QUEEN'S SECOND SON DEAD

Her Majesty Mourns the Loss of Prince Alfred Ernest Albert, Duke of Saxe-Coburg.

DIED FROM PARALYSIS OF THE HEART

News of the Sad Event Has Created a Sensation in London, Where Many Public Events Have Been Abandoned.

(Associated Press.)

Coburg, July 31.—Prince Alfred Ernest Albert, the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, died at 10 o'clock last evening at Rosenau Castle, from paralysis of the heart.

Recently at a consultation of specialists in Vienna it was discovered that there was a cancerous growth at the root of his tongue. By his sudden death he escaped a painful, lingering death.

During the minority of his heir, the Duke of Albany, the government of the duchy will be conducted by the hereditary Prince of Hohenberg-Langenburg, the guardian of the young Duke.

London, July 31.—The news of the death of the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, Gotha, second son of Queen Victoria, has created a sensation in London.

There were many callers at Clarence and Marlborough Houses, and the Lord Chamberlain's office. Flags were half-masted.

The Queen was deeply affected. It is stated that the body of the late Duke will be embalmed and brought to England for interment, and that it will lie in state at Windsor.

Numerous public and semi-public functions have been abandoned and the obsequies will be brought to a sudden

Part of an Anarchist Plot

Lots Drawn in Paris to Decide Who Should Kill King Humbert.

Statement by Wife of the Murderer, Who Resides at Paterson, N. J.

Says She Did Not Know That Her Husband Was an Anarchist.

(Associated Press.)
London, July 31.—A special from Rome says that King Victor Emmanuel III, arrived at Brindisi to-day unexpectedly.
The dispatch adds that the young Queen fainted when she was informed of the assassination of King Humbert. The King and Queen started for Monza immediately after reaching Brindisi.

Arrests at Monza.
Rome, July 31.—The Tribune says the assassination of King Humbert is believed to have been the result of a plot. A non-militant anarchist declared, so the Tribune asserts, that the meeting had been held in Paris, at which lots were drawn and persons selected to kill the King. The papers announce that King Victor Emmanuel III, will reach Brindisi to-day and will go directly to Monza.

Besides Bressi, five persons have been taken into custody at Monza.
Lucrechi Examined.
Genoa, July 30.—As soon as the news of the assassination of King Humbert became known the detective department without means, but that her husband had always been kind to her, and continuing, said:

"If my husband was connected with any band or organization of socialists or anarchists, I knew nothing of it. I have heard him tell of this young man Sparando, who murdered the foreman of Wiseman's dye works in Paterson and then killed himself a few days ago, but as my husband never brought him to the house, I do not think they were intimates."

—Lord Salisbury on the Murder.

London, July 31.—Moving an address to the Queen with reference to assassination of the King of Italy the Premier, Lord Salisbury, in the House of Lords to-day, recalled that the last half century had seen the assassination of three presidents of republics and two monarchs. "It was a fearful thing," Lord Salisbury said, "to contemplate this depth of human villainy beneath the smiling surface of society which threatened the destinies of society in the early future."
The Premier paid a glowing tribute to the character of King Humbert who had worked unflinchingly for the benefit of the unity of country and people.

The Earl of Kimberley, Liberal, seconded the motion, which was adopted, both in the House of Lords and in the Commons.

SURRENDER OF BOERS.

Three Generals Have Given Up Arms—Hunter to Resume Hostilities.

(Associated Press.)

London, July 31.—A dispatch received at the war office to-day from Lord Roberts materially modifies yesterday's statement of the surrender of 5,000 federalists under Gen. Prinsloo.
It now appears that Generals Prinsloo, Villiers and Grother surrendered with 986 men, 1,432 horses, 955 rifles and a Krupp nine-pounder. Some of the leaders in more distant parts of the hills hesitate to come in on the plea that they are independent of Gen. Prinsloo.

Gen. Roberts adds that he has directed Gen. Hunter to resume hostilities forthwith and to listen to no excuses.

Another Death.

Ottawa, July 31.—Sir Alfred Milner, in a cable from Capetown, announces the death of Pre. J. E. Ball, of the first battalion, C. M. F., who was reported dangerously ill in a dispatch yesterday, at Kroonstad.

Private R. Bainside, of the C. B. I., a prisoner, has been released.

Mail Service.

Ottawa, July 31.—In response to a cable from the military authorities here as to the reason of delay in the relatives of members of the Cape contingent in South Africa receiving letters, Colonel Otter cables that he can attribute no other reason than a failure of the mail service.

MORE DYNAMITE OUTRAGES

In St. Louis—Street Car Badly Damaged and Passengers Shaken.

(Associated Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., July 31.—A St. Louis transit car exploded a bomb last night on St. Louis avenue. The car was badly damaged and the passengers shaken up. Windows in the vicinity were shattered and a building damaged.
Another car on Grand avenue division exploded a stick of dynamite at Montgomery avenue and North Market street. No one was injured.

