

LORE, LETTIE

CALHOUN TIMES MAR 7, 1889

Lettie Lore, a fifteen-year-old daughter of John Lore, of Davidson county, suffered a terrible death in a grist mill. She was in the mill with her uncle, who left her there alone while he went away. During his brief absence the girl's clothes came in contact with a rapidly revolving shaft, and when her uncle returned he found her dead, and with her head beaten to a shapeless mass, striking the floor many times each minute. Mar 7, 1889