FROM THE FLOWER GARDENS OF ENGLAND

For generations England has been famous for her flower gardens. It has been there, in England and Scotland, in the wonderful old country estates and public gardens that many of our most choice varieties have been created. It is to the old world gardeners with their patience, enthusiasm and love for their profession that we are indebted for the great advancement in, and perfection of, floriculture today.

Notes on Raising Flower Seeds

ANNUALS (HARDY). Those families which are sown and bloom the first season, the plants dying with the approach of Winter, such as Alyssum, Calliopsis, Candytuft, Centaurea, Mignonette, Nasturtium, Poppy, Sweet Peas, etc. Sow from April to June, the later sowings being confined to rapid-growing annuals only. The ground should be previously prepared by digging, working in a little manure at the same time. The surface should be made level and finely raked. If the weather is dry, give a watering some hours before sowing. Sow thinly and gently press the seed into the earth, covering lightly with finely sifted soil; the very small seeds must have very little covering. Keep the soil moist and shaded until the seedlings are up; the shade can be managed with branches of evergreens or sheets of paper fastened to little stakes. When large enough to handle, thin out freely, leaving space for each plant to develop to its full size. Thinning out is best done during dull, moist weather, or in the evening time. In calculating the distance that should be left between plant and plant, it may be taken as a general rule that plants which attain, when fully grown, a height of 1 foot, require to be thinned out to at least $\frac{1}{2}$ foot apart, and so on.

Many of the hardy annuals may be sown in August and September, for Spring and early Summer flowering, and if the seedlings are boldly thinned out at an early stage they become hardy and robust, producing finer plants and a greater profusion of bloom than when sown in Spring.

Hardy Annuals do not, in most cases, transplant well; they should therefore be sown, where intended to bloom.

Half-hardy Annuals. Slower in growth than the Hardy Annuals. They include Antirrhinum, Aster, Cosmos, Marigold, Salpiglossis, Salvia, Stocks, Verbena, Zinnia, etc. May be sown in March or April, in gentle heat, in pans, shallow boxes, or pots, a light sandy soil being used. Shade from the sun's rays till seedlings are up; this can be done by simply placing a newspaper lightly over them. As soon as the seedlings are large enough to handle, prick off into shallow boxes, and when strong enough and all danger of frost is over, plant out on to well-prepared ground.

Those who have no convenience for sowing in heat can sow all Half-hardy Annuals in the open border middle of May.

GREENHOUSE FLOWERS such as Calceolaria, Cineraria, Cyclamen, Primula etc. Sow in gentle heat, in pans of loam, leaf soil and sand, in equal parts, placing a piece of glass over the pan and keeping shaded and moist until the seedlings are up; pot these off singly when large enough, and replace in heat, shading and keeping close until established, and pot on as necessary.

