FRIDAY, April 7, 1905.

IN ENLARGED FORM

Owing to the rapid growth of the Sonoma Valley Exhibitor in circulation, and the consequent demand for advertising space, by prudent business people in the valley and elsewhere, we have found it necessary to enlarge the paper.

The circulation of the Exhibitor has nearly doubled in the last two years and the advertising patronage, has more than doubled. Commencing with this issue the Exhibitor will be an 8 column folio, thus affording additional space to supply the increasing demand for advertising purposes and at the same time better enable us to continue to give the best and newest paper published in this section of the county.

The subscription price of the paper is $1.50 per year as well as the rates for advertising, will remain the same.

We take this opportunity to thank our numerous subscribers and advertisers for their generous patronage and hope to merit a continuance of the same in the future.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it failed to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo Ohio. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for consumption.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Frank Guilfoyle came near losing an eye, last Monday morning. While cutting wood at his home here, a stick flew up and struck him a severe blow on the cheek bone, just missing the right eye. The bleeding was stopped with some difficulty. Beside the loss of much blood no serious injury resulted.

Geo. Bills, a prominent citizen of Sebastopol, was badly injured while trying to board a moving electric car last Monday morning.

Sonoma Valley Board of Trade

Adjourned Meeting in Union Hall March 30th Last

Strong Public Spirit and Much Enthusiasm Manifested

A number of the progressive citizens of the valley gathered in Union Hall, Thursday evening of last week for the purpose of talking over Sonoma Valley Board of Trade matters.

F. T. Duhring, Vice President of the former Board called the meeting to order, and was unanimously chosen chairman of the meeting. W. O. Hocker was elected temporary secretary.

A number of patriotic, practical and encouraging speeches were heard.

Among those who addressed the gathering were: F. T. Duhring, Harry Francis, O. P. Palstine and others.

It was the sense of the meeting that permanent organization be effected and Harry Francis was appointed to formulate a form for organization and a set of by laws and report at the next meeting, which will be held in Union Hall, Thursday evening, April 13, for the purpose of effecting a permanent organization.

The secretary was instructed to notify all citizens of the meeting and give them an invitation to come and join in the movement. A committee on program for the next meeting, April 13, was appointed as follows: H. W. Matthews, O. P. Palstine and Harry Francis.

The question of having the Sonoma Brass Band give a free band concert every Saturday evening, during the summer was enthusiastically received. A committee, consisting of Dr. Thomson, L. S. Simmons and I. Quartaroli were appointed to interview the citizens in regard to the matter and also the leader of the band, Claude Johnson, and to formulate some plan whereby this could be accomplished.

The Sonoma Brass Band voluntarily gave their services to enliven the meeting and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered them for their kindly interest. Dr. Gottenberg was also thanked for the use of the hall.

The next meeting will be for permanent organization. It will be on April 13, at 8 P. M. in Union Hall. It is desired to have present every citizen interested in the growth and prosperity of the valley. Don't forget the date.

SOME THOUGHTS OF OUR GREAT PRESIDENT

"No ordinary work done by a man is either as hard or as responsible as the work of a woman who is bringing up a family of small children for upon her time and strength demands are made not only every hour of the day, but every hour of the night. She may have to get up night after night, to take care of a sick child, and yet must by day continue to do all her household duties as well; and if the family means are scant she must usually enjoy even her rare holidays taking the whole brood of children with her. The birth pangs make all men the debtors of all women.

"Just as the happiest and most honorable and most useful task that can be set for any man is to earn enough for the support of his wife and family, for the bringing up and starting in life of his children, so the most important, the most honorable and desirable task which can be set any woman is to be a good and wise mother in a home marked by self-respect and mutual forbearance, by willingness to perform duty and by refusal to sink into self-indulgence or avoid that which entails effort and self-sacrifice.

"Into the woman's keeping is committed the destiny of the generations to come after us. In bringing up your children you mothers must remember that while it is essential to be loving and tender, it is no less essential to be wise and firm. Foolishness and affection must not be treated as interchangeable terms, and besides training your sons and daughters in the softer and milder virtues, you must seek to give them those stern and hardy qualities which in after life they will surely need. Some children will go wrong in spite of the best training, and some will go right even when their surroundings are most unfortunate; nevertheless an immense amount depends upon the family training. If you mothers through weakness, bring up your sons to be selfish and to think only of themselves, you will be responsible for much sadness among the women who are to be their wives in the future. If you let your daughters grow up idle, perhaps with the mistaken impression that as you yourself have had to work hard, they shall know only enjoyment, you are preparing them to be useless to others and a burden to themselves."

Concerning race suicide the President said:

"To sum up, then, the whole matter is simple enough. If either a race or an individual prefers the pleasures of mere effortless ease, of self-indulgence, to the infinitely deeper the infinitely higher pleasures that come to those who know the toil and the weariness, but also the joy, of hard duty well done, why, that race of that individual must inevitably in the end pay the penalty of leading a life both rapid and ignoble. No man and no woman worthy of the name can care for the life spent solely or chiefly in the avoidance of risk and trouble and labor. Save in exceptional cases, the prizes worth having in life must be paid for, and the life worth living must be a life of work for a worthy end, and ordinarily of work more for others than for one's self.

