The Annual Fair of the Weymouth Agricultural and Industrial Society opens Oct. 1st, and the energetic President, Alvah Raymond, Esq., aided by the board of directors and an efficient committee, has arranged a program of entertainment which will be of the highest order.

The committee appointed at the last meeting for the purpose of seeing what could be done towards securing a complete file of the Weymouth Gazette for its commencement, reported that they had met with encouraging success and had already procured quite a number of full volumes, and with good prospects of obtaining the missing numbers to complete the remainder.

A paper upon the "First Unitarian Religious Society of Weymouth and Weymouth," prepared and read by Saml' W. Reed, Esq., was of much interest, giving an account of that organization which was chartered in 1833 and held its meetings for a short time in the academy building.

The following donations were reported: From the Department of State, Washington, D. C., United States Consular Reports, No. 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100.

From the City of Boston, "Records of the Boston Selectmen from 1716 to 1790," 10 vols., 1885, 2 vols. From the Union Defence Committee, of New York, "Minutes, Reports and Correspondence, 1855," bound volume.

From the Old Residents Association, Lowell, Mass., "Contributions," Vol. III, No. 2, 1885, 2 vols. From the Bostonian Society, "Proceedings, 13 Jan., 1857," in duplicate, unbound.

From Samuel Estes, Esq., "The Lock and Key of the Old School House in South Weymouth." From Saml' W. Reed, Esq., "A Book of Ages, 1790 to 1885," containing a sketch of the Weymouth and Braintree Academy.

From Capt. Peter Lane, "Papers relative to the Flag Staff in Washington Square, 1841." From John J. Lusk, Esq., "A Certificate from Mrs. Harrison Gray Otis, acknowledging the receipt of supplies for soldiers, from the Ladies Society of Weymouth, 1861."

From C. G. Easterbrook, Esq., "A Likeness of Dea. John Whitman, of East Bridgewater, of Weymouth, who died on the 12th of March, at the age of over 107 years." Mr. Charles Burnham Whitman, of Boston, a descendant of the Weymouth ancestor, has furnished a genealogical record of Dea. Whitman, which has been published in the Gazette, and is as follows:

Dea. John Whitman, whose likeness has recently been presented to the Weymouth Historical Society, although a citizen of Bridgewater, was of Weymouth descent, his ancestor being Dea. John Whitman, one of the earliest settlers of the latter town and for many years one of its leading spirits, and it may not be widely known that he is recorded in a brief sketch of the family in this connection.

Dea. John Whitman, the first of the name in Weymouth, was in this town as early as 1630, and his home, a house of real estate in the town, is his home-stead, north of the present meeting-house of the first parish, covered in part the estate now owned and occupied by Hon. James Humphrey, and in the possession of the Weymouth family until the beginning of the present century. The old mansion house, which was destroyed by fire in 1807, was built by Dea. Whitman, and is now in the possession of his descendants.

Clapp's shop has been newly painted, and fire escapes have been put on the rear of the Commercial Hotel. The Congregational Church will resume their weekly services on Monday evening at 7:30. Letters received in this office for Julia Moran, Webster A. Cushing, F. H. Beals, Angelo Monaco, 12 letters.

The C. C. D. Society met last Thursday evening in the vestry of the Catholic church, for the purpose of raising money for the purchase of a new organ for the Immaculate Conception Sunday School, last Sunday.

The Weymouth Iron Company have purchased of E. Q. Sylvester, of Hanover, a handsome yoke of oxen weighing 300 lbs.

The schools of this place commenced their fall term last Monday. Miss Mabel Robbins was elected by the committee as assistant teacher in the N. High School.

Mrs. J. F. Dizer will leave here next week for Portland, Oregon, where they intend to remain for a time, visiting friends.

The 17th annual reunion of the 25th Regt. Mass. Volunteers, at the United States Hotel, Boston, Monday, Oct. 19, dinner at 12 M., the tickets for which are $1.75, to be obtained of the Treasurer or any of the committee.

VAUGHAN'S Dining Rooms are again open. Intelligence has been received of the death of Joseph Vista, Col. of Regt. H. W. Eldridge, a former pastor of the East Weymouth Congregational Church, who was ill with typhoid fever and while slightly deranged obtained a revolver and shot himself.