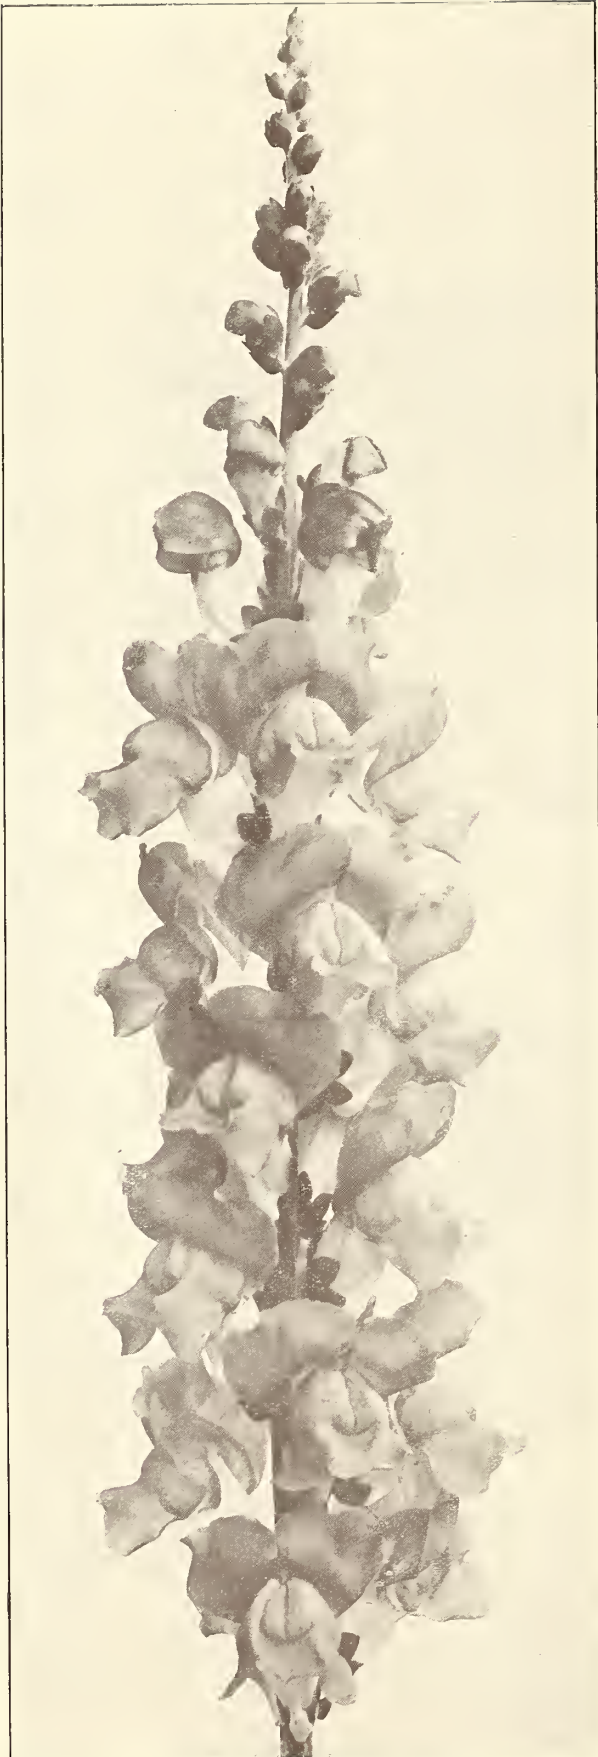

PERENNIALS. Those plants which do not usually blossom until the following year after sowing, but continue to flower and increase each year thereafter, many however, will flower the first season from seed if sown in February indoors, and planted out. Some popular perennials are Aquilegia, Delphinium, Digitalis, Gaillardia, Hollyhock, etc. Sow from March to July in pans or in drills on a prepared bed of light, rich soil and keep shaded and moist until the seedlings appear. Prick these out as soon as large enough to handle, into shallow boxes or nursery beds, and when strong enough transplant to permanent situations. Do not allow the seedlings to remain too long in the seed pans or to get starved for want of water.

Hardy Alpines. Seeds of Alpines, rock plants, and all hardy Primulaceae should be sown in pots or pans during early Winter, and after a good watering should be stood outdoors against a north hedge or wall where the soil can get frozen. Then when milder weather sets in, bring the pans into gentle warmth and the seeds will germinate freely. After March it is better to wait and sow the seed in Winter, giving the treatment as recommended above.

BIENNIALS require similar treatment to perennials. They include Campanula, Pansy, Sweet William, etc. The plants die after the flowering season.

NOTE.—In the case of very hard-shelled seeds it will be found a good plan to steep them in tepid water for some hours, previous to sowing, as this will hasten their germination.

SWEET PEAS and seeds which are liable to attack from mice should be steeped for half an hour in kerosene oil previous to sowing.

TRIVETT'S DELPHINIUMS

GOLD MEDAL STRAIN—Seed grown for us in Scotland and England

Sow Seed In Spring

We strongly advise our customers to purchase and sow the seed in the Spring when a good germination may be expected. Summer sowing results in poor germination as the seed is then about one year old. New crop seed is not available until Spring.