"The man is but a poor creature whose effort is not rather for the betterment of his wife and children than for himself; and, as for the mother, her very name stands for loving unselfishness and self-sacrifice, and, in any society fit to exist, is fraught with associations which render it holy.

"The woman's task is not easy—no task worth doing is easy—but in and when she has done it, there shall come to her the highest and holiest joy known to mankind; and having done it, she shall have the reward prophesied in the Scripture—for her husband and her children, yes, and all people who realize that her work lies at the foundation of all national happiness and greatness, shall rise up and call her blessed."

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of the prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it cures irregularities and have cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." Poultry Column

First 10 Days Care of Incubator Chicks.

After the hatch is over, remove all unhatched eggs and shells and leave chicks in the incubator for 48 hours before removing to the brooder. This gives them strength. Throw into the bottom of the incubator some fine gravel or chick grit.

Give nothing else until they are placed in the brooder. Have heat in the brooder 90 to 95 degrees.

Feed little at a time but often. Keep them hungry until the last feed at night and then give them all they can eat.

Water after first feed in the morning and keep clean fresh water before them all the time. Keep the drinking fountains clean also the brooders; keep the little chicks within one foot of the brooder for two days until they get used to running under the mother.

After they become accustomed to the brooder, let them run out in the brooder house.

Cover the floor with cut hay, and feed all grain in this litter to make them exercise. Feed five times a day until 10 days old, then 8 times a day, with a little cracked wheat or corn thrown in the litter between meals to keep them busy.

If weather is favorable, let them out after five days to get green grass.

Boiled fresh milk, instead of water makes them grow fast for the first 10 days and is a fine remedy for bowel complaint. After 10 days old, also give a little boiled meat chopped up fine each day and they will grow like weeds.

HIGH CLASS INSTITUTION

Of all the business colleges in the West there is none better than Santa Rosa Business College located at Santa Rosa, California. Prof. J. S. Sweet, the President of the college, is one of the leading educators and thinkers of the Pacific Coast. He had many years of successful experience in grammar, high and normal school work before founding this institution at the county seat, nearly fourteen years ago. From a small beginning the Santa Rosa Business College has by honest work and good results built itself up to the present large proportions and stands high in public estimation. A diploma of graduation from Santa Rosa Business College is a recommendation that means something and starts every young lady or gentleman on a successful business career.

Last year one hundred and fifty students, mainly from California but many from other parts of the Union, enrolled themselves in the Santa Rosa Business College.

Hundreds of its graduates are now holding responsible positions in this and other states in the Union. When Sonoma County has a business college of international reputation and gives a better education than any similar institution elsewhere, common sense as well as one's own best interests demands that the home institution should have the preference. Students may enter at any time.

RELIABLE MUSIC DEALER

M. Zoberbier, proprietor of a music and piano store of Santa Rosa, will make regular monthly visits to Sonoma and vicinity.

Parties desire to advise with Mr. Zoberbier in regard to musical instruments can address him at Santa Rosa or leave word at this office.

Will Interest Many.

Every person should know that good health is impossible if the kidneys are deranged. Foley's Kidney Cure will cure kidneys and bladder disease in every form, and build up and strengthen these organs so they will perform their functions properly. No danger of Bright's disease or diabetes if Foley's Kidney Cure is taken in time. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

NATIVE SONS MAKE MERRY

Last Monday was a red letter day in the history of Sonoma Parlor No. 111, N. S. G. W.

Grand Trustee Bismark Bruck, of St Helena, made the parlor an official visit and was pleased with the growth of the organization in Sonoma and the enthusiasm of its members. Five young natives were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

The order of Native Sons of the Golden West being a patriotic one interested in the welfare and up building of our great commonwealth passed resolutions, favoring the old Carriger place as a site for the proposed experimental farm.

At the conclusion of the business of the parlor, adjournment was taken to the Toscano Hotel where the members, with about fifty of their invited guests assembled at the banquet board. Mine Host Ciucci added to his fame in the culinary art on this occasion for the feast, was great and heartily enjoyed by all present.

Leo Dowdall acted well the part of toast-master, and many appropriate and witty responses were made.

Sonoma Valley Has The Site

Old Carriger Place an Ideal Spot for Pro- posed College.

At the last session of the legislature, $150,000 was appropriated to purchase and equip a site of an Agricultural College and experimental farm in convenient proximity to the University and the metropolis. According to the requirements of the bill every legislator voting for it had an ideal or real farm in mind to fill the bill.

Whereas, We firmly believe that it would be for the best interests of the State of California and for the advancement of scientific agriculture that said farm be located and established in Sonoma county, the home of Luther Burbank, the foremost and foremost and most noted horticulturist in the world; there fore be it

Resolved, By members of Sonoma Parlor No 111 N. S. G. W. in regular session assembled on the 3rd day of April 1905, that the attention of said commission be called to the L. L. Lewis farm located in Sonoma Valley and that the same be visited and inspected by said commission before final selection or action in the premises; and

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to each member of said commission by the secretary of this parlor.

Unanimously adopted April 3.

THE BUTTER PACKAGE LAW

On and after May 19, 1905, the butter package marking law passed by the recent Legislature of California and signed by Governor Pardee will become effective.

