HIGHWAYMEN RUN WHEN INTERRUPTED
Two More Robberies, Include One With Violence
Strong Probability of One Pair Being Golman's Assailants

With the identity of the robbers of Leslie G. Golman at Oliver Street on Friday night still unsolved, two more affairs of the kind were brought to the attention of the Oak Bay and City Police last night. Making the third hold-up in the district within three weeks, a short heavy set man at 5:25 o'clock accosted Miss Aldridge, a domestic employed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ketchen, 2748 Herriek Street, took a dollar from a purse he snatched from her hands.

Cornelius F. Hughes, 3521 Gosworth Road, fifty-five minutes later was walking up Moss Street Hill, going north, when he was held up at the point of a revolver in the shorter of the taller of a pair of men who approached him from under the trees. The robbers had just begun to go through Mr. Hughes' pockets when the sound of footsteps approaching the top of the hill from the other side interfered with the robbery, and the men disappeared.

The affair is conceded to be the work of the same bandits who on Friday night held up Mr. Golman and relieved him of $27. The men answered to the same general description and spoke in the same way. As on Friday night, it was the taller of the two men who through his right hand overcoat pocket. The man did not abstract anything, and passed on to trousers' pockets. While the taller proceeding, the taller of the pair kept his hand levelled in Mr. Hughes' direction and the victim of the robbery saw "something black and shiny," which he took to be a revolver.

As the second bandit was arriving at the point where he was carrying, the footsteps resounded over the crest of the hill, and the highwaymen held their breath. "Don't shoot," they then sunk back into the shadow and disappeared.

The Oak Bay Case.
 The Oak Bay affair was somewhat different in its particulars. Miss Aldridge had just returned from the Oak Bay car at the terminus and walked up Beach Drive past the Golf Links. When opposite Sherwood Beach Mrs. Aldridge saw a man who was followed by a man. The man drew alongside, and said "Hand over your purse."

"No, I won't," returned Miss Aldridge pluckily.

Without making further observation the man seized the purse and handed back the bag, which still contained some silver. The man then made off. He was wearing a dark suit, and was about the size of the man who was followed by the man. The man drew alongside, and said "Hand over your purse."

"No, I won't," returned Miss Aldridge pluckily.

Without making further observation the man seized the purse and handed back the bag, which still contained some silver. The man then made off. He was wearing a dark suit, and was about the size of the man who was followed by the man.

SNOWDEN MOTION IN BRITISH HOUSE

Socialists Want "Gradual Suppression of Capitalist System"
Unionists and Liberals to Move Amendments

London, March 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Unusual interest attaches to a resolution brought forward by Philip Snowden, Labor, Colne Valley, for Tuesday in the House of Commons, declaring that future legislation should be directed toward "gradual suppression of the capitalist system."

The Socialists announce their intention of bringing their whole strength to the support of this resolution.

On the other hand, the Unionists, Asquithian Liberals and Lloyd Georgeian Liberals intend submitting amendments.

Some prophets declare Tuesday's proceedings will prove momentous as showing forth broadly a new political alignment. The Socialists are said to be out to crush Liberalism, and whatever the express motive behind Snowden's resolution, the effect will be to accentuate the vital points of difference between the Socialists and the Liberals.

Join Labor Party.
 There is a rumor afloat that H. W. Massingham and W. Fred Gardner, the two best known Liberal writers in Great Britain, are joining the Labor Party. It appears definite that Massingham and those associated heretofore with the Liberal cause are, however, are departing owing to the change of proprietorship. The possibility of Massingham founding a new journal, however, is not overlooked.

ALLIES TO REPLY TO TURKS SOON

London Conference Will Not Last Over Ten Days.
 Treaty Possible If Turkish Spirit Conciliatory

Paris, March 19.—M. Bompard, former French Minister to Turkey, accompanied by a number of experts, will represent France at the preliminary conference of representatives of France, Great Britain and Italy which will open this week in London under the presidency of Lord Curzon, the British Foreign Secretary, to study and define the attitude of the Allies to the Turkish counter-proposals to the Lausanne peace treaty. The stand of the Allies is expected to be determined inside ten days.

As Turkey has accepted the Allied proposals concerning the regulations for the passage of the Dardanelles and Bosphorus by warships and merchantmen, Admiral Bascaso will not take part in the London meeting.

The general opinion here is that the Turkish counter-proposals offer no dangerous obstacles to the conclusion of peace in the Near East, provided the Allies show a conciliatory spirit. It is remarked in Allied circles that the Turks, in their reply, not only have incorporated the Allies' chief demands in the interest of an immediate signature of the peace treaty, but also put forth new demands which will be difficult of solution if the Turks remain intransigent.

Capitulations
 Concerning capitulations, the Allies interpret the Turkish demands as placing foreigners in Turkey in a more disadvantageous position than in those countries where special provisions for foreigners have never existed. The economic proposals of the Turks are described as authorizing Turkey to favor citizens of one country over another by occasional exemptions from taxation, thereby preparing the ground for international jealousies and complications.

Touching on the Ottoman debt, the Turks insist on the distribution of the debt among detached provinces, but simultaneously claim a continuance of the Turkish rights and advantages in these districts, including judicial rights.

With the Turks demanding the application of Turkish property laws to foreigners, the Allies apprehend legal complications, claiming that one result would be the inheritance of a foreigner's property by a brother instead of by a son, as in the case of Western lands.

HOOPER SAID TO FAVOR RECOGNITION OF THE SOVIET

Moscow, March 19.—Moscow newspapers display a New York dispatch saying it is officially understood that Secretary Hoover, acting upon recommendations from his agents here, recommends recognition of the Soviet Government, while Secretary Hughes still opposes such a step.

Russian leaders have heretofore considered that President Harding was positively favorable to recognizing the Moscow Government; with Mr. Hughes against it and Mr. Hoover on the fence.

FISHERIES TREATY BINDS ALL EMPIRE

A. B. Keith Writes of New Canadian-U.S. Pact

Suggests Position Be Discussed at Empire Conference

London, March 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Arthur B. Keith, barrister and Regius Professor of Sanskrit and Comparative Philology at Edinburgh University, who for many years held posts in the service of the Colonial Office and was connected with the Alaska Boundary Arbitration and has had a prominent part in several Imperial Conferences, has written to The Times with regard to the recent signing of the Fisheries Treaty between Canada and the United States at Washington by a member of the Canadian Government.

"The Premier of the Australian Commonwealth, Hon. S. M. Bruce, appears to share the general belief that Canada concluded the treaty with the United States independently of Great Britain," Professor Keith says. "It is worth while pointing out the inaccuracy involved in this conception and the precise position of the Dominions with regard to international affairs."

Three Methods.
 He thereupon proceeds to describe three modes in which, broadly speaking, a Dominion can act in these matters.

In the first place, Professor Keith cites as an illustration that the Dominion Ministers may negotiate and arrive at an agreement directly with a foreign country, the intent of the arrangement being the United States and Canada in 1911 regarding trade. "Such agreements are not treaties internationally speaking," he says. "Most important of all, they do not impose any obligation on the Imperial Government and a breach of them is a purely domestic diplomatic representation, as is fully recognized both by Canada and the United States."

Member of League.
 Professor Keith says that in the second place, "as a member of the League of Nations, (Concluded on page 2.)"

COLD WAVE OVER LARGE PART OF U.S.

Departing Kick of Winter Causes Inconvenience
 Train Service Cut Down in Northwest

Chicago, March 19.—With only one day intervening before the theoretical arrival of Spring, the entire Mississippi Valley from the Rockies eastward and from the Par Northwest to Upper Florida, to-day was gripped by a bitter cold wave and a blizzard of the week. Temperatures dropped precipitately, 25 degrees in three hours.

Sub-zero and near-zero temperatures prevailed as far south as Southwestern Missouri, while Southern States reported low temperature records for this time of the year.

In the Upper Mississippi Valley and Rocky Mountain region, train service was paralyzed.

Winter blizzards brought the second blizzard of the week into the Mississippi Valley yesterday. Temperatures dropped precipitately, 25 degrees in three hours.

Through the Northwest orders were issued by railroads cancelling freight trains and curtailing passenger service. Some roads placed embargo on perishables. Trains were stalled for hours in snowdrifts, six, eight or ten feet in depth.

The blizzard struck Chicago in mid-afternoon, accompanied by a wind. The mercury dropped more than ten degrees in one hour and early to-day was only two degrees above zero. The low point had not been reached, weather reports said.

Seattle, March 19.—Loss estimated at $75,000 resulted from fire which this morning totally destroyed the dock and plant occupied by the Western Pipe and Steel Company on the East Waterway here. A high wind made the work of fighting the fire difficult and for a time adjoining property was menaced.

ASSESSMENT IS CUT $2,129,788

The Revision Court Reduced Values Only $289,415, New Figures Show

Victoria's net land and improvement assessment, as finally fixed by the Court of Revision was announced to-day after City Assessor William Scowcroft and a special staff of clerks had finished compiling the figures. The net assessment is as follows:

Land, $34,977,152.
 Improvements, $28,652,650.
 Total, $63,629,802.

Before the Court of Revision commenced to pare down assessments the net figures were:

Land, $38,205,737.
 Improvements, $27,733,560.
 Total, $65,939,317.

Thus the total assessment reduction made by the Revision Court was only $2,809,515. It has been estimated previously that the Court of Revision had cut the assessment about $1,500,000 by its decision to put into effect reductions on a sliding scale on almost all property in the city. To counterbalance the cuts made by the Court, however, assessment officials in their new figures have included the assessment of land occupied by private hospitals which were exempted in the roll filed at the beginning of the month.

Land Down.
 The land assessment on which Victoria taxation will be based this year is considerably below that of last year when land was assessed at $38,205,737 and improvements at $27,733,560. This year's improvement assessment is almost $2,000,000 higher than the improvement valuation of last year.

The total land and improvement assessment this year is $2,129,788 less than the total figure for 1922. Including land which is exempted from taxation this year's assessment is as follows:

Land—$41,680,672.
 Improvements—$23,282,000.
 Total—$64,962,672.

Big Exemptions.
 For taxation purposes, as stated, the total assessment is $63,629,802. Lands exempted from taxation for one reason or another are assessed at $4,832,520 and exempted improvements at $6,609,350.

CITY OF UR SCENE OF DISCOVERIES

Archaeologist Come Upon Store of Jewels and Ornaments
 Records in Cuneiform Characters on Clay Tablets

Philadelphia, March 19.—Discoveries that are expected to be of great archaeological importance have been made by the joint expedition of the British Museum and the University of Pennsylvania Museum on the site of the city of Ur, the ancient capital of the Chaldeans, in Mesopotamia.

A letter made public to-day by Dr. George B. Gordon, director of the Pennsylvania Museum, from C. Leonard Woolley, leader of the expedition, said the explorers had found beneath a floor built by Persian conquerors of Ur and below a pavement laid by King Nebuchadnezzar in the Temple of the Moon God, a secret recess containing a great store of jewels, ornaments of gold and other records of a civilization which existed fifty centuries ago. In addition to the jewels and ornaments a gold statue of a woman, silver and bronze vases, engraved seal-stones and pottery representing fifty types have been uncovered. The great temple of Nansir, later known as the Moon God, was found to be even larger than earlier explorations had indicated, its complete excavation probably will require many months.

Records
 "Within the temple area," said Dr. Gordon, "the expedition has found a great quantity of inscribed documents and temple records. These must not be confused with the papyrus of Egypt. Ur has been buried for too many years for any parchment or papyrus records to survive. These are inscribed in cuneiform characters upon clay tablets. These tablets are reported to be in poor condition, and it is impossible at this time to state how valuable they are."

GERMANS SAY FRENCH NOW CAN FULLY LEARN GERMAN RUHR VIEWS

Intimate Informal Memorandum Placed at Disposal of British and United States Governments Last Friday Will Be Communicated If Request Made.

Berlin, March 19.—If France is sincerely desirous of acquainting herself with the German official position in respect to the Ruhr issue, her Ambassadors in Washington and London undoubtedly will be given the fullest opportunity to inform themselves of the contents of the informal memorandum voluntarily placed at the disposal of the United States and Great Britain by Germany last Friday, it was stated here to-day.