Choice Named Hybrids

We cannot promise that these choice named hybrids will reproduce themselves entirely true from seed. About 50% may be expected. However, all the seedlings will be exceptionally fine, some making new breaks and producing charming colors.

Hints On Raising

Sow seed in fine soil in frame or boxes, cover lightly, not more than $\frac{1}{2}$ in., firm the soil and moisten, keep shaded and moist, when the seed breaks through remove shade and when the seedlings have formed round leaves prick off into flats.

NEW and RARE LILIES

 From SEED

Not recommended to amateurs unless possessed of the necessary facilities and knowledge for raising

These rare and expensive Lilies can be raised from seed by treating similar to perennial flowers. They like a mixture of sand, loam, and peat. The public has now an opportunity to raise some of these grand sorts. Most of the following varieties will flower in the second year after sowing, and all should become flowering specimens in the third year.

LILIUM REGALE. Trumpet-shaped flowers, washed inside with yellow and shaded outside with brownish-pink; quite hardy. Height 3 feet.

LILIUM, BACKHOUSE HYBRID MARTAGON. Crosses made by the late Mrs. Backhouse between L. martagon and L. hansonii; beautiful color combinations, rosy-pink, straw yellow with crimson spots, orange yellow spotted purple, etc. Height 5 to 6 feet. Award of merit, R. H. S. 1925.

LILIUM MARTAGON ALBUM. Very fine Lily, 4 to 5 feet high, carrying 20 to 30 pure waxy white flowers of orthodox Turks-cap shape.

LILIUM COLUMBIANUM (Canadian Lily). 2½ feet high, turban-shaped flowers, golden yellow, spotted red.

LILIUM SZOVITZIANUM. Beautiful large Turks-cap flowers, rich straw yellow, spotted with black. Height 4 to 5 feet, producing as many as 20 flowers like pendulous bells. Very early.

Culture.—Successive sowings should be made from March to June, in shallow seed pans, in a compost consisting of two parts leafmold, one part loam, and one part sand, passing all through a half-inch sieve; cover slightly and place in a temperature ranging from 50 to 60 degrees. Keep the seeds almost dark. As soon as the seedlings appear, prick them off into boxes or pans, in a compost similar to the above. When the plants are fairly into growth, remove them to a cooler temperature, and when large enough, pot on into 3-inch pots, adding a little more loam to the compost. Place near the glass until ready to shift into larger pots. When the plants are beginning to fill the flowering pots with roots, water frequently with weak liquid manure, or top-dress with any good fertilizer. The obconica type prefers very little heat.

TRIVETT'S STATICE

(Sea Lavender)

Annual. For cutting and Winter decoration. For outdoor and greenhouse flowering.

All the Statice are useful as cut flowers and keep a long time after cutting. They are everlasting and can be dried for use as Winter decorations.

For outdoor flowering, seed should be started in boxes or frames (in February and March) similar to Asters, Zinnias, etc., and planted out when weather permits. For greenhouse culture (Statice grows to perfection in cool greenhouse), seed may be sown July and grown on in pots or the bench, coming into bloom just after Chrysanthemums are over. For March flowering inside, sow seed in September, and if large specimens of the Suworowi type are desired make several shifts to larger pots to encourage development, finishing with 8 or 10 inch pots. Note. Where the seed is furnished in clusters, they should be broken up before sowing.

TRIVETT'S TESTED AND GUARANTEED VEGETABLE SEEDS

Up-to-Date, Pedigree Vegetables Are Highest in Food Value

IMPROVED VARIETIES

The importance of selecting improved and better varieties of vegetables cannot be over-emphasized. It is well-known that older sorts "run out," lose much of their merit, become more susceptible to diseases and insect attacks than up-to-date, improved varieties.

It pays to select new and improved strains.

TESTED AND GUARANTEED

Our seeds are tested for purity and germinating power and are guaranteed (See page 1). Our varieties are tested for vigorous growth, superior table quality, cropping ability and suitability for satisfactory culture in this country. Truly "Best by Test" standard.