This act requires the marking of packages of butter containing less than six pounds and more than one-half a pound, so as to advise the purchaser or others as to the weight of the butter contained in such package.

The weight must be legibly and durably marked upon the package in letters or figures of not less than one-fourth of an inch high.

Any violation of the law will be a misdemeanor and upon conviction will be punishable by a fine of not less than $20 nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the County Jail of not less than ten days, nor more than fifty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, at the discretion of the court.

It will be the duty of the State Dairy Bureau to enforce the provision of this act, which is for the protection of the consumers of butter, who have been often imposed upon by the sellers of short weight packages, which are claimed to be full weight.

A Correction

The El Verano correspondent of the Expositor made a slight mistake in a recent issue in saying that 'Roxey Murphy' was being groomed for the next race meet.

It is her owner, A. W. Weaver, the El Verano blacksmith, who is grooming to shoe the race horses. The horse he shoes always wins. See? Mr. Weaver is an expert at horseshoeing. Ask his hundreds of satisfied customers.

AGUA CALIENTE

Mrs. F. K. Watson has been confined to the house the past week with a bad cold.

It is beginning to look like the good old summer time again. The young men of this place and nearby places were quite in evidence last Sunday evening. Ed. Morris had his bus and four horses out.

Miss Dora Ainsworth and Miss Mathews visited Home Farm last Saturday and Sunday.

Sonoma Valley Board of Trade

FRIDAY, April 7, 1935.

IN ENLARGED FORM

Owing to the rapid growth of the Sonoma Valley Expositor in circulation, and the consequent demand for advertising space, by prudent business people in the valley and elsewhere, we have found it necessary to enlarge the paper.

The circulation of the Expositor has nearly doubled in the last two years and the advertising patronage, has more than doubled. Commencing with this issue the Expositor will be an 8 column folio, thus affording additional space to supply the increasing demand for advertising purposes and at the same time better enable us to continue to give the best and newest paper published in this section of the county.

The subscription price of the paper is $1.50 per year as well as the rates for advertising, will remain the same.

We take this opportunity to thank our numerous subscribers and advertisers for their generous patronage and hope to merit a continuance of the same in the future.

TRUSTEES' MEETING

All members were present at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma, on Wednesday evening, President Poppe in the chair.

The following bills were passed for payment: R. A. Poppe, salary, $25; H. Granice, printing $15.60; V. Jansen, labor $1; D. Valente, labor $3; J. H. Albertson, salary $15; Sonoma Valley Co. lights, $33.84.

The petition of Mrs. Natalie Davis et al, asking permission to lay pipe in Mountain Cemetery from Schocken's Spring was granted.

The usual ordinance fixing the water rates was passed.

Trustee McDonnell introduced a set of resolutions, seconded by Trustee Hotz, and unanimously adopted, declaring a new city hall a public necessity and that the public business demands the immediate construction and equipment of a public building for Sonoma. At the next regular meeting of the board the trustees are to consider ways and means for the erection etc. of a new City Hall. Thus the first necessary step is taken toward a permanent and badly needed public improvement. A day's test will be given of the street sprinkling business in order to determine the best way of doing the work. Adjourned.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there are at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case it failed to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo Ohio. Sold by all druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Frank Guilfoyle came near losing an eye, last Monday morning. While cutting wood at his home here, a stick flew up and struck him a severe blow on the cheek bone, just missing the right eye. The bleeding was stopped with some difficulty. Beside the loss of much blood no serious injury resulted.

Geo. Bills, a prominent citizen of Sebastopol, was badly injured while trying to board a moving electric car last Monday morning.

Adjourned Meeting in Union Hall March 30th Last

Strong Public Spirit and Much Enthusiasm Manifested

A number of the progressive citizens of the valley gathered in Union Hall, Thursday evening of last week for the purpose of talking over Sonoma Valley Board of Trade matters.

F. T. Duhring, Vice President of the former Board called the meeting to order, and was unanimously chosen chairman of the meeting. W. O. Hocker was elected temporary secretary.

A number of patriotic, practical and encouraging speeches were heard.

Among those who addressed the gathering were: F. T. Duhring, Harry Francis, O. P. Palstine and others.

It was the sense of the meeting that permanent organization be effected and Harry Francis was appointed to formulate a form for organization and a set of by laws and report at the next meeting, which will be held in Union Hall, Thursday evening, April 13, for the purpose of affecting a permanent organization.

The secretary was instructed to notify all citizens of the meeting and give them an invitation to come and join in the movement.

A committee on program for the next meeting, April 13, was appointed as follows: H. W. Matthews, O. P. Palstine and Harry Francis.

The question of having the Sonoma Brass Band give a free band concert every Saturday evening, during the summer was enthusiastically received. A committee, consisting of Dr. Thomson, L. S. Simmons and I. Quartaroli were appointed to interview the citizens in regard to the matter and also the leader of the band, Claude Johnson, and to formulate some plan whereby this could be accomplished.

The Sonoma Brass Band voluntarily gave their services to entertain the meeting and a hearty vote of thanks was tendered them for their kindly interest. Dr. Gottenberg was also thanked for the use of the hall.

