Ensign E. W. COMBS in a SBD-6P aircraft especially equipped for aerial photography and Ensign T. C. WHITE in a F6F-5PT aircraft both under the operational control of Fleet Air Photographic Squadron ONE took off from Agana Airfield on 28 May 1945 at 1300 King to photograph enemy installations on Rota and Pagan Islands. The arrived over Rota at 1330 King where Ensign COMBS took photographs of the peninsula area from 10,000 ft. The airfield was obscured by clouds. Both planes then proceeded to Kobler Field, Saipan, where the SBD-6P was refueled. They took off from Kobler Field at 1600 and arrived over Pagan at 1700. Ensign COMBS took photographs of the airfield area from 10,000 ft. while Ensign WHITE strafed the area. He expended 200 rounds of 50 Cal. incendiary and armor piercing ammunition starting fires among the tents at the south end of the strip and near the gun emplacements along the strip. Bright orange flames shooting up from the fires near the gun emplacements indicated that ammunition storage had been hit. Both planes then returned to Kobler Field, Saipan, landing at 1750 King. They returned to base the following morning.
