SENATE PASSES BONUS BILL OVER VETO!

Council Grants Tent Show 10-Day Permit

CITY PLACES TIME LIMIT AFTER HOT DEBATE

Officials, by 3 to 2 First Refuse Permission, Then Rescind Action

Murphy's comedians were given a permit to operate their show for another ten days at the present location, Brand and California, by the City Council this morning, with the written guarantee from J. A. Menard, owner of the show, that at the expiration of that time the tent would be taken down.

The special meeting called by Mayor Spencer Robinson to consider the application for the renewal of their permit by the show people attracted a crowd that filled the council chamber to overflowing, every available seat and all standing room being occupied.

New Action Taken
The original motion made by Councilman Gihuly, and seconded by Councilman Sam Davis, that the permit be granted was lost, Councilman Asa Hall, C. E. Kimlin and Mayor Spencer Robinson voting against it.

This action was later rescinded by unanimous vote, with Councilman Kimlin being absent, and the show people given the ten days in which to make preparations for a move. So the show will be given each night for the next ten days.

Mayor Spencer Robinson acted as referee, and barring once or twice when the crowd broke from his control, officiated in his usual pleasing and jovial manner. In addition to the main event, several interesting specialties were included in the program.

Councilman Davis provided the real thrill when he stated that Councilman C. E. Kimlin was telling a lie, and as an encore dramatically presented his resignation to President W. E. Hewitt of the Chamber of Commerce as a protest against that body's action in opposing the tent show.

President Hewitt refused to accept it so at this writing Davis is still a member in good financial standing at least. Incidentally, Kimlin was not present when Davis asserted his colleague had not been telling the truth.

Threat of Recall
Albert D. Pearce, attorney for the Murphy show, whose statement that he had not received a retainer "as yet" caused an upsurge of laughter, stated that he would work for a recall for Mayor Spencer Robinson if additional time was not granted the tent show.

"I am not condemning your vote, Mr. Mayor," he stated, "on the original question to refuse to continue the permit. But I do think that you should grant these

FARM BLOC PLANS TO HALT RECESS

Adjournment of Congress May Be Halted by Action Of Insurgents

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Plans to block adjournment of Congress on June 7, unless farm relief legislation and disposition of Muscle Shoals are taken up in the Senate were made today by members of the Senate agriculture committee.

Senator Harrison, Democrat, of Mississippi, announced he would lead a fight to consider bids for the property.

"I'm right with you," said Senator Norris, Republican, of Nebraska, chairman.

"I, too," said Senator Norbeck, Republican, of South Dakota, "if you include farm relief legislation." Harrison agreed.

Thousands Watch Divers Seek Buried Treasures

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—In plain view of thousands of the curious who lined the bluffs of Fort Point, the federal government today conducted a treasure hunt in the channel of the Golden Gate seeking to find the wreck of the ill-fated liner Rio De Janeiro.

More than $1,500,000 in treasure awaits the success of the divers. The wreck of the Rio is one of the most thrilling in the annals of the San Francisco water front and the location of the broken hulk has been shrouded in mystery since it struck submerged rocks in a heavy fog in February, 1901, with a loss of 131 lives.

The government dredge Culbra awakened a flood of memories yesterday when one of its giant arms brought up bits of wreckage.

Although the heavy fog effectively concealed the last resting place of the vessel, survivors who were able to man boats told of seeing a buoy in the vicinity and their fragmentary description of the scene of the disaster has spurred amateur and professional shipwreckers in scores of boats during the intervening years.

The Rio De Janeiro was one of the crack boats of the Pacific Mail line plying between San Francisco and the Orient. She was en route to this city at the time of the tragedy and carried more than a million dollars of gold alone when she struck.

The treacherous currents of the point are understood to be hindering the divers.

AGED COUPLE TO CLAIM FORTUNE

First Refused Estate Worth Million, to Take Only Small Portion

PITTSBURG, Pa., May 19.—Thomas Gemmel, 66, and his wife, Mary, 67, have left Braddock, a suburb, for Vancouver, B. C., to claim the estate of Gemmel's brother, John, who died in February, leaving an estate valued at a million dollars.

Gemmel, wealthy in his own right, refused the estate when it was first offered, but said he had been prevailed upon by attorneys to accept at least a part of it.

Only $200,000 will be kept, Gemmel said. He plans to allot the remainder to nieces and nephews, Peter McNich, Mrs. Daniel B. Moody, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Potts, and A. J. McNish, all living near here.

The two brothers parted in Scotland sixty-one years ago and although they frequently corresponded, had not seen each other since.

Name John Drinkwater In Suit for Divorce

LONDON, May 19.—The plaintiff, Benno Moisewitsch, today was granted a divorce from Daisy Kennedy, a violinist. John Drinkwater, famous playwright, was named correspondent. The action was not defended.

Moisewitsch is one of the world's foremost pianists. He was married to Daisy Kennedy in 1914. Among Drinkwater's best plays are "Abraham Lincoln," "Oliver Cromwell" and "Mary Stuart." He is author of many poems.

Famous Character of Frozen North Is Dead

NOME, Alaska, May 19.—"Blackjack," one of Alaska's most picturesque figures, is dead. "Blackjack," 36, was famed throughout the northland as a hunter and as a carver of walrus ivory. His first wife was Ada Blackjack, sole survivor of the ill-fated Stefansson expedition to Wrangell island.

Two hours after "Blackjack" died his present wife, Mabel Blackjack, gave birth to a son.

Coolidge Cancels Engagements; Must Rest, Says Doctors

WASHINGTON, May 19.—President Coolidge, weakened physically, from a cold which he contracted last week, canceled all his engagements this afternoon and retired to his room at the White House. It was said that his condition was not serious but that his physicians had advised him "to take it easy."

FLYERS NEAR MAINLAND OF JAPAN

U. S. Aviators Expected to Reach Tokio One Week Ahead of French

TOKIO, May 19.—Barring unforeseen developments, the three American round-the-world planes will reach Minato, 200 miles from Tokio, tomorrow afternoon, reaching Tokio one week ahead of the French ace, Lieutenant D'Osly, who has shown startling speed and was heavily backed to be the first of the aerial derbyists to reach Japan.

The American planes arrived safely at Hitokapu, island of Yeterofu, at 2:05 p. m., having taken off from Paramashiru island at 7:30 this morning.

They were greeted by cheers from the members of the crews of the American destroyer Pope and Japanese and American merchant ships.

A three-day round of banqueting and celebration is planned on their arrival in Tokio.

Led by Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the three American planes took off at 7:30 this morning for Hitokapu bay, island of Yeterofu—a 500-mile jump.

The flyers were given a royal send-off by the American and Japanese destroyers in Paramashiru bay, rockets being fired and the crews of the vessels lining the decks to cheer the flyers onward.

At their present rate of progress the flyers are expected to reach Japan proper tomorrow, Minato being their first main stop in Japan.

A three-day round of banqueting and celebration is planned on their arrival in Tokio.

Motion Withdrawn In Thaw Case; No Contest

PHILADELPHIA, May 19.—All action by Evelyn Nesbit and her son to contest the right of Harry K. Thaw, recently adjudged sane by a jury here, to his freedom, was dropped this morning when William A. Gray, their attorney, withdrew his motion for a new trial.

Fire Chief Marshall stated the loss would amount to half a million and that it might be a week before the fire could be extinguished.

LATEST NEWS

HARGRAVE'S INJURY BLOW TO REDS
CINCINNATI, May 19.—A heavy blow to the Cincinnati Reds, now tied with New York for first place in the National league race was felt today when it became known that "Bubbles" Hargrave, catcher, had a broken hand that would keep him out of the game for weeks or perhaps for the greater part of the season.

EDDIE COLLINS WILL PILOT TEAM
CHICAGO, May 19.—Appointment of Second Baseman Eddie Collins as the new acting manager of the White Sox was announced today from the office of C. A. Comiskey. He succeeds John Evers, who underwent an operation for appendicitis, until the latter is able to resume his place. The appointment was made after Road Secretary Lou Barbour had communicated with President Comiskey and had held a conference with Collins.

SENATORS DEFY COOLIDGE PRESSURE
WASHINGTON, May 19.—Six Republican senators who remained loyal to the bonus despite tremendous White House pressure, were responsible for enactment of the bill today. They were: Senators Cameron, Arizona; Dale, Vermont; Fess, Ohio; Harrel, Oklahoma; Warren, Wyoming; and Willis, Ohio. No other legislative issue in recent years has been so bitterly fought for and opposed as the bonus. Eight times in the last four years the House has passed a bonus bill—twice over a presidential veto. The Senate has acted six times, passing a bill five times and sustaining President Harding's veto once. The first bonus bill was passed by the House on May 29, 1920, by a vote of 289 to 92. Twice it passed a bonus bill without a record vote.

Woods Denies Exclusion Law Caused Resignation

TOKIO, May 19.—Ambassador Cyrus E. Woods issued a statement today denying he was resigning because of Japanese exclusion. He said:

"Since the immigration question has been virtually settled and the crisis engendered is past, I am yielding to my family reasons. I am leaving with genuine regret, especially because I am giving up the work in a critical period in the relations between the United States and Japan."

"However, I am not apprehensive of the outcome. The Japanese have behaved with dignity and restraint in this crisis, promising much for future friendship toward the United States."

Ambassador Woods will sail for Seattle on the President McKinley June 6, it was announced.

CONFIDENCE IN M'ADOO GROWING
NEW YORK, May 19.—William Gibbs McAdoo has come to town at just the psychological moment. There are conferences now among Democratic leaders which may influence the whole train of events at the Democratic national convention six weeks hence.

Mr. McAdoo and his associates are confident of the outcome. They neither look doubtful nor talk that way. Arrangements are being made for the convention itself—that is what has brought several national committeemen here—but the undercurrent of conversation is not who shall be temporary or permanent chairman or what the strategy of the convention will be.

The McAdoo men are sure of more than 400 votes on the first ballot. They say they have more votes in store on subsequent ballots. If they get a majority, they believe the whole convention will swing toward them and furnish the necessary two-thirds.

Proves Boomerang
On what is all this confidence based? You can't talk five minutes with any of the McAdoo men before learning that they are absolutely convinced that the dragging in of McAdoo's name in the oil controversy has been a boomerang; that it is the kind of thing which Republicans will think harmful, but which the Democratic party will not. For, in the first

Firemen Driven Back By Oil Fire Blasts

ST. PAUL, Minn., May 19.—Explosions had become so frequent in the fire which was raging at the Craig Oil Refining company's plant in West St. Paul shortly before noon today and blazing barrels of oil were being thrown at such tremendous distance that the fire department was forced to abandon all efforts to subdue the flames at the refining plant.

Fire Chief Marshall stated the loss would amount to half a million and that it might be a week before the fire could be extinguished.

FRENCH AVIATOR TO RESUME TRIP

Plans to Leave Shanghai on Dash to Peking; Flyers Suffer From Heat

SHANGHAI, May 19.—Lieutenant Pelletier D'Osly, French long-distance aviator, who arrived at Canton Sunday afternoon, plans to resume his journey to Peking tomorrow morning, said a dispatch from Canton.

The French aviator and his assistant suffered severely from the intense heat while crossing India. D'Osly's actual flying time from France to China was about eighty-one hours.

G.&M. Railway Reports $7,598 Loss for Year

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Glendale & Montrose railway, operating between Glendale, La Crescenta and Eagle Rock, has reported to the railroad commission for 1923 that its operating revenue was $49,039.22 and operating expenses $53,845.29, leaving a net operating loss of $4,805.97. Miscellaneous non-operating revenue amounted to $1,787.41; interest, rent, taxes and other deductions totalled $4,579.51. The net corporate loss for the year was $7,598.37. The deficit at the beginning of the year amounted to $94,456.22.

PRESIDENT'S OPPOSITION IS UNABLE TO BLOCK ACTION

Result Is 59 to 26, Margin Of Two Votes; Measure Provides Insurance

WASHINGTON, May 19.—Failure of the Senate to sustain the bonus veto came as a distinct shock to President Coolidge, it was stated officially at the White House this evening.

The action of the Senate in passing the bonus is expected to make a veto of the tax reduction bill a certainty. Even the Mellon plan was predicted on a no-bonus policy.

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The five year fight to provide a bonus for America's four million world war veterans was finally won today.

Disregarding President Calvin Coolidge's opposition and harsh condemnation the Senate this afternoon performed the last act in making the additional compensation possible by passing the soldiers' bonus bill over the president's veto.

The vote was 59 to 26, a majority of two votes.

The veto had already been overridden by the House of Representatives, so the Senate's action puts the legislation on the statute books.

Bonus Not In Cash
The bonus will not be in cash, as was provided by the bonus bill which President Harding vetoed in 1921, and which Congress failed to pass over his veto, but will be in the form of paid-up insurance policies, which will have a cash loan value at the end of two years and which may be exchanged for cash at the end of twenty years.

The value of the policies, which have a cash loan value at the end of two years and which may be exchanged by the extent of the service of each individual at the rate of $1 a day for domestic service and $1.25 a day for service overseas. The average policies will range between $900 and $1,000.

Big Crowd Present
The galleries were crowded and every seat on the Senate floor was occupied when the bonus bill was brought up for final consideration.

Efforts by administration forces to delay the vote failed.

When the clerk finished reading President Coolidge's veto message, Senators Curtis, Republican, Kansas; Republican, Arkansas; and Robinson, Democrat, Ark.

FIGHT TO FORCE 'WET' VOTE SEEN

Threaten to Tack Amendment To Farm Relief Bill; New York Leads

WASHINGTON, May 19.—New York "wets" today adopted a new strategy in their fight to force a vote this session on an amendment to the Volstead act, permitting the manufacture and sale of light wines and beer.

Congressman Loring M. Black, Jr., Democrat, of Brooklyn, will seek to attach such an amendment to the McNary-Haugen farmers' export corporation bill when it comes up for consideration this week, it was announced.

The New York congressman claims there is a precedent for his move, pointing out that the first prohibition legislation took the form of an amendment to a farm bill.

Senator Burton K. Wheeler, who is to be tried in Montana on charges of co-operating with persons seeking oil concessions from the government, isn't "out of the woods yet," despite the action of a Senate committee last week declaring him innocent, Blair Coan, investigator for the Republican national committee, declared here today.

"Before we are through with him, we will have proved all of our charges and more, to the satisfaction of all Americans."

Coan said he was the only person making the investigation and that it was not a "frame up" on Wheeler.

Pasadena Entertains Three Conventions

PASADENA, May 19.—Three state-wide conventions are bringing hundreds of visitors to the Crown City this week. The plumbers' national convention, tomorrow the Parent-Teacher federation opens its sessions, and Wednesday and Thursday will see the State Association of Registered Nurses convening here.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Injection of its father's blood directly into its heart with a hypodermic needle, saved the life of a new born babe in the first operation of its kind in the world, it was revealed at the University of California here today.

The child started bleeding at birth and blood was first injected into its veins. This failed to stop the bleeding and further intravenous transfusions were prevented by the collapse of the child's blood vessels.

The daring operation of piercing the heart was then successfully tried, it was revealed.

 At the session on Friday elective and appointive officers were installed: Marie Steinman, Pasadena, president; Alvina C. Anderson, Veneta, vice president; Mabel R. Seeley, San Diego, warden; Ed. Jamieson, Los Angeles, secretary; Lenora Magagnoli, San Francisco, treasurer; Margaret Ingram, Pasadena, chaplain; Amelia Prather, Santa Ana, marshal; Birdie Cohn, Stockton, conductress; Annie Funk, Oakland, inside guardian; Carrie Hutchins, San Francisco, outside guardian.
 On Friday night the grand ball was held at the Maryland hotel. Preceding the ball Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Baldwin of 211 East Acadia avenue, Glendale, were dinner guests of Mrs. Mabel Longley, wife of the grand master of California.
 Hear Mrs. Heywood
 Clara Bryant Heywood, chairman of drama for the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, is to be luncheon speaker tomorrow at the members of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.
 In addition to Mrs. Heywood's talk during the luncheon hour, Antonia Horack, psychologist, will speak on "Eternal Youth."
 There will be two chairmen make annual reports at the luncheon, Mrs. B. O. Holbrook on Indian Welfare; and Mrs. Leroy Bosserman on the juvenile protection activities.
 Mrs. Daniel Campbell will preside over the luncheon and over the afternoon meeting beginning at 2:30 o'clock. In the afternoon Mrs. E. S. McKee, Mrs. C. C. Cooper and Mrs. Hugh Blue, chairmen will give annual reports on motion pictures, community service and international relations.
 Later W. Ernest Fultz, tenor, from Pasadena, will entertain.

Beach Outing
 The girls in Scout troop No. 4, who were spending the week-end at Balboa Beach in the Brennan cottage, were joined on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Brennan, John, Dorothy and Jane Brennan, H. M. Doll and Curtis Doll, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gannon and family and Hugh Bryan.
 After a day's picnicking the entire party motored back to Glendale, after a delightful outing.
 The members of the Scout troop who enjoyed the house party were Mary Virginia Bryan, Margaret Brennan, Alice Brennan, Peggy Clark, LaVerne Wolfgram, Dorothy Chappius, Catherine Doll, Betty Heustis, Genevieve Burr, Doris Harris, Genevieve Gannon, Mildred Bowler, Beatrice Smith, Vivian Russell and the captain, Miss Margaret Sharpe.
 Mrs. H. M. Doll, Mrs. Hugh Bryan, Mrs. Mary E. Smith and Miss Ada Gies accompanied the girls.

Beach Visitors
 Mrs. A. H. Fuesler of 622 North Isabel street enjoyed a visit from her father, Frank Chase, and her sister, Mrs. J. Evans, with her husband and daughter, Mabel, all of Long Beach, who came up for the week-end.
 On Sunday the guests, with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Fuesler, Misses Annie and Alice Fuesler, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Owens and daughter, Jewell, motored to San Gabriel canyon for a day's outing, and were joined by a party of friends and relatives, making up three automobile loads from Long Beach.
 They report a most delightful day. The canyon was filled with an unusual number of motorists, who have been deprived of the pleasure of picnicking in the mountains for so many week-ends, owing to the recent quarantine.