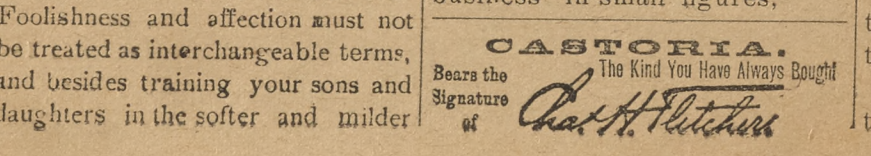

The next meeting will be for permanent organization. It will be on April 13, at 8 P. M. in Union Hall. It is desired to have present every citizen interested in the growth and prosperity of the valley. Don't forget the date.

SOME THOUGHTS OF OUR GREAT PRESIDENT

"No ordinary work done by a man is either as hard or as responsible as the work of a woman who is bringing up a family of small children for upon her time and strength demands are made not only every hour of the day, but every hour of the night. She may have to get up night after night, to take care of a sick child, and yet must by day continue to do all her household duties as well; and if the family means are scant she must usually enjoy even her rare holidays taking the whole brood of children with her. The birth pangs make all men the debtors of all women.

"Just as the happiest and most honorable and most useful task that can be set for any man is to earn enough for the support of his wife and family, for the bringing up and starting in life of his children, so the most important, the most honorable and desirable task which can be set any woman is to be a good and wise mother in a home marked by self-respect and mutual forbearance, by willingness to perform duty and by refusal to sink into self-indulgence or avoid that which entails effort and self-sacrifice.

"Into the woman's keeping is committed the destiny of the generations to come after us. In bringing up your children you mothers must remember that while it is essential to be loving and tender, it is no less essential to be wise and firm. Foolishness and affection must not be treated as interchangeable terms, and besides training your sons and daughters in the softer and milder

First 10 Days Care of Incubator Chicks.

After the hatch is over, remove all unhatched eggs and shells and leave chicks in the incubator for 48 hours before removing to the brooder. This gives them strength. Throw into the bottom of the incubator some fine gravel or chick grit.

Give nothing else until they are placed in the brooder. Have heat in the brooder 90 to 95 degrees.

Feed little at a time but often. Keep them hungry until the last feed at night and then give them all they can eat.

Water after first feed in the morning and keep clean fresh water before them all the time. Keep the drinking fountains clean also the brooders; keep the little chicks within one foot of the brooder for two days until they get used to running under the mother.

After they become accustomed to the brooder, let them run out in the brooder house.

Cover the floor with cut hay, and feed all grain in this litter to make them exercise. Feed five times a day until 10 days old, then 3 times a day, with a little cracked wheat or corn thrown in the litter between meals to keep them busy.

If weather is favorable, let them out after five days to get green grass.

Boiled fresh milk, instead of water makes them grow fast for the first 10 days and is a fine remedy for bowel complaint. After 10 days old, also give a little boiled meat chopped up fine each day and they will grow like weeds.

A good man is never out of a position long. Monday he was offered and accepted a responsible position on the Spreckles Ranch at Sobre Vista.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good. "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel and stones with excruciating pain," says A. H. A few doses started the brick-dust like substance and I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1000 worth of good." NATIVE SONS MAKE MERRY

Last Monday was a red letter day in the history of Sonoma Parlor No. 111, N. S. G. W.

Grand Trustee Bismark Bruck, of St Helena, made the parlor an official visit and was pleased with the growth of the organization in Sonoma and the enthusiasm of its members. Five young natives were initiated into the mysteries of the order.

The order of Native Sons of the Golden West being a patriotic one interested in the welfare and up building of our great commonwealth passed resolutions, favoring the old Carriger place as a site for the proposed experimental farm.

At the conclusion of the business of the parlor, adjournment was taken to the Toscano Hotel where the members, with about fifty of their invited guests assembled at the banquet board. Mine Host Ciucci added to his fame in the culinary art on this occasion for the feast was great and heartily enjoyed by all present.

Leo Dowdall acted well the part of toast-master, and many appropriate and witty responses were made. Among those whose remarks were listened to with interest were: Grand Trustee Bismark Bruck, City Marshal Albertson, Prof. W. C. Nolan, Dr. A. M. Thomson, Dr. A. E. Byron, Henry Bates, President Geo. Gies, R. A. McDonnell, O. P. Palstine, J. Poppe, Jr., and P. G. Keil.

The inimitable James Small favored the assemblage with a number of catchy and original songs. Robert Prussia gave a well rendered bass solo which was heartily applauded. Geo. Wall received a hearty encore responding graciously with a baritone solo. James Carol favored his hearers with a sentimental song which was well received. The meeting broke up with three rousing cheers for Sonoma Parlor, N. S. G. W.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C. Stearns, Druggist, Shalburg, Wis., writes, May 20, 1901: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c a bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

THE NEW ENTERPRISE

C. Kestler, proprietor of the new brewery, is a very busy man these days. He has taken the agency for the Buffalo Brewing Co's famous Bohemia Lager, made from imported Bohemian hops and pronounced by connoisseurs to be the acme of the brewer's art.

