CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

PREAMBLE AND DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

PREAMBLE.

We, the people of the State of California, grateful to Almighty God for our freedom, in order to secure and perpetuate its blessings, do establish this Constitution.

ARTICLE I.

DECLARATION OF RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. All men are by nature free and independent, and have certain inalienable rights, among which are those of enjoying and defending life and liberty; acquiring, possessing, and protecting property; and pursuing and obtaining safety and happiness.

SEC. 2. All political power is inherent in the people. Government is instituted for the protection, security, and benefit of the people, and they have the right to alter or reform the same whenever the public good may require it.

SEC. 3. The State of California is an inseparable part of the American Union, and the Constitution of the United States is the supreme law of the land.

SEC. 4. The free exercise and enjoyment of religious profession and worship, without discrimination or preference, shall forever be guaranteed in this State; and no person shall be rendered incompetent to be a witness or juror on account of his opinions on matters of religious belief; but the liberty of conscience hereby secured shall not be so construed as to excuse acts of licentiousness, or justify practices inconsistent with the peace or safety of this State.

SEC. 5. The privilege of the writ of habeas corpus shall not be suspended unless when, in cases of rebellion or invasion, the public safety may require its suspension.

SEC. 6. All persons shall be bailable by sufficient sureties, unless for capital offenses when the proof is evident or the presumption great. Excessive bail shall not be required, nor excessive fines imposed; nor shall cruel or unusual punishment be inflicted. Witnesses shall not be unreasonably detained, nor confined in any room where criminals are actually imprisoned.

SEC. 7. The right of trial by jury shall be secured to all, and remain inviolate; but in civil actions three fourths of the jury may render a verdict. A trial by jury may be waived in all criminal cases not amounting to felony, by the consent of both parties, expressed in open court, and in civil actions by the consent of the parties, signified in such manner as may be prescribed by law. In civil actions and cases of misdemeanor, the jury may consist of twelve, or of any number less than twelve upon which the parties may agree in open court.

SEC. 8. Offenses heretofore required to be prosecuted by indictment shall be prosecuted by information, after examination and commitment by a magistrate, or by indictment, with or without such examination and commitment, as may be prescribed by law. A grand jury shall be drawn and summoned at least once a year in each county.

SEC. 9. Every citizen may freely speak, write, and publish his sentiments on all subjects, being responsible for the abuse of that right; and no law shall be passed to restrain or abridge the liberty of speech or of the press. In all criminal prosecutions for libels, the truth may be given in evidence to the jury; and if it shall appear to the jury that the matter charged as libelous is true, and was published with good motives, and for justifiable ends, the party shall be acquitted; and the jury shall have the right to determine the law and the fact. Indictments found, or information laid, for publications in newspapers, shall be tried in the county where such newspapers have their publication office, or in the county where the party alleged to be libeled resided at the time of the alleged publication, unless the place of trial shall be changed for good cause.

SEC. 10. The people shall have the right to freely assemble together to consult for the common good, to instruct their representatives, and to petition the Legislature for redress of grievances.

SEC. 11. All laws of a general nature shall have a uniform operation.

SEC. 12. The military shall be subordinate to the civil power. No standing army shall be kept up by this State in time of peace, and no soldier shall, in time of peace, be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; nor in time of war, except in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 13. In criminal prosecutions, in any court whatever, the party accused shall have the right to a speedy and public trial; to have the process of the court to compel the attendance of witnesses in his behalf, and to appear and defend, in person and with counsel. No person shall be twice put in jeopardy for the same offense; nor be compelled, in any criminal case, to be a witness against himself; nor be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. The Legislature shall have power to provide for the taking, in the presence of the party accused and his counsel, of depositions of witnesses, in criminal cases other than cases of homicide, when there is reason to believe that the witness, from inability or other cause, will not attend at the trial.

SEC. 14. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation having been first made to, or paid into court for, the owner, and no right of way shall be appropriated to the use of any corporation other than municipal until full compensation therefor be first made in money or ascertained and paid into court for the owner, irrespective of any benefit from any improvement proposed by such corporation, which compensation shall be ascertained by a jury, unless a jury be waived, as in other civil cases in a court of record, as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 15. No person shall be imprisoned for debt in any civil action, on mesne or final process, unless in cases of fraud, nor in civil actions for torts, except in cases of wilful injury to person or property; and no person shall be imprisoned for a militia fine in time of peace.

SEC. 16. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, or law impairing the obligations of contracts, shall ever be passed.

SEC. 17. Foreigners of the white race, or of African descent, eligible to become citizens of the United States under the naturalization laws thereof, while bona fide residents of this State, shall have the same rights in respect to the acquisition, possession, enjoyment, transmission, and inheritance of all property, other than real estate, as native born citizens; provided, that such aliens owning real estate at the time of the adoption of this amendment may remain such owners; and provided further, that the Legislature may, by statute, provide for the disposition of real estate which shall hereafter be acquired by such aliens by descent or devise. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1894.]

SEC. 18. Neither slavery nor involuntary servitude, unless for the punishment of crime, shall ever be tolerated in this State.

SEC. 19. The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable seizures and searches, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue but on probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the person and things to be seized.

SEC. 20. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, adhering to its enemies, or giving them aid and comfort. No person shall be convicted of treason unless on the evidence of two witnesses to the same overt act, or confession in open court.

SEC. 21. No special privileges or immunities shall ever be granted which may not be altered, revoked, or repealed by the Legislature, nor shall any citizen, or class of citizens, be granted privileges or immunities which, upon the same terms, shall not be granted to all citizens.

SEC. 22. The provisions of this Constitution are mandatory and prohibitory, unless by express words they are declared to be otherwise.

SEC. 23. This enumeration of rights shall not be construed to impair or deny others retained by the people.

SEC. 24. No property qualification shall ever be required for any person to vote or hold office.

SEC. 25. The people shall have the right to fish upon and from the public lands of the State and in the waters thereof, excepting upon lands set aside for fish hatcheries, and no land owned by the State shall ever be sold or transferred without reserving in the people the absolute right to fish thereupon; and no law shall ever be passed making it a crime for the people to enter upon the public lands within this State for the purpose of fishing in any water containing fish that have been planted therein by the State; provided, that the Legislature may by statute, provide for the season when and the conditions under which the different species of fish may be taken. [New section; adopted November 8, 1910.]

ARTICLE II.

RIGHT OF SUFFRAGE.

SECTION 1. Every native male citizen of the United States, every male person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every male naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been resident of the State one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he claims his vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law: provided, no native of China, no idiot, no insane person, no person convicted of any infamous crime, no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language and write his name, shall ever exercise the privileges of an elector in this State; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age and upwards at the time this amendment shall take effect. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1894.]

SEC. 2. Electors shall in all cases, except treason, felony, or breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest on the days of election, during their attendance at such election, going to and returning therefrom.

SEC. 2½. The Legislature shall have the power to enact laws relative to the election of delegates to conventions of political parties; and the Legislature shall enact laws providing for the direct nomination of candidates for public office, by electors, political parties, or organizations of electors without conventions, at elections to be known and designated as primary elections; and also to determine the tests and conditions upon which electors, political parties, or organizations of electors may participate in any such primary election. It shall also be lawful for the Legislature to prescribe that any such primary election shall be mandatory and obligatory. The Legislature shall also have the power to establish the rates of compensation for primary election officers serving at such primary elections in any city, or city and county, or county, or other subdivision of a designated population, without making such compensation uniform, and for such purpose such law may declare the population of any city, city and county, county or political subdivision. Provided, however, that until the Legislature shall enact a direct primary election law under the provisions of this section, the present primary election law shall remain in force and effect. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 3. No elector shall be obliged to perform militia duty on the day of election, except in time of war or public danger.

SEC. 4. For the purpose of voting, no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while employed in the service of the United States; nor while engaged in the navigation of the waters of this State, or of the United States, or of the high seas; nor while a student at any seminary of learning; nor while kept in any almshouse or other asylum, at public expense; nor while confined in any public prison.

SEC. 5. All elections by the people shall be by ballot or by such other method as may be prescribed by law; provided, that secrecy in voting be preserved. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1896.]

SEC. 6. The inhibitions of this Constitution to the contrary notwithstanding, the Legislature shall have power to provide that in different parts of the State different methods may be employed for receiving and registering the will of the people as expressed at elections, and may provide that mechanical devices may be used within designated subdivisions of the State at the option of the local authority indicated by the Legislature for that purpose. [New section; adopted November 4, 1902.]

ARTICLE III.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS.

SECTION 1. The powers of the government of the State of California shall be divided into three separate departments—the legislative, executive, and judicial; and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any functions appertaining to either of the others, except as in this Constitution expressly directed or permitted.

ARTICLE IV.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The legislative power of this State shall be vested in a Senate and Assembly, which shall be designated the Legislature of the State of California; and the enacting clause of every law shall be as follows: "The People of the State of California, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows."

SEC. 2. The sessions of the Legislature shall commence at twelve o'clock M. on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election of its members, and after the election held in the year 1880 shall be biennial, unless the Governor shall, in the interim, convene the Legislature by proclamation. No bill shall be introduced in either house forty days after the commencement of each session without the consent of three fourths of the members thereof. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 3. Members of the Assembly shall be elected in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, at the time and in the manner now provided by law. The second election of Members of the Assembly, after the adoption of this Constitution, shall be on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, eighteen hundred and eighty. Thereafter Members of the Assembly shall be chosen biennially, and their term of office shall be two years; and each election shall be on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, unless otherwise ordered by the Legislature.

SEC. 4. Senators shall be chosen for the term of four years, at the same time and places as Members of the Assembly, and no person shall be a member of the Senate or Assembly who has not been a citizen and inhabitant of the State three years, and of the district for which he shall be chosen one year, next before his election.

SEC. 5. The Senate shall consist of forty members, and the Assembly of eighty members, to be elected by districts, numbered as hereinafter provided. The seats of the twenty Senators elected in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-two from the odd-numbered districts shall be vacated at the expiration of the second year, so that one half of the Senators shall be elected every two years; provided, that all the Senators elected at the first election under this Constitution shall hold office for the term of three years.

SEC. 6. For the purpose of choosing members of the Legislature, the State shall be divided into forty senatorial and eighty assembly districts, as nearly equal in population as may be, and composed of contiguous territory, to be called senatorial and assembly districts. Each senatorial district shall choose one Senator, and each assembly district shall choose one Member of Assembly. The senatorial districts shall be numbered from one to forty, inclusive, in numerical order, and the assembly districts shall be numbered from one to eighty in the same order, commencing at the northern boundary of the State and ending at the southern boundary thereof. In the formation of such districts no county, or city and county, shall be divided, unless it contains sufficient population within itself to form two or more districts, nor shall a part of any county, or of any city and county, be united with any other county, or city and county, in forming any district. The census taken under the direction of the Congress of the United States in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty, and every ten years thereafter, shall be the basis of fixing and adjusting the legislative districts; and the Legislature shall, at its first session after each census, adjust such districts and reapportion the representation so as to preserve them as near equal in population as may be. But in making such adjustment no persons who are not eligible to become citizens of the United States, under the naturalization laws, shall be counted as forming a part of the population of any district. Until such districting as herein provided for shall be made, Senators and Assemblymen shall be elected by the districts according to the apportionment now provided for by law.

SEC. 7. Each house shall choose its officers, and judge of the qualifications, elections, and returns of its members.

SEC. 8. A majority of each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as each house may provide.

SEC. 9. Each house shall determine the rule of its proceeding, and may, with the concurrence of two thirds of all the members elected, expel a member.

SEC. 10. Each house shall keep a journal of its proceedings, and publish the same; and the yeas and nays of the members of either house, on any question, shall, at the desire of any three members present, be entered on the journal.

SEC. 11. Members of the Legislature shall, in all cases, except treason, felony, and breach of the peace, be privileged from arrest, and shall not be subject to any civil process during the session of the Legislature, nor for fifteen days next before the commencement and after the termination of each session.

SEC. 12. When vacancies occur in either house, the Governor, or the person exercising the functions of the Governor, shall issue writs of election to fill such vacancies.

SEC. 13. The doors of each house shall be open, except on such occasions as, in the opinion of the house, may require secrecy.

SEC. 14. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn for more than three days, nor to any place other than that in which they may be sitting. Nor shall the members of either house draw pay for any recess or adjournment for a longer time than three days.

SEC. 15. No law shall be passed except by bill. Nor shall any bill be put upon its final passage until the same, with the amendments thereto, shall have been printed for the use of the members; nor shall any bill become a law unless the same be read on three several days in each house, unless, in case of urgency, two thirds of the house where such bill may be pending shall, by a vote of yeas and nays, dispense with this provision. Any bill may originate in either house, but may be amended or rejected by the other: and on the final passage of all bills they shall be read at length, and the vote shall be by yeas and nays upon each bill separately, and shall be entered on the journal, and no bill shall become a law without the concurrence of a majority of the members elected to each house.

SEC. 16. Every bill which may have passed the Legislature shall, before it becomes a law, be presented to the Governor. If he approve it, he shall sign it: but if not, he shall return it, with his objections, to the house in which it originated, which shall enter such objections upon the journal and proceed to reconsider it. If after such reconsideration, it again pass both houses, by yeas and nays, two thirds of the members elected to each house voting therefor, it shall become a law, notwithstanding the Governor's objections. If any bill shall not be returned within ten days after it shall have been presented to him (Sundays excepted), the same shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it, unless the Legislature, by adjournment, prevents such return, in which case it shall not become a law, unless the Governor, within thirty days after such adjournment (Sundays excepted), shall sign and deposit the same in the office of the Secretary of State, in which case it shall become a law in like manner as if it had been signed by him before adjournment. If any bill presented to the Governor contains several items of appropriation of money, he may object to one or more items, while approving other portions of the bill. In such case he shall append to the bill at the time of signing it, a statement of the items to which he objects, and the reasons therefor, and the appropriation so objected to shall not take effect unless passed over the Governor's veto, as hereinafter provided. If the Legislature be in session, the Governor shall transmit to the house in which the bill originated a copy of such statement, and the items so objected to shall be separately reconsidered in the same manner as bills which have been disapproved by the Governor. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 17. The Assembly shall have the sole power of impeachment, and all impeachments shall be tried by the Senate. When sitting for that purpose, the Senators shall be upon oath or affirmation, and no person shall be convicted without the concurrence of two thirds of the members elected.

SEC. 18. The Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, Surveyor-General, Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, and Judges of the Superior Courts, shall be liable to impeachment for any misdemeanor in office; but judgment in such cases shall extend only to removal from office and disqualification to hold any office of honor, trust, or profit under the State; but the party convicted or acquitted shall, nevertheless, be liable to indictment, trial, and punishment, according to law. All other civil officers shall be tried for misdemeanor in office in such manner as the Legislature may provide.

SEC. 19. No Senator or Member of Assembly shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office of profit under this State which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which have been increased, during such term, except such offices as may be filled by election by the people.

SEC. 20. No person holding any lucrative office under the United States, or any other power, shall be eligible to any civil office of profit under this State: provided, that officers in the militia who receive no annual salary, local officers, or postmasters whose compensation does not exceed five hundred dollars per annum, shall not be deemed to hold lucrative offices.

SEC. 21. No person convicted of the embezzlement or defalcation of the public funds of the United States, or of any State, or of any county or municipality therein, shall ever be eligible to any office of honor, trust, or profit under this State, and the Legislature shall provide, by law, for the punishment of embezzlement or defalcation as a felony.

SEC. 22. No money shall be drawn from the treasury but in consequence of appropriations made by law, and upon warrants duly drawn thereon by the controller; and no money shall ever be appropriated or drawn from the state treasury for the purpose or benefit of any corporation, association, asylum, hospital, or any other institution not under the exclusive management and control of the State as a State institution, nor shall any grant or donation of property ever be made thereto by the State; provided, that notwithstanding anything contained in this or any other section of this Constitution, the Legislature shall have the power to grant aid to the institutions conducted for the support and maintenance of minor orphans, or half-orphans, or abandoned children, or aged persons in indigent circumstances—such aid to be granted by a uniform rule, and proportioned to the number of inmates of such respective institutions; provided, further, that the State shall have at any time the right to inquire into the management of such institution; provided, further, that whenever any county, or city and county, or city, or town, shall provide for the support of minor orphans, or half-orphans, or abandoned children, or aged persons in indigent circumstances, such county, city and county, city, or town shall be entitled to receive the same pro rata appropriations as may be granted to such institutions under church or other control. An accurate statement of the receipts and expenditures of public moneys shall be attached to and published with the laws at every regular session of the Legislature; provided, however, that for the purpose of raising five million dollars ($5,000,000), to be used in establishing, maintaining, and supporting in the city and county of San Francisco, State of California, an exposition in commemoration of the completion of the Panama canal, to be known as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, the State Board of Equalization shall, for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1911, and for each fiscal year thereafter, to and including the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1914, fix, establish, and levy such an ad valorem rate of taxation, as when levied upon all the taxable property in the State, after making due allowance for delinquency, shall produce for each of such fiscal years a sum of one million two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($1,250,000). The said taxes shall be levied, assessed, and collected upon every kind and character of property in the State of California not exempt from taxation under the law, and subject to taxation on the 1st day of July, 1910, and in the same manner, and by the same method, as other State taxes were levied, assessed, and collected under the law, as the same existed on the 1st day of July, 1910. The State Board of Equalization shall each year, at the time it determines the amount of revenue required for other State purposes, determine, fix, and include the rate of tax necessary to raise the revenue herein provided for.

There is hereby created in the state treasury a fund to be known as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition fund, and all moneys collected pursuant to this provision, after deducting the proportionate share of the expense for the collection of the same, shall be paid into the state treasury, and credited to such fund. All moneys so paid into such fund are hereby appropriated, without reference to fiscal years, for the use, establishment, maintenance, and support of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition. No tax, license fee, or charge of any kind or character shall ever be levied or assessed or charged against any property of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition, or against any property used as exhibit therein, while being used or exhibited in connection therewith.

There is hereby created a commission to be known as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission of the State of California, which shall consist of the Governor of said State and four other members to be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate of said State. The Governor shall have the power to fill all vacancies occurring at any time in said commission. The members of said commission shall receive no compensation and shall hold office until such exposition shall have been closed and its affairs settled. Said four members of said commission shall be selected from different sections of the State, and the appointment thereof shall be made by the Governor of the State during the month of February, 1911. The commission hereby created shall have the exclusive charge and control of all moneys paid into the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund; and provided, further, that the Legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry out the provisions of this act, including the times and the manner in which and the terms and conditions upon which moneys shall be drawn from the state treasury by said commission: where contracts and vouchers shall be filed; to whom and how often reports shall be made; what disposition shall be made of any sum left unexpended or received from the sale of any property or buildings purchased or constructed by said commission for the use of said exposition, or of any disposition of any building or improvement constructed by said commission out of said fund, and to provide for the transfer to the general fund of the State of California of any portion of said Panama-Pacific international exposition fund unused.

The commission herein created is authorized and directed to make such proper contracts with the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of California on the 22d day of March, 1910, as will entitle the State of California to share proportionately with the contributors to the said Panama-Pacific International Exposition, in the returns from the holding of said exposition at the city and county of San Francisco. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 23. The members of the Legislature shall receive for their services, the sum of one thousand dollars each for each regular session, to be paid at such times during the session as may be provided by law, and the sum of ten dollars each, for each day while in attendance at a special or extraordinary session, for a number of days not exceeding thirty; and mileage to be fixed by law, all paid out of the State treasury: such mileage shall not exceed ten cents per mile; and each member shall be allowed contingent expenses not exceeding twenty-five dollars per member for each regular biennial session. The Legislature may also provide for additional help; but in no case shall the total expense for officers, employes and attachés exceed the sum of five hundred dollars per day for either house, at any regular or biennial session, nor the sum of two hundred dollars per day for either house, at any special or extraordinary session, nor shall the pay of any officer, employé or attaché be increased after he is elected or appointed. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 23a. The Legislature may also provide for the employment of help; but in no case shall the total expense for officers, employes and attachés exceed the sum of five hundred dollars per day for either house, at any regular or biennial session, nor the sum of two hundred dollars per day for either house at any special or extraordinary session, nor shall the pay of any officer, employé or attaché be increased after he is elected or appointed. [New section; adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 24. Every act shall embrace but one subject, which subject shall be expressed in its title. But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in its title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in its title. No law shall be revised or amended by reference to its title; but in such case the act revised or section amended shall be re-enacted and published at length as revised or amended; and all laws of the State of California, and all official writings, and the executive, legislative, and judicial proceedings, shall be conducted, preserved, and published in no other than the English language.

SEC. 25. The Legislature shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases, that is to say:

First—Regulating the jurisdiction and duties of Justices of the Peace, Police Judges, and of Constables.

Second—For the punishment of crimes and misdemeanors.

Third—Regulating the practice of courts of justice.

Fourth—Providing for changing the venue in civil or criminal actions.

Fifth—Granting divorces.

Sixth—Changing the names of persons or places.

Seventh—Authorizing the laying out, opening, altering, maintaining or vacating roads, highways, streets, alleys, town plots, parks, cemeteries, graveyards, or public grounds not owned by the State.

Eighth—Summoning and impaneling grand and petit juries, and providing for their compensation.

Ninth—Regulating county and township business, or the election of county and township officers.

Tenth—For the assessment or collection of taxes.

Eleventh—Providing for conducting elections, or designating the places of voting, except on the organization of new counties.

Twelfth—Affecting estates of deceased persons, minors, or other persons under legal disabilities.

Thirteenth—Extending the time for the collection of taxes.

Fourteenth—Giving effect to invalid deeds, wills, or other instruments.

Fifteenth—Refunding money paid into the state treasury.

Sixteenth—Releasing or extinguishing, in whole or in part, the indebtedness, liability, or obligation of any corporation or person to this State, or to any municipal corporation therein.

Seventeenth—Declaring any person of age, or authorizing any minor to sell, lease, or incumber his or her property.

Eighteenth—Legalizing, except as against the State, the unauthorized or invalid act of any officer.

Nineteenth—Granting to any corporation, association, or individual any special or exclusive right, privilege, or immunity.

Twentieth—Exempting property from taxation.

Twenty-first—Changing county seats.

Twenty-second—Restoring to citizenship persons convicted of infamous crimes.

Twenty-third—Regulating the rate of interest on money.

Twenty-fourth—Authorizing the creation, extension, or impairing of liens.

Twenty-fifth—Chartering or licensing ferries, bridges, or roads.

Twenty-sixth—Remitting fines, penalties, or forfeitures.

Twenty-seventh—Providing for the management of common schools.

Twenty-eighth—Creating offices, or prescribing the powers and duties of officers in counties, cities, cities and counties, township, election or school districts.

Twenty-ninth—Affecting the fees or salary of any officer.

Thirtieth—Changing the law of descent or succession.

Thirty-first—Authorizing the adoption or legitimation of children.

Thirty-second—For limitation of civil or criminal actions.

Thirty-third—In all other cases where a general law can be made applicable.

SEC. 25½. The Legislature may provide for the division of the State into fish and game districts, and may enact such laws for the protection of fish and game therein as it may deem appropriate to the respective districts. [New section; amendment adopted November 4, 1902.]

SEC. 26. The Legislature shall have no power to authorize lotteries or gift enterprises for any purpose and shall pass laws to prohibit the sale in this State of lottery or gift enterprise tickets or tickets in any scheme in the nature of a lottery. The Legislature shall pass laws to prohibit the fictitious buying and selling of the shares of the capital stock of corporations in any stock board, stock exchange or stock market under the control of any corporation or association. All contracts for the purchase or sale of shares of the capital stock of any corporation or association without any intention on the part of one party to deliver and of the other party to receive the shares, and contemplating merely the payment of differences between the contract and market prices on divers days, shall be void, and neither party to any such contract shall be entitled to recover any damages for failure to perform the same, or any money paid thereon, in any court of this State. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 27. When a congressional district shall be composed of two or more counties, it shall not be separated by any county belonging to another district. No county, or city and county, shall be divided in forming a congressional district so as to attach one portion of a county, or city and county, to another county, or city and county, except in cases where one county, or city and county, has more population than the ratio required for one or more congressmen; but the Legislature may divide any county, or city and county, into as many congressional districts as it may be entitled to by law. Any county, or city and county containing a population greater than the number required for one congressional district, shall be formed into one or more congressional districts, according to the population thereof, and any residue, after forming such district or districts, shall be attached, by compact adjoining assembly districts, to a contiguous county or counties, and form a congressional district. In dividing a county, or city and county, into congressional districts, no assembly district shall be divided so as to form a part of more than one congressional district, and every such congressional district shall be composed of compact contiguous assembly districts.

SEC. 28. In all elections by the Legislature the members thereof shall vote viva voce, and the vote shall be entered on the journal.

SEC. 29. The general appropriation bill shall contain no item or items of appropriation other than such as are required to pay the salaries of the State officers, the expenses of the government, and of the institutions under the exclusive control and management of the State.

SEC. 30. Neither the Legislature, nor any county, city and county, township, school district, or other municipal corporation, shall ever make an appropriation, or pay from any public fund whatever, or grant anything to or in aid of any religious sect, church, creed, or sectarian purpose, or help to support or sustain any school, college, university, hospital, or other institution controlled by any religious creed, church, or sectarian denomination whatever; nor shall any grant or donation of personal property or real estate ever be made by the State, or any city, city and county, town, or other municipal corporation, for any religious creed, church, or sectarian purpose whatever; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Legislature granting aid pursuant to section twenty-two of this article.

SEC. 31. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State, or of any county, city and county, city, township, or other political corporation or subdivision of the State now existing, or that may be hereafter established, in aid of or to any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or otherwise, or to pledge the credit thereof in any manner whatever, for the payment of the liabilities of any individual, association, municipal or other corporation whatever; nor shall it have power to make any gift, or authorize the making of any gift, of any public money or thing of value, to any individual, municipal or other corporation whatever; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Legislature granting aid pursuant to section twenty-two of this article; and it shall not have power to authorize the State, or any political subdivision thereof, to subscribe for stock, or to become a stockholder in any corporation whatever.

SEC. 32. The Legislature shall have no power to grant, or authorize any county or municipal authority to grant, any extra compensation or allowance to any public officer, agent, servant, or contractor, after service has been rendered, or a contract has been entered into and performed, in whole or in part; nor to pay, or to authorize the payment of, any claim hereafter created against the State, or any county or municipality of the State, under any agreement or contract made without express authority of law; and all such unauthorized agreements or contracts shall be null and void.

SEC. 33. The Legislature shall pass laws for the regulation and limitation of the charges for services performed and commodities furnished by telegraph and gas corporations, and the charges by corporations or individuals for storage and wharfage, in which there is a public use; and where laws shall provide for the selection of any person or officer to regulate and limit such rates, no such person or officer shall be selected by any corporation or individual interested in the business to be regulated, and no person shall be selected who is an officer or stockholder in any such corporation.

SEC. 34. No bill making an appropriation of money, except the general appropriation bill, shall contain more than one item of appropriation, and that for one single and certain purpose, to be therein expressed.

SEC. 35. Any person who seeks to influence the vote of a member of the Legislature by bribery, promise of reward, intimidation, or any other dishonest means, shall be guilty of lobbying, which is hereby declared a felony; and it shall be the duty of the Legislature to provide, by law, for the punishment of this crime. Any member of the Legislature who shall be influenced, in his vote or action upon any matter pending before the Legislature, by any reward, or promise of future reward, shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, in addition to such punishment as may be provided by law, shall be disfranchised and forever disqualified from holding any office or public trust. Any person may be compelled to testify in any lawful investigation or judicial proceeding against any person who may be charged with having committed the offense of bribery or corrupt solicitation, or with having been influenced in his vote or action, as a member of the Legislature, by reward, or promise of future reward, and shall not be permitted to withhold his testimony upon the ground that it may criminate himself, or subject him to public infamy; but such testimony shall not afterwards be used against him in any judicial proceeding, except for perjury in giving such testimony.

SEC. 36. The Legislature shall have power to establish a system of state highways or to declare any road a state highway, and to pass all laws necessary or proper to construct and maintain the same, and to extend aid for the construction and maintenance in whole or in part of any county highway. [New section; adopted November 4, 1902.]

ARTICLE V.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The supreme executive power of this State shall be vested in a Chief Magistrate, who shall be styled the Governor of the State of California.

SEC. 2. The Governor shall be elected by the qualified electors at the time and places of voting for Members of the Assembly, and shall hold his office four years from and after the first Monday after the first day of January subsequent to his election, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

SEC. 3. No person shall be eligible to the office of Governor who has not been a citizen of the United States and a resident of this State five years next preceding his election, and attained the age of twenty-five years at the time of such election.

SEC. 4. The returns of every election for Governor shall be sealed up and transmitted to the seat of government, directed to the Speaker of the Assembly, who shall, during the first week of the session, open and publish them in the presence of both houses of the Legislature. The person having the highest number of votes shall be Governor; but in case any two or more have an equal and the highest number of votes, the Legislature shall, by joint vote of both houses, choose one of such persons so having an equal and the highest number of votes for Governor.

SEC. 5. The Governor shall be commander-in-chief of the militia, the army and navy of this State.

SEC. 6. He shall transact all executive business with the officers of government, civil and military, and may require information, in writing, from the officers of the executive department upon any subject relating to the duties of their respective offices.

SEC. 7. He shall see that the laws are faithfully executed.

SEC. 8. When any office shall, from any cause, become vacant, and no mode is provided by the Constitution and law for filling such vacancy, the Governor shall have power to fill such vacancy by granting a commission, which shall expire at the end of the next session of the Legislature, or at the next election by the people.

SEC. 9. He may, on extraordinary occasions, convene the Legislature by proclamation, stating the purposes for which he has convened it; and when so convened it shall have no power to legislate on any subject other than those specified in the proclamation, but may provide for the expenses of the session, and other matters incidental thereto.

SEC. 10. He shall communicate, by message to the Legislature, at every session, the condition of the State, and recommend such matters as he shall deem expedient.

SEC. 11. In case of a disagreement between the two houses with respect to the time of adjournment, the Governor shall have power to adjourn the Legislature to such time as he may think proper; provided, it be not beyond the time fixed for the meeting of the next Legislature.

SEC. 12. No person shall, while holding any office under the United States, or this State, exercise the office of Governor, except as hereinafter expressly provided.

SEC. 13. There shall be a seal of this State, which shall be kept by the Governor, and used by him officially, and shall be called "The Great Seal of the State of California."

SEC. 14. All grants and commissions shall be in the name and by the authority of the people of the State of California, sealed with the great seal of the State, signed by the Governor, and countersigned by the Secretary of State.

SEC. 15. A Lieutenant-Governor shall be elected at the same time and place, and in the same manner, as the Governor, and his term of office and his qualifications shall be the same. He shall be President of the Senate, but shall only have a casting vote therein. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1898.]

SEC. 16. In case of the impeachment of the Governor, or his removal from office, death, inability to discharge the powers and duties of his office, resignation, or absence from the State, the powers and duties of the office shall devolve upon the Lieutenant-Governor for the residue of the term, or until the disability shall cease. And should the Lieutenant-Governor be impeached, displaced, resign, die, or become incapable of performing the duties of his office, or be absent from the State, the President pro tempore of the Senate shall act as Governor until the vacancy in the office of Governor shall be filled at the next general election when members of the Legislature shall be chosen, or until such disability of the Lieutenant-Governor shall cease. In case of a vacancy in the office of Governor for any of the reasons above named, and neither the Lieutenant-Governor nor the President pro tempore of the Senate succeed to the powers and duties of Governor, then the powers and duties of such office shall devolve upon the Speaker of the Assembly, until the office of Governor shall be filled at such general election. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1898.]

SEC. 17. A Secretary of State, a Controller, a Treasurer, an Attorney-General, and a Surveyor-General shall be elected at the same time and places, and in the same manner, as the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, and their terms of office shall be the same as that of the Governor.

SEC. 18. The Secretary of State shall keep a correct record of the official acts of the legislative and executive departments of the government, and shall, when required, lay the same, and all matters relative thereto, before either branch of the Legislature, and shall perform such other duties as may be assigned him by law.

SEC. 19. The Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Attorney-General, and Surveyor-General shall, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their services a compensation which shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which they shall have been elected, which compensation is hereby fixed for the following officers, as follows: Governor, ten thousand dollars per annum; Lieutenant-Governor, four thousand dollars; the Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, and Surveyor-General, five thousand dollars each per annum, and the Attorney-General, six thousand dollars per annum, such compensation to be in full for all services by them respectively rendered in any official capacity or employment whatsoever during their respective terms of office; provided, however, that the Legislature may, by law, diminish the compensation of any or all of such officers, but in no case shall have the power to increase the same above the sums hereby fixed by this Constitution. No salary shall be authorized by law for clerical service in any office provided for in this article, exceeding eighteen hundred dollars per annum for each clerk employed. The Legislature may, in its discretion, abolish the office of Surveyor-General; and none of the officers herein-before named shall receive for their own use any fees or perquisites for the performance of any official duty. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 20. The Governor shall not, during his term of office, be elected a Senator to the Senate of the United States.

ARTICLE VI.

JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT.

SECTION 1. The judicial power of the State shall be vested in the Senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, in a Supreme Court, District Courts of Appeal, Superior Courts, Justices of the Peace, and such inferior courts as the Legislature may establish in any incorporated city or town, or city and county. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 2. The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and six Associate Justices. The court may sit in departments and in bank, and shall always be open for the transaction of business. There shall be two departments, denominated, respectively, Department One and Department Two. The Chief Justice shall assign three of the Associate Justices to each department, and such assignment may be changed by him from time to time. The Associate Justices shall be competent to sit in either department, and may interchange with each other by agreement among themselves, or as ordered by the Chief Justice. Each of the departments shall have the power to hear and determine causes, and all questions arising therein, subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in relation to the court in bank. The presence of three justices shall be necessary to transact any business in either of the departments, except such as may be done at chambers, and the concurrence of three justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment. The Chief Justice shall apportion the business to the departments, and may, in his discretion, order any cause pending before the court to be heard and decided by the court in bank. The order may be made before or after judgment pronounced by a department; but where a cause has been allotted to one of the departments, and a judgment pronounced thereon, the order must be made within thirty days after such judgment, and concurred in by two Associate Justices, and if so made it shall have the effect to vacate and set aside the judgment. Any four justices may, either before or after judgment by a department, order a case to be heard in bank. If the order be not made within the time above limited, the judgment shall be final. No judgment by a department shall become final until the expiration of the period of thirty days aforesaid, unless approved by the Chief Justice, in writing, with the concurrence of two Associate Justices. The Chief Justice may convene the court in bank at any time, and shall be the presiding justice of the court when so convened. The concurrence of four justices present at the argument shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment in bank; but if four justices, so present, do not concur in a judgment, then all the justices qualified to sit in the cause shall hear the argument; but to render a judgment a concurrence of four judges shall be necessary. In the determination of causes, all decisions of the court, in bank or in departments, shall be given in writing, and the grounds of the decision shall be stated. The Chief Justice may sit in either department, and shall preside when so sitting, but the justices assigned to each department shall select one of their number as presiding justice. In case of the absence of the Chief Justice from the place at which the court is held, or his inability to act, the Associate Justices shall select one of their own number to perform the duties and exercise the powers of the Chief Justice during such absence or inability to act.

SEC. 3. The Chief Justice and the Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified electors of the State at large at the general State elections, at the time and places at which State officers are elected; and the term of office shall be twelve years from and after the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding their election; provided, that the six Associate Justices elected at the first election shall, at their first meeting, so classify themselves, by lot, that two of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, two of them at the end of eight years, and two of them at the end of twelve years, and an entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of the court in bank, signed by them, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State. If a vacancy occur in the office of a justice, the Governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a justice to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election, and the justice so elected shall hold the office for the remainder of the unexpired term. The first election of the justices shall be at the first general election after the adoption and ratification of this Constitution.

SEC. 4. The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the Superior Courts in all cases in equity, except such as arise in Justices' Courts; also, in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, or in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to two thousand dollars; also, in all such probate matters as may be provided by law; also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered; the said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters, and proceedings pending before a District Court of Appeal which shall be ordered by the Supreme Court to be transferred to itself for hearing and decision, as hereinafter provided. The said court shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the State, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the Supreme Court, or before any District Court of Appeal, or before any judge thereof, or before any Superior Court in the State, or before any judge thereof.

The State is hereby divided into three appellate districts, in each of which there shall be a District Court of Appeal consisting of three justices. The first district shall embrace the following counties: San Francisco, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Fresno, Santa Cruz, Monterey, and San Benito.

The second district shall embrace the following counties: Tulare, Kings, San Luis Obispo, Kern, Inyo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, and San Diego.

The third district shall embrace the following counties: Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Humboldt, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Plumas, Mendocino, Lake, Colusa, Glenn, Butte, Sierra, Sutter, Yuba, Nevada, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Placer, Solano, Sacramento, El Dorado, San Joaquin, Amador, Calaveras, Stanislaus, Mariposa, Madera, Merced, Tuolumne, Alpine, and Mono.

The Supreme Court, by orders entered in its minutes, may from time to time remove one or more counties from one appellate district to another, but no county not contiguous to another county of a district shall be added to such district.

Said District Courts of Appeal shall hold their regular sessions respectively at San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Sacramento, and they shall always be open for the transaction of business.

The District Courts of Appeal shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the Superior Courts in all cases at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to three hundred dollars, and does not amount to two thousand dollars; also, in all cases of forcible and unlawful entry and detainer (except such as arise in Justices' Courts), in proceedings in insolvency, and in actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; in proceedings of mandamus, certiorari, and prohibition, usurpation of office, contesting elections and eminent domain, and in such other special proceedings as may be provided by law (excepting cases in which appellate jurisdiction is given to the Supreme Court); also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases prosecuted by indictment or information in a court of record, excepting criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered. The said courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters, and proceedings pending before the Supreme Court which shall be ordered by the Supreme Court to be transferred to a District Court of Appeal for hearing and decision. The said courts shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of his appellate district upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the District Court of Appeal of his district, or before any Superior Court within his district, or before any judge thereof.

The Supreme Court shall have power to order any cause pending before the Supreme Court to be heard and determined by a District Court of Appeal, and to order any cause pending before a District Court of Appeal to be heard and determined by the Supreme Court. The order last mentioned may be made before judgment has been pronounced by a District Court of Appeal, or within thirty days after such judgment shall have become final therein. The judgments of the District Courts of Appeal shall become final therein upon the expiration of thirty days after the same shall have been pronounced.

The Supreme Court shall have power to order causes pending before a District Court of Appeal for one district to be transferred to the District Court of Appeal of another district for hearing and decision.

The Justices of the District Courts of Appeal shall be elected by the qualified electors within their respective districts at the general State elections at the times and places at which Justices of the Supreme Court are elected. Their terms of office and salaries shall be the same as those of Justices of the Supreme Court, and their salaries shall be paid by the State. Upon the ratification by the people of this amendment the Governor shall appoint nine persons to serve as Justices of the District Courts of Appeal until the first Monday after the first day of January in the year 1907; provided, that not more than six of said persons shall be members of the same political party. At the election in the year 1906 nine of such justices shall be elected as above provided, and the justices of each District Court of Appeal shall so classify themselves by lot that one of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, one of them at the end of eight years, and one of them at the end of twelve years; an entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of the court, signed by the three justices thereof, and a duplicate thereof filed in the office of the Secretary of State. If any vacancy occur in the office of a Justice of the District Courts of Appeal, the Governor shall appoint a person to hold office until the election and qualification of a justice to fill the vacancy; such election shall take place at the next succeeding general State election as aforesaid; the justice then elected shall hold the office for the unexpired term.

One of the justices of each of the District Courts of Appeal shall be the presiding justice thereof, and as such shall be appointed or elected as the case may be. The presence of three justices shall be necessary for the transaction of any business by such court, except such as may be done at chambers, and the concurrence of three justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment.

Whenever any Justice of the Supreme Court is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in a cause pending before it, the remaining justices may select one of the Justices of the District Court of Appeal to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

Whenever any Justice of a District Court of Appeal is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in any cause pending before it, the Supreme Court may appoint a Justice of the District Court of Appeal of another district, or a Judge of a Superior Court who has not acted in the cause in the court below, to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

No appeal taken to the Supreme Court or to a District Court of Appeal shall be dismissed for the reason only that the same was not taken to the proper court, but the cause shall be transferred to the proper court, upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as may be just, and shall be proceeded with therein as if regularly appealed thereto.

All statutes now in force allowing, providing for, or regulating appeals to the Supreme Court shall apply to appeals to the District Courts of Appeal so far as such statutes are not inconsistent with this article and until the Legislature shall otherwise provide.

The Supreme Court shall make and adopt rules not inconsistent with law for the government of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal and of the officers thereof, and for regulating the practice in said courts. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1907.]

SEC. 5. The Superior Court shall have original jurisdiction in all cases in equity, and in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, and in all other cases in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to three hundred dollars, and in all criminal cases amounting to felony, and cases of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for; of actions of forcible entry and detainer; of proceedings in insolvency; of actions to prevent or abate a nuisance; of all matters of probate; of divorce and for annulment of marriage; and of all such special cases and proceedings as are not otherwise provided for. And said court shall have the power of naturalization, and to issue papers therefor. They shall have appellate jurisdiction in such cases arising in Justices' and other inferior courts in their respective counties as may be prescribed by law. They shall be always open (legal holidays and non-judicial days excepted), and their process shall extend to all parts of the State; provided, that all actions for the recovery of the possession of, quieting the title to, or for the enforcement of liens upon real estate, shall be commenced in the county in which the real estate, or any part thereof, affected by such action or actions, is situated. Said courts, and their judges, shall have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, quo warrantu, and habeas corpus, on petition by or on behalf of any person in actual custody, in their respective counties. Injunctions and writs of prohibition may be issued and served on legal holidays and non-judicial days.

SEC. 6. There shall be in each of the organized counties, or cities and counties, of the State, a Superior Court, for each of which at least one judge shall be elected by the qualified electors of the county, or city and county, at the general State election; provided, that until otherwise ordered by the Legislature, only one judge shall be elected for the counties of Yuba and Sutter, and that in the City and County of San Francisco there shall be elected twelve Judges of the Superior Court, any one or more of whom may hold court. There may be as many sessions of said court, at the same time, as there are judges thereof. The said judges shall choose, from their own number, a presiding judge, who may be removed at their pleasure. He shall distribute the business of the court among the judges thereof, and prescribe the order of business. The judgments, orders, and proceedings of any session of the Superior Court held by any one or more of the judges of said courts, respectively, shall be equally effectual as if all the judges of said respective courts presided at such session. In each of the counties of Sacramento, San Joaquin, Los Angeles, Sonoma, Santa Clara, and Alameda there shall be elected two such judges. The term of office of Judges of the Superior Courts shall be six years from and after the first Monday of January next succeeding their election; provided, that the twelve Judges of the Superior Court elected in the City and County of San Francisco, at the first election held under this Constitution, shall at their first meeting so classify themselves, by lot, that four of them shall go out of office at the end of two years, and four of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, and four of them shall go out of office at the end of six years, and an entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of the court, signed by them, and a duplicate thereof filed in the office of the Secretary of State. The first election of Judges of the Superior Courts shall take place at the first general election held after the adoption and ratification of this Constitution. If a vacancy occur in the office of Judge of a Superior Court, the Governor shall appoint a person to hold the office until the election and qualification of a judge to fill the vacancy, which election shall take place at the next succeeding general election, and the judge so elected shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

SEC. 7. In any county, or city and county, other than the City and County of San Francisco, in which there shall be more than one Judge of the Superior Court, the judges of such court may hold as many sessions of said court at the same time as there are judges thereof, and shall apportion the business among themselves as equally as may be.

SEC. 8. A judge of any Superior Court may hold a Superior Court in any county, at the request of a Judge of the Superior Court thereof, and upon the request of the Governor it shall be his duty so to do. But a cause in the Superior Court may be tried by a judge pro tempore, who must be a member of the bar, agreed upon in writing by the parties litigant, or their attorneys of record, and sworn to try the cause and the person so selected shall be empowered to act in such capacity in all further proceedings in any suit or proceedings tried before him until the final determination thereof. There may be as many sessions of a Superior Court at the same time as there are judges thereof, including any judge or judges acting upon request, or any judge or judges pro tempore. The judgments, orders, acts and proceedings of any session of any Superior Court held by one or more judges acting upon request, or judge or judges pro tempore shall be equally effective as if the judge or all of the judges of such court presided at such session. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 9. The Legislature shall have no power to grant leave of absence to any judicial officer; and any such officer who shall absent himself from the State for more than sixty consecutive days shall be deemed to have forfeited his office. The Legislature of the State may, at any time, two thirds of the members of the Senate and two thirds of the members of the Assembly voting therefor, increase or diminish the number of Judges of the Superior Court in any county, or city and county, in the State; provided, that no such reduction shall affect any judge who has been elected.

SEC. 10. Justices of the Supreme Court, and of the District Courts of Appeal, and Judges of the Superior Courts may be removed by concurrent resolution of both houses of the Legislature adopted by a two-thirds vote of each house. All other judicial officers, except Justices of the Peace, may be removed by the Senate on the recommendation of the Governor; but no removal shall be made by virtue of this section unless the cause thereof be entered on the journal, nor unless the party complained of has been served with a copy of the complaint against him and shall have had an opportunity of being heard in his defense. On the question of removal the yeas and nays shall be entered on the journal. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 11. The Legislature shall determine the number of Justices of the Peace to be elected in townships, incorporated cities and towns, or cities and counties, and shall fix by law the powers, duties, and responsibilities of Justices of the Peace; provided, such powers shall not, in any case, trench upon the jurisdiction of the several courts of record, except that said justices shall have concurrent jurisdiction with the Superior Courts in cases of forcible entry and detainer, where the rental value does not exceed twenty-five dollars per month, and where the whole amount of damages claimed does not exceed two hundred dollars, and in cases to enforce and foreclose liens on personal property when neither the amount of liens nor the value of the property amounts to three hundred dollars.

SEC. 12. The Supreme Court, the District Courts of Appeal, the Superior Courts, and such other courts as the Legislature shall prescribe, shall be courts of record. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 13. The Legislature shall fix by law the jurisdiction of any inferior courts which may be established in pursuance of section one of this article, and shall fix by law the powers, duties, and responsibilities of the judges thereof.

SEC. 14. The Legislature shall provide for the election of a Clerk of the Supreme Court, and shall fix by law his duties and compensation, which compensation shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he shall have been elected. The County Clerks shall be ex officio clerks of the courts of record in and for their respective counties, or cities and counties. The Legislature may also provide for the appointment, by the several Superior Courts, of one or more commissioners in their respective counties, or cities and counties, with authority to perform chamber business of the Judges of the Superior Courts, to take depositions, and perform such other business connected with the administration of justice as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 15. No judicial officer, except Justices of the Peace and Court Commissioners, shall receive to his own use any fees or perquisites of office.

SEC. 16. The Legislature shall provide for the speedy publication of such opinions of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal as the Supreme Court may deem expedient, and all opinions shall be free for publication by any person. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 17. The Justices of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal, and the Judges of the Superior Courts, shall severally, at stated times during their continuance in office, receive for their service such compensation as is or shall be provided by law. The salaries of the Judges of the Superior Court, in all counties having but one judge, and in all counties in which the terms of the Judges of the Superior Court expire at the same time, shall not hereafter be increased or diminished after their election, nor during the term for which they shall have been elected. Upon the adoption of this amendment the salaries then established by law shall be paid uniformly to the justices and judges then in office. The salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be paid by the State. One half of the salary of each Superior Court Judge shall be paid by the State; and the other half thereof shall be paid by the county for which he is elected. On and after the first day of January, A. D. one thousand nine hundred and seven, the Justices of the Supreme Court shall each receive an annual salary of eight thousand dollars, and the justices of the several District Courts of Appeal shall each receive an annual salary of seven thousand dollars; the said salaries to be payable monthly. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 18. The Justices of the Supreme Court, and of the District Courts of Appeal, and the Judges of the Superior Courts shall be ineligible to any other office or public employment than a judicial office or employment during the term for which they shall have been elected. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 19. Judges shall not charge juries with respect to matters of fact, but may state the testimony and declare the law.

SEC. 20. The style of process shall be "The People of the State of California," and all prosecutions shall be conducted in their name and by their authority.

SEC. 21. The Supreme Court may appoint a reporter and not more than three assistant reporters of the decisions of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal. Each of the District Courts of Appeal shall appoint its own clerk. All the officers herein mentioned shall hold office and be removable at the pleasure of the courts by which they are severally appointed, and they shall receive such compensation as shall be prescribed by law, and discharge such duties as shall be prescribed by law, or by the rules or orders of the courts by which they are severally appointed. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 22. No judge of a court of record shall practice law in any court of this State during his continuance in office.

SEC. 23. No one shall be eligible to the office of a Justice of the Supreme Court, or of a District Court of Appeal, or of a Judge of a Superior Court, unless he shall have been admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the State. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 24. No Judge of the Supreme Court nor of a District Court of Appeal, nor of a Superior Court, shall draw or receive any monthly salary unless he shall make and subscribe an affidavit before an officer entitled to administer oaths, that no cause in his court remains pending and undecided, that has been submitted for decision for a period of ninety days. In the determination of causes all decisions of the Supreme Court and of the District Courts of Appeal shall be given in writing, and the grounds of the decisions shall be stated. When the Justices of a District Court of Appeal are unable to concur in a judgment, they shall give their several opinions in writing and cause copies thereof to be forwarded to the Supreme Court. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 25. The present Supreme Court Commission shall be abolished at the expiration of its present term of office, and no Supreme Court Commission shall be created or provided for after January 1st, A. D. 1905. [New section; adopted November 8, 1904.]

ARTICLE VII.

PARDONING POWER.

SECTION 1. The Governor shall have the power to grant reprieves, pardons, and commutations of sentence, after conviction, for all offenses except treason and cases of impeachment, upon such conditions, and with such restrictions and limitations, as he may think proper, subject to such regulations as may be provided by law relative to the manner of applying for pardons. Upon conviction for treason, the Governor shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence until the case shall be reported to the Legislature at its next meeting, when the Legislature shall either pardon, direct the execution of the sentence, or grant a further reprieve. The Governor shall communicate to the Legislature, at the beginning of every session, every case of reprieve or pardon granted, stating the name of the convict, the crime for which he was convicted, the sentence, its date, the date of the pardon or reprieve, and the reasons for granting the same. Neither the Governor nor the Legislature shall have power to grant pardons, or commutations of sentence, in any case where the convict has been twice convicted of a felony, unless upon the written recommendation of a majority of the Judges of the Supreme Court.

ARTICLE VIII.

MILITIA.

SECTION 1. The Legislature shall provide, by law, for organizing and disciplining the militia, in such manner as it may deem expedient, not incompatible with the Constitution and laws of the United States. Officers of the militia shall be elected or appointed in such manner as the Legislature shall, from time to time, direct, and shall be commissioned by the Governor. The Governor shall have power to call forth the militia to execute the laws of the State, to suppress insurrections, and repel invasions.

SEC. 2. All military organizations provided for by this Constitution, or any law of this State, and receiving State support, shall, while under arms, either for ceremony or duty, carry no device, banner, or flag of any state or nation, except that of the United States or the State of California.

ARTICLE IX.

EDUCATION.

SECTION 1. A general diffusion of knowledge and intelligence being essential to the preservation of the rights and liberties of the people, the Legislature shall encourage by all suitable means the promotion of intellectual, scientific, moral, and agricultural improvement.

SEC. 2. A Superintendent of Public Instruction shall, at each gubernatorial election after the adoption of this Constitution, be elected by the qualified electors of the State. He shall receive a salary equal to that of the Secretary of State, and shall enter upon the duties of his office on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding his election.

SEC. 3. A Superintendent of Schools for each county shall be elected by the qualified electors thereof at each gubernatorial election; provided, that the Legislature may authorize two or more counties to unite and elect one Superintendent for the counties so uniting.

SEC. 4. The proceeds of all lands that have been or may be granted by the United States to this State for the support of common schools, which may be, or may have been, sold or disposed of, and the five hundred thousand acres of land granted to the new states under an Act of Congress distributing the proceeds of the public lands among the several states of the Union, approved A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty-one, and all estates of deceased persons who may have died without leaving a will or heir, and also such per cent as may be granted, or may have been granted, by Congress on the sale of lands in this State, shall be and remain a perpetual fund, the interest of which, together with all the rents of the unsold lands, and such other means as the Legislature may provide, shall be inviolably appropriated to the support of common schools throughout the State.

SEC. 5. The Legislature shall provide for a system of common schools, by which a free school shall be kept up and supported in each district at least six months in every year, after the first year in which a school has been established.

SEC. 6. The public school system shall include day and evening elementary schools, and such day and evening secondary schools, normal schools, and technical schools as may be established by the Legislature, or by municipal or district authority. The entire revenue derived from the State school fund and from the general State school tax shall be applied exclusively to the support of day and evening elementary schools; but the Legislature may authorize and cause to be levied a special State school tax for the support of day and evening secondary schools and technical schools, or either of such schools, included in the public school system, and all revenue derived from such special tax shall be applied exclusively to the support of the schools for which such special tax shall be levied. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 7. The Governor, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, the President of the University of California, and the Professor of Pedagogy therein, and the Principals of the State Normal Schools shall constitute the State Board of Education, and shall compile, or cause to be compiled, and adopt, a uniform series of text-books for use in the common schools throughout the State. The State Board may cause such text-books, when adopted, to be printed and published by the Superintendent of State Printing, at the State Printing Office, and, when so printed and published, to be distributed and sold at the cost price of printing, publishing, and distributing the same. The text-books so adopted shall continue in use not less than four years; and said State Board shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law. The Legislature shall provide for a Board of Education in each county in the State. The County Superintendents and the County Boards of Education shall have control of the examination of teachers and the granting of teachers' certificates within their respective jurisdictions. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1894.]

SEC. 8. No public money shall ever be appropriated for the support of any sectarian or denominational school, or any school not under the exclusive control of the officers of the public schools: nor shall any sectarian or denominational doctrine be taught, or instruction thereon be permitted, directly or indirectly, in any of the common schools of this State.

SEC. 9. The University of California shall constitute a public trust, and its organization and government shall be perpetually continued in the form and character prescribed by the organic act creating the same, passed March twenty-third, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight (and the several acts amendatory thereof), subject only to such legislative control as may be necessary to insure compliance with the terms of its endowments and the proper investment and security of its funds. It shall be entirely independent of all political or sectarian influence, and kept free therefrom in the appointment of its regents, and in the administration of its affairs: provided, that all the moneys derived from the sale of the public lands donated to this State by act of Congress, approved July second, eighteen hundred and sixty-two (and the several acts amendatory thereof), shall be invested as provided by said acts of Congress, and the interest of said moneys shall be inviolably appropriated to the endowment, support, and maintenance of at least one college of agriculture, where the leading objects shall be (without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics) to teach such branches of learning as are related to scientific and practical agriculture and the mechanic arts, in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said acts of Congress: and the Legislature shall provide that if, through neglect, misappropriation, or any other contingency, any portion of the funds so set apart shall be diminished or lost, the State shall replace such portion so lost or misappropriated, so that the principal thereof shall remain forever undiminished. No person shall be debarred admission to any of the collegiate departments of the University on account of sex.

SEC. 10. The trusts and estates created for the founding, endowment, and maintenance of the Leland Stanford Junior University, under and in accordance with "An act to advance learning," etc., approved March ninth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, by the endowment grant executed by Leland Stanford and Jane Latrop Stanford on the eleventh day of November, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-five, and recorded in liber eighty-three of deeds, at page twenty-three et seq., records of Santa Clara County, and by the amendments of such grant, and by gifts, grants, bequests, and devises supplementary thereto, and by confirmatory grants, are permitted, approved, and confirmed. The board of trustees of the Leland Stanford Junior University, as such, or in the name of the institution, or by other intelligible designation of the trustees or of the institution, may receive property, real or personal, and wherever situated, by gift, grant, devise, or bequest, for the benefit of the institution, or of any department thereof, and such property, unless otherwise provided, shall be held by the trustees of the Leland Stanford Junior University upon the trusts provided for in the grant founding the university, and amendments thereof, and grants, bequests, and devises supplementary thereto. The Legislature, by special act, may grant to the trustees of the Leland Stanford Junior University corporate powers and privileges, but it shall not thereby alter their tenure, or limit their powers or obligations as trustees. All property now or hereafter held in trust for the founding, maintenance, or benefit of the Leland Stanford Junior University, or of any department thereof, may be exempted by special act from State taxation, and all personal property so held, the Palo Alto farm as described in the endowment grant to the trustees of the university, and all other real property so held and used by the university for educational purposes exclusively, may be similarly exempted from county and municipal taxation: provided, that residents of California shall be charged no fees for tuition unless such fees be authorized by act of the Legislature. [New section; adopted November 6, 1900.]

SEC. 11. All property now or hereafter belonging to "The California School of Mechanical Arts," an institution founded and endowed by the late James Lick to educate males and females in the practical arts of life, and incorporated under the laws of the State of California, November twenty-third, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, having its school buildings located in the City and County of San Francisco, shall be exempt from taxation. The trustees of said institution must annually report their proceedings and financial accounts to the Governor. The Legislature may modify, suspend, and revive at will the exemption from taxation herein given. [New section; adopted November 6, 1900.]

SEC. 12. All property now or hereafter belonging to the "California Academy of Sciences," an institution for the advancement of science and maintenance of a free museum, and chiefly endowed by the late James Lick, and incorporated under the laws of the State of California, January sixteenth, eighteen hundred and seventy-one, having its buildings located in the City and County of San Francisco, shall be exempt from taxation. The trustees of said institution must annually report their proceedings and financial accounts to the Governor. The Legislature may modify, suspend, and revive at will the exemption from taxation herein given. [New section; adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 13. All property now or hereafter belonging to the Corswell Polytechnical College, an institution for the advancement of learning, incorporated under the laws of the State of California, and having its buildings located in the City and County of San Francisco, shall be exempt from taxation. The trustees of said institution must annually report their proceedings and financial accounts to the Governor. The Legislature may modify, suspend, and revive at will the exemption from taxation herein given. [New section; adopted November 6, 1906.]

ARTICLE X.

STATE INSTITUTIONS AND PUBLIC BUILDINGS.

SECTION 1. There shall be a State Board of Prison Directors, to consist of five persons, to be appointed by the Governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate, who shall hold office for ten years, except that the first appointed shall, in such manner as the Legislature may direct, be so classified that the term of one person so appointed shall expire at the end of each two years during the first ten years, and vacancies occurring shall be filled in like manner. The appointee to a vacancy occurring before the expiration of a term shall hold office only for the unexpired term of his predecessor. The Governor shall have the power to remove either of the directors for misconduct, incompetency, or neglect of duty, after an opportunity to be heard upon written charges.

SEC. 2. The board of directors shall have the charge and superintendence of the State prisons, and shall possess such powers and perform such duties, in respect to other penal and reformatory institutions of the State, as the Legislature may prescribe.

SEC. 3. The board shall appoint the warden and clerk, and determine the other necessary officers of the prisons. The board shall have power to remove the wardens and clerks for misconduct, incompetency, or neglect of duty. All other officers and employes of the prisons shall be appointed by the warden thereof, and be removed at his pleasure.

SEC. 4. The members of the board shall receive no compensation, other than reasonable traveling and other expenses incurred while engaged in the performance of official duties, to be audited as the Legislature may direct.

SEC. 5. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be necessary to further define and regulate the powers and duties of the board, wardens, and clerks, and to carry into effect the provisions of this article.

SEC. 6. After the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty-two, the labor of convicts shall not be let out by contract to any person, co-partnership, company, or corporation, and the Legislature shall, by law, provide for the working of convicts for the benefit of the State.

ARTICLE XI.

COUNTIES, CITIES, AND TOWNS.

SECTION 1. The several counties, as they now exist, are hereby recognized as legal subdivisions of this State.

SEC. 2. No county seat shall be removed unless two thirds of the qualified electors of the county, voting on the proposition at a general election, shall vote in favor of such removal. A proposition of removal shall not be submitted in the same county more than once in four years.

SEC. 3. The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, may provide for the alteration of county boundary lines, and for the formation of new counties; provided, however, that no new county shall be established which shall reduce any county to a population of less than twenty thousand; nor shall a new county be formed containing a less population than eight thousand; nor shall any line thereof pass within five miles of the exterior boundary of the city or town in which the county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated. Every county which shall be enlarged or created from territory taken from any other county or counties, shall be liable for a just proportion of the existing debts and liabilities of the county or counties from which such territory shall be taken. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 4. The Legislature shall establish a system of county governments, which shall be uniform throughout the State; and by general laws shall provide for township organization, under which any county may organize whenever a majority of the qualified electors of such county, voting at a general election, shall so determine; and whenever a county shall adopt township organization, the assessment and collection of the revenue shall be made, and the business of such county and the local affairs of the several townships therein shall be managed and transacted, in the manner prescribed by such general laws.

SEC. 5. The Legislature, by general and uniform laws, shall provide for the election or appointment, in the several counties, of Boards of Supervisors, Sheriffs, County Clerks, District Attorneys, and such other county, township, and municipal officers as public convenience may require, and shall prescribe their duties and fix their terms of office. It shall regulate the compensation of all such officers, in proportion to duties, and may also establish fees to be charged and collected by such officers for services performed in their respective offices, in the manner and for the uses provided by law, and for this purpose may classify the counties by population; and it shall provide for the strict accountability of county and township officers for all fees which may be collected by them, and for all public and municipal moneys which may be paid to them, or officially come into their possession. It may regulate the compensation of grand and trial jurors in all courts within the classes of counties herein permitted to be made; such compensation, however, shall not, in any class, exceed the sum of three dollars per day and mileage. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 6. Corporations for municipal purposes shall not be created by special laws; but the Legislature, by general laws, shall provide for the incorporation, organization, and classification, in proportion to population, of cities and towns, which laws may be altered, amended, or repealed. Cities and towns heretofore organized or incorporated may become organized under such general laws whenever a majority of the electors voting at a general election shall so determine, and shall organize in conformity therewith; and cities and towns heretofore or hereafter organized, and all charters thereof framed or adopted by authority of this Constitution, except in municipal affairs, shall be subject to and controlled by general laws. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1896.]

SEC. 7. City and county governments may be merged and consolidated into one municipal government, with one set of officers, and may be incorporated under general laws providing for the incorporation and organization of corporations for municipal purposes. The provisions of this Constitution applicable to cities, and also those applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities, shall be applicable to such consolidated government. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1894.]

SEC. 8. Any city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants may frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the Constitution. (or, having framed such a charter, may frame a new one), by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who shall have been for at least five years qualified electors thereof, to be elected by the qualified voters of said city at any general or special election, whose duty it shall be, within ninety days after such election, to prepare and propose a charter for such city, which shall be signed in duplicate by the members of such board, or a majority of them, and returned, one copy to the Mayor thereof, or other chief executive officer of such city, and the other to the Recorder of the county. Such proposed charter shall then be published in two daily newspapers of general circulation in such city, for at least twenty days, and the first publication shall be made within twenty days after the completion of the charter: provided, that in cities containing a population of not more than ten thousand inhabitants, such proposed charter shall be published in one such daily newspaper; and within thirty days after such publication it shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said city at a general or special election, and if a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon shall ratify the same, it shall thereafter be submitted to the Legislature for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be made by concurrent resolution, and, if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house, it shall become the charter of such city, or, if such city be consolidated with a county, then of such city and county, and shall become the organic law thereof, and supersede any existing charter, (whether framed under the provisions of this section of the Constitution or not), and all amendments thereof, and all laws inconsistent with such charter. A copy of such charter, certified by the Mayor, or chief executive officer, and authenticated by the seal of such city, setting forth the submission of such charter to the electors, and its ratification by them, shall, after the approval of such charter by the Legislature, be made in duplicate, and deposited, one in the office of the Secretary of State, and the other, after being recorded in said Recorder's office, shall be deposited in the archives of the city, and thereafter all courts shall take judicial notice of said charter. The charter, so ratified, may be amended at intervals of not less than two years by proposals therefor, submitted by the legislative authority of the city to the qualified electors thereof at a general or special election, held at least forty days after the publication of such proposals for twenty days in a daily newspaper of general circulation in such city, and ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon, and approved by the Legislature as herein provided for the approval of the charter. Whenever fifteen per cent of the qualified voters of the city shall petition the legislative authority thereof to submit any proposed amendment or amendments to said charter to the qualified voters thereof for approval, the legislative authority thereof must submit the same. In submitting any such charter, or amendments thereto, any alternative article or proposition may be presented for the choice of the voters, and may be voted on separately without prejudice to others. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 84. The charter of the city and county of San Francisco may be amended, in addition to the method and the times provided in section 8 of article XI of the Constitution, in the following particulars:

(a) Authorizing the city and county of San Francisco, a municipal corporation, by its legislative authority, to incur a bonded indebtedness in an amount not exceeding five million dollars, and to issue municipal bonds therefor, and to grant and turn over to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company (a corporation organized under the laws of the State of California March 22, 1910) the proceeds of said bonds, the same to be used and disbursed by said exposition company for the purposes of an exposition to be held in the city and county of San Francisco to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal; said bonds, so issued, to be of such form and to be redeemable, registered and converted in such manner and amounts, and at such times not later than forty years from the date of their issue, as such legislative authority shall determine; the interest on said bonds to not exceed five per centum per annum, and said bonds to be exempt from all taxes for state and municipal purposes, and to be sold for not less than par at such times and places, and in such manner, as shall be determined by said legislative authority; the proceeds of said bonds, when sold, to be payable immediately by the treasurer of said city and county to the treasurer of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, upon the demand of said treasurer of said exposition company, without the necessity of the approval of such demand by other authority, the same to be used and disbursed by said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company for the purposes of such exposition, under the direction and control of such exposition company;

(b) Providing that any bonded indebtedness incurred for the purposes aforesaid shall be exclusive of the bonded indebtedness of the said city and county limited by section 9 of article XII of said charter;

(c) Granting to said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company the exclusive possession and use, together with the management and control, of that portion of Golden Gate Park in the city and county of San Francisco westerly from Twentieth avenue, as extended, for such exposition purposes, such possession and use, also management and control, to terminate not later than one year after the closing of such exposition;

(d) Granting to said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company the exclusive possession and use, together with the management and control, for such exposition purposes, of any lands held by the board of education of the city and county of San Francisco, and by the city and county of San Francisco, not in actual use, such possession and use, also management and control, to terminate not later than one year after the closing of such exposition.

(e) Authorizing said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company to temporarily close streets in the city and county of San Francisco westerly from Twentieth avenue, for such exposition purposes, and to have the exclusive possession and use, together with the management and control, of said streets for such exposition purposes, such possession and use, also management and control of said streets, to terminate not later than one year after the closing of such exposition.

Proposals to amend the charter of the city and county of San Francisco in the foregoing particulars may be submitted by the legislative authority of said city and county to the electors of said city and county, at any general or special election (and a special election may be called therefor) held in said city and county, after the publication of such proposals in a newspaper of general circulation in said city and county, for such time as shall be determined by said legislative authority. Upon the ratification of any such proposed amendment by a majority of the electors of said city and county voting at such election on such proposed amendment, said proposed amendment receiving such majority vote shall become operative immediately as an amendment to said charter, without the necessity of approval thereof by the Legislature.

Any act of the legislative authority of the city and county of San Francisco, in submitting to the electors of said city and county, at any general or special election, proposals to amend the charter of said city and county in the foregoing particulars, including any notice by publication or otherwise of such proposals, and of such election, and the holding of such election, in accordance with the provisions hercof, before the adoption of this amendment, are hereby validated in all respects as if performed subsequent to the adoption of this amendment. The disbursement of all funds obtained from said bonds shall be accounted for by said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company by an itemized statement thereof to be filed with the auditor of the city and county of San Francisco. [New section; adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of article eleven of this Constitution, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this Constitution and by the laws of the State, as follows:

1. For the constitution, regulation, government, and jurisdiction of Police Courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attachés.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of boards of education shall be elected or appointed, and the number which shall constitute any one of such boards.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the boards of police commissioners shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards and of the municipal police force.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attachés; and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Where a city and county government has been merged and consolidated into one municipal government, it shall also be competent in any charter framed under said section eight of said article XI, to provide for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county officers shall be elected or appointed, for their compensation, and for the number of deputies that each shall have, and for the compensation payable to each of such deputies. [New section; adopted November 3, 1896.]

SEC. 9. The compensation of any county, city, town, or municipal officer shall not be increased after his election or during his term of office; nor shall the term of any such officer be extended beyond the period for which he is elected or appointed.

SEC. 10. [Repealed; November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 11. Any county, city, town, or township may make and enforce within its limits all such local police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws.

SEC. 12. The Legislature shall have no power to impose taxes upon counties, cities, towns or other public or municipal corporations, or upon the inhabitants or property thereof, for county, city, town, or other municipal purposes, but may, by general laws, vest in the corporate authorities thereof the power to assess and collect taxes for such purposes.

SEC. 13. The Legislature shall not delegate to any special commission, private corporation, company, association, or individual, any power to make, control, appropriate, supervise, or in any way interfere with any county, city, town, or municipal improvement, money, property, or effects, whether held in trust or otherwise, or to levy taxes or assessments, or perform any municipal functions whatever.

SEC. 13½. Nothing in this Constitution contained shall be construed as prohibiting the State or any county, city and county, city, town, municipality, or other public corporation, issuing bonds under the laws of the State, to make said bonds payable at any place within the United States designated in said bonds. [New section; adopted November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 14. No State office shall be continued or created in any county, city, town, or other municipality. for the inspection, measurement, or graduation of any merchandise, manufacture, or commodity: but such county, city, town, or municipality may, when authorized by general law, appoint such officers.

SEC. 15. Private property shall not be taken or sold for the payment of the corporate debt of any political or municipal corporation.

SEC. 16. All moneys, assessments, and taxes belonging to or collected for the use of any county, city, town, or other public or municipal corporation, coming into the hands of any officer thereof, shall immediately be deposited with the Treasurer, or other legal depository, to the credit of such city, town, or other corporation, respectively, for the benefit of the funds to which they respectively belong.

SEC. 16½. All moneys belonging to the State, or to any county or municipality within this State, may be deposited in any national bank or banks within this State, or in any bank or banks organized under the laws of this State, in such manner and under such conditions as may be provided by law; provided, that such bank or banks in which such moneys are deposited shall furnish as security for such deposits, bonds of the United States, or of this State or of any county, municipality or school district within this State, to be approved by the officer or officers designated by law, to an amount in value of at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of such deposit; and provided, that such bank or banks shall pay a reasonable rate of interest, not less than two per cent per annum on the daily balances therein deposited; and provided, that no deposit shall at any one time exceed fifty per cent of the paid-up capital stock of such depository bank or banks; and provided, further, that no officer shall deposit at one time more than twenty per cent of such public moneys available for deposit in any bank while there are other qualified banks requesting such deposits. [New section; adopted November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 17. The making of profit out of county, city, town, or other public money, or using the same for any purpose not authorized by law, by any officer having the possession or control thereof, shall be a felony, and shall be prosecuted and punished as prescribed by law.

SEC. 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school districts, shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year, without the assent of two thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, that the City and County of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty-first, forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, and fiftieth fiscal years, and for unpaid teachers' salaries for the fiftieth fiscal year, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years, the amount to be paid in full of said claims not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, and that no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner to these claims; and provided, further, that the city of Vallejo, of Solano County, may pay its existing indebtedness incurred in the construction of its waterworks whenever two thirds of the electors thereof voting at an election held for that purpose shall so decide, and that no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner. Any indebtedness or liability incurred contrary to this provision, with the exceptions hereinbefore recited, shall be void. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1900.]

Section 18 amended by adding the following, adopted November 6, 1906: The City and County of San Francisco, the City of San Jose and the Town of Santa Clara may make provision for a sinking fund, to pay the principal of any indebtedness incurred, or to be hereafter incurred, by it, to commence at a time after the incurring of such indebtedness of not more than a period of one fourth of the time of maturity of such indebtedness, which shall not exceed seventy-five years from the time of contracting the same. Any indebtedness incurred contrary to any provision of this section shall be void.

SEC. 19. In any city where there are no public works owned and controlled by the municipality for supplying the same with water or artificial light, any individual, or any company duly incorporated for such purpose under and by authority of the laws of this State, shall, under the direction of the Superintendent of Streets, or other officer in control thereof, and under such general regulations as the municipality may prescribe for damages and indemnity for damages, have the privilege of using the public streets and thoroughfares thereof, and of laying down pipes and conduits therein, and connections therewith, so far as may be necessary for introducing into and supplying such city and its inhabitants either with gaslight or other illuminating light, or with fresh water for domestic and all other purposes, upon the condition that the municipal government shall have the right to regulate the charges thereof. [Amendment adopted November 4, 1887.]

ARTICLE XII.

CORPORATIONS.

SECTION 1. Corporations may be formed under general laws, but shall not be created by special act. All laws now in force in this State concerning corporations, and all laws that may be hereafter passed pursuant to this section, may be altered from time to time or repealed.

SEC. 2. Dues from corporations shall be secured by such individual liability of the corporators and other means as may be prescribed by law.

SEC. 3. Each stockholder of a corporation, or joint-stock association, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred, during the time he was a stockholder, as the amount of stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock, or shares of the corporation or association. The directors or trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association, during the term of office of such director or trustee.

Nothing in the preceding paragraph of this section shall be held to apply to any exposition company organized to promote and carry on any international exposition or world's fair within the State of California, and the liability of stockholders in any such exposition company shall be and the same is hereby limited to an amount not exceeding the par value of the stock of said corporation subscribed for by such stockholders. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 4. The term corporations, as used in this article, shall be construed to include all associations and joint-stock companies having any of the powers or privileges of corporations not possessed by individuals or partnerships, and all corporations shall have the right to sue and be subject to be sued, in all courts, in like cases as natural persons.

SEC. 5. The Legislature shall have no power to pass any act granting any charter for banking purposes, but corporations or associations may be formed for such purposes under general laws, and the Legislature shall provide for the classification of cities and towns by population for the purpose of regulating the business of banking. No corporation, association, or individual shall issue or put in circulation, as money, anything but the lawful money of the United States. [Amendment adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 6. All existing charters, grants, franchises, special or exclusive privileges, under which an actual and bona fide organization shall not have taken place, and business been commenced in good faith, at the time of the adoption of this Constitution, shall thereafter have no validity.

SEC. 7. The Legislature shall not extend any franchise or charter, nor remit the forfeiture of any franchise or charter of any quasi-public corporation now existing or which shall hereafter exist under the laws of this State. The term of existence of any other corporation now or hereafter existing under the laws of this State, may be extended, at any time prior to the expiration of its corporate existence, for a period not exceeding fifty years from the date of such extension, by the vote or written consent of stockholders representing two thirds of its capital stock or of two thirds of the members thereof. A certificate of such vote or consent shall be signed and sworn to by the president and secretary, and by a majority of the directors of the corporation and filed and certified in the manner and upon payment of fees required by law for filing and certifying articles of incorporation, and thereupon the term of the corporation shall be extended for the period specified in such certificate, and such corporation shall thereafter pay all annual or other fees required by law to be paid by corporations. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

SEC. 8. The exercise of the right of eminent domain shall never be so abridged or construed as to prevent the Legislature from taking the property and franchises of incorporated companies and subjecting them to public use the same as the property of individuals: and the exercise of the police power of the State shall never be so abridged or construed as to permit corporations to conduct their business in such manner as to infringe the rights of individuals or the general well-being of the State.

SEC. 9. No corporation shall engage in any business other than that expressly authorized in its charter or the law under which it may have been or may hereafter be organized: nor shall it hold for a longer period than five years any real estate, except such as may be necessary for carrying on its business.

SEC. 10. The Legislature shall not pass any laws permitting the leasing or alienation of any franchise, so as to relieve the franchise or property held thereunder from the liabilities of the lessor or grantor, lessee or grantee, contracted or incurred in the operation, use, or enjoyment of such franchise, or any of its privileges.

SEC. 11. No corporation shall issue stock or bonds, except for money paid, labor done, or property actually received, and all fictitious increase of stock or indebtedness shall be void. The stock and bonded indebtedness of corporations shall not be increased, except in pursuance of general law, nor without the consent of the persons holding the larger amount in value of the stock, at a meeting called for that purpose, giving sixty days' public notice, as may be provided by law.

SEC. 12. In all elections for directors or managers of corporations every stockholder shall have the right to vote, in person or by proxy, the number of shares of stock owned by him, for as many persons as there are directors or managers to be elected, or to cumulate said shares and give one candidate as many votes as the number of directors multiplied by the number of his shares of stock shall equal, or to distribute them, on the same principle, among as many candidates as he shall think fit; and such directors or managers shall not be elected in any other manner, except that members of cooperative societies formed for agricultural, mercantile, and manufacturing purposes may vote on all questions affecting such societies in manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 13. The State shall not, in any manner, loan its credit, nor shall it subscribe to or be interested in the stock of any company, association, or corporation.

SEC. 14. Every corporation, other than religious, educational, or benevolent, organized or doing business in this State, shall have and maintain an office or place in this State for the transaction of its business, where transfers of stock shall be made, and in which shall be kept, for inspection by every person having an interest therein, and legislative committees, books in which shall be recorded the amount of capital stock subscribed, and by whom: the names of the owners of its stock, and the amounts owned by them, respectively: the amount of stock paid in, and by whom: the transfers of stock: the amount of its assets and liabilities, and the names and places of residence of its officers.

SEC. 15. No corporation organized outside the limits of this State shall be allowed to transact business within this State on more favorable conditions than are prescribed by law to similar corporations organized under the laws of this State.

SEC. 16. A corporation or association may be sued in the county where the contract is made or is to be performed, or where the obligation or liability arises or the breach occurs: or in the county where the principal place of business of such corporation is situated, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial, as in other cases.

SEC. 17. All railroad, canal, and other transportation companies are declared to be common carriers, and subject to legislative control. Any association or corporation, organized for the purpose under the laws of this State, shall have the right to connect at the State line with railroads of other states. Every railroad company shall have the right with its road to intersect, connect with, or cross any other railroad, and shall receive and transport each the other's passengers, tonnage, and cars, without delay or discrimination.

SEC. 18. No president, director, officer, agent, or employe of any railroad or canal company shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in the furnishing of material or supplies to such company, nor in the business of transportation as a common carrier of freight or passengers over the works owned, leased, controlled, or worked by such company, except such interest in the business of transportation as lawfully flows from the ownership of stock therein.

SEC. 19. No railroad or other transportation company shall grant free passes, or passes or tickets at a discount, to any person holding any office of honor, trust, or profit in this State; and the acceptance of any such pass or ticket by a member of the Legislature, or any public officer, other than Railroad Commissioner, shall work a forfeiture of his office.

SEC. 20. No railroad company or other common carrier shall combine or make any contract with the owners of any vessel that leaves port or makes port in this State, or with any common carrier, by which combination or contract the earnings of one doing the carrying are to be shared by the other not doing the carrying. And whenever a railroad corporation shall, for the purpose of competing with any other common carrier, lower its rates for transportation of passengers or freight from one point to another, such reduced rates shall not be again raised or increased from such standard without the consent of the governmental authority in which shall be vested the power to regulate fares and freights.

SEC. 21. No discrimination in charges or facilities for transportation shall be made by any railroad or other transportation company between places or persons, or in the facilities for the transportation of the same classes of freight or passengers within this State, or coming from or going to any other State. Persons and property transported over any railroad, or by any other transportation company or individual, shall be delivered at any station, landing, or port, at charges not exceeding the charges for the transportation of persons and property of the same class, in the same direction, to any more distant station, port, or landing. Excursion and commutation tickets may be issued at special rates.

SEC. 22. The State shall be divided into three districts as nearly equal in population as practicable, in each of which one Railroad Commissioner shall be elected by the qualified electors thereof at the regular gubernatorial elections, whose salary shall be fixed by law, and whose term of office shall be four years, commencing on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding their election. Said Commissioners shall be qualified electors of this State and of the district from which they are elected, and shall not be interested in any railroad corporation, or other transportation company, as stockholder, creditor, agent, attorney, or employé; and the act of a majority of said Commissioners shall be deemed the act of said Commission. Said Commissioners shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to establish rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight by railroad or other transportation companies, and publish the same from time to time, with such changes as they may make; to examine the books, records, and papers of all railroad and other transportation companies, and for this purpose they shall have power to issue subpoenas and all other necessary process; to hear and determine complaints against railroad and other transportation companies, to send for persons and papers, to administer oaths, take testimony, and punish for contempt of their orders and processes, in the same manner and to the same extent as courts of record, and enforce their decisions and correct abuses through the medium of the courts. Said Commissioners shall prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be kept by all such corporations and companies. Any railroad corporation or transportation company which shall fail or refuse to conform to such rates as shall be established by such Commissioners, or shall charge rates in excess thereof, or shall fail to keep their accounts in accordance with the system prescribed by the Commission, shall be fined not exceeding twenty thousand dollars for each offense; and every officer, agent, or employé of any such corporation or company, who shall demand or receive rates in excess thereof, or who shall in any manner violate the provisions of this section, shall be fined not exceeding five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail not exceeding one year. In all controversies, civil or criminal, the rates of fares and freights established by said Commission shall be deemed conclusively just and reasonable, and in any action against such corporation or company for damages sustained by charging excessive rates, the plaintiff, in addition to the actual damage, may, in the discretion of the judge or jury, recover exemplary damages. Said Commission shall report to the Governor, annually, their proceedings, and such other facts as may be deemed important. Nothing in this section shall prevent individuals from maintaining actions against any of such companies. The Legislature may, in addition to any penalties herein prescribed, enforce this article by forfeiture of charter or otherwise, and may confer such further powers on the Commissioners as shall be necessary, to enable them to perform the duties enjoined on them in this and the foregoing section. The Legislature shall have power, by a two-thirds vote of all the members elected to each house, to remove any one or more of said Commissioners from office, for dereliction of duty, or corruption, or incompetency; and whenever, from any cause, a vacancy in office shall occur in said Commission, the Governor shall fill the same by the appointment of a qualified person thereto, who shall hold office for the residue of the unexpired term, and until his successor shall have been elected and qualified.

SEC. 23. Until the Legislature shall district the State, the following shall be the railroad districts: The First District shall be composed of the counties of Alpine, Amador, Butte, Calaveras, Colusa, Del Norte, El Dorado, Humboldt, Lake, Lassen, Mendocino, Modoc, Napa, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sacramento, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Solano, Sonoma, Sutter, Tehama, Trinity, Yolo, and Yuba, from which one Railroad Commissioner shall be elected. The Second District shall be composed of the counties of Marin, San Francisco, and San Mateo, from which one Railroad Commissioner shall be elected. The Third District shall be composed of the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Fresno, Inyo, Kern, Los Angeles, Mariposa, Merced, Mono, Monterey, San Benito, San Bernardino, San Diego, San Joaquin, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara, Santa Clara, Santa Cruz, Stanislaus, Tulare, Tuolumne, and Ventura, from which one Railroad Commissioner shall be elected.

SEC. 24. The Legislature shall pass all laws necessary for the enforcement of the provisions of this article.

ARTICLE XIII.

REVENUE AND TAXATION.

SECTION 1. All property in the State except as otherwise in this Constitution provided, not exempt under the laws of the United States, shall be taxed in proportion to its value, to be ascertained as provided by law, or as hereinafter provided. The word "property," as used in this article and section, is hereby declared to include moneys, credits, bonds, stocks, dues, franchises, and all other matters and things, real, personal, and mixed, capable of private ownership; provided, that a mortgage, deed of trust, contract, or other obligation by which a debt is secured when land is pledged as security for the payment thereof, together with the money represented by such debt, shall not be considered property subject to taxation: and further provided, that property used for free public libraries and free museums, growing crops, property used exclusively for public schools, and such as may belong to the United States, this State, or to any county or municipal corporation within this State shall be exempt from taxation. The Legislature may provide, except in the case of credits secured by mortgage or trust deed, for a deduction from credits of debts due to bona fide residents of this State. [Adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 1½. All buildings, and so much of the real property on which they are situated as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings, when the same are used solely and exclusively for religious worship, shall be free from taxation; provided, that no building so used which may be rented for religious purposes and rent received by the owner therefor, shall be exempt from taxation. [New section; adopted November 6, 1900.]

SEC. 1¾. All bonds hereafter issued by the State of California, or by any county, city and county, municipal corporation, or district (including school, reclamation, and irrigation districts) within said State, shall be free and exempt from taxation. [New section; adopted November 4, 1902.]

SEC. 2. Land, and the improvements thereon, shall be separately assessed. Cultivated and uncultivated land, of the same quality, and similarly situated, shall be assessed at the same value.

SEC. 3. Every tract of land containing more than six hundred and forty acres, and which has been sectionized by the United States Government, shall be assessed, for the purposes of taxation, by sections or fractions of sections. The Legislature shall provide by law for the assessment, in small tracts, of all lands not sectionized by the United States Government.

SEC. 4. [Repeated November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 5. [Repealed November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 6. The power of taxation shall never be surrendered or suspended by any grant or contract to which the State shall be a party.

SEC. 7. The Legislature shall have the power to provide by law for the payment of all taxes on real property by installments.

