but he may be the man, I send him up by my lieutenant. He said he was not the man I looked for, but he believed it was Sir Thos. Wagstaffe ; if he is not the person, he will not be prejudiced, being also bound for London. I will return to the Downs to night or to-morrow. [1 page.]

90. Petition of Mary, wife of Col. Rich. Fortescue, to the Protector. My husband has bought, from the Trustees for sale of Delinquents' Estates, Holshot Farm, late the Marquis of Winchester's during his life, with all timber, &c., and with leave to make leases for 21 or 99 years, or 1, 2, or 3 lives, reserving the old rent, and has spent large sums in repairs ; but Lord St. John, the Marquis's eldest son, pretending some right therein, has sued my husband for felling timber, and obtained judgment and treble damages, and threatens to seize my goods, and to bring new suits, intending to destroy the Commonwealth's title.

My husband being absent in your service, I beg you will quiet him in his purchase, or return him his money and charges. Also I beg payment of 500*l.*, part of his 3,000*l.* arrears, to satisfy some of his importunate creditors. [1 page.]

91. Petition of Col. Wm. Crowne to the Protector. Your messenger came not with your commission to raise a regiment of foot for the safety of Shrewsbury garrison till 7 March last, and the next day the castle was to have been surprized ; so I was forced, for its speedy securing, to send in forthwith 50 horse and foot of my friends, who came in that very day, and those forces I kept at my own charge 10 days, till Commissary-General Reynolds came with the horse, and advised me to send away my forces. The charge for letters, intelligence, messengers, and maintaining the force was 37*l.*, and I did not put the country to a penny expense, though Staffordshire charged it 700*l.* Having acted for your honour and the people's care, and done my best to secure the town and country, I beg the 37*l.*, and my own charge and expense I leave to your pleasure. With reference thereon to Commissary-Gen. Whalley and Col. Goffe, to state the arrears and certify ; and their report that Col. Mackworth, Governor of Shrewsbury, says that Col. Crowne spent at least 37*l.* during the late insurrection. [1½ pages.]

The Protector to Gen. Monk. Having considered the condition of the forces in England, Scotland, and Ireland, and the arrears due, owing to the necessity of keeping up a greater number of forces for safety than the revenue will answer, we have, by advice of our Council, so reduced the forces that a constant pay may be kept up, and the arrears provided for in due time. We send particulars of the reduction in Scotland, and refer you to the Council for Scotland, who will speedily be with you, to advise what may further be done for reduction of charge there.

Meantime you are to cause this new establishment to be put in speedy execution; and to enable you thereto, 30,000*l.* will be sent you for pay of the arrears of those who are to be reduced. We have settled a constant pay for the forces in Scotland in future, and hope you will not again be liable to the straits you have fallen into for want of money; ¾ of the Excise in Scotland, and the Customs and other revenues, beyond what is requisite to defray the

95. Anth. Porter to the Navy Commissioners. We were sent to England by the Generals, partly as convoy to a Hamburger of 17 guns seized by the fleet in the Straits, and laden with oil, soap, and wool, partly with 20 iron guns brought from Carthage, and partly to bring home some sick and wounded men from the fleet, two of whom died on the way. We have a warrant from the General for their admission into some hospital, but they cannot derive any benefit from it unless your order is sent for the ship to come in. [Noted that letters were sent from the Admiralty Commissioners about this.] She is very leaky, and wants anchors and cables. Capt. Rich. Country came with us as commander of the Fame, a French vessel of 15 guns, which was taken by the Diamond near Majorca, and also sent home by the Generals; also a ketch that came to us to Algiers, but left us, intending to be in England before us. 97. Petition of Elizabeth, wife of Lieut.-Col. John Lilburne, prisoner in Jersey, to the Protector. because he is represented as violent and rash, and not to be trusted with liberty. I appeal whether his extreme sufferings after trial for life, and all converse of friendship withheld, are not such matter of provocation as to have caused the expressions reported. I am confident that if you would enlarge him, he would be quiet and thankful, for no one has ever received an act of violence at his hands, and none could act with greater caution and reserve than he, after his trial at Guildhall.

I beg you to take away all provocation from his impatient spirit, wearied out with long and sore afflictions, and enlarge him, in pity to me and my children. I durst engage my life that he will not disturb the State. I should not else desire his liberty. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

July 31. 98. Petition of Richard Lilburne, for his son Lieut.-Col. Lilburne, to the Protector. You may think, from some violent and unadvised expressions which, to my grief, my son has used in his restraint, that he would be rash and violent were he at liberty; but knowing his disposition better than any other, I am confident that this distemper proceeds only from restraint, hard usage, and afflictions; and that if I could discourse with him, I could persuade him to peaceable behaviour for all future time. I beg that I may converse with him; and if I find this true, that you will release him, on security for peaceable demeanour. [1 page.]

July 31. Note of the reading of these 2 petitions, but no order. [I. 76, p. 211.]

July 31. 99. Petition of Sam. Blakesly, of Braintree, Essex, to the Protector. Thos. Wilson, collector for the Army Assessments in Stisted in 1652, being sickly, employed me as his deputy, to go with some of Com.-Gen. Whalley's troopers to make distresses, and they gave me 2 pewter flagons distrained from Hen. Austin, of Stisted, for 4s. tax. When the troopers were gone to Scotland, Austin prosecuted me, and Wilson, who should have indemnified me, cast Austin at law, but Austin being rich sued me, and I cannot prove that the flagons were for the State's use, the troopers being in Scotland. I have spent 30*l.* in law, and must perish in prison unless you protect me from his fury. With reference thereon to Council, 31 July 1655. [1 page.]

2. Pickering and Strickland to wait on his Highness with certificates and papers concerning Hobson's proceedings, and give him an account of the whole matter.

7. The report from the meeting of officers to be considered to-morrow.

8, 9. Major Redman's proposals for transporting several troops of horse to Ireland read, and referred to Lambert.

10. Col. Arthur Hill's petition, referred by the Protector to Council, referred to Lisle and Pickering, to report.

13. A letter from Dorchester of July 23, signed by John Trenchard for the Committee for ejecting scandalous Ministers in co. Dorset, concerning Roger Nicholls, minister at Sherbourne, read.

14. Col. Lockhart to have custody of the house and park of Falkland, till further order.

15. A proposal made by Lockhart concerning his Highness' title to the town and lordship of Kelsey, and the house and fortalice of Newark, in Selkirk Forest, referred to the Scotch Council, to judge if his Highness' title be good, and if so, to prosecute the discovery, and report the value of what is recovered.

16. There being a necessity for speedy money for the forces in Scotland, the War Treasurers are to order the Army Committee to send 20,000*l.* to Leith, to be shipped as the Admiralty Commissioners shall ordain, and to be then issued out according to warrants from Gen. Monk.

18. 19. The Admiralty Commissioners and others to stay the sale of growing timber in Woodstock Park, till the Lord Deputy of Ireland come over and be heard.

20. As in the new establishment, some garrisons are reduced where there are remains of arms and ammunition, Commissary-Gen. Whalley and the rest of the Reducement Committee are to receive all applications for them, and report how they may best be disposed of, and to whose care the removal may be best intrusted.

while you converse with Kings and great ones abroad, you note the condition of poor Lazarus at home, and order us to find a way for relief of the afflicted poor; but our hands are tied by the filth of corruption in the administration of charitable uses, and the fountain so dammed up that languishing souls are tantalized by the near approach of a remedy of which they cannot reach the least drop.

You have given ample powers to the County Commissioners to reform abuses, on the Act of 43 Eliz., but they are checked by a proviso in the Act that it is not to extend to towns, colleges, hospitals, or schools where there are special governors appointed by the founders to govern lands, &c., left for charities, and this proviso is the plea of the grand delinquents. We beg its removal, as being contrary to law, and striking at the heart of the Act, exempting all special governors and visitors from appeals; it is also against equity, but this was not understood by the House before its passing.

We beg you to use the legislative power, which resides wholly in you during the interval of Parliament, and either pass an additional Ordinance qualifying this proviso, or if this be deemed too high a demand, an expedient of less noise would be to constitute the Commissioners in this employment special visitors, governors, and overseers, pro tem. in their respective jurisdictions, reserving the profits to the ordinary incumbents. The Marmaduke has arrived from St. Lucar, with 12 or 14 merchants who have resided there and at Cadiz, and who say the Spaniards were very unwilling they should leave, and tendered them all civilities at parting. I have seen a letter to the Sub-commissioners for Prize Goods from Sam. Wilson, Mr. Turpin, and Hum. Blake, stating that the Admiralty Judges have ordered the 3 prizes taken by Capts. Vessey, Sparling, and Heaton, and laden with hides, linen, and wine and brandy, to be sent up to London, which I much wonder at, as it will cost the State from 150*l.* to 200*l.*, while the goods would have sold as well at Plymouth, besides the time lost, in which claimants have all devisable advantage given them, under the rose. Notices of ships. The Nicodemus has put in to stop leaks, having nearly foundered, and some ships bound for Ireland have been driven back through the foul weather, with the loss of masts, anchors, and cables; two or three are reported to have perished. 5. I. Note that May was presented by the Earl of Westmoreland, 28 Oct. 1643, but that the Earl was sequestered

VOL. C.

Sept. 1643, compounded, and was discharged of sequestration, Sept. 14, 1644.

That from Jan. 1643-4 to May 1645, ministers were placed by Parliament, and that Cols. Blunt and Twistleton can testify thereon. [½ page.]

5. II. Case of Edw. May. I was instituted in Oct. 1643 on resignation of Dr. Vane, and though my right was several times questioned on the ground of his delinquency, it was made good. In Oct. 1650, Clarkson obtained the rectory from the Committee for Plundered Ministers, and at length the case was referred to law, and a verdict was given for me. He claimed allowance for taxes and for dressing hop grounds, &c., and I granted him 26l., on which he released all interest in the rectory.

I was never sequestered, nor do I come within the late proclamation. In October 1652, my wife, being in extreme want through Clarkson's cruelty, petitioned the Committee for Plundered Ministers for her ½, but was dismissed, Clarkson declaring that I was not sequestered nor ejected.

The Earl of Westmoreland has full right to present to all rectories in his gift, and could so have done, even if Crayford had been void by Vane's death. [1 sheet.]

- Aug. 7. The petitions of Clarkson and of May, who has appeared on summons, referred by Council to Mulgrave, Skippon, Rous, and Lisle, to report. [I. 76, p. 222.]

- [Aug. 7.] 6. Petition of the parishioners of Crayford, Kent, to the Protector, that Edw. May, their minister, who is laborious in word and doctrine, may remain with them. Much regret his malicious prosecution, as he preaches twice every Sabbath, is pious, sober, and quiet, and teaches obedience to governors; he is appointed according to law, and cannot be within the intent of the late proclamation concerning ministers. [1 sheet. 43 signatures, 13 being by mark.]

- Aug. 7. Note of the reading and passing in Council, and presenting to the Protector, of articles of agreement between Gen. Monk and the following persons, viz. :—

Sir Hugh Campbell of Cesnock, and John Shalmers of Gaitgirth, for John Earl of Loudoun, James Lord Maitland his son, and others, 12 March 1655.

- (1.) The Earl and his servants to come in 6 weeks to Ayr, and give up their arms to Col. Cooper, Governor, or in his absence to Lieut.-Col. Sawrey.
- (2.) The Earl to give security in 5,000l. for his peaceable department, those who have estates and the officers to give security, and the soldiers their engagements; also Lord Maitland to give security in 1,000l.
- (3.) Loudoun to depart with sword, pistols, and horses, and the soldiers with horses, and sell them within 3 weeks, and to have passes home or beyond seas.

VOL. C.

- (5.) The Earl and Lord to enjoy all to which they have a right by Act of Parliament, and particularly the rights of annuities of Teynes, or anything belonging to them by the laws of Scotland, as they would have done before any war between the 2 nations.
- (6.) The Earl to be protected from all arrests for debts, for 21 days after the 6 weeks allowed for his coming in and laying down arms.
- (7.) The Earl and his son to have the same favour as others who have capitulated.

- (9.) These articles to be ratified by the Protector and Council, and delivered to the Earl within 3 months. [I. 76*A*, pp. 126-7.]

All heads of clans with their tenants, who keep their arms for their own defence, are to give security, by bond or otherwise, not to disturb the peace.

Such as have lands in Ireland already disposed of by Parliament, his Highness, or Council, or the Lord

Deputy and Council in Ireland, are not to claim them, but they are to have those not disposed of, provided they submit to public burdens.

- (5.) Those gentlemen and commoners of Argyleshire who have not been in arms, but were forced by Lorne and his party to give assistance, are to be acquitted, living peaceably in future, except as to the robbery in Argyleshire of Col. Brayne and others with him, whose losses that part of Argyleshire is to make good, as adjudged at a court-martial at Dumbarton. Also the country is to satisfy the losses of the soldiers in Maj.-Gen. Deane's time, which the Marquis of Argyle engaged should be repaired.
- (6.) All persons embezzling their arms and not bringing them in, and all doing any violence to the country after 14 days following the signing of the articles, to lose the benefit of this capitulation, except only that they may take free quarter till the time limited for laying down their arms.
- (7.) Col. Wm. Brayne, Capt. Fras. Nicholls, and others of the English army taken prisoners before or with him, to be set at liberty. Sir Art. Forbes to be discharged from his imprisonment, and to give security in 3,000*l.* for his peaceable demeanour, and an engagement under his hand not to act against his Highness or the Commonwealth.
- (8.) He is also to have liberty to go beyond seas with 1,000 foot, and serve any foreign prince or state in amity approved by the Protector, and is licensed to recruit every 3 years.
- (9.) These articles to be ratified by the Protector and Council, and delivered to Lord Lorne within 3 months. [I. 76*A*, pp. 127-9.]

7. Petition of John, Lord Balmerinoch, for himself and many others much distressed and engaged for public debts, to the Protector. In 1638 to 1640, my father and many other noblemen and gentlemen, from affection to the honest cause, entered into bonds for the public, to which they were in reality but witnesses, and till 1652, the creditors got their interest and part payment from public moneys in Scotland. But they have lately got sentence against us, to the value of our whole estates, which they extend and appraise, force divers of us to abandon our country and families, for preservation of our persons, and take away our rents and livelihood, to our utter ruin. We beg you to appoint the remedy by some equal way upon the nation, and to stay all processes of our creditors on public debts, or on receipts for borrowed money, which some of us were obliged to give to a third person, who got the assignations of the principal creditors. 4. Order on report from the Committee of Officers for reductions, on a reference of Lieut.-Col. 15. Commissioners for Prize Goods to the Protector and Council. We sold several goods at Yarmouth, Portsmouth, Plymouth, &c., including a large quantity of tobacco, for part of which Abr. Clerk, merchant of London, accepted 2 bills of exchange for 3,540*l.*; but he failing in payment, we sued him at common law, before Lord Chief Justice Rolle, and were nonsuited, on plea that the bills were payable to us as Commissioners for Prize Goods, and the Court would not recognize us under that name, though we produced the resolutions of Parliament of 8 March 1652-3, constituting us Commissioners, and the orders of his Highness and Council recognizing us as such. We find that the Admiralty Court will put an end to suits upon such bills, without the aid of the common law, and therefore desire that in future, all bills relating to prize goods may be tried in the Admiralty Court, where we are acknowledged, and we shall be able to recover the above and other great sums due to the State, if the Admiralty Judges may be empowered to hold pleas concerning bills of exchange for debts due to the State. Aug. 10.

20. Petition of James, Earl of Calendar, to the Protector. I have been 6 months prisoner in Burnt Island Castle and Edinburgh, and now 10 months prisoner on bond, without maintenance, or the use of my household stuff or evidences, so that my condition is too hard to express. I was never prisoner-of-war, and I never violated the passes given me by Gen. Monk in 1651, or by Col. Lilburne. I never corresponded with those lately in arms, nor acceded to their courses, and can find security for peaceable living. My estate was never sequestered, nor was there ground therefor, and so I differ from prisoners-of-war, and fined and forfeited persons. I beg restoration to liberty and to my estate, to prevent the irreparable inconvenience of growing debt. With reference thereon to Council, 26 July 1655. [1 sheet.] Annexing, 20. I. *Information of the Earl addressed to Lord Lambert. Came to Scotland Feb. 1651; had Monk's pass Nov. 1651; was not sequestered till 1654. Wishes that his lady may enjoy the jointure, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  left her by her first husband, [Alexander, Earl of Dumfermline] that no legal proceedings may be had against him till heard in Council, and that he may attend without forfeiting his bond to Monk to return to Scotland by the 26th. Aug. 10.

21. Petition of John Norbury, for the freeholders and well-affected, to the Protector. By the laws of England, every freeholder holds his land of a superior, to whom he owes homage and pays rent, and who defends and protects him. The late King forfeited his headship by warring against his people, and there is no legal engagement from them to you or you to them, so that either party may desert the other. Therefore we wish to establish you in the power held by the late King, the rather that there are many dangerous plots, not only by Charles Stuart and his party, but by others who consider the legislative power lost, because it was granted by the late instrument to you and your Council till the meeting of Parliament; but Parliament having met, they say your power is ended, and wish for an ecclesiastical fifth monarchy. But history proves ecclesiastical power to be tyranny, and now a suit for tithes refused will cost 30 or 40 times their value.

Also many persons are illegally imprisoned for debt by a capias without previous summons, and left to perish for want of bail, whilst gentlemen live plentifully in prison. Also many are sent for to Westminster on false summons, for 5s. or 10s., and pay money rather than bear the charge of the journey and suit.

Your power is at present too short to help the oppressed, and yet you are under an oath, as our chief magistrate, to defend us. You ought to have the legal homage which is obstructed by the late instrument for government, declaring you Protector for life only.

Vol. C.

We beg that you will appoint persons who shall—

1. Suppress arbitrary power or ecclesiastical censures.
- 2, 3. Prevent the imprisonment of any till summoned, according to the ancient course of law, by any bill of Middlesex, latitat, capias, quo minus, &c.
4. Take care that the true cause of action, or the debt be expressed in the summons, and that it be returnable in the Upper Bench or Exchequer, as well as in the Common Pleas.
5. See that gentlemen be proceeded against in the same manner as tradesmen, and liberate those who deliver up all their estates to their creditors, and give bond to pay the remainder when able.
6. When prisoners will not discover their estates, see that they be sent to workhouses to work for payment of their debts.

To empower you to do all this, we take you as our chief magistrate in place of the late King; and till a Parliament be called, we authorize you to execute the power, and promise by writing to pay you rents, and do homage to you and your heirs and successors, so that we be not liable to wardship. We desire that Commissioners be sent into all counties to take our recognitions, and certify them into the Exchequer, and that then you will defend us from delinquents and others. Also that qualified freeholders only be capable of choosing or serving as burgesses in Parliament, and as jurors at sessions or assizes. We also beg that you will call a Parliament to establish reformations, ease taxes, and find other ways of raising money for the army, &c. [1 broadsheet, printed.]

24. Capt. Thos. Alderne to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have considered how the victualling may be carried on by commission, and propose, in case it be resolved to make a particular office thereof, that the affair be ordered in the several ports by the following persons:—

In the Port of London, by a commissioner, and his clerk, a purveyor, a clerk of the check and his clerk, an accountant-general, a cashier, a storekeeper and his assistant, and a messenger, who also may be a hoy-taker. The care of this office to be the general providing of all manner of victuals for the navy, the issuing thereof, and accounting with all stewards and others in reference to the expense; the appointing of all officers, with their salaries, and what else shall be found needful.

The commissioner, as principal, to have the care of making all contracts, of correspondence, issues, accounts, cash, &c. ; the passing of all expenses at sea, with the nomination of all officers, both on land and sea, that concern this employment, except the accountant-general and the cashier. The purveyor to assist in making all contracts in the several ports for provisions, to assist the commissioner, and to be so concerned therein as, in case of mortality or otherwise, to carry on the further management.

The check, with the clerk of the issues, to direct all issues to ships in the Port of London, and to receive all stewards' accounts, examining them so far as to prepare them for the commissioner's passing ; to collect all receipts referring to issues in ports, and to procure an account thereof for the Navy Commissioners, in order to their examination and passing.

The accountant-general, by direction of the commissioner when present, and in his absence of the purveyor, to keep fairly entered all things that concern the whole action of victualling, both in the Port of London and all other ports, so as to charge each person and provision, and to discharge them as shall be requisite, so that a true balance of the whole may be constantly taken.

The cashier to receive and pay all money upon orders and warrants in writing ; and what he receives to be paid by order of the Navy Commissioners, by way of imprest, and charged upon the commissioner until an account be passed, and the same adjusted with the Navy Commissioners, who are thereupon to pass an entire bill for the discharge of such imprests.

The clerk to attend to business and correspondence.

The storekeeper and his assistant to receive and preserve all provisions, and issue them by directions of the commissioner, who must, every 6 months, pass an account of issues, and every 12 months an entire account of the preceding year's action. The purveyor, in case of the Commissioner's mortality, to be obliged to do the like, and his vouchers to be warrants for providing and issuing provisions, with such receipts as shall be taken for provisions delivered out by him.

The cashier to be appointed by the State, and security given for his true performance to the Protector, and the accountant-general the like ; both to be obliged to follow the directions of the commissioner or purveyor. The commissioner aforesaid to carry on the employment by deputation or contract in some ports.

The affairs in Portsmouth to be carried on by two agents ; one for making contracts for provisions and receiving money, another to be clerk of the stores, and to issue out the same. At Plymouth the like, if the action be equal to that at Portsmouth. At Dover one agent will be sufficient. Harwich, Leith, Kinsale, and Milford to be managed by particular contracts, unless the employment will discharge the salary of an agent in each. The petty warrant at London, Chatham, and Portsmouth to be managed by particular contracts.

If you judge it better to make a conjunction of this employment with the rest of the navy's action, some of these officers may be spared, provided the general action of the navy be so modelled as that there might be a conjunction of accounts, and a due regulation therein. However, for the present, if the whole cannot be so readily methodized, yet having laid a foundation in the particulars proposed, the rest may hereafter be brought into the same channel. [3 pages.]

Cologne.

[Sec. Nicholas] to Jos. Jane. I could not write, being very sick some days, but by God's mercy, and Dr. Fraser's excellent skill and care, I am much better than I was before I fell ill, and expect to be better this 7 years for this fit of sickness, though I am lean and yellowish.

I have seen the French relation, printed at Brussels, of the repulse of Cromwell's fleet from Hispaniola; I believe the loss of the English there to have been very great, and am persuaded the fleet is on its way homewards; when it arrives, we shall see notable doings. I should be glad to hear that Blake had failed of intercepting the plate fleet, which I wish may come safe to Cadiz, and then the more insolent Blake's deportment towards the Spaniards shall be the better.

I am not credulous that Cromwell will yet close with France so soon as some imagine, whereby to despair the Spaniard, whom he finds already too low to cope with the French, but the villain may yet give my Dón hopes of a reconciliation, to amuse him to his further ruin.

We hear that the Swedish King prevails against Poland, and designs to make himself master of the Baltic Sea, unless the States prevent, and that Cromwell countenances him underhand, to divert those forces from looking towards England.

I am glad the States have granted the Queen [of Bohemia] 1,000 guilders a month for subsistence. Tell me particulars of the concession, and by whom it was wrought. When does the old dowager come to the Hague?

Excuse me to Mr. Somerdike for not writing. What has become of Beverning? Is there a resident ambassador to come from England to the States? I am sorry that I cannot get a house or any convenient lodging here for my wife. [2½ pages. Holland correspondence.]

Aug. 14. COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

1. The petition of Joanna Saville, referred by his Highness to Council, referred to the Treasury Commissioners, to receive her discoveries, and make such allowance to her as his Highness appointed by his answer to the petition.

2. John Norbury, attending Council according to the summons of last Friday, was called in, and being shown a paper read on Friday and again to-day, called, "The humble petition of freeholders and other well affected," &c., was asked if he penned and dispersed it. He confessed that he penned it as a lawyer for his clients, for whom he was of counsel in several particulars mentioned in the petition, and that by their directions he had it printed, and delivered some to a solicitor to give his clients; but as he learned that it was ill resented, he detained the rest. His Highness sharply reproved him for divers passages in the petition against Government, and commanded him to proceed no further, and to call in all the papers he could, and deliver those he has undistributed to Council, to have the press broken, and to discourage those employed to distribute copies.

4. The Army Committee to issue their warrant for sending the 30,000*l.* to Scotland, the order of 10 Aug. notwithstanding.

5. The Treasury Commissioners to order the auditing the accounts of Mr. Embree, and to report thereon, which being done, 1,000*l.* is to be added for repairs at Whitehall and Hampton Court, after which no further repairs shall be at the public charge, but paid out of the moneys for his Highness's family and expenses.

6. 25. Order on report from the Admiralty Commissioners on the order of 7 Aug., to consider of Capt. Thos. Alderne's fitness to be Navy Victualler, &c.,—certifying that as the directive power for victualling the fleet is lodged in them, and the work of the victualler will be chiefly executive, they think it will be best transacted by one person, with fitting subordinates, to be approved by themselves, and they think Alderne a fit person therefor, to be commissioned under the Great Seal, and pursue instructions annexed to their report; and as the action will require his whole time and much circumspection, and as he has to give in accounts of the whole, they think his salary should be 500*l.* a year—that the report and instructions be agreed to, and a commission under the Great Seal issued accordingly. Annexing,

1. Instructions to be inserted in the Patent to the Navy Victualler,—

(1.) To receive from the late victuallers by inventory all victuals, clapboards, staves, iron hoops, biscuit-bags, &c., which are serviceable.

(2.) To provide wholesome victuals, both for sea and in harbour, lodging them in the State's stores till issued, and obey the directions of the Protector and Council, or the Admiralty Commissioners.

(3.) To receive money on warrants from the Navy Commissioners to the Navy Treasurer, and issue it only for provisions and needful salaries and charges.

(4.) To issue provisions on warrants from the Protector and Council, the Admiralty Commissioners, Navy Commissioners, Army Committee, and Generals at sea, taking receipts and indents therefor.

(5.) To keep perfect accounts of all contracts, issues, and expenses, and produce them  $\frac{1}{2}$  yearly to the Navy Commissioners, who are to examine them upon vouchers, and charge them on the Navy Treasurer in one entire

(6.) To account for all provisions at sea and in harbour with the persons employed, receive remains, and draw perfect accounts of each ship's expenditure; to do which, he is to have access to the sea books, and to examine any persons concerned.

(8.) To keep a general oversight of all employed, that the service may content the seamen, and to do what is directed by the Protector and Council and Admiralty Commissioners for the advantage of the service.

(9.) To take all the State's brewhouses, bakehouses, mills, storehouses, &c., at Tower Hill, Dover, Rochester, Portsmouth, and Kinsale, which have been used for 20 years for Navy victualling, use them for storehouses and agents' lodgings, rent out on the State's account any not employed, and not to build, repair, or alienate any without consent of the Admiralty Commissioners.

(10.) *To take up any ships, hoys, or lighters, carts, or carriages, mariners, bakers, coopers, or labourers needful for the service, paying them the wages given by merchants. He is to settle this affair and employment with the respective officers at the State's house, Tower Hill; and all books of accounts and papers concerning it are to be kept there. 26. Petition of Chris. Riddell, alias Roshe, jeweller, to the Protector. Being a German, and brought up a Protestant, the troubles in my own country preventing the exercise of my religion or trade, I came here 13 years ago, and have lived peaceably, and married Elizabeth, daughter of Mich. Pudsey, of Ellisfield, co. Oxon, and have 3 children, who might, on their mother's death, inherit part of their grandfather's estate, if I were naturalized. I begged this before, but Council referred me to Parliament, which was dissolved before my petition was answered. I beg a free denizenship. [1 page.] Annexing,

Aug. 15. 27. Petition of Capt. Rich. Pechell to the Protector. The late Major Bethel made me his executor, and directed me to dispose of his arrears to pay debts contracted for horses to serve the late Parliament, and for legacies, all yet unpaid, because I have received nothing. I served under the Major several years in your own regiment, received 17 wounds, and lost part of my right hand. I am now reduced from the governorship of Yarmouth Castle, which was my main support. The Major owes me 607*l.* 18*s.* 6*d.*; I beg payment of the arrears, that I may pay the debts, and bring up my poor children. With speedy reference to Council, 1 Aug. 1655. [1 page.]

12. Order on report of the Treasury Commissioners on the petition of Mary, Robert, and Eliz. Jermyn [see 2 March 1655]—that the patent to Henry and Thos. Jermyn, of the Registrar's Office in Chancery, became void because no one attended to execute the place, and therefore a new patent was granted; that execution by deputies is taken away, and the fees so reduced as to be but competent for the 4 registrars who are to attend, the extra fees being formerly received by persons incapable to execute the office, and therefore that no alteration can be made without breach of Ordinance—that Council does not see fit to do anything therein. - (3.) That the expedition of the service may appear, every post is to keep a book, and enter the day and hour when packets are brought to him; to have 2 leather bags lined with cotton to carry the packets in, and to sound a horn when he meets company, and 4 times a mile.
- (4.) They are to have all former favours and immunities, viz., freedom from impress, and from personal attendance at assizes, sessions, and inquests.
- (5.) They are to carry the mails to and from London 3 times a week without charge, have a good horse ready saddled against the hour the mail shall come in, and not detain it more than  $\frac{1}{2}$  an hour, entering on a label annexed to the mail the hour, their name, and the name of the stage.

To ensure security and expedition, our chief Secretary of State is to have charge of the postage and carriage of all letters and packets, both foreign and inland, to and from all places in England, Scotland, and Ireland, unless sent by common known carriers, or by messengers on purpose, or by servants or friends, or by ships not being packet boats for letters. All such packet boats are forbidden, and to be suppressed unless employed or authorized by him.

If, on the arrival of ambassadors or other occasion, men riding post, that is with horn or guide, come in such numbers that the provision does not suffice, the constables, with aid of the chief magistrate, on requisition in our name, are to supply the post with hired horses.
- (2.) All strangers riding with horse and guide alone, or with one of our posts, for the Low Countries, France, &c., all ambassadors on their princes' affairs, and others riding with horse or guide, are to change horses only at the post house, paying 3d. a mile, beside the guide groat.

On a complaint of disobedience, the party is to be stayed by the magistrate till payment is made or security given; if further punishment is needed, our Secretary is to send for the parties to answer their contempt.
- (4.) All are required to obey these, and any further directions of our Secretary for ordering posts. Approved 17 Aug. [I. 76*A*, pp. 94-8; I. 76, pp. 237, 244.]

He has cleared himself about the felling, having a reprice therefor, as shewn by orders of the Committee for removing Obstructions. [Aug. 20.] 38. Abstract by Wm. Astell of his proceedings in reference to the silver ships.

VOL. C.

On 21 January 1652-3, Ab. Johnson told me and Wm. Pembridge that the Samson, Salvador, and George belonged to Holland, and said he would confess it before the Prize Commissioners. They sent 4 of us to Woolwich to make discoveries, and we met with the trumpeter of the Salvador, Corn. Petersen, who discovered to us what I have already alleged, and said they could get at the silver and fill their pockets when they pleased. I told the Prize Commissioners this, in order that the waiters might search them, and they gave me and Pembridge a letter to Col. Barkstead, who gave us a search warrant; but our intentions were soon known; though we took no silver, we kept them from stealing, as the seamen were to be searched before leaving the ship; but 2 bars taken by the gunner and hidden in his cabin were seized.

I showed my paper of discovery to Dr. Walker, and he was angry that it had not been brought in before; then I sent it to the Council of State by Maj.-Gen. Desborow, who bade me see what more I could discover.

I was from January to October before I could get my witnesses examined, and then the examinations were delivered to Mr. Violet, who pretended to the discovery, and my labour would have been imputed to him, but my wife informed Dr. Walker to the contrary. I often went to the Admiralty Judges for publication, but could get none, so I thought all was done, and begged a gratuity, when his Highness sent to the Judges for examination and report. At last the Judges brought a report, I know not what; Judge Godolphin said it was not ripe, but I might ask for charges, when I got 40*l.* I had then been 16 months on the business, and still went on, till at last I got publication, and then the trial was  $\frac{3}{4}$  of a year, and I followed it to the end; but by means of Ab. Johnson and his wife, the Samson was cleared, though afterwards made prize, because some Spaniards were part owners. It was in the height of our Holland war, and I prosecuted the ships because they sailed from Amsterdam, and were bound to Amsterdam, and that not on Johnson's discovery, but on what I heard from Corn. Petersen, the trumpeter. Johnson claims the discovery, but he never put in a paper, nor brought witnesses, nor was at any charge. [4½ pages.]

40. Petition of Capt. John Poyntz to the Protector. I and my 3 sons have served faithfully these 10 years in England, Scotland, and Ireland, and I have 240*l.* of arrears stated long since in Worcester House, and have spent my estate in looking after it, till I was forced, for want of it, to trail a pike under Col. Ingoldsby. I beg an order to the Haberdashers' Hall Committee to order the examination in my presence of some persons who hold concealed moneys, and to give me allowance for my arrears and charges out of what is recovered. The persons, all in co. Monmouth, are,—

41. Petition of Charles Walley, of Chester, to the Protector. I have been 10 years employed in the State's service, to ship off all the forces sent by way of Chester, Liverpool, or the ports in North Wales, into Ireland, paying quarters whilst they waited a wind, and to buy and send away divers kinds of provisions for the army in Ireland, and some for Scotland, and also to manage the disbursements for the reducing the Isle of Man. For this, large sums have been intrusted to me, which I have paid on instructions of the Council of State, or Irish and Scotch Committee, and those accounts have been carefully cleared, and the State was always debtor to me. The other accounts have been neglected through press of business, but are now ready. I beg an order to the Auditors of the Imprest, or the Treasurers at Guildhall, or other public auditors, to take my account.

VOL. C.

As from the nature of the service I could not have vouchers for all my disbursements, I beg that the auditors, where I cannot produce acquittance or voucher, may allow the same on my oath. I beg discharge without delay, as I find myself much decayed of late, both in spirit and strength, having been in London 11 months. With reference thereon, signed by the Protector, to Council, to order the stating of the accounts, and consider how he may be satisfied for his manifold services. Hampton Court, 16 July 1655. [1 sheet.]

41. I. [Chas. Walley to the Protector.] The Guildhall Treasurers have seen my accounts, and given me my charge, as most of the money received was from them, and I am now to state my payments. I beg you to empower Fras. Allen, John Blackwell, jun., Wm. Rowe, and Wm. Garbert to take my accounts, and certify, giving them power to take my oath on those particulars for which I have not vouchers. If I am put over to other auditors, who must have all my accounts, my business will be so delayed that I may not be able to see it finished, having now been a year in London, and growing weak. I have served 9 years without salary or allowance, and beg dispatch. I am a stranger to the Council, and they to me, and have no friend but you. I beg your assent to an order of the following purport. [1 page.]
41. II. Form of an order as requested, for Commissioners to take his accounts, return a brief state thereof to Council, with the books, vouchers, &c., and say what orders or warrants are needful for the case to be settled, and Walley discharged. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

VOL. C.

Assessments for the Army in Coventry and co. Warwick, met other commissioners in Knightlow Hundred, where they issued warrants for collecting moneys in the several divisions; but those charged upon Sir Peter Wentworth, though not higher in proportion than others, were not paid by the day appointed, 25 Dec. 1654. The sub-collector, though sent for by Hercey Green, agent to the Army Committee, dared not execute his office for fear of Sir Peter; therefore Walden, high collector for Knightlow Hundred, made several demands, but the bailiff and tenants said they had Sir Peter's written orders not to pay, because the assessment was illegal and contrary to the instrument of the present Government.

As this open denial much obstructed the coming in of moneys, the Commissioners ordered Walden to distrain Sir Peter's goods, which he did (the sheriff refusing a replevin), the sale was made, and the overplus returned.

For thus acting, Sir Peter has sent a writ to Wm. Vale and Rich. Hicks, the present sheriffs of Coventry, on which petitioners are arrested. Beg liberty to follow out their employment. [1 sheet.] Annexing,

44. II. Hercey Green, agent, to the Army Committee. I beg you to present the petition of Basnet and Walden to Council with speed, as they are both in the sheriffs' custody. They should be relieved and encouraged, for in these parts, such as are active are few compared with the whole lists. The spreading rumour of Sir Peter's action much obstructs the coming in of moneys in the neighbourhood. Coventry, 22 Aug. 1655. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

Aug. 28. Order by the Protector in Council, appointing Col. John Barkstead, Whitehall. Lieutenant of the Tower, Ald. John Dethick, and Geo. Foxcroft, Commissioners to put in execution the laws and ordinances against printing unlicensed and scandalous books and pamphlets, and for further regulation of printing, for lack whereof evil-minded persons are continually writing and publishing dangerous, seditious, and blasphemous books and papers. They are to observe the following instructions:—

(1.) To search and enquire after all master printers in London, Westminster, and Southwark, their number of presses and workmen, their character and quality, and how affected to the present Government, and report thereon within 28 days.

- (2.) To enquire what persons unlicensed use printing presses in any part of the Commonwealth, and seize, and deface their type and materials, and have them prosecuted for their fines, and punished.
- (3.) To enquire whether the printers in London, &c., have entered into the required bonds with 2 sureties, according to the Act for regulating Printing; and if so, whether they have broken the conditions of their bonds, that they may be prosecuted accordingly.
- (4.) To take care that no persons print, reprint, or publish pamphlets, books of news, or other papers, unless authorized by us or our Council, or licensed by those appointed thereto. All offenders to be proceeded against according to law.
- (5.) We specially require you to execute the Ordinance of Sept. 1647, against unlicensed and scandalous books, &c., and for regulation of printing; also an Ordinance of 14 June 1643, and an Act of the Common Council of London of 9 Oct. 1643, forbidding the crying and hawking in the streets of pamphlets, books, or papers.

You are to arrest all offenders and their abettors, send them to Bridewell, and inflict corporal and pecuniary punishments, and not to discharge them without satisfaction; the Governor of Bridewell to see to this.

You are also to search for and carry to Stationers' Hall all printing presses and other materials employed in unlicensed printing, to be defaced; also to search for and send to Council any such books, pamphlets, or papers of news. In case of opposition, you are to break open locks and doors, summon offenders before the Lord Mayor or justices of peace, and all officers, civil and military, are to assist you. You may employ discreet persons to carry out these orders, and reward prosecutors, and allowance shall be made you. With note that a copy in parchment was signed by his Highness, and sent to Col. Berkstead. Approved 9 Oct. [I. 76A, pp. 134-6; I. 76, p. 328.]

- Aug. 29. 50. Petition of Sir Corn. Vermuyden to the Protector. By the dissolution of Glastonbury Abbey, Henry VIII. became seized of Sedgmoor waste, co. Somerset, 12,000 acres. King James, anno 17, on the petition of the lords and tenants claiming right thereon, and on their acknowledgment of his right, consented to an improvement, reserved 4,000 acres, and left the residue to those who claimed right of common, but died before the agreement was perfected. King Charles consented to do the like, and, anno 7, conveyed the waste to petitioner for 12,000*l.* and a fee-farm rent of 100*l.*; a commission was issued to set forth the lands, but the late distractions hindered its being finished.