 The members of the R. T. W. Class of the First Baptist church, of which Mrs. J. Ray Bentley is president, will entertain their husbands with a turkey dinner tomorrow night, May 20, in the social hall of the church, it is announced.
 Mrs. Fred Abbey, chairman of the affair, has arranged a special program to be presented during the evening. Dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock. All members and their husbands and escorts are extended a cordial invitation to attend.

Go to Institute
 A number of members of the Glendale Y. L. I. motored Sunday morning to Santa Ana, where they attended the District Institute meeting. There were eight institutes represented and a very interesting meeting held. Mrs. J. P. Malloy of San Francisco presided over the meeting. Father O'Connell of Santa Ana gave the principal afternoon address.
 Miss Viola Yorba entertained with a group of Spanish selections. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Eva Brehme.
 Those from Glendale in attendance were the Misses Viola Yorba, Eva Brehme, Mary Margaret Chapman, Zilda Cross, Regina Arr, George Emerson, Jr., Jack Dewey, Roy Lane, Robert Frary, Garron, Henrietta Clark, Bertha

Wed in Glendale
 Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Dorothy Frances VanderVort of Covina and Charles Henri Halfacre of Bronx, New York, at a ceremony taking place Saturday night, May 17, 1924, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Colling, 1326 North Central avenue. The wedding ceremony was read at 6:30 o'clock before a company of relatives and immediate friends by Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church.
 Miss Dorothy Head attended Miss VanderVort as maid of honor and H. F. Colling attended Mr. Halfacre as best man.
 Mrs. Halfacre is well known in Glendale, having attended the local high school previous to her moving to Covina to make her home.

INDEX TO CO-OPERATIVE DEPARTMENT
 PAGE 6 OF THIS ISSUE OF THE EVENING NEWS
 Of course when you want to buy merchandise of any kind you are anxious to patronize a Glendale dealer. When you wish to employ professional skill it is your desire to secure a local man. When repair work is needed it is to your advantage to have the work done by mechanics near home.
 The object of this index column is to refer you to the CO-OPERATIVE DEPARTMENT on Page 6 of this issue, where you will find listed a large number of merchants, tradesmen and professional men who are real boosters for Glendale. While the Community Loyalty Section will appear in the Evening News one day every week, yet readers are advised to cut it out and hold it for reference for the purpose of ascertaining names and locations of business firms in Glendale.

$30,000,000 TO BE PAID TAXPAYERS IN U. S. REFUNDS

Ten Counties In Southern California to Receive Big Over-Payments

Thirty million dollars will be distributed by the government to approximately 100,000 taxpayers in Southern California during the next six months on account of refunds of overpayment of taxes for the last five years in connection with the recent community property income ruling and the inheritance tax decision.

Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodell announced today that checks for all of these refunds will be drawn at Washington and sent to his office for distribution. Careful check will be made in the local office before the checks are presented to taxpayers to ascertain if credits have already been taken on income payments or if the taxpayer is in arrears on his current taxes.

Will Help Business
 "The distribution of $30,000,000 in the ten counties of Southern California cannot fail to exercise a beneficial effect on business in general and tend to make even more staple the dependable and ever-increasing prosperity in this section of the country," said the collector.

In presenting his survey of the refunds due in Southern California and the income-producing power of the local district, Collector Goodell called attention to three facts:

That the ten counties of the Los Angeles district paid more income tax for the first quarter of the present year than any one of the following forty-four states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia,

Autos Thickest at Point Where Adams Crosses Figueroa

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—The busiest traffic corner in the world—it's at Adams street and Figueroa, Los Angeles. More than 68,000 cars cross that intersection every twenty-four hours, or nearly double the busiest corner in New York. This city boasts of 3.2 per cent of all the motor cars in America, and 310,000 cars cross the congested district every day, according to figures compiled by the traffic commission after six months of study of conditions throughout the country, which reveals that Los Angeles has the greatest problems to face of any metropolis in the wide world.

Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming. Makes Comparisons
 That the ten Southern counties paid more income taxes for the first quarter of 1924 than two New York districts combined; more than three Ohio districts combined, and more than the Twelfth Pennsylvania district; as much as the states of Connecticut, Delaware, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Vermont and Maine combined; $1,000,000 more than twelve Western states with a population of 7,349,160 and an area of 1,060,487 square miles, as compared with Southern California's population under the 1920 census of 1,423,699 and an area less than one-tenth that of the twelve states.

That only New York, population 10,384,000; Pennsylvania, 8,700,000; and Illinois, 6,485,000, exceeded California with its population of 3,426,000, in the amount of income taxes paid by any state this year.

MINSTREL SHOW IS BIG SUCCESS

Slight Changes In Second Bill Saturday Night Add More Fun

Members of the "Darktown Minstrel Show" troupe did their stuff even better Saturday night than the night previous, was the verdict of those who saw both performances. The Broadway High school auditorium was not nearly as crowded as it deserved to be, they declare.

Mayor Spencer Robinson was absent from the Saturday night line-up, and as a result Director R. D. Crawford put on a quartet comprising J. Arthur Myers, Kenneth Erb, D. Ripley Jackson and Milford C. Jackson, the latter two related in art only.

Joe Griffin and R. E. "Slim" Johnston as end men kept a great deal of attention focused on them during the entire show, and the George Bix-Jack Rockwell dialogue was of professional quality, with special mention to "Toodies," their fluffy dog.

Lots of Harmony
 Bert Aageson and his syncopators were again able to uncock a weird brand of harmony, and Cecilia Mae Fischer, the Hunt sisters and the Turner sisters, pupils of Pearl Keller, were especially good.

When it came to the concluding skit, "Judge Love on a Vacation," another case was opened—that is to say, the court tried another case—or, in other words, they changed their lines.

The show was put on by R. D. Crawford and R. Ernest Tucker, sponsored by the Exchange, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, and the Realty board. Proceeds go toward outfitting the Community Service band.

HEIRLOOMS SHOW FAMILY HISTORY IN EARLY TIMES

Memories of Famous Author Recalled by Hostess in Glendale Home

By 'OLD TIMER'
 Of The Evening News Staff.

The feeling that the beautifully polished Grandfather's clock which ticked off the hours in the hall at the home of Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan, at 1125 South Central avenue, if it could speak, could tell a story of days of long ago, was increased when tea was served the members of the Glendale auxiliary of the Children's Hospital society, of which Mrs. Morgan is president, from a table of Colonial design flanked by a massive buffet of the same period.

On manifesting this interest, "Old Timer's" surmises proved true. These pieces with many other treasures had stood in the family home at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, in the shadow of "Storm King" near the spots of Revolutionary fame. Forge Hill, near by, was where the chain was forged to throw across the Hudson to prevent the British boats from coming up the river; Windsor, the headquarters of General Knox; Newburg, where Washington, disbanding his army, it was also at Forge Hill that LaFayette had his headquarters and his name on a window pane was said to have been cut with a diamond in his own hand.

Amid such surroundings, Mrs. Morgan, as Eleanor Alling Palmer, a daughter of Albert Palmer and a granddaughter of the Alling family of Revolutionary times, spent her childhood.

Met Famous Men
 Every summer the family went to Cornwall, their winter home being East Orange, New Jersey. It was at Cornwall that Mrs. Morgan became familiar with the historical facts connected with this locality, and also made the acquaintance of a number of famous Americans who made their home there. Dr. Lyman Abbott's home was here; the poet, N. P. Willis, one of America's sweetest singers; Amelia Barr, the novelist; E. P. Roe, nationally known as one of the most prolific and widely read of American fiction writers. To the admirers of E. P. Roe's writings, and they are many, no exception to the tone or tendency being possible, Mrs. Morgan's

All of the three fatal traffic accidents reported yesterday occurred in the San Fernando valley. The victims were Mrs. Marion Gates of Burbank, Joe Requeles of Newhall and Mrs. Ola McComb of 912 East Twentieth street, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gates crashed her car into a bus on the San Fernando road, near Ben Mar Hills, Burbank. The body was taken to the A. C. Fillbach undertaking parlors of that city.

Joe Requeles plunged into a truck in the fog, near Castaic, on the state highway. The body was taken to the W. G. Noble undertaking parlors of San Fernando.

Mrs. Ola McComb was one of a party in an automobile that overturned at Pacoima, near San Fernando. The body was also taken to the W. G. Noble undertaking parlors.

FORD TO PREACH AT BAPTIST MEET

Glendale Pastor to Deliver Sermon at Convention In Los Angeles

Rev. Ernest E. Ford, pastor of the Glendale Baptist church, has been invited to preach the annual sermon before the Southern California Baptist convention, to be held at the First Baptist church of Los Angeles from May 20 to 23. Rev. Ford will give his sermon on Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock.

Delegates from the local Baptist church to the convention are George McLeod, J. R. Deweyler, O. T. Walker, H. A. Foulke, Mrs. W. F. Wood, Mrs. Wayland Wood, Mrs. Park Arnold, Miss Beatrice Dorse and Henry Stewart.

The National Baptist convention of the northern states will be held this year at Milwaukee. Rev. Ernest Ford has been elected a delegate from the First Baptist church of Glendale, and expects to leave over the Union Pacific on Wednesday evening. He will be absent from his pulpit for two Sundays, returning for the second Sunday in June. During his absence Rev. Charles H. Tilden, associate pastor, will be in charge of the work of the church.

'OLD THINGS ARE PASSED AWAY'

The demolition of the old Glendale Sanitarium building, though it marks progress in Glendale, is not without its touch of sadness to those who knew Glendale in the old days. Built during Glendale's boom in the late 80's for a hotel, it was used but a few months for that purpose. Subsequently it was abandoned, then used a short time for a boarding school, abandoned again, and finally purchased for a Sanitarium in 1905.

The old building became a fire trap, it was out of date architecturally and lacking in convenience for a modern hospital and sanitarium, but how proud we were of it years ago. It was the show place of the town. How magnificent it appeared to us with its three stories, its many wings and gables, towers and turrets. Surrounded by shrubbery and trees and flowers there was always an atmosphere of restfulness about it.

The old building is gone, but there are people in every corner of the world who have pleasant memories of it. Hundreds found rest, peace, health and comfort and a sweeter outlook upon life within its walls. The new Sanitarium is the very last word in design and equipment for its purpose. We are proud of the accomplishment of such a worthy enterprise. We know the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital in its new home will fulfill a greater destiny of usefulness and service to humanity than was ever enjoyed in the old building. But at the same time we cannot quite forget the days when we pointed out the old building on Broadway to our admiring visitors and told them, "That is the Glendale Sanitarium." In those days the Sanitarium was the only institution of any consequence in Glendale, and even then Glendale was widely known, though only a village, because it was the home of the Glendale Sanitarium.

"Old things are passed away." It is better so. We welcome progress with all our hearts, but we shed a tear now and then as the old landmarks go.

NONE ARE INDISPENSABLE

There are very few people who do not, some time in their lives, get the idea that they cannot be spared from the particular niche in which they are situated. It is a pleasant feeling but it is based on error for, sad truth as it is, none of us are indispensable.

The president of the United States, the man in any position of public trust, the head of a big industry, the mother in the home, the father at his work, the employe in store, shop or office, all feel at some time or other that they are a vital part of their organization, that they could not be spared from their daily duties, but they pass on to another life or to other fields of human endeavor, and their passing leaves scarcely a ripple on the surface of human activities. Others are filling their places at once and performing their duties, often much more acceptably than they did themselves.

It is a good thing to do our duty day by day, to fill our appointed places as well as may be, to give the best that is in us to the work we are doing. But, when we take ourselves too seriously, when we feel that no one could fill our places, that our duties are exceptionally exacting and the manner in which we perform them is peculiarly superior, we are deceiving ourselves.

We know not the day nor the hour when we shall be called from this life—and the world will continue to move along after we are gone. Greater people have been called from higher positions and they are all but forgotten now. Circumstances may combine to depose the man in authority; the laborer may lose his job, but their places are soon filled, often with more efficient workers.

So it is best not to stir up heart-ache for ourselves by thinking we are indispensable. The world moves along. We can only do our best while we may and then give way to those who can do better.

SOUTHLAND'S GREAT PROSPERITY

History was made in the United States treasury department when a survey was received from Collector Rex B. Goodcell, showing that income receipts from the Los Angeles district for the first quarter of 1924, totaling $16,756,000, and embracing only ten of the state's fifty-eight counties, led every state west of the Mississippi river, exceeded by $1,136,000 San Francisco's return for the period, with all her forty-eight counties, and were greater by a million dollars than the combined collections of the States of Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Wyoming, Utah, Nevada, Montana, South Dakota, North Dakota and Oklahoma.

The amazing increase of the Los Angeles district, of recent years, at the expense of the San Francisco district, is clearly seen by the following tabulation:

	S. Francisco	Los Angeles
1920	$94,751,000	$35,106,000
1921	88,516,000	40,654,000
1922	55,808,000	36,422,000
1923	47,332,000	37,193,000
1924 (first quarter)	15,626,000	16,756,000

By the above figures it is seen that since 1920 the northern district has been losing ground fast, and that the southern district appears set to break all records for the year of 1924, if the powerful showing of the first quarter is maintained. Financially, the capital of California is slowly but surely slipping from the grasp of San Francisco, as Los Angeles, eager and young, reaches with strong hands to receive it.

UNCLE SAM, LUMBERMAN

Uncle Sam got more cash out of timber cut from the national forests in 1923 than in any year of their history, according to Colonel William B. Greeley, forester of the United States. Actual revenue from timber sales of 2,888,585,000 feet was $2,641,244, an increase of $860,896 over 1922. The forest service does not cut and saw the ripe timber itself, but disposes of the privilege by units to the highest bidder.

Continued activity in lumber production, stimulated by a favorable market the past two years, is the principal factor affecting growth of the government's timber sale business from the national forests, Colonel Greeley said. "Well informed men in the industry," he added, "believe that the volume of lumber required for domestic use and the export trade will not recede from the present level. The sharp increase in business last year is more than a temporary peak. It is the result of clearly defined economic forces that have been at work for several years and point to a continuing increase during the next decade."

POLITICAL HABERDASHERY

THERE - I THINK THAT'S MUCH MORE BECOMING THAN THE "LEAGUE OF NATIONS" OR THE "HARDING-COOLEDGE" COURT" STYLE!

Thought By Radio

By DR. FRANK CRANE

If anyone will eat a large piece of mince pie and plenty of welsch rarebit and go to sleep and dream his level best, he can hardly conceive of anything that will be wilder than the present exploits of radio.

They are talking in London and being heard in New York.

They are making speeches on the steps of the White House to which the inhabitants of Kalamazoo, Michigan, are listening in.

A citizen of Des Moines, Iowa, will put on his ear fixings any evening and be entertained by concerts taking place in Los Angeles and Atlanta. The other day four acres of blackbirds, while flying over a farm in Burlington county, New Jersey, turned up their toes, uttered a few faint squawks of surprise and fell to the ground, dead as doornails.

Some say they had got in the way of a powerful radio message. Professor Morecroft of Columbia university said that one explanation would be that it was another effort of Mars to communicate with us. In that case the Martians must have been using some very strange language.

But the most striking thing in this connection is a statement which is published over the name of Luther Burbank in the March number of the Scientific Christian.

The gist of it is that Mr. Burbank declares that he has been sending and receiving thought messages by telepathy.

And not only he but his sister beside him and his mother before him.

He says:

"I inherited my mother's ability to send and receive communications. So did one of my sisters. In tests before representatives of the University of California she was able seven times out of ten to receive messages sent to her telepathically." He declares that he, in California, has received messages from someone he knew in Massachusetts, and that these messages were afterwards confirmed in writing.

He asserts that, while a few years ago such incidents would have been attributed to mendacity, insanity or the supernatural, he believes that there are persons who can send messages to particular persons by being able to direct their thought waves where they wish them to go. The greater part of humanity simply broadcasts.

Thoughts, he adds, are unquestionably produced by discharges of electrical energy. Radio messages are sent by discharges of electrical energy. The two things are alike except that the human machine is more wonderful than the artificial.

At the present rate at which science is galloping along it will not be long before every man is his own radio station and every man his own Houdini.

Just now we have to be very careful what we say, but before long we will have to be mighty careful what we think.

THE YOUTH'S NEW WORLD

(From Kansas City Times)

"I cannot understand the children of today," writes a parent. "Where they get their ideas about amusement, about behavior and right and wrong is quite beyond me. What's the trouble with the young people, anyway?"

The answer is not easy. But this important fact is to be offered: The world of today is essentially different from the world of yesterday, of a generation ago. There has been a revolution in education. The person of middle life, the average parent, who had had no contact with the schools for a quarter century, would hardly recognize his whereabouts were he set down in the modern school of today. Entertainment, transportation and other facilities, many of which affect youth chiefly, have undergone similar transformations.

The child's world of today is as different from the parent's world of yesterday, almost as the day from night. Whether an advance has been made along all lines is another matter. The essential thing to recognize first of all is the difference. And the burden of recognition falls upon the parent, the older person generally who is concerned with the child. The child cannot see the difference, because it knows nothing of the previous order; it is a product of today, molded by the forces about it. The person who would understand modern youth must seek to enter the world of modern youth.

The quest would be worth while. Primarily, it is a duty. But above that, it is an opportunity, an opportunity for the person of years to turn back the pages and in a sense re-live his life, refreshed and rejuvenated with something of the outlook and enthusiasm of youth. If a genuine effort were made in this direction, there would be less of the old and constantly recurring conflict between age and youth; each inclined to berate the other, and falling because the attempt has never been made to understand each other.

RESTRICT AUTO LICENSES

(From Santa Barbara News)

Daily it becomes more apparent that some steps should be taken to make the granting of licenses to automobile drivers subject to some form of examination which will afford better protection to the public. Thousands of persons are sitting at the wheels of motor cars today who have no more business in such a position than they would have at the helm of a ship.

