MURDER SHOWN BY POSTMORTEM

HANFORD MAN'S BODY EXHUMED TO PERMIT INVESTIGATION

YOUNG RANCHER BEATEN WITH HEAVY WEAPON

Theory of Accidental Death of Lee Camp Dispersed When Rumors of Murder Causes District Attorney to Open Grave.

Hanford.—Discovery that the wounds which caused the death of Lee Camp, rich rancher, could not have been the result of an accidental fall, spurred anew the investigation of District Attorney McKay into persistent rumors that Camp was murdered.

An autopsy held in Fresno on the exhumed body of Camp, revealed twenty separate abrasions on the back of his head. No bones in the body were broken.

"The autopsy surgeon, Dr. C. P. Kjaerby, reported that the wounds on Camp's head could not have been the result of the accidental fall, as has been claimed," said McKay.

"That seems to indicate only one other thing—that Camp was beaten to death. It is now up to us to find who did it. That's all.

"If, as has been maintained, Camp died from a fall from the top of a 32-foot windmill, how do they explain the fact that no bones are broken?"

McKay formally stated the investigation would be continued until the murderer, if there be one, is found.

Camp was found dead, December 14, at the foot of a 32-foot windmill tower on the W. Stanton Brown ranch, where he made his home with the Browns—his foster-father and foster-mother.

A coroner's verdict at that time reported that Camp had come to his death from a fractured skull, incurred accidentally. His will was admitted to probate, bequeathing $17,000 in bonds, cash and personal property to "My foster-mother, Mrs. Jennie Laura Brown, my friend and benefactress, whose efforts in my behalf I can never repay."

It is reported that of the $120,000 life insurance that the young rancher carried was to pay double indemnity in case of accidental death. Should the latter be proved, the insurance would amount to almost $200,000 alone. In addition Camp left an estate amounting to $17,000 cash and bonds and $50,000 in real estate.

JAPANESE TARS IN COLLISION ELEVEN ARE DROWNED

Vancouver, B. C.—Looming suddenly out of the rain mists of the night, a big railroad car barge, in tow of the tug Nanoose, crushed a steam pinnace of the Japanese cruiser Izuma and brought death to eleven of the crew. There were twelve men and a midshipman aboard the pinnace which was towing a naval barge with eighty seamen out to the anchorage of the Izuma, when without warning the Nanoose, with heavily laden consort appeared.

The accident took place at 11:30 Saturday night in the inner harbor as the liberty men of the Japanese training squadron were returning to their ships, laughing and jesting, from the dozen banquets arranged for their entertainment by citizens' organizations.

Chaldean Tablets Dig Up

London.—History is going right along repeating itself. On the site of ancient Ur of the Chaldees in Mesopotamia, a joint expedition of the British museum and the University of Pennsylvania has been excavating the ruins. Dispatches from the expedition relate that the excavators had discovered clay tablets bearing writing. The tablets contained the record of the investigations and excavating of Chaldean archaeologists, who were turning up the buried debris of previous civilizations 700 years before Christ.

Forbes-Thompson Appeal

Chicago.—Colonel Charles R. Forbes former director of the United States veterans' bureau, and John W. Thompson, St. Louis contractor, both convicted and sentenced to two years at Leavenworth and fined $10,000 each, for conspiracy to defraud the government in awarding hospital contracts, will carry their case to the circuit court of appeal.

2,500-Mile No-Stop Flight

Paris.—Two French aviators, have completed a non-stop flight from Paris to Senegal. A world record is claimed by French aeronautical authorities, the distance from Paris to Dakar being slightly more than 2520 miles covered by Lieuts. O. G. Kelly and J. A. MacReady in a cross-continental flight May 2-3, 1923.

RUMOR OF HOAX STARTS INQUIRY

MILITIA INVESTIGATING CAVE "PUBLICITY" CHARGE

THREAT OF DEATH MADE TO CERTAIN WITNESSES

Accusation of "Fake" Cause Delay in Rescue Work—Governor Orders Thorough Investigation to Clear State's Name.

Cave City, Ky.—While the attempt to reach Floyd Collins goes on, general attention has been focused on the military inquiry into the many rumors which have hampered the rescue work at Sand Cave.

Chief among these rumors is the one that the whole dramatic race with death to save Collins from his rocky tomb grew out of a "publicity stunt," the object of which was to advertise surrounding caves to tourists. This report gained such strength that some rescue workers refused to continue operations.