The German action, it was declared at the Foreign Office, had the primary purpose of summing up the position previously affirmed by the Cuno Government, but incidentally of placing it at the disposal of such diplomatic channels as are accessible to France and Belgium.

SOLES FOR SHOES IN GERMANY COST 10,000 MARKS

Berlin, March 19.—It costs 10,000 marks to have half-soles nailed on shoes in Germany now because of the extremely high price of leather. This is about half the monthly salary of an average domestic servant. Consequently it is frequently part of the agreement with servants that shoe soles are to be supplied by their employers.

The contents of the memorandum constituted no secret, it was explained, and the German Government would not consider it a violation of confidence. It was intimated that either London or Washington should make them accessible to Premier Poincaré.

It was also officially stated that if the French Government or its press should attempt to interpret the German step as a formal request to an Anglo-American intervention in the Ruhr conflict, such a reading would be wholly unsupported by the nature and contents of the German communication.

The information was characterized as a statement of Germany's position without any request for action by the United States.

Ebert Made Statement.
 Berlin, March 19.—President Ebert yesterday addressed 1,500 representatives of manufacturers and the political parties at Hamm. He declared the Franco-Belgian occupation had achieved nothing, all the enemy's efforts having failed. "Nevertheless," the President added, "the enemy shows no readiness to come to any real understanding into which Germany always has been and still is prepared to enter. If the Ruhr is to remain permanently deprived of its coal, Germany's competitive capacity in trade, with which her existence is so closely bound, will be ended," he charged.

Dusseldorf, March 19.—The killing of a French soldier and a German civilian at Essen and the announcement that the German mine owners had been allowed to return to work the forty per cent. coal tax, were outstanding developments in the Ruhr situation over the week-end.

The French soldier was shot at the Essen railway station. A German who endeavored to escape was wounded so badly that he died later. Three German civilians were injured in the attack.

French headquarters announced that the first penalties recently threatened if the mine owners failed to pay the coal tax were being withheld. Continued failure to meet the tax obligation would result in a suspension of trial by court-martial, the Germans were warned.

TRAIN COLLISION REPORT DENIED

Dusseldorf, March 18.—The report from Freimersheim, near Duisburg, on Saturday of a serious collision between a French troop train and a freight train was semi-officially denied yesterday by French officials here. The report said forty soldiers had been killed and many injured in the collision.

A dispatch to The London Daily Mail from Paris yesterday said officials here had denied the reports between Germany and France and Belgium would almost certainly be opened this week. The dispatch added that France and Belgium were anxious that Great Britain be represented in the negotiations.

A dispatch yesterday from Dusseldorf said: Reports of negotiations designed to settle the Ruhr problems, which are numerous here, have not altered the Franco-Belgian plans for taking over the coke and coal properties of the Germans. It is announced that additional shafts of state-owned mines have been occupied by order of the Commissioner of Control, the Blumenthal Mine, near Recklinghausen, is guarded by German troops, and the French are planning to begin the shipment of coke to France immediately.

The exact number of mines now in the hands of the French and Belgians is not known from official sources, but according to the Germans the number is seven. The Prosper Mine, which has two shafts, and also the Lahin Mine, both near Bottrop, were occupied Saturday, the Germans say, as well as the Blumenthal Mine in the region of Gelsenkirchen.

The French are continuing to load coke cars by means of German-Polish labor.

From Aix-la-Chapelle it is reported that several thousand miners of the Anna Mine, belonging to German capitalists, have opened negotiations with the Belgians for the purpose of reaching a seven-hour day, payment in Belgian francs and certain food allowances.

EMPIRE PLAN OF SETTLEMENT GROWS

London, March 18.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Replying to a suggestion made in the House of Commons today regarding the necessity of Dominion immigration being accelerated and a reference to the fact that notwithstanding Government arrangements the emigration from Great Britain had not yet reached the previous numbers, Lieut.-Colonel Albert Mackenzie, the new Secretary of the Department of Overseas Trade, pointed out that the Empire settlement Act was passed only last summer and it required mutual co-operation with the Overseas Governments to carry out its provisions. Progress, however, had been effected at an increasing rate. Colonel Buckley said he was glad to inform the House that the Government were making arrangements to negotiate with the Imperial authorities in connection with the Immigration Act. The Secretary of the Overseas Trade Department said the stage was being reached at which consultations with overseas representatives could be had with advantage. He did not think that an all-around conference, as one member of the House had suggested, would have a beneficial result.

ADOPTED CHILD IN MONTREAL GOES BACK TO FATHER

Montreal, March 18.—"Adoption of a child is not recognized in law," declared Mr. Justice Bruneau in the Superior Court here Saturday when he granted a writ of habeas corpus asked for by J. H. Pelletier. The child was in the keeping of O. Beauchamp and his wife, who had adopted it. The judge ordered the child to be given up to his father at once.

BULGARIA WILL MAKE PAYMENTS ON REPARATIONS

Sofia, March 18.—The Government is preparing to promulgate a decree ordering customs receipts paid into the reparations fund as agreed upon with the Reparations Commission in consideration of a reduction in the amount of Bulgaria's reparations debt.

COST OF LIVING GROWS IN FRANCE

Ottawa, March 18.—The cost of living in France rose 25 per cent. during January, compared with the first quarter of 1922, according to the figures of the Department of Trade and Commerce. Taking 1913 as a basis, the cost of living averaged 417 francs.

INCOME TAX IN RUSSIA IS HEAVY

Moscow, March 18.—The Government has decreed that all foreigners residing in Russia, with the exception of diplomats, consular officers and persons who have made special arrangements through their connections with a concession, are subject to the same taxes that are levied on the Russian people. The present income tax takes eighty per cent. of all salaries of more than $100 a month.

A caller at the Attorney-General's Department today was Fred H. Ruffles, of Vancouver.

BOSTON HEIRESS MARRIES A FORMER MOUNTED POLICEMAN

Boston, March 18.—Miss Rosamund Bradley, heiress to several millions, was married today to Charles A. Rheault, of Coburg, Ont., former captain of the Canadian Mounted Police. Their acquaintance was begun in Labrador, where Miss Bradley was a volunteer nurse. She is a member of one of New England's oldest families.

FISHERIES TREATY BINDS ALL EMPIRE

League of Nations, Canada has in all matters dealt with by the League an international status which the full effect has still to be defined by practice.

As to the third mode in which a Dominion may negotiate with a foreign country, he says: "The Fisheries Treaty differs essentially from the agreement cited regarding trade between the United States and Canada. It is a complete treaty engagement binding the Imperial Government and the whole Empire, though its operation is local. It therefore was conducted in the only manner possible, namely, under full powers issued by the crown authorizing the Canadian Minister to negotiate with the United States and sign the treaty."

Further, Professor Keith says: "The treaty was concluded with the full sanction of the Imperial Government and can be ratified only with such full sanction. The Dominion Government can rest assured that ratification will be accorded in every case when desired, unless an issue arises necessitating the summoning of the Governments of the Empire to discuss the issue in its effect on the Empire as a whole."

This procedure is absolutely essential in Professor Keith's view: "If the Empire is not to be dissolved into a mere ineffective alliance destined to the speedy disintegration which would be inevitable if the treaty power were really possessed independently by the Dominions."

The professor says he believes the view held in Canada no less widely than in Australia, that independence in treaty matters is incompatible with the maintenance of the Empire. Professor Keith concludes with the statement that the only real innovation in the case of the treaty recently signed by the Canadian Minister at Washington is the fact that the formal signature of the British Ambassador was waived. Such formal signatures never meant anything, he adds, and it was manifestly wise to dispense with the Ambassador's signature in this instance.

relations that may have existed in days gone by between the two pro-

NEWBOLT URGES
READING OF BIBLE
Poet and Educationalist Addresses Audience in Vancouver
Vancouver, March 19.—Before a crowded audience in the Orpheum
Theatre on Sunday afternoon, Sir Henry Newbolt, noted poet and educationalist, advocated the reading of the Bible, which he said in these days of materialism and selfishness is the only thing that can give life to the people. It was a lamentable fact that the Bible, he read at it, was now read by many from the point of view of dogma. The religious aspect of the Bible he did not intend to touch, the speaker said.

Edmonton, March 19.—Nothing more will be done in regard to the beer petition now before the Alberta Legislature until the budget debate, which is promised to start to-mor-estimates item by item will take many days, there is little prospect of the beer proposal being dealt with until the last of this month, or possibly in April.

ARTIST DEVOTES GENIUS TO DEPICTING TYPES OF
OLD INDIAN FEATURES
About ten years ago an inspiration came to James Henderson, who makes his home at Fort Qu'Appelle, Saskatchewan, and at present is visiting Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Poole on Island Road. He is an artist and it occurred to him as an excellent idea to depict on canvas the striking type of Indian face characteristic of the generation of red men now rapidly passing away. Such features are still seen, though comparatively seldom among middle-aged Indians, while among the younger persons they may be said to have almost disappeared.

St. John's, Nfld., March 19.—A physician at the Grenfell hospital at St.
Anthony, in the north of Newfoundland, has lost a month of his three months' vacation, the first in three years, because of the storms that have swept the island during the past week. From St. Anthony he traveled 300 miles by dog team to Grand Lake, on the line of the Newfoundland Railway. There he took a train for St. John's. The train was stalled at Arnold's Cove by a snow and ice blockade and there it remains,
its trip so far having occupied 18 days.

HUNGER STRIKE
LASTED A MONTH;
BROUGHT TO END
Boston, Mass., March 19.—Nicol Sacco Saturday night voluntarily abandoned his hunger strike after he had fasted thirty-one days.
Sacco began his fast a month ago
as a protest against delays in court actions on motions for a new trial for himself and Vanzetti, convicted in 1921 of having murdered a paymaster and his guard in South Braintree. Since then he had taken nothing but a daily gallon of water.

MUCH MORE HOPEFUL.

It is high time that the debate on immigration which is now going on in the Dominion House of Commons took a more progressive and optimistic turn.

The Pietou member took the time and trouble to point out that conditions in other countries are a good deal worse than they are in Canada.

Mr. Hoey took pity upon those speakers who had declared that increased production would mean decreased prices and pointed to the much more serious consideration as to whether this country intended to welcome people from other lands.

In Mr. Hoey's case it is interesting to observe that he came to Canada in 1909 and found no difficulty in making his way by fairly rapid stages to a seat in the House of Commons.

Canada has no room for misfits. Everything should be done to prevent men and women who are unfit for Canadian life, mentally or temperamentally, entering the country.

In any event the Government should be given more assistance by the representatives of the people than has been the case so far.

NO IMPORTATION NECESSARY.

Since the people of this community have gone on record in favor of horse racing under certain conditions it is only reasonable to hope and expect that such concessions as it may be necessary to give shall be given to local or Vancouver Island people.

OUR NINE MILLIONS.

When the C. P. R. President says that Canada can support more than nine millions of people, and declares that the country will require more than that number to support it, he is sounding a truth that ought to assist in the promotion of every possible form of co-operation and energy towards increasing our population.

Stable concerns in this country to learn the volume of the financial crop that leaves us each year. British Columbia's industrial activity and mining enterprises contain the truth of the assertion.

KIND WORDS AND SMILES.

We agree with "An Onlooker" when he says there is nothing wrong with Victoria. It may not be possible to follow him to the end of the suggestions which he makes in his letter.

"An Onlooker" recalls the neighborliness which exists in his native Prairie Province. We do not pretend that he has discovered anything like a convincing analogy.

NOT AT THE NORTH POLE.

Prince Rupert people sojourning in California gave a dinner recently and because of the fact that the Northern city adjoins Alaska reindeer meat took a prominent position on the menu.

RATHER SURPRISING.

While reference already has been made to the effect that a majority of the newspapers and people of Great Britain are in sympathy with French policy in the Ruhr, it will doubtless come as a surprise that 239 out of a total of 332 editors of newspapers subscribing to the Associated Press in the United States emphatically endorse the invasion of Germany's industrial area.

The inquiry was undertaken by The Spokesman-Review of Spokane and reads as follows: "Do you approve the action of the French, Belgian and Italian Governments in going into the Ruhr region to collect defaulted deliveries of coal and wood promised by Germany in the Paris Treaty?"