The Hoon Family, solo cornetists, who have been so great favorites with the patrons of Wade's Ocean View Cafe, and other places where they have appeared, will fill an engagement at Barnum's Museum, New Haven, Conn., this winter. Application was made to them for their services at the fair of the Agricultural and Industrial Society, but this engagement prevented their acceptance.

The Oyster Season will open at VAUGHAN'S tomorrow evening. Photographs. The likeness of the centenarian, Dea. John Whitman, which has been presented to the Weymouth Historical Society, was copied from a picture of the Deacon taken when he was 90 years of age, the photo being the work of our skillful artist, Mr. Geo. T. Ratcliff.

Funeral. The funeral of our venerable resident, Mr. Geo. Nash, occurred at the residence on Front street, last Wednesday, Rev. Mr. Frary officiating. The remains were deposited in the family tomb in the Village Cemetery.

Business Notice. The house of Charles H. Barnes & Co., 512 Washington street, Boston, has a well-reputation for its "easy payment" terms to purchasers of home furnishings, and our readers are invited to peruse their card in today's paper, which gives an enumeration of the specialties which they offer.

Root and Shoe Business. A. C. Leland is in better condition than during the quiet time of summer, and the prospects of the trade are very encouraging. The firm of Geo. E. Porter & Co. is doing a larger business than ever before. The cartoon figures of E. W. & R. L. Hunt is crowded with orders.

A resident of Weymouth who has been visiting in Norway, Me., says that town is growing rapidly, new houses going up in every direction, owing to the removal of the large shoe manufacturing business of F. Spinnay & Co., of Lynn, to Norway.

Lost. Allen Morse lost a coral and gold bracelet last Friday, on Broad street, near the Hotel Italy. It was valued highly as a present from her deceased mother, and the finder who would favor by leaving it at her residence near Conant's store.

Reading Circle. A very interesting meeting of the Union Branch of the N. E. Reading Circle was held at the residence of Mrs. M. E. P. Hunt, Front street, on Monday evening. The work of the evening consisted of a review of the first 99 psalms, and a reading of the history of the New Testament and 100 pages of Huxley's Physiology. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. O. W. Allen, East Braintree.

Change. The water in the public well at Washington Square, which has been noted for its excellent quality, has within a few months past, become much deteriorated, and an analysis of the water has been made by a physician who has forbidden one of his patients to use it. It is thought a clearing out of the well may remove the difficulty.

South Weymouth Items. Saturday evening the weather was too bad for the band concert promised by the East Weymouth folks, and Tuesday night, the adjourned date, the electric wind prevailed, and the dust and compulsion. It couldn't be called perfect weather by any means, but quite a crowd assembled. The corner had something of the appearance of old times, when the original Weymouth band used to hold forth, and people from far and near gathered to stand about or walk, sit or neighboring town. The concert was a success, and a real musical treat, and the program of this concert has been given in this paper, and was followed with but few and unimportant variations. The numbers showed a pleasant variety of movements, and the band as a whole played with a neatness and precision and spry playing, while the baritone on the other hand excelled in a more substantial and potent treatment of the solo than is usual to hear. The solo cornet did not in the least surpass recent efforts on the same stand, and the duet for cornets, though a creditable performance, was not to evenly balanced. The music listened very attentively, and was generous of its applause.

The main water pipe has been laid almost through the meadow. Many ledges were encountered, and some deep cuts were made. The bucket railway was required at one point, and the blasting operations were carried on with great vigor. The fragments flew even into the Main street in one instance, breaking a few panes of glass, while adjacent to the work the fields were strewn with pieces of rock. However, the railway was loaded on the cars Tuesday, and the evidences are that labor is about ended in this vicinity. B. T.

Improvement Association of the North Weymouth. At the annual meeting of the North Weymouth Improvement Association, held at Engine Hall Sept. 2d, 1885, the following officers were chosen: E. S. Beak, President; John W. Bartlett, F. A. Hickock, Vice Presidents; B. F. Thomas, Secretary; T. F. Cleverly, Treasurer. Executive Committee: John W. Bartlett, A. H. Seabury, N. Morse, R. H. Richards, J. A. Newton, L. Torrey, Wilnot Cleverly, H. J. French, George Lovell, Aug. Beak, C. L. Seabury, G. H. Pratt, Dr. W. A. Drake, Charles Stevens, Leonard Torrey, H. L. Cushing, Amos Birrell, H. A. Newton, L. Curtis, Peter F. Hagerty, J. L. Newton, Mrs. L. B. Curtis, Mrs. Sally Thomas, Mrs. John W. Bartlett, Mrs. T. B. Seabury.

