

MUST WORK TOGETHER

BUSSES CAUSE INJURY TO RAILROAD—NO BENEFIT TO COMMUNITY

In the past twenty months, under the new management at that time installed by the Glendale & Montrose railway, we have rebuilt the old narrow gauge and dilapidated electric road that extended from Brand boulevard to just beyond Verdugo park into a well ballasted and constructed standard gauge line and have constructed three and one-half miles of additional track, making accessible and opening up for settlement some of the most beautiful residence sites in the northern section of Glendale and the territory immediately adjacent thereto in the La Crescenta valley. These improvements and extensions have increased the value of adjoining land many thousands of dollars, but without yielding any net revenue, as yet, to the railroad company. The Glendale & Montrose railway has cost to date, in actual construction, over $150,000, besides the expense incurred in operating at a loss during the five years of its existence. All of this money, excepting for rails, copper wire and like material not readily obtainable in Glendale, has been spent right here in your stores and in wages to your inhabitants.

As the population of Glendale does not exceed 10,000 and that of the entire La Crescenta valley and environs is less than 1500, it will be readily seen that the travel between those points is not sufficient to permit of the operation of an up-to-date trolley line in competition with auto busses. One or the other must succumb. We would, therefore, esteem it a favor to receive the views of the public as to which method of transportation the citizens of Glendale prefer, in order that we may definitely determine our future financial policy as to employment of men, number of car trips, improvements now pending, etc. If we here had the population of Los Angeles and our road extended to a well populated suburb, the conditions would be bearable under reasonable and equal restrictions to both competitors, but in this very limited field the amount of traffic will not permit the permanent operation of two competing lines. That you may more clearly understand this statement, I beg to submit the following facts:

The total number of our employees in December was forty-four, and their payroll for the month amounted to $1803.63. This is about the monthly average of our men and payroll for the past eighteen months. The supplies we purchased in this city in 1914 total $6142.97, making our average total monthly disbursement in Glendale $2315.55. Probably 75 per cent of this money finds its way to your butchers, bakers, grocers, dry goods and other stores in living expenses, and to your laborers, carpenters, plumbers and painters for new homes, adding materially to your city's prosperity. While our road has never paid a dividend or returned any interest on the large amount invested in the property, we have been satisfied to patiently await the development of our territory, but with the further loss since "Jitney" competition started last November of about $20 per day (40 per cent of our former total receipts), we shall be obliged to take drastic action in economies and lay off a large force of our men if such competition continues. This $20 per day, or $7200 annually, taken from the railway and to a large extent from the citizens of Glendale by the auto busses, is nearly all spent in Sunland and in Los Angeles. Compare our forty-four employees, spending most of their $1800 here every month, with the four or five non-residents who operate the stage lines and whose families and whose money contribute practically nothing towards the welfare of your city.

Consider the service rendered. We furnish substantial, well constructed cars with powerful motors, of the same type the Pacific electric uses in local service in suburban cities. We make twenty-two round trips daily, operating from 6:20 a. m. to 10:35 p. m. out of Glendale, with seats for everyone excepting upon very unusual occasions. The principal motor bus line operates three auto busses, each built to accommodate five people. The least said of their appearance the better. One of these antiques is on exhibition at Broadway and Brand boulevard nearly all day, an eye-sore to the inhabitants and a "knock" to visitors coming to or passing through Glendale. They make seven trips daily, from 8:20 a. m. to 6:30 p. m. from here, each car frequently carrying over twelve people at one time. If you do not secure one of the few passenger seats you have the privilege of sitting on

HIGHWAY IMPROVEMENTS

LOS ANGELES COUNTY WILL EXPEND $3,000,000 FOR ROAD IMPROVEMENT IN 1915

The coming year will, without doubt, be the greatest in the history of highway construction south of the Tehachapi. Details disclosed by F. H. Joyner, road commissioner of Los Angeles county; Secretary Standish L. Mitchell of the Automobile club of Southern California, county highway officials of Riverside county, Orange county, Ventura county, Santa Barbara and San Bernardino counties, indicate that for specific improvements, new roads and bridges, more than $7,000,000 will be expended in Southern California.