In view of this apparently overwhelming sentiment in a country particularly wedded to its own definite views upon the employment of force it is small wonder that France informs the powers that mediation or intervention at this stage would be unwelcome.

NOTE AND COMMENT

We have now been informed that no world's championship was involved in the Siki-McTigue fight at Dublin on Saturday. Well, we trust everybody enjoyed the fun.

Germany seems to be making efforts to let the world know that she is ready to negotiate about reparations. France has said that she will deal with the debtor only. That seems fairly easy now.

Put into ordinary language, Sir Henry Newbolt's message to the Youth of Canada seems to be: "play the game." This is a simple doctrine; but who will say that any is more important?

OUR CONTEMPORARIES

Westminster Gazette:—In the month that has passed since Mr. Bonar Law went to Paris the French exchange has fallen nearly 15 per cent, and the bulk of this fall has occurred since the entry into the Ruhr. If it were possible to capitalize France at this moment it would realize 15 per cent. less than a month ago in the world's markets.

ASQUITH LOST NO TIME. Toronto Star:—After sitting as arbitrator for a week or so, Mr. Asquith has decided that Canada shall receive $8,000,000 instead of $2,000,000 in payment of British obligations hanging over from the war.

ONTARIO'S ERRING SISTER. Montreal Herald:—Ontario still continues to groan because it is not given a monopoly in the supply of intoxicating liquor to wretched Quebec. It appears to be a whole-hearted subscriber to Kipling's cynical dictum that morality is merely a question of latitude and longitude.

ANIMATION

One definition of ANIMATION is: "to impart life to."
 A definition for BUSINESS is: "something necessary to be done."
 Often the fact that a thing is "necessary to be done" takes the animation out of it. This is especially so of merchandising. There is something prosaic about a store. That is, until someone imparts life into it. A very little real animation will act like magic on a store.
 The surest way to impart life to, or animate your business is through its newspaper advertisements. Not so long ago only a few people read the advertisements, but everybody reads them nowadays.

YOUNG BRIDE OF KEMAL PASHA HAS MODERN IDEAS

Nineteen-Year-Old Bride Introduces Western Dress Into Turkey

Angora, March 19. — One of the aims of the Nationalist regime in Turkey is to emancipate the Turkish women, who enjoy none of the freedom or the privileges accorded other women of the world. The foremost exponent of women's rights in Turkey are Hediye Edibe Hanum, a graduate of the American Girls' College at Constantinople and Mme. Kemal Pasha, the pretty 19-year-old bride of Mustafa Kemal Pasha.
 Hediye Edibe Hanum is already known in the United States, two of her sons are studying at Ann Arbor, Mich.
 Mme. Kemal returned to Angora from Smyrna and appeared dressed as a man, with riding breeches, high boots, spurs and a jaunty outing cap.
 Mme. Kemal's advent will modify or greatly curtail the restrictions and obsolete customs prescribed for the women of Turkey by Mahomet, it is said, everywhere here.
 Madame Kemal insists that the rules of conduct and dress prescribed by the stern founder of the Mohammedan faith centuries ago are not tenable to-day, and she intended to inject some western customs into Turkish feminine life.
 With the growth of the new Turkey, Turkish women gradually are being released from their domestic bondage and now and then are getting a glimpse of real life. They appear on the street and in places of entertainment in Constantinople in almost as great numbers as foreign women. The time-honored veil, or yashmik, is disappearing. Turkish girls no longer cast furtive glances at the young men of the capital, but mingle with them freely.
 And the modern Moslem woman insists that her husband shall have only one wife instead of three or four as formerly.

Edilmas: "A man is soon forgotten after he is dead."
 Cynicus: "Yes, unless you happen to marry his widow."

ROYAL LOVE TALE 3500 YEARS OLD!

King Tut's Dad Risked Realm to Wed a Serving Maid

San Francisco, March 19. — The great red Egyptian moon, hanging over the Nile, inspired in men and women 3,500 years ago the same passions it inspires to-day.
 Love, as self-sacrificing and unreckoning of consequence as any passion, dominated the lives of the people of ancient Egypt, though inscriptions have taught us to look upon them as stiff, wooden-like creatures.
 The sensation of a royal love scandal was filling the Nile Valley when King Tutankhamen, monarch whose tomb has just been opened, was born.
 "For Amenhotep III, father of Tutankhamen, so loved that he cast tradition to the winds, scorned marriage alliances with powerful neighboring nations and married, Til, a simple lady-in-waiting.
 All this is revealed in an age-worn, chipped little piece of stone—the marriage scarab of Amenhotep—which has lain twenty years practically unnoticed in a glass case in the Egyptian Museum.
 "And this is the story as the hieroglyphics tell it to Prof. H. F. Lutz, Egyptologist at the University, and as Prof. Lutz tells it to you:
 "The scarab proves there was one Pharaoh to whom love was greater than thrones or power.
 "We who gossip over the back fence about the latest newspaper scandal can but slightly imagine the storm that broke over Egypt when it became known that Pharaoh was wedded his mother's maid—that spelled calamity.
 "Yet this scarab shows Amenhotep did just that and, what is more important, he made no effort to hide it. He snapped his fingers at tradition and broadcast these scarab notices that, by way, to wed a mere servant.
 "Until this love rebellion the people had considered the royal pair to be divine. Now they were disillusioned.
 "Their faith crumbled. Here was one of their own kind as queen; a creature of common clay. It did not augur well for those that were to follow.
 "The result of this mating was Akhenaton, father of the woman Tutankhamen married. Tutankhamen, himself, was not born of Til, but of another wife.
 "The scarab tells us as fine a story of courageous love as may be found anywhere."

PREPARED WEDDING AT VICTORIA WEST

Nuptials Saturday of Miss Beatrice McLennan and Duncan MacLean

A pretty wedding was solemnized by the Rev. J. S. Paterson of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Saturday night at "Lochalsh," 646 Pine Street, the residence of the bride's parents, when Beatrice, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McLennan, became the bride of Mr. Duncan MacLean, of Stewart, B. C. son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacLean, of Lucknow, Ontario.

The drawing room, where the ceremony took place, was decorated in pink and white, the bridal party standing beneath an arch of greenery in the centre of which hung a wedding bell consisting of carnations and roses. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the room to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin" played by Miss Lydia Campbell, and looked charming in her gown of grey charmeuse satin trimmed with French lace. Her veil was held in place with a wreath of pearls and orange blossoms.

Miss Jenny Savage, who attended as bridesmaid, looked very pretty in a frock of orchid mesalinge, wearing a wreath of silver and gold flowers. The bride's bouquet consisted of opelia roses, freesias and ferns, while that of the bridesmaid was carnations and fern.

The groom was accompanied by Mr. Howard Lilley. During the signing of the register, Miss Birdie McKay sang very sweetly "O Perfect Love."

In the dining-room where a dainty buffet supper was served pink and white, floral ribbons were a pretty decoration, the handsome, three-tiered wedding cake occupying the place of honor. Gift registers, the bride served, while Mrs. A. Rhode, of Luxton, and Mrs. J. McLennan poured tea. The out-of-town guests included: Don McLennan, only brother of the bride from Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. A. Rhode, of Luxton; Mr. and Mrs. G. Ball, of Rocky Point; Mr. H. H. Hays, of Vancouver; and Miss Lydia Campbell of Duncan.

Mr. and Mrs. MacLean left on the night boat for Vancouver and later will make their home in Stewart, B. C. The bride traveled in a navy blue tulle suit with hat to match of navy velvet.

Among the many beautiful gifts was a handsome cheque presented by the Railway Department and friends of the Cathedral schoolroom, whose tomb has just been opened, was born.

The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet, to the bridesmaid a gold ring, and to the best man a gold stick pin.

SOUTH SAANICH W.I.

Busy Season Ahead of Members; Many Events Planned

The regular monthly meeting of the South Saanich Women's Institute was held with a record attendance of twenty-four members and nine visitors. Mrs. Gale was in the chair, while Mrs. H. Laurie was acting secretary owing to the illness of Mrs. Gold.

Mrs. Styan and Mrs. Kersey handed in a very satisfactory report from the School Committee, while Mrs. Gale read an interesting account from the Local Council of Women. The programme for the evening called for a paper on "The Home and the Community" from Mrs. Gold, but this will be heard at a later date.

An invitation was received from the West Saanich Women's Institute to attend the opening of their new hall in April.

It was decided to hold a flower and vegetable show in the Hall instead of the Spring flower show. The date of this will be decided later. Further arrangements for the institute birthday party will be held on March 23 were made, and the following committees appointed: Afternoon tea, Mrs. E. T. Lawrie, Mrs. Hafer, Mrs. Kersey and Mrs. Sutherland, to be assisted by the Misses Myrtle Young, Tena Anderson, Violet McNally, Evelyn Nimmo, Beatrice and Edna Butler, Candy, Miss Margaret Mitchell, assisted by Misses Iola Lawrie and Blanche Sherring, and the musical programme.

There will be a musical programme and several contests arranged for the afternoon, one of these being a picture guessing. The contest, the members being requested to bring an early photograph of themselves for which this feature. There will also be a birthday cake sale, this being made and presented to the institute by the Girls' Junior Institute Club. A concert and card party will be held in the evening. It is hoped all who possibly can will avail themselves of this opportunity to spend an enjoyable evening.

After answering the roll call with a recipe for "my favorite soup," the members adjourned into the big hall to receive their entertainment from the Men's Institute.

Social & Personal

Under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary to the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital, the annual line dinner, postponed from November last, will be held on Friday afternoon, March 23, at the Nurses' Home.

All interested in the upkeep of the institutions are aware of the great difficulties experienced in later years of maintaining those supplies subject to wear and tear, and continually in need of renewal. The Royal Jubilee Hospital has many warm friends throughout the community, and also many indebted to it for loving care in hours of mortal infirmity and need. To attract an appeal is made to remember this occasion with a generous act next Friday, and to bring with their presence that active expression of interest so necessary for the help and inspiration of all devoted to its service. Tea will be served during the afternoon and there will be a musical programme. There will also be an opportunity to inspect the new hospital building, and the plans and all the information will be on hand so that all interested, and the many planning to materially assist its complete installation may secure and desired details.

St. Patrick's Day favors and a lavender cake

St. Patrick's Day favors and a lavender cake, made for the occasion, were the attractions of a social gathering at the home of Mrs. J. C. F. Carter, on Saturday afternoon, an unusually attractive affair to the many patrons, and a good sum was realized for the work of the membership committee. The camp colors, green and white, formed the color scheme and in the centre of the supper table was a miniature lake with canoes gliding on the surface. Following a real camp supper the guests arranged themselves around the camp fire and contributed a delightful programme of reminiscences of weeks in the wilderness. The evening was a most enjoyable one, and the hostesses' table was lighted by green candles in potato holders.

Novel Entertainment was given by Mrs. C. H. F. Carter

A novel entertainment was given by Mrs. C. H. F. Carter, on Friday evening, in honor of the boys of the "Our Work, Our Play" Class of the First Presbyterian Church. For the occasion the home was transformed into a camp scene with a camp fire and a supper table arranged under a huge tent which was typical of that of the camp held by the boys last year at Portage Inlet. The camp colors, green and white, formed the color scheme and in the centre of the supper table was a miniature lake with canoes gliding on the surface. Following a real camp supper the guests arranged themselves around the camp fire and contributed a delightful programme of reminiscences of weeks in the wilderness. The evening was a most enjoyable one, and the hostesses' table was lighted by green candles in potato holders.

Novel Entertainment was given by Mrs. C. H. F. Carter

A novel entertainment was given by Mrs. C. H. F. Carter, on Friday evening, in honor of the boys of the "Our Work, Our Play" Class of the First Presbyterian Church. For the occasion the home was transformed into a camp scene with a camp fire and a supper table arranged under a huge tent which was typical of that of the camp held by the boys last year at Portage Inlet. The camp colors, green and white, formed the color scheme and in the centre of the supper table was a miniature lake with canoes gliding on the surface. Following a real camp supper the guests arranged themselves around the camp fire and contributed a delightful programme of reminiscences of weeks in the wilderness. The evening was a most enjoyable one, and the hostesses' table was lighted by green candles in potato holders.