SEC. 8. The Legislature shall by law require each taxpayer in this State to make and deliver to the County Assessor, annually, a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically all the real and personal property owned by such taxpayer, or in his possession, or under his control, at twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday of March.

SEC. 9. A State Board of Equalization, consisting of one member from each congressional district in this State, as the same existed in eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, shall be elected by the qualified electors of their respective districts, at the general election to be held in the year one thousand eight hundred and eighty-six, and at each gubernatorial election thereafter, whose term of office shall be for four years; whose duty it shall be to equalize the valuation of the taxable property in the several counties of the State for the purposes of taxation. The Controller of State shall be ex officio a member of the board. The Boards of Supervisors of the several counties of the State shall constitute Boards of Equalization for their respective counties, whose duty it shall be to equalize the valuation of the taxable property in the county for the purpose of taxation; provided, such State and County Boards of Equalization are hereby authorized and empowered, under such rules of notice as the County Boards may prescribe as to county assessments, and under such rules of notice as the State Board may prescribe as to the action of the State Board, to increase or lower the entire assessment roll, or any assessment contained therein, so as to equalize the assessment of the property contained in said assessment roll, and make the assessment conform to the true value in money of the property contained in said roll; provided, that no Board of Equalization shall raise any mortgage, deed of trust, contract or other obligation by which a debt is secured, money, or solvent credits, above its face value. The present State Board of Equalization shall continue in office until their successors, as herein provided for, shall be elected and shall qualify. The Legislature shall have power to redistrict the State into four districts, as nearly equal in population as practical, and to provide for the elections of members of said Board of Equalization. [Amendment adopted November 4, 1884.]

SEC. 10. All property, except as otherwise in this Constitution provided, shall be assessed in the county, city, city and county, town or township, or district in which it is situated, in the manner prescribed by law. [Adopted November 8, 1910.]

SEC. 10½. The personal property of every householder to the amount of one hundred dollars, the articles to be selected by each household, shall be exempt from taxation. [New section; adopted November 8, 1904.]

SEC. 11. Income taxes may be assessed to and collected from persons, corporations, joint-stock associations, or companies resident or doing business in this State, or any one or more of them, in such cases and amounts, and in such manner, as shall be prescribed by law.

SEC. 12. The Legislature shall provide for the levy and collection of an annual poll tax, of not less than two dollars, on every male inhabitant of this State over twenty-one and under sixty years of age, except paupers, idiots, insane persons, and Indians not taxed. Said tax shall be paid into the State school fund.

SEC. 12½. Fruit and nut-bearing trees under the age of four years from the time of planting in orchard form, and grapevines under the age of three years from the time of planting in vineyard form, shall be exempt from taxation, and nothing in this article shall be construed as subjecting such trees and grapevines to taxation. [New section; adopted November 6, 1894.]

SEC. 13. The Legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry out the provisions of this article.

SEC. 14. Taxes levied, assessed and collected as hereinafter provided upon railroads, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties; sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car and palace car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loading and other car companies operating upon railroads in this State; companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line in this State; telegraph companies; telephone companies; companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity; insurance companies; banks, banking associations, savings and loan societies, and trust companies; and taxes upon all franchises of every kind and nature, shall be entirely and exclusively for State purposes, and shall be levied, assessed and collected in the manner hereinafter provided. The word "companies" as used in this section shall include persons, partnerships, joint-stock associations, companies, and corporations.

(a) All railroad companies, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties: all sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car, and palace car companies, all refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit and other car-loading and other car companies, operating upon the railroads in this State; all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line in this State; all telegraph and telephone companies; and all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity shall annually pay to the State a tax upon their franchises, roadways, roadbeds, rails, rolling stock, poles, wires, pipes, canals, conduits, rights of way, and other property, or any part thereof used exclusively in the operation of their business in this State, computed as follows: Said tax shall be equal to the percentages hereinafter fixed upon the gross receipts from operation of such companies and each thereof within this State. When such companies are operating partly within and partly without this State, the gross receipts within this State shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this State, and a proportion, based upon the proportion of the mileage within this State to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into, or out of this State.

The percentages above mentioned shall be as follows: On all railroad companies, including street railways, four per cent; on all sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car, palace car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loading and other car companies, three per cent; on all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line, two per cent; on all telegraph and telephone companies, three and one half per cent; on all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, four per cent. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon the property above enumerated of such companies except as otherwise in this section provided; provided, that nothing herein shall be construed to release any such company from the payment of any amount agreed, to be paid or required by law to be paid for any special privilege or franchise granted by any of the municipal authorities of this State.

(b) Every insurance company or association doing business in this State shall annually pay to the State a tax of one and one half per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received upon its business done in this State, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this State; provided, that there shall be deducted from said one and one half per cent upon the gross premiums the amount of any county and municipal taxes paid by such companies on real estate owned by them in this State. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon the property of such companies, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise in this section provided; provided, that when by the laws of any other State or country, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on insurance companies of this State, doing business in such other State or country, or upon their agents therein, in excess of such taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, imposed upon insurance companies of such other State or country, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatsoever kind may be imposed by the Legislature upon insurance companies of such other State or country doing business in this State.

(c) The shares of capital stock of all banks, organized under the laws of this State, or of the United States, or of any other State and located in this State, shall be assessed and taxed to the owners or holders thereof by the State Board of Equalization, in the manner to be prescribed by law, in the city or town where the bank is located and not elsewhere. There shall be levied and assessed upon such shares of capital stock an annual tax, payable to the State, of one per centum upon the value thereof. The value of each share of stock in each bank, except such as are in liquidation, shall be taken to be the amount paid in thereon, together with its pro rata of the accumulated surplus and undivided profits. The value of each share of stock in each bank which is in liquidation shall be taken to be its pro rata of the actual assets of such bank. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon such shares of stock and upon the property of such banks, except county and municipal taxes on real estate and except as otherwise in this section provided. In determining the value of the capital stock of any bank there shall be deducted from the value, as defined above, the value, as assessed for county taxes, of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank and taxed for county purposes. The banks shall be liable to the State for this tax and the same shall be paid to the State by them on behalf of the stockholders in the manner and at the time prescribed by law, and they shall have a lien upon the shares of stock and upon any dividends declared thereon to secure the amount so paid.

The moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits and all other property belonging to unincorporated banks or bankers of this State, or held by any bank located in this State which has no shares of capital stock, or employed in this State by any branches, agencies, or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the State of California, shall be likewise assessed and taxed to such banks or bankers by the said Board of Equalization, in the manner to be provided by law and taxed at the same rate that is levied upon the shares of capital stock of incorporated banks, as provided in the first paragraph of this subdivision. The value of said property shall be determined by taking the entire property invested in such business, together with all the reserve, surplus, and undivided profits, at their full cash value, and deducting therefrom the value as assessed for county taxes of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank and taxed for county purposes. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon the property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this paragraph, except county and municipal taxes on real estate and except as otherwise in this section provided. It is the intention of this paragraph that all moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this paragraph shall be assessed and taxed at the same rate as an incorporated bank, provided for in the first paragraph of this subdivision. In determining the value of the moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this subdivision, the said State Board of Equalization shall include and assess to such banks all property and everything of value owned or held by them, which go to make up the value of the capital stock of such banks and bankers, if the same were incorporated and had shares of capital stock.

The word "banks" as used in this subdivision shall include banking associations, savings and loan societies and trust companies, but shall not include building and loan associations.

(d) All franchises, other than those expressly provided for in this section, shall be assessed at their actual cash value, in the manner to be provided by law, and shall be taxed at the rate of one per centum each year, and the taxes collected thereon shall be exclusively for the benefit of the State.

(e) Out of the revenues from the taxes provided for in this section, together with all other State revenues, there shall be first set apart the moneys to be applied by the State to the support of the public school system and the State University. In the event that the above named revenues are at any time deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the State, including the above named expenditures for educational purposes, there may be levied, in the manner to be provided by law, a tax, for State purposes, on all the property in the State, including the classes of property enumerated in this section, sufficient to meet the deficiency. All property enumerated in subdivisions a, b, and d of this section shall be subject to taxation, in the manner provided by law, to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township or district, before the adoption of this section. The taxes so paid for principal and interest on such bonded indebtedness shall be deducted from the total amount paid in taxes for State purposes.

(f) All the provisions of this section shall be self-executing, and the Legislature shall pass all laws necessary to carry this section into effect, and shall provide for a valuation and assessment of the property enumerated in this section, and shall prescribe the duties of the State Board of Equalization and any other officers in connection with the administration thereof. The rates of taxation fixed in this section shall remain in force until changed by the Legislature, two thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof. The taxes herein provided for shall become a lien on the first Monday in March of each year after the adoption of this section and shall become due and payable on the first Monday in July thereafter. The gross receipts and gross premiums herein mentioned shall be computed for the year ending the thirty-first day of December prior to the levy of such taxes and the value of any property mentioned herein shall be fixed as of the first Monday in March. Nothing herein contained shall affect any tax levied or assessed prior to the adoption of this section; and all laws in relation to such taxes in force at the time of the adoption of this section shall remain in force until changed by the Legislature. Until the year 1918 the State shall reimburse any and all counties which sustain loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation for the net loss in county revenue occasioned by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation. The Legislature shall provide for reimbursement from the general funds of any county to districts therein where loss is occasioned in such districts by the withdrawal from local taxation of property taxed for State purposes only.

(g) No injunction shall ever issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against this State or against any officer thereof to prevent or enjoin the collection of any tax levied under the provisions of this section: but after payment action may be maintained to recover any tax illegally collected in such manner and at such time as may now or hereafter be provided by law. [New section; adopted November 8, 1910.]

ARTICLE XIV.

WATER AND WATER RIGHTS.

SECTION 1. The use of all water now appropriated, or that may hereafter be appropriated, for sale, rental, or distribution, is heroby declared to be a public use, and subject to the regulation and control of the State, in the manner to be prescribed by law; provided, that the rates or compensation to be collected by any person, company, or corporation in this State for the use of water supplied to any city and county, or city, or town, or the inhabitants thereof, shall be fixed, annually, by the Board of Supervisors, or City and County, or City, or Town Council, or other governing body of such city and county, or city, or town, by ordinance or otherwise, in the manner that other ordinances or legislative acts or resolutions are passed by such body, and shall continue in force for one year and no longer. Such ordinances or resolutions shall be passed in the month of February of each year, and take effect on the first day of July thereafter. Any board or body failing to pass the necessary ordinances or resolutions fixing water rates, where necessary, within such time, shall be subject to peremptory process to compel action, at the suit of any party interested, and shall be liable to such further processes and penalties as the Legislature may prescribe. Any person, company, or corporation collecting water rates in any city and county, or city, or town in this State, otherwise than as so established, shall forfeit the franchises and waterworks of such person, company, or corporation to the city and county, or city, or town, where the same are collected, for the public use.

SEC. 2. The right to collect rates or compensation for the use of waters supplied to any county, city and county, or town, or the inhabitants thereof, is a franchise, and can not be exercised except by authority of and in the manner prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XV.

HARBOR FRONTAGE, ETC.

SECTION 1. The right of eminent domain is hereby declared to exist in the State to all frontages on the navigable waters of this State.

SEC. 2. No individual, partnership, or corporation, claiming or possessing the frontage of tidal lands of a harbor, bay, inlet, estuary, or other navigable water in this State, shall be permitted to exclude the right of way to such water whenever it is required for any public purpose, nor to destroy or obstruct the free navigation of such water; and the Legislature shall enact such laws as will give the most liberal construction to this provision, so that access to the navigable waters of this State shall be always attainable for the people thereof.

SEC. 3. All tide lands within two miles of any incorporated city or town of this State, and fronting on the waters of any harbor, estuary, bay, or inlet, used for the purposes of navigation, shall be withheld from grant or sale to private persons, partnerships, or corporations.

ARTICLE XVI.

STATE INDEBTEDNESS.

SECTION 1. The Legislature shall not, in any manner, create any debt or debts, liability or liabilities, which shall, singly or in the aggregate with any previous debts or liabilities, exceed the sum of three hundred thousand dollars, except in case of war to repel invasion or suppress insurrection, unless the same shall be authorized by law for some single object or work to be distinctly specified therein which law shall provide ways and means, exclusive of loans, for the payment of the interest of such debt or liability as it falls due, and also to pay and discharge the principal of such debt or liability within seventy-five years of the time of the contracting thereof, and shall be irrepayable until the principal and interest thereon shall be paid and discharged and such law may make provision for a sinking fund to pay the principal of such debt or liability to commence at a time after the incurring of such debt or liability of not more than a period of one fourth of the time of maturity of such debt or liability; but no such law shall take effect until, at a general election, it shall have been submitted to the people and shall have received a majority of all the votes cast for and against it at such election; and all moneys raised by authority of such law shall be applied only to the specific object therein stated or to the payment of the debt thereby created, and such law shall be published in at least one newspaper in each county, or city and county, if one be published therein, throughout the State for three months next preceding the election at which it is submitted to the people. The Legislature may, at any time after the approval of such law by the people, if no debt shall have been contracted in pursuance thereof, repeal the same. [Amendment adopted November 3, 1908.]

ARTICLE XVII.

LAND AND HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION.

SECTION 1. The Legislature shall protect, by law, from forced sale, a certain portion of the homestead and other property of all heads of families.

SEC. 2. The holding of large tracts of land, uncultivated and unimproved, by individuals or corporations, is against the public interest, and should be discouraged by all means not inconsistent with the rights of private property.

SEC. 3. Lands belonging to this State, which are suitable for cultivation, shall be granted only to actual settlers, and in quantities not exceeding three hundred and twenty acres to each settler, under such conditions as shall be prescribed by law.

ARTICLE XVIII.

AMENDING AND REVISING THE CONSTITUTION.

SECTION 1. Any amendment or amendments to this Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or Assembly, and if two thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses shall vote in favor thereof, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered in their journals, with the yeas and nays taken thereon: and it shall be the duty of the Legislature to submit such proposed amendment or amendments to the people in such manner, and at such time, and after such publication as may be deemed expedient. Should more amendments than one be submitted at the same election, they shall be so prepared and distinguished, by numbers or otherwise, that each can be voted on separately. If the people shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, or any of them, by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, such amendment or amendments shall become a part of this Constitution.

SEC. 2. Whenever two thirds of the members elected to each branch of the Legislature shall deem it necessary to revise this Constitution, they shall recommend to the electors to vote, at the next general election, for or against a convention for that purpose, and if a majority of the electors voting at such election on the proposition for a convention shall vote in favor thereof, the Legislature shall, at its next session, provide by law for calling the same. The convention shall consist of a number of delegates not to exceed that of both branches of the Legislature, who shall be chosen in the same manner, and have the same qualifications, as members of the Legislature. The delegates so elected shall meet within three months after their election, at such place as the Legislature may direct. At a special election to be provided for by law, the Constitution that may be agreed upon by such convention shall be submitted to the people for their ratification or rejection, in such manner as the convention may determine. The returns of such election shall, in such manner as the convention shall direct, be certified to the Executive of the State, who shall call to his assistance the Controller, Treasurer, and Secretary of State, and compare the returns so certified to him; and it shall be the duty of the Executive to declare, by his proclamation, such Constitution as may have been ratified by a majority of all the votes cast at such special election, to be the Constitution of the State of California.

ARTICLE XIX.

CHINESE.

SECTION 1. The Legislature shall prescribe all necessary regulations for the protection of the State, and the counties, cities, and towns thereof, from the burdens and evils arising from the presence of aliens who are or may become vagrants, paupers, mendicants, criminals, or invalids afflicted with contagious or infectious diseases, and from aliens otherwise dangerous or detrimental to the well-being or peace of the State, and to impose conditions upon which such persons may reside in the State, and to provide the means and mode of their removal from the State, upon failure or refusal to comply with such conditions: provided, that nothing contained in this section shall be construed to impair or limit the power of the Legislature to pass such police laws or other regulations as it may deem necessary.

SEC. 2. No corporation now existing or hereafter formed under the laws of this State shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, employ, directly or indirectly, in any capacity, any Chinese or Mongolian. The Legislature shall pass such laws as may be necessary to enforce this provision.

SEC. 3. No Chinese shall be employed on any State, county, municipal, or other public work, except in punishment for crime.

SEC. 4. The presence of foreigners ineligible to become citizens of the United States is declared to be dangerous to the well-being of the State, and the Legislature shall discourage their immigration by all the means within its power. Asiatic coolieism is a form of human slavery, and is forever prohibited in this State, and all contracts for coolie labor shall be void. All companies or corporations, whether formed in this country or any foreign country, for the importation of such labor, shall be subject to such penalties as the Legislature may prescribe. The Legislature shall delegate all necessary power to the incorporated cities and towns of this State for the removal of Chinese without the limits of such cities and towns, or for their location within prescribed portions of those limits, and it shall also provide the necessary legislation to prohibit the introduction into this State of Chinese after the adoption of this Constitution. This section shall be enforced by appropriate legislation.

ARTICLE XX.

MISCELLANEOUS SUBJECTS.

SECTION 1. The City of Sacramento is hereby declared to be the seat of government of this State, and shall so remain until changed by law; but no law changing the seat of government shall be valid or binding unless the same be approved and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of the State voting therefor at a general State election, under such regulations and provisions as the Legislature, by a two-thirds vote of each house, may provide, submitting the question of change to the people.

SEC. 2. Any citizen of this State who shall, after the adoption of this Constitution, fight a duel with deadly weapons, or send or accept a challenge to fight a duel with deadly weapons, either within this State or out of it, or who shall act as second, or knowingly aid or assist in any manner those thus offending, shall not be allowed to hold any office of profit, or to enjoy the right of suffrage under this Constitution.

SEC. 3. Members of the Legislature, and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as may be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of _____ according to the best of my ability."

And no other oath, declaration, or test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust.

SEC. 4. All officers or commissioners whose election or appointment is not provided for by this Constitution, and all officers or commissioners whose offices or duties may hereafter be created by law, shall be elected by the people, or appointed, as the Legislature may direct.

SEC. 5. The fiscal year shall commence on the first day of July.

SEC. 6. Suits may be brought against the State in such manner and in such courts as shall be directed by law.

SEC. 7. No contract of marriage, if otherwise duly made, shall be invalidated for want of conformity to the requirements of any religious sect.

SEC. 8. All property, real and personal, owned by either husband or wife, before marriage, and that acquired by either of them afterwards by gift, devise, or descent, shall be their separate property.

SEC. 9. No perpetuities shall be allowed except for eleemosynary purposes.

SEC. 10. Every person shall be disqualified from holding any office of profit in this State who shall have been convicted of having given or offered a bribe to procure his election or appointment.

SEC. 11. Laws shall be made to exclude from office, serving on juries, and from the right of suffrage, persons convicted of bribery, perjury, forgery, malfeasance in office, or other high crimes. The privilege of free suffrage shall be supported by laws regulating elections, and prohibiting, under adequate penalties, all undue influence thereon from power, bribery, tumult, or other improper practice.

SEC. 12. Absence from this State, on business of the State or of the United States, shall not affect the question of residence of any person.

SEC. 13. A plurality of the votes given at any election shall constitute a choice, where not otherwise directed in this Constitution.

SEC. 14. The Legislature shall provide, by law, for the maintenance and efficiency of a State Board of Health.

SEC. 15. Mechanics, materialmen, artisans, and laborers of every class shall have a lien upon the property upon which they have bestowed labor or furnished material, for the value of such labor done and material furnished; and the Legislature shall provide, by law, for the speedy and efficient enforcement of such liens.

SEC. 16. When the term of any officer or commissioner is not provided for in this Constitution, the term of such officer or commissioner may be declared by law; and, if not so declared, such officer or commissioner shall hold his position as such officer or commissioner during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment; but in no case shall such term exceed four years; provided, however, that in the case of any officer or employe of any municipality governed under a legally adopted charter, the provisions of such charter with reference to the tenure of office or the dismissal from office of any such officer or employé shall control. [Amendment adopted November 6, 1906.]

SEC. 17. The time of service of all laborers or workmen or mechanics employed upon any public works of the State of California, or of any county, city and county, city, town, district, township, or any other political subdivision thereof, whether said work is done by contract or otherwise, shall be limited and restricted to eight hours in any one calendar day, except in cases of extraordinary emergency caused by fire, flood, or danger to life and property, or except to work upon public, military, or naval works or defenses in time of war, and the Legislature shall provide by law that a stipulation to this effect shall be incorporated in all contracts for public work, and prescribe proper penalties for the speedy and efficient enforcement of said law. [Amendment adopted November 4, 1902.]

SEC. 18. No person shall, on account of sex, be disqualified from entering upon or pursuing any lawful business, vocation, or profession.

SEC. 19. Nothing in this Constitution shall prevent the Legislature from providing, by law, for the payment of the expenses of the convention framing this Constitution, including the per diem of the delegates for the full term thereof.

SEC. 20. Elections of the officers provided for by this Constitution, except at the election in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, shall be held on the even-numbered years next before the expiration of their respective terms. The terms of such officers shall commence on the first Monday after the first day of January next following their election.

ARTICLE XXI.

BOUNDARY.

SECTION 1. The boundary of the State of California shall be as follows: Commencing at the point of intersection of the forty-second degree of north latitude with the one hundred and twentieth degree of longitude west from Greenwich, and running south on the line of said one hundred and twentieth degree of west longitude until it intersects the thirty-ninth degree of north latitude; thence running in a straight line, in a southeasterly direction, to the River Colorado, at a point where it intersects the thirty-fifth degree of north latitude; thence down the middle of the channel of said river to the boundary line between the United States and Mexico, as established by the treaty of May thirtieth, one thousand eight hundred and forty-eight; thence running west and along said boundary line to the Pacific Ocean, and extending therein three English miles; thence running in a northwesterly direction and following the direction of the Pacific coast to the forty-second degree of north latitude; thence on the line of said forty-second degree of north latitude to the place of beginning. Also, including all the islands, harbors, and bays along and adjacent to the coast.

ARTICLE XXII.

SCHEDULE.

That no inconvenience may arise from the alterations and amendments in the Constitution of this State, and to carry the same into complete effect, it is hereby ordained and declared:

SECTION 1. That all laws in force at the adoption of this Constitution, not inconsistent therewith, shall remain in full force and effect until altered or repealed by the Legislature; and all rights, actions, prosecutions, claims, and contracts of the State, counties, individuals, or bodies corporate, not inconsistent therewith, shall continue to be as valid as if this Constitution had not been adopted. The provisions of all laws which are inconsistent with this Constitution shall cease upon the adoption thereof, except that all laws which are inconsistent with such provisions of this Constitution as require legislation to enforce them shall remain in full force until the first day of July, eighteen hundred and eighty, unless sooner altered or repealed by the Legislature.

SEC. 2. That all recognizances, obligations, and all other instruments entered into or executed before the adoption of this Constitution, to this State, or to any subdivision thereof, or any municipality therein, and all fines, taxes, penalties, and forfeitures due or owing to this State, or any subdivision or municipality thereof, and all writs, prosecutions, actions, and causes of action, except as herein otherwise provided, shall continue and remain unaffected by the adoption of this Constitution. All indictments or informations which shall have been found, or may hereafter be found, for any crime or offense committed before this Constitution takes effect, may be proceeded upon as if no change had taken place, except as otherwise provided in this Constitution.

SEC. 3. All courts now existing, save Justices' and Police Courts, are hereby abolished; and all records, books, papers, and proceedings from such courts, as are abolished by this Constitution, shall be transferred, on the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty, to the courts provided for in this Constitution; and the courts to which the same are thus transferred shall have the same power and jurisdiction over them as if they had been in the first instance commenced, filed, or lodged therein.

SEC. 4. The Superintendent of Printing of the State of California shall, at least thirty days before the first Wednesday in May, A. D. eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, cause to be printed at the State Printing Office, in pamphlet form, simply stitched, as many copies of this Constitution as there are registered voters in this State, and mail one copy thereof to the post office address of each registered voter; provided, any copies not called for ten days after reaching their delivery office, shall be subject to general distribution by the several postmasters of the State. The Governor shall issue his proclamation, giving notice of the election for the adoption or rejection of this Constitution, at least thirty days before the said first Wednesday of May, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, and the Boards of Supervisors of the several counties shall cause said proclamation to be made public in their respective counties, and general notice of said election to be given at least fifteen days next before said election.

SEC. 5. The Superintendent of Printing of the State of California shall, at least twenty days before said election, cause to be printed and delivered to the Clerk of each county in this State five times the number of properly prepared ballots for said election that there are voters in said respective counties, with the words printed thereon: "For the New Constitution." He shall likewise cause to be so printed and delivered to said Clerks five times the number of properly prepared ballots for said election that there are voters in said respective counties with the words printed thereon: "Against the New Constitution." The Secretary of State is hereby authorized and required to furnish the Superintendent of State Printing a sufficient quantity of legal ballot paper, now on hand, to carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 6. The Clerks of the several counties in the State shall, at least five days before said election, cause to be delivered to the inspectors of election, at each election precinct or polling place in their respective counties, suitable registers, poll books, forms of return, and an equal number of the aforesaid ballots, which number, in the aggregate, must be ten times greater than the number of voters in the said election precincts or polling places. The returns of the number of votes cast at the presidential election in the year eighteen hundred and seventy-six shall serve as a basis of calculation for this and the preceding section; provided, that the duties in this and the preceding section imposed upon the Clerks of the respective counties shall, in the City and County of San Francisco, be performed by the Registrar of Voters for said city and county.

SEC. 7. Every citizen of the United States, entitled by law to vote for members of the Assembly in this State, shall be entitled to vote for the adoption or rejection of this Constitution.

SEC. 8. The officers of the several counties of this State, whose duty it is, under the law, to receive and canvass the returns from the several precincts of their respective counties, as well as of the City and County of San Francisco, shall meet at the usual places of meeting for such purposes on the first Monday after said election. If, at the time of meeting, the returns from each precinct in the county in which the polls were opened have been received, the board must then and there proceed to canvass the returns; but if all the returns have not been received, the canvass must be postponed from time to time until all the returns are received, or until the second Monday after said election, when they shall proceed to make out returns of the votes cast for and against the new Constitution; and the proceedings of said board shall be the same as those prescribed for like boards in the case of an election for Governor. Upon the completion of said canvass and returns, the said boards shall immediately certify the same, in the usual form, to the Governor of the State of California.

SEC. 9. The Governor of the State of California shall, as soon as the returns of said election shall be received by him, or within thirty days after said election, in the presence and with the assistance of the Controller, Treasurer, and Secretary of State, open and compute all the returns received of votes cast for and against the new Constitution. If, by such examination and computation, it is ascertained that a majority of the whole number of votes cast at such election is in favor of such new Constitution, the Executive of this State shall, by his proclamation, declare such new Constitution to be the Constitution of the State of California, and that it shall take effect and be in force on the days hereinafter specified.

SEC. 10. In order that future elections in this State shall conform to the requirements of this Constitution, the terms of all officers elected at the first election under the same shall be, respectively, one year shorter than the terms as fixed by law or by this Constitution; and the successors of all such officers shall be elected at the last election before the expiration of the terms as in this section provided. The first officers chosen after the adoption of this Constitution shall be elected at the time and in the manner now provided by law. Judicial officers and the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be elected at the time and in the manner that State officers are elected.

SEC. 11. All laws relative to the present judicial system of the State shall be applicable to the judicial system created by this Constitution until changed by legislation.

SEC. 12. This Constitution shall take effect and be in force on and after the fourth day of July, eighteen hundred and seventy-nine, at twelve o'clock meridian, so far as the same relates to the election of all officers, the commencement of their terms of office, and the meeting of the Legislature. In all other respects, and for all other purposes, this Constitution shall take effect on the first day of January, eighteen hundred and eighty, at twelve o'clock meridian.

J. P. HOGUE, President.

STATUTES OF CALIFORNIA

PASSED AT

THE THIRTY-NINTH SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE.

CHAPTER 1.

An act to make an appropriation for the contingent expenses of the senate for the session of the thirty-ninth legislature of the State of California during the sixty-second fiscal year.

[Approved January 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of five thousand dollars for the contingent expenses of the senate for the session of the thirty-ninth legislature of the State of California, during the sixty-second fiscal year.

Appropriation.

Contingent expenses of senate.

SEC. 2. This act to take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 2.

An act making an appropriation for an additional stenographer for the governor's office during and following the present session of the legislature.

[Approved January 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to pay the salary of an additional stenographer for the governor's office to be appointed by him to serve during and following the present session of the legislature.

Appropriation.

Stenographer for governor's office.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant for the sum herein made payable, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 3.

An act making an appropriation for the expenses of the state board of equalization.

[Approved January 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation.

Expenses of board of equalization.

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of thirty thousand ($30,000) dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of senate constitutional amendment number one, ratified by the people at the general election held in the State of California on the eighth day of November, nineteen hundred and ten; said amount to be used by the state board of equalization in the employment of assistants, for the purchase of the necessary desks, furniture, stationery and books, and for postage, and for the necessary printing, binding, ruling, and materials furnished by the state printing office, and for all other necessary incidental expenses for the object above specified. The controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant for any claim against said amount, the same having been approved by the board of examiners, and the treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 4.

An act making an appropriation to pay for furnishing, cleaning, repairing, renovating, and improving the governor's residence.

[Approved January 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation.

Repairing governor's residence.

SECTION 1. The sum of ten thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to pay for furnishing, repairing, cleaning, renovating, and improving the governor's residence. The controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the board of capitol commissioners for the amount above appropriated, and the treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 5.

An act appropriating and transferring money from the general fund to the state printing fund, to defray the expenses of legislative printing for the thirty-ninth session of the legislature and directing the state controller and state treasurer to make such transfer.

[Approved January 30, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated and ordered transferred from the general fund to the state printing fund, to defray the printing expenses of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature.

Appropriation.

be attested by a different person who is auditor at the time of delivery of such bonds.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 7.

An act to amend section three hundred and thirty-seven a of the Penal Code relating to gaming and gambling by pool-selling, bookmaking, bets and wagers, and providing the punishment for the violation thereof.

[Approved January 31, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred and thirty-seven a of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

337a. Every person,

Pool-selling, bookmaking, bets and wagers.

1. Who engages in pool-selling or bookmaking, with or without writing, at any time or place; or

2. Who, whether for gain, hire, reward, or gratuitously, or otherwise, keeps or occupies, for any period of time whatsoever, any room, shed, tenement, tent, booth, building, float, vessel, place, stand or enclosure, of any kind, or any part thereof, with a book or books, paper or papers, apparatus, device or paraphernalia, for the purpose of recording or registering any bet or bets, or any purported bet or bets, or wager or wagers, or any purported wager or wagers, or of selling pools, or purported pools, upon the result, or purported result, of any trial, or purported trial, or contest, or purported contest, of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast, or between men, beasts, or mechanical apparatus, or upon the result, or purported result, of any lot, chance, casualty, unknown or contingent event whatsoever; or

3. Who, whether for gain, hire, reward, or gratuitously, or otherwise, receives, holds, or forwards, or purports or pretends to receive, hold, or forward, in any manner whatsoever, any money, thing or consideration of value, or the equivalent or memorandum thereof, staked, pledged, bet or wagered, or to be staked, pledged, bet or wagered, or offered for the purpose of being staked, pledged, bet or wagered, upon the result, or purported result, of any trial, or purported trial, or contest, or purported contest, of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast, or between men, beasts, or mechanical apparatus, or upon the result, or purported result, of any lot, chance, casualty, unknown or contingent event whatsoever; or

4. Who, whether for gain, hire, reward, or gratuitously, or otherwise, at any time or place, records, or registers any bet or bets, wager or wagers, upon the result, or purported result, of any trial, or purported trial, or contest, or purported contest, of skill, speed or power of endurance of man or beast, or between men, beasts, or mechanical apparatus, or upon the result, or purported result, of any lot, chance, casualty, unknown or contingent event whatsoever; or and compensations of such officers and providing for the creation, division and management of reclamation, swamp land, levee, drainage and protection districts within said Sacramento drainage district, and providing for levying and collecting assessments upon the lands within said drainage district,"—approved March 20, 1905, as amended March 20, 1907, and March 23, 1907,—is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 9.

An act to select and adopt the bear flag as the state flag of California.

[Approved February 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Bear flag as state flag.

SECTION 1. The bear flag is hereby selected and adopted as the state flag of California.

SEC. 2. The said bear flag shall consist of a flag of a length equal to one and one half the width thereof; the upper five sixths of the width thereof to be a white field, and the lower sixth of the width thereof to be a red stripe; there shall appear in the white field in the upper left hand corner a single red star, and at the bottom of the white field the words "California Republic," and in the center of the white field a California grizzly bear upon a grass plat, in the position of walking towards the left of the said field; said bear shall be dark brown in color, and in length equal to one third of the length of said flag.

SEC. 3. This act shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 10.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records," approved June 16th, 1906, so as to provide that actions authorized thereby may be commenced on or before the 31st day of December, 1912, but not thereafter.

[Approved February 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Quieting of title.

SECTION 1. Section eighteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the establishment and quieting of title to real property in case of the loss or destruction of public records," approved June 16th, 1906, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 18. Actions authorized hereby may be commenced on or before the 31st day of December, 1912, but not thereafter. Time limit.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 11.

An act to amend an act entitled, "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, by amending section 120 of said act in relation to the office and term of office of the superintendent of banks.

[Approved February 6, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 120 of an act entitled, "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," known as the "Bank Act," approved March 1, 1909, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 120. There is hereby created a state banking department. The chief officer of such department shall be the superintendent thereof, and be known as the superintendent of banks. He shall be appointed by the governor, and shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall not, either directly or indirectly, be interested in any commercial bank, savings bank or trust company, or as an individual banker. He shall receive an annual salary of ten thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury on a warrant of the controller. He shall, within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the secretary of state, and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars, with corporate surety or two or more sureties to be approved by the governor of the state, conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

SEC. 2. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 12.

An act providing for the management of the California Redwood Park and creating a board of five commissioners with power to manage said California Redwood Park.

[Approved February 6, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Redwood
mission.

SECTION 1. The governor of the state of California shall appoint four commissioners, who with himself, shall constitute the California Redwood Park commission. The term of office of the members of said commission shall be four years from and after the date of their appointment. The commission shall select from its members a president and secretary. The members of the commission shall serve without compensation. They shall be allowed and paid out of the funds available therefor, all reasonable traveling expenses which may be incurred by the members of said commission in the performance of their various duties.

Powers.

SEC. 2. The said California Redwood Park commission shall have full power and control over the said park and over any and all funds provided for the care, preservation, maintenance, and improvement of the same and shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for the care, preservation, maintenance and improvement of the same, and shall have power to employ a warden and necessary assistants for the preservation of said park and for any and all purposes herein specified. The compensation of such warden and his assistants shall be fixed by the said commission. The compensation of the warden, however, shall not exceed the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Warden.

SEC. 3. All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 13.

An act to amend the Penal Code by amending section 626n thereof relating to the use of animals as blinds.

[Approved February 6, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 626n of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Animals
as blinds.

626n. Every person who, at any time, shall use any animal as a blind, or use such animal for the purpose of approaching any wild duck, curlew, ibis, plover or other waterfowl or shore-birds, except geese, for the purpose of shooting at, or killing any such waterfowl, or shore-birds, except geese, or who, at any time takes, kills, or has in his possession any such waterfowl or shore-birds, except geese taken by any such method, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the use of dogs in hunting or approaching such birds. Penalty.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 14.

An act in relation to pandering; to define and prohibit the same, to provide for punishment thereof; for the competency of certain evidence at the trial therefor.

[Approved February 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any such female person referred to in the foregoing section shall be a competent witness in any prosecution under this act to testify for or against the accused as to any transaction or as to any conversation with the accused or by him with another person or persons in her presence, notwithstanding her having married the accused before or after the violation of any of the provisions of this act, whether called as a witness during the existence of the marriage or after its dissolution.

CHAPTER 16.

An act to repeal section four thousand and fifty-six of the Political Code of California, relating to the duty of boards of supervisors to furnish statistical reports.

[Approved February 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand and fifty-six of the Political Code of California is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 17.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," approved March 2, 1883, as amended by an act which became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 5, 1901.

[Approved February 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," "approved March 2, 1883, as amended by an act which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval, March 5, 1901," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Classification of municipal corporations.

Section 1. All municipal corporations within the state are hereby classified as follows: Those having a population of more than 400,000 shall constitute the first class; those having a population of more than 250,000 and not exceeding 400,000 shall constitute the first and one half class; those having a population of more than 100,000 and not exceeding 250,000 shall constitute the second class; those having a population of more than 23,000 and not exceeding 100,000 shall constitute the third class; those having a population of more than 20,000 and not exceeding 23,000 the fourth class; those having a population of more than 6,000 and not exceeding 20,000 the fifth class; those having a population of not exceeding 6,000 shall constitute the sixth class; provided, that nothing herein shall change the classification of existing cities organized under the municipal corporation act.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 18.

An act to amend an act entitled, "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," approved March 2, 1883.

[Approved February 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," approved March second, eighteen hundred and eighty-three, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Municipal corporations.

Population.

Section 2. For the purpose of classifying municipal corporations within the state is hereby determined to be the population of such municipal corporations as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. nineteen hundred and ten; provided, however, that whenever a new federal census is taken, the municipal corporations within the state are not, by operation of law, reclassified under such census, but shall remain in the old classification until reclassified by the legislature, unless a direct enumeration of the inhabitants thereof be made, as in section 3 of this act provided.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 19.

An act to amend section four thousand fourteen of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to township officers.

[Approved February 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four thousand and fourteen of the Political Code of the State of California, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Township
officers.

4014. The officers of a township are, two justices of the peace, two constables, and such subordinate officers as are provided by law. In townships containing cities, or parts of cities, of the second, third, fourth, or fifth class, in which city justices or recorders are elected or appointed, there shall be but one justice of the peace, and in townships having a population of less than seven thousand seven hundred fifty, there shall be but one justice of the peace and one constable; provided, how- ever, that in townships containing cities of the first and one half class there shall be four justices of the peace and four constables. For the purpose of this section, the population of townships in the State of California is hereby determined to be the population of such townships as shown by the federal census taken in the year A. D. nineteen hundred and ten, or by a subsequent census taken as in section 4055 of this code provided.

Provided, however, that appointments to fill any additional offices created by this section shall not be made by the board of supervisors except upon the presentation of a petition therefor to said board, signed by not less than forty per cent of the qualified electors residents of such townships, whose names appear upon the great register of the county at the last general election.

Additional
offices.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 20.

An act to provide for the organization of the railroad commission, to define its powers and duties and the powers and duties of railroad and other transportation companies, their officers, agents and employees, and the rights, duties and remedies of shippers and to define offenses by shippers and railroad and other transportation companies, their officers, agents and employees and other persons, and providing penalties for such offenses, and making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act, and also repealing an act entitled "An act providing for the organization of the railroad commission of the State of California, defining its powers and duties and the powers and duties of transportation companies, their officers and employees, and defining offenses by transportation companies, their officers, employees and other persons, and providing penalties therefor; and repealing an act entitled 'An act to create the office of commissioner of transportation, and to define its powers and duties; to fix the maximum charges for transporting passengers and freight on certain railroads, and to prevent extortion and unjust discrimination therein,' approved April 1, 1878, and also repealing an act entitled 'An act to organize and define the powers of the board of railroad commissioners,' approved April 15th, 1880," approved March 20, 1909; also repealing an act entitled "An act requiring persons, corporations, receivers or trustees operating lines of railway to furnish cars for shipment of freight upon written application from shippers of freight and providing a penalty and damages to be paid by such persons, corporations, receivers or trustees to shippers for failure to do so and providing a penalty and damages to be paid to persons, corporations, receivers or trustees operating such railway lines by the applicant or shipper for failure to load or unload cars so furnished," approved April 20, 1909; also repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

[Approved February 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Constitution of commission and provision for attorney.

SECTION 1. The three persons elected railroad commissioners pursuant to the provisions of section 22 of article XII of the constitution of this state, constitute and shall be known and designated as the railroad commission of the State of California. They shall have power to elect one of their number president of the commission, and to appoint a secretary and an assistant secretary, and to employ a stenographer, and a rate expert, and such other assistants as shall be necessary to the performance of their duties. They shall also have power to employ an attorney at an annual salary not exceeding five thousand dollars, and it shall be the duty of said attorney to appear for the commission in any and all suits and proceedings which he shall be requested by the commission to institute and prosecute, and in all suits and proceedings to which the commission is a party, and to perform such other duties as the commission shall require.

Salaries and expenses.

SEC. 2. The salary of each commissioner shall be six thousand dollars per annum. The salary of the secretary shall be three thousand six hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the assistant secretary shall be eighteen hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the stenographer shall be twelve hundred dollars per annum. The salary of the rate expert shall be three thousand dollars per annum. The secretary, assistant secretary, stenographer and rate expert shall be civil executive officers and their salaries shall be paid in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. The compensation of all employees of the commission shall be fixed by the commission and shall be paid monthly from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of examiners. All expenses incurred by the commission pursuant to the provisions of this act including the necessary traveling expenses of the commission, the officers of the commission and their employees incurred while on business of the commission after being approved by the commission shall be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission upon claims to be audited by the board of examiners. From the funds appropriated for the use of the commission, the commission may expend two hundred dollars per month for office rent, and two hundred dollars per month for fuel, lights, postage, expressage, subscriptions to publications and other incidental expenses.

SEC. 3. The commissioners and the persons in their official employment, shall, when in the performance of their official duties, have the right to pass, free of charge, on all railroads, steamers, ships, vessels and boats, and on all vehicles employed on or by any railroad or other transportation company engaged in the transportation of freight or passengers within this state. The commission may issue to each commissioner, and to each officer and employee of the commission, a certificate setting forth the official capacity of the bearer; said certificate shall be signed by the president of the commission, and attested by the secretary thereof, under the seal of the commission. On the presentation of said certificate, said commissioner or officer or employee shall have the right to pass, free of charge, on any train, steamer, ship, vessel or boat, and on all vehicles employed on or by any railroad or other transportation company engaged in the transportation of freight or passengers between points within this state, and the bearer of said certificate shall not be denied the right to travel upon any train or vehicle employed on or by any railroad or other transportation company engaged in the transportation of freight or passengers between points within this state, on the presentation of such certificate, whether such vehicle or train be used for the transportation of freight or passengers, and regardless of the class of said vehicle or train.

Free transportation for commission and employees.

SEC. 4. The office of the commission shall be in the city and county of San Francisco. Said office shall always be open, legal holidays and non-judicial days excepted. The commission shall hold its sessions at least once a month in said city and county of San Francisco, and at such other times and other places within this state as may be expedient and necessary for the proper performance of its duties. For the purpose of holding sessions in places other than the city and county of San Francisco, the commission shall have power to rent quarters or offices, and the expenses of said quarters or offices shall be paid as other incidental expenses of said commission. The sessions of the commission shall be public.

Location of office and meetings.

SEC. 5. The commission shall have a seal which shall have the following inscription surrounding it: railroad commission State of California. The seal shall be affixed to all writs and authentications of copies of records, and to such other instruments as the commission shall determine. All courts shall take judicial notice of such seal.

Seal.

SEC. 6. The process issued by the commission shall extend to all parts of the state. The commission shall have power to issue writs of summons, subpoenas, warrants of attachment, warrants of commitment and all necessary process in proceedings for contempt, in the like manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The summons shall direct the defendant or respondent to appear and answer within fifteen days from the day of service. All process issued by the commission may be served in any county in this state by any person authorized to serve process of courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the commission.

Duties of secretary.

SEC. 7. The secretary of the commission shall issue all process, writs, warrants and notices required to be issued, and do and perform such other duties as the commission may prescribe. The assistant secretary shall have all the power conferred by law upon peace officers to carry weapons, make arrests and serve warrants and other process in any county or city and county of the state.

Complaints, orders, record of proceedings.

SEC. 8. All complaints before the commission shall be in writing, and if the commission shall so direct, under oath. All orders and decisions shall be in writing, and the grounds of the decisions shall be stated. A record of the proceedings of the commission shall be kept, and the evidence of persons appearing before it or before any member thereof shall be preserved; and for the purpose of reporting and transcribing the proceedings the commission shall have power to employ and fix the compensation of the necessary stenographic reporters, and the payment for their services shall be paid as other contingent expenses of the commission. The orders and decisions of the commission shall be published annually.

Definitions.

Common carriers.

SEC. 9. All railroad and other transportation companies, owned or operated by any individual, company, corporation, lessee, trustee, receiver, partnership or association are hereby declared to be common carriers, and under the jurisdiction, supervision and control of the commission and subject to the provisions of this act.

"Railroads and railroad companies."

SEC. 10. The terms "railroad" and "railroad company," as used in this act, shall be deemed and held to mean and include all commercial and interurban railroads, and shall include all bridges, ferries, switches, spurs, tracks, terminal facilities of every kind, freight and passenger depots, yards and grounds owned, leased or used by such railroads or any of them.

"Company," etc.

SEC. 11. The term "company," as used in this act, shall be deemed to mean and include corporations, associations, partnerships, trustees, receivers, lessees, agents, assignees, and individuals. Whenever any railroad company operates, in connection with its road and for the purpose of transporting its cars, freight or passengers any steamer or other water craft, such steamer, or other water craft, shall be deemed part of its road. Whenever any steamship or steamboat company operates any barge, canal boat, steamer, tug, ferry boat, or lighter in connection with its ships, all such instrumentalities shall be deemed to be a part of its line.

"Transportation."

SEC. 12. The term "transportation," as used in this act, shall be deemed to mean and include all cars and other vehicles, and all instrumentalities and facilities of shipment or carriage operated by railroad and other transportation companies, irrespective of ownership or any contract, express or implied, for the use thereof, and all services in connection with the receipt, delivery, transfer in transit, switching, carrying, transporting, elevation, ventilation, refrigeration or icing, dunnage, storage, and handling of freight and transportation or accommodation of passengers. The term "freight" as used in this act shall be deemed to mean and include every animate and inanimate thing and substance of whatsoever nature, except persons, capable of being transported by any railroad or other transportation company.

SEC. 13. The term "transportation company," as used in this act, shall be deemed and held to mean and include all railroad, express, despatch, sleeping car, dining car, and drawing room car companies, all refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit and all car loaning, car renting, car loading and all car companies, and all companies operating vessels engaged in the transportation of freight or passengers upon the water between points within this state.

SEC. 14. The term "rate" or "rates" or "rates of charges" as used in this act shall be deemed and held to mean and include all fares for transportation of passengers; all rates and charges for transportation, for demurrage, for dunnage, for receiving, storing, handling, delivering and switching freight and all classifications, and all charges to and demands upon the public of every kind and character direct or indirect that are demanded or made for any service whatsoever connected with or incidental to the transportation of freight or passengers, rendered or to be rendered, by any railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act, including any and all rules or regulations which in anywise change, affect or determine any part or the aggregate of any rates, fares or charges, or the value or cost of the service rendered to the passenger, shipper or consignee.

SEC. 15. The commission shall have the power and it shall be its duty to establish rates of charges, including joint rates over through routes, for the transportation of freight and passengers by all railroad or other transportation companies subject to the provisions of this act. Likewise to prescribe and establish classifications of freight.

The commission shall also have the power to prescribe and establish, or modify or abrogate, from time to time, rules and regulations affecting the public of all such railroad and other transportation companies, for demurrage, dunnage and for receiving, storing, carrying, handling, delivering, switching, time of transit of freight and time of transit of passengers and affecting directly or indirectly the rendition to the public of any service connected with or incidental to the transportation of freight and passengers; likewise to prescribe from time to time forms of bills of lading, the same, however, to be as nearly as practicable in the form of bills of lading approved by the interstate commerce commission of the United States; to establish through routes over connecting lines of such railroad or other transportation companies and the terms and conditions under which such through routes shall be operated and, in case the companies do not agree upon the divisions between them of the joint rates established by the commission over such through routes, to establish such divisions; provided, however, that where any railroad or other transportation company is made a party to a through route with another company, and such railroad or other transportation company has itself over its own line an equally satisfactory through route between the termini of the through route established, such railroad or other transportation company shall have the right to require as its division of the joint rate its local rate over the portion of its line comprised in such through route.

To require switch connections.

The commission shall likewise have the power to require any railroad company to construct, maintain and operate, upon reasonable terms which the commission shall have the power to fix, a switch connection or switch connections with the railroad of any other company or with any private sidetrack or spur of any shipper which may be constructed to connect with its railroad, where, in the opinion of the commission, such connection is reasonably practicable and can be put in with safety and will furnish sufficient business to justify the construction and maintenance of the same, and to furnish cars for the movement of such traffic to the best of its ability, without discrimination in favor of or against any shipper. The commission shall have the power to make rules, regulations and orders to prevent discrimination in the construction, operation or maintenance of industrial tracks.

crossings.

The commission shall likewise have the exclusive power to determine and prescribe the manner, including the particular point of crossing of any crossing of a railroad or other transportation line by another such line, and also the terms of the installation, maintenance, use and protection of such crossing, and to require at any crossing of one railroad by another, where the same is practicable, a separation of their grades and to prescribe the terms upon which such separation shall be made and to prescribe, abolish or change any crossing of a railroad by a public road or highway, and to fix the terms of the construction, maintenance, use and protection of such crossing, and to require that such crossing be either at grade, or above or beneath the tracks of the railroad, and the proportions in which the expense of installing and maintaining such crossing shall be divided between the railroad company and the county or other public authority in charge of the public highway.

Inter-switching.

The commission shall likewise have the power to require one railroad company to switch to the industrial and team tracks upon its own line the cars of a connecting railroad and to prescribe the terms and compensation for such service.

Demurrage.

The commission shall have the power under such uniform rules as it may make, to prescribe the amount of demurrage which shall be paid by any railroad or other transportation company for the failure on the part of any such company to furnish cars in accordance with such rules, and likewise the amount which any shipper or consignee shall pay to any such company for failure to load or unload cars ordered by, or delivered to, such shipper or consignee under such rules. Such charges shall be uniform, the commission being required to prescribe the same penalties for both shipper or consignee and company for an equal number of cars for each day for which such demurrage is charged. Any such penalty may be recovered by action therefor as provided in section twenty-eight of this act.

SEC. 16. All rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight, established by the commission, shall be made of record at its main office in the city and county of San Francisco, and said record and certified copies thereof shall be admissible in evidence in all courts and proceedings, and the validity thereof, and any facts found by the commission shall be conclusive in all courts and proceedings: provided, however, that except in those cases where the commission adopts and establishes as the legal rates of charges, the rates of charges filed with it by a railroad or other transportation company as hereinafter provided, no rates of charges for the transportation of freight or passengers shall be established by the commission, until the commission shall have given the railroad or other transportation company to be affected by said rates, a reasonable opportunity to be heard upon notice of not less than twenty days of said proposed action on the part of the commission. If said railroad or other transportation company shall not, within the time specified, avail itself of the opportunity afforded it to be heard, the rates of charges fixed by the commission shall be deemed conclusively just and reasonable; or if said railroad or other transportation company shall desire to be heard, it shall be given reasonable opportunity for such hearing, and the commission shall consider the showing made at such hearing, together with any other evidence which may be presented to it, or which the commission may secure on its own initiative, and after consideration of said evidence, the commission shall make its findings, and said rates of charges established pursuant to said proceedings by the commission shall be deemed conclusively just and reasonable and the commission shall cause said rates of charges so established to be published as herein provided.

Rates not to be established except as filed unless after hearing.

SEC. 17. Within sixty days after this act goes into effect, unless additional time be allowed by the commission after good cause shown, each of the railroad and other transportation companies subject hereto shall file in triplicate with the commission full and complete schedules or tariffs of all of its rates of charges for the transportation of freight and passengers, including freight classifications, as defined in section fourteen hereof which are in force and effect at the time this act goes into effect, together with any changes thereof, distinctly stated, which such railroad or other transportation company may desire to propose.

Rates, rules and classifications to be filed within sixty days.

Each of such railroad or other transportation companies shall also file within the same time with the commission copies of all of its rules and regulations in force affecting the public and the rendition to the public of the service of transporting freight or passengers or of any service connected therewith or incidental thereto, and shall likewise file with the commission copies of any such rules and regulations thereafter made, at least ten days before it is proposed to make the same effective, unless a shorter time be allowed by the commission.

Also copies of rules.

Joint agreement.

The railroad or other transportation companies who are parties to any agreement concerning joint freight or passenger rates and the divisions of the same in effect at the time this act goes into effect shall likewise within the same time file a copy of such agreement with the commission, and shall likewise file with the commission a copy of any such agreement thereafter made, within thirty days after the execution of the same.

The same rates or others to be established within sixty days by commission.

It is hereby made the duty of the commission within a reasonable time, not exceeding sixty days after the filing of the schedules or tariffs and classifications and proposed changes therein of any such railroad or other transportation company, to establish such of the rates and classifications included therein, as it may approve and as to those not so established to proceed with the establishment of others in lieu thereof after notice and opportunity for hearing given such company as provided in section sixteen of this act; provided, however, that until the establishment of such rates and classifications or the establishment of other in lieu thereof the said railroad or other transportation company filing such schedules or tariffs and classifications, and parties thereto, shall charge and collect the rates and fares in effect at the time of the passage of this act, and that with said exception no railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act shall engage or participate in the transportation of freight or passengers except at rates of charges and classifications which have been established for it by the commission.

The names of the several railroad or other transportation companies which are parties to any joint rate shall be specified in the schedule or tariff setting forth the same filed with the commission as hereinbefore provided, and each of the parties to such joint rate other than the one filing the schedule or tariff setting forth the same shall file with the commission such evidence of concurrence therein or acceptance thereof as may be required or approved by the commission, and where such evidence of concurrence or acceptance is so filed, need not itself file with the commission a schedule or tariff setting forth such joint rate.

Notice of action by commission and time of effect.

The commission, as soon as any rate or rates, classification or classifications are established, shall give notice thereof to each of the railroad or other transportation companies affected thereby in such manner as may be prescribed by the commission, and such rate or rates, classification or classifications shall take effect at a date which shall be fixed by the commission, but in no case less than thirty days after the order of the commission establishing the same is made, unless with the consent of the railroad or other transportation companies affected thereby a less time be fixed. Each of said companies shall immediately upon receiving notice of such establishment of a rate or rates, classification or classifications cause the same to be printed and posted in accordance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the commission.

Any railroad or other transportation company about to begin the operation of a new line after this act goes into effect shall, prior to the commencement of the commercial operation thereof, file in triplicate with the commission its proposed schedules or tariffs of all of its rates of charges, including freight classifications, over such line, and thereupon the commission shall proceed to establish such rates and classifications or others in lieu thereof in the manner hereinbefore provided. New lines.

SEC. 18. All rates of charges for the transportation of passengers and freight and all classifications established by the commission shall remain in effect until changed by the commission. Between the first and tenth days of July, 1912, and annually between the first and tenth days of July thereafter each railroad and other transportation company, subject to the provisions of this act, shall have the right to file with the commission proposed changes in its rates for the transportation of freight and passengers or in its classifications, and it is hereby made the duty of the commission within a reasonable time, not exceeding sixty days after the filing of said proposed changes, to establish such of the rates or classifications included therein as it may approve, and as to those not so established to proceed to the establishment of others in lieu thereof after notice given to such railroad or other transportation company as provided in section sixteen of this act; provided, however, that as to any change so proposed, of a rate or rates, classification or classifications which shall have been established by the commission within less than six months before the time of filing such proposed change, the commission shall have the authority either to establish such proposed rate or rates, classification or classifications, wholly or in part, or to reject the same without hearing. Annual revision may be proposed: action thereon.

Any complaint filed by any railroad or other transportation company concerning any rate or rates, classification or classifications that shall have been established within one year immediately preceding the time of the filing of said complaint or which shall not have been questioned by said railroad or other transportation company at the time of filing its proposed changes in its rates or classifications, in the preceding July may be dismissed by the commission without hearing unless there shall appear to be reasonable ground for investigating said complaint. This provision shall also apply to any person who shall have been a party either by intervention or otherwise to any hearing pursuant to which any such rate or rates, classification or classifications shall have been established. In any proceeding before the commission, any person, firm, company or corporation, or any mercantile, commercial or traffic Action in case of recent revision.

Intervention.

association or organization, or body politic may intervene with the consent of the commission.

Change in rates; notice.

The commission may at any time abolish, alter or in any manner amend any rate or classification upon notice and hearing or opportunity for hearing in the manner hereinbefore provided, and in that event each railroad or other transportation company affected thereby shall be notified thereof in such manner as shall be prescribed by the commission and thereupon the said action of the commission shall be immediately printed and posted by said company to take effect as hereinbefore provided. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the commission from at any time approving and establishing any rate or rates, classification or classifications proposed by any railroad or other transportation company, and when the commission shall approve and establish any rate or rates, classification or classifications so proposed, the same shall be subject to change, amendment or abrogation only as provided herein. A substantial compliance by the commission with the requirements of this act shall be sufficient to give effect to all the classifications, rates, charges, rules, regulations, requirements and orders made, approved and established by the commission and none of them shall be declared inoperative because of any omission of a technical or clerical character in the establishment, record or publication of the same.

One commissioner may act as referee.

SEC. 19. In order to assist the commission in the performance of its duties, it may delegate to any one of the commissioners the duty of taking testimony in any proceeding, and such testimony may be taken down in shorthand, and reduced to writing or typewriting, and said commissioner so delegated shall make his report to the commission, and the commission shall consider the same in arriving at its decision, but in every event, it shall be necessary that a majority of the commissioners concur in any finding of the commission. For the purpose of said hearing before such commissioner so delegated, the commission may exercise its power to send for any books or records necessary for said hearing, and may issue subpoenas and all necessary process. Said commissioner so delegated is hereby given power to administer oaths to witnesses that may appear before him.

Physical valuation.

SEC. 20. The commission shall have power to ascertain as nearly as practicable, the actual value of all the property, real and personal, of every kind and character of every railroad or other transportation company in this state, and the actual value of the property used by said railroad or other transportation company for the convenience of the public in carrying on its business as a railroad or other transportation company, and also the amounts paid for salaries of officers and the wages paid employees and all expenses of operation and cost of maintenance. It shall also have power to ascertain the amount and market value of the capital stock and bonded indebtedness of every railroad and other transportation company operating a line within this state, and also the relative value of the use to which each railroad or other transportation company operating in this state, is actually put, in the carrying of intrastate and interstate business respectively. It shall also have power to ascertain the relative proportion of the operating and maintenance expenses connected therewith, and the relative proportion of the revenue derived therefrom. The commission shall also have power to ascertain such further facts as in its judgment may assist the commission in arriving at the actual value of the property used by such railroad or other transportation company in carrying on its business.

For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section, the commission may if it so desires cause a hearing or hearings to be held at such time or times and place or places as the commission may designate. Before proceeding to any such hearing, the commission shall give the railroad or other transportation company affected thereby at least thirty days written notice, specifying the time and place of such hearing, and this shall be sufficient to authorize the commission to inquire into the matters designated in this section as to any such railroad or other transportation company so notified and also to adjourn such hearings from time to time. The commission is also empowered to resort to any other source of information available in carrying out the provisions of this section.

Hearings therefor.

In all cases where a hearing has been held, the commission shall make and render findings of fact in writing, covering all matters in this section mentioned concerning which it is empowered to inquire, and such findings when so made, shall be deemed conclusively just and reasonable, and shall be admissible in evidence in any proceedings or hearing in which the public and the railroad or other transportation company or companies affected thereby are interested and such findings when so introduced shall be conclusive evidence of the facts stated therein.

Findings.

The commission may from time to time cause further hearings and investigations to be had for the purpose of ascertaining the value of any betterments, improvements, additions and extensions made by any such railroad or other transportation company or companies since the date of any prior hearing or investigation and examine into all matters, which would change, modify or affect any finding of fact previously made and shall at such time make findings of fact supplementary to those theretofore made. Such hearing shall be had upon the same notice and conducted in the same manner, and the findings so made shall have the same force and effect as is provided herein for such original notice, hearing and findings.

Supplemental hearings.

SEC. 21. The commissioners, or either of them, or such persons as they may employ therefor, shall have the right at such time as the commission deems necessary, to inspect the books, records and papers of any railroad or other transportation company, and either of the commissioners and each of the officers of the commission shall have power to examine under oath any officer, agent, or employee of such railroad or other transportation company in relation to the business and affairs of the same; provided, that any person other than one of the commissioners who shall make any such demands, shall produce under the hand and seal of the commission his authority to make such inspection. If any railroad or other transportation company, or any officer or agent of said railroad or other transportation company, having the custody of the same, shall refuse to permit the commissioners, or either of them, or any person authorized thereto, to examine its books and papers, said railroad or other transportation company, and said officer or agent, shall be in contempt of the commission and shall be punishable in the same manner and to the same extent as contempts are punishable by courts of record, and each day said railroad or other transportation company, or said officer or agent thereof, shall continue so to fail or refuse, shall be and constitute a separate contempt.

Executive functions.

SEC. 22. It is hereby made the duty of the commission to see that the provisions of this act, and all laws of this state concerning railroad and other transportation companies, are enforced and obeyed, and that violations thereof are promptly prosecuted, and penalties due the state therefor, recovered and collected, and to this end, it may sue in its own name to correct any abuses or collect any penalties due the State of California.

Accidents.

The commission shall investigate the cause of all accidents on any railroad within this state which result in loss of life or injury to persons or property, and which in its judgment shall require investigation. Every railroad and other transportation company is hereby required to give immediate notice to the commission of every accident happening upon any line owned, operated, controlled or leased by it in such manner as the commission may direct.

Commission to hear complaints, correct abuses, prevent discrimination.

The commission is further empowered to hear and determine complaints against railroads and other transportation companies, and to correct abuses, through the medium of the courts, suing in its own name, and it is further empowered to prevent discrimination in charges, or facilities for transportation by any railroad or other transportation company, between places or persons, or in the facilities for the transportation of the same class of freight or passengers within this state, or coming from, or going to, any other state. If any railroad or other transportation company subject hereto, shall directly or indirectly, by any special rate, rebate, drawback, or other practice, method or device, charge, demand, collect or receive from any person, company, firm or corporation, a greater, less or different compensation for any service rendered or to be rendered by it in the transportation of passengers or freight, than it charges, demands, collects or receives from any other person, company, firm, or corporation, for doing a like service in the transportation of a like kind of traffic, such railroad or other transportation company shall be deemed guilty of discrimination, and it shall also be discrimination for any such railroad or other transportation company to make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, or to any particular description of traffic in any respect whatsoever, or to subject any particular description of traffic of any particular person, company, firm, corporation or locality, to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage in any respect whatsoever, and it shall also be discrimination for any railroad or other transportation company, or any officer or agent of any railroad or other transportation company to charge, collect, demand, or receive from any person, firm or corporation, a greater, less or different rate, charge or compensation than the rate, charge, or compensation established as in this act provided, and in so far as such discrimination shall be in violation of any order or orders of the commission, it shall be a contempt of said commission, and any railroad or other transportation company or officer or agent thereof practicing or permitting such discrimination, shall be punishable by the commission for such contempt in the same manner and to the same extent as contempts are punishable by courts of record, and such railroad or other transportation company practicing such discrimination, shall also be punishable by a fine not exceeding five thousand dollars for each offense, and every officer, agent or employee of such railroad or other transportation company practicing or permitting such discrimination shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

therefor.

SEC. 23. The commission shall have the power and it shall be its duty to prescribe a uniform system of accounts to be kept by all railroad and other transportation companies subject to the provisions of this act, which system the commission shall have the power by order to change from time to time, and which shall conform as nearly as practicable to the system of accounts prescribed by the interstate commerce commission of the United States. The commission shall cause to be prepared suitable blanks with questions calculated to elicit such information concerning railroad and other transportation companies as it may require in the performance of its duties under this act, and as often as may be necessary to furnish said blanks to each railroad and other transportation company. Any railroad or other transportation company receiving from the commission any such blank shall cause said blanks to be properly filled out so as to answer fully and correctly each question therein propounded, and in case it is unable to answer any question, it shall give a satisfactory reason for its failure to answer, and the said answers duly sworn to by the proper officer of said company, shall be returned to the commission at its office within ten days from the receipt thereof, unless a different time be allowed by the commission.

If any officer or employee of a railroad or other transportation company, shall fail or refuse to fill out and return any blanks as above required or fail or refuse to answer any questions therein propounded, or give a false answer to any such questions, where the fact inquired of is within his knowledge, or may be ascertained by him by reason of his position or employment, or shall evade the answer to any such question, such officer or employee shall be deemed in contempt of the commission, and shall be punished in the same manner and to the same extent as contempts are punished by courts of record.

SEC. 24. The commission may, in its discretion, prescribe the forms of accounts, records and memoranda to be kept by any railroad or other transportation company, subject to the provisions of this act, including accounts, records and memoranda of the movement of traffic as well as the receipts and expenditures of moneys. The commission shall at all times have access to all accounts, records and memoranda kept by the companies subject to this act, and the commissioners and the officers and employees of the commission shall have authority to inspect and examine any and all accounts, records and memoranda kept by such companies.

Penalties.

In case of failure or refusal on the part of any such company, receiver, or trustee to keep such accounts, records, and memoranda on the books and in the manner prescribed by the commission, or to submit such accounts, records, and memoranda as are kept to the inspection of the commission or any of its authorized agents or examiners, such company, receiver or trustee shall forfeit to the state the sum of five hundred dollars for each offense, such sum or sums to be recoverable in the same manner as other fines provided for in this act.

Any person who shall wilfully make any false entry in the accounts of any book of accounts or in any record or memoranda kept by a railroad or other transportation company, or who shall wilfully destroy, mutilate, alter, or by any other means or device falsify the record of any such account, record, or memoranda, or who shall wilfully neglect or fail to make full, true, and correct entries in such accounts, records, or memoranda of all facts and transactions appertaining to such company's business, or shall keep any other accounts, records, or memoranda than those prescribed or approved by the commission, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be subject, upon conviction, to a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than ninety days nor more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided, that the commission may in its discretion issue orders specifying such operating, accounting, or financial papers, records, books, blanks, tickets, stubs, or documents which may, after a reasonable time, be destroyed, and prescribing the length of time such books, papers, or documents shall be preserved.

Penalty
for disclosures.

Any person who divulges any fact or information which may come to his knowledge during the course of such examination, except in so far as he may be directed by the commission or by a court shall be subject, upon conviction, to a fine of not more than one thousand dollars or imprisonment in the county jail for a term not exceeding one year or both.

SEC. 25. The commission shall have power to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses by such rules as it may prescribe. Each witness who shall appear, by order of the commission, shall receive for his attendance two dollars per day and five cents per mile, traveled by the nearest practicable route, in going to and returning from the place to which he shall be subpoenaed to appear, which shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When any witness shall be subpoenaed whom the commission shall deem necessary, who has not been required to attend at the request of any party, the fees and mileage of such witness may be paid from the funds appropriated for the use of the commission as other expenses of the commission are paid. Any witness subpoenaed except those whose fees and mileage may be paid from the funds of the commission, may, at the time of service, demand the fee to which he is entitled for travel to and from the place at which he is required to appear and one day's attendance. Unless such fees are tendered, or the witness fails to demand the same at time of service, such witness shall not be required to attend before the commission as directed in the subpoena. All fees or mileage to which any witness is entitled under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such fees are payable.

In any proceeding before the commission where it is found that there is a wilful violation of any rule, regulation, order or decision of the commission, all fees for the payment of witnesses or the service of process and expense of stenographic reporters incurred by the commission or by any party in such proceeding may be assessed against the party guilty of such wilful violation and shall be collectible as herein provided. No witness furnished with free transportation shall receive mileage for the distance he may have traveled on such free transportation. In case any witness shall fail or refuse to obey such subpoena, the commission may issue an attachment for said witness, directed to any constable, sheriff or other peace officer of the State of California, and compel him to attend before the commission and give his testimony upon such matters as shall be lawfully required by it. If a witness, after being duly summoned, shall fail or refuse to attend or to answer any question propounded to him, or to produce any books or papers upon any hearing herein provided for when ordered to do so by the commission, the commission shall have the same power to fine and imprison such witness for contempt as may be exercised by courts of record. The claim that the production of any such books or the giving of any such testimony may tend to incriminate the person producing or giving the same shall not excuse such witness from producing said books or records or from testifying, but no person shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall under oath have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, however, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any manner giving to any railroad or other transportation company immunity of any kind. The sheriff, constable or other person executing any process issued under the provisions of this act, shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commission, not to exceed fees as now prescribed by law for similar services, such fees to be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the payment of fees of witnesses.

Emergency rates.

SEC. 26. When an emergency exists warranting such action the commission shall have power upon the request of any railroad or other transportation company affected or upon the request of any other person, firm or corporation interested and the concurrence of such company to establish for a definitely limited period and make immediately effective over the lines of such company rates for the transportation of freight and passengers to be known as "emergency rates." Emergency rates shall be immediately subject to revision according to the procedure in this act provided for the case where rates have been in existence more than six months. Unless so revised the formerly existing rates shall revive and be in force from and after the expiration of the period fixed for such emergency rates.

records of rates, etc.

SEC. 27. Upon application of any person, and the payment of ten cents per folio therefor, the commission shall furnish to such person a copy of any classification, rate, rule, regulation or order of the commission, and upon payment of one dollar additional shall certify thereto, and such certified copy, or printed copies published by or with the authority of the commission, shall be admissible in evidence in any suit and sufficient to establish the fact that any charge, rate, rule, order or classification therein contained, and which may be in issue in the trial, is the official act of the commission. All fees collected under this section and all penalties collected by the commission and all fines shall be paid into the general fund of the state.

Complaint
cedure.

SEC. 28. Any person, firm, company or corporation, or any mercantile, commercial or traffic association or organization, or any body politic, may complain of any charge, rate, rule, or regulation made or established by, or any order or decision of, the commission, or of anything done or omitted to be done by any railroad or other transportation company, or of any act or practice by the railroad or other transportation company by filing with the commission a complaint, setting forth the cause or causes of such complaint in concise language. Any charge, rate, rule, regulation, order or decision alleged in such complaint to be unjust, illegal, unreasonable, injurious or discriminatory as between or against places or persons, shall be a proper subject for hearing, investigation, order and decision of the commission, notwithstanding any previous act, order or decision of the commission with respect to or in connection therewith; provided, however, that the commission may at its discretion, dismiss without hearing any complaint which questions any rate, rule or regulation or decision which shall have been given, made, or established by the commission within one year from the time of the filing of said complaint. Upon such complaint being filed with the commission a copy of the same shall be served on the railroad or other transportation company concerned, and the commission shall fix a time and place when and where the said company shall answer the same. If such complaint is verified the answer shall also be verified. Thereafter the commission shall investigate and determine such complaint, under such rules and modes of procedure as it may adopt. If the commission shall find that there has been a violation of any rule, regulation, order or decision of the commission, it shall determine if the same was wilful. If it shall find that such violation was not wilful it may call upon said company to pay and satisfy the damage done to the complainant by such violation, if any such damage should appear, stating the amount of such damage, or shall decree that said company shall conform with the order, rule or regulation of the commission, as the case may be; and if the said company should comply with such order or decision of the commission within the time specified by the commission in such order or decision, judgment of satisfaction shall be thereafter entered by the commission; but if said company shall not pay said damage or conform to the rule, regulation, order or decision of the commission, within the time specified by the commission, or if the commission shall find such violation to be wilful, it shall thereupon impose a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars and shall thereupon take such further action as may be necessary to enforce its order and collect such fine. The commission may also enforce such decision or order through proceedings for contempt against any railroad or other transportation company or officer or agent thereof failing to comply with such decision or order. If any complaint filed under this section shall allege that any such charge, rate, rule, regulation, order or decision complained of is unjust, illegal, unreasonable, injurious, or discriminatory as between or against places or persons then the commission, after a hearing upon said complaint, shall have power to suspend, vacate or annul any and all former acts, orders, or decisions of the commission concerning said charge, rate, rule, regulation, order or decision so complained of, and to make, establish, and enforce such other or different charge, rate, rule, regulation or order as it shall determine to be just and proper. All damage awarded by the commission under the provisions of this section may be collected by action therefor instituted by the person to whom such damage has

- been awarded, if such damage remains unpaid after the time fixed by the commission for payment thereof. Actions or proceedings by any party to collect any award of damages, shall be instituted in the proper court in the county, or city and county, in which the violation complained of occurred or in which the plaintiff resides or in which the principal place of business of the defendant is situated. On the trial of such suit the findings or order of the commission shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. The commission when requested to do so by either party, or whenever it may deem it necessary, may employ a phonographic reporter, and require all testimony taken before it to be reduced to writing and certified under the hand and seal of said commission and such testimony so certified shall be admissible in evidence upon the trial in any court of any cause or proceeding growing out of the same act or transaction or involving the same subject-matter between the same parties. No complaint filed under this section shall at any time be dismissed because of the absence of direct damage to the plaintiff or complainant. The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to abridge or affect the right of any person, firm, company or corporation to institute in any court any character of action against any railroad or other transportation company for any wrong or damage suffered by such person, company, firm or corporation, by reason of any cause whatever, or for any remedy or penalty that may be due him, or to which he may be entitled under this act or any law whatsoever.
- SEC. 29. Whenever the commission shall believe that any rate or charge may be unreasonable or discriminatory, or that any service in connection with the transportation of persons or property is inadequate, and that investigation relating thereto should be made, it may, on its own motion, investigate the same. If after making investigation, the commission becomes satisfied that sufficient grounds exist to warrant a hearing being ordered to determine whether the rate or charge so investigated is unreasonable or discriminatory, or whether the service investigated is inadequate, it shall furnish the railroad or other transportation company interested a statement setting forth the rate or service, investigated, which said statement shall be accompanied by a notice fixing a time and place for hearing on such rate or service as the case may be, and thereafter proceedings shall be had and conducted in reference to the matter investigated in like manner as though complaint had been filed with the commission relative to the matter investigated, pursuant to the provisions of section twenty-eight of this act, and the same order or orders may be made in reference thereto as if such investigation had been made on complaint.
- Any railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act shall have a right to complain on any of the grounds upon which complaints are allowed to be filed under the provisions of section twenty-eight of this act, and the same procedure shall be adopted and followed with reference to such complaint on the part of any such railroad or other transportation company as is provided in said section in the case of complaints filed under its provisions, except that the complaint filed by any railroad or other transportation company may be heard ex parte by the commission or may be served upon any parties designated by the commission, and that any parties interested may, when allowed by the commission, intervene and be allowed to be heard upon such complaint.

The commission is hereby authorized, when public interest requires, to file petitions for investigations, or complaint or complaints with the interstate commerce commission and to file such suit or suits, in tribunals or courts of competent jurisdiction as are permitted under the provisions of an act of congress of the United States entitled "An act to regulate commerce," approved February 4, 1887, and hereinafter designated as the interstate commerce act, complaining of anything done or omitted to be done by any railroad or other transportation company or companies, subject to the provisions of the said interstate commerce act, and to prosecute the same. The commission is also hereby authorized to file petitions for investigations, or complaint or complaints, and to commence and prosecute such suit or suits, in tribunals or courts of competent jurisdiction, complaining of any railroad or other transportation company or companies raising rates or entering into contracts or combinations or conspiracies to raise or maintain rates, or taking any action that will prevent or tend to prevent competition to and from, or to or from, California points, to or from points outside of California, or is in restraint of trade; and to commence and prosecute any other actions or suits against railroad or other transportation companies under the act of congress of July 2, 1890, being the so-called Sherman anti-trust act.

Commission may appear in other forums concerning interstate commerce, etc.

The commission is hereby empowered also to coöperate with the interstate commerce commission in the investigation of the justice and reasonableness of, or discrimination in, charges or facilities for transportation of passengers or freight made by any railroad or other transportation company between places or persons of or in the facilities for the transportation of the same classes of passengers or freight within this state, or coming from or going to points without this state and to that end and for either of said purposes may arrange for and hold joint meetings with the interstate commerce commission or any section thereof.

Co-operate with Interstate Commerce Commission.

Sec. 30. The commission, or any party, may in any investigation or hearing before the commission cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state.

Sec. 31. After any order or decision has been made by the commission, any party interested therein may apply for a rehearing in respect to any matter determined therein, and the commission may grant and hold such a rehearing, if in its judgment sufficient reason therefor be made to appear; if a rehearing shall be granted the same shall be determined by the commission within thirty days after the same shall be finally submitted. An application for such rehearing, or the going into effect of this act, shall not excuse any railroad or other transportation company from complying with, or obeying, any order or decision, or requirement of any order, of the commission, theretofore made, or operate in any manner to stay or postpone the enforcement thereof, except as the commission may by order direct. If after such rehearing and a consideration of the facts, including those arising since the making of the order, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order or any part thereof is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order made after such rehearing abrogating, changing or modifying the original order or decision shall have the same force and effect as an original order or decision, but shall not affect any right or the enforcement of any right, arising from, or by virtue of, the original order or decision.

with act.

SEC. 32. If any railroad or other transportation company doing business in this state shall fail or refuse to perform any duty enjoined upon it by this act or by the constitution of this state, for which a penalty has not been provided by law, or shall fail, neglect, or refuse to obey any requirement, order, judgment or decree made by the commission, for every such failure, neglect or refusal it shall pay to the State of California a penalty of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than two thousand dollars. The commission, in addition to any and all powers conferred upon it by this or any other act or by the constitution of this state, shall have the power to enforce any order or to enforce the performance of any duty enjoined upon any railroad or other transportation company, or officer or agent thereof, by proceedings for mandamus or injunction in any court of competent jurisdiction against any such railroad or other transportation company or officer or agent thereof. This method of enforcing orders or the performance of duties is cumulative of and in addition to any other method provided in this or any other act or in the constitution of this state.

decisions.

SEC. 33. The commission shall notify each railroad and other transportation company affected by any order or decision made by it in such manner as it shall prescribe.

Duration.

All orders and decisions of the commission shall be public records and shall be filed with the secretary thereof and shall take effect at such time as shall be specified by the commission except as otherwise herein provided and shall continue in force until modified, suspended or abrogated by the commission as herein provided.

Rules for commission.

SEC. 34. The commission shall have the power to adopt rules to govern its proceedings, and to regulate the mode and manner of all investigations and hearings in the establishment of rates, rules and regulations, in the making of orders and in the doing of other acts required of it under this act; and prescribe the form of its process and all writs, warrants, notices, and necessary forms; but no informality in any proceeding before the commission or in the manner of taking testimony shall invalidate any order, rule or regulation made by it.

SEC. 35. The president and each of the commissioners, for the purposes mentioned in this act, shall have power to administer all oaths, certify to all official acts, and to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, way-bills, books, accounts, documents and testimony.

Powers of individual commissioners.

SEC. 36. Every railroad or other transportation company which shall fail or refuse, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commission, to receive and transport without delay or discrimination, the passengers, freight, and cars, loaded or empty, of any connecting line of railroad, and every railroad which shall, under such regulations as may be prescribed by the commission, fail or refuse to transport and deliver, without delay or discrimination, any passengers, freight, or cars loaded or empty, destined to any point on or over the line of any connecting line of railroad, shall be deemed guilty of discrimination and punished as herein provided for that offense; provided, perishable freight of all kinds and live stock shall have precedence of shipment.

Failure to act by common carriers.

SEC. 37. No railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act shall, directly or indirectly, issue, give or tender any free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation for freight or passengers, between points within this state except to its officers, agents, employees, surgeons, physicians, attorneys-at-law, and members of their families; to ministers of religion, inmates of hospitals and charitable and eleemosynary institutions and persons exclusively engaged in charitable and eleemosynary work, and persons and property engaged or employed in educational work when permitted by the commission; to indigent, destitute and homeless persons and to such persons when transported by charitable societies or hospitals, and the necessary agents employed in such transportation; to inmates of the national homes or state homes for disabled volunteer soldiers and of soldiers' and sailors' homes, including those about to enter and those returning home after discharge; to necessary care-takers, going and returning, of live stock, poultry, milk, fruit and other freight under uniform and non-discriminatory regulations; to employees of sleeping car companies, express companies, telegraph and telephone companies; to railway mail service employees, United States internal revenue officers, post-office inspectors, customs inspectors and immigration inspectors when traveling in the course of their official duty; to newsboys on trains, baggage agents, witnesses attending any legal investigation in which the company is interested, persons injured in accidents or wrecks and physicians and nurses attending such

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to prohibit the interchange of free or reduced-rate transportation between common carriers subject to this act or to the acts of the congress of the United States regulating interstate commerce, for their officers, agents, employees, attorneys, physicians, surgeons and members of their families; nor to prevent railroads or other transportation companies from entering into contracts with telegraph, telephone and cable companies for the exchange of services; nor to prohibit a carrier from transporting, free or at reduced rates, contractors or their employees, materials or supplies for use or engaged in the carrying out of their contracts; provided, such arrangements for free or reduced-rate carriage are made a part of the specifications upon which the contract is based or of the contract itself; nor to prohibit the carriage of passengers or property, free or at reduced rates, with the object of providing relief in cases of general epidemic, pestilence or other calamitous visitation. Nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent the issuance of mileage, excursion or commutation passenger tickets, or joint interchangeable mileage tickets with special privileges as to the amount of free baggage that may be carried under mileage tickets of one thousand miles or more; provided, that the commission may put reasonable restrictions upon the issuance and terms of such mileage, excursion and commutation passenger tickets and joint interchangeable mileage tickets;

Provided, that the term "employees" as used in this section shall include furloughed, pensioned and superannuated employees, persons who have become disabled or infirm in the service of any such company, ex-employees traveling for the purpose of entering the service of any such company, and the remains of persons dying while in the employment of any such company; and the term "families" as used in this section shall include the families of those persons heretofore named in this proviso, the families of persons killed, and the widows during widowhood and minor children during minority of persons who died while in the service of any such company:

Provided, that no free tickets, free passes or free or reduced-rate transportation shall be issued, given or tendered to any officer, agent or employee of a railroad or other transportation company, who is at the same time a shipper or receiver of freight, or an officer, agent or employee of a shipper or receiver of freight, unless such officer, agent or employee devotes substantially his entire time to the service of such railroad or other transportation company:

Provided, further, that members of the railroad commission, their appointees and employees shall be entitled, when in the performance of their official duties, to free transportation over the lines of all railroad or other transportation companies within this state.

Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to prohibit the issuance of passenger transportation in exchange for advertising space in newspapers and other publications, at full rates, to the proprietors and employes of such newspapers and other publications.

SEC. 38. Every railroad or other transportation company which shall issue, give or tender any free ticket or free pass or any free or reduced-rate transportation for freight or passengers between points within this state, except as authorized in section thirty-seven of this act, shall for each offense be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished therefor by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars. Every officer, agent or employee of any railroad or other transportation company who shall issue, tender or authorize the issue or tender of any free ticket or free pass or any free or reduced-rate transportation for freight or passengers, except as permitted by section thirty-seven of this act, and every person soliciting, accepting or using any such free ticket, free pass or free or reduced-rate transportation, except as permitted by section thirty-seven of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of not less than five hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than three months nor for more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and in so far as any of the acts prohibited in this section shall be in violation of any order, rule or regulation of the railroad commission of this state, such act shall be a contempt of the commission, and shall be punishable by the commission as elsewhere in this act provided.

Penalties for violations thereof.

SEC. 39. Every railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act shall upon demand of the commission furnish a list of all free passes and of free or reduced rates of transportation issued by such railroad or other transportation company, including the name of the person to whom issued, and the amount, if any, paid therefor, and the places from and to which the same was issued.

SEC. 40. Any officer or agent of any railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act, who, by means of false billing, false classification, false weight, or by any other device, shall suffer or permit any person or persons to obtain transportation for property at a less, different or greater rate than the established rates then in force, or who, by means of false billing, false classification, false weighing, or by any device whatever shall charge any person, firm or corporation a less, different or greater rate for the transportation of property than the established rates, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ninety days, nor more than one year.

Falsification and penalties therefor.

Any person who shall solicit or procure any officer or agent of any railroad or other transportation company subject to the provisions of this act, either by false representations or otherwise to do any of the acts which such officer or agent is forbidden by the provisions of this section from doing, shall also be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not less than one hundred dollars or more than one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ninety days or more than one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 41. Anything done or omitted to be done by any railroad or other transportation company subject to this act, which, if done or omitted to be done by any director or officer thereof, or any receiver, trustee, lessee, agent or person acting for or employed by such company, would constitute a misdemeanor under this act, shall also be held to be a misdemeanor committed by such railroad or transportation company, and upon conviction thereof it shall be subject except as to imprisonment, to like penalties as are prescribed herein with reference to such persons, except as such penalties are in this section changed. The wilful failure upon the part of any railroad or other transportation company subject to this act or officer or agent thereof to file the tariffs or rates of charges as required by this act, or strictly to observe any rate, classification, rule or regulation established by the commission until changed according to law, shall be a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof such railroad or other transportation company or such officer or agent thereof offending shall be subject to a fine of not less than five hundred dollars, nor more than two thousand dollars for each offense, and said railroad or other transportation company and any officer or agent thereof so offending shall also be punishable for contempt by said commission, as elsewhere in this act provided. And it is further provided that each day of such wilful failure upon the part of any such railroad or other transportation company or officer or agent thereof shall constitute a separate offense, and each such separate offense shall be punishable as in this section provided. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, or corporations to offer, grant, or give or to solicit, accept or receive any rebate, concession or discrimination in respect to the transportation of any property in this state whereby any such property by any device whatever shall be transported at a less rate than that stated in the rates made and established by the commission, or whereby any other advantage is given or discrimination is practiced. Every person or corporation, whether railroad or other transportation company or shipper, who shall, knowingly, offer, grant, or give, or solicit, accept, or receive any such rebate, concession or discrimination shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punishable in like manner and to the same extent as herein prescribed for discrimination. Every violation of this act punishable by any court shall be prosecuted in the court having jurisdiction of crimes within the county or city and county in which such violation was committed, or through which the transportation may have been conducted; and whenever such offense is begun in one jurisdiction and completed in another it may be dealt with, inquired into, tried, determined, and punished in either jurisdiction in the same manner as if the offense had been actually and wholly committed therein; provided, however, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed to abridge or interfere with the power of the commission to hear and determine all matters concerning which it is by this act authorized to inquire, or to enforce its orders and decisions. In construing and enforcing the provisions of this act, the act, omission, or failure of any officer, agent, or other person acting for or employed by any railroad or other transportation company or shipper, acting within the scope of his employment, shall in every case be also deemed to be the act, omission, or failure of such railroad or other transportation company or shipper, as well as that of such person.