It pays to secure tested and guaranteed seeds.

COST OF SEED

The difference in cost of tested and guaranteed seed grown by specialists and the ordinary stock is merely nominal. The outlay for seed is the smallest part of gardening operations; selection, the most important. It costs just as much to grow ordinary stocks as it does for improved and selected strains.

It pays to pay for the best.

TRIVETT'S EMERALD ISLE BROCCOLI

How to Grow Broccoli—The type we offer above is, in our opinion, the only sort worth while attempting to grow in this country. Most of the varieties popular in Europe do not do well here. "TRIVETT'S EMERALD ISLE" is such a rapid grower that the seed may be sown at different times and several crops secured. However, those which come in during July and August are somewhat inferior, being inclined to bolt or break into flower and seed. For real quality and production, it is best to treat like Cauliflower, that is secure an early crop in frames from a February sowing and a late crop outdoors (September and October) from a June sowing.

TRIVETT'S EXHIBITION BRUSSELS SPROUTS

TRIVETT'S BROCCOLI

Brocoli (Ital.) Sparkelkohl (Ger.) Broccoli (Fr.)

Much in demand by the better New York Hotels on account of its delicate Asparagus-Cauliflower flavor.

THE TRUE HEADING BROCCOLI
Note size of heads on photograph grown from our seed on Long Island

Trivett's Emerald Isle. An improved green headed variety that, owing to earliness and rapid growth, is one of the few that will "head up" in this country, producing heads like Cauliflower, but grass-green in color, retaining this color after cooking. After the large main head has been cut, the plant will produce a number of smaller heads which should be bunched together for cooking. A good proportion of stem should be cut with the heads, these cook soft and are very similar to Asparagus. Cook, prepare and serve like Cauliflower. Delicious flavor, a combination of Asparagus and Cauliflower.

Oz. $5.50, ½ oz. $3.00, ¼ oz. $1.75, pkt. 50c.

Oz. $1.25, ½ oz. 65c., ¼ oz. 35c., pkt. 25c.

Long Island Improved. Half dwarf. An American variety well suited to our climate, and extensively grown for the New York market. Very robust grower.

Oz. 75c., ½ oz. 40c., ¼ oz. 25c., pkt. 15c.

Sow seed of Brussels Sprouts about 15th of May, thin out young seedlings, and when 3 inches high, plant out in garden in rows 3 feet apart and 2 feet between the plants. When heads begin to form, break off leaves from plant, commencing with the lower ones, and following up the stem as the Sprouts develop. Brussels Sprouts are of very late maturing habit, the flavor is much improved by slight frosts. Some gardeners find it advisable to sow much earlier than above date, for their particular locality.

From Earliest to Latest

A SUGGESTION FOR SUCCESSIVE CROPS

1st—First and Best about	7½ weeks, 2 feet.
2nd—Trivett's World's Record about	8 weeks, 3½ ft.
3rd—Trivett's Gradus Selected about	9 weeks, 3½ ft.
4th—Thomas Laxton about	9½ weeks, 3 feet.
5th—Admiral Beatty about	10 weeks, 5 feet.
6th—Gladstone about	10½ weeks, 5 feet.
7th—Trivett's Alderman about	11 weeks, 5 feet.
8th—Trivett's Latest of All about	12 weeks, 4½ ft.

Round-seeded sorts can be sown very early but wrinkled varieties are liable to rot if the ground is cold. The character of the season, nature of the soil, etc., affect the height and date of crops.

Soak seed in water for day or two before sowing. Sow wrinkled varieties thickly. One quart is sufficient for a 50-foot double row.

TRIVETT'S SEED POTATOES

CHOICE SELECTED STOCK

Potatoes prefer a light rich soil; if stable manure is used, it should be applied the year before. The use of artificial fertilizer is strongly recommended, about $\frac{1}{2}$ ton per acre.

