1. Reference, Letter Headquarters Eighth Army, dated 7 July 1949, subject: "Reports Required for Agricultural Land Commissions Election".

2. Pursuant to the Provisions of cited reference, the required report is submitted herewith.

3. Statistical election data pertaining to the various committees elected is attached hereto as Inclosure #1.

4. General account of the election.

a. Voting interest of the electorate.

(1) Voting interest in Hokkaido for this election was erratic with voter turnout ranging from 97.9% in Nakatonbetsu Village, Soya Sub-Prefecture, to 39% in Toyokoro Village, Nemuro Sub-Prefecture.

(a) Lack of spirited contests on the part of the candidates.

(b) Many persons engaged in fishing and marine products industries did not go to the polls.

(c) Many farmers engaged in harvesting of certain crops found it difficult to go to the polls.

b. (1) Of 271 Committees to be elected over one third (100 committees) required no voting due to the fact that the number of candidates was not in excess of the number of vacancies to be filled.

(2) In regard to elections within the three categories of committeemen the following number of seats remain unfilled.

(a) Class 1: 24 seats

(b) Class 2: 20 seats

(c) Class 3: 32 seats

(d) Total for all classes: 76 seats.

c. Publicity given the election.

(1) The following listed methods and media were utilized throughout the Island, where practicable.

(a) Newspapers.

1. Editorials.

2. Articles.

3. Advertisements.

(b) Radio (Hakodate, Asahigawa, Obihiro and Kushiro stations.)

1. Speeches by members of election committees.

2. Spot announcements.

(c) Other media.

1. Pamphlets and circulars concerning Farm Land Committee election, published by the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry, were distributed to every farmer on 30 June.

2. Other pamphlets and circulars prepared by Prefectural and local Election Administration Committees were distributed.

3. Posters, including 2,000 prepared by the Land Readjustment Section of the Hokkaido Prefectural Land Department, were distributed.

4. Public address system announcements at railroad stations, public squares, etc.

5. Sign boards and bulletin boards were utilized.

6. Speeches by Election Administration Committeemen at various farmers' association meetings, etc.

7. Slogans urging people to vote were printed on theatre tickets in some areas.

d. Prominent campaign issues.

(1) Campaign issues and party platforms were decidedly lacking, the Communists being the only party to constantly expound any issues. Several of the issues expounded by the Communists were as follows.

(a) Release of Government owned forest and mountain areas to the people for farming.

(b) Control of Land by farmers.

(c) Insure voluntary food collection system.

(d) Curtail land owners powers.

(e) Curtail conservatives powers.

(f) Demand a third land reform.

(g) Overthrow of the Yoshida Cabinet.

(2) Political activities of candidates were negligible. The absence of slogans and candidate debates was quite noticeable.

Ltr, Hq Hokkaido Civil Affairs Dist.
SUBJECT: Agricultural Land Commissions Election (Reports Control Symbol MG 22-R1). 29 Sept 49

e. Significant political strategy.

(1) In some areas farmers associations and related organizations were actively supporting certain candidates.

(2) In several areas candidates claimed the support of certain political parties, but the party officials, when questioned in this respect, disclaimed support of any candidate.

(3) Political parties generally lacked interest in this election, the Communist Party being the only party to actively fight for its candidates.

(4) There was no firm policy adopted by any of the political parties, degree of interest and support of candidates varying with the areas concerned.