As Police Captain Wm. Young was riding on the car platform on Seventh street, southern line, he noticed a spluttering light on the tracks behind and rushed to make an investigation. When within 15 yards of the object a terrific explosion ensued, which tore a large hole in the macadam pavement. The captain was rendered unconscious, but was otherwise uninjured.

RIOT ON A STEAMER.

Icelanders Insisted on Obtaining a Supply of Fish at St. John.

(Associated Press.)

Quebec, July 31.—Twenty-one of the passengers of the Montreal, the Elder-Donopeter line, which had just left St. John's, Newfoundland, a few days ago to purchase fish in order to quell a riot among the Icelanders on board, who insisted on having that product of the water, were lodged in jail here on arrival of the steamer yesterday, charged with creating a disturbance on board ship. During the riot one man, a Jew, was stabbed and is now in a critical condition. There were in all 1,080 passengers on board, a large number of whom consisted of Icelanders, Jews and Italians.

CUBAN ELECTIONS.

THE HAND OF AFFLICTION. The King of Terrors is said to love a shining mark, and in the few days that have passed of the present week he has managed to find a judgment for his shafts in the hearts of the members of the highest and noblest families in Christendom.

he spent a couple of years at Geneva, studying modern languages. He decided upon entering the navy, and was placed under the care of Rev. W. R. Jolly, at Alverbank, near Gosport, where he pursued the preparatory studies for his profession. He entered the service after a strict and searching examination on the 31st of August, 1858.

It is announced that the British commander-in-chief has decided to advance on Pekin with his troops, and that he hopes to have the co-operation of the other allied forces. In view of the fact that it seems to have been impossible to arrive at an amicable agreement as to who should take the chief command, this seems to be a very sensible course to pursue.

On Sunday morning our highly esteemed contemporary made an attack on some person or persons unknown because of an alleged slight to Admiral-Kauts in failing to respond to the salute fired from his ship when she anchored off the outer wharf.

he assured no discourtesy was shown the Admiral of the Iowa or the great nation which he represents, for the sailors of Great Britain are very punctilious in the observation of all the amenities of naval etiquette, and the officers and men of the two greatest nations of the world are good comrades in whatever portion of the waters of the globe they meet; it is regrettable that the American admiral had to depart before the arrival of Admiral Beaufort, who would have seen to it that he received his full "thirteen guns."

A Chicago woman, the high priestess of the Christian Science cult, has advanced a new theory to account for the failure of the determined attempts the Boxers appear to have made to put an end to the earthly career of the beleaguered ambassadors and their families and attendants in Pekin.

The affliction of the Royal Family has plunged the Court of St. James into mourning, and there will be no festivities or demonstration to-night to celebrate the arrival of the Governor-General and Lady Minto; but their Excellencies will no doubt feel that the welcome of the people of Victoria, although a quiet one, is none the less cordial.

It seems the Boers have once more temporarily succeeded in cooping Colonel Baden-Powell and his forces up. He had reason to repeat of their foolishness before, and they will again. THE SONG HE REMEMBERED. Wounded, the first of his gallant band, on his last march to the unknown land, he said, "My life I gladly give, To help the Maple Leaf to live."

HIGHWAY ROBBERY BY ACCIDENT. Brussels Etouffe Belge. General Martignoz Campos, returning from his club the other night, was hustled by an unknown man. Clapping his hand to his waistcoat the general discovered that his gold watch and chain were missing.

THE MUSLIN MAIDEN. London News. You never catch the muslin maiden looking warm, no matter how torrid it is. Vulgar perspiration never takes the curl out of her hair, and her nose never looks shiny.

GOVERNMENT OF MINING CAMPS. Toronto Globe. Critics of Canada's administration of the Yukon should turn to the occasional items of news that come from Cape Nome, where the American government has found it necessary to declare martial law.

THE LATE LIEUT. BORDEN. Hamilton Times. Next to Dr. Borden and his family, Dr. Stowelle is the man who should most keenly feel the blow of Lieut. Borden's death.

HE WILL NOT. London Globe. Mr. Michael Davitt, before leaving Lorenzo Marques (he has left quite at the right moment), said to a shipping official: "I came to the Transvaal too late this time, but in the next war, which won't be long, I hope to be in time to render some service."

NOTHING IS SAID. Toronto Star. If the rumour is correct that Lord Roberts refused Col. Hughes of his command because his letters published in Canadian papers were laid before the commander-in-chief, the press of this country is proud to have been a witness of the writer of those letters is incapable of being defended.

SAME TALK OF WOE. Baltimore American. The story of Noge seems to be about the same as that of all wealth-seekers. The few find success; the many, failure, suffering and death.

UNDOUBTEDLY. New York Tribune. A federated British Empire may be as conspicuous a feature of the first part of the twentieth century as the German Empire is of the last part of the nineteenth.

SOUTH AFRICAN SOUTH-EASTERS. South Africa is famous for its winds, which are of several sorts, according to the locality, but all are bad.