Jurisdiction.

SEC. 42. All fines herein provided, other than fines and forfeitures which are to be imposed by a court, may be recovered by an action therefor, brought by the commission in its own name, and any such action may be instituted in any county or city and county in, to or through which the defendant railroad or transportation company may run or operate. This shall not, however, interfere in any respect with the power of the commission to enforce the payment of such fine or forfeiture by proceedings for contempt of the commission.

CHAPTER 23.

An act to authorize the legislative body of a municipality to create sewer districts within its boundaries, provide a system of sewer bonds for the construction of sewers therein, and to provide for the payment of said bonds.

[Approved February 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Sewer districts.

SECTION 1. The legislative body of any city, town or municipal corporation, incorporated under the laws of this state may create from time to time, as hereinafter provided, within such city, town or municipal corporation, separate sewer districts whenever in the judgment of such legislative body it may be necessary or convenient for the proper sanitation and drainage of such districts to construct any sewer or sewers therein, and may designate such districts by distinctive names and numbers and may as hereinafter provided, provide for the incurring of indebtedness to pay for the cost of the construction of sewers in such districts.

Two thirds vote of city board.

SEC. 2. Whenever the legislative body of any such city, town or municipal corporation, shall, by resolution passed by a vote of two thirds of all its members and approved by the executive of such municipality, determine that the public interest or convenience requires the construction of a sewer or any sewers in any part of the territory of such municipality, said legislative body shall describe in said resolution a district, naming and numbering the same as hereinabove provided, and declare said district to be the district benefited by said work or improvement, and may, at any subsequent meeting, by ordinance passed, by a vote of two thirds of all of its members, and also approved by the said executive, adopt plans and specifications for the proposed sewer work and also describe the territorial district upon which the expense of such proposed sewer work or improvement shall be chargeable, as hereinafter provided, and shall provide therein for a special election to be held in such sewer district. At such election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of such city, town or municipal corporation, residing within such sewer district, the proposition of incurring indebtedness for the purposes set forth in said resolution, and no question other than the incurring of the indebtedness for such purposes shall be submitted at such special election. The ordinance calling such special election shall also recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred, the estimated cost of the proposed sewer work, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, the manner of holding such election, and the manner of voting for or against the incurring of such indebtedness. In all particulars not recited in such ordinance, such election shall be held as is provided by law for holding general municipal elections in such city, town or municipal corporation. The maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be six (6%) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually.

given. It shall require the affirmative votes of two thirds of all the aforesaid qualified electors of said sewer district voting at such special election, to authorize the incurring of said indebtedness and the issuance of bonds therefor as provided herein; provided, however, if the proposition so submitted at such election fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the aforesaid qualified electors of such sewer district, voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the legislative branch of such municipality shall have no power or authority within six months after such election, to pass any ordinance calling another election for incurring any indebtedness for sewer work within any sewer district which has within its boundaries any of the territory of the district in which, at said election, the requisite number of votes for the issuance of said bonds has not been cast therefor.

SEC. 4. All bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall be issued in the name of the city, town or municipal corporation in which such sewer district has been formed, and shall be payable in the following manner; a part to be determined by the legislative body of the municipality, which part shall not be less than the one fortieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place within the United States, to be fixed by the legislative body of the city, town or municipal corporation issuing the said bonds, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the legislative body of the municipality may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day, and at the place, fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per cent per annum, and shall be payable semi-annually, and said bonds shall be signed by any officer of said city, town or municipal corporation designated for that purpose by the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such city, town or municipal corporation, by resolution adopted by two thirds vote of all its members, and shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the clerk of such city, town or municipal corporation. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer.

In case any of such officers whose signatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officers had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 5. The legislative body of the city, town or municipal corporation within whose territory such sewer district has been created as herein provided, may issue and sell said bonds at not less than their par value, and the proceeds of the sales of such bonds shall be placed in the municipal treasury to the credit of the proper sewer district fund and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the said ordinance.

SEC. 6. Before the legislative body of such city, town or municipal corporation shall award the contract for doing any sewer work or improvement, the expense of which is to be paid out of the proceeds of sales of the bonds issued in accordance with the provisions of this act, said legislative body of said city, town or municipal corporation, shall cause notice with specifications to be posted conspicuously for five days on or near the chamber door of said legislative body, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said sewer work or improvement, and shall also cause notice of said work inviting said proposals and referring to the specifications posted or on file, to be published for two consecutive insertions in a daily, semi-weekly, or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in said city, town or municipal corporation, designated by said legislative body for that purpose, and in case there is no newspaper published in said city, town or municipal corporation, then it shall only be posted as hereinbefore provided. All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check, payable to the order of the executive officer of said city, town or municipal corporation, certified by a responsible bank for an amount which shall be not less than ten (10%) per cent of the aggregate of the proposal, or by a bond for the said amount, and so payable, signed by the bidder and by two sureties who shall justify before an officer competent to administer an oath, in double such amount, and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk of said legislative body and said legislative body shall in open session examine and publicly declare the same. Said legislative body may reject any or all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all proposals or bids other than the lowest proposal or bid of any responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said work or improvement to the lowest responsible bidder at the price named in his bid, which award shall be approved by the executive officer of said city, town or municipal corporation, or a three-fourths vote of the legislative body of said city, town or municipal corporation. If not approved by said executive officer or a three-fourths vote of said legislative body, without further proceedings the said legislative body may readvertise for proposals or bids for the performance of the work as in the first instance, and thereafter proceed in the manner in this section provided, and shall thereupon return to the proper parties the respective checks and bonds corresponding to the bid so rejected. But the checks accompanying such accepted proposals or bids shall be held by the clerk of said city, town or municipal corporation, until the contract for doing said work has been entered into by said lowest bidder. But if said bidder fails, neglects or refuses to sewer tax.

SEC. 7. The legislative body of said city, town or municipal corporation shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect each year upon the property situated within such sewer district formed as hereinbefore set forth, and upon such property only, and until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of such city, town or municipal corporation set apart for that purpose, sufficient to meet all sums coming due for the principal and interest on such bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of said bonds or any part thereof, be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid, annually, each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof, on or before the payments herein provided for, shall become due.

The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes, and shall be collected at the time, and in the manner, as other municipal taxes are collected, and shall be used for no other purpose than the payment of the sum or sums of money due on said bonds and the accruing interest thereon, and it is hereby expressly provided that the city, town or municipal corporation issuing bonds for the purposes and in the manner provided in this act shall not in any event whatsoever be liable for the payment of the said bonds so issued under the provisions of this act, nor any part thereof.

SEC. 9. Whenever the legislative branch of any municipality shall, by resolution, deem it necessary, they may require the treasurer of such municipality to give additional bonds for the safe custody and care of the funds received by him pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Treasurer to give bond.

SEC. 10. This act shall in nowise affect any other act by the provisions of which sewer work or improvement may be done within or by any city, town or municipal corporation, but is intended to and does provide an alternate system of proceedings for sewer work or improvements, and it shall be within the discretionary powers of the legislative body of any city, town or municipal corporation to proceed in making such improvements either under the provisions of this act or under the provisions of any other act. But when any proceedings are commenced under this act, the provisions of this act and such amendments thereto as may hereafter be adopted shall thereafter apply to all work done under such proceedings until the completion thereof. If, after certain sewer work or improvement has been done under the provisions of this act, the legislative body of any city, town or municipal corporation shall deem it necessary or convenient to construct any additional

CHAPTER 41.

An act to amend section eight hundred and fifty-four of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, relating to the filling of vacancies.

[Approved February 11, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Vacancy in office;
how filled.

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred and fifty-four of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Absence.

Section 854. Any vacancy occurring in any of the offices provided for in this act shall be filled by appointment by the board of trustees; but in the event of said board of trustees failing to fill such vacancy by appointment within thirty days after a vacancy occurs, they must, if said office be an elective one, immediately after the expiration of said thirty days cause an election to be held to fill said vacancy; provided, however, that any person appointed or elected to fill such vacancy shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term. In case a member of the board of trustees is absent from the city for the period of ninety days, unless by permission of the board of trustees, his office shall by the board be declared vacant, and the same filled as in case of other vacancies.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 42.

An act to amend section five hundred and twenty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the manner of granting temporary injunctions.

[Approved February 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section five hundred and twenty-seven of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

527. An injunction may be granted at any time before judgment upon a verified complaint, or upon affidavits if the complaint in the one case, or the affidavits in the other, show satisfactorily that sufficient grounds exist therefor. A copy of the complaint or of the affidavits, upon which the injunction was granted, must, if not previously served, be served therewith. No preliminary injunction shall be granted without notice to the opposite party; nor shall any temporary restraining order be granted without notice to the opposite party, unless it shall appear from facts shown by affidavit or by the verified complaint that great or irreparable injury would result to the applicant before the matter can be heard on notice. In case a temporary restraining order shall be granted without notice, in the contingency above specified, the matter shall be made returnable on an order requiring cause to be shown why the injunction should not be granted, on the earliest day that the business of the court will admit of, but not later than ten days from the date of such order. When the matter first comes up for hearing the party who obtained the temporary restraining order must be ready to proceed and must have served upon the opposite party at least two days prior to such hearing, a copy of the complaint and of all affidavits to be used in such application and a copy of his points and authorities in support of such application; if he be not ready, or if he shall fail to serve a copy of his complaint, affidavits and points and authorities, as herein required, the court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order. The defendant, however, shall be entitled, as of course, to one continuance for a reasonable period, if he desire it, to enable him to meet the application for the preliminary injunction. The defendant may, in response to such order to show cause, present affidavits relating to the granting of the preliminary injunction, and if such affidavits are served on the applicant at least two days prior to the hearing, the applicant shall not be entitled to any continuance on account thereof. On the day upon which such order is made returnable, such hearing shall take precedence of all other matters on the calendar of said day, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law. When the cause is at issue it shall be set for trial at the earliest possible date and shall take precedence of all other cases, except older matters of the same character, and matters to which special precedence may be given by law.

CHAPTER 43.

To amend section four hundred and ninety-nine of the Civil Code of the State of California relating to the use of the same street or tracks by two lines of street railway.

[Approved February 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred and ninety-nine of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

499. The legislative body of any incorporated city, city and county, or town, may permit two or more lines of street railway to use the same portion of the same street or the same tracks upon such terms as may be agreed upon by the companies operating such railways; but no permission shall be granted to one company to use the same tracks or portion of the same street for a distance of more than five consecutive blocks without the consent of the company occupying said portion of the street and then only upon payment of an equal portion of the cost of construction of the tracks and appurtenances used by such railways jointly; provided, that any incorporated city, city and county, or town may own and operate street railways within or without the municipal limits, and may occupy the same street or tracks occupied or used by any street railway company within its limits upon payment to such company of an equal portion of the estimated cost of construction, at the time of such occupation, of the tracks or appurtenances to be used jointly by said company and said city, city and county, or town. Where such portion of such street shall be occupied by a track or tracks of a different gauge from the track or tracks proposed to be constructed thereon by a line of street railway under a different management, such last-mentioned line of street railway may nevertheless construct its track or tracks, subject to the limitation before prescribed, over the same ground as may be occupied by such prior track or tracks; provided, the same can be so constructed as not to interfere with the operation of such prior track or tracks beyond such necessary interference therewith as shall be incident to such construction with reasonable skill, care and diligence.

Two lines of railway may use streets.

City may use.

Tracks of different gauge.

CHAPTER 44.

An act to amend section seven hundred and eighty-nine of an act entitled, "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, relating to termination of estates.

[Approved February 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seven hundred and eighty-nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

789. A tenancy or other estate at will, however created, may be determined by the landlord's giving notice in writing to the tenant, in the manner prescribed by section eleven hundred and sixty-two of the Code of Civil Procedure, to remove from the premises within a period of not less than thirty days, to be specified in the notice.

Termination of estates.

CHAPTER 45.

An act to amend section 1265 of an act entitled "An act to establish a Civil Code," approved March 21, 1872, relating to homesteads and exemptions.

[Approved February 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twelve hundred and sixty-five of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1265. From and after the time the declaration is filed for record, the premises therein described constitute a homestead. If the selection was made by a married person from the community property, or from the separate property of the spouse making the selection or joining therein, the land so selected, on the death of either of the spouses, vests in the survivor, subject to no other liability than such as exists or has been created under the provisions of this title; in other cases, upon the death of the person whose property was selected as a homestead, it shall go to the heirs or devisees, subject to the power of the superior court to assign the same for a limited period to the family of the decedent; but in no case shall it, or the products, rents, issues or profits thereof be held liable for the debts of the owner, except as provided in this title; and should the homestead be sold by the owner, the proceeds arising from such sale to the extent of the value allowed for a homestead exemption as provided in this title shall be exempt to the owner of the homestead for a period of six months next following such sale.

CHAPTER 46.

An act to amend the Penal Code of the State of California, by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section 367c, concerning the duty of the driver and persons in charge of an automobile, motor cycle or other motor vehicle, when the same collides with a person or a vehicle containing a person, and prescribing a penalty for failure to perform such duty.

[Approved February 17, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code of the State of California, to be numbered section 367c, to read as follows:

367c. Whenever an automobile, motor cycle, or other motor vehicle strikes any person, or collides with any vehicle containing a person, the driver of, and all persons in, such automobile, motor cycle or other motor vehicle who have or assume authority over such driver, shall immediately cause such automobile, motor cycle or other motor vehicle to stop, and shall forthwith render to the person struck, or to the occupants of such vehicle, all needed assistance, including the carrying of such person or occupant to a physician or surgeon for medical or surgical treatment, if such treatment seems to be required, or if such carrying is requested by the person struck or occupying such vehicle; and such driver and person having or assuming authority over him, shall forthwith give to the occupants of such vehicle or person struck, the number of such automobile, motor cycle or other motor vehicle, with the name and address of the driver and of each person in such automobile, motor cycle or other motor vehicle at the time of such striking or collision. Any person violating any of the provisions of this section is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison not exceeding five years, or in the county jail not exceeding one year, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

automobile

CHAPTER 47.

An act to amend section 737 of the Political Code relating to the salary of superior judges.

[Approved February 17, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 737 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

737. The annual salaries of the judges of the superior court of the city and county of San Francisco, of the county of Los Angeles and of the county of Alameda are six thousand dollars, of the counties of Riverside, Contra Costa, San Joaquin, Sacramento, Marin, Santa Clara, San Diego, Fresno and San Bernardino, five thousand dollars, of the counties of Santa Cruz, San Mateo, Yuba, Sutter, Butte, Nevada, Sonoma, Colusa, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Shasta, Siskiyou, Santa Barbara, Mendocino, Tehama, Kern, Placer, Humboldt, Tulare, Solano, Yolo, Mariposa, Ventura, Mono, Kings, Amador, Calaveras, Stanislaus, El Dorado, Merced, Madera, Tuolumne, Orange, Glenn, Napa and San Benito, four thousand dollars, and of the county of Alpine, two thousand dollars; one half of which shall be paid by the state and the other half thereof by the county of which the judge is elected or appointed.

Salaries of superior judges.

CHAPTER 48.

An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled, "An act concerning dependent and delinquent minor children, providing for their care, custody and maintenance until twenty-one years of age; providing for their commitment to the Whittier State School and the Preston State School of Industry, and the manner of such commitment and release therefrom, establishing a probation committee and probation officers to deal with such children, and fixing the salaries of probation officers; providing for detention homes for said children; providing for the punishment of persons responsible for, or contributing to, the dependency or delinquency of children; and giving to the superior court jurisdiction of such offenses, and repealing inconsistent acts, approved March 8, 1909," defining the words "dependent child."

[Approved February 17, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled, "An act concerning dependent and delinquent minor children, providing for their care, custody and maintenance until twenty-one years of age; providing for their commitment to the Whittier State School and the Preston State School of Industry, and the manner of such commitment and release therefrom, establishing a probation committee and probation officers to deal with such children, and fixing the salaries of probation officers; providing for detention homes for said children; providing for the punishment of persons responsible for, or contributing to, the dependency or delinquency of children; and giving to the superior court jurisdiction of such offenses, and repealing inconsistent acts, approved March 8, 1909," is hereby amended.

Juvenile court law.

Section 1. This act shall be known as the "Juvenile Court Law" and shall apply only to children under the age of eighteen years not now or hereafter inmates of a state institution.

"Dependent child."

For the purposes of this act, the words "dependent child" shall mean any child under the age of eighteen years:

(1) Who is found begging, receiving or gathering alms, whether actually begging or under the pretext of selling or offering anything for sale; or

(2) Who is found in any street, road or public place for the purpose of so begging, gathering or receiving alms; or

(3) Who is a vagrant; or

(4) Who is found wandering and not having any home, or any settled place of abode, or any proper guardianship, or any visible means of subsistence; or

(5) Who has no parent or guardian; or who has no parent or guardian willing to exercise, or capable of exercising, proper parental control; or

(6) Who is destitute; or

(7) Whose home by reason of neglect, cruelty or depravity of his parents or either of them, or on the part of his guardian, or on the part of the person in whose custody or care he may be, is an unfit place for such child; or

(8) Who frequents the company of reputed criminals, vagrants or prostitutes; or

(9) Who is found living or being in any house of prostitution or assignation; or

(10) Who habitually visits, without parent or guardian, any saloon, pool-room or place where any spirituous, vinous or malt liquors are sold, bartered or given away; or

(11) Who persistently refuses to obey the reasonable and proper orders or directions of his parents or guardian; or

(12) Who is incorrigible; that is, who is beyond the control and power of his parents, guardian or custodian by reason of the vicious conduct or nature of said minor; or

(13) Whose father is dead or has abandoned his family or is an habitual drunkard, or whose father does not provide for such minor, and it appears that such minor is destitute of a suitable home or of adequate means of obtaining an honest living, or who is in danger of being brought up to lead an idle and dissolute or immoral life; or where both parents of such child are dead, or the mother, if living, is unable to provide proper support and care of such minor child; or

(14) Who is an habitual truant within the meaning of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of said act," approved March 24, 1903, and who is not placed in a parental school under the provisions of said act, or who being over the age of fourteen years refuses to attend public or private school as directed by his parents, duly authorized guardian or legal custodian; or

(15) Who habitually uses intoxicating liquor as a beverage or habitually smokes cigarettes or who habitually uses opium, cocaine, morphine or other similar drug, without the direction a competent physician.

The words "delinquent child" shall include any child under the age of eighteen years who violates any law of this state, or any ordinance of any town, city, county or city and county of this state, defining crime. ^{"delinquent child."}

CHAPTER 49.

An act to promote the safety of employees and travelers upon railroads by compelling common carriers by railroad to properly man their trains.

[Approved February 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any common carrier ^{Full crew.} by railroad in the State of California operating more than four trains each way per day of twenty-four hours on any main track or branch line of railroad within this state to run, or permit to be run, any passenger, mail, or express train propelled or drawn by steam locomotive that has not at least the following named employees thereon: One engineer, one fireman, one conductor, one brakeman, one baggageman; provided, that on any such train upon which baggage is not hauled a baggageman need not be employed; provided, further, that on any such train where four passenger coaches or cars exclusive of railroad officers' private cars, or more than four passenger coaches or cars are hauled, two brakemen instead of one shall be employed. ^{Passenger train.}

SEC. 2. It shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to run, or permit to be run, any freight or work train propelled or drawn by steam locomotive that has not at least the following named employees thereon: One engineer, one fireman, one conductor, two brakemen; provided, that on any such freight or work train composed of fifty cars or more, three brakemen instead of two shall be employed. ^{Freight train.}

- Minimum crew. SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to run or permit to be run any train propelled or drawn by steam locomotive other than those trains described in section 1 and section 2 of this act, that have not at least the following named employees thereon: One engineer, one fireman, one conductor, and one brakeman; provided, that nothing in this section contained shall apply to an engine or engines without cars; nor to any relief train or wrecking train in any case where a sufficient number of employees to comply with this section are not available for service on such relief or wrecking train.
- Relief train.
- Engineer. SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any such common carrier to employ any person as a steam locomotive engineer who shall not have had at least two years' actual service as a steam locomotive fireman, or one year of actual service as a steam locomotive engineer, or to employ any person as a conductor who shall not have had at least two years of actual service as a railroad brakeman, or one year at actual service as a railroad conductor, or to employ any person as a brakeman who shall not have passed the regular examination required by trans-continental railroads; provided, that nothing in this section contained shall apply to the running or operating of steam locomotives to or from trains at divisional terminals by hostlers or to the running or operating of steam locomotives to and from engine houses or to the doing of work on steam locomotives at shops and engine houses.
- Conductor.
- Brakeman.
- Penalty. SEC. 5. Any violation of this act shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and shall be punished, upon conviction, by fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.
- Strikes. SEC. 6. Nothing in this act contained shall apply to the operation of any train by common carriers during times of strikes or walkouts, participated in by any of the hereinbefore mentioned employees of such common carrier.

CHAPTER 50.

An act to prohibit the use of nets, seines, traps, or weirs for the catching of fish in Cache slough and its tributaries in the counties of Solano and Yolo.

[Approved February 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Seining in Cache slough.

SECTION 1. Any person who, in the waters of Cache slough, from its source to its mouth, in the counties of Solano and Yolo, State of California, or in any of the tributaries of said slough in either county, shall take any fish of any kind, by means of a net, seine, trap or weir, or who shall have in his possession, or use, or set any net, seine, trap or weir for the purpose of catching any fish in said waters, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall prohibit any person from taking, during the open season therefor, any fish with hook and line.

SEC. 2. Every person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and all fines imposed or collected for violation of any provision of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. SEC. 2. Within sixty days after this act takes effect, the governor shall appoint one additional judge of the superior court of the county of San Diego, State of California, who shall hold office until the first Monday after the first day of January, 1913. At the next general election one judge of such superior court of said county shall be elected, who shall succeed the judge appointed under this act, and the person so elected shall hold office for the term prescribed by law.

Salary.

SEC. 3. The salary of said additional judge shall be five thousand dollars per annum, and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of the other judges of the superior court of said county.

CHAPTER 53.

An act to amend section 682 of the Penal Code, relating to the prosecution of public offenses.

[Approved February 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 682 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

682. Every public offense must be prosecuted by indictment or information, except:

Public
offenses, how prosecuted.

1. Where proceedings are had for the removal of civil officers of the state;
2. Offenses arising in the militia when in actual service, and in the land and naval forces in the time of war, or which the state may keep, with the consent of congress, in time of peace;
3. Offenses tried in justices' and police courts;
4. All misdemeanors of which jurisdiction has been conferred upon superior courts sitting as juvenile courts.

CHAPTER 54.

An act to amend section two and section fourteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905.

[Approved February 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made, which is authorized by section 1 of this act, the city council shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention to do so, briefly describing the proposed improvement, which may include the whole or any part of one or more streets, lanes, alleys, courts or places, and specifying the exterior boundaries of the district to be benefited by said improvement and to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof, and to be known as the assessment district. Said proposed improvement may include any or all of the different kinds of work mentioned in section 1 of this act: provided, however, that the maintenance of appliances or the furnishing of gas, electric current or other illuminating agent, shall be for a period stated in the resolution of intention, but not exceeding two years. The city council shall, also, in the same resolution, refer the proposed improvement to the city engineer, if there be one, and if not, to some competent person employed by the municipality for the purpose and named in said resolution, and direct him to make and file with the clerk of the city council a report in writing presenting the following:

1. Plans and specifications for the work required in order to make said improvements; Plans.

2. An estimate of the cost of said improvement and of the incidental expenses in connection therewith; Cost.

3. A diagram showing the district above referred to, and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of the land within said district, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram. Diagram.

4. A proposed assessment of the total amount of the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement upon the several subdivisions of land in said district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respect- Assess- ment.

ively, from said improvement. Said assessment shall refer to such subdivisions upon said diagram by the respective red ink numbers thereof, and shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown. No mistake in the name of the owner of any parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

Board of public works.

In any municipality having a board of public works or other board or commission in charge of street lighting, created by charter or by law, the proposed improvement shall be referred to said board or commission and the report provided for herein shall be made by said board or commission.

Letting of contract.

SEC. 2. Section fourteen of the act referred to in the title of this act, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 14. At any time after the funds for the work, or any part of the work, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council may let the contract or contracts for such work or the respective parts thereof. Every such contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice published by two insertions in some newspaper published in such municipality and designated by the city council for that purpose, or if there be no such newspaper, then by such posting as the city council may provide. In any municipality owning and operating a municipal lighting plant and having a board of public works or other board or commission in charge of street lighting created by charter or law, said board or commission may present a bid in response to said notice and if award of the contract for the work is made to it may proceed with and complete the said work thereunder.

public works
may bid.

Certified
check.

Every bid, except that of a board or commission as above provided for shall be accompanied by a certified check, amounting to ten per cent of the bid, payable to the order of the clerk of said city council, and the same shall be forfeited to the municipality in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within ten days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work, the faithful performance of which, except when made with any such board or commission, shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sum as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to said council.

Work,
how done.

The contract must provide that the work shall be done and the work must be done, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in sections 2 and 3 of this act. The work must be done under the supervision of the board, officer or person by whom the report provided for in section 2 of this act was made, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by said board, officer or person and by said city council.

Abandon-
contract.

If the contractor abandons the work or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the said city council may relet the work in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof and retain the cost of the same, and also any expense incidental to the reletting, out of fund due or to become due to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure upon his bond.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 55.

An act to repeal section 644 of the Penal Code of the State of California.

[Approved February 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred and forty-four of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 56.

An act to authorize and regulate the employment of prisoners in the state prisons of this state and to provide for the disposition of the products of their skill and labor.

exempt.

SEC. 9. Nothing in this act contained shall repeal, or in any manner affect, any of the provisions of any existing act or law relating to the purchase, manufacture, or sale of jute or jute products; nor shall anything contained in this act repeal, or in any manner affect, any of the provisions of any act or law relating to the crushing of rock or stone or the sale thereof.

SEC. 10. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 57.

An act to amend section one (1) of an act entitled, "An act amending an act making an appropriation for the establishment of a permanent fund for the purchase of jute to be manufactured at the state prison at San Quentin, approved March 9, 1885," (approved March 16, 1889), and to provide for the disposition and use of the surplus money received from the sale of jute goods and not needed for the "revolving fund" provided for in said act.

[Approved February 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one (1) of an act entitled, "An act amending an act making an appropriation for the establishment of a permanent fund for the purchase of jute to be manufactured at the state prison at San Quentin, approved March 9, 1885," (approved March 16, 1889), is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 1. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to provide and maintain a permanent revolving fund for the purchase of jute for the state prisons. All moneys taken therefrom to be used exclusively in payment for jute to be used in manufacturing in said state prisons; and so much of the money received from the sale of any goods manufactured from said jute shall be returned to the said revolving fund, so that the fund shall contain two hundred thousand dollars before any of the proceeds from the sale of said manufactured goods are used for any other purpose than the purchase of jute. Whenever said "revolving fund" shall be replenished and there shall be a surplus, or balance, over the amount appropriated, such surplus, or balance, shall be paid, not less frequently than semi-annually, into the state treasury to the credit of the fund to be known as "the prison fund of San Quentin prison" (which "fund" is hereby created), for the use and support of San Quentin prison and of the trades and industries conducted therein.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 66.

An act to amend section 1721 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to establishing who are or were the heirs at law of persons to whom patent for lands has been or shall be issued in cases where the person entering such lands has died or shall die before the issuance of such patent.

[Approved February 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section seventeen hundred and twenty-four of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Death before patent is issued.

1724. In any case where a person has entered, or shall have entered, any lands in the United States and has died, or shall die, before patent for the same was issued, or shall have been issued, and patent thereafter was, or shall have been issued to the heirs of such decedent, any person interested in such lands as heir at law, or the successor in interest of such heir at law or the administrator, or executor, or heir at law of any of them if deceased, may file a petition in the superior court of the State of California in and for the county wherein said land or any part thereof is situate, setting forth the date of the death of such deceased entryman, the date and the issuance of such patent, and that the same was issued to the heirs at law of such deceased entryman, and the land described therein and the names, ages, and residences, if known, of the heirs at law of such deceased entryman, (or if any such heirs are dead, or their residence is unknown, such facts shall be stated), and a request that a decree be entered in said court establishing who are or were the heirs at law of such deceased person.

Death
issued.

Notice of the time and place for the hearing of said petition must be given by the clerk by posting notices thereof in three or more public places in said county at least ten days prior to the date fixed for said hearing.

At any time before the date fixed for such hearing any person interested in said lands may answer said petition and deny any of the matters contained therein.

At the time fixed for such hearing or at such time thereafter as may be fixed by the court, the court must hear the proofs offered by the petitioner and the person answering the same, if there be any answer thereto, and must make a decree conformable to the proofs. Such decree shall have the same force and effect as decrees entered in accordance with the provisions of part III, title XI of this code.

CHAPTER 67.

An act to amend section 2287 of the Civil Code of the State of California, relating to the appointment of trustees in case of vacancy.

[Approved February 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2287 of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2287. The superior court may appoint a trustee whenever there is a vacancy and the declaration of trust does not provide a practicable method of appointment. If the cestui que trust is of the age of fourteen years, he may nominate such trustee, and if such nominee is found competent to discharge the duties of trustee, he is entitled to be appointed such trustee in preference to any other person.

An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance of county free libraries in the State of California, and repealing "An act entitled 'An act to provide county library systems,' approved April 12, 1909, and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act."

[Approved February 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Supervisors
establish.

SECTION 1. The boards of supervisors of the several counties shall have power to establish and maintain, within their respective counties, county free libraries in the manner and with the functions prescribed in this act.

Not to include cities having libraries.

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of any county may establish at the county seat a county free library for that part of such county lying outside of incorporated cities and towns maintaining free public libraries, and outside of library districts maintaining district libraries, and for all such additional portions of such county as may elect to become a part of, or to participate in, such county free library system, as hereafter provided in this act. At least once a week for two successive weeks prior to taking such action the board of supervisors shall publish, in a newspaper designated by them and published in such county, notice of such contemplated action, giving therein the date of the meeting at which such action is proposed to be taken.

SEC. 7. Upon the establishment of a county free library, the board of supervisors shall appoint a county librarian, who shall hold office for the term of four years, subject to prior removal for cause, after a hearing, by said board. No person shall be eligible to the office of county librarian unless prior to his appointment he has received from the board of library examiners a certificate of qualification for the office. At the time of his appointment, the county librarian need not be a resident of the county nor a citizen of the State of California.

Government of county library.

SEC. 8. The county free library shall be under the general supervision of the board of supervisors, which shall have power to make general rules and regulations regarding the policy of the county free library, to establish, upon the recommendation of the county librarian, branches and stations throughout the county and may locate said branches and stations in incorporated cities and towns wherever deemed advisable, to determine the number and kind of employees of such library, and to appoint and dismiss such employees upon the recommendation of the county librarian. Such employee shall not be removed except for cause, and in case any such removal be made upon the ground that the services of such employee are no longer required, such removed employee shall have the first right to be restored to such employment when such services are again required, but the board of supervisors may, at the time of appointing any employee, and upon the recommendation of the county librarian, enter into an agreement that such employee be employed for a definite time only.

Employees.

All employees of the county free library whose duties require special training in library work shall be graded in grades to be established by the county librarian, with the advice and approval of the state librarian, according to the duties required of them, experience in library work and other qualifications for the service required; and before appointment to a position in the graded service, the candidate must pass an examination appropriate to the position sought, satisfactory to the county librarian, and show a satisfactory experience in library work. Work in approved library schools or libraries, or certificates issued by the board of library examiners, may be accepted by the county librarian in lieu of such examination. The county librarian may also accept as apprentices, without compensation, candidates possessing personal qualifications satisfactory to him and may dismiss the same at any time if in his judgment their work is not satisfactory to him.

Apprentices.

SEC. 9. The county librarian shall, prior to entering upon the duties of his office, file with the county clerk the usual oath of office and a bond, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties, with sufficient sureties approved by a judge of the superior court in the county of which the librarian is to be the county librarian, in such sum as may be determined by the board of supervisors. The county librarian shall, subject to the general rules adopted by the board of supervisors, build up and manage, according to accepted principles of library management of the library for the use of the people of the county, and shall determine what books and other library equipment shall be purchased. The salary per annum of the county librarian shall be as follows: In counties of the first to the third classes inclusive, two thousand four hundred dollars; of the fourth to the tenth classes inclusive, two thousand dollars; of the eleventh to the twentieth classes inclusive, eighteen hundred dollars; of the twenty-first to the thirtieth classes inclusive, fifteen hundred dollars; of the thirty-first to the forty-eighth classes inclusive, twelve hundred dollars; and of the forty-ninth to the fifty-seventh classes inclusive, five hundred dollars. The salary of each of the county librarians here provided shall be paid by each of such counties in equal monthly installments, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid. The county librarian and his assistant shall be allowed actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred on the business of the office.

SEC. 10. The county free libraries of the state shall be under the general supervision of the state librarian, who shall from time to time, either personally or by one of his assistants, visit the county free libraries and inquire into their condition. The actual and necessary expenses of such visits shall be paid out of the state library fund. The state librarian shall annually call a convention of county librarians, to assemble at such time and place as he shall deem most convenient, for the discussion of questions pertaining to the supervision and administration of the county free libraries, the laws relating thereto, and such other subjects affecting the welfare and interest of the county free libraries as shall properly be brought before it. It is hereby made the duty of all the county librarians to attend and take part in the proceedings of such convention. The actual and necessary expenses of the county librarians attending the convention shall be paid out of the county free library fund.

ing. Such reports shall, in addition to other matters deemed expedient by the county librarian, contain such statistical and other information as may be deemed desirable by the state librarian. For this purpose the state librarian may send to the several county librarians instructions or question blanks so as to obtain the material for a comparative study of library conditions in the state.

Tax levy.

SEC. 12. The board of supervisors, after a county free library has been established, shall annually levy, in the same manner and at the same time as other county taxes are levied, and in addition to all other taxes, a tax not to exceed one mill on the dollar of assessed valuation upon all property in such county outside of incorporated cities and towns maintaining free public libraries, and library districts maintaining district libraries, and upon all property within incorporated cities, towns and library districts, which have elected to become a part of such county free library system as provided in this act, for the purpose of purchasing property for, establishing and maintaining the county free library. County bonds may be issued, in the manner prescribed in section 4088 of the Political Code for the erection and equipment of county free library buildings and the purchase of land therefor. The board of supervisors is authorized to receive, on behalf of the county, any gift, bequest or devise for the county free library, or for any branch or subdivision thereof. The title to all property belonging to the county free library shall be vested in the county. All laws applicable to the collection of county taxes shall apply to the collection of the tax herein provided. All funds of the county free library, whether derived from taxation or otherwise, shall be in the custody of the county treasurer. They shall constitute a separate fund, called the county free library fund, and shall not be used for any purposes except those of the county free library. Each claim against the county free library fund shall be authorized and approved by the county librarian, or in his absence from the county by his assistant. It shall then be acted upon in the same manner as are all other claims against the county.

SEC. 13. In any county of this state where a law library may now or hereafter exist under the provisions of section 4190 to 4204, inclusive, of the Political Code of the state, the board of supervisors of such county shall have power to enter into contracts, or agreements with the board of law library trustees of such law library for the coöperation of said law library and the county free library, and, in that connection, to contract or agree with the board of law library trustees of such law library that the county librarian and other employees of the county free library perform the duties required to be done or performed by the officers and employees of such law library as contemplated by section 4190 to 4204, inclusive, of the Political Code of this state for a compensation to be named in such contract or agreement, the same to be paid into the county free library fund.

SEC. 14. The board of supervisors shall have power to accept on behalf of the county free library, all books and other property of school libraries and of the teachers' library as provided by sections 1565, 1715 and 1716 of the Political Code, and to manage and maintain the same as a part of the county free library.

library.

SEC. 15. After a county free library has been established, it may be disestablished in the same manner as it was established. At least once a week for two successive weeks prior to taking such action, the board of supervisors shall publish, in a newspaper designated by them, and published in the county, notice of such contemplated action, giving therein the date of the meeting at which such contemplated action is proposed to be taken.

How dis-established

SEC. 16. Instead of establishing a separate county free library, the board of supervisors may enter into a contract according to the provisions of this section with the board of library trustees or other authority in charge of the free public library of any incorporated city or town, and the board of library trustees, or other authority in charge of such free public library, is hereby authorized to make such a contract. Such contract may provide that the free public library of such incorporated city or town shall assume the functions of a county free library within the county with which such contract is made, including incorporated cities and towns therein. The board of supervisors may agree to pay annually into the library fund of such incorporated city or town such sum as may be agreed upon. Either party to such contract may terminate the same by giving six months' notice of intention to do so.

CHAPTER 69.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code of the State of California to be known as section four thousand one hundred and eighty-nine, relating to the duties of constables.

[Approved February 27, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California, to be known as section four thousand one hundred and eighty-nine, and to read as follows:

Duties of constables.

4189. All writs, notices or other process issued by justices or justices' courts in civil actions or proceedings, if served within the township where issued, must not be served by any constable other than the duly elected, qualified and acting constable or constables of said township.

CHAPTER 70.

An act to amend section 2193 of the Political Code, with relation to moneys due the state by reason of commitments to the Sonoma State Home.

[Approved February 27, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2193 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Moneys
due state.

2193. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report rendered to the controller in the months of May and December the amount due the state under this act by reason of commitments to the home for feeble-minded; and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due to the state by reason of the commitments herein referred to. In the event of the failure of the county auditor or county treasurer to do or perform any of the things required in this section, the state commission in lunacy may require the county treasurer by writ of mandate to pay to the state treasurer upon an order of the controller all amounts found to be due to the state as aforesaid at the time of the next settlement of the said county treasurer with the state, and it shall be no defense to such a proceeding that the county auditor has failed to include such sums in his said report rendered to the controller, and it shall not be necessary for the said commission to allege or prove any fact with relation to the condition of the funds of the county. The said commission may, in its discretion, recover sums due from counties as in this chapter provided, by the presentation of claims against the board of supervisors, and recovery may be had on all sums due the state for a period of three years next prior to the presentation of any such claims.

CHAPTER 71.

An act to amend an act entitled, "An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California to be known and numbered as section 526a, relating to actions by taxpayers against officers and agents of any county, town, city, or city and county in said state," approved March twentieth, nineteen hundred and nine.

[Approved February 27, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 526a of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows, to wit:

526a. An action to obtain a judgment, restraining and preventing any illegal expenditure of, waste of, or injury to, the estate, funds, or other property of a county, town, city or city and county of the state, may be maintained against any officer thereof, or any agent, or other person, acting in its behalf, either by a citizen resident therein, or by a corporation, who is assessed for and is liable to pay, or, within one year before the commencement of the action, has paid, a tax therein. This section does not affect any right of action in favor of a county, city, town, or city and county, or any public officer: provided, that no injunction shall be granted restraining the offering for sale, sale, or issuance of any municipal bonds for public improvements or public utilities.

CHAPTER 80.

An act to amend section 1251 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to proceedings to exercise the right of eminent domain.

[Approved February 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1251 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

When plaintiff in right of eminent domain cases must pay.

1251. The plaintiff must, within thirty days after final judgment, pay the sum of money assessed. In case the plaintiff is the State of California, or is a public corporation, and it appears by affidavit that bonds of said state or public corporation must be issued and sold in order to provide the money necessary to pay the sum assessed, then such sum may be paid at any time within six months from the date of such judgment; provided, further, that if the sale of any such bonds can not be had by reason of litigation affecting the validity thereof, then the time during which such litigation is pending shall not be considered a part of the six months' time in which such payment must be made. In case the use is for railroad purposes, the plaintiff may, at the time of or before payment, elect to build the fences and cattle-guards; and if he so elect, shall execute to the defendant a bond, with sureties to be approved by the court in double the assessed cost of the same, to build such fences and cattle-guards within eighteen months from the time the railroad is built on the land taken, and if such bond be given, need not pay the cost of such fences and cattle-guards. In an action on such bond, the plaintiff may recover reasonable attorney's fees.

CHAPTER 81.

An act authorizing any municipal corporation, using the word "town" in its corporate name, to change such word to "city" and providing the procedure therefor.

[Approved February 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any municipal corporation within this state, except freeholder charter city, may eliminate the word "town" in its corporate name and insert in place thereof, the word "city," as in this act provided. The council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such municipal corporation may, by ordinance, upon receiving a petition asking that the word "town" be eliminated or dropped from the corporate name of such municipality and the word "city" be substituted therefor, signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors thereof, as shown by the vote cast at the last municipal general election held therein, eliminate the word "town" from the corporate name of such municipality and substitute in place thereof, the word "city". Upon the adoption of such ordinance, the clerk of such municipality must file a statement with the secretary of state and also with the board of supervisors of the county within which the municipal corporation is situate, stating the filing of such petition and the adoption of such ordinance and from thenceforth and thereon, the name "city" shall take the place of and be deemed substituted for the word "town" in such corporate name.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 82.

An act to amend section 2714 of the Political Code relating to the construction, repair and maintenance of bridges.

[Approved February 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2714 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Maintenance of bridges of adjoining districts.

2714. If the road overseer of one district, after five days' notice from the overseer of an adjoining district to aid in the repair of a bridge in which each is interested, fails so to aid, the one giving notice may make the necessary repairs, and must be allowed a pro rata compensation therefor by the board of supervisors out of the road fund of the defaulting district. Bridges crossing the line or lines between cities or towns and road districts, or between cities or towns, may be constructed and maintained by the cities or towns and from the road fund of the road district or by the cities or towns into which such bridges extend. Any such bridge may be constructed by contract let as provided by law by either city or town or by the county into which such bridge extends or wherein such bridge is located, and any such city, town or county may contribute toward the cost and expense of the construction or maintenance of such bridge by the appropriation for such purpose of any funds in the treasury of such city, town or county not otherwise appropriated, upon such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by ordinance or resolution of the governing body of such city, town or county aiding in the construction or maintenance of such bridge: provided, that if the proportion to be paid by any such city, town or county can not be otherwise determined, the cost of construction or maintenance of any such bridge shall be borne equally by the city or town and from the road fund of the road district or by the cities or towns into which such bridge extends. The proceeds of any bonds heretofore or hereafter authorized by the voters of any such city, town or county for the acquisition, construction or completion of any such bridge, or any portion thereof, may be expended or contributed as herein provided.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 83.

An act to validate municipal bonds.

[Approved February 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Where, in any city, city and county, or incorporated town, an election has been held, in accordance with the laws of the state, and the necessary two thirds of all the qualified electors voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring an indebtedness for any of the purposes permitted by law, all the proceedings leading up to the issuance, and the proposed issuance, of bonds for any such purpose are hereby legalized, ratified, and declared valid to all intents and purposes, and the power of the municipal corporation to issue such bonds is hereby confirmed, and all bonds sold in accordance with the provisions of the laws of this state for not less than their par value are hereby declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against the city, city and county, or town so issuing them, and the faith and credit of such municipal corporation is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of such bonds; provided, this act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value, nor any bonds which have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by not less than two thirds of the qualified electors of such municipal corporation voting at any such election.

Validating
municipal bonds.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 84.

CHAPTER 102.

An act creating a board of pilot commissioners for the harbor of San Diego, defining their duties, and fixing their compensation.

[Approved March 2, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the governor to appoint one citizen and one nautical man, residents of San Diego, as pilot commissioners. The mayor of said city shall be ex officio pilot commissioner. The three persons named shall constitute a board of pilot commissioners, with the powers and duties as hereinafter provided.

Pilot commissioners of San Diego.

SEC. 2. Each commissioner shall, before entering upon his official duties, take the following oath or affirmation, which shall be endorsed on his commission, and shall be signed by him and certified by the county judge of the county of San Diego: "I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of pilot commissioner, without fear, favor or affection, according to the best of my ability."

Oath of office.

SEC. 3. The board of pilot commissioners shall hold their offices during the pleasure of the power appointing them, not exceeding four years.

Term.

SEC. 4. The board of pilot commissioners shall meet at least once in each month. They shall elect one of their number president, who shall be authorized to administer oaths, and under his hand and private seal to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses in all cases arising before the board under this act. A witness disobeying such subpoena shall forfeit and pay a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, which may be sued for and recovered in a civil action, in the name of the president of the board. It shall make by-laws and rules for its own government of the pilots not inconsistent with the laws of the state or of the United States. A majority of such board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, and may meet and adjourn from time to time, according to adjournment or appointment.

Organization of board.

Qualifications of pilots.

SEC. 5. Pilots appointed by commissioners must be carefully examined as to their qualifications, and, if found to be qualified and worthy, must receive license as pilots for the term of twelve months, which license shall be thereafter annually renewed until the commissioners have good cause to withhold such renewal, and whenever the commissioners deem they have such cause, or intend for any reason to withhold such renewal, the secretary of the board of commissioners shall serve notice in writing on such pilot, specifying the causes, at least ten days before the expiration of his license; and such pilot shall thereupon be entitled to a full hearing before said board.

SEC. 6. No person shall be appointed a pilot unless he is an American citizen, over the age of twenty-one years, with a practical knowledge of the management of sailing vessels and steamboats, and of the tides, soundings, bearings, and distances of the several shoals, bars, rocks, points of land, lighthouse, and fog signals of the port and harbor of San Diego.

Oath and bond of pilots.

SEC. 7. Every pilot receiving a license shall, before entering on the discharge of his duties, take the oath prescribed by the constitution of this state, which shall be endorsed upon his license, signed by him, and certified by the president of the board; and shall give a bond in the sum of twenty-five hundred dollars, with two sureties, to be approved by the board and recorded in the county recorder's office of San Diego county, made payable to the State of California, and conditioned that he will faithfully perform all the duties required of him as a pilot under this act, and will observe the rules and regulations and decisions of the board. The pilots shall renew their bonds whenever the board may deem it necessary and shall so order. In all cases where a pilot shall have been deprived of his license before the expiration thereof for any of the causes hereinafter specified, it shall be the duty of the president of the board, provided a majority of the board shall instruct, to place the bond of such pilot in the hands of the attorney general of the State of California for collection. If any amount be collected thereon in such suit, it shall be paid to the board and shall constitute a fund out of which it shall be the duty of the board to provide rewards to encourage the relief of vessels and passengers in distress, and generally to encourage the pilots in the energetic performance of their duties.

Number.

The board of commissioners must examine and license in the manner prescribed, not less than two nor more than four pilots for the port of San Diego.

Duty.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of every pilot in charge of a vessel arriving in the harbor of San Diego to have the vessel safely moored in such a position as the master may direct.

If carried to sea against his will.

SEC. 9. Every pilot carried to sea against his will, when a pilot boat is in attendance to receive him, shall be entitled to receive the sum of eight dollars per day while absent, which sum may be recovered from the master or owner of the vessel so taking him away; provided, the amount herein allowed to be recovered shall in no case exceed one thousand dollars.

SEC. 10. Any pilot may be deprived of his license before the expiration thereof, for the following causes: Causes for taking away license.

First—For refusing to exhibit his license when requested to do so by the master of any vessel he may have boarded.

Second—For habitual or occasional intoxication, whether the same shall occur while in charge of a pilot boat, or at any other time.

Third—For negligently, ignorantly, or wilfully running any vessel on shore, or otherwise rendering her liable to injury; provided, that any pilot deprived of his license under this subdivision shall thereafter be ineligible to a license as pilot under this act.

SEC. 11. Any person not holding a license as pilot, who shall pilot any vessel into or out of the harbor of San Diego, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding ninety days. Piloting vessel without license.

SEC. 12. All vessels, their tackle, apparel and furniture, and the masters and owners thereof, shall be jointly and severally liable for pilotage fees, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction. Liability for fees.

SEC. 13. When two or more pilots shall offer their services to a vessel outside of a line from Punta Lomas and the southeast end of Zuinga shoal, the first pilot offering his services shall have the preference; and if the master of any vessel shall refuse to observe such rule of preference, and take the pilot entitled to be preferred on board, the vessel, her appurtenances, the master and owner thereof, shall be jointly and severally liable to the pilot entitled to such preference for one half of the amount of pilotage he would have been entitled to claim had his services been accepted. When two pilots offer services.

SEC. 14. The following shall be the rates of pilotage into or out of the harbor of San Diego: All vessels $3.00 per foot draft and three cents per ton for each and every net ton of registered measurement, and every vessel spoken inward or outward bound except as hereinafter provided, shall pay the said rates. A vessel spoken by day by a pilot boat displaying a union jack, or by night displaying a torch or flare-up within a distance of one mile of the vessel, in all cases when inward bound vessels are not spoken until inside of the bar, the rates of pilotage herein provided shall be reduced fifty per cent. Rates of pilotage.

All vessels sailing under enrollment and licensed and engaged in the coasting trade, between the port of San Diego and any other port of the United States, shall be exempt from all pilotage, unless a pilot is actually employed. Exemptions.

All foreign vessels and vessels from a foreign port or bound thereto, and all vessels sailing under a register between the port of San Diego and any other port in the United States, shall be liable for pilotage as provided in section 14.

SEC. 15. Every pilot of the harbor of San Diego must once in each month, upon blanks to be furnished to them by the Reports of pilots.

board of pilot commissioners, render a verified account to the board of all moneys received by him, or by any other person for him, or on his account, and pay five per cent thereof to the board, in full compensation for its official services, for the services of its secretary and treasurer. Such account shall give the name of each vessel piloted, and of each vessel for which pilotage has been charged or collected, and the amount charged to, or collected from each, where the same is registered, the depth of its draught, its tonnage, whether inward or outward bound, and whether the amount so received, collected, or charged is for full pilotage or half pilotage, and the secretary shall record such account in a book prepared for that purpose, which book shall at all times be open to public inspection.

SEC. 16. All pilots absenting themselves from San Diego for more than thirty days shall forfeit their commission, except in case of sickness, or consent of the commissioners.

SEC. 17. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 103.

An act to amend an act entitled, "An act to establish a Penal Code," approved February 14, 1872, by amending section thirteen hundred and twenty-two of the said Penal Code relating to when husband and wife are competent witnesses in criminal actions and proceedings.

[Approved March 2, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirteen hundred and twenty-two of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1322. Neither husband nor wife is a competent witness for or against the other in a criminal action or proceeding to which one or both are parties, except with the consent of both, or in case of criminal actions or proceedings for a crime committed by one against the person or property of the other, or in cases of criminal violence upon one by the other, or in cases of criminal actions or proceedings for bigamy, or adultery, or in cases of criminal actions or proceedings brought under the provisions of section two hundred and seventy and two hundred and seventy a of this code.

CHAPTER 107.

An act to prevent the fishing, or the taking of fish by means of weirs, dams, nets, traps or seines in certain portions of the Monterey bay, within the county of Santa Cruz.

[Approved March 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Seine in
bay.

SECTION 1. Any person who, in the waters of Monterey bay in the county of Santa Cruz, State of California, north of an imaginary line drawn from Point Santa Cruz to Point Sanquel, sometimes known as Black Point, shall use any weir, dam, net, trap or seine of any description except gill nets of 1½ inch mesh for the purpose of catching fish, or who shall, in these waters, take any fish from any weir, dam, net, trap or seine, except gill nets of 1½ inch mesh is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty.

SEC. 2. Any person convicted of a violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be fined not less than fifty ($50) dollars nor more than one hundred ($100) dollars, or shall be imprisoned in the county jail of the county of Santa Cruz not less than twenty-five (25) nor more than fifty (50) days, or shall be both fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the court.

CHAPTER 108.

An act to prohibit the use of nets, seines, traps, or weirs in the Napa river and its tributaries in the counties of Sonoma, Napa and Solano.

[Approved March 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any person who in the waters of Napa river ^{Seining in Napa river.} from its source to its mouth or in any of the tributaries of said river shall take fish of any kind, by means of a net, seine, trap, weir or gang hook, or who shall have in his possession, or use, or set any net, seine, trap, weir or gang hook for the purpose of catching any fish in said waters, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall prohibit any person from taking during the open season therefor any fish with hook and line.

SEC. 2. Every person found guilty of violating any of the ^{Penalty.} provisions of this act shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and all such fines imposed or collected for violation of any provision of this act, shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

CHAPTER 109.

An act relating to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission of the State of California and defining its powers and duties.

[Approved March 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Panama-Pacific International Exposition ^{Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission.} Commission, after the appointment by the governor of the members thereof, shall immediately organize and establish offices in the city and county of San Francisco. At the time of the appointment of said commission, the governor shall designate the president thereof, and the member so designated shall be the president of said commission. Should any vacancy thereafter occur in the presidency of said commission the governor shall designate and appoint a member of said commission to be the president thereof. Three members of said commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Said commission shall adopt a seal having thereon the words "Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission of the State of California", and shall file with the state controller and state treasurer a certificate of the imprint of such seal, and all signatures of persons authorized by said commission to sign contracts, claims or other documents on behalf of said commission.

Powers and duties.

SEC. 2. For the purpose of performing the duties imposed by law upon said commission, it shall have power and authority to appoint and employ a secretary, executive officers, and such other assistants or persons as it may deem necessary, and fix their compensations. All of the officers and employees so appointed shall hold office at the pleasure of the commission. All expense of said commission and all salaries of employees shall be payable out of the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund upon proper warrants drawn therefor as hereinafter specified. The said commissioners shall receive their actual traveling expenses. The commission shall have full and complete power and authority to carry out the provisions of this act and of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California, and the particular enumeration herein of powers and duties of said commission shall not be construed to be a limitation or restriction of the full and complete power and authority of the commission.

SEC. 3. Said commission shall have power to make and execute all contracts and agreements necessary to the business of said commission or to carry out the purposes of this act and section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California. All contracts, made by said commission, shall be executed in triplicate signed by the president thereof and executed under the seal of said commission, and one copy thereof shall be immediately filed with the state controller. No contract or agreement shall be made by said commission unless the parties thereto shall waive therein all claims and recourse against the State of California for loss or damage of person and property arising from, growing out of or in any way connected with or incident to such contract or agreement, and all contracts or agreements made by said commission in violation of this provision for waiver shall be void.

Audit claims.

SEC. 4. The said commission, through the president or such other officer as it shall authorize, shall audit all claims and demands for moneys expended by it, or for expenditures of money which they have authorized in writing, and shall certify such claims and demands to the state controller who shall thereupon draw his warrants therefor upon the state treasurer payable out of said Panama-Pacific international exposition fund and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

Agreement with Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company.

SEC. 5. Said commission shall have power to make and enter into, with the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, organized under the laws of the State of California on the 22d day of March, 1910, any and all agreements which, in the opinion of said commission, they shall deem necessary or advisable to bring about the union or joint action of said commission and said corporation in furtherance of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition, or that they shall deem necessary or advisable to carry into effect the provisions of this act and section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California; provided, however, that all moneys received or realized by said commission for the benefit of the State of California under such agreement, shall be immediately deposited by the commission with the state treasurer to the credit of said Panama-Pacific international exposition fund; said moneys so deposited by said commission shall be subject to the charge and control of said commission in like manner as other moneys in said fund; provided, further, that any exhibitor shall be permitted to unpack, install, maintain and repack all exhibits in such manner as he may see fit, subject to uniform rules and regulations established by the exposition authorities and approved by the commission appointed under the terms of this act.

SEC. 6. The said commission shall determine whether any of said fund or any of the moneys under its control shall be expended for any specific purpose in connection with said Panama-Pacific International Exposition, and whether any contract of any character shall be entered into at any time with said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, and the determination of the said commission as to the expenditure of any sum of money, or as to the making of any contract, or as to the advisability, necessity or advantage of any act in connection with said fund, shall be final and conclusive. In making expenditures in pursuance of this act and in pursuance of the provisions of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California or in performing any act in reference to said fund or in the making of any contract with said exposition company, the said commission shall make such investigations as it may deem advisable or proper and may in any manner that it deems appropriate, inform itself in reference to any matter or thing; and may ask and demand at any time and as often as it desires of the said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, a full and complete detailed statement of the receipts of said corporation and of the expenditures for any purpose whatsoever, made or to be made, or incurred by said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, and may at any time and as often as it desires, examine the books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers, and all papers of every sort and character, in the possession of, kept or used by the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, and the said books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers and all papers of every sort and character of the said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, shall be open to inspection of the said commission or its authorized agents, at all times; and if the said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, shall fail or refuse, or neglect to permit an inspection, or examination, or investigation by said commission, or by any person or persons said commission may designate, of its said books, records, contracts, accounts, vouchers and papers, or any of them, then and in that event, the said commission may hold, determine and decide such failure, refusal or neglect on the part of said Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, to be ample and sufficient reason and justification for the refusal or the failure of said commission to make any expenditures, or to execute any contract, or to pay or disburse any sum of money.

Accounting system.

SEC. 7. The said commission shall ask and demand that in the expenditure of any fund in connection or conjunction with the fund herein described, proper books of account shall be kept and maintained and an appropriate accounting system shall be had, and that such records and books shall be maintained and kept within the city and county of San Francisco, as will enable a person of ordinary understanding from an inspection thereof to determine the source and amount of all income and moneys received and the exact purpose, in detail, for which expenditures are made or moneys paid.

Successors of Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company.

SEC. 8. All of the provisions of this act shall apply to the successors or assigns of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, a corporation, and wherever in this act the said corporation is referred to, the said provisions shall in case any other corporation, or company, or individual, shall succeed to the rights of said corporation, or be substituted in its place, or shall undertake to hold the said exposition, be applicable to such other corporation, person or company.

State not liable.

SEC. 9. The State of California shall not in any manner, or under any circumstances, be liable for any of the acts, doings, or proceedings of any person, association or corporation with whom said commission shall act, cooperate, or join to carry out the purposes of this act, or of section 22 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California, nor for the services, salary, labor or wages of any officers, agents, servants, or employees of such person, association or corporation, nor for any debts, liabilities or expenses of any kind whatsoever of such person, association or corporation; provided, however, that the commission may, in its discretion, employ the same persons, servants, agents or officers that may be employed by such person, association or corporation with which said commission shall act, cooperate and join to carry out the purposes of this act, and contribute to or pay the whole or any part of their compensation.

No member of commission liable.

SEC. 10. No member of said commission, or employe thereunder, or any officers thereof, shall be personally liable for any debts or obligations, or liability that may be created or incurred by said commission or by the State of California acting by or through said commission. Neither said commission nor any member thereof shall be liable in damages for the negligence, default or wrongful act of any of the agents, servants or employees of said commission.

SEC. 11. Said commission may execute contracts, hold prop^{ty} or sue in its own name as the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Commission of the State of California. The provisions of an act entitled: "An act to authorize suits against the state, and regulating the procedure therein," approved February 28, 1893, shall not apply to any claim or contract made by said commission or for negligence of said commissioners.

Commission may sue.

SEC. 12. Said commission shall, on the first day of December of each year, file with the state controller a financial statement under the seal of said commission, and verified by the members thereof, which statement shall show in detail the disposition of all moneys expended by it and to whom the same were paid; all expenditures contracted by it, all amounts paid thereon, and the balance due, if any, and shall file with such financial statement a report of all proceedings of said commission, the work accomplished by it, and plans proposed and the status of all matters under or in connection with the work of said commission and its funds. Upon completion of all work by said commission at the time fixed by law, said commission shall render a full, complete and final report, and file the same with the state controller.

statement.

SEC. 13. All claims and demands arising under or in consequence of any contract or agreement made by said commission, and all expenditures authorized by it, shall be exempt from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code.

Claims
sec. 672.

SEC. 14. Indebtedness incurred and warrants issued by said commission shall be payable only from the Panama-Pacific international exposition fund, and shall never be or become general indebtedness of the State of California.

Indebtedness.

SEC. 15. The commission shall make such contracts as it may deem necessary or appropriate to insure to the State of California, its proportionate share in the returns, income, profits and holdings of said exposition and shall perform such acts as to it may seem requisite for the protection of the interests of the State of California in such returns, income, profits and holdings and shall do all things it may deem advisable to enable the state to receive its proportionate share of said returns, income, profits and holdings, and to this end, if said commission shall deem it advisable, it may provide for its participation in the management and control of the said exposition.

Profits of exposition.

SEC. 16. The state board of equalization shall, at the time mentioned in sections three thousand six hundred and ninety-six of the Political Code, for the fiscal year beginning July first in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, and for each fiscal year thereafter, to and including the fiscal year beginning July first in the year one thousand nine hundred and fourteen, fix, establish and levy such an ad valorem rate of taxation, upon every kind and character of property in the State of California not exempt from taxation on the first day of July in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, as

An act to amend the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California by amending section 1639 thereof, concerning accounts to be rendered by representatives of deceased executors, administrators and guardians.

[Approved March 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1639 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Deceased executor's accounts.

1639. If any executor, administrator or guardian dies, his accounts may be presented by his personal representatives to, and settled by, the court in which the estate of which he was executor, administrator or guardian is being administered, and, upon petition of the successor of such deceased executor, administrator or guardian, such court may compel the personal representatives of such deceased executor, administrator or guardian to render an account of the administration of their testator or intestate, and must settle such account as in other cases.

CHAPTER 115.

An act to amend sections 1240 and 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to the taking of private property for public use.

[Approved March 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1240 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Private property defined.

1240. The private property which may be taken under this title includes:

1. All real property belonging to any person;
2. Lands belonging to this state, including tide and submerged lands, not within the corporate limits of any city, or city and county, or to any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town, not appropriated to some public use;

3. Lands belonging to the United States or owned or held by the United States in trust, or otherwise, for any purpose, except lands owned or held for lighthouses, post offices or other government buildings, forts, arsenals, or other military purposes;

4. Property appropriated to public use; but such property shall not be taken unless for a more necessary public use than that to which it has been already appropriated; provided, that property owned by any person, firm or private corporation may be taken by a municipal corporation for the purpose of supplying water to such corporation or the inhabitants thereof, and such use by any municipal corporation shall be held to be a more necessary use than by a person, firm or private corporation;

5. Franchises for toll-roads, toll-bridges, and ferries, and all other franchises; but such franchises shall not be taken unless for free highways, railroads, or other more necessary public use;

6. All rights of way for any and all the purposes mentioned in section twelve hundred and thirty-eight, and any and all structures and improvements thereon, and the lands held or used in connection therewith shall be subject to be connected with, crossed, or intersected by any other right of way or improvements, or structures thereon. They shall also be subject to a limited use, in common with the owner thereof, when necessary; but such uses, crossings, intersections, and connections shall be made in manner most compatible with the greatest public benefit and least private injury;

No railroad main track crossing, outside the limits of any incorporated town, city or city and county, shall be at grade, unless the party proposing such crossing at grade shall, at its own sole cost and expense, protect such crossing by the construction, operation and maintenance of an interlocking plant, with suitable signals and derails; but either party to such crossing may insist upon a separation of grades, in which case the cost of constructing such crossing with separate grades shall be equally divided between the railroad companies concerned; and provided, further, that where any such crossing has been constructed at grade, either company may, at any time thereafter, require a separation of the grades at such crossing, each company paying one half of the expense of such separation; and provided, further, that the foregoing provisions shall not be construed as requiring a separation of grades where such separation is physically impracticable, and in case of any dispute or controversy as to the physical practicability of any undergrade or overhead crossing, the same shall be determined by the superior court of the county in which such crossing is situate in an action or proceeding brought by either party for that purpose;

7. All classes of private property not enumerated may be taken for public use, when such taking is authorized by law;

8. Proceedings to condemn lands belonging to this state are hereby authorized, and must be maintained and conducted in the same manner as are other condemnation proceedings provided for in this title; except, that in such proceedings the summons and a copy of the complaint must be served on the governor, attorney general, and surveyor general of this state;

9. Proceedings to condemn any of said lands belonging to the United States or owned or held by the United States in trust, or otherwise, for any purpose, are hereby authorized, and must be maintained and conducted in the same manner as are other condemnation proceedings provided for in this title; except, that in such proceedings, the summons and a copy of the complaint must be served on the United States district attorney for the district in which the land sought to be condemned is situated and also upon the United States surveyor general for this state.

SEC. 2. Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1241. Before property can be taken, it must appear:

1. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law;

2. That the taking is necessary to such use;

3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use to which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use; provided, that property owned by any person, firm or private corporation may be taken by a municipal corporation for the purpose of supplying water to such municipal corporation or the inhabitants thereof, and such use by any municipal corporation shall be held to be a more necessary use than by a person, firm or private corporation.

Under 14.

Provided, That the judge of the juvenile court of the county, or city and county, or in any county or city and county in which there is no juvenile court, then any judge of the superior court of the county or city and county in which such child resides shall have authority to issue a permit to work to any such child over the age of twelve years, upon a sworn statement being made to him by the parent of such child that such child is past the age of twelve years, that the parents or parent of such child are incapacitated for labor, through illness, and after investigation by a probation officer or truant officer of the city, or city and county, in which such child resides, or in cities and counties where there are no probation or truant officers, then by such other competent person as the judge may designate for this purpose. The permit, so issued shall specify the kind of labor and the time for which it is issued, and shall in no case be issued for a longer period than shall seem necessary to the judge issuing such permit. Such permit shall be kept on file by the person, firm or corporation employing the child therein designated, during the term of said employment, and shall be given up to such child upon his quitting such employment. Such certificate shall be always open to the inspection of the truant and probation officers of the city and county, city or county, in which the place of employment is situated, or of the officers of the state bureau of labor statistics; and provided, that the attendance officer of any county, city and county, or school district in which any place of employment, in this section named, is situated, shall have the right and authority, at all times to enter into any such place of employment for the purpose of investigating violations of the provisions of this act, or violations of the provisions of an act entitled "An act to enforce the educational rights of children and providing penalties for the violation of the act," approved March 24, 1903, and amended March 20, 1905; provided, however, that if such attendance officer is denied entrance to such place of employment, any magistrate may, upon the filing of an affidavit by such attendance officer setting forth the fact that he has a good cause to believe that the provisions of this act, or the act hereinbefore referred to, are being violated in such place of employment, issue an order directing such attendance officer to enter said place of employment for the purpose of making such investigations; and pro- vided, that any such child over the age of twelve years may be employed at any of the occupations mentioned in this act during the regular vacation of the public schools of the city, county, or city and county, in which the place of employment is situated, upon the production of a permit signed by the principal, vice-principal of the school, or secretary of the board of school trustees or board of education of the school which such child has attended during the term next preceding any such vacation. Such permit shall contain the name and age of the child to whom it is issued, and the date of the termination of the vacation for which it is issued, and shall be kept on file by the employer during the period of employment, and at the termination of such employment shall be returned to the child to whom it was issued.

Minor who can not read English not to work during school hours.

No minor who is under sixteen years of age shall be employed or permitted to work at any gainful occupation during the hours that the public schools of the city, town or school district in which his place of employment is situated are in session, unless he or she can read English at sight and can write legibly and correctly simple English sentences, or unless he or she is a regular attendant for the then current term at a regularly conducted night school. A certificate of the principal of such school shall be held to be sufficient evidence of such attendance.

CHAPTER 117.

An act granting to the city and county of San Francisco the right to construct, maintain and operate a municipal street railroad over, upon and along the lands under the control of the state board of harbor commissioners within the said city and county of San Francisco.

[Approved March 6, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Granting San Francisco right to construct railroad on state lands.

SECTION 1. The right is hereby granted to the city and county of San Francisco to construct, maintain and operate a single or double track municipal street railroad, with the necessary switches, turnouts, cross-overs and appurtenances, over, upon and along the lands of the State of California under the jurisdiction and control of the state board of harbor commissioners, from a point where the boundary line of said state lands intersects the eastern boundary of the Presidio and following the general direction of the water front line to the southern boundary thereof at the northerly line of the county of San Mateo, provided that the right hereby granted shall never be assigned or transferred by said city and county of San Francisco.

SEC. 2. The precise location of the tracks to be laid down shall be determined by the mutual agreement of the board of state harbor commissioners and the municipal authorities of said city and county, but shall be as near as practicable to the seawall, constructed and to be constructed, with as little obstruction as possible to the free use of the property of the state. The city and county of San Francisco shall keep in a good state of repair the space occupied by its tracks, between the tracks and for a space of two feet on each side thereof, and shall pave and repave the same as may be directed by the state board of harbor commissioners.

[Approved March 7, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act providing for the inspection of sheep, the appointment of a board of sheep commissioners and for the appointment of inspectors, prescribing their powers and duties, fixing their compensation, and providing for the raising of funds to pay the same, and providing penalties for the violation hereof." approved March 23, 1907, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 134.

An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination for all public and private schools of California, specifying the duties of certain officers and persons with relation thereto making violations of its provisions a misdemeanor, providing penalties, and repealing an act entitled "An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination in the State of California," approved February 20, 1889.

[Approved March 7, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Within ten days after this act goes into effect, and thereafter within five days after any child or person shall be enrolled or entered in, or shall have entered, enrolled, or shall have been received or employed or commenced work in any school, college, university, academy, or other educational institution, within the State of California, whether the same be public or private, sectarian or non-sectarian, such child or person shall file with the teacher, instructor, principal, superintendent or other person or persons who shall or may be in charge of or in authority over such school, college, university, academy or other educational institution, either a certificate signed by a duly licensed and practicing physician showing that such child or person has been successfully vaccinated (giving the date thereof) within seven years prior to the date when same shall be filed, or a certificate signed by the health officer or board of health, within whose territorial jurisdiction such institution may be located, stating that such child or person has been examined by him and has presented satisfactory evidence that he or she has been successfully vaccinated (giving the date thereof) within such period of seven years, or the statement or certificate provided for in section 2 of this act.

Filing certificate of vaccination.

VACCINATION CERTIFICATE.

This is to certify that was vaccinated on 19.., with proper aseptic precautions, and with vaccine prepared under U. S. Government license. Full instructions were given for home-care during the progress of the vaccinia.

Form of certificate.

I have this day 19.. completed my observations of the case and certified that the vaccination was successful.

Successful vaccination.

Successful vaccination means that there has been evidence of a normal vaccinia, and that ordinarily the person so vaccinated may be assured of immunity to smallpox for at least five years without repetition of the vaccination.

Notice to the Vaccinator.—If repeated vaccinations fail to “take,” read in the instructions in section 9 of the vaccination law.

Duty of physician.

It shall be the duty of every physician and person who shall vaccinate any child or person to take proper aseptic precautions, to use only vaccine prepared under United States government or State of California license, to give to the child or person full instructions for home-care during the progress of the vaccinia, and when observation of the case is completed and found to be successful, to furnish a vaccination certificate in the form prescribed by the terms of this section.

In lieu of certificate.

SEC. 2. In lieu of the certificates provided for in section 1 of this act, and within the same period and with the same person or persons, such child or person may file annually a statement in writing, signed by his or her parent or guardian, if such child or person be a minor, and by himself, in other cases, stating that such parent, guardian or person is conscientiously opposed to the practice of vaccination and will not consent to the vaccination of such child or person, or the certificate of a duly licensed and practicing physician stating that the physical condition of such child or person is, at the time, such that vaccination would seriously endanger the life or health of such child or person, and thereupon such child or person shall be exempt from the provisions of section 1 of this act as otherwise provided.

Blank.

SEC. 2a. The school trustees or directors in each school district, city, city and county within this state shall furnish such parent, guardian or person a printed blank to be filled out in writing as provided in section 2 hereof. This blank shall be substantially in the following form:

List of vaccinated children.

SEC. 3. The person with whom such certificates are required to be filed, as aforesaid, shall forthwith deliver them to the health officer within whose territorial jurisdiction such institution may be situated, and such health officer or other proper person shall at once examine the same and make and preserve a list of those children and persons who have been successfully vaccinated within seven years prior to the said date of filing (with the date of such vaccination) and a separate list of those who have not been so vaccinated. Such health officer or other proper person shall thereupon return the vaccination certifi-ates provided for in section 1 of this act, to the person from whom he received them, who shall surrender them to their respective owners, and such health officer shall preserve in his office the statements and certificates provided for in sections 2 and 2a of this act.

Of those not vaccinated.

SEC. 4. Any child or person who shall fail, neglect or refuse to file a certificate or statement as required by section 1 and section 2 and section 2a. of this act, within ten days after this act goes into effect, or who shall thereafter so fail, neglect or refuse to file such certificate or statement within said period of five days, shall thereupon be excluded from admission to, attendance upon, from the benefits of, and from service in connection with such institution, until such time as he or she shall file such certificate or statement, and it shall be the duty of every teacher, instructor, principal and other person in charge of or in authority over such institution so to exclude such child or person.

Failure to file certificate or statement.

SEC. 5. Whenever any case or cases of smallpox shall exist in any school district, incorporated city or town, or city and county, it shall be the duty of the state board of health to make, or cause to be made a thorough investigation as to whether such smallpox does exist, and as to whether any child or person enrolled or entered in, or employed or working in any such school, college, university, academy or other educational institution, within the State of California, whether the same be public or private, sectarian or non-sectarian, has been exposed to the contagion or infection of such smallpox. If upon such examination the state board of health shall find that smallpox does exist therein, all children or persons, who have not been successfully vaccinated, within seven years then last past, shall be excluded forthwith and continuously from admission to, attendance upon, the benefits of, or service in connection with any and all schools, colleges, universities, academics and other educational institutions situated in such school district, city, town, or city and county until such children shall have been successfully vaccinated, or until such time as such smallpox shall cease to exist in such school district, city, town, or city and county; and it is further provided, that such other vaccinated children or persons shall be excluded from all the rights and privileges as in this section contained as the state board of health or its representatives may direct; provided, that in cities, cities and counties, and districts, where two or more schools are maintained, the state board of health shall subdivide such cities, cities and counties or districts, and for such period as it shall determine to be advisable, unvaccinated children and persons may be permitted to attend schools in subdivisions in which no smallpox exists.

Children not vaccinated to be excluded from schools whenever cases of smallpox exist in district.

SEC. 6. Whenever any such case or cases of smallpox as in section 5 contained shall exist in any school district, city or city and county, within this state, the health officer or other proper person or health officers within whose territorial jurisdiction such district, city or city and county may be situated.

Duty of health officer whenever cases of smallpox exist.

shall forthwith furnish to the teacher, instructor, principal, superintendent, or other person in charge of or in authority over, each of the schools, colleges, universities, academies and other educational institutions, situated within his jurisdiction, a certificate showing the existence of such smallpox in such district, city, or city and county, and a list of the unvaccinated children or persons in attendance upon or employed in connection with such schools, respectively, and requiring that such unvaccinated children and persons be excluded as provided in section 5 of this act.

State board to decide in case of question.

SEC. 7. Whenever any question shall arise as to whether smallpox does or does not exist in any district, city, or city and county, the state board of health shall make, or cause to be made an investigation and the determination of said board, or that of its secretary, if said board is not in session, shall be final as to the question of fact.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 8. Every person who shall violate any provision of this act shall be deemed to be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a period of not more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Child not able to be vaccinated.

SEC. 9. Whenever any child or person shall file, as in this act provided, a certificate signed by a duly licensed and practicing physician and showing that within one year of the date of filing, such child or person has used due diligence and can not be successfully vaccinated, such child or person shall be exempt from provisions of this act for the period of one year therefrom.

SEC. 10. Nothing in this act shall be construed to be in conflict with or contrary to any of the rules, regulations or requirements of any private school, academy, college, university, or other educational institution which may at any time provide for excluding all unvaccinated children and persons therefrom.

SEC. 11. An act entitled "An act to encourage and provide for a general vaccination in the State of California," approved February 20, 1889, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 12. This act shall take effect from the time of its passage.

CHAPTER 138.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits therein, also to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits for their joint benefit, and at their joint expense, and to make and enter into contracts for said purposes," approved March 22, 1909, extending the provisions of said act to include sanitary districts.

[Approved March 7, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act authorizing municipal corporations to permit other municipal corporations to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits therein, also to construct and maintain sewers, water mains, and other conduits for their joint benefit, and at their joint expense, and to make and enter into contracts for said purposes," approved March 22, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

One city may construct sewers, etc., for another.

Section 1. Any municipal corporation or sanitary district, under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the city council, or other legislative body thereof, is hereby authorized and empowered to permit any other municipal corporation or sanitary district to construct and maintain sewers, water mains or other conduits in, across, or along the streets and other public places of such municipal corporation or sanitary district, and to use the same for such purposes, under the provisions of this act, and not otherwise.

SEC. 2. Whenever the city council, a sanitary board or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or sanitary district shall find, and by resolution shall declare, that the location of such municipal corporation or sanitary district, or any portion of the territory included therein, is such that the same can not be adequately or conveniently provided with sewers, water mains or other conduits, without the construction and maintenance by such municipal corporation or sanitary district of certain sewers, water mains, or other conduits connecting therewith, in, across, or along certain streets, or other public places of any other municipal corporation or corporations, or sanitary district or districts, such city council, sanitary board or other legislative body, may cause a copy of such resolution to be submitted to the council, sanitary board or other legislative body of such other municipal corporation or corporations or sanitary district or districts, in which such streets or other public places are situated. Said resolution shall contain a description of the sewers, water mains, or other conduits proposed to be constructed and maintained in such other municipal corporation or corporations or sanitary district or districts, and shall designate the streets, or other public places thereof, in, across or along which such sewers, water mains or other conduits are so proposed to be constructed and maintained. Said resolution shall be accompanied by a request in writing, that the municipal corporation or sanitary district, on behalf of which the same is made, signed by the clerk thereof, be granted permission to construct and maintain the sewers, water mains or other conduits described in said resolution. The city council, sanitary board or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or sanitary district receiving such request and a copy of such resolution may by ordinance (or by resolution in case of a sanitary district) grant such permission at its discretion, and under such terms and conditions as it shall therein prescribe. If the permission granted under the provisions of this section shall be for the construction and maintenance of sewers, the city council, sanitary board or other legislative body of any municipal corporation or sanitary district granting the same, may, as a condition to the exercising of such permission, require that said municipal corporation or sanitary district shall have the right to connect its sewers with the sewers to be constructed under such permission, and to use the same in connection with its sewer system, upon the payment by it of such proportionate part of the cost of construction and maintenance of such sewers to the municipal corporation or sanitary district by which the same shall be constructed, as may be determined by resolutions of the city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, or both municipal corporations or sanitary districts; such payment to be made at such times and in such amounts as may be so determined.

SEC. 3. All contracts for the construction or completion of any sewers, water mains or other conduits, or for furnishing labor or materials therefor, to be constructed by any municipal corporation or sanitary district in, across or along the streets of any other municipal corporation or corporations or sanitary district or districts, as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The city council, sanitary board, or other legislative body of the municipal corporation or sanitary district so constructing such sewers, water mains or other conduits, under permission granted as in this act provided, shall advertise for at least ten days in one or more newspapers published in such municipal corporation or sanitary district (or in one or more newspapers published in the county in which said municipal corporation or sanitary district is situated, if there be no newspaper published in such municipal corporation or sanitary district), inviting sealed proposals for furnishing the labor and materials for the proposed work before any contract shall be made therefor. The said city council or sanitary board or other legislative body, shall require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract work, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting such municipal corporation or sanitary district itself from constructing or completing such works, and employing the labor necessary therefor, without such advertisement for proposals or letting of a contract; and provided, further, that in any municipal corporation operating under a freeholders' charter, heretofore or hereafter framed under section 8 of article XI of the constitution, and providing for a board of public works, all the matters and things required in this section to be done and performed by the city council, or other legislative body of such municipal corporation, shall be done and performed by the board of public works thereof; and provided, further, that in case such charter or general law under which such municipal corporation or sanitary district is operating or existing, prescribes the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials or supplies, for the construction or completion of public works or improvements, the contracts for such sewers, water mains, or other conduits shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter or general law.

SEC. 4. Whenever the councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations and one or more sanitary districts, shall find, and by resolutions adopted by them shall declare, that it will be for the interest or advantage of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts so to do, such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, by their respective city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, may enter into a joint agreement authorizing the construction and maintenance of sewers, water mains, or other conduits situated in the streets or other public places of either or any of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, or in part outside of the limits thereof, at the joint cost and expense of, and for the joint use and benefit of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, upon such terms and conditions, and under such regulations, as may be approved by the city councils, sanitary boards or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts; and the city council, sanitary boards, or other legislative body of each such municipal corporation or sanitary district may bind and obligate such municipal corporation or sanitary district to pay such proportionate part of the cost of the construction and maintenance of such sewers, water mains, or other conduits at such times and in such installments as may be so approved. All contracts for the construction of sewers, water mains, or other conduits, under the provisions of this section shall be made and entered into by the one of such municipal corporations or sanitary districts designated by the city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies of all such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, and in the manner provided in section 3 of this act. Two or more municipal corporations, two or more sanitary districts, or one or more municipal corporations and one or more sanitary districts, may also, by their city councils, sanitary boards, or other legislative bodies, enter into an agreement or agreements with each other for the joint use by such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, of any sewers, water mains, or other conduits theretofore, in whole or in part, constructed in the streets or other public places of either or any such municipal corporations or sanitary districts, upon such terms and conditions as they may, by mutual agreement made by their respective city councils sanitary boards or other legislative bodies, determine to be proper.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 139.

An act authorizing levee districts of the state to incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing levees of the district; or for excavating and constructing ditches or canals of such districts; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levees, ditches, or canals; or for any and all of said purposes.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any levee district formed or organized by or under the laws of California, may incur a bonded indebtedness for the purpose of building, constructing, or repairing the levee or levees of such district; or in excavating or constructing any ditches or canals of such district; or for the purpose of acquiring rights of way for any such levee, or ditches, or canals; or for any and all of said purposes. Such indebtedness shall be incurred in the following manner, to wit:

Levee district may issue bonds.

Report of engineer.

Whenever it shall become necessary in the opinion of the board of trustees or directors of any such levee district to build, construct, or repair any levee for the protection of the lands of the district from overflow; or to excavate or construct any ditches or canals for the purpose of draining the lands of the district or any part thereof; or for acquiring rights of way for either of such purposes, the trustees or directors of such levee district shall, by resolution, employ some civil engineer, and direct him to make a report in writing to said board of trustees or directors, containing his recommendations as to the best method of doing said work. Said report shall show:

1. A description of the work to be done.
2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work required.
3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.
4. An estimate of the expense of such work, including an estimate of the cost of acquiring rights of way for such work, should such rights of way be required.
5. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising.

Adoption of report.

SEC. 2. After the report of the engineer provided for in the next preceding section has been filed with the board of trustees or directors of such levee district, said board shall consider the same and shall have power, by resolution, to adopt the same as filed by said engineer, or to modify or change the same, and to adopt the same as so modified or changed; and said report shall be adopted as originally presented if not modified or changed, but if modified or changed it shall be adopted as so modified or changed.

Notice to taxpayers.

SEC. 3. Within ten days after the adoption of the report as provided in section two of this act, the board of trustees or directors of such levee district shall give notice thereof to all taxpayers of the district. Such notice shall specify a day and hour when and where any and all persons may appear before said board and show cause, if any they have, why said work provided for in said report should not be carried out in accordance therewith, said time to be not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the adoption of said report.

Publication of notice.

Said notice shall briefly outline the proposed work, and shall refer to the said report on file with said board for a particular description of the work to be done. Such notice shall be conspicuously posted in three of the most public places within said district, and published in some newspaper printed and published in the county where said district is situated; or, if said district is situated in more than one county, then in a newspaper printed and published in each of the counties wherein any portion of said district is situated. for a period of three weeks prior to the day of hearing.

SEC. 4. At the time mentioned in the notice provided for in section three of this act, to wit: At the time specified in said notice, at which the taxpayers of the district are notified to appear before the board to show cause why the work provided for in the report adopted by the board should not be carried out, there shall be filed with said board an affidavit that such notice has been posted as provided for in said section three. and an affidavit of the printer or publisher, or the principal clerk of such printer or publisher of the newspaper or newspapers in which said notice has been published, showing that such notice has been published as provided for by said section three. Said board of trustees or directors, before proceeding with said hearing, shall cause to be entered upon the minutes of the meeting an order reciting that such notice of said hearing has been posted and published according to law, and such recitals shall be conclusive evidence of the facts therein recited. Said board shall thereupon proceed with the hearing of any objections which shall have been made in writing and filed with said board not later than the hour fixed for said hearing as specified in said notice. and no other objections shall be considered. Said hearing may be continued from time to time by said board, and all parties interested shall be deemed to have notice of said continuances. All objection to the performance of the work specified in said report must be in writing, and must state the objector's grounds of opposition and must be signed by the objector: and objections which do not comply with these requirements shall not be considered by said board.

of publisher.

Objections.

