New Home Being Planned For Tuesday Afternoon Club

Building To Cost About $50,000 and Will Provide for Future Growth of the Club—Ways and Means Discussed Relative to the Financing of Same

The note of spring was everywhere in evidence yesterday at the noon luncheon of the Tuesday Afternoon Club, in the Masonic Temple, where members met to discuss the advisability of building their new club home this year. The hostesses had adorned the prettily appointed tables in the club colors, yellow and green, using long sprays of yellow climbing rose running down the center. The pretty spring costumes and gay Easter hats of the 200 members grouped about the tables accentuated further the spring-time note of life renewed and begun afresh, and the luncheon itself was also in keeping with the season.

The hospitality committee who were hostesses of the day, did themselves proud in the appetizing three-course luncheon they served, whose menu included a salad course, meat loaf, creamed potatoes, hot biscuits, relishes, coffee and a fruit dessert with homemade cake. All of the lunch was homemade for that matter, including the hot biscuits, which were so good the guests, like Oliver Twist, kept calling for "More"—and they were more fortunate than poor little Oliver, for there were more plenty.

At the conclusion of the luncheon, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, president of the club, called the meeting to order. An expression of her appreciation of the elegant luncheon served by the hospitality committee brought prolonged applause, and the hospital committee finally emerged from the kitchen to bow their thanks. Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, chairman of the committee, announced that she had received one "tip." This remark was the inspiration for the passing about the tables of a plate for "tips," which, of course, the hospitality committee turned into the building fund, enriching it to the amount of $15.

Mrs. Hutchinson briefly reviewed the history of the club, from its inception to the present time, touching upon its early struggles, the progress it had made in financial matters as well as in growth of membership, its aims and ideals and the benefit it had been to its members and to the community. She explained that she had chosen as an advisory building committee the past presidents and past chairmen of ways and means.

Mrs. A. M. Hunt, treasurer of the club reported that money on hand, including $2300 in Liberty bonds, $1500 on deposit and nearly $700 in the general fund, amounted to nearly $5000.

Mrs. C. H. Temple, chairman of ways and means reported from various entertainments and other sources a total of $2308.74.

Mrs. A. W. Tower, member of a

CAUGHT IN THE ACT OF BURGLARY

Two Boys of 19 Arrested With Stolen Property in Their Possession

Last night at about 9 o'clock as Louis Nunn of the Glendale Patrol and Dispatch was making his rounds he saw two persons lurking in the back yard at 317 West Doran, the home of W. L. Truitt. Waiting till they climbed over the fence into the alley he placed them under arrest and took them to police headquarters, where they were searched, the officers finding on them a complete wireless head set. They gave the names of Loren Noyes, 408 North Kenwood, Glendale, and of Vidan Miller, 1126 West Seventy-fourth street, Los Angeles. Each gave his age at 19. They had broken the lock of the wireless room used by Mr. Truitt's young son, who is an enthusiastic radio operator.

It is a sad pity that mere boys should engage in such a practice and it is sincerely hoped that they may be saved from going further along the downward path.

LOIS WEBER FILM AT PALACE GRAND

Lois Weber, starring in "What's Worth While" at the Palace Grand today, answers the question in a picture of gripping situations and episodes of real heart interest. The story does not preach at one, yet inspires serious thought. This popular star wins fresh laurels in this new picture, produced by her own company, and shown today for the last time.

Johnny Hines in "Torchy's Night-hood," is a mirth-provoking feature of the bill, and there is a good orchestra program.

A. O. U. W. WILL MEET ON THURSDAY, APRIL 6

The recently organized Glendale lodge No. 2, A. O. U. W., of which J. F. McBryde is master workman, will hold its regular meeting in the hall at Brand boulevard and Park avenue, on Wednesday evening, April 6.

A number of new candidates will be initiated and Stage Manager E. T. Lisle will assist in exemplifying the work of the order.

LATE TELEGRAPH NEWS IN BRIEF

TEX RICKARD TO NAME SITE
NEW YORK, March 30.—Tex Rickard will name the site of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight April 9. The fight will be held in the United States.

These announcements were made by the promoter today in response to a query regarding when he expected to name the location of the championship contest.

"I have details connected with the promotion of the contest practically settled," said Rickard, "but there are a few odds and ends to be gathered up before the site is announced. I will positively announce the site on April 9. I can say also that the fight will be held in the United States."

Rickard's announcement means that offers from Canada and England for the match have been turned down by him. He will promote the fight himself as he originally planned to do and will build an arena seating 60,000 or more.

BURROUGHS' FUNERAL SUNDAY

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., March 30.—John Burroughs, famous naturalist, who died yesterday on a train enroute home from California, will be buried Sunday, the day on which he would have been 84 years of age, at Roxbury, in the Catskills, near the spot where he was born.

Funeral services, which will be simple and private according to his own wish, are to be held Saturday afternoon at his West Park home.

Thomas A. Edison, Henry Ford and Harvey S. Firestone, for several years past Burroughs' camp companions, will attend the funeral.

SEARCH MISSING IN AIRPLANE

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 30.—Naval seaplanes and dirigibles were today continuing their search of swamps near Apalachicola for the five naval balloonists who have been missing a week. Naval officials here, however, expressed the belief that if the men descended in a swamp they have perished.

The big dirigible C-7, equipped with wireless, put out from here today to aid in the search.

Naval officials here believe that the cries heard coming from a swamp near the Jackson river came from the missing balloonists, but expressed little hope that the men would be found alive.

TRACK MEET OF TWO GRAMMAR SCHOOLS

Intermediate Is Too Strong for Cerritos and Wins by Score of 51 to 8

The track meet between Intermediate and Cerritos teams, Tuesday afternoon, proved quite an interesting event although not an even contest because Intermediate has the stronger organization as shown by the score which was 51 to 8 in favor of Intermediate. Some of the Cerritos contestants did excellent work, however, and much credit is due their coach, William Samis. The score in detail follows:

100-yard dash—L. Shannon (I.), first; Ryan (C.), second; Brown (I.), third.

220-yard dash—Shannon (I.), first; Gibson (C.), second; Lovell (I.), third.

440-yard dash—Muff (I.), first; Cressey (I.), second; Quinn (I.), third.

380-yard dash—Muff (I.), first; Dewey (I.), second; Brown (I.), third.

Broad jump—Martinez (I.), first; Eckles (I.), second; Roberts (I.), third.

High jump—Dean (I.), first; Martinez (I.) and Steelman (C.), tied for second and third.

Relay team, 4 men, 220-yards each, won by Intermediate—Shannon, Quinn, Cressey and Lovell.

Cerritos' team consisted of Moniot, Gibson, Ryan and Sprenger. The illness of Richard Ryan, a star member, was a serious handicap to the Cerritos team. Other boys who made good records for Cerritos were: Tyler Gibson and Charley Steelman. A number of the Intermediate boys did fine work. Lee Shannon performed in his usual style, winning both sprints and also running a good lap in the relay. Elmer Muff is said to be one of the most promising track athletes that has gone forth from Intermediate. He won the 440 and half-mile dash, and is really a star at all distances. Noel Dean a B-7 boy, is also a comer and athletic. He is a very good natural jumper and with training will probably make a star. Leonel Martinez, who won first on broad jump and tied in high jump, has a good future. N. R. Whytock, who is the Intermediate coach should feel much encouraged by the work his boys are doing.

"THE DEVIL TO PAY" AT GLENDALE THEATER

"The Devil to Pay," shown for the last time at the Glendale theater today, contains one of the most amazing climaxes terminating one of the most unusual melodramatic plots ever seen on the stage. Yesterday's audiences sat spellbound through the performances.

Robert Brunton presents this picture with an all-star cast that makes it one of the outstanding features of the year, and one of the screen's greatest mystery photoplays. Lovers of mystery drama will not be disappointed in this picture.

The latest Rolin comedy, a Pathe Review, and a special organ number by Mme. Clement, "My Mother's Evening Prayer," complete the bill.

REQUIEM MASS FOR CARDINAL TOMORROW

BALTIMORE, Md., March 30.—The last services preceding the culminating funeral ceremonies for James Cardinal Gibbons, began at 10 a. m. today, with mass at the cathedral for the laity. When services opened, the edifice was thronged while crowds stood outside the nave and overflowed on the broad steps leading to the main entrance.

The funeral mass of requiem will be held tomorrow.

At the hour for the beginning of the funeral, citizens of the state of Maryland, paused for one minute to pay silent tribute to the memory of the prelate-citizen.