Scheduled for actual construction are 324 miles of concrete boulevard, 145 miles of macadam boulevard, 160 miles of decomposed granite boulevard and 290 miles of desert highway. Exactly 919 miles of excellent highways are provided at this time and more will undoubtedly be added during the year.

Automobile club activities, road races and speedway possibilities and registration probabilities are to be greater than ever. Foremost among the outlined plans of the Auto club officials is a special representation this month at Washington to urge the building of a $200,000 highway into the Yosemite valley; the completion of sign-posting the transcontinental national Old Trails highway and the local sign-posting of 919 miles of roadway built by the counties.

Motorists have learned what became of the 180,000 odd dollars that were provided for roads by the registration license money last year. It will be included in a budget which provides for $700,000 worth of new macadamized roads and their maintenance and $757,000 for dirt roads and their maintenance and $185,000 for new bridges and repairs.

Los Angeles county will positively spend $3,000,000. Already 4000 tons of rock a day have been contracted for during 1915. It takes 3500 tons of rock to each mile of highway.

One of the most significant hints dropped was the contemplated building of a "diversion dam" over the Los Angeles river between Clearwater and Long Beach. If such a dam is built, and indications are that it will be, the highway commissioner's department will run a splendid boulevard over the dam, which will open the eyes of the motoring world. It was pointed out that a road "right on top" of the levee could be built at half the cost of one along the side of it, and that it would save the county money.

Los Angeles county, through its road department, is the only county in the United States which figures interest on the original cost of highways, and uses this sum for maintenance, thus saving money on the original cost and applying it to the upkeep of the road. This will have an important bearing on the work scheduled for the coming year.

At the beginning of the new year there is just $275,000 in the general fund for roads. At the conclusion of 1915 Los Angeles county will have built 140 miles of highway. From the state $180,000 is expected. During the year which is just beginning the board of flood control engineers will work with the road commissioner.

San Bernardino county is to spend $1,750,000 for new highways, and actual construction will start within the next three months. The plans there call for 180 miles of concrete highways to the west of the mountains and the improvement with natural soil of approximately 200 miles of desert road from the summit of the Cajon pass to Needles.

Orange county will spend $480,000 during 1915 for good roads—all that remains of the 1913 bond issue. They will build forty miles of concrete boulevard and five miles of asphaltic concrete.

Riverside county is at work, spending $1,125,000 under three contracts. They will build 104 miles of concrete boulevard, 160 miles of decomposed granite highway and ninety miles of desert road through the Chuckawalla mountains to the Blythe country.

Ventura county—and here is a secret just out—is planning a bond issue, but if it should fail, the citizens of Santa Paula, Fillmore and other points in the Santa Clara valley will unite in a local road district for the construction of a permanent highway through the valley connecting with the coast route of the state highway just south of Ventura and the valley route of the state highway at Castaic. Making a circle from Los Angeles over the boulevard, there will be given motorists one of the greatest week-end trips in the world. Santa Barbara county, where a

CARPENTERS' UNION OFFERS TO ERECT THE BROWN AND CURRY TABERNACLE

The widespread interest being taken in the coming Brown and Curry union revival is shown in the generous offer of the local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters to send six carpenters, each to give a day's work, to help put together the huge shell in which the thousands of San Fernando valley will assemble for revival services under the leadership of Brown and Curry.

The following letter is especially gratifying on account of its testimony to the interest which hard working men take in the religion of Jesus Christ. Some of the best backers of the local churches are members of this body, and it is not surprising that the Carpenters' and Joiners' union is the first organization to fall in line with the Brown and Curry union revival to the extent of a substantial offer of valuable services. Here is the letter:

Glendale, Cal., 12-28-14.
To Glendale Ministerial Association.
Executive Committee—

Gentlemen: At a meeting of the local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, it was decided to offer to you the services of six carpenters, each to give a day's work, gratis, at union wages and hours, on the tabernacle, which is to be erected for the Brown and Curry meetings, to be held in February, 1915.

Wishing you great success in this undertaking, I am

Sincerely,
HENRY L. GRAFIOUS, Secy.