For Memorial Ward Fund—To raise funds for the furnishing of their new ward in the new wing of the Provincial Jubilee Hospital, the hospital nurses will hold a rummage sale on Friday morning at 10.30

IRISH CONCERT WAS BRILLIANT SUCCESS

Big Audience Enjoyed St. Patrick's Day Programme

An enthusiastic audience crowded the Empress Hotel ballroom on Saturday evening for the annual St. Patrick's Day concert arranged for the benefit of the poor of the city, and the affair proved a brilliant success. The programme opened with a selection of spirited Irish airs by Flowerlight's mandolin and guitar orchestra, and included songs by Capt. Gillan, Mrs. Warner, Mr. Edmonds, who kindly sang in place of Mr. Kealy, who was indisposed; Mrs. L. M. Knight, whose songs included compositions by two local musicians, Mrs. Ebbes-Canavan, and Mrs. Tupper Noble; the Rev. Father McLeellan, Mrs. Grant, Miss Dorothy Hartree and Kenneth Hartree; recitations by Missa Spencer, who also danced an Irish jig; Miss Mustard; Irish dances by Miss Nelson, Miss Douglas, Miss Mollie Hibben and the boys of St. Louis College, Miss Laddie Watkins lending splendid support at the piano. J. D. Connell was in the chair.

Mrs. Brydges, who annually undertakes the arrangements of these concerts, wishes to express her grateful thanks to all who contributed to the success of Saturday night's affair.

MASQUERADE DANCE FOR BENEFIT FUND

Twenty-six Prizes at Empress Ballroom To-morrow

Judging by the heavy demand for tickets, the Lorenz masquerade ball to be held to-morrow evening should be productive of a substantial sum for the beneficiary. The Empress Hotel ballroom will be the scene of the affair and dancing will be from 9 until 2 o'clock, with the Grand March at 10 o'clock. Findler's augmented orchestra will furnish the music.

Mrs. Randall, of the Women's Progressive Club, is in charge of the arrangements and has spared no effort to ensure the success of the affair and the enjoyment of patrons. Twenty-six prizes are being offered, all of which have been on view in the Board Street windows of David Spencer's, Ltd., for some days. Tickets are still available at David Spencer's—Ltd., Stoddard's, Brown's Victoria Nurseries, View Street; Clarence Cleaners and Cochran's Drug Stores.

PANTOMIMISTS HONORED

The West-End Players held a banquet in Semple's Hall on Friday evening in honor of Mrs. Margaret Warner of Smithers, B. C., and other members of the cast of the successful pantomime "Dick Whittington." Mrs. Warner left to-day for her home stay for over a month in order to take the leading role in the pantomime when the young lady cast for the part was taken over by Mrs. Warner who was warmly thanked and the company sang in her honor "God Be With You Till We Meet Again."

Contributing to the evening's entertainment were Mrs. Warner, Mrs. A. C. Hudson, Miss Rosemarie Blackstader, Miss Nellie Loftis, Messrs. Wm. Cobbold, A. C. Hudson and F. Atfield. The pantomime orchestra played for the dancing after supper and there were many expressions of regret that the pantomime was a thing of the past.

Window Seed-Boxes

About the middle of March, if you wish to have an early-blooming flower-garden this Summer, start a seed-bed in your sunny south window. Now, as they are watching these little pale green sprigs start up indoors, with their promise of splendid blossoms later, that will compensate you for the chilly days just preceding the coming of Spring. Get a couple of "flats" from a local florist and fill them with rich soil that has been run through a fine sieve until it is pulverized. The earth should be four inches deep. Make little troughs for the seeds by pressing down the wide end of a ruler in the soil. Then shake the seeds gently into the grooves. If the seeds are large, such as marigolds, holly-hock, marigolds, and the like, put them in about half an inch deep. Smaller seeds go just under the surface, the earth being gently shoveled over them from the sides of the little trough. Very small seeds are scattered over the surface and the troughs are filled with a bit of board.

Keep the boxes damp but not wet. Queen Anne's lace, and other flowers, lay panes of glass over the top for a few days until the green shoots begin to come through. After that lay the flat on its side and keep the sun is hot upon them. Keep

SEEKS BROTHER

Charles, M. Currie, Frederickton, N. B. is seeking Randolph "Robert" Currie, a brother, through the medium of the city police. The missing man gave this city as his address about a year ago and from that date has been lost to sight. He is a war veteran of four and a half years' service, and was badly wounded. The missing man spoke of salmon fishing and of owning his own boat and in the course of letters to Mr. Currie mentioned Prince Rupert as his temporary port. Alone in the world Mr. Currie is seeking his relative with considerable anxiety. The missing man is in receipt of a small pension, and this, it is hoped may be the means of his discovery.

JEFFERSON MADE PORT ON SUNDAY

Admiral Ship Brought Sixty-seven Passengers in the Saloon From Orient

Bringing sixty-seven passengers in the saloon and over one hundred in the steerage, the steamship Jefferson, of the Admiral Oriental Line, reached port yesterday morning from the Far East. The liner had an excellent weather passage and completed the trip from Yokohama in average time. The majority of the first class passengers were from Manila and fully a score were destined to Seattle. Blah W. E. Madley was a notable ecclesiastical passenger traveling from the Orient to London, England. On one of his periodic visits to the United States, S. W. Cadwallader, one of the largest lumber operators in the Philippines, arrived by the President Jefferson, accompanied by Mrs. Cadwallader, who expect to return to the Far East in about two months.

Colonel Joseph N. Wolfson, a Manila attorney, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Marguerite Wolfson, is making a tour of Europe via the United States. Francisco Gutierrez and Rafael Gutierrez are en route from Manila to Spain to visit relatives.

Mrs. J. J. Cannon, an American clubwoman and social worker, returned home after several months spent in the Far East. Mrs. Zayda Buck, who also has been touring the Orient, and who returned by the President Jefferson, is the wife of a millionaire fruit grower of Piedmont, Cal.

M. J. Moll has been associated with the Texas Oil Company in Japan for a number of years. He was bound for Brooklyn via Seattle, accompanied by Mrs. Moll, who returned by the President Jefferson, is the wife of a millionaire fruit grower of Piedmont, Cal.

Capt. Featherstone and Mr. Dunnett disembarked here and will proceed to London. H. H. Williams, of this city, also landed here.

GENERAL MANAGER OF C.C.M.M. IS EXPECTED HERE

R. B. Teakle Arrives on Coast From East on Tour of Inspection

R. B. Teakle, general manager of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, is expected in Victoria to-day or to-morrow on his tour of inspection on the British Columbia coast.

He is expected to have some announcement to make regarding the development of the Ogden Point pier and the Government's marine operations on this coast.

To-day Mr. Teakle is in Vancouver making an inspection of the Government wharves and steamships there. He is pleased with the showing made by the steamship on this coast, for it is only in the Pacific that the Government lines earn a dividend. In the Atlantic, where the Canadian Government has a large fleet, operations have been marked by steady losses. The Government is obtaining data at present on a plan to carry its own insurance on its ships, but no decision has yet been made.

SOUTHERN CHINA LEADER TRAVELED ON JEFFERSON

Dr. Sun Yat Sen Working for Unification of China

Presents Capt. Nichols With Photograph of Himself

The Southern China leader, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, was the guest of Capt. Francis R. Nichols, commander of the trans-Pacific liner President Jefferson, while the ship was in Chinese waters. Dr. Sun Yat Sen took passage by the President Jefferson between Shanghai and Hongkong.

He informed Capt. Nichols that he hoped to witness the ultimate unification of China and would continue to use his influence toward that end.

The noted Chinese leader had several long talks with Capt. Nichols, and on going ashore presented the commander with a signed large photograph of himself.

Others appreciative of the interest taken in them and their welfare by the skipper of the President Jefferson were a large party of Russian refugees who crossed the Pacific by the liner to enter the United States as students.

The Russians numbered 45 all told and traveled steerage. They are from Harbin, Manchuria, and have experienced much hardship, since they were forced to flee from their homes following the upheaval in Russia. In appreciation of the treatment they had received since boarding the Jefferson, the members of the Russian party presented Capt. Nichols with a testimonial and signed group photograph.

DEVELOPMENTS DUE IN LONGSHORE SITUATION

Vancouver, March 19.—The longshore labor situation promises interesting developments. Longshoremen are saying there is a possibility of a strike early in April, but this is not confirmed by the officials of either the association or the Shipping Federation. The latter submitted a new schedule to the men on March 8, to go into effect on April 5, and it was presented to the I. L. A. at the regular meeting on Friday night. Representatives of the men and the Shipping Federation have not yet met, and neither side will make public any of their relations until after decisions have been reached and transmitted to each other.

The situation at New Westminster, according to W. A. Pritchard, business agent of the I. L. A., is one which has developed out of the world-wide unemployment and is not at all due either to the I. L. A. or to the Shipping Federation.

MEANT RECOGNITION OF LABOR PARTY

J. H. Thomas Defends British Labor Leaders' Dinner With King

Labor Party Has Never Declared for Republic

Garston, Eng., March 19.—(Canadian Press Cable)—In a speech here J. H. Thomas, chief of the Railwaymen's Union and a prominent Labor member of the House of Commons, said unnecessary attention had been given to the controversy in regard to certain Labor leaders, including himself, having dined with the King and Queen at Buckingham Palace. Had Ramsay MacDonald been ignored as Leader of the Opposition, he continued, it would have meant that the Labor Party had deliberately flouted and the King would have been accused by the same critics of bias against the Labor Party.

He would like to know when they as a party had ever declared themselves for a republican constitution. As to the constitutional aspect, he would accept the verdict of the electors of Derby, and in the personal issue, his own union censorship, not the guidance of others.

GERMAN VESSEL DUE FOR LUMBER

SS. Hans Hemsoth Will Take Aboard 1,500,000 Feet at Harbor Mills

To load a million and a half feet of lumber the German steamship Hans Hemsoth is due to arrive here to-morrow from Europe via San Francisco.

The Hans Hemsoth will be the first German ship to come to British Columbia waters since the commencement of the war. She will come right into the Inner Harbor and will berth at the Canadian Puget Sound mills to take on her cargo. After completing here the German ship will shift to Genoa Bay or Vancouver to complete.

Met by Police.
The Hans Hemsoth has had considerable notoriety since she arrived on the Pacific coast. When she put into Victoria on her way north she was met by a squad of police armed with clubs to put down an alleged mutiny among the crew. The police were at the dock in response to a wireless message from the ship.

It developed that a disgruntled sailor had complained about the food. The crew was paid off at San Francisco, but as the exchange dwindled the payroll of each sailor to 85 cents a month, they promptly made their way back to the ship.

TUG CUT IN TWO BY OCEAN LINER OFF STATUE OF LIBERTY

New York, March 19.—An outgoing steamship Saturday night ran down and cut in twain the tug Frances Reicher, the smaller craft going to the bottom midway between Staten Island and the Statue of Liberty.

One of the tugs crew is missing. The others having been rescued by a smaller harbor boat. Survivors did not know the name of the steamer which struck them.

GRANDMOTHER, MOTHER AND HER CHILD KILLED

Binghamton, N.Y., March 19.—Three generations in one family were killed here last night when Mrs. Hanna M. Terry, sixty-seven, Mrs. M. Frances Terry, forty, and Agnes Terry, six, were struck by an automobile driven by Lorenzo D. Simonds of this city. Simonds was released from custody pending an investigation.

U.S. WISHES RHINE ARMY BILL PAID

Unwilling to Balance Off Value of German Ships Seized

Paris, March 19.—Refusal by the United States Government to accept reduction of its bill for the expense of the American army in occupation by the value of the German ships seized in United States ports was presented to-day to the Allied representatives in conference here on the reimbursement question by Elliot Wadsworth, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

Reimbursement of the $225,000,000 expense in twelve annual instalments out of possible German reparation payments which the Allies proposed was accepted in principle, was stated, but Mr. Wadsworth made it plain that the American view was that the bill should be paid and it should not be the concern of the United States whether it was met out of German payments or otherwise.