The waste is boggy and unwholesome, but would be improved by draining. Begg a new commission to set out indifferently for petitioner the 4,000 acres, that he may go on with so good a work. With reference thereon to counsel-at-law 3 Feb. 1653-4, and Att.-Gen. Prideaux's report, 26 May 1654, that the tenants acknowledged the right of the late kings to the 4,000 acres, and wished the moor to be enclosed and drained, and warrants and commissions were issued by King Charles for setting it out to the petitioner, but prevented by the troubles. Also that the dividing the moor, making allotments to those who have right of common, would be a public benefit. [1 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

- 51. I. Petition of several Lords of the Manors bordering on Sedgmoor, co. Somerset, to King [James]. As you have made known to us your purpose of having the moor drained, that some good part of it might be converted to your use, and the rest improved for those who have the right of common, allotting each of us a proportion, we thank you therefor, and beseech you to accept 4,000 acres, and grant us the residue in fee simple, to be used in common as before, debarring all intruders, whereby we believe our allotment will be more profitable than our common over the whole moor has been. Signed by William, Earl of Pembroke, William, Earl of Northampton, and 15 others. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page, copy.]
- 51. II. *Privy Seal declaring that the King accepts the said offer, and requires the Exchequer officers to issue commissions, orders, &c., accordingly, and the Attorney-General to prepare the requisite deeds and bills for the grant to the tenants of their parts. 58. Petition of the well-affected inhabitants of Jersey to the Protector. Our island has long been indulged with special privileges, on account of its situation and "obnoxiousness to a potent neighbour," and before the latter wars, we never forfeited them by any disaffection. In the beginning of the wars, though we had a Malignant governor, most of us adhered to Parliament till deserted by its forces, and then we lived under the yoke of the adverse party longer than any other place; we were forced to pay contributions, keep watches, and take engagements, yet many of us gave intelligence whereby Guernsey was preserved; and when forces landed to reduce the island, most of us joined them, the enemy having only Irish, Swiss, and a few islanders, who retired into the castles, and went beyond seas. After our reduction, the State continued forces amongst us, to which, though burdensome, we cheerfully submitted.

But a great calamity has befallen us, in that on 14 March 1654-5, you granted a patent, which was not published till 9 July, for the generality of us to compound before 29 Sept., whereby the island is in danger to incur confiscation. We are confident it was signed on misinformation, at least as concerns those that have no benefit of articles, as most of them can prove that they were well affected.

If the patent be executed, it will stick as a lasting infamy to us, and being so poor, we shall be utterly ruined.

We beg suspension of the patent till the case is re-examined, till you hear the informants and ourselves, and till we produce our evidences, and thousands of innocent men, women, and children will bless you. 7 signatures. With reference to Council, 21 Aug. 1655. [1 sheet.] Annexing,

We have served all these troublesome times, amidst many discouragements, one being that our salaries and disbursements have been withheld 6 years, so that some of us have been imprisoned, our goods seized for arrears of rent, and our children turned out of doors, and forced to receive alms. We have often addressed the powers that then were in vain; some of us have perished for want, and the remainder live only in hopes of these arrears. We beg payment of some part thereof. [1 page.]

72. Remonstrance of Rich. Nonnelly to the Army Committee. While your servant, it was part of my work to receive warrants and debentures from your registrars, take them to the residences of the members of the committee, receive their subscriptions, and then deliver them back to the registrars. Not being able to read or write, I neither knew the names nor sums mentioned in the said warrants and debentures, nor had I the delivering of them to any but the registrars and their clerks, who afterwards delivered them to such as demanded or pretended a title to them, and if they were delivered otherwise, it was no act of mine.

It appears by the registrars' books that the registrars registered and gave forth two debentures in the name of Capt. Puckle, for one and the same sum, without making any memorandum on the second debenture that a former one had been delivered, and the second passed upon purchase before the former, which I bought for Lord Howard, a year before the second was issued.

By the directions and intreaty of his lordship, I bought many debentures, and amongst others that of Capt. Puckle, and of Jno. Puckle, at 4*s.* 3*d.* the pound, and they went to Mr. Bourne, a scrivener, whose man, Thos. Applegarth, made an assignment of the debenture to Moses Perkins, a person entrusted by Lord Howard, who subscribed his name as witness; the money was paid to Puckle by one Dawson, on behalf of Lord Howard, at the Bell Tavern in King Street, Westminster, and the debenture with the assignment endorsed was delivered by me to his lordship.

If Puckle or any other, under pretence of title to such debenture, contracted with me for the same, the State was not wronged, but I am damnified many hundred pounds, being forced to pay Lord Howard his money back again, besides having to spend much money in suits at law, and losing my place and credit, for no just cause or wrong done on my part, and therefore I know no cause for unjustly charging me with fraud. If I were deceived by contracting with Puckle, who pretended a right to the debenture through Capt. Puckle, the registrars were to blame for delivering the debenture to such pretenders, and not to the right owner, and for issuing a second and not calling in the first, nor making any memorandum on the second. This was the only cause of all the fraud, if any, and the reason why I was damnified; as the State was not defrauded by me nor damnified one penny, there is no reason why I should suffer for the said registrars' negligence. Mr. Snow confessed in Court that the debenture was good, but afterwards said it was not good, because another had passed before it on purchase. [ $1\frac{1}{4}$  pages.]

73. Petition of Charles, son and heir, and executor of Sir John Heydon, to the Protector. In 1632, the owners of Roche and Selwood Forests, cos. Council to the High Sheriff of co. Bedford. His Highness observes that the proclamation for executing the laws against priests and Jesuits, and convicting recusants, fails of effect, because there was not the requisite formality in the certificates directed. You are to advertise the justices in your county, by sending them the printed forms, and those already returned are to be made anew accordingly. At the next general sessions in your county, the clerk of the peace is to enter the said form of certificate, and these letters are to remain on record. 84. Sec. Nicholas to Jos. Jane. I am expecting my wife here, if she can bear the journey from Utrecht. O'Neale says that Heenviet reports from the Hague that the fleet appointed for the Baltic, under Opdam, is ready, and he taking leave of his friends, but I do not believe the Dutch men-of-war will be permitted to pass the Sound.

I hear that there has long been a good understanding between the King of Sweden and Cromwell, and that they have agreed in the invasion of the West Indies, Poland, and other designs, no doubt with a resolution to exclude the King, our master, and all his family. These two will fill Europe with troubles unless prevented.

Vol. C.

Cromwell is exceeding intimate with the Swedish ambassador, a person of great estimation; they dine, sup, hunt, and play at bowls together. Cromwell never caressed any man so much, nor sought the friendship of any so much as the King of Sweden. Some say France will join these two, but I doubt it, for they will make themselves protectors of the reformed Churches in Germany, France, &c. or at least procure from all a kind of dependence on these godly reformers. Ask M. Somerdike what he thinks about it. I believe one part of the design is to make Sweden master of the Baltic; and that therein or otherwise it may prove as ruinous to the States as to any others.

I hear that Cromwell, finding himself become every day more odious to all sorts of people in England, is contriving how to get a Swiss guard, and uses for this the money collected for the relief of the poor Protestants; enquire privately of the truth of this, but do not name it as discovered by us that have so near relation to His Majesty.

Heenviet and his lady take it unkindly that I declined to execute the commission for her levying a fine, but I take it ill that any offer me a commission by a power derived from the rebels. It may be a sly trick of my old friend Sir C. H. to try what I would do.

The Duke of Vendome is gone to sea with his fleet from Toulon. I wish he and Blake might meet, to see who would strike to each other. I hear from France that on 12 Aug, Blake being at Cadiz, the Spaniards sent 30 men-of-war and some fire-ships to surround him, but he saw them coming, weighed anchor, and stood to sea.

Cromwell's envoy to Moscow was ill received, and not permitted to return by land. The Swede is full of wants, and the Pole in much better condition than was reported, and will make strong opposition.

The Princess Royal is not well, and is under a course of physic. It is happy for her that Dr. Fraser is her physician, or she might have been very ill indeed. She will not stir hence these 2 months I believe. [2 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

Sept.  $\frac{4}{4}$ .

85. Intelligence sent to Charles II. Cromwell has been 3 months treating with the Swiss to raise him a body guard of 3,000, because he cannot trust his own army, as they are generally averse to what he desires, and he would depend upon these as the Turk upon his janizaries. For this purpose a Swiss colonel has been some time with him, but has lately come over to this side the sea.

To conceal the design, many Swiss families have been brought over and sent to London, and more are coming daily. To compass this, all the money collected for relief of the Protestants in Savoy, and much more, is sent over to Switzerland, to be employed in that service; if he bring it to pass, he can order the City of London as he pleases, and not fear his army.

With note [by Sir Edw. Hyde] that the King wishes this sent to Sir Marm. Langdale, that he may send it to his correspondents to make good use of it, and note [by Sec. Nicholas] that he has sent it to Langdale. [1 page.]

92. Petition of Edw. Dendy, jun., to the Protector. I have attended as serjeant-at-arms 5 years, with little benefit beside my salary, as prisoners of quality are sent to the Tower, and those committed to me are either maintained by Council, or are unable to pay fees, so that in 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  years I have not received above 80*l.* from prisoners. I have to give constant attendance, and therefore to maintain a wife and 8 children in town, and can lay up little of my salary of 365*l.* I beg, therefore, to be continued serjeant-at-arms to the present Commissioners for the Revenue, as I was to the late Revenue Committee. Also to have my arrears for service to that Committee, at 4*s.* 4*d.* a day, which, had it continued till next Michaelmas, would have been 138*l.* 7*s.* 11*d.* With reference thereon to Council, 14 May 1655. Having been a captain for the Parliamentary army, and now being in Cavaliers' places, they have combined against me, entered my house, assaulted and struck me, and divers desperate Cavaliers have made a great purse and feasted 5 or 6 committeemen, and got them to take private examinations for 30 years past, taking for witnesses some of my abusers, some of whom have been felons. I beg you will not suffer the law of nature, nations, and grace, in defence of life and liberty, to be destroyed, but let matters of controversy be tried by law. Also that unbiassed gentlemen in the Commission may take public examinations, and I receive satisfaction for my sufferings. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.] Annexing,

- Sept. 6.     95. Petition of the inhabitants of Barthomley parish, co. Chèster, to the Protector. John Smith, minister of Bowden, was expelled thence 12 years ago for grand offences by Sir Geo. Booth; thence he went to Congleton, but left without giving notice, being invited to better preferment at Audley, his native place. Then he unduly obtained an order for Barthomley, without any call of the people, and has since continued there, to the saddening of many. His many crimes, exhibited in articles by John Steel, and others not therein contained, render him unqualified. He is covetous, exacting treble damages for any failure to pay tithes, lying, envious, and malicious, and vilifies other ministers. He deserted the public cause at Worcester, though he was the engaged chaplain of Col. Croxton's regiment, and only 6 families out of 200 attend his ministry, for which he cares not, so long as he enjoys good tithes.
- The parish is united and well affected, and they beg leave to prove the articles of accusation. With 147 signatures, 73 being by mark. [1 sheet.]

2. Fiennes, Jones, Mulgrave, Lambert, and Sydenham to advise with counsel and others concerning the addition of more names to the Committee nominated in the Ordinance for ejecting scandalous Ministers, and Schoolmasters, and to report.

7. 8. Order, on a certificate from the War Treasurers according to Council's Ordinance of the 5th inst.,—that as, by accounts given in by Geo. Bilton, it appears that above all the money assigned for Scotland, 86,576*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.* is required to pay the forces and incident charges there to June 24 last; also, that a month's pay from June 24 to July 23, will be 40,000*l.*, bringing the amount due to 126,576*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.*, towards which 30,000*l.* was charged on the Exchequer and sent to Scotland;—that the difference, viz., 96,576*l.* 16*s.* 11*d.*, be charged on  $\frac{2}{3}$  of Excise money in Scotland, which is to be paid to the War Treasurers therefor. Approved 26 Sept.

9. The Treasury Commissioners to advise with the Army Committee how the above may be carried out consistently with the rules by which the said Committee acts, and to report.

10. The Treasury Commissioners to consider how the Scotch Exchequer may be managed conformably with that in England, and how a correspondence between the receipts may be maintained, so that the English Exchequer may keep a check upon the Scotch, and yet not prevent the revenue officers there from issuing such moneys as they are empowered to pay, without special direction, for service in Scotland, and to report.

I was elected to the office 24 June 1649, and contrary to the course in other counties, forced to act as agent as well as receiver, and so continued till 25 March last. I brought up at 9 several times, at my own charge, to Guildhall, London, 180 miles distant, 8,167*l.* 3*s.* 9*d.* I paid 1,500*l.* at Pembroke, to Mr. Browne, Treasurer for the Irish Expedition, and brought 2,626*l.* to Hereford. I was so impoverished with frequent journeys to London, to receive acquittances and make my accounts, that the county was forced to lay out 700*l.* for me, for which arrears I am apprehended, and have been close prisoner at James's garrison since 13 July last. I beg you to accept bail for my appearance before the Assessment Commissioners in the county, and release me, that I may sell my estate towards payment of the money. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

You are to order all officers of ports, and creeks, to see this done strictly.
- P.S.—If the Secretary of State shall hereafter inform you that any other parts besides the Netherlands are infected, you are to issue order to the same effect concerning those parts. [I. 76, p. 278.]

98. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. Jno. Clarke. Admiralty Chamber, Whitehall. In my last I gave you an account of a vessel taken up at sea by Gen. Penn's fleet, of her being put on shore at Brixham, in Torbay, and of my intentions of going to see to her preservation. On arriving, I found Capt. Pley had engaged a carpenter to stop her leaks with sheet lead, which was nearly completed, and the lieutenant of the Lion was put in command of the men engaged to bring her ashore; some had been quartered in the village, and others on board; they were in a very sad condition, without anything to eat, and hardly any clothes about them, and many were very feeble. I treated with the men for easing the charge, and sending them eastward, but they demanded half of the vessel, and what was in her for salvage, alleging that she was a wreck. After much discourse, I have prevailed with them to leave the vessel to be brought about by the lieutenant and 6 of the men with others, and thereupon dismissed 38 of them, and gave them 10s. each to carry them to their ships. I left the lieutenant, a master, and 6 men in charge, and arranged for their diet and some clothing.

What is in the vessel cannot be known until she comes in, as when first met with, she was full of water to the gun deck. I suppose she must not be entered in the Admiralty as prize, for no one can depose to whom she belongs; but she is a Dutch bottom, of 160 tons, and is supposed from Greenland, having a great copper vessel of 10 cwt. between decks, which the company would have sold but for me. She has also some oil, but much has been pumped out, and we cannot stop the leakage of the casks until they are all out of the hold, which is nearly full. The lieutenant had orders to acquaint the Vice-Admiral of the county when he came on shore, and to receive directions from him; I will take his and the master's examinations on oath, and send them either to Drs. Godolphin or Walker, and copies to you. I have taken care to prevent embezzlement, and to hinder the rude country; having left orders with Capt. Pley, I shall return homewards to-morrow. I beg advice as to the best to be done with the men engaged to assist. [2 pages.]

99. Sec. Nicholas to Joseph Jane. My wife arrived on Tuesday, sooner than I expected, and when I had but just removed to the house I had taken for her. She is still weary, and much worse than when I left her, but better than she was in France. I hear that Cromwell, having tried all ways to compass his designs, now talks of calling a Parliament, finding the people discontented and passionate to have a Parliament, which is the chief deity in whom they confide. He hopes by so doing to prevent a triennial Parliament.

The imprisoned gentlemen in the North are only fined by the judges for riots and misdemeanours, and released on bail. I hear of none to be tried in December, and would be glad to know who write such lies.

We do not here believe that Penn's remainder of a fleet is returned to Plymouth. I send well confirmed intelligence from England about Cromwell and the Swedes. Show it M. Somerdike, and tell me his opinion on it. We believe that the Swedes design to master the Baltic, and that they and Cromwell intend thereby to bridle the States of Holland; and if Denmark do not concur with them, they will force him to it.

Some think France and Sweden are in good intelligence. The Queen of Sweden goes for Italy on Monday. Next week the King, Duke of Gloucester, Princess Royal, and Lady Stanhope are going incognito to Frankfort fair; a strange journey, all things considered, but young princes think of nothing but pleasure. Some say the King of Poland is dangerously sick.

The lady may do something for you while she needs your help, but will do nothing out of consideration of your worth and sad condition. I have no credit with her, but have spoken to Mr. Cha[ncellor?] who can do all with her, and he will recommend you when anything advantageous falls into the Princess Royal's gift. You never saw

100. Admiralty Commissioners to the Navy Commissioners. The Protector, with the advice of his Council, by Patent under the Great Seal, dated 27 Aug. last, constituted Thos. Alderne Victualler of the Navy, and gave him power to furnish and issue forth sufficient provisions in pursuance of his instructions. Some particulars in the said instructions have reference to you; we transmit you a copy, and require you, so far as you are concerned, to proceed thereupon with all care and diligence. On or before the 29th instant, you are to deliver up all houses and storehouses possessed by you, or your instruments, at Tower Hill or elsewhere, to be settled upon him for the victualling offices, and to give him all due assistance and furtherance in the legal possession of what was appropriated to the victualling service, but is now detained by particular persons, to the prejudice of the State.

In reference to his accounting, we require you, upon conference with the said victualler, forthwith to settle a regular course for his and your proceedings therein, respect being had to the intention of the said instructions, so that the State may receive full satisfaction, and the victualler be discharged by passing his account each 6 months, or sooner as shall be desired by him.

You are to take care that the accounts of the stewards concerned in former victuallings, not acted or done by the present victualler, be made up and perfected by yourselves. For provisions delivered by him since the new settlement, he is to take the care of examining and passing the accounts. [1 page.] Enclosing,

101. Capt. Edw. Blagge to the Admiralty Commissioners. I left Jamaica on 24 July, with the Seahorse prize, bound for Virginia, but was parted from her in the night; the Augustin was to follow in 2 days. On 12 July the Portland, being sent to ply off the island, returned with the loss of her foremast with all upon it. In getting her a new one, we found that the worm had much injured our spare masts, so we put them into a pond of salt water on a point by the harbour. The Portland and Great Charity were put into the harbour until the army had raised a fortification upon the point.

The fleet intended putting to sea in a few days, but the men were very sickly and died daily. Capt. Vessey is dead, and Capt. Clarke cashiered for gross misdemeanours and embezzlements. Capt. Powell is appointed to the Selby, Capt. Blythe to the Hound, and Captain, late Lieut. Evans to the Gloucester. I have brought over General Venables, Col. Bullar, Capt. Butler, Quartermaster-Gen. Rudyard, Capt. How, Marshal General, and Captains Amesley and Sackville, with the General's lady, and their retinue of 28 persons.

Sept. 10. 102. Capt. Mich. Nutton to Navy Commissioners. I received The Satisfaction, Lord Deputy Fleetwood and his family on board at Dublin Bay, to Beaumaris, bring them to the Point of Ayr, in Chester Water, but, being forced into Beaumaris, landed them there, whence his Lordship went to Chester by land, and ordered me back to fetch his goods and bring them to London. I will sail with the first wind, although my provisions are short. Capt. Sherwin of the Primrose, and Capt. Coleman of the Wexford, formerly the Fleetwood, accompanied me over. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page damaged.]

Sept. 11. 103. Petition of Major Tim. Cruso, merchant of London, to Council. I was apprehended by your warrant, on Saturday, brought to Whitehall, and thence to Lambeth House, where I remain. My studies are sealed, and the key taken by the messengers, to my great prejudice, though I have always been faithful to the present Government, and adventured my life for them, and spent my own money to keep my soldiers from straggling, and never been repaid. I beg, if I cannot be speedily heard, that I may be released, on my engagement to wait on you when required, having other men's business in hand beside my own, which will be taken away unless I follow it; or if this may not be, release on security. I presented you a paper which you moved at Council, who appointed Mr. Jessop to draw a letter to the State of Venice, which he has done, but cannot offer it for signature, unless called for by you. Seeing it concerns the redemption of a man of valour, who, with one ship, fought 27 Turkish galleys and killed 800 Turks, pray call for the letter, that the captain may be released and the 7,000*l.*, or what is justly due by the State of Venice paid. 104. I., II. Letter suggested to be written by the Protector to the agent for Venice. Capt. Thos. Gallilee, with his 1 ship, fought 27 Turkish galleys, till his ship was burned under him, and he forced to leap into the sea, whence he was taken by the Turks, and is become the Grand Turk's immediate slave; the aged father petitioned us, we referred the case to Council, they to you, and you to the States of Venice, who ordered payment of 22,757 ducats, but it is not paid. We recommend payment, that this valiant captain may be redeemed and rewarded, to encourage others to be faithful to their trust. [2 copies.]

Send the soldiers back as soon as you can, allowing them 20s. each for their journey. I cannot find who had a hand in Ravenscroft's escape, but 2 of his sisters are suspected, also a servant of his mother, Lady Gamull, who brought him a horse and went away

107, 108. Petition of Col. Gilbert Ireland, Governor of Liverpool, to the Protector. When I received the government, there were but 30 soldiers in the castle and garrison, and 10 of them were lame and impotent, sent from hospitals, and unfit for service in time of danger, so I was obliged to make up the number to 50, being as few as could keep the garrison in case of attempts; but I can only procure pay for 30. I beg order for the pay of the 50 for the time they have already served, and for their future continuance or disbanding. With reference, 4 June 1655, to the Committee of officers; report of Commissary Edw. Whalley, Lieut.-Gen. Chas. Worsley, and Col. Wm. - Sept. 13. 112. Representation of the Commissioners for Appeals and regulating the Excise to Council. Rich. Babington, to whom the farm of excise on gold, silver, and copper wire is let at 2,800*l.*—a large advance—complains of fraudulent practices of the traders to elude the duty, which, if not prevented, will make this excise not worth the trouble and expense of management.
They erect engines in cellars and obscure places to disgross these goods, without bringing them to the places appointed by the Commissioners of Excise, as ordered by the Act of 6 Aug. 1646. They often bring the copper bars to the appointed place to be rounded, and thence take them to their houses to be silvered, and pretend to export them to be drawn, whereas they draw them secretly in and about the city, so that there should be a power given to break open doors to search for such frauds. He requests that some persons should be so empowered and act as though searching for clippers and adulterators of coin; if a few offenders were punished it would be a terror to the rest. Signed Wm. 120. Jno. Bellerby to Gen. Jno. Desborow. It has been long in my thoughts to acquaint you of an estate now under sequestration, on pretence that it belongs to the late Duke of Lenox, called Sutton Marsh, worth from 1,500*l.* to 2,000*l.* a year. It does not belong to the Duke, as he compounded for his sole estates, and dared not compound for this; but after polling his agents and friends, he got the Committee of co. Lincoln to sequester it as his, hoping to gain it by compounding, but he could never make a good title, and so it rests as before. The former interests, who were till then in quiet possession by the imbankers, have had several hearings about it since the sequestration, but cannot get it out of the hands it is now in, and it is a sweet bit to them at Lincoln.

It has been vented from one to another these 16 years. First the imbankers had it by a patent from the late King, and then the Duke got it by a later patent from the same King, and great suits were commenced by both, until at last the Duke got one of the trustees, Rich. Derham's brother, to confess a judgment against it, and so the Duke was in possession for two years. Then came one Wise, a cunning lawyer, who sold the first patent, and got the tenants to take leases of him, and he told them he would oust the Duke during the wars. The Duke being a delinquent, the Earl of Pembroke got a hearing of it in the House of Lords, and a sequestration of all the rents into the hands of Mr. Stephens, M.P., a servant of his, who received the rents for several years, when Mr. Shute and Mr. Derham's brother, and others shared the marsh amongst them, let leases, and kept it until the Duke got it sequestered. Lawyer Wise, who got the first patent, sold it to one Kerby for the late Lord Bayning, who imbanked the land, but the then King's Attorney finding a flaw in the grant, the Duke gets a second, and so by the Duke and Wise, all the mischief has been begot. As it is believed this estate solely belongs to the Protector, and is lost for want of looking after, and as it now turns to very little to the Commonwealth, the agents for the Committee living off of it, and wasting much, and the poor tenants undone these hard times by their rigid actings, if you judge it meet

4. The letter of Sept. 12 from the Army Committee, answering Council's letter of Sept. 5, concerning the pay of his Highness's and the Lord Deputy's regiments of horse, appointed to march into Scotland, referred to the Treasury Commissioners, and Lambert to speak with the Army Committee thereon, and report.

123. Sec. Nicholas to Mr. Jane. I have delivered yours to Mr. Cha[ncellor?]. If Blake and the Spanish fleet are within ken of each other, Blake should fight before the plate fleet, which comes with a good convoy, joins the Spanish fleet, unless he is expecting more ships to reinforce him. The King and Council of Spain must know all that has been done against them in the West Indies, and Cromwell's resolution to pursue the design, as it is notorious everywhere; but the King of Spain is slow in his resolutions, and may stay so long in declaring against Cromwell, that it may be too late for him, and do him much hurt; for if—as designed by that arch rebel—he, France, Sweden, the Protestant Princes, and the States unite, Spain can do little.

The Spanish Ambassador at the Hague is an able man, and abhors the rebellion in England. If you could get acquainted with him, as you might by some of the Catholics there, he might tell you many passages worth notice.

Tell me what you can learn of the proceedings against M. Van Riven. I suppose the aim is rather at Prince William, whose agent he was. I am persuaded there has not been any great intimacy between 613 * and Prince William, though they are friendly.

* Prince Maurice of Nassau? See pp. 174 and 221 supra, and Thurloe's State Papers, vol. iv. pp. 14, 111.

I believe most of all the Princess Dowager's (?) party and friends, and even a great part of the soldiers in those countries have more affection for, and a better value of 613, than of Prince William, who is proud and very unpopular, and 613 hath a great esteem among the wisest and best patriots in all the provinces, and is without doubt one of the ablest men they have. I am much concerned for him, holding him a very worthy person.

Nothing will sooner put an end to Cromwell's empire than a foreign war, for England cannot long bear the charge; and if Cromwell be in such want of money as Cardenas says, he cannot long continue, unless Blake meet with some of the plate fleet. If he be forced to call a Parliament, which nothing but the greatest extremities will make him adventure on, he must submit to what it imposes, and then the Presbyterians will yoke him as they please.

Heenvliet has sent for Oudart to execute the commission sent, and take Lady Stanhope's fine. I shall not join with him, but Mr. Howard may when he comes. Oudart may then be knighted, for a word of his mistress would effect it.

We hear from Breslau that the Swedes have beaten the Poles, which makes the Emperor and the Princes of Germany in those parts hasten their levies. The Duke of Bavaria declines to join them for defence of Germany, being much Frenchified by his wife, the Duke of Savoy's sister.

There is great joy at Middleburg for the arrival of their East Indian ships. Cromwell has agreed with the Jews, and some of their Rabbis are learning English, and will go from several parts to settle Judaism in England; they have already meetings in London.

We do not expect His Majesty here for a fortnight. My duty to the best of Queens [the Queen of Bohemia]. I would have written her, but have nothing worth knowledge.

P.S.—Sir Edw. Pitts met at the Hague, 2 or 3 months since, a Colonel of the Swiss in England, who told him, in great secrecy, that he had in Holland received 20,000*l.* from Cromwell, to raise forces in Switzerland, to join with the Huguenots of France. Have you heard of this, or of Pitts? [3 pages, the italics in cypher, partially decyphered.]

We cannot admit [Jonathan] Dawes' excessive yearly charge of 1,500 dollars as treasurer; it must not exceed 800, and we must be credited for all he has received above that. If he will not continue on these terms, let him lay down the office, for there is so little trade there, we do not need a treasurer. We shall give orders to Smyrna that they remit no more moneys to the Porte than will defray your entertainment and petty expenses. Levant Company to [Rich.] Lawrence. We have tried to settle your business at Constantinople, and ease ourselves of charges, but have not succeeded. Nothing is determined about sending another Ambassador, or the State's recalling you, which is a scruple you need not have insisted on, as your letters credential have not been delivered, and the occasion of your going is known to be entirely on your own affairs. If your business detains you not, you can return without call by the State, which, though not needful, we will procure if we can.

We hear that 1,200 dollars are detained from you in Smyrna for value received in goods and money from Jonathan Dawes, towards a present, since found not to be needful. If you will return them to Dawes, you will receive the 1,200 dollars. [Levant Papers, Vol. 4, p. 248.]

Levant Company to Spencer Bretton, Consul at Smyrna. We are glad to hear of Gen. Blake's good success at Tunis. The removal of Ipseer Basha, who would have exercised his usual exactions, has contributed thereto, and also the appointment of so good a friend as Morat Basha. We hope all danger is past, as the exasperations from Tunis are suddenly blown away. As thereupon you have unladen and despatched the Merchant's Delight, we shall send out a general ship for that port.

We are glad our London bills are at last discharged, and other dues, from duties on Armenians' moneys, brought on the Mary. Thanks for your service in levying the broke. We approve your choice of treasurer. We regret that Mr. Winchester preaches only once a week, and fear it is with assent of the factory, who ought more to value religion. We suppose you will abolish that unjust sentence of paying customs on money, and recover the avanias extorted from you while under him.

We are sorry for your difficulty in extorting the 2¼ dollars per cloth. He has also obtained from Gen. Moresini an order abolishing the dollar per mille to the regiments, both which orders we enclose, that you may withstand all payments on these accounts, and recover what moneys remained in Camera above Mr. Bromhall's claim, for which Hobson has sent you a procuracy, which we beg you to execute. The recovered moneys are to be restored to each factor. The trade being so eased, Hobson should enjoy his allowance, which we request you to see paid from May 1652. 125. Luke Whittington to Sec. Nicolas, Cologne. These several years, when there were hopes of his Majesty's restoration, I encouraged my townsmen of Hull to declare for him, and since Cromwell has advanced himself so high, I find them very pliable. In the last unfortunate rising, the seamen were so forward that if I had had time, or known where to send to his Majesty for instructions, I had gone for Hull. Now an opportunity presents, by the death (as reported,) of Cromwell, and the chief seamen will do their best, and assure me that if Cromwell be dead, the town will declare for the King, and they think the country all round also. If his Majesty would send me a letter to the mayor, aldermen, &c., to the same effect as he did on another subject, with a like promise of free pardon, and an Act of Indemnity for the whole town, I know a shipmaster who would deliver the letter, and bring an answer, and who will trade between here and Hull, on purpose to serve his Majesty. He will come to Zealand or Flanders, as I advise him, and is an able seaman, and hopes to be a pilot to carry his Majesty to Hull. God make me so happy as to see it, and soon. Our Hull men fancy that it will be the King's seat for a long time, and that he will mightily enlarge it, and make it so that ships may sail round about it. He should say something about religion, as the vulgar people have lately been told by the ill-affected that he is a Roman Catholic.

129. Sec. Nicolas to Mr. Jane. I believe Cromwell's loss in the Indies far greater than has been reported, and it strikes nearer his heart than is imagined. Many letters from Flanders, Zealand, and Amsterdam say that he died the  $\frac{2}{9}$  of the colic, or of convulsions, and some say the devil killed him; but as no express has come to Holland or Flanders with news of so great import, I know not what credit to give to the report. God grant we may make good use of his death, if true.

I believe the rulers of the rebels' army will never consent to a triennial or other Parliament that shall have power above them, as they must expect to be dissolved, or so diminished that they may be easily dissolved, for the Kingdom will not think themselves masters while there is a ruling army in England. If St. John have any design to procure a triennial Parliament, he may burn his fingers with meddling in it whilst the army is so prevalent. If Cromwell should be dead, and Lambert chosen in his place, he or any other (who had not actually a hand in the murder of the late King) may be treated with and pardoned, so as to restore the King on good conditions, which is the only hope of good I expect from such a change.

It is said that the French have been defeated by the Spaniards in Catalonia, which peace lovers wish to be true, as the French and Swedes delight in war and bloodshed.

Is it true, as reported, that 613 [Prince Maurice?] has lately got a sentence on behalf of his kinsmen of Breda against M. Heenvliet for the Drosser's place of Breda?

Tell Mrs. Harvey that I have 150 rix dollars in part of 200*l.* to pay her from Lord Gerard, and she is to give him the acquittance of a woman who sold him some linen. The other 50 will be paid her when received in 2 months. I would not meddle in such a matter but for Lord Gerard, who is in Paris, but will be here at Christmas.

This morning the Queen of Sweden passed my door with 7 coaches of 6 horses each, a horse litter, and a great litter. She will lodge at a castle 3 or 4 miles off. She is already a Roman Catholic, and goes to mass, but will not declare herself till she comes to Rome. She has had made a golden sceptre with a crown on, set with diamonds and rubies, value 5,000 crowns, to offer on her return to Notre Dame de Lorette; and she will then buy Egmond's house in Brussels, and make it a convent for nuns. "A worthy pillar doubtless she will prove, for which the Protestants will not have much cause to envy Rome."

Proclamation by the Protector prohibiting delinquents from bearing office, or having any vote in the election of public officers:—

Whereas an Act was passed 8th Oct. 1652, that none sequestered or imprisoned for delinquency, or subscribing the treasonable engagement of 1647, or assisting the late King, should be capable to be elect or be elected to any place of trust,—his Highness, foreseeing the dangers if such were in trust, and calling to mind the late horrid treason and rebellion carried on by the inveterate malice of that party, to involve these nations in blood and confusion, openly professing their design to set up that power which God has so eminently appeared against—declares his pleasure that special care be taken that all magistrates and ministers of justice be pious, discreet, and faithful, and that none of the aforesaid prohibited persons hold any office until his pleasure be further known, on pain of his displeasure, and penalties as disturbers of the peace and contemners of his Highness. All mayors, bailiffs, and officers, civil and military, to see this performed, as they will answer their neglect. [I. 76*A*, pp. 125-6.] Approved 21 Sept.

- Sept. 21. 132. Petition of Elizabeth, widow of Maj.-Gen. Jas. Haynes, to the Protector, for relief for herself and 4 children. Her husband lost most of his estate in preparing for and managing the expedition to the Indies, in which he died, and they are left in sad condition. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  page.]
- Sept. 21. Reference thereon in Council to Wolsley, Lambert, and Jones. [I. 76, p. 297.]
- Sept. 21. 133. Commission by the Protector to the Major-Generals. The old malignant and Popish enemies, after an Act of Oblivion, and many other favours, have designed a new and bloody war, and by correspondence with other discontented parties, resolved on a general rebellion, and executed it in many places; but it was suppressed by God's mercy, or a bloody war might have followed, as they had engaged the aid of foreigners, promising them on success some of our sea towns. Yet they still are stirring up new troubles, and engaging foreign princes to invade us, and will leave nothing unattempted to embroil us in war.
- We have therefore raised a well-affected militia of horse, and as they need a commander to discipline and conduct them, we appoint you Major-General and Commander-in-chief in counties, _____, _____, _____, with full power to keep the said militia in good discipline, conduct them to fight against all enemies, traitors, &c., and resist, repress, and slay them. We give you power, in case of invasion or rebellion, to raise the inhabitants of the said counties, and to exercise, arm, muster, and conduct them to the places where we shall direct you, in case of rebellion.
- As there may be causes why you cannot always exercise your office in person, we give you power to appoint a deputy with the same authority. All justices of peace and other civil officers to assist you. [Draft, corrected, 7 $\frac{1}{2}$  sheets.]

15. As John Talbot, receiver for the assessments in co. Devon, cannot pass his accounts without repayment or allowance of 2,559*l.* 16*s.* 2*d.*, advanced for paying 8 foot companies raised there by Sir John Coppleston, order to advise a warrant for payment to him of the said sum.

16. A report from the Admiralty Commissioners,—of information that great quantities of saltpetre have lately been imported, and that most of it is sold by the East India Company for export, which would be prejudicial at this present juncture, especially as the Act for making saltpetre shortly expires, and that therefore the Customs' Commissioners should be directed not to accept entries for export of saltpetre;—referred to the Customs' Commissioners, to consider and certify.

Sept. 21. [Sec. Nicholas] to Jos. Jane. It seems, as you say, that though Oct. 1. Cromwell made bold to invade the King of Spain's dominions in the Cologne. Indies, he scruples any act of hostility on this side the Tropics, or else Blake might have attempted the Spanish fleet that attends him on the coast of Spain. I wish he had, for I should be glad to see them at blows on this side the line. They say the Spanish fleet has arrived safely. I would not that Blake should have intercepted any of it, but only fought against it.

We hear of a league between Cromwell and Sweden against Poland and the house of Austria. I wish some about the old Princess Dowager or Mr. Beaumont could make you acquainted with the Spanish ambassador; you could direct him in many things, and he would esteem and benefit you.

I wish 613 [Prince Maurice?] were made governor of some strong place of importance, for there may be intestine divisions among those States, and then a governor may be of great security.

Tell me whether Mrs. Harvey will procure an acquittance from the woman to whom Lord Gerard owes part of the money, and how she will have the 150 rix dollars returned her. Mr. Jo. Samborne presses me about the 500 livres you had from John Cole, and may put some affront on you about it. Say what note or receipt you gave him for it, that I may prevent the worst.

The chief reason of Heenvliet's sending for Oudart is to execute the commission about Lady Stanhope's fine, which he and Mr. Howard, whom we expect shortly, may do, and then he may be knighted before he marry his rich wife. Who is she?

Deliver the enclosed to the Queen [of Bohemia]. I suppose Sir Chas. Cotterell is still at the Brill. Lord Gerard writes that Sir Edw. Herbert is at Paris, so I know not for whom his lady has asked the liberty of Zealicon's garden to walk in at Ferburgh.

The Queen of Sweden passed through this city on Tuesday, with 7 coaches and a wagon, each with 6 horses. We expect the King and his company on Monday.

The Swedish ships before Dantzic take 4 guilders on a last of every vessel going in or out; it will be heavy on the States' subjects trading there, but the States will not oppose the Swedes in that enterprize, for fear of Cromwell.

The news of Cromwell's death is a fable, but as sure as he is mortal, he is extremely hated by all sorts of people, and in great want of money.

P.S.—If you fear danger from Samborne or Cole about the 500 livres, I will prevent it by engaging myself for payment. Tell Lord Rinswood I cannot answer him till the King and Princess return. The Swedes have never honoured an ambassador so much as the envoy sent by Cromwell to confirm a league with that Crown, and Cromwell caresses the Swedish ambassador above all others. The sessions are near, and one man is sent to gaol, and several others bound over, on suspicion of embezzling goods out of the yard. The punishment formerly inflicted was too small; I beg a letter from the Commissioners to the justices, to have the offenders punished according to law. It was promised before but not sent. I intend to be at the sessions. Mr. Godferne of Maidstone is to deliver the charge at the sessions. Wm. Hunt of Yalding is in gaol for stealing iron, and Jas. White of Maidstone bound over for stealing cables; both should be punished. I recommend Fras. Walter, steward of the Rainbow, and Wm. appear or put in security within 10 days, may be appraised and sold, the fine and charges paid therefrom, and the overplus restored to the owners. All forfeitures to be recovered in the name of one of the overseers, and to be wholly to the use of the said fellowship. Presented by Maj.-Gen. Note of a petition of Rowland Pitt, referred to the Committee for Petitions, that those tenants of Milton Manor, leased to him for a year 23 August last, who refuse to give him possession, or to pay their rents, may be summoned. Also for an order to Capt. Fauconbridge to pay him 19*l.*, balance due of 25*l.*, ordered him by the late Revenue Commissioners, in part of 2,800*l.* due to him from the late King. Order in Council for payment. [I. 92, No. 278; I. 76, p. 302.]