NEW FEATURE PICTURE AT THE PALACE GRAND SUNDAY

The management of the Palace Grand theater is to be congratulated on securing the newly released feature picture, "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," which will be shown Sunday—four shows—matinee at 2 and 3:45, and evening at 7 and 8:45 o'clock.

This immortal story by Edward Eggleston has for a foundation one of the deepest and most intensely human themes to be found in the entire field of literature. It tells of the two parties which have forever been battling for social supremacy; the party of the future and the party of the past; of the new ideas which come and of the old ones which die hard. It is the story of the man who wears a necktie and his neighbor who objects to the custom—an everyday story of plain people invested with a deep human interest which is common to all subjects that deal with real flesh and blood men and women. In their comedy there is tragedy and in their tragedy there is comedy because in them you get a good birdseye view of yourself and your friends.

The story is laid in 1831 in rural Indiana—then the western frontier of the United States. Political parties were largely dominated by organized bands of robbers. The farmers had a hard time keeping up with their superstitions and the most unwelcome arrival was he who brought new ideas into the community. And as for education, it was a case of "lickin' and larnin', lickin' and larnin'," the good old way.

Ralph Hartsook, a bookish man with a high sense of moral obligation but "not much in a tussle," drifts into Flat Creek district and before he leaves he demonstrates that "larnin'" is a keener edged tool than "lickin'." But which is important to the story—even before the arrival of the schoolmaster in Flat Creek, Hannah Thompson, a girl educated beyond her surroundings, sensitive and of a retiring disposition, is bound out as a servant in the Means household. She becomes a drudge and a slave because she is not made of the stuff necessary to combat the brutality of the Means. Under the soiled clothes of the bound girl Ralph sees the "queen rose of the rosebud garden of girls." Strong as her aversion is to education, Mrs. Means does not object to taking it into the family, and she plans that Ralph marry her daughter. Where ignorance errs vanity is wise. She detests Ralph as a schoolmaster, but would boast of him as a son-in-law. The situation of Sis Means, egged on by her mother playing for the favor of Ralph, and Ralph, his heart burning up for love of the bound girl, doing his best to maintain peace with the Means—the situation gives rise to a sequence of the richest comedy.

branch office of the Automobile club has been opened, is planning to pass a bond issue for new highways.

VACANT LOTS TO BLOOM

PROPERTY OWNERS SHOULD FOLLOW EXAMPLE—RESULTS SOON FOLLOW

The vacant lot at the corner of Broadway and Louise next to the Pulliam Undertaking company's building has been plowed up and sowed to Payne's mixture. This is not a brand of tobacco, but a mixture of flower seeds recommended for planting on vacant lots for quick results by Theodore Payne of Los Angeles, who has published a little pamphlet entitled "How to Beautify Your Town and County for 1915." Mr. Payne says the time is too short to plant trees and shrubs to make any showing for the coming summer and the way to make the best of things at this late day is to sow all waste ground to California wild flowers or other annuals that will blossom in a few months from the time of sowing and that are typical of this state.

The lot in question is one of the first in Glendale to be so treated, and in a few months it will be a beauty spot indeed, the California poppy, the blue lupine, the blazing star and other California wild flowers vying with each other in attracting the gaze of all who love the beautiful, and making a blaze of color in the landscape.

Other Southern California cities are taking up this work also. In Monrovia the property owners are doing the work and recently two entire blocks in that city were planted to wild flowers.

NORTH GLENDALE

Miss Marjory Duncan of 1600 Ruth street was taken seriously ill Friday evening while singing at the Palace Grand theater. Miss Duncan has been suffering from a severe cold and the exposure of Friday evening resulted in a relapse and to the regret of her many friends will be confined to her home for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Cresson Muller and Mr. and Mrs. George P. Rueter, all of Fairview avenue, are guests of Mrs. J. Hearnshaw of Lomita avenue this evening at a beautifully appointed dinner and card party in honor of the birthday of Mr. Hearnshaw, who celebrates today.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Miller of 1604 Fairmont avenue were dinner guests of Mr. Tom Rolfe, one of the caste in the Kolb & Dill company, now playing at the Morosco. Mr. and Mrs. Miller also were guests of Mr. Rolfe at the theater, where they had a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. Daniels of Los Angeles has traded property in the west end of the city for the Charles E. Huey property on Fairview avenue, and with his family have made their home in North Glendale.