The Allied representatives, in the face of this rejection of their proposal presented last week and afterwards submitted to Washington, called a separate meeting for to-morrow at which they will try to evolve another proposition which will be given Mr. Wadsworth at a full meeting of the conference Thursday.

Priority.
The French semi-official version of the present stage of the negotiations is that the proposed twelve annual instalments would be paid out of future possible reparation funds, absence of any other division among the Allies, but whether this priority should apply only to future German cash payments or should apply also to merchandise is still an undecided question.

Mr. Wadsworth also raised the question as to what would be done if a moratorium were granted Germany and whether the Allies would arrange to make the American army payments even if German payments were not received or were insufficient.

Mr. Wadsworth, it was added, made certain reservations regarding the method of reimbursement proposed by the Allies and asked for certain guarantees.

RENOMINATION IS HARDING'S DESIRE

Wishes Second Term as Head of U. S. Government
Statement Made by Daugherty, His Chief Adviser

Miami Beach, Fla., March 19.—Prediction that President Harding will stand for renomination, said the convention manager in the 1920 campaign for Mr. Harding and since then his political adviser.

"President Harding will be a candidate for renomination," said the Attorney-General. "There will be no other candidates against him except one, and that one is always a candidate. He will be renominated and re-elected. The country and the party will demand it."

This statement is regarded as by far the most authoritative announcement yet made as to President Harding's intentions with respect to 1924. Asked if there was any contingency under which Mr. Harding would not seek another term in the White House Mr. Daugherty said he believed only an impairment of the President's health rendering him unable to stand the strain would prevent him.

Mr. Daugherty said some of the issues on which the campaign would be fought out already had appeared. Among these he mentioned taxation, law enforcement, freedom of action for the United States in international affairs and the administration of the Department of Justice.

The Attorney-General did not elaborate his statement that there would only be one candidate in the Republican campaign against Mr. Harding. Some of those who heard him believed he referred to Senator La Follette of Wisconsin.

Thirty thousand spectators at Highbury saw Arsenal win. Freeman, the visiting team left back, put the ball through his own goal with the last kick of the match. On the run of the game, Oldham deserved to share points.

Scored From Penalty. Crystal Palace and Leeds United played a hard and fast game. Witworth scored the only goal of the game for Crystal Palace from a penalty.

Fulham played a lot of convincing football against Stockport, but their goals being scored by Danny Shea, who until 2 o'clock Saturday morning, had been at the bedside of his dying mother.

CO-OPERATE FOR TOURIST SEASON

Victoria and Seattle Chambers of Commerce Make Plans

Arthur Lineham outlined his scheme for making B. C. attractive to tourists to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce to-day. This work would have to be done by the Provincial Government, he said. The Province would have to be advertised very thoroughly, and a small organization put in, consisting of an honorary commission, with a general manager, an advertising representative, and secretaries.

Mr. Lineham gave an enthusiastic account of the amount of tourist traffic that might be expected. If the facts were made known the people would come in thousands, he said. If the Provincial Government could be induced to put up the money required, $50,000, he will lift all out of our trouble," Mr. Lineham put it.

On motion of Br. Gen. R. P. Clark, seconded by C. W. Schwenger, the Board decided to go on record as endorsing the proposed scheme to capitalize the scenic spots of British Columbia, and join the Associated Boards of Trade of B. C. in their request that the Provincial Government set up a commission to study the problem and establish a tourist commission.

P. G. E. Construction.

C. P. W. Schwenger reported of the meeting of the executive of the Associated Boards of Trade of British Columbia. The chief points taken up were the elimination of the 25 per cent. on lumber from the United States and the providing of steamship service between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of Canada. Mr. Schwenger repeated the contention advanced by him last week, that the P. G. E. from Queen's to Prince George would cost only a million dollars. He declared he had consulted an expert and found this figure correct.

DIRECTORY TO LIST 2,140 PLACES IN B.C.

New Issue of Wrigley's to Contain Household List Here

Roy Wrigley, president of Wrigley Directories, Ltd., publishers of directories in British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Ontario, reached the city this morning, accompanied by a small army of experts to compile the Victoria section of their 1923 British Columbia Directory to be ready in June.

Mr. Wrigley states that previous editions of their Victoria directory have contained a business directory of firms, professional men and salaried employees giving their business address only. The new directory will be a complete directory in every way, containing names of all firms and citizens together with house addresses in the city proper, and suburbs. In addition to the alphabetical listings a street directory showing all householders and firms by house numbers, and also a classified directory will be included.

The first section will be given to official data of the B. C. government departments, covering statistics of agriculture, lands, timber, mining, fisheries and public works. The body of the directory will contain a directory of 2,140 places in British Columbia with gazetteer description of each, showing location, distance from larger points, how reached, and by what lines, synopses of local resources and population. This is followed by a list of business firms classified by lines and professions.

The B. C. Directory is placed complimentary in the library of the chambers of commerce, information bureau, etc. throughout Canada, the United States and many cities abroad where it is sent to the investors to find a comprehensive index of the city.

Mr. Wrigley recently returned from Honolulu, where he met with F. E. O'Hara, Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Thomas Rodin, Treasurer Canadian Manufacturers' Association, representing British Columbia at the Pacific Commercial Conference at which 130 delegates assembled representing every country on the Pacific.

BRIDGE NO PLACE TO COOL OFF

Canadian Inventor Fireman Charged With Incipient Mutiny

That even if a fireman should grow heated while stoking in the bowels of his ship the bridge is not a wise place for him to cool off of is the message in a charge by the British Columbia Police Court against Sidney Hughes, member of the crew of the C. G. M. P. Canadian Inventor.

When the Canadian inventor, Captain R. P. Roberts, made port here on Saturday from Vancouver, traveling light, Hughes, it is alleged, took a walk on the deck of the ship. At the end of a spirited search he was found, and taken back to the ship, to be later given in charge by Captain Roberts. Hughes refused to obey an order under the Canada Shipping Act.

Hughes, it is alleged, appeared on the deck of the ship, dressed in a suit, and dressed for the part, as the Canadian inventor was steaming on her way to this port from the mainland. He was invited to go below, but refused. It is alleged. Later he did leave the bridge, and then showed up in the engine room where the scene was repeated. He was later taken to the mainmast, had got slightly mixed on his bearings. He was sent down for three weeks this afternoon.

SOME PERILS OF DEMOCRACY ARE SEEN BY VISITOR

C. C. Ferguson Criticizes Social Welfare Legislation

That a democracy tinged with a strong sense of aristocracy would bring better conditions, and reveal more quickly the glorious future before Canada was the statement made to-day by C. C. Ferguson, general manager of the Great West Life Assurance Co., and president of the Winnipeg Canadian Club, in a splendid address before the City Club to-day. Mr. Ferguson spoke on "Democracy."

Mr. Ferguson stated that many of the best people able to govern had been forced out of public life by aristocracy, and he thought that democracy would be better if those people could be encouraged to return to the political arena. He would like to see aristocracy, in its original sense, that is government by the people best able to govern in the Dominion of Canada. Democracy in many places to-day was only a short step from an oligarchy, said Mr. Ferguson. In Canada there was a tendency to return to government by certain classes.

Railway Mania.

One of the dangers in a democracy was an unbalanced public opinion, declared the speaker. In the early days of democracy there was a belief that public opinion could not err, but this had been proved by the public clamor for railroads in excess of its requirements, and to-day was paying the penalty of a premature development.

The public was liable to be led by a popular clamor. The speaker referred to the Hudson Bay Railway route, to which he believed the present movement was not favorable. He said that facts must be considered. The construction of the railroad created no difficulty, but whether or not the bay and strait would be navigable was what needed investigation before elevators and other structures were erected by public funds.

Mr. Ferguson thought the best way to test out the scheme would be to send several ships through the Straits and Bay under working conditions. By small expenditure a test could be made.

In the matter of the creating of a wheat port Mr. Ferguson thought that public opinion might win out over facts.

Against Mothers' Pensions.

One of the dangers to democracy was legislation of a sympathetic type. The Mothers' Pensions law, which had been introduced in British Columbia and other provinces was a direct inroad of socialist legislation yet put on the statute books, as it supported the contention that the state owes everyone a living. It was a system of state insurance that was unscientific in character and discriminating in facts. Fort George Member Urges
Action on P.G.E.; Highways
Working North

Work to be done this season will afford motorists opportunity to proceed direct from Vancouver to Hazelton by road, according to H. G. Perry, M. P. for Fort George, who has come down from Prince George to take up northern public affairs with the Government here.

"To make the chain of highways complete a small section will have to be built in the Cariboo constituency, and improvements will have to be made in Fort George on the highway road between Vanderhoof and Prince George," Mr. Perry said. "The only other link required is between Burns Lake and Hazelton, and the whole distance to be built is less than 50 miles."

Mr. Perry, who has just completed a speaking tour through the southern portion of the Province, stated that every indication pointed to a large influx of new settlers to Central British Columbia this season.
Many enquiries were being received, especially from the United States, he said.

"While in Victoria I intend to make enquiries about the proposed visit of the new Minister of Railways to Prince George in connection with his investigation of the advisability of completing the P. G. E.," the member went on. "I want him to come soon, as I have many things to show him, and am confident that once he investigates the matter he can come to no other conclusion than that in the interests of the railway and of the Province generally the line must be finished to Prince George without delay."

"With better railway and road connection settlement of the country will increase by leaps and bounds."
Speaking of the redistribution bill now before a committee of the Dominion Parliament, Mr. Perry expressed confidence that the seat for British Columbia would be awarded to the northern portion of the Province. The new seat, in his opinion, should take in the Provincial ridings of Cariboo, Fort George (including the Peace River) and part of Omineca.

"That will give a voting strength in proportion to the average unit for rural constituencies throughout the Dominion," he said, "and the North is in urgent need of more representation at Ottawa."
Mr. Perry stated that he had seen
Hon. T. D. Pattullo and four prominent business men of Prince Rupert on their way to Ottawa to petition for increased harbor development for the port of Prince Rupert. Business conditions throughout the country along the G. C. P. E. were good, he said, and demand for ties and other lumber products having kept many mills along that railway working all winter.

"There is no unemployment in our country," he said.
Mr. Perry announced that the two newspapers in Prince George, The Leader and The Citizen, were amalgamating under the name of The Citizen, which was the oldest paper in the city, but that they were going to print on the plant of The Leader.
Robert Renwick, of The Citizen, former deputy minister of lands here,
is to be managing director, and associated with him will be J. D. Quinn, of the Leader. The new paper will publish weekly, he said.

ST. PATRICK'S TEA.

An enjoyable afternoon was spent on Saturday by the members of the Victoria Women's Institute when the board of directors, composed of Mrs.
H. Crocker, Mrs. F. W. Laing, Mrs.
Wm. Pedon, Mrs. H. M. Black, Mrs.
A. R. Colby and Mrs. W. D. Todd entertained the members at a St.
Patrick's tea.

The affair was held in the Institute rooms, which were artistically decorated with laurel strings and flags,
while the ables with their pink stocks,
snowdrops and shamrock were a picture.

During the afternoon delightful vocal selections by Mrs. H. M. Black, Mrs. Gaiger, Mrs. J. R. Terry, Mrs.
W. D. Todd and humorous recitations by Mrs. Ernest You were greatly appreciated.

The evening was devoted to "court whist," which proved good fun, and an agreeable change from the ordinary whist or five hundred. The prize winners were: Lady's first, Mrs. F.
W. Laing; gentleman's first, A. Cole-and E. B. Todd. Delicious refreshments brought the evening to a close.

er Associations now receive the full support of the education department and of school boards. Mrs. Muirhead gave a brief outline of the work done and pointed out the importance of which the influence of the association can be exerted.

"During a recess Mrs. A. B. Thorp played a selection and Mrs. W. Do-son sang 'The Hour of Rest.'"

Mrs. Muirhead continued her address speaking on educational ideals.
Speaking of the three-fold development of the child, the physical, mental and moral, she said that parents are largely responsible for the first,
the teachers for the second, and teachers jointly for the third. Including the value of hard work, keep the purity of the English language, including the value of happy, kindly,
courteous manners, was her closing appeal.