The military court of inquiry authorized by Governor W. J. Fields will be conducted by Brigadier General H. H. Denhardt.

Occurrences at the cave between the time Collins was found to have been caught in the tomb and when Denhardt took control of the situation, have grown into a scandal that has greatly impeded the rescue work. One element claimed there was nobody in the cave at all.

Others charge that certain persons deliberately tried to prevent rescuers first on the scene from bringing Collins out.

These charges and counter charges resulted in public uncertainty here, which caused the refusal of some rescuers to work.

The explosion came Sunday night when J. Lewis Williams, county prosecutor, announced that he would have the grand jury investigate the situation. At that time he did not know that the governor was to decide upon another investigation.

When he learned the plan for the military inquiry Williams said he would be present to obtain the benefit of the testimony elicited by it. He then will take the matter up with the grand jury if the evidence warrants such action.

The military inquiry is to be rushed so that the situation may be cleared up and public confidence restored as soon as possible. Officials say privately they do not expect to find any real evidence against anybody and chiefly are intent upon stopping the scandal by means of an official finding.

Meanwhile, the digging for Collins goes on. The Louisville and Nashville railroad has sent in more laborers. Work on enlarging the fissure discovered by the gas tests by United States bureau of mines engineers is continuing, but thus far without valuable results.

CORINTH, GREECE, ONCE RICH SEAPORT, TO BE UNEARTHED

Princeton, N. J.—The subterranean mysteries of Corinth, Greece, once the wealthiest seaport on earth, will be the objective of an archaeological expedition to leave Princeton university to begin excavation work on the great theatre there, which has been located opposite Mount Parnassus. It will require about two years to complete the excavation, as all the work must be done by hand.

Work already done has disclosed the spring of Pirene, the fountain of glance, part of the Agora, or the market place, and the stretch of the lachaeum road. As the city was the richest in the world in the seventh century before Christ, particular fruitful results are expected.

Wilhelm Sees World Peril

London.—A warning to the world was sounded by the former German kaiser, in commenting on the treaty signed recently by Japan and Russia. "This treaty portends tremendous changes in the world's outlook," Wilhelm is quoted as saying. "It is a peril which I alone among the rulers of Europe predicted almost a quarter of a century ago. Now it has materialized. France is backing black races; Russia backing yellow; America and England white."

Cave Tragedy Has Sequel

Ventura.—Floyd Collins' imprisonment in a Kentucky cave was blamed for the death of Harold Bastord and Thomas Thompson, two boys killed when a portion of sand cave they were building collapsed. Mrs. John Thompson said her son was interested in reading of Collins' plight and later with several playmates, dug the cave which later brought death.

AMERICA, THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies, For amber waves of grain, For purple mountain majesties Above the fruited plain! America! America! God shed his grace on thee, And crown thy good with brotherhood From sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for pilgrim feet, Whose stern, impassioned stress A thoroughfare for freedom beat Across the wilderness! America! America! God mend thy every flaw, Confirm thy soul in self-control, Thy liberty in law.

O beautiful for heroes proved In liberating strife, Who more than self their country loved, And mercy more than life! America! America! May God thy gold refine Till all success be nobleness, And every gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream That sees beyond the years Thine alabaster cities gleam Undimmed by human tears! America! America! God shed his grace on thee, And crown thy good with brotherhood From sea to shining sea.

FOUR BIRTHDAYS CELEBRATED

A unique party was held in Campbell Sunday when a number of friends assembled to celebrate the birthdays of Mrs. J. L. Hagelin, Mrs. John Brynteson, Miss Ruth Brynteson and Miss Lily Brynteson, the natal day of all falling on February eighth.

The party spent part of the day at the J. L. Hagelin home and the rest of the day until the wee sma' hours at the Brynteson home.

The out of town guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames Lurky, Forsberg, Bergren, Ostland, Walgren, Mrs. J. B. Hedstrom, Misses Marguerite Lurky, Florence and Mabel Forsberg of San Francisco and Miss Cairn Hilding, of San Jose. Besides the honor guests, others of Campbell were, Mr. J. Brynteson, Mr. J. L. Hagelin, Miss Anna Hagelin, Miss Inga Brynteson, Miss Lucile Brynteson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. O. Strom, Misses Alice and Anita Strom, David Strom and Kermit Brynteson.

