EVERY EMOTION IN 'MASQUE OF LIFE'

Combining love and hate, romance and tragedy, jealousy and self-sacrifice in its dramatic moments, with strikingly spectacular settings and evidence of tremendous money expenditures to get fantastic effects, "The Masque of Life" won instant public approval in New York and will be seen here at the Diamond theatre the balance of the week. It is the biggest modern spectacular production ever attempted.

OFFICERS SLAIN IN REVOLUTION San Francisco, May 3.—How the highest officers of the Russian Baltic fleet at Helsingfors, the capital of Finland, were slain during the Russian revolution and how the admiral himself, though he had gone over to the revolution, was also killed, was related today by G. S. Westman, a shipbuilder of Helsingfors, who has come here to purchase supplies for his plant. "The night of March 16 I was awakened by shooting in the streets," he said. "Fighting continued two days, the sailors of the Baltic fleet attacking their officers in their homes. I have heard estimates as high as four hundred as the number of officers killed. "Admiral Negenin, one of Russia's ablest naval commanders, was among the killed, although he had gone over to the new government and was the man who arrested Governor General Seyn, later turning him over to the revolutionary chiefs. He was hated by the sailors. Leaving his ship the last day of the revolution, he noticed a sailor did not salute him. He reprimanded him, whereupon the sailor took his rifle and shot the admiral. "The sailors had lists of all the officers and their residences. They killed most of the high officers and spared the younger ones. The sailor did not harm civilians and maintained order in the city."

A. Emerson, food investigator for the State of New York. "And," continued Emerson, "you can quote me as saying that if the same justice were meted out here at least thirty Chicago butter and egg dealers would be behind prison bars."

'STRANGLER' LEWIS WINS AFTER TUSSLE OF 2 1/2 HOURS Chicago, May 3.—The result of Ed 'Strangler' Lewis' victory over John Olin here last night, a championship match is expected to be arranged between Lewis and Earl Caddock. Caddock holds the honor of having thrown Joe Stecher, former champion, while Lewis has only "no fall" bouts with Stecher to his credit. While Lewis' victory over Olin was not unexpected, the fans did not anticipate such a fierce struggle. Lewis and Olin wrestled for two hours and 37 minutes without either gaining a fall. Olin then conceded the fall and match, claiming a lame shoulder. Olin, as an exponent of the Greco-Roman style, was content with "bulging tactics" at the start and the first 10 minutes was marked by only three transitory flops. Thereafter, tugging on the mat was more frequent, with Lewis inclined to force the aggressive. Because the men wrestled cleanly, Frank Gotch did most of his refereeing from a seat on the post. GEN. PETAIN CHIEF OF STAFF Hero of Verdun Defense Receives Deserved Promotion Paris, May 3.—The appointment of General Petain as chief of staff is generally welcomed as a timely reform which had long been advocated by military experts. General Petain as technical adviser to the government will be responsible for the general conduct of operations wherever French troops are engaged. In addition to this appointment it is understood that the government contemplates various other measures of reorganization, based on an examination of the military situation and the lessons taught by the recent operations. The Petit Parisien says that certain services whose workings has been shown to be defective will be overhauled and that changes will be made among leaders whose talents it is believed could be more judiciously used. 'SPECS' BAR WOULD-BE WAITERS FROM JOBS By International News Service. New York, May 3.—"Specs" elevate the dignity of anybody but a Broadway cafe waiter. That's why a be-spectacled servitor is never found presiding over your table, says the manager of an exclusive uptown restaurant. "Glasses detract from the dignity of a waiter," he says. "And if there is anybody in the world who needs dignity it is the person who serves your gastronomical wants. 'Specs' are proper for guests, and the man who takes your money, but they are fatal to the waiter who hopes to get anywhere in his trade. "Since tortoise shell spectacles appeared almost every one has harbored the conclusion that goggles contribute to one's dignified appearance and tend to produce the 'high-brow' atmosphere. But no applicant for service in a really fashionable restaurant can hope to catch on if he comes job-seeking in specs. It's really too bad, for there are many excellent waiters in embryo who are near-sighted."