Mr. Kestler informs us that the stone work on the new brewery is about completed, and that the wood work and roof will be finished in about one week. Another car load of machinery arrived Monday and Mr. Kestler confidently expects to have his plant in operation and to have good steam beer on sale by May 1 next.

Mr. Kestler feels very much encouraged by the liberal patronage so far received and the many assurances of trade from scores of business men in the valley.

Health is Youth
Herbina, taken every morning before breakfast, will keep you in robust health, fit you to ward off disease. It cures constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, fever, and kidney complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion. Mrs. D. W. Smith, Whitney, Texas, writes, April 3, 1902: "I have used Herbina, and find it the best medicine for consumption and liver troubles. It does all you claim for it. I can highly recommend it." 50c a bottle. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, California.

WILL AMALGAMATE

As the result of a joint meeting of the Directors of the Sonoma Co. Board of Trade and the Sonoma Co. Progressive Association, recently organized, it is more than likely that the two associations will combine or rather the latter will be merged with and be known as the Sonoma County Board of Trade.

A Dardevil Ride
Ten ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve. "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothers and heals burns like magic. 25c at Shoult's & Co., Druggist.

Sonoma Valley Has The Site

At the last session of the legislature, $150,000 was appropriated to purchase and equip a site of an Agricultural College and experimental farm in convenient proximity to the University and the metropolis. According to the requirements of the bill every legislator voting for it had an ideal or real farm in mind to fill the bill.

But few of them perhaps realized that the ideal farm, was not merely an imaginary one but has a real and exact counterpart in the L. L. Lewis Ranch, formerly the "Carriger place" not over 3 miles west of Sonoma City. The Lewis place contains 1019 acres of fine land perfectly situated, and not only fulfills all the requirements of the bill but affords many unexcelled but valuable conditions. A full gospel measure of the necessary requirements is also there.

We have heard that Yolo county wants the college to locate there. Yolo is a good county but what's the use of putting the college there? The professors and students would have to spend a large portion of their time in Sonoma Valley anyhow trying to get the malaria out of their system in order to do good work at the college. Better locate it right here in this valley to begin with where are to be found the best climate and the purest water in the state.

A few years ago, a competent engineer of San Francisco, thoroughly examined the Lewis place to ascertain the quality and quantity of water it afforded, with a view of supplying the city of Sonoma with water.

He reported that there was to be found on the place, from its many perennial springs, enough of the finest and purest water to supply a city twice the size of Sonoma for many years to come. Old receipts are on hand showing the sale of water from this place for irrigating purposes, over 40 years ago.

This place is so situated on the east side of Sonoma Mountains, that it is comparatively free from fogs, winds and frost. A thrifty orange grove has been on the place for years. There is about 800 acres of rich alluvial soil, a portion of which has been irrigated for years by percolation.

There is no product in the state that can not be successfully produced here. In addition to the full amount of farming land required by the bill, there are hundreds of acres of hill land suitable for grape, olives and dairy purposes. About 20 acres of full-bearing vineyard which has never been injured by frost is on the place.

The entire county is in favor of this location as being the best and most available for the purpose.

As far as transportation facilities are concerned, the are two lines of railroads, the C. N. R. and the S. P., close at hand and an electric road past the farm is a reasonable certainty in the near future.

The following resolutions were passed last Monday evening by Sonoma Parlor, N. S. G. W.—
In the matter of the location of the proposed University Farm; Whereas, The Legislature of the State of California has recently appropriated the sum of $150,000 for the purchase of a University farm by a commission, consisting of the Governor of the state, the Lieutenant Governor, President of the University of California, President of the State Board of Agriculture; the same to be decided immediately after the purchase to the Regents of the University of California; and

Whereas, It is further provided that there must be 800 acres of first class, tillable land, one-half of which must be susceptible to irrigation, with sufficient water rights to irrigate the said one-half; and

Whereas, We firmly believe that it would be for the best interests of the State of California and for the advancement of scientific agriculture that said farm be located and established in Sonoma county, the home of Luther Burbank, the foremost and foremost and most noted horticulturist in the world; there fore be it

Resolved, By members of Sonoma Parlor No. 111 N. S. G. W. in regular session assembled on the 3rd day of April 1905, that the attention of said commission be called to the L. L. Lewis farm located in Sonoma Valley and that the same be visited and inspected by said commission before final selection or action in the premises; and

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to each member of said commission by the secretary of this parlor.

Unanimously adopted April 3 1905.

Cheated Death.
Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and keep them constantly on hand, since, I find they have no equal." Shoult's & Co. Druggist, guarantees them at 50c.

Ker, Weaver is the Isaac Walton of El Verano. He was out Wednesday last whipping the mountain streams and returned with about the limit.

When leading physicians said that W M Smith, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. Kings New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of his grave.

How the Elder Lost His Bet
 By CHARLES C. WADDE

Copyright, 1904, by S. S. McClure Co.

"You" scornfully. "Them fellows is too sharp for you, my ladybuck. Thieves 'n' can fool old Simon Unger that a-way ain't goin' to walk no no Methody Dimiclar to put salt on their tails."

A twinkle of amusement flashed into the sheriff's gray eyes as he took a quick determination. Then, with apparent unconcern, he said: "Oh, well, if that's the way you feel about it there's no use wastin' any more time. Come on, Mabel. If we don't gettin' to the meetin', we'll be late."