Mrs. Lucius F. Drake and daughters, Miss Lulu and Miss Frances, are spending the week at Bellflower, where they are guests of Mr. Drake's sister, Mrs. F. Dove and family.

Mrs. James Cooper of 1017 Melrose avenue is entertaining as her house guest Mrs. M. I. Jackson of Riverside.

LAST DAYS OF POMPEII SUNDAY ATTRACTION AT MAJESTIC

There will be three shows at the Majestic theater, 1105 West Broadway, Sunday, at 2:30, 7:00 and 8:30. Manager Lowe has secured as an added attraction Sunday the famous picture, "The Last Days of Pompeii." This picture is probably the most costly of modern productions, the expense of the making of the film totaling $250,000, and the production includes 10,000 people and 260 big scenes, in which is shown the historic Roman arena in all its grandeur, the fighting gladiators and thrilling chariot races, the lions turned loose on the heroic Glaucus, the city of Pompeii before and after the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius.

Tonight's attraction is Robert Warwick in "The Dollar Mark," which pleased an appreciative audience last evening.

ANOTHER PICTURE COMPANY TO MOVE TO GLENDALE

M. Morris Cytron, formerly with the Usona Film company of Glendale, is now connected with the Eclair Film company of Fort Lee, N. J., and Paris, France. Mr. Cytron is in advance of the company two weeks and is in Glendale today (Saturday) trying to make arrangements for the moving of the studios now at Tucson, Ariz., to Glendale, which studio will soon be moved from Arizona to California. Should Glendale secure this company, it would be a great addition to the moving picture population, as sixty-five people are regularly employed in the four companies operating out of the Eclair studio at Tucson.

The proposed location of the Eclair company is the studio formerly occupied by the Usona company on Ninth street.

FRANK SEGAR

Mr. Paul Frank of 1472 West Second street, Glendale, and Miss Grace Segar were united in marriage this afternoon at the bride's home on Pico street, Los Angeles. HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE DEBATE WILL TAKE PLACE FRIDAY JANUARY FIFTEENTH

The league debate of the high schools will take place on Friday, January 15th. There are fifteen high schools in this league and Glendale is one of them. The question comes from Berkeley and is opened just one week before the debate takes place. The question this year, which was opened on Friday, is: "Resolved, That the federal government should acquire all interstate public telegraph lines and operate them in connection with the post-office."

The affirmative debaters chosen for Glendale are Samuel Durand and Darwin Kirschmann, and they will debate with Pomona at the Glendale Union high school on Friday evening. The negative debaters to represent Glendale are Truman Bennett and Carol Willisford, and they will debate with Long Beach on Friday at the Long Beach high school.

This debate will be interesting and should receive the support of Glendale people in order to encourage the young speakers. There will be no admission charge and it is hoped that the auditorium will be filled to capacity on Friday night.

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY DAY AT SAN DIEGO EXPOSITION

San Fernando valley day at the San Diego exposition would be great. The idea has suggested itself to us, and we hope it can be worked out.

The hopeful towns in the valley could furnish a large turnout. Many features are possible to be presented on such an occasion that would give wide publicity to the valley. The trip, by motor, rail or water, is delightful, the distance is not too great and the cost could be kept within a limit that would allow a large representative attendance. Here is a fruitful field of endeavor for the San Fernando valley federated commercial bodies. Let us get busy.—Van Nuys News.

ATTENDED CONCERT

Madame Heinrich, wife of the famous musician, came from San Diego to attend the Brahms' quintet concert on Friday afternoon in Los Angeles, and also attended the meeting of the Friday Morning club in the forenoon. A number of Glendale ladies belong to the Friday Morning club and will be interested to know that Madame Heinrich thinks so much of the ability of the quintet that she comes all the way from San Diego to hear the concert.