During refreshments served under the direction of Mrs. Stock and Miss Davidson, Miss Mary Somerville played selections on the piano. Sixtyone members joined the Parent-Teacher Association. Mr. Thorpe, for the education committee reported on a university extension lecture to be held next month on "Cambridge." It was also suggested that at the next meeting of the local body a committee of two should go to the school on a rainy day at noon and report on the crowding in the basements.

Afternoon tea was held at Mrs.
Selrup's home on Thursday last by the ladies of St. Andrew's sewing circle. The evening took the form of a St. Patrick's entertainment. Mrs.
O'Neill, Mrs. Dobson, Misses M.
Tombs and M. Somerville and Corrie looked part in the programme. The house was beautifully decorated with snowdrops and tulips.

Assisting Mrs. Selrup were Messrs. Bell, A. H. Paterson and Murchie. The Misses Davidson, Inches and Rows helped in serving tea.

NANAIMO NEWS

Special to The Times.

Nanaimo, Mar. 18.—The death occurred in the Nanaimo General Hospital this morning of Robert Rutherford Gordon, death being due to appendicitis, after an illness dating from March 4 last. The deceased was a native of Northumberland, Eng., aged 44 years, and had resided in this district for the past twenty years. He followed the occupation of a miner, and at times was employed at Extension, Nanaimo and Lonsville mines, and had resided in this city and Lonsville since his return from overseas. He is survived by one brother, James Gordon, Ladysmith, and one son, Ronald, aged twelve years, residing in Vancouver.
The funeral will take place at Ladysmith under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias.

A meeting of the Fishermen's and Game Association was held last night over Wardill's Store, the meeting instructing the secretary to communicate with the Fisheries Department recommending the trout fishing season on Vancouver Island open on March 1 and close on November 15 in conformity with regulations in force on the Mainland. The meeting also discussed at length the question of the destruction of small trout by sawbill ducks, large numbers of which are to be found on all streams of the island. These ducks are no use for food, and live on the small trout, resulting in the depletion of trout, and the loss of the stream, and it was the feeling of last night's meeting that an effort should be made to either have a bounty placed on this class of duck, or that instructions be given at every opportunity.

Both were wireless enthusiasts, and after the manner of those who fish, and those who grow vegetable mar-rows, they told each other at the possession of the finest apparatus in the world.

"Do you know," said the first, "I distinctly heard the scene-shifters talking in the other night!"
His companion took a deep breath.
"Why, listening-in to the performance of 'The Merchant of Venice' the other night, I not only heard the applause, but could distinctly hear the cries of 'Author!'"

At the Theatre

"LORNA DOONE" IS AT THE ROYAL

Famous Outlaw Story of North Devon to Be Presented in Film

At the present time, according to librarians, there is a marked demand for the novels of R. D. Blackmore. The press announcement of an elaborate production of "Lorna Doone" by Tourneur not merely aroused interest in this favorite seventeenth century story, but also seems to have caused much speculation in regard to Blackmore's other novels, all of which have been placed on open shelves in easy reach in order that the public demand might be encouraged.

"Lorna's romance," which is now being shown in film form at the Royal Victoria, however, is the one which always has held preeminent favor because of its wealth of exciting dramatic incident which made it an ideal screen story in Tourneur's hands. And a special edition of this classic has been put out by the Milton Bradley Company to meet the new popularity of the story that is coming with the film.

In the same way it was found that the screen presentation of "The Three Musketeers" in the hands of Fairbanks was so energetic, precipitated a Dumas revival. Booksellers in many instances completely exhausted their stocks, not merely of this book, but of entire Dumas sets during the picture's first season run. So much interest was aroused by the dashing screen figure that the public at large became interested enough in "D'Artagnan" to want to read his adventures in print.

A sharp revival of interest in J. Fenimore Cooper's tales of historic America followed on the heels of Maurice Tourneur's presentation of "The Last of the Mohicans." Librarians in a number of cities reported that for some weeks following the appearance of the picture at local theatres, there was a greater call for "The Last of the Mohicans" than there had been for all the other Cooper tales combined in several years past.

Robert Louis Stevenson always has held his own, but after the picture "Treasure Island" by Tourneur, there was an enormous demand for the tale of the hardy sea captain's adventures with the black-hearted crew of pirates.

Even Mark Twain's popularity received a boost when picture version were shown of "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," "Huckleberry Finn" and "The Prince and the Pauper."

Lincoln J. Carter—what memories that name brings up. Way back when every theatre had a gallery that was really patronized, Carter made dramas that brought the boys near the ceiling to their feet slapping and whistling, for did not the villain pursue her through a hazardous four acts and many scenes, and did not virtue always triumph over vice in the end. You just bet your cigarette money he did!

Carter was the man who elevated the drama to the nth degree of ecstasy for the "gallery gods." And down in the orchestra, and balcony, too, his name on a production meant always packed houses. That was until the motion picture came into existence and then the good old melodrama was done, for no craftsman could ever expect to obtain on a limited stage the effects that a film director could get with the whole world to work in.

But up until that time Lincoln J. Carter was regarded as the wizard of stage mechanics and effects. Remember those really fine old plays—fine from a standpoint of having a good story back of them, backed up with plenty of thrills—"The Fast Mail," "Over Niagara Falls," "The Eleventh Hour" and so on, and so on.

With the death of the melodrama—the popular variety—Carter did not cease to produce. Not a bit of it. Some of the biggest effects and illustrations produced at the New York Winter Garden were of his handiwork, and did a modern stage manager get into difficulty where a certain illusion was required in big spectacles, Carter was, and is, always on the job.

But it was "The Fast Mail" first produced in 1896 that stamped him a master creator of stage effects. No one who ever saw the play, will ever forget that train rushing across the stage, grabbing up the mail bag in which "the hero" was "shot" and going on and on to the rescue of the heroine. It seemed like two trains, it was so long, and the audience wondered how it was done. Only Carter knew and he kept his secret for many years from the general public.

Now William Fox has made a production that really outdoes the original drama, of course, and put his virile star, Charles Jones, in a role that is really suited to his active propensities. All of the old thrills are retained with some new ones added.

All right, ladies and gentlemen, we will all be at the Capitol Theatre for the opening to-day.

AMUSEMENTS TO-DAY

Royal—"Lorna Doone," "Capt. Jack," "The Fast Mail," "Dominion," "Adam's Rib," "Columbia—In the Name of the Law," "Pantages—Kiwani's Minstrel."

"ADAM'S RIB" IS NOW AT DOMINION

Dominion Presents Cecil De Mille Film

Color photography carried to the logical degree, yet reached in a special feature of "Adam's Rib," Cecil B. De Mille's new Paramount picture featuring Milton Sills, Elliott Dexter, Theodore Kosloff, Anna Q. Nilson, Pauline Garon and Julia Payne which will be presented at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

All over color photography carried to the limits of the skin is admittedly still to come in its final perfection.

Color "spotted" through the regular blacks, greys and whites of the celluloid is a point, however, to which real perfection is said to have now been reached through a color registering system perfected by Paramount and used for the first time in "Adam's Rib."

The scene in which the spotted color appears is a night ballroom scene showing a large group of dancers. The pairs of dancers are furnished with Japanese lanterns. The main lights of the room are turned out and the lanterns lighted. Each lantern has been "spotted" a different color, red, blue, yellow, purple, a myriad of tints. And the color is reflected on the faces of the individuals carrying the lanterns.

These moving, dipping, dodging bits of color appearing in the darkened room, with their reflections on white shirts, fronts, faces and dainty frocks, are said to give a marvellously beautiful effect something that makes it possible to say there is truly "something new under the sun."

The story of "Adam's Rib" deals with the passions and frailty of modern young women, and it is a tremendous love romance filled with thrills and appeal. The vision scenes of the cave-man period are said to be typically De Mille in conception and execution, and vest the production with an interest no ordinary motion picture can attain.

Jeanie Macpherson, famous photoplaywright, is author.

To get, share—happiness, friendship, tolerance, all the most precious possessions of life.

MUSIC LOVERS' NIGHT AT THE ROYAL

To-night, in addition to the feature film "Lorna Doone," which is the attraction at the Royal all this week, the following programme of music will be rendered by an orchestra of 30 pieces:

- Three Dances from Henry VIII. German
- (1) Morris Dance.
- (2) Shepherd's Dance.
- (3) Torch Dance.
- Andante from 5th Symphony Tchaikowsky
- Waltz, Casino Tasse Gungl
- Fox Trot—
- (1) Sudan
- (2) Carolina Mammy
- As an added attraction Mr. Ernest Hammond, the well-known baritone, ERNEST HAMMOND will sing "When The Leaves Come Tumbling Down," and another song not yet selected.

Notable Series Of Super-Pictures Coming to Royal

Commencing this week, the Royal Victoria Theatre will begin a four-week run of the season's super-productions. This announcement is made by Manager Clifford Denham. The run will open this week with Maurice Tourneur's spectacular production, "Lorna Doone," starring Madge Bellamy. The productions that will be shown here during the next month are as follows: Madge Bellamy in "Lorna Doone," March 19 to 24; Douglas MacLean in "The Hottentot," March 26 to 31; Norma Talmadge in "The Voice From the Minaret," April 2 to 7; and Mabel Normand in "Susanne," April 9 to 14. Manager Denham states that the four productions will all be shown at popular prices.

POLICE ENDORSE COLUMBIA FILM

"In the Name of the Law" Is Tale of Poignant Humanness

Now comes a motion picture which shows the policeman in the real light. It is called "In the Name of the Law" and is being distributed throughout the country. Thousands of big theatres are showing it; hundreds of police chiefs and thousands of policemen have given it their heartiest endorsement and for the first time the public is being shown just what sort of a man the average policeman is, how he lives at home, how he rears his family and by what fine motives he is actuated in the daily performance of his duties.

"In the Name of the Law," which will be shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day, Tuesday and Wednesday was made for the main purpose of entertaining the millions of men and women and children who patronize moving picture theatres. But its purpose goes also beyond the mere idea of entertainment. It is a big human document of strong emotions, of tense drama, of swift action.

It unfolds a tale of poignant humanness. It tells a story about Policeman Patrick O'Hara and his family, consisting of Mother O'Hara, who is the bustling type of lovable housewife, and their two fine sons, Harry and Johnnie. An adopted daughter, Mary, also plays an important role in the picture and about this family group has been woven a story of striking appeal.

Policeman of the country over have given "In the Name of the Law" their heartiest approval because it shows for the first time on record the sweet home life of a policeman's family. It depicts the years of toil during which a policeman and his devoted wife save diligently and at last put away sufficient money to buy a home. It shows how firmly they both stand in the big crises of their lives.

In the cast are such capable players as Emory Johnson, who produced the picture; Ralph Lewis, who appears as Officer O'Hara; Ella Hall, Johnnie Walker and others.

Mrs. Malaprop still survives. "Really," said the stylish woman to her friend, whose riches had come quickly and out-distanced her knowledge—"really, it is worth while going to the Zoo, if only to see the wonderful display of rhododendrons." "Yes," replied her friend, languidly toying with her ringed fingers. "I like to look at the great big clumsy beasts, too."

To Sing Before Women's Canadian Club

BLANCHE NELSON, SOPRANO, OF VANCOUVER

Miss Nelson will give a recital on Tuesday afternoon at 3.15 before the Women's Canadian Club, Mrs. A. J. Gibson assisting at the piano. Students of the Normal School, the Victoria College of Arts and music students will also have the privilege of attending this affair.

THE BETTER REMEDY
The four-year-old son of a doctor had paid his first visit to Sunday school, and on his return his mother asked him what story the teacher had told him.
"It was about the Good Samaritan," answered the boy. "This Samaritan found a man left by robbers on the road. He had wounds all over him. The Samaritan poured oil on them. Iodine would have been better."

Nerves So Bad That She Would Sit and Cry

Mrs. Mary Hocking, Madoc, Ont., writes:—"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a wonderful lot of good. I suffered from general weakness and was so run down and my heart and nerves were in such bad shape that I would sit down and cry and not know what I was crying about. I also used to have weak spells. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am real well now. I shall always keep a box of the Nerve Food in the house, and recommend them to my friends; they are a wonderful medicine."
(Mr. J. W. Vince, Druggist, of Madoc, Ont., says: "I have sold Mrs. Hocking your Nerve Food, and the medicine has done her much good.")