The matter of canvassing the village for money to be left with the Executive Committee, and it is hoped that every person in the village when called upon, will join. The committee will canvass some time during the coming week, and they wish to have the ready support of every person.

The matter of having a social supper was discussed, all present seeming to be in favor, was left with the Executive Committee, and it is hoped that every person in the village when called upon, will join. The committee will canvass some time during the coming week, and they wish to have the ready support of every person.

Edward E. Chapman has been engaged by the manager of the Quincy Skating Rink as floor director. Ed's peculiar manner and customs will be sure to please the patron.

Dr. Brown has given up his practice in East Weymouth and removed to Weston, Mass., with his family. He has been succeeded by Dr. Edwin Mayberry, formerly of Weymouth, who has purchased the house of Dr. Brown, on Shawmut street.

Miss Helen A. Lincoln has returned from a five weeks visit to Provincetown and after a two weeks visit at the Webb Farm, Marshfield, will resume her vacation at her home in Weymouth. Attention is called to the advertisement of the East Weymouth Billiard Parlors, in another column, and the public are invited to call at the parlors and try their skill on the fine tables of this popular establishment. All the appointments are first class and good order is always maintained.

Wednesday evening Miss Susie Cushing was visited by about fifty young ladies and gents, with the guests of the Weymouth House. The evening was passed in music, dancing and other sports, and about 11 o'clock supper was provided, with fruit, ice cream, &c., by Mrs. M. L. Cushing. The party retired to their homes about 1 o'clock.

A good story is related of three Italian boys upon the approach of a carriage, which they had been following, when one of their fellow workmen slyly locked them in, and the box being in an out of the way place they remained there for about two hours before they were released by a passer-by.

About 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, as Joseph Barker and wife were descending King Oak Hill in their carriage a collision ensued with the team of Mr. Bennett, and Mr. Barker was thrown from the carriage, and his head struck against a post. He was carried into a house near by in an insensible condition, and after having his wounds dressed was taken home by L. W. Hickock.

At the meeting of the East Weymouth Improvement Association, held at Engine Hall Monday evening, a number of leading citizens participated in a general discussion of ways and means of village improvement, and the business of election of officers and reports on the committee was postponed for one week. For that purpose and for general discussion of plans for the fall and winter, the adjourned meeting will be held in the Methodist vestry next Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Let every body come and bring his wife, and let us get a full expression of public sentiment.

Thursday afternoon of last week a young child of Nathan E. Joy, while playing about the well fell and broke his leg about the knee. Drs. Beck and Hathaway were called to aid, but the fracture, for one so young he bears his sufferings patiently.

Thursday afternoon of last week Alfred E. Joy, grandson of Noah T. Joy, escaped from the well. Let every body come and bring his wife, and let us get a full expression of public sentiment.

At the annual meeting of the North Weymouth Improvement Association, held at Engine Hall Sept. 2d, 1885, the following officers were chosen: E. S. Beak, President; John W. Bartlett, F. A. Hickock, Vice Presidents; B. F. Thomas, Secretary; T. F. Cleverly, Treasurer. Executive Committee: John W. Bartlett, A. H. Seabury, N. Morse, R. H. Richards, J. A. Newton, L. Torrey, Wilnot Cleverly, H. J. French, George Lovell, Aug. Beak, C. L. Seabury, G. H. Pratt, Dr. W. A. Drake, Charles Stevens, Leonard Torrey, H. L. Cushing, Amos Birrell, H. A. Newton, L. Curtis, Peter F. Hagerty, J. L. Newton, Mrs. L. B. Curtis, Mrs. Sally Thomas, Mrs. John W. Bartlett, Mrs. T. B. Seabury.

