

and one, from yourself to me, written in 1832! The reading of them contributed largely to delight our venerable friends, and a number of visitors, who were present—our enthusiastic friend Davis, considered them so valuable, as to deem them unsafe in my custody, unless placed in a fire proof vault!

Our circle narrow, and a little while longer, and none of the "Old Guard" will be left!

Renewing my thanks, for the

My dear Mr. Garrison—

Please

accept my grateful acknowledgements, for the excellent likeness, you kindly sent me, of our beloved Geo. Thompson; I shall treasure it, for his, and your sake. As I look upon this admirable counterfeit presentment, of our honored and gifted friend, my mind reverts, to the early days of our Anti-Slavery warfare. I have several letters from Mr. T. the first, on ship-board from Liverpool, on the eve of his embarking for this Country in 1834. And another, of especial interest from New York, soon after my arrival from England. This latter, is a letter of wonderful power and eloquence; it refers mainly to yourself & the Liberator.

Spending an evening, at our dear Lucretia Mott's, I took with me, this letter, and