SEC. 5. At the close of the hearing provided for in section four of this act, the board of trustees or directors of such levee district shall have power to set aside, modify, or confirm the resolution provided for in section two of this act; in case the board, after such hearing, shall decide that it will be for the best interest of the district to proceed with the work, it shall, by resolution, so declare; and in case the said original plan of the work shall have been modified or changed after such hearing, the board shall direct the engineer of the district to estimate the cost of the work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed, and to report the same to the board. The engineer of the district shall thereupon, in case such original plan shall have been changed or modified, make a report to the board in accordance with the modifications or changes adopted by it, and such report must show:

Board may confirm resolution.

Report of engineer.

1. A description of the work to be done as changed or modified by the board after said hearing.

2. The plans, profiles, cross-sections and specifications of the work as so changed and modified by the board.

3. A general description of the lands required for rights of way for the work, if any such are required.

4. An estimate of the expense of such work in accordance with the plan so modified or changed by the board, including an estimate of the cost of acquiring rights of way for such work, should any such rights of way be required.

5. An estimate of all incidental expenses likely to be incurred in connection with the work as planned, such as clerical, engineering, inspection, printing and advertising.

Reapproval of
report.

SEC. 6. If, after the hearing provided for in section four of this act, the report of the engineer as finally adopted under the provisions of section two of this act, has not been changed or modified by said board, the board shall, by resolution, finally reapprove and readopt said report in all respects as approved and adopted under the provisions of said section two; in case, after such hearing, the report of the engineer as finally adopted under the provisions of said section two has been changed or modified by said board, the board shall, by resolution, finally reapprove and readopt said report as so changed or modified; and in either case the resolution reapproving and readopting said report shall state the amount of the entire estimate of the expense of such work.

Bonds.
amount,
rate of interest, etc.

SEC. 7. The board of trustees or directors of such levee district shall, by order entered upon the minutes of said board, specify the amount of bonds which it is proposed to issue, which, in any case, shall not exceed the entire estimate of the expense of the work as planned, the rate of interest to be paid and the number of years, not exceeding twenty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run; and said order shall further provide for submitting the question of the issuance of said bonds to the taxpayers of the district, at an election to be called by the board for that purpose, and the words to appear upon the ballot shall be: "Bonds—Yes" and "Bonds—No," or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of the bonds to be issued. Said order shall name a time and place of holding such election, which place shall be at some convenient place in the district. The board shall appoint one inspector, two judges, and one clerk to conduct said election, all of whom must be electors and taxpayers of the district. Notice of such election shall be given by publication in a newspaper published in the county in which such district or some part thereof is situated, once a week for at least four weeks prior to said election. Such notice must contain the time and place of holding such election, the names of the election officers to conduct the same, the amount and denomination of the bonds, the rate of interest to be paid, and the number of years, not exceeding twenty, the whole or any part of such bonds are to run. If any election officer appointed by said board and named in such notice is not present at the time for opening of the polls, the voters present may appoint an election officer to take the place of such election officer so absent. Before opening the polls, each officer of election must take and subscribe an oath to faithfully perform the duties imposed upon him by law. Any voter of the district may administer and certify such oath. At such election any voter qualified to vote for the election of officers of said district, and none other, shall be permitted to vote thereat; and such election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law of the state, except that registration shall not be required; and except, also, that persons voting at such bond elections shall put a cross (X) upon their ballots with pencil or ink, after the words "Bonds—Yes" or "Bonds—No" (as the case may be), to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of bonds; and except, also, that the returns of such election shall be canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors of the county in which such election is held, at the next regular meeting of said board after such election. No ballot shall be rejected because of any distinguishing marks made thereon. If a majority of the voters of the district voting at such election shall vote in favor of issuance of bonds, the board of trustees or directors of said levee district must proceed to issue the amount of bonds specified. Said board of trustees or directors, by an order or resolution entered upon its minutes, shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto, and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than twenty years from the date thereof; and said bonds shall be issued in sums of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each, and shall have not more than twenty years to run, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, payable semi-annually; and said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

Bonds to be numbered and signed.

Counter-signed by auditor.

SEC. 8. Bonds issued under this act shall be numbered consecutively, signed by the chairman of the board of directors or trustees, as the case may be, and delivered to the auditor of the county in which the levee district is situated; or if situated in more than one county, then to the auditor of the county in which the greater portion of said district is situated, who shall countersign the same and affix thereto his official seal, and shall by him be delivered to the treasurer of the district, who shall deliver to such auditor his receipt therefor, and said treasurer shall stand charged on his official bond with all the bonds delivered to him and the proceeds thereof, and he shall sell the same to the highest bidder for cash in gold coin of the United States, but in no event for a less sum than the face value of the bonds and all interest accrued thereon at the date of such sale. All moneys realized from the sale of said bond shall be placed in the treasury of the district, and shall not be expended for any purpose other than in the payment of the expense of the work for which such bonded indebtedness was incurred, as specified in section one of this act.

Treasurer to keep record.

The treasurer of the district shall keep a record of all bonds sold by him, by number, date of sale, amount, date of maturity, and the name and post office address of the purchaser, which record shall be open at all times for public inspection.

Tax levy.

SEC. 9. The board of directors or trustees shall cause to be assessed and levied each year upon the assessable property of the district, in addition to the levy authorized for other purposes, a sufficient sum to pay the interest on outstanding bonds, issued in conformity with the provisions of this act, accruing before the next annual levy, and such proportion of the principal, that at the end of five years the sum raised from such levies shall equal at least twenty per cent of the amount of bonds issued, at the end of nine years at least forty per cent of the amount, and at and before the date of maturity of the bonds shall be equal to the whole amount of the principal; and the money arising from such levies shall be known as the bond fund, and shall be used for the payment of bonds and interest coupons, and for no other purpose whatever; and the treasurer shall open and keep in his books a separate and special account thereof, which at all times shall show the exact condition of said bond fund.

SEC. 10. Whenever there shall be in the bond fund of such district a surplus of five hundred dollars or more over and above the interest maturing before the next levy, the treasurer shall give notice for two weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation, printed and published in the county in which such district is situated, stating the amount of such surplus, and that on the day and hour named in such notice, sealed proposals will be received at his office for the surrender of bonds of the district, and shall at the time and place named open the proposals and accept the lowest bid; provided, that no bid shall be accepted for an amount exceeding the par value of such bonds with accrued interest; if bids are not offered at par, or less, sufficient to exhaust the amount on hand applicable to redemption, the treasurer shall publish for the same time and in the same manner a notice that he will redeem a bond or bonds of said district, giving the number or numbers thereof, and that if not presented for redemption within thirty days after the date of the first publication of such notice, the interest thereon will cease, and the amount due thereon will be set aside for the payment of such bond or bonds whenever presented. If any such bond be not so presented, interest thereon shall cease, and the amount due thereon shall be set aside as specified in said notice. All redemption of bonds other than those voluntarily surrendered shall be made in the exact order of their issuance, beginning with the lowest or first number.

Redemption of bonds.

SEC. 11. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 140.

An act to amend section 3398 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the surveyor general being the general agent of the state for the location in the United States land offices of lieu land; relating also to locations in the United States land offices of lands desired to be selected in lieu of grants made to the state, and said section as hereby amended also providing that the surveyor general shall not perfect certain selections made on or before March 24, 1909, and providing also that no further action thereon shall be taken.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3398 of the Political Code of the State of California, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

3398. The surveyor general is the general agent of the state for the location in the United States land offices of the lands desired to be selected and located in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections granted to the state for the use of the public schools, and in lieu of any and all losses sustained by the state to its school grant, whenever he is authorized by law to make such location or locations, or whenever for any reason he is authorized to select lands in lieu of grants made to the state; but no such selection or reselection or designation shall hereafter in any manner be made, except upon the surrender to the surveyor general, as in this article provided, of a certificate of indemnity or scrip. The surveyor general shall not perfect or amend or correct any selection, reselection, amended selection, designation or redesignation made on or before March 24, 1909, or take any action whatever in relation thereto or thereon, unless the said selection, reselection, amended selection, designation or redesignation was duly received by the register or receiver of the local United States land office, and given a register and receiver's number and duly forwarded to the general land office at Washington, D. C., and became and now is a part of the records of such general land office at Washington, D. C. No reselection of any land for, which a certificate of purchase is outstanding shall be made by the surveyor general until the certificate of purchase issued therefor shall have been surrendered.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 141.

An act to provide for the cancellation of application for lieu lands made prior to March 24, 1909, wherein selections were not made and forwarded to the United States land office by the surveyor general on or before March 24, 1909, and for the cancellation of all applications for such lieu lands made prior to March 24, 1909, where the selections of the lands described therein were not duly forwarded to and received by the register and receiver of the local United States land office and given a register and receiver's number, and forwarded to the general land office, at Washington, D. C., and of record therein.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any and all applications for lieu lands, made prior to March 24, 1909, wherein the selections of the lands applied for were not made and forwarded by the surveyor general to the United States land office on or before March 24, 1909, are hereby declared to be null and void, and shall be canceled by the surveyor general; and, likewise, any and all applications for lieu lands made prior to March 24, 1909, where the selections of the lands described in said applications were not duly received by the register and receiver of the local United States land office, and given a register and receiver's number, and which were not duly forwarded to the general land office at Washington, D. C., and which did not become and are not now a part of the records of such general land office at Washington, D. C., are hereby declared to be null and void and of no force or effect and shall be canceled of record by the surveyor general.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 142.

An act to amend section 3494 of the Political Code, relating to the sale of school lands.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3494 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

3494. The unsold portion of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school land belonging to the state which are not situated within the exterior boundaries of a military, Indian or forest reservation created by authority of the United States, or of a national forest, national park or national monument, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry for forest purposes, and lands selected in lieu thereof on or before March 24, 1909, where the selection was duly forwarded to the local United States land office and given a register and receiver's number and forwarded to the general land office at Washington, D. C., and which became and now is a part of the records of such general land office at Washington, D. C., must be sold at the rate of two dollars and fifty cents per acre, in gold coin, payable, twenty per cent of the principal within fifty days from the date of the certificate of location issued to the purchaser; the balance, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, in advance, is due and payable within one year after the passage of any act by the legislature requiring such payment, or before, if desired by the purchaser; provided, however, that any applicant whose application is now on file for any of the lands above described, to wit, the unsold portion of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the state for school purposes, the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school land belonging to the state which are not situated within the exterior boundaries of a military, Indian or forest reservation created by authority of the United States, or of a national forest, national park or national monument, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry for forest purposes, and lands selected in lieu thereof on or before March 24, 1909, where the selection was duly forwarded to the local United States land office and given a register and receiver's number and forwarded to the general land office at Washington, D. C., and which became and now is a part of the records of such general land office at Washington, D. C., may complete the purchase of such lands at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents ($1.25) per acre, in gold coin, payable, twenty per cent of the principal within fifty days from the date of the certificate of location, the balance, bearing interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, in advance, is due and payable within one year after the passage of any act of the legislature requiring such payment, or before if desired by the purchaser; provided, said application be good and valid and said applicant shall have complied in all respects with the laws in relation to the sale of such lands. The sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school land which are situated within the exterior boundaries of a military, Indian or forest reservation created by authority of the United States, or of a national forest, national park or national monument, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry for forest purposes, are withdrawn from sale. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as a recognition that the said sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections last above referred to have not heretofore been withdrawn from sale. Lieu lands applied for or selected subsequent to March 24, 1909, shall be sold and disposed of as provided in article I of chapter I of the title VIII of part III of this code.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 143.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered section thirty-eight hundred and four a, relating to the cancellation of erroneous assessments.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered section thirty-eight hundred and four a, to read as follows:

3804a. When property that is exempt from taxation has been erroneously assessed, or when improvements which did not in fact exist when the tax became a lien, have been erroneously assessed on real estate, the board of supervisors may, upon satisfactory proof thereof, with the written consent of the district attorney, and by an order entered upon its minutes, direct the auditor to cancel such assessment; and if real property has been sold to the state for non-payment of the tax levied on such property or improvements so erroneously assessed, and a certificate of sale or deed therefor has been issued to the state, and the state has not disposed of the property so sold, the order of the board shall also direct the recorder to cancel the certificate of sale or deed so issued, so far as the same relates to such exempt property or non-existing improvements. In the city and county of San Francisco the written consent of the city attorney shall have the same effect as the written consent of the district attorney.

CHAPTER 144.

An act to amend the Penal Code of the State of California, by adding a new section thereto to be known as section 626p relating to the protection of beaver.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code of the State of California, to be numbered 626p, and to read as follows:

626p. Every person who at any time takes, catches, or kills, or has in his possession any beaver, is guilty of a misdemeanor. Killing

CHAPTER 145.

An act to amend section two thousand five hundred and twenty of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March 12, 1872, said section two thousand five hundred and twenty relating to the establishment of a board of state harbor commissioners, providing for the number of such commissioners, their nomination and appointment, term of office and duties.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the state of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two thousand five hundred and twenty of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March 12, 1872, is hereby amended to read as follows:

2520. A board of state harbor commissioners, to consist of three persons, is hereby created, with such powers and duties as are prescribed by law. On the passage of this act the governor must nominate, and, by and with the consent of the Board of state harbor commissioners.

Senate, appoint three state harbor commissioners. Any and all harbor commissioners heretofore or hereafter appointed shall hold office at the pleasure of the governor. When any appointment of any successor to any commissioner is made by the governor, such appointment shall be valid to all intents and purposes, subject, however, to the consent of the senate at its next regular session, and, until such time, the person so appointed shall have as full and ample power and authority as though confirmed by the senate. In case the senate, during its session, fail to act on or refuse its consent to any nomination the governor may make of any person or persons to constitute the board herein provided for, he must, after the adjournment of the senate, grant a commission or commissions to such person or persons as he may desire to appoint, which appointment or appointments shall be valid to all intents and purposes, subject, however, to the consent of the senate at its next regular session, and until such time the person or persons so appointed shall have as full and ample power and authority as though confirmed by the senate. The board of state harbor commissioners hereby created shall be the legal successor to any and all previous boards. When the board herein provided for is appointed, it shall organize and elect a president and executive officer of the board. It shall be his duty to preside at its meetings, to supervise the official conduct of all its officers and employees, especially in the collection, custody and disbursements of the revenues, and to require that all the books, papers and accounts be accurately kept and in proper form, and all the provisions of law and the regulations of the board be enforced and observed. He may administer official oaths to the officers and employees of the board, except the other commissioners, and to all other persons in relation to the business of the board.

SEC. 2. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 146.

An act to amend section 632½ of the Penal Code of the State of California, relating to the protection and preservation of fish.

[Approved March 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 632½ of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

632½. Every person who between the first day of November and the first day of April of the year following, takes, catches, kills, destroys or has in his possession, any steelhead trout taken above tide water; every person who, between the first day of April and the first day of November of the same year, takes, catches, kills, destroys or has in his possession, any steelhead trout, taken above tide water, which have been taken, caught or killed except with hook and line; every person who between the first day of February and the twenty-third day of October of the same year, buys, sells, offers or exposes for sale, any steelhead trout; every person who at any time, takes, catches, kills, destroys or has in his possession, any steelhead trout taken in tide waters, which have been taken, caught or killed except with hook and line, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that it shall be lawful to take, catch, kill and have in possession any steelhead trout taken in tide water, with gill nets, the meshes of which are, when drawn closely together and measured inside the knot, six and one half or more inches in length, between the twenty-third day of October and the first day of February of the year following. Nothing herein shall apply to domestically reared steelhead trout.

Every person found guilty of any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be fined in a sum not less than twenty ($20.00) dollars, or be imprisoned in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than ten (10) days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. Nothing in this section prohibits the United States fish commission and the board of fish and game commissioners of this state from taking at all times such trout as they deem necessary for the purpose of propagation or for scientific purposes. Penalty.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 157.

An act relating to the bonds of irrigation districts, providing under what circumstances such bonds may become legal investments for the funds of banks, banking associations, trust companies, insurance companies and for the state school funds, and providing that such bonds may be deposited as security, and providing for a commission for approving such bonds, for a report thereon, for the filing of such report and for the registration of such bonds in the office of the state controller.

[Approved March 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Bonds of irrigation
districts.

SECTION 1. Whenever hereafter the board of directors of any irrigation district organized or existing under and by virtue of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, shall by resolution declare that it deems it desirable that bonds of such district shall be authorized, the said board of directors shall thereupon file a certified copy of such resolution with the commission hereinafter provided for, and no bonds shall hereafter be authorized by such districts except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 2. Such commission, upon receipt of a certified copy of such resolution shall without delay make or cause to be made an investigation of the affairs of such district and report upon the following facts:

Report of commission.

(a) Water, water rights, canals, reservoirs, reservoir sites and irrigation works acquired or to be acquired by such district and the reasonable value thereof.

(b) The reasonable market value of the lands included within the boundaries of the district.

(c) The physical feasibility of the project and the approximate cost thereof.

SEC. 3. A written report of the investigation herein provided for shall be filed in the office of the state controller; and if said commission shall report that the project is feasible such district shall be authorized to issue bonds as provided in the act under which it is organized or existing to the amount of sixty per centum of the then aggregate value of the lands, water, water rights, canals, reservoirs, reservoir sites and irrigation works as set forth in said report, and such amount of bonds may thereafter from time to time be increased upon like proceedings as the value of said lands, water, water rights, canals, reservoirs, reservoir sites and irrigation works increases.

Report
filed with controller.

Amount
of bonds.

SEC. 4. All bonds issued by said districts shall be registered with the state controller and it is hereby made the duty of the state controller to provide for the filing and preserving of such reports and the registration of such bonds.

Bonds to be registered with controller.

SEC. 5. All bonds issued in compliance with the requirements of this act, and all bonds that heretofore have been voted or authorized by irrigation districts organized or existing under the act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts and to provide for the acquisition and construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts and also to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, or the acts amendatory or supplemental thereto; provided, that such districts are now actually engaged in the distribution of water and are not in default in the payment of interest upon any bonds, shall be legal investments for all trusts funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, banking institutions and trust companies and for the state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or municipalities in the State of California such money or funds may be invested in the said bonds of irrigation districts, and whenever such bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or municipalities may by any law now or hereafter enacted be deposited as security for any money or deposits or for the performance of any act, bonds of irrigation districts under the limitations in this act provided, may be so used or deposited.

Commission.

SEC. 6. The attorney general, the state engineer and the superintendent of banks are hereby constituted the commission herein provided for.

Expenses.

SEC. 7. All necessary expenses incurred in making the investigation and report in this act provided for shall be paid at the time of the making of the same, by the irrigation district whose property has been investigated and reported on by said commission.

CHAPTER 158.

An act to provide a state highway from Meyer's station in El Dorado county, California, to McKinney's in Placer county, California, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation-
state highway.

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) for the purpose of locating, surveying, and constructing a state highway from a point on the Lake Tahoe state wagon road, at or near Meyer's station, in El Dorado county, California, thence past Tallac, Emerald Bay, to McKinney's, in Placer county, California.

Under direction of department of engineering

SEC. 2. The work of locating, surveying and constructing said state highway is placed under the management and control of the department of engineering, and it shall be the duty of the said state department to locate, survey and construct said road along the route herein mentioned. Of the money hereby appropriated seven thousand five hundred dollars shall be available on and after July 1, 1911, and seventeen thousand five hundred dollars on and after July 1, 1912. The state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant in such sums and at such times as the state engineer may, after said funds become available, present claims therefor, and the state treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 159.

An act authorizing the governor of the State of California to issue licenses to bodies of men to organize, drill, and bear arms as military companies or organizations, and providing for their control.

[Approved March 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The governor shall have power to issue licenses to bodies of men to organize, drill and bear arms as military companies or organizations; provided, that whenever any such body of men shall associate themselves as a military company or organization and drill with arms under the license of the governor, such military company or organization shall file with the adjutant general of this state, at such time as the governor may designate, a muster roll of such military company or organization, certified by the oath of the commanding officer thereof, which muster roll shall contain the names, ages, occupations and places of residence of all members thereof, and the number and character of all arms in the possession of such organization, and shall appear for inspection by the adjutant general or such military inspector as the governor shall designate, at least once a year, at their respective armories, at such time as the governor shall designate; and provided, further, that each member of such military company or organization shall take and subscribe to an oath, before any officer authorized to administer the same, that he will support the constitution of the United States and the constitution of the State of California and will obey and maintain all laws and all officers employed in administering the same; and provided, further, that whenever the governor, in his judgment, shall deem it necessary for the public safety, he may call into active service of the state for the causes and purposes for which he may call the national guard into the active service of the state, any such military company or organization, and such military company or organization shall rendezvous and report for active service at such time and place and to such officer as the governor shall designate, and shall enter the active service of the state and obey all lawful orders and commands as shall be issued by the governor or any officer placed in command by his orders, in the manner as if such military company or organization were a part of the national guard, and the members of such military company or organization when called into active service by order of the governor shall be subject to all military penalties and punishments for violation of the orders of the governor, or of any officer placed in command of such organization by order of the governor, as are the members of the national guard, and shall be subject to the articles of war, the rules and regulations governing the national guard and shall receive the same pay and allowances while in active service as the members of the national guard; and provided, however, that students in educational institutions where military science is a part of the course of instruction shall be exempt from the provisions of this act.

An act to amend sections 1908, 1935, 1933, 1980, 1985, 3008, 2011, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2085, and 2112, of the Political Code of the State of California, and to add two new sections to said code to be known as sections 1932½ and 1934½, all relating to the organization, equipment, maintenance, and government of the national guard of the State of California.

[Approved March 9, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1908 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Staff of commander-in-chief.

1908. The staff of the commander-in-chief shall consist of the chiefs of the several staff corps and departments of the national guard, and the colonel of the adjutant general's department of the national guard, and may include the following personal aids-de-camp: five aids-de-camp who the commander-in-chief may appoint at discretion, and who shall have the rank of lieutenant colonel, and one naval aid with rank of commander and such appointment shall operate as a commission of such aids-de-camp. The commander-in-chief is also authorized to detail from time to time, as their services may be required, five officers of the national guard, and one officer of the naval militia, as aids-de-camp. The officers so detailed shall not be relieved from their regular duties, except when actually on duty with the commander-in-chief, and such detail shall terminate upon the expiration of the term of office of the governor upon whose staff they may be serving, or at the pleasure of the governor. The detail as such aid-de-camp shall not affect the grade or commission of any officer so detailed.

SEC. 2. Section 1925 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

National guard.

1925. The national guard of California shall consist of such number of machine-gun companies, companies of engineers, signalmen, coast artillery, and infantry, and such number of troops of cavalry, batteries of field artillery, divisions of the naval militia, and bands, as the governor may direct; the adjutant general's department, the inspector general's department, the judge advocate general's department, the quartermaster's department, the subsistence department, the pay department, the ordnance department, the medical department, corps of engineers, the signal corps, the staff of the commander-in-chief, officers on the retired list, and such officers and enlisted men as may be authorized by law. The total number of companies, troops, batteries, and divisions of naval militia shall not exceed eighty-four; and provided, that there shall not be more than twelve divisions of the naval militia, two companies of engineers, two companies of signalmen, and four troops of cavalry, in addition to machine-gun companies, companies of infantry, and coast artillery, and batteries of field artillery that may be authorized.

Number of companies.

SEC. 3. Section 1932 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1932. Coast artillery. The coast artillery shall be organized as a corps, and shall consist of such number of companies as may be authorized, a chief of coast artillery with the rank of colonel, one lieutenant colonel and such number of majors, captains, first lieutenants, second lieutenants, and such non-commissioned officers and privates as are provided in similar corps of the regular army as may be authorized. There shall be for each company of coast artillery one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, and such number of non-commissioned officers and privates of coast artillery as obtain in the coast artillery corps of the regular army. For each company of coast artillery there shall be one electrician sergeant (first or second class), one engineer and one fireman; and for each four companies of coast artillery there shall be one master gunner. The chief of coast artillery shall bear the same relation to the coast artillery corps as the colonel of a regiment bears to his command.

Coast
artillery.

SEC. 4. Section 1980 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1980. Any male who is a citizen of the United States or has legally declared his intention to become a citizen, of more than eighteen and less than forty-five years of age, able-bodied, free from disease, of good character and temperate habits, may be enlisted in the national guard of this state, under the restrictions of this article, for a term of not less than three years; provided, that any man having served one enlistment satisfactorily in the national guard of this state, or in the United States army or navy, may reënlist for one, two or three years at his option; and provided, further, that boys may be enlisted as musicians if more than sixteen years of age. No minor shall be enlisted without the written consent of his parent or guardian. A man who has been expelled or dishonorably discharged from any military organization of the state or the United States shall not be eligible for enlistment or reënlistment unless he produce the written consent to such enlistment of the commanding officer of the organization from which he was expelled or dishonorably discharged. Men who have been discharged by reason of disbandment may be enlisted and shall Musicians. then receive credit for the period served at the time of such disbandment. Chief musicians, principal musicians, and drum majors, members of the hospital corps, and musicians may be enlisted as such.

SEC. 5. Section 1985 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Honorable discharge. 1985. An honorable discharge shall be issued under the following circumstances: viz., to a man who has faithfully performed his duties during his term of service as required by the conditions of his enlistment or reënlistment, or during his total service, and who has been lawfully relieved of all responsibility for public property issued to him, and from all accountability to his organization. Unless unavoidable circumstances intervene such discharge will be furnished an enlisted man at once upon the expiration of his term of service, which term will date from the taking of the oath of enlistment or reënlistment. Proper steps shall be taken in due time for the settlement of the enlisted man's accounts and responsibility for property, and forwarding the necessary papers so as not to withhold the discharge after it is due.

Honorable discharge before expiration of term. Any enlisted man may be honorably discharged before the expiration of his term of service by order of the commanding officer of a regiment of the coast artillery corps, of the naval militia, or unattached battalion or squadron, or, if a member of an unattached company or troop, by the brigade commander or the commander-in-chief, upon the recommendation of his commanding officer, for any of the following reasons:

To accept promotion by commission;

Upon removal of residence from the state, or out of the bounds of the command to which he belongs to so great a distance that, in the opinion of the commanding officer, he can not properly perform his military duty;

Upon disability established by the certificate of a medical officer;

At the discretion of the officers authorized to issue discharges upon the recommendation of the company, troop, or other immediate commander, when the man seeking discharge shall make application and furnish satisfactory proof under oath that further service in the national guard will entail great loss and unusual hardship upon him. Discharge for such reasons shall not be granted when a man is ordered into active service, or until he shall have served one year of the term of enlistment in force at the time of his application for such discharge.

To a man rendered supernumerary by the reduction of the organization of which he is a member; or who is a member of an organization which may be disbanded.

A dishonorable discharge shall be issued:

Di-honorable discharge.

To a man sentenced by a general court-martial to be discharged;

To a man convicted of a felony in a civil court;

To a man for neglecting or refusing to pay any fine imposed by a military court within thirty days after it was imposed.

A discharge without honor may be issued:

By sentence of a general or summary court-martial;

Dis-honorable discharge.

Whenever the commanding officer of a company shall approve the application of two thirds of the members of the company for the discharge of an enlisted man thereof; provided, that at a regular meeting of the company, or at a meeting called for that purpose, two thirds of the members of the company desire by vote the discharge of one of their members;

To a man whose immediate commanding officer applies for his discharge without honor. The application for such discharge shall be directed to the officer authorized to issue it, and shall briefly state the grounds on which the discharge is applied for. The man whose discharge is applied for, shall be entitled to be heard in person to explain the statements contained in the application and shall have ten days' notice of such hearing, a copy of the application, and of the notice of time and place of hearing, shall be served on the man in the same manner as warnings for duty are given. If the officer authorized to issue the discharge approves of the application of the immediate commanding officer after the conclusion of the hearing above provided for, he will issue the discharge, and if he disapproves the man will not be discharged;

The officers authorized to issue discharges may, also, upon application of company commanders, discharge without honor, if convinced after proper investigation that such discharge should be issued, any enlisted man who habitually absents himself from the drills and instructions of his organization, or has shown a lack of interest in his military work sufficient to warrant the same;

Or any enlisted man may be discharged for the good of the service by the commanding officer of the regiment, coast artillery corps or unattached battalion or squadron, or if a member of an unattached company or troop, by the brigade commander, or in other instances by the commander-in-chief, upon the recommendation of a company or troop commander and after a careful investigation by the officer issuing the discharge.

The officers authorized to issue the discharges hereinbefore specified are: The commanding officer of a regiment, or of a battalion or squadron not part of a regiment or the coast artillery corps; the commanding officer of a brigade for any organization attached to the brigade and not above specified; the commanding officer of the naval militia, and the commander-in-chief.

Sec. 6. Section 2008 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2008. The entire national guard and naval militia shall be inspected at their home stations at least once in each year; provided, however, the inspection made by the United States government, through its army and navy officers, may be accepted by the commander-in-chief in his discretion as and for the state and no other inspection ordered for that year.

Annual inspection.

SEC. 7. Section 2011 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Service medal.

2011. The state shall provide a service medal or bar of appropriate design and material, to be issued for ten, fifteen, twenty, and twenty-five years of service on the active list of the national guard. There shall be no other or different medals or bars for such service. Such medals or bars shall be prepared and issued free of cost to those entitled to same, by the adjutant general, only upon application of the party entitled thereto, and upon proof of such service from the records of the national guard.

SEC. 8. Section 2078 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

For officers' uniforms.

2078. All officers shall receive at the conclusion of each fiscal year the sum of twenty-five dollars to assist in uniforming and equipping themselves; provided, they have served as such the entire twelve months comprising such fiscal year, and if not, then such proportion of said sum as the time served bears to said year; provided, further, that personal aids-de-camp of the commander-in-chief shall not receive such allowance except those detailed from the active list.

SEC. 9. Section 2079 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Armory rent, care of arms, etc.

There must be audited and allowed by the adjutant general, and paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, to the surgeon in charge of each detachment of the medical department on duty with a regiment, with the signal corps and cavalry, with the coast artillery corps, and to the chief surgeon of the naval militia, the sum of fifty dollars per month for rent and proper incidental expenses of such detachment. No claims shall be allowed under the provisions of this section except upon demands made quarterly in duplicate, signed and sworn to by the officer claiming the same, before any officer of the national guard, or notary public, and forwarded through the headquarters of the regiment, coast artillery corps, unattached battalion, squadron, or company, or naval militia, with the approval of each commanding officer through whose headquarters they are required to pass, direct to the adjutant general; provided, that the adjutant general may make expenditures at any time for the promotion of target practice out of the appropriation for that purpose herein provided for.

practice.

Sec. 10. Section 2080 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2080. The sum of two hundred and fifty dollars must be audited by the adjutant general and annually paid out of the appropriation for military purposes, to each company, troop and battery of the national guard and to each division of the naval militia. The amount so audited and allowed must be paid to the commanding officers of such organizations for the use thereof.

Allowance to companies.

Sec. 11. Section 2085 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2085. Claims audited and allowed as provided in this chapter are exempt from the provision of article XVIII of the Political Code.

Claims

Sec. 12. Section 2112 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2112. (1) The numerical strength, rank, titles, and insignia of rank of the divisions of the naval militia shall conform to the laws, rules and regulations of the United States navy, so far as the same may be effectively applicable. The naval militia shall be commanded by a captain. There shall also be the following additional commissioned officers: viz., one commander and one lieutenant commander, who, in order of rank, in the absence or disability of the superior, shall perform his duties and shall at all times assist the commanding officer in the performance of his duties; one chief engineer, with the rank of lieutenant commander; one lieutenant and navigating officer, one lieutenant and ordnance officer, one lieutenant and aid to the commanding officer of the naval militia who shall be subject to such detail as the commanding officer may designate; one lieutenant (junior grade) and as-assistant navigating officer, one lieutenant (junior grade) and assistant ordnance officer, one lieutenant (junior grade) and equipment officer, one ensign and assistant equipment officer, one ensign and signal officer. When more than one vessel is loaned by the United States government to the State of California for the use of the naval militia there may be for each such additional vessel one lieutenant (junior grade) and passed assistant engineer, who shall be appointed by the commander-in-chief upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia. All the above officers shall be line officers. The captain, commander, and lieutenant commander shall be elected and hold office as prescribed in this chapter for officers of corresponding grades of regiments. All other of the above-named officers shall be appointed by the commander-in-chief upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia and shall hold office as prescribed in this title for officers of corresponding grades of regiments. The chief engineer shall be a resident of the county in which is located the engineer division of the naval militia. All elections for officers of the naval militia shall be ordered by the commander-in-chief.

division of the naval militia shall be commanded by a lieutenant, and shall include a lieutenant (junior grade), two ensigns, and not less than fifty-eight nor more than one hundred petty officers and seamen. The commissioned officers of each division shall be elected in the same manner and hold office as prescribed in this title for company officers of the national guard. Officers of the naval militia may be retired as provided in section one thousand nine hundred and sixty-three of this chapter. The lieutenant and lieutenant (junior grade) of the engineer division shall each hold the grade of passed assistant engineer, and the ensigns of the engineer division shall each hold the grade of assistant engineer. All engineer officers shall be recognized engineers or machinists of at least two years' standing. The pay department of the naval militia shall consist of one paymaster with the rank of lieutenant, one passed assistant paymaster with the rank of lieutenant (junior grade), and one assistant paymaster with the rank of ensign, who shall be staff officers appointed by the commander-in-chief upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia and hold office as prescribed for officers of corresponding grades of regiments. department of the naval militia shall be allowed the following commissioned officers: viz., one chief surgeon, with the rank of lieutenant commander; one surgeon with the rank of lieutenant, and there may be to each division of the naval militia one assistant surgeon with the rank of lieutenant (junior grade). The appointment of the commissioned officers of the medical department of the naval militia shall be made by the commander-in-chief upon the recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia; provided, that no person shall receive the appointment as an officer of the medical department of the naval militia unless he be a licensed graduate of a medical school. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, all officers in the naval militia, except commissioned officers of the medical department, prior to being commissioned consequent upon an election or appointment, shall be subject to examination as to qualification and general fitness for the service by a board of officers to be detailed by the commander-in-chief. The warrant officers, chief petty officers, and petty officers of the naval militia shall be the same as in the United States navy and of such numbers as the exigencies of the service may require. Warrants for warrant officers may be issued by the adjutant general upon recommendation of the commanding officer of the naval militia. Chief petty officers and petty officers shall be appointed by the commanding officer of the naval militia. The organization of the naval militia shall conform generally to the provisions of the laws of the United States; and the system of discipline and exercise shall conform, as nearly as may be, to that of the navy of the United States, as it is now, or may hereafter be, prescribed by congress, and that prescribed by the provisions of the Political Code relative to the national guard of California; and the commander-in-chief shall have power to alter, divide, annex, consolidate or disband the naval militia, whenever in his judgment the efficiency of the state forces will thereby be increased, and he shall have power to make such rules and regulations as may be deemed proper for the use, government and instruction of the naval militia, but such rules and regulations shall conform as nearly as practicable to those governing the United States navy. The commander-in-chief is authorized to apply to the president of the United States for the detail of commissioned and petty officers of the navy to act as inspectors and instructors in the art of naval warfare. Courts-martial for the naval militia, when necessary, shall be ordered by the commander-in-chief, and shall be organized and conducted under the laws and regulations, and usages of the United States navy, and the provisions and sections relating to military courts in this chapter. The proceedings shall be reviewed and sentence executed as provided in this chapter.

SEC. 13. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California to be numbered section 1932½, to read as follows:

Field
battery.

1932 $\frac{1}{2}$. A battery of field artillery shall consist of one captain, two first lieutenants, two second lieutenants, and of such enlisted men of the grades named hereinafter as are or may be authorized and deemed necessary: viz., first sergeant, quartermaster sergeant, stable sergeant, sergeants, corporals, cooks, chief mechanic, mechanics, musicians, and privates.

SEC. 14. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California to be numbered section 1934 $\frac{1}{2}$, to read as follows:

Machine-gun company.

1934 $\frac{1}{2}$. One machine-gun company may be organized and attached for duty to each regiment of infantry, in the discretion of the commander-in-chief. A machine-gun company shall consist of one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, and enlisted men of such number and grades as are or may be provided for in similar organizations of the United States army, as may be deemed necessary.

SEC. 15. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 16. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 161.

An act to amend section 597 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to insurance.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 597 of the Political Code of the State of California, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Examination of insurance
companies.

597. The commissioner, whenever he deems necessary, or whenever he is requested by verified petition, signed by twenty-five persons interested, either as stockholders, policy holders, or creditors of any company engaged in insurance business in this state, showing that such company is insolvent under the laws of this state, must make an examination of the business and affairs relating to the insurance business of such company, and must make such an examination whenever any company is organized to do insurance business in this state, and before issuing a certificate of authority other than renewals to such company; provided, the insurance commissioner shall have no authority to issue and no certificate of authority shall be issued to any insurance company or corporation hereafter organized or incorporated in this state, whether the same be organized and promoted directly or by means of a holding company or corporation, one of the purposes of which is the organization and promotion of such insurance company or corporation, where such examination shows the expense of organization and promotion to be in excess of fifteen per cent of the total amount actually paid on its capital stock exclusive of surplus.

Whenever any company not organized under the laws of this state, applies for a certificate of authority to do business in this state, the insurance commissioner may make or cause to be made by the insurance department of the state where such company is organized, an examination of the business and affairs relating to the insurance business of such company. The company organized or existing under the laws of any country outside of the United States, shall be deemed to be organized within the meaning of this act in any state wherein such company maintains the deposits required by the laws of this state.

Out of state of companies.

For the purpose of making such examination the insurance commissioner shall have free access to all the books and papers of such company, and must thoroughly inspect and examine all its affairs, and ascertain its condition and ability to fulfill its engagements, and that it has complied with all the provisions of law applicable to its insurance transactions.

Access to books.

Every company examined under the provisions of this section must open its books and papers for the inspection of the commissioner, and otherwise facilitate such examination; and the commissioner may administer oaths and examine under oath any person relative to the business of such company; and if he finds the books to be carelessly or improperly kept or posted he must employ sworn experts to re-write, post, and balance the same at the expense of such company. Such examination must be conducted in the county where such company has its principal office, and must be private, unless the commissioner deems it necessary to publish the result of such investigation, in which case he may publish the same in two of the public newspapers of this state, one of which must be published in the city of San Francisco. All examinations must be at the expense of the company, such expense to be paid in advance, and if any such company refuses to pay such expenses in advance the insurance commissioner may refuse to issue any such certificate of authority and must revoke any existing certificate of authority authorizing such company to do business.

Inspection
of books.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 162.

An act to amend section 1560 of the Political Code, relating to teachers' institutes.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1560 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1560. The superintendent of every county in which there are twenty or more school districts, and of every city and county, and of every city school district governed by a city board of education and employing seventy or more teachers, must hold at least one teachers' institute in each year; and every teacher employed in the schools of the county, city and county, or city school district holding such institute must attend the same and participate in its proceedings; and shall be paid his regular salary for the time covered by such attendance; provided, that the superintendents of two or more adjacent counties, or city and county, or city school districts may unite for the purpose of holding a joint institute or convention and may direct the teachers of their respective counties, city and county, or city school districts to attend the same in lieu of all or of a designated part of the county, city and county, or city school district institute, under the same conditions and compensations as are herein provided for the county, city and county, or city school district institute; provided, that the expense of such joint institute shall be borne equally by the counties, city and county, and city school districts participating therein, and shall not exceed two hundred dollars ($200.00) for each county, city and county, or city school district participating therein; and shall be paid in each county from the unapportioned county school fund, in each city and county from the city and county school fund, and in each city school district from such school district's county school fund. A county superintendent of schools who shall refuse or neglect to hold an institute for any one year as directed by this section shall forfeit the last month's salary of the year in which he fails to hold said institute, and the county auditor whose duty it is to draw the warrant in favor of such superintendent is hereby directed to withhold said salary on proof of such neglect; provided, that in lieu of the institute of from three to five consecutive days, as provided in this section and in section 1562 of the Political Code, the superintendent of any county in which there are twenty or more school districts, or of any city and county, or of any city school district governed by a city board of education and employing seventy or more teachers, may hold during the school year, at places in the county, or city and county, or city school district, chosen by the superintendent for their convenience and accessibility to teachers and patrons of neighboring schools. three or more series of local day or evening institutes which shall provide, at each of the chosen places, not less than ten hours of institute work; provided, that in cities and counties one or more local day or evening institutes of not less than two hours each may be held on not less than three different dates during the year.

Day and evening institutes.

CHAPTER 163.

An act to amend section 1562 of the Political Code, relating to teachers' institutes.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1562 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1562. Each session of the institute must continue not less than three nor more than five days, except where the superintendent holds local institutes, as provided in section 1560 of the Political Code.

Length of teachers' institutes.

CHAPTER 164.

An act to amend section 1564 of the Political Code, relating to teachers' institutes.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1564 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1564. The county superintendent, the city and county superintendent, and the city superintendent must each keep an accurate account of the actual expenses incurred by them in holding any teachers' institute whether separate or joint, with vouchers for the same; and the county superintendent shall draw his requisition upon the county auditor, who shall draw his warrant on the unapportioned county school fund to pay the expense of the county institute; and the city and county superintendent shall draw his requisition upon the city and county auditor, who shall draw his warrant upon the city and county school fund to pay the expense of the city and county institute; and the city superintendent shall present his bill for the expenses incurred by him in holding the city district institute to the city board of education, who shall pay the same from the city school district's county fund in the same manner as other claims against the city school district's county fund are paid; provided, that not more than two hundred dollars ($200.00) shall be paid by each county, city and county, or city school district towards the expense of any joint institute or convention; and provided, further, that not more than three hundred dollars ($300.00) shall be paid for the expenses of any separate institute held by the superintendent of any county, city and county, or city school district having less than one hundred teachers regularly employed in the elementary and secondary schools of such county, city and county, or city school district; and provided, further, that where the number of teachers regularly employed in the elementary and secondary schools of any county, city and county, or city school district exceeds one hundred teachers at the time of holding any separate institute, the superintendent may expend money in addition to the three hundred dollars ($300.00) hereinbefore provided at the rate of one dollar ($1.00) per teacher for each teacher in excess of one hundred teachers regularly employed at the time of holding such separate institute; and provided, further, that whenever the superintendent of any county, or city and county, or city school district, elects to hold local institutes, as provided in section 1560 of the Political Code, he may expend money, in addition to the amount hereinbefore provided for the expenses of any separate institute in his county, or city and county, or city school district, at the rate of five dollars per teacher for each teacher regularly employed at the time of holding the first series of local institutes in any school year; provided, however, that his total expenditures shall not at any time in the school year exceed fifty dollars multiplied by the number of local institutes held; and provided, further, that all the expenses of local institutes shall be paid in the same manner and from the same funds as are the expenses of separate and of joint institutes.

CHAPTER 165.

An act to authorize and require the payment by the counties of interest on state highway bonds.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions relative to the payment of bond interest which are contained in "An act authorizing the construction, acquisition, maintenance and control of a system of state highways in the State of California; specifying the work, fixing the payments to be made by counties for moneys expended therein; providing for the issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund for the construction and acquisition of such system; creating a sinking fund for the payment of said bonds; and providing for the submission of this act to a vote of the people," approved March 22, 1909, it is hereby made the duty of the state controller to keep an accurate account showing the amount of said bond money expended in each county. In connection with such account he shall annually, at the beginning of the fiscal year, charge up to each and every county such sum as shall equal the interest at four per cent per annum on the total amount of state highway bond money which has been expended in each such county.

Interest on state highway bonds.

SEC. 2. The controller shall notify the county auditor and the clerk of the board of supervisors of each county of the amount of such interest charge, in order that there may be included in the county tax levy such rate as will raise the sum needed to meet such interest charge. It is hereby made the duty of the board of supervisors when making the annual levy of county taxes to include therein the necessary provision for payment of interest on state highway bonds, as in this act provided, but no failure of any board of supervisors to make the tax levy herein provided for shall be held to exempt such county from the collection by the state, in the manner provided for in the next section of this act, of the amount of interest due from such county.

Tax levy in each county.

SEC. 3. In the regular semi-annual settlements between the state and the counties, the controller shall charge to, and collect from, each county one half of the amount of interest with which such county has been charged for that fiscal year; provided, that as soon as any of the state highway bonds shall have matured and been paid, the controller shall credit each county with its proportionate part of the diminution of the total interest charge thereby occasioned.

Semi-annual settlement.

SEC. 4. The controller is authorized to require from the state engineering department, and it is hereby made the duty of said department to furnish all necessary data to show the amount of state highway bond money expended in each county.

Engineering department to furnish data.

CHAPTER 166.

An act appropriating money for the purpose of building one cottage for the Whittier State School.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
cottage,
Whittier
State
School.

SECTION 1. The sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of building one cottage on the grounds of the Whittier State School.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same. Of the total amount hereby appropriated, one thousand dollars shall be available July 1, 1911, and nine thousand dollars July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 167.

An act to appropriate money for repairs on the main building of the Whittier State School.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
repairs,
Whittier
State
School.

SECTION 1. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended for repairs on the main building of the Whittier State School.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 168.

An act appropriating money for the purchase of tools and machinery for the trades of the Whittier State School.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty-five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended in the purchase of new tools and machinery for the trades of the Whittier State School. Appropriation: tools, Whittier State School.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized to draw his warrant in favor of the board of trustees of the Whittier State School for the amount herein made payable, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 169.

An act to appropriate money for a new electric light plant for the Whittier State School.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of three thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended for a new electric light plant for the Whittier State School. Appropriation: light plant, Whittier State School.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 170.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered 1566, providing for the holding of school trustees' meetings.

[Approved March 10, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California, to be numbered 1566, and to read as follows:

Annual
trustees'
meetings.

1566. The superintendent of every county in which there are more than twenty school districts, may hold one trustees' meeting each year, and it shall be the duty of one school trustee of each school district of the county in which said meeting is held to attend the same and participate in its proceedings. The school trustees of each school district shall elect the trustee, whose duty it shall be to attend such meeting; and each trustee so selected shall be allowed his actual traveling expenses incurred in going to and returning from such meetings, such expenses to be verified by the county superintendent of schools. In any county in which there are less than twenty school districts, the county superintendent may in his discretion hold a meeting as provided in the preceding section when directed by the county board of education. Each session of the trustees' meeting shall continue one day. The county superintendent shall draw his requisition on the county auditor who shall draw his warrant on the unapportioned county school fund to pay the expenses of holding the trustees' meetings. The superintendent must notify each trustee of the county at least ten days prior to the calling of such trustees' meeting of the time and place of holding such meeting.

CHAPTER 171.

An act to create a reclamation district to be called "Reclamation District Number 830," and providing for the control and management thereof.

[Approved March 11, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Reclamation
District
No. 830.

SECTION 1. A reclamation district is hereby created, to be called "Reclamation District Number 830," and the boundaries of such reclamation district shall be as follows: Beginning on the westerly bank of Taylor slough, in Contra Costa county, State of California, at the point where the eastern boundary of section 17, township 2 north, range 3 east, Mount Diablo base and meridian, intersects said Taylor slough; thence in a northerly direction along the westerly bank of said Taylor slough, following its meanderings, to where the same connects with the westerly bank of Piper slough; thence northerly, along the westerly bank of Piper slough following the meanderings thereof, to its intersection with the southerly bank of False river; thence westerly along the southerly bank of False river to its intersection with the southerly bank of the San Joaquin river; thence westerly along the southerly bank of the San Joaquin river following the meanderings thereof to its intersection with the easterly bank of Dutch slough; thence easterly and southerly along the northerly and easterly bank of Dutch slough, following the meanderings thereof, to a point distant fifteen chains and forty links east from the westerly line of section 20 in said township and range: thence north fifty links to the section line on the north boundary of said section 20; thence east on section lines to Taylor slough; thence northerly along the westerly bank of Taylor slough following the meanderings thereof to the point of beginning.

SEC. 2. The management and control of said reclamation district is hereby made subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California and other laws of this state relative to reclamation districts formed under the provisions of said Political Code.

SEC. 3. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 172.

An act to amend section thirty-three of an act entitled, "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain public libraries; to provide for the formation, government and operation of library districts; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and to create boards of library trustees," approved April 12, 1909.

[Approved March 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section thirty-three of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain public libraries; to provide for the formation, government and operation of library districts; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and holding of elections in

An act to amend the Penal Code by adding a new section thereto to be numbered five hundred and seventy-three, prohibiting officers and directors of cemetery corporations or associations from borrowing directly or indirectly any funds of the corporation or association, or becoming indorsers or sureties or obligors for moneys borrowed of or loaned by such corporations or associations and prescribing a penalty therefor.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered five hundred and seventy-three and to read as follows:

Officer may not borrow cemetery corporation funds.

573. No director or officer of any cemetery corporation or association shall, directly or indirectly, for himself or as the partner or agent of others, borrow any of the funds of such corporation or association, nor shall he become an indorser or surety for loans to others, nor in any manner be an obligor for moneys borrowed of or loaned by such corporation or association, nor shall a corporation of which a director or an officer is a stockholder or in which either of them is in any manner interested borrow any of such funds. The office of any director or officer who acts or permits action in contravention of the provisions of this section immediately thereupon becomes vacant and every director or officer authorizing or consenting to such loan, and the person who receives such loan, shall severally be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 174.

An act to amend section 680 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to investing school funds.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 680 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

680. Whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury the sum of ten thousand dollars as the proceeds of the sale of state school lands, the board must invest the same in bonds of this state or bonds of the United States, or bonds of any county, city and county, city, town, permanent road division bonds issued under the provisions of part III, title VI, article IX of this code, school district or irrigation district, of this state; the investments to be made in such manner and on such terms as the board shall deem best for the fund; provided, that no bonds of any county, city and county, city or town, school district, or irrigation district, shall be purchased of which the debt, debts, or liabilities at the time exceed fifteen per cent of the assessed value of the taxable property of such county, city and county, city or town, school district, or irrigation district.

tlement or improvement, unless application is made within the time above prescribed; and provided, further, that no contest, either under sections thirty-four hundred fourteen or thirty-four hundred fifteen, or under this section of this code, of any location or application to purchase any state school lands which have heretofore been, or shall hereafter be made and filed with the surveyor general or register of the state land office, or of any order of approval made thereof, or of any certificate of purchase issued thereon or pursuant thereto by such surveyor general or register, shall be filed, heard, determined, referred or allowed unless such contest shall have been or shall be so filed, heard, determined, referred or allowed as provided in said sections of this code, within five years from and after the date on which such certificate of purchase may have been issued.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 176.

An act to amend section 1741 of the Political Code relating to the powers and duties of high school boards.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1741 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

LEASE OF
QUARTERS.

1741. Except as in this article, or in article XV of this chapter, otherwise provided, the powers and duties of high school boards shall be such as are now or may hereafter be assigned by law to boards of education or boards of school trustees in school districts. The high school board shall, at any time after its organization, have power to make arrangements for the temporary location of the high school, and if satisfactory quarters in a suitable location are offered or can be procured for a consideration, or at a rental which would make it advisable to accept the same, they shall have the power to secure or lease such quarters for a period not to exceed three years. At the expiration of such lease or other arrangement they shall have the same power to make another lease or other arrangement for the same or different quarters, for a period not exceeding three years. If rooms can be obtained in a public school building in the place where the high school is temporarily located, on reasonable terms, such rooms shall be given the preference. The high school board of any county, union or joint union high school district may provide, in such manner as they deem best, for the transportation to and from the high school of such pupils thereof as such board find to be in need of such transportation; and the cost of such transportation shall be deemed a part of the cost of maintaining the high school and paid accordingly; provided, that all contracts or other provision for such transportation shall before the same become effective, be approved by the superintendent of schools who has jurisdiction over such high school district.

CHAPTER 177.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to define the boundary, provide for the care, strengthening and repairing of the levee, and for the payment of the indebtedness of levee district number one of Sutter county," approved March 20, 1874.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 3. The directors shall each, within ten days after their election, take the usual oath of office, and shall, at their first meeting, decide by lot, so that one shall go out of office on the first Monday in March next succeeding the next general election for state and county officers; another to go out on the first Monday of March, after the next general election, and so on; and a successor shall be elected at each general election next preceding such time of expiration of term of office. At said first meeting, they shall elect a chairman and a clerk from their number, and a majority shall be a quorum for the transaction of any business. The board of directors are hereby constituted and declared to be the legal representatives and successors to the board of supervisors of Sutter county, in all matters appertaining to levee district number one, and are hereby authorized to take absolute charge, control and possession of all levees, or other works of reclamation, and all property, real and personal, belonging to said district, and to perform all the duties appertaining to said levee district heretofore devolving on said board of supervisors, except as herein provided. All bills and accounts against said levee district, either for contracts or otherwise, shall be presented to the board of directors, and be by them approved and certified to as correct by the clerk of the board, before payment for the same can be made; and the county auditor is hereby required to draw his warrant on the county treasurer for the amount of any account so approved and certified, in the same manner as if ordered by the board of supervisors. All claims and demands against said district shall, before the same are approved and allowed by the board of directors, be itemized and verified in the same manner as claims against a county are required by law to be itemized and verified. Each director of said district shall, before taking office and within ten days after his election or appointment, file a bond in the sum of five hundred dollars, with sufficient sureties, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties, said bond to be approved by the judge of the superior court of said Sutter county and to be filed in the office of the county clerk of said county. The board of directors of said district shall, in addition to the duties now required of them by law, keep all necessary and proper books of account in which shall be entered all receipts and expenditures, with the source and nature of the same, for or on behalf of said district, and shall keep a minute book in which shall be entered the proceedings of each meeting of said board. The books and accounts of the district shall be expeted once a year and the said board shall annually publish, in a newspaper printed and published in said district, a complete statistical report showing in detail the financial transactions for and on behalf of the district for the preceding year and the financial condition of the district. The board shall keep an office in said district for the transaction of the business thereof, and all books, maps, records, papers and contracts relating to the affairs of the district shall at all times be open to the inspection of the taxpayers of the district and all persons interested therein. The board shall hold regular meetings on the second Monday of each and every month and special meetings may be held at any time, all of the members of the board being present; or special meetings may be ordered by a majority of the board by an order in writing signed by the members calling such meeting. At least one day's notice of such special meeting must be given, personally or by mail, to the members not joining in the order. All meetings must be held at the office of the board. No member of the board shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any property purchased for the use of the district, nor in the purchase or sale of any property belonging to the district, nor in any contract made by the board, or other person, on behalf of the district, for the construction or repair of any levee or other improvement for the district. The board shall annually cause to be prepared, and shall adopt, plans and specifications of all necessary repairs to the levees of said district and of any new levees to be constructed and all other works of improvement for the benefit of the district, and shall divide such work into convenient sections. Said plans and specifications shall be filed in the office of the board not later than the first day of July of each year and shall be subject to inspection by any person interested therein for at least two weeks prior to the letting of any contract for work in accordance with such plans and specifications. If the cost of repair or construction in any one of said sections will exceed the sum of five hundred dollars the board must, not later than the first day of July in each year, give notice by publication at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in one or more newspapers printed and published in said Sutter county, that sealed proposals will be received and opened at the office of said board, at a time in said notice specified, for the construction of repairs, new levees and other works of improvement in each separate section of said work, and for the whole work, in accordance with said plans and specifications. At the time and place specified in said notice the board shall publicly open said bids and let the contract or contracts to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders; provided, however, that the board may reject any and all bids. If any or all such bids are rejected the board shall immediately readvertise for bids, as in the first instance, for such work as has not been let and upon the opening and consideration of such new bids the board shall have the right to reject any or all of them and have such work done by day's work. Every person, firm or corporation to whom a contract shall be awarded shall enter into a bond with sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, in a sum equal to one half of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract in accordance with said plans and specifications. In cases of great emergency the board may, by the unanimous consent of all the members, proceed at once to replace or repair any and all levees in the district without notice.

Repairs in excess of $500.00.

May reject bids.

SEC. 2. Section five of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 5. All elections hereafter held in said levee district for the election of directors and assessor shall be held at the same time and places within said levee district as the general state and county elections are held, and be conducted by the same election boards as shall hold and conduct such general elections, but separate ballot boxes and separate poll lists shall be provided and kept for such elections for district officers, and separate returns thereof shall be made to the board of supervisors, and shall be by them canvassed and disposed of as provided in section two of this act. Only electors of said district, whose names appear on the last preceding assessment roll thereof as the owners of property assessed to them for district purposes, shall be entitled to vote at district elections. The tax collector of the district shall, at least five days before the date of any election therein for district purposes, prepare from the last preceding assessment roll of the district a list of the names of electors therein as shown by such assessment roll and shall certify to said list and deliver to the board of directors of said district as many copies of said certified list as there are election precincts in whole or in part in said district, and said board of directors shall, before the opening of the polls at any district election, furnish one of said certified copies to the board of election in each precinct in whole or in part in said district. No tax collector shall hereafter be elected for said district, but the county treasurer of Sutter county shall be ex officio tax collector of said district, upon his taking the usual oath and entering into proper bonds to said district in such amount as the board of directors may require, and with sufficient sureties to be approved by said board, conditioned for the faithful performance of his official duties as such tax collector, and filing the same with the clerk of said board; provided, that should such bond not be so filed on or before the first Monday in January next succeeding the election of said county treasurer, the office of tax collector shall be vacant. Should a vacancy occur in the office of tax collector of said district, it shall be filled by appointment by the board of directors, and such appointee shall take the oath and give bond as aforesaid, and thereafter hold such office during the pleasure of the board of directors, but not later than the first Monday in January following the next succeeding general election for county officers in Sutter county. Should a vacancy occur in the board of directors, such vacancy shall be filled by appointment by the remaining members of the board, and such appointee shall qualify and thereafter hold such office until the next succeeding general election for state and county officers, when his successor shall be elected for the remainder of the term. Should a vacancy occur in the office of assessor it shall be filled by appointment by the board of directors.

Vacancy
in board.

SEC. 3. Section eight of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Annual meeting.

Section 8. The board of directors must meet on the first Monday in July of each year, to examine the assessment roll and equalize the assessment of property in said district. It must continue in session for that purpose, from time to time, until the business of equalization is disposed of, but not later than the third Monday in July. The board has power, after giving notice in such manner as it may by rule prescribe, to increase or lower the entire assessment roll or any assessment contained therein, so as to equalize the assessment of the property contained in said roll, and make the assessment conform to the true value of the property in money. During such session the board may correct any errors, omissions, or defects in form or description in the assessment roll, and may direct the assessor to assess any property that has escaped assessment. Upon the hearing of any question arising during the course of such equalization, the board may subpoena such witnesses, and hear and take such evidence in relation to the subject pending, as in its discretion it may deem proper. The clerk shall note all alterations made in valuations or assessments, and within five days after the session have the total values, as finally equalized by the board, extended into columns, and added up, and shall forthwith deliver the assessment roll so corrected, to the county auditor. In order to find the per cent. of taxes necessary to be levied, the board shall find:

First—The amount necessary to pay the interest and any part of the principal that may become due for the then current year on the funded debt of said district. Per cent of taxes necessary.

Second—The probable amount that may be needed for repairs, etc.

Third—The amount needed for salaries, fees and delinquencies.

Fourth—The amount of floating debt that it may be desirable to pay during the then current year: and from these several amounts shall find the rate per cent. necessary to produce the probable fund needed for the ensuing year.

The board of directors shall meet on the third Monday in September and fix such rate, and when so fixed, the clerk of the board shall certify the same to the county auditor. Rate fixed. The auditor must then compute, and enter into a separate money column in the assessment book, the respective sums, in dollars and cents, rejecting the fractions of a cent, to be paid as a tax on the property therein enumerated, and foot up the column, showing the total amount of such taxes, and on or before the second Monday in October said auditor must deliver said assessment book to the tax collector of the district. On delivering the assessment book to the tax collector, the auditor must charge the tax collector with the full amount of the taxes levied and unpaid. On receipt of such assessment book the tax collector of the district must publish a notice for at least two weeks in one or more newspapers published in the district, specifying that all taxes are due and payable, and that the same will be delinquent at noon on the first Monday of January next succeeding, and that unless paid prior thereto a penalty of ten per cent. will be added thereto. Monthly settlements. On the first Monday in each month the tax collector must settle with the auditor for all moneys collected for the district, and pay the same to the treasurer of the district, and on the third Monday in May of each year the said tax collector must attend at the office of the auditor with the assessment book, having all items of taxes and penalties collected marked "paid," and at the same time he shall deliver to the auditor the assessment roll of said district. The auditor shall thereupon credit the tax collector with all unpaid taxes, and shall make out and deliver a list of the same to the board of directors, and said board of directors shall immediately commence an action, or actions, as provided in section nine of this act, for the collection thereof.

SEC. 4. Section ten of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 10. All moneys received or collected for or on behalf of said district shall be paid into the county treasury of said Sutter county in the same manner as county moneys are required by law to be paid into the county treasury: and upon receipt of any money from the tax collector of said district, or for the benefit thereof from any other source, the county treasurer of said Sutter county shall place the same to the credit of the levee district number one fund, from which he Levee district No. 1 fund.

shall set apart a sum sufficient to pay the interest and such part of the principal as may become due during the current fiscal year on any bonded indebtedness of the district, and shall pay the same out in accordance with the law under which such bonds were issued; the remainder of such levee district number one fund shall be paid out only on warrants drawn by the county auditor of Sutter county upon such fund and paid by the county treasurer in the same manner as county moneys are required by law to be paid out; provided, that warrants presented and registered as not paid for want of funds shall bear six per cent. interest per annum from date of registration.

Warrants
not paid.

SEC. 5. Section eleven of said act is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Salary of directors.

Section 11. The directors shall each receive an annual compensation of five hundred dollars, payable in quarterly installments of one hundred and twenty-five dollars each, on the first Monday in June, September, December and March of each year, which sum shall be in full compensation for all services of every nature or kind rendered by said directors.

Assessor.

The assessor shall receive five hundred dollars per annum, payable in two equal installments of two hundred and fifty dollars each on the first Monday in May and August of each year.

Tax collector.

The tax collector, or ex officio tax collector of the district shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services one per cent. on the first fifty thousand dollars, and one half of one per cent. on all sums over fifty thousand dollars, collected by him for the use of the district. The county auditor of Sutter

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 178.

An act to amend section 433 of the Political Code, relating to the duties of the controller.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 433 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

433. General duties of. It is the duty of the controller: Duties of controller.

1. To superintend the fiscal concerns of the state;

2. To report to the governor, before the fifteenth day of December next preceding each regular session of the legislature, a statement of the funds of the state, its revenues, and of the public expenditures during the two preceding fiscal years, together with a detailed estimate of the expenditures to be defrayed from the treasury for the two ensuing fiscal years, specifying therein each object of expenditure, and distinguishing between such as are provided for by permanent or temporary appropriations and such as must be provided for by a new statute, and suggesting the means from which such expenditures are to be defrayed;

3. To accompany his biennial report with tabular statements, showing: 1. The amount of each appropriation for the two preceding fiscal years, the amounts expended, and the balance, if any; 2. The amounts of revenue chargeable to each county for such years, the amount paid, and the amount unpaid or due therefrom;

4. When requested, to give information in writing to either house of the legislature relating to the fiscal affairs of the state or the duties of his office;

5. To suggest plans for the improvement and management of the public revenues;

6. To keep and state all accounts in which the state is interested;

7. To keep an account of all warrants drawn upon the treasurer, and a separate account under the head of each specific appropriation, showing at all times the unexpended balance of such appropriation;

8. To keep an account between the state and the treasurer, and therein charge the treasurer with the balance in the treasury when he came into office, and with all moneys received by him, and credit him with all warrants drawn on and paid by him;

9. To keep a register of warrants showing the fund upon which they are drawn, the number, in whose favor, for what service, the appropriation applicable to the payment thereof, and when the liability accrued. Before delivering a warrant to the payee named therein, he shall, whenever requested to do so by the state treasurer, permit the state treasurer to endorse upon or attach to such warrant an order designating the place where such warrant may be paid. Such warrants may be made payable at the option of the treasurer, either at his office, or at some bank in which moneys of the state are deposited. Whenever any party is entitled to the payment of a sum greater than twenty thousand dollars, the controller shall, whenever requested to do so by the state treasurer, issue to such party several warrants aggregating the amount due him in the amounts designated by the treasurer. Upon delivering a warrant to the party entitled thereto, the controller shall take and preserve a receipt therefor; but, when requested to deliver a warrant by mail by the person entitled thereto, he may deliver such warrant to the board of examiners, taking the receipt, therefor, of the secretary of the board of examiners or of some one authorized by him to receipt for the same. The board of examiners must, without delay, enter the same on the books of its office and mail the same to the proper person;

10. To audit all claims against the state in cases where there are sufficient provisions of law for the payment thereof;

11. To examine and settle the accounts of all persons indebted to the state, and to certify the amount to the treasurer, and upon presentation and filing of the treasurer's receipt therefor to give such person a discharge and charge the treasurer therewith;

12. In his discretion to require any person presenting an account for settlement to be sworn before him, and to answer orally or in writing, as to any facts relating to it;

13. To require all persons who have received any moneys belonging to the state and have not accounted therefor to settle their accounts;

14. In his discretion to inspect the books of any person charged with the receipt, safe-keeping, or disbursement of public moneys;

15. In his discretion, to require all persons who have received moneys or securities, or have had the disposition or management of any property of the state of which an account is kept in his office to render statements thereof to him; and all such persons must render such statement at such times and in such form as he may require;

16. To direct and superintend the collection of all moneys due the state, and institute suits in its name for all official delinquencies in relation to the assessment, collection, and payment of the revenue, and against persons who by any means have become possessed of public money or property and fail to pay over or deliver the same, and against all debtors of the state; of which suits the courts of Sacramento county have jurisdiction, without regard to the residence of the defendants;

17. To draw warrants on the treasurer for the payment of moneys directed by law to be paid out of the treasury; but no warrant must be drawn unless authorized by law, and upon an unexhausted specific appropriation provided by law to meet the same. Every warrant must be drawn upon the fund out of which it is payable, and specify the service for which it is drawn, when the liability accrued, and the specific appropriation applicable to the payment thereof;

18. To furnish the state treasurer with a list of warrants drawn upon the treasury;

19. To authenticate with his official seal all drafts and warrants drawn by him, and all copies of papers issued from his office;

Draw warrants on treasurer.

20. To perform the duties of a member of the state board of equalization, and such other duties as are prescribed by law.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after June 30, 1911.

CHAPTER 179.

An act to amend section 452 of the Political Code, relating to the duties of the state treasurer.

[Approved March 13, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 452 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

452. It is the duty of the treasurer:

1. To receive and keep in the vaults of the state treasury or in banks all moneys belonging to the state, not required to be received and kept by some other person; Duties of treasurer.

2. To file and keep the certificates of the controller delivered to him when moneys are paid into the treasury;

3. To deliver to each person paying money into the treasury a receipt showing the amount, the sources from which the money accrued, and the funds into which it is paid, which receipts must be numbered in order, beginning with number one at the commencement of each fiscal year;

4. To pay warrants drawn by the controller out of the funds upon and in the order in which they are drawn;

5. To attach to or endorse upon warrants drawn by the controller an order directing the payment of warrants by some bank or banks in which moneys of the state are on deposit whenever, in his judgment, it is desirable to so withdraw moneys of the state from deposit. Upon presentation for payment, the person to whom it is paid shall receipt therefor in the manner customary in the payment of bank checks, and the treasurer shall preserve such warrants and orders after they are returned to him in the ordinary course of business;

6. To keep an account of all moneys received and disbursed;

7. To keep separate accounts of the different funds;

8. To report to the controller, on or before the tenth day of each month, the amount disbursed during the preceding month for redemption of bonds and in payment of warrants during the month; which report must show the number of such bonds and warrants, the funds out of which they were paid, and the balance of cash on hand in the treasury to the credit of each fund; Monthly report.

9. At the request of either house of the legislature, or of any committee thereof, to give information in writing as to the condition of the treasury, or upon any subject relating to the duties of his office;

10. To report to the governor at the time prescribed in section 332 of this code, the exact balance in the treasury to the credit of the state, with a summary of the receipts and payments of the treasury during the two preceding fiscal years;

11. To authenticate with his official seal all writings and papers issued from his office;

12. To discharge the duties of state capitol commissioner, and such other duties as may be imposed upon him by law.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after June 30, 1911.

CHAPTER 180.

An act to regulate the sale of eggs and butter that have been in cold storage for a longer period than three months, requiring the labeling thereof by all persons selling or offering the same for sale, empowering and directing the state board of health to make rules and regulations to carry this act into effect and fixing penalties for the violation of the same, or any of the provisions.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

An act making an appropriation for the use of the creamery department of the California Polytechnic School and making provision for the return of said appropriation to the state treasury.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
contingent fund, California
Poly-
School.

SECTION 1. The sum of four thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be placed to the credit of the contingent fund of the California Polytechnic School. The money hereby appropriated, or such portion thereof as may be necessary, shall be used for the purchase of milk and cream for the creamery department of said school, and for no other purpose. All moneys so expended shall be returned by the California Polytechnic School to said fund from the proceeds of sale of butter and other creamery products, as such proceeds are received.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 183.

An act making an appropriation for the furnishing and equipping of a cottage for the accommodation of male patients at the Mendocino State Hospital.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
furnishing,
Mendocino State Hospital.

SECTION 1. The sum of four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be paid to the board of managers of the Mendocino State Hospital, for the purpose of furnishing and equipping one cottage for the accommodation of male patients at said hospital.

SEC. 2. The controller of state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants for the amount herein made payable, in favor of the said board of managers, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 184.

An act to amend the Political Code of the State of California, by amending section 2154 relating to officers and employees of state hospitals.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2154 of the Political Code of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

2154. Salaries of resident and other officers and wages of the employees must be included in the monthly estimates and paid in the same manner as other expenses of the state hospitals. The medical superintendents, the assistant physicians, secretaries to medical superintendents, and stewards, and their families, must be furnished room, household furniture, laundry service, drugs when ill, provisions, fuel and lights at and from the supplies of the hospital. But separate accounts must be kept of the same. The word "family" shall be regarded as meaning only the wife and minor children of said officers.

Salaries of hospital officers.

CHAPTER 185.

An act adding three new sections to an act entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, to be numbered 10, 11 and 12 and relating to the government of municipal corporations and providing for the recall, initiative and referendum.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, to be numbered 10 and read as follows:

Section 10. The holder of any elective office of any municipality may be removed or recalled at any time by the electors; provided, he has held his office at least four months. The procedure to effect such removal or recall shall be as follows: A petition demanding the election of a successor to the person sought to be removed shall be filed with the clerk, which petition shall be signed by registered voters equal, in number to at least twenty-five per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election, and shall contain a statement of the grounds on which the removal or recall is sought, which statement is intended solely for the information of the electors. Any insufficiency of form or substance in such statement shall in no wise affect the validity of the election and proceedings held thereunder. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper, but each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the street and number, if any. One of the signers of each such paper shall make oath before an officer competent to administer an oath that the statements therein made are true as he believes, and that each signature to the paper appended is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be. Within ten days from the date of filing such petition, the clerk shall examine and from the records of registration ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified voters, and if necessary the city council, board of trustees or other governing body shall allow him extra help for that purpose, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the clerk's certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be amended within ten days from the date of said certificate. The clerk shall, within ten days after such amendment, make like examination of the amended petition and if his certificate shall show the same to be insufficient it shall be returned to the person filing the same, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the city council, or board of trustees or other governing body without delay, whereupon the council, or board of trustees or other governing body shall forthwith cause a special election to be held within not less than thirty-five nor more than forty days after the date of the order calling such election, to determine whether the voters will recall such officer; provided, that if a general municipal election is to occur within sixty days, the council may in its discretion postpone the holding of such election to such general election or submit such recall election at any such general election occurring not less than thirty-five days after such order. If a vacancy occur in said office after a recall petition is filed, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this section provided. One petition is sufficient to propose the removal and election of one or more elective officials. One election is competent for the removal and election of one or more elective officials. Nominations for any office under such recall election shall be made in the same manner as are nominations for such office at general municipal elections. Upon the sample ballot there shall be printed in not more than two hundred words the reasons for demanding the recall of the officer set forth in the recall petition, and upon the same ballot in not more than two hundred words the officer may justify his course in office.

Reasons.

There shall be printed on the recall ballot, as to every officer Ballot. whose recall is to be voted on thereat, the following question: "Shall (name of person against whom the recall petition is filed) be recalled from the office of (title of the office,)" following which question shall be the words "Yes" and "No" on separate lines, with a blank space at the right of each, in which the voter shall indicate, by stamping a cross (X), his vote for or against such recall. On such ballots, under each such question, there shall also be printed the names of those persons who have been nominated as candidates to succeed the person recalled, in case he shall be removed from office by said recall election; but no vote cast shall be counted for any candidate for said office unless the voter also voted on said question of the recall of the person sought to be recalled from said office. The name of the person against whom the petition is filed shall not appear on the ballot as a candidate for the office. If a majority of those voting on said question of the recall of any incumbent from office shall vote "No," said incumbent shall continue in said office. If a majority shall vote "Yes," said incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from such office, upon the qualification of his successor. The canvassers shall canvass all votes for candidates for said office and declare the result in like manner as in a regular election. Canvass- of votes. If the vote at any such recall election shall recall the officer, then the candidate who has received the highest number of votes for the office shall be thereby declared elected, for the remainder of the term. In case the person who received the highest number of votes shall fail to qualify within ten days after receiving the certificate of election, the office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled according to law.

No person who has been recalled or who has resigned from such office while recall proceedings were pending against him, shall be appointed to any office within one year after such resignation or recall. The successor of any officer so recalled shall hold office during the unexpired term of his predecessor, subject to removal under the provisions of this section. Person recalled.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, to be numbered 11, and read as follows:

Section 11. The registered voters of any municipality shall have power to propose by petition, and to adopt or reject at the polls, if not adopted in the mean time by the city council, board of trustees or other governing body any ordinance, act or other measure which is within the power conferred upon the city council, board of trustees or other governing body. Such ordinance, act or other measure may be proposed by filing with the clerk a petition setting forth said measure in full, signed by voters equal in number to the percentage hereinafter required. Such petition shall be executed, signed and verified in the same manner and the clerk shall perform the same Initiative.

duties in relation thereto, as is provided in the preceding section concerning petitions for recall. If the petition accompanying the proposed measure be signed by voters equal in number to thirty per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election, and contains a request that said measure be submitted forthwith to a vote of the electorate at a special election, then the city council, board of trustees or other governing body must either pass the measure without alteration or submit the same to the electorate at a special election to be held at a date not more than thirty days from the date of calling the same. If the petition be signed by voters equal in number to fifteen per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election, or if for any reason any measure proposed by petition signed by thirty per cent of said voters as aforesaid has not been submitted at a special election as above provided, then in either event such measure or measures shall be submitted to the electorate at the next general municipal election which shall take place at any time after thirty days from the date of the clerk's certificate of sufficiency; provided, that the city council, board of trustees or other governing body shall not in the mean time pass the same without alteration. The ballots used when voting on said proposed measure shall contain a general statement thereof, followed by the words "Yes" and "No" so arranged that the voter may indicate his choice upon the ballot. If a majority of the qualified voters voting on any proposed measure shall vote in favor thereof, the same shall be deemed adopted and shall go into effect ten days after the declaration of the official count. The city council, board of trustees or other governing body may at any such election submit any amendment of any proposed measure, and if such amendment shall also receive a majority vote of the voters voting thereon, respectively, the same shall in like manner be deemed adopted and shall go into effect at the same time, as the ordinance of which it is an amendment. Any measure adopted by the electors under the provisions of this section can not be repealed or amended, except by a vote of the electors obtained in the manner hereinbefore stated, unless provision otherwise be made in the measure itself. Special elections under this section shall not be held at intervals of less than six months. If any measure be submitted upon an initiative petition of registered voters, the persons filing said petition shall have the right to present and file therewith a written argument in support thereof not exceeding three hundred words in length, which argument shall be printed upon the sample ballot issued for said election. Upon the same ballot shall also be printed any argument of not exceeding three hundred words in opposition to such measure upon behalf of the city council, board of trustees, or other governing body.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to an act entitled, "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, to be numbered 12, and read as follows:

15 per cent.

Amendments.

Repeal only by election.

Argument in support.

Against.

Section 12. No ordinance passed by the city council, board of trustees or other governing body, except when otherwise specially required by the laws of the state, except an ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, which contains a statement of its urgency and is passed by a four-fifths vote of the board, and no ordinance granting a franchise, shall go into effect before thirty days from its final passage; and if during said thirty days a petition signed by qualified voters of the city equal to twenty-five per cent of the entire vote cast at the last preceding general municipal election, protesting against the passage of such ordinance, be presented to the council, board of trustees or other governing body, the same shall thereupon be suspended from going into operation, and it shall be the duty of the council, board of trustees or other governing body to reconsider such ordinance. If said council, board of trustees or other governing body shall thereupon not entirely repeal said ordinance, it shall submit the same to a vote of the electors either at a general election or a special election to be called for the purpose, and such ordinance shall not go into effect or become operative unless a majority of the voters voting upon the same shall vote in favor thereof. Such petitions and the provisions of the law relative to the duty of the clerk in regard thereto and the manner of voting thereon, shall conform to the rules provided for the initiation of legislation. Any ordinance, act or other measure that the city council, board of trustees or the voters, or other governing body, shall have authority to enact, the council, board of trustees or other governing body may of its own motion submit to the electors for adoption or rejection at a general or special municipal election, in the same manner and with the same force and effect as is provided for ordinances or measures submitted on petition. At any special election called under the provisions of law for an initiative or referendum vote, there shall be no bar to the submission of other questions to a vote of the electors in addition to the ordinances or measures for the submission of which such election is specially called, if said other questions are such as might be legally submitted at such an election. If the provisions of two or more measures approved or adopted at the same election conflict, then the measures receiving the highest affirmative vote shall control.

CHAPTER 186.

An act amending section one hundred seventy-one a, of the Penal Code of California.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 171a of the Penal Code, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Taking opium, etc., into tolls.

171a. Any person, not authorized by law, who brings into any state prison, town or county jail, or city, or city and county jail, or reformatory in this state or within the grounds belonging or adjacent to any such institution, any opium, morphine, cocaine, or other narcotic, or any intoxicating liquor of any kind whatever, or any firearms, weapons, or explosives of any kind, is guilty of a felony.

CHAPTER 187.

An act to amend section 686 of the Penal Code, relating to the rights of a defendant in a criminal action.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 686 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Rights of defendant in criminal action.

686. In a criminal action the defendant is entitled:

1. To a speedy and public trial.
2. To be allowed counsel as in civil actions, or to appear and defend in person and with counsel.
3. To produce witnesses on his behalf and to be confronted with the witnesses against him, in the presence of the court, except that where the charge has been preliminarily examined before a committing magistrate and the testimony taken down by question and answer in the presence of the defendant, who has, either in person or by counsel, cross-examined or had an opportunity to cross-examine the witness; or where the testimony of a witness on the part of the people, who is unable to give security for his appearance, has been taken conditionally in the like manner in the presence of the defendant, who has, either in person or by counsel, cross-examined or had an opportunity to cross-examine the witness, the deposition of such witness may be read, upon its being satisfactorily shown to the court that he is dead or insane, or can not with due diligence be found within the state; and except also that in the case of offenses hereafter committed the testimony on behalf of the people or the defendant of a witness deceased, insane, out of jurisdiction, or who can not, with due diligence, be found within the state, given on a former trial of the action in the presence of the defendant who has, either in person or by counsel, cross-examined or had an opportunity to cross-examine the witness, may be admitted.

CHAPTER 188.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code to be numbered 1053, relating to the substitution of judges during trial of a criminal action.

[Approved March 14, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Penal Code is hereby amended by the addition of a new section numbered 1053, to read as follows:

1053. If after the commencement of the trial of a criminal action or proceeding the judge shall die, become ill, or for any other reason be unable to proceed with the trial, any other judge of the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the case is pending may proceed with and finish the trial; or, if there be no other judge of such superior court, then the clerk or sheriff shall adjourn the court and continue the case from day to day, until such time as the governor shall designate a judge of the superior court from some other county to proceed with and complete the trial, or until such time as, by stipulation in writing between the district attorney and the attorney for the defendant, filed with the clerk, a judge shall be agreed upon by them to complete said trial. The judge authorized by the provisions of this section to proceed with and complete the trial shall have the same power, authority and jurisdiction as if the trial had been commenced before such judge.

Substitution of judges in criminal actions.

CHAPTER 189.

An act to amend section 766 of the Code of Civil Procedure of California, relating to partition of real property.

[Approved March 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 766 of the Code of Civil Procedure of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Court may confirm, etc., report.

766. The court may confirm, change, modify, or set aside the report, and if necessary, appoint new referees. Upon the report being confirmed, judgment must be rendered that such partition be effectual forever, which judgment is binding and conclusive.

Judgment binding on.

1. On all persons named as parties to the action, and their legal representatives, who have at the time any interest in the property divided, or any part thereof, as owners in fee or as tenants for life or for years, or as entitled to the reversion, remainder, or the inheritance of such property, or any part thereof, after the determination of a particular estate therein, and who by any contingency may be entitled to a beneficial interest in the property, or who have an interest in any undivided share thereof, as tenants for years or for life;

2. On all persons not in being at the time said judgment is entered, who have any interest in the property divided, or any part thereof, as entitled to the reversion, remainder or the inheritance of such property, or any part thereof, after the determination of a particular estate therein, and who by any contingency may be entitled to a beneficial interest in the property; provided, that in case sale has been made under the provisions of this chapter the judgment shall provide for keeping intact the share of the proceeds of said sale, to which said party or parties not in being at the time are or may be entitled until such time as such party or parties may take possession thereof;

3. On all persons interested in the property, who may be unknown, to whom notice has been given of the action for partition by publication;

4. On all other persons claiming from such parties or persons, or either of them.

And no judgment is invalidated by reason of the death of any party before final judgment or decree; but such judgment or decree is as conclusive against the heirs, legal representatives, or assigns of such decedent, as if it had been entered before his death. If during the pendency of the action, and before final judgment therein, any of the cotenants has conveyed to another person his interest, or any part of his interest, such conveyance, whatever its form, shall be deemed to have passed to the grantee any lands which, after its execution, may have been set aside to the grantor in severalty, or such proportionate interest in such lands as the interest so conveyed bears to the whole interest of the grantor.

CHAPTER 190.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure of California to be known as section 1810a, relating to conveyances by guardians.

[Approved March 15, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be known as section 1810a and to read as follows:

1810a. When a person who is bound by contract in writing to convey any real estate, or to transfer any personal property, dies before making conveyance or transfer, and in all cases when such decedent, if living might be compelled to make such conveyance or transfer, the court, having jurisdiction of the guardianship proceedings of such minor may make a decree authorizing and directing the guardian of any minor, who has succeeded by distribution to the estate of such deceased person, to convey or transfer such real estate of personal property to the person entitled thereto.

CHAPTER 209.

An act to authorize and regulate the possession, use, transportation and sale of trout or other fish, by persons engaged in the business of propagating and rearing such fish, and by persons who transport such fish, and by persons who purchase fish so reared.

[Approved March 17, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Fish culture.

SECTION 1. Any citizen of the State of California who owns or leases land held in private ownership may establish and maintain thereon ponds for the culture and propagation of trout or other fish subject to all of the provisions contained in this act.

Application for license.

SEC. 2. Every person desiring to establish and maintain a pond or ponds for the culture of domesticated trout or other fish shall first make written application to the state board of fish and game commissioners, setting forth his name, residence, place of business, the exact description of the land upon which he desires to establish such pond or ponds, the nature of his title thereto, whether owned by him or held under lease, and the term for which such license is desired, and the kind and as near as may be the number of fish desired to be kept therein; such application shall be accompanied by a fee of five (5) dollars which if such application be granted shall be paid into the state treasury by the state board of fish and game commissioners to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

or inlet.

SEC. 3. Such ponds shall be entirely within the exterior boundaries of the land owned or leased by the applicant, and described in such application, and there shall be no natural inlet or outlet for the waters contained in such pond. Any artificial inlet or outlet for the waters of such pond shall be screened to the satisfaction of the board of fish and game commissioners, to prevent the ingress of fish to such pond from any natural body of water.

SEC. 4. If upon examination by the state board of fish and game commissioners it shall appear that the application is made in good faith and in other respects proper and reasonable, the said state board of fish and game commissioners shall grant to such applicant a license therefor. The decision of said board shall not be final, but shall be subject to review by a court of competent jurisdiction. Decision.

SEC. 5. Such license shall be substantially in the following form: Form of license.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

This authorizes transportation within this state, possession and sale for ten days after date, if attached to the article.

..... Proprietor.
By Agent.

No invoice shall be issued or delivered except in conformity with the provisions of this section.

Duplicate Invoice.

SEC. 8. Such proprietor or his agent shall at the same time deliver or mail postpaid a duplicate of such invoice to the state board of fish and game commissioners at their office; provided, that in the case of the sale or disposition of trout or other fish in quantities of less than three pounds in weight to any one purchaser or donee, such duplicate of invoice need not be delivered or mailed to said board, but said proprietor shall keep such duplicate for the period of sixty days thereafter and shall exhibit the same to said board or any of its deputies upon demand.

Invoice attached to express package.

SEC. 9. When any such fish for which an invoice is required are to be shipped by rail, express, or other carrier, public or private, the invoice shall be securely attached thereto or to the package containing the same in plain sight, and the same may then be lawfully carried and delivered to the consignee or donee named in such invoice. If such fish is held, or offered for sale, or sold by the consignee, or kept in any storage, café, restaurant, or boarding house, or elsewhere, such invoice shall be kept attached thereto and until the same has been prepared for consumption.