The matter of canvassing the village for money to be left with the Executive Committee, and it is hoped that every person in the village when called upon, will join. The committee will canvass some time during the coming week, and they wish to have the ready support of every person.

The matter of having a social supper was discussed, all present seeming to be in favor, was left with the Executive Committee, and it is hoped that every person in the village when called upon, will join. The committee will canvass some time during the coming week, and they wish to have the ready support of every person.

Edward E. Chapman has been engaged by the manager of the Quincy Skating Rink as floor director. Ed's peculiar manner and customs will be sure to please the patron.

Dr. Brown has given up his practice in East Weymouth and removed to Weston, Mass., with his family. He has been succeeded by Dr. Edwin Mayberry, formerly of Weymouth, who has purchased the house of Dr. Brown, on Shawmut street.

Miss Helen A. Lincoln has returned from a five weeks visit to Provincetown and after a two weeks visit at the Webb Farm, Marshfield, will resume her vacation at her home in Weymouth. Attention is called to the advertisement of the East Weymouth Billiard Parlors, in another column, and the public are invited to call at the parlors and try their skill on the fine tables of this popular establishment. All the appointments are first class and good order is always maintained.

Wednesday evening Miss Susie Cushing was visited by about fifty young ladies and gents, with the guests of the Weymouth House. The evening was passed in music, dancing and other sports, and about 11 o'clock supper was provided, with fruit, ice cream, &c., by Mrs. M. L. Cushing. The party retired to their homes about 1 o'clock.

A good story is related of three Italian boys upon the approach of a carriage, which they had been following, when one of their fellow workmen slyly locked them in, and the box being in an out of the way place they remained there for about two hours before they were released by a passer-by.

About 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, as Joseph Barker and wife were descending King Oak Hill in their carriage a collision ensued with the team of Mr. Bennett, and Mr. Barker was thrown from the carriage, and his head struck against a post. He was carried into a house near by in an insensible condition, and after having his wounds dressed was taken home by L. W. Hickock.

The impression prevailed last week, and was reflected in those columns, that two petitions were out in relation to the Post Office. It was a mistake, there was but one, and at that time that one has over a name appended. We understand that Mr. Vining and the newly appointed P. M. have come to a mutual arrangement that Mr. Loud will defer taking charge until October 1st, the beginning of the quarter.

One or two horse races have been organized among the youth of this place, and last Saturday afternoon quite a spirited game was indulged in by the junior players. Experience has shown that the skill of the older class is not so much derived from a reserve continent; therefore we hope the younger ones will so develop that another year some reason from the junior to the senior members, if such vacancies occur, and at the same time be numerous and skillful enough to give the older class a mutual benefit of present and future players.

It is astonishing to note the number of people who take exception to an innocent item of local happening. Of course the mission of the newspaper is to give the news in all its integrity, and to do so it is necessary to have a corps of reporters and contributors devoted wholly to its interests. But with a good sheet the conditions are different, and it seems almost impossible for the public to be so prejudiced. The writer of the other day had three or four individuals challenge the accuracy and truthfulness of his reports, and he was obliged to make him more compassionate for the quality of liver complaint. As for the other day, he had no other offer, except perhaps the apology of course where history is distorted or a fact mis-stated.

Mr. and Mrs. Fent. Binlock, in company with Mrs. Clarence Howe, have just taken a trip to the Hudson, returning by way of the Hoosac Tunnel, and will be in Weymouth on Saturday. There was a social announced for Wednesday evening, at the 2nd Congregational Church, at 7:30 o'clock. The guests will be from the Weymouth House. Organists seem to be all the rage. Cherry run is also being organized. A list of individuals have been granted North Weymouth for the estate of the late Seth Curtis, Jr. to Mrs. Stetson, for the use of Edward Rosefield, and to J. H. Stetson for the estate of Hon. B. F. White, Mr. Rosefield has given up his store in the Old Fellows Building, Benj. F. Whitman's wagon, loaded with ice cream, had a horse killed near the depot. Wednesday evening, through spring breaking, Henry W. resume next week. The school of Mrs. B. T. Dizer.

Mr. N. H. Thayer has been elected president of the Old Fellows Hall Association, the office having been made vacant by the death of Mr. H. B. Thayer. Late rains have been quite popular this summer, many ladies returning from the city, and many gentlemen. How awful!