In San Francisco a few days ago a man who had run down and killed a girl and then sped away from the scene was acquitted by the jury, apparently on the ground that he was suffering from an infirmity which made him to some extent irresponsible. This infirmity existed when he secured his automobile license. It affected him on the night he ran down the girl and fled. It was with him when he sat in the court room facing a criminal charge because of that fatality. He is still a menace to the public if he drives a machine.

Under the law there is nothing to prevent him from returning to his machine, although he has declared he will never drive again. This man is not an exceptional case. There are unnumbered men and women, too, driving the streets and roads of the state who have no business at the wheels of machines.

Hundreds of boys, many of them below the age allowed by law, are driving cars today who should not be entrusted with the responsibility. An examination of the records of automobile accidents shows an astonishing percentage due to the careless driving of boys who pilot delivery cars. Will Marsh, secretary of the motor vehicle department, has suggested that the law be amended to require a rigid examination before an automobile license can be granted. Such laws are in force in some states and in some foreign countries. Legislation of this sort would certainly keep some of the unfit out of automobiles.

The public is entitled to this additional measure of protection.

A Thought That Came Today

By HARVEY E. WESTGATE of Glendale

COMMON SENSE

Take three parts of what is labelled:

"True-Courageous-Optimism;"
Take one part of what is labelled:
"Foolish-Cowardly-Pessimism;"
Shake it well and take each morning,
(Say a tumbliferous or so),
And you'll find the blended tonic
Laying all your troubles low.

For the stuff that gives us vision
And puts Pep in brain and heart,
And the mixture that inspires us
So we're glad to do our part,
Isn't made alone of Laughter
And a sky that's always blue,
But demands a trace of Caution
And a level-headed view.

Common Sense will take you farther
Than your law books or your school,
For it makes the Wise Man wiser
And holds hope before the Fool;
And your Banker—Business—Chemist,
Who is sane and unafraid,
Will advise these same proportions
When Old Common Sense is made.

The After House

THE STORY

Dr. Ralph Leslie, just graduated from medical college, ships on the yacht Ella as deck steward. He is penniless and thinks this will be a good opportunity to recuperate from an attack of typhoid fever. Marshall Turner is the owner. His wife, her sister Elsa, a divorcee named Mrs. Johns, and a man named Vail are the passengers. There is a crew of fourteen, including the stewardess, a maid, the cook and Williams, the butler. Charlie Jones, a German sailor with a bent for religion, is friendly to Leslie. Captain Richardson and Turner have an argument over running the ship. Turner, drunk, appoints Singleton steward. Richardson knocks Singleton down. Mrs. Johns asks Leslie to sleep near the passengers' staterooms. In a pantry, as she is afraid of trouble. One night Schwartz, the second mate, disappears overboard, though nobody sees him jump. On the night of August 12 Leslie wakes in the pantry to find himself locked in. Vail, Captain Richardson and the Maid, Karen, are found murdered with an axe. The men put Leslie in charge, and they decide to head back to port. The axe is found where it was flung into the stewardess' berth. She says that Karen had been roused by a bell in the night, she thought Mrs. Turner's, but Mrs. Turner says she did not ring. Karen told the stewardess she thought Turner, who had annoyed her, was outside the door. She opened the door, screamed and fell dead. Mrs. Sloane said she saw a figure in white in the door throw the axe toward her. The crew imprisons Singleton. Leslie and Burns share responsibility for keeping discipline. They lock the axe in the captain's cabin and Leslie takes the key. They put the bodies in a life-boat. Leslie sees Elsa pick up the pantry key in Turner's room. She tries to throw it into the sea, but Leslie sees her and she gives it to him. At night Adams, in the crew's mess, has seen a white figure crawling along the deck. He hurls down a marlinespike, which disappears, but is found next day fastened over the side of the ship. Then one night Burns is knocked unconscious, the key is taken from his neck, the captain's cabin is opened and the axe disappears, with its sure evidence of finger-prints. The Ella docks at Philadelphia, where MacWhirter, Leslie's friend and classmate, meets him. Singleton is put on trial for murder. The different members of the crew and the passengers are questioned.

XIV—A CLEVER WITNESS

Mrs. Johns was called, following the trial, and she gave it to Mrs. Sloane on the stand. I had never fathomed Mrs. Johns, or her attitude toward the rest of the party. I had thought, at the beginning of the cruise, that Vail and she were incipient lovers. But she had taken his death with a calmness that was close to indifference. There was something strange and inexplicable in her English championship of Turner—and it remains inexplicable even now. I have wondered since—was she in love with Turner, or was she only a fiery partisan? I wonder!

She testified with an insolent coolness that clearly irritated the prosecution—thinking over her replies, refusing to recall certain things, eyeing the jury with long, slanting glances that set them, according to their type, either wriggling or ogling.

The first questions were the usual ones. Then: "Do you recall the night of the 31st of July?"

"Can you be more specific?" "I refer to the night when Captain Richardson found the prisoner in the chart-room and ordered him on deck."

"I recall that, yes." "Where were you during the quarrel?"

"I was behind Mr. Vail." "Tell us about it, please."

"It was an ordinary brawl. The captain knocked the mate down. I did you hear the mate threaten the captain?"

"No. He went on deck, muttering; I did not hear what was said." "After the crimes, what did you do?"

"We established a dead-line at the foot of the forward companion. The other was locked at the top of the companion?"

"Yes; but we trusted no one." "Where was Mr. Turner?"

"Ill, in his cabin." "How ill?"

"Very. He was delirious." "Did you allow any one down?"

"At first, Leslie, a sort of cabin-boy and deck-steward, who seemed to know something of medicine. Afterwards we would not allow him, either."

"Why?" "We did not trust him."

"This Leslie—why had you asked him to sleep in the store-room?"

"I was afraid." "Will you explain why you were afraid?"

"Fear is difficult to explain, isn't it? If one knows why one is afraid, one—er—generally isn't."

"That's a bit subtle, I'm afraid. You were afraid, then, without knowing why?"

"Yes." "Had you a revolver aboard?"

"Yes." "Whose revolver was kept on the cabin table?"

"Always; I always carry one." "Yes." "Then—have you one with you now?"

"When you asked the sailor Burns to let you see the axe, what did you give as a reason?"

"The truth—curiosity." "Then, having seen the axe, where did you go?"

"Below." "Please explain the incident of the two articles Mr. Goldstein showed to the jury yesterday, the shirt and waistcoat."

"That was very simple. Mr. Turner had been very ill. We took turns in caring for him. I spilled a bowl of broth over the garment that was shown, and rubbed them out in the bathroom. They were hung in the cabin used by Mr. Vail to dry, and I forgot them when we were packing."

The attorney for the defense cross-examined her: "What color were the stains you speak of?" "Darkish—red-brown." "What sort of broth did you spill?" "That's childish, isn't it? I don't recall."

"You recall its color." "It was beef broth."

"Mrs. Johns, on the night you visited the forward house and viewed the axe, did you visit it again?"

"The axe, or the forward house?"

"The house."

She made one of her long pauses. Finally:

"Yes."

"When?"

"Between three and four o'clock."

"Who went with you?"

"I went alone."

"Why did you go beyond the line that was raffled off for your safety?"

(Sharply.) "Because I wished to. I was able to take care of myself."

"Why did you visit the forward house?"

"I was nervous and could not sleep. I thought no one safe while the axe was on the ship."

"Did you see the body of Burns, the sailor, lying on the deck at that time?"

"He might have been there; I did not see him." "Are you saying that you went to the forward house to throw the axe overboard?"

"Yes—if I could get in." "Did you know why the axe was being kept?"

"Because the murders had been committed with it." "Had you heard of any finger-prints on the handle?"

"No." "Did it occur to you that you were interfering with justice in disposing of the axe?"

"Do you mean justice or law? They are not the same." "Tell us about your visit to the forward house."

"It was between two and three. I met no one. I had a bunch of keys from the trunks and from four doors in the after house. I knew I intended to try to get rid of the axe. I did not need my keys. The door was open—wide open. I—I went in, and—"

Here, for the first time, Mrs. Johns's composure forsook her. She turned white, and her maid passed up to her a silver smelling-bottle.

"What happened when you went in?"

"It was dark. I stood just inside. Then—something rushed past me and out of the door, a something—I don't know what—a woman, I thought at first, in white."

"If the room was dark, how could you tell it was white?"

"The light—faint light—enough to see that. There was no noise—just a sort of swishing sound."

"What did you do then?"

"I waited a moment, and hurried back to the after house."

"Was the axe gone then?"

"I do not know." "Did you see the axe at that time?"

"No." "Did you touch it?"

"I have never touched it, at that time or before."

She could not be shaken in her testimony and was excused. She had borne her grilling exceedingly well, and, in spite of her flippancy, there was a ring of sincerity about the testimony that gave it weight.

Following her evidence, the testimony of Tom, the cook, made things look bad for Singleton, by connecting him with Mrs. Johns's intruder in the captain's room. He told of Singleton's offer to make him a key to the galley with wire. It was clear that Singleton had been a prisoner in name only, and this damning statement was given weight when, on my recall later, I identified the bunch of keys, the file and the club that I had taken from Singleton's mattress. It was plain enough that, with Singleton able to free himself as he wished, the attack on Burns and the disappearance of the axe were easily enough accounted for. It would have been possible, also, to account for the white figure that had so alarmed the men, on the same hypothesis.

Cross-examination of Tom by Mr. Goldstein, Singleton's attorney, brought out one curious fact. He had made no dark soup or broth for the after house. Turner had taken nothing during his illness but clam bouillon, made with milk, and the meals served to the four women had been very light. "They lived on toast and tea, mostly," he said.

That completed the taking of evidence for the day. In spite of the struggles of the clever young Jew, the weight of testimony was against Singleton. But there were curious discrepancies.

Turner was on the stand the next morning.

Tomorrow the lawyers examine Turner, owner of the ill-fated murder ship. Read his testimony in "Turner's Story."

PASS BONUS OVER COOLIDGE'S VETO

Senators Vote to Override President's Stand on Compensation Act

The noisy talking in a general hubbub that accompanied the voting was suddenly stilled when the last vote was recorded and everyone leaned forward to hear the result.

A cheer went up when the president's veto was announced. "The bill is passed, the objections of the president of the United States notwithstanding."

How They Voted ... Senators voting in favor of the bonus were: Republicans—Brandagee, Connecticut; Brookhart, Iowa; Bursum of New Mexico; Cameron, Arizona; Capper, Kansas; Cummins, Iowa; Curtis, Kansas; Dale, Vermont; Elkins, West Virginia; Fess, Ohio; Frazier, North Dakota; Gooding, Idaho; Hale, Maine; Harrell, Oklahoma; Howell, Nebraska; Johnson, California; Jones, Washington; Ladd, North Dakota; Lenroot, Wisconsin; Lodge, Massachusetts; McLean, Connecticut; McNary, Oregon; Norbeck, South Dakota; Norris, Nebraska; Odell, Nevada; Shortridge, Florida; Spencer, Missouri; Stanfield, Oregon; Warren, Wyoming; Willis, Ohio, Total 30.

O. F. Sweet Tells Experience As Feature Writer at Annual Meeting

By GIL A. COWAN By Southland News Service.

RIVERSIDE, May 19.—Getting the other fellow's viewpoint is the task imposed upon newspapermen in session here this week.

Governor Friend W. Richardson, president of the association, heads a delegation of sixty northern publishers in attendance while more than 100 Southern California members and their families are present today for the banquet in the Glenwood Mission Inn by O. F. Sweet, formerly of the Chicago Tribune, but more recently an orange grower of this vicinity.

Of course, the governor spoke. So did President Criddle of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce, who was toastmaster, and Mayor Samuel C. Evans, and others. But to Mr. Sweet was left the speech of the evening.

SCHOOL CHILDREN AID BOND DRIVE

Boosting Issue to Be Voted on June 3; Campaign Is Under Way

EAGLE ROCK, May 19.—This community is bending all efforts toward rolling up a unanimous vote for the $34,000,000 school bond issue on the municipal election of June 3. The school children have been drafted into the campaign and practically every organization here is squarely back of the movement. These organizations have adopted the following resolution:

To the Voters of Los Angeles: Whereas, we believe in adequate school houses and school grounds for our children; Whereas, the city school attendance has practically doubled the past four years, and tax monies cannot provide sufficient school houses;

Whereas, the gain in attendance the past year is approximately 30,000 children and there are more than 2,000 now crowded out of school half the day;

Therefore, be it resolved, that we believe that each voter should encourage the vote for the school bonds June 3.

The P. T. A. has been asked to furnish workers to be stationed at each of the polling places on election day to check on the vote and assist with expediting the returns.

KIWANIANS TO BE HOSTS AT SMOKER

Representatives of Valley Organizations Invited by Tujunga Club

TUJUNGA, May 19.—"Religion in Business" was the subject of a talk given by Rev. L. E. Elmer, pastor of the Roscoe Community church, at the weekly lunch meeting of the Tujunga Kiwanis club held Friday in Legion hall. His talk was very interesting and instructive as well as entertaining.

Tonight the Kiwanis club will entertain representatives from the Sunland Chamber of Commerce, Tujunga Valley Realty Board and the Acacia club at a smoker in Legion hall, El Centro and Sunset boulevard. The meeting will be in the interests of the valley communities as a combined unit and problems and improvement projects of interest to and affecting the whole district will be discussed.

Plans for forming a council composed of representatives from each of the organizations will be discussed also. It is not the purpose of the Kiwanis club to promote any organization that will supersede any of the existing ones, but rather to effect a closer cooperation between them, looking toward the improvement of conditions throughout the section which they represent.

Five Boys and Five Girls Are Graduated from Monte Vista

SUNLAND, May 19.—Ten pupils, five boys and five girls, were graduated Friday from the Monte Vista (Sunland) school and embarked on a new phase of life with their diplomas.

Diplomas were presented to: Cleora Overholser, class valedictorian; Dolores Shaw, Helen Bales, Josephine Ardizzone, Lucille Johnson, Loren Hayes, Ezra Smith, Alfred Adams, Herbert Earheart and Maurice Morgan.

Graduates, teachers and trustees were guests at a chicken dinner given by the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher Association. The table was decorated in the class colors, blue and gold, and the class flowers, pink roses. Favors were blue and gold paper hats, made by the pupils of the first and second grades. Each graduate made a speech. Following the dinner a program was given in the auditorium of the school.

Kiwanians at Tujunga Attend Zone Meeting

TUJUNGA, May 19.—A delegation of Tujunga Kiwanis club members, headed by President A. C. Stover, attended a reception Thursday night in Lankershim given in honor of District Governor Herbert A. Wier. The reception was given by the Kiwanis zone three which comprises Tujunga, Van Nuys, Lankershim, Burbank, Glendale, Hollywood, Eagle Rock and San Fernando. Three hundred members were present to honor their governing official.

Corned Beef, Cabbage Will Be Supper Menu

SUNLAND, May 19.—A supper will be given on Tuesday, May 20 by the Vista Woman's club at the Sunland school auditorium. The menu will consist of Jigg's favorite edibles, corned beef and cabbage, and will be served from 6 to 7 p. m. A program and dancing will follow.

Fire Patrols Are Posted for Summer Forest Protection

TUJUNGA, May 19.—Forest rangers have taken up their summer fire prevention patrols in the mountains and canyons. James B. Talbot has been stationed at the ranger post on Walnut drive and will guard Big Tujunga and contributing canyons against brush fires.

All camp fire rules are to be vigorously enforced this summer and picnickers desiring to build fires must first secure permits from a ranger.

The Tujunga-Sunland ranger station of the United States Forest Reserve is located at 650 Walnut drive, the street that connects with the Big Tujunga canyon from Michigan avenue.

PUSH DRIVE FOR AMPHITHEATRE

Expect to Have Section of Greek Bowl Completed This Summer

EAGLE ROCK, May 19.—The first section of the Greek bowl and amphitheatre for the hill above the Occidental college campus will be completed this summer, according to G. A. Hege of the local Chamber of Commerce, who heads the committee working to raise funds for co-operating with the college authorities to put across the mammoth project, destined to place this community equally in the public eye with Hollywood.

The drive opens Wednesday morning, May 21, and continues until Friday night, May 23. This drive will raise enough money for 5000 seats, according to the plans of the "Committee of Thirty-five." Seats will be sold to the public in blocks of 15 at $7 per seat, making the total for the 15 seats, $105. With every one of these tickets will be given to the purchaser a life membership in the bowl, entitling the holder to admission to all college functions that will ever be held there.

COMMITTEE WILL ASK RESERVOIRS

Flood Control in Canyons to Be Urged at Meeting With Supervisors

TUJUNGA, May 19.—Eight members of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce have been appointed a committee to confer with the county supervisors and flood control engineers in an effort to secure early construction of the reservoirs, check dams and other flood control work in Big Tujunga and Haines canyons provided for in the county bond issue voted May 6. The committee consists of: A. C. Stover, Wallace M. Morgan, H. E. Myers, D. A. Johnson, A. Adams, Dr. E. M. Spates, Harry Zachau and Ed Forster.

This action was taken to secure the full benefit of the proposed improvements at the earliest possible time. Efforts will be made to make use of the $18,000 now in the treasury that was left from the last bond issue in 1917, after part of the issue had been diverted to other territory with the approval of Tujunga organizations.

Report Effort Made To Form Klan Body

TUJUNGA, May 19.—Efforts to form a local organization of the Ku Klux Klan have been made here. A meeting of the interested residents was held at Legion hall at which G. A. Glascock of Pasadena spoke in the interests of such an organization.

The speaker made a short address to the assembled crowd and then requested those who desired to join the proposed organization to remain in the hall and those who did not to withdraw. The burden of the address was the aim and purpose of the Klan, or the Invisible Empire, in solving governmental problems and uncovering graft and corruption.