Like note of petition of John Massam, executor of Thos. Massam, for recall of the lease of Milton Manor granted to Pitt, and suspension of proceedings, he claiming the manor under a legal title, and the rent reserved on an extent discharged. [I. 92, No. 279.]

144. Petition of Dr. Brune Ryves, and the undertakers for printing the Bible in the original and other learned tongues, to the Protector. We thank you for your countenance to our work in affording some paper free of duty, and especially for a late order for 1,000 reams of royal paper, which is not performed for the reasons annexed. We want 3,000 reams of ordinary paper, to print an introduction to the several languages, which for both Testaments will be 9, without which guide it would be to most men a book sealed up. If our own interests alone were concerned, we should not have asked further assistance, but the advancement of religion and the honour of the nation are concerned. Therefore we beg removal of the obstruction to the former order, and an order for the 3,000 reams duty free; or if both cannot be granted, the latter, which will only exceed the former grant by 40*s.* [1 page.] Annexing,

144. I. Custom House officers to Dr. Brune Ryves. We would gladly fulfil the order allowing you to import custom free 1,000 reams of paper for printing the Bible in Oriental languages, but now we can permit no goods to pass free, for we are ordered to pay all moneys on imports and exports every Monday into the Exchequer, so that we could only do it by paying 26*l.* out of our own purses, which we presume was not intended. But we will, if you wish, write to Council our readiness to obey, and request further directions, &c. 4 Sept. 1655. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

referred to English judges in Scotland, but they permitted Lord Craighall, who had been excepted against (as being formerly one of the judges when justice was obstructed) to sit amongst them, and, being divided in their opinions, two English men being for me, and two not fully satisfied, Craighall being then in the nature of a casting voice; I was forced to appeal to the late Parliament, which was dissolved before redress. I beg you to appoint a Committee of Council on my case, for I have all my proofs ready, and to satisfy me out of the estates of the wrong-doers. With reference thereon to Council, signed by the Protector, 17 Aug. 1654. [1 page; also I. 92, No. 224.]

4. Jones, Wolsley, and Lisle, added to the Committee for Petitions.

7. Lord-Commissioner Fiennes having hired Derby House, (which by order of Council was contracted for until Christmas, but has not hitherto been made use of,) to have liberty to enter into possession at once.

9. The report from the Committee on the petition of the inhabitants of the market town of Bromyard, co. Hereford,—referred back to the said Committee to speak with the petitioners about suing forth a writ of "Ad quod damnum," and, on its return, to consider how far the granting of the days for holding fairs there may be convenient; also to consider the last part of the report, about designing the toll to the poor of the parish, and report. Annexing,

146. 1. Report alluded to by Wolsley and Strickland, on their petition for 3 fair days to be added to their one,—they being impoverished by the marching of armies, public taxations, and smallness of their trade;—in favour of the said fairs, viz., the Thursday before the Annunciation, the Thursday before the Feast of St. James, and the Thursday before St. Luke's day, on which days it is alleged that no fairs are held within 20 miles of the town; the toll to be distributed among the poor by the vicar. [1½ pages.]

10. A letter to the Lord President from Gen. Monk, of Sept. 6, 1655, and an enclosed paper touching the further reducement of the forces in Scotland, to the lessening of the charge 3,500*l.* a month, read, and referred to Lambert, Jones, and Sydenham, to report speedily.

12. Two letters to the Council in Scotland, in pursuance of orders of Sept. 5, on the several petitions of the Earl of Calendar and the Earl of Home, read and agreed to.

14. Copies of the said letters to be delivered to the petitioners, if they desire it.

- 147. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will give the seamen of the Hampshire money for their short allowances. They have been much displeas'd since they came in, but better this 2 or 3 days. I will dispatch the frigate with speed, but boatswain and carpenter's stores will be needed.
- I informed Col. Clarke of the packet I received from his Highness, and what I presumed to do in this emergency of the service. The seizures and imbargoes in Spain made many a sad heart in the West, but they are in hopes the ships not yet arriv'd there may have timely notice of it. The captains of the Assistance and Constant Warwick have received their dispatches, and would have sail'd but for want of men in place of those run. I deliver'd his Highness's packet for Gen. Blake to Capt. Potter, with instructions, if he fail'd to meet him, to go to the Straits' mouth, and give notice to all ships he should meet, bound to the dominions of the King of Spain, of the seizure and imbargo, and to require him, in his Highness's name, not to enter any of that King's ports. I have also given notice to Capt. Sparling to ply off the Bay of Biscay, for the same purpose, 20 days, and then return to the Soundings. I hope you will approve this. I am in a strait to answer his Highness's commands, and the expectations of the merchants. I hear that the Saphire and Nightingale have taken a Brest man-of-war of 10 guns, and that, understanding from some of her men the signs the Brest men-of-war made to each other, they have mann'd the frigate they took, and are plying about with her. Maddox, master of the Golden Falcon, respecting a complaint made against Maddox by the gunner, boatswain, and carpenter, of joining with Edw. Rand, clerk of the check, in making false tickets. 152. Petition of Hen. Barrington, Thos. Wade, John Furlie, Thos. Lawrence, and Rich. Green, aldermen, 6 assistants, and 7 common councilmen of Colchester, to the Protector. We hoped that our former addresses to you [see 9 June 1655] would have enabled us to live quietly, but find we are still left to struggle with those whose principles are opposite to the great ends of your undertakings. In spite of your prohibition, there has been a late election of officers for next year, more prejudicial than ever to those who fear the Lord. We therefore beg you to appoint a mayor or other person to govern the town according to the charter. [ $\frac{1}{2}$  sheet.]

I have been a suitor since 10 Dec. 1653, for satisfaction for losses amounting to 63,000*l.*, which will ruin me, and I know you are willing to relieve me, if an expedient could be found. I beg an order to the Treasury Commissioners to receive and allow me the benefit of discoveries of money due to the State, which I shall make. [1 page; also I. 92, No. 265.] Annexing,

There is an honest, sober, and resolute man, who will undertake it if he may have his Majesty's authority, be restored to his ancestors' rights, now in the hands of rebels, as soon as the is King restored, and have 1,000 guilders to furnish him for the work.

We hear that the King of Spain has declared war against the English, and seized all the English merchants' estates in Spain. Also that the Dunkirkers, or some Flanders ships, have taken 2 English ships on the coasts of England, therefore the King of Spain will doubtless give our King the free liberty of all his havens in Spain and Flanders. If so, I will ask you to procure me 10 or 12 commissions from his Majesty, with which I will undertake to set out ships, provided his Majesty will allow me 1,300*l.*, which I lent for his use to the Earl of Newcastle, Sir Thos. Glenham, Sir John Morley, Sir Thos. Riddell, and Sir Hugh Chomley, besides 13 years' service, losses, and sufferings. This 13,000*l.* to be paid me out of the 10 per cent.; if his Majesty expects 15ths, which comes to 16ths on this side, it will discourage merchants from setting out privateers here; experience tells me his profits will be more if he takes but  $\frac{1}{10}$ , as other kings do, than if he take 15 per cent. What profits I bring in more than the 13,000*l.* I will pay to his collector. There is no easier way for him to pay his debts. I will do my best to get ships and seamen from England.

We hear that Penn and Venables are prisoners in the Tower, and the whole kingdom must pay a year's assessment towards repairing the shattered navy, and paying the seamen and soldiers. [2 pages.]

1. Complaint being made by John Balderson, of Lambeth, that Theaura John has set up a tent on his grounds, and refuses to remove it, though it occasions the gathering of multitudes of people, and endangers the peace, Ald. Rob. Tichborne, and 3 other justices of peace for Surrey, are to see to its removal, and prevent tumultuous meetings.

6, 7. The report from the Committee on the Earl of Calendar's petition read, agreed to, and a letter ordered to be sent accordingly, instead of a letter passed Sept. 25, and a draft of the letter read and approved.

8. A report from the Committee on Gen. Monk's letter of Sept. 4—showing that the 800*l.* a month allowed for contingencies in Scotland is not enough, especially as the fortifications are not perfect, and would thus be rendered useless, and the provisions for them will be spoiled and embezzled, and proposing an increase to 1,800*l.* a month—agreed to, and his Highness to be advised to write to Monk to disband and reduce forces that will retrench 500*l.* a month, and to report. Also as 2,000*l.* a month of the assessment is allowed to be abated on such parts of Scotland as have been destroyed by the late war, order to advise his Highness to authorise Monk, in case any such parts be now able to pay, to charge on them so much as they can bear towards the making up of the said 1,800*l.*

158. Sec. Nicholas to Jos. Jane. I find your Hogen Mogens [the States general] are slow of belief of a conjunction between Sweden and Cromwell, but it is believed in England and Germany, and Rolt, Cromwell's envoy to Sweden, has gone after that King to Poland. Both are full of ambition, and too far off to cross each other's designs.

Cromwell has fitted Penn and Venables with safe lodgings in the Tower, after their long and tedious voyage, that they may safely rest till he frees them from all pain and danger. It is probable that the English are beaten out of Jamaica, and that the rest of their army and ships are lost, or we should hear more of them. Cromwell has told the merchants in England that the King of Spain has declared war against the English, but no such order has come into Flanders, and they will not meddle with any English goods or ships till some time after such an order, the ancient leagues between England and Burgundy providing that before any war, time should be given to the merchants on both sides to retire with their estates. We do not hear that the English have seized goods or ships of Flanders merchants.

The Queen of Sweden certainly went to mass daily as she passed, and as soon as she has received the Pope's absolution and benediction, she will declare herself a Roman Catholic.

I am confident the states of Holland dare not assist Dantzic, what show soever they make of sending ships north. I hear Cromwell has required them by express not to hinder the King of Sweden in his designs against Dantzic and Poland. Enquire if there be not such a letter from Cromwell to the States, his vassals. No doubt the Eastland trade is of great concern to the Dutch, but the curbing them therein is one of the ways agreed on by Sweden and Cromwell to lessen their commerce.

Mr. Oudart is here, and is likely to have the honour he expects. The 150 rix-dollars are paid by Mrs. Harvey's directions to Mr. Fox. I shall ask John Samborne to prevent any proceedings against you, but I fear nothing but ready money will do it. If you have Mr. Cole's note for the money for which I had the King's note, it must be returned on payment.

All English ships and goods are seized in Spain, 32 being arrested at Malaga and Cadiz. Blake is in the river of Lisbon to victual, and then join with some Portuguese ships against Spain.

Cromwell is very full of perplexities, and in great want of money. His greatest hopes are in a strait conjunction with the King of Sweden, which he labours by all means to effect. Prince Rupert waited on the King at Frankfort, and the Elector Palatine sent his steward to invite him to Heidelberg, but he excused himself; we expect him here this week.

P.S. Tell me whether my letter for Albert Moreton was delivered. The King may not come till next week, having gone from Frankfort to meet the Queen of Sweden. [2½ pages.]

Dover Castle. Castle. I am sorry you cannot pitch upon a time for coming down. I hope you will be here next week, as I wish you present at the sitting about scandalous ministers on Monday week. I hear that Mr. Hearne has got the 6 preachers' place, worth 30*l.* a year, from St. John's parish in Thanet, which now renders it of very inconsiderable means, and the parish is very great, there being 2,000 inhabitants and their families. Capt. Sheareman writes that he has laboured against it what he can, and that it will be lost if you do not interpose. It is an unworthy thing in Mr. Hearne to move in it. I hope we shall shortly receive some more warrants.

I enclose a petition signed by 8 of the jurates and 4 of the common council, the rest being dissatisfied with the government, or neutral.

They beg you to present it to your Council, and labour to obtain an order therein, as they are willing to serve the corporation, so that they could answer their consciences, and do the good they desire, which they are confident would be in this alteration. 162. Answer by Wm. Astell to the report about him sent by the Prize Commissioners to Council. It was Mr. Violet, not my wife and I, who accused Ab. Johnson of perjury. I repeated it because Johnson said he had spent 300*l.* in maintaining me and the rest of the witnesses, whereas he never spent a penny, for all the charge lay on me, and he said a thing one day and denied it the next. I have not been perfidious, as he accuses me. The Commissioners join me with Mrs. Pembridge, but she had nothing to do with it. I only asked them for my charges in lying 4 months on the Thames, but am not yet paid.

Dr. Walker said that no one came in on the case except Mr. Violet, and so the onus probandi was cast upon them, but I had given in my paper long before to the Commissioners of Prize Goods, and thought they would look after it. I showed a copy to Dr. Walker when I heard the Spanish agent plead, and he was angry because it was not brought in before, which was the Prize Commissioners' fault.

It was the long delay, and the death of some of our witnesses that caused the claimers' proofs to be more effectual than ours. the Recorder of London, and John Sadler and Nath. Bacon, Masters of Requests, receive all appeals of the inhabitants of Guernsey, hear the parties, enquire into the truth of the cases, and report to Council, with their opinions. [I. 76, p. 317.]

Oct. 2.

2. Petition of Thos. Browne, late English agent at Tunis, to the Protector. On the late breach with the Governor of Tunis, I was obliged, for my safeguard, to retire to the fleet under Gen. Blake, and leave all I had, both of my own and others', to the Turks' depredation, whereby I and the friends who trusted me will lose much unless the differences be composed. I beg you to empower Sir Thos. Bendish, ambassador at Constantinople, to conclude these differences, and re-establish me as consul; and meanwhile to grant me money for present subsistence, and for a voyage to Constantinople for better effecting the premises. I am emboldened to ask this because you so lately confirmed me in my employment. With reference thereon to Council, the petitioner having deserved well in the Tunis business, and being worthy of further trust. 26 Sept. 1655. [1 page.]

Cologne.

Sec. Nicholas to Jos. Jane. I have not read in the prints that Col. Butler was to make a relation of the West Indies' business, but I do not doubt Cromwell would not proceed against Penn and Venables as he has done, without the seeming concurrence of the colonels of the army and his Council. He has committed them, and may try them for their lives to vindicate his wisdom, that it may not be thought he failed in laying that design, but they in executing it. If Blake should, on Cromwell's rough usage of Penn and Venables, consider before he puts himself in such a tyrant's power, it may much prejudice the arch-villain (Cromwell.)

If the King of Spain had declared war in Flanders against Cromwell, as he has done in Spain, by seizing all English ships and goods, I believe some of Blake's fleet might come into the ports of Flanders, to offer their service to our master.

I hear from Zealand that a great fleet of Turks has come into the channel, and taken one of their ships. The Turks say that by the late treaty with Blake, they have the freedom of the English harbours, and have been to Falmouth for provisions. At this the Zealanders storm extremely, as they have reason, for if the Turks have such liberty, they will destroy the trade of the Dutch and all others, and appropriate it only to Turks and rebels.

If there a Camden's Elizabeth in English at the Hague, buy it for me, and send it when you can. Capt. Umpton Crook, who at South Molton took Penruddock and Grove, and then perfidiously denied them their articles, has lately been knocked on the head with a bowl in Oxfordshire.

The Parliament at Paris has concluded that the archbishopric there is vacant, and the King free to make a new archbishop. I did not think any Court Parliament in France would have made such an arrest in ecclesiastical matters.

I hear Cromwell wrote soundly requiring the States general, or those of Holland, to forbear sending any ships of war into the Baltic, to disturb the Swede's proceedings against Poland, and the States have most gallantly submitted to his rebellious worship's order, and laid aside their preparations to assist their friends in Dantzic. Get a copy of his letter if you can.

Sir Wm. Lower, lately come from England, says Cromwell is so indisposed in mind and body that he cannot live long. A libel has lately been printed, particularizing his perfidies, falsehoods, perjuries, &c. The composer, an Anabaptist, was apprehended, avows it, and says he is prepared to prove it by Cromwell's writings, or sufficient witnesses. He is not so much as imprisoned.

The Portugal ambassador at Paris says that the Spanish fleet has beaten Blake into the port of Lisbon, and pursued them so hard that Blake was forced to take protection for them under the castle of Giron, which guards that port.

I am glad you know the Spanish ambassador; he will be pleased to converse with you about English affairs. We expect the King to-night or to-morrow. I send you Sir Wm. Curtius' relation of his meeting the Queen of Sweden, and of the Elector Palatine's base neglect of the King; but keep it to yourself, and let none of the good Queen of Bohemia's family see it, but Sir Chas. Cotterell. It is strange how confident our best politicians are that the King will soon be invited into Flanders by the King of Spain. I do not think that King will so suddenly and heartily embrace our master's interest, having observed how slow his Majesty's party in England are to rise for him, how much he is entangled in the snares of France, and how many about him are suspected for their loyalty. Yet I think he will remove hence shortly, because this always happens when I get settled in a place.

P.S.—I send you an intelligence from London ; keep the first part of it to yourself. [3 pages, Holland corres.]

Oct. 2. 4. Geo. Williamson to his brother Joseph, at Queen's. I rejoice in your health, and will strain myself to give you all I can spare. I send you the 20s. by Mr. Halton, whom I did not see. I will see what I can do about a young nag. My mother is well recovered. [1 page.]

Oct. 3. 5. Petition of Hen. Bedingfield, of Billingford, Norfolk, to the Protector, for release on good security, for preservation of his poor wife and children. Has not acted against the laws, or done anything to incur displeasure, yet has been detained prisoner 12 weeks, though the subsistence of his family depends on him. [1 page.]

Oct. 3. Order in Council thereon that his name be inserted into the list of prisoners this day read, who are to be released on security. [I. 76, p. 320.]

Oct. 3. 6. Petition of the Walloon congregation at Norwich to the Protector. Being Protestants, we left our native country in times of persecution, and have always found this country a sanctuary, having patents from Edward VI. and his successors for exercise of our religion in our native language, and for the use of our trades, and we have always contributed to our ministry and poor. But being chiefly handicraftsmen, we have lately been hindered in setting to work strangers who repair hither for the free exercise of their religion, so that we are much diminished, and shall be ruined without remedy, and Protestants abroad will be discouraged from coming here.

Norwich was the first place that received Protestant strangers, who taught the English several woollen manufactures, which have enriched the nation, and we have been upheld by former princes, and by the mayors and aldermen of this city. We beg the same privileges from you, that we may maintain our poor, pay our taxes, &c. [1 page.] Annexing,

6. 1. *Certificate by Thos. Anguish, mayor, and the justices of peace and aldermen of Norwich, that in 7 Eliz. many aliens were admitted to the city to make "outlandish commodities of new device," as buffins, mackadoes, valures, sayes, bombasines, taffety, fustians, &c., which have set many poor to work. These have been succeeded by others, who submit to the city government, and have officers yearly sworn before the mayor, to see that their manufactures are not fraudulent, and to punish offenders ; that they are profitable to the State, and have not one beggar among them. 10 Dec. 1611. Has but 6s. a day in England, and 9s. 6d. a day in Scotland, to maintain self, servants, and 3 horses, which is far short of a subsistence; begs 20*l.* for a chest of medicaments, to be always ready, and 5s. a day more pay, from the contingencies in Scotland. [1 page.]
- Oct. 3. Order thereon that the Army Committee issue a warrant for 10*l.* for his chest, and that Lord Lambert write to Gen. Monk to add something to his pay of 9s. 6d. a day in Scotland. [I. 76, p. 322].

20. Commissioner Peter Pett to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have thoroughly searched the Indian with the master shipwright, Mr. Arkinstall, and the clerk of the check, for the quicksilver and a quantity of pieces of 8 alleged to have been stowed away abaft the mainmast, taking up the boards and boring holes, but could not find any. I would have written before, but I had to attend the sessions at Maidstone to prosecute the felons committed for stealing a piece of cable and a great bar of iron; also to attend the trial of a minister of Witchling, whom I bound to his good behaviour for speaking very contemptuously against the Lord Protector, and for being a common drunkard and a swearer.

I gave your letter to the justices, and it made them very sensible of the mischief done by such kind of persons upon the State's goods in the navy; the two mentioned in yours were convicted and are burnt in the hand before now. I hope it will be an example and stop such thefts. The fellow who stole the clothes was sent to Maidstone; but his examination sent to you not having been returned, I could do nothing in it. The Indian, Norwich, and Greyhound, are ready for their victuals. I recommend Walsall, late steward of the Rainbow, for a purser's place. [ $1\frac{2}{3}$  pages.]

21. Thos. Shewell to the Admiralty Commissioners. I delivered your warrant respecting the two brass bases with brass chambers, to Nich. Jordan, who says he has sold them, and they are now as much the State's as they were when he first seized them. I hear that they were sold to one Hudson, who is gone to Lisbon, and will be away 6 weeks. I will secure them on his return. [ $\frac{1}{3}$  page.]

22. Petition of John Freeman, sen. and jun., merchants of London, to Council. During the past 6 months, we shipped currants, raisins, and oil, to Hamburg and Holland; the markets being bad, they will not sell beyond seas without great loss, and yet are much wanted in England, but we fear to import them on account of the Act of Navigation. We therefore beg your license to import 90 barrels of raisins and 10 tons of oil, in the same ship that carried them to Hamburg, paying customs and excise. [1 page.]

26. Gen. Robt. Blake to the Navy Commissioners. When at Algiers, it was resolved amongst the seamen throughout the fleet, upon a question being put, that they would contribute a dollar each towards the ransom of certain Dutch captives who, hoping to gain their liberty, swam from the shore to our ships, the money to be stopped upon their account for short allowance; which being now to be cleared, together with their wages, I thought fit to give you notice, that you may set it off, and the rather because the Sophia and Hector have been paid off without any defalcation thereof. I hope this has not been done with any of the rest which came in to Portsmouth and Plymouth before us. [1 page.]

[Sec. Nicholas] to Jos. Jane. Thanks for your care about Camden's Elizabeth, but what Sir Chas. Cotterell intends to bring will be sufficient. It is true about Cromwell's writing to the States not to send ships of war into the Baltic, and their abandoning their preparations.

The States provincial of Holland have voted for M. Nordich to be governor of the Busse; many marvel that he, having been so openly in the interest of the Prince of Orange, is so much esteemed by the ruling party in Holland, who have always opposed the Prince.

I have absolutely refused to execute a commission for M. Heenvliet and his lady, for her ladyship acknowledging a fine, because I cannot in conscience execute any commissions derived from the present power in England. They seemed satisfied, though I believe they are not, and said Mr. Howard and Mr. Oudart, being here, would do it. Mr. Oudart is to marry a handsome gentlewoman, who, with her sister, has kept up their father's Lombard in Leyden, since his death, and is worth, Lady Stanhope says, 100,000 guilders. I believe he will be knighted before his return.

You may be useful to the Spanish Ambassador there in this conjuncture, and give him intelligence of affairs in England and Spain. We are expecting an open breach between Cromwell and Spain, but as long as the Spanish Ambassador remains in England, war will not be declared, nor will there be any appearance on the Spaniard's part for the King our master. If he should countenance the King, before recalling his Ambassador and declaring war, it will be only to draw Cromwell the sooner to some agreement. The Spaniard, in this low condition, would make any base peace with England, having the French so heavy on him. I want to hear that the 30 ships said to be long since preparing, to carry more men and provisions to recruit Cromwell's forces in the Indies, are gone to sea.

I hear Cromwell pursues his design to have a Swiss guard, being so much hated by the English. If he make show of calling a Parliament, it will be to gain time, till he can get the guard over and purge his army, for he knows he can only be secure by the power of an army, and an army and a Parliament are not compatible. Divers regiments have appointed adjutants to meet in London, and frame propositions, which Cromwell, some say, will not like. He is cantoning the Kingdom, having signed 7 patents for 7 governments, Lambert for Yorkshire and Lancashire; Howard, captain of his life guard, for Northumberland, Cumberland, and Westmoreland; Fleetwood for Essex, Norfolk, Suffolk, and Lincolnshire; Desborow, the West; Col. Goffe for Wales, &c. These are to have for council the county justices, that whatever is ordered may be taken for the county's acts. They will have power to raise money, and thus do without a Parliament. Some say these governors, &c., will elect Cromwell king, that it may be said he is chosen by the voice of the nation.

- Oct. 11. 29. Petition of Dame Alice Burlace, Dame Marg. Levingston, Bridget Bray, Judith Hobson, and Frances Blunden, to the Protector. On our former petition you granted us, 27 Jan. 1653-4,  $\frac{1}{2}$  of such concealed estate as we should discover, in payment of our annuities granted by Parliament. By means of Rich. Estcott, we have discovered that the late Sir Peter Vanlore's estate is chargeable with crown jewels embezzled, value 40,000*l.*, which were sold by him, and lands bought therewith, or converted to his own use and concealed. With our consent Estcott exhibited an information to the Commissioners for Claims and Discoveries at Worcester House, and some proceedings were taken, but no fruit, on account of their want of power. We beg a grant to Estcott and Nich. Lyme, on our behalf, of  $\frac{1}{2}$  the money recoverable therefrom, with leave to prosecute Sir Peter's executors and assigns in the Exchequer. - Oct. 11. Pres. Lawrence to the Council in Scotland. His Highness has referred to Council a petition of the Earl of Calendar for liberty of person and estate. It seems that his estate was seized by the State's agent in 1654, by virtue of the Ordinance of Grace for the people of Scotland, he being an excepted person, and also that part of his lady's estate which had belonged to the Earl of Dumfermline, her former husband, and which till then she had held as her tierce (although by a clause in the Ordinance she was to enjoy her jointure lands). The tierce is said to be detained because that part of her estate was not mentioned in the Ordinance, and is distinct from jointure, and allowed by the laws of Scotland as appendant thereto.

He has been imprisoned, and is now at liberty only on security. He served the Parliament against the late King; but he was lieutenant under Duke Hamilton in the invasion of 1648, for which he was banished Scotland, returned here in Feb. 1650-1, and had a licence from Gen. Monk in Nov. 1651.

We therefore wish you to inquire the grounds of seizure of that part of the countess' estate called the Tierce; and if it is allowed by the laws of Scotland, and there is no objection but the omission of the word tierce in the Ordinance, then she is to enjoy the benefit of the Ordinance as fully as was intended. 16. 1655.
Oct. 12.

45. Representation by the Admiralty Commissioners to the Protector and Council, on the present state of naval affairs, as also the condition of Gen. Blake's fleet, lately returned and waiting to be paid off.

That the wages due to the fleet lately come in, including short allowance, amount to 120,000*l.*, being 20 months' arrears; the cash in the hands of the Navy Treasurer is only 20,000*l.* with which he is paying off the 3 great ships at Chatham; but it will not be sufficient by 5,000*l.*

The dead charge of the fleet's remaining unpaid is 2,000*l.* weekly for victuals and wages.

Since the coming in of Gens. Penn and Blake's fleets, all the money appointed for naval affairs has been employed towards their paying off, whereby the payments upon contracts, bills, yard wages, &c., have been stopped, which is a great prejudice to the navy.

The supply this year for naval affairs has fallen so much short of its charges, that the debts reduced in the preceding year to 3 months, are now receded to 9 months, and the naval debt risen to 657,835*l.* 14*s.* 7*d.*, including the payment of Gen. Blake's fleet.

For want of money, the navy stores are not furnished to carry on any considerable action at sea, the late undertaking having greatly exhausted them; nor can they be recruited without money.

Several ships on the English, Irish, and Scotch coasts, have been long out and unpaid; and although some of them are not fit to be kept out, being out of repairs, yet they cannot be drawn in for want of money to pay them off.

The Commissioners pray consideration and relief therein. Also they enquire what victuals shall be provided for the next summer service, it being advantageous to have it in seasonable preparation, as was represented in their report on 28 Aug. last. [1 $\frac{3}{4}$  pages.]

46. Nich. Jordan to Major Jno. Desborow and the Admiralty Commissioners. Having received an order from Thos. Shewell, concerning two brass bases, I beg you to understand the case. After I had faithfully served under Sir Wm. Waller at the beginning of the wars, and until Bristol was taken, I lost my estate, value 300*l.*, and was forced to leave the city, with my wife and 3 children, at the hazard of my life; I got to Gloucester garrison, where I continued until Col. Morgan disbanded, during which time I was a captain of foot, and a lieutenant of horse and foot, was taken prisoner, and received many wounds. Being disbanded and unable to follow any trade, in December 1648, I applied to some friends in Parliament, and was put into the Custom House at Bristol, by recommendation of the now Lord Protector.

About that period Capt. Plunkett revolted, and joined with the Irish rebels, and left 2 small bases at his house in London, which were put into a cask and sent to Bristol, for conveyance to him in Ireland. Hearing thereof, I took some men, seized and conveyed them to the State's storehouse, and gave notice thereof to the Commissioners, who thanked me for my pains, and stated that they did not then know how to dispose of them; considering them of no value, I never troubled further about them, until Major-Gen. Deane coming to Bristol, I showed them to him, and desired him to take them, but he declined.

When the Scots came to England, I was made lieutenant to Capt. Thos. Norris, as also lieutenant of the foot at Bristol, by commission under the now Protector's hand and seal, dated Oct. 1651; and being asked by Col. Scrope, then Governor of Bristol, what guns and ammunition were in the storehouse or Custom House, I told him of these two small bases; he sent for them, and they remained there until the Castle was demolished. I then took the guns and chambers to my own house, and sold them to Thos. Shewell's brother-in-law and his partner for 6*l.*, their weight being 200 lbs. If I had not by Shewell's malice been put out of my employment, I should never have questioned these guns, but Shewell never served for the State with the sword, nor does he favour any one that has. Not the  $\frac{1}{10}$  of a farthing could be proved against me, but only his evil will, to bring in a kinsman of his that never did any service, to my prejudice. When put out, I came to London, and sent a petition to the Navy Commissioners, to allow me for my pains and charges, according to the Act, but was informed by Thos. Kelsey that they could do nothing, the Act being before their time.

As you have been soldiers yourselves, I hope you will consider all this, and not put me to the charge of coming to London, which will cost more than the guns were worth. The State owes me and my brother, Major Thos. Jordan, who was slain at Clonmel, 300*l.* on debentures. I desire this may go in part payment; if not, I desire to know your pleasure; the thing is of no value to the State, although it is to me, now a poor man. [2 pages.]

47. R. Dillington to Williamson. I ought to have given you a particular account of our voyage at Jamaica, of our living 9 days by the air like cameleons, now and then on orange leaves and cocoa. We have passed through all the Herculean labours, slain the Hesperian dragon to purchase the golden fruit, warred against mountains and woods, and found, like stout Vexon, King of Egypt, that, Jam opulenti populi ducem stolidè adversus inopes oceupasse bellum, quod magni fuerit illi domi timendum, quod belli certamen anceps, præmia victoria nulla, dumna manifesta sint, which we have found true. 48. Capt. Jno. Bourne to the Admiralty Commissioners. I have endeavoured, as ordered, to gain intelligence from Ostend and Dunkirk of their strength in men-of-war, and their readiness to sail; and I hear, by two Ostend shallops (who, not knowing the injury their nation has done in these parts of late, came into the Downs for succour in a contrary wind, and whom I have secured), that they have 25 frigates, small and great, at Ostend, carrying from 18 to 34 pieces of ordnance, and 10 at Dunkirk, besides 3 great King's ships, which are cruising on the coast of Portugal and the Straits, and expected home daily. Some of the others are getting ready to go out. I hear from Capt. Tatnell that all the English ships and goods at Dunkirk are seized, and the merchants' houses guarded by soldiers, and that there are several ships there that will make men-of-war, as also some building.

I have no vessel to send as a convoy from Yarmouth to Newhaven and back, but I have directed the Advice, which has gone as convoy to Dieppe, &c., to call at Newhaven and bring back the 10 ships of Yarmouth waiting there. When she returns, she will require an order for victualling. [2 pages.]

50. Sec. Nicholas to Jos. Jane. I now believe that Cromwell did not write the letter I named to the States. The news came from Mr. Vicford, who is very credulous. Mr. Oudart's intended wife is rich and handsome. He is little esteemed here, and his preferments make him more conceited than ever.

I hear that the Spanish ambassador at the Hague is a man of ability, but not of integrity, as M. Le Brun was; but you might learn from him his King's inclinations towards our King. As you say, the Spaniard's necessities will be his chief counsellors, so we must show him the advantage in the war with Cromwell of espousing our master's interests. I fear that Cromwell has no men left at Jamaica, but that the ships and men which Penn left came away with or after Venables, and are at the Barbadoes. Cromwell amuses the world, and keeps up his credit with his adorers, by pretending that men still remain at Jamaica. Till the Spanish ambassador has landed from England, I shall suspect a private making up of the breach between his King and Cromwell.

There is a rumour that the French King has sent placarts to all his ports to seize English ships and goods, but it only comes from Flanders, and is not named from Paris.

Cromwell's strictly prohibiting the printing of news is a sure sign that his affairs at home and abroad go not well. He has been tampering to bring in as many Swiss guards as, with his faction in the army, may secure himself; but he has perhaps laid the design aside, because it was discovered to some chief officers of the army.

Some say the Princess Royal will return next month, but she is ill, and not out of physick. Mrs. Harvey being a shuffler, I should like the woman's receipt for the money owed her by Lord Gerard.

My son Lane will wait on you when he comes to the Hague.

I hear that Cromwell is in great want of money, and has raised the monthly contributions as high as ever, and wants  $\frac{1}{2}$  paid at once; this may produce notable effects. We are loth to be at the charge of good intelligence from England lest we lack money for other things, though of less importance.

We hear that Blake's fleet protected 4 Turkish ships pursued by the Spanish fleet. It is reported that Cromwell is preparing 120 sail for sea, but it is ridiculous, for this is not the season, and he has neither means nor men. Under this pretence he will drop his preparation of 14 frigates and 18 other ships to be sent with men and provisions as a recruit to Jamaica, where, I believe, he has no forces remaining. What progress is made by the English and Dutch commissioners about settling the English company at Rotterdam? I have written to John Samborne that I will try to procure from the King wherewith to satisfy your debt. [3 pages.]

1. Frost to satisfy to Nich. Bond 87*l.* 0*l.* 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ d. balance due for the Swedish ambassador's entertainment, and 100*l.* for that of the Venetian ambassador.

3. Council to meet at 5 this afternoon.

4. The petition of John Pimlowe, minister of Holbeach, co. Lincoln, to be sent to Lord Chief Justice Glynn, to enquire the truth of the matter suggested against John Hobson, and if he find it true, to institute severe proceedings against him, especially if the matters complained of were done since his expulsion from the commission of the peace.

5. A paper from the Committee to consider of money for the present service, called "An account of what ships and goods have been claimed in the Admiralty Court by Spaniards, and have been adjudged to be released from 8 Feb. 1653-4, to 12 Oct. 1655," to be transmitted to Col. Clerke, Capt. Stone, and the other referees authorized to examine prize goods' matters, to learn what has become of the said goods, and if any are undelivered, to stop them, and to make such other use of the paper as they can, for the State's advantage.

6. Order—on information that John Huison, late minister of Torrington St. Clements, in Marshland, co. Norfolk, being on articles of scandal ejected from the living at the prosecution of Thos. 54. Capt. Peter Foote to the [Admiralty Commissioners]. I sailed, as ordered, from Cowes 21 Sept., and 1 Oct. touched at Cascaes Road, but getting no certain intelligence, went thence to the Southward Cape, and on the 3rd discovered the Spanish fleet of 40 sail, some of whom chased me to Lagos Bay, where I heard from the governor, and Capt. Clarke's letter, that General Blake had gone for England, and Capt. Haddock for Lisbon. On advising with my officers, I supposed that I had grounds sufficient to return for England, and on the 7th, I left Lagos, and near the Cape, saw two English ships, which had been forced under the castle of St. Vincent for protection from the Spanish fleet, who endeavour to speak with all passing vessels.

I was also informed that the West Indian ships had not yet arrived home, nor this fleet been out of their station since they came forth, but that it would not be long before they returned to Cadiz. On the 8th I met 3 Dunkirkers, bound for this fleet, one of which chased me 4 hours, and fired at me, but did no harm. Meeting with tempestuous weather, I have put into Dartmouth, and having 34 days' provisions, will remain there for orders. I expect Capt. Clarke will soon return to England, with the 3 victuallers. 55. Capt. John Bourne to the Admiralty Commissioners. The packet boat has arrived from Dunkirk, with several masters and men from ships detained there, who report that the stoppage of English ships still continues, and that they are building and fitting out men-of-war as fast as they can, there and at Ostend, some of which are only waiting for their commissions. I will direct the Gainsborough and Advice to hasten to and from Portsmouth with all speed, and convoy any vessels bound hither, or to France.

I have ordered the Ostenders into Dover pier, for security from foul weather, and shall keep their men on board till further order. There is a small frigate, taken by the Drake, at Dover, which might be useful, to annoy the enemy's fishing, or any other service among the sands; also an Ostender which has been lately stopped, and which formerly sailed thence with an English commission against the French. I want orders as to cleaning and victualling the Drake, and surveying the Cornelian. [ $1\frac{2}{3}$  pages.]

from his Highness or Council about claims made on behalf of Spaniards or Flandrians, subjects of the King of Spain, yet hearing of seizures and embargoes made in Spain and Flanders on English ships and goods, we have in prudence forbore proceedings. But as the Admiralty Court, being a court of justice, cannot act arbitrarily, I beg you, either yourself or through Mr. Jessop, to request the directions of his Highness or Council in such cases. The forms before used when we were at difference with the Portuguese and Dutch were universal reprisals. If ordered, we will prepare a legal form, suitable to their pleasure. [1 page.]

Oct. 19. 57. Petition of Jeremy Blackman, Wm. Pennoyer, and Wm. Rider, merchants of London, to the Protector. Having bought 100 tons of the saltpetre of the East India Company for transportation—the company having supplied the powder makers of London, and much saltpetre being expected from East India this next year—the Custom House Commissioners will not allow us to enter our goods for transport to Amsterdam, which is a place in amity, without your order, which we beg, and will give in caution not to export it elsewhere. [1 page.]

Oct. 19. Order thereon in Council granting the petition. [I. 76, p. 337.]

Oct. 19. 58. Petition of Jas. Burkin, merchant of London, and company, to the Protector and Council. Having contracted with the East India Company for 100 tons of saltpetre, on 18 Sept. last we entered it at the Custom House for Amsterdam, and 20 tons are sent, but the rest is stayed at Gravesend, on pretext of your order of 11 Oct., which is 3 weeks after the entry, and therefore does not, we hope, comprehend our saltpetre; yet the Gravesend Custom's officers will not free it without order.

There remain large quantities of saltpetre in the East India Company's warehouse, and we have been at great charge in shipping and insuring ours, and paid much for it to the company; we therefore beg an order for it to be carried to Amsterdam. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

Norfolk, Suffolk, Essex, Cambridge, and the Isle of Ely, all the powers and authorities committed him, as Major-General within the said counties, and cos. Oxon and Bucks.

[Sec. Nicholas.] to Jos. Jane. I believe Cromwell will not disannul the Act made by him and his faction for regulating trade, which in time, with other injuries done by the rebels to the D[utch] concerning their traffic, may make a breach. It would be a wonderful work of God if the Spaniards and Dutch,—the 2 first States that encouraged those rebels in England,—should be the first to join in a war against that monster of rebellion.

