LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL OF BENGAL REJECTS BILL FOR SUPPRESSION OF EXTREMISTS

Refuses Approval of Measures Put Into Effect Under Ordinance Promulgated by Viceroy Last October; Under That Law Three Lieutenants of C. R. Das and Other Men Were Arrested.

Calcutta, Jan. 7. (Canadian Press Cable via Reuter's)—The Bengal Legislative Council, which reassembled to-day, rejected the Government bill to give effect to the ordinance promulgated by the Viceroy of India, the Earl of Reading, and put into effect last October for suppression of crimes of a revolutionary nature.

Under this ordinance three lieutenants of C. R. Das, leader of the Home Rule Party, were arrested, as well as a number of other men.

The ordinance was legally effective for only six months.

The Earl of Reading, in a statement accompanying the ordinance, which he invoked under special powers given him, said it would in nowise touch the liberties of citizens. He was reluctant, he said, to take such a course, but he had become convinced that all other means of dealing with revolutionists in India had been exhausted. He realized, he said, that the anarchical movement was deep-seated and that plans for criminal outrages had developed to a serious extent.

commissioner A. H. Harvey stated he would not consider re-election.

Commissioner Semple's resignation concluded:

"I regret not being able to complete my term. My one year's experience has taught me the position is an impossible one for me."

The commissioners believe their position, under the present provincial liquor law, is an impossible one. They say they are expected to enforce a law that appears to be uneforceable. To make matters worse, they claim the city is charged with $642 by the Liquor Board for law enforcement, of which the commissioners have no knowledge or evidence to indicate what, if anything, resulted from the expenditure of this amount.

DERTS DISCUSSED

The Originals appearing at Royal Victoria, for the last time to-night hold special interest for Victorians. Gus McKinnon is with them as tenor. Swimming, basketball, football, amateur boxing and even dominoes and cross-word puzzles helped Gus become one of the best known boys in Victoria. He used to make a hobby of collecting BC. swimming championships to help fill the house with cups which he and brother Al collected from various realms of sport. Then he started singing. With training Gus developed a voice of considerable promise and was in great demand in Victoria and Vancouver. In Toronto six or seven weeks ago he met the Originals and now he is making a triumphant return. No man becomes a headling in six weeks but at the VMCA.

The unofficial conversations to which so much importance is attached began yesterday between Termier Theunis of Belgium and a Premier Theunis of Belgium and a Premier Herriot and Finance Minister Clementel, and were continued this morning between M. Clementel and Winston Churchill, British Chancelor of the Exchequer.

A brief communique issued about noon announced that Measrs. Churchill and Clementel had preceded in a friendly spirit to an unofficial exchange of views on the whole question of Inter-allied debts, although this subject does not figure on the programme of the conference. The conversation between the two statesmen lasted two hours.

Mr. Churchill, on leaving the ministry, refused to add anything to the communique.

Asked about the proposal to hold the Inter-allied debt problem.

EQUAL PAYMENTS

It is understood Mr. Churchill opened the discussion with M. Clementel by setting forth the well-known British standpoint that Great Britain must receive from her war debtors sums equivalent to those she must-pay the United States.

The French Finance Minister's reply was that the French were obliged to take exactly the same attitude—that France likewise could not forgive her debtors while obliged to pay her creditors. Up to that point it appeared the conversation was easy in tone. It grew more difficult whom M. Clementel began to place the responsibility for the diminution in reparations payments which France might expect from Germany, charging it to the other Allied and Associated Powers. France, in his view, had yielded to the demands of Great Britain and the United States in accepting a reparations settlement which reduced her share by more than half without obtaining any absolute assurance that she would be able to collect even that amount.

ALL ACCEPTED PLAN

Mr. Churchill, it is declared, stated the flewer plan, had been freely acof the children's department.

Miss King, who is a daughter of the late Michael King, one of the best known prospectors in the Provence, was born in Vetoria. She was educated at the local schools and at Bishops School, La Jolla, California. In 1917 she entered the apprentice class conducted by Miss Helen Stewart, where she proved an excellent student, In the Autum of the following year she entered the Carnegic Library Training School, from which she graduated with honors in August, 1919.

cepted by all the Allies as a recessary measure to restore the economic situation not only in Germany, but in all Europe, and that France was not the only power that had made necessary concessions.

M. Clementel is understood to have suggested as an alternative measure to the payment of the war debts proprtionately to the receipts under the Dawes plan, an agreement by which the French percentage of reparation payments fixed at the Spa conference in July 1929 would be increased through the elimination of pensions from the war damage claims.

Mr. Churchill was unable to accept this proposal. He proposed, according to the unofficial accounts of the meeting, a general war debt conference.

SOVIET INVITATION

Chicago, Jan. 7.—Indications that Soviet Russia is considering plans to turn to industrial activity and an adoption, in part at least, of American commercial methods were seen here in the announcement that Assonowa a Russian architectural society in Mescow, had written Frank Lloyd Wright, architect and engineer of this city, asking him to come to Russia and assist in the new work. The society invited Mr. Wright to join it first of all in the designing of the "Temple of Work," which it is understood the Soviet Government has planned to build in Moscow as something of a monument to the end-of Caarism and the birth of tollers' freedom.

Pleads Guilty to Exchanging Case Arises Out of Theft of Whisky From Government House was charged with purchasing liquor other than from a Government liquor vendor.

Donald L. Skene said he met Etheridge at his home on Johnson Street on the morning of December 20. Witness sold him ten quart bottles of Scotch whisky for $25. The liquor was stolen by witness from Government House the night before, he admitted.

Cross-examined by R. C. Lowe he denied that he told accused that it was the remains of a party and he wanted to convert it into cash, or that he paid $35 a case for it. Harry O'Leary, inspector of detectives, said he saw accused in regard to the matter in his apartments on Johnson Street. Witness questioned him in regard to the whisky, Accused told witness Skene informed him it was whisky left over from a banquet, which he wanted to turn into money, as he gave him $25 for ten bottles. There were seven bottles left, which accused turned over to witness.