CONG. FREE PRESENTS DIPLOMAS

Congressman Arthur Free of this district had the unique experience recently of delivering a commencement address to the graduating class of the John Eaton grammar school of Washington, D. C., and on behalf of the District of Columbia presenting a diploma to his own daughter, Geraldine Free, who was a member and valedictorian of the class, she having received that honor among the forty-three graduates.

In addition to delivering the valedictory for her class, Miss Geraldine rendered a piano solo as part of the program of graduation.

Needless to say, one of the interested spectators was Gerald Free, twin brother of Miss Geraldine, who is a student at Devitt's Boys school.

Winthrop Hudson, son of Congressman Hudson of Michigan, was also a member of the graduating class.

CAMPBELL ANNUAL CELEBRATION PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

G OF C SUPPORTS BAY SHORE ROAD

The Campbell Chamber of Commerce held a busy session at the Library last week.

The Grammar School Board advised the Chamber that a recess had been arranged for February 23rd for the annual celebration. A letter of thanks for this action and the use of the school building was authorized sent to the Board.

A communication was received concerning certain anti-California propaganda being published in some eastern papers. The local press was asked to make a statement to help offset the effects. The Chamber voted to support the action of President Whitman and Secretary Farley in connection with the campaign for the Bayshore Highway project.

CAMPBELL DEFEATS SEQUOIA AND 'CATS'

Friday night Campbell's two basketball teams trekked to Redwood city. The unlimited's brought home the fabled bacon in the form of a complete victory. The score was Redwood 21, Campbell 26. The Thirties lost their game but they put up a hard fight. The score was Redwood 12, Campbell 9.

At the end of the first half Redwood City was ahead 3 points. The score was 12-9. Coach Noddin's squad went back in the second half with fire in their eyes. Billy Robinson, Campbell's lanky center, got going and the points started rolling up. Sequoia got their quota too, and the score was close for a time. Then, "Hercules" Sundquist, that big boy who plays guard for Campbell, sunk one from past center, cinching the game. Foley, Redwood's fast little forward had to be removed from the last few minutes of play. The score at the close of the game was 21-26 with the red and white victors.

Billy Robinson played a good game but was rather slow getting started. Bonascorso played with his usual dash and fight. Coach Noddin has a team that is hard to beat.

The line-ups for Campbell are: B team: Forwards, Monte, Hedegard, Hummel, Gardner; center, Kalas; guard, Cramer, Nishita. A team: Forwards, Clark, Bonascorso, M. Nelson, Duncan, C. Nelson; center, Robinson; guards Captain Reed, Sundquist, Shelley.

The team was supported by a big delegation of enthusiastic rooters.

At the local gym Tuesday afternoon our boys gave the Gem City "wild cats" an unmerciful drubbing by a score of 46 to 4. Nuff said.

Friday night, February 13, Campbell plays Palo Alto in the Campbell Gymnasium.

BLAND-MEREDITH

The wedding of Miss Mary Belle Bland, of Campbell, and Mr. Sherwood Earl Meredith, of Santa Cruz, was solemnized on Sunday afternoon at the Bland home, corner of Pine and Hicks avenues. The service was read by Rev. W. E. Eckles, of Campbell in the presence of immediate friends and relatives of the family.

PTA Serves Lunch

February 22 will soon be with us again and interest is centered upon our annual Old Settlers' Celebration. This is the first day of the year which is observed by any town in the county and very fittingly has come to have a patriotic theme in the days celebration as well as the original thought.

This is our "Home Coming Day" when former residents and High School Alumnae are especially invited to visit us again and participate in the events of the day.

As the years advance, of course there are fewer of the pioneer old settlers but the successive generations in turn become old settlers.

To insure its success the support and co-operation of the whole community is essential. The committees and chairman need the enthusiastic help of each one. Invite your friends to come "back home" for the day, make yourself a committee of one to do something in the way of decoration and to be a reception committee to assist visitors and strangers.

The music and program committees are busy with plans and arrangements are rapidly nearing completion for that part of the day's pleasure. Athletic events and evening entertainment will be provided to round out a full day.

The high school P. T. A. at its meeting Tuesday afternoon voted to take charge of serving the noon lunch at the grammar school cafeteria. This will afford an opportunity to many who wish a real holiday to take the family out to dinner and be spared the labor of providing dinner.