Mr. Richardson has sold his property on a Main street to a H. H. H. of East Boston. It is reported that Messrs. W. & W. Tirrell contemplate the taking in steam power. Mr. S. J. H. Thomas returned from a week's sojourn at the Springfield House, Nantucket, and will be in Weymouth on Saturday.

A word to the Wise. It is figured that our wheat crop this year, not in So. Weymouth, will be passed to the city, and it is estimated that the standing that fact, the 40,000 bushels in sight to day at the principal markets, to keep the price of flour way down. And it is a curious fact that the so-called St. Louis or winter wheat is being sown about the same figures as the spring wheat or bread flour. They are so near that they are not to be distinguished. The summer, of course preferring the better grade for the same price.

The business of the Weymouth House is doing very well for our part of the town. It is a curious fact that the so-called St. Louis or winter wheat is being sown about the same figures as the spring wheat or bread flour. They are so near that they are not to be distinguished. The summer, of course preferring the better grade for the same price.

Wednesday afternoon a man was run into the kechik by a horse. The horse was very much excited. He said he had a team somewhere about but would not find it. He was the only one that could get down the same day, and such are getting to be quite common occurrences of this kind.

"Here is my name and address," said he, "if am killed or mortally wounded in the accident to which we are running, and you escape, promise me now that you will carry these dispatches without a moment's delay to the General whose name you will find by opening this envelope."
"I promised."

The woman took the child in her arms and covered her little face with tears and kisses. She seemed to wish to make a rampart of herself to protect the little one against the frightful smash-up that was momentarily expected.
"I am not afraid," said the child, smiling, "papa is driving." And she alone among the passengers of the car, and doubtless she alone among all on board the train, had faith and confidence. We could hear in the other cars cries of terror and wailings of despair, and, in spite of the mother, the child leaned out of the window in the back door and shouted out, with all the force of her little lungs: "Don't be afraid, papa is driving." Ah! that sweet little girl, in the general terror, was a tower of strength with that sacred love of a child for a father—an affection that nothing can break down.

"PAPA IS DRIVING."
I arrived at the station at the appointed hour. I entered or rather was thrown by an attendant into the car nearest to me. The door was quickly shut. The whistle was blown and we were off.
Curiously enough, the car was crowded. I formed the fifth passenger. Two of the corners were occupied, one by an officer and another by a civilian. Facing me was a woman, about thirty years old, neatly and modestly dressed, and beside her sat the most beautiful little child I ever saw—a little girl about six years old, with a flood of blond curls waving under her immense straw hat. Now and then the child would look through the window in the direction of the engine, and then her eyes would wander in the infinite space that was unrolling itself before her. We came to a station. The train stopped. The little girl put her face to the window. "I don't see him," she said to the lady beside her. "I don't see him." Then suddenly her face brightened and her eyes lit with golden hues, shining with indescribable joy, while her lips came down upon the hand that came from the exterior and were placed upon the frame of the open window. "Ah, papa! Here is papa!" exclaimed my little neighbor with the exuberant and innocent joy of her six years.

A Sultan's Daily Life.
The Sultan is accustomed to rise at an early hour, and after he leaves his seraglio and has eaten a slight breakfast—at times he only drinks a cup of black coffee—his secretaries bring him the portfolios containing the telegrams, official correspondence, and reports which are ready for his perusal. This occupation lasts till noon, when the dejeuner a la fourchette, which is generally the chief meal of the day, is served. If a visitor happens to have the honor of luncheon with the Sultan, his Majesty will perhaps show him afterward in person some of the sights of the park and gardens, of which he is very proud. There are aviaries of rare birds; the unrivalled collection of pigeons; the well-stocked menagerie; the stables containing nearly 200 horses, some of which are presents from the Emperors of Russia, Germany, Austria, and the Prince of Wales; the great riding-school in which the Circassian guards are accustomed to exhibit their prowess and feats of horsemanship; the lake on which the Sultan's little daughters row themselves in tiny canoes, to the great delight of their father; and now and then some highly privileged guest is even permitted to witness a musical performance by the Sultan's children in a miniature theatre provided for the purpose.

