THE ARCHON

A STRETCH OF UNIVERSITY COUNTRY.

I was travelling by train over a very dull stretch of country between Georgetown and Boston, when my travelling companion, whom I had not noticed, suddenly addressed me thus:

"Say, my friend, did see the wonderful news in the Federal Gazette last night? Frank J. Bushman of Nebraska recently discovered a material which baffles the efforts of the ordinary steel magnate, and he has by means of it, at last produced a perpetual motion machine, which is going to revolutionize the entire scientific and mechanical world! Think of it! In three months' time he will have destroyed the power of the Germans' big guns; the U-boats will soon be at his mercy, and if the Teutonic bloodhounds do not fall on their knees and beg for peace, he will apply his miracle-workers to the European battlefield and overturn all of No Man's Land on the heads of the Hun army! Think of the possibilities? Why, consider—"

I was extremely interested. The train was slowing up at a station.

"Danvers! Danvers!" shouted the conductor, and a burly, important individual rose up from across the aisle and said to my acquaintance:

"Well, Matthew, shall we meander?"

"Why, eh, of course, porter, dear." And he got up and accompanied the portly one out.

THE LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE SENIOR CLASS.

Be it remembered that we, the Senior Class of 1918, being of sound disposing mind, and memory, do this our last will and testament.

We give and bequeath—

To Mr. Bently, the privilege of superintending our funeral. The amount for expenses not to exceed 10 cents.

To Dr. Ingham, the superintending of Dummer Academy.

To the coming Seniors, the Faculty, be kind to them, dear Seniors, they are truly friends in need.

To the coming Juniors, our matchless record.

To the Freshmen, a standard to strive for.

To Mrs. Wingate, peace and quiet for three months.

To the loving care of their mothers, Travis, and Bradford, and

To Dummer Academy our most hearty support for the future.

The individuals of the Senior Class do hereby make the following bequest:

President Woodward leaves to the coming Seniors, Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen, the unsullied record of his untiring efforts in the past (?).

Secretary Stevens leaves to Grover several feet of his superfluous length.

Treasurer Moore leaves to Dodge everything (?).

Snow leaves to the student body a few cornflakes.

Ackerman leaves two thoroughbred ponies to the next Virgil class.

Glen leaves to Andy the opportunity of becoming Dummer's best-dressed man.

Sawyer leaves the old "puddle jumper" in pieces to the Doctor.

Mills leaves the gift of gab to Bumstead.

Tyler leaves the Common third floor intact (?).

Saunders leaves—Dummer

Cressey leaves Byfield but not Rowley.

Weare leaves his war club, the baseball bat.

Francis leaves Macmahon to the girls.

At the close of the year the 1918 Archon board finds much food for reflection in the experiences of the past year, and draws therefrom certain conclusions, a few of which we set down for the benefit of our colleagues, the new board; our supporters, the readers; and our sympathizers, our friends.

In reviewing the issues, we find our advertisers have been exceedingly kind, helpful, and liberal in their support of our paper. We of the school appreciate this, and loyally patronize and will continue to patronize our friends. To them we credit the excellent finance of the paper and hope for its continuation in future years.

Mr. Audet, the printer, has had a hard and trying year. Between the scarcity of labor and the complications of the Exemption Board he has found it difficult to progress as fast as usual. Although this has caused delay and irregularity in the issue of the paper, it could not be helped. He has given us good work in the past and will continue to do so in the future. Therefore boost the printer.

The lack of literary work this year means that some way must be found as the next year opens to get the support of everybody to write and contribute to the paper. To this we suggest that each student, big or little, be required to submit at the least one story or sketch a term as part of his English work, with extra credit in English and, perhaps, a prize for the best work.

We wish to retract the statement in the last editorial concerning Dummer spirit. It was hastily written, showing bad taste. We admit that we lacked enough leaders in the student body to develop unity of spirit, but the blame is not entirely ours, the war has taken two of our leading masters, Mr. Home and Mr. Reagan, whom we greatly miss. The fire has laid waste one of our buildings, cramping us considerably and that dark war cloud prevented the bright outlook for our Seniors and masters. Yet the Dummer spirit, so famous in past years, has shown itself in a willingness to give, a willingness to work and our ability to obey.

To the incoming board we say, organize now, start right, pull together and you will surely put out an Anchor that will reflect credit on yourselves and your school. To you we wish the best of luck. Go to it.

MEMORIAL DAY.

We had but one recitation period Memorial Day, and then a short spasm of freedom, followed by the taking of the school pictures by Photographer Goss. A march around the triangle gave us an appetite for dinner which came next on the program. Arrived in Newburyport the company was formed in a side street, between the State Guard which led the parade and the Veterans and Sons of Veterans, who brought up the rear. The procession started soon after two o'clock, and off we went down Pleasant street and back again, then up Main street to High street and off to the right till Hill Crest Cemetery was reached. Here we waited a half hour and then off again, heading for the Oakhill Cemetery. On arriving there we were brought to company front, permitting the remainder of the procession to pass. We were then marched to Main street and dismissed, having town permission until half past five.

Just a word to remind us of Mr. Horne, our English teacher, whom none really appreciated while he was with us. But now, too late, we realize how much he meant to us, how patient and good he was, and how much he worked for us in his untiring efforts to make his classes both interesting and helpful. May we and the school never forget him. Mr. Horne is now in the Navy, and is stationed on Commonwealth Pier Receiving Ship. Recently he took examinations for entrance to the Ensign school and is expectantly awaiting to hear from them. May the reports be favorable.

SUMMARY OF NOTABLE EVENTS OF 1917-1918.

The football season was a great success, Snow, Saunders and Morse starring. We defeated our old rival, Newburyport, 60 to 0.