STATE GROCER OFFICERS FEASTED

The state officers of the California Retail Grocers Association were guests of the Santa Clara County unit at a banquet held at Campbell Tuesday evening. The guests were President Gorham King, of Red Bluff, Secretary Frank Connelly, of San Francisco, State Director A. M. Blount, Past President John McDonald and County Secretary A. F. Marsh.

These officers spoke on their various departments of the organization. A most delightful dinner had been prepared by Mesdames L. S. Miller, Horace Lea, and J. B. Strong of the Campbell membership as the following menu will show:

- Menu Fruit Salad by J. C. Ainsley Packing Co. Campbell, California. with Gold Medal Mayonnaise supplied by P. Trimborn Baked Ham Sandwiches with Modesto Butter Kraft Swiss Cheese Sandwiches Cheese, B. Hiller, Kraft Distr. Bread from Faultless Bakery Keystone Coffee with American Dairy Cream Cake from Faultless Bakery, San Jose Candy Fox-Cross Candy Co. Cookies from National Biscuit Co. Apples from Blase Bros. Co., San Jose Cigars

Fifty diners sat at the banquet Campbell being represented by Messrs. and Mesdames Horace Lea, L. S. Miller, and J. B. Strong and J. E. Gamo.

The diners were given a musical treat in the rendition of two vocal solos by Mrs. R. H. Hyde, accompanied by Mrs. G. S. Robson.

ANTI-CALIFORNIA PROPAGANDA IS BUNK

A statement has been given wide circulation in a number of eastern newspapers and one north western journal, that tourists in California "will be taxed for all they own", which item appeared under several scare head captions.

This article was sent out from San Francisco by a newspaper syndicate under a Sacramento date line which apparently gave it authenticity.

M. D. Lack, secretary of the State Board of Equalization (The body which interprets and administers California tax laws) says "The fact is there is no law adopted at the last election which brings into taxation any property that has not been taxable for many years.

D. P. Flynn, President of the California County Assessors Association states "Visitors and tourists in California need have no fear of the California tax assessors.

Mr. Lack goes on to explain that the poll tax law recently enacted has been interpreted to mean residents of California and the other sections which have been so mistakenly published are designed to reduce taxes of those already living here rather than to make increases for anyone.

Thru the various Chambers of Commerce, the Press and other public organizations of the state, it is hoped that this detrimental propaganda may be controverted.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

With every approach of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, February 12, comes a renewed sense of devotion on the part of the American people to seek men for public office whose honesty and sincerity overshadows all other qualities. Able men are found on every hand; in affairs of state, in great corporations and institutions. Eminent and scholarly men and women attain fame and distinction in science and letters. Genius abounds in great public undertakings, and creative ability finds expression in the arts and inventions. But it remained for Lincoln to combine that quality of integrity with his masterful genius in drawing forces for good that the world can not quite forget.

Lincoln, in his time, claimed the respect of those who did not enter into full accord with his policies; and the Lincoln of today—the memory of the man—holds its full share of reverence, and stands as a shining light to beckon the most to attain the marks of good citizenship.

CURING THE WAR DISEASE

Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wife of one of the richest men in the world, says the most important thing in the world is the cause and cure of war, thus intimating that war is a disease; and the conference of nine national women's organizations at which she made the statement is seeking means to diagnose war and treat it with such remedies as may be found.

War is a disease, and one of the most palpable, chronic afflictions that ever infected humanity.
Internationally, the causes of war are more mental than physical; more prophetic than real.
It is when the war germ takes effect and the fever rises that nations begin to reap their harvests of disaster.

Just as modern science, through prevention and sanitation, is conquering disease, let it be hoped that forces now at work in the world will be able to produce a vaccine that will not only prevent, but will annihilate all possibility of international discord that tells people to go out and kill one another. All that prevents this among enlightened nations is a difference of opinion regarding methods. Ounces of prevention save tons of leaden bullets.

VALENTINES

The origin of Valentine's Day is known to have been because of two saints of that name, the festivals of both falling on February 14. No one seems to know to which one the day most rightfully belongs. Both belonged to the period of the emperor Claudius, both died the same day, and both were buried on the same road leading out from Rome. It is also said that the association of "lover's notes" with Valentine's Day is purely accidental, or, at most, devised by writers of fiction.