Answering Mr. Lowe, witness said he did not know accused the night before had voluntarily offered to hold the remaining bottles until witness had seen him, but it might have been so.

Mr. Lowe submitted there was no proof that Sixene was not a vendor and he claimed no case had been made out. Accused, as soon as he had an idea that the whisky might be that stolen from Government House immediately reported it to the offered to house he me of the police.

whole question of Inter-allied debts, although this subject does not figure on the programme of the conference. The conversation between the two statesmen lasted two hours.

Mr. Churchill, on leaving the ministry, refused to add anything to the communique.

Arked about the proposal to hald an Inter-allied debt conference in Brussels, he said he had not heard of the report.

While the magnitude of the task set for the conference is fully realized, relative optimism continues to prevail here, not only that the financial tange may be solved without undue friction, but that the unofficial negotiations may produce some way offering at least a hope of solving the Inter-allied debt problem.

LOCAL INDUSTRY

T IS SOUND ARGUMENT to say that the output of local industrial establishments could be considerably increased if the people of the community would realize how much they could benefit themselves and the district in which they live by demanding the home-grown or the locally-produced article wher-

Every store in the city stocks ods which could be produced in this locality. These articles are imported because there is a demand. To turn that demand from the forways as simple as it might appear. But such a desirable conversion is a long way from an impossible achievement. It is a matter of education and co-operation. There are four parties to the undertaking—the producer, the wholesaler, the reailer, and the consumer. The obligation on all these agents is about equal. The producer must grow or manufacture goods of equal quality and at a price which will enable his wares to stand up against the imported article. The consumer must show a practical desire to take the local article if that article shall be equal in all respects to that which is to be replaced. With producer and consumer agreed on the subject, the wholesaler and retailer will do the rest.

Expanding the local market is he first step towards industrial development. It means growing pay-rolls. It means a larger prosperity. It means reduced taxation. It means more population. It means new investment. But nothing progressive can be accomplished by negative discussion. The first essential is whole-hearted co-operation—a new community spirit.

WHO STOLE THE MAP?

W HO STOLE THE MAP VV of Canada from the of-fices of The Montreal Star and replaced it with a map of Russia? The Canadian Press failed to carry an account of the robbery. It has remained for The Star itself to tell the tale in its own way. Here is a part of the sad story:

part of the sad story:

"Canada is in a serious plight. How serious her condition is only a few of the leaders of the Dominion know, but thousands of her citizens are becoming gravely alarmed.

We are faced with the stubborn fact that our national debt shows a persistent increase and that provingial and municipal taxation is growing construction and the like involving the expenditure of many more millions are being proposed with profligate generosity.

"In the minds most discerning, hope is being tinged with gravo anxiety and even the stoutest hearts quali at the magnitude of the task of saving the country when they realize the terrible price that failure would igvolve. Looking the facts squarely in the face at this time of our annual stocktaking, there are three questions which suggest themselves:

"Is the country worth saving?

"Is the country worth saving?
"Can the country be saved?
"If so, how can its salvation be complished?"

There was no robbery. This is merely the 1925 edition of "The Whisper of Death." Scarcely any revision has been made. Only the date on the "title page" has been changed. It is the same old stuff, issued by the same people, uttered with the same old object, assured of the same results.

Canadians know better. They still use the map of Canada. They are already waving at an oncoming wave of prosperity. They know their money is worth one hundred cents in the United States and worth a good deal more in greaty other. a good deal more in every other country in the Old World. They know that if exports increase from year to year there is nothing wrong with the country. They know if imports decrease they are becoming because, in the course of his busi-ness and political life, he has only ness and political life, he has only visited this city a few times."

Our Vancouver contemporary inferentially chides The Sun and other elements in the Terminal City and points out that "in spite of the metropolitan problems which have been forced upon our attention in the past few months, and the necessity. cessity of a metropolitan outlook these have entailed, there is still too great a tendency in Vancouver to view things from the village stand-point." It regards the controversy obviously a very long way from gen-eral—which has arisen over the Pauline appointment as an instance of this restricted viewpoint.

THE CANAL SYSTEM

A CCORDING TO THE annual report of the Federal Department of Railways and Canals the Dominion's canal bill up to the present time reaches the total of $211,523,005. Of this amount nearly $85,000,000 has gone into the Welland Canal and the new Welland Ship Canal. The latter work already has cost somewhere in the region of $41,000,000. For the last fiscal year our expenditure was $9,357,260, while the total revenue received from these sources during the same period wa $900,575. This includes $355, 627 dues from the grain elevator at Port Colborne. Dues and rents from the Lachine Canal, Montreal, totalled $311,233, while the Trent Canal system produced $175,268, the latter being the second largest amount. Altogether Canada now has 465 miles of completed canals, with 159 locks.

These figures take on more than usual interest in view of the fact that proposals will shortly be made for a treaty between Canada and the United States for the deepening of the St. Lawrence waterway. The proposal to extend the canal system and make it possible for great liners to load their grain cargoes at the head of the Great Lakes has been an interesting subject for many years. Amounts varying from $200,000,000 to $300,000,000 have been mentioned as the probable cost of the undertaking. Bu the question of capital outlay is by which is being taken into account by many interests on both sides of the international boundary. Canadian and American Atlantic ports view the project with considerable alarm because they see business which they regard as theirs by special right going to "inland" ports. Railway interests in the United States view the question very much in the same manner as they are regarding the gradual increase of the Western movement of grain over Canadian railways. They see loss of busi-ness. On the other hand the Canadian West sees in the waterway proposal the first step to a real de-velopment of this side of the Great

It is an entertaining subject and much water will flow under the bridge before a joint treaty will be negotiated. Canada is not yet in an economic position to embark upon such an extensive financial under-taking. British Columbia, more-over, will continue to point to her open ports and press for their fuller utilization before the country shall be committed to the St. Lawrence proposal. In their case, too, the appeal of the trans-Pacific market will not be overlooked. As they develop it, so will the argument for still greater Western shipments of grain, with an eventual fairer freight schedule, increase. Meanwhile the waterway deepening pro-ject will require a good deal of con-

FARM OWNERSHIP

NOT EVEN THE MOST prosperous Canadian farmer would argue that all the difficulties of rural industry have been or ever will be removed. But the agriculwill be removed. But the agricul-turist in this country has something to be proud of in the fact that only eight per cent. of the farms of Can-ada are operated by tenants—as against thirty-eight per cent. in the United States.

with the country. They know if imports decrease they are becoming more self-sustaining.