Tomorrow's services will be attended by representatives of foreign countries and city officials.

NEW $100,000 BANK FOR GLENDALE

As we go to press information is received that a charter has been granted for a new state bank in Glendale with a capital stock of $100,000. No details have been given out as to the stockholders or possible officers, nor has the location of the bank been fixed. The one definite fact is that Glendale is to have a new bank.

City to Be Congratulated On New Charter For Glendale

Bonds to the Amount of $100,000 Authorized for Extension and Improvement of Our Water Supply and Development of the System

Voters of Glendale are to be congratulated on the adoption of the charter by a large majority yesterday. This proposition carried in every precinct, an indication that the people of Glendale have given thought to this matter and realize its importance in giving this growing city larger powers and greater chance for development.

Number two of the alternative proposition ballot also carried, and is a measure important to the growth of the city. It provides that the cost of all local service mains hereafter installed, shall be paid by local assessment on the property served by such mains.

The water bonds carried by a large majority. Their defeat would have been disastrous to the future growth of Glendale, for without power to develop and extend her water works system, Glendale would come to a standstill, or, indeed, go backward.

The civic center, the parks and the bonds to provide a city garage, were defeated.

NEW TRAFFIC LAW READY FOR PASSAGE

Judge Lowe is justly elated over the modifications made in the new state traffic law now before the legislature for action, at his suggestion.

When the law was first drafted a copy of it was sent to Judge Lowe by Mr. Faries of the Auto Club of Southern California for his opinion. Among the recommendations that he made was that no operator's license should be granted to anyone under 18 and that the commission should have the right to examine every applicant on both mental and physical characteristics; that all fines assessed go to the municipalities where the offenses were committed; that the provision to the effect that all speed traps be not less than half a mile in length, even in crowded business and residential districts, that being left to the discretion of the local authorities; and that an appeal could be taken by a person convicted of an offense against the traffic laws, to the courts of his home country, even if entirely across the state, and all witnesses be required to attend the new hearing in the distant county. It is hard to believe that such ridiculous provisions as the latter could have been seriously proposed, but so it was. It speaks well for the soundness of new legislation proposed when debatable provisions are remitted to the judgment of officers of the courts, such as Judge Lowe.

There seems to be little doubt that the measure will pass in its present form.

RUPERT HUGHES AT GLENDALE HIGH

The novelist and playwright, Rupert Hughes, addressed students of Glendale high school at a special assembly at 1:15 o'clock today. His philosophic talk was entertaining and an account of it will be published tomorrow.

PROTEST GRANT TO LOS ANGELES

VISALIA, March 30.—Resolutions adopted at a meeting here last night of representatives of commercial and civic organizations and city and county governments of the entire San Joaquin Valley protesting against the federal government granting the city of Los Angeles any right, title or interest in water resources of the Sierra Nevada mountains and adjacent valleys were forwarded to Washington today. The resolutions declare the recent filings on such water by the southern city are unwarranted, unnecessary and will operate to deprive valley cities and counties of future use of the streams and their power development. The city of Los Angeles last November filed claim under the federal water power act to nearly all of the remaining water sites in the Sierras, it was claimed by speakers at the meeting last night. It was decided, if necessary, to send delegations to Washington to protest.

SOLD HIS LEASE TO PIGGLY WIGGLY

S. L. Walker of Walker's Market, 115 South Brand, has sold his lease to the Piggly Wiggly Company, which operates a chain of groceries all over the country. They will take possession early in May.

Mr. Walker has one of the largest stocks of groceries in town and will begin a sale to dispose of it on Saturday at prices that will soon move it out of the store.

REALTORS OPPOSE TAXPAYERS' EFFORTS

A protest has gone up over the effort on the part of the Taxpayers' Association to do away with the state real estate commission as a matter of economy. A letter addressed to the Glendale realty board by R. Porter Giles which is headed "S. O. S." has been transmitted to all members of the local organization. It urges immediate action to prevent "our real estate license commission from being wiped out and its good work in the past years nullified by belittling it as a mere branch of another department of state government."

EFFORT TO ABOLISH GAME COMMISSION

The fishing season opens in the Ventura district April 1, and with that thought in mind, members of the chamber of commerce directorate were somewhat divided in mind at their luncheon Tuesday (which was reported exclusively in the Glendale Press on that day), relative to action on a bill now before the California legislature to abolish the present state game commission and consolidate it as a bureau under a department of agriculture. The directorate was asked to pass a resolution of protest against the bill. Mr. Huntley, as a good sportsman, was disposed to favor such a protest, but a motion by Dan Campbell to table won when the vote was taken, Mr. Campbell declaring that the numerous and expensive state commissions must be weeded out or the state will go bankrupt, and he could see no reason why the work of the game commission could not as well be carried on by a bureau under the agricultural department.

SIR WILFRED PEEK NOT DEAD

LONDON, March 30.—The military casualty report that Sir Wilfred Peek had been killed last week during a clash between Sinn Feiners and military policemen was an error, it was revealed today. The account of the funeral revealed it was Capt. R. J. Peek and not Sir Wilfred who was killed.

Sir Wilfred, who is a relative of the slain officer, attended the funeral. The report that Sir Wilfred Peek had been shot to death was of unusual interest in the United States because he had married a St. Louis girl in 1913.

ORGANIZATION AND PROFESSIONAL IDEALS

The Glendale City Teachers' Club met in regular session yesterday afternoon, at the intermediate school. The meeting was well attended.

There was a social half-hour before the president, Miss Clara Midsalf, called the meeting to order. Miss Ida Iversen, president of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club was a guest at yesterday's meeting of the Glendale teachers. She gave an interesting talk on "Organization and Professional Ideals."

Several bills pending before the legislature were discussed by various members, and there was a short business session.

CHRISTIAN ALLIANCE ANNUAL CONVENTION

The annual convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance will be held in the tabernacle on Chestnut street, just east of Louise, beginning April 12 and lasting for a week. Rev. Lucius B. Compton, national evangelist; Dr. Blanchard, president of Wheaton, Ill. college, and other prominent workers will be present.

FOUR ACCUSED OF RAISING BILLS

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.—Four arrests—one at Del Monte and three at Fresno—has frustrated a plan to flood the state with raised bills, according to federal officers here today.

Peter Musladin, arrested at Del Monte, is credited with having been the "master mind" behind the scheme. Musladin is already under heavy ball on a similar charge brought against him in San Francisco a few weeks ago.

The three under arrest at Fresno gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cone and J. Brenn. They are alleged to have been hired to pass $1 bills raised by a clever method to $50 notes.

W. P. Walsh, a secret service operative from Los Angeles, made the arrest, assisted by the local police. He seized at Del Monte an outfit alleged to have been used by Musladin to raise the bills. According to Walsh the spurious greenbacks are exceptionally deceptive and flaws can only be detected under close scrutiny.

Glendalian Director of Belgian Relief In Europe

Walter L. Brown Makes Trips All Over Europe in the Interest of Work Under Herbert Hoover—Before the War Was a Mining Engineer in Africa

The following letter received by Mrs. J. B. Brown of 408 North Maryland, whose son, Walter L. Brown, with his wife and two children are in London, will be of interest to Glendalians. Howard L. Brown of 406 North Maryland, is a brother and with his mother, recently erected two beautiful homes on adjoining lots on Maryland avenue. Before the great war, Walter L. Brown was mining engineer for a large group of mines in Africa, but when Herbert Hoover called for men to assist in the relief work in Belgium, he called for Walter Brown, and like every good American he answered the call and during the war was director of Belgian relief in Europe with headquarters in Rotterdam. His services were so valuable that Mr. Hoover urged him to continue in the relief work and at the present time Mr. Brown is director for Europe of the American Relief Administration, The Belgium Relief Commission and the Child's Welfare Work, with headquarters in London. Mr. Brown makes trips over all parts of Europe in the interests of relief work under Herbert Hoover, and the letter, written by Mrs. Brown tells something of the way in which he is received.