Barring those who may observe the day on religious grounds, Valentine's Day has become to most of us a mere passing fancy, a day for paper-frilled picture-cards with red hearts in the center; and to others an opportunity to "get even" with some person by letting him know what is thought of him by sending the anonymous grotesque caricature.

LAW AGAINST JAY-WALKING

The city council of Los Angeles has fallen in line with other misguided lawmaking bodies in prohibiting "jay-walking," or in more explicit terms, crossing the street between intersections.
A few days ago the first arrest was made under the new ordinance. The victim was a man who crossed the street between blocks at 2 o'clock in the morning! And at this writing, we read that another man, who was about to be arrested for violating the jay-walking law, simply let loose and poked the policeman one in the jaw.

When, O when, shall the American people have a vacation from senseless law passing!
When it gets so a fellow can't cross the street of a city of these United States without being thrown in jail, it is time to call a halt. They argue that this will prevent accidents. So it may. So would a law to prohibit one walking up stairs in his own home. The question is deeper than accident prevention. It strikes at freedom, smacks at tyranny, it invades private rights to an extent that will undoubtedly cause just resentment and, in the long run, injurious reaction.

ALL IS NOT SAFE THAT FLIVVERS

Contrary to what might seem the case, transportation under ground and above ground is safer than on the ground. When we first heard of a subway, we shuddered. Yet it is shown that the subway car is the safest car in the world.
to ride upon. It is also true that in proportion to the number of machines of each class, there have been fewer fatalities in airplanes than by automobiles. Things are not always what they seem, even in matters of transportation.

W. C. T. U. NOTICE

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Kennedy next Wednesday, February 18. It is hoped that a good attendance may be had, as our county president, Mrs. Hollingsworth, is very anxious that an institute be held in Campbell on March 14, for which plans must be made at this meeting.

A silver tea and program will follow the business session. The proceeds of the tea will apply on our contribution to the Frances E. Willard Memorial fund. All friends of the organization are cordially invited.

Douglas Schuyler

The whole community was shocked by the sudden death from scarlet fever, last Thursday, of Douglas Schuyler, the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Schuyler.

Douglas was a little over six years old and had lived the most of his short life right here among us and everybody loved him. He was in his first year of school where he had already shown that he was a child of unusual promise. He had just been promoted to the second grade, which he would have entered on last Monday. His mind was alert and by his bright, cheerful disposition, he made friends of everyone. He loved the Bible stories and verses with which his mind was stored, both through instruction in the home and the Sabbath school, and many times during his illness, he wanted to have them retold to him. Not only did the Bible stories appeal to him, but any stories of real people.

The simple and fitting services were held in the open on Friday afternoon at the family home on Quito road, and at the Los Gatos cemetery where he was laid to rest.

The sympathy and love of many friends was shown by the many beautiful flowers which covered the burial plot. The hearts of the entire community go out to the parents, grandparents and brother in this their time of great loss.

"KIDDIES NIGHT" AT CAMPBELL GRANGE

Orchard City Grange held a "Kiddies" night Tuesday evening. The Kiddies behaved themselves very well while the grange was in session. Many of them made remarkably good speeches for such young birds.

Messrs. Woodbury, Clendenin and Hedegard, spoke on the water conservation question which is to be voted on in the near future. The importance of this matter cannot be overestimated. When the time comes every voter should go to the poles and vote for water conservation as the water level of the valley is constantly going down. Even town people are vitally interested for the more difficult it is to get water the more we will have to pay for it whether for orchard irrigation or for domestic use. But if the water that runs to waste during flood times, can be stored in reservoirs in the mountains and gradually drawn off as needed, this will serve not only for irrigation purposes but will fill up the underground reservoirs as well. The first vote on this question is not for the bonds, but to decide whether people want water conservation or not, and to provide for some preliminary expenses which will amount to less than 50 cents on $1000 assessments. Then sometime afterwards when it is known just what is necessary to do and what the expense will be, there will be a bond election called to provide for the expense of the conservation system, and these funds will be paid for by those who are directly benefited, if they are voted.

G. R. Warren, a past master from Michigan, was present and gave a short talk on grange work, interspersed by some pleasing stories.