Open furrows about 3 feet apart and 6 inches deep, sprinkle fertilizer then cover with 2 or 3 inches of soil; cut the Potatoes allowing 2 or 3 eyes to each piece, plant 15 or 18 inches apart and cover with remaining soil. Spray growing plants with Pyrox. Four sacks (11 bushels) when cut, will plant an acre.

Early Varieties

Carman No. 1. (Maine grown). Early white.

Early Rose. (Maine grown). Standard sort.

Irish Cobbler. (Maine grown). Most popular, extra early, white flesh. Excellent quality.

Irish Cobbler. (Certified stock). Carefully selected, special stock seed of this ever-popular, first early sort.

GREENHOUSE SORTS

Trivett's Choice. Newest and most improved greenhouse forcing Tomato; robust growing plants producing at short intervals immense trusses of smooth, uniform, bright scarlet fruit of unsurpassed flavor. pkt. 75c.

Stirling Castle. Exceedingly popular sort, medium size, round, smooth fruit, bright red, excellent flavor and heavy crop. pkt. 25c.

Greenhouse Culture—Tomatoes are especially desirable when obtainable out of season. Fruit of good quality can be procured by growing on in pots and shifting to larger sizes when pot-bound, finishing with 8- or 10-inch size, or they may be planted in the bench. A temperature of 60 deg. is about right. Pinch out all side growth, water thoroughly, but not too often.

T.T.S.

A WELL-GROWN CROP OF TRIVETT'S DISCOVERY TOMATO ON THE SINGLE STAKE METHOD. NOTE HOW THE SUNLIGHT AND AIR REACHES THE LARGE CLUSTERS OF FRUIT, PREVENTING MILDEW, ROT, BLIGHT, ETC. KEEPING THE FRUIT CLEAN AND RIPENING THEM TO PERFECTION.

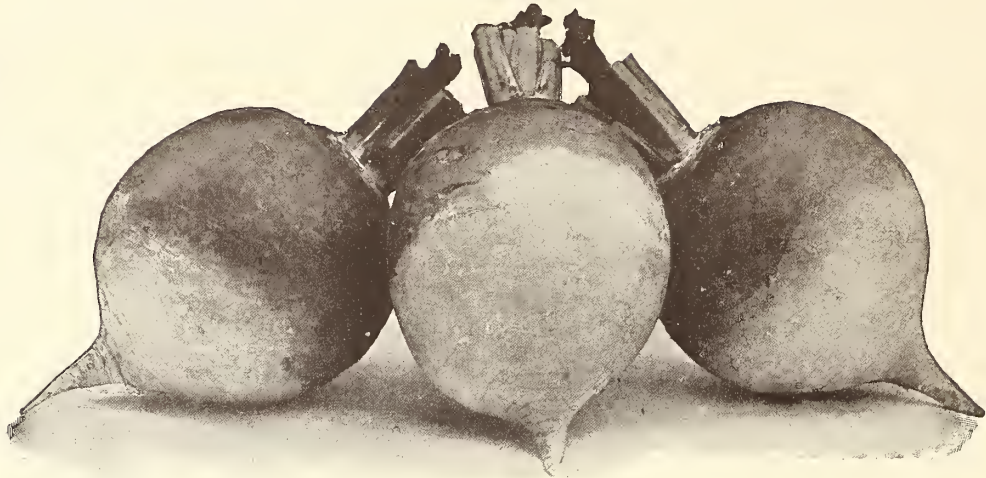

HOW TO GROW GOOD TOMATOES

Sow seed of early sorts in February under glass, in frames, or boxes indoors. When seedlings are about 2 inches high, plant into flats, giving about 4 inches apart or into small pots and later shifting to 4 inch pots. About the middle of May (weather permitting), plant in open garden in prepared places, 3 feet apart each way. The ground should have been dug 1½ feet deep, using a supply of well-rotted manure or mixture of bonemeal and sheep manure. As the plants grow, they should be tied to trellises or heavy stakes, cutting out all except three or four of the strongest branches, or if special fruits are desired, only one main stem to each stake. Once a week they should be gone over and all undesirable side growth pinched out; the cutting away of foliage, however, can be overdone. When any particular lot of plants have sufficient crop of fruit and flowers, growth may be stopped by pinching off the tops of all leading branches in order to encourage ripening. Water freely and spray for insects and disease. Keep a watch for cutworms when plants are young, use cutworm killer. (Page 99). Main crop and late sorts should be sown in March and treated as above. Final or very late sowing may be made in open ground in early June.

