1. The attached application is forwarded for comment. It is not believed that the property, for which shipment application is made, comes within the class provisions of paragraph 3 b of Eighth Army Operational Directive Number 77, 4 September 1946, as amended by paragraph 1 of Operational Directive Number 77/2, 5 November 1946.

2. The applicant being a Category Two Korean and his property appearing to be Class 1, it is the opinion of this headquarters that this application does not meet the requirements of Eighth Army Operational Directive Number 77.

3. Operational Directive Number 77/3, 30 January 1947 while supplementing the provisions of Number 77, 4 September 1946 does not rescind it. An interpretation of these directives is desired.

2. Reference, 1st indorsement requesting clarification of type of baggage listed. Under a strict interpretation of Operational Directive 77, this headquarters, as amended, clothes and books are properly considered as Class I property.

3. The applicant was repatriated on 31 March 1946, at a time when personal baggage allowances were 250 pounds per person. Operational Directive 77/9 for 1946 dated 20 January 1948 increases the personal allowances to 4,000 lbs. per family unit.