THE VILLAGE VIEWPOINT

A LTHOUGH IT DOES not go out of its way to compliment the Government on its choice, rather implying that the late Mr. Wade will be a very difficult man to replace in the position. The Vancouver Daily Province declares that "it is utter nonsense" to oppose the appointment of Mr. Pauline as Agent-General for British Columbia in London "because he is not a Vancouver man, because he has not the Vancouver point of view, or he would if immediate profit-quick returns, exhaustion of the farm, and transfer to other areas were his sole concern.

While this condition obviously gives him a clear advantage, the Canadian farmer beats his neighbor across the line in the net agricultural production per farm. Taking the 1920 figures as a basis, the Canadian averaged $2,136 as compared with an average and production by with an average net production by the United States farmer of $1,703. And on the basis of all farms, the average expenditure for labor in this country was $185 and $210 on the other side of the boundary. These figures are interesting and What Mussolini lacks in logic he apparently makes up in noise and bluster.

There were seven hours of bright sunshine in Victoria yesterday. Sunlight is a pretty effective anti-dote for the pessimist germ. simist germ.

The pound sterling has put itself within less than ten cents of par value in Wall Street. John Bull's methods of international dealing still command respect.

Pursuing its ill-judged attack on the Pauline appointment, The Van-couver Sun said this editorially yes-terday: "Mining in British Co-lumbia needs English money." The inference is that Mr. Pauline will not get it. In another editorial, immediately following the one re-ferred to above, The Sun said this: "Nothing on earth can stop the de-velopment of our wonderful mining fields." Not even Mr. Pauline's Victoria residence qualification will stop it. Surely The Sun will be easier in its mind now it has con-vinced itself so completely.

DR. FRANK CRANE ---ON---

"Good Weather"

WEATHER is a common cause of complaint, no matter how good or bad it is.

It is probably the most talked of subject in the world, as it is the entering wedge to most conversations.

Mark Twain said that he had noticed that although everybody talked of the weather, as far as he could see, nothing had been done thout it.

talked of the weather, as far as he could see, nothing had been done atout. In the Fall of 1924 the weather throughout the United States was remarkably good and yet we have leard many complaints of it, especially from merchants.

The trouble, they said, was that the weather was unseasonable. It, was not conductive to buying. No man wanted to buy an overcoat, and no woman a set of furs, when the days were warm and summery. We needed a touch of winter in order to drum up trade. There may be some truth in this, but there is another side to it. The weather of which the merchants complain is another side to it. The weather of which the merchants complain is good for farmers. It enables them to be out of doors all day and to attend to the gathering of their crops and their farm duties. This enables them to make more money and hence to have more to spend. The only place they can spend it is in the stores and so, eventually, the money gets around to the merchants.

Thus it will be seen that what it bad weather for one set of people is good for another. We must remember that whatever the day may be it always pleases somebody.

is good for shown in good for shown in the first show it always pleases somebody.

If we could all have our way we would have several kinds of weather at once. If we could get everything we prayed for, and we were all devout Christians, we would be praying simultaneously for a hundred and fifty kinds of weather. In other words, there weather. In other words, there weather. In other words, there would be more weather in the day than the day could contain. The weather would be even more erratic than it is at present.

James Whitcomb Riley's dictum was that "When it. rains, rain's my choice." That is a good attitude for all of us to take. We should be happy in any kind of weather that is sent to us because no matter what we do or say we cannot change it.

OAK BAY'S FINANCIAL YEAR

To The Editor—It is unfortunate that the financial year of the Municipality of Oak Bay should end on December 31, as it does not allow the candidates for reeve and councillors an opportunity to study the municipal statements before offering themselves as candidates and they have to allow their names to be proposed while they themselves are more or less in the dark as to what policy they should pursue.

This militated against the Oak Bay Council elected last year who were not in possession of the full financial situation until after they were councillors.

This should be remedied by making the financial year end, say, on October 31 when the statements could be ready by December 31.

I VANISHED VALUES

Mr. Baird touched on the disappearance of values behind the asseasments shown on municipal asseasment rolls. He considered that attempts to put artificial support bebe hind assessment figures had been at mistake, that much loss of value had resulted in too heavy tax burdens being imposed on land which had resulted in impossibility of owners to continue retention of their lands.

"All property should be so taxed

To the Court this morning Mr. Maclean outlined the case for the corporation. The system was proposed by Mr. Cameron who submitted plans and detailed drawings and was engaged as contractor with the understanding that his plans, were supplied gratis. Plaintiff occupied two roles, that of designer and that of contractor. The agreement between the parties featured a test before laking over the work.

NOT UP TO SPECIFICATION

NOT UP TO SPECIFICATION

Upon the test, submitted counsel, the water works system failed to live up to specifications in that whereas 500 gallons a minute were required to operate the system as proposed not more than about 300 gallons a minute had been secured, while after dynamiting obstructions and at low water in the river not more than sixty gallons a minute came through the pipes to the reservoir.

Plaintiff, continued Mr. Maclean, was by his own evidence a skilled engineer with fifty-two years experience, and according to his own admissions had constructed over $1,250,900 worth of tile piping systems in B. C. alone. There was, said counsel, under such circumstances an implied goarantee that the system, his own proposal, would work. If it did not, and counsel would submit that it had not worked, plaintiff as designer or plaintiff as contractor was

"This question has been greatly threshed out, but is one on which too much cannot be said," remarked inspector Baird.

"It has been said that lowering assessments and boosting the rate would cause conflict with statutary limitations of tax rate. All I. can say is that in the past ten years very few municipalities have come anywhere near such limitations."

ADMINISTRATION METHODS

Mr. Baird touched on city manager proposals, noting that many municipalities have gone considerably along the road of entrusting one man with authority to effect economy, see leakages are stopped and efficiency promoted.