39 Sloane Gardens, London, S. W.,
March 4th.

Dear Mother Brown:

I am afraid it has been a long time since I have written to you—though perhaps I wrote while we were on our trip, did I? We left on January 15, and were away just four weeks, going to Paris, Vienna, Buda-Pest, Prague, Warsaw, Wanzig, Berlin and Hamburg. It was the most interesting trip I have ever taken, and I enjoyed every moment of it. We have special passports, with diplomatic visas, which makes traveling very easy. Also we get "Caiser" passers' privileges so that our luggage is not opened at the frontiers. In Prague (the capitol of Czecho-Slovakia), we are always received like royalty! This time we were taken to the opera, sitting in the royal box. Had a luncheon given for us by the president at the castle, and were taken to the country to visit a beautiful chateau, which was the summer home of Archduke Ferdinand, where we had lunch, and were shown over the castle, which had been especially opened up for us.

I could write a book on our experiences, and perhaps shall some day. Walter worked all day, and in the evening we went out to dinner or the opera. In Vienna the opera is beautiful, wonderful singers, orchestra, and setting. We went every evening we were there. It is probably the best opera in the world today. We heard Salome, with an orchestra of a hundred pieces, and Strauss himself, conducting. Of course, the cost is so high that the Viennese cannot go, and the opera house is filled with foreigners to whom the prices are nothing. The Austrian currency is so depreciated, you know. Normally one used to get four crowns for a dollar, and now one gets eight hundred! As the cheapest seat costs 60 crowns you can imagine what life means to the Austrians.

While in Vienna we were given a private view of their wonderful collection of tapestries from earliest Flemish to late French Gobelin. These have always been in the Hapsburg palaces and have not become the property of the government. They are in the Velueve palace, the town residence of the archduke, and very beautiful it is. These tapestries are the finest collection in the world, and are almost priceless. It is very sad to see these once gay and prosperous countries practically bankrupt.

We went from Warsaw to Dantzig, in a beautiful private car, so that I had a real bed to sleep in. When we arrived at the station in Warsaw to take the train, to our astonishment there were gathered several hundred children, who presented us with flowers, and Walter with illuminated addresses! Walter, as representing Mr. Hoover, of course, for Mr. Hoover's name is like magic all through that part of the world. These little children sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in Polish. Also other songs. We were both so touched we nearly cried, and Walter refused to speak, so I had to do the thanking in French. I wish we could tell you all about it.

We found both children well and happy on our return. Betty had gone to her school as a boarder, and baby and Nanny stayed here in the house. We had hardly got home though before Walter found he had to go straight back to Poland and he is there now. However, I hope he will be back here next week, as it was only to be a short trip.

"Dr. Alonzo Taylor, who writes in the Saturday Evening Post, arrives here tomorrow. He is one of the patrons of this work.

"Some friends of ours, the Knechts (Mrs. K. was a Miss Donnell) of Los Angeles, went home to California last September, after 12 years in South Africa. They meant to live and educate their children in California, but now they are on their way back to South Africa. They say conditions are too hard at home, that servants are practically impossible to get, and the public schools make the children rough, on account of the various kinds of people who attend them. We were most interested to get their point of view. Here one can get servants only with great difficulty, and must have many. I have five to run this house.

"Princess Mary presented the prizes at Betty's school the other day. It was a great event. Betty got a prize and had to make a low curtsy and back away, as though she were being presented at court! Lord Robert Cecil made a speech, and the Bishop of London officiated. The school is a Church of England one, so Betty is being well taught in Bible history, etc. It is an excellent school, and you can imagine the excitement of having the princess come."

MONTANA MAN BUYS ACREAGE

Railroad Engineer Who Will Be Retired in Four Years Buys for a Home

C. H. Thompson reports the sale of 2½ acres of the Smalley ranch in Sycamore canyon to J. F. Mercer of Montana, who bought on the eve of leaving for the north in the expectation of building upon his property when he returns next fall. Mr. Mercer is a railroad engineer in the service of the Northern Pacific and goes back to take up his regular summer run. In four years he expects to be retired by the company with a pension for life and then he plans to settle down to the cultivation of his 2½ acres.

Mr. Thompson also reports the sale of a modern house at the corner of Pacific and California to Mr. Enstey. He has recently rented the furnished house owned by Mr. Smith at 1020 South Glendale avenue to J. H. Buchenau, recently from Portland, Ore., but originally from Oklahoma. Mr. Buchenau who has been engaged in the title abstract business, may take up a similar line of work in Los Angeles.

Mr. Thompson, who owns property on North Brand is very optimistic about values there and says there is a great deal of inquiry and he has rejected several offers for his property. He also says there is constant call for lots improved with store buildings by persons desirous of renting same for business purposes.

PUTS HUSBAND'S FATE IN WIFE'S HANDS

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, March 30.—Commissioner Hayes placed the fate of Max Barrack of Chelsea, in the hands of his wife and gave him a week to find a job.

Barrack was arrested at his home after his wife had shown officers a still which Barrack had secreted in a trapdoor under the kitchen.

In court Mrs. Barrack said she had been forced to work at 20 cents an hour to support four children while her husband made moonshine. The prohibition officers made a collection for her children.

Commissioner Hayes denounced Barrack and told him that he must go to work, if only at ten cents a day, within a week. The commissioner placed Barrack in the custody of his wife and told her that he would let her decide what should be done with her husband.

ARREST LIMOUSINE POKER 'FOUR-SOME'

(By International News Service)

BOSTON, March 30.—A handsome limousine standing in Beacon street, Waban, attracted the attention of a policeman. He paused to watch awhile, saw two men get out and walk twice around the car and then get back inside.

Going closer, the officer peered inside and saw that the car held four men and that a foursome of poker was going forward merrily with real coins for chips. He arrested the four men.

WHAT THE Portland Cement Company SAYS

PORTLAND CEMENT ASSOCIATION
Merchants National Bank Building

California Hydro-Stone Company,
318 Central Building,
Los Angeles, California.

Los Angeles, March 29, 1921.

Gentlemen:—

It is gratifying to me to note the progress being made in the organization of your company, and it occurs to me that you may be interested in knowing the attitude of the Portland Cement Association towards this enterprise.

Let me say that the chief purpose of the Portland Cement Association is to promote good concrete; and that the Hydro-Stone building unit, as it has been extensively manufactured and sold throughout the United States and in Canada, represents good concrete in the fullest sense of the term. Hydro-Stone, therefore, has our unqualified endorsement and recommendation.

I believe that Southern California holds out greater opportunities for the manufacture and sale of high-grade building units than does any other section of the country.

To sum up, the unit you propose to manufacture is first class, your territory is the best, and the time is ripe. The California Hydro-Stone Company should be a big success.

Very truly yours,

H. H. FILLMORE, District Engineer

Glendale, California, March 29, 1921.

To the Citizens of Glendale:

We have investigated the application of the California Hydro-Stone Company for the location of their plant in Glendale, and it is our opinion that the proposition appears to be all that it is stated to be by Mr. Parks, president of the company.

Furthermore, we believe there is a market for this building product, and that the company, if properly managed, would be not only a benefit to Glendale, but would yield desired returns on an investment made in the company.

COMMITTEE ON CENSORSHIP,
GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
By JAS. M. RHOADES,
Secretary.

Are You Willing to Help a Good Thing Along?

We invite the people of Glendale and vicinity to investigate our proposition. You can make money by helping establish our plant here and you will do Glendale a great service

BIG THINGS FROM A SMALL BEGINNING

Every big proposition has been developed from a small beginning. We absolutely know the California Hydro-Stone Company's proposition is a big thing and will pan out big. Don't fail to get in on the ground floor. Remember, NOW IS THE TIME. We will gladly explain our proposition. We invite you to call at our office.

MISADVENTURES OF SCENARIO WRITER

J. P. Clark, a scenario writer, residing at 306 North Orange street, had the misfortune to be accidentally shot in the leg while on a hunting hike at La Crescenta recently. A heavy boot reduced the force of the bullet somewhat and prevented the shattering of the bone of the leg, but Mr. Clark is still confined to his home. His friends will watch with interest to see whether he utilizes the adventure in a moving picture story. He expects to be out before long. Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. T. P. Whitby and two sons, who have been visiting the Clarks since December, accompanied by Mrs. Clark are leaving Thursday for Redding, where the two ladies have a brother. From there Mrs. Whitby will return to her home in Pittsburg, Pa.

NO NOON-DAY FORUM TO BE HELD THURSDAY

For lack of a good speaker and other reasons, the chairman of the committee of arrangements for the mid-day forum of the chamber of commerce which was to have been held tomorrow at the Masonic Temple, was instructed to cancel all arrangements for one week with the understanding that the forum will take place next week Thursday at noon.