I believe Mr. Skinner not to be disaffected to the King, and I wish you could learn from him the true state of the difference between him and his fellow Commissioners and the Dutch, concerning the settling of the English company at Rotterdam.

We have no letters from England this week. The packet boat is said to have been stopped in England. Those in Flanders have seized all English merchant ships and goods in port towns, especially 3 English ships laden at Dunkirk for London; the goods were put into the King of Spain's magazine there. Some say Don Alonzo de Cardenas is stopped in England for debt. I shall believe he is still on some treaty with Cromwell till I hear he is out of England.

I do not think there are any English at Jamaica, for the 2,000 or 3,000 left by Penn came to the Barbadoes when Penn left Jamaica. All here think differently, though with little ground, and they will not patiently hear any man doubt that the English are masters of that isle. I wish there were reason to believe it. I think that they are all come to the Barbadoes, and that the supplies under Humphrey and Sedgwick are likewise there, waiting orders, as both the Generals have come away.

If this be true, it will be very easy for the Spaniard to clap up a peace with Cromwell; but say nothing to those who write all they hear to their correspondents here. I hear nothing of the 30 ships that were to be sent with supplies, and this adds to my fears that there are no English to be recruited at Jamaica.

The great number of 120 sail preparing in England is raised to uphold Cromwell's reputation abroad, but he is not able to set forth such a fleet, nor is this the season for it.

I wish the King were invited into Flanders, but this will not be till Spain is obliged to call for his assistance, and it would be a strange precipitation for him to go before he is invited, or the King of Spain declares for his interest, and makes his ports free for all who will come to serve the King. I want Somerdike's opinion on the affairs between Spain and Cromwell, and on the great intelligence settled between the Swede and Cromwell; also upon the treaty between the rebels and the Dutch, about settling the English company of merchants at Rotterdam. Will the Dutch confirm the company's privileges, unless the Act for trade be disannulled, which I believe Cromwell will never yield to? Talk with M. Reinswood about these things. What do you say of the King's going to Flanders, if he may be welcome, without being invited by the Spaniard?

Most of the lead and tin mines in England are drowned with last summer's rain, which will be an irrecoverable loss to the kingdom.

VOL. CI.

I hear from Vienna that the King of Sweden is absolute master of Poland (whose King has fled into Silesia), and when he is crowned king of Poland, Dantzic and the Baltic ports will be under his government, which will be much the worse for the Dutch trade.

Blake, being in the Downs, is afraid to go ashore, lest he should have the same usage as Penn and Venables. If the Spaniard declared now for the King, some of Blake's fleet might come to Dunkirk to serve his Majesty. Cromwell may delay Cardenas' departure from England till Blake's fleet be made sure. If there be war between Spain and Cromwell, there must be some jarring between Cromwell and the States about trade into Spain, which the English rebels will certainly hinder, under pretence of visiting their ships.

The Princess Royal will not be out of physic and ready to go hence till the middle of November.

Then going out for hawks' meat, and having a hawk on my fist, I met Geo. Arnet and Major Rob. That evening, in the [King's] presence, Arnet again abused me, and I struck at him, and I think hit him.

Deposition of Geo. Arnet. The Duke of Gloucester being in the garden with much company, Armorer called to him from a chamber window that he had won, and the duke asking who had won, he answered —, at which Lord Napier, Major Hamilton, and the rest of the company were much offended. Meeting Armorer in the street, I told him I wondered he could look any gentleman in the face after speaking so unworthily to the Duke, and struck him. That night, in the [King's] presence, Armorer struck me, without my having spoken to him, Sir Wm. Fleming and Major Hamilton being present.

In the presence afterwards, Armorer struck at Arnet several times and missed, but at last hit him. Being denied their pay, they have nothing to support them. I was constrained to put them under the custody of a soldier of the garrison, Thos. 67. Report by the Treasury Commissioners on a reference of 4 April 1655, about 5,360*l.* 18*s.* 4*d.* due to the Earl of Salisbury for Theobalds' Park.

That John Corbett reports from the Committee of Obstructions on the Earl's claim to the parks and manors of Theobalds, Cheshunt, and Enfield, that Parliament, 25 Dec. 1651, agreed to pay him the said sum in lieu of his claims, to be paid from estates of delinquents to be sold on an additional Act.

That 18 Nov. 1652, Parliament charged the sum on the money coming in at Goldsmiths' Hall, from  $\frac{2}{3}$  of Papists' estates.

That the Goldsmiths' Hall Treasurers certify that no part of the sum is paid.

Also that Chas. Crosby, under-keeper of Enfield, begs relief, and is to be paid out of the said sum, which is yet unsatisfied. [ $1\frac{1}{4}$  pages.] Annexing,

5. The Treasury Commissioners to warrant the payment of 1,000*l.* to the Treasurer for sick and maimed soldiers, the order of 5 Oct. notwithstanding.

6. The 31 ships, named in a list given, with 3,010 men, to be provided and made fit for service, beside the 40 already ordered.

7. 69. The Admiralty Commissioners to provide forthwith 6 months' victuals for 16,000 men to serve in the navy.

70. Rich. Bincks to the Navy Commissioners. On the action brought by John Flower against Jas. Wickliffe and Edw. King, his servants, it appears on trial that the young men were under age when they sealed their indenture, and therefore it was void in the opinion of counsel, and the Court ordered a special verdict. 71. Capt. Peter Foote, to the Admiralty Commissioners. I will sail the first opportunity. I hear from the gunner of Cascaes Castle, who is an Englishman, as also by a ship of London, that the Bristol, with two victuallers, as also the Hannibal, put into Lisbon on the 1st inst., and would be in Wieres Bay the 8th. I believe they will be heard of in a few days; the Spanish fleet were 45 leagues from that place, and no part of their fleet is near there. [2/3 page.]

72. Capt. Hen. Hatsell to Col. John Clarke. Capt. Heaton is coming eastward in the Hampshire, having been kept with others in the Sound, by extremity of weather. The boat cast away belonged to one of the French ships. The captains produced passes from Council, of which copies are enclosed, and judge themselves free thereby.

VOL. CI.

I have nothing to allege against them, but I refused to certify their being here and showing me their passes, as they desired, they being shy of putting to sea, from fear of meeting with other of our frigates.

Hearing that Swart has sailed from Brest in his new frigate of 190 men, with 3 others, I have ordered the Westward frigates to keep in company, hoping that they may meet, and good be done.

An order came to the Sub-Commissioners for Prize Goods, by the Prize Commissioners, to sell the frigate taken by the Saphire, but I have desired them to forbear. I suppose you have not yet passed over your right in Cockside, so that it now lies in your power to help Major Aske and Capt. Allen, the time for redemption having elapsed, and Mr. Yeo and Mr. Burrard having promised that what they received over and above the money should go amongst the creditors.

I had 26 French and 5 Irishmen in one of the great towers of the castle, who, on Sunday night, during the height of a storm, digged through the wall, and got out, unheard or discerned by the sentinel. They scattered themselves, and were met the next day going east and north, and although followed, they got into woods or under hedges, or travelled very fiercely, so as it is not reported they were taken, but two of them were found dead, or nearly so, under a hedge at Plymton. Where they lay in the castle, the rain came in, and they were wet night and day; I spoke to have the covering mended, but no one has orders for it. There are 50 Irish and a few English left, and I do not know what to do with them. The Western shipmasters are afraid to take them; they should be shipped in the Marston Moor and Indian, bound for the West Indies, where they may be made hewers of wood and drawers of water. [2 pages.]

Oct. 24. 73. Petition of Thos. Underhill and Nathaniel Webb, stationers of London, to Council. We acknowledge it a great mercy that those who hold the foundation of religion in piety and unity, differing in lesser matters, are protected in the exercise of their religion by you, and prevented from injuring each other; but we are far from thinking you intend the same protection for blasphemers and heretics. This is shewn by your sending John Biddle to the Isle of Scilly; we beg that such course may be taken that your act about it may not eventually, though contrary to your intentions, prove the greater promoter of the book, as it has often fallen out in the like cases.

We beg to inform you that the Præadamitæ, a Latin book printed beyond sea, and condemned to the fire at Paris and Rome, putting a blasphemous slur on the Bible testimony concerning the creation of man, is lately translated into English, and now printing in London by Francis Leech, of Shoe Lane, and entered at Stationers' Hall. We request its suppression. [1 sheet.]

COUNCIL. Day's Proceedings.

1. Order that Strickland and Jones send for some of the Commissioners for sale of the late King's goods, and ascertain the state of the business, and by what rules they will proceed in the distribution of the moneys received out of the Scotch fines; and if they see cause, prohibit the payment of more money till further order, and report.

2. Order,—on a certificate from Auditors Broad and Coe that the Spanish Leiger owes 2,100*l.* for rent of the house where he has lived 7 years, near Moorgate,—that the Treasury Commissioners direct that, if the money is due, it be paid.

4. To advise his Highness to direct the Commissioners for the French treaty to sign the articles thereof, the French Ambassador having certified his readiness to perfect the same.

5. Jones reports from the Committee on some naval affairs, referred to them Oct. 10.

6. 74. All money falling due to the Treasury (except the monthly assessment) to be applied to the use of the navy, and for provisions for the forces in the West Indies, both at sea and land, deducting weekly 3,000*l.* for Government charges. The Treasury Commissioners to see this done, and the 3,000*l.* delivered weekly, according to directions from his Highness. This order to be in force for a year, from 1 Dec. next.

7. Order on Jones' report from the Committee of Council that several persons are willing to lend sums, 14,000*l.* in all, for present service, that the several sums shall be repaid on demand from the Navy Treasury.

8. Sydenham and Montague added to the Admiralty Committee.

9. His Highness requested to speak with Lord Mayor Pack on this day's debate about the Admiralty.

10. The matter in debate concerning pitch, hemp, tar, and the abatement of the prices of sack and Spanish fruits, and the embargoing of Spanish goods and ships, referred to Desborow, Lambert, Mulgrave, Lisle, and Strickland, to report.

11. Mr. Downing to attend Council to-morrow morning, to give account of his negotiation, and to have notice thereof.

12. The declaration concerning proceedings against delinquents to be brought in to-morrow. [I. 76, pp. 343-4.]

I annex a breviat of proceedings against me, and I enclose certificates of the ministers by whom I, in Barbadoes, and my wife here, were married. I pray an end may be put to the business, or my subsistence will fail. [1 page.] Enclosing,

75. I. Statement by Foster. On 13 Oct. 1639, I was married in Mary Maudlin Church, Old Fish Street, by Mr. Jennings, then minister. On 12 Nov. following, I sailed from London for Hartlepool, and on the 21st, in a violent storm, I was shipwrecked. Being at Amsterdam, I went as assistant to a merchant, and was in the American Islands until 1645, when I left, to follow my own business. I often enquired of my wife, and some said that she was married again, others that she died of the plague, of which she lay long sick in the Pest House.

On 11 Dec. 1647, I married a second time, and on 1 May 1650, was numbered amongst the banished [from Barbadoes], as by their Act of the 23rd of the same month appears, and with Col. Jas. Drax and others, came from thence, and landed at Dover in August following.

Being come to London, I heard that this woman was living and re-engaged, whereupon I was dismayed, and resolving to live from both, I engaged in the service for Ireland.

On 24th of Sept. 1652, the last woman was cast away in the Sea Flower of London. On this news, influenced by friends, affection, and conscience, in August 1654, the frigate then running into the river, I returned to my first wife. I beg consideration. [1½ pages.]

Oct. 25. Order and Declaration of the Protector in Council, for all who have been of the late King or his son's party to depart from London and Westminster and the lines of communication, before 5 Nov. 1655.

His Highness having set down several orders for securing the peace, and committed the care of them to Major-Generals of the counties, to whom all persons who have borne arms against the Commonwealth are to give security for their conduct, to prevent future troubles, and noticing the great confluence of the disaffected to London and Westminster on expiration of the late Proclamation, renews the orders of the late Proclamation. [See 6 July, p. 232, supra.]

For better discovery of plots and disturbances, all appointed to depart, and not detained by imprisonment, illness, or lawsuits requiring their presence, are to repair to their common abode, place of birth, or their parents' abode, and not return before 9 Feb., or before giving security to the Major-General of the county. Oct. 25.

76. Petition of Wm. Penn to the Protector. Being honoured with the command of the fleet in the late American expedition, I returned home without leave, for which I have incurred your displeasure, and this is more displeasing to me than any worldly cross. My heart bears me witness that my return was not through refractoriness against superiors, but for advancement of the service, in giving an account of what would not otherwise be represented.

As I was at first willing to part with all that was dear to me to help forward this Christian design, I would rather never have gone if I thought my return would have made it less hopeful.

I beg release from restraint, on account of my family and my increasing distemper. It is the infirmity of man to err, but the virtue of a prince to pardon error. [1 page.]

80. Capt. Robt. Clarke to the Admiralty Commissioners. My sudden return with the 3 victuallers sent to Gen. Blake's fleet, contrary to expectation, is owing to Gen. Blake having left the coast for England before we came to Cascaes on 27 Sept., and is according to an order left by him at Lagos. I have brought over Mr. Wilson, the agent at Cadiz, and two Portuguese churchmen going to France ; I shall acquaint the Governor of Portsmouth respecting them. Mr. Dobbin's ship of London also came in our company. We have 11 weeks' victuals, but the ship is very foul. I want orders for the powder, money, and packets I received for Gen. Blake. [ $\frac{3}{4}$  page.]

Oct. 25.

81. Capt. Robt. Clarke to the Admiralty Commissioners. I left England on 19 Sept., and arrived in Cascaes Road with the two victuallers on the 27th, but found no order left with the Portuguese. They told me that Gen. Blake was gone northward, so I sent a messenger to Lisbon to enquire of the English merchants, and received answer that he was gone home ; that the Spanish fleet lay off St. Vincent, and that the King of Spain had proclaimed war with England on 15 Sept., had put our merchants in prison, and had also seized some of our ships. On this I went to Lisbon myself to enquire further, and understanding that the King's secretary had a letter from Gen. Blake, which was sent to the Governor of Lagos, as also an order to be delivered to the commanders of any English ships that should arrive, I procured copies of both from Barnaby Craford, which I enclose.

I advised with the merchants and masters of the victuallers, and finding danger in going to Lagos, the Spanish fleet lying there, sent to Capt. Dowgon [Dunquam] through Mr. Wilson, the agent at Cadiz, for the original order. I sent the 2 victuallers into Wiers Bay, and plied off to sea, to warn merchant ships bound to Spain, it being the time for the Newfoundland men to come in. I met with some, as also with Capt. Haddock, and hearing that the Martin galley had left England to look for Gen. Blake, I went to look for her, but without effect. On the 5th I returned to Cascaes Road, and on the 8th my messenger returned, and confirmed the news, as we heard of some merchant ships being chased into Faro. Mr. Phillips' ship of London came to Lisbon, but he was a prisoner with his boat's crew and merchants at Trafalgar. Others also came in that had met Algiers and Dutch men-of-war, who acquainted them with the war, and were very civil. I met Jno. Pierce of Bristol, bound for Faro, but seeing the Spanish fleet under Cape St. Vincent, he went back to Lisbon ; he said he saw 30 sail on the 7th.

VOL. CI.

On the 11th we set sail homewards, at which time the Constant Warwick also arrived; he had met 25 sail of French, which we afterwards seeing, chased until dark, when they went into Cascaes Road. We met a ship of London, bound for Faro, which had been taken by some Ostenders, and carried into Vigo, where there were 7 more, which had been taken, including Capt. Sidrack Blake, but order was sent from the King of Spain to clear them all, as he would not own the business, it being done by some governor's order. [ $1\frac{1}{4}$  pages.]

Oct. 26. 82. Complaints by John Pimlowe, clerk of Holbeach, co. Lincoln, to Council, against John Hobson:—

- (2.) Setting up alehouses by his own authority, without any other justice of peace, and licensing persons of ill-fame.
- (3.) Enriching himself by taking fines that should go to the poor of the parish.
- (4.) Binding persons to good behaviour, and not returning the recognizances at the sessions, and taking great sums to himself.
- (5.) Taking unwarrantable sums on marriages. [ $\frac{2}{3}$  page.]

Oct. ? 84. John Hobson to [the said Committee.] Of the 5 charges made against me, I disavow the first 3. In binding persons on recognizances, I have only done what other justices do. As to marriage fees, I take 7 groats, 1s. to the registrar, 1s. to the clerk for his certificate, and 4*d.* to the clerk of the peace, for the entry in the public registry. Oct. 31. Declaration of his Highness in Council, showing the reasons of their proceedings for securing the peace of the Commonwealth, on occasion of the late insurrection.

Oct. 31.

After God had so clearly decided the contests with the late King and his party that they were wholly vanquished, and their persons and estates subjected to those whom they designed to enslave, it was hoped they would have been convinced of their errors, and lived in peace, especially if they and their estates were made free from punishment. They were therefore admitted to compound, on terms so easy that many were in better condition than the Parliamentary party, who had to make large payments to maintain the war.

The intention of those who gave them their estates and protection is very different from that of past ages, when loss of life and confiscation were the consequence of defeat in civil commotions. But their reformation, not their ruin, was designed.

Thus after the battle of Worcester, on 3 Sept. 1651, though the party was utterly dispersed in England, and had lost their strength both in Scotland and Ireland, endeavours were made to unite the people and compose their spirits. There was a performance—punctual without a parallel in history—of the articles of war, a court being expressly appointed therefor, and an Act of Grace and Oblivion was passed, whose only object was to follow peace and reformation, and thus relieve the taxes. So great respect was had to this sort of men in the settlement of the present Government that, after 3 Parliaments, they were to be admitted to sit in the supreme councils of this nation.

Many opposed these indulgences, as likely to cause new troubles, but Parliament thought no men could be so resolved in their way that neither the dispensations of God nor the goodness of men could work upon them; but if otherwise, they would be left without excuse, however severe might be the proceedings taken against them. Unless the carriage had been thus tender towards them we could not have used the course we are now obliged to take against them; but they have proved themselves implacable, and never to be drawn from that cursed interest which has occasioned the shedding of so much innocent blood, and almost the ruin of these lands. Therefore we are obliged in duty to proceed in another way, and not, by Articles of War and Acts of Oblivion, to assist our enemies to execute their malice and revenge.

The Act of Oblivion was intended to be answered with obedience; but this failing, it is no longer obligatory. No magistrate should show favour to those who only refrain from outward acts, but remain enemies at heart.

The late King's party have notoriously shown that they adhere to their old principles, and have been all along hatching disturbance by secret assassination or open force. Therefore it will not be thought strange that we have seized many who were not in open arms in the late insurrection, nor that we have laid a burden on the estates of the rest, to defray the charge that they have occasioned.

Though the walks of conspirators are sly and secret, we will set down part of them. Having tried in vain by underhand contrivances to wind themselves into power, they determined to raise a new war. They sent agents to Charles Stuart, with letters of credit and money, to tell him that the nobility, gentry, and bulk of the people were episcopal and of his party, but did not rise with him on his late march from Scotland, because he was believed to have gone upon grounds inconsistent with the constitutions of Church and State; but if he would return to them, they would venture lives and fortunes for his recovery.

This being well accepted, a select Council was chosen, called the sealed knot, who were to reside in and about London, and correspond with others in the nation :—

- (1.) To engage all that were in the former wars, or friendly thereto, or discontented, and they were to bring all their tenants, and lay designs for seizing garrisons and strong places.
- (2.) To raise a bank of 100,000*l.* in England, beside Wales, for buying arms and other expenses, for which privy seals were to be sent to several persons in England.
- (3.) Charles Stuart was to be maintained, and this has been so well prosecuted, that he has had many thousands a year these past years.

To make their design easier and surer, at a time when all was at peace, and the nation weary of war, they tried, by the assassination of particular persons, to raise confusions and contests, which should give the King's party opportunity to rise. Fitzjames went to the King's eldest son, then at Paris, on this account, and had money given him therefor, but he and John Gerard afterwards joined in that design, the particulars of which are already published.

It has since come to our knowledge that this was not the heady and rash resolution of Gerard himself, but a part of the design laid by the pretended King, and those who conduct his affairs; that he himself spoke both to Fitzjames and Gerard about it, and declared that he looked upon it as the only means to set all his other designs in motion. He refused to speak with Major Henshaw who went to Paris on this design, and conferred with Prince Rupert; but the prince told Charles Stuart, who approved, and would have spoken with Henshaw but from a rumour that Henshaw was sent hence to abuse them. He gave Gerard and Fitzjames precise directions to make no attempt till all his friends were ready in England. Boswell, Pierce, and others, were employed for those assassinations, the particulars of which are too large to set down.

They employed agents to foment discontents, and provoke them to a rupture, on pretence that their liberties were infringed by keeping an army, enforcing taxes, and not calling a free Parliament, and pamphlets thereon were constantly appearing. John Wildman and others managed that business (as they imagined), without the least suspicion of corresponding with the old enemy, and though loose and atheistical in their own principles, they induced better-minded people to join them on pretence of striving for a more pure administration. Wildman was apprehended just as he was dictating to his servant the conclusion of a declaration for a rising, at a time answering to the rising of the Royal party a few days after.

Oct. 31.

They intended part of the army in Scotland to mutiny, surprise their generals, throw off their officers, and march to London under Major-Gen. Overton, leaving the rest (already much discouraged by hard service and want of pay) to be devoured by the Scots, there being no possibility of sending timely aid to the garrisons. The Levellers were to bring this to pass, and others who, we hope, did not intend to serve Charles Stuart. Their emissaries pretended that the army thus divided would do much for the business. We will not name lesser things, nor lay to their charge the swarming of those Jesuits who are now croaking amongst us, to seduce men from the truth, though Jesuits quarrel with every form of government.

Their agents were instructed to enquire,—

- (1.) The strength of the army in England, Scotland, and Ireland, who have the chief interest in them, and how their officers are affected.
- (2.) What are the principal garrisons, especially ports, and whether best to be gained by force or treaty.
- (3.) What is the present and intended future strength at sea.
- (4.) What are the revenue and expense, and how is the overplus, if any, of expense supplied.
- (5.) What is the condition of trade, and if much decayed, what consequences it may draw.
- (6.) Whether the Protector is absolute, or has to comply with others; who are his chiefest friends or enemies; who have the greatest power in England; how the people and army are affected to him and the new government.
- (7.) What parties are on foot, their strength, principles, and chief leaders, and whether inclined to the present government or conjunction with the King.
- (8.) What are the designs of the Protector and government as to war or peace with foreign nations.
- (9.) What is done in England and Scotland towards reducing the King's party in the Highlands.

These instructions show what that party was doing. Meanwhile, agents were employed in the West, North, East, Surrey and Kent, &c., and Wales, to plan a time for a general rising. A chief part was to engage the apprentices and common people of London to fire the city, or otherwise prevent its appearing in arms.

Privy Seals were issued for money, treasurers appointed, some money raised, great part of which was discovered and seized, as also arms and provisions bought and sent to the respective counties. Also they solicited foreign princes for men and money to invade this country, and procured some and promise of more, if some strong sea town could be put into their hands, as a place of landing and retreat.

The pretended King was very desirous to come over, as appears by the following letter, written to his party, 16 July 1654:—

“I am wellpleased to hear of your care in my affairs, and the course you resolve to take. I have been so tender of my friends that I would not call on them to appear till I could give them good encouragement from abroad, but that comes so slowly that I will no longer restrain those affections which I most desire to be beholden to. I believe that if those who wish the same thing knew each other's minds, the work could be done without difficulty, and if there were any handsome appearance in any one place, the rest would not sit still, and then I should find supplies from those who now fear to offer them. I would myself be with those who first wished for me, and will therefore keep myself near. Consult with those you dare trust, agree upon a time, and you shall be disappointed of nothing in the power of

Your affectionate friend,
CHARLES R."

After this letter things went on apace, and the party was so unanimous and resolved that, (as they have acknowledged on their examinations) they thought it impossible for us to prevent their designs. They were so confident that they would not take in the discontented of the Parliament party, whom they might be troubled to get rid of afterwards.

They at first resolved to rise at the horse races, where they and their servants would come well horsed and armed, but were prevented by the prohibition of horse races.

Then they fixed on the rising of the last Parliament, hoping it would be with dissatisfaction, observing that Parliament had insisted on the disbanding of a great part of the army, to which we were not likely to consent, from our knowledge of their designs; but this conspiracy being discovered, many arms and several of the leaders seized, and 3,000 foot and 600 horse brought over from Ireland, they were disheartened. But Charles Stuart having come from Cologne to Zealand to attend the rising, and to come over in person if it answered, and Lord Wilmot, Maj.-Gen. Wagstaff, O'Neale, and others of that party, being actually come over to lead the design, they made their attempt, 12 March 1654-5.

Observing that the body of the army lay about London, they designed to rise first in the West and Wales, then in the North and other remote parts, hoping to draw away the army, and then Kent, Surrey, and London were to rise, and make themselves masters of the city. They reckoned on 8,000 in the North, not fewer in the West, and more than both in these parts, when the army should have left. They intended to seize Portsmouth, Plymouth, York, Hull, Newcastle, Tynemouth, Chester, Shrewsbury, Yarmouth, Lyme, Boston, and the Isle of Ely. The forces in the West were to be commanded by the Duke of York, those in the North by Lord Wilmot, whom they call Earl of Rochester.

The insurrection in the West was bold and dangerous, and in case of success, might have increased to great numbers by the landing of foreign forces, and the seizing of some place of strength, had they not been prevented by the motion of some troops, and diligence of the officers, in apprehending some of the party a few days before, so that it was suppressed by a handful of men.

That of Yorkshire, which the enemy most relied on, failed through our forces marching up and down, and some of them removing their quarters near the place of rendezvous at Hessamoor, whence under Lord Wilmot they were to surprise York, so that they dispersed and ran away in confusion. Also the coming of 300 foot from Berwick disappointed those who had rendezvoused at Morpeth to surprise Newcastle.

Oct. 31.

In North Wales and Shropshire, where they intended to surprise Shrewsbury, some of the chief being apprehended, the rest fled.

At Rufford Abbey, Notts, another rendezvous, 500 met and had a cart<sup>n</sup> load of arms to arm such as came, but on a sudden panic, they fled and left their arms. The smaller parties who were to seize Chester and rise in Staffordshire and elsewhere were thus discouraged.

Thus this great design, the work of 4 years' contrivance, was defeated, and the cruel and bloody enemy disappointed.

All would have thought that they would have been weary of attempts, and forsaken that cause, but now they are at work on designs here and in Scotland, and have sent agents to procure men and money from foreign states.

It is therefore evident that, unless we would give up all for which so much blood has been spilled, and the hope of reforming this nation from the spirit of profaneness, we must secure the peace by additional forces, the charge of which ought not to be put on those who have borne the heat and burden of the day, but on those who are the occasion of all our dangers.

We have therefore erected a standing Militia of horse in all counties, under such pay as may encourage them, and yet not be burdensome, and laid the charge on such of those who were engaged in the late wars as are able to bear it.

It may seem great severity to tax the whole party, when few have been convicted or detected, in which case their whole estates had been confiscated, but we appeal to all indifferent men whether the party was not generally involved in this business.

No one can suppose that the pretended King would have proposed to land, and Wilmot and Wagstaff would have come over, and men would actually have risen, unless they relied on more persons than those who were visible. The great sums raised could not come out of a few hands. The party kept together, spoke against the well-affected, and some boasted of a sudden change.

Also the rising was made when only a well-formed power could hope to put us into disorder, Scotland and Ireland being perfectly reduced, differences with neighbour nations composed, and our forces in order by sea and land. Yet neither the apprehension of some of the party, nor the bringing in forces from Scotland and Ireland, nor "the wakeful eye of an army of whose virtue there hath been some proof in times past," could prevent a rising in several parts at the same time. These things show great deliberation and general consent of the party, therefore all must see that the design was general.

If the supreme magistrate were in such cases tied to ordinary rules, and could not proceed against the suspected, there would be no safety from conspiracy. But supposing some are innocent, yet as they avow, and love and glory in the cause, it is but just that they should share in the charge of securing the State against the dangers of which they are the authors. This is agreeable to many precedents, which were intended to terrify men from such attempts in future. It is contrary to our former principles of trying to oblige them by kindness, but we are constrained thereto; and in not doing it, we should be wanting in our duty to God and these nations.

VOL. CI.

They have laboured to keep separate from the well affected; have had their children educated by the ejected clergy; have married within their own party; have tried to lessen the esteem of the English nation abroad; and having separated themselves from the body of the nation, ought to be at the charge of the dangers they have bred.

But if any wish to leave this confederacy, and can truly say that he has changed his interests, and can show, by good works before the late insurrection, a disclaimer of his former course, and means in future to live quietly, he shall be dealt with according to his integrity; or if any forsake their former interest, and give real demonstrations thereof, we shall more esteem their reformation than desire their harm.

We publish these things chiefly that the well affected may be encouraged, and not suffer themselves to be divided by artifices and factions from that settlement and reformation which every good man longs for. [I. 76 A, pp. 169-181. Printed in Parliamentary History of England, Vol. XX., pp. 435-460.]

Oct. 31. Note that Mr. Secretary reports to Council from the Committee the declaration touching proceedings against delinquents as amended, which was read in parts, several more amendments made, a last clause omitted, passed, presented to his Highness by the Earl of Mulgrave, vice-president, approved by him, and ordered to be printed and published. [I. 76, p. 357.]

"	Navy Comrs. -	"	Would have made abatements in the accounts of disbursements for the Nonsuch, &c., at Kinsale, but Mr. Cliff refused to take bills with any abatements, and produced Capt. Penrose and the Governor of Kinsale to justify his charges. The tallow and plank are 25 per cent. dearer than in London, and the cordage and Flemish cable double the prices; ask directions.	139
"	Robt. Sewell, Chatham .	Comr. Peter Pett, at Mr. Eastlands, New Fish Street Hill .	Mr. Woolward has delivered 40 bolts of Ipswich canvas, and promised 60 more, and Mr. Basse will supply Noyals and Vittry. Has agreed with Mr. Turner for tallow at 37s. per cwt. Mr. Ewell suggests that the roof of the room building over his wash-house should be covered with lead.	140
"	Capt. N. Heaton, Sapphire , Portsmouth .	Robt. Blackborne.	The clerks have arrived, but have not commenced paying on account of the wind. Will sail to Spithead, and if he lies there after being paid, will be at a loss about men. Wants the Commissioners to appoint him a station.	141
"	Major Wm. Burton, Yarmouth .	Adm. Com.	The two frigates built last year by Edm. Edgar were substantially built, and he should have satisfaction, and not be a loser, as he alleges he shall be, if not allowed 540 l. more than he has received. As he has a family, is poor, and in debt for the plank and timber, recommends him for further allowance.	142
Jan. ?	3 Shipmasters bound for Rotterdam .	"	Petition for the Sparrow pink, or a man-of-war from the Downs under Vice-Adm. Lawson to convoy them beyond the Gore, the sea being dangerous by reason of French pickeroons, and they richly laden.	143

"	Capt. Anth. Archer, Portsmouth Harbour .	Adm. Com.	The Augustine has unladen her masts, and as his company will be turned over to her, wants new warrants for himself and officers. Asks what to do with the soldiers in the Pelican, who rendered great assistance in bringing her in, and what number of men and guns he is to carry; 75 men were formerly allowed. Begs stoppage of part of the wages of the men, to keep them on board; is ordered for Barbadoes. Noted that the soldiers are to go if they will, and that he is to carry 20 guns, and 50 men.	3

1654-5. Feb. 2	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Plymouth Sound.	Adm. Com.	Off the Land's End, met the Great Charity and Assurance, who spoke the Little Charity, in company with some Virginia ships of Gen. Penn's fleet. Appointed the Assurance and Winsby to lie off the Soundings, and the Nightingale and Assurance off the Land's End, until they meet the Brier. Gave the commanders their orders, and then put into Falmouth for provisions; but finding none, went to Plymouth, where he found the Brier and Fagon bound to the Western station. Has not met with any Brest pirates, unless one he and the Assurance chased a few days since was of Brest; she escaped, his frigate being so foul, while theirs are always kept very clean.	Vol. 104. 4
"	Capt. Robt. Clarke, the Bristol, Downs.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Received the cables for the Fagon and one for himself. Sent to Mr. White, victualler at Dover, for victuals for the Fairfax and Bristol, but a hoy having arrived from Woolwich for the Downs, with some taken out of the Crow, has sent her to Mr. White, to apportion the contents, and encloses her bills of lading.	5-7
"	Robt. Midford	"	Furnished the Edward with anchors and hawsers, and she has sailed for Gravesend. Asks whether the 9 ships at Woolwich are to be got ready for sea.	8
"	Capt. Philip Gethings, Downs.	Robt. Blackborne.	Having seized a Flushing vessel with Bordeaux wines, consigned to Arnold Beck, merchant of London, asks whether they have license for the transportation; if prohibited, desires he will proceed for him as in similar cases; asks whether to deliver her up to the waiters. With examination of Abraham Braems, master of the Abraham's Offering of Flushing, that he took in a lading of Bordeaux wine at Bordeaux, which was freighted there for London by the son of Arnold Beck.	9, 10
"	Charles Taylor, sur- veyor, Bristol.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Survey of the frigate building there; it will be 3 months before she is launched. As the plank is green, desires a survey of that.	11
"	Wm. Beale, Victual- ling Office.	Robt. Blackborne.	The Greyhound was victualled at Liverpool for 90 men for 56 days, being windbound so that she could not proceed to Dublin.	12
"	Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Hopes to dispatch the Augustine by the time limited, but the Pelican is weakly manned. The paymaster stopped a portion of the men's wages to retain them, but the steward of the Pelican absolutely refused to stay. Asks what guns and provisions the Augustine is to carry, also an order to the captain and master to look after their men, who will not be commanded by him.	13
"	Josiah Child, Ports- mouth.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Has paid the officers and company of the Augustine, but suspended the wages of the captain and officers who have accounts to pass.	14
"	Jno. Tippetts, Ports- mouth.	"	Account of the reductions made in the number of workmen according to their order; asks which of the ships in harbour are to be fitted first, as the men now employed will be 3 months working with those now in hand. The Sapphire will be paid off next Tuesday.	15
"	Thos. Webber, Re- covery, Downs.	"	Has been piloted down by Augustin Fonnnett, sent from Chatham, and will proceed when wind permits.	16

1654-5. Feb. 3	Navy Comrs.	Adm. Com.	Conferred with the victuallers concerning the victuals charged by the general steward to have been left behind, to make up the proportion assigned for Gen. Penn's fleet. With their reply that they have shipped more biscuit than was left, and as much meat, but some of it was old; the flour is in casks in the Isle of Wight, and can be sent by the Augustine; they know nothing of money due for oatmeal, rice, and peas, but that there is much more due for flour and raisins delivered in lieu thereof.	Vol. 104. 17, 18
"	Thos. White, Dover	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Asks how to dispose of a hoy laden with provisions taken out of the Crow at Woolwich, sent to Capt. Clarke, Commander-in-chief in the Downs, and sent by him into Dover Pier. Has shipped 1,300 deals, and what ironwork he had in store to Portsmouth.	19
"	Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	"	The Augustine is being fitted, but the captain should be present to forward his men, as there are but 12 of his men helping, and the boatswain and others of the ordinary do the business. When she was paid off, 8 men had from 3 l. to 5 l. wages stopped to oblige them to join her, but they have not appeared; if the labourers be reduced to 30 before she is completed, the business will be at a stand, as the Pelican's men will not work. The removal of the Pelican's beer into her will cause loss, unless the casks are fresh hooped.	20
"	Navy Comrs. -	Adm. Com.	The Ordnance Officers say that it is not worth while to make match for the next year's service out of the ground tow made in the yards; there will be sufficient match if the fleet is not increased, and it can be bought at a cheaper rate than it can be made from the tow.	21
"	Phineas Pett, Chat- ham.	Thos. Turner.	Mr. Downing has surrendered the two ships at the old Dock, and Mr. Loader has got them. The Gainsborough will sail to day.	22
"	Wm. Webb, Reserve, Downs.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Sends two muster books, and asks a press warrant, as they want 40 men and cannot obtain them. The captain being at Deal and pressing a young man, was assailed by a tumultuous company of the inhabitants, and forced with his men to take to the boat, and repair on board, where he was confined several days, both his eyes being injured with stones; all his company were hurt.	23
"	Capt. Mich. Tarle- ton, Liverpool.	Robt. Blackborne.	Capt. Robinson, having victualled for two months, has sailed. Capt. Tarleton of the Islip has landed some soldiers from Dublin.	24
"	Capt. Edw. Tarle- ton, Liverpool.	Adm. Com.	Landed the soldiers in Chester Water, and would return to Dublin according to order, and then back to Liverpool, and render an account, but wants a cable; asks if he shall stay 15 days while one is being made. Knew nothing of the boatswain and carpenter's account sent.	25
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Plymouth Sound.	"	The Assistance has arrived with a French prize; will hasten her out again. Has not got his victuals on board, and after another month, his ship will want tallowing. Has seized two vessels lying at anchor, laden with foreign commodities from the West Indies, as they are prohibited by Acts of Parliament. Has given the commanders on his station their orders, and will hasten out himself.	26

1654-5. Feb. 7	Comr. Peter Pett, Chatham.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	The master shipwright and assistant want the stores. Has reduced the extra men to 400, besides the 95 ropemakers. Phineas Pett desires a warrant for the small frigate granted to Mr. Raven. The Gainsborough has sailed, having 60 men and all her provisions, but a report that she was appointed for Barbadoes scared away many who had entered their names.	Vol. 104. 27
"	Navy Comrs. -	Adm. Com.	The steward of the Augustine, appointed in place of the Pelican prize to follow Gen. Penn's fleet, refuses to serve. Desire that he may be ordered to go, or another appointed.	28
"	"	"	The order to direct the subordinate officers in the yards to get all the State's ships ready for any emergency has been attended to, and preparations made, and it has not been countermanded; yet as other acts seem to look another way, desire a positive determination. The stores are short of hemp and cordage, which may become very dear in regard of the wars with the Muscovite and Pole; had verbal directions to buy up a quantity, but the late reductions, and the scarcity of money with the treasurer, precludes the hope of doing anything. The clerk of the Reserve in the Downs asks 40 men, and states that the captain and 8 or 10 of his men, while endeavouring to press a man at Deal, were so beaten that they were constrained to take to the boat, and the captain's sight is much endangered.	29
"	Capt. N. Heaton, Sophire, Spithead.	Robt. Blackborne.	Was ordered to ply to the westward, but cannot on account of the storm. His ship has been paid to within 600 l.	30
"	Capt. Thos. Spar- ling, Assistance.	Gen. Jho. Desborow.	Met a Frenchman bound for St. Malo with tobacco, valued at 80,000 livres, which he has sent into Plymouth. The captain reports that 40 English men-of-war have arrived in the West Indies.	31, 32
"	Chas. Thorrowgood, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	The captain, master, and men of the Pelican now attend daily. Progress of the Augustine; desires an order to remove the beer; the victuallers' officers will not act without one, as the hoops of the casks are decayed.	33
"	John Jarvis and John Peper.	Wm. Molins and Abel Richardson.	Agreement by the former to deliver 300 barrels of gunpowder to the Tower, the latter sending them 10 tons of English saltpetre.	34
"	Capt. Giles Shelley, the Colchester, Leith Road.	"	Has carried the money and provisions for Col. Alured's regiment to Orkney, by order of the General, and is going for Burnt Island to wash and tallow, and then come back to the road to victual.	35
"	Major N. Bourne, Navy Office.	"	Recommends Robt. Willis for the work of weighing the guns lost in the Liberty; while in New England, found him very instrumental in weighing goods sunk in 5 or 6 fathoms of water, and where there was a considerable tide. He is not a man of art, but of experience; he should be allowed his charges, and a boat to attend him.	36