LOS ANGELES NOW NINTH CITY

Los Angeles stands ninth now in the list of cities of the United States, and it is possible it will stand eighth when the full reports from other cities are in. At the last census Los Angeles stood tenth, but now it is easily ninth in the line. This is the way the city auditor of Los Angeles lists the cities: New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Detroit, Los Angeles and Pittsburgh.

SONS OF VETERANS TO INSTALL

On Tuesday evening, January 12, the N. P. Banks Camp, Sons of Veterans, will hold their installation of officers for the year 1915. Several candidates will also be obligated. The meeting will be restricted to the members of affiliated patriotic societies.

Miss Rich has been intensely interested in the conservation of the American home as the greatest power for the upbuilding of the Nation, and she speaks with authority on home economics as being a vital factor in increasing the efficiency of the home. It is expected that all who are interested in questions pertaining to the home, whether members of the P. T. A. or not, will be present.

Mr. Francis will occupy the pulpit at both services tomorrow. The morning subject will be "The Value of a Life of Service." In the evening the topic will be "God's Everlasting Love." The Bible school hour is 9:30 and a reform is needed in the matter of getting there on time. A little harder effort in the matter of getting up these short days will get you there in time for the opening exercises, which is most desirable. The C. E. hour has been changed from 6:45 to 6:30. At the communion service tomorrow morning the church will be presented with a beautiful individual communion service. New members will be received into the church and the ordinance of baptism will be administered.

CONTRADICTIONS IN THE BIBLE

Sunday morning at the local Baptist church Pastor Troy will preach on "Contradictions in the Bible," a sermon of great value to Christian workers and especially as a preparation for the coming Brown and Curry union revival. Suggestions along the line of rightly handling the Bible will be given, such help as will be greatly appreciated by earnest workers and prevent embarrassments in dealing with the unsave. You can't afford to miss the opportunity of Sunday morning. Rev. L. P. Valentine, specialist of the Baptist denomination on young people's work, will deliver a great message at the Sunday evening service. Pastor Troy will be present and the B. Y. P. U. will have their evening for which they have so long planned. The public is invited to an unique service at which the young people will shine. Good singing in charge of Prof. Cunningham. Bible school at 9:30. Mr. Roy Kent, superintendent, extends a hearty welcome to all, old and young.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASS

The men's class of Central Christian church will hold its January business meeting at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The principal order of business will be the election of officers of the class for the coming year, and to talk over ways and means for the upbuilding of the class both spiritually and numerically. While the average attendance of this class is thirty-five men, it can be increased to twice this number with only a little work on the part of all its members. The interest in the study of "The Acts" has been unflagging. Mr. Francis handles the class with splendid diplomacy, so that no man is ever embarrassed with questions of which he is compelled to show ignorance, and on the other hand the rein is held taut when the debate threatens to be too protracted on any subject of not very vital interest. Several of the men show great familiarity with the scriptures, which is a stimulant to those who are anxious to learn more. Let every man who has enrolled in this class and all others who would like to do so, come to this meeting tomorrow afternoon.

HOBO HAS BIG SUM

With $605 in "yellow backs" composing a roll of proportions in his possession, a hobo with such visible means of support was arrested by Detective Golding the other evening just as the man was preparing to go to sleep under the Maier pier in Venice. The disguised financier gave his name as George Rowland of Seranton, Pa. He told the officers that the horde of currency represented his savings since his departure from his home, working his way among the ranches as a farm hand. Rowland was told not to practice his frugal habits in Venice, as a mere precaution for his own safety, and floated out of the city.

THE REASON WHY

Do you know that practically every article of your wearing apparel was sewn on a SINGER Machine? Department Stores use SINGER Machines in their Factories and Fitting Rooms. Ask your modiste, your corsetiere, your shoemaker, your furrier, what sewing machines they use. They will say "THE SINGER." "There's a reason"—superior excellence. Possibly you have an old sewing machine or one that is not satisfactory. Do you know that a fair allowance will be made for it in exchange for an up-to-date SINGER at the Singer Store, 1020 West Broadway? E. J. Upham, Sunset phone 656W. SOMEBODY'S FATHER

Into the club where the suffrage girls Gather at dusk each day For a quiet smoke and a nip and a chat

Or a hand at bridge to play, Wandered a man in a green plush hat And an awning pattern tie, And he stared at the portrait of Mrs. Catt

With a brutal leer in his eye.