JOSEPH BONNET HAS HONOR RIBBON

Has Been Decorated With Legion of Honor
Joseph Bonnet comes back wearing the red ribbon of the French Legion of Honor. This distinction was bestowed on him by the French Government last August and the name of Joseph Bonnet now stands on the lists with those of Cesar Franck, Charles Marie Vidor and Alexander Gullmant, whom the French Government chose to honor among the organists. Mr. Bonnet, who is always modest, says he believes he was given the distinction, "perhaps because I have played more in many lands and thus have done something to make French organ literature and characteristic French performance known than many of my artist confreres."

SEEKING VOTERS FOR LIST REVISION

Political organizations are speeding up in an effort to replace as many as possible of the 4,500 voters whose names were struck off the list for not voting at last election. There are many new voters now who have passed the minimum age limit since last registration. Last day for registering will be April 9, and the court of revision on these names will sit on May 21. Notaries public, police, as well as special election commissioners all over the city, are empowered to register voters.

LITERARY NOTES
Robert Watson, the British Columbian novelist, has had a book of Western ballads and poems accepted for publication this Spring by T. Fisher Unwin, of London. The title of the volume, which will be published in Britain, the United States and Canada, will be "The Mad Minstrel." Mr. Watson has been turning out this verse at odd hours during the last eight years. He tells me that he has devoted probably as much time to them as to all his novels together. Mr. Unwin is partial to Canadian verse, for he is Robert Service's London publisher.

there can be no doubt of the reception in store for him when he plays here on Tuesday, March 27, in the Metropolitan Church. All tickets which are the same price throughout, can now be obtained at Fletcher Bros.

face he dedicates the story to the enterprise of "Remaking Souls." In January each year. His 1923 novel, "Wanderer of the Wasteland," has just been published by the Messon Book Company, Toronto. It is the usual saga brush thriller, and Zane Grey thinks that it is the best story he has written.

A book that will be of interest to medical men is "The White of Manchester (1728-1813) and the Arrest of Puerperal Fever," just published by Hodder and Stoughton. It is the work of the late Dr. A. G. Adams, for many years Professor in McGill Medical College. The material in this book was originally delivered at the Manchester Royal Infirmary in 1921.

English critics are constantly prophesying that an Italian writer, Giovanni Papini, is destined in a month or two to become one of the world's great figures. He has written a novel, "The Christ," which has created an enormous impression in Italy, where the press cannot turn it out fast enough to meet the popular demand. Translations are now being made into many languages. Before the war Papini was a scoffing atheist and anarchist, a bitter satirist of all things that humanity holds dear. During the great struggle, however, he came to the conclusion that the only way to avert war in future was to change the spirit of mankind, to turn it towards religion, to make Christ live again. This was his purpose in writing his book, which is based singly upon the story of the four Gospels. In the pre-

According to the Carnegie Free Library reports from all parts of the United States, the most popular fiction writer in that country last year was Zane Grey. A library in South Carolina reports that his books were called for 543 times, while the writer who ranked next in popularity was called for only 133 times. Zane Grey's new books are now published

Two weeks ago, in my review of Compton Mackenzie's new romance, "The Seven Ages of Women," temporary mental aberration made me put down to his discredit "The Rustle of Silk," a novel by Cosmo Hamilton. I apologize to my readers, and incidentally to Mr. Mackenzie, for confusing Cosmo with Compton.

Everyone likes local hits. In the fourteen shows that have been produced by Mr. Hincks at the Playhouse perhaps the most popular feature has been the topical illusions. Now comes a show that is one long production the highest point of professional finish is assured. Performances start Wednesday night at 8.30. Seats may be reserved any time during the day, at the box office or by telephoning 3801. Curtain will be at 8.30 sharp.

It's faith in something and enthusiasm for something that makes life worth living.

PARADED CITY TO-DAY AS PRELIMINARY TO PHILANTHROPIC PRODUCTION

Everything is prepared for the entertainment of those Victorians who have been lucky enough to secure seats for the minstrel performance at the Pantages Theatre. The rush for seats after the street parade to-day was very encouraging to those niggers who thought no one would want to see them twice, but when it is remembered that the make-up is under the capable direction of Harry Stewart and Percy Fox it can be readily understood that the disguises are good. In fact, the make-up artists have guaranteed that no husband will be recognized by his wife for at least ten minutes after the curtain goes up. The cast has been well chosen and is admirably balanced; in fact, it would be hard to pick out any individual for special mention, although one must admit that W. G. Gaunce is a typical Southern judge who dispenses impartial justice in order to demonstrate that his office is important and one can almost feel that one's own turn for "sixty days" is very close. The slow, easy Southern manner is well exemplified, and the

"nigger" is certainly made to feel what a high place he holds in the estimation of the court. The second part of the performance presents one of the most colorful and picturesque scenes that has appeared on the Pantages stage, and the harmonious effect of the various nigger costumes, coupled with the melodious rendering of the Southern also makes a most delightful presentation on which the producers and actors are to be particularly congratulated. The soloists are well known to local audiences, and can be relied on to please whenever they are before the footlights. Tickets are still available for both performances, to-night and Tuesday.

CONFERENCE ON WHEAT BOARD PLANS

Winnipeg, March 18.—Premier John Bracken is back in the city from Regina, where Saturday he was in conference with Premier Dunning of Saskatchewan and Premier Greenfield of Alberta with respect to wheat board legislation. Premier Bracken declined to comment in any way on the conference. It is assumed in some quarters that Premier Bracken will make some reference to the conference when the House meets to-day, and that he will also comment on the situation created by the notice filed by C. A. Tanner, Labor member for Kildonan

"I suppose," said cross-examining counsel in his snappiest manner, "that you remember the date of your birth?" "Certainly," said the witness, with a bored air. "Every man remembers his birthday." "A newly born infant has no memory. Now, sir, how do you know that it wasn't a day sooner or a day later than the date you have in mind?" "Why—er—ahem—I've been told—" "Exactly. You've been told, but you don't know. Step down. Gentlemen of the jury, this is the kind of witness who has testified against the unimpeachable character of my client."

special problems, and particularly will arrange meetings for discussion of taxation, banking rural credits, company law and the history of the British Constitution and an explanation of the present system of government. It will be their aim again to strive to improve the potato industry, and it is proposed to organize the growing of certified seed potatoes and follow up the study of marketing. Seed growing will be closely looked into and lectures arranged. It is found that seed peas can be most successfully grown here, and it is believed the industry could profitably be developed. Field demonstrations will be arranged for certain crops. The farmers are strongly recommended to use certified seed potatoes and to plant not more than two varieties. Supplies of seed potatoes are being arranged for, and the secretary will give particulars of varieties and prices. All those prepared to go into the growing of certified seed potatoes on a commercial scale are being asked to make entry at once, as only a limited number can be accepted this year.

The directors recommend the holding of a specialized Fall one-day district fair on the first Tuesday in October at Metchosin Hall. As the directors are convinced the farmers should specialize in lines most successfully grown in the district, it is proposed to confine exhibits to a selection of the following products: Potatoes, apples, pears, plums, seeds and grains, corn on the cob, honey, bottled fruits, pickles, vegetables, utility poultry and perhaps home-cured hams and bacon. The directors will ask the members to support them in the proposal for future fairs that no Victoria merchant be canvassed for prizes. For the convenience of members, authority has been given for the following, in addition to the secretary, to take members' subscriptions and issue applications for stamping powder: Rocky Point, George Hall; Langford and Colwood, A. D. Wale; Luxton and Sooke Road, A. Hankin; Albert Head and vicinity, F. C. Blake; Metchosin and Happy Valley, H. H. Brown.

PLANTS THAT CAN SEE

Trees and Flowers With Wonderful Gifts. Although plants cannot smell, they have certain senses. They are, for instance, sensitive to touch, taste, sight and thirst. To speak of a plant being possessed of sight may sound amazing, but you can prove this fact by a very simple experiment. Tack a piece of string along the wall parallel to, but on one side of, a loose tendril of creeper. In a very short time the tendril turns its tip towards the support, reaches, and clings to it. How could it do that without possessing sight? Again, you will often notice the common bramble growing up over a pile of stones or perhaps an old wall; in such a place it has a hard struggle for existence. In order to get food and to help itself, it pokes the points of its growing shoots into any crack or crevice where there is a little earth or mould, and the shoot, as soon as it strikes food, sets to make use of it in a most sensible way. The shoot changes its shape and character—it becomes clubbed, flings out real roots; and these take hold of the soil and feed upon it. An Elm's Thirst. Most of us know the common sundew which grows in boggy places and which lives upon insects. It is the best-known English flesh-eating plant. All carnivorous plants are endowed with a sense of taste. You can experiment for yourself by placing on these leaves little morsels of various substances. You will find that, while they close at once upon meat, they will have nothing to do with sugar, starch, and so on. A plant that is thirsty will do the most remarkable things in order to satisfy its desire for water. An elm has been known to send out roots sixty feet long to reach a little pool, while a poplar has in like fashion burrowed right under a broad high road, with a brick wall on one side and a hedge on the other, so as to reach a well. The roots were found forcing their way through the brick-

ROYAL VICTORIA THEATRE

C. DENHAM, Manager. Telephone 5152 VICTORIA, B. C. Monday, March 19, 1923.

To The Theatre Patrons of Victoria, Victoria, B. C.

Dear Sir or Madam:—The management wishes to announce that they have made arrangements to give the patrons of the Royal for the next four weeks, four of the very best pictures that have been released so far this season. These pictures have cost us three times, and, in some cases, four times the usual rental paid for the average picture. Now, as we know by experience that Victorians will support any attraction that is really good, instead of raising our prices to 35c or 40c, which the worth of these attractions really entitle us to do, we are making this special offer as far as prices are concerned for the next four weeks:

MATINEE: ADULTS, 25c; CHILDREN, 10c. EVENING: ADULTS, ALL UPSTAIRS, 25c; ALL DOWNSTAIRS, 35c; CHILDREN, 10c.

We pay out of this ten per cent amusement tax. These prices being in most cases what you pay to see an ordinary picture, and we guarantee the following four to be special productions in every way:

Week of March 19, MADGE BELLAMY in "LORNA DOONE."

Week of March 26, MADGE BELLAMY and DOUGLAS MACLEAN in "THE HOTTENTOT."

Week of April 2, NORMA TALMADGE in "THE VOICE FROM THE MINARET."

Week of April 9, MABEL NORMAND in "SUZANNE."

For the next four weeks do not fail to visit the Royal. We are sure you will be well repaid.

Commended for adventure romance and appeal to the millions who have read the book—and the millions more who will sit enthralled by its screen splendor.

REASON FOR WRATH.
Sylvester Slab cabbage had contracted to deliver a load of hay to a certain party in the morning, but at noon it had not arrived. Mr. Smith walked down the road looking for it. Some distance from the observation post, he saw the load had met with an accident on its way. The North Country English hired man accompanying his load was riding a bicycle on the road. The hired man saw Mr. Smith's invitation to lunch with the observation, "Boss! He fair wild." "Well, it wasn't your fault," said Smith comfortingly. Having allowed the horses their 90 minutes' rest, the two walked leisurely to the scene of the accident. They sighted the wagon, the hired man repeatedly stating his opinion that "Boss! It fair wild." At last Mr. Smith got impatient. "Oh, drat your boss," he said. "What on earth has he got to be wild for?" "He's under the hay," said the hired man, mildly.