APPRECIATION OF JOHN BURROUGHS

Professor Alfred Cookman, instructor in general science in the Glendale high school, member of the California Audubon Society, the American Ornithologist Union, the Forest Association, etc., pays a tribute to the memory of John Burroughs:

"In the language of one of America's greatest lovers of nature, a man who got so close to the heart of Nature that he could hear, as no one else, its unutterable throbbings, its mighty pulsations of life.

"He was indeed one of Nature's noblemen, whose keen eye observed and gloried in the charms of varied pastoral scenes, whose listening ear heard and delighted in the caroling of the feathered songsters and the cadence of the murmuring streams. His ear caught the music of the breezes as they wandered through the boughs of the forest trees and while striking the tenderest chords on their Aeolian harps of russet brown leaves in the autumn of the year, they murmured to him their last farewell and whispered something like 'Eternity'.

"John Burroughs, scientist, naturalist, philosopher, lover of humanity—may thy name be held in everlasting remembrance."

Lafayette Gingerbread

This recipe was used by Mrs. Washington when Lafayette visited Fredericksburg, in 1824, and he was a guest at her home. It was contributed by the great-granddaughter of the physician of Mary, the mother of Washington.

One-half pound of butter, 1-2 pound sugar, 1 pint molasses, 1-2 pint of milk, 4 tablespoons ginger, 1 tablespoon cinnamon and mace mixed, 1 teaspoon rind of an orange or lemon, 1 teaspoon soda dissolved in a little water, 6 cups flour and 6 eggs. Cream the butter, sugar, spices and molasses together. Then add the well-beaten yolks, and the milk and the flour alternately, then whites of eggs well beaten—soda last. Beat all well. One pound of raisins may be added.

"DO NOT OPEN TILL AFTER CHRISTMAS"

Our mail service, from the local corners, clear up to the head of this great department of the government, is very efficient; comparatively few mistakes being made, considering the millions of pieces of mail handled each day. But when an error is made it is often so utterly ridiculous and unnecessary that one wonders how it could have happened. For instance, there was mailed at Ontario, a few days before Christmas a package directed very plainly to Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire, 326 East Colorado street, Glendale, Calif., with the admonition added, "Do not open till after Christmas." Possibly one of the various mail clerks who handled this package feared that the recipient might not heed the order so decided to send the package on a journey that would insure its not reaching destination until after the joyous day had passed, so he started it on a journey east. It visited St. Louis and other cities of the middle west, but finally wandered back this way and reached the owner yesterday. Over three months for that little journey of less than 50 miles. Luckily the present was not of a perishable nature, so it is being enjoyed by the receiver, even though so late in arriving.

MRS. GLOVER GIVES FIRST OF LUNCHEONS

Mrs. Charles L. Glover of 414 West Myrtle gave the first of a series of luncheons today. It was served about 1 o'clock and was a smart affair, a pink color scheme dominating floral decorations and table appointments. Places were laid for Mrs. Clarence Kaighin, Mrs. Jack Hearnshaw, Mrs. Charles Sanders, Mrs. H. Lee Clotworthy, Mrs. William Nash, Mrs. William Gibson and Miss Clara Ringert. Mrs. Glover recently entertained for the day, Mrs. Alfred Lent, her young son and daughter of Brooklyn, N. Y., who have been in Southern California for several weeks, making their headquarters in San Diego, and will soon leave for the east. Mrs. Lent is so charmed with Glendale she is considering the possibility of locating here when she returns to California next fall.

A banquet will be served at the close of the exercises and an interesting evening is promised.

THAT PAVING ON MAPLE STREET

It seems there was a reason for the reconstruction of the pavement of Maple street that was put in years ago and has now been remade to make it conform to the rest of the street. Complaint that it was an unnecessary expense was made at the last session of the board of trustees, but inquiry at the city hall reveals that this pavement which was of the old style oiled road with well-rounded crown, was badly worn and would have been so different in character and contour from the rest of the thoroughfare as to spoil the street had it been left. It was laid ten years ago and cost then 34 cents a square foot. In the repaving a credit of all that original cost has been allowed except 9 cents which it is figured the residents have gotten back in the use of the street all these years. Being thus practically reimbursed it was figured they would be willing to pay for the paving now that would harmonize with the rest of the street. The complete paving was not contemplated when the matter was originally considered, but the engineer who handled the job ruled it would be a very unsatisfactory piece of street work if carried through under any other plan, and therefore included the old paving in his estimates.

"GLEN AND DALE"

The convention committee for the coming State Christian Endeavor convention met Sunday afternoon at the Christian church and it was one of the most enthusiastic meetings of the committee. City Manager Watson was present as one of the newly elected members, also State Field Secretaries Paul C. Brown of Los Angeles and Harry Allan of San Francisco, as well as the state president, B. I. Valentine.

The publicity committee under the chairmanship of J. A. Newton was highly complimented on its work of publicity at Whittier last week. This committee is busy with "Glen and Dale," getting out stickers which will advertise Glendale and the coming convention June 5 to 29. Twenty-five thousand of these stickers will be distributed to Endeavorers to be used on letters which are sent out and large numbers will be given to business houses in Glendale to use on their mail. The cut shown above gives some idea of what the stickers look like and when it is known that they are in bright colors of yellow, red and green their attractiveness will give Glendale state-wide publicity. Large posters, 14 by 20 inches, of which the stickers are a copy, are being distributed to every Christian Endeavor Society in the state of California, and it won't be many days now before the entire state of California through its churches and Christian Endeavor societies will be looking towards "Glendale June 25 to 29." Watch for more from "Glen and Dale" in Thursday's paper.

THE FORD AGENCY DOES BIG BUSINESS

Mr. Lawrence of the Ford Agency, this city, is authority for the statement that the agency has sold this month, 92 cars in Glendale and vicinity. During the early part of the month ten touring cars were sold to one commercial house in Los Angeles and last week against the competition of Los Angeles dealers ten Ford coupes were sold to one concern. Mr. Lawrence also declared that cars are getting short and his agency is no longer able to make immediate delivery. He expects this condition to grow worse instead of better and says it behooves all intending purchasers to get their orders in early if they want to avoid disappointment.

UNION OF BALKANS IS NOW PROPOSED

By NEWTON C. PARKE, International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS, March 30.—With a view to setting up the "United States of the Balkans," discreet conversations have been opened between Belgrade and Sofia, according to information received in diplomatic circles here.

Bulgaria is credited with originating the proposal which is said to be finding many supporters in the new kingdom of Jugo-Slavia. The plan is to unite all the Southern Slavs, the Bulgars and the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes forming the new Jugo-Slavian monarchy in a loose confederation which would ultimately grow stronger and perhaps draw to it the kingdom of Rumania.

The new Bulgarian government is said to be promoting the plan as a guarantee against future wars with Serbia and at the same time as assurance against trouble with Greece or Rumania. The scheme made headway with difficulty at Belgrade because of the intense hatred between the two countries engendered by the recent war, but at last has won some support.

The artificiality of the new kingdom of Jugo-Slavia has caused the Belgrade government much trouble. Croatia has a strong separate movement and Belgrade has great difficulty in making herself respected at Zagreb. The Serbian advocates of the confederation believe such a move for the union of all southern Slavs would remove many of the difficulties now facing Belgrade.

Proponents of the confederation have approached allied representatives to learn whether any objection would come from the big powers. They argue that the creation of such a union would make it impossible for the Balkans to become the source of another world war.

"ATTRACTIVE NUISANCE DOCTRINE"

Under the "attractive nuisance doctrine," the New Haven Railroad company was assessed something over $11,000 damages in the New York Federal courts because a boy was injured by coming in contact with an electric wire belonging to the company while climbing a bridge in the Bronx, New York City, in quest of a pigeon perched on another wire.

The boy was David Fruchter, aged eight years at the time of the accident, June 9, 1916. He received in damages for injuries sustained $10,118. His father, Sam Fruchter, recovered $1,028 for loss of the boy's services and for medical expenditures. The cases were tried in the New York District court before a jury and damages were allowed against the railroad. The New York Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment January 21, 1921.

The New Haven railroad was electrified in 1912, and some of its wires were carried over the bridge at One Hundred and Forty-ninth street, New York City. Under this bridge runs the Harlem river branch of the New Haven railroad. The bridge is of steel, twenty-five feet high, with supporting columns having trellis work to steady the bridge and not as a scaling ladder for public use, and surmounted by horizontal chords two feet high, "constituting a dangerous obstacle to a climbing boy of Fruchter's age," said the railroad's brief.