"Get hence—get hence," said the president,

"This is no place for things like you. So hence and hitherward—get."

'Twas a bitter night and the winds were chill,

And he shivered and begged to stay,

But she indicated a door marked "Push,"

And haughtily turned away.

Then up spoke a dame with a monocle

And her voice was clear and brave; Her eyes were bright as the gems she wore,

And her hair in a marcel wave.

"Listen a moment, girls," she said;

"It's a perfectly terrible night;

Let him crouch by the fire till the rain is done;

Let us do what we think is right!"

"He was somebody's father once—

Suppose it was one of our dads, Wearing a hat and a tie like that

And the suit of cubist plaids; Maybe they cried when he went away

Alone in the storm to roam; Lead him down to the grill cafe,

'They are waiting for him at home!

"Somebody's father; once on a time

He shofered a baby's tram, And paid the rent and the gas and things—

Now nobody gives a hang. If he's dead or alive or stony broke,

Hungry and old and gray; Give him the trundle bed under the bar—

Let somebody's father—stay!"

PROPOSE CHANGES IN MOTHERS' PENSION LAW

Two measures to effect changes in the mothers' pension law are proposed by members of the assembly. McDonald of San Francisco is drafting a proposed amendment to the constitution which would impose a small tax of about one mill on each $100, the revenue to be added to the mothers' pension fund now derived from other sources. It is estimated that about $500,000 annually would be raised in this manner. The same amendment would change the law so that children fifteen years of age would receive the benefits of the law. Under the present system state aid stops when the child is fourteen.

Assemblyman Wishard of this district proposes a bill to extend state aid to mothers who are abandoned by their husbands, with the proviso that children of such mothers are not to be taken from them and placed in state institutions. Wishard also be-leaves some provision should be made for the acceptance and disbursement of bequests that may be made by wealthy persons for the support of such children as come under the operation of the mothers' pension act. He has suggested a commission to handle such money, but the opposition of the administration to creation of any more commissions may make it necessary to devise another plan of disbursing the funds.

some one's lap, bracing your limbs against a lady or girl scholar, or standing on the running board. We furnish late night service, running many empty cars to La Crescenta and to Eagle Rock to accommodate the few belated passengers. The stage line operates only during those hours when traffic is heavy and the operation is profitable. At night, when operating is conducted at a big loss, the auto bus lets the public walk. Which form of transportation best serves your real interest? Whether or not the auto bus company is unincorporated and irresponsible for damages, etc., in operating for public hire, it becomes a public utility and should serve the public's interest in operating during the late hours. Is it right they should be permitted to be "restricted" to operate only during the cream of the traffic, while we are compelled to make late runs where it costs 75 cents in expenses for every nickel collected?

For nine months in 1914 the president of this company maintained Verdugo park as a free public recreation ground at a personal loss of $900, furnishing swings, installing rest-rooms and keeping the grounds clean, both physically and morally, with a park attendant constantly on hand to preserve order and cater to the public's pleasure. What did the "jitney" owners do to further the social life and popularity of Glendale?

We also paid $3000 towards the paving of Broadway and are expecting to be soon called upon for another contribution for paving Glendale avenue. These improvements add but little to our revenue, while they are of great use to our stage competitors. What have they contributed towards the upbuilding of our city?

Last summer, when the Monte Vista Stage company was forced by a competing auto line to operate only from our La Crescenta terminal to Little Landers and Sunland, they frequently assured the writer they were making a greater net profit than by operating through to Glendale. That being the case, I respectfully submit that in view of the serious financial injury caused this company by the operation of the busses in Glendale, without adding adequate benefits to this community, some action should be taken which will enable both transportation concerns to live, each being compelled to operate in their proper field and in the territory best suited to their respective equipments. In this way the stage line and the railway company can work harmoniously and with profit to each, with no loss to the Glendale public nor to the inhabitants of the La Crescenta and Monte Vista valleys. In that event this corporation shall gladly continue to co-operate with you in the advancement and welfare of the city, to maintain our present efficient service and constantly strive to improve same. Are not such results better for all parties, more especially the citizens of Glendale, than to have our present property deteriorate and again become the butt and ridicule of the community?