1654-5. Feb. 9	Capt. Wm. Serjeant, Istip, Chester Water.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Has landed Lieut.-Col. Flower, and 3 companies of soldiers, who are going to London. Is ordered by Lord Fleetwood to take in a month's provisions, and return to Ireland, but wants his ship girdled. Had 4 months' provisions 22 Oct. for 100 men, but having supplied Capt. Sherwin with 14 days' for 100 men, they are nearly expended.	Vol. 104. 37
"	Capt. Phil. Holland, Assurance, Ply- mouth.	Adm. Com.	Has been playing between Ushant, Scilly, and the Land's End, in company of the Nightingale, by order of Capt. John Bourne; had very rough weather, and having sprung his masts, has been forced to come in. Has 3 months' provisions, but wants his complement of men.	38
"	"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	To the same effect - - - - -	39
"	Capt. Wm. White- horn, the Gains- borough, off Upmor Castle.	Robt. Blackborne	Wants a warrant for the bearer as minister to his ship. Is waiting for a wind and for his steward and clerk of the check.	40
"	Navy Comrs.	Adm. Com.	On the petition of Jno. Hughes for satisfaction for the loss of his vessel, hired to transport water to the fleet, and cast away and all her company drowned save a boy, thinks that where such casualties happen in a voluntary contract, no compensation can be expected, the freight con-tracted for being a valuable consideration; but where, as in this case, the owner is constrained to part with his vessel, worth 200 l. , which he designed for other employment, the State ought to bear one half of his loss. With an account of the damage sustained, amounting to 200 l. 13 s. 3 d.	41, 42
"	John Hughes	[Adm. Com.]	Desires to be dealt with as other men; has served in many desperate engagements with the Dutch, and his vessel is the sole support of his family. With note by the Navy Victuallers, 22 Feb., that Hughes' Hoy was taken up to carry water to the fleet at Portsmouth at 12 s. per ton.	43, 44
"	Capt. Anth. Archer, Augustine, Ports- mouth Harbour.	"	Received his commission and the warrants for the officers, which he has distributed. The com-plaint of neglect of duty, either on his own part or that of his officers and men, is untrue, as they have been daily on board the Augustine , and done their best to ensure her speedy dispatch. Will dispose of the guns as ordered, but the soldiers in the Pelican have deserted, and gone to London to plead their services. Mr. Newberry, now at Portsmouth, is ordered by the Ordnance Officers to send up all gunners to pass their accounts; begs that those of the gunner of the Pelican may be passed at Portsmouth, as his absence will delay the works on the Augustine , and probably prevent his going with her.	45
"	"	"	Is much troubled that they should be informed of neglect of himself and officers, when he has not been on shore for 10 days, and is day and night with his officers and men, hastening the works on the ship, which are now finished; hopes next week to get in the foremast and provisions.	46

1654-5. Feb. 11	Vice. Adm. Jno. Lawson, Fairfax, Downs.	[Adm. Com.]	Arrived at Deal on the 7th, but owing to the weather, could not get on board until last night, when he ordered the Advice and Adviser pink to ply northward, the Bristol and Phenix in the Narrow, and the Preston, when victualled, off the Isle of Wight. Gave instructions to each to search all vessels, and if they found any persons who could not give a good account of their being on board, to secure them; will send similar instructions to all ships westward. The Reserve has sailed to convoy the Recovery and William, bound to Barbadoes, as far as the Land's End, and there are only the Fairfax and Sparrow pink in the Downs.	Vol. 104. 47
" "	Capt. Thos. Bunn, London.	Adm. Com.	Asks re-employment in his last ship, having faithfully discharged his duties; can have vouchers from persons of no small esteem.	48
" 12	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Plymouth Sound.	Robt. Blackborne	Having 3 weeks' victuals, could wait with the other frigates, if he knew the Commissioners' pleasure, but being commanded for Portsmouth, to give notice to the other commanders to use their endeavours for hindering the arrival of the French fleet into Normandy, dares not stay. Has acquainted the captains of the Assistance and Assurance, whose ships are both at Plymouth for repair, and given order to the former to sail to-day, and give notice to all that he meets. Perceives the Commissioners are troubled on account of the capture of several merchant ships by Brest pirates; but as the winter is past, and there are such nimble frigates now on that station, hopes a better account will be given of that business. Could not deliver the Commissioners' orders to the commanders of the Bryer and Fagon, as they had sailed; they alleged they only came in for men, and had not their complement when they sailed; they are now on their stations. Particulars of ships.	49
" "	" "	Adm. Com.	To like effect. Has issued orders for the Fagon and Assurance to lie off the Soundings, the Winsby and Assistance west of Scilly, and the Nightingale and Bryer off the Land's End, to surprise the Brest pirates. Has renewed the orders of the several commanders, and given them notice not to come into any harbour, unless for want of provisions, through being disabled, or extremity of weather, and then to send an account to the Admiralty Commissioners.	50
" "	Capt. Jno. Sherwin, Primrose, Dublin.	"	After a tedious and violent sickness, and much discontent through shortness of provisions, occasioned by the continuance of southerly winds, put into Dublin on his way home, to receive the commands of the Lord Deputy and Council; having got a month's victuals, was ordered to carry 58 bales of clothes for the Army at Cork. Particulars of ships.	51
" "	Thos. Scott, Deptford.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Cleared all former bills of imprest last October, save one of 60 l. , with which he has carried on the business ever since. The weekly charge of the 8 men employed on board wages amounts to 3 l. 5 s. 6 d. , and these have done the work and fitted the rigging for 8 ships, new moored the hulk, set all the lower masts in the Constant Warwick, and laid on all the standing rigging; but there is no boatswain to set them on work or to enter seamen; no steward to procure victuals, and no cook to dress meat, if they had any, but they are on board wages. If they are to be so continued, asks another bill of imprest.	52

"	Comr. Peter Chatham.	"	Advised with Capt. Harrison about securing Upnor Castle, and he has commanded all his soldiers in to a strict performance of duty; 8 guns are wanted for it, the brass ones being taken away; has appointed some of his men to fetch them from the old Dock. Finding the Gainsborough windbound, ordered her to fall down below Gillingham, and the captain to keep on board, watch day and night, and examine all vessels, especially those coming up; has put the whole navy to strict attendance on board night and day, and to have scouts on shore, with a vigilant eye to disaffected persons; hopes to prevent any mischief intended against the navy here.	56
"	Capt. Edw. Tarleton, Liverpool.	"	Reported his return from Ireland, by order of the Lord Deputy and Council, to procure a cable and a month's provisions, and to transport such of the late members of Parliament as were ready for Dublin; cannot procure what is needed without order; asks for one.	57
"	Vice. Adm. Jo. Lawson, Fairfax, Downs.	"	The Morning Star has arrived, but not the Edward as yet; will appoint the Preston to see them clear of the Land's End, and then ply off the Isle of Wight, to search all ships passing that way. There are only 3 ships in the Downs, and one is to convoy some merchantmen for Dunkirk.	58
"	Wm. Serjant, Islip, Liverpool.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Landed Lieut.-Col. Flower and his 3 companies at Chester; furnished Capt. Sherwin, at Dublin, with 14 days' provisions for 100 men, out of his 4 months' supply, which lasted until the 12th instant, being short of his number of men. Received orders from Lord Fleetwood to take in another month's victuals and a cable, of which there is great need, and return to Dublin; but the frigate ought to be girdled.	59
"	Phineas Pett, Chat- ham.	Edw. Hopkins.	Sends money received for decayed provisions; wants an order to the bearer to pay it in to the Treasurer of the Navy. Asks what to do with one Randall, who owes 10 l. and will not pay, although summoned before Major Thomson and Mr. Payler.	60
"	Ordnance Officers -	Robt. Blackborne.	Want an order to supply the Augustine with gunner's stores, as she is setting out for sea -	61
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Plymouth Sound.	[Adm. Com.]	The wind having changed, is under sail. The last night was a very sore one for wind and rain; hopes the frigates abroad are safe.	62

1654-5. Feb. 14	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Plymouth Sound.	Robt. Blackborne.	Ordered the commanders of the Assistance and Assurance to ply upon the French coast, and remain there until they met the French fleet coming for Normandy, or were informed of its passing by, which they were to prevent if possible, and then repair to their station, and give notice to Capt. Heaton and others. Seized two vessels which were bound home from the American plantations, carrying thither commodities not of their country's growth, contrary to Acts of Parliament; they would not stay, although the Castle shot at them. Capt. Langsford seized a third, being a Fleming; acquainted the Prize Commissioners in London, but has had no reply. Did this as a duty, and not for gain, and was put upon it by Mr. Stirelly, collector for Customs, but is glad to hear that his brother, Jas. Blackborne, approves of it. The wind having changed, hopes to get out. Gave notice of the intelligence from Brest to the commanders of the frigates at Plymouth, and orders how to act. Left a copy with Mr. Vinson, of Plymouth, for the information of any other frigates that may come in, and for those they may meet.	Vol. 104. 63
"	"	Adm. Com.	On 26th Dec. sailed out of St. Helen's, with the General and Vice-Admiral, the rest of the fleet going out at the Needles; had orders to wait for the Pelican and Half Moon, the General, with the rest of the fleet bearing away, and to follow; but springing a leak, was forced to put into port. Wrote to the ship's owner, who replied that there were ships at Gravesend, bound for Barbadoes, and that he was to go with them; will take his ship to Plymouth and await orders; wishes to have company, not being of force to resist the enemy. Has already tasted the cruelty of the merciless Turk, by whom he has been in captivity, and if he should again come into their hands, there would be no hopes of redemption; his vessel is not fit to go the voyage.	64
"	Capt. Rich. Kennedy, Sea Adventure, Fowey.	"	Has been plying N.E., but could not light on any vessels bound to Scotland with artillery, or hear of any pirates. Has watered twice in Burlington Bay, but has only 6 weeks' provisions on board. Neither the clerk nor steward have yet been on board.	65
"	Capt. Fras. Parke, Great President, Tynemouth Castle.	"	Thanks for their order to the victualler to supply him with provisions, but cannot venture to sea again without a cable.	66

"	Jno. Tippets -	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	The Portsmouth has arrived at Spithead, and waits for orders. The Augustine has taken in 20 tons of the Pelican's lading; as she is badly manned, she might be supplied out of the Portsmouth.	68
"	Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com <sup>rs</sup>	Passing through Cowes Road, found the Sapphire and 2 others waiting a wind. Gave the captain of the Sapphire notice of the stations of the frigates westward; the Reserve is attending a convoy bound that way.	69
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Portsmouth, Spithead.	"	While plying off the Lizard, lost his main shrouds and mainmast, and had to cut away the rigging; as the ship has been off the ground 8 months, asks orders.	70

1654-5. Feb. 17	Capt. Tho. Bere, Bridgwater.	Col. Jno. Clarke.	Asks whether Capt. Jno. Filkings,—who married his sister, was formerly a captain in his regi- ment, and has gone in the late expedition—has left any money for his wife, or any order to enable her to receive some of his pay, as she is in a very sad condition.	Vol. 104. 72
"	Navy Comrs.	Adm. Com.	Send a report of the ships at Deptford and Woolwich. Mr. Willoughby will report those at Portsmouth.	73
"	Capt. Anth. Archer, Augustine, Ports- mouth.	"	Has done his utmost to dispatch work, but has not 4 able seamen left; although Mr. Child, the deputy-treasurer, stopped sums of 3 l. and 5 l. on paying the wages, to compel the men to return, only two have appeared; has had to employ labourers. Has stowed away part of the provisions, but the beer is bad. Wishes his steward were there to take an account of what is on board the Portsmouth; as she is to be paid off, desires some of her men.	74
"	Thos. Shewell, Bris- tol.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Received theirs, with Capt. Spatchurst's letter, and endeavoured to find Wm. Linscott. Rich. Sullock is master of the Dolphin of Bristol; she did not lose a mast on her voyage to Dublin and Barbadoes; it was a ship of the same name, belonging to Kinsale, of which Linscott is master. The owners of the Dolphin of Bristol, very honest men, agree that no disaster has befallen their ship, but she has not yet returned. Mr. Taylor will send an account of his pro- ceedings herein. The ship now building will be launched in March; has advanced the builder money weekly, which he promises to repay.	75
"	Chas. Taylor, Bris- tol.	"	Particulars of the ship building there. They proceeded slowly for want of money, but Mr. Shewell, finding the work at a stand, advanced Mr. Baylie money weekly; she will be launched in the spring.	76

In 1642 he was sent to Lancashire Gaol by the then Commissioners of Array, and after his release, took up arms and served as a lieutenant and captain until 1648; but the enemy plundered him of a considerable personal estate, and brought him to a sad condition.	80

1654-5. Feb. 19	Thos. White, Dover	Adm. Com.	Sends the account he was ordered to examine, of provisions received from Thos. Greene, for supplying and fitting, between 28 May and 16 Dec. 1653. Has put his name to bills paid at Dover, and examined and signed the rest. The bills he paid he delivered with his account, which was paid last April, and the rest he left for them to pay, and shall be glad if the poor men may have their money. The deals and fishes put on board for Portsmouth lie wind-bound in Dover Pier.	Vol. 104. 95, 96
"	Vice Adm. Jno. Lawson, Fairfax, Downs.	"	The Phoenix and Bristol have returned to the Downs through the weather, but will ply in the narrow the first opportunity. Ordered the Preston to convoy the Morning Star and other ships, bound outwards, to the Land's End. All things are quiet, and hopes through the Lord's assistance they will be kept so. The captain and master of the Phoenix have complained against each other, and the master has been cashiered by court-martial; as she wants another, and some victuals, she should be sent in. There is great need of more small vessels, as the Paradox has gone as convoy to Seine Head, and the Sparrow-pink for Dunkirk.	97
"	Capt. Robt. Robinson, Greyhound, Milford Haven.	"	Has been to Dublin, where he received orders from the Lord Deputy to transport 40 barrels of powder to Galway, to clear that coast, and then return to Kinsale to victual and tallow, and to get a boat, having lost his, with a man in it, in a storm. Did not hear of any men-of-war about, save a small rogue to the westward; but the Nicodemus is there to clear that coast. The Wren is at Milford, bound for Kinsale to victual, and the Primrose, bound to Cork with clothes, has put into Waterford or Wexford.	98
"	Officers of the Ad- vice.	—	Certificate that 51. 10s. was expended while plying between Dungeness and Beachy, searching for suspicious persons, according to the orders of the Generals at sea, viz., 11. 15s. to Dan. Powell and Jno. Stence, boatswain, sent to the Downs with several Frenchmen and Scotchmen; 21. to Lieut. Jos. Young, going on shore to pursue Capt. Browne, who landed at Hastings; and 11. 15s. to Henry Ady, clerk of the check, going to Kye with 8 gentlemen from France without passes.	99
"	Geo. Clarke, Winsby, Cutwater, near Ply-mouth.	Black- borne?	They have come in to set a mainmast lost at sea, and when refitted, will proceed to their station off Land's End; as it will be 4 months before they return, asks for a removal into the Lyme frigate.	100
"	Chris. Pett, Wool-wich.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Chris. Andrews came to certify his bills for 2 freights of timber sent into the stores, but refused by Wm. Hayward and W. Cooper; the price certified by Mr. Young at 51s. per load is excessive, even if it were good, which it is not, and ought to be surveyed. He alleges that the bill for the rafted timber sent in last July has been passed, and paid at the rate of 4s. a load, whereas it was not worth above 26s., and still lies in the mast dock.	101
"	Com. Peter Pett, Chatham.	Robt. Blackborne.	Asks an order to send away the Gainsborough, as it is a piny so gallant a vessel should lie idle.	102
"	Capt. Edw. Tarleton, Liverpool.	Adm. Com.	Wants a list of the summer guard. Recommends the master of the Triumph for employment. Came to Liverpool for a cable, not procurable at Dublin, being in much danger for want of one.	103

Sandiford, and desires payment. As his cable will be ready the end of the week, and his victuals are preparing, hopes to be speedily dispatched. Has discharged Rich. Moore, his surgeon, for creating a disturbance, and given him a ticket in commiseration of his poverty and sorrow for his offence; requests that no necessary money for the surgeon's chest may be paid to him, but reserved for Jno. Lambert, his successor. Arrived last Thursday in the Firth, where he was detained until yesterday by contrary winds.	Vol. 104. 104
"	Capt. Alex. Farly, Basing, Leith Road.	Adm. Com.		105
"	"	"	Made several applications for a steward without effect, but Gen. Monk has lately appointed one, and given him a warrant. The clerk of the check has not made away with any of the provisions, or would have reported him. Will take a more severe account of him and the other officers.	106
"	Capt. Robt. Plumleigh, Reserve, Cowes.	"	Being ordered to convoy the William and Recovery, with provisions for Gen. Penn's fleet, to the Lizard, set sail, and when near the Isle of Wight, could not prevail with them to keep the sea, being jealous of foul weather, so made for Cowes. Has since endeavoured to get out, but the weather has been too tempestuous.	107
"	Gen. Monk, Dalkeith.	Capt. Mic. Nutton, of the Satisfaction.	Order to remain at Inverlochy until he has only 10 days' provisions, and then return to Liverpool, and take in sufficient to last him until he receives further orders from the Admiralty Commissioners.	108

"	Capt. Robt. Haytubbe, Little Chantry, Castlehaven.	Adm. Com.	After the troop had been on board at Portsmouth a fortnight, sailed from Spithead on 17 Jan., but kept plying windward until the 24th, when, through stress of weather and provisions growing low, especially horse meat, bore up for Ireland, and, missing Kinsale, put into Castlehaven; finding no relief there, sent his steward to the victualler at Kinsale for a supply, but he was ordered not to furnish any ships not listed to attend that coast. Addressed Col. Faure, Governor of Cork, who caused Col. Townsend to furnish horse meat, and Capt. Bowen, of the Mayflower, to supply a month's provisions out of his own store for 120 men, so only waits for a wind to proceed on his voyage. Has only lost one man, and broken his rudder. Order to attend the Committee to-morrow at 3 p.m.	109

Geffery, Bristol.	Blackborne	Though the Admiralty Commissioners had given order for furnishing our frigate with 28 guns and 110 men, an order has come to the Ordnance Officers to supply only 24. The frigate has ports for 40, and will be much undergunned and not able to do the service she might; she is also to be victualled for 100 men instead of 110, for 4 months. Capt. Thorowgood and Mr. Tippetts will acquaint them with it.	113
"	Navy Comrs. -	Adm. Com.	To like effect. The frigate is forward, considering there are only 44 men entered, and will soon be ready for her guns and victuals. Desire order for fitting out and victualling the Nantwich at Bristol	114

Sent Gen. Penn an account, as his name was to Gosse's warrant. All the frigates of the western station are at sea and Ireland. As a Brest man-of-war, lying near the Land's End, has taken some coal barges, hopes the Paradox will range that coast, as she sails towards Ireland.	36

"	Capt. Jno. Taylor.	[Navy Comrs.]	If the additions to the Selby were occasioned by their own instrument, they cannot but think the whole amount is due, and report accordingly; but if otherwise, must lose all. The Colchester is also 3 feet longer and broader; paid Edgar 41 l. for the enlargement. As to that built in the river, they know what is saved by it, by transporting men and provisions to the place of building; it cost him 7 l. to try and get her built at St. Irose's in Essex; bought timber there, part of which lies there still at his great loss, and the rest cost him 10 s. a load to bring to London.	89

1655. July 2	Gilbert Cornelius, Torrington, Jamaica Harbour.	[Navy Comrs.]	Depositions before him of Rich. Mattock, late quartermaster of the Grantham , Wm. Hill, cook of the Selby , and Wm. Mussered, master's mate of the Grantham , that Capt. Jno. Lightfoot, commander of the Grantham , and Capt. Jno. Clarke, commander of the Selby , took out of the Red Horse pink prize, hides, cheese, and meal, which were carried on board the Edward . Account of the defects and wants of the Pearl frigate; also of stores supplied to the General and Vice-Admiral therefrom.	Vol. 111. 9
"	Capt. Benj. Sach- everell, Fearl.	—	Sends an account of his victualling at Leith, where he stayed the brewing of the beer; if he is to remain on the coast, will require a cable and some sails. A Scotchman from Dantzic met a fleet of 50 Swedes, the least having 40 guns and many soldiers, but did not know to where they were bound. Spoke Capt. Allen between Scarborough and Flamborough Head , but did not meet any men-of-war. The Yarmouth is at sea with the fishermen.	10
"	Capt. Wm. White- horn, the Gains- borough, Flam- borough Head.	Robt. Blackborne.	Met a shallop of Brest with 24 men, coming on the coast to make his voyage, whose commander, Capt. Ensom, has been in prison several times, but made his escape, and doubts not to do it again. Chased another shallop with 40 men, and also a Brest man, but without effect. Has come for victuals and beer, having but 8 days' left, and then is going convoy to Morlaix .	11
"	Capt. Rich. Potter, Constant Warwick, Plymouth.	Adm. Com.	Advised Mr. Blackborne of an English shallop that Capt. Saunders and himself took near Seinehead , for France from Rouen , with plaster of Paris and stones. Sends examinations of her crew. Wishes he had the old Brest frigate at Portsmouth with him, as he daily expects some bankers and salt ships. Having spent his foremast, has sent it on shore; hopes to be supplied to-morrow and will go out again.	12
"	Capt. Phil. Gethings, Spithead.	"	Is sorry Col. Clarke is indisposed; has a cold through long watching. The Reserve still waits orders; the Constant Warwick has come in to victual, and will convey some vessels of Topsham and Lyme bound for Morlaix . The constables of Plymouth having refused to assist the Custom House waiters in their duty, alleging that their commissions granted by the Acts had expired, sent orders to the mayor to do so, otherwise the soldiers must, which would not be for the credit of the corporation. If you grant an inch in such cases, an ell will be taken; if there is not a fair compliance, shall solicit him to write Col. Harvey or Capt. Stone about it. Asks news of the French peace. Order to make out a bill to Jno. Hooper, clerk to the Admiralty Commissioners, for his quarter's salary, &c., at 100 l. a year for the past and succeeding quarters.	13, 13a
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Saltern.	Robt. Blackborne.	Order to provide and send away 13 weeks' victuals for 3,500 men for Gen. Blake's fleet; to take up ships for its transport to Cadiz , Alicant , Leghorn , or higher if needed; to give an account to the customs' officers, that they may be passed customs' free, and to send one of the ships to Portsmouth to receive the provisions to be shipped from thence.	14
"	Adm. Com.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Particulars of ships. The crew of the Portsmouth shallop want their wages; to save charge, has entered the young men in the Winsby , and the rest are a good riddance. Recommends the case of Capt. Country's wife to the Admiralty Commissioners, as she is in a very sad condition.	15

1655. July 4	Capt. H. Maddison, Gift, Spithead.	Adm. Com.	Came in with the Welcome and Loyalty , having lost the fleet in a storm. Met two Frenchmen, the Princess of Amsterdam and the Lewes de Dieppe , bound for Cape de Verd and the West Indies, but although one had a protection from the Council of State, and the other an affidavit made in the Admiralty Court that she belonged to Jno. Warner, merchant of London, neither had an Englishman on board.	Vol. 111. 18
"	Capt. Robt. Mackey, the Yarmouth, off Scarborough.	"	Has been driven northward and out to sea, and seeking a French man-of-war of 16 guns reported to be upon the coast, but not finding her, has given notice to the Colchester who is on the station. Particulars of ships.	19
"	Capt. Jno. Geffery, the Nantwich, Stokes Bay.	"	Has safely arrived with his convoy, and as soon as he can obtain another anchor, will return to his station.	20
"	Thos. Smith, Navy Office.	Robt. Blackborne.	As his brethren are meeting again, reminds him of his little business; asks if there is any scruple, that he may resolve it.	21
"	Capt. Wm. White- horn, the Guins- borough, Flam- borough Head.	Adm. Com.	Took in 4 months' victuals at Leith, and then ranged the north coast, but could not hear of any man-of-war.	22
"	Capt. Mic. Nutton, Satisfaction, Holy- head Bay.	"	Is waiting a wind to carry Lord Hen. Cromwell and his family to Dublin, and the Greyhound and Wexford , formerly the Fleetwood , are with him. The Paradox and Isip are at Liverpool, and cannot get out.	23
"	Capt. Chas. Thorow- good, Portsmouth.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Capt. Bunn wants an express sent to Major Sedgwick in the Downs, that the Loyalty and Gift are at Portsmouth, as there are no expresses that go that way. Is ordered by the Admiralty Com- missioners to supply the ships with 7 days' provisions to save their sea store, but wants a warrant for it. It blew so hard yesterday that the clerks could not pay off the Winsby.	24
"	"	Robt. Blackborne.	To the same effect. The Nantwich and Winsby will go westward -	25
"	Capt. Thos. Morris, Plymouth.	Adm. Com.	Plying off Ushant with the Fagon , sprung a leak, and having 5 feet of water in the hold, fired a gun for the Fagon to keep by him all night, and by a continual pumping and baling, got into Plymouth. No other ship was so slighted in the works at Portsmouth, as nothing was done beyond tallowing and caulking, and the ship was so leaky that not a man could lie dry; had 19 barrels of powder spoilt, and it was a mercy they did not sink, but Capt. Hatsell has promised all dispatch.	26
"	Navy Comrs. - -	"	Send accounts of decayed vessels, boats, and timber at Deptford, Woolwich, Chatham, and Ports- mouth. Beg order for their sale by the candle, with their appurtenances, so as to enhance the price, reserving the guns and such provisions as are not half worn.	27, 28

1655. July 6	Capt. Theop. Sach- everell, the Ply- mouth.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Sends some tickets made out for sick men and others for the relief of their families. Cannot find 3 named entered on the last muster book for June 5, 1655, but as they are borne on the ship's books, desires they may be paid. The fleet is now off Cape St. Vincent.	Vol. 111. 29
"	Capt. Pet. Bowen, Mayflower, Fal- mouth.	Adm. Com.	Particulars of his proceedings since sailing from Torbay, with 4 ships under convoy, bound for Morlaix. Met 4 coasters from Lyme, who importuned him to see them to the Isle of Bass, and as their vessels were worth 25,000 l. , did so. He was chased by some ships who fired upon his convoys, and tried to board one of them, but perceiving him, one of them ran ashore among the rocks off the Isle of Bass. As soon as his convoys were safe, made sail after the others; but night coming on, having sprung his foretop-sail yard, and having little ballast or water, was forced to come in for a supply. Will proceed for Kinsale with the first wind.	30
"	Capt. Robt. Sansum, the Portsmouth, off the Isle of Wight.	"	Has sent in to Portsmouth a Hollander bound to Newhaven with salt, and as he reports there are 8 more bound for the same port upon a like account, will keep at sea and look after them.	31
7	Capt. Jno. Gefery, the Nantwich, Stokes Bay.	"	Having brought in two Dutch ships laden with salt for the French King, and bound for Newhaven, will proceed to his station.	32
"	Capt. Fras. Cranwill, Hare, Irish Sea.	"	While at sea, met a small boat bound for Brest. Left the Satisfaction, Greyhound, and Fleetwood in Chester Water, attending on Lord Henry Cromwell. Will proceed to Portsmouth for orders.	33
"	Dr. Walter Walker -	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Asks a further order for securing some plank; there was a dispute ast o the ownership, but it was settled by an order that it should be sequestered and delivered into the yard.	34
"	Sam. Wilson, Bi- shops-gate St.	Robt. Blackborne.	Recommends Peter Cooper for a master's place in some ship, he having so served, and received some hurt thereby.	35
"	Col. John Clerke, Whitelhall.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	To order the navy victuallers to supply the Welcome, Gift, and Loyalty with a week's provisions to save their sea stores, they having been separated from the Western squadron in a storm, and put into Stokes Bay.	36
"	Capt. Chas. Thorrow- good, Portsmouth.	Robt. Blackborne	There will be a difficulty in victualling the Welcome, Gift, and Loyalty, as one is at Spithead, and the others at Cowes. The Portsmouth has sent in a Hollander with salt, and is coming in with two more.	37
"	Capt. Robt. Wilkin- son, Weymouth pink, Leith Road.	Adm. Com.	Left the fishermen in the Firth in charge of the Yarmouth and Colchester, having been ordered by the General to come to Leith to revictual, when he will return to his station. Has heard of several men-of-war, but not seen any among the fishers. This is their second fishing voyage, and is be- tween Holy Island and Flambro' Head, and will end in August, when he will go to Yarmouth.	38
9	Capt. John Taylor, Chatham.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Desires a warrant for delivery of a hoy of timber into the stores, or the works on the new ship and the others in dock will be delayed, and the men kept in idleness.	39

1655. July 9	Vice-Adm. John Lawson.	—	Certificate that Wm. Martin served as midshipman in the Fairfax , was in the engagements against the Dutch under Gen. Penn and himself, and is fit for a gunner's place in a 4th or 5th rate frigate.	Vol. 111. 40
"	Capt. Robt. Plum- leigh, Reserve, Ply- mouth Sound.	"	Received the Protector's instructions appointing Capt. Ames of the Winsby as his consort, and on her arrival, will use all diligence to observe them, having victualled for 4 months at Ply- mouth.	41
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Lyme, Downs.	Robt. Blackborne.	Is glad to hear of his recovery, but sorry the Western squadron are scattered; none are driven back so far as Dover, for Mr. White, the victualler and sub-commissioner there, has returned the packet for Major Sedgwick. Hears the Vice-Admiral is coming into the Downs in a week, when Col. Clerke will allow him to come up. As he has but 14 days' provisions, and none to be had from Dover, desires a supply from Portsmouth or Harwich.	42
"	"	Adm. Com.	To similar effect. Appointed the Adviser to convoy some vessels to Dunkirk, and bring any back bound for England; the Elizabeth to go to Rotterdam to fetch a vessel very richly laden on the company's account; and the Bristol to sail with another laden with the State's goods. The Drake is ordered by Col. Clerke to ply in the Narrow, with the ketch and dogger; as the Sparrow is coming out of Dover, has ordered her to convoy vessels in Dover Road bound for Dieppe, Caen, and Rouen.	43
"	Capt. Chas. Thorow- good, Portsmouth.	"	Hears that Major Sedgwick and the rest of the fleet are at Cowes, save 3 at Portland, and that he is also going there. The Nantwich, which has brought in the two prizes instead of the Ports- mouth, is considered by Capt. Gettings to be a handsome ship, and a good sailer.	44
"	Capt. Phil. Gettings, Spithead.	"	Has taken the Fortune of Hamburg and the Crow of Rotterdam, laden with salt for the Grand Party, and chased 3 others into the harbour near Havre de Grace; although he fired at them, they refused to strike, but got into the Road and so escaped. There is a general complaint amongst all the skippers of their being kept so long in our ports. If care was taken for their encouragement, where we get one ship we might have two. Last month 3 ships sailed out of St. Martin's, full of soldiers bound for Canada to retake our plantations, and some others are to come forth the first wind; will do his best to meet with them.	45
"	Wm. Webb, Reserve, Plymouth Sound.	Navy Com <sup>r</sup>	Sends muster books. The captain having nearly 5 months' provisions, and the Winsby having arrived, they will sail with the first wind, according to instructions from the Lord Protector and Admiralty Commissioners.	46
"	Capt. Rich. Potter, Constant Warwick.	Adm. Com.	Has come in to victual and clean, and will then observe instructions	47
"	Capt. Robt. Sansum, the Portsmouth, Isle of Wight.	"	Has taken a ship belonging to Newhaven, bound for Newfoundland, and sent her into Portsmouth. She was bought by a Scotch merchant from the French, is an English vessel, and was formerly taken by a Brest pirate. Will keep at sea until the end of the week, and then go to Spithead, as he is nearly out of beer. Has sent some of his men in with the above prize and another.	48

1655. July 10	Jno. Clarey, Assistance .	Adm. Com.	Complaint against his commander, Capt. Sparling, Robt. Portine, master, and Peter Tull, clerk of the check, of having embezzled 3 pigs of silver and a quantity of sugar, tobacco, and other stores out of the holds of 3 prizes they took in their last voyage; and also having 5 boys on the sea books as able seamen, and paying them accordingly.	Vol. 111. 49
"	Adm. Com.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Order to attend the Admiralty Committee to-morrow with the contract made with Mr. Baylie for building the Nantwich.	50
"	"	"	Order to make out a bill to Thos. Hever for 4l. 19s. 0d. for printing tickets for the fleet -	51
"	Committee of the Council on Tobias Sollicoffer's petition.	Adm. Com.	To certify by what ship the petitioner's vessel was taken, what damage he has sustained, and how the amount for compensation should be raised. With note that Capt. Eustace Smith, of the Richard and Martha, took the Peter, laden with currants, from Zante, in Dec. 1653, during the Dutch war, which was bought by the Sollicoffers at Toulon; also note of an order to the Admiralty Court, to try all causes of difference touching bills of exchange relating to prizes.	52, 53
"	Capt. Ga. Saunders, Tiger, Spithead .	"	Took two ships of Amsterdam laden with salt for the Grand Party, and has brought them in.	54
"	Capt. Jno. Limbry, H. Maddison, and Thos. Bunn, Wedge, Plymouth Sound .	"	Hears the French are making preparations to go to our plantations in Canada, and put them all to the sword, but hopes they will not be able to effect it.	55
"	Adm. Com.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Hopes they have not been blamed because the Welcome, Gift, and Loyalty separated from the fleet by contrary winds, which detained them at the Isle of Wight. The fleet, with Major Sedgwick, sailed this morning; will lose no time in following them.	56, 57
"	Capt. Robt. Claye, Bryer, Plymouth Sound .	Adm. Com.	Send petition of Fras. Baylie, of Bristol, for payment of his last instalment for building the Islip and Nantwich, and desire they will make him out a bill, with deductious for failing in his contract with regard to the sails.	58
"	Capt. Mich. Tarleton, Liverpool .	Robt. Blackborne.	Come in to clean and victual, but being too late for the spring tide, has taken in a fortnight's provisions, and will put to sea.	59, 60
"	Capt. Robt. Plumleigh, Reserve, at Sea .	Adm. Com.	Returns the Admiralty Commissioners' order of 10 July, to Capt. Edw. Tarleton of the Islip, to carry over some money from Chester to Dublin for pay of the forces; he left on the 11th, and falling short to wait on Lord Hen. Cromwell, he convoyed some merchants to the Irish coast, and was then to hasten to Inverlochy, in Scotland. Capt. Cranwill has also sailed for Ayr, where Lord Henry appointed shipping to wait for him.	61
"	Prize Comrs.	Robt. Blackborne.	Left Plymouth Sound on the 10th, with the Winsby and a vessel of London bound for Newfoundland. Hears that all the others bound there sailed 3 days since.	62
"	"	"	There are a quantity of planks and deals in the Hope of Amsterdam at Dover, which has lately been discharged by the Admiralty Court, and as she is bound to an enemy's port, and the owners say they will dispose of their goods as they please, suggest that the lading should be secured for the State.