In case of sale or disposition of a part of such fish, the vendor shall at the same time make a copy of such invoice and introduce thereon the date of sale, the number and kind of fish so disposed of and the name of purchaser or donee who shall keep same attached thereto until the same is prepared for consumption, and the same shall have the same force as the original invoice. No copy of such invoice shall be issued or delivered except in conformity with the provisions of this section.

Copy of invoice to purchaser.

SEC. 10. Any wrongful misstatement in, or any omission of, a substantial requirement from any invoice or any copy thereof shall render the same void and be deemed a violation of this act. And the possession of any fish without such invoice or copy thereof attached thereto when sold or disposed of as above required, shall be unlawful.

ment.

SEC. 11. The proprietor of every private pond licensed under the preceding sections hereof, shall, whenever required by the state board of fish and game commissioners, make and send to said state board of fish and game commissioners a report showing as near as practicable, the kind, number, and weight of fish held in possession at any time, and the kind, number and weight of fish disposed of during the year preceding and on hand at the time of the report.

Report.

SEC. 12. License for private ponds for the culture of domesticated trout or other fish shall be issued for a term of twenty-five years or any lesser period as the applicant may desire and any license may be renewed from time to time for a like period, which renewal shall be in the same form and words as the original license with the word "Renewal" written on its face. A renewal must be applied for and a like fee shall be charged for any renewal of a license.

Term of license.

SEC. 13. Any lake, pond, or any body of water maintained in violation of this act shall be deemed a continuing public nuisance, and may be abated as provided by law for the abatement of public nuisances, and each day the same is maintained in violation thereof shall be deemed a separate offense.

Violation of act.

SEC. 14. The violation of any provision of this act is hereby declared a misdemeanor and every person violating any of its provisions shall, upon conviction thereof, be fined in a sum not less than twenty-five dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term of not less than twenty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

SEC. 15. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 210.

An act to regulate the production and sale of certified butter.

[Approved March 17, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Certified butter.

SECTION 1. No person shall sell or exchange, or offer or expose for sale or exchange, as and for certified butter any butter which does not conform to the regulations prescribed by, and bear the certification of, a milk commission appointed by a county medical society organized under and chartered by the medical society of the State of California and which has not been pronounced by such authority to be free from anti-septics, added preservatives and pathogenic bacteria. All butter sold as certified butter shall be conspicuously marked with the name of the commission certifying it; provided, that such milk commission shall make all requirements for the production and handling of certified butter uniform and fair, and shall not refuse to certify butter for any applicant for certification who shall comply with the provisions of this act, and the requirements of the milk commission whose certificate is sought.

for violation.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than ten days nor more than sixty days.

CHAPTER 211.

An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the State of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weight or measure; authorizing counties, incorporated cities, incorporated towns, and incorporated cities and counties of the State of California to appoint sealers of weights and measures and to define the powers and duties of such sealers; to provide penalties for violation of the provisions of this act relating to the foregoing and for the admission in evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures furnished under the provisions of this act.

[Approved March 18, 1911]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The standard of weights and measures received from the United States under a resolution of congress approved June 14, 1836, and such new weights and measures as shall be received from the United States as standard weights and measures in addition thereto or renewal thereof, and such as shall be procured by the state in conformity therewith and certified by the national bureau of standards, shall be the state standards, by which all county and municipal standards of weights and measures shall be tried, proved and sealed. United States standards adopted.

SEC. 2. All such copies furnished under the provisions of this act shall first be tried and accurately proved by the secretary of state and shall be sealed and certified to by the secretary of state and stamped with the letter "C." Such copies shall be furnished at the expense of the county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county requiring the same. Copies furnished under the provisions of this section need not be of the same material or construction as the standards of the state, but Copies for counties, etc.

such copies may be furnished in any suitable materials or construction that the secretary of state may specify.

Sealers of weights.

SEC. 4. The respective counties, incorporated cities, incorporated towns and incorporated cities and counties of the state are hereby authorized to appoint sealers of weights and measures.

Jurisdiction of sealers.

SEC. 5. The jurisdiction of the sealers of weights and measures of the various counties of the state shall extend over the entire territorial limits of the counties appointing such officers, except in the incorporated cities and incorporated towns that have appointed or may appoint sealers of weights and measures under the provisions of this act. The jurisdiction of the sealers of weights and measures appointed by the various incorporated cities, incorporated towns and incorporated cities and counties under the provisions of this act, shall extend over the entire territorial limits of the incorporated city or incorporated town or incorporated city and county appointing such officer.

Compensation.

Any county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county appointing a sealer of weights and measures under the provisions of this act shall fix the compensation of such officer and may provide deputies for such officer and fix their compensation.

Additional duties.

Any county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county appointing sealers of weights and measures under the provisions of this act may also prescribe duties to be performed by such officer in addition to the duties prescribed by this act, but no additional duties can be prescribed which are in conflict with the provisions of this act.

Sealers have charge of weights.

SEC. 6. The various sealers of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act shall have charge of and take possession of the copies of the standards of weights and measures of the state procured from the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of section three of this act.

Biennial test of weights.

The sealers of weights and measures shall, every two years, cause to be proved and tested by the secretary of state, and it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to so prove and test, copies of the standards of weights and measures of the state furnished the secretary of state under the foregoing provisions. If any of the copies of the weights and measures so tested shall be found to be incorrect, the same shall be adjusted if the same are susceptible of being adjusted, but if the same are not susceptible of being adjusted new copies shall be furnished at the expense of the county or incorporated city or incorporated town or incorporated city and county requiring the same.

Copies deemed correct.

SEC. 7. In any prosecution for a violation of any of the provisions of this act any copy of the standards of weights and measures of the state furnished by the secretary of state under the provisions of this act shall be admitted in evidence upon the trial and such copies shall conclusively be deemed true and correct.

Preservation of copies.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of all sealers of weights and measures to carefully preserve all copies of the standards of weights and measures of the state furnished under the provisions of this act and to keep the same in a safe and suitable place when not actually in use.

SEC. 9. Every person using or keeping for use or having or offering for sale weights, scales, beams, measures of every kind instruments or mechanical device for measurement, and tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures within a county, incorporated city, incorporated town, or incorporated city and county in which there has been appointed under the provisions of this act a sealer of weights and measures, shall, within three months after the appointment of such sealer of weights and measures, cause all such weights, scales, beams, measures of every kind, instruments or mechanical device for measurement, and tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures used, kept for use or had or offered for sale by him, to be sealed and marked by the sealer of weights and measures of the county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county in which the same are used, kept for use or kept or offered for sale.

ment, and tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures shall always be subject to inspection as herein provided, notwithstanding that the same have been tested and sealed either by a sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act or by the national bureau of standards.

Scale, etc.,
must be assembled.

SEC. 12. Any scale, beam or mechanical device for weighing or measuring, which after being sold and before being used for weighing, must be assembled or set up, may be sold, kept for sale, or offered for sale without being first tested and sealed as in this act provided; but such scale, beam, or mechanical device for weighing or measuring must before being used for weighing or measuring be tested and sealed as in this act provided.

Tests made upon request.

SEC. 13. Upon a written request of any resident of a county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures under the provisions of this act, the sealer of weights and measures for such county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county shall test or cause to be tested, as soon thereafter as is practicable, the weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instruments or mechanical device for measurement, tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures used in buying or selling by the person, firm or corporation designated in such request. Upon the written request of any person, firm or corporation, using, having for use, selling, keeping or offering for sale any weight, scale, beam, measure or any kind of instrument or mechanical device for measurement, tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures, in any county, incorporated city, incorporated town, or incorporated city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures under the provisions of this act, the sealer of weights and measures for such county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county shall test or cause to be tested, as soon thereafter as is practicable, the weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for measurement, tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures belonging to or used by such person, firm, or corporation, providing that such written request shall not relieve the person, firm or corporation making it, from any violation of the provisions of this act or of the responsibility provided in this act for using, keeping for use, selling or offering to sell, or keeping for sale, any false weight, scale, beam, measure of any kind, instrument or mechanical device for measurement, tools, appliances or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures.

Inspection of weights and measures.

SEC. 14. The sealer of weights and measures shall, within his county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county, inspect, test, try and ascertain if they are correct all weights, scales, beams, measures of any kind, instruments or mechanical devices for measurements, and tools, appliances, or accessories connected with any or all such instruments or measures, kept for the purpose of sale, sold, or used or employed within the respective county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county by any proprietor, agent, lessee or employee in proving the size, quantity, extent, area or measurement of quantities, things, produce, articles for distribution or consumption offered or submitted by such person or persons for sale, hire or award; and he shall have the power to and shall, from time to time, weigh or measure packages or amounts of commodities of whatsoever kind kept for the purpose of sale, offered for sale or sold or in the process of delivery in order to determine whether the same contains the amount represented and whether they are being offered for sale or sold in a manner in accordance with the law. He shall, at least twice in each year, or as much oftener as he deems necessary, see that the weights, measures and all weighing and measuring apparatus, used in his respective county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county, are correct. He may, for the purpose above mentioned, and in the general performance of his duty, enter or go into or upon, and without formal warrant, any stand, place, building or premises or stop any vendor, peddler, junk dealer, driver of a coal wagon, ice wagon or delivery wagon or any dealer whatsoever, and, if necessary, require him to proceed to some place which the sealer of weights and measures may specify for the purpose of making the proper tests.

Twice yearly.

SEC. 15. Whenever a sealer of weights and measures finds a violation of any of the statutes relating to weights and measures he shall cause the violator to be prosecuted.

Prosecute
violator.

SEC. 16. Whenever a sealer of weights and measures compares weights and measures or weighing or measuring instruments and finds that they correspond, or causes them to correspond to the standard in his possession, he shall seal or mark, under his name, such weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument with an appropriate device showing that the weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument is correct and the date of the inspection, which device shall be so placed as to be easily seen.

When the same have been repaired or corrected the owner or user thereof shall notify the sealer of weights and measures and the sealer of weights and measures shall again test and prove the weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument which has been found incorrect and marked as in this section provided, and until such weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument has been inspected by the sealer of weights and measures and found correct the same shall not be used.

Removal of "out of order" tag.

Any person who removes or obliterates any tag or device with the words "Out of Order," or any tag, mark, seal or device placed upon any weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument, as in this act provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

When any weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument has been repaired and corrected, as in this section provided, and has been inspected and found correct by the sealer of weights and measures, as in this section provided, the sealer of weights and measures shall remove the tag or device with the words "Out of Order," and shall seal and mark such weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument in the manner provided in this section.

Penalty for use of false weights.

SEC. 17. Any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent or as the employee or agent of another, shall use, in the buying or selling of any commodity, or retain in his possession a false weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument, or use or retain in his possession any weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument in any county, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county in which there has been appointed a sealer of weights and measures in accordance with the provisions of this act, which has not been sealed by a sealer of weights and measures within one year, or who shall dispose of any condemned weight or measure or weighing or measuring instrument contrary to law, or any person who, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer for sale or have in his possession for the purpose of selling, any device or instrument to be used to or calculated to falsify any weight or measure, and any person who, by himself or his employee or agent, or as the employee or agent of another, shall sell or offer or expose for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing in a less quantity than that he represents it to be or contain, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Powers
of sealer.

SEC. 18. A sealer of weights and measures, in the performance of his official duties, shall have the same powers as are possessed by police officers of this state.

SEC. 19. Any person who shall hinder or obstruct in any way a sealer of weights and measures in the performance of his official duties shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Refusal to exhibit
weights.

SEC. 20. No person shall neglect or refuse to exhibit any weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument of any kind, or appliances or accessories connected with any or all of such instruments or measures which is in his possession or under his control, to any sealer of weights and measures within the territorial limits of the jurisdiction of such sealer of weights and measures for the purpose of allowing the same to be inspected and examined by the sealer of weights and measures.

SEC. 21. No person, by himself, or his employee or agent, or as a proprietor or manager, shall refuse to exhibit any article, commodity, produce or thing being sold or offered for sale at a given weight or quantity, or ordinarily so sold, to a sealer of weights and measures within the territorial jurisdiction of such sealer of weights and measures for the purpose of allowing the same to be tested and proved as to the quantity therein contained by the sealer of weights and measures.

Refusal to exhibit commodity.

SEC. 22. Every sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this act shall carefully keep a record of all tests made by him, of all measures or weights and of all weighing or measuring instruments which have been tested and found correct, or which have been tested and found incorrect, of all arrests made by him for violations of the provisions of this act, and of all of his official acts, which record shall always be open to public inspection.

Record of tests.

SEC. 23. Any sealer of weights and measures who wilfully neglects to perform any of his duties, as provided by this act, may be removed by the same power which appointed him and the said appointing power shall be sole judge of the existence of the cause for such removal.

Neglect of duty.

Any sealer who shall seal any weight, measure, balance or apparatus before first testing and making the same conform with the authorized standard, or who shall condemn any weight, measure, balance or apparatus without first testing the same, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sealing before testing.

SEC. 24. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty.

SEC. 25. The word "person," as used in this act, shall be deemed to include person, firm or corporation.

"Person."

SEC. 26. It shall be the duty of all officers, directors and managers of corporations, whose respective corporations use or keep for use or sell or offer for sale any weights, measures or weighing or measuring instruments which are subject to inspection by the provisions of this act, to comply with the provisions of this act on behalf of their respective corporations, and it shall be the duty of all officers, directors and managers of corporations, whose respective corporations offer for sale or keep for sale any commodity, produce, article or thing which is subject to inspection by the provisions of this act, to comply with the provisions of this act on behalf of their respective corporations. In case any corporation shall violate any of the provisions of this act the officers, directors and managers of the same shall be responsible for such violation and shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Duty of corporation officer.

One sealer for two counties.

SEC. 27. Two or more counties of this state may, by agreement, appoint one sealer of weights and measures and may fix his compensation and provide for his deputies and fix their compensation. A sealer of weights and measures so appointed shall have jurisdiction over the counties appointing him. In case two or more counties appoint a sealer of weights and measures, under the provisions of this section, such sealer of weights and measures shall perform the duties and have the powers of sealers of weights and measures appointed under the foregoing provisions of this act.

Fees for sealing.

SEC. 28. Any county or counties, incorporated city, incorporated town or incorporated city and county appointing a sealer of weights and measures under the provisions of this act may provide the fees or charges that may be exacted by the sealer of weights and measures for sealing and making each weight, measure or weighing or measuring instrument and may provide for the proper disposition of such fees and charges.

SEC. 29. All acts and laws and parts of acts and laws in conflict with the, or any of the provisions of this, act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 212.

An act to provide for the purchase of an automobile for the governor of the State of California, and to make an appropriation for the same.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
automobile for governor.

SECTION 1. The sum of thirty-two hundred dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to purchase an automobile for the use of the governor.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby directed to draw his warrant for this amount and the state treasurer to pay the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

[Became a law, under constitutional provision, without Governor's approval, March 21, 1911.]

CHAPTER 213.

An act relating to explosives and prescribing regulations for the transportation, storage and selling of explosives, and providing penallies for the violation of this act.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The term "explosive" or "explosives" when ever used in this act shall include gunpowder, blasting powder, dynamite, guncotton, nitroglycerine or any compound thereof, fulminate, and every explosive substance having an explosive power equal to or greater than black blasting powder, and any substance intended to be used by exploding or igniting the same to produce a force to propel missiles, or rend apart substances, but does not include said substances, or any of them, in the form of fixed ammunition for small arms. The term "person" whenever used herein shall be held to include corporations as well as natural persons; words used in the singular number to include the plural and the plural the singular. The words "explosive manufacturing plant" shall be understood to include all the land used in connection with the manufacture and storage of explosives thereat. Definitions.

SEC. 2. Except only at an explosive manufacturing plant, no person shall have, keep or store, at any place within this state, any explosives, unless such explosives are completely enclosed and encased in tight metal, wooden or fibre containers, and, except while being transported, or within the custody of a common carrier pending delivery to consignee, shall be kept and stored in a magazine constructed and operated as hereinafter described, and no person having in his possession or control, any explosives, shall under any circumstances permit or allow any grains or particles thereof to be or remain on the outside or about the containers, in which such explosives are contained. Enlosure and storage.

SEC. 3. Magazines in which explosives may lawfully be stored or kept shall be two classes, as follows: Magazines.

(a) Magazines of the first class shall consist of those containing explosives exceeding fifty pounds, and shall be constructed wholly of brick, wood covered with iron, or other fireproof material, and must be fireproof, and, except magazines where gunpowder or black blasting powder only is stored, must be bullet proof, and shall have no openings except for ventilation and entrance. The doors of such magazine must be fireproof and bullet proof, and at all times kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. Every such magazine shall have sufficient openings for ventilation thereof, which must be screened in such manner as to prevent the entrance of sparks or fire through the same. Upon each side 1st class.

of such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign, with the words, "Magazine," "Explosives," "Dangerous," legibly printed thereon in letters not less than six inches high. No matches, fire or lighting device of any kind shall at any time be permitted in any such magazine. No package of explosives shall at any time be opened in any magazine, nor shall any open package of explosives be kept therein. No blasting caps, or other detonating or fulminating caps, or detonators, or electric fuzees, shall be kept or stored in any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored, but such caps, detonators or fuzees may be kept or stored in a magazine constructed as above provided which must be located at least one hundred feet from any magazine in which explosives are kept or stored. Magazines in which explosives are kept or stored must be detached, and must be located at least one hundred feet from any other structure.

(b) Magazines of the second class shall consist of a stout wooden box, covered with sheet iron, and not more than fifty pounds of explosives shall at any time be kept or stored therein, and, except when necessarily opened for use by authorized persons, shall at all times be kept securely locked. Upon each such magazine there shall at all times be kept conspicuously posted a sign with the words, "Magazine," "Explosives," "Dangerous," legibly printed thereon.

Storage in tunnels.

Nothing in this section contained shall be held to prohibit the keeping or storing of explosives in any tunnel, where no person or persons are employed; provided, always, that any tunnel so used for the storage of explosives shall have fire-proof doors, which must at all times be kept closed and locked, except when necessarily opened for the purpose of storing or removing explosives therein or therefrom, by persons lawfully entitled to enter the same. The door of such tunnel magazine shall at all times have legibly printed thereon the words, "Magazine," "Explosives," "Dangerous."

Penalty for violating.

SEC. 4. Any person violating or failing to comply with any of the provisions of sections two and three of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, and not more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Transporting.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful to transport, carry or convey, any explosives between any places within this state, on any vessel, car or other vehicle of any description, operated by common carrier, which vessel, car or vehicle is carrying passengers for hire; provided, that it shall be lawful to transport on any such vessel, car or vehicle, small arms ammunition in any quantity, and such fuses, torpedoes, rockets or other signal devices, as may be essential to promote safety in operation, and properly packed and marked samples for laboratory examination, not exceeding a net weight of one half pound each, and not exceeding twenty samples at one time, in a single vessel, car or vehicle, but such samples shall not be carried in that part of the vessel, car or vehicle, which is intended for the transportation of passengers for hire; provided, further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent the transportation of military or naval forces with their accompanying munitions of war on passenger equipment vessels, cars or vehicles; provided, further, that the transportation of explosives on any freight train in this state that carries passengers for hire in a car or caboose attached to the rear of such train, shall not be held or construed to violate the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6. The railroad commission of this state is hereby empowered to make, publish and promulgate such regulations as are not in conflict with this act and as in the judgment of said commission may tend to the safe packing, loading, storage and transportation of the explosives defined by section one of this act.

Regulations of railroad commission.

SEC. 7. It shall be unlawful to transport, carry or convey liquid nitroglycerine, fulminate in bulk, in dry condition, or other like explosive, between any places within this state, on any vessel, car or vehicle of any description, operated by common carrier in the transportation of passengers or articles of commerce by land or water.

Nitro-glycerine.

SEC. 8. Every package containing explosives or other dangerous articles when presented to a common carrier for shipment shall have plainly marked on the outside thereof, the contents thereon, and it shall be unlawful for any person to deliver for transportation to any common carrier engaged in commerce by land or water, or to cause to be delivered or to carry any explosive or other dangerous article, under any false or deceptive marking, description, invoice, shipping order or other declaration, or without informing the agent of such carrier of the true character thereof, at, or before the time of such delivery or carriage is made.

Packages to be marked.

SEC. 9. Any person who wilfully violates or causes to be violated any of the foregoing provisions of sections 5, 6, 7 and 8 of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished for each offense by fine not exceeding two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding eighteen months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Penalty for violating.

SEC. 10. Every person selling, giving away, or delivering explosives within this state, shall keep at all times an accurate journal or book of record, in which must be entered from time to time, as it is made, each and every sale, delivery, gift, or other disposition made by such person in the course of business, or otherwise, of any quantity of such explosive substance. Such journal or record book must show in a legible handwriting, to be entered therein at the time, a complete history of each transaction, stating name and quantity of explosives sold, delivered, given away, or otherwise disposed of; name, place of residence, and business of the purchaser or transferee, name of individual to whom delivered, with his or her address.

Record of sales.

Such journal or record book must be kept by the person so selling, delivering or otherwise disposing of such explosives, in his or their principal office or place of business, at all times subject to the inspection and examination of the police authorities of the state, county or municipality where same is situated, on proper demand therefor. In addition to keeping the record above provided, it shall be unlawful for any person to sell, give away or deliver any explosives within this state, without taking from the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered within this state, a statement in writing, showing the name and the address of the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered, and the place where and the purpose for which such explosives are intended for use, which statement shall be signed by the person to whom such explosives are sold, given away or delivered, or his agent, and be witnessed by two witnesses, known to the person selling, giving away or delivering such explosives, to be residents of the county where such explosives, as shown by such statement, are intended for use, who shall certify that the person to whom such explosives are to be sold, given away or delivered is personally known to each of said witnesses, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief, the explosives are required by such person for the uses and purposes set forth in the statement, which said statement shall at all times be kept on file in the principal office or place of business of the person so selling, giving away or delivering such explosives, subject to the inspection of the police authorities of the state, county or municipality where the same is situated, on proper demand made therefor; provided, that nothing in this section shall be held to apply to the delivery of explosives to any person or carrier for the purpose of being transported from a place within this state to any other place within this state, and provided, further, that nothing in this section contained shall apply to interstate commerce.

Statement
from purchaser.

Not applicable to carrier.

Penalty.

Every person selling, giving away or delivering any explosives without complying with all the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars and not more than two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment of not less than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court.

Cumulative
penalty.

In addition to such imprisonment and as cumulative penalty such person so offending shall forfeit for each offense the sum of two hundred and fifty dollars, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction, and the party instituting the action for such forfeiture shall not be entitled to dismiss same, without the consent of the court before which the suit has been instituted; nor shall any judgment recovered be set aside, satisfied or discharged save by order of such court, after full payment into court, and all moneys so collected must be paid to the party bringing suit.

SEC. 11. No explosives in excess of an amount sufficient for one day's operations shall be taken into any mine or underground workings in this state, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in an amount not exceeding five hundred dollars.

Explosives
in mines.

SEC. 12. No person, except a peace officer or a person authorized so to do by the owner thereof, or his agent, shall enter any explosive manufacturing plant, magazine or car containing explosives in this state; and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in an amount not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Entering
factory.

SEC. 13. No person shall discharge any firearms within five hundred feet of any magazine or of any explosive manufacturing plant, and any person wilfully violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and fined not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Discharging firearms near magazine.

SEC. 14. No person shall wilfully carry any explosive on his person within this state in any car, vessel or vehicle that carries passengers for hire, or place or carry any explosive while on board any such car, vessel or vehicle, in any hand baggage, roll or container, or place any explosive in any baggage thereafter checked with any common carrier, and any person violating any of the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a felony and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary not exceeding two years.

Carrying explosives
on person.

SEC. 15. Nothing in this act contained shall prevent the operation of, or modify, alter, set aside or supersede the provisions of any municipal ordinance respecting the delivery, storing and handling of explosives.

Municipal
ordinance.

SEC. 16. Nothing in this act contained shall regulate or apply to any shipment of explosives from a point within this state, consigned to a point without this state, over a line or lines of one or more common carriers.

CHAPTER 214.

An act to amend the Political Code of the State of California by adding thereto a new section to be known as and numbered section 2185c, relating to arrest, hearing and commitment of inebriates and drug habitués to a state hospital for the insane.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby added to the Political Code of the State of California a new section to be known as and numbered 2185c, and which shall read as follows:

Arrest, hearing and commitment of inebriates and drug habitués.

2185c. Whenever it appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of a magistrate of a county, or city and county, that any person is so far addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants as to have lost the power of self-control, or is subject to dipsomania or inebriety, he must issue and deliver to some peace officer for service, a warrant directing that such person be arrested and taken before a judge of the superior court for a hearing and examination on such charge. Such officer must thereupon, arrest and detain such person until a hearing and examination can be had. At the time of the arrest a copy of said affidavit and warrant of arrest must be personally delivered to said person. Such affidavit and warrant of arrest must be substantially in the form provided by section 2168 of the Political Code for the arrest of a person charged with insanity. He must be taken before a judge of the superior court, to whom said warrant and affidavit of arrest must be delivered to be filed with the clerk. The judge must then inform him of the charge against him, and inform him of his rights to make a defense to such charge and produce any witnesses in relation thereto. The judge must by order fix such time and place for the hearing and examination in open court as will give a reasonable opportunity for the production and examination of witnesses. Such order must be entered in the minutes of the court by the clerk and a certified copy of the same served on such person. The judge may also order that notice of the arrest of such person and the hearing of the charge be served on such relatives of said person known to be residing in the county, as the court may deem necessary or proper. The hearing and examination shall be had in compliance with the provisions of sections 2169 and 2170 of the Political Code. The judge, after such hearing and examination, if he believes the person is so far addicted to the intemperate use of narcotics or stimulants as to have lost the power of self-control, or is subject to dipsomania or inebriety, must make an order that he be confined in a hospital for the care and treatment of the insane, designated in such order, and the order must be accompanied by a written statement of the judge as to the financial condition of the patient and of the persons legally liable for his maintenance, as far as can be ascertained. Such order and statement shall be in substantially the form provided by section 2171 of the Political Code for the commitment of insane persons. The court shall commit such person for a definite period, not to exceed two years, but provided that he may be paroled by the medical superintendent under the same rules and conditions that the insane are paroled. Such person shall be delivered to the state hospital for the insane to which he has been committed in compliance with the provisions of section 2172 of the Political Code, providing for the commitment and deliverance of an insane person.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1911.

[Became a law, under constitutional provision, without Governor's approval, March 21, 1911.]

CHAPTER 215.

An act to provide for the erection of one group of cottages for female patients at the Southern California State Hospital, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty-four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended as follows: For the erection of one group of cottages for female patients on the lands of the Southern California State Hospital at Patton.

Appropriation:
cottages.
Southern California
State Hospital.

SEC. 2. The controller of the state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable in favor of the officers authorized by law to receive the same, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 216.

An act to provide for the erection of one group of cottages for male patients at the Southern California State Hospital, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation:
cottages,
Southern California
State Hospital.

SECTION 1. The sum of twenty-four thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended as follows: For the erection of one group of cottages for male patients on the lands of the Southern California State Hospital at Patton.

SEC. 2. The controller of state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable in favor of the officers authorized by law to receive the same, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after July 1, 1911.

CHAPTER 217.

An act to amend section nine hundred of the Code of Civil Procedure of California, relating to the recording in the recorder's office of abstracts of judgments rendered in the justices' courts.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section nine hundred of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Judgment
no lien

900. A judgment rendered in a justice's court creates no lien upon any lands of the defendant, unless such an abstract is filed in the office of the recorder of the county in which the lands are situated. When so filed, and from the time of filing, the judgment becomes a lien upon all the real property of the judgment debtor, not exempt from execution, in such county, owned by him at the time, or which he may afterwards, and before the lien expires, acquire. The lien continues for two years, unless the judgment be previously satisfied.

At any time before the expiration of two years from the time of filing such abstract of judgment, and while the judgment is yet in force or unsatisfied, a successive abstract of such judgment may be likewise filed, and it shall have the effect of continuing such lien for a further period of two years from the time of filing the subsequent abstract of judgment; provided, however, that no such lien shall continue or be in force after five years from the time of the rendition of such judgment.

CHAPTER 218.

An act to amend section eight hundred and sixty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to attachments.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred and sixty-six of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

866. A writ to attach the property of the defendant must be issued by the justice at the time of, or after issuing summons in actions in which the sum claimed exclusive of interest exceeds ten dollars, on receiving an affidavit by or on behalf of the plaintiff, showing the same facts as are required to be shown by the affidavit specified in section five hundred and thirty-eight.

Issue of writ of attachment.

CHAPTER 219.

An act to amend sections 1714 and 1715 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relative to new trials and appeals.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1714 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

1714. The provisions of part two of this code, relative to new trials and appeals, except in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions of this title, apply to the proceedings mentioned in this title; provided, that hereafter a motion for a new trial in probate proceedings can be made only in cases of contests of wills, either before or after probate and in proceedings under section one thousand six hundred and sixty-four of this code.

New trials and appeals.

SEC. 2. Section 1715 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Appeal,
when taken.

1715. The appeal may be taken at any time after the order, decree, or judgment is made or rendered, but not later than sixty days after the same is entered in the minute book of the court as provided in section one thousand seven hundred and four.

CHAPTER 220.

An act to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, title IX, chapter I, relative to executions, by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section 681a.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, title IX, chapter I, is hereby amended by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section 681a, so as to read as follows:

Stay of executions.

681a. The court or the judge thereof shall not have the power, without the consent of the adverse party, to stay, for a longer period than thirty days, the execution of any judgment or order the execution whereof would be stayed on appeal only by the execution of a stay bond.

CHAPTER 221.

An act to amend section 650 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to exceptions.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 650 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Bill of exceptions.

650. When a party desires to have exceptions taken at a trial settled in a bill of exceptions, he may, at any time thereafter, and within ten days after the entry of judgment, if the action was tried with a jury, or after receiving notice of the entry of judgment, if the action was tried without a jury, or such further time as the court in which the action is pending, or a judge thereof, may allow, prepare the draft of a bill, and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the adverse party. Such draft must contain all the exceptions and proceedings taken upon which the party relies. It may also contain a statement of any matters occurring upon the trial, in the presence of the court, showing any of the matters mentioned in subdivisions one and two of section six hundred and fifty-seven of this code. Within ten days after such service the adverse party may propose amendments thereto, and serve the same, or a copy thereof, upon the other party. The proposed bill and amendments must, within ten days thereafter be presented by the party seeking the settlement of the bill, to the judge who tried or heard the case, upon five days' notice to the adverse party, or be delivered to the clerk of the court for the judge. When received by the clerk he must immediately deliver them to the judge, if he is in the county; if he is absent from the county, and either party desires the paper to be forwarded to the judge, the clerk must, upon notice in writing of such party, immediately forward them by mail, or other safe channel; if not thus forwarded the clerk must deliver them to the judge immediately after his return to the county. When received from the clerk, the judge must designate the time at which he will settle the bill, and the clerk must immediately notify the parties of such designation. At the time designated the judge must settle the bill. The bill must thereupon be engrossed and presented to the judge to be certified, by the party presenting it, within ten days. If the action was tried before a referee, the proposed bill, with the amendments, if any, must be presented to such referee for settlement within ten days after service of the amendments, upon notice of five days to the adverse party, and thereupon the referee must settle the bill. If no amendments are served or if served are allowed, the proposed bill may be presented with the amendments, if any, to the judge or referee for settlement without notice to the adverse party.

Present-
bill.

It is the duty of the judge or referee, in settling the bill, to strike out of it all redundant and useless matter so that the exceptions and proceedings may be presented as briefly as possible. When settled, the bill must be signed by the judge or referee, with his certificate to the effect that the same is allowed, and must then be filed with the clerk.

Duty of judge to strike out useless matter.

No bill of exceptions, statement on motion for a new trial, notice of appeal, or notice or paper, other than amendments to the pleadings or an amended pleading, need be served upon any party whose default has been duly entered, or who has not appeared in the action or proceeding.

CHAPTER 222.

An act to amend section 649 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relative to exceptions.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 649 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Bill of exceptions, when to be presented, etc.

649. A bill containing the exception to any decision may be presented to the court or judge, for settlement at any time after the decision is made, but the same must be presented within ten days after written notice of making such decision, and after having been settled must be signed by the judge and filed with the clerk. When the decision excepted to is made by a tribunal other than a court, or by a judicial officer, the bill of exceptions must be presented to and settled and signed by such tribunal or officer.

CHAPTER 223.

An act to amend section 500 of the Political Code, relating to clerks in the register's office and their salaries.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

SECTION 1. Section 500 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Register of state land office, clerks.

500. The register of the state land office may appoint three clerks, all of whom shall be civil executive officers. The annual salary of each clerk in the register's office is eighteen hundred dollars. Said salary shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of other state officers.

SEC. 2. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 224.

An act authorizing owners of land or their grantees or assigns to sue the State of California, for damages done to real property by reason of the construction and maintenance of jetties in the Sacramento river, known as "Newtown jetties" and repealing an act entitled "An act to authorize the Lauritzen Company of San Francisco, a corporation, to sue the State of California," approved March 23, 1907.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Within thirty days from the passage of this act any owner of land or the grantee or assignee thereof is hereby authorized to commence an action in the superior court of the State of California in and for the county of Sacramento against the State of California, for damages done to real property, caused by the construction and maintenance in the Sacramento river, near Wood island in the county of Sacramento, of certain jetties known as "Newtown jetties" by the State of California.

Damages done by "Newtown jetties."

SEC. 2. Summons in said action or actions shall be served by delivering a copy thereof attached to a copy of the complaint to the attorney general and it shall be his duty to defend said action or actions.

Summons.

SEC. 3. All costs in any suit brought under this act shall be paid by the plaintiff and in case judgment therein be for the plaintiff it shall be for the amount actually found due, without interest thereon and said judgment shall bear no interest.

Costs.

SEC. 4. If it appears upon the trial of said action that damage has been done to plaintiff by any act for which the state is legally liable, the jury, or in case a jury trial be waived, the court shall ascertain from the evidence and find the amount of damages and thereupon judgment shall be entered for the amount of damages so found.

Amount of damages.

SEC. 5. Either party may appeal from any judgment or appealable order from the superior court.

Appeal.

SEC. 6. An act entitled "An act to authorize the Lauritzen Company of San Francisco, a corporation, to sue the State of California," approved March 23, 1907, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 225.

An act to amend sections 1196, 1197, 1205 and 1211 of the Political Code relating to election ballots, the manner of voting and the conduct of elections.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1196 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1196. Except as in this code otherwise provided, it shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county to provide printed ballots for every election of public officers, except elections for city or town officers, in which electors, or any of the electors, within the county, participate, and to cause to be printed in the appropriate ballot the name of every candidate whose name has been certified to or filed with the county clerk, in the manner provided for by law, together with the names certified by the secretary of state to have received in the respective parties, the highest number of votes for United States senator. Ballots other than those printed by the respective county clerks, or the clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any incorporated city or town, according to the provisions of this code, shall not be cast nor counted at any election. It shall be the duty of the county clerk of any consolidated city and county to provide separate ballots for every election for city and county officers in which the electors, or any of the electors, of such city and county, participate, and to cause to be printed on such separate ballots the name of every candidate for a city and county office whose name has been filed with the proper officer in the manner provided by law. It shall be the duty of the clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any incorporated city or town to provide separate ballots for every election for city or town officers in which the electors, or any of the electors, of such city or town, participate, and to cause to be printed in such separate ballots the name of every candidate whose name has been filed with such clerk or secretary in the manner provided for by law. All ballots shall be not to exceed twenty-four inches in length, and shall be of sufficient width to contain in parallel columns four inches in width the names of all candidates nominated, and below the printed list of candidates for each office, the necessary blank space or spaces to permit an elector to write in the names of persons whose names are not printed on the ballot, and to contain in a separate column or columns of sufficient width statements of all questions, propositions or constitutional amendments to be submitted to vote of the electors, and shall be printed on tinted paper furnished by the secretary of state. It shall be the duty of the secretary of state to obtain and keep on hand, a sufficient supply of paper for ballots, and to furnish the same in quantities ordered, to any county clerk, or clerk or secretary of the legislative body of any incorporated city or town, upon payment by them of the cost of such paper. Such paper shall be watermarked with a design to be furnished by the secretary of state, in such manner that the said watermark shall be plainly discernible on the outside of such ballot when folded according to law. Such design shall be kept secret from all persons not engaged in the preparation, printing or distribution of the paper or ballots, until the day of election. Such design shall be changed for each general election, and the same design shall not be used again at any general election within the space of fourteen years; but at any special or separate local election, paper marked with the design used at the previous election may be used. Nothing in this code contained shall prevent any voter from writing upon his ballot the name of any person for whom he desires to vote for any office and such vote shall be counted the same as if printed upon the ballot, and marked as voted for.

SEC. 2. Section 1197 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1197. There shall be provided at each polling place, at each election at which public officers are voted for, but one form of ballot for all the candidates for public office, and every ballot shall contain the names of all the candidates whose nominations for any office specified on the ballot have been duly made and not withdrawn, as provided by law, together with the title of the office arranged to conform as nearly as practicable to the plan hereinafter set forth.

One form of ballot.

2. The order in which the list of offices shall appear on the ballot shall, as to state offices and district offices, when the district includes more than one county, be determined by the secretary of state, and shall as nearly as may be practicable be the same for all counties. The order in which the list of county offices or district offices embracing one county or less, shall appear on the ballot, shall be determined by the county clerk.

Order of offices.

The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire state, including United States senator in congress, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the first assembly district; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, however, that the names of candidates for the office of electors for president and vice-president shall be arranged in groups as presented in the several certificates of nomination, and the voter may vote for the whole of such group by stamping one cross (X) at the right of such group.

Order of candidates to be voted on throughout state.

In more than one county.

If the office is that of representative in congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire state, except the office of state senator or assemblyman, the secretary of state shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that assembly district which is lowest in numerical order of any assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in which such candidates are to be voted on the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

Secretary of state to transmit list.

In certifying to each county clerk or registrar of voters the list of names as required in section 23 of the primary election law, the secretary of state shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for each office according to assembly districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one assembly district, he shall transmit separate lists for each assembly district. Except for the office of state senator or assemblyman, the order in which the names so certified shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each assembly district the order as determined by the secretary of state in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

In one county.

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on wholly within one county or city and county, except the office of representative in congress or state senator or assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order, which order shall be the order of names upon the ballots; provided, there is no more than one assembly district in such county, or city and county. If there is more than one assembly district in such county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that assembly district in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding assembly district in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding assembly district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

State senator and assemblyman.

(c) If the office is that of state senator or assemblyman, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

Municipal office.

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

If the nomination of a candidate for any office shall be made by petition, filed within the time and manner provided by law, but subsequent to the determination of the order in which names of candidates shall appear on the ballot, the name of such candidate with the word "Independent" printed to the right thereof, shall be placed on the ballot next below the names of the other candidates for the same office; provided, however, that in the case of judicial officers and school officers the word "Independent" shall be omitted.

3. All ballots shall be not to exceed twenty-four inches in length, and shall be four inches in width, and as many times such width as may be necessary to contain the names of all candidates nominated, with proper blank spaces to allow the voter to write in names not printed on the ballot, and also a separate column or columns of sufficient width for statements of all questions, propositions or constitutional amendments submitted to vote of the electors. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be headed by the designation of the office and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, according to the number to be elected to such office; such designation of the office and of the number of candidates to be voted for shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type, not smaller than ten point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the directions for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line. The names of the candidates for such office shall be printed in eight point Roman type (capitals) in proper order below the designation of the office, and in the same line in which the name of the candidate is printed and at the right of the name, or immediately below the name if there shall not be sufficient space to the right thereof, shall be printed in eight point Roman type (lower case) the designation of the political party or parties by or on behalf of which such candidate has been nominated; provided, that when a candidate has been nominated by petition, the word, "Independent," shall be printed to the right of his name, and provided, also, that as to candidates for judicial offices, and school offices the designation of the political party or parties, or the word "Independent," if there be an independent candidate, shall be omitted. The name of the candidate, and the designation of the political party or parties by which he has been nominated shall be printed in a space one half inch in depth, and shall be defined by light horizontal ruled lines, with a blank space on the right thereof one half inch square, which blank space (called the voting square) shall be made use of by the voter to designate, by stamping a cross (X) therein and after the name of the candidate, his choice of particular candidates.

Party designation.

Names of candidates not to be separated.

4. The names of the candidates for an office shall not be separated from each other on the ballot by names of candidates for any other office, and the list of candidates for each office shall be separated from the lists of candidates for other offices by a double rule, above and below such list. Each series of the lists of candidates for the several offices shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative," "County," or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve point, each such word being separated from the names of the candidates beneath by a three point line.

Border on ballot.

5. The left-hand side of each column of names on the ballot and also the right-hand side of each column of voting squares, shall be bordered by a broad printed line one twelfth of an inch wide, and the edge of the ballot on the left-hand side thereof shall be trimmed off up to the first border or solid line, on the left-hand side of the ballot, and on the right-hand side of the ballot shall be perforated along the border, or solid line above described. The ballot shall be so printed as to give each voter a clear opportunity to designate by stamping a cross (X) in a blank inclosed space, hereinbefore designated as the voting square, on the right of and after the name of each candidate whose name is printed on the ballot, his choice of particular candidates. The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub and separated therefrom by a perforated line across the top of the ballot. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend from top to bottom, along the border or solid line hereinbefore described, one half inch from the right-hand side of the ballot, and upon the half-inch strip thus formed there shall be no printing except the number of the ballot, which shall be upon the back of such strip in such position that it will appear on the outside when the ballot is folded. The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county. All ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters other than the separate ballots containing the names only of candidates for city and county offices, printed by the county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties, shall have printed on the back, below the stub, and immediately at the left of the center of the ballot, in eighteen point gothic capitals, the words "General Ticket," and underneath the respective number of congressional, senatorial and assembly districts in which each ballot is to be voted; and all ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties containing the names of candidates for city and county offices, and also all ballots printed by the clerks, registrars of voters or secretary of a legislative body of any incorporated city or town, shall have printed in the same manner, on the back, the words, "Municipal Ticket."

"Municipal ticket."

All municipal ballots shall be printed upon paper of a different tint from that of the general ballot.

5. All of the ballots of the same sort prepared by any county clerk or registrar of voters, or clerk or secretary of a legislative body, or other person having charge of the preparing of such ballots, for the same polling place, shall be precisely the same size, arrangement, quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and shall be printed with black ink of the same tint, so that without the numbers on the stubs it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from the other ballots of the same sort; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and character.

All ballots to be same size, style, etc.

6. If two or more officers are to be elected for the same office for different terms, the term for which each candidate for such office is nominated shall be printed on the ballot as a part of the title of the office. If at a general election an office is to be filled for a full term, and also for a vacancy in another term the list of candidates for the full term shall be placed on the ballot under the designation of the office with the words "Full Term" printed immediately thereafter, and the list of candidates to fill the vacancy shall be placed on the ballot under the designation of the office with the words "Short Term" printed immediately thereafter.

Term of office.

7. Whenever any question, proposition or constitutional amendment is to be submitted to the vote of the electors, there shall be printed at the right of the last column of names of candidates, another column, or columns of sufficient width, with voting squares, in which such question, proposition or constitutional amendment shall be designated, and opposite such question, proposition or constitutional amendment to be voted on, in separate lines, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," his vote shall be counted in favor of the adoption of the question, proposition or constitutional amendment; if he shall stamp a cross (X) after the printed word "No," his vote shall be counted against the adoption of the same.

Constitutional amendments, etc.

8. On the top of the face of the ballot the following directions shall be printed:

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS:

To vote for a candidate of your selection, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square next to the right of the name of such candidate. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected, stamp a cross (X) after the names of all the candidates for that office for whom you desire to vote, not to exceed, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. If the ballot does not contain the names of candidates for all offices for which you may desire to vote, you may vote for candidates for such offices so omitted, by writing the name of the candidate for whom you wish to vote in the blank space left for that purpose. To vote for a person not on the ballot, write the name of such person under the title of the office in the blank space left for that purpose.

To vote on any question, proposition or constitutional amendment, stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the word "Yes" or after the word "No." All marks, except the cross (X) are forbidden. All distinguishing marks or erasures are forbidden and make the ballot void.

GENERAL TICKET.

SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.

THIRTY-EIGHTH SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

SEVENTY-SECOND ASSEMBLY DISTRICT.

SEC. 3. Section 1205 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1205. On receiving his ballot, the elector shall forthwith, and without leaving the inclosed space, retire alone to one of the places, booths or compartments provided, to prepare his ballot. In voting he shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after the name of every candidate for whom he intends to vote and this shall be counted as a vote for each person after whose name the voter has stamped such cross, or he may vote for a candidate or person whose name is not printed on the ballot by writing a name for such office in the blank space left therefor, in which latter case the vote of such voter for that office shall be counted for the person whose name is so written. Where two or more candidates for the same office are to be elected and the voter desires to vote for candidates for that office, he must stamp a cross (X) after the names of all the candidates for that office for whom the voter desires to vote, not exceeding, however, the number of candidates who are to be elected. In case of a question, proposition or constitutional amendment submitted to the vote of the electors, the voter shall mark his ballot by stamping in the appropriate voting square a cross (X) opposite the answer he desires to give as to such question, proposition or constitutional amendment. All crosses shall be made only with a stamp, which, with necessary pads and ink, shall be provided by the officers who by law are required to furnish election supplies for each booth or compartment provided for the marking and preparation of ballots. Before leaving such booth or compartment the elector shall fold his ballot in such a manner that the number of the ballot and the indorsement on the back shall appear on the outside thereof, without displaying the marks on the face thereof, and shall keep it folded until he has voted. Having folded his ballot, the voter shall deliver it folded to the inspector who shall announce in an audible tone of voice the name of the voter and the number of his ballot. If the ballot clerk having in charge the register or affidavits of registration finds such number to correspond with the number marked opposite the voter's name on the register or affidavit of registration, he shall, in like manner, repeat the name and number, and shall write opposite the name the word "voted." The inspector shall then separate the slip containing the number from the ballot, deposit the ballot in the box and immediately destroy such numbered slip.

SEC. 4. Section 1211 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1211. 1. In canvassing the votes any ballot which is not made as provided in this act shall be void; but such ballot must be preserved and returned with the other ballots; provided, however, that two or more impressions of the voting stamp in one voting square, or a cross (X) made partly within and partly without a voting square or space, shall not make such ballot void. Any name written upon a ballot shall be counted for such name for the office under which it is written; provided, it is written in the blank space therefor, whether or not a cross (X) is stamped in the voting square after the name so written.

Marking for multiple names.

2. If a voter marks more names than there are persons to be elected to an office, or if, for any reason, it is impossible to determine the voter's choice for any office to be filled, his ballot shall not be counted for such office.

3. If a voter stamps in the voting square after the name of any candidate and also writes the name of a person for such office in the blank space, such act does not invalidate his ballot, but his vote shall not be counted for any person for that office, but as to all other offices the ballot must be counted for the candidates opposite whose names the ballot is stamped in the voting squares.

4. No mark upon a ballot which is unauthorized by this act shall be held to invalidate such ballot, unless it shall appear that such mark was placed thereon by the voter for the purpose of identifying such ballot.

CHAPTER 226.

An act adding a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered section 1057a relating to justification by corporate surety on bonds or undertakings.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 1057a to read as follows:

Justification by corporate surety on bonds.

1057a. Whenever the surety on a bond or undertaking authorized or required by any law of this state is a corporation of the state or a foreign corporation, authorized to become surety on bonds or undertakings in the state, and exception is taken to the sufficiency of such surety as required by law, such corporate surety may justify on such bond or undertaking as follows:

Procedure.

Any agent, attorney in fact, or officer of such corporation shall submit to the court, judge, officer, board or other person before whom the justification is to be made:

First—The original, or a certified copy of, the power of attorney, by-laws or other instrument showing the authority of the person or persons who executed the bond or undertaking to execute the same;

Second—A certified copy of the certificate of authority issued by the insurance commissioner as required by section 596 of the Political Code, showing that the corporation is authorized to transact business;

Third—A certificate from the county clerk of the county or city and county in which the bond or undertaking is filed, showing that the said certificate of authority has not been surrendered, revoked, canceled, annulled or suspended, or in the event that it has been, that renewed authority to act under such certificate has been granted, as provided for in section 625a of the Political Code;

Fourth—A financial statement showing the assets and liabilities of such corporation at the end of the quarter calendar year next preceding the date of the execution of the bond or undertaking; such financial statement must be verified under oath by the president, or a vice-president and attested by the secretary or an assistant secretary of such corporation.

Upon complying with the foregoing provisions and it appearing that the bond or undertaking was duly executed, that the corporation is authorized to transact business in the state, and that its assets exceed its liabilities in an amount equal to or in excess of the amount of the bond or undertaking, the justification of the surety shall be complete and it shall be accepted as the sole and sufficient surety on the bond or undertaking.

The county clerk of any county or city and county shall, upon request, issue the certificate hereinbefore provided for, which certificate shall state whether or not the certificate of authority of such corporation has been surrendered, revoked, canceled, annulled or suspended, and in the event that it has, whether or not renewed authority to act under such certificate of authority has been granted as provided in section 625a of the Political Code. For each certificate issued the county clerk shall receive a fee of fifty cents to be paid by the person obtaining the certificate.

County clerk to issue certificate.

Fee.

All laws and parts of laws and all sections of either of the codes in conflict herewith are hereby expressly repealed.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 227.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act to enable municipal corporations of the sixth class to elect officers," approved March 14, 1885.

[Approved March 20, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to enable municipal corporations of the sixth class to elect officers," approved March fourteenth, eighteen hundred and eighty-five, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Appoint-
election commissioners in municipal-
6th class.

SECTION 1. Whenever a corporation of the sixth class shall have failed, from any cause, to elect officers in accordance with its charter, and there are no officers to carry on the city government, or call an election for officers, in any such case citizens of such corporation may present a petition to the governor for the appointment of three commissioners of election. Such petition shall set forth:

First—The name of the corporation, and when and how organized;

Second—When the last election for officers took place, and whether any of such officers are performing their duties, and if not, how long since they ceased to perform their duties;

Third—The provision of the charter as to the qualifications of voters;

Fourth—That the persons signing the petition possess the qualifications provided by the charter for voters, and that each of said signers is a householder and freeholder in said corporation.

The petition shall be signed by not less than a majority of all persons in said corporation possessing all the qualifications mentioned in the body of the petition, and shall be verified by at least two of the signers, that, of their own knowledge, the petition is true, and that all the signers possess all the qualifications set forth in the petition. Upon the presentation of the petition to the governor, he may either act upon the petition or require additional evidence of the matters set forth in the petition. Upon being satisfied of the truth of the matters set forth in the petition, the governor is authorized and empowered to appoint three persons as commissioners of election for such corporation. Such commission shall be known and styled board of election commissioners for (here give name of corporation).

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 228.

An act to appropriate money for the further development and extension of the water and sewer systems of the California Polytechnic School.

[Approved March 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of three thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of further developing the water supply and extending the water and sewer systems of the California Polytechnic School.

Appropriation: water system, California Polytechnic School.

The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same. Of the amount hereby appropriated one thousand dollars shall be available July 1, 1911, and two thousand dollars July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 229.

An act to appropriate money for the purchase of equipment for shops and laboratories at the California Polytechnic School.

[Approved March 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of seven thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary, for the purpose of purchasing equipment for shops and laboratories at the California Polytechnic School.

Appropriation: equipment, California Polytechnic School.

The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same. The amount hereby appropriated shall be available July 1, 1911.

CHAPTER 230.

An act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons and kegs used in the sale of olives, olive oil, salad oil, soda waters, mineral or aerated water, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, white beer or other beverages, repealing "An act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs used in the sale of soda waters, mineral or aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, beer, white beer, or other beverages," approved March 31, 1891, also repealing "An act to amend an act entitled an act to protect the owners of bottles, boxes, siphons, and kegs, used in the sale of soda waters, mineral and aerated waters, porter, ale, cider, ginger ale, milk, cream, small beer, lager beer, weiss beer, beer, white beer, or other beverages (approved March 31, 1891) by adding thereto a new section after section 1 thereof relating to deposits, to be numbered as section 5 of said act, by renumbering section 5 of said act as section 6 thereof, and amending the same relating to assignments, and by renumbering section 6 of said act as section 7 thereof." approved March 5, 1903.

[Approved March 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

CHAPTER 252.

An act to amend section 891 of the Penal Code relating to grand juries.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 894 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

894. Before accepting a person drawn as a grand juror, the court must be satisfied that such person is duly qualified to act as such juror, but when drawn and found qualified he must be accepted unless the court, on the application of the juror and before he is sworn, shall excuse him from such service for any of the reasons prescribed in chapter I, title III, part I (sections 190-254) of the Code of Civil Procedure. Accepting grand juror.

CHAPTER 253.

An act to amend section 895 of the Penal Code and to repeal sections 164, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900 and 901 of the Penal Code, all relating to grand juries.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 895 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Allowing challenge.

895. No challenge shall be made or allowed to the panel from which the grand jury is drawn, nor to an individual grand juror, unless when made by the court for want of qualification, as prescribed in the next preceding section.

SEC. 2. Sections 164, 896, 897, 898, 899, 900 and 901 of the Penal Code are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 254.

An act to amend section 925 of the Penal Code relating to proceedings before the grand jury, the persons who may be present at the sessions of such jury, and the records of testimony taken at such sessions.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 925 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Advice to grand jury.

925. The grand jury may, at all times, ask the advice of the court, or the judge thereof, or of the district attorney; but unless such advice is asked, the judge of the court must not be present during the sessions of the grand jury. The district attorney of the county may at all times appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information or advice relative to any matter cognizable by them, and may interrogate witnesses before them whenever he thinks it necessary; the grand jury, on the demand of the district attorney, whenever criminal causes are being investigated before them, must appoint a competent stenographic reporter to be sworn and to report the testimony that may be given in such causes in shorthand, and to transcribe the same in all cases where an indictment is returned. If an indictment has been found against a defendant, a copy of the testimony given in his case before the grand jury, shall be served upon him within five days after the discharge of the grand jury, or if the grand jury has not been discharged, at least five days before the cause is set for trial. The services of such stenographic reporter constitute a charge against the county. No person other than those specified in this and the succeeding section is permitted to be present during the session of the grand jury, except the members and witnesses actually under examination, and no person must be permitted to be present during the expression of their opinions, or giving their votes upon any matter before them. The grand jury or district attorney may require by subpoena the attendance of any person before the grand jury as interpreter, and such interpreter may, while his services are necessary, be present at the examination of witnesses before the grand jury. The services of such interpreter constitute a charge against the county.

Who may be present.

CHAPTER 255.

An act to amend section 988 of the Penal Code, relating to the arraignment of defendants.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 988 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

988. The arraignment must be made by the court, or by the clerk or district attorney under its direction, and consists in reading the indictment or information to the defendant and delivering to him a true copy thereof, and of the endorsements thereon, including the list of witnesses, and asking him whether he pleads guilty or not guilty to the indictment or information.

Arraign-
defendant.

CHAPTER 256.

An act to amend section 995 of the Penal Code relating to motions to set aside indictments or informations.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 995 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

995. The indictment or information must be set aside by the court in which the defendant is arraigned, upon his motion, in either of the following cases:

When indictment must be set aside.

If it be an indictment—

1. Where it is not found, indorsed, and presented as prescribed in this code.

2. When it appears by the testimony of the foreman or secretary of the grand jury that the names of the witnesses examined before the grand jury, or whose depositions may have been read before them, are not inserted at the foot of the indictment, or indorsed thereon.

3. When a person is permitted to be present during the session of the grand jury, and when the charge embraced in the indictment is under consideration, except as provided in section nine hundred and twenty-five.

When information.

If it be an information—

1. That before the filing thereof the defendant had not been legally committed by a magistrate.

2. That it was not subscribed by the district attorney of the county, or city and county.

CHAPTER 257.

An act to amend section 1008 of the Penal Code, relating to amendment of an indictment or information.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1008 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Amendment of indictment.

1008. An indictment or information may be amended by the district attorney without leave of court, at any time before the defendant pleads. Such amendment may be made at any time thereafter, in the discretion of the court where it can be done without prejudice to the substantial rights of the defendant. An indictment can not be amended so as to change the offense charged, nor an information so as to charge an offense not shown by the evidence taken at the preliminary examination.

When demurrer is sustained.

If a demurrer is sustained and an amendment is not allowed, or if allowed, is not made, within such reasonable time as the court may fix, the court shall give a judgment of dismissal, which shall be a bar to another prosecution for the same offense. The defendant shall thereupon be discharged, unless the court directs the case to be submitted to the same or another grand jury, or directs a new information to be filed; provided, that after such order or resubmission, the defendant may be examined before a magistrate, and discharged or committed by him, as in other cases.

CHAPTER 258.

An act limiting the hours of labor of females employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or by any express or transportation company; compelling each employer in any manufacturing, mechanical, or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel or restaurant, or other establishment employing any female to provide suitable seats for all female employees and to permit them to use such seats when they are not engaged in the active duties of their employment; and providing a penalty for failure, neglect or refusal of the employer to comply with the provisions of this act, and for permitting or suffering any overseer, superintendent, foreman or other agent of any such employer to violate the provisions of this act.

[Approved March 22, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. No female shall be employed in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or telegraph or telephone establishment or office, or by any express or transportation company in this state more than eight hours during any one day or more than forty-eight hours in one week. The hours of work may be so arranged as to permit the employment of females at any time so that they shall not work more than eight hours during the twenty-four hours of one day, or forty-eight hours during any one week; provided, however, that the provisions of this section in relation to the hours of employment shall not apply to nor affect the harvesting, curing, canning or drying of any variety of perishable fruit or vegetable.

Hours of work for females.

SEC. 2. Every employer in any manufacturing, mechanical or mercantile establishment, laundry, hotel, or restaurant, or other establishment employing any female, shall provide suitable seats for all female employees, and shall permit them to use such seats when they are not engaged in the active duties of their employment.

Seats for females.

SEC. 3. Any employer who shall require any female to work in any of the places mentioned in section one more than the number of hours provided for in this act during any day of twenty-four hours, or who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to so arrange the work of females in his employ so that they shall not work more than the number of hours provided for in this act during any day of twenty-four hours, or who shall fail, neglect, or refuse to provide suitable seats as provided in section two of this act, or who shall permit or suffer any overseer, superintendent, foreman, or other agent of any such employer to violate any of the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for each offense not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than five nor more than thirty days, or both fined and imprisoned.

CHAPTER 259.

An act authorizing the regents of the University of California to hold farmers' institutes, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Farmers' institutes.

SECTION 1. The board of regents of the University of California is hereby authorized to hold institutes for the instruction of citizens of this state in the various branches of agriculture. Such institutes shall be held at such times and at such places in this state as said board may direct. The said board shall make such rules and regulation as it may deem proper for organizing and conducting such institutes, and may employ an agent or agents to perform such work in connection therewith as they deem best. The course of instruction at such institutes shall be so arranged as to present to those in attendance the results of the most recent investigations in theoretical and practical agriculture.

Appropriation.

SEC. 2. The sum of thirty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, for the use of the regents of the University of California as herein provided, and for the purposes of this act, during the two fiscal years following the passage of this act. Fifteen thousand dollars shall be paid on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and eleven, and fifteen thousand dollars on the first day of July, nineteen hundred and twelve.

SEC. 3. The controller shall draw his warrants for said sums in favor of the treasurer of said board of regents, and the state treasurer shall pay the same.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby exempted from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 260.

An act to amend section fifteen of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, said amendment referring to the levy of taxes.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section fifteen of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways; to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 15. When such estimate shall have been made, the board of supervisors of any county wherein a lighting district has been established, must, at the time of levying county taxes, levy a special tax upon all of the taxable property within the limits of such lighting district at the equalized value thereof, sufficient in amount to maintain the said lighting system, and to install any additional lights, or for any or all of the purposes of this act. When a lighting district is organized subsequent to the time of levying county taxes in any year, the board of supervisors may authorize the immediate installation of said lighting system in such district, and shall include in the levy of taxes for said lighting district for the ensuing fiscal year, a sum sufficient to pay the cost of the installation and maintenance of said lighting system in said district for that portion of the preceding fiscal year for which no levy of taxes was made in such year, for said purpose.

Lighting

CHAPTER 261.

An act to amend section 2470 of the Civil Code relating to register of persons and firms to be kept by the county clerk.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-four hundred and seventy of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Register of firms.

2470. Every county clerk must keep a register of the names of firms and persons mentioned in the certificates filed with him pursuant to this article, entering in alphabetical order the name of every such person who does business under a fictitious name, and the fictitious name, and the name of every such partnership, and of each partner therein.

CHAPTER 262.

An act to amend section 2466 of the Civil Code relating to the use of fictitious names, and duties of those using them.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-four hundred and sixty-six of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fictitious names to be registered with
clerk.

2466. Except as otherwise provided in the next section every person transacting business in this state under a fictitious name and every partnership transacting business in this state under a fictitious name, or a designation not showing the names of the persons interested as partners in such business, must file with the clerk of the county in which his or its principal place of business is situated, a certificate, stating the name in full and the place of residence of such person and stating the names in full of all the members of such partnership and their places of residence. Such certificate must be published once a week for four successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county, if there be one, and if there be none in such county, then in a newspaper in an adjoining county.

CHAPTER 263.

An act to amend section 2168 of the Civil Code relating to certificates of partnership and the execution and filing thereof.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section twenty-four hundred and sixty-eight of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2468. The certificate filed with the clerk as provided in section twenty-four hundred and sixty-six must be signed by the person therein referred to, or by the partners, as the case may be, and acknowledged before some officer, authorized to take the acknowledgment of conveyances of real property. Where a business is hereafter commenced by a person under a fictitious name or a partnership is hereafter formed, the certificate must be filed and the publication designated in that section must be made within one month after the commencement of such business, or after the formation of the partnership, or within one month from the time designated in the agreement of its members for the commencement of the partnership. Where the business has been heretofore conducted under a fictitious name or where the partnership has been heretofore formed, the certificate must be filed and the publication made within six months after the passage of this act. No person doing business under a fictitious name, or his assignee or assignees, nor any persons doing business as partners contrary to the provisions of this article, or their assignee or assignees, shall maintain any action upon or on account of any contract or contracts made, or transactions had, under such fictitious name, or in their partnership name, in any court of this state until the certificate has been filed and the publication has been made as herein required.

Certificates of partnership, execution,
filing, etc.

CHAPTER 264.

An act to amend the Code of Civil Procedure by adding six new sections thereto to be numbered sections 99, 100, 101, 102, 102a, and 102b, relating to justices' courts in townships having a population of more than 250,000 and less than 400,000.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 99, to read as follows:

Justices in townships of 250,000.

99. There shall be in each township having a population of more than 250,000 and less than 400,000 one justices' court composed of four justices of the peace, which shall have the powers and jurisdiction prescribed and conferred by law upon justices of the peace. Said justices shall choose one of their number to be presiding justice, and in case of his disability or temporary absence he may designate any one of the other justices to act in his stead. Any of said justices may hold court and there may be as many sessions of said court at the same time as there are justices thereof. The supervisors shall provide in a convenient locality a suitable office for the presiding justice, justices' clerk, and rooms suitable for holding sessions of said court, separate from each other, for each of said justices of the peace. The said justices, justices' clerk and deputy clerk shall be in attendance at their respective offices for the dispatch of official business daily from nine o'clock A. M. until five P. M.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered section 100, to read as follows:

Authority of Justices.

100. The original process in all actions or proceedings begun in said justices' court shall be returnable, and the parties summoned required to appear before the presiding justice or before one of the other justices of the peace to be designated by the presiding justice, and each of the justices shall have power, jurisdiction and authority to hear, try and determine any action or proceeding so commenced and which may have been made returnable before him or may be assigned or transferred to him.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered section 101, to read as follows:

Justices' clerks.

101. Said justices shall appoint a justices' clerk who shall hold office at the pleasure of said justices and shall give such bond for the faithful performance of the duties of his office as said justices may require. Each justice shall also appoint one deputy clerk who shall hold office at the pleasure of the justice appointing him and perform such duties as shall be required by said justice or justices' clerk. Said justices' clerk, and said deputy clerks shall be authorized to administer oaths and take and certify affidavits and to issue writs, summons and all other processes in any action or proceeding in said justices' court.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered section 102, to read as follows:

102. All legal processes of every kind in actions or proceedings in said justices' court shall be issued by the said justices' clerk upon the order of the presiding justice. The said justices' clerk shall issue, sign and certify to any and all papers, transcripts or records which are required to be issued, signed or certified by the said justice of the peace. All complaints, answers and other pleadings and papers required to be filed in the justices' court, shall be filed with the said justices' clerk, who shall keep a permanent record of all such actions and proceedings in the justices' docket, now provided by law to be kept.

Duties of clerks.

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered section 102*a*, to read as follows:

102*a*. The fees for issuance of all processes and all other fees, which are allowed by law for any official service of the justices of the peace shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of said justices' clerk and be by him accounted for in detail under oath at such times as may be required by the board of supervisors, and paid into the treasury of the county, and all fees, fines and penalties received or collected in said justices' court shall be and become the property of the county.

Fees.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 102*b*, to read as follows:

102*b*. Said justices of the peace shall receive a salary of three thousand dollars per year, and said justices' clerk shall receive a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per year, and said deputy clerks shall each receive a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per year, each payable in like manner and out of the same funds and at like times as county officers are paid, and such salaries provided to be paid to said justices of the peace shall be in lieu of all fees due and to become due such justices of the peace for the performance of any official act.

Salaries of justices and clerks.

SEC. 7. Nothing in this act shall in any way interfere with or terminate the term of office of any person now holding the office of either justice of the peace or clerk of the justices' court, but immediately upon this act taking effect said justice of the peace shall organize said court under the provision of this act.

Term of office-holders not changed.

CHAPTER 265.

An act to amend section 4300a of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the county clerk's fees.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4300a of the Political Code of the State of California, is hereby amended to read as follows:

County clerk's fees.

4300a. The county clerk, in addition to the charges provided for in section 4190 of this code on the commencement of any action or proceeding in the superior court, except probate proceedings, or on an appeal thereto, to be paid by the party commencing such action or proceeding, or taking such appeal, five dollars.

On the filing of a petition for letters of administration, testamentary, or guardianship, five dollars, to be paid by the petitioner; provided, that when the public administrator, in his official capacity is the petitioner, he shall be required to pay said fee only out of the assets of the estate coming into his possession.

On filing the petition to contest any will or codicil, three dollars.

On the appearance of any defendant, or any number of defendants answering jointly, to be paid upon filing the first paper in the action by him or them, two dollars.

On placing any action, except a probate proceeding or default case, on the calendar for trial or hearing, to be paid by the party at whose request such action or proceeding is so placed, two dollars.

For every additional defendant appearing separately, one dollar.

The foregoing fees shall be in full for all services rendered by such clerk in the cause, to and including the making up of the judgment roll.

On the filing of any notice of motion to move for a new trial of any civil action or proceeding, the party filing the same shall pay to the clerk, in full for all services to be rendered in connection with said motion, except as hereinafter in this section provided, two dollars.

For issuing an execution or order of sale in any action, one dollar.

In all proceedings begun or acts performed prior to this section becoming a law, such fees and charges as were provided by law at the time such proceedings were begun or acts performed.

The clerk shall also charge and collect the following fees and compensation not above provided for:

For any copy of any record, proceeding, or paper on file in the office of the clerk relating to any civil action pending in said court, when such copy is made by him, per folio, ten cents.

For each certificate of the clerk, under the seal of the court, twenty-five cents.

No fees shall be allowed or charged by the clerk for services rendered in any criminal case.

For services rendered by the clerk, not in connection with civil actions or proceedings in court, he shall charge and collect, for the benefit of the county, the following fees:

For issuing marriage license, one half to be paid to the county recorder, two dollars.

For filing and indexing articles of incorporation, one dollar.

For filing and indexing certificates of copartnership, one dollar.

For filing and indexing all papers to be kept by him, other than papers filed in actions or proceedings in court, and official bonds and certificates of appointment, each, twenty-five cents.

For issuing any license required by law, other than marriage license, one dollar.

For examining and certifying to a copy of any paper, record or proceeding prepared by another, and presented for his certificate, fifty cents, and one cent per folio for comparing the said copy with the original.

For making satisfaction of or credit on judgment, twenty-five cents.

For receiving and filing remittitur from supreme court, fifty cents.

For administering each oath, without certificate, except in pending action or proceeding, ten cents.

For taking any affidavit, except in criminal cases, twenty-five cents.

For taking and approving each undertaking, and the justification thereof, except in criminal cases, fifty cents.

For searching records or files, for each year, fifty cents.

For taking acknowledgment of any deed or other instrument, including the certificate, fifty cents.

For filing notices of appeal and appeal bonds, each, twenty-five cents.

CHAPTER 266.

An act to amend sections one, two, three, four, six, fifteen, sixteen, eighteen, twenty-one and twenty-seven of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of innavigable streams and water courses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same, and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same," approved March 27, 1895.

[Approved March 28, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the formation of protection districts in the various counties of this state, for the improvement and rectification of the channels of innavigable streams and water courses, for the prevention of the overflow thereof by widening, deepening, and straightening and otherwise improving the same and to authorize the boards of supervisors to levy and collect assessments from the property benefited to pay the expenses of the same," approved March 27, 1895, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county in this state deem it proper, for the purpose of protecting property from damage, to widen, deepen, change, straighten or otherwise improve the channel of any innavigable stream, water course or wash within the county, or to construct a new channel therefor, in whole or in part, or to erect levees, or dikes upon or along the banks thereof, or otherwise to prevent the same from overflow, or to do any one or more or all of said things, said board may, upon petition of ten landowners, setting forth the general character of the improvements desired by them, and the boundaries of the district to be benefited by such proposed improvement, and that their land is within the same, and asking for the formation of a district under this act, pass a resolution declaring their intention to form a protection district under this act. Said resolution shall describe the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, and the general character of the improvements contemplated, either of which need not be the same as those set forth in the petition, and shall fix a time and place for the hearing of the matter, not less than thirty days after the passage thereof, and direct the clerk of said board to publish a notice of the intention of the board of supervisors to form such protection district, and of the time and place fixed for the hearing, and shall designate some newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said proposed district, or, if there is no newspaper so published and circulated, then some newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county.

SEC. 2. Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Thereupon said clerk shall cause to be published in the newspaper so designated, for a period of twenty days before the date fixed for the hearing, a notice, which notice shall be headed, "notice of intention of the board of supervisors to form a protection district." Said notice shall set forth the fact of the passage of such resolution, with the date thereof, the general character of the improvements contemplated, the boundaries of the proposed district, and the time and place for the hearing, and shall state that it is proposed to assess all property embraced in said proposed protection district, for the purpose of paying the damages, costs, and expenses of constructing the proposed improvements, and the necessary expense of maintaining and repairing the said works and improvements, and shall refer to the resolution for further particulars. Said clerk shall send a copy of said notice by mail, postage prepaid, to each owner of land in the proposed district whose name appears as such on the last completed assessment roll of the county or counties in which said proposed district lies, addressed to such owner at his address given on such assessment roll, or if no address is so given, then to his last known address, or if it be not known then at the county seat of the county in which his land lies. Said clerk shall make and file in his office an affidavit of such mailing, showing the names and addresses of the persons to whom such notices were sent, which shall be prima facie evidence that said notices were mailed as herein required. Failure of the clerk to mail said notices as herein required shall not invalidate subsequent proceedings.

SEC. 3. Section three of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 3. Any person interested objecting to the formation of such proposed district, or to the extent thereof, may, at or before the time fixed for the hearing of the matter, file a written objection thereto, stating briefly his ground of objection, with the clerk of said board of supervisors, who shall indorse thereon the date of its reception by him, and shall at the time fixed for the hearing, place all such objections filed with him before said board of supervisors.

Written objections.

SEC. 4. Section four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. At the time fixed for the hearing, or to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall hear the objections filed, if any, and pass upon the same. Said board may, in its discretion, overrule or sustain, in whole or in part, any or all of the objections filed, and may change or alter the boundaries of such proposed district to conform to the needs of the district; provided, that they shall include therein only such land as will, in their judgment, be benefited by the proposed work or improvements; and provided, further, that if they deem it proper to include therein any territory not included in the boundaries mentioned in the resolution of intention, they shall first cause notice of their intention so to do to be published and mailed to land owners in such additional territory, as in case of the original notice, and shall, for that purpose, adjourn the hearing to some time and place to be stated in such new notice, and shall hear and pass upon any objections made by such owners as in case of other land owners in the proposed district. Said board may, in their discretion, declare such protection district formed with the boundaries designated by them and shall designate such district by name as the protection district of county (or counties).

SEC. 5. Section six of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 6. Each protection district shall be governed and controlled by the board of supervisors of the county in which it is situated. Said board shall have power, in the name of the county and in behalf of the district, to purchase, receive by donation, or acquire by condemnation any rights of way or other real or personal property necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district was formed, and for that purpose all the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain are hereby made applicable to proceedings in behalf of such district to condemn property. The said board shall also have power to employ such engineers, surveyors and others as may be necessary to survey, plan or locate, or supervise the construction or repair of, the improvements necessary to carry out the purposes for which the district was formed; to construct, maintain and keep in repair any and all improvements, and do all other things requisite or necessary to carry out the purposes of the district; and to employ the services of any person, legal or otherwise, which, in the judgment of said board, may be necessary to carry out said purposes. As soon as said district is formed, the board shall cause a survey of the contemplated improvements to be made, or adopt a survey already made, and shall also cause a map of such survey, and plans and specifications showing such improvements in detail, to be prepared, and they shall adopt such survey, maps, plans and specifications, and thereafter all such improvements shall be made in accordance with the survey, maps, plans and specifications so adopted; provided, that at any time after the adoption of said survey, map, plans and specifications, and before the commissioner's report of assessment of benefits and award of damages has been finally adopted and confirmed by the board, said board may rescind their action in adopting said survey, map, plans and specifications, and may modify the same or adopt others in place thereof, in which case a new assessment shall be made, or may, by a four-fifths vote of the members thereof, abandon the contemplated improvement and dissolve the said protection district, in which case the expenses already incurred in behalf of such district shall be a county charge.

SEC. 6. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 15. The report of such commissioners and the plat accompanying it shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and said board shall thereupon fix a time for the hearing thereof, which shall not be less than four weeks after the filing thereof, and thereupon the clerk of said board shall give notice of such hearing by publication for at least three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the said district, if such there be, or if there is no such newspaper, then in some newspaper of general circulation published in one of the counties in which said district is situated, said newspaper to be designated by the board. Such notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Report.

Publication of.

NOTICE OF THE FILING OF THE COMMISSIONER'S REPORT OF PROTECTION DISTRICT OF THE COUNTY OF

Form of notice.

Notice is hereby given that the commissioners of the protection district of the county of, did on the day of, 19.., file their report of the assessment of benefits and award of damages with the clerk of the board of supervisors of said county, which said report is now on file in the office of said board of supervisors in the city of, said county, and that said report will be heard by said board at their office on the day of, 19.., at the hour of M. Said report and the survey, map, plans and specifications of the improvements mentioned therein are hereby referred to for further particulars. All persons interested are hereby required to show cause, if any they have, at the time fixed for said hearing, why such report should not be adopted and confirmed by said board of supervisors, and the improvements therein referred to constructed. All objections shall be in writing, signed by the person objecting, and filed with the clerk of said board at or before the time above mentioned.

(Signed)

Clerk of the board of supervisors of county.

SEC. 7. Section sixteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 16. Any person interested may file with the clerk of said board, at or before the time fixed for the hearing, a written objection to said report or any part thereof, or to the survey, map, plans, or specifications for the proposed improvements, or to the making of such proposed improvements. At the time fixed for such hearing or at any other time to which the hearing may be adjourned, the board of supervisors shall

SEC. 8. Section eighteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special
fund.

Section 18. All moneys paid upon such assessments either by property owners or by the county or counties affected, shall be placed in the county treasury of the county in which such protection district was organized, to the credit of a special fund to be known as the protection district improvement fund; and shall be used only to pay the expense and cost of constructing the improvements described in the survey, map, plans and specifications adopted by the board of supervisors; provided, that any surplus remaining after the construction thereof shall be paid into the current expense fund. Payments from said fund shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the county.

Payments

SEC. 9. Section twenty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Protection district
tax levy.

Section 21. The board of supervisors shall, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes for each year, levy a tax upon the real estate in each protection district in their county sufficient in amount to raise the amount of money which will be needed for the current year for maintaining and repairing the works and improvements of said district. Said tax, when levied, shall be entered upon the assessment roll and collected in the same manner as state and county taxes. When the same is collected, it shall be placed in the treasury of the county to the credit of the current expense fund of said district, and shall be used only for the purpose for which it was raised. Payments shall be made from said fund in the same manner as from the improvement fund of the district.

SEC. 10. Section twenty-seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 27. The improvements made under this act may include the widening, deepening, changing and straightening of the channels of innavigable streams, water courses or washes, the construction of new channels therefor, and the construction of levees, banks, dikes, conduits, ditches and canals for the conveyance of the waters of such streams, water courses or washes, or for confining such streams, water courses, or washes to their channels; and said work may be done either within or without the boundaries of the district, as may be necessary in order to properly prevent the overflow of said water and protect the land in said district from damage and secure a free outlet for such streams, water courses and washes.

What improvements may be made.

SEC. 11. This act shall take effect and be in force immediately; provided, however, that the same shall not apply to or affect any proceedings that may be pending for the organization of a protection district under the provisions of the act which is hereby amended; but, as to any proceedings so pending at the time this act takes effect, the provisions of said act hereby amended as existing prior to this amendment shall continue in force until such district is formed, or the board of supervisors have refused to form the same.

In effect immediately.

boarder and patient, any person suffering from mental disease, who is a suitable person for care and treatment in such state hospital, and who shall voluntarily make a written application to the medical superintendent or person in charge thereof for admission into such hospital for care and treatment, and who is in such condition of mind, at the time of making such application for admission, as to render him competent to make such application. Any such person received and detained in a state hospital shall be deemed a voluntary patient. Any person received into a state hospital under such voluntary application shall not be detained therein for more than seven days after having given notice, in writing, to the medical superintendent or person in charge of such hospital of his desire to leave such hospital. The charges for the care and keeping of such person in such hospital shall be governed by the provisions of the the Political Code relating to the charges for the care and keeping of insane persons in state hospitals. Upon the admission of a voluntary patient to a state hospital, the medical superintendent or person in charge shall immediately forward to the office of the state commission in lunacy the record of such voluntary patient, showing the name, residence, age, sex, nativity, occupation, civil condition, date of admission of such patient to such hospital, and such other information as may be required by the rules and regulations of said commission. The state commission in lunacy shall establish such rules and regulations as may be necessary to properly carry out the provisions of this section.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

[Became a law, under constitutional provision, without Governor's approval, March 24, 1911.]

CHAPTER 278.

An act authorizing suits against the state concerning certain real property and regulating the procedure therein.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Suits to quiet title to lands when deeds are lost.

SECTION 1. In all cases where the State of California has sold any land or lands to any person or persons and the deed or patent from the State of California therefor has been lost or destroyed and was never recorded in the office of any county recorder in the State of California, the person or persons claiming or deraining title to any of such lands through any such lost or destroyed deed or patent is and are hereby authorized to bring suit against the State of California in any court of competent jurisdiction of said state to quiet title to said land or any portion thereof, and to prosecute the same to final judgment. The rules of practice in civil cases relating to suits to quiet title shall apply to such suits as may be brought under this authorization except as otherwise provided. If judgment be given against the state in any such suit, no cost can be recovered from the state thereunder and before any judgment can be given against the state hereunder it must be made to appear to the court affirmatively that such deed or patent has been duly issued by the state.

SEC. 2. Any such suits to quiet title shall be commenced within one year after this act takes effect.

SEC. 3. Service of summons in such suits shall be made on the governor, surveyor general and attorney general. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to defend all such suits.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect immediately.

[Became a law, under constitutional provision, without Governor's approval, March 21, 1911.]

CHAPTER 279.

An act to allow union high school districts to establish, equip and maintain public libraries; to provide for the formation, government and operation of such library districts; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any union high school district of this state may establish, equip and maintain a public library for the dissemination of a knowledge of the arts, sciences and general literature, in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Union high school district may establish public library.

SEC. 2. Upon the application, by petition, of fifty or more taxpayers and residents of any union high school district to the board of supervisors in the county in which said union high school district is located, praying for the formation of a library district, and setting forth the boundaries of the said proposed district; the said board of supervisors must, within ten days after receiving said petition, by resolution, order that an election be held in the said proposed district for the determination of the question and shall appoint three qualified electors thereof to conduct said election.

Petition to supervisors.

SEC. 3. Said election shall be called by posting notice thereof in three of the most public places in said proposed library district, and by publication in a daily or weekly paper therein, if there be one, at least once a week for not less than fifteen days. Said notices must specify the time, place and the purposes of said election, and the hours during which the polls will be kept open; provided, that in districts with a

M., and in districts where the population is less than ten thousand, the polls must not be opened before one o'clock P. M., and must be kept open not less than six hours.

Election, how conducted. SEC. 4. Said election shall be conducted in accordance with the general election laws of this state, where applicable, without reference to form of ballot or manner of voting, except that the ballots shall contain the words, "For union high school library district," and the voter shall write or print after said words on his ballot the word "Yes," or the word "No."

Who may vote. SEC. 5. Every qualified elector, resident within the proposed district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election above provided for.

Report of result. SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the election officers to report the result of said election to the board of supervisors within five days subsequent to the holding thereof.

Two third vote for. SEC. 7. If two thirds of the votes at said election shall be in favor of a union high school library district, the said board of supervisors must, by resolution, establish said library district, and place the said district in the control of the trustees of said union high school district. Said trustees shall severally hold office during the term for which they shall have been elected as trustees of such union high school district.

One third vote against. SEC. 8. If one third of the votes cast shall be against a library district, the board of supervisors shall, by order, so declare; no other proceedings shall be taken in relation thereto until the expiration of one year from the date of presentation of the petition.

Record on minutes of supervisors. SEC. 9. The fact of the presentation of the petition, and the order establishing the library district shall be entered in the minutes of the board of supervisors and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition, and that each of the petitioners was, at the time of signature and presentation of the petition, a taxpayer and resident of the proposed district, and of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind and nature provided for by this act, and of the existence and validity of the district.

Library trustees, meetings, etc. SEC. 10. Boards of library trustees shall meet at least once a month, at such time and place as they may fix by resolution. Special meetings may be called at any time by two trustees, by written notices served upon each member at least twelve hours before the time specified for the meeting. Three members shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. At its first meeting held after the first day of July the board shall organize by electing one of its number president, and another one of its number secretary, they shall serve as such for one year or until their successors are elected and qualified. Such board shall cause a proper record of its proceedings to be kept, and at the first meeting of the board of trustees of any library formed under the provisions of this act, it must immediately cause to be made out and filed with the state librarian at Sacramento a certificate showing that such library has been established, with the date thereof, the names of the trustees, and the officers of the board chosen for the current fiscal year.

SEC. 11. The board of library trustees, as herein provided Powers. for, and their successors, shall be authorized and they are hereby empowered, and it shall be their duty:

First—To make and enforce all rules, regulations and by-laws necessary for the administration, government and protection of the libraries under their management, and all property belonging thereto.

Second—To administer any trust declared or created for such libraries, and receive by gift, devise, or bequest, and hold in trust or otherwise, property situated in this state or elsewhere, and where not otherwise provided, dispose of the same for the benefit of such libraries.

Third—To prescribe the duties and powers of the librarian, secretary, and other officers and employees of any such libraries; to determine the number of and appoint all such officers and employees, and fix their compensation, which said officers and employees shall hold their offices and positions at the pleasure of said boards.

Fourth—To purchase necessary books, journals, publications and other personal property.

Fifth—To purchase such real property, and erect or rent and equip, such building or buildings, room or rooms, as in their judgment may be necessary to properly carry out the provisions of this act.

Sixth—To require the secretary of state and other state officials to furnish such libraries with copies of any and all reports, laws, and other publications of the state not otherwise disposed of by law.

Seventh—To borrow books from, lend books to and exchange the same with other libraries, and to allow non-residents to borrow books upon such conditions as the board may prescribe.

Eighth—To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act.

Ninth—To file, through their secretary, on or before the last day in the month of July of each year, a report with the state librarian at Sacramento giving the condition of their library and the number of volumes contained therein on the thirtieth day of June preceding.

Tenth—To designate the hours during which the library shall be open for the use of the public; provided, however, that all public libraries established under the provisions of this act, shall be open for the use of the public at all reasonable times.

SEC. 12. In any library district formed under the provisions of this act, which is now maintaining a public library, or which shall have petitioned for and has been granted permission to establish, and intends to maintain, a public library in accordance with this act; it shall be the duty of the board

Tax levy.

SEC. 13. When such estimate shall have been submitted to the board of supervisors of any county in which a public library district has been established, the said board of supervisors, must, at the time of levying county taxes, levy a special tax upon all the taxable property within the limits of the said library district, sufficient in amount to maintain the said union high school library, or to purchase the site, erect and equip the building, improve the grounds or building, or for any or all of the purposes of this act. The taxes so levied shall be computed, entered upon the tax roll, and collected in the same manner as other taxes are computed, entered and collected.