Young Fruchter climbed into the superstructure of the bridge to reach a bird's nest. His attention was attracted to a pigeon roosting on a wire. He climbed out toward it, but the pigeon flew away and his hand came into contact with a live wire. It was so badly burned that amputation of the arm was necessary.

The railroad insisted it was not liable in damages because it was not the bridge nor the railroad wires which lured the boy to his injury, but the bird's nest and the bird. The boy was not invited to climb the bridge, neither was he licensed to do so. It denied knowledge that the boys were using its property as a playground. The railroad further denied that the strut, or wire support, was part of the bridge and that it was obliged to keep boys off the bridge. It claimed, also, that the New York State courts have steadfastly rejected the attractive nuisance doctrine.

WHAT IS EFFICIENCY?

Many people use the word "efficiency" without giving a thought to its meaning, and we always demand efficiency from others, being most careless about being efficient ourselves. What the world needs is more efficiency in everything. The following rules have been compiled by an exchange:

- "Efficiency is doing things, not in wishing you could do them, dreaming about them, or wondering if you can do them."
"It is knowing how to apply theory to practice, turning defeat into experience and using it to achieve success."
"It is the ability to mass one's personality at any time or place and the elimination of weakness, regret, worry and fear."
"It is self-reliance, clothed with modesty, persistency, plus politeness and the hand of steel in the velvet glove."
"Efficiency is alertness, presence of mind, readiness to adjust one's self to the unexpected, impinging the ego against the combination of events—luck, fate, custom, and prejudice—until they give way."
"It is purpose, practice, patience, the measure of a man, the real size of his soul, the ability to use one's passions, likes, dislikes, habits, experience, education, mind, body and heart and not to be used by these things."
"It is self-mastery, concentration, vision and common sense, and the sum total of all that is in man."

LOS ANGELES COUNTY DEVELOPMENT

A camp wagon standing on our streets bore this legend: "From the garden spot of Pennsylvania to the garden spot of California." The owner of this camp wagon had traveled all the way across the country, and knew what he was talking about. He had come from the great agricultural county of Lancaster, in the state of Pennsylvania, to the great agricultural county of Los Angeles, in the state of California.

Perhaps many of our readers are not familiar with the fact that Los Angeles county stands first in the value of its horticultural and agricultural products, Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, stands second, and Aroostook county, Maine, stands third. The tremendous crop of potatoes raised in the northern part of Maine is responsible for the value of crops in Aroostook county. Los Angeles county not only takes first place in agricultural products, but it has the largest Farm Bureau in the United States.

At the present time there are 31 duly organized farm centers, with 2000 members, and the county maintains an office with six farm advisers on duty at all times. But the farmers of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, and Aroostook county, Maine, will have to look to their laurels or in another year or two Imperial county or Fresno county may be the second in production.

In this connection, Supervisor Dodge calls to our attention the fact that California, in the matter of agricultural products, has advanced during the past year from tenth place in the United States to fourth place, being excelled in the value of agricultural products by only three states, namely: Texas, Illinois, and Iowa. As our vacant lands are settled and farmed, it is expected that within two years, California will take its rightful position as first place in the United States.

Angered at the east with which bandits have been escaping from their crimes recently in automobiles, police departments of several cities have placed orders for high-powered speedsters which will be used to pursue the criminals. Some of the machines will be equipped with bullet-proof shields in front.

Although the United States has made great strides in road building during the past few years, it is still some distance behind European countries. Prussia, for instance, has 75,350 miles of hard-surfaced highways in proportion to size, the United States should have 1,612,000 miles to be on the same basis. At present America has 250,000 miles.

GOVERNMENT WILLING TO RELEASE PRISONERS

By LOUIS BRYANT I. N. S. Staff Correspondent MOSCOW (by wireless to Berlin), March 30.—The Soviet government is willing to release Emmet Kilpatrick of Alabama, who was captured during the Red drive, against General Baron Wrangel's army on the Crimean front, on condition that "Jim" Larkin and Benjamin Gitlow, two American communists, are pardoned by the New York state authorities, it was declared in official circles today. Soviet officials said they would regard this as a fair exchange.

Both Larkin and Gitlow were arrested in the anti-Red raids carried out in New York city last year by the business manager of the communist department of justice; Gitlow was the business manager of the communist newspaper, Revolutionary Age, and Larkin was accused of responsibility for a proclamation printed in the paper, calling upon the workmen to rise. Both were sentenced to prison, where they are now serving their terms.

22 DEGREES ABOVE ZERO IN NEW YORK

(By International News Service) NEW YORK, March 30.—New Yorkers awoke today to find one of the most remarkable drops in temperature recorded in years. Between 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and that hour this morning the thermometer had tumbled 56 degrees, from 78 to 22.

The drop came in the wake of a 78-mile gale which late yesterday caused one death and injuries to a score of others. The wind caused thousands of dollars' worth of property damage. It ended in a half-hour hail storm.

As the sun made its appearance today the temperature began to show a steady rise but it was the coldest morning here in weeks.

STAMBOULISKY IS DICTATOR

(By International News Service)
 PARIS, March 30.—A dictatorship as powerful as that established by Lenin and Trotzky, but of another kind—a dictatorship of peasant farmers—has been set up in Bulgaria, where the most interesting social experiment since the war is in trial.
 Stamboulisky, the "farmer prime minister," whose burly figure attracted great interest when he came to Paris to sign the Bulgarian peace treaty, is its head. His aim is not only to assert the supremacy of the agricultural classes over the city shopkeepers and merchants, but to force every man in Bulgaria who has no visible means of support to get to work on a farm and produce something. His severest critics charge that he plans to reduce Sofia, the capital, to a mere village; in fact, to wipe out all large cities, and to convert the entire country into a great group of farming villages.
 Boris is Figurehead
 They call this new experiment the "Green International," to distinguish it from the "Red International" of Moscow. The strange part about it is that in the war's evolution from monarchy to a form of peasant soviet government a king has been left the nominal head of Bulgaria. Boris "rules," but no king was ever more of a figurehead. Stamboulisky could topple him from his throne any day without the slightest effort, but, instead, he ignores him. And he ignores, too, the very peasant parliament that put him in power when he disagrees with its decisions, according to responsible observers who have visited Sofia since their farmers' "revolution" swept the country.
 One of these is Albert Londres, a Frenchman, who spent several weeks in Bulgaria investigating the "Green International."
 "Sofia is not at all like Moscow," says Londres. "A stranger leaving the train finds the old aspects of the city. If he wants to buy bread he buys it. He can find himself a place to sleep without going to a soviet police authority. No spies dog his footsteps. The people are well clothed. But there is a dictatorship just as there is at Moscow, except that it is the dictatorship of the peasant."
 Resigns Periodically
 "There is a parliament at Sofia, but Stamboulisky does not depend upon it. On the other hand, it only lives by his decree. He says to parliament: 'Meet, if it pleases you, but don't bother me.' Periodically he hands in his resignation. Parliament gives him a fresh vote of confidence. He himself is not boastful, on the contrary he realizes that he is trying a great experiment.
 "Stamboulisky has his own ideas about equality and legality. If he believes a beautiful home should be at the service of the state he seizes it and indemnifies the owner, but at pre-war value. Some of the owners, discontented with this process, demolished their buildings rather than turn them over to the nation. Stamboulisky thereupon has passed a law forbidding demolition of buildings without authority.
 "He has inaugurated a system of forced labor, but not like that at Moscow. Each week every man in Bulgaria must give at least one day's labor free to the country. He may help construct something, plant a field, or work on the roads or bridges. Stamboulisky believes this is one way of keeping Bulgarians busy and away from liquor.
 Dictator Well Received
 "As to the economic measures—the state takes care of that. The farmer sells directly to the state. The consumer gains, but some of the peasants prefer the old system under the monarchy. Still they remember that now they themselves are kings. The peasant is chief and Stamboulisky is chief of the peasants."

 Stamboulisky recently made a tour of 100 days, visiting all European capitals, and was very well received. Upon his return it was believed he would proceed immediately to Sofia to take up the reins of office. Instead he went away to his farm, remained there more than a week, finally to emerge with a fresh lot of laws in the interest of the peasants.