Police Commission policies provided two Saanich meetings with interesting debates last night, ratepayers of Ward Three at the GordonHead Hall witnessing a crossfire belead Hall witnesser to the replacement of Chief Brogan's Ford

Psychology of Railway Cor-porations and Western Crops Decried

Brandon, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press)

The possibility of serious friction between Eastern and Western Canada was suggested to-day by Mrs. James Elliott, president of the United Farm Women of Manitoba, in her annual address to the annual convention of that association. "The attitude of Eastern to Western Canada," she said, "is strikingly similar to the attitude of Great Britain to the United States prior to the revolution. The colonies were looked upon by the people of Great Britain to the United States prior to the revolution. The colonies were looked upon by the people of Great Britain to the United States prior to the revolution, the extraction of wealth and the imposition of owners taxes. One cannot help but wonder if history will repeat itself and the attitude of the East ultimately force the people of the West to seek some form of a calf-government. Such a suicidal policy is to be deprecated."

CROW'S NEST AND CROPS

Mrs. Elliott said she deprecated the lack of true co-operation between those who depend for their sustenance on the producer, and the producer on whom all the labor and risk falls."

"It would be interesting," she continued, "to know the psychology of

"It would be interesting," she continued, "to know the psychology of railway corporations and the reaction of their minds when the news of abundant crops reach their ears. One wonders if any attempt would have been made to challenge the reinstatement of the Crow's Nest agreement if eastern interests had thought that the western crop would be as small in bulk as has actually been realized. Is it not possible for those big interests to rest content with their profits for one year, that the producers may be permitted to partly pay off their mortgages and loans and thus become reinstated on their farms with a hopeful outlook toward the maintenance; of their homes on the land in the future?" the maintenance; of the PROHIBITION Pointing to the defeat of prohibi-tion in the western provinces, Mrs. Elliott said it was patent that the women had not proved to be an ap-preciable factor in the situation, and she urged further education on the duties of citizenship and the evils-of intemperance.

FARMING "NOBILITY"

The time had come when Manitoba should become a homemakers' province. She urged the importance of beautifying home grounds and the installation of home libraries, the planting of flowers and trees. "A farming nobility instead of a hewer of wood peasantry" was her aim. If the brotherhood of man was to reign supreme the women must accomplish it. If people continued to live as a part of a competitive system war would not be overcome. Nationalism must go," she said. As an initial step she suggested that manufacture of war munitions for private profit be prohibited.

the speaker acknowledged his indebtedness to R. E. Gosnell, the well-known historian, for much of the material incorporated in his address, which included a number of little-known historian included a number of little-known historic incidents affecting the constitution of the Dominion.

Of particular interest was the comparison of Canada's system of government with that of the sister Dominions, and also with that of the United States, the Senstor tracing its evolution from the British constitution. He commended its elasticity and democratic principles. In concluding his talk, Senator Green briefly touched upon the controversial subject of the abolition of the Senate, and voiced the opinion, born of the experience acquired as a member of the House of Commons and of the Senate, that such a step would be a mistake,

Miss Cann supplemented the thanks of the president, Mrs. H. P. Hodges, to the speaker by recalling several places of historic interest associated with the birth of Confederation and visited by the delegates at the recent Canadian Club conference in the East, The musical part of the programme was arranged by Mrs. Charles Conyers, who has succeeded Mrs. Nasmyth as musical convener and included two delightfully rendered solos by Mrs. William Wright.

REINDEER OF ARCTIC
DIE IN MICHIGAN

Lansing, Jan. 7.—Experiments conducted by the state department of conservation apparently have demonstrated that reindeer will not thrive in the northern peninsula, of Michigan.

About two years ago sixty reindeer were imported and placed on a game farm. It was the hope of sportsmen they would find the cold stretches of the Lake Superior region to their liking and that the northern woods soon would be thickly populated with the Arctic animals. Federal and state agencies had announced that a mossy growth prevalent in the upper peninsula was ideal food for reindeer. The herd at first increased to more than seventy. Then they started to die off and now only seven are left.

Scientists have attributed the high mortality rate to a species of penumonia, brought on by the climate and to a lack of lime in the food.

Predictions Made For Record Year of Progress in 1925

Canada Faces Era of Prosperity and Bright Future

bers of the staff of the Hudson's Bay Company's store sat down to a ban-quet as guests of the company last night, and received a bonus in the shape of a cheque for $1,000 towards the funds raised by the Employees Association for social and athletic purposes. After a jolly function, at which bright predictions were made of an awakening era of prosperity in the Dominion, the guests reassembled at the Alexandra ballroom where dancing was continued until a late hour.

A. H. Doe a London, England, official of the company; H. T. Lockyer, general manager of Western stores, and A. J. Watson, manager of the Victoria store, spoke encouragingly of the progress made by the Hudson's Bay in the eleven stores operated in Canada in the year past, PIONEERS FETED

PIONEERS FETED

Honor guests at the head tables were many who pioneered in the service of the company. These included Messrs. Finch Page, Walter Fowles, A. Nicolson, M. Robnon and Frank Leggo, as well as Messrs. Lockyer and Watson, all of whom had seen long service in the company. The honor guests totated nearly two hundred years of service, several having; been identified with the Hudson's Bay between thirty-five and forty years. Mr. Lockyer and Mr. Watson were cited as examples, both having risen from salesmen to outstanding positions in the company's service.

In rising to speak, H, T. Lockyer, general manager of Western stores, was warnly received. In a high and in the fand permitted to speak. He spoke briefly, thanking all for their loyal support in the year met and predicting a record year in 1925.

In coming to Victoria, he said, he had been told it was a hard place to do business in. He had not found it so, and could say with every truth that he looked for renewed progress in the years to come. The speaker stressed the value of co-operation, loyalty and willing service, and pleaded for ambition and aggressiveness on the part of all. As in a watch, he said, no single unit of the organization was unimportant. All had a part, and each part was vital to the smooth working and efficient operation of the whole.