TRIVETT'S PRIZE MODEL

One ounce will sow 150 feet of drill, 2 lbs. for an acre in drills, 3 to 4 lbs. if sown broadcast.

Culture—For early Turnips, sow seed thinly in open ground in Spring in drills 18 inches apart, covering the seed about 1 inch, thin out seedlings to 3 or 4 inches apart. For succession sow every two weeks until May 15th. For Fall and Winter crops, sow in July and August. A good crop may often be grown by scattering seed thinly in the cornfield at last cultivation. For Rutabaga, sow seed in open ground during June and July. Take up the roots just before Winter, cut off leaves, and store in cool cellar, or pit outdoors. For exhibition, the bulbs should be carefully washed and all small, fibrous roots removed; rub clean with coarse towel.

Culture of Field Turnip, also called Swede (Swedish Turnip) Russian Turnip, Rutabaga. These Winter-keeping Turnips are larger in size than regular garden Turnips, of solid or firmer flesh, making them more suitable for Winter storing. They require about one month longer in which to mature. Seed should be sown during June-July in drills, 2 feet or more apart, to allow for cultivation. Covering the seed an inch or two, thin out the young seedlings early to about 1 foot apart. Cultivate between the plants, especially in dry weather, watch carefully for Turnip fly; if observed, spray with solution of fishoil soap and water (See page 99). For aphid (plant lice), use tobacco solution. Field Turnip prefers a fairly stiff and moderately moist soil, they provide a very agreeable table dish and are excellent for stock feeding.

SEMESAN

FOR THE CONTROL OF BROWN PATCH IN GRASS

One pound of Semesan Powder should be dissolved in a 50-gallon barrel of water, and this solution applied at the rate of 1 gallon per square yard to the affected areas, using a water can, thus thoroughly soaking the turf. Later, at intervals of ten days, further sprayings should be made, but much lighter, covering a much larger area. If preferred, the powder may be dusted on dry instead of spraying, using 1 pound of the powder per 1000 square feet (10 feet x 100 feet).

"Best by Test" PEAT MANURE POTS Patented

We consider this imported Peat Pot to be the best and most satisfactory of the various types on the market

Composed of cattle manure, peat moss (finest German Granulated) and other plant food. Baked together and molded into pots

The plants not only grow in the pots, but feed on them. The roots grow right through and twine all around and under the pots.

These patented pots retain nine times their bulk of moisture, no danger of young seedlings drying out, or damping off. They are porous.

The idea of mixing cattle manure with Peat Moss is patented. This feature is obtainable only in the pots as offered by us.

In three sizes, 1 1/4 in. (equal to 2 1/4-in. clay pot); 1 1/2 in. (equal to 3-in. pot), 2 1/4-in. (equal to 4-in. pot). Supplied in case lots only, as listed.

Ideal for all seedlings and cuttings. They can be planted out without disturbing the roots, if firm, cush in with thumb.

For all flowers (Annual and Perennial) and a general line of vegetables. In fact, wherever clay pots have been used, up to 4-in. size.

Completely replaces clay pots in all sizes up to 4 inches. Peat-Manure Pots supply the most modern method for raising healthy, vigorous plants of all kinds.

Splendid for starting Lima Beans, Corn, Melons, Cucumber, Tomatoes, Eggplants, Cabbage, Cauliflower, Peppers, producing vigorous plants.

For Sweet Peas we recommend the 2 1/4-in. size.

Also for Carnations, the pots will retain most of the ball for lifting later.

T.T.S.

Showing how these Patented Peat-Manure Pots produce strong, healthy plants of flowers and vegetables