1655. July 14	Capt. Jno. Croft, Gloucester.	Col. Jno. Clarke.	Sends a packet from Gen. Desborow to Major Wade, he being in London	Vol. 111. 63
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Lyme, Downs.	Adm. Com.	When Ben. Symonds was under restraint on board the Vice-Admiral, Capt. Godfrey of the Marmaduke affirmed that Symonds displayed great ability in bringing off that ship when she ran aground through the ignorance of the pilot, and that although a prisoner on board, if it had not been for him, the ship would have miscarried on her way to the Downs.	64
"	Capt. Chas. Thoroughgood, Portsmouth.	Robt. Blackborne.	All the officers noticed that the Nantwich was well caulked, and if there was any fault, it was the want of mariners to tar the decks; but she had too many guns, and if he had not seen her masts shortened and her yards narrowed, she would have been under water; also took 40 tons of sand out of her, and put in ordinary ballast. Capt. Morris must excuse him for differing as to the work on board his ship. The Portsmouth having arrived at Spithead to tallow and victual, asks whether she is to come in, as complaints are made of her sailing. Some of her men are gone to Plymouth with 2 prizes.	65
"	John Puckwood, Woolwich.	"	Recommends Lewis Whitehead for a boatswain's place in the frigate building at Woolwich; he so served in the Crow , and gave a just account of his stores.	66
"	Capt. Thos. Sparling, Assistance, Plymouth Sound.	Adm. Com.	Has been plying on his station since leaving Plymouth on 20 June. Took a Hollander with salt bound for St. Malo; rescued the Love of London from the Michael of Brest, and sent her to Plymouth; also met a Dutch ship from St. Malo, bound for the Straits, with 150 bales of linen, which he imagines will prove prize.	67
" 15	"	"	The Cross of Jerusalem , of 400 tons and 20 guns, had 150 bales of linen, besides 3 small fardles in the skipper's locker in his cabin. As the skipper and his company said the ship and goods belonged to Amsterdam, would not give his own company any encouragement to pillage, to which they are much addicted and very difficult to restrain, and so left the fardles behind; many may account this ignorance or imbecility; but finding the greater part of the goods belong to Frenchmen, and will prove prize, desires an order to have the fardles, or whatever else they may think fit.	68
"	Roger Yaxley, Fragons, Plymouth.	"	Asks his discharge as master, not being acquainted with the French coast, where his station is assigned, and being out of health.	69
"	Capt. Thos. Elliot, Plymouth.	"	Has been plying on his station, and chased two Brest men-of-war, but lost them. Being out of provisions, has been ordered in by Capt. Hatsell to wash, tallow, and victual, and set a new mainmast.	70
" 16	Thos. Newberry, Portsmouth.	[Navy Com <sup>rs</sup> ]	Has received into the stores the shot brought from Bristol in the Salem of Scarborough, and sends particulars.	71
"	Thos. Pointer, the Cock, Ratcliff.	Robt. Blackborne.	Wants to be employed about the victualling business; if he had the business of passing the stewards' accounts, there would not be any more complaints, and yet 4 men are employed.	72

1655. July 16	Capt. Chas. Thorrow- good, Portsmouth .	Robt. Blackborne.	Asks whether to bring in the Portsmouth, now at Spithead; if the weather permits and her men attend, she would be ready to sail next week.	Vol. 111. 73
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, the Lyme, Downs .	Adm. Com.	Details of his revictalling. The dogger belonging to the fleet has brought in a Billinder with French goods, which he has sent to Dover. The Elizabeth returned from Rotterdam, and has since been conveying vessels to Dieppe. Notes of ships.	74
"	Capt. Phil. Holland, Assurance, Plymouth .	"	While on his station, chased several Brest men-of-war, but they were too nimble. Surprised the Encounter of St. Malo, with fish from Newfoundland; met a ship retaken by the Assistance, and convoyed them as far as the Deadman, where he lost them, but is confident they got safe into Plymouth. While cruising off Ushant, met the Spread Eagle of Hamburg, with salt, bound for France, and presumes she will prove a prize. Not having been in any port for three months, his provisions being expended, and his ship foul, has been forced to come in, but will use all dispatch to get out again.	75
"	Capt. N. Heaton, Sapphire, Plymouth Sound .	Robt. Blackborne.	Account of his proceedings from his leaving Plymouth for Rochelle, on 2 June, to his return 16 July. Took several prizes and 250 prisoners, and only lost one man, but if Providence had not cast small vessels in his way, must have left the service undone, or lost his own ship. Has brought 150 prisoners home, which were more than he had to man his own ship, as also 3 prizes, having formerly sent in 3. Will observe Capt. Hatsell's orders, but wants 10 more men.	76
"	Capt. Rich. Cowes, Cat pink, Tenby Road .	Adm. Com.	Since leaving Milford, has been to Dublin, plied on the Irish coast, and convoyed several vessels to Bristol, with goods valued at 4,000 l. , besides passengers. Chased a Brest pirate the whole day, and could not get up to him for want of a wind, but as he lost some of his masts and sails, thinks he is gone. The steward having deserted, his duties have been performed by the clerk of the check. Damaged.	77
"	Capt. Jno. Parker, Truelove, Milford Haven .	"	Sailed from Barnstaple 17 June, and while plying on his station, met 12 sail from Bristol bound for Ireland; convoyed them there. Has put in to Milford to stop leaks.	78
"	Capt. Chas. Thorrow- good, Portsmouth .	Comr. Fras. Wil- loughby. Robt. Blackborne.	Could not bring in the Portsmouth to revictual until to-day. The Hare pink has arrived at Spithead from Scotland, and has only 10 days' victuals.	79
"	"	"	To the same effect - - - - -	80
"	Capt. Giles Shelley, the Colchester, Leith Frith .	Adm. Com.	While at Dalkeith, received order from Gen. Monk to ply between Bass Island and Tynemouth Bar; is going for Cacawdey Road to water, and then to sea again. Desires copy of the orders given to captains touching their officers.	81
"	"	-	Account of cables and other stores supplied to the Marston Moor by Rich. Rowe, storekeeper at Jamaica, by order of the Generals.	82

1655. July 18	Capt. Fras. Cranwill, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Has come into Stokes' Bay, and is waiting for orders. Noted that his ketch is to be paid in portion with the rest of the fleet, and refitted.	Vol. 111. 83
"	Capt. Wm. Whitehorn, Gainsborough, Burling-ton Bay.	Navy Com <sup>r</sup> .	Sends survey made of the provisions sent from London, showing that 18 cwt. of bread was not fit for food, being old and twice baked, and 6 butts of beer bad; hopes the provisions received in Scotland will prove better. There are no men-of-war on the coast.	84-86
"	Capt. Robt. Vessey, Nightingale, Ply-mouth Sound.	Adm. Com.	Since leaving Plymouth with his convoys from Portsmouth, has been plying about the Lizard and Land's End; seeing a shallop chasing a merchantman, chased him into the rocks towards St. Ives, and by keeping up thus, preserved 12 or 14 ships bound that way, although he plundered one. Has since captured this shallop, and sent her in, with a Frenchman laden with hides and elephants' teeth; she will make a fine man-of-war, having formerly been one; begs the command of it for his master, Jas. Sharland. Desires he may clean and tallow every 6 weeks or two months, and go beyond the limits of his station; could thus do more service on the cunning rogues who infest the coast.	87
"	Capt. Mic. Nutton, Satisfaction, Ches-ter Water.	"	Left Liverpool 21 June, and while lying in Chester water for a wind, received orders from Lord Hen. Cromwell to carry himself and family to Ireland, which he did, and landed them at Dublin on the 9th inst. Then received orders from the Lord Deputy and Council to return to Chester, to bring over some money. Desires leave of absence for some of his company, who are Londoners, and married, and have been at sea 22 months.	88
"	Christ. Pett, Wool-wich.	Navy Com <sup>r</sup> .	Asks whether to tallow the President before launching her next Tuesday, as she will spoil more in the river in one week than at sea in a month.	89
"	Capt. Robt. Clay, Bryer, Plymouth.	Adm. Com.	Has come in by order of Capt. Hatsell, to refit and victual, and will make all speed to sea -	90
"	Capt. N. Heaton, Saphire.	Robt. Blackborne.	Told him of 20 bags of wool, 128 bars of iron, and 4 packs of sheep skins, which he took out of a vessel he sunk, and still retains; as there is money due to himself and company, if the Commissioners will allow him to keep them, will be thankful; they must have new masts and other recruits. Asks his influence, being constrained to go to sea again to guard the coast. Some may envy his active service, but all the honour is to the Creator, and not to his poor creature.	91, 92
"	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Notes of ships. The bearer complains of his vessel being unfit for present service -	93
"	Capt. Nich. Foster -	"	As the person on whose behalf complaint was made against him respecting the Phoenix on her last coming to Chatham has arrived, and been in London three weeks, and as the differences have been heard and disposed of by Dr. Bennett, a master in Chancery, and affidavits filed, hopes they will now restore him to his command.	94

1655. July 20	Jas. Sharland, Nightingale, Ply- mouth Sound.	Adm. Com.	When leaving the command of the Red Hart, was promised preferment, but is now only master in the Nightingale ; having lately taken a French frigate, which it is believed will be employed in the service, asks the command of her.	Vol. 111. 95
"	Capt. Thos. Morris, Plymouth.	"	Has stopped the leaks and well caulked the ship, and will get in the ballast, &c., and get to sea.	96
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	Robt. Blackborne.	Thanks for intelligence; has given Col. Clerke all he can in return. Capt. Vessey has gone to sea again. Blackborne's brother is very careful and diligent.	97
"	"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Arrival and departure of ships. The Saphire has brought in two bankers and a Frenchman with wine, brandy, &c., bound from Nantes to St. Christopher, and the Nightingale a French double shallop man-of-war and a French frigate from Cape de Verd, with 4,000 hides and 22 elephants' teeth.	98
"	"	Robt. Blackborne.	Particulars of ships. The Muster has been delayed on account of the heavy rains; 5 prizes have been brought into the Sound by the Saphire and Nightingale , one of which will make a good man-of-war. Capt. Vessey has put to sea again, having brought in his prizes in very good condition; desires order for the sale of the two bankers taken by Capt. Heaton and the others, so as to save their ladings from spoiling, and ease the great charge to the State. With depo- sitions by Peter Martensen, captain, and Jacob Jansen, mariner, of the Cross of Jerusalem, that the ship was bound from St. Malo to Spain with 150 bales of goods, on account of certain Frenchmen, but when on the coast of France, was taken by Capt. Thos. Sparling, and brought into Plymouth. 13 July.	99-101
"	Capt. Mic. Nutton, Satisfaction, Ches- ter.	Adm. Com.	Landed Lord Hen. Cromwell and his family at Dublin on the 9th inst., and then had orders from Lord Deputy Fleetwood and the Council there to return to Chester for money, but as he cannot hear of any coming down, desires further orders.	102

1655. July 21	Capt. Fras. Allen, Advice, Burlington Bay.	Adm. Com.	Has been plying on the coast, and as there are no complaints of any men-of-war being about, has come in to repair and revictual.	Vol. 111. 108
" 22	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	"	The Nightingale plying west, met a Dutch ship from the West Indies, having an Englishman on board, from whom Capt. Vessey took an account of the proceedings of the English fleet, which he sent to Capt. Heaton, and it is enclosed for the information of His Highness. The captain of the Grantham told the Englishman that his ship and other frigates were left upon the coast to observe the motion of the enemy, but that the fleet was gone to Jamaica; also that the adventurers to the West Indies are very angry that they are debarred trading with the plantations. Reports will multiply the loss, as it is already current here that 1,200 men are slain, and the fleet quite beaten off.	109
" "	Capt. John Bourne, the Lyme, Downs.	"	Arrival of ships. Sends a letter received from a Virginia ship, who met the Reserve and Winsby off Scilly. Will victual the Elizabeth out of the Bristol, and sail for Portsmouth.	110
" "	Capt. Phil. Gethings, Spithead.	Robt. Blackborne.	Only gave Robinson the Hopewell to secure the State's and his own interest, as he was going to sea, but his language and actions are alike. Desires he will not take any further interest in his lieutenant, as he is not fit for the employment. Is sorry he had so much trouble about the salvage. Begs him to keep the 13 l. 6 s. 8 d. received of Robinson, to defray charges. Some of the spice merchants coming from Norwich to Yarmouth in a boat threatened him very highly, that they would spend as much again as was in the boat, which was 1,000 l. , but they would be revenged for the seizure, and that he would be no gainer, as they had license from the Protector to follow the law against him; will not be scared a jot so long as he acts justly.	111
" "	" "	Adm. Com.	Has come in to water and take 14 days' provisions for 80 men, supplied to the Bryer; also to change some stinking beer and other defective provisions, and to put 6 sick men on shore, one of whom has the small pox.	112

Hears by a ship that met the Grantham that the fleet has left Hispaniola, and gone for Jamaica.	113
" "	" "	Col. Jno. Clerke.	The Nantwich must either have gone, or the service have been neglected. His Highness and Mr. Secretary's letters would speak more for him than he desires to do for himself; will dispatch the business in hand. The Constant Warwick and others are getting ready to sail.	114
" "	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	Robt. Blackborne.	The captain of the Hare pink at Spithead is very inquisitive about her disposal. The Portsmouth will be ready to take in her 3 months' provisions next week, and the Hopewell pink has come in, and waits orders.	115

"	Comr. Peter Pett, Chatham.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup> . Beg that a vessel of 7 or 8 guns may be appointed to lie about the harbour, to convoy vessels to the Downs, or the Isle of Wight. 1655. Aug.	Prize Comrs., London .	Adm. Com.	The Admiralty Judges ordered the Paul, laden with French wines at Portsmouth, to be disposed of by Capt. Isaac Phillips, on security; he was to bring her to London at his own charge, and any delay therein must be laid upon the Commissioners of Customs, and not upon them. When she sailed, they ordered their officer to lock up the lading for the State's interest, and not to eclipse the judges' power. One of Capt. Phillips' sureties was found to be a prisoner for debt. Their officer on board continually importuned the coopers to look after leakage and other damage, but they always declined; he was always ready to let buyers see the wines, or to deliver them when sold. Has been on board to Gen. Penn, who is ordered to bring about the fleet, and he has ordered each commander to send in what they want of a fortnight's provisions, which Mr. Ridge, the State's agent, has promised to supply; but the General will supply them with beer out of the Lyme frigate rather than detain the fleet. Recommends a poor man, formerly mate to Capt. Peirce, and who has lost a leg, as boatswain of the Hopewell.	32
"	Capt. Lamb, Corne- lius, Weymouth.	Navy Com <sup>r</sup> .	While waiting to transport the money to Jersey, the ship's company,—who mostly belong to Weymouth, are very poor, and have large families,—have subscribed to send up Thos. Danell with their tickets; hopes it will not be in vain.	33
"	Capt. Robt. Clarke, the Bristol, near Yarmouth.	Adm. Com.	Is only waiting for a wind. Has not yet recruited his meat; some men are much displeas- ed because he gave an account of their abuses.	34
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	"	Has received theirs, relating to the exchange of Capt. Country for Capt. Turner, and has promised Turner freedom, if he can get any friend to be engaged with him that Country shall have his liberty as soon as Turner comes into France. Capt. Potter of the Constant Warwick has taken a Frenchman with dry fish, and fought another, full of men and having 22 guns, for several hours, but night coming on, they parted, and as he lost her so suddenly, thinks she has sunk. His masts and sails are so much damaged by shot, as to be unfit for service; will use all diligence in refitting. Is also in hand with the Nightingale.	35

1655. Sept. 4	Capt. Rich. Potter, Plymouth.	Adm. Com.	Boarded a Frenchman from Newfoundland with fish, and chased another with 22 or 24 guns from Greenland for 6 hours, and engaged with her for 4, during which she fought very stoutly; but a violent storm coming on, and having to bring his own ship by the lee to stop leaks, having received some unhappy shots under water as well as above, lost sight of her; she was very much torn, and received 4 shots to her one, they being so close together that they touched; thinks she sunk in a storm. Had one man killed outright and 10 wounded; the boatswain lost his arm and another his leg.	Vol. 113. 36
"	Capt. Phil. Gethings, the Preston, Spithead.	"	As to the complaint of the skipper of the Thirsty Heart, did remove goods out of his ship into his own, but it was done with the knowledge of the Prize Commissioners, and upon his promise of being responsible for them. Neither himself nor company committed any abuse towards the skipper, whose imprisonment was ordered by the Prize Commissioners, because he refused to take the oath or be examined; his being unable to get to Rouen with his oranges and lemons was through drink. Dutch seamen who have Frenchmen among them, as well as the merchants, make it a trade now to father Frenchmen's good, insomuch that if one of our men should take but an old shirt or a pair of stockings, the Dutch will make a great complaint, and own them to be their goods.	37
"	"	Robt. Blackborne.	Sends the above. The company of the Thirsty Heart admit they have not received any damage, and the Prize Commissioners had an account of the goods taken out; will have them and the skipper before the mayor, and then send a further account. Will come in to tallow when his provisions are out.	38
"	Adm. Com.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Send extract of a letter from Gen. Penn, saying that there is a new channel grown near the Flats and the old one choked up, and not one there able to judge whether it is safe for the large ships, some drawing 18 feet, to pass it, and desiring that Fommet and some other Chatham pilots may be ordered to meet him in the Downs and carry the fleet about the Swin. Ask that the clerks of the survey and others may be ordered, upon the arrival of ships in the river and at Chatham, to take an account of the remains of the boatswains and carpenters' stores, to prevent the many frauds which will be endeavoured by the respective officers.	39, 40
"	"	"	Order to grant a bill for 4l. 12s. 0d. to Abr. Pearce, late master of the Sea-Adventure, for his expenses in going to Portsmouth to take charge of the ketch, and bringing back a packet from Gen. Blake.	41
"	Thos. Pointer	Col. Clarke.	Begs employment; was clerk of the check in the Resolution, then went into the Swiftsure and Assurance, and was promised the same position in the Naseby, had she gone to sea.	42
"	Capt. N. Heaton, Saphire, Spithead.	Robt. Blackborne.	Went out of Portsmouth Harbour yesterday, but could not put to sea on account of the wind. Is under sail and will try to get men (wanting 30) and proceed to his station, calling at Plymouth to take in the rest of his provisions.	43

Lynde the surgeon, and is in the fleet. With Rawlins' certificate, 15 Sept., to the same effect; also certificate of Jno. Smith and Jas. His station is between St. Abb's Head and Cocket Island; has continually to send ashore to Tynemouth Castle, for orders from Gen. Monk.	53
"	Isaac Holmes, Weymouth .	"	The books of Capt. Lambert Cornelius, from Jan. 1653-4 to Jan. 1654-5, are all false, as men borne on them for the whole time were not in the pink half the time, and he has set men down as discharged who ran away, made tickets for their pay, and received the money himself; the clothes bill did not amount to 20 l . Having served as master 21 months, Capt. Cornelius, hearing he had petitioned the Admiralty Commissioners for the command, gave him a certificate; but hearing afterwards that he had also kept an entry book, he was turned out when he returned to Portsmouth, and a boy put in his place. Asks the command, or the master's place in the new frigate at Portsmouth or some other vessel.	54
"	Jno. Davies and 2 others, Deptford .	[Navy Comrs.]	The tonnage of the provisions sent from the stores at Deptford to the Hannibal , for supply of Gen. Blake's fleet, in sails, canvas, twine, cordage, tallow, pitch, tar, and ironwork, will amount to 56 tons.	55

"	Capt. Jno. Sherwin, Primrose, near Holyhead.	"	Has been cruising on the French coast, and seized some vessels with salt and wine, but they having no decks, and it being bad weather, did not think it convenient to venture the lives of his company in them, and turned them loose, bidding them pray for my Lord Protector and the Council; only made bold to take a little salt and wine for the use of his company. Order will be taken at Dublin for the adjudication of the two vessels from St. Ives. Came to Holyhead to carry Lord Deputy Fleetwood on his way to Wales, but his Lordship had sailed before he arrived.	64
"	Robt. Berkenshaw.	"	Would have taken two Brest men-of-war,—one being Capt. Swart in his new frigate of 18 guns,—if darkness had not favoured him, and the other if his masts had not become spent, which, with his defective pumps, renders him unserviceable until repaired; as this cannot be done at Dublin, must seek further.	65

Has only a month's provisions, and his ship is very foul, but will sail with the first wind. Capt. Sherwin, of the Primrose , and Capt. Coleman, of the Wexford , formerly the Fleetwood , came in with him.	70
"	Capt. Robt. Sansum, the Fortsmouth, Spithead.	"	While on the French coast, met a ship of Rotterdam from Newfoundland, bound for Newhaven, and as she was partly manned by Frenchmen, and may be on the account of French merchants, has brought her in. The skipper reports that the RésERVE and Winsby have taken 18 French bankers.	71
"	Lient. Thos. Milton, the Lyme, Spit- head.	"	As the remains of his beer on board stunk, gave notice to the victualler's agent and contractor, but as they could not supply any for 14 days, and promised it should be furnished from Dover, is now under sail for the Downs. "	Capt. Robt. Mackey, Yarmouth, Downs.	"	While convoying two vessels richly laden to Dieppe, was followed by a French man-of-war of 22 guns, but when she came up, she stood away westward; but for his convoys, had his frigate been clean, he might have made a good account of her. "	Aug. Aldridge, Lydney, co. Gloucester.	Navy Comrs	Sends particulars of timber shipped in the Fortune at Lydney Pill for Chatham; they are hewing all the trees felled, and making 16,000 or 20,000 tree nails, as ordered by Commissioner Willoughby. Asks their letters to be sent to Major Wade, as he is forced to remove from Little Dean to Lydney, by reason of his charge.	135
"	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Finds that Capt. Foote's frigate has her furnaces down, and there are other matters which can only be attended to on shore, where she may be dispatched in 48 hours; else it will be dangerous to send her to sea. Her boatswain and gunner are not diligent, and want quickening in their duties, so as to be an example to others. It is reported that the master is unable to navigate her, as on the homeward voyage, he made the island near Nantes for the Isle of Wight, and his mates are like him. The captain of the Preston is still weak, and there is little hopes of his recovery.	Vol. 114. 1

Sept. 14	Adm. Com. - - -	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Order for refitting the Greyhound for present service	5
"	Jno. Atkins, Rochester.	Robt. Blackborne.	Recommends his kinsman, steward of the Rainbow, who has been in the service some time, for a pursuer's place.	6
"	Capt. Robt. Clarke, the Bristol, Plymouth Sound.	Adm. Com <sup>rs</sup>	Has put in with the two victualling ships, by extremity of weather, but will sail with the first wind, having taken in 14 days' victuals and 8 tuns of beer.	7
"	"	Robt. Blackborne.	To the same effect. As the State is setting forth some third-rate frigates, begs the command of one of them, that he may have some encouragement, as other men.	8
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	"	Hopes he will show Gen. Desborow the intelligence sent from Major-Gen. Fortescue to Col. Clarke. The Bristol, with the two victuallers, is still waiting for wind and weather; as the captain complained of his beer, made a survey, and threw 18 butts overboard. Capt. Heaton still continues sick, and his ship, the Sapphire, is in the Road; cannot trust the master with her, but has a mate in view to take her. The gunner of the Warwick wants some stores. Wishes the Ordnance had an officer at Plymouth, as his hands and head are full; must crave some help as an assistant to his storekeeper and clerk.	9
"	Capt. Thos. Morris, Scarlings, Torbay.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Having sprung his mainmast in chasing a ship, which proved to be one of London bound home from Virginia, and not being able to reach Plymouth, put into Torbay, and is using all possible means to refit, but doubts if the mast can be made serviceable.	10
"	Capt. Jno. Tippetts, Portsmouth.	"	The Merlin has come in to be repaired, and the Marston Moor and Preston to be refitted. The new frigate is almost fit for launching; as Commissioner Willoughby has not arrived, desires order respecting it.	11
"	Smith, Bourne, and Hutchinson, and Pett, Navy Com <sup>rs</sup> , Chatham Hill.	Adm. Com.	None of Gen. Penn's fleet have come up but the Convertine, the wind being contrary. Ifave paid the Greyhound, and will send for the Convertine's men and pay them. Desire order as to the Paragon's men, who have been distributed in several ships since she was burnt. Cannot hear of the clothes delivered to the Paragon's company, there being no papers saved when she was fired, nor any way to make out books but by a muster book.	12
"	"	"	On examination of the number of men borne on the ships at Chatham, as also the officers on the victualling ships, find more officers than were ordered, and on some ships 30 or 40 more men than their complement, occasioned by the captains not having orders; it was done by verbal direction of the General. As the men were not in fault, have paid the Convertine's company, but left the captain, clerk, and steward unpaid, until further order.	13
"	Gen. Wm. Penn	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Sends Wm. Bodham, who had the paying of money due in the fleet for short allowance of victuals, to give an account what ships have been paid; desires a bill for the balance due, which he will issue upon the respective captains' certificates, and give an account of his disbursements.	14
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne, Dover.	Robt. Blackborne.	Has proceeded with the fitting of the Lyme, and sent to Dover for beer, but it cannot be had for 10 days; meantime will endeavour to complete her men, who ought not to be less than 280.	15

"	Capt. Charles Thoroughgood, Portsmouth.	Blackborne.	Receipt and delivery of letters. The Merlin will go out to-morrow, but will want a boatswain, master, and steward, the latter having run.	17
"	"	Adm. Com.	There is little needed on the Marston Moor, and if her men attend, she may go out again shortly.	18
"	Vin. Gookin, Milford.	"	The Merlin has come in to repair, and the Preston to victual. Gave Capt. Bowen the order to convey him to Ireland, and sailed, but was forced back by the weather, and had to go on shore sick. Has no desire to continue there at expense and in separation from his family; hopes they will believe that Capt. Bowen has endeavoured to observe their directions, even against wind and weather.	19

"	Capt. Robt. Blake, Hampshire, Plymouth Sound.	"	Was directed by Gen. Blake, on arriving in England, to apply to them for orders as to refitting in the river or at Portsmouth, and has given Capt. Hatsell an account of his defects. If the frigate is judged fit to return after being refitted, will be ready to observe their orders.	24
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	"	Will supply the Hampshire; but if her defects are as reported by Capt. Blake, it will be a work of time. Capt. Clarke is still detained in the Sound by foul weather.	25

"	"	Adm. Com.	Will inform Capt. Whitehorn that order has been sent to the victuallers at Dover to change all his bad provisions, and will hasten to get them on board, as also those for the Lyme. The Hannibal commanded by Capt. Haddock has arrived, and the Tredagh sailed for Portsmouth; she was forced back again by violent winds and lost her cables, but they have been recovered.	31

"	John Johnson	"	Petition for satisfaction for quarters of 10 sick and wounded men sent on shore at Harwich by order of Gen. Deane in 1650. Has been at great trouble in bringing his case forward, and if he is not paid, others will be disheartened from entertaining men.	33
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	Robt. Blackborne.	Capt. Clarke is on board the Hampshire, making ready to sail with the victuallers, but Capt. "	Capt. Peter Foote, the Merlin, Portsmouth.	"	Has appointed Thos. Russell, boatswain of the Essex, as master of the Merlin, by desire of Capt. Thorowgood, his master being ignorant and the boatswain absent; hopes to sail to-morrow, although the company are unwilling, for want of money to buy clothes.	36
"	William Martin	Adm. Com.	Petition for a gunner's place in one of the ships building at Woolwich or Portsmouth, having served 6 years as midshipman and gunner, and been in all the engagements against the Dutch. With certificates of Vice-Adms. Lawson and Penn of his having served under them.	37, 38
"	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	"	Particulars of ships. Has ordered the Merlin to go to Cowes, where there are 30 merchant ships, and if he may take a man out of each, it will man him well. His boatswain being absent and very refractory, has appointed one Bias; the late master is weak as regards navigation, but knows no other to put in his place, unless it is the boatswain of the Essex.	39
"	Capt. Roger Jones, Liverpool.	"	Having order from the Lord-Deputy and Council of Ireland to repair to the north of Ireland, applied to Roger Drake, the victualler, for a supply, but he refused, on an order of the contractors to victual no more there; had to go to the Lord-Deputy for an order for a month's provisions; set sail, but meeting with contrary winds, was forced to put his men on half allowance, and only had 2 days' provisions when he arrived at Liverpool.	40
"	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	"	Particulars of ships	41
"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup> , London	[Adm. Com.]	Protest before Joshua Mainet, notary public, against Capt. W. Haddock of the Hannibal, for breach of contract in not proceeding on his voyage with provisions for the Straits.	42
"	Capt. Wm. Haddock, Hannibal, Downs.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Reply to the above protest, that the delay arose from the violence of the weather, which damaged his ship and men, and having to ride at anchor with great difficulty and danger, thinks he rather deserves thankfulness than a protest. Hopes that there will be no stop put upon the freight contrary to the contract, and that he may be allowed to prosecute the voyage.	43

1655, Sept. 19	Vice-Adm. Jno. Lawson, Fairfax, Downs.	Adm. Com.	Has ordered Capt. Mackey of the Yarmouth to sail for Chatham, and there are now only 3 ships in the Downs; as the Gainsborough has been at sea 9 months and has only 14 days' provisions, asks whether she shall be supplied, so as to convoy to the Land's End the Hannibal, which was under sail, but forced again to anchor. Will direct Capt. Haddock to touch at Cascaes Road, and also to enquire whether Capt. Clarke with the victuallers is gone for Plymouth, and whether Gen. Blake is on the coast. The Tredagh has sailed for Portsmouth.	Vol. 114. 44

"	Thos. Turner, Navy Office.	Robt. Blackborne.	As the Navy Commissioners had risen, and some of them gone out of town, on receipt of his letter, has sent a copy of the pursers' instructions, but those for the captains are not yet perfected. "	"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Mr. Dymock is to deliver canvas to the sail maker to make sails for the ships in the West Indies; they should be sewn with waxed instead of tarred twine, as it lasts longer in hot countries. Is fitting out the Marston Moor, Preston, and Tredagh.	73

Plunkett at Wexford, then an enemy to the State, and stayed by the Customs' officers; they were lent to Col. Scrope at the time of the Worcester fight by Mr. Shewell, but when Bristol Castle was demolished, the Governor delivered them to Nich. Jordan, a Glover of Bristol, who detains them.	74
"	Isaac Holmes, Weymouth .	Robt. Blackborne.	Wrote of Capt. Lambert Cornelius what was true, although nothing can be done without proof, and is unwilling to incur expense upon an uncertainty. "	Vice-Adm. Jno. Lawson, Fairfax, Downs.	Blackborne	Reasons for not sending the Lyme or Gainsborough to convoy the Hannibal. Has ordered the Advice to ply off the Ness, for securing trade and annoying the pickeroons, and appointed two of the ketches to convoy a vessel bound to Rotterdam with cloth, and then to ply with the Advice off Beachy and the Ness, where the Drake and Hare also are, for securing the fisher- men, who are in much fear of French shallops. "	Capt. Edw. Blagge, Marston Moor, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	His wife and friends object much to his undertaking another voyage to Jamaica. Very few of his officers and men adhere to him, and are refractory, negligent, and idle, and vow they will be hanged before they will go there again, which all adds to his great trouble. Hopes they will appoint some other ship that has had its ease at home.	119

The Vice-Admiral did not order him to convey the Hannibal through the Channel, as the Admiralty Commissioners sent him down in such haste, and ordered his frigate to be fitted for a further voyage. It was not from any idle humour in him or disrespect to the service. Having lost the warrant for the minister, wants another. Has furnished them with the news from the Straits and Portugal. The neglect of the postmasters in forwarding the express brought by the Yarmouth, which lies with those of Southwark, was 200 l. damage to the State, as the Yarmouth was forced to lie a week in the Gore. Sends an account of victuals in 6 frigates named in the Downs. The Tiger has come in with a Flemish hoy from Amsterdams, bound for Rouen, laden with goods which Capt. Saunders supposes are French, but the men and papers are under examination by the Sub-commissioners of the Prize Office at Dover. Has victualled the Gainsborough for a month out of the Lyme, and ordered the Hare pink to convey the Fraternity of New England towards Scilly, so that there are now none but the Drake left, either for convoys or to cruise in the Narrow. "	Capt. Edw. Blagge, Marston Moor , Portsmouth Har- bour .	Adm. Com.	Has received theirs, that affairs in America require his speedy return thither; but at the solicitation of his wife and friends at Plymouth desires that he may be excused, and another commander appointed. Jno. Redwood the master, Derrick Curtis, carpenter, and Hill the cook, refuse to go; the others are willing, but there is neither lieutenant nor purser yet come, although the ship has been ready to go to Spithead these three days. Mr. Poortmans would pay the com-pany while in harbour if it were not believed that not three of them would remain afterwards.	83
"	Capt. Philip Geth- ings, Portsmouth .	"	Recommends Jno. Wentworth for master.	84
"	Capt. Giles Heather, Princess Maria , Downs .	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Being very ill, if his ship is to return to her station, begs an order to the master to take the command for a week or two, so as to see how the Lord will be pleased to deal with him.	85
"	Vice-Adm. Jno. Lawson, Fairfax , Downs .	Robt. Blackborne.	Sends two muster books. Gen. Blake, with 5 sail and a ketch, arrived in the Downs this morning, and 9 sail were sent home on 23 Sept., all being short of provisions. Has been on half allowance himself, and has very little left.	86
"	"	Adm. Com.	Thanks for liberty to come to London to go to see his wife. Hopes Gen. Blake, with his Vice and Rear-Admiral, and 6 or 7 more, will be in the Thames and Chatham this evening.	87
"	"	"	The General arrived yesterday; advised him to sail for Chatham, which he did, after which his Vice-Admiral and his Rear-Admiral Stokes came in, with the Unicorn, Bridgewater, and Elias; they have also gone towards the river; to-morrow will send Mr. Pitt, with 7,600 l. prize money on board the Fairfax, in the William ketch for Chatham. If the General had not arrived, would have presumed to send Vice-Adm. Badley to Chatham, as also the 3rd rate frigates, their victuals being nearly spent, and the 4th rate into the river, which the General intends to do. Thanks for leave to come up to see his wife, who is very weak; will leave the business with Capt. Bourne.

"	Navy Comrs. -	Adm. Com.	As the master of the Marston Moor will not go in the return voyage, there is much need of another. Send the diver employed to find the guns belonging to the Liberty for a further allowance. He has received 30 l. on account of his wages and to make engines; although the weather has prevented his expectations, he doubts not but to do some good in the spring east winds.	90
"	Capt. Mic. Nutton, Satisfaction, Falmouth.	"	On orders from the Council at Dublin, to take in the remainder of the goods belonging to Lord-Deputy Fleetwood, and then, upon arriving at Depford, to wait instructions from the Admiralty Commissioners, set sail on 27 Sept.; but meeting with very rough weather, sprung several leaks, and had to keep the pumps going until he got into Falmouth; having now stopped them, will proceed. The Sorlings and Byer are at Falmouth.	91
"	Capt. Chas. Thorowgood, Portsmouth.	"	Has desired the commanders of 5 ships to supply 10 men's victuals each, so as to get the Marston Moor's provisions on board, which may be done in 3 hours, if the other captains will lend men as they have promised; as she is unmanned, questions whether she should be sent out without 50 at the least, and Capt. Myngs cannot engage one of her men. Desires a warrant for his discharge.	92
"	Cpts. Chas. Thorowgood and Edw. Blegge, Portsmouth.	"	Hearing that Mr. Poortmans intended paying off the Marston Moor, notwithstanding she is still in harbour, went to him and found the money ready upon the table; but having told him that if he paid before she arrived at Spithead, it would be a great hindrance to the service, he put up the money again, and went to London for further order. Thereupon the mariners, thinking they were deluded, began to be in a great distemper, until persuaded to wait till the Commissioners' decision was obtained; think they had now better be paid.	93
"	Comr. Peter Pett, Chatham.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Some 7 ships have been seen about the Nore Head; as soon as they arrive, will send an express. 1655. Oct. 8	Comr. Peter Pett, Chatham.	Adm. Com.	Seven sail have been seen near the Nore Head, supposed to be some of Gen. Blake's fleet, two having flags in the main and foretops; as those appointed for Chatham will probably be at their moorings to-morrow, asks what to do with their men. Has ordered Mr. Hill to go to those ships, with instructions to keep off all boys until they arrive at anchor. Will go and meet them to-morrow himself.	Vol. 114. 96
"	"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	The Fairfax having arrived, asks what to do with her, and where her men are to be paid. Is in hand with the Naseby, but dares not sheathe her with the glassy nails sent from London, as being so brittle, scarcely one will hold a blow without breaking. The 3 West India ships will soon sail. Sends some demands from the storekeeper, which he wishes hastened down.	97
"	Thos. Pointer	"	Delivered their warrant to Mr. Packwood, clerk of the check at Woolwich, for entering himself and servant on board the Speaker, but he scruples, because ordered to enter only a certain number, and no steward. As it is in course for pursers to be borne on 3rd-rate ships while in harbour, desires an order to enter him.	98

"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	Col. John Clarke.	Is almost ready to sail, but the ship is very much worn eaten, and the powder much damaged; will make shift with 24 barrels. The mainmast has also sprung, but may serve for 2 months longer in the Channel.	104
"	"	Adm. Com.	Is much importuned by Mrs. Blagge to prevent her husband's being sent on the next voyage. She is a sober, good woman, has 8 or 9 children, and is passionately affected with his absence. Begs that he may be spared this voyage.	105
"	"	"	The frigate taken by the Sapphire and Nightingale is new and a good sailer. Will use all means to get rid of the prisoners, and has promised them to 2 owners of ships if they will ship some stout crews. The Taunton has been provisioned and gone to Portsmouth, and the Nantwich and Assurance into Catwater.	106

"	Capt. Robt. Plum- leigh, Reserve, Plymouth Sound.	"	In July, certified his departure from Plymouth, and the taking and sending in there of a ship of Rochelle with fish; has since met another from Newfoundland, from whom he demanded the 10th due to the State, but as she had little money, was forced to receive 10 l. , 6 hogs-heads of train oil, and 100 of dry fish. Since then, has been guarding the English fishery from the French, of whom there have been 100 sail fishing on the coast; the English have generally made a good voyage, and gone home. Will go for Portsmouth, but if he is to keep at sea, will want another suit of sails.	115

Many of the fishers are gone, and 21 sail are ready to go for England; a great part of our fleet have gone for Falmouth, under convoy of Capt. Ames of the Winsby. The French fishers have been blown upon their own coast by the storms, which have hindered the fishing, and done much damage to the nets.	121
"	Capt. Chas. Thorrow- good.	"	Has sent an express about a mutiny amongst the company of the Marston Moor about their pay; 150 of them started for London, but many returned. "	Capt. Christ. Myngs, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	On arriving at Portsmouth, found his company in such an attitude as does not admit of further employment; for his own influence on them, they are most strange faces to him, and if pressed, they might infect others with their own baseness and fear. Sent to the General, who ordered that when he had only 14 days' provisions, he was to go in; but if it would last to the end of November, then he was to haul on shore at North Shields, and only wash, which was much needed, as having been off the ground 9 months, her grass was so long and the barnacles and mussels so numerous that every collier outsailed her. The Admiralty Commissioners have directed Mr. Tippetts to girdle the Essex. Should Gen. Blake's fleet, now in the Bay, come in to refit, they will want a suit of sails each, and there are none in store.	188

1655. Oct. 19	Capt. Robt. Smith, Rochester.	Col. Jno. Clarke.	Has searched all the smiths' houses and other suspicious places for the ironwork embezzled, and found 6,300 cwt. of good serviceable articles, nearly 50 cwt. being on one man, and the evidence of his servants proves that the goods seized belonged to the State. Has taken a room to stow them in, also bonds of those having them for their appearance before the Admiralty Commissioners when required. Encloses a paper from the clerk of the check and cook of the Unicorn, accusing the boatswain of embezzlement; advised them to apply to Commissioner Pett, but they think him soft in such matters. With examinations taken 16 Oct., of Steven Clarke, Jeremy Giles, and Jno. Thompson, servant and apprentices to Robt. Moore, of Gillingham, Kent, as to their master's purchasing ships' stores of the carpenters and other officers, and reselling them to the State. Also examination of Rich. Burton, of St. Margaret's, Rochester, blacksmith, 18 Oct., that he bought some of the iron seized of a labourer employed in the State's yard at Chatham, who said he had it from a ship, but does not remember where he purchased the remainder. Also account of embezzled stores found in possession of persons named about Chatham and Rochester, and seized by order of the Admiralty Commissioners.	Vol. 116. 20-25
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth.	Adm. Com.	On their letter about the short allowance money due to the Hampshire, has paid Capt. Blake 7 d. a day each man, but if the rest of the fleet only have 6 d. , he will return the difference. Capt. Heaton, being unfit for the winter service, is going home. Wrote Col. Clarke about pursers and the short allowance money for the Nantwich and Assurance. Particulars of ships. Carried the money for the soldiers from Dumbarton Firth to Inverloch, by order of Gen. If he can obtain sails, hopes to get to the Hope on Monday, and the rest of his provisions may be sent after him.	30
"	"	Adm. Com.	When commander of the Cardiff in her last voyage, found her tight and well sheathed, but being 14 years old, she was weak abaft; thinks she can be made serviceable at a small charge.	31
"	John Packwood, Woolwich.	Robt. Blackborne.	Sends his reasons for maintaining that it is of greater advantage to the State to have ships fitted out at Woolwich than elsewhere, although some have endeavoured to show to the contrary; 10 seamen home on board wages will do more service therein in one day than 30 of the ship's company; although there is less store room at Woolwich, there are other conveniences which do not exist in the other yards.	32