The girl looked up at him in quick surprise. Did he really intend to desert her father in so grave a plight? His eyes were answering and questioning her at the same time. Would she trust him? they said. Would she share a risk which promised success, but which might result in failure? Without a word she picked up her hat, and together they started for the door.

Old Simon stood fairly aghast at this abandonment. He had never for a moment supposed that the sheriff would take his words literally. Here he was, deserting him, and not only that, but taking of the old man's daughter with him. "Mabel," roared Unger. "You come back here. I forbid you to go with that scoundrel."

Debus was assisting the girl into his buggy. He felt her father. "Pay no attention to him," he whispered. "It's for his sake 'I'm takin' you along."

"Turning her head, she smiled trustingly up at the sheriff, and then she stepped into the buggy. A second later Debus had leaped in beside her. A sharp cut of the whip, a shake of the reins and his feet footed mare was speeding down the roadway, out under the trees which now stood dim and ghostly in the dusky grove, while fainter and fainter behind them came the storm of obprobrium and abuse that the old man was pouring out from the doorstep.

It is a good eight miles from Simon Unger's to the grove where the meeting was in progress, but as they came in sight of the place, with its glaring kerosene lamps casting vivid shadows among the trees and its rows of Chinese lanterns lending a festive aspect, Debus snatched open his watch. "Forty minutes," he said nonchalantly. "Not so bad for the old mare with a heavy buggy 'n' two people."

Only once had they stopped, and that was for just a minute at a roadside hostelry known as the Shriver's inn, about half a mile before they reached the grove. Here Debus had sprung out, hurried up to the desk and after glancing at the register held a brief whispered colloquy with the clerk. Then he came out, resumed his seat in the buggy and without any explanation had driven on.

As they approached the camp meeting he allowed his foaming horse to drop into a walk. The scene was plainly visible to them now—the people walking about under the trees in couples or in groups, the big platform up at the other end in a blaze of light, where the exhorter and the choir were in full swing; the rows of auditors extending back from this, the squeaky notes of a melodeon, the hoarse cries of the refreshment vendors at the gate, and around all, like the stockade around a laager, was a line of vehicles and horses hitched to the encircling fence.

"Don't take off your veil, an' stick close to me," muttered Debus to Mabel after he had picked out a blank spot in the crowd. "Then he looked at her and weary chase about the grounds, but nowhere did he strike pay gravel for his pains.

He and Mabel found themselves at last standing on the outskirts of the worshiping assemblage. The exhorter was in the full tide of his eloquence. "A-ah, my brethren—ah," he was vociferating, "I say unto you—ah, that you must—ah, become as one of these little ones—ah."

Mabel suddenly clutched Debus by the sleeve. "Jim," she whispered breathlessly, "there's the man that robbed pay, the one up on the mountain bench with his face to the west. I know him by his blue suit with the white stripes in it."

The sheriff pushed hastily forward through the throng, the girl following close behind him. Just then two people came from the church directly in front of his quarry, and he could not afford to overlook the opportunity. Barring the rush for the vacant places with his strong right arm, he thrust Mabel into one of the seats and took the other himself.

When the stir caused by their intrusion had subsided Debus leaned forward until his lips were on a level with the ear of the man in the blue suit.

"Mr. Story?" he murmured inquiringly.

There was no change in the attitude of the mourner, but the sheriff's glance intercepted a quick tremor as it ran along the jaw. The little man turned next to Story stealthily slid his hand toward his hip.

Debus touched him on the arm. "I wouldn't," he said softly. "I have you both covered from my coat pocket. Hands up!"

The men were old at their trade, and they recognized that the game was up, but the taller was not without an element of grim humor. Besides, time might help them. To create a turmoil in that crowded assemblage would be fatal. "Pray" he muttered to his companion, "pray for your soul, you miserable sinner!" At the same time he clasped his hands above his head in an attitude of supplication. Quick to seize the cue, his associate immediately followed suit.

The exhorter observed their action. "Glory, glory!" he shouted. "You are coming through, brothers! Pray, pray! The grace of the Lord will prevail even though your sins be as scarlet!"

The sheriff chuckled with satisfaction. It was worth while playing a hand with clever rogues like these. Consequently there was something alluring in his tone as he repeated his question, "Mr. Story?"

The thief still spared for wind. His expectations of escape were of the slightest, but nevertheless delay was one of the rules of the game. His face wore an expression of Christian forbearance as he turned toward this questioner who so persistently disturbed his devotions.

"You are mistaken, brother," he whispered sweetly. "My name is Henderson."

"Who are you?" whispered the other silkily.

Stories Told In the Greenroom
 MISS ADA REHAN, who is starring this season in "The Patriotic Character of the Sheriff and School 'Fo. Scandal," is a great admirer of the role of Katherine, which she takes in the former play. But she says that though it has brought her much satisfaction it has given her a reputation for bad temper, because people are apt to identify the actress herself with the part. "Often," says Miss Rehan, "I have been amused over seeing the effect that a first performance of the new play has had on the employees of the stage. They shunned me as something actually to be feared. During a very long run I have often heard it said that I hated my friends and noted that our stage had only reproduced our private intercourse. I looked upon this as the greatest compliment that could be paid me."