Purchases Site for Bakery at Sunland

SUNLAND, May 19.—A bakery will soon be built on a lot just purchased in the Morgan tract on Michigan avenue west of Walnut drive, according to an announcement. Joe Logreco is the new owner and intends to conduct a first-class bake shop.

Opens Realty Office On Montrose Avenue

MONTROSE, May 19.—Another addition has been made to the local realty colony in the establishment of Edward R. Hamilton, who has bought property on Montrose avenue next to the postoffice and built an office. He will handle Verdugo hills real estate and write insurance and attend to notary work. Mr. Hamilton was formerly in the real estate business in Glendale.

MANY TO TRAVEL IN SPECIAL CARS

Glendale-Burbank Train on Thursday Will Carry Valley Residents

BURBANK, May 19.—A score or more of local travelers will be aboard the Glendale-Burbank special Thursday morning, May 22, when the big train pulls out of this city at 9:57 o'clock, according to J. B. Davis, agent here. The train will carry a Burbank banner and the local passengers will be given a fitting send-off by their fellow residents. The train is a section of the crack Golden State Limited.

This special train, which starts from Burbank and which is allowed by the Southern Pacific for the express accommodation of this city and Glendale and people farther up the valley, makes the trip to Chicago in 68 hours, going by El Paso and Kansas City.

It will be somewhat of a novelty to "still be in Burbank" though 2000 miles away, when the special train pulls into Chicago, points out Manager J. W. Charlesville of the Chamber of Commerce, who has charge of arrangements to bid "Adios!" to the travelers at the local S. P. station.

VALLEY BUSINESS MEN WILL MEET

Banquet Will Be Feature of Owensmouth Session Tomorrow Night

OWENSMOUTH, May 19.—The delayed array of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of this valley will be held here tomorrow night, Tuesday, May 20, starting with a banquet to be served at 7 o'clock, and all who are planning to attend are urged to communicate with Guy Crowley at the Owensmouth Chamber of Commerce at once for table reservations.

The discussion of the grade crossing problem and suggested methods for its elimination in connection with local conditions was to have been the chief topic at the April meeting and it is understood that this will be taken up on Tuesday night.

There are at the present time fifteen chambers in San Fernando valley communities, including Burbank, Chatsworth, Girard, Glendale, Lankershim, Mission Acres, Montrose, Owensmouth, Pacoima, Reseda, San Fernando, Tujunga, Van Nuys, Verdugo City and Zelzah. With the ever increasing activities of each chamber, the scope of the Associated Chambers is necessarily expanding.

START FIGHT TO SAVE SHADE TREES

Ask Appointment of Body to Foster Planting, Protection

BURBANK, May 19.—The meeting for tree protection held last Thursday night, was productive of two very definite results. One was the expression of crystallized sentiment on the subject of trees for the city; and the other was action which, if the purpose is carried out, will result in a department to function permanently for the greater beauty of Burbank.

A motion was unanimously carried to request the city board of trustees to appoint a city beautification commission. George B. Kittinger, Mrs. Walter C. Fisher and L. F. Collins were named as a committee to present the motion to the Board of Trustees at their next meeting.

George Marek, chief guardian of trees in the neighboring city of Glendale, was present at the meeting and argued that steps should be taken to have the city engineer vitally interested in tree protection, inasmuch as this official has their preservation or destruction largely in his power.

Owner of Twin Pines To Seek New License

SUNLAND, May 19.—Al Soller is circulating a petition among the business people and property owners of Sunland to secure the signatures of those favorable to the re-opening of Twin Pines as a public dance pavilion. The license was revoked under the ownership from which Mr. Soller bought the property. Since then the place has been conducted in an orderly manner, and the proprietor believes he can operate a public dance that will meet with the approval of the community.

SUES FOR GIFT

BERLIN, May 17.—The ex-Crown Prince has a good memory. Five years of exile have not been able to make him forget all about a costly wedding present made to him nineteen years ago by four hundred Prussian dukes.

UNDER MARTIAL LAW

LISBON, May 19.—Martial law was proclaimed at Lisbon and Oporto today as a result of labor unrest and threats of a general strike. Isolated violence was reported.

TELLS ATTITUDE TOWARDS SELLING

'Idealism In Business' Forms Theme of Address at C. of C. Meeting

TUJUNGA, May 19.—J. T. Fitzgerald of the music company bearing his name, addressed the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce at the last meeting on "Idealism in Business."

"Business," he said, "is the materialized manifestation of spiritual right thinking. I do not like the term 'salesmanship,' and some time I am going to try to think of a better word. It does not seem right to me to try to sell goods to anyone. That view of the transaction always puts foremost the thought of the profit to be derived from the transaction. I like better to feel that the true purpose of business is to serve people by helping them to get what they want in the best and most economical manner."

Service and genuine constructiveness in mercantile life were stressed in the course of the address and the speaker was warmly congratulated when he finished for the fine expression of business relations.

Other subjects discussed at the meeting of the chamber were the proposed extension of the electric car line from La Crescenta through Tujunga and Sunland to San Fernando, street improvement for next year's program, systematic planning for the beautification of the town and the planting of shrubbery and building of curbs an sidewalks.

President L. H. Fisher spoke of the proposed plan of the Tujunga Kiwanis club to form a council consisting of representatives from all valley organizations to bring about closer relations in the community in securing improvements of benefit to all sections.

SUNLAND NOTES

SUNLAND, May 19.—Mrs. Dan Keavane, president of the Monte Vista Parent-Teacher association, entertained several members of the association at her home, "La Biervenida," on North Monte Vista boulevard. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miller and son James; Principal Creighton of the Sunland school; Mrs. Gene Snow, Mrs. J. E. Crews, Mr. and Mrs. Waters, Mrs. Clara Blumfield, Mrs. Daisy Arden, Mrs. Steve, Mrs. Ruppel and daughter Hortense, Mrs. Jansky, Mrs. George Knudson and two sons, Kenneth and James. Mrs. J. Murray of Idora street, Sunland, has been in the Monte Sano hospital, Glendale, recovering from an operation. She is reported much better.

Claude Snodgrass has been under the care of Dr. Spates for a dislocated hip, the result of a fall from one of the trees in Monte Vista park.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bogardus of Downey visited friends here. Mr. and Mrs. James Hampton are the parents of an eleven-pound daughter, born at the Tujunga sanitarium April 23, 1924.

Mrs. Ralph Shaffer was hostess to the Afternoon Serving club Thursday. Mrs. Robert Grove is a new member who has recently moved into the valley. Mrs. Susan French of Tujunga were guests at the previous meeting held at the home of Mrs. Frank Williams.

Mrs. Lloyd Foster has been appointed chairman of a committee to arrange an entertainment to be given in the near future by the Valley Center Improvement Association.

Mrs. Jean Snow is anticipating a pleasant evening Monday when she will dine with a party of friends at the Biltmore in Los Angeles in celebration of the return of her brother from assembly.

Recent visitors in Sunland were: Mr. and Mrs. George Kirschen and small daughter; Mrs. Stevens' daughter of Oakland; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Spencer and daughter Dolores of Burbank.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Pulliam and Miss Lucrene Marvel of Los Angeles were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shaffer. Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Myers were recently entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Campbell entertained for Mrs. Campbell's parents and brother Frank Englund. Miss Viola Eva Kist died at her home in the Olive Grove tract Friday. She came to Sunland several months ago in search of health, from her home in Des Moines. A Kiefer and Eyerick of Glendale took charge of the funeral arrangements.

Fisherman Trying to Land Elusive Trout

TUJUNGA, May 19.—Unverified, but persistent, reports of limit catches of fish in the upper Big Tujunga canyon are tempting followers of the sport to neglect their business and homes in an endeavor to try their luck. Since the lifting of the quarantine on mountain canyons there has been a steady stream of automobiles into the hills, laden with would-be fishermen and picnickers. Last year several large trout were taken from the stream in the Big Tujunga by local boys, who know the best locations.

ESTABLISH COLLEGE

MADRID, May 19.—The official gazette today published a decree establishing a Spanish-American college at Seville.

HEIRLOOMS SHOW FAMILY HISTORY

remembrances would be very delightful.

The Palmer country home, "Chiffade," was set in spacious grounds on the bluff above the river, the station and boat landing being down below on a parcel of land purchased from the Palmer estate.

When the "Mary Powell" came up the river in the Spring a cannon at Chiffade, possibly one of historical fame, saluted the incoming boat.

"Strawberry Acres," the home of E. P. Roe, was devoted to the culture of this delectable fruit, Mr. Roe being an ardent horticulturist as well as preacher and author, as is very evident in his books. He was authority on the cultivation of strawberries and was always propagating a new variety.

Original of Heroine

The six children of the Roe family, Paulina, Martha, Eliza, Sara, Murray and Louisa, were the playmates of the Palmer children. The last named, called "Oodle" by the children, was the original of the heroine in her father's much read book "Miss Lou."

Mrs. Roe, Mrs. Morgan relates, was one of the sweetest women she ever knew and it must have required considerable patience to live with a family of six sturdy children and an author husband, however amiable.

Mrs. Morgan remembers the funeral of Mr. Roe. It was held in the Presbyterian church in Cornwall of which her father was a deacon and he was one of the pallbearers. The funeral was attended by a large number of celebrities of that time and an immense crowd of intimate friends and admirers packed the church and grounds.

Forgets Old Clock

The hymn "Lead, Kindly Light," was sung and the casket was wheeled down the aisle instead of being carried by the pallbearers, an innovation which made quite an impression on her youthful mind.

So interested did "Old Timer" become in this account of the author of those classics of her earlier recollection, "Barriers Burned Away" and "The Opening of a Chestnut Burr" and others equally well known, that the story of the Grandfather's clock and other relics of Colonial days will require another visit to this delightful home.

DANCE NETS $40 FOR CLUB FUNDS

Annual Luncheon to Be Held at Oakmont as Members Invite Guests

LA CRESCENTA, May 19.—The Women's club dance given on Saturday night in the school auditorium was the usual success.

The hostesses, Mesdames, C. A. Haskins and G. Sullivan, had baskets of beautiful flowers on the stage where the mah jong and bridge tables were set, while the refreshment table, where coffee, sandwiches, cake and punch were served, was decorated with vases of roses and syringa, making it most attractive. The proceeds for the evening were about $40 clear, all of which goes into the club building fund.

It was decided to hold the club's annual luncheon at the Oakmont Country club, as there is such a large number of members this year, all of whom expect to bring guests with them. Mrs. C. A. Haskins, president, will appoint a committee to take care of the arrangements.

Closer Relations of Foothill Towns Urged

TUJUNGA, May 19.—Ehbert M. Brown, realty broker of La Crescenta, attended the May meeting of the Tujunga Chamber of Commerce and made a short speech, in which he predicted that the territory between Pasadena and San Fernando would be built into one city in the not remote future. Mr. Brown also suggested that the Tujunga valley form a closer relationship with the La Crescenta valley by sending delegations to visit the La Crescenta and Montrose civic organizations.

Mr. Brown has just recently moved to the Verdugo hills and has entered the real estate business with a vim that has already made him well known in the several communities west of Montrose. He and his family have become a permanent part of the business and social life of the hills.

NAZARENES PLAN CHURCH BUILDING

Congregation Starts Work on Place of Worship on East Acacia Ave.

Another church building is being added to Glendale's group of fine edifices in the new structure being built by the Nazarene church at 417 East Acacia avenue. Foundations were laid for the new building about two weeks ago and work on the first unit starts this week.

This unit will be 30 by 80 feet, and will consist of Sunday school rooms and an auditorium. The auditorium will be used for a young people's room when the main building is erected. It is planned to have the unit now under construction completed early in August, and the second unit will be constructed as soon as the growth of the church demands it, according to Rev. Henry Scheideman, pastor.

Shows Rapid Growth

The Nazarene church is one of the newer faiths in Glendale, but it has had a rapid growth. When organized in Glendale about two years ago, meetings were first held in a hall on San Fernando road. Later the old Brethren church at 1032 South Glendale avenue was obtained, where services have been held for nearly a year.

The congregation made a rapid growth in the Glendale avenue location and the denomination was soon able to purchase a lot on Mariposa street. This was later disposed of and the location on Acacia avenue secured. A five-room parsonage is on the property and will be moved to the rear when construction on the main auditorium is started.

The new building will be of the Mission style of architecture and will be constructed of magnesite. The work is being handled by contractors within the church and is being supervised by the pastor.

HOLD SOCIAL IN CHURCH PARLOR

Christian Endeavor Society To Hear Los Angeles Members Sunday

LA CRESCENTA, May 19.—The Christian Endeavor of the La Crescenta Community church gave a social on Saturday night at the church parlors, where games of all sorts were enjoyed. A wienie bake in the church grounds was the principal event of the evening.

Next Sunday night the Christian Endeavor society of the Church of the Open Door of Los Angeles will send out a delegation who will conduct the 7:30 service here. There will be a program, including music and addresses, to which the public is cordially invited.

Last night Fred Kapon led the music, accompanied by Mrs. R. I. MacDonald at the organ. Special music was given by the little Misses Karline and Phyllis Burt, accompanied by their sister, Elizabeth. A piano solo by Earl Wooley pleased everyone.

A special Memorial service will be held next Sunday morning, to which ex-service men are cordially invited. Rev. Kelso, pastor of the church, will give a sermon on patriotism.

Service at Mission

The Episcopal Mission of St. Luke of the Mountains was served yesterday by F. Willittes of Huntington Park as lay reader. Mr. Willittes gave a sermon on "Baptism."

The ground for the new church is broken and the stone is being hauled to the property ready to building preparations, which are going right ahead. It is hoped the church will be ready to use by Thanksgiving.

Transplants Trees To Foothill Garden

LA CRESCENTA, May 19.—Mrs. Charles Turck, formerly of Glendale, who has just completed a Spanish home here, is having cypresses and palms moved into her garden that are about twenty-two feet in height. The trees have stood the transplanting splendidly, and Mrs. Turck is quite sure the transplanting of such large trees will be a great success.

Legion Members Will Visit San Pedro Post

Kemp Outlines Plans To Rebuild Missions

A plea for support in the plans that have been formed by the Episcopal church to rebuild the wrecked churches and missions belonging to the denomination in Japan was voiced yesterday morning by Rev. Philip K. Kemp, rector of St. Mark's church, following the announcement that the offering next Sunday will be devoted to this project.

The church in the United States is asked to contribute $3,000,000 to the restoration of the property demolished in the earthquake of last year in and around Tokio, and of this sum the quota of St. Mark's church has been set at $165, an amount which is expected to be generously over-subscribed.

Nine of the twelve church and mission establishments in Tokio, Mr. Kemp stated, were destroyed, many members of the congregations there were killed or are still missing, and, in spite of the emergency program that was immediately adopted and put into operation, there is crying need for support by the church in America.

Why I Am In Glendale

Four years ago, on an August day, I came to this great town to stay. Some time I'd wandered, seeking health, all over this great commonwealth. The doctors said, "Glendale is best," and so I put it to a test. Now I can eat three meals a day, and have no doctor bills to pay.

Sincerely,
MRS. ROY B. COEUR,

Fishing Parties at Lake Are Successful

LA CRESCENTA, May 19.—Mr. and Mrs. George Hansen, Chris Hansen and Master John Hansen returned yesterday from a fishing trip spent at Lake Arrowhead. They report a large catch as the fish are biting well. About three hundred other disciples of the great sport were camped around the lake when the Hansen family left, and more coming all the time, they reported.

Chinese Missions to Be Lecturer's Theme

An interesting lecture will be given Tuesday night, May 20, in the Nazarene church on South Glendale avenue by Rev. Kinney who has just recently returned from China. He will speak on "China and Its Mission Fields" and will illustrate it with beautifully colored slides.

Mr. Kinney has spent several years in the mission fields in China and has many interesting experiences to relate. A cordial

Kite Flyers Prepare For Big Tournament

LA CRESCENTA, May 19.—If all the kites being made by school children, large and small, for the great kite tournament, to be held here Friday, can fly, the air will be thick with them. There is a spirit of pleasant rivalry going on amongst the boys, and great is the demand on the librarian for books on kite making and flying.

Rehearsals for the great May festival, to be held here Friday are going right ahead, the bees, butterflies, flowers and people of the different countries all practicing hard to make perfect the greatest school pageant ever held here.

BUYS OIL PLANT

HOUSTON, May 19.—The South Texas Cotton Oil company has purchased the plant and business of the Magnolia Provision company at a cost of over $500,000.

Invitation is extended to the public to attend.

Potboilers to Stage Tense Russian Drama

The second offering of the Pot-boiler Players, Anto Tchekhoff's "Uncle Vanya," will be presented by Sigurd Russell at the Gamut club, Los Angeles, the night of Tuesday, May 20. John W. Timmen, of the Moscow Art studio, will direct.

This is the second offering of the Potboilers, who form part of an art center conducted at 730 North Broadway. It is understood that they have in preparation the popular recent play, "Six Characters in Search of an Author."

"Uncle Vanya" is a tense drama dealing with the pathos of wasted lives, a play of ideas affording exceptional entertainment as well as offering food for thought.

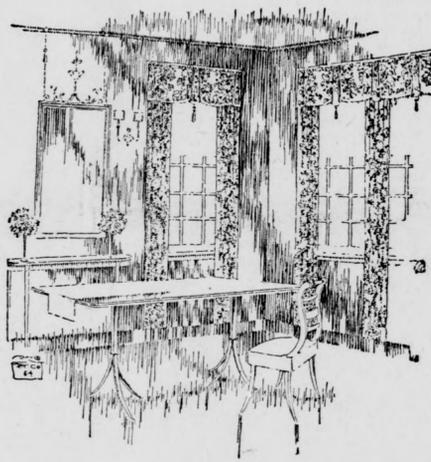

HIGH PRICED LOTS

Avail Yourself of Our Free Drapery Making Offer Before It Is Too Late

Our offer to make up drapery materials purchased here without labor charge is liable to be withdrawn at any time. As it is, at least four weeks are required from the time your order is placed, so great is the amount of work ahead. Place your order tomorrow and secure this great advantage.