A. H. Doe, an official of the company at London, England, added a message of thanks to the staff, for their services in the past, and wishes them every success in the days to come. The future, he added, was bright with prospects, and it was the duty of all to work energetically and loyally to that end. Victoria and the Hudson's Bay personnel would share in the boom days that were ahead for the great Dominion, he concluded.

Says Government Greatest Tyranny on Earth.

Fredericton, N.B., Jan. 7—That the Russian Government was an evil government and the greatest tyranny on the face of the earth, when she visited that country four years ago, and remains so, but that economically the country was slowly making progress, was stated here last night in her first public address in Canada under the auspices of the National Council of Education by Mrs. Philip Snowden, wife of the Chancellor of the Exchequer in the late British Labor Government. Every reasonable, aid should, be given the 150,000,000 people in Russia in the struggle upward out of the results of the centuries of tyranny, she thought, but she knew that, at least on the part of the late Chancellor of the Exchequer there had been no intention that Russia should have one halfpenny of English money without absolute security.

Mrs. Snowden will include Victoria her itinerary, and has been invited o address a luncheon meeting of the Vomen's Canadian Club on Friday, anuary 23.

B.C. Cement Company Learns of Caria's Departure From Old Country Port To-day; Vessel Will Arrive Here Early Next Month, Officials Expect.

The British Columbia Cement Company's new steamship, the Caria, left Newcastle for this port to-day, with a capacity cargo of freight for ports on this coast, and will arrive early in February. She has about 400 tons of general merchandise for Balfour, Guthrie and Company, of Vancouver and the remainder of her freight is for her owners.

The Caria will operate in conjunction with the steamer Teco, a vessel of 300 tons capacity, which lies at Yarrows' Ltd. Esquimalt, at the present time. These two ships will be sufficient to carry on the trade of the company by which they are owned, and will ply in coast waters.

From the offices of Canadian National Actions of the Mattheways here comes word of the change of schedule of the vessels operating on the coast for the Government, the Prince John and the Prince Rupert. The former, which sails to the Queen Charlotte Islands, has had her January 3 sailing from Vancouver, cancelled, and will not leavathe mainland port for the northern islands until January 10. After that date she will sail regularly, once each fortnight. She leaves on the following days for the north: January 10 and 24, February 7 and 21, March 7 and 21, April 4 and 28. The schedule of the Prince Rupert, which sails from Vancouver to Prince Rupert, will make a weekly sailing, following the change in the train schedules at the northern point.

"DISORDERED MIND"

Albuquerque, N.M., Jan. 7.—William D. Shepherd branded as "the ravings of a disordered mind" insinuations made by Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Chicago Municipal Court that Shepherd might have been involved in the death of Olson's brother. Dr. Oscar Olson, who died three years ago.

Shepherd, who was the foster father of William N. McClintock, "Millionaire Orphan," on whose death an investigation had been conducted in Chicago, characterized as "a lie" the statement attributed to Judge Olson that for the first time in nine years he (Shepherd) had visited Dr. Olson a short time before the latter's death.

England Requires 113 Runs To Take Second Test Game

Had Four Wickets in Hand When Stumps Were Drawn To-day at Melbourne

Sutcliffe Scores Second Century of Match, Equalling Bardsley's Record

Melbourne, Jan. 7 (Canadian Press Cable, via Reuter's).—With four wickets to fall, England requires 113 runs for victory over Australian in the second cricket test match of the present series. Commencing the last innings of the contest late yesterday, the tourists had scored 54 runs for the loss of one wicket out of a total of 372 required to win the game. Stubborn defensive play by Sutcliffe, who was unbeaten at the end of the day, with another century to his credit, was mainly responsible for England's favorable position at the end of to-day's play, the total standing at 259 runs for six wickets.

Sutcliffe, who had scored 114 runs when stumps were drawn, equalled Eardsley's hitherto unique feat of scoring a century in each innings of a test match between the two countries which was made in England in 1909, when the Australian made 136 and 130. It was also his third consecutive test match century. The Englishman, who hit 176 runs in the first innings of the present game, gave a remarkable exhibition of tenacity and determination to-day against the clever Australian bowling. Resuming this morning with 12 runs to his credit, he presented a strong defence, taking two hours and forty-five minutes for his first 50 runs. He hit eleven boundaries.

One of the features of the match so far has been the number of players retired on 'leg before wicket' decisions. In the Australians' second innings, three men returned to the pavilion for this infringement, and in to-day's play four Englishmen out of the six who lost their wickets were out on similar decisions.

Pictorial Golf Instruction

USE THE SQUARE STANCE

Most good golfers turn their left side to the hole when about to make an approach of lifty or seventy-five yards. They feel that in doing this they can line up the hole better than by taking an open stance and almost facing the pin. The advantage in a side view of the hole is twofold. One can, by the square stance, get an accurate line on the hole and need have no fear of going wrong. There is also the tendency to keep the head down until the club has completed its work. Alex. Smith says that this is by far the better way to learn the game and after one learns golf the chances are that they will not feel the temptation to make a change later on.

Great Finnish Runner Won Both Races Last Night in Record-breaking Time

Joie Ray Could Not Hold Finn in Mile; Ritola Outclassed in Three-mile

Madison Square Garden, New York, un. 7 (Associated Press)—Paavo Nurmi, Finland's super-runner, an-nounced last night, after his recordsmashing double triumph in the Finnish-American games that he would remain in America until April would remain in America until April or May, engaging in several more indoor races and then probably trying his fortune outdoors before returning to his native land.

"They were two way victories." Paavo declared, smilingly, in reference to his triumphs over Ray and Ritola.

His next appearance will be in the Municipal A. A. Games here January 15, after which he will take 2nt in the Milirose A.A. Carnival, January 27 to 28, both in Madison Square Garden.

New York, Jan. 7.—Paavo Nurmi, famous Finnish Olympic marvel, opened his American indoor campaign victoriously last night when he captured a spectacular mile race in world's record time from six Tivals, the first of two races in which he was featured at the Finnish-American somes was reatured at the Finnian-American games.