LADIES DEPARTMENT.
The American Girl's "Lodge."
Mr. Lalouchere, the London editor, wants to know if you have ever observed how much vivacity there is in American elbows? "They are full of expression, I can assure you, and American 'mugs' when received in thorough earnest, is something to be remembered. I have an American friend whom I love and admire, but I have had to entreat of her rather to knock me down than to 'nudge' me, as she calls the violent exercise of elbow wherewith she has been wont to attract my attention. The verb is a feeble and futile expression of the thing itself. Were she to bestow one of her nudges, in mistake, upon a stranger that astonished individual would certainly give her in charge for assault and battery."

PEARLS OF THOUGHT.
Apprehension of evil is often worse than evil itself.
Mean fortunes and proud spirits act like fuel and gunpowder.
A false grounded hope is but a walking man's dream.
Virtue and a trade are the best portions for children.
It is better to buy your rye by the loaf than by the pint.
Our acts make or mar us; we are the children of our own deeds.
The most manifest sign of wisdom is continued cheerfulness.
The great men of the ancients understood how to reconcile manual labor with affairs of state.
People who are extravagant on themselves are often wonderfully ingenious in devising plans of economy for others.
There is no real growth of character except by a conquest over opposing difficulties—the doing right when it is against our inclination and prejudices.
It does us good to admire what is good and beautiful; but it does us infinitely more good to love it. We grow like what we admire; but we become one with what we love.
The foundation of good labor in any sphere is a good man, and all that is done to give breadth, depth, and fullness to him will react in ultimate improvement upon his work.
Never delay till to-morrow what reason and conscience tell you ought to be performed to-day. To-morrow is not yours; and though you should live to enjoy it, you must not overdo it with a burden not its own.
In Vickburg During the Siege.
The following extract is from "A Woman's Diary of the Siege," printed in the Century.
May 28th.—Since that day the regular siege has continued. We are utterly cut off from the world, surrounded by a circle of fire. Would it be wise like the scorpion to sting ourselves to death? The fiery shower of shells goes on day and night. It is occupation, of course, is gone, his office closed. Every man has to carry a pass in his pocket. People do nothing but eat what they can get, sleep when they can, and dodge the shells. There are three intervals when the shelling stops, either for the guns to cool or for the gunners' meals, I suppose,—about eight in the morning, the same in the evening, and at noon. In that time we have both to prepare and eat our clothing cannot be washed or anything else done. On the 19th and 22nd, when the assaults were made on the lines, I watched the soldiers cooking on the green opposite. The half-penny balls coming all the way from the guns were flying so thick that they were obliged to dodge at every turn. At all the caves I could see from my high perch, people were sitting, eating their poor suppers at the cave doors, ready to plunge in again. As the first shell again flew they dived, and not a human being was visible. The sharp crackle of the musketry-dring was a strong contrast to the scream of the bombs. I think all the dogs and cats must be killed or starved, we don't see any more pitiful animals prowling round. * * * The cellar is so damp and musty the bedding has to be carried out and laid in the sun every day, with the forecast that it may be demolished at any moment. The confinement is dreadful. To sit still and listen at waiting for death in a horrible manner would drive me insane. I don't know what others do, but read when I am not scribbling in this. I—borrowed somewhere a lot of Dickens' novels, and we read them by the dim light in the cellar. When the shelling abates I—go to walk about a little or get the Daily Citizen, which is still issuing a tiny copy. It is, of course, but a trifle of news. To-day he heard while out that expert witnesses are crossing the Mississippi on logs at night to bring and carry news to Johnston. I am so tired of corn-bread, which I never liked, that I eat it with tears in my eyes. We are lucky to get a quart of milk daily from a family near who have a cow; they hourly expect to be killed. I send five dollars to market each morning, and it buys a small piece of mince-meat. Rice and milk is my main food; I can't eat the mince-meat. We boil the rice and eat it cold with milk for supper. Martha runs the gauntlet to buy the meat and milk once a day in a perfect terror. The shells seem to have many different names. I hear the soldier say, "That's a mortar-shell. There goes a Parrot. That's a rifle-shell. They are all equally terrible. A pair of chimney-swallows have built in the parlor chimney. The construction of the house often sends down parts of our nest, which they patiently pick up and reassemble with."