Beautiful New Silks for Home Decoration

Rose color, Chinese blue, pale yellow, Nile green, orchid—a myriad of Springtime colors appear in fascinating combinations in the new silks for decorative use. A variety of printed silks and others in plain color offer the right fabrics for every decorative scheme.

For curtains, cushions, screens, lamp shades and draperies, they are unexcelled. A wide range of prices.

Let Us Plan Your Drapes

Style is fully as important today for your home's decorations as for your own tailor. Phone and make an appointment to have one of our decorators call and help you select appropriate materials and drapery schemes. Estimates given without obligation.

Sixty-Five People to Serve You in Planning and Making Draperies

In order to care for our increasing drapery business from all over Southern California, sixty-five people are required in this one branch of our homefurnishing service. Of this number fifteen are engaged in the interior decorative phase of the work alone. It is obvious that to keep this splendid organization together at this time we must have a large volume of work. Orders now on hand make it necessary to place orders four weeks in advance of delivery.

Drapery Stock of More than $100,000 of New Fabrics to Select From Nowhere so far as we know will you find a more complete assortment of materials to select from. Many of the new patterns and weaves we are now showing are found in no other stock in this section of the Southwest. It is a genuine pleasure to choose from such a wonderful variety as you find here.

Values that Compare Favorably With Any in Southern California

The almost unlimited purchasing power and ability of this organization with its great sales volume under low overhead expense combine to bring prices down to the lowest possible notch.

Remember that we are in direct competition with Los Angeles stores and our values must be exceptional to attract so much trade from the larger city. Comparison of our values will convince you that we can serve you to your advantage.

Nearly All Kinds of Drapery Work Included

The only exceptions to our free drapery making offer apply to the more ornate forms of drapery work, such as cornices, lambrequins, Austrian shades and ruffled curtains. All other work without labor charge during this special offer.

How This Remarkable Offer Is Made Possible

This free drapery making offer is made to advertise and further extend the fame of our excellent drapery work which has brought us the entire furnishing order for many fine homes. We now have the most efficient and largest staff of artisans and designers we have ever been able to assemble and we want to maintain this splendid organization to full capacity.

SPRING SETTING FOR CLUB PARTY

Garden Fete Will Be Staged In Southland Beauty Of Brand Estate

All the beauty of springtime in California is to be found in the gardens of "Miradero," the L. C. Brand foothill estate, where a veritable fairyland will be seen Saturday afternoon and night of this week at the garden fete given by the Tuesday Afternoon club.

The affair will be the final club benefit under the regime of Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means, and justly deserving the title, "Wizard of Finance."

Mr. and Mrs. Brand have offered their entire garden for the fete, and Mrs. Montgomery and her numerous committees are working out elaborate plans for the various booths and entertainment features.

Every club department and committee has been put in charge of some booth or concession.

Dancing Programs
Festivities will begin at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and continue until shortly before midnight.

In both the afternoon and evening there will be programs given by pupils of the Pearl Keller Studio of Dancing and Dramatic Art.

Then there will be dancing on the tennis court and swimming in the big pool.

SCOUT CARNIVAL IS BIG SUCCESS

Girls Present Program In Auditorium of School; Booths In Gym

Brilliant carnival festivities staged Saturday night at the Harvard High school under the auspices of Girl Scout troop No. 2, resulted in the girls realizing approximately $150, which is to be used to purchase the regulation uniforms for the troop members.

Elaborate plans had been made by the girls and through the hearty co-operation of troop members, generous aid offered by Glendale merchants and hearty support of Glendale friends, the affair was a great success.

A street parade Saturday morning gave hint of the evening events.

Present Program
At night a program of professional and local talent was presented in the high school auditorium. In addition to professional artists there appeared Mabel Todd of the Girl Scouts, who sang, and Bernice Allowell, sister of one of the Scouts, who danced.

From the auditorium the company went to the gymnasium, where countless booths were attractively arranged.

The girls were greatly pleased to have as one of their guests Mrs. F. A. Beach, Girl Scout commissioner.

Chief Vollmer In Urgent Appeal for Additional Police

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—"Help, police!" No, it was not a cry in the dark. Nothing more than Police Chief August Vollmer's appeal to members of the City Council this morning for more patrolmen to aid in the policing of greater Los Angeles.

In the San Fernando valley it is said one officer covers a beat twenty-eight miles long and as far across as the valley. Other sections need men, including San Pedro and the studios chief knows there is only one thing to do. That's yell for help until help is to be had.

FIRM WILL OPEN TIRE SHOP HERE

Partners Lease South Brand Store; Plan to Bring Families to City

The store at 625 South Brand boulevard has been leased for Mrs. S. Z. Walters by L. C. Stickney and F. G. Dahl, prominent auto accessory men, and will be operated as the Diamond Tire shop.

Both Mr. Stickney and Mr. Dahl plan to bring their families to Glendale. The former had charge of an auto accessory house in the Rocky Mountain district and comes here from San Pedro.

The lease was negotiated through Myron Runyon, manager of the Frank Meline company, 227 South Brand boulevard.

Spectators Riot as U. S. Defeats French

PARIS, May 19.—Gibson Nelson of De Kalb, Ill., who was struck over the head with a cane during the disorders that attended the victory of the United States rugby football team over the French Olympic team at Colombes stadium, was reported recovering today at the American hospital at Neuilly. His condition is not serious.

The American team won by 17 to 3 in a sensational, hard-fought contest. Several French sportswriters accused the Americans of "playing brutally." The French press on the whole deplored the incident, especially the hissing which began when the United States flag was raised in token of the American victory.

A second American, B. F. Larson of Provo, Utah, was slightly injured during the fighting in the stadium.

DUFFY LEADS LEAGUE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—With an average of .474, Duffy Lewis, manager of the Salt Lake Aces, continued today to hold the lead among batsmen in the Pacific Coast league. Lindmore of Salt Lake is second with .462 and Jenkins of the same team third with .442.

Managers Ellison of San Francisco and Krug of Los Angeles are topping their teams in hitting.

SPANISH VICTORY

PARIS, May 19.—The Spanish lightweight hope, Jim Morgan, today defeated Fred Messino, forcing the Frenchman to quit in the fifth round.

HEAVY HITTING

The Phillies smashed their way to a victory over the Cubs, 8 to 5, scoring six runs in the second on two home runs, two triples, a double and a single.

ERROR IS COSTLY

After Lutzke's error in the second, Uble blew up and the Yankees drove him from the box, scoring six runs and winning the first game from the Indians, 8 to 0.

THEN IT HAPPENED

Marberry and Shocker staged a pretty duel until the ninth when the Senators blew up and the Browns romped home with a 6 to 3 victory.

Ruth Still Leads In Homers; 'Frog' Fournier Second

NEW YORK, May 19.—While sluggers on all leagues are trying to bust fences and lose perfectly good balls, George Herman Ruth, often called "Babe," is still king of the circuit smashers.

His total count for the early part of the season is nine. His nearest opponent is Fournier, Brooklyn Nationals, with eight. Hauser, Philadelphia, has six circuit clouts.

WHITE SOX TAKE THRILLING GAME FROM VISITORS

El Segundo Register Two On Homers But Kerwin's Crew Counts Three

The largest crowd present at the White Sox park since the opening day last fall saw Glendale take a whole of a game from El Segundo, twice Southern California champions, yesterday, 3 to 2.

The free admission by Frank Kerwin of the fair sex and the kids had its effect on the attendance, and as the visitors brought a hundred or more supporters with them, the stands were comfortably filled when the big game started.

The game was a great duel between Cecil Cruze for the White Sox and "Lefty" Leon Bell for El Segundo, with the former having the better of the argument.

He allowed six hits, while the Sox were able to gather only four off of Bell, but the southpaw's wildness beat him. Bell walked five men, two of them at inopportune moments, but made up in a measure for this by striking out nine with his fast-breaking curve.

Cruze was even up on this, as he walked only one and struck out the same number.

Homers Only Scores
The ex-Vernon hurler was tight in the pinches and was given spectacular support by his teammates.

The two runs scored by the visitors were the result of homers run by Chamberlin and Wernert. They were not able to work a run over during the entire game.

Bell was in difficulty several times, but two fast double plays out of budding rallies by the Sox when things looked threatening for Rodax, Wernert and company.

Incidentally, the win put the Sox past the fatal hoodoo number, as it was the thirteenth straight victory they have scored over semi-pro teams. They have won thirteen out of the last fourteen games played, the only team beating them being the Seattle club of the Coast league.

Walks in Score
The Sox looked dangerous in the first inning. After Young had filed to Keltus, Dorman singled to left. Shields singled to the same place and Dorman slid into third safely. Bell became unsteady and walked Carl Sawyer, filling the bases. He was unable to get four over to Shellenbach, and forced in Dorman with the first score of the game. The bases were still full, with only one out, but Orsatt hit to Bell, who threw Shields out at home on the force. Orsatt was doubted at first, Smith to Scanlon.

The visitors did not find Cruze for a hit until the fourth inning, when Chamberlin, first man up, got a toe hold on one of Cruze's fast ones and sent it sailing over the fence, tying the score.

Wernert, first batter in the fifth, duplicated the feat, and El Segundo went into the lead, 2 to 1. Bell was going like a million dollars and that one run lead looked mighty big. But the Sox were not to be denied, and taking advantage of a slight crack in the visitors' defense, pushed over two runs in the sixth.

How They Did It
After Daniels had thrown Shields out at first, Bell hit Sawyer on the arm. Shellenbach had a hit in his stride, a long single to left. Carl made third on the hit and Shell second on the throw-in. Bell heaved a low one which got through Smith's mitt and rolled to the grandstand. Sawyer scored on the passed ball. Shellenbach taking third. Orsatt hit a roller to Daniels for an easy out, but the second catcher juggled the ball and Shellenbach scored. Orsatt being safe at first. Hirigoyen struck out.

The only other hit allowed the Sox was a two-bagger which Keltus presented Sawyer by standing still in left field and letting it drop safe. He died on second, as Scanlon took care of Shellenbach and Orsatt.

The only chance El Segundo had to even the score was in the eighth and they threw it away by foolish baserunning. After Shields had thrown out Smith at first, Bell singled through the pitcher's box. Keltus singled sharply to right and Bell took third. Orsatt fooled Keltus and instead of making the throw-in to third, threw to Sawyer in second. The fielder who relayed to Shellenbach at first, catching Keltus flatfooted off the base. Chamberlin was an infield out, and their chance was gone. Only three men faced Cruze in the ninth inning. He hit one of these, Rodax, but he was thrown out at second a minute later by Ennis, when trying to steal.

"Happy" Was Present
"Happy" Winz, baseball clown of El Segundo, was on hand and enlivened the proceedings with his usual feature stunts. Ferwin announced after the game that the Gilmore Oil team would probably play here next Sunday. They were originally included in the eight teams that jumped the "Magers" association to play independent ball, but have apparently seen the error of their ways and have asked, according to Kerwin, to be taken back in the fold.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

By FAIR PLAY
By Special Leased Wire to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright 1924 NEW YORK, May 19.—Billy Gibson has secured the backing of the American Legion in his fight to prevent Carpenter from meeting Tommy Gibbons in Michigan City until after the Frenchman has met Gene Tunney. It remains to be seen whether the veterans can succeed where lawyers evidently have failed.

There is talk that Harry Willis has agreed verbally, to meet George Godfrey at a Philly park this summer. According to the gossip Jimmy Dougherty's statement that if there is to be a mixed bout Dempsey's opponent should be the real champion of the negro race, not any old colored fighter, stirred Willis to anger.

Dougherty's inference, of course, was that Willis is not the real champion and that Godfrey can prove this any time the two meet. Since Tex Rickard has twenty much of a strangle hold on Willis' future, it is difficult to see how the fight could be held in Philly this summer. In other words, if Harry has said anything indicating a willingness to meet Godfrey it is probably a bluff.

The last thing the Black Panther would want to do just now would be to risk a lot of big money by taking on Godfrey. For any one who meets that big black man is taking chances, bar no one. Farmer Lodge says that the walloping he got from Godfrey the other night was the most painful experience of his career. He hits harder than Firpo, says the farmer and Lodge ought to know.

There is a bout set for Philadelphia tonight that promises well. It is between Ad Stone and Tommy Loughran, who recently turned in a neat victory over Charley Nashert in Detroit. Loughran expects his speed to effect Stone's superior punching ability.

As to punching, Stone's hands have been in the dry dock for some time now. It remains to be seen how they stand up under real work. Stone seems to be one of those unfortunate fighters whose walloping is more powerful than his hands will stand. Paul Barlanbach is another and Harry Willis still another.

FIGHTERS TRAIN IN STALEY CAMP

Big Houses, Hotels, Golfers' Paradise, Ski Jump and Beach Nearby

By H. C. HAMILTON
For International News Service. GRAND BEACH, Mich., May 19.—Tommy Gibbons is training for his forthcoming battle with Georges Carpentier, the Greek god from France, on an 800-acre estate which boasts a ski jump, a terraced beach fronting on Lake Michigan, a 600 room hotel which would do credit to Atlantic City, a smaller hotel, a twenty-seven hole golf course, a lot of oak and pine trees, the same number of whippoorwills and a great deal more of silence and fresh air.

Tom is not doing any ski jumping, but as originator of the "gold coast" training camp he certainly is going over big.

The silence, the fresh air, the beach, the birds and the trees are getting their share of attention.

A few miles off, Georges is getting in his licks. He is being forced to put up with a huge cottage, built for another millionaire, a lot of trees, silence, fresh air and beach, and access to Tom Gibbons' golf course.

Georges himself may always be counted upon to put a little of the spectacular into whatever he does while in our United States, and his present fighting date with the St. Paul socker is no exception.

As no time in the history of million dollar houses, battles of the century, rodeos in Montana, or other what-not, has there ever been a training camp to compare with this one.

Imagine stepping from a luxurious train onto a concrete platform to be greeted by wide vistas of the great outdoors and a concrete road leading through a huge arch which announces the welcome to Grand Beach.

The road winds through massive trees, flanking a splendid golf course to a group of houses, purchased by persons who have plenty of time and money to enjoy themselves. The first house on the left has only fifty rooms. It is a sort of hang-over from the big hotel. That is where Mr. Gibbons has to live. He has his own retinue of servants and the golf course is just at the back door.

Two hundred yards farther and one comes to the ski jump (not used) and a creek (used some). The magnificent panorama of Lake Michigan and the splendid beach fronting it are glimpsed through the trees as you pass the ski jump and approach the huge 600 room hotel. That is what Tom Gibbons has to put up with.

Mr. Carpenter doesn't have to put up with quite so much. They let him walk a little farther to reach these things. The gold coast training camp indeed!

PLANT IS OUT

NEW YORK, May 19.—American Olympic hopes suffered another setback with the announcement that Willie Plant, the country's walking champion, would not be a member of the 1924 team. Business prevents his acceptance of a place on the team.

LAIRD WORKS UP TO SEMI-FINALS

Glendale Tennis Star May Get Chance to Battle For Court Title

By ROSS M. RUSSELL, JR.
Of The Evening News Staff. Bob Laird, captain and first man of the Glendale High net team advanced from the fifth round of the singles play yesterday on the courts of the Los Angeles Tennis club in the Southern California Interscholastic tournament at the expense of Keeley, first man of the El Monte team. Next Saturday Laird will meet Gorchakoff, Los Angeles high court demote, to play for the right to advance into the finals.

Laird was playing good tennis and did not find very rough going in Keeley. Bob has played the El Monte man twice in matches at Santa Monica, and once in the Pomona city championships. Each time Laird has won and yesterday he completed his fifth victory over Keeley.

Bob took the first game in the match, but in the second had the misfortune to break his racket, which flew out of his hand while smashing one at the net. The racket cracked and was rendered useless for play. Bob took another but the difference threw him off of his game for the next ten or fifteen minutes.

During this time Keeley took four straight games, making his score 4-1 against the Glendale player.

Comes Back Strong
Laird then perked up and took five straight, winning his first set, 6-4. In the second set Laird played all around his opponent and dropped only two games, Keeley winning the first and next to last, making the score 6-4, 6-2 for the match.

For the Laird-Gorchakoff encounter the dope experts give Laird the edge. Maxwell, second man of the local court four, beat Gorchakoff recently when Glendale high met the Los Angeles outfit. Laird plays a little better game than Maxwell or unless something goes wrong, should take the match.

HORSEMEN PRAISE BLACK GOLD COLT

Winner of Derby Saturday Picked to Lead Field This Season

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service. NEW YORK, May 19.—Not a horseman this side of the Hereafter can or will gainsay today the greatness of Black Gold, winner of the Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs on Saturday from a field of nineteen thoroughbreds. All agree, with the possible exception of those who might discover a broken tooth in Mona Lisa's smile, that Black Gold was none the better horse in the race, in spite of the fact that his actual margin of victory was less than half a length.

It was simply a case of the decision being easier than it looked and the Hoots colt is confidently expected to prove it in the three stake engagements he has remaining on his schedule.

The first of these is due Saturday next at Maple Heights, where Black Gold has been nominated as a starter in the Ohio state derby at a mile and an eighth. Trainer H. Webb will reach a decision on Black Gold's readiness for this test within two days.

Black Gold also is eligible for the Latonia Derby and the Independent handicap, and will surely start in both, if right. He has no engagements in the east, which is just as well for eastern prestige, still reeling under the shock of seeing four western colts—Black Gold, Chilhowee, Beau Butler and Altwood—pass in rapid review before Braecadale staggered in.

Split On Second
Some of the disastereous critics were pleased to disagree with the judges on the final placing of Braecadale, a few of them even going so far as to intimate that the Sinclair entry ran second. It is for just such matters as this, however, that we have judges. They are in a better position to pass on the merits of a finish than any self-constituted jury in the stands.