Most of the committee reports were cut short to give more time to the kiddies who now took charge of the meeting. Miss Mary Fablinger acted as school marm, called on several of the kiddies to speak their pieces or sing their songs, which was done in primitive style, to the great amusement of those present. Then three judges were appointed to award presents to the contest kiddies, consisting of Mr. Hedegard, Mrs. Knaack and Mrs. Morton. They took their places on the platform and the room full of kiddies marched around and around until the judges decided that Miss Jenkins and Mr. Rea were entitled to the prizes. Miss Jenkins received a kiddie's broom and Mr. Rea, a little tin pail. They at once sat down on the floor and began to play in the sand just as pleased as any kid you ever saw. Mr. Rea had on an old straw hat and overalls with one of the shoulder straps broken that hung down his back. He also had a sling shot and beans in his pocket, which occupied much of his attention as well as others at times. But if you want to know how Miss Jenkins was dressed, you will have to ask her—I can't describe it.

The Grange now adjourned to the banquet hall, where they held a regular old fashioned jamboree; dancing, drop the handkerchief, and all sorts of stunts, all going on at once, accompanied by Mrs. Whitney at the organ. All now joined in a grand march and were served with a light repast by the committee in charge as they passed around, all getting a large candy heart—"your Valentine."

Martna E. Elkin

Martha Elizabeth Elkin passed away Monday, February 9, at the home of her sister, Mrs. A. J. Jones in Campbell. The deceased was born in Jacksonville, Ill., June 30, 1847. She came to California in 1900 and spent twenty years at Santa Cruz and the last five years with her sister here, who is the lone survivor of the family. Until recently she had been in fairly good health. About two weeks ago she suffered a paralytic stroke and had been confined to her bed since. Interment was made at Odd Fellows cemetery, Santa Cruz, arrangements being made by the Melvin Funeral Parlors of Los Gatos.

The sympathy of their friends are expected Mr. and Mrs. Jones in their bereavement.

SENIOR PLAY WELL ON WAY

The Senior class of Campbell high school will depart from the usual sentimental drama to produce the "Beggars on Horseback" one of the gayest satires that has been on the New York boards. The play opened late in February in New York and played to the largest receipts of all non-musical productions. It is the latest play of Kaufman and Connelly, creators of the big success, "Merton of the Movies."

The "Beggars on Horseback" shows a skillful blending of fantasy and satire. It is an unusual play of high comedy which the Seniors are working hard upon and which will appeal to people of all ages. It is full of surprises and unique features, but more about that part later.

The following cast has been selected:

- Neil McRae Beverly Davis
- Cynthia Mason..... Stella Phinney
- Dr. Albert Rice Milton Nelson
- Mr. Cady Dean Gwinn
- Mrs. Cady Patrice Smith
- Homer Cady Jim Hogan
- Gladys Cady Grace Larry
- Miss Hey Catherine Pugh
- Miss You Aline Smith
- Candy Boy John Hummel

Oldest Congressman Retires

Washington.—Representative Sherwood, Democrat, Ohio, Civil war veteran and at the age of 90, the oldest member of the house, in delivering his "swan song" treated members to reminiscences of yesteryears. He recalled that it was fifty-two years since he had entered congress and that only one of his colleagues at that time is alive.—"Uncle Joe" Cannon. General Sherwood said that in his younger days, "Those two crime breeders, the bootleggers' league and the Anti-Saloon league, had not yet appeared."

Pear Growers to Meet in San Jose

The Pear Growers meeting to be held at Hotel Vendome Tuesday the 17th, under the auspices of the California Pear Growers Association, will be the third annual meeting in San Jose, covering the districts of Santa Clara and San Benito counties. Pear Growers who are not members of the association are as cordially invited to this meeting as are the members, and as several pear men from various points in the state will give instructive talks and all kinds of questions answered, every local pear grower will learn something by being there.

The meeting will be opened in the Gray Room of the Hotel at 10 a. m. Luncheon will be served in the dining room at 12, and in the afternoon there will be talks by speakers representing the several branches of the industry, including the shipping end. All of the morning session will be devoted to the discussion of local and pear association business.

The pear acreage in this county totals more than 6,600 acres, and considerable additional acreage, both of canning and shipping pears, is being planted this winter. It is an important local industry, and it is steadily expanding year by year.

His Motto "Safety First"

There's a bootblack who was not at all in favor of war and went to France because he had to. His motto was "Safety First." The result was that when the troop made its first advance, Sam, at the first sound of firing, dropped flat on the ground.

"Get up," yelled the officer. "What's the big idea?"

