PREFACE.

IRON, steel, glass and "soft" coal, produced almost without limit; thousands of general industrial establishments, and that Pittsburgh is the "Workshop of the World" is admitted. Railway and river transportation, perfected and extended, place the world in touch with this great throbbing, pulsating "World's Workshop." Third on the "Roll of Honor," in national banking, with ten financial institutions whose "surplus and undivided profits exceed their capital"—ranked only by New York and Philadelphia—and the fact is emphasized that this is indeed the "Workshop of the World."

And so the story might go on without limit.

The purpose of this volume, however, is to present in compact form, the features of the men of TO-DAY who are worthy of note in their respective walks of life; men of the present generation foremost in directing affairs in the Mercantile, Financial, Political, Industrial, Educational and Social World, as it applies on such a stupendous scale to this wonderful city and vicinity.

And not merely the familiar faces of to-day, but also the fathers—the founders of this wonderful prosperity—the men who laid the corner-stone of Pittsburgh's greatness, which now encompasses almost the whole of Western Pennsylvania.

The portraits are exact reproductions from life, and have a value beyond those engraved by hand. They appear in groups under different classifications, and have been so arranged as to take the reader from page to page with constantly increasing interest.

Wherever possible the names in full are given, and the two lines of biography reflect the most exacting work of the compiler. Often it would be easier to write a page of ordinary biography than to try to indicate a man's career in two lines, for, as Shakespeare puts it,

“One man in his time plays many parts.”

But the chief value of the work lies in the fact that the author has crowded into compact handsome library form, the faces of sixteen hundred of the leading and prominent men of Pittsburgh and vicinity, together with sufficient biography to indicate the lines of business in which they have been successful, notwithstanding, “in time one man plays many parts.”

While more than a year was devoted to the details of compilation, much valuable time was saved by the author's personal acquaintance with, or knowledge of, many of the men whose portraits grace the pages of the volume. The work is not complete or perfect, but the faces of the few prominent men absent are those who, charmed with the proposition to give them a volume of such remarkable value, nevertheless shrank from the publicity of a place in the portrait gallery.

To perpetuate the memories of the men who founded and the men who to-day represent all that stands for prosperity in Pittsburgh; memories that cling to the author after contact with a majority of them, either as a newspaper representative or in a business capacity extending from a period in the sixties, is the main object of the author; and it is hoped the volume will be received in the same spirit.

THE FOUNDER OF PITTSBURGH.

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

“As I got down before the canoe, I spent some time in viewing the rivers, and the land in the fork, which I think extremely well situated for a fort, as it has absolute command of both rivers. The land at the point is twenty-five feet above the common surface of the water ; and a considerable bottom of flat, well timbered land all around is very convenient for building. The rivers are each a quarter of a mile or more across, and run here very nearly at right angles ; Allegheny bearing north-east, and Monongahela south-east. The former of these two is a very rapid and swift running water, the other deep and still, without any perceptible fall.”