Another idea does not stand up under close examination is the report that Mrs. Rose Hoots, owner of Black Gold, is a Cherokee Indian. According to John I. Day, eastern racing expert, only Mrs. Hoots' late husband was of Cherokee blood. Day having been well acquainted with both of them some few years ago.

Mrs. Hoots, quiet, self-possessed little woman, has made public denial of the report since it was published, but otherwise she has been in virtual retirement in a secluded cottage near the Downs.

"Horse racing is like the oil game, it is so uncertain," she has been quoted as saying upon her departure for Kentucky from her home in Oklahoma, where she has made a comfortable fortune from oil lands. The widow was never seen in the racing crowds that congregated about the Louisville hotels on the eve of the race.

Black Gold, by the way, is essentially a product of blue grass

LOCAL K. C. TEAM BEATS HOLLYWOOD

Curtain Raiser to Regular Game Was Easy Picking For Glendale

The Glendale Knights of Columbus baseball team yesterday walloped the Hollywood "Casays" at the White Sox park, 14-3. Two weeks ago the Glendale team won the Southern California Knights of Columbus championship by trouncing the same team 13-2. The Glendale boys gave Seiser good support throughout the game, which lasted only six innings on account of the El Segundo-White Sox game following.

After the smoke of the first inning had cleared away the result was never in doubt. In the said first chapter eight runs were scored. The Movie City outfit started the fireworks by tallying three times on a double by McDemmitt, singles by W. Lee and R. Lee, error by H. Doll, and a sacrifice fly by Rollins.

This spurt was countered by a more vicious one by the locals. H. Doll, first man up for Glendale hit a high one to Quinn in centerfield. Quinn misjudged the ball badly and it landed behind him. By the time the pill was returned Doll had journeyed to third base. Cryan hit a hot one along the third base line scoring Doll. Fruhring filed to H. Lee.

R. Doll hit a line drive to Gillman who made a nice miff of the ball, letting Cryan in and R. Doll to second. Seiser doubled to right, scoring R. Doll. M. Doll walked and a hit by Coleman scored Seiser and sent M. Doll to second. Peroni potted to McDemmitt. Perenti singled, filling the bases. Quinn cracked in from center field and tried to catch Coleman off second, but in his excitement to retire the side Quinn dropped the ball, permitting M. Doll to score. Further fatalities were prevented by H. Doll's easy pop fly to McDemmitt.

After the first inning the Hollywood crew scored only one run, that coming in the third on a brace of double by W. Lee and Gillman. The Glendale nine outplayed their opponents in every department of the game. The Hollywooders made five errors against the one of the home team, and got only eight hits in six innings while Glendale garnered thirteen, his in five.

What the three Doll brothers are to Glendale the three Lee brothers are to Hollywood. One of each plays first base, one of each plays in the outfield, and one of each plays around the keystone sack. The Dolls made sixteen putouts, five assists and one error to the eight putouts, one assist, and one error of the Lees. The only double play of the game was a strictly family affair, it being R. Doll to H. Doll to M. Doll.

Elliott Recovering After Serious Fall

Howard "Breezy" Elliott, phenomenal fullback of Glendale's super-football machine last year is getting along nicely following a fall. Elliott was at work piling canned goods on a top shelf when the ladder on which he was standing slipped. He fell backwards and hit the edge of a box, hitting his back a very sharp and severe blow. Three or four hours he was unconscious and when he came to, found himself in the hospital. For several days he was helpless and the doctors regarded his condition as serious. Although he is better now he will have to be very careful for some time to come. His injuries are not of the nature to disable him permanently. He has been removed to his home.

LOSE THEIR JINX

The Reds broke their losing streak when they won from the Robins, 5 to 4, breaking up a Dodger rally that came within one run of tying the score in the eighth.

training. He was foaled by Useit at Lexington and reared there under Webb's patient tutelage. His winnings, to date, total approximately $90,000. Only twice has he been unplaced in 23 starts.

ANGELS, BEAVERS DIVIDE DOUBLE BILL AT CLOSE

Krug's Crew Wins First, 11-0, Portland Takes Final By Rally In Ninth Inning

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Los Angeles and Portland divided Sunday's double bill at Washington park, with an estimated gathering of some 10,000 wild-eyed fanatics on hand to give the Angels a last farewell before Marty Krug takes his hirelings on the second haul northward, and to make way for the Vernon Tigers this week. The Angels, with the old reliable Doc Crandall hurling a wonderful brand of ball, easily took the long end of the first game, 11 to 0.

The second game turned out to be a pitching duel between "Bim" Myers for the Angels and Schroeder of the Beavers, with Schroeder more effective when hits meant runs. Each allowed but one run and three hits until the ninth. It was in the last frame that "Bim" faltered—long enough for the fast-moving Portlanders to chase across three runs and the game by a 4-to-1 score.

Vernon will open a series at Washington park this week, with the Angels playing on the road during Essick's stay at home.

Tigers, Bees Split

SALT LAKE, May 19.—Yesterday's double-header between the Tigers and the Bees turned out to be two of "those things" for which the Salt Lake park is noted. To term them free-chitching contests is much too complimentary. The Bees won the first game, 16 to 14, and the second, 12 to 6.

High lights were the three home runs gathered by Duffy Lewis, and the four homers of Chadbourne, Menoskey, Deal and R. Murphy in one inning. Other than that there is not much to tell, outside of the fact that the Bees are firmly entrenched in second place ready to take on the Seals this week.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

CINCINNATI, May 19.—Cincinnati went into a tie with New York for first place by beating Brooklyn yesterday, 5 to 4. Donohue pitched good ball until the eighth, when Jackie May was rushed in to stop a rally by the visitors.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

NEW YORK, May 19.—Before a crowd of 50,000, Bob Shawkey shut out Cleveland here yesterday, 8 to 0. Uhl, who had won six out of seven of his last starts, was driven from the box in the seventh inning. Shawkey allowed the visitors but seven hits and kept them well scattered.

Tigers 4; Red Sox 5

BOSTON, May 19.—Driving Cole from the box in the seventh inning, Boston defeated Detroit yesterday, 5 to 4. Fuhr, although a bit wild, kept the hits fairly well scattered.

BOYS SEE GAME, EAT ICE CREAM

Hundreds of Kiddies Have Gay Time as Guests of Rotary and Team

Rotary boys' week was wound up with one of the greatest demonstrations ever witnessed in Glendale when more than 2,000 kiddies were the guests of the Glendale Rotary club and Frank Kerwin, White Sox boss, at a ball game between the Bayer-Rothgeb company of Los Angeles and the Glendale team of the California summer league, Saturday afternoon. Their high-lunged powered support was no small factor in the win of the Sox over the visitors, 7 to 6, that had the boys on their feet throughout the whole game.

Organized cheering under a yell leader greeted a safe hit or a spectacular play in the field by a player of either team, and when the Sox cinched their twelfth straight win by pushing over six runs in the fifth inning, the boys nearly tore the grandstand down.

The guests of the occasion were met at the gate by members of the Rotary club and given megaphones, furnished by Cornwell and Kelly, with which to increase their vocal efforts. During the game ice cream was passed around. Although at this point the situation was indeed serious, no casualties have been reported, and at last reports they were still digging Richardson D. White out from under a pile of boys that stormed his citadel and aided the basket containing the ice cream.

Fitting Climax

Arthur H. Dibbern, chairman of arrangements, made a short speech to the boys, sandwiching in his remarks between intervals of prolonged cheering. Altogether, both the boys and Rotary club, the youngsters cheered every body, even down to the bat boy, and, as the Glendale team won, the day had a fitting climax.

The game, which rates secondary consideration in the day's doings, was a good exhibition, with the score close enough to keep the outcome a matter of guess, at least for the first five innings.

The visitors scored one run in the first inning. The Sox evened it up in the second and the Bayer-Rothgeb crowd pushed ahead again by counting two. They added another in the fifth and the score was 4 to 1 in their favor when the Sox came to bat, when the balloon ascended. The Sox batted around and then some, so when the fire department was called in to help get them out, three hits, copious errors and several bonehead plays had netted six runs and the ball game.

The Sox, overconfident, nearly threw the game away in the ninth when the visitors scored two runs, coming within one of knotting the count. With the tying run on second, Berg fouled out to Dorman, who was catching, and the boys went home, still shouting.

Indians Get Two

OAKLAND, May 19.—Oakland lost both games of the double-header with Seattle here yesterday. Vean Gregg shut out the home team in the morning, allowing but five scattered hits, and in the afternoon Kunz cracked after pitching shutout ball for five innings. The two wins gave the Suds the series, 6 to 1.

Seals 2-12, Sacs 8-3

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—Sacramento and San Francisco broke even in yesterday's double-header, the locals taking the morning game, 8 to 2, and losing in the afternoon, 12 to 3. Sacramento took the series, four games to three.

High grade diamonds have been scarce in Europe the last year.

INDIANS INVAD TIGER CAMP NEXT

Angels Go to Sacramento, Seals at Salt Lake, Oaks at Home

After a two weeks' trip on the road, during which they did fairly well, all things considered, the clawing Vernon Tigers return home tomorrow to play hosts to Wade Killifer's Seattle Indians. This is the second appearance of the year here for the northerners, as they opened the local season with Los Angeles.

The Tigers did not do so well against the Seals, but have fared better the past week, spanking the Bees while the lowly Sacs have caused the Seals all kinds of worry, even beating Lefty Mitchell, who left the box a loser for the first time this year.

The feature of the week was the defeat on the great Walter Mails by Wheeler in a red hot pitching duel, in which the Oaks gave away the game in the last inning by grooving the ball to Brick Eldrid and Ted Baldwin, instead of working the corners with his usual cunning.

Indians Pick Up

The Indians have been playing good ball the last two weeks and will be no set up for the Tigers. This warm weather should help Cadore and Courtney get into shape. If these two major leaguers get going, the pathway of visiting teams will be decidedly rough when Essick's crew is at home.

The Angels, after a rather disappointing home exhibition against the Oaks and the Beavers, jump to Sacramento for a seven game series with the Senators. Here the cellar position will be at stake in a negative way, and the Oaks, judging by their showing against the Seals, will deal Marty Krug some more misery.

Seals at Salt Lake

The Seals make the jump to Salt Lake to fatten their batting averages in the cracker box there. The Frisco sluggers are expected to break all existing records in this and every other league for homers when they bear down. Official scorers at the Bea park are to be equipped with adding machines and rapid calculators, so they can file the box score on the wire before 10 o'clock in the evening.

The Beavers jump from Los Angeles to Oakland, stopping there a week before they meet Vernon at home next week.

FOR GAME'S SAKE

By LAWRENCE PERRY

NEW YORK, May 19.—If the attitude of those aboard the Berengaria and other ships came to the pier to see the big liner sail for Europe, is any indication, Helen Willis is going to take England and France by storm. And this aside from her tennis ability—that is to say, her ability to defeat Suzanne Lenglen.

Helen Willis has a sweetness of manner, a charm, that registers immediately upon both men and women. Lots of girls can make a man think her charming but when both sexes agree on this point it may be accepted that she is a really charming girl. Sailing with her mother, she acted and looked just what she is, a corking young college girl, going abroad to see things and incidentally to play lawn tennis.

Tennis is liable to play havoc with a young woman's looks. The strain of competition seems to draw their faces and harden their eyes and as well to detract from the accepted feminine grace of movement. No less an observer than Walter Mace, trainer of American Davis Cup teams, says tournament tennis is no game for the girl who wishes to be the reigning beauty of the drawing room and the ball room floor. Thus far her tennis has taken no such toll of Helen Willis' good looks, in which respect she is already the world's tennis champion.

Compared with Mlle. Lenglen, if the two met on the courts, our American champion will be as Georges Carpentier to Bull Montana, and this is handing Suzanne something at that.

DOPE FROM DUGOUT

NEW YORK, May 19.—George Sisler's St. Louis Browns have got the New York Yanks worried. Some very enthusiastic New York baseball men who are competent to judge ball players have begun picking the Browns to win the 1924 pennant on the strength of their showing against the Yanks.

It is most unusual when a New York partisan will concede anything to St. Louis. The fact that they are doing it illustrates how deep an impression the Browns have made out here in the east. The reason is that they have been playing smarter baseball in these parts than the Yanks have shown.

This writer is not yet picking the Browns as the 1924 champions. It is too early in the season for that. But he is saying that the Yanks have got to get up on their toes and play ball if they want to win. They have stronger opposition in several quarters than they had in 1923. The entire American league is out to spike its ambitions for a fourth straight pennant. The players of the other clubs are tired of hearing about Ruth and the other Yankees. And what's more, they want a major cut in the world series money themselves.

The Browns have shown they are capable of keeping in the fight if they will hold their heads well. They are a better team than they were last season, because they have Sisler at first base, and have better pitching. Wingard's successful debut with the Browns gives the team new life in the pitching department and provides

Sir Gallahad Winner

Over French Favorite

PARIS, May 19.—Jefferson Davis Cohn's thoroughbred, Sir Gallahad III, defeated the French horse Epinard, in a private race for $20,000 francs at St. Cloud race track this afternoon.

Epinaud went to the post a 4 to 5 favorite. Thousands of turf followers came from London and vast sums of money changed hands. Sir Gallahad had won several races this season but Epinard was out only once.

A lefthander who seems able to rate along at better than a .600 winning clip. He has not met all the tests that a young pitcher must meet, and he may slump later, but he unquestionably has been a big factor in putting the Browns up at the start of the season.

Spring tonic was what the Browns needed. They got away very badly. If that start had not been remedied quickly, the Browns would have lagged in the second division indefinitely. For here is a ball team that needs the inspiration of winning to do its best. When it does not win, the players are likely to become grouchy and quarrelsome.

New York won fifteen out of twenty games from the Browns last year, beating them oftener than they beat any other club. Suppose the Browns split even with the Yanks this season. That would mean a drop from .750 to .500 in the win column for the Yanks, so far as their standing with the Browns is concerned.

Stars Will March to Bowl Before Tryouts

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—Headed by Mayor Cryer and members of the City Council, a monster parade is scheduled for next Saturday, opening the day's program for the Olympic games tryouts at the Coliseum. Many of the country's athletic stars are expected to participate in the march that will end at Exposition park's mammoth bowl. Jack Dempsey will head the list of stars with a three-round exhibition bout.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE RED PILL

"Where are you going, Uncle Wiggily?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day, as she saw the rabbit gentleman hopping down the front walk.

"I am going over to get Sammie and Susie Littletail," answered the bunny uncle.

"Are you going to take them to the circus?" the muskrat lady housekeeper wanted to know.

"Not yet, the circus isn't to be here until next week," said Uncle Wiggily, with a laugh. "But, as you know, Nurse Jane, each season I bring Sammie and Susie over to stay with me a few days that I may teach them lessons in what to eat and what not to eat. They are getting to be big rabbit children now, and soon they will wander afar over the fields and through the woods. Unless they are taught what is good to eat and what is harmful, they may take something that will make them ill."

"Oh, all right!" squeaked Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "I was thinking it was about time you gave Sammie and Susie some more lessons." For Uncle Wiggily did this each year—several times a year. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Littletail, the father and mother of Sammie and Susie could have taught their children what to eat and what not to eat, but they liked better to have Uncle Wiggily do it.

So the old rabbit gentleman, giving his pink nose an extra twinkle, hopped over the fields to the burrow or underground house of Sammie and Susie.

"I am going to take them to live with me a few days," said Mr. Longears to Mrs. Littletail.

"It is very kind of you," spoke Mrs. Littletail. "I have some new little rabbits now, and I haven't much time for Sammie and Susie."

The little boy and girl rabbit were very happy to go with Uncle Wiggily, and he was soon hopping with them over the fields and through the woods, pointing out the different weeds and plants that were good to eat.

"Try some of that, Sammie," said Mr. Longears, pointing to a sort of brownish white plant.

"Oh, that's a toadstool and it's poison to eat!" cried Susie. "Don't eat that, Sammie!"

"No, that isn't a toadstool," said Uncle Wiggily. "It looks like one, but it's a mushroom. And as it isn't easy to tell toadstools, which are poison, from mushrooms, which aren't poison, it will be best for you not to eat any of them unless I am with you to tell you what is safe."

"All right—we won't," promised Susie. Then she and Sammie ate some mushrooms and liked them very much. Uncle Wiggily showed them the difference between mushrooms and toadstools, but said:

"It will be a long while before you can tell one from the other, so don't eat any unless I am with you."

The rabbit children again promised that they would be careful and then Mr. Longears showed them other good things to eat and bad weeds and plants to keep away from.

It was the next day, and Sammie and Susie were still staying at Uncle Wiggily's house, that the two rabbits started out over the fields to get some sweet red clover.

"Oh, look!" suddenly cried Sammie. "Here are some mushrooms!"

"Don't eat them!" begged Susie. "Maybe they're toadstools, and you know what Uncle Wiggily said!"

"Nonsense!" laughed Sammie. "I guess I'm old enough, now, to know mushrooms from toadstools."

Here are some mushrooms! cried Sammie.

"Let me see your tongue, Mr. Bob Cat!" cried Dr. Possum, and when the Bob Cat stuck out his tongue Dr. Possum said: "You need a red pill to make you feel better." So, before the Bob Cat could stop him, Dr. Possum put a big red pill on the bad chap's tongue.

"Oh, wowchie! wow!" howled the Bob Cat, and, turning a somersault, away he ran, while Uncle Wiggily drove Dr. Possum to the bungalow.

"What was in the red pill, doctor?" asked the rabbit.

"Red pepper!" laughed Dr. Possum. "Though I won't give Sammie and Susie any. And he didn't, though he had to give them bitter medicine to make them better. And after they were well they always waited for Uncle Wiggily to tell them which were mushrooms and which were toadstools.

Now if the eye of the needle doesn't try to read the paper of pins when it ought to be looking to see if the lollypop has lost its stick, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the hay bird.