BLEW HIS HEAD OFF WITH SHOTGUN

REDDING, March 30.—Fear of punishment because he and Melvin Hensley, a school mate, had practiced the old adage of "finders are keepers" caused Clair Knight, 11, to commit suicide by blowing his head off with a shotgun.
 The Knight lad and his playmate found $42 which Camille Silver had secreted in a building under construction. Silver traced the lost money to the boys and last night went to the Knight home to confer with Clair's father.
 The lad is believed to have seen Silver coming and, divining his mission, stole off to his own room. There he sat in the middle of the floor and pulled the trigger of the shotgun, the charge from which tore off the top of his head and scattered his brains over his lap.

VALUABLE DOG, BUT WITHOUT A PEDIGREE

SEATTLE, Wash., March 30.—Don is a dog without a pedigree, but with intelligence and today is being petted and pampered by the father and mother of Melbourne J. Balcom, 22, who had been a cripple for years, and whose body was found by Don in the woods south of this city. In the youth's hand was a heavy rifle, the trigger of which was attached a thread used to send a bullet through his brain. Don led the mother to the spot in the woods where the body lay. Without the dog's aid the body probably never would have been discovered.

OVERRULE MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL

CHICAGO, March 30.—Grover B. Redding, negro and self-styled king of Abyssinia, and Oscar McGavick, his chief lieutenant in a "Back to Abyssinia" movement, were today sentenced to hang April 22 by Judge Kersten, who overruled a motion for a new trial before pronouncing sentence. Redding and McGavick were convicted of killing Robert L. Rose of Philadelphia, an enlisted man from Great Lakes naval training station last June, which started a small-sized riot on the south side.

ALLEGED BURGLAR BACK IN JAIL

(By International News Service)
 EUREKA, March 30.—Willie Clark, 16, alleged burglar, auto thief and army deserter, is back in jail here today, held under $5000 bail after nearly wrecking that institution some time Sunday night, in effecting his escape. He was recaptured near Scotia, 30 miles south of here, after participating, according to officers, in several burglaries, including the post-office and the Northwestern Pacific railroad station at Fields Landing, after his jail escape. Clark came here in a stolen automobile from Sacramento last week. His home is in San Jose.

Following is the remarkable galaxy of criminal charges faced by the youthful prisoner:

Two charges grand larceny for theft automobiles at Sacramento.

One charge desertion from the United States army at Mather Field.

One charge having government property in his possession.

Four charges of burglary, one of writing and cashing a fictitious check and one of jail breaking at Eureka.

Possibly another charge of burglary as a result of robbing the postoffice at Fields Landing.

The boy is already a reform school probationer.

CHAUFFEUR OF MAIL TRUCK KIDNAPPED

(By International News Service)
 CHICAGO, March 30.—Four armed bandits today kidnapped Robert Burnett, chauffeur of a United States mail truck in Cicero, an outlying section of the city, threatened to kill him if he resisted and escaped with two pouches containing first class mail. Burnett saved a money pouch containing several thousand dollars, although the robbers demanded it. When the robbers asked for the money pouch, Burnett threw them the two first class mail sacks instead. The sacks contained more than 8000 letters but the value of their contents is not known.

BRITISHERS ADOPT WAITING POLICY

By WILLIAM L. MALABAR
 I. N. S. Staff Correspondent
 LONDON, March 30.—The British government has adopted a "wait and see" policy on the question of the United States war debt and will make an immediate move either toward its cancellation or its payment, it was learned from official sources today.

The decision of the government not to send Lord Chalmers, the treasury department's financial expert, to Washington at this time presumably means the abandonment of various suggestions for the underwriting or cancellation of the great sums owed to the United States.

Great Britain is said to be in no immediate hurry to bring the question to a climax.

British officials believe that nothing decisive could be settled so early in the administration of President Harding.

The arrival of former Premier Viviani of France in the United States has again brought to the public attention in a forcible way the relative positions of America and the allies. There have been numerous reports as to what questions Viviani will discuss with President Harding, the allied war debt among them.

PARENTAGE MUST REST ON FAITH IN WIFE'S HONOR

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK CITY, March 30.—Fiction and fact have a curious relationship. Many say fact is the stranger of the two.

In contrast to the quoted fiction, compare the glaring facts in the Stillman case.

Banker Stillman questions the paternity of Buby Guy Stillman; he says that another than he is the child's father.

Who or what will decide whether or not Stillman is the father of the child he repudiates?

Blood tests, it has been suggested. Dr. Albert Abrams of San Francisco, declares that by means of blood tests he can absolutely determine the parentage of a child. His findings in the case of Paul Vittori, who refused to support a child he said was not his own, were accepted as legal proof that the reluctant parent was indeed the real father.

As a result of the conclusions of Dr. Abrams, Vittori was ordered by the court to accept the child, Virginia, as his own, and support her.

How does James A. Stillman expect to prove that he is not the father of little Guy?

How does any man ever expect to prove this?

He can only take his wife's word for it that he is the father of her children and believe in her. This faith in her virtue is his only satisfying proof.

What New York Scientists Say

Scientists in this city scoff at the idea of any one proving parentage by blood tests. The laboratory of New York hospital has issued a statement that such tests would be futile.

"We know of no possible means to determine parentage in such fashion. We do not know the details of Dr. Abrams' tests and, therefore, cannot comment upon them.

"Tests of this character show the difference between animals and human beings. They do not show nationality or individual traits or 'vibrations' in so far as we know.

"Not knowing the nature of Dr. Abrams' tests, we say that we are skeptical."

Legitimacy was questioned—in another notorious love tangle—by another father of another small son who resembles him, as Guy Stillman is said to resemble the father who denies him.

Harry Kendall Thaw, in jail for the slaying of Stanford White, declared the child born at that time to his wife, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, was not his, but another's.

Little Russell Thaw bore a striking likeness to his swarthy, heavy-set father.

Baby Guy Stillman is said to have the same sandy hair and features that characterized James A. Stillman, power in Wall Street.

Yet this in itself would, so scientists say, not necessarily indicate that the child is the son of the man he resembles.

How, then, is a man to know his own child?

Dr. Abrams of San Francisco, is interested in the Stillman case. He has expressed himself willing to examine specimens of blood of the various people concerned, of Guy Stillman and his parents now in strife.

Opinion of Bellevue Expert

Yet New York experts deny the efficacy of such tests. Bellevue hospital, speaking through Dr. L. Cotter, of its laboratory, says:

"The blood tests prove nothing as to paternity.

"There is no way for a man to tell if he is the father of his children except to trust his wife."

Dr. Otto Schultze, associate professor at Cornell Medical school, one of the most noted blood specialists in the east, forecasts the failure of the attempt of Dr. Abrams to determine anything by blood tests.

"It would be a mighty valuable discovery, perhaps, but it is untrue. The theory may be sound, but in practise it is impossible. We can detect the difference between the blood of humans and the lower animals. We can determine very little between the blood of individuals of the same race or genus.

"Perhaps the closest distinction which it is possible to define at present is that between the blood of an adult and that of a child. I was recently able to prove blood samples to have been drawn from a child's veins because the blood contained a preponderance of single-celled white corpuscles, whereas adult blood contains a preponderance of multi-cellular corpuscles."

Stigma Placed on Child

No matter what denials and proofs are brought to bear upon the pitiful case of little Guy Stillman, innocent of all wrongdoing, the stigma of doubtful legitimacy—that is cast upon his name will follow him throughout life.

HUNTING LODGE IS NOW MINERS' HOME

(By International News Service)
CREEDE, Colo., March 30.—From an exclusive and finely appointed tourist hotel to an immense "bunk house" for miners, is the transition the famous Hot Springs hotel at Wagon Wheel Gap, east of this city, has undergone.

The hotel was built by the late General William J. Palmer, pioneer railroad builder of Colorado, in the midst of 4,000 acres of forest land through which numerous streams flow, affording excellent fishing and for many years the hostelry was patronized by wealthy tourists who spent their time in fishing and hunting through the large preserve.

Nearby is the Wheeler national monument—an unusual stamagite rock and sandstone formation of great beauty. This formation was originally part of the tract, but was set aside by President Roosevelt as a national monument.

Rich deposits of fluor spar a mineral of considerable luster used in the manufacture of steel, have been discovered along many of the streams near the hotel and the famous fishing and hunting resort has been turned into a mining camp.

WOMAN CLAIMS SHARE IN ESTATE

(By International News Service)
PORT COLLINS, Colo., March 31.—Three Coloradans have appeared as claimants to the $800,000 estate of Colonel Jacob Baker, Revolutionary warrior and member of George Washington's military staff.

George Lesher and his sister, Mrs. Ben Blanchard, of this city, announce that they have received information that they are to share with 300 odd other descendants in the immense estate which, under the terms of the will of its founder, is to be distributed during the current year.