Library
fund.

SEC. 14. The revenue derived from said tax, together with all money acquired by gift, devise, bequest, or otherwise, for the purposes of the library, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the library fund of the district wherein said tax was collected, subject only to the order of the library trustees of said district. If such payment into the treasury should be inconsistent with the terms of conditions of any such gift, devise, or bequest, the board of library trustees shall provide for the safety and preservation of the same, and the application thereof to the use of the library, in accordance with the terms and conditions of such gift, devise or bequest.

Library
free to inhabitants.

SEC. 15. Every union high school library established under the provisions of this act shall be forever free to the inhabitants and non-resident taxpayers of the library district, subject always to such rules, regulations, and by-laws as may be made by the board of library trustees; also provided, that for violations of the same a person may be fined or excluded from the privileges of the library.

Contracts with neighboring
districts.

SEC. 16. Boards of library trustees and the boards of trustees of neighboring library districts, or the legislative bodies of neighboring municipalities, or boards of supervisors of the counties in which public libraries are situated, may contract to lend the books of such libraries to residents of such counties or neighboring municipalities, or library districts; upon a reasonable compensation to be paid by such counties, neighboring municipalities, or library districts.

SEC. 17. The title to all property acquired for the purposes of such libraries, when not inconsistent with the terms of its acquisition, or not otherwise designated, shall vest in the district in which such libraries are, or are to be situated. Every library district must be designated by the name and style of library district, (using the name of the district), of county, (using the name of the county in which said district is situated); and in that name the trustees may sue and be sued, and may hold and convey property for the use and benefit of such district. A number must not be issued as a part of the designation of any library district.

SEC. 18. The board of trustees of any library district may, when in their judgment it is deemed advisable, and must, upon a petition of fifty or more taxpayers and residents of said library district, call an election and submit to the electors of the district, whether the bonds of such district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for the purchase of suitable lots, of procuring plans and specifications and of erecting a suitable building, of furnishing and equipping the same, and of fencing and ornamenting the grounds, for the accommodation of the union high school library, or for any or all of the said purposes, or for any or all of the purposes of this act; for liquidating any indebtedness incurred for said purposes, and for refunding any outstanding valid indebtedness, evidenced by bonds or warrants of the district.

election.

SEC. 19. Voting must be by ballot (without reference to the general election law in regard to form of ballot, or manner of voting), except that the words to appear on the ballot shall be "Bonds—Yes," and "Bonds—No," and except further, that persons voting at such bond election shall put a cross (X) upon their ballots with pencil or ink, after the words, "Bonds—Yes," or "Bonds—No," (as the case may be) to indicate whether they have voted for or against the issuance of the bonds; which said ballot shall be handed by the elector voting to the inspector, who shall then, in his presence, deposit the same in the ballot box, and the judges shall enter the elector's name on the poll list. The polls must be open during said election from eight A. M. to five P. M.

Ballot and voting.

SEC. 20. On the seventh day after said election, at eight o'clock P. M., the returns having been made to the board of trustees, the board must meet and canvass said returns, and if it appears that a two-thirds of the votes cast at said election was in favor of issuing such bonds, then the board shall cause an entry of such fact to be made upon its minutes and shall certify to the board of supervisors of the county, all the proceedings had in the premises, and thereupon said board of supervisors shall be and they are hereby authorized and directed to issue the bonds of said district, to the number and amount provided in such proceedings, payable out of the building fund of such district, naming the same, and that the money shall be raised by taxation upon the taxable property in said district, for the redemption of said bonds and the payment of the interest

terest, etc.

SEC. 21. The board of supervisors by an order entered upon its minutes shall prescribe the form of said bonds and of the interest coupons attached thereto, and must fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than forty years from the date thereof.

Maximum interest.

SEC. 22. Said bonds must not bear a greater amount of interest than six per cent, said interest to be payable annually or semi-annually; and said bonds must be sold in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par. and the proceeds of the sale thereof must be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the building fund of said library district, and be drawn out for the purposes aforesaid as other library moneys are drawn out.

Tax levy
for interest, etc., on
bonds.

SEC. 23. The board of supervisors, at the time of making the levy of taxes for county purposes, must levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property in such district, at the equalized assessed value thereof for that year, for the interest and redemption of said bonds, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest of said bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal as is to become due during such year, and in any event must be high enough to raise, annually, for the first half of the term said bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and, during the balance of the term, high enough to pay such annual interest, and to pay, annually, a proportion of the principal of said bonds equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds then have to run, and all moneys so levied, when collected, shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the said library district, and be used for the payment of principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer, upon the warrant of the county auditor, out of the fund provided therefor; and it shall be the duty of the county auditor to cancel and file with the county treasurer the bonds and coupons as rapidly as they are paid.

Unsold
bonds.

SEC. 24. Whenever any bonds issued under the provisions of this act shall remain unsold for the period of six months after having been offered for sale in the manner prescribed by the board of supervisors; the board of trustees of the library district for or on account of which said bonds were issued; or of any library district composed wholly or partly of territory which, at the time of holding the election authorizing the issuance of such bonds, was embraced within the district for or on account of which such bonds were issued; may petition the board of supervisors to cause such unsold bonds to be withdrawn from market and canceled. Upon receiving such petition, signed by a majority of the members of said board of trustees, the supervisors shall fix a time for hearing the same, which shall be not more than thirty days thereafter, and shall cause a notice, stating the time and place of hearing, and the object of the petition in general terms, to be published for ten days prior to the day of hearing, in some newspaper published in said library district, if there is one, and if there is no newspaper published in said library district, then in a newspaper published at the county seat of the county in which said library district or part thereof is situated. At the time and place designated in the notice for hearing said petition, or at any subsequent time to which said hearing may be postponed, the supervisors shall hear any reasons that may be submitted for or against the granting of the petition, and if they shall deem it for the best interests of the library district named in the petition that such unsold bonds be canceled, they shall make and enter an order in the minutes of their proceedings that said unsold bonds be canceled, and thereupon said bonds, and the vote by which they were authorized to be issued, shall cease to be of any validity whatever.

SEC. 25. The district may at any time be dissolved upon the vote of two thirds of the qualified electors thereof, upon an election called by the library trustees of such district, upon the question of dissolution. Such election shall be called and conducted in the same manner as other elections of the district. Upon such dissolution, the property of the district shall vest in any union high school district in which said library is situated; provided, however, that if, at the time of such election to dissolve such district, there be any outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district, the vote to dissolve such district shall dissolve the same for all purposes excepting only the levy and collection of taxes for the payment of such indebtedness; and from the time such district is thus dissolved until such bonded indebtedness, with the interest thereon, is fully paid, satisfied and discharged, and the board of supervisors is hereby constituted ex officio the library board of such district. And it is hereby made obligatory upon such board to levy such taxes and perform such other acts as may be necessary in order to raise money for the payment of such indebtedness and the interest thereon, as herein provided.

Dissolu-
tion of district.

SEC. 26. All acts or parts of acts conflicting with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 27. Where the words "trustees" or "library trustees" appear in this act the same shall be construed to mean the regularly elected union high school trustees, and where the words "library," "library district," or "library districts" appear in this act, the same shall be construed to mean "union high school library districts."

Definitions.

SEC. 28. This act shall take effect immediately.

[Became a law, under constitutional provision, without Governor's approval, March 24, 1911.]

CHAPTER 280.

An act concerning tunnels, tubes and subways under navigable streams and bodies of water in the State of California.

[Approved March 23, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Construction of tunnels under navigable streams.

SECTION 1. Whenever, in the judgment of the board of supervisors of any county, it shall be deemed advisable in the interests of commerce, or for the benefit of the residents of said county, or for the purpose of expediting travel between points on opposite sides of any navigable stream or body of water, to build and construct tubes, tunnels or subways under such navigable streams or bodies of water for the public use, at such point or place under said navigable stream or body of water as shall be determined upon by the said board of supervisors, the said board of supervisors must call an election and submit to the electors of said county the question whether bonds of said county shall be issued and sold for the purpose of building and constructing said tube, tunnel or subway. The order calling such election shall be valid and effectual when signed by two thirds of said board of supervisors, and said election shall be held and said bonds issued, in accordance with the terms and provisions of title II, part IV, of the Political Code of the State of California.

Expenses of ascertaining cost of tunnel.

SEC. 2. The board of supervisors of any county in this state may, for the purpose of ascertaining the probable cost of any proposed tube, tunnel or subway, expend out of the general fund of said county not otherwise appropriated, a sum not exceeding thirty-five hundred dollars; provided, that when any such proposed tube, tunnel or subway shall reach partly in one county and partly in another, said counties shall equally divide the expenditure necessary to ascertain the probable cost of any such proposed tube, tunnel or subway, not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of thirty-five hundred dollars.

Division of cost between counties joined by tunnel.

SEC. 3. Whenever any such tube, tunnel or subway is proposed to be built or constructed under navigable streams or waterways forming the dividing line between counties, the boards of supervisors of each of the counties into which any of such tubes, tunnels or subways will reach shall first agree as to what portions of the cost of such tubes, tunnels or subways shall be paid by each of said counties, and thereafter the boards of supervisors of each of such counties shall have power to take such proceedings as they may deem proper under section 1 of this act: provided, however, that no such tube, tunnel or subway shall be built or constructed under navigable streams or waterways forming the dividing line between counties, unless all the counties into which such tubes, tunnels or subways reach shall first authorize that such work be done and bonds therefor issued in the manner provided in section 1 of this act.

SEC. 4. Whenever any such tube, tunnel or subway, or any part thereof, shall reach within the limits of any incorporated town, or city, or city and county, and the governing body of each of such incorporated towns, or cities, or cities and counties, and the board of supervisors of the county in which such incorporated towns, or cities, are situated shall first so agree, the board of supervisors shall have the power to call an election and submit to the electors of said county the question whether bonds of said county shall be issued and sold for the purpose of building and constructing such tube, tunnel or subway in the manner prescribed in section 1 of this act: provided, however, that in the event of such bonds being authorized and sold, the construction of such tubes, tunnels or subways shall be under the direction and control of a commission which is hereby created, consisting of the chairman of said board of supervisors and the mayor of each of such incorporated towns, cities, or cities and counties, within the limits of which such tube, tunnel or subway, or any part thereof, shall reach.

When tunnel reaches within limits of city.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 281.

An act to provide for the erection and equipment of one power plant, including gas and electric machinery, at the Southern California State Hospital, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of forty-three thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended as follows: For the erection of one power plant on the lands of the Southern California State Hospital at Patton, and to equip the same with all necessary machinery and fixtures, including gas and electric machinery.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein, made payable, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same. Of the total amount hereby appropriated thirty thousand dollars shall be available July 1, 1911, and thirteen thousand dollars July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 282.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered one thousand four hundred and ninety-one a, relating to filing a copy of printed notice to creditors.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be known and numbered as 1491a. and to read as follows:

Filing copy of printed notice to creditors.

1491a. Within thirty days after the first publication of notice to creditors, the executor or administrator must file or cause to be filed in the court a printed copy of said notice to creditors accompanied by a statement setting forth the date of the first publication thereof and the name of the newspaper in which the same is printed.

CHAPTER 283.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations,' approved March 2, 1883, as amended by an act which became a law under constitutional provision without governor's approval, March 5, 1901," approved February 8, 1911, relating to the classifications of municipal corporations.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the classification of municipal corporations," "approved March 2, 1883, as amended by an act which became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval, March 5, 1901," is hereby amended to read as follows:

Classification of municipal corporations.

Section 1. All municipal corporations within the state are hereby classified as follows: Those having a population of more than 400,000 shall constitute the first class; those having a population of more than 250,000 and not exceeding 400,000 shall constitute the first and one-half class; those having a population of more than 100,000, and not exceeding 250,000 shall constitute the second class; those having a population of more than 35,000 and not exceeding 100,000 shall constitute the second and one-half class; those having a population of more than 23,000 and not exceeding 35,000 shall constitute the third class; those having a population of more than 20,000 and not exceeding 23,000 shall constitute the fourth class; those having a population of more than 6,000 and not exceeding 20,000 shall constitute the fifth class; those having a population of not exceeding 6,000 shall constitute the sixth class; provided, that nothing herein shall change the classification of existing cities organized under the municipal corporation act.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 284.

An act making an appropriation for furnishing and equipping two groups of cottages at the Southern California State Hospital.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of twelve thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to be expended as follows: Six thousand dollars for furnishing and equipping one group of cottages for male patients at said hospital. Six thousand dollars for furnishing and equipping one group of cottages for female patients at said hospital.

Appropriation: furnishing Southern California State Hospital.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant for the amount herein made payable, in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same. Of the total amount hereby appropriated six thousand dollars shall be available July 1, 1911, and six thousand dollars July 1, 1912.

CHAPTER 285.

An act to amend section 1198 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the printing and binding of ballots.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1198 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1198. All ballots, when printed, shall be bound in stub books, each book to consist of fifteen, or some multiple of fifteen, ballots. A record of the number of ballots printed by them shall be kept by the respective county clerks, and by the clerk or secretary of the legislative body of each incorporated city or town.

Printing and binding of ballot.

CHAPTER 286.

An act giving and granting to the board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego the right to use and the right to authorize the use of Balboa Park in said city for exposition purposes.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Use of San Diego park for exposition.

SECTION 1. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego, California, is hereby authorized and empowered to use, or authorize any exposition company to use, any part or portion of the lands set aside as a public park by resolution of the board of trustees of the city of San Diego and approved and ratified by an act of the legislature of the State of California, approved February 4, 1870, for the purpose of giving an exposition in the year 1915 to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal.

Powers of park commissioners.

SEC. 2. The board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego is hereby authorized and empowered to enclose any part or portion of said park which may be set aside for the use herein set forth and charge an entrance or admission fee to said exposition, and may sell, give, or graut, to any person or persons, association or associations, corporation or corporations, such rights, privileges and concessions as are usually granted by expositions, or such rights, privileges, and concessions as may be expedient or necessary to the success of said exposition, and said city may charge and collect compensation therefor. The power and authority conferred by this act on the said board of park commissioners of the city of San Diego may be by said city delegated to any exposition company or corporation now or hereafter organized for the purpose of promoting, financing, or giving said exposition.

Applies only to Balboa Park.

SEC. 3. This act shall not apply to any park lands owned by the city of San Diego other than Pueblo lots 1129, 1130, 1131, 1135, 1136, 1137, 1142, and a portion of Pueblo lot 1144, according to the official survey of the city of San Diego by Charles H. Poole, made in 1856, which pueblo lots are now and shall hereafter be known and designated as Balboa Park.

CHAPTER 287.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the burial of ex-union soldiers, sailors and marines in this state who may hereafter die without leaving sufficient means to defray burial expenses,' approved March 15, 1889, and to extend the operation of said act to all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the army and navy of the United States," approved March 23, 1901, by extending the operation of said act to widows of all such honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the army or navy of the United States.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act to amend an act entitled 'An act to provide for the burial of ex-union soldiers, sailors and marines in this state who may hereafter die without leaving sufficient means to defray burial expenses,' approved March 15, 1889, and to extend the operation of said act to all honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines who served in the army and navy of the United States," approved March 23, 1901, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. It shall be the duty of the board of supervisors of each county in this state to designate a proper person in the county, whose duty it shall be to cause to be decently interred the body of any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine who shall have served in the army or navy of the United States, or the widow of any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, who may hereafter die without having sufficient means to defray funeral expenses. Such burial shall not be made in any cemetery or burial ground, or any portion of such cemetery or burial ground, used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead. The expenses of each burial shall not exceed the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75).

Section 2. The expenses of such burial shall be paid by the county in which said soldier, sailor or marine, or the widow of any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, dies; but if such deceased person has a residence in any other county in this state than the one paying the expenses, the county wherein said soldier, sailor or marine, or the widow of such soldier, sailor or marine shall have resided, shall refund the money advanced by the county where such person died. Expenses of such burial shall be audited and paid as other accounts are audited and paid by the county; provided, that this act shall not apply to such soldiers, sailors or marines who may hereafter die in the national or state soldiers' home in this state.

Duty of
appointed.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of the person appointed, as provided in section one of this act, before he assumes the charge and expenses of any such burial, to first satisfy himself, by a careful inquiry into and examination of all the circumstances in the case, that the family of such deceased soldier, sailor or marine, if said person had any at the time of his decease residing in such county, is unable for want of means to defray the expenses of such burial or funeral; and if he finds such inability to exist he shall cause such deceased soldier, sailor or marine, or the widow of such soldier, sailor or marine, to be buried as provided in this act, and he shall immediately report his action to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county, stating forthwith, all the facts, and that he found the family of such deceased person, if he had any, in indigent circumstances, and unable to pay the expenses of such funeral or burial, together with the name, rank, and command to which he belonged as such soldier, sailor or marine, the date of his death, place where buried, and his occupation while living, and also an itemized statement of the expenses incurred by reason of such burial.

supervisors to keep record,
etc.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the clerk of the board of supervisors, upon receiving the report and statement of expenses provided for in this act, to transcribe in a book kept for that purpose, all the facts contained in such report respecting such deceased soldier, sailor or marine, or the widow of such soldier, sailor or marine. It shall also be the duty of said clerk, upon the death and burial of any such soldier, sailor or marine, to make application to the proper authorities under the government of the United States, for a suitable headstone, as provided by act of congress, and to cause the same to be placed at the head of such soldier, sailor or marine's grave, the expenses of which shall not exceed the sum of five dollars ($5) for cartage and properly setting each stone. The expenses thus incurred shall be audited and paid as provided in section two of this act for burial expenses.

to receive no compensation.

Section 5. The person appointed as provided in section one of this act shall not receive any compensation for any duties he may perform in compliance with this act.

CHAPTER 288.

An act to amend section 308 of the Penal Code of the State of California relating to the sale or furnishing of tobacco or preparation of tobacco to persons under eighteen years of age.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred and eight of the Penal Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

308. Every person, firm or corporation which sells or gives or in any way furnishes to another person who is in fact under the age of eighteen years any tobacco, cigarette or cigarette papers or any other preparation of tobacco is guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished for the first offense by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than sixty days; and for the second offense by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than ninety days; and for each subsequent offense by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars and not more than three hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than ninety days nor more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Selling tobacco to minors.

Every person, firm or corporation which sells, or deals in tobacco or any preparation thereof, shall, within ninety days after this act becomes effective, post conspicuously and keep so posted in his or their place of business a copy of this act, and any such person failing to do so shall upon conviction be punished by a fine of five dollars for the first offense and twenty-five dollars for each succeeding violation of this provision, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days.

Dealers to post copy of act.

The secretary of state is hereby authorized to have printed sufficient copies of this act to enable him to furnish dealers in tobacco with copies thereof upon their request for the same.

Secretary of state to furnish.

CHAPTER 289.

An act to amend sections one, three and seven of an act entitled "An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 28, 1907.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 28, 1907, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Money of state may be deposited in approved banks.

Section 1. All moneys under the control of the state treasurer, belonging to the state, may be deposited by the state treasurer to the credit of the state in such state or national bank, or banks, in the state as the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and state controller, shall select for the safe-keeping of such deposits, and any sum so deposited shall be deemed to be in the state treasury; provided, that the bank or banks in which such money is deposited shall furnish security as hereinafter provided; and provided, further, that such depositary bank or banks be selected from those agreeing to pay the highest rate of interest, not less than two per cent per annum, for such deposits, as may be determined by bids to be submitted at such times and in such manner as the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and the state controller, shall direct; provided, that not more than one tenth of the aggregate amount of state moneys available for deposit and on deposit shall be deposited in any one bank; and provided, further, that such deposit shall not exceed fifty per cent of the paid-up capital, exclusive of reserve and surplus, of any depositary bank. Any and all bids may be rejected by the treasurer, with the approval of the governor and state controller, and new bids asked for. The expense of transportation of moneys to and from the state treasury to such depositaries shall be borne by such depositaries. Said deposits, with interest thereon, shall be subject to withdrawal at any time upon the demand of the state treasurer, unless the treasurer, with the consent of the governor and controller, shall deposit any part of such moneys upon different terms; provided, that no agreement for the deposit of said money shall be for a longer period than one year.

SEC. 2. Section three of an act entitled "An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 28, 1907, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 3. For the security of the funds deposited by the state treasurer under the provisions of this act, there shall be deposited with the treasurer bonds of the United States, or of this state, or of any county, municipality or school district within this state, which bonds shall be approved by the governor, controller and treasurer, to an amount in value at least ten per cent in excess of the amount of the deposit with such bank or banks; and if, in any case, or at any time, such bonds are not deemed satisfactory security to the governor, controller and treasurer, they may require such additional security as may be satisfactory to them. Said bonds, or any part thereof, may be withdrawn on the written consent of the governor, controller and treasurer; provided, that a sufficient amount of said bonds to secure said deposits shall always be kept in the treasury; and in the event that said bank or banks of deposit shall fail to pay such deposits or any part thereof on the demand of the state treasurer, then it shall be the duty of the state treasurer to forthwith convert said bonds into money and to disburse the same according to law.

Security of funds deposited in banks.

SEC. 3. Section seven of an act entitled "An act to authorize the deposit of state moneys in banks in this state, and to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved February 28, 1907, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 7. At the time of depositing state moneys in any bank, designated as a depository, the state treasurer shall take and preserve a receipt therefor, stating the amount deposited and referring to the contract made between the depository banks and the treasurer. The moneys so deposited may be drawn out by the check or order of the state treasurer.

Receipt for money deposited.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after June 30, 1911.

CHAPTER 290.

An act to amend section four hundred fifty-six of the Political Code, relating to the office of the treasurer of state, his deputy and assistants and the salaries of the deputy and assistants.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four hundred fifty-six of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

456. The state treasurer may appoint one deputy state treasurer, one cashier, one bond officer, two bookkeepers and one stenographer, all of whom shall be civil executive officers. The annual salary of the deputy state treasurer is three thousand two hundred dollars; of the cashier, two thousand five hundred dollars; of the bond officer, two thousand five hundred dollars; of the bookkeepers, two thousand two hundred dollars each, and of the stenographer, one thousand two hundred dollars. All such salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of other state officers.

State treasurer's deputy and assistants.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 291.

An act requiring the transfer of funds from the general fund of the state treasury to the interest and sinking fund and to other funds to pay interest and principal of state bonds, and interest on diverted funds of the University of California.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Transfer of funds to pay interest on state
bonds.

SECTION 1. Whenever and as often as there is about to become due and payable any interest on state bonds, or any part of the principal of said bonds or any interest on diverted funds of the University of California, referred to in chapter LXV, statutes of 1893, and chapter LXXVII, statutes of 1899, and there is not sufficient money in the interest and sinking fund, or any other special fund established by law for the purpose to pay the interest or principal so becoming due, the state controller and the state treasurer shall proceed to transfer from the general fund of the state treasury to the interest and sinking fund, or to any other fund provided by law for such purpose, sufficient money to meet said debt obligations.

CHAPTER 292.

An act to amend section 1111 of the Penal Code, relating to conviction upon the testimony of an accomplice.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1111 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Conviction upon testimony of an accomplice.

1111. A conviction can not be had upon the testimony of an accomplice, unless he be corroborated by such other evidence as shall tend to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense; and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof.

CHAPTER 293.

In act to add a new section to the Penal Code to be numbered section 1324, relating to the testimony of witness refusing to answer on the ground that such answer will incriminate himself.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Penal Code is hereby amended by the addition of a new section numbered 1324, to read as follows:

1324. A person hereafter offending against any of the provisions of this code, or against any law of this state, is a competent witness against any other person so offending, and may be compelled to attend and testify and produce any books, papers, contracts, agreements or documents upon any trial, hearing, proceeding or lawful investigation or judicial proceeding, in the same manner as any other person. If such person demands that he be excused from testifying or from producing such books, papers, contracts, agreements or documents on the ground that his testimony or that the production of such books, papers, contracts, agreements or documents may incriminate himself, he shall not be excused, but in that case the testimony so given and the books, papers, contracts, agreements and documents so produced shall not be used in any criminal prosecution or proceeding against the person so testifying, except for perjury in giving such testimony, and he shall not be liable thereafter to prosecution by indictment, information, or presentment, or to prosecution nor punishment for the offense with reference to which his testimony was given, or for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may have testified or produced evidence, documentary or otherwise.

Witness not to be prosecuted upon testimony of himself.

No such person shall be exempt from indictment, presentment by information, prosecution or punishment for the offense with reference to which he may have testified as aforesaid, or for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may have testified as aforesaid, or produced evidence, documentary or otherwise, where such person so testifying or so producing evidence, documentary or otherwise, does so voluntarily, or when such person so testifying or so producing evidence fails to ask to be excused from testifying or so producing evidence, on the ground that his testimony or such evidence, documentary or otherwise, may incriminate himself; but in all such cases, the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, so given may be used in any criminal prosecution or proceeding against the person so testifying or producing such evidence, documentary or otherwise.

Person not exempt if testimony is voluntary.

Any person shall be deemed to have asked to be excused from testifying or producing evidence, documentary or otherwise, deemed to have be excused unless

Person

is read.

under this section, unless before any testimony is given or evidence, documentary or otherwise, is produced by such a witness, the judge, foreman or other person presiding at such trial, hearing, proceeding or investigation, shall distinctly read this section of this code to such witness, and the form of the objection by the witness shall be immaterial, if he in substance makes objection that his testimony or the production of such evidence, documentary or otherwise, may incriminate himself, and he shall not be obliged to object to each question, but one objection shall be sufficient to protect such witness from prosecution for any offense concerning which he may testify, or for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, upon such trial, hearing, proceeding or investigation.

CHAPTER 294.

An act to amend section one of an act entitled, "An act amending an act making an appropriation for the establishment of a permanent fund for the purchase of jute to be manufactured at the state prison at San Quentin, approved March 9, 1885," approved March 16, 1889, and to provide for the disposition and use of the surplus money received from the sale of jute goods and not needed for the "revolving fund" provided for in said act.

[Approved March 24, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled, "An act amending an act making an appropriation for the establishment of a permanent fund for the purchase of jute to be manufactured at the state prison at San Quentin, approved March 9, 1885," (approved March 16, 1889), is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Appropriation,
revolving fund, San Quentin.

Section 1. The sum of two hundred thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to provide and maintain a permanent revolving fund for the purchase of jute for the state prison. All moneys taken therefrom to be used exclusively in payment for jute to be used in manufacturing in said state prison; and so much of the money received from the sale of any goods manufactured from said jute shall be returned to the said revolving fund, so that the fund shall contain two hundred thousand dollars before any of the proceeds from the sale of said manufactured goods are used for any other purpose than the purchase of jute. Whenever said "revolving fund" shall be replenished and there shall be a surplus or balance over the amount appropriated, such surplus or balance shall be paid, not less frequently than semi-annually, into the state treasury to the credit of the fund to be known as "the prison fund of San Quentin prison" (which "fund" is hereby created), for the use and support of San Quentin prison and of the trades and industries conducted therein.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 295.

An act to amend section 607c of the Civil Code of the State of California, relating to fines imposed in penal actions affecting children or animals.

[Approved March 21, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 607c of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

An act to amend section sixty-nine of an act entitled "An act for the relief of insolvent debtors, for the protection of creditors, and for the punishment of fraudulent debtors," approved March 26, 1895.

[Approved March 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section sixty-nine of an act entitled "An act for the relief of insolvent debtors, for the protection of creditors, and for the punishment of fraudulent debtors," approved March twenty-sixth, eighteen hundred and ninety-five, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 69. When an attachment has been made and is not dissolved before the commencement of proceedings in insolvency, or is dissolved by an undertaking given by the defendant, if the claim upon which the attachment suit was commenced is proved against the estate of the debtor, the plaintiff may prove the legal costs and disbursements of the suit, and of the keeping of the property, and if the levying of said attachment and the putting of the sheriff's keeper in charge has had the effect of preserving intact the assets of said insolvent, and the general creditors have been benefited thereby, the amount of costs allowed shall be a preferred debt. In all contested matters in insolvency the court may, in its discretion, award costs to either party, to be paid by the other, or to either or both parties, to be paid out of the estate, as justice and equity may require; and in awarding costs the court may issue execution therefor. In all involuntary cases under this act, the court shall allow the petitioning creditors, out of the estate of the debtor, if any adjudication of insolvency be made, as a preferred claim, all legal costs and disbursements incurred by them in that behalf.

CHAPTER 299.

An act to amend sections 2322, 2322b, 2322c, 2322d and 2322e of the Political Code of the State of California, said sections relating to orchards, trees, vines or plants of any variety infested with diseases or scale insects of any kind injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines or other plants or vegetables, or noxious weeds and to the eradication of insect pests and diseases, and to the appointment and removal of a county horticultural commissioner in the several counties of the state, prescribing his duties and powers and fixing his compensation and term of office, also providing for a state board of horticultural examiners, prescribing the duties of said board and providing for examinations to be taken by persons desiring to qualify for position as county horticultural commissioners; providing for the dividing of the several counties of the state into districts by the respective county horticultural commissioners and providing for the appointment of deputy commissioners, local inspectors and quarantine guardians, prescribing their duties and powers and fixing their compensation.

[Approved March 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2322 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

2322. Whenever a petition is presented to the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, and signed by twenty-five or more persons, each of whom is a resident freeholder and possessor of an orchard, or greenhouse or nursery, stating that certain or all orchards, or nurseries or trees or plants of any variety are infested with any serious infectious diseases, or insects of any kind injurious to fruit, fruit trees, vines, or other plants or vegetables, or that there is growing therein the Russian thistle or saltwort (Salsola kali var. tragus), Johnson grass (Sorghum halepense), or other noxious weeds, codlin moth or other insects that are destructive to trees or plants, and praying that a commissioner be appointed by them, whose duties shall be to supervise the destruction of said insects, diseases or Russian thistle or saltwort, Johnson grass or other noxious weeds, as herein provided, the board of supervisors shall immediately notify the state board of horticultural examiners to furnish them a list of eligibles or competent persons, as hereinafter provided, and from such list the said supervisors shall appoint a commissioner in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, whose term of office shall be for four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, and who shall give a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The said term of office of any and all county commissioners heretofore or hereinafter appointed shall commence on the date of appointment, and be for a period of four years and until his successor shall be appointed and qualified, at the end of which period the said term shall terminate, and said term shall run with and be attached to said office. In any case where such petition has already been presented or submitted, or is on file at the time of the passage of this act, as the basis for the appointment of a board of horticultural commissioners under this chapter as heretofore existing, such petition shall continue in full force and effect and the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, with which any such petition has been filed, or in which any board of horticultural commissioners has heretofore existed, must appoint a county horticultural commissioner. The person appointed to such position must be specially qualified for his duties and must be chosen and appointed by the board of supervisors from a list of eligible persons, recommended and nominated to said board as hereinafter provided, such appointment to be made within thirty days after receipt of said list by said board of supervisors; and the said board of supervisors shall provide a suitable office for the said commissioner, and all necessary expenses in the maintenance of said office shall be paid by said board of supervisors. A state board of horticultural examiners is hereby created, consisting of the dean of the agricultural college of the University of California, the state commissioner of horticulture and the superintendent of the state insectary, who are ex officio members of said board. They shall serve without pay, and said board shall provide convenient means for the examination of candidates for appointment as horticultural commissioner. While in the performance of their duties as members of said board they shall be allowed all their necessary expenses for traveling, printing, postage and other incidental matters to be paid out of any appropriations made for the support of the office of the state commissioner of horticulture. At least thirty days before the date of the examination of candidates for the said appointments the state board of horticultural examiners shall post or cause to be posted in three public places in said county notice of the time and place at which such examination will be held, setting forth the conditions and subjects of said examination. At the time and place stated and agreed upon such examination shall be held. Said examination shall be in writing and the board of horticultural examiners may appoint one of their own number, or some other reliable, competent person to conduct the holding of such examination in each county and forward the papers of each applicant to the board for consideration. Within twenty days after the examination is held said examiners shall certify to the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county for which the examination was had, the names of such persons examined as they deem competent and qualified for the office and from the list of names so certified the supervisors shall within thirty days after the receipt of said list of names appoint a horticultural commissioner. As far as possible the board of horticultural examiners shall consult the resident horticulturists of the county in determining the responsibility and moral qualifications of candidates for appointment as commissioners and whose names they certify to the boards of supervisors of the several counties. If no person or persons present themselves for examination before said board of horticultural examiners, or if after such examination no person is found qualified, the state board of horticultural examiners shall name five competent persons and certify them to the board of supervisors and from these names the board of supervisors shall within thirty days after the receipt thereof appoint a county horticultural commissioner, and in such event the commissioner so appointed shall hold office for the term of one year. In case of a vacancy in the office of horticultural commissioner, the vacancy shall be filled first from the list of eligibles certified to the board of supervisors under the provision of this chapter, and if there be no person named on the said list of eligible persons as in this section first above provided, then said vacancy shall be filled from the list of competent persons named as in this section last above provided, and if said vacancy shall be filled from the said list of eligibles the said person so appointed shall hold for the balance of the unexpired term, but if the said vacancy be filled from the said list of competent persons, the said person shall hold for the balance of the unexpired term, if the said unexpired term be not longer than one year; but if said unexpired term be longer than one year, then such person shall not by virtue of such appointment hold longer than one year from the date of his appointment. Whenever elsewhere in the laws of this state reference is made to a county board of horticultural commissioners such reference must be understood to mean or relate to the county horticultural commissioner herein provided for and said county board of horticultural commissioners and the members thereof shall cease to exist as such; provided, that all county boards of horticultural commissioners existing at the time of the passage of this act shall continue in office, with full power as heretofore existing until the election or appointment to succeed them, of a county horticultural commissioner under the provisions of this act. Upon the petition of twenty-five resident freeholders who are possessors of an orchard, greenhouse or nursery, the board of supervisors may remove said commissioner for neglect of duty or malfeasance in office after hearing of the petition. In case of such removal upon such hearing, the board shall immediately proceed to fill said office for the unexpired term as in cases of vacancy as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 2. Section 2322b of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

When no one qualifies.

Vacancy.

County board of horticultural commissioners superseded.

Removal of commissioner.

2322b. Said county horticultural commissioner shall have power to divide the county into districts, and to appoint a local inspector, to hold office at the pleasure of the commissioner, for each of said districts, and may, with the consent and approval of the board of supervisors, appoint a deputy horticultural commissioner from a list of qualified persons certified to the board of supervisors by the state board of horticultural examiners, such deputy to hold office at the pleasure of the commissioner. The state commissioner of horticulture may issue commissions as quarantine guardians to the county horticultural commissioner, the deputy and inspectors appointed by him. The said quarantine guardians, local inspectors, deputies or the said county horticultural commissioner, have full authority to enter into any orchard, nursery, place or places where trees or plants or fruit are kept and offered for sale or otherwise, or any house, store-room, salesroom, depot, or any other such place in their jurisdiction, to inspect the same, or any part thereof.

SEC. 3. Section 2322c of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

2322c. It is the duty of the said county horticultural commissioner to keep a record of his official doings and to make a report to the state commissioner of horticulture on or before the first day of October of each year of the condition of the horticultural interests in their several districts, what is being done to eradicate insect pests, also as to disinfecting, and as to quarantine against insect pests and diseases, and as to the carrying out of all laws relative to the greatest good of the horticultural interests, and to furnish from time to time to the state commissioner of horticulture such other information as he may require. Said state commissioner of horticulture may publish such reports in bulletin form or may incorporate so much of the same in his annual report as may be of general interest. It is also made the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to advise himself with reference to all infectious diseases, scale insects or codlin moth or other pests injurious to fruit, plants, vegetables, trees or vines, and with their eggs or larvæ and all noxious weeds or grasses that may exist in his county or be likely to exist therein and for the purpose of so advising himself and of eradicating and preventing injury from such causes, and for the purpose of advising himself on the best and most efficacious methods of performing his duties and conducting his office he shall attend the annual meeting of the state association of county horticultural commissioners, and such other meetings as the state commissioner of horticulture shall require, and he shall be paid his per diem compensation and traveling expenses while so engaged.

per day when in the actual performance of his duties and the necessary traveling expenses. In the case of the commissioner himself his compensation shall be six dollars per day when actually engaged in the performance of his duties, and the necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his regular duties as prescribed in this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 2322e of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Report to supervisors.

2322e. It is the duty of the county horticultural commissioner to keep a record of his official acts, and make a monthly report to the board of supervisors; and the board of supervisors may withhold warrants for salary of said commissioner, deputy and inspectors until such time as such report is made.

SEC. 6. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 300.

An act to protect the lives and property of the patrons of all public hotels, lodging and rooming houses in the State of California.

[Approved March 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

CHAPTER 311.

An act to amend sections four and nine of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity, and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved March 31, 1891, said amendment relating to elections in such sanitary districts.

[Approved March 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section four of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, government, operation and dissolution of sanitary districts in any part of the state, for the construction of sewers, and other sanitary purposes; the acquisition of property thereby; the calling and conducting of elections in such districts; the assessment, levy, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; the issuance and disposal of the bonds thereof, and the determination of their validity, and making provision for the payment of such bonds, and the disposal of their proceeds," approved March 31, 1891, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. The board of supervisors, at least fifteen days prior to the election, shall select one, and may select two, polling places within the proposed district, and make all suitable arrangements for the holding of such election. They must appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, who shall constitute the officers of said election; if none are so appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. The ballots shall contain the words, "For a Sanitary District," or "Against a Sanitary District," as the case may be, and also the names of the persons to be voted for at said election. At such election there shall be elected a sanitary assessor and five persons for members of the sanitary board. Such election, and all subsequent elections in said district, shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the provisions of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations shall not apply. Every qualified elector, resident within the proposed district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the

Sec. 2. Section nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election of members of sanitary board.

Section 9. There shall be an election for two members of the sanitary board in every even-numbered year, beginning with the second even-numbered year after the election at which the district was organized, and the two members then to be elected shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors in the next even-numbered year; and there shall be an election for three members of the sanitary board in every odd-numbered year, beginning with the second odd-numbered year, after the election at which the district was organized, and the three members then to be elected shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors in the next odd-numbered year. The five members elected at the election at which the district was organized shall, at their first meeting, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, so classify themselves, by lot, that two of them shall go out of office in the second even-numbered year after the election at which the district was organized, and upon the election and qualification of their successors, as provided by this act. The members of the sanitary board shall receive no compensation whatever, either for general or special services. All elections for officers after the formation of the district shall be held on the first Monday after the first Tuesday in the month of March. Not less than twenty days before the day of such election the sanitary board must give notice of said election by posting notice thereof in three public places in the sanitary district, which notices must specify the time and place of election, the hours during which the polls will be kept open, and the officers to be elected. They shall select one, and may select two polling places within the district; shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each polling place, and make all necessary and proper arrangements for holding the election. Said election officers shall constitute the election board. If no election officers are so appointed, or if those appointed are not present at the time of the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint them and they shall conduct the election. Such election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws of the state, except that the requirements of said laws as to the form of ballots and the making of nominations of candidates shall not apply. Every qualified elector resident within the district for the period requisite to enable him to vote at a general election, shall be entitled to vote at the election. At such election the last great register of the county shall be used, and any elector whose name is not upon such great register shall be entitled to vote upon producing and filing with the board of election a certificate, under the hand and seal of the county clerk, showing that his name is registered and uncanceled upon the great register of such county; provided, that he is otherwise entitled to vote. The officers of the election must publicly canvass the votes immediately after the closing of the polls, and must certify the result within twenty-four hours after the closing of the polls to the sanitary board. Said board shall within five days after the day of election canvass said returns, and shall make, sign and deliver certificates of election to the person or persons elected.

An act to authorize the payment of the claims of R. B. Hale, Andrew M. Davis, James McNab, A. B. C. Dohrmann, Rufus P. Jennings, Burt L. Davis, M. K. Hathaway, W. E. Dennison, Edgar D. Peixotto, C. C. McDougall, A. J. Hetchman, and James Rolph, Jr., against the State of California and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved March 25, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars, for the purpose of paying the claim of R. B. Hale, Andrew M. Davis, James McNab, A. B. C. Dohrmann, Rufus P. Jennings, Burt L. Davis, M. K. Hathaway, W. E. Dennison, Edgar D. Peixotto, C. C. McDougall, A. J. Hetchman, and James Rolph, Jr., against the State of California.

Appropriation: claim of R. B. Hale and others.

SEC. 2. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant in favor of R. B. Hale, Andrew M. Davis, James McNab, A. B. C. Dohrmann, Rufus P. Jennings, Burt L. Davis, M. K. Hathaway, W. E. Dennison, Edgar D. Peixotto, C. C. McDougall, A. J. Hetchman, and James Rolph, Jr., in the sum of seven hundred and fifty dollars, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 313.

An act authorizing suits against the state concerning certain real property purchased under the provisions of an act entitled "An act to survey and dispose of certain marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California, approved March 30, 1868, or any of the acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof, and regulating the procedure therein.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Suits to quiet title of salt marsh and tide land-

SECTION 1. In all cases where the State of California has sold any salt marsh and tide lands under the provisions of the following named acts, or any of them, to wit: An act entitled "An act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California," approved March 30, 1868; an act entitled "An act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled an act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California, approved March thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight," approved April 1st, 1870; and an act entitled "An act supplementary to and amendatory of an act supplementary to and amendatory of an act entitled an act to survey and dispose of certain salt marsh and tide lands belonging to the State of California, approved March thirtieth, eighteen hundred and sixty-eight; also an act approved April first, eighteen hundred and seventy," approved March 30, 1874. to any person or persons, and the person or persons purchasing said lands paid all the installments required of him or them under the terms of said sale to be paid on the purchase price thereof prior to the enactment of an act entitled "An act to abolish the state board of tide land commissioners, and to repeal sections three hundred and sixty-five and six hundred and ninety-eight of the Political Code," approved February 4, 1876, and where no deed was ever executed and delivered to such purchaser or purchasers conveying to him or them the lands so purchased, by reason of there being no person or persons authorized by law to accept payments or issue deeds subsequent to the enactment of said last mentioned act approved February 4, 1876, the person or persons so purchasing said lands or his or their successor or successors in interest is and are hereby authorized to bring suit against the State of California in any court of competent jurisdiction of said state to quiet title to said land or any portion thereof, and to prosecute the same to final judgment. The rules of practice in civil cases relating to suits to quiet title shall apply to such suits as may be brought under this authorization except as herein otherwise provided. If judgment be given against the state in any such suit, no costs can be recovered from the state thereunder.

Complaint

full statement.

SEC. 2. The complaint filed in any suit brought under the provisions of this act shall contain a complete statement of the time, place and conditions of the sale of the lands concerning which title is sought to be quieted, together with a statement of all moneys paid under the terms of said sale and the date of such payment, and a further statement of the balance due and unpaid under the terms of said sale, and the date when such balance was required to be paid.

SEC. 3. At the time of the filing of the complaint in any suit brought under the provisions of this act the plaintiff shall pay into court all moneys shown in said complaint to be due and unpaid under the terms of said sale, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent per annum from the date when such unpaid moneys became due and payable. In the event of judgment being rendered in favor of the plaintiff in such action, the court shall order such moneys paid into the state treasury; and in the event of judgment being entered in favor of the state, the court shall order such moneys returned to the plaintiff.

Balance and interest to be paid court.

SEC. 4. Any such suits to quiet title shall be commenced within one year after this act takes effect.

Limit of action.

SEC. 5. Service of summons in such suits shall be made on the governor, surveyor general and attorney general. It shall be the duty of the attorney general to defend all such suits.

Attorney general to defend.

CHAPTER 314.

An act to amend section two of an act entitled "An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor," approved March 19, 1907, and amended March 6, 1909, the amendment relating to the commission provided for in said act, and prohibiting members of boards of supervisors serving thereon.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor." approved March 19, 1907, and amended March 6, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Highway commission.

Section 2. Said highway commission shall consist of three members, who shall be, and have been for two years, bona fide residents and freeholders of such county, and shall be especially qualified to have charge of the improvement of highways, one of whom shall be a competent engineer. Said commissioners shall be appointed to serve for the term of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and any vacancy in the commission shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term; provided, however, that when the proposition for the issuance of bonds fails to carry at the election held under section seven of this act, or when all the highway improvements for which bonds are voted under said section seven are completed, or if there is a surplus in the highway improvement fund after completion thereof, when said surplus has been expended on other highways, the existence of said highway commission shall cease. Thereafter another commission may be appointed under section one hereof. Each commissioner shall give a bond for the faithful performance of his duties, to be approved by the board of supervisors, in such amount as said board may require. No member of the board of supervisors can act or be appointed as a commissioner under this act.

CHAPTER 315.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns; for the incidental establishment of grades thereof; for the construction therein or thereon of sidewalks, sewers, manholes, bridges, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof; for a special fund derived in part from the county road fund and in part by special assessment upon a district, and for the establishment of such districts." approved March 21, 1907, the amendment relating to the powers of the board of supervisors in the appointment of officers and employees, and their eligibility to places under this act.

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section fourteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon public roads, streets, avenues, boulevards, lanes and alleys not within the territory of incorporated cities or towns: for the incidental establishment of grades thereof; for the construction therein or thereon of sidewalks, sewers, manholes, bridges, cess-pools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks; for the issue of bonds representing the costs and expenses thereof; for a special fund derived in part from the county road fund and in part by special assessment upon a district, and for the establishment of such districts, approved March 21, 1907, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 14. The board of supervisors is hereby vested with power as follows, to wit:

1. To appoint at any stage of the proceeding before calling for proposals or bids any competent engineer, to be designated "engineer of work" for the purpose of doing and furnishing all the civil engineering work or services, surveying, and similar work and services necessary to the proper doing of the work. His compensation or at least the rate or some basis for computing the same shall be fixed and stated in the order of his appointment, which said order shall be entered in the minutes of the board. Engineer of work.

2. To appoint, in and as a part of the resolution of intention, any competent person to be designated "superintendent of work," whose duty it shall be to perform the services for him in this act prescribed or indicated, and for the general actual supervision of the work. His compensation shall be fixed at the time and in the resolution of his appointment at a per diem not to exceed five dollars for all time actually devoted to the work. Superintendent of work.

3. To designate any competent person for the purpose of preparing and furnishing the specifications required by section two of this act, and with such designation to fix his compensation, or some basis for computing the same. Specifications.

4. To appoint and designate other competent persons in the places respectively of the persons so originally appointed, with compensation, so far as practicable, proportionately the same as fixed for the original appointee.

No part of such or any compensation for said officers or employees, or for services rendered by any of them shall be a charge against the county or any officer thereof, except that for furnishing specifications and posting the resolution of intention the county shall be liable in case the proceedings cease or are abandoned, before the award of the contract. Not charge against county.

No member of the board of supervisors shall be eligible to appointment to any office, position or employment under this act. Supervisors not eligible.

CHAPTER 317.

An act to amend sections one, two, fifteen, fifteen and one half, seventeen, thirty, thirty-two, thirty-four, thirty-nine, fifty-five and sixty-one of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered section forty-seven and one half relating to the redemption of property sold for taxes.

[Approved March 26, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and government of irrigation districts, and to provide for the acquisition or construction thereby of works for the irrigation of the lands embraced within such districts, and, also, to provide for the distribution of water for irrigation purposes," approved March 31, 1897, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. A majority in number of the holders of title or evidence of title, including the holders of possessory rights under receipts or other evidence of the rights of entrymen or purchasers under any law of the United States or of this state, to lands susceptible of irrigation from a common source and by the same system of works, such holders of title, or evidence of title and of possessory rights, representing a majority in value of said lands, according to the equalized county assessment roll or rolls for the year last preceding, may propose the organization of an irrigation district, under the provisions of this act. Said equalized assessment roll or rolls shall be sufficient evidence of title and of such possessory rights, for the purposes of this act.

Organiza-
irrigation
district.

SEC. 2. Section two of the above entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. In order to propose the organization of an irrigation district, a petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands within the proposed district, or the greater portion thereof, are situated, signed by the required number of holders of title, or evidence of title, including such aforesaid possessory rights, to lands within such proposed district, and representing the requisite majority in value of said lands, which petition shall set forth generally the boundaries of the proposed district, and also shall state generally the source or sources (which may be in the alternative) from which said lands are proposed to be visors.

irrigated, and shall pray that the territory embraced within the boundaries of the proposed district may be organized as an irrigation district under the provisions of this act. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments and must be accompanied with a good and sufficient undertaking, to be approved by said board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of organizing such district, conditioned that the sureties shall pay all of said costs, in case said organization shall not be effected. Said petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of said board, and shall be published for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented, in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where said petition is presented, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the same will be presented; and if any portion of the lands within said proposed district lie within another county or counties, then said petition and notice shall be published, as above provided in a newspaper published in each of said counties. When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published, but the names attached to all of said instruments must appear in such publication. When such petition is presented, said board of supervisors shall hear the same, and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding four weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures, thereto, shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries: but said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which is susceptible of irrigation from any of the sources proposed; nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by irrigation, by means of any of said systems of works, be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are susceptible of irrigation from any of the proposed sources, may, upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district.

SEC. 3. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 15. The board of directors shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to manage and conduct the business and affairs of the district; make and execute all necessary contracts; employ and appoint such agents, officers, and employees as may be required, and prescribe their duties. The board and its agents and employees shall have the right to enter upon any land to make surveys, and may locate the necessary irrigation works and the line for any canal or canals, and the necessary branches for the same, on any lands which may be deemed best for such location. Said board shall also have the right to acquire, by purchase, lease, contract, condemnation, or other legal means, all lands, and waters, and water rights, and other property necessary for the construction, use, supply, maintenance, repair and improvements of said canal, or canals, and works, including canals and works constructed and being constructed by private owners, lands for reservoirs for the storage of needful waters, and all necessary appurtenances, and also where necessary or convenient to said ends to acquire and hold the stock of other corporations owning waters, canals, water works, franchises, concessions or rights. But no purchase or lease of any waters, or water rights, or canals or reservoirs, or reservoir sites, or irrigation works, or other property of any nature or kind, or stock in any other corporation, for any price, aggregate rental or consideration, in excess of ten thousand dollars, shall be final or binding on the district, nor shall the purchase price, rental or consideration, or any part thereof, be paid or rendered until a petition of a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights as aforesaid, to lands within the district, such holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights, representing a majority in value of said land, according to the last equalized assessment roll of the district, if such has theretofore been made, and if such has not been made, then according to the equalized county assessment roll covering lands of such district, shall have been filed with the board and an order of the board made thereon confirming such purchase. Said board may also construct the necessary dams, reservoirs, and works for the collection of water for said district, and do any and every lawful act necessary to be done, that sufficient water may be furnished to each landowner in said district for irrigation and domestic purposes. The said board is hereby authorized and empowered to take conveyances, leases, contracts or other assurances for all property acquired by it under the provisions of this act, in the name of such irrigation district, to and for the uses and purposes herein expressed, and to institute and maintain any and all actions and proceedings, suits at law or in equity necessary or proper in order to fully carry out the provisions of this act, or to enforce, maintain, protect or preserve any and all rights, privileges and immunities created by this act, or acquired in pursuance thereof. And in all courts, actions, suits or proceedings, the said board may sue, appear and defend in person or by attorneys, and in the name of such irrigation district. It shall be the duty of said board to establish equitable by-laws, rules and regulations for the distribution and use of water among the owners of said lands, which must be printed in convenient form for distribution in the district. Said board shall have power generally to perform all such acts as shall be necessary to fully carry out the purposes of this act.

Section 15 $\frac{1}{2}$. The board of directors, when they deem it advisable for the best interests of the district, and the convenience of the electors thereof, may at any time, but not less than sixty days before an election to be held in the district, change the boundaries of the divisions and election precincts of the district; provided, such changes shall be made to keep each division as nearly equal in area and population as may be practicable. Such change of boundaries of the divisions must be shown on the minutes of the board. The board of directors of any irrigation district now or that may hereafter be organized in the state, shall also have the power, and such board is hereby vested with the authority, to lease the system of canals and works in the district, or any parts thereof, whenever such leasing may be for the benefit of the district; provided, that when the directors of any irrigation district contemplate the leasing of the canals and works of such district, they shall give notice of such contemplation by publishing the same in some newspaper published in the county in which such irrigation district lies, at least three weeks prior to the making of any lease, and such lease shall be made to the highest bidder. But such board shall have the right to reject any and all bids. Such lease shall in no way interfere with any rights that may have been established by law, at the time such lease is made; and further provided, that the board of directors shall require a good and sufficient bond to secure faithful performance of the lease by the lessees.

Lease canals.

SEC. 5. Section seventeen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Public use.

Section 17. The use of all water required for the irrigation of the lands of any district formed under the provisions of this act, or the act of which this is supplementary or amendatory, and for domestic and other incidental and beneficial uses, within such district, together with the rights of way for canals and ditches, sites for reservoirs, and all other property required in fully carrying out the provisions of this act is hereby declared to be a public use, subject to the regulation and control of the state, in the manner prescribed by law.

SEC. 6. Section thirty of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds.

Section 30. For the purpose of constructing necessary irrigating canals and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring waters, water rights and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. And thereafter said board when petitioned by a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title, and of possessory rights, to lands within the district, such holders of title, or evidence of title, and of such possessory rights, representing a majority in value of said lands according to the equalized assessment roll of the district, if such has theretofore been made, and if such has not been made, then according to the equalized county assessment roll covering the lands of such district, shall immediately call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district, possessing the qualifications prescribed by this act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount as set forth in said petition shall be issued. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Bonds—Yes," or "Bonds—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Bonds—Yes," the board of directors shall cause bonds in said amount to be issued; if a majority of the votes cast at any bond election are "Bonds—No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record. Whenever thereafter a petition of the character hereinbefore provided for in this section is presented to the board it shall so declare of record in its minutes, and shall thereupon submit such questions to said electors in the same manner and with like effect as at such previous election.

SEC. 7. Section thirty-two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 32. The board may sell said bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous, to raise money for the construction of said canals and works, the acquisition of said property and rights, or the acquisition of any water or water rights, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution, declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given, by publication thereof at least three weeks, in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is located, and in any other newspaper, at its discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed the board shall open the proposals, and award the purchase of the bonds to the highest responsible bidder; provided, however, that they may reject all bids. Said board shall in no event sell any of the said bonds for less than the par value thereof.

SEC. 8. Section thirty-four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 34. In case the money raised by the sale of bonds issued be insufficient, or in case the bonds be unavailable for the completion of the plan of canal and works adopted, and the acquisition of the necessary property, waters and water rights therefor, and additional bonds be not voted, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plan, and the acquisition of such necessary property, waters and water rights, by levy of assessments therefor; provided, however, that such levy of assessments shall not be made except first an estimate of the amount required for such purposes has been made by said board, and the question as to the making of said levy submitted to a vote of the electors of the district. Before such question is submitted the order of submission shall be entered in the minutes of the board, stating the amount to be levied and the purpose therefor, and if submitted at a special election said order shall, in addition, fix the day of election.

Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, and the amount of assessment proposed to be levied. Said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes," or "Assessment—No," or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes," the board of directors shall cause an assessment in the amount named in the order of submission to be levied; if a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—No," the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record.

SEC. 9. Section thirty-nine of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 39. The board of directors shall then levy an assessment sufficient to raise the annual interest on the outstanding bonds, and in any year in which any bond shall fall due must increase such assessment to an amount sufficient to raise a sum sufficient to pay the principal of the outstanding

In case of the neglect or refusal of the board of directors to cause such assessment and levies to be made as in this act provided, then the assessment of property made by the county assessor and the state board of equalization shall be adopted and shall be the basis of assessment for the district; and the board of supervisors of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated shall cause an assessment roll for said district to be prepared, and shall make the levy required by this act, in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by said board of directors, and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such district. In case of the neglect or refusal of the collector or treasurer of the district to perform the duties imposed by law, then the tax collector and treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors is situated must, respectively, perform such duties, and shall be accountable therefor upon their official bonds as in other cases.

neglect to make assessment.

In the event any land within said district subject to assessment for the purposes of the district, has not been assessed by the county assessor, or does not appear upon the county assessment roll adopted by said board of supervisors as the basis of assessment for the district, the land so omitted belonging to any person, association, corporation, or municipality shall be forthwith assessed by the county assessor upon an order of the board of supervisors, and a description of the property so omitted shall be written in the roll prepared for the purpose of district assessments. In such case, before any tax is levied, the board of supervisors must meet and equalize said assessment with that of the assessment of other lands in said district. The same notice shall be given by the board of supervisors of such meeting for the purpose of equalizing the assessment to be made as herein directed as is provided in this act to be given by the board of directors of an irrigation district when the said board is to meet for the purpose of equalizing assessments.

SEC. 10. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section forty-seven and one half, and to read as follows:

Delinquent taxes not bar to dissolution.

Section 47½. The five-year period herein prescribed for the redemption of properties sold for delinquent taxes shall not operate as a bar to the dissolution of any irrigation district. If any land has been sold for delinquent taxes of a district in process of dissolution, or in a district which has been dissolved, and the time allowed for redemption has not expired, the owner of such property or any one in interest may redeem the same by paying the amount due thereon, computed as provided in section forty-six of this act, to the county treasurer, who must issue his receipt therefor, and upon the presentation of such receipt the county recorder must cancel the certificate of sale in the manner required in the preceding section. In the event any land has been sold for non-payment of taxes as herein provided, and no redemption has been made within five years from the date of purchase in any district which may have been dissolved before the expiration of said redemption period, then a deed for the property sold and described in the certificate of sale must be made to the purchaser upon demand by the county treasurer of the county in which said irrigation district is or was situated. Such deed shall contain all the recitals of the certificate of sale, and in addition thereto, a recital that the district has been dissolved and a deed executed in pursuance of the authority given by this section. A deed so executed shall have the same force and effect as if executed by the collector of an irrigation district.

Deed of land sold for taxes to be made by county treasurer.

SEC. 11. Section fifty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Improvements to be paid for from construction fund.

Section 55. The cost and expense of purchasing and acquiring property and constructing the works and improvements herein provided for, shall be wholly paid out of the construction fund; provided, however, that when any lands, waters, water rights or other property shall be acquired by the district by any lease or contract, under the terms of which the consideration or rental shall be payable in such installments that a like amount shall be payable in each year of the life of such lease or contract, then such rental or consideration shall be paid out of the funds derived from the levying of annual assessments, or from the collection of rates, tolls and charges fixed and collected as hereinafter provided for. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of the organization of the district, and of the care, operation, management, repair, and improvement of such portions of such canal and works as are completed and in use, including salaries of officers and employees, and installments of rental or consideration accruing under any lease or contract as hereinabove in this section mentioned, the board may in lieu (either in part or in whole) of levying assessments as herein provided for, fix rates of toll and charges, for irrigation and other public uses declared by this act, and collect the same from all persons using said canal for irrigation and other purposes.

SEC. 12. Section sixty-one of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 61. The board of directors, or other officers of the district, shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void, except that for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may, before the collection of the first assessment, incur an indebtedness not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of two thousand dollars, and may cause warrants of the district to issue therefor, bearing interest at seven per cent per annum; provided, however, that nothing in this section contained shall be construed as limiting the right of the board to enter into any contract or lease for any lands, waters, water rights, or other property, as in this act provided for, and by such lease or contract to bind the district for the payment of the rental or consideration specified in such lease or contract.

Directors may not incur debts in excess of provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 318.

An act making an appropriation to pay the per diem and mileage of the members of the assembly for the thirty-ninth session of the legislature of the State of California during the sixty-second fiscal year.

[Approved March 27, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of four thousand four hundred and twenty-three and eighty one-hundredths ($4423.80) dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the per diem and mileage of the members of the assembly for the thirty-ninth session of the legislature of the State of California during the sixty-second fiscal year.

CHAPTER 319.

An act providing for the calling of a special election to be held on Tuesday, October 10, 1911, and for the submission thereof to the qualified electors of the state all amendments to the constitution of the State of California proposed by the legislature at its thirty-ninth session, commencing on the second day of January, 1911, prescribing and providing for the publication of said proposed amendments, and providing for the manner of holding and conducting such election and for the canvassing and return of the votes cast thereat.

[Approved March 27, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Constitutional amendment election Oct. 10, 1911.

SECTION 1. A special election is hereby called for and shall be held throughout the State of California on Tuesday, the tenth day of October, 1911, and at such special election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said state, for adoption or rejection, in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of article XVIII of the constitution of said state, all amendments to said constitution proposed by the legislature of said state at its thirty-ninth regular session commencing on the second day of January, 1911.

Brief to be prepared by author and member voting against amendment.

SEC. 2. The author of any amendment to the constitution of this state, proposed by the legislature at said session thereof, which amendment shall have been passed in the manner required by section 1 of article XVIII of the constitution, and one member of the same house who voted with the majority on the submission of such amendment, and one member of the same house as the author who voted with the minority against the submission of such amendment, both of whom shall be selected by the presiding officer of such house, before the adjournment of said session of the legislature, shall, within ninety days after the adjournment thereof, prepare a brief statement showing the purpose of said amendment, and a comparative statement of the operation of the present section or article of the constitution, and as proposed to be amended, or in the case of a new section or article, a statement of the operation thereof, and the reasons advanced by the majority for its adoption, and the reasons advanced by the minority against its adoption, and any other reason why such amendment should be adopted, or not be adopted, and forward such statement to the secretary of state; provided, that in all cases where the amendment to be submitted shall have been proposed by resolutions introduced in both houses of the legislature and shall have been adopted substantially as proposed in each house, the statement herein provided for, setting forth the reasons why such amendment should be adopted, shall be prepared by the respective authors of said resolutions. The secretary of state shall cause to be printed at the state printing office, in convenient form, one and one half times as many copies of such statement as there are registered voters in this state, and the secretary of state shall, not less than twenty-five days before said special election, certify all such amendments to the county clerk of each county of the state, and shall cause to be printed at the state printing office one and one half times as many copies of said amendments as there are registered voters in the state, which amendments shall be numbered by the secretary of state consecutively in the following order: first, the senate constitutional amendments in the order of their introduction, and next, the assembly constitutional amendments in the order of their introduction. The first assembly amendment shall follow numerically the last senate amendment. At least thirty days before said special election at which such amendments are to be voted on, the secretary of state shall furnish each county clerk in the state with one and one half times as many such copies of the statements and of the amendments as there are registered voters in his county. The clerk of each county shall thereafter cause to be mailed to each voter a copy of each of said constitutional amendments and of said statements, at the same time and in the same manner and in the same envelope provided for in section one thousand one hundred and ninety-four of the Political Code, and no other publication of said amendments or of either of them shall be necessary or authorized. No leaflet, pamphlet, card, or other printed matter shall be enclosed or mailed in said envelope other than that expressly herein or otherwise provided by law, or prepared by the county clerk for the purpose of informing the voter regarding the number of his precinct, the location of his polling place, his voting number, or similar information regarding said election.

Secretary of state to print copies.

Amendments, how numbered.

Copies to county clerks.

What may be mailed to voters.

The sheets or pamphlets containing the said proposed constitutional amendments shall also contain the corresponding constitutional provisions, if any, then in force, and the parts of the existing provisions shall therein be distinguished in print, so as to facilitate comparison. Three copies of the constitution, in the form of pamphlets to be supplied by the secretary of state, shall be kept at every polling place for said special election while the same is in progress, so that they may be freely consulted by the electors.

Copies of constitution at polling places.

SEC. 3. Said special election shall be proclaimed, held and conducted and the ballots shall be prepared, marked, voted, counted, canvassed and the results shall be ascertained and the returns thereof made in all respects in accordance with the law governing general elections, in so far as the provisions thereof are applicable to the election provided for by this act, except as otherwise herein especially provided. Each county clerk, as soon as the statement of the vote of his county is made out and entered upon the records of the board of supervisors thereof, must make out and certify an abstract of such vote

CHAPTER 332.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to amend section eighteen hundred and fifty-eight of the Political Code, relating to the apportionment of school funds."

[Approved March 31, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section eighteen hundred and fifty-eight of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1858. The school superintendent of every county and city and county must apportion all state and county school moneys for the elementary grades of his county or city and county as follows: Superintendent to apportion school funds.

1. He must ascertain the number of teachers each school district is entitled to by calculating one teacher for every district having thirty-five or a less number of units of average daily attendance and one additional teacher for each additional thirty-five units of average daily attendance, or fraction of thirty-five not less than ten units of average daily attendance as shown by the annual school report of the school district for the next preceding school year; and two additional teachers shall be allowed to each district for every seven hundred units of average daily attendance; and in districts wherein separate classes are established for the instruction of the deaf, as provided in section sixteen hundred and eighteen of this code, an additional teacher for each nine deaf children, or fraction of such number, not less than five, actually attending such classes. Number of teachers.

2. He must ascertain the total number of teachers for the county or city and county by adding together the number of teachers allowed to the several districts. He must make an annual report of the schools of his county or city and county under oath to the superintendent of public instruction not later than August first of each year, and must report the number of teachers ascertained and allowed to his county or city and county by the rule or provisions of subdivision one hereof. Number for county.

3. Five hundred and fifty dollars shall be apportioned to every school district for every teacher so allowed to it; provided, that to districts having over thirty-five or a multiple of thirty-five units of average daily attendance and a fraction of less than ten units of average daily attendance, forty dollars shall be apportioned for each unit of average daily attendance in said fraction. Amount apportioned.

4. All school moneys remaining on hand after apportioning to the school districts the moneys provided for in subdivision three of this section must be apportioned to the several districts in proportion to the average daily attendance in each district during the next preceding school year; provided, that in any newly organized school district where school was not maintained during the school year in which it was organized the county Surplus.

New
district.

superintendent shall require the teachers and principal or principals of the school district or districts from which the newly organized district was formed to report to him as a part of their annual reports, the names and attendance records of all pupils residing in said new district and attending school in the old district or districts during the school year in which the new district was organized. The county superintendent shall determine the average daily attendance and the teacher allowance for the newly organized district from those reports and shall deduct from the old districts the average daily attendance credited to the new district. In case it shall appear that none of the pupils residing in the newly formed district attended school during the year in which said district was organized, in the district or districts from which said district was organized, then the superintendent shall apportion six hundred dollars to the newly organized school district for the purpose of maintaining school therein during the school year next succeeding the school year in which it was organized.

Average
tendance.

5. Units of average daily attendance wherever used in this section shall be construed to be the quotient arising from dividing the total number of days of pupils' attendance in the schools of the district by the number of days school was actually taught in the district. A school day is hereby construed and declared to be that portion of the calendar day or night in which school is maintained and in which one twentieth of the work of a school month may be performed. The attendance of pupils present less than one fourth of any day shall not be counted for that school day and pupils present for one fourth of a day or for more than one fourth of a day shall be counted as present for one fourth of a day, one half of a day, three fourths of a day, or for a whole day, as the case may be.

of funds.

6. Whenever in any school year, prior to the receipt by the school districts of any county, or city and county of this state, of their state, county, or city and county, or special, or high school fund, the school districts of that county, or city and county shall not have sufficient money to their credit to pay the lawful demands against them, the county or city and county superintendent shall give the treasurer of said county or city and county, an estimate of the amount of school money that will next be paid into the county or city and county treasury, stating the amount to be apportioned to each district. Upon the receipt of such estimate it shall be the duty of the treasurer of said county, or city and county, to transfer from any fund not immediately needed to pay the claims against it, to the proper school fund an amount not to exceed ninety per cent of the amount estimated by the superintendent, and he shall immediately notify the superintendent of the amount so transferred. The funds so transferred to the school fund shall be retransferred by the treasurer to the fund from which they were taken, from the first money paid into the school fund after the transfer.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect and be in force on and after July 1, 1911.

CHAPTER 333.

An act to repeal sections 1634, 1635, 1636, 1637, 1638, 1639, 1640 and 1641 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the taking of the school census.

[Approved March 31, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Sections 1634, 1635, 1636, 1637, 1638, 1639, 1640 and 1641 of the Political Code, relating to the taking of a school census, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect March 31, 1911.

CHAPTER 334.

An act to make an appropriation for the general improvement of the Lake Tahoe wagon road; a state highway.

[Approved March 31, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of fifteen thousand dollars for the general improvement of the Lake Tahoe wagon road and the purchasing of rock crusher and necessary equipment therefor.

Appropriation: Lake Tahoe wagon road.

SEC. 2. The department of engineering shall have full control of such improvements and shall determine upon what section of the Lake Tahoe wagon road, a state highway, said money shall be expended.

Department of engineering to control.

SEC. 3. The money appropriated under the provisions of this act is hereby made available as follows: The sum of seven thousand dollars is made available on and after April first, nineteen hundred and eleven; three thousand dollars is made available on and after July first, nineteen hundred and eleven; three thousand dollars is made available on and after April first, nineteen hundred and twelve, and the sum of two thousand dollars is available on and after July first, nineteen hundred and twelve. The state controller is hereby instructed and directed to draw his warrants at such times and in such amounts as the department of engineering may present claims for, said warrants shall be drawn in favor of the said department of engineering, and the state treasurer is hereby directed and instructed to pay said warrants and the department of engineering shall distribute the same.

When funds are available.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and approval.

CHAPTER 335.

An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations, banks and insurance companies for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SEC. 2. All railroad companies, including street railways, whether operated in one or more counties; all sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car and palace car companies, all refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies, operating upon the railroads in this state; all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state; all telegraph and telephone companies; and all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity shall annually pay to the state a tax upon their franchises, roadways, roadbeds, rails, rolling stock, poles, wires, pipes, canals, conduits, rights of way, and other property, or any part thereof, used exclusively in the operation of their business in this state, computed as follows: Said tax shall be equal to the percentages hereinafter fixed upon the gross receipts from operation of such companies and each thereof within this state. When such companies are operating partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts within this state shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this state, and a proportion, based upon the proportion of the mileage within this state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into, or out of this state. The percentages above mentioned shall be as follows: On all railroad companies, including street railways, four per cent; on all sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car, palace car companies, refrigerator, oil, stock, fruit, and other car-loaning, and other car companies, three per cent; on all companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel or stage line, two per cent; on all telegraph and telephone companies, three and one half per cent; on all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, four per cent. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property above enumerated of such companies except as otherwise provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and as provided in section twenty-two of article four of said constitution. The word "municipal" as used in this act shall apply to incorporated towns and cities formed under article eleven of the constitution of this state and to none other.

Percentages on gross receipts.

"Municipal" defined.

SEC. 3. Every insurance company or association doing business in this state shall annually pay to the state a tax of one and one half per cent upon the amount of the gross premiums received upon its business done in this state, less return premiums and reinsurance in companies or associations authorized to do business in this state; provided, that there shall be deducted from said one and one half per cent upon the gross premiums the amount of any county and municipal taxes paid by such companies on real estate owned by them in this state. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property of such companies, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state; provided, that when by the laws of any other state or country, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, are imposed on insurance companies of this state, doing business in such other state or country, or upon their agents therein, in excess of such taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money, or of securities, or other obligations or prohibitions, imposed upon insurance companies of such other state or country, so long as such laws continue in force, the same obligations and prohibitions of whatsoever kind must be imposed by the insurance commissioner upon insurance companies of such other state or country doing business in this state.

Tax on insurance companies.

Retaliatory clause.

SEC. 4. The shares of capital stock of all banks, organized under the laws of this state, or of the United States, or of any other state and located in this state, shall be assessed and taxed to the owners or holders thereof by the state board of equalization, in the manner hereinafter provided, in the city or town where the bank is located and not elsewhere. There shall be levied and assessed upon such shares of capital stock an annual tax, payable to the state, of one per centum upon the value thereof. The value of each share of stock in each bank, except such as are in liquidation, shall be taken to be the amount paid in thereon, together with its pro rata of the accumulated surplus and undivided profits. The value of each share of stock in each bank which is in liquidation shall be taken to be its pro rata of the actual assets of such bank. This tax shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon such shares of stock and upon the property of such bank, except county and municipal taxes on real estate and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state. In determining the value of the capital stock of any bank there shall be deducted from the value, as defined above, the value, as assessed for county taxes, of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank and taxed for county purposes. The banks shall be liable to the state for this tax and the same shall be paid to the state by them on behalf of the stockholders in the manner and at the time hereinafter provided, and they shall have a lien upon the shares of stock and upon any dividends declared thereon to secure the amount so paid. The moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits, and all other property belonging to unincorporated banks or bankers of this state, or held by any bank located in this state which has no shares of capital stock, or employed in this state by any branches, agencies, or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the State of California, shall be likewise assessed and taxed to such banks or bankers by the said board of equalization, in the same manner as above provided for incorporated banks, and taxed at the same rate that is levied upon the shares of capital stock of incorporated banks, as provided in the first paragraph of this section. In the case of a branch, an agency, or other representative of any bank doing business outside of this state, the capital of said branch, agency, or representative used in this state shall be taken to be the average amount owed by the said branch, agency, or representative to the bank of which it is a branch, agency, or representative during the year ending the first Monday in March. The value of said property shall be determined by taking the entire property invested in such business, together with all reserve, surplus, and undivided profits, at their full cash value, and deducting therefrom the value as assessed for county taxes of any real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, owned by such bank or banker and taxed for county purposes. Such taxes shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, state, county, and municipal, upon the property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, except county and municipal taxes on real estate, and except as otherwise provided in the constitution of this state. All moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this paragraph shall be assessed and taxed at the same rate as an incorporated bank, provided for in this section. In determining the value of the moneyed capital and property of the banks and bankers mentioned in this section, the said state board of equalization shall include and assess to such banks all property and everything of value owned or held by them which would go to make up the value of the capital stock of such banks and bankers, if the same were incorporated and had shares of capital stock. The word "banks" as used in this act shall include banking associations, unincorporated banks and bankers, branches, agencies or other representatives of any banks doing business outside of the State of California, savings and loan societies, and such trust companies, as conduct the business of receiving money on deposit, but shall not include building and loan associations.

"Banks" defined.

Nothing in this act shall be construed to relieve any bank in this state from the payment of the charges for examination as provided in section one hundred and twenty-three of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1st, 1909, or in any acts amendatory thereof.

Charges for bank examination.

SEC. 5. All franchises, other than those of the companies mentioned in sections two, three and four of this act, shall be assessed at their actual cash value, after making due deduction for good will, in the manner hereinafter provided, and shall be taxed at the rate of one per centum each year, and the taxes collected thereon shall be exclusively for the benefit of the state. These franchises shall include the actual exercise of the right to be a corporation and to do business as a corporation under the laws of this state and the actual exercise of the right to do business as a corporation in this state when such right is exercised by a corporation incorporated under the laws of any other state or country, also the right, authority, privilege, or permission to maintain wharves, ferries, toll roads, and toll bridges, and to construct, maintain or operate, in, under, above, upon, through or along any streets, highways, public places, or waters, any mains, pipes, canals, ditches, tanks, conduits or other means for conducting water, oil, or other substances.

Tax on franchises.

"Franchises" defined.

Nothing in this section contained shall be construed to release any corporation from the payment of the annual license tax as provided for by an act entitled "An act relating to revenue and taxation, providing for a license tax upon corporations, and making an appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the objects of this act," approved March 20, 1905, and the acts amendatory thereof.

State corporation license tax not repealed.

Sec. 6. Nothing in this act shall be construed to release any company from the payment of any amount agreed to be paid or required by law to be paid, now or hereafter, for any special privilege or franchise granted by any of the municipal authorities of this state.

Municipal charges for special franchises not repealed.

Sec. 7. The term "gross receipts from operation" as used in section two of this act is hereby defined to include all sums received from business done within this state, during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, including the company's proportion of gross receipts from any and all sources on account of business done by it within this state, in connection with other companies described in section two of this act.

Interstate business.

In case of companies operating partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts within this state shall be deemed to be all receipts on business beginning and ending within this state, and the proportion based upon the proportion of the mileage within this state to the entire mileage over which such business is done, of receipts on all business passing through, into or out of this state.

No deductions
allowed.

No deduction shall be allowed from the gross receipts from operation for commissions, rebates, or other repayments, except only such refunds as arise from errors or overcharges; nor shall any deduction be allowed for payments from gross receipts to other companies for any purpose whatsoever, except such refunds as arise from errors or overcharges.

Income derived from property not defined in this act as operative property shall not be included in the gross receipts for the purpose of determining the tax on the property and franchises provided for in section two of this act.

"Operative property"
defined.

SEC. 8. 1. The term "operative property" as used in this act shall include:

Of railroads.

(a) In the case of railroad companies, including street rail-ways: The franchises, roadway, roadbed, rails, rolling stock, rights of way, sidings, spur tracks, switches, signal systems, cranes and structures used in loading and unloading cars, fences along the right of way, poles, wires, conduits, power lines, piers, used exclusively in the operation of the railroad business, depot grounds and buildings, ferryboats, tugs and car-floats used exclusively in the operation of the railroad business; machine shops, repair shops, roundhouses, car barns, power houses, substations, and other buildings, used in the operation of the railroad business and so much of the land on which said shops, houses, barns, and other buildings are situate as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings.

Of car
companies.

(b) In the case of sleeping car, dining car, drawing-room car and palace car companies, refrigerator, oil stock, fruit, and other car-loading, and other car companies operating upon railroads in this state: The franchises, cars, and other rolling stock.

Of express
companies.

(c) In the case of companies doing express business on any railroad, steamboat, vessel, or stage line in this state: The franchises, cars, trucks, wagons, horses, harness, and safes.

Of telegraph and telephone companies.

(d) In the case of telegraph and telephone companies doing business in this state: The franchises, rights of way, poles, wires, pipes, conduits, cables, switchboards, telegraph and telephone instruments, batteries, generators, and other electrical appliances, and exchange and other buildings used in the telegraph and telephone business and so much of the land on which said buildings are situate as may be required for the convenient use and occupation of said buildings.

(e) In the case of companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity: The franchises, towers, poles, wires, pipes, canals, tunnels, ditches, flumes, aqueducts, conduits, rights of way, dams, reservoirs, water and water rights used exclusively in the business of the transmission or sale of gas or electricity; transformers, substations, gas-holders, gas and electric generators, switches, switchboards, meters, electrical and gas appliances, oil tanks, power plants, power houses, and other buildings and structures used in the operation of the business of the transmission or sale of gas or electricity and so much of the land on which said buildings and structures are situate as may be required for the convenient use and operation of said buildings.

Of gas and electric companies.

Provided, that the operative property of the companies enumerated in this section, shall also include any other property not above enumerated that may be reasonably necessary for use by said companies exclusively in the operation and conduct of the particular kinds of business enumerated in section two of this act.

Of all classes of companies.

The operative property mentioned in subdivisions (a), (b), (c), (d), and (e), of this section shall not be subject to taxation for county, municipal, or district purposes except as otherwise provided for in the constitution and laws of this state.

Operative property exempt from local taxation.

Provided, however, that when any piece or parcel of property in this state owned by any of the companies mentioned in section two of this act is used partially by such company for any use reasonably necessary to the operation of any of the lines of business enumerated in section two of this act, and such property is also partially rented to or used by others or is partially used by the company for some other lines of business not among those so enumerated, or for purposes not reasonably necessary to the operation of any of said enumerated lines of business, it shall be considered operative property, in that proportion only which that part of the property mentioned in this proviso used by the company in the operation of any of said enumerated lines of business, bears to the whole of the property mentioned in this proviso.

Property in divided use.

2. Any property of the classes mentioned in this section owned by a company constructing a new railroad, street railway, telegraph or telephone system, or plant or system for the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, no part of which new road, line, plant, or system is in operation, and the same classes of property when held by an operating company solely for the construction of a new railroad or railway line, a new telegraph or telephone system, or a new plant or system for the transmission or sale of gas or electricity, and not to be used for betterments or additions to roads, lines, plants, or systems already under operation, shall not be considered operative property and shall be subject to assessment and taxation for county, municipal, and district purposes. The property of any company mentioned in this section shall be deemed to be in operation as to such part of the new road, line, plant, Plants under construction.

or system as may be in use as soon as it offers and renders service to the public for compensation; provided, however, that the state board of equalization shall finally determine the fact of such operation and the liability of any such company to be taxed upon its gross receipts as provided in section two of this act.

When no service is rendered to public.

3. When any property in this state belonging to a company of the classes named in this section is rendering no service to the public in this state, even though it may be rendering service to the public in some other state or states, such property shall not be considered as operative property, and shall be subject to assessment and taxation for county, municipal, and district purposes.

State board to issue instructions on operative property.

4. The state board of equalization shall have power to make rules and issue instructions not inconsistent with the constitution and laws of this state for the guidance of assessors in determining what is operative property and what is non-operative property of companies named in this section.

Report of public service companies.

SEC. 9. Such person or officer, as the state board of equalization may designate, of each of the companies mentioned in section two of this act, shall, on or before the first Monday in March of each year, file with the said board a report signed and sworn to by one or more of said persons or officers, showing in detail for the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, the various items as follows:

Name of company.

1. The name of the company, its nature, whether a person or persons, a partnership (with names of partners), an association, or corporation, and under the laws of what state, territory or country organized, the nature of its business, the location of its principal place of business, the names and post-office addresses of its president, secretary, auditor, treasurer, superintendent, and general manager, the location of its principal place of business in this state, the name and post-office address of its chief officer or managing agent in this state, and the names and addresses of all subsidiary companies whose property and business are operated by it and the names and addresses of any company of which it may be subsidiary.

Property to be reported.

2. Each of the companies mentioned in section two of this act shall report, in such detail as the state board of equalization shall prescribe, all of its property in this state which comes under the definition of operative property in section eight of this act. When any such company operates both within and without this state it shall report the mileage over which it operates both within and without this state. It shall also report the location of said property within this state by counties, cities and counties, municipalities, and districts, in such manner and in such detail as said board of equalization shall prescribe. It shall also, at the same time, furnish a duplicate of the report covering so much of said property as is located in any county, city and county, municipality, or district, to the assessor of the county, city and county, city, or district in which such property is located.

The state board of equalization may require the filing in its office of maps descriptive of all the operative property of any such companies, and may prescribe the form and size of such maps and the details to be shown therein, and may require that similar maps descriptive of the operative property within each county, city and county, municipality, or district, shall be filed in the assessor's office in each county, city and county, city, or district in which any of said property is located.

be filed.

ing contract or agreement, or by virtue of control through the ownership of stock or otherwise, even though such subsidiary companies maintain an independent legal existence and separate accounts.

"Subsidiary companies" defined.

The term "subsidiary company" is hereby defined as applying to a company which is merged in the operating system of an operating company in any of the ways above stated, whose property and franchises would be taxable under section two of this act if the same were operated independently. No separate report need be rendered by a subsidiary company whose property, franchises, and operations are fully and completely covered by the report of an operating company, unless the state board of equalization shall deem such a separate report necessary.

Separate reports of certain subsidiary companies.

Each such company operating the property and business of a subsidiary company in some line of business to which a different percentage of the gross receipts is applied by section two of this act, from that applied by said section two to the gross receipts of the operating company, shall report such receipts of the subsidiary company separately.

Assessor to report to state board property improperly claimed as operative property.

SEC. 10. If any assessor finds in the report of the operative property in his county, city and county, municipality, or district, furnished to him by any of the companies as required in section nine of this act, any piece or parcel of property which he regards as non-operative property, or partially operative and partially non-operative, he shall, within thirty days after receiving such report, notify the state board of equalization thereof by mail, which notice shall contain a general description of the property and the assessor's reasons for regarding the same as non-operative property. He shall also mail a copy of the notice to the company whose property is involved. The said board shall investigate the nature of the property and its use, and, if an agreement between the said board, the assessor, and the company as to the proper classification of such property can not be reached, then the said board shall, under such rules of notice as it may deem reasonable, set a date for a hearing, at which the assessor and the company may be present or represented. At such hearing the board shall, from the evidence presented and from the best information it can obtain, decide the matter in dispute, and determine whether such property is operative or non-operative or in what proportion operative and in what proportion non-operative. The said board shall enter its decision in its minutes, and shall send a copy thereof to the assessor and the company, and also to the proper officer of any city affected thereby. Said decision shall be binding upon all parties, the state, the county, city and county, municipality, or district, and the company, unless set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, and each such assessor must note the decision on his assessment roll, and must assess such property accordingly.

Notice to company.

State board to investigate.

Hearing and decision by state board.

If the state board of equalization shall find in the report of operative property furnished to said board by any company under the provisions of section nine of this act, any piece or parcel of property which said board regards as non-operative property, or partially operative and partially non-operative, the board shall, within thirty days after receiving such report, notify said company thereof in writing, which notice shall contain a general description of the property and the reasons for regarding the same as non-operative. It shall also mail a copy of the notice to any assessor in whose county, city and county, municipality, or district the property is located. If an agreement between the said board, the assessor, and the company as to the proper classification of such property can not be reached, then the said board shall, under such rules of notice as it may deem reasonable, set a date for a hearing, at which the assessor and the company may be present or represented. At such hearing the board shall, from the evidence presented and from the best information it can obtain, decide the matter in dispute, and determine whether such property is operative or non-operative, or in what proportion operative and in what proportion non-operative. The said board shall enter its decision in its minutes, and shall send a copy thereof to the assessor and the company, and also to the proper officer of any city affected thereby. Said decision shall be binding upon all parties, the state, the county, city and county, municipality, or district, and the company, unless set aside by a court of competent jurisdiction, and each such assessor must note the decision on his assessment roll and must assess the property accordingly.