COLLEGE EDUCATION REFORM URGED BY DEAN WEST OF PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

The first place for attacking the problem of reconstructing college education is in the secondary schools, said Dean Andrew Fleming West of the Princeton Graduate College, in an interview recently.

"American colleges today are greatly hampered by the uncertain nature of the preparation, so that they are not free to create a really academic college education built on dependable preparation in essential subjects," he remarked.

"Our secondary schools are in a state of vague confusion so that few colleges are able to maintain steady standards of admission or construct college courses of study which steadily maintain academic standards of any steadily dependable nature."

"The first place, therefore, for attacking the problem of reconstructing college education is in the secondary schools. Until our secondary schools are put in definite order the confusion in college education will continue."

"Where, then, shall we begin with the problem of our secondary schools? First of all with the element of the time needed. At present we usually have four years for this purpose, with students beginning at about 14 years of age, after they have had eight years in the elementary schools. We are the only important nation in the western civilized world which gives so short a period of secondary education. Six, seven, or even nine years is the measure in other countries."

"Moreover, it is generally agreed that in our eight years of elementary schooling about two years are wasted, largely in needless repetitions and extensions. Here is our best chance to save time. Six years is long enough for our elementary schools. Take away the wasted two years. Beyond our present four-year secondary schooling two years earlier and thus create a continuous six-year secondary school all over the land."

"The clear determination of what is the academic type in secondary education is the most important and at present the hardest question to settle with hope of clear agreement. The characteristics of the academic type, I believe, are fourfold. Its intellectual aim is primarily the development of all-round intelligence to the highest degree of which the pupil is capable. Its moral aim is the wise use of this developed intelligence for the guidance of life. Its method, both intellectual and moral, is ample training of the pupil in the few fundamental studies of most general value for developing intelligence. Taken separately, each study should be continued long enough for the pupil to have a fair chance to master it. Taken together, these studies should form a well-related, coherent body at each stage of the pupil's progress, and not an ill-related miscellany. Its supreme agency is the guidance of strong, live, well-trained teachers, whose personality especially qualifies them to train their pupils vigorously and happily."

"LARGER MERCHANT MARINE VITAL ADJUNCT TO NAVY," SAYS ADMIRAL

An urgent appeal for a larger merchant marine as a necessary aid to the navy was issued by Rear Admiral Charles P. Plunkett, commander of Brooklyn navy yard, in a recent address.

"The American merchant marine is going to be the best in the world, but we can thank God that war came in 1914 and not in 1921. The Germans started to build a merchant fleet which was to have been completed in 1921, and had they finished it they would have split the world, and all through their power in the water."

"We of the navy are not only interested in a merchant marine as a side issue, but vitally as a merchant fleet is essential to any problem which may be put up to us in the future."

"The Pacific fleet which steamed into New York harbor recently looked beautiful, but if that fleet were ordered to the Philippines, as things exist at the present time, they could get there, but when they got there they could do nothing. It is necessary for the American merchant marine to make it possible for these ships to operate."

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By CARL J. TURNER For International News Service.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, May 19.—Rallying to the fore after a quarter of a century in discard, the wing collar seems to have captured the modern Beau Brummel here and common plebeian judges are looking to Blackstone for means of combating this usurpation of judicial dignity.

"How come?" the haberdasher, who always is supposed to have a cause for the fashion effect, was asked.

"Just the cycle of fashion," he replied, not in the least disturbed. "Male fashion, like nearly everything else that man regulates, travels in cycles. It so happens that we're getting back to where we were 25 years ago."

So the "classy dresser" is brushing aside the moth balls protecting the old "soup-and-fish" to retrieve the wing collar. To complete the effect a bright bow tie is suggested by the haberdasher.

Fashion dictators are not so certain that the decree will stand up, however, when the mercury browns in the vicinity of 104 over the old home plate. It is reliably reported that no manufacturer yet has compounded a starch that will make the collars themselves stand up under such trying circumstances.

Rabid baseball fans of 25 years ago, who had the experience of wearing high collars in the bleachers on hot days when the humidity, too, seemed to hold a grudge against followers of the national pastime, remark that there was about as much comfort with the starched neck wad as with a well-laundered saw blade bound nicely around the Adam's apple.

If the wing collar fashion prevails the prediction is that erring umpires will be visited by missiles more effective than pop bottles and cushions when the season gets well under way.

When a man goes to college and "crams" for several years on "dope" pertaining to the "jaw-breakers" found in the medical dictionary and then spends the remainder of his natural life springing these terms on an unsuspecting public, he, at least, should do so with the proper infection.

This, in substance, is the view of the Ohio Academy of Science, whose officers charge that some members have been treating the medical language with about as much deference as the average citizen treats the college professor's distaste for the classic term "ain."

Convinced that the old bromide about not being able to teach an old dog new tricks is "bunk," the academy appointed Dr. J. F. Baldwin to take up the hickory pointer and explain to the brethren that faccid is not pronounced "fassid" and that cerebral is not "cer-ee-bral."

After compiling a list of the 56 medical terms most abused by the profession, Dr. Baldwin reeled Oliver Wendell Holmes' advice, "and when you stick on conversation's burrs, don't strew your path with those dreadful 'urrs," and proceeded to fire a broadside at the inadvertent members.

Especially were those physicians criticized who insist upon retaining the foreign pronunciation of Anglicized words.

"You don't call Paris 'Paree,'" said Dr. Baldwin, "then why call centimeter 'sontimeter.'" "The Academy hopes there will be no need for further lessons," he concluded.

THE GLENDALE

Mae Murray, for whom such adjectives as beautiful, dazzling and bizarre seem almost to have been coined, does something distinctly different in "Mademoiselle Midnight," now showing at the Glendale theatre, a Metro picture produced by her husband, Robert Z. Leonard.

In "Mademoiselle Midnight" Miss Murray plays the part of a great lady of the court of Napoleon III and is later seen in the exotic role of the descendant of the same character, in Mexico, many years later. Both these roles lend themselves to colorful characterization, of which Miss Murray has taken full advantage.

Miss Murray is admitted by members of her own sex to be the best and most originally dressed star. "Mademoiselle Midnight" gives her every opportunity to take advantage of her abilities along these lines.

THE GATEWAY

Gloria Swanson, the glorious, the ever-charming Paramount star, appears to unusual advantage in "A Society Scandal," now showing at the Gateway theatre.

Concerning the cast with which this dazzling star surrounds herself, surely you remember Rod La Rocque in William De Mille's "Don't Call It Love" and in the other famous brother's "The Commandments," and you recall Ricardo Cortez in "The Call of the Canyon" and "The Next Corner." But who is this Allan Simpson fellow, you say? Shame on you! Why, he's the man who made the collar ad famous, was in "The Glimpses of the Moon" and with Bebe Daniels in "The Exciters."

"A Society Scandal" was produced by Allan Dwan, also responsible for "Robin Hood," "Zaza" and "Big Brother."

LUCKY REPORTER

Cyril Ring, who is Tom Meghan's brother-in-law in real life, took the part of a reporter in his recent Paramount picture, "The Breaking Point." He became so much interested in the role that he had thoughts of quitting the editor for a job—but when he found out the difference in wages, he hurried to the casting director, and is soon to appear in a new Paramount production, in a society role.

Diet and Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

"EAT MORE" CAMPAIGNS AND BRAIN WORK

The billboards are covered with enormous signs to eat more of this and eat more of that. "Eat More Wheat"; "Eat More Raisins"; "Drink More Milk"; "Eat More Bread"; etc.

It is wise to think a little about your present diet before you accept these strong suggestions. We know, for instance, that indigestion and other disturbances have come from over-eating of raisins, cause of the advertising campaigns emphasizing their iron content. In reality, you would have to eat one and one-half pounds of raisins to get from them all of the iron you need daily. Raisins are a good source of iron and they are good energy food, but don't depend upon them for all your iron. Other dried fruits, dates, figs, prunes, etc., have still more iron than raisins—and don't forget spinach and other greens, egg yolks, etc.

Milk is the most perfect food, and those who are not drinking two or three glasses of milk a day should add that amount to their diet. The majority of people, however, will have to cut out something else in order to do this, because the majority, as shown by the vast numbers who are overweight, are eating too much already. Milk is deficient in iron, but it is rich in calcium, and it is a source of energy. It is also a source of protein, and it is a source of fat. It is a source of vitamins, and it is a source of minerals. It is a source of life.

Those who are doing hard mental work require practically no more food than do those who are resting, doing nothing. Remember this, you sedentary brain workers, so you can do more effective work and so you won't gain over your normal weight. Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the columns insofar as possible, if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Copyright 1924, George Matthew Adams.

Don't let the billboards influence you on these points unless you know you really need the things they advertise.

Women In Every Office

Some of the members of Columbus City, Iowa, administration of women (left to right) MRS. R. W. JAMIESON, MRS. J. C. RICHIE, MISS EVA BRETZ (the mayor), MRS. JOE ALLEN and MRS. THOMAS ROBERTSON. The town elected women to every municipal office!

COLUMBUS CITY, Ia., May 10.—This city, metropolis of Louisiana, has, for a number of years enjoyed newspaper fame as the former home of Olga Humphrey, later Princess Hassan, who now is living in Paris on the income from $4,000,000 granted her by the British government from the estate of her husband, brother of the Calix of Egypt. But no longer is the Princess Hassan Columbus City's sole hold on fame.

Louisa county's metropolis finds itself famous as the municipality that elected women to every public office in an election in which men candidates were overwhelmed by the largest vote ever given a ticket in a Columbus City election. The mayor now is Miss Eva Bretz; treasurer, Miss Mary Moore; assessor, Miss Nellie Moore; councilwomen, Mrs. E. W. Jamieson, Mrs. J. C. Richie, Mrs. Joe Allen, Mrs. Thomas Robertson and Mrs. Joe Schoch (the latter does not plan to qualify for office).

The women's ticket was called the Independent ticket and the women themselves were not the originators. George Kern, proprietor of a grocery and cafe, framed the ticket out, obtained the necessary signatures to the nomination petition and filed it with the city clerk.

Some say it was done as a joke. But the voters of Columbus City didn't consider it a joke. They decided to give the women a chance with a free rein and the ticket scored an easy victory.

And the women mean business. Mayor Bretz is not afraid of her new job. She was a school teacher and a school teacher who has managed a class of modern youngsters is not to be daunted by a mere city government. The Misses Mary and Nellie Moore, respectively treasurer and assessor, were also school teachers at one time. The other officials have always been "home women" but they are bound and determined to show the world that women who can teach school and successfully manage homes can manage a city.

Beauty Chats

By EDNA KENT FORBES

LARGE PORES

At least eighty-five women out of every hundred would have perfect complexion if it were not for large pores around the nostrils and in that little cleft of the chin. It may be because people are more careless washing the skin here; it may be because the circulation is more sluggish at these points. Whatever the cause, few can boast a really flawless complexion.

Yet the remedy is fairly simple. Assuming that the digestive and bowel systems are healthy, as they must be to allow a healthy skin, the treatment consists merely in using cleansing cream, massage and then an astringent. The necessary time consumed each day need not be more than five minutes.

Wring a face cloth, or a small Turkish towel, from hot water and hold it for a minute or two over the face to open the pores. Rub in cleansing cream, and rub hard around the nostrils and chin. Work in quite a bit. Then wring the cloth from hot water again and wipe off every possible bit of the cream. This proves much more effective than simply wiping it off with a dry rag, for the heat once more opens the minute pores, so that more cream, and consequently more of the dirt in the pores, is washed out.

Rinse in cool or cold water. If you can rub the skin with a bit of ice for a few minutes, it is the best astringent treatment you can have. If that isn't possible, spray violet water, or toilet vinegar, over the face. Or pour a few drops of tincture of benzoin into a small basin of clear, cold water, enough to make it a little milky, and rinse with that. Or wipe over the skin with witch hazel, that also is astringent, and soothing as well.

If your complexion is oily, rub powdered oatmeal into the nose and chin, instead of cleansing cream, and wash off with hot and cold water.

Dot—A healthy little girl of 15 who lives outdoors a great deal of the time, has no need for cosmetics of any kind. If you tan badly, you can remove much of it with applications of butter-milk; and if you bathe every day, blackheads will disappear as the weeks go by.

A. C.—Massage the chest and bust gently, using cocoa butter to fatten the tissues.

Mrs. W. K.—There should not be any need for hair tonic applications on a child's head. If the hair is thin, keep it very short and massage the scalp daily to increase its circulation. If the hair is poor because of any physical ills, the doctor should prescribe.

Tomorrow—Answered Letters

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, and so, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

myself in the remembrance of my past youth—

"The mind longs to regain what it has lost. And by things past is totally engross'd."

"Let infancy look forward and age backward; is not this the significance of Janus' double face? Let years haul me along, if they will, but it shall be backward! As long as my eyes can discern the pleasant season expired, I shall now and then turn them that way; though it escapes from my blood and veins, I shall not however rob the image of it out of my memory—

"The man lives twice, who can the gift retain Of memory, to enjoy past life again."

Shortly after Montaigne's death the "Essays" were translated into English by John Florio, with less than exact accuracy, but in a style so full of flavor of the Elizabethan age that many persons still read Montaigne in the version which Shakespeare knew. In quoting him here, however, I deemed advisable to modernize the translation.

Heart and Home

TROUBLESOME TALK

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going steady for two years with a fine young fellow with no bad habits such as some other young men of today have.

Christmas I was given a diamond and we expect to be married as soon as financial conditions will permit.

My girl friend used to care for him, but they never went out together. Lately she has been knocking him, saying she would have nothing to do with him if she were in my place. I think this is due to the fact that one night this girl and I were out and she was coaxing me to go with another fellow for the evening, but I did not. He happened along then and she told him we were going out with another fellow. He told me that was not treating him right and since then she has not cared for him.

Do you think I ought to give up my girl friend? My fiancé knows that she talks about him and so he has asked me to quit her, but I hate to. BRUNETTE.

It ought not to be necessary for you to give up your girl friend. Of course you have made your mistake by telling your fiancé things that she says. If you are more tactful in the future and do not repeat your girl friend's remarks, I doubt if your fiancé will insist on breaking up the friendship. Tell your girl friend you don't care to talk about that matter.

DESPERATELY IN LOVE
Dear Mrs. Thompson: It has always been my ambition to be a school teacher. Now I have enough college credits to be holding a good position. But about four months ago I met a young farmer and have fallen desperately in love. As yet he has not proposed, but I rather think he will. Should I accept when he proposes? I might never get another chance. I have never lived on a farm and know very little about farm life, but I am willing to do my best. Or should I go on and make use of my education? Can you suggest any course I can take to prepare myself to be a farmer's wife? C. F. U.

If you had really fallen desperately in love you would not consider the case from so many angles, but would be only too glad to marry the farmer and give up teaching. I cannot decide for you whether you will get more happiness out of marrying this particular man, or from a career. That is a decision you will have to make for yourself. At the library you can get books on the subject of farming. Talk to the librarian and she will help you in your selection. A good education ought to help you to be an intelligent farmer's wife. Usually the farmer's wife finds her work much the same as the work of an industrious city wife. The great difference lies in the fact that it is more difficult for the farmer's wife to get away and enjoy herself. After the day's work the farmer wants to go to bed early and the prospect of an evening in town does not appeal to him even if it does to his wife. Also there is apt to be a greater number of tasks for the farmer's wife than for the city wife.

FEATHERS POPULAR
LONDON, May 19.—Perhaps because of the courts which require debutantes to wear plumed head dresses the young girl is wearing feathers in her hair these evenings. A cluster of nodding ostrich tips is often held in place over the left ear by a knot of flowers.

LATEST IN CAPE
NEW YORK, May 19.—A graceful cape shown here today is of taupe flat crepe with several rows of very long silk fringe instead of fur. Though demure in shade, the cape is likely to be lined with jade, orange or Madonna blue.

SCARLET STYLISH
NEW YORK, May 19.—The touch of scarlet is well nigh the universal along the avenue today. A scarlet scarf, a scarlet hat, a piping of scarlet on an otherwise sombre tassel—this note is so attractive that it is in danger of being over done.

MONTAIGNE
There is nowhere in literature a volume of self-revelation surpassing in charm and candor the Essays of Michel de Montaigne, French, the founder in the sixteenth century of the modern essay. "He is frankly egotistical, yet modest and unpretentious; profoundly wise, yet constantly professing his ignorance; learned, yet careless, forgetful and inconsistent," is one characterization of him.

"In proportion as useful thoughts are full and solid, so they are more cumbersome and heavy; vice, death, poverty, disease are grave and grievous subjects," is the way Montaigne begins one lengthy essay. "A man must have his soul instructed in the means to sustain and contend with evil and in the rules of living and believing well; he must likewise often rouse up, and exercise it in this noble study. But in a vulgar soul, it must be by intervals, and with moderation; it will otherwise grow besotted, if continually intent.

"When I was young, I had need of frequent self-solicitations and admonitions to keep me to my duty; gayety and health, it is said, do not well agree with those grave and serious meditations; I am at present in another condition; the indispositions of age do but too much advertise and preach to me.

"From the excess of sprightliness I am fallen into that of gravity which is more trouble-

Who's Who

PATRICK E. CROWLEY

Like many other railroad presidents Patrick E. Crowley, recently elected president of the New York Central railroad, rose from the ranks.

Without completing the grammar and train master, superintendent of the Erie in 1878 as a telegraph messenger at $5 a month. From that time on his rise was steady.

From messenger he advanced to telegraph operator and train dispatcher for the Erie railroad. He maintained at that time that a man could be a good train dispatcher without swearing, and reiterated recently that he believed this was still true.

In 1890 he went to the New York Central as train dispatcher. Then he became successively chief train dispatcher, train master, chief train master, superintendent of the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central, assistant general superintendent, assistant general manager, assistant vice-president in charge of operation, and then in 1916 vice-president in charge of operation. During government control he was federal manager of the New York Central.

Mr. Crowley will be 60 years old next August, having been born in Cattaraugus, N. Y., in 1864. His leaning toward railroad work he attributes to the fact that his father, Dennis Crowley, was a railroad man.