Nurmi won by three yards from-Joie Ray, former American mile champion, in one of the greatest indoor races ever held, and clipped a full second from the former record made by Ray in 1819.

The Finn's time was 4.13 3-5.

est fields ever gathered together in America, and, in demonstrating that he had lost none of his dazzling Olympic speed in his first indoor test, set a pace so fast that two of his rivals were forced to drop out, while Ray and Lloyd Hahn, Boston A.A., who finished third, were outclassed. Over the last lap Ray tried desperately to eatch the "Phantom Finn," but the little American, despite one of the greatest races of his life, in which he also bettered the time of his former world's record, could not catch the invader.

Ray was clocked in 4.14 flat as compared with his old mark of 4.14 compared with his old mark of 4.14 2-5.

So hot was the pace that Leo Larrives, Holy Cross star, and F. Lewendahl, a countryman of Nurmi, dropped out several laps from the finish.

RAN THEM TO DEATH

Nurmi faced a field of six Americans and one other Finnish entry at the start. He set most of the pace for the first six laps, when Ray challenged and shot out into a tenyard lead. Hahn followed Ray and Nurmi ran in third place until the last lap, when he took command and won virtually as he pleased, looking back over his shoulder and apparently having plenty in reserve.

Less than two hours later Nurmi returned to the boards to run away from his countryman. Wille Ritola, at 5,000 metres in a race fought out Faxlussleyl between the two doughty Finns.

Nurmi shattered two records in the mile run and the third in the 5,000metre race, and in each instance he displaced marks which Ray, former king of American milers, had put on the record books.

His time for the 1,500 metres was 5,56 1-5, as compared with Ray's former record of 4,91 3-5, made last year, while at the mile Nurmi's time of 4,13 3-5 clipped a full second from the old wark Ray established in 1919.

Nurmi concluded his unprecedented sweep when he broke the tape in the 5,000-metre event in 14,44%, which hettered by ten seconds the record
Ray hung up in 1919.

On his way to this mark, however.
Nurmi failed by three seconds to equal, the three-mile record which liftols as in 1923 at 14,15 4-5.

New York, Jan. 7.—Paavo Nurmi, Finnish Olympic champlon, will continue his American indoor campaign, started last night at the Finnish-American games, when he competes in the Milirose AA. Carnival at Madison Square Garden, January 27 and 28. Milirose officials announced last night that Nurmi will compete in two special events on successive nights, appearing first in the two-thirds mile race and the following night in the Rodman Wananaker 1½ mile race.

Entries for the Milirose Games, which include twenty-eight Olympic, world and American champions, promise a track and field carnival eclipsing all previous records. Aside from the races in which Nurmi will appear, chief interest will centre in an intenational walking race in which Ugo Frigerio, Italian star, who has won the Olympic titles of 1920 and 1924, will be pitted against George H. Goulding, Vancouver, B.C., veteran Canadiah, and 1912 Olympic champion, who is attempting a comeback, and Willie Plant, premier American heel and toe expert.

'BLOSSOM TIME' TO BE SHOWN HERE

The Messrs. Shubert will present a come-back engagement of "Blossom Time" at the Royal Theatre, one night only, to-morrow, in response to insistent public request. The outstanding thing about "Blossom Time," the lovely operetta which, after its remarkable triumph, returns here in a blaze of new glories, is that the music is almost entirely that of Frans Schubert, the great song composer. Thus, in one statement may this operetta, or romantic play with music, be lifted high above all the light musical offerings of the day into a class wholly and particularly its own—a plane which can and does appeal to the most exacting lovers of pure music on the one hand and to the great hosts of average theatregoers at the same time because Schubert composed in the language of the heax and with the simplest and most understandable sense of melody. The Messris. Shubert are bringing here the splendid company of singing and acting artists who first made tha fame of "Blossom Time" on Broad-

Dumbells Here For Last Time This Evening

Twice to-day at the Royal Victoria. Theatre the Originals will stage their revue "Stepping Out." This sparkling movelty revue is brimful of tuneful melodies, clever dances, and smart sketches and dialogue. It runs from start to finish with a breeziness that is a positive delight. Large and appreciative audiences have witnessed the previous performances of this steller attraction and those who have not seen Canada's clever soldier artists should do so as this will be their only engagement here this year.

be their only engagement here this year,
We are not surprised that the Originals are proving auch a tremendous draw. The critics in the local press as well as those in all the other cities the Originals have appeared, have halled "Stepping Out" as a thing of joy, and it certainly is all that, being a refreshing change from the usual run of musical entertainments. It charms by its novelty and cleverness, its singing is of the best, while the comedians, notably Bob Anderson, put over their stuff so rapidly that one can scarcely get breath between laughs.

FAMOUS BUCCANEER STORY THRILLS AT COLUMBIA THIS WEEK

"Oh Jerry! Where's that Jeremy Pitt?"

"Over there, with a needle sticking in him," bawled out a disinterested extra.

Pell-mell from his stoot dashed Director David Smith and in his wake a flock of camera men and assistants who were engaged in making scenes for Rafael Sabatini's famous love story, "Captain Blood," which will be shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day.

They found him, and true enough, with a needle sticking from him. But at no discomfiture to his person. James Morrison, who has the role, was in the hands of the wardrohe mistress, who was making use of every available moment to keep his costume in order.

Jeremy Pitr has a tough time of it in "Captain Blood," and aside from the bruising he gets from the mobs and his own particular fights, his clothing suffers considerably. It is a constant duty for the wardrobe mistress, to keep Jerry's clothes intact as well as the same in detail throughout the picture.