Mrs. Lucy Feltham, of Loveland, near here, is also an heir to the estate.

The estate which has grown to such tremendous proportions is said to have been established by Colonel Baker shortly after the close of the Revolutionary war. It includes a 500-acre plot in the heart of Philadelphia and a large tract upon which the city of Chillicothe, Ohio, now stands.

The Girard Trust company of Philadelphia is said to have control of the distribution of the Baker estate.

Mrs. Blanchard, who is blind, declares that she has known of her right to a share of the estate for some time, but had given it little thought as she understood the terms of the will would not be carried out for many years.

A great many claimants to a share in the estate have appeared in various parts of the country in the past few months.

South Glendale Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Parsons of Sentous street, Los Angeles, have built an attractive bungalow at 720 South Brand boulevard. They were moving into their new home yesterday.

Mrs. Bliss Dixon of 610 West Vine is on the sick list.

Miss Ella Christenson of the Tropico hotel apartments has returned from Santa Barbara. She was absent from home for about ten days.

Mrs. Ellen Griffin left this morning for Battle Creek, Mich., for a month's trip. Mrs. Griffin spent the winter in Glendale and is much delighted with the city and climate. She hopes to remain as a resident in Glendale upon her return.

—through youth, manhood and to the grave.

What terrible power is the hint of scandal?

How far reaching not only evil, but the appearance of evil!

Whether or not James A. Stillman is able to prevent the child Guy from inheriting millions, the boy, with money or, without, will also have an inheritance for which he can never forgive the father who spurned him.

Appearances of evil are often credited with being evil itself. Idle tongues seize upon what "looks bad" and often drive the objects of their slander to despair.

The only cloud that shows no silver lining is the cloud of suspicion.

So thick a fog of doubt enfolds its victim that the sun rays never strike through its murkiness.

A PROSPEROUS CORPORATION

Southern California Edison Company Makes Fine Showing

The chief feature of the annual meeting of stockholders of the Southern California Edison company was the presentation of the annual report, which shows the gross earnings to have been the largest in the company's history, placing it as one of the largest in the country.

The financial condition and the activities of the company during the past year are related in the report, which says: "1920 gross earnings, including net non-operating revenue, $14,647,896.32; operating expenses, taxes, including federal taxes, insurance and maintenance, but exclusive of depreciation, $6,413,684.52; net earnings, $8,234,211.80; interest and amortization, $3,162,416.42; balance, $5,071,795.38; provisions for depreciation, $2,000,000.00; balance carried to surplus, $3,071,795.38."

Balance sheet as certified by Price, Waterhouse & Company, shows capital assets of $109,433,725.65, and total assets of $122,051,600.87. Net increase in plant account amounted to $21,188,077.06, which represents the year's actual construction outlay or the purchase of property.

Satisfactory progress was made in power development construction, work having been centered on a third 22,000 horsepower hydro-electric unit at Big Creek No. 2 plant, which was put into service in January, 1921, on the Kern 3-water power plant of 40,000 horsepower capacity, which will come into service about July, 1921, and on the Shaver Lake and Florence Lake storage reservoirs.

In continuance of its plan to have the people in the territory served become partners, the company, through the ownership of its securities, stock has been sold direct to the people of Southern California with the result that it now has a total of over 10,000 stockholders, a large majority of whom are consumers of the company, and over 2000 of whom are employees. Edison company was one of the pioneers in widely distributing its stock among the people in the territory served and has sold over 150,000 shares in this way.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH MODERN GIRL?

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 30.—The modern girl and her mode of personal adornment have stood a lot of knocking from those who sigh for the "good old days," but now the "m. g." has found a staunch defender. Mary Ross Potter, dean of women at Northwestern University, answers the oft-uttered question: "What the matter with the girls of today?" by declaring: "Not a thing!"

"There is nothing wrong with the girl of today because she uses a lip stick and a little rouge, and a dab of powder," Dean Potter said.

"Of course, the dress of the girl of today—skirt to knees almost, flimsy stockings, flimsy everything—is not the dress of mother's generation. Nevertheless, she is sweet and good and kind at heart.

"She has independence—a bit of frivolousness—that did not belong to her mother's day. She doesn't like to be ordered about. She wants to hold up her head and go her way as she sees that way.

"But such a spirit is the spirit of the times. It is the result of the war. Our soldiers felt that when they came home after serving their country no one had a right to order them around—regulate their every move. And I believe they were right, too.

"The girl of today has that spirit. There is the frequent criticism that our present-day girls prefer business careers to marriage. Yet they are most affectionate and exceedingly emotional, too emotional, I think.

"It is this emotionalism that is one of the problems of the day. But try to understand them, do not be harsh with them. For I feel sure that from the present day girl will develop a higher type of womanhood.

"It is true we have more delinquents than formerly. That, too, is a sign of the times, and a very grave problem. I hope we will face it bravely and solve it."

The United States ought to entertain the warmest feelings for Canada and Australia. They never tried to borrow any money.

And if Bergdoll had gone over when the others did, he might have been home by now.

WIZARD PITCHER TRAINING FOR CUBS

(By International News Service)
PASADENA, Cal., March 30.—Every news writer who has visited the training camp of the Chicago Cubs here this spring has been "let in" on a "little secret."

In most cases the scribe wouldn't be roaming about more than ten or fifteen minutes until some member of the Cubs' organization would drift alongside and confide the information that "the team has a world beater in a new pitcher this year."

And after a half hour or so the "find" would be trotted out for inspection. He is Virgil Cheeves, 20 years old, of Dallas, Texas. John J. Evers, the new manager of the Cubs, is said to be very enthusiastic about him, and "Alexander the Great," Jim Vaughn and George Tyler, veterans of the Cub pitching staff, regard Cheeves as being a youngster of great promise.

Cheeves, who is a right hander, was annexed in September last year by the Cubs. He had been in the West Texas league and won 14 games and lost 12 in that organization before the Cubs found him. He started in two big events for the Chicago Nationals last season, winning one game from Philadelphia and having one with the Boston Braves sewed up, 2 to 2, when he was relieved in the eighth frame.

Cheeves is six feet tall and weighs 190 pounds. He has a "world of speed," according to the Cub catchers. Alexander is instructing him in the fine points of the game. All of the Cubs regulars really expect Cheeves to be one of the sensations of the big time lots this summer.

"I just naturally had to learn how to play baseball," said Cheeves, with a delightful southern drawl. "I was around the professionals in Texas training camps from the time I was knee high to a grasshopper."

Cheeves is a model young man. He never smoked "but once," never tasted anything alcoholic, he says, and doesn't use a "cuss" word. He is a member of the Baptist church and is said by his teammates to be a fine example of the ideal professional athlete.

"What is your greatest ambition?" Cheeves was asked.

"To make enough money to make my folks happy all the rest of their lives," he replied.

BEST ANTIDOTE FOR DIVORCE GERM

(By International News Service)
JOLIET, Ill., March 30.—Kissing is the best antidote for the divorce germ, Rev. T. F. Quinn, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church here, believes. In an address on "Love, Courtship and Marriage," Father Quinn declared that young men should keep up their courtship after marriage.

"Before marriage he wouldn't think of calling on her without bringing a box of candy or sending flowers," the priest said. "We should bring candy and flowers after marriage. He should remember little things like morning and evening kisses. They prevent divorces.

"When a young man begins to call steadily and burn the electric lights until 11 and 12 o'clock he is under obligations to pay the light bills or marry the girl."

PRUSSIAN PRINCE FIDDLES FOR MONEY

(By International News Service)
BERLIN, March 30.—Prince Friedrich Wilhelm of Prussia fiddles to raise campaign funds for the Prussian monarchic party, the German National People's Party. Investigators have accused the Communists of receiving their funds from Moscow, and the Socialists of having taken them from the state treasury. The monarchic Berlin newspaper, the Post, praises Prince Friedrich Wilhelm for his choice of methods.

The prince played a matinee concert at the Singakademie, but the distribution of tickets was carefully controlled to prevent the entrance of persons who might have wished to break up the concert.

EX-KAISER'S YACHT OFFERED FOR SALE

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 30.—The yacht Meteor V., formerly the property of the ex-kaiser, has been offered for sale to certain Dutch interests.

The Meteor V. was built at the Germania Werft, Kiel, and completed in 1914, but only took part in one racing season.