1655. Oct. 26	Rich. Browne, Pembroke .	Major Robt. Thomson.	Milford being appointed a victualling port, informed Col. Clarke, when at London, of the applications made to him for provisions for tallowing and fitting the ships appointed on the coast, but time did not permit the obtaining what he wanted. The Basing being there on his return, and the captain being out of money, furnished him with supplies for tallowing, and will send up the account. Husbanded the expense, but the weather being so foul, the boats with the guns were forced to attend 6 days, which augmented the charge. Some one should be appointed to do such things; if he is to do them, will endeavour the good of the public.	Vol. 116. 101
"	"	Adm. Com.	Arrival and repairs of ships	102
"	Capt. Alex. Farly, the Basing, Milford Haven .	"	Sent two letters since his arrival, and waits orders. Having been off the ground 7 months, and being very foul, has tallowed and fitted, and now requires provisions.	103
"	Capt. Nich. Foster, and 3 others.	—	Certificate that Tristram May, late clerk of the check of the Phoenix, faithfully discharged his duties, as well in the engagements with the enemy as at all other times, and is well qualified to be a purser.	104
"	Capt. Hen. Hatsell, Plymouth .	Robt. Blackborne.	Delivered the tickets for the Nantwich and Assurance to Captains Geffery and Holland, and advised them to be careful how they gave them out, Capt. Sparling, of the Assurance, has come in with a cracked bowsprit, and brought in a little bunker with her. There are 9 vessels which were bound for St. Sebastian and Bilboa, one from New England, and 8 with fish from Newfoundland which are come off from St. Anthony's Road, near Bilboa, one of the masters having notice of the seizure and embargo there. He will have his hands full if there is a war with Spain.	105
"	"	Adm. Com.	Will pay the captains of the Nantwich and Assurance their short allowance money; but for the weather, they would have had their 4 months' provisions on board. Mr. Fox has signed his bond. Mr. Barber, purser of the Assurance, doubts not but his friends will be bound. Delivered the instructions to Captains Geffery and Holland, who promised to be careful of their charge. Capt. Sparling has come in with a cracked bowsprit. He met, amongst other ships, a ship of London from St. Anthony's, near Bilboa, who told him of the embargo and seizure in Spain, which he had imparted to other ships, who thereupon all came away. Sparling also met 5 ships of Bilboa and St. Sebastian, laden with fish, from Newfoundland, bound home, and suffered them to pass, having no orders to meddle with them.	106
"	Navy Coms.	"	Understanding that the Bristol, with Capt. Haddock, Mr. Morley, and Master Everett, commanders of the 3 victualling ships sent to Gen. Blake's fleet, has arrived at Spithhead, desire order for the disposal of the provisions on board, and whether they shall unlade at Portsmouth. With order 27 Oct., that the Hannibal discharge her stores at Portsmouth, and her victuals be given to Capt. Alderne's instrument, and that the others discharge their stores in like manner, and then come to London.	107, 108

1655. Oct. 26	Capt. Jno. Parker, Truelove, Milford Haven.	Adm. Com.	Came in to victual. Had very sore weather at sea, and they were in great hazard of their lives, if Providence had not cast them into Waterford Harbour. The ship being small, the channel narrow and dangerous, and the nights long, they are unable to endure the seas; if he is to stay out the winter, asks some other station, as where he is, he can do no service. "	"	"	Order for the sheathing of the Speaker	111
"	"	"	Order for the sheathing and refitting the Success, Lion, Mathias, and other ships mentioned in their order of the 25th inst.	112
"	Capt. Dan. Baker, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Wind and weather favouring, got to Spithead, and on obtaining 15 more men, will proceed according to instructions.	113
"	Capt. Jno. Bourne	"	Certificate of the good behaviour and diligence of Wm. Healey when under him in the Assistance, as pilot and master's mate, and since as master of the Centurion.	114
"	Thos. Hall, boat- swain of the Wor- cester, Woolwich.	Comr. Bourne.	Begs him to sign the tickets for the wages of Jas. Wickliffe and Edw. King, stopped until further evidence as to whether they or their former master, Jno. Flower, should receive them; when they came into the Worcester under Capt. Hill, they could not go to sea for want of clothes, whereupon he supplied them; they have been long under restraint, and the master knows by the trial at Guildhall that they were freed from him.	115
"	Geo. Dawson, Cus- tom House, New- castle.	Robt. Blackborne.	Begs payment of salvage for an anchor and cable belonging to the Sun, taken up near Tyne- mouth Bar by some fishermen, and brought to Shields.	116
"	Jno. Hook	—	Deposition that when he was attending upon the James, commanded by Capt. Stokes, 2 small guns seized were supplied for the ketch, with 16 rounds of shot, by order of General Blake, 1½ years since.	117
"	Capt. Hugh Middle- ton, Portsmouth.	Blackborne.	Since receiving his commission and instructions, has seen Capt. Thorowgood and the master ship- wright, who with himself will endeavour to get the ship out, but there are no officers, save the boatswain; Mr. Tippetts has sent to London for the carpenter. Asks a press warrant, and what number of men he is to carry.	118
"	Thos. Newberry, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	Is taking about 20 brass and substituting 16 iron ordnance in the Marston Moor; the Cardiff will carry about 28 pieces as a man-of-war, although she only had 18 as a victualler. If they will sell the outlandish iron ordnance on Tower Wharf, will send a merchant who will buy them at a good price.	119
"	Ezekiel Pakeman	Col. Clarke	As to his ability to manage the purser's place in the Resolution, dares challenge any purser in England concerning either the theoretical or practical part of that employment; if conferred on him, will execute it with all faithfulness.	120

"	Capt. Jno. Tippetts, Portsmouth .	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Received their warrants for fitting and repairing 17 ships, but only two are in harbour, the rest being at Spithead. Sent an account of their wants, and an estimate of the charge. The works will take a long time to accomplish, with only 180 men of all sorts, as other work may come in. Asks whether he may increase the number, and what ships he is to put in hand first.	126
"	Capt. Wm. Whitehorn, the Gainsborough , Portsmouth .	Robt. Blackborne.	Has been in the Downs under the Vice-Admiral and Capt. Bourne, and has come in to tallow and r efit. Has spared Capt. Myngs 10 men; hopes a further supply speedily.	127
"	Rich. Brooke, Gatehouse .	Lieut.-Col. Kelsey.	Having patiently waited some hours for redemption, but in vain, sends a petition to the Commissioners, and desires favour in getting it read; is confident that a summons to attend them will make him yield to good and honest things.	128
"	Adm. Com.	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Order to enter 50 more workmen at Deptford, 60 at Woolwich, 100 at Chatham, and 50 at Portsmouth, an order of 27 Jan. last limiting the whole establishment to 980 notwithstanding, they being required for fitting out the winter guard and next summer's fleet.	129
"	"	Wm. Willoughby, Navy Com <sup>r</sup> .	Order for the ships at Spithead, returned from the Straits, and belonging to Gen. Blake's fleet, to repair to Portsmouth, to be paid off and refitted.	130

Greene as gunner. Has still the captain and company of the Ostend shallop on board; is not a whit sorry at the dismissal of his steward and clerk of the check. Is sorry to hear of Mr. Creed's illness; hopes the nation and his friends will soon have the comfort of so fit a help.	132

1655. Oct. 29	Capt. Christ. Myngs, Portsmouth.	Adm. Com.	There has not been 1,000s. nor even 500s. paid to volunteers; as to bad management, there was not a man paid until the frigate was at Spithead. Only gave leave to 4 or 5 to go to London, of whose return he has no doubt. The influence of volunteers brings in others. Has not been hindered for want of men; as for impressing, has hitherto had no boats to carry him to and fro. Has 50 men ready to come from the Gainsborough and Advice, who will leave half their pay in hand until ready to sail, so as to remove any jealousy of non-compliance from fear of the frigate being lost. On the Commissioners' arrival, it will be found there was no such thing, nor any cause to blame the master. Desires order for paying the short allowance, as without some encouragement, it will be impossible to man without that disengaging course of turning over. The arrival of his provisions has been delayed by bad weather.	Vol. 116. 133
"	Capt. Jas. Tarry, Indian.	Robt. Blackborne.	Could sail on Thursday if he knew where to procure men. Desires warrants for Mr. Gravenor, late of the Mathias, as chaplain, Mr. Street, his late clerk of the check, as lieutenant, and Jno. Stoakes as cook.	134
"	Jno. Wyles -	Col. Clarke.	As the Mermaid is ready to leave Woolwich Dock, asks a petty warrant for her, that he may follow his business.	135

"	"	"	" " " of Rich. Badley at 30s. a day as Vice-Admiral in Gen. Blake's fleet till the Andrew was paid off.	138
"	"	"	Order for a bill to Jno. Harwood for 913l. 4s. 0d., according to a bill of exchange drawn, to be placed to the account of Capt. Crispin and the other Commissioners who drew it.	139
"	"	"	Order for survey and sale of a quantity of clothes returned from Gen. Penn's fleet, which were supplied by Vice-Adm. Goodson when in the West Indies, Gen. Penn also nominating some persons to join therein.	140
"	"	"	Order to charge the boatswains of the Langport and Centurion with anchors, cables, &c., supplied by Capt. Thos. Bowrey of the Warwick.	141
"	Capt. Joseph Cubitt, Dartmouth.	Robt. Blackborne.	Thanks for the offer of the western station; cannot accept it, yet is so desirous of the fleet's prosperity, that if anything presents itself at Dartmouth which may contribute thereto, will communicate it.	142
"	Humphrey Dennes, Dover.	[Adm. Com.]	Being in a house at Dover, overheard the clerk of the check say to the steward of the Centurion, "I wonder that you, having given security, leave so much provision ashore, not knowing what necessity we may be driven to in so long a voyage." The steward making light of it, the clerk said he must give an account of it when opportunity presents.	143

"	"	Navy Com <sup>rs</sup>	Has entered several men on the Ruby, Maidstone, and Providence, fitting out for sea, 15 being on the Ruby. As the men are discontented for want of victuals, and he has no one he can trust with petty warrants, wants a purser appointed, and orders as to victualing those of the Satisfaction. Has enquired why the muster books in rigging time were not brought to the pay table, seeing he is required to send up two of each ship, setting off the absences of each man, so that they might be defalked out of their wages, which is beneficial in various ways, but hears they are lost. The men care little for their victuals, so that they have their wages, and although daily musters are troublesome, they are yet profitable; asks orders, that the labour may not be so slighted. Although the Old President was sold long since, the boatswain and his servant are still borne upon her at the State's pay.	152
"	Edw. Hopkins, Navy Office.	Adm. Com.	Mr. Kendall, clerk of the survey at Deptford, when making a survey of the remains of carpenter's stores on board the Plymouth, found 6 barrels of powder in the carpenter's storeroom, covered over with deals and canvas; the gunner having already delivered up his remains, including 108 barrels of powder, have examined Jno. Butt, carpenter, Wm. Paine, gunner, and Hugh Hogrose, yeoman, respecting them, and although they plead ignorance, believes they were all more or less guilty.	153

ADDENDA.

Chatham.
- Commissioner Peter Pett to the Admiralty Commissioners. I would have apprehended Fortescue when he came over had I known of it, but he is gone to London, and is staying at Mr. Fortune's, a cooper in Harper Lane, Tower Street; if he visits Chatham again, I will secure him. Thanks for the joyful news of the defeat of the Cavaliers westward. I send the certificates of the masters of the vessels I employed, by direction of his Highness, on special service. Browne, whom they mention, is probably guilty of many similar abuses; I blamed Mr. Hill, the looker out for embezzlements, for not bringing him up. The Elizabeth having her provisions and 60 men, I have sent her to the Hope to get more and wait for orders; the Centurion is ready to victual, having some 30 volunteers. I received the powder and ammunition from the Tower, and sent it on board the Centurion, and will give the Ordnance officers an account, so that they may send the rest. Had dangers increased, I should have been able (being forewarned) to secure the stores on shore, as well as the ships afloat, for some considerable time; but as the Lord has prevented their designs, I am willing to part with the ammunition for present service. The boatswain and clerk of the Elizabeth, having neglected their duty, are not fit for the service. [1½ pages. Vol. XCV., No. 54a.]
- [May 16.] Petition of Barth. Cox, of Wells, co. Somerset, to Council, for a pass to Flanders; has friends there whom he wishes to see, to benefit his outward estate, and gain experience. With certificate by Jas. Baron, linendraper, Bread Street, London, that Cox was never engaged in any conspiracy, and desires to travel to better his fortune. [1 page. See Warrant Tables, May 16, 1655. Vol. XCVII., No. 41a.]
- Aug. 16. Petition of Margaret, Countess of Worcester, to the Protector. I was married to Edward now Earl of Worcester in 1639, with a portion of 20,000*l.*, but have only received 400*l.* from the whole estate these 9 years, in lieu of jointure, fifths, or thirds; finding only Worcester House unsold, I beg the benefit of that house, and of such other things as may be discovered. [1 page. Vol. C., No. 32a.]
- Aug. 16. Petition of Armiger Warner to Council. On the order on my former petition [See 29 June 1655], Jeffryes put off the trial till next term, but made me pay his charges. I offered him 216*l.* in money, and the forfeiture of the bond, from the first money I receive from the State, but he refused to accept it. I beg indemnity in what I have done for the State's service.

P.S.—If I might have 350*l.* that I can discover in the hands of 3 collectors of prize goods that have deceived the State of it, I would never trouble Council any more. [Vol. C., No. 32b.]

Aug. ?      Armiger Warner to Sir Chas. Wolsley. I send you copies of the papers on my case. I want an order to indemnify me for not going to Virginia. On your last order [See 29 June 1655], referring the case to Scobell and Jessop, we both appeared, and I offered Jeffryes the first 120*l.* that I should receive of the State, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  of what else I recovered, till the penalty of the bond was paid, but he refused. Mr. Scobell said he feared Council would not indemnify me, so I submitted to arbitration, but shall suffer much unless I have an order for indemnity. For God's sake let it be ended one way or other. If Council cannot relieve me, or satisfy me for my 23 months' attendance, let them tell me so and dismiss me, and I will take it as a favour. [Vol. C., No. 32c.]

Oct. 19.      Order in Council that the Admiralty Commissioners provide 8 ships named, with all possible secrecy, to be forthwith sent to the West Indies. [Vol. CI., No. 59a. This Order is not in the Council order-book.]

CALENDARS OF STATE PAPERS, &c.

[IMPERIAL 8vo., cloth. Price 15s. each Volume or Part.]

As far back as the year 1800, a Committee of the House of Commons recommended that Indexes and Calendars should be made to the Public Records, and thirty-six years afterwards another Committee of the House of Commons reiterated that recommendation in more forcible words; but it was not until the incorporation of the State Paper Office with the Public Record Office that the Master of the Rolls found himself in a position to take the necessary steps for carrying out the wishes of the House of Commons.

On 7 December 1855, he stated to the Lords of the Treasury that although "the Records, State Papers, and Documents in his charge constitute the most complete and perfect series of their kind in the civilized world," and although "they are of the greatest value in a historical, and constitutional point of view, yet they are comparatively useless to the public, from the want of proper Calendars and Indexes."

Acting upon the recommendations of the Committees of the House of Commons above referred to, he suggested to the Lords of the Treasury that to effect the object he had in view it would be necessary for him to employ a few Persons fully qualified to perform the work which he contemplated.

Their Lordships assented to the necessity of having Calendars prepared and printed, and empowered the Master of the Rolls to take such steps as might be necessary for this purpose.

The following Works have been already published under the direction of the Master of the Rolls:—

The affairs of several of the minor continental states also find various incidental illustrations of much interest.

A valuable series of Papers descriptive of the circumstances which attended the loss of Calais merits a special notice; while the progress of the wars in the north of France, into which England was dragged by her union with Spain, is narrated at some length. The first volume contains the Spanish Papers of the reign of Henry VII.; the second volume, those of the first portion of the reign of Henry VIII. The Supplement contains new information relating to the private life of Queen Katharine of England; and to the projected marriage of Henry VII. with Queen Juana, widow of King Philip of Castile, and mother of the Emperor Charles V.

THE CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND DURING THE MIDDLE AGES.

[ROYAL 8vo. half-bound. Price 10s. each Volume or Part.]

On 25 July 1822, the House of Commons presented an address to the Crown, stating that the editions of the works of our ancient historians were inconvenient and defective; that many of their writings still remained in manuscript, and, in some cases, in a single copy only. They added, "that an uniform and convenient edition of the whole, published under His Majesty's royal sanction, would be an undertaking honourable to His Majesty's reign, and conducive to the advancement of historical and constitutional knowledge; that the House therefore humbly besought His Majesty, that He would be graciously pleased to give such directions as His Majesty, in His wisdom, might think fit, for the publication of a complete edition of the ancient historians of this realm, and assured His Majesty that whatever expense might be necessary for this purpose would be made good."

The Master of the Rolls, being very desirous that effect should be given to the resolution of the House of Commons, submitted to Her Majesty's Treasury in 1857 a plan for the publication of the ancient chronicles and memorials of the United Kingdom, and it was adopted accordingly. In selecting these works, it was considered right, in the first instance, to give preference to those of which the manuscripts were unique, or the materials of which would help to fill up blanks in English history for which no satisfactory and authentic information hitherto existed in any accessible form. One great object the Master of the Rolls had in view was to form a corpus historicum within reasonable limits, and which should be as complete as possible. In a subject of so vast a range, it was important that the historical student should be able to select such volumes as conformed with his own peculiar tastes and studies, and not be put to the expense of purchasing the whole collection; an inconvenience inseparable from any other plan than that which has been in this instance adopted.

Of the Chronicles and Memorials, the following volumes have been published. They embrace the period from the earliest time of British history down to the end of the reign of Henry VII.

1. THE CHRONICLE OF ENGLAND, by JOHN CAPGRAVE. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1858.

Capgrave was prior of Lynn, in Norfolk, and provincial of the order of the Friars Hermits of England shortly before the year 1464. His Chronicle extends from the creation of the world to the year 1417. As a record of the language spoken in Norfolk (being written in English), it is of considerable value.

2. CHRONICON MONASTERII DE ABINGDON. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham, and Vicar of Leighton Buzzard. 1858.

This Chronicle traces the history of the great Benedictine monastery of Abingdon in Berkshire, from its foundation by King Ina of Wessex, to the reign of Richard I., shortly after which period the present narrative was drawn up by an inmate of the establishment. The author had access to the title-deeds of the house; and incorporates into his history various charters of the Saxon kings, of great importance as illustrating not only the history of the locality but that of the kingdom. The work is printed for the first time.

3. LIVES OF EDWARD THE CONFESSOR. I.—La Estoire de Seint Aedward le Rei. II.—Vita Beati Edvardi Regis et Confessoris. III.—Vita Eduuardi Regis qui apud Westmonasterium requiescit. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1858.

The first is a poem in Norman French, containing 4,686 lines, addressed to Alianor, Queen of Henry III., and probably written in the year 1245, on the occasion of the restoration of the church of Westminster. Nothing is known of the author. The second is an anonymous poem, containing 536 lines, written between the years 1440 and 1450, by command of Henry VI., to whom it is dedicated. It does not throw any new light on the reign of Edward the Confessor, but is valuable as a specimen of the Latin poetry of the time. The third, also by an anonymous author, was apparently written for Queen Edith, between the years 1066 and 1074, during the pressure of the suffering brought on the Saxons by the Norman conquest. It notices many facts not found in other writers, and some which differ considerably from the usual accounts.

4. MONUMENTA FRANCISCANA ; scilicet, I.—Thomas de Eccleston de Adventu Fratrum Minorum in Angliam. II.—Adæ de Marisco Epistolæ. III.—Registrum Fratrum Minorum Londoniæ. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. 1858.

This volume contains original materials for the history of the settlement of the order of Saint Francis in England, the letters of Adam de Marisco, and other papers connected with the foundation and diffusion of this great body. It has been the aim of the editor to collect whatever historical information could be found in this country, towards illustrating a period of the national history for which only scanty materials exist. None of these have been before printed.

5. FASCICULI ZIZANIORUM MAGISTRI JOHANNIS WYCLIF CUM TRITICO. Ascribed to THOMAS NETTER, of WALDEN, Provincial of the Carmelite Order in England, and Confessor to King Henry the Fifth. Edited by the Rev. W. W. SHIRLEY, M.A., Tutor and late Fellow of Wadham College, Oxford. 1858.

This work derives its principal value from being the only contemporaneous account of the rise of the Lollards. When written the disputes of the schoolmen had been extended to the field of theology, and they appear both in the writings of Wycliff and in those of his adversaries. Wycliff's little bundles of tares are not less metaphysical than theological, and the conflict between Nominalists and Realists rages side by side with the conflict between the different interpreters of Scripture. The work gives a good idea of the controversies at the end of the 14th and the beginning of the 15th centuries.

6. THE BUIK OF THE CRONICLIS OF SCOTLAND ; or, A Metrical Version of the History of Hector Boece ; by WILLIAM STEWART. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. B. TURNBULL, Esq., of Lincoln's Inn, Barrister-at-Law. 1858.

This is a metrical translation of a Latin Prose Chronicle, and was written in the first half of the 16th century. The narrative begins with the earliest legends, and ends with the death of James I. of Scotland, and the "evil ending of the traitors that slew him." Strict accuracy of statement is not to be looked for in such a work as this ; but the stories of the colonization of Spain, Ireland, and Scotland are interesting if not true ; and the chronicle is valuable as a reflection of the manners, sentiments, and character of the age in which it was composed. The peculiarities of the Scottish dialect are well illustrated in this metrical version, and the student of language will find ample materials for comparison with the English dialects of the same period, and with modern lowland Scotch.

7. JOHANNIS CAPGRAVE LIBER DE ILLUSTRIBUS HENRICIS. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1858.

This work is dedicated to Henry VI. of England, who appears to have been, in the author's estimation, the greatest of all the Henries. It is divided into three distinct parts, each having its own separate dedication. The first part relates only to the history of the Empire, and extends from the election of Henry I., the Fowler, to the end of the reign of the Emperor Henry VI. The second part is devoted to English history, and extends from the accession of Henry I. in the year 1100, to the year 1446, which was the twenty-fourth year of the reign of King Henry VI. The third part contains the lives of illustrious men who have born the name of Henry in various parts of the world.

Capgrave was born in 1393, in the reign of Richard II., and lived during the Wars of the Roses, for the history of which period his work is of some value.

8. HISTORIA MONASTERII S. AUGUSTINI CANTUARIENSIS, by THOMAS OF ELMHAM, formerly Monk and Treasurer of that Foundation. Edited by CHARLES HARDWICK, M.A., Fellow of St. Catharine's Hall, and Christian Advocate in the University of Cambridge. 1858.

This history extends from the arrival of St. Augustine in Kent until 1191. Prefixed is a chronology as far as 1418, which shows in outline what was to have been the character of the work when completed. The only copy known is in the possession of Trinity Hall, Cambridge. The author was connected with Norfolk, and most probably with Elmham, whence he derived his name.

9. EULOGIUM (HISTORIARUM SIVE TEMPORIS): Chronicon ab Orbe condito usque ad Annum Domini 1366; a Monacho quodam Malmesbiriensi exaratum. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by F. S. HAYDON, Esq., B.A. 1858-1863.

This is a Latin Chronicle extending from the Creation to the latter part of the reign of Edward III., and written by a monk of the Abbey of Malmesbury, in Wiltshire, about the year 1367. A continuation, carrying the history of England down to the year 1413, was added in the former half of the fifteenth century by an author whose name is not known. The original Chronicle is divided into five books, and contains a history of the world generally, but more especially of England to the year 1366. The continuation extends the history down to the coronation of Henry V. The Eulogium itself is chiefly valuable as containing a history, by a contemporary, of the period between 1356 and 1366. The notices of events appear to have been written very soon after their occurrence. Among other interesting matter, the Chronicle contains a diary of the Poitiers campaign, evidently furnished by some person who accompanied the army of the Black Prince. The continuation of the Chronicle is also the work of a contemporary, and gives a very interesting account of the reigns of Richard II. and Henry IV. It is believed to be the earliest authority for the statement that the latter monarch died in the Jerusalem Chamber at Westminster.

10. MEMORIALS OF HENRY THE SEVENTH: Bernardi Andrea Tholosatis Vita Regis Henrici Septimi; necnon alia quædam ad eundem Regem spectantia. Edited by JAMES GAIRDNER, Esq. 1858.

The contents of this volume are—(1) a life of Henry VII., by his poet laureate and historiographer, Bernard André, of Toulouse, with some compositions in verse, of which he is supposed to have been the author; (2) the journals of Roger Machado during certain embassies on which he was sent by Henry VII. to Spain and Brittany, the first of which had reference to the marriage of the King's son, Arthur, with Catharine of Arragon; (3) two curious reports by envoys sent to Spain in the year 1505 touching the succession to the Crown of Castile, and a project of marriage between Henry VII. and the Queen of Naples; and (4) an account of Philip of Castile's reception in England in 1506. Other documents of interest in connexion with the period are given in an appendix.

11. MEMORIALS OF HENRY THE FIFTH. I.—Vita Henrici Quinti, Roberto Redmanno auctore. II.—Versus Rhythmici in laudem Regis Henrici Quinti. III.—Elmhani Liber Metricus de Henrico V. Edited by CHARLES A. COLE, Esq. 1858.

This volume contains three treatises which more or less illustrate the history of the reign of Henry V., viz.: A Life by Robert Redman; a Metrical Chronicle by Thomas Elmham, prior of Lenton, a contemporary author; Versus Rhythnici, written apparently by a monk of Westminster Abbey, who was also a contemporary of Henry V. These works are printed for the first time.

12. MUNIMENTA GILDHALLÆ LONDONIENSIS; Liber Albus, Liber Custumarum, et Liber Horn, in archivis Gildhallæ asservati. Vol. I., Liber Albus. Vol. II. (in Two Parts), Liber Custumarum. Vol. III. Translation of the Anglo-Norman Passages in Liber Albus, Glossaries, Appendices, and Index. Edited by HENRY THOMAS RILEY, Esq., M.A., Barrister-at-Law. 1859-1862.

The manuscript of the Liber Albus, compiled by John Carpenter, Common Clerk of the City of London in the year 1419, a large folio volume, is preserved in the Record Room of the City of London. It gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of that City in the twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth, and early part of the fifteenth centuries.

The Liber Custumarum was compiled probably by various hands in the early part of the fourteenth century during the reign of Edward II. The manuscript, a folio volume, is also preserved in the Record Room of the City of London, though some portion in its original state, borrowed from the City in the reign of Queen Elizabeth and never returned, forms part of the Cottonian MS. Claudius D. II. in the British Museum. It also gives an account of the laws, regulations, and institutions of the City of London in the twelfth, thirteenth, and early part of the fourteenth centuries.

13. CHRONICA JOHANNIS DE OXENEDES. Edited by Sir HENRY ELLIS, K.H. 1859.

Although this Chronicle tells of the arrival of Hengist and Horsa in England in the year 449, yet it substantially begins with the reign of King Alfred, and comes down to the year 1292, where it ends abruptly. The history is particularly valuable for notices of events in the eastern portions of the kingdom which are not to be elsewhere obtained, and some curious facts are mentioned relative to the floods in that part of England, which are confirmed in the Friesland Chronicle of Anthony Heinrich, pastor of the Island of Mohr.

14. A COLLECTION OF POLITICAL POEMS AND SONGS RELATING TO ENGLISH HISTORY, FROM THE ACCESSION OF EDWARD III. TO THE REIGN OF HENRY VIII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1859-1861.

These Poems are perhaps the most interesting of all the historical writings of the period, though they cannot be relied on for accuracy of statement. They are various in character; some are upon religious subjects, some may be called satires, and some give no more than a court scandal; but as a whole they present a very fair picture of society, and of the relations of the different classes to one another. The period comprised is in itself interesting, and brings us, through the decline of the feudal system, to the beginning of our modern history. The songs in old English are of considerable value to the philologist.

15. The "OPUS TERTIUM," "OPUS MINUS," &c., of ROGER BACON. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. 1859.

This is the celebrated treatise—never before printed—so frequently referred to by the great philosopher in his works. It contains the fullest details we possess of the life and labours of Roger Bacon: also a fragment by the same author, supposed to be unique, the "Compendium Studii Theologiae."

16. BARTHOLOMÆI DE COTTON, MONACHI NORWICENSIS, HISTORIA ANGLICANA; 449-1298: necnon ejusdem Liber de Archiepiscopis et Episcopis Angliæ. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1859.

The author, a monk of Norwich, has here given us a Chronicle of England from the arrival of the Saxons in 449 to the year 1298, in or about which year it appears that he died. The latter portion of this history (the whole of the reign of Edward I. more especially) is of great value, as the writer was contemporary with the events which he records. An Appendix contains several illustrative documents connected with the previous narrative.

17. BRUT Y TYWYSOGION ; or, The Chronicle of the Princes of Wales. Edited by the Rev. JOHN WILLIAMS AB ITHEL, M.A. 1860.

This work, also known as "The Chronicle of the Princes of Wales," has been attributed to Caradoc of Llancarvan, who flourished about the middle of the twelfth century. It is written in the ancient Welsh language, begins with the abdication and death of Caedwala at Rome, in the year 681, and continues the history down to the subjugation of Wales by Edward I., about the year 1282.

18. A COLLECTION OF ROYAL AND HISTORICAL LETTERS DURING THE REIGN OF HENRY IV. 1399-1404. Edited by the Rev. F. C. HINGESTON, M.A., of Exeter College, Oxford. 1860.

This volume, like all the others in the series containing a miscellaneous selection of letters, is valuable on account of the light it throws upon biographical history, and the familiar view it presents of characters, manners, and events. The period requires much elucidation; to which it will materially contribute.

19. THE REPRESSOR OF OVER MUCH BLAMING OF THE CLERGY. By REGINALD PECOCK, sometime Bishop of Chichester. Vols. I. and II. Edited by CHURCHILL BABINGTON, B.D., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1860.

The "Repressor" may be considered the earliest piece of good theological disquisition of which our English prose literature can boast. The author was born about the end of the fourteenth century, consecrated Bishop of St. Asaph in the year 1444, and translated to the see of Chichester in 1450. While Bishop of St. Asaph, he zealously defended his brother prelates from the attacks of those who censured the bishops for their neglect of duty. He maintained that it was no part of a bishop's functions to appear in the pulpit, and that his time might be more profitably spent, and his dignity better maintained, in the performance of works of a higher character. Among those who thought differently were the Lollards, and against their general doctrines the "Repressor" is directed. Peacock took up a position midway between that of the Roman Church and that of the modern Anglican Church; but his work is interesting chiefly because it gives a full account of the views of the Lollards and of the arguments by which they were supported, and because it assists us to ascertain the state of feeling which ultimately led to the Reformation. Apart from religious matters, the light thrown upon contemporaneous history is very small, but the "Repressor" has great value for the philologist, as it tells us what were the characteristics of the language in use among the cultivated Englishmen of the fifteenth century. Peacock, though an opponent of the Lollards, showed a certain spirit of toleration, for which he received, towards the end of his life, the usual mediæval reward—persecution.

20. ANNALES CAMBRIÆ. Edited by the Rev. JOHN WILLIAMS AB ITHEL, M.A. 1860.

These annals, which are in Latin, commence in the year 447, and come down to the year 1288. The earlier portion appears to be taken from an Irish Chronicle, which was also used by Tigernach, and by the compiler of the Annals of Ulster. During its first century it contains scarcely anything relating to Britain, the earliest direct concurrence with English history is relative to the mission of Augustine. Its notices throughout, though brief, are valuable. The annals were probably written at St. Davids, by Blegewryd, Archdeacon of Llandaff, the most learned man in his day in all Cymru.

21. THE WORKS OF GIRALDUS CAMBRENSIS. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Professor of English Literature, King's College, London. Vols. V., VI., and VII. Edited by the Rev. JAMES F. DIMOCK, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. 1861-1877.

These volumes contain the historical works of Gerald du Barry, who lived in the reigns of Henry II., Richard I., and John, and attempted to re-establish the independence of Wales by restoring the see of St. Davids to its ancient primacy. His works are of a very miscellaneous nature, both in prose and verse, and are remarkable chiefly for the racy and original anecdotes which they contain relating to contemporaries. He is the only Welsh writer of any importance who has contributed so much to the mediæval literature of this country, or assumed, in consequence of his nationality, so free and independent a tone. His frequent travels in Italy, in France, in Ireland, and in Wales, gave him opportunities for observation which did not generally fall to the lot of mediæval writers in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, and of these observations Giraldus has made due use. Only extracts from these treatises have been printed before, and almost all of them are taken from unique manuscripts.

The Topographia Hibernica (in Vol. V.) is the result of Giraldus' two visits to Ireland. The first in the year 1183, the second in 1185-6, when he accompanied Prince John into that country. Curious as this treatise is, Mr. Dimock is of opinion that it ought not to be accepted as sober truthful history, for Giraldus himself states that truth was not his main object, and that he compiled the work for the purpose of sounding the praises of Henry the Second. Elsewhere, however, he declares that he had stated nothing in the Topographia of the truth of which he was not well assured, either by his own eyesight or by the testimony, with all diligence elicited, of the most trustworthy and authentic men in the country; that though he did not put just the same full faith in their reports as in what he had himself seen, yet, as they only related what they had themselves seen, he could not but believe such credible witnesses. A very interesting portion of this treatise is devoted to the animals of Ireland. It shows that he was a very accurate and acute observer, and his descriptions are given in a way that a scientific naturalist of the present day could hardly improve upon. The Expugnatio Hibernica was written about the year 1188 and may be regarded rather as a great epic than a sober relation of acts occurring in his own days. No one can peruse it without coming to the conclusion that it is rather a poetical fiction than a prosaic truthful history.

Vol. VI. contains the Itinerarium Cambriæ et Descriptio Cambriæ: and Vol. VII. the lives of S. Remigius and S. Hugh.

22. LETTERS AND PAPERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE WARS OF THE ENGLISH IN FRANCE DURING THE REIGN OF HENRY THE SIXTH, KING OF ENGLAND. Vol. I., and Vol. II. (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham, and Vicar of Leighton Buzzard. 1861-1864.

The letters and papers contained in these volumes are derived chiefly from originals or contemporary copies extant in the Bibliothèque Impériale, and the Dépôt des Archives, in Paris. They illustrate the line of policy adopted by John Duke of Bedford and his successors during their government of Normandy, and such other provinces of France as had been acquired by Henry V. We may here trace, step by step, the gradual declension of the English power, until we are prepared to read of its final overthrow.

23. THE ANGLO-SAXON CHRONICLE, ACCORDING TO THE SEVERAL ORIGINAL AUTHORITIES. Vol. I., Original Texts. Vol. II., Translation. Edited and translated by BENJAMIN THORPE, Esq., Member of the Royal Academy of Sciences at Munich, and of the Society of Netherlandish Literature at Leyden. 1861.

This Chronicle, extending from the earliest history of Britain to the year 1154, is justly the boast of England; for no other nation can produce any history, written in its own vernacular, at all approaching it, either in antiquity, truthfulness, or extent, the historical books of the Bible alone excepted. There are at present six independent manuscripts of the Saxon Chronicle, ending in different years, and written in different parts of the country. In this edition, the text of each manuscript is printed in columns on the same page, so that the student may see at a glance the various changes which occur in orthography, whether arising from locality or age.

24. LETTERS AND PAPERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE REIGNS OF RICHARD III. AND HENRY VII. Vols. I. and II. Edited by JAMES GAIRDNER, Esq. 1861-1863.

The Papers are derived from MSS. in the Public Record Office, the British Museum, and other repositories. The period to which they refer is unusually destitute of chronicles and other sources of historical information, so that the light obtained from these documents is of special importance. The principal contents of the volumes are some diplomatic Papers of Richard III.; correspondence between Henry VII. and Ferdinand and Isabella of Spain; documents relating to Edmund de la Pole, Earl of Suffolk; and a portion of the correspondence of James IV. of Scotland.

25. LETTERS OF BISHOP GROSSETESTE, illustrative of the Social Condition of his Time. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1861.

The Letters of Robert Grosseteste (131 in number) are here collected from various sources, and a large portion of them is printed for the first time. They range in date from about 1210 to 1253, and relate to various matters connected not only with the political history of England during the reign of Henry III., but with its ecclesiastical condition. They refer especially to the diocese of Lincoln, of which Grosseteste was bishop.

26. DESCRIPTIVE CATALOGUE OF MANUSCRIPTS RELATING TO THE HISTORY OF GREAT BRITAIN AND IRELAND. Vol. I. (in Two Parts); Anterior to the Norman Invasion. Vol. II.; 1066-1200. Vol. III.; 1200-1327. By Sir THOMAS DUFFUS HARDY, D.C.L., Deputy Keeper of the Public Records. 1862-1871.

The object of this work is to publish notices of all known sources of British history, both printed and unprinted, in one continued sequence. The materials, when historical (as distinguished from biographical), are arranged under the year in which the latest event is recorded in the chronicle or history, and not under the period in which its author, real or supposed, flourished. Biographies are enumerated under the year in which the person commemorated died, and not under the year in which the life was written. This arrangement has two advantages; the materials for any given period may be seen at a glance; and if the reader knows the time when an author wrote, and the number of years that had elapsed between the date of the events and the time the writer flourished, he will generally be enabled to form a fair estimate of the comparative value of the narrative itself. A brief analysis of each work has been added when deserving it, in which the original portions are distinguished from those which are mere compilations. When possible, the sources are indicated from which such compilations have been derived. A biographical sketch of the author of each piece has been added, and a brief notice has also been given of such British authors as have written on historical subjects.

27. ROYAL AND OTHER HISTORICAL LETTERS ILLUSTRATIVE OF THE REIGN OF HENRY III. Vol. I., 1216-1235. Vol. II., 1236-1272. Selected and edited by the Rev. W. W. SHIRLEY, D.D., Regius Professor in Ecclesiastical History, and Canon of Christ Church, Oxford. 1862-1866.

The letters contained in these volumes are derived chiefly from the ancient correspondence formerly in the Tower of London, and now in the Public Record Office. They illustrate the political history of England during the growth of its liberties, and throw considerable light upon the personal history of Simon de Montfort. The affairs of France form the subject of many of them, especially in regard to the province of Gascony. The entire collection consists of nearly 700 documents, the greater portion of which is printed for the first time.

28. CHRONICA MONASTERII S. ALBANI.—1. THOMÆ WALSHINGHAM HISTORIA ANGLICANA; Vol. I., 1272-1381: Vol. II., 1381-1422. 2. WILLELMI RISHANGER CHRONICA ET ANNALES, 1259-1307. 3. JOHANNIS DE TROKELowe ET HENRICI DE BLANEFORDE CHRONICA ET ANNALES, 1259-1296; 1307-1324: 1392-1406. 4. GESTA ABBATUM MONASTERII S. ALBANI, A THOMA WALSHINGHAM, REGNANTE RICARDO SECUNDO, EJUSDEM ECCLESIE PRÆCENTORE, COMPILATA; Vol. I., 793-1290; Vol. II., 1290-1349: Vol. III., 1349-1411. 5. JOHANNIS AMUNDESHAM, MONACHI MONASTERII S. ALBANI, UT VIDETUR, ANNALES; Vols. I., and II. 6. REGISTRA QUORUNDAM ABBATUM MONASTERII S. ALBANI, QUI SÆCULO XV<sup>mo</sup> FLORUERE; Vol. I., REGISTRUM ABBATIE JOHANNIS WHETHAMSTEDE, ABBATIS MONASTERII SANCTI ALBANI, ITERUM SUSCEPTÆ; ROBERTO BLAKENEY, CAPELLANO, QUONDAM ADSRIPTUM: Vol. II., REGISTRA JOHANNIS WHETHAMSTEDE, WILLELMI ALBON, ET WILLELMI WALINGFORDE, ABBATUM MONASTERII SANCTI ALBANI, CUM APPENDICE, CONTINENTE QUASDAM EPISTOLAS, A JOHANNE WHETHAMSTEDE CONSCRIPTAS. 7. YPODIGMA NEUSTRIÆ, A THOMA WALSINGHAM, QUONDAM MONACHO MONASTERII S. ALBANI, CONSCRIPTUM. Edited by HENRY THOMAS RILEY, Esq., M.A., Cambridge and Oxford; and of the Inner Temple, Barrister-at-Law. 1863-1876.