Apple-Orange-Peach Salad:
Pare and core one large red apple, then dice. Peel two oranges and cut in small pieces. As cut up six canned peaches (drained from their sirup). Now mix these three fruits together, sprinkle with lemon juice and sugar, and serve on crisp lettuce leaves with a dab of Mayonnaise dressing on the side of plates. (This recipe contributed by Mrs. E. B.)

Kidney Bean Salad. Soak one-half pound of kidney beans overnight and in the morning drain, cover with boiling salted water and let simmer for three hours. Drain again, cool, then chop the three sweet pickles, five stuffed olives and one hard-cooked egg. Cover with the following dressing:

Dressing for Kidney Bean Salad: Put into the top of a double boiler one-half cup of sweet milk, one well-beaten egg, a pinch of salt, and one tablespoon of vinegar. Drop in a piece of butter the size of a walnut, and cook, stirring constantly, till thickened. Cool and pour over the salad.

Veal Croquettes: Use the cold, leftover veal from Saturday's cups of chopped cooked veal, a pinch each of salt and pepper, one-half teaspoon of onion juice, one egg-yolk and three fourths of a cup of sweet milk warmed and thickened with one tablespoon of flour and one teaspoon of butter. Form this mixture into small croquettes, dip each little cake into fine, slightly beaten egg, then into raw bread crumbs, and lower into deep, hot fat to fry a golden brown. Drain a moment on crumpled brown paper before serving.

PARIS, May 19.—A clever way of combining the season's penchant for lace, fur and flat crepe has been devised. The bodice of an afternoon frock just shown here is of flat crepe. The skirt is of lace dyed to match and edged with summer ermine.

POEMS THAT LIVE
A WIDOW'S HYMN
How near me came the hand of Death,
When at my side he struck my dear,
And took away the precious breath
Which quicken'd my beloved peer!
How helpless am I thereby made!
By day how grieved, by night how sad!
And now my life's delight is gone,
—Alas! how am I left alone!

The voice which I did more esteem
Than music in her sweetest key,
Those eyes which unto me did seem
More comfortable than the day,
Those now by me, as they have been,
Shall never more be heard or seen;
But what I once enjoyed in them
Shall seem hereafter as a dream.

Lord! keep me faithful to the trust
Which my dear spouse reposed in me;
To him who dead preserve me just
In all that should performed be!

SHORT FUNDS TO STOP ROAD WORK

Construction Now Is Paid for by Federal Aid, Says Engineer

MODESTO, May 19.—Admission that road construction by the state highway commission will be suspended with a short time unless additional funds are forthcoming...

Calif. primary construction program, that is, work financed from bond funds, is going forward rapidly. It is hardly correct to say bond funds, for we are working on federal aid...

Construction must stop unless some way is found to furnish funds for highway building," said Toy.

Receive Second Installment of Federal Aid Money for Roads June 1

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—California in 1924 will receive $6,182,250 from the federal road fund, it was announced by the California highway commission.

The second installment of $2,464,900 will become available on June 1.

One million dollars of federal moneys will be given to work now under way, the commission stated. The remainder is to be devoted to construction of roads allied with the national system.

Federal appointments are based on the area, mileage and population of the several states.

Two Hurt When Three Automobiles Collide

Glenn Andrews, 2113 Roseland place, and Helen Wickstrom, 422 East Sixty-fifth place, both of Los Angeles, were slightly injured in a triangular motor car smash at the Southern Pacific tracks on Brand boulevard late Saturday night.

In addition to the machine driven by Andrews, the other two cars involved were owned by Dorothy Barnes, 1326 Drysdale avenue, and Philip Gray, 216 South Central avenue, both of Los Angeles. The cars were damaged, but no one was seriously hurt.

All parties in two cars that crashed on Central avenue near Park avenue yesterday morning at 11 o'clock had a narrow escape when a sedan driven by Mrs. C. C. Birley of Los Angeles struck another sedan driven by J. B. Hall, 604 North Alexander street, Glendale. The left front wheel of Mrs. Birley's car crashed into the left side of Hall's machine, throwing it into the curbing, and Mrs. Birley's machine then swerved directly into a large tree. No one was injured.

HEAVY COTTON CROP BRUNSWICK, Ga., May 19.—Seventy-five per cent of the farmers in Brunswick county will plant cotton this year and thus it is believed will double the production of last year. The best crop in the county will be 90 per cent normal.

BONUS MEASURE'S FATE INTERESTS BUSINESS CIRCLES

Settlement of Exclusion Controversy to Help Trade with Japan

By J. C. ROYLE Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1924. NEW YORK, May 19.—Exporters who are opposed to the Japanese exclusion act becoming effective in the immediate future exerted themselves in final opposition today but business in general paid far more attention to the future fate of the bonus bill. There is no question but that each was a factor in the business situation and that together they served to instill an element of extreme caution in operations by business men, although the final effect of the fate of each is expected to be more psychological than actual.

Exporters who have spent years of effort and large sums of money in introducing American goods in the Orient were outspoken in their opposition to the congressional method of settling the Japanese situation, although some of them are known to favor Japanese exclusion.

May Double Tonnage Ralph P. Merritt, president and managing director of the Sun Raisin Raisin Growers Association, one of the most advanced of the co-operative marketing organizations of the country, who has just returned from Japan said that the present tonnage of raisins sold in that country could be doubled in the next year with proper adjustment of the controversy.

"We have several problems yet to be solved in Japan," he said. "The most important at the moment is that of international relations. The treatment of the Japanese people by our politicians, has a direct bearing upon the ability to sell American products in their country. The unnecessary attacks of our politicians upon the Japanese people and the Japanese government in the discussion of the immigration act has seriously injured the standing of Americans in Japan and the ability of Americans to do business with the Japanese people."

Some of the minor carriers were also in increased demand. Foreign exchanges were featured by heaviness in French francs. Cotton steadied after initial irregularities. Grain was firm. Bond trading showed up perceptibly. U. S. government issues showed a reactionary tendency. Foreign governments ruled steady.

Building permits for Glendale during the current month this morning passed the half-million dollar mark. At noon today they reached the total of $508,474, according to H. C. Vandewater, municipal building superintendent. The total for the year is $3,938,417.

Men who deal in some other articles of trade which normally go to Japan, however, indicate they think the effect of the possible action by President Coolidge and congress has been over emphasized. The bonus question is one that has found American business men bitterly partisan. Blame for various happenings and contingencies has been piled upon the bonus and probably will continue to be. Extreme emphasis was placed today by manufacturers on the President's statement that the bonus bill would end all hope of tax reduction.

Falling off in employment is becoming slightly more apparent. The trend is most noticeable in the automobile, steel and bituminous coal sections, but the stocks of most manufactured goods are so small that recovery from a slight recession necessarily would be prompt.

Steel Market Weak As Prices Lowered By W. W. FORSTER Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News. PITTSBURGH, May 19.—In the Pittsburgh district there is no increase in the amount of steel buying and a drifting market is likely for several weeks. There seems to be a definite conclusion that prices on raw materials entering into the manufacture of steel are scraping bottom, but there is some doubt as to whether the finished steel market may not decline further. Mills are difficult to hold even 2.25 cents market for bars, shapes and plates, and concessions are being made in wire products and on some grades of pipe. The sheet market finds the independent mills still selling at $5 a ton under the price of the United States Steel Corporation subsidiary markets in automobile sheets where the price is uniform.

EARLY VEGETABLES ATLANTA, Ga., May 19.—Georgia early vegetables now are moving to northern markets in carload quantities and state agricultural authorities report prices are satisfactory to growers.

NEW YORK CLOSING

H. J. DUISZEND For International News Service. NEW YORK, May 19.—The stock market marked time today. Its waiting attitude was perfectly logical in view of the many uncertainties surrounding the political situation.

While the action of the house in overriding the presidential bonus veto was in line with expectations, the financial and business world was entirely at sea as to the probable outcome of the contest in the Senate and the effect the eventual repassing of the measure would have on the chief executive's stand on the tax bill.

Under the circumstances, the natural thing for Wall Street to do was to limit commitments accordingly. There was nothing in the week-end business news to indicate values, although reports from industrial districts contained a spirit of hopefulness which could not be entirely ignored. Especially in regard to the barometric pig iron situation, the feeling was distinctly more cheerful.

Politics was uppermost in Wall Street's mind. An attempt to settle the industrial list by exerting pressure against the leaders proved unsuccessful, except in a few isolated instances, like Stewart-Warner, Yellow Cab, Congoleum and Anaconda.

The market turned exceedingly dull on the reaction, indicating that stock had group to a standstill. The railroad group was again the bright spot in the situation. With call money being offered in abundance at 3 per cent and time funds loaning at 3 3/4 per cent for thirty days, the trend in investment rates was toward higher levels.

Chicago and Northwest-ern and New Orleans, Texas and Mexico were the chief beneficiaries, the latter selling up to a new high for the year.

Some of the minor carriers were also in increased demand. Foreign exchanges were featured by heaviness in French francs.

Cotton steadied after initial irregularities. Grain was firm. Bond trading showed up perceptibly. U. S. government issues showed a reactionary tendency. Foreign governments ruled steady.

ICE LICENSE FEE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., May 19.—The Rochester common council is considering an ordinance which would raise the license fee of ice dealers from $1 to $100 a year and provide an additional fee of $1 for each delivery vehicle used by dealers.

REPLACE CANVAS

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—Local tent manufacturers have been called on to replace several complete outdoor show outfits whose canvas coverings were destroyed by recent storms in northern states.

SHOE SALES GAIN

KANSAS CITY, May 19.—The sales of local shoe manufacturers for the last four months show a gain over those of last year and fall buying is fairly active. Most retailers are hesitating in placing large orders, however, fearing style changes.

Stocks : Business : Bonds

FINANCIAL BRIEFS

By Southland News Service

According to advices received from the bond department of the Bank of Italy, Liberty bonds have reached highest levels in the last eighteen months. The Liberty 4 1/4 due in 1952 reached 102-32 on the New York market. Other government issues advanced proportionately. The outstanding reason for this remarkable rise is the fact that interest rates, reflected by call rate of money, time money and commercial paper, have dropped almost 1 per cent since a week ago. This upward trend of Liberty Bonds continues in spite of the fact that the British government will probably not purchase any securities this June to pay its debt to the United States and also in spite of the fact that the United States government will not purchase Liberty Bonds in the open market for the sinking fund because of the high prices. Probably about June 15 the government will be in the market for funds because certain treasury notes mature on that date. It is likely that the new issue will be in the form of a certificate of indebtedness and may bear 4 per cent or less.

National quotations for export copper have been reduced 25 points as a result of the sharp decline in the London market and quoting 12.75 cents per pound, f. a. s. New York harbor and 13 cents c. i. f. London or Hamburg.

Automobile companies are planning further curtailment in operations and apparently are making downward revisions in their production schedules for the last half of the year, if experiences of accessory and parts makers can be considered any indication.

CHICAGO WHEAT

By International News Service

CHICAGO, May 19.—Grains were steady throughout the session today, although toward the end wheat sagged off. At the close wheat was unchanged to 1/4 lower, corn 1/4 up to 1/4 and oats unchanged to 1/4 higher.

Slight support was enough to send wheat up fractionally in the early trading, there being no selling pressure to speak of and the volume of trade being small. Foreign news indicated there were no stocks abroad and that a large demand may be expected.

PLAN NEW HOTELS

BOSTON, May 19.—Since the Statler hotel interests have decided not to build a hotel here, two other hotel companies have decided to start new structures. One plans a building of 700 rooms and the other a building of 350 rooms.

STEEL MARKET LOW

PITTSBURGH, May 19.—That the steel market is now dragging bottom and the low point in demand has been reached is the belief of leading manufacturers in the Pittsburgh district. The industry has not hesitated to adjust operating schedules to a basis of incoming business.

SLASH CRUDE PRICE

OIL CITY, May 19.—Reductions in crude oil are almost certain to be followed by further cuts in this section and in other parts of the country, according to oil men. The cuts were brought about by the gasoline situation, the producers believe.

Daily Produce Market Report

Direct to restaurants, hotels, cafes, retailers and peddlers. Los Angeles prices. For Glendale, add 4 1/2 cents freight charges per cwt. Prices obtain up to 4 p. m. Furnished by the Glendale Wholesale Fruit & Produce Company, 402 South Brand Boulevard.

LOS ANGELES, May 19.—While few stocks showed any indication on the Los Angeles stock exchange today of making material advances, activity in nearly all lists was much more pronounced at this morning's session than for several days.

Los Angeles Investment, that touched the $4.05 mark several weeks ago after a spectacular upward trend, today was back up to $3.83. The stock opened at $3.82 1/2, slumped back to $3.82, and then buying power forced it up to $3.83.

In the oil list, American Crude opened at .07 and Globe Petroleum at .04 1/2, a 1-point decline over last week's price. Hollywood Development, however, showed a material gain, opening at 33 1/2 this morning over a 30 cent close last Saturday. Later it advanced still further to 34. Union Association was down a point, being traded today at $52.50.

Standard Oil of California also showed a 2-point loss, opening on the exchange this morning at 35 1/2. Gold Dust, in the mines, sold heavily at .01 a 1/2-point decline, and Lucky Boy was steady at the same price. Richmond Mining opened at 21 and advanced under pressure to 21 1/2. Union Oil of California was down slightly, trading at $117.

In the industrial Goodyear preferred opened at $93, an advance over the $92.50 close of last week. Edison common, in public utilities, was firm at $101. Security Trust & Savings Bank stock was traded at $21.

Bond sales on the exchange this morning were very light. News Want Ads Bring Results

Talks About Yale to Boys at High School

The boys at the Broadway High school heard the advantages of Yale university as an institution of higher learning set forth this noon at a special assembly in the auditorium, at which Chairman Jack Sells of the Yale Scholarship committee of Southern California was the speaker.

Mr. Sells outlined the steps necessary to secure one of the many scholarships extended by the great eastern university to boys of the west. His remarks were of particular interest to the seniors, who must soon decide which university to attend, if they desire a higher education.

RASMUS TELLS OF CHRIST'S RICHES

Blood of Savior Forms Most Precious Gift in Life, Declares Pastor

"Riches Through Christ" was the subject chosen by Dr. H. I. Rasmus for his morning sermon at the First Methodist church yesterday. His text, taken from II Corinthians, was "For ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, that though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor that ye through His poverty might be rich."

"Among the famous writings of great men of all ages," said Dr. Rasmus, "the writings of the apostle Paul stand preeminent. Among all his writing none shines forth with greater luster than this truth of my text. It is a declaration of Christian positivism. It embraces these four truths, the grace of Jesus, the riches of Jesus, the poverty of man, and those that shall share in Christ's riches."

"Who was the richest man of all time is a question?" Dr. Rasmus continued. "History concedes this fame to the ancient King Croesus. If the question were asked today the answer in New York would be either Rockefeller or Morgan. If in Detroit the question were asked, the answer would be that Henry Ford was the world's richest man. If in Germany, the answer would be that the late Stinnes held that honor. But no one of these, or taken all together, are they so rich as compared to the subject of my text, this Prince of universal dominion."

Already Enthroned

But, unlike other princes, His is a present possession. There is no need to wait another's death; he is already enthroned. Incomparably rich in dominion, power and authority, he came to a world that was bankrupt in goodness, purity and righteousness. It was then that this Prince became poor that through His poverty the world might become rich. He was poor from birth, living born in a manger, and lived in an humble home.

"This Prince had no commercial rating, owning neither boat nor beast. At His death He was laid away in a borrowed grave. His inventory the single garment that He wore. What a contrast—from the mid-noon of wealth to the midnight of poverty."

Dr. Rasmus then questioned, "What is the most priceless gift?" and answers, "Not gold or bonds or mortgages; but the precious blood of Christ." Paul was given as an example of positiveness, contrasted to the mandarin negativisms of today. "Thank God our representatives will not lower our standards at the General Conference now in session at Springfield, Mass., he said.

In closing, the pastor used the passage, "Ye know the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ." He pointed out that the word grace is used 129 times in the Bible. "It is a sublime word, queenly and inspired. It is the key that unlocks the hardest heart. Christ willingly sacrificed Himself for your sake and mine.

"What then, are true riches? Only the riches of heaven. He is the richest man who has the most grace of God in His heart," concluded Dr. Rasmus. "The wealth that passes currency on the Bank of Heaven are the imperishable riches of the grace of God."

Two Local Teachers Honored at Meeting

Miss Maud Soper of the faculty of Glendale High school was elected president, and Miss Gladys Sharpe of Glendale Avenue Intermediate school, was named secretary of the Social Science association of Southern California at the annual meeting held Saturday in San Diego. Miss Clara Lauderdale, Miss Hill and Miss Beeda A. Medcalf were also among those who attended from Glendale. The association is composed of history teachers of the California schools. The business session was completed on Saturday and the visitors to the southern city were entertained Sunday with motor trips to various points of interest surrounding San Diego.

Postmaster Jackson Acquires New Piano

D. Ripley Jackson, postmaster of Glendale, has purchased a grand piano from J. E. Kinnard of the Glendale Music Company, 109 North Brand boulevard. Mr. Jackson had the piano placed in his home last week. He believed that Glendale firms should receive Glendale patronage and states that he was able to purchase the instrument from the local firm as cheaply as he could in the city.

SAVINGS ACCOUNTS

DETROIT, May 19.—Men laid off from the automobile factories are amply provided with funds for the near future. Those not immediately absorbed in the building trades apparently have built up large savings accounts. During the winter such accounts have been increasing at the rate of $1,000,000 a week.

WANT ORE LANDS

DULUTH, Minn., May 19.—Representatives of Henry Ford in the Iron range are reported to be negotiating for iron ore lands to supply a steel plant in connection with the new Ford factory at St. Paul. The receiver of the Superior Coal & Dock company, owned by the Maynard company of Columbus, Ohio, announced that Ford interests have offered $650,000 for the company's properties.
