

Project RISHI - Project Methodology

OBSERVATIONS

--> Work with local villagers and organizations to identify social, health, and economic disparities.

--> Collect data on these developmental disparities through use of observations and extensive surveys.

SOLUTIONS

--> Conduct extensive research on reliable services and solutions to address identified social, health, and economic disparities.

--> Establish an appropriate solution that replicates a basic developmental model previously implemented by social enterprises or professionals and has shown, to the extent possible, prior success.

--> Evaluate and determine if the proposed solution could appropriately address the identified social, health and economic disparities with respect to both sustainability and financial considerations.

IMPLEMENTATION

--> Collaborate with both, village leaders and relevant social enterprises or professionals, to implement proposed solutions.

--> Periodically evaluate and improve implemented projects based on measures of success determined collaboratively between organizations and community prior to implementation.