'TILLY OF BLOOMSBURY' GIVES CHANCE FOR LONDON FILMDOM

Ian Hay's famous novel, "Happy-Go-Lucky," in the form of a very pleasing picture under the title "Tilly of Bloomsbury," which is the feature attraction at the Coliseum Theatre. When Ian Hay wrote this story he probably did not realize that in play form and rechristened "Tilly of Bloomsbury" was destined to become one of the biggest drawing cards on the English speaking stage. With glowing reports of expanding business in the steel industry and merchandising lines for a background it is conclusively demonstrated that its ability to hold an upward tendency, the stock market started the day with rising prices. Steel shares were strengthened by Iron Age's portrayal of the extent to which the stel industry has "comeback" since carly November. This recovery might be summed up in the statement that "the situation has some of the marks of a transition from a buyers' to a sellers' market." Baldwin jumped into the leadership of the industrials, running up 133% at the expense of an over-crowded short interest. Southern Pacific was the outstanding feature of the investment class reaching its best at the expense of an over-crowded short interest. Southern Pacific was the outstanding feature of the investment class, reaching its best price since 1920. Accumulation was based on the expectation that directors will shortly follow the example of the Atchison boar in advancing the present $6 divide: d to a $7 basis. Locomotive issues are in unusually strong financial position, American Locomotive reaching 198. It is considered almost certain that stockholders will receive some extra distribution in the near future.

Missouri Pacific preferred reached new high ground at 75%, compared with its 1924 low of 29. Buying was based on the expectation of early action with regard to liquidating the thirty-three per cent dividend arrearage and the establishment of a $5 rate on the issue.

Some of even greater significance occurred in Steel common. One house took 19,000 shares at 120½ for a rich client. The stock sold down to 120%, and a big order for a big-block just missed being executed. Following Monday's wide reaction and the large number of supporting orders at 121, a big block of steel to be sold at 125, was changed to 130. Montgomery Ward reached a new high at 50, while Sears-Roebuck had a vioner davance to 161%, up more than 12 points from Tuesday's low. Buying was stimulated by the statement of the Secretary of Agriculture that grain prices are too low instead of being too high.

MERCHANTS ADVISED TO BUY AHEAD AS PRICES ARE RISING

Chicago, Jan. 7.—This continent is now entering upon a new era of industrial expansion that promises prosperity for many years to come, according to James Simpson, president of Marshall Field and Company, who says:

"We may confidently expect this expansion to be healthy and stable and to be comparable in its results to the period of prosperity which followed the election of President McKinley in 1896.

Agricultural conditions have greatly improved. And we have a sound banking and mercantile credit situation with money for all legitimate needs. When farmers are prospersus—when they are raising good crops and receiving good prices for them—there is nothing that need werry the business man, the professional man, of the public at large, with the possible exception of general world conditions."

French Have Been Making Effort to Arrange New Treaty

Paris, Jan. 6.—Dr. Trendelenburg, nead of the German delegation negotiating for a renewal of the Franco-German trade treaty, has gone to Berlin, having been called home by his Government to explain fully the proposals of France. Ho is expected back in Paris on Friday, when he will be in a position to transmit the views of his Government to Minister of Commerce

Negotiations between the French and Germans for a commercial treaty-have reached a deadlock. The Germans, it is said, sought to make the continuance of the negotiations contingent on the evacuation of the Cologne bridgehead January 10, leaving it to be understood that if the Allied troops remained in Cologne after that date the French might look for a tariff war.

So, she began calling for him at the club in the late afternoons and driving him home herself through the warm scented duck of early Summer. It was characteristic of Mariana that she didn't realize, even in her innermost consciousness, that Craig Cullam's presence at the club, his frequent homeward drives with them, had a great deal to do with her virtuous resolution.

her virtuous resolution.

As for Cullam, the days dragged endlessly. His mementary glimpses of Doris—now incredibly busy, it seemed—were the only bright spots in his draib existence. True, he enjoyed his game of golf with Charles on days when there was no matinee to play and it was pleasant to have tea and drive home with his good friend and his wife, who was always charmingly sympathetic and restfulis beautiful to the eye.

But it seemed sometimes to Cul-

"The play has less than a month o run here," he explained. "We close or a few weeks and sail for London for a rew weeks and sail for London in July."

"Oh!"

It was a polite little expression of regret, but, so absorbed was he in his own bifterness that he did not notice that Doris had gone quite white, and that the hand fingering her teacup trembled.

Dorls returned to the headquarters of the pageant committee, following the tea with Craig Cullam when he had told her that his play would shortly close and he would be salling for London.

asked with an effort at disinterestedness. "Does he hang around here much?"

"Every day—almost," nodded Isobel, with a rather significant glance in Doris's direction.
"Imm!" was Jervis's comment.
"And I supose you're the attraction?"
Here was a guileleas fool; he told himself; he could find out all he wanted to know without her suspecting that she was being pumped.
Isobel answered him with a rippling laugh.

"I? Where are your eyes? Haven't you watched Cullam when Doris is in the room?"
Isobel's pointed sarcasm, her twinkling eyes, made him uncomfortably aware that she might not be as dense as he'd rated her.

"The fellow's insufferable—impertinent puppy!" Anger goaded him into the muttered explanation.
"He's stunning—and he has such charming manners," murmured isobel by way of rebuke.

Jervis flung away from her, without the courtesy of an apology. He strode across the room to Doris's desk and demanded that she make ready to leave at once.

Doris looked from her papers in mild surprise. Them she frowned. "Really Dick I'm sorry if you're impatient, but I must finish these before I go to dine with you."

"If you'd stayed to finish them instead of going off somewhere with that confounded actor this afternoon, you'd be free now."

Dorie's eyes narrowed coolly.

"It's not necessary for you to wait, Dick, if you're in a hurry," she said suggestively.

manner of risk, especially in speculation, or to squander it in personal indulgences, or in lending without proper security. This critical financial situation is enhanced by the adverse place of Saturn and Mercury. In affairs of the home and the heart the prospect is most interesting, since Neptüne in trine with Venus and Sol parallel with Neptune may promote unusual phases.

Those whose birthday it is are under the forecast of a probably hazardous year for finance, especially in the matter of speculation, lending and personal extravagance. While new projects may flourish, extraordinary precaution should be taken in renewing contracts, lest taken in renewing contracts, lest there be fraud or misrepresentation. There is a possibility of active, possibly sensational or erratic, love affairs. A child born on this day may be extravagant, and careless with youth.