Quite once in her stage career Miss Rehan played the part of Ophelia to Edwin Booth's Hamlet, and she recalls with delight her first experience with the great tragedian. After a week of rehearsal she was called to the stage and chilled her to the marrow every moment she was upon the stage with him—Booth came off the scene on the final night and, walking up to her, said brightly: "Miss Rehan, you have done splendidly, and, in my opinion, you have a great career before you, I shall talk with you soon again."

Jefferson De Angelis, who is starring in "The Patriot," has for his extreme parsimony. Some days ago this friend was horror struck at receiving an invitation to be present at the wedding of a young woman in his circle of acquaintances. To him that invitation was a draft for a present—nothing more or less.

The young fellow thought over the matter for twenty-four hours, and then he was confronted suddenly with a happy solution of the problem. At a second-hand shop he saw what had been a beautiful vase, now unhappily broken into three pieces. He would have that was shipped to the bride couple, and they would naturally arrive at the conclusion that it had been smashed in transit. Thus he would receive credit for a thirty dollar investment when, in fact, the three pieces were to be had for 60 cents.

Mr. De Angelis' friend made his purchase quickly and left the address to which it was to be sent. Three days later he got a letter from the objects of his generosity. The parsimonious one smiled as he held the unopened envelope and fancied the phrases of regret and gratitude therein. What he found when he tore off the covering was a curt, frigid note. The second-hand dealer had wrapped the three pieces separately.

Edward Terry, the English actor now playing in New York, is fond of sports and was formerly noted as an athlete. He once made a bet that he could run from the Strand theater, London, to the Victoria theater in five minutes. His friends thought it an impossible feat. Six in the morning was the hour set for the run, for the streets were then comparatively free from traffic.

He set off at a good clip and soon was speeding down the Strand like a streak. Luck was with him, and it looked for a few moments as though he could not fall to be victorious. Presently, however, he reached the toll house on the ridge, where a trolley trolley was required to pay a halfpenny before being allowed to pass.

To his consternation, Terry realized that he had not any kind of money with him, and as he approached the toll keeper on a dead run he shouted, "I'll pay you when I come back!" "No, you won't!" that functionary shouted angrily, knowing nothing of the race against time and believing that Terry was trying to avoid payment. Entreaties, cries of protest and prayers from Terry were in vain. The toll keeper barred the way and demanded six money.

Finally, seeing that argument was futile, the angry actor suddenly dodged under the arm of the Cerberus of the bridge, dashed past him and was again on his feet in a matter of a few seconds that had been lost at the gate.

WISDOM'S WHISPERS.
 "It's lucky we don't know how lucky we may be."
 It is difficult to take a woman by surprise in a love affair.

A woman may know very little and yet have a way that carries conviction.

The want of refinement in a man cannot be corrected by the gloss of success.

A minute later the transfer was effected. Sooner than they'd left some traps there behind 'em an' that they'd been there for 'em, but likewise it stood to reason that they wouldn't stay long, nor they must 'a' known they couldn't trust you not to open that box—not for very long, anyway.

"Now, there was the safest place for 'em to go? 'I've w' aware that a couple of strangers traveling alone in the evening' would be spotted on the road inside of half an hour an' they'd be all the little towns for thirty miles around would be on the lookout for 'em."

"But here was this camp meetin' close at hand, where nobody would think of searchin' for 'em, but where they could hide in the crowd until after midnight, when they'd have a clear road 'n' could get away without trouble. At least I figured it out that way, an' I brought Mabel along to rescue the fellows, 'cause I seen you was so crazy you wouldn't be as much use as nobody."

"As you see, my calculation was all right. I only missed it on one point. If it hadn't been for Mabel, I'd never 'a' thought of lookin' for 'em on the mourners' bench. That was just one place where they was sharper 'n' I was."

"But where are the rascals?" inquired the old man. "Course you arrested 'em?"

"No, Mr. Unger," confessed Debus. "I s'pose I done wrong, but I didn't."

You see I got to thinkin' how if they was just a minute at a roadside hostelry known as the Shriver's inn, about half a mile before they reached the grove. BOER TOBACCO.
 Natives Use It, but It is Too Much For White Men.
 After Transvaal tobacco, but a long way after, comes Boer. The name is in reality nowadays a misnomer, for this tobacco is grown largely in Natal and Cape Colony. It is also cultivated in the Orange River Colony, is sold by the roll and can be obtained for about $8 a pound if a whole roll is purchased. It is also sold by the sack.

White men buy these sacks, but they do not smoke the contents themselves; they use it to reward the Kaffir servants for working overtime or doing any other meritorious action. The taste for Transvaal tobacco is an acquired one. It also takes a certain time before a man gets used to the scent. No white man who has come from a distance has so far lived long enough to acquire a liking for either the taste or the smell, but it has its uses in the case of the natives, and it is also useful if you have an undesirable visitor whom you are anxious to get rid of. Offer him a pipe of Boer tobacco, and he will never enter your house again.