She has now been overhauled and equipped for a voyage to America. Negotiations with American purchasers have so far been without positive results, and the yacht is now at the Reichswerft in Kiel.

CHAMPION TYPIST AT GLENDALE HIGH

William F. Oswald, Holder of a World's Record, Does Wonderful Stunts

Yesterday afternoon the commercial department of the high school entertained students at a special assembly at which William F. Oswald, world champion typist in 1919 was the star performer. He was accompanied by Mr. Campbell of the Underwood Typewriter, Agency of Los Angeles. It proved to be a remarkable demonstration which sustained the record with which Mr. Oswald won his championship in 1919 of 132 words a minute for one hour. Mr. Campbell had a stop watch and kept the time. The demonstration took place on the stage of the auditorium and the room was crowded with students eager to witness it. No one was disappointed for it was a truly wonderful performance.

In the beginning he explained how to use a typewriter and the advantage of light, even, rhythmical strokes with the fingers close to the keyboard instead of pounding upon the keys with an uneven jerky movement.

His first speed was 142 words a minute without making a mistake on matter he supplied. He then wrote 144 words a minute. After that he carried on a conversation with Mr. Davis, head of the commercial department and at the same time wrote 145 words a minute. First he demonstrated on a machine he had brought with him, and then wrote 144 words a minute on one of the school machines, showing that the speed is in the man rather than the typewriter. Working on a familiar sentence he wrote perfectly 231 words a minute making 12 to 12½ strokes per second.

Professor Pope was greatly impressed with Mr. Oswald's dual brain work when he carried on a conversation with Mr. Davis and at the same time wrote the 145 words a minute. He made it the subject of quite a talk before his classes in psychology.

A contest is to be put on in April in connection with a business exposition in Los Angeles which will be a part of a campaign for better typewriting. Several Glendale students will enter and compete for the gold and silver medals which are being offered. It is expected a good delegation from the school will also attend as onlookers.

LIN WM. PRICE ADMITTED TO BAR

Lin Wm. Price, former assistant United States district attorney at Chicago, was admitted Monday by the district court of appeal to practice law in California. Attorney Price for the recent two years has been attorney for and later a member of the board of contract adjustment at Washington, D. C., engaged in the settlement of government contracts with manufacturers and producers growing out of the war.

Attorney Price's "chart survey of the jurisdiction of the secretary of war" was used officially in the settlement of cases coming before the board on contract adjustment. Among such cases was the controversy between the food administration and the prune growers of California, Oregon and Washington, regarding payment for the 1918 crop, which affected thousands of growers in those states.

Attorney Price will maintain offices in Los Angeles. Attorney and Mrs. Price reside at 1111 East Elk avenue.

HOBO ARRESTED FOR WASHING HIS SHIRT

(By International News Service)
DENVER, Colo., March 30.—Hoboes and cleanliness don't mix in Denver, according to a mandate laid down by the police department.

A knight of the road caught washing his shirt in a creek on the outskirts of Denver was arrested by Patrolman Bates.

"It's another one, loose," remarked Bates.

The blotter at headquarters reads: "Reported lunatic in Cherry Creek. Investigated by South Denver station. Hobo washing his shirt. Arrested on vagrancy charge."

The moral is somewhat clouded.

PAINTS TAXICAB TO PAY HIS FARE

(By International News Service)
PARIS, March 30.—Paris probably has the only futurist taxicab in the world and it occupies a prominent place near the Opera. A few nights ago an artist, returning to his home by taxi, found that he had no money to pay his fare. He suggested to the chauffeur that he "work out" the sum by painting futurist designs on the side of the taxi. The chauffeur consented and held a candle while the artist worked.

GIVES LUNCHEON FOR OLD FRIEND

Mrs. A. Weger, 332 Apple street, is giving a farewell luncheon at her home this afternoon in honor of Mrs. Meth- uringham, who has been visiting in Los Angeles the past two months.

The guests will include Mrs. Meth- uringham, Mrs. McComb, Miss Nellie Kilo and Mrs. Barron, all of Los Angeles. All of these ladies, with the exception of Mrs. Meth- uringham, were schoolmates and chums in England 20 years ago. They had lost track of Mrs. Barron and had not heard of her for several years until a few weeks ago the ladies happened to meet in a store.

Mr. and Mrs. Meth- uringham are returning to their home in Jackson, Michigan, but intend to come back to California in a few months to locate. They are so impressed with Glendale they expect to look for a home here.

L. W. ROGERS RETURNS TO GREAT BRITAIN

L. W. Rogers, national president of the theosophical society, who lectured here on the 20th and 21st, is about to go again to England from which he but recently returned. Business called him to California but he was here only a few weeks. He had many important lectures and only favored Glendale because he was instrumental in organizing the theosophical lodge here. He is leaving today for New York where he will take a steamer for England in the expectation of being gone about three months.

Girls haven't lost the ability to blush. The blush simply doesn't show through.

REVIVING DEMAND FOR REAL ESTATE

W. B. Kelly of the Kelly, Van Ars dol company, in commenting on the recent marked revival in the real estate demand in Glendale, tells of advertising a certain piece of property steadily for a month without returns and then having three would-be purchasers appear practically at the same time. One made a deposit on it and was then persuaded by a second party in the trio to relinquish his option for a good consideration. Mr. Kelly says his firm has made more sales in the past three months than in the previous six months. While there does not seem to be as much ready cash as last year, there are just as many buyers, although a little more conservative.

HAD MODEL HUSBAND, BUT HE WAS ROUGH

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 30.—Clement Fabulick was a model husband, but he had one decided failing—"an unmanageable temper," according to his wife, Mrs. Annie Fabulick.

A few days ago Mrs. Fabulick stood up in Judge Jesse Baldwin's divorce court. Her nose was almost entirely missing.

"He bit it off," she explained, adding that Fabulick was now in Joliet for his little act.

Mrs. Fabulick was given her marital freedom.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB PLANS NEW HOME

(Continued from page 1) committee appointed to interview architects in regard to the proposed new clubhouse, reported that architects will submit competitive bids.

Mmes. H. E. Bartlett and Daniel Campbell reported an interview they had had concerning the financing of the building of the club, stating the amount of money it is possible to borrow for such a project, and the interest club members must evidence in it if they desire help from business men and others who might be willing to help the club succeed in their undertaking. They also gave a carefully prepared estimate of what the club's running expenses would be, and the length of time it would take to pay off the debt incurred by building the clubhouse.

Among those participating in the interesting discussion that followed were Mmes. E. W. Kinney, John Robert White, W. L. Andrews, Alexander Mitchell, R. W. Meeker, A. H. Montgomery, Harry Greenwalt, A. W. Tower, Harry B. Lynch, C. E. Norton, H. Lee Clotworthy, W. E. Evans, David Black, W. L. Andrews, Jessie Russell, Charles Temple, Mabel Ocker, H. E. Bartlett, Daniel Campbell.

This discussion, in which many good ideas were brought out, and in which the consensus of opinion was that the club home should be begun this year and that it should be built large enough to meet future needs, crystallized (as announced exclusively in the Daily Press yesterday), in a motion by Dr. Jessie Russell, seconded by Mrs. C. J. Newcomb, that the executive board be requested to secure information relative to the forming of a stock company and also other propositions and to present the same as soon as possible to the club for its consideration.

Mrs. Chase made an announcement concerning the three one-act plays to be given by the drama section on April 21. The president announced the district convention at Pomona, April 19, 20 and 21, and the state convention at Yosemite the latter part of May.

Miss May Church, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Church of this city, has been appointed librarian at the high school at Hanford. She has been acting as county librarian there and is glad to make the change as she is getting a better position.

C. M. FRAZIER LOCATES HERE

C. M. Frazier, former attorney general of Arizona, who was admitted yesterday by the appellate court to practice law in all the courts of California, has opened offices in Glendale in the Flower block, Broadway and Brand boulevard. Mr. Frazier is associated here with Attorney Everson and in Los Angeles with Attorney Brinton Gregory.

The Daily Press welcomes Attorney Frazier to Glendale and congratulate him on his perspicacity in his selection of a home and a business location. Perspicacity, by the way, is a necessary virtue in a lawyer, and Mr. Frazier's choice of Glendale for a location proves conclusively that he possesses this valuable characteristic.

MORE NEW HOUSES ARE COMPLETED

Installations of electric light meters in new houses about ready for occupancy, continues at a lively rate. Here is yesterday's record: Mrs. Mary Ayars, 1125 South Glendale avenue; Chas.