State board to report to assessor and company property improperly claimed as operative property.

Hearing and decision by state board.

SEC. 11. The insurance commissioner of this state must on or before the last day of March in each year, make and file with the state board of equalization a report showing:

Insurance commissioner to report.

1. All companies, domestic and foreign, and all firms, associations, or persons, engaged in the business of insurance in this state.

Companies.

2. The total amount of the gross premiums received from its business in this state by each of said companies, firms, associations, and persons during the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding.

Gross premiums.

3. The amount of return premiums paid on business done in this state and the amount of reinsurance on business done in this state paid to other insurance companies or associations authorized to do business in this state, by said companies, firms, associations, and persons, during said year.

Return premiums and reinsurance.

4. The amount of any county and municipal taxes paid during said year by such companies on real estate owned by them in this state, and where said real estate is located.

Local taxes.

In making this report he shall list separately all those companies, firms, associations, or persons, which, under the second proviso in subdivision (b) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution and of section three of this act, are subject to a tax at a rate higher than one and one half per cent on their gross premiums, or to any additional tax or burden, and shall indicate in each case the amount and character of said tax or burden.

Companies subject to retaliatory law.

Additional
statements by insurance
companies.

Every company, firm, association, or person engaged in the business of insurance in this state shall file with the insurance commissioner on or before the first Monday in March in each year, such statements in addition to, or in modification of, the statements required to be rendered under the provisions of article sixteen of chapter three of title one of part three of the Political Code as said insurance commissioner shall deem necessary to enable him to prepare the report required of him in this section, and said statements shall be verified in the same manner as is provided for the verification of other statements by insurance companies in section six hundred and ten of the Political Code, except that those filed by foreign companies shall be verified by the oath of the manager thereof residing within this state.

Bank reports.

SEC. 12. The president, secretary, treasurer, cashier, or such other officer as the state board of equalization may determine, of every bank referred to in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, shall on the first Monday in March or within ten days thereafter make and file with the state board of equalization a sworn statement showing the condition of said bank at the close of business on the first Monday in March, and showing the amount of its authorized capital stock, the number of shares issued and the par value thereof, the amount received for stock issued, the amount of its surplus and undivided profits, if any, a complete list of the names and residences of its stockholders and the number of shares held by each as of record on the books of the bank at the close of business on the first Monday in March; or, in the case of unincorporated banks and bankers, of banks having no capital stock and of branches, agencies, or other representatives of banks doing business outside of this state, the moneyed capital, reserve, surplus, undivided profits, and other taxable property, as further defined in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, used by them in the banking business in this state, also a description of the real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, and the value of each piece thereof as assessed for the purpose of county taxation for the then current fiscal year. Branches, agencies, or other representatives of banks doing business outside of this state, shall report the average amount owed by said branches, agencies, or other representatives, to the banks of which they are branches, agencies, or representatives, during the year ending the first Monday in March, also a description of the real estate, other than mortgage interests therein, and the value of each piece thereof as assessed for the purpose of county taxation for the then current fiscal year. The state board of equalization shall prescribe the form of reports, the manner of their verification, and may require the submission of tax receipts, or copies thereof certified to be correct by any notary public, in order to verify the statements as to the assessed value of the real estate, and may require such further information or statements as said board may deem necessary.

Unincorporated

receipts.

7. The gross receipts from all sources for the year ending the thirty-first day of December last preceding, from the entire property and business, the gross receipts from such classes of business as the state board may designate, to be reported separately; also, where the property and business are partly within and partly without this state, the gross receipts for said period on all business beginning and ending entirely within this state, and that proportion of the gross receipts from all business passing through, into, or out of this state, which the mileage within this state bears to the total mileage over which such interstate business is done as further defined in section seven of this act.

Operating expenses.

8. The operating and other expenses.

Profit and loss.

9. The balances of profit and loss, between such periods as the state board of equalization may determine.

Other matters.

10. Such other matters as the state board of equalization may deem necessary in order to enable it to assess and levy the taxes provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

State board to assess franchises.

The state board of equalization shall ascertain and determine from the foregoing reports, or from the best information it can obtain, the actual cash value on the first Monday in March of each such franchise, and shall assess and levy the taxes thereon in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state.

SEC. 15. Every assessor or auditor shall, in the manner, at the times, and for the year required by the state board of equalization, report to said board upon such forms as may be prescribed by said board the valuation placed by him upon the property of any company subject to an assessment upon its franchise under the provisions of this act.

Assessor to report to state
board.

SEC. 16. If any company mentioned in section one of this act shall fail or refuse to furnish to the state board of equalization within the time prescribed in this act the verified report provided for in this act, the state board of equalization must note such failure or refusal in the record of assessments for state taxes hereinafter in this act provided for, and must make an estimate of the amount of the gross receipts, gross premiums, value of the shares of capital stock, or value of the franchises, of such company and must assess the same at the amount thus estimated, which assessment shall be the assessment upon which the taxes upon the property or franchise of the company for such year shall be levied and collected as provided for in this act. And if in the succeeding year any such company shall again fail or refuse to furnish the verified report required by this act, the state board shall make an estimate of the amount of the gross receipts, gross premiums, value of the shares of capital stock, or value of the franchise of such company, which estimate shall not be less than twice the amount of the estimate made by said board in the previous year, and shall note such failure or refusal as above provided, and the said estimate so made shall be the assessment upon which the taxes upon the property or franchise of the company for such year shall be levied and collected as provided for in this act. In case of each succeeding consecutive failure or refusal the said board shall follow the same procedure until a true statement shall be furnished.

Arbitrary assessment in case of failure or refusal to report.

Any company failing or refusing to make and furnish any report prescribed in this act or rendering a false or fraudulent report shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars and not exceeding five thousand dollars for each such offense.

Penalty for failure or refusal to report.

Any person required to make, render, sign, or verify any report, who makes any false or fraudulent report, with intent to defeat or evade the assessment required by this act to be made, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall for each such offense be fined not less than three hundred dollars and not more than five thousand dollars, or be imprisoned not exceeding one year in the county jail of the county where said report was verified, or be subject to both said fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

Penalty for false
report.

SEC. 17. The state board of equalization may, for good cause shown, by order entered upon its minutes, extend for not exceeding thirty days, the time fixed in this act for filing any report herein provided for; provided, however, that for the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven the said board may extend the period herein mentioned for not exceeding sixty days.

State board to meet for assessment.

SEC. 18. The state board of equalization must meet at the state capitol on the first Monday in March in each year, and continue in open session from day to day, Sundays and holidays excepted, until the first Monday in July. Between the first Monday in March and the third Monday before the first Monday in July the board must assess and levy the taxes as and in the manner provided for in this act and in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state. The assessments must be made to the company, person or association owning or operating the property subject to said tax, or, in the case of banks, banking associations, savings and loan societies and trust companies, to the stockholders therein. If the name of the owner is unknown to the board, such assessment must be made to unknown owners. Clerical errors occurring or appearing in the name of any company, person, association, or stockholder whose property is correctly assessed shall not invalidate the assessment; provided, however, that if any bank shall, by resolution of its board of directors, request the state board of equalization to assess to and in the name of such bank so requesting, the entire taxable value of all the shares of the capital stock of such bank, as determined by said state board, instead of assessing such shares to and in the name of the individual stockholders or shareholders owning the same, and if such bank shall promise that it will, upon being notified by said state board, of such assessment thereof to said bank, and of the amount of taxes to be paid upon such assessment, pay such taxes at the times when taxes assessed and levied under this act are due and payable, which request to assess said bank and promise to pay said tax shall be in substantially the following form:

Assessments, how made.

Bank waiver of assessment to individual stockholder.

Form of waiver.

The state board of equalization is hereby instructed to assess in the name of this bank and not to the individual stockholders or shareholders therein, the taxable value of all the shares of capital stock in this bank and such bank hereby promises to pay to the state treasurer the amount of the tax levied upon such assessment when such taxes are due and payable under the laws of this state.

.....
By (here insert title of official signing.)

Then the state board may assess the capital stock to and in the name of such bank and said promise to pay the taxes shall be binding upon such bank and collection of such taxes from such bank may be enforced in the manner and by the same method as is provided for the collection of other taxes assessed and levied under this act.

Board to publish notice of completion of assessments.

On the third Monday before the first Monday in July the said board shall publish a notice in one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles, that the assessment of property for state taxes has been completed, and that the record of assessments for state taxes will be delivered to the controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any company, person, or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made by the board, it may, at any time before the taxes thereon shall become due and payable, apply to the board to have the same corrected in any particular. The board shall have power at any time on or before the first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments for state taxes and may increase or decrease any assessment therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action.

Correction of assessment.

SEC. 19. The state board of equalization must prepare each year a book, in one or more volumes, to be called the "record of assessments for state taxes," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or by both writing and printing, each assessment and levy made by said board upon the property and franchises mentioned in section one of this act, describing the property assessed, and such assessments shall be classified and entered, in such separate parts of said record as the board shall prescribe. On the first Monday in July the secretary of the state board of equalization must deliver to the controller of state the record of assessments for state taxes, certified to by the chairman and secretary of the board, which certificate shall be substantially as follows:

Record of assessments for state taxes.

"We, chairman, and secretary, of the state board of equalization of the State of California do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19. . . . , the state board of equalization made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and companies subject to assessment and taxation for state purposes, as required by the constitution of this state; that said board has faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon it by the constitution and laws of the State of California; that said board has not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any company or property to escape a just assessment through favor or reward, or otherwise."

Certifying to assessment roll

But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments for state taxes, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment. Such record of assessments shall constitute the warrant for the controller to collect the taxes assessed and levied upon the property and franchises mentioned in section one of this act.

Failure to certify to record of assessments.

SEC. 20. The taxes assessed and levied as provided in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and in and by the provisions of this act, shall be due and payable on the first Monday in July in each year, and one half thereof shall be delinquent on the sixth Monday after said first Monday in July at six o'clock p. m., and unless paid prior thereto, fifteen per cent shall be added to the amount thereof,

Taxes, when due and when delinquent.

and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof; and the unpaid portion, or the remaining one half of said taxes, shall become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they became due and payable at six o'clock P. M.; and if not paid prior thereto five per cent shall be added to the amount thereof; provided, that all taxes provided for or levied under this act which are not fully secured by real property are due and payable at the time the assessment is made. When in the opinion of the state board of equalization any of the taxes provided for in this section are not a lien upon real property sufficient to secure the payment of the taxes, said board may direct the controller, or his duly authorized representative, to collect the same at any time before the first Monday in August thereafter, and the controller may collect the taxes by seizure and sale of any property owned by the company against whom the tax is assessed.

Taxes not secured by real estate may be collected on assessment.

Sale of property for taxes.

The sale of any property so seized shall be made at public auction and of a sufficient amount of the property to pay the taxes, penalties and costs, and be made after one week's notice of the time and place of such sale given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the property seized is situate, or if there be no newspaper of general circulation published in such county, then by posting of such notice in three public places in such county. Said notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, together with a statement of the amount of the taxes, penalties and costs due thereon and the name of the owner of said property, and a further statement that unless the taxes, penalties and costs are paid on or before the day fixed in said notice for such sale of said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay said taxes, penalties and costs, said property will be sold in accordance with law and said notice. On payment of the price bid for any property sold, the delivery thereof with bill of sale executed by the controller vests the title in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property so seized, may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the owner. All of the proceeds of any such sale in excess of the taxes, penalties, and costs, must be returned to the owner of the property sold, and until claimed must be deposited in the state treasury subject to the order of the owner thereof, his heirs, or assigns.

Contents of notice

Bill of sale and disposition of residue of property.

Controller to publish notice when taxes are due.

Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments for state taxes, the controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for two weeks, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles, specifying:

Contents of above notice.

1. That he has received from the state board of equalization the record of assessments for state taxes.

2. That the taxes therein assessed are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock P. M., and that, unless paid to the state treasurer at the capitol prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock P. M., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one half of said taxes will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable at six o'clock P. M.; and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capitol prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof.

SEC. 21. The taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall constitute a lien upon all the property and franchises of every kind and nature belonging to the companies subject to taxation for state purposes, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Every tax herein provided for has the effect of a judgment against the company, and every lien created by this act has the effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the delinquent; the judgment is not satisfied nor the lien removed until such taxes, penalties, and costs are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof.

SEC. 22. All taxes assessed and levied as provided in this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, without deduction for any taxes assessed and levied to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness mentioned in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and the amount due to the cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, and districts on account of said taxes assessed and levied for such bonded indebtedness shall be paid to said cities, cities and counties, counties, towns, townships, or districts in the manner hereinafter in this act provided.

Taxes to be paid to state
treasurer.

The controller must mark the date of payment of any tax on the record of assessments for state taxes. He must give a receipt to the person paying any tax, or any part of any tax, specifying the amount of the assessment and the tax, or part of tax, paid, and the amount remaining unpaid, if any, with a description of the property assessed; provided, that the receipt for the second half of the taxes may refer, by number or in any other intelligible manner, to the receipt given for the first half of said taxes, in lieu of a description of the property assessed.

certify to the state board of examiners the amount of such taxes, penalties, or costs, collected in excess of what was legally due, from whom they were collected or by whom paid, and if approved by said board of examiners, the same shall be credited to the company or person to whom it rightfully belongs, at the time of the next payment of taxes. No claim for such credit shall be so audited, approved, allowed, or paid unless presented within one year after the payment sought to be refunded.

Protest of taxes.

SEC. 23. Any company, person, or association dissatisfied with any assessment made by the state board of equalization may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of any taxes, penalties, or costs paid on such assessment, but no such action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day on which the taxes were due, nor unless such company, person or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such taxes a written protest stating whether the whole assessment is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded; and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary. Whenever under the provisions of this section an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney general must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes.

Controller to send notice of delinquent
taxes.

SEC. 24. Within ten days after the first Monday in February, the controller shall send by mail to the last known address of any company whose taxes are delinquent a notice of the amount of said taxes, penalties, and costs, and that if the said taxes, penalties, and costs are not paid on or before the first Monday in March next thereafter at six o'clock p. m., the delinquent company if it be a domestic corporation will forfeit its charter to the state, and that if the delinquent company be a foreign corporation it will forfeit its right to do business in this state.

Charter

for delinquent
taxes.

If the taxes, penalties, and costs are not paid within the time specified in said notice, the controller shall, on said first Monday in March at six o'clock p. m., mark on the record of assessments for state taxes opposite the assessment of the delinquent company the words "charter forfeited to the state," if the delinquent company be a domestic corporation, and thereupon said charter shall be so forfeited, and if the delinquent company be a foreign corporation the words "right to do business forfeited" and thereupon said right to do business shall be so forfeited. He shall at once report to the secretary of state the name and number of charter of each corporation whose charter or right to do business has been forfeited for non-payment of taxes, and the secretary of state shall at once report the same to the governor. The governor shall forthwith issue his proclamation, declaring that the charters of such domestic corporations have been forfeited and the right of such foreign corporations to do business in this state has been forfeited. Said proclamation shall be filed immediately in the office of the secretary of state, and the secretary of state shall immediately cause a copy of said proclamation to be published in one issue of one daily newspaper of general circulation published at the state capital, of one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city and county of San Francisco, and of one daily newspaper of general circulation published in the city of Los Angeles. The secretary of state shall thereupon transmit a certified copy of the proclamation to each county clerk in this state, who shall file the same in his office. Any such corporation making subsequent payment of all taxes, penalties, and costs due the state, and in addition thereto an amount equal to the taxes levied under this act for the year in which such forfeiture occurred, for each year subsequent to such forfeiture and to the time of such redemption, shall be relieved of such forfeiture, and the controller shall notify the secretary of state thereof, and the secretary of state shall annually on the first Monday in April transmit to the county clerk of each county in this state a list of the corporations so paying, and which have been relieved of such forfeiture, which list shall be by said county clerk filed in his office; provided, the rehabilitation of a corporation under the provisions of this act shall be without prejudice to any action, defense or right which accrued by reason of the original forfeiture; and provided, that in case the name of any corporation which has suffered the forfeiture prescribed in this act, or a name so closely resembling the name of such corporation as will tend to deceive, has been adopted by any other corporation since the date of said forfeiture, then said corporation having suffered such forfeiture shall be relieved therefrom pursuant to the terms of this section only upon the adoption by said corporation seeking revivor of a new name, and in such case nothing in this act contained shall be construed as permitting such corporation to be revived or carry on any business under its former name; and such corporation shall have the right to use its former name or take such new name only upon filing an application therefor with the secretary of state and upon the issuing of a certificate to such corporation by the secretary of state setting forth the right of such corporation to take such new name or use its former name, as the case may be; provided, however, that the secretary of state shall not issue any certificate permitting any corporation to take or use the name of any corporation heretofore organized in this state, and which has not suffered a forfeiture prescribed by this act, or to make or use a name so to sue for delinquent

taxes.

The controller may, within sixty days after the first Monday in March, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California, to collect any delinquent taxes, together with any penalties, or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this act and appearing delinquent upon the record of assessments for state taxes hereinbefore in this act provided for. The attorney general must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of said attachment is required. In the case of companies whose charters or right to do business has been forfeited under the provisions of this act, service of summons may be made upon the persons, now provided for by law to be served as agents or officers of any of such companies and such persons shall be deemed to be the agents of such companies for all purposes necessary in order to prosecute such action. Payment of the taxes and penalties, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessments for state taxes, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller, or by the secretary of the state board of equalization, showing unpaid taxes against any company, person or association assessed by the state board of equalization, is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property and franchises, the delinquency, the amount of the taxes, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the company, person, or association is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of taxes and penalties therein appearing unpaid, and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such taxes have been complied with.

SEC. 25. In addition to the powers and duties prescribed in the Political Code, it is the duty of the state board of equalization, and the said board shall have power, for carrying this act into effect:

1. To prescribe the forms upon which the reports required by sections 9, 12 and 14 of this act shall be made.

2. Whenever deemed necessary, to visit as a board, or by the individual members thereof, or to send its secretary or duly appointed representative to any portion of this state for the purpose of inspecting property and learning the value thereof, and of collecting information to enable it to justly assess and levy the taxes provided for in this act.

3. To call before it, or any member thereof, or before its secretary or duly appointed representative on such visit, any public officials, and to require them to produce any public record, papers or documents in their custody. Summon public officials.

4. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses or the production of books before the board, or any member thereof; which subpoenas must be signed by a member of the board, and may be served by any person. Issue subpoenas.

5. To require any person having knowledge of the business of any of the companies mentioned in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, or having the custody of the books and accounts of such companies, to attend before the board or any member thereof, or before the secretary or the duly appointed representative of said board, and bring with him for inspection any books, or papers, of such company in his possession or under his control, and to testify under oath touching any matter relating to the assessment to be made under this act. A member of the board, its secretary, or duly appointed representative is authorized to administer such oath. Require attendance of witnesses and production of books.

6. Said board of equalization is hereby authorized and empowered to examine the books and accounts of all companies required by law to report to it, and to employ an expert accountant or accountants to assist in the examination of the books and accounts of any such companies when in the judgment of said board the exigencies of the case may so require. Examine books and accounts.

7. It shall be unlawful for any member or ex-member of the state board of equalization, or for any agent employed by it, or for the controller, or ex-controller, or for any person employed by him or for any person who may at any time have obtained such knowledge from any of the foregoing officers or persons, to divulge or make known in any manner whatever not provided by law, any of the following items of information concerning the business affairs of companies reporting to the said board: Unlawful for members or employees to divulge information.

(a) Any information concerning the business affairs of any company which is gained during an examination of its books and accounts or in any other manner, and which information is not required to be reported to the state board of equalization in the reports or statements provided for in paragraphs numbered one to ten of section nine and paragraphs numbered one to ten of section fourteen of this act.

(b) Any information, other than the assessment and the amount of taxes levied, obtained by the state board of equalization in accordance with the provisions of this act, from any company other than any of those enumerated in sections two, three and four of this act.

(c) Any particular item or items of information relating to the disposition of its earnings contained in the report of a quasi-public corporation which any such corporation may, by written communication specifying the items and presented at of banks.

SEC. 26. On the second Monday in August of each year the auditor of each county must report to the state board of equalization, in addition to the items required to be so reported by him under section three thousand seven hundred and twenty-eight of the Political Code, the value of each piece of real estate other than mortgage interests therein belonging to each bank in his county as assessed and equalized for purposes of county taxation. Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed any real estate belonging to any bank above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state from said bank, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county affected thereby as the said state board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such real estate and shall upon completion of said equalization issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county auditor of the county in which said real estate is located, fixing the assessed value of said real estate. The value so equalized and fixed, and no other, shall be deemed the value, as assessed for county taxes, of such real estate, and the sole basis of taxation upon such real estate for county taxes. A copy of the order certified by the secretary of the state board of equalization shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings of the board resulting in the action which is the subject-matter of the order.

SEC. 27. The state board of equalization shall immediately after the county and city assessments have been completed, ascertain the value of any real estate belonging to any insurance company as assessed and equalized for purposes of county and of city taxation. Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county, city and county, city, or district assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed any real estate belonging to any insurance company above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state from said insurance company, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county or the proper officer of the city affected as the board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such real estate and shall, upon the completion of said equalization, issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county, city and county, city, or district auditor or clerk of the county, city and county, city, or district in which said real estate is located, fixing the assessed value of said real estate. The value so equalized and fixed, and no other, shall be deemed the value, as assessed for county, city and county, city, or district taxes, of such real estate, and the sole basis of taxation upon such real estate, for county, municipal and district taxes. A copy of the order certified by the secretary of the state board of equalization shall be prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings of the board resulting in the action which is the subject matter of the order.

board.

Whenever the state board of equalization is satisfied after investigation that any county, city, or other assessor, or board of equalization, has assessed for taxation to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any county, city and county, city, town, township, or district prior to the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, as provided in subdivision (e) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, any of the property taxed exclusively for state purposes as provided in subdivisions (a), (b) and (d) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, or has assessed for purposes of county, city and county, city, or district taxation the property other than the franchise of any company taxable for a franchise under subdivision (d) of said section and article of the constitution, above its full cash value and has thereby unjustly reduced the amount of taxes due the state on such property, said state board shall, under such rules of notice to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county, or to the city clerk of the city, affected thereby as the board shall deem reasonable, equalize the assessed value of such property, and shall issue an order to said assessor or board of equalization and to the county or city auditor or clerk of the county, city and county, or city in which the property is located, fixing the assessed value of such property. The value so equalized and assessed, and no other, shall be deemed the value of said property, and its assessment for taxes levied to pay the principal and interest of any such outstanding bonded indebtedness, and in the case of companies taxable for a franchise under said subdivision (d) of said section and article of the constitution shall be deemed the value of the said property, and its assessment for taxes for county, city and county, municipal and district purposes.

Equalized value.

When making the tax levy and fixing the rates of taxation for county, city and county, city, town, township, or district purposes, the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, and the corresponding authority in any city, having bonded indebtedness issued and outstanding on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, shall fix the tax rate for such bonded indebtedness separate and apart from all other tax rates, whether for subsequent bonded indebtedness or for other purposes.

Tax rates for bonded to be separate from other rates.

The county, city and county, or city auditor or clerk shall extend on the assessment roll against the assessments segregated as herein provided, the taxes necessary to pay the principal and interest of said bonded indebtedness at the same rate as said taxes for payment of principal and interest of said outstanding bonded indebtedness shall be levied upon the other classes of property within the same county, city and county, city, town, township, or district, and the amount of each such taxes shall be certified by said auditor or clerk to the controller and the amount so certified shall then be credited by the controller to the county, city and county, city, town, township, or district to which it is due; and said amount shall be paid by said controller to the treasurer of such county, or city and county, as provided in section twenty-nine of this act, and upon such payment said treasurer shall forthwith certify such fact to the tax collector who shall thereupon mark upon the assessment roll the date of payment and the words "paid by the state treasurer." The city clerk or auditor shall in the certificate mentioned in this paragraph also state the date when taxes in such city shall become delinquent.

Same tax rate to apply to all property for bonded purposes.

State to pay part of principal and interest of outstanding bonded debts.

SEC. 29. The controller shall out of the taxes collected by him as provided in this act credit to the fund created by an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled "An act appropriating money for the purpose of payment of that part of the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township or district on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, which is provided for in section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state, and as provided in an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled 'An act to carry into effect the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, as said constitution was amended November 8, 1910, providing for the separation of state from local taxation, and providing for the taxation of public service and other corporations for the benefit of the state, all relating to revenue and taxation,' " the money due to each county, city and county, city, town, township, or district on account of taxes to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township or district, on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten. The controller shall in the months of October and March in each year settle with the treasurer of each county and city and county for the money collected by said controller under this section, for the moneys due said county or city and county and the townships and districts within such county or city and county, in the same manner as settlements are made between the county or city and county treasurers and the controller as provided for in section three thousand eight hundred and sixty-six of the Political Code. The controller shall at the same times, settle with each city and town for the moneys due such city or town for the purposes mentioned in this section, and when ready for such settlement shall notify the city or town treasurer of the amount of money due the city or town for said purposes, and that upon receipt of proper authority so to do, he will forward to said city or town treasurer a warrant for the amount thereof; provided, however, that upon receipt of notice from any such city or town treasurer that any bond issue matures for principal or interest before the date of such settlement, which notice shall state the amount thereof due from the state and the date of maturity, and that said amount due from the state is required in order to pay the same, the said controller must, before said date of maturity, forward his warrant to such city or town treasurer in the manner above provided for the amount ascertained by him to be due. The treasurer of the county or city and county shall forthwith, upon receipt by him of the moneys so hereinbefore directed to be paid by said controller, credit the amount so received by him to the county, city and county, township or district, respectively entitled thereto, and pay the same in the manner provided by law.

Controller to settle in October and March.

Any excess paid by the controller to a county, city and county, city, town, or to a county or city and county or any township or district, over and above the state's share of the amount actually expended by such county, city and county, city, town, township or district, to pay the interest and principal of said bonded indebtedness in any year, shall be repaid to the state in such manner as the controller shall direct.

Excess paid by state.

State to reimburse counties.

SEC. 30. Until the year one thousand nine hundred and eighteen the state shall reimburse any and all counties which sustain loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation for the net loss in county revenue occasioned by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation in the manner, at the times, and in the amounts specified in an act of the thirty-ninth session of the legislature entitled "An act to provide for the reimbursement of counties in this state which sustain net loss of revenue by the withdrawal of railroad property from county taxation, under the provisions of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of this state."

State not to pay county treasurers' expenses.

SEC. 31. The provisions of section three thousand eight hundred and seventy-six of the Political Code shall not apply to the settlements made with the state treasurer under sections twenty-nine and thirty of this act, but the county board of supervisors may if it deem necessary allow the county treasurer the actual expenses incurred in collecting the money due the county from the state.

Counties to reimburse loss to districts.

SEC. 32. The board of supervisors of each county shall in the month of September of each year determine the amount of loss to each district in the county where loss is occasioned in such district by the withdrawal from local taxation of property taxed for state purposes only, and in the month of December next thereafter shall reimburse such district from the general funds of the county for one half of such loss, and in the month of May next thereafter shall reimburse such district from the general fund of the county for the remaining one half of such loss.

All property in state subject to deficiency tax.

SEC. 33. Any tax required to be levied for state purposes as provided in subdivision (c) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution as amended the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, to meet any deficiency in the state revenue shall be assessed, levied and collected on all property in the state, not exempt from taxation, including the classes of property enumerated in this act, under the provisions of the Political Code relating to the assessment, levy and collection of state and county taxes as said provisions were in force on the seventh day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

Prorog laws not repealed for certain purposes.

SEC. 34. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing any laws in force prior to the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten, relating to taxation, in so far as said laws may be necessary for the assessment, levy, and collection of state, county, city and county, municipal or district taxes, or in so far as said laws may be necessary for the assessment, levy and collection of the taxes provided for in section twenty-two of article four of the constitution as amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten: or in so far as said laws may be necessary for the assessment, levy and collection of the taxes for state purposes, on all the property in the state, not exempt from taxtion, to meet a deficiency in the revenues for the support of the state government, or to pay the principal and interest of any bonded indebtedness created and outstanding by any city, city and county, county, town, township, or district, both as provided in subdivision (c) of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution as amended on the eighth day of November in the year one thousand nine hundred and ten.

SEC. 35. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 336.

An act to provide for the levy and collection of taxes for the support of the state government for the sixty-third and sixty-fourth fiscal years.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The state board of equalization shall, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July in the year one thousand nine hundred and eleven, for the support of the state government assess and levy the taxes upon the property in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in subdivisions a, b, c, and d of section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California for the purpose of raising the sum of twelve million four hundred and four thousand six hundred seventy dollars for annual expenditure for the support of the state government for the sixty-third fiscal year and in the event that the taxes so assessed and levied together with all available revenues other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, shall not raise said sum of twelve million four hundred four thousand six hundred seventy dollars, then said above-named revenues shall be deemed insufficient to meet the annual expenditures of the state for the sixty-third fiscal year, which deficiency is hereby declared to be the difference between the amount of taxes assessed and levied upon the property and in the manner and upon the rates of taxation as provided for in subdivisions a, b, c and d of section fourteen of article thirteen of said constitution, together with all other state revenues, other than those revenues required by law to be used for special uses, and said sum of twelve million four hundred four thousand six hundred seventy dollars, then said state board of equalization shall, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision c of said section fourteen of article thirteen of the constitution of the State of California, between the first and second Mondays in September of the said sixty-third fiscal

CHAPTER 337.

An act to provide for a state exhibit at the Panama-California exposition, to be held in San Diego, California, in 1915, to celebrate the completion of the Panama canal and providing for the erection of necessary buildings therefor; creating a commission to have the charge and control of said exhibition and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It is made the duty of the governor of the State of California, within thirty days after the passage of this act, to appoint three commissioners who shall be removable at the pleasure of the governor, and who shall constitute the Panama-California Exposition Commissioners. Said Panama-California Exposition Commissioners shall have the exclusive charge and control of the expenditure of all moneys appropriated by the State of California for the construction of buildings and maintaining an exhibit of the products of the State of Calisioners.

Bond. fornia at said exhibition and for the purpose of properly representing the State of California at said exposition, to be hold in the city of San Diego, State of California, in 1915. Each of said commissioners shall execute and file with the secretary of state, within thirty days after his appointment by the governor, good and sufficient bond in the sum of ten thousand dollars made to the people of the State of California, which bond shall be approved by the governor and shall be conditioned for the faithful performance of said commissioners of all their duties as such commissioners.

No compensation. SEC. 2. Said commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services but they shall be allowed their actual expenses not exceeding one thousand dollars.

Appropriation. SEC. 3. The sum of fifty thousand dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to meet the expense of preparing the plans and specifications and constructing the foundation for an exposition building, to be erected at the Panama-California Exposition to be held in San Diego in the year 1915, which plans and specifications shall provide for a building to cost not less than two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The amount herein appropriated shall be available on and after July 1, 1912.

Controller to draw warrant. SEC. 4. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants on the general fund from time to time for such portions of said sum of fifty thousand dollars and in favor of such persons as the majority of said commissioners shall direct and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same.

State institutions to assist. SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the state institutions of the State of California to assist the commission in every possible way by loaning it such material in their possession as will add to the attractive features of the state exhibit at said Panama-California exposition.

Exemptions. SEC. 6. This act is exempt from the provisions of section 672 of the Political Code of the State of California, and from the provisions of an act entitled "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any state structure, building, road, or other state improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the state in relation to erections and buildings,' approved March 28, 1876" (approved March 22, 1909).

CHAPTER 338.

An act to amend sections 628, 628a, 632, 631, and 636 of the Penal Code of the State of California, all relating to the protection and preservation of fish.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 628 of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

628. Every person who, at any time, offers for shipment, ships, or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California to any place in any other state, territory, or foreign country, or who has in his possession for any purpose any dried shrimp or shrimp shells of shrimp caught or taken in the waters of this state, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that the possession of such dried shrimp or shrimp shells for any purpose shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that such dried shrimps or shrimp shells are of shrimps which were caught or taken in the waters of this state, or every person who, between the 15th day of February and the 15th day of September of each year, buys, sells, takes, catches, kills or has in his possession any lobster or crawfish or who at any time has in his possession any lobster or crawfish of less than nine and one half inches in length, measured from one extremity to the other, exclusive of legs, claws or feelers or who shall at any time pickle, can, or otherwise preserve any lobster, crab, or crawfish caught or taken in the waters of this state, or who shall at any time sell any crab, lobster or crawfish meat not in the shell of such crab, lobster or crawfish, or who shall bring to shore any part or portion of any lobster, crab or crawfish, without the remaining portions of said lobster, crab or crawfish in such condition that the size of such lobster, crab or crawfish can not be measured is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person who, at any time has in his possession for sale, or sells, or offers for sale any dressed catfish less than seven inches in length not including the head, or who at any time kills or has in his possession any sturgeon of less than twenty-five pounds in weight, or who between the first day of November and the first day of March of the year following, buys, sells, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession, any crab, or who, at any time, buys, sells, offers for sale, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession any female crab, or any crabs which shall measure less than seven inches across the back, or any person who, between the first day of March and the first day of July of any year, kills, takes or catches, in the waters of this state any abalone (Haliothis); or who, at any time, buys, sells, offers for sale, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession, any abalone (Haliotis), known to commerce as the red abalone (Haliotis rufescens), less than seventeen inches around the outer edge of the shell, or any green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) less than sixteen inches around the outer edge of the shell, or any pink abalone (Haliotis corrugata) less than fourteen inches around the outer edge of the shell, or any black abalone (Haliotis crackerodic) less than twelve inches around the outer edge of the shell; or who, by whatever means whatsoever takes, or catches between the first day of July and the 28th day of February the red abalone (Haliotis rufescens) seventeen inches or over around the outer edge of the shell, or the green abalone (Haliotis fulgens) sixteen inches or over around the outer edge of the shell, or the pink (Haliotis corrugata) fourteen inches or over around the outer edge of the shell, or the black abalone (Haliotis crackerodic) twelve inches or over around the outer edge of the shell and does not bring the abalone naturally attached to the shell alive to the shore above high water mark, or who kills any abalone (Haliotis) of lawful size other than for food purposes, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that it shall at all times be lawful for any person or persons, to buy, sell, or have in his possession any lobster or crawfish of not less than nine inches in length, measured from one extremity to the other, exclusive of legs, claws, or feelers, or any abalone caught or taken without the waters of this state, and bearing, after inspection, such evidence of having been so caught or taken as shall be hereafter prescribed by the fish and game commission; and provided, further, that the expense of such inspection shall be borne by the person or persons importing lobster or crawfish.

Allowable.

SEC. 2. Section 628a of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Striped bass.

628a. Every person who, at any time, buys, sells, offers for sale, or has in his possession, any striped bass of less than three pounds in weight; or who, between the seventeenth day of September and the twenty-third day of October of any year, takes, catches, or kills, any striped bass; with a net or seine; or who, between the seventeenth day of September and the twenty-third day of October of any year, has in his possession any striped bass taken, caught or killed except with hook and line; or who, between the seventeenth day of September and the twenty-third day of October of any year, buys, sells, or offers for sale, ships, offers for shipment, or receives for shipment or transportation any striped bass; or who, at any time, offers for shipment, ships, or receives for shipment or transportation from the State of California to any place in any other state, territory, or foreign country any striped bass caught or taken in the waters of this state, is guilty of a misdemeanor; provided, that the possession of such striped bass shall be prima facie evidence of the fact that such striped bass were caught or taken in the waters of this state.

SEC. 3. Section 632 of the Penal Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

632. Every person who, between the first day of November in any year and the first day of April of the year following, buys, sells, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession, any variety of trout, except steelhead trout; or who at any time buys, sells, or offers for sale any trout of less than one pound in weight; or who, at any time takes, catches or kills any trout, except with hook and line; or who, at any time, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession, during any one calendar day, more than fifty trout; or who, at any time, takes, catches, kills, or has in his possession, during any one calendar day, trout, other than steelhead trout, the total weight of which exceeds ten pounds, and one fish, or who above tide water during any one calendar day, takes, kills, destroys or has in his possession more than fifty steelhead trout, is guilty of a misdemeanor except as hereinafter provided; provided, that in game district number three any person who, between the first day of November and the first day of May of the following year, takes, kills, destroys, or has in his possession any trout is guilty of a misdemeanor. Every person found guilty of any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be fined in a sum not less than twenty dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail in the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than ten days or be punished by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines collected for any violation of any of the provisions of this section must be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund. Nothing in this section prohibits the United States fish commission and the fish and game commission of this state from taking at all times such trout as they deem necessary for purposes of propagation or for scientific purposes.

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 339.

An act to amend sections 2, 3, 13, and 21, of an act entitled "An act for the preservation of the public health of the people of the State of California, and empowering the state board of health to enforce its provisions, and providing penalties for the violation thereof," approved March 23, 1907.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of an act entitled "An act for the preservation of the public health of the people of the State of California, and empowering the state board of health to enforce its provisions, and providing penalties for the violation thereof," approved March 23, 1907, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. It shall be unlawful to discharge or deposit, or cause or suffer to be discharged or deposited, any sewage, garbage, feculent matter, offal, refuse, filth, or any animal, mineral, or vegetable matter or substance, offensive, injurious, or dangerous to health, in any springs, streams, rivers, lakes, tributaries thereof, wells or other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes; or to discharge or deposit, or cause or suffer to be discharged or deposited, any such offensive, injurious or dangerous matter or substance upon the land or place adjoining such waters so as to cause or suffer such matter or substance to flow or be emptied or drained into such waters.

Unlawful to discharge sewage in streams.

It shall also be unlawful to erect, construct, excavate, or maintain, or cause to be erected, constructed, excavated, or maintained, any privy, vault, cesspool, sewer pipes or conduits, or other pipes or conduits, for the discharge of impure waters, gas, vapors, oils, acids, tar, or other matter or substance offensive, injurious, or dangerous to health, whereby any part of such matter or substance shall empty, flow, seep, drain, condense or otherwise pollute or affect any of such waters so intended for human or animal consumption or for within two

intake.

It shall also be unlawful for the owner, tenant, lessee or occupant of any house-boat or boat intended for or capable of being used as a residence, house, dwelling or habitation, or for the agent of such owner, tenant, lessee or occupant to moor or anchor the same or permit the same to be moored or anchored in or on any river or stream, the waters of which are used for drinking or domestic purposes by any city, town or village within a distance of two miles above the intake or place where such city, town or village water system takes water from such river or stream; provided, however, that in the transportation of any such house-boat on any such river or stream nothing herein contained shall prevent the owner, agent, tenant or occupant of such house-boat from mooring or anchoring the same when necessary within the limits herein fixed and established; provided, such house-boat shall not remain moored or anchored within such limits for a longer period than one day.

SEC. 2. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Cities may streams.

Section 3. Whenever any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation shall desire to deposit or discharge, or to continue to deposit or discharge into any stream, river, lake, or tributary thereof, or into any other waters used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, any sewage, sewage effluent, or other substance by the terms of section 2 of this act forbidden so to be deposited or discharged, may file with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with a complete and detailed plan, description and history of the existing or proposed works or system, and purification plant, showing geographical location with relation to such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, and a physical and bacteriological analysis of the substance or substances so to be deposited or discharged.

Investigation and hearing.

Thereupon, a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system and plant, and all circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material, shall be made under the direction of the state board of health. As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral and documentary, may be received, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. All of the expenses of such investigation, including hearings, excepting the compensation of state officers participating therein, shall be borne, and paid as they accrue, by the petitioner.

Expense-of hearing.

Upon the completion of such investigation, said board—

a. If it shall determine as a fact, that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it will so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, or that under all the circumstances and conditions it is not necessary so to dispose of such substance, [it] shall deny the prayer of such petition; provided, however, that in case such petition shall be for permission to continue to discharge sewage, sewage effluent or storm water, from a sewer or storm water system permanently constructed, established and operating, prior to the passage of this act, said board may grant to petitioner a temporary and revocable permit, authorizing the continuance of such discharge, under such restrictions as in said permit may be specified, to enable petitioner to appoint a commission to investigate and report on the best method of sewage disposal, and petitioner to construct and put into operation a new or altered system discharging elsewhere, or so to alter, add to, repair or modify the operation of the existing system that the substance discharged or deposited shall not be such as to cause a contamination or pollution that will endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals.

Board
may deny petition.

Permission to continue.

b. If it shall determine, as a fact, that the substance being or to be discharged or deposited, is not such that under all the circumstances and conditions it will so contaminate or pollute such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, as to endanger the lives or health of human beings or animals, and that under all the circumstances and conditions it is necessary so to dispose of such substance, shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner so to deposit or discharge or to continue to deposit or discharge such substance; provided, however, that such permit shall not be construed to allow, or to constitute a defense to any civil action or criminal prosecution for the creation or maintainance of, any public or private nuisance, or to permit any act forbidden by the provisions of the laws of this state relative to the preservation or propagation of fish or game, or relative to the deposit of débris into the streams of the state, or relative to the obstruction of navigation; and provided, further, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable by said board at any time or subject to suspension that said board shall determine, as a fact, that the substance discharged or deposited by virtue thereof causes a contamination or pollution that endangers the lives or health of human beings or animals.

Board
may grant petition.

Permit-revocable.

Board may inspect.

The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, enclosures and structures for the purpose of making, and therein or thereon to make, examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated.

Report to board.

Whenever any petitioner shall be granted any permit by said board and under the provisions of this act, such petitioner, shall furnish to said board, upon demand, a complete report upon the condition and operation of the system, plant, or works, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit.

Who may enjoin city, etc., discharging sewage in streams.

Any county, city and county, city, town, village, district, community, institution, person, firm or corporation, who shall deposit, discharge or continue to deposit or discharge, into any stream, river, lake, or tributary thereof, or into any other waters, used or intended to be used for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes, or into or upon any place the surface or subterranean drainage from which may run or percolate into any such stream, river, lake, tributary or other waters, any sewage, sewage effluent or other substance by the terms of section 2 of this act forbidden so to be deposited or discharged, without having an unrevoked permit so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction at the suit of any person or municipal corporation whose supply of water for human or animal consumption or for domestic purposes is taken from such stream, river, or other running water at a point below the place of such discharge or deposit, or from such lake, or at the suit of the State of California, or at the suit of any county, or city and county, any of the residents of which shall take water from such stream, river or other running water at a point below the place of such discharge or deposit, or from such lake or reservoir, or at the suit of the state board of health.

Penalty.

Anything done, maintained, or suffered, in violation of any of the provisions of section 2 or section 3 of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance dangerous to health and may be summarily abated as such by any health officer, sanitary inspector, the state board of health or its secretary, or any sheriff, constable or police officer, and it shall be the duty of all such officers immediately to abate the same.

SEC. 3. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Rules in cases of quarantine.

Section 13. The following rules and requirements shall be strictly observed in all cases of quarantine subject, however, to such changes and modifications as the state board of health, or its secretary, may otherwise require and direct.

Rule 1. Every county, city and county, city, or town board of health, or chief executive health officer thereof, upon receiving information of the existence of such diseases within its or his jurisdiction, must immediately quarantine each and every case of Asiatic cholera, yellow fever, typhus fever, plague, smallpox, scarlet fever, diphtheria, (and such other contagious or infectious diseases), as may from time to time be declared quarantinable, and in addition to their local rules and regulations shall follow all general and special rules, regulations, and orders of the state board of health, or its secretary.

Diseases
quarantinable.

Said health boards or officers must, within twenty-four hours after quarantine, report fully, in writing, to the secretary of the state board of health, all of such cases quarantined; provided, however, that said health officers shall immediately report by telegraph to said secretary of the state board of health every case discovered or known of plague, Asiatic cholera, yellow fever or typhus fever, and after investigation and within twenty-four hours shall report the cause, source and extent of contagion and infection, and all acts done and measures adopted in each case, and shall make such further reports as the secretary of the state board of health may require.

Report on quarantined cases.

Plague.

Rule 2. In addition to the list of quarantinable diseases given in rule 1 of this section the following is a partial list of contagious, infectious and communicable diseases, all of which, though not required to be quarantined, must be promptly reported in writing to the state board of health, or its secretary, by the said local health boards or chief executive health officers, viz: chicken-pox, erysipelas, pneumonia, uncinariasis or hookworm, epidemic cerebro-spinal meningitis, trachoma, whooping-cough, mumps, dengue, dysentery, tuberculosis, typhoid fever, tetanus, malaria, leprosy, measles, German measles, glanders and anthrax affecting human beings, rabies, pellagra, beri-beri, syphilis, gonococcus infection, and poliomyelitis, and any disease which appears to have become epidemic. The diseases last above enumerated, and such others as from time to time may be added thereto by the state board of health or its secretary, shall be quarantined whenever in the opinion of the state board of health or its secretary such action is necessary to protect the public health, and shall be isolated whenever in the opinion of the state board of health, its secretary, or the local board of health or health officer, isolation is necessary to protect the public health. This list can be changed at any time by the state board of health or its secretary.

Other diseases to be reported

May be quarantined

Rule 3. When any building, house, structure, or part thereof, or tent or other place, is quarantined because of a contagious, infectious or communicable disease, said local health boards or chief executive health officer shall cause to be firmly fastened, in the most conspicuous place upon such house, building, tent, or other place, a placard or flag, upon which is printed the name of the disease, in plain and legible letters of at least two and one half inches in length. This placard or flag must not be removed by any person except the health officer or his deputy, and in no case until the premises have been thoroughly disinfected.

Quarantine placard or flag.

Disinfection of quarantined house, etc.

Rule 4. When persons quarantined in a house, building, structure, tent, or other place have recovered from the disease for which the quarantine is established, or when the quarantine is for exposure to a contagious, infectious or communicable disease, and the period of incubation designated has elapsed, the quarantine shall not be raised by order of the local board of health or local health officer until every exposed room, together with all bedding, clothing, and all other personal property contained therein, has been thoroughly disinfected, or if necessary, such personal property may be destroyed, by or under the direction of the health officer or his deputy; and until all persons quarantined shall have taken a thorough antiseptic bath and put on clothing free from contagion.

All persons to obey rules.

Rule 5. Whenever quarantine is established by any local board of health or health officer to prevent the spread of any contagious, infectious, or communicable disease, it shall be the duty of all persons to obey the rules, orders and regulations of such health board or health officer.

Milk bottles not to be removed.

Rule 6. No milkman shall take away milk bottles or other receptacles for milk from any building, house, structure, tent, or other place, in which a contagious, infectious or communicable disease exists or has existed, nor from any place within any quarantined district, nor at any time after such quarantine has been removed, unless with the written permission of the local health officer, and after such milk bottles or receptacles have been disinfected and cleaned to the satisfaction of such officer.

When unlawful for milkman to sell milk.

Rule 7. Whenever there exists in the house of any milkman, milk dealer or milk distributor, any case of cholera, typhus fever, plague, scarlet fever, diphtheria, membranous croup, leprosy, anthrax, glanders, cerebro-spinal meningitis, whooping-cough, typhoid fever, dysentery, trachoma or tetanus, then it shall be unlawful for such milkman, milk dealer, or milk distributor, to continue the sale or distribution of milk until the local board of health or chief executive health officer has appointed at the expense of the county where such milkman, dealer or distributor lives, a person to superintend his cows, dairy or other place where such milk is sold, or from which it is delivered or distributed, and all cows, bottles, vessels and milk utensils. Such person, so appointed by the local board of health, or chief executive officer, shall strictly require that all persons attending to the cows, dairy, sheds, milk cans, bottles, vessels, and milk utensils, shall not have access to the infected house, nor any communication with the persons who reside in such infected house, except with the permission and under the inspection of the local health officer.

Persons in quarantined house may not go beyond lot.

Rule 8. Every person subject to quarantine, residing or being in a quarantined building, house, structure or tent, shall not go beyond the lot upon which such building, house, structure or tent is situated, nor put himself in immediate communication with any person not subject to quarantine, other than the health officer and physician. The local board of health or local chief executive health officer maintaining a quarantine shall appoint, or cause to be appointed, a suitable person to perform necessary outside services for the necessary wants of the persons quarantined. Such person so appointed shall never enter the building, house, structure, or tent nor come in personal contact with any of the persons quarantined, but shall leave at the entrance of the building, house, structure or tent, or at such other place as may be designated by the health officer or deputy, all articles which he may have brought, and he shall strictly observe the orders of the local health officer. Out-side service.

SEC. 4. Section 21 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 21. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act, whether acting for himself, or as the agent or servant of another person, or of a firm, company or corporation, or as an officer, agent, employee or representative of any municipal corporation, or of the state, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for a term of not more than ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Each day that in violation of any provision of this act shall continue, and each day that any thing forbidden by the terms hereof to be erected, constructed, maintained, operated or permitted, shall continue to exist, or be maintained, operated or permitted, shall constitute a separate offense. Penalty.

CHAPTER 340.

An act to add a new article to chapter III, title I, part III, of the Political Code to be designated article XX providing for the management and control of the capitol building and grounds; providing for the appointment of a superintendent of the capitol building and grounds, his assistants and employes; defining their powers and duties and fixing their compensations; repealing sections 425 and 426 of the Political Code, relating to the appointees of the board of capitol commissioners, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new article to be designated article XX is hereby added to chapter III, title I, part III, of the Political Code, to read as follows:

ARTICLE XX.

trician at a monthly salary of one hundred and fifty dollars; two elevator attendants at a monthly salary of ninety dollars each, and two telephone exchange operators at a monthly salary of sixty dollars each. He may also appoint one telephone exchange operator at a monthly salary of sixty dollars to serve two months each year while the legislature is not in session. The salaries of all such appointees shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers.

Salaries, how paid.

719. The superintendent may employ such competent assistant gardeners at a salary of one hundred dollars per month and such laborers, porters and other help for the proper conduct of the capitol and grounds at three dollars per diem, as may be deemed necessary by the superintendent and the board of examiners, which wages shall be paid only from money appropriated for such purpose. Such appointees shall have the powers of peace officers.

Assistant gardeners and laborers.

SEC. 2. Sections 425 and 426 of the Political Code relating to the appointees of the board of capitol commissioners and all acts and parts of acts in conflict with or inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed.

Secs. 425
repealed

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 341.

An act to amend sections 409, 412, 413, 414, 415 and 416 of the Political Code and to repeal sections 415a, 417, 418, 419, 419a, 420, 421, 422½ and 423 of said code, relating to the duties and salaries of the secretary of state and his appointees and their duties and salaries.

[Approved April 1, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 409 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

409. The secretary of state, for services performed in his office, must charge and collect the following fees:

CHAPTER 342.

An act to provide for direct legislation, including initiative, referendum, and recall by electors in counties, by adding two new sections to the Political Code to be numbered section 4058 and section 4021a, respectively.

[Approved April 8, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered section 4058 and to read as follows:

4058. Ordinances may also be enacted by and for any county of the state in the manner following. Any proposed ordinance may be submitted to the board of supervisors by a petition filed with the county clerk after being signed by registered electors of the county equal in number to the percentages hereinafter required. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the precinct, and if within a town having named streets and numbered houses, the street and number. Each such separate paper shall have attached thereto an affidavit made by a citizen of the county over the age of eighteen years, and sworn to before an officer competent to administer oaths, stating that the affiant circulated that particular paper and saw written the signatures appended thereto; that each is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereunto subscribed, and that according to the best information and belief of the affiant each is the genuine signature of a registered elector of the county. Within ten days from the date of filing such petition the county clerk shall examine and from the records of registration ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the clerk's certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be supplemented within ten days from the date of such certificate by the filing of additional papers duplicates of the original petition except as to the names signed. The clerk shall, within ten days after such supplementing papers are filed, make like examination of the supplementing petition, and if his certificate shall show that all the names to such petition, including the supplemental one, are still insufficient, the petition shall be returned to the person filing the same, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the board of supervisors at its next regular session. If the petition accompanying the proposed ordinance be signed by electors equal in number to twenty per cent of the entire vote cast within such county for all candidates for the lower house of the County ordinances may be enacted on petition.

If petition contains 20 per cent of electors.

United States congress at the last preceding general election at which congressmen were voted for, and contains a request that such ordinance be submitted forthwith to a vote of the people at a special election, then the board of supervisors shall either:

Supervisors may pass.

(a) Pass such ordinance without alteration at the regular session at which it is presented and within ten days after it is presented; or,

May call
election.

(b) Forthwith the supervisors shall proceed to call a special election at which such ordinance, without alteration, shall be submitted to a vote of the people of the county.

If petition contains less than 20 per cent.

If the petition be signed by electors equal in number to at least ten per cent, but less than twenty per cent of the entire vote cast for all candidates for congress at the last preceding election when candidates for congress were voted for, then such ordinance, without alteration, shall be submitted by the board of supervisors to a vote of the people at the next general election in which candidates for congress are to be voted for.

Ballots.

The ballots used when voting upon said proposed ordinances shall contain the words "For the Ordinance" (stating the general nature of the proposed ordinance) and "Against the Ordinance" (stating the general nature of the proposed ordinance). If a majority of the qualified electors voting on said proposed ordinance shall vote in favor thereof, such ordinance shall thereupon become a valid and binding ordinance of the county and be considered as adopted upon the date that the vote is canvassed and declared by the board of supervisors and go into effect ten days thereafter.

If majority favor.

Ordinance may be repealed only by vote of people.

Such ordinance shall have the same force and effect as one passed by the board of supervisors, except that no ordinance proposed by petition as in this section provided, and thereafter passed either by the vote of the board of supervisors without submission to a vote of the people or voted upon and adopted by the people, shall be repealed or amended except by a vote of the people, unless provision otherwise be made in the ordinance itself. Any number of proposed ordinances may be voted upon at the same election in accordance with the provisions of this section; provided, that there shall not be held under this section more than one special election in any period of six months.

Number that may be voted on.

Written argument of petitioners.

If any measure be submitted upon an initiative petition of registered voters, as hereinbefore provided, the persons filing said petition shall have the right, if they so choose, to present and file therewith a written argument in support thereof not exceeding three hundred words in length, which argument shall be printed upon the sample ballot issued for said election. Upon the same ballot shall also be printed any argument of not exceeding three hundred words in length in opposition thereto which may be prepared by the board of supervisors. If the provisions of two or more ordinances adopted at the same election conflict, then the ordinance receiving the highest number of affirmative votes shall control.

If ordi-
conflict.

The board of supervisors may submit to the people, without a petition therefor, a proposition for the repeal of any adopted ordinance or for amendments thereto or for the enactment of any new ordinance to be voted upon at any succeeding general or special election and if such proposition so submitted receive a majority of the votes cast thereon at such election, such ordinance shall be repealed or amended accordingly.

Proposition to repeal.

Whenever any ordinance or proposition is required by this section to be submitted to the voters of a county at any election the county clerk shall cause the ordinance or proposition to be printed and he shall mail a printed copy thereof, enclosed in an envelope with a sample ballot, to each voter, at least ten days prior to the election.

Copy of ordinance to be mailed to voters.

The enacting clause of an ordinance passed by the vote of the electors shall be substantially in the following form: "The people of the county of do ordain as follows:"

Enacting clause.

When a special election is to be called under the terms of this section it shall be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the date of the presentation of the proposed ordinance to the board of supervisors, and shall be held as nearly as may be in accordance with the election laws of the state; provided, however, that, to avoid holding more than one such election within any six months, the date for holding such special election may be fixed later than such sixty days, but at as early a date as practicable after the expiration of such six months; provided, further, that when under any of the terms of this statute fixing the time within which a special election shall be held it is made possible to hold the same within three months prior to a general election, the board of supervisors may, in its discretion, submit the proposed ordinance at such general election instead of at a special election.

election.

No ordinance passed by the board of supervisors, except when otherwise specially required by the laws of the state, and except an ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, which contains a statement of its urgency and is passed by a four-fifths vote of the board, and no ordinance granting a franchise shall go into effect before thirty days from its final passage; and if, during said thirty days, a petition signed by qualified voters of the county equal to twenty per cent of the entire vote cast therein for all candidates for the lower house of the United States congress at the last preceding general election, protesting against the passage of such ordinance, be presented to the board, the same shall thereupon be suspended from going into operation, and it shall be the duty of the board to reconsider such ordinance. If said board shall thereupon not entirely repeal said ordinance, it shall submit the same to a vote of the electors either at a general election or a special election to be called for the purpose, and such ordinance shall not go into effect or become operative unless a majority of the voters voting upon the same shall vote in favor thereof. Such petitions and the provisions of the law relative to the duty of the clerk in regard thereto and the manner of voting thereon, shall conform to the rules provided herein for the initiation of legislation by the electors.

Sec. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered section 4021*a*, and to read as follows:

4021*a*. The holder of any elective office of any county may be removed or recalled at any time by the electors; provided, he has held his office at least six months. The procedure to effect such removal or recall shall be as follows: A petition demanding the election of a successor to the person sought to be removed shall be filed with the county clerk, which petition shall be signed by registered voters equal in number to at least twenty per cent of the entire vote cast for all candidates for the lower house of the United States congress in said county at the last preceding general election, and shall contain a statement of the grounds on which the removal or recall is sought, which statement is intended solely for the information of the voters. Any insufficiency of form or substance in such statement shall in no wise affect the validity of the election and proceedings held thereunder. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper, but each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the street and number, if any. One of the signers of each such paper shall make oath before an officer competent to administer an oath that the statements therein made are true as he believes, and that each signature to the paper appended is the genuine signature of the person whose name it purports to be. Within ten days from the date of filing such petition, the clerk shall examine and from the records of registration ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified voters, and he shall attach to said petition his certificate showing the result of said examination. If by the clerk's certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be amended within ten days from the date of said certificate. The clerk shall, within ten days after such amendment, make like examination of the amended petition and if his certificate shall show the same to be insufficient, it shall be returned to the person filing the same, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the clerk shall submit the same to the board of supervisors without delay, whereupon the board shall forthwith cause a special election to be held within not less than thirty-five nor more than forty days after the date of the order calling such election, to determine whether the voters will recall such officer; provided, that if a general election is to occur within sixty days, the board may in its discretion postpone the holding of such election to such general election or submit such recall election at any such general election occurring not less than thirty-five days after such order. If a vacancy occur in said office after a recall petition is filed, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this section provided. One petition is sufficient to propose the removal and election of one or more elective officials. One election is competent for the removal and election of one or more elective officials.

Nominations for any office under such recall election shall be made in the manner prescribed by section 1188 of this code. Upon the sample ballot there shall be printed in not more than two hundred words the reasons set forth in the recall petition for demanding the recall of the officer, and upon the same ballot in not more than two hundred words the officer may justify his course in office.

Reasons for recall.

There shall be printed on the recall ballot, as to every officer whose recall is to be voted on thereat, the following question: "Shall (name of person against whom the recall petition is filed) be recalled from the office of (title of the office)?" following which question shall be the words "Yes" and "No" on separate lines, with a blank space at the right of each, in which the voter shall indicate, by stamping a cross (X), his vote for or against such recall. On such ballots, under each such question, there shall also be printed the names of those persons who have been nominated as candidates to succeed the person recalled, in case he shall be removed from office by said recall election; but no vote cast shall be counted for any candidate for said office unless the voter also voted on said question of the recall of the person sought to be recalled from said office. The name of the person against whom the petition is filed shall not appear on the ballot as a candidate for the office. If a majority of those voting on said question of the recall of any incumbent from office shall vote "No," said incumbent shall continue in said office. If a majority shall vote "Yes," said incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from such office, upon the qualification of his successor. The canvassers shall canvass all votes for candidates for said office and declare the result in like manner as in a regular election. If the vote at any such recall election shall recall the officer, then the candidate who has received the highest number of votes for the office shall be thereby declared elected for the remainder of the term. In case the person who received the highest number of votes shall fail to qualify within ten days after receiving the certificate of election, the office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled according to law.

CHAPTER 343.

An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment, and disposition, of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, and repealing an act entitled "An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment and disposition of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town," approved March 3, 1909.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Money in sinking funds may be invested in bonds.

SECTION 1. Any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, which has now or hereafter shall have any moneys in any sinking fund established for the purpose of providing for the payment of the principal or interest of any bonded or other indebtedness, or for any other purpose, is hereby authorized to invest any such moneys temporarily in any bonds already issued or hereafter issued of such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, respectively, or of the United States or the State of California, or of any other county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or of any school district within the state, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of bonds, or part thereof, at the original sale of such bonds, or by the purchase of such bonds after they have been so issued. Any bonds thus purchased and held in any such sinking fund may, from time to time, be sold and the proceeds temporarily reinvested in bonds, as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held in any sinking fund shall, from time to time, be made in season, so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the sinking fund was created.

SEC. 2. The functions and duties in this act authorized shall be performed by the legislative or governing body of the county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or under its authority.

SEC. 3. An act entitled "An act authorizing the investment and reinvestment and disposition of any moneys in any sinking fund of any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town," approved March 3, 1909, is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 344.

An act to amend section 619 of the Civil Code of the State of California, relating to the incorporation of colleges and seminaries of learning.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred and forty-nine of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

649. Any number of persons who may desire to establish a college or seminary of learning may incorporate themselves as provided in this part, except that in lieu of the requirements of section two hundred ninety, the articles of incorporation shall contain:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The purpose for which it is organized.
3. The place where the college or seminary is to be conducted.
4. The number of its trustees, which shall not be less than five nor more than thirty and the names and residences of the trustees. The term for which the trustees named and their successors are to hold office may also be stated. If it is desired that the trustees, or any portion of them, shall belong to any organization, society, or church, such limitation shall be stated.
5. If said corporation is to have capital stock, the amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided, and the amount actually subscribed and by whom.

CHAPTER 345.

An act to amend sections one, two, fourteen and fifteen of an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 27, 1905.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section one of an act entitled "An act to provide for the lighting of public streets, lanes, alleys, courts and places in municipalities, and for the assessment of the costs and expenses thereof upon the property benefited thereby," approved March 21, 1905, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Cities have power to install street lights.

Section 1. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality in the state shall have full power and authority to order poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits and lamps, or any of said appliances, or any other suitable and necessary appliances, to be installed in and along the whole or any part of one or more public streets, lanes, alleys, courts or places in such municipality, for the purpose of lighting the same; also to acquire the use of poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits and lamps, or any of said appliances, located or installed in and along the whole or any part of one or more public streets, lanes, alleys, courts or places in such municipality, for the purpose of lighting the same; also to order any such appliances, so installed or otherwise provided under this act, to be maintained; and also to order gas, electric current, or other illuminating agent, to be furnished for such lighting, in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter described.

SEC. 2. Section two of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Resolution of intention.

Section 2. Before ordering any improvement to be made, which is authorized by section one of this act, the city council shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention to do so, briefly describing the proposed improvement, which may include the whole or any part of one or more streets, lanes, alleys, courts or places, and specifying the exterior boundaries of the district to be benefited by said improvement, and to be assessed to pay the cost and expenses thereof, and to be known as the assessment district; provided, that the city council may, in its discretion, order, in said resolution of intention, that a certain portion or percentage of the cost and expenses of said improvement, the amount of which portion or percentage shall be specified in said resolution, shall be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, from such fund as the city council may designate. Said proposed improvement may include any or all of the different kinds of work mentioned in section 1 of this act; provided, however, that the maintenance of appliances or the furnishing of gas, electric current or other illuminating agent, shall be for a period stated in the resolution of intention, but not exceeding two years. The city council shall, also, in the same resolution, refer the proposed improvement to the city engineer, if there be one, and if not, to some competent person employed by the municipality for the purpose and named in said resolution, and direct him to make and file with the clerk of the city council a report, in writing, presenting the following:

Portion of costs may be paid from city treasury.

Report of city engineer.

Plans.

1. Plans and specifications for the work required in order to make said improvements;

Cost.

2. An estimate of said improvement and of the incidental expenses in connection therewith;

Diagram.

3. A diagram showing the district above referred to, and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective subdivisions of the land within said district, each of which subdivisions shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram.

4. A proposed assessment of the total amount of the costs and expenses of the proposed improvement upon the several subdivisions of land in said district in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by such subdivisions, respectively, from said improvement; provided, that whenever any portion or percentage of the cost and expenses of such improvement is ordered to be paid out of the treasury of the municipality, as hereinabove provided, the amount of such portion or percentage shall first be deducted from the total estimated cost and expenses of such improvement, and the assessment upon property, proposed in said report, shall include only the remainder of said estimated cost and expenses. Said assessment shall refer to such subdivisions upon said diagram by the respective red ink numbers thereof, and shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown. No mistake in the name of the owner of any parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

In any municipality having a board of public works or other board or commission in charge of street lighting, created by charter or by law, the proposed improvement shall be referred to said board or commission and the report provided for herein shall be made by said board or commission.

SEC. 3. Section fourteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 14. At any time after the funds for the work, or any part of the work, shall be in the hands of said treasurer, the city council may let the contract or contracts for such work, or the respective parts thereof. Every such contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder after notice published by two insertions in some newspaper published in such municipality, and designated by the city council for that purpose, or if there be no such newspaper, then by such posting as the city council may provide. Every bid shall be accompanied by a certified check, amounting to ten per cent of the bid, payable to the order of the clerk of said city council, and the same shall be forfeited to the municipality in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the municipality for the work, the faithful performance of which shall be secured by an undertaking in such penal sum as the city council shall require, with sureties satisfactory to said council. The contract must provide that the work shall be done, and the work must be done, strictly in accordance with the plans and specifications contained in the report provided for in sections 2 and 3 of this act. The work must be done under the supervision of the board, officer or person by whom the report provided for in section 2 of this act was made, and no work shall be paid for until it has been accepted by said board, officer or person. If the contractor abandons the work, or fails to proceed with the same as rapidly as required by his contract, the said city council may relet the work in the same manner as in the case of the first letting thereof, and retain the amount of the cost of the same, and of any expense incidental to the reletting out of any funds due, or to become due, to the contractor, and also hold him and his sureties responsible for such cost and expense, and for any damages resulting from such abandonment or failure upon his bond; provided, however, that the city council, in its discretion, may, at any time within ten days after the award of any contract, as above provided, or at any time within ten days after the time fixed for the opening of bids, if no bids have been received, order by resolution adopted by a vote of two thirds of all its members, that said proposed contract be not made, and that the municipality itself execute the work embraced therein, in accordance with the plans and specifications adopted for such work, and employ the labor, and provide the material, appliances, supplies and illuminating agent necessary therefor; and the cost and expenses of such work shall be paid out of the aforesaid funds; and provided, further, that the amount appropriated and used from said funds for said purpose shall not exceed the amount of the bid upon which the award of contract aforesaid was made, or, if no bids have been received and the work is to be executed by the municipality itself as herein provided, such cost and expense shall not exceed the amount of the estimate thereof provided for in section two of this act; and if such cost and expense shall exceed the amount of said bid, or of said estimate in case no bids are received, then such excess shall be met out of any moneys in the general fund in the treasury of said city.

City may do work.

Costs may not exceed bid.

SEC. 4. Section fifteen of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Supplemental assessment.

Section 15. In case the first assessment for any improvement provided for in this act proves insufficient, a supplemental assessment may be made to raise the deficit, in the same manner as nearly as may be, as the first assessment, except that protests may only be made against such supplemental assessment, and so on until sufficient money shall have been realized to pay for such improvement.

SEC. 5. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 346.

An act to amend section 758 of the Political Code, relating to the employment and compensation of the officers of the district courts of appeal.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 758 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

758. Each of the three courts of appeal may employ and appoint the following officers of their respective courts, whose salaries shall be as follows: one clerk at twenty-seven hundred dollars per annum; one deputy clerk at two thousand dollars per annum; one phonographic reporter, as provided in section seven hundred and fifty-nine, and one bailiff, at sixteen hundred dollars per annum.

CHAPTER 347.

An act to amend section 472 and section 475 of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code" approved March 12, 1872, relating to the duties of the attorney general, providing for an assistant, a chief deputy, deputies, clerks, phonographic reporter and stenographers in the attorney general's office and fixing their salaries.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 472 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

472. The attorney general may appoint one assistant, one chief deputy and five additional deputies, who shall be civil executive officers. The annual salary of the assistant shall be four thousand dollars; the annual salary of the chief deputy shall be four thousand dollars; the annual salary of two of such additional deputies shall be thirty-three hundred dollars each, and the annual salary of three of such additional deputies shall be three thousand dollars each. Said salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers. The attorney general shall not employ special counsel in any case except those provided in section four hundred and seventy-four of the Political Code. The attorney general shall have charge, as attorney, of all legal matters in which the state is in any wise interested, except the business of the regents of the University of California and of the state harbor commissioners, and such other boards or officers as are now by law authorized to employ attorneys, and no board, officer or officers, or employee of the state, except said regents and said harbor commissioners and such other boards and officers as are now by law authorized to employ attorneys, shall employ any attorney other than the attorney general, or one of his assistants or deputies, in any matter in which the state is interested; nor shall any money be drawn out of the treasury, or out of any moneys appropriated out of the treasury, or out of any special or contingent fund under the control of any board, officer or officers, or employee for the pay of any legal services rendered after the passage of this act, the provisions of any existing statute to the contrary notwithstanding, excepting as above provided; provided, that whenever a district attorney in any county of this state shall, for any reason, become disqualified from conducting any criminal prosecution within such county, the attorney general may employ special counsel to conduct such prosecution, and the attorney's fee in such case shall be a legal charge against the state; provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent or deny the right of any board, officer, or officers or employee of the state to employ or engage counsel in any matter of the state, after first having obtained the written consent so to do of the attorney general.

Whenever district attorney is disqualified.

SEC. 2. Section 475 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Clerks, reporter and stenographers of attorney general.

475. The attorney general may appoint two clerks, one phonographic reporter and four stenographers for his office. The annual salary of each of said clerks and of the phonographic reporter shall be eighteen hundred dollars; the annual salary of each of such stenographers shall be twelve hundred dollars. Said salaries shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other state officers are paid. The clerk, the phonographic reporter and the stenographers shall be civil executive officers.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 348.

An act amending section ten of an act entitled, "An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor," approved March 19, 1907.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section ten of an act entitled "An act providing for the laying out, constructing, straightening, improvement and repair of main public highways in any county, providing for the voting, issuing, and selling of county bonds and the acceptance of donations to pay for such work and improvements, providing for a highway commission to have charge of such work and improvements, and authorizing cities and towns to improve the portions of such highways within their corporate limits and to issue and sell bonds therefor," approved March 19, 1907, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 10. All improvements constructed under this act shall be of a durable and lasting character; provided, that said commission shall have the power to determine how said highways shall be improved and constructed, and the character of the materials to be used in the improvement and construction thereof. If said commission shall determine that said highways, or any of them, shall be macadamized or paved, then the macadamized or paved portion of the roadbed constructed or any highway or portion thereof improved under this act, shall not exceed sixteen feet in width, unless donations are made to the highway commission for that purpose, in which case such donations may be used to defray the increased cost of constructing such macadamized or paved roadbed more than sixteen feet wide on any part of such highway specified by the donors; but no part of the proceeds of any bond issue shall be expended for such purpose. No railroad, electric road, or street railroad shall be constructed along or upon any highway, or any portion thereof, improved under the provision of this act, except for crossings duly authorized by the board of supervisors, nor shall any board of supervisors have power to grant any franchise for the construction of any railroad, electric road, or street railroad along or upon any such highway or portion thereof, except for crossings; provided, that when any such highway or portion thereof shall, after the improvement of the same under the provisions of this act, be included within the boundaries of any incorporated city, city and county or town, the foregoing provisions of this section shall not prohibit the granting of any such franchise by the proper municipal authorities along, upon or across any such highway, or portion thereof so included within the boundaries of any such incorporated city, city and county, or town. Any such franchise shall be granted only upon the express condition, that the grantee thereof will pay to the county for the benefit of the general fund thereof, an amount equal to the cost of the improvement or construction of such portion of the roadbed or highway constructed or improved under the provisions of this act as shall be occupied by the track or tracks of such railroad, electric road or street railroad.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 349.

An act to repeal article XVIII of chapter III of title I of part III of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March 12, 1872, relating to the board of examiners, and to enact a new article XVIII of chapter III of title I of part III of said act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March 12, 1872, relating to and creating a state board of control and department of accounting therein: providing for the organization of such board; defining its powers and duties; prescribing the number and fixing the salaries of the members and employees thereof and of the department of accounting therein, and to include in such article XVIII, new sections to be known and numbered respectively as sections 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690 and 691.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article XVIII of chapter III of an act entitled "An act to establish a Political Code," approved March 12, 1872, is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. A new article XVIII of chapter III of title I, of part III, of said Political Code, consisting of thirty-eight sections, to be known and numbered respectively as sections 654, 655, 656, 657, 658, 659, 660, 661, 662, 663, 664, 665, 666, 667, 668, 669, 670, 671, 672, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 678, 679, 680, 681, 682, 683, 684, 685, 686, 687, 688, 689, 690 and 691, is hereby enacted to read as follows:

ARTICLE XVIII.

- 654. A state board of control is hereby created to consist of three members who shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at his pleasure. The governor shall designate the chairman of such board and shall fill vacancies occurring from any cause in the membership thereof. The members of such board shall not engage in any private business requiring their personal attention between the hours of nine o'clock A. M. and five o'clock P. M. of each day excepting holidays during their term of office. Before entering upon the discharge of his duties each member of said board shall execute an official bond to the State of California in the penal sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, conditioned on the faithful discharge of his duty according to law and shall take the oath of office as prescribed by this code for state officers. The members of such board shall be executive officers and each shall be authorized to administer oaths. The board shall appoint a secretary, three clerks and two stenographers. Such appointees shall be civil executive officers. The board may also appoint a messenger.
- 655. The members of the state board of control shall each receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum, which shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of state officers are paid. The secretary shall receive a salary of twenty-four hundred dollars per annum, the clerks a salary of eighteen hundred dollars per annum each, the two stenographers fifteen hundred dollars per annum each, and the messenger nine hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of all such appointees shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of state officers.
- 656. The said board shall be in session during office hours whenever a majority of the members thereof are present at its offices in the state capitol and may meet at other places in the state at such time as a majority of the board may determine.
- 657. The board must keep a record of all its proceedings and any member may cause his dissent to the action of the majority upon any matter to be entered upon such record.
- 658. The board or a majority thereof, may elect one of its members vice-chairman, and such officer shall have and exercise all the authority of the chairman in the absence of the latter. The board may also establish rules and regulations not inconsistent with law for its government. All such rules and regulations must be recorded in the minutes of the board.
- 659. The chairman may issue subpoenas and compel the attendance of witnesses before the board or any member thereof, in the same manner that any court in this state may; and whenever the testimony of any witness upon any matter pending before it is material, the chairman must cause the attendance of the witness before such board, or a member thereof, to testify concerning such matter, and the board may make a reasonable allowance therefor, not exceeding the fees of witnesses in civil cases, which must be paid out of the appropriation for the contingent expenses of the board, but in no instance can an allowance be made in favor of a witness who appears in behalf of a claimant.

Depositions.

Each member of the board may take depositions to be used before it.

Examining books of state institutions.

660. It shall be the duty of one or more members of the board as may be designated by the board, or as requested by the governor, to examine and expert, or cause to be examined and experted, the books of the different state prisons, reformatories, state hospitals and other institutions, commissions, bureaus and officers of the state, at least once in each year, and as often as may be deemed necessary. The officers of said prisons, reformatories, hospitals and other institutions, boards, commissions and bureaus and the several officers of the state, must permit such examination and experting and must upon demand produce without unnecessary delay all books, contracts and papers in their respective offices, and must furnish upon demand the information touching books, papers and contracts and other matters pertaining to their respective offices.

Visiting state institutions.

661. It shall be the duty of one or more members of the board as may be designated by such board or as may be requested by the governor to visit from time to time every public institution maintained in whole, or in part, by state appropriations to ascertain the conditions of the same, and their wants and requirements, and also to visit public buildings in course of construction to ascertain if all the provisions of law in relation to such construction and of the contracts therefor are being faithfully executed.

Reports of examinations.

662. The board upon completion of such examination must make a report in duplicate thereon and file one with the governor, and one in the office of such board.

Claims against state.

663. Every claim against the state for which an appropriation has been made or for which a state fund is available, must be presented to the board for its scrutiny before being paid. The board may for cause postpone action upon a claim for not exceeding one month.

Personal claim against state.

664. Any person having a claim against the state for which an appropriation has been made, may present the same to the board in the form of an account or petition and the secretary of the board must date, number, and file such claim. The board must allow or reject the same within thirty days.

Majority to allow claim.

The concurrence of two members of the board shall be required to approve and allow any claim against the state in whole or in part.

Approved claims to controller.

665. If the board approve such claim the members approving the same must over their signatures endorse thereon the following: "Approved for the sum of dollars." and the secretary shall immediately transmit the same to the office of the state controller for his action thereon and if such action is favorable, he shall draw his warrant for the amount so approved in favor of the claimant or his assign; provided, that the controller if he objects thereto for any reason may return the same to the secretary of said board and said claim shall not again be presented to the controller except with the unanimous approval of the board.

666. If the board, or a majority thereof, disapprove any claim, the same shall be filed with the records of the board with a statement showing such disapproval and the reasons therefor. Disapproved claims.

667. If no appropriation has been made, or if no fund is available for the payment of any claim against the state, the settlement of which is provided by law, or if an appropriation or fund has been exhausted, such claim must be presented to the board who shall audit the same and if approved by at least a majority vote thereof it shall, with the sanction of the governor, be transmitted to the legislature with a brief statement of the reasons for such approval. Claims for which no appropriation was made.

668. The board shall cause to be printed for distribution among all state officers and for the use of any one desiring to present a claim against the state, a set of rules governing the presentation and audit of demands against the state funds and appropriations. Rules for audit of claims.

669. Any person having a claim against the state, the settlement of which is not otherwise provided for by law, must present the same to the board at least four months before the meeting of the legislature, accompanied by a statement showing the facts constituting the claim, verified in the same manner as complaints in civil actions. Before finally passing upon any such claim, notice of the time and place of hearing must be mailed to the claimant at least fifteen days prior to the date set for final action. At the time designated the board must proceed to examine and adjust such claims. It may hear evidence in support of or against them and, with the sanction of the governor, report to the legislature such facts and recommendations concerning them as may be proper. In making such recommendations the board may state and use any official or personal knowledge which any member thereof may have touching such claims. Claims to be presented at least four months before legislature meet.

670. The board must make up its report and recommendations concerning such matters as the law requires of it at least thirty days before the meeting of the legislature. The board must give to the state controller for his use at such time as he shall demand a statement showing all its recommendations for appropriations by the legislature. Recommendation to legislature.

671. The board must not entertain, for the second time, a demand against the state once rejected by it or by the legislature unless such facts are presented to the board as in suits between individuals would furnish sufficient ground for granting a new trial. Any person interested, who is aggrieved by the disapproval of a claim by the board, may appeal from the decision to the legislature of the state, by filing with the board a notice thereof, and upon the receipt of such notice the board Report to must transmit the demand and all the papers accompanying the same, with a statement of the evidence taken before it, to the legislature.

Controller may draw warrant only after approval by board.

672. The controller must not draw his warrant for any claim unless it has been approved by the state board of control, and when hereafter the controller is directed to draw his warrant for any purpose, this direction must be construed as subject to the provisions of this section, unless the direction is accompanied by a special provision exempting it from the operation of this section.

Board may notify treasurer not to pay warrant.

673. Whenever the board has reason to believe that the controller has drawn or is about to draw his warrant without authority of law, or for a larger amount than the state actually owes, the board must notify the treasurer of state not to pay the warrant so drawn or to be drawn; and thereupon the treasurer is prohibited from paying the warrant, whether already drawn or not, until he is otherwise directed by the legislature.

Legislative contingent funds exempt.

674. Claims upon the contingent fund of either house of the legislature and for official salaries, are exempted from the operation of the provisions of this article.

Monthly count of money in treasury.

675. The money in the state treasury must be counted by the state board of control at least once every month, without giving the treasurer any previous notice of the day or hour of counting; the board may at any counting place any sum in bags or boxes and mark and seal the same with a seal to be adopted and kept by it, and may, at any subsequent counting count each bag or box separately and credit at the value stamped thereon the contents of such bags or boxes as part of the money counted without making a detailed count of such contents. They shall count as cash all evidence of money belonging to the state upon deposit outside the state treasury that may be held by the treasurer in accordance with law and shall determine for themselves whether such evidence is sufficient according to law.

Publication of count.

After each count of money they must make and file with the secretary of state and cause to be published in some newspaper in the city of Sacramento, an affidavit showing:

1. The amount of money or credit that ought to be in the state treasury.

2. The amount and kind of money or credit actually therein.

Investment of school land funds.

676. Whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury the sum of ten thousand dollars as the proceeds of the sale of state school lands the board must invest the same in the bonds of this state, or in the bonds of the United States, or in the bonds of any county, permanent road district, city and county, city, town, or school district of this state; the investments to be made in such manner and on such terms as the board shall deem best for the fund. All such bonds purchased by the board under the provisions of this section must be delivered to the state treasurer who shall keep them as a special school fund deposit, and the interest upon such bonds when collected shall be placed by him to the credit of the state school fund.

677. Whenever and as often as there is in the state treasury to the credit of the estates of deceased persons' fund (in excess of the retention hereinafter provided for) the sum of ten thousand dollars or more, the board must invest the same in the bonds of this state, or in the bonds of the United States, or in the bonds of the several counties, city and county, permanent road districts, cities and towns, or school districts of this state; the investments to be made in such manner and on such terms as the board shall deem best for the fund. No investment shall be made which with the amounts previously invested shall reduce the uninvested portion of the fund below the amount of ten thousand dollars, and whenever a demand presented against said fund will reduce the amount of cash therein below the specific amount of ten thousand dollars, it shall be the duty of the board to sell such bonds belonging to said fund as they may deem proper, for the purpose of making good the cash retention of ten thousand dollars.

Money in estates of deceased persons' fund to be invested in bonds.

Bonds purchased by the board under the provisions of this section must be delivered to the state treasurer, who shall keep them as a portion of said estates of deceased persons fund, and the interest upon such bonds shall be paid into the state school fund and apportioned like other moneys employed for the support of common schools.

Bonds delivered to treasurer.

678. Whenever under the provisions of law the board of supervisors, trustees, common council, or other governing boards or bodies of any county, city or county, city or town, or school district of this state shall advertise the sale of bonds voted for any purpose, the clerk of such board, trustees, common council, or other governing board or body shall forthwith, by mail, postage prepaid, notify the state board of control and state treasurer, at the capitol, of such issuance and sale of bonds, and shall specify the purposes for which such bonds were voted, the amount of the total issue for each purpose, the denomination of each bond showing date of issuance and date of maturity, the rate of interest showing when and where payable, the assessed value of the property upon which such bonds are a lien and the total amount of other bonded indebtedness which is a lien upon said property.

City, county and district authorities to notify board and treasurer of bonds for sale.

679. At any sale of bonds by the state treasurer the board may become bidders and purchase bonds with the funds at their disposal, and the appropriate transfer of funds must be made by the controller and treasurer on the books of their offices. No purchase of bonds shall be completed by the board until the attorney general shall have approved the validity of the issue.

Board may purchase bonds to be sold by treasurer.

680. The board, with the consent of the governor, shall have power to authorize the creation of deficiencies in any appropriations of money made by law in cases of actual necessity and shall authorize the payment of deficiencies out of any money which may be appropriated for such purpose. No deficiency shall be authorized except upon the written authority, first obtained, of a majority of the members of the board and of the governor. Any indebtedness attempted to be created against the state in violation of these provisions shall be null and void, and shall not be allowed by the board of control or the controller.

Creation of deficiencies.

Sale of property belonging to state.

681. The board shall have power to authorize the sale or exchange of any property, except real estate, which belongs to the state and which, in their judgment, it shall be for the best interests of the state to sell or exchange.

Board to supervise financial policies of state.

682. The board shall have general powers of supervision over all matters concerning the financial and business policies of the state, and shall, whenever they deem it necessary or at the instance of the governor, institute or cause the institution of such investigations and proceedings as they may deem proper to conserve the rights and interests of the state.

Contracts for supplies to be submitted to board.

683. All contracts entered into by any state officer, board, commission, department, or bureau, for the purchase of supplies and materials, or either, shall before the same becomes effective be transmitted with all papers, estimates and recommendations concerning the same, to the state board of control for consideration. If a majority of such board approve the same, it shall, from the date of such approval, be in force and effect. No state officer, board, commission, department, or bureau, shall purchase supplies and materials, or either, in open market, unless permission has been given, upon a presentation of the necessity therefor, by the state board of control; provided, that to meet an emergency, supplies and materials of a perishable nature, in an amount not exceeding one hundred dollars in value, may be purchased by such state officer, board, commission, department, or bureau without the permission of the said board of control.

Permission to purchase supplies in open market.

Board of examiners shall mean board of control.

684. Whenever by the provisions of this code or any statute or law now in force or that may hereafter be enacted a duty is imposed or authority conferred upon the "state board of examiners" or the "board of examiners" and the members thereof such duty and authority are hereby imposed and conferred upon the state board of control and the members thereof, the same as though the title of the state-board of control had been specifically set forth and named therein. For the purposes of this chapter the terms "state board of examiners" and "board of examiners," respectively, shall be construed to mean and refer to the "state board of control," and wherever in this code or in any statute or law the term "member of the state board of examiners" or "member of the board of examiners" is used it shall be construed to mean and refer to a "member of the state board of control."

Reports of supplies purchased to be made to board.