It is not the case with the Johannes-burg sandstorm, otherwise known as the "sandy-shifter." As Johannesburg lies 5,000 feet or 6,000 feet above sea level, and where thunderstorms are frequent, the duststorm is a wild and whirling sort of phenomenon past all calculating.

MISERY IN A HOSPITAL. Rheumatism Made Life a Burden—South American Rheumatic Cure Lifted It—A Permanent Cure. The life of John E. Smith, of Anson Wood Hospital, St. Thomas, was one long round of misery, he was so afflicted with rheumatism that he tried in vain to cure himself without much benefit.

WOMEN IN TURKEY.

As to Personal and Proprietary Rights Their Position Not Unfavorable.

In an interesting article on "Women in Turkey—Their Rights and Wrongs," in the July Cosmopolitan, Lucy M. J. Garrett says in part:

As to personal and proprietary rights, a Turkish woman occupies a not unenviable position. As a daughter she is entitled, on the death of her father, to inherit his property in common with her brothers, in a proportion determined by law, according to the number of his children. As a wife she has the undivided possession both of the fortune of which she may be possessed before marriage and of any wealth that may subsequently accrue to her. She can inherit property without the intervention of trustees and bequeath it at her death to whom she will. No doctrine of coverture exists for her; she can sue in courts or be sued independently of her husband, and can also sue him, and be sued by him. She is not entitled to plead her own cause before the public tribunals, which she often does most ably and eloquently. A husband is, on the other hand, bound to support his wife and her slaves or servants, according to her rank and his means, and to furnish her with a suitable residence "to be solely and exclusively appropriated by her, because this is essentially necessary to her, and is therefore her due, the same as her maintenance."

A Moslem Marriage.

With Moslems generally marriage is a strictly civil act, the validity of which consists in its being attested by at least two witnesses, and although an imam, or priest, is usually present at the signing of the contract, it is rather in his legal capacity than in his religious capacity. The ceremony is very simple. The bridegroom and his witnesses repair to the home of the bride in the selamlik, or public apartments, in which her male relatives discuss with them the amount of the mahr, which the imam proceeds to the door of communication with the haremlik, behind which the bride and her female relatives are assembled, and after declaring the amount of the mahr agreed upon, this functionary asks the maiden if she accepts such a one for her husband. When the question and the affirmative answer have been thrice repeated, the imam returns to the selamlik, where he attests the consent of the bride, and the parties are considered to be now legally married.

The couple do not, however, meet until the conclusion of dughnu (feast), or week of wedding festivities, and, as the mahr, which may not be held for some months afterward. These entertainments, to which all friends and acquaintances are invited, and at which the poor of the neighborhood are feasted, constitute the social sanction of the marriage contract, the latter would presume if by virtue of the contract itself. This question settled and the document drawn up, the bridegroom thrice repeats his desire to marry the daughter of the bride, which the imam proceeds to the door of communication with the haremlik, behind which the bride and her female relatives are assembled, and after declaring the amount of the mahr agreed upon, this functionary asks the maiden if she accepts such a one for her husband. When the question and the affirmative answer have been thrice repeated, the imam returns to the selamlik, where he attests the consent of the bride, and the parties are considered to be now legally married.

The Indian name of the Charles river at Boston was Mis-shun-um, which meant "great highway."

"DARDANELLES."—There are others, but none that have given such universal satisfaction as this brand of Egyptian cigarettes. For sale everywhere, 15 cts. per package.

As a consequence of representations made to the war office on the subject of the boots supplied to our troops, the military authorities are making inquiries concerning a new boot which is being made by a peculiar process in Spain. The boots are said to be as light as the ordinary army boot and much more durable. Unfortunately, however, our war office are not in the field with their inquiries, and they stand the chance of being forestalled by the Germans.

The Turkish government in no way interferes with the internal affairs of the subject races of the country, and each community follows the canon law of its national church in matters relating to marriage. The Gregorian church, to which the great majority of the Armenians belong, has in no degree modified the strictness of its original institutions in respect to the indissolubility of the marriage bond. As illustrated by the following extract from the Gregorian marriage service, the Armenian bride delivers herself unconditionally into the power of her husband. The priest, addressing the bridegroom, says: "According to the divine ordinance which God gave to our ancestors, I, as priest, give thee this woman in subjection. Will thou be her master?" The bridegroom responds: "With the help of God I will." Then, turning to the bride, he says: "Will thou be obedient to him?" She responds submissively: "I will be obedient to him, according to the command of God."

During July and August, the warmest months of the year, most people have difficulty in keeping cool. By clothing lightly, dieting lightly and refraining from alcoholic drinks, a long step towards physical comfort is made. But the most satisfactory refrigerant is Abbey's Effervescent Salt. A teaspoonful of this delightful preparation in a glass of ordinary cool drinking water reduces the temperature of the blood and quenches thirst in a natural manner without chilling the stomach suddenly. It stimulates the digestion and refreshes the body. A pamphlet explaining the many uses of this fine preparation will be mailed free on application to The Abbey Effervescent Salt Co., Limited, Montreal. For sale by all druggists, 25c and 60c a bottle.