Uncle Wiggily and the Old Nest

(By Howard R. Garis)

Once upon a time as Uncle Wiggily was hopping through the woods, twinkling his pink noce and wonder-twinkling his pink noce and wonder-twing what Nurse Jane would give him to eat when he reached his hollow stump bungalow, the bunny gentleman came to a sudden stop under a bramble bush. For he heard a voice crying there in the woods.

"Perhaps it's a little lost Bob Cat," thought Uncle Wiggily to himself. "Sometimes the bad old Bob Cat sends the little Bob Cat to cry out in the woods, and then when some one like me comes along and takes pity on the little Bob Cat, the big Bib Cat jumps out and nibbles ears. I must be careful!"

Uncle Wiggily looked around. The Uncle Wiggily pointed up into a leafless tree where, on a branch; was instened an old bird's nest, In the Spring the nest had been new, carefully woven by the robins. In it Mrs. Robin had laid her blue eggand from the eggs little birds had hatched. The birds had now flown away where the weather was warmer, but the old nest was left, "That nest will make you a fine hat, Susie," said the bunny. "Turn it Oh, how I wish I had a new hat!"

"Hum! That doesn't sound like a Bob Cat," thought Uncle Wiggily, And a moment later he knew it wasn't one of the bad chaps, for Susie Littletail, the rabbit girl, walked slowly along the path. It was Susie who had been crying.

"What's the matter," asked Uncle Wiggily kindly.

"Oh, I want a new hat so much!" sighed Susie. "All the other animal girls have new hats for the new year, but my mother worft get me one."

"Why not?" asked Uncle Wiggily, rather surprised, for he knew Mra. Littletail to be good and kind. "Why won't your mother get a new hat, a good hat?" and Susie snatched from her head the bonnet she was wearing.

"Please don't ask me anything about hats!" begged the bunny uncle, twinkling his pink nose. "Nurse Jane always wants me to look at the new bonnets she buys, but I can't seel and the fluff pod.

"Cattle down, stick a feather on and it will look just like some of the expensive hats from the five and ten cent store."

"It might be nice," said Susie, dry-ling her tears, "but how can we get the old nest down?"

Just-then along came Billie Bushy-tail, the squirrel.

"Please scramble up and gnaw that leave low signify to list twas lined win?" begged to wisigily. Down came the nest. Inside it was lined win? Them they down, the little rabbit girl put it on.

"How does it look, Uncle Wiggily?" he and dropped when she flew south. This the bunny stuck on Susie's nest rec, and the little rabbit had as a want." "Now I am happy!" she laughed. And they all went home together. B

KIWANIS CLUB

Joyous Speeches Mark Transfer of Control of Popular Service Body

The Kiwanis Club last night held dinner and dance at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, many of the members being accompanied by the members being accompanied by their wives.

Past President S. J. Willis welcomed Mrs. H. P. Hodges of the Kumtuks Club, and E. V. Finland of the Gyro Club to the function.

In surrendering the presidency of the Kiwanis Club, Mr. Willis recalled to the club the magnificent services which Walter Walker had given the members during more than flye, years in office as secretary, and then presented Mr. Walker on behalf of the club with a pair of handsome framed views.

The retiring secretary briefly thanked the club and declared that he had greatly enjoyed the work involved in the office of secretary.

Rev. Dr. W. G. Wilson then took over the gavel, as chairman of the committee in charge of installing the new officers, and in doing so assured the ladies that all the new officers had been properly elected as the brightest members of the club "despite what their wives may think." Dr. Wilson then presented S. J. Willis with a past presidents jeweled button.

Mark Graham, the first president of the Victoria Kiwanis Club, as installing officer entrusted with the duty of placing Dr. Howard Miller in the presidency, remarked, "whoever prepared this programme certainly had an eye to business, for the old adage, holds good, cleanliness still comes next to Godliness with myself following Dr. Wilson."

In addressing Dr. Miller, Mr. Graham pointed out that the wearer of the presidential Kiwanis pin would find that great responsibilities were involved, that a task of great difficulty awaited him in pleasing over 100 mer of differing temperaments.

B. C. Nicholas then installed Hugh Alian as first vice-president, and Hugh Leigh as second vice-president, his address following the humorous vein opened up by Dr. Wilson and developed by Mr. Graham.

He urged the members to remember that they owe unremitting support and help to their directors. The directors cannot run this club themselves, the members must keep in close and sympathetic touch with them, and then the Victoria Kiwanis Club will continue to progress as in the past."

Dr. Wilson then handed the gavel to Dr. Miller with a few words of assurance of support, by all the members, for the coming year. Dr. Miller excused fitnself from speech-making, on two grounds, that the best point of each address was the closer proximity of dancing time, and also that the previous, speakers had "stolen his thunder."

He forecasted that the year 1925 would be the best experienced by Victoria for many years, with much work shead for the Kiwanis Club, wherein he hoped to receive the unstined support of the membership. Hugh Allan, as first vice-president, spoke briefly, suggesting that the club keep to the fore a view of work to be done rather than rest on the laurels of past successes.

Hugh Leigh thanked the members for the honor conferred upon him as second vice-president, and suggested the advisability of appointment by the club of a legislative committee to watch the actions of provincial legislators. He also urged expansion of the work of the club on behalf of underprivileged children.

UNIVERSITY ADOPTS NEW FORM OF TESTS

Berkeley, Cal., Jan. 7.—A new system of examinations has been adopted by Professor Warner Brown of the psychology department of the University of California. This department had used the essay form, requiring the student to write at length on several questions. Dr. Brown did not deem this a fair test, and so he formed a combination of tests.

One of the new methods requires or false.

According to Dr. Brown, this type of test gives the student more choice of questions, because more ground is covered in less time. He says it exposes knowledge of a subject, rather than the mere ability to state things. CLAIM FAILS

Vancouver, Jan. 7. — A claim by Frederick C. Morton, a trustee of the Sam Brighouse estate, for repayment to the estate of approximately $120,000 with interest by Michael Wilkinson Brighouse, nephew of Sam Brighouse, who died July 31, 1913, and another trustee, failed in Supreme Court. Mr. Justice D. A. McDonâld, who conducted the trial, accepted defence testimony proving that Sam Brighouse had given the money to his nephew.