"Ah was jes' playin' dead," said Sam. "Ah believes dat when in Rome, do as de Romans do."

"Well," snapped the officer, "it doesn't make any difference where you thought you were before, but now you're in Dutch," and Sam went on K. P., P. D. Q.—Los Angeles Times.

Be ours in years to be,
And prizes rich make glad the
We plod so anxiously,
But none for beauty and for love

WESTERN BANKERS TO HEAR REYNOLDS

Chicago Financier Will Speak at San Francisco Conference February 20.

George M. Reynolds, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago, will answer the question: "What is the basis for business confidence?" when he addresses delegates at the banquet to be held in San Francisco, when the Western Regional Savings Conference of the American Bankers Association concludes its two day meeting in San Francisco, February 19 and 20.

The selection of Geo. M. Reynolds to deliver the final talk of the Conference, is the culmination of a diversified program as has been prepared for any bankers' gathering in this country. The activities will start Wednesday, February 18, when the American Institute of Banking holds a public speaking contest, at which a representative of each of the organization's chapters in the eleven western states will be asked to participate. The subject chosen for the speakers is: "How Savings Banking Helps the Community." The winner of this contest will be invited to address one of the general sessions of the convention. A suitable trophy will be presented to the winners of first and second place. E. V. Krick, president of the National Institute organization, is in charge of all arrangements for the contest.

Arrangements have been made for the reception and registration of all delegates, at the St. Francis Hotel, official headquarters for the convention. Immediately, an opportunity will be given to view the specially arranged exhibit of bank appliances. This display, a unique feature of the convention, will include not only specimens of various mechanical devices for improving the internal practices of bank administration, but also a number of the latest specialties, successfully used in the development of new business. The exhibit will be kept open during the conference and will be located in a room adjoining the convention hall.

The sessions themselves will be devoted to the program subjects, with short quizzes following. A theatre party has been arranged for the evening of February 19—Thursday—and each visiting delegate will be supplied with tickets. During the day special arrangements have been made to provide for the entertainment of the wives of delegates. Sight-seeing tours, teas and luncheons are included in the items of interest.

An interesting event planned for the women, Friday evening, is a dinner at one of the most popular Chinese cafes, to be followed by a trip through Chinatown.

The program of speakers for the conference includes:

1. Introductory Address, Mr. A. P. Howard, President Savings Bank Division.
2. Problems involved in Agricultural Loans in the Western States.
 - a. The best means of overcoming these problems. Mr. A. W. Hendrick, Mgr., Central Real Estate Department, Bank of Italy.
3. Importance of home loans to the Savings Bank.
 - a. How best handled.
 - b. How different banks facilitate repayment. Mr. Paul Dinsmore, V. P., American Bank, Oakland.
4. The element of liquidity in the assets of the savings bank. Mr. E. W. Wilson, President, Pacific National Bank.
5. What should be the character of a savings bank bond investment account? Mr. A. D. Keyes, President Humboldt Bank.
6. A chalk talk on the high lights of present day deposit building in savings banks. Mr. W. R. Morehouse, V. P., Security Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles.
7. How the Savings Department Helps the Trust, Commercial, and Safe Deposit Department, and vice versa. Mr. A. W. Moore, vice-president, Oakland Bank.
8. Analysis of savings accounts.
 - a. Is it profitable to solicit small savings accounts—for and against.
 - b. Home Savings Banks. Mr. E. V. Klein, Treasurer, Spokane & Eastern Trust Company, Spokane.
 9. School Savings. Mr. A. H. Thomas, Assistant Vice President, Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings Bank, Los Angeles.
 10. Fundamentals of financial advertising in its various phases.
 - a. Newspapers.
 - b. Billboard advertising.
 - c. Direct-by-mail.
 - d. Co-operative bank advertising. Mr. Allan Herrick, Adv. Manager, U. S. National Bank, Denver, Colo.
 11. What banks can do to encourage Thrift.
 - a. Investment trusts and Savings clubs. ($1,000 accts. ins. accts., budgeting income). Mr. Albert P. Ludwig, Mgr., Thrift Dept., Anglo California Trust Co.
 12. The relationship between the Bank and the Investment Houses—investigate before you invest. Mr. Paul Sinsheimer, V. P., Mercantile Trust Company.
 13. Savings Department Records and Methods (illustrated). Mr. T. E. Ivey, Jr., Cashier, California Bank, Los Angeles