Readers purchase this weed largely, they also use it upon the natives in the shape of presents, as every Kaffir who makes a purchase in a country store always asks for a free gift, and who competes to secure the native trade is so acute that the request cannot be refused.—South Africa.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY.
 Make Up Your Mind to Seek It Rather Than Wait For It.
 It is a dangerous thing to wait for opportunities until it becomes a habit. Energy and inclination for hard work come on in waiting. Opportunity becomes invisible to those who are doing nothing or looking somewhere else for it. It is the great worker, the man who is alert for chances, that sees them.

Some people become so opportunity blind that they cannot see chances anywhere—they would pass through a gold mine without noticing anything precious—while others will find opportunities in the most barren and out of the way places. Bryan found opportunity in Bedford jail to write the greatest allegory in the world on the untwisted paper that had been used to cork his bottles of milk. A Theodore Parker or a Lucy Stone sees an opportunity to go to college in a chance to pick berries. One boy sees an opening in his ambition in a chance to chop wood, wait on table or run errands.

There are other opportunities in all. One sees an opportunity to get an education in the odds and ends of time, evenings and half holidays, when another throws away.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

SUNDAY MEALS.
 Do Not Overeat and You Will Feel Better on Monday.
 If it is desired to begin the week refreshed and ready for labor, rested in mind and body, the eating customs of Sunday will have to be readjusted. Have a later breakfast, if desired, but have a very light one even if you are hungry, or if it must be hearty, eat as a rest day for cook and digestive apparatus as well as from other labors. Have a light breakfast, a light dinner and a chafing dish supper as near the ordinary hours of meals as possible. Do not upset your digestive habits to take less exercise than usual you demand a lesser amount of more easily digested food.—Helen Johnson in Good Housekeeping.

BOATING ON THE NILE.
 The Best Pilots Run Around Two or Three Times a Day.
 Navigation on the Nile is not so complicated a matter as upon the north Atlantic, writes Alonzo Clarke Robinson in Outing. To run at full speed upon a sand bar is an occurrence of such frequency as hardly to elicit comment from the passengers. The crew take more interest because they are obliged to push the boat off again with poles, and this entails a great amount of shouting and some work.

The Nile below the first cataract is a fairly broad, muddy river, flowing between six to eight to twenty feet in height. Its surface is interrupted everywhere by sand spits and islands upon which are to be seen thousands of birds. The channel, if such it can be called, winds from one side to the other and changes completely with every flood; hence even the best pilots run around two or three times a day.

It is, of course, impossible to proceed at night, and each day's voyage comes to an end wherever darkness happens to overtake one. The boat's nose is simply run plump on the bank, two men leap out and drive stakes to which to make fast, and there you are for the night. A very simple and effective method, without any ostentation and requiring very little knowledge of mathematics; it has also the advantage of variety. Sometimes one finds oneself alone beneath the wonderful Egyptian moon lighting up the river, the distant cliffs and the silent, empty plain, or perhaps one stops near some little native village, in which case the bank is lined with silent, curious figures, who crouch for hours wrapped in their white cloth coverings. Once we tied up beside a lonely brick kiln. The sight was a weird one. The red glare of the furnace, fed with sugar cane, cast intermittent flashes of light into the night, in and out of which moved black half naked natives, while overhead was the cloudless, star lit sky of Egypt.

In Praise of Cockneys.
 Cockneys are the best natured people under the sun. It is notorious that a London crowd is of all crowds in the world the most harmless and the easiest to manage. But see them also in their ordinary collections, outside the gallery door of a popular theater or crowding in the carriages of an excursion train—what fun and kindness and wholesome give and take! A deliberate rude or offensive cockney is hardly to be met.—G. S. Street in Pall Mall Gazette.

RUSSIAN WOMEN.
 The Many Restrictions to Which They Are Now Subjected.
 It is difficult for an American to understand that freedom as we know it does not exist in Russia. There the legal position of woman is far from satisfactory. She hardly ever belongs to herself, but is always under the tutelage of some man.

As a daughter the Russian woman is under the entire control of her parents. Her coming of age does not alter her position. She simply changes the authority of her parents for the no less rigid authority of her husband. As the Russian statute puts it, "One person cannot reasonably be expected to fully satisfy two such unlimited powers as those of husband and parent."

The unlimited power of the parent is withdrawn and that of the husband substituted. She cannot leave her lord even to visit a neighboring town without a "pass" from him. He names the time she is permitted to stay, and at the end of that time she is bound to return to get the pass renewed.

A husband may appear in a court of law as a witness against his wife, but a wife is not allowed to appear against her husband. A woman's evidence in Russia is always regarded as of less weight than that of a man.—Harper's Weekly.

DEFY HARD LUCK.
 A Few Bits of Wholesome Advice For the Perseverant.
 Don't talk about your hard luck. Refuse to recognize it. Refuse to believe it. Stop at once from about it. Get the whine out of your voice, or it will stop the development and growth of your body. It will narrow and shrink your mind. It will drive away your friends. It will make you unpopular. Quit your whining; brace up; go to work; be something; stand for something; fill your place in the universe. Instead of whining around, exciting only pity and contempt, face about and make something of yourself. Reach up to the stature of a strong, emulating womanhood, to the beauty and strength of a superb womanhood. There is nothing the matter with you. Just quit your whining and go to work.