685. Every state office, board, commission or department to whom is given by law the authority to make purchases of material or supplies, must, upon the request of the board of control, designate some certain officer or employee in such office, board, commission or department whose duty it shall be to make such reports at such times and in such manner to the board of control as said board shall from time to time require.

686. There is hereby established in connection with and under the supervision of the state board of control a department of public accounting. The board shall appoint a superintendent of accounts at an annual salary of three thousand dollars, and two assistants at an annual salary of twenty-seven hundred dollars each. Such appointees shall be skillful accountants and well versed in public accounting. They shall (each) execute a bond to the state in the sum of ten thousand dollars. They shall be civil executive officers and their salaries shall be paid in the same manner and at the same time as the salaries of state officers are paid. The board may also appoint such additional accountants as may be necessary to carry on the work of the department at salaries not to exceed for any one of such appointees the sum of twenty-four hundred dollars per annum. Such salaries, upon authority of the board, shall be paid out of money appropriated for the use of the department at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of state officers are paid. Such accountants shall be chosen from persons who have successfully taken an open competitive examination given along practical lines showing their fitness for the work required. They shall each execute to the state a bond in the sum of five thousand dollars. All of the appointees in this section are empowered to administer oaths in the furtherance of their official duties.

Department of public accounting.

Superintendent, etc.

687. The board of control, through the department of public accounting shall devise, install and supervise a uniform system of accounting and reporting for any and all officers or persons in this state permitted or charged by law with the keeping of public accounts and records, and the custody, control and handling of public money or its equivalent, to the end that there shall be obtained similar and comparable data for every public office and every public account of the same class, and that there shall be a general, systematic and uniform check upon the receipt and disbursement of all public revenue.

Uniform system of accounting for state officer.

688. With the sanction of the state board of control, the department of public accounting may require from all such officers or persons mentioned in the foregoing section financial and statistical reports, duly verified, covering the period of each fiscal year, which report shall be made out upon blank forms prescribed and adopted and furnished by the department of public accounting, and mailed to such officers or persons not less than sixty days before the time such reports are required to be filed with such department. When necessary, the department may require special reports from any such officers or persons, which must be filed with the department without delay.

Financial and statistical reports.

689. The department of public accounting is given full power to examine, through any of its officers or appointees, all accounts and all financial affairs of every officer or person mentioned in section 687 of this code, and shall have the right to enter into any public office or institution in this state and ex-

Department may examine books, etc., of public offices.

amine any books, papers or documents contained therein or belonging thereto for the purpose of making such examination, and shall have access, in the presence of the custodian thereof, or his deputy, to the cash drawers and cash in the custody of such officer or person and shall also have the right, during business hours, to examine the public accounts in any depository which has public funds in its custody.

Neglect to file reports,
etc.

690. Any officer or person who shall fail or neglect to make, verify and file with the department of public accounting any such report as is required by this article, or who shall fail or neglect to follow the directions of the department of public accounting in keeping the accounts of his office, or who shall refuse to permit the examination or access to the books, accounts, papers, documents or cash drawer or cash of his office to a representative of said department, or who shall in any way interfere with such examination, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars or shall be imprisoned in the county jail not less than thirty days, or both.

Biennial
report.

691. The board must biennially report to the legislature a history of its transactions and investigations.

CHAPTER 350.

An act to repeal section 364 of the Political Code relating to the board of examiners.

[Approved April 3, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 364 of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 351.

An act to provide for the regulation of the traffic in alcoholic liquors by establishing local option; authorizing the filing of petitions praying for elections to vote upon the question whether the sale of alcoholic liquors shall be licensed within the territory described in such petitions; providing for the calling and holding of such elections; making it the duty of the proper governing body to declare such territory to be no-license territory unless a majority of votes is cast in favor of license; providing that no licenses, permits or other authority to sell or distribute alcoholic liquors in no-license territory shall be granted; forfeiting and declaring void all such licenses or permits theretofore issued and in force; making it a penal offense to sell, give away or distribute alcoholic liquors within such territory, with certain exceptions; and providing penalties for such offenses.

[Approved April 4, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Qualified electors of any incorporated city or town, or of that portion of any supervisorial district not included within the boundaries of any incorporated city or town, numbering not less than twenty-five per cent of the number of votes cast for all candidates for governor in the territory described in the petition, at the last preceding election for governor of the state, may petition the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of such city or town or the board of supervisors of the county in which such supervisorial district is situated, to call an election to vote upon the question, whether the sale of alcoholic liquors shall be licensed in such city, town, or supervisorial district outside of incorporated cities and towns. Petition for election on local option question.

SEC. 2. Such petition shall be substantially in the following form: Form of petition.

To the (here insert the name of the legislative or governing body of the district: city council, board of trustees, board of supervisors, or whatever it may be) of the (here insert description and name of the city, town or county, as the case may be)

The undersigned, residents and qualified electors of the (here insert description and name of the city, town, or supervisorial district outside of incorporated cities and towns, as the case may be) respectfully petition that you cause to be submitted, in the manner provided by law, to the voters of this (here insert "city," "town," or "supervisorial district outside of incorporated cities and towns," as the case may be) the proposition, "Shall the sale of alcoholic liquors be licensed in this (here insert 'city,' 'town,' or 'supervisory district outside of incorporated cities and towns') ?”

Name of signer.	House number.	Street.	Post office.	Date of signing.	Precinct.
-----------------	---------------	---------	--------------	------------------	-----------

Petitioner's signature.

SEC. 3. Each petitioner shall, in addition to signing his name to such petition, write opposite his name thereon his place of residence, giving street and number, if any, and such signing, to be valid, must have been done not more than sixty days before the filing of said petition. There shall be attached to each sheet of such petition a statement, signed and sworn to by a resident of the district described in such petition, that the signatures on the said sheet were made in his presence, by the persons whose names purport to be signed thereto, within the time as provided in this act, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the persons whose names are signed thereto were, at the time of signing the same, qualified electors in the district described in said petition. No names shall be withdrawn from such petition after the same is filed.

Sworn statement.

Examination of petition.

SEC. 4. Upon the filing of said petition the clerk of the body to which it is addressed shall forthwith examine it, and from the great register ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors of the territory described therein, and, if necessary, he shall be allowed extra help for that purpose, and within ten days from the date of filing such petition he shall certify in writing the result of such examination and shall file this certificate with the petition. If the clerk finds the number of qualified signers to be insufficient, he shall immediately send a written notice to the person who filed the petition, stating the number of qualified signers he has found thereon, and that they are not sufficient; and the petition may be amended within ten days from the date of such notice by the filing of a supplementary petition. The clerk shall within ten days after such amendment make like examination and certification of the amended petition. If it is still found insufficient he shall notify the person who filed the petition of that fact, without prejudice, however, to the filing of a new petition to the same effect.

Notice to person filing.

Call election.

If the petition shall be certified as sufficient, the legislative or governing body having jurisdiction over the territory described therein shall, within the time prescribed herein, call an election to be held in such territory to vote upon the question whether the sale of alcoholic liquors shall be licensed therein.

Provisions governing election.

SEC. 5. Such election shall be called and held in the manner provided by law; and all the provisions of law, penal or otherwise, applicable to a general state election shall apply to special elections held, under this act, in territory outside of incorporated cities and towns; while all the provisions of law applicable to municipal elections shall apply to special elections held, under this act, in incorporated cities and towns.

SEC. 6. If said petition shall be certified as sufficient within six months and not less than forty days before the holding of the next general state or general municipal election within the territory therein described, such question shall be submitted at said general state or general municipal election; otherwise a special election to vote upon the question shall be called to be held within not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the petition has been certified as sufficient; provided, that no election under this act shall be held within two years of any previous election held under this act within the same territory.

Question may be submitted at general election.

Special election not oftener than once in two years.

SEC. 7. If said petition is filed with the governing body of an incorporated city or town, and is certified as sufficient within six months and not less than forty days before the holding of the next general state election, said body shall forthwith request the board of supervisors of the county in which such city or town is located to place the license question on the ballots for all voting precincts within such city or town at the next general state election, in the form provided in section 8 hereof. It shall be the duty of said board of supervisors to comply with such request, and immediately after canvassing the returns of such election to report the vote for and against license to the governing body of such city or town, and it shall enter the same upon its minutes, making record of the date of the election and of the number of votes for and against license.

License question on ballots of general election.

SEC. 8. The form of ballot shall be as follows :

Ballot.

Shall the sale of alcoholic liquors be licensed in this ----- (Here insert "city," "town," or "super- visorial district outside of incorporated cities and towns," as the case may be)-----?	Yes.
	No.

To vote for license electors they shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "Yes" on the ballot; and to vote against license they shall stamp a cross in the square opposite the word "No" thereon.

SEC. 9. Any elector of the territory in which an election under this act is held may contest such election for malconduct on the part of an election board or of any member thereof or on account of illegal votes. Such contest shall be subject to all the provisions of law relating to the contesting of elections, so far as the same may be applicable; provided, that while said contest is pending, and until the same is decided, the force and effect of said election shall be the same as if it had not been contested.

Contest of election.

SEC. 10. Unless a majority of the votes cast on this question at such election are in favor of license, the territory described in the petition shall be no-license territory on and after ninety days from the date of said election; and the city council, board of supervisors or other governing body having jurisdiction thereof, shall thereupon make an entry on its records declaring that such described territory is no-license territory; but a failure to make such entry shall not affect the result or effect of such election.

No-license territory.

In any prosecution under this act the original record in the minutes of said governing body of the number of votes cast at such election, or a copy thereof certified by the clerk of said governing body, shall be prima facie evidence that the territory in which such election was held is no-license territory; provided, said record shows that at said election there was not a majority vote in favor of license.

Election necessary to change to license territory.

SEC. 11. When any city, town, or supervisorial district outside of incorporated cities and towns, becomes no-license territory it shall remain such until at a subsequent election, called, as herein provided, to vote on the question of whether the sale of alcoholic liquors shall be licensed therein, a majority of the votes cast on that question are in favor of license. It shall thereupon cease to be no-license territory within the meaning of this act.

Licenses in such territory become void.

SEC. 12. No license, permit or other authority to sell or distribute alcoholic liquors in no-license territory shall be issued except to registered pharmacists and to manufacturers of such liquors, and all such existing licenses or permits, except those of registered pharmacists and manufacturers, shall immediately become void when the territory becomes no-license territory; but all holders of such licenses, permits or other authority shall, upon a surrender thereof, be entitled to a rebate of the proportion of license fee paid therefor for the unexpired term for which the same was granted.

Unlawful to sell liquor.

SEC. 13. It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, firm, company, association or club, as principal, agent, employee or otherwise, within the boundaries of any no-license territory to sell, furnish, distribute or give away any alcoholic liquors except as provided in section 16 hereof.

Unlawful to conduct place where liquor is sold.

SEC. 14. It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, firm, company, association or club, within any no-license territory, to keep, conduct or establish, as principal or agent, any place where alcoholic liquors are sold, served or distributed, or are kept for the purpose of sale or distribution, except as provided in section 16 hereof; and every day that such place shall be kept, established or conducted shall constitute a separate offense.

Unlawful to solicit orders for liquor.

SEC. 15. It shall be unlawful for any person, corporation, firm, company, association or club, within any no-license territory, to solicit orders, take orders or make agreements for the sale or delivery of alcoholic liquors; provided, that this shall not apply to the taking of such orders from a registered pharmacist at his place of business, or to the taking of orders for alcoholic liquors on the premises where stored or manufactured, under the conditions stated in section 16 hereof.

Not unlawful.

SEC. 16. Nothing in this act shall be interpreted as rendering it unlawful to keep alcoholic liquors for distribution, or to sell or distribute such liquors, in no-license territory in the manner and for the purposes in this section provided:

First—The serving of such liquors by any person at his own home to members of his family or to his guests, as an act of hospitality, when no money or thing of value is received in return therefor, and when said home is not a place of public resort;

To serve in home.

Second—The serving or dispensing of such liquors by any registered pharmacist for bona fide medicinal purposes only, upon a prescription issued, signed and dated by a duly licensed physician; provided, that the name of the person applying for the prescription and the name of the person for whose use the prescription is made shall be inserted therein by the physician issuing the same at the time the prescription is made or given, and that not more than one sale or furnishing is made upon such prescription, and that all such prescriptions are kept on file at the place of business of such pharmacist, open to public inspection; provided, further, that no such liquors so dispensed shall be drunk upon the premises where dispensed;

To dispense by pharmacist.

Third—The selling of alcohol by a registered pharmacist for other than beverage purposes; provided, that such pharmacist shall keep a record of such sales in which shall be entered the date of the sale, the quantity sold, the purpose for which purchased, and the signature of the person purchasing the same; such record to be open to public inspection;

To sell by pharmacist for other than beverage purposes.

Fourth—The selling of wine by a regularly licensed pharmacist for sacramental purposes only; provided, such wine is sold only to a regularly ordained minister of some religious denomination, or upon the written order of the local official board or governing body of a religious organization; provided, further, that such pharmacist shall keep a record of such sales in which shall be entered the date of the sale, the quantity sold, and the signature of the person purchasing the same; such record to be open to public inspection;

To sell by pharmacist for sacramental purposes.

Fifth—The distributing of wine at the sacramental service of any religious organization;

To distribute at sacramental service.

Sixth—The keeping of alcoholic liquors at cellars, vaults or warehouses, receiving orders at such cellars, vaults or warehouses for said liquors, and the shipping of the same therefrom; provided, said liquors are not distributed or delivered to any person or place in no-license territory within the county in which such cellars, vaults or warehouses are located, except when delivered to a common carrier for shipment to a place outside of said no-license territory;

To keep liquors for sale outside of no-license territory.

Seventh—The keeping of alcoholic liquors on the premises where manufactured, receiving orders at said premises for such liquors, and the shipping of the same from such premises; provided, said liquors are not distributed or delivered in no-license territory within the county in which such premises are located in quantities of less than two gallons, and are not delivered to any person or place in such territory within said county except as follows: (a) to a common carrier for shipment to a place outside of said no-license territory; (b) to other manufacturers of alcoholic liquors at the premises

To keep liquors where manufactured.

where they manufacture such liquors; (c) to cellars, vaults or warehouses where such liquors are stored or distributed as provided in the sixth paragraph of this section; (d) to any person at his or her permanent residence; (e) to registered pharmacists at their place of business.

Physician may not prescribe for person not in actual need.

SEC. 17. No physician shall give to, or write for, any well person, or person not in actual need of said liquor as a medicine, any prescription for alcoholic liquors, either separately or compounded with other ingredients; and any physician who shall assist in violating or evading any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 19 hereof.

Pharmacists to file monthly statements of liquors sold, etc.

SEC. 18. On or before the tenth day of each month every pharmacist in no-license territory, who keeps or dispenses alcoholic liquors, shall file with the county clerk of the county, wherein his place of business is located, a sworn statement of the kind and quantity of such liquors he has received during the previous month, showing the date or dates on which it was received and from whom purchased; also a sworn statement of the liquors he has sold or dispensed during said previous month, showing the kind and quantity of liquors in each sale, the date, name of the purchaser, and, in case it was dispensed on a prescription, the name of the physician who issued the prescription. These statements shall be kept on file by the county clerk for at least two years, open to public inspection. Any pharmacist in no-license territory failing to file statements as herein provided, or filing false statements, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable to the penalty provided in section 19 hereof.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 19. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding six hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding seven months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; but any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act, by conviction for an offense committed after a previous conviction under this act, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding six hundred dollars nor less than one hundred dollars, and by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding seven months, nor less than one month.

Places where liquor is sold in no-license territory declared nuisances.

SEC. 20. All places where alcoholic liquors are sold or distributed, or are kept for sale or distribution, in violation of any of the provisions of this act, are hereby declared to be common nuisances, and shall be abated as such, and it shall be the duty of the district attorney to take action to abate such nuisances. It shall be the duty of the sheriff and any other peace officer having jurisdiction within any no-license territory to put persons suspected of violating any of the provisions of this act under police surveillance, and to use all legal means in detecting and convicting persons violating any of the provisions of this act. The right of search as given in chapter III of part II of title XII, of the Penal Code of the State of California, is hereby made applicable to all places where there is reasonable cause to believe any provision of this act is being violated. And all liquors taken from places operated or conducted in violation of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction of such person or persons from whom such liquor has been taken, be destroyed upon order of the court in which such conviction has been had.

Right of search.

SEC. 21. The term "alcoholic liquors," as used in this act, shall include spirituous, vinous and malt liquors, and any other liquor or mixture of liquors which contains one per cent, by volume, or more, of alcohol, and which is not so mixed with other drugs as to prevent its use as a beverage.

"Alcoholic liquors" defined.

SEC. 22. Nothing in this act shall be construed as putting any limitations, except such as are positively stated herein, upon the police powers now possessed by cities, towns and counties.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for public cemetery districts," approved March 6th, 1909, statutes 1909, page 156, by amending section two thereof relating to the appointment of trustees of the district.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for public cemetery districts," approved March 6th, 1909, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 2. Such public cemetery district shall be managed by three trustees, appointed by the board of supervisors from the electors residing therein; but if a majority of the resident electors shall, in their petition, designate the names of the trustees whom they shall desire to be appointed, the board of supervisors shall appoint for the first term, the persons so named. The trustees shall hold office for four years, and their successors shall be appointed in the same manner as other appointments are made by said board.

CHAPTER 353.

An act to amend sections 1956 and 1958 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to officers of the national guard.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1956 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Elective officers of national guard.

1956. Field officers of a regiment, the coast artillery corps, separate battalion not a part of a regiment, or squadron shall be elected by the field and company officers thereof, and they shall hold office for a term of four years. All company and troop officers shall be elected by the members of such organizations. Captains of such organizations shall hold office for four years; lieutenants shall hold office for four years; provided, however, that immediately after this act takes effect, the commander-in-chief shall issue to each officer of the national guard, who is then in service, except officers on the retired list and staff officers, a commission for the same grade, or rank, which such officer then holds. The term of office of such officer, as provided for in section one of this act, shall commence upon the issuing of said commission. The officers so commissioned in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be exempt from the examinations provided by section 1954 of the Political Code of California.

SEC. 2. Section 1958 of the Political Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Election of officers.

1958. Two months previous to the expiration of the term of office of any officer, or upon a vacancy occurring among the elective officers of any organization attached to a brigade, the brigade commander must order an election therefor, designate an officer to preside thereat, the time and place of holding the election, and the office to be filled, such order to be promulgated at least ten days prior to the date set for the election. The presiding officer must make return in duplicate, of the election held, to the commanding general of the brigade, who shall forward one copy of said election return to the proper examining board and shall retain the other copy at his headquarters. Upon receiving notice from the examining board that the officer or officers-elect have passed a successful examination, which notice shall be endorsed upon the return of election sent to said board, he shall forward the same through regular military channels for approval of the adjutant general, who upon finding the same in accordance with the provisions of law, orders and regulations, must notify the commander-in-chief thereof for his consideration, who, if he approves, shall issue the commission. In all elections for commissioned officers a majority of the votes of those present a majority of those entitled to vote being present shall be necessary to a choice. Should there be no choice, or no quorum present, the presiding officer shall adjourn the meeting to a time not to exceed fifteen days, and at that meeting conduct another election; and if such second meeting result in no choice, the commander-in-chief shall be notified and may then fill the vacancy by appointment. If the officer elected and duly notified, does not appear before said examining board when summoned by it, he shall be deemed to have declined his commission, and there shall be another election ordered. The filing of a proper certificate of said board with the officer ordering the election, that the officer elected or appointed has failed to pass an examination, or declined to appear before the board when notified, shall be deemed sufficient for ordering a new election. When vacancies occur at an election through the promotion of any officer, such vacancies may then and there be filled by election without further notice. The commander-in-chief will issue like orders to fill like vacancies in unattached organizations. The officer designated to preside thereat must make duplicate returns to the adjutant general and the commander-in-chief must designate the board to examine the officer or officers elected.

the rental of offices for the use of the bureau and for traveling and office expenses; providing a system for licensing building and loan and other associations, and for assessing and collecting license fees necessary to meet the salaries and other expenses, providing a course of procedure where violations of law, or unsafe practices are found to exist or are reported by the commissioner to the attorney general; providing for involuntary liquidation by trustees, and proceedings in connection therewith; providing for exemption of property of associations in liquidation from attachments, executions and liens pending liquidation; providing for and requiring associations to procure licenses, pay assessments levied for pro rata of salaries and expenses, and to make and file reports; providing penalties for violations of law and orders of the commissioners; providing for succession in office, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith," approved March 21, 1905, relating to the powers and duties and salaries of the state building and loan commissioners.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby created a bureau, to be known and designated as the "Bureau of Building and Loan Supervision," with powers of supervision, examination and license of all building and loan associations, mutual loan associations, coöperative home associations, and all other corporations, associations and societies whenever, wherever and however formed, which, in the judgment of the administration of said bureau, are based, or are operating on plans or methods similar to building and loan associations as defined in section 648 of the Civil Code; it is also charged with the enforcement of all laws designed for the formation, government or operation, in this state, of any such association, corporation or society.

- fees from any other source for services performed in their official capacity. There shall also be allowed and paid the necessary traveling expenses of the commissioner and his secretary, incurred while traveling in their line of duties not to exceed the sum of fifteen hundred dollars per annum. The commissioner shall procure and have an office in the city of San Francisco, which office shall be kept open for business every business day, during such hours as are commonly observed by the banks of that city as banking hours. For such office there shall be allowed and paid a total rental of not exceeding seventy-five dollars per month. Said commissioner may also provide such fuel, stationery, printing, postage, office help and other necessary conveniences as may be requisite in such office, at a cost not to exceed in the aggregate, the sum of fifteen hundred dollars per annum. All said salaries and expenses shall be audited and paid in the same manner as the salaries and expenses of other state officers.

- SEC. 4. Before entering upon their duties, the commissioner and the secretary shall each execute an official bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars, each of which bonds must be guaranteed by a duly authorized surety or bonding company. Any bond executed under this section must be approved by the governor and filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and such commissioner and secretary must take the oath of office as prescribed by the Political Code for state officers in general.
- SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to furnish to all associations, corporations or societies, which, in his judgment, legally come under his jurisdiction, and that have otherwise complied with the requirements of law, a license authorizing them to transact business for one year from the date of said license; to receive and place on file in his office the annual or other reports required by law to be made by building and loan associations or other corporations or societies licensed by him; to supply each with blank forms for such statement; and to make, on or before the first day of October in each year, a tabulated report to the governor of this state, showing the condition of all such associations, corporations or societies reporting to him, with such recommendation as he may deem proper, accompanied by a detailed statement of all moneys received by him since his last report and the disposition thereof.
- SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the commissioner, in person, or the secretary, at least once in each year, without previous notice, to visit and examine into the affairs of every such association, corporation or society licensed by him, incorporated or doing business in this state; on such occasions he shall have free access to all the books, records, securities and papers of every such association, corporation or society, and shall first count the cash and check the bank balance of such corporation or association with the proper amount of funds as shown by the books to be on hand and at the date and hour of such examination, and shall then examine and verify the books, accounts, and securities, and, so far as possible and consistent, the values of all property owned or held as collateral security for moneys loaned, and otherwise use reasonable diligence to ascertain the financial condition and solvency thereof. He and his secretary shall have power to administer oaths in the line of duty, and to examine under oath the officers, employees and agents, or the custodian or receiver, relative to any or all the business thereof. The commissioner or his secretary or representative shall receive for any examination into the books and affairs of any such association, corporation or society formed outside of the State of California and applying for a license to do business in this state, their reasonable expenses, which shall be paid by the association, corporation or society so examined; provided, that they may accept the result of any such examination made by the duly constituted authorities of any state having similar laws of supervision.

Examination of associations applying for license.

SEC. 7. To facilitate the examinations specified in the foregoing section, he shall require every such association, corporation, or society to keep its books in such form as to accurately show its assets and liabilities in detail and to keep records written in ink, showing the appraised values of the real estate security held in connection with each loan, and signed in each case by the appraiser, officer or committee charged with making such estimated valuations. The commissioner may make a revaluation of the real estate owned, and of the other securities of any such association, corporation or society licensed by him, on which the loan payments may be delinquent for six months or more, and may, for that purpose, appoint local appraisers, who shall be disinterested persons, at the expense of such association, corporation or society: the expense of such appraisement to be fixed by the commissioner, but not to exceed the sum of five dollars for property located outside of any incorporated limits and three dollars for property located inside of any incorporated limits for each property so examined and appraised. Each appraiser so appointed shall be required to make a sworn report to the commissioner of his estimated valuations of all property so examined and appraised.

violating the provisions of its charter or of the laws of this state provided for its government, or is conducting its business in an unsafe or unauthorized manner, he may, by an order, addressed to the association, corporation or society so offending, direct a discontinuance of such violations or unsafe practices and a conformity with all the requirements of law; and if such association, corporation or society shall refuse or neglect to comply with such order within the time specified therein; or if it shall appear to the commissioner, in his opinion, that any such association, corporation or society is in an unsafe condition, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, such as to render its further proceeding hazardous to the public or to those having funds in its custody, he shall notify the attorney general of such facts and furnish him with a statement showing its condition, as the same may have been found to exist; at the same time he shall notify the officers of such association, corporation or society of the fact of such report having been made and direct them to cease the transaction of any new business, and to hold all moneys, securities and property intact, pending the action of the attorney general on such report. The attorney general shall thereupon apply to the superior court of the county in which such association, corporation or society has its principal place of business, to issue an injunction restraining it, in whole or in part, from further proceeding with its business until a hearing can be had. Such court may, in such application, issue such injunction, and after a full hearing may dissolve or modify it, or make it perpetual, and may make such orders and decrees according to the course of proceedings in equity, to restrain or prohibit the further prosecution of business by such association, corporation or society, as may be needful in the premises; and may appoint one or more receivers to take possession of its property and effects, subject to such directions as may from time to time be prescribed by the court; or it may, by its decree, order and direct that, in lieu of the appointment of a receiver, the business and affairs be liquidated by a board of trustees equal in number to the board of directors, to be elected by the shareholders, at a meeting thereof, to be called for such purpose and held within two weeks from and after the first Monday succeeding the date of such order and decree; such meeting to be called and held on the order of the commissioner, who shall be present and preside until such election shall be had; whereupon he shall report the result to the proper court, and thereupon the term of office of the existing board of directors and of all the officers shall cease and determine. Such board of trustees, when so elected, shall at once assume office and have possession and control of all the property and assets for the purpose of liquidation; and such liquidation shall be conducted by such board under the supervision of the commissioner, who shall have full power to limit the time within which it shall be accomplished, and to limit the number of employees and the salaries and expenses that shall be allowed and paid. SEC. 12. Upon the certificate, under oath, of any ten or more officers, trustees, creditors, shareholders or depositors of any such association, corporation or society, setting forth their interest and the reason for the making of such examination, directed to the commissioner, and requesting him so to do, he shall forthwith make a full investigation of its affairs, in the manner provided.

Examination upon request of ten shareholders.

SEC. 13. If the commissioner, having knowledge of the insolvent condition, or of any violation of law or unsafe practice of any such association, corporation or society under his supervision, such as renders, in his opinion, the conduct of its business hazardous to its shareholders, creditors or depositors, shall fail to take the proper action required by this act, or shall refuse or neglect to perform the official duties pertaining to his office, then upon conviction thereof the office of such commissioner shall be declared vacant by the governor, and a successor be appointed to fill the unexpired term.

Failure of commissioner to act.

SEC. 14. To meet the salaries and expenses provided for by this act, the commissioner shall require every association, corporation or society licensed by him or coming under his supervision to pay in advance, to him, and prior to the issu-

Commissioner may revoke license.

SEC. 15. It shall be the duty of the commissioner to require every such association, corporation or society coming under his supervision, to procure from him, prior to the transaction of any business, a certificate of authority or license to transact business in this state; and it is hereby made the duty of every association, corporation or society to comply with such requirement. To procure such license, there must be filed with and approved by the commissioner, a certified copy of its articles of incorporation, constitution and by-laws and all subsequent amendments thereto, accompanied by the license fee herein provided for: and after the expiration of the term for which a license may have been granted to it, no such association, corporation or society shall be permitted to continue to transact business without first procuring a renewal of such license on the terms provided in this act, and any such association, corporation or society violating the provisions hereof shall be subject to a penalty of ten per cent per day of the amount of the license fee required to be paid under section fourteen of this act, in addition thereto, for each day during the continuance of such offense. The commissioner is authorized and empowered to revoke the license of any such association, corporation or society under his supervision, the solvency whereof may have become imperiled by losses or irregularities; and immediately upon the revoking of any such license he shall report the facts to the attorney general, who shall thereupon take such proceedings as are provided in section nine of this act.

SEC. 16. The commissioner shall require every association, corporation or society licensed by him, and including associations in liquidation, within thirty days after the close of its annual fiscal term to make a report to him in writing, verified by the oath of its president and secretary, showing accurately its financial condition at the close of such term; such report shall also include all the receipts and disbursements and income and expenses for the term, together with such statistical and other information as may be deemed essential; all and every of such reports shall be in such form as the commissioner may prescribe, and upon blanks to be by him furnished therefor. Every such association, corporation or society is hereby required to make and file all such reports within the time specified herein, and for failure or neglect so to do shall be subject to a penalty of ten dollars per day for each and every day the same shall be delayed or withheld.

Annual report of association.

Failure to make report

SEC. 17. The collection of all moneys assessed, as herein provided, for the payment of salaries and annual expenses, or forfeitable as fines for failure to make payments of assessments, procure licenses, or make and file reports as herein specified, and due from any such association, corporation or society coming within the provisions of this act, or imposed as a penalty for violation of any order or summons, may be enforced by the commissioner, by action instituted in any court of competent jurisdiction; and all moneys collected or received by the commissioner under this act, shall be deposited with the state treasurer, to be credited to a fund to be known and designated as the "building and loan inspection fund"; which said fund shall only be used in defraying the salaries and expenses provided for by this act.

An act to repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon and the construction of sidewalks and curbing within municipalities," approved March 6, 1909.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. An act entitled "An act to provide for work upon and the construction of sidewalks and curbing within municipalities," approved March 6th, 1909, is hereby repealed. The repeal of said act shall revive each and every portion and provision of the act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities" approved March 18, 1885, and the several acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, relating to sidewalks, and the construction thereof, and to the assessments to be made, and the enforcement of payments for the expense of the construction of such sidewalks, and all other provisions thereof repealed expressly or by implication by the act hereby repealed, together with the provisions of all acts and parts of acts repealed expressly or by implication by the act hereby repealed. Proceedings under the act hereby repealed, commenced prior to the taking effect of this act, may be continued to completion under the provisions thereof with the same force and effect as if said act were not hereby repealed, and such proceedings and assessments levied therein shall be valid, and such assessments may be enforced and collected under the provisions thereof.

An act to amend section 1239 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to proceedings to exercise the right of eminent domain.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1239 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, is hereby amended to read as follows:

1239. The following is a classification of the estates and rights in lands subject to be taken for public use:

1. A fee simple, when taken for public buildings or grounds, or for permanent buildings, for reservoirs and dams, and permanent flooding occasioned thereby, or for an outlet for a flow, or a place for the deposit of debris or tailings of a mine.

Estates subject to public use.

2. An easement, when taken for any other use; provided, however, that when the taking is by a municipal corporation, and is for the purpose of constructing, equipping, using, maintaining or operating any works, road, railroad, tramway, power plant, telephone line, or other necessary works or structures, for the preparation, manufacture, handling or transporting of any material or supplies required in the construction or completion by such municipal corporation of any public work, improvement, or utility, a fee simple may be taken if the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall, by resolution, determine the taking thereof to be necessary.

3. The right of entry upon and occupation of lands, and the right to take therefrom such earth, gravel, stones, trees, and timber as may be necessary for some public use.

CHAPTER 357.

An act appropriating money for the display in the state capitol of certain colors, flags, guidons, and standards carried by California soldiers in certain wars and active service.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of six hundred dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be paid on the joint approval of the secretary of state and the adjutant general of this state, for the purpose of constructing and erecting suitable cases or cabinets in which to display the certain colors, flags, guidons, and standards carried by California soldiers in the war of the rebellion, the Spanish-American war, or other active service, and which are now in the custody of the adjutant general.

Appropriation: cases to hold flags.

SEC. 2. The said cases or cabinets shall be placed in suitable position in the rotunda of the state capitol, and the articles to be displayed therein in accordance with the provisions of this act shall at all times be under the exclusive control and custody of the adjutant general.

In custody of adjutant general

SEC. 3. The controller of state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant in favor of the secretary of state, upon filing with the controller vouchers duly approved, in a sum not exceeding six hundred dollars, and the state treasurer is hereby directed to pay the same.

SEC. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

CHAPTER 358.

An act to amend sections 1240, 1241, and 1248 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, and to add a new section thereto to be designated as section 1247a, all relating to the taking of private property for public use, and repealing all acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1240 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Private property which may be taken for public use.

· 1240. The private property which may be taken under this title includes:

Lands belonging to United States.

1. All real property belonging to any person;
2. Lands belonging to this state, including tide and submerged lands, not within the corporate limits of any city, or city and county, or to any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town, not appropriated to some public use;

Property appropriated to public use.

3. Lands belonging to the United States or owned or held by the United States in trust, or otherwise, for any purpose, except lands owned or held for lighthouses, post offices or other government buildings, forts, arsenals, or other military purposes;

4. Property appropriated to public use; but such property shall not be taken unless for a more necessary public use than that to which it has already been appropriated; provided, that where any such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation, the use thereof for a public street or highway of a municipal corporation, or the use thereof by a municipal corporation for the same public purpose to which it has been so appropriated, shall be deemed more necessary uses than the public use to which such property has been already appropriated; and provided, further, that where property already appropriated to a public use or purpose, by any person, firm or private corporation, is sought to be taken by a municipal corporation, for another public use or purpose, which is consistent with the continuance of the use of such property or some portion thereof for such existing purpose, to the same extent as such property is then used, or to a less or modified extent, then the right to use such property for such proposed public purpose, in common with such other use or purpose, either as then existing, or to a less or modified extent, may be taken by such municipal corporation, and the court may fix the terms and conditions upon which such property may be so taken, and the manner and extent of the use thereof for each of such public purposes, and may order the removal or relocation of any structures or improvements therein or thereon, so far as may be required by such common use.

5. Franchises for toll-roads, toll-bridges, and ferries, and all other franchises; but such franchises shall not be taken unless for free highways, railroads, or other more necessary public use; Franchises.

6. All rights of way for any and all the purposes mentioned in section twelve hundred and thirty-eight, and any and all structures and improvements on, over, across or along such rights of way, and the lands held or used in connection therewith shall be subject to be connected with, crossed, or intersected by or embraced within any other right of way or improvements, or structures thereon. They shall also be subject to a limited use, in common with the owner thereof, when necessary: but such uses, crossings, intersections, and connections shall be made in manner most compatible with the greatest public benefit and least private injury. Rights of way.

No railroad main track crossing, outside the limits of any incorporated town, city or city and county, shall be at grade, unless the party proposing such crossing at grade shall, at its own sole cost and expense, protect such crossing by the construction, operation and maintenance of an interlocking plant, with suitable signals and derails; but either party to such crossing may insist upon a separation of grades, in which case the cost of constructing such crossing with separate grades shall be equally divided between the railroad companies concerned: and provided, further, that where any such crossing has been constructed at grade, either company may, at any time thereafter, require a separation of the grades at such crossing, each company paying one half of the expense of such separation; and provided, further, that the foregoing provisions shall not be construed as requiring a separation of grades where such separation is physically impracticable, and in case of any dispute or controversy as to the physical practicability of any undergrade or overhead crossing, the same shall be determined by the superior court of the county in which such crossing is situate in an action or proceeding brought by either party for that purpose; Railroad main track crossings.

7. All classes of private property not enumerated may be taken for public use, when such taking is authorized by law; All classes of private property.

8. Proceedings to condemn lands belonging to this state are hereby authorized, and must be maintained and conducted in the same manner as are other condemnation proceedings provided for in this title; except, that in such proceedings the summons and a copy of the complaint must be served on the governor, attorney general, and surveyor general of this state; Proceedings to condemn lands belonging to state.

9. Proceedings to condemn any of said lands belonging to the United States or owned or held by the United States in trust, or otherwise, for any purpose, are hereby authorized; and must be maintained and conducted in the same manner as are other condemnation proceedings provided for in this title; except, that in such proceedings, the summons and a copy of To United States.

the complaint must be served on the United States district attorney for the district in which the land sought to be condemned is situated and also upon the United States surveyor general for this state.

SEC. 2. Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

1241. Before property can be taken, it must appear:

1. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law;

2. That the taking is necessary to such use;

3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use to which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use; provided, that where such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation, the use thereof for a public street or highway of a municipal corporation, or the use thereof by a municipal corporation for the same public purpose to which it has been so appropriated, shall be deemed more necessary uses than the public use to which such property has been already appropriated.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered 1247*a*, and to read as follows:

1247*a*. The court shall also have power to regulate and determine the place and manner of removing or relocating structures or improvements, or of enjoying the common use mentioned in the fourth subdivision of section twelve hundred and forty.

SEC. 4. Section 1248 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

1248. The court, jury, or referee must hear such legal testimony as may be offered by any of the parties to the proceedings, and thereupon must ascertain and assess:

1. The value of the property sought to be condemned, and all improvements thereon pertaining to the realty, and of each and every separate estate or interest therein; if it consists of different parcels, the value of each parcel and each estate or interest therein shall be separately assessed;

2. If the property sought to be condemned constitutes only a part of a larger parcel, the damages which will accrue to the portion not sought to be condemned, by reason of its severance from the portion sought to be condemned, and the construction of the improvement in the manner proposed by the plaintiff;

3. Separately, how much the portion not sought to be condemned, and each estate or interest therein, will be benefited, if at all, by the construction of the improvement proposed by the plaintiff; and if the benefit shall be equal to the damages assessed under subdivision two, the owner of the parcel shall be allowed no compensation except the value of the portion taken; but if the benefit shall be less than the damages so assessed, the former shall be deducted from the latter, and the remainder shall be only damages allowed in addition to the value;

Facts to be found before condemnation.

Court may regulate removing structures.

Court or jury to assess damages.

Property a part of larger parcel.

Benefit to remainder.

4. If the property sought to be condemned be water or the use of water, belonging to riparian owners, or appurtenant to any lands, how much the lands of the riparian owner, or the lands to which the property sought to be condemned is appurtenant, will be benefited, if at all, by a diversion of water from its natural course, by the construction and maintenance, by the person or corporation in whose favor the right of eminent domain is exercised, of works for the distribution and convenient delivery of water upon said lands; and such benefit, if any, shall be deducted from any damages awarded the owner of such property;

Property
water or use of water

5. If the property sought to be condemned be for a railroad, the cost of good and sufficient fences, along the line of such railroad, and the cost of cattle-guards, where fences may cross the line of such railroad;

Fences along railroad.

6. If the removal or relocation of structures or improvements is sought, the cost of such removal or relocation and the damages, if any, which will accrue by reason thereof;

Cost of removal.

7. As far as practicable, compensation must be assessed for each source of damages separately.

Separate asses-ments

SEC. 5. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

SEC. 6. This act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 359.

An act to amend sections seven and twelve of an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one half class, to fix their jurisdiction and to provide for officers of said courts, and to fix the compensation of certain officers thereof," which act became a law under constitutional provision, without the governor's approval, March 5, 1901, relating to the prosecuting attorney, and to the service of applications for writs of habeas corpus in cases arising in said courts, and to the imprisonment of persons convicted in said courts, and to add a new section to said act to be numbered section five and one half, relating to the presiding judges of such courts.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 Section seven of an act entitled "An act to establish police courts in cities of the first and one half class, to fix their jurisdiction and provide for officers of said courts, and fix the compensation of certain officers thereof," which act became a law under constitutional provision without the governor's approval, March 5, 1901, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Prosecuting attorney for police courts.

Duties.

Application for writ of habeas corpus served on attorney.

Affidavit regarding necessary witnesses.

Sentences.

Section 7. Said police court shall have a prosecuting attorney who shall have as many assistants, deputies, clerks and stenographers as the council of said city shall provide, all of whom shall be appointed by the city attorney of said city, unless otherwise provided by the charter of said city. In case the charter of said city shall provide for the appointment of a city prosecutor, said city prosecutor shall have and exercise all the powers and duties of such prosecuting attorney. It shall be the duty of such prosecuting attorney, either in person or by his assistants or deputies, to draw complaints to be filed in said police court for misdemeanor offenses of which said court has jurisdiction arising either from violation of the charter or ordinances of said city or from violations of the laws of the State of California. Said prosecuting attorney shall attend to all appeals and proceedings on application for writs of habeas corpus, in connection with such prosecutions, and shall prosecute all recognizances and bail bonds forfeited in said court, and all actions for the recovery of fines, penalties and forfeitures accruing in said court; and the district attorney of the county in which said city is located shall have no power or authority in or over any of said prosecutions, actions or proceedings. Whenever any person, held in custody or restraint by any peace officer of said city, and charged with having committed any criminal offense against the provisions of the charter or ordinances of said city, or with having committed any offense in said city which is a misdemeanor under the laws of the state, shall apply for a writ of habeas corpus, a copy of the application for such writ shall be served forthwith upon the prosecuting attorney or upon one of his assistants or deputies. The prosecuting attorney shall have the power to make and present to the said police court, or any judge thereof, in any case where an offense has been committed in said city, that is triable in said court, and any person whose attendance as a witness at the trial is necessary in the judgment of said prosecuting attorney resides out of the county in which said court is located, or is served with the subpoena outside of said county, an affidavit stating that he believes the evidence of such witness is material and his attendance at the trial is necessary.

SEC. 2. Section twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 12. In all cases of the conviction in said police court of any person charged with any offense committed in the city in which such police court is held, and the imprisonment of any person so convicted, the person so to be imprisoned, or by ordinance required to labor, shall upon the order of the judge before whom such conviction is had, be imprisoned in the city jail, or a branch thereof, or in such other penal or reformatory institution either within or without the corporate limits of the city as may be provided by the city for such purposes; or if required to labor, shall labor in the city or in such penal or reformatory institution, and the imprisonment in any branch city jail or in any such penal or reformatory institution shall be deemed an imprisonment in the city jail; provided, that if any person who is imprisoned in any branch city jail or any such penal or reformatory institution by judgment of said police court, shall escape therefrom, or shall fail or refuse to submit or conform to the rules of such penal or reformatory institution, such person may by order of the court or any judge thereof, be required to serve the unexpired portion of his term in the city jail. In such case only so much of the prisoner's term shall be deemed to have expired as has been actually served in the city jail, or a branch city jail, or in such penal or reformatory institution.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section five and one half, and to read as follows:

Section 5½. The said police court shall be divided into as many departments as there are judges of said court. The judges of said court shall choose from their number a presiding judge, who shall serve for one year; provided, however; that the presiding judge first chosen hereunder shall serve until the first Monday in January, 1912; and provided, further, that the presiding judge may be removed at any time and another appointed in his place by a vote of a majority of them. The presiding judge shall assign the judges to their respective departments; but any judge may preside in any department in case of the absence or inability to act of the judge of such department. And in the absence or inability to act of the presiding judge, the remaining judges may select one of their number to act as presiding judge during such absence or inability; and whose official acts during such time shall have the same force and effect as though made or done by the presiding judge. The presiding judge shall have power to apportion the business of said court among the several departments and to transfer cases from one department to another, if necessary or convenient to facilitate the dispatch of business of said court. The judgments, orders and proceedings of any session of the court held by any one or more of the judges of said court shall be equally effectual as though all of the judges had presided at such session. The judges of said court shall have power, by a majority vote of all the judges of said court, to make rules not inconsistent with the constitution or laws of this state, for the government of said court and the officers thereof, and for conducting the business of said court. Such rules may be published by posting a copy of the same in each of the court rooms of said court and shall be in effect after having been so posted for a period of fifteen days.

CHAPTER 360.

An act to amend sections 2, 7, 13, 35 and 53 of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18, 1885, and to add to said act certain sections to be numbered sections 54 and 55, relating to proceedings to effect local improvements, and to repeal section 20 of said act.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to provide for work upon streets, lanes, alleys, courts, places and sidewalks, and for the construction of sewers within municipalities," approved March 18th, 1885, is hereby amended to read as follows:

City council may order work done on streets.

Section 2. Whenever the public interest or convenience may require, the city council is hereby authorized and empowered to order the whole or any portion, either in length or width, of any one or more of the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, boulevards, highways, crossings, intersections or public ways of any such city graded or regraded to the official grade, planked or replanked, paved or repaved, macadamized or remacadamized, graveled or regraveled, piled or repiled, capped or recapped, oiled or recoiled, and to order the construction or reconstruction therein of sidewalks, crosswalks, culverts, bridges, gutters, curbs, steps, parkings and parkways, sewers, ditches, drains, conduits and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes or either or both thereof, with outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, channels and other appurtenances, pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection, tunnels, viaducts, conduits and subways, breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material to protect the same from overflow or injury by water, and poles, posts, wires, pipes, conduits, lamps and other suitable or necessary appliances for the purpose of lighting the same, the planting of trees thereon and the construction or reconstruction in, over or through property or rights of way owned by such city, of tunnels, sewers, ditches, drains, conduits and channels for sanitary and drainage purposes or either or both thereof, with necessary outlets, cesspools, manholes, catch basins, flush tanks, septic tanks, connecting sewers, ditches, drains, conduits, channels and other appurtenances, pipes, hydrants and appliances for fire protection and breakwaters, levees, bulkheads and walls of rock or other material to protect the streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, public ways and other property in any such city, from overflow by water, and to order any work to be done which shall be deemed necessary to improve the whole or any portion of such streets, avenues, sidewalks, lanes, alleys, courts, places or public ways or property or rights of way of such city.

Sec. 2. Section seven of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7. Subdivision One.—The expenses incurred for any work authorized by this act (which expense shall not include the cost of any work done in such portion of any street as is required by law to be kept in order or repair by any person or company having railroad tracks thereon, nor include work which shall have been declared in the resolution of intention to be assessed on a district benefited) shall be assessed upon the lots and lands fronting thereon, except as herein specifically provided; each lot or portion of a lot being separately assessed, in proportion to the frontage, at a rate per front foot sufficient to cover the total expense of the work. Expenses of work.

Subdivision Two.—The expense of the work done on main street crossings shall be assessed at a uniform rate per front foot of the quarter blocks and irregular blocks adjoining and cornering upon the crossings, and separately upon the whole of each lot or portion of a lot having any frontage in the said blocks fronting on said main streets, halfway to the next main street crossing, and all the way on said blocks to a boundary line of the city where no such crossing intervenes, but only according to its frontage in said quarter blocks and irregular blocks. Street crossings.

Subdivision Three.—Where a main street terminates in another main street, the expenses of the work done on one half of the width of the street opposite the termination shall be assessed upon the lots in each of the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering on the same, according to the frontage of such lots on said main streets, and the expense of the other half of the width of said street upon the lot or lots fronting on the latter half of the street at such termination. One street terminating in another.

Subdivision Four.—Where any alley or subdivision street crosses a main street, the expense of all work done on said crossing shall be assessed on all lots or portions of lots halfway on said alley or subdivision street to the next crossing or intersection, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another. Alley crossings.

Subdivision Five.—The expense of work done on alley or subdivision street crossings shall be assessed upon the lots fronting upon such alley or subdivision streets on each side thereof, in all directions, halfway to the next street, place or court, on either side, respectively, or to the end of such alley or subdivision street, if it does not meet another. Alley crossings.

Subdivision Six.—Where a subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court terminates in another street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, the expense of the work done on one half of the width of the subdivision street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court opposite the termination, shall be assessed upon the lot or lots fronting on such subdivision street, avenue, One alley, etc., terminating in another.

lane, alley, place or court so terminating, according to its frontage thereon, halfway, on each side, respectively, to the next street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court or to the end of such street, avenue, lane, alley, place or court, if it does not meet another, and the other one half of the width upon the lots fronting such termination.

Work on one side of street.

Subdivision Seven.—Where any work mentioned in this act (manholes, sewers, cesspools, culverts, crosswalks, piling and capping excepted) is done on one side of the center line of any street, or sewerage or resewing is ordered to be done under the sidewalk on only one side of any street for any length thereof, the assessment for the expenses thereof shall be made only upon the lots and lands fronting nearest upon that side of the street and for intervening intersections only upon the two quarter blocks adjoining and cornering upon that side.

When lot belonging to state,
United States or city front on work.

Subdivision Eight.—Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution or institution for the feeble-minded or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, fronts upon the proposed work or improvement or is included within the district declared by the city council in the resolution of intention to be the district to be assessed to pay the costs and expenses thereof, the city council may, in its discretion, in the resolution of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the costs and expenses of said work or improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall, by said resolution be omitted from the assessment, then the total expense of all work done shall be assessed on the remaining lots fronting on the work or improvement or lying within the limits of the assessment district without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its resolution of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included in the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the council shall in its resolution of intention designate another fund and the contract for said work or improvement thereafter made shall contain a provision to that effect.

Owners may do grading.

Subdivision Nine.—It shall be lawful for the owner or owners of lots or lands fronting upon any street, the width and grade of which have been established by the city council, to perform, at his or their own expense (after obtaining permission from the council so to do, but before said council has passed its resolution of intention to order grading inclusive of this), any grading upon said street, to its full width, or to the center line thereof, and to its grade as then established, and thereupon to procure, at his or their own expense, a certificate from the city engineer, setting forth the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling made by him or them in said grading, and the proportions performed by each owner, and that the same is done to the established width and grade of said street, or to the center line thereof, and thereafter to file said certificate with the superintendent of streets, which certificate the superintendent shall record in a book kept for that purpose in his office, properly indexed. Whenever thereafter the city council orders the grading of said street, or any portion thereof, on which any grading certified as aforesaid has been done, the bids and contracts must express the price by the cubic yard for cutting and filling in grading; and the said owner or owners and his or their successors in interest, shall be entitled to credit on the assessment upon his or their lots and lands fronting on said streets for the grading thereof, to the amount of the cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in his or their certificate, at the prices named in the contract for said cutting and filling; or, if the grade meanwhile has been duly altered, only for so much of said certified work as would be required for grading to the altered grade: provided, however, that such owner or owners shall not be entitled to such credit as may be in excess of the assessments for grading upon the lots and lands owned by him or them, and proportionately assessed for the whole of said grading; and the superintendent of streets shall include in the assessment for the whole of said grading upon the same grade the number of cubic yards of cutting and filling set forth in any and all certificates so recorded in his office, or for the whole of said grading to the duly altered grade so much of said certified work as would be required for grading thereto, and shall enter corresponding credits, deducting the same as payments upon the amounts assessed against the lots and lands owned, respectively, by said certified owners and their successors in interest; provided, however, that he shall not so include any grading quantities or credit any sums in excess of the proportionate assessments for the whole of the grading which are made upon any lots and lands fronting upon said street and belonging to any such certified owners or their successors in interest. Whenever any owner or owners of any lots and lands fronting on any street shall have heretofore done, or shall hereafter do any work (except grading) on such street, in front of any block, at his or their own expense, and the city council shall have subsequently ordered any work to be done of the same class in front of the same block, said work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be excepted from the order ordering work to be done; provided, that the work so done at the expense of such owner or owners shall be upon the official grade, and in condition satisfactory to the street superintendent at the time said order is passed.

Diagram
of district.

Subdivision Ten.—Whenever the resolution of intention declares that the cost and expenses of the work and improvement are to be assessed upon a district, the city council shall direct the city engineer to make a diagram of the property affected or benefited by the proposed work or improvement, as described in the resolution of intention, and to be assessed to pay the expenses thereof. Such diagram shall show each, separate lot, piece or parcel of land, the area in square feet of each of such lots, pieces or parcels of land, and the relative location of the same to the work proposed to be done, all within the limits of the assessment district; and when said diagram shall have been approved by the city council, the clerk shall, at the time of such approval, certify the fact and date thereof. Immediately thereafter the said diagram shall be delivered to the superintendent of streets of said city, who shall, after the contractor of any street work has fulfilled his contract to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets or city council, on appeal, proceed to estimate upon the lands, lots or portions of lots within said assessment district, as shown by said diagram, the benefits arising from such work, and to be received by each such lot, portion of such lot, piece, or subdivision of land, and shall thereupon assess upon and against said lands in said assessment district the total amount of the costs and expenses of such work, and in so doing shall assess said total sum upon the several pieces, parcels, lots, or portions of lots, and subdivisions of land in said assessment district benefited thereby, to wit: Upon each respectively, in proportion to the estimated benefits to be received by each of said several lots, portions of lots, or subdivisions of land. In other respects the assessment shall be as provided in the next section.

Plan of assessment.

Railroad subject to
ment.

Subdivision Eleven.—The terms lot, lots, lands, piece or parcel of land wherever mentioned in this act shall be deemed to include and shall include property owned or controlled by any person, firm or corporation as a railroad, street or inter-urban railroad, right of way, and whenever a railroad, street or interurban railroad right of way shall front or abut on any street improved under the provisions of this act or shall be included within any district to be assessed for the cost of any improvement provided in this act, such railroad right of way (whether the same is owned in fee or as an easement) shall be included in the warrant, assessments, and diagram and shall be assessed in the same manner and with the same effect as other lots, lands or pieces or parcels of land are assessed as provided in this act and such railroad right of way shall be subject to sale for non-payment of assessments as in this act provided.

Railroads to improve streets between tracks.

Subdivision Twelve.—Whenever any railroad track or tracks of any description exist upon the street or streets upon which the city council of any city has ordered an improvement to be made, and has excepted therefrom the portions used by the track, between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks if there be more than one, the said order, unless said city council shall by resolution theretofore passed have declared the contrary, shall be deemed to be and constitute a requirement that the person or company having said railroad track or tracks thereon shall improve the said portion with improvements similar in all respects to, with the same materials, under the same specifications and superintendence, and to the like satisfaction as those ordered to be performed by said order ordering the work, and the resolution of intention and notice of proposed improvement shall be construed and are hereby declared to be notice to said person or company of the intention to order the same. Thereupon it shall be the duty of said person or company having such track or tracks on such street or streets to notify in writing the superintendent of streets if such person or company elects to perform such work at its own charge and expense and under its own direction; said notice must be delivered to the superintendent of streets within ten days after the first publication of notice or award of contract. The omission or neglect to make such election shall be construed as constituting the superintendent of streets the agent of the owner of said track or tracks; with authority to enter into a contract made in accordance with the provisions of this section for making the said improvements. Said superintendent of streets shall advertise for bids for the improvement of said portions of street or streets lying between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one. It shall be the duty of said city council to award the contract for the making of said improvements to the lowest regular responsible bidder. Such bidding and awarding of contracts shall be made in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding of contracts for improvements, excepting that no notice of award shall be published. Immediately upon the award, the superintendent of streets shall enter into a contract with the person to whom said contract was awarded for the making of said improvement or improvements upon the portions of the street or streets described in said notice inviting bids, and at the price stated in said bid. The contractor shall execute bonds in the manner required for the execution of contracts for improvements. Upon the completion of the work and its acceptance, the street superintendent shall make a certificate of such completion together with a statement of the amount due under the terms of said contract for the performance of said work. Such certificate shall be countersigned by the mayor of said city, and shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets. The contractor shall thereupon be entitled to payment of the full amount of said contract price, and the recording of such certificate shall be sufficient notice to the owner of such track or tracks that said contract price is due and payable. In the event that such amount is not paid within thirty days from the date of the recording of said certificate, the contractor may file a sworn statement to that effect with the superintendent of streets, who shall record the same in his office in the book in which the certificate of acceptance has been recorded. Said contractor shall thereupon have a cause of action against said person or company owning said track or tracks for the amount of said contract, together with a reasonable attorney's fee, and shall also have as security for the recovery of such amount, a first lien upon the track and franchises of said person or company, between whose rails or tracks the said work has been performed, contained within the corporate limits of the said city. In such suit, the certificate of the superintendent of streets, hereinbefore mentioned, shall be and constitute prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings, and of the right of the contractor to recover judgment against said person or company. Execution may be taken out upon the entry of judgment, and levied upon any property of said person or company subject to execution. In the event that said person or company shall file the written election to perform such work at its own cost and expense and under its own direction, no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter unless such person or company neglects or fails for thirty days, or for such further time as the city council may grant, to make said improvement. In the event that the improvement of the portions of the street or streets above described, between the rails and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks if there be more than one, shall not be made with diligence, or in all respects similar to the improvement of the rest of the street, or with the same materials or under the same specifications, and to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets, the city council of said city may, by resolution entered in its minutes, prescribe such terms and conditions as to it may seem fit and proper before permitting the said person or company to continue with the said improvement. If the said person or company shall, after three days' notice of the adoption of said resolution, fail to comply with the terms and conditions so prescribed, the said city council may declare said person or company to have forfeited its privilege of performing such work under its own direction. Whereupon the street superintendent shall advertise for bids for the performance of such work, or such portions thereof as may remain uncompleted, and the contract therefor shall be awarded and entered into in the same manner hereinbefore provided for the awarding and execution of contracts where said person or company has not elected to make the improvement under its own direction; and upon the completion of the improvement, the contractor to whom such contract may be awarded, or his assigns, shall be entitled to a certificate from the street superintendent similar to that hereinbefore provided for, and shall have the right to collect from said person or company by suit the amount specified in such certificate in all respects the same as is hereinbefore provided where the contract is let for such improvement in the first instance.

Subdivision Thirteen.—The said council may include in one resolution of intention and order any of the different kinds of work mentioned in this act, and may include any number of streets and rights of way or portion thereof in one proceeding and one contract, and it may except therefrom any of said work already done upon the street to the official grade. The lots and portions of lots fronting upon said accepted work already done shall not be included in the frontage assessment for the class of work from which the exception is made; provided, that this shall not be construed so as to affect the special provisions as to grading contained in this act.

SEC. 3. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 13. When any portion of any street, alley, or public place in said city shall be out of repair or needing reconstruction, or in a condition to interfere with the public convenience in the use thereof, it shall be the duty of the superintendent of streets to notify the owner of any lot or portion of a lot, fronting on the portion of such street, alley, or public place, so out of repair or needing reconstruction, to repair or reconstruct such portion of said street, alley, or public place, to the center line of said street, alley, or public place, in front of the property of which he is the owner, or to repair the sidewalk in front of such property in case such sidewalk shall need repair or reconstruction, and he shall state in such notice what work is required to be done, and what materials shall be used in said work and how the same shall be done. If said repairs or reconstruction be not commenced within ten days after notice given, as aforesaid, and prosecuted to completion diligently, the said superintendent of streets may under authority from said city council let a contract for the performance of such work. He shall post notice at his office for two days inviting bids for the doing of said work of repair or reconstruction, and the contract shall be awarded by him to the lowest bidder, and a contract in writing shall be entered into with the successful bidder. Upon the completion of said repairs or reconstruction to the satisfaction of said superintendent of streets, he shall make and deliver to said contractor a certificate to the effect that said repairs or reconstruction, or both, have been properly made, and state what amount is payable by each owner for the same, which certificate shall be recorded in the office of said superintendent of streets in a book kept for that purpose, and all owners of property in front of which such improvement shall have been performed, shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of the record thereof. The contractor may make demand for the amount due by serving written notice upon the owners, referring to the certificate so recorded, and if the contractor be not paid on demand, he shall have the right to sue each owner for the amount due and payable from each respectively, and the said certificate of the superintendent of streets shall be prima facie evidence of the amount claimed for the work and materials and of the right of the contractor to recover for the same in such action, and the amount so due and payable shall be a first lien upon the respective lots, pieces or parcels of land against which it may be charged and shall have the same effect as the lien hereinbefore provided for in section nine of this act and may be enforced in the same manner.

Repairs.

Contract for repair may be let.

Contractor may sue owners.

Penalties
for repairs.

In addition, the city council shall have power by ordinance to prescribe the penalties that shall be incurred by any owner for neglecting or refusing to make repairs when required, which penalties shall be recovered for the use of the city by prosecution in the name of the people of the State of California, in the court having jurisdiction thereof, and may be applied, if deemed expedient, by the said city council in the payment of the expense of any such repairs not otherwise provided for.

SEC. 4. Section thirty-five of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

struction.

Section 35. The superintendent of streets shall, when in his judgment it is necessary, appoint a suitable person to take charge of and superintend the construction and improvement of each and every sewer constructed or improved under the provisions of this act, and of piling and capping sidewalks, or of the paving of whatever character heretofore mentioned, in whole or in part, of one block or more, whose duty it shall be to see that the contract made for the doing of said work is strictly fulfilled in every respect, and in case of any departure therefrom to report the same to the superintendent of streets. Such person shall be allowed for his time actually employed in the discharge of his duties such compensation as shall be just, but not to exceed five dollars per day. The sum to which the party so employed shall be entitled shall be deemed to be incidental expenses, within the meaning of those words as defined by this act.

construed

Section 53. This act shall be liberally construed to the end that its purposes may be effected. No error, irregularity, informality, and no neglect or omission of any officer of the city, in any proceeding taken hereunder which does not directly affect the jurisdiction of the city council to order the work or improvement, shall avoid or invalidate such proceeding or any assessment for the cost of work done thereunder. The exclusive remedy of any person affected or aggrieved thereby shall be by appeal to the city council as herein provided.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section fifty-four and to read as follows:

ings

Section 54. Whenever in proceedings hereunder the time and place for hearing by the city council is fixed and from any cause the hearing is not then and there held or regularly adjourned to a time and place fixed, the power of the city council in the premises shall not thereby be divested or lost. The city council may fix a time and place for the hearing and cause notice thereof to be given by publication by at least one insertion in a daily, semi-weekly or weekly newspaper published and circulated in said city and designated by the council for that purpose, such publication to be at least five days before the date of the hearing, and thereupon the city council shall have power to act as in the first instance.

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section fifty-five and to read as follows:

CHAPTER 361.

An act to provide for the organization, control and equipment of high school cadet companies, and for the promotion of rifle practice therein, and appropriating the sum of five thousand dollars therefor.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The male students of any high school in this state, having forty or more such students, fourteen years of age or over, may be organized into a high school cadet company, or companies, of not less than forty members each, under such rules and regulations as the governing body of said school may prescribe. Said cadet company, or companies, shall at all times be under the guidance and control of the principal of the said school, whose duty it shall be to make regulations regarding the moral, educational, and physical welfare of said cadets.

High
cadet company.

SEC. 2. Said companies shall each have one captain, one first lieutenant, one second lieutenant, elected by the members thereof, and such non-commissioned officers and privates as correspond to the non-commissioned officers and privates of the infantry companies of the national guard of California, the non-commissioned officers to be appointed by the captain.

Officers.

SEC. 3. In case any high school has more than one company, it shall have one cadet major, who shall be elected by the commissioned officers of the companies; one cadet adjutant, and one sergeant-major, who shall be appointed by the major.

SEC. 4. The principal of such high school may issue commissions to such officers so elected, and warrants to the non-commissioned officers.

Commissions.

SEC. 5. Said cadets shall drill in accordance with the drill regulations prescribed by the United States army.

Drill.

SEC. 6. Said high school cadets may wear a uniform similar to that prescribed for the national guard of California, except that instead of shoulder straps, cadet chevrons indicating rank, and distinctive collar ornaments shall be worn.

Uniform.

Cancellation of commission

SEC. 7. Any commissioned officer, or non-commissioned officer, may have his commission or warrant canceled, and be reduced to the ranks, by the principal of the high school for falling back in his studies, or for misbehavior, either in school, or in the cadet company, or for other good cause appearing in the judgment of said principal.

Rifles.

SEC. 8. A sufficient number of obsolete rifles for drill purposes may be purchased by the board of high school trustees, board of education, county superintendent of schools, or the state superintendent of public instruction, out of any funds available and not otherwise appropriated.

Target practice.

SEC. 9. Target practice shall constitute a part of the instruction to be given to said cadets, and the adjutant general of the state shall purchase and supply to each of said high schools a sufficient number of rifles for Krag-Jorgensen, or other efficient, rifles for field target work and for gallery practice, and ammunition and equipment therefor, as in his judgment shall be necessary for efficient rifle practice. All target practice shall be under the supervision of competent members of the national guard of California, detailed for that purpose by the adjutant general of the state. The expenditures therefor shall be paid out of the moneys hereinafter appropriated.

Drill and rifle practice instructor

SEC. 10. The adjutant general of the state shall detail from the organizations of the national guard, when practicable, some competent member thereof who shall act as drill and rifle practice instructor for said high school cadets. The adjutant general may provide for compensating the person or persons detailed by him to instruct said cadets in drill and target practice.

Use of national guard rifle ranges.

SEC. 11. Whenever practicable, said high school cadets shall be permitted to shoot at target practice upon national guard rifle ranges, when not needed by the national guard, under the supervision of national guard instructors.

Yearly inspection.

SEC. 12. The inspectors of the national guard shall inspect and report on said high school cadet companies at least once each year.

Drill regulations, reports, etc.

SEC. 13. The adjutant general shall provide suitable drill regulations, books of instruction, and the necessary blank forms for reports for each of said high schools having a cadet company, relating to the drill, target practice, attendance, discipline, and condition of property of said high school cadet organizations. Such reports shall be made and forwarded, in duplicate, one copy to the state superintendent of public instruction, and one copy to the adjutant general's office, semi-annually, and shall bear the indorsement of the principal of said school, containing such remarks as the principal may deem pertinent.

Principal responsible for property

SEC. 14. The principal of the school shall be responsible for all public property supplied to said cadet companies, and shall supervise the proper care thereof.

School trustees, etc., to cooperate

SEC. 15. Each and every board of high school trustees, board of education, county superintendent of schools, and the state superintendent of public instruction, are, and each is hereby authorized, empowered, and directed to facilitate the purposes of this act, by coöperating with the adjutant general of the state.

SEC. 16. The sum of five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated from funds in the state treasury, and not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. Appropriation

SEC. 17. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 362.

An act making an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars, being an additional appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the building, equipping and furnishing of an armory to be used for the national guard and national guard purposes, in the city of Los Angeles, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 25, 1909.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury, not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred thousand dollars to be paid to, and expended by the officer or officers authorized by law to receive the same, being an additional appropriation for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of an act entitled, "An act to provide for the building, equipping and furnishing of an armory to be used for the national guard and national guard purposes, in the city of Los Angeles, and to make an appropriation therefor," approved March 25, 1909. Appropriation:
armory.
Los Angeles.

SEC. 2. The controller of the state is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the officer or officers authorized by law to receive the same, for the amount herein made payable in such amounts and at such times as may be approved by the state board of examiners, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 363.

An act to amend section 2181 of the Civil Code of the State of California, defining what shall be considered baggage or luggage to be carried by common carriers, and prescribing the method of preparing such baggage for shipment.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2181 of the Civil Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Baggage to be carried by common carriers.

2181. Luggage may consist of whatever the passenger takes with him for his personal use and convenience, according to the habits or wants of the particular class to which he belongs, either with reference to the important necessities or to the ultimate purposes of his journey. Luggage within the meaning of this section shall include the samples, case, wares, appliances and catalogs of commercial travelers or their employers, used by them for the purpose of transacting their business and carried with them solely for that purpose, when securely packed and locked in substantial trunks or sample cases of convenient shape and weight for handling. No crate cover or other protection shall be required for any bicycle carried as luggage, but no passenger shall be entitled to carry as luggage more than one bicycle.

CHAPTER 364.

An act to provide for the purchase by the State of California of the armory building and wharf located on the bay of San Diego, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Appropriation
from armory,
San Diego.

SECTION 1. The sum of thirty-five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be paid to the adjutant general of the State of California, ex officio quartermaster general, to be expended by him in the purchase of the armory building and wharf and all parts thereof known as the naval reserve armory and wharf, located on the bay of San Diego at the foot of Twenty-eighth street, of the city of San Diego, California, for the use of the naval militia of the State of California.

SEC. 2. Before the payment or payments are made for the said building and wharf it must be shown to the quartermaster general that the building has been finished in a workmanlike manner, properly painted, and electric wired, and that the piling of said wharf has been concreted in a proper manner.

SEC. 3. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrant or warrants in favor of the person or persons at such times and in such sums as said adjutant general shall present claims for, and the treasurer is directed to pay the same.

CHAPTER 365.

An act to amend sections 3447, 3448, 3449, 3450, 3453, 3454, 3455, 3456, 3457, 3460, 3461, 3462, 3463, 3465, 3466, 3466½, 3476, 3478, 3480, 3481, 3483, 3489 and 3492 of the Political Code of the State of California, and to repeal sections 3464, 3475 and 3493½ of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to reclamation and swamp land districts.

[Approved April 5, 1911.]

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3447 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3447. The petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, and must be published for four weeks preceding the hearing thereof in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the greater part of the lands are situated, together with a notice of the time when said petition will be presented to the board of supervisors; an affidavit of publication must be filed with such petition.

Verification of petition

Publication.

SEC. 2. Section 3448 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3448. When a district is situated partly in different counties, the trustees must, after the petition has been granted, forward a copy thereof and a copy of the order approving the same to the clerk of the board of supervisors of each of the counties in which any portion of the district may lie.

When district is in different counties.

SEC. 3. Section 3449 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3449. If the board of supervisors find, on the hearing of the petition, that its statements are correct, they must make an order approving the same. If it be shown that any land has been improperly included in the proposed district, they must, in their order, exclude the same therefrom. If the board shall conclude that any lands susceptible of the same mode of reclamation have been improperly omitted from the proposed district, and the owners thereof shall not have appeared at such hearing, the board of supervisors shall by order continue the further hearing of the said petition, and direct that notice be given to all such non-appearing land owners, requiring them to appear before said board, and show cause, if any they have, why their lands should not be included in the proposed district. Said notice must be given by publication in the same manner as the original petition and for the same period. Proof of publication of the said notice shall be filed with the clerk of said board on or before the day to which such continuance is had. The board may grant further continuances, by order entered upon their minutes to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter the board shall make an order approving the said petition, as originally presented, or in a modified form, such order shall describe the exterior boundaries of the district, as determined by the board, and shall be endorsed upon or attached to the petition, and be signed by the president and attested by the clerk of the board.

Approval of petition.

Proof of publication.

SEC. 4. Section 3450 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recording of petition.

3450. The petition, together with the order of the board, endorsed thereon or attached thereto, must then be re-recorded by the county recorder in a book kept for the purpose of recording papers relating to reclamations, and a certified copy thereof forwarded to the register of the state land office.

SEC. 5. Section 3453 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election of district trustees.

3453. After the formation of the district and the adoption of by-laws, the board of supervisors of the county where the greater part of the district is situated, on the application of a landowner of the district, must call an election in compliance with the provisions of section thirty-four hundred and ninety-one of this code, at which election there must be elected, under and in pursuance of the provisions of said section thirty-four hundred and ninety-one, three eligible persons, who shall constitute, when elected and qualified, the board of trustees of the district for the management of the affairs thereof, and who shall hold office for two years next succeeding their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified. The board of trustees must keep an office in or near the district for the transaction of the business thereof, and the books, maps, papers, records, contracts, and other documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open to inspection at all times by any person interested. From and after the election of said trustees said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue and be sued. The trustees of any reclamation district may commence a proceeding in the superior court of the county where the greater portion of the district is situated to determine the legality of the existence of such district. The complaint in such proceeding shall describe the district by number and the exterior boundaries thereof, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal reclamation district. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county where any part of said district is situated. Within thirty days after the last publication of said summons any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer shall be filed, the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed, the court shall thereafter proceed as in other civil cases, but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding been prosecuting or maintaining its works of reclamation in good faith. The proceeding under this section is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem, and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California. No proceeding in quo warranto, nor any similar action or proceeding, shall be maintained in the name of the people of the State of California against any reclamation district that shall have continuously for five years next preceding the commencement of such proceeding been acting as such and prosecuting or maintaining its works of reclamation in good faith; provided, that this provision shall not affect proceedings that are now pending.

No proceeding against district which has existed five years.

SEC. 6. Section 3454 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3454. The board of trustees shall have the power to elect one of its members president thereof; to employ engineers and others to survey, plan, locate, and estimate the cost of the works necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district; to thereafter, at any time, in its discretion, modify or change such original plan or plans, or adopt new, supplemental, or additional plan or plans, when, in its judgment, the same shall have become necessary; to acquire by purchase, condemnation, or other legal means, the right of way, and the right to take material for the construction of all works necessary for the accomplishment of that object, including drains, canals, sluices, bulkheads, watergates, levees, embankments and pumping plants, and to construct, maintain, and keep in repair all works requisite and necessary to that end; and to do all other acts and things necessary or required for the reclamation of the lands embraced in the district. The several members of the board shall each be entitled to receive for actual and necessary services performed, and for expenses incurred by them, respectively, for and in the interest of the district, such compensation as the board may determine to be just and reasonable and shall allow the same which shall constitute an indebtedness of the district, which must be paid in the same manner, and out of the same fund, as other debts of the district: provided, that no warrant or order drawn for such purpose shall be valid until approved by the board of supervisors of the proper county. No trustee shall be disqualified from participating in any and all proceedings or actions of the board of trustees, excepting that he shall not cast the deciding vote upon a motion or resolution to pay money, or award a contract, directly to himself. Any meeting of the trustees at which all of the members of the board are present shall be deemed a regular meeting, at which any business may be transacted.

Meetings.

SEC. 7. Section 3455 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Plans to be reported to supervisors.

3455. The board of trustees must report to the board of supervisors of the county where the district of the greater portion thereof is situated, such original plan or plans of the work; and every such new, supplemental, or additional plan, if any, together with the estimates of the cost of the works necessary for the reclamation of the lands of the district in pursuance of any such plan or plans; together, also, with an estimate of incidental expenses. The said plan or plans and estimates may include any levees or other reclamation works already constructed, and payments therefor may be made to the person or persons who constructed the same, or to the grantee of the lands for the benefit of which such levees or other works of reclamation were constructed by the owner of such lands, and no trustee shall be disqualified to make or approve such plans or estimates because of his ownership of any levee or other reclamation works included in such plan, or the cost of which is embraced in said estimates, but he shall be disqualified to vote for the issuance of any warrant or order to himself in payment therefor.

SEC. 8. Section 3456 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Commissioners assess charges for reclamation.

3456. The board of supervisors of the county in which the district is situated, or if the district is in more than one county, then the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the land in said district is situated, must appoint three commissioners, who shall have no interest in any real estate within said district, each of whom, before entering upon his duties, shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of a commissioner to the best of his ability. Said commissioners must view and assess upon the land within said district the said sum so estimated and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said district, respectively, by reason of the expenditures of said sums of money, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States. The same must be collected and paid into the county treasury as hereinafter provided, and be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out for the works of reclamation upon the warrants of the trustees, approved by the board of supervisors, or, if bonds of such district have been issued upon said assessment, then said treasurer shall set the same apart as a separate fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of such bonds, and shall not pay any part of the moneys received from such assessment for any purpose other than the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds.

SEC. 9. Section 3457 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3457. The warrants drawn by the trustees must, after they are approved by the board of supervisors, be presented to the treasurer of the county, and if they are not paid on presentation, such indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered and bear interest from the date of such warrant at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and such warrants are and shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period prescribed for the commencement of an action based upon said warrants, or connected therewith, is and shall be the term of four years from the date of their issuance. Any owner of land in the district may at any time pay any assessment thereon (excepting an assessment upon which bonds have been issued), or any part thereof, with warrants of the district. No warrant shall be paid or received on an assessment, except within four years after the date of its issuance. The board of trustees and the treasurer must cancel all warrants not paid within four years after date of issuance; provided, that any warrant not paid or received on assessment within four years after the issuance may, before the expiration of such four years, upon the demand of the owner or holder, be extended for a like period of four years, upon the presentation of the same to the board of trustees of the district, such extension being indorsed thereon by said board and a record thereof filed with the treasurer. In case an action or proceeding based upon any warrant or connected therewith, be commenced within four years after the issuance of such warrant, and final judgment be obtained in favor of the holder or owner thereof, such warrant shall be paid or received on assessment the same as if it had been paid or received on assessment before the expiration of said four years from the date of its issuance. In any proceedings for a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to issue a warrant, if a controversy arises as to the amount that may be due to the plaintiff, the court must determine the same in the manner provided for determining controversies in other civil actions, and shall cause a writ to issue for such sum as may be found to be due.

Warrants

SEC. 10. Section 3460 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3460. The commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors must make a list of the charges assessed against each tract of land; and if there be any error or mistake in the description of the land, or in the name of the owner, or if any land which should be assessed has been or shall be omitted from the list, or if there is any error or mistake in any other respect, the commissioners may amend or correct the same at any time before the lists shall have been approved by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided.

Commissioners to make assessment list.

SEC. 11. Section 3461 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

List must contain.

3461. The list must contain—

1. A description of each tract assessed by legal subdivisions, swamp-land surveys, or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same.

2. The number of acres in each tract.

3. The names of the owners of each tract, if known; and if unknown, that fact; but no mistake or error in the name of the owner or supposed owner of the property assessed, and no mistake in any other particular, shall render the assessment thereof invalid.

4. The amount of the charge assessed against each tract.

SEC. 12. Section 3462 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Lists to be filed.

3462. Said lists, when completed, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county. The board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections to said assessment, and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county.

Objections to assessment.

At any time before the date of such hearing, any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed may file written objections to such assessment, stating the grounds of such objections, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person, or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At said hearing the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objection and may modify or amend the said assessment in any particular, or make a reapportionment of the entire assessment. If the amount of any assessment in said list shall be changed, the board of supervisors shall set a day for hearing objections to said assessment as changed, and shall give notice thereof by publication for two weeks in some newspaper published in the county. At such hearing objections in writing may be made by any person interested and the board of supervisors shall proceed to hear the same in the same manner as upon the original hearing. If the amount of any assessment shall again be changed the board of supervisors shall proceed as before to give notice and to hear objections thereto, and shall proceed in a similar manner until the amount of each assessment shall be finally fixed and approved. The board of supervisors shall then make an order approving said assessment, and shall endorse such order upon said assessment list, which said endorsement shall be signed by the chairman of said board of supervisors and attested by the clerk thereof, and such decision of said board of supervisors shall be final, and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence that the said assessment has been made and levied according to law, except in an action commenced as hereinafter provided.

The lists shall then be filed with the county treasurer, or, if the district is situated in more than one county, then the original list must be filed in the county where the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated, and copies thereof certified by the treasurer must be filed with the treasurer of each of the other counties. No objection to such assessment shall be considered by the board of supervisors, or allowed in any other action or proceeding, unless such objection shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors as above specified. Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of said district is situated to have said assessment corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said assessment list has been filed in the office of the county treasurer. If said action shall not be commenced within thirty days, no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said assessment in any respect.

SEC. 13. Section 3463 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3463. From and after the filing of the list or certified copy thereof with the treasurer, the charges assessed upon any tract of land within the county shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons. No subsequent act or conduct of the trustees shall invalidate said assessment or lien, but such trustees may be compelled by mandate, or other proper proceeding, to perform their duties as required by law.

SEC. 14. Section 3465 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3465. The lists must remain in the office of the treasurer for thirty days; and during the time they so remain any person may pay the amount of the charge assessed against any tract of land, to the treasurer, in gold coin of the United States, or in warrants of the district drawn by order of the trustees thereof, and approved by the board of supervisors of the county.

Payment.

SEC. 15. Section 3466 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3466. At the end of thirty days, the treasurer must return the lists to the board of trustees of the district, and all unpaid assessments shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and shall be collected and paid in separate installments, of such amounts, and at such times, respectively, as the board, from time to time, in its discretion, may, by order entered in its minutes, direct; if any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of the order, then said installment shall become delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon, and ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto, and collected for the use of the district; provided, further, that the trustees must on the first

Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the trustees of the district must publish a notice at least once each week for three weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where said district, or the greater part thereof, is situated, which notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such is the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, the amount of the interest at the date of delinquency, the amount of the penalty that has been added as above provided, and a notice that the property assessed will be sold on a date therein stated, in front of the court house of said county, to pay said installment with accrued interest and the penalty hereinbefore specified. At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the trustees must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the trustees must pay the amount of said installment with the accrued interest thereon and the penalty herein provided for to the county treasurer, who shall place the same in the proper funds of said district, and the trustees must pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining after such payment to the county treasurer. The trustees may postpone said sale from time to time by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty, the district shall become the purchaser, and the said property must be struck off to the district for the amount of said installment, accrued interest and penalty. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the trustees to the purchaser, or to the district, if the property shall have been struck off to the district, and said certificate of sale shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of said county. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying to the county treasurer the amount of said installment with the accrued interest and penalty, and interest on the said sums at the rate of two per cent per month from the date of said sale.

If no redemption shall be made within said one year, the purchaser, or the district, if said property shall have been sold to the district, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said trustees, and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and incumbrances, excepting state, county and municipal taxes, and the unpaid balance of said assessment, which said balance must be called in and collected in the same manner as other assessments; provided, that where said property shall have been deeded to the district and shall not have been sold by the trustees, the same shall not be offered for sale for subsequent installments of said assessment so long as the district shall remain the owner of said property, but the trustees may sell said property at any time at public auction after notice given for the same period and in the same manner as is herein provided for sales for delinquent installments, but not for a sum less than all delinquent unpaid installments with accrued interest and penalties, and the deed executed in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all incumbrances, except state, county and other municipal taxes and the unpaid balance of said assessment. Assessments heretofore made in any reclamation district shall be validated and collected in the manner provided by law at the time such assessments were made.

Sec. 16. Section 3466½ of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3466½. In all cases in which an assessment shall have been levied or shall hereafter be levied for reclamation purposes upon the lands embraced within any reclamation district, and if the assessment upon any tract or tracts of land shall have thereafter been adjudged invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, or if, for any reason, any tract or tracts of land shall not have been charged with said assessment, then such tract or tracts of land shall be charged in any subsequent assessment with such proportion of the former assessment, as the benefits derived by said land from the reclamation works for which said former assessment was levied bears to the whole amount of said former assessment; or a subsequent re-assessment of such tract or tracts of land may be made separately for the purpose of charging said land with its proper proportion of the costs of reclamation. Such re-assessment shall be made by commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors as provided in section 3456 of this code, and must be made and approved in the same manner as other assessments.

SEC. 16.

Sec. 17. Section 3476 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

3476. Whenever the trustees, or owners of land, if there be no trustees, certify under oath to the board of supervisors of the county where the greater part of the district is situated, and show to their satisfaction that the works of reclamation are completed, or that two dollars per acre, in gold coin, has been expended on the works of reclamation, the board of supervisors must thereupon certify such facts to the register. When the works of reclamation are completed and any money remains in the county treasury to the credit of any district, or when for any reason there is any money to the credit of said district in said treasury which may not be needed for the purposes of such district the board of trustees may, by an order entered on the records of said board, cause such money to be distributed amongst the owners of land within said district in such proportion as the owners of said lands contributed to the creation of said fund through assessments or otherwise.

SEC. 18. Section 3478 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

All reclamation districts subject to provisions of Political Code.

3478. All reclamation districts now legally existing in this state, which were created by or formed under the provisions of any statute of the state, shall henceforth be subject to the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California relating to reclamation districts the same as though such districts had been formed by or created under the provisions of said code relating to "swamp and overflowed, salt marsh and tide lands"; provided, that this provision shall not affect any proceeding that shall have been already commenced for the levy or collection of assessments in such districts when this act takes effect; nor shall it affect any act done or performed in relation to the affairs of such districts prior to such last mentioned date, nor the indebtedness of such districts theretofore incurred, excepting as to the method of liquidating such indebtedness; and all the provisions of the Political Code for assessments and issuing bonds by reclamation districts are hereby made applicable to the districts mentioned in this section.

SEC. 19. Section 3480 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonds may be issued.

3480. Whenever, in any reclamation district in this state, now formed or which may hereafter be formed, any assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district, and remains unpaid in whole or in part, and where in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district it would be for the best interests of said district or the land owners therein to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of reclamation, the indebtedness of the district, or any other legal charge, or when a petition signed by the owners of more than one half of the land in the district is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall by order entered upon the records of said board order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by said board of trustees, at which said special election shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of trustees in its records and stated by them in the order for such special election.

Special election.

Notice of election.

Notice of such special election must be given by the board of trustees by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of the district to act as a board of election. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district. the value thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment roll of the county where the same is situated, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election, procure from the assessor of each county where any portion of the district is situated a list, certified by such assessor, containing a description of all the lands of the district situated in such county, the name of the person to whom each tract is assessed and the value thereof as appears from the assessment roll of said county, which said list shall be furnished to and be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them. Where a tract of land is situated partly within and partly without the boundaries of such district and the assessment roll contains a valuation of said tract of land as a whole, the same must be apportioned according to the number of acres lying within and without the boundaries of said district. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words: "Bonds—Yes," or the words: "Bonds—No," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of the voter and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, the number of votes cast and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

If the persons, or any of them appointed and specified in the notice of election as the board of election, fail to attend at the time and place appointed for the election, the voters present at the time for opening the polls may appoint any landholder of the district then present to fill the place of any absent member thereof. Each member of such board of election must, before entering upon his duties as such, take an official oath as such member of the board of election, which said oath may be administered by any officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open for the reception of votes from ten o'clock A. M. until four o'clock P. M. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate, showing the same and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of bonds, to the clerk of the board of supervisors of the county in which the greater portion of the lands of said district is situated and deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to