WHAT HAPPENED AT SNOWED-IN HUT
Part II.
Mr. Fox ran to his summer home and brought back his feather bed and a few other things and was all settled when Mr. Coon and Mr. Possum returned.
The place he had found was a hut some workmen had used in the summer and as there was no chance of their returning until Spring Mr. Fox knew they were safe.
"I brought along my bright tin plate," said Mr. Coon; "thought it would brighten things up a bit. When I am not using it, it can stand on top of the cupboard. I do love to see things bright and shining."
"I brought along a basket of eggs and some corn," said Mr. Possum. "You missed something on the top shelf of the cupboard, Possey," said Mr. Fox. "I found a bag of flour, some tin cans with food in them, and some matches in a tin box; so we went starve."
"Mr. Possum's eyes began to twinkle. 'Let us have biscuit for supper,' he said. 'I can make lovely ones if I do say it.'"
"All right, we appoint you cook right now," said Mr. Fox, "and I'll get you a chance to get out of working."
"What can you do, Racey?" he inquired.
"I will wash the dishes," replied Mr. Coon with his eyes fixed on his bright tin plate, and I do say it, looking for a chance to get out of working."

Instalment No. 2.
The testimony must have appeared incredible. It must have appeared fantastic. No man reading the record could have come to any other conclusion about it. It seemed impossible. At least, it seemed impossible for me to consider this great vital bulk of a man as a monk of one of the oldest religious orders in the hearing of every common academic conception of such a monk he distinctly shuddered. He impressed me with a sense of the ultimate qualities of clever diplomacy—the subtle ambassador of some new Oriental power, shrewd, suave, accomplished.

BIBLE CLASS BANQUET.

The C. I. C. Bible Class of Centennial Church held their first annual banquet on Friday in the Schoolroom. Dr. Davies was the guest of honor. Toasts and responses were given. Besides the members others present were: G. Holt, Mr. Fuller, Mr. Hadian, Mrs. Hambleton.

After the banquet a special meeting was held and arrangements made for the Summer campaign. During the meeting reports were read showing the rapid growth of the class. Organized last August with a membership of four, it has steadily increased to the present number of thirty-four, and more applications for membership. After a successful meeting, the class adjourned at 10 p. m.

The Poultry Branch of the Provincial Department of Agriculture has a leaflet dealing with valuable hints on the care of breeding stock and also a typical leaflet giving hints on egg hatching.

"I Was a Fright!"

"Nothing I Could Take Made Me Any Fatter."

"Up to the time I was seventeen years old, I believe that I was the most miserable and unhappy girl that ever lived. Honestly, I was a sight. I was the most ungainly looking creature you ever saw. I was thin and scrawny—straight up and down. My height was five feet nine inches and I weighed exactly ninety-one and three quarter pounds. No matter what kind of clothes I put on I looked like a fright. I was clumsy and awkward. I used to stand before the glass and study my features. I found I had a good nose, good eyes and a good mouth, but my cheeks were sunken and my face looked like a skull with a piece of parchment stretched over it. But nothing I could do or take made me any fatter. Men rarely even glanced at me. When they did, they merely gave me a casual, amused or pitying look—an expression which I am sure meant, 'why is a being like that allowed to live?' I used to lie awake at night for hours at a time wondering why there were so many beautiful girls in the world and I was so hideous. I met a friend of mine one day, Elsie W. and I hardly knew her. While she had never been as thin as I was, a year or more ago she ran me a close second, but when I met her she had taken on flesh and had developed into a fine handsome girl with one of the prettiest figures I had ever seen. I asked her what had caused the big change. She said Carnol. She told me she had been taking it regularly for the last three months and that from the first week of taking it she had begun to put on flesh. I was so encouraged by what she said that I couldn't get to the druggist fast enough. I bought a bottle and since then I have been taking it regularly. It has made the greatest change in me you ever saw. I now weigh 165 pounds and all my friends tell me what a wonderful figure I have and I know that I am admired."

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund you money.

IT COSTS REAL MONEY TO BREAK CLUSTER LIGHTS

Motorists Who Snapped Standards Asked to Pay $100 for Their Fun

Breaking cluster light standards is an expensive amusement in Victoria now.

About a score of Victoria motorists found this out during the last few days when they received damage bills from the city, ranging from $10 to over $100. And the worst of it, from their standpoint, is that the city fully intends to collect the money or go to court about it.

Collection of these damage charges has been placed in the hands of City Solicitor H. S. Pringle, who, in his usual vigorous style, is going right after the money. Everyone who has broken a cluster light standard since the year 1918 is being asked to pay for the cost of repairs. So far three men have paid in full, and three more have agreed to do so.

A cluster light standard, without electrical fittings, costs the city $76, Mr. Pringle explained. People who have dashed their cars into standards and snapped them off are being asked to pay that figure.

It is not difficult to snap a light standard, it was explained at the City Hall to-day. A motor hitting the base of the standard at ten miles an hour will do the trick neatly and at a cost of about $100 altogether.

DEFENDANT SAVES HIS SKIN

Mr. Justice Gregory Removes Doubt in Major George's Veracity

Judgment for the defendant Major F. W. B. George, was given by Mr. Justice Gregory in the lawsuit brought by Mervyn L. Caudwell to recover $1,000 loaned by plaintiff to the Silver Foam Soap Company, which has since gone into the receiver's hands.

Plaintiff alleged that he was induced to lend the money through misrepresentations by the defendant who was managing director of the company.

The Court held that there had been no deception as to the state of the company's finances at the time the loan was made.

In an oral judgment Mr. Justice Gregory said in part: "There must be some ground for the plaintiff's complaint. While I am not satisfied that the defendant was guilty of the fraud charged, I am convinced that he has managed to make himself believe since the loss that the plaintiff's representations took place which never did in fact take place."

So far as the defendant is concerned, the Court satisfied and he is satisfied and has not a shadow of a doubt that the defendant was absolutely sincere and truthful in his statements to the plaintiff.

He was guilty of no moral turpitude, no reckless disregard as to whether the statements were true or false.

It is not difficult to snap a light standard, it was explained at the City Hall to-day. A motor hitting the base of the standard at ten miles an hour will do the trick neatly and at a cost of about $100 altogether.

D. S. Tait appeared for the plaintiff, and Alexis Martin for the defendant.

School Board members, while willing to meet Chinese parents, will be averring from their present policy under which Chinese pupils who cannot speak English are segregated from the white pupils.

POTATO GROWERS FORM ORGANIZATION

Hon. E. D. Barrow Speaks; Election of Officers Left to Subsequent Meeting

"This is the opportunity to consider the establishment of a Potato Growers' Organization," stated Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture, in his opening remarks before a representative meeting of potato growers of the Saanich Peninsula at the Chamber of Commerce Saturday.

It was on this advice that the Potato Growers' Organization was formed. No officers were elected, as certain data was first required.

A resolution moved by A. Kohout was passed authorizing the appointment of a committee to secure figures of the production of the district to be included and the stocks on hand, and to submit a market plan at a future date to be held in the Chamber of Commerce quarters on March 31.

The following committee was appointed: North Saanich, George Mitchell and S. Brethour; Keating, W. D. Mitchell and T. K. H. Harrop; Gordon Head, W. F. Somers and G. W. V. Vintregh; Metcalf, A. E. Wale and H. Pravey; Soke, Rev. S. Lunday and A. Kohout.

Mr. Barrow was strong in objection. Mr. Barrow stated to the fifty-five members of the committee that 95 per cent of the potatoes in B. C., but if the Province was properly organized and educated in the manner in which potatoes should be grown, the quantities, and the varieties, then this menace was first required.

Mr. Barrow explained the various ways in which an organization could be made of value to growers. A potato factory could be set up to supply the surplus supply, so that the market would not be flooded with potatoes.

The development of the certified seed production was dealt with by Dr. Warnock, Deputy Minister, who spoke chiefly on this subject. He pointed out that the Department of Agriculture would wish the British Columbia market for certified seed potatoes in foreign markets. The British Columbia certified seed, he stated, and it was only by careful planting—and tending—that good potatoes could be secured to export.

It was stated that 60 cars of potatoes had been imported into Victoria, while local growers had their pits still full. But this was explained by the statement that the wholesaler would take a carload of potatoes, but did not want to be bothered picking up a few tons here and there.

The Men's Institute at Keating accepted a challenge from the Women's Institute for a competition entertainment. The short business arrangement included preliminary arrangements for the year's crop competition and the following competitions were arranged: Strawberries—one and one-half acre; potatoes, certified and general crop, one-half acre; best vegetable garden, these to be followed up by prizes at the Saanich Fall Fair.

At the conclusion of business the members settled down to the entertainment of the ladies, donning fancy caps for the occasion.

The grand march was held much merriment being caused by beauty contest, Mrs. Woolen and A. Tanner winning the prize for the best looking couple at being presented with two mirrors.

A prize for the best waltzers was awarded to Miss M. Young and J. L. Brooks. After a hearty supper which was served by the men games were indulged in, great excitement prevailing in the passing of the dead man's bones in the dark air. The drawing of the pig while blindfolded and a few dances.

The cream was made from cream supplied by the farmers of V. I. M. P. A. and made at the Royal Dairy was served and a beautiful birthday cake cut jointly by the presidents of the two institutes.

Toasts were then given, Mr. Tanner proposing "The Ladies," with Mrs. H. Laurie responding; "The Institute" by Mr. Gold with Mrs. Gale responding, and "The Health of Mrs. Gold," who, owing to illness was unable to be present, by Mr. Mitchell.

NEWS AND NOTES FROM THE MINES

The Homestake Mining Company will undoubtedly commence operations on the Homestake property in the early Summer, says A. Davidson, who is one of the owners of the property. It has just returned to Alice Arm from a trip to Vancouver. The company are keeping their payments paid up and have great faith in it.

The Homestake is situated at the Kitsault Glacier, and the last work done on the property was in the Summer of 1921, and when the work ceased in October a good body of ore had been broken into, and the property looked very promising. The ore carries values in gold, silver and copper—Alice Arm and Anxoy Herald.

RAINBOW GROUP.

On the Rainbow group, on the Pacific range, a small force of men has been working all winter, and now the property is about to step into the ranks of the shipping mines of the district. The group of claims originates in the property of J. Kelly and associates and last fall was purchased by James Wright, who has had J. J. Driscoll in charge of the property and for a long time has been considered one of the best prospects of the interior. The work done has demonstrated that the belief was well founded. The ore is high-grade silver, about 18 inches wide and with a streak six or eight inches wide that will run 300 per ton. Two drift tunnels have been run. The lower one, where the work is now being done, will give a depth of 200 feet. A good deal of ore is now on the dump and that ore, as well as that which is being mined, is being sacked. The first carload will be shipped in the very near future.

AMERICAN NIGHT AT BAND CONCERT

Well-known Plantation Songs at Capitol Theatre

"American Night" was included in the series of Sunday evening concerts given by the 16th Canadian Scottish Band last evening.

The programme for the most part consisted of American and well-known Southern plantation melodies, and elicited frequent and hearty applause from the very large audience present.

Opening with one of Sousa's marches, the band played all five numbers, the "Reminiscences of the Plantation" (Chambers), which included "Old Black Joe," "Old Kentucky Home," "Marching Through Georgia," "Way Down in Dixie," and "Massa's Laid Cold Ground." Myddleton's "Down South" and the new number, "Peep," being particularly singled out.

Miss Gladys Thorpe. Miss Gladys Thorpe appeared for the first time at these concerts, with Miss Tickle, violinist, and the newly formed organization, "The Victoria's Twelve Male Voices." Miss Thorpe has a very pleasing mezzo-soprano voice which she uses with good effect and discernment. Supporting and ably accompanied by Mrs. A. J. Gibson she sang Leuraunce's characteristic folk song, "By the Waters of Minnetonka."

William Tickle. William Tickle, late leader of the Capitol orchestra, gave two numbers, a "Gipsy Serenade" (Valdes) and the old Irish folk song "Londonderry Air." His recital was invaluable. Possessed of abundant temperamental forces and with a tone of luscious quality his playing gives much pleasure. He chose for his extra number Papini's lively "La Soir a Portici," and was skilfully accompanied by Charles Spencer at the piano.

Victoria's Twelve Male Voices. This recently formed small body of singers has been excellently selected and contains many singers of experience. The balance of tone, the blending of voices and the attention to light and shade, were all admirable under the alert baton of its conductor, T. Lewis. Commencing with "The Canadian" they sang "On the Sea," "Holy Night" and the "Soldier's Chorus" from "Faust," the numbers being ably accompanied by the Capitol organ by Stanley Wells, organist of the Dominion Theatre.