Most of the moving pictures that the world sees bear the made-in-California label.

A bill will be introduced in the California legislature to compel every youth in the state to learn some trade—even though he aspires to professional life. Good idea.

OPEN LETTER TO EDITOR

A MOTION PICTURE DIRECTOR ASKS FAIR DEAL FOR LOCAL THEATERS

Dear Sir: As the Sunday opening of the moving picture theaters of Glendale seems to have caused a great deal of unpleasant criticism, I take the liberty of writing you a few facts about the business, which I hope you, through your paper, will allow the public of Glendale to look over before taking action in regard to closing said theaters.

First, it seems a pity that after a gentleman investing big money in a business in this little city in a theater, that any city, whatever size, might be proud of, he should meet with anything but thanks and encouragement on behalf of the public. I have been in the theatrical business for over twenty years and it is a gamble at the best. The expenses are heavy and Sunday was many times the means of keeping a theater open that otherwise would have to close.

I have not the pleasure of knowing Mr. Jensen, but I admire his pluck in building a theater in a little place like Glendale, and he should have the encouragement of every man, woman and child that has the welfare of the city at heart. He is providing the best of entertainment at a cheap price. I have reason to know he pays a big rental for said pictures, and no doubt right now is losing money on his investment.

Would you close Verdugo park on Sundays? Would you stop the baseball game there? Why pick on the picture theaters?

As a humble director for the Kalem company, well known here, I wish to ask why it is that picture people are picked out as undesirable. Kalem company spends thousands of dollars in California, a great deal of which is spent in Glendale proper. They have a salary list of over a thousand dollars weekly, most of which I warrant is spent in Glendale. They afford employment for many Glendale citizens, yet I have occasion to know there are quite a number of people who would like to see the studio located outside of the city.

Do you or the public consistently believe that by keeping the theaters of Glendale closed on Sunday that it will add to the attendance of the churches? Do you think it will do any real good? Los Angeles is near, very near, and contains many places far worse than moving picture theaters, easily reached and sometimes found because of lack of amusement in our own city. Why not let the people choose for themselves, amuse themselves as they wish. The managers of the theaters I am sure will not drag anyone into them on Sunday that do not care to go. I am sure all they want is an even break; this I believe is coming to them without the asking. Let those that care not for the theater know it not; but why, oh, why, try to prevent those who care to enjoy themselves from doing so? It seems to be as long as the people refrain from breaking laws they have the right to choose their own amusement or even spend their Sunday as they want to.

Unfortunately I have to work many Sundays—a number of your citizens are made to work with me. I can safely say we would much rather go to church or see a picture show, as the case may be, but nevertheless we have to work.

In closing let me appeal to you as editor of the Glendale Evening News, as well as to the public, to give these men a fair deal. Let them keep their place of business open. The public will soon show them if they want Sunday amusement or not. If the people don't attend, they will undoubtedly close up. Let that be the vote on the matter.

Sincerely yours,
Adv. JAMES W. HORNE.

STOP HOARDING BUFFALO NICKELS

Not many buffalo nickels appear to be in general circulation in this city. This would seem to indicate that some people here, as in other places, are hoarding them with the idea that the coins will become so scarce they will command a premium after a few years.

But it's a vain idea. "I do not know why people are storing buffalo nickels, if they are," said a banker today. "They will not be of more value than five cents."

Uncle Sam will bear out the words of the banker, so those who are hoarding buffalo nickels might as well quit right now. Nobody can get a corner on these coins. Every mint in the United States is turning them out by tens of thousands every day.

There are two coinages of these buffalo nickels. The first was in 1912. It lasted about two months, when the dies were changed. It was thought advisable to alter slightly the ground upon which the bison stands. Collectors have been particularly anxious to get nickels of that early coinage. But it will be years before these nickels become scarce. No fewer than 38,400,000 of them were issued.