In the first two volumes is a History of England, from the death of Henry III. to the death of Henry V., by Thomas Walsingham, Precentor of St. Albans, from MS. VII. in the Arundel Collection in the College of Arms, London, a manuscript of the fifteenth century, collated with MS. 13 E. IX. in the King's Library in the British Museum, and MS. VII. in the Parker Collection of Manuscripts at Corpus Christi College, Cambridge.

In the third volume is a Chronicle of English History, attributed to William Rishanger, who lived in the reign of Edward I., from the Cotton. MS. Faustina B. IX. in the British Museum, collated with MS. 14 C. VII. (fols. 219-231) in the King's Library, British Museum, and the Cotton MS. Claudius E. III., fols. 306-331: an account of transactions attending the award of the kingdom of Scotland to John Balliol, 1291-1292, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI., also attributed to William Rishanger, but on no sufficient ground: a short Chronicle of English History, 1292 to 1300, by an unknown hand, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI.: a short Chronicle Willelmi Rishanger Gesta Edwardi Primi, Regis Angliæ, from MS. 14 C. I. in the Royal Library, and MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI., with Annales Regum Angliæ, probably by the same hand: and fragments of three Chronicles of English History, 1285 to 1307.

In the fourth volume is a Chronicle of English History, 1259 to 1296, from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI.: Annals of Edward II., 1307 to 1323, by John de Trokelowe, a monk of St. Albans, and a continuation of Trokelowe's Annals, 1323, 1324, by Henry de Blaneforde, both from MS. Cotton. Claudius D. VI.: a full Chronicle of English History, 1392 to 1406, from MS. VII. in the Library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge; and an account of the Benefactors of St. Albans, written in the early part of the fifteenth century, from MS. VI. in the same Library.

The fifth, sixth, and seventh volumes contain a history of the Abbots of St. Albans, 793 to 1411, mainly compiled by Thomas Walsingham, from MS. Cotton. Claudius E. IV., in the British Museum: with a Continuation, from the closing pages of Parker MS. VII., in the Library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge.

The eighth and ninth volumes, in continuation of the Annals, contain a Chronicle, probably by John Amundesham, a monk of St. Albans.

The tenth and eleventh volumes relate especially to the acts and proceedings of Abbots Whethamstede, Albon, and Wallingford, and may be considered as a memorial of the chief historical and domestic events during those periods.

The twelfth volume contains a compendious History of England to the reign of Henry V., and of Normandy in early times, also by Thomas Walsingham, and dedicated to Henry V. The compiler has often substituted other authorities in place of those consulted in the preparation of his larger work.

29. CHRONICON ABBATIE EVESHAMENSIS, AUCTORIBUS DOMINICO PRIORE EVESHAMLÆ ET THOMA DE MARLEBERGE ABBATE, A FUNDATIONE AD ANNUM 1213, UNA CUM CONTINUATIONE AD ANNUM 1418. Edited by the Rev. W. D. MACRAY, M.A.. Bodleian Library. Oxford. 1863.

The Chronicle of Evesham illustrates the history of that important monastery from its foundation by Egwin, about 690, to the year 1418. Its chief feature is an autobiography, which makes us acquainted with the inner daily life of a great abbey, such as but rarely has been recorded. Interspersed are many notices of general, personal, and local history which will be read with much interest. This work exists in a single MS., and is for the first time printed.

30. RICARDI DE CIRENGESTRIA SPECULUM HISTORIALE DE GESTIS REGUM ANGLIÆ. Vol. I., 447-871. Vol. II., 872-1066. Edited by JOHN E. B. MAYOR, M.A., Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1863-1869.

The compiler, Richard of Cirencester, was a monk of Westminster, 1355-1400. In 1391 he obtained a licence to make a pilgrimage to Rome. His history, in four books, extends from 447 to 1066. He announces his intention of continuing it, but there is no evidence that he completed any more. This chronicle gives many charters in favour of Westminster Abbey, and a very full account of the lives and miracles of the saints, especially of Edward the Confessor, whose reign occupies the fourth book. A treatise on the Coronation, by William of Sudbury, a monk of Westminster, fills book iii. c. 3. It was on this author that C. J. Bertram fathered his forgery, De Situ Britannia, in 1747.

31. YEAR BOOKS OF THE REIGN OF EDWARD THE FIRST. Years 20-21, 21-22, 30-31, 32-33, and 33-35. Edited and translated by ALFRED JOHN HORWOOD, Esq., of the Middle Temple, Barrister-at-Law. 1863-1879.

The volumes known as the "Year Books" contain reports in Norman-French of cases argued and decided in the Courts of Common Law. They may be considered to a great extent as the "lex non scripta" of England, and have been held in the highest veneration by the ancient sages of the law, and were received by them as the repositories of the first recorded judgments and dicta of the great legal luminaries of past ages. They are also worthy of the attention of the general reader on account of the historical information and the notices of public and private persons which they contain, as well as the light which they throw on ancient manners and customs.

32. NARRATIVES OF THE EXPULSION OF THE ENGLISH FROM NORMANDY, 1449-1450.—Robertus Blondelli de Reductione Normanniæ: Le Recouvrement de Normandie, par Berry, Hérault du Roy: Conférences between the Ambassadors of France and England. Edited, from MSS. in the Imperial Library at Paris, by the Rev. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A., of University College, Durham. 1863.

This volume contains the narrative of an eye-witness who details with considerable power and minuteness the circumstances which attended the final expulsion of the English from Normandy in the year 1450. The history commences with the infringement of the truce by the capture of Fougères, and ends with the battle of Formigny and the embarkation of the Duke of Somerset. The whole period embraced is less than two years.

33. HISTORIA ET CARTULARIUM MONASTERII S. PETRI GLOUCESTRIÆ. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by W. H. HART, Esq., F.S.A., Membre correspondant de la Société des Antiquaires de Normandie. 1863-1867.

This work consists of two parts, the History and the Cartulary of the Monastery of St. Peter, Gloucester. The history furnishes an account of the monastery from its foundation, in the year 681, to the early part of the reign of Richard II., together with a calendar of donations and benefactions. It treats principally of the affairs of the monastery, but occasionally matters of general history are introduced. Its authorship has generally been assigned to Walter Froucester, the twentieth abbot, but without any foundation.

34. ALEXANDRI NECKAM DE NATURIS RERUM LIBRI DUO; with NECKAM'S POEM, DE LAUDIBUS DIVINÆ SAPIENTIÆ. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1863.

Neckam was a man who devoted himself to science, such as it was in the twelfth century. In the "De Naturis Rerum" are to be found what may be called the rudiments of many sciences mixed up with much error and ignorance. Neckam was not thought infallible, even by his contemporaries, for Roger Bacon remarks of him, "this Alexander in many things wrote what was true and useful; but he neither can nor ought by just title to be reckoned among authorities." Neckam, however, had sufficient independence of thought to differ from some of the schoolmen who in his time considered themselves the only judges of literature. He had his own views in morals, and in giving us a glimpse of them, as well as of his other opinions, he throws much light upon the manners, customs, and general tone of thought prevalent in the twelfth century. The poem entitled "De Laudibus Divinæ Sapientiæ" appears to be a metrical paraphrase or abridgment of the "De Naturis Rerum." It is written in the elegiac metre; and though there are many lines which violate classical rules, it is, as a whole, above the ordinary standard of mediæval Latin.

35. LEECHDOMS, WORTCUNNING, AND STARCRAFT OF EARLY ENGLAND; being a Collection of Documents illustrating the History of Science in this Country before the Norman Conquest. Vols. I., II., and III. Collected and edited by the Rev. T. OSWALD COCKAYNE, M.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge. 1864-1866.

This work illustrates not only the history of science, but the history of superstition. In addition to the information bearing directly upon the medical skill and medical faith of the times, there are many passages which incidentally throw light upon the general mode of life and ordinary diet. The volumes are interesting not only in their scientific, but also in their social aspect. The manuscripts from which they have been printed are valuable to the Anglo-Saxon scholar for the illustrations they afford of Anglo-Saxon orthography.

36. ANNALES MONASTICI. Vol. I.:—Annales de Margan, 1066-1232; Annales de Theokesberia, 1066-1263; Annales de Burton, 1004-1263. Vol. II.:—Annales Monasterii de Wintonia, 519-1277; Annales Monasterii de Waverleia, 1-1291. Vol. III.:—Annales Prioratus de Dunstaplia, 1-1297. Annales Monasterii de Bermundeseia, 1042-1432. Vol. IV.:—Annales Monasterii de Oseneia, 1016-1347; Chronicon vulgo dictum Chronicon Thomæ Wykes, 1066-1289; Annales Prioratus de Wigornia, 1-1377. Vol. V.:—Index and Glossary. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, M.A., Fellow and Assistant Tutor of Trinity College, and Registrar of the University, Cambridge. 1864-1869.

The present collection of Monastic Annals embraces all the more important chronicles compiled in religious houses in England during the thirteenth century. These distinct works are ten in number. The extreme period which they embrace ranges from the year 1 to 1432, although they refer more especially to the reigns of John, Henry III., and Edward I. Some of these narratives have already appeared in print, but others are printed for the first time.

37. MAGNA VITA S. HUGONIS EPISCOPI LINCOLNIENSIS. From Manuscripts in the Bodleian Library, Oxford, and the Imperial Library, Paris. Edited by the Rev. JAMES F. DIMOCK, M.A., Rector of Barnburgh, Yorkshire. 1864.

This work contains a number of very curious and interesting incidents, and being the work of a contemporary, is very valuable, not only as a truthful biography of a celebrated ecclesiastic, but as the work of a man, who, from personal knowledge, gives notices of passing events, as well as of individuals who were then taking active part in public affairs. The author, in all probability, was Adam Abbot of Evesham. He was domestic chaplain, and private confessor of Bishop Hugh, and in these capacities was admitted to the closest intimacy. Bishop Hugh was Prior of Witham for 11 years before he became Bishop of Lincoln. His consecration took place on the 21st September 1186; he died on the 16th of November 1200; and was canonized in 1220.

38. CHRONICLES AND MEMORIALS OF THE REIGN OF RICHARD THE FIRST. Vol. I.:—ITINERARIUM PEREGRINORUM ET GESTA REGIS RICARDI. Vol. II.:—EPISTOLÆ CANTUARIENSES; the Letters of the Prior and Convent of Christ Church, Canterbury; 1187 to 1199. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Vicar of Navestock, Essex, and Lambeth Librarian. 1864-1865.

The authorship of the Chronicle in Vol. I., hitherto ascribed to Geoffrey Vinesauf, is now more correctly ascribed to Richard, Canon of the Holy Trinity of London. The narrative extends from 1187 to 1199; but its chief interest consists in the minute and authentic narrative which it furnishes of the exploits of Richard I., from his departure from England in December 1189 to his death in 1199. The author states in his prologue that he was an eye-witness of much that he records; and various incidental circumstances which occur in the course of the narrative confirm this assertion.

The letters in Vol. II., written between 1187 and 1199, are of value as furnishing authentic materials for the history of the ecclesiastical condition of England during the reign of Richard I. They had their origin in a dispute which arose from the attempts of Baldwin and Hubert, archbishops of Canterbury, to found a college of secular canons, a project which gave great umbrage to the monks of Canterbury, who saw in it a design to supplant them in their function of metropolitan chapter. These letters are printed, for the first time, from a MS. belonging to the archiepiscopal library at Lambeth.

39. RECUEIL DES CRONIQVES ET ANCHIENNES ISTORIES DE LA GRANT BRETAGNE A PRESENT NOMME ENGLETERRE, par JEHAN DE WAURIN. Vol. I. Albina to 688. Vol. II., 1399-1422. Vol. III., 1422-1431. Edited by WILLIAM HARDY, Esq., F.S.A. 1864-1879.
40. A COLLECTION OF THE CHRONICLES AND ANCIENT HISTORIES OF GREAT BRITAIN, NOW CALLED ENGLAND, by JOHN DE WAVRIN. Albina to 688. (Translation of the preceding Vol. I.) Edited and translated by WILLIAM HARDY, Esq., F.S.A. 1864.

This curious chronicle extends from the fabulous period of history down to the return of Edward IV. to England in the year 1471 after the second deposition of Henry VI. The manuscript from which the text of the work is taken is preserved in the Imperial Library at Paris, and is believed to be the only complete and nearly contemporary copy in existence. The work, as originally bound, was comprised in six volumes, since rebound in morocco in 12 volumes, folio maximo, vellum, and is illustrated with exquisite miniatures, vignettes, and initial letters. It was written towards the end of the fifteenth century, having been expressly executed for Louis de Bruges, Seigneur de la Gruthuyse and Earl of Winchester, from whose cabinet it passed into the library of Louis XII. at Blois.

41. POLYCHRONICON RANULPHI HIGDEN, with Trevisa's Translation. Vols. I. and II. Edited by CHURCHILL BABINGTON, B.D., Senior Fellow of St. John's College, Cambridge. Vols. III., IV., V., VI., and VII. Edited by the Rev. JOSEPH RAWSON LUMBY, D.D., Norrisian Professor of Divinity, Vicar of St. Edward's, Fellow of St. Catharine's College, and late Fellow of Magdalene College, Cambridge. 1865-1879.

This is one of the many mediæval chronicles which assume the character of a history of the world. It begins with the creation, and is brought down to the author's own time, the reign of Edward III. Prefixed to the historical portion, is a chapter devoted to geography, in which is given a description of every known land. To say that the Polychronicon was written in the fourteenth century is to say that it is not free from inaccuracies. It has, however, a value apart from its intrinsic merits. It enables us to form a very fair estimate of the knowledge of history and geography which well-informed readers of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries possessed, for it was then the standard work on general history.

The two English translations, which are printed with the original Latin, afford interesting illustrations of the gradual change of our language, for one was made in the fourteenth century, the other in the fifteenth. The differences between Trevisa's version and that of the unknown writer are often considerable.

42. LE LIVRE DE REIS DE BRITTANIE E LE LIVRE DE REIS DE ENGLETERE. Edited by JOHN GLOVER, M.A., Vicar of Brading, Isle of Wight, formerly Librarian of Trinity College, Cambridge. 1865.

These two treatises, though they cannot rank as independent narratives, are nevertheless valuable as careful abstracts of previous historians, especially "Le Livre de Reis de Engleterre." Some various readings are given which are interesting to the philologist as instances of semi-Saxonized French.

It is supposed that Peter of Ickham must have been the author, but no certain conclusion on that point has been arrived at.

43. CHRONICA MONASTERII DE MELSA, AB ANNO 1150 USQUE AD ANNUM 1406. Vols. I., II., and III. Edited by EDWARD AUGUSTUS BOND, Esq., Assistant Keeper of the Manuscripts, and Egerton Librarian, British Museum. 1866-1868.

The Abbey of Meaux was a Cistercian house, and the work of its abbot is both curious and valuable. It is a faithful and often minute record of the establishment of a religious community, of its progress in forming an ample revenue, of its struggles to maintain its acquisitions, and of its relations to the governing institutions of the country. In addition to the private affairs of the monastery, some light is thrown upon the public events of the time, which are however kept distinct, and appear at the end of the history of each abbot's administration. The text has been printed from what is said to be the autograph of the original compiler, Thomas de Burton, the nineteenth abbot.

44. MATTHÆI PARISIENSIS HISTORIA ANGLORUM, SIVE, UT VULGO DICITUR, HISTORIA MINOR. Vols. I., II., and III. 1067-1253. Edited by Sir FREDERIC MADDEN, K.H., Keeper of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum, 1866-1869.

The exact date at which this work was written is, according to the chronicler, 1250. The history is of considerable value as an illustration of the period during which the author lived, and contains a good summary of the events which followed the Conquest. This minor chronicle is, however, based on another work (also written by Matthew Paris) giving fuller details, which has been called the "Historia Major." The chronicle here published, nevertheless, gives some information not to be found in the greater history.

45. LIBER MONASTERII DE HYDA: A CHRONICLE AND CHARTULARY OF HYDE ABBEY, WINCHESTER, 455-1023. Edited, from a Manuscript in the Library of the Earl of Macclesfield, by EDWARD EDWARDS, Esq. 1866.

The "Book of Hyde" is a compilation from much earlier sources which are usually indicated with considerable care and precision. In many cases, however, the Hyde chronicler appears to correct, to qualify, or to amplify—either from tradition or from sources of information not now discoverable—the statements, which, in substance, he adopts. He also mentions, and frequently quotes from writers whose works are either entirely lost or at present known only by fragments.

There is to be found, in the "Book of Hyde," much information relating to the reign of King Alfred which is not known to exist elsewhere. The volume contains some curious specimens of Anglo-Saxon and Mediæval English.

46. CHRONICON SCOTORUM: A CHRONICLE OF IRISH AFFAIRS, from the EARLIEST TIMES to 1135; with a SUPPLEMENT, containing the Events from 1141 to 1150. Edited, with a Translation, by WILLIAM MAUNSELL HENNESSY, Esq., M.R.I.A. 1866.

There is, in this volume, a legendary account of the peopling of Ireland and of the adventures which befell the various heroes who are said to have been connected with Irish history. The details are, however, very meagre both for this period and for the time when history becomes more authentic. The plan adopted in the chronicle gives the appearance of an accuracy to which the earlier portions of the work cannot have any claim. The succession of events is marked, year by year, from A.M. 1599 to A.D. 1150. The principal events narrated in the later portion of the work are, the invasions of foreigners, and the wars of the Irish among themselves. The text has been printed from a MS. preserved in the library of Trinity College, Dublin, written partly in Latin, partly in Irish.

47. THE CHRONICLE OF PIERRE DE LANGTOFT, IN FRENCH VERSE, FROM THE EARLIEST PERIOD TO THE DEATH OF EDWARD I. Vols. I. and II. Edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A. 1866-1868.

It is probable that Pierre de Langtoft was a canon of Bridlington, in Yorkshire, and that he lived in the reign of Edward I., and during a portion of the reign of Edward II. This chronicle is divided into three parts; in the first is an abridgment of Geoffrey of Monmouth's "Historia Britonum," in the second, a history of the Anglo-Saxon and Norman kings, down to the death of Henry III., and in the third a history of the reign of Edward I. The principal object of the work was apparently to show the justice of Edward's Scottish wars. The language is singularly corrupt, and a curious specimen of the French of Yorkshire.

48. THE WAR OF THE GAEDHIL WITH THE GAILL, OR, THE INVASIONS OF IRELAND BY THE DANES AND OTHER NORSEMEN. Edited, with a Translation, by JAMES HENTHORN TODD, D.D., Senior Fellow of Trinity College, and Regius Professor of Hebrew in the University, Dublin. 1867.

The work in its present form, in the editor's opinion, is a comparatively modern version of an undoubtedly ancient original. That it was compiled from contemporary materials has been proved by curious incidental evidence. It is stated in the account given of the battle of Clontarf that the full tide in Dublin Bay on the day of the battle (23 April 1014) coincided with sunrise; and that the returning tide in the evening aided considerably in the defeat of the Danes. The fact has been verified by astronomical calculations, and the inference is that the author of the chronicle, if not himself an eye-witness, must have derived his information from those who were eye-witnesses. The contents of the work are sufficiently described in its title. The story is told after the manner of the Scandinavian Sagas, with poems and fragments of poems introduced into the prose narrative.

49. GESTA REGIS HENRICI SECUNDI BENEDICTI ABBATIS. THE CHRONICLE OF THE REIGNS OF HENRY II. AND RICHARD I., 1169-1192, known under the name of BENEDICT OF PETERBOROUGH. Vols. I. and II. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, Oxford, and Lambeth Librarian. 1867.

This chronicle of the reigns of Henry II. and Richard I., known commonly under the name of Benedict of Peterborough, is one of the best existing specimens of a class of historical compositions of the first importance to the student.

50. MUNIMENTA ACADEMICA, OR, DOCUMENTS ILLUSTRATIVE OF ACADEMICAL LIFE AND STUDIES AT OXFORD (in Two Parts). Edited by the Rev. HENRY ANSTEE, M.A., Vicar of St. Wendron, Cornwall, and lately Vice-Principal of St. Mary Hall, Oxford. 1868.

This work will supply materials for a History of Academical Life and Studies in the University of Oxford during the 13th, 14th, and 15th centuries.

51. CHRONICA MAGISTRI ROGERI DE HOVEDENE. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1868-1871.

This work has long been justly celebrated, but not thoroughly understood until Mr. Stubbs' edition. The earlier portion, extending from 732 to 1148, appears to be a copy of a compilation made in Northumbria about 1161, to which Hoveden added little. From 1148 to 1169—a very valuable portion of this work—the matter is derived from another source, to which Hoveden appears to have supplied little, and not always judiciously. From 1170 to 1192 is the portion which corresponds with the Chronicle known under the name of Benedict of Peterborough (see No. 49); but it is not a copy, being sometimes an abridgment, at others a paraphrase; occasionally the two works entirely agree; showing that both writers had access to the same materials, but dealt with them differently. From 1192 to 1201 may be said to be wholly Hoveden's work: it is extremely valuable, and an authority of the first importance.

52. WILLELMI MALMESBIRENSIS MONACHI DE GESTIS PONTIFICUM ANGLORUM LIBRI QUINQUE. Edited, from William of Malmesbury's Autograph MS., by N. E. S. A. HAMILTON, Esq., of the Department of Manuscripts, British Museum. 1870.

William of Malmesbury's "Gesta Pontificum" is the principal foundation of English Ecclesiastical Biography, down to the year 1122. The manuscript which has been followed in this Edition is supposed by Mr. Hamilton to be the author's autograph, containing his latest additions and amendments.

53. HISTORIC AND MUNICIPAL DOCUMENTS OF IRELAND, FROM THE ARCHIVES OF THE CITY OF DUBLIN, &c. 1172-1320. Edited by JOHN T. GILBERT, Esq., F.S.A., Secretary of the Public Record Office of Ireland. 1870.

A collection of original documents, elucidating mainly the history and condition of the municipal, middle, and trading classes under or in relation with the rule of England in Ireland,—a subject hitherto in almost total obscurity. Extending over the first hundred and fifty years of the Anglo-Norman settlement, the series includes charters, municipal laws and regulations, rolls of names of citizens and members of merchant-guilds, lists of commodities with their rates, correspondence, illustrations of relations between ecclesiastics and laity; together with many documents exhibiting the state of Ireland during the presence there of the Scots under Robert and Edward Bruce.

54. THE ANNALS OF LOCH CÉ. A CHRONICLE OF IRISH AFFAIRS, FROM 1014 TO 1590. Vols. I. and II. Edited, with a Translation, by WILLIAM MAUNSELL HENNESSY, Esq., M.R.I.A. 1871.

The original of this chronicle has passed under various names. The title of "Annals of Loch Cé" was given to it by Professor O'Curry, on the ground that it was transcribed for Brian Mac Dermot, an Irish chieftain, who resided on the island in Loch Cé, in the county of Roscommon. It adds much to the materials for the civil and ecclesiastical history of Ireland; and contains many curious references to English and foreign affairs, not noticed in any other chronicle.

55. MONUMENTA JURIDICA. THE BLACK BOOK OF THE ADMIRALTY, WITH APPENDICES. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by SIR TRAVERS TWISS, Q.C., D.C.L. 1871-1876.

This book contains the ancient ordinances and laws relating to the navy, and was probably compiled for the use of the Lord High Admiral of England. Selden calls it the "jewel of the Admiralty Records." Frynne ascribes to the Black Book the same authority in the Admiralty as the Black and Red Books have in the Court of Exchequer, and most English writers on maritime law recognize its importance.

56. MEMORIALS OF THE REIGN OF HENRY VI. :—OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THOMAS BEKYNTON, SECRETARY TO HENRY VI., AND BISHOP OF BATH AND WELLS. Edited, from a MS. in the Archiepiscopal Library at Lambeth, with an Appendix of Illustrative Documents, by the Rev. GEORGE WILLIAMS, B.D., Vicar of Ringwood, late Fellow of King's College, Cambridge. Vols. I. and II. 1872.

These curious volumes are of a miscellaneous character, and were probably compiled under the immediate direction of Bekynton before he had attained to the Episcopate. They contain many of the Bishop's own letters, and several written by him in the King's name; also letters to himself while Royal Secretary, and others addressed to the King. This work elucidates some points in the history of the nation during the first half of the fifteenth century.

57. MATTHÆI PARISIENSIS, MONACHI SANCTI ALBANI, CHRONICA MAJORA. Vol. I. The Creation to A.D. 1066. Vol. II. A.D. 1067 to A.D. 1216. Vol. III. A.D. 1216 to A.D. 1239. Vol. IV. A.D. 1240 to A.D. 1247. Vol. V. A.D. 1248 to A.D. 1259. Edited by HENRY RICHARDS LUARD, D.D., Fellow of Trinity College, Registrary of the University, and Vicar of Great St. Mary's, Cambridge. 1872-1880.

This work contains the "Chronica Majora" of Matthew Paris, one of the most valuable and frequently consulted of the ancient English Chronicles. It is published from its commencement, for the first time. The editions by Archbishop Parker, and William Wats, severally begin at the Norman Conquest.

58. MEMORIALE FRATRIS WALTERI DE COVENTRIA.—THE HISTORICAL COLLECTIONS OF WALTER OF COVENTRY. Vols. I. and II. Edited, from the MS. in the Library of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1872-1873.

This work, now printed in full for the first time, has long been a desideratum by Historical Scholars. The first portion, however, is not of much importance, being only a compilation from earlier writers. The part relating to the first quarter of the thirteenth century is the most valuable and interesting.

59. THE ANGLO-LATIN SATIRICAL POETS AND EPIGRAMMATISTS OF THE TWELFTH CENTURY. Vols. I. and II. Collected and edited by THOMAS WRIGHT, Esq., M.A., Corresponding Member of the National Institute of France (Académie des Inscriptions et Belles-Lettres). 1872.

The Poems contained in these volumes have long been known and appreciated as the best satires of the age in which their authors flourished, and were deservedly popular during the 13th and 14th centuries.

60. MATERIALS FOR A HISTORY OF THE REIGN OF HENRY VII., FROM ORIGINAL DOCUMENTS PRESERVED IN THE PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE. Vols. I. and II. Edited by the Rev. WILLIAM CAMPBELL, M.A., one of Her Majesty's Inspectors of Schools. 1873-1877.

These volumes are valuable as illustrating the acts and proceedings of Henry VII. on ascending the throne, and shadow out the policy he afterwards adopted.

61. HISTORICAL PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM THE NORTHERN REGISTERS. Edited by JAMES RAINE, M.A., Canon of York, and Secretary of the Surtees Society. 1873.

The documents in this volume illustrate, for the most part, the general history of the north of England, particularly in its relation to Scotland.

62. REGISTRUM PALATINUM DUNELMENSE. THE REGISTER OF RICHARD DE KELLAWE, LORD PALATINE AND BISHOP OF DURHAM; 1311-1316. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by Sir THOMAS DUFFUS HARDY, D.C.L., Deputy Keeper of the Public Records. 1873-1878.

Bishop Kellawe's Register contains the proceedings of his prelacy, both lay and ecclesiastical, and is the earliest Register of the Palatinate of Durham.

63. MEMORIALS OF SAINT DUNSTAN ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY. Edited, from various MSS., by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1874.

This volume contains several lives of Archbishop Dunstan, one of the most celebrated Primates of Canterbury. They open various points of Historical and Literary interest, without which our knowledge of the period would be more incomplete than it is at present.

64. CHRONICON ANGLÆ, AB ANNO DOMINI 1328 USQUE AD ANNUM 1388, AUCTORE MONACHO QUODAM SANCTI ALBANI. Edited by EDWARD MAUNDE THOMPSON, Esq., Barrister-at-Law, and Assistant-Keeper of the Manuscripts in the British Museum. 1874.

This chronicle gives a circumstantial history of the close of the reign of Edward III. which has hitherto been considered lost.

65. THÓMAS SAGA ERKIBYSKUPS. A LIFE OF ARCHBISHOP THOMAS BECKET, IN ICELANDIC. Vol. I. Edited, with English Translation, Notes, and Glossary, by M. EIRÍKR MAGNÚSSON, Sub-Librarian of the University Library, Cambridge. 1875.

This work is derived from the Life of Becket written by Benedict of Peterborough, and apparently supplies the missing portions in Benedict's biography.

66. RADULPHI DE COGGESHALL CHRONICON ANGLICANUM. Edited by the REV. JOSEPH STEVENSON, M.A. 1875.

This volume contains the "Chronicon Anglicanum," by Ralph of Coggeshall, the "Libellus de Expugnatione Terræ Sanctæ per Saladinum," usually ascribed to the same author, and other pieces of an interesting character.

67. MATERIALS FOR THE HISTORY OF THOMAS BECKET, ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY. Vols. I., II., III., IV., and V. Edited by the Rev. JAMES CRAIGIE ROBERTSON, M.A., Canon of Canterbury. 1875-1881.

This Publication will comprise all contemporary materials for the history of Archbishop Thomas Becket. The first volume contains the life of that celebrated man, and the miracles after his death, by William, a monk of Canterbury. The second, the life by Benedict of Peterborough; John of Salisbury; Alan of Tewkesbury; and Edward Grim. The third, the life by William Fitzstephen; and Herbert of Bosham. The fourth, Anonymous lives, Quadriologus, &c. The fifth, the Epistles, and other known letters.

68. RADULFI DE DICETO DECANI LUNDONIENSIS OPERA HISTORICA. THE HISTORICAL WORKS OF MASTER RALPH DE DICETO, DEAN OF LONDON. Vols. I. and II. Edited, from the Original Manuscripts, by WILLIAM STUBBS, M.A., Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford. 1876.

The Historical Works of Ralph de Diceto are some of the most valuable materials for British History. The Abbreviationes Chronicorum extend from the Creation to 1147, and the Ymagines Historiarum to 1201.

69. ROLL OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE KING'S COUNCIL IN IRELAND, FOR A PORTION OF THE 16TH YEAR OF THE REIGN OF RICHARD II. 1392-93. Edited by the Rev. JAMES GRAVES, A.B. 1877.

This Roll throws considerable light on the History of Ireland at a period little known. It seems the only document of the kind extant.

70. HENRICI DE BRACTON DE LEGIBUS ET CONSUETUDINIBUS ANGLIÆ. LIBRI QUINQUE IN VARIOS TRACTATUS DISTINCTI. AD DIVERSORUM ET VETUSTISSIMORUM CODICUM COLLATIONEM TYPIS VULGATI. Vols. I., II., III., and IV. Edited by SIR TRAVERS TWISS, Q.C., D.C.L. 1878-1881.

This is a new edition of Bracton's celebrated work, collated with MSS. in the British Museum; the Libraries of Lincoln's Inn, Middle Temple, and Gray's Inn; Bodleian Library, Oxford; the Bibliothèque Nationale, Paris; &c.

71. THE HISTORIANS OF THE CHURCH OF YORK, AND ITS ARCHBISHOPS. Vol. I. Edited by JAMES RAINE, M.A., Canon of York, and Secretary of the Surtees Society. 1879.

This will form a complete "Corpus Historicum Eboracense," a work very much needed, and of great value to the Historical Inquirer.

72. REGISTRUM MALMESBURIENSE. THE REGISTER OF MALMESBURY ABBEY; PRESERVED IN THE PUBLIC RECORD OFFICE. Vol. I. and II. Edited by J. S. BREWER, M.A., Preacher at the Rolls, and Rector of Toppefield, and CHARLES TRICE MARTIN, Esq., B.A. 1879, 1880.

This work throws light upon many curious points of history, and illustrates the growth of society, the distribution and cultivation of land, the relations of landlord and tenant, and national history and customs.

73. HISTORICAL WORKS OF GERVASE OF CANTERBURY. Vols. I. and II. THE CHRONICLE OF THE REIGNS OF STEPHEN, HENRY II., AND RICHARD I., BY GERVASE, THE MONK OF CANTERBURY. Edited by WILLIAM STUBBS, D.D.; Canon Residentiary of St. Paul's, London; Regius Professor of Modern History, and Fellow of Oriel College, Oxford; &c. 1879, 1880.

The Historical Works of Gervase of Canterbury are of great importance, as regards the questions of Church and State, during the period in which he wrote. This work was printed by Twysden, in the "Historiæ Anglicanæ Scriptores X.," more than two centuries ago. The present edition has received critical examination and illustration.

74. HENRICI ARCHIDIACONI HUNTENDUNENSIS HISTORIA ANGLORUM. THE HISTORY OF THE ENGLISH, BY HENRY, ARCHDEACON OF HUNTINGDON, from A.C. 55 to A.D. 1154, in Eight Books. Edited by THOMAS ARNOLD, M.A., of University College, Oxford. 1879.

Henry of Huntingdon's work was first printed by Sir Henry Savile, in 1596, in his "Scriptores post Bedam," and reprinted at Frankfort in 1601. Both editions are very rare and inaccurate. The first five books of the History were published in 1848 in the "Monumenta Historica Britannica," which is out of print. The present volume contains the whole of the manuscript of Huntingdon's History in eight books, collated with a manuscript lately discovered at Paris.

WORKS PUBLISHED IN PHOTOZINCOGRAPHY.

DOMESDAY BOOK, or the GREAT SURVEY OF ENGLAND OF WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR, 1086; fac-simile of the Part relating to each county, separately (with a few exceptions of double counties). Photozincographed, by Her Majesty's Command, at the Ordnance Survey Office, Southampton, Colonel SIR HENRY JAMES, R.E., F.R.S., &c., Director. 35 Parts, imperial quarto and demy quarto (1861-1863) boards. Price 8s. to 1l. 3s. each Part, according to size; or, bound in 2 Vols., 20l. (The edition in two volumes is out of print.)

This important and unique survey of the greater portion of England* is the oldest and most valuable record in the national archives. It was commenced about the year 1084 and finished in 1086. Its compilation was determined upon at Gloucester by William the Conqueror, in council, in order that he might know what was due to him, in the way of tax, from his subjects, and that each at the same time might know what he had to pay. It was compiled as much for their protection as for the benefit of the sovereign. The nobility and people had been grievously distressed at the time by the king bringing over large numbers of French and Bretons, and quartering them on his subjects, "each according to the measure of his land," for the purpose of resisting the invasion of Cnut, King of Denmark, which was apprehended. The commissioners appointed to make the survey were to inquire the name of each place; who held it in the time of King Edward the Confessor; the present possessor; how many hides were in the manor; how many ploughs were in demesne; how many homagers; how many villeins; how many cottars; how many serving men; how many free tenants; how many tenants in soccage; how much wood, meadow, and pasture; the number of mills and fish-ponds; what had been added or taken away from the place; what was the gross value in the time of Edward the Confessor; the present value; and how much each free man or soc-man had, and whether any advance could be made in the value. Thus could be ascertained who held the estate in the time of King Edward; who then held it; its value in the time of the late king; and its value as it stood at the formation of the survey. So minute was the survey, that the writer of the contemporary portion of the Saxon Chronicle records, with some asperity—"So very narrowly he caused it to be traced out, that there was not a single hide, nor one virgate of land, nor even, "it is shame to tell, though it seemed to him no shame to do, an ox, nor a cow, nor a swine was left, that was not set down."

Domesday Survey is in two parts or volumes. The first, in folio, contains the counties of Bedford, Berks, Bucks, Cambridge, Chester and Lancaster, Cornwall, Derby, Devon, Dorset, Gloucester, Hants, Hereford, Herts, Huntingdon, Kent, Leicester and Rutland, Lincoln, Middlesex, Northampton, Nottingham, Oxford, Salop, Somerset, Stafford, Surrey, Sussex, Warwick, Wilts, Worcester, and York. The second volume, in quarto, contains the counties of Essex, Norfolk, and Suffolk.

Domesday Book was printed verbatim et literatim during the last century, in consequence of an address of the House of Lords to King George III. in 1767. It was not, however, commenced until 1773, and was completed early in 1783. In 1860, Her Majesty's Government, with the concurrence of the Master of the Rolls, determined to apply the art of photozincography to the production of a fac-simile of Domesday Book, under the superintendence of Colonel Sir Henry James, R.E., Director of the Ordnance Survey, Southampton. The fac-simile was completed in 1863.

FAC-SIMILES OF NATIONAL MANUSCRIPTS, from WILLIAM THE CONQUEROR to QUEEN ANNE, selected under the direction of the Master of the Rolls, and Photozincographed, by Command of Her Majesty, by Colonel SIR HENRY JAMES, R.E., Director of the Ordnance Survey. Price, each Part, with translations and notes, double foolscap folio, 16s.

Part I. (William the Conqueror to Henry VII.). 1865. (Out of print.)

Part II. (Henry VIII. and Edward VI.). 1866.

Part III. (Mary and Elizabeth). 1867.

Part IV. (James I. to Anne). 1868.

The first Part extends from William the Conqueror to Henry VII., and contains autographs of the kings of England, as well as of many other illustrious personages famous in history, and some interesting charters, letters patent, and state papers. The second Part, for the reigns of Henry VIII. and Edward VI., consists principally of holograph letters and autographs of kings, princes, statesmen, and other persons of great historical interest, who lived during those reigns. The third Part contains similar documents for the reigns of Mary and Elizabeth, including a signed bill of Lady Jane Grey. The fourth Part concludes the series, and comprises a number of documents taken from the originals belonging to the Constable of the Tower of London; also several records illustrative of the Gunpowder Plot, and a woodcut containing portraits of Mary Queen of Scots and James VI., circulated by their adherents in England, 1580-3.

FAC-SIMILES OF ANGLO-SAXON MANUSCRIPTS. Photozincographed by the DIRECTOR-GENERAL of the ORDNANCE SURVEY, with translations by W. BASEVI SANDERS, Assistant Keeper of H.M. Records. Part I. Price 2l. 10s.

The Anglo-Saxon MSS. represented in this volume form the earlier portion of the collection of archives belonging to the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, and consist of a series of 25 charters, deeds, and wills, commencing with a record of proceedings at the first Synodal Council of Clovesto in 742, and terminating with the first part of a tripartite cheirograph, whereby Thurstan conveyed to the Church of Canterbury land at Wimbish, in Essex, in 1049, the sixth year of the reign of Edward the Confessor.

This work is intended to form a comprehensive Palæographic Series for Ireland. It will furnish characteristic specimens of the documents which have come down from each of the classes which, in past ages, formed principal elements in the population of Ireland, or exercised an influence in her affairs. With these reproductions will be combined fac-similes of writings connected with eminent personages or transactions of importance in the annals of the country to the end of the reign of Queen Anne.

The specimens are reproduced as nearly as possible in accordance with the originals, in dimensions, colouring, and general appearance. Characteristic examples of styles of writing and caligraphic ornamentation are, so far as practicable, associated with subjects of historic and linguistic interest. Descriptions of the various manuscripts are given by the Editor in the Introduction. The contents of the specimens are fully elucidated and printed in the original languages, opposite to the Fac-similes—line for line—without contractions—thus facilitating reference and aiding effectively those interested in palæographic studies.

Part I. contains upwards of seventy coloured specimens, commencing with the earliest Irish MSS. extant.

Part II. extends from the Twelfth Century to A.D. 1299, and contains ninety specimens in colours.

Part III., from A.D. 1300 to end of reign of Henry VIII., contains upwards of one hundred specimens.

In Part IV.—now in the Press—the Work will be carried down to the eighteenth century.