Mr. Horne and Mr. Reagen have joined the colors.

Pierce cottage was destroyed by fire December 12; no one was hurt. The homeless ones were housed after Christmas vacation in one of the Noyes cottages. A new brick dormitory, to replace the Pierce cottage, has been started and the work is well under way. Fund of $10,000 pledged for it.

Some $400 was given by the students and Faculty to the Red Triangle fund.

A service flag has been given us, on which are 65 stars, representing an equal number of Dummer sons who have joined the Army or Navy.

Sawyer, backed by an excellent team, pitched us through a difficult season with great success.

Many congratulations are due to Mr. Greene, our baseball coach, for the success of our team. He has worked hard and deserves a great deal of credit, not only for developing a wonderful team but for organizing a better spirit among the student body.

As Uncle Sam needs his presence he will be unable to return to Dummer next fall, so we extend to him all the good luck possible.

EXCHANGES.

The Archon acknowledges the following exchanges: The Gualis, The Red and White, The Shamakin Review, The Academy Journal, The Holten, The Hemmica, Cadet Days, The Sentinel, The Brown and White, The Loon, The Eltrurian, The Argus, The Megaphone, The High School Record, The Transcript, The Aquila.

The Transcript—You have a fine literary department.

The High School Record—Your paper is fine all around.

The Loon—Your paper is well arranged and unique in every sense of the word.

Shamakin Review — Your military number was great.

Cadet Days—You are one of our best exchanges.

LOCALS.

Mr. Farrell—Worcester, I hear that you sleep with a watch under your pillow. Is that true?

Worcester—Sure.

Mr. Farrell—Well, you'd better not do it any more because then your sleeping on ticks.

"Peewee"—Say, what's an eclipse?

Rowell (learnedly)—It's when the earth gets in front of the sun and causes a shadow on it.

Ackerman—I came near selling those old shoes yesterday.

Dinty—G'wan away? Who'd buy those?

Jack—Well, I had them half soled.

Steve (watching Grover down a bottle of "Bevo")—Gosh! You booze hound.

Peewee—Aw! Just wait 'till you grow up.

Willie—When the 5 o'clock car comes down the track, should you say, "here he comes, here she comes, or here it comes?"

Doctor—Here it comes.

Willie—Naw, Here he comes, because it's the mail (male) car.

Mr. Farrell—Audio clamorem pedum equi. (I hear the sound of horses' feet.)

Ackerman (waking up)—I don't use one.

Lightibus antibus in parlorum,
 Boyibus kissibus sweet puellarum,
 Dadibus hearibus loud smackarum,

 Glenn's cheeks — Nason's chin +
 Child's Hair = ?

Say Mills, did you ever spend anything but the evening?

Travis—Hello, Pistachio.

Worcester—W'ad'y mean, Pistachio?

Travis—Why my big sister says that you're a little green nut.

Clerk—We have some inexpensive green neckties.

Ackerman—What, do you think I'm crazy? Do I look like I was Irish?

No Jack, you don't.—Ed.

Jim Sleeper—I've hired a man to do my worrying.

Doctor—Great! How much do you pay him.

Jim—$10 a day.

Doctor—Why you only get $5.00 a day.

Jim—Well, that's where his job begins.

"Brad" (In bed, stalling for time)—Say Ruthie, Throw the cold water faucet into high and bring me a nice cool drink.—Ex.

Athletics

GLOUCESTER 2. DUMMER 0.

On April 17 we journeyed to Gloucester by auto for the first game of the season. We were beaten 2 to 0, but considering the amount of practice previous to the game and the strong opposing team we made a creditable showing.

Our lack of batting practice was evident, Weare being the only player to place a safe hit, thereby robbing Carr's chances of entering the Hall of Fame with a no-hit, no-run game to his credit.

DUMMER 6 PINKERTON 1

On the 20th of April we struggled with Pinkerton Academy for eleven innings and won 6 to 1.

By the help of three hits and three errors five runs were recorded in the eleventh inning.

Sawyer pitched great ball, allowing only three hits and striking out 25 men. A very remarkable record.

Tutoring in Cambridge

THE teachers named below, Harvard graduates of long experience in teaching, thoroughly familiar with Harvard requirements will, receive, this summer, as usual, pupils in Cambridge in preparation for the admission examinations. Instruction will be furnished preparatory to entrance, to the removal of conditions, or the anticipation of college studies. The work is divided by subjects among different teachers and the methods of instruction insure the best possible adaptation to special needs. Excellent laboratory facilities are provided.

Students from a distance can have pleasant accommodations procured for them, and much care is given to their comfort and enjoyment. There are ample opportunities for tennis, rowing and other outdoor recreation. A special dining-hall and two dormitories are maintained for the use of the candidates. Reference may be made to recent Harvard graduates, any executive officer of Harvard College, or will be furnished in any large city. Before entering upon any work, candidates may be examined and advised as to their prospects of admission to the University. Of those prepared by these teachers for college entrance examinations during the past twenty years, less than five per cent. have failed to be admitted to regular standing in the Freshman Class. Over one hundred and fifty men have been successfully prepared for entrance examinations in each of the last ten summers.

The instruction is divided as following :

The Languages

Max Benshimol, A.M. George N. Henning, A.M.
Hollis Webster, A.M. Charles M. Underwood, Ph. D.
Reginald Goodell, A.M. J Roy Webster, A.B.

History and Allied Subjects

Max Benshimol, A.M. J. Clifford Hall, S.B.
William W. Nolen, A.M.

Mathematics and Science

Alfred C. Redfield, Ph. D. William W. Nolen, A.M.
Elmer R. Schaeffer, A.B. Charles A. Hobbs, A.M.
Ralph H. Houser, A.M. Edward A. Sheldon, A.B.
